West Texas Covid-19 cases on the rise; hospital capacity reaching limits

By AMANDA DUFORAT

Managing Editor

As Covid-19 cases continue to rise in Howard County, across West Texas and the nation, Howard County sits at 35% positivity rate, meaning one in every three tested are returning positive. As the numbers continue to rise, the local hospital, Scenic Mountain Medical Center is reaching capacity and searching for ways to increase available beds in the facility.

According to Dr. Rohith Saravanan, Chief Medical Officer for Scenic Mountain Medical Center, the SMMC ICU – a seven bed unit – is at capacity with six positive Covid-19 cases, and the Med/Surg Floor is also at capacity with 16 Covid-19 patients on the 20 bed unit. With the case numbers rising not only in Howard County, but surrounding areas, SMMC is looking at ways to add additional beds without over extending support services and staff.

As of Monday afternoon, Odessa Regional Medical Center was at capacity with 26 positive Covid-19 cases and Midland Memorial and Medical Center are sitting around 90 Covid-19 patients in house. According to Dr. Saravanan, all area hospitals are currently looking at ways to expand their capacity in order to be able to not only care for Covid-19 patients, but other patients who are coming in through the Emergency Rooms and in need of Med/Surg or ICU admittance.

“We have been grateful for the support that the State has sent us. They have been able to provide nursing staff as well as a few RT (Respiratory Therapists), but at this point they have exhausted the pool of trained ICU staff and critical care providers,” Dr. Saravanan said. “The State is operating in real time to our responses and typically within a few days we are able to have the resources we requested, but there will be a time where those resources will run out and we are reaching that point when it comes to trained staff.”

At the onset of the pandemic, Howard County and West Texas were able to keep the number of positive cases down with added precautions being enforced such as the two-week shutdown across the state, mask mandates and closures of non-essential businesses.

“At the beginning we were able to keep the numbers low and utilize that time to prepare for when the surge hit. Our PPE (personal protection equipment) is in healthy supply currently, but the ability to admit patients who are in need of care is getting to be more difficult with staff and resource availability as numbers rise.)

Dr. Saravanan continued, “The shutdown helped keep the numbers at bay, and while re-opening is important because our economy is important it needs to be done in a safe manner. There is obvious fatigue in the community when it comes to the recommended preventative measures. We as a collective whole stopped adhering to Opening lead — three of hearts.

Many apparent guessing situations can be resolved by avoiding them altogether.

Take this case where South went down one in a contract he should have made. East took the first two tricks with the Q-K of hearts and continued with the ace. When declarer ruffed with the nine, West overruffed with the king and shifted to a club. South won with the ace and, having already lost three tricks, had to guess which way to take the two-way diamond finesse.

Unfortunately, he decided that East, who had bid four hearts all by himself, was more likely to have the queen of diamonds than West. So he eventually cashed dummy's king of diamonds and then let the jack ride to go down one.

South was certainly unlucky to find West with both the king of spades and queen of diamonds. Nevertheless, he should have made his contract. In playing as he did, he relied more on a probability than a certainty.

Instead, declarer should ruff the heart lead with the ace at trick three, intentionally conceding a trump trick to the enemy without making any effort to avoid it.

Next he leads a club to the ace, ruffs dummy's jack of clubs, then exits with a trump, not caring one iota which defender has the king or which suit that player returns.

The defender who wins the king of trump must then either lead a diamond, eliminating the guess in that suit, or another suit, handing declarer a ruff-and-discard. Either way, the contract is home.

Tomorrow: Test your play.

Fun By The Numbers

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

How to Counteract Venus Tension

ARIES (March 21-April 19). You can tell what people value because they talk about it, arrange their lives around it and make it the star of their show. Your observations will bring the insight to improve relationships.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20). Searching for meaning is a bit silly since it's never "out there" and always self-assigned. Meaning must be created. With all creations, there's a stage of experimentation. Meanings can be tried on. See what fits.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21). A problem is always an opportunity and, in the case of today, a moneymaking one. You'll extend your imagination in a financial direction and come up with lucrative solutions.

