Twinkles

We are not sure that accurate, long range weather reporting is desirable. We're such a confirmed plainsman that we like for those northerners to surprise us.

Lots of sewing rooms are being established under WPA, but old bachelors will likely still suffer the need for button-sewers every now and then.

If the worst comes to the worst, "the people" of the old countries may prefer to have kings, that, in these hectic days, so some wrongs, to dictators that do too many rights at too great an expense.

Italy finds that flowing gold is more important than gold. And believes that war is more glorious than peace. We shall see.

"Farmers are smiling," is a frequent Panhandle headline. If this keeps up, the cartoonists will have to revise the mouth corners of their favorite AAA characters.

Musing of the moment: Something typically masculine, and perhaps prejudiced in our views are we, but these ladies who carry plants in purses appear to be going slightly beyond their prerogatives. Gallant males have always delighted in helping ladies up to and down from bleachers seats, but helping ladies who already have the aid of a few bracers is something new. What can the younger generation do in attempting to set the styles in darning?

Brevitorials

THE CHRISTMAS tree for children of the needy is rapidly taking form. Leading in the arrangements is the Council of Clubs. Club women of the city are buying and dressing dolls. Civic clubmen are being asked to provide the fruit and candies. Yesterday the Lions club appropriated $30 to the tree and a committee of the club has been appointed to help perfect arrangements. Other civic clubs have been invited to take similar action.

It is likely that there will be a shortage of cash for decorations, candy, and fruit. This column gladly will receive contributions to the Christmas fund. First to contribute is an employee of the Skelly Oil company, who does not wish his name to be used but who is highly interested in helping the unfortunate. He thinks that Pampa needs a Goodfellow club, whose duty it would be to help just such persons as the tree for the needy will cheer. LET'S MAKE THIS A NORMAL CHRISTMAS.

Chase Is Made Supervisor of Census-Taking

Roy D. Chase of Amarillo, 212 E. 8th street, has been made supervisor of the census in this district according to a letter to The NEWS from F. A. Gennell of Philadelphia chief statistician for the census of business which will be undertaken on a nationwide scale.

Exhaustive studies will be made in each community. Figures obtained from individual business men will be kept absolutely secret and only summaries by types of businesses or industries will be released.

Cooperation of THE NEWS and the Board of City Development has been asked in connection with the survey in this county.

Place for Fowl Show Is Sought

Conditioned on being able to find a place for the event, the Pampa Poultry show, sponsored by the Board of City Development will be held January 9, 10, and 11.

As usual, the event will draw entries from a wide area. It is planned to hold the annual vocational judging contests on January 11, last day of the poultry show.

Claude Roberts admitting that he was testing out cold serum he had taken as he splashed around last night putting up street decorations with other Jaycees.

Pampa citizens being urged by civic club members to decorate their homes for Christmas. Both inside and outside decorations are being advocated. Prizes will be given for the best decorated homes and yards, it was rumored.

UNITED STATES ASKS JAPS TO 'KEEP FAITH'

AUTONOMY PROPOSALS ARE DISCOURAGED BY HULL

PEIPING, Dec. 6 (AP)—The Rengo (Japanese) news agency reported today it had learned in reliable quarters a tentative compromise settlement of the North China crisis had been reached between representatives of the central Chinese government and North China.

BY STANLEY P. RICHARDSON, Associated Press Staff Writer. WASHINGTON, Dec. 6 (AP)—On the broad lands of North China, the United States figuratively tacked a notice today, calling upon Japan to "keep faith" with international pledges.

Careful, diplomatic phraseology marked the statement Secretary Hull issued last night on the autonomy movement to split certain North Chinese provinces away from the Nanking government.

The statement did not even mention Japan by name, or the nine-power treaty under which Nippon and other nations guaranteed the integrity of China and the "open door" for foreign trade.

But the import was clear to all Japan, in the generally accepted view, has been encouraging the autonomy movement. The statement spoke of America's interests in North China—of the American citizens, property, "commercial and cultural activities" there.

It is "most important," Hull maintained, that "in this period of world-wide political unrest and economic instability that governments and peoples keep faith in principles and pledges."

A question unanswered today was

JARRATT NAMED PRESIDENT OF KIWANIS CLUB

Wooley and Vicars Elected Vice-Presidents

W. V. "Bill" Jarratt is the new president of the Pampa Kiwanis club, succeeding Guy McTaggart. C. L. Wooley is the first vice-president and Edwin Vicars second vice-president. A secretary-treasurer will be appointed by the new president. New directors elected were W. B. Weathered, Tom Aldridge, J. B. Massa, and Lee Waggoner. Carry-over directors are R. A. Selby, Earl C. Wilcox Field Superintendent's Car Skids, Goes Into Ditch Near Pampa Injuries sustained in a collision on the Pampa-LeFors road yesterday afternoon about 4 o'clock proved fatal to Walter J. Morrison, 61, of Tulsa, Okla., last night in a local hospital where he was taken by a passing motorist, C. N. Childress of Amarillo, driver of the other car, received only minor cuts and bruises.

Morrison was general field superintendent of production for the Wilcox Oil and Gas company. He had been in Pampa two days on business and was enroute home when the accident happened. According to

Dan Heady Killed as He Refuses to Surrender

WEATHERS, Okla., Dec. 6 (AP)—Dan T. Heady, leader of a desperate band of O'Malley gangsters who broke from the Muskogee jail Tuesday, was slain, another was wounded and a third was found dying on a mountain side near here today.

Heady and his wounded companion, Dewey Gilmore, of Dallas, Tex., met a blaze of gunfire when they failed to heed officers' commands to surrender after they were trapped in a farm house.

Leonard Short, Galena, Mo., the third man captured, was found critically ill about a mile and a half from a farm house. His capture accounted for the last of the four gangsters who fled the jail. Russell Land Cooper was taken yesterday while walking along a road near Clayton.

Don Garrett, fifth man in the break, but not a member of the O'Malley gang, was still at large. Heady and Gilmore were shot by a posse headed by Allen Stanfield, deputy U. S. marshal from Ada, and Sheriff Tom Jordan of Muskogee. At the same time, Mrs. Dan T. Heady of Kansas City, wife of the slain mobster, was arraigned in federal court at Muskogee on a charge of aiding in the break. She pleaded innocent.

Officers said she visited Heady a

CHICAGO, Dec. 6 (AP)—A strike call ordering out all locomotive foremen employed by the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad was issued for 6 p. m., Dec. 9 today by the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen. Edward Ryan, vice-president of the Burlington, announced receipt of the call. It was contained, he said, in a letter from J. P. Farrell, vice-president of the brotherhood, which recently voted to walk out if the road refused to increase engine crews on diesel-electric streamline trains from one to two men.

SOUTHAMPTON, Dec. 6 (AP)—The United States delegation to the naval conference arrived today on the S. S. Aquitania. The delegation is headed by Norman Davis.

GENEVA, Dec. 6 (AP)—Emperor Haile Selassie, who escaped death in an Italian air bombing raid on his headquarters at Dessye today, protested directly to the League of Nations a few hours later against the bombing of Red Cross hospitals and the killing of women and children. The Ethiopian monarch declared that the American hospital at Dessye which was struck by bombs had displayed the authorized insignia of the Red Cross.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6 (AP)—The supreme court is expected to make up its mind tomorrow as to whether to grant a review of Bruno Richard Hauptmann's conviction of killing the Lindbergh baby.

HULL, Que., Dec. 6 (AP)—Police today arrested two former employees of the Banque Provinciale Du Canada and recovered $15,000 stolen from an accountant's car in a kidnap holdup in which Armand Nadeau, bank clerk, was killed yesterday.

Car Wreck Fatal To Tulsan

Witnesses, Morrison was driving east just after crossing the Fort Worth and Denver railroad tracks south of Pampa when his car apparently skidded off the slippery paving on the left shoulder. He brought the car back on the highway but it skidded into the car driven by Childress. Both cars ran into the ditch.

The injured man was removed from the car and rushed to a local hospital where it was found his jaw had been broken in several places and a fatal injury received at the base of the skull. Childress was also taken to the hospital where he received medical attention. He was later able to proceed to his home in Amarillo.

Morrison was a long-time employee of the Wilcox Oil and Gas company. He had been located in Tulsa for the last 10 years. He was a member of the Masonic lodge at Sistersville, Ohio, and a member of the Oddfellows lodge at Russell, Kansas.

The body was to be taken overland to Tulsa this afternoon by Pampa Mortuary. Burial will be in Tulsa.

Surviving Mr. Morrison are his wife, a daughter, Miss Viola Morrison, and a son, Clarence K. Morrison. Other survivors are two sisters, Mrs. Elizabeth Dunn, Parkersburg, W. Va., and Mrs. Jane Rupprecht, Pittsburgh, Penn., and three brothers, W. E. Morrison and Sam Morrison, Parkersburg, W. Va., and C. M. Morrison, Middlefield, Ohio.

GOVERNOR OF JERSEY HINTS HIS INNOCENCE

FAMED DETECTIVE HAS DIFFERENT VIEW OF VERDICT

TRENTON, N. J., Dec. 6 (AP)—Governor Harold G. Hoffman said today that Ellis Parker, noted Burlington county detective, was "under the definite impression that Hauptmann is not the man" responsible for the Lindbergh kidnap-murder.

Hoffman said that Parker, who is known for his solution of a score of baffling crime mysteries, had been called into the Lindbergh case by Governor A. Harry Moore, who was the state's chief executive when the kidnaping occurred.

"He's been working on it ever since," he said. The fact that Parker was quietly conducting an investigation was revealed only yesterday, a few hours before Hoffman disclosed that he had paid a nocturnal visit to Hauptmann in his death house cell at state prison.

Those who were principally active in the investigation of the Lindbergh case were prone to regard the latest developments as another of the numerous teapots tempests which have characterized the history of the case.

These officials are still convinced that Hauptmann is the guilty man and persons close to the governor said that official himself was not ignoring the three major evidential points stressed by the court of errors and appeals in denying Hauptmann a new trial.

These were his possession of ransom money, the testimony that a piece of the kidnap ladder came from his Bronx home, and the handwriting experts' testimony that Hauptmann wrote the ransom notes. The governor said he understood Parker attempted to investigate the case along with the state police but was "blocked" in his efforts by the troopers.

Those who were at Hopewell in the days immediately following the kidnaping recalled that Parker was present at the Lindbergh estate for several days and then left. Reports at that time had it that he and the

Four Men Are Burned Today in Gas Explosion

Four employees at the Colteco Carbon company's plant east of LeFors were brought to Pampa for medical attention this morning following a gas explosion at the plant. B. O. Wood, most seriously injured of the quartet, was brought to Worley hospital in a Pampa Mortuary ambulance.

The other men, Jake Leggett and H. A. Blanton, members of the 1935 Colteco Black Cat baseball team, and M. P. Tibbets were brought to Pampa by car. They were able to be taken home after receiving medical attention for facial burns.

The accident happened when the four men were checking a gas line. Leaking gas collected and caught fire from stove which was thought to have been turned out. Woods, close to the stove, received facial and body burns. His burns were declared serious.

Santa Arrives and Poses With Children

The first thing old Santa Claus did this morning when he arrived in town from the North Pole was to pose for this picture. "I don't like to have my picture taken unless it's with children," he declared. See the happy look on his face. The popular dispenser of gifts rode in his plane which was mounted on a truck in the parade this afternoon. He had 350 pounds of candy on hand for the children of this territory.

