

FAMOUS TREE IN PRECINCT 3 — And it now has a sign specifying that it is "The Tree." According to Commissioner Bruce Coleman, it is a landmark in the far northwestern part of Deaf Smith County where everybody measures the distance for every other place. Actually it is merely a Chinese elm — about 35 years old — but it's out there alone and certainly serves for distance purposes, Coleman said. Therefore, the site of "The Tree" — 4 miles west and two miles north of Garcia Lake — will be included on the new county map. —Staff Photo

Expresses Appreciation For Gifts

Appreciation to Deaf Smith County residents for gifts sent to Girlstown at Christmas is expressed by Mrs. Viola Williams, a member of the board of directors of the girls' residence home at Whiteface.

Mrs. Williams took three station wagon loads of gifts to the home during the holiday season, and others were sent from Hereford by various means. Clothing and food were contributed, as well as gift items for the 75 girls whose ages range from a few months to college age.

The Christmas party at Girlstown was held Dec. 21, when gifts were distributed. Mrs. Williams went down for the party and reports that all the residents received gifts and enjoyed meals with holiday extras during Christmas week.

Merchants, clubs, church groups and individuals here contributed to the loads of gifts and everyday necessities for the home, or sent cash which is always welcome to help pay running expenses and enable Girlstown to offer a stable home to homeless girls. Mrs. Williams says.

In 1967, Massey was named "Man of the Year" by the Weslaco Chamber of Commerce. A list of Massey's accomplishments in the community was read during the presentation, but it was pointed out that he was chosen for one special contribution to the Weslaco community during 1967 which was so outstanding as to earn him this popular recognition even if he were not otherwise making daily contributions to the community welfare through his service club, church, youth work and other community services.

"The service rendered by our 'Man of the Year' award winner was in connection with one of those so-called once-in-a-lifetime projects for which we are supposed to be prepared but seldom expect. Thanks to his diligent preparation and leadership when this event did come to our community, we were ready. For his outstanding leadership, meticulous planning, excellent administration, patient coordination and diligent follow-through before, during and after Hurricane Beulah, Weslaco's 'Man of the Year' award for 1967 goes to Cecil E. Massey, Weslaco City Manager and Director of Civil Defense."

At Thursday Night Banquet

C of C Directors To Be Installed

Speaker for the annual Installation Banquet of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce Thursday will be Cecil Massey of Weslaco, former Chamber manager and Hereford City Manager.

The banquet will begin at 7:30 p.m. at the Hereford Country Club. Directors to be installed are Rex (Rocky) Lee, Jeff Carfile, J. W. Robinson and Jim McDowell. They will replace Ed Wilson, Cleo Corlis, Melvin Young and Morris Easley on the Chamber board. Also going off will be ex-president Neil Cooper.

The Chamber officers — Earnest Langley, president; Dale Young, vice president, and Ed Line, treasurer — will also be installed for a second term. The directors were elected by Chamber members in balloting during November and the officers re-elected by board members last month.

A native of Stamford, Massey left Baylor University after one term to enter the Army in 1942. Following his discharge in 1945, he returned to Baylor and completed work on his Bachelor of Business Degree in 1948. He lettered three years on the varsity football team at Baylor.

Massey completed work on his Master of Arts Degree at Baylor in 1950, making a study for the Rockefeller Foundation and National Theatre Conference of "Leisure Time Problems of Rural People in Texas." He also coached freshman football at Baylor in spring training of 1948.

From 1950 to 1951, Massey was Director of Recreation and Manager of the Chamber of Commerce in Canyon. He came to Hereford in 1951, and served as manager of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce until 1952, when he became Hereford City Manager.

Massey left Hereford in 1956, to become city manager at Haltom City. He took a similar position at Weatherford in 1957, and became city manager at Weslaco in 1962.

An active worker in community affairs, Massey served as president of the Hereford Lions Club and District Governor of Lions International, was selected to "Who's Who in the South and Southwest" in 1960 and 1961, to "Who's Who in the Methodist Church" in 1966, has been a director of Texas City Managers' Association, director of the Rio Grande Valley Chamber of Commerce and has been an officer in United Fund campaigns and organizations at Baylor University.

In 1967, Massey was named "Man of the Year" by the Weslaco Chamber of Commerce. A list of Massey's accomplishments in the community was read during the presentation, but it was pointed out that he was chosen for one special contribution to the Weslaco community during 1967 which was so outstanding as to earn him this popular recognition even if he were not otherwise making daily contributions to the community welfare through his service club, church, youth work and other community services.

Car-Pickup In Minor Collision

A car-pickup collision on Sampson Avenue Thursday morning resulted in approximately $100 damage to each vehicle.

Involved in the accident was a 1962 Oldsmobile driven by Raymond Coneway of 116 Rio Vista, and a 1964 Chevrolet pickup driven by Clint Lundry of 140 Juniper.

Officers said Coneway was going south in the 100 block of Sampson and Lundry was pulling out from a parking space and also heading south when the accident happened about 10:50 a.m. A citation was issued for improper observation.

J. R. (Monk) Johnson

Oglesby Buys Implement Co.

Cecil Oglesby, Hereford resident for some seven years, has announced that he has taken over full ownership of the former Hays Implement Company, located on South Highway 385.

Oglesby has been connected with International Harvester for the past 23 years when he began working with that company branch in Amarillo in 1945. He worked there until 1951 when he moved to Dimmitt and became partner with Jim and Charlie Hays in an implement business in both Dimmitt and Hereford.

Recently, Oglesby sold his interest in the Dimmitt business and completely bought out the one located in Hereford.

With some 13 employees now working for him, Oglesby is planning for future expansion in the shop and business in Hereford.

He and his wife, Ella, and daughter Becky, reside at 107 Sunset Drive. They have two sons, Larry and Ray. Ray is a student at North Texas State University at Denton while Larry is an employee of the implement shop.

Wreck Causes $400 Damage

Damages were estimated at $400 as the result of a car-pickup accident Friday afternoon at the intersection of Bradley and Knight streets.

Police said a 1965 Buick driven by Charlotte Smith of 718 Thunderbird was going east on Bradley and a 1963 Chevrolet pickup driven by Florence Martinez of Route 1 was going north on Knight when the accident occurred at 5:15 p.m.

Martinez had stopped for the sign and then entered the intersection when the accident occurred. Two citations were given one driver for no drivers license and for failure to yield right of way.

Rules Are Listed In Essay Contest

Local schools have been contacted for entries in this year's essay contest on soil and water conservation sponsored annually by the Fort Worth Press.

Theme for this year's contest, which is open to any boy or girl 19-years-old or younger, is "How Conservation Helps Texas." The entrant can be in or out of school, but not a high school graduate.

Local entries will be combined in the final selections, but the lower grades will be judged separately in complete fairness to the younger students, said Ed Blackwell of the Soil Conservation Service here.

There will be three divisions for local contestants — high school, junior high and grade school.

All Hereford entries will be collected by Feb. 1 for local judging. Each entry will be considered by the five members of the Soil and Water Conservation Board. Afterward, the selected entries will be sent to Marvin Garrett, Conservation Director, The Fort Worth Press.

Author of the best essay will receive $200, while trophies and medals will be awarded to 50 regional winners.

All essays must be written on how the conservation of soil and water helps Texas. There is no limit on the number of words but 300 words or less is suggested. Technical papers on soil and water conservation are not encouraged, said Blackwell.

Each essay must carry the name of the student, home address, name of school and name and number of the local conservation district (Tierra Blanca

Bell Names Manager For Local Office

Officials of Southwestern Bell Telephone Company announced during a special meeting with businessmen and civic leaders Friday that the company has named its first resident manager for Hereford.

Michael T. (Mike) Patrick, officials said, has moved from Abilene and is taking over the new post immediately. He also will be manager for Canyon, but will live in Hereford.

Patrick joined Southwestern Bell in 1964 as a coin collector in Lubbock. He was a business representative in Plainview and Lubbock before promotion to the division commercial staff in Lubbock in 1966.

Patrick moves here from Abilene, where he had gone in mid-1966. He is a native of Plainview and attended Texas Tech.

The Patrick family includes his wife, Patsy — a former Lockney resident — and three daughters and two sons.

Present for the announcement from Southwestern Bell were John Whitcomb of Lubbock, division manager; Dave Dillard of Amarillo, district manager; Bob Tarbot of Borger, who served as manager here for the past 18 months, and Dale Johnson of Lubbock, division public relations supervisor.

Prior to introducing Patrick, Whitcomb described Hereford as "an amazing town" which has "attracted national attention by being able to avoid the blight which has struck other small towns."

Whitcomb said he felt construction of the Holly Sugar plant set off the boom in growth, which has continued with the beef cattle industry, Wilson & Company's meat packing plant and other allied industries.

Explaining that these factors have created the increase in the economy, Whitcomb then pointed out the growth of Southwestern Bell in recent years.

During the period from 1959 to 1962, the company gained about 60 main stations per year. A main station is counted as only one unit, and does not include See BELL, Page 2 clude the extensions. Since 1963, when the Holly plant was built, Southwestern Bell has brought in 250 main stations a year.

The company had 4,120 main stations and approximately 7,021 telephones in Hereford at the end of 1968, Whitcomb stated.

For the foreseeable future, the company will continue to grow in Hereford, Whitcomb continued. He said company officials expect a yearly increase of from 275 to 300 main stations over the next five years.

In closing, Whitcomb said it is obvious that the natural resources have made the local growth possible, but the natural resources are also available in other cities. The quality of leadership has made the difference in Hereford's growth, he stressed. "This company is betting on the quality of the leadership. We know you can do it."

Southwestern Bell has been able to install the most modern equipment in West Texas due to the growth of Hereford, and the city now has a switching system better than any in the area, and the only Southwestern Bell city in West Texas with touch tone dialing, said Whitcomb.

Until now, the company has not had a resident manager, he explained in introducing Patrick. He said the company felt that Patrick will be a "man you'll find will be a good citizen, a man who will contribute something to the town."

Present for the announcement were members of the Hereford City Commission, Chamber of Commerce director and officers Mayor J. B. Pool, City Manager Dudley Bayne and representatives of Southwestern Public Service Company, Pioneer Natural Gas Company and the Deaf Smith County Rural Electric Cooperative.

