Probably the greatest humiliation ever endured by this country is under way now in the hassle with Iran. For more than three weeks we have been shamed by the ugly deeds and talk of a hateful mob supported by a religious fanatic. Threats and insults seem to intensify with each passing day of this degrading affair. Apparently all Iranians from the ayatollah down to the most uncouth ruffian is proud of having a part of the outrage.

As reasonable Americans we cannot visualize a national uprising based on the hateful motive of demanding the return of a dying deposed ruler just to satisfy a thirst for his blood. Nor can we imagine ourselves violating our own principles of fair play by turning over the loser of a political revolution to satisfy the vengeance of successful terrorists.

The Iranian students keep calling the shah a murderer. Of course that is a matter of opinion. In a revolution people die on both sides. Deaths are not necessarily murder but casualties of the conflict. To be really factual about this matter, the ayatollah is more a murderer than the shah. He's been executing political enemies by the dozens. The shah was no more at fault when he killed in defense of his government.

Unfortunately that matter is only academic under the circumstances. Regardless of who was right or wrong, the thing that matters now is the imprisonment of 47 innocent hostages to enforce the criminal demands of the ayatollah. Despite the appearance of student responsibility, all of us know that the matter could be settled shortly if the big boss were to just give the word.

Another thought on the subject is that the wild demonstrators of Iran, as well as their fanatical leader, are violating what has been a good relationship between the two countries. Iran has received millions of dollars in foreign aid from this country, which, along with American know-how has helped develop the country's fabulous oil wealth. And US has paid out many more millions as a petroleum customer, until the business was halted by the present mess. Furthermore our country has been the provider of Iran's food.

One would think also that Iran would have a more friendly attitude to the country which is training most of its fighter pilots and 50,000 to 55,000 of its university students. By contrast only 30,000 to 35,000 attend college in their native country.

The ayatollah and his radical supporters apparently do not realize what they are doing to their own people. Holding and threatening the hostages to satisfy their thirst for revenge is causing millions to question the rightness of the demand. Is the shah any more guilty than the ayatollah himself? And can the country afford the suspension of its pilot training program and embargo of airplane parts?

Even more important, can it escape a feeling of guilt for what it is doing to thousands of its people in this country? We know what kind of reaction is developing. As in war, when the nationals from enemy country are insulted and injured, resentment toward Iranians is increasing. Iranians in business are losing business. Students get ugly treatment. Many who cannot show valid visas are being deported.

We would not presume to tell Carter & Co. how to handle their problem, but it seems that a calm and sincere presentation of the mess that has been created could have an effect on the ayatollah. He needs to be shown what he is doing to his own people by terrorizing 47 American men. Continued on Page 14...

Included with the Cooke County Chorale in its presentation of Handel's "Messiah" here Monday night and at Gainesville Tuesday night are Rose Felderhoff, Dr. Martin Kralic, Marie Endres and Lois Marquardt, shown here with their director Harold Kafer.

'Messiah' Is Coming, Dec. 3

People of Cooke County will have the privilege next Monday and Tuesday of attending the presentation of Handel's "Messiah", long time favorite classic of the Christmas season.

It will be given Monday at 8 p.m. in Sacred Heart Church and Tuesday at 8 in the First Baptist Church of Gainesville by the Cooke County Chorale under direction of Harold Alan Kafer of the Cooke County College music department. The singers will be accompanied by the Cooke College Symphony with guest musicians from North Tex. State University and Texas Women's University.

Both the Chorale and the Symphony are units of the recently organized Cooke County Arts Council. Joining the Chorale for this program are a number of music students from CCC.

Muenster people of the Chorale and CCC who will be included in the "Messiah" chorus are Ruth Felderhoff, Marie Endres, Lois Marquardt, Pauline Stelzer, Renee Stelzer, Dr. Martin Kralic, Carolyn Luke and Craig Richey. Soloists will be Pam Howeth and Roberta Coffman, sopranos; Cecilia Kafer, mezzo soprano; Robert Cole, tenor; and David Blassingame, baritone. The accompanist will be Anita Wilson.

Admission charges both Monday and Tuesday will be $2.00 for an adult and $1.00 for a student. Complimentary tickets will be given to patrons, who have donated $10 to the Chorale, and to sustaining members, who have donated $50 or more.

Tigers in State Semi-final Saturday 7:30 at Gainesville

Local football fans got welcome news Monday...that the second game of Sacred Heart's TCIL play-off will be practically at home instead of South Texas.

The Tigers will play in Leeper Stadium, Gainesville, at 7:30 Saturday night with St. Joseph's High School of Victoria as the opponent. A further accommodation was a parish announcement that the anticipated Sunday mass at 7:30 Saturday night has been specially changed to 5:45 so that fans can attend before going to the game.

Another favor was announced regarding sale of tickets. Admission price at the gate will be $4.00 per person but the tickets are offered at reduced prices in an advance sale. The special prices are $3.50 for adults and $3.00 for students, and the tickets are available in Muenster until Saturday noon at Bayer's Kolonialwaren, Tops and Teams, Modern Floors and Fabrics, Kountry Korner and Sacred Heart School. They are available in Gainesville through Friday at Street Pharmacy and Gainesville High School.

The St. Joseph Flyers of Victoria, like the Tigers, earned their way to the TCIL state semifinals by winning in bi-district last week. They defeated Mt. Carmel of Houston 9-7 while Sacred Heart beat St. Paul High of Shiner 36-20.

While they and the Tigers will battle it out here, Kelly High of Beaumont and St. Joseph of Brownsville will be in another semifinal, and the winners of these two games will become the finalists for the TCIL state championship. The Brownsville team is well remembered here as the Blood hounds, who nosed out SH for the state title three years ago.

