Five persons were injured in a head-on collision Monday morning on highway 117 about three miles west of Booker. The injured, all from Oklahoma, were Jonas Redger of Tyrone, Mr. and Mrs. James Edgar Cook of Logan, Mr. and Mrs. Sid Spaulding of Forgan, and Edna Mae Tickle of Enid.

Over Fifty On Irrigation Tour

Sharp interest in irrigation was evidenced by about 50 farmers of the Perryton area who made the irrigation tour Tuesday afternoon to five local farms. The tour, which began at 1:30 p. m., had 21 automobiles in the caravan.

Bob Thurman, irrigation specialist from the Extension Service, gave an explanation of various types of irrigation practices seen on the tour. He was assisted by county agent Delbert Timmons.

The tour began at the Howard Holt farm, south of Perryton, where the visitors watched a field of permanent pasture being watered; then to the Harlan Hawk farm near Farnsworth to see a demonstration of land preparation and the use of a reservoir.

At the W. S. Scroggs farm at Waka, a demonstration of bench leveling and irrigated wheat was noted; at the Roger Pearson farm south of Waka the visitors saw rye and vetch pasture irrigation. At the W. R. Greener farm an electric pump was demonstrated as it watered a field of wheat.

Most of the farms visited used irrigation wells for diversification with some wheat, grain sorghums and permanent pasture either in operation or planned.

Perryton Area Fails to Reach Quota In Red Cross Blood Drive Wednesday

Receive 133 Pints During Recent Visit

The Red Cross blood drive, held Wednesday in the Methodist church basement, fell below the quota of 150 pints for the Perryton area.

There were 133 pints of blood collected for wounded servicemen, civilians and the gamma globulin program to combat polio.

A total of 145 persons had pledged blood before the drive, but some of these failed to appear and others were rejected. There were a number who gave blood although they were not on the pledge list.

This is the second visit of the Red Cross Bloodmobile Unit to Perryton, the first one being last August. The unit moves from Perryton to Gruver for a one-day visit tomorrow.

Many local residents assisted in the drive, serving at the canteen, assisting in the registration of donors, and performing many other tasks during the Bloodmobile visit. Local doctors and nurses also gave their services during the drive.

Early Day Trading Coin Is Discovered

Cheryl and Karen Palmer, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Palmer, 317 South Amherst found an old trading coin of the Gray Mercantile Company, while digging in their yard last week.

On one side the token had the words "Gray Merc. Co. Gray, Oklahoma. The other side read: "Good for $1 in Merchandise."

W. C. Bryan, early day owner of the store said that the token was used before 1919 to trade for eggs and produce. Farmers could use the tokens in the store instead of money.

The token was square with slightly rounded corners and appeared to be made from brass.

Committee Asks Spraying of Ditches for Bindweed Control

The Chamber of Commerce agriculture committee, headed by W. H. Lance, met with the commissioners court Monday, asking that all county roads be sprayed this spring in an effort to control the spread of bindweed.

The committee has also scheduled meetings with the Santa Fe railway officials and the State Highway Department, and will ask that weeds along the railroad right-of-way and along state highways be sprayed.

The commissioners told the committee that they had the equipment necessary for spraying weeds along roadways and that they had already planned such a program. It has been found that spraying weeds can be done cheaper than mowing them, according to county judge Howard Slaughter.

Bindweed control has been called the number one problem in Ochiltree county, as well as in other Panhandle counties. Thousands of acres of farm land have been lost to bindweed, which is next to impossible to kill out.

A bindweed control program, using salt, borax, spray and intensive cultivation has been carried on for several years, but the weed seems to be spreading.

Eleven Towns In Entry List for Local FFA Rodeo

The Perryton high school FFA Rodeo has been set for Friday, Saturday nights, May 8-9, and it is expected that the field of contestants will set a new high in the three-year-old event.

Eleven Panhandle cities have indicated that they will compete in the rodeo. These towns are Canadian, Miami, Spearman, Booker, Follett, Hardesty, Amarillo, White Deer, Mobeetie, Borger and McLean.

Events that are planned for the FFA Rodeo include calf roping, bareback bronc riding, ribbon roping, goat roping, cow girl sponsor contest and a cutting horse contest.

The following men have been appointed to secure stock for the rodeo: calf roping, Alton Witt; bronc riding, Gene Akers, Ike Vernon, Shorty Littleton; steers, Keith McLain, Howard Cook;

It is spread largely through seedling from patches in bar pits and along the railroad, Lance maintains.

The county has a sprayer with a 1000 gallon tank, capable of covering 35-40 miles of bar ditches each day.

Members of the committee which met with the court Monday include Lance, Lawrence Ellzey, Audie Conley, Martin McCarter, Delbert Timmons, R. H. Holland, Josh Hopkins, Virgil Olmstead, Alton Witt, Hood Willis, J. D. Dodson and Phil LaMaster.

Postal Income Shows Loss In First Quarter

Postal receipts for the quarter ending March 31 showed a 10 per cent drop from 1952, postmaster Irvin Hergert has announced.

Total receipts from stamp sales, etc., were $9,364.84 in the first quarter of this year, compared to $10,504.01 a year ago.

Money order business also dropped, from $48,404.16 last year to $36,522.98 this year.

The Perryton post office goes on first class status July 1, which will mean several changes in mailing regulations, especially as regards parcel post shipments.

Total receipts for 1952 passed the $40,000 mark, putting Perryton out of second class and into first class status for the first time in its history.

Winter Wheat Forecast May Bring on Marketing Quotas

WASHINGTON (AP)—The winter wheat crop forecast has heightened the possibility that marketing quotas, the first since 1943, may be imposed on next year's crop.

The Agriculture Department Friday forecast the crop at 714,154,000, up more than 100 million from its December estimate. Spring wheat was not estimated, but the government already has indicated it may run 310 million bushels.

If such a total wheat crop of more than a billion bushels actually develops, it would be large enough to require Secretary of Agriculture Benson to invoke marketing quotas on next year's crop. There are already on hand large reserves from past crops.

Benson has until July 1 to watch developments and decide. The department said dry weather in the Central and Western Great Plains could bring the estimate down.

The quotas, designed to prevent production next year of more grain than would be needed, would have to be approved by at least two-thirds of the growers voting in a referendum. Reporting on the general crop situation, the Agriculture Department said an early spring had set farm planting off to a favorable start in most areas. This fact might foreshadow bumper yields of other crops that already are near the surplus level.

Stocks of livestock feed grains on farms April 1 were reported to be nearly one-fourth larger than a year ago and eight per cent above average.

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP)—Police still are searching for the robber who fled a Pine Bluff grocery store, bombarded by canned goods.

The store cashier, Mrs. Jeff Lyon, said the young man shoved a gun across the counter and demanded the money from the cash register.

She said when she told him to get it himself, the robber dipped into the open cash drawer. About that time, Butcher Ed Boyd started throwing cans at the robber, who—waving and bobbing with about $5 clutched in his fist—fled the scene.

Helicopters Plant Trees

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Crown Zellerbach Corporation, paper products manufacturer, has planted its six-millionth timber seedling on its tree farms in western Oregon and Washington. The company uses helicopters on some types of land at a cost of about $7 an acre.

About two-tenths of one per cent of the cultivated area of the United States is used to grow sugar beets.

AT FORT BLISS—Pvt. Arthur Boese, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jake Boese of Waka, has arrived at Fort Bliss, El Paso, to be trained as an antiaircraft artilleryman at the Replacement Training Center. After eight weeks of basic training, he will be sent to specialized training in one of the artillery branches.

Spell petrochemical the easy way...

P-R-O-G-R-E-S-S

Progress in finding and producing oil is an old story to the oil country. Nearly everybody has heard about the oil industry's day-to-day miracles in exploration and production.

