WITNESS TELLS OF THE STATEMENTS OF COMMISSIONER

MONTGOMERY SAYS LANHAM ROAD DEAL

"FERGUSON DID IT"

"I HAD NOTHING TO DO WITH IT" WITNESS QUOTES LANHAM

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Nov. 8.—Responsibility for letting of the American Road company asphalt surfacing contract, was placed on James E. Ferguson, by Frank Lanham, highway commission chairman, when the contract was awarded. W. T. Montgomery, San Antonio highway contractor, Monday, told the house investigating committee.

Montgomery testified that Lanham told him "I had no more to do with the contract than you."

Montgomery said that he asked "who did that?" and that Lanham answered "Jim Ferguson."

The American Road company last fall in the 53rd district court in the trial of a suit filed by attorney general Dan Moody, confessed judgment for $400,000 express proceeds on his surfacing contract, and was barred perpetually from the state.

Tells of Prisons. B. E. Goodrum, of Weldon, who said he had observed for forty years operation of the Texas prison system, declared that present conditions were lamentable, with little semblance of discipline among the prisoners. He said that a "wave of maudlin sentiment and sympathy that swept the state several years ago" was largely responsible.

"Conditions will never be much better until the penitentiary is run as a place of punishment and not as a health resort," Goodrum said.

The passing of a law requiring every member of the legislature to serve three months as a convict guard would do much to solve the penitentiary problem.

Saw Them Talking. H. S. Wilder, Houston road contractor, testified that he saw Montgomery talking to Lanham and that after the conversation ended, Montgomery told him that Lanham had said about Ferguson being responsible for the American Road company contract.

Wilder said that in April, 1925, he saw workers placing asphalt surfacing on the highway near Mount Pleasant, and that it was general talk that the American Road company was doing the work and getting in credit for the American Road company contract.

Wilder said that in April, 1925, he saw workers placing asphalt surfacing on the highway near Mount Pleasant, and that it was general talk that the American Road company was doing the work and getting in credit for the American Road company contract.

Wilder also testified of having $1100 of advertising space in the Ferguson Forum, edited by James E. Ferguson. Montgomery said that he and Wilder came to Austin with Mr. Dickitt, who said that he was going to find out from Lanham if the American Road company had been awarded a surfacing contract.

"Lanham gave Dickitt little satisfaction," Montgomery related. "Later that day, Lanham called me aside in the highway department building and said, 'I wish you'd quit rubbing up on me. Dickitt. He made the motion to award the contract to the American Road company.'"

"I then asked Lanham if it were true that the commission had awarded the American Road company a contract at 30 cents a square yard to apply half a gallon of asphalt to the same yard an inch thick of highways, and he said that it was."

"I then asked Frank Lanham, do you think you can put that over on the people of Texas? You should know better."

BABSON IS NOT ALARMED

Roger W. Babson, one of the world's greatest statisticians in a recent interview on the cotton situation and sees no necessity for the people to be panicky in regard to it. He assigns several reasons for the low price of cotton, but at the same time insists that the people should not give their production away, but should remain calm and sane, and let the conditions adjust themselves, which they will and the people as a whole will not be as badly hurt as they first seem to think.

Figures concerning prohibition enforcement progress were made public by the Department of Justice a few days ago, showing that during the fiscal year ending June 30 of this year 44,022 persons were sentenced by federal courts alone for violations of the Volstead act. Fines totaled $7,336,505, while jail sentences imposed aggregated 5,666 years.

The restriction of rubber exports has been continued by the Colonial office of Great Britain and, for another year, the amount of rubber shipped from Ceylon and Malaya will be governed by the fluctuation of the average price of rubber.

Speaking before the Military Order of the World War in Philadelphia recently, General Pershing urged all good citizens to obey the law "If we ignore the basic laws of our land," said he, "or flout the Constitution and its amendments, not only are we neglectful in the eyes of our own people, but in the eyes of all peoples."

found, and the automobile tire is only one of many of such uses. The people who are bearing the cotton market today point to artificial silk, which has decreased the demand for cotton, and yet say nothing about automobile tires, which have greatly increased the demand for cotton.