Earnest Langley, president of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce, introduced guests.

The USGA has set the 1969 amateur public links gold championship for July 9-12 at the Downing Golf Course in Erie, Pa.

Membership Meeting Is Scheduled

A membership meeting of Hereford Community Players, open to all interested residents of the area as well as members, will be held at 7:30 p. m. Monday in Community Center, Mrs. John Gilliland, president, announces.

The business meeting will be followed by first readings for parts in the next HCP production, an evening of one-act plays set for Feb. 7 and 8. Those who wish to try for parts in these plays will be invited to remain for the readings.

One will be a drama with a cast of four men, to be directed by John Claypool; the other is a comedy for the same number of women with Mrs. Gilliland directing. All parts are open; only members of the Players may take part in production but any resident of the community may become a member.

Organized last summer, the Community Players presented one successful production in the fall, the Noel Coward comedy, Blithe Spirit.

Deadline Near For Vote Registration

By TOM PORTER

News Editor

Local residents wishing to have their say in this year's elections must register at the Tax Assessor-Collector's office in the Deaf Smith County Courthouse by Jan. 31.

All residents must register to vote, said Tax Assessor-Collector Nell Miller. Those who will become 21 during the year may register, and all persons over 21 must do so.

Applications may be made either by mail or by personal appearance at the tax office in the courthouse. A form for applying by mail will be published in coming issues of the Brand.

In order to vote in statewide elections, a person must meet the following qualifications on the day of the election: he must have resided in Texas for one year immediately preceding the election; and he must have registered for the voting year in which the election is held.

In order to vote in local elections (county, school-district, bond issues, etc.) he must also have resided in the county for six months immediately preceding the election. Residence in the city for six months is required for voting in a city election.

Voters who move from one Texas county to another within the period of six months preceding an election are permitted to vote on statewide offices and issues if they have lived in the state for a year.

The husband, wife, father, mother, son or daughter of a voter may act as the voter's agent in applying for registration if the relative is a qualified voter in the same county. Except for these listed relatives, which do not include those related by marriage, no one may act as agent for another in applying for registration.

Except for three limited classes of voters, all persons wishing to vote at any time during the 1968 voting year must register by the Jan. 31 deadline, even though they may not yet possess full qualifications for voting.

The only registration permitted after Jan. 31 is (1) by persons who move into Texas after October 1, 1968, (2) by persons who become 21 years old after Jan. 31, 1969, and (3) by former aliens who are naturalized.

rendered his personal property for taxation. It includes all personal property on hand Jan. 1. Residents are urged to sign up for the homestead exemption, which gives the resident an exemption of $3,000 by the state on a home owned by the person. The 1969 license tags will go on sale Feb. 1 at the tax office, said Mrs. Miller.

TAX MAN SAM SEE:

The Statistics of Income indicate that many taxpayers who are over 65 years of age do not claim the extra exemption allowed them for age. Occasionally you hear of the little lady who didn't want the computer to know that she was that old — but this can't be the real answer. A good "guesstimate" would be most of us feel so young (except when we want to fuss about feeling so old) that we forget all about being over 65, especially when we are in a rush to file our income tax return. In case you forgot about having slipped past the 65 year mark last year, the Internal Revenue Service will still give you credit, adjust your tax bill, and send you a refund, if you tell them about it. (Simply send IRS a 1040X). On that 1968 tax return, take a memory pill and remember your age and go ahead and fill out your return.

Wasting little time in the last half of the close game, Estacado slowly did away with the hopes of the Whitefaces by tallying 17 points in each of the last two periods of play. Hereford managed to tabulate only

Her-Tex Mills Is Burglarized

Approximately $20 in coin was taken in a burglary at Her-Tex Mills on East Dairy Road shortly after midnight Thursday. The burglary, officers said, occurred between midnight and 1 a. m. A city policeman found the burglary during a routine check, about an hour after it had previously checked the building.

At The Library

New, Search For Inheritance

A shocking thriller set in post-Revolutionary days and a suspenseful novel of World War II are just two of the many new books at Deaf Smith County Library.

FORCE 10 FROM NAVARONE

By ALISTAIR MAC LEAN
The wild and beautiful mountains of Yugoslavia are the setting for this new thriller by Alistair Maclean. The time is World War II, and the characters include three members of the celebrated force 10 team who survived "The Guns of Navarone."

Suspense, danger, ironic twists of plot, rapid action — the hallmarks of a Maclean suspense-adventure novel are all here in this suspense story of the men of Force 10 who set out to accomplish their objectives by means even more unexpected and thrilling than those employed in silencing Navarone's famous guns.

THE GOLDEN SICKLE

By Davis Grubb
A ravening wind whistles round the attic of a lonely inn

in post-Revolutionary Virginia where Dan Cresap lies half asleep. Suddenly, from the shadowy stairway, emerges a haggard terrified man. A man sent by dying Jim Cresap to his teenage son with a strange legacy: a furry leather box sealed with a clot of blood-red wax. Within it lies a signet ring, a ball of string, and a scrawled verse, clues to a hidden treasure.

The treasure's history is written in blood. Its original owner was waylaid and murdered by Dan's father and a cohort named Barnaby. The eyeless, sun-widened head of Barnaby, who was hanged for the crime years before, still looms from a pikestaff nearby.

Seeking the treasure may prove bloodier. At this moment, Elisha, monstrous dwarf brother of Barnaby, is combing the inn for Jim Cresap's emissary, the man dispatched to Dan by his father. Elisha wants the treasure, and he also wants revenge.

Dan has a choice: to run from desire and danger or to find and claim his inheritance. He takes the challenge, and the search begins. Drawn into the quest with Daniel are his ethereal blind girl friend, a forceful ex-soldier of the British army and his earless rebel servant, a female bandit, a master thief, and a crew of half-frozen Indians.

This is a tale that recaptures the atmosphere of foreboding and intrigue seen in the novels of Brontes, Stevenson, and Du Maurier. Grubb tells it in the voice of Dan Cresap, the gallant orphan-hostage to whom adventure brings many things, among them manhood.

A little dieting now and then, is the dread of all overweight men. — Decorah (Ia.) Public Opinion.

—HB—

The avid football fans should have had a bonanza New Year's day. Football prevailed.

By the way, the Southwest Conference made an excellent showing in the bowls this year with Southern Methodist leading off by beating Oklahoma 28-27 in the Bluebonnet Bowl, Texas following with a whopping 36-13 win over the Volunteers from Tennessee in the Cotton Bowl and the Hogs from Arkansas downed Georgia 16-2 in the Sugar Bowl. Both SMU and Arkansas went into the game underdogs. The Texas Longhorns, although rated a one touchdown favorite over Tennessee, apparently had little trouble with the Vols. It was Texas' game all the way.

—HB—

That Sophomore quarterback from Tennessee, Bobby Scott, is going to make a few tears sit up and look before his football career is over however. That boy was harder to stop than a greased pig during the Cotton Bowl game. He'll be an asset in the next two years.

And speaking of Sophomores, Ohio State has a team full and they should remain pretty potent for two more years at least.

Anyhow, it was a good day for football and we enjoyed every bit of it.

—HB—

Most of the college students should be making the trek back to the dormitories this weekend, and we would guess that a lot of homes in Hereford will be just a wee bit quieter for a few more months. It's always good to see the students home but it is somewhat of a relief to get them back in classes too.

—HB—

And Doug Meador of the Matador (Tex.) Tribune says:

"Too many of us remain in a fog when the sky is clear and the sun is shining."

—HB—

One of the positive facts of life is that shoe laces break only when you're in a hurry to get going someplace.

—HB—

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company has finally taken the big step and named a resident manager for Hereford. He is Mike Patrick, who hails from Abilene. He is 23 years old.

The local office of Bell Telephone has been under the Borger District manager for a number of years and it is good to get a local manager here, although the other situation has really not been particularly undesirable. They own the company — you can call them free.

It's a pleasure however, to welcome Mike and his family to Hereford. We know you're going to like it here.

—HB—

Cecil Oglesby is now owner of the International Harvester Outlet in Hereford. The business will be called Oglesby Implement Company.

ment Company. Cecil has had an interest in the local organization (Hays Implement) and the Dimmitt plant for a number of years. He is now sole owner of the local business, having traded stock in the Dimmitt organization for this one.

Cecil is well known here. He has been manager of the company since it was established here in 1961.

—HB—

Ed Line tells about the two attorneys (the only two in this particular small town) who met on the street one day.

"Gosh," said one of the lawyers. "I forgot to close the safe."

"It doesn't make any difference," his friend replied. "We're both here."

—HB—

And Ray Cowser, with the same firm, allows that "If you don't have a lawsuit, get one. You'll enjoy doing business with us."

Apparently Ray likes the commercials on TV too.

—HB—

"Well, Doc," asked the applicant for an insurance policy, "how do I stand?"

"I don't know," replied the doctor. "It's a miracle."

Bobby Boyd, left defensive end of the Baltimore Colts, started the present football season as the active leader in yards gained through interceptions. In eight years he netted 834 yards with 49 stolen passes.

New Organization For Range Study

A new organization has been formed to provide funds for increased research on range improvement and brush invasion of pasture lands, one of the state's major agricultural problems, according to County Agent Justin McBride.

The organization, called the Brush Control and Range Improvement Foundation, hopes to obtain 1 cent per acre from each cooperating landowner each year for five years. Money collected will permit more basic research and education on brush control.

Foundation funds will support basic experiments and field trials on the various methods of control. There also will be follow-up studies on range improvement. All such activities will supplement intensive studies already underway at Texas A&M University, Texas Technological College and the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

John Matthews, prominent Abilene area rancher, is foundation chairman. Bill Donnell of Marathon is vice chairman and Robb Brown of Throckmorton is secretary. The group already is selecting district chairmen and county leaders eventually will be named to organize local efforts.

In announcing the foundation's formation, McBride said that nearly 82 per cent of Texas range has been invaded by brush. That reduces animal carrying capacity by half or more, he said. Brush also affects the prosperity of many Texas communities that depend on agricultural income.