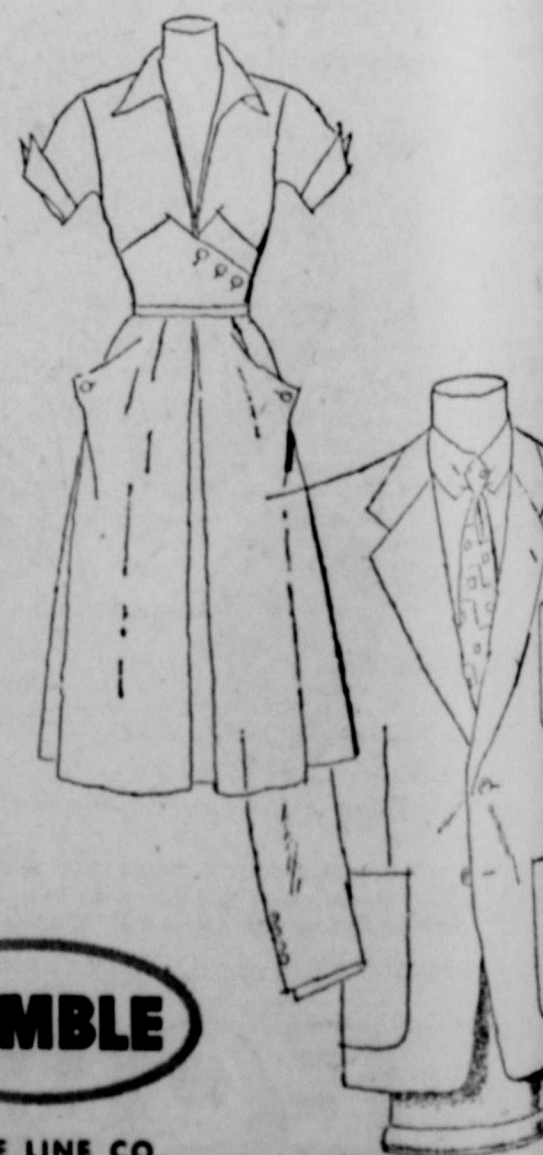

Now we all have a new series of miracles to wonder at—the transformation of petroleum hydrocarbons into chemical products of astonishing variety. These chemicals from petroleum have even added a new word to the American vocabulary—petrochemical.

Progress in the field has been amazing. The capital investment in new industries based on the petrochemicals has mounted to hundreds of millions. The new plants have created thousands of new jobs. And petrochemicals, as an industry, have provided a wider, a more complete, use of the country's oil resources.

Butadiene and butyl for synthetic rubber, toluene for TNT, solvents, aldehydes, and many other petrochemicals—even alcohols—are now produced in oil refineries. For example, the Humble Company, at its Baytown, Texas, refinery, is building facilities to manufacture paraxylene, the raw material for the new fabric called dacon.

The day may come, and very quickly, when you can be clothed from tip to toe in synthetic fabrics derived from petroleum; when petrochemicals provide the rubber for your tires, the plastics for your car's interior fittings, the fabric for the seat covers, the vehicle for body paint and polish.

The petrochemicals spell progress... progress to which the oil industry contributes research, capital, manufacturing facilities and, most importantly, an enterprising spirit.

Planned District Legion Convention Shamrock April 18-19

Two outstanding speakers, a parade, a 40 and 8 dance and a banquet will be on the packed program of the district convention when representatives from posts in the 18th district gather here for the annual spring convention Saturday and Sunday, April 18-19.

M. McCully, Clarendon, Texas, Legion's 18th district commander, has announced that convention speakers will be State Senator George St. Cyr and 18 year old Norton of Fort Worth, a high school senior.

Senator Nokes was one of the organizers of the first War II American Legion at the University of Texas in 1945, and is now state chairman of the organization's American Activities Committee.

was governor of the Legion's Boys State in last June and went on to the state where he was honored as being chosen president of the American Legion organization.

He was also called to the state in January by the American Broadcasting Company to present the teen-age program at the inauguration of President Eisenhower.

will address a joint session of the American Legion Auxiliary Sunday morning.

MIKE McCULLY

and Norton will address a similar joint session immediately after lunch the same day.

Commander McCully announced that registration will start at the Johnson Hotel here at 9 o'clock Saturday morning. The 40 and 8 will begin its street work and "wreck" activities at 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon. This will be followed at 2 o'clock with a parade in which color guards from visiting posts will participate along with high school bands and the Shamrock Unit of the Texas National Guard. By VERN SANFORD

AUSTIN, Texas—Behind closed doors went senators and representatives trying to agree on the Legislature's big spending bill.

A guard kept out reporters, one of whom recalled, somewhat bitterly, that a House committee had recommended passage of a resolution condemning the federal government for doing business behind closed doors. The Senate had already passed such a resolution.

Senator Otis Lock and Representative Max Spith explained that it is customary for conference committees to meet privately. These men, chairman of the Senate and House appropriations committees, said the conferees were trying to get together on policy.

Both the Senate and House have passed appropriation bills, but they differ in amount. The Senate bill is about six million dollars higher.

Action on other spending bills was held up until the houses finally passed the big one, which is for general government expense.

That was a ruling of House Speaker Reuben Telford, the case in point being a move to change a teachers pay-raise bill from the appropriations committee to the public lands and buildings committee.

The motion failed, but the appropriations committee set a hearing on three bills to hike teachers salaries. Under Telford's ruling it is proper to hold the hearings, but no action can be taken on these or any other spending measures until the general appropriations bill is finally passed.

One of the teacher bills would boost all teachers' salaries $600 a year, another would give them leaves will be heard over the Shamrock radio station.

Saturday's events will be climaxed with a dance for visiting Legionnaires and their ladies at the American Legion Hall Saturday evening starting at 9 o'clock.

Business sessions of both the American Legion and of the Auxiliary will be held Sunday afternoon.

Among other distinguished guests expected at the convention are H. J. Bernard, Houston, the American Legion's national executive committee member from Texas; the Rev. Henry F. Selzer of Marshall, state chaplain of the American Legion; E. L. "Stonewall" Jackson of Cisco, 5th division commander, Bob Sisson, manager of the Regional Veterans Administration office in Lubbock and Col. M. A. Gahagan of the State Veterans Affairs Commission, also of Lubbock.

$240, and the third sets up a sliding scale giving lower bracket teachers $504 additional and less for the higher-paid pedagogues.

Opposition developed quickly to a tax bill that would raise $84 million a year in new money.

Earle Cabell, Dallas business man, told the legislature he feared higher taxes would retard the growth and prosperity of the state.

Favoring the bill were a group of West Texans who insisted that more money is needed for schools, roads, and other purposes.

Committee hearings will be held twice weekly for three weeks so that all may express their opinions on this measure.

Representative George S. Berry of Lubbock is author of the tax bill, which levies on manufacture of lumber and lime; mining of coal, lignite, asphaltic limestone, gypsum, salt, sand, gravel, shell, clay, limestone, granite, marble, sandstone, asphalt and Fullers earth; oil production; beer; gross receipts of chemical manufacturers; refining of gasoline; and imports.

The state health officer has a clean bill of health.

Charges against Dr. George D. Cox were dismissed by the state board of health, and the board elected him to serve another two-year term.

Senator J. T. Rutherford of Odessa had charged Dr. Cox with irregularities, but the board, after holding an investigation, found that the state health officer and his associates were innocent of "any misconduct or misappropriation of moneys or materials."

Dr. O. B. Kiel of Wichita Falls, chairman of the board, said members had "a great deal of faith and confidence in Dr. Cox."

Texas officials expressed gratification when the national house of representatives passed a bill returning ownership of the tidelands to Texas.

Governor Allan Shivers, Land Commissioner Bascom Giles, and Attorney General John Ben Shepard comprise the Texas School Land board, which would administer the vast area.

They all expressed the wish that Congress will give Texas a part of the revenue from all of the continental shelf. The present bill puts Texas' boundary at three leagues out in the Gulf of Mexico.

