For Seventy-five Years a Builder in Collingsworth County

Volume LXXIV | WELLINGTON, COLLINGSWORTH COUNTY, TEXAS 79095 | THURSDAY, JANUARY 31, 1985 | Number 29

FOR MERITORIOUS ACHIEVEMENT

Forty-three years after the military action on Bataan for which he was decorated, Major John S. Coleman, Retired, receives the Bronze Star Medal from John R. Henard. Henard is commander of the American Legion; Coleman is a past commander. Henard was also awarded the Bronze Star but received the medal at the time of his discharge at the end of World War II.

Bataan Veteran Receives Bronze Star 43 Years Late

In the last weeks of 1941, just after the United States was drawn into World War II, Major, (then Captain) John S. Coleman was in the Army's front line on Bataan Peninsula, Philippine Islands, fighting a powerful Japanese enemy with far greater numbers. It would eventually overrun that line of American soldiers. Three years and 5 months of imprisonment in a Japanese slave labor camp followed.

Forty-three years later, in the last weeks of 1984, John Coleman was awarded the Bronze Star Medal from the United States of America. It cites him for meritorious achievement from 7 December 1941 (Pearl Harbor Day) to 10 May 1942.

The medal reached him in Wellington late last week.

The accompanying citation, signed by John D. Marsh, Jr., Secretary of the Army and Robert Joyce, the Adjutant General, says that "The actions of Major)then Captain) Coleman were in keeping military service and reflect distinct credit upon him, his unit and the United States Army.

Major Coleman, who retired at the end of World War II, remembers that period clearly. He has written of it vividly in his book, "Bataan and Beyond."

"We were four months on the front line, continuously and without any rest or replacements. Then we surrendered. That was April 9, 1942," he said this week.

He was the commanding officer of the 27th Materiel Squadron, made up of approximately 315 men.

(At the end of the war, 34 of these men came home, two officers and 32 enlisted men," he said after receiving the Bronze Star. "When the war was over, I was in north central Japan, near Fukui, in Rokuroshi Camp.")

"I was in charge of the advance point that met the Japanese coming down on Bataan, Major Coleman remembers. "We went back on the stationary lines and from there we made four attacks into the Philippine (Army) territory.

"Their lines broke; ours did not and we'd go over there (to attack).

Every day the squadron was under some type of Japanese attack.

"We were not battling every day, but planes would fly over our position, there was artillery fire, not all the time but some of the time. There were night patrols by both the United States and Japanese forces. It all added up to unending pressure.

The squadron's kitchen was four and one-half miles back of the front lines, and the troops were fed twice a day, after dark and before daylight. Major Coleman's mess sergeant, William Yount, made the Army his career and is now retired and living in Virginia. REcently, in a letter to Major Coleman, he said "I had 22 commanding officers and if we have another war, I want to be under you."

Of the 34 men who were freed from prison camp at the end of the war, 7 are alive. The other officer who survived was Lt. Morton Deter, who retired as a major and lives in Arkansas.

Major Coleman can only speculate why it took 43 years for his Bronze Star Medal to be awarded. He believes it may have been because squadron records were destroyed.

Rain, Snow Soak Entire County

Moisture ranging from a half inch to .70 and .80 inch was general over the county during the weekend. Altogether, the ground is soaked.

Snow fell during the time, also, but in most parts of the county it was hardly enough to cover the ground.

There were scattered areas where from two to two and one-half inches were reported.

North of Wellington, beginning at the old city dump and going north to Lutie, approximately 2.5 inches was reported and Highway department plows were called out to clear Highway US 83, according to Don Fowler maintenance supervisor.

North of Lutie in the area of the Willie Knoll place, another two inches of snow fell but stopped abruptly just beyond Greasy Corner.

Wellington rain reports ranged from .5 to .65 inches. With moisture that has fallen earlier, this gives the county one of the best moisture situations for wheat it has had in several years.

A small amount of cotton remains in the field, probably not more than 100 bales, but this is expected to be gathered within a few days after dry weather returns. Although the grade will be poor, most farmers have indicated they consider this worth gathering.

County Republicans to Organize on February 4

Republicans of Collingsworth County will meet Monday, Feb. 4, to set up a formal organization of the party. The meeting will be in the Farm Bureau Hospitality Room, at 6:30 p.m. according to Jean Cudd. This will be a short meeting, she added.

This is not only for those who are already party members, but also for those who want to align themselves with the Republican party or who are simply interested in seeing Collingsworth a two-party county, Mrs. Cudd said.

Coming to provide information and help with the organizational process are 5 county and district Republican officials:

Meryl Barnett, district committeeman from Hutchinson County; Bill Jewett, Potter county chairman; George Eller, Carson county chairman; Lottie Eller, District Committeewoman, Carson county; and Susan Triplehorn Gray county chairman.

Wayne Cudd, co-owner of Cudd Brothers Trucking, has agreed to serve as county chairman until a permanent chairman can be secured.

It was pointed out that Collingsworth County, although it is traditionally Democrat, now has a Republican Congressman, U.S. Senator and President, but no organized Republican county machinery.

"It is the belief of those working to hold the Monday night meeting that a Republican organization is essential in order to keep the lines of communication open with the national government.

"Those who feel they want better government and who believe an organized party will give strength and clout for Collingsworth County in Washington, D.C., should be at this meeting," Jean Cudd emphasized.

"We will need people to go to Washington who can do some good, and we do need some strong Republicans," she continued.

"We need young people who believe in our government to come out and be active and begin their move up to places of importance in the local and state party organization.

"We will need those of all ages to provide leadership. Texas is now a two-party state and Collingsworth cannot afford not to be a two-party county," declared Mrs. Cudd.

Those with any questions about the Monday night meeting should call Wayne or Jean Cudd, office 447-2595, or home 447-2290.

Three Games Ahead for Skyrockets-Rockettes

Three games remain on the District 2-2A playing schedule with the season ending Thursday, Feb. 7. This date was set in event there is a tie between any of the district teams. Friday and Saturday can then be used for the tie breaker, Coach Gano Wilson explained.

During the next week, the Skyrockets and Rockettes will meet Shamrock Friday, Feb. 1 in Rocket Gym.

The Wellington teams travel to Quanah for their Tuesday, Feb. 5 games.

Wellington girls are in excellent shape and are in first place in district, said Coach Gano Wilson. The boys, in a rebuilding program this year and with one of its youngest teams in a number of seasons, is out of contention.

"Shamrock boys have a good team, the best in several seasons, and they are playing well, said Wilson. Fans who come out to Rocket Gym will see some excellent playing.

"There are four real good boys teams in the district, and although Shamrock boys have one of their better teams, the competition is such that they may come out third or fourth," he continued.

"Wellington has young kids coming on and playing real well, but we are trying to rebuild for next year!"

