'Deathbed' Vote Trips Up Teddy

WASHINGTON (AP) — With the deathbed vote of a Senate patriarch, Robert C. Byrd, a West Virginia conservative, has deposed Edward M. Kennedy as Democratic whip of the Senate.

In a day of drama, sorrow and surprise, Senate Democrats gave a more conservative cast to their party's leadership—and dealt a setback to whatever prospect remained that Kennedy might emerge as a contender for the 1972 Democratic presidential nomination.

and with a nod of his head, signaled Sen. Jennings Randolph, his West Virginia colleague, that he would challenge Kennedy. Randolph made the speech nominating Byrd.

Kennedy has said he will not run for president in 1972.

In defeat, Kennedy said he now will be "free to devote my energies to issues that I believe

Jesuit Priest Is Questioned In Stock Case

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — How the venture of a Houston Jesuit father into banking business led to his being pulled into a Securities and Exchange Commission probe is shown in depositions about the alleged Texas stock fraud.

Papers filed at U.S. Dist. Judge Sarah T. Hughes's court show that the Rev. Michael F. Kenedy, now president of Loyola University, New Orleans, was for a time an honorary director of the Sharpstown State Bank, one of 26 defendants against which the SEC is bringing civil suit.

HE QUIT
He resigned his directorship, which he held since 1963, five days before submitting himself voluntarily for questioning by SEC officers in Houston Jan. 13.

Father Kenedy, who founded Strake College Preparatory in Houston and was president of it until Aug. 6 last year, was accompanied to the hearing by two lawyers representing the Jesuit Fathers of Houston, Inc.

According to the deposition, he said he met Frank W. Sharp, the Houston banker-developer who is one of the principal defendants in 1959, soon after arriving in Houston, when he went to see about the purchase of land through the Sharpstown Realty Co. so that he could build a college.

FAMILY GIFT
Sharp donated 85 acres of land as a family gift and the school was later built on it. Jesuit Fathers of Houston, Inc. was formed about that time.

The deposition showed that the fathers expressed their appreciation of Sharp's contributions by sending out engraved invitations for a banquet, which was attended by several hundred of the most prominent people in Houston. The banquet was in honor of the Sharp family and Sharp stood with his wife and the Jesuit Superior in the receiving line.

Did You Hear About LBJ?

AUSTIN (AP) — Former President Lyndon Johnson is wearing a hearing aid — but he's not inclined to talk about it. Johnson, with his wife, appeared Thursday for the dedication of a new building at the University of Texas, his first public appearance since hospitalized recently in San Antonio with pneumonia.

The former president appeared to have lost some of his usual deep sun tan and several times coughed as if still bothered by a cold.

For the first time, at least in public, he wore a hearing aid attached to his glasses. A clear plastic tube leads down from the right side of the glasses to a clear plastic insert in his right ear.

"How do you like the hearing aid?" a reporter asked. "Mighty good to see you," the former president replied. A few minutes later another reporter asked the same question and got the same answer.

DEDICATION Chapel Name Will Honor R. L. Tollett

The all faith chapel on the campus of Big Spring State Hospital, now in the final stages for completion, is to bear the name Tollett All Faith Chapel.

This decision was voted unanimously Thursday at a meeting of the Chapel Committee, which has guided fund raising and construction of the edifice.

The gesture is in tribute to the late R. L. Tollett and members of his family. It was Tollett who provided greatest impetus to the chapel program, making a major gift to start off the fund and adding to this on other occasions. After his death, trustees of the Siblings Foundation which he had established, transferred Foundation assets to the chapel fund, and actually made possible sufficient monies for construction to proceed.

Committee members are at work on plans for program to mark the formal dedication of the chapel. Dates will be announced as soon as word is received from state notables who have been invited to have a part in the formal ceremonies. All work on the building and grounds is due to be completed within two or three weeks.

Hijack Airliner With 23 Persons

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — An Ethiopian DC3 airliner with 23 persons aboard was hijacked at gunpoint and forced to land in Khartoum, Sudan, today, Beirut airport officials reported.

The plane was on a domestic flight between Bahardar and Gondar, in Ethiopia. It had 20 passengers and a crew of three, the officials said.

Beirut airport received word at noon that it had landed safely in the Sudanese capital.

The identity and number of the hijackers were not known, but it was believed to be the work of the Eritrean Liberation Front, or ELF, which is fighting for Eritrea's independence from Ethiopia.

ELF's commando arm, known as Ikab, or punishment hijacked three Ethiopian airliners to Frankfurt, Karachi and Aden in 1969 and 1970. A fourth attempt to hijack an Ethiopian plane on a flight from Madrid to Athens in December, 1969, was foiled by Ethiopian armed guards who killed two of the hijackers.

TEENS STOP TRAFFIC TO FIGHT DEFECTS

Teenagers will be stopping traffic Saturday in Big Spring and Coahoma to help fight birth defects.

The roadblocks are manned by teenagers from Howard County and the surrounding area and are sponsored by the Caprock Chapter of the March of Dimes.

Chairmen of the roadblock committee this year are Joan Crawford and Vicki Annen, Big Spring, and Phyllis Wynn, Coahoma.

Teens will be stationed at Sixth and Main, Eleventh and Birdwell and Second and Scurry in Big Spring. Collectors will be armed with March of Dimes identification and money containers.

Motorists are asked to keep an eye out for the teens and contribute if possible to help the teenage campaign against birth defects, according to Mrs. Catherine Crawford, adult supervisor.

Enemy Attack Wrecks Tiny Air Force

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — A rocket, mortar and commando attack on Phnom Penh's airport and a nearby military camp and ammunition dumps early today took a heavy toll of lives, wrecked Cambodia's tiny air force and overshadowed the Cambodian army's success in its drive to reopen the highway to the sea.

The casualty count was not available, but the number of Cambodians dead and wounded were estimated at more than 100. Only one or two of the attackers were reported killed.

Newsmen were barred from the airport, eight miles outside the city, and no accurate count of the destruction was available. But Cambodian officers said six of their air force's eight helicopters were destroyed and the other two were extensively damaged.

LIKE JUNKYARD
From a nearby rooftop, it appeared that few if any military planes on the field could fly. The military flight line looked like a junkyard.

The destruction of the air force was likely to have little if any effect on the prosecution of the war since most of the air attacks in Cambodia are flown by the U.S. and South Vietnamese air forces. But it was a severe psychological blow to Premier Lon Nol's government.

EXPLOSIONS
Eyewitnesses also reported the closest enemy attack yet to the center of Phnom Penh, a rocket that landed in a riverside shipyard on the edge of downtown Phnom Penh. As firemen fought the blaze at the yard, a battle could be seen close to the naval base across another of the capital's rivers, with tracer bullets curving through the night sky and numerous explosions echoing across the waters.

Trucks hauled bodies and scores of blood-spattered women and children into Phnom Penh from the airport and army camp eight miles outside the city. The death toll was not known, but it was feared it would be high.

CRUCIAL NOD

The crucial vote was that of the dying Sen. Richard B. Russell of Georgia, cast by proxy. Without it, Byrd said, he never would have run, never would have known he had more than enough votes to oust Kennedy from the party's No. 2 position in the Senate.

The secret vote Thursday was 31 to 24, at a caucus Kennedy entered believing he had firm commitments of 23 colleagues to elect him to a second term as whip.

But it was Byrd, who has fashioned his reputation and his leadership career as a technician, a headcount, the man on hand for the parliamentary errands, who had the votes.

'D RUN'
For all that, Byrd entered the caucus unannounced, awaiting word from Walter Reed Army Medical Center about Russell's condition.

He had word from Russell's staff Monday that the proxy vote of the Georgia senator would be cast for him. And by Byrd's count, that gave him 28 votes, just enough to win.

"I made up my mind, if he were living, I'd run," Byrd said. "If Sen. Russell had not been living, I would not have run."

The speeches nominating Kennedy for whip already had been made when Byrd slipped from the caucus room off the Senate floor, checked with an aide to Sen. Herman Talmadge, D-Ga., on the condition of Russell.

"He told me it was exactly what I had been," Byrd said. He walked back into the room

SCOTT WON RE-ELECTION

Scott won re-election 24 to 20. The defeat could raise political problems for Baker, who will be up for re-election in 1972.

Mansfield was re-elected without opposition as majority leader, a job he already has held for a record 10 years.

Sen. Frank E. Moss of Utah was elected to succeed Byrd as secretary of the Democratic caucus.

"Two years ago, Kennedy got a lot of support because people thought he was going to be president, and when he was, they would have favored and preferred for having helped," said a liberal senator who said he voted for Kennedy.

Kennedy was elected whip two years ago, 31 to 26, ousting Sen. Russell B. Long of Louisiana from the assistant leader's job.

But in the Congress that followed, he was often absent, and Byrd moved in to fill the vacancy on the Senate floor, guarding the rights of a senator who wanted to make a speech, entering routine parliamentary requests for an absent colleague.

The secret ballot rendered more difficult the process of un-sorting motives and grudges. At least 26 senators or their aides said or strongly indicated they had voted for Kennedy.

1972 CONTENDERS
Four potential contenders for the 1972 Democratic presidential nomination, trying to squelch speculation presidential hopefuls had perhaps voted to oust Kennedy to eliminate a potential rival, announced they

Nixon To Outline 'New Initiatives'

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon, his eye presumably fixed on 1972, delivers his

State of the Union message tonight, outlining for Congress and the nation "new approaches and new initiatives" he thinks will ease the country's problems.

