15,000 Acres Of East Texas Woods Blazing

Volunteers Called To Battle Forest Fires

(By The Associated Press)

LIVINGSTON, Oct. 2 — Livingston's fire chief drove through the city's streets today, calling through a loudspeaker for more volunteers to fight one of the worst outbreaks of forest fires in East Texas history.

Fire roared at tree-top level through 15,000 acres of piney woods in Polk county in the Woodville district of Tyler county. Smoke billowed thousands of feet in the air.

Citizens of Polk county held a mass meeting at the courthouse here last night and declared a state of general emergency.

Two Texas Forest service trucks hauled fresh recruits into the fire area today after the fire chief's appeal.

Firelines Dug

More than 100 men, using eight jeeps and three bulldozers, dug firelines in an effort to halt the blazes. Some fire fighters had not slept in three days.

Meanwhile, firefighters were battling eight blazes burning 1,500 acres near Conroe.

J. O. Fuster, division forester from East Texas Forest service headquarters at Lufkin, was directing the fight. Searcy Peoples, Conroe fire control supervisor, is ill.

Forest service equipment, plus gear from private industries, was being used against the fires. Little new material could be spared because of new outbreaks of fires in other districts.

Thousands of Acres Hit

A special fire control edition of the Polk County Enterprise was printed after the mass meeting in Livingston. A copy of the edition was mailed to Polk county families.

Forest service headquarters in Lufkin reported that 4,981 acres of timber were burned yesterday by 36 fires which ranged over the entire East Texas district under its protection.

Ten fires were stopped in the Woodville district yesterday after Hearing On Vote Case Set Monday

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2 (AP) — Former Gov. Coke R. Stevenson of Texas carried to the nation's highest court today his fight to keep Lyndon Johnson's name off the November ballot as the Democratic nominee for the U. S. Senate.

Stevenson's attorneys asked the United States Supreme Court to reverse a ruling by Associate Justice Hugo Black which permitted Johnson's name to go on the ballot. The tenth district Congressman was certified by the Democratic State convention as the winner over Stevenson in the Aug. 28 primary by 87 votes.

Johnson Won First Test

Black's order, issued early this week, stayed a temporary injunction against certifying Johnson's name for the ballot. The injunction was granted in mid-September by Federal Judge T. Whitfield Davidson at Fort Worth. At the same time, Judge Davidson ordered an investigation of the Aug. 28 vote in three South Texas counties where Stevenson claimed irregularities cost him enough votes to deprive him of the nomination. The investigation, started by two commissioners appointed by Judge Davidson, was halted abruptly by Justice Black's order.

Stevenson's attorneys argued in their motion today that a single Supreme Court justice is without jurisdiction and power to issue a stay order. They said Black had "erroneously and improvidently" ruled in favor of Johnson.

Decision Unlikely Monday

Court attaches said copies of the documents filed by Stevenson's counsel, received through the mail, would be distributed among members of the court and may be considered when the court holds its first fall meeting Monday. They said however, that any discussion of the case Monday probably would be informal and

Truman Says He Has Just Started Fight

(By The Associated Press)

THE curtain dropped today on the tumultuous second act of the 1948 political thriller.

Republican nominee Thomas E. Dewey headed homeward to Albany after his transcontinental campaign trip, and President Truman, the Democratic choice, got back to Washington Saturday from his own speaking tour to the Pacific coast.

Mr. Truman, after a brief rest and disposal of official business, heads out again Wednesday for a four-day stumping swing through Delaware, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and upstate New York.

Truman Promises Fight

Dewey has been out speaking, shaking hands and meeting Republican leaders for two full weeks. Mr. Truman's presidential special train took him more than 8,000 miles through 19 states. He made some 140 speeches and estimated he saw between 2,000,000 and 3,000,000 people.

Greeted at the Washington Union station by a crowd which included half a dozen members of his cabinet, the President said:

"I have just begun to fight."

He said that folks are just waking up to the fact that "this is a real crusade—it's the people against the special interests."

"I'm not going to pull any punches," he promised.

At the time of Mr. Truman's homecoming, his Republican rival was rolling eastward through Kansas and heading toward the President's native Missouri.

Dewey Woos Farmers

Dewey told a trainside audience at Salina, Kas., that "the time will never come again when the farmer will produce himself into poverty." Stability of farm income he said, will assure sufficient food production in the years ahead.

Following his scheduled arrival in Albany tonight, Dewey is to confer with his adviser on foreign affairs, John Foster Dulles, who has been attending the United Nations session in Paris. The governor has been kept informed by Dulles of recent developments in

Warmer Weather Is Seen Over Weekend

Warmer weather was forecast for Lubbock and the South Plains over the weekend instead of a cool front which was detoured, although the mercury tumbled within a few degrees of freezing in the Panhandle Saturday morning.

A cool front which had been heading toward this area apparently was sidetracked, the Weather bureau said, and temperatures ranged in the high seventies and low eighties Saturday, with the maximum in Lubbock set at 81 degrees. The low was 45 degrees.

The mercury dropped to 38, six degrees above freezing, at Miami, in the eastern Panhandle. the Associated Press reported Mulseshoe was only two degrees warmer. Dalhart and Snyder had low of 41. Kerrville and Junction had readings of 45 degrees.

Annual Exposition Acclaimed Success

Fair Draws 102,859 For Week's Program

By H. I. KIEFER
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

THE 31st Panhandle-South Plains fair passed into history last midnight as the most satisfactory, in many respects, ever held here.

The only attendance record broken was the 47,913 turnout Wednesday when the Ringling Brothers-Barnum & Bailey circus played inside the grounds—the largest gate for any one day in fair history.

The aggregate for the week was 102,859, with a final day attendance, of 8,642. Both figures were somewhat short of hope. They were exceeded by the 107,817 total and 14,126 final day turnout last year. The record was far short of the all-time record of 145,273 set in 1935 when South Plains fairs were fewer and transportation to the Dallas fair less convenient than now.

Since the investment in entertainment, premiums and other improvements was far heavier for the 1948 fair than any held previously, it still was uncertain last night whether the exposition will break even financially. The chances are that it will show at least a small profit which will go into improvements for future fairs. But there appeared a possibility that the 1948 exposition will wind up in the red. Only the final audit, which cannot be made until all the records are in, can determine just how the exposition fared financially.

But officials felt that the fair was by far the most satisfactory, and most satisfying to the patrons, of any ever held here. Premiums, which were paid in full—nearly all last night—were by far the largest of any previous fair. The investment for entertainment was more than double that of any previous period.

The agricultural exhibits were particularly gratifying, both as to

BIGGEST IN CITY'S HISTORY

Work To Start Here Monday On 70-Block Paving Project

WORK on the biggest street paving project in Lubbock history, aggregating 70 blocks, or about seven miles, will be started Monday, City Engineer R. L. Oldham announced Saturday.

He also suggested how property owners on the streets to be paved can speed up the work.

The work will be done under a competitive bidding contract with L. A. Purtell on a bid of $162,781.

Work To Start On Ave. M

The total cost to the property owners will range from about $2.75 to $3.25 a front foot, dependnig on the width of the pavement and several other factors. They can pay cash or sign liens payable in five equal annual installments bearing 6 per cent interest.

The total length of the projected paving is estimated at close to seven miles because, as the city engineer explained, many of the blocks are double length.

Work will be started on Avenue M between Second and Fourth streets. The first work will consist of grading, curb and gutter installation and the laying of caliche base. The actual surfacing is scheduled after warm weather begins next spring, with the whole project being completed around July 1.

Streets Are Listed

Streets involved in the project follow:

Eighth from N to O; Twentieth from Tyler to Polk; Twenty-first from Tyler to Polk; Twenty-third from H to L and from N to P; Twenty-fourth from P to Q and from T to U; Twenty-fifth from Tyler to Poly; Twenty-sixth from Q to S; Twenty-seventh from Jackson to Van Buren; Twenty-eighth from Jackson to Van Buren and from P to Q; Twenty-ninth from Jackson to Monroe and from Morning Side addition to H, Thirty-first from L to P and from College to Adams; Thirty-second from Washington to Monroe; Thirty-third from L to P and from College to Monroe; Avenue K from Twenty-nines to L; Avenue M from Second to Fourth; V from North Second to Second and from Thirty-second to Thirty-fourth; Avenue W from Nineteenth to Twenty-

Engine Using Water For Fuel Claimed Invented By Welder

(By The International News Service)

SALEM, Ore., Oct. 2 — A Salem welder claimed tonight that he has invented an engine that will use water as fuel and do away with any more worry about gasoline shortages.

He is Fred J. Arisman, who seeks a patent on his invention.

Arisman said the engine operates at 8,500 revolutions a minute, more than twice as fast as engines now in use. He said it will develop more than three times the horsepower of a gasoline engine of the same size.

Water from the fuel tank is divided into its two elements, hydrogen and oxygen, he said. The right amounts of hydrogen and oxygen then are released into the combustion chamber, which has compressed air under about 350 pounds pressure, and the gasses explode.

Arisman has dismantled the engine to protect his invention from visitors who might steal the idea.

He plans, however, to build a bigger model, put it in a racing car and demonstrate it within the next three months.

Cotton Forecast Takes New Drop

The prospective 1948 South Plains cotton crop took another nose dive, from 807,000 bales on Sept. 1 to 595,000 on Oct. 1, in the estimate Saturday of K. N. Clapp, area manager of Anderson-Clayton & Co., Houston cotton merchants.

"But I would not bet a thin dime on the accuracy of my forecasts since Aug. 1," Clapp commented in his report. "Estimating the crop this year is the most difficult I ever have attempted."

Forecasts Took Drop

Clapp has been estimating South Plains cotton crops 25 years and his final reports have averaged within 3 per cent of actual ginnings as shown several months later in official government reports. But he acknowledges he has made some wide misses, notably in 1937 when his forecast was several hundred thousand bales under the 959,000 bales actually ginned — an all time record for this area.

His forecasts for the area have been going steadily downward from an indicated peak of 1,102,000 bales on Aug. 1. The lack of moisture since then and the absence of subsoil moisture because of the dry fall, winter and spring have been chiefly responsible for the declines.

Clapp's latest report said that

South Plains Calls For Cotton Pickers

AUSTIN, Oct. 2. (AP)—Texas Employment commission field crews today faced a problem of distributing available cotton field workers to spots where they are most needed.

The TEC said there was plenty of help on hand for West Texas, but its problem in that area. There was still a shortage of workers in north and north central Texas, but the TEC expected to fill it over the weekend.

The TEC reported many pickers moving into Arkansas, Louisiana and Mississippi, where there are good cotton crops and high wages.

A weekend demand for 12,168 pullers and pickers developed in West Texas. These were the requests:

Littlefield called for 1,500 pullers for irrigated land, and 1,000 pickers for dry land. Pullers for irrigated land were drawing $1.75 delivered and pickers for dry land were drawing $2.25 delivered. Other area demands were: Paducah, 500; Matador, 300; Plainview, 250; Lockney, 250; Pecos, 625 (pickers); Lamesa, 1000; Brownfield, 1500; Tahoka, 700; Jayton, 400; Munday 400; Stanton, 400; Ralls, 175; Spur 400; Levelland 250; Lubbock, 400; Rotan, 300, and Roby 200.

Soviets Tie New Strings To Atom Plan

By FRANCIS W. CARPENTER
Associated Press Staff Writer

PARIS, Oct. 2.—Russia changed signals unexpectedly today and demanded the United Nations ban the atomic bomb and set up atomic energy controls at the same time.

The Soviet Union still insisted however upon veto over the control machinery.

Western powers delegates saw no compromise in the surprise move nor any break in the deadlock over atomic energy control. They said they were going straight ahead with plans to demand a vote of confidence in their stand from the UN General Assembly.

U. S. Leaders Hit

Warren R. Austin, U. S. delegate, told newsmen the Soviet proposal was a typically "oriental maneuver." He said the American delegation saw no assurance Russia is ready to accept the central plan of the UN Atomic Energy commission, "the only effective system which would insure the harnessing of atomic energy in the service of mankind."

Andrei Vishinsky, Soviet deputy foreign minister, put the Soviet resolution before the 58-nation political committee of the Assembly at the end of his second blast in two days at the western powers.

Once more Vishinsky hit at President Truman, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, and David E. Lilienthal, chairman of the U. S. Atomic Energy commission.

This came when he charged former Premier Paul Ramadier of France with attempting to justify a course "expounded by his American inspirers, such as Messrs. Dewey, Truman, Lilienthal and others."

Russian Proposal Made

Vishinsky's resolution called upon the assembly to recommend to the Security Council and to the Atomic Energy commission that they continue their work toward finding an atomic solution.

It called for the council and the commission to draw up one treaty banning atomic weapons and another on the establishment of ef-

Guns Taken In Lynn Burglary

Sheriff Sam Floyd of Tahoka said approximately $300 worth of property had been taken in a burglary of the residence of Clyde Ashcraft, who lives a mile south and a half-mile east of New Home, in Lynn county.

He listed missing property as a 12-gauge Browning automatic shotgun, a .22 caliber rifle and a .30-.06 Mauser rifle. The Mauser alone was valued at $200. Special work had been done on it. In addition, the following other property was taken: three boxes of shotgun shells, two boxes of .30-.06 shells; camera film, and a 4.5 lens for a camera.

Two Complaints Filed

Copies of sentence and judgment had been filed in the case of B. L. Coleman, a negro who was convicted there last week of the Aug. 8 murder of Essie Daniels, a negro woman, Sheriff Floyd said. The woman was slain with a shotgun from 15 feet away. Coleman was assessed a five-year sentence.

Two felony complaints were filed here. Charles William Short, 18, of Denton was accused of having burglarized the Lester O. White service station at Sixteenth and Ave. Q Thursday night.

Osby Lois James, of Lubbock, was accused of having stolen $45 in money and a $7.50 check Friday night from Ince Oil company, at 2803 Ave. H. Police said James

22 Missing In Airline Crash

(By The Associated Press)

OSLO, Norway, Oct. 2—A Norwegian flying boat capsized and sank near Trondheim today apparently killing 22 of the 48 persons aboard.

Earl Bertrand Rusell, 76, the British philosopher, was saved soon after he had been plunged into the water. He was enroute to Trondheim to lecture.

The Norwegian Airlines said three were killed, 19 are missing and 26 were saved. As there was no response to radio calls for missing survivors to report, it now appears certain all the missing drowned. Three of them were babies.

The fate of the missing probably will not be determined finally until the Sandringham flying boat is brought to the surface. Darkness and rough weather forced rescuers to abandon work late tonight.

A board of inquiry is trying to find the cause of the mishap. All the victims were Norwegians citizens, with the possible exception of Norwegian-born Mrs. Lisbeth Stroem, who may be a naturalized citizen of the United States.

Super Atomic Blitz Talked

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2—A couple of air strategists, speaking for themselves, believe the United States can win another war in from one to three months. They envison a "super blitz" of atomic bombs dropped by only a small force of planes.

The claim that "sustained bombing"—the costly program by which thousands of bombers prolong attack on an enemy's homeland for months or years—ended with World War II and the advent of the A-bomb.

These views are set forth in separate articles in the new edition of the "Air University Quarterly Review" by Col. Frederick L. Moore and Col. Dale O. Smith, both of the United States Air Force. The publication is put out by the USAF's air university at Maxwell base, Ala. It takes pains to point out that articles carried by it "do not necessarily coincide with, nor are they officially those" of the Air Force.

Air Force Policy Rapped

This seems to be applicable to the two articles. Indeed, Smith had some critical words for Air Force policy. He comments that "these misconceptions (about sustained bombing) are based upon and fostered by the Air Force belief that bombing must be conducted month after month, year after year, for an indefinite period, until an enemy is pounded into submission." At another point he pleads "let us not be bound down by orthodoxy."

Moore sees things this way:

"With the use of atomic weapons, the mass bombing raids of World War II must be a thing of

Prime Minister Attlee Expected To Resign Because Of Health

LONDON, Oct. 2 (INS) — British political quarters expressed belief tonight that Prime Minister Attlee will resign this month due to ill health.

Close associates said he may be succeeded by Sir Stafford Cripps, chancellor of the exchequer.

Speculation also centers on Herbert Morrison, lord president of the council, and Foreign Secretary Bevin, but Sir Stafford is given the best chance of succeeding the laborite leader.

Red Marshal Raps Allies' German Plan

By WES GALLAGHER
Associated Press Staff Writer

BERLIN, Oct. 2.—The Russian commander in Germany told the world tonight to expect no solution of the Berlin crisis from the United Nations. He said agreement could be reached only by direct negotiation with the Soviets.

Debate on the blockade starts Monday in Paris. The U. S., Britain and France referred the explosive issue to the UN Security Council, accusing Russia of endangering peace and security.

Red Price Indicated

Marshal Vassily Sokolovsky indicated in a long statement the main price of any agreement is a dissolution of the western German state which the western powers are forming. Western officials have said many times they will not abandon their plan.

Sokolovsky gave a strong indication the western powers' refusal to give up the west German state was the real reason for the collapse of big four talks after an apparent agreement had been reached.

"Trying to get a solution of this question in other ways is only aiming at continuing the abnormal situation," he said, and it "will not lead to the results the western occupation powers hope for."

Warning Is Seen

Coming just as the UN discussion on Berlin is about to begin, Sokolovsky's statement was taken here as a warning that the Soviet Union would not agree to abide by any UN action.

The Soviet commander in Germany, in a long statement on Soviet aims in Germany, gave the first inkling of why the agreements reached by the big four in Moscow with Premier Stalin were sabotaged in subsequent Berlin talks. Negotiations were broken off early this week after the Russians demanded control of the Allied air lift to Berlin.

Sokolovsky also gave what is probably a preview of the Russian line before the United Nations in the Berlin dispute open-

Berlin Policemen Beaten By Crowd

BERLIN, Oct. 2 (INS)—Western Berlin civilians severely beat five Russian-controlled German policemen tonight at the Zoo elevated train station in the British sector.

Two of the policemen were pummeled when an alleged German criminal in their custody suddenly shouted "the Russians are kidnaping me and taking me to Potsdam."

The train's passengers promptly pounced on the policemen, beating and kicking them and freeing their prisoner.

Three Others Mauled

The other three policemen were mauled when they tried to confiscate western newspapers at the station news stand.

Western Berlin police took the Soviet sector police into custody.

Mobile western patrols backed by U. S. military police have been set up to prevent the news stand raids by Soviet-controlled police.

Reports of Soviet military activity increased.

The Russians, in another harrassing move in the western aerial supply corridor, announced their planes would conduct a five-hour firing practice at "target sleeves" towed by other planes near Magdeburg.

But western air officials said U. S. pilots did not sight any actual firing.

Disorders Reported

The U. S. military government newspaper Die Neue Zeitung reported the Russians are lengthening runways at Pohlenz airfield near Liepzig to land Soviet "super fortresses," presumably Soviet copies of older-type American bombers.

This newspaper also said former German General Lattmann had

Regional VA Building Here Is Purchased By U. S. Government

THE VETERANS Adminstration building finished early this year in the 1600 block of Nineteenth by the West Texas Regional Investment company, has been purchased, or is in the process of being purchased, by the government, definitely placing the VA installation here on a permanent basis, it was announced yesterday by Wm. H. Evans, Lubbock attorney and secretary of the building organization.

Consideration involved in the transaction was not disclosed. Evans said the company received a letter yesterday from the purchasing division of the Veterans Administration, giving notice that the government is exercising, effective October 1, the option to buy the property.

Evans explained that the lease contract with the VA for the building contained the purchase option.

Construction was started on the building in June of last year, and it was occupied by the VA last March 1, although formal dedication exercises were not held until March 26.

The building, of fireproof construction, was erected according to plans approved by the govern-

Dallas Boosters Backing Tech For Long-Sought Post In SWC

DALLAS, Oct. 2—Whether Texas Tech will even be considered for membership in the Southwest conference in December is a matter of great conjecture, but big, bustling Dallas displayed today that she is highly in favor of Tech becoming a conference member.

From the time Techsans in their red shirts began arriving in downtown Dallas late Friday until they began leaving town rather dejectedly tonight, Dallas displayed a friendly feeling for her West Texas visitors—everywhere, that is, except on the field at Ownby stadium.

But even in the football game, there was good clean rivalry displayed on every hand and Dallas grid fans streamed out of the stadium not only singing praises for a great Mustang team but also having a good word for the fighting spirit of the Raiders against bad breaks and the slithering will 'o wisp guy by the name of Doak Walker.

Indefinite Period Of Uncertain Peace Seen In East-West Feud

By KINGSBURY SMITH
European General Manager, INS

PARIS, Oct. 2.—An indefinite period of precarious peace with the world split into two armed camps is how leading western statesmen forsee the future today.

This period of fearful uncertainty might explode into war at any time or be prolonged for years.

This is the pessimistic conclusion which has been reached by men like Secretary of State Marshall, British Secretary Bevin and others as a result of the western powers' inability to reach an understanding with Russia.

Hopes For Agreement Fade

With the Soviet Union summoned before the international bar of the United Nations Security Council on the big three charge of endangering peace, hope of a genuine settlement of world problems with Russia in the foreseeable future now has been abandoned.

The American, British and French governments have come to the sad conclusion that the Soviet rulers do not wish an understanding that would put an end to the great power politics struggle between the opposing forces of East and West.

Whether war can be avoided will depend, the western leaders believe, on whether the Kremlin can be convinced that a conflict would involve serious danger of defeat for the Soviet bloc.

One of the western envoys who participated in the recent ill-fated Moscow talks told the writer that in his opinion the Soviet government envisages the risk of war in fulfillment of its policy of extending Communist domination throughout the world.

In fact, this western diplomat thinks the present Soviet leaders regard war as eventually inevitable unless capitalism in the western countries collapses as a result of economic disasters or internal upheavals.

However, this diplomat believes the Kremlin would prefer to avoid war with the west in the near future because Russia does not yet possess the atom bomb and has not recovered sufficiently from the last war.

For this reason, the western envoy thinks Russia will not deliberately precipitate war over Berlin in order to drive the western powers out of that former German capital, although the Soviet government is believed to be prepared to fight if an incident occurs in Germany or anywhere else in the world which it felt vitally endangered its long-range policy.

The Soviet leaders are said to envisage the world struggle between Communism and capitalism as one that may last many years. One Soviet official expressed to the writer's informant the belief that it could go on for more than one hundred years.

The only hope for a peaceful reconciliation of differences between Russia and the West, in the opinion of this western envoy, is a drastic change in Soviet foreign policy, possibly after Stalin's death.

Tired, "All-In"—Listless Feeling Brought To Halt

As Vibrant Energy is Released To Every Muscle, Fibre, Cell

Do you get up in the mornings still tired, feel down-and-out all day? Have you checked-up on your blood strength lately? Overwork, undue worry, cold, flu or other illness often wears down the red-blood-cells.

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities, by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice when it is non-organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloat and give off that sour food taste.

Food Company Conducts Annual Regional Sales Meeting Here

A banquet at a downtown hotel last night climaxed the annual regional sales meeting of the Morton Foods company which began here at 10 a. m., Saturday.

Thirty-six members of the Lubbock office attended the meet where policies and methods of distribution were discussed. G. C. Morton, Dallas, president of the organization, was in charge.

Other speakers were Olen C. Turner, comptroller; N. A. Caddell, sales manager, both of Dallas, and Robert Kuhn, Lubbock manager of the firm.

The Lubbock office, located at 1001 Ave. Q, opened here in 1942. The company serves all of Texas and parts of Louisiana, Oklahoma and New Mexico.

Since 1914, when the water safety program of the American Red Cross was inaugurated, the drowning rate in this country has been halved.

Winners Are Named In Fire Prevention Contest In Schools

She is to receive the $5 cash first award on her slogan "Smoke, Smoke, Smoke, Be Careful You Dope."

Other winners, announced by Harry Delaney, insurance exchange committee chairman who supervised the contest, were:

Second, John Kammerdiene, student in 36th Street school, whose slogan, pronounced by judges as excellent, was "Fire is Red, Greystone's Blue, Play with Fire, We'll Miss You." He won the $4 second cash award.

Third place and $3 went to Jo Marie Boothe, of Geo. R. Bean school; Fourth and $2 to Charles Hayes of Roscoe Wilson school; and fifth and $1 to Jimmy Ray Kemp of McWhorter school.

The slogan contest is held each year in the public schools just preceding Fire Prevention week, which starts Monday, and the insurance exchange also sponsors a poster contest, with winners to be declared in March. In the poster contest, open to all students on grade levels, prize awards have been increased this year to $100, compared with $25 last year, it was announced.

The slogan contest was open to all public school students on an even basis.

Silver Valued At $2,300 Is Sold In WAA Sale For $1,200

HOUSTON, Oct. 2 (AP)—Ninety-nine bricks of silver valued at $2,300 went for $1,200 in a War Assets administration sale.

The approximately 2800 ounces of silver changed hands at the WAA office here yesterday. The high bid was $1,200.

The silver had been reclaimed from the Republic refinery at Texas City where it had been used as pipe lining.

After the government contract with the refinery expired, the silver was melted out of the pipes, poured into bricks and offered for sale.

Rosh Hashana Will Be Observed In City

Rosh Hashana, Jewish Nek Year, will begin at sundown today and conclude for Reform Jews at sundown Monday.

Orthodox and Conservative members of the Jewish faith will observe the festival two days.

The Hebrew date of the High Holy day is the 1st of Tishri 5709, according to information prepared by the Commission in Information about Judaism, the Union of American Hebrew Congregations and the Central Conference of American Rabbis.

Congregation Shaareth Israel of Twenty-third and Ave. Q will observe Rosh Hashana with services at 8 o'clock tonight and 9 o'clock Monday morning. Rabbi Julius Kerman's topic will be "Faith in God" tonight and "The Meaning of the Shofar" Monday morning. The Reform ritual is used in Congregation Shaareth Israel.

With the New Year, 10 days of penitence and prayer open, during which a man is to make restitution for his sins of omission and commission and resolve to live in such a way as to be pleasing in the sight of God and in the sight of man, it was explained. To the Jew, Rosh Hashana is one of the most sacred and spiritual days of the year.

The 10 days end with the Day of Atonement, most solemn day of the year in Jewish observances.

The Terminal System of New York taxicabs started this year offering two college scholarships to children of taxi drivers.

Remember—ABILITY not disability COUNTS

MAN WANTED Behind the desk in the personnel office in any business sits a prospective employer. He has a job to offer to some worker who can prove the ability to do the job. Behind that job lies the possibility of economic security and reasonable independence for the worker. Also behind that job lies the need for production and profit so as to make the job economically sound. At this time of high empployment and production, employers in Lubbock and in many other sections of this Nation are looking for men to fill jobs. The urgent need for greater production for exports and national defense materials has expanded labor demands at a time when demand for workers for farm, food processing, and manufacturing already is at an abnormally high level. Employers are hanging out "help wanted" signs and calling upon local employment offices for men and women for new jobs and for replacements.

HELP WANTED The young man sitting before the employer has the answer. He is a representative of a great unused reservoir of needed manpower. He, like millions of other Americans, has a physical handicap. But he and his fellows can fill those jobs. Employers have only to look at the record of the war years to find that handicapped men and women, placed in jobs they can do, are reliable and productive. Hundreds of thousands of handicapped workers were hired by war contractors in the labor stringency days of World War II. They made good. They are continuing to make good. They have demonstrated their ability to compete on equal terms with the able-bodied.

Employers seeking workers should consider impaired workers when hiring. These workers, registered in public employment offices, reading the want ad columns, watching job opportunities, want jobs. They want jobs suited to their talents, their abilities. Today's handicapped are generally yesterday's trained workers. They want to do an honest day's work for an honest day's pay. America needs them. So do you!

DEMOS DISPUTE CLAIMS

GOP Shows Strength In Battle To Maintain Control Of House

(By The International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—The Republicans are headed today toward the election of a controlling majority of the new House of Representatives in November's balloting.

The Democrats are claiming they will reverse the national trend of 1946 and elect a Democratic House in the election five weeks hence. But their claims do not sound convincing against reports and straw polls from various sections of the nation.

A national survey indicates the Republicans should hold their present majority of fifty-seven and may add fifteen or twenty votes to it.

Demos Also Make Claims

The Democrats claim they will defeat 46 incumbent Republicans and an American-Laborite for a gain of 47 votes. This would be enough to give them control of the next house as they need to gain but 31 to garner the 218 necessary majority.

But the Republicans say they will defeat 33 incumbent Democrats. Democratic leaders privately admit that many of these members are in dire trouble.

Many Republicans are in dire trouble too. But a Dewey-Warren landslide could cure all of them of their troubles. Similarly a Truman-Barkley landslide can conceivably turn the House Democratic but most of the polls favor a Dewey victory for the presidency.

Here is the House situation in several key states:

In California, the Republicans hope to win five new seats; the Lea first, Havenner fourth, Helen Gahagan Douglas fourteenth and Sheppard twenty-first districts. They already have won the tenth where a Republican, Thomas W. Wardell, won both major party nominations. The Democrats say they will gain five new seats in the Allen seventh, Bud Gearheart ninth, Poulson thirteenth, Bradley eighteenth and Fletcher twenty-third districts.

The Republicans argue they will defeat young John Carroll in Colorado's first (Denver) district. The Democrats retort they will win back Compton White's old seat in the first Idaho district, a claim disputed by the Republicans.

In Indiana, the Democrats claim they will defeat Gerald Landis in the seventh and the GOP counters by claiming a gain in the eleventh Indianapolis district.

In Kentucky, the Republicans hope to hold their own and defeat Brent Spence in the fifth. But the Democrats say they will regain the third and seventh districts, which went GOP in 1946.

In Maryland, a GOP claim to the second and fourth districts is offset by a Democratic claim to the first, which went Republican two years ago.

In Massachusetts, a GOP bid for the fourth (Worcester) district is offset by a Democratic claim to the second (Springfield) district.

In Michigan, there are violent counter claims. The Democrats say they will regain the twelfth, thirteenth and fourteenth districts in the Detroit area. But the Republicans say they will pick up the Democratic fifteenth and sixteenth districts in the same locality.

In Minnesota, the Democrats predict gains in the third (Minneapolis) and fourth (St. Paul) districts. But the GOP says it will gain the eighth in a rural area.

The Minnesota outcome depends on President Truman. If he can carry his home state big, the Democrats can regain six seats in the first, second, third, fifth, eighth and eleventh districts. But the Republicans say they will hold their present Missouri strength. The first, second and third have voted GOP frequently while the fifth and eighth are always close. The eleventh has gone Democratic in recent presidential years.

The Democrats say they will gain the second Montana and at-large seat in Nevada. The GOP argue they will hold both and win two more in New Mexico when Dewey carries that state.

In New York, the Republicans hope for a sweep with Dewey's help. They are claiming seven Democratic seats in Brooklyn. The Democrats say they will hold Brooklyn while regaining the fourth, fifth and sixth in Queens county, which went Republican in 1946.

Lubbock Little Theater To Present Opening Play Monday Night At Senior High School

An intimate view of a wacky family will be afforded the public at 8 o'clock Monday night in Senior High school auditorium, when the Lubbock Little Theater presents its first play of the season.

The production will be "You Can't Take It With You," a three-act laugh provoker full of extravagant Kaufman-Hart humor, which was introduced to America on a Broadway stage in December of 1936. Hundreds of enthusiastically performances on the professional and amateur stage have followed.

Has Local Cast

A Lubbock cast will present the mirthful story of an uncommon family living in an uncommon era, during the New Deal. Reference is made in the script to the so-called attempted Supreme court packing, the WPA, Russia's second five year plan and some of the world personalities of the middle 30's.

The unpredictable Vanderhof household in which "You Can't Take It With You" winds its hectic way is escounced in a large and in-law-laden apartment in New York, across the street from Columbia university. Such proximity to an educational center has no uplifting effect on the Vanderhof clan. The family members and all who associate with them act in tremendously unusual manner.

The play steps gingerly through a maze of character introductions in the first few minutes of the first act. That act divided into two scenes, makes the play equivalent to four acts.

Characters are Miss Quanah Lewis, who as Penny Sycamore lets the audience know right away that her long suit is play writing; Mrs. John Robert Moxley, who as Essie Carmichael, Penny's married daughter, is absorbed in ballet dancing and candy making; Rhoda Lou Kelly and Jack Short, who act the part of the household's two negro servants; Dr. James Reynolds, as Paul Sycamore; Penny's husband, and Aubrey Thompson, as Mr. De Pinna, who busy themselves in making firecrackers; Richard Kelisky, as Ed Carmichael, whose antics include music composition and handbill printing; Leon Harris, who as Grandpa Vanderhof is perhaps the most stable of persons portrayed in the play does collect snakes and indulge in a few other unusual activities; Jeanetta Lewis and Bill Thurman, who as Alice Sycamore and Tony Kirby play the romantic leads; James Pinson and Mrs. Ruth Wilson, whose entrance as the elder Kirby's gives an "on the better side of the tracks" trend; Weldon George, as Kolenkov, a Russian ballet teacher, who appears in loud and effusive comedy; Ganell Etter, as Grand Duchess Olga Katrina; G. V. Pardue, jr., who accurately portrays Henderson, the internal revenue man; Gay Wellington, the role of an actress; Bill Raffaniello and Richard Shannon, as G-men.

Mrs. Charles Cobb is director of the production, first of four to be presented by the Little Theater during the season, and Mrs. Roberta Newell McGinnis has charge of technical production.

Tickets will remain on sale Monday at Wylie's Drug store, Musson's in Green Acres, and Bray's Cleaners in Park Place, and will be on sale Monday night at the box office.

Texarkana Police Department Absolved Of Misconduct Charge

TEXARKANA, Ark., Oct. 2 (U.P.)—Police desk Sergeant Earl Henderson, who recently stated that there had been irregularities in the police department over an eight-year period, will be given a public hearing by the civil service commission next Tuesday.

A special grand jury, investigating the alleged misconduct in the department, said yesterday it had found insufficient evidence to warrant any indictments of officers, past or present.

Discharge of Henderson, who specifically charged some officers on the force with pocketing bond money, has been asked by Police Chief H. Grady Holmes because of the incident.

The jury recommended that the civil service commission "eliminate the cause of friction within the department" and revise the department's bookkeeping system.

Indonesians Making Gains Against Reds

BATAVIA, Java, Oct. 2. (AP)—The Indonesian republic's initial success in efforts to wipe out the "Soviet State" in east Java may be the jolt that will break the three-month political deadlock with the Dutch.