McBride said that the program already has the enthusiastic support of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association, Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers Association, Texas Farm Bureau and the Texas Farmers Union. Until now, no organized effort among stockmen has been developed to help in the attack on brush.

NEW YEAR DANCED IN — Paper hats, noise-makers and a hors d'oeuvre table centered with a stack of New Year horns, all in black and silver, helped make a gay setting for Hereford Country Club's New Years Eve party for its members, who danced in 1969 to orchestra accompaniment. Among the dancers, top

New, Search For Inheritance

A shocking thriller set in post-Revolutionary days and a suspenseful novel of World War II are just two of the many new books at Deaf Smith County Library.

FORCE 10 FROM NAVARONE

By ALISTAIR MAC LEAN

The wild and beautiful mountains of Yugoslavia are the setting for this new thriller by Alistair Maclean. The time is World War II, and the characters include three members of the celebrated force 10 team who survived "The Guns of Navarone."

Suspense, danger, ironic twists of plot, rapid action — the hallmarks of a Maclean suspense-adventure novel are all here in this suspense story of the men of Force 10 who set out to accomplish their objectives by means even more unexpected and thrilling than those employed in silencing Navarone's famous guns.

THE GOLDEN SICKLE

By Davis Grubb

A ravening wind whistles round the attic of a lonely inn

in post-Revolutionary Virginia where Dan Cresap lies half asleep. Suddenly, from the shadowy stairway, emerges a haggard terrified man. A man sent by dying Jim Cresap to his teenage son with a strange legacy: a furry leather box sealed with a clot of blood-red wax. Within it lies a signet ring, a ball of string, and a scrawled message: clues to a hidden treasure.

The treasure's history is written in blood. Its original owner was waylaid and murdered by Dan's father and a cohort named Barnaby. The eyeless, sun-withered head of Barnaby, who was hanged for the crime years before, still looms from a pikestaff nearby.

Seeking the treasure may prove bloodier. At this moment, Elisha, monstrous dwarf brother of Barnaby, is combing the inn for Jim Cresap's emissary, the man dispatched to Dan by his father. Elisha wants the treasure, and he also wants revenge.

Dan has a choice: to run from desire and danger or to find and claim his inheritance. He takes the challenge, and the search begins. Drawn into the quest with Daniel are his ethereal blind girl friend, a forceful ex-soldier of the British army and his careless rebel servant, a female bandit, a master thief, and a crew of half-frozen Indians.

This is a tale that recaptures the atmosphere of foreboding and intrigue seen in the novels of Brontes, Stevenson, and Du Maurier. Grubb tells it in the voice of Dan Cresap, the gallant orphan-hostage to whom adventure brings many things, among them manhood.

PILOTS MAKE PLANS

SEATTLE (AP) — The Seattle Pilots have listed 28 spring exhibition games for next year, their first in the American League. They will play 13 of the games in Tempe, Ariz., opening on March 7 with the Cleveland Indians.

The Pilots will open spring training for pitchers and catchers on Feb. 21 with the full squad reporting on Feb. 25. Their exhibitions end April 5 and 6 with games at San Diego against the Padres, one of the new National League teams for 1969.

The infant rodent was born by Caesarean operation recently when Dr. Reed Marbut discovered the rodent's mother had no chance to live.

Paul Arnpriester Awarded Medal

Paul R. Arnpriester, who was discharged last week from the U. S. Air Force, has received the Air Force Commendation Medal because of a system he devised for computers. He has also returned from two months in Thailand and a stopover at Tan Son Nhut Air Base in South Vietnam. He had been promoted to buck sergeant.

A 1966 graduate of Hereford High School, he is the son of Rev. and Mrs. Noah Arnpriester of Kansas City, Mo. Rev. Arnpriester was previously pastor of the Wesley Methodist Church here. During 1965-66, the young Arnpriester was employed in the circulation department of the Brand Publishing Co.

He is now staying with Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Bell of 231 Ave. K and is employed by Jones Texaco Service. Arnpriester has plans to enter West Texas State University at Canyon this month — which is the reason he received an "early out" from his four-year Air Force enlistment. His major will be Pre-Veterinary Medicine.

Arnpriester entered the Air Force inactive reserve in September 1966 and went into active James Boyd.

In charge of installation ceremonies was Dean Herring of Hereford, past president of the local organization and current Lieutenant Governor for Division 6 of Kiwanis International.

service in December of that year. He took basic training at Amarillo AFB and was later shipped to Sheppard AFB at Wichita Falls and Chennute AFB in Illinois. And he was sent to the Accounting and Finance Center in Denver, Colo., before going TDY (Temporary duty) for 62 days in Thailand.

"My reason for being in Thailand was on a mission of transferring all overseas records to the finance center," Arnpriester explained. "I was a computer operator. At the finance center, we put the records on magnetic film, processed them on IBM cards and ran them through a computer system. It cut down on manpower in Vietnam."

He said that he didn't know he was being discharged until Dec. 1.

The Air Force Information Service reported that Arnpriester was one of 20 airmen picked by Headquarters USAF by the Pentagon in Washington D. C. "for the purpose of going to college."

His record indicated that he was "highly qualified" during basic training and later became Airman of the Month while stationed at Sheppard AFB. At Chennute AFB, he rated high on qualifying exams at the finance center there.

Arnpriester reported that he had received a letter from the NCR Company in honor of his having "implemented a system to decrease transistorized power within the computer" — the reason he was awarded the AF Commendation Medal. Part of the latter citation read: "reflects great credit on Arnpriester, and the United States Air Force."

He also received a citation regarding his "early out" — "It was the consistency of the person doing the job right the first time every time."

THAILAND DUTY

Arnpriester was asked if he had any knowledge of the recently reported petroleum thefts in Thailand during 1967. "I was completely unaware of it," he replied, "and I was technical assistant to a deputy commander in accounting and finance" who kept track of the petroleum records.

He also reported that the computer operation was classified as a secret mission and he was supposed to keep it quiet until he was released from the service.

Arnpriester said that conditions in Thailand were "not too good, really. No streets over there — real cheap. But when I was leaving, they were just starting to pave the streets in each other. "However, I felt a lot safer in Thailand — because the danger wasn't as high."

Paul Hagar Returns Home From Vietnam, Gives Views

Lance Corporal Paul A. Hagar, who was wounded in the upper arm and the upper right side of the chest from hostile rifle fire while on an operation in the vicinity of Thua Thien in South Vietnam on Feb. 17, has returned home after completion of his tour of duty and said that he is "good as new."

L-Cpl. Hagar, who still has 28 more months to serve in the U. S. Marines, was expected home in time for Christmas — but he didn't make it. He arrived on Dec. 30 and said that he will remain here until he reports to Camp Pendleton, Calif., on Jan. 22.

Formerly a stocker at Piggly Wiggly Food Store, he is now 20 years old. He said that his plans are to enter college when he leaves the Marine Corps. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. W. P. (Hap) Hagar of 603 Ave. K.

Queried on the possibility of having to serve another tour of duty in Vietnam, he said that there is "a good possibility I might have to go back. You have to stay in the States one year, but since I still have time beyond that to serve another tour it is possible. But if you do, you do. If you don't, you don't. But I am going to try for embassy duty. Frankly, I don't want to get shot at (again)."

Asked his ideas on the current effectiveness of the Paris Peace Talks and the release of some of the U. S. prisoners held by the

Receives Thanks

Mail for Santa Claus, forwarded in quantity before Christmas by the Hereford Brand, is not expected after the holiday but at least one of Santa's young friends was moved to pen her thanks for gifts this year.

"Dated Dec. 25, the letter is addressed to Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus, North Pole, United States. It says, 'Dear Santa, Thank you so much for the Ring and Thing-maker. And the baton. Love your best friend, Kristi LaShell Springer.'"

Viet Cong (plus the escape of a Green Beret, Maj. James N. Rowe of McAllen, after being held captive for more than five years), Hagar replied, "I don't believe the peace talks will do any good this year — not right now. But I do look for another head offensive this year. That will be the thing that will do us some good."

But Hagar felt there is no possible chance that the war in Vietnam will be over this year. "But during 1969, I do look for them to hit DaNang hard."

Hagar was inducted into the Marines on March 17, 1967, but was actually taken into the Service on July 3. He had been in Vietnam two months and 12 days when he was wounded. His landing date was Dec. 5, with the First Battalion Fifth Marines.

Miss Shelton Is Bride Of Larry Paul Lance

The marriage of Miss Reva Marie Shelton and Larry Paul Lance was solemnized in Avenue Baptist Church Friday evening, in a ceremony conducted by the Rev. Ronald Harpster, pastor.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Shelton, 106 George, and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Lance Jr., 343 Stadium Drive.

After a weekend trip to Ft. Worth Mr. and Mrs. Lance will be at home at 407 East Third.

Only attendants of the couple in the simple wedding service were Miss Mary Renfro, maid of honor, and Terry Battey, best man. The bride was given in marriage by her father, Ray Murphy of Olton, and Mrs. Harpster, pianist, presented a prelude of wedding music including the songs, O Promise Me and Wedding Prayer. Mrs. Harpster also played the marches.

In Victorian mode, the bride's gown was of Chantilly lace, the figurine bodice trimmed with sequins and pearls at the neckline, the sleeves pointed over the wrists, and the skirt formed of tiers of lace, ruffles spreading into a slight train. A bow and streamers marked the center back waistline.

Layers of illusion felt waist length from a coil of rhinestones and seed pearls. Her bridal bouquet was of white mums. The maid of honor wore a floor length gown of pink satin.

Home of the bridegroom's parents was the scene of the reception after the ceremony. Miss Mary Huckert and Miss Loretta Hoffman poured punch while Mrs. Jerry Tisdale and Mrs. Glen Thomas served the wedding cake. Mrs. Linda Wilcox of Dimmitt was at the guest book.

Pink and white blossoms were arranged with candelabra to center the table, which was covered in white lace over satin. Pink sugar roses decorated the four-tiered cake.

Leaving after the reception for the downstate trip, Mrs. Lance had changed her bridal dress for a petal-pink ensemble with black accessories.