AND SO

SO THINK WE

We think Lubbock should put in her application for a visit from Queen Marie. Most all other important cities of the nation are, so far as we are personally concerned, we do not care whether she comes or not.

We think that if the report is true that Queen Marie does not have more than five hundred francs, she is almost broke in America, for these folks over here do not think much of francs.

We think that matrimonial matches are intended to kindle a fire of love that will burn forever and forever, but like all other matches some of them become dampened from neglect and indifference, and finally flicker out entirely.

We think that the development of water power can not be attributed to the Volstead act, for there was talk of water power before the days of local option, let alone prohibition.

We think that what this world needs is a religion that will influence people to do right, and not the kind that will cause them to fight over the church that is the best. Some of them are good if the religion that its members has is not the kind that is heart-felt, and the kind that will make you happy and live in peace with the world, and your family.

We think that some people think success is to be able to "get by" with something that other folks have been caught at.

We think that we might sweeten the situation a bit by planting a lot of sorghum cane and making several million gallons of "molasses" in this country next year. But that would beat all cotton anyway.

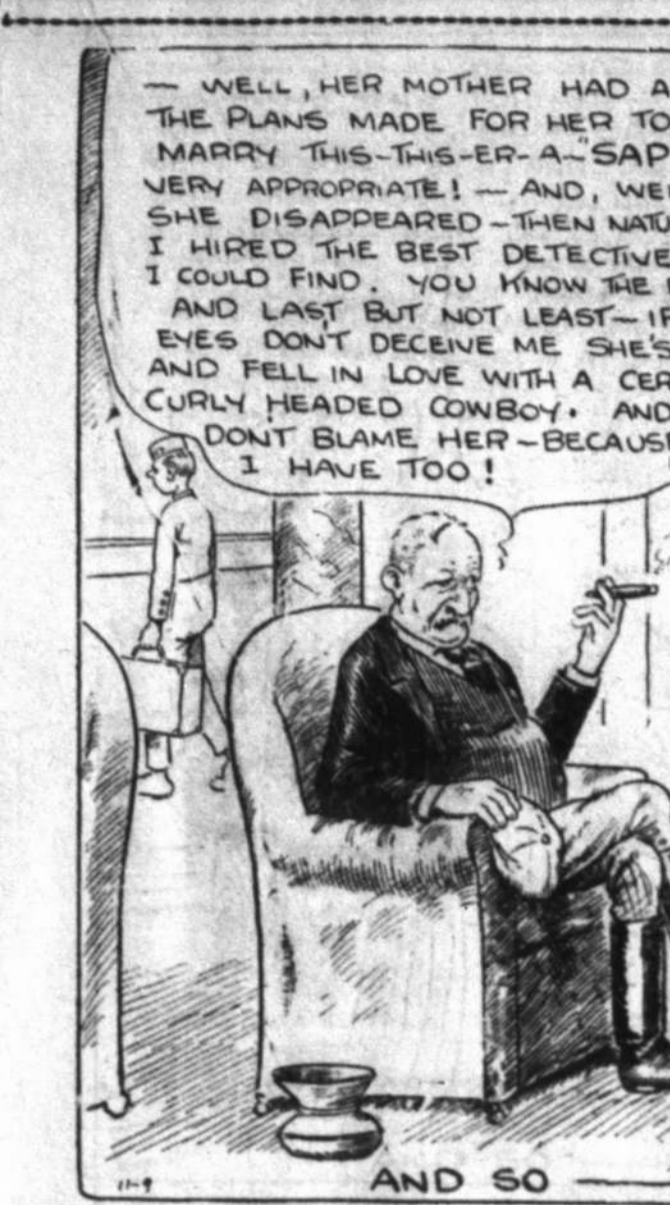

We think it is not fair to jerk up all the negro crap shooters in the city, and let the white poker players go. Fine 'em all alike, and break up this gambling if possible.