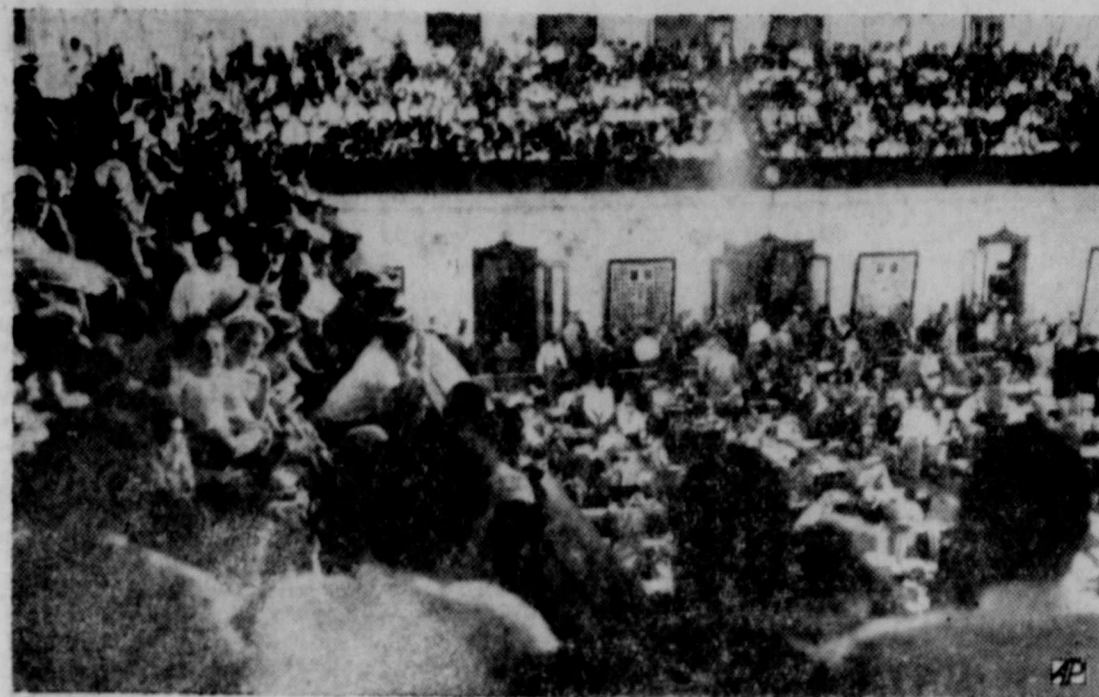

Congress last year passed legislation returning ownership of the tidelands to the states, but the measure was vetoed by President Truman.

The tidelands are particularly valuable because they are rich in oil.

Senator George Moffett's proposed constitutional amendment to get money for needed state office buildings was passed by the senate without a dissenting vote.

The funds would come from pension fund. A property tax of two cents per $100 valuation now raises about a million and a quarter dollars a year for the pension fund, which now has a surplus of $4,604,163.

Only two veterans of the Confederate Army are now alive in Texas, but there are 505 widows of Confederate veterans. Returns from the property tax are more than enough to pay the pen-

Public Cordially Invited

The Golden Text of the Lesson-Sermon on "Doctrine of Atonement" to be given in Christian Science churches this Sunday is from I John 1:3: "That which we have seen and heard declare we unto you, that ye also may have fellowship with us; and truly our fellowship is with the Father, and with his son Jesus Christ." The lesson points out that Christ Jesus' mission on earth was to demonstrate for all people in every age that the understanding of man's at-onement with God overcomes sin and suffering of every sort. This Bible passage will be read: "All things are of God, who hath reconciled us to himself by Jesus Christ, and hath given to us the ministry of reconciliation" (II Cor. 5:18).

Further discussing the subject of atonement, this passage will be read from "Science and Health With Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science: "The atonement is a hard problem in theology, but its scientific explanation is, that eventually both sin and suffering will fall at the feet of everlasting Love" (p. 23).

Law-Maker Would Spur Movie-Makers

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP)—A Brazilian congressman wants foreign movie-makers to produce 10 per cent of all their films in Brazil, and says he will introduce a bill to that effect.

The plan was announced by Deputy Joe Pedrosa. He says his project would prohibit foreign producers from showing their films unless they could comply with the 10 per cent law.

The plan also would contain a provision that at least 50 per cent of the movies made in Brazil feature "typically Brazilian motives and landscapes," or be written by Brazilian authors.

More Bicycles On the Way

NEW YORK (AP)—More than two million new bicycles were turned out during 1952, reports H. Clyde Brokaw, president of the Bicycle Institute. With removal of metal restrictions, he predicts the 1953 output would surpass last year's. Brokaw says there now are more than 21 million two-wheelers zipping along the nation's roads.

The date on which a voice was first broadcast by radio is in dispute, some believing it was 1892 and others 1906.

Many Steps to Get Bills Out In Legislature

AUSTIN (AP)—If a bill you are particularly interested in has been introduced in the legislature, you may be wondering why it takes so long for it to become law.

Maybe you've read stories that said the bill was "introduced," that committee has "approved" it, that the House had "passed" the bill on second reading but failed to vote on final passage.

Sounds like a lot of gobbledygook, doesn't it?

But there's a reason for it. Basically, the reason for making a bill go through so many steps is to give some assurance that proposed legislation won't be "railroaded through" before the law-makers — your representatives and senators—have time to study its merits.

How does a bill become law?

1. A bill may be filed in the House or the Senate (except that all tax bills must originate in the House). It is filed with the chief clerk. Assume that the bill you are interested in is filed in the House.

2. The bill is introduced "on first reading" and the speaker of the House immediately sends it to a committee.

3. The committee chairman "sets" (schedules) the bill for public hearing, usually on the date requested by the author. Generally, at least 48 hours public notice is given by posting an announcement of the hearing on bulletin boards outside the House and Senate chambers. The average citizen has to rely on newspapers, radio and television to pass along the word that a hearing has been scheduled. Trade associations and lobbyists are here to watch the bulletin boards.

4. The committee hears proponents and opponents of the bill, then votes on whether to delay it or to recommend passage or nonpassage by the House.

5. Assuming the bill wins committee approval, it goes to the House floor. There it must await its turn on the "calendar"—business docket. Ordinarily, bills are considered by the House in the numerical order in which they were originally filed. However, there are numerous parliamentary and political tricks by which a bill can be delayed.

6. The bill finally comes up for House consideration. If a simple majority votes for the bill, it is "passed on second reading." But the rules require it also to be approved on "third reading," which means final passage.

To secure a vote on final passage the same day a bill is passed on second reading, he author must get the House to authorize the final vote by a four-fifths majority. If he fails to secure the four-fifths majority, consideration of the bill is delayed until a later date.

7. The bill is finally passed by the House on "third reading," by a simple majority and is sent to the Senate. There it goes to a committee. It follows the same process as in the House to win final Senate passage. If the Senate amends the bill in any way, the measure must go back to the House for approval of the change. House and Senate must agree on the entire bill in its final form.

8. The bill goes to the governor. He may sign it into law, veto it, or let it become law without signature by letting it lie on his desk 10 days.

Owl Lures Crows

BELTON, Texas (AP)—Pop-Pop, a horned owl, makes it easy for Nelson H. Hander, a peccan grower, to kill crows by the hundreds.

Hander ties a 3-foot twine to one of Pop-Pop's legs. He ties the other end to a crow, dead or alive. Hander hides nearby. Other crows think Pop-Pop is attacking one of their buddies, and they're right. Pop-Pop loves crow meat. The aroused crows swoop down on Pop-Pop. Hander kills the crows with his shotgun.

As far as a peccan farmer is concerned there just isn't any bird more destructive than a crow, Hander says. He has tried many ways of controlling crows and the owl method is the best.

Farm Bureau Hits Price Spread In Food Markets

WACO — Farmers are being falsely blamed for high food prices and indulging in "get-rich-quick" schemes at the expense of consumers, J. Walter Hammond, president of the Texas Farm Bureau Federation, declared this week.