She is a graduate of Hereford High School with the class of 1968 and is employed in Deaf Smith County Sheriff's office. Mr. Lance, an employee of Easley Feed Yards, also attended Hereford High School.

Engagement Announced

Announcement of Miss Barbara Langley's engagement to Chris Todd of Lubbock and plans for a May 31 wedding, is made by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Langley, 502 Star. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mrs. V. M. Todd, 3716-28th, Lubbock, and the late Major Kenneth Todd of the U.S. Air Force.

Miss Langley and her fiancé are both senior students at Texas Tech. She is to receive her degree in art education next August, is a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority, Angel Flight, the President Hostesses and a home economics honorary society, Phi Upsilon Omicron. She is a 1965 graduate of Hereford High School.

A pre-law major at Tech, Mr. Todd is a Texas Tech Supreme Justice, a student senator and chairman of the Presidential Commission on Student Government. His fraternity is Phi Delta Theta and he is a member of Phi Alpha Theta, history honorary. He was graduated from Monterrey High School of Lubbock in 1964.

Small Talk

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

Along with family visits, holiday telephone conversations with absent members has become a custom in some homes, and is a fine way to reach the ones who can't be there in person.

NOT MANY reached as far from Hereford, I'm sure, as the one from the Gerald Hale home to their daughter Lynn, who is now Mrs. Alan Gowdy and has lived in Germany since her marriage last June.

The Hales and his mother, Mrs. Emmett Hale, talked with Lynn, who expects to be in Europe about another year while her husband completes military service at Wiesbaden, Germany. The Hereford girl, incidentally, is enjoying her experience of overseas residence.

A NICE NOTE from Mrs. Ethel Hamilton of Lubbock came last week, after she had chanced upon a several-weeks-old copy of The Brand and noticed my wish for some seed of old-fashioned, sweet-scented four-o'clocks.

Her offer of seed from the four o'clocks in her yard is much appreciated, but I've already received a nice collection and have them planted beside the back porch to provide perfume on evenings next summer.

But another remark of Mrs. Hamilton's interested me; she is the grandmother of Jim Hamilton, new associate minister at Central Church of Christ, and she lived in Hereford from 1917 to 1932. She says she has many fond memories of Hereford and dear friends here—and I'm sure she is remembered as fondly by many of the old-timers.

ANOTHER NOTE is from Bruce Carter, who is taking a month's trip with her sister and husband and wrote from Panama City, Fla. They are making a leisurely trip up the east coast from Key West, Fla., and expect to be in Washington, D. C., by the 20th for inauguration doings.

Sounds like a real dream trip for a winter vacation and if you see me turning slightly green, it's from envy.

HOLIDAY VISITORS in the H. V. Crawford home were Mr. and Mrs. Fred McDonald of Santa Fe, Mrs. Bertha Harris of Plainview, Mrs. G. T. Key, the Joe Standeels and Jan Standee of Vernon; Dr. and Mrs. Olan Key of Lubbock and Mrs. Irene Ball of Canyon.

Approximately 150 friends registered during the afternoon and were served refreshments at a table laid with lace over gold, centered with a tiered cake and yellow flowers. The couple was married Dec. 27, 1918 at Vega. The bride was Edna Allred, a daughter of the late Ira Allred who was an early Panhandle settler, coming to the Wildorado community in 1901. Service Project Picked In Club

Aid to Gristown, USA, was selected as the service project for this year, among numerous items of business transacted at Bud to Blossom Garden Club's first 1969 meeting Friday morning in Community Center. The program began a study series.

Mrs. Sam Long was elected secretary to complete the term of Mrs. B. E. Cooper, who has moved from the city. The nominating committee, headed by Mrs. Delmo Williams, reported a list of nominees for next season's officers who will be elected at the Jan. 17 meeting.

The annual spring meeting of District I Garden Clubs was announced for Apr. 14 and 15 in Lubbock. Mrs. Jess Robinson reported on a recent Northern Zone meeting in Borger, which Mrs. W. H. Gentry, R. N. Yarbrough and Ernest Kendall attended with her.

Members were informed that the headquarters building of Texas Garden Clubs at Fort Worth is scheduled to be razed to make way for an expressway, and that the proposed route of another expressway would cut through the state's famous Big Thicket in East Texas. Garden Club members are asked to make their opinion of these proposals known to legislators.

Mrs. Gentry, who presided for business, welcomed Mrs. Charles Mayfield as a new member and Mrs. Hank Winter, a visitor.

The program was the first of seven in a series on Trees. Mrs. Robinson discussed the topic, Trees To Attract Birds, relating it to the theme of conservation.

When you are braising beef short ribs, use as little water as possible so the gravy will be rich. Half a cup of water should be enough for three pounds of short ribs and a couple of onions as a start; more water may be added if necessary.

ing it to the theme of conservation. She listed types of trees and shrubs which provide shelter, food and nearness to water which are requirements for birds, and mentioned that evergreens and other trees give protection in winter to birds which spend the cold months here.

Mrs. Williams was hostess. The next meeting will be at Community Center also, with Mrs. Robert Ginn as hostess and County Agent Juston McBride as guest speaker on The Ecology Of Trees.

The bride's gown of candlelight silk crepe was styled on slender lines, with tucked bodice collar pointed in front and long sleeves puffed above deep buttoned cuffs. Her crystalline marquisette mantilla, edged with Spanish lace, flowed into a long train over the short train of the dress.

She wore a gold engraved locket worn by her mother as a bride, and carried gardenias and red sweetheart roses.

Lighted votive candles tied with red ribbon were carried by the bridesmaids, who wore emerald moire dresses, floor length, with mandarin collars.

The wedding reception in the Wilson home also honored the bride's parents on their 29th wedding anniversary. In the house party were Misses Della Stagner, Rita Gibbs of Paducah, Darrell Smith of Rosemead; Mmes. Bob Hess of Amarillo, Homer Owen, Bobby Owen, Gw-

Old Homes Saved In Many Lands

NEW YORK (AP) — In every country there is emphasis on preserving the past through architecture and furnishing.

While good contemporary design is not ignored, tradition points up the treasures that were. Much old design, particularly in warm countries where stone and tiles are used looks very contemporary.

A great effort is being made in England, Italy, Germany to preserve old castles and manor houses. Ireland is trying to save its Georgian architecture. Historical societies in the United States have restored some homes down to the last teaspoon.

In San Juan, Puerto Rico, more than 100 houses have been restored. The Institute of Puerto Rican Culture, a government agency has restored interiors and exteriors of many buildings. To interest owners in preserving or restoring properties, inducements to owners include special tax breaks and free counsel services from architects.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Clark and family of Ardmore and Mr. and Mrs. Leaton Clark and family of Amarillo joined their parents Mr. and Mrs. Jim Clark for some of the holidays. Others attending were Mr. and Mrs. C.R. Walser, and Britt Clark of Kings Manor. On Saturday Mr. and Mrs. Lena Clark. She had been in ill health for quite some time.

Richard Albracht returned to Long Beach on the weekend after spending his leave from the USN. He had just returned to the states from a tour of duty in Vietnam, he expects to have another view of the same. Richard is son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Albracht.

Relatives of Mrs. Jerry Albracht gathered for the holidays here. Those enjoying the get-together were Mr. and Mrs. Del Brunster of Alva, Okla., Mrs. Glenn Willier and children of Salina, Kan., her husband is serving in Vietnam, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Cockran and son, Corp Roy Lynn Burgess of Barstow, Calif. He is currently in the Marine Corps.

New Fiber Finish Puts 'Velvet' On Elegant Walls In Homes

COLLEGE STATION — A newly-developed electrostatic fiber finish now makes an elegant and durable velvet-surfaced finish water proof, flame proof and resistant to dirt and stains, reports Jape Berry, Extension housing and home furnishings specialist.

The finish provides special insulation and sound absorbent qualities to any surface to which it is applied.

The velvet-like effect on the fiber finish is achieved by a process similar to that used in flocking. Individual fibers are bonded individually, end-first, in to a special adhesive through the electrostatic process. The resulting installation is completely free of seams and overlaps, she explains.

Electrostatic fiber finishes can be used over masonry, plaster, wood, concrete wallboard, metal plastic, paper, fabric and variety of other surfaces, adds the Extension specialist at Texas A&M University. The finish may be as short and soft as suede or as plush and resilient as heavy carpeting, depending on the aesthetic and functional purposes to be served.

Several natural and synthetic fibers may be used in the process. A special nylon fiber is recommended for areas of heavy wear, while polyesters are preferred for installations receiving exposure to the elements.

The electrostatic fiber finish is available in a complete line for colorfast fibers, says the specialist. Special color blends are possible by intermixing fibers of different colors.

Job Corp Reunion Held At TEC Here

A reunion of Job Corps trainees was held in Hereford at the Texas Employment Office Tuesday.

Lester Rape, manager of the Hereford office explained that the reunion was for all Job Corps trainees from Deaf Smith, Farmer and Castro counties. He also stated that about 25 trainees were expected to be present from several states including Texas, Iowa, Washington, New Mexico, Oklahoma and California.

Job Corps is sponsored by the federal government but the state employment offices help in recruiting young men and women between the ages of 17 and 21 to join the corp. It is an organization for the purpose of training high school dropouts in order that they may become employable.

Even though it is a voluntary organization, it is run much on the same routine as the army.

Camps are set up where the trainees may choose the field of work they would like to learn and some day be employed in. Camp Gary in San Marcus is the largest camp in Texas and ranks one of the largest in the nation. Other camps in Texas are Camp New Waverly and Camp McKinney, a camp for girls.

At these camps the trainees receive daily pocket money, $30 a month, room, board and clothing. The Corps will arrange for his medical and dental care. He also receives $50 a month—which is placed in a so called savings account. He may not use this money until he has finished training, which is usually six months but he may stay as long as two years.

Two brothers interviewed at the reunion, Roy and Richard Nanes, said that the Corps was a good program for dropouts and gives them a chance to learn something and be somebody.

Lester Rape said that three more trainees will leave from Hereford on Tuesday. Two will be going to camps in Oklahoma and the other to San Marcus.

Women Become Investors As They Manage All Of Family's Money

Women occupy a broader role in the home today than they did even a generation ago.