Nixon went out of his way to promise in advance the boldest and most far-reaching remedies ever proposed for national ills.

The traditional message will be delivered live to a joint session of Congress and will be televised and broadcast beginning at 8 p.m. (Big Spring time).

For a brief time, consideration was given to postponing the speech because of the death Thursday afternoon of one of the most power-laden senators, Democrat Richard B. Russell of Georgia.

The White House said it checked with aides to Russell, dean and president pro tem of the Senate, and with the congressional leadership and was advised Nixon should deliver his address as scheduled.

The focus of the President's remarks will be domestic problems and his prescriptions for dealing with them. Foreign policy questions will be dealt with in mid-February in a lengthy written document informally labeled the President's "state of the world" report.

Famed American Pilot Guest Speaker At Webb

Brig. Gen. Daniel (Chappie) James Jr., makes his third appearance at Webb Saturday as he speaks at the annual Permanent Party Dining-In at the Officers' Open Mess.

The general's other visits to Webb were for dining-in engagements in 1966 and again in 1968.

According to Capt. W. E. Dunivant, project officer for the dining-in, the affair will begin at 7 p.m. with a 45-minute refreshment hour. Dinner will be served at 7:45 p.m.

Gen. James is widely known for his speeches on Americanism. Some of these speeches have been read into the Congressional Record.

He was awarded the George Washington Freedom Foundation Medal in 1967 and again in 1968. He received the Arnold Air Society Zuckert Award in 1970 for outstanding contributions to Air Force professionalism. His citation read: "... fighter pilot with a magnificent record, public speaker, and eloquent spokesman for the American Dream we so rarely achieve."

The general became deputy assistant secretary of defense (public affairs) March 31, 1970. Prior to his appointment to this office, he was commander of 7272nd Flying Training Wing, Wheelus AB, Libyan Arab Republic.

Gen. James was born February 11, 1920, in Pensacola, Fla., where he graduated from Washington High School in June, 1937. He attended Tuskegee Institute at Tuskegee, Ala., from September, 1937, to March, 1942, receiving a bachelor of science degree in physical education and completing a civilian pilot training program.

GEN. 'CHAPPIE' JAMES
Army Air Corps Aviation Cadet Program until January, 1943, when he entered the program

as a cadet and received his commission as a second lieutenant in July, 1943. He next completed fighter pilot combat training at Selfridge Field, Mich., and was assigned to various fighter units in the United States for the next six years.

In September, 1949, Gen. James went to the Philippines and was assigned as a flight leader at Clark Field. In July, 1950, he went to Korea where he flew 101 combat missions in F-51 and F-80 aircraft during the Korean War.

Gen. James returned to the United States and in July, 1951, went to Otis AFB, Mass., where he was assigned as a jet fighter pilot and later became squadron operations officer. In April, 1953, he became commander of the 437th Fighter Interceptor Squadron. While stationed at Otis, he received the Mass. (See PILOT, Pg. 2-A, Col. 6)

JOINS WIFE IN 'GIVEAWAY' Preacher Ousted By Laredo Church Over 'Other Woman'

LAREDO, Tex. (AP) — Rita Schaefer, wife of a preacher who church officials say won't give up another woman, stood with her children in the doorway of their home Thursday and gave away nearly everything they own.

Her husband, the Rev. Will Schaefer, former pastor of the First United Methodist Church here, stood with her and said he will take legal action if a church official doesn't apologize for statements made about his relationship with the "other woman."

Schaefer was ousted from the church Sunday because, the officials said, he refused to sever a romantic relationship with Judy Nash, a recently-divorced 27-year-old San Antonio woman who has been living with the Schaefers.

LIVING TOGETHER
Schaefer said that the Rev. Sam Fore, superintendent of the Methodist District, had said in a Sunday sermon that Mrs.

Nash had exerted a strong influence over Schaefer's life.

"We asked him to make a public apology and withdraw his statements," said Schaefer, wearing mod boots and bell-bottom jeans.

Church officials said that Schaefer told them he was in love with Mrs. Nash and that he would not end the affair. Previously, Schaefer said that he, his wife, Rita, 34, and Mrs. (See PREACHER, P. 2-A, C. 6)

Big Springers Are Honored With Silver Beaver Awards

A busy physician and hospital chief who nevertheless finds time to serve as a scoutmaster, and two men whose careers in Scouting have been crowned with four Eagle Scout sons, were among those to receive the Silver Beaver award at the Buffalo Trail Council banquet in Midland Thursday.

This is the highest honor the council can bestow upon volunteer leaders. The Big Spring men so honored were Dr. Clyde E. Thomas, chief of staff at Hall-Bennett Memorial Hospital and Clinic; Lee Roy Wright, Cosden employe and civic and Scouting leader at Sand Springs; and Jack Alexander, director of asphalt marketing for American Petrofina and district chairman.

Others to receive this top award were Wade Howell, Odessa, and Virgil Clyde Hendley, Odessa. Dr. Thomas also was installed as vice president of the 18-county council area. Dr. Billy N. Shaw, Odessa, was returned as president, and serving with him will be E. L. (Bick) Kent, Monahan, and James R. Perry, Odessa, also vice presidents. The council treasurer is Hoyte McCright, Midland, and the commissioner is Ned Truex, Odessa.

Steve Odom, Midland, council executive, said that there was a 4.3 per cent gain in boys and 3.3 per cent increase in units during the past, reversing losses the last three years. Monty Stokes, Big Spring field executive who serves the Lone Star District, was cited as the 10-year top-hand award. On a point basis, his district was the leading one in the council, and it earned the Spence award, presented to Jack Powell, immediate past district chairman. Powell had a delegation of more than four score people with him.

Kirk Henry, Dallas, Region IX executive, told the banquet crowd that the aims of Scouting were still the same as when the movement was founded 60 years ago and the challenge of reaching one in three boys by 1976 was "to get more boys into Scouting and more Scouting into boys."

Tributes were paid to Gene Vaughn, field director, who is to become executive for the Conquistador council at Roswell, N.M. Alexander, now serving for a second time as district chairman, has spent nearly a score years in Scouting as a packmaster, scoutmaster, committee man, commissioner, and in other posts. He and Mrs. Alexander have four Eagle Scout sons. Capt. Don Alexander flew up from San Antonio, Capt. Ray Alexander came over from Canon AFB at Roswell, N.M., and Mike Alexander came down from Texas Tech. Lt. Mark Alexander FT. Riley, Kans., was unable to attend, but Dr. Bill Alexander, Abilene, who holds the Beaver, was on hand for his brother's honor. Alexander is past president of the Kiwanis club, formerly served on the school board, and is a graduate of Texas Tech.

Wright has been active in Scouting for more than 19 years, heading troops in Coahoma and Sand Springs (since 1957). His unit has done outstanding work in disaster relief and long has been one of the crack units of the council. Wright has helped organize other units, including one at the Big Spring State Hospital. He is a charter member of the Sand Springs Lions Club.

He and Mrs. Wright also are parents of four Eagle Scout sons. Present for their father's honor were C. Roy Wright, Wesley Wright, and Marvin Wright. The other son is Jimmy Wright.

Dr. Thomas has been connected with Scouting for more than 45 years, first as a Boy Scout in historic old Troop 1 in Big Spring. He was in a group of four who were the first to earn the Eagle badge in Big Spring. He has served in numerous capacities on a district and council level, and despite his taxing schedule as a doctor, still thinks boys are important enough to warrant giving them most of his spare time as scoutmaster. He is past president of several district and area medical and surgical organizations. His only son, Mike, is one of his scouts.

Gen. James went to Ubon RTAFB, Thailand, in December, 1966, as deputy commander for operations and in June, 1967, was named wing vice commander. He flew 78 combat missions into North Vietnam and led a flight in the Bolo MIG sweep in which seven Communist MIG 21 aircraft were destroyed.

He was named vice commander of the 33rd Tactical Fighter Wing at Eglin AFB, Fla., in December, 1967. While stationed at Eglin, Gen. James was chosen by the Florida Jaycees as Florida's Outstanding American of the Year for 1969, and he received the Jaycee Distinguished Service Award. He was transferred to Wheelus in August, 1969, where he remained until he was assigned to his present position.

Gen. James is married to the former Miss Dorothy Watkins of Tuskegee, Ala. They have a daughter, Danice, and two sons, Daniel III and Claude.

THREE WOUNDED Wild Shootout Near Frogville

HUGO, Okla. (AP)—A young high school girl, her father and a school bus driver were wounded today in an exchange of gunfire at a school bus stop near Frogville in Choctaw County. Authorities said the shooting apparently climaxed an argument between the two men.

Sheriff Ed Thornton said his preliminary investigation indicated the gunfire began as the girl, Sheila Houston, 15, attempted to get off the school bus in front of her home.

The sheriff said her father, Richard Houston, 44, was shot in the left side. Russell Allred, about 50, operator of a general store at Frogville and a school bus driver for the Fort Towson school system, suffered facial, hand and arm wounds in the exchange of gunfire. Sheila was shot in the leg.

Thornton said there had been an argument in recent days between Houston and Allred over Allred's efforts to maintain discipline on the school bus. He said Allred and Jerry Hunter, the Fort Towson school superintendent, had come to his office Wednesday night to discuss the argument.

Afterward, Thornton said, he talked by telephone with both Houston and Allred and thought the problem had been solved. The flurry of shots began after the bus, partially loaded, stopped in front of the Houston house to pick up the Houston children.

