Skull and Crossbones On Cardboard Warned Griffith To Leave, His Wife Says

By ALVIN HALLMAN
Record News Staff

DUNDEE, Oct. 23.—I came down here to Dundee today to find out what this community thinks of the statement authorized in The Record News Friday morning by B. Y. Cummings of Wichita Falls to the effect that Lige Griffith was but an instrument in the hands of the "real murderers" of Herb Griffin.

Briefly put—there are a large number of prominent Dundee citizens who disagree with him, and they declare that when District Attorney Allred lets the light of publicity get to a statement he has in his possession which was made to him by Griffith the reason for Griffith's killing Griffin will be known and will not involve others.

And it has remained for T. Maxwell, Dundee blacksmith, to tell the first story of how Thomas Larkin, Dundee farmer and Hugh Reilly's father-in-law, acted when he heard the shot that killed Griffin and walked over toward the bank from where he was standing several hundred feet from the scene of the shooting.

"When Larkin saw what had happened," Mr. Maxwell told me, "the tears ran down his cheeks and he turned to a friend and said that he would not have had this thing happen for $10,000 and that three families Griffin's, Griffith's and 'my own have been broken up all because of 160 acres of worhless pasture land.'"

Three other Dundee men told me this same story.

The Second Meeting.

I also was told that the meeting of Griffith and Griffin, which ended fatally last Monday, was the second meeting between the two since the trial at which Griffin was acquitted. About a week prior to the time of the killing, Herb Griffin drove by the Dundee blacksmith shop where Griffith was standing with four other men. All four spoke to Kriffin as he nodded to them, but Griffith did not return the salutation.

But the surest person in all Dundee that Griffith was not influenced by others in what he did, is Mrs. Griffith herself.

"Lige left here Monday afternoon to go to town and get some medicine for the baby," she told me. "He took the gun along on the chance that he might get a shot at a coyote or jack rabbit. If he had any idea of meeting Griffin or having trouble with Griffin he never mentioned it to me.

She Has Six Children.

Mrs. Griffith is a typical farm housewife, some 35 years old, with six children, the oldest of which is 11 years, and the youngest 15 months old yesterday. Even now she is calm and composed. Only when she thinks of her children does she give way to her feelings.

"We need Lige here," she sobbed yesterday, but quickly gained control of herself. "I've got to do everything I can to get him out of this. I don't know what we'll do here if he has to go to the penitentiary."

In telling her version of Monday afternoon's shooting, Mrs. Griffith goes back to the days prior to the Reilly shooting. "We were living on the Reilly farm down near the river at that time," she relates. "We had a small farm there, and were barely able to get along. There were five children and we had another baby coming in about three months.

"It was the afternoon of May 16 when my husband and I heard the shot that killed Reilly and saw Griffin up the road about a half mile, near the fence line between the Griffin and Reilly property. It is my belief that what we saw there that afternoon is responsible for everything.

Mrs. Griffith told of an incident on the evening of July 8. Griffith walked by the house at early dusk. Shortly afterwards she knew from the manner of her husband that something had happened. She begged him to tell her, she said, but he refused. In an hour or so Sheriff Ed Goodman of Archer county called at the house and took something away with him. To her at the time, she said yesterday, it appeared to be a thin flat object some two or three feet square. Sheriff Goodman carried it underneath his coat to keep her from seeing it, she says. When Goodman had left, her husband told her that they would have to move and the next day they found a house in Dundee, and it was there on July 23 that the baby was born. It was only after this event that Lige Griffith told his wife what Goodman had carried away with him. He had gone out to the barn on the night of July 8, Mrs. Griffith says Lige told her and found there a piece of cardboard bearing a warning to leave the country and a large skull and crossbones inscription.

Fearing trouble and the effect that the information might have on his unborn child, Griffith withheld the information from his wife until after the birth and moved his household without telling her the reason, she said. The exact wording on the cardboard Mrs. Griffith could not relate, but stated that she understood the warning was on deposit at either Archer City or Graham.

NO MOVE MADE TO SECURE BOND FOR GRIFFITH

Action in Proposed Habeas Corpus Action Deferred

No efforts will be made for the present, apparently, to secure the release on bond of Lige Griffith, held in the Archer county jail in connection with the slaying last Monday afternoon of Herbert Griffin, wealthy Archer county rancher. Plans were under way Thursday to start habeas corpus proceedings Friday, but it is now understood action will at least be deferred until after the grand jury convenes in Archer City on November 2.

After that, in case he is indicted and it is presumed he will be, action may be started for his freedom. District Attorney Ben Allred remains firm in his stand that Griffith shall not be freed and this means that if he is liberated, it will be through habeas corpus proceedings.

Attorney Ed Napier of Wichita Falls has been retained as counsel for Griffith. He conferred Friday morning with the district attorney relative to the matter.

LYRICS OF LIFE.
By Douglas Malloch.
Up Our Way.

Up our way, up where I come from,
I guess we ain't as smart as some.
We're really kind of common folks
And laff at ruther foolish jokes.
In fact, some city follah claims
We play at ruther childish games.
I read a book in which he said
That, while the world moves on ahead,
Up our way, younder where I live,
We still are ruther primitive—
To tell the truth, he says we're dumb
Up our way, up where I come from.

And so I took it down to town
To see just how we'd fallen down.
Yep, went to see a certain play
They bragged about along Broadway.
Now, as to what it was about—
Well, them ain't things to talk right out.
But what the show was tryin' to show
Was that the world, the world we know,
Is rotten to the very core
And no one decent any more.
And yet it seems to me there's some
Up our way, up where I come from.

Well, it we're all behind so far
Up there, I say, thank God we are.
We maybe play some childish game,
But it don't bring no blush of shame
To no one's cheek. The jokes we see
Don't need no words of blasphemy
To make 'em plain. We're simple folks
And ours are ruther simple jokes.
Our humor's maybe quaint and queer,
And yet it's fit for kids to hear.
And, gosh, I'm glad to be back hum
Up our way, up where I come from.

Roy Jones Found Dead In San Antonio; Pistol at His Side

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 23.—Roy Jones, 43, Bexar county ranchman, was found shot through the chest in his apartment here shortly after noon Friday. By his side lay a 45 calibre pistol. Jones, according to his wife, had been in ill health for some time.

MONEY IS PUT IN CHARGE OF DALLAS BANK

To Retain Funds Pending Outcome of Road Inquiry

TO FIGHT CONTRACTS

Attorney General Will Seek To Cancel Deals With Firm

AUSTIN, Texas, Oct. 23.—(AP)—That $436,000 cash and securities has been placed in escrow in a Dallas bank by the American Road company subject to the joint order of General Dan Moody and the president of the company, and that suits for cancellation of all surfacing contracts of the American Road company and maintenance contracts in Dallas and Tarrant counties and for recovery of alleged excess profits amounting to $436,000 or more, are intended by Attorney General Dan Moody was made known at the attorney general's department Friday night.

Follows Kansas City Visit.

The $436,000 is to be held in escrow pending outcome of the highway controversy by court judgment or otherwise.

It is understood the major portion of the cash and securities in escrow was returned from Kansas City after the recent visit there of representatives of the attorney general.

The attorney general's office disclosed that Moody, who was in Dallas Friday on highway matters, intends to file a suit for cancellation of all contracts between the highway commission and the American Road company for the surfacing of highway and the maintenance of roads in Dallas and Tarrant counties. This company has been paid approximately $2,000,000 so far, and is the one to whom Attorney General Moody said payments were stopped by the commission Thursday before Governor Ferguson's "instructions" were given the highway department Friday.

Information that the $436,000 had actually been placed in escrow, subject to joint order of the attorney general and the president of the road company came from members of Moody's department who had been in communication with the attorney general Friday.

BANDITS GET $3,000

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Oct. 23.—(AP) A man entered the Bank of Hemple at Hemple, Mo., 18 miles east of here today, forced Albert Krofit, cashier, at the end of a sawed-off shot gun to hand over $3,000 in cash and escaped in a small coupe.

Sneeze It To Get It When Speaking It

ANTHROPOLOGUS ALIA, suggestive of deadly ill or prehistoric mammals—isn't it

It has gained considerable headway in Wichita Falls of late but is related to a germanic invasion only insofar as oratorical plagues are concerned. It has to do with an admittedly serious situation, one calculated to arouse concern and grave misgivings, but in its present state it probably won't require extra duties by the quarantine squad.

It simply is a name excavated from musty Grecian achives by a new men's public speaking class organized at Junior college. It means simply "public speaking for men," and for want of something less distinctive, probably, the class hit upon this.

Anthropologus Alia—if you can't pronounce it just sneeze right briskly.

Colthrop was convicted in Randall county district court on a charge of transporting liquor and is out on $2,000 appeal bond. The application charges Colthrop is a fguitive from justice.

Duke's First Wife, Forgotten In Will Disposing of $150,000,000 Properties, Is Dying in Poverty

Woman, Swindled Out of $400,000 Settled on Her At Time of Divorce From Tobacco King, Is Critically Ill in New York

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Mrs. Lilliam N. Duke, divorced first wife of the late James B. Duke, tobacco and power magnate, was in a critical condition tonight in the modest uptown apartment in which she has earned her own living as a vocal teacher. Two hemorrhages suffered yesterday have so weakened her, that little hope for her recovery was held out.

Miss Lucille Pugh, attorney for Mrs. Duke, admitted that her client's funds have been dwindling, although she said Mrs. Duke's condition was not due to malnutrition as reported earlier. In his will filed at Somerville, N. J., today, Mr. Duke left most of his property to his second wife, Mrs. Nanaline H. Duke, and their young daughter, Doris, without mentioning his first wife. He left an estate valued at $150,000,000.

Supporting Herself.

"For 20 years, Mrs. Duke has been supporting herself with her vocal lessons," said Miss Pugh. "During that time Mr. Duke did not give her one penny. I know she has not much money left. Her income has been cut to almost nothing in the last three weeks, particularly since she fell ill. Even before that, her students began dropping off.

"She may at times have gone hungry, although I doubt that because she has so many friends."

Before her marriage to Mr. Duke in 1904, Mrs. Duke was the divorced wife of William D. McCreedy, New York broker. Mr. Duke, in 1905, filed suit for divorce, naming Major Frank T. Huntoon as co-respondent. It was reported he settled $500,000 on Mrs. Duke at the time of the divorce.

Sought to Set Aside Decree.

In March of this year, Mrs. Duke filed suit here to set aside the decree, which was issued in New Jersey, declaring she still was the wife of Mr. Duke. In May, Justice Gliegerich, in supreme court, dismissed the complaint.

'At the time she filed suit to set aside the divorce decree, Mrs. Duke said she had been swindled out of $400,000 since the divorce and that she was compelled to teach music.

INSANE YOUTH KILLS MOTHER WITH A CLUB

Mentally Deficient Man Brutally Slays His Parent

TO FACE NO CHARGES

Will be Returned to Asylum, Officers Declare After Conference

ALEXANDRIA, La., Oct. 23.—(AP)—Alfred Martina, 20, held here in the Parish jail after he was discovered clubbing his mother, 65, to death in the yard of their home four miles from Pineville, probably will not be charged in connection with the crime but will be recommitted to an asylum for the insane, Parish officers indicated tonight.

Martina, mentally feeble for years, was formerly an inmate of a hospital for insane persons, but was released several months ago when it was believed that he had recovered.

Attracted by the screams of Mary Martina, 17, daughter of the victim, neighbors today found the youth raining blows upon the prostrate form of the aged woman, and realizing his condition, persuaded him to accompany them to Alexandria on promise of affording him an opportunity of seeing the state fair. He was turned over to the police and placed in jail.

Rich Get Richer, Poor Get Poorer, Our Sons Doomed

AUSTIN, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Forthcoming generations are to be pitied because they will not enjoy the luxuries known to the modern day, judges in debate on "Our Grandchildren Should Be Pitied," decided Friday at the University of Texas. The affirmative won by a unanimous decision.

Grandchildren will not enjoy as many opportunities as the present generation since the wealthy class are becoming richer and the poor are getting poorer, resulting in less free land. The affirmative also argued that people are becoming less religious, and that grandchildren will have the character and stamina necessary for a great race.

ANNIE IN AGAIN

BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 23.—(AP) Cateye Annie (Julia Archer) was sentenced by County Judge Thomas H. Noonan today to 10 years at hard labor in Auburn prison.

She was recaptured today in an attic of a partially constructed house in Kenmore, just outside the city limits. The notorious woman escaped yesterday from the Erie county jail here.

Austin Plans Big Irrigation Project

AUSTIN, Oct. 23.—(AP).—Flood waters from the Colorado river will be used to irrigate thousands of acres of land in the Austin-Webberville section, if plans endorsed by the Austin Young Men's Business league Friday and adopted for an active campaign, are worked out.

Feasibility of the project was outlined by A. C. Kellersberger, Austin civil engineer.

"Investigation has shown that water going to waste down the Colorado annually would be sufficient to irrigate 30,000 acres of choice farm land," he declared.

DENIES ANY CONFLICT.

Moody's Aide Says Rulings on Foot and Mouth Claims are O. K.

AUSTIN, Oct. 23.—(AP)—No conflict is in the two opinions of the attorney general on providing funds to pay persons for cattle slain in the foot and mouth disease eradication in South Texas, Assistant Attorney General L. C. Sutton, who wrote the opinions, declared today.

Evicted From "Honeymoon House," Declares Actress, Asking Divorce

Eviction "with great violence and force" from their "honeymoon apartment" in Chicago, is alleged by Ina Claire, noted actress, in her divorce suit against James Whittaker, newspaper man. Until recently Miss Claire was starring in "Grounds for Divorce." Whittaker denies her charges.

"GET THE YOUNGSTER," POLICE CLUE IN PIG-STAND JOB, AFTER ALL OTHER TRAIL HOPES FAIL

He Has Light Hair and Either Light Blue or Grey Eyes, Victims Say in Describing Man Whose Mask Slipped

A youthful bandit—nothing more than a youngster, was the object of a city-wide hunt Friday as the city police department started on what appears to be another hopeless hunt for armed hi-jackers.

The immediate matter in hand is the apprehension of the three gunmen responsible for the hold-up late Thursday night of Pig Stand No. 2 in the 2100 block Grant street. More than $85 in cash was obtained here when a pair of masked highwaymen dashed in the door, leveled a gun at the clerk and two customers and then beat a speedy retreat to a Ford touring car standing with motor running and a third bandit at the wheel.

Slender Clue.

A slender clue supplied by a fleeting glimpse of the face of one of the men is all on which the police have to work. In the strenuous and rapid work of cowing the three victims and raking the cash drawer clean, a handkerchief tied over the lower part of one man's face slipped down around his neck.

The frightened trio in the stand, names of none of whom were obtained by the police, said the bandit was ex-

Gates Ajar

AUSTIN, Oct. 23.—Because the penalty imposed a "much greater burden of punishment upon the family of the applicant than upon him," Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson today issued a conditional pardon to E. C. Woolsey of Fisher county. One parole revoked and four restorations of citizenship granted. Woolsey has served more than half of a two-year sentence for manufacturing liquor. The governor pointed out that his wife and five small children are in destitute circumstances.

Henry Johnson, paroled January 19, 1921, by Gov. W. P. Hobby to Sen. I. D. Fairchild, was ordered taken into custody again "because he failed to live up to a paroled convict." Johnson was sentenced from 5 to 20 years for murder.

70 Barwise Readers Read 350 Books In One Month

Reports were made by 70 members of the Barwise Reading club Friday afternoon that during the month they had read a total of 350 books. One hundred books were obtained from the Kemp Public library and the others from the school library. The club was organized by Miss Mary Olds, teacher in Barwise school, for the purpose of stimulating reading of better literature among the children. The officers are Opal Brooks, president; Marvin Hutchinson, secretary; Thelma Simmons, vice president; Helen Braddock, reporter; Mary Frances Williams, treasurer.

JAILS FILLED AS CLIMAX TO LIQUOR RAIDS

Sensational Rum Inquiry Ends in Best, Texas, Area

MAY NEED STOCKADE

Two County Prisons Unable To Accommodate Defendants

BEST, Reagan County, Texas, Oct. 23.—More than 150 persons were indicted here today as the climax to one of the greatest liquor raids ever attempted in Texas. Two county jails are full and officers tonight were looking for an empty jail, with the prospect of guarding their prisoners in their homes or in the open unless some are able to make bond tonight. The raids were conducted by federal and state officers assisted by sheriffs of neighboring counties and private citizens.

The raids started 10 days ago to clean up a condition which has existed here for a long time. The facts have been with-held until today to permit indictments to be returned, and the announcement was made tonight by Major H. H. White, prohibition administrator for Texas and Oklahoma.

13 Open Saloons.

In this little town of 1,000 inhabitants, the county seat of Reagan county, officials said they found 13 places running open saloons, with dance halls and gambling in connection, giving the town the appearance of an old wild west village of pre-Volstead days. A total of almost 200 places were raided here ad in Big Lake, nearby. Thousands of gallons have been destroyed, the officers stated, whiskey alone to the amount of 2,500 gallons having been confiscated.

The total indictments returned up to early today numbered 143, and the grand jury was expected to return 30 more indictments before adjournment tonight or tomorrow. The indictments were being returned as rapidly as hard working attorneys could prepare the papers.

None Gives Bond.

The Pecos and Reagan county jails are full of prisoners and officers were preparing to ask for accommodations in other neighboring county jails. Not one of those arrested has been able to make bond today, it was announced.

A number of police characters known throughout the state and several with national reputations were caught in the net, the officers reported, but their prisoners were so numerous they had not been able to make a thorough check. The alleged Kentucky Oil corporation is rigging up rotary for its No. 1, Jackson, in the southwest corner of the school house lot, W. B. Aldridge survey, north of Archer City, north Archer county.

White-Jackson, Olds

White Brothers and Jackson No. 1, Olds, in section 25, H&TCRRCO survey, southwest Wichita county, was down 1,700 feet and drilling yesterday. Work at this depth is double hole entirely.

Sun Company, Richardson

Sun Oil company was reported ready to drill in this morning on their No. 2, Richardson, in the northeast corner of block 2424, TE&LCO survey, just south of Megargle and east of their discovery well. Sand was topped at about 1,430 feet and casing set and cemented there.

Kentucky-Hanover, Ray

Kentucky and Hanover have finished up and plugged their No. 1, M. B. Ray, located in the northeast corner of block 2 1-2, Harris sub-division of the Club ranch, north of the Comac pool, southwest Archer county. Total depth is given as 1,504 feet and 10 inches.

Gulf, Hamilton

The Gulf Production company has a water well in its No. 1, G. B. Hamilton, located in section 5, BBB&CRR survey, abstract 46, about two miles north of the Gambrell pool, South Archer county. The well will be drilled deeper. Sand was topped at a depth of 1,133 feet.

Hoosier, Lockhart

LOCKHART, Texas, Oct. 23.—(AP).—The Lockhart oil field may be extended more than a mile to the south with successful completion of the Crenshaw operation drilled by John Hooser of Corsicana. The Serpentine formation is reported to have been encountered at 1,300 feet, and penetrated 20 feet. Casing was being set today preparatory to drilling in Sunday.

Caldwell Area

C. E. Simmonds has made a location for a test in the southeast corner of lot 14, block 123, ATNCL, a northwest diagonal offset to the Caldwell well north of Archer City.

Maer and Staniforth have made a location in the northwest corner of lot 7, same section, across lot 12 to the east from the discovery well.

Caldwell No. 2 is understood to be a location south of No. 1.

The discovery well was reported yesterday standing about 500 feet in fluid and to be coring deeper.

Darilek Region

Magnolia Petroleum company, No. 1, Cowden-Portwood, a west offset to the Jones et al discovery well northwest of the Harmel pool, southwest Archer county, made 147 barrel in the first 24 hours on the pump from sand around 1,400 feet.