According to limited information available here, the Tigers have their work cut out for them Saturday night. With the possible exception of Nolan, the Flyers are tougher than any team that has lined up against the Tigers this season.

They have been described to Coaches Father Stephen and Virgil Henscheid as big and speedy, probably having the edge over Sacred Heart in both of those factors. Also they have a good variety of passing and rushing plays and mix them effectively. Also they have another asset in a big, talented quarterback who is a strong runner and a good passer. He is acknowledged to be a constant threat who can break the big play any time.

Aside from specifics, there are a few facts which may give some hint of the Flyers potential. In the first place school enrollment almost doubles Sacred Heart's and gives a definite advantage in numbers, size and talent. Another indicator is the season's record. The 8-3 standing is impressive, but still limited by lack of knowledge of the other teams. Nevertheless the Tiger coaches feel the utmost respect for their opponents. They expect this game to be the toughest to date.

This doesn't mean, however, that the Tigers are conceding anything. Father Stephen and Henscheid, proud of the Tigers great performance last week, believe that they have the ability to overcome some of the apparent disadvantages. One mark of their general excellence is their 10-1 record, plus the fact that they have seven shut-outs. And the best news is that they are still improving. Last week they were at the season's best in blasting one of their best opponents to date.

Of course a wish for the breaks goes along with their intention to play hard and alert. Their aim is to avoid wasting hard work on penalties and turnovers...as well as to be at the right place and right time if the enemy makes mistakes.

Physically the word is still mostly good. Bednorz will remain out of uniform but all other Tigers are well and ready.

Man Found Dead In Mobile Home

Stephen G. Ashley, 21, a carpenter who has lived here intermittently for about 18 months, was found dead at 5 p.m. last Friday in his mobile home in the east part of town.

Parish Pair Completes 2-Year Diocesan Study

Two members of Sacred Heart Parish, Sister Romana Rohmer and Mrs. Arthur Endres (Sue) have completed the two years of study in the Diocesan Ministries Program of the Fort Worth Diocese.

A Mass of Thanksgiving at St. Patrick Cathedral on November 3, marked the date. Bishop John J. Cassata celebrated the 3:30 p.m. Mass.

Attending also with Sister Romana and Mrs. Endres were Father Stephen Eckart, Arthur Endres and Sister Fidelis Rohmer.

Father Stephen, for Sacred Heart Parish, accepted a parish certificate which was presented by Bishop Cassata to pastors of all participants who completed the intense, 12 unit, two year study program. There were 146 lay participants representing all deaneries of the Fort Worth diocese.

Participants themselves shared in a candlelighting ceremony of commitment to the call to ministry that flows from their baptismal commitment.

In addition to the November 3 event, each deanery in the diocese scheduled its own closing review and celebration.

The North Deanery Diocesan Ministries Closing Celebration was held in Denton on November 18 beginning at 3 p.m. Celebrants of the Mass were Father Joe Schumacher and Father Joe Scantlin. Individual certificates were presented to those completing the ministries program.

A buffet supper at 4 p.m. followed the Mass. It was hosted by the Pastoral Council. Attending again with Sister Romana Rohmer and Mrs. Endres were Sister Fidelis Rohmer and Mr. En-

Memorial Service For Deceased KCs Set Next Sunday

Deceased members of the Muenster Knights of Columbus will be remembered next Sunday night, Dec. 2, at the council's annual memorial service in the K of C Hall.

Grand Knight Wayne Klement announced the ceremony this week, adding that it will begin with a mass at 7 p.m., and the mass can be counted as one's Sunday obligation.

The service, held on Sunday afternoon for many years, was changed to Sunday night because the time was considered more convenient.

The council urges all members to attend and extends a special invitation to the families of deceased members. It further offers transportation to any family member who need the ride. Just call Wayne Klement, 2739 or Harold Flusche, 4497.

Tigers Win Bi-District

Sacred Heart's torrid Tigers continued their outstanding season last Saturday by turning back the St. Paul Cardinals of Shiner 36-20 and claiming bi-district honors in the TCIL state playoff.

The sensation of the game was the return of two punts, 60 and 91 yards, for touchdowns, making a total of ten such returns of the season. It happens that only seven of the ten went on the scoreboard, the other three being called back and penalized for clipping. Nevertheless it is probable that the Tigers have set a season record that can be duplicated by few if any other teams of the nation.

At Shiner Saturday, as in others of the season, the run-back was a team effort. Good blocking gave Mike Hesse a good start as soon as he received the kick and a protective wall formed for him as he drifted toward the sideline. Members of that escort managed to stay between him and the defenders all the way to the goal.

The SH boys gave their opponents an early demonstration of the thrilling play. The Cardinals, receiving the kickoff, gained 8 yards in three plays and punted on the next. Hesse caught it and headed for the left sideline as the escort formed, and scooted 60 big yards to pay dirt without being touched. Hesse also booted the PAT giving SH a 7-0 lead after 2 minutes and 2 seconds of play.

After the next kickoff St. Paul started from its 30 and gained 12 before trying a pass which Craig Walterscheid intercepted on the 47 and returned to the 19. It was a fine position but the opportunity was spoiled on the next play by a holding penalty. The series got back to the 17 where possession went back to the Cardinals.

Starting there St. Paul's put on a drive of 59 yards on eleven plays plus 20 free yards on penalties. But their success ended suddenly when Hesse intercepted on the 5 yard line and returned to the 10.

On the next play Nasche blasted for 19 to the Tiger 29 and the next series was spoiled by a holding penalty. The Tigers had to kick after which the Cards were in business with 45 yards to go.

From that point St. Paul gained 7 on two tries, then Nevil took a pitchout, got around the left corner and sprinted 38 yards to the goal. A pass, Wagoner to Kurtz added 2 points and put the home team in front 8-7. The clock read 9:39 in the second period.

