BRYAN'S APPEAL MAY HAVE FORCE

INFLUENCES SAID TO BE WORKING ON JOHNSON FOR DELAY

STATE RIGHTS' QUESTION

Diplomats Say Japan Should Have Known Government's Constitutional Limitations

By Associated Press.
Washington, May 12.—The fact that Secretary Bryan has addressed an appeal to Governor Johnson of California to veto the anti-alien law, inasmuch as the governor has unofficially, and repeatedly, declared his purpose of signing the bill as it passes the legislature, is taken in official circles here to indicate that either some powerful influences are brought to bear upon the governor in the interest of delay or, what is more probable, that the Wilson administration is perfecting its records.

In this action there may be a double purpose. First, to satisfy Japan that the federal government has done all it can to prevent the legislation, under its constitutional limitation, of which many diplomats contend the Japanese should have been aware when Japan entered into treaty relations.

The other part of the purpose may be to place on the California authorities the responsibility for any serious outcome of the anti-alien legislation.

Negotiations Friendly.

Mr. Wilson believes negotiations between Japan and the United States over the alien land legislation in California are not at an alarming stage, but that the interchange of views thus far has been along frank and friendly lines, calculated to remove the appearance of discrimination against Japanese subjects.

The President said informally today, too, the position of the California bill does not violate the treaty. He intimated Japan's protest is not founded on a claim that the treaty will be violated in any way, but upon the feeling that there is an effort to discriminate against Japanese.

Bryan's Telegram.

Bryan's telegraphic protest to Johnson follows:
"The President directs me to express his appreciation of your courtesy in delaying action on the land bill now before you until its provisions could be communicated to the Japanese government and considered by it."

His excellency, Baron Chinda, has, on behalf of his government, presented an earnest protest against the measure. He says you have before you but two alternatives, viz., to approve or to veto it; it will avail nothing to recall to your attention the amendments suggested to the legislation, and as the President has already laid before you his views on the subject it is unnecessary to reiterate them. He passes over questions affecting their rights for two reasons, first, because the bill passed by the legislature is avowedly intended to conform to the treaty obligations, and second, because any conflict complained of would be a matter for the courts, but the President feels justified in expressing again his desire that action on the subject be deferred for this reason, and he expressed the desire the more freely because the legislature can be reconvened at any time in the welfare of the state requires. He is fully alive to the importance of removing any sort of discord which may create antagonism between American citizens and the subjects of Oriental nations residing here, but, impelled by a sense of duty to express the hope that you will see fit to allow time for diplomatic effort.

"The nations affected by the proposed law are friendly nations—nations that have shown themselves willing to cooperate in the establishment of harmonious relations between their people and ours."

"If a postponement commends itself to your judgment the President will be pleased to cooperate in a systematic effort to discover and correct any ill that may exist in connection with land ownership by aliens."

Most of the delegation will leave Tuesday, so as to be on the ground early.

PRESS CONVENTION DELEGATES ARE READY FOR THE FRAY.

Literature and badges are being printed, one hundred glass canes made and other equipment prepared for the Wichita Falls delegation which goes to San Antonio this week to capture the 1914 convention of the Texas Press Association.

Letters received by newspaper men and others here promise the support of a large number of towns over the state, and it is believed Wichita Falls will win, but other strong competitors are in the running. One of the most formidable of these is Dallas, which will send a strong delegation to San Antonio.

FARM CREDIT MEETING BEGINS IN ROME TODAY

American Is Presented With a Loving Cup But Declines and Presents It to Another

By Associated Press.
Rome, May 12.—The American commission for the study of European system of agricultural co-operation and farmers' credit began work this morning, when the members heard the reports of German, Hungarian, Austrian, French and Belgian delegates. All expressed the satisfaction of their respective governments with the decision of the United States to send a commission to Europe. They said they were instructed to say to the Americans that all possible help would be furnished for the accomplishment of their task.

During today's session American presented a silver loving cup to David Lubin of Sacramento, who first presented the scheme for the foundation of the International Institute of Agriculture to the king of Italy. Mr. Lubin offered his thanks, but declined to accept the gift, saying that all the merit for the success of the institute was due to its president, M. Chappell, and that the cup should go to him. Chappell said he would take the cup, not for himself, but for the institute.

FEZ-CLAD THROG INVADES DALLAS

THIRTY-NINTH ANNUAL CONVENTION OF SHRINERS OPENED MONDAY MORNING

ATTENDANCE IS VERY LARGE

Sons of Desert in Great Numbers Gathered From All Sections of Country

By Associated Press.
Dallas, Texas, May 12.—Marching music awakened a large portion of the population of Dallas today, when at daylight the main influx of patrols and bands for the thirty-ninth annual convocation of Shriners began. Twenty-six patrols arrived today. A Sunday supplement band appeared on the street today, each member wearing a many-colored suit, a fireman's helmet and each member playing an accordion. The band was unlabeled, but some of its members were recognized as Dallas Shriners.

The contest for the 1914 convention is between Atlanta and Memphis. Memphis is putting on a big outside show, with two camels, a real side-show, and all sorts of novelties in an effort to get votes. Atlanta is relying on its inside show and the Atlanta men say they have enough votes pledged to win.

Services Open Reunion.
For the first time in the history of the Imperial council, and that history covers many years, its annual reunion was begun with religious services. Right Rev. A. C. Garrett, Episcopal bishop of Dallas and a high Mason, preached at the Scottish Rite cathedral. The building was erected at a cost of $300,000 and has a $30,000 pipe organ. This organ was introduced for the first time in public recitals when sacred concerts were given.