The "hand that rocks the cradle" frequently manages the family budget, pays the bills, negotiates the loan at the neighborhood bank and looks after countless other details once considered out of her bailiwick.

It is a symptom of the times — a womanly sophistication born of necessity and the pressures of a rapidly changing world.

In areas once inhabited by men alone, women have been increasing their numbers to impressive levels. Investment is a case in point. Out of 24 million shareholders in the country today, about half are women. And out of four million mutual fund shareholders, 1.5 million are women.

According to a survey conducted by the Investment Company Institute, some 34 per cent of the women who own mutual fund shares, today are housewives, 17.4 per cent are retired, 14.5 per cent are in secretarial and kindred positions, and 12.5 per cent are teachers.

By and large, women are not followers of economic trends; they have the "savings instinct" but most find little pleasure in poring over complicated charts and forecasts, and for that reason may hesitate to invest.

But investing in a mutual fund can satisfy a woman's rational urge to put money aside, yet not confuse her with mountains of statistics.

The mutual fund idea is a simple one. It provides people with similar investment goals a way to pool their money in an effort to achieve these goals. By combining their dollars they are able to engage professional investment managers at a cost which is divided among all different companies. The individual receives the same management in selected and diversified securities so that even one mutual fund share would represent a proportionate interest in many invested $100 or $1,000,000 in

The Light Touch

By Ralph Owens
Some women are so independent, the only time they lean on a man is after four martinis.
Harried wife, working at desk, to husband and children: "Well, I've made out a budget. But one of us will have to go."
The modern woman doesn't want a man who can satisfy her smallest wish; what she wants is one who can take care of the larger ones!
Then there was the gal who put her license plates on upside down so she could find her car in the parking lot...
The new bride was asked to endorse her check. She wrote, "I heartily endorse this check."

H.D. CHATTER Time To Make Resolutions

By Mrs. Argen Draper
Home Demonstration Agent

"... We achieve greatness by successive trial and error attempts, stage by stage — not all at once. We achieve greatness by doing what may seem to others, but not to us who are doing it, small things in great ways."

"SMALL THINGS in great ways" could be included in our resolutions for the coming year. If we will take each small thing we do and do it in a great way, our purposes and results will indeed add up to success. And you will amaze yourself at your success.

Have you written down your resolutions? I know almost 200 women who will list their goals for 1969. True, they may not all be kept but list the things you would like to achieve the next 12 months, and I, for one, think you can accomplish just about anything you decide to try.

THE CONTROVERSY over the reading of the scripture and prayer while astronauts circled the moon, may serve to awaken us.

It seems the citizens of our country are making an effort for our nation to return to clean living and thinking. For a generation, philosophers have predicted our people will "return to religion" to solve their problems.

People today are more kind, more helpful, more concerned about their fellow man than ever in history. More voluntary charities exist than ever before.

CLUBS HAVE started their year with good attendance and great plans for 1969. Some have chosen their club projects.

COLOR TRENDS are always of interest in home decorating. Color predictions for 1969 do not come by whim or fancy. By analyzing retail purchases in various consumer areas from year to year, color preferences can be established.

Color history, in the form of cumulative sales records, is maintained on all color finishes regionally as well as nationally. Literally thousands of facts are assembled, studied and interpreted about colors of products sold to consumers, and color sales cessories, linens, appliances and automobiles.

The shift now is back to strength and contrast of color. The prediction: off-white will continue to be the most popular color in paints and wall accessories and will continue to be used for contrast with heavier colors.

Gold, avocado green and brilliant blue will remain big sellers in the immediate future, especially in home furnishings. The colors are getting clearer and brighter.

Wildlife Tours Are Being Made At Buffalo Lake

UMBARGER — Winter Recreation Tours at Buffalo Lake National Wildlife Refuge are now being made each Saturday and Sunday, with special arrangements for group tours at other times also being made.

Paul Ferguson, refuge manager, said the special arrangements may be made by contacting the refuge office at Box 228, Umbarger, Tex., or by calling 499-601.

Points of interest include illustrated displays of wildlife found at Buffalo Lake in the various seasons, a pictorial explanation of Buffalo Lake as a refuge, the overall refuge system, and an opportunity to observe waterfowl banding.

For those interested in a close view of the ducks and geese on Buffalo Lake, spotting scopes will be available. Those making the tour do not have to have an entrance permit.

BOAT CIRCLES GLOBE
MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The first fiberglass sailboat to circumnavigate the globe has completed its voyage but skipper Alan Eddy of Scarsdale, N.Y., feels the trip won't be complete until he returns here in December.

Eddy sailed his 30 foot ketch Apogee from Catskill, N.Y., in 1965 and recently crossed his track in the West Indies. In three years Eddy fulfilled his desire to see as much of the world as possible.

He visited over 400 anchorages and traveled 36,000 miles. He was under sail for a full year in Africa where he took on a mate of the trip. His passage was sin to finish the last leg of the Atlantic handed until he reached Atlantic crossing.

Mrs. Forbus Is Home From Rites For Daughter

Mrs. Carl Forbus, operator of Green Hedge Cafe who lives at 1013 E. Park Ave., has returned from Portland, Oregon, following the funeral of her daughter, Johnnie Francis Forbus Dobbs.

Mrs. Dobbs worked here at the cafe with her mother for a period of ten years, beginning in 1946, and trained all the waitresses during that time. Mrs. Dobbs also owned farm property in Deaf Smith County.

Mrs. Forbus said that her daughter passed away in her sleep on Dec. 15 at Portland. They had talked with each other earlier in the day over the telephone.

Mrs. Dobbs was born at Henryetta, Okla. on Nov. 20, 1918. Survivors other than her mother are her husband, Bruce Dobbs, a daughter and 3 grandchildren. Also her brother, Dr. Bill Forbus of Dumas.

Interment was at Wasonga Cemetery in Washington.

JUNIOR ROMANCE

SYDNEY (AP) — Ross Stevens, 22, took his step sister Jeanette Paton, 19, to a dance, and romance blossomed. Their engagement has been announced, and they say they plan to marry early in 1970.

They are not blood relations. Jeanette is the daughter of the former Mrs. Phyl Paton, a divorcee, and Ross the son of Tom Stevens, a widower, who married Mrs. Paton a year ago.

The youthful romance began when Ross' date was unable to go to a dance and his stepmother suggested he take Jeanette.

McIntosh Tells Of TB Menace, Cures

Charles McIntosh, executive director of Top of Texas Tuberculosis Association, spoke to the student bodies of Stanton and La Plata Junior high schools here prior to the Christmas holidays and pointed out to them that "one of the penalties of being poor is that you are most vulnerable to disease than your better-off neighbors."

McIntosh had reported earlier that there have been 10 cases of positive tubercular patients placed under treatment during 1968 from Deaf Smith County. For the first time, TOT had instituted a mailing campaign here for tuberculosis literature and Christmas seals locally — the first time for an area county outside of Amarillo.

But he pointed out that tubercular conditions are "true of nations as well as individuals. It is lamentably true as regards tuberculosis, a disease that thrives upon conditions associated with poverty."

"While the United States and many other nations in the comparatively affluent west have managed to get TB more or less under control, 15 to 20 million people around the world still have the active disease. TB is particularly rampant in undeveloped and impoverished areas in Asia, Africa, and South America."

Mr. and Mrs. Stevens said that at first they tried to discourage the romance, but now are happy about it.

Read The Want-Ads Today.

where the environment is fertile for its spread.

"Hope for an ultimate solution nevertheless remains very much alive," he continued. "In recent years hope has been reinforced by significant improvements in preventive measures that medical science has developed against TB. Dramatic results have been obtained with the drug Isoniazid not only in obtaining cures but in preventing infection from developing into active disease. BCG, a vaccine known since early in the century also is highly effective in immunizing large numbers of people in high risk areas."

McIntosh, who said that he was once a tubercular patient himself and was cured of the disease, pointed out that "the drug war against tuberculosis, possibilities for extending it, and many other aspects of global defense strategy will come in for thorough discussion later this year when the International Union Against Tuberculosis — formed in 1920 with the U. S. as a vanguard force — meets in New York for its International Conference on Tuberculosis. About 3,000 attendants, including leading chest physicians and health scientists from all over the world, are expected."

"Officials of our National Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association — against TB resulting from the conference."

McIntosh is scheduled to speak to the Palsano Lions Club in the Hotel Jim Hill ballroom on Monday, Jan. 13.

Proposal Is Submitted To Reorganize School Districts

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN — Just before the New Year dawned the Governor's Committee on Public School Education unfolded details of a controversial plan to shake up school district boundaries and dramatically revise finance formulas.

Indications are that it will have rough sledding in the Legislature.

Committee's reorganization plan to help make Texas schools better and more efficient would limit 219 of 254 counties to one school district each. General rule is that all operating 12-grade systems should be either countywide in size or contain at least 2,600 students in average daily attendance.

Exception would be sparse areas stretching over a county or more with less than 1,600 pupils and 24 special-purpose units like that operated in connection with military bases.

Governor's Committee recommended that the Legislature adopt its proposed district maps for further study by special local countywide study committees charged with approving the new pattern or recommending something better to suit their own-area needs. State Board of Education would compile the final organization plan by June 1, 1971.

Projected plan would slash the number of school districts from 1,218 to 354. All but 19 of 662 districts which now have less than 50 pupils would be eliminated. There would be 35 multi-district counties (those of larger population) with from two to 13 districts. All of the latter would have fewer districts than they now have.

Committee's proposals for figuring local districts' adjusted share of a basic foundation school program will also prove controversial, particularly in rural areas. Local share is calculated on the actual property-taxpaying ability in each district.

In many counties the number of districts would be reduced drastically. They include the following:

Bowie from 14 to two; Cameron 14 to three; McLennan 20 to four; Williamson 12 to two; Grayson 14 to two; Collin 16 to three; Denton 11 to two; Tom Green nine to one; Hunt, Taylor, Henderson, Cherokee and Nacogdoches 0 to one; Rusk nine to one; El Paso nine to three; Nueces 17 to four; Hidalgo 19 to eight; Fannin and Lamar 11 to one; Cameron 4 to three; Johnson 12 to two; and Ellis 11 to two.