The kickoff that followed was the beginning of trouble for Sacred Heart. Kirk Mollenkopf's kick return was penalized for clipping and play had to start from the 9. Mollenkopf promptly gained 16 to the 25 and a holding penalty moved the ball to the 12. And the next effort was a pass intercepted at the 34.

Penalties apparently were

WASHINGTON, D.C. — The shock of continually rising inflation has blinded most Americans to one bright spot in our economy. Agricultural exports hit an all-time high of $32 billion during fiscal year 1979, which meant a $15.8 billion positive contribution to the total U.S. balance of trade.

In simple terms, that means that without those agricultural exports to smooth things out somewhat, we would be experiencing even higher inflation rates. All of us who have felt inflation's bite owe the American farmer a word of thanks, for without them, things really "could be worse."

Those agricultural exports are the direct result of agricultural productivity, which has been rising steadily since the 1950s. Agriculture is probably the only industry in this Country that can make that claim.

But, there are warning signs on the horizon.

That productivity — the relationship between resources used and production — is slowing. USDA economists report that agricultural productivity (not including labor productivity) has been growing at an annual rate of only 1 percent to 1.5 percent since 1974, compared to more than double that during the past two decades.

Those gains in productivity can be linked directly to technology developed through agricultural research in the areas of hybridization, improved machinery, chemicals, and fertilizers.

Not only are researchers in our universities and other institutions feeling the sting of inflation, but research budgets are prime targets for those unaware of their continued importance to the overall economy.

There are those who say those cuts are justified since limited production gains can be expected from research in the future. To those I would have two replies:

First, that's like telling Columbus, "Sorry, but we've already discovered more than we can handle." No one can predict research discoveries and those familiar with agriculture know there are many areas of production-oriented research projects nearing completion that are vitally important to the industry — hybrid cotton varieties, for instance, or glandless, high-protein, edible cottonseed, just to mention two offhand.

Secondly, increases in productivity can be gained in other ways than by production increases alone. Remember the relationship that "resources" play in increasing productivity. We need research programs to improve our efficiency in using such vital resources as water and energy. Gains in these areas alone would mean tremendous boosts to our overall productivity, and therefore our national economy.

No one is more determined to eliminate frivolous government give-away programs than I am, but we must retain a sense of priorities. Agricultural research must be judged on project merit, but we must beware of "throwing the baby out with the bath water."

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — Gov. Bill Clements last week accused Attorney General Mark White of overstepping his authority when White met with 34 oil company representatives to discuss oil spills.

Clements charged that White was "politicizing the oil spill issue" and was misrepresenting his authority to the companies.

White is suing SEDCO, Inc., a Dallas-based oil drilling firm founded by Clements, in connection with the Campeche Bay oil well blowout. Clements placed his holdings in the firm in a blind trust headed by his son before he took office.

White told reporters he met with the oil companies to discuss how more effective action could be taken in response to future oil spills. He said the Campeche Bay blowout and the tanker accident near Galveston this month caught authorities by surprise.

The meeting was a "free exchange of ideas concerning oil-spill damage control," according to White, but Clements took hot exception to White's refusal to allow the governor's general counsel to sit in on the discussion.

The governor's staff was not invited because "they don't respond to me, they don't answer me," said White.

A footnote to SEDCO's oil woes: the firm has filed suits in federal district court to recover $60 million from the National Iran Oil Co. for failure to make payments and return oil drilling equipment. Most of the company's assets still in Iran are drilling rigs.

Clements Busy Week

The governor could still take delight in his role as host to the Republican Governors Association meeting last week in Austin.

Following first day addresses by several presidential hopefuls, including John Connally, Howard Baker and Gerald Ford, the GOP governors blasted President Jimmy Carter's energy policies and later approved Clements' resolution calling for more production of oil, natural gas and coal.

At one point during the gathering Clements told reporters he "might" become a favorite son presidential candidate if Connally and George Bush drop out of the race before the GOP Texas primary in May. However, he was careful to stress that as long as the "two Texans" were in the race, he would not take sides or an active role.

More Clements Quotes

Speaking to other issues throughout the week, Clements said:

—A recent White House briefing on energy policy was a waste of energy. "Really, it was just warming over yesterday's scrambled eggs."

—President Carter was responding effectively to the Iranian crisis and "everyone" should refrain from making political hay of the tense situation. Clements, himself, "has not reached a conclusion" as to whether the U.S. should stop training Iranian pilots at bases in this country, a suggestion made earlier by Texas Senators Lloyd Bentsen and John Tower.

—Dallas computer magnate Ross Perot had been contacted by "some people in Washington" about the holding of American hostages by Iranians. During the Iranian overthrow of the Shah last February, Perot sent a privately financed mini-army into that country to free some of his employees from prison, turning loose some 11,000 Iranian prisoners in the process. Perot later denied having any talks about the hostage crisis.

Sting From Bonilla

Clements and outspoken Ruben Bonilla, fiery national president of the League of Latin American Citizens, used a bit of animal imagery in describing one another.

In a letter to a San Antonio attorney, Clements referred to Bonilla as a "gnat."

for lobbying for appointments of two Mexican-Americans to district judgeships.

Bonilla, a Corpus Christi attorney, countered at a LULAC meeting by calling the governor "an asp" (a species of snake) who "strikes out in fear."

Chip Carter Visits

The president's son, Chip Carter, attended an Austin function last week honoring former State Democratic Committeeman Dwayne Holman, and said his father's accomplishments are many but misunderstood. "We have done a fairly bad PR job," he told one reporter.

Carter pointed out the president has passed more legislation in his first 2½ years than any of the last five presidents.