The sheriff said Houston was standing in the yard and Mrs. Houston was on the front porch. After the children boarded the bus Sheila, a junior at Fort Towson High School, attempted to get back off, the sheriff said, presumably to return to her father.

He said the investigation had not determined who fired first or whose shot struck Sheila. Houston was treated at Hugo Memorial Hospital and then transferred to the Veterans Administration Hospital at Muskogee. His condition was listed as satisfactory. A doctor said the shot entered his side just under the left arm-pit and emerged from the left side of his back.

Allred was transferred to Parkland Hospital in Dallas. His condition also was listed as satisfactory. There was no immediate report on the girl's condition, but hospital attendants said the first examination indicated she suffered only a flesh wound in her thigh.

STANTON CHAMBER BANQUET SATURDAY
STANTON — Bob Deavenport will take over the reins of the Martin County Chamber of Commerce from Chuck Elmore here Saturday evening at the annual banquet slated for 7:30 o'clock in Caprock Electric Cooperative.

SOMEbody's MOTHER?
If anyone has lost a possibly pregnant, or at least a very fat, black heifer within the last two weeks, it can be claimed at the Haney property 10 miles out the Snyder Hwy.

Mrs. Edith Haney reported to the sheriff's office that she had a four-footed boarder and would like to find the owner. The heifer has a brand on its left hip, but a check showed it to be unlisted with the county clerk. The cow weighs approximately 700 pounds.

Mrs. Haney would appreciate help in finding the owner — before she has two four-footed boarders.

SWINE INCREASE NOTED IN STATE
LUBBOCK — Texas boasted the largest increase in swine numbers from a year earlier among all 50 states. And a big part of that increase is on the High Plains, reports Dr. Gilbert Hollis, area swine specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Hollis cited figures compiled by the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service which show a total of 1,419,000 head on farms on Dec. 1, 1970, a 48 per cent increase from 959,000 a year earlier.

"It's safe to say that at least 65 per cent of the statewide increase in swine numbers occurred in the High Plains area," points out Hollis. "This means an increase of more than 299,000 head."

The specialist adds that the members of the association present at the meeting declined to say how much will be paid for the portraits by Aaron Shickler, a New York artist, whose work previously had been okayed by the former Mrs. Kennedy, now Mrs. Aristotle Onassis.

The White House said Mrs. Onassis would be asked to express her wishes on the unveiling ceremony.

SEC PROBES STOCK DEALINGS

Gov. Smith, Ex-Gov. Shivers Give Differing Accounts Of Buys

DALLAS (AP) — Securities and Exchange Commission documents showed Thursday that Gov. Preston Smith and former Gov. Allan Shivers got their stories crossed up when they gave statements to the SEC regarding an alleged stock fraud scheme.

Smith had said Wednesday he never talked with Shivers about vetoing banking legislation which is at the center of the growing stock deal investigation involving high-placed state government officials.

Yet, Shivers said he talked with Smith several times and asked Smith to veto the measure.

But, Thursday, Smith apparently had his memory refreshed and told SEC investigators that he had merely forgotten about the telephone conversations with Shivers.

VETO QUIZ
A press aide to the governor said Shivers had contacted Smith "several times, at least twice," asking Smith to veto the bill.

Smith said Wednesday only two persons had contacted him about veto — Banking Commissioner J. M. Falkner and Darrell Henry, president of the Texas Banker's Association.

Shivers said in his deposition that he called Gov. Smith "two or three, or maybe four times about it, asking him to veto it."

Smith denied, in his statement to SEC investigators, discussing the bill with Shivers.

But both were firm in denying any knowledge of anything being offered either to get the bill signed or vetoed.

Smith was interviewed in the governor's office in the state Capitol by Gerald E. Boltz and Robert Watson, two officers of the U. S. Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), last Dec. 18. Bob Bullock was there as the governor's legal adviser.

The meeting opened on a discordant note.

MY NAME IS . . .
When the governor was asked to state his name for the record, he answered testily: "I think it's ridiculous. My name is Preston Smith."

A few moments later, when asked to raise his right hand and take the oath, he refused. "I will give you a statement," the document quotes the governor as saying, "but we're not going through any court business here. I'm not going to take any oath here."

"If you don't want it under oath, it won't be under oath," Boltz agreed.

"Sometimes we get testimony under oath and therefore feel that if there is to be refuting testimony or testimony to the contrary, then it should be under oath," he said.

The governor replied:

GET OUT OF HERE
"If you want a statement I will give it to you. If you don't, let's get out of here."

"Fine. It will not be under oath then," said Watson, the second SEC officer.

Smith agreed he bought 10,000 shares of National Bankers Life Insurance Co. (NBL) stock in July, 1969.

He said he had had "a little purchasing arrangement" for the last four or five years with (State Democratic Chairman Elmer Baum, and Dr. Baum handled all their investment business.

He said he knew that Shivers used to own NBL and "I have known Gov. Shivers a long time." He said he had also known John Osorio, one-time president of NBL, a long time.

"I thought it was solid-good people," Smith said. Asked how payment was made for the stock, the governor said: "I suppose we paid for it with money. I don't know. We had a bank account down at the City National Bank and I believe

I signed a note with Dr. Baum and I don't know where I signed it. We sign so many of them . . ."

Watson produced a note dated Aug. 1, 1969, at the Sharpstown State Bank of Houston, an SEC defendant, which apparently was signed by both Baum and Smith.

MY SIGNATURE

"That's my signature," the governor said.

Smith said he didn't recall discussing with Baum that money for the purchase of the NBL stock was going to be borrowed from the Sharpstown State Bank.

"You don't recall his telling you who was arranging it?" asked Watson.

"I just thought my credit was that good, and it is that good," Smith answered.

Discussing the NBL stock, he went on:

"We kept the stock until — I don't know how long — until it went up to $20 and I think we sold part of it, and then we bought some more. The stock went up, I believe, to around $28 or $30, and we probably still have some of it, but I don't know."

'I KNOW JOHN'

Asked if he had ever discussed the transaction in any way with Frank W. Sharp, the Houston banker-developer who is a principal defendant, Smith said: "No sir. I never mentioned it with him at all."

The questioning turned to the controversial banking insurance legislation of last year.

Smith said he had never discussed it with Osorio.

"Do you recall Dr. Baum ever telling you that Frank Sharp was a proponent of the legislation?" asked Watson.

"No, he never mentioned it to me," Smith replied.

Lebanon Plans To Install Missile Defense System

By The Associated Press

Lebanon plans to install a missile defense system to ward off Israeli attacks, Premier Saeb Salam has told a closed session of the Lebanese parliament.

Lebanese deputies disclosed today that the missiles will be part of a "comprehensive defense plan" that will also include purchase of other modern weapons for the 15,000-man army. Salam said the government soon will seek approval of the defense plan from parliament, the members said, adding that the premier believes a peaceful Middle East settlement "still is far away" and Lebanon must move quickly to strengthen its defenses.

Salam gave no details about the missile net or where Lebanon plans to purchase it. But a French press report in September, 1969, said Lebanon had bought from South Africa a system of French low-altitude Crotale missiles, with first deliveries due at the end of 1971. Beirut never denied the report.

The purchase from South Africa was a technicality, the report said, to get around the French government's embargo on arms deliveries to Middle East countries.

Beirut newspapers recently said that President Suleiman Franjeh has approved an army plan to install anti-aircraft missiles at strategic points along the border with Israel.

The costs of the Crotale contract never were disclosed, but government sources said $65 million was earmarked for the country's new defense plan in 1971.

A LOVELIER YOU Cure Skin Problems, Not Cover Them Up

By MARY SUE MILLER

When troubled with a skin problem, most of us seek a coverup — first and foremost. Too few of us look for a treatment that would remedy, or at least ease, the flaws we mask.

Really, it's rather like an ostrich sticking her head in the sand as danger approaches. None of us would do that, would we? Well then let's look at a needed treatment square in the eye.

No better place to start than eye-to-eye. What about those fine lines around the eyes? Specialized oils, creams, sticks, and mildly astringent pads and liquid lifts pamper the thin, delicate tissue in the area in a way that is superior to general purpose facial products.

By the same token, a lined neck benefits from creams and oil concentrates formulated for it. The skin on the neck is thicker than that on the face and wants treatments with extra penetrating, emollient powers.

Right here you can see differences in needs: The eye areas respond to a feather touch, the neck to firm hand. A chin strap? It's great for making you hold your head up — the best answer to chins and throats that overlap.

Enlarged pores? Soap and more soap, plus astringent "tonics." Both are made for dry to oily skins.

The catalogue is long. Newest are foaming facials that turn from hot to cold, to enliven a tired face... Mud soaps, individualized, brought out of the dermatologist's office for public use... Wrinkle "erasers," half makeup, half treatment. Seek and you shall find!

FIRM FACE MUSCLES

To firm and uplift sagging facial muscles and flesh, use my four-way method. It works wonders through corrective exercise, posture, skin care and makeup. Procedures are detailed in the leaflet, "Banish Crepey Throat & Chin." For your copy, write Mary Sue Miller in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing 15 cents in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Class Has Study On Parables

The parable, told by Jesus, of a wise man who built upon rock and a foolish man who built upon sand was the basis for a Bible study conducted Tuesday by Mrs. N. M. Hipp for the Baptist Women of West-side Baptist Church.

Someone to thank

"God is a product of man's imagination," announced the dignified intellectual who occupied our TV screen. "God isn't dead," he argued as our children watched. "He was never alive!"