We think regulated gambling is no better than ordinary poker playing, and should be handled in the presence of the law just the same.

We think the bankers are going to help the farmers—but when? The farmers will get tired waiting for them to do their stuff if it takes them much longer.

We think if you really want to find out what some people are, all you need to do is put them in an automobile, and start them off down the highway or Main street and watch their capers.

OUT OUR WAY

AND SO

Hill Billies and the Matadors, and some of the sport writers were very badly muddled in their forecasts of the game. Especially the little guy down Waco way who predicted a gloomy day for Lubbock when they met the goats at Brownwood.

That some folks think that if you think you are happy whether you are or not is not possible. Possibly it is better to think you are happy when you are not than think you are not happy when you are.

That cooking schools are being opened for men. Possibly the men will be equal to women after all.

By scientists that there are 25,000 species of insects, and this in all probability does not include the human varieties.

That a fool and his money soon parts. Possibly that is not so bad after all. The fool has a good time for a while and his money possibly gets into channels where it will be of some use.

That the government wants to sell some of the buffaloes in Yellowstone park. Possibly some one might get a nice little pet.

That black is stylish this fall. Wonder if that includes the black-eye too.

That a steel trust has been formed in Europe. We thought no one in Europe would trust anyone else.

That some folks talk too much. We think it depends a great deal on where you talk.

That the Ardmore, Vernon and Lubbock railroad has filed notice with the I. C. C. that they want a charter to build a railroad. We are not sure when they want to build the road, but if they have to wait on the I. C. C. they will have plenty of time to get a charter and raise the money to build the road.

That the capital of Texas will be a rather busy place along about the middle of January. With the trial of Dr. Norris and the inauguration of Dan Moody as governor, there ought to be entertainment for nearly any one.

That the value of one turkey hen on his farm and has found that she has netted him more clear profit than 100 acres of cotton. The hen laid 31 eggs during the season and raised 11 turkeys, 34 of which are grown and remain on the farm. Those who are familiar with cotton growing and turkey raising can figure this out.

More evidence is being brought in daily to prove that the poultry yard, the hog pasture and the dairy barn can be relied upon to life the mortgage and put the bank balance on the right side of the ledger. We do not favor abandonment of cotton entirely, but we are very sure that too much of it will ruin this splendid country. It will impoverish the soil, and will make the farmer nothing, especially if it is raised in such great quantities as in the past year. Improved methods of farming is producing more cotton to the acre, and it is not necessary to plant as much even to produce the same number of bales. A nice bunch of turkeys along about this time of the year will relieve any shortage of cash in the farmers' pockets, and the cost of raising them will be very small as compared with the production of cotton.

Lost City Re-Discovered

It was a rendezvous of crime in those days and the good townspeople shunned it. Here the Berry brothers, slayers of sheriffs, used to hold forth, and there were nights when the walls of the little building were rocked with struggle and swept with leaden messages of death.

The only other building left standing is now used as a residence. It was once the dance hall and school.

Iron Horse Killed It. The last horse killed in Circleville. When the P. D. & E. took the Illinois Central, picked its route, it passed up Circleville entirely. Day by day the town dwindled, fell away, until now only a mass of muddly and moss covered ruins remain.

The old town was purchased recently by the State Representative Martin B. Loomman, and county Judge Charles Schaefer, of Pekin, Ill. They had it out in farms and revived the organization by appointing their friends to the offices listed. Most of the officials are residents of Pekin.

Keep In Good Health

INFLUENZA. The prevalence of influenza in a great many sections of its estate has caused Dr. H. O. Sappington, state health officer, to issue the following information concerning this disease with instructions on its prevention.

Influenza is a communicable disease, the causative agent or germ being present in the excretions of the respiratory tract. Sneezing or coughing will eject large numbers of the germs into the air where they may enter the system of other persons through the breathing passages. It is best to avoid crowded, overheated rooms, as the germs thrive best in such an atmosphere.