AG Opinions

At a request from State Treasurer Warren G. Harding, Atty. Gen. White ruled that interest earned from time deposits of the Fire Fighters Relief and Retirement Fund Account should be credited to the fund rather than deposited.

He also ruled the governor may lawfully appoint the executive director of the Department of Community Affairs to serve as presiding officer of the Committee on Aging.

INTERRELATIONSHIP OF ENERGY MARKETS

If one would attempt to understand the current national chaos in the energy field, it is important to realize that there are many interlocking factors. The shortage of gasoline, which has shocked us all, is directly related to coal, natural gas, fuel and diesel oil and nuclear power. And any one of these is similarly related to all the others.

Look at it this way: At any given time our nation requires a certain amount of energy — to operate our transportation vehicles, to power the appliances and fixtures in our homes, businesses, schools, churches and multitudinous other cultural and social institutions, to provide the power for all industry to produce the goods we need. If anything causes the supply of any one source of energy to decrease, if we are to avoid serious economic dislocations, the energy lost must be replaced by energy from one of the other forms. And even this would only permit us to hold our own. If we are to grow and provide more of everything for our people, from jobs to homes, we must constantly increase the amount of energy available to our nation.

In addition to being aware of the relationship of the various sources of energy, it is also important to understand that all forms of energy, and their relative shortage or abundance, is directly related to environmental pressure groups, consumerist organizations, numerous government regulatory agencies, and of course to the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries (OPEC).

Because of this complex interrelationship of so many varied factors, most Americans are confused about the energy crisis. Because of this complexity it is difficult to trace a consequence, such as the gasoline shortage, back to the cause, such as environmental pressure which forced governmental regulations which prevented drilling for oil, building an oil delivery pipeline, or blocked construction of an urgently needed refinery. But acts do have consequences and it is vitally important to understand this.

City Gets $4,674 Sales Tax Check

The City of Muenster has just received a check from the State Comptroller's office in the amount of $4,674.45 as rebate on city sales taxes collected here during the period ending October 25, 1979.

The remittance, which is about normal, brings the year's total to $53,928.44, which would be expected to continue the gain that has prevailed until now over corresponding months of last year. But the situation is different this time. Suddenly the total rebates are 27 per cent less than last year.

The reason is that Muenster hit a jack pot in sales tax rebates at this time last year. The check was $30,229 instead of near $4000 and payment to date jumped to $74,192. Consequently present collections for the ten months are about $20,000 less than in 1978.

The check to Muenster was one of some 923 sent out to Texas cities in the amount of $25.8 million. Total payments to now are $390.4 million as composed with $349.8 million a year ago.

Payments to other cities of the area and their percentage of change from last year were reported as follows. Gainesville, 25,500, up 29 percent; Lindsay $4,632, up 7 per cent; Nocona, $5,157, up 8 per cent; Pilot Point $1,107, up 11 per cent; Saint Jo $1,374, up 8 per cent; Sanger $1,488, up 5 per cent; Whitesboro $7,006, up 18 per cent.

Dr. and Mrs. Martin Kralicke announce that on December 29 their daughter, Laura will wed Kevin Pels, son of Mrs. Ed Pels. The Nuptial Mass will be in Sacred Heart Church at 5 p.m. The bride-elect is a graduate of Sacred Heart High School and is a student at the University of Houston College of Optometry. The future groom, a Sacred Heart High graduate, is also a graduate of the University of Houston College of Pharmacy. The couple plans to reside in Houston.

Wedding Vows Exchanged by Loretha Cash and Lee Price

The wedding of Mrs. Loretha Cash of Muenster and Lee Price of Arlington was held on November 23 at 3 p.m. in the First Baptist Church of Arlington. Rev. Charles Wade officiated for the double ring ceremony.

The bride wore a floor length, mauve dress designed with a draped neckline and accented pleated skirt. She wore a strand of pink pearls that belonged to the groom's mother and carried a colonial bridal bouquet of mauve silk lilies with accents of white bridal wreath.

The bride's daughter, Mrs. Pamela Ann Rogers of Gainesville was her matron of honor, wearing an ecru lace dress and carrying a single silk rose of deep mauve highlighted with shades of blue.

The groom's nephew, Kenneth Price of Arlington was the best man.

Mrs. Price has been a teacher in the Muenster Public School for 14 years and is a member of the Order of the Eastern Star, Belle Moon Chapter of Gainesville, is president of Beta Kappa Sorority of Epsilon Sigma Alpha and is a member of the Texas State Teachers Association.

Mr. Price is employed by Bell Helicopter at Hurst in Quality Control. He served with the 36th Division in World War II, is past master of Arlington Masonic Lodge, is a member of Moslah Shrine, Fort Worth and is a member of Scottish Rite of Dallas and formerly resided at Southmayd.

Ms. Barbara Robinson, a friend of the bride, played wedding music.

A reception followed the church service and was hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Price in the Ken Price Insurance Company Reception Room in Arlington.

Countdown Starts for December 8 Yule Parade

The countdown has started for the community's Christmas parade on Saturday, December 8.

Bertha Hamric, chairman of the annual Chamber of Commerce event, said that the organization is making a special effort to make the show bigger and better than ever.

Number 1 interest is the floats. Business houses, organizations and individuals are invited to enter their creations and to invite the help of clubs who do not have entries of their own. As an inducement the chamber is sweetening the total prize money from $150 to $300.

Mrs. Hamric said that $275 of the prize money will be awarded for the floats. Top prizes are $100, $75 and $50 for those judged Number 1, 2 and 3, plus two honorable mention awards of $25 for the next two of the floats. In addition there will be a $25 prize for the outstanding marching unit.

Persons entering floats are asked to notify Bertha Hamric, 4144.