Jones et al are moving the rig onto their No. 1, in an attempt to get it pumping again.

Across the River

Information from the Gulf offices here yesterday indicated that Gypsy's No. 1, Oscar Seay, in the Hambro field in south Jefferson county, Oklahoma, across Red river from Montague county, Nocona area, flowed better than 3,800 barrels of 36 degree gravity oil from sand at 1,456 feet yesterday and looked as if it were keeping it up.

The well caused considerable excitement in and around Wichita Falls.

Barkley-Meadows Area

Staley-Wynne-Lomax No. 2, Wilson, on the north line of lot 3, block 88, ATNCL, Barkley and Meadows extension, north of Archer City, is swabbing and will go on the pump for about 120 barrels from sand at 1,519-29 feet. The well effects a slight southward extension to the pool.

T. G. Lomax No. 10, Wilson, an inside location in the northwest quarday and looked like a nice well from ter of block 88, was swabbing yesterabout 10 feet of sand topped at a depth of 1,498 feet. No. 9, also an inside location, was down about 800 feet and drilling.

Trio Region

Trio Oil company's No. 4, Brom, fourth location north from the southeast corner of the northeast quarter of block 1582, TE&LCO survey, northwest Harmel area looked like a 1,000 barrel well yesterday after swabbing and flowing better than 500 barrels in 12 hours from sand at a depth of 1,386-1,412 feet.

North of this well and two locations west in the center of the south line of the block, Cullum et al had a mystery well yesterday. It was reported shut down for water at a depth of 1,380 feet. This is possibly the most important test in the area as by it the field will either be extended or defined in that direction.

OPPOSES TAX DISPOSAL

Traveling Men's Head Wants Gas Revenue to Go on Roads.

HOUSTON, Oct. 23.—A protest against using 25 per cent of the one-cent per gallon gasoline tax levied by the state for schools was made by H. N. Mullin, president of the Texas Independent Traveling Men's association, opening its third annual convention today, on the ground that taxes paid on gasoline should be used for road building and road maintenance.

All About Junior College

Miss Mary Tancred, girls' yell leader of Junior college, has been forced to resign her position because of throat trouble. She says, however, that she is still wholeheartedly behind the team and will "root" the team to the limit. Her successor is to be elected soon.

The City Teachers' association will meet Monday for the first time this year, according to announcement made Friday. The association was formed as a study club for the local teachers and it allows an exchange of ideas among the instructors and a discussion of the common problems. The program follows: Address by the president, A. K. Presson; "Plans for the Year," H. A. Glass, and Miss Ida Moore. Musical selection, Miss Erma Nala Voss, "Get Acquainted Games," by Miss Juanita Kinsey.

Issuing of quarterly grade reports to the students this week has been the occasion for much comment on the campus. Cards were distributed to the high school classes and were mailed by the registar's office to the parents and guardians of college students.

"Significance of October 28," will be the subject of the talk by Oscar Powers at the Speakers club program Wednesday morning. "Experience in Alaska," will be the subject of the talk by Mrs. Witherspoon.

Tickets for the week-end football games went on sale Friday at the college building. Under a new rule, student tickets are obtainable only at the building and all admissions at the gate are at regular prices.

Miss Jewell Millican entertained and their friends with a dance at her the members of the Wichitan staff home on Beverley Drive Thursday evening.

The house was decorated in Hallowe'en fashion, eric skeltons and bald witches peeping from most unexpected corners. Refreshments were served to: Misses Bertha Hayes, Vera Caian, Estellyn Allday, Eleanor Fleming, Ina Merle Robinson, Evelyn Frances Lyle, Doris Bradley, Mary Ferguson, Geraldine Monroe, Wilton Wade, Baby Pearl Bristow; Messrs. Bob Morris, Jack Martin, Glenn Shoemaker, Harold Naylor, Frank Curtin, John McMahan, Jerry Vinson, Evan Harris, Lemuel Peters, Drummond Harris, Emmett Bauknight, J. B. Fletcher, Harold Carter, Bill Pardo, Lowry Crites, Jack Thurman, Paul Carnes, Hartron Deems, Charles Spangler, Edwin Luecke.

R. E. Hamilton, recently of Los Angeles, Calif., was accepted to membership in "Anthropologus Alia" at the regular meeting Thursday night. Isadore Cohen, Gordon Brown was chosen chairman for the next meeting.

Impromptu speakers included Emmett Bauknight, Frank Rugeley, Jerry Vinson, Bill Habern. Jake Calvert, Vernon McGee, Gordon Brown, Leland Miller.

Mrs. F. W. Fisher left Friday to spend the week-end in Oklahoma City.

The Blue Curtain club will meet Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the public speaking hall at the college.

The frosh class of Junior college will be entertained with a Hallowe'en party Thursday evening, October 27, at the home of the president, Miss Mary Tancred. Arrangements are being made by Bertha Hayes, Marjorie Bright, Edward Smith, Ernest Friberg.

"Resolved That the United States should grant the Philippine Islands their independence at the end of a period of five years," was the subject of the debate staged between the Junior high debating club and the college team. The affirmative side was taken by Vera Cain and Eleanor Fleming; negative, Price McCulley and Emmett Bauknight. The affirmative won.

The College Spanish club met for organiation this week under direction of the sponsor, Mrs. Marie Gilbert. Miss Winnie Bright was elected president; John Ebner, vice president; Miss Kathleen Melat, secretary; Evan Harris, treasurer; Thelma Adams, press reporter.

TEXAS BUSY ON ROAD PROGRAM, SAYS EXPERT

U. S. Highway Engineer Among Speakers at C.-C. Council

Visiting dignitaries supplied most of the program for the chamber of commerce business council Friday noon. Several highway engineers and a noted newspaper editor, although all came as guests as members of the council, were prevailed upon to say a few words. Senator J. D. Parnell was also a speaker.

W. C. Burnham, representing the state highway department of Oklahoma; G. G. Wickline, bridge engineer for the state highway department of Texas; and A. R. Losh, federal highway engineer in Texas, were all guests of County Judge B. D. Sartin at the luncheon and all spoke briefly in regard to the proposed free bridge across the Wichita river, bids on which were submitted to the county commissioners Friday.

Wise to Be Silent.

Mr. Wickline, representing the department that has been enjoined by forces opposing the free bridge, said he was wary and doubtful of his exact status and hence didn't think it wise to make any comments in view of a court injunction issued Thursday in Austin. He complimented Wichita county, however, on what it was doing in the way of building roads.

Mr. Burnham spoke somewhat in the same vein while Mr. Losh sounded a note of optimism by asserting that "in spite of trouble, political handicaps and such, we are going ahead; we are building good roads, permanent roads; and Texas will continue to progress in this wise.

Injunction Criticized.

Senator Parnell criticised the injunction issued by District Judge Calhoun in Austin and said that, even as he granted it, he apologized for so doing with the assertion that he might change his mind later on. The judge's action, Senator Parnell said, was not supported by law and he believed would not stand up under an intensive court test.

"Let's not criticise these toll bridge operators, though," he said. "They are in a legitimate business and when they put their bridges across Red river they rendered a valuable service to this section of Texas and southern Oklahoma. They have a right to fight us as hard as they want to; they have a right to retain Joe Bailey to represent them and to pay him a big fee for doing it. But let's just go ahead and fight them until they're satisfied; we'll whip them in the end and we'll get our bridge."

Fitzgerald Here.

Hugh Nugent Fitzgerald, special editorial writer for The Record News and recognized as the outstanding political forecaster of Texas, was a guest of Record News executives and spoke briefly on Wichita Falls of the past, present and future. He remarked on the amazing growth he had noticed in this city in the past few years, touched on some of the possibilities of the irrigated valley and denied an introductory allegation by Jack Barnard, chairman of the council, that he was "the advisor of both governors at Austin."

IRON SLAYER APPEALS

George Smith Was Convicted of Murder of DeWitt County Man.

AUSTIN, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Appeal of George Smith, sentenced to death from DeWitt county for murder of L. Brown, was filed today in the court of criminal appeals. He was convicted of killing Brown by "striking and beating him with pieces of iron."

Board Is at Work On Jr. College Lot Deal

Plans whereby the school board may acquire title to eight lots fronting on Jones street and in the Junior college neighborhood are proceeding satisfactorily, with indications that a definite report may be made public within the next few days.

This was announced Friday at the chamber of commerce business council by Hubert M. Harrison, general manager, who said a committee consisting of A. L. Miller, J. N. Prothro and R. E. Penick, appointed to represent the business council in the matter, was working with the school board, the city council and a committee appointed from the realty board.

The lots in question are to be a part of a beautification and boulevarding scheme in the Junior college territory but the school board is unable to handle the financing needed at this time.

SAMUEL M. RALSTON.

Samuel M. Ralston is dead. His passing robs the democratic minority of a vote in the senate of the United States. Indiana cannot be considered a democratic state. In days gone by the leaders of the party in Indiana were among the outstanding democrats of America. Thomas Riley Marshall was one of these outstanding men. He was a philosopher, a humorist, an able lawyer, a citizen worth while and he made a great governor and a greater vice president of the United States.

In the long ago Thomas A. Hendricks was a national leader and an outstanding figure on the political stage of action. He was a man who had the confidence of his people and the confidence of the nation and in high place, he never disappointed those who admired his sterling qualities and his great abilities. Colonel Thomas Taggert is the last of the old guard political leaders or bosses of Indiana. There was a time when his influence was commanding. His machine is gone, old age has overtaken him, he has lost his grip on the organization democrats and there is no telling who will take his place.

Samuel M. Ralston defeated Albert J. Beveridge, republican, for the senate. Beveridge had defeated Senator Harry New for the republican primary nomination. Beveridge, in point of intellect and statecraft had loomed largely in the political life of America. He was a progressive in the days when Theodore Roosevelt was the leader of the progressive host. New's followers knifed Beveridge at the polls on general election day, and thus let into the senate Samuel M. Ralston, who has gone to his reward.

Senator Ralston was Boss Taggert's favorite for presidential honor at the Madison Square Garden convention. Ralston did not wish to be a candidate. He knew better than even his physicians, that his health was broken and the grave-side near. Boss Taggert played fast and loose with his former allies until in the end he did not have a shred of influence left to play upon the stage of political action. Senator Ralston realized this and he peremptorily ordered the Indiana boss to withdraw his name and permit him to go his way in peace.

Senator James E. Watson of Indiana, one of the outstanding political managers of the republican party, comes up for re-election next year. He has many political enemies, but he is said to have the backing of the ku klux klan. Now the death of Ralston will plunge the voters of the Hoosier state into another gory political battle. Republican voters elected Ralston to the senate. Beveridge, who is one of the real successful writers of biographies of America, may come to the surface again as a candidate for the senate to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the man who defeated him at the polls and largely due to the treachery of the New republicans.

New may be a candidate again. He loved his place in the senate and was ambitious to be returned when the republican voters cast him aside and acclaimed Beveridge the senatorial candidate of their choice. Beveridge had the backing of large numbers of the republican women of Indiana and New attributed his defeat to the votes of the sisters who went on the war path and declared New had outlived his usefulness as a spokesman and leader of the republican party.

Beveridge had incurred the hostility of the klan and at the general election, it is said, they voted in large numbers for Ralston and with the New insurgents they accomplished the defeat of perhaps the ablest statesman and orator that the middle west has known in years.

There are warm times coming in Indiana. Will it be Beveridge or New or some democrat now unknown as the successor of Samuel M. Ralston?

COTTON PICKERS IN DEMAND.

According to the newspapers, the entire western section of Texas is calling for cotton pickers, and if the weather clears during the coming week, thousands will be needed to complete the cotton and row grain crops. Recent rains and hail storms caused a damage of more than a million dollars in certain west Texas counties, delayed cotton picking and damaged grain crops which were ready for harvesting. In Wichita county alone, it is said 3,000 pickers are needed in the field and this too, without delay. In Texas "It never rains, but it pours."

Hugh Nugent Fiizgerald

Mr. Fitzgerald is writing a series of articles for The Record News on Port Arthur, Texas, popularly known as the place toward which all the oil flows.

By HUGH NUGENT FITZGERALD.
Record News Staff.

PORT ARTHUR, Texas, Oct. 23.—Texans realize that there are billions invested in the petroleum industry. They know that this is the petroleum age and that the motor vehicle has placed all America on wheels and that gasoline is necessary to keep it on wheels. They know that in the world war General Haig said that the allies floated to victory on lakes of gasoline and had it not been for the oil fields of Texas and other American states, the result to the world and to civilization might have been vastly different.

FITZGERALD

As has been said the Gulf Refining company is the largest manufacturer of gasoline in the world. Men who are familiar with the facts say that the gulf people have an investment of a hundred million dollars in their vast plants in this city. Andrew W. Mellon is one of the outstanding figures in the financial world. He is one of the famous bankers of the world as well as business men and has been secretary of the treasury since the republicans returned to power in 1920.

Those who are familiar with the history of the petroleum industry know that the Mellons control the Gulf Refining company and all its subsidiary companies. This gigantic plant in 15 years has suspended operations for just three minutes, and this on the day that the body of Warren G. Harding was consigned to its last resting place.

The daily output of gasoline is said to be 110,000 barrels, and it carries 8,000 employees on its payroll. All petroleum products from gasoline to coke are produced in vast quantities and the refinery is operated 24 hours a day. In this petroleum area in Jefferson county, in the Port Arthur industrial district, there are more steel tanks and pipe lines than can be found in any like area the wide world over.

Crude oil is piped from Louisiana, Arkansas, Oklahoma, the Mid-Continent territory and all other fields in Texas, and the oil storage capacity as has been stated, is the greatest in Christendom. There are more than 800 tanks in this Port Arthur area and they range in capacity from 50,000,000 to 75,000,000 barrels. The Gulf Refining company people never stand still. There is a continuous building program to increase the capacity of the gigantic plants and millions are invested every year.

A mighty fleet of tankers cover the seven seas of the world carrying the products to the peoples of all nations. In connection with the Gulf company there are machines and boiler shops, all the machinery known to the mind of man is utilized, and unless one visits the scene of activity, he cannot vision or get a faint conception of the immensity of the operations of this greatest oil refinery in the world.

Here the Texas company has its huge oil refinery. At Port Neches the Texas has an asphalt plant, the largest of its kind in the world. Not far from Port Arthur, at Smiths' Bluff on the ship channel, the Pure Oil company refinery is located. Three miles from Port Arthur is the Atlantic Oil Producing company topping plant and docks. At Port Magtepco, the Magnolia Petroleum company with thousands of employees, operates, and in the same area are found the plants of the Sun company and the Humble Oil company. It has truthfully been said that the products from the Port Arthur petroleum plants are not only used, but find ready sale "all over the world."

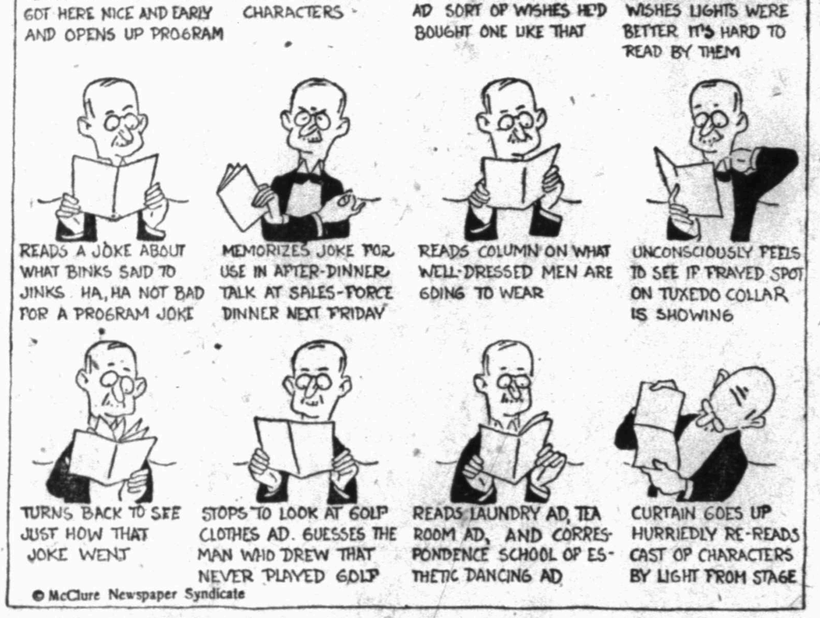

James Stephen Hogg, J. S. Cullinane and James W. Swayne were the organizers of the Texas company. They operated in the petroleum world when Spindletop came in. This former governor of Texas, known as the great commoner, withdrew from the little organization after a brief experience. James W. Swayne followed in the wake of the former governor. He remained in the oil game for years, and like thousands of others who saw visions of coming millions in those days, he battled for the gold of mamon and he lost.

Just the other day Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson named Swayne to a position on one of the important state bureaus for a term of six years. His petroleum dreams never came true. He saw himself a multi-millionaire many, many times, and then he retired from the game as poor as a church mouse, to return to the practice of the law. Cullinane made his million and then retired from the Texas company, which is one of the great petroleum concerns of the world today, with a gasoline output of 80,000 barrels daily, a great fleet of ships plying in and out of Port Arthur, a case and package plant which turns out daily 60,000 five-gallon square oil cans and 30,000 cases in which these cans, after being filled with kerosene or gasoline, are placed aboard ships for exporting to every port of the world.

The Texas company has one of the most modern plants in the world. Like the Gulf company, it covers hundreds of acres of land, manufactures or prints everything that enters into the making of the refined product, and the boast is that 48 boilers are in constant operation with 20,000 total rated horse power, sufficient to serve a city of 250,000 population. Speaking of juice the Gulf refinery people say that they consume sufficient every day to supply the demand of a city having as great a population as Chicago, and be it known that Chicago has a population of 3,000,000 and is the second city of America in point of population.

WHAT TODAY MEANS TO YOU

Scorpio
By MARY BLAKE

Today's planetary aspects are variable. In the morning, and until noon, they are favorable. During the afternoon they become adverse. In the evening, they are benign. The early part of the day promises success for the task in hand, while later on, there will be evidenced an urge to be critical and grouchy, and if such influences are allowed to dominate you, no one will be to blame but yourself! Once this period is successfully passed, the conditions will merge into a state of calm and tranquility, and there will be no desire felt to start anything, not even trouble.

Children born today are brought into the world under good auspices. They will be exempt from any serious illnesses, provided they receive proper alimentation and are furnished a wholesome environment. Temperamentally, they will be much more influenced by their surroundings and external influences than the average child. They will be very imitative, not only of what is good, but also of what is bad. They will not be deep students, but will attain a superficiality of learning which, by the average person, will be accepted as wisdom. They will love deeply, but not necessarily wisely.

If today is your birthday, you are inclined to be obstinate, although you are always trying to persuade yourself that your stubbornness is will power. You are persevering, and have a very determined character, and your resoluteness sometimes makes you rather obnoxious, as it seems to imbue you with an air of assumed superiority, which onlookers resent.

Your tenacity of purpose is conceded by all who know you, and this often brings you success, when fainthearted endeavor would fail. You are very loyal as a friend, and implacable as an enemy. You are more liked by the opposite sex, than by the members of that to which you belong.

Owing to your idiosyncracies, your love will have its "ups and downs," largely as the result of your own exaggerated expectations. On the whole, however, you will be happy, and although content, never quite satisfied.

HOW IT STARTED

"Sincere"

With the growth of civilization and the increasing development of culture, language nautrally becomes more subtle and involved. The simple expressions of early men give place to flowery rhetoric. And there we have but half the story. For many words which we regard as simple and believe to be literal expressions of our thoughts have histories which reveal them to be really figurative terms.