The onset of the malady is invariably sudden and intensive, and may or may not begin with a cold. The symptoms are pains in the head, eyes and limbs, which are often accompanied by a watery discharge from the nose, chilly sensations and cough, and marked muscular prostration.

Keep in Good Physical Condition. Keep your body in good physical condition in order that the disease resistant forces of your system may successfully repel the invasion of the disease germs. On the first intimation of infection, get to bed in order that all the energy of the body may be used in conquering the germ. Do not stay up until the "flu" gets a good hold of your system as this makes bronchial and pneumatic complications more likely.

If you have a cold, treat it very seriously as it may be influenza. Hold a handkerchief or medicated cloth over mouth and nose when sneezing or coughing. Keep your home and business offices well ventilated, and keep away from others with the disease where possible. Do not overload your stomach with indigestible food, eat and sleep regularly, and get as much exercise as possible in the open.

LUBBOCK TO MEET PLAINVIEW SATURDAY

TRIPLE TIE WILL BE SETTLED IN TWO GAMES; LUBBOCK DREW PLAINVIEW WHILE AMARILLO PLAYS THE WINNER

In a meeting held at Kress, Texas, yesterday afternoon of Coaches A. B. Hays, of Amarillo, Guy Allen, of Plainview, and E. J. Von Tungen, of Lubbock, it was agreed by the three members that the triangular football dead-lock be settled with only two games. Lubbock drew to Plainview in Lubbock on Saturday, November 13th, and Amarillo drew a bye.

The dead-lock came after Amarillo was defeated by the Plainview Bulldogs in Amarillo on last week-end with a score of 10 to 14; this placed Amarillo, Lubbock and Plainview in a triple tie—as Lubbock had defeated Plainview with a score of 15 to 7; a week later the Westerns lost to Amarillo by a 3-0 count.

Several matters were agreed to in the meeting pertaining to the deciding games. The location of the games will alternate from the 1925 schedule, and in no way will effect the 1927 schedule. That is, should Lubbock win from Plainview Saturday, the

Alexander's Homecoming

They made a big fuss over Grover Cleveland Alexander, world series star, when he got back to his home town of St. Paul, Neb.—but the best part of the homecoming, to Alex, was meeting his mother. The two are shown together here, the last—well, what does a mother usually do when she greets a son?

Ohio Is Ready to Try for Big-Ten Title

CHICAGO, Nov. 8 (AP)—The same Ohio State football team which got kicked all over the Western Conference last fall went to work tonight with a Big Ten championship in view. The Buckeyes meet Michigan Saturday in a game which will eliminate one of the three surviving title contenders unless a tie results.

Wile's galloping Phenoms are the sensation of a vital season with smashing triumphs over Iowa, Chicago and Columbia written into the record.

Yet, the Ohio State team is the same one except for Raskowski, line man and Robin Bell, end, which a year ago was beaten by Michigan, Illinois and Iowa, tied by Chicago and a single touch down better than the humble Indiana eleven, Ely, Grinn, Karrow and other Buckeye luminaries have developed this year, however, into the most sensational backfield in the conference and Big Ten followers agree that Michigan's onrush toward its second consecutive gridiron title will confront its greatest test of the season Saturday. Preparations have been made to entertain eighty thousand spectators at the Columbus stadium.

Michigan preparing for Ohio State with renewed confidence born of the Wisconsin rout, saw a new omelette today, for Minnesota must be met again a week after the Ohio game and the decisive manner in which the Gophers overhauled Iowa, indicated that they will be not set up such as the Wolverines found in the season's first engagement between the two teams, which Michigan won 20 to 0.

Minnesota has a fortnight to prepare for the second Michigan game, meeting the weak Butler team Saturday.

The other headlines of next Saturday's card engaged the attention tonight of Northwestern and Chicago.

Northwestern, having proved by beating Purdue that it is a real football team, shares the conference lead with Ohio State and Michigan and is a heavy favorite over the Maroons, who have not scored a point in three conference contests.