"Although Wellington girls are first in district at this point, the evenness of the teams is such that anybody can beat anybody," Wilson pointed out.

Wellington teams will travel to Quanah for the Tuesday night game.

"Their girls are right up there with us," said Wilson.

Not only do the Rockettes have

Combined ECA-EMT Course Sought Here

An Emergency Care Attendant course and an Emergency Medical Technician refresher course (a combination class) will be offered under sponsorship of the Volunteer Ambulance Service as soon as enough persons wanting them can be secured, according to Marshall Peters instructor.

Peters said that a few ambulance service members need to be EMT recertified. We are seeking these from the general public who may want the ECA course.

The EMT refresher course is open only to those who are presently EMT certified.

Peters will instruct the course. There will be a tuition fee, but the amount has not been determined. Each student must buy his own books.

Peters pointed out that it is now required by the State Department of Health that every ambulance attendant and driver must be EMT and ECA certified.

Peters said that a few ambulance service members need to be EMT recertified and more emergency care attendants are also needed.

Application Filed For Disposal Site Near Norwood

Collingsworth County has filed an application with the Texas Department of Health for a permit to operate a proposed Type III municipal solid waste disposal site to be located one quarter mile east and one half mile north of Samnorwood, alongside a county road.

County Judge Zook Thomas said the site consists of approximately 2.9 acres of land and will receive approximately .4 tons of solid wastes per day under the regulatory jurisdiction of the Texas Department of Health.

One of the principal users will be the Samnorwood School.

Judge Thomas said if anyone in the vicinity believes he will be

COLLINGSWORTH COUNTY AGENT REPORT

by Don Reeves

Although only a small percent of Americans-about 3 percent--are actually involved in farming, a multitude are part of the nation's food and fiber system.

More than 22 percent of the U.S. work force is employed in the food and fiber system.

That means nearly 23 million people are employed in processing, manufacturing, exporting, retailing, preparing and serving farm-based products.

The food and fiber system provides a diversity of jobs and income for farmers and ranchers, florists, restaurant cooks and table waiters, truckers, grocers and stockers, brewers, fabric manufacturers and shoemakers, garment sales people, cigarette and soda machine service people, and many, many others.

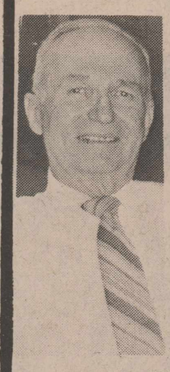

By state, Texas ranks third with its estimated 1.4 million jobs in the food and fiber sector. California and New York lead the list with 2.5 million and 1.6 million, respectively.

In terms of percentage, Texas is 22nd with a fifth of its labor force dependent on the food and fiber system. Nebraska, North Carolina and North Dakota lead the nation, each with almost a third of its labor force employed in food and fiber occupations.

With a growing agricultural industry and an expanding population, more Texas businesses are entering the food and fiber system. Consequently, the percentage and number of Texans employed in the food and fiber sector should rise dramatically in the next five years.

Little children are curious, and they test by tasting. And little children can't read labels that say "Danger" or "Poison". The result? About 150 children under 5 die from poisoning each year, and a greater number get very sick.

Smart parents and grandparents poison-proof their homes. Old medicines should be thrown out; current prescriptions should be locked away. Medications are particularly dangerous because children see YOU take them and think they are safe to ingest.

Cleaning products should be stored up high, or the cabinet latched securely. Garden chemicals, too, are hazardous. Be sure these are kept in their original containers.

Every home should have the phone number of the nearest poison control center posted prominently. The center will give first-aid instructions appropriate for the poison ingested.

MOD VICTORY

MOD March Tops Expectations

This year's Mothers March helped raise $1,214.84 in contributions to continue the March of Dimes efforts to prevent birth defects.

The money was raised in Wellington area by 31 volunteers who visited or called on homes and businesses the week of January 21-25.

When the final figures were totaled at Charles and Gracie Michael's home, Mothers March chairmen Dona Goss and Gracie Michael said: "We are deeply grateful to all who gave so much time, effort and financial support during this Mothers March. It is encouraging to know that so many people in Wellington share with the March of Dimes the conviction that birth defects can be prevented."

Tabulations of block and area collection reports were tallied at the Bank Night center by other Mothers March volunteers, including area captains, Julie Barjenbruch, Neva Jeffrey, Beulah Powell, Margaret Wood, Juanita Owens, LaVonda Hartman, Toni Wright, Vin Kumar, Maria Quintero and Mary Arredondo, who was captain of the Dodson area. Other walkers were Kathy Linville, Cub Scout Den 9, Judy Hall, Donell Davis, Lynda Jones, Vada Wood, Mary Fulcher, Lindy Thomas, Geney Gulley, Nancy McKinney, Ranee Tarver, Jean Allison, Fern Nix, Frances Hughs, Marilyn Phillips, Debra Belew, Peggy Allred, and Mary Nell Holton. In addition, helping tabulate funds collected by the marchers were Charles Michael and Cliff Goss.

Funds raised by the Mothers March will help fund both national and local programs of research, medical services and education to prevent birth defects.

Lynn Tate Weds Cassondra Mimms in Chapel Ceremony at Lubbock

Broadway Church of Christ Chapel in Lubbock was the setting for the wedding of Cassondra Ann Mimms and David Lynn Tate at 6 o'clock Saturday, January 19. Paul Kehoe, minister of Military Parkway Church of Christ in Dallas, and formerly of Cactus Drive Church of Christ in Levelland, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Mimms of Route 3, Levelland. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Rudoloph Tate of the Abra community. He is also the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. W.R. Breeding of Wellington and Mrs. Emma Tate of Panhandle.

The center of the chapel was decorated with brass tree candelabras on wooden French pedestals decorated with ivory candles. Two brass pedestal planters placed at the sides of the candles held arrangements of jade, eucalyptus, white Hawaiian orchids and white winter blooms. The aisles were decorated with red ribbons accenting the pews.

The Church of Christ choir provided the wedding music. "If," "To Love Someone More Dearly," "Wedding Song" and "O, Perfect Love," were sung by the entire choir, and "Nobody Loves Me Like You Do" was a solo by Judy James. The congregation was led in singing "The Lord Bless You and Keep You."

Mr. Mimms gave his daughter in marriage.

She wore a gown of all-over embroidered Maderia taffeta designed by Bianchi Bridals of Boston, Mass. The high neckline with dimensional applique was enhanced by the fitted bodice and natural waistline, decorated in floral embroidery. One of the puff sleeves was lightly accented and the other was totally decorated in embroidery. The full bouffant skirt was gathered at the waist and swept to a court train.

Her ivory satin teardrop cap featured rows of pearls and a pouf of illusion framed the cap and fingertip veil.