LEGION POST TO GIVE 'FINGERS' HERE, DEC. 18

All-Boy Play Will Feature Good Actors

The Kerley-Crossman post of the American Legion and Legion Auxiliary in making plans to assist the success of the 18th district convention here next spring, today announced that on Wednesday evening, Dec. 18, it will sponsor a play, "Fingers," with an all-boy cast. Proceeds will be used to help finance the convention.

The play, a melodrama, comprising a cast of 15 boys and four men will be presented on the stage of the city auditorium, beginning at 8 o'clock. The boys, all members of a local Sunday school class, are 13 and 14 years old, and have been practicing and learning the play for six weeks. A. D. Montiehl, commander of the American Legion post here, said the youngsters are ready to give the play now.

The play was presented last summer by the Clarendon American Legion post under the direction of Miss Lorraine Patrick.

Tickets will be placed on sale Monday by members of the Legion and the Auxiliary. Mr. Montiehl stated that, almost all of the boys in the play have received special speech training and that four of them have won declamation contests. The plot concerns the experience of "Fingers," a boy crook in a boys' club. It was said to be ideally suited for boys.

Admission will be 35 and 25 cents.

Santa Day Brings a Huge Throng to See Sights

More out-of-town people had already arrived in town at noon for Santa day than attend at the 1934 celebration, Jim Collins, general chairman, observed. A gigantic crowd for the parade was almost a certainty. The colored lights will be turned on over the streets at 6 o'clock tonight, and at the same time all display windows decorated especially for the Santa day contest will be put on exhibit. At 7:30 will be the colorful premiere at the La Nora, featuring the introduction of Panhandle celebrities, an orchestra, stage show and a KRGNC radio broadcast of one and one-half hours. At 10 o'clock, another typical celebration dance—Santa day ball—will begin at the La-Mor.

By 10 o'clock this morning, the LaNora theater where motion pictures of Capt. Kleinschmidt's search for Santa Claus were shown today, was packed to capacity with out-of-town children. That was the first indication that the Santa day crowd this year would be the biggest in history.

Despite slippery, muddy roads, the children and their parents came to attend the Santa Day celebration. As soon as the LaNora was filled, the children were sent to the Rex theater, and when the Rex put out an SBO sign, to the State theater. Two comedies were shown in connection with the Kleinschmidt film. The Jaycees themselves, sponsors of the celebration, put the finishing touches on the preparations. Their sincerity was demonstrated, and their anxiety for the success of the

ONLY .15 INCH RAIN FALLS IN LAST TWO DAYS

But Cloudy Weather Is Fine Weather To Farmers

After permitting two misty, muddy days, Old Sol weakly smiled on Santa day this morning and began slowly drying the streets. Precipitation in the two days amounted to .15 of an inch, but seemed like more because the heavy traffic put mud on the paving.

The streets last night were exceedingly slippery. The temperature was above freezing.

The cool, damp weather extended throughout this territory, but there was heavy precipitation only below the caprock. North of Pampa, on the Denver route, sleet and ice impeded traffic.

The slight moisture of the last couple of days was deceptive because it followed another rain within a 10-day period. The "season" in the ground, or depth of moisture, is tremendously satisfactory to wheat farmers. The farmers, digging in the ground, find the moisture sufficient to carry the crop well along toward February rains or snows. January is usually dry. It is regarded as highly favorable to a good crop when rains are sufficient to take the crop over arid January. Rainfall in south Gray county was estimated at three-quarters of an inch, with half an inch at Groom and a quarter of an inch at Shamrock. On the upper plains, rainfall was slightly under a quarter of an

AMERICAN HOSPITAL IS WRECKED; EMPEROR ESCAPES

BY JAMES A. MILLS. (Copyright, 1935, by The Associated Press.) WITH EMPEROR HAILE SELASSIE at DESSYE, ETHIOPIA, Dec. 6.—A squadron of Italian air planes smashed more than 1,000 bombs into this city today. The emperor's palace and an American hospital were hit.

About 12 persons were killed and 200 wounded.

Approximately 100 of the bombs hit the emperor's palace, but Haile Selassie himself had taken refuge in the old Italian consulate and so escaped injury.

The American Seventh Day Adventist hospital and a Red Cross tent were hit by the bombs. One ward and the office of the American hospital were wrecked. Casualties were heavy among the civil population, and panic broke out.

Major G. A. Tietraipont, a Belgian officer, was wounded, and Miss Petra Hovig, a Norwegian nurse, suffered a broken leg. The emperor was not injured in the bombing which occurred at 8 a. m.

Red Cross Tent Fired. Two incendiary bombs which dropped near this correspondent's tent set fire to a Red Cross tent. The planes left after circling the town three times.

Haile Selassie visited the hospital and expressed personal condolences to the wounded.

Haile Selassie came to Dessye, 175 miles northeast of Addis Ababa, last week by automobile from the capital.

He made Dessye the headquarters from which he personally directed his officers in their moves on the northern front.

The American hospital, through the presence of mind of its director, was evacuated a few minutes before the raiding planes appeared overhead.

However, the beds, surgical instruments, operating tables, and other equipment were strewn all over the place by the blasts of three bombs which pierced the corrugated iron roof.

The raid lasted exactly 17 minutes.

The anti-aircraft guns around the palace opened fire ineffectively. Approximately 100 bombs were dropped on the palace, arousing fears for the safety of Emperor Haile Selassie, but he was safe in the old Italian consulate.

An official Italian communique reported 24 Ethiopians and three Italians died in "intensified" combat between patrols all along the northern front.

THE WAR AT A GLANCE

(By The Associated Press.) An Italian air squadron bombed Dessye, destroying Emperor Haile Selassie's palace, damaging the American Seventh Day Adventist hospital and causing heavy casualties, but the emperor escaped unhurt.

A Rome communique reported intensified clashes along the entire northern front, three Italian soldiers being killed and the Ethiopians put to flight with at least 24 dead.

The Addis Ababa government announced Italian air bombings were increasing, with two soldiers killed in raids west of the main northern lines.

Italian officers at Makale interpreted the re-invigorated action as the start of Ethiopia's first major offensive.

Informed Rome sources said the new drive by Italy's army was the answer to European negotiations for peace.

France's Premier Laval apparently won his fight in the chamber of deputies to continue his work for peace, rival political leagues announcing they would disband their "troops"—the issue on which Laval's overthrow was threatened.

Italian officials at Mogadiscio said they were winning their fight against tropical disease, accompanying the military campaign, with only 11 primitive malaria cases in Somaliland and 30 hospital units on the southern front.

THREE-DAY FARM RELIEF BILL PLANNED

SENATOR McNARY WILL INTRODUCE SCHEME IN CONGRESS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6. (AP)—Senator McNary of Oregon, republican leader in the senate, announced today he would introduce on the opening day of congress a three-point farm relief bill as a basis for a "natural transition from the AAA to a long-term program."

Whether this will be the plan ultimately pushed by the republican party to vote with the democratic AAA for votes in 1936 remains to be seen.

But McNary hopes it will be at least a starter for consideration in the senate, and that the bill invalidates the agricultural adjustment act. Then, both parties will be looking for a substitute and McNary wants to be prepared.

"Unlike the AAA which crops limits for farmers involved in control programs and gives them cash for taking land out of production, the McNary bill seeks indirectly to control surpluses by the optional application of either the equalization fee, export debenture or domestic allotment plan."

McNary realizes this is nothing new, but he feels "there is a lot of good in the old bill yet."

"It is the same proposal he put forward in 1932. The plan, supporters say, aims to segregate the surplus for export, assist in making the tariff effective on crops, control surpluses by penalizing overproduction and stimulate cooperative marketing."

Under equalization fee plan, the government would take charge of surpluses, which would be sold abroad at the best figures obtainable. The idea would be to raise domestic prices of the crops by removing surpluses.

Farmers would be assessed a fee to make up for losses and charges incurred in sales abroad.

The government would aim to discourage any over-production by an automatic step-up in the fee. The export debenture involves a appropriation or bounty. Exporters or surpluses would receive treasury certificates amounting to one-half the tariff on the similar imported product. Other debenture rates would be established for commodities on the free list, such as raw cotton.

Under the domestic allotment plan, all handlers of farm products would be licensed. It seeks to force domestic prices up by requiring handlers to purchase that portion of a crop necessary for domestic use at a price not less than the average cost of production for the year. Violators would lose their licenses.

Few minutes before the latter produced a gun and liberated his companions on the mad dash for freedom and a sixth man, John Blackburn, Conover, Wis., who was slain during the battle.

Two men were wounded fatally in the Muskogee jail break. They were Ben Bolton, detective captain, and John Blackburn of Conover, Wis., one of the six prisoners who sought freedom.

Headly was killed by Deputy United States Marshall Allan Stanfield of Ada, who also captured Russell Land Cooper near Clayton yesterday.

Officers were led to the farmhouse where the capture was made by Ben Stanfield, newspaperman of Weatherford, a hamlet about 30 miles southeast of McAlester in the foothills of the Kiamichi mountains, difficult of access and communication.

"The officers surrounded the house," Standfield said. "Headly and Gilmore were asleep. 'Headly and Gilmore went around to the back door. He called for the two to surrender. Headly refused and Standfield started shooting."

"He killed Headly. Gilmore came out with his hands raised. The prisoners didn't have a chance. They were sleeping and did not know the officers were near until Standfield called to them."

"I guess Headly was befuddled and didn't get a chance to use his gun before he was shot."

Inch on the average. Dalhart, in the dust bowl, reported 20 of an inch. Clarendon was more fortunate, having more than an inch.

Heavy fogs over the plains slowed traffic and grounded transcontinental airplanes. Dirt roads were slippery but passable at low speed.

(By The Associated Press.) Flood danger at Gainesville, caused by a three and a half inch downpour, was the first serious development today from general rains over Texas. The weather was unseasonably warm.

Water was standing a foot deep in Leonard park, adjoining Elm branch of the Trinity river, near the western limits of Gainesville. Traffic was still going through on highway 77 to Denton, with water up to the hub caps of automobiles just west of Elm creek dam.

G. R. McKinnick, state highway maintenance foreman, was piloting the few cars risking the dangerous 100-yard stretch.

A greater rise on Elm creek was anticipated, as rainfall was heavy on its watershed north of St. Jo. In Gainesville, it had been raining for fourteen hours and the precipitation continued steadily today.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Burrow were Amarillo visitors yesterday.

The lesson-sermon includes also the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The Scriptures imply that God is All-in-all."

No wisdom is wise but his wisdom; no truth is true, no love is lovely, no life is life but the divine; no good is good, but the good God bestows" (pages 331 and 275).

WHEAT IS UP

CHICAGO, Dec. 6. (AP)—A rise of 2 cents in the futures market today led wheat quotations today led to only moderate gains here or at other North American markets.

Wheat, closed firm, at the same as yesterday's finish to 1/2 cent higher, May 95%¹/₂, corn 4-1/2¹/₂ up 1/4, oats unchanged to 1/4 higher, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 2 cents.

JAPAN

what further steps, if any, the administration might contemplate if the movement which the United States is "closely observing" should go on.

That question evidently occurred to a Japanese foreign office spokesman in Tokyo, he said Japan did not know whether the statement was a manifestation of Secretary Hull's ideas or whether he is going to take concrete steps.

Nanking was "gratified" over the Hull statement, dispatches said. She hoped it would "have a salutary effect on Japan."