The word sincere, which means to us true and genuineness of intent and motive, harks back to a more primitive meaning. Derived from the Latin "sincerus," it signified originally "pure," "unadulterated," something that could be held up and judgel in the sunlight. In other words, the word which we today apply to motives and character was used originally to describe a tangible object which it characterized somewhat as "all wool and a yard wide."

He Drives Nails Without Looking At Thumb on Board

FREDERICK, Oct. 23.—Frederick claims the distinction of having the champion nail driver of the state in the person of "Mamma" Randall, one of the carpenters on the Frederick compress, to which the finishing touches are being put on here. "Mamma" is only a youth of 19 years, but is proclaimed by his foreman and fellow workers to be able to drive more nails than many veteran handlers of the clawed hammer.

"Mamma" can drive nails without looking at his work and never misses a beat between drives, getting another spike out and placing it while he drives the last head home.

Labor Scarce As U. S. Rides Prosperity Wave

This photo affords more evidence of the prosperous times in the country. It shows Canal Street, Chicago, famed "labor market," where nearly every door belongs to an employment agency. Sidewalks, crowded in "hard times," are deserted now, and employment agency managers say fewer men are seeking work in Chicago than at any time in five years. This is all the more striking because Chicago is one of the cities to which migratory labor heads in the cold months.

Frederick to Vote On $75,000 Bonds

FREDERICK, Oct. 23.—The people of Frederick will go to the polls on November 3 to vote on a bond election totaling $75,000, $52,000 of which is a water extension project and $23,000 of which is to be used to construct a better drainage system in the western portion of the city, according to a call that was issued at a special meeting of the city council recently.

COTTON BOLL WEATHER

Fleecy Linings Burst When Sun Shines as on Friday.

Weather that makes the cotton bolls burst open showing their fleecy linings, days that are remindful of following after the plow that turns out the sweet potatoes from their earthy beds; true Indian summer days, cool, gradually shading into warmth; such has been the weather experienced in Wichita Falls the past three days.

A few drops of rain fell in sections of the city early Friday morning, but the cloud passed over, leaving the sun unshaded by clouds.

NEW C.-C. SECRETARY

FREDERICK, Oct. 23—E. E. Napper, newly elected secretary of the Frederick chamber of commerce, met with the directors in a special meeting at which time general work was outlined for him. Napper succeeds J. F. Caraway as the local secretary.

Six-Months-Old Story Baby Passes Away Wednesday.

BURKBURNETT, Oct. 23.—Joe Doll Story, age six months, died Wednesday night at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs John W. Story, near the Shamburger Lumber company.

The funeral service was held in the Pentecostal church Thursday afternoon, conducted by the pastor, Rev. Mason, and burial followed in the Burkburnett cemetery, directed by the Owens Undertaking company. Mr. Story is an employe of the Sinclair Oil company.

TO ADDRESS TEACHERS

FREDERICK, Oct. 23—The program has been announced for the annual meeting of the Tillman County Education association, which is to be held in Frederick, Saturday, October 24. Josh Lee of the University of Oklahoma at Norman is to be one of the speakers for the occasion.

FIRE THREATENS GIN

FREDERICK, Oct 23.—Fire for a short time early Thursday morning threatened to destroy the Farmers' gin in Frederick, but due to the valiant work of the local fire department and the hands employed at the plant, only damage of about $500 was suffered.

SYNOPSIS

It's a very worried group in Aunt Celimena's house in Connecticut. By midnight Connemara Moore was to announce her engagement—to Bing Carrington or Salt Adams—or be disinherited by auntie. Instead, Connie, disguised as a nun, slipped out of the house, hailed young Dave Lacy as he was driving past, and, though she had never seen him before, climbed into his car. Now Connemara and David are on a ferry-boat, crossing Long Island Sound toward the New York shore.

CHAPTER V—Continued

"It won't be necessary to make a profession out of it. This is not a permanent flight by any means. And," she added, touching his arm ever so slightly, "you've no idea how grateful I am to you for the loan of your wings."

A bare-chested oiler rose, Mephistophelean, from the red maw below the engine-room gratings. He stood gulping the air, one hand braced against the jamb of the door while with the other he mopped his face with a bunch of greasy waste.

Connemara observed him thoughtfully. "I should think men like that would make good athletes. They get so soaked in oil they must work easier than most people."

Lacy did not deign a reply. His mind was feverishly attempting to project itself into the future. The further it projected the more complex the situation seemed to become, until finally the whole affair broke off of its own weight and dropped into the abyss of chaos. The oiler stared at the pair for a moment and then disappeared.

A man squeezed through the passage between the wall of the engine room and the truck in front of them. This in itself was not extraordinary, but he was by no means an ordinary man. Indeed, had you seen him selling tickets in front of a side show you must have immediately purchased admission, on the theory that any exhibition of human misprints that could waste such material for the collection of dimes must indeed contain rare pi beneath its canvas.

Without further introduction he climbed through the open door of the tonneau.

A battered check cap with a veritable awning of a peak clung miraculously to the side of his head at an angle that made it difficult to say if it served as an ear muff or a head covering. Certain it was that it constituted the only head covering available, for the hemisphere of his cranium which had been left exposed to the night was as free from hair as a country hotel mattress. Under the light it had the sheen of an oyster shell. The simile ends there, however, for his skin, far from being mother of pearl in color, was pigmented with a California sunset so brilliantly crimson in hue that in the twilight of the passageway it appeared to glow like molten metal. He wore a suit checked in the proportions of a leaded glass window. The skirt of his coat ran a race with the lapels which it won just short of his knees. Where the lapels gave up they were brought together by a black cord neatly secured at either end by two enormous pearl buttons. A spear or a bayonet might have been used as a last for his shoes to which half a dozen pearl buttons still clung desperately as mute reminders of better days. From the corner of his mouth hung a cigar, the charred end of which had opened like the petals of a rare night flower.

The bizarre vision stepped clear of the rear end of the truck, carefully brushed the knees of his baggy trousers, and then, without straightening up, proceeded to examine the license plate of the Isotta. Apparently satisfied by his inspection, he drew from his inside pocket a torn piece of paper which he read by the aid of the light over the engine-room door.

Lacy and Sister Connemara watched his movements with interest. The night had already offered such proof of the abundance of its sensations that they had both arrived at a state of acceptance such as Alice must have reached when she rose from the Mad Hatter's tea party. Nor was their trust to be abused.

The check suit squeezed along the side of the Isotta. Without so much as a glance at the occupants of the front seat, it opened the rear door and calmly unbuttoned the floor carpet of the tonneau. A swift, searching hand was inserted under the loose corner—a long hand with thin, tapering fingers, quite out of keeping with its home torso, a hand that might sever a watch from its chain or a baby from its mother without the owners of either of these articles being in the least aware of their loss.

When it reappeared it gripped between an unlaundered thumb and forefinger a second torn bit of paper. This the owner of the hand compared with the piece which he had taken from his pocket. Then carefully and deliberately he placed the two torn ends together. The jagged ends fitted like neighboring bits of a picture puzzle.

The knuckles of Constance Mary's hand showed white from the tenseness of her grip on the side of the car. The soft material of her mask reflected her short, sharp breathing. The color had left Lacy's face. He stared at the fantastic stranger with the horrified glare of one who has just witnessed the execution of a ghastly and foul deed.

The performer, on the other hand, registered relief on every crimson feature. "I'm Pooch," he admitted with a bright smile, and then added, "Thank God," either in gratitude for his identity or for some unknown and extraneous reason. Without further introduction he climbed through the open door of the tonneau and sank heavily into the back seat.

Lacy glanced at Sister Connemara. Her gaze was fixed on him so intently that his own dropped before it and he focussed his attention on this second addition to his evening's entertainment.

"So you're Pooch?" he said finally, not so much because he doubted as from an uneasy feeling that the conversation must be maintained.

"In the flesh," boasted Mr. Pooch. "Cast your peepers over the passports."

He handed the two slips of paper to Lacy. Under the hooded dashboard light the man and the girl examined them curiously. They were two parts of a sheet torn from a pad of cheap, ruled writing paper. On either half was printed a number which corresponded with the license number of Lacy's car. On the reverse side of each half was written "5111st" and underneath this was drawn a crude anchor around which a snake had apparently retired for the night.

"Here's the rest on it," said Mr. Pooch, and bending over the front seat he injected a hairy forearm into the tiny circle of light. On the inner side of the limb was neatly engraved a small blue anchor passionately embraced by a sea serpent.

"Guess y' can't object to that," said Mr. Pooch complacently.

Lacy looked from the two bits of paper to the white shrouded head beside his, back to the rear seat where a luminous glow indicated the unhandsome features of Mr. Pooch, along the shiny bonnet of the car to the tail light of the truck in front, and back to the papers. Through his mind for the second time that evening there passed memories of other red-letter days, and nights, of his life—doing the Human Fly across the front of a Venetian palace while the siren object of his Lloydian amours mocked him with Virginia tobacco rings from window to window; thrilling days in the souvenir belt of New Guinea, carving over-congenial gorillas in the privacy of his tent; a scientific experiment to prove the theory that one American is as good as six Frenchmen, conducted in an open-air laboratory off the wharves of Brest.

STUDY OF THE U. S. A. INTERESTING

One Group of Wichita Women Delve Into Goverment

By PEGGY PIEDMONT.

IF there is a more interesting or a more intricate study than that of the American government, we would like to ask what it is. And the time has come when it behooves women to know something of the laws that govern them, for that time has also arrived when women have a sayso about these things. And there is one band of women in Wichita Falls who are losing no time in acquainting themselves with this subject, that is the civic department of the Woman's Forum.

• • • •

MEETING once a month, a comprehensive study in a course in United States government is given with two chapters taken each meeting as the lesson. The president and secretary of state, with their many duties, will form the lesson for the October meeting to be held at the Y. W. C. A. Tuesday and which is also the first of the fall activities. A political topic and also current events are a part of the program.

And not only are these women studying, they are doing. Probably no other group in the city have done more than they have towards beautifying yards and sanitation. Next week, they will award prizes in the city beautful contest that is launched each spring in the various precincts for the best kept yard on which the work is done by the family themselves. Five precincts entered the contest this year.

• • • •

BESIDES the study program carried out, reports are always heard from the city beautiful chairman, Mrs. W. L. Hawkins; from the sanitation chairman, Mrs. B. M. Hester; the membership chairman, Mrs. Orville Bullington the extension chairman, Mrs. T. R. Brunson; the citizenship chairman, Miss Bezie Dee, and the public affairs chairman, Mrs. Fred Barron.

• • • •

AND speaking of these women doings, it is hard to tell even a small part of the work accomplished by them. They do just whatever they find that is to be done for the good of Wichita Falls. Each spring, about gardening time, they keep a plant exchange where the local women may bring flowers, bulbs and shrubs that accumulate and have to be thinned out. Then other women may visit the exchange and find just what she probably wanted to plant in her own yard, and all this is done absolutely free of charge. The plants are there for the asking. And then they have for several years kept trees for sale at a nominal price, encouraging the planting of shade trees in Wichita Falls.

• • • •

RECENT activities include a dining hall maintained at the Texas-Oklahoma fair, and the assistance of the department to the city officials in a clean-up campaign next month.

Mrs. A. R. Blenkley, former president of the Civic league, is chairman of civic department of the Forum, Miss Lillian Fain is the secretary and Mrs. I. H. Roberts, treasurer.

tremely youthful in appearance; that he had light hair and apparently light blue or gray eyes. Other than that they could give little description. As for the second thug who entered the store and the third who sat in the car outside, practically no descriptions could be obtained. Their handkerchiefs effectually concealed their features.

May Be Store Robber.

While this hunt was being made the police were also wondering whether or not Thursday night's robbery might not have been staged by the same men who just a week ago held up the Lamar Avenue Pharmacy and got away with over $50 in cash. Opinion to this effect was expressed in some quarters, but in others it was scouted as improbable. One youth is already in the county jail in connection with this case and his confederates, officers feel sure, would have left the country as soon as they learned of the arrest of one of their number. The general belief held was that the Pig Stand hold-up was perpetrated by local boys who took it as a means of some ready cash.

Meanwhile Chief of Police Hodgins has pulled two men from the traffic department and put them in plain clothes, switching them at the same time from the daylight schedule to a night shift. With officers already kept "on the hill" after dark they are now working through the residential district at all hours of the night.

wide-open conditions are said to have been attracting bootleggers and smugglers from far and near. Some of the liquor was brought across the border, while large quantities were manufactured in the country about here. Several large stills were captured.

First of Series of Raids.

This is said to be one of the first steps in the campaign of the new prohibition administrator for Texas to clean-up the southwest.

Among those who led the clean-up were District Attorney J. J. Montague, Ranger Sergeant H. D. Odneal, Captain Hamer, former state ranger, now with the customs service; D. S. Barker, Tom Frazier, Captain Barler, Mr. Rankin and a number of customs service, immigration and prohibition agents. The sheriffs of several neighboring counties assisted.

Say Officers Negligent.

The campaign against vice was inspired by the good citizens of the county, who charge that their own county peace officers had failed to do their duty.

Judge Claude Sutton of the district court here warned that no defendant would be released except on good and sufficient bonds, and predicted that those found guilty would be given the full measure of punishment.

The Reagan county oil fields are believed to have drawn much of the element that has been causing the trouble. Oil lands of the University of Texas are located in this county, and the fild has been growing lately.

Tarantulas Don't Mix With Bananas, Groceryman Avers

"Well, he died in good spirits, anyway," commented Desk Sergeant McConnell Friday afternoon as a huge tarantula, taken from a bunch of bananas in a local grocery, was embalmed in a jar of wood alcohol at the city hall.

McConnell's wise-crack, however, was only incidental to the real interest aroused at the city hall when the big insect was brought in. It was found clinging to a bunch of bananas when the covering was stripped from them in the Sullivan grocery in Eighth street. Motorcycle Officer Will Lay happened to be passing by and was called in to subdue the alien visitor—a task he performed gingerly and creditably.

Lay took the tarantula, said to be of a deadly variety, to the police station where a jar of alcohol was found and with due rites and the benediction of various and sundry cops it was consigned to a liquid death and put on display.

NEW RECORD ON BUILDING IS MADE FRIDAY

Permits for Day Amount To $88,000, Report Shows

Building permit records went by the boards here Friday when five permits issued by the city clerk leaped to the total of $88,000. This is as good a mark as is set in an entire week sometimes.

Two large permits were included in the list, one for $35,000 for construction of a new creamery building by the Producers Creamery company; and one for $25,000 for construction of a new ward school building in Scotland addition.

The creamery will be of brick construction, two stories in height and 83 by 89 feet in dimensions. It will be put up at Thirteenth and Indiana with the Lehrack Construction company as contractors. The school house, to go up on North Sixth, will also be of brick, will be one story high and 50 by 80 feet.

Several $5,000 residences were authorized and a few small repair jobs.

Youth Who Left Home to Protest Football Ban, Found in Texas.

AUSTIN, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Louis Webb, Jr., 13-year-old football player who left his Chicago home because he was forbidden to play the game, was found in Poteet, 35 miles south of San Antonio, out of funds and ready for aid from relatives.

The Answer To the Question

DOES A WOMAN KNOW WHAT SHE WANTS

NEW DRESSES ARRIVE DAILY !

When Fulton piloted the first steamboat up the Hudson—there were those who said that "It couldn't be done."

When the Orchid Shop announced a "shop within a shop"—a one-priced dress shop there were those who said that it couldn't be done.

But it has been done. Women do know what they want. The first assortment of dresses shown were accepted and soon cleared off the racks. The second assortment arrived yesterday afternoon from New York. It, too, will meet with the general approval of the woman or girl who wants an exceptionally good dress for sixteen dollars.

You will always find new, fresh dresses in the Sweet Sixteen Shop. You will be able to step in and out in the shortest time you ever took to purchase a dress. All sizes are here, convenient arranged for your selection.

Come down today—come Monday—if what we have shown you already hasn't struck your fancy, bear in mind that there will be more new dresses in each day's express. Not huge shipments, true, but a careful selection of New York's finest approved styles, that is replenished daily.

The Sweet Sixteen Shop is a success because women know what they want. Thank you.

DOROTHY DIX ADVICE

The Wife Who Takes All and Returns Not Even Appreciation—What a Girl Can Do in the Age Between Dolls and Beaux—How to Bring Out a Shy Husband

Dear Dorothy Dix—I was a widower with two children when I married a girl who confessed to me just before we were emarried that she had made a misstep in her early youth. I forgave this because she was so young at the time. After we were married I found that there was another man with whom she had an extremely close friendship.

Since our marriage I have done everything in the world to make my wife happy. She has everything that money will buy, but she is cold and indifferent, selfish and petty in many ways. She is selfish toward me, and while she is not mean to my children, she is indifferent toward them. I feel that inasmuch as I am a good provider, a clean liver, and one who has overlooked the greatest error a girl can make, my kiddies should be given the highest consideration by this woman, and that she should do everything possible to make me happy. But she takes everything as no more than her due.

What do you think of this situation? X. Y. Z.

Answer: I think as in most matrimonial troubles, that both parties are to blame.

I think you have allowed yourself to get morbid by dwelling too much on your wife's past. You may have forgiven her, but you cannot forget, and the memory of her sin is spoiling your life. You don't trust her in your heart of hearts. You are always suspecting her, and believing that she is regretting the men with whom she had love affairs before she met you.

This is very natural. It is what almost always happens under the circumstances, and it is the great argument against a man marrying a woman whose skirts are not clean. He can never get his eyes off the mud spots, and they get bigger and bigger the more he gazes upon them, until they cover her all over with slime.

That isn't fair, because many a woman who has slipped has repented it so bitterly that she watches her step ever afterward more carefully than the woman who has always kept the middle of the straight and narrow road. Also, when a man marries a woman, knowing her past, he wipes the slate clean by that act, and he has no right to reproach her with it again, or remember it against her.

Also you feel that because you have overlooked in your wife a fault that most men would not condone, because you have been magnanimous and generous, she should show some special appreciation of it. I agree with you on that. I should think that nothing she could do for you would be great enough to express her gratitude to you and her admiration for you.

But benefits are easily forgotten, and there are just as many people who refuse to pay their spiritual debts as there are who default on their money debts. They want to take all and give nothing, and evidently your wife belongs to this class.

One of the most pathetic things in the world is the amount of happiness that is thrown away for lack of a little appreciation.

Boiled down, all that you ask of your wife in return for all you have given her—a settled place in society, a good name, a beautiful home, every luxury—is just a little appreciation. If she made you feel continually how she adored you, and admired you, how noble and chivalrous she thought you were, how grateful she was for all you had done for here, and how anxious she was to repay it by every means in her power, you would be happy. You would ask nothing else of her.

But she takes it all and makes no sign, and you are miserable. And there is no help for you because you cannot teach a narrow, selfish individual to be appreciative. It takes a big and noble soul to feel gratitude. DOROTHY DIX

Dear Miss Dix—What should a girl do between the age of 15 and 20—when she is too old to play with dolls and not old enough to have beaux?

MARJORIE.

Answer: There are so many interesting things to do, Marjorie, in that halcyon period of your life that I don't know where to begin enumerating them.

Fire, of course, are school and college and sororities, and all the fun and frolic that go with them. Next, there is reading. You will never in your whole life have such another good, free time to read.

When you are older there will be so much work to do, so many places to go, so many interruptions, that you will have to steal the time for a book. But now you will have long, luxurious evenings, in which you can go on great adventures in all the far wonder places of the world, when you can meet the most enchanting and fascinating creatures that the imagination of many ever conjured up, and do all the daring things that crisp your nerves and thrill your pulses.

