GOP Leader Admits Labor Bill Blocked

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Knowland (R-Calif) conceded today that what he called a coalition of Democrats and CIO-AFL leaders may be able to block his efforts to get Senate action on broad labor legislation at this time.

"But this is just the opening skirmish in this fight," he told newsmen. "The Senate will have to face up to this issue several times this session."

Knowland has offered a series of general labor amendments to a bill for federal regulation of employe pension and welfare funds.

His statement to reporters, made as the Senate was taking up the bill, amounted to a commitment that, if licked this time, he would keep offering his amendments at every opportunity throughout the remainder of the session.

Knowland, Senate Republican leader, said he will give his colleagues a chance to "show whether they want to do something about the abuses within the labor unions with which the country now is familiar."

Knowland's proposals, including requirements for secret ballots, are designed to give union members more control within their unions. They are generally opposed by labor leaders.

His announced plan to offer them as amendments to a less controversial bill for regulation of employe welfare and pension funds caused a delay in consideration of that measure. But the Senate decided to go into early-and-late sessions to resolve the issue.

Knowland faced consolidated opposition from the Democratic leadership and Republicans who like to class themselves as liberals.

Sen. Ives (R-NY), one of the latter and a member of the Senate Labor Committee which approved the pending bill, said in a separate interview he believes at least a dozen Republican votes will be cast against Knowland's proposals.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, who has urged the Senate not to attach "crippling" amendments to the pending measure, obviously believed he could supply sufficient Democratic votes to the coalition to stop Knowland's drive.

Key provisions of Knowland's amendments would require secret ballots in union elections and in the ouster of union officials, as well as permit 15 per cent of the membership to force a vote on policy decisions and strike calls.

Ives said ordinarily he would favor the substance of about half of Knowland's proposals.

C-C Panel Sets Supper Event At Ira

Tickets are on sale today at the Chamber of Commerce office for a farmer-businessman supper to be held at Ira tomorrow night.

This is the fourth of such suppers sponsored by Snyder businessmen through the agriculture committee of the chamber. Bill Jordan is chairman of the agriculture committee.

The supper will be at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in the school cafeteria at Ira. There will be no speeches, only the meal, some entertainment, and fellowship of businessmen and farmers.

Entertainment will be a string band from the Ira community. There will be a few stunts involving both farmers and businessmen. Door prizes will be awarded to some farmers.

D. T. Pierce is the agriculture committee's chairman for the dinner, and Roy Sallee is the Ira representative.

All men of the Ira area have been invited to the supper, which will be free to them. Snyder businessmen will purchase tickets at $3 each, which will each cover the cost of a businessman's and farmer's meal. The tickets are available at the chamber office and can be delivered to those who desire to call for them.

About 200 men are expected to attend the supper. Similar suppers in the past have been held at Hermleigh, Fluvanna, and Gail.

HONEYMOON CRUISE ENDS—Peter Hamilton, 35-year-old Scotman, and his wife Jill, 28, pose aboard their 24-foot sloop, Salmo, after their honeymoon cruise was halted at San Pedro, Calif., by the approach of the stork. They sailed from Montreal 18 months ago shortly after their marriage. With the discovery that a baby was due, the Hamiltons put into harbor. Now they plan to sell the sloop, fly to Glasgow and settle on a dairy farm. During the voyage the sail was patched with a strip from the skirt Mrs. Hamilton is wearing. (AP Wirephoto)

Credit Insurance Rate Fight Opens

AUSTIN (AP)—An Amarillo insurance company official testified today his business would be cut 80 per cent if new credit insurance rates go into effect May 1.

V. A. Powell, secretary of Cosmos Life Insurance Co., was the first witness in a suit asking an injunction to stop the State Insurance Board from enforcing the new rates which includes a new 40 per cent maximum on commissions.

Testifying in District Court, Powell said he and company President G. W. Lee had the managerial contract to run Cosmos. He said under present rates they could sell their contract for from $114,000 to $151,000. After May 1 when the new credit rates are effective Powell claimed the contract would be worth $51,000 to $63,000.

"Under this board order we cannot make a profit and our agents will not handle the insurance," Powell said.

"Our business will be cut to 20 per cent of what it is now with the new rates."

Powell said Cosmos was a mutual insurance company which operates for the benefit of the types of policies that the company writes.

Insurance Board Chairman Penn Jackson was among the many spectators in the court room.

The hearing on the suit testing the validity of the new credit rates had been postponed several times. The Insurance Board originally put out a new set of credit insurance regulations Dec. 20, 1957 then revised them, after protests, before they became effective. The second set of new rates first were ordered into effect April 1 then the deadline was changed to May 1 because of Cosmos' suit.

In previous hearings investigators for the attorney general and the Insurance Board said that under old credit insurance regulations commissions ranged from 80 to 95 per cent of the premiums paid.

Immediate Preliminary Talks Urged By Big 3

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States, Britain and France called on Russia today to begin group diplomatic talks immediately on an agenda for a summit conference and on plans for a foreign ministers meeting.

Identical notes presented by the three Western powers to the Soviet government in Moscow were frankly designed to probe Russia's intentions toward a heads-of-government session. Officials here have found increasing evidence in recent Soviet moves that Premier Nikita Khrushchev may be backing away from a summit session because he cannot dictate its terms.

The latest of the Soviet maneuvers was disclosed last night when Moscow made public a Khrushchev letter to President Eisenhower on cessation of nuclear weapons tests.

Khrushchev rejected an Eisenhower proposal to resume disarmament negotiations with technical studies of arms control measures.

The White House said today that Eisenhower is still studying the Kremlin note. Press secretary James C. Hagerty said he does not know when the President will reply.

U.S. officials say the Soviets have shown unwillingness to be pinned down to practical East - West negotiations that would really solve problems.

Citing Russia's complaint against U.S. Strategic Air Command bomber operations in the far north as a case in point, these officials say the Soviet government is engaged mainly in anti-U.S. propaganda, not moves for East-West understanding.

Today's Western note to the Kremlin grew out of a suggestion made by Soviet Foreign Minister Gromyko last Thursday and Friday.

At that time, the powers having agreed to hold presummit discussions, Gromyko called in the U.S., British and French ambassadors separately and suggested that the discussions be in a series of separate meetings between him and the three Western envoys.

The Western governments decided that insofar as Gromyko was serious he was trying to set up talks which would give him opportunity to play off the Western Allies against each other.

If he was not serious, it was decided, then he was simply suggesting an impractical arrangement in order to stall summit negotiations.

In today's notes the Western powers expressed surprise at the Gromyko proposal for separate talks, called for joint four-power discussions at the diplomatic level and said the purpose would be not to reach decisions but to discover the possibilities of agreement at the summit.

"The three powers consider that, as a matter of practical procedure, the necessary preparations can be advanced more rapidly by joint meetings rather than by a series of separate interviews," Russia was told. "In this way unnecessary complications and delay would be avoided.

"They wish therefore to suggest to the Soviet government that joint meetings between the three ambassadors and he Soviet foreign minister should begin immediately in order to make the necessary preparations for the foreign ministers meeting.

"The three governments think that such joint meetings should first discuss the agenda for a summit meeting for the purposes described (to explore issues for possible agreement) . . . and then at the appropriate time, discuss the date and place of a foreign ministers meeting and what countries should be invited to be represented at this meeting."

Safety Panel Plans Year's Work Slate

The Chamber of Commerce highway and safety committee, in its first meeting of the 1958 work year yesterday, discussed plans for its work for the year in working toward improving city streets, work with civil defense, and promotion of a traffic safety organization.

The committee, headed by Joe Williamson, chose Clyde Hall as co-chairman and Ford Kenner as recorder.

A discussion was held on city street improvements needed, and a sub-committee was appointed to work on street improvement projects. Included in the discussion was the proposed opening of Thirtieth Street from Avenue O to Avenue S, which would include bridges across Deep Creek and Dry Run Creek, the opening of Avenue O from Twenty-ninth to Thirtieth Streets, which would also include a bridge across Dry Run Creek, and the possible widening of Thirty-seventh Street from the Big Spring highway west to El Paso Avenue.

The street improvement sub-committee is composed of S. S. Steinberg, chairman, Clyde Hall, and J. H. Chastain.

A civil defense sub-committee, composed of Jay Huckabee, chairman, Ford Kenner, and Bill Wise, was appointed to work with the county Civil Defense organization in helping to educate the general public on civil defense.

There was considerable discussion on the possible formation of a county-wide traffic safety council, which would operate on a basis similar to that of a citizens traffic commission. A sub-committee composed of Roy Meador, Williamson, and Grady Elder is to outline a plan for such an organization and return it to the committee, which plans a public meeting for early in May to get the organization underway.

Missile Zooms 5,500 Miles In 30 Minutes For Record

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The Air Force hurled a two-stage missile some 5,000 miles out across the southeast Atlantic last night, but today there were doubts that its top secret nose—needed for study—would be recovered.

Because some of the telemetry equipment aboard the Thor-Vanguard combination failed to function, the missile's course could not be followed as accurately as had been planned.

However, the Air Force confirmed that the nose cone had attained intercontinental range — possibly 5,500 miles.

This meant it was the longest flight any American ballistic missile has yet attained. It required only about 30 minutes to travel to the Ascension Island area off the African coast.

The Soviet Union has made claims of intercontinental ballistic missile flights at full range. The only U. S. missile that previously has flown full intercontinental range is the jet-powered Snark which requires about eight or nine hours for the flight.

The Thor - Vanguard was the most widely seen U. S. missile ever launched.

On a brilliantly clear evening just at dusk, it climbed so high so quickly yesterday that the sunlight caught it, turned its vapor trail to a long and beautiful serpentine, and spotlighted the missile itself for minutes.

The mission was to launch the highly advanced and elaborately equipped cone 80 miles up in space and then 5,500 miles southeastward to a previously selected impact area near Ascension.

The launching was sensationally successful, and the flight appeared—after some initial excitement—to be perfect.

Some of the radio reporting equipment in the second stage failed. One Air Force expert said that without all the telemetry equipment "I wouldn't give two bits right now for our chances of finding the nose cone. There's an awful lot of water in the south Atlantic. But the outlook may brighten tomorrow."

The rocket, a Thor 1,500-mile missile into the nose of which the second stage of a Vanguard satellite rocket had been set like a candle, took off at 7:10 p. m.

It rose beautifully, a luminous pillar in the glow of brilliant floodlights. For about a minute and 20 seconds after launching, when it was some miles overhead, the yellow flame of the missile appeared to explode in a shower of red debris.

For an agonized moment many watchers on the ground thought the rocket had blown apart. But almost instantly the right steady light of its fiery tail could be seen again, winking along into space.

The Air Force said the flash of light had occurred at burnout and falling away of the exhausted first stage, exactly according to program.

The second stage ignited immediately and bore the missile onward.

Observers said the missile traveled straight and true as long as it could be seen.

After the burnout of its second stage, the missile nose would continue on ballistically, like a rock hurled into a long arc through the sky.

AF Doubts Nose Cone To Be Found

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force said today it has not recovered—and doesn't expect to recover—the rocket nose cone fired into space and possibly some 5,000 miles across the Atlantic last night. But it does hope for some useful information from the experiment.

This was the gist of testimony given with apparent reluctance to the House Space Committee by Maj. Gen. Bernard A. Schriever, commander of the Air Force Ballistic Missile Division.

Schriever said some conflicting data has been received from the automatic instruments in the cone, but none so far from the portion of the flight the experiment was concentrated on—the moments when the cone was dropping back into the earth's dense atmosphere from space.

But Schriever said there were some scientifically equipped ships stationed far down the range from the Cape Canaveral, Fla., launching site which are yet to be heard from.

"We have received telemeters data from as far as Antigua, about 1,500 miles down range," Schriever said.

Although other Air Force spokesmen had said the two-stage missile may have gone as far as 5,500 miles, Schriever would say only:

"This was a re-entry test aimed at getting re-entry data at intercontinental ballistic missile range. ICBM range is 3,500 to 5,500 miles."

He said he does not know how high the missile went. It was intended to rise 80 miles above the earth's surface.

Rep. Brooks (D-La), questioning Schriever, noted an official release said it was hoped to recover the cone.

"I can tell you we have not recovered the nose cone, and I doubt we will," Schriever told him.

He said if it is not recovered, the experiment "has to be classified as not completely successful."

Interviews Set For First Superintendent Applicants

The Snyder school board next week will begin interviews of some of the applicants for the post of superintendent of schools here.

A screening committee of the board has been screening applications and so far has checked over 86 formal applications. More applications are arriving daily.

From those 86, the committee picked several for interview by the board, and the interviews will be held at special meetings of the board next Tuesday and Thursday nights.

At a meeting last night, the board discussed with Fred Buford of Dallas, architect for the schools in its building program, preliminary plans for expansion and improvement of facilities at the present junior high and the new junior high to be built, both of which will be three-grade junior highs.

The board gave approval, with some changes, of tentative sketches of work to be done at the present junior high. Those included establishment of football practice fields on the western part of the campus, some covered walkways, a field house at the present junior high practice field, which will become a playing field, some asphalt paving and drainage work east of the building, a truck drive to the cafeteria on the west side of the building, and expansion of the cafeteria and science and homemaking facilities, all of which will be in a new portion of the building to be built on the east side. Preliminary plans were not yet ready on redoing the gymnasium.