She carried a bouquet of silk dogwood and forsythia, tied with ivory streamers over a Bible covered with ivory lace made by the bridegroom's grandmother.

Carrying out tradition, her something old was a lace and linen handkerchief which belonged to her mother; "something new was her wedding dress; "something borrowed, a strand of pearls belonging to an aunt, and "something blue" was a handmade garter decorated with pearls and lace made by the bridegroom's great-aunt, Mrs. Vera Amerson.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Debbie Dennis of Lubbock. Her bridesmaids were Jackie Jenkins and Regena Comer, both of Levelland.

They wore deep red tea-length dresses of moire faille, designed with fitted bodices, natural waistlines, pleated skirts and fully gathered elbow length sleeves accented with tucks. Moire sashes were tied in bows. Their teardrop hats of matching material were covered with red Russian tulle and they carried long stemmed ivory silk roses with red accents and ivory ribbon streamers.

Amanda Bruer and Mary Ann Holliman, cousins of the bride and bridegroom, were the flower girls. They wore ivory taffeta dresses with pleats, and sashes marked the waistline. They carried ivory lace baskets with red silk flowers and red ribbons.

Stan Tate of Abra was his brother's best man and groomsmen were Brad Barnett of Iraan and Kevin Pepper of Claude.

Ushers were Dwayne Myers of Samnorwood, Dwight Thomason of Seminole, J.C. Ball of Georgetown and Mark Urbanczyk of White Deer.

Guests were registered by Jana Bilberry of Portales N.M. at a table accented with an arrangement of rose shaped rice bags made by the groom's aunt.

The bride is a 1980 graudate of Levelland High School and attended South Plains College in Levelland and Texas Tech University.

A graduate of Samnorwood High School, the bridegroom received his bachelor's degree from Texas Tech University. He will begin his studies in Baylor University Law School in mid-Februarv.

MRS. DAVID LYNN TATE

RECEPTION

After the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Mimms entertained with a reception in the church garden room.

The bride's table was covered with a lace cloth and had a centerpiece of brass candelabra with brass appointments. The three tiered ivory cake was decorated with ivory wild roses cascading off each tier on one side. Lilies of the Valley, net and ribbon also accented the cake.

The bridegroom's table was appointed with a brass samovar and candleholders with an arrangement of red chrysanthemums. The Italian creme cake was in the shape of a Texas Tech Double-T, trimmed in red.

Hors d'oeuvres were served on brass trays and included fruit relish, cheese and meats.

Chryl Childress, Renee Beasley, Crystal Breeding, Danna Coleman, Carla West and Brenda Thomason served as hostesses.

Afterwards the couple left on their wedding trip to Taos, New Mexico. The bride's going away dress was a cream wool chemise with draped teal shawl and sash. Her teal Victorian hat was trimmed with black Venise lace and bow.

The couple will live in Waco.

Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Tate Entertain Rehearsal Supper

A rehearsal supper given by Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Tate, honored their son, Lynn, his fiancee, Sondra Mimms and members of their wedding party and guests on January 18 in the Fellowship Hall of Broadway Church of Christ in Lubbock.

Tables were laid with red cloths with white runners in the center and featured silver candle holders with red tapers entwined with red and white flowers. Gifts of appreciation were given to the attendants.

Members of the house party assisting Mr. and Mrs. Tate were: Mr. and Mrs. Leon Myers, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Breeding, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Frank Knoll, Mr. and Mrs. Garland Cavitt, Mr. and Mrs. Doug Coleman, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. W.R. Breeding, Mrs. Jo Nell Wischkaemper, Mr. and Mrs. De Holliman and Mrs. Emma Tate.

Mr., Mrs. Newell McDaniel Honored on Anniversary

The four children of Newell and Ada Mae McDaniel honored their parents on their 50th wedding anniversary Saturday, January 5 at a dinner given in the dining room of the DQ Steakhouse at Hollis.

The room was decorated in keeping with this festive occasion.

Lyndall McDaniel, the eldest son, was master of ceremonies. Joining him in paying tribute to their parents were his brothers, Von McDaniel and Kerry McDaniel and their sister, Anita Swaim.

They recalled many happenings as they were growing up, happy occasions, and things that influenced their lives. After each had spoken, a rosebud was presented to their mother. Pictures and recordings were made.

The tiered anniversary cake, decorated in gold roses, was made by Kathi Littrell, Lyndall McDaniel's daughter. The complete family was present, children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren, 27 in all.

After the dinner, the family returned to the McDaniel home east of Dodson, where they continued to take pictures and make recordings. There was singing and religious worship.

Family members present were Mr. and Mrs. Newell McDaniel, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Sloan (she is McDaniel's sister,) Mr. and Mrs. Lyndall McDaniel with Jon, Susan and Joel of Kansas City, Mr. and Mrs. Von McDaniel with Joy, Paula and Vonessa of Houston, Mr. and Mrs. Barry Finley, Mr. and Mrs. Kerry McDaniel and Jana of Arlington, Anita McDaniel Swaim with David and Danette of Ft. Worth, Mr. and Mrs. Dale McDaniel and Dustin, and Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Littrell with Kristin and Amy.

Newell McDaniel was married to Ada Mae Burk on January 5, 1935. Six years later they bought the farm where they still live. It was 2 miles from where both grew up. "She moved two miles north, I moved two miles south," says McDaniel. Both are members of or related to a group of close-knit families who came into the area before or shortly after 1900 and have given leadership to that part of Harmon County and the area around Dodson.

Mrs. McDaniel's parents were Mr. and Mrs. B.O. Burk. (Mrs. Burk was a member of the Scott family.)

McDaniel's parents were W.W. and Mabel Royal McDaniel. (Newell is a cousin of Coach Darrell Royal.)

"We've been blessed," said McDaniel, speaking of the accomplishments of his family.

The farm they bought in 1941 is now 800 acres. In 1945, McDaniel grew his first alfalfa crop and has been raising it since then.

"I've made more clear money from alfalfa every year than I have from cotton," he says.

He helped to organize the State Alfalfa Board, then assisted in organizing the alfalfa growers in Harmon County, which has members in Collingsworth.

He was a member of the Oklahoma Crop Improvement Board three years and has served on a variety of other boards: gins, school, Red Cross and others.

For 15 years Mrs. McDaniel had her business selling honey. "There's profit in honey, but it's hard work," says her husband. He estimates that a person selling honey on the scale she did can make from $8,000 to $13,000 per year.

Mr. and Mrs. McDaniel are active in the Church of Christ and attended the OM Church until it was disbanded. He served as an elder 8 years. They are now members of Vinson Church of Christ.

The couple's children are leaders in their home cities.

Lyndall McDaniel is minister of a Church of Christ in Kansas City; Von McDaniel is a banker in Houston and Kerry Don McDaniel is in the insurance business in Arlington. Their daughter, Anita, moved recently to Ft. Worth.