Iowa and Wisconsin, their seasons enmeshed by frequent defeats will fight at Madison for comparative rank in the second column of the standings.

Purdue rests by playing Franklin.

before engaging Indiana two weeks hence, and Illinois will have a casual afternoon against Wabash, giving the Zuppke force a chance to prepare for Ohio State November 20.

Purdue rests by playing Franklin.

Aggies and Owls to Dispute for Cellar

COLLEGE STATION, Texas, Nov. 8 (AP)—With 1,000 tickets for the Rice-A. and M. game already sold in Houston, indications are that the Owls will bring with them for the game here Friday the largest delegation since the two eleven teams meeting.

Rice showed much improvement Saturday in its game with Southern Methodist university and will be a hard foe to beat, Coach Dana X. Bible declared Monday.

Despite the fact that the game Friday will probably be to decide the cellar chair, there is as much interest in it here as though the conference's highest honors were at stake.

Coach Bible announced Monday that his squad is in excellent shape following the Texas Christian university game. "Beat Rice and Texas and it won't be a bad year after all," seems to be the sentiment.

Forward passing will make up most of the practice for the backfield, while the line again will be drilled in charging and tackling, in all three of which the Aggies showed weakness Friday. The Rice team has been closely scouted this year, and Owl formations will be featured in scrimmages.

SLATON BEATS TAHOKA (Special to The Avalanche) SLATON, Nov. 8.—The Slaton Tigers high school team, defeated the Tahoka eleven here Friday afternoon in a football game by the score of 42 to 12. Coach Gus Miller, of the Tigers, allowed his second team to play against the Tahoka team part of the time. The Tahoka team scored on the second team, but not on the first.

The Tigers are readily going forward toward the district championship. They are to meet the Spitz eleven on the local grounds next Thursday.

TOM BROWN FOUND Thomas Brown, for whom a search was instituted over the South Plains Saturday by his parents, who said he had been gone since the previous night and that they feared he had returned to his home Sunday. He had been working on the Halsell farm over Saturday.

Strolling Down Sport Lane

With James R. Dow

"Opportunity knocks at your door." I have forgotten who it was that said that, but at any rate, the Lubbock high school Westerns still have as good a chance for the Panhandle grid title as they have had all year. When Plainview defeated the Sandies in Amarillo last Friday it changed the whole situation, and put the three clubs on an equal footing.

Since Coach A. B. Hays was lucky enough to draw a bye game his Sandies will likely go ahead and meet with the Vernon club on Armistice Day in Amarillo.

How would you like to witness an A. and M. Texas game on a day like yesterday—but even maybe you wouldn't, there would be thousands that would, including myself. Weather is one thing that does not keep a grid contest from going on. Think it will, remember the Scribner-Tech game during the Fair.

Those Wildcats are getting "older and wilder" for the Matadors. Three hundred followers of the Purple and White will accompany the A. C. C. club here on Armistice Day.

A special train is being chartered by the student body of the Christian college for the holiday affair in Lubbock.

The greatest football crowd in the history of the Matadors will be expected for the eleventh.

WILL HOLD SHOOT BY WIRE WITH MARYLANDERS (Special to The Avalanche) AUSTIN, Tex., Nov. 8.—Members of the Girls Rifle Club of the University of Texas have started practice for the several meets which have been arranged for them this year. They are to test their skill against the Austin Rifle club, the Boys Rifle club, and the girls team of Maryland which won the women's intercollegiate team championship in small bore shooting last year. The last named match will be held by telegraph. Equipment used by the co-eds is the latest type of Winchester .22-caliber target rifle, especially made for indoor ranges.

FIFTY-TWO SMITHS ATTEND UNIVERSITY OF TEXAS AUSTIN, Texas, Nov. 8.—When someone calls "Smith" at the University of Texas, any one of 52 different persons might answer. But what is worse, 52 individuals might answer for Davis, Johnson or Williams. There are 52 students who might come forward when Brown is called. Other faculty names with their large representations at the University are as follows: Jones, 22; Moore, 27; Taylor, 22; Jackson, 21; Thompson, 19; King, 17; Miller, 17; Green, 15; Walker, 14; Harris, 13; Wilson, 12; Campbell, 14; Foster, 14; Thomas, 14; Cox, 12; Lewis, 12; Young, 12; Clark, 12; Cook, 12; White, 12.