CANCER (June 22-July 22). Social comparisons abound lately. You have options and will exercise them. Spending time with those who honor your company makes it very hard to spend time with anyone who doesn't.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22). Vague ideas of who and how you should be will only leave you feeling unmoored. You need clear, measurable standards for yourself. Decide what tangible results to expect from yourself.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22). The theme is immediate feedback, instant karma and fast turnarounds. It's as though the world is thoughts. You'll get help before you ask for it.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23). It's unlucky to peak early or, even worse, to succeed on the first try. It's far luckier to make mistakes aplenty along the way so that you may experience the entire learning curve and become adept at duplicating success.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 21). You collect experiences by the dozen and add to your collection daily. This makes you sophisticated, which comes with perks including a worldly point of view and a sense of comfort in a wide range of scenarios.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21). There's authority in stillness. A nonmoving presence exudes power, but it also requires power. Such control must be fueled. Before you take on busy work and busy people, consider the value of making no move at all.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19). You have been an excellent listener and a kindred spirit. Now, you will be on the other side of that experience, understanding what value it brings to weary hearts.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18). The precipice of overwhelm is not a very empowered zone. This is the moment to narrow your focus. Pick one goal to crush and make it a small one, not too far off from where you are now.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20). As soon as you sense that someone is trying to get you to do something, your first instinct will be to rebel. You reject the control of others. You're still exploring your own ideas and require no input at this time.

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY (Nov. 19). Even with the challenges of social distancing, you find a way to bond with new people and make friends. This new era is marked by the many lives you influence and are influenced by as you do what comes naturally to you -- follow your interests and share your process. Your project gets funded in January. Libra and Gemini adore you. Your lucky numbers are: 4, 40, 22, 18 and 36.

COSMIC QUESTION: "I'm a Scorpio and the animals I'm most drawn to are birds of prey. What does this say about me?"

In addition to being linked to the scorpion, Scorpio has several other animal associations including the phoenix, a mythological creature appearing in ancient Greek texts as well as the mythology of many other traditions around the world. The phoenix aligns with Scorpio's rulership over matters of life, death and transformation. In many stories the phoenix lives for hundreds of years, combusts and is reborn, essentially causing its own expiry and regeneration. It is unclear whether the phoenix is a bird of prey though. In some stories, the phoenix eats sulfur and other compounds related to fire.

A distinguishing feature of birds of prey is their eyesight. Some raptors have been known to detect a meal as small as a vole from half a mile away. On a metaphysical level, Scorpio's sight is similarly keen. This is the sign known for sensing soul nourishment in the depths or in the distance and diving fearlessly for it, just as the birds do. (Hunting peregrine falcons have been clocked diving for food at more than 200 miles per hour!) May your kinship with these animals summon your ability to soar the wilderness of life, focused and fed.

Boyfriend Texts Female Friend Back But Not Me

Dear Annie: A few months ago, I found out that my boyfriend was messaging a girl. He says she is just a friend. I've asked where he knows her from, but he brushes it off and says it was just a friendly text. I believe him that she's just a friend, but what bothers me is that the whole time this was happening, he would tell me that he was too busy to reply to me. He does work a lot so I've tried not to be understanding when there's limited communication.

However, it hurts me that he took the time to reply to her messages during his workday while saying that he didn't have time to reply to mine. It has been two months since I discovered this, and I am still very upset. I've brought it up again a couple of times, and he listens to a point, but then he just shuts down the conversation, saying she's just a friend and I shouldn't worry about it. -- Not Over It

Dear Not Over It: His texting a female friend is not the core issue, as you seem to acknowledge. The core issue is your feeling devalued by his lack of communication. Put the emphasis squarely on that. Let him know your needs -- for instance, "I would feel loved and important if you could respond within a few hours of my texting you, even if it's just to say that you're too busy to respond." Without good communication, even the smallest of things can fester and infect the relationship. With good communication, couples can heal the most painful wounds. So, get talking.

Dear Annie: I am the mother of three incredible adult children. About a year and a half ago, my only daughter just cut me off without any explanation. My youngest son then moved in next door to her and hasn't spoken to me in almost a year. They both refuse to talk to me.

So much has happened since then. My daughter got engaged and since then has gotten married she did not tell me of either the engagement or the wedding. I had to, unfortunately, find out on Facebook.

She did not invite anyone from my side of the family. She did invite her dad (my ex-husband) and his new wife. She also invited her new mother-in-law, father-in-law and brother-in-law and his girlfriend. I have been so hurt I'm at a loss for words. -- Mom Cast Aside

Dear Mom Cast Aside: One of the hard parts of this job is trying to discern what a letter leaves out. I'm struggling with that here. It would be strange indeed for a son and daughter to both abruptly cut off contact with their mother for no reason. I wonder what their perspectives might be.