COLLINGSWORTH COUNTY AGENT REPORT

NANCY JANES

A VISION OF HOME FOR THE 80'S

Mention the word "home", and it calls forth from each of us a flood of images. For many of us, those may be nostalgic images of when. we were growing up.

Home makes a lasting impact on the kind of adult produced by any family. Numerous studies have traced the cause of social problems such as increasing divorce, school troubles, and crime, back to difficulties in the home. Yet many of us continue to believe that homes in the 80's are like they were when we were young.

What is home?

Is home a refuge? Runaway children, fleeing intolerable conditions of neglect or abuse, now number perhaps as many as 1.5 million nationwide.

Is home a center for family togetherness? Not if dinnertime is any indication. Americans, eating out more, are also changing the way they eat meals at home - snacking on the run rather than sitting down to the table.

Is home a place of relaxation? Employed women are still largely responsible for housework, although they're looking for ways to share the burden with the family.

Even the economy is significantly shaped by the home. As 18-year-olds, immigrants and women flooded the job market, unemployment rose to record levels. Many of them, especially immigrants and women, entered the job market because of changing attitudes toward home and their identity as homemakers.

Whether you think of "home" as a grudging obligation or a natural birthright, determines the attitude you have in support of, or against, the value of family and home.

Home is not something we resort to only in times of great need, but it is something we labor to deserve. Home is central to our humanity, to our ability to progress as a nation of communities, to our sense of worth and our capacity for love.

Party Given Jared Patterson Saturday for His First Birthday

Jared Patterson, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Patterson, celebrated his first birthday Saturday, Jan. 19, with a party at the family home.

Jared's birthday was Thursday, Jan. 17, but the party was held Saturday so more family members could attend.

Mrs. Patterson carried out the Little Cowboy theme for her son's birthday, including a cake decorated with that theme.

After everyone sang "Happy Birthday" to Jared, punch, birthday cake and ice cream were served, and he opened his gifts.

Those attending were his grandmothers, Mrs. Mary Nell Patterson of Wellington and Mrs. Sue Mace of Mt. View, Okla.

Other relatives and friends were John Mace, Toby and Chad Berry, all of Mt. View; Janet Brown, and Stormy Blevins, Cathy Wischkaemper with Jason, Jane Sims with Nikki and McKenna, Lavonda Hartman with Tyler, Veronica Langley with Vanessa, and Rachelle Ford, the guest of honor and his mother, Mrs. Patterson.

A person's nose and ears continue to grow throughout his or her life.

Mrs. Peeples Honored on Her 92nd Birthday

Mrs. O.W. Peeples (Lala) was honored Sunday, January 20, on her 92nd birthday. Her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. E.B. Peeples hosted a dinner in her honor.

The birthday cake, was a replicia of Wheel of Fortune, Mrs. Peeples' favorite TV show, compliments of another son, Rex Peeples.

Those present were the honoree, Mr. and Mrs. Rex Peeples of Groom, Kimberly Peeples, Amarillo; Mrs. Lola Estes, Mr. and Mrs. O.B. Raburn, Hubert Peeples and the hosts, the E.B. Peeples.

Hamburger Party Given for Andrea Cox on Her 9th Birthday

Andrea Cox was honored on her ninth birthday with a hamburger party Saturday, January 19 at the National Guard Armory. Her mother, Marcia Cox, and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J.B. King, were hosts.

A Cabbage Patch theme was used in the cake and decorations. Games were played, and Andi opened her gifts as the children sat in a circle on the floor.

After the hamburger supper, cake and ice cream were served to Lesi Gray, Jennifer Thomson, Sara Hunt, Charity and Chasity Gray, Christopher, Leslie and Tori Belew, Stormy Throne, DeLanea Killian, Shonda Colson, Janie Wilkerson, Paige Davis, Amber Ford, Kent Hudson, Michael Garza, Jason Fike,

IT'S A FACT!

In order for skin to remain smooth and supple, say dermatologists, the top layer of skin must contain water, along with sufficient lubricants to trap and hold that moisture.

Skin can become dehydrated for many reasons. These include excessive sun, over-heated rooms, cold winter air, low humidity, and even too much soap and water!

Collingsworth County Republicans are organizing a county party on Monday, Feb. 4 at 6:30 p.m. at the Farm Bureau building. Everyone who's interested ought to turn out and speak up. With a Republican President, Senator and Representative, Collingsworth County needs an effective voice to speak to our elected officials about our problems and ideas. The organization of a county party will be good for all of our citizens, Republican or not.

"An economist is a guy who's good with numbers, but doesn't have the personality to be an accountant," Dr. Jared Hazleton, president of the Texas Research League (and an economist), told a Texas Press Association meeting in Ft. Worth last week.

And then he went on to describe the State of Texas' fiscal state, which is not too rosy at the moment.

Over the last 12 years, Hazleton said, each Legislature has had about 25% more money to spend than in the previous two year period. But, Hazleton said, the party's over.

Oil prices are falling, OPEC is meeting, and he said he has a friend in business in the oil patch who's using a new accounting method: it's not LIFO (last in first out), it's not FIFO (first in, first out), it's FIST (first in, still there).

The oil and natural gas industry at one time paid 27% of all state revenues. Now it's 22% and declining. And Texas, now with a much larger population to dilute the oil largesse, must bite the bullet as other states have had to do earlier. We must decide whether we want to pay higher taxes and have more state services, or whether we want to keep the money in our pockets and do without some of the things that only state government can provide.

Last summer the Legislature increased taxes and devoted all of the new income to public schools and highways. Now the remainder of the budget is coming up begging, and legislators are caught between promises of no further tax increases and slashing existing state programs. A proposal has been floated, for example, to cut spending on higher education by 26%.

Hazleton suggested that there might be a more orderly and logical method than slash and burn.

For instance, college tuition could be raised. Texas now has the lowest in-state tuition of any state in the union, and only Oklahoma has cheaper out-of-state tuition.

Hazleton said that state revenue problems will not go away anytime soon, and that Texans should prepare for some difficult choices. And he said Texans should remain flexible because you never know about long-range predictions.

"One day when I was a young boy," he said, "my dad loaded me up on the train to travel over to see some buffalo. 'I want you to see the buffalo because they'll soon be extinct,' my dad said."

"I've always looked back on that day as one when my dad did me a big favor," Hazleton said.

"There are plenty of buffalo around today, but all of the passenger trains are gone."

Marketing consultant Charles Mouser laid out this surprising statistic at the Texas Press meeting: Guess how much time the average American household spends each day on food preparation.

My guess is that you, like me, guessed too high. The average household spends only 20 minutes a day, according to Mouser.

The Playboys have recently released a new album of the old traditional Bob Wills Music which is doing well on the National and International Market.

