UNITED PRESS SERVICE BRINGS LATE NEWS OF THE WORLD TO TIMES READERS
RANGER, TEXAS, WEDNESDAY EVENING, APRIL 11, 1934

Kidnaped Girl Dies from Exposure in Attic

RELIEF RULES ARE RECEIVED FROM AUSTIN

H. E. Driscoll, Eastland county administrator for the Texas relief commission, under date of April 10 issued the following statement to the press: "The new set-up being put into use by the Texas relief commission: 'New rules and regulations are being received from Austin pertaining to work relief program, if and when it is inaugurated sometime after April 16. 'Clients residing in rural communities or in cities of under five thousand population must have been registered after April 1 in order to be eligible for work relief, providing their case record shows said client to be an employable. 'Employables furnished work relief will be paid one-third in cash and two-thirds in kind by disbursing order written on local merchants. The amount in every case which a worker may be entitled to each month is fixed by the social service department under the supervision of Mr. Hunter George, and is a budget of the actual needs of the individual family for a given period. 'The complexities surrounding this system are readily apparent,' said Mr. Driscoll, 'and it is entirely necessary that the merchant cooperate with us to the extent of assuming an element in our organization. 'We are therefore asking that every merchant, in any line, who expects to share in the business resulting from the program enter into a contract with us in which he binds himself to abide strictly with the disbursing order as itemized, refrain from trafficking with it in any manner, making no substitutions and issuing no cash upon receipt of these contracts and those who do not have been visited by Mr. Driscoll and who wish to execute contracts are requested to contact him at once, through local offices, by calling the main office in Austin.'

TO THE PUBLIC

While this newspaper has no desire to give undue publicity to items such as suits filed, court decisions and other matters filed for record in the courts, we cannot omit such items such just because someone has penciled a notation on same saying "Please do not publish." Such items are public records in which the general public is interested and this newspaper, in a manner, is under contract with its readers to print this information, therefore we must be the judge as to whether the item is of sufficient importance to the public to be published. Attorneys and officials have no authority to withhold public records from the newspapers and should not be blamed if their request to "Please do not publish," is ignored by the press.—THE PUBLISHERS.

R. F. HOLLOWAY IS RE-ELECTED SCHOOL HEAD

At the regular meeting of the Ranger school board, held Tuesday night, R. F. Holloway was re-elected superintendent for the year 1934-35. The meeting opened with the installation into office of R. S. Balch and A. N. Larson, successful candidates in the election held last Saturday. After routine business, during which bills were approved for the month, a committee was appointed to work out a program and budget for the coming year. The committee is composed of Dr. R. H. Hodges, Felton Brasher and A. N. Larson. Another meeting has been called for some day next week, at which time principals of the high school and ward schools will probably be elected, as well as the teachers for the coming year. No action was taken in the selection of a coach for the high school football, though a number of applications had been received. It was decided that more time to consider the applications would be given. Coach Eck Curtis, who has been coach for the past six years, was granted a two weeks leave of absence to conduct spring training at Electra high school, where he will coach during the 1934 season. A substitute teacher is to replace him during his absence, the substitute to be paid by the Electra high school.

Classification Talk Is Heard By Rotarians at Meet

S. B. Boon had charge of the Rotary program today and presented an interesting classification talk on the dry cleaning business. He pointed out that the dry cleaning process was discovered by a Frenchman and was still being used, with modern equipment and methods applied to the original method. C. E. May made a short talk on the boy scout drive now being conducted and urged support of the movement. J. K. Durden, representative of the Gulf Refining company, was a visitor at the meeting.

Boy Scout Drive Is Being Made Today

A one-day drive for funds for the boy scout work in Ranger was begun early this morning with the workers meeting at the Willows for an early morning breakfast, prepared and served by the members of the two scout troops. The whirlwind drive, which will terminate this evening at 6 o'clock, is expected to net as much as a more prolonged drive would. A final checkup will be made tonight when the workers again meet at the Willows for a supper and final accounting. A supper of "Hawaiian dogs" will be served by the scouts.