It is the time for you to acquire the reading habit, and that is the best shield and buckler that you can have against the dangers of life. For if you love to read, you can never be bored, you can never be lonely. You have got something that will tide you over the dreary days of sickness, and be an anodyne to you in times of sorrow.

You can spend a lot of your time in athletic sports. You can learn to swim and ride and dance, play tennis and golf, and not only have great fun doing it, but build up for yourself a splendid, strong body.

And, if I were you, I would spend part of that time learning to speak a foreign language.

Before the World war they used to have a good custom in Europe of families exchanging children. A German or Italian father and mother would send their child to stay in a French family, so it could learn French, and the French parents would send their child to a German or Italian family so that it could learn to speak those languages. Perhaps that plan isn't practicable here, but don't you know some French or Italian girl that you could get for a chum, and with whom you could speak her language instead of you both chattering away in Americanese? You have no idea how easy it is to pick up a language at your age, and how difficult it is after you are grown.

And, finally, I hope that you can put in some of the time traveling forthat is the greatest education of all. DOROTHY DIX,

Dear Miss Dix—I am married to one of the best and noblest men on earth, but he is so shy that he is dumb in company, though he has an exceptionally brilliant mind. He lacks initiative to such an extent that it almost amounts to an affliction, and he is a dependent on me as my children are. Loving him as I do, I want him to be a success in every respect. How can I help him conquer this weakness? YETIVE.

Answer: Flatter him. Spend your time telling him how great and wonderful he is, and how much you love tand admire him. Try to make him believe in himself. That is the only way to overcome the inferiority complex.

DOROTHY DIX.

May Bar Cleated Wheels on Highways

A campaign to eliminate use of paved roads in the county by trucking and transportation contractors operating heavy machines with cleated wheels is to be undertaken at once by the county commissioners court and the county engineering department.

J. M. Isbell, engineer, told the commissioner Friday that in several places, especially near Electra, caterpillar tractors, drilling rig trucks and other weighty vehicles using cleated wheels were doing some damage to paved highways. He asked permission to post warning signs and then proceed with legal action against them if the damage was not stopped.

The commissioners readily gave him this authority and authorized the ordering of necessary signs.

OIL OPERATOR SUED.

John O'Neal Asked for $45,000 in Fatal Auto Crash.

Damages of $45,000 are asked of John O'Neal, oil operator of this city, in a suit filed Friday in district court here by Mrs. Josephine Hill, acting for herself and three minor children, Alma Christine, Floyd and Lloyd.

Injuries alleged to have been sustained by T. W. Hill, husband of the plaintiff, in an automobile accident Sept. 2 and which resulted in his death Sept. 22, last. Mr. Hill and E. H. F. Rathke were riding in the latter's automobile on the Iowa Park-Electra highway and that their car was wrecked in a collision with one driven by the defendant, O'Neal. Negligence and excessive speed are alleged on the part of the defendant.

The plaintiff seeks $15,000 in her own right and $10,000 in behalf of each of her three children.

COPS NAB TWO MEN HERE.

White and Negro Caught for Officers in Distant Cities.

Two men wanted by peace officers in distant Texas counties were picked up here Friday morning by the city police department and held for officials seeking them.

A. W. Phillips, wanted in Graham, was the first one apprehended and was turned over to a Young county deputy late Friday morning. A negro man named Walker, wanted in Wellington, was the second one taken in custody on telegraphic advices. He was turned over to a Wellington officer.

OBSCURE ROAD LAW UPHELD IN COUNTY COURT

Failure to Pay Tax on Work On Highway Brings Fine

The first case of its kind ever tried in Wichita county and one of very few such ever tried in Texas was aired in the county court at law here Friday and brought a fine of $5 and costs to W. E. Crow, living in the K. M. A. oil pool district, for failure to pay his road tax or work a highway bordering his property after being ordered to do this by a road overseer.

An obscure Texas statute provides that when a rural property owner is directed to work a road after declining to pay his road tax, he must do this or submit to prosecution. John Q. Humphrey and Milbur Nutt, representing the county attorney's office, searched musty statute books back for 40 years and found only one case of this kind cited. Veteran attorneys here said they did not know of such a case ever being tried in a local court before and one prominent lawyer said he didn't even know such a law existed.

Crow was convicted in the Electra justice of the peace court and fined $1 and costs some time ago. He appealed to the county court after that Shields Heyser was his attorney.

IRWIN WOULD PROBE THE LEGISLATURE

DALLAS, Oct. 23.—(AP)—"House cleaning should begin at home," Representative T. K. Irwin of allas states in an open letter addressed to each member of the Texas house of representatives and the state senate, made public here today.

The report that some members of the thirty-ninth legislature have been interested in road contracts brings the question of investigation to both houses of the legislature, Mr. Irwin said.

"If disclosures should warrant," Mr. Irwin added, "expulsion of any member of the house of representatives has been guilty o wrongful connection with the conduct of any state department, should follow."

Assembling of both houses of the state body is warranted by the seriousness of such charges "to ascertain if such reports are true," Mr. Irwin believes. The senate also should convene informally he declared "in view of the grave suspicion broadcast over the state."

ARMY CHIEF FAVORS OUSTING OF R EBELS

DALLAS Oct. 23.—(AP)—"Immediate dismissal of a subordinate who flatly opposes the policies of those in control" was the policy approved byCol. John Preston, chief of staff of the eighth army corps area and stationed at Fort Sam Houston, in a public address here tonight. Colonel Preston was speaking to a group of R. O. T. C. army officers and educators at a banquet given in his honor following the R. O. T. C competitive drill contest supervised by him at Fair Park this afternoon.

PETROLIA

SCHOOL PROGRESSES.

Petrolia is again this season having a good school with the same superintendent, C. C. Rock, and some of the teachers of last year. This week closes the fifth week of school and its superintendent says attendance and work of the students, as well as the work of the faculty during this period has been good.

The following students, most of them graduates of Petrolia high school, are in schools elsewhere: Miss Ellen Foley University of, Oklahoma, Norman; Miss Tommie Burris, Baylor, Waco; Miss Ruby Trusty, T. W. C., Fort Worth; Miss Dorestine McDonald, State Normal, Denton; Miss Lorine Mabry and Miss Jennie Palmer, business college, Wichita Falls; Wayne Jones, S. M. U., Dallas.

PERSONALS.

Ralph Shipp, superintendent of the Lone Star Gas company left October 14 for Dallas on business.

George Cunningham, of Henrietta, Clay county sheriff, was in town Monday.

W. B. McAdams is confined to his home on account of illness.

THEATRES

"Lightnin'," the late Frank Bacon's supreme contribution to the American stage, thrilled because of its homely story and remarkable characterizations. The picture starts Sunday at the Olympic.

"Lightnin'" was a play shorn of spectacular stage effects and minus the startling brilliance of present day stage craft. It rested alone on the merit of the story.

There are no giant airplanes dropping from the sky to fill the heart of the onlooker with awe—no hairbreadth escapes to hold the audience in terriffic suspense— no clash of arms or fanfare of trumpets to arouse the enthusiasm—yet "Lightnin'" provokes the most tingling of thrills—carries the greatest suspense and arouses one's enthusiasm to the highest pitch.

Mr. Fox chose John Ford, director of the producer's most ambitious presentation, "The Iron Horse." By this photoplay and others made by Mr. Ford, the young director proved his adaptability to forcefully transfer to the screen intricate dramatic thoughts and ingenuously release subtle humor.

Jay Hunt, most perfect physical likeness of Bacon to be found anywhere in the United States, portrays the role of lovable "Lightnin' Bill Jones." Mr. Hunt is a stage veteran and motion picture director of long experience.

Madge Bellamy, beautiful leading lady of "The Iron Horse" comes under Mr. Ford's direction for the second time in the role of "Millie" adopted daughter of "Old Bill" and "Ma" Jones. Wallace MacDonald, handsome screen hero, plays the leading juvenile role opposite Madge.

J. Farrell MacDonald, who won hundreds of thousands of admirers by his characterization of the doughty Irish laborer "Corporal Casey," in "The Iron Horse," plays the lovesick "Judge Lemuel Townsend."

Ethel Clayton, screen star in her own right, is cast in the role of the flighty widow, who banters with the judge's heart.

James Marcus, another of the large cast of the mighty railroad epic, is cast in the role of the snooping, prying sheriff.

"Ma" Jones, a most important member of the cast, is played by Edythe Chapman.

The sinister roles of "Lightnin'" are played by two past masters in the art of villany Richard Travers and Brandon Hurst.

IS KILLED IN GIN

Raymond Dunn of Memphis Fatally Hurt in Saws.

CHILDRESS, Oct. 23.—Raymond Dunn, 25, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Dunn of Memphis, who was injured in an accident at Memphis Thursday night, died there this afternoon, according to word received here.

Dunn's arm was caught in the gin saws and his body pulled into the machinery and badly lacerated.

COL. MITCHELL GOES TO TRIAL ON WEDNESDAY

Must Plead Guilty or Not Guilty to Military Charges

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Colonel William Mitchell of the army air service will have to plead guilty or not guilty to eight specified charges of violating the 96th article of war when he goes to trial before the general court martial ordered to convene next Wednesday.

The charges, all founded on two public statements vigorously criticizing the army and navy air service administrations made shortly after the Shenandoah disaster by Colonel Mitchell while he was on duty at San Antonio, Texas, were cited in official papers handed to him today by war department orders.

They assert, in effect, that Colonel Mitchell, through his action September 5, when he issued the first of the two statements held by the judge advocate general of the army to contain violations of the 96th article, made himself subject to trial by a general court martial on four counts.

These are enumerated in the first four specifications handed him today. The first three allege conduct to the prejudice of good order and military discipline; insubordination to war department administration and contempt and disrespect of war department administration with intent to discredit, while the fourth reiterates these charges in the name of the navy department.

Why have RHEUMATISM?

OH, what a wonderful feeling to be free from the miserable rheumatism. To know again the joy of limber joints and active muscles—freedom from that agonizing pain!

How often have you longed for some relief as you suffered torture from swollen, inflamed muscles and joints—how often have you said you would give anything in the World for a few hours comfort!

But you didn't know that all you had to do to get real relief from this nerve wracking misery was just to build rich, red blood, did you? You didn't know that rheumatism had to be stopped from the inside by destroying the impurities that cause it—by building millions of red cells in your poor, weak blood, did you?

Until you fill your system full of healthy, rich, red blood you will never end your rheumatism. S. S. S. will surely help you. That's because S. S. S. helps Nature build the red-blood-cells that fight off the impurities that cause rheumatism.

Conquer rheumatism! S. S. S has shown the way. For generations S. S. S. has brought blessed relief and comfort to thousands of rheumatic sufferers.

When the rich, red blood that S. S. S. helps Nature build goes coursing through your system, it purifies the blood in your body. Rheumatism vanishes—skin blemishes disappear—you begin to get hungry again and enjoy your food—strength and power fill your body—you are vigorous — red-blooded and ready for action. Know this joy of living again! Take S. S. S. and banish rheumatism!

Get S. S. S. from any druggist. The larger bottle is more economical.

More Truth Than Poetry

A MATTER OF REFERENCE

I can get a real thrill when the mornings grow chill
From a walk in the October air;
Where the wind flicks my face as I step up my pace
As over the highway I fare.
I can drink in delight from the fields dressed in white
While the sun in its cloud cradle hovers,
But I'd rather instead spend the morning in bed
And warm myself under the covers.

There's wonderful zip in a six o'clock dip
In a crystalline countryside stream,
While the terrified trout go careering about
Their sides all with silver a-gleam,
It's enthralling to swim through the depths cold and dim
With not clothing one's movements to fetter—
And, unfrightened to brave the chill grip of the wave;
Still, I like a warm shower bath better.

It is always great fun to be up with the sun
And to shovel the snow from the path,
All the morning to lift piled-up drift after drift
Makes one feel like Goliath of Gath.
Though the blizzard may blow and it's twenty below
Your pulses leap higher and higher,
And you cry to your wife: "This, beloved, is life!"
But I'd rather remain by the fire.

The Eskimo finds in the keen Arctic winds
An incentive to do and to dare,
He is always astir in his garments of fur,
On the trail of the walrus and bear.
Strong and brave he will grow on the vast plains of snow
That he views through his ice-panelled dormer—
To be valiant and grim is a fine thing for him;
But I rather would live where it's warmer!

NEW ORLEANS COTTON.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 23.—(AP)—The cotton market was steadier today and although trading was in no sense active prices showed more resistance to depressing influences particularly bearish professional sentiment. An early decline of six to eight points was due to much lower cables than due, but the decline here was only a poor response to the weakness of cables. The market soon rallied on fears of a recurrence of bad weather in the belt and due to the official forecast for rain and colder weather in the western belt. At the highest of the day prices were 17 to 21 points above the early lows and 1 to 13 points above the close of yesterday. The market eased off 8 to 8 points in the early afternoon on realizing but rallied again practically t othe highs near the end the close showing net gains for the day of 7 to 8 points on active months and two points on May.

At the start owing to lower cables first trades showed losses of 4 to 7 points and prices eased off a little more right after the opening call. December trading 6 to 8 points under the previous close. Those proved to be the lows. The market then rallied on the rain forecast with colder weather in the west and advanced further later on Secretary Hester's mail takings of 453,000 bales for the week against 365,000 last year. At the highest of the day, prices were 17 to 21 points up from the lowest and 11 to 13 points net higher. The market eased off 8 to 9 points during the afternoon on realizing but rallied again near the ned, almost reaching the earlier highs.

Exports fo rthe day 39,202 bales and for the week 280,232.

NEW YORK COTTON.

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—(AP)—An early decline in the cotton market today was checked by prospects for a renewal of unsettled weather in the south and bullish view of the week-end statistics. December contracts sold up from 21.14 to 21.34 and closed at 21.28, the general market closing steady at net advances of one to six points.

The opening was barely steady at a decline of five to 16 points in response to a relatively easy Liverpool cables and liquidation of October contracts due to the circulation of final notices estimated at about 5,000 bales. After selling off to 21.30, however, October rallied on covering and the last sale was at 21.49 or about three points net higher and 24 points above the price of December. Later months steadied up after the initial decline to 20.41 for January and 20.86 for March on trade buying and covering. The latter was prompted apparently, by growing uncertainty of the showing of next Monday's government report, combined with the less favorable weather outlook and the heavy spinners' takings for the week reflected by cotton exchange figures. January sold up to 20.62 and March to 20.86 or about 20 points from the lowest. The close was within five or six points of the best.

Two more private crop reports were issued, one pointing to a yield of 14,650,000 bales, while the other made it 14,669,000 and estimated the ginning to October 18, at 9,505,000. These figures being under the last government indication, seemed to promote doubt whether the coming bureau report would confirm recently increased estimates of the yield, but business was continued largely to the evening up of old accounts, local brokers said, with some trade buying which was offset by hedge selling in the late trading.

Spinners' takings for the week were estimated at 472,000 bales and there was an increase of only 282,000 bales in the world's visible supply of American cotton compared with 317,000 last year.

Exports fo rthe day 44,402, making 2,002,486 so far this season. Fost receipts 70,126; U. S. port stocks 11,138,319.

TEXAS VEGETABLES.

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 23.—The Texas vegetable movement showed a gain yesterday in the rolling of three cars of mixed vegetables and 1,634 apples. Potato shipments of the day were 1,240 cars and the sweet potato 147 cars. Total shipments of other commodities follow: Lettuce 29 cars, lemons nine, grapes 576, oranges four, onions 194, cabbage 258, cantaloupes one, cauliflower 20, celery 80, peppers three, tomatoes 31, pears 50, spinach four, string beans 14, sweet potatoes 147.

The shipping point market on table grapes was little changed at Fresno. Idaho Falls reported potatoes steady with cash track cars of sacked rurals, however, moving too lightly to quote but sacked Russets, frost free, bringing $2.25@2.30.

Colorado list Russets usual terms basis for $2.25 mostly. Apples at Grand Junction are about steady with the bushel market unchanged and medium to lower large extra fancy Romes box pack bringing $1.50@1.60 usual terms. Cabbage at Kenosha, Wisconsin, was weaker in the day, with domestic down to $7@8 ton and Danish $10.00@11.00, Rochester cabbage was unreported.

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Heavy week-end profit taking failed to stem the rising tide of prices in today's stock market. The advance, which was spread over a broad list, ranged from one to six points in the active issues, with even larger gains in some of the volatile specialties. Trading again approximated two and one-half million shares, making it the tenth consecutive two million share session.

The closing was featured by a sensational rally in Chandler Motors, which was run up nearly 15 points to a new high record at 52, often jumping a point or more between sales. Heavy orders were placed in this stock a few minutes before the final gong but the tape was so far behind the market that the closest ward movement was not known until after the market closed. At 3 o'clock the stock was quoted around 41 on the tape.

Other motors at so received good buying support. Chrysler advanced over five points to 199½, or within a fraction of the record high: Mack Trucks showed a net gain ofover three points at 228⅜ and General Motors closed 2⅝ points higher at 131?.

Strength or Paige-Detroit, which advanced three points to a new high record at 31½ was associated with unconfirmed rumors that Dodge Brothers were negotiating for control.

The upward movement today was given impetus by the optimistic survey of the business situation by Chairman Gary of the United States Steel corporation, continuation of relatively easy call money rates, a favorable federal reserve bank statement and reports of expanding retail trade. A further collapse of French francs was disregarded as a stock market factor, although it brought about some liquidation of French bonds. Several sugar shares crumbled to new low records for the year in sympathy with the weakness of the sugar futures markets.

Steel shares responded to reports of an increase in incoming orders. United States Steel common advanced over two points to 128⅜. Betalehem closed two points higher at 44, and Crucible, Gulf States and Republic advanced a point or two. U. S. Cast Iron Pipe soared 11½ points to 210.

Oil and railroad shares, which were strong earlier in the week, failed to make much progress because of the large volume of realizing sales. Most recessions, however, were of a fractional character.

American beet sugar, Cuban American, Cuban cane common and preferred and Manati all broke through to new low levels fo rthe year.

Call money held steady at 4¼ per cent all day. Time money rates relaxed, 60 to 90-day funds being quoted on a flat 4¾ per cent basis instead of 4⅝ to 5, with some larger maturities also available at the lower figure. Commercial paper rates were unchanged.

Renewed weakness of French francs, which sank about 10 points to another new 1925 low around 4.20 cents, featured the irregular foreign exchange market. Demand sterling held firm above $4.84 and Italian lire rallied five points to around 4.00 cents.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGO, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Excessive rain said to be injuring the wheat crop in northern Argentina gave a sudden stimulus today to buying of future deliveries of wheat and forced a quick upturn in prices just at the finish. Wheat closed firm ¾ to 1⅛c net higher new style, December $1.42 to $1.42⅞ to ⅝c down and provisions varying from 12c decline to a rise of 15c.

Prospects of enlarged receipts led to all around new low price records for corn, but wheat strength operated as a counterbalace at the end of the day. Besides, unsettled weather conditions were looked for. Oats were edull, and hovered near to the lowest figures on the crop.

Big fresh deliveries of October lard today 1,450,000 pounds, tended to weaken the provision market. On the other hand it developed that a good share of these deliveries had passed into export channels.

Livestock

FORT WORTH LIVESTOCK.

FORT WORTH, Oct. 23.—Cattle trading on the Fort Worth yards was not very active Friday. Buyers were talking lower on most all classes, and as a rule when purchases were made they looked weak to lower. Cows were 10 to 15c down and calves were slow to 25c lower. Steers held barely steady. Heifers, yearlings, and bulls cleared unchanged rates. Receipts were right around 3,500 head of cattle and 1,000 calves.

The showing of steers suitable for slaughter was really too meager to make a market. Trading progressed in a sluggish manner, and values were certainly no better than barely steady, with the week's decline.