Several revisions were made in a tentative plan for the new junior high. Buford is to meet with the board again next Thursday night to present the revised tentative plan on that building.

The board approved a salary revision proposal made by John Conley, athletic director, for assistant coaches for the next school year. Conley gave the board a report showing comparisons of pay for coaches here and in other schools in the area with base teachers salaries similar to those here.

Conley's report, incidentally, showed that of 10 assistant coaches in the high school and junior high, five hold master's degrees. On the current schedule, high school coaches would receive $90 a month above scale for nine and one-half months and junior high coaches $65. Under the plan approved by the board, varsity assistants and head basketball coach will receive $125 a month above scale for nine and one-half months, other high school assistants $110 above scale for the same period, and junior high coaches $70 a month above scale for the same period.

Under the proposal adopted, the additional cost to the schools next year will be $1,757.50.

In other business, the board voted to purchase an electric typewriter and pay for it out of the next year's school budget, and it chose a list of persons from which to pick a tax equalization board for this year.

Child Admits Slaying Baby

KINGSVILLE (AP)—A 6-year-old neighbor boy has admitted he stomped and killed a baby girl near her Kingsville home, Police Chief B. D. Condron said today.

He said the parents of the boy had helped obtain an admission that he took 5-week-old Sandra Ann Carrick from her crib in panic day before yesterday.

Condron said that as police reconstruct the slaying, the boy was frightened by the infant's cries after he hurt her in innocent investigation prompted by sex curiosity.

He took her from the house and killed her to halt her cries, the police chief said.

Jaycees To Name Top Young Man

Snyder's outstanding young man of 1957 will be named by the Junior Chamber of Commerce tomorrow night.

Naming of the outstanding Jaycee will come in conjunction with the installation of 1958 officers of the organization.

Charley Blakey, outgoing president, said that the officers will be installed by Howard Howell, 30, Abilene, state vice president from region five of the Texas Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Officers who will begin their new duties tomorrow night are:

R. T. (Dik) Roberts, president, Ernest Sears, first vice president, Doug McGlaun, second vice president, Frank Taylor secretary, Bob Littlefield treasurer. New directors are to be Jack Nesbit, Howard Milburn, Ray Houpt, Johnny Greenfield, Jurden Brunken, and Art Blanchard, who is the only holdover director.

Outgoing officers who have served for the past year are Blakey, president, Ernest Sears, vice president, Jack Nesbit secretary, Howard Milburn, treasurer, Mel Zane Gilbert, state director. Outgoing directors are Chuck Blount, James McClure, Bob Littlefield, Dr. Robert H. Hargrove, R. T. (Dik) Roberts, and Blanchard, a holdover director.

The installation ceremonies and presentation of special awards for outstanding Jaycee activity by individual members will be made during the annual installation banquet to be held at the Village banquet room at 7:30 o'clock tomorrow night.

Special entertainment will be provided by members of the Snyder Junior High School music department under direction of Mrs. Nan Lee.

Fire Wrecks Tank Plant In Virginia

NEWPORT NEWS, Va. (AP)—Explosions and roaring flames today destroyed 12 oil and gasoline storage tanks in the Esso Standard Oil Co. 22-tank plant here.

No estimate of the loss at the 25-million-gallon capacity plant was available. Three firemen suffered minor injuries.

Acting Fire Chief J. M. Wilson told a reporter he thought there was a 50-50 chance of confining the fire to the present area and saving the remaining tanks of the Hampton Roads facility. He said this would be dependent upon no change in the prevailing light wind.

Several of the tanks untouched thus far contain high octane gasoline and diesel oil. One contains a small amount of alcohol.

Wilson said there was not so much danger now of flames reaching the remaining tanks. The danger element, he added, is in explosions.

Heavy smoke visible for more than 25 miles boiled up 200 to 300 feet with roaring flames at the base, and hung in the air over much of the peninsula area.

Twelve hours after the initial explosion in the plant's pumphouse, touched off the fire, firemen let the flames consume the burning tanks. They were ready to go into action should the fire spread.

Cause of the blast has not been determined.

Johnny King, boiler room foreman, told newsmen he saw an electrical arc from the transformer atop the boiler moments before the blast.

The explosion came as the tanker Esso Newark was unloading 36,000 barrels of gasoline and 18,000 barrels of diesel oil. The tanker was removed to safety as were fishing and pleasure craft moored in the nearby small boat harbor.

There appeared to be no immediate danger to the coal loading piers of the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway, some 350 yards from the Esso property, or to the C&O's merchandise piers still further away.

Firemen said one of the greatest dangers to the waterfront area had been in the possible flooding of the 6-to-8 foot high dikes around each tank. This could have poured burning oil and gasoline into the harbor waters.

Esso officials said the local plant was the only one of its kind in the United States. It was equipped to fuel ships at the nearby C&O coal piers as they took on their cargoes, an operation that saved seral hours of time in port for the vessels.

Student Hurt In Mishap At School

A Snyder High School junior, Beverly Preston, received a broken wrist when involved in a car-pedestrian accident at the high school yesterday afternoon.

Miss Preston, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Preston, 218 Thirty-first Street, was taken to Cogdell Memorial Hospital by Bell ambulance.

Driver of the 1951 Ford car involved was Thomas Wayne Galyean, 511 Twenty-sixth Street.

Paratroop Jumps Continue

FT. CAMPBELL, Ky. (AP)—Military authorities announced plans today for another mass air drop Saturday three times as big as the one yesterday in which five paratroopers jumped to their deaths and 137 were hospitalized.

Saturday's drop will involve more than 4,000 men from the famed 101st Airborne Division, comrades of the men who jumped to their deaths across wind-swept drop zones yesterday.

Maj. L. A. Breault, public information officer, said the remainder of exercise Eagle Wing will continue as scheduled. The exercise, a two-week maneuver, is designed to prepare the men for jumps.

Maj. Breault said Saturday's jump will be spread over eight drop zones on this 88,000-acre reservation astride the Kentucky-Tennessee line. The jump starts at 6 a. m. Men of the 502nd Battle Group, involved in yesterday's drop, will not participate.

The 101st, a streamlined Pentomic division, was the nation's first unit of that size to be equipped for atomic warfare. It is composed of five battle groups—origin of its designation.

Treacherous and gusty winds, ranging on the ground up to eight knots at jump time, turned yesterday's exercise into unexpected tragedy.

The paratroopers were tossed about the drop zone by treacherous and shifting wind gusts.

The victims, among nearly 1,400 taking part, were dragged across the rough drop zone by billowing parachutes which they were helpless to deflate. None of those hospitalized were believed in serious condition.

"The guy who collapsed my chute for me looked like Santa Claus at Easter time," said Sgt. 1.C. Daniel Kling, St.Louis, who suffered severe cuts and bruises. "Guess I went clear across the drop zone."

The battle-trained soldiers making the jump were members of the 502nd Battle Group, one of five such groups in the streamlined 101st Airborne Division. The 502nd is the aggressor force in Exercise Eagle Wing.

The other groups, acting as defenders, are scheduled to jump Saturday.

The five who were killed were blown against trees and rocks by the wind gusts or strangled by by the suspension lines when they were unable to collapse their parachutes.

Maj. Gen. W. C. Westmoreland, 44, who assumed command of the 101st earlier this month, jumped with the 502nd, his 70th jump without injury, but he was dragged 30 feet across the ground.

"I just couldn't run as fast as my chute was going," he commented.

LeMay Says Red Buildup Is Threat

NEW YORK (AP)—Gen. Curtis E. LeMay said today the threat of general war increases each day as the Soviet Union grows stronger.

But Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor said general war is less likely than limited war because of the nuclear strength of both sides.

Taylor, Army chief of staff, and LeMay, Air Force vice chief of staff, prepared their remarks for the convention of the American Newspaper Publishers Assn. Adm. Harry D. Felt, vice chief of naval operations, also joined in the military discussions.

"Where before they (the Soviets) had no capability for general war," LeMay said, "today they have a nuclear stockpile, 25,000 operational aircraft, and a strong scientific and technical research and development program. The danger of general war is on the increase as these capabilities are moulded to fit their desire for world domination."

LeMay and Taylor differed on "mutual deterrence" — the idea that with each side able to destroy the other with nuclear weapons, neither will start a war.

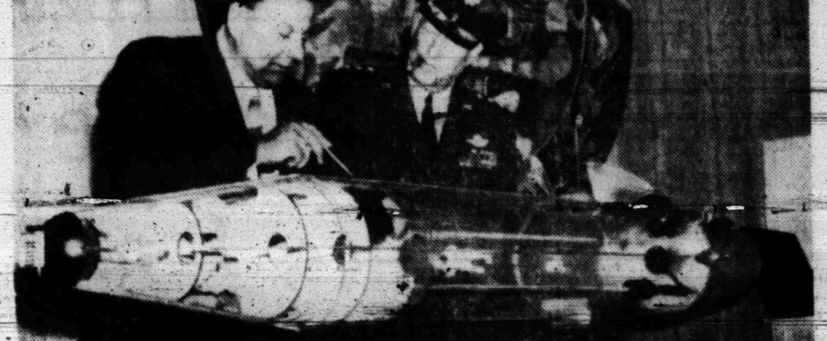

"The Air Force believes in deterrence," LeMay said. "We do not, however, believe in the false security that derives from believing the myth of mutual deterrence."

Taylor expressed the view that "under such condition, we are probably justified in assuming that neither side would voluntarily start a general atomic war," but he added: "It does not follow that the Soviet bloc will renounce other forms of aggression as a means of gaining their ends. It would rather suggest that they will prefer lesser forms of military activity pursued at an increased rate of occurrence."

Felt spoke out strongly for the Navy's fleet ballistic missile system, in which intermediate range Polaris ballistic missiles are to be fired from submerged nuclear submarines off the coast of an enemy.

All three officers agreed on the possibility of limited war, including the possibility that limited war could grow into general war.

And each of the three said his service is ready to fight the small, tactical war as well as the big, strategic one.

Lana Waits For Decision Of Judge

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Movie star Lana Turner today is just a mother hoping for custody of her child.

The future of the actress' 14-year-old daughter Cheryl rests with a silver-haired judge presiding at a Juvenile Court hearing.

Cheryl has been held since her mother's lover Johnny Stompanato was fatally stabbed Good Friday night in the boudoir of the actress' rented mansion. Police said Cheryl admitted plunging a kitchen knife into Stompanato's stomach when he threatened her mother.

A coroner's jury decided the slaying was justifiable homicide. However, this ruling is not binding on Superior Judge Allen T. Lynch, who sits each Thursday in Juvenile Court.

Among the 18 witnesses summoned were Cheryl, Lana and Steve Crane, second of Miss Turner's four husbands and Cheryl's father.

Cheryl could be sent home with her mother, or Judge Lynch could place her in custody of her father or her maternal grandmother Mrs. Mildred Turner, or place her in a foster home or a state institution.

Gates Refuses To Bury The Hatchet

DALLAS (AP) — Former FBI counterspy Herbert Philbrick offered to patch up hard feelings with the boss of the old Daily Worker, John Gates, yesterday but it was no go.

Gates held memories of a stretch in the Atlanta pen for conviction of conspiracy toward the government. Philbrick's testimony helped put him there.

They argued a few pros and many cons of communism during a panel discussion before an overflow crowd of more than 3,400 students at Southern Mehodist University. The school said the talks would give the students an insight into communism and help them combat it.

"I was sent to prison for my ideals," Gates said. As for the conspiracy angle, he said that was "catch-all to put people in prison for their ideals."

Backstage before the talks, photographers tried to get the two to pose together. "I will but I don't believe Mr. Gates is willing," Philbrick said.

"He's a fake and a phony," Gates snarled at newsmen. Philbrick moved in to give photographers their shot and Gates did a disappearing act behind some stage props.

Philbrick offered to shake hands after it was all over, Gates ignored the outstretched palm and turned away.

Billed as a case study of the Communist conspiracy and blasted by Dallas civic groups as a dangerous precedent, the talks kept to a peaceful note.

Gates said he quit the Communist party last January because he found out after 27 years of membership that it "could not be consoled without radical transformation and that was not possible."

"For me, the day the Daily worker died, it was the end," he said. "The party will exist only as a living corpse in an advanced stage of decomposition. The party is dead beyond recall."

Gates said he was no longer a Communist, having quit the party two days after the Daily Worker folded, but a democratic Socialist.

There is a Club Hippique du Lasso in Paris whose main aim is to promote the traditions of "Le coyboy americain" in France. Members dress in ten-gallon hats and carry six-shooters.

Docker Ired, Has Plan To Sue Monaco

NICE, France (AP)—Sir Bernard Docker says he's going to get the best libel lawyer he can find to sue Prince Rainier's Monaco for having him and his wife kicked off the French Riviera.

"This affair will cost Monaco 200 million francs (almost half a million dollars)," raged the British industrialist.

"They are fools," snorted his blonde wife, Lady Norah Docker of the gold-plated Daimlers, marble championships and other headline-grabbing pursuits.