Mary and I felt that Christian children such as ours should realize that not everyone believes in God. Perhaps, knowing this, they could better understand the state of the world. We would encourage and answer their questions as best we could, confident that God would not allow their faith to be destroyed.

Later, before I tucked Kristen into bed, she clasped her hands and closed her eyes. "Dear Lord," she prayed, "thank you for Mommy and Daddy. Thank you for Zoomie (her goldfish) and Toddy and my new dress . . ." She stopped suddenly, and I raised questioning eyes to her. "Daddy," she said anxiously, "that man on TV doesn't have anyone to thank!"

Do you have Someone to thank? Come to church this Sunday.

Raps Aired In Fraud Suit Dim Legislative Doings

AUSTIN (AP) — Legislators probably spent today answering the same question over and over: "What's really going on at the capitol?"

The stock fraud suit that revealed how many prominent politicians use inside tips in playing the stock market overshadowed the second-term inauguration of Gov. Preston Smith and Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes.

Smith was linked to an investigation by the securities exchange commission of National Bankers Life Insurance Co. because he allegedly made a profit on the insurance stock.

"VERY, VERY HAPPY"

Barnes said no one had ever talked to him about the stock, and he said he was "very, very happy" that they had not.

Neither Smith nor Barnes was accused of wrongdoing.

Speaker Gus Mutscher also bought and sold the stock, a banker's deposition showed, but Mutscher was not named either in the SEC's civil suit.

Although lawmakers and lobbyists hardly talked of anything but stock deals all week, Mutscher finally named his committee chairman Thursday, clearing the way for formal introduction of bills in the House.

SPENDING BILLS

Some 100 proposals already have been introduced in the Senate, and the appropriations subcommittee has heard budget requests from numerous state agencies for the next two-year spending bill.

The House budget writers went to work Thursday after Mutscher reappointed controversial Rep. W.S. Healy of Paducah as chairman of the House Appropriations Committee.

Mutscher ignored speakership candidates Reps. Rayford Price of Palestine and Jack Ogg of Houston in appointing chairmen of 46 committees.

Mutscher bypassed Price, chairman last session of the powerful State Affairs Committee, and Ogg, the vice chairman, in naming Rep. James Slider of Naples to that job.

SMU 'STAR'

A former SMU halfback in the 1940s, Rep. Dick McKissack, was named chairman of the Liquor Regulation Committee, which probably will consider liquor by the drink proposals.

Senators passed, 26-2, and sent to the House a bill exempting from the sales tax the receipts from leasing or licensing of motion pictures to or by licensed television stations. The sponsor, Sen. W.T. Moore of Bryan, said the measure merely restores an old exemption which the legislature mistakenly took out in 1969. He said it would apply primarily to movies shown on TV.

Proposals introduced in the Senate Thursday would:

- Allow withholding part of a father's wages to pay child support.
- Change the date of Texas primary elections from the first Saturday in May to early August.
- Strengthen the drunk-driving law by authorizing chemical testing of blood and urine to determine a driver's blood alcohol and setting limits where a driver would be presumed to be intoxicated.
- Ask the Texas Legislative Council to analyze state employment practices within the next two months to aid in preventing discrimination in hiring jobseekers.

"METHADONE"

House proposals would assure minimum health and safety standards for children's camps and establish a "methadone" program to aid in rehabilitating drug addicts.

Here is a complete list of the new chairmen of the 46 House committees:

- Aeronautics — Bill Braecklin, Dallas.
- Agriculture — Raul Longoria, Edinburg.

Half a dozen chapter and campaign leaders from the Howard County chapter of the American Cancer Society participated in the District 2 Crusade meeting Thursday at Midland.

Among speakers at the all-day session were Dr. Martha Madsen, Midland, who talked about the need for the Crusade which comes up in April, and Dr. Edwin R. Franks, Iraan, district medical director. Mrs. Torp also helped outline county goals.

The district goal will be $90,000 this spring, and the Howard County target is $6,500.

Attending the conference with Mrs. Torp from Big Spring were Mrs. Ben Boodle, publicity and education chairman, Mrs. Horace Miles, Sand Springs, Mrs. Merrill Creighton, Crusade chairman; Mrs. Joe Smoot, assistant Crusade chairman; and Mrs. Paul Petterson, house-to-house canvass chairman.

LETTER Dog-Lovers Say Thanks

TO THE EDITOR:

The officers, directors and members of the Big Spring Kennel Club wish to extend our thanks to the people of our community for their help and support of the Big Spring Kennel Club's All-Breed Dog Show and Obedience Trial Saturday in Hangar Number One at Webb AFB.

While it would be impossible to list everyone who contributed to the success of the show, we would like to say a special "Thanks" to everyone at Webb. The excellent base-community relationship here in Big Spring is legend throughout the Training Command and is certainly recognized and appreciated by the civilian population of our city.

We also wish to thank the news media of our city. Tommy Hart and others on the Herald staff have always been most helpful and gracious to us. Our local radio stations, likewise, can always be counted on to "spread the word" of our club's activities.

To those firms and individuals who donated trophies and/or purchased advertising in our show catalogue, "Thanks a million."

And thanks to all of you who attended our show.

Sincerely,
BRUCE WRIGHT,
Director, Big Spring Kennel Club

Four Children Shot By Father

PASADENA, Tex. (AP) — Police reported a father walked into the home of his estranged wife about 3 a.m. today and shot their four children—two fatally. He then left the home and telephoned officers. The children's mother was at work.

Pasadena Police Capt. Charles Benson said the call was received from Martin G. Larioz, 38, who was picked up and was being questioned at a late hour.

Capt. Benson said Larioz refused to discuss the shootings. He fatally shot his son Roderick Larioz, 7. He died at 5:40 a.m.

The others wounded were Jeffrey, 13, shot in the right arm; Charlene, 14, hit in the right wrist; and Yvonne, 12, shot in the left arm. These wounds were superficial and the children were given treatment at Bayshore Hospital and dismissed.

Capt. Benson and other officers interrogated the mother, Mrs. Mary Larioz, 34, and the three children. She had been at work at her regular job at a motel.

Capt. Benson said no motive had been established other than that it was a family affair. He said the man and wife had been estranged for some time.

Officers said the children were sleeping when the shooting started. A .22-caliber revolver was the weapon.

Larioz is a clerk for a Pasadena industry. While Larioz was telephoning police, the children telephoned officers and called an ambulance.

President To Unveil 'Bold' Plans, Agnew Tells Texans

HOUSTON (AP)—Vice President Spiro T. Agnew says President Nixon's state of the union message tonight will include a program that is "bold, imaginative and statesmanlike."

Speaking at a cancer research fund raising dinner Thursday night, Agnew said one of the most important parts of the new domestic program will affect the field of health care.

At the $100-a-plate dinner he presented Jim Stillwagon, Ohio State linebacker, the first annual Vince Lombardi award as the outstanding lineman of college football in 1970.

RICKETS
Some 400 anti-war demonstrators picketed the hotel where Agnew spoke. About 35 persons were arrested after a clash between police and some of the demonstrators. No serious injuries were reported.

Agnew said the Nixon proposal will offer a broad new approach to both the financing of health care and the expansion of its delivery systems.

"We believe the American Cancer Society and other interested private and public organizations will be pleased with the scope of the program and will join us in a renewed national effort to prevent, treat and cure disease and alleviate human suffering," the vice president said.

He said while it remains for the President to submit the administration's plans and priorities to Congress, it could be said the message will contain "singularly far-reaching and explicit proposals in critical domestic problem areas."

RIFLE SHOT
"It will target in on difficult decision areas with rifle shot accuracy, foregoing the emphasis on past accomplishments and shotgun promises."

At a brief news conference on his arrival at the airport, Agnew commented on the possibility of another man being nominated for vice president in 1972. "It's always up to the President to select his new vice president," Agnew said. "If he finds someone he thinks is better, I'll support him."

Asked if he would work for former Texas Gov. John Connally's Senate confirmation as secretary of the treasury, Agnew said, "No fight for Connally will be necessary. He is a very respected man."

Witnesses said the incident involving police and demonstrators at the hotel was triggered when officers accused the protestors of blocking the street and asked them to move back.

Most were charged with disorderly conduct.

Scientist Discloses Memory Molecules

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — A scientist at Baylor College of Medicine says a molecule capable of transferring memory from one rat to another has been synthesized.

Dr. Georges Ungar said Thursday artificial reproduction of the memory molecule opens the door to unlocking the complex chemical language of learning.

He said that although he has used the memory transfer method only in rats he is "fairly certain" the same principle will work in man.

He said how soon the technique might be applied to humans will depend largely on how rapidly his research team gets "badly needed" funds.

Ungar, 64, a native of Hungary and professor of pharmacology in the anesthesiology department at Baylor, has been working on the memory molecule project almost three years. He said the artificial substance is identical to a naturally occurring molecule responsible for memory transfer from one animal to another. He said it is less expensive and easier to make than to extract the natural molecule.

How you can spend every cent of your take-home pay and save money at the same time.

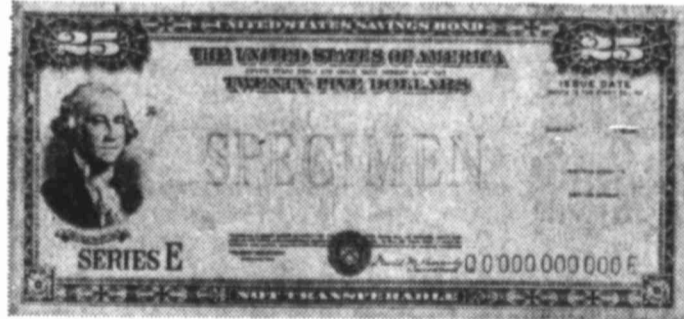

Simple.