Fat cows were lower, but canners and cutters remained close to steady. Desirable cows sold in carlots at $4 to $4.35, fair to medium grades brought $3.50 to $4.75. Cutters sold at $2.50 to $3.00 and canners brought $2.25 to $2.50.

Receipts of yearlings were meager, the market carrying a steady appearance.

The best odd lot cleared around $8.00. Most deals were from $5.50 to $6.50.

Bulls did not sell as readily as on Thursday, but the market held to a steady level. Most sales were around $3.50 to $4.00.

Buyers were not so anxious for calves and the trade lacked activity. Some deals were about steady, but others were weak to 25c down. Quality was not to be compared it hthe top end of the Thursday run. No choice vealers were here.

Demand for stockers did not display any quotable change, small receipts sold on a steady basis.

Hog receipts were close to 800 head but the run included about 550 that came to a packer. No outside competition developed and packers pounded prices to the extent of 50c to make up for other days this week when the market held steady in the face of declines elsewhere. Choice hogs, but of havy weight, sold around $11.50 to $11.60, and the bulk of those here went at $11.25 to $11.40. Sows stopped at $10.25.

Salesmen obtained steady prices for their sheep and lambs. A run of 500 head sold early. Shorn wethers brought $8.00.

Cattle, 4,500 including 1,000 calves; market slow, cows 10@15c lower, calves weak to 25c lower; beeves $3.50@8.00; stockers $3.50@7.25; fat cows $3.25@5.25; cutters $2.50@3.25; canners $2.25@2.50; heifers $3.25@7.00; yearlings $3.50@8.50; bulls $3.00@4.25; calves $3.00@9.00.

Hogs, 800; market 75c lower; top $11.60; bulk $11.40@11.60; light $11.55@11.60; medium $11.40@11.50; heavy $11.25@11.40; mixed $10.50@11.25; common $9.50@10.00; sows $9.50@10.25; pigs $9.50@11.50.

Sheep, 500; market steady; lambs $12.00@13.00; feeders $10.00@13.00; yearlings $10.00@10.50; wethers $7.00@8.00; ewes $5.00@6.00; culls $1.00@2.00; stockers $3.00@4.00; goats $1.00@3.00.

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 23.—Cattle, 1,200; calves 300; slow; steers $6.50@8.50; cows $4.00@5.50; heifers $4.75@4.80; canners $3.15@3.25; cutters upward to $3.75; veal top $11.50.

Hogs, 3,500; lower, top $11.15; bulk of sales $10.60@11.10; packing sows $9.50@9.75; stock pigs $11.00@11.60.

Sheep, 2,000; steady; lambs $14.50; fat ewes $7.00@7.40.

ELECTRA

CHILD INJURED.

Little Mildred Bradley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Bradley, on the west pavement, was injured quite badly, Tuesday at noon, when after sliding down the "scoot-to-scoot" at the first ward school, a child jumped from a swing and the swing struck her in the head and knocked her unconscious. Dr. W. H. Ogden was summoned and it was necessary to take seven stitches because a jagged cut caused by the sharp edge of the swing. She is improving at her home.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

At the Tuesday meeting of the board of directors of the Electra chamber of commerce and agriculture, W. A. Asbill, manager of the Line Moter company of this city, was unanimously selected to fill the vacancy on the board caused by the resignation of J. A. Wise, recently moved to Wichita Falls.

Mr. Asbill is an active member of the chamber of commerce and has previously served on the board of directors. His efficient and unselfish work in the service of the chamber has made his membership invaluable, and the board of directors look forward with pleasure to association with him as a member of their body.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CLASS

The Sunday school class of Mrs. George Lebus of the First Christian church, met Tuesday night with Miss Carlotta Miller at 706 South Main Street, at which time the plans were discussed for the new Sunday school class room on the tennis court back of the Christian church, and as yet the bids have not been submitted, but it is estimated that it will be necessary to raise $500 to erect the building. The names of the class was changed and it will be known as the "Kum-Join-Us" class. Those attending this business meeting were: Misses Dixie Tuttle, Nana and Wilma Kilpatrick, Virginia Douglas, Carlotta Miller, Ines Gattas, Irene Lebus, Earline McDannald, Myrtle Manard, Ila Vaughn, Bina Magee and Mrs. George Lebus. Messrs. Paul Brush, Paul Bilbry, Roy and Johnnie Lebus, Troy Dees, Ragan Andrews and Arden Ray Douglas. The class will meet again next week.

Y. C. CIRCLE.

The Y. C. Circle of the Baptist church met Monday afternoon with Mrs. S. L. McQueen on West Wabash Avenue and the meeting opened by the Mrs. J. L. Kinney reading the thirteenth chapter of Corinthians, followed by sentence prayers, and different representatives spoke and the results of the Holland's Magaine campaign was reported on. Other money raising plans for the church building fund were brought up and the meeting was dismissed with a prayer by Mrs. Doyle. The hostess served lovely refreshments to Mesdames Dayton White, L. Gillium, J. O. Moley, J. C. Stewart, Chas. Kee, G. B. Crow, J. L. Graham, P. L. Smulcer, C. E. Schlemeyer, J. L. Kinney, E. L. Randolph, R. A. Towel, C. P. Mauldin and Miss Brina Candler. The next meeting will be with Mrs. J. C. Moxley. Mrs. J. L. Kinney will entertain the "love sister" of the Y. W. with a Hallowe'en party at her home at 218 West Cleveland Avenue on Thursday night.

CONCORDIA BRIDGE.

The members of the Concordia Bridge club were entertained Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. G. J. Gillis on West Ida avenue. Miss Carrie Cross was awarded the guest prize and Mrs. Homer Grizzle received the club prize, and at the close of the evening the hostess served a salad course, with the favor in the Hallowe'en designs, and the house was also attractively decorated with cut flowers and Hallowe'en novelties. The next meeting will be with Mrs. E. G. Latimer on West Wharton. The members present were Mesdames Frank Doores, Jim Gookin, Will Cross, Homer Grizzle, Frank Lebus, E. G. Latimer, H. D. Miller, Mit Williams and G. J. Gillis. Guests of the club were Mesdames John Brownlee, Dave Brown, Howard Appleby and Miss Carrie Cross.

WAGGONER SCHOOL.

The Waggoner ward school Parent-Teachers' association met on Tuesday afternoon after 4 o'clock in the music room of the Waggoner school. The room was attractively decorated with tall crystal vases of rose buds and ferns and the walls were outlined with the exhibits which the children sent to the Texas-Oklahoma fair, and a majority of which took prizes at the fair. The parents spent several minutes in examining these exhibits before the program began. Mrs. S. J. Dotson, the president of the Waggoner Parent-Teachers' association, presided at this meeting, and the program was under the able direction of Mrs. B. M. Dinsmore. The pupils of Miss Maude Grants' room favored the ladies with a class room song, after which W. B. Teel gave a long dramatic reading. Mrs. George Lebus gave an interesting talk on "The Parents Plus the School" by Oliver M. Jones and taken from the Child Welfare Magazine. Professor J. V. Harrison made a short address. The meeting was then turned into a business session, and it was voted to purchase an emergency kit for the school, and to give a good framed picture to the room having the largest number of mothers present at the next meeting. The next meeting will be held Oct. 17, or the third Tuesday in November. Sponsors were elected for the various rooms; Mrs. A. T. McDannald will be sponsor for Miss Taylor's room; Mrs. A. Fisher will sponsor for Miss Bowden's room; Mrs. G. F. Lebus will be the sponsor for Miss Gladys Massey's room; Mrs. J. P. Parr, sponor for Miss Franke Tackett's room; Mrs. R. C. Camp, for Miss Polson's room, and Mrs. W. G. Robinson for Miss Broadstreets' room. Mrs. A. Fisher had charge of the registar and according to her register those present were Misses Christine Broadstreet, Gladys Polson, Glayds Massey, Ruby Moore, Franke Tackett, Tinker and Bowden, Mr. J. A. Tibbits and Mesdames A. T. McDannald, Roy Bessent, C. M. Catts, J. T. McDannald, C. M. Bishop, W. P. Kilpatrick, G. F. Lebus, T. H. Parmley, J. A. Howell, W. D. Robinson, B. M. Dinsmore, J. F. Robertson, Jodie D. Smith, S. J. Dotson and Miss Minta Smart.

REUNION FOR NEW MEMBERS.

About two hundred and fifty members and friends of the Methodist church gathered on Wednesday evening for prayer-meeting after which they greeted their pastor, Rev. E. V. Cole, whom the conference returned to Electra for another year, and after prayer meeting they preceded to the basement and a short program was given, the program being presided over by Mrs. L. J. Crawford, who gave a short talk. Three little girls gave readings, who were Misses Anne Clair Brannen, Maurine Igou and Lila Lee Baker. Slips were passed out and each one was asked to write their names on these slips and wear them in order to get acquainted. Numbers were distributed and each one receiving a number was asked to speak, read, play the piano or answer a question which was asked them. The event of the program was the distribution of paper sacks and these were placed on the right hand, and each one was asked to shake hands with every one in the building. Refreshments of pie and coffee were served at the close of the evening.

J. M. A. CLUB.

The J. M. A. club met Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Elbert Thornley, on the West pavement, and the afternoon was spent in sewing, and at the close of the evening the hostess served jello with whipped cream and cake. Miss Minta Smart, the expression teacher in the schools, read "Home" by Edgar A. Guest and there was a gust of the club, Mrs. A. T. Beckwith of Wichita Falls, who is Mrs. S. C. Massingill's mother. The next meeting will be with Mrs. J. H. Barnett at 106 West Summitt avenue. Those present were Mesdames Tom Cobb, S. C. Massingill, Dick Taylor, A. T. Beckwith, E. J. Gillum, N. F. Belcher, Miss Minta Smart and the hostess.

J. O. B. CLUB.

The J. O. B. club girls met Wednesday evening at 7:30 with Miss Alice Chapman at the Marriott hotel, at which time plans were made for a Hallowe'en social, and some plans were made for Thanksgiving, but these plans will be perfected at the next meeting. At the close of the evening Miss Chapman served hot chocolate and cookies to Misses Virginia Douglas, Bina Magee, Nana Kilpatrick, Aurdry Tarleton, Irene Lebus and Norma Andrews. The next meeting will be with Miss Virginia Douglas.

LUNCHEON SATURDAY.

The J. O. B. girls met at 10:30 Saturday morning at the home of Miss Irene Lebus, at 400 West Harrison avenue, to have a bridge lesson, honoring Miss Ava Shaw, who spent the week end from Simmons college. They played bridge until 11:30 and then the young ladies went to the home of Miss Alice Chapman at the Marriott hotel, where the dining room was attractively decorated with cut flowers and Hallowe'en decorations, and a lovely three course luncheon was served to the following: Misses Norma Andrews, Bina Magee, Nana Kilpatrick, Virginia Douglas, Irene Lebus, Alice Chapman, Aurdry Tarleton, Ava Shaw and Carlotta Miller. Miss Carlotta Miller was also an especially honored guest at this luncheon. After the luncheon the whole bunch went to the Wichita-Electra football game at Wichita Falls.

WILLIAMS BIBLE CLASS.

The Williams Bible class met Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. L. Gillium on the West pavement at which time the second chapter of Acts was taken up, under the leadership of Mrs. C. E. Schlemeyer. One new member was added to the class, Mrs. J. L. McCombs. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Fred Burkett, at 309 East Wharton avenue. There was a good attendance at the meeting.

Z. Y. G. CLUB.

Miss Mary Dean Reneau was hostess to the Z. Y. G. club at her home Monday afternoon, Oct. 19, at which time they had a business meeting and the amount of dues to be paid was agreed upon, and several members paid dues at this time. The house was decorated in the Hallowe'en decorations and the color scheme carried out in the favors and refreshments. The favors where sticks of candy tied with orange and white ribbons. Miss Reneau served dainty refreshments to Misses Alice Skinner, Merle Baggett, Thelma Coffee, Violet Myers, Elizabeth McGann, Mary Dean Reneau and Gussie Bickley. The next meeting will be with Miss Elizabeth McGann and they will initiate two candidates.

MISS GASTON ENTERTAINS.

Miss Louise Gaston was hostess at a bridge club at her home at 109 North Wichita street, Wednesday evening, when five tables of bridge were played and Miss Lucille Wheeler was awarded a lovely box of Pangburn's chocolates for winning high score among the girls and Joe McCracken was given a leather bill folder as high score for the boys. Miss Gaston served a salad course with tea and wafers using the Hallowe'en decorations. Those playing bridge were Misses Kathryn Barr, Bonnie Jennings, Dixie Tuttle, Minnie Nell Yelldell, Wilma Kilpatrick, Willa Mae Waters, Earline McDannald, Anna Dell Skinner, Lucille Wheeler and Louise Gaston. The boys playing were Messrs. Paul Brush, Francis Autrey, agan Andrews, Howard Wilson, E. B. Hill, Paul Guinn, Joe Mcley and Herman Gibson.

WEDNESDAY BRIDGE.

The Wednesday Bridge club, which is composed of both Electra and Wichita Falls ladies, met Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Harman Cloughly on Burnett street in Wichita Falls. Elephant Gets As Good A Play As Cal's Address Or A Movie Star's Divorce

Good morning! Have you seen the Record News elephant today? Look around a little bit and you'll find him spread over an entire page, taking up as much room as a president's address and more than a movie star's divorce. He's pretty important at that. Has $1,000 in his gold bag for some lucky Texan or Oklahoman.

We've been telling you for several weeks what this elephant is doing so far from his native jungles and until November 14 we'll be telling you again and again. The Record News decided to have this little $1,000 party for its readers and friends. That's why Jumbo is here.

Simple.

You take a good look at his hide and you'll see where it is covered with hundreds of figures. Add these figures up and read the rules. Pretty simple, isn't it? We think so and so do the hundreds who have already sent in their puzzles. When you first look at the elephant, you say, "Gee, I couldn't add those figures up in a month of Sundays."

Then you look closer and see where you've been seeing double for there are not so many of them after all. Now you take a hoof or wing or start in any other vital spot and you'll find it won't take such a great length of time after all. Also remember there are no groups of figures. The numbers run from "2" to "9."

First Prize $500.

The first prize of $500 makes the affair that much more interesting but as there are 25 prizes, there is no reason why everyone shouldn't have an incentive to add up the elephant's numbers. Remember we're going to give this money away immediately following the close o fthe contest on November 14. Will you be the lucky one?

Add 'Em UP Here It Is—the Record News Elephant Picture Puzzle Add 'Em UP

The Problem:

What Is The Sum Total of the Figures Forming the Elephant?

Simply Add Them Up to Get the Solution

There are no marks, lines or characters in the elephant figures. These figures range from 2 to 9, each standing alone. There are no "ones" or ciphers." There are no groups of figures such as "23" or "42." The heads of the "6's" are distinctly curved while the tails of the "9's" are straight, or practically so. There is no trick or illusion of any description in the chart.

© by J.R.Colburn, 1922.

General Rules of the Contest

This competition is open to all residents of the states of Texas and Oklahoma, except employes of The Record News and members of their families.

Contestants may submit as many different solutions as they desire provided a payment of one of the amounts designated in the prize list shall accompany each solution. NO SOLUTION UNACCOMPANIED BY A SUBSCRIPTION PAYMENT WILL BE REGISTERED.

The Record News offers these prizes for individual effort. While it is proper for members of one household to work together or several friends, it is not permissible for more than one of those working in unison to send a solution of the puzzle. When in the judgment of the contest manager more than one member of the same family, or more than one of any number of persons he believes have worked together send in a solution of the puzzle, he reserves the right to refund subscriptions and return the solutions he believes have been submitted contrary to the foregoing rule. The Record News reserves the right to reject any solutions it believes have not been submitted under proper conditions. The Record News also reserves the right to finally decide any other questions or points which may arise and those entering the contest agree to abide by such decisions.

In the event of ties on this puzzle, as many prizes will be reserved as there are contestants tied, before any prizes are awarded for a less correct solution. For instance, if five people were tied on the best solution, the first five prizes will be reserved for them, and they would be awarded the prizes in accordance with the standing of their solutions of the second puzzle. That is, the one submitting the best solution of the second puzzle would receive the first prize; the one submitting the next best, the second, and so on.

Subscriptions may be NEW or RENEWALS. Both count the same.

Closing Date

The Great Elephant Puzzle Contest Will Close at Nine P. M. Saturday, November 14, 1925

The earlier you send in your solution the longer time you will have to go over your figures, AND SEND IN ANOTHER SOLUTION, if you find you can do better. Additional charts may be secured at any time by calling at the address below or sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope for mailing them. NO SOLUTION CAN BE CHANGED AFTER IT HAS BEEN ONCE REGISTERED.

Important Facts to Remember

While the amount you pay with a solution of the puzzle does not have any effect on your winning a prize, it does affect the amount you will receive, should you win one of the first nine prizes, as the value of these prizes is determined by what the winners pay. This is explained in the prize list, which you should study carefully before sending in your solution.

The time a solution is received has no bearing upon its winning a prize. Accuracy is what counts.

Not more than one prize will be awarded to any one person.

SUBSCRIPTION INFORMATION

Payment for not less than three months or not more than twelve months subscription to the Record News must be sent with each solution. The payment can apply on your own subscription or can be made by or apply to another person's subscription.

Subscriptions can be new or renewals, both count the same. A new subscription is an order from a person who is not now taking the Record News. A renewal is a payment made by a person who is now taking the Record News from a carrier, an agent or direct from the Record News office by mail.

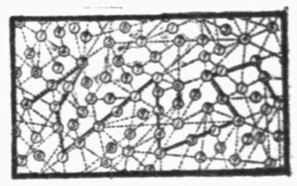

Two six months subscriptions or four three months subscriptions will count the same as one twelve month subscription.

A person who is now taking the Record News and paying agent or carrier by the month, can send in a three, six of twelve months subscription to the puzzle manager with a solution. Carrier or agent will be notified of payment by the Record News and your subscription account will be credited accordingy.

The sum total of the figures are not known to any one.

The drawer and maker of the cut knew the total as he drew it, and no one else. When the cut was received by The Record News several figures were clipped out. No Record News employe knows the drawer's solution and the drawer does not know what numbers were cut out by The Record News, and will not know until after the closing date, November 14th, 1924. No one knows any more about what the correct answer is than the contestants themselves.

Deciding Ties

In case of ties those tied for any prize will be presented with a second puzzle, which will consist of drawing a line across the face of a chart of figures, like the accompanying chart, only larger, so that the figures thus connected when added together will total the greatest sum. If necessary this chart will be used four times, after which, should any ties remain, each contestant will receive full value of any prize tied for.

In case there are no ties on counting the Elephant no other puzzle, of course, will be presented.

Tribe Clashes With Quanah In Spudder Park At 3 O'Clock

TOP O' MORN STUFF

By BLONDY CROSS.

THE DOPE TODAY.

Texas defeats Rice.
T. C. U. beats Oklahoma A. & M.
Baylor beats Howard Payne.
S. M. U. defeats Oklahoma university.

* * *

Junior college defeats Quanah, Vernon beats Electra?

* * * *

The dope should hold true in every game mentioned with possible exception of the Vernon-Electra tilt at Electra. Crippled as they are said to be, the Lions may find the sledding exceedingly rough. It's quite possible Electra with its sterling defensive team, will mark up its fourth tie game of the season.

* * *

On the face of it, however, Vernon most assuredly has the edge on Jim Reese's men. But if the Lions are as sadly torn up by injuries as press reports have painted the situation the past several days then Baggett is in for a very hectic afternoon.

* * *

We would call to your attention that the proposed Brown-Matsuda grudge match is now assured. For the sake of charity if nothing else Wichita Falls sport fans should turn out heavily. If you've never seen a mat encounter, now's your chance at very little cost to become initiated.