APPOINTMENTS — Gov. John Connally named J. G. McDuff of Burnet to the State Board of Control, the purchasing and housekeeping agency for state government. McDuff succeeds veteran member E. E. McAdams of Austin. His term extends to August 3, 1973.

Connally picked Mack M. Stripling of Nacogdoches and J. M. Haggard Sr. of Dallas for membership on the industry-hunting Texas Industrial Commission. Haggard fills the unexpired term of McDuff (extending only until next February 15) and Stripling succeeds William F. Farah of El Paso for a term expiring February 15, 1973.

Joe B. Finley Jr. of Ennis and E. Porter Halbert of Bronson succeed Steele Wright of Nacogdoches and Norman Moser of DeKalb, also on the Industrial Commission. Terms run to September 7, 1973.

Mrs. Hazel Richardson, Bryan Carnegie Public Library librarian, will serve on the Texas State Board of Library Examiners, succeeding Mrs. H. L. McLaughlin of San Antonio.

ATTORNEY GENERAL RULES — Omission of a paragraph in a 1968 tax bill eliminated the exemption of non-profit corporations providing homes for elderly from franchise tax on debt. Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin said in a new opinion.

In other opinions, Martin concluded that: Establishment of a retirement trust for the president of Midwestern University does not constitute a supplement to salary and does not make the official ineligible for a $1500 raise provided in an appropriations bill by the Texas Legislature last June.

Petitions for a local-option liquor election, filed after November 5, must contain signatures of 25 per cent of voters for governor at the general election on that date.

A girl 15 to 18, or a boy 15 to 17, who is a first-time offender may be tried in a court other than a juvenile court, and can be sent to jail until he has paid his fine or served it out if convicted of possession, purchase or consumption of alcoholic beverages.

Martin also filed suit for an injunction against an Austin auto transmission repair company, alleging deceptive trade practices banned by the Consumer Credit Code. District court hearing is set for January 9 in Austin.

SUNKEN TREASURE — Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler displayed the treasure salvaged from a Spanish ship sunk by a hurricane off the Texas coast in 1553. It's the first such treasure-trove found in Texas waters.

A gold crucifix, which Sadler estimated to be worth $10,000, plus a gold bar (showing a ragged end where the tax collector had cut off the crown's share); over 500 coins of Charles V of Spain and his mother, Queen Joanna "the Mad"; and some 30-pound "plates" of bulk silver were among the items displayed.

Exact value of the treasure hasn't been set, but may run into "millions," Sadler said. Texas and the Indiana salvage firm working the wreck will split the treasure 50-50, which Sadler says is the best deal worked out for any government. Legally, the treasure — or the money from it — belongs to the Permanent School Fund, which owns the land on which the ship sank. Details on the exact sharing of the booty have yet to be worked out. And there are four other ships which sank in the same area during the hurricane that are expected to yield more "goodies."

CREDIT CODE STUDY — Texas Finance Commission is making a comparative study of the 1967 Texas Credit Code and the proposed Uniform Consumer Credit Code.

Study will be submitted to the Legislature for guidance in revising the code adopted two years ago.

Uniform code was drawn by National Commissioners on Uniform State Laws, approved by the American Bar Association and recommended for adoption by all states.

If adopted in Texas, uniform code would supplant the 1967 state code.

Consumer Credit Commissioner Frank Miskell said Texas is the only state which has a comprehensive code regulating consumer credit.

"It seems assured, however, that the 61st Legislature will consider some changes in the Texas code to make it conform with new federal truth-in-lending law," Miskell said.

COLLEGE GRANTS APPROVED — Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System allocated $315,000 in federal funds to Texas colleges for community service and continuing education proposals.

Thirteen institutions and 26 programs will be financed by the funds, plus matching state outlays at each school.

Institutions receiving the money were:

Texas A&M $58,847 for five programs; Texas Technological College $37,114 for one project; Lee College, $14,901 for one project; Texas Christian University, $34,847 for seven projects; The University of Texas at Austin $17,006 for one project; Southern Methodist University $3,519 for one project; Lamar State College of Technology $6,000 for one project; The University of Texas at El Paso $14,771 for two projects; University of Houston $40,820 for two projects; The University of Texas at Arlington $49,728 for two projects; Austin College $20,000 for one project; and Texas Woman's University $2,833 for one project.

PLANNING REGIONS ANNOUNCED — Governor Connally established 21 multi-county state planning regions to serve as a guide to state and federal agencies in developing service areas and to serve as a framework for coordination of planning activities.

Delineation is intended to improve communication and coordination among planning and related functions of state, federal and local governments.

Governor's Division of Planning Coordination developed the regions after two years' study and consultation with state agencies, consultants and officials at all levels of government. Regions represent natural social and economic groupings of counties reflecting shared interest. They will serve as master areas for state government planning with the aim of better coordination among all units.

Regions are Capitol, Alamo, Golden Crescent, Coastal Bend, South Texas, Lower Rio Grande Valley, Gulf Coast, South East Texas, Deep East Texas, East Texas, North East Texas, North Central Texas, Concho Valley, Panhandle, South Plains, Permian Basin and Upper Rio Grande.

SHORT SNORTS — Texas crop output increased 15 percent over 1967, led by a Texas A&M $58,847 for five 26 per cent cotton production

Medical Facilities Tops

Deaf Smith County has been most fortunate over the years in having one of the finest hospitals in the state, rating with the best and better than many in cities much larger than our own. The Deaf Smith County Hospital is fully accredited and indeed, is a credit to the community. A look at the patient list admitted on a typical day will bear out what we're saying.

On December 31, a total of 19 new patients entered the local hospital. Of this number, eight came from out-of-town; two from Dimmitt, two from Amarillo, one from Hobbs, N. Mex., one from Friona, one from Adrian and one from Vega. These people came to Hereford by choice, since none were emergency cases. They simply elected to enter the hospital here.

The Flame Turns Up

The Nixon administration, when it takes office Jan. 20 would do well to address its diplomatic effort to the Middle East and specifically to move Gunnar V. Jarring, the Swedish diplomat and UN envoy, out of his passive role in attempting to solve the Arab-Israeli problem into a more vigorous problem-solving approach.

Dr. Jarring's peace-making mission, as outlined in the Security Council resolution of Nov. 22, 1967 calls for him to "promote agreement and assist efforts to achieve a peaceful and acceptable settlement" in the Middle East. Recent military clashes, particularly the growing strength of the Palestinian commando organization which operates from Jordanian soil, point to a rising temperature on the national burners in the oil-rich area.

The United Arab Republic is thought to favor the idea of some type of settlement imposed by the United Nations, and the Soviet Union has an interest in getting the blocked Suez canal open to the Far East again.

Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban has indicated to Jarring that his nation would withdraw its troops from the Sinai if the UAR would promise to emilitarize the entire peninsula and guarantee passage of Israeli ships in the Tiran Strait.

It is not going to be enough in the next four years for the United States to supply Israel with the arms necessary to deter an Arab attack. The new administration could achieve a notable diplomatic victory by taking the lead in supporting Jarring in the development of concrete propositions that would tone down the terror and lead to meaningful negotiations.

The alternative is a spiraling arms build-up and another round of fighting fraught, as always, with the possibility of a direct U. S.-Soviet confrontation. — Grand Rapids (Mich.) Press

This average probably will not hold throughout the year, but the fact is, a very large number of patients who enter the local hospital are from out-of-town, and in some cases, out-of-state. They prefer to come to Hereford rather than entering hospitals in the larger cities, or hospitals in their own areas.

The fact that so many out-of-towners come here for medical treatment is not happenstance, of course. There is a reason. To begin with, local county officials, upon the recommendation of a very fine hospital board, have provided the most modern facilities and equipment that money can buy. The Court has been cognizant of the importance of adequate medical facilities since this hospital was established many years ago and still do their best to provide that which is needed. Secondly, the local hospital is blessed with an administrative staff that is second to none in the state and a staff of nurses and other personnel that would be a credit to any hospital, anywhere. They are well trained, alert and friendly. Thirdly, our city has two of the finest privately owned clinics of town it's size, each with a staff of doctors and nurses of which any community would be justly proud. To top it off we have a friendly community, which in our opinion is the final ingredient needed.

We would hope that as our community grows that we will continue to be aware of the need for adequate medical facilities, and above all, not lose that little bit of friendliness that makes people glad they came our way.

People Are Just A Luxury Item

A paperboard plant in Baltimore has fired the man who cuts the grass around the premises and retained a goat instead. The goat isn't perfect, but he does a creditable job and is fairly easy to get along with. Understandably, this brings a complaint from the union, whose officials observed sharply: "Next they will probably be hiring chimpanzees for the board mill."

It's a thought, and it is by no means as outlandish as it may seem. If goats can do a passable job on the grass, chimpanzees, with their higher order of skills, deserve a chance in the mill. People, as nearly every observer has noted, have grown too expensive. They cannot afford each other. They are, in fact, a luxury item, and this, added to all of their disagreeable qualities, most of which are ineradicable, affords a glimpse of the future.

Eventually, everything that is not done by machine will be done by the dumb beasts, and people, as they like to call themselves, will be left to work for the government. — Charleston W. Va. Daily Mail

THE RIGHT TIME

A panel of experts in New York has selected "Sweet Adeline" as one of the greatest tunes ever written. Jogging

Nowhere in the world is there such a continuous battle of the bulge as in well-fed America. Diets and exercises of extraordinary kinds come to prominence and are quickly adopted as fads. They usually last a few weeks or months and then fade away, leaving the authors fat with royalties.

The latest pursuit of pound-conscious men and women is jogging. The overweight don track suits and shoes and proceed at a jogging pace around parks or deserted raceways. These who are self-conscious about public exhibition are advised to stand in the same place at home and try jogging without going anywhere. The theory seems to be that if you jolt and jar the flab around enough it will shrink or be pounded away. — Montreal Star

Congressmen Could Get Pay Raise By Doing "Nothing"

By BERT MILLS

Washington, D. C. — Members of Congress may be faced soon with a tempting opportunity to vote themselves a $20,000-a-year pay increase, and to do the deed in a back-door fashion without too much fuss being raised.