The state farm leader referred to an announcement by W. B. Bain of Dallas, marketing administrator for the North Texas milk area, as an example of what often happens in the case of food prices. The announcement appeared in the April 8th edition of the Ft. Worth Star-Telegram.

Bain reported that milk producers in North Texas will get 44 cents less per hundred weight for Class 1 milk in April than they received last month. The newspaper report stated that the April price of $5.85 was down 77 cents, or about 1 1/2 cents less per quart, from the February price; yet, there has been no reduction in the price paid by consumers.

"This is an excellent example of what is happening to the farmer's share of the consumer's dollar," Hammond said. "Farm prices have tumbled, but the retail prices are staying up."

The farm Bureau president pointed out that retail prices do not reflect accurately the farmer's share of the food dollar.

"Last year the farmer received only 45 cents out of every dollar's worth of produce he sold. The consumers should concern themselves with the 55 cents difference between prices paid to the farmer and prices paid by the consumer."

The tachistoscope is helping increase the pupils' "eye span" so they can see several words at once.

Fighters Hunt Enemy Food

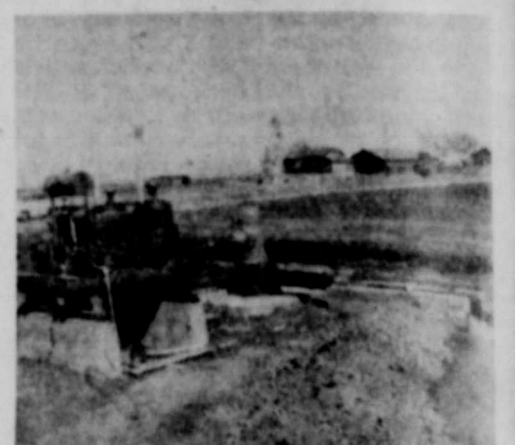

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaya — Men of the 1st Battalion King's African Rifles are in the campaign to wipe out the Communists' food supply into the depths of the jungle.

While police and bombers prevent food being taken from towns and villages, the men from Nyasaland strike the jungle plots. In Patani alone, where the Africans are operating, they have captured 82 enemy gunners.

Electric generators have been provided as attachments for lawn mowers and other machines by some nations for use when normal power is disrupted by other causes.

The British Parliament has been called "Mother of Parliaments" because many governments in other parts of the world have been modeled after it.

Modern sailors often use "boat" to mean a vessel which can be hoisted to the deck of a "ship" and "ship" to mean any vessel which cannot be so hoisted, but in former times the term "ship" was often used to mean a vessel which was "ship-rigged," that is "square-rigged."

Outdoor Living Brings Danger From Tick Pest

AUSTIN, Texas—The trouble with spring is that it is a season when most people's thoughts turn naturally to picnics and exploratory sojourns into the great outdoors.

At this time of year, such a turn of mind could, unless care is taken, mean exposure to the fever-laden bite of a tick with a big name.

In scientific circles, one of these pernicious little parasites goes by the name of Ornithodoros turicata. It can bite you without your ever knowing it, so painless is his attack. He feeds so quickly before releasing his hold and dropping off that most of his victims never know they have provided him with a blood meal.

He belongs to the soft-shelled tick family, and is the most important transmitting agent of relapsing fever, a tropical disease well-known in Texas.

Technical workers in the Bureau of Laboratories at the State Department of Health go into all sections of the state searching for these little disease bearers, gathering specimens from their natural habitat.

ON THE TABLE—is Roy Symons, one of the 133 blood donors in the Red Cross blood drive held Wednesday. The nurse is Mrs. Florence Hollingsworth.

Peterson Again Pool Operator

Coach Jim Peterson has been awarded the contract for operating the city swimming pool this summer. He was employed by the city council after the bids on the swimming pool operation last week.

Peterson operated the swimming pool last year.

The only other bidder on the pool operation was Lynn Hulsey of Canyon, who operated it for two summers prior to Peterson's taking it over last year.

Present plans call for the pool to open around June 1, after certain minor repairs and painting is done.

Airplanes were first used in war against the Turkish forces in Tripoli in 1911 and 1912.

Miller Services Held Tuesday at Balko Church

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon for Elmer Le Roy Miller, 56, who died Sunday, April 12, in Beaver county about three miles east of Gray. A resident of Beaver county since 1906, he had lived in Perryton for the past few years and was employed at the Equity at the time of his death.

Rev. O. J. Welch conducted the final rites at the Balko Baptist church. Pallbearers were Ernest Deik, Irwin Naylor, Raymond Jackson, Franklin McGlamery, Raymond Smith and Senator Pugh.

Survivors include two sons, Don Miller of Perryton and Larry Miller of Lubbock; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Miller of Balko; a brother, Roy Miller of Monroe, Ore., and four grandchildren.

Burial was made Tuesday at the Blue Mound Cemetery.

City Water Well Proves Success After Test Run

Development of the new city water well indicates that it has a production rate of 800-849 gallons per minute, well above the requirements set when the drilling contract was let.

The well was started Friday afternoon with a test pump, and it was pumped steadily for 50 hours. It showed a drawdown of 100 feet at 840 gallons per minute and 65 feet at 600 gallons per minute, which is not quite as good a well as the present one at the city park, but considered adequate for present purposes.

The city will let a contract on April 28 for the rest of the pump equipment.

City manager J. B. Whigham said that the well is expected to be put into operation between May 20 and June 1. The city has already laid a water line from the well to the reservoir at the city park.

Commissioners Hear Variety Of Delegations

The commissioners court heard a variety of delegations in their Monday meeting, with subjects ranging all the way from bindweed control to city water service.

The commissioners approved a new set of cemetery rules, which prohibits the placing of monuments, shrubs or other structures in the cemetery without permission of the superintendent and places restrictions upon other work methods in the cemetery.

A Chamber of Commerce committee asked the county to spray all roadways in an effort to control bindweed and the commissioners are laying plans for such a program now.

Alton Witt and Charles Helton, representing the Perryton Roping Club, asked permission to use the rodeo grounds and were granted this permission, with certain restrictions. The county reserves the right to the rodeo grounds on any special occasion they may designate, and the club may not keep horses in the pens. Repair of the fences was authorized with the county furnishing the material and the club the labor.

A delegation headed by J. S. Slaughter and W. H. Lackey asked that the county pay off the $600 debt on the baseball park. The baseball club owes that amount on the pipe and fence at the park, built last summer. The commissioners agreed to pay the $600 in return for parking revenue at the ball park.

Mayor Drew Ellis and city manager J. B. Whigham met with the court, stating that the county park and fairgrounds is supplied with water at a minimum rate of $2.25 per month. They asked that the city put a meter on water lines going to the county park, baseball field and rodeo grounds. The commissioners took no action on this at the Monday meeting.

Another delegation met with the court, asking that county service officer Tom Davis be given a car expense allowance. This request was turned down.

Borger Group Submits Proposal On Dam Lease

A group of men from Borger, represented by Paul Records of Perryton, has submitted a written proposal to the commissioners court regarding the leasing of the Wolf Creek dam site and offering to rebuild the dam.

The proposal asks for a 30-year lease on concession rights, and in return the group would put the dam back, subject to the approval of the State Parks Board.

The court has taken no action upon this proposal. The commissioners were to have met Friday to discuss it, but since county judge will not be present due to funeral services of his brother-in-law that day, the meeting will be held at a later date.

Guymon Boosters Here Wednesday

A caravan of boosters from Guymon, advertising the May 2 Pioneer Day Celebration, will be in Perryton Wednesday, April 22, at 11:55 a. m.

Featured in the cavalcade will be the Panhandle Aggie and Guymon high school bands. The group will give favors for the kiddies on their visit.

The Guymon Celebration features a 10-mile long parade, rodeo, dance, chuck wagon breakfast and Old Timers Reunion.

Crop Reporter Says Wheat In Good Condition

A. W. Erickson, the noted crop reporter, visited the Perryton area Monday and says the wheat outlook is good, if we get rain within the next 10 days.

The present crop has an excellent chance to beat the three year average, Erickson says. He said the wheat looked good, was stood out well and has a good root system.