* * *

SHOULD BE REAL MILL.

That the bout will be a hard fought one is unquestionable. These athletes truly are in for no other reason than settlement of supremacy between the two. The match will be staged whether or not a single spectator is on hand to see it. There's out to prove conclusively which is the better man, and the principals don't care a tinker's whoop what the public thinks about it. Matty and Jim want to appease their own ego, not that any wrestler ever worded the thought in that manner.

* * *

There has been unfounded intimation going the rounds to effect the wrestlers didn't shoot straight with the public in their recent pair of matches staged at the Majestic theatre. Nevertheless, they had planned to hold a private bout to settle their controversy behind closed doors with only newspaper men and a few other sportsmen present. This was agreed, knowing full well that should a return go be billed open to the public there would be more talk of insincerity on the part of the wrestlers. So not being satisfied themselves with the outcome of the other two tiffs they planned to hook up in a finish mill without the added incentive of a gate. They were shooting square.

* * *

When Matchmaker Ross hit upon the idea of throwing the bout open, charging a small admission fee, and giving every nickel of the proceeds to charity, The wrestlers okayed this, so Ros s put it up to Frank Queisser, secretary of the Kiwanis. Proceeds go to the Day Nursery.

* * *

MAYBE THEY KLUCK, TOO

Those fistic gentlemen who are to disport themselves on Monday's legion card will work out in a new sector today, so says Matchmaker Wofford. They're to do their daily dogens in the erstwhile headquarters of the ku klux at 812 1-2 Scott. Evidently the tin eared sports are conscince clear, for they express no nervousness should any of the klan decide to return to their old stomping ground. The workouts are to go on about 3 o'clock.

* * *

GRIFFIN HERE WITH IDEA.

Little Dick Griffin's in town, been here several days for that matter, but he's not on hand to fight this time. Comes for another reason. There's talk of working up sort of a gymnasium club, and Dick's in the middle of it. He, we understand, would in conjunction with Wofford and others put the organization over. Along with regular gym work there is to be organized a boxing class should the project go through, with Griffin as instructor.

* * *

It is planned to use this same ex-ku klux hall as the gym. Shower baths, of course, and probably a Turkish would be put in, it is planned.

* * *

There is many a man to say nothing of the host of youngsters in Wichita Falls who would welcome such an organiation.

League to Take Up Balkan War Monday

(By The Associated Press)

The fighting between the Greek and Bulgarian forces in Macedonia, growing out off rontier encontrs between the guards of the two countries several days ago, appears from all accounts to be slackening, at least temporarily and on Monday, the council of the league of nations, acting on the appeal of Bulgaria wil lmeet in extraordinary session in Paris to take up the dispute.

Representatives of Greece and Bulgaria have been invited to state their claims before the council.

Unprecedented Demand for Advertising Space in St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 23.—(AP)—The St. Louis Post Dispatch today established what it declared to be a new high world record for a regular week day issue of a metropolitan newspaper by printing 76 pages. With an unprecedented demand for space by local advertisers the edition includes more than 480 columns of advertising.

ESTATE TAXES BIG.

AUSTIN, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Texas in 1925 likely will collect more than a million dollars in inheritance taxes, S. H. Terrell, state comptroller, said today. October receipts will exceed $75,000. A remittance of more than 33,000 from the Ida S. Gage estate of San Antonio is the largest received this month thus far.

HIGH SCHOOL FOOTBALL FANS FOCUS OPTICS ON EMBROGLIO BILLED FOR ELECTRA GRIDIRON

Lions in Fairly Good Shape for Contest, While Tigers are Even in Better Physical Condition

Two all-important contests are slated for north Texas gridirons this afternoon. The leading clash of the day is billed for Electra when Coach E. A. Baggett's speedy Vernon Lions hook up with Jim Reese's desperate Electra Tigers in the second conference game of the season for both clubs. The Lions have a leg on the championship of this section due to a victory the past week-end over Barnette's Quanah Indians. Electra fought Wichita Falls to a scoreless tie on the same day.

The other attractive contest is slated for Spudder park at 3 o'clock, absolutely not a moment later, declares Bubs Mosley, when Quanah plays the Junior college eleven. Three o'clock! Get that, brother fans; it's not 4 o'clock as was erroneously announced yesterday afternoon.

This Indian-versus-Indian embroglio is of great interest because it is the final pre-conference game billed for the Wichita Falls crew. Mosley sends his men against the North Texas Aggies in league play next week.

Wichita Falls' probable starting line-up: Clary, center; Hirschi and Karns, guards; Burks and Weeth, tackles; Harris and White, ends; West and Datson, halfbacks; Beaty, full; Thurman, quarter.

Hartron Deems, quarter, will not be used because of an injured nose Stevenson no doubt will get in at a half position. So will Timmons. Saunders is sure to take a shot at guard.

Quanah's probable starting line-up: Oran Edward[illegible]ier; Klepper and Aulton Edwards, guards; Beauchamp and Brewer, tackles; Hook and McGough, ends; Tapley and Clay, halfbacks; Cox, quarter; Welborne, full.

ELECTRA SEEKS SWEET REVENGE.

ELECTRA, Oct. 23.—The Electra Tigers are firmly set for their all important clash with the Vernon Lions on the local field Saturday afternoon in the second conference mellee for both elevens.

The Tigers were sent through their final hard workout Thursday afternoon with a hard scrimmage on their schedule. Sam Brown and Joe Platt, former stars on the local high school squad, practiced with the Tigers Thursday afternoon and took the defense against the regulars with Brown at tackle and Platt at guard. This combination proved a Jonah to the first team backs a great part of the time but it was pierced on several occasions for nice gains. John Louie Wright, who replaced Bob Moore at halfback, proved to be the most consistent gainer of the back field men, going through the defensive line on almost every trial for a nice gain.

Sanderlin in Action.

Louis Kent and Brewer Smith were kept on the sidelines during the scrimmage due to injuries, but Captain Sanderlin saw some action while the regulars were on the offense. Buzzy Smith continues to hold down Brewer Smith's post at guard and it is likely that he will start the game at that position as Brewer Smith has been weakened considerable by an injury to his ankle sustained in the Tiger-Coyote fray last Saturday.

Electra fans are keyed to the highest note for Saturday's game which is considered by many locals as the most important on their schedule as the Tigers went down by a 30-0 score at the hands of the Lions last year and they will go into Saturday's game with blood in their eyes to avenge the defeat. The Tiger camp is full of confidence which is more than last year's team had on the verge of the battle.

Fans Behind Team.

The local fans will be behind their team more than 1,000 strong Saturday and a number of local business have expressed their intention of closing their doors and attending the game. A mammoth parade is scheduled shortly before the game and a final pep rally and parade through the town was held Friday night. Bleachers to seat 1,000 people were completed by the Manual Training boys the latter part of this week and B. M. Dinsmore announced that 400 chairs would also be placed on the sidelines.

Coaches Jim Reese and J. N. Coke have not announced the line-up for Saturday's game but the probable line-up will be:

George Brown, right end; Clayton Aven, left tackle; Buzz or Brewer Smith, left guard; Roy Coolidge, center; Lavern Geiger, right guard; Ralph Turner, right tackle; Olen Sanderlin (captain), right end; Bob Moore, halfback; Vincent Trammel, halfback; Johnie Lebus, quarterback; Dell Coolidge.

First string substitutes will probably be John Louie Wright, Oren Sargent, Louis Kent and Joel Melton.

LIONS REAR FOR ACTION.

VERNON, Texas, Oct. 23.—In the final workout before the Lion-Tiger contest Coach Baggett did nothing but drill the team on signals and give the players a short lecture. The team and coach drilled to a late hour tonight, and will start to Electra early tomorrow morning.

Late today, Baggett announced his probable starting line-up as follows: Hollar, right end; Burrows, right tackle; R. Key, right guard; Robinson, center; Koontz, left guard; Norwood, left tackle; T. Key, left end; Luttrell, quarte; O. Key, ight half; Williams, left half; Gelhausen, full.

This gives the Lion mentor a veteran line with two new men in the backfield, one of which is slated to hold down the field general's position.

The eleven that Baggett is placing on the field is in good condition, and in good spirits. The club appears to have more determination and fight than at any time his year.

COLONELS GO DOWN IN 2ND WITH SEALS

Coast Leaguers Rear Up And Slap Louisville By 9 to 2

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 23. — AP) — The Louisville Colonels, who yesterday shut out the San Francisco Seals, dropped the second game of the series today to the champions of the Pacific Coast league by a score of 9 to 2. Errors on the part of the Colonels helped the Seals pile up a good lead and clinch the game. Louisville used three pitchers during the contest who were all hit freely.

MATTY DEFENDS BELT AGAINST JIM BROWN IN CHARITY MATCH

Wrestling Gentlemen Won't Receive Nickel For Services

Matty Matsuda, Japan's most scientific exponent of the tossing 'em up in the air and flatten 'em out sport, agreed Friday finally and with no possible loophole on the part of either principal to slip out unless run over by a street car or something, to meet Jim Brown, Chicago's persistant Greek member of the grappling fraternity, in a finish match with welterweight championship belt at stake next Tuesday night in the Majestic theatre.

The bout is to be a final settlement of the feud which has been brewing the past several weeks between the two gentlemen of the canvas.

The conflict goes on the boards at 8:30 sharp, announces Matchmaker Ross. There will be no other matches.

For Day Nursery.

The beauty of this bout is that Wichita Falls sportdom along with anybody else who cares to come along crashes the gate at 50 cents a head. And not a thin dime of the receipts goes to the athletic gentlemen themselves. Also, there won't be five cents cost of promoting the affair, for it's all for charity.

Yessir, these noble athletes are to wrassel to a finish, title at stake, reputation up, and whatnot, and they don't make a green copper out of it.

They were going to settle their feud anyhow, even if it had to be out behind the wood shed, so Promoter Ross took advantage of the situation and billed the lads for sweet charity's sake.

Proceeds go to the day nursery fund, sponsored by the Kiwanis club.

Use Majestic Free.

The Majestic management allows use of the theatre absolutely gratis, so nobody but the dear public is out a nickle, and 50 cents is only a half a buck which in itself isn't much even to donate to such a worthy cause.

Brown, a hit overweight, declared last night to the Record News sports editor that he will make the 145-pound limit by 10 o'clock Tuesday morn. Matsuda agreed to this condition. Should Brown fail they meet at catch weights.

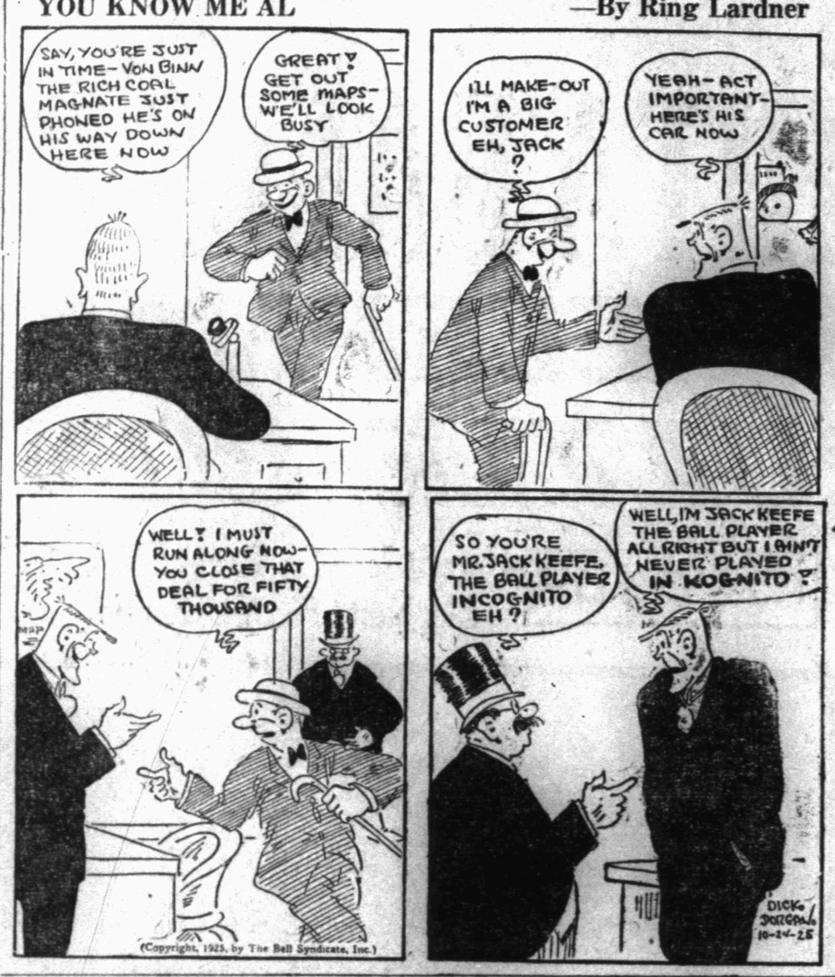

JIM BROWN

If Brown makes the weight and beats the champion, contrary to what Ross and Matsuda themselves believe, he'll give Matty the first chance at the belt, so he declares.

And that is none other than that.

The PASSING HOUR

~ by Wm. B. Ruggles ~

REVISED

It counts not if you win or lose—
It only matters how you play—
The folks who write the daily news
Incline to dope it out that way—
But don't expect to buy new shoes
With what John Public has to say.

At many a ringside oft I sit—
At games where rooters bustle in—
And as I watch the innings flit
Or rounds tolled off by bell and din,
The folks I'm watching throw a fit
In praise of those who chance to win.

THE HUMAN RACE

I wander far from beaten paths—
I hear men talk of this and that—
And find they mostly praise the stuff
Of gents who tote a wicked bat.

They do not speak of fielding deeds—
Of pitching seldom talk a bit—
In revent tones I hear them say—
"There is a baby that can HIT!"

As I my peaceful ways pursue,
I cogitate upon the lot—
Then buy a pair of ringside seats
To cheer some bruiser who can swat!

GRANDFIELD WALLOPS COYOTES MOLESKIN CREW, 20 TO 0 BY FLASHING HARD ATTACK EARLY

Oklahomans Amass Three Touchdowns in Opening Period—Last Quarter Played in Dark

The Grandfield eleven caught the Wichita Falls club overconfident at the start of their game Friday in Grandfield and amassed a 20-point lead in their first quarter, holding the margin thereafter. The final score was 20 to 0.

After the first quarter the Coyotes put up a great battle, but the change came too late to be of any use to the Wichita Falls squad. As the game progressed it settled down to a punting battle.

Although all the Coyotes showed to advantage after the first period the outstanding performers for the Coyotes were Hunky Ray, Swede Wainscott, Clarence Adams and Lofton Edmondson. These boys gave their best, and smashed through the Grandfield line time and again for tackles.

Houston, Eversole and Smart proved to be the big thorns in the sides of the Pack. On the first play following the kickoff, after the ball had been downed on the Grandfield 30-yard line, Eversole broke loose through the Wichita Falls right tackle for 40 yards. From there they bucked to the 30-yard line where Houston broke through left tackle for the remaining 30 and a touchdown. Hosch later blocked a kick, and went over for a touchdown to bring the scoring to a close.

The largest part of the game was played with the ball in Wichita Falls' territory. Punting and sensational tackles featured the play from there on.

In the final quarter the players could not be recognized from the sidelines because of darkness. The fans watched the game, but could only see the shadows of the players.

A WEEK of amazing football left only two undefeated teams in the Southwestern conference class, TCU emerging from the first conference clash with an intact record by outplaying and tying Baylor while the Texas Aggies survived another conference meeting by defeating SMU, the only other unbeaten eleven up to that time. Conference teams, however, finished the week-end with greater glory than the preceding seven days showed as the Texas eleven wound up its southern trilogy with a crushing defeat of Auburn, Matty Bell's Horned Frogs went on their winning way with a triumph over Simmons, and Rice defended the state entries against out-of-state batters by taking the third conference game from Arkansas, Baylor's defeat by Trinity was the only blot of the conference escutcheon.

Aggies 7; SMU 6.

THE ONE TOUCHDOWN victory of J. Bible's men over the Mustangs, undefeated for two years by a conference team, supplied the high lights of the week. It was a fine tribute to the spirit the Aggies are showing this year and sustained the view that the Aggies flashed as well against Sewanee's stonishing attack in their 6-0 tie as any other conference team would have done.

Retributive justice overtook SMU when the Farmers beat the team by the overhead route. Defensive play still seems the keynote of the College Station game, fortified as it is with Wilson's kicking toe although a squad with as great a halfback as Hunt is proving and with an offense that includes Wilson, Berry and Maguire in the backfield should come along with strength. In any event, the Aggies have proved that they are formidable conference contenders.

SMU does not regard the defeat as reflecting on its strength—and justly. The team undoubtedly played sluggish—as they will not in other conference games and operated with poor judgment. But whether the score reflects their stride or not, the defeat probably eliminated them from the conference championship. Only probably—for much can happen.

Baylor 7; TCU 7.

TCU TURNED the unexpected in holding Baylor to a tie and not only doing that but outplaying the 1924 champions and almost defeating them. This would have been an unexpected contretemps for Bridges who sent his men on a muddy rain-soaked field merely to play defensive football. It was almost a boomerang.

The ground conditions affected the game materially and outside of leaving both teams in the race, has no material bearing on the conference outcome. TCU is hardly likely to weather the year. Baylor will play better ball against SMU, A. and M. and Texas than it has against anybody else.

Trinity 10; Baylor 3.

BARRY BOLTON'S Trintonians continued their impressive season procession when they administered a defeat to the Bears. When the Aggies were almost defeated by Trinity, it was pointed out that this was no criterion of Farmer weakness as Trinity has a very fine team ably coached by Bolton. Certainly Rice and Baylor will endorse that view. Trinity this year would be an able contender in conference circles.

It is still a certainty that Baylor will play better football. On the eve of the Notre Dame trip, the point was advanced there that the Bears' case was hopeless as Bridges has never brought a team up to full stride before late October. Last year when the team won the championship, the same conditions existed.

CHANGES IN SPORT WORLD

Talking about the subject of discoveries, what about some of them in the realm of sport? Say, for instance, in the three which, at current writing, have the firmest grip on the interest of the public—baseball, footfball and boxing. What do you consider the most important discovery connected with each sport? In particular, that which has done most to benefit the game for the spectator and the player alike.

* * *

The writer would name the discovery of the curve in baseball, the introduction of the forward pass in football, and the birth of the Queensberry rules in boxing. Perhaps I'm wrong about each and every one of them. But that's my guess, and I stick to it.

* * *

Baseball has undergone so many changes in the history of the game that it is most difficult to determine upon any certain one of them to pronounce it the most vitally important. At one time the pitcher was required to heave the ball with the arm swinging nearly perpendicular at the side of the body. The arm in swinging forward had to pass below the pitcher's hip. Back in '84 the pitcher was also obliged to scale the ball across the plate at the height called for by the batter.

* * *

Needless to state the game was about equally as crude as these restrictions in practically every feature during those early days. Gradually the rough spots were planed away, until the almost perfect game of today was developed. Each new rule worked boundless good to the game, and in a manifold variety of ways.

* * *

However, we believe that when the first curved ball was thrown by a pitcher the game took on a new texture of interest both for the player and the fan. It could not help but account itself the most significant discovery the game had ever experienced. In the first place it cut down the free-for-all hitting carnivals, making both hitting and pitching a real science. The discovery of the curve was the forerunner of drops, fadeaways, crossfire deliveries, spitters, and so forth.

* * *

It developed base running and general strategy, too. Managers had to dope out other means than lusty swinging at fast balls to win victories. Of course there are other same arguments differing with all this. The arrival of gloves that made catching of terrific speed possible would be one of them. From the standpoint of spectacular fielding one could assert that the first double play helped greatly to make the game as fascinating as it is today.