Lady Docker's current appearance in the limelight — from which she has been absent for some time — began Sunday. Monaco charged she insulted Prince Rainier and Princess Grace by tearing up a small paper Monacan flag at the Monte Carl casino.

The tempestuous Englishwoman said she didn't mean to insult the Prince and his American-born wife, but she was disappointed that she couldn't take her 19-year old son to the palace reception Sunday in honor of Rainier and Grace's new son.

Young Docker didn't have an invitation, and the palace said even if his ma and pa had sent christening gifts worth more than $1,000, sonny couldn't join the hundreds of invited guests.

Bison Makes A Good Pet

CRANFORD, N.J. (AP) — Raymond L. Aumack's pleasant suburban house has become a home where buffalo roam.

To the astonishment of neighbors and the delight of children, a 1,300-pound bison named Pat has been grazing on Aumack's front lawn for the last several days.

Pat is the pet of Mr. and Mrs. Larue Olson, Whitewood, S.D., who brought him East in a trailer when they decided to visit the Aumacks.

Pat, whom Olson has trained since lassoing him in Montana six years ago, is particular and won't take food from anyone but his master, so the Olsons had to bring him along.

"An odd house guest," said Mrs. Aumack, "but very quiet and less trouble than a dog."

BIRTHS

Mr. and Mrs. Tim Dennis, 507 Thirty-second Street, are parents of a five-pound, 13-ounce daughter, born at 1108 p.m. yesterday at Cogdell Memorial Hospital.

Postal Rate Study Endures

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate-House conferees meet again today to try to finish work on a postal rate and pay increase bill from which they have eliminated the 5-cent letter stamp.

The conferees voted yesterday to knock out the 5-cent temporary rate on out-of-town letters inserted by the Senate in its version of the bill. They accepted a stright 4-cent charge voted by the House last year.

The vote was a defeat for President Eisenhower and Postmaster General Summerfield, who had asked for a permanent 5-cent rate on the intercity mail along with 4 cents on other letters.

One Republican senator said he believed the bill, if passed, would run into a presidential veto because of these actions of the conferees: knocking out the 5-cent stamp, approving a pay raise for the 500,000 postal employes far beyond what the President proposed, and making the pay boost retroactive to Jan. 1. The administration had opposed any retroactivity.

Crump For Senate

AUSTIN (AP)—San Saba attorney Louis Crump has announced for the State Senate seat now held by Sen. Carlos Ashley of Llano, who is not seeking reelection.

Pair Still Deny Robbery Of Bank

ATHENS, Tex. (AP)—Two brothers charged with a series of robberies still maintained that they did not rob the First State Bank of East Fort Worth April 1, Sheriff J. W. Brownlow said today.

They were expected to be handed over to Dallas officers for further questioning in the holdup of a Dallas reducing salon where the brothers forced 18 women to disrobe during the robbery Monday night.

The brothers are Monroe Lambright, 26, and Clinton Lambright, 21.

Brownlow said the two offered to take a lie detector test concerning the Fort Worth robbery in which $3,385 was taken. He quoted them as saying that had they committed the robbery, they would admit it since they already face numerous other charges.

They have been charged with robbery in the Dallas reducing salon case and the robbery of John Murchison of Athens, brother of Clint Murchison, millionaire oilman.

Dist. Atty. Jack Hardee said the brothers made statements admitting the Dallas and Murchison robberies, the robbery Tuesday night of a grocery-service station near Athens, the theft of a car in Houston and the burglarizing of the Murchison lake cottage.

They were arrested near Corsicana Tuesday night.

Sheriff Rufus Pevehouse of Corsicana said Mrs. B. L. Cleaver and Frank Stidham, employes of the robbed Fort Worth bank, picked out Billy Lambright from a lineup as a suspect in the robbery.

Office Open For Claims

LAUSANNE, Switzerland (AP)—An office has opened in Lausanne to coordinate claims against West Germany for non-German property confiscated by the Nazis.

The claims are to be filed with the Bonn government before June 1. The West German Parliament passed a restitution law last year.

The office is run and financed by an Austrian-born Israeli lawyer, Hans Deutsch, who negotiated the return of the Nazi-confiscated properties of the Rothschild family.

Deutsch said the German restitution law may help some 100,000 victims of Nazi persecution in France, Belgium, Holland, Luxembourg, Denmark, Norway, Austria, Italy and Greece. He estimated they would get compensation for 80 to 90 per cent of their lost valuables.

Crude Time Bomb Found On Playground

DALLAS (AP)—What police called a crude time bomb was found buried in a playground a few hundred yards from Woodrow Wilson High yesterday.

The giant-sized Fourth of July aerial bomb, attached to an alarm clock and a six-volt battery, was found only a few feet from where the white school's senior class parade was held earlier in the day.

Trial Of Two Boys Due To Reach Jury

DALLAS (AP)—Trial of two boys accused of tossing a playmate into a gravel pit and causing him to drown was expected to go to a jury today.

This was the third day of the civil trial for Benedicto Caudille, 14, and Francisco Moreno, 10. It will decide whether the two are delinquent, as the state charges.

The boys are accused in the death of Felipe Hernandez, 8, last March 9.

Midwest Hit By Storms

By The Associated Press

Violent storms lashed central and southern sections of the Midwest today, dominating the wet weather belt from the Rockies to the Appalachians.

Tornadic winds whipped across the middle Mississippi Valley during the night and early morning, hammering hardest in parts of Missouri and central and southern Illinois.

Tornado funnels were reported over wide areas of the two states but none reportedly touched the ground. Thunderstorms, with strong winds and hail in some areas, hit many sections. No injuries were reported.

Light snow continued in the Rockies and rescue crews were hampered in digging through huge snowdrifts to reach an undetermined number of marooned campers in the snowbound Montana mountain town of Red Lodge. A record 42-inch snowfall hit the 5,600-foot high town of 3,000. Drifts as high as 10 feet were reported.

Other rescue attempts were being made in the Big Horn Mountains of north central Wyoming where six persons were marooned by snowdrifts.

Mrs. C. Tyer Hostess To 20th Century Club

The Twentieth Century Club met Tuesday at the Martha Ann Clubhouse with Mrs. Charles Tyer, hostess.

Mrs. H. W. Cargile was leader for the program on 'Public Affairs'. She introduced the guest speaker, Mr. Durward Porter, who spoke on civil defense.

Mr. Porter said: "Disaster is a condition we would like to avoid, but that it is one we have to accept." He stressed the importance of being prepared for any emergency.

"In a matter of minutes war can be declared. The amount of damage will be done in the first few minutes. The whole concept of war has changed.

"Our part in this emergency will be to try to stay alive in order that we may render a service to our nation. This is the basis of Civil Defense. Civil defense is a personal thing and is only as good as we make it. It can teach us to care for ourselves and others. Our work will have to be done without communication or supply lines."

Mr. Porter listed attack as our first danger, and tornado as our second greatest danger.

"The most important thing we can do is to condition our minds to the fact that it can happen here. Second we can take shots to prevent an epidemic. We should never be complacent, for our lives and national existence is at stake. We must live to render a service to our country."

Mrs. Cargile distributed a paper on the "Do's and Don'ts In The Time of Emergency or Disaster". This paper listed tornado safety rules and how to prepare our families for emergencies.

A dessert plate was served to 16 members by the hostess.

Old Hawaiian Style Adopted By Teen Set

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

A fashion that's been going strong for 100 years in Hawaii is going to the wardrobes of today's teen-agers. It's the muumuu, a comfortable, loosely built gown, free of zippers, buttons and snaps. Just pull it over your head and swinsuit, wear it lounging around the house, wear it at your next record party.

For summer you'll be right in style if you make your muumuu of some of the delightful floral prints in sun-kissed or rose arbor hues. Make it of any light-weight fabric, suitable to the conditions in which it will live. Make it of silk for summer evening parties, giving the chemise a run for its success. Make it of cotton for the beach or lounging.

How to make it? It's the one easy sewing project you could embark on, say the sewing center strategists. Use a commercial pattern, if you like. Or, if you are an old hand with the needle, try your hand at it without a pattern.

Start by measuring from shoulder to bottom of them, adding eight inches for a double hem. Mulitply this measurement by three (one length for the front of the garment and two lengths for the back.) Add ¾ yards for sleeves. One-half yard of contrasting fabric will be needed for yoke and cuffs.

Tall girls might like the classic puff sleeve, with an elastic strip inside the cuff-top to permit sleeve to be worn three-quarters or above elbow length, admitting a maximum of air circulation. Short girls may prefer to omit the sleeve entirely.

Cut down the center of the front fabric length on the straight of the goods. Front side seams are tapered outward from armhole to hem. The two lengths for the back are likewise tapered. The major segments of the muumuu body resemble four pic-shaped pieces, with an off-size bite taken out at the yoke line, and with one edge of each on the straight of the material.

The gathering of the body of the muumuu at the yoke line is easily done by setting the sewing machine for a long stitch which is easily gathered up. Arrange front fullness to fall freely over bust. Back gathers are distributed across center back.

Let your imagination run riot if you like when it comes to decorative stitches on the yoke. Try a bold domino pattern or satin stitch a graceful vine and leaves. Cut a fabric motif and applique to the yoke. If you do the decorative stitching at the yoke, line your muumuu yoke with pellon.

It's an easy project whether you are neophyte with pattern or girl wonder at the machine. And don't be surprised if your friends greet you with "Aloha", in recognition of your real Hawaiian look.

Mary McCright Honored, Tuesday

Mary Margaret McCright was honored with a birthday party and steak dinner Tuesday evening on her 16th birthday.

The affair was held in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe McCright, Dermott.

A 'pajama party' was held later in the evening and cake and ice cream was served.

Even Cleopatra Knew The Importance Of Eye Care

American women who spend untold hours on grooming are perhaps just following a precedent set by that legendary siren of ancient Egypt, Cleopatra.

Cleo, not the slovenly type, did not spare the hours, either.

She reportedly "enameled" her nose and chin in white, carmined her lips to an improbable crimson, and liberally applied a pasty rouge to her cheeks and dabbed blue and green-hued shadow around her eyelashes. Today's women have better taste in make-up, of course.

But one thing Cleo never forgot was the importance of eye care.

That should be a major lesson to modern-day women, for just as in the First Century, B. C., our eyes are keys to comeliness and good health.

We don't have to be as fancy as the Queen of the Nile, but there are basic rules that we all can follow for better eye care.

History records that Cleopatra was a pioneer in eye care, for she was very conscientious in caring for the orbs that put the "double-whammy" on Mark Antony and Julius Caesar. For example, she wore an early form of "sunglasses" made of bamboo and jeweled with tmeralds which actually were eyeshades to be worn at the galley races or other outdoor social gatherings of the times.

Researchers report that Cleo ate the proper foods for a well-balanced diet which is so important to keeping eyes healthy and sparkling. Despite the fact that she was quite a social butterfly and kept steady company with a lot of V.I.P.'s, Cleo still found plenty of time for her daily cat-nap.

Time change, of course, and through the knowledge gained in succeeding centuries, todays woman has available much more information on eye care rules than Cleopatra ever had. Here are a few of the more important ones:

1. A good rule for helping you "wake up mornings is to wash about the eyes. Close them, then use clean water and a clean wash cloth.

2. Never rub your eyes with your fingers. Eye infections, all too easily incurred, can be serious. If you suspect something foreign is in your eye and tears or eye-drops don't wash it out, only a medical doctor (preferably an ophthalmologist) should remove the object.

3. Though Cleopatras brand of "sunglasses is out of date, the need to guard your eyes from glare is not. Outdoors, work with the sun behind you if possible. Indoors, put the light on your work, not in your field of vision. If you feel the need, wear sunglasses to cut glare on bright days. Never, however, make a habit of using sunglasses for night driving, or watching TV.

4. Don't overtax your eyes after an illness.

5. Proper diet and adequate sleep are necessary for general good health and sparkling eyes.

6. At least once a year, see an ophthalmologist for an eye check-up.

Cleopatra, of course, was more famous for making use of her eyes than for taking care of them. Lord Byron noted this in his poem, "The Corsair, with these lines that show there is a little bit of Cleopatra in every woman:

"What lost a world and bade a hero fly?
— A timid tear in Cleopatras eye!"

Teens Best Text Book— Daily Paper

"I saw Sputnik way up in the sky," bragged a little fellow to his high school baby sitter, a while back.

Do you think she understood that kind of baby talk? Perish the thought. She'd never heard of earth satellites, it turned out, prehaps doesn't now know that the United States has tossed two of its own into orbit.

How many teen-agers live in that little vacuum, passing through this wondrous age without curiosity or awareness? And why hasn't their interest been aroused by parents or teachers?

Time was when the daily newspaper was required reading for high school students, considered essential to keeping up with current events. But maybe Susie, like Johnny, can't read.

Read Your Newspaper

The American newspaper is the most rewarding investment that one can make at a price that doesn't even pay for the newsprint. Just test it. Go through the paper from start to finish and see for yourself.

A newspaper offers diaries of events that history may never record in such detail. These accounts of our times are painless ways to absorb knowledge, step by step, on the educational ladder.

Whats in a daily newspaper any way?