The subsoil moisture is very light, extending down from 6 to 10 inches. The best sub moisture was found south of Perryton.

No insects were found in any of the fields he visited that were damaging the wheat.

All this wheat needs is some rain, says Erickson.

This confirms a suspicion local wheat farmers have had for several months.

City Tax Board Meets Friday

The city tax equalization board, composed of Lester Baumann, R. H. Holland and L. D. Stinson, will meet Friday, April 17, to approve the tax roll for the city.

After the board reviews all assessments, notices will be sent to taxpayers whose taxes have been lowered or raised for the coming tax year.

These citizens will have an opportunity to meet with the equalization board at a later date, tentatively set for April 27.

Flower Processing Plant Sited In Colorado Springs

Flower growers in Sherman, Hartley, Hansford, Lipscomb and Ochiltree counties will benefit from the construction of a $5,000,000 dollar safflower processing mill in Colorado Springs.

The plant is being constructed by Western Safflower Corporation and will be completed by June 1, according to Ted W. Lord, president and general manager of the company.

According to Lord, growers in Sherman and Dallas counties will be a portion of the safflower to be processed this year.

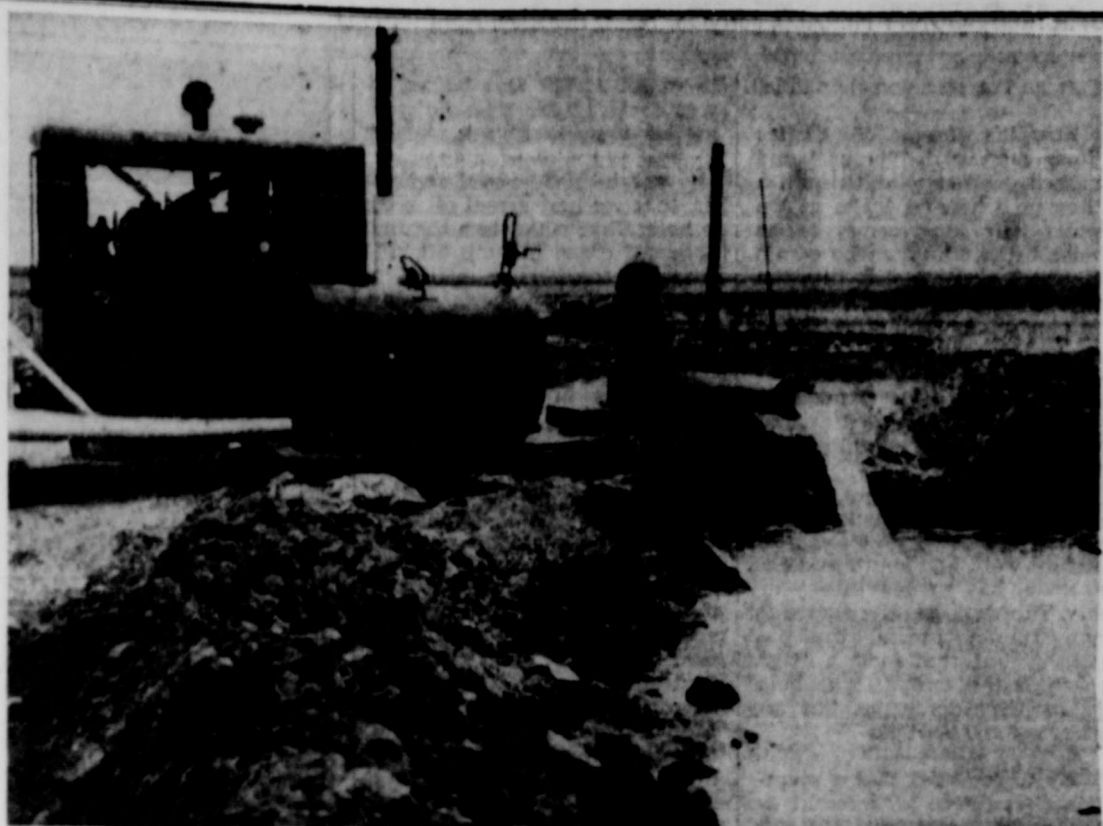

Products of the Colorado plant will be a drying safflower oil meal, a safflower seed meal, a safflower seed daily.

Colorado Springs was selected as the location because of its location on the five trunkline railroads, its location in the center of the Colorado, Nebraska, Texas and Oklahoma.

Extensive research in agricultural laboratories and in manufacturing plants demonstrate to the paint and varnish industry that safflower oil is a great discovery. It helps to produce a white paint that won't turn yellow, enables a paint to hold its gloss, and wears better than paint made from other oils.

Western Safflower Company officials are fully aware of the fact they are pioneering in a new agricultural field, even though the production of safflower has proven extremely profitable to growers in California and in Nebraska. "Our plant will be the only plant in the world built for the exclusive purpose of crushing safflower seed," Lord said.

"The officers of this Company feel that it will be only a few years until Safflower will be recognized as a major crop in the high plains area. The dry land farmers of this section are in

Killing the Goose

It long has been predicted that John L. Lewis, head of the United Mine Workers, would sooner or later kill the soft coal industry by his exaction of repeated costly concessions from it. The resulting rise in production costs has helped to make oil and gas increasingly serious competitors of coal as a fuel in the North and East.

At least the concessions in favor of the coal miners seem to have reached the point of diminishing returns. Last fall Mr. Lewis won a daily wage increase of $1.90 and a 10-cent-a-ton hike in royalty for the miners' welfare fund. Now there is less work for soft coal miners, and the 40-cent-a-ton royalty is producing less for the welfare fund than the previous 30-cent assessment.

Because of the high price of soft coal caused by higher costs, including wages, annual soft coal output has declined by about 303 million tons in the last six years. Consumers are turning to cheaper oil and gas.

Ft. Worth Star-Telegram

Must Eat More Beef

Cattle market which has been on the decline for more than a year now, has brought about an intensified campaign to increase the consumption of beef by the Department of Agriculture along with livestock producers, slaughterers, meat packers, and others in the distributive food trade.

All such meats at present are plentiful. The Agriculture department now is offering to buy a quantity of frozen beef for export to Greece under a Mutual Security requisition. Heavy movement of beef to market now has been evidenced for three years. Still there are more than 56,000,000 million head of beef cattle today. Dry weather last summer also helped increase marketings.

As a result here is a sample of price drops in Chicago: Slaughter steers in September 1951 were worth $36.33 per 100 lbs.; in December of the same year $34.72; in December 1952, a year later, they had dropped to $31.13; and on March 5, 1953, the top had slipped to $23.07.

Increased consumption of beef looks like the only remedy to halt the steady drop in prices with the supply more than plentiful. It is nothing more than the old law of supply and demand at work.

If the move to get people to eat more meat is accomplished, perhaps the wheat growers might pick up their ears and make similar moves. What is true of beef supplies today, also is true of wheat.

In both cases either more raisers and growers have entered the agriculture fields, farmers or stockmen have become more efficient in production, or Mother Nature has blessed them too thoroughly. S. W. Daily Times

What If There Were No Advertising?

Had you ever contemplated what would happen if suddenly all forms of advertising were to be discontinued—or be banned by law?

Your daily paper would cost you 20c and your Sunday paper would cost you 50c—demand would slow down—many salespeople would lose their jobs and start selling apples on the streets—empty freight cars would line the sidings throughout America's railroad system—this nation's great industrial machines would slowly grind to a halt—factory workers would lose their jobs.

But there would be still other major inconveniences—the time required for household and food shopping would be quadrupled—food, furniture, autos and women's fashions would become standardized; there would be no new Paris gowns; no new Hatfield Carnegie hats; no new and shocking brands of perfumes—manufacturers would not risk investments in new products or styles because there would be no way to popularize them.

There would be no colorful magazines, no free radio entertainment, no 5c newspapers, and no free and independent press because a free press is made possible by advertising. No newspaper can be truly independent editorially unless it is independent financially.