Informed sources predict major diplomatic moves in the next few weeks in efforts to solve the stalemate between Indonesian nationalists and the Dutch.

While armed clashes around Madioen, the Communist stronghold, resulted in the Moscow-trained Musso's Red battalions being scattered, the diplomatic props were being moved behind a curtain of secrecy.

It was generally believed that Uncle Sam was the stage manager, though officials deny this.

Last week, it looked as though the lightning revolt led by Moscow-trained Musso might succeed with a coup that would smother the moderate Republican government of President Soekarno and Premier Mohamed Hatta.

If that happened, it was widely believed the forces of the Royal Dutch army would sweep in to restore order.

It is believed however, that the Dutch realize the long-term danger of restoring to force which might cause both nationalists and Communists to go underground and resort to guerrilla warfare in the jungle which would make outlying areas unsafe for white men for years.

The republic's victories over the Communists, however, have eased the tension somewhat. There is talk now that the Hatta government deserves some sort of recognition for its effective handling of the Communist rebellion.

SMALL BABY BORN

SPANGLER, Pa., Oct. 2. (AP)—A baby girl weighing only one pound and 12 ounces and just 10½ inches long today was given a good chance of survival at the Spangler hospital. The child's parents are Mr. and Mrs. John Soltis of nearby Emeigh.

Baptist Convention To Relate History Over State Hookup

DALLAS, Oct. 2 (AP)—The Baptist General convention of Texas Wednesday will relate its 100-year history and its future plans over the state's first FM radio hookup.

The broadcast, originating in the First Baptist church here at 8:15 p. m., will last 45 minutes and will be carried by 16 stations. Transcriptions have been prepared for each station in case anything goes wrong with the hookup.

Dr. R. Alton Reed, director of radio activities for the convention, said the program would be heard in over 1,000 churches which will install FM receivers. He said radio stations have donated the time and facilities.

Dr. J. Howard Williams, executive secretary for the convention, will be the speaker. He is scheduled to emphasize a proposed $10,000,000 budget to be submitted to convention delegates in November at Houston. The budget is $6,000,000 more than the current year.

Chiang Flies To Mukden As Manchurian Battle Rages

PEIPING, Sunday, Oct. 3. (AP)—Chaing Kai-Shek flew to Mukden yesterday at the height of a battle which may decide the fate of the government's slim holdings in Manchuria.

Chiang, who has been conferring with his military leaders in North China, flew from Peiping to the Manchurian city with Gen. Wei Li-Huang, commander in Manchuria.

Most Texas Voters Approve Plan To Continue U. S. Aid To Europe

By JOE BELDEN
Director, The Texas Poll

AUSTIN, October 2—In the face of growing U. S. participation in international politics, isolationist policy today appeals to only a small part of the Texas public.

A statewide survey by The Texas Poll shows:

1. Seven out of every ten adults believe the U. S. should continue to help Europe solve its problems.

2. About six out of every ten would maintain or increase the present level of U. S. aid to Europe. Three out of ten think the U. S. is doing too much. One out of ten is undecided.

3. In the recent U. S. senatorial runoff, isolationist-minded voters tended to favor Coke Stevenson over Lyndon Johnson, but only by a small margin. A majority of Stevenson supporters, as well as Johnson backers, want U. S. aid to Europe kept as at the present or stepped up.

The poll put these questions to a scientific cross-section of the adult population:

"Do you think the United States should leave Europe alone to solve its own problems, or do you think we should help Europe to solve its problems?"

Leave Europe alone	21%
Help Europe	71
No opinion	8
	100%

"Would you say the United States is doing too much or not enough to help Europe recover from the war?"

Too much	30%
Not enough	16
Right amount	42
No opinion	12
	100%

The foreign policy issue was injected into the recent Senate race by Johnson. He himself was all-out for aid to Europe, and he claimed that Stevenson was an isolationist who would scuttle aid to Europe.

Analysis of The Texas Poll's survey shows Stevenson is favored by a small majority of isolationist-minded voters, while Johnson has the support of more than half the voters who think the U. S. should help Europe with its problems.

	Isolationists	Internationalists
Stevenson	53%	49%
Johnson	47	51
	100%	100%

Thinking of World War II veterans was found to be about the same as that of the general policy. Fifty-nine per cent believed the U. S. is giving about the right amount or not enough aid to Europe, while 33 per cent said it was giving too much.

EL PASO MAN NAMED

AUSTIN, Oct. 2 (AP) — Louis A. Scott, El Paso attorney, today was named Rio Grande compact commissioner for Texas. He was named by Gov. Beauford H. Jester to fill the unexpired term of the late J. E. Quaid of El Paso. The term expires July 16, 1949.

State Demo Finance Chief Lays Plans For Funds Drive

HOUSTON, Oct. 2 (AP) — The state finance chairman for the Truman-Barkley presidential ticket admitted "money is hard to get these days" but said "we'll meet our quota."

Mayor Tom Miller of Austin heads the state finance committee and is also chairman of the Truman-Barkley clubs.

Miller said here yesterday that much of the details of a fund raising drive will be handled through these clubs.

Maps Fund Drive

The Austin Mayor attended a meeting yesterday called for mapping preliminary plans for the state fund raising campaign.

Miller said there are ten Truman-Barkley clubs organized and that "we have begun selecting committees to organize throughout the state."

While he said the finance campaign won't be handled entirely through the clubs, much of the work will be directed through state headquarters in Austin.

Miller said national committeeman Wright Morrow, Houston attorney and Texas member of the national finance committee, had "good news for us."

He said Morrow showed the group "some very nice checks," received as contributions.

John C. Calhoun, Corsicana, state Democratic executive committee chairman and Mrs. Claude Hudspeth, San Antonio, vice-chairman of the state committee, also attended the meeting yesterday.

"Details of our campaign remain to be worked out," Miller said, "the Democratic party is a poor man's party and needs money badly."

He said the campaign will not operate on a congressional district basis as in previous election years.

"We're going to have to depend on thousands of small contributions because we are going to lose some of the big ones," he commented.

TEXAS TOTAL UP

Population Gains Shown Over U. S.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2 (AP) California has joined New York and Pennsylvania in the 10,000,000 population class, The Census Bureau reported tonight.

The old fort was staked out by the late Gen. John J. Pershing in 1915 as a cavalry base for his chase into Mexico in pursuit of Pancho Villa. It will be sold by the War Assets administration.

Postoffice Plans New Sub-Station

Postmaster Amos Howard announced Saturday that proposals are being solicited in the office of the Postoffice Inspector L. G. Bragdon at Fort Worth up to and including Oct. 25 to furnish quarters suitable for postoffice purposes in vicinity of Twenty-third and College Ave. in Lubbock, under a lease. A sub-station would be operated there, it is planned.

The lease, he said, would be subject to the provisions of the standard form of lease used by the Postoffice department, at a stated price per annum, including heat, light, power, water, toilet facilities, plumbing, heating, and lighting fixtures, safe and-or vault, and all necessary furniture and equipment, for a term of five or 10 years from April 1, 1949.

Diagram Is Required

Floor space of approximately 3,500 square feet is desired.

General building requirements, equipment specifications and form of proposal, together with information concerning the provisions of the lease, may be obtained from the postmaster or the inspector.

Diagram of rooms offered, showing inside dimensions, offsets, doors, windows, etc., and any adjoining ground for light areas, driveways or parking areas, must be submitted with the proposal, and proponents may submit photographs of their property and its surroundings if they wish.

In addition, proponents may be required to show whether the property offered is mortgaged and to furnish a concurring agreement by the mortgagee. Detailed information will be furnished by Bragdon, it was announced.

Proposals without equipment, fuel, light, power and water will be considered, it was said.

Bragdon may be addressed at Room 225, Post Office building in Fort Worth.

Demo Loyalty Pledge Rule Brings Protests

AUSTIN, Oct. 2 (AP)—Loyalty pledges and some protests from party officials are pouring in to State Democratic committe headquarters.

Vann M. Kennedy, secretary of the state executive committee, said he had received "an outpouring" of responses, but he has not had time to look them over or to count them.

They include several protests from party leaders who took the pledge as loyal Democrats but who said they resented the action of the Sept. 14 state convention in demanding such pledges.

At Corsicana, John C. Calhoun, chairman of the executive committee said he had received a number of signed pledges, and no refusals to take the pledge.

Calhoun said no date had been set for a committee meeting to decide what would be done about any party leader who refused to take the pledge.

The convention by resolution gave the executive commitee the duty of replacing any of its own members or other party officials who refused to take a party loyalty pledge.

Kennedy mailed copies of this resolution to all county Democratic chairmen.

Of the 308 engagements of the American Revolution, nearly a third of the battles were fought on New York soil.

Annual Patch-Testing Program To Start In Schools On Monday

Lubbock County Tuberculosis association Monday will sponsor its annual patch-testing program in Lubbock public schools.

Parents of children in the first, sixth and 12th grades have been urged to sign and return the Parents Consent form by Monday morning, Mrs. Roy Sanford, association nurse, stated. Some students returned the form Friday. If a student does not have signed consent, the test will not be given to him.

Simple And Harmless

"A patch test is a simple, harmless method of tuberculosis control whereby a trained nurse can tell whether or not a child has ever been in contact with tuberculosis germs," the association announced. The patch is a strip of adhesive, to which small pieces of gauze are attached. The gauze has been treated with a substance that, when strapped to the skin for 48 hours, will produce a reaction in form of a red spot if the child has at some time or other taken the tuberculosis germ into his body. Such reaction does not mean the child has the disease.

"A large percentage of the adult population has had a mild tuberculosis infection and will give a positive skin reaction," the nurse explained, "but relatively few persons have tuberculosis."

Doctor To Make Tests

Doctors will be present at each school Friday morning to read results of the patch tests. Parents will be notified whether or not their child received a negative reaction, a doubtful reaction or a positive reaction. In case of a doubtful or a positive reaction, question of whether or not that child has tuberculosis can be answered only by means of chest x-ray.

Mrs. Ralph Bedford, a member of the board of directors of Lubbock County Tuberculosis association and health chairman of the City Council of Parents and Teachers, is coordinator between the Tuberculosis association and the school health chairmen.

Health chairmen of Parent-Teacher association will be in charge of the patch testing programs in their respective schools. Supplies have ben issued to them by the Tuberculosis association.

The chairmen are: Senior High school, Mrs. C. A. Whitfield; George R. Bean school, Mrs. M. A. Clark; East Broadway school, Mrs. C. G. Wilkinson; K. Carter, Mrs. R. J. Ledbetter; Central Ward, Mrs. C. From The Lubbock Album...

A Lubbock county landmark is the house pictured above, which was built in 1898 and still stands on Fourth street near Mackenzie State park. Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Dillard, who are observing their Golden Wedding anniversary, moved into the house after their marriage Sept. 28, 1898. Dillard said lumber was hauled from Amarillo to build the house in the months before their marriage. At that time, it was the only house north of Lubbock and was about the 15th house to be built in the vicinity of Lubbock. There were only a few stores in Lubbock at the time. The late Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Wilkinson, pioneer residents, later bought the house and are shown in the picture above, with Mr. Wilkinson on the right holding a baby and Mrs. Wilkinson in the center. Other figures probably were the late Mrs. O. L. Slaton, sr., left, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilkinson, and her baby daughter, Ruth, now Mrs. A. E. Fowler of Littlefield, being held by her grandfather. O. L. Slaton, jr., brother of Mrs. Fowler, lives at 3403 Twentieth.

British People Take Calm Outlook Of New War Threat; Government Officials Gloomy

By CHARLES A. SMITH
INS Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Oct. 2.—The British people, long known as a stoical race, are as calm as ever in the face of the deepening split between the Democracies of the West and Communism.

There is no sign of panic. On the contrary, there is a strange sort of philosophic, almost fatalistic calm as the people discuss "will it be war?"

Not Changed By Words

There is tenseness at the foreign office and in all the government departments close to the center of things. There is gloom in newspaper row and in all the foreign embassies in the British capital. But it does not extend into the streets and into the homes.

Scare headlines and learned editorials in the newspapers about the awesome possibilities of atomic war, voice of doom radio broadcasts and profound speeches by this or that statesman have been received with quiet calm, without enthusiasm but also without pessimism.

The concensus is that the British have become inured to crises, and that it will need something far more concrete than rough words between statesmen and nations to jerk them into the scare conditions of Hitler's cold war of 1939.

No Unusual Activity

The mood of the people is reflected in the cartoons appearing in the newspapers. There are few solemn, serious cartoons of the Raemaker school. The majority tend to poke fun at the situation.

There are jokes built up around rescuing gas-masks from the top attic, about removing the beer bottles from the family air raid shelter, about civil defense duties providing a good excuse to the wife for a night out.

There are no lines for newspaper editions just off the presses, no extras being rushed onto the streets by screaming newsboys. People are going about their business in normal fashion.

The stores are doing usual business for the time of year. There are the usual crowds of window-shoppers and evening strollers on the main stems of the capital.

A survey has shown just as many people are going to France, Switzerland and Italy for their vacations as they did at this time last year, that there have been very few cancellations.

There has been a rash of theatrical and movie first nights. They have attracted the usual evening-dressed, fashionable crowds of first nighters, the usual bobby-soxers outside.

There have been no stirring scenes as the national anthem has been played. Appearance of the King or Queen or some leading western statesman on the screen has not brought forth any patriotic demonstrations; neither has Molotov been greeted with hisses or catcalls.

Altogether the mood of London is not pessimistic, not excited, and not apprehensive—yet.

Texas Youth Nabbed After One-Man Riot

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 2 (U.P.)—A 19-year-old Texan who said he had escaped from an Arkansas prison, was held today after standing off at least a dozen policemen in a free-for-all battle in a bus depot washroom.

The battle, which police described as a one-man riot, started last night when three detectives tried to arrest Allen J. Rodgers, 19, of Eldorado, Texas, on a charge of carrying deadly weapons.

Detectives Battered

Rodgers broke away and ran into the station washroom, followed by the officers. The door of the room jammed, and police reinforcements summoned by excited bystanders were unable to enter.

The detectives, battered and bloody, finally subdued the youth after 15 minutes of violent fighting in the close quarters. All required medical attention.

Police Inspector Richard Doyle said Rodgers admitted escaping from the Arkansas state prison at Verna, Ark., last Sept. 22, where he was serving a two-to-five year term for larceny. He made his way to Philadelphia via Memphis, Tenn.

Police had maintained a 24-hour vigil after a depot attendant reported a young man had placed a paper bag in a pay locker Thursday night, and a check revealed the bag contained a 38 caliber revolver loaded with dum-dum bullets.

Mother Of Five Is Anxious To Adopt 'Doorstep' Twins

DENVER, Oct. 2 (INS)— Mrs. Cora Perez, 25-year-old Denver mother of five children, was determined to adopt the twin baby girls abandoned on her doorstep.

A family of modest circumstances, the Perezes were undaunted by the housing shortage, the high cost of food and the international situation.

If authorities permit, they will provide a home for the four-or-five day old girls, who are now under hospital care.

Mrs. Perez found a blanket-filled basket outside her door yesterday morning. She ran in to awaken her husband, Moses, a railroad section foreman, with the news:

"Someone has left us a baby."

Her husband took a look and corrected her, "Not one, but two."

They were kept too busy with the new arrivals to notify anyone, until this morning when one of the girls was feverish. Both twins were taken to Denver General hospital where the illness was diagnosed as diarrhea.

Said Mrs. Perez, "We want to keep them. I've raised five, and I think I can raise two more. All the children love them."

Former State Secretary Hull Observes His 77th Birthday

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2. (AP)—Former Secretary of State Cordell Hull, whom the late President Roosevelt acclaimed as the "father of the United Nations," observed his 77th birthday today.

The occasion found him still strong in the belief that no matter how "hopeless" the task may appear this country must persist in its efforts to live peacefully with Russia.

Hull celebrated the day with an hour long drive which he and Mrs. Hull took through the sunny Maryland countryside. He also posed for photographers in the sun porch on the 17th floor of the naval medical center where he spends his time, under doctors' care.

To visitors he appeared to be in unusual good health for a man of his years and in view of the illness he has suffered since he left office in a state of physical collapse in October, 1944.

Religious Broadcast Program Ruling Hit

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2 (INS) — Rep. Rees (R-Kans.), said today that the Federal Communications commission "made a dangerous decision" in ruling that radio stations which broadcast religious programs must make time available to atheists.

Rees, chairman of the House Civil Service committee, assailed the FCC decision as "ambiguous" and said that it needed clarification. He declared:

"While it is true that our precious liberties include freedom of speech and freedom to worship as we see fit, I do not believe that these rights justify a government agency allowing a radio broadcast preaching slanderous statements regarding our creator.

"By virtue of its regulatory authority over broadcasting the FCC might have more properly denied the air waves to those who ridicule and condemn the ethical, moral, spiritual and religious standards, accepted by the people of the United States and upon which our democratic institutions are based."

Rees said that "left-wing minds" in Washington "cannot enter upon this field without incurring the righteous anger of every God-fearing man, woman and child in the United States."

South Korean Police Killed Or Missing In Fight With Reds

SEOUL, Oct. 2 (INS)—Ten South Korean police were reported dead or missing today on Korea's Chejudo island as the result of scattered fighting with Communist guerrillas.

Reports reaching Seoul from the island off the southern coast said 300 persons were left homeless when the Guerrilla force burned an entire village.

Police said the fighting began Thursday when about 2000 Communist guerrillas attacked two Chejudo police stations. National police reinforcements of 700 men were enroute to the island today.

Girl On Way To Scholarship Halted By Segregation Issue

NEW YORK, Oct. 2. (AP)—Rather than ride in a "Jim Crow" bus through Texas' Panhandle en route to a $2,000 scholarship here, a 17-year-old Navajo Indian girl returned to her Arizona reservation home, sponsors said today.

The girl was described as Florence Iva Begay, an honor student of Flagstaff, Ariz., high school, who had been chosen for a four year scholarship at Sarah Lawrence college, Bronxville, N. Y. The scholarship was set up jointly by the college and the Bureau of Indian Affairs.

Incident Announced

Announcement of the incident was made by Oliver La Farge, chairman of the American Indian fund of the Association on American Indian Affairs. Dr. Harold Taylor, Sarah Lawrence president, confirmed it.

"This is particularly unfortunate," Taylor said. "This girl was a brilliant student who intended to take our pre-medical course then take a doctor's degree and return to her reservation. We are deeply resentful of the particular piece of stupidity that caused her to return to her home."

La Farge said the girl was told when she reached Texas, near Amarillo, that she would have to sit in the rear of the bus, reserved for non-white.

La Farge Makes Statement

"An older and more experienced person might have been able to pass it off though it's certainly nothing that anyone would like," La Farge said, adding:

"This girl, however, was so frightened at the treatment that she got off the bus at the next stop and returned home."

La Farge said the girl never before had traveled more than 100 miles from her reservation home.

Some Texas Republicans Think Maybe They Chortled Too Soon

BY G. B. LLOYD, JR.
United Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, Oct. 2 — Some Texas Republicans, chortling earlier at dissension in the Democratic party, are wondering now if perhaps they laughed too soon.

The GOP presidential possibilities, they privately admit, aren't as bright in Texas as they might have been.

Interestingly, the States' Righters — belabored by the Democrats for thwarting party unit — are getting a verbal bludgeoning from the Republicans.

In off-the-record comments, state leaders in both parties are ladling out fire on the States' Righters for pulling potential votes from both sides.

1944 Votes Given

In 1944, the Republican's Thomas E. Dewey polled 191,425 Texas votes against 821,605 for Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Since then, the Republicans pointed out, four years have gone by under the administration of President Truman.

Chances for the GOP, they believed, were the brightest in 16 years in Texas.

The picture brightened even more with the spread of the Progressive party in Texas. Every convert to Henry Wallace, the Republicans believed, siphoned off one vote from the Democrats.

The GOP could never get those votes, but neither would the Democrats.

Blossoming criticism of Mr. Truman's civil rights program was music to the Republican ears.

Conservatives Lead Fight

The fight within the Democratic party was being led by its most conservative element in Texas. And the GOP — traditionally the most conservative of all the partys — held wide the gate.

As the fight within the party increased, Republican state leaders hopefully anticipated election day when large numbers of Democrats would ride to the polls—and vote Republican. So they hoped.

These Democrats, the GOP-ers reasoned, had no where else to go.

But the picture changed when the Dixiecrat faction became the States' Rights party.

Those potential Republican votes were lost under a new party label.

True, the States' Rights turnout would pull votes from the Democratic party, but blanket delivery of a block vote would stop short of the Republican line.

Too, strategists in each party are beginning to tighten their campaign lines along a belief that perhaps Mr. Truman isn't as weak in Texas as some had believed.

For one thing, the President completed more than 1,000 miles of stumping and a score of stops in Texas without a serious fumble. The crowds seemed to like him.

As Gov. Beauford Jester cautiously summed it up:

"Mr. Truman helped himself by coming here."

Amarillo Attorney Speaks At Bar Association Lunch Here

Lubbock Bar association was addressed at its semi-monthly luncheon Saturday in Lubbock hotel by Robert A. Wilson, a member of the Amarillo law firm of Underwood, Johnson, Wilson and Sutton.

The attorney spoke on preparation of defendants' negligence cases, in which category he is a recognized authority.

Approximately 80 attorneys were present, and guests attended from so far away as Hereford.

Such addresses, regularly presented before the bar association, are similar to those given in law institutes.

Der Fuehrer Still Owes $260 To City

VIENNA, Oct. 2 (AP)—Adolf Hitler still owes the City of Vienna $260—and the city is about to mark it off as a bad debt.

The money is owed for a grave ordered by Hitler for his niece, 17-year-old Angelika Raubel. Angelika's mother, Paula, was a cook in a Jewish University restaurant before Hitler made her his housekeeper at his mountain retreat in Obersalzberg, Germany.

Angelika went to Obersalzberg with her mother. She committed suicide in 1945 for reasons never made public. Rumors at that time said it was because Hitler transferred his affections to Eva Braun.

Hitler asked that she be buried in Vienna's Central Cemetery, and paid the undertaker 10 schillings ($1.00). That was his last contribution. Since this was before the Anschluss, Hitler had to ask the permission of the Austrian government to visit Vienna for the funeral. Later, the city was afraid to bring the bill to the attention of Der Fuehrer.

Building Contracts Total $11,334,975

AUSTIN, Oct. 2. (AP)—Non-residential building in Texas this week offset declining activity in engineering and residential projects.

The week's contract awards in all classes totalled $11,334,975, with non-residential projects accounting for $8,478,759 of the total, The Texas Contractor, trade publication, reported today.

Residential awards during the seven day period ending Oct. 1 dropped to $2,244,610, about $1,300,000 short of last week's total. Engineering projects were down to $611,606, about half their total last week.

In the residential category, 106 homes costing less than $7,000 each, 70 one-family units were put under construction.

Business and industrial buildings were the principal non-residential awards, totaling $4,898,258.

The week's awards boosted the year's accumulative total to $672,044,153.

General Plans Return To Cuba

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., Oct. 2 (U.P.)—Gen. Fulgencio Batista, former Cuban strong man and president for the last four years in exile, said today he will return to Cuba Nov. 20 to lead a "loyal opposition" to the new government.

Batista was elected senator from Las Villas' province June 1 and was to have taken his seat when the Cuban congress convened Sept. 20. He said he was remaining in his home-in-exile here until next month to give new President Carlos Prio Socarras "a chance to get his administration organized."

Will Oppose President

"I will not work with him," Batista said, "I will oppose him. But I will be a loyal opponent.

"I want to have peace in Cuba but it will be hard for him (Socarras). I would be happy if after four years I could applaud the president."

Batista was forbidden to return to Cuba after the election four years ago of President Ramon Grau San Martin who, Batista charged, engineered the election of his friend Socarras.

"The administration has not changed. Socarras is the same as Grau San Martin and I don't agree with the way he got into power," Batista said.

"He was elected legally but he represents only a minority. He will have my respect as president of Cuba but as a political leader I can say he won his post through bad tricks. He oppressed his opponents.

"But he is president and I will try to keep my friends at peace with him."

He shrugged off questions regarding the possibility of "trouble" in Cuba coincident with his return.

"You never can tell what the people will do," he said. "I am carrying out my duty as a disciplined soldier. The people have called upon me to return and I shall return to do their bidding."

Four-Year-Old English Boy Has 17 Years To Pay $3 Judgment

BURY, England, Oct. 2 (AP) — Four year old Stephen Jones has 17 years to save up $3 to pay a judgment.

The obligation grew out of an incident involving a stone about the size of a peach and the glass frame of a green house. The county court held Stephen and the stone were responsible for a smashed pane of glass.

Then the law took a curious twist. The action, it was held, was against Stephen, not his father. And the judgment was against Stephen. But a judgment cannot be collected from a legal infant, so the greenhouse man has to wait until the boy is 21 before he can collect.

99th District Grand Jury Will Report Monday Morning

A 99th district grand jury will report at 10 a. m. Monday to Judge G. V. Pardue.

District Attorney Lloyd Croslin said approximately 30 cases that had been filed with justices of peace for grand jury investigation would be referred to the 12 men.

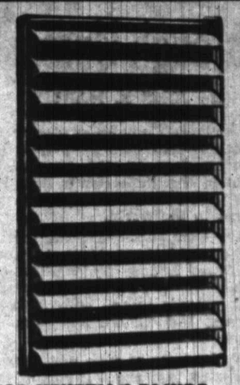

No murder cases are included, but there are two rape charges mixed with burglary, theft, swindling and other run-of-the-mill cases, Croslin said.

Confession? — Ask The Man Who Goes There!

Catholics go to Confession to a priest for one reason only: to obtain divine forgiveness for their sins.

But why, you ask, go to a priest? Why not confess our sins directly to God?

Ask the man who goes to Confession and here's what he will tell you: Sin is an offense against God, it must be forgiven by God. It is God, not man, who determines how forgiveness must be obtained. Christ plainly pointed this out when He empowered His Apostles and their successors to forgive sins or to refuse forgiveness.

"Whose sins you shall forgive," Christ said, "they are forgiven them; whose sins you shall retain, they are retained." (John 20:21-23). Thus Christ authorized the Apostles, and their successors, to pardon or to deny pardon as they judged the sinner worthy or unworthy. To do this they had to know what they were forgiving . . . the secret dispositions of the sinner . . . his sorrow and willingness to repair the wrong done to his neighbor by his sins. Who could make this known but the sinner himself—and what is this but Confession?

But Confession—the Sacrament of Penance—is only one of the seven Sacraments Christ left in His Church. Yes, seven—no more and no less! Christ's religion is not merely a message to be accepted, but a life to be lived—from the cradle to the grave. Christ's seven Sacraments are the answer to man's seven basic needs.

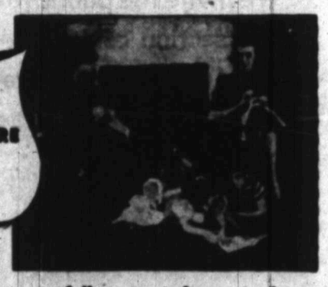

Man is born, but he needs to be reborn a Christian in the Sacrament of Baptism. He is nourished, but he needs Christian nourishment in Holy Communion, the Sacrament of the Eucharist. He grows, but he needs to grow and be strengthened in Christian life by the Sacrament of Confirmation. He is cured of disease, but he needs a remedy for sin, so destructive of Christian life, and this he finds in the Sacrament of Penance.

Man lives in society which needs officials to promote the common good—and for his life in the Church, he finds officials provided by the Sacrament of Orders. He perpetuates the human race in marriage, which Christ made the Sacrament of Matrimony. And at death, he needs consolation and strength for the last dread hour which he finds in the Last Anointing—the Sacrament of Extreme Unction.

Would you like to know more about each of the seven sacraments? How they can help you to meet the seven basic needs of your life? We'll be happy to send you without cost or obligation an interesting and enlightening home study course in the Catholic Religion. Then write today to the

Reds Strike At Marshall Plan Through Unrest In Indonesia

By JOHN M. MARTIN
INS Foreign Editor

The latest Communist attempt to wreck the Marshall aid plan is occurring deep in the jungles of Java in the Netherlands East Indies, one of the richest territorial prizes in the world.

The Communist uprising led by a Moscow-trained Javanese named Muso is seen by western officials as part of a Southeastern Asia pattern linked with Malaya, Burma, Indo-China, and possibly Siam.

An increase of such uprisings is predicted to prevent export of the raw materials from those rich areas.

War Within War

Western European leaders have been depending on access to these riches to make the Marshall plan work. Exports from there need not be paid for in dollars.

The Javanese Communist uprising is a civil war within a civil war, and both are ringed by the larger struggle between Russia and the major western powers.

The Indonesian story itself is complicated and can best be told in chronology.

Before the Japanese surrendered they planted a nationalist "time bomb" in Java by setting up a local government hastily thrown together with all the conflicting parties.

The Dutch had foreseen this and the retired Queen Wilhelmina announced a plan for local rule within the Dutch commonwealth.

Intermittent fighting and negotiations between the Dutch and the Republicans resulted in a more comprehensive Netherlands plan for a United States of Indonesia.

Republicans Fight Reds

The target date is Jan. 1, 1949, and Indonesian leaders have been given unlimited powers by their own parliament to suppress the Communist uprising in eastern Java and maintain the prestige of their infant regime.

Each state will have co-equal status with the home Netherlands government and be linked with the crown. Each is to have local governing powers but foreign affairs and currency will be handled by the U. S. of Indonesia regime.

All this sounds fine but the nationalist Republicans distrust the Dutch. Or at least the Indonesian republican part of the plan has bogged down in arguments over the transitional period.

A UN "good offices" team has failed thus far to secure agreement although intervention of the UN halted the 1947 summer "police action" of Dutch troops who seized a considerable hunk of Java.

Into this chaos six weeks ago stepped Muso, a 50-year-old obscure former Java school teacher who had spent nearly a quarter of a century in exile.

Muso spent much of this time in Moscow going to the Communist schools which have sprouted leaders now heading the eastern European nations obedient to Moscow.

Red Republic Proclaimed

Muso was accompanied by another Communist, Dr. Soeripno, a 30-year-old former law student who fought in Holland with the Dutch underground during the Nazi occupation.

Aiding them also is Dr. Amir Sjarifudin, former Republican Socialist premier.

Muso, only 37 days after he entered Java by plane under an alias, proclaimed a Communist republic with himself as president.

The uprising began in Java's third largest city, Madiun, which the Republicans recaptured Thursday. But Muso and the others escaped, and the fighting is going on at many points.

The Dutch feel that some political good may emerge from the uprising since the Republicans can no longer be decieved by native Communist talk of cooperating with them in nationalist objectives.

But the immediate alarm of the situation is that raw materials needed in western Europe simply are not flowing from Southeast Asia in the volume required.

Suit Charging Price Fixing Filed Against Rubber Firms

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2. (AP)—A suit charging illegal price fixing and discrimination was on file today against six large rubber firms and the Rubber Manufacturers Association, Inc.

The action was brought in federal district court by 27 tire dealers and the National Association of Independent Tire dealers. They want an injunction to halt the alleged practices, and $4,266,000 damages.

The six firms are Firestone Tire and Rubber Co., General Tire and Rubber Co., B. F. Goodrich Co., Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co., Lee Rubber and Tire Corp., and United States Rubber Co.

The dealers said dealer association members had lost millions because of reductions in discounts to dealers. They accused the makers of selling at discriminatory prices to various classes of the users, including large national concerns.

Odor, Possibly From Crude Oil, Permeates Lubbock Homes

An odor which several residents thought to be a natural gas odor but which may have been caused by crude oil permeated homes in an area in northwest Lubbock Friday afternoon and night and early Saturday.

Miss Beth Pope of 2210 Fifth said some of the residents of the neighborhood were unable to sleep for fear the odor was caused by gas.

West Texas Gas Co. received several calls regarding the odor and sent men to the area. Crude oil was in use at the George P. Livermore, Inc., shop at Fourth and Ave. W and it was said there that the odor referred to probably was caused by the oil.

70,000 Mexican Workers Are Claimed In U.S. Illegally

CHICAGO, Oct. 2 (AP) — The assistant secretary of foreign affairs for Mexico said today there are at least 70,000 semi-illegal Mexican workers in the United States.

Alfonso Guerra, who also is on the Mexican intersecretarial board on agricultural emigrant workers, said he planned to report his findings on the problem in about a month. He is touring the United States for first-hand information on illegal traffic of Mexican workers and compliance with contracts entered into by Mexican laborers.

Guerra said about 60,000 Mexicans are under legal contract in the United States under an agreement to use Mexicans to "serve the problem of scarcity of agricultural-labor in this country."

He said the 70,000 semi-illegal workers were those who had stayed in the United States beyond their contracted time. He added the figure "could only be a rough estimate" and declined to report on his findings so far, but said border patrols of the two countries are "cooperating very well" to prevent the illegal traffic.

BEAUTY THROUGH THE AGES SHALL ENDURE

The public first became acquainted with Tech Memorial Park about five months ago. Since then, this park has been visited daily by many people interested in knowing how it would compare with older places in this district. This park has been developed into an area so much more beautiful that it has been gratefully accepted by the public.

IMPORTANT!

At this time we have only one section dedicated to a particular faith or order. This is the Masonic section and is designated by an appropriate feature.

We invite the public to drive out and see this section and if the planning meets with your approval, we will be happy to discuss building sections for any faith or order.

Park Location

Just west of the City Limits on the Levelland Highway

A gentle-peacefulness permeates this quiet Park, so much so that any feeling of personal loneliness seems to depart and a sense of loss is replaced by a sense of restoration.

New Red Jet Plane Claimed To Have Speed Of 660 Miles Hour

NEW YORK, Oct. 2 (AS) Aviation Week magazine said tonight the Russian air force has a new jet-propelled model of its famous Yak fighter which has a speed of 660 miles an hour.

The magazine said technical data and motion picture film obtained through confidential sources shows that the fighter is already in operational service.

Aviation Week said the new "Yak" is powered by a British-built Rolls-Royce Nenejet engine.

The publication said that Russia imported 60 of these engines—reputedly the most powerful now in production—from Britain last winter amid widespread criticism.

The Russian jet fighter was described as being one of the fastest planes in operational service in the world.

The latest U. S. Air Force jet fighter with which tactical units are equipped is the Republic F-84, top speed of this plane is said to be over 600 miles per hour.

Aviation Week said that although the United States has several planes capable of greater than 600 miles per hour none is yet in operational service.

It pointed out that a U. S. plane —the North American F-86A—recently established a new world's record of 670 miles per hour but asserted that production versions of this plane will not be in use for some time.