Just sign up for the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. That way, an amount you specify is automatically set aside from your check every payday and invested in U.S. Savings Bonds.

The money you've been planning to tuck away every payday is tucked away for you, before you can get your ever-spending hands on it.

And now there's a bonus interest rate on all U. S. Savings Bonds—for E Bonds, 5½% when held to maturity of 5 years 10 months (4% the first year). That extra ½%, payable as a bonus at maturity, applies to all Bonds issued since June 1, 1970 . . . with a comparable improvement for all older Bonds.

So go ahead and spend every cent you take home. But make sure you join the Payroll Savings Plan first. You'll be richer for the experience.

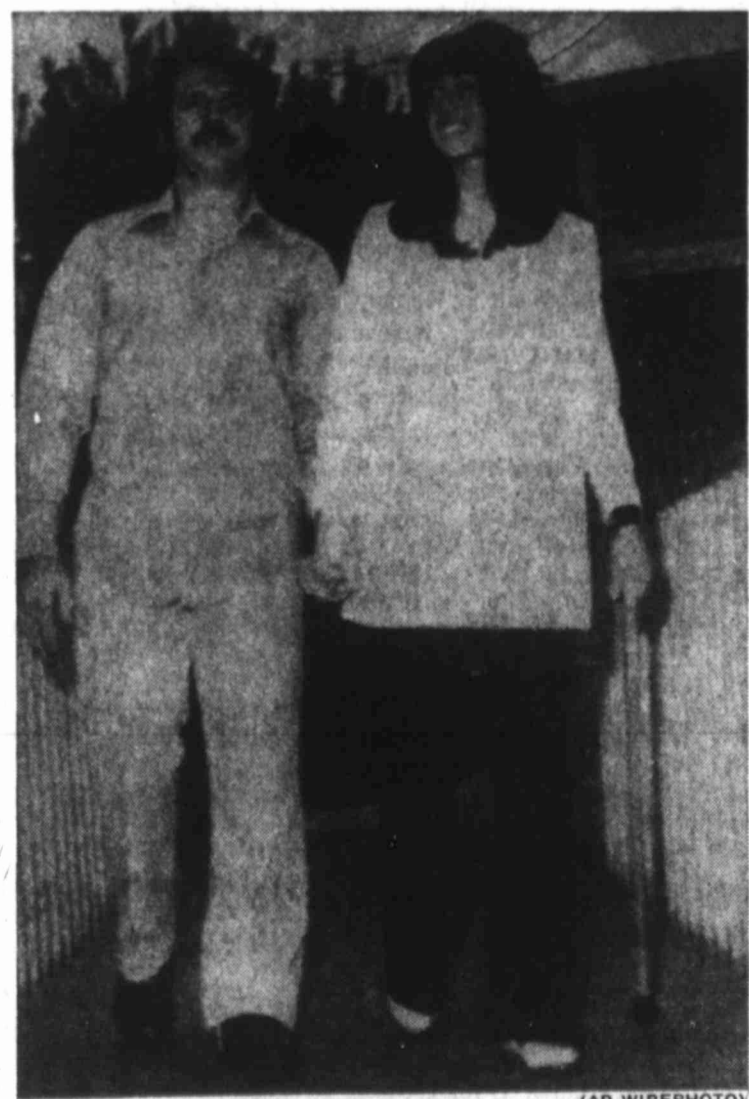

Bonds are safe. If lost, stolen, or destroyed, we replace them. When needed, they can be cashed at your bank. Tax may be deferred until redemption. And always remember, Bonds are a proud way to save.

Not How Many, But Where

There aren't too many people in America; it just seems that way in the cities.

Conrad F. Taeuber, director of the census, finds in the 1970 census patterns a contradiction of the goals of the Zero Population Growth advocates. The debate, when it comes, will be on the quality of life in America in the '70s. The ZPG line is that we have to stop net gains in population in order to manage our social and environmental problems.

Taeuber thinks population growth is less important than concentrations of people with their social and economic problems.

Trouble is, with or without net gains in population, concentration will continue and that, alone, will compound the social and economic problems.

Life quality will have to contend with people in crowds. American planning, because we are a more-or-less free society, follows desire lines; it doesn't do a very effective job of creating or influencing desire lines with reference to where we live. Highways are built where planners think people want to go instead of where good planning might indicate they ought to go.

The result is that many small towns are disappearing; some sections of central cities are being abandoned; and the crowds are getting bigger in the regional urban centers.

Where ZPG and the census director agree,

New Appeal For The SST

The President used up a lot of prestige trying to push the supersonic transport project through a rebellious Senate. He wrung a compromise out of the Congress when Sen. Proxmire gave up a filibuster for pledges that the SST program will be voted on as a separate item in the upcoming session.

The Senate rejected it once after a classic battle through the House and into the protective custody of a Senate committee. The SST was kept alive by being wrapped in the Transportation Department appropriation bill and nobody wanted to kill the department.

Sec. John Volpe of the Transportation Department said there will be "new evidence" ordered even if they don't yet realize it is that, whether population grows or not, the effect is almost the same if low concentrations become more difficult to service — or manage. Challenge now is to find an attractive deconcentration policy.

in support of the transport this year. The administration will ask for two prototype aircraft and the plea will be based on jobs — not the aircraft, itself.

This is a strange stance but probably entirely honest. It's a plea for a WPA for the SST work force. Advocates of the craft insist that it is a good business venture, too, but the Volpe stance is to justify it as jobs for the next 10 to 20 years — "this decade and the next" — and that's quite an assignment. It also indicates that building two prototype models is a vastly complex job or that there will be more than two.

The battle won't be easier this year than last, it appears now.

Taxes—Ugh!

Around The Rim

Walt Finley

Gov. Smith had a fine budget speech going — all the great things he's planning to do for the State. Then he had to spoil it all by talking about taxes.

In her divorce suit, Mrs. Johnny Carson has charged her husband, the TV star, with cruel and inhuman treatment, abandonment and adultery.

But what did he do wrong?

AS USUAL, I got to the office a little late Monday, so I missed the rehearsal of the Super Bowl. But we all got together and had instant replays Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and today.

Can the Cowboys ever win the Super Bowl without changing quarterbacks? Do they stand pat and gamble that Craig Morton's once-powerful arm will mend? Or, do they do something radical like trade and get the draft rights on Jim Plunkett or Archie Manning?

Tom Landry maintains it takes five years for a pro quarterback to mature into a winner. By then, the present cream of the flower of Dallas' team will have wilted.

A HOWARD County Okie, who shall remain anonymous and alive, noted: It may be a bad year for Texas — they've lost two national football championships in the first month.

ONE OF Walt's watchdogs reports that a local librarian phoned Johnny somebody with the news a reserved book was waiting.

The Tough Soviets

WASHINGTON — In that extraordinary document, "Khrushchev Remembers" the old Bolshevik who rose to the top of the heap and then was overthrown expresses some heretical opinions. He believes that Soviet citizens should be free to leave the country when they wish, contending that if the U.S.S.R. really is a "Socialist Paradise" it should not be necessary to keep all the exits double-locked.

THIS IS the crux of the dispute over the right of the Jews in the Soviet Union to emigrate to Israel. That dispute has been dangerously inflamed by the violence of the Jewish Defense League. The assault of the JDL on Soviet citizens and Soviet property in this country would seem to insure not only that Soviet Jews would be denied the right to emigrate but that they would be subjected to increasing harassment and repression.

DURING THE past year about 1,000 Jews were allowed to leave. The hope had been, before the JDL moved in, that with quiet persuasion this number could be greatly increased. Peaceful protest around the world resulted in commutation of the death sentence against two of the Jews in the Leningrad hijacking conspiracy case.

While the cumulative repression directed against the Jews, a heritage of the anti-Semitism of the czars, has been greater, other minorities have suffered much the same fate. Driven by paranoid suspicion, accentuated by the horrors of the last war, the dictatorship ordered whole peoples carted off to Central Asia or Siberia.

IN THIS RESPECT the Jews came off somewhat easily. A Jewish autonomous region was established in the Soviet Far East near Khabarovsk. An effort was made to require all Jews to migrate there.

But the people who went out drifted back to European Russia. The administrative entity still exists, along with a feeble attempt to sustain the Jewishness of the region where currently perhaps 50,000 Jews still live.

SEVERAL HUNDRED thousand people from the Baltic States were shipped to Siberia. Up to 400,000 Volga Germans, their origins going back to Catherine the Great, were moved to Central Asia. Various Central Asian people have been subjected to the same brutal reshuffling.

Shirmon Peres, Israel's Minister of Absorption, estimates the world's Jewish population at 14 million. Of this total, 2.5 million are in Israel (the latest figure was just under 3 million), 6 million in the United States and 3.5 million in the Soviet Union. The total is made up by a scattering elsewhere.

PERES SPOKE confidently with this reporter of Israel's ability to absorb from 1 million to 1.5 million Jews from Russia. That would be toward the goal of an Israeli population of 10 million. It would require very large contributions from American Jews, since to settle a family and provide the breadwinner with a job costs not less than $15,000.

Today any such large-scale exodus has an impossible look. The exits are all double-locked, with security guards 10 deep along the border. To get an exit visa is a long and tortuous process.