* * *

ADVENT OF CURVED BALL

Candy Cummings, of the old Stars of Brooklyn, is credited with being the first pitcher to release a curve. However, Joseph M. Mann of Princeton, really did as much as Cummings, probably more to popularize what was then a "freak" ball. Mann was the first to accomplish a no-hit game, and it was largely through the use of curves that he earned this distinction. Mann, pitching for Princeton, shut out Yale at New Haven, May 29, 1875. So astonished were the Yale players at Mann's ability to curve a ball that they gathered round the plate as the Princeton star fanned out the Eli batters.

* * *

George Wright of the old Cincinnati Red Stockings, pulled the first double play. It was in a game against the Atlantics, of Brooklyn, played on Long Island. In the tenth inning, with a man on first and second, the batter popped a fly to Wright at short. Instead of catching it, as the runners anticipated, Wright, "trapped" the ball by scooping it o nthe first bound. He then threw it to third, and that baseman, alive to the situation, shot it on the first bound. He then out, and the first double play had been performed.

Michigan After Illinois Today

CHICAGO, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Before 68,000 thrill-seeking spectators, Michigan will engage Illinois at Champaign tomorrow in the paramount contest involving the 1925 championship in the western conference. The undefeated Iowa and Ohio State elevens will clash at Columbus in another contest having a direct bearing on the titular race. Three other games involving "Big Ten" elevens complete the day's schedule.

The strictly conference schedule will wind up with Perdue meeting Wisconsin at Madison.

Northwestern will have a very busy afternoon on Stagg Field against Tulane, the "green wave" team of New Orleans.

Notre Dame's mystery team, beaten by the Army, will attempt to retrieve a little of its glory in its tilt with Minnesota at Minneapolis.

Indiana plays Miami university of Ohio on the Hoosier field.

Walters Beats Healdton, 12-6

WALTERS, Okla., Oct. 23.—The Walters Purple Devils defeated the Healdton Bull Dogs here by a 12 to 6 score. This was one of the best games of the season, neither team having been defeated this year. The third conference game of the season will be played here with the Duncan team next Friday.

Conference Interest Centers On Texas--Rice Game Today

BENNY OWENS' OKLAHOMANS EXPECTED TO SHOW PONIES VALLEY CONFERENCE'S BEST

Both Heisman and Stewart, Running True to Form, Pessimistic on Eve of Steer-Owl Affair

DALLAS, Oct. 23.—A conference game between Rice Institute Owls and University of Texas Longhorns at Austin, and a tilt between Texas Christian university and the Oklahoma Aggies at Stillwater that will affect T. C. U.'s conference standing, head the week-end southwestern conference grid schedule. The Horned Frog-Aggie game, scheduled last year, will count for T. C. U., despite fact that the Oklahoma Farmers withdrew last spring to enter the Missouri Valley conference.

All conference teams go into action this week. The Baylor Bears meet Howard Payne at Waco; Arkansas will face Phillips at Fayetteville and Southern Methodist university will play Oklanoma university at Dalls.

Chief interest centers in the Texas-Rice clash at Austin following Longhorn's defeat of Auburn Saturday and because it's Texas' first conference match.

Coach Heisman is expected to use against the Longhorns the same combination that defeated Arkansas university. Coach Stewart probably will use the same team that started against Auburn, with one exception. T. C. U. trounced the Aggies last year.

DANA'S TEAM SWAMPS SAM HOUSTON, 77-0

Wilson Maguire and Hunt Lead March up And Down Field

COLLEGE STATION, Oct. 23.—When the final pistol ended the fracas between Texas A. and M. and the Sam Houston State Teachers' college on Kyle field Friday afternoon, the score was Aggies 77, Bear Cats 0.

That is about all there was to the game. The Aggies marched up the field, with Wilson, McGuire and Hunt leading the march. Four of the Aggie markers were registered in the first period. The first one came when Hunt intercepted a forward pass on the first play after the kickoff. Then Wilson and Hunt started their brilliant smashing attack.

Second string Aggie players took the field in the second period to add three more touchdowns. Little Happy Colgin, a scrappy back, played the leading role. One of his touchdowns came from an 85-yard run from a kick-off, the little back dashing through the opposing line with terrific speed.

The tale was brought to an end in the second half with four more touchdowns, two by the first string and two by the second and a safety. Sam Houston registered one lone first down.

Sam Houston did not have a star, and A. and M.'s entire squad played handsome football.

Substitutions were frequent and almost countless.

Lineup: Sam Houston, Rogers and Hardy, ends; Sandlin and Saudle, tackles; Reynolds and Palmer, guards; McAdams, center; Mayfield, quarterback; Lockey and Lynn, halfbacks; Kirk, fullback.

A. and M., Townsend and Beautel, ends; Dietrich and Irvin, tackles; Ochterbeck and Dansby, guards; Watts, center; Berry, quarterback; Hunt and Wilson, halfbacks; McQuire, fullback.

SOONERS COME HIGHLY RANKED

DALLAS, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Oklahoma University Sooners, regarded by many football critics as one of the best bets for a valley title winner, will be seen in action at Fair Park Stadium here Saturday against Ray Morrison's Mustangs of Southern Methodist university, contenders for the Southwestern conference championship.

Veteran gridiron fans in this section still remember how for many years the Sooners, led by Coach Benny Owens, invaded Texas to engage the Texas Longhorns in terrific battles. The same coach will lead the Sooners to Dallas for the game with SMU tomorrow. The chances are the invaders will meet about as strong a team in the Mustangs as the Southwestern conference can offer. At any rate the Ponies expect to offer that sort of opposition. It is believed the defeat of SMU by Texas Aggies last Friday by a close margin will instill a better fighting spirit into the team.

Owens' aggregation defeated the famous Drake Bulldogs 7 to 0 last Saturday, placing the team among the top-notchers in the Missouri valley conference, which means they are the best in the country.

VARSITY GAME TO BE IN "AIR"

AUSTIN, Oct. 23.—(AP)—After an hour's signal drill, the Texas Longhorns and Rice Owl football squads retired to their sleeping quarters to await impatiently the big test of Saturday. The Longhorns worked out early and by 4 o'clock had vacated the stadium gridiron in favor of Coach John Heisman's warriors.

The rival head mentors, Heisman and Doc Stewart, were inclined, as is their wont, to be pessimistic as to the result of Saturday's classic. Coach Stewart is worried lest Mack Saxon offensive star of his eleven, be unable to last through the game because of injuries received Saturday in the game against Auburn.

Beef the Same.

The probable Rice line-up follows: Ends, Joseph and Crain; tackles, McVey and Ulrich; guards, Williams and Heyck; center, Captain Underwood; quarterback, Ogg; halfbacks, Hoculi and Herting; fullback, Murray.

The probable Longhorn line-up: Ends, Baldwin and Penney; tackles, "Swampy" Thompson and Higgins; guards, Sewell and Moore; center, Pfannkuche; quarterback, Captain Wright; halfbacks, Saxon and Stalter; fullback, Rufus King.

As far as "beef" is concerned, the two teams are fairly well matched, though partisans of each team declare their eleven is outweighed.

Indications are the struggle will be fought largely in the "air," each eleven has a strong defense against straight football, and it is likely much of the yardage will be gained through an overhead attack. Captain Wright and King will do most of the passing for the Longhorns, while Hertig, Ogg and Murray are capable passers and Captain Underwood, called back ostensibly to kick, often passes from a punt formation.

Longhorn supporters are confident that Mack Saxon, stocky back, with a great eye for picking the holes, will be the outstanding offensive star of the fracas, while Owl enthusiasts are just as certain Ed Herting, 190-pound line smasher, will win that distinction by smashing through the Longhorn line for long gains.

MRS. MATHEWSON AT HOME.

"Big Six" Made no Will, So There's None to Probate.

SARANAC LAKE, N. Y., Oct. 23.—(AP)—Mrs. Christy Mathewson, back at her home here after the burial of her husband, the idol of baseball fans told friends today the "Big Six" never had made a will, and consequently there would be none for probate.

Mrs. Mathewson said she had not completed her plans for the future, and that she was not decided how long she would remain at the home in this village.

MURDOCK BATTLES MARTIN IN SIX-ROUND SEMI-FINAL MATCH ON TRAMMEL-M'MULLEN CARD

There was nothing wrong to that change of faces in the legion's feature event of the weekly fight card slated Monday night as far as the matchmaker is concerned.

He had received written agreement by Tommy White to meet Elmer McMullen. White, however, had billed a match for Mexico City prior to this, and according to letter received here yesterday had attempted to postpone the affair until after his Wichita Falls match. The Mexican promoters declared it impossible, so Tommy was forced to cancel the McMullen bout instead. Meantime, Promoter Don Wofford had sent transportation money to Tommy at Houston. Tommy returned the money order with his apologies Friday.

Forced to fill in at the last moment, Wofford called in Duke Trammel of Fort Worth to meet McMullen. The Cowtown lad agreed, so they're to clash over the 10-round route.

White, it is understood, will be brought to Wichita Falls against some suitable opponent two weeks or so hence.

Young Murdock of Sulphur meets Redcap Martin, Wichita Falls bantam, in a six-round semi-final, according to the matchmaker.

Johnny Walker fights Buckshot Peoples in a 4-rounder.

There are to be two other 4-round bouts, said Wofford.

East Looks Forward to Big Intersectional Battles

The cast draws three very interesting intersectional football games this week. The University of Chicago invades Philadelphia to play the University of Pennsylvania. Notre Dame plays Penn State at State College, Pa. Army tackles St. Louis University at West Point. Above are four of the rival captains.

DEVOL GRIDSTERS LEAD PUPS A MERRY CHASE AT SPUDDER PARK FRIDAY, AND WIN 19-0

Wright, Devol Fullback, Stars on Offense; Farris, Coyote Pup Fullback Is Defensive Luminary

Johnson's Devol high school eleven sent Montgomery's Wichita Falls Junior high midgets down into defeat Friday on the Spudder park gridiron, 19 to 0.

The game was not so uneven, however, the Coyote Pups threatened but once and were stopped times innumerable dead in their tracks when it seemed they were on the verge of getting away with anything like a goal-line advance.

Wright Is Star.

The plunging of Wright, Devol fullback, behind good interference and hard fighting by his forward wall, led almost solely to two of the Devol touchdowns. The third score came late in the final quarter via the overhead route.

This lad Wright made a name for himself as far as spectators at the game yesterday are concerned. It was Wright over the Pup left tackle for eight yards. It was Wright through center. In fact, it was Wright almost everywhere.

Fly, Wichita Falls half, was about the only ball toter who could gain with any measure. This youngster who, by the way, did quite a bit of good kicking, tore off a number of sweet runs ranging between five and 15 yards in length.

Farris Defensive Star.

Farris, Pup full, was the outstanding defensive player on the field. This athlete made practically half the Wichita Falls tackles. Herndon and George flashed occasionally with a neat tackle.

The entire Devol forward wall functioned prettily both offensively and on the defense. No one man performed better than the rest.

Devol scored 1at in the opening period. They took the ball from their own 40-yard line and advanced to within scoring distance on plunges and a 20-yard end run by Randall, but were held for downs. Wichita Falls kicked out, and the teams then see-sawed a few minutes in Coyote Pup territory. With but a few minutes of the first quarter remaining Wright broke off tackle for eight yards. One buck netted two, and then Wright carried through for 12. On the next plunge he went over the goal, a four yard advance. Kick for extra point failed.

The Pups held their opponents fairly well the remainder of the first half.

Two in Final.

The only feature of the third period was a 25-yard advance ripped off tackle by Johnson of Devol. This again put the Oklahomans within scoring distance. Wright hit left guard for five yards, putting the ball two yards from the goal. Williams plunged the same position for the touchdown. Again try for point via the dropkick route failed.

With but three minutes to go and the ball in their own territory, the Coyotes Pups opened with an aerial attack. The Pups' rally was ruined when Johnson intercepted a pass and was downed on the 39-yard line. Wright then uncorked a pass to Reynolds, netting nine yards. On the next play, Wright heaved to Bryant for 20 yards who scampered the rest of the way across the goal. Wright scored the extra point on a sweeping end run. The game was over.

The lineup:

Devol	Position	Junior High
Triglett	LE.	Herndon
Hastings	LT.	Saye
Pastaway	LG.	M-t
Houston	C.	Nichols
Harris	RG.	Powell
Simms	RT.	Berry
Bryant	RE.	Anderson
Johnson	QB.	Delaney
Williams	LH.	Brockett
Randall	RH.	Fly
Wright	FB.	Ferrio

Officials: Referee, Deems (W. F. J. C.); umpire, Francis (W. F. J. C.); Linesman, Lawson.

Score by quarters:

Devol	6	0	0	13	—19
Pups	0	0	0	0	—0

Substitutions: Devol—second quarter, Usher for Harris, Barrett for Hastings; third quarter, Arnold for Triglett, fourth quarter, Bingham for Simms, Hastings for Bingham.

Coyote Pups—first quarter, Baines for Saye; second quarter, Carter for Delany; third quarter, Hodgkiss for Mix, Beach for Hodgkiss; fourth quarter, Mix for Beach, George for Brackett, Delaney for Herndon.

Seymour Beats Crowell, 32 to 0

SEYMOUR, Oct. 23.—The Seymour Football club romped over the Crowell eleven by the score of 32 to 0 here Friday. Crowell showed plenty of fight, but the Seymour club was able to go through their forward defense almost at will.

McClure and Watson were the star players of the game, both breaking loose for 40-yard runs.

Herrman and Five "Reds" Discharged

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 23.—(AP)—August "Garry" Herrmann, owner of the Cincinnati league baseball club and five of the seven members of the "Royal Red Rooters," charged with violation of the Volstead act were discharged by United States Commissioner Atkins, after a preliminary hearing here today.

The other two defendants named in the warrant were ordered held after prohibition agents had testified they found pitchers of beer in their hands when they dropped in on the rooters on the seventeenth floor of the Statler hotel here.

DALLAS BEATS A. C. C

DALLAS, Oct. 23.—(AP)—The University of Dallas defeated Abilene Christian college 13 to 3 at Gardner park this afternoon in a gridiron contest that was slowed up by intense heat. A long pass across the goal line in the first period and a 40-yard run in the fourth period gave the Catholics the decisive victory. However, the Hilltoppers held a scant three-point lead for more than half the game and the Christians fought valiantly.

The Wildcats showed improvement over their play against S. M. U. but lacked punch at critical moment. Numerous fumbles by the Catholic offensive probably kept them from scoring two more points.

HARVARD AND CHICAGO BUCK TOUGH TEAMS

Tigers May Find Colgate Hard Sledding In Tiff Today

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—(AP)—A week of severe conditioning has prepared the football elevens of the eastern seaboard for hand-to-hand encounters with other and with foes out of the west on widely scattered battle fields tomorrow.

Chicago marches upon the undefeated Pennsylvania Quakers at Franklin field, where nearly 70,000 are expected to witness the joust.

Harvard goes forth to redeem itself against the invasion of the Dartmouth Indians, who in the past two years have returned into the New Hampshire mountains with crimson scalps. Yale, an uncertain array, enters Providence to disturb the Brown Bear for the first time in almost a quartet of a century. A fighting Colgate squad, led by the evasive Eddie Tryon, creeps up on the Tiger lair at Princeton. The army has been drawn up on its own field to meet the rush of St. Louis.

LaFayette and Washington and Jefferson come out of Pennsylvania to carry on a feud of long standing at New York's Polo Grounds, and the Michigan Aggies have arrived in the center of the Keystone state to engage Penn State. University of Pittsburgh, its forces realigned after defeat, stands ready for revenge upon the forces of Carnegie, victor in the last contest.

Many smaller engagements are scheduled for the afternoon with Fordham going into Ohio to battle Akron, Williams coming out of the Bay state hills to face Columbia, Rutgers clashing with Lehigh, Georgetown meeting Bucknell and Amherst tackling Wesleyan in the first of the "little three" series.

The story that Luis Firpo may meet Floyd Johnson in Buenos Aires if the pieces remain intact after Johnson's meeting with Harry Wills is somewhat exaggerated, Firpo wires. Luis has no thoughts of returning to the ring at this time.

Harvard's committee on the regulation of athletic sports questions the advisability of forbidding football training before September 15. Harvard has an agreement with Yale and Princeton for this limitation.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY.
The missionary society of the Methodist church met Monday afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock in a social and business meeting at the home of Mrs. W. H. McCandless. The rooms were beautifully decorated with late summer blossoms and pot plants. The meeting was opened with a scripture reading by Mrs. F. M. Jackson, and after prayer by Mrs. J. D. Breedlove, some business was attended to. Then a very interesting program was rendered. At the next social meeting, which will be the second Monday in November, the ladies of the society will pack a box of linen for the Methodist Orphan Home in Waco. Mrs. P. D. Sanders will direct the Bell Benefit Memorial services in Haskell Monday, October 19 from 3 to 5 o'clock, and the members of the Rule society are invited to this service. After the drawing from the gift box, which was the most interesting thing of the afternoon, the hostess assisted by Mrs. Grady Keith served an ice course to the following members: Mesdames Dave Crockett, Paul Mercer, E. J. Leon, Ben Sellers, R. T. C. B. and J. D. Breedlove, R. W. Cole, Frank Hines, P. F. Simpson, Jess Smith, A. C. Pruitt, Geo. Salem, S. E. Friend, F. M. Jackson, T. A. Teague, R. F. Cole, J. C. Davis, H. Hagler, J. R. Parson, J. M. Steele and W. W. Waters.
SCHOOL FACULTY
Mrs. R. T. Breedlove delightfully entertained the members of the school faculty with a tacky party Saturday evening of last week. Bowls and vases of late summer blossoms adorned the rooms where many games were played. "Gossiping," "Roll ng the Ball," "Cracker contest," and many other games cleverly arranged by the hostess and Miss West, kept the guests in continual laughter and fun till a late hour. Guests were dressed in quaint costumes and it was hard to tell who was who. At a late hour the hostess assisted by Miss West, served a delicatable salad course with tea to about 40 guests.
PHILADELPHIAN CLUB.
The Philadelphia club will meet Thursday in its regular meeting from 3 to 5 o'clock in the club room. The following program will be rendered: Hostess, Mrs. C. E. Leon, subject: "Taming of the Shrew," picture, "Bridge of the Stour," with Mrs. Joe Jones, leader for the picture. Members will respond to roll call with memory gem from the play. Text Studies, steps in the taming Petruchio—Mrs. Marlin Wilson, Katherine—Mrs. Jess Bell. Text study, reading and questions—Act. 1 (rem) and act 2. Leader Mrs. Elbert Geer.
PERSONALS
Mrs. Server Leon is spending the week in Colorado, the guest of her sister, Mrs. Chester Jones.
Mrs. E. [illegible] the week end in Dallas at the state fair.
Miss Neil Lee Haskell was the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Reddell Wednesday.

LAMAR AVENUE AND ALL POINTS EAST

Mrs. J. W. Culbertson has returned from a stay of several months in Philadelphia and other eastern points.

Mrs. W. A. McCarty and Miss Hilda Masters left yesterday for a week-end visit with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Masters of Denton.

Miss Bess Stewart, principal of Austin school, is quite ill with a severe cold at the home of Judge and Mrs. C. B. Felder, 11..09 Burnett.

Rev. J. N. Hunt of Henrietta will preach at the evening service of Lamar Avenue Baptist church Sunday. The pastor of the church, Rev. A. J. Holt, is out of the city.

Fred T. Barnett of Nashville, Tenn., member of the board of lay activities of the Southern Methodist church, will be in Wichita Falls Sunday and will preach the Sunday morning sermon at the First Methodist church, south.