Plane Clocked by Radar

The magazine said that the Soviet jet has been noted several times in confidential U. S. intelligence reports and claimed it was the plane referred to by Secretary of Air Symington last spring when he told a congressional committee that the Russians were building a "Chinese copy of the Republic F-84."

The publication said the Russian fighter, which probably was the plane clocked at better than 600 miles per hour by U. S. radar experts over Korea, is largely the work of Lt. Gen. Alexander Sergeiovich Yakelov.

Aviation Week asserted that the carefully gathered information reveals that "mass production of the Yak airframe poses no unusual problems. Production of its British-designed jet engines is a more complicated matter."

The liquor law violation charge naming Charles W. Spencer, 37, of Lubbock will be re-set for trial, it was indicated Saturday, a day after a mistrial was declared in the case by County Judge Walter Davies. An objection was made by Burton S. Burks, attorney for the defendant, to state examination of a witness in the case. Burks leveled an objection that the state, represented by Winston Brummett, assistant county attorney, prejudiced the rights of the defendant before the jury by seeking to elicit a statement that Spencer had trafficked in liquor before the date of the latest alleged offense, the earlier case not being in issue.

Eloise MacDonald, secretary-treasurer of the Fort Worth Civic Opera association, who was heard on a symphony program in Lubbock last season, will appear as guest star with James Melton on the "Harvest of Stars" program to be broadcast over CBS from Will Rogers Memorial auditorium in Fort Worth at 8:30 p. m. Jap Industrialist Accused Of Illegal Disposal Of Firearms

TOKYO, Oct. 2 (AS)—Takashi Komatsu, Harvard-trained Japanese industrialist, was arrested in Tokyo today on charges of illegal disposal of Japanese firearms.

Komatsu is accused of acting against the American occupation while he headed the semi-official Arms Disposal committee. This body contracted to handle a billion and a quarter tons of Japanese munitions including tanks and airplanes.

The Arms Disposal committee returned only two hundred million yen to the government. The committee claimed that most of the funds accruing from the war material were dissipated to pay for its distribution.

Earlier this week, Japan's minister of state, Takeo Kurusu, was arrested in a government loan scandal that almost caused the resignation of the Japanese cabinet.

Physicians Report Nauseating Drug Can Put Alcoholics On Wagon For Months Or Years

BY ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 2—Alcoholics can be put on the wagon for months and even years by a drug treatment that makes them sick of the sight, taste, or thought of alcohol, two Seattle physicians report.

The drug is emetine, which nauseates anyone who takes it. It's given to the chronic drinker. Before he becomes sick from it, he's given various kinds of drinks. He retches and is miserably sick, from the drug, not from the drink.

After four to eight such treatments, he can't stand the taste or sight of a drink, even when he doesn't get the drug first. He associates the sickness with the drink, even though he knows the drug was what made him sick.

Drug Is Not Cure

This association of ideas is psychological, and is called a conditioned reflex. A Russian, Pavlov, did a famous experiment with it. In his laboratory, a bell was rung before dogs were given or shown their food. The dogs' mouths watered at the sight and smell of the food. After a time, the ringing of the bell started their mouths to watering even when no food appeared.

This conditioned reflex treatment is not a cure for alcoholism. But a new report, based on treatment of 2,323 chronic drinkers since 1935, says it can be a valuable aid in helping alcoholics stop their drinking if they sincerely want to.

The results are described in the New England Journal of Medicine by Dr. Paul O'Hollaren, assistant chief of state of the Shadel Sanitarium, Seattle, and Dr. Frederick Lemere, staff psychiatrist.

They checked the record of the 2,323 patients who had received the treatment between 1935 and 1945. Nearly 45 per cent still were on the wagon in 1945, they said. On the average, those who had started drinking again had stayed dry for more than 11 months.

Results Of Treatments Given

The study shows that after the treatment, 85 per cent of alcoholics will abstain from drinking for at least six months. Seventy per cent will go a year or more. Sixty per cent make it for at least two years, 55 per cent for three years. Forty per cent go four years, and more than 30 per cent go seven years or more, and 25 per cent have stayed on the wagon for up to 10½ years, the end of the surveyed period.

To be done safely, the treatment has to be given by properly trained doctors or nurses.

It isn't a sure cure. Alcoholics don't drink to excess out of pure love for the taste of alcohol. The reason for their drinking lies in peculiar problems of personality, the mind, or their environment.

Another strange fact is that an alcoholic, once he quits drinking, can't take even a single drink safely. Cases are known where recovered alcoholics sincerely wanting to stay sober, started on sprees after taking cough medicine that contained alcohol.

The drug treatment is valuable because it helps the patient stop drinking while attempts are made to work out the personality or environmental problems behind his drinking.

The cases reported included persons, mostly men, of all ages, intelligence, and social and financial status. Treatment was not attempted on other patients who weren't sincere about quitting their drinking, or on a small number who were insane or who weren't well enough physically.

HISTORY OF ACCIDENTS

When a baby this case fell from a high chair and also from the top of her baby-bed. In March 1940 fell off see-saw.

CAME TO STEPHENS CHIROPRACTIC CLINIC

The mother of this girl brought her to the Stephens Chiropractic Clinic for an examination of her spine. X-Ray spinal pictures were made which revealed bad distortions of vertebrae of the spinal column. The Neurocalometer (nerve test) determined the severity of nerve interference between her brain at one place and the affected regions of her body at the other place.

RESULTS FROM SPECIFIC CHIROPRACTIC SERVICE

This girl began a course of scientific chiropractic service. In a few weeks time all the above symptoms began to improve and when she had completed her course of specific chiropractic health service she looked as tho she were a different person. Now her nervousness is entirely gone with no more fainting spells; she has gained in weight; her arms and legs do not go to sleep; no more pain at base of brain; and, no more neck trouble. Her mother is so pleased with her improvement that she has also become a patient of this clinic and is very pleased over her results so far.

With the arrival of the NEUROCALOGRAPH, a product of General Electric, a product of curacy of nerve analysis can be determined and now we can take cases who are worse and restore them to health quicker.

Now you can save $4.00 with the NEW Mertox. We know that the thousands of users of Mertox will welcome this drastic innovation. Better health --MORE medicine for LESS money.

Thousands of bottles of liquid Mertox were sold at $1.50. A few months ago we reduced the price to $1.25 because we realized incomes would not s-t-r-e-t-c-h far enough. This price reduction increased our sales volume tremendously. However, we were still not satisfied, for we felt that what was really needed was MORE medicine for LESS money.

But with constantly increasing costs of raw material, bottles, labor, freight rates, etc., we just could not see any possibility of a further reduction.

So we figured: why not eliminate the bottle, the high transportation costs, the extra labor costs of compounding, filling, capping, labeling and a great many other operation costs and put up Mertox in a simple form so that the user could make it himself? Here it is: Mertox in powder form, ready to make by simply adding water. For a few minutes' work you can save $4.00. It's simple; it's easy. Full, illustrated instructions on the package for making and taking.

The $1.25 bottle of Mertox contains 8 ounces. So do a great many other medicines. Thus, whether you used Mertox or some other 8-ounce bottle of medicine, here is the way it figures:

Four 8-ounce bottles (1 quart) at $1.25	$5.00
One carton the NEW Mertox (makes 1 quart)	1.00
YOU SAVE	$4.00

Fair Draws Good Crowds For Week

quantity and quality. The Women's department was outstanding. The second annual South Plains Rabbit and Cavy show during the last three days was one of the most heavily patronized attractions on the grounds.

Carnival Pleases Officials

The officials were highly pleased with the Forsythe & Dowis carnival. It carried fewer tent shows and fewer chance-game "gyp" concessions than probably any which ever has played on the fairgrounds. It consisted chiefly of rides, most of which were new and all in good condition. Complaints were few because of prices. It had been publicized as the "cleanest" carnival in the moral sense touring the Southwest, and it measured fully to this advance claim.

The impression prevailed among fair association officials that the 1948 exposition has established a sound pattern for bigger and better fairs in the future.

Special guests on the final day were the members of the press of the South Plains and Eastern New Mexico and the residents of Paducah, Spur, Matador, Dickens and Roaring Springs.

Night Crowds Heavy

Attendance during the afternoon of the final day was exceedingly light, but the crowd picked up at night and the Forsythe and Dowis carnival did a brisk business, particularly on the rides, practically until closing time.

The crowd was an orderly one. In fact, the entire week passed without disturbances of consequences. The grounds were well policed throughout the week, and traffic to and from the grounds was handled as efficiently as conditions would have allowed.

Saturday matinee attendance at the "Water Follies of 1948" was small, but the grandstand was about half full for the final performance at night. Manager Sam Snyder, of the "Follies," estimated the night crowd at about 2,500. The crowd seemed to enjoy the show thoroughly and the members of the cast gave probably their best performance of the week.

Many Attend Exhibits

The various exhibit buildings also attracted many visitors during the early evening. Exhibits in the Merchants building remained on display until closing time. Many of the others were removed Saturday night.

Most of the fair officials were well agreed, and operators of the Forsythe & Dowis carnival, were positive, that the fact that the Barnum & Bailey circus played on the grounds Wednesday was chiefly responsible for whatever financial success the fair enjoyed.

Even while the circus was performing before capacity audiences both afternoon and night, the midway and the remainder of the grounds were thronged. It was by far the biggest day for the carnival, accounting for as much as half the total receipts during the week for some of the concessions and attractions.

Another definite hit was the Seldon "stratosphere" act, presented twice daily on the midway. The result probably will mean more free attractions at future fairs.

The exhibits in the Agriculture and Women's department were pronounced the finest of any fair held here. They—and particularly the individual farm exhibits—probably will be given additional stress in future fairs.

The livestock in both the cattle and swine barns were short in numbers, as compared with pre-war standards. But the quality was as fine as ever was shown here, or in any other fair. Officials expect the entries in these departments will increase in number if and when conditions return to an approximation of pre-war levels.

Vote Drives Closed

such grave affairs as the Russian blockade of Berlin. And in speech after speech, Dewey has called on Americans for national unity as a shield against aggression.

Another important Republican pronouncement on foreign policy is expected Monday night when Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan delivers a nationwide broadcast. He, too, is expected to call for keeping America's dealings with other nations above partisanship.

Thurmond Pushes Drive

Little relaxation was in sight for Mr. Truman after his strenuous trip. In addition to conferring on international developments, he had to clean up routine White House business and prepare three major speeches for his eastern trip.

Two other presidential candidates continued their activity yesterday. Governor J. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina, nominee of the States' Rights Democrats, spoke at a tobacco festival at La Plata, Md. Progressive party candidate Henry A. Wallace arranged a series of speeches in Los Angeles.

Soon after his arrival in Southern California, Wallace criticized the film industry for making what he called "superficial" movies rather than ones carrying "real messages." If the movie makers continue picturing New York's Fifth avenue as the symbol of America, he declared, "They are going to make the whole world Communistic."

Vice Presidential nominees were busy, too.

Republican Earl Warren had a Saturday night speaking date in Baltimore. Democrat Alben W. Barkley, campaigning by air, carried his message to Minnesota voters at Rochester and Mankato. Glen Taylor, Wallace's running mate, had speaking dates at Springfield and Worcester, Mass.

Robert Louis Stevenson called the inhabitants of Samoa the "gayest of the Polynesians."

Carriers Will Act As Stepping Stones For Pacific Flight

PEARL HARBOR, Oct. 2. (AP)—The Navy next Tuesday plans to fly 12 short-range combat planes from California to Hawaii, using two aircraft carriers as refueling bases at 800-mile intervals.

The operation, from Moffett field, near San Francisco, to Barbers Point, on Oahu, will be the first long-range over-water ferrying flight of its sort.

The Navy announcement called it "a fast and practical" method which "will demonstrate that needed aircraft can be ferried over vast ocean reaches, using the shortest geographical point-to-point route."

It said that this use of carriers would permit routes to avoid "areas of possible enemy action" or bad weather.

Four F4U-4 Corsair fighters, four Grumman F8F Bearcats, and four Douglas AD-1 Skyraiders will be used in the demonstration.

They will take off in flights of four at dawn, landing on the carrier Tarawa 800 miles out.

Eight hundred miles farther out on the course of 2,400 statute miles, they will land on the carrier Princeton, and then make the final hop to Barbers Point Naval Air station.

Dallas Boosts Tech

opposed letting them in like some of the other member schools," declared one prominent SMU man, who asked that he not be quoted. "The game here today is an excellent example of what an annual contest between the two schools will do."

The stadium was filled to the brim and overflowing with more than 23,000 persons and several hundred more wandered around on the outside at game time hoping for a chance at a ticket.

Schools Paid Tribute

John W. Carpenter, chairman of the Texas Power and Light company who served as a member of Tech's first board, paid the two schools a tribute at a luncheon given for a group of SMU and Tech people at noon today in Virginia hall.

Attending the luncheon were people who had connections with both schools, graduates of SMU who are on Tech's faculty and former Tech people now prominent in business and professional circles in Dallas. The luncheon was arranged by Trent C. Root, former administration assistant at Tech, now assistant to President Umphrey Lee of SMU.

Attending were most of the deans of SMU, Willis Tate, dean of student life; Dred Smith, dean of arts and sciences; Edd Mouzon, chairman of the SMU athletic council; E. H. Fiath, engineering dean; Lawrence Fleck, dean of business administration; Dean Hemphill Hasford, dean of the university; Ronal Knickerbocker, publicity director; Geo. Bushong, alumni secretary; and Root.

Tech Group On Hand

Others attending beside Mr. Carpenter were: Dean James G. Allen, Band Director D. O. Wiley, Athletic Director Morley Jennings, Publicity Director Clark Schooley, Geo. Langord, Alumni athletic committee member; Directors Leon Ince, Houston; and Charles Wooldridge, Dallas; Tony Ullrich, Dallas Tech graduate; Guy Carter, Dallas, president of the Texas Alumni and Ex-Students association; and Paul White, president of the Dallas chapter of Texas Tech Exes.

The meal served the group was prepared by a Texas Tech home economics graduate, Miss Bea Heatley, dietician for the dormitory; and two former Tech students served the meal.

It was like that nearly everywhere you went in Dallas. You met some former Tech students holding down responsible positions in the city or at SMU. Nina Tynes Ramsey, another Tech home economics graduate, is also a djetician for the Dallas schools.

Exes Attend Reception

Wooldridge, the Tech board member who is an alumnus, is personnel director for the Texas Power & Light company. White is public relations director for the Ford Motor company's Dallas plant.

All these people and hundreds of them residing in the vicinity of Dallas attended a reception for alumni in the Presidential suite of the Baker hotel Friday night.

On the field at Ownby stadium this afternoon, Tech's crack 110-piece band made a big hit with the crowd by spelling out SMOO instead of the traditional SMU and then hastily correcting its mistake when chased by the drum major. The band was applauded for its symphonic arrangement of SMU's fight song and for a clever takeoff on the conference situation—displaying of a door on the field and striking up "Open the Door, Richard."

Dallas fans broke into laughter.

The game was the first home contest for the Mustangs in the 1948 season after having walked off with the "magazine championship," so naturally everybody from Dallas had but one thought in mind—seeing Walker and the Ponies go.

And for the first two quarters, they could barely sit still in their collective seats. What was the matter? Why couldn't the boys get going. Then they began to realize that Tech was playing a pretty good ball game in the face of odds, holding the vaunted home stars to a bare 13 points in the first half and then only yielding stubbornly for those two touchdowns.

But Walker was not to be denied and he came through in the third quarter and two bad breaks helped run up the score.

Taking Mexicans By Truck Halted

McALLEN, Oct. 2 (AP)—Hauling Mexican braceros by truck to southern states for farm work was ordered halted today by the Mexican consul here.

Consul Lauro Yzaguirre said no more Mexican farm hands could be moved from the Rio Grande valley until U. S. labor contractors furnished trains or busses for the trip.

During the day, however, about 300 braceros were processed at Hidalgo, on the border east of here, and an unreported number of them started a long truck ride to the cotton fields of Mississippi.

By this morning, 1,299 workers had been trucked out of the valley.

It was reported, however, that several hundred returned to Mexico rather than ride in crowded trucks.

Treatment Assailed

Yzaguirre reported to the Mexican government against the "inhumane treatment" given the workers.

Besides protesting the use of trucks, he complained that the Mexicans were not given enough food. The consul said hundreds of men were fed bologna, bread and water at Hidalgo last night before they were loaded into Mississippi-bound trucks.

He said the trucks, depending on their size, were loaded with 25 to 45 workers.

In San Antonio, north of the valley, one truck was stopped and its load split with another truck so that the braceros would not be overcrowded, Consul General Miguel Calderon said.

Otherwise, Calderon said, the movement was going ahead as far as he knew. Routine inspections were being made by "appropriate officers" to make sure the terms of the labor contracts were met, the consul general said.

New Soviet Proposal

fective international control over atomic energy.

These treaties, the resolution specified, should be drawn up with a view that both are to be signed and put into force simultaneously.

Only yesterday Vishinsky voiced flat opposition to international control of production of atomic raw materials as proposed by the United States and supported by all save the Soviet bloc.

Soviets Want Veto

The Soviet resolution, however, would put the assembly on record as saying that the work of the Security Council and the Atomic Energy Control commission so far had not yielded positive results. This is directly counter to the proposal by Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton of Canada for the Assembly to approve majority reports of the commission.

The atomic issue now stands this way:

1. Russia calls for simultaneous conventions on banning the atomic bomb and controlling atomic energy. But Russia has not changed her stand for putting controls into effect all along the line at the same time. She has not agreed to waive the veto on atomic violation and has not accepted the majority report approved by the atomic commission.

Western Plan Pushed

2. The western powers want the ban on the bomb written into the big treaty which sets up controls. They want no veto on atomic violations. They want controls to be put into effect by stages—the control organ would first make perfect its control on raw materials and on each separate part of atomic production — until it reaches the end of the line—before the atom bomb is banished.

Some western delegates predicted the big scrap between the Russians and the West now would be over when to apply the controls—whether by stages or simultaneously.

The question of whether the United States has a monopoly on the bomb and on atomic energy bobbed up again.

Ales Bebler, Yugoslav deputy foreign minister, spoke of the American position and asked "Is this convincing?" Then he said:

Reds Drop More Hints

"In a certain sense, yes. For it would convince anybody who reasons that this policy is designed to guarantee to the United States the monopoly of the atomic weapon which they think they have."

Vishinsky hinted twice yesterday that the United States no longer has a monopoly.

Ramadier said the hints dropped by Vishinsky and Bebler were proof that international inspection is necessary before the bomb can be banned. He supported the American position that the international control organ must be established before the bombs can be scrapped.

Gen. McNaughton told a reporter there is no precise indication Russia has the atomic bomb yet but that they will have it one day.

"We still have a little time, possibly half a decade, in which to establish world control of atomic energy," he said.

The political committee will suspend its atomic energy debate Monday afternoon so as not to conflict with the Security Council's hearing on the Berlin issue.

been placed in charge of training all Soviet zone police at Freienwalde, 20 miles northeast of Berlin.

The British-licensed Telegraf quoted an unidentified Soviet zone police official as declaring in a speech that Russia is ready to produce tanks and aircraft "to destroy western reaction."

German newspapers also told of increased disorders due to food shortages in the Soviet zone.

Reports have been multiplying for the past few weeks of the arrival in the Soviet zone of Moscow-trained former German soldiers captured at Stalingrad.

Cotton Outlook Dark

about 50,000 bales are on land which will produce no more than one bale to 15 to 40 acres. There is a question as to how much of this may be harvested, he commented. Pickers aren't interested in working in this kind of cotton. Stripping or sledding after the first freeze may be the answer if the staple in the open bolls is not ruined by weather before that time.

Irrigated Cotton "Good"

Cotton on irrigated land was reported to be generally in good shape, and may account for more than half the total crop. The chief irrigation counties are Lubbock, Hockley, Lamb and Hale.

Lubbock county continues to head the list of South Plains cotton counties, with an estimated 95,000 bales, as compared with 130,000 on Sept. 1.

Estimates for other area counties on Sept. 1 and Oct. 1, as predicted by Clapp, follow:

County	Sept. 1	Oct. 1
Bailey	30,000	26,000
Briscoe	7,000	4,000
Castro	9,000	7,000
Cochran	30,000	20,000
Crosby	45,000	30,000
Dawson	75,000	55,000
Deaf Smith	2,000	2,000
Floyd	35,000	30,000
Gaines	8,000	4,000

Street Paving Here

seventh; Harrison to Twenty-fourth; Jackson from Twenty-second to Twenty-third; Monroe from Twenty-ninth to Thirty-third; Sanders from Vernon to Uvalde, and Vernon from First to Fourth.

Here's how the affected property owner can help to speed up the work. Practically all have signed petitions requesting pavement. It is on the basis of these petitions that the paving contract has been let.

But the majority have not signed the liens which guarantee the payment of their portion of the improvement. Work will not be started on the individual streets scheduled for paving until the liens are signed.

City Engineer Oldham therefore asks those who have not signed to visit the engineer's office on the second floor of the city hall at their earliest convenience and to sign the necessary papers. This plan, he believes, will be a great deal faster than to send out men to try to obtain the necessary signatures. Representatives will be sent out, but the whole job can be started and finished a great deal quicker, he believes, if the affected property owners will visit the city hall when they are downtown to sign up. He reminded that, on homestead property, both husband and wife must sign.

A few of the projects, he reported, already have been signed in full. They include Avenue M from Second to Fourth, where the first work will be done. Others are Twenty-eighth from Monroe to Van Buren; Thirty-first from College to Washington; Thirty-third from Adams to Jefferson; and U from Fourth to Fifth. The paving on these streets is ready to go.

Spur School District Voters Approve $155,000 Bond Issue

SPUR, Oct. 2 (Special) — Voters of the Spur Independent school district today approved the proposed $155,000 school bond issue, with an election vote of 244-192.

The bonds are to be used for the construction of a new school building for the Spur school plant, and for the repair of existing buildings. To be constructed is an additional 10-classroom building with auditorium, and an additional four-classroom negro school building.

The election was held in the city hall here. Election judges were C. O. Fox and J. I. Mecom. Clerks were Mrs. A. M. Walker and Mrs. Inez Hamilton.

No increase in the school tax will result with the approval of the issue, however, officials pointed out. The valuations of property in the district were raised in a board of equalization meeting in July in order that the bonds could be issued without additional taxation.

American Killed When Fire Truck, Airlift Plane Collide

FRANKFURT, Germany, Sunday, Oct. 3 (AP) — The U. S. Air Force said an American was killed last night in a freak accident involving two C-54 air lift transport planes.

The Air Force said a fire truck crashed into a taxiing plane on the Frankfurt Rhine-Main air base, busy center of the air lift operation to Berlin. The driver of the truck, an enlisted man, was killed by the rotating propeller. Two German fire truck assistants were injured slightly.

The death of the truck driver brought to ten the number of Americans killed since the air lift started on June 26.

PERON LIFTS NEWS BAN

BUENOS AIRES, Oct. 2 (AP)—The Peron government temporarily restored to five foreign correspondents tonight their right to send news messages. Their privileges had been lifted 12 hours earlier. The government explained neither action. Cable companies said the government told them to accept and transmit news until Monday when a definite decision would be made.

News Briefs

Danny Atcheson, three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. James Atcheson who underwent major surgery at Lubbock Memorial hospital Friday, was reported by hospital attendants Saturday to be "resting well" and in improved condition. The youngster had had blood transfusions, it was reported.

Graveside services will be conducted at 3 p. m. today in Lubbock cemetery for one of the infant twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Sullivan, born Friday night in West Texas hospital. The baby died about 3:30 a. m. Saturday. Sanders Funeral home will be in charge.

A 29-year-old Lubbock negro was arrested last night in 2600-block East Ave. G after witnesses said that he had displayed a pistol at the home of Minnie Johnson, 2625 East Ave. J, and threatened to shoot Junior Johnson. The pistol allegedly snapped on two artridges but did not fire either, and the pistol was taken from the man by another party at the scene. The subject will be charged with disturbance by displaying a deadly weapon, police reports indicated. The pistol allegedly contained two cartridges of ammunition which had failed to fire upon being snapped.

A false alarm call brought several pieces of heavy equipment and police squad cars racing to a "drug store fire" at Twenty-sixth street and Jefferson about 1:15 a. m. this morning. Searching the area, firemen reported no trace of a blaze.

Super Atomic Blitz

the past. Whatever the size of future bomber formations carrying atomic bombs, they will never equal the size or frequency of strategic bombardment raids as we have known them.

"Future formations carrying atomic bombs might well contain about 16 aircraft. We can expect such aircraft to be extremely fast. Speeds up to 450-500 miles an hour should be obtained for short intervals, with cruisihg speeds of 300-350 miles an hour. . . .

"Bomber raids will be conducted over a relatively short period of time, perhaps no more than three months, at which time the war will have been decided one way or the other."

Smith goes in for some elaboration on how a super-blitz with nuclear fission explosives would operate.

He thinks that 300 bombers could do the job, but to make estimates safe speculates that 370 might be needed if losses to missions ran as high as 20 per cent. (On only one or two occasions were World War II losses as high as that. The general figure was about five per cent or less.)

VA Building Sold

ment specifically for use by a regional veterans administration organization. Containing 70,266 square feet of floor space on the two floors, the building, which cost in excess of $750,000, houses all phases of the regional VA operations, including medical and dental laboratories and in some instances clinical treatment facilities.

It is fully air-conditioned and equipped with flourescent lighting throughout.

So adequate are its facilities considered by the government that a similar building was authorized for the VA regional organization at Houston, and contract for its erection also was awarded to the West Texas company.

Members of the board of directors of the building organization are Homer G. Maxey, Carl E. Maxey, Robert H. Bean, Wm. H. Evans, J. F. Anthony, and Buster Welch.

Robert W. Sisson, regional VA manager, said yesterday he had received indirect notice of the government's purchase of the property, but had not yet received official notification.

The conference is intended to bring together engineers, planters, teachers, and representatives of government and industry to discuss mechanization problems.

Hearing Set Monday

that formal consideration might not come until the following week.

Former Gov. Dan Moody, a Stevenson attorney, was expected to arrive here shortly, to be on hand in the event the case comes up Monday.

The Stevenson motion noted that an appeal is pending in the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals for hearing at Atlanta Monday, and that both Judge Davidson and Circuit Judge Joseph C. Hutchinson had refused to stay the injunction order—"the latter stating that as judge of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals he was without power to grant a stay . . ."

VOTE INVESTIGATION TO BE RESUMED IF ORDER DROPPED

DALLAS, Oct. 3 (AP)—Reports of two commissioners appointed by U. S. Judge T. Whitfield Davidson to investigate charges by Coke Stevenson of election fraud and irregularities in three South Texas counties will be available to the press and public when filed, Judge Davidson said here today.

The reports were scheduled to be filed with the U. S. district clerk in Fort Worth Saturday, but Judge Davidson said there might be some delay due to work of transcribing testimony of witnesses.

Coke To Oppose Action

The investigation was ordered by Judge Davidson in connection with an injunction suit filed by Stevenson to keep Lyndon Johnson's name off the Nov. 2 general election ballot as the Democratic nominee for the U. S. Senate.

The injunction granted by Judge Davidson restraining the placing of Johnson's name on the ballot was stayed by order of U. S. Supreme Court Justice Hugo Black and Johnson's name has now been ordered printed on the ballot.

Stevenson's attorneys have applied to the full Supreme court to set aside Justice Black's order. This is set for hearing Monday in Washington.

Would Resume Probe

Meantime Judge Davidson said Stevenson's injunction suit will remain on the federal court docket at Fort Worth pending final action on Justice Black's stay order.

Judge Davidson ordered the two masters to drop the vote fraud investigation when formally notified of Justice Black's action. Should the stay order be set aside, Judge Davidson said the investigation will be resumed and completed. Otherwise, the Stevenson injunction suit will be dismissed, he said.

Judge Davidson will open a court session in Abilene Monday. If he deems the reports of his two commissioners of sufficient importance he will order the reports delivered to him at Abilene, he said.

Charlie Chaplin Contributes $1,000 To Wallace Campaign

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 2. (INS)—Film producer-comedian Charlie Chaplin contributed $1,000 to the Henry Wallace presidential campaign tonight in response to a plea for funds to "combat the sneers and slander."

The plea for funds brought another $1,000 from an anonymous donor, $500 from Ben M. Heller, half a dozen checks for $250 and several for $100.

Wallace raised $23,000 last night at a $12.50-a-plate dinner at Ciro's, plush Hollywood night spot. The event was emceed by Walter Huston and movie colony figures there included Gale Sondergaard, Evelyn Keyes, Larry Adler, Ian Hunter, Karen Morley, Johnny Mercer, Anne Revere and Sam Jaffee.

Seventy per cent of the nation's dresses, coats, blouses and furs for women are manufactured every year in New York state.

Berlin Debate Called Futile

ing in Paris Monday.

He stressed that the rail, road and barge routes to Berlin were blocked in June because of what he called "the partitioning of Germany as conducted by the western powers."

The statement suggested strongly that the Soviet Union decided at some stage during the Moscow talks that an agreement on Berlin would come only if the U. S., Britain and France abandoned their plans in western Germany. When the West refused, the Moscow agreements were deadlocked by new demands in negotiations that followed here between the four military governors.

Sokolovsky asserted the four power air agreement for traffic to and from Berlin gave the western powers the right "only to serve the requirements of occupation troops of the western powers in Berlin."

This appeared to be an implied hint of a Russian crackdown on the Berlin air lift, which has been supplying the 2,000,000 or more Germans in western Berlin during the blockade.

He contended "there was and is not a blockade of Berlin." Sokolovsky said western Berliners could get food and coal from Russia if they registered in the eastern part of Berlin and that they need not depend on the air lift, which he termed an expensive "propagandistic measure that burdens Germany with superfluous cost."

The most interesting part of Sokolovsky's long question and answer statement was his reply to a query about what caused the blockade.

"If the western powers did not have in mind the splitting of Germany, neither the Berlin nor any other crisis in German affairs would have arisen," he said.

He repeated many times the Soviet charge that the six power agreement in London to set up a western German political and economic union had partitioned Germany and nullified four-power government.

His stress on this point made it clear that Russia has no intention of making any agreement lifting the Berlin blockade unless the west agreed to cancel its plan for western Germany.

It was significant that the statement came on the eve of the UN debate on the blockade. It indicated the Russians will fight the western cause with counter-charges of their own—accusations which have been printed for months in papers the Russians control.

Sokolovsky's remarks all have been echoed in the Russian-run Berlin newspapers for months. It was the first time, however, the Russian commander had made a full statement on the Berlin situation.

The Russians imposed the blockade late in June and the U. S. and Britain have been supplying the western zones of the city by air ever since.

Sokolovsky referred to the London conference of the U. S., Britain, France and the low countries and the decisions reached there for a western German government, and said:

"Separate decisions of the three western powers concerning the fundamental question of Germany's fate broke control of the Allied council and the quadripartite administration of Germany, and the subsequent administration of Berlin was given a devastating blow, all the more so since the West undertook to attempt to incorporate the western sectors of the city into a west German state."

Three Men Arrested

Police said Friday they had recovered $39 that allegedly came from White's station, which was entered by a window. Short had been employed there since moving here a week previously.

Three Lubbock men, 37, 25 and 19, were arrested for drunk driving charges which, it was indicated, would not be filed before Monday. Two of them were driving taxicabs, arresting police said.

One of the drivers also was under investigation in connection with theft of a jacket, a flashlight, a hat and a .25 caliber pistol Friday night from the car of Delton Holt of Idalou, the sheriff's department said, adding that some of the property, had been recovered by Deps. Sheriff Raymond Land and Frank Mitchell.

Other Thefts Reported

A tire and wheel, valued at $35.25, were reported stolen from the car of Joe Dawson of 2614 Twenty-fourth.

T. A. Holeman of east of Lubbock informed the sheriff's department that gasoline had been stolen there and someone had kicked down the front door of his residence. Nothing was believed to have been taken from the residence.

A negro "ran off" without paying for $2.40 worth of gasoline he had pumped into his car at Davis gasoline station three miles from Lubbock on the Idalou highway.

The victim of a fight in which he allegedly was stomped and seriously injured about the face told police he did not wish to press charges against two assailants, but suggested that simple assault charges be filed against him and the two others.

Four Mexicans paid fines of $15 each for selling junk without first procuring licenses.

Eight other men were fined $15 each for gambling with dice, police said.

Marvin James of 2104 Fifth informed police that a tire and wheel valued at $25 had been stolen from him.

Charles Evans of Levelland reported that a $165 Doodlebug motor scooter had been stolen from him there.

Spy Investigators May Cite Six Men For Contempt Of Congress

By RAYMOND WILGOVE
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2 — Three aides of Henry A. Wallace, two alleged espionage leaders and a Communist functionary today face possible citations for contempt of Congress for failure to testify in the House spy hearings.

Rep. McDowell (R-Pa.), declared that he will urge the House Un-American Activities committee to launch contempt proceedings against the six men. They are:

Six Are Named

Lee Pressman, former CIO general counsel who broke with the labor organization to support Wallace for president.

John Abt, general counsel for Wallace's Progressive party and former counsel for the CIO political Action committee.

Nathan Witt, former National Labor Relations board counsel, who is now also connected with the Wallace movement.

Nathan Gregory Silvermaster and Victor Perlo, former government employes named as heads of Communist espionage rings.

Steve Nelson, Communist party chairman in western Pennsylvania.

The committee already has recommended to the Department of Justice that Nelson be prosecuted for violation of the espionage laws for attempting to turn over to the Soviet government atomic secrets. The committee also named for conspiracy to commit espionage two American atomic scientists and the wife of one.

The six men declined to answer pertinent questions put to them by committee members, including the query "are you or have you ever been a member of the Communist party?" As grounds for their refusal, they claimed immunity under the fifth amendment to the constitution.

A subcommittee previously had announced it would recommend the citation of Nelson for contempt, but McDowell said he would urge the full committee to broaden the proceedings to include what he termed "the top level group" among the recalcitrant witnesses.

About nine other witnesses also availed themselves of constitutional immunity and refused to answer questions during the committee's investigation of Communist and Soviet espionage. McDowell commented, however, that:

"I don't think our committee should clutter up the courts with citations against a lot of little two-bit functionaries, but should go after the big ones."

Conviction of contempt of Congress carries with it maximum penalties of one year imprisonment and $1,000 fine.