Ed Campbell on Southwestern Dean's List

Ed Campbell, a Wellington Student in Southwestern Oklahoma State Universy, is listed on the Dean's Honor Roll for the 1984 fall semester.

Campbell, the son of Mrs. Frankie Campbell, is a third year student in the school's 5-year pharmacy course.

He is a graduate of Wellington High School.

To be named to the Dean's List, a student must complete 15 semester hours in that semester with a grade point average of "B" (3.0) or higher and with no grade lower than a "C".

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—Texas Comptroller Bob Bullock rocked the Capitol complex on its heels last week with his own unique method of trimming fat from government.

Bullock, before anyone could recover from the shock, cut 127 employees from his payroll and closed 12 regional offices, including some in Dallas, San Antonio, Fort Worth and Houston.

While Bullock says that he's now "down to the bare essentials of tax collecting; he still rules over a mighty force of some 2,550 workers. Stories about Bullock's whims, crazy-like-a-fox-tactics, and eccentricities are now legends among the Capitol crowd.

One favorite myth concerns former Bullock employee Bob Jordan, now the Deputy Commissioner for Budget and Planning under Land Commissioner Gary Mauro, and a highly regarded figure at the Capitol. Jordan walked by a table one night where Bullock and his top aides were holding court, and Bullock, who harbored some anger then towards Jordan, told one to fire Jordan when he came to work the next day.

Hire and Fire

"We can't do that. You fired him last week," he was told.

"Well then, hire him back, and fire him again," Bullock said, as the story goes. Several folks swear it's true to a reasonable degree. And if Bullock has fired his fair share of employees in his long tenure, he has also trained a majority of the Capitol work force. Many of his former employees like Jordan, have gone on to greater accomplishments and earned high marks of respect.

Hiring Lid

Bullock's meat cleaver tactics combined with the warnings of the Legislature have caused several state agencies to impose a hiring freeze. Agriculture Commissioner Jim Hightower's office was the latest to join the freeze movement last week.

Two legislators, a Republican and a Democrat, have authored a bipartisan bill to eliminate about 20,000 state jobs through attrition. Eventually, no state agency could hire more than 100 employees per 10,000 Texans.

Two state employees groups, one a union, have asked for a stop to the massacre by calling for a task force to study ways to cut staff.

Bullock took a big political chance, some say, because the public is bound to ask: "What's he doing with all those extra employees in the first place." But Bullock also stands to make a good deal of political hay as the man who wasn't afraid to admit and solve the problem. Texas Democrats probably owe him a big favor.

The Legislature

The Democratic Caucus in the Texas House of Representatives elected Rep. Gene Green of Houston as new majority leader. Green said he will try to persuade conservative Democrats from bolting to become Republicans, but that may not be necessary. Only one legislator, Rep. Gary Thompson of Abilene, is showing any signs of changing parties. The others are sticking to their guns, come what may, apparently.

House Speaker Gib Lewis predicted last week that Texas will have to impose both corporate and personal income taxes before the turn of the century, because tax revenues from oil and gas are running out. He also foresees substantial hikes in the sales tax, but still vows that no tax bill will be passed this session.

Split-Primary Bill

The notion of a Texas split primary election, that is, holding presidential and party primaries on different days, has come full circle.

Six years ago the "Killer Bees" of the Senate hid out to keep Republicans from profiting from a split primary. Then last week the titular head of the Texas GOP, Phil Gramm, strongly opposed the plan which was adopted recently by the Democrats.

Right now no one knows which party would be hurt and which would benefit. Certainly in the long run it would probably even out and the real winners would be independent conservative voters.

Incidentally, two former "Killer Bees" were defeated in November: Lloyd Dogget of Austin and Bill Patman of Ganado.

Mattox v. Mauro

Texas Atty. Gen. Jim Mattox issued an opinion last week that a Canadian citizen who served in the U.S. military has the right to participate in the Texas Veterans Land Program. But Land Commissioner Garry Mauro, who administers the program, disagrees, saying the Texas Constitution specifically requires that participants be "a citizen of the United States." The vet's application is on hold until the problem is worked out.

Mattox, meanwhile, told the Legislature that if it will give him $500,000, he will track down some $240,000 million owed the state in court judgments and penalties.

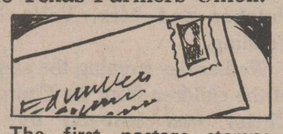

Hightower, Africans

Texas Agriculture Commissioner Jim Hightower has dubbed "Project Texas" his plan to seek $3 million in donations from Texas farmers and ranchers to buy grain for starving Africans.

The money, about $25 per producer, would buy a boatload, or about one million bushels, of Texas-grown grains to ship to Africa.

Also last week, Hightower urged farmers to "take up their pitchforks" and wage a "first-class, full-scale rebellion" to save the embattled family farm system.

His anti-Reagan, anti-Washington tirade came during his Houston annual convention of the Texas Farmers Union.

The first postage stamps were issued in 1847.

STATE REPRESENTATIVE FOSTER WHALEY capitol comment

JANUARY 18

The legislative session is getting off to a slow start. We have just received committee assignments after two weeks.

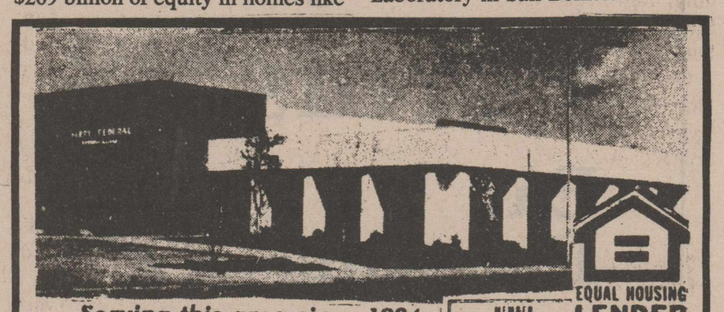

I was placed back on the Appropriations Committee and the County Affairs Committee. This was my request. There will be some tough battles fought on both of these committees.

From the underground, I'm told there have been tens of thousands of dollars spent with lobbyists representing certain financial institutions trying to destroy Texas homestead laws. No bill has been filed on this subject yet. The rumor is they can't get anyone in either House to carry the legislation. This is a high compliment to this legislature. These certain lending institutions are looking at owners' $269 billion of equity in homes like a hungry buzzard would a dead cow.

Several bills have been introduced that speak to the education reform bill that was passed last summer. The Governor has threatened a veto of any bill that supposedly weakens H.B. 72. There is some talk of cutting out the funds for certain areas such as Teacher Testing $17 million - and the tens of millions on the controversial pre-kindergarten baby-sitting program. One school superintendent called from a small rural school and said in some cases they would have 24 or 25 students in a class. Because of the strict requirment of no more than 22 students per class, it could cost this school district from $75,000-$100,000 to accommodate just five or six extra students. This is the fruit of taking too much control from local government.