There was much guessing here as to what effect the Hull remarks might have in the London naval conference, convening next Monday.

London press reports say Japan's delegation, which is demanding equality with Great Britain and the United States, intends to propose a Pacific non-aggression pact.

This, in the opinion of diplomatic observers, would tacitly recognize Japanese domination in the Orient.

TO SUPPORT FDR
WASHINGTON, Dec. 6. (AP)—Senator George W. Norris today pledged his support to President Roosevelt's re-election but announced that he himself will "not seek re-nomination."

DAVIS FLAYS AAA
WASHINGTON, Dec. 6. (AP)—The new deal's farm program was denounced in a brief filed with the supreme court by John W. Davis today as "a fraud of the rights of the taxpayers."

Mrs. S. E. Smith was admitted to Pampa-Jarratt hospital this afternoon. She will undergo a major operation tomorrow.

HAUPTMAN

chief investigating officials had not been in agreement.

Asked if he had the authority to anticipate that Hauptmann's case would come before the court of pardons, an appeal for a review is pending in the supreme court of the United States, the governor said that did not concern him so much as his "duty as first servant of this state to see that justice is done."

The governor said an examination of state laws showed that 26 states allowed condemned men to appear in person before the governor.

New Jersey's law is silent on this point, he said. However, it has been the practice for the court of pardons to interview prisoners seeking paroles, going to the prison for such interviews.

Governor Suggests Probe
The governor said he suggested to the members of the court a month ago that they give some thought to the Hauptmann case. He pointed out to them, he said, that if the supreme court of the United States takes no action the case "will undoubtedly be placed in our laps."

Because of the "unusual nature of the case," he said, "it is something they should look into."

The governor made it clear he had all offers Hauptmann's commutation of his sentence to life imprisonment.

"I did not have any authority make such an offer," he said.

He added he had not seen Col. Lindbergh or communicated with him since the trial.

Egbert Roserbaum, one of the defense attorneys, commenting on the governor's statement regarding Parker, said:

Parker has a great reputation and is usually always correct. When the case started, he had a different theory from the state. The case certainly presents mysterious angles. Parker is well qualified to study them.

Col. H. Norman Schwarzkopf, superintendent of the state police who directed the tedious investigation climaxed by Hauptmann's arrest, had little to say on the latest developments in the case.

The Lockman put on the case by name, Schwarzkopf took cognizance of the charge state police "blocked" the Burlington county detective in the early days of the investigation.

"We followed normal police work and police investigation," he said. "We blocked."

Parker On Island
Former Governor Moore, now U. S. senator, said Parker was "one of scores" of detectives called into the case, and pointed out police officials from all sections of the state and country gave aid in early stages of the investigation.

Parker, meanwhile, was hunting on a lonely isle in Barnegat Bay, far from the clamor aroused by the injection of his name into the famous three-year-old case.

He could not be reached for questioning and no one knew what leads or clues he had unearthed in the case which crack operatives of the department of justice, New York City police and the New Jersey state police called "colored" when Hauptmann was arrested in September, 1934.

WAR

war and following weeks of concentrations and consolidation of positions was interpreted by Italian officers in the field as marking the start of the first major Ethiopian offensive.

Everywhere on the northern front, the Italian government communique said, the Ethiopians were put to flight.

Advices from Makale itself, center of Italy's front lines, however, indicated the Ethiopians were making swift thrusts on towns and supply trains, dealing out punishment behind the Italian lines and then withdrawing temporarily.

These swift developments started at the very time that France's Premier Laval was dispatching final Franco-British "suggestions" for peace to Premier Mussolini before imposing an oil embargo on Italy, delisted dispatches disclosed.

They coincided, too, with Sir Samuel Hoare's address to the house of commons yesterday in which the British foreign secretary appealed openly to Italy for peace, to remove the cause for sanctions and their threat of other wars.

The emperor himself fought against the attack which lasted 17 minutes while more than 1,000 bombs were dropped and at least 12 persons were killed and 200 injured.

The little, bearded man was talking to Dedjazmach (General) Birru and a doctor named Zervos when the thunder of the nine bombing planes was heard.

He calmly ordered his troops to scatter and began firing a nearby machine gun himself.

His courage inspired others. Soon anti-aircraft guns, machine guns, and rifles were blazing all through Dessay, at the roaring squadron of death overhead.

Several Europeans, including a Red Cross nurse, a Belgian officer, and a French war correspondent were wounded.

The emperor's palace, in which he was not present, was struck by about 100 bombs.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6. (AP)—The state department today withheld any comment on the Italian bombing of the American hospital at Dessay, Ethiopia, pending receipt of full official advices from the legation at Addis Ababa.

Spokesmen said what action, if any, this government may take must await complete diplomatic reports. As yet, no official information has been received.

The American government several weeks ago notified Italy that American property in Addis Ababa would be marked by large American insignia. It was not known immediately here, however, whether the Seventh Day Adventist hospital in Dessay, part of which was reported wrecked by bombs from nine Italian planes, was similarly marked.

Seventh Day Adventist officials considered today whether they would protest the bombing of the hospital at Dessay by Italian planes, but M. E. Kern, general conference secretary, commented: "We stayed there at our own risk."

CELEBRITY OF TULSA SPENDS NIGHT IN JAIL

DOUBLE SLAYING PROBE CONTINUES; MANY ARE QUIZZED

TULSA, Okla., Dec. 6. (AP)—Failure to provide satisfactory answers for investigators pushing an inquiry into the nightclub slaying here of an internal revenue agent and his helper landed an official of one of Tulsa's largest hospitals in jail overnight for investigation along with a racketeer operator.

Owen Watts, assistant state attorney general, said the hospital vice president and former city commissioner, M. J. McNulty, Jr., and the bookmaker, George Hurford, "wouldn't talk satisfactorily."

Watts joined Capt. John T. Burdett of Kansas City district supervisor of federal internal revenue agents, in the swiftly widening inquiry into the fatal shooting of Louis Pappan, revenue officer, and George Stewart, former Tulsa detective captain.

Officials continued secret questioning today of witnesses called from all walks of Tulsa life but declined to disclose the line of inquiry or details concerning questions McNulty and Hurford balked on when interviewed among more than 30 persons last night.

Investigators were known to be following two phases of inquiry.

Watts said he was aiding revenue investigators and county officials in efforts to unravel facts in the actual killings, for which two of the night club employees are held under first degree murder charges.

But Gov. E. W. Marland announced intentions to "smoke out" facts concerning reports of protection payments in operation of gambling rooms at the night club, and indicated Watts also was tracing payoff rumors.

"The case is beginning to clear up a little more, but there still are plenty of unanswered questions," Watts observed.

The men under charges are Tyre Parks and George L. "Hickory" McCullough, club employees, who said after the slaying Wednesday morning that they thought the men shot were attempting a holdup.

GOVERNOR APOLOGIZES
WASHINGTON, Dec. 6. (AP)—A formal apology from Gov. Harry A. Nick of Maryland for the arrest and alleged mistreatment of Ghafar Djalal, the Iranian (Persian) minister, at Elkton, Md., more than a week ago was received today by Secretary Hull and transmitted to the envoy.

Mrs. J. L. Nance and Mrs. Carlton Nance left today for a week-end visit in Hobart, Okla.

Missing Denver Mine Owner Is Found at Mine

ALAMOGORDO, N. M., Dec. 6. (AP)—Joseph W. Ady, 54, Colorado Springs, Colo., mine owner, had "nothing to say" today concerning his strange three-months disappearance.

He was found safe and well at one of his abandoned mines near here yesterday. Seemingly in good health and spirits, he secluded himself at the home of a friend while his wife, Mrs. Cybil Ady, and Chief of Police Hugh D. Harper of Colorado Springs, sped here by train.

The chief of police said he wished to question Ady concerning purported ransom notes received by Mrs. Ady after her husband disappeared.

Chief Harper said Mrs. Ady was "happy as a lark" upon learning her husband had been found. He said he had ordered Ady held in "technical custody" for questioning.

Mrs. Ady's first husband was the late James T. Burnis, a multi-millionaire during gold rush days at Cripple Creek.

Mrs. Leon L. Camp underwent a tonsillectomy at Pampa-Jarratt hospital this morning.

JAPS ANGERED OVER CENTRAL CHINESE POWER

CRISIS GROWS DESPITE BRITISH AND U. S. MOVES

BY A. T. STEELE

(Copyright, 1935, by The Associated Press.) SHANGHAI, Dec. 6.—The central Chinese government expressed gratification today at the American and British pronouncements in the North China crisis, but a spokesman asserted the negotiations over the separation movement "turned definitely worse."

The spokesman for the Nanking government said the latest obstacle to settlement of the North China autonomy controversy was attributable to anger by the Japanese military over the strengthened position of the central Chinese authorities.

He expressed fear that a "manufactured incident" was now impending.

"The Chinese government is gratified at the Hull and Hoare pronouncements, which come at a most opportune and critical moment," a foreign office spokesman told the Associated Press at Nanking.

"We are sincerely hopeful they will have a salutary effect on Japan," he asserted, referring to the statement by Secretary of State Hull, calling for observance of treaties, and by British Foreign Secretary Sir Samuel Hoare, admonishing Japan over North China incidents.

The spokesman said his government wished to emphasize that Chinese representations to Washington and London were not directed toward invoking any treaties such as the nine-power pact, guaranteeing the independence and territorial integrity of China.

"Our purpose was to bring the North China situation to the attention of the governments, and to point out a possibility that treaties were violated," he explained.

He was pessimistic over the negotiations—now at a standstill—undertaken in the northern provinces to forestall the autonomy movement.

The Nanking government's decision to offer North China drastic administrative reforms to replace self-rule, the spokesman said, had strengthened the stand of central officials, but Japanese military opposition threatens the negotiations anew.

Authoritative sources disclosed the central executive committee was holding off appointment to high government posts as long as possible pending another definite turn in the northern situation.

A difference became evident in the attitudes of the Japanese military and diplomats.

The Japanese embassy here maintained an air of optimism over ultimate acceptance of the Nanking proposals for a northern settlement through Chinese reforms despite the renewal of Japanese military pressure at Peiping.

War Minister Gen. Ho Ying-Ching, sent north by the Nanking government to work for a settlement, authoritative sources said, was still under a warning by the Japanese military to leave North China immediately.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Dec. 6 (AP)—Mrs. Arthur Kessel sent her 3-year-old son upstairs for his afternoon nap. She ordered him back when he came downstairs a few minutes later. COMMUNITY SERVICE REVEALED IN CLUB COUNCIL REPORTS

RECREATION IS CIVIC PROJECT OF MAIN BODY

EACH CLUB HAS ITS WORK FOR WELFARE OF CITY

Public welfare is being served in many ways by women's clubs of the city, it was revealed at the Council of Clubs meeting yesterday when each club representative answered roll call by naming the main community project of her organization this year.

Assistance to underprivileged children is the mission of several groups, one club is sponsoring a city beautification campaign, another a safety drive, and others are adding to the cultural life of Pampans.

The project of the council itself, that of community recreation, was reported by Mrs. Raymond Harrah, president. She told of a recent meeting of civic leaders, called by invitation from the council to discuss the subject. It was agreed, she said, that a central playground is one big need in carrying out a year-round recreation program.