Numerous witnesses already have been cited by the committee for contempt and convicted, but these were among the first to plead constitutional immunity under the fifth amendment for their refusal to talk.

High Non-Agriculture Employment Forecast

AUSTIN, Oct. 2. (AP)—An all-time high for non-agricultural employment by mid-October was predicted today by the Texas employment commission.

Such employment passed the 2,279,000 mark in August and a mid-October total of 2,313,000 workers gainfully employed was foreseen.

TEC based its mid-October forecast of non-agricultural employment upon employers' statements that 33,700 additional workers will be added to Texas' already bulging labor market. Seven thousand two hundred of these new workers will be added by factories.

Retail trade enjoyed the greatest gain in August with the addition of 2,300 employees. Gains were scattered but showed up more consistently in the northern and western parts of the state.

Wholesale trade employment advanced sporadically, but a net loss was attributed chiefly to seasonal slow-down in food processing. Governmental establishments picked up 2,000 workers with San Antonio, Corpus Christi, Texarkana, Wichita Falls and Houston showing most substantial gains.

Geographicaly the biggest gain in non-agricultural employment was reported in the Houston-Baytown area where a jump of 2,900 occurred. Other areas reporting substantial additions to payrolls were Dallas, 1,200; Corpus Christi, 800; Fort Worth, 700; San Antonio, 600; Lubbock 600; and Amarillo, 300. Decreases in employment-Port Arthur; Galveston-Texas City and minor losses were noted in the Texarkana and San Angelo areas.

West Texas Cotton Farmers Face Shortage Of Pickers

AUSTIN, Oct. 2. (U.P.) — West Texas cotton farmers are experiencing a temporary shortage of 12,575 pickers, the Texas Employment commission reported today.

In a survey of labor conditions, the TEC said that the north and north-central cotton crop is approximately 60 per cent picked. Some 379,000 bales, the report said, have been ginned and the total yield is expected to hit 620,000 bales.

Machine strippers have started working in Kent, Dawson, Gaines, Lynn, Garza, Terry and Yoakum counties. Pulling, the TEC reported, has reached its peak in the vicinity of Abilene and San Angelo.

Longhorns Smash Lobos, 47-0; Razorbacks Defeat TCU, 27-14

Southern Methodist Tramples Raiders, 41–6

Shands Makes Spectacular 76-Yard Run

AUSTIN, Oct. 2. (AP) — The Texas Longhorns toyed with the New Mexico Lobos as they chalked up a 47-0 victory here today before 33,000 football fans.

Famed in recent years as a passing team, Texas quit the air lanes today. The Longhorns tried only three passes—all in the first half—and completed two. All the scoring came on running plays.

Fullback Ray Borneman, from Houston, started the touchdown parade. He took a pitchout from Quarterback Paul Campbell and went around right end 21 yards to pay dirt. The initial tally came 3 minutes 55 seconds after the game started. Frank Guess missed the try for extra point. The tally climaxed a 66-yard march.

It was Borneman across the Lobo double stripe again a few minutes later, this time on an 8-yard gallop through the middle. Guess converted.

The sweetest run of the day was turned in by H. J. (Bubba) Shands, substitute right half. He came tearing off the Texas left tackle in the second quarter, cut to the sideline and outdistanced the new Mexico safety in a 76-yard race to the goal. Randall Clay added the point, his first of four successful conversions in five attempts.

Substitute backs did the rest of the scoring. Right half James Lowrey of Lubbock accounted for two of them, one on a 12-yard drive through center and the other on a 6-yard sprint around left end in the final quarter.

Speedster Perry Samuels sent the score to 33-0 before the half on a two-yard buck.

Samuels was robbed of a second touchdown when his scintillating 75-yard punt return in the third quarter was wiped out by a clipping penalty against Texas.

The Longhorns amassed 383 yards rushing compared with New Mexico's 107.

Clyde Scott Is Porker Standout

FORT WORTH, Oct. 2 (AP) — The Arkansas Razorbacks took advantage of the breaks and manufactured a few of their own to whip Texas Christian university 27-14 here tonight.

Clyde Scott led the Razorbacks from behind and once the big, rough Arkansas boys started to roll the Southwest Conference's first payoff game was never in doubt.

Scott, turning in one of his finest performances, scored the second quarter touchdown that brought Arkansas even. He put the Porkers ahead in the third period and after Louis Schaufele built up the margin with a 30-yard runback of an intercepted pass, wound up by scoring again in the fourth.

Texas Christian broke the ice first. Arkansas' Leon Campbell fumbled on the first play after the opening kick and Billy Moorman recovered for the Horned Frogs.

Lindy Berry, a jackrabbit back from Wichita Falls, and Big Pete Stout powered a ten-play 41-yard drive that paid off with Stout going over from the one-foot line.

It was Stout who gave Texas Christian its final touchdown in the fourth period. He climaxed a fifty-five yard-march by smashing over fro mthe one-foot line.

James Reichert kicked three extra points for Arkansas and Homer Ludiker two for Texas Christian.

Baylor And Maroons In 7 To 7 Deadlock

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Oct. 2. (AP)—Baylor's "T" and Mississippi State's single wing fought to a 7-7 deadlock here today in a thrill-spilled game witnessed by 21,000 fans.

State broke the ice in the second period when sophomore End Art Tait blocked Adrian Burk's kick and Murry Alexander took the ball over from his own 18. Baylor's tally came after a sustained drive launched at the outset of the third period. Both tries for extra point were good.

State's famed Shorty McWilliams led the Maroons in a ground attack that bested the Bears 118 yards to 57. But Adrian Burk's passing arm put Baylor ahead 83 to 15 in the aerial battle.

Strangely enough, the Bears' passing was only a minor factor in their touchdown drive which started with the second half kickoff.

Jerry Mangum and James Mott sparked a ground drive that netted four first downs and advanced the ball from Baylor's 22 to the State 30 before Hayden Fry tossed the first completed pass of the half.

Then a pair of passes by Burk and Ray Painter took the ball down to the 4, and Frank Boydstun took it over from the 2. Henry Dickerson kicked the point.

The first half was ruled by the Brooks, culminating in Alexander's touchdown dash. Baylor had taken the ball on its own 32, and two ground plays and an incompleted pass left the Bears on their 35.

Doak Walker Paces Ponies To Victory

Battling Tech Gridders Match SMU In First Downs And Yards Rushing

By JOE KELLY
Avalanche-Journal Sports Editor

OWNBY STADIUM, Dallas, Oct. 2.—A sluggish, lethargic Southern Methodist university football team came to life in the second half this muggy afternoon, running wild through the Texas Tech's Red Raiders to hand them a crushing 41-6 defeat before a crowd of 23,000 persons.

Doak Walker, the elusive, slippery All-American, sparked the Mustangs to their fourteenth win in two years, two ties marring the record, although he scored only once. But it was his magic legs and rubber arm that put fire into the Ponies and led them to a victory that convinced even the most skeptical of his ability.

Raiders Are Overpowered

The Raiders simply were overwhelmed by the brilliance of the Mustang attack, although they never ceased to fight back. And their efforts were rewarded in the final quarter, when they marched 80 yards on a sustained drive against the Pony reserves, finally crossing into paydirt. Glenn Lewis dove two yards through the line to score, after Earl Jackson's hard running had sparked the Raiders on their march.

After the Mustangs had scored their second touchdown of the third quarter, Coach Matty Bell mercifully took the brilliant Doaker out of the game and sent in a complete new line and backfield. It might have been better to have left the varsity in the game. The Mustang reserves caught fire, with Kenneth Grantham, Frank Payne, Bill Weatherford and Gene Roberts doing the damage where Paul Page, Dick McKissack, Kyle Rote and Walker left off.

SMU used up 10 minutes of the first quarter before sending Page over his own left tackle from the Raider four for the first touchdown, the drive covering 49 yards. Walker carried twice and passed once in the drive to set up the score, completing the damage with a conversion.

Doak Walker Scores

Again the Mustangs used 10 minutes before scoring their second touchdown in the second quarter. This time David Moon intercepted a pass by Ernest Hawkins on the SMU 40-yard marker, returning to the Tech 27. Six plays later Walker slipped through center from the one, after inserting a 28-yard run on a fake forward pass.

After the half, the Mustangs really caught fire, moving through the battling Tech forwards with baffling ease. Walker set up the first score by taking the Tech kickoff on his own 12-yard line and returning to the Tech 41, a 48-yard return. Four plays later McKissack raced around his own right end to score standing up and Walker converted.

That score took less than two minutes, and four and a half minutes later Walker engineered another touchdown. Walker returned Bill White's kick from the SMU 44 to the Tech 40. Four plays later the score came on a pass from Walker to Bobby Folsom.

Raiders Cross Goal Line

That was when "Moaning Matty" removed his varsity and allowed the reserves to complete the carnage. And Grantham committed the most damage, intercepting a desperate aerial by Hawkins on the Tech 30 and racing over for the Mustangs' third score of the quarter.

After that, it was only the sheer intestinal fortitude of the Raiders that kept the sellout crowd in its seats. Tech moved and moved beautifully, with Bill Lyman directing the goalward surge. A 20-yard romp by Glenn Lewis to the SMU 11-yard marker set up the score.

There need be no abilis for the Raider squad. They simply were outclassed by a team that showed all its vaunted power in one half. The Techsans were not dishonored by the loss, making the same number of first downs, 13, and actually outgaining the Ponies on the ground, 224 yards to 210. But the incomparable Walker made the difference. His twinkling legs shook off Tech tacklers consistently and his good right arm hit his receivers with deadly accuracy.

SMU mixed its attack to perfection and the Mustang line played superbly. Tech made yardage, but when they needed it the most, the Pony line rose up to stop them. And the backs broke up virtually all attempted passes, except in the final quarter.

California Swamps St. Mary's, 20 To 0

BERKELEY, Cal., Oct. 2 (INS)—The Rosebowl - hopeful California Bears swamped a plucky St. Mary's eleven 20 to 0 today in Berkeley's memorial stadium.

A crowd of 54,000 fans watched the California juggernaut, stopped almost cold in the first half, take its third straight win of the season.

Only the sticky fingers of Bear Halfback Charley Sarver kept the Gaels from holding the four-touchdown favorite California team to a scoreless tie in the first half.

Late in the second period, Sarver, in a sweet jumping catch, pulled a 25-yard pass out of the air and landed one step inside the St. Mary's end zone.

As superior California reserves wore down the St. Mary's team, the Bears pushed over two more scores in the third quarter, one on a blocked St. Mary's punt.

Sooners Beat Aggies, 42-14

NORMAN, Okla., Oct. 2 (AP)—The University of Oklahoma, picking up momentum after a shaky start, pounded the Texas Aggies 42-14 today to hand the Cadets their third straight loss this season.

The Sooners scored a touchdown in each of the first three quarters and then cut loose with some healthy passing to help make three touchdowns in the final period.

Twenty-five thousand shirt-sleeved persons watched the Sooners take the rubber game of the nine-contest series with the Cadets.

The Aggies scored once in the first period and again in the final frame.

The game was a lot closer than the score indicated, with the Aggies keeping the Sooners scrapping until that final period.

Oklahoma scored first but the Cadets tied the score 7-7 on the long run of the game, a sensational 90-yard kickoff return by Bob Goode. Herbert Turley kicked the extra point, his first of two.

The Cadets' final score was in the closing minutes of play on a pass interception by Charley Royalty, who snaked fifty yards to the goal.

March 67 Yards

The Sooners took the first kickoff and marched 67 yards, with George Thomas crashing through center to score. In the second period Thomas counted again with a run from the Aggie 26. In the second period Thomas counted again with a run from the Aggie 26. An 88-yard Sooner drive in the third quarter climaxed in Jack Mitchell's scoring plunge from the four.

A punt by Darrel Royal, whose kicks for Oklahoma were stellar through the entire game, went out on the Cadet one yard line in the fourth period. On the next play, the Cadet's punt was partially blocked and Oklahoma got the ball on the 21. Royal then fired a pass to Leon Heath over the goal.

With six minutes left in the game, Oklahoma gained the ball on its 43 after a punt. Claude Arnold passed to Heath for another touchdown.

On the last Aggie kickoff, the Sooners took the ball on the 32. Mitchell broke loose to the goal but was out of bounds on the Aggie 33. Lindell Pearson followed with a 31-yard romp to the two. Joe Cunningham picked up a yard to try to score.

Leslie Ming made all six extra point tries good.

Tyler Apaches Squeeze Out 7-0 Victory Over NT Aggies

TYLER, Oct. 2. (AP)—The Tyler Apaches squeezed out a 7-0 victory over the North Texas Aggies in a Southwestern Junior College Conference football tilt before a Rose festival crowd of 9,000 here today.

Tyler's score came late in the first quarter when Halfback Gene Shannon plowed over from the six-inch line. Bill Porter kicked the extra point.

The touchdown play was set up when Tackle Charles Quilter recovered a fumble on the NTAC 20 and Quarterback Don Page hit Eugene Leach and Shannon in two pass plays which moved the ball to the two. The Aggie line gave ground by inches for two plays, then Shannon smashed through.

LSU Defeats Rice, 26-13

HOUSTON, Oct. 2. (AP)—Louisiana State scoring in every quarter defeated highly favored Rice Institute tonight, 26 to 13, before a crowd of 29,000.

After exchanging touchdowns with the Owls in a fast moving first period, the Louisiana squad cashed in on a blocked punt, a Rice fumble and pass interception in successive periods for additional scores.

Rice outgained the Tigers both on the ground and in the air but a tight LSU defense kept the Houston team in its own territory except on four drives, including touchdown marches of 62 and 66 yards.

The Tigers moved out in front when the game was only minutes old with a 56-yard drive that saw Zollie Toth score from the 2-yard line.

Rice Ties Scores

Rice immediately tied the count at 7-7 by mixing passes from Tobin Rote with the running of Bobby Lantrip, Rote passing to Froggie Williams for 15-yards and the score.

In the second period, Guard Wren Worley broke through to block Huey Kenney's punt and recover for LSU on the Rice 2. It took Bill Schroll three tries at the line to give the Tigers a lead that was never lost.

After Charlie Cucimano recovered John Kelley's fumble on the Rice 42, LSU drove 42 yards for its third score, made by Harrell Collins, reserve fullback, from the 2.

Rice Moves Again

Rice again moved rapidly to strike pay dirt. Ground gains by Sonny Wyatt and passes by Harmon Carswell moved to the Tiger 18 from where George Glauzer, reserve fullback, skirted right end for the Owl's second and final score.

In the closing minutes, Dale Gray intercepted a Carswell pass and returned 38 yards to the Rice 17. On the third play Charlie Pevey passed to Melvin Lyle for 17 yards to complete the scoring.

Williams split even on two conversion attempts for Rice, while Carroll Griffith made two out of four for LSU.

WASHINGTON, OREGON TIE

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 2. (AP)—Washington's Huskies matched their breakaway plays against the power of Oregon State's Beavers and gained a 14-14 Pacific Coast Conference deadlock here today.

Larry Doby Paces Cleveland Attack

CLEVELAND, Oct. 2. (INS)—The Cleveland Indians today defeated the Detroit Tigers, 8 to 0, clinching no worse than a tie with the Boston Red Sox and establishing themselves odds-on favorites to claim the American league pennant. Rookie Gene Bearden hurled his 19th victory today, and Larry Doby paced the Indians' attack with four straight hits—and the outcome was such that tomorrow, with Bob Feller pitching against Detroit's Hal Newhouser, the Indians can win the crown by defeating the Tigers.

Or, if they lose, they can still cop the crown if the Red Sox lose their game to the New York Yankees tomorrow.

The Indians broke up a tight nothing-nothing ball game by scoring five times in the fourth inning to chase rookie Lou Kretlow—and sewed things up with two more runs in the fifth and another in the sixth.

It was Doby who started Cleveland off in the fourth with a scorching double against the right field wall. Pat Mullin fumbled the blow and Doby took third whence, with one out, he rocketed home on Joe Gordon's double to left.

Ken Keltner then rapped a ground ball which went right through Jimmy Outlaw at third, and on the two-base error Gordon scored the second run of the frame. Walt Judnich walked, and Kretlow left hurriedly after the next batter, Eddie Robinson, slammed a double to right.

Kretlow's successor, Dizzy Trout, immediately yielded a two-run single to Jim Hegan before the rest of the side could be retired. Just to make sure of their 96th win of the year, the Indians did a little more scoring.

RED SOX BEAT YANKS, 5-1

BOSTON, Oct. 2. (AP)—The Boston Red Sox remained a game behind the Cleveland Indians in the American league pennant fight and at the same time eliminated the Yanks for contention by beating the New Yorkers, 5-1 today on the effective five hit pitching of Jack Kramer.

The Indians can clinch the pennant by defeating Detroit tomorrow. A Boston loss to New York will also give the Indians the flag. However, should Cleveland lose tomorrow and Boston win, the two teams will finish in a tie necessitating a playoff in Boston Monday.

ODESSA, AMARILLO IN TOP 1-AA TILT

Ten Area Class A Conference Games Scheduled This Weekend

South Plains grid teams move deeper into their conference schedules this weekend, with a total of 10 title games slated in Districts 3-A, 4-A and 5-A, but they will share the spotlight with two feature inter-district tusles in District 1-AA.

The top Texas schoolboy game of the week will be unreeled Friday night at Amarillo, when Odessa's mighty Red Hosses invade Butler field for a non-title clash with the Golden Sandies. Both teams are undefeated this season, although Odessa was tied by Lubbock in the opening tilt of the slate, and both elevens are ranked in the top five teams in the state.

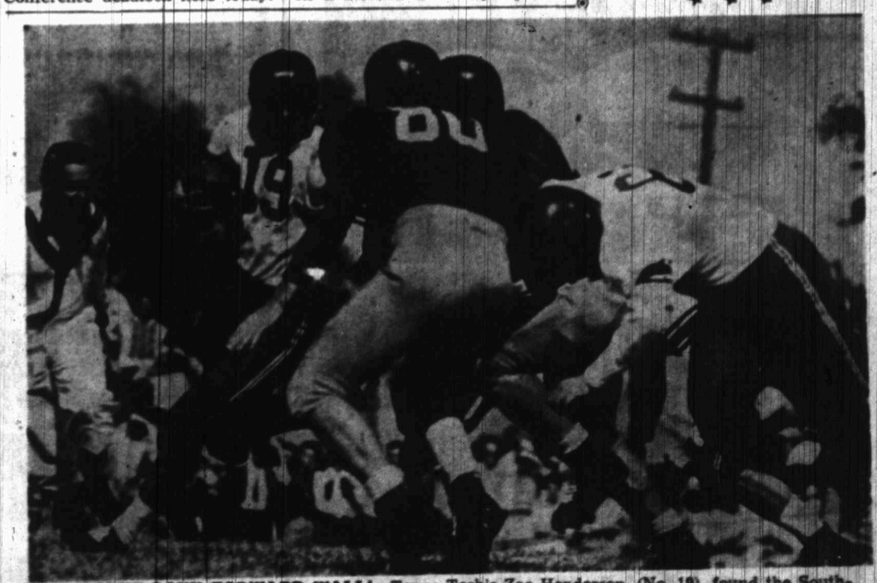

Amarillo, rated as the No. 2 team in Class AA, will be a slight favorite over Odessa, but the Broncos will have tradition behind them. Amarillo has never defeated Odessa in the three years that the two teams have tangled.

Lubbock's Westerners will attempt to get back on the black side of the won-lost ledger Friday night at Tech's Jones stadium, when they play host to the Childress Bobcats of District 2-AA. The tilt with the Bobcats will close out the Westerner non-conference schedule and give the Lubbock schoolboys their final opportunity to gain experience before they open the 1-AA race against Borger here Oct. 15.

Childress has improved steadily, following a slow start that included a 39-6 loss to Amarillo, and last weekend the Bobcats held powerful North Side of Fort Worth to a one-touchdown triumph. The Westerners dropped prestige by absorbing a 13-0 drubbing from the Austin Maroons last Friday night at Austin.

CRUCIAL FUMBLE RECOVERY.—Lubbock Westerner End Teddy Vaught, (No. 70 in foreground), is shown in the photo above as he dropped on an Austin fumble behind the Lubbock goal line in the first quarter of the Westerner-Maroon non-title clash Friday night at Austin. The recovery gave the Westerners a touchback and halted an Austin drive which had carried to the Lubbock three yard line. Other gridders in the photo are Austin Tailback Bill Clemons, (on ground), who fumbled the ball on the goal line; Tackle Charles Bryant of Austin (No. 63); Westerner Halfback Donald Decker, (No. 88); and Lubbock Center Leon Stuart, (No. 41). Austin won, 13-0.

Wildcats Smash Purdue, 21 To 0

EVANSTON, Ill., Oct. 2 (INS)—Northwestern unleashed a surprise knockout punch today to smash Purdue's favored football team 21 to 0 before 47,000 fans in Evanston's Dyche stadium.

And with the Wildcats stamping their initials all over the Boilermakers the Big Nine football race took on the aspect of a rocky road being traveled by a group of Saturday night celebrants.

Don Burson, Northwestern's brilliant quarterback, pulled the strings that made the Wildcats go and throttled Purdue's passing and ground attack.

The Boilermakers were unable to complete a single pass. Their line was outclassed and outplayed by the Wildcats and their morale was shattered by an underdog team.

Northwestern outgained Purdue on the ground 236 to 179, and intercepted two of Purdue's passes, one of the piracies being made by Tom Worthington, who raced 45 yards down the sidelines for the final score with a scant 46 seconds remaining in the game.

Wildcats Score

The Wildcats scored the first of their three touchdowns on the first play of the second quarter when Ed Tunnicliff went over from the six yard line. The scoring opportunity was set up by Halfback Frank Aschenbrenner, who returned a Purdue punt 31 yards just before the first quarter ended.

After a listless third period in which Purdue controlled the ball most of the time, the Wildcats brought their claws into use once more. Worthington recovered a Neil Schmidt fumble on the first play of the period. Scant plays thereafter Aschenbrenner threw him a 19-yard pass to within arm's reach of the Purdue goal, and Burson used a simple quarterback sneak to score.

Jim Farrar kicked all three extra points for Northwestern, which now has scored 40 points to none for its opposition in two games this season.

Northwestern next week must face Minnesota, which will be playing its first conference game.

Purdue's main scoring threat saw the Boilers reach the Northwestern three yard line in the second quarter. But Harry Szulborski, Purdue's heavy-duty runner who had sparked the 69-yard advance, was stopped inches short of a first down after plunging two, then four, then three yards.

WRECK BEATS TULANE

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 2. (INS)—Georgia Tech's Robert E. Lee Dodd pulled a couple of backs named Bob McCoy and Frank Ziegler out of his big black bag to beat Tulane 13 to 7 today. Thirty-five thousand people, sitting in the sun at Tech's Grant field, watched the favored Yellow Jackets cautiously register the first score. It came on a sustained 80-yard drive, brilliantly climaxed by Ziegler's 53-yard touchdown romp.

PREVARICATOR WINS RACE

ALBANY, Cal., Oct. 2 (INS)—Prevaricator, five-year-old gelded son of Omaha, equalled the world's record of 1:34 2/5 for a mile today in winning the $15,000 Golden Gate Mile at Golden Gate fields. Prevaricator won by a head over Hemet Squaw with Shannon II, Prevaricator's running mate, a half length back in third spot.

In reply to the many questions that have been thrown at us since returning from the Lubbock Westerner-Austin Maroon tilt, we will just say that we took a good licking. The Maroons were in top form, playing their best game of the season, and they had the physical ability to do the job. The Austin line outcharged the Lubbock forwards during most of the game, and their speedy backfield took full advantage of every hole the line opened up. The Maroons had shown improvement in every game this season, according to the grid experts who have been watching them, and they hit their peak against the Westerners.

There were two times in the game when Lubbock was very close to victory, however. On the first play of the game, Lubbock Wingback Don Decker swept around right end and moved into the clear. But he had to slow down just enough in side-stepping the Maroon safety to allow one of the fast Austin backs to drag him down from behind. Then early in the third quarter Westerner Fullback Malcolm Young broke over left tackle and raced 63 yards to the Austin 11 before he was pulled down by another of the Austin trackmen. Against practically any other team in the state that would have been a certain touchdown, since Young is an extremely fast back, but not against those Maroons! The Westerners will probably play better teams than Austin before the season is over, but none of them will boast so much sheer speed.

But just as we have warned against too much optimism early in the season, we now suggest that fans not go to the other extreme. The Westerners have shown improvement in many departments since their first game and, with further work, will still be in the District 1-AA title chase. The Lubbock offense was definitely hampered last week by the ankle injury to Tailback Bobby Brown, but he should be back in top shape when the Westerners open the conference season against Borger here Oct. 15.

We thought the area Class A grid picture was taking shape rapidly, with favorites in each loop well defined, but a Post sports fan warns us that we have overlooked the top team in the South half 4-A circuit. Post, according to the fan, is under-rated by many of the South Plains "experts." The fan points out that Post beat Ralls by a 40-6 tally, then trounced Spur 13-7. Last week Post drubbed Seagraves, 24-0. Post has more experience and weight than either Slaton or Tahoka, the fan says, so must be placed in the favorite's position.

At any rate, the warning has scared us. From now on Post is the favorite in the South half of 4-A. So Slaton, Tahoka, O'Donnell had better watch out!

South Plains fans will also be glad to hear that Seminole's backfield ace, Ira Bobb, was not seriously injured Friday night. The leather-lugger fractured his nose in the tilt with Littlefield, but he is "recovering" without complications. He was treated for the injury at Lubbock following the game, and is now under the supervision of a Seminole physician.

Pitt Panthers Are Outmanned

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 2 (INS)—Everybody got into the act for Notre Dame today as the mighty Irish footballers squashed Pittsburgh 40 to 0 for their 20th straight game without defeat.

Hart — Sitko — Spaniel — Landry — Smith — McKillip — and Oracko: so read the scoring column after Frank Leahy's Notre Damers had finished with the outmanned Panthers before 63,000 spectators.

Pitt fought gamely through the first period, but an intercepted pass set up a seven-yard Frank Tripucka-Leon Hart touchdown aerial for the Irish in the initial quarter, and after that the tide was inexorable.

Emil Sitko, Frank Spaniel and Jack Landry bulled over for second period Notre Dame touchdowns, and in the second half the Irish reserves took over and scored twice more, once on an 85-yard punt runback by Lancaster Smith and again by Bill McKillip's nine-yard run.

Steve Oracko converted after four of the six Notre Dame tallies.

Sitko's score came as the climax of a long Notre Dame march, highlighted by a 43-yard dash by Sitko himself. He crossed the goal line on a three-yard smash.

The second Notre Dame tally was set up by a Bill Gay pass interception and a runback to the Pitt 13. Spaniel polished that drive off by bucking across from the 1.

Landry's tally also came from a yard out and was at the tail end of a sustained 42-yard march along the ground.

Ben Hogan Bounces Back Into Tie For First In Portland Open

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 2. (INS)—Calm Ben Hogan of Hershey, Pa., shot a dazzling 65 today to bounce back into a tie for first in the $15,000 Portland Open golf tournament.

Hogan's spectacular score gave his a 52-hole total of 203, which was matched by quiet John Palmer of Badin, N. C. Palmer shot a 68 today.

Ed "Porky" Oliver of Seattle lopped six off standard for a 66 and a 205, which gave him a tie with Fred Haas Jr., of New Orleans. Haas, who led the field at the halfway mark, slipped back with a 71 today.

Fenton, Weidner To Meet In Mat Feature

Another triple main event will feature the regular mat card Wednesday night at Slen Allen's arena, with Rod Fenton of Edmonton, Canada, battling Boston Billy Weidner in the two of three falls spotlight bout.

Weidner, the Southwestern junior heavyweight champion, has chalked up impressive wins in the local arena in recent weeks, but he will face a tough challenger in the rowdy Canadian. Weidner ended Rex Mobley's winning streak in a match last week and will be trying to block Fenton's bid for a title shot in their setto.

A crowd-pleasing tussle is on tap in the first of the main events, when Al Getz of Pittsburgh meets veteran Sailor Parker of Jackson, Miss. Both of the grapplers are familiar figures to Lubbock mat fans, although Parker has been touring other circuits for several months. The grunt-and-groan specialists have a reputation for using rowdy ring tactics and fans will expect a rough, no-holds-barred clash.

Ohio State's Raging Buckeyes Defeat Southern Cal, 20 To 0

Dorsey, Krall Are Outstanding Bucks

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 2. (INS)—Ohio State's raging Bucks rode the Southern California Trojan Horse right out of Ohio stadium today with a 20 to 0 victory over the invaders from the west coast.

The Bucks made the most of three scoring opportunities to extract full revenge for last year's defeat by the Trojans. A crowd of 75,102 partisan fans approved the action.

It was Ohio's fourth victory in the seven-game Trojan series. It also was the Buck's second 1948 triumph and Southern Cal's first loss in three games.

Left End Bob Dorsey and Halfback Jerry Krall were outstanding for the Bucks. Fumble recoveries by Dorsey set up the first two Buck scores in the first and second quarters.

Out all last season after a knee operation and used sparingly against Missouri last week, Krall not only ran brilliantly but he caught a pass for the third touchdown and returned a punt 24 yards to contribute to the second.

Fullback Joe Whisler bulled his way to the first two scores, both from the one-yard line. Dick Widdoes, sophomore son of Ohio's assistant coach, converted two of three extra-point tries.

The Bucks drove 38 yards to their first score with the game only eight minutes old after Dorsey fell on a Trojan fumble. The biggest ground gainer in the drive was Quarterback Pandel Savic's 19-yard pass to Tom Watson, injured right end who had just entered the game.

PENN DOWNS DARTMOUTH

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 2. (INS) The University of Pennsylvania eleven, one of last year's eastern football greats, lived up to expectations today by defeating Dartmouth 26 to 13 before 60,000 at Franklin field.

Between The Lines. . .

By Joe Kelly

Along about the middle of this past week, a tall, angular gentleman and his family filled their full trunks to overflowing, bought railroad tickets and shook the dust of West Texas from their shoes—with regret. The elongated male member of the trio that left here was Larry Larsen, for the past six months general manager of the Lubbock Hubbers. And the rest of entourage was his charming wife Peggy and their daughter.

Larry filled a busy and important task for Mrs. Sam Rosenthal this summer. He was charged with the responsibility of directing the business destinies of the Hubbers this hectic summer and he did a good job. He was on loan from the offices of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues, almost the ultimate for businessmen in the world of ball. He picked up his formal education at Princeton, his groundwork in the NABL office and his chief education with the Hubbers. He came into the local office cold, gathering his background from Mrs. Rosenthal, Manager Jackie Sullivan and friends of the ball club.

It was a lot to ask of this tall, quiet Ohioan, to bring him into a situation that was in turmoil, to request him to build a team as good as that of 1947. As a matter of fact, it was not within his realm to build the ball club, but he pitched into that task enthusiastically. If the players had been available, he would have gotten them, for he didn't discourage easily. He also went at the task of renovating the playing field with enthusiasm and, by the time the Giants and Indians played here, had one of the best diamonds in the Southwest.

But his biggest task was keeping the books straight, paying the quick winter and a speedy return to the country he learned to love.

In connection with the Hubbers, it may be remembered that a ball-shagging contest was initiated by the club this year. The season is over, of course, and the winner was Doyle Tapp of 2603 22nd street. Doyle turned in 115 baseballs during the season and received $25 in cash. His brother, Don, turned in 95 baseballs and was given $15 in cash. And a third brother, Kenneth, turned in 90 baseballs to finish third, receiving $10 in cash. Fourth prize went to Joe Rangel of 120 Avenue Q, who was given $5 in cash for 85 baseballs turned in.

It was quite a contest, with the Tapp brothers outstripping the field through the use of motor scooters. Using the mechanical contraption, they were able to reach the majority of baseballs before anyone else. Approximately 14 boys took part in the shagging contest and turned in 550 baseballs. And if you figure close bills, ordering supplies and acting as general chief cook and bottle washer. That he succeeded is shown by the fact that the club drew over 100,000 patrons again this year and made an even larger profit than was made in 1947. One of the more important factors was keeping ahead of the manufacturers in regards to equipment. For instance, when Amarillo went into the playoff series against the Hubbers, they had only 10 bats left. How many the Hubbers had we don't know, but there was a generous supply in the storeroom at the Hub Clothiers. And the Hubbers had an extraordinary supply of baseballs.

Yes, Karl H. or Larry, as he insisted upon being called, filled the bill admirably for Mrs. Rosenthal. He took the load off her shoulders and put the monkey on his back. He was criticized, as one would expect; he often was villified, which is nothing new; and he made mistakes, as you would expect a new man getting his foundation work. But all in all, he turned in a fine job during his first season here. Unless the Hubbers change hands between now and the start of the unofficial baseball season in March, Larry will be back again to guide Hubber destinies. We wish him a to $26 or $27 a dozen for balls, it isn't hard to see that the contest was valuable from the Hubber standpoint.

One of the queerest-and funniest-advertisments comes from the chilly state of Massachusetts. And after Margaret Turner turned sports writer to predict this week end's football results, we feel it only fair to announce National Cranberry Week. Since we like to eat, we see no reason why we should not turn gourmet and pass on this mouth-watering piece of publicity.

"Have you heard about the wedding of the berry and the bird?" the announcement asks. "The berry is the cranberry and the bird is that simple citizen of the barnyard, the chicken. The big event is scheduled to take place during National Cranberry Week, from Oct. 18 to 23. These curious nuptials came about when the poultry folk began to hanker after a share of the sauce. They argued that by teaming chicken with cranberries, they could make every Sunday dinner a festive feed, get more people to eat chicken and wreath with smiles the faces of the nation's poultry raisers." There's more, but that will give you an idea. Personally, cranberries go with almost anything and, per se, go.

Gophers Beat Cornhuskers

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 2. (INS)—A listless Minnesota football team had enough to roll over Nebraska by 39 to 13 today, but the record Gopher home-opener crowd of 57,209 was not noticeably impressed.

What the fans saw was a Gopher team that had the usual Minnesota power, the brutal blocking and tackling, but a hit-and-miss offense featuring a passing attack that missed about as often as it clicked.

The fans also saw an alert Nebraska team, well-drilled in the football magic of Coach Potsy Clark, carry the fight to Minnesota for much of the first half and actually lead the Gophers at one point in the second quarter by a 13 to 12 margin.

But Minnesota power won out, providing three quick touchdowns in the final minutes of the first half to give the Gophers more than enough to prevail.