There is news-everything you want to know that has happened since the last edition, if it is fit to print.

MIDAS CAKES

Ingredients: 1 cup sifted cake flour, 1¼ teaspoons doubleacting baking powder, ⅛ teaspoon salt, ¼ cup butter, ½ cup sugar, 2 teaspoons grated orange rind, ¼ teaspoon vanilla, 4 egg yolks, ¼ cup milk.

Method: Sift together the flour, baking powder and salt. Cream butter, sugar, orange rind and vanilla. Beat in egg yolks thoroughly, one at a time. Beat in sifted dry ingrediants, alternately with milk; begin and end with flour. Beat only until smooth after each addition. Spoon batter into small greased and floured cupcake pans (each about 2 inches in diameter) filling them ¾ full. Bake in moderate (375 degrees) oven until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean — about 20 minutes. Remove from pans to wire rack to cool. Frost as desired.

PECAN BARS

Ingredients: 2-3 cup sifted flour, 1 teaspoon double-acting baking powder, ⅛ teaspoon salt, ¼ cup butter, ¾ cup firmly-packed dark brown sugar, 1 egg, 1 teaspoon vanilla, ½ cup chopped pecans.

Method: Sift together the flour, baking powder and salt. Cream butter and brown sugar; beat in egg thoroughly with vanilla. Stir in sifted dry ingredients and pecans. Spread evenly in buttered baking pan (6 by 9 inches). Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven 25 to 30 minutes. Do not overbake. Place pan on wire rack to cool; when still warm cut into bars and remove with spatula. When entirely cooled, store in tightly covered container.

JAMES PEASE

CMA To Hear James Pease Monday Night

The Civic Music Association will present one of the leading singing actors of the operatic stage and one of the finest concert artists in the field Monday night at 8 p.m. in the High School auditorium.

Mrs. James Pease, a native of Indianapolis, Ind., was attracted to music when only a young boy. He often listened to and mimicked recordings of great singers, especially those of Lawrence Tibbett, but because his father was anxious for his son to study law, Pease attended Northwestern University and later took his law degree at the University of Indiana.

This handsome young American baritone, prosmised to give the members of the Snyder Civic Music Association an evening of great entertainment. Make your plans now for Monday evenings appearance of this great and noted entertainer.

Mrs. R. Patterson Speaks To B&PW Club

The Business and Professional Women's Club met Tuesday evening at the Martha Ann Clubhouse for their monthly dinner meeting. Hostesses for the evening were the Legislation and Finance committees.

The legislation committee was composed of Mrs. Norman Spencer, chairman, and Mrs. C. E. McGaw, the finance committee included Miss Ethel Mae Sturdivant, chairman and Mrs. Dorothy Brunson.

Miss Sturdivant, who was introduced by Miss Ethel Roberts, reviewed the book "How to Gain Security and Financial Independence" by Ira U. Cobleigh.

Mrs. McGaw introduced Mrs. Robert R. Patterson. She gave a very interesting account of the different activities of the wives of the Legistators during the Legislative session in the state capitol.

Twenty club members and two guests, Mrs. Robert R. Patterson and Mrs. Hollis Fields, were present.

Beef With Bean Sprouts

Ingredients: ¾ pound flank steak (trimmed of fat and party frozen), 1 bouillon cube, ¾ cup boiling water, 4 teaspoons cornstarch, ¼ cup cold water, 4 teasnoons soy sauce, ½ teaspoon sugar, ½ teaspoon dark molasses, 2 tablespoons peanut oil, 1 clove garlic (minced), 1 can (1 pound) bean sprouts (drained).

Method: Cut steak in half the long way; with sharp knife held as flat as possible, slice meat across the grain so strips are about ⅛-inch thick and 1 inch wide. In a 2-cup measure, dissolve bouillon cube in boiling water. Mix cornstarch with cold water until smooth stir in soy sauce, sugar and molasses; add to bouillon; reserve. Heat oil in 10-inch skillet; add meat; stir-fry rapidly until meat loses its red color. Add cornstarch mixture; stirring constantly bring to rapid boil to clear and thicken sauce. Add bean sprouts and heat briefly. Makes 4 small servings.

Atheneum Study Club Hears Friendship Program Tuesday

The Atheneum Study Club met at 3:45 Tuesday afternoon at the Martha Ann Club with Mrs. B. J. Weaver, hostess.

Mrs. J. S. Langridge brought an inspirational program on 'Friendship'. She said:

"Except for wisdom, friendship is the best gift bestowed upon man, said Cicero many years ago. Aristole defines a friend as a single soul dwelling in two bodies. Hazlitt, the 19th century Bristish essayist, wrote: 'One cannot expect people to be other then they are'. These ideas perhaps should guide us on the great adventure of friendship.

"In a fine friendship, there is a relation of perfect equality. There is equal obligation and advantage between two real friends, and one does not demand of the other, more than he himself would give.

"Friendship is compounded of esteem and love. It derives its tenderness from love and its permanence from esteem. A friendship can be onesided, but seldom will be, for true love of one friend for the others will not remain unrequited.

"In true friendship there is always the element of belief in the others best qualities. Appreciation is a wonderful thing, for it enhances the satisfaction we have in work well done, and stimulates us to do even better things.

"In lasting friendship there is generosity of spirit. Unless we can truly rejoice in the success of a friend — in her good fortune, we cannot say we know even the beginnings of what real friendship means. Friendship involves many things, but above all, the power of going out of one's self and appreciating whatever is noble and loving in another.

"Loyalty, too is a requisite of any formula for successful friendship. This loyalty is based upon trust, upon belief in the integrity and uprightness of one's friend. Whispering tongues, that delight in scandal can find no fertile soil in the heart or mind of a loyal friend.

"Sympathy, the ability to put is a valuable part of a successful friendship. When we can truthfully say, 'I feel for you', we have identified ourself with our friend."

A short business meeting followed the program. The Spring luncheon was scheduled for May 10, and the family picnic for May 20.

Refreshments were served to 18 members.

Lone Star Gas Co. Increases Its Executive Organization

Lone Star Gas Company today announced changes in its executive organization calling for two new executive vice presidents, three new vice presidents and a new comptroller.

In making the announcement, President E. T. Potter said "It has become clear that the operations of Lone Star Gas Company have grown to such an extent, with an accompanying increase in the scope and complexity of work requirements, that substantial change in executive organization are required."

Louis G. James, vice president and comptroller, was elected to the new position of executive vice president (finance and accounting). He will be the chief financial officer of the company and will provide general direction to the comptroller, the corporate secretary, the director of purchases and materials and the treasurer.

E. A. Brown has been elected to the new post of executive vice president (operations). Brown, formerly vice president in charge of exploration and gas supply, will be in overall executive charge of operations and will provide general direction to the vice presidents in charge of distribution, transmission and exploration and gas supply.

Willard G. Wiegel, treasurer and director of personnel, was elected to the new position of vice president (personnel). He will continue also as treasurer.

The new post of vice president (research and development), was given to Thomas S. Bacon. Prior to the election, Bacon was director of research and development.

Carl M. Hill was elected vice president (exploration and gas supply), the post formerly filled by Brown. Hill has been serving as superintendent of operations in the Exploration and Gas Supply Division.

Howard J. Yonkers, assistant comptroller, was elected comptroller to succeed James in that capacity.

The six men were elected to similar positions with Lone Star Producing Company, wholly-owned subsidiary.

Tall Girls Take Stand For Rights

MONTEREY, Calif. (AP)—Tall girls are better adjusted than short ones.

Why? Probably because they have been looked up to most of their lives.

A student and a psychology professor of Pomona College, Claremont, Calif., reported these findings yesterday to the Western Psychology Assn.

The investigators queried 50 Pomona College coeds at random to learn at what height a girl considers herself tall.

Eighty per cent of those who were 5 feet 7 or above regarded themselves as tall. Sixty-six per cent of 5-foot-6'ers considered themselves average.

So 5 feet 7 was used as the marker for a tall girl.

Fifty coeds—half that tall or taller, the rest shorter—were given two standard psychological tests. Results:

Those coeds who consider themselves tall are also more ascendant—that is, they stand up better for their rights and tend to be leaders.

They're also better adjusted, more optimistic, more cheerful, more even in mood, more socially oreinted, more tolerant of others and more homogeneous—that is, more alike in their responses.

The study was made by Carole McCoy, North Hollywood, Calif., a Pomona senior who stands 5 feet 10 in her bare feet, and Dr. Graham B. Bell, 6-foot-4 psychology professor.

Miss McCoy and Dr. Bell theorized that in social situations, tall girls have responsibility thrust upon them, they accept it and as a result learn to react as more mature, socially oriented persons.

The investigators suggested that educators take a hint from this and thrust responsibility on shorter students to facilitate their social growth.

Pressure In Powell Case Is Denied

NEW YORK (AP) — U.S. Atty. Paul W. Williams denies that his office ever got orders from higher up to drop the grand jury investigation of income tax allegations against Rep. Adam Clayton Powell Jr. (D-NY).

A former assistant of Williams says otherwise.

Williams also denies that the grand jury has in any way threatened to become a runaway jury.

The grand jury which investigated the tax affairs of Powell, Negro leader and clergyman in Harlem, took up the case again last week after it had lain dormant since Feb. 11, 1957.

Williams made his denial yesterday after reports were that the grand jury was threatening to get a special prosecutor to replace Williams' staff.

Powell, although continuing as a Democrat, supported President Eisenhower in the 1956 election because of the civil rights issue.

The grand jury's original investigation, which began before the 1956 election, brought criminal action against four of Powell's congressional aides. Three were convicted or pleaded guilty to income tax evasion. A fourth is under indictment.

Daniel Webster's birthplace was Franklin, N.H.

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—The $10,000 pay check singer Julius La Rosa took with him after entertaining at the Home Show is no good.

Al Learman, producer of the show, said he had stopped payment because La Rosa's performance was disappointing. He said he gave La Rosa "every chance to up-beat his act," but that La Rosa was uncooperative.

Learman said he had sent a $10,000 check to the American Guild of Variety Artists to be held in escrow until the question of guarantees to La Rosa is settled.

In San Francisco La Rosa said he was surprised at Learman's action. He said the show hadn't gone over so well, but that "such shows and club affairs all over the country aren't doing as good as usual these days."

Woman Will Hire Lawyer

HYATTSVILLE, Md. (AP) — Although she got praise from the judge, housewife Mrs. Kenneth L. Fowler is turning her court fight for a dry basement over to a professional lawyer.

Mrs. Fowler, 34, mother of nine children, conducted her own case yesterday when her damage suit against house builder C. P. Benton came up in Hyattsville Trial Magistrate Court.

She lost. Judge Grover Lee Small said she failed to prove she had suffered damages when her basement developed a leak.

But the judge said Mrs. Fowler, whose only legal training was a brief study of Library of Congress lawbooks, did a "beautiful job for a layman."

Mrs. Fowler said she and her husband will appeal to a higher court but this time "we are looking for a bona fide lawyer."

One Dog Is Allowed To Go Unleashed

GLEN COVE, N. Y. (AP)—Bootsie, a mongrel with a mission, is the only dog around here who can go without a leash.

Several days ago Bootsie, a small black and white pooch, was wandering unattended near his home. The city has been conducting a campaign against unleashed canines.

The dog catcher attempted to serve a summons on Bootsie's mistress, Mrs. Frances Basile.

She refused to accept it and told this story:

Her son, Vincent, 12, was totally blind until two years ago. An operation restored vision in one eye.

The boy goes to a nearby school to learn braille, and he is guided by Bootsie. The dog escorts the boy each morning, calls for him at lunch time, and meets him when school is over in the afternoon.

The case came before Mayor Joseph A. Suozzi. He ruled that Bootsie is something special and the leash order will not apply to him.

But Suozzi urged Mrs. Basile to see to it that Bootsie doesn't wander on his trips to and from school without the boy.

Tax Overhaul Is Predicted

TYLER (AP)—The president of Texas Midcontinent Oil and Gas Assn. predicted a complete overhaul of the state's tax structure last night.

Charles Alcorn, speaking to a group of East Texas oilmen, said indications point to an improvement in the industry before the year is over.

He warned, however, it will not "create a petroleum demand that would produce even half the amount of additional revenue that will be needed."

He said the situation would force a revision of the state tax laws.

"The patchwork of past sessions in which additional taxes were levied on oil and gas production will not get the job done," he said.

Texas Confronted By Major Fiscal Crisis

By DAVE CHEAVENS

AUSTIN (AP)—Texas government is up against a fiscal crisis of major proportions unless the Legislature finds new revenue sources, says the Tax Study Commission.

It predicted yesterday at least a 90 million dollar deficit by 1961 based on spending programs already established and on tax laws now in effect.

Sen. William Fly of Victoria, chairman, predicted personally the next Legislature would spend a lot more than now planned.

The commission's report only took into account factors that are known and predictable, Fly said. For that reason, it did not figure on the possible adverse effects of current low oil production allowables and the business recession on tax revenue.

The commission's deficit forecast was considerably under the comptroller's 100 million dollar figure which included a 12 million deficit estimate for 1958-59. Other estimates have shoved it as high as 142 million.