Troops In Europe

David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Does a United States senator have to go all the way to Europe and the Middle East to find out the fundamental points on which American foreign policy is based?

Senator Edmund S. Muskie of Maine, Democrat, says after a visit to Israel, Egypt, the Soviet Union and West Germany that his views have "changed somewhat" and that he is "having second thoughts" about a unilateral withdrawal of U.S. forces from Europe. Previously he has been a supporter of the resolution by Senator Mike Mansfield, Democratic floor leader, who wants to bring a substantial number of U.S. troops home.

MR. MUSKIE, in a news conference on his return from the trip, declared that troop withdrawal is tied in with other developments — West Germany's efforts to improve relations with the Warsaw pact nations, talks on the status of Berlin, and that resolving these issues could lead to "a balanced reduction of forces" by both sides.

BUT COULDN'T the senator have learned all this without a two-week trip abroad? Surely the Senate Foreign Relations Committee has been advised of the details of the Department of State's position in relation to the maintenance of American forces stationed overseas in support of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. Before Senator Muskie went to Europe he was briefed by the Department of State. He had already completed plans for his visit to Moscow and other capitals, and he was given whatever information he sought concerning current conditions. It is customary for State Department officers to do this whenever American officials seek such data in connection with trips to other countries.

DESPITE THE FACT, however, that the Department of State makes available a great deal of detail about international affairs to members of the Foreign Relations Committee and to individual senators who go to the Department to learn more about what is happening abroad, political speeches are made which seem to be based upon a lack of knowledge of what is going on.

Thus, a "unilateral withdrawal" of U.S. troops from Europe has been discussed in the Senate without taking into account the apprehension such an attitude has created among our allies in Western Europe and the adverse effects a premature reduction of forces could have on efforts to solve world problems.

SENATOR MUSKIE found firsthand some of the reasons why the State Department pursues the policies it does and why the program advocated by the Mansfield resolution would be impractical. This is an example of the damaging extent of the use of the word "credibility" in the political parlance of the day.

SENATOR MUSKIE'S discovery of the situation in Western Europe will help Democratic as well as Republican senators to realize that the Department of State, in dealing with foreign affairs, is well aware that any breakdown in the peace of Europe by an attack on Western Countries would involve the United States, just as has happened before. So the best preventative of war, it now is felt, is to be found in the maintenance of sufficient military force in Western Europe to thwart any aggressive moves.

Info Industry Fizzles

John Cunniff

NEW YORK (AP) — Back in the 1960s scores of stock analysts, entrepreneurs and investors were forecasting a boom in the education market, to be marked by a big increase in the use of revolutionary systems and devices.

Teaching machines, telecommunications, new printing methods and various gadgets were, in effect, going to be combined with synergistic results into a new industry, they said. New and old companies, small and big, looked for profits.

So vast was this still unformed market that analysts were excused for being vague about its boundaries. In an attempt to draw some encompassing definition, they called it the knowledge industry.

You don't hear about it much today. It never really rolled itself up into one ball of wax. The components are still there; but they are still called printing and publishing and teaching and so on.

Could something of the sort happen again? Maybe. Time alone will tell for certain, but a few warnings are appearing from time to time about the so-called pollution control industry. Is it an industry at all? Will it ever be?

Argus Research Corp., which supplies much of the stock market research used by big brokers, banks and funds, implies that investors should examine more carefully the future of pollution control before getting their hopes up.

In a 100-page report about to be distributed, Argus comments in a way vaguely reminiscent of the more cautionary advisories issued 10 years ago on the knowledge industry.

"The fact of the matter is," says Argus, "that the field of environmental pollution control is comprised of a wide variety of different businesses. Some have existed for decades, others are just beginning to emerge."

Concerning air pollution, the research firm notes that governmental programs are expected to cause a growth in expenditures of 30 per cent annually, compounded over the next five years. But will expenditures mean profits?

"The vast majority of these outlays," it says, "will be absorbed by salaries and various other administrative costs. Relatively little benefit will accrue to independent enterprises..."

Again: "nearly 50 per cent of the air pollution problem is caused by the automobile and, in our opinion, the solution to this portion will come from the major manufacturers themselves."

Where, then, will the investor be able to put his money? If the problem of air pollution is to be solved largely through internal efforts, it appears that the market for air purification devices might be limited.

Argus isn't bearish on the potential market for pollution control devices and methods—it does see investment profits to be made—but it does suggest that some of the methods now being discussed haven't been proven out or are uneconomical.

More Double Talk

Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — If every one said only what he really meant, and meant everything he said, this world would be a bear pit.

The friction generated by our clashing egos would rub us all raw. If each man or woman told the other what he really thought of him, human society as we know it would be impossible.

That is why we have double talk, which is as essential to society as the wheel is to progress. Double talk is the art of saying something pleasant while thinking, perhaps, just the opposite. This enables us to save the other fellow while salvaging our own desire to be honest, too.

For the uninitiated, here are a few examples of double talk in quotes, followed in each case by what the person who said them was actually thinking:

"My dear, quit worrying about it. It fits you like a glove."—That's why it makes you look like a baseball catcher's mitt.

"What we can't change we have to put up with. After all, neither of us is getting any younger."—But if I thought I looked as old as you do, I'd put on a mask.

"Professor, taking your course in Plato makes me feel like I'm strolling in Athens on a sunlit day."—But anyway you slice it, it's still Greek to me.

"Smithers, we mustn't try to skip up the rungs of the ladder of success too quickly or we'll miss some of the view, won't we?"—Does this nitwit have the effrontery to think he can beat me out of my job?

"I have listened to you carefully, and rest assured I'll give your words thoughtful consideration."—They went in one ear and out the other so fast they didn't even make an echo.

"The tensions of today build up in all of us. My advice is that you should take a long vacation somewhere alone where you can find yourself—the real you."—At least then you can't pollute my environment.

"Do you really mean you want me to tell you what I think you should do?"—You tempt me, Mac, you tempt me.

"Don't you feel it's too cold a day, Myrtle, to go bird watching?"—Let's stay inside by the fire, baby, and I'll ruffle your feathers.

Billy Graham

My Answer.

As much as I hate to admit it, I am a Christian who is afraid to die. Does this mean that I do not have a proper relationship with Christ?

S.R. Not necessarily. Fear of death is not abnormal, and most Christians are not over-anxious to leave this world — although they believe and know that the after-life is far better. God gave us the instinct of self-preservation — the holding on of life.

Dying is a departure — an awesome change and pulling up stakes and moving to new territory always has its qualms. Some of our fears of death, however, are caused because we have not studied the Bible sufficiently on the subject of death.

The Bible teaches that death is an enemy and there is always a certain amount of dread associated with the confrontation of an enemy. But, Paul said it well when he wrote: "The last enemy that shall be destroyed is death." (I Cor. 15:26.) So death will be destroyed, and that will be the signal, for the Christian, of a new, exciting life — quite different from life as we know it here. "For this corruptible must put on incorruption, and this mortal shall have put on immortality, then shall be brought to pass the saying, Death is swallowed up in victory. O death, where is thy sting? O grave, where is thy victory? ... but thanks be unto God which giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ." (I Cor. 15:53-55.) To the Christian, death is not defeat — it is a victory.

A Devotion For Today . . .

Fathers, do not provoke your children to anger, but bring them up in the discipline and instruction of the Lord. (Ephesians 6:4, RSV)

PRAYER: Father, forgive us for creating human ghettos that blight, twist, and warp young lives in this era of affluence. Reveal to us the solutions to these overwhelming problems and give us the courage to apply them under Thy divine guidance. Amen.

TRIES INSIDE SHOES OUTSIDE — Jim Ryan, champion mile runner who hasn't competed for 19 months, makes a comeback try in San Francisco Friday night in an indoor track. He wound up training Thursday afternoon running in San Francisco's Golden Gate Park. Here he is switching from soft shoes to a type used on indoor tracks.

Par Becomes Joke In Phoenix Meet

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Par became a joke in the first round of the $125,000 Phoenix Open Golf Tournament. Asked his score Thursday, Frank Beard replied: "Par, 66." It wasn't entirely true but Arnold Palmer shot a 68 and was not happy. Billy Casper had a 67 and was three strokes off the pace. And Dave Hill was wondering why they were using the lady's tees. Bob Lunn, Fred Marti and Don Massengale matched 64s, and led the most massive assault on par in over two years.

on the pro golf tour. A combination of near perfect playing conditions, warm sunny weather without a hint of wind, greens that held and a short (6,477-yard) flat course led to some almost incredible scoring. In all, 98 players in the field of 150 broke par and have held the lead in the Arizona Country Club course with 48 locked within three strokes of the leaders. "It's playing so short you'd think they're using the lady's tees," said Hill, one of 13 tied at 65, just one stroke off the seven under the listed par of 71, and led the most massive assault on par in over two years.

LOOKING 'EM OVER With Tommy Hart

If he continues at his present pace (and there's no reason why he shouldn't continue to improve), Howard County's Archie Myers should break all basketball scoring records for the school. A soft-spoken Virginia boy named Walter Carter set the all-time mark in 1962-63 when he scored 1,345. Oddly enough, Carter amassed 820 of those while still a freshman. Carter's one-year record probably won't be passed by Archie this year but the Mississippi point-guard will likely land a spot among the top five one-year scorers.

Behind Carter in the HCJC record book are Eddy Nelson (1965), 819 points; Larry Linder (1968), 718; Bobby (Dallas) Williams (1953) and Robert Jackson (1969), 717 each. Myers can do it all, although he stands only 6-2. He rebounds with the 6-8 people. His passing is so sharp his teammates had best stay awake or they'll catch one in the ear. And HCJC never had a better player for bringing the ball down the court.