Number one attraction for the kiddies will be the presence of Santa Claus, which again is sponsored by the Jaycees. They will attend Santa at the parade and afterward when he visits with the kiddies for goodies and Christmas talk.

Location of Santa's meeting with the youngsters will be before the Christmas tree on the AMPI lot at the intersection of Main and Highway 82. Jaycees have a tree waiting there for decorations by the Chamber. More of the Christmas atmosphere is provided by the Christmas street lights installed last week by the City.

Golden...

Their children accompanied by spouses took part in the entrance procession, following Father Stephen, the Mass servers and the anniversary couple.

The altar was decorated with lighted candles and bronze mums in gold vases. Baskets of mixed mums were on side altars.

Mass servers were grandsons Bret Walterscheid, Robert, Michael and David Herr. Giving the Readings were Ted Walterscheid, Sandy and Judy Herr.

Participating in the Offertory procession were Jeanine Dunham, carrying her grandmother's sewing kit; Bradley Herr carrying a replica of a grocery truck, long representative of his grandfather's occupation; Courtney Herr, bringing a yellow flower to the altar in memory of the deceased infant son, Joseph; Mindy Dunham, bringing a memory candle for the deceased grandson, Kenny Walterscheid; Doug Herr carrying a family tree he designed and built of gold wire and silk leaves designating the 30 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren; Pam and Susie Herr carrying lighted candles and Darrell Herr bringing the family Bible to the altar.

Prayers of the Faithful were offered by Brian Herr, Janice Herr, Tim Herr, Marcie Dunham and Lori Dunham. Offertory gifts were carried by Donna, Tina and Jana Herr and Phil Walterscheid.

Wedding music and processional and recessional were presented by organist and nephew Anthony Luke and vocal solos by a great-niece, Carolyn Luke, who presented "Edelweiss", "Only a Shadow," "Hail Mary," "Annie's Song," "Twelfth of Never" and "On This Day."

A new session of the Enrichment Program for Lay Ministries II will begin in the fall of 1980. In addition to the 12 study units, there are two summer retreats.

In Lay Ministries I attended by Sister Romana and Sue Endres, study units were held at the Parish Center of Immaculate Conception Church of Denton, St. Philip's Church of Lewisville, Montserrat Retreat House of Lake Dallas and the Methodist Camp at Glen Rose (Culture and Ministry.)

Team Teachers were Sister Kay Kolb SSND, Sister Pat Miller SSND, Sister Dorothy Powers SSM and Sister Gabriel Martinez SSM.

Thirty five participants completed the program in the North Deanery.

couple's anniversary portrait was displayed on a lighted easel. A gold plaque engraved with the couple's names, wedding and anniversary dates, and symbols was a gift from grandsons in the Walterscheid family.

A display table held pictures of the couple's parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Fred Herr, Sr. and of the Fred Herr family on their silver wedding day. Also pictures of the late Mr. and Mrs. Henry Roberg, Ida Mae's parents. There was also a picture of her grandparents, the late William Robergs and their family on their golden wedding day in 1910. Ida Mae was pictured then at 3 years of age. There was also a family keepsake, a handpainted, gold banded bowl that had been given to Henry Roberg by his parents who were observing their 50th anniversary, thus carrying out their own tradition of gifting their children with a remembrance of the occasion.

Also on display was beautiful family tree plaque of the Frank Herr family, engraved and set with jewels a gift of Charlie and Cheryl Herr. There was an enlarged, framed duplicate of the Frank Herr's marriage license, a surprise gift from granddaughter Sherri Herr, bearing her signature.

The cake table held the tiered anniversary cake and the chocolate groom's cake, both baked and served by Mrs. Charlotte Dangelmayr. The buffet table was centered with an antique brass candelabra. Mrs. Bob Swirczynski assisted at the buffet and grandsons and granddaughters assisted with serving the guests.

YOU CAN BANK ON IT!

American farmers and ranchers provide a classic example for all of us in the importance of true productivity for economic survival. Agricultural producers do not have the luxury of being able to raise their prices just because they want to take more money home this month. They can not dictate that the bushel of wheat which cost three dollars last year will cost four dollars next year. They must compete. Compete with other producers. Producers not just in our country, or our state or even our nation, but from all over the world. American farmers now have to be productive enough to compete with farmers from every other major country in the world.

Our farmers, with their tremendous capital investments in land and equipment and their complex methods of planting, growing and harvesting, must be able to produce more at a lower final cost than farmers around the world who generally operate with lower expenses. Proof of their unqualified success lies in the billions of bushels of American grain now sold in foreign markets every year. Productivity... the key to success. You can BANK on it!

Taxpayers Advised To Start Gathering Data for Returns

Be prepared—that's good advice for taxpayers who plan to itemize on their 1979 tax returns. "By starting to gather records now, taxpayers can spend a little extra time organizing them and pay attention to deductible items they might overlook later," said A.W. McCannless, IRS Director for the Dallas District. "Sorting records into the categories—medical, interest, taxes, charitable contributions, employee expense—will also enable taxpayers to locate supporting evidence which IRS auditors may request during an examination."

When itemizing, taxpayers should keep track of interest paid on loans and mortgages, as well as payments for medical insurance which are documented on various financial statements. These amounts are often deductible and easily overlooked by the taxpayer. Medical expenses, union dues and charitable contributions are a few other commonly-claimed deductions for which IRS auditors often request supporting evidence. Mr. McCannless noted that it's a good idea to keep both cancelled checks and bills when possible.

"Good recordkeeping is a fine start to filing an accurate tax return," McCannless said. "Gathering records now will enable taxpayers to file an early return, and, if a refund is due, get an early check from Uncle Sam."