More than one hundred million pounds of milk are produced annually in the United States, according to Roberts Everett, manager of the National Dairy Industries exposition.

MR. FUSH will have to be mighty careful where Poppa Clarke sits on the players' bench next summer. It might be advisable to get Poppa a nice reading lamp and a reserved section.

THE PIRATES lost the championship last summer because some of the boys objected to Poppa sitting on the bench and making nasty cracks about the misplaced concrete in their athletic shoes.

ACTING as spokesman for the conscientious objectors, Max Carey, the offed evangelist, told Poppa to drop off his tongue, break his beard and try a new lumbago cure and pipe down.

AS a direct and comical reward, Max Carey was exiled to Zookhyn, placed on a milk diet and porridge and denied the slightly privileged of listening to Golly and Dusty.

BACK in the old days, when Bill Bryan was just heading to break into the headlines and folks were beginning to think that young Harry These never would amount to much, "son Clark used to be the queen's ankle."

ONCE you've slept in the presidential suite, it's hard to get used to a cotton mattress in a flop house.

POPPA CLARK wouldn't be any of the 1926 Pirates forget that he used to be a roving cannon on the Gettysburg front and a sure catch of a fly baseball when first bounce into the whalers was on.

THAT was in the days when the well-tubed Continentals in the bleachers gurgled. "Get from behind those nice curtains, Felix, we know you!"

THE good poppa evidently wants it understood that it's one thing to make a Pirate walk the plank and quite another to make him slide off the bench.

AT any rate managing Pittsburgh club has accumulated new and strange complications, and it remains to be seen how many languages Double Bush can say "yes" in.

STREVE DISCATCHER wanted his country, right or wrong, but Poppa Clark evidently wants his years both ways, in the order named.

The grand jury started examining evidence, it the first of several hundreds of criminal cases that have piled up since spring.

MORE REVELATIONS OF MURDER LOVE

WITNESSES TELL ABOUT WHO THEY SAW NEAR HALL, MILLS-KILLING

ROSEMOUNT, N. J., Nov. 8.—From DeRusse's lane to Broadway, testimony moved today in the trial of Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall and her brother, Henry and Willie Stevens, charged with murder. Another person who was in what seems to have been New Brunswick's most popular thoroughfare on the night of September 14, 1922, told of the persons and things he saw there.

Two witnesses gained information they reported in court on Broadway. A New York detective insisted, over the previous testimony of Ralph V. M. Gorsline, that the New Brunswick vestryman told him that he saw Henry Stevens in the lane, where the Rev. Edward W. Hall and Mrs. Eleanor Mills were slain. The other introduction of the Broadway locale was by a witness who saw the slain rector and choir singer together on Broadway in the Roaring Forties in 1921.

Finger Prints
Much of the day was devoted to additional testimony of finger prints in general and one of Willie Stevens in particular that the state claims was on a calling card of the rector, found near the body.

Alexander Simpson, special prosecutor, announced that the state will require the "rest of this week anyway" to complete its case. The appearance of Mrs. Jane Gibson, regarded as his star witness, is causing the state representatives worry, he said.

Although physicians at Jersey City hospital to which Mrs. Gibson was taken yesterday said that the patient should not leave the hospital for two weeks, Dr. Simpson pointed out that "the doctors do not say it will endanger her life, but her health, if she were brought out within two weeks."

Won't Tell Name
Both the state and the defense gained much satisfaction from the testimony of Robert Ehrling, who was in DeRusse's lane, he said, with a companion whose identity he was anxious to conceal, "a girl" or a "woman" he thought sufficient and only on the direct command of the court did he give her name as "Jennie Lenfort."