Mrs. C. T. Hunkapillar and Mrs. F. M. Culbertson were appointed to represent the council in work with the city commission on recreation plans. Mrs. Glen Pool was named to present the program to Parent-Teacher associations and ask their cooperation.

Announcement was made that dolls to be dressed for Christmas distribution have arrived, and may be secured by the club women who have agreed to dress them for the community Christmas tree. This project was adopted by the council on suggestion of the Twentieth Century club.

Mrs. E. A. Hampton was elected corresponding secretary to fill the office vacated by the resignation of Mrs. R. S. Lawrence.

Two Sermons by Evangelist Are Heard Yesterday

The revival being conducted by Evangelist C. E. McGaughey at Central Church of Christ is progressing successfully, with large crowds attending the services, reports Paul A. Thompson, minister.

Mr. McGaughey spoke yesterday morning on the subject, "Nothing But Leaves, saying in part, 'Just as Jesus came to the fig tree desiring fruit, so he desires fruit from our lives. Man is responsible to God, and God requires him to bring forth fruit and not leaves only.'

"Leaves are pretty; so are some lives on the outside, but Jesus cursed the fig tree because it did not fulfill its purpose and produce fruit. So he will deal with us."

Last evening the sermon subject was "From the Beginning It Was Not So." Concerning the many denominations, creeds, names, and forms of worship, he said that these divisions in the church did not exist at its beginning.

"Double Duty" Holiday Wear

After 5 O'clock—Take Off Jacket Formal Wear
Low-Cut Decollete Dress

By ELLEN WORTH

The jacket gives allure to this slim "don't dress." The gleaming silver metal lame bow, right under the chin, provides an interesting contrast to the dull sheen of the black crepe of the dress. Wear it for everything after 5 o'clock—cocktails—dinner—theatre.

Then, for strictly formal evenings, you've a chance to take off your jacket and show off your low-cut decollete dress with silver lame bodice and silver kid belt. See small view!

Another stunning idea is Dubonnet lame used for entire dress.

You can make this simple to sew dress for a remarkably small sum.

Style No. 965 is designed for sizes 11, 13, 15 and 17 years. Size 15 requires 4 1/2 yards of 39-inch material with 1 yard of 39-inch contrasting.

An injured knee which required her wearing a cast and using crutches incapacitated Mary Hoeger, who won the senior women's diving championship at the age of 11 in New York last summer. But

COUPLE AT SKELLYTOWN WED; BRIDE IS HONORED AT SHOWER

SEKELLYTOWN, Dec. 6.—Miss Cleon Jones and Cammie Terry were united in marriage Sunday afternoon at the Methodist parsonage in Borger.

The bride is the older daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Jones. Mrs. Terry is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Terry. Both are well known in this community.

The couple will make their home about 10 miles north of Skellytown, in the community where both have resided most of their lives, and where they have many friends to extend their best wishes.

Shower Honors Bride
Mrs. W. W. Jones was hostess at a bridal shower this week for Mrs. Cammie Terry. The room was decorated in streamers of pink and green. The bride's chair was covered in the same colors and gifts were presented in a pink and green basket.

Friends who brought gifts to the honoree were Mrs. A. C. Carroll, Joe Carroll, R. L. Garland, D. Ferguson, Gillman, W. Sparks, Looman, Ernie Jones, J. P. Garland, Earl New, J. D. Sims, E. M. Hardin, J. P. Brown, H. M. Henderson, R. L. Pond, Hubert Pond, J. C. Dixon, M. B. Brown, H. H. Greg, Ernest North, J. C. Jarvis, J. C. Harris, and the hosts.

MA SWEET AND SEVEN SWEET DAUGHTERS HEARD BY LIONS

Pampa Lions yesterday voted $30 as a contribution to the Christmas tree for needy children and took other steps to help make the event a success.

Announcement was made that a house for the club-sponsored Boy Scout troop is nearing completion. The house is at the rear of the Harrah chapel in southwest Pampa. It will be for the exclusive use of the troop.

Jack Dunn, program chairman Thursday, presented "Ma Sweet and Her Seven Sweet Daughters."

Mrs. C. O. Huber was cast as Ma Sweet, and the daughters were Mrs. Fritz Waechter, Mrs. J. P. Wehrung, Mrs. C. G. Cone, Mrs. B. W. Rose, Mrs. Roy Dyson, Mrs. C. L. Fischer, and Mrs. Jim Arwood.

As cast for the "entertainment," with Ma presiding, the daughters presented a variety of costumes, temperament, and talent, ranging from hick-town dialog, frivolity, and vocal solos to group singing. One daughter was "goofy," another talked through the nose, one played a "mean harmonica," and all contributed to the merriment. A stirring address on women's rights featured Mrs. Wehrung.

After the meeting, the board of directors met and approved proposals to help two crippled children.

Settlement of Strike Is Seen

HOUSTON, Dec. 6. (AP)—Negotiation for settlement of the labor dispute between the Houston maritime committee and the International Longshoremen's association was seen today as a major step toward ending the dock workers' strike at west Gulf ports and Gulfport, Miss.

The Houston committee previously had insisted that the signing of contracts with Independent Longshoremen's associations after the strike was called nearly two months ago prevented any negotiations with the I. L. A.

For this reason, spokesmen for both factions said, the committee's decision to negotiate brightened hopes for immediate settlement of the labor trouble at all ports affected.

CASE IS RECOVERED
A medical case belonging to Dr. M. C. Overton was recovered yesterday by the sheriff's department after it was left on a sidewalk near the courthouse. A few minor items were removed, but no "dope." It was the third time in 30 days that the case had been taken from the doctor's car. Local physicians, accustomed to such thefts, are chiefly annoyed by breaking of window glass in the cars to get to the cases.

Joyce Kilmer, the journalist and poet, was killed in action near Springs, France, July 30, 1918.

MRS. LILLY IS BRIDGE HOSTESS AT HOME YESTERDAY

After an hour of bridge at Mrs. B. O. Lilly's home yesterday afternoon, Queen of Clubs conducted a brief business session, elected Mrs. A. B. Goldston president and Mrs. I. B. Hughey secretary and reported for the year.

A refreshment course, attractive in Christmas colors, was served to close the meeting. Miss Fern Hughes scored high for club guests in the bridge games. Mrs. H. D. Keys high and Mrs. Goldston second high for members.

Mrs. George Rainouaird and Mrs. Otto Studer were other special guests. Members present were Mrs. Carl Boston, C. C. Cook, Howard Buckingham, Raymond Harrah, R. S. Lawrence, A. M. Martini, Max Mahaffey, L. N. McCullough, Carl Smith, H. C. Wilson, Hughey, Goldston, and Keys.

Mrs. A. B. Corley gave a talk on proper discipline as a prevention of crime. Could My Child Become a Criminal? was the topic discussed by Mrs. M. L. Roberts and completed in a round-table discussion.

Refreshments were served to Mrs. O. L. Satterfield of Noletto, Elsie Reek of Panhandle, and Frank Reek, guests, and Mrs. W. W. Hughes, W. S. Boyd, Roberts, Corley, Hatchell, J. C. Kennedy, E. R. Hawkins, Crawford, and the hosts.

Climaxing the work of the year, the Sunshine club will have its Christmas party Dec. 17 at the home of Mrs. M. L. Roberts with a covered dish luncheon. A feature of the afternoon will be an exchange of gifts.

P-TA FORMED IN WHITE DEER AT A MEETING

Organization To Be Completed This Evening

WHITE DEER, Dec. 6.—Superintendent R. B. Fisher and Mrs. C. T. Hunkapillar, both of Pampa, were the main speakers at a meeting of the citizens of the White Deer independent school district, Tuesday night, for the purpose of organizing a Parent-Teacher association.

Mr. Fisher told of his experience in Russia, Germany, and England, during the past summer, and Mrs. Hunkapillar, assisted by Mrs. Fisher and Mrs. A. L. Burge, also of Pampa, presented the purpose of a P-T-A.

With Geo. A. Heath, superintendent of schools, White Deer, acting as temporary chairman, the P-T-A constitution was adopted and a nominating committee elected. The report will be submitted and the organization completed at the next meeting, Friday night, Dec. 6.

Preceding the addresses, the newly organized high school girls clubs and mixed chorus, directed by Glenn E. Davis, and the saxophone band, directed by M. A. Armstrong, gave a musical program.

At the close of the meeting, members of the home economics department, with Mrs. E. B. Gull, instructor, and Mary V. Culliver and Roberta Nicholson acting as hostesses, served refreshments to those assembled.

Luncheon Closes Week of Prayer

Lou Wilkins circle was in charge yesterday, presenting the topic, Christmas for Christ. Mrs. J. O. Scott offered the opening prayer, and Mrs. Emil Williams a devotional talk on tithing. Mrs. F. L. Nicholson, W. L. Lane, J. B. Davis, and Ben Selbold assisted with discussions.

WTSTC Will Crown Freshman as Queen

Auto Bride

It was a "motorial" merger when charming Hester Deane, above, eloped to Yuma with James F. Lewis, New York society man. Because she has appeared as a model in so many automobile advertisements, the young film actress is known as the "girl with the Fisher body." And her husband is heir to a sparkling fortune. The couple were wed before, but the marriage was annulled.

Group 4 Program Is Featured by Christmas Play

A play, Coming of the Prince of Peace, featured the program of group four, First Christian Women's council, in a meeting at Mrs. A. L. Burge's home Wednesday afternoon.

Mmes. D. C. Houk and I. M. Fleming were co-hostesses.

The program topic was "In the Paths of Peace." Mrs. W. E. Noblitt gave the opening prayer and Mrs. Houk the devotional talk on the subject, "Seek and Ye Shall Find." Mrs. C. F. Bastion, leader, introduced the program and Mrs. Jack Wilkerson talked on the subject, "Can Women Aid World Peace?"

For the play, Mrs. L. C. Childers and Mrs. H. C. Jones were the readers. Mrs. Graham read a poem, "Gratitude." Songs by a quartet, Mmes. Bastion, Roff, Mary C. Horner, and Zelma Blair, and a solo by Mrs. Hoff made the drama more effective.

After the benediction refreshments of candy, nuts, and fruit in Christmas bags were served to those on program and Mmes. C. L. Shearer, R. P. Hancock, C. E. Cary, Mae Forsyth, Virgil Wallace, N. J. The subject for the public speaking class this week is appropriate one, What the Junior Chamber of Commerce Has Done to Make Christmas Happier in Pampa. The subject for the baby class is Why I Enjoyed Santa Day.

P-TA COUNCIL ENDORSES PLAN FOR PLAY HALL

NEED OF BUILDING IS GREAT, MEMBERS BELIEVE

Realizing the recreation needs of young people in Pampa, and believing that a plan to include a community recreation hall in the fairground-park project is a move in the interest of child welfare, the city Council of Parents and Teachers yesterday passed a resolution urging an immediate WPA grant for the hall.

Members will ask that the recreation hall be among the first of the fairground projects approved.

The resolution was passed at a regular council meeting which opened with the singing of America and repetition of the Lord's prayer.

Plans for a radio program to be broadcast from the Amarillo station Dec. 12 from 2:30 to 3 o'clock were announced by Mrs. G. T. Hunkapillar, radio chairman. Parent-Teacher associations of this district are taking turns presenting broadcasts on Thursday afternoons this winter.

Mrs. J. W. Garman, welfare chairman, reported that several pairs of shoes have been bought for pupils during the month from welfare funds.