The inclination to BUY would decrease as the ability-to-purchase begins to drop, and as sales and production decline, corporation taxes and individual income taxes would drop to unheard of minimums endangering our highway system, our school system and our military might.

A cessation of advertising in this nation would create a state of stagnation. Were it possible to survive for 5 years without advertising, our way of life would lapse into a dreary, colorless existence—and our living standards would be pushed backward for 50 years.

Now you know what to expect should the world's greatest single economic force be shackled—So let's proceed from that point.

From the SIDELINE

with HAROLD HUDSON

We see where a weed specialist suggests that when the weeds start flourishing this spring we enlist Junior in the battle against 'em. It's a natural, he concludes. All you do is to give Junior a lot of weed killing spray to use in his water gun, instead of his regular ammunition, and then point out the offending weeds to him. Junior improves his marksmanship, while you improve your lawn. Anyway, that's the theory.

This fellow, obviously, doesn't have a Junior at home. If he did he knows that the minute the water gun marksmanship becomes useful, it also becomes work. And right there's where Junior loses interest. Any parent knows that while Junior can burn up thousands of calories in playing ball, follow-the-leader, etc., the minute it becomes necessary to burn up some calories in hoeing weeds or carrying out trash, Junior tires very easily.

We are more and more convinced that vegetable farming pays off—at least for those folks in the valley. Last week we had a story about A. N. Dowers, formerly of Perryton, harvesting 50,000 pounds of tomatoes from five acres, making the retail value about $15,000 from the field. Now we read about a patch of onions at Weslaco, in the valley, that brought $25,000 for 26 acres. Wonder if that stuff would grow here?

Some newspapers have experimented with the use of perfume to get away from that inky smell of their papers. We are not in favor of such a stunt. We like the smell of printer's ink on the Herald—it has an honest, earthy odor that one expects from a newspaper.

It is something like the personal stimulating odor that comes from a man after strenuous exercises. Imagine a basketball team that you couldn't smell when it came on the floor! It wouldn't be right, and neither is a newspaper that smells like perfume. It ought to smell like a newspaper and not like a chorus girl who hasn't had a bath in a long time and uses Chanel No. 20 to disguise that fact.

There's nothing quite so disillusioning as a picture of oneself in action. We refer to those motion pictures made of local golfers and shown at the Country Club banquet. While a golfer visions himself as displaying perfect form, a la Ben Hogan, Sam Snead, etc., when the movie comes out, it reveals the hacker in various poses, none flattering. More like a man with a backache flailing weeds out of the garden, in our case.

Anyway, we paid our $2 to see the movies, and we guess we got our money's worth. We sure satisfied our curiosity.

Having recently attended a convention, and having listened to several speakers during recent months, we are convinced that the heavy, horn-rimmed spectacles have taken the place of pants pockets on the speaker's rostrum. Used to be, when a speaker got wound up, he would ram his hand in his pocket, shifting from one pocket to another as the occasion demanded.

other as the occasion demanded.

Now it's glasses. He carries these merely as "props," and makes good use of them. On they go when he looks at his notes. Off they come, to be waved around, when he wants to emphasize a point. Into the mouth they go when he wants to appear contemplative. When he forgets what he is supposed to say next, he is given a reprieve by the time it takes to fold the spectacles, fool around with them, and finally put them on.

A big disappointment to all of us was the news that the Brillhart oil well, just south and east of town, has turned into a dry hole. The well was the source for many rumors during the past months, but remained a "tight hole" to the end. "Tight hole" means they don't put out any information about it.

We understand that a promising formation was found around 7,000 feet but it didn't prove out. The well was drilled

Wolf Creek Philosopher

New and Better Pills Needed

(Ed. note: The Wolf Creek Philosopher apparently has his tongue in his cheek this week, although there's always the possibility it could be something else, say chewing tobacco.)

Dear editor:

The trouble with scientists is that they're always working against each other and for every step one of them makes toward progress another one of them takes a step to head him off. We don't get anywhere.

Take the atom bomb. Here we had a fine instrument of civilization, you might say the peak of civilized ingenuity in so far as eliminating more people at one time is concerned, civilization these days you know being measured not only by the greatest good for the greatest number but the greatest number bumped off in the shortest time.

The atom bomb, you might say, was the ultimate dream of the first cave man who dropped a rock off a cliff on the head of his neighbor. It multiplied a man's power so many times he could now eliminate people by cities instead of handfulls. It looked like we might be getting somewhere toward scaring the daylight out of each other and cowering us into final world peace.

And what happens? We spend billions of dollars and endless hours of scientific research to get it perfected and then what? Some scientist not willing to let well enough alone gets busy and invents a pill to counteract the effect of the atom bomb's most valuable aspect, its ability to send mysterious rays out and kill people merely by radiation. According to an account I read in a paper yesterday, all you have to do now is take this pill before an atom bomb goes off and if you're out of the immediate vicinity where the thing explodes, you're safe from the devastating radiation that used to make the bomb such a masterful instrument of slaughter.

I tell you, that pill has set us back 25 years. Now we've got to start all over again and work out something to add to the to about 10,500 feet before it was declared dry. The rig was moved away last week.

It was in 1949, you'll remember, that we had a real oil scare up here. That was when the first Lips well came in with oil, and although there is a nice Lips pool, it is all in Roberts county. The series of dry holes drilled by Gulf and Texas companies is bound to put a damper on future explorations in this immediate area.

School will be out May 29 this year, considerably later than in years past. Reason for the late date is that under present school laws, a certain number of classroom days must be held during the school year. Whenever the school takes a holiday, it must make up that day. Supt. Gilbert Mize says the Perryton school is behind several days now and that the alternative to continuing the school year to May 29 is to hold Saturday classes. They decided to go another week in May.

NO MIRAGE—The dry Texas Panhandle gurgled and imagined blue water and swaying palm trees when Pat Reid modeled this smart number in a fashion show, held in the officers' dining hall at Webb Air Force Base, Big Spring. We'll never get anywhere this way.

'Member of Wedding' Stars Cast of Broadway Prize Play

The most-honored young lady of the American stage, Miss Julie Harris, makes her motion picture debut in Stanley Kramer's production of the prize-winning Broadway play, "The Member of the Wedding," which Columbia Pictures brings to the Ranger Theatre on Wed.-Thurs., April 22-23. The original stars of the play, including famed actress Ethel Waters; Miss Harris, the most radiant young star discovery in 20 years, and Brandon de Wilde, brilliant young child actor, share stellar honors in the screen version.

"The Member of the Wedding," as a play, walked off with the New York Drama Critics Circle and Donaldson awards when it ran for 62 weeks in New York. For her performance in the play, Miss Harris won both Donaldson and the New York Drama Critics Variety Poll's best actress awards.

In "The Member of the Wedding," Miss Harris plays a lonely young girl who looks forward to the wedding of her soldier-brother; she plans to accompany the bride and groom on their honeymoon. She runs away when she is not permitted to join the newlyweds and winds up in a barroom with a soldier too drunk to realize how young she really is.

Wilde, Smith In 'Condor' Picture

Cornel Wilde and Constance Smith star in "Treasure of the Golden Condor," which comes to the Ranger Drive-In Theatre on Sunday, Tuesday, April 19-21.

Set in the late 18th Century, "Treasure of the Golden Condor" contrasts the polished manners of French court life with the primitive, menacing existence of a Guatemalan jungle. Cornel Wilde, a young and adventure-some Frenchman, forced to flee his native land, joins intrepid Scotsman Finlay Currie, possessor of a treasure map, and his lovely daughter, played by Constance Smith, in a search for a fabulous hidden cache. After a perilous journey they arrive at a time-worn jade-and-emerald city. Before and after they locate the treasure, the triumvirate share many breathtaking adventures.

'Eight Iron Men' Comes to Ellis

"Eight Iron Men" tells the story of all soldiers—their humor and heroics, their horseplay and their unheralded gallantry. This universal theme is successfully conveyed through the account of the experiences of a squad of combat infantrymen on a battlefield of World War II.