The third report prepared by the Texas Research League, which is doing basic studies for the commission, is jammed with multimillion dollar figures and reasons for the fiscal pickle. In essence it said population growth and services deemed necessary have outstripped revenue. Specifically, it listed these causes:

A mounting rate of population increase of people under 18 for whom such expensive services as education must be provided.

The same in respect to persons above 65, for many of whom welfare and institutional care is provided by the state. Neither of these young or old groups produce tax revenue commensurate with the services they get.

More and more assumption by the state of functions once handled by local governments and financed by local taxes.

Three major spending policy changes in the last 10 years: 1. Increased school aid tied to rising enrollments; 2. assumption by the state of farm roads; 3. abolition of the 30-cent property tax for general revenue.

The report detailed how the citizen's tax dollar is spent: 87 cents for education, highways, and welfare; 5.5 cents for hospitals, and lesser percentages for numerous services.

The report forecast that highway spending would jump from 243 million in 1957 to 369 million in 1965; state aid for local schools and vocational education from 271 million last year to 389 million in 1965; welfare from 159 million in 1957 to 181 million in 1965.

TO THE DAILY NEWS:

I cannot express my great disappointment in not getting the bond issue passed for the Youth Center.

Now the good kind parents who are willing to do for their own and other teenagers what they can to let them enjoy clean healthy pleasures will have to work the harder by giving "get togethers" in their home. Try as they might, though, they can only reach a few because it is impossible to invite them all; whereas with the Youth Center every teenager would have had a standing invitation as long as he or she had shown good conduct. Just another push toward delinquency in my opinion.

Since it has turned out as it has why doesn't someone or about 10 of Snyder's leading parents undertake the project of building a private Recreation Center of this kind, charging a small sum for entrance fees? If kept morally clean as well as otherwise it would soon pay for itself.

Inspector Gets Good Look At Car

JERSEY CITY, N.J. (AP)—James Drones, making a routine inspection of a refrigerator car, got a pretty good look at it. He was sealed inside it for 46 hours.

Drones, 40, hopped into the car at Newark Monday, only to have the door slide shut behind him. His shouts and pounding were of no avail until a conductor, also making a routine check, finally came upon him Wednesday.

He was treated for exposure at Martland Medical Center, where his condition was listed as "not serious."

Nickel-containing stainless steels are used in modern high-speed aircraft jet engines because they withstand the hot corrosive gases.

BUCKIN' THE LINE

By BUCK FRANCIS
News Sports Editor

THE TIGERS NEED a victory over Odessa here Saturday to complete the cycle of having defeated each team in the rugged District 2-AAAA at least one time.

The Tigers stand 1-0 against Midland and Big Spring, 2-2 against San Angelo and 1-2 against Abilene. But the Bengals have drawn a blank in three games with Odessa.

Saturday will be the Tigers' final shot at Odessa this season.

We believe if the Tigers would "borrow" the Abilene Eagle uniforms for Saturday's game they wouldn't have any trouble with the Bronchos. Odessa seemingly "freezes" up at the site of an Eagle uniform.

Odessa, in our opinion, has a much better club than the Eagles this season but the Broncs still can't find that winning combination against the Abilene club.

Abilene blanked the Broncs 4-0 Tuesday for only the second loss in 20 games for the Odessans.

Both Bronc defeats have come in district play and it now appears that the best Odessa baseball team in years won't get past district play, mainly because of the Abilene "jinx."

What Might Have Been

In a follow-up to yesterday's comments on the TIL track set-up, we have discovered the Tigers may well have won the Region 1 title had the Triple A schools been placed in a division by themselves which is the way it should have been.

This despite the fact that Andrews finished ahead of the Tigers in last week's region meet that combined 4A and 3A teams into one division.

With the 4A schools removed and moving up the 3A placers in last week's regional meet where they were beaten out by a 4A performer, the Tigers would have racked up at least 34½ points to at least 32 points for Andrews.

In other words, Class 4A schools were strongest in the events where Snyder was concerned than they were where Andrews was concerned.

The Tigers would have finished 1-2 in three events with the 4-A schools out of the picture, the broad jump and both hurdle races. And then the Tigers would have won the high jump and added a second place tie for another near "clean sweep."

5 Classes Too Many

Andrews, of course, would have dominated the relay events the same as she did with the 4A schools included. The Mustangs won the 440-yard dash, too, with the 4A schools in the field and they would have placed second in this event had it been strictly 3A.

It would have been a close battle between the Tigers and Andrews for the region 3A crown. Both schools would have picked up some thirds and fourths, no doubt, and even another first place or two.

Andrews nor Snyder scratched in four events last week, the 100 and 220-yard dashes, shot put and discus.

The principal reason, we understand, for splitting the schoolboys into three divisions for the state meet is that the field would be too big for the University of Texas officals to handle with five classifications involved.

In other words, the TIL officials are inconveniencing a lot of schools to make it convenient for themselves.

They could have two state meets, you know, with 4A and 3A schools competing one week and the AA, A and B schools another. But this would be too much trouble for the "selfish" officials down Austin way.

Ft. Worth, Dallas In First TL Wins

By The Associated Press

The Texas League race tightened up Wednesday with both unbeaten teams, Austin and Tulsa, taking losses and both winless teams, Dallas and Fort Worth, winning.

Austin moved into undisputed first place by splitting a doubleheader with Fort Worth while Tulsa took an 11-inning 4-2 licking from Dallas. The two had been tied for the lead.

San Antonio downed Houston 6-0 and Victoria whammed Corpus Christi 11-7.

Fort Worth clipped Austin 7-5 in the opener. The Senators rallied for four runs in the final inning and it took two relief hurlers, Harry Perkowski and Bill Darden, to put down the uprising. A 2-run homer by Joe Macko and a 2-run triple by Chick King featured the Fort Worth attack.

Austin came back for a 5-4 decision in the nightcap, going ahead in the seventh on Gerry Mason's 2-run single.

Ken Guettler clubbed a 340-foot 2-run homer in the eleventh inning to give Dallas its first victory.

Manager Al Widmar of Tulsa was banished for arguing too vigourously with the umpires and acting Manager Pepper Martin protested the game from the tenth inning. He claimed Dallas announced a player as a batter, then withdrew him.

Gene Sheets was the hero in San Antonio's triumph over Houston. The Mission right fielder drove in five runs with two doubles and a single.

San Antonio pounded 10 hits, including four doubles.

Victoria shoved over four runs in the ninth with four hits, three bases on balls and three stolen bases to beat Corpus Christi.

Bill Parsons topped the 15-hit Victoria attack with a double, triple and homer in five times at bat. Corpus Christi got only eight hits but two of them were homers by Jim Miller and Bobby Burr.

Tigers Closing In On Yankees

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

Fire-balling Paul Foytack and the Detroit Tigers are making liars out of those exhibition game statistics in the American League race.

The Tigers' exhibition 7-19 record was the worst in either league, and Foytack looked the worst of 'em all, with a 14.06 earned run average.

But at the moment the Tigers are second in the early standings, just a game back of the New York Yankees. Their question-mark pitching staff has four complete games.

Last night, Foytack gained his second victory and second six-hit complete game with an 8-2 decision over the ambitious Kansas City Athletics. It gave him a neat 1.00 ERA.

Washington's surprising Senators junked the Yankees winning streak at six, coming from behind for a 10-inning 5-4 victory. The Cleveland Indians added to Chicago's woes 2-0, with Herb Score ending any question of his comeback by allowing the White Sox just three singles. Boston ended its losing string at five with a 7-5 victory over Baltimore.

In the National League, Dodger-killer Bobby Thomson cracked a two-run double in the ninth and the Chicago Cubs retained first place with a 7-6 victory at Los Angeles. Bob Purkey blanked Milwaukee on six hits for a 2-0 Cincinnati victory, Philadelphia rapped Pittsburgh 8-1 and the San Francisco Giants scored six in the last two innings for an 8-7 decision over St. Louis.

Foytack, the 27-year-old right-hander who gives the Tigers four potential 20-game winners, breezed after two walks, a sacrifice and four singles handed him a 4-0 lead in the third against ex-Tiger Duke Maas.

Billy Martin had a double and two singles in the Tigers' 13-hit spree although he played only 5⅓ innings.

The Senators stopped the Yankees on a run-scoring single by Jim Lemon, who was 3-for-4 and knocked in their first two runs in the third with a triple off Johnny Kucks. Ryne Duren, unscored on in three previous relief bits, was the loser. Reliever Bud Byerly won his second with a hitless 10th after Gil McDougalds two-out error had given the Nats the tying run in the ninth.

Score struck out 13, for a total of 27 in his 21 innings, while outdueling Billy Pierce, who gave seven hits, three by Rocky Colavito and one Bobby Avila's home run.

Pete Runnels, 3-for-3, singled home the clincher for Boston in the sixth and added a cushion run in the eighth. Ted Williams, Jackie Jensen and Frank Malzone had RBI hits in a three-run fifth that cracked a 2-all tie against loser Chuck Beamon. Tom Brewer won his first, with relief in the ninth.

MacKay Being Mishandled, Says Mulloy

By WILL GRIMSLEY

NEW YORK (AP)—America's tennis bigwigs are killing Davis Cup chances by their handling of young Barry MacKay, the veteran Gardnar Mulloy said today.

"One minute they are refusing to let him play the European circuit and the next they are pampering him by assigning him to Jack Kramer's pro tour," commented the 44 - year - old elder statesman of amateur ranks.

"In either case they aren't doing the boy any good. By playing with the pros he will get an exalted opinion of himself if he isn't careful. He will figure he should trouble himself only for big events and there will be danger of his becoming a prima donna.

"He is not a finished player yet. He must eat dust all over the world before he can become a great player. You don't get good in this game by winning but you learn by losing.

"No player ever got to be a champion the way MacKay is doing it. I say let him go out and take his beatings, let him get his nose bloodied. Then we'll find out whether we've got a Davis Cup winner or not."

Mulloy, former top-ranked U.S. player and a member of the U.S. Davis Cup squad last year, said when MacKay wanted to take to the tennis tour after his brilliant showing in the Davis Cup Challenge Round in Australia the U.S. Lawn Tennis Assn. turned thumbs down, demanding he return to the United States for the National Indoor.

"Then the State Department sent Barry on an exhibition tour of the Near East," Mulloy continued. "There's no real fiber-building experience in that sort of thing. After his tour, he didn't go into Europe for the tournament swing—only to Monte Carlo — and then he came home to join the pros.

Pioneer JC Meet On Tap Today

STEPHENVILLE, Tex. (AP)—Arlington State and host Tarleton State are favored in the Pioneer Track and Field Meet here Saturday.

Cameron State of Lawton, Okla., and San Angelo also will compete.

The conference also will hold its spring meeting of faculty representatives. New members, Wharton, Victoria, Kilgore and Corpus Christi Del Mar will be represented.

Stretchers Vital To Baseball Clubs

NEW YORK (AP) — The beanball duel between pitchers Don Drysdale of Los Angeles and Ramon Monzant of San Francisco not only added fuel to the already heated rivalry between the two clubs but raised an intriguing question:

Who was responsible for the use of a stretcher in baseball?

The answer is Erle "Doc" Painter. Remember him? He served as trainer of the New York Yankees from 1930 to 1942.

Painter, now 76, is living a life of ease and retirement in Baldwin, N.Y., but his enthusiasm for sports in general and baseball in particular has not waned the least bit. In recent months he has been actviely engaged in support of passage of a bill for the licensing of chiropractic in the State of New York.

Doc, trained as an osteopath and a chiropractor, brought baseball its first real academician of the human anatomy. Before he was hired by the late Col. Jake Ruppert, owner of the Yankees, a team trainer was someone who rubbed liniment on a sore arm or leg and could do practically little else but sympathise with the injured athlete.

When Painter left the Yankees in 1942, the trainer in the major leagues became one of the most necessary men on the club. His chiropractic training restored injured players to active duty days before they ordinarily would have returned. His healing hands prevented small hurts from becoming major setbacks.

The stretcher was standard equipment with him. For years the Yankees were the only club to make use of it. It is Painter's conviction that the stretcher saved Mickey Cochrane's life when the Hall of Famer was beaned by Bump Hadley in 1935.

"Cochrane, hit on the head, fell like a stricken ox," Painter recalled today. Mickey was unconscious and I knew immediately that he was hurt seriously. Ordinarily, the fallen player would be carried off the field like a sack of potatoes. I had the only stretcher used in baseball. I ordered Cochrane lifted gently into it. Luckily, we did. It developed his skull had a crack from the right temple all the way around to his left ear. One wrong rough movement and he would have been a goner."

CLOSE CALL WITH JAVELIN—Track coach Al Simon of De La Salle high school, New Orleans, talks with his wife in a hospital after a javelin thrown by an unidentified student on the Loyola University practice field went completely through his neck. Physicians said if the javelin had veered a half inch in any direction Simon would have been fatally injured or paralyzed for life. Simon joked about his close call and said he wanted to explain to the student he knew it was an accident. (AP Wirephoto)

Tigerettes To Play Graham In State Debut

The Snyder High School Tigerettes will play Graham tomorrow in the first round of the state volleyball tournament at Abilene.