Reports on the recent state convention at El Paso were made by Mrs. F. M. Culbertson, Miss Josephine Thomas, and Mrs. Hunkapillar, who attended from here.

TO ENTERTAIN VISITORS
This evening at 7:30 the young people of First Christian church will entertain young people of the Christian church at Canadian. An entertaining program and refreshments are planned by the hosts. All young people in the church here are invited.

"That's great news for me—I'm a Calumet fan!"

SAYS MRS. C. H. MCINTOSH, OF CHICAGO, ILL.

Now—Calumet Baking Powder in a Big New 10¢ Can!

"I USE CALUMET Baking Powder whatever the price," Mrs. McIntosh says. "But I try to keep to my weekly budget—and a ten-cent can of Calumet that size is certainly welcome. I know it's a bargain!"

Her son Jack, just back from a trip away from home, settles down to some of Mother's famous coffee cake, and pays for it with a big smile.

AT THIS PORCH PARTY, Mrs. McIntosh served GINGER TEA CAKES (1 egg)

1 1/2 cups sifted Swans Down Cake Flour	1 1/2 teaspoons ginger
1 1/2 teaspoons Calumet Baking Powder	1/4 cup butter or other shortening
1/2 teaspoon soda	4 tablespoons brown sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt	1 egg, well beaten
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon	1/2 cup molasses
1/2 teaspoon cloves	1/2 cup boiling water

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, soda, salt, and spices, and sift together three times. Cream butter thoroughly, add sugar gradually, and cream well. Add flour, alternately with molasses, a small amount at a time, beating after each addition until smooth. Add boiling water, mixing quickly to blend. Turn into small greased cup-cake pans, filling them 2/3 full, and bake in moderate oven (375° F.) 20 minutes, or until done. Cool. Cover tops of cakes with butter frosting. Makes 2 dozen tea cakes. (All measurements are level.)

WHY IS CALUMET so dependable? Why is such a small amount needed—just a level teaspoon to a cup of sifted flour in most recipes? Why is it different from other baking powders?

Calumet combines two distinct leavening actions. A quick action for the mixing bowl—set free by liquid. A slower action for the oven—set free by heat.

Calumet's remarkable Double-Action is so perfectly balanced and controlled that it produces perfect leavening. Calumet is a product of General Foods.

AND LOOK AT THE NEW CALUMET CAN!

A simple twist... and the Easy-Opening Top lifts off. No delay, no spilling, no broken finger-nails! And inside there's a special, convenient spoon-leveler!

All Calumet prices are lower! Calumet is now selling at the lowest prices in its history... The regular price of the Full-Pound Can is now only 25¢! And ask to see the new 10¢ can... a lot of good baking for a dime... with Calumet, the Double-Acting Baking Powder.

SPEARMAN FAYORED OVER HARVESTERS IN BASKETBALL GAME TONIGHT

STRONG NORTH PLAINS QUINT TO PLAY HERE

LYNX HAVE PRACTICED FOR SEVERAL WEEKS

The Harvester basketball team is expected to face tough opposition tonight at 7:30 o'clock when it clashes with the Spearman high school team at the local gym.

Spearman has been practicing for several weeks. The Lynx have the best material available in several years. More than that, it is time for Spearman to have another good basketball team. Several years ago Spearman's basketball team were the talk of the plains, and according to the law of averages the boys who will take the floor tonight against Pampa's tall team should be good.

Coach Mitchell is faced with the necessity of building a team out of material that is mostly new. Only three men were on the first string squad last year. The others were Gorillas or did not play at all. The Pampa mentor has three good men in Stokes Green, Junior Strickland and Deacon Ayer because their worth has largely been proved, and it is likely those three will start the game tonight.

It is probable that Mitchell will send Moose Hartman to the other forward position, and put Roy Lee Jones or Dencil Sparlin at the other guard position. The team will have several new plays tonight, something they didn't have the other night when they beat Groom by the measly score of 14 to 11.

Junior Strickland will have an opportunity to prove that he can handle the center jump—the Groom center was a match for him, and was just as tall. The center jump has been eliminated in the new rules after a free throw has been made, but is still used after a free goal. After a successful free throw the opposing team is given the ball on the sidelines.

Fans are expecting much of Harold Nicholson and Jack Bailey this season. They are certain to get to play in the first games; in fact every one of the 14 members of the squad are likely to get to play until coach makes up his mind about the best scoring combination.

Only a casual inspection of the 14 boys in practice would reveal that no position on the team has been clinched, and that even the three returning lettermen will have to hustle to hold their berths.

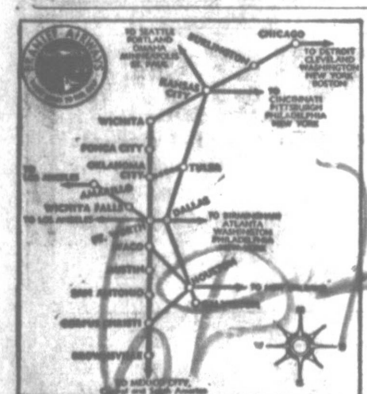

Berwanger Still Idol of Midwest

CHICAGO, Dec. 6 (AP)—Jay Berwanger again—by a mile.

For the second straight year but with a far greater margin than before, the Dubuque, Iowa, boy became a football immortal at the University of Chicago today as he was named the outstanding athlete of the Western conference in a poll of writers and experts who follow the conference's activities.

Jesse Owens, Ohio State's "one man track team," offered the only serious opposition to Chicago's "one man football team," but was buried under an avalanche of Berwanger votes, 41 to 20. Only two others figured in the voting—George Roscoe, Minnesota's all-around star, and Bill Renner, forward passing genius of Michigan. Roscoe received six votes, Renner two.

Berwanger, idol of millions who cheer for the "under dog" in sports competition, was called a greater football player than even Red Grange by some of the writers.

Stanford's 'Rose Bowlers' May Meet Mustangs In Air

'Pony Express' May Get Dose of Passes

BY DUDLEY ROSS
STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Calif. Dec. 6 (AP)—Upset two years ago by Columbia and bombed to defeat last year by Alabama, Stanford's famous sophomores of 1933—now seniors—will make one last stand for victory in Pasadena's Rose bowl on New Year's day against Southern Methodist.

It will be the best collegiate football game for eight of the first-string varsity, and to win a Rose bowl victory in their third attempt will erase the bitter taste of the pills labeled 7 to 0 and 29 to 13 by Columbia and Alabama, respectively.

Two of those ex-sophomores who have dominated the Pacific coast gridirons, in victory, draw or even defeat for three seasons will be missing, but Coach Claude E. (Tiny) Thornhill expects to put this season's best-functioning eleven on the Pasadena turf.

The missing are Frank Alustiza, the hard-as-rock blocking back who teamed up for two varsity years with his more famous mates, all-America Bobby Grayson and "Bones" Hamilton, and Claude Callaway, Bob Reynolds' running mate at tackle.

Alustiza was knocked off the gridiron permanently this fall with an eye injury, and Callaway didn't even don a uniform, on doctor's orders, because of a siege of bronchial pneumonia last spring.

The others will be there, however— "Monk" Moscrip and Keith Topping at end, Reynolds at tackle, Larry Roubale and Woody Adams at guards, Wes Muller at center, and Grayson and Hamilton in the backfield. Moscrip's presence looked doubtful when he suffered a jaw fracture and a knee injury in Stanford's big game with California, but he is expected to be in there again when New Year's day rolls around.

To complete the lineup are Jimmy Coffis, little left halfback recognized as the coast's best safety man, Bill Paulman, the blocking, punting quarterback, and Dale Beedle, tackle, all sophomores.

Possessed of a powerful running attack—both Columbia and Alabama will bear witness to that—the Indians this season nevertheless had to depend upon the field-goal kicking of Moscrip to defeat Washington, Santa Clara and Southern California. Coincidentally, the one game in which Moscrip's toe lost its aim resulted in Stanford's lone defeat, administered by U. C. L. A., 7-6.

But in the California contest Stanford displayed an ability to punch over touchdowns it had failed to show earlier. It added to its former land power a real passing threat with the development of Grayson as a fine tosser.

Mixing of sharp-shooting aerial shots with running plays contributed perhaps more than any other factor to the Indians' two devastating victories through California's previously impregnable line for scores.

"They are more pass-minded now," Coach Thornhill chuckles. "They are ready to shoot them, and what's more they can make them work."

Stanford's pass defense has consisted in the simple expedient of sending the fast, rangy ends, Moscrip and Topping, rushing the passer, and no back since Alabama's Dixie Howell of 1934 has been able to stand them off and fire away with consistent coolness and accuracy. They are expected to have their toughest test against S. M. U.'s famed "aerial attack."

The "aerial attack," of course, is based on the Warner system, with variations of Thornhill's own invention. The great-running Grayson is the spearhead, but Hamilton, Coffis and Paulman are no mean alternates in the leather-lugging assignments.

The large, genial Thornhill readily admits his boys were given a lot more stuff to use than they found necessary to upset California.

Stanford hit its season's peak in the game, and "Tiny" fortentively hopes they will touch it again in the Rose bowl—for once.

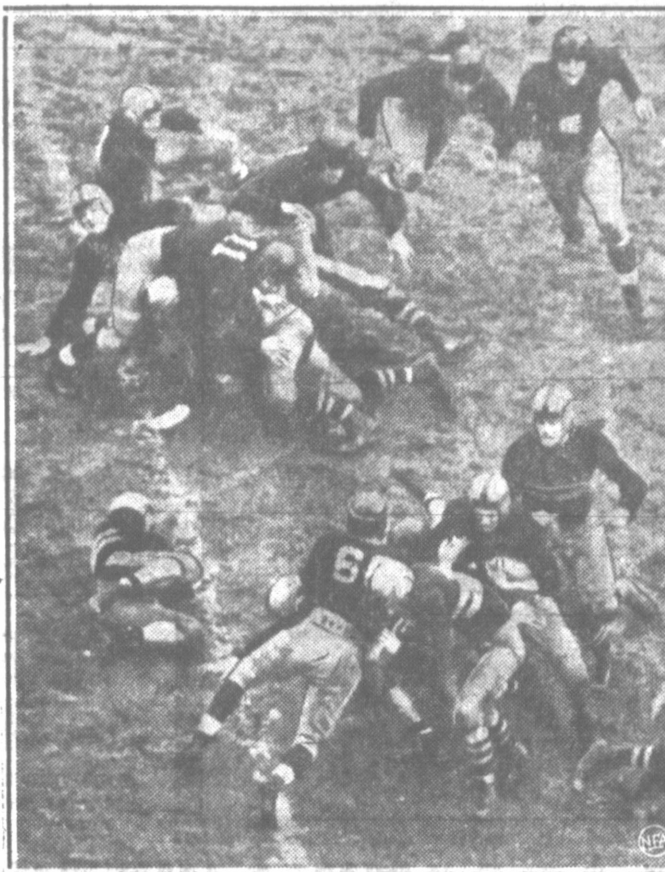

Roosevelt's Son Is Ridiculed for Killing Buffalo

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6 (AP)—Dispatches telling how Elliott Roosevelt, son of the president, shot a buffalo while hunting on a friend's private game preserve in Oklahoma brought a protest today from Vance Muse of Houston, Texas.

Muse, managing director of the "Texas tax relief committee," is issued a statement ironically referring to young Roosevelt as a "mighty hunter," and saying:

"There are probably not more than 250 buffalo left in Oklahoma and Texas. It is to be hoped that when this supply is exhausted Mr. Roosevelt will not turn his attention to our cattle and dairy herds."