Ev Faunce passed to Jim Malosky for Minnesota's first touchdown in the first quarter, but Nebraska tied it up when Faunce fumbled deep in Minnesota territory and Bob Schneider snared the ball in the end zone.

Faunce drove 11 yards for another Minnesota touchdown. But another fumble enabled Nebraska to tie it up on Clete Fisher's 18-yard run, and Costello's extra point put the 'Huskers ahead 13 to 12.

From then on it was all Minnesota. Thiele caught a touchdown pass from Faunce to put the Gophers in front to stay. Dale Warner intercepted a Nebraska pass and went 32 yards for another Gopher score, and Faunce tossed to Marv Hein for another tally before the half ended.

OKLAHOMA AGGIES WIN

STILLWATER, Okla., Oct. 2 (INS)—The Oklahoma Aggies jumped back in the football winning column today at Stillwater as they easily beat Denver 27-7. It was the second win of the season for the Aggies who lost by one touchdown to Texas Christian university last week.

Aggies, Texas Tech Movies To Be Shown At QB Club Monday

Movies of the Texas Tech-Texas Aggies football game, played Sept. 25 in San Antonio, will be the feature of Monday night's Quarterback club meeting at 8 in the Hilton Hotel's main ballroom.

Tom Duggan, club president, said that coaches from Lubbock's two high schools, the Westerners and the Panthers, would be present, as well as the Texas Tech coaching staff.

The meeting will be under the direction of Lubbock's radio sports announcers.

Hoosiers Down Iowa, 7-0, On Jagade Run

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Oct. 2 (INS) — Harry Jagade's brilliant 25-yard run in the third period scored the only touchdown of the game today as Indiana beat Iowa, 7-0, to take undisputed lead in the Western Conference football standings.

The throng of 33,000 fans roared crazily as Jagade, who had started Indiana's payoff march by intercepting an Al Di Marco pass on the Iowa 42, scooted out around left end and twisted away from three seemingly-sure tacklers to score.

Then George Parker split the uprights with his extra-point place kick to put the Hoosiers in front 7 to 0, and there they stayed.

It was Indiana's second straight Conference victory. Last week they started things out for their new coach, Clyde Smith, by belting Wisconsin 35 to 7 in a shocking upset. In the four conference games played so far to date, Indiana has won two, lost none, Northwestern is next with 1-0; Wisconsin is 1-1; and Illinois, Purdue and Iowa are all 0-1.

In the first half today, Indiana twice pierced the Iowa 40 yard line, but lost the ball once on an intercepted pass and the next time failed to make a first down.

Following their third period score the Hoosiers controlled the ball most of the way. Di Marco tried a series of desperation passes in the final moments, but Indiana's defence was equal to the occasion.

Rosen, who was touted last spring as a possible successor to Ken Keltner as Cleveland's third baseman, is leading the Kansas City hitters.

Four Junior Games Slated

Leaders in the South Plains Junior High football league will face tough tests in a four-game loop slate Thursday, with surging Levelland invading Chapman field to battle the powerful O. L. Slaton team of Lubbock.

The O. L. Slaton gridders, coached by Mentor Bennie McWilliams, have chalked up three consecutive conference victories and are deadlocked with Carroll Thompson of Lubbock for the top position in the circuit championship race. Levelland, after losing to Thompson in the opener, bounced back to defeat J. T. Hutchinson of Lubbock last week and looms as a first division eleven.

Hutchinson's inexperienced youngsters journey to Littlefield for a loop encounter that may boost the junior Wildcats out of the "winless" column. Littlefield fell victim to Thompson last week, 37-0, while Hutchinson was absorbing a 16-6 defeat by the Levelland crew.

Lamesa, winner over Brownfield last week, goes to Plainview in another setto, while Seminole plays host to Brownfield.

The standings:

TEAMS	WON	LOST
Thompson (Lubbock)	3	0
O. L. Slaton (Lub)	3	0
Plainview	2	1
Seminole	1	1
Levelland	1	1
Hutchinson (Lubbock)	1	2
Lamesa	1	2
Littlefield	0	2
Brownfield	0	3

Fort Worth Takes Dixie Opener, 5-1

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Oct. 2 (AP)—The Fort Worth Cats worked the Birmingham Barons over for a 5-1 triumph tonight in the opening game of the Dixie Series before an estimated 17,000 fans.

Righthander Eddie Chandler set the usually hard-hitting Barons down with five hits. He gave up one run in the fourth when the Cat defenses lapsed momentarily.

Fort Worth manager Bobby Bragan and third baseman Johnny Legros hit home runs in pacing the Cat attack.

The line score:

Fort Worth	100	300	100	5	11	0
Birmingham	000	100	000	1	5	0

Chandler and Bragan; Dorish and Walters.

Fishing On Texas Coast Has Undergone Drastic Changes

Funds Needed For Game Fish Survey

Special Correspondent

If you want to get a graphic and somewhat surprising picture of the changes that have taken place in fishing on the coast of Texas during the past twenty years, I suggest that you read the lists which a San Antonio newspaper runs of the catch made by people of that city on trips to the coast.

I happened to look at one of those lists recently.

And what astonished me was this: People were listing the catfish they caught. Tom Jones was credited with five gafftops. Bill Smith with three gafftops, Mrs. Andrew Adams with four, and maybe John Green proudly topped the list with seven catfish.

Here and there in the long list was a man who caught a redfish. And after the names of a few people there was listed a sprinkling of speckled trout.

But the great majority who reported caught only catfish.

Now let me hasten to say that so far as I am concerned, there is nothing wrong with a catfish. If people like to catch catfish, I'm happy about it. More catfish to them.

I just happen to know, however, that ninety-nine per cent of the people who go down to the coast of Texas with the idea in mind of catching a fish visualize the catch in terms of trout and redfish and maybe flounder — not catfish.

And I also know that there was a time on the Texas coast, not so very long ago, when people did not bring in catfish. Fishermen carried home their trout and redfish and maybe small drum and flounder and sheepshead and sand trout — but no catfish.

All this, of course, is indicative of a drastic change.

I am quite familiar with the change. I have watched it take place during the past twenty years. And for about twelve of those years I butted my head against a stone wall trying to find a solution, only to be defeated again and again in seeking to bring about the changes I thought should be made.

The fact is entirely obvious to anyone on the Texas coast who is even moderately observant that the fishing of today can in no way compare to the fishing of yesterday. In my own case I cite the Laguna Madre of Texas. Ten years ago I would have wagered anybody I could catch from twelve to twenty-five nice speckled trout on the shoreline above Port Isabel any morning of the summer.

Today I would not wager a dime that I could catch one — and I speak with the voice of experience, for I've just tried it.

WHAT USED TO BE—The above picture shows what Gulf Coast trout fishing was not so very long ago. Since the above picture was taken, the salt water speckled trout have just about disappeared from the Texas angler's picture. Today, practically the only fish being caught along the Texas Gulf coast are catfish and gafftops.

I have no intention here of launching once more into a campaign in which I long ago admitted defeat. I am also willing to admit the possibility that I was wrong in some of the things that I sought. I don't know. And the interesting point is that nobody else knows.

And this brings up the one hopeful aspect of the situation — it brings up something I want to pass on to those Texans who want good fishing badly enough to at least try to find out what has caused the fishing to become as poor as it is now.

It's this: The United States Fish and Wildlife Service would undoubtedly make an exhaustive survey of the Gulf Coast shore feeding fishes, including those along the coast of Mexico, if Texans would induce Congress to appropriate funds for such a survey.

A short time before the war I had a lengthy correspondence with the chief of the Service, and he agreed that a survey should be made and said the Fish and Wildlife Service would be glad to undertake it if funds were appropriated.

Before anything along this line could be done, the war started. Fishing surveys were forgotten for the duration.

Now, it seems, the proposal might be taken up again with the Fish and Wildlife Service with a view to having it included in the next budget presented to Congress.

Then it would be up to Texans to induce their representatives in the national legislative body to see that the appropriation was approved. It is likely that Louisiana and other Gulf Coast states might join in supporting the move.

Of one thing we can be certain — the fishing is no longer what it was a few years ago.

And of one other thing we can be relatively certain — there is little chance of improvement until somebody finds out exactly what has caused the change and what steps could be taken to build the fishing back again.

Grade School Loop Formed

Prospective Westerner gridders of the 1952 and 1953 seasons will open their football careers this fall, as 12 teams from elementary schools begin a two-division round robin tournament to determine the elementary co-champions for Lubbock.

Rules for competition in the grade school league have been changed for play this fall, Marlin (Shorty) Hayhurst, director of health and physical education in the Lubbock schools, has announced. The youthful gridders will "tackle" at a foot-square flag carried by the backs, instead of using the "touch" or "tag" system formerly required. The flags are carried in the belts of all the backs, Hayhurst said, and the "tackler" must gain possession of the flag to halt the progress of the ballcarrier.

The new system will give the backs more opportunity to run, Hayhurst emphasized, developing better grid fundamentals. There will still be no actual tackling, and penalties will be chalked against teams for a violation of the regulation.

In Two Sections

The ball will be declared dead when in possession of the runner when (1) the runner's knee touches the ground; (2) when the runner calls "down"; (3) when the runner's flag falls to the ground, or when the runner's flag is clearly in possession of one or more defensive men.

The elementary league will operate in two sections this fall. A north bracket will include McWhorter, Central Ward, K. Carter, Guadalupe, Sanders, East Broadway and George M. Hunt. South teams will include Thirty-sixth street school, Roscoe Wilson, Dupre, George R. Bean, Chris Harwell and Overton.

Nine of the coaches for the elementary teams are men regularly employed in the school systems. Mentors include A. H. Smith at Bean school; Clyde W. Gee, Central Ward; Quinten W. Marshall, Dupre; William E. Lowrance, East Broadway; George Mills, K. Carter; R. P. Swoffard, Guadalupe; R. B. Durham, McWhorter; Milton Greer, Roscoe Wilson; and Lloyd Neeley, Thirty-sixth street.

Other mentors are J. A. Blackwell at Chris Harwell and Billie Smith at George M. Hunt.

Considine Probes Baseball's Origin

Rounders Was Early Name For Baseball

By BOB CONSIDINE
INS Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 2. (INS)—This, the final day of the greatest baseball season since the game was invented by Abner Doubleday at Cooperstown, N. Y. in 1839, seems an appropriate time to remark that the game was not invented by Abner Doubleday at Cooperstown, N. Y. in 1839.

A friend has sent a clip from the Delaware (N.Y.) Gazette of July 13, 1825 which says:

"A challenge—the undersigned, all residents of the new town of Hamden, with the exception of ASA Howland, who has recently moved to Delhi, challenge an equal number of persons of any town in the county of Delaware, to meet them at any time, at the house of Edward B. Chase, in said town, to play the game of base ball for the sum of one dollar each per game.

"If no town can be found that will produce the required number, they have no objection to playing against any selection that can be made from several towns in the county."

Gen. Doubleday was named father of baseball some years after his death. The committee which selected him for this honor, in 1908, was dominated by a relative of the general. The general's West Point year book of 1845 made no mention of his playing baseball or any other sport. It said, indeed, that he was of the indoor type. His tombstone in Arlington National Cemetery lists a number of his accomplishments but does not mention baseball as one of them.

Which doesn't matter, really, for the game evolved probably from revolutionary times out of the British game of Rounders played in such Tory strongholds as New York City's Broadway pastures.

What does matter that whoever is responsible for the game came up with something real good. About twice as many people saw the 16 major league teams play this season as saw them in the allegedly golden era of sport. Monopolistic ramparts were stormed by the likes of the Boston Braves, who haven't given their customers an opportunity to yell out loud since 1914.

The injury to Jeff Heath, plus the power of the still unidentified American league contender, will make the Braves a lowly pack of underdogs for the series, which hopes to begin Wednesday. The Braves, in fact, will be about as lowly held as they were on the eve of the 1914 series, when they were called on to face one of the greatest baseball combinations of all time, the Athletics of that vintage. The Braves, as you so well know, won in four straight.

You can search me and find no answer nor even coherent prediction as to the outcome of the American league race. Until a man named Outlaw hit a single in the ninth inning of Friday's game to steal a 5-3 decision from a suddenly jittery Cleveland team, I thought the Indians were shoo-ins. Now who knows.

For reasons which have often escaped me, an enormous number of fighters change their names when they enter the ring. Some do so without reason. Joe Barrow is just as good a fighting name as the one Mr. Barrow adopted—Joe Louis.

The lightweight champions of this generation and the one before it are cases in point. To wit:

Real Name	Ring Name
Geary Stefeen	Willie Ritchie
Fred Thomas	Freddie Welsh
Barnet Ratofsky	Barney Ross
Luigi D'Ambrosio	Lou Ambers
Sidney Walker	Beau Jack
Rocco Tozze	Rocky Kansas
Vernon Jenks	Lew Jenkins
Jim Moran	Jimmy Goodrich
Ben Leiner	Benny Leonard
Sammy Mandello	Sammy Mandel
Isiah Williams	Ike Williams

Lubbock Will Join Campaign To Employ Physically Handicapped

Backed by proclamations in federal, state and municipal circles, Lubbock is to join this week in observance of National Employ the Physically Handicapped week, when special efforts will be made to convince employers that a well-fitted handicapped person is the equivalent or better on a job than a normal person.

The campaign in this county, heading up through the Texas Employment commission, opens Monday, and will have the full cooperation of representatives of various service organizations in efforts to place in gainful employment the 50 or more physically handicapped, yet capable workers shown on record here.

Observation Nation-Wide

The week is being observed on a nation-wide basis, under a proclamation signed by President Truman. The week was proclaimed also by Gov. Beauford H. Jester for the state, and by Mayor W. H. Rodgers for the city.

Due to special emphasis by the Veterans Employment service of the U. S. Department of Labor, the backlog of disabled veterans and other handicapped workers seeking employment through the Texas Employment commission and other such services throughout the nation, has been reduced sharply during the last two years, according to Thomas O. Harrell, assistant veterans employment representative for Texas, who works with the local TEC office.

Harrell said, however, that although the campaign was sparked by disabled veterans' needs, the service is just as interested in all other handicapped persons.

Backlog Reduced

Seeking to show the task ahead, Harrell pointed out that the national backlog of disabled veterans seeking employment has been sharply reduced from 262,000 in 1946, to 82,000 at present, but warned that "there is still a tremendous job ahead" in finding employment for the 82,000 handicapped veterans now registered, and for the 10,000 to 12,000 new applicants who register each month.

He said that in Texas alone there are approximately 6,000 disabled veterans registered in TEC offices as seeking employment, and that with an estimated increase during the year, approximately 12,000 job openings will be needed for disabled veterans alone.

The job campaign is based on the slogan that "it's good business to hire the handicapped," because, according to Labor department figures, handicapped workers are good producers, they are safe workers, they stay on the job, and are not handicapped when placed in the right jobs.

Better Results Shown

A Department of Labor survey shows that in the opinion of 450 employers using 86,000 handicapped workers they were getting better results from physically impaired persons than from non-handicapped workers.

Carl M. Smith, commander of the Disabled American Veterans, is chairman of the local committee. Others on the sponsoring group are J. R. Eagan, commander of the American Legion; Jim Sanders, service officer of the Veterans of Foreign Wars; Eldon Fuller, chief of vocational and rehabilitation division of the Veterans administration regional office here; Dean Ing, also of the VA division; Jack Hall, county service officer; Ernest St. Clair, county Red Cross chairman; Esten Day, state vocational and rehabilitation branch; James E. Marshall, manager TEC office here; Floyd Rector, veterans employment representative with TEC; and Harrell.

WORKS ON CAMPUS—S. B. Collins, above, of 715 Monticello, Littlefield, doesn't appear handicapped as he operates a saw or performs other of the numerous duties he has as assistant to George B. Long, superintendent of buildings and grounds at Texas Technological college. Collins lost both legs in the liberation of the Philippines on Armistice day of 1944, but he has artificial legs and gets around with agility on smooth surfaces. (Staff Photo).

Employ Handicapped Week Opens Monday

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2. (INS)—The federal government launches an intensive nationwide program next week to increase the employment of physically handicapped persons in industry.

The drive begins Monday.

It is under the direction of President Truman's specially appointed committee in conjunction with the Federation of Businessmen's associations and the American Federation of the Physically Handicapped.

"Opportunity" is the theme of the program.

Labor Secretary Tobin explained that if given the opportunity to work the handicapped person will equal if not better his fellow worker. Tobin said:

"Those who have not as yet been able to procure gainful employment will certainly emulate the great record that has been made by the hundreds of thousands of physically handicapped who have proved their worth in industry."

"National employ the physically handicapped week" was proclaimed by President Truman after Congress approved a resolution declaring that one week should be set aside each year for that purpose.

Aged Executive Mansion Due For Repairs

Next First Lady Of Nation Will Have Housing Headache

BY MARTHA KEARNEY
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2—The nation's next first lady will be in for the same sort of housing headache as that of any other wife whose husband gets a business transfer.

She will either have to get used to expecting the place to tumble down around her ears or else take refuge in temporary housing until it can be nailed together and propped up.

Being elected president this year doesn't necessarily mean getting to the White House—not right away. And if President Truman is elected, he may have to move out—temporary, anyway.

Getting Along In Years

The trouble is that the White House is getting along in years.

Last year Congress heard it described as "the worst firetrap in the country." White House aides stalk smoking guest like deer in season.

Furthermore, the second-floor living quarters of the White House sway like a hammock at the lightest touch. After 132 years of service without servicing, they squeak, shiver and shake almost without provocation.

What with tearing up the floorboards and making other necessary repairs, it will take an estimated six months to rehabilitate the executive mansion after Congress counts out the money for the job.

Luckier Than Most

The first family, however, will be luckier than most because it can be pretty sure of a place to live while the job is underway. One possibility is that Blair house, now used for distinguished visitors from other lands, will be pressed into service for the President's use.

"It's right across the street from the White House, so the first lady can watch the job and count the days until she can get settled again.

Lady To Be Seen Not Heard

The nation, incidentally, can count on getting a first lady who prefers to be seen and not heard no matter who it signs on an president for the next four years.

Either Bess Truman or Frances Dewey will carry on in the tradition of first ladies before Eleanor Roosevelt and remain very much in the White House background.

Both wives, currently on campaign tours with their respective husbands, have maintained almost complete silence on their way across the country.

Mrs. Truman's one contribution to campaign oratory was a single sentence of about eight words in which she thanked the citizens of a Texas town for their applause.

Mrs. Dewey, always gracious and always smiling, hasn't said a thing.

Regardless of the election results, the husbands of the nation are bound to consider President Truman and Governor Dewey superlatively lucky men.

South Plains Masonic Group Plans Feast Of Tabernacles

South Plains Scottish Rite club will conduct its annual Feast of the Tabernacles commencing at 8 p. m. Oct. 12 in Hilton hotel.

The announcement was made by Guy Swain, of Levelland president, and Ed Parker, of Lubbock, secretary.

Louie F. Moore of Lubbock is vice president.

An attempt will be made to place on the program men from representative South Plains cities, it was said.

Sergeant Learns Stork Won't Wait; Baby Is Born In Auto

FORT WORTH, Oct. 2 (U.P.) — A Carswell Air Force base sergeant knows now that the stork means business when it radios for landing instructions.

Mrs. A. J. Sandoval awakened her husband early yesterday and told him it was time that she got to a hospital. A hurried telephone call was made to the attending doctor who told Sgt. Sandoval to rush his wife to All-Saints hospital.

The nervous sergeant bundled up his wife and rushed off—but remembered enroute that he didn't know where the hospital was.

However, he found a hospital, and left his wife in the auto while he hurried in to inquire whether it was All-Saints. But it was St. Josephs.

Sgt. Sandoval rushed back to his car, but it was too late. Mrs. Sandoval had presented him with a 4-pound, 13-ounce daughter, born in the automobile.

The mother and child are doing fine—at St. Josephs. The father is recuperating at home.

The only dog that is naturally tailless is the Schipperke Poodle.

11 Events Fold Tents This Weekend

Fairs Attract Crowds From Piney Forests To Panhandle

By MARTHA COLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

It's the season of the fair.

They're trampling down the skinny mesquite sprigs in the Panhandle for the rodeo and they're winding in and out of the East Texas pine trees to look at the roses.

Eleven fairs in Texas were folding their tents this weekend.

And at the end of this week, on Oct. 9, what the advertisements called "the greatest show in the greatest state" will open in Dallas—the State Fair of Texas.

Attractions Cover State

Sleek and curried livestock—homemade jams — grandma's patchwork quilt patterns — the ferris wheel—bucking broncs in the rodeo—hamburger with onions—comely queens of the fair—and in Tyler, the roses.

Winding up part or all of these this week were:

1. The 11th annual Tyler rose festival, which opened Thursday, Sept. 30, with the coronation of Miss Mary Anne Nenney as queen. During the three-day run tours to the rose fields began at 9 a. m., and a huge two-mile floral parade Saturday spread the scent of roses.

2. The Panhandle-South Plains fair at Lubbock, where more than 100,000 came during the week-long celebration that ended last night. Backers called it the most successful they had seen.

3. West Texas fair at Abilene which ran for a week and closed last night. Horse races for the first time since the last war and a registered quarter horse show were added attractions.

4. Midland county fair opened with a parade Thursday.

5. Henrietta residents donned pioneer garb Oct. 1 for the two homecoming settler reunion and rodeo.

6. The week-long Dawson county fair opened at Lamesa Monday, Sept. 27 and included the South Plains horse show.

7. Texarkana celebrated its diamond jubilee anniversary with the four states fair opening Tuesday, Sept. 28. It was to end Sunday night.

8. Bonham was home of the Fannin county fair during the past week.

9. At Lufkin the Texas Forest festival opened Monday, Sept. 27 for a week's run.

10. The Donley county fair was held at Clarendon Oct. 1 and 2.

11. The Hansford county fair ran for two days at Spearman Oct. 1 and 2.

And still to come—the Anderson county fair at Palestine Oct. 11-16, the South Texas fair at Beaumont the latter part of October, and the crowds, the midway hawkers, the industrial exhibits and, the hurly burly of the State Fair of Texas Oct. 9-24.

Pledging By Westernettes Slated For Monday Night

Pledging by the Westernettes, a high school Girls Athletic association, is to open at 6:45 o'clock Monday night at the City Bus station and will be concluded in Senior High gymnasium, club representatives announced.

The organization has a total of 93 members and pledges, the largest number it has had since it was organized in 1945. Pledges will wear athletic clothing.

Activities this year in addition to pledging activities will be sale of football programs, active sports and parties.

Officers for this semester elected recently are Bobby Mitchell, secretary; Frances Gibbs, parliamentarian; Clinky Moore, treasurer; Anna Bell Cash, business manager, and Dolores Ketchersid, reporter.

Tribly Nickey and Theola Leonard were elected last year as president and vice president, respectively. Two sophomore students will be elected business managers.

New England Holds Cranberry, Little White Hen Wedding

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

CARVER, Mass., Oct. 2.—This is the wedding day of the little white hen and the little red cranberry.

It is a marriage of convenience which the stern and rockbound business world here hopes will echo down the corridors of time as profitably as did the merry courtship of Priscilla and John Alden.

And before you start asking me how in Massachusetts a hen can say "I do" to a cranberry—and I'm not bogging the question—let me begin by saying there are several similarities between these two romances, separated by more than 300 years.

Both Near Plymouth Rock

The scene of both is a fair vale in the hill swamps not far from the gray rock of Plymouth, where the founding fathers stepped ashore in 1620 and were helped pronto by Squanto, the first of New England's long line of distinguished educators.

And in both cases the love tales arise from a strange triangle.

Every schoolchild remembers that the triangle in the 17th century heart epic consisted of Captain Myles Standish, his friend, John Alden, and saucy Priscilla Mullins. Standish was standoffish about telling Priscilla she was the prettiest thing he'd seen since he became a widower.

So he sent honest John to ask her if she wouldn't like to wed a soldier tried and true. But Priscilla proved that all girls don't swoon at a uniform. She decided she wanted a man who mowed down the front lawn instead of traipsing around the back yard of America mowing down Indians. She melted Alden with a coy, "Oh, Johnny, oh, Johnny, speak for thyself." And she and John were married and had eleven fine, big children—all presumably barrel-chested since Alden was a cooper.

A different kind of prosperity is hoped from the wedding today of the little white hen and the little red cranberry. The marriage is just a symbol of a desire by farmers here, where half the nation's cranberries are grown, to wake up the public to the fact that cranberries taste just as good with chicken as they do with turkey.

So they rewrote the complications behind the classic John-Myles-Priscilla marital melange to cover the new problem. They changed a angle in the old familiar Puritan triangle.

The new triangle is made up of a pretty white hen, a poor but honest cranberry, and the cranberry's father—a stuffy old turkey.

The turkey (Myles Standish?) for years has dominated his ruddy-cheeked boy (John Alden?) But the cranberry wants to get out from under his father's wing. He believes he could get ahead faster if he could win a place for life at the side of the little white hen (Priscilla Mullins?)

Well, true love wins out again. The red cranberry and the little white hen are to be united in a mock wedding ceremony this afternoon featuring a cranberry festival. And the farmers hope everybody will get the idea that chicken and cranberries do go together.

Lack of vitamin A in the diet may cause kidney stones, according to two scientists.

Loan Companies Face State Suit

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 2. (AP)—State authorities filed an anti-usury injunction suit in a Bexar county district court Saturday against two men who reportedly own and operate eight finance and loan companies in Texas.

Listed as defendants in a petition recorded in 45th district court were C. E. Crowe of Bexar county and R. K. Eckerd of Nueces county.

They are doing business, according to state officials, as:

The Modern Finance and Thrift company of San Antonio; Alice Finance company of Alice; Eagle Finance company of Robstown; Modern Finance and Thrift company of Dallas; Public Finance Service of Corpus Christi; Capitol Finance company of Corpus Christi; Bond Finance company of Corpus Christi; and Eagle Loan company of Corpus Christi.

State Asks Injunction

Signing the suit as plaintiffs were Price Daniel, state attorney general, and William N. Hensley, Bexar county district attorney.

The state asked that a temporary writ of injunction be granted restraining the defendants from further prosecution of their business until a final trial.

The state asked that the court then grant a permanent injunction preventing them from engaging in such business in Texas.

Judge C. K. Quin, of 57th district court, Saturday set a hearing on the temporary injunction for 9:30 a. m. Oct. 25 in his court.

The state claimed the two men, through their agents and employes, charged and received interest upon contracts in excess of 10 per cent per annum.

Claims Law Violated

This, according to the petition, is in violation of section II, article XVI, of the state constitution.

The petition alleged Crowe, and Eckerd, through their agents and employes:

"Are now and have been for more than 12 months engaged in the state of Texas in the business of habitually loaning money upon contracts for the use and detention of which usurious interests has been charged against and contracted to be paid by the borrower."

It listed 43 specific cases alleged and said excess interest had been demanded in at least 300 cases per month within six months prior to filing of the suit.

The state alleged a plan and design to evade the usury laws of Texas.

German People Look To West For Power To Halt Threat By Reds

(EDITOR'S NOTE: How do the people of post-war Germany themselves view the widening East-West split in which Berlin is the chief battleground?

Answers to this and other vital questions of the present are given in the following timely article, written exclusively for International News Service by one of a group of distinguished German journalists now visiting the United States.

He is Helmut Meyer-Dietrich, chief editor of the Berlin newspaper Tagesspiegel, a newspaperman of long and wide experience whose weekly publication Das Wochenende, in Prague, was banned by the Nazis because of its Democratic tendencies. Meyer-Dietrich was drafted into the German army in 1941 and served in Russia, France and Italy. Captured by American troops he served as interpreter for the occupation forces and later joined the Tagesspiegel, rising from reporter to chief manager in 1946 and chief editor in 1947.)

By HELMUT MEYER-DIETRICH
Written Especially for INS

NEW YORK, Oct. 2 — A fight over frontiers—a conflict of a geographical nature—may be settled by a compromise.

But a fight over principles is and must be a decisive struggle.

That is what makes the situation in Germany so terrible. And since Berlin is the center of this struggle, which is still a struggle and not a war, we German people have no time for any solution of a problem that is so vital to us.

Human rights are no different in Berlin than they are in New York.

Dispute Over Idealogies

The East-West conflict, contrary to its name, is not the result of geographic contrasts but of fundamental differences in thinking.

The West, while trying carefully to avoid giving Russia a pretext for unilateral measures, permitted things to develop to a point where Russia no longer needs any pretext at all.

Indeed, her unilateral actions in eastern Germany might be legalized with very little effort. The result has been a hesitant attitude on the part of political leaders in Western Germany. They are afraid that establishment of a German republic in the West might bring about a loss of territory which is really lost already.

And eastern Germany will remain lost so long as the West remains too weak to attract the east.

I observed for five years from the closest vantage point the conflict in Berlin. It is an old saying that one sees matter more clearly from a distance. But even now, when I am 5,000 miles from the hottest political spot in the world, I do not look with any more friendliness upon what I regard as a basic attack upon human rights.

Soviets Are Blamed

In Berlin there is a contempt of human rights on the part of the Soviets. Theirs is a policy of adventure. And modern technology shows us that there no longer are unbridgeable distances and that conflicts cannot be localized.

It may be a psychological peculiarity on the part of the German people that they never have been able to discover a proper relation to Democracy.

But to me it seems even more significant that twice within the life span of one generation, the Germans adopted Democracy only as a way out of military defeat.

That is the reason why Germans, who have never known real Democracy, are inclined to look upon it as their heir to all failings of the miserable systems that preceded so-called democratic regimes—first, the empire, and then national socialism.

Big Four Seek Solution

The close of the second World War has caused a deterioration in the German people's own psychological handicap.

Four different occupational powers have tried to solve it in four different ways.

There is Russian Communism, English Socialism, American Democracy and the French desire for security. All four systems have tried to assert themselves on German soil. Thus, some of the most important problems became impossible of solution.

One is De-Nazification. Another is indemnification and rehabilitation of the victims of Nazism.

Four different approaches to these paramount problems have rendered them unapproachable.

In the Russian zone, anyone who joins the Communist party is regarded as "de-Nazified."

In the British zone, experts have been exempted of Nazi charges.

In the French zone, a German willing to follow the French political line is likely to be exonerated.

Only in the American zone is the De-Nazification policy more or less firm.

But this has not helped very greatly because only a few miles away ex-Nazis are set free because of occupational abilities or a timely change in political principles.

West's Delays Assailed

The whole thing has definitely been mishandled. It might be far better to scrap the whole de-Nazification business. It serves only as a forum for prominent Nazis and discredits those who resisted Hitler.

But the lack of unity is not the principal reason for the present terrible situation in Germany.

It is rather the wait-and-see policy of the western powers, which gave ample time for the Russians to Sovietize their zone. Eastern Germany no longer is regarded by the Russians as an occupied country but as an annexed territory with a structure similar to that of the satellite states.

There is no point now in arguing whether or not Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, as proposed by Prime Minister Churchill, should have occupied all of Berlin.

Politics is based on facts, not missed opportunities. And Berlin today is a very important political fact, for the city has decided for the West.

Berlin is perhaps the only city in Germany where nationalist (and even national socialist) resentment plays no part in public life.

In Berlin, Democracy has truly become everybody's business, a matter of faith and conviction.

The difficulties which the citizen of Berlin has had to face three years after the war have turned him into a fanatical individualist who is not willing to sell his principles for potatoes. He prefers to struggle through the winter in an unheated and unlighted room rather than sell his freedom a second time.

For America, Berlin may not be important economically. But for Germany, the business ingenuity and inventive know-how of the Berliners are a tremendous asset for the western powers—a capital that will pay dividends far exceeding the cost of the air-lift.

Berlin is behind the iron curtain. Yet her sympathies are with those on the other side of it.

In this situation, terrible as it is, there is something good. It has taught the Germans to value their freedom and it brings home to the world the horrible realities hidden beneath Communism's claims of humanitarianism.

Whether Berlin is to be lost or made the nucleus of a free, cooperative and happier Europe depends on ability of the western powers to organize themselves quickly and without any further compromise.

Murray Comes To Aid Of Unions

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2 (AP) — CIO President Philip Murray sought today to take three left wing CIO unions off the spot in critical disputes which threaten their future.

The three unions have hit snags (A) in organizing atomic workers and (B) in bargaining with the West Coast shipping industry—in both cases mainly because the union officers refuse to swear they are not Communists.

Murray himself, while he is considered a leader of the CIO's dominant anti-Communist faction, has refused on principle to file a non-communist affidavit with the national labor relations board.

In coming to the aid of the harrassed unions, Murray—

1. Protested to the Atomic Energy Commission against its blacklisting of the United Electrical Workers and the United Public Workers on General Electric and University of Chicago projects.

2. Asked the Maritime commission to force Pacific waterfront employers to resume negotiations with Harry Bridges or leaders of other maritime unions who have failed to file the non-Communist affidavits reguired by the Taft-Hartley law before unions can use NLRB machinery.

Murray's own steelworkers union is pressing a court test of the Taft-Hartley affidavit requirement.

Pointing that out, the CIO chief wrote Chairman David E. Lilienthal of the Atomic Energy commission that the agency was "usurping its functions in prejudging the merits of this case." He arked Lilienthal to reconsider the order barring the two unions.

Murray made no mention of the commission's insistence that it took into account not only the matter of affidavits, but also "information of alleged Communist affiliation" of some of the union officers.

Mexico City Missionary Will Speak At Levelland Church

LEVELLAND, Oct. 2. (Special)—Miss Hannah Tebben, missionary in Mexico City for the Levelland Fifth Street Baptist church, will speak at the monthly meeting of the Men's Brotherhood of that church at 7:30 p. m. Monday at the church.

Miss Tebben, who is en route to Mexico City after spending the summer months in Santa Monica, Calif., doing graduate work, will tell of her missionary work in the Mexican capital. She comes to Levelland from Clarion, Iowa, where she spent several days in the home of her parents.

Unique in the area for being one of the few churches to subsidize its own full-time foreign missionary, the Fifth Street Baptist church retained Miss Tebben about nine months ago. Her work is confined to Mexico City and surrounding vicinity.

At the Monday night meeting, the Campbell quartet, a family group, will sing. Special guests will be all church officers, including those of the Sunday school, B.T.C., and women's circles.

Miss Tebben will leave Levelland Tuesday on her return trip to Mexico.

TSCW Agrees To End Dispute Over Water By Paying Bills

DENTON, Oct. 2. (AP)— Texas State College for Women decided today to end a three-year-old dispute with the city of Denton by paying its back water bills.