For more information on recordkeeping and deductible items, ask IRS for a copy of Publication 17, "Your Federal Income Tax." It's free at any IRS office or by calling IRS toll free at 1-800-492-4830 or 372-3666 in Amarillo, 742-2440 in Dallas, 335-1370 in Fort Worth, 747-4361 in Lubbock, or 723-6702 in Wichita Falls.

"Here," said the husband angrily, holding out a sheaf of monthly bills to his wife. "Pick a bill—any bill. Then explain it!"

SH Teams Lose 2

Tigers and Tigerettes of Sacred Heart were losers in a pair of games with Goldberg on the SH court Tuesday night. The girls were defeated 28-12 and the boys 50-40.

An extra cold first half, in which the Tigerettes dropped behind 17-2, was the big reason for the opening loss. In the second half they held their own but it was too late. Scorers were Toni Hoedebeck 4, Carol Walterscheid 2, Virginia Bartush 2, Rhonda Endres 2, Nancy Sicking 2, Carol Walterscheid led the defense with 8 rebounds.

The Tigers, still playing short handed while some of the regulars are in the football playoffs, trailed 25-11 at the half and trimmed the margin by counts of 33-21 and 40-30 in the second half. At one point in the fourth they had cut the lead to 6 points.

Muenster JC's Host District Visitation

Muenster Jaycees hosted an annual District Visitation Tuesday evening in the meeting room of the Community Center.

Jerry Booth of Mineral Wells spoke on the "Excitement in Being a Jaycee and an American."

Chapter officers reported on their chapter activities. Chapters attending were from Wichita Falls, Lindsay, Gainesville and Muenster.

Kirk Mollenkopf maneuvers for a run as Mike Hesse, Kenny Hartman, Mark Nasche and Bert Miller start setting up a defensive screen. The effort was nullified by an offside penalty against the Tigers.

Bi-District...

11 yard gain and were stalled by a penalty on the second series and had to punt. SH likewise failed to kick when its series failed to gain.

Next play seemed like a break for the Tigers when Mollenkopf intercepted but an offside penalty awarded St. Paul's the ball plus 5 yards. Then SH got a break that counted. Craig Walterscheid intercepted and set up the Tigers with 24 to go.

Mel Walterscheid covered 16 of that distance on two passes from Hartman and two plays later Hartman faked a pass and scored up the middle. Hesse's kick upped the score to 22-8 with only 8 seconds remaining in the half.

Sacred Heart's good work continued into the third quarter. After kickoff the Tigers started from their 24 and used ten plays to put their next TD on the scoreboard. Better gains along the way were an 18 yard pass to Mel Walterscheid, and runs of 9 and 6 by Mollenkopf, 9 by Hartman, 7 by Nasche and the 12 yard touchdown sprint by Bert Miller. Hesse's kick made it 29-8 at 7:50 in the third.

Tiger momentum was still going as Kenny Hartman intercepted on St. Paul's first series after kickoff and Hesse followed with a 14 yard gain to the Cardinal 15. But it stopped there with an interception by Chunda and run back to the 24.

Starting there St. Paul advanced 35 yards to the Tiger 41 and lost possession on a fumbled reverse which Phil Walterscheid recovered.

A quarterback sack for a 12 yard loss forced SH to kick on its first series after which the Cardinals started a scoring drive from their 27. It was early in the last period with the Tigers ahead 29-8. They used seven plays plus 5 yards free on a penalty to make the 73 yards, and the big gains were passes of 14 and 11 along with the 30 yard touchdown pass from Tim Wagner to Tom Wagner. A run for bonus points failed. The score at 8:45 was 29-14.

Tigers started again on the kickoff after TD; first a pass Hartman to Mel Walterscheid for 15, then a clipping penalty to nullify a good gain by Nasche on the second series. So Sacred Heart punted and the Cardinals had 95 yards between them and the goal.

For the second drive the

MHS Teams Divide 2 with Forestburg

Muenster High Hornets extended their basketball record to 4-0 on the MHS court Monday night by nudging Forestburg 50-42 in a thrilling overtime contest.

The game was a cliff hanger all the way with never more than a few points difference and the lead changing several times. Muenster led 6-4 at the quarter and 19-16 at the half and scores were tied 31-31 and 41-41 at the third and fourth periods. A Muenster 2-pointer 8 seconds before the end sent the game into overtime.

During the extra period the Hornets made an early field goal and stalled, then got the benefit of foul calls as Forestburg tried to get the ball. So MHS made a total of 9 overtime points while Forestburg made 1.

Hornet scorers were Don Frazier 19, Floyd Felderhoff 9, Ricky Winn 8, Todd Richey 6, Mark Felderhoff 4, Phill Wolf 4.

The Hornets' game, their first since former volleyball players joined the roster, was a 48-37 win by Forestburg. MHS started strong for a 16-11 first quarter lead and Forestburg came back stronger to lead 29-24 at the half and gain to 41-32 and 48-37 in the third and fourth.

Lou Dyer scored 12 for MHS, Jill Walterscheid added 8, Kyla Hale and Stephanie Richey 6 each, Carla Walterscheid 3 and Charlotte Fleitman 2.

Thanksgiving
Thanksgiving celebrations were held for morning and afternoon Kindergarten classes at Muenster Public School on Wednesday. Hostesses for the morning class were Mrs. A.J. Huchton and Mrs. Donnie Glibreath. Unable to attend but assisting with refreshments was Mrs. Eddie Ramsay. The mothers served cupcakes and punch and presented each child with a coloring book and a sack of candy.

The afternoon class was served chocolate cup cakes and punch and the children received surprise bags plus goodies. Mrs. Chris Walter was unable to attend and her sister, Sharon Daugherty of Gainesville came to substitute and help. Other hostesses were Mrs. Clyde Walterscheid and Mrs. Willie Wimmer.