Flatwoods Four H Club Met On Thursday, April 5

The following officers were elected: Noel Ramsey, president; Bill Ramsey, vice president; Wayne Dollberry, secretary-treasurer; Johnnie Foster, reporter, and pep leaders, Pauline Cornwell and Woodrow Wilson. After this election the group adjourned to separate meetings. The first meeting was very successful and we hope the rest will be that way. All the members show great interest in the club work.

"Womans Day" to Be Celebrated By Federated Clubs

BROWNSVILLE, Texas, April 11.—Local organizations of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, in practically every city and town in Texas, are working hard in the interests of "Woman's Day" as it will be celebrated by hundreds of theatres throughout the state, according to Mrs. Volney W. Taylor of this city, president of the federation. It was through a conference between Mrs. Taylor and Karl Hobbittzelle, president of the Interstate Circuit, Inc., that the theatres of the state, co-operating with the women's clubs, will donate a liberal percentage of the receipts of at least one theatre in practically every city in Texas. "The co-operation of the theatre owners with our organization has been splendid," said Mrs. Taylor. "Mr. Hobbittzelle, besides assuring us of his hearty cooperation, secured the pledge of other theatre owners to share their receipts. "Money secured through this magnificent co-operation will be used in reducing the indebtedness on the federation's clubhouse in Austin. Besides the Hobbittzelle theatres, the showhouses operated by the Paschall-Texas circuit, Robb and Rowley circuit, Jefferson Amusement company, Theatre Owners of Texas and the Texas Independent Theatre Owners are with us. "Reports reaching me from all sections of the state indicate that plans have been formulated everywhere assuring us of a maximum ticket sale. Local organizations are meeting with splendid co-operation with theatre managers whose magnificent interest and assistance will make it an outstanding day in the history of community work. The theatre has always been known to assist in relief work in times of flood, storm and other disasters, but I believe this is the first time that the entire state in amusement industry has pledged a share of its receipts to constructive public work of state scope. "Mrs. Taylor, in a statement, said she had been assured by the Hobbittzelle and other organizations, that outstanding attractions had been booked into each theatre designated as the contributing showhouse. These programs were worked out at meetings between the local women's organizations and the resident managers of the theatres, in co-operation with the local daily newspaper.

First Gas Case In State Court Ends In Lowered Rate

AUSTIN, April 11.—Laredo's gas rate case, the first ever tried in Texas before a jury, today was subject to appeal by the United Gas Public Service company. A jury in 53rd district court here found the Texas railroad commission order, setting a domestic gas rate of 55 cents, net, in Laredo, to be not unreasonable or unjust. On Jan. 1, 1932, the Laredo city council, by ordinance, set a net gas rate of 40 cents. Its current rate was 67.5 cents net. The utility appealed to the railroad commission, which ordered a rate of 55 cents net. The utility then sought to keep the case in federal district court but the case was sent to state district court for trial.

The democrats, apparently pulled twice as many voters into their party contests as voted in the previous off-year primary in 1930. Their ever-mounting total of votes approached the landslide of 1932. The republicans meanwhile made a weak showing with less than half as many votes as they polled in 1932.

SECRETARY OF BISHOP CANNON NOT BLAMED

WASHINGTON, April 11.—Bishop James Cannon Jr., who talked a large portion of the democratic south into voting republican at the 1928 presidential election, attempted to prove to a jury today that there was no skulduggery in his political salesmanship. The bishop of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, spent nearly $130,000 against the election of Alfred E. Smith, reporting most of this to the clerk of the house of representatives, as required by law. He did not report, however, the sum of $48,000 which he claims was spent entirely in the state of Virginia. If the jury finds him guilty the bishop would be subjected to a maximum fine of $10,000 and a prison sentence of two years. The bishop's former secretary and co-defendant, apparently is destined for exoneration. Through his attorneys, Cannon announced he intended to take full responsibility for his actions.