Rev. Nat F. Grafton talked to the congregation of Temple Israel last night on his recent trip through the Holy Land, giving a survey of conditions as they exist there now and his impressions of the countries. Rabbi Samuel Phillips, who is in Cincinnati, Ohio, attending a convention, will return early in the week and will be at the synagogue next week.

Rev. J. D. Pinkston, formerly assistant pastor of the First Methodist church, south, leaves today for Dallas where he will take up his duties as assistant pastor of the First Methodist church there, working with Rev. Charles C. Gregory. Rev. Pinkston was honored with a dinner last night at the Wichita club given by members of the church and the Epworth leagues. His successor here will be Joel H. McGregor of the First Methodist church, Waco.

He Said He Felt It In His Bones That There Would Be An Accident--There Was

"Well sir, I just felt it in my bones there was going to be an accident, and sure enough there was."

Such was the testimony Friday of a witness in a damage suit now on trial in the 30th district court in which W. A. Copeland is suing the Wichita Falls and Southern Railway as a result of the destruction of his automobile in a crossing accident on Grant street last July.

Ed Hogmiller, now a resident of Fort Smith, Ark., but who at the time of the accident lived here and worked in one of the glass factories, said he was just starting home on the afternoon of July 11 when, for some unexplainable reason, he had a premonition of impending disaster. A few minutes later, just as he came in sight of the Grant street crossing of the Southern tracks, Copeland's auto got mixed up with a railroad locomotive and was completely demolished.

Copeland, who wasn't hurt, said he sold the car to a junk man for $5.

FEATHER IN HAT NEARLY COST HIM HIS LIFE WHEN HUNTERS TAKE SHOT AT HIM

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Wearing an Alpine hat with a feather in it almost cost the life of George S. Russell, young San Francisco club man and the grandson of Gertrude Atherton, author.

The feathered hat seen through the brush near the family ranch 25 miles west of Cloverdale, brought shots from a party of quail hunters.

BOARD TAKES UP SALVATION ARMY BUDGET

Judge Rogers Also Appoints Nominating Groups At Meeting

Judge Guy Rogers, chairman of the board of directors for the Salvation Army, yesterday in the annual meeting of the board appointed a nominating committee composed of the following: W. M. Priddy, chairman, C. H. Clark, W. L. Robertson, J. H. Allison and Dr. F. R. Collard.

Discussion of the budget for the army work during 1924 was taken up, and Captain Wilks of the Salvation Army gave the annual report of the organization's work to the board.

Those present were Captain and Mrs. Wilks, Judge Guy Rogers, C. H. Clark, Mrs. E. B. Gorsline, Jr., W. M. Priddy, W. M. Ross, J. H. Allison, J. C. Hunt, F. R. Collard, W. L. Robertson, W. L. Atwood.

DAVIS DUKE, 13, GETS BULK OF $150,000,000

$17,000,000 Is Given To Tobacco King's Endowment Fund

SOMERVILLE, N. J., Oct. 23.—(AP).—The will of James B. Duke, tobacco magnate disposing of an estate estimated at $150,000,000, was filed today, leaving the greater part to his 13-year-old daughter, Doris, and providing more than $17,000,000 for the Duke endowment established last year. Mrs. Nanaline H. Duke, widow, his second wife, received the Duke residences in three different cities and was named guardian of her daughter.

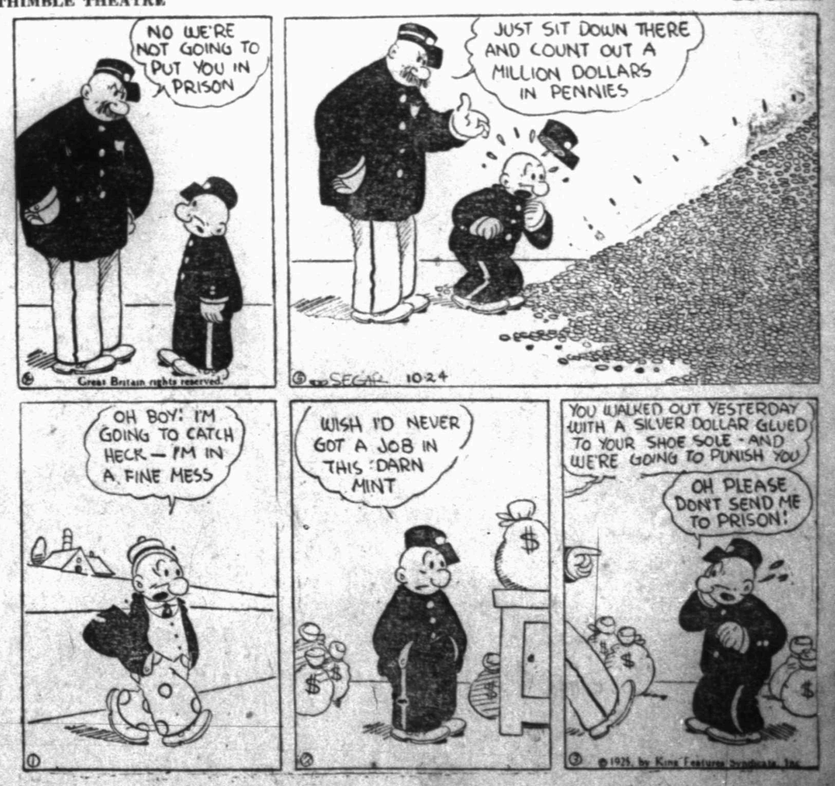

A second bequest was contained in a codicil, drawn October 1, just nine days before Mr. Duke's death. This directs that residuary income shall be added to the Duke endowment with the proviso that $7,000,000 be used for new buildings and improvements at the university.

Mrs. Duke received the Fifth avenue, New York, home, the residence known as Rough Point in Newport, R. I., and the residence known as Lynnewood in Myers Park, North Carolina.

Greater provision was not made for his widow, Mr. Duke pointed out, because of previous funds established in her name.

Wichita County Gets Bargain Bids On Bridge Across the Red

PRICE ABOUT $30,000 UNDER EXPECTATIONS

Firms Willing to Build Span For About $250,000

Wichita county got a bargain in bridge building Friday when proposals for construction of a new free bridge across Red river near Burkburnett were submitted to the county commissioners' court and fell some $30,000 or more below the unofficial estimates made here as to the cost. Of the five bids submitted, three were rejected and two taken under further advisement. A contract for the actual work will be let after more conferences between Wichita county Oklahoma and Texas state engineers and federal highway representatives.

Of the two bids still in the running, the lowest was submitted by A. R. Mackey of Denver, Colo., who presented figures on two types. On the bridge specified as "type one," calling for concrete construction throughout with concrete floor girders, he bid $231,507.97. This was the lowest figure of any presented. On the "type two" structure which calls for steel I-beams in the place of concrete girders, Mackey bid $233,723.74.

The next lowest bidder was Austin Brothers Bridge company, whose proposals were presented by J. P. Templeton. Their "type one" bid was $249,751.44, while on "type two" they bid $236,240.31.

Other bids submitted included Kansas City Bridge company, Kansas City, Mo., type one $350,188.74, type two $324,656.13; Raymond Concrete Pile company, New York City, type one $289,393.09, no bid on type two; W. E. Callahan Construction company, Dallas, type one $273,845.57, type two $375,918.37.

Checks Returned

Certified checks deposited with the county auditor when bids were turned in were returned to the three unsuccessful bidders. Certified checks for $15,000 were deposited by the Mackey and Austin Brother interests and are being retained by the county until the contract is let. The successful bidder will then be required to execute a bond guaranteeing faithful performance of his work.

Bids were opened at 10 o'clock and since all the contractors bid on a unit basis, some time was required for engineers to figure up the totals. These were read at 1:30 in the afternoon and the three high bidders dismissed with the thanks of the court.

Attending the meeting in addition to county commissioners and County Engineer J. M. Isbell were W. C. Burnham, representing the state highway commission of Oklahoma; G. W. Wickline, unofficial representative of the Texas highway department; and A. R. Losh, representing the federal highway department. Mr. Wickline, while he gave his unofficial views on the matter, made it plain he was not taking an active part in the discussion because of the injunction granted in district court in Austin Thursday to interests opposing allotment of state and federal aid for the bridge. This injunction, temporary as yet, restrains the state highway department from giving Wichita county some $163,000 to be applied on the bridge fund.

What Type?

Mr. Burnham and Mr. Losh, however, took an active part in all proceedings.

The big question to be decided now is the type of bridge and this will probably in some measure determine what contractor is to get the work. The Mackey bids were the lowest all the way around but on the I-beam type there is only about $3,000 difference in his and the Austin bid. In the concrete girder type, however, the difference was about $18,000.

A $3,000 difference, it was remarked, isn't much in a job of the size of the one under construction and both Mr. Burnham and Mr. Wickline said they would consider the Mackey and Austin Brothers bids on the concrete girder type as equal if it came to a question of deciding between the two companies on a basis of experience, equipment and ability to guarantee performance.

On the matter of concrete and I-beam girders, Mr. Burnham and Mr. Wickline differed somewhat although both said this point was not one of sufficient importance to get into an argument over. Each said, and Mr. Losh joined them, that either type selected would meet with their approval. Either kind would give an excellent structure, they said.

No Paint fo rCement.

Mr. Burnham expressed a preference for the steel type while Mr. Wickline favored concrete. In behalf of the steel type it was pointed out that a bridge of this nature could be built in about half the time the concrete would require; while on behalf of concrete it was asserted no maintenance cost would be entailed whereas the steel type would require painting every six or eight years. County Engineer J. M. Isbell also inclined to the concrete type but admitted the steel type would give perfectly satisfactory service.

County Judge B. D. Sartin, Mr. Isbell and Messrs. Burnham, Wickline and Losh all expressed surprise at the low bids presented.

"I figured you'd get a bargain at $300,000," Mr. Burnham said, and subsequent remarks of Mr. Wickline and Mr. Isbell indicated the same thing.

JUST A FRIEND SAYS ACTRESS OF CHAS. FREY

Musical Comedy Star Is Sued for $100,000 Heart Balm

MINEOLA, N. Y., Oct. 23.—Wilda Bennett, musical comedy actress, and Charles C. Frey, turfman, are merely friends and nothing more, according to testimony given by the actress. She is being sued by Mrs. Frey for $100,000 on a charge of alienation of Frey's affections.

The actress told a jury yesterday that she had not known that Frey was married until she was served with papers in the alienation suit.

"What were your relations with Frey?" she was asked.

"Friendly always."

"Ever anything more?"

"Never."

"Ever known as his wife?"

"No."

Talked About Horses.

Neither Frey nor any other man ever stayed at her big Long Island home unless her cousin and chaperone was present, she insisted. Instead sof living in her house, as charged, Frey had a cottage just across the street.

"Did you ever live in that cottage?" Mrs. Frey's counsel asked.

"Yes, at present," the actress answered with a tilt of the chin.

She met Frey first in 1923 at the Empire City track.

"He told me the name of a good horse," she said.

"I bet on that horse and later told him he had saved my life, because that made me a winner. I told him to drop in and to see me some time."

Bathing Suit Photo.

Frey, who preceded Miss Bennett on the stand, denied that he had ever breakfasted in his pajamas with the actress, as had been testified by a former butler of hers. Shown a bathing suit picture of himself with his arms around a young woman he denied that it was Miss Bennett and said he could not say who it was, that it might be anyone of a large number.

Miss Bennett took off her hat to exhibit her black bobbed hair for the court and Mrs. Frey to contrast it to the long, light and fluffy hair of the photograph.

Frey refused to name a woman who lived with him for three months in one of his two New York apartments, but denied that it was Miss Bennett.

He denied that Miss Bennett lured him away from his wife.

"If any advances were made I made them," he said.

C. OF C. BUSINESS COUNCIL HEARS MYTINGER LAUD CITY FOR IMPROVEMENT PROGRAM

Stresses Need of Voting Bond Issue to Permit Needed Work Here

Whole-hearted indorsement of the civic improvement program the city council contemplates under the bond issue to be submitted Nov. 10 was given Friday by J. C. Mytinger, prominent local business man, in an address delivered Friday noon before the chamber of commerce business council. Mr. Mytinger stressed the need of ratification of th ebond issue and an immediate launching on the improvement campaign which it is designed to make possible.

In opening his remarks the speaker took up new building activity here and said that an analysis of building permit figures recently announced showed that only one city in Texas exceeded Wichita Falls in the proportionate dollars and cents increase in building in the last year.

Cites Building Record.

The city now ranks fifth in the state in the matter of new buildings started, but he said it actually was exceeded only by ouston insofar as its yearly gain was concerned. Houston, he said, was now some $6,000,000 ahead of last year's building activity; Wichita Falls is second with about $3,000,000 gain; Dallas comes next with $2,00,000, and Fort Worth with around $500,000. San Antonio and El Paso are trailing.

Citing these as proof of the community growth, Mr. Mytinger pointed out that Wichita Falls is now badly in need of a sewage disposal plant; must have more paved streets; is sadly lacking in fire equipment and must have immediate extensions in its sanitary sewer mains. Because of all these, he said, the bond issue to be voted on November 10 should be endorsed in a decisive manner.

Discuss Auditorium.

With this out of the way, Mr. Mytinger indorsed plans submitted earlier in the meeting by County Judge B. D. Sartin in which he declared the time was ripe for the city to start work on a municipal auditorium. He said he hoped it could be built by the spring of 1927 and in time to entertain the annual convention of the west Texas chamber of commerce, which, it is hoped, will come here in that year.

Mr. Mytinger endorsed this idea also, only with the reservation that these others and more needed improvements be attended to first. He said he thought that in 1926 the city should have some definite plans in view for an auditorium if, in fact, it was not already started on construction by that time.

$10,000 REIMBURSED

FREDERICK, Oct. 23.—Depositors in the defunct Oklahoma State bank in Frederick will be materially benefitted by the affirmation in state supreme court of the judgment of $10,000 with accrued interest gained by that institution against Tibbetts and Pleasant, Tulsa contractors. This will bring about $14,000 additional into the liquidating agent's fund.

MUST TEST ALL CARS.

Headlight Stations Cannot "Pick" Their Makes, County Officers Say.

Orders are to be issued to headlight testing stations in the county that cars of all makes must be tested properly when presented by their owners. The attention of the commissioners court was called Friday to the fact that some stations here were refusing to test lights on cars of a make other than the one for which the station or garage was agent. This is a flat violation of the contract under which the testing station licenses were alloted, the court was told, and instructions are to be sent to all stations immediately that further discrimination will bring legal action against the offenders.

NAME WATER COMMITTEE.

Will Confer With City in Working Out Distribution Problems.

T. P. Duncan, C. H. Clark and T. H. Lawson have been appointed by J. T. Harrell, president of the chamber of commerce, as a committee to confer with city officials and lend all possible aid in working out problems incident to the water distribution system in Wichita Falls.

TO DISCUSS INDUSTRIES.

Sub-Committee of Chamber of Commerce Will Hold Meet Today.

A meeting of the sub-committee of a committee appointed by the chamber of commerce directors to study a new industrial finance proposal submitted some time ago by Hubert M. Harrison, general manager of the chamber, will be held at the chamber of commerce rooms this afternoon, it was announced yesterday.

RICH CLUBMAN ACQUITTED IN LOVE SCANDAL

Criminal Charge Against Co-Respondent Is Dismissed

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—(AP)—On motion of the district attorney, the original charge laid against Talbot W. Chambers, wealthy clubman, as a result of his testimony in the divorce suit of Thomas H. Symington, was dismissed today in special sessions.

Chambers was named as co-respondent by Symington and when called as a witness, described the alleged relations in some detail. His arrest on a warrant was immediately obtained at the behest of Mrs. Symington's counsel.

The dismissal of the charge against Chambers was based on a section of the state code of criminal procedure which provides that a confession of a defendant, whether in the course of a judicial proceeding or made to a private person, can be used against him, but is not sufficient to warrant his conviction without additional proof.

William Travers Jerome, counsel for Chambers, contended that there was no such additional proof and this was admitted by the district attorney's office.

150 FLEE HOTEL BLAZE

Hotel Newland at Cincinnati Hit by Early Morning Fire.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 23.—(AP).—One hundred and fifty guests escaped without injury from the Hotel Newland, where fire broke out at 2 o'clock this morning and for half an hour threatened to destroy the entire building. One woman, whose name was not learned, was seized by a fireman as she was about to leap from a third story window to the street.

BOY IS UNHURT AFTER BEING LOST IN WOODS

Just "Kept Walking," Says Lad of 4, Sought All Night

A laconic remark, if a four-year-old boy can speak laconically, that when he got tired he lay down and slept for a while and that the rest of the time he just "kept walkin'" was Delmar Dormier's explanation Friday morning of how he spent a long, dark night Thursday along the banks of the Wichita river and by the side of the old Petrolia road.

The youngster whose disappearance Thursday afternoon resulted in an all-night search by 100 or more men was found just after daybreak near the 77 Ranch, five miles east of the city. He was toddling down the road and was located by a party of hunters who were on their way to Red river. The boy was scratched, was weary and, by his own admission, "awful hungry," but otherwise none the worse for his lonely vigil. He was given an apple by one of the men and taken back to Sheriff Fred K. Smith who, with a party of other men, had hunted all through the night along the river and creek banks near Turkey bend, where the boy apparently strayed away from his mother and a part yof picnickers who spent the day Thursday in that vicinity.

The place where he was found was about three miles east of the point where the search was concentrated Thursday night. When he got there is still a matter of conjecture. He said he walked some before it got dark Thursday night, then he said he walked "a little bit" after dark and finally curled up on a bank and slept until about daylight.

He was taken home to his parents at their residence, 2110 Harvard street, as soon as he was turned over to Sheriff Smith.

Here's Instant Relief From Bunions and Soft Corns

Actually Reduces the Swelling—Soft Corns Dry Right Up And Can Be Picked Off.

All Druggists Say Emerald Oil Must Give Complete Satisfaction or Money Cheerfully Refunded.

Get a two-ounce bottle of Moone's Emerald Oil (full strength) today. Every well stocked drug store has this, with the distinct understanding that your money will be cheerfully returned if it does not reduce the inflammation, soreness, and pain much quicked than any remedy you ever used.

Your bunions may be so swollen and inflamed that you think you can't go another step. Your shoes may feel as if they are cutting right into the flesh. You feel sick all over with the pain and torture and pray for quick relief. What's to be done?

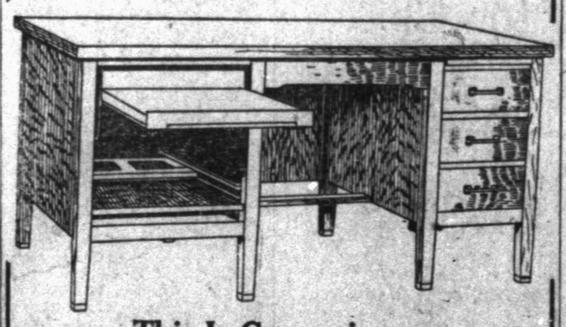

Two or three applications of Moone's Emerald Oil and in 15 minutes all the pain and soreness disappears. A few more applications at regular intervals and the swelling reduces.

And as for Soft Corns a few applications each night at bed time and they just seem to shrivel right up and scale off.

No matter how discouraged you have been with pads, shield, or other applications, if you have not tried Emerald Oil then you have something to learn. Something that will end your foot troubles for ever.

It's a wonderful formula—this combination of essential oils with camphor and other antiseptics so marvelous that thousands of bottles are sold annually for reducing varicose or swollen veins.

All druggists and every good druggist guarantees Moone's Emerald Oil to end your foot troubles or money back.—Adv.