During both events the children sang, played games, and the girls wore Pilgrim bonnets and aprons and boys wore Pilgrim hats or Indian headpieces made in class.

Mrs. Rosemary Dankesreiter substituted as Kindergarten teacher for several days while Mrs. Florence Williams was away to attend the funeral of her brother-in-law in Kansas.

Michelle Kleiss celebrated her 10th birthday of November 6 with a party at home on November 10. Her mother, Mrs. Mike Kleiss entertained Michelle's little girl classmates of the 4th grade and several cousins, Coy, Melissa and Lanette Fisher and Dyan Fisher and the honoree's brother Bryan. There were games, prizes, gifts, punch and a cake decorated like a doll, to add to the party fun.

Children's Activity

The Children's Activity program will be held only one time in December, because of already busy holiday schedules. Mothers of the pre-schoolers are reminded that the children will meet on Friday, December 14 in the Community Center, 10 to 11 a.m. They will need to bring crayons.

SKinformation

by Linda Allen Schoen

What is your skin type? Dry, normal, oily or combination? Even if you think you know yours, it's a good idea to check periodically. Skin types change from year to year, even season to season. And using the correct skin-care products is essential to having beautiful, healthy-looking skin.

Here is a simple test to determine your skin type:

Before washing your face in the morning, tear a brown paper bag into small pieces. Rub cheeks, nose, chin and forehead with a separate piece for each area.

If skin is normal, there will be a slight oily residue on the paper. If the paper becomes almost translucent, that area is too oily. If there is nothing at all on the paper, that area is too dry.

If the test shows that your skin is the same all over, you can follow a specific skin-care regimen.

If the test indicates a combination complexion, you must practice combination care. Select a soap that is closest to your overall skin type, then use a combination of other products.

Once you determine your type of skin, you should use a facial soap formulated especially for you. One of the best you can use is Neutrogena, because they make a specific soap for each skin-type — whether it's normal, dry, oily or perfume-sensitive.

Fireplace Safety--A Burning Necessity

As temperatures steadily drop and energy costs rise, many thrift-minded persons are turning more to their fireplace as an alternate heating source. But fireplaces can ignite accidents, as well as a blazing log if some basic safety precautions are not followed, according to Milt Nachbar, Director of Loss Control for CNA Insurance.

The following suggestions are offered as a checklist for an accident-free fireplace season:

- Thoroughly check your fireplace and equipment — the flue, firebrick interior and hearth — before the first fire is lit to see that masonry, mortar joints, grate or andirons are sound. Crumbling mortar is a common cause of home fires.
- Always make sure the damper is open before lighting a fire. Keep the damper open until ashes are cool. A fire that appears dead can still be burning inside.
- A sturdy spark screen that completely covers the fireplace opening is essential. Dangerous flying sparks often result from burning pine and other coniferous wood.
- Follow the instructions on artificial logs. Burn only one at a time and never add one to a burning natural-wood fire.
- Never soak home-rolled newspaper logs in flammable liquids of any kind.
- Never use a flammable liquid to light or relight a fire.
- Remember the poker or tongs can get very hot and should be placed on a fire-resistant holder when not in use.

Don't burn trash or wrappings. They can become flying paper embers that settle on the roof. Aerosol cans, light bulbs and some plastics can explode in a fire or produce dangerous gases. Keep rugs, pillows, newspapers, holiday wrappings and other flammable materials away from the fire area and out of range of sparks. "Make sure all fires are completely out before going to bed or leaving the house," Nachbar said. "It's also a good idea to leave the damper open while sleeping to offset the risk of accumulation of poisonous gases or smoke in the home. But remember to close it the next morning to avoid heat loss when the fireplace is not being used."

County Election Of ASCS Committee Now in Progress

Election of the 1980 Cooke County ASCS Committee is currently under way, according to Tim O. Gilbert, county executive director.

Ballots were mailed on November 23 to all eligible voters with instructions to be returned to the county ASCS office on or before December 3. The present county committee will tabulate the votes on December 6 in the ASCS office. If an eligible voter fails to get a ballot, he or she may contact the county office.

Gilbert stated that ASCS committee elections are open to all eligible voters without regard to race, color, religion, sex or national origin. Also, since Texas is a community property state, the spouse of an eligible voter is also entitled to a vote.

The counting of ballots is open to the public, Gilbert added. Visitors will be welcome at the December 6 tabulation.

Save Time, Money By Conducting SS Business by Phone

Magicians say their hands are quicker than your eyes and that might be true in some cases. Social Security says that a telephone call is not only quicker than your car, but it is much less expensive too. Most social security business can be conducted very efficiently by telephone at no cost to you. When you use the telephone you are not wasting your $1.00 per gallon gasoline or your driving time and you don't have to "get ready" to go to the social security office. You do avoid traffic and having to find a place to park and having to wait your turn to be interviewed in a social security office or contact station. Our teleservice representatives are friendly, courteous and helpful. They will be glad to answer your questions or complete your application for social security and/or supplemental security income (SSI) benefits. For general information about any social security program or to report any changes in your social security benefit status or SSI status or to apply for benefits under either of these programs call the social security office nearest to you. Cheaper Homeowners Insurance

A person or family may be able to obtain less expensive homeowners insurance if their house is less than 5 years old. Allstate Insurance Company is one insurer that offers a discount on such homes.

"Our decision to reduce rates for newer homes was based on an analysis of statistical information that was collected from claims made by holders of our two homeowners policies — the Standard and the Deluxe," says an Allstate spokesman.

The study, made several years ago, showed that 1- to 5-year-old homes have a substantially lower loss ratio — the percentage of losses to premiums — than that for homes over 5 years of age. Thus they merit the discount. Two major factors that contribute to this better loss ratio for newer homes are their higher average premiums and lower claim frequencies.