MEXIA, Dec. 6 (AP)—A. J. Laughlin, principal of Mexia high school, announced today the Mexia-Temple, bi-district, championship high school football game, scheduled for today at Waco, had been postponed until tomorrow because of excessive rains. A 4-inch rain sent streams out of their banks and highways were flooded.

BITTER FIGHT OVER OLYMPIC GAMES STARTS

ALTHOUGH AMERICA IS CERTAIN TO BE REPRESENTED

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON JR., Associated Press Sports Writer.

NEW YORK, Dec. 6 (AP)—The executive and foreign relations committees of the Amateur Athletic Union met today to seek a peaceful settlement of the proposed boycott against the 1936 Olympic games before it developed into a battle on the floor of the forty-seventh annual A. A. U. convention.

Avery Brundage of Chicago, Olympic committee chairman who heads the pro-participation forces, and Jeremiah T. Mahoney of New York, A. A. U. president, on the side favoring the boycott, both claimed victory.

It seemed unlikely that the joint committee could reach an agreement. Both sides were worried, however, about the outcome if the subject came to an open fight in the general sessions of the convention, which begin tomorrow.

Other important matters to be considered were whether to hold the Olympic track and field trials and the national championships together or separately, the awards of places and dates for both the title events and the trials in all sports, the consideration of numerous record applications, and the hockey committee's special "headache," imported players.

Regardless of the outcome of the A. A. U. battle, it seems certain that the United States will be represented at the Olympics. The Olympic committee has taken no official notice of the protests so far, going ahead with its plans for sending the athletes abroad.

The utmost the A. A. U. could do would be to refuse to certify them and perhaps suspend those who went over.

Mahoney indicated last night, however, that no such drastic steps would be taken. He was confident that the boycott forces could muster enough votes to carry a resolution calling on the Olympic committee to withdraw its acceptance of the German invitation and to refrain from sending teams to Germany.

If successful, the "opposition" plans to initiate a move to instruct delegates to the American Olympic committee to carry on the fight when that body meets Sunday. A. A. U. representatives hold more than 25 per cent of the A. O. C. votes.

Brundage hoped to dispose of the entire question in today's committee meeting.

Sports Roundup

NEW YORK, Dec. 6 (AP)—The Boston Braves' situation is all set.

A plan has been worked out. All needed now is approval of the club owners. President Ford C. Frick is off for Chicago today to get that.

One guess is Charles Francis Adams will be back in control.

Another is that Adams will take his $200,000 loss and leave baseball alone.

In either event, Bob Quinn is expected to be Boston's general manager, which may mean Dave Driscoll will go back to the daily Dodgers as secretary. Everything was arranged at a meeting the other day between Frick, Adams and a delegation of Beantown bankers.

Note to Hank Greenberg: You will get a nice raise, so can all that talk about holding out. . . . Hank Anderson, who put N. C. State back on the football map, is taking bows for same along Broadway. . . . Fordham can take a few for giving Jimmy Crowley that new three-year contract. . . . It is interesting to note Joe Louis is training for the full 15 rounds against Pauline.

The Yanks make no bones about wanting Roger Cramer from the Athletics and Buddy Myer from the Senators. . . . Col. Jake Ruppert already has taken the rubber off his back. . . . The significant, for the Colonel usually keeps his hand in his pocket until things are about to pop. . . . Nothing to that yarn that Jimmy Johnston will leave the garden to promote bridge tournaments. . . . He prefers to compete in poker.

Here is the announcement you have been waiting for: The Associated Press all America (the official, you know) comes out tomorrow. . . . The first fan (sports eds excluded) to wire in the correct guess on the 11 men on the first team, gets a pair of choice ones to the Louis-Paulino fight.

THANKS FROM COACH
Arthur B. Boeringer, line coach of the Detroit university football team which was given a luncheon here recently on their trip through the oil fields, has written the following letter to the B. C. D.:

"On behalf of the University of Detroit football team and coaches, we wish to extend to you our sincere appreciation and thanks for your splendid hospitality. . . . The boys had a great time and will remember the fine trip for many days to come. We hope that we may be able to come again and stay longer."

Bound for Bowl

Bounding Bobby Wilson, 147 pounds of dynamite, deception, and elusiveness, put Southern Methodist right into the Rose Bowl when his running, ably aided by a fast hard-charging line, and great blocking by backfield mates, defeated Texas Christian University, 20-14.

Here is an unusual action shot of the terror of the turf who will go into action against Stanford at Pasadena; New Year's Day.

TCU Is Heavy Favorite Over Bronco Eleven

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 6 (AP)—The pass-slinging "Horned Frogs" of Texas Christian university, accompanied by a 45-piece band and some 100 rosters, arrive here this morning for their game Saturday with the Santa Clara Broncos.

Defeated only by Southern Methodist, the Frogs find themselves heavy favorites over the Broncos. After a welcome by Mayor Angelo Rossi and other city officials, the teams will work out at Kezar stadium later today.

While their famed air attack, centered about "Slinging Sam" Baugh, quarterback, has netted T. C. U. 10 wins, the Santa Clarans have suffered five defeats but the Broncos believe it's about time they won a ball game.

The Broncos have worked lightly all week and are reported in good condition. The Texans drilled on passing at Salt Lake City yesterday. Coach L. R. Meyer of T. C. U. said his team was "in fine fettle."

"Tiny" Thornhill Arrives to Scout Mustangs Saturday

DALLAS, Dec. 6 (AP)—"Tiny" Thornhill, head coach of the Stanford university Indians, arrived here today.

Thornhill planned to leave later in the day for College Station where tomorrow he will scout the Mustangs in their final Southwest conference battle against Texas A. & M.

Thornhill expressed pleasure that the aerial-minded Mustangs had been named to oppose his team in the Rose bowl.

"We'll give the fans a great football performance New Year's" promised the big coach. "But as to the probable winner, you'll just have to wait and see."

Rockwell Kent, the artist-author, was born at Tarrytown Heights, N. Y., in 1882.

Farmers Hope Bell's Prediction Will Come True

BY BILL PARKER, Associated Press Sports Writer.

DALLAS, Dec. 6 (AP)—After a short signal drill today the Southern Methodist Mustangs, Rose Bowl nominees, leave for College Station to close the Southwest conference race tomorrow against Texas A. & M. college.

Untied and unbeaten through 11 games, Southern Methodist faces its twelfth and final scheduled game, needing only a tie to win the conference title.

The Methodist touchdown guns that rattled Rice, Texas, U. C. L. A., Texas Christian and seven other strong foes, are expected to conquer the Aggies, but it's to be a grim scrap.

Elusive Robert Wilson, Methodist halfback who has conference scoring honors with 11 touchdowns for 66 points, leads the charge against an A. & M. team that needs to win or tie to prevent dropping into a cellar tie with the University of Texas.

With the exception of Fullback Harry Shuford and Guard Charles Baker, Coaches Madison Bell and Vic Hurt have the Mustangs ready. Because of injuries, Shuford and Baker will postpone their performances until the Rose Bowl game on January 1.

After yesterday's chalk board talk in which diagrammed defensive and offensive measures to use against A. & M. Bell turned to his men and said:

"The Aggies showed a lot of power. Thinking of beating the University of Texas, 20 to 14. I'm not kidding you when I say that they will be a hard team to beat. We will be as proud of a victory over them as any we have registered this season."

In a pre-season prediction, Bell said no conference team would go through the season untied or undefeated. The Aggies are going to do all in their power to make that prediction come true.

Coach Homer Norton sent the Aggies through a signal drill yesterday and planned the same thing today. He expressed hope that Taylor Wilkins, left end who has been out with an injury, would play. Martin Lindsey, giant tackle, is recovering from an attack of tonsillitis and is expected to go strong against the Mustangs.

API BANQUET

AMARILLO, Dec. 6 (AP)—About 250 members of the Panhandle chapter of the American Petroleum Institute are expected to attend a dinner here Dec. 12. Gene Howe, Amarillo newspaper publisher, will be toastmaster. Principal speakers will be J. C. Johnston of Hobbs, N. M., former chairman of the chapter and of the production division of the mid-continent district of the A. P. I., and C. A. Daniels of Borger, successor to Johnston in the mid-continent office.

All makes typewriters and other office machines cleaned and repaired.

300 TREES FROM EVERY PART OF TEXAS TO BE SET OUT SOON ON CENTENNIAL EXPOSITION GROUNDS

DALLAS, Dec. 6.—With the coming of cooler weather, work has commenced on the $250,000 landscaping scheme which will transform Texas Centennial Exposition grounds into one of the beauty spots of the nation.

Within the next thirty days more than 300 large trees will have been transported here from various parts of the state so that the flora of every section of Texas may be represented on the exposition grounds. The trees will be shipped by freight and motor truck. Palm trees, 40 feet tall, will come from the Rio Grande Valley, live oaks from Waco and Austin, Spanish oak from South Texas, towering pines and cedar elms from East Texas and magnollas from the South Central part of the state.

Four huge court yards, each of them 100x175 feet, are to be established along the sides of the Esplanade of State, the great open space between the main entrance gates and the million dollar Texas Hall of State. Each of these courts will be landscaped to represent a section of the state. Hackberries, cedars and sycamores will represent North Texas. Pines and palmetto will typify East Texas. Palms, bamboo, palmetto, Spanish dagger, and prickly pear will be among the South Texas planting. The West Texas court yard will display such growths as mesquite, huisache leche-guilles and many varieties of cacti.

Banks of the reflecting pool, which centers the Esplanade, will be transformed into a riot of color by thousands of rambler roses. Water lilies will be planted amid flashing under-water lights.

Shrub planting will commence before January 1 with thousands of crepe myrtles in the color scheme. Other shrubs and plants will be ordered by the thousands. All lawns will be sodded and plantings of perennials and annual flowers will be made so as to afford perpetual color from the opening date June 6 until the close of the Exposition in the fall.

FUNDS FOR OLD-AGE PENSIONS NOT IMMEDIATELY AVAILABLE

AUSTIN, Dec. 6 (AP)—Funds for federal old-age pensions, as in Texas, are not immediately available, John O. Winant, chairman of the Texas security board, has reminded Texans in a letter to Governor Allred.

Taxes for old-age benefits, he said, first accrue January 1, 1937. Levies include an income tax on employees and an excise tax on employers, with respect to employment after December 31, 1936. Provisions of the social security act relating to federal grants for states will become operative for old-age assistance, he said, "subject to appropriations by congress," and "provided, the state laws conform to the standards set forth in the social security act."

Under that law, he reminded, the state acts must be approved by the social security board by January 1, 1938, if appropriations are made available for the first quarter of the calendar year 1938. Not all of the states, he said, now conform to the federal requirements.

The social security board, children's bureau of the department of labor and bureau of internal revenue of the treasury department he said, "are now working on rules, regulations, forms and procedures for all titles of the act, including the requirements for estimating the amounts to be granted to the states under the several sections of the act."

When requirements have been determined for all provisions, he said, "both the federal and state governments will necessarily notify employers, through proper channels, of the forms and returns required in the administration of the social security act."

"There need be no haste at present," he said, "for employers to make arrangements regarding the purchase of legal and accounting procedures and new payroll and record forms."

The Texas old-age pension act becomes effective in February but the legislature in two special sessions failed to provide revenue for full payments. Only liquor tax income, other than one-fourth set aside by the constitution for school purposes, was allocated to the pension fund.