No matter what happened between you all, though, I'm sure it's very painful for you to not have contact with them and to miss your daughter's wedding. It's natural to be feeling some resentment right now. Counseling could help you work through these emotions and find peace, and I strongly encourage you to give it a try. Your primary care doctor can refer you to therapists, or you can also call the national helpline SAMHSA (1-800-662-4357) to be connected with resources in your area.

Dear Annie: If "Disheartened" wants to marry her boyfriend of 10 years and he's not proposing, then why doesn't SHE propose? At least she'll get an answer one way or another. -- Stephanie

Dear Stephanie: I appreciate the straightforwardness of this advice -- wish I'd thought of it myself!

On this date:

In 1600, King Charles I of England was born in Dunfermline, Fife, Scotland.

In 1850, Alfred Tennyson was invested as Britain's poet laureate.

In 1942, during World War II, Russian forces launched their winter offensive against the Germans along the Don front.

In 1959, Ford Motor Co. announced it was halting production of the unpopular Edsel.

In 1969, Apollo 12 astronauts Charles Conrad and Alan Bean made the second manned landing on the moon.

In 1977, Egyptian President Anwar Sadat became the first Arab leader to visit Israel.

In 1985, President Ronald Reagan and Soviet leader Mikhail S. Gorbachev met for the first time as they began their summit in Geneva.

Ten years ago: President

Barack Obama, attending a NATO summit in Lisbon, Portugal, won an agreement to build a missile shield over Europe, a victory that risked further aggravating Russia. Twenty-nine miners were killed by a methane explosion in a southern New Zealand coal mine.

Five years ago: A study by the Pew Research Center found that more Mexicans were leaving than moving into the United States, reversing the flow of a half-century of mass migration. Marcus Ray Johnson, convicted of killing Angela Sizemore, a woman he'd met at a Georgia nightclub, was put to death after losing a last-minute round of appeals. Bryce Harper, 23, became the youngest unanimous MVP winner in baseball history, capturing the NL award despite his Washington Nationals missing the playoffs; Josh Donaldson took the AL MVP, earning the honor after helping boost the Toronto Blue Jays back into the postseason for the first time since 1993.

One year ago: Lt. Col. Alexander Vindman, a career Army officer on President Donald Trump's National Security Council, testified about what he said was a clearly "improper" phone call in which Trump sought Ukrainian investigations of U.S. Democrats; Republicans responded by questioning Vindman's loyalty to the United States. Two jail guards who were supposed to be monitoring Jeffrey Epstein the night he killed himself were indicted on charges of falsifying prison records; prosecutors said the guards had been sleeping and browsing the internet instead of watching Epstein. (The guards are awaiting trial.) GateHouse completed its $1.1 billion takeover of Gannett, the publisher of USA Today. The Taliban freed American Kevin King and an Australian man, Timothy Weeks, who'd been held hostage since 2016, in exchange for three top Taliban figures.

FRIDAY NIGHT UNDER THE LIGHTS

High School Football In Howard County

Big Spring preparing for game against talented Springtown squad this Friday

By SHAWN MORAN

Herald Sports Writer

The monkey is finally off of the Steer's back.

For the first time since 2014, the Big Spring Steers (5-3) have won their Bi-District round playoff game. The Steers took the field last Friday night in Pecos to face the El Paso Riverside Rangers for a chance to advance to the second round of the playoffs. In a game that went back-and-forth for the entire four-plus quarters, the Steers were able to prevail 32-26 in a triple-overtime thriller that will go down in the Big Spring record books.

Now, they will be challenged by the best team they have faced all season this Friday night when they go head-to-head with the Springtown Porcupines (9-2) on Anthony Field at Wildcat Stadium (Abilene Christian University).

What would it mean to the Big Spring program to go out and grab another postseason win this Friday against a top-notch Springtown team? Head Coach Cannon McWilliams knows that it would be an incredible victory and is aware that his team is playing David to Springtown's Goliath this week.

"I think Springtown is ranked right below Alabama in the polls," McWilliams joked. "It would be a huge win. The main thing we're focused on is just competing. We want to play and execute the best that we can and limit their big plays. If we can do that, then we'll feel good about it."