The water committee of the board of regents voted to ask the attorney general for an opinion whether to pay a $12,478 sewage bill or whether to take the matter to court.

The City commission last night suggested taking the sewage bill dispute to court if the college decides not to pay. The regents agreed to place in escrow enough money to pay the back sewage bill and to escrow future sewage bills until a decision is reached.

Warning Is Sounded On Hazards Of Winter Driving For Texans

AUSTIN, Oct. 2. (AP)—The hazards of winter driving brought a warning today from Public Safety Director Homer Garrison.

He sent a letter to all Texas Highway patrolmen, urging redoubled efforts to cut the toll of life and property during the cold months when driving hazards are increased by bad weather.

"Darkness, fog, rain, snow, ice, drowsiness, drinking — these are the hazards that confront us during the remainder of the year, three deadly months of bad weather and increasing accidents," Garrison told the patrolmen.

A total of 10,617 locker plants were in operation in the U. S. as of July, 1948, reports the Department of Agriculture.

Elementary School Is Heavily Damaged In Fire At Denton

DENTON, Oct. 2 (AP) — Pupils of Stonewall Jackson elementary school here still did not know today whether they would go to school Monday, and—if so—where.

Flames Friday night gutted the school building. Firemen fought four hours to extinguish the blaze, which threatened to destroy the building completely. The auditorium and some of the classrooms escaped the fire but were damaged by water.

Fire Marshal Eugene Cook estimated damage between $30,000 and $40,000.

SECOND APPEARANCE

YOUTHFUL appearing James Melton, who has had a full-fledged career as a singer of opera, of concert and of radio, will come to Lubbock for his Thursday concert from Fort Worth, where he is scheduled to broadcast his regular radio program from the Will Roges Memorial auditorium the preceding night.

In his radio appearance he will sing with the Dallas Symphony orchestra, directed by Dr. Frank Black, conductor of the International Harvester Symphonic orchestra.

Melton, who, because of his looks, charm and voice is a great favorite with college audiences, sang on the Tech Artists course ten years ago.

Since he says his kind of music is any kind that is good and in good taste, his program should be a popular one.

IKE'S DILEMMA — An impromptu comment Dwight Eisenhower made at a recent meeting of Columbia university alumni struck us as clever!

REAL CHARMER

SPEAKING of a Lubbock woman whose charm seems to develop with the years, one of her friends said, "I have never heard her say an unpleasant word about anyone. "What a wonderful tribute to have paid one.

It seems that years ago the woman's young daughter came in the room one day during a visit from a neighbor and repeated something derogatory about the guest that she had heard her mother say.

After being completely mortified over the incident, the Lubbock woman determined to search out the good qualities which can so often be found mingling even in the worst of us and to avoid expressing adverse criticism of people from then on.

And that she has done; although it has been years since she made that pledge.

College Exes Take Vows

THROCKMORTON, Oct. 2. (Special)—Miss Mary Ann Burrows, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Burrows, and Walter Frank Vernon, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Vernon of Spur, exchanged wedding vows in a double ring ceremony read Friday night at the First Baptist church by Rev. Norman A. Sanders. The bride is a former student of Texas Technological college and the bridegroom is a graduate of the college.

The bridal party stood before an arched trellis entwined with greenery and flanked with basket of white gladioli and candelabra bearing white tapers. Mrs. Cecil Fant, organist, and Walter Merriman, soloist, offered wedding music. Truman Burrows of Fort Worth, brother of the bride, and Winston Churchill of Sterling City lighted candles.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of bluish pink satin with a shoulder length veil of pink illusion which was attached to a seed pearl tiara. The bridal bouquet was of white orchids showered with stephanotis.

In Wedding Party

Attending the bride as matron of honor was Mrs. Jimmie Chandler who wore powder blue crepe and carried a colonial bouquet of pink carnations. Clint Formby of McAdoo served as best man and Truman Burrows, Winston Churchill, Andy Willingham of Roford and Austin Rose, jr., of Hereford were ushers.

Wedding guests were entertained at a reception given in the home of Mrs. A. A. Boyd, great aunt of the bride. COLLECTS CHRISTMAS

AN interesting hobby we learned about the other day is that of collecting anything and everything pertaining to Christmas.

The girl who does this has music boxes that play carols, Christmas phonograph records, cards from everywhere, including Yule greetings from Sweden, Germany and France.

She clips editorials, columns, stories and pictures of Christmas celebrations. She has menus of Christmastide, magazine covers, first editions of Christmas books and so on.

We wish the Christmas Lady would collect all the Scrooges who don't like Christmas and preserve them in pickle pars!

Through the Coral Doors

Hi Folks—

I met a great many of my out-of-town friends visiting my favorite hangout behind those Coral Doors at Broadway & N. All were excited over new fabrics and color schemes laid out by Fredda and Bee and Josie. Some give in reluctantly as the Studio molds their living into present-day designs—but once the tie is cut you can see them come to life and really get excited. Now I hope none of those having had this operation read this—but I'm afraid they will. Bee just asked me last week "Does anybody read your column Granpa?" Fredda told me Bee was a bit chargined on a trip to Midland and Lamesa last week. Everytime Fredda started to introduce her, the answer was always "Oh we know, you are Bee—we read all about you from Nosey." I must be pretty well read since I got Fredda into trouble last year by repeating something she said just before giving a talk in a nearby city.

Anne must be finding New York pretty lonely or pretty interesting since the Studio has had a letter most every day. It's mainly that every place she visits—like Lord & Taylor's, Georg Gensen's, Plummer's—she just goes home and writes a long letter about how much lovelier the Studio is than these places. Of course many of us knew this but its good for our home folks to find out first hand. I was so intrigued watching the girls plan new houses I almost overlooked a new shipment of Apple Pottery being unpacked. Josie had just completed a knock-out of a table—one that would really make you "Oh" and "Ah"—red and white runners, laid with red band Cockcorft service plates and new crackled, Peasant designed soups—all this on a dark table with a brass bird cage surrounded with tropical fruits, made a look-twice ensemble your friends would talk about for a long time. Anne says "Plummers just slaps china on a cloth—nothing exciting"—hope she reads this and if she will read my column each week I'll give her enough to really be homesick for our favorite corner.

See you next week—Decorators Studio—corner Broadway and N. Granes Nosey. Adv.

Pioneer Lubbock Residents To Celebrate Golden Wedding Day With Reception

On Wednesday, September 28, 1898, the wedding vows of John J. Dillard and Miss Ada Shackelford were exchanged at the Lubbock county court house. The fiftieth anniversary of this date is being celebrated today at open house in the Dillard home at 2908 Ave. A. Friends o fthe couple are invited to call between the hours of 2:30 and 5 o'clock this afternoon.

Hosts at the open house will be the four sons of the honored couple and their wives, Mr. and Mrs. Weldon B. Dillard, Mr. and Mrs. Bryan B. Dillard, Mr. and Mrs. Overton Dillard and Mr. and Mrs. Tillman Dillard, all of Lubbock.

The Dillards' 50 year old wedding gifts are to be on display.

Met At Banquet

Mr. Dillard and Mrs. Dillard, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Shackelford of Lubbock county, met in the fall of 1896 at a banquet given in the Lubbock Nicolett hotel. Following their marriage which was performed by Judge P. F. Brown who now lives at 710 Ave. O, the couple left on a wedding trip which took them to Plainview by buggy, to Canyon by mail hack and to the Dallas Fair by train. Both the wedding reception and a party held on their return to Lubbock from Dallas were given in the Dillard home which the bridegroom had built before his marriage.

For her wedding, Mrs. Dillard wore a gown of cream cashmere trimmed in mouseline de soie and orange blossoms. Wedding attendants were Dr. R. C. Lewis, James Garrott, Claude Green, Charles Boston, Lee Perry, J. F. Raley, and Misses Blanche Ramsey, Bessie Lang, Maggie Bullion, Maggie Gholson, Eula Reed and Ida Shackelford. Miss Nora Hunt was organist. At the wedding reception, Mrs. J. D. Caldwell was hostess.

When he married, Mr. Dillard, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Dillard of Denver, Tex., was Lubbock County attorney. After coming to Lubbock Aug. 22, 1898, he taught school for a year at Groves Neighbor, located between the present sites of Monroe and Shallowater. Afterwards, Mr. Dillard, who is now retired, brought the first printing press to Lubbock and published the Lubbock Avalanche from 1901 to about 1910. Following years of law practice, Mr. Dillard became a justice of the peace in 1931, serving until 1935 when he was elected Lubbock county judge, an office he held for four years.

Mr. and Mrs. Dillard have lived in Lubbock during their entire marriage. Among those attending their open house today will be their seven grandchildren and their two great-grandchildren.

THEN AND NOW—Upper photo is a reproduction of the wedding picture Mr. and Mrs. John J. Dillard had taken fifty years ago following their wedding at the Lubbock county court house. Below are photos showing how the couple looks today.

Priceless Collection

China Plates From Far And Near Acquired As Hobby

SEMINOLE, Oct. 2 (Special) — Mrs. T. O. Stark has acquired a priceless collection of china plates from the four corners of the earth that makes her hobby one of the most interesting among members of the Seminole Hobby club.

Mrs. Stark became a member of the club in 1943, choosing china plates as her hobby. She has studied extensively to become acquainted with little-known facts concerning rare china.

She centered her hobby around an old Prussian cake set given to her by her husband, former Gaines county judge. The set contained six small cake plates and a large matching one.

From that beginning her collection has grown to approximately 200 plates in all sizes, the smallest being one and one-fourth inches in diameter.

She has plates from almost every state in the union and many from foreign countries. Soldiers overseas in World War II sent plates to her from England, France, Belgium, Holland, Germany, Korea and Japan. She mentioned that these are some of her most highly prized possessions.

The collection includes plates so old that no mark appears on them.

The latest addition to Mrs. Stark's collection is a signed plate given to her by a niece, Mrs. Roy Davis of Waco. It is Bavarian china decorated with a circular wreath of Shasta daisies done in shades of green, white and yellow.

Among the most prized is an heirloom which has been in her family for more than 100 years. It has no mark, due to its great age.

Mrs. Stark, who has lived in Seminole 39 years, also has pieces of cut glass and other china pieces, as well as a collection of cups and saucers.

Council Talk Will Be On Chinese Customs

Mrs. J. M. Marshall will be guest speaker at a meeting of First Christian Women's council Monday at 1:15 o'clock at the church. Luncheon will not be served.

Now Is the Time to Layaway for Christmas

"Even the blind can see the value in a Zale DIAMOND"

We're quoting a customer who walked into our store the other day . . . a lady who was totally blind. She asked one of our salesmen to pick out a large diamond ring for her, and (in her own words) . . . "even though I can't see, I know that I can trust Zale's to give me the finest diamond for my money."

And you can depend upon Zale's doing just that! We admit we were pleased, not just because of the five-hundred-dollar sale, but because of the confidence this customer has in Zale's.

We've spent over 24 years giving our customers the best diamond buys, and we're proud of our reputation as THE place to buy diamonds.

P. S. Why not come in and let us show YOU our diamond values!

Downfall Of League Of Nations Started 16 Years Ago Saturday

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press Staff Writer

Saturday was the sixteenth anniversary of a memorable day which inaugurated developments that contributed greatly to the downfall of the League of Nations and inspired aggressions culminating in World War II.

It was on October 2, 1932, that the League of Nations commission, headed by Britain's Lord Lytton, presented its explosive report on Japanese aggression in Manchuria. Failure to act promptly and adequately on that report sent history off on an unhappy tangent. The way of it was this:

Began Military Action

The Japs on September 18, 1931 had begun military action in southern Manchuria, claiming that a state of chaos existed and that it was necessary for them to restore peace owing to Chinese inability. China appealed to the League of Nations and negotiations resulted in an agreement on December 10 that hostilities should cease forthwith and that Japan should withdraw from Manchuria as soon as possible. The Lytton commission was set up to investigate and report on circumstances.

However, Japan didn't withdraw from Manchuria. On February 18, 1932, Manchuria was proclaimed an independent nation (Manchukuo) under the rule of the former boy-emperor Henry Pu Yi. Nippon promptly recognized this new state, which was in fact a puppet with Pu Yi completely controlled by Tokyo. Thus the situation dragged on until the Lytton report was rendered in October.

Report Two-Fisted

The report was two-fisted. It called the turn on Jap aggression, and bluntly labeled Manchukuo as a puppet state. The marble palace on the shore of Lake Geneva fairly rocked with the impact of this castigation of a great power. The capitals of the world watched tensely to see how the league would handle the situation. Would sanctions be applied in this first flagrant case of aggression?

There was much talk in Geneva but no clear-cut answer. Japan stuck to her guns—literally—and finally withdrew formally from the league. She did it with indignation on her tongue but with guile in her heart, for she was bent on still further aggression to make herself ruler of a greater East Asia.

Paralysis began to settle on the League of Nations. An ambitious Mussolini noted the trend. If Japan could get away with aggression, so could he.

Ethiopia First Victim

Accordingly the dictator selected little Ethiopia as his first victim. He invaded it in 1935 without declaring war, and started his slaughter with modern weapons and gas. Emperor Haile Selassie resisted as well as he could with his primitive forces and outmoded equipment, but naturally was forced to quit. He himself left for Europe to appeal to the League of Nations.

So that was that! Then Il Duce, having waited a while to let things col off, stuck out that bull-dozer jaw of his and seized tiny Albania. Same result.

Meantime Hitler soaked up all this and came to the conclusion that the League of Nations was impotent, and that aggression was safe so long as you picked your victims with discretion. If Japan and Musso could get away with it, why not mighty Germany? So the Nazi dictator pursued his hunch until it finally resulted in a World war.

The League of Nation's failure to cope with the Japanse aggression was in no small degree responsible for its death. Now we have a new peace organization—and we shall see what we shall see.

Burnette Hunter Is Wed At Parsonage

Miss Burnette Hunter, daughter of Mrs. Thelma B. Hunter, Plainview highway, became the bride of Arthur Earl Penkert, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Penkert of Roberson, in a single ring ceremony read by Dr. C. A. Bickley, pastor of Asbury Methodist church in his home at 8:30 p. m. on September 17.

The bride wore a street length dress of powder blue wool jersey. She was attended by Miss Geneva Dean Collins of Lubbock who wore an identically designed dress of gray wool jersey. The bride wore white gardenias and the maid of honor's corsage was of white carnations.

Verdell Turner served the bridegroom as best man.

After a wedding trip to Roswell, N. M., the couple is at home at 2109 Thirteenth.

The bride graduated from Lubbock High school, and the bridegroom was graduated from Wolfforth High school and has attended Texas Tech.

Franz Joseph Haydn, composer of many beautiful symphonies was married to a woman who didn't like music. Haydn's wife is reputed to have cut up some of his newly composed music and made curling papers for her hair. Those musical scores would today be worth a fortune.

$200,000 Worth Of Heroin Removed From Italian Liner

NEW YORK, Oct. 2 (AP)—Customs men removed about $200,000 worth of heroin from the Italian Liner Vulcania yesterday.

Collector of Customs Harry M. Durning said he believed the smuggled drugs were sent here by "an organized mob" operating in Italy.

Durning added, "we think Lucky Luciano is involved."

Luciano, underworld figure, was deported to Italy several years ago.

Durning said 16 pounds of pure white powder heroin were found in two burlap bags in the steward's quarters aboard the Vulcania. He said yesterday's seizure was the fourth big drug capture this year and that he believed all attempted shipments were related.

Six messboys were questioned. No arrests were announced immediately.

Japan's Gang Leaders Are Being Given Permission To Recruit Convicts From Within Walls Of Prison

By HOWARD HANDLEMAN
INS Staff Correspondent

TOKYO, Oct. 2.—Japan's top ultra-nationalistic gang leaders are being given official permission to recruit convicts from within prison walls.

Prison officials gather the convicts into huge prison auditoriums to listen to the pro-emperor and sometimes anti-American recruiting speeches of the gang leaders.

The officials give the recruiting speeches their tacit approval by sitting respectfully by while the gang leaders, who pose as "Robin Hoods" protecting the welfare of the oppressed, make their talks.

This system, which in effect makes every prisoner in Japan part of a vast manpower pool for the ultra-nationalistic gangs of Japan's underworld, is continuing despite the fact that the Japanese government under American prodding has appropriated vast sums to fight gangsters.

The prison officials go further than merely making the hall available for the gang leaders. They give tacit approval to the suggestion that they give letters to released convicts to introduce them to the gang bosses.

Practice Is Normal

I sat with 1,200 young convicts in the auditorium of big Kosuge prison on the outskirts of Tokyo and heard one of the recruiting drives.

The Japanese think that the practice of recruiting gangsters from prisons is such a normal one that the gang leader who made the speech invited me to hear him and to write a story about how Japanese are anxious to take care of the unfortunate members of their society.

The gang leader was Haruo Yamada, who bosses gambling, theaters, restaurants, blackmarket stalls and assorted other rackets in Asakusa, the "Coney Island" section of Tokyo. He also is high in the councils of the sprawling Iijima-Gumi, which unites most of the gangsters of Japan in a super-gang organization.

Enthralled By Big Shot

The young convicts, most of whom were under 25, sat in their drab prison kimonos enthralled by the big shot, the man who had really made good in the rackets.

They liked it when he invited them to look him up after they were freed.

They liked it even better when he praised them for having spirit enough to have committed acts which landed them in prison.

But they really loved it when he said:

"The sort of spirit that you possess is most needed in building a new Japan for the sake of the emperor."

Every convict in the auditorium knew Yamada and his power.

Many, just like many others before them, will turn to him for help after they are freed.

Vaudeville Show Given

Yamada gave the convicts a high-priced vaudeville show before he took the stand, a show in which the entertainers cleverly:

1. Derided American efforts to achieve equality of sexes in Japan by burlesquing the high-heeled, gum-chewing Japanese girls who have learned "American Democracy."

2. Sang the stirring ballad of the great hero Hideyoshi, who told his followers "everything is right as long as you win."

3. Punned many English words which sound like Japanese words of different meaning.

4. Got back to the equality of sexes issue by a burlesque skit showing how it would be impossible for a man to bear a baby, so therefore equality was impossible.

A Patriotic Turn

5. Gave a patriotic turn to the entertainment by concluding the only thing to be done was to show more respect to pregnant women because they are preparing to bear "those who will put Japan on its feet again."

With that background, done so cleverly that the convict audience rocked with laughter, Yamada took the microphone and in high, kindly voice told the prisoners:

"I am Yamada of Yamaharu-Gumi in Asakusa and no doubt you have heard of me. For 37 years I have been in the same work.

"Because I am not as brave as you people I have never once passed through the gates of a prison as a prisoner. Neither have I ever been arrested.

"You, because of your spirit and sense of responsibility, were willing to risk your lives and reputations to take action. But because I was a coward I never went so far.

Spirit Is Needed

"The sort of spirit that you possess is most needed in building a new Japan for the sake of the emperor. With the help of the Americans the military clique has been destroyed, enabling us to create a new Japan for the emperor.

"I am giving you this entertainment as the head of the association for the expression of gratitude to the occupation forces. The Americans are giving us great aid in building a new Japan."

Then Yamada began to recruit.

"You should consider your term in prison as time spent in an isolation ward of a hospital," he said. "When your period of hospitalization is finished you will be free to enter the world again as responsible citizens.

"When you are free I want you to remember me. I live in a small house behind the nippon theater. Please feel free to call on me.

"Because I make so many of these comfort tours I cannot remember all of you, so please bring a letter of introduction from the educational director.

"I'll do what I can to help you. I will share my pot of rice with you."

That was the basis of the offer. Yamada is a gambler, and a strict code of the gamblers says that the man who eats from another man's pot of rice, becomes that man's slave-like follower.

More than half the farm families of the U. S. now are using freezing locker space for preserving their home food supplies, estimates the Department of Agriculture.

TENSION HIGHTENED

BANGKOK, Oct. 2. (AP)—Political tension heightened today with continued arrests of high-ranking Siam army officers and civilians and attempts to shoot two leaders of the military engaged in rounding up suspected rebels. Approximately 50 persons had been taken into custody, including two generals and other key officers.

Finely chopped parsley added to a bread stuffing gives it excellent flavor; use about a quarter cup of the parsley to two cups of finely cubed day-old bread.

WHERE IS THY STING?

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., (AP) — The city commission wants to take the sting away from bathers lounging on the famous beach next summer. A mechanical device rolling along the boardwalk will lay down a fog of DDT on the beach to eliminate mosquitos and other pests.

Mix a tablespoon of cinnamon with two tablespoons of sugar and sprinkle the blend over hot buttered toast; place under the broiler for a few seconds.

Green Mineral Rich In Uranium Is Discovered In Belgian Congo

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 2—Discovery of a new green mineral rich in uranium, the same kind that makes power and bombs, was announced today at Columbia university.

This green mineral is a relative of the yellow carnotite, from which the United States gets its domestic uranium in the rockies. Carnotite is one of the two best sources of the atomic stuff.

Whether the green mineral is plentiful is not yet known. The green crystals, small things clinging to mine walls, were found in the Belgian Congo and sent to Columbia for analysis. Like the yellow carnotite, the green stuff is about 10 per cent uranium.

May Be Important

If the new mineral proves a good uranium source, the discovery is the most important of its kind since the atomic bomb. More than 100 minerals containing uranium are known, but the stuff has been too difficult of extraction.

Consequently some geologists have published doubts whether the world can have an atomic age very long if it has to rely on the two good sources of uranium known up to World war two. These are pitchblende and carnotite. The amount of uranium available from them has been variously estimated, with the low being only enough to supply the entire power of the United States for two or three years, if Uncle Sam cornered the entire world's supply of the pair.

Discovery of the green mineral seems to let Russia into the picture, since it is also closely related to a mineral named tyuyamunite, that was first found in Russian Tuikestan. Beyond announcing that they were searching for new sources of uranium, the Russians have said nothing.

Named Sengierite

The new mineral was named Sengierite, for Edward Sengier, managing director of the Union Miniere Du Haut Katanga, where the green stuff was discovered. J. F. Vaes, mineralogist of this company, lacking apparatus to study the discovery, sent small samples to Dr. Paul F. Kerr, head of Columbia's department of geology. Kerr, with the aid of H. D. Holland and Professor T. I. Taylor, used X-rays to find the uranium and its percentage.

"One never knows," Prof. Kerr said today, "whether a newly discovered mineral will be an important source, or just go on being a rare mineral. We don't know the distribution of sengierite in the earth's crust."

The Columbia scientists compared the new mineral with 53 others which also contain uranium before deciding that this is an entirely new one.

Giving Russians Own Medicine Suggested

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 2 (AP) — Maj. Gen. William J. Donovan suggested the United States give Russia "a little taste of her own medicine" by putting clamps on the Kiel and Suez canals.

Donovan, New York lawyer and war-time head of the office of strategic services, told the Missouri Bar association last night he did not think the Marshall plan's economic aid was enough for western Europe.

"We must give actual military aid," he said.

"Instead of letting Russia hold all the cards, we ought to take a look at the ports she needs—and ports that are controlled by the United States, Britain and France. We ought to give her a little taste of her own medicine and see if we can't apply a little Berlin to the Kiel and Suez canals."

To broil tomatoes choose 6 medium-sized tomatoes, wash and slice off the stem top, then halve; if the halves do not stand straight even off the bottoms by slicing thinly. Mix about ¾ teaspoon salt, a dash of freshly-ground pepper, a dash of paprika, a quarter teaspoon of dried crumbled basil or a little fresh chopped basil, with about ¼ cup fine dry bread crumbs and about a tablespoon of melted butter or margarine. Spread a little of this mixture on each tomato half. Broil under moderate heat until tomatoes are hot through and topping is lightly browned.

Incomes From Farms In County Are High

Indicating good management, and a willingness to accept and use new and progressive methods, 70 per cent of the 2,121 farms in Lubbock county are rgturning an annual cash income above the average for the nation's farmers, on the basis of a study announced yesterday by the research department of Capper's Farmer.

The study was based on figures from the farm census bureau of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, and showed further that only 260 of the 3,072 counties in the United States are in as good or better position as this county.

In each of the 260 counties 70 per cent or more of the farms had incomes above the national farm average ,which in 1947 was $5,150 per farm.

By comparison, there are 1,662 counties in which less than 30 per cent of farms yield an income as good as the national average.

The farm magazine's research workers rated each county on the basis of the proportion of its farms with an income above the national average. Income was the value of farm products sold or used by the farm household.

They tabulated figures on 5,859,169 farms in the United States which showed a total cash income of $30,174,744,000 last year.

The announcement did not give figures on average income of Lubbock county farmers.

To make Oeufs Brest to serve with a supper of a casserole dish and a green salad, mash a clove of garlic until it is entirely disintegrated. Now mash it into three or four tablespoons of butter or margarine. Cut a small loaf of French or Vienna bread into thick slices, but do not cut entirely through to bottom crust. Spread the garlic butter between the slices, and heat in a moderate oven until very hot and crust is crisped.

Democratic Official Has Dull Life After Exciting Visit To Republican Convention

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—This is a political secret which probably shouldn't be told. It's a good one on those Republicans.

Anyhow, it happened in Philadelphia at the GOP fish fry when with a lot of horn-tooting and banner floating the Repubs decided that Tom Dewey was their man.

This isn't, however, a piece about T. E. D. It's about an upstart Irishman named Vincent Gaughan, aged 29, who happens to be executive secretary of the young Democrats.

Assignment Unknown

Whether he was assigned to show up in the city of brotherly love as a spy is not known. But there he was. Vince, being a good contact man, had friends among the enemy and somehow got his lunch hooks on one of those coveted purple ribbons that said "Sergeant At Arms, Republican Convention.

Of course, as any reporter who worked the convention knows, a badge wouldn't get you in to the hall. But that didn't stop our Vince. Sans ticket, he stood outside the convention hall until a group of Taft supporters began to single file into the place for a whoop-ti-do demonstration. He grabbed a "Vote For Taft" banner and fell in line.

Free To Roam

Once inside, he was free to roam the acres of the biggest smoke-filled room in the world—with that purple strip of silk pinned on his lapel.

So what did our Vince do? He got up there on the platform with the great and near-great of the Republican party. And when Joe Martin, Speaker of the House shouted for the sergeant at arms to "clear the aisles" there was Democrat Vince, brushing Deweyites this way and that.

Nowadays, Vince is back in Washington helping to run the campaign show for the young Democrats. Seems rather dull after his foray among the enemy. About all he has to amuse him now is the fan mail he gets.

Gets Arkansas Letter

He got a letter yesterday from a young scamp in Arkansas who said he was from a family of 17 —"most of 'em of voting age." He said he was a sober lad, good to his folks and all that. All he wanted the Democrats to do was furnish him $1500 so he could buy a second-hand car. He said he'd use it to help round up votes for Harry Truman.

Vince wrote the youth that he sure could use a few votes in Arkansas but that the Democrats didn't have the money to go around buying people cars.

Another fellow—this one from California—must have been reading the papers. He started out his letter by saying that he was a fireman, getting right close to Vince's own heart. The young Demo for a long time has held a union card in the New York State Fire Fighters Association (local 282 AFL).

Letter Quoted

This guy started his letter: "Dear Fellow Fire Eater."

Seems that all he wanted was $15,000 — "the estimate, maybe more when the bricklayers get through"—to build a new house. Needless to say this one was a fine, old card-carying Democrat who was going to fill his house with people who'd vote the right way—if he could get it built by Nov. 2.

Vince wrote him a nice letter, too.

I understand the GOP has some nice ones on the Democrats, too. And we'll get even sometime next week.

Clothing Firm Executive Dies, Four Texans Hurt In Collision

STAFFORD, Mo., Oct. 2 (AP) — An executive of a Texas clothing manufacturing firm was killed and four other persons injured in a two-car collision on Highway 66, one mile east of here.

Jack Rand, 50, of Philadelphia, vice-president of a clothing manufacturing firm at San Antonio, died a short while after arriving at a hospital.

Rand apparently had been returning to Philadelphia after a business trip to Texas when his car and one driven by J. M. Gay, 50, of Texas City, Tex., collided.

Mrs. Nina Gay, 48, suffered a fractured leg. Gay, Mrs. Marjorie Gay, 22, their daughter-in-law, and her 14-months-old son, Joseph Gay, jr., suffered less severe injuries. The Gays were enroute to Texas after visiting in St. Louis. Mrs. Marjorie Gay lives near Camp Hood, Tex.

Registration Office Is Opened At Slaton

SLATON, Oct. 2 (Special) — A draft registration office, for the convenience of late registrants and those to become 18 years of age, in this vicinity, has been opened at the chamber of commerce office in the City Hall here, it was announced today by P. G. Meading, C. of C. manager who yesterday qualified as a registrar and will have charge of the work here.

The office here will work in cooperation with central registration headquarters in Lubbock, and will service applicants the same as at the central office, the announcement said.

APPROVAL IS GIVEN TO SLATON OFFICE

At the area central registration office here, which was designated to serve Lubbock, Crosby, Garza and Lynn counties, Mrs. Viola Younger, office supervisor, said that approval was given the Slaton office as a convenience to those in that area to serve local residents and transients alike.

Mrs. Younger said similar registrars have been named, and authorized to act, at Lorenzo, Ralls, Crosbyton, Post, Tahoka, and O'Donnell.

She said the law provides that youths becoming 18 years of age are to register within five days of their birthday, and that they may register at any of the offices, or at the central office here.

Lions Club Jubilee Minstrels To Be Presented In City Oct. 12-13

Expected to reach a new high in entertainment, the third annual rendition of the Lions club Jubilee Minstrels, a top notch show put on by amateurs, is to be given at the high school auditorium here Tuesday and Wednesday nights, Oct. 12 and 13, starting at 8:15 o'clock, it was announced yesterday by Dr. Clyde C. Craig, director.

The show is sponsored and produced through efforts of members of the Lions, and the cast is made up almost exclusively of club members who give freely of their time to the many phases of the show's production. Proceeds go into the club's civic welfare fund through which various projects for civic betterment are financed.

JIMMIE ALLARD

Jimmie Allard Star

The show this year will be sparked by the presence of Jimmie Allard, of Fort Worth, star of vaudeville and minstrel roles.

In the cast of the minstrel proper will be about 70 people, and a dozen or more others will be seen in specialty vaudeville, and between-acts numbers, according to Director Craig.

The show is to be presented in an entirely new setting, the announcement said. New costumes have been bought for the cast, special scenery has been designed, and new lighting effects have been worked out to add to effectiveness and glamor of the rendition.

Usual Order Reversed

Craig said the usual order of minstrel presentation has been reversed, with the usual second act to be presented first, but this, he added, gives zest to the show because in this way the first act will weave in a story laid along the banks of the Mississippi that will build up to a reason for the minstrel show.

In line with the club's efforts to be of maximum civic benefit through the show, a Monday night (Oct. 11) show is to be given for students in Texas Tech college, as was done last year.

This performance is open only to college students, and a special campaign is to be carried out on the campus this week through the Tech Chamber of Commerce for a full house. All profits from the Monday night show go into the Tech C. of C. building fund, through which it is hoped a civic activities center can be built on the campus.

Cooperation Is Pledged

Full cooperation in this phase of the show project has been pledged on the campus.

Tickets for the Tuesday and Wednesday performances are to go on sale Monday at a special booth in the Hilton hotel lobby, Craig said, and those desiring to see the show were urged to buy early, because Lions club officials anticipated a sell out both nights.

Tickets are to be $1.20 and $1.80, tax included. All seats in the high school auditorium are on a reserved basis. The higher priced tickets are for the first floor in front of the balcony line. The others are balcony seats and those under the balcony.

LIONS CLUB JUBILEE MINSTRELS SET—Scheduled for the third annual presentation Tuesday and Wednesday nights, Oct. 12 and 13, at the high school, the Lions club Jubilee Minstrels cast is shown here in a picture taken during last year's show. Club officials have said the benefit show this year will be enlarged, with all new costumes, scenery, and more effective lighting. Tickets go on sale Monday at a booth in the Hilton hotel lobby.

Report Shows Lubbock School System Has High Certification Among Its Teachers

Superintendent R. W. Matthews' annual report to the Board of Education is being prepared and delivered in installments this year, with the first bulletin giving a full report on the status of teachers in the Lubbock Public schools. This report was delivered to board members this week.

A total of 361 teachers and administrators are employed by the school system, the report showed. Of this number 308 are white teachers, 30 are principals and other special teachers, 22 are negro teachers, and one a negro principal.

Local System Impressive

A check of certification showed the local system to be high, with 317 teachers holding permanent certificates, 28 with first class certificates, five special, and 11 who have made application for their certificates.

Ninety teachers in the system have had 21 years or more in the teaching profession, and 126 have been teaching from 11 to 20 years.

In preparation for teaching, the faculty of the Lubbock Public schools also rated high, with 92 teachers having received Masters of Arts or Scenice degrees, and 266 holding Bacherlor of Arts or Science degrees. Only three members of the local faculty do not have collge degrees, but have adequate certificating.

Average age of teachers in the entire school system was 38.3 years, while the average age of the 75 new teachers in the system was 30.9 years.

The second chapter of the report from Superintendent Matthews to the board will be delivered about the middle of October and will deal with football in the Lubbock schools.

Applicants For Naval Flight Training To Be Interviewed

Applicants for naval flight training from the Lubbock area will have an opportunity to obtain a personal interview with Lt. Charles C. Angle, representative of the Office Of Naval Officer Procurement, Dallas, on Monday and Tuesday of this week.

Angle will conduct the interviews at the Navy recruiting station, Room 206, postoffice building.

All flight students accepted will begin their flight training at Pensacola, Fla., and will receive their naval aviator designations and commissions at the completion of advanced training at Corpus Christi.

The Navy is seeking 2,000 aviation cadets during the current fiscal year for classes beginning every two weeks. Advance information and preliminary interviews may be obtained at the recruiting office.

DELETED PERSONS COULD BE DEAD

Three Well-Known Names Are Missing From '49 Social List

By MARTHA HEARNEY
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2—Henry Wallace, Alger Hiss and one-time Lana Turner date John Alden Talbot, jr., are missing from the 1949 social list and, if you like, may be presumed dead as far as the list's publisher is concerned.

At any rate Mrs. Carolyn Hagner Shaw, when asked why the trio was dropped from the capital's elite corps of the socially acceptable, ventured the information that death is very frequently the cause for such deletion.

Death One Reason

The third party candidate, the un-American activities committee witness and the ubiquitous man-about-town have all received the accolade in previous editions of the 15-year-old guide to gilt-edge guests lists.