PESTICIDE PROBLEMS

Last week I introduced a bill that would place the authority for writing pesticide regulations in the hands of three entomologists, three plant pathologists and three weed control specialists. The tenth member of the board would be the director of the Texas Tech University Health Sciences Center Laboratory in San Benito.

Pioneer Park's Good Reputation Growing

"People everywhere hear about Pioneer Park. It's something for Collingsworth County to be proud of," declares Geneva Langford, who for a number of years collected the fees left at the park by those using its facilities.

"Thanks, we enjoyed the service. It's a neat idea and service," wrote a Goodland Kansas couple who had spent the night.

"We have been stopping here for 7 to 8 years and we really think it is a wonderful, peaceful and beautiful place. We go south in the winter and stay until spring. We stop and stay (at the park) going both ways. We always use your facilities."

"Thank you from some very appreciative Snow Birds. Bill and Nyla Tunby, Goodland, Kansas."

Some Californians recently left a note for Mrs. Langford. They'd been told about Pioneer Park by friends and they stopped too.

These are only two of the messages, which appeared in the money collection box.

Mrs. Langford also took water samples at regular intervals to determine Salt Fork River's pollusion. This service is now being computerized and readings will be taken every four hours, she said.

Cub Scouts Hold Raingutter Regatta

Cub Scouts held their annual raingutter regatta Monday evening, Jan. 28, as part of the pack meeting. Winners received ribbons.

Overall first place winner was Doug Daniel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Daniel; 2nd, Allen Curaton, son of Debbie Cortez; and 3rd Scott Hankins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Hankins.

Competing in pairs, the boys raced tiny hand-made wooden sailing boats down water-filled metal gutters, using their own lung-power.

Den winners were:

Den 7, 2nd graders: 1st Allen Curaton; 2nd Daniel Curry and 3rd, Clay Porter.

Den 9, 3rd graders: 1st Dennis Ward; 2nd Jason Sain and 3rd Shane Jones.

Den 8, also 3rd grade: 1st Wyatt Gilley; 2nd David Noakes and 3rd Kent Hudson.

Den 2, 4th grade: 1st Doug Daniel, 2nd Bradley Southerland and 3rd Brad Bawcom.

Webelos, 5th grade: 1st Scott Hankins, 2nd Johnny Shaver and 3rd Jeremy Collins.

The boats were made by the boys and their fathers, from a kit secured through the Cub Scouts. The boat was roughed out but the boys had to sand the wood, and add the sails, weights and rudders.

Debbie Shaver and Gayle Hankins are coordinators and Eddie Hankins is Cubmaster.

Dodson Man at Sheppard Air Force Base

Airman Lloyd E. Harper, son of Alona F. and Clifford J. Harper of Route 1, Dodson has been assigned to Sheppard Air Force Base, Texas, after compelting Air Force basic training.

During the six weeks at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas, the airman studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special training in human relations.

In addition, airmen who complete basic training earn credits toward an associate degree through the Community College of the Air Force.

The airman will now receive specialized instruction in the communications-electronics field.

Medicare General Enrollment Now Under Way

People who failed to sign up for Medicare medical insurance, or who once had this protection but dropped it, will have a chance to get this important protection during the 1985 general enrollment period, January through April 1.

Medical insurance is that part of Medicare that helps pay for doctor bills, out-patient hospital services, and many other medical items and services not covered by hospital insurance.

Protection for people who sign up during the general enrollment period will start July 1, 1985.

Medical insurance is financed by monthly premiums paid by those who have the protection and the Federal Government from general revenues. Presently, the Federal Government pays three-fourths of the cost. The basic monthly premium is $15.50.

Generally, people who sign up during a general enrollment period may pay a higher premium. This is because the premium is increased by 10 percent for each full year a person could have had this protection but did not.

More information about medical insurance general enrollment period can be obtained at the Pampa Social Security office. Free publications are available there that give more information about medical insurance protection. The office is located at 125 S. Gillespie and the telephone number is 669-1018.

KENNETH TRAMEL-ROY SIVLEY

Allsup's Graduates New Area Supervisor

Kenneth Tramel (left) has successfully completed Allsup's Area Supervisor Training Course held at the company's home office in Clovis. Tramel receives his diploma from Roy Sivley, instructor for the Supervisor's Class. The four day course includes instruction in customer relations, company policies, operational procedures, and management skills. According to Sivley, "The entire training program represents an effort by Allsup's to provide better service to our customers and prepare supervisors for a rewarding career in the convenience store industry."

Tramel returns to his store at 710 Houston in Wellington.

James Martindale New Pastor at Howardwick

James Martindale of the Abra community has accepted the pastorate of First Baptist Church in Howardwick, located on Greenbelt Lake. He will be ordained in the Southern Baptist Convention in March.

He and his wife, Sherry, have moved to Howardwick and began their duties January 6.

This is Martindale's first pastorate, although he has been a vocation pastor and has actively participated in affairs of Samnorwood Baptist Church for a number of years.

He has engaged in farming and ranching and formerly operated a machine shop.

James Martindale and his wife, the former Sherry Grogan, have four children and four grandchildren: They are Kim Grogan Martindale and Melinda Martindale with Dane and Casey of Wellington; Letha Blackwell and son Cody of Dozier; Gib James Martindale and his wife, Beverly and son G.J. of Summerville, Missouri; and Scot Martindale of Wellington.

Both Kim and Scot Martindale are employed at Wellington Industries.

Martindale is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bart Martindale of Shamrock.

Satellite Center Gets $733 From Tourney

The Wellington Exes 2nd annual benefit basketball tournament netted $733.55, which will go to Wellington Satellite Center, Tony Wright director, announced.

This all-day event was held Saturday, Jan. 26, in WHS Rocket Gym.

Tournament winner was Elk City Sporting Goods in Elk City, Okla.

Second place went to the Wheeler team and 3rd to the Bearcats from Elk City.

The Players from Wellington were consolation winners.

This is the major fund raising activity of the year for the Satellite Center, a sheltered workshop for adults, Mrs. Wright said. Although the center is state funded, local monies are needed to pay for certain expenses, including utilities and other items.

The State Department of Highways and Public Transportation operates toll-free ferry service at Galveston and at Port Aransas.

In Need of a Pull...

It is fun to get out and romp with our children, to share in their joy. Sometimes it is even work to pull them on a sled. Afterwards you may be tired and bones and muscles ache, but you think fondly of the laughter, and squeals of delight and the love that shines in a child's eyes. Then you think it's all worth the effort, for they won't be young forever, and someday you will only have memories.