Diet Has Effect On Child's Grades

CHICAGO, April 11.—A child's diet may explain the reason for the high or low marks he receives in school, according to the deductions of Drs. Siegfried Maurer, nutritionist, and Eva Ruth Balken, psychologist, both of the University of Chicago. Low grades may result from a deficiency in diet and if given foods rich in vitamin B-complex the child will learn more quickly. The statement is based on the results of tests made by the experimenters with 46 pupils of primary grades. The children tested were undernourished and selected from poor homes where the parents were unable to supply proper food. The doctors gave the children vitamin B-complex tablets with their lunch, the chief meal. The children were tested mentally before the tablets were administered, and then every 30 days. All showed a marked improvement in intelligence after the treatment. Vitamin B-complex is protection against pellagra and beriberi, diseases affecting the nervous system. The vitamin is contained in milk, lean meat, yeast, eggs, green leafy vegetables and whole wheat.

While doctors worked most of the night to save the child, police first questions at stubborn and defiant George Rogalski, 13, until he finally broke down and told the story of the kidnaping. The boy was shown to have been held in the juvenile detention home for five weeks at one time after he molested a girl older than Dorette. He had been released after authorities decided he had been sufficiently impressed with the seriousness of his offense. The boy said he had not molested the child. He admitted tearing her clothes. Doctors reported a number of scratches and bruises on her body. According to the boy's story he lured Dorette away from in front of her grandmother's home by a promise of money and candy.

'HITLERISM HAS INVADDED AMERICA'
—EDITOR MOLEY

Editor Raymond Moley of the magazine Today has invaded the field of sensationalism. In the early days of the New Deal Administration Editor Moley was prominent in the brain trust. He was very much in the picture and in the press for months and months. Then Vincent Astor launched the magazine Today. Well, Today has taken a new departure. Editor Moley has broadcast the news: "Existence of a fully organized, nationwide organization in the United States to establish the principles of German Hitlerism in this country and to replace democratic principles of popular government, will be disclosed in an elaborately documented series of articles, the first installment of which was published Friday. One Samuel Duff McCoy, "newspaper man whose sensational expose for the New York World in 1923 brought about reform of the Florida prison camp system," is the author of the first of the "elaborately documented series of articles."

There are tons of bunk unloaded on the American public. Included in the list of the bunkers and sensational writers of political fiction will be found the name of the Gary school master who is responsible for the Kerensky tale of the coming of Soviet Russia revolution under American skies.

Americans are not fools. They are not children. They are very patient, they are very self-sacrificing and they know the difference between a government of the people made by the people and a government of serfs made by the Stalins and Mussolinis and Hitlers of the foreign world. This republic will remain a nation of free people. They will continue to do their own thinking, their own voting, their own selecting of their public servants and their own experimenting in the wide world field of economic research. In the not remote past the old order was overthrown at the ballot box. Patriotic men and women of America planted their ballots where they would do the most good "for all of the people and not a few of the people." If "Hitlerism has invaded America," then Hitlerism or communism will be stamped out by the many millions of Americans (native and adopted) who believe that the many should rule wisely and that the few should bow to the wisdom of the majority as expressed at the ballot box.

Some cities have been dealt some hard knocks, but it may be said that a progressive city has never been downed for long.

There are two sides of human nature—optimistic and pessimistic. There should be only optimists in your home city.

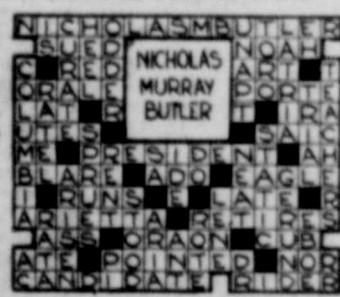

It is a long lane that has no turning. Continuous advertising in this newspaper will help any merchant through the depression.