Governor Allred has indicated, however, he would reconvene the legislature in January to enact revenue measures for pension payments.

UNEXPECTED TRAGEDY

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Dec. 6 (AP)—Cecilia Gilmore, telephone operator at the Uniontown hospital, answered a call that an automobile had killed a man. Quickly she sent an ambulance. It returned carrying the body of her father, John Gilmore, 63.

Gas Explosion Takes 4 Lives

STUEBENVILLE, Ohio, Dec. 6 (AP)—Rescue crews found the bodies of four victims of a gas explosion in a Wolf Run today after eight hours of groping in the fitful light of miners' lights.

The dead, all married and three with families, were: Joseph Boone and his brother, Isaiah, both of Amsterdam, and Albert James and Robert Russell of Bergholz. Russell had been married less than a year.

Earl Morrow, secretary to the mine superintendent, said following a three-phase investigation a spark had apparently ignited a pocket of natural gas that seeped in the mine. Thirty-one other men, members of the night shift, escaped through side passageways as a thundering rock rolled the depths. Morrow said only the fact that the men were well scattered through the main and side shafts averted a greater disaster.

The blast occurred about 8 o'clock last night.

SWEDISH SHIPS RETURN TO SEA
GOTHENBURG, Sweden (AP)—Laid-up Swedish tonnage this year amounted on September 1 to 36 ships of 77,576 tons compared with 57 vessels of 75,822 tons a year ago.

After East Texas farmers for years had regarded the "partridge pea" as a harmful weed, Cliff Wells, Franklin county farmer, used it for hay with success and is planning to harvest again.

EDITORIAL

WE CAN'T JOIN GENEVA AND BE NEUTRAL, TOO

It is only in circuses that you find people who can ride two horses at once. And when horses start going in opposite direction, even the circus star has to give up—or take a serious header.

This homely and self-evident truth would not be worth mentioning here except for the fact that the American people seem to be in a fair way to attempt the stunt themselves; and before the ride really gets going, they ought to figure out, once and for all, just which horse they aim to ride.

The last Congress passed a neutrality law banning shipment of war materials to warring nations. The idea back of this was that if we didn't have any truck with fighters, we wouldn't be nearly so likely to get drawn into the fight ourselves.

Now it just happens, from the way the cards lie, that this neutrality law of ours hits the Italians harder than it hits the Ethiopians. As a result, the United States gives every appearance these days of helping the League of Nations in its application of sanctions to Italy.

That wasn't at all what we set out to do. It may be a good idea, but it wasn't the idea that Congress had in mind when it passed the neutrality law, and the two ideas just don't mesh at all.

In the field of foreign relations, this nation can do one of two things. It can stay strictly at home, resolved to do every last thing it can think of to stay out of any foreign wars; or it can get down in the arena and do its level best to keep foreign wars from starting.

It can do one or the other of these things, but it can't possibly do both.

The neutrality law will come up for revision at the next session of Congress. Before Congress acts, we shall have to decide which of these two things we want to do.

If we stick to the neutrality idea, we shall have to stop worrying about what the league is going to do about the Italians in Ethiopia—or the Japanese in China, the Germans in wherever they may decide to go, or any other overseas Donnybrook.

We mustn't, for example, expand our war materials embargo to include oil, just because the league embargo is being expanded in that way. We must figure out our own program, stick to it, and then tell the operator that when Geneva calls we have gone out to the golf course.

If we take the second course, we must do just the opposite. Then we should be trying to keep wars from starting rather than to stay out of them after they do start; and in that case the more co-operation we could give the league, the better it would be.

It may be that this second course would be wiser. That isn't the point. The point is that we can't do both things. We can't ride two horses at once—especially when the nags are fated to go in opposite directions.

CAPITOL CHATTER

BY CHARLES E. SIMONS

AUSTIN, Dec. 6 (AP)—A proposal to establish a standing legislative committee on investigations is being advanced as a substitute to the existing practice of appointing separate committees for specific inquiries.

At each session of the legislature several committees are named to investigate some department or phase of law enforcement. Each gains its authority from a separate resolution.

Four house investigating committees are now at work and two completed their activities during the second special session.

The senate has had a committee in existence since the regular session with blanket power to investigate almost any phase of government.

If a standing committee was created all investigations would be referred to it unless the house specified otherwise. Personnel of the committee would be appointed at the start of the regular session.

George B. Terrell of Alto, who has a long record of public service, again may seek suffrage of the voters. Friends report that he is considering seriously a suggestion that he run for commissioner of agriculture, an office he occupied ten consecutive years.

Many years ago Terrell served in the Texas house of representatives.

He dropped out for a few years and then served five terms as agricultural commissioner, relinquishing the post in 1931 to again serve in the house. Terrell resigned after election as a congressman-at-large and served one term during which he was an outspoken critic of some of the president's policies and received some publicity by being the only democrat to vote against an emergency relief appropriation.

He has never been beaten in a race for public office.

Should Terrell become a candidate he would oppose J. E. McDonald, who has signified his intention to enter the primaries in quest of a fourth term.

A recent attempt to impeach McDonald for alleged official misconduct failed but he was reprimanded in a house resolution for certain irregularities.

THE NEW DEAL IN WASHINGTON

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON.—There is a great deal of headwagging among New Dealers this season and nearly every other wag has to do with Justice Owen Josephus Roberts of the United States Supreme Court.

Roberts has come to be known as the "odd man" on the court, by which it is meant that there are four liberals and four conservatives and that you just can't tell about Roberts.

Thomas Reed Powell, Langdell professor of law at Harvard and a foremost authority on jurisprudence, recently went so far as to say that Roberts "is at the moment the supreme court of the United States."

As the test of AAA's validity draws nigh, with the Wagner labor act, Social Security, the holding company act, and various other measures following close behind in the parade to the highest bench, the jitters as to Roberts increase in New Deal legal offices.

Nothing has happened since Roberts wrote the 5 to 4 opinion against the railroad pension act, which Chief Justice Hughes declared "raised a barrier against all legislative action of this nature by declaring that the subject matter itself lies beyond the reach of the congressional authority to regulate interstate commerce," to encourage anyone to believe Roberts isn't whetting his ax for further progressive legislation.

In the case of Hughes, the government's lawyers are far more hopeful. They could hardly afford to be otherwise, for without Hughes they would be lost. On their fingers they always first count Brandeis, Stone, and Cardozo, then add Hughes after little hesitation, and finally mention Roberts with either a groan or a prayer.

Answering the published theory that Hughes yearns to go down in history as the chief justice who stood like a rock against New Deal radicalism, they point out that he has stood with the liberals in every important 5 to 4 liberal-conservative split thus far.

Although he voted against the government in the NRA case, he was the one of nine and when he ruled against it in the "oil" cases he was one of eight—including Brandeis and Stone.

Hughes was on the liberal side in the 5 to 4 decisions—along with Roberts, in the Minnesota moratorium and New York milk cases and upheld the government in the 5 to 4 gold cases.

And when Roberts jumped to the conservatives on the railway pension case, Hughes read a hot minority opinion in answer to Roberts' sweeping condemnation of that act.

There is one factor which it is well to take into consideration. That is the health and the ages of the justices.

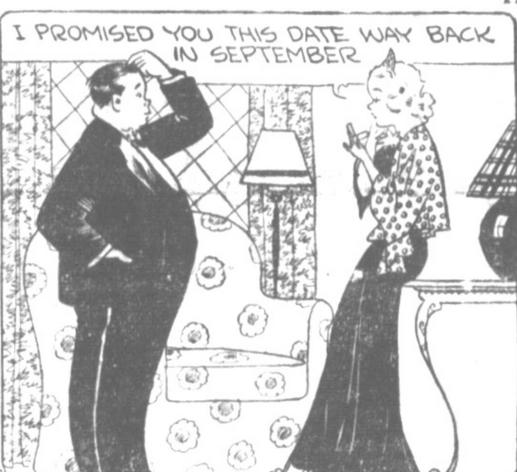

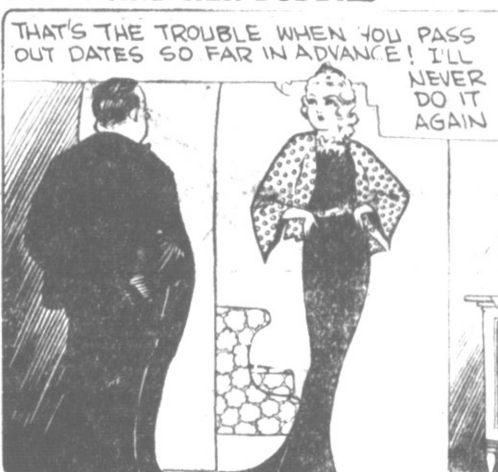

One or two of the conservative justices show occasional signs of wear. And death, or prolonged illness that would necessitate retirement, would mean a new liberal on the land's highest bench. With one more liberal on the court, the New Dealers would not need to worry about Roberts.

It may be rather a delicate subject, but there is food for thought in the fact that the economic and political future of the United States may depend on whether just one old gentleman manages to keep his feet dry.

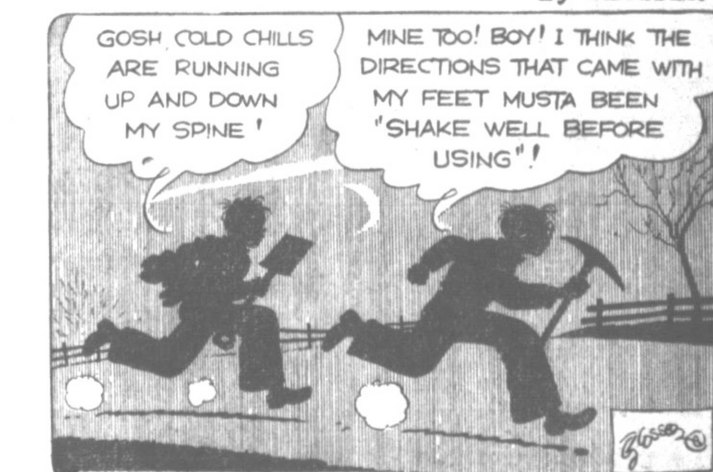

No Nobel Peace prize will be awarded this year, so a swell bet is overlooked in the person of Paulino Uzudun in the second round with Joe Louis.

Our plan to help Italy conserve its fuel had to be abandoned since there is no known method of piping a dictator's speeches.

DALHART WILL CARRY BATTLE TO PRESIDENT

ENTIRE PANHANDLE IS BEHIND DALLAM COUNTY SEAT

DALHART, Dec. 6.—Dalhart roared into action this week on behalf of every town and community in this entire territory. It has carried their plight direct to President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

The battle is to retain the regional headquarters of the United States Soil Conservation Service in Dalhart where they can be of the maximum benefit to the loyal, sturdy sons of the soil who met the hellions of dust, drought and depression and turned them back when depopulation of many a High Plains center was at stake.

There is talk of a buying boycott, broken promises, flouted faith and already repercussions of the battle are being on the trail of the New Deal's 1936 election hopes.

Several weeks ago 65 Dalhart business men met with the Amarillo chamber of commerce. Amarillo and were assured of every aid in keeping the headquarters here. Later Amarillo business men with Congressman Marvin Jones of that city came to Dalhart reiterating this good faith. H. E. Bennett, chief of the Soil Conservation Service, a pillar of the New Deal, at this latter meeting assured Dalhart of the administration's good faith.