Mrs. Shaw laughed lightly when asked why they had been cast into exterior social darkness this year.

She explained:

"Those decisions are made by a five-member board of governors. And, as a matter of fact, I make a point of not knowing why people have been dropped."

She added, after a profound pause:

"Of course, people are dropped if they are dead."

Non-Residence Also Cause

And, after another pause:

"Or if they are involved in unpleasant divorce cases . . . or for many other reasons. You can take your choice. I couldn't say exactly what was responsible in these three cases."

And, as an afterthought, she said:

"Non-residence is sometimes a reason, too."

Wallace and Hiss both gained listing originally through their official government status.

Talbot was a comparative unknown until his blonde social bride filed suit for divorce on their Florida honeymoon and named actress Lana Turner as co-respondent.

Chief Justice Given Due

Miss Turner's name was later withdrawn from the case.

Since then Talbot has lapsed into the public prints and even into a national picture magazine as a lad with a marked taste for feminine society and an affinity for news cameras.

Mrs. Shaw, in announcing that the new edition of the social list was available for the 1948 season, noted that it has finally been decided that the Chief Justice of the United States outranks an ambassador of a foreign power.

And, she said austerely and with some satisfaction:

"The social climbers, many of whom make application each year for inclusion in the social list, as usual, failed to make the grade."

Woman Builds Home For Son's Release

TULSA, Oct. 2 (AP)—A 55-year-old mother is building a two-room home to obtain release of her 14-year-old son from a correctional school.

"You will have to have a home before J. R. can be released to you," a juvenile probation officer told Mrs. Cora Lewis last summer.

So, by herself, the mother has framed the house, using lumber purchased with funds earned by washing.

Now she needs flooring and roof and a fraternal organization, donating $25, has started a drive to help her.

"I can put on the roof—if I can just get it," she says.

Widow Of Former Presidential Candidate Claimed In Missouri

ROGERS, Ark., Oct. 2 (AP)—Mrs. May Leake Harvey, widow of one-time presidential candidate W. H. (Coin) Harvey, died last night in Exeter, Mo. She was 81.

She was the second wife of Harvey, Liberty party candidate for president in 1932 and bi-metalism crusader for almost half a century.

Until Harvey's death in 1936, they made their home at Monte, Ark., four miles east of Rogers.

Mrs. Harvey will be buried in Exeter. Funeral services will be held Sunday.

New Oil Field Discovery In Northwest Gaines County, Plan To Deepen Inactive Yoakum Wildcat Top South Plains News

A POSSIBLE new oil field discovery in Northwest Gaines County was the highlight in the petroleum activity on the South Plains this past week. Next of importance on the petroleum front was the report of an intention to deepen an inactive wildcat for a Devonian test in the Wasson field of Southwest Yoakum County.

Commercial production from the Devonian appears to have been found by Argo Oil Corporation No. 1-N Jones, 660 feet from north and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 496, block G, CCSD & RGNG survey, 10 miles southwest of Denver City in Northwest Gaines County.

Two-Hour Test Made

On a two-hour drillstem test at 11,707-175 feet, using a 1,330-foot water blanket, the venture recovered the water blanket, cut with oil, and 2,300 feet of free oil. There was also some oil-cut drilling mud. No formation water developed during the test.

Operator was scheduled to drill ahead to 11,205 feet, then run another drillstem test.

On the west side of the Wasson 5,000 field, five miles northwest of Denver City, Pikes & Murchison No. 17-C Elliott is to be drilled deeper to around 12,000 feet, in an effort to find production from the Devonian. It has been shutin on a bottom of 7,515 feet in lower Permian lime since April 26, 1948. Down to that level, no shows of oil or gas had been logged.

Starting immediately, a rotary rig is to be moved in, and the Southwest Yoakum wildcat is to begin deepening.

The drillsite is 1,070 feet from east and 1,312 feet from south lines of section 832, block D, John H. Gibson survey.

Well Is Completed

Stanolind Oil and Gas Company No. 2 Birtie Brown has been completed as a commercial oil well in the Landon-Strawn field of South-Central Cochran County. On a 24-hour flowing test, the initial production was 237 barrels of 41.9 gravity oil, with no water. A 11/64 inch choke was applied to govern the flow.

Gas-oil ratio was 378-1. Production was natural, from the formation between 10,389 feet and 10,542 feet.

Location is 2,655 feet from north and 660 feet from east lines of section 4, block L, psl survey.

A portable testing unit was being moved into Woodley Petroleum Company's No. 1 J. J. Alderson, et al, East-Central Hockley County discovery, 660 feet from north and west lines of section 10, block A, R. M. Thompson survey. Operator is to test zones above the recently found pay to check oil shows previously by-passed.

Location Is Spotted

Last week, this venture acidized, began swabbing, and recovered 148 barrels of oil in eight hours from a section at 5,905-65 feet. The higher prospective pays at 5,840-70 feet and 5,875-900 feet.

George P. Livermore has spotted another location in the West Smyer field, recently opened in East-Central Hockley County. It is to be the No. 1 Ellwood estate, 660 feet from south and east lines of section 25, block A, R. M. Thompson survey.

Projected depth is 6,200 feet, with rotary, for a test into the Glorieta-Permian.

Honolulu Oil Corporation No. 2-A-13 Ellwood, quarter-mile offset to Honolulu's East-Central Hockley County discovery, of the West Smyer field and 660 feet from west and 1,980 feet from north lines of section 13, block A, R. M. Thompson survey, was pulling tubing, preparing to acidize.

No Gauges Reported

On the last test, it swabbed for 10 hours and recovered oil cut six per cent acid water at the end of the period. No gauges on any oil or fluid produced have been reported. Plugged-back total depth is 6,019 feet.

On an Ellenburger exploration in Northeast Terry County, Seaboard Oil Company of Delaware No. 1 E. M. Hinson, 660 fet from north and west lines of [illegible] 91, block 4-X, psl survey, was below 11,102 feet, drilling lime. The town of Brownfield lies about 10 miles southwest.

Hole toward solid granite was still being made by Sunray Oil Corporation and Skelly Oil Company at their No. 1 Kimbrough, Southeast Parmer County venture, 13 miles north of Muleshoe. Last report had it under 9,221 feet, going ahead through granite wash and shale.

It is 330 feet from north and 990 feet from east lines of section 23, Doud & Keefer subdivision.

Is Boring Ahead

Sun Oil Company No. 1 A. L. Haberer, 660 feet from north and east lines of section 8, block 2, W. E. Halsell subdivision, lone prospector in Castro County, was boring ahead from 7,470 feet through lime and shale.

The new Lubbock county prospector, in the southwest portion of the county, Honolulu Oil Corporation No. 1 W. C. Ratliff, 660 feet from north and east lines of section 10, block AK, EL&RR survey, was below 4,630 feet, penetrating lime. Operator was planning to run a drillstem test shortly.

The city of Lubbock lies about 10 miles northeast. Contract depth is 5,800 feet, for a test into the Clear Fork section of the lower Permian.

Spudded To 415 Feet

Phillips Petroleum Company No. 1 Kary, slated 11,000-foot wildcat in north-central Lubbock county, had spudded to 415 feet in redbeds and was drilling ahead.

Location is one mile northeast of Monroe, and 608 feet from west and 645 feet from south lines of the northwest quarter of section 25, block D-7, EL&RR survey.

Amerada Petroleum Company was deepening its northeast Lubbock county venture, the No. 1 Stribling, 1,980 feet from north and 660 feet from east lines of section 9, block D-7, psl survey. It had passed 7,729 feet in lime.

In northeast Gaines county, Argo No. 1-B Jones, 465 feet from south and west lines of north half of south half of section 31, block AX, psl survey, was boring ahead 4,390 feet in dolomite.

The other Argo project on the Jones lease, the No. 1-C, was continuing below 3,335 feet in anhydrite. It is 660 feet from south and west lines of the north three-quarters of section 32, block AX, psl survey.

Approximately 14 miles southwest of Lamesa, in extreme southeast Gaines, Magnolia Petroleum Company was past 7,599 feet in lime with its No. 1 Hicks, 660 feet from north and west lines of tract 16, league 273, Loving CSL survey.

Will Resume Drilling

Venturing toward 12,000 feet in south-central Gaines, Shell Oil Company, Inc., No. 1 Hawkins was preparing to resume drilling below 9,209 feet in lime after recovering lost drill collars.

Location is 13 miles south of Seminole, and 1,983 feet from north and 665 feet from east lines of section 8, block A-23, psl survey.

Attempting to test the San Andres for commercial production in west-central Gaines county, Cities Service Oil company No. 2 Proctor was running tubing, preparatory to acidizing. Interested observers think this discovery will be completed from that horizon.

Original depth was at 7,760 feet. The prospect is now on a plugged-back bottom of 5,179 feet.

Location is 1,980 feet from north and west lines of section 355, block G, CCSD&RGNG survey.

After recovering almost no oil and some water on recent swabbing tests, Honolulu No. 1 Shelby county school land fee, Northwest Garza county prospector, has been plugged and abandoned on a bottom of 3,813 feet.

This failure is 3,360 feet from north and 440 feet from east lines of Shelby county school land survey, abstract 397.

No Oil, Gas Signs

Seaboard Oil Company of Delaware No. 2 Lee, venturing toward 10,000 feet in southeast Dawson county, 440 feet from north and east lines of section 47, block 34, T-5-N, T&P survey, 15 miles southeast of Lamesa, was drilling ahead from 8,427 feet in lime.

Recent cores and drillstem tests on this wildcat have shown no signs of oil or gas.

In south-central Dickens county, four miles northeast of Spur, Magnolia, Petroleum Company No. 1 Wiley was bottomed at 2,620 feet in anhydrite, waiting on cement. It had run 9 5-8th inch casing at 2,615 feet with 900 sacks. After the cement cures on this intermediate string of pipe, operator plans to drill out and drill ahead.

Location is 660 feet from west and north lines of section 305, H&GN survey. Projected depth is 8,200 feet, in hopes of an Ellenburger test.

Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 2 T. E. Lutrick, 660 feet from north and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 17, block D-8, EL&RR survey, one location to its No. 1 Lutrick, small Cisco lime producer in south-central Hale county, was past 5,416 feet, drilling dolomite.

Location Is Staked

In Northwest Dawson county, Tide Water Associated Oil Company has staked location for a 5,200-foot, rotary wildcat, its No. 1 Turner, 660 feet from north and east lines of south half of section 2, block C-39, psl survey.

The drillsite is one and a half miles northwest of Welch. The Welch pool lies about 2½ miles south.

A little south of the same area, Childress Royalty Company No. 1 Scanlon was drilling ahead from 4,578 feet in lime and gyp. It is 467 feet from south and east lines of section 89, block M, EL&RR survey. Projected depth is 5,000 feet.

Honolulu and Southern Minerals Corporation No. 1 G. M. Newsome, Central Terry County wildcat, 660 feet from north and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 47, block T, D&W Ry survey, had passed 3,290 feet and was deepening through shale.

This venture is five miles southeast of Brownfield and 12 miles northeast of the Adair field.

New Gaines County Discovery Is Top Oil News Over South Plains

ceived two new commercial producers within the past seven days.

Stanolind Oil & Gas Company has completed another of its many Anton-Irish projects, the No. 1 C. E. Myatt, for an initial production of 32.09 barrels of oil per day. Accompanying the 24-hour pumping test were 80 per cent water and a gas-oil ratio calculated at 284-1. Gravity of the petroleum was 30 degrees.

The oil came from a zone at 5,988-6,181 feet, following an 8,000-gallon acid treatment.

Location of this recent completion is 660 feet from west and south lines of lease in section 7, block DT, HE&WT survey.

The other development is Gulf Oil Corporation No. 4-T E. K. Hufstedler, 660 feet from north and 4,320 feet from east lines of section 16, block DT, HE&WT survey. It pumped 14 hours and 30 minutes to make a 24-hour potential of 174 barrels of 28.2 gravity oil, plus three per cent water.

Gas-oil ratio was 58-1. The pay section between 5,808 feet and 6,070 feet was acidized with 8,000 gallons.

Active Projects Listed

Active Anton-Irish field projects and their operations:

Stanolind No. 6-B Lee Irish had moved in a reverse rig and was preparing to drill the plug on 5½ inch casing set at 5,470 feet with 200 sacks of cement.

Stanolind No. 4-A Harral was going ahead from 5,528 feet in lime.

Stanolind No. 4-B Harral had passed 3,669 feet and was penetrating anhydrite and shale.

A pump was being installed at Stanolind No. 4 Myatt, bottomed at 6,000 feet.

Stanolind No. 4 Rollingsford Savings Bank was swabbing out the hole after an 8,000-gallon acid treatment at 5,330-637 feet. Total depth is 6,050 feet, in lime.

A bottom hole pressure test was being run prior to completion at Stanolind No. 7 Blackman on a total depth of 6,100 feet.

Stanolind No. 5 Rollingsford Saving Bank was on 6,050 feet, installing a pump.

Stanolind No. 4-B Sneed, bottomed at 5,968 feet, was taking a bottom hole pressure test.

Sniffer To Evaluate Samples Of Perfume

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 2 (AP) — Samples of a perfume cache believed to be worth from $30,000 to $50,000 were en route to New York today for evaluation by a "professional sniffer."

Detective Sgt. Bill Lyle said police hope a New York expert can determine the actual value of the perfume and perhaps tell where it was manufactured.

The perfume—300 four and a half ounce bottles — was found yesterday in an Atlanta hotel room. Lyle said local perfume dealers believe the unlabelled bottles contain an expensive perfume made in France. They estimated its value at from $17.50 to $22 an ounce, but referred police to a New York expert.

The detective said the perfume was found in a room rented to a man who paid his hotel bill but left town owing bills totaling $90. The man has not been found.

Lyle theorized that the perfume was smuggled into this country because no tax stamps were on the bottles.

Science Set Back; Kiss Testing Out

LONDON, Ont., Oct. 2 (AP) Science received a setback yesterday when a machine built by ingenious medical school students to measure the intensity of kisses was banned by school authorities before its first public appearance.

It had been planned to try it out at a frosh dance in Port Stanley but students said Dean J. B. Collip turned thumbs down on the proposal.

"The machine is to test the strength of the ordicularis oris muscle (lips to laymen)" explained a student.

"An electrode is placed between the lips of the couple and the tension during osculation is measured in alpha waves a second."

He said that if any "specialized" type of kissing was indulged in, the machine hoisted a red flag and a sign saying "tilt."

NEW VOTE APPEAL

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2 (U.P.) — The Dewey-Warren club in nearby Arlington county, Va., came up with a new vote-catching appeal for the GOP today.

Club members offered to serve as baby sitters or keep an eye on the kitchen for housewives who want to go to the polls Nov. 2.

PILOT IS INJURED

SANTIAGO, Cuba, Oct. 2 (U.P.)— Charles Graham, 20, Miami, Fla., was injured seriously yesterday when a plane he was piloting from Miami to the Dominican republic went out of control and crashed while landing here.

Fate Plays Very Cruel Trick On Newly-Wed Couple; Bride For 30 Minutes Drops Dead

LEWISTON, Mont., Oct. 2. (INS) —Fate played a cruel trick on a newly-wed couple.

It was close to the turn of the century when John Kimmel took himself a bride in Great Falls. The young couple settled down to a happy married life in the progressive Montana town.

But something wasn't quite right. They decided to call it off and follow their own paths.

Mrs. Kimmel later became Mrs. Erickson and settled in East Grand Forks, N. D., where she ran an apartment house.

Kimmel Remarries

Kimmel also remarried and moved to Flathead Lake in Glacier National park.

However, tragedy struck again. Both Kimmel and Mrs. Erickson lost their second spouses. Mrs. Erickson went to Minneapolis to live while Kimmel returned to Great Falls.

During a visit to Great Falls Mrs. Erickson met her first husband again. They visited amicably and decided to try married live again. They sold all their property and planned to retire and live in comfort.

Go To Lewiston

Thursday the couple left Great Falls and drove to Lewistown to be married. They arrived after the courthouse was closed and had to wait until Friday morning to get their marriage certificate.

They walked the four blocks to the home of Rev. W. S. Traweek, Methodist minister, and were married. Mrs. Kimmel, now 67, remarked that she was a little tired from the walk and asked her husband to get his car.

Before leaving for Minneapolis on their second honeymoon the Kimmels stopped in a store to shop. Mrs. John Kimmel, a bride of 30 minutes, dropped dead of a heart attack in the store.

Money Dispute Of Bandleader, Wife Settled Out Of Court

NEW YORK, Oct. 2 (AP)—The money dispute between Bandleader Artie Shaw and his wife, Novelist Kathleen Winsor, yesterday was reported settled out of court.

Arnold R. Krakower, Mrs. Shaw's attorney, said that although she probably would seek a divorce, all "financial and matrimonial disputes" have been settled.

The attorney added that Shaw has dropped an annulment action which charged that previous Mexican divorces of both were illegal.

Mrs. Shaw also abandoned a counter-claim, seeking a separation on grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment, and court action seeking an accounting of joint funds.

Krakower said the agreement also "confirms the validity of the marriage relationship."

The couple married in October, 1946.

Censors In Spain Ban American Film For "Theological Errors"

MADRID, Oct. 2 (AP)—The American film "Gentlemen's Agreement" was banned in Spain because it condoned divorce, showed no differences between Jews and Christians and contained "theological errors," a board of censors source said yesterday.

The president of the board of censors scheduled a news conference today, at which a fuller explanation of the reasons for the ban may be forthcoming.

The informant said recommendations for correction of the "theological errors" were made by Father Juan Fernandez, the board's church member, but that the representatives of the producers declined to make the delations. He said the decision to bar the film was unanimous.

The film censorship board is appointed by the minister of education.

Account Published

An account of the banning of the film was published in the New York Times on Thursday. The Madrid dispatch said "according to a source close to the board, the banning order stipulated that while it was a Christian duty to 'stimulate love among individuals, societies, nations and peoples,' this should not extend to Jews."

The Chancery office of the New York archdiocese of the Roman Catholic church issued this statement from Francis Cardinal Spellman:

"I do not know what was actually said in Spain, who said it, or why it was said, but I do know it is untrue to say that the 'Christian attitude' to 'stimulate love among individuals, societies, nations and peoples' does not extend to the people of the Jewish race and faith.

Follows Commandment

"Catholic doctrine follows the commandment of God: 'Thou shall love the Lord thy God with they whole heart and thy whole soul . . . and thy neighbor as thyself.' And when Christ was asked to explain who was his neighbor, he gave utterance to the unforgettable parable of the good Samaritan, praising the Samaritan for his loving care of one who did not belong to his race or religion, ending with the command; 'Go, do thou in like manner.'

"This is the 'Christian attitude.' This I repeat is Catholic doctrine in Rome, Jerusalem, Madrid and in Kabul. It was Catholic doctrine 2,000 years ago. It is Catholic doctrine today and will be Catholic doctrine forever."

League Issues Statement

The anti-defamation league of B'Nai Brith issued a statement Thursday in Atlantic City, N. J. It said in part:

"The reasons given by the Spanish film censorship board for the banning of the film, 'Gentlemen's Agreement,' is the most shocking expression of anti-Semitism since the death of Hitler. Out of the flames which consumed Nazism, Spain has snatched Hitler's anti-Semitic mantle and proudly flaunts it before the world. At a time when it seeks admission to the United Nations, Spain, through this official action, espouses a philosophy diametrically opposed to the principles of that organization and to the basic Judeo-Christian tenets of the fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man.

Doubly Shocking

"It is doubly shocking that the author of the statement should be a Spanish priest who thus repudiates the basic tenets of his religion and speaks in contradiction of Pope Pius XI. This clergyman's statement of reasons for banning the film in Spain mock the spirit of many German Catholic martyrs who died because the self same doctrine which he preaches today was the law of the land in Germany.

"In an historic statement in 1938, Pope Pius XI declared: 'It is impossible for Christians to be anti-Semitic. Spiritually, we are all Semites.'

"Yet a Spanish priest today calls Jews the enemies of the church.'"

Slip Case Could Be Settled For $5.95

TAMPA, Fla., Oct. 2 (AP)—If the city fathers of Tampa will shell out $5.95 they can settle—but not solve—the case of the missing slip.

When Miss Emogene Barton of Orlando left the municipal hospital Aug. 6, a lace-trimmed slip was missing.

Two nurses started the slip hunt. They turned the probe over to the director of nurses, who passed it on to the hospital superintendent. From there the case went to the city comptroller who dumped it in the lap of the city attorney.

Yesterday the case came up before the city board of representatives (council).

Enough, said City Prosecutor John J. Twomey. Let the city pay.

The board still must vote whether to pay off and mark the case "closed."

Little House Built Around Trailer Pleases Neighbors

PISMO BEACH, Calif., Oct. 2 (AP) The neighbors objected to their trailer so Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Daniels built a house around it.

When Daniels, 73, and his wife moved here with their jeep-drawn trailer from Syracuse, N. Y., a year ago they bought a lot in an exclusive neighborhood and set up housekeeping—in the trailer.

But their efforts to beat the housing shortage brought protests from neighbors.

So they built the little house, now nearly completed. It contains only a hallway and kitchen, but it completely conceals the trailer, which contains the bedroom and living room.

Moreover, the neighbors are happy.

Those attending are, left to right, Charles Chappel, 102, Long Beach, Calif.; William Osborn, 104, Joplin, Mo.; John Grate, 103, Atwater, O.; Theodore Penland, 99, Portland, Ore.; Albert Woolson, 102, Duluth, Minn.; and James Hard, 107, Rochester, N. Man Who Introduced Spinning Of Silk On Cotton System Dead

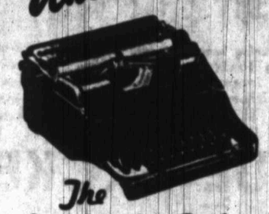

PAWTUCKET, R. I., Oct. 2 (AP)—Ernest E. Aspinwall, known nationally in the textile industry as the man who introduced in this country the spinning of real silk on the cotton system, died today at his home here.

Aspinwall developed his silk spinning ideas in 1900 when he was with Cheney brothers in Manchester, Conn., and other textile mills soon followed his methods. He was recognized in the United States and Canada as an authority in the textile field.

In 1918 he founded the Jay Chemical company here and continued as its president until 1948, when he retired.

Southwest's "Three Dollar Oil" Places Industry In Tight Spot

By MAX B. SKELTON
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOUSTON, Oct. 2.—The southwest's first "three dollar oil" since World War 1 has the oil industry in a tight spot.

Resistance to the new 35-cent per barrel hike in crude oil prices is firm but the way is being left open for general acceptance.

Only a few small companies have met the hike, announced Tuesday by Phillips petroleum. Many oil men, particularly major company spokesmen, termed the hike as inflationary and unnecessary.

They point to bureau of mines figures which indicate the post-war increase in demand for petroleum products is on the decline, being only 3.3+ per cent in July (over July last year) as compared with 6.7 percent the first six months of 1948.

Some Say Boost Overdue

Advocates of the increases, particularly the independent operators, claim the boost is long overdue and will insure even greater production of domestic oil.

The situation was the same last year when Sun Oil astounded the industry with a sudden 50-cent per barrel increase. That was on November 28.

A few small companies met the boost immediately. Not until December 8 did the major companies follow in rolling snow ball fashion.

It was another ten days before an increase of 1½ cents per gallon in retail gasoline prices became general.

Resistance Difficult

Resistance to the purchase price boosts becomes difficult when producers, anxious to receive the highest prices possible, begin to break from regular customers and turn to those paying the highest prices.

D. Harold Byrd, Dallas, president of the Independent Petroleum Association of Texas, last week said:

"If the larger companies do not meet the new price, independents will be forced to cut well connections and transfer them to Phillips or those matching the Phillips price."

Hines H. Baker, president of Humble oil, a Standard of Jersey subsidiary, summarized the thoughts of those opposed to the hike by saying "we do not intend to increase our prices unless we are forced to do so by a change in competitive conditions."

Robert E. Wilson, chairman of Standard of Indiana, said any reason for price boosts "are outweighed by the Paramount importance of trying to halt the inflationary spiral."

Among the small number of companies meeting Phillips' price, effective in all of its purchase areas in Texas, Arkansas, Oklahoma and Kansas, are Southern Minerals corporation, Shamrock Oil and Gas company and the Co-Operative Refinery association of Kansas City.

Phillips' posting sets a high of $3 a barrel for the mid-continent areas, $3.25 for the Texas gulf coast, $2.87 for West Texas sour oil, $3 for West Texas Ellenburgher, $2.92 for west Texas semi-sweet.

Crude production for the week ending September 25 staged a good rally despite continuation of west coast refinery strikes.

American Petroleum institute announced production jumped 48,750 barrels to a daily average of 5,343,100 barrels, as compared with 5,196,000 a year earlier. Prior to the strike, however, a new all-time high of 5,531,450 barrels daily had been established.

Branded As Defeatist

The Independent Petroleum Association of America this week branded as "defeatist in character" a proposal the nation's crude production be reduced 1,000,000 barrels daily so as to create an excess producing capacity for emergency use.

Two weeks ago the National Security Resources board revealed it is studying such a plan. Oil men would be reimbursed for their production losses with government subsidies.

Delegates to IPAA's San Antinio convention adopted a resolution which said the plan is "impractical of operation and would mean complete federal regulations of the industry with all of the attendant cost, iniquity and uncertainty."

Agricultural leaders estimate that electrically-operated equipment has enabled farmers to grow a third more crops in 10 per cent less time.

Arkansas Man Wins Cotton Picking Prize

BLYTHEVILLE, Ark., Oct. 2 (AP) —Eugene Shinault, a 43-year-old Blytheville sharecropper, today packed up 1,000 one-dollar bills, first prize in the annual national cotton picking contest.

He picked 82.93 pounds net in one hour and 25 minutes yesterday to defeat 210 other contestants and become the competition's first two-time winner. He won his first title in 1946.

Shinault's 29-year-old wife, Laura, won fourth prize of $25 in the women's division. They said they would use their winnings to buy a farm.

Winner of the women's division was Mrs. Lavern Deatherage of Walnut Ridge, Ark., who picked 71.78 pounds net.

In the men's competition, second prize of $250 went to Lester Peters of Bertrand, Mo., and third prize of $100 to W. E. Capers of Oak Grove, La.

The Shinaults moved to Blytheville from Memphis last year.

Schools Will Observe Fire Prevention Week

Fire Prevention Week, Oct. 3 through 10, is to be observed in all Lubbock schools, according to J. W. Reid, director of safety.

Local and state slogan and poster contests are being entered by all the schools of the city, Reid said, and special fire drills are to be held in cooperation with the local fire department. Throughout the school year elementary schools have two fire drills per month and secondary schools observe one per month.

Special literature and stories to be given to students during the regular time for safety education have been distributed by Reid to all Lubbock schools.

BUSINESS MEN OF TOMORROW—Saturday was Newspaperboy Day in the celebration of National Newspaper Week, Oct. 1-8, and was set aside to honor the future citizens of our country. The newspaperboys of today have made the business men of tomorrow ever since newspapers started in America and they are the most perfect examples of development of inititative in our system of free enterprise. They learn as they serve and earn and their spare time is used to make money and friends. They range in age from Junior High to Seniors in College. They are independent merchants and the amount of customers they secure on their routes determines the amount of their income. They buy their papers whole sale and retail them to you—our readers.

In the past war, with few exceptions, all former Avalanche-Journal carrier boys made the ranks of officers in the Army, Navy and Marines and all served with distinction. So it is with great pride that we present today, a portion of our staff of carrier boys in the pictures above. Some of them were too shy or for various other reasons weren't present for the picture-taking. Look them over, among them you'll probably find the smiling face of the youngster who calls at your door to collect his paper bill. All of them represent future citizens and business men of tomorrow. The man in the lower right hand corner is John Fariss, circulation manager of the Avalanche-Journal. (Staff Photos).

Two Men Deny Assertion That All Good Actors Are "Screwy"

By PATRICK JOYCE
INS Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, Oct. 2—Movie Actor Bill Holden and Stage Actor Richard Carlson today denied Northwestern university psychologists' assertion that all good actors are "screwy."

The Northwestern savants said findings based on an intensive study of the best university actors had shown them that a man should be mentally maladjusted if he desired to become a successful actor.

Carlson, a star of the Chicago company of the play, "Mr. Roberts," issued a statement with Holden, his visiting friend, in which each declared:

"We are both very normal. We're no screwier than anyone else."

Holden, whose latest starring movie is "Apartment For Peggy," asserted:

"What some persons might regard as screwiness in an actor is just a freedom from too close restraint or too hampering restrictions.

"We go along just like other normal people until a certain point is reached. Then we assert our egos.

"That's why John Carradine likes to wear a cloak now and then along a busy street and why Bing Crosby insists on wearing sports or informal clothes most of the time. But what is essentially screwy about that?"

Carlson declared:

"Both Bill and I are ready to act as guinea pigs for Northwestern university to prove that actors are just as normal as anyone else.

No Character Styles

"I don't think Bill or I suffer from hysteria, depression or split personality—aberrations which the professors say are characteristic of most actors."

Carlson said he was married to a non-professional. Holden's wife is Brenda Marshall, screen actress. The stage star added:

"But to show how normal Bill and I are we wake up smiling, happy and talkative.

"Our wives? Why. Both must have coffee and a slow awakening before they will say a word, even to us or the children."

For a delicious sauce for fish add one-third cup of capers to a cup of rich, well-seasoned cream sauce.

Conditional Pardon Granted Taylor Man By Gov. Jester

AUSTIN, Oct. 2 (AP) — Gov. Beauford H. Jester today granted a conditional pardon to Ollie Lee Hatley, serving a two year sentence for a second offense of driving while intoxicated.

Hatley was convicted in district court of Taylor county and sentenced Jan. 9, 1948.

The board of pardons and paroles recommended the clemency. The governor's proclamation of clemency said Hatley had nine and one-half month's service to his credit, with a clear record. The proclamation noted that the clemency was recommended by Sheriff H. T. Fleming, and by the sheriffs of Jones and Kent counties.

"The district judge, the district attorney, the sheriff, the county attorney, the county judge, of Stonewall county have written letters urging clemency in behalf of the subject in order that he might return home and support his wife and two children," the proclamation said, noting that a Spur man has offered Hatley a job in the event the clemency was granted.

Lubbock School Of The Air To Start Eleventh Year Of Programs

Celebrating their tenth anniversary of producing and broadcasting the Lubbock School of the Air, the Lubbock school system and KFYO will present the first of the 1948-49 series of radio lessons Tuesday at 10:45 a. m. to classrooms of Lubbock and the South Plains.

Manuals with subjects of the four series to be broadcast this year were being delivered to teachers Friday. In the foreword to the manual, Supt. R. W. Matthews said: "It is significant that the Lubbock school system, always alert to new technique in education, should have pioneered in this unique method of instructional enrichment of the curriculum."

Started In 1938

It was in the fall of 1938 that the School of the Air was established under the direction of Mrs. Ross Ayers. From a modest beginning of four programs per month, the School of the Air has continued to grow in scope and in listening audience. Two programs each week are broadcast through the facilities of KFYO and it has been conservatively estimated that hundreds of classrooms and thousands of students are reached by the broadcasts.

Mrs. J. L. Teal is chairman of the radio committee which, with the help of Miss Dorothy Lomax, director of secondary education, directs the School of the Air. This year lessons are being transcribed by the broadcasting teachers for release each Tuesday and Thursday mornings at 10:45.

The first two series to be presented this week are: The Library Window, with Mrs. Teal and Mrs. Briggs Irvin the broadcasting teachers; and The Story Hour, with Mrs. Grace Smith and Miss Trula Maud Jetton the broadcasting teachers.

Science Series Planned

Adventures in Science, a series of science lessons designed for primary and intermediate levels, will begin next week. Miss Evelyn Jones will broadcast lessons for the intermediate level and Mrs. J. Floyd Dunn for the primary level.

Four teachers will present Music in the Air, a series of music lessons for primary and intermediate grades. They are: Mrs. Elois Elliott, Mrs. Lloyd Jenkins, Miss Bernice Bay, and Mrs. Mary O. Wilpitz.

Teachers in schools throughout the South Plains may write to the Supervisor's Office, Lubbock Public Schools, if they wish to receive radio manuals and take part in these radio lessons.

Parents have found that listening to radio lessons which are being broadcast to be classrooms of their children helps them to understand the curriculum offered. On Tuesday at 10:45 a. m. The Library Window will open its series with "West Texas Mystery." The Story Hour will have a story of "Circus Days," Thursday at 10:45 a. m.

Midget Auto Goes To Grave With Mechanic

MATTOON, Ill., Oct. 2. (AP) — Harry Wishart, a 68-year old mechanic, was buried yesterday and, in compliance with his request, a tiny automobile he had made was buried with him.

Wishart, who had tinkered with cars most of his life, had made his request eight years ago to F. S Schilling, an undertaker. Schilling recalled after Wishart died Thursday the mechanic had wanted a car he had built to be used for his tombstone.

Schilling said he doubted if this could be arranged, and Wishart told him: "Well, then, I want it buried with me."

The 200-pound one-cylinder car, which measured five feet long and one and a half feet high, was lowered on top of Wishart's casket after his burial.

The car, one of three Wishart had built, had only one seat and it had no room for the driver's legs. The driver had to put his feet in a pair of stirrups outside the body. The car traveled about 12 miles an hour.

Cold Rubber Plants To Increase Output

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2. (U.P.)— The government stepped in with cold cash today to help produce more "cold rubber" that may increase automobile tire mileage as much as 30 per cent.

The Reconstruction Finance corporation, in announcing a $3,500,000 program to equip government-owned synthetic rubber plants for the new process, said the so-called "cold rubber" may revolutionize the industry.

The new synthetic product is much like the present kind except that it is produced at near-freezing temperatures instead of at 125-degree heat. Tests indicate it wears substantially longer than the old type "hot" rubber and greatly increases tire mileage.

Four plant already are turning out about 21,000 tons a year, the RFC said. The new program will increase the total to 183,000 tons.

The program will affect several government-owned synthetic rubber plants which are operated by private companies. They include plants at Baton Rouge, La.; Borger, Tex.; Los Angeles; Houston, Tex.; Baytown, Tex.; Lake Charles, La., and Port Neches, Tex.

Sears answered: "I am an old man but a good one."

Talk About Supersonic Barrier Is Only Mental, Flyer Believes

LAS VEGAS, Nev., Oct. 2 (AP)—All this talk about a dangerous supersonic barrier is nothing but a mental barrier, Clyde Pangborn, 50-year-old flying explorer, believes.