Under the name "Juanita," he becomes a playboy and he and Estelle open a gymnasium. SIR AUBREY, a titled Englishman and Pablo's father, is searching for his son, concluding Billings, New York detective. "There were signs and then Pablo saw Estelle again. They admit their love for each other and meet secretly. ESTELLE'S father hears of it. He tells her she must marry him or he will turn the young man over to police on the old murder charge. ESTELLE agrees. Meanwhile Billings, convinced Pablo is Sir Aubrey's son and innocent of the charge against him, sets to work to prove this. Field decides to take his daughter on a yacht cruise. NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XXXVI
ESTELLE heartily disliked Alec Davids when she first met him—a lank, attenuated young man with bony muscles and a constant craving for cocktails. After a week on the yacht, however, she let him talk to her without showing her aversion and he was encouraged. Sitting beside her in a deck chair, he had his own thoughts that in bitterness equalled hers. "You think I'm mad about you," Alec reflected as the girl turned away her face. "Well, I'm not, I wouldn't look at you if I could get out of it."
The reason he couldn't get out of it was because of the state of the Davids' finances. Alec quite agreed with his mother that it was necessary for him to marry a rich wife. "After that," Mrs. Davids had gone on to point out, "you can go your own way." Alec had nodded complacently. He fully intended that.
He knew Field liked him and wanted him to marry Estelle and he knew the reason. Estelle would, by means of this marriage, reach the inner circle of society, the shabby outer fringe of which Field had only touched. Alec Davids could trace his ancestry to aristocratic forebears. The fact that the family had disintegrated sharply was unimportant. Alec's mother had been willing to accept considerable benefits from those of her acquaintances who wished to reach a higher rung of the social ladder, the while she sneered at them. Both Alec and his mother took prodigally and gave nothing in return except a smile that was seared with patronizing scorn.
EVEN now Alec sometimes borrowed from Field. "Might as well get the old rotter in the habit of coming across," he decided. He was amused by Field's too lavish display of his wealth. The older man, seeing and knowing the secret, was more than ever certain that Alec was the man for his daughter. "He's the real stuff," Jim Field said to Marcia one afternoon. "His mother is the worst snob in New York." Marcia answered and her usual drawl was throatened by a rise of tone. "She snubbed me, too," Field said quickly. Marcia laughed, admitting that the thrust had hit a vulnerable point. "She won't snub me now," Field went on. "She wants this marriage just as much as I do." As he spoke he nodded toward the two deck chairs which, close together, held Estelle and Alec Davids. "Alec told me his aunt had promised to lend him her palace near Rome for his honeymoon."

"The one who married that disgusting count?"
"Yes."
"The place is gorgeous. I've seen it."
"One of the largest in Italy," said Field who had a great respect for size.
Alec was talking to Estelle about poetry. She liked it, he had discovered, and he had culled all that he could from the library aboard. Estelle, believing he really was fond of the verses he quoted, looked at him with the first showing of interest. She had not thought that he would care for Houseman. She must have been quite unjust to him.
"That is one of my favorites," she said, after his voice had died away. "I don't quite want to believe it but it does suit a mood that comes now and then."
ALEC nodded and went on speaking. He talked well and pleasingly when he cared to. He had been reared by his mother and sundry tutors in France and England and the inarticulateness general in collegiate circles was not his.
"Our tastes must be the same," he said with a sudden, flaring ardor that seemed genuine. "They must be or I could not feel—as I do."
She made no answer. She had turned her face away again.
"You pallid little bourgeois!" he thought. "Do you honestly think I'm enjoying this?"
"I'll try not to annoy you again, Estelle," he promised, "but it's difficult to keep silent, feeling as I do. I've never cared for anyone like this before. It's—well, it isn't easy! But that's selfish of me. All I want is for you to be perfectly happy—that and to be near you some times. You don't mind my saying this, do you?"
He waited, leaning across the arm of the chair toward her. She turned her head and he was surprised, but not touched, by seeing tears in her eyes. He said a quick, apparently distressed, "What is it, dear?"
She told him she was very unhappy and that she was lonely. He, too, had been lonely, he confessed. Always he had been lonely until he had met her.
Privately he was thinking, "So it's going to be as easy as this!" Then he stifled what would have been a yawn and felt his jaws ache from the effort. Lord, he was dead for sleep! But he had to go on with this farce.
"You haven't told me whether my being near you annoys you, Estelle. I really want to know. I want to know terribly."
"Oh, it doesn't annoy me," she answered. "Nothing seems to mat-

Public Interest In Refrigeration By Electricity Increases

High public interest in 1934 models introduced by the electric refrigeration industry, has for its main reason the variety and quality of improvements which engineers have incorporated in these new refrigerators, according to Floyd Killingsworth of Killingsworth, Cox & Co., local Kelvinator sales representatives.