Time of the game has been set for 1 p.m. The volleyball tournament will be played at Rose Field House on the Hardin-Simmons University campus.

The state tournament consists of eight teams, four in each the 4A and 3A classifications.

Snyder will compete in the 3A division. The other two teams in the 3A division besides Snyder and Graham are Phillips and San Marcos who will clash at 2 p.m. tomorrow.

Winner of the two 3A games will meet for the state championship Saturday at 7 p.m. The two losers will meet at 2 p.m. Saturday for third place.

Aggie Gridders Eye Spring Tilt

COLLEGE STATION (AP) — The Texas A&M football squad, pointing for its annual spring training game Saturday, began tapering off on its drills today.

Coach Jim Myers said the team would hold only light workouts today and take tomorrow off.

Myers said he was pleased with the way his single wing offense is shaping up.

"I thought our offense was moving good; everyone was blocking well; they seem to be learning their assignments and the timing is improving," he said.

Myer said he was especially pleased with the showing of Gordon LeBoeuf, Jon Few, Luther Hall and Randy Sims.

Cubs Rally In 9th To Beat Bums, 7-6

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

The charitable Chicago Cubs, giving up runs almost as fast as they scored 'em, still lead the National League today, thanks to Bobby Thomson, the much-traveled hero who still chills the Dodgers.

It was Thomson, of course, who walloped that playoff-winning home run against the Dodgers and gave the then New York Giants the 1951 pennant. The Flying Scot since has shifted from the Giants to Milwaukee to the Giants to the Cubs, who capped a come-from-behind ninth with a two-run double that beat Los Angeles 7-6 last night.

Four of the Dodger runs were unearned, but the Cubs shrugged it off with three in the ninth off loser Clem Labine.

The Cubs held a half-game lead over Cincinnati. The Redlegs had beaten Milwaukee and Lew Burdette, long-time nemesis, 2-0 on Bob Purkey's six-hitter. Philadelphia rapped Pittsburgh 8-1, and San Francisco, scoring six in the last two innings, defeated St. Louis 8-7.

Thomson, who doubled off the screen and scored in the first after Lee Walls' homer, also singled and scored in a two-run fourth off Dodger veteran Carl Erskine. Seventh - inning home runs by PeeWee Reese and Gil Hodges, both over the left field screen that has coaxed 18 homers in five games, were the Dodgers' only legit runs among five off young Dick Drott. Don Elston won in relief.

The Redlegs had only five hits off Burdette and reliever Gene Conley. But they clumped Purkey's double, an infield single, an infield out and Frank Robinson's single for the runs in the sixth.

Jack Sanford, last years top NL rookie with 19 victories, gained a 1-1 record with a seven-hitter and singled home two Philadelphia runs. Rip Repulski hit the Phils' first 1958 home run, with a man on. Rookie Ron Blackburn was the loser.

Rookie Orlando Cepeda, 3-for-5, and Daryl Spencer, 4-for-5, had a hand in just about all the Giant scoring. Spencer rammed a two-out, two-run homer that capped a four-run ninth triggered by Cpedas two-run triple. Rookie Phil Clark was the loser, facing just two men — Cepeda and Spencer. Marv Grissom won in relief.

Thomson, who doubled off the screen and scored Ernie Banks in the first after Lee Walls' homer, also singled and scored in a two-run fourth off Dodger veteran Carl Erskine. Seventh - inning home runs by PeeWee Reese and Gil Hodges, both over the left field screen that has coaxed 18 homers in five games, were the Dodgers' only legit runs among five off young Dick Drott. Don Elston won in relief.

Tourney Of Champions Opens Today

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Select was the word today for the 22 golfers who set forth in the sixth annual $40,000 Tournament of Champions.

Playing the perfectly groomed Desert Inn Country Clubs 7,048-yard course, an expanse of green dotting the desert, the first twosome was due to tee off at 4 p.m.

First off the tee are Gene Littler, who has won this event, with its $10,000 top prize, three straight years, and his fellow San Diegan, Billy Casper.

Littler, who didn't win another major tournament since his triumph here a year ago, said the par 36-36-72 course plays about the same as last year.

"The main problem is the wind," Littler added, referring to the gusty weather that can and has popped up without warning.

While Littler has tucked the Las Vegas event away three times, young Ken Venturi of San Francisco is the betting favorite in this resort where betting is legal.

Venturi is listed at 5-1. At 8-1 were Littler, Casper, Doug Ford and the recent Masters winner, Arnold Palmer.

National Open Champion Dick Mayer is no better than 15-1.

The ever popular Jimmy Demaret is 10-1, with Roberto De Vicenzo, Billy Maxwell, Tommy Bolt, Stan Leonard and National PGA champion Lionel Hebert 12-1.

Others in the field are George Bayer, Al Besselink, Paul Harney, Gardner Dickinson, Dutch Harrison, Ed Oliver, Frank Stranahan, Walter Burkemo and two newcomers to prominence, Bill Johnston of Provo, Utah, and Howie Johnson of Glenwoodie, Ill.

Cisco's Land Ties World Mark In 100

ABILENE (AP)—Bruce Land, Cisco Junior College sprinter, equalled the world's record in the 100-yard dash yesterday, but the record probably won't be allowed because of a wind.

Track officials said an 8-mile-an-hour cross wind was blowing when he ran the hundred in 9.3 seconds probably won't be allowed.

Land, who has signed a letter of intent to attend Abilene Christian College next fall, made the time in a practice meet with McMurry College.

'Horseplay' Gets Snider In Trouble

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Duke Snider the Los Angeles Dodgers' home run champion and highest priced performer at $42,500 a year, was taken off the payroll last night because he hurt his arm throwing a baseball over the 106-foot-high Memorial Coliseum rim.

Snider, who has been hobbling all spring after an operation to remove cartilege and a bone chip in his knee, suffered the arm injury during a bit of horseplay before the warmup for the game with the Chicago Cubs. His elbow was badly strained.

Manager Walt Alston was so incensed over the incident that he announced Duke would be docked until he could get back into the lineup.

This disciplinary action infuriated Duke.

"Why I've been throwing balls out of National League parks ever since I came into the league," he told newsmen. 'Tonight, everyone stood around watching Don Zimmer and I try to throw the ball over the rim. Nobody said anything about quitting at any time. Tonight I hurt my arm and suddenly it's all wrong."

Duke admitted it was a foolish thing to do. One of Duke's throws cleared the 106-foot-high rim in left field. On another try he suffered a sharp pain in his elbow.

Alston read the riot act in the Dodger clubhouse just before the game and when the players went onto the field Snider informed the manager his arm still pained him.

"You can still play left field," Alston snapped. "You won't have much throwing to do from there."

Snider demurred and Alston had to put Junior Gilliam, who was hitting only .188, into the left field slot.

Zimmer wasn't reprimanded. Alston explained "Zimmer wasn't hurt. He could play if we needed him."

Fast Field Due For Drake Relays

DES MOINES (AP)—The 49th annual Drake Relays open here tomorrow and it may be the start of an unprecedented record-smashing spree.

Drake officials, confident all along they had the potential for a host of new track and field records, had their enthusiasm boosted anew when the returns came in from the Kansas Relays at Lawrence where 10 new records were set.

The bulk of the Kansas field is entered, joining a heavy representation of Big Ten performers, plus a scattering of athletes from the South and Far West.

Drake may get a world mark in the discus tomorrow from Al Oerter of Kansas or Richard Babka of Southern California. Unofficially, both have been beyond the world record of 194 feet, 6 inches.

Oerter, the Olympic champion who set the Drake record at 177-10 last year, is after his third discus championship.

The University sprint medley is the top feature of tomorrow's running events.

Oklahoma, which rocketed to a new intercollegiate record of 3:19.5 at Kansas, heads another spectacular field. The Sooners got a 1:48 half-mile in the anchor leg from sophomore Gail Hodgson and may need another if they are to win.

Houston was only one-tenth of a second short of Oklahoma, and Oklahoma State was only two-tenths back at Kansas. And both were under the previous record of 3:20.2. Nebraska, Kansas and Texas also are leading contenders.

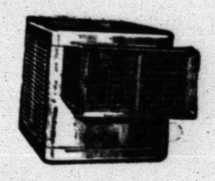

LITTLE OLYMPICS IS POSTPONED

The Snyder Little Olympics, slated for tonight at Tiger Stadium, has been postponed, John Conley, meet director, announced this morning.

Chilly weather was the reason for postponement.

The Olympic meet has been re-scheduled for next Tuesday, April 29. If the weather intervenes again Tuesday, then it will be put off until Thursday, Conley said.

Crisp, Flavorful Salads Bring Spring To The Table

Salads are habit-forming for most homemakers. Women who would never wear an out-of-fashion dress or serve the same menu repeatedly, often dish up the same salad day after day.

When the occasion calls for a salad, the usual tomato slice, on a leaf or two of lettuce with a dab of mayonnaise is the answer.

Actually, the salad course can be the easiest way for a homemaker to get variety into their menus. A budget-priced menu, or a dinner built around leftovers can be given a new look and taste by serving a different, luscious salad.

Aside from a pleasing taste, the salad provides a valuable source of needed vitamins.

BROCCOLI STUFFED AVOCADO

2 avocados
Salt
Lemon juice
Salad greens for garnish
1 cup cold cooked broccoli
For dressing:
¼ cup mayonnaise
2 teaspoons lemon juice
¼ teaspoon mustard
Pimiento strips

Cut each avocado into halves lengthwise, remove seed and skin, and sprinkle fruit with salt and lemon juice.

Arrange on garnished salad plates and fill with bite-size pieces of broccoli.

Top with dressing made by blending mayonnaise, lemon juice and mustard. Granish with pimiento strips. Makes 4 servings.

TANGY CUCUMBER SALAD

1 package old-fashion garlic salad dressing mix
Vinegar, water, oil
4 large cucumbers, peeled and thinly sliced
1½ teaspoons salt
1½ tablespoons grated onion
3 to 4 tablespoons mixed salad dressing

Combine salad dressing mix, vinegar, water and oil as directed on the package or bottle.

Place cucumbers in a bowl and sprinkle with salt. Let stand about an hour. Drain well.

Combine drained cucumbers and onion in a salad bowl. Add mixed dressing and toss lightly.

Serve plain or on crisp greens. Makes 3½ cups, or 4 servings of salad.

AVOCADO STRAWBERRY CUP

1 medium-sized avocado
1½ cups sliced strawberries
Chilled lemon honey dressing

Cut avocado into halves lengthwise and remove seed and skin. Slice or cube fruit.

Arrange in chilled glasses, alternately with sliced strawberries. Pour lemon-honey dressing over all.

For dressing, blend ½ cup lemon juice with ½ cup honey.

LIME COTTAGE CHEESE SALAD

1 package lime gelatin
1 cup hot or boiling water
½ cup cold water
1 teaspoon lemon juice
1-3 cup mayonnaise
½ cup cottage cheese

Dissolve lime gelatin in hot water. Add cold water, salt and lemon juice.

Chill until lightly thickened. Set bowel of gelatin firmly in bowl of ice. Whip until light and fluffy.

Slowly add and whip in the mayonnaise and cottage cheese, blending well.

Pour into individual molds or loaf pan. Chill until firm. Unmold or cut in squares to serve.

If desired, garnish with pear slices and watercress. Makes 7 servings.

SHRIMP-RICE SUMMER SALAD

1 pound cooked, chilled shrimp
2 cups cooked, chilled rice
¾ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon lemon juice
¼ cup chopped scallions
¼ cup sliced stuffed olives
1 cup diced raw cauliflower
Dash pepper
¼ cup French dressing
¼ cup mayonnaise

Cut medium-sized or large shimp in 2 or 3 pieces. (Leave small shrimp whole.)

Combine all ingredients in large mixing bowl. Chill about one-half hour.

Serve in scooped-out pineapple halves, a lettuce-lined bowl or in individual lettuce cups. Makes 4 servings.

TOSSED CHICKEN SALAD BOWL

1½ cups diced cooked chicken
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
1-3 cup French dressing
4 romaine leaves
2 medium-sized tomatoes, sliced
2 cups shredded romaine
2 hard-cooked eggs, cut in quarters

Combine chicken, parsley and French dressing. Toss lightly and chill.

Line salad bowl with romaine leaves. Arrange tomato slices over romaine.

Add shredded romaine to chicken mixture. Toss lightly but thoroughly. Turn into salad bowl and garnish with eggs. Makes 4 servings.

BLUE CHEESE MEDLEY SALAD

1 small head lettuce
1 medium-sized avocado, peeled and cubed
3 medium-sized oranges, pared and sectioned
1 cup chopped pitted dates
¼ cup crumbled Blue Cheese (about 1¼ ounces)
1 tablespoon salad oil
2 tablespoons vinegar
1 cup commercial sour cream

Tear lettuce into pieces; arrange in oblong salad bowl. Arrange rows of avocado cubes, oranges, and dates on lettuce. Garnish with row of blue cheese, if desired.

Combine cheese, oil and vinegar. Mix well. Blend in cream; mix until fluffy. Serve with salad. Make 6 servings.