This year's Super Bowl game broke the string for Texas Tech. Up until 1971, the Red Raiders had a player in every pro championship classic since its inception five years ago. Ed Mooney, now of Detroit, hoped to make it until the Dallas Cowboys buried the Lions in the first round of the playoffs. Donny Anderson of Green Bay and E. J. Holub of Kansas City were each in two Super Bowl contests. Bake Turner grabbed the brass ring with the New York Jets two years ago.

Leon Fuller, the former Big Spring coaching aide, is now defensive coordinator for the University of New Mexico football team. He formerly coached at Alabama and Oklahoma State. Spies say he hasn't changed much, that he still looks like a high school player.

Two former Christian College of the Southwest cagers, Steve Davidson and Ray Golson, are mainstays on the West Texas State team this year. Golson is averaging over 20 points a game and Davidson is doing almost as well. The two were standouts in a Region V tournament here a couple of years ago. Those who were on the scene say tickets to the last Sugar Bowl game could be picked up for considerably less than cost shortly before the opening kickoff. Tennessee beat Air Force handily in the New Orleans classic. The Sugar Bowl people need the Southwest Conference runner-up to insure a sellout each year.

Jack Tuthill, veteran tournament director for the PGA's tournament players division agreed. "They're all hitting irons into the par fives," he noted. "Play those as par fours and you get par at 67." The three leaders played those fours a total of 11 under par in the first round, among them they account for an eagle and three two-putt birdies. "The longest club I hit on a par four was a six-iron," added Marti, a 30-year-old Texan who lost his exempt players status last year. He birdied all four of the par fives, two with two putts, and didn't have a bogie. Massengale, a 33-year-old veteran, made his round with an outgoing nine of 30, five under par, and claimed a share of the top spot with a two-putt bird on the final hole. Lunn, 25-year-old winner of the Los Angeles Open two weeks ago, spiced his day with an 18-foot putt for an eagle three on the eighth.

Cox Is New BSGA Prexy

Royce Cox, Big Spring High School golf coach, is the new president of the Big Spring Golf Association, which is beginning a new year with a renewed membership drive. The membership fee is $3 and Cox, in accepting office, urged all interested players to pledge membership as soon as possible. "We have an ambitious schedule of association tournaments but they won't be very successful if we don't get the cooperation of players who want to compete," Cox said. Cox succeeds Bill Patton as president of the association. Other officers named include Ted Gross, vice president and chairman of the tournament committee; and Chuck Smith, secretary.

Other members of the tournament committee include Burt Dennis, B. A. Brunson, Bob Waters, Hershel Harris, Bill Brooks, Howard Stewart, Larry Gross, Marvin Williams and Cox. Golfers interested in affiliating with the group can contact any member of the committee or pay the necessary fee at the Muny golf course. In other action, the Goliad Eagles ran their record to 7-3 by flogging the Runnels Red Barons, 53-11.

Ricky Watkins had nine points for the Shorthorns to run his season's total to 45. Jimmy Douglass, who got seven Thursday, currently had 40.

In all, 12 Shorthorns got on the score board and Jay Madison, Richmond Zapp, Bobby Waters and Gregg Halfmann played fine all-around game.

The Shorthorns are averaging 33 points a game and have held the opposition to an average of 11. Team effort and determination have pushed the Shorthorns to their unbeaten mark, according to coaches.

Halfmann, Watkins and Ray Box have been named captains of the team.

The Eagles were led by Jimmy Ray, who had 18 points; Kerry Robinson and Craig Medlin on offense while Mike Warren, Mike Valenzuela, Tony Lester and Danny Erwin were outstanding on defense.

Hawks Enter Texans' Lair For Big One

Howard County Junior College will be subjected to its most critical test of the 1970-71 basketball season, when it invades Levelland to combat South Plains College. Tipoff time is 7:30 p.m.

South Plains, coached by ex-HC mentor Buddy Travis, was the pre-season favorite to win the Western Conference championship. The Texans lost 6-3 Albert Moore, their best scorer and rebounder, at mid-term but apparently have taken that news in stride. South Plains dropped successive engagements to Clarendon and Grayson County but since has beaten Frank Phillips and NMMI.

Howard County has prevailed in both its WC starts to date and owns a season's record of 15-7. The Hawks' league wins came at the expense of New Mexico JC and NMMI.

Over-all, the Texans are 13-6. The South Plains team beat NMMI, 124-83, less than a week after the Hawks had measured the same team, 111-77.

In Tommy Jordan, the Levelland team has one of the better scorers in the league. The 6-5 freshman from Philadelphia is averaging 19.5 points per start. The Texans also boast excellent rebounders in Hyman White and Gene Perry. Between them, they've been pulling down an average of more than 22 cars a game. Bruce Mundy, Terry Zorger, Randy Leasley and Danny Doyle are other scoring threats for South Plains. Coach Harold Wilder of HCJC likely will go with Decell Lewis, Lawrence Young, Kenneth Neal, Archie Myers and Melvin Perez as his starters. The Hawks got off to a slow start this season, mainly because its freshmen were having problems adjusting to the faster level of competition, but have now won ten of their last 11 assignments. The only reversal the locals have experienced during that time was at the hands of Christian College of the Southwest in the recent ABC Olympic Classic tournament here. The Hawks fought back to win that meet, however. Howard County returns to home play against powerful Clarendon Tuesday night in what could be another barn-burner.

Longhorns Try Odessa On Road At 8 O'clock

Big Spring seeks to move out of the District 5-AAAA basketball cellar in a game with Odessa High in Odessa at 8 o'clock this evening. The two teams are now tied with 1-4 records. Big Spring's only win came at the expense of Abilene High but the locals have since lost four in a row. Odessa was mauled by pace-setting Midland High last Tuesday, 61-44, in Odessa. Larry Thornhill hit 16 points for the Bronchos and Odessa led after eight minutes by four points but managed only ten points in the second half and never again contested for the lead. The Bronchos have won only six games in 23 starts this season but are capable of playing good ball on occasions. They've averaged 57.8 points a game, compared to 62.9 for the opposition. Big Spring stayed with Abilene Cooper for a half Tuesday night but finally got outed under a 94-71 score. Quite likely, Larry Shields, Thornhill, Joe Kuentler, Louis Moore and Terry Been will start for Odessa. Coach Ron Plumlee of Big Spring could counter with Richard Bullard, Jesse Olague, David Carter, Mike Randle and either Ted Smith or Randy Womack. The Steers are 11-13 on the year. They wind up first half play here Tuesday night against San Angelo. JV units of Odessa and Big Spring tangle this evening at 6:15 p.m. Big Spring is leading the league with a 5-0 record. Odessa lost to Midland Tuesday, 62-53, and is now 3-2.

Schoolboy Golfers Play Country Club Course

As many as nine high school golf teams could compete in a practice meet scheduled to get under way at 9 a.m. Saturday at the Big Spring Country Club. Coach Royce Cox of Big Spring will direct play. The match will serve as a prelude to the big Feb. 12-13 high school tournament here, which could lure as many as 15 or 20 teams. Visiting units committed to play here tomorrow include Midland Lee, Midland High, Abilene High, Abilene Cooper, Snyder, Andrews and Monahan. San Angelo Central and two Odessa schools, Odessa High and Permian, might dispatch teams here, too. No awards will be given in Saturday's play. On the other hand, the linksters will be shooting for plenty of premiums in the invitational next month. There'll be trophies for the first and second place teams plus three awards for low scorers and members of the five-man team achieving the best low ball score. Howard Stewart has now gained the top spot on the BSHS golf ladder, followed by his freshman brother, Jimmy, third. Others who are now rated include Mark McCraney, rated; Mark State, fourth; and Mark Peters, fifth.

Hughes Signs Houston Pact

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Ed Hughes says he believes the Houston Oilers can provide fans with an exciting and winning ball club. Hughes, 43, offensive assistant of the San Francisco 49ers, was selected Thursday as the Oilers new head coach. He signed a five year contract at an undisclosed salary and in so doing accepted his first head coaching job after 12 years as an assistant. Oilier owner K. S. (Bud) Adams, in announcing Hughes' selection, called his new coach "the right man for the right team at the right time." The 49ers, with Hughes supervising the attack, led all professional football last season in total offense, passing and scoring. Hughes succeeds Wally Lemm who resigned at the end of last season. Lemm, head max the past five years, announced Nov. 1 he had written a letter four months earlier saying he was retiring at the end of the 1970 season.

Sunday Races Here Will Be On Obstacle Course

Good weather Sunday could bring out a large crowd for Sunday's moto-cross, a Hi-Noon Optimist Club event which will be staged starting at 2 p.m. on a newly opened track two miles north of IS 20 just off FM 700 near the Snyder highway. A moto-cross is staged over an obstacle course where daring jumps are guaranteed the riders, but there to please the spectators. No seating will be available but onlookers can watch the proceedings from overlooks. Concessions stand will be in operation throughout the races. Riders have been invited from as far away as Amarillo, San Angelo and Del Rio. The entries will be shooting for trophies in each class of competition. Rider entry fee will be $1 per class. The Ear-Piercer

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My sister-in-law had to have a gallbladder operation, so she told her doctor that while she's on the operating table, and under the anesthetic, she'd like for him to pierce her ears. He said he'd be glad to do it. Well, here's the problem. He's a very good surgeon for gallbladder operations, but he wasn't too good at piercing ears, and he really loused up her ears. (The "holes" weren't in the same place on both ears, and they also became infected.) He said he was sorry, but he hadn't pierced any ears in 30 years, but after they healed up he would be glad to do them over again.