Pointing out that buying interest is being noticed by electric refrigerator companies more than ever before this spring, Mr. Killingsworth said that visitors to his company's showroom on Main street have expressed themselves as being enthusiastic over the advancements reflected by the new line of Kelvinator household models.

"There is no doubt but that prospective purchasers are realizing that never before has the electric refrigeration industry as a whole presented such an attractive array of products," he declared. "Visitors to our showroom have told us that Kelvinator models this year are unsurpassed in value. Our own rapidly mounting number of orders is proof that great many buyers have discovered that the new Kelvinator models are really sensational in performance, design, and the great number of added convenience features which are being offered this year.

Leading in the appeal to showroom visitors, Mr. Killingsworth reported, are the famous Kelvinator "four refrigerators in one" principle and the new food filing system incorporated in Kelvinator household models this year for the first time.

The "four in one" idea, which was pioneered and perfected by Kelvinator, makes possible four distinct refrigeration temperatures in one cabinet, each serving a distinct purpose and operating independently of the others. These temperatures are conventional food compartment refrigeration, ice freezing, cold storage for frozen foods, game, and similar products and the famous Kelvinator super-fast freezing tray which established the national average record of freezing ice in 80 minutes.

Food filing, an improvement credited to a Kelvinator used who was once an office secretary, comprises a series of drawer-like compartments for the classified storage of dairy foods, vegetables and left-overs. Hailed as one of the greatest conveniences and space saving features in modern electric refrigeration, this improvement already has captured the interest of housewives everywhere.

The local Kelvinator sales representatives are holding a special showing of the new refrigerators in the Electric Refrigeration showroom, and an effort is being made to have as many persons as possible visit the showroom during this event. Special demonstrations and other entertainment features have been arranged in order to make this showing one of the most interesting and comprehensive of its kind ever held here.

Twilight League Is Re-organized At Meet Tuesday

Managers and representatives of soft ball clubs of the Twilight League met in the office of the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday afternoon and made plans for the 1934 season, the date for the official opening being set for Monday, April 30. The date was selected in order that the various teams would have ample time to work out and get the stiffness out of their muscles before the playing season starts.

At the opening of the meeting Dr. Harry A. Logsdon, who was soft ball dictator last year, was again elected to that position by a unanimous vote.

It was decided, upon a vote by those present, that each team turn in a roster of not more than 15 players composed of employees or members of the organizations they represented, not later than Monday, April 23, and that the teams be made up of these players. An exception was made when representatives of the Times stated that they could not put 10 players on the field and an allowance of three outside players, over 21 years of age and who are employed by some company in Ranger, was made. These outside men are to be listed on the roster.

After some discussion it was voted to use a 12-inch in seam ball of six and one-half ounces, the regulation weight of the official ball, and any ball not to exceed eight ounces in weight.

A committee composed of Dr. W. L. Downtain, Dr. G. E. Haslam, and G. A. Murphy was appointed to see about fixing up a playing field, and Floyd Killingsworth, Mickey Sloan and Bill Mayes were appointed to revamp the rules and regulations of last year to fit the action taken at the meeting and to work out a schedule.

Jimmie Jones, Bob Davenport and H. H. Vaughn were elected as official umpires for the season by unanimous consent.

Official starting time for all games was set for 6:15, with 6:30 as the protest time, at which time umpires would automatically declare a game forfeited by any team that could not put a team on the field.