They won't be young forever and now is the time that they need a pull in the direction toward God. Now is the time that you can lead and share in the joys of their worship. Take your children to Church

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

I Saw...

by Virginia Robey

Donna Goss and Gracie Michael, March of Dimes, co-chairmen, thought they might raise $300 from the Mother's March. They hoped it would be $500. When the money was tallied Friday night, they had $1,214.84! A look at the list of walkers shows some new names---women who are working at fund raising for the first time. That effort was worth delicious cookies and punch at Gracie's house as each one brought in her money.

Meredith Marks of Wichita Falls called her Grand Jack, as she calls her grandfather Jack Sanford, to tell him she had broken her leg on a family skiing trip to New Mexico, and would be on crutches.

Meredith was more prepared than most for one of the favorite playthings she and her sister, Angela, have when they visit Jack and Mary Sanford is a pair of small size crutches Bob Sanford used when he was a boy.

The best temperature for brewing coffee is said to be 180° F.

obituaries.....

Pauline Hopper Dies Jan. 11 in Roswell, N.M.

A former Wellington woman, Mrs. Pauline Hopper, 82, died Friday, Jan. 11 at her home in Roswell, N.M. She was the sister-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. G.B. Hopper.

Services were conducted at 2 p.m. Monday, Jan. 14, at LaGrone Funeral Chapel, with Larry Foster, minister of South Main Church of Christ officiating. Burial was at South Park Cemetery.

Mrs. Hopper was the former Pauline Fuller and was born Nov. 28, 1902 in Frederick, Okla., the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Maple Fuller.

She was married in 1926 to Hershel A. Hopper, in Wellington. He died Dec. 25, 1942. A Roswell resident since 1934, she was employed in the cafeteria at Chisum Elementary School.

Pall bearers were Hal Boehms, Chris Burden, Donald Ray Burden, Donnie Burden, Zane Determan and Hal Newman.

Survivors include a son, Paul Hopper of Roswell; a sister, Myrtle Burden and a sister-in-law, Eleanor Fuller, both of Roswell, three grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

Besides her husband, she was preceded in death by four brothers and three sisters. She was also a half-sister of the late Jack Christy of Wellington.

Albert Fulcher is a relative.

Graveside Rites at Dodson for Kate Dodson Hyde

Graveside services for Kate Dodson Hyde of Ft. Worth were conducted at 4 p.m. Friday, Jan. 25, at Dodson Cemetery, which was given to the town by her parents, the late Elmore Dodson and Eulah Scott Dodson.

Mrs. Hyde died Tuesday, Jan. 22, after a lengthy illness. She would have been 90 years of age on March 22.

Services were conducted Friday morning, at Shannon South Funeral Home Chapel in Ft. Worth, with Charles Sanders, minister of University Christian Church officiating.

Conducting the Dodson service was the Rev. C.M. Huff, pastor of the Dodson Church of the Nazarene. Patterson Funeral Home of Hollis was in charge of local arrangements.

Mrs. Hyde was the widow of the late Dr. X.R. Hyde a leading radiologist in the southwest who practiced for many years in Ft. Worth and served the Tarrant County Medical Association as president.

She was active in the Tarrant County Medical Association Auxiliary, and when she had completed 50 years as a member, she received an honorary life membership.

She was a member of University Christian Church and of the Woman's Club of Ft. Worth.

Mrs. Hyde was born March 22, 1895, at the ranch home of her parents. She attended Wellington School as a small girl and later her parents enrolled her in Hamlin Nazarene Academy and in other Nazarene academies and colleges, where she studied music.

She was married to Dr. Hyde about 67 years ago while he was practicing medicine at Dodson. After about 6 years, they moved to Chicago, Ill., and in 1922 came to Ft. Worth.

Both her parents were pioneers of the area around Dodson, and her father was among the first to settle there, coming in the 1880s, before the organization of the county. He was first a cowboy, then established his own ranch. He was also a town builder and gave the land on which Dodsonville, now Dodson, was located. He helped to bring the MK&T Railroad into the county.

Her mother's family likewise were among the earliest settlers southeast of Dodson.

Surviving Mrs. Hyde are two daughters, Sara Ann Shryoc and Mrs. Ximie June Lockhart, both of Ft. Worth; one brother, Murray Dodson of Dodson, and one sister, Nita Dodson McCullough of Ft. Worth; three grandchildren and four great grandchildren.

Irene Ball Gill of Pottsboro Dies Jan. 24

Mrs. Irene Ball Gill of Pottsboro died Thursday, Jan. 24, at Denison Hospital after a year's illness.

Funeral services were held Saturday, Jan. 26 in Denison with Dr. Thomas Peel of Waples Memorial United Methodist Church, Denison, and Rev. Archie Vessels, Pottsboro, officiating.

Burial was in Georgetown Cemetery.

Irene Ball Gill was born Aug. 30, 1923, in Wellington, the daughter of Mrs. Ralph Ball and the late Mr. Ball, pioneers of the area.

She attended Wellington schools, graduating in 1940 and received her degree from Texas Woman's University, Denton.

She married Garnett D. Gill of Pottsboro March 30, 1943.

Mrs. Gill had been with the U.S. Postal Service 23 years and recently had retired.

She was a member of First United Methodist Church Pottsboro and of the Garden Club.

Survivors besides her husband are two sons, Larry Don Gill and Randall Gill; and one daughter, Cynthia Outlaw; all of Pottsboro; her mother, Mrs. Ball; and her sister, Mrs. J.B. (Evelyn) King of Wellington; two grandchildren of Pottsboro. One son, Gary, preceded her in death in 1969.

Attending the services were Mrs. Ball, Mrs. King, Marcia Cox and Jacqueline Arnold of Amarillo.

Group Attends Baggett Service

A group of out-of-town friends and relatives were here to attend memorial services for Mrs. Mary Baggett. They were:

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Tidrow and Mr. and Mrs. Jackie Nation and Renee of Idalou, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Martin of Lubbock; Farris Nation of Fort Lewis, Washington; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Tackett of Frisco; Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Pendergraft of Abernathy, John Pendergraft of Fort Hood;

Julie Medrano and Nancy Bobitt of Olney; E.J. Baggett and Mr. and Mrs. E.E. Baggett of Ft. Worth; Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Leathers of Dumas; Mr. and Mrs. Tony Winkler of Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Blevins and daughter of Tulia; John Blevins of Lela; Mrs. Charles Guess, Mrs. Patrick Garry and Micheal, Mrs. Alice Killingsworth, all of Lubbock;

Mrs. Ira Sargent and Bradley of Wolfforth; Watters and Helen Fain of Memphis; Mr. and Mrs. Ed Wilbanks and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Spann of Idalou, Mrs. Rex Saffle and Michael Tullos of Lubbock; Mrs. Nell Land and Mrs. Dorothy Johnson of Hedley; and Mable Oldham of Shamrock.

Cold & Wet Or Hot & Dry...