With that being said, every team left in the playoffs is a good team and Big Spring deserves to be in the second round just as much as Springtown does. One of the most common expressions in the world of football is, "Any given Sunday." This of course refers to the NFL and their scheduled day of the week, but it can be used for any level of the sport. The expression means that no matter who takes the field, whether they are undefeated or winless, they should never be underestimated and will have a chance to win that specific game.

Bulldogs begin transition to offseason following loss to top-ranked Canadian

By SHAWN MORAN

Herald Sports Writer

Coahoma gave it everything they had last Thursday night when they took the field for the last time in 2020 in a 62-14 loss to the top-ranked Canadian Wildcats in Tulia.

The Bulldogs had been depleted by injuries over the course of the season and a team that was not expected to even reach the postseason by most major publications put up a fight in their Bi-District loss.

"We're always going to play until the last whistle," Head Coach Chris Joslin said. "I couldn't be more proud of a group of kids. Canadian is really, really good. We just need to stay healthy and continue to get better each and every year. I love this football team."

After falling behind 55-7 at halftime, the Bulldog defense limited Canadian to seven second-half points. It was not due in part to a lack of effort by the Wildcats in the second half - they would have scored 100 if they could - but instead caused by a Coahoma team that showed not an ounce of quit in them whatsoever.

Coahoma was playing without a handful of starters and Joslin used a combination of senior Noah Dials and freshman Grant Glidewell at quarterback throughout the game. As has become the norm for Coahoma, playmaker Brysen Kerby turned in a great game.

Forsan team loaded with juniors falls short in Bi-District round to San Saba

By SHAWN MORAN

Herald Sports Writer

The Forsan Buffaloes put up a strong fight but fell short (31-17) in their Bi-District matchup against San Saba last Friday night in Wall.

The game was tied 10-10 at halftime, but the Armadillos were able to put together a strong third quarter and pull away from the Buffaloes. Forsan's defense played well and their offense moved the ball at times, but San Saba was able to make just a few more plays than them to leave Wall with a victory.

Forsan exceeded expectations this season and are loaded with a strong junior class that will be returning to suit up in the black and white next fall. Both quarterbacks, Sawyer Stallings and Major Stockton, will be returning to lead the Buffalo offense once again with the dynamic duo at running back of Nate Hernandez and Chris Mendez alongside them in the backfield.

That is not all.

Leading tackler and one of the team's top wide receivers, Cayden Morgan, will be back next season and could see an expanded role in the offense. At tight end, Brandon Valdez will be returning and Joshua Cervantes is another Buffalo playmaker that will be a senior next year.

Forsan will be losing some big bodies in the trenches with the impending graduation of Cameron Allen, Paul Evans, Ely Matthies, and Clayton Tucker next spring. In addition to those linemen, versatile safety Drayklyn Henry will also be graduating and Forsan will miss his playmaking ability.

Players of the Week

GABRIEL BAEZA

Junior quarterback Gabriel Baeza made his presence felt on the field last Friday night in Pecos. With the game on the line, and after just throwing what could have been a game-sealing INT, Baeza began the third overtime by running 21 yards straight up the middle and setting his team up inside the 5-yard line. Two plays later, he delivered the game-winning touchdown pass to Pablito Dehoyos that would send the Steers onto the second round.

JONATHAN MILLER

Big-time players make big-time plays in big-time moments. Jonathan Miller fit that description perfectly last Friday night when the strong defensive end ended El Paso Riverside's third overtime drive with a big sack. He would finish the game with four total tackles, and three of those were behind the line of scrimmage. Playing with a bulky knee brace, Miller did not let that stop him from making a play that will not soon be forgotten around Big Spring.

BRYSEN KERBY

The steady and durable junior running back was given a heavy load last week against Canadian and produced as usual. The top-ranked Wildcat defense still could not keep Kerby contained for a full four quarters, as he popped off runs for 76 and 25 yards in the Bi-District matchup. Kerby would finish the game with 30 carries for 151 yards and two touchdowns. Kerby can now look ahead to training for his senior season.

BRYDEN FONTANA

The powerful linebacker has been a consistent performer for the Coahoma Bulldog defense all-season long. Last Thursday night, Fontana racked up seven total tackles, a sack, and a forced fumble. The Canadian offense was extremely talented and difficult to contain for long stretches of time, but the line-backer corps (Fontana, Colin Daniels, Patrick Gutierrez) had their fair share of good defensive plays as well.