The fact that she had married since she visited DeRusse's lane with him, and now has a husband and two children, the witness thought sufficient reason for restricting the identification. The court after ruling that the name she bore then must be revealed, decided that "as a matter of public policy, the married name need not be given."

Ehrling, once over the embarrassment caused by the demand of defense counsel for his companion's name, said that he saw Mrs. Jane Gibson riding her mule in the lane, and later saw two automobiles, one that "looked like a Ford sedan," occupied by a man with a moustache.

On cross examination, he described the moustache as "small." This evidence was welcomed by the defense as both the moustached defendants have anything but small moustaches.

Wears Overcoat
Ralph V. M. Gorsline, vestryman in the church of St. John the evangelist at the time of the tragedy, was summoned to court to confront William Garvin, a New York detective, who said that a man whom he was able to identify later as Gorsline, told him in New York, that he saw Henry Stevens, with a revolver in his hand in DeRusse's lane, the night of the crime.

Gorsline testified last week that he was in the lane with a young woman of New Brunswick. As he stood before Garvin today and heard the detective say "that's the man," he gave the appearance of a school boy haled back to his books after playing hooky.

Garvin wore his overcoat throughout his testimony. As soon as cross examination began he was asked by Robert H. McCarter of defense counsel if he was referred to as the "grassy vest." On objection of the state, the witness was not permitted to describe the condition of his waist coat although he declared himself willing to do so.

Two finger print experts, Frederick Drown of Jersey City and Edward Schwartz of New Ark, again testified that the print of Willie Stevens is on a calling card of the Rev. Mr. Hall found near his body.

PLAN POULTRY SHOW

Slaton Will Exhibit Chickens In December; Meeting Is Held Monday Night

(Special to The Avalanche)
SLATON, Tex., Nov. 8.—Plans are under way to hold a poultry show here in December. A poultry association has been formed with Rev. T. L. Kimmel, chairman, and Mrs. Bradshaw secretary. A meeting has been called for Monday night, Nov. 8, at which poultry raisers will attempt to formulate final arrangements for the December show.

"MORE FEED" COMMITTEE TO MEET AT BALLINGER

A meeting of the "More Feed, Food and Conservation" committee of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce will be held in connection with the Central West Texas district convention of that organization at Ballinger, November 15. Secretaries of all chambers of commerce in West Texas are to be invited to attend to take part in the more feed campaign discussion. The committee is to work out plans for a program entailing the expenditure of $10,000 a year in connection with promoting diversification and living at home idea through the More Feed, Food, and Conservation movement.

The Central West Texas district convention was scheduled to meet originally on October 14 in connection with the Burnetts County Fair at Ballinger, but the gathering was postponed because of excessive rains in the section, which made roads impassable. The program for the meeting will be practically the same as first outlined, though additional prominent state speakers may be obtained.

PRO LAW CASES TO TRIAL TODAY

KNOX AND AMOS FACE CHARGES IN SEVENTY-SECOND DISTRICT COURT

A number of motions were filed by attorneys during the morning session of district court Monday, though after consideration of these motions the court overruled most of them. People indicted by the present grand jury will be given time to get their witnesses, but those who have been under indictment for any length of time will be brought to trial immediately.

The cases of Richard Knox and Jesse Amos, (colored) who are charged with violating the prohibition law, will be called for trial at 9 o'clock this morning.

On Wednesday the cases of Don F. McCombs, Fred Tarver, S. A. Hamilton, Grady Burch and M. C. Nevels will be called. Witnesses in all these cases are instructed to be present on the above dates. There will be no court on Thursday. M. Lucero, R. F. Lynch and Frank J. Terry will be tried Friday.

MORE TROUBLE ON MARIE'S TRAIN

NEWSPAPER WOMAN TALKS TOO MUCH TO PLEASE ROYALTY

QUEEN MIE'S TRAIN, En Route to Glacier National Park, Nov. 8, 1926.—Undersurface tension gripped the personnel of Queen Marie's train as it sped through Montana today.