OLIVE-SHRIMP STUFFED AVOCADO

¼ cup chili sauce
¼ cup mayonnaise
Tabasco to taste
¼ cup chopped celery
1-3 cup sliced pimiento-stuffed green olives
1 pound shrimp, cooked, shelled and deveined
3 medium-sized avocados, cut in half
2 tablespoons lemon juice

Combine chili sauce, mayonnaise and Tabasco. Blend. Add celery, olives and shrimp. Mix well.

Brush avocados with lemon juice. Fill with olive shrimp mixture.

Serve on crisp lettuce, as desired. Makes 6 servings.

EGG-ASPARAGUE SALAD

½ cup sour cream
¼ cup finely chopped green pepper
1 teaspoon prepared horse-radish
½ teaspoon salt
Dash pepper
4 hard cooked eggs
1 14½-ounce can white asparagus, drained
Crisp salad greens

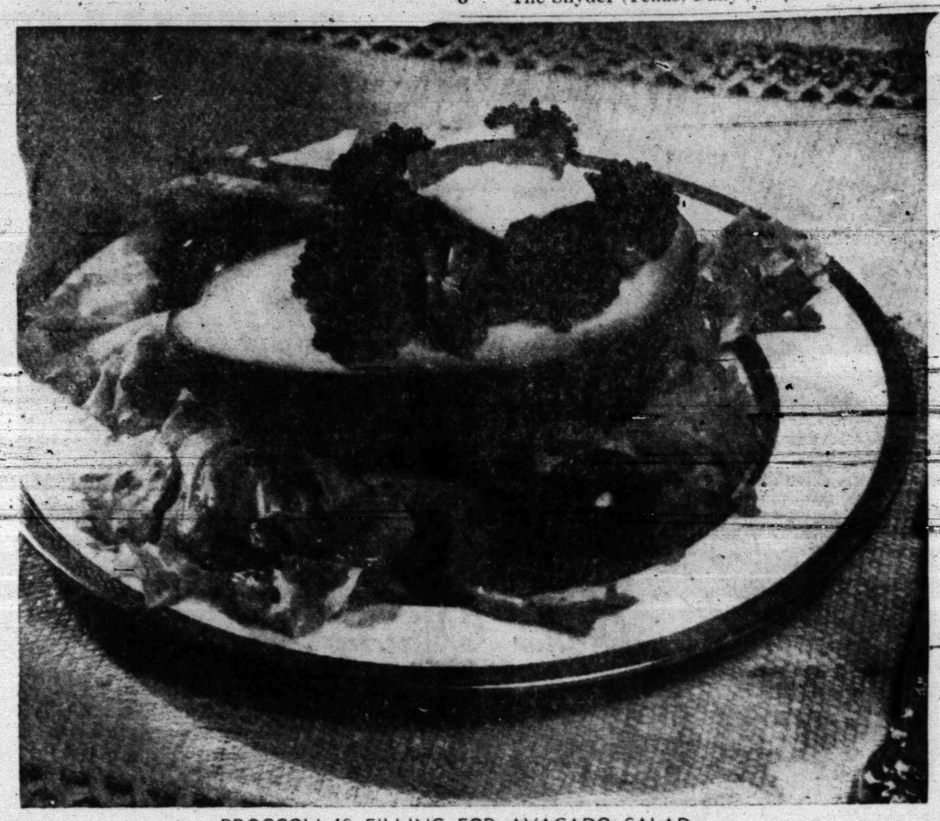

Combine cream, green pepper, horse-radish, salt and pepper. Mix well. Cut eggs in half lengthwise. Remove yolks.

Mash yolks and add 2 tablespoons cream mixture. Blend. Fill egg whites with egg yolk misture.

Chill. Arrange eggs and asparagus on salad greens. Chill. Serve with remaining cream mixture. Makes 4 servings.

Latest Innovation

THE CORPUS CHRISTI TIMES:

The latest style innovation from France caused a bigger sensation in the vicinity of Times Square in New York last Thursday than all of France's political and diplomatic troubles have attracted there since the end of World War II.

A woman appeared in a sky blue wig—just strolling along, presumably minding her own business. The sophisticated yokels from Yonkers, Yaphank and Manhattan, stared, gaped and gesticulated in disbelief. They passed remarks. They spoke humorously or bitterly aloud. They passed opinions.

The wig, it turned out, was made of real hair and copies could be had for a mere $200 to $225 per copy.

Traffic, both vehicular and pedestrian, threatened to come to a standstill.

Sample comments handed along by the alert AP:

A wife: "I think it's cute. Is it made of feathers?"

Teenage boy with a duck-bill hair-do: "Man, that wig is way out."

Postman: "Where will it all end?"

Man at bar, to bartender: "That's my last one for today. Talk about pink elephants—wow!"

But we suspect the AP man missed the funniest spectacle attendant upon this occasion, so we supply it here with only a slight suggestion of imaginative reporting:

Three young women in Paris-inspired sacks, and in unison: "That's the most outrageous and ridiculous thing ever heard of!"

Recession Proves System Inadequate

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — What's an unemployment dole? While Democrats and Republicans argue about it, one thing is certain: the present unemployment pay system is inadequate.

This recession proves it. So does the agreement by Democrats and Republicans to do something about it. But what they propose is a temporary cure. The end result may be some permanent improvements in the system.

House Democrats have come up with a plan which would provide government money outright, a gift, to extend unemployment pay not only to the jobless people who've used what they're entitled to under state laws, but also to many never eligible under the present system. President Eisenhower yesterday called that a "dole. . . nothing else."

Under Eisenhower's own proposal to extend expired benefits, the money from the government would be a loan to the states, to be repaid in cash or higher taxes.

This is the background:

This country—which had lagged far behind Europe in providing some kind of pay for people who lost their jobs through no fault of their own—began its unemployment insurance system in 1935. It was upheld by the Supreme Court in 1937.

It works this way: employers in all states—and employes, too, in a few states—are taxed. A fraction of the tax goes to the federal government. The rest goes into the individual states' funds.

The states then use this money to give weekly payments to workers who lose their jobs. The amount each unemployed worker gets, and how long he gets it, varies from state to state.

Repeatedly, before this recession hit, Eisenhower asked the states to provide unemployment pay for 39 weeks everywhere. He was ignored. About 43 million workers are covered by the system if they lose their jobs.

But millions of workers are not covered and therefore can draw no unemployment benefits if they lose their jobs. For example: farm workers, the self-employed, domestics, and employes of nonprofit organizations.

Right now there are about 5,200,000 people out of jobs. Many thousands of them have exhausted all the unemployment pay due them. Perhaps as many as 2,100,000 more are not covered and are ineligible for unemployment pay. The Democratic plan would cover most of them too. Eisenhower's wouldn't.

This is what Eisenhower proposes to do about it:

Congress should vote 600 million dollars to be given the states as a loan to extend—for those jobless workers who have used up all their benefits—their unemployment pay for half as long again as their state law allows. That would mean another 13 weeks at the same rate in a state with a maximum of 26 weeks of payments.

Three-Man Panel To Operate Seminary

FORT WORTH (AP)—A three-man interim administrative committee has been appointed to run Southwestern Baptist Theological Semi; nary.

The committee will guide the institution until a new president can be chosen to succeed Dr. Howard Williams, who died Sunday.

The seminary trustees met yesterday after memorial services for Dr. Williams. They named Dr. Robert Naylor, Fort Worth pastor; William Fleming, Fort Worth oilman, and Wayne Evans, seminary business manager.

Cheaper Money Is Now Sifting Down

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—The first of the anti-recession moves—easier credit and cheaper money—is beginning to take hold today at the grass roots level.

Its effectiveness is in doubt still because, for one thing, it is partly offset by the stubbornly rising cost of living.

It's easier today for business and individuals to borrow—and then spend. It's harder for individuals to balance their budgets and buy more—an anti-recession move of whose effectiveness there is little doubt.

Since last fall, the Federal Reserve Board, in a series of moves, has given the banks a sizably larger amount of money to lend and it has forced interest rates down.

Business and individuals have been led to the trough of easier credit and cheaper money. It is still to be seen whether they'll drink.

Business is still borrowing large sums, both on short-term loans from the banks and on long-term issues sold to investors. But the demand for these loans isn't as great as expected.

Authorities hope that easier credit will lead corporations to revive expansion plans and business ventures and thus bolster the slipping economy.

Individuals have been borrowing less, especially for such sizable purchases as new cars and new houses. Washington officials hope easier credit will change that and help industries involved.

But what to do about the rising cost of living is a tough and often touchy problem. Higher prices are as widely blamed as dwindling incomes for what decline there has been in consumer buying—and a reversal of this trend is devoubtly sought.

Latest government figures put most of the blame for the continuing rise on the higher prices for food and services.

Some of the food price rise is seasonal. Some is due to freakish winter weather that cut supplies. Some is due to less livestock coming to market.

But part of the blame is put on the consumer. Grocers and butchers say that the housewife crumbles but goes right on buying the choicest foods. These are the most expensive to start with. And the steady demand for them even in the face of dwindling supplies has aggravated the price rise.

Also the housewife demands, and therefore gets, more service in the way of packaged and prepared foods—and this, too, adds its bit to rising prices.

Over the continuing high price of manufactured consumer goods there is much debate. Which comes first, the wage rise of the price rise? How much of the high cost of manufacturing is built in now and beyond pruning? Can anything be done about rising transportation costs?

And if prices don't come down, will any other anti-recession move be able to turn the trick?

Cherry Blossoms Stimulate Politics

By TEG EASLEY

WASHINGTON (AP)— If dogwood blooms prompt political talk in Texas, the famed cherry blossoms here have the same effect on Texans in Washington.

On Capitll Hill, congressmen and visiting Texas constituents speculated on former Sen. William Blakley's jump into the contest for the seat he held briefly by appointment last year.

One state official in a phone conversation from Austin told a Texas congressman the Dallas millionaire's decision had thrown a monkey wrench into a lot of political plans.

Editor Harry Provence of Waco came to town bearing a large bonnets. A corsage of bluebonnets at meetings of editors wives from over the country drew more attention than those of orchids.

Texas in the spring was something Mrs. Lacey Sharp and young son Rusty had always wanted to see. Her husband is administrative assistant to Rep. Bob Poage of Waco, and his wife hails originally from North Dakota.

During the recent Easter congressional recess the trio made a 3,800-mile round trip in their car to Central Texas.

"The state never looked pretties, Sharp said. "We left here in a snow flurry. We found sunshine and bluebonnets there, and my wife was amazed at how green everything looked. She's ready to move the Capitol to Texas."

Some of the most rabid Texans in Washington are really not natives of the Lone Star state but offspring of the genuine article—the Texan who came her to earn a living.

That goes also for the children of congressmen, their aides and for Texans working in verious federal agencies.

Here's an example of how the yong ones get instilled with so much Texas culture:

Bradley King, born March 27, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Larry King. King hails from Odessa and is administrative assistant to West Texas Rep. J. T. Rutherford. His wife is the former Jean Casey of Midland.

Christening ceremonies for little Brad take place April 27 in St. the Capitol. Godparents are Rep. and Mrs. Rutherford and John Moore, a member of the staff of Rep. Jack Brooks of Beaumont.

The christening is to be performed by Dave Carter, an ordained minister and Navy reserve chaplain who is administrative assistant to Brooks.

As par of the same ceremony, King' two other children also will be christened. Cheryl, 6, will have as godparents Mr. and Mrs. Jim Boren and Mrs. Carter. Boren is administrative assistant to Sen. Yarborough (D-Tex). Kerri, 3, will have as godparents Mr. and Mrs. Craig Raupe and Mrs. Moore. Raupe is administrative assistant to Rep. Jim Wright of Fort Worth.

Salad CARNIVAL

ORANGE PINEAPPLE MOLD SALAD

1 envelope gelatin
½ cup cold water
1 8-oz. pkg. Philadelphia Brand Cream Cheese
½ c. Miracle Whip Salad Dressing or Kraft Mayonnaise
½ c. canned pineapple juice
¼ c. orange juice
½ teaspoon salt
1 c. drained canned crushed pineapple
1 tbsp. grated orange rind
Bibb lettuce
Orange slices, cut in half
Maraschino cherries
Miracle French Dressing

Soften the gelatin in the cold water. Dissolve over hot water. Combine the cream cheese and salad dressing or mayonnaise, blending until smooth. Add the gelatin, pineapple juice, orange juice and salt. Chill until slightly thickened. Fold in the pineapple and orange rind and pour into a fancy 1-quart ring mold. Chill until firm.

FROZEN FRUIT SALAD

1 c. Miracle Whip Salad Dressing
1 8-oz. pkg. Philadelphia Brand Cream Cheese
2 tbsp. confectioners' sugar
1 c. diced pineapple
1 c. diced apricots
½ c. chopped maraschino cherries
1 c. heavy cream, whipped
Leaf lettuce
Maraschino cherries with stems

Gradually add the salad dressing to the cream cheese, blending until the mixture is smooth. Add the sugar, pineapple, apricots and chopped cherries. Fold in cream. Pour into 6 or 8 individual molds, depending on size, and freeze until firm. Unmold each serving on lettuce on a salad plate. Garnish each with 2 maraschino cherries.

Junior Editors Quiz on FOLKLORE

QUESTION: Was there a real Casey Jones?