The prospect of becoming instant $50,000-a-year men is intriguing many Senators and Representatives, particularly under the unique circumstances that will prevail in the new Congress. This time the legislators will not even have to go on record as favoring a salary increase. They can achieve that goal simply by doing nothing.

This is because of a neat bit of legislative legerdemain perpetrated back in 1967. In a bill raising postal rates and increasing the pay of Civil Service workers — but not members of Congress — the lawmakers provided that a pay raise proposed by the President would take effect automatically after 30 days, unless vetoed by Congress.

This provision for semi-automatic pay increases originated in the House whose members face reelection every two years and are thus more sensitive to reaction from the voters than Senators who are elected for six years. There was some objection in the Senate but House leaders insisted and the novel arrangement was retained in the final law.

LBJ Is Key Man

President Johnson is the key man in the Congressional pay situation. As one of his final acts before leaving office, LBJ will send a Budget Message to Congress. It is expected to include a recommendation for government-wide salary increases, based on recommendations made by a study commission.

The study group was headed by Frederick R. Kappel, retired Board Chairman of A. T. & T. It recommended a fat salary increase all down the line, including a $50,000 boost for the President, $25,000 more for Cabinet members, and $20,000 extra for members of Congress.

President Johnson is on record as favoring across-the-board government pay increases but he has not endorsed the lofty figures contained in the Kappel report. He may scale down the commission's figures as unrealistically high and politically unwise. But whatever LBJ proposes to Congress will take effect unless Congress passes contrary legislation.

The situation is complicated by the fact that Richard Nixon will become President shortly after the Johnson proposal is presented, and before the Congressional deadline for action. Nixon favors higher pay scales for government workers but he has not endorsed the Kappel recommendations. It is possible that Johnson and Nixon may reach an agreement in a joint proposal.

Compromise Advocated

Some House members are alarmed at the prospect of a semi-automatic $20,000 pay increase. The author of the section of the law which gives the President the right to set salaries unless Congress vetoes his proposal is Rep. Morris Udall (D., Ariz.), who believes that a $10,000 raise to $40,000 should suffice for members of Congress. He fears his whole plan would be scuttled by Congress if the President asked for $50,000 salaries for legislators.

Another Congressional critic of the Kappel pay scale has complained that members of the study group "live in an ivory tower" and "simply don't understand the political facts of life." He warned that "few members of Congress can afford to risk the backlash of their constituents by voting themselves a $20,000-a-year raise," particularly while a war is going on and when taxpayers have been hit with a 10-percent surcharge.

The last time Congress raised its pay, the amount was $10,000 and the new total $30,000 a year. There was no great outcry from the public. However, an earlier effort to lift Congressional pay inspired a national campaign which became known as "Bundles for Congress."

The legislators dropped their pay plans on that occasion. A similar public protest in 1960 might well have a similar result.

Don't Trust Anyone Over 30?

A course in Negro history has been added to the curriculum in the history department at the University of Texas. The course was created after faculty members and administrators accepted the fact that something was being omitted in American history.

Student response to courses in Negro culture and Negro history has been stupendous. Agitation for courses in Negro culture became overt a year ago, with petitions circulating advocating curriculum changes. Signatures by the thousands were placed on the petitions; it was a student's way of challenging old standards, and it worked. Petitions were not directly responsible for the curriculum change, but they did stimulate the issue.

Students who continually do this sort of thing, who agitate for changes, sometimes get the mistaken notion that their generation is the first to challenge the status quo. These young people might be classified as the "don't trust anyone over 30" crowd. What is sometimes forgotten is that generations before them have come to grips with similar moral dilemmas and social problems as significant as those eroding our social structure today. Grandpas and grandmas especially should remember the economic situation in the 20s and 30s, and may recall how young people then wanted change. As today, they had help from generations before them.

People cannot be classified as old-fashioned or progressive, or as liberal or conservative, according to age brackets. Observe young people, functioning in their own sheltered environment, and one can see that conservatism is popular there just as it is with many of young people of the "new left." Older citizens are often concerned and involved in these dilemmas of social injustice cropping up today.

A 1927 graduate of the University of Texas commented on the addition of the Negro history course to the curriculum at her alma mater:

"It's about ten years late, but better late than never. Had this course, and other such efforts been made on time... we would have been ahead of the crisis in human relations instead of frantically trying to make amends for our delinquency in such matters." Heed the words; they're from someone past the 30 mark.

15 YEARS AGO — 1954

More than 70 per cent of all city taxes had been collected by January 1, according to a report given by City Manager Cecil Massey to the City Commission at their regular meeting Monday night. Pvt. Billy D. Zellner, son of Mrs. Bessie Lee Zellner, 502 Ave. K, recently began eight weeks of basic training in the Antiaircraft Artillery Replacement Training Center at Ft. Bliss, Texas.

10 YEARS AGO — 1959

The Hereford Volunteer Fire Department lost fights against two separate fires in sub-freezing weather Tuesday, when a hog barn, housing five registered sows, 41 pigs and one yearling steer, and a 35-foot house trailer were destroyed. Fire Marshal Clay Angelo said causes of both fires were not known. Total loss in both fires was estimated at about $5,500. At the Star: Doris Day and Richard Widmark in "The Tunnel of Love." 5 YEARS AGO — 1964

Hereford Post Office has come a long way since it first posted receipts for the year's end in 1966. The office, opened in Dec. 23 of that year, showed its total receipts at $14.44 while at the end of the 1963 revenue for the post office here was $166,539.61. The figure released Thursday by Postmaster Nolan Grady represents a new record in receipts for the Hereford Post Office. One of three Panhandle organizations for cattle feeders is to be set up in Hereford next Thursday at a dinner meeting in Itaney's Restaurant.

ONE YEAR AGO — 1968

Deposits in the two Hereford banks have set another record for Deaf Smith County as they had a combined total of $29,036,94.56 at the close of business Dec. 30. The two banks combined also broke another record, that being $3,680,360.56 in total resources. W. C. Russell, the 1968 fund drive chairman for the March of Dimes Drive in Hereford, has reported that the La Madre-Mia Study Club will divide the city into sections and make personal calls for collections.

Let's Talk Back!

By DR. B. J. WEAVER

Digestion — Crucial to Health

Have you ever been unable to eat normally? If you find it painful to eat regular meals built of good food in proper amounts, it is possible disorders are developing in your digestive system. These disorders are found, not only in the stomach, but anywhere in the digestive tract. Their cause lies in the improper flow of nerve impulses. Most often, too little nerve action is present to sustain good digestion.

The nervous system controls both the movement of food through digestion and the amount of digestive juices acting on the food. The impairment of the flow of nerve impulses can result in pain and disruption of normal living.

A chiropractor is well-equipped by years of study to determine the specific cause of digestive disorder. Consult him at the first sign of trouble.

Residents Attend National Confab

Stan Solomon and Larry R. Fuhrmann of Hereford were among some 1,400 delegates from 50 states to attend the 20th National Alpha Phi Omega Convention last week in Washington, D. C.

Solomon was representing the Eta Tau Chapter from the University of Texas, while Fuhrmann was delegate to the Alpha Rho Chapter at the University. Every major college and university campus in the United States was represented at the convention, which was held at the Shoreham Hotel in Washington.

Founded in 1925 and now active on more than 450 campuses, Alpha Phi Omega is a service fraternity for college and university men. Essentially there are three membership requirements: first, desire to render service to others; second, satisfactory scholastic standing and third, past or present affiliation with the Boy Scouts of America.

The three-day convention began Dec. 27 with a theme of "Hand in Hand in Service." Key speaker that day was Bruce Henschel, director of the Motion Picture and Television Services, USIA. Speakers Sunday were Walter K. MacAdams, vice president of New York Telephone Co., and Dr. H. Roe Bartle, former mayor Kansas City and past national APO president.

Dr. Bartle announced during his talk that Astronaut James A. Lovell Jr. had in his possession during the Apollo 8 Moon Orbital, the material symbols of our brotherhood with him. Lovell, a former APO member, was awarded by proxy the National Distinguished Service Award in recognition of outstanding achievements for Alpha Phi Omega. Outgoing President E. Ross Forman of Philadelphia, Pa., and Howard R. Patton of New Brunswick, N. M., Section 99 Chairman, also received such awards.

Taxpayers Ask IRS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q — Do the new tax forms explain how to figure the surtax?

A — Yes, the tax surcharge is explained in both the 1040 and 1040A instructions.

Q — I had my 65th birthday in 1968. Will that make any difference when I file my tax return?

A — Yes, there are various benefits the law provides for taxpayers 65 years of age and over. These are explained in our Publication 554, "Tax Benefits for Older Americans."

For one thing, taxpayers 65 and over are allowed an extra exemption because of age. If you are presently employed and have taxes withheld from your wages, you may want to file a new withholding statement, Form W-4, with your employer to claim this extra exemption. Doing so will reduce the amount your employer withholds.

Your employer should be able to provide you with a copy of the Form W-4.

Q — I went into business for myself this year and have several employees. Is there a deadline for me to issue their withholding statements? One of my people already asked about it.

A — The law requires employers to issue withholding statements by January 31. Many employers try to issue them as soon as possible after January 1 so their employees may file tax returns early.

Q — I sold some stock at a loss last month. Can I take a deduction for this on my Federal tax return?

A — Yes, losses on the sale or exchange of stock can be deducted for income tax purposes when they exceed capital gains.

The loss, whether short or long-term, must first be used to offset any capital gain you had during the year. Any excess loss can be deducted to the extent of taxable income computed without regard to exemptions or capital gains and losses but no more than $3,000. Capital losses in excess of the amount you are allowed to deduct can be carried over to future tax years. Use schedule D of Form 1040 to compute capital gains and losses.

Q — Will farmers be entitled to a refund on gas tax again this year?

A — Yes, farmers are entitled to a credit for Federal tax paid on gas used on the farm for farming purposes. This credit should be entered on line 19 of the Form 1040.

Farmers claiming this tax credit should complete Form 41-36, Computation of Credit for Federal Tax on Gas and Lubricating Oil, and attach it to their return.