MAJOR STOCKTON

On offense, junior quarterback Major Stockton was a threat in both the run and pass game. While he only completed six passes, he totaled 145 yards and one touchdown through the air. One of those passes was a 70-yard score to Joshua Cervantes. On the ground, Stockton used his strong frame to carry the ball 14 times for an additional 61 yards. The Forsan defense played a stronggamebutcame up just a few plays short last Friday night. However, defensive lineman Colten Wallis was a force for the Buffalo defense all-game long and totaled an astounding 13 total tackles from his three-point stance. Wallis also had one tackle for a loss and one sack against the Armadillos. Defensive back

COLTEN WALLIS

Cayden Morgan led the Buffaloes with 16 total tackles and Drayklyn Henry also turned in another strong game with three tackles for loss.

STEERS

“We’re one of the only teams that’s still rolling,” McWilliams said. “We’re the only team in Howard County that’s still rolling and we’re just excited to continue to show up and to keep playing.”

Big Spring was able to execute well and do their jobs last Friday night when they continued to fight until the final whistle was blown. That winning performance should give them confidence heading into this week against a tougher opponent.

McWilliams does not see any similarities between this Porcupine team and any that his squad has faced this season. He believes this is by far the best team that the Steers have played this season and knows both his players and coaching staff will need to be on their ‘A’ game come Friday afternoon.

Springtown’s offense is led by senior quarterback Camden Chesney, who has passed for 2,246 yards and 27 touchdowns with only five interceptions this season. Chesney is also one of the Porcupines’ leading rushers, having carried the ball 99 times for 325 yards and six touchdowns. Their top two wide receivers are senior Andy Behle and junior Matthew Lockard, who have combined for 18 touchdown receptions this year. On defense, sophomore Ashton Strahan leads Springtown with five sacks and senior defensive back Kolton Gist has a team-high three interceptions.

Big Spring will have their hands full with Springtown on the field at Abilene Christian University later this week. Heading into a matchup to extend their season, they to remember one thing when the lights hit the field: Any given Friday.

BULLDOGS

Kerby touched the ball 31 times throughout the game for a total of 148 yards and two scores. On one play, Kerby ran straight up the gut and proceeded to sprint untouched 76 yards into the end zone. His other touchdown was almost as impressive, when he broke a few tackles and rushed 25 yards for another score.

The defense did struggle to contain Canadian’s star players in the first half - when senior quarterback Josh Culwell completed five touchdown passes. Running back Hayze Hufstedler was just as big of a threat to score every time he touched the ball and had three rushing scores in the game.

Overall, the Coahoma Bulldogs had a lot of senior players that will not be returning to the gridiron next year. Joslin still believes his team will be filled with talented players and the Coahoma football program is continuing to move in the right direction.

“The future is as bright as it could be,” Joslin said. “We’re going to go back to work and get better this offseason. The future is bright all the way down to our junior high teams. It’s fun at Coahoma right now.”

Coahoma (6-4) put together a strong season in the midst of the coronavirus pandemic and there is plenty to look forward to with next year’s team. If things stay true to form, Joslin will be inserting upcoming sophomore Glidewell into the full-time starting quarterback role and will run a power rushing attack with him and Kerby lining up in the backfield.

This will be a crucial offseason for many Bulldog players as their progression will directly lead to the amount of playing time they get next season and how competitive the Bulldogs will be in 2021.

The work begins now.

With all of those returning players, and the young ones that are slated to fill their spots next fall, the future appears bright for the Forsan football program. Head Coach Jason Phillips was consistently satisfied with the fight that his team showed each week during the 2020 season and that should continue moving forward.

Forsan will be a veteran team next season, with most of their players having gotten steady Varsity playing time over the past two seasons. Phillips will of course be looking for progression out of his star and role players this offseason and expects to hit the field hard next fall.

“These guys’ expectations of themselves are high and that will continue going forward,” Phillips said earlier this season.

While that is a quote from earlier this year, it still rings true today. Forsan will be returning a large percentage of their starting players next season and will be returning even more players that already have Varsity playing experience.

Forsan won the most games (5) this season than they have since 2016 when they finished 9-4 and went to the third round of the postseason.