Excitement and speculation aroused by incidents marking the last few days of the Washington and Oregon tour were heightened today by an expectation that still other members of the mobile entourage are to be missing when the journey ends at Washington, D. C.

The royal train was plunged two of its passengers upon leaving Seattle, Saturday night. These were Samuel Hill, railroad magnate, and J. A. Ayres of New York, who presumably was a representative of Henry Ford.

Ayres was expelled from the train by order of Colonel John H. Carroll, official host to the queen. Carroll, in this action, said he resented a newspaper article which quoted Ayres as saying Ford was spending $500,000 in providing automobile transportation for the royal party and that Ford's money was being used to defray incidental expenses of the tour.

Interest was aroused today by conferences which were held yesterday between Colonel Carroll and Marie's special aide, Major Stanley Washburn, and Miss Mary Birkhead, New York and Paris press agent for Miss LaLe Fuller, by Colonel Carroll concerning her statement to others aboard the train that the queen's lady-in-waiting, Madame La Houvarie, is identified with a Bucharest political group in sympathy with the present government.

Miss Birkhead was also questioned concerning her movements about the train in Seattle Saturday night after Hill, builder of the Maryhill museum, which was dedicated by Marie last week, had left the train following a dispute with Major Washburn over the question of authority.

Miss Birkhead, who with Miss Fuller, and Miss Gabrielle Bloch, secretary to Miss Fuller, joined the train as members of Hill's group, told Colonel Carroll that she had repeated about Madame La Houvarie only what she had heard on the queen's ship coming over from France.

Although Miss Fuller has not said how long she will remain with the party, it was expected on the train that she would stay at least until Chicago is reached on November 13.

WILL AVIATE THEIR WAY THROUGH STATE UNIVERSITY

AUSTIN, Texas, Nov. 8.—While going to the University of Texas six young men who expect to enter that institution after Christmas will have a school of their own. In order to pay their university expenses, they have opened a flying school and a commercial aviation center about two miles north of Austin. Interested in the project are Bill Sewall of Willis Point, S. W. Raft of Austin, Bill Warren of San Antonio, F. C. Merrill of Austin, Homer Rader of Columbus, O., and Jerry Marshall of Peru, Ind. They now have five planes but others will be purchased immediately, and a steel hangar accommodating fifteen machines will be erected.

AUSTIN, Tex., Nov. 8.—To meet the need of teachers acquainted with the problems of organization in junior college work, the University of Texas is offering for the first time this fall a special course in that field. It is expected that such a course will prove a great advantage, as the number of junior colleges in Texas is rapidly increasing, according to Dr. Frederick Eby, professor of education.

BIG SPRING HOLDS FIRST ANNUAL FLOWER SHOW

BIG SPRING, Texas, Nov. 8.—The first annual Flower Show was held in Big Spring on Saturday, November 6, under the auspices of the City Federation of Women's clubs. There were more than 100 entries at this flower show with chrysanthemums predominating. One entry by Mrs. F. F. Gary consisted of 25 different varieties of flowers, these coming out of one yard. Trumpet lilies were on display and were judged to be of the most excellent quality. The chrysanthemums were many in number, a variety of colors and some of them measured as much as five inches in diameter. One of the unique exhibits was a snake cactus in bloom. It was voted to make this an annual affair.

Passenger travel to Europe from American ports last summer showed an increase of 16,518 persons over 1925.

A PRODUCTIVE THOUGHT

The conversation ran something like this: Cotton prices are very much lower than usual, and I wonder how conditions will be next year. The railroads are not doing as much business as they were at this time last year, 1926, someone mentioned the fact that their "rooms were vacant," some had "apartments" others "houses" some had "furniture" to sell. They were wondering what they could do to overcome these conditions, when a friend dropped in and suggested using the Avalanche-Journal classified ads. They are real business getters. He knew, because he had used them. They filled his vacant rooms, apartments, houses, sold his old furniture. You may use the classified ads, and obtain the required results. Ads taken over the phone until 9 p. m. every night.