ANSWER: Since earliest history, man has used songs to tell stories and recall great events. At first these songs were passed on by word of mouth from generation to generation. They were a form of early history. Later, they were written down and became a part of a nation's folklore.

Many, like the legends of Paul Bunyan, are not real. But most of what are called the "railroad songs" are based on real happenings in the days when the railroads were helping unite the country.

Such a one is "Casey Jones." John Luthur Jones was a fine engineer, a man of great resourcefulness and daring who remained cool in an emergency. He died in 1900 when his train collided with another one. Jones remained in the cab of his steam locomotive after shouting at his Negro engine wiper, Wallace Saunders, to jump. Saunders, who was a devoted friend of the engineer, wrote the original version of the now famous ballad. Later a chorus was added and the song became popular in vaudeville.

* * *

FOR YOU TO DO: The engine of the "Cannonball" was a steam locomotive. You don't see them much any more. Visit the railroad station in your town and maybe you will see one, but more likely you will see diesel or electric locomotive.

Shorts Ban Protested

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Banning Bermuda shorts at Los Angeles City College has brought these protests by male students:

"Doesn't seem fair," John Zinda, 20, said. "A person can wear jeans and a T-shirt, even a dirty shirt..."

"Some of the drama students are allowed to go around in bears," said Biggio Pennino, 21.

If the shorts were allowed, then school officials would have to decide exactly how long they should be, said Wendell Black, dean of special services.

"One day last year a boy came to school in something like a Bikini," Black said. "We can't have that—we have to draw the line some place."

Civil War Commission Will Honor Williams

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Col. Walter Williams, 115, once a forage master in Hood's Texas Brigade of the Army of Northern Virginia, will be presented an honorary membership in the Civil War Centennial Commission Saturday.

Williams is the older of two living Civil War veterans, both Confederates.

In Arizona any person can carry a pistol so long as it is not concealed. Only a peice officer on duty can carry a concealed weapon.

Legion Members To District Meeting

BROWNFIELD — State American Legion Commander Warren G. Moore of Tyler, will be the principal speaker before the 19th District Convention of the American Legion and American Legion Auxiliary on Sunday morning, Commander L. L. Lincoln of Local Post 269 announced today.

District Commander Raymond I. Andrews of Big Spring will preside over the Convention. Others who will appear on the program are C. B. Cathy, 5th Division Commander and Mrs. Hilton Lambert of Snyder.

Commander Frank D. Stephenson, Adjutant Noel L. Banks, and Service Officer Milton Mapes are expected to head a delegation from Snyder Post No. 181 to Brownfield, and participate in the Convention program.

WARREN G. MOORE

Commander Moore, a former Naval Intelligence Officer and former United States Attorney, has been a member of the American Legion since 1945, and has an outstanding record of achievements. He was born on a farm in Freestone County and achieved an education despite unfavorable crop conditions and other financial worries which plagued the Country. After working his way through high school, Commander Moore entered Trinity University with only $20.00 in his pocket. Long hours of hard work before and after school were necessary for him to stay in college, but the long hours notwithstanding, Commander Moore graduated with a B.A. Degree after maintaining a grade of B average over the four year period. He also participated in athletics.

He studied law at National University and took special courses at Texas University and Baylor University. He passed the Bar and was admitted to practice before the Supreme Court of Texas in 1937 and before the Supreme Court of the United States in 1941. Commander Moore has held many high and important positions, including that of United States Attorney for the Eastern One-Fourth of Texas. As United States Attorney his work was outstanding. He served the Eastern District of Texas as Judge in Bankruptcy for two years.

Moore volunteered in the Navy on Dec. 8, 1941. He was later commissioned and assigned to Naval Intelligence. He also served aboard various ships attached to the Atlantic and Pacific Fleets in the amphibious forces and convoy duty.

Moore is a member of the Rotary Club, Chamber of Commerce, Chairman of the Boy Scouts Rose District and a member of the Board of Directors of the East Texas Area Council of Boy Scouts. He is a Methodist and a member of the official Board of Marvin Methodist Church, Tyler.

Cattlemen Cautioned On Expansion

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agricultural Marketing Service said today the cattle industry, now riding a wave of high prices, may be expanding too rapidly.

The service said cattlemen are withholding animals to build bigger herds. This tends to reduce meat supplies below what they should be, with prices being held relatively high.

"The withholding occurs after two years of reduction in numbers of cattle and production of hogs," the agency said in a livestock situation report.

"With slaughter supplies tending downward, and consumer demand for meat weakening only a little, the immediate result of withholding is to create a price boom. The boom feeds itself; each rise in price stimulates further holding back, to speed the expansion. This spiral, so dangerous to future prices, may not build as high as some have done previously."

The service said the consequence of too rapid an increase in cattle numbers will not appear for two years or longer; until then, prices will hold up well.

The agency said significant price effects of any hog overproduction probably would not occur before the fall of 1959.

Supplies of meat for consumption this year may drop, the service said, to a per capita average of 151 pounds compared with 159 last year. It said prices of meat at retail may recede only moderately from their early spring level.

HAPPY OVER NEWS OF HUSBAND—Mrs. Phyllis Heikkila, 38-year-old American-born wife of William Heikkila, looks at an Associated Press Wirephoto from Helsinki, Finland of her husband. Heikkila was deported to Finland last Friday by immigration officers on grounds he became a Communist party member. Immigration Commissioner Joseph M. Swing said the department had acted to quickly, and Heikkila would be returned to his home in San Francisco to continue his 11-year fight against deportation. Heikkila, 52, a draftsman entered the U. S. at the age of 2½ months. (AP Wirephoto)

Teacher Shortage Remains Critical

WASHINGTON (AP) — Colleges will graduate 116,000 new teachers this spring, but the teacher shortage next fall will still be critical.

That was the gist of a report issued today by the National Education Assn. after a state-by-state survey.

Public schools now need 220,000 more teachers, the report said. Only about 85,000 of this spring's qualified graduates are expected to enter the teaching field. That leaves a net shortage of about 135,000.

The number of graduates qualified to teach in grade school is estimated at 44,000, the same as last year. The number qualified for teaching in high school is estimated at 72,000 — about 5,000 more than last year.

On the basis of past records, the NEA reckons that about 73 per cent of the qualified graduates will actually enter the teaching profession. Many potential women teachers will get married and start raising families. The military will grab off a number of potential men teachers. Higher paying jobs in private industry will lure both men and women into other fields.

Most educators feel, however, that if the recession should continue into the late summer or fall, the teaching profession will get many spring graduates who might otherwise be lost to industry. Some past graduates might be pushed into teaching also.

The report noted that the number of graduates qualified to teach science and mathematics is up nearly 19 per cent from last year's graduating class.

The report acknowledged a real need for science and math teachers. But it said the primary need today is for competent grade school teachers.

Jet Stunting To Be Probed

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Air Force has ordered a formal investigation of reports of jets stunting dangerously close to commercial airliners.

Aerobatics on a civil airway, if verified, would mean a court-martial that could lead to the stunting pilot's dismissal from the Air Force, a spokesman said.

The announcement came on the heels of a report by two commercial pilots, Al Shelly and Robert Chase, that six Air Force F100 jet fighters were stunting near their airliners over Nevada last Monday—the day of an air collision that killed 49 persons.

Formosa Spy Has One Close Shave

By RELMAN MORIN

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — This man has no name.

He hides by day and works at night. If he is caught, he will be killed. Nobody will admit they ever heard of him, much less knew what he was doing.

He is a spy for the Chinese Nationalists.

This correspondent talked with him in a governmental office on Formosa. The interview was on condition that no details that might identify him would be reported.

He told this story:

He has been going into Red China for more than three years as part of an espionage network operating continually among the Communists.

His last mission took him to South China. He operated from a mountainous region "between Fukien and Kiangsi provinces." There he set up posts.

A post is a village or collective farm where he has accomplices. They are farmers or laborers. They hide him and provide him with food.

They also gather information, primarily military and economic intelligence. "But we also learn all we can about living conditions and public morale. That is very important."

He is a kind of coordinator of intelligence.

"I move around from place to place, getting the reports of the people in the posts. I put these bits of information together to form a composite picture of a given area.

"Sometimes I leave instructions to look for some specific thing, let's say when the Communist move new troop units into a place. We want to know the number of the unit, where it came from, equipment, morale, commanders, and so on.

"My mission is to collect and coordinate this data."

He has had only one close escape.

"The Communists discovered one of the posts. Somebody must have talked. I don't know. Anyway, they warned me in time and I did not go near there."

Cuban Exiles Disbanding

HAVANA (AP) — Exiles who landed in western Cuba to attempt opening a new front in Fidel Castro's revolt are reported disbanding for lack of arms and ammunition.

More than 50 reinforcements for Castro's fight against President Fulgencio Batista landed from a yacht 17 miles south of the city of Pinar del Rio April 12. They had sailed from southern Mexico and were joined by 30 more who came out of the mountains.

The yacht and an arms cache in a farmhouse were seized by government troops. The men fled to the mountains and six rebels were killed.

Dispatches from eastern Cuba, where Castro's revolt has been centered for the past 17 months, said 42 rebels had given up and 12 were killed in the past 48 hours.

Government Will Quit Exporting

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government has taken steps to get out of the export business for cotton and livestock feed grains.

Under present operations, about the only cotton and feed grains moving abroad come out of surpluses the Agriculture Department has acquired under price support programs.

It has been offering these products to exporters at bid prices that enabled them to sell at lower world prices. Commercial market prices are too high, because they are held up by government price support.

The department announced yesterday beginning May 5 with corn and July 1 with rye, oats, barley and grain sorghums, it will offer subsidies to exporters who buy commercial supplies and sell them abroad. The subsidies—which will be in the form of grains taken from government surplus stocks—will be designed to make up the difference the exporter pays and the lower prices at which he sells in world markets.

In the case of cotton, the department said it will continue to sell surpluses on a bid basis for export and will offer—under its new policy starting Aug. 1—subsidies to exporters who buy in commercial markets and sell abroad at prevailing lower world prices.

These subsidies will be in the form of cotton or cash.

These subsidy programs are designed to move the commodities into export before they ever enter government hands. This, officials said, would save taxpayers money and possibly cause producer prices to average higher than they otherwise would.

Snyderite Finishes Army Metal Course

Pvt. Jack A. Duke of Snyder recently completed an eight-week metalworking course at the Army's Ordance School at Aberdeen Proving Ground, Md.

Duke, 17, is the son of Thomas J. Duke, 2804 Avenue Z.

A former Snyder High School student, he entered the Army last October and completed basic training at Fort Carson, Colo.

New Jersey was ruled by the Dutch from 1655 to 1664 and gain in 1673-74.

Record Snow In Montana

RED LODGE, Mont. (AP)— This mountain community struggled from beneath a record 42-inch snowfall today and roads, choked from travel for 16 hours, were slowly dug open.

Eight persons reported stranded in rural areas were out of danger.

Snow drifted 12 feet deep in places. Although light snow continued to fall throughout the southern Montana mountains, forecasters said the worst was past.

In north-central Wyoming, six persons were reported stranded by 10-foot snow drifts on U. S. 14 where it crosses the Big Horn Mountains 20 miles northwest of Sheridan.

One of the six, an unidentified woman, was reported to be ill and in need of aid.

The storm was described by a veteran U. S. Weather Bureau observer, I. A. Draper, as "the worst I ever saw in 56 years of recording."

He said the snow contained nearly seven inches of moisture.

Winds Delay Gulf Search

PORT ISABEL, Tex. (AP)— The search for the bodies of three persons who drowned Tuesday may not be resumed until Friday morning.

The search was called off yesterday when winds up to 50 miles an hour kicked up high waves in the Laguna Madre near here.

J. T. Hevey of the Coast Guard said the rough weather probably will continue until Friday morning.

The body of a fourth person, Mrs. Marjorie Blackman, 36, of Weslaco was recovered, but three persons are still missing. They are Steven Blackman, 2, son of Mrs. Blackman; and Mr. and Mrs. Free Thomas Sr. of Harrisonville, Mo.

High winds and waves capsized their small boat Tuesday night.

The Automobile Club of New York reports that nine out of ten pedestrians killed in traffic accidents are NOT experienced drivers themselves.

Youth Gangs On Upswing

NEW YORK (AP)—With a spurt in youth violence expected this spring and summer, a special task force of 100 policemen has been assigned to crack down on juvenile hoodlums.

Police Commissioner Stephen P. Kennedy, predicted "more frequent, greater and bloodier youth gang wars" this spring and summer.

"The attitude of the new task force toward youth gang members will not be paternalistic or fraternalistic. The approach of the task force will be repressive—to stop violations of the law," he said.

Last night in Brooklyn, police broke up a planned battle between two street gangs. Eleven youths were seized, along with a homemade gun, lengths of lumber, pen knives and a boat hook. Five of the youngsters, who are 15 years old, were booked as juvenile delinquents. The six others, ranging from 16 to 18, were arrested on charges of unlawful assembly.

Lobsters Thinning

PORTLAND, Maine (AP) — Lobsters are getting scarce off Maine's rocky coast with a consequent rise in prices. Dealers blame a rough winter complicated by spring storms and fog.