Countrywide, average premiums for homes 5 years of age or less were almost 30 percent higher than the average premiums for older homes, according to the study. The major reason for this large difference is that newer homes generally are written for higher amounts of insurance. This also indicates that newer homes may be insured more properly to value than older homes.

In addition, newer homes have lower claim frequencies, or fewer claims made over the same period. On a countrywide basis, the reported claim frequency for newer homes was 18.7 percent during a two-year period when data was gathered. This compares with older homes' claim frequency of 22.9 percent.

Until the introduction of this discount, homeowners policy rates were based on where the house was located (the town's or area's fire rating class), type of policy, type of deductible, amount of insurance and type of house construction. These factors continue, but the age of the house has been included by some insurance companies.

The actual discount for each policyholder receiving this discount depends on his individual premium, but the average annual savings may be from $15 to $20. The discount does not apply to renters or condominium insurance policyholders, and is available in most states.

First Freeze Hits

The season's first freeze has arrived here. According to Steve Moser's official readings, the mercury dropped to 29 last Friday and to an even 32 Wednesday, and other low temperatures ranged from 34 to 48. Meanwhile high readings were mostly in the sixties.

Daily readings were

November 22, 34 and 52; 23rd, 29 and 62; 24th, 40 and 61; 25th, 40 and 67; 26th, 36 and 69; 27th, 48 and 62; 28th, 32 and 43. Meanwhile there has been no rainfall during the week. The month's total is still 1.46 inch and the year's total is 33.36, which is near normal for the end of November.

Confetti...

The trouble with this kind of appeal to reason, however is the remote chance of impressing an unreasonable person. The mad man is enjoying his ability to insult a weakening giant and get away with it.

America's misdeeds of the past are beginning to catch up with it. Such dealings as the no win wars of Korea and Vietnam, the betrayal of Taiwan, Nicaragua and Rhodesia, the Panama Canal giveaway, the Cuban debacle and constant softness to world communism are gradually eroding American power and influence. We can no longer negotiate from a position of strength like we used to.

The hostage incident reveals clearly that its high time for our country to wake up and build up. Our inability to stand up for our rights may influence other countries to push us around.

Please phone news of First Communion family gatherings to be included with others in next week's paper, with the group picture. Phone 759-4311 or 2736.

March Of Dimes Aids Program To Help Prevent Newborn Death and Illness

Edwin L. Gresham, M.D.
Professor of Pediatrics
Indiana University School of Medicine
Indianapolis, Indiana

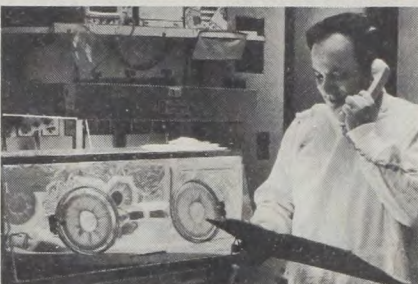

Nearly a decade ago we undertook the challenge to eliminate preventable newborn death and illness in Indiana.

Aided by the March of Dimes, we set up the Indiana Perinatal Care Project, which focuses on the protection of the unborn and newborn from birth defects.

What's Needed
Unfortunately, many babies born too small, or too soon, are critically ill. In order to survive, these infants require immediate care from specialists trained to use highly sophisticated life-saving devices. Those specialists and that equipment are available here in our intensive care nursery where each year we admit nearly 850 sick newborns.

But not all sick babies are born nearby. Many have to be transported from outlying areas of the state. For them, the key to survival is timing. Their medical problems have to be recognized early and prompt measures taken to stabilize their precarious conditions as soon as possible.

For this reason, we instituted the perinatal hotline, a statewide telephone consultation service. The system allows physicians and nurses throughout the state to call pediatric and obstetric experts here at the University. The hotline's success is evidenced by the fact that it has become the prototype for similar programs elsewhere in the country.

DR. EDWIN GRESHAM'S pioneering efforts in perinatology are saving sick babies' lives in Indiana. This accomplishment is due partially to the hotline telephone service that puts physicians throughout the state in touch with experts at the University of Indiana.

In 1971, when we instituted the emergency telephone service, there were only two neonatologists (newborn specialists) in Indiana. Now there are 13.

Pinpoint Problems
Another component of the Indiana Perinatal Project includes identifying potentially correctable health problems.

In 1974 we ascertained that more than half of newborn babies were dying if they inhaled particles from the "bag of waters" during labor or delivery. This is called meconium aspiration. After recognizing this pattern, we instituted a state-wide educational outreach program describing risk factors, appropriate fetal monitoring, and techniques for management at birth. As a result, infant mortality from meconium aspiration was reduced to 18 percent in 1975 and continues to fall.

Similar educational outreach programs for physicians and nurses have led to earlier identification and stabilization of infants with respiratory problems. Before, 4 out of 5 babies on ventilators died, but now 4 out of 5 survive and go home healthy.

Continue to Pioneer
Buoyed by these successes, we continue our pioneering efforts with support from the March of Dimes. Together with the voluntary health agency, we are working toward the day when all children can be born free from the threat of birth defects.

5:45 Set as Time For Football Mass

To avoid a conflict of church and football schedules, the regular 7:30 p.m. mass at Sacred Heart Church Saturday has been moved forward to 5:45.

In announcing the change Father Stephen Eckart said the purpose is to allow time for attending the service and also the Tiger state semifinal game with St. Joseph's High School of Victoria. Kick-off time is at 7:30 Saturday at Leeper Stadium, Gainesville.

The family sat restlessly in the lawyers' office eagerly awaiting the reading of the will of a wealthy relative.

"You all know how your uncle admired brevity," the lawyer said. "The following is his complete will: 'Being of sound mind, I have spent all my money.'"