Dalhart citizens were furious Monday when word spread of "definite orders" to move the headquarters to Amarillo. What amounted to a mass meeting, though called as a business men's council, named a committee headed by Edmer D. Elliott, secretary-treasurer of the Dalhart Roosevelt-Garner club, to fight the battle on behalf of every Panhandle community.

Elliott outlined these points: "Every town and community in the Dalhart area took the brunt of the black dusts and the resulting black publicity without whining. In large measure they brought about establishment of the soil erosion control program covering the dust bowl of which Dalhart happens to be the approximate center. While the conservation headquarters remain in Dalhart they are in intimate touch with the problems typical to the dustbowl. To move the headquarters into an area that is not typical, that has not suffered the same frightful hardships of the Panhandle communities is for the New Deal to court disaster resulting from a flagrant example of wasted time, effort and efficiency. The millions of dollars spent laying the present foundation for a constructive program will have been squandered in a ludicrous and abortive attempt.

"We believe," Elliott said, "that the farmers and ranchers of the High Plains who have gone the whole route with the New Deal in saving soil and combatting depression are entitled to the best that the Soil Conservation Service can give them. That best can be given only if the authorities, directly in charge of the High Plains program, remain in close and intimate contact with the problems that are stabbing at the vitals of Panhandle development. If Dalhart, for any reason, is not satisfactory as the headquarters, then let them be placed in a town or community still more typical of the dustbowl. Anything else will result in wastefulness, inefficiency and downright damage to those sons of the soil who have brought this country through with colors tattered but still flying."

Just See How Santa Has Grown!

A mighty big chimney it would have to be to accommodate this Santa Claus. So, instead of making the rounds at Christmas time, he'll just stand in the park in the town that he's made famous—Santa Claus, Ind. The gigantic granite statue of Kris Kringle is 23 feet high and weighs 12 tons, and a good idea of its size can be gained by noting how it dwarfs its designer, Carl S. Barrett of Chicago. The statue will be unveiled Dec. 22 and dedicated on Christmas Day.

LEONARD WILL BE CANDIDATE FOR SPEAKER

RACE ALREADY OPENS FOR HIGH POST IN HOUSE

AUSTIN, Dec. 6 (AP)—The race for speaker of the 45th legislature began at the second called session with Rep. Homer Leonard of McAllen the first to announce.

Several other aspirants and possible candidates are hesitating but most of the candidates should assume definite form before the end of the third special session, tentatively set by Governor Allred for January.

Leonard is chairman of the house appropriations committee and at 36 is serving his third term. He entered the race with strong support. Heading his campaign organization is Rep. Fred Knetsch of Seguin who, although a first timer, has assumed the lead on much major legislation. Leonard is an engineer-surveyor who turned newspaper publisher. He came to Texas from Missouri, settled in the Rio Grande valley and engaged in some of the hottest combats recorded in that area's political history. He was especially active in opposing the late A. Y. Baker, sheriff of Hidalgo county, and Senator Archie Parr of Benavides.

Although he supported Speaker Coke Stevenson in the last speaker-ship race, it is not known whether Stevenson will throw his strength behind Leonard. Looming in the background as a potential candidate is Rep. R. Emmett Morse of Houston. Should Morse get into the race it is probable Stevenson would favor him as the Houston legislator was one of the wheel horses in Stevenson's organization.

Stevenson enjoys deer hunting and few things can keep him from taking the field on the opening day. He announced at the start of the first special session that he intended to be in his favorite deer pasture when the session opened and warned the house to get down to business. The warning was repeated at the start of the second session.

When the second extraordinary meeting was completed, Stevenson designated Morse to preside over the house hearing of charges of official misconduct against J. E. McDonald, commissioner of agriculture. Stevenson donned his old hunting clothes and soon after legislative matters were finished was on his way to West. Stevenson had with him J. Reed, former Texas relief administrator.

night shows that treachery and disloyalty existed in the city and had to be reckoned with. "So we built the wall . . . for the people have a mind to meet opposition in a world of words we see the faith, courage and personality of this man Nehemiah; who could thus inspire and stir to activity the discouraged Jerusalemites. A mind to work is rarely lacking if only a leader is present. The way to meet opposition is in word—prayer and prudent watchfulness," Jesus said "Watch and pray!"

At Work and On Guard
"We are always disinclined to criticize those who believe in relying entirely upon God; yet there is much to be learned from the story of Nehemiah. It is very evident that Nehemiah counted greatly upon prayer, but still he 'set a watch day and night' (4:9). Nehemiah's advice to his soldiers was: 'Trust in God and keep your powder dry.' There is a splendid example of cooperation here. 'The work was large and great' (4:19). The circumference of the walls they were now erecting was the biggest that Jerusalem has ever known. But they did it! And those walls were standing in Christ's time; portions of them still are! Nehemiah's enthusiasm is everywhere in evidence. That the people caught it, likewise: 'From the rising of the morning until the stars appeared they toiled; and did not even take time to change their clothes' (1:3, 21, 23).

Social Abuses 5:1-29
Nehemiah found lots of things to rebuild, reform, fight against. There was the age-long cry of the oppressed poor against selfish rich. When crops failed, when times were hard, the less well-to-do must needs borrow money, mortgage their fields, even sell into slavery their sons and daughters, to buy food. Exorbitant interest was taken. It seems a shameful thing for people of the same blood to do. (5:5) When Nehemiah got full knowledge about it, he was naturally indignant. He fought it out with them in a "great assembly" (5:7). He wrung from them promises of restitution and more humane business methods. With his customary frankness, Nehemiah tells how he himself has gone through this business without self-seeking; yes, at a personal sacrifice. "Twelve years, I and my brethren have not eaten the bread of the governor." (5:14).

Sanballat's Scheming Frustrated 6:1-19
The Samaritans, frustrated in their attempts to prevent the re-fortification of Jerusalem, next try to get Nehemiah into their power, to make way with him. The governor's responses to Sanballat are: "I'm too busy to bother with you" (6:3), and then to the suggestion that he should shut himself in the Temple for safety, "Am I a man of that sort?" have become famous and proverbial. "Should such a man as I flee? and who is there, that, being as I am, would go into the temple to save his life? I will not go in." (6:11).

Nehemiah Completed His Task
There was ample opportunity here for selfish glory and pride of achievement, but Nehemiah gave

Dusting The Covers Of Texas History For THE TEXAS CENTENNIAL CELEBRATION OF 1936

AUSTIN, Dec. 6.—Texans must have experienced critical moments during that period just prior to the annexation of the republic to the United States. "To be or not to be" a republic, "to be or not to be" a state—those surely were questions on every lip. This anxiety is reflected in a letter found among the papers of Oran M. Roberts, then a district attorney and a colonel in the Texas army, later governor of Texas. This letter was written by William B. Ochiltree, secretary-treasurer of the Republic of Texas. Ochiltree was in Washington negotiating for annexation on grounds that would not require the loss of Texas' sovereignty.

On March 29, 1845, before the articles of annexation were signed in December, 1845, Ochiltree wrote "strictly private" letter to his friend, as follows:

"My dear Colonel:

"Things are rapidly approaching a crisis in Texas. The time has come when in my opinion it will be rank treason to the great duty which we all owe to what we consider the best interests of our country to let the Texas revolution wait until we have received any formal propositions from the government of the United States—though we have been informed from a very authentic source that previous to the dissolution of President Tyler's administration that he elected Mr. Brown's project and dispatched instructions to Maj. Donelson, then at Nashville, to repair to Texas for the purpose of making the proposition therein contained. We are informed from the same source that President Polk will elect Mr. Benton's project or Walker's amendment. If this jar should take place in the democratic ranks and a moment's though will show us how extremely probable such an event is—what a contemptible position we shall occupy if we accept either. If Brown's project, Bagby himself stands pledged to oppose it—by which it will be lost. If the Benton project—if the negotiations shall terminate and in a treaty there is no hope of getting two-thirds to support it in the senate. If in articles of secession, we have to depend on every senator who voted for the final passage of the mixed resolutions voting for the article. The defection of one single senator would cause their loss. How degraded would be our position if they should fail—denationalized—our constitution burned—the country in a perfect state of revolution. The result would be that a convention would be compelled to be called to frame another constitution, and I much fear that the result even in framing the constitution itself would not be commensurate with the risk which we should certainly incur. The president has resolved upon his course. We have already received dispatches from the Mexican government assuring us of her deposition to acknowledge our independence on the sole condition that we retain our national sovereignty. These propositions will be submitted to this government in a formal manner by the first day of July next. President Jones will lay this acknowledgment together with the propositions of the United States simultaneously before the people, that they may take such action thereon at the September elections as they shall think proper. Roberts much—very much—depends on the result of that determination. As I said the time has passed when any citizen of Texas shall skulk behind the barrier of silence. It will be for Texas to say whether after having waded through the tolls, travails and difficulties of her revolution—after having obtained a fast foothold in the great family of nations—after her independence shall be formally acknowledged by a power whose commerce alone would make us soon comparatively the wealthiest nation on earth—whether we shall give up all these for the honor of risking the exceedingly doubtful chance of becoming a border repudiating state—is the question for our people to determine.

"Mr. Donelson arrived here today. He has as yet not submitted his proposition tho I understand that he will in all probability make Brown's bill the basis for present negotiation. Mr. Donelson himself admits that the propositions which he had to submit are not such as he could wish, but he seems to desire that we should annex anyhow and risk being dealt leniently with by the U. S. after we get in—and after all with a strong chance of being again spurned by the U. S. Write me, Roberts, immediately what in your opinion would be the result before the people of the east of the contest between separate independence and annexation."

UNDERGROUND VAULT IS BEING BUILT NEAR STATE CAPITOL

AUSTIN, Dec. 5 (AP)—Capitol employees will feel less responsibility when a new underground vault, guaranteed robbery proof, is completed and the state's cash and securities moved from the main treasury office.

Fear of a treasury raid never is absent from the minds of Texas Rangers, highway patrolmen and local police. They recognize the vulnerability of the treasury and have guarded it constantly. When large amounts of cash were on hand, guards were doubled and a minute watch kept. The treasury contains millions of dollars in negotiable securities held by the various funds. In the school fund alone there are approximately $42,000,000 in bonds. The bonds in which the oil royalties of the University of Texas are invested likewise are kept in the treasury. Recently the treasury had more than $4,000,000 in cash.

Treasury employees work behind iron gates and the heavy steel doors to the main vault are kept locked even while clerks are in it. A guard sleeps in the vault at night and another stands watch in the outside office.

The state is constructing the new vault in the side of a hill immediately outside the treasury office. It will be of concrete and steel with the only entrance inside the main building.

Construction on the vault is being done at night so employees may work undisturbed during the day.

Rep. Ed Tillery of Nacogdoches has been named "champion pecan grower." During the second special session Tillery presented several of his colleagues with sacks of pecans grown on his East Texas place. Recipients said they were among the largest they had seen.

A house wit offered a solution to speed legislation when members, in the closing hours of the last session, huddled around the speaker's stand four deep to discuss what could be done to save tax legislation. "What this house needs is a good 'quarterback,'" Rep. Herman Jones of Decatur remarked while another ventured the opinion that a legislative session offered a good course in "blocking."

The principality of Jind, an Indian state, was founded in 1763, and recognized by the Mogul emperor in 1768.