Who has to file a tax return?

A — A return must be filed by every person under 65 who has gross income of $600 or more during the year. For those 65 and over, a return does not have to be filed until gross income reaches $1,200. However, if you are self-employed, you must file a return if you had net self-employment income of $400 or more even though your gross income was less than $600.

The filing requirements also apply to minors. If, for example, a child has income of $600 or more from a savings or trust account or any other sources, then a return must be filed on behalf of that child.

Talk of Texas

By JACK MAGUIRE

FOOTNOTE TO HISTORY — Texas was minting and circulating its own coins long before it became an independent republic.

In the early 19th century, San Antonio merchants found themselves unable to make change because no Spanish coins were in circulation. At the request of the businessmen, the Spanish governor authorized the settlement to mint its own coins in 1814.

Frank W. Brown, present-day San Antonio banker who has researched the subject, says that the first coins actually were made by a jeweler named Manuel Barrera in 1817. The next year, Jose Antonio de la Garza, who was the postmaster, was awarded a monopoly to mint money. He turned out two sizes of copper coins. Known in numismatic circles as "San Antonio money," they are rare collectors' items today.

TRAVELING TEXAS — Want to talk to a crow, make a weasel change his coat from summer brown to winter white or take a trip to the moon?

It's easy to do all three at the Fort Worth Museum of Science and History, the largest children's museum in the world. Through animated, life-like displays, the museum lets visitors walk 3,000 years back into history, watch their own brain waves or take a lesson in sex education.

Each year more than 500,000 children from seven to 70 visit the museum to walk through a pioneer Texas town or examine a skeleton 70 million years old.

THE LAND OF ODD — Houston's new $3 million Alley Theater comes by its name naturally. It was designed so that an alley actually runs through it.

FREEDOM OF THE PRESS — It's too bad that Texas no longer has any newspaper editors like "K-Lamity" Bonner. When he couldn't have the last word, calamity usually followed.

Once when he was editing the old Austin Tribune, K-Lamity decided that George McDonald, the publisher, was "interfering too much with getting out the paper." Bonner took out his Colt .45, walked into McDonald's office and told the boss to get out.

Several times during the day, McDonald tried to re-enter the newspaper office. Each time K-Lamity, aided by the Colt .45, kept the publisher out. Finally it took a sheriff's posse to hire the stubborn editor and restore the publisher's authority.

HOME SWEET HOME — There's always water on the roof of a 113-year-old home in Seguin, Guadalupe County.

Called "Sebastopol" (because it was built about the time the Russian naval base of the same name fell in the Crimean War), it is of Grecian antebellum architecture. It appears to be square (although it's actually a T-shape) with a roof built like a flat pan. The roof is, indeed, a pan built that way to catch rainwater.

The house is so unusual that the original plans are kept on file in the Library of Congress in Washington. It is known to Seguin residents as the Zorn House, after an early city official who lived there.

FARMSTEAD WINDBREAK — This three-row planting of Chinese elm at the Cook farm 3 miles east of the Black community serves as a good example of the windbreaks. The elms here are about four years old. See story for details.

SCS Is Accepting Windbreak Forms

The Tierra Blanca Soil and Water Conservation District wants to remind residents that now is a good time to order seedlings for windbreak planting. Application forms are available at the Soil Conservation Agent's office.

Nineteen windbreak species are available this year: Austrian Pine, Black Walnut, Bufalobery, Catalpa, Chinese Elm, Cottonwood, Eucalyptus, Honey Locust (Thornless), Loblolly Pine, Mulberry, Oriental Arborvitae, Osage Orange, Ponderosa Pine, Redcedar, Rose Multiflora, Shortleaf Pine, Slash Pine, Sweetgum, and Sycamore.

Seedlings will be distributed for farmstead windbreaks, wildlife cover, and other types of conservation planting. The plants will not be sold for ornamental or shade tree purposes. Orders for less than a total of 100 trees will not be filled.

Information from The Texas

Forest Service indicated that the delivered cost of the seedling will be $1.50 per hundred plus state sales tax. Shipments will begin in the middle of January and stop around the first of March.

Windbreak planting guides will be shipped with each order and will be available from the County Agriculture Agent.

Field windbreaks are planted to control wind erosion and lessen the drying effect of wind on the soil. They conserve snow moisture needed in low rainfall areas.

Because of the large amount of "edge" in relation to acreage, windbreaks are especially valuable in providing wildlife food and cover. They create homes for insect eating birds close to the cropland, where they do the most good.

Farmstead windbreaks are planted around farm buildings for protection from sand storms and blizzards. They are much used by wildlife and very important to pheasant during the winter. Although the seedlings are not distributed for only ornamental purposes, they also add to the beauty of farms.

PRICKLY PUPIL

MISSOULA, Mont. — A baby porcupine named Poindexter lives in a good home — the Helgate School.

The infant rodent was born by Caesarean operation recently when Dr. Reed Marbut discovered the rodent's mother had no chance to live.

The eighth grade students at Helgate came to the rescue and have cared for the offspring.

They take turns feeding it a condensed milk mixture with an eye dropper.

ADDS HIS RULE

HELENA, Mont. — A passenger recently left his advice in an elevator in the Post Office Building.

Under the list of instructions on what to do in case of an emergency was added, "and pray."

Chamber Warns Of Supplies Racket

Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce today warned businessmen of the so-called "sob-story" salesmen who try to win their sympathy along with large orders for overpriced office supplies.

W. T. Thompson, Manager of the Chamber, said business executives throughout the country have been victimized by name-dropping common who relate carefully rehearsed "sob stories" in an attempt to sell carbon paper and other office supplies.

According to the National Better Business Bureau, with which the local Chamber is affiliated through membership, these itinerant salesmen often affect heavy foreign accents and usually drop the name of a highly placed executive in a corporation to support their sales pitch.

In their sympathy appeals they may claim they are trying to raise money to bring oppressed refugees to this country, or to return to a sick relative behind the Iron Curtain, or to help a friend liquidate the business of a deceased relative.

One salesman claimed that he was on his way to Vietnam to serve as an interpreter and had to liquidate his stock in a hurry.

ry. One young con man said he was "working his way through college" — the college being in Budapest.

NBBB said the salesmen claim their carbon paper is of top quality and may actually show samples of good quality paper. However, when orders arrive, the paper, unlike the samples, is invariably of inferior quality.

In some cases, where only small orders were given, large quantities of supplies were shipped, accompanied by appropriate bills and followed by high-pressure dunning.

NBBB said some salesmen recently were peddling ball point pens by the gross for 25 cents each, claiming a list price of 49 cents, and carbon paper at $3 a box, supposedly worth $4.75.

The National Bureau said businessmen victimized by the office supplies racket were otherwise prudent executives who allowed their misguided sympathy to override their sound judgment.

These executives, said NBBB, would be the first to advise others to let experienced purchasing agents buy office supplies from firms of known reliability.

SAINT ANTHONY'S

Concerning Veterans

A new policy on dental care recently adopted by the Veterans Administration will extend treatment to Vietnam era veterans on a more liberal basis. VA provides treatment for dental conditions that originated or were aggravated during military service if veterans apply during the 1st year after release from service. Until recently, all ex-service men had to support their requests by military records. Under VA's new policy, dental treatment may be provided without supporting military records if it is determined professionally — during the first eight months after release from service that the condition is service-connected. The veteran must make his application within the first six months after release from service and he must have served on active duty six months or more to qualify for the new benefit. Dr. J. J. Hinkler, VA's director for dentistry, said the new policy is expected to extend dental care to veterans who developed conditions during military service that were not entered in their records.

A C-RATION STORY

While we are on the subject of food, we have a good C-Ration story from Vietnam. A suspected Viet Cong, captured by the 9th Infantry Division, tried to fake his way out of captivity by playing blind. He sat with a blank look on his face while a medic tried known methods of confirming his blindness. Nothing worked. Then, the medic reached into his pocket for a can of C-ration and held it up to the suspect. Without hesitation, the "blind" man reached out for the can.

We have a bunch of good jobs available for young men and women. Pass the necessary aptitude tests and you can be guaranteed training in Medicine, Care and Treatment, Law Enforcement, Airborne, Supply, Aircraft Maintenance, Automotive Maintenance and many other fields.

FACTS ABOUT THE ARMY

Did you know —That the bugle calls for retreat and reveille date back to the days of the Crusades?

—That there are 1,200 Chaplains, representing all major faiths, in the Army?

—That approximately 2,230,000 men received physical examinations at Armed Forces Examining Stations during the year ending June 30? The largest Examining Station was Los Angeles where 137,770 men received physicals. Locally, the Examining Station gave physicals to 10,878 men.

—That the official Army song is "The Army Goes Rolling Along"? During World War II, it was known as the field artillery song and millions of Americans sang it as those caissons go rolling along.

THIS WEEK'S QUESTION

Can I enlist specifically for Officer Candidate School?

The answer is yes, providing you are accepted by a board of officers who will interview you. If you are selected and enlist, you will be given a written guarantee for OCS. If you are not a college graduate, you can still qualify for Officer Candidate School but you must first join the Army.

Once in the Army, you can apply for OCS. Your performance in the service, your leadership traits and your potential as an officer will be evaluated.

TAX MAN SAM SEZ:

The Commissioner's Annual Report for 1968 filled with statistics that comment (all on their own) on any phases of our complex and varied lives in this nation. In the first place, the Form 1040 is the most wonderful form that has ever been designed, since it fits more than 70,000 individual situations. However, this doesn't keep all 70 million taxpayers from cursing the 1040 for being the worst thing ever thought of by man or Internal Revenue "feller." Internal Revenue has proven ed axttao sh ret cm fvbfgkwq many times before as well as in this 1967 Annual Report that it has good reason to be proud of the voluntary compliance by taxpayers. However, the Commissioner says "During the year the Service secured 766,000 delinquent returns representing $263 million in previously unreported tax, interest and penalties. The good tax folks want to hear from you before you hear from them, so if you are a tax delinquent send in that tax form.

If you rate high, you will probably stand a good chance of being accepted for Officer candidate School.

That wraps it up for this week. Be seeing you next week in this same spot.