Several teams were not represented at the meeting, but it was said that clubs would be entered by Marathon, Elks-Legion, Service clubs composed of Lions and Rotarians, Sinclair, Times, Magnolia and Lone Star, with the latter probably entering two teams. Sinclair had not notified the committee that they would have a team, but several present said that the team had been working out recently and planned to play.

Those present at the meeting were W. C. Hickey, F. D. Hicks, Mickey Sloan, Dr. G. E. Haslam, Dr. W. L. Downtain, Charlie Moore, E. O. Samms, W. F. Haynie, Carl Garner and Joe Thompson.

Three important savings are made possible as soon as an electric refrigerator starts serving you. First, you can save money by "stocking up" on bargain day specials and be sure that the food will be kept fresh until used. Second, you can serve many delicious dishes made from left-overs you would otherwise throw away. Third, you can keep food fresh and wholesome four to five times longer. Wilted lettuce and celery can be made crisp and crunchy again. Fourth, even on hottest days fast-freezing electric refrigerators keep plenty of large ice cubes on hand. Fifth, the cost of operation is low the year 'round: some models operate for less than a nickel a day.

Considering these really important features, can you afford to be without an electric refrigerator? Just phone your electric refrigerator dealer and he will tell you how a budget plan makes it easy to own any model you may choose. New models now on display are priced as low as $100.00.

TRANSPORTATION DEVELOPMENTS TEND TOWARD LENGTH

Right—Hudson-built Terraplane Six.
Below—DeWitt Clinton, first passenger train on the Mohawk and Hudson road.

Developments in the transportation field run to greater length and this is true whether we are considering locomotive, automobile, airplane, steamship, or what-not.

This illustration graphically shows this development. At the top is the modern Hudson type locomotive which pulled the famous Twentieth Century Limited. It is many times as long as the DeWitt Clinton engine which pulled the first passengers in the state of New York to ride on a train, over the Mohawk and Hudson railroad, the original unit of the New York Central system.

In the center is the Hudson-built Terraplane car 15 ft. 10 in. long from bumper to bumper, the biggest car in the low-priced field. Contrast this with the first passenger cars which were just a little over 9 ft. in length.

As stream-lines come in for railroad trains, as well as automobiles, length increases and with length comes greater speed, greater safety and greater comfort. In all the transportation fields, however, none can equal the automobile for achieving great size and power at an amazingly low price.

Jim Blair Brings Memory of Wild Days to Capitol

By United Press
AUSTIN.—"Jim" Blair, former Bell countant, brought a reminder of wild west days to the Texas state capitol when he visited here this week with the district attorney from Silver City, N. M.
A special officer for mining interests, the former Texan has had a thrilling career. Word that he was in Austin brought former Ranger Captain Frank Hamer and other noted Texas officers to the capitol to shake hands with Blair again.
Many relatives, too, dropped in to see the New Mexico officer. Among them was another James Blair, father of Judge M. B. Blair of the third court of civil appeals.
The two James Blairs are cousins. Blair is credited with breaking up, single handed, a series of roids that were being made on a Silver City mine. He looked over the terrain and picked out a pass through which the raiders came and left. With a rifle he took his post commanding the pass. The next attempted raid was the last.

A hint that he would be fast on the draw in a pistol battle is given by his habit of striking matches for his cigarettes. It is done with a quick backward flick of the hand striking the match on his holstered pistol.
Hamer and Blair had quite a chat of old days when they worked in conjunction in outwitting the desperadoes who dodged back and forth across the Texas-New Mexico boundary line.
Hamer, one of the most famous among the later-day Texas Rangers, recently turned down a proposal to work for the Texas Railroad commission in its campaign against Pot-oil production.
Both he and his brother, Capt. D. E. Hamer, have held the same post in the Texas Rangers—captain of headquarters company.
D. E. succeeded Frank when Gov. Ferguson's administration began.

President Roosevelt's son, Franklin, was fined $20 for operating his District of Columbia-registered automobile in Massachusetts beyond the 30-day limit. Perhaps he didn't expect to stay at Harvard that long.