I told her she would have to be crazy to let that surgeon pierce her ears again and she should go to a doctor who does a lot of that kind of work and have it done right.

She said she paid $600 for the gallbladder operation and she wasn't about to pay another doctor to pierce her ears, and besides she didn't want to hurt her doctor's feelings. I'd like your opinion.

DEAR SIS: Having spoken your mind, say no more. It's hard to believe that a surgeon who is "very good" at gallbladder surgery would "louse up" something so elementary as ear-piercing.

DEAR ABBY: My wife and I are in total disagreement about my father-in-law's upcoming marriage. My wife is mad at her father for personal reasons which I will not go into, and she refuses to attend the wedding. She says that I should stay home, too. I have no ill feelings against my father-in-law, as a matter of fact I am very fond of him.

I want to attend the wedding. My wife says no. Can you settle this right away?

PUZZLED

DEAR PUZZLED: Your wife can stay home if she wants to, but she has no right to insist that you stay home.

Be honest. If you want to go because you are fond of your father-in-law, go. But don't go just to bug your wife.

DEAR ABBY: When my husband and I went on a trip last year we hired a woman to stay in our home and look after our three children. We thought we knew this woman quite well as she was sort of in our social circle and belonged to our club.

After we came home, and several weeks later, I couldn't find a pair of earrings and a pin to match, which had been a birthday gift from another friend of mine. I would know this jewelry anywhere as it was quite unusual.

Last evening my husband and I went to our club, and there was this friend who stayed at our home last year, wearing my jewelry! Up until that time I wanted to believe that I had just misplaced it. Needless to say, I was shocked. Shall I confront her with the facts as I know them, or should I just wait and hope she reads your column?

PORT ANGELES, WASH. — DEAR PORT: Confront her with the facts. But don't expect her to hand them over. Anyone who would steal, would probably lie.

For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069.

DENVER (AP) — An official of the Colorado Game, Fish and Parks Department has estimated that pollution, construction of reservoirs and irrigation and power uses have cost Colorado 2,800 miles of trout stream.

Her Cold Feet

Your Good Health
Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am an old lady, 84, and have cold feet all the time. I take hot bricks to bed. I soak my feet in hot water, but no matter what I do to my feet when I go to bed, I still have to have a hot brick. In daytime I light the oven and warm my feet in it every so often.

I am active and have a small garden and take care of the lawn, but I all over from arthritis. Is there anything I can do to help my feet? They make me miserable. —R.W.

An uncomfortable, annoying problem, and not easy to treat, but I will offer what help I can.

At your age you have a degree of hardening of the arteries, so that circulation in the feet is not the best. Hence the chronic coldness. Varicose veins can contribute to this problem, so if you wear circular garters — don't.

As to applying heat to your feet, be careful! The hot bricks and the oven both can get hot enough to cause blistering or even burning. With impaired circulation, first of all you may not feel the heat quickly enough, unless you are watchful. Second, if the skin is blistered or burned, healing will be slow because of slow circulation. So I repeat: be careful. I'm glad that, in spite of your arthritis, you remain active; whatever activity you can manage is extremely important in maintaining circulation. Wearing properly-fitting wool socks may help.

Medically, vasodilators — medications to dilate the small blood vessels of the legs and feet — may help, and if you haven't done so already, discuss this with your doctor and give one of these preparations a trial.

Occasionally hormones, such as thyroid or estrogen, may be considered, but the dosage for these would have to be determined by your physician.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have post-nasal drip which is very annoying, and I take two aspirins a day for relief. Is this harmful to my health? If so, what else can I take? —M.J.

If you aren't hypersensitive to aspirin, I don't see how the aspirin can harm you — but it won't do a thing to correct the drip, which usually can be successfully corrected if you go about it the right way. Allergy, nasal obstruction, or chronic infection must be considered. Recently I have entirely revised my booklet, "You Can Stop Sinus Trouble." This includes

Bat Decrease

LONDON (AP) — British naturalists are worried about the apparent decrease in the number of bats in the country.

The Council for Nature is sponsoring a survey with natural history societies invited to submit ideas on how the bat can best be protected.

"The results of such a survey will help in the formulation of a conservation policy for bats," said the council's journal, Habitat.

Are you bothered with ringing in the ears? If so, write to Dr. Thosteson in care of The Herald for the booklet, "Ear Noises — Their Causes and Cures," enclosing with your request 15 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope for a copy.

BOB BROCK FORD

Sometimes we get the feeling we're being followed.

Everybody's getting into the act. Everybody's making a small car. And since we've made more of them than any other, we thought we'd pass along some things we've learned about the business over the years: First, there's no doubt about it, the only way to make an economy car is expensively. So Rule No. 1, don't scrimp. Get yourself the best engineers in the business and then hire 9,000 or so top inspectors to keep them on their toes.

Next, try to develop an engine that's not a guzzler. If you can get it to run on pints of oil instead of quarts, great. If you can get it to run on air instead of water, fantastic.

Work on things to make your car last longer. Like giving it 45 pounds of point to protect its top and a steel bottom to protect its bottom.

Important: Make sure you can service any car you make. There's nothing worse than having someone find out that a part they need to make their car go is no longer available.

Finally, spend less time worrying about what your car looks like and more time worrying about how it works.

Perfecting a good economy car is a very time-consuming business. So far it has consumed 25 years of our time.

Nuclear Crash Kills 13 Pros

PARIS (AP) — One of France's biggest newspapers castigated the government today for the death in a plane crash of virtually the entire civilian and military high command of France's nuclear strike force.

Thirteen of France's top nuclear weapons experts were killed Thursday when their military plane crashed in a blizzard in the mountains of central France. Eight others aboard were also killed.

Tip From Insider Led Barnes To Borrow For Stock Gamble

AUSTIN (AP)—A director of a Dallas corporation helped LL Gov. Ben Barnes borrow money from a bank named in a federal securities suit so Barnes could speculate in the corporation's stock, the lieutenant governor said Thursday.

The fact that the man was connected with the corporation was learned after Barnes said he recommended the stock and helped Barnes get a loan.

In other developments Thursday involving state agencies and officials:

—The bill's sponsor, Rep. Tommy Shannon of Fort Worth, said the measure was written by Austin lawyer Gene Plamer, a partner of two defendants in the suit, former Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr and one-time Shivers aide John Osorio.

—It was learned that the Senate had not yet confirmed Smith's appointment of Carr to the Texas Tech board of regents, leaving the way clear to keep Carr off the board if senators feel that is warranted by the federal suit.

—Harold Hinn had quite a bit of faith in this stock or else I would not have bought it," Barnes said.

He told an interviewer, in response to a question, that he had "never had any inside information" on stocks.

A call to National Data Communications headquarters in Dallas, however, revealed that Hinn is a director of the firm and has been for some time.

Several legislators have introduced financial disclosure bills, and Barnes said he would "be in favor of one requiring disclosure of assets, debts and sources of income (by state lawmakers and officials). It certainly wouldn't embarrass me to disclose how much money I made each year."

OTHER THINGS

The SEC alleges in its suit, among other things, that a group of banks, insurance companies, corporations and individuals tried to avoid regulation of the banks by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. by getting the legislature to pass a law allowing state bank deposits to be insured by state-chartered insurance companies.

INSURANCE BILL

—A deposition was made public in which a former officer of Sharpstown State Bank in Houston—a defendant in the federal suit—said House Speaker Gus Mutscher was allowed to get by on insufficient collateral on a stock purchase loan.

—Gov. Preston Smith had second thoughts and said he did discuss a deposit insurance bill with former Gov. Allan Shivers before vetoing it in 1969.

ASSETS FROZEN

—Insurance Commissioner Clay Cotten announced he had placed two defendant insurance companies—National Bankers Life of Dallas and Olympic Life Insurance Co. of Fort Worth—under supervision Tuesday. This means their assets are frozen and they are threatened with conservatorship if they do not satisfy Cotten at hearings in March that they are solvent, complying with the law and operated by "competent, fit and worthy" officers.

—State Banking Commissioner Robert Stewart said the State Banking Department has been aware "for a good long while" of problems of the three banks named as defendants in the federal suit. The banks are Sharpstown State Bank, Houston; Dallas Bank and Trust Co.; and City Bank and Trust Co., Dallas. Stewart said examiners already are looking at Sharpstown State Bank and that "visitations" would be made to the two Dallas banks.

MORE HEAT

—Republican legislators kept the heat on Mutscher, as Rep. Jim Earthman, Houston, urged him in a letter to step down until after the Feb. 8 hearing in Dallas on the SEC suit.

—GOP Reps. Bill Blythe and Sonny Jones of Houston introduced a resolution calling for a nine-man committee to investigate the Banking Department, saying it had "fallen short in its responsibilities to prevent irresponsible manipulation of state banks for unreasonable and fraudulent profits."

A defendant in the suit, Joseph P. Novotny, said in a deposition that Barnes was on a list of "problem loans" last year at Dallas Bank and Trust Co.

Barnes said Thursday he borrowed $60,000 from the bank last year to buy 1,000 shares of National Data Communications stock which had climbed to $60 a share. He said Harold Hinn, a Plainview and Dallas businessman, arranged the loan on his behalf, and the note was backed by the stock as collateral.