Vitavax® Seed Treatment Gets Your Cotton Off To A Fast, Healthy Start.

Bronco Seed Company can treat your cottonseed varieties with Vitavax systemic seed treatment fungicide to help insure you of a healthy, vigorous crop.

Vitavax effectively controls many soilborne and seedborne diseases, including Rhizoctonia solani.

Since Vitavax is patented as a growth stimulant, it can help your cotton weather the stress of a cold, wet spring, with a root system that can maintain vigor during those hot, dry spells.

Bronco can also treat your cottonseed varieties with ®DI-SYSTON systemic insecticide. DI-SYSTON provides early season protection against aphids, thrips and mites and helps eliminate the first expensive insecticide application.

Our modern delinting facilities and quality control program assure you of the highest quality cottonseed. And, we can store your seed in warehouses to prevent it from becoming wet or contaminated.

CPR Courses to Certify 80

Thirty-one Collingsworth County residents completed an 8 hour Cardiopulmonary Resucitation course in Wellington Friday, Jan. 25. This course is sponsored by the Collingsworth Volunteer Ambulance Service and is taught by members of the service. This is one of the basic life support programs that every ambulance volunteer must have completed.

Two more CPR courses are scheduled, both for 8 hours each, two nights. The first will be Thursday and Friday, Jan. 31 and Feb. 1, and the other Thursday and Friday, Feb. 7 and 8. Both will be from 6 to 10 p.m. at Thomas Nursing Center.

Altogether, from 80 to 85 men and women will be certified when these CPR courses are completed.

The first course is full, but there is room for several more in the Feb. 7-8 course, according to Marshall Peters, instructor. He is assisted by John Brown.

There is no charge for the CPR courses.

After they are held, Peters said other CPR courses will be available to the public any time a group of 15 or more can be had. Any person or group wanting a class should call Peters at 447-2490, and arrangements will be made to hold it. This is the standard American Heart Association course, and is sponsored by the Collingsworth Volunteer Ambulance Service.

Completing this course were: Elise Wilson, Alma Jean Paschall, Nina Glover, Janice Sweeten, Cindy Davis, Bonnie Thomas, Lucille West, Alene Eads, Patsy Hensley, Tommy Thomas, Bobbie Thomas, J.D. Sheer, Tommy Powell, Jackie Lindsey, Irene Brinkley, Bunny Bell, Cathy Needham, Tina Cobb, Kelly Cummings, Mike Cummings, Theresa McKnight, Elizabeth Lewis, William P. Estes, Awila Hayes, Elias Manrrique, Dorothy Massey, Mary Lou Castor, Ethyl Armstrong and Renee Mathis.

This course is provided and certified by the American Heart Association. Additional courses will be offered throughout the year and anyone interested should contact Margaret Vines at the Ambulance Service office or contact John Brown or Marshall Peters.

Persons Over 55 May Enroll for Job Training

A training program especially designed for eligible persons 55 and older will begin on Feb. 18 at the Memphis Library. There will be limited enrollment. Those selected for enrollment will have the opportunity for training to re-enter the work force on a full or part-time basis.

Persons 55 and older interested in returning to work on a full or part-time basis should contact Ms. Lupe Delgade at the Community Action Center, 612 East Avenue, between 2:30 and 4 p.m. on Tuesday, or they may call Tessie Burba at the Center, 447-2840.

There is no cost to the participant and free transportation will be provided.

The training includes Job Search Instructions, Employer Expectations, Interpersonal Relationships, Personal Grooming, Self-Image, Money/Tax Management, Preventive Health Care and Diet, Information on Training and Employment Opportunities, plus Vocational Testing and Counseling Services will also be available. Enrollees will have an opportunity to train while working for loca businesses.

Chamber-Commerce Has Short Meeting Monday Night

Chamber of Commerce directors held a short regular meeting Monday night, Jan. 14.

With Vice-President Charles Darter presiding, members voted to remain members of West Texas Chamber of Commerce and approved payment of dues amounting to $100.

The resignation of Billy Jackson from the board was accepted. Jackson, resident manager of Lone Star Gas, was promoted and transferred to be manager of the Memphis office.

In his first message as a member of the C-C board, Perry Foster, Collingsworth General Hospital

Abraham Lincoln was clean shaven until he was 51 years old.

GED Tests Will Be Given

The GED test will be given Tuesday, Feb. 5 at 4 p.m. in Wellington High School, according to Wanda Cardwell, director.

The battery of tests included English, social studies, science, math and literature.

The time to complete the test is approximately 6½ hours. The cost is $15.

Those wanting more information should contact Mrs. Cardwell by calling 492-2668, Dodson, evenings.

"FILING SHORT FORM NOT SIMPLE," SAYS H & R BLOCK

Two different short forms and new deductions make short form filing more complicated this year.

You may not be eligible or it may not be to your advantage to file one of the two short forms. The short forms, including the new 1040EZ, can only be used by taxpayers meeting certain strict requirements. You are limited in deductions on the short forms. Using the wrong form could cost you money, or even mean an audit.

You will have peace of mind in knowing H & R Block's personal, courteous, and competent service is yours . . . at a very reasonable price. One Day Service is also available for your convenience at any H & R Block office.

H & R Block's tax preparers are trained to know which of the forms - 1040EZ, 1040A, 1040 - gives you the maximum tax advantage for your individual requirements.

Local Farm Bureau Members Attend Hawaii Convention

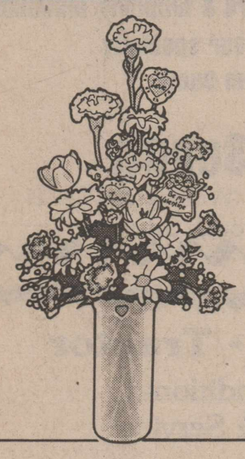

Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Emmert and Mr. and Mrs. Pat Gulley of Wellington have returned from the 66th annual meeting of the American Farm Bureau at Honolulu, Jan. 7-10.

They represented the Collingsworth County Farm Bureau, and were among the more than 70 county Farm Bureau leaders who qualified for the trip in a Texas Farm Bureau awards program. The program allowed for up to two county FB leaders and their spouses to be chosen by their county FB Board of Directors to receive an award which helped to defray the cost of the trip.

The Emmerts and Gulleys attended the AFBF meeting at which 1985 policies were adopted for the AFBF. They heard addresses by AFBF President Robert Delano, former Environmental Protection Agency director William Ruckelshaus, and Peter Grace, whose commission studied ways to reduce federal spending. There were also conferences on national issues, economic services and commodities.

Following the convention, they departed for a tour of the islands of Maui and Hawaii, which is known as the "Big Island," Jan. 11-15.

They saw the Hawaii Volcanoes National Park, including Kilauea, the Kona Surf and a macadamian nut farm on the island of Hawaii.