And what a squad! It includes Sergeant Mooney, who always could spare a couple of stripes to save a buddy; Colucci, with his tall tales of the big girls that didn't get away; Coke, the hot-head, and Sapiros the clown; Small, the little man who wasn't all there; Carter, who'd beat 1,000 in any man's league; Ferguson, too lazy to dream his own dreams, and Muller, whose sister kept them all in fruitcake. Add to these a gorgeous dreamboat of a girl who walks in their sleep, and you have a gallery of enjoyable screen characters second to none.

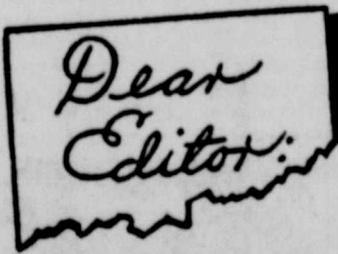

Railroad Drama Comes to Ranger

"Kansas Pacific," starring Sterling Hayden and Eve Miller, comes Friday and Saturday to the Ranger Theatre, telling of the opening of the west by early railroads.

This production is set in western Kansas just before the Civil War, where southern sympathizers are employing every trick of sabotage to prevent completion of a rail line that will open the territory of the western forts to rapid transportation for the armed forces of the north.

Hayden, a captain in the army engineers, is sent out by Washington to expedite construction of the line. Every possible obstacle is put in his path and in the end he has to call in the artillery to blast the saboteurs out of the hills.

TEXANS IN WASHINGTON

By TEX EASLEY

WASHINGTON, (AP)—When Texans in Washington talk politics these spring days, most speculation centers on the fate of congressional redistricting proposals before the state legislature. They potentially affect the political well-being of each of the 22 representatives.

There is also much talk about the race building up for the governorship when Allan Shivers steps down from that position. While the names mentioned include those in state jobs which often serve as stepping stones to the Governor's Mansion, there's special interest here in reports from Austin that Congressman Lloyd Bentsen of McAllen may be the one to whom Shivers would like to pass his baton.

The tall and handsome Rio Grande Valley legislator had combat experience as a bombing squadron commander in World War II, served a year as county judge of Hidalgo County, and now is in his fifth year in Congress. Wise for his 32 years, he waves off queries about gubernatorial prospects.

"You know I'm representing the 15th District of Texas in Congress," he adds with a smile. "I am trying to justify the confidence of the people who sent me here by doing the job to the best of my ability."

But, here are some of the facts surrounding the reports, lending weight to the suggestion that Bentsen may toss his hat in the ring when the proper time comes:

He is a personal friend of Governor Shivers, who has extensive interests in the Rio Grande Valley through his wife's estate.

He is also a personal friend of Texas' senior Senator Lyndon B. Johnson.

It is no secret that both Shivers and Johnson hold Bentsen in high esteem, notwithstanding the fact that the governor and senator took opposite stands in the presidential election last November.

Bentsen himself announced during the heated presidential election that he could not actively campaign for Stevenson because of the Democratic party nominee's anti-state stand on the submerged lands ownership issue. However, it is pretty generally understood that he stuck with the Democratic ticket when it came to casting his individual vote. He never said.

Friends of Bentsen acknowledge that it almost certainly would take the support of Shivers and Johnson to put him across in the face of the formidable opposition that would arise if the contestants included those whose names are mentioned in speculation. Those most often named are:

Texas Land Commissioner Bascom Giles, Attorney General John Ben Shepherd, Lieut. Gov. Ben Ramsey, Ralph Yarborough of Austin, Ely Thornton of Galveston and former Congressman Lindley Beckworth of Gladewater.

Each of these probably has a much wider personal acquaintance over the vast expanse of the state than does Bentsen, since he has never sought a state office. He toyed a bit last year with the idea of running for the Senate when Tom Connally announced his retirement, but abandoned the thought after a flying trip to Texas to talk first with Shivers, then with Johnson.

During the recent congressional hearings on the tidelands, submerged coastal lands legislation, Giles, Shepherd and Yarborough all showed up to plug for state's ownership. Should that issue arise again in election campaigns they can point to the record.

What's new about
"TT" DYNAFLOW?

The TAKE-OFF'S
TERRIFIC!

It's only fair to warn you.

When you try a new Buick with the sensational Twin-Turbine Dynaflo Drive,* you'll tingle all over with thrill.

You'll sweep your speedometer needle from zero to 30 mph so quickly, you won't have time to breathe but twice. You'll move from a standing start to legal speed so quietly, you'll practically hear your heart beat. You'll experience such complete and utter smoothness every step of the way, you'll be wholly relaxed, refreshed, and ready for more.

This is not dream stuff. This is real.

This is what actually happens when you're at the wheel of a new 1953 Buick with TT Dynaflo.

Twin Turbines in the Dynaflo unit, instead of just a single one—in addition to other engineering advances—make the tremendous difference.

So you feel a firmer and more immediate "take hold"—get far faster getaway, new quiet and efficiency, plus infinite smoothness to and through every speed range.

There's a lot more to be had, of course, in these great new Buicks. Higher horsepowers and compression ratios. A still finer ride. Easier handling. Improved visibility. More comfort and richer interiors.

But start with take-off—the greatest in Buick's fifty great years—and learn the rest of the story from there. Can you drop in on us this week?

Pat Taggart, business manager of the News-Tribune of Perryton, said that the school of printing at Dalhart, where pay is high and opportunities are good, is continuing industrial training in the new section of the newspaper.

ing, a non-profit institution, is the only school of its kind in this region. It is owned by daily and weekly newspapers and commercial printing firms throughout the Southwest.

In the 16-month course, students are taught the fundamentals of hand composition, press work and machine composition. "Graduates of the school are not considered finished printers, but are considered as men with solid, on-the-job practical training in the fundamentals of the craft," said Robert L. Gleason, general manager of the school.

He said demands for graduates exceed the supply by about three to one. Printers doing only hand and machine work are one of the highest paid groups of workers in the state on the basis of Texas Employment Commission reports, Gleason said.

Draft Quota for May Down for Texas Boards

AUSTIN, Tex.—The state draft quota for May calls for induction of 2,823 men. Brigadier General Paul L. Wakefield, state Selective Service director, has announced.

General Wakefield said that the May call is 53 less than the April call of 2,876 men.

State Selective Service headquarters was scheduled to mail to local boards calls for May pre-induction physical examination involving 4,858 men.

Local boards will be authorized to examine men down to the age of 19 on the May pre-induction examination call and induct men down to the age of 19 years and 4 months on the May induction call.

"We have been instructed to fill the May call as far as possible with men 20 years old or older," General Wakefield said, "but, for both April and May, the manpower situation being what it is, the majority of those inducted without a doubt will be under 20."

To show how the number of 19-year-olds going into the Army is increasing, General Wakefield pointed to the percentage of youths under 20 in the examined and acceptable draft group in Texas—usually kept at a level of 10,000 men.

On December 1, 1952, the percentage of this group of men who were under 20 was one-half of 1 per cent. By the first of the year, men under 20 amounted to 20 per cent of the total, and on March 1, the 19-year-old group was 49 per cent of the total.

It is from the examined and acceptable group that men are drafted into service.

College Loans Repaid

URBANA, Ill.—The University of Illinois has loaned more than two million dollars in student loans in the last 53 years and only two-tenths of 1 per cent has been uncollectible, reports C. C. DeLong, university bursar.

Since 1899 the university loss on loans has amounted to only $4,953. Now available for student loans is $353,941. New loans amounted to $259,361 last year, DeLong said.

Bag pipes are believed to have originated in ancient Egypt.

ARMY BOSS INSPECTS BOMB CASES AT LONGVIEW—Secretary of the Army Robert Stevens spent March 23 at the R. G. TIDELANDS: This letter is being written just a few minutes after I have cast a vote for the bill returning the tidelands to the states that own them. A companion bill is being debated on the Senate Floor this afternoon. The bill passed the House of Representatives by an overwhelming vote. The Speaker announced the vote as 285 for the passage of the bill and 108 against.