The around-the-world flier and test pilot said yesterday:

"There is no sense in handicapping ourselves in the drive for super-sonic speeds by listening to old-wives' tales and building mental barriers."

Answering claims of some aerodynamacists that one set of laws controls wings below the speed of sound and another above it, Pangborn said the laws are all the same.

Mock Air Battle Is Planned For Brazoria County's Fair

FREEPORT, Oct. 2 (AP)—A mock battle, including dive bombing, strafing and dog fights, will be staged by the 182nd National Guard Air Squadron from Brooks Field, San Antonio, on the last day of the Brazoria county fair at Angleton Oct. 16.

Charlie Jones, president of the Brazoria county fair association said arrangements have been made with Col. William Hensley, commanding officer of the squadron, to bring 30 planes, including P-fighter planes, A-26 bombers and possibly a jet fighter.

Clark Thompson, U. S. representative; and Jimmy Phillips, state senator, will take part in the opening day program, Oct. 12.

YAM WEEK SET

AUSTIN, Oct. 2 (AP)—The week of Oct. 25-30 was designated as Yam week today by Gov. Beauford H. Jester.

The eleventh annual East Texas Yamboree, in honor of the sweet potato, will be held at Gilmer Oct. 28-30. Jester's proclamation said the occasion was a good one to "direct attention to the growth and development of the sweet potato industry in Texas.

RUSTY NATURE BOY

NATURE BOY, Eden Ahbez, is just about to sign a radio contract which will turn him into a health commentator. . . . Gene Austin, the Sinatra of the '20's, is making a film comeback warbling "My Blue Heaven" in a musical short for Martin Murray Productions. . . . John Lund and Macdonald Carey are wearing tights for "A Mask for Lucretia." Maybe they'll retitle it "Father Wore Tights." . . . Tough break for Marilyn Maxwell, who was set for the lead opposite Joel McCrea in "Tennessee's Partner." When Enterprise folded, the picture went down with it.

Producer Lester Cutler wants to get Laraine Day's name on a contract for "House of Cards." He'll also ask Leo Durocher if he would like to play a bit in the picture.

Bob Crosby is finding himself a red-hot composer. A song he wrote six years ago, "Until," is just hitting the hit parade. . . . Cary Cooper, leaving the set of "The Fountainhead," was asked what film he'll do next. "Don't know," he said, "I'm open to offers if anyone wants me." If anyone wants him!

Ken Murray has his Xmas cards already. There's a picture of him wrestling an alligator underwater and saying: "Never too busy to wish you a Merry Xmas."

COWBOY JOEL

JOEL McCREA will be starred in another hoss opera, "Colorado Territory." . . . Bob Cummings will co-star with Lizabeth Scott in "Bitter Victory" at Paramount. . . . Dan Durpea gets the lead opposite Dottie Lamour in "The Man Who Stole a Dream."

Hugh Herbert and his wife will get a divorce after 30 years of marriage. . . . Olivia de Havilland is the latest star to turn producer. She'll hire herself for an independent . . . Peggy Cummins is mulling offers to star in three Broadway stage shows. . . . The doctors just nixed Glen Gray's plan to reorganize his band and go on the road. . . . Promised and hoped for: Frank Morgan playing a college math professor who succumbs to the gambling lure in M-G-M's "The Great Sinner."

More trouble for Maria Montez. Producer Charles Rogers is suing for $47,000—charging breach of contract for a film titled "The Scarlet Feather." The only thing he got out of Maria was a tickle.

Howard Hughes is starting to move at RKO. He's signed Cary Grant for five pictures and Ann Sheridan for three.

Betty Rowland, burlesque's "Ball of Fire," says she's giving up the runway for good. She'll concentrate on movies and singing. First song she'll record after lifting of the Petrillo ban will be "Never Go Steady With Betty."

Ava's Ambition Is For Marriage

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 2 — "I," said Ava Gardner, "am a mess." Ten million admiring, moviegoing males will chorus, "Ava! No!" Ava was showing me at least a dozen scars on her tanned, glamorous legs. Her glamorous gams are actually, she pointed out, slightly bowlegged—"from learning to walk at seven months"—unless she makes an effort to hold her knees together.

A mark above her right knee was where her nephew accidentally dropped a red-hot poker. "We used to heat a poker and put it in water to hear it sizzle." Another scar was "a cut on tin—I was jumping a ditch and didn't quite make it." A big scar was from climbing through a broken schoolhouse window Oh, she was a tomboy!

Brains Are Important

"I have a million defects," Ava said. "I'd like to change everything about me. She said her collar bone is so prominent it creates problems in lighting. Her shoulders are unusually broad, her arms thin unless she lets her weight get to about 130 pounds. Despite her self-criticism, green-eyed, dimple-chinned Ava Laninia Gardner, 25, is the sexiest thing on the screen today. Being called sexy doesn't especially please her. What does please her is to be told—as is true—that she also has brains. She's about to follow her filmily clad role as Venus-come-to-life by playing a lady gambler opposite Gregory Peck in "The Great Sinner."

Wants Four Children

But her sincerest ambition is not to be a great actress and win an Oscar. It's "to marry the right man and have four children." Ex-husbands Mickey Rooney and Artie Shaw are "both very nice people, but we just didn't get along." Ava has sultry eyes, a husky, sultry voice, and dark brown hair that she wishes were straight instead of curly. At her West Los Angeles apartment I found her stepping out of Actor Howard Duff's convertible (no romance blossoming with him or anybody, Ava said).

Ava was born on Christmas Eve, 1922, on her father's tobacco farm near Smithfield, N. C. As a girl she helped store tobacco in the barn, and "it smelled wonderful." A photo taken by her brother-in-law, a New York photographer, reached an M-G-M talent scout. I was hoping Ava would have some advice to other girls along the lines of how to be a modern Venus. But no, just the usual health rules. Being a tomboy may have helped her, she admitted. At least, climbing trees and water tanks helped her, develop a strong physique.

Singing Star James Melton Will Appear In Concert On Thursday

James Melton, Metropolitan Opera tenor, and singing star of the radio program, "Harvest of Stars," will present a concert in Senior High school auditorium at 8 o'clock Thursday night under sponsorship of the Tech Artists course of which R. A. Mills is chairman.

Accompanying Melton as pianist will be Carroll Hollister.

Favorite Last Season

The tenor was chosen by radio editors as their favorite male singer of classical music last season. His wide repertoire of operatic roles includes "Tosca," "Don Giovanni," "Traviata," "Lucia," "Manon," "Martha," "Lohengrin" and "Madame Butterfly." He is scheduled to appear with the Metropolitan Opera company in New York during December and January.

The 44-year-old, handsome six-foot two Melton was born in Moultrie, Ga., where his father was in the lumber business. He began studying for a legal career at the University of Florida but on the advice of the university president, he switched to Vanderbilt university to study music.

Signed For Picture

To the late Roxy goes the credit for steering Melton into radio after he had headed for New York to begin his career. He first sang with the Revelers quartet, the Sieberling Singers and was on many other radio programs from 1928 to 1934. From a concert tour made with the late George Gershwin in 1934 came Melton's decision to become a concert singer, after the two musicians had given 28 concerts in as many towns in as many days and found such encouraging response to all kinds of songs—classical, folk, cowboy and popular.

The next year he signed with Hollywood for picture contracts but in 1937 quit movies, radio and $100,000 a year to settle down to study for the opera, going to his country home near Westport, Conn., with a pianist and a coach and spending the next year preparing for his grand opera debut in the role of "Pinkerton" in "Madame Butterfly."

With Opera Companies

Melton became a leading tenor for the Chicago Opera company on Nov. 5, 1938, then sang with the St. Louis, Rochester, Philadelphia and other opera companies and made his debut with the Met on Dec. 7, 1942 in Mozart's "The Magic Flute."

Home to the Meltons is still the cottage in Westport which has been built onto until it is now an early American mansion, with a separate house for Mrs. Marjorie Barkley McClure, the novelist and mother of Mrs. Melton, and a nursery wing for baby Margo.

JAMES MELTON

Tickets for the concert are on sale at the Adair Music store at $1.80 for adults and $1.50 for students and children, tax included.

PROGRAM IS GIVEN

Included in the program for Thursday's performance are: Thanks Be To Thee—Handel; Air from "Comus"—Arne; Il Mio Tesoro, from "Don Giovanni"—Mozart; In the Silence of Night—Rachmaninoff; Miteiner Wasserlilie—Grieg; Voices, and Don Juan Gomez—Hageman; Recitative and Aria, E Lucivan le Stelle, from "Las Tosca"—Puccini.

Following an intermission, Mr. Hollister will play: Prelude, from the Suite, "Pour le Piano," and Valse, "La Plus que Lente,"—Debussy; and Toccata—Kaatchaturian.

Melton will again appear with: Appres un Reve—Faure; Aubade, from "Le Roi d' Y's—Lalo; El Vito—arrangement by Obradors; Mexican Serenade—John Sacco; A Ballynure Ballad—arrangement by Herbert Hughes; Red Rosey Bush (Appalachian Folk-Song)—Victor Young; and Yarmouth Fair (Norfolk Folk-Song—arrangement by Peter Warlock.

Trouble With Movies Is Too Many Old Men Are Romancing Young Girls, Writer Says

By RUTH BRIGHAM
IRS Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 2. — The trouble with movies today is that too many old men are romancing too many young girls.

It's a well known fact that the war set the screen back a goodly portion of a generation, with the oldsters carrying on the show while the youngsters were away at the wars.

But today it's a different tune.

The "toupee and bulging tummy boys may thrill those over 30," says 33-year-old movie producer Julian Lesser, but:

"The majority of the box office —over 50 per cent—is made up of those between the ages of 15 and 24. And 70 per cent of this group go to the movies at least once a week. So we got to answed their demands."

Two Actors In Demand

Lesser's own particular answer to those demands is Rody Calhoun and Guy Madison. They're both hot as firecrackers with the bobby-soxers and in demand in the movie industry.

The two Selznick actors are knee-deep in work with Lesser and his co-producer, Frank Melford, in Harold Bell Wright's "When A Man's A Man."

The movie is aimed at today's younger group, but will appeal to their elders, too, as it's taken from the pages of a contemporary novel of their own flaming youth.

Two other youngsters are in the film—20-year-old Johnny Sands, and Pretty Cathy Downs.

Sexy "Loxy" Gets Buildup

Pati Behrs and John Derek put off their wedding until after she finishes her current role in "The Beautiful Blonde From Bashful Bend." They then decided to postpone the ceremony a little longer, until her mother, Princess Juliana Galithkaya-Gouretskaya Behrs-Eristoff, is well enough to cross the Atlantic. Turkish-born princess Pati, who has never used her title anyway, says she'll gladly trade it for plain Mrs. John Derek.

Shirley Mills, featured in "An Old-Fashioned Girl," has set her marriage date with William Mason for December 3.

Warners is all out to make Alexis Smith the sexiest-looking actress in Hollywood, including Lana Turner. First the astute publicity department, got her name as "holder of the sexiest neck," then the "sexiest lower lips," and lastly the "sexiest face." So what does that make her but sexy lexy?

Is Warners' holding Nita Talbot, newcomer, as a threat to Lauren Bacall? "Baby" isn't likely to walk the chalk line for any threat.

Paulette Goddard will spend Christmas in Switzerland with Burgess Meredith.

Endearing Words Revealed

Now it can be told department: This is what you've been waiting to hear. What were those endearing words embroidered on Lana Turner's trousseau undies?

They were—nothing! Nothing but one word—Lana.

Now that the honeymoon is over, Jule Park let us in on the secret. She said she never told anybody anything was embroidered thereon until she read it in some of the papers.

It grew from a rumor, and Joan Bennett's daughter, Diana Wanger Anderson, says the rumor grew from those lay-outs in a national magazine of Jule Park's lingerie. They were all embroidered with love-notes.

GOP Senate Nominee To Be Here Tuesday

Jack Porter, Houston oil man, who is a candidate for U. S. Senator from Texas on the Republican ticket, will visit Lubbock Tuesday on a swing through the Plains area in behalf of his candidacy. M. D. Temple, president of the Lubbock County Republican club, said Saturday.

Porter is to fly here from Midland and will make a non-political talk at the Optimist club at Hotel Lubbock at noon Tuesday.

He will confer with Republican leaders from over the area before going to Amarillo for a night speech.

Anyone interested in hearing his talk at the Optimist club should make reservations by noon Monday, Temple said. Reservations may be made by calling 2-6161.

3 PAIR MAKE FULL HOUSE

POTOSIO, Wis. (U.P.)—Three pair make a full house at the Clarence Stohlmeyer home here. The Stohlmeyers don't always have twins, but they come close to it. They have had their third set. Two boys and one girl were born "unaccompanied."

It is believed that Niagara Falls will wear its way back to Lake Erie in about 5,000 years.

Morals Charges To Face Youths

DES MOINES, Oct. 2. (INS)—Six Des Moines youths, one of them a 15-year-old husband, were in custody today as Polk County Sheriff Howard Reppert announced breakup of a series of immoral parties involving more than 30 boys and girls.

Reppert said the parties had been held in his own cabin near Des Moines after some of the boys broke windows to gain entrance.

Charges of statuatory rape were lodged against Albert Lee Cady, 18, and Paul H. Caldwell, 20.

Given Jail Sentences

Four other youths were given 30-day jail sentences after they pleaded guilty to charges of contributing to the delinquency of minors, Reppert said.

Nine girls were taken into custody, with six of them released to their parents and the other three turned over to juvenile authorities. Age of the girls ranged from 14 to 16, Reppert said.

Boys jailed were identified as Richard Benton, 19; Charles McCaughey, 20; Donald R. Cady, 20, and Henry Smith, 15.

Reppert said Smith's case would ordinarily have been turned over to juvenile authorities, except for the fact he is married and thus no longer considered a juvenile.

The sheriff reported that one 15-year-old girl told him she had been intimate 15 times in one evening with seven boys.

Reppert said most of the parties started at midnight or later. He blamed parents of the children for not "becoming more than a little curious" when the boys and girls failed to come home before morning.

A girl's notebook discovered in the cabin furnished the clues for the investigation, Reppert said, and contained names of some of the boys allegedly involved.

He said he started the probe when he made a visit to the cabin and found it had been entered.

Texas Archeological Society Meeting Date Is Changed

The Texas Archeological and Paleontological society will meet in Austin Oct. 23, instead of October 29-30 as is stated in Vol. 13 of the society's bulletin, Dr. Ernest Wallace, professor of history at Texas Technological college and secretary and treasurer of the society said:

"The program committee found it impossible to arrange the meeting on October 30 because all hotel rooms, lodges, and suitable meeting places had been reserved by people attending the Texas-SMU football game in Austin on that date."

Dr. Wallace, Dr. and Mrs. W. C. Holden, and Dr. C. D. Eaves, professor of history, will attend the meeting from Tech. Dr. Holden is dean of the Division of Graduate Studies.

The Driskill hotel in Austin is holding a block of rooms for members of the society, but will only hold them for a short time and reservations should be made as soon as possible, Dr. Wallace said.

What If Russia Does Quit The UN?; Breakdown Of Berlin Airlift Looms

A BOON TO ALL?

That Might Be Best

MANY observers believe the United United Nations Security council will face the most critical test of its wobbly existence when, and if, the Berlin blockade crisis is presented for consideration during the coming week.

Some authorities predict the controversy might precipitate the withdrawal of Russia and satellite nations from the UN. They doubt whether the organization can survive in that event.

However, there is no more logic in the thesis that the UN should disband if Russia withdraws than there would be in the suggestion that a city should dispense with its police department because certain lawless elements refuse to cooperate. If the Russians step out, the law-abiding nations will need some such agency as the UN more than ever as the nucleus for coordinated defense against the international lawlessness typified by Russia and her satellites.

As a matter of fact, there is sound basis for the belief that the UN would be better off without the quarrelsome Russians, if they persist in the obstructionist tactics they have pursued since the UN was created. On the outside they, at least, could not continue to block the efforts of democratic and law-abiding nations which have as their sole desire the furtherence of peace and security for all the peoples in the world.

If that purpose might be furthered better without Russia in the membership, it is to be hoped, rather than feared, that the Soviet representatives may choose to walk out.

The remaining nations then would be unhampered in their attempts to provide suitable precautions against a menace which clearly and unmistakably would be defined.

A Big Job, Well Done

THE official audit will be needed to establish accurately just how the 31st annual Panhandle-South Plains fair came out financially last week. But everyone seems agreed it was a highly satisfactory fair which will pay dividends a long time in such intangibles as good will.

One of the most significant comments in its implications as to the success of the fair was volunteered by George (Scotty) Samson, of Post, who judged county exhibits. He said greater interest by more people was displayed in the agricultural exhibits than at any previous time during the more than 20 years he has officiated at fairs here. Many of the visitors, he said, were farmers who saw or learned something at the fair they intend to apply to the operation of their own farms.

One reason why the fair was good was that it was well balanced. Everything was of superior quality—entertainment, exhibits and all the other factors which contribute to a successful exposition.

True enough, added experience demonstrated, or emphasized, the need for many improvements of which the fair association officials are conscious and which they are eager to make. If anything is left over after paying the heavy expenses of the fair this year, the surplus most certainly will be applied on improvements for the 1949 and other future expositions. But it is none too soon to say now that, if next year's fair is better than that of last week—and this is an unqualified prediction that it will be—it will be a dandy.

The poet who sings about the beauty of an open fire is the one who didn't have to cut the logs for fuel.

Robinson Crusoe should have been happy on that island. He was not all the time having to fill out some kind of blanks.

A small town is the place where a fellow doesn't have to pay his rent in advance.

Before there is a change in the world, they must figure out some way to change human nature.

It's still a survival of the fitest. The fellow with the boarding house reach usually gets the pick of the food.

One-Minute Sermon

The wicked flee when no man pursueth: but the righteous are bold as a lion. Proverbs 28:1.

DESPITE THREAT FROM SOUTHERN DEMO LEADERS

HST Is Given Edge In Kentucky, North Carolina

BY GEORGE GALLUP, Director
American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 2—Inroads of the insurgent Dixiecrats on the regular Democratic vote in North Carolina and Kentucky are today not large enough to take those states out of the Truman-Barkley column.

In contrast to South Carolina, where the States' Rights Party holds a substantial lead, only 5 per cent of Kentucky voters and 13 per cent of North Carolina voters today say they will vote for J. Strom Thurmond, South Carolina governor and States' Rights Party nominee for president.

GALLUP

While Kentucky today gives a popular vote advantage to the Democratic ticket, the lead over Dewey is slim compared to 1944. The poll reported today was taken before last week's visit by President Truman to Kentucky, home state of his running mate, Senator Alben W. Barkley.

The election in Kentucky holds more than ordinary interest for political observers because of the importance of the senatorial race there to the Republican control of the Senate. Today's survey would indicate that the Republican candidate, Senator John S. Cooper, is not going to be helped substantially by the fact that Dewey heads the national G. O. P. slate.

PRESIDENT Truman's lead in North Carolina also is materially below that customarily given a Democratic candidate, primarily because of Governor Thurmond's following. As of the moment Governor Dewey is supported by about one out of every three North Carolina voters, which is roughly the strength he showed there four years ago against Roosevelt.

Institute interviewers in both states asked a representative cross-section of voters this question:

"If the presidential election were held TODAY for whom would you vote—for Dewey, for Truman, for Wallace or for Thurmond?"

The results:

KENTUCKY
(11 Electoral Votes)
Truman	45%
Dewey	42
Thurmond	5
Wallace	2
No opinion	6
NORTH CAROLINA
(14 Electoral Votes)
Truman	44%
Dewey	33
Thurmond	13
Wallace	1
No opinion	9

While neither of these states, politically speaking, is considered part of the "deep south," they have seldom wandered out of the Democratic column. Both went Republican when Alfred E. Smith was the Democratic candidate in 1928 and Kentucky also went Republican in 1924.

In each of Roosevelt's four elections Kentucky gave him better than 54 per cent of its major party vote. However, Republican candidates for Congress in 1946 were successful in getting 53 per cent of the major party votes cast that year. North Carolina's vote for Roosevelt never fell below 67 per cent.

Previous polls showing presidential standings in southern states have revealed Governor Thurmond leading in South Carolina, and President Truman far ahead in Texas.

TAXI DOES AS PROWL CAR

PERU, Ill. (AP) — Peru's police squad car got banged up in an accident with two other cars on a wet pavement. For a while it looked as if the town would be without radio-car protection. Then the police department got the idea of borrowing a radio-dispatch taxicab while repairs to the cruiser were made.

DON'T you feel sorry for the millions of kids who are going to school for the first time this fall and have to cope with the intricacies of education?

Take arithmetic, for instance. I say "take it" advisedly because I, myself, have never been able to take it. Even today when it comes to anything beyond plain addition and simple multiplication, I am licked and my heart goes out to the little shavers who soon will have to wrestle with fractions, cube roots and calculus.

BRANDEIS

Just to show you what these youngsters are up against, let us dwell for a few moments on the English language. Incidentally, I have always been a little bit sorry that a country as big and important as this has no language named after it. I wish there were a real American language and not just American dialects based upon English.

However, that is neither here nor there at the moment.

The grade school pupils who are now learning other things besides play, will be told that "to be crowned" means to be made a king or queen, just like Queen Juliana a little while ago.

But when I saw a little item in my paper, which was captioned "Miss Coney Crowned," I thought right away: "Ah, someone hit Miss Coney over the head!" I read on. No, nobody hit Miss Coney over the head or crowned her, as we say in America. It was just a story about Miss Irma Hansen being made Queen of the Coney Island Mardi Gras.

There was another headline that attracted me.

"Pupil Accident Warning Issued" it said.

Just what I've always thought, I said to myself. Take care of your eyes or you'll hurt your pupils.

Wrong again. It wasn't about pupils of the eyes at all.

The story told about the American Red Cross urging parents to tell the pupils just starting out to school to be careful when they cross the street.

STILL another one about a "Master Cell."

Naturally I figured it would be about the master cell in a jail—maybe a cell that opened or closed all other cells.

It wasn't that kind of a cell at all. It was about master cells in chemistry and biology.

How are little kids—and grownups, too—to master all the intricacies of our languages?

Too sound exactly the same as two, doesn't it?

And it's pretty hard to say whether "a staid knight stayed out at night" or whether "a stayed night staid out at knight." You can't tell by the sound. You'll have to learn it, and you'll have to fig-

Spain Given Boost

By DREW PEARSON
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Senators Scott Lucas of Illinois and Bill Fulbright of Arkansas, both Democrats, gave newsmen the slip the other day and paid a private call at the State department. Their purpose was to put in a good word for Franco Spain.

PEARSON

Just back from a trip to Madrid, Lucas and Fulbright said they thought it was about time Spain was admitted back into the good graces of the western nations. They urged the State department to take the lead and review American policy toward Spain.

State department diplomats, however, cautioned against appeasing Franco at the risk of antagonizing the United Nations. It was by a U.N. vote that Spain became an international outcast, the senators were reminded.

Berlin Trouble

U. S. Air Force chiefs flatly deny it, but the Berlin airlift is expected to break down in November. Chief difficulty will be weather.

Other difficulties are the fact that planes are subject to terrific wear and tear, with little time for overhaul. Also, it's significant that Britain's RAF actually is carrying 45 per cent of all freight into Berlin. Anglo-American cooperation has been excellent, though the British aren't getting credit for their part of the job.

In November, simultaneous with murky weather, the airlift will be called upon to carry much more coal. Several million people in Berlin will be howling for it. The city already is on minimum rations. A deep-freeze unit in Berlin is worth nothing. Reason: electricity is turned off most of the day. Housewives can't begin cooking until 6 p. m.

Berlin's complete blackout to save coal has made the city a paradise for burglars. They are now so brazen they have been breaking into homes while occupants were still awake.

November bad weather will also coincide with probable political uncertainty in the U. S. If Dewey wins, as seems certain, the American government will be in a state of flux between November and January. That is the time to watch for real trouble with the Russians.

CORRECTION—This column, discussing illicit opium traffic between Mexico and the United States, previously reported that the Cadillac car of Senator Carlos Serrano, Mexican political leader, was being held by the U. S. government after 63 tins of smoking opium were found in concealed compartments in the side of the car. In fairness to Col. Serrano, it should now be noted that U. S. officials have cleared Col. Serrano of any connection with opium smuggling, or with ownership of the car . . . Back in the saddle in Georgia, Herman Talmadge now has his eye on Washington. Close friends say he doesn't intend to stay long in the governor's mansion, but will move on to the U. S. Senate.

U. S. Plot Against Peron?

Here is the exclusive inside story of the alleged "assassination plot" in Argentina:

John S. Griffiths, the American named as "chief instigator of the conspiracy," was cultural attache of the U. S. embassy in Buenos Aires under former Ambassador Spruille Braden. As such, he took an active part in Braden's campaign to aid the Argentine Democratic union, which opposed the presidential candidacy of Juan D. Peron in 1945-46.

When Braden returned to Washington in September, 1945, Griffiths took over direction of this Democratic Union campaign. His activities, however, were consistently hindered by John Cabot, who remained as U. S. charge d'affaires, and who had never sympathized with Braden's methods. After Braden departed, Cabot refused to cooperate with Griffiths in any way, even denying him access to cables received from Washington.

Following Peron's election and the appointment of George S. Messersmith as ambassador to B. A., Griffiths resigned from the U. S. diplomatic service, but remained in the Argentine capital as technical adviser to several U. S. export firms.

Seven months ago, Griffiths was summarily expelled from Argentina, on the charge that he had fomented a strike of bank employees in Buenos Aires. Two bank-strike leaders, who had been fired from their jobs, submitted testimony that they had no connection or acquaintance with Griffiths. However, these statements were rejected by the court and never published in Argentina.

GRIFFITHS returned to the U. S. last March, lined up three export representations from Uruguay, and departed for Montevideo in May. He has since been living there with his son, John jr., 17, in a $25-a-month apartment, scantily furnished, making just enough money to get along.

On a strictly voluntary and unofficial basis, without pay, Griffiths has also served as confidential adviser to Ellis O. Briggs, U. S. ambassador to Uruguay, on various Argentine developments. Briggs, as this column revealed exclusively last December, is really the top man of the U. S. foreign service for the southern part of South America. The "plot" announced in Buenos Aires named Griffiths as principal conspirator because he was the ideal goat. Although identified in the Argentine public mind with Braden, he is now out of public life and can be accused without automatically causing an international incident.

Then, too, the fact that he went to Montevedio after being obliged to leave Argentine helps the story. The Uruguayan capital has long been the favorite refuge for Argentine political exiles. Just a few weeks ago, Ernesto Sammartino, the radical congressman expelled from the legislature for criticizing Peron, turned up there.

But chief significance of the whole "conspiracy" yarn is:

1. By openly charging U. S. "capitalist consortiums" with the plan to murder him, Peron lays new groundwork for the neutrality he will adopt in case of war between the U. S. and the U.S.S.R.

2. The "plot" and the hate-U. S. campaign creates a fine diversion at home just when Argentines are being called upon to back Peron's plan for rewriting the national constitution.

EXTREMELY READABLE ACCOUNT

"Early Talks Of The Atomic Age"

"EARLY TALES OF THE ATOMIC AGE," by Daniel Lang; (Dutton).

AN informer at the recent congressional spy hearings testified that one of the alleged members of her ring had told her during the war something "super secret" was going on at Oak Ridge, Tenn.

If that is the only sources from which she heard this intelligence, it is a wonder. For as Daniel Lang points out in Early Tales of the Atomic Age, by the time the first bomb exploded more than 1,000,000 Americans knew of the existence of the Manhattan District, the war-time name for the atomic project.

Like the young man accused by Elizabeth Bentley of being an informant for Soviet spies, the great majority of those who knew something was going on at Oak Ridge had no idea what it was. Nevertheless, Army intelligence officers ran down nearly 2,000 instances of loose talk—in newspapers, the radio, on the lecture platform, and in the pulpit—that hit dangerously near the truth.

Most of the breaks were entirely innocent, and in the end no harm was done.

Lang's tales are twicetold. They appeared originally in The New Yorker, for which he reports. They are what newspapers call feature stories. Asembled in a book they constitute an extremely readable account of the bomb's development, its use in Japan, and the feelings of the men who made it.

Amusing Novel

"THE WASHBOURNES OF OTTERLY," by Humphrey Pakington; (Norton).

HUMPHREY PAKINGTON has a skilled hand in underlining the grotesque comedy inherent in the lives of England's mid-Victorian aristocracy. The Washbournes of Otterley are hilariously and sometimes tragically ludicrous. Lady Washbourne, the vain and supremely confident matriarch of the family is stubbornly and often hysterically concerned with the problems of her world, "socially correct" matchmaking, position and, in a vague, general way, money.

Her efforts in the marriage marts come a monstrous cropper. Daughter Fanny marries an impecunious painter. Son Tom marries a willful beauty who scandalizes the countryside with her indifference to the marriage vows. Lady Washbourne's ventures in helping her husband's position are scarcely more rewarding. She schemes to have him made minister of the admiralty, he lands the post of commissioner of wharfage.

Out of such preposterous frustration, Pakington has constructed an amusing novel. Even his rococo, tongue-in-cheek style contributes to the total effect of almost unreal elegance.

"The Big Freeze"

"THE BIG FREEZE," by Bellamy Partridge; (Crowell).

BELLAMY PARTRIDGE has dug deeply into the history of New York City to produce a sharply drawn picture of the big town a hundred years ago.

His novel, The Big Freeze, highlights the devotion of the young engineer David Wakeman to the cause of the public welfare. The building of Croton aqueduct had been halted by the squabbles of spoils-seeking politicians. David spearheads the movement to resume work in the project and pushes it through to completion. He had to contend with plenty of political opposition besides the forces of nature—flood, fire and the big freeze. It wasn't all work and disappointment, however. There were the girls Jepsie Gibson and Araminta to keep David in a dither of indecision. It makes a good love story in an authentic historical back-ground.

"The Ugly Woman"

"THE UGLY WOMAN," by William O'Farrell; (Dodd, Mead).

THE UGLY WOMAN, by William O'Farrell is a novel of suspense that steps O'Farrell up another notch toward the top drawer of mystery writers. It is the story of Ray Cammarata, a movie critic who wanted to try marriage a second time, but who appeared to be destined by fate not to make it. His good friend, Alice Abbott, the writer, was part of the strange story of Ray's difficulties, as was Oscar Moran, Harvy Vickers, and the publisher, Weldon Price. There is a grand climax to this one.

"Dixie Raider"

"DIXIE RAIDER," by Murray Morgan; (Dutton).

THE author says this book "was fun to write." Well, it's fun to read, too—and educatonal as well. You can't ask much more of a book than that.

The Confederate cruiser, Shenadoah, long has been a subject of sea legend. There have been scattered attempts to tell her story factually, including a couple of recent origin, but Murray Morgan's work will be hard to top. Whether it's because he tapped new sources of information, or because of his knack at reconstructing a living story from musty records, Morgan has produced a balanced, detailed chronicle of one of the most remarkable voyages in history.

For those who know the Shenandoah only by stray references in Civil war histories, and for that vastly greater number who never heard of her, it should be said that she was one of those Confederate raiders which, like the famous Alabama, was built in England and sailed from an English port to prey upon Northern shipping. The Shenandoah had a specific assignment: To harass the Arctic whaling fleet. The war ended with the mission unaccomplished but the Shenandoah didn't know it. She created havoc all over the Bering sea for months after Appomattox, then sailed southward and her captain was contemplating the capture of San Francisco when undeniable word of the South's surrender reached him. Then, rather than give up to what he still considered an enemy, he sailed the Shenandoah 17,000 miles to England. There the Shenandoah's flag finally was hauled down Nov. 7, 1865.

She had captureed 38 vessels in 8 months—10 in one historic day in June—she had cruised 58,000 miles in every ocean but the Antarctic, and the only deaths among her crew came on the final dash to England.

It's a heroic story and Morgan does it justice. Wisely, he has given the story no fictional embellishment. There is drama enough in the bare historical recital, although sometimes the reader must sit back and draw breath to get the full impact of the events related. There's deft characterization, too, considering the abstract nature of the materials with which Morgan worked. Captain James Waddell, for instance—there's an apt subject for a good historical fictionist to work on.

"Big Jim Turner"

"BIG JIM TURNER," by James Stevens; (Doubleday).

JIM TURNER, from the time he's five, and little, until 1913, when he's 22, and big, tells this somewhat lumbering tale of himself, "half horse and half poet", he says, but also half preacher, half hobo, lover, fighter, outlaw (junior size) and radical. Starting out in Iowa a Bryanite in short pants, he moves to Idaho, develops a left hook and occasions for using it, picks up an education in public libraries, learns Socialist lore from one uncle, the nature of liquor and the ways of women from another, and is shadowed always by the repute of a third uncle, "Black Dan" Barton, labor organizer.

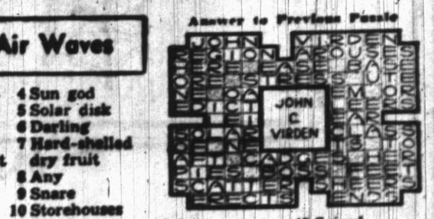

This is an honest and convincing account of a worthy individual's growth into personal independence, but it is also somewhat heavyfooted and, to me, uninspired, with a documentary rather than a creative flavor. Yet anything by Big Jim Stevens of Paul Bunyan fame deserves reading for the sake of the record.

YOUNG EVANGELIST HERE—Rev. Jack Vassler, 16, is currently conducting revival services at Bethel Tabernacle, Sixth and Ave. L, during which numbers of persons, both old and young, are being converted. Many have expressed surprise that one so young has such extensive knowledge of the Bible. Rev. Vassler's services each evening are highlighted with special saxophone numbers. Rev. Boyd McSpadden, pastor of the church, has extended an invitation to the public to attend these services.

Wasn't it a foul trick to steal that fowl out of my yard? And so I know who did it? No.

No wonder people from other countries think that English is one of the hardest languages in the world to learn. No wonder so many people in our own country have so little idea of how to use the right words in the right place.

And no wonder I am so mixed up myself now that I don't know if "write" is the "right" way to spell "rite."

CONDUCTS REVIVAL—Rev. Hubert Faust, above, pastor of East Henderson Baptist church at Cleburne, will preach at a revival opening Monday at College Avenue Baptist church. Abe Hester, jr., is pastor. Milton Peeples, student in Texas Technological college, will be song leader.