This means that the proponents of the bill gained about 25 votes since a similar bill passed the House in the 82nd Congress. The present bill does not go as far in treating all of the problems involved as did the bill passed by the 82nd Congress. However, the present bill does settle once and for all the boundary dispute and definitely fixes Texas' ownership to the 10 1/2 mile strip, which she has always owned.

It is entirely possible that differences between the House bill and the Senate bill may result in a compromise measure that will treat only the problem of title and will restore state ownership to their historical boundaries. The bill finally passed should in my opinion contain provisions concerning the leasing and operation of the continental shelf.

This is most important for many reasons, the main one being that the United States Government should lose no time in developing the resources on the continental shelf lying beyond the historical boundaries of the states involved. As soon as the President signs a bill quit-claiming the submerged lands to the historical boundaries of the states, which is the strip that has been in controversy, the states can immediately proceed with full development.

The fight on this issue has been long and tough, and it was a source of great satisfaction to know that we have passed the measure through the House and that it will not be vetoed. The debate on the bill was never heated and there were no noticeable displays of temper.

The whole subject was faced on a logical and reasonable basis and the bill passed simply because the proponents of the bill the facts and the law on their side. Some humorous events occurred during the debate. One of the opponents of the bill, who is a very nice fellow, commented that the original three mile strip in the marginal sea was fixed on the theory that it was a defense matter concerning the defense of the country and that the width of the strip was determined by the fact that it was the distance that a cannon could fire at that time.

This Member wondered how it was that cannons would only shoot three miles off the eastern states while apparently Texas had cannons that would shoot 10 1/2 miles. I later told him that it was a matter of common knowledge that the size of Texas

So the People May Know

Previously in this series, attention was called to the responsibility of county officials to publish regular financial reports. City officials have the same duty.

Here are two provisions of the Texas statutes describing what the city authorities must do:

"ART. 1001. CITIES, TOWNS, and VILLAGES—PUBLICATION OF RECEIPTS AND EXPENDITURES BY CITY TREASURER. . . . At the end of every half year he shall cause to be published, at the expense of the city, a statement showing the amount of receipts and expenditures for six months next preceding, and the general condition of the treasury . . ."

"ART. 1023. CITIES, TOWNS, and VILLAGES—CITY COUNCIL SHALL PUBLISH STATEMENT OF RECEIPTS and EXPENDITURES.

"The city council shall, at least ten days before the expiration of each municipal year, cause to be published in a city newspaper a correct and full statement of the receipts and expenditures from the date of the last annual report, together with the sources from which the funds were derived, and showing for what purpose disbursed, the condition of the treasury, together with such information as may be necessary to a full understanding of the financial condition of the city."

- Price Daniel's book of Texas Publication Laws, page 92.
- Price Daniel's book of Texas Publication Laws, page 93.

requires a cannon that would shoot three times farther than those in the smaller states. Obviously another situation where necessity is the mother of invention.

THE JET ACE: Senator Lyndon Johnson and former Speaker Sam Rayburn honored the new Jet Ace Royal Baker, of McKinney, Texas, with a luncheon on Tuesday, March 31st. Colonel Baker and his lovely wife were in Washington to receive the honors which this young man has earned.

The luncheon included Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby, head of the Federal Security Agency, our own Bob Anderson, Secretary of the Navy, Air Force Secretary Harold E. Talbot, Air Chief of Staff Vandenberg, former Air Secretary and present Senator from Missouri Stuart Symington, the able Senator from Georgia, Dick Russell, Senator Price Daniel and the members of the House of Representatives from Texas, and other government officials.

About five of these prominent individuals made short and excellent speeches. Senator Johnson, in introducing Colonel Baker, er, remarked that the Colonel had told him he would much prefer to face a Russian MIG in combat than to try to make a speech.

The Colonel made one of the best and most moving speeches that I have ever heard. In fact, it was not a speech at all, but the remarks of a patriotic young American in his own inimitable words. The most impressive thing to me was his statement to the effect that he had been quoted by some newspaper as saying that he had done his share.

He told his audience at the luncheon that he did not make such a statement and would not make such a statement because he did not know what his share was; that he stood ready, able and willing to answer the call of his country at any time and in whatever capacity he could serve.

Everyone in the audience knew that the Colonel had asked that his tour of duty in Korea be extended on the grounds since he knew how to knock out these MIGs, he wanted the opportunity to carry on. When he got through there was hardly a dry eye in the group, and I know that he did not try nor intend to be emotional.

VISITORS: I had a short but wonderful visit with Colonel Joe Burrow who is just back from a long tour of duty in Korea and Japan. The Colonel is originally from Dalhart, but lived at Pampa for a number of years before going into the service during World War II. He looked like the same old Joe that I used to drink coffee with in the Courthouse Cafe. He is back in this country and will be stationed in the Continental United States for a while. He has a world of experiences to relate and is most enlightening on the Korean matter. If he gets back to the Panhandle, don't fail to have him talk to your civic groups or other groups. Other visitors from the Panhandle this week were Dr. and Mrs. Crannell Tolliver and their two sons, from Canyon, Mrs. Grace Pool, of Wichita Falls, formerly of Pampa; Lawrence Hagy, Rip Underwood, Harold Dunn, Ed Sealeman, T. E. Johnson, Mayor Eugene Klein and Rex Baxter, of Amarillo, and Fritz Thompson, of Borger.

Veterans Forum

Q. If I take on-the-job training under the Korean GI Bill, will my monthly GI allowance be for the same amount, through out my training course?

A. No. Under the law your allowance will be reduced at four-month intervals, as your training progresses.

Q. Both my wife and I are World War II veterans. I used my GI loan entitlement to buy a house. Now we want to sell, and buy a larger house. Could my wife use her entitlement for a GI loan for the second house?

A. Yes. Both you and your wife are individually entitled to GI loans. The fact that you've used your loan entitlement would not prevent your wife from using hers.

Q. I have just been awarded a disability compensation rating by the VA, but I think I should be entitled to a higher rating. I plan to appeal. Is there any time limit on filing my appeal?

A. Yes. You must appeal to VA's Board of Veterans Appeals within one year from the date VA mailed you the notice of your original rating.

Q. I have a permanent plan of National Service Life Insurance policy. Is it possible to exchange it for a term insurance policy for the same amount?

A. No. Permanent plan policies may not be exchanged for term policies under VA regulations.

Lift the receiver of your telephone and you have at your command many thousands of dollars worth of equipment. Call long distance and those thousands of dollars are multiplied into millions. For, behind each telephone in your block, your neighborhood, your city, the telephone company has $261 worth of equipment and facilities to provide your telephone service.

Only about 10% of this figure is invested in the telephone instrument itself — the part you see each day. The balance represents land and buildings, switchboards, connecting equipment, poles, cable and wire. In addition to this investment per telephone of $261, the company must then add the everyday, every-year expenses of wages and salaries, operation and maintenance.

All this is at your fingertips when you reach for the telephone. All this makes it possible for you to call across town or across the nation with similar ease. All this makes it so true — telephone service is a valuable part of your life. Enjoy its full value. Use it often . . . use it well.

WARNING!

Locating TV antennas too close to power lines is DANGEROUS!

Someone may be killed or seriously injured or your set may be damaged if your antenna should fall into a power line. Follow these precautions and play safe:

- 1 Have your antenna installed by a qualified TV serviceman and see that it is located where it will clear power lines if it should fall in any direction.
- 2 Make sure the antenna mast is strongly constructed and supported to withstand the heaviest storms.
- 3 Do not run guy wires over or close to power lines.
- 4 If your antenna is already up, have it checked for safe location and support. And if you are asked to move it, remember the request is made only to protect you, your set and your electric service.

A final word of caution: If you are in the vicinity when an antenna does fall on a power line, don't touch the antenna, power lines or guy wires. Leave a guard at the hazard and call out office at once.