Special trains bearing delegates, patrols and visitors poured into town all day Sunday and by 6 o'clock in the afternoon there were enough visitors in the city to assure one of the largest attended councils that has been held in a long time. Those delegates and patrols who did not come in during Sunday arrived on early morning trains, and every indication is that when the first business session is called Monday in the Scottish Rite cathedral there will be a full representation of all councils forming the grand council.

Escorted to Hotel.
Imperial Potentate Cunningham is accompanied by a large number of members of the patrol of his home temple and by other members. The head of the organization was met at the depot by Past Imperial Potentate George H. Green of Dallas and a special reception committee and escorted to the hotel, which will be the headquarters of the Imperial officers while in Dallas.

As fast as the special trains arrived with their quota of fez-clad Shriners they were taken in charge by a special delegation from Hella temple and escorted to the registration headquarters where they registered and received their proper credentials and souvenirs. Those patrols which will stop during the week at the fair grounds were escorted to that place, which has been officially termed "Mornin' Silas' encampment. Other delegates were escorted to their respective hotels.

MOTHER'S DAY IS OBSERVED HERE

PROGRAM IS CARRIED OUT AT UNION MEETING WITH MANY PRESENT

WHITE FLOWERS ARE WORN

Three Addresses are Heard, With Special Musical Numbers—Japs and Hospitals Visited

A program of beautiful music and earnest, eloquent speeches marked the observance of mothers' day here Sunday. The service was held at the First M. E. church, South, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon and was attended by a crowd which filled the auditorium and overflowed into the galleries.

Nearly everyone in the audience wore a white flower, the white carnation, the special flower for mothers' day, predominating. This flower was chosen because its qualities are emblematic of a mother's attributes; its whiteness stands for purity; its form, beauty; its fragrance, love; its wide field of growth, charity; its lasting qualities, faithfulness.

Superintendent G. H. Carpenter of the city schools presided as chairman of the service, and the following program was carried out:

Program of Exercises.

Organ prelude.....Mr. Durland
"Nearer, My God, to Thee".....
Vocal solo, "How the Beautiful Gates Came Ajar".....Mrs. E. C. Barron
"Honor Thy Father and Thy Mother".....Rev. J. L. McKee
Quartette, "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere".....Mrs. G. H. Carpenter, Mrs. W. H. Walker, J. W. Bradley and Mr. Halger
Vocal solo, "Home, Sweet Home, and Mother's Arms".....Mrs. W. H. Walker
"The Young Man's Responsibility to His Mother".....R. E. Huff
Vocal solo, "Tell Mother I'll Be There".....Miss Laura Bell
Benediction.....Rev. J. P. Boone

Flowers Are Distributed.

As a part of the observance of the mothers' day program the committee having charge of the arrangements took bouquets of roses, carnations and other flowers to the city and county jails, the hospitals and sanitariums, and also sent flowers to many sick in private homes.

In his address at the church Sunday afternoon Rev. J. L. McKee declared that the paramount evil in Wichita Falls today, as it was everywhere, was not the liquor traffic, nor the white slave evil or other much-discussed evils.

"The paramount issue today," he declared, "is the development of reverence in child life."

He said the most alarming thing of the day was the growing irreverence of the people. "That man," he said, "to whom there is no sacred spot of thing is on the road to destruction."

Calling attention to the setting apart of a special day for honoring the mothers of the land, the speaker asked: "What about poor fathers?" and answered it by saying that in these times he had become not worth mentioning and had gladly shunted all the responsibilities of the home onto the shoulders of mother and had degenerated into a mere machine for the making of money.

He said there were scores of boys going to the bad in Wichita Falls because they didn't have fathers who were really fathers, as priests and fathers in the home.

Blames the Mothers.
The speaker cited the fact that there were few young men in the audience, but said there would be no dearth of them at the ball park. This he blamed upon the mothers as well as the fathers.

"It is high time," he said, "for the mothers to desert the card table and save the children."

"Mothers, you can't save your children shuffling cards," he warned.

There must be a change, too, in the churches, he declared.

"The churches," he said, "have got to put to the front the people who have a grip on God instead of those who have a grip on the devil."

E. P. Hancey Speaks.
"Our Mothers our Heroes of Heroes" was the subject of a short address by Hon. E. P. Hancey. He cited historic examples of men who had become great through their devotion to their mothers. He said that while the mothers of Texas did not have the vote yet, they were wielding a powerful influence in legislation. He pointed out several laws enacted by the last legislature through the influence of the mothers of the state. He declared himself in favor of woman's suffrage and predicted that there would be no more wars when women had the franchise, and that many other evils which

WEATHER REPORT.

Tonight and Tuesday generally fair.

now exist would be blotted out with the coming of votes for women.

Young Man's Responsibility.

R. E. Huff, the last speaker on the program, speaking on "The Young Man's Responsibility to His Mother," said that nearly every man who had succeeded in life owed that success to following his mother's teachings and example. A father might say to his son "You have made your bed, go lie in it," but no one had ever heard a mother say that; she did not desert her own, even at the gallows or at the grave.

He said that a woman's intuition is usually right and that the men of Texas are becoming more and more responsive to their appeals. He said he for one was sorry that the governor had not approved the bill giving to the women of the state charge of the historic Alamo, not that he had any lack of faith in the governor's being able to have it taken care of properly, but that he was certain the women of Texas could do it better.

Saved Her Pennies and Now Buying Valuable New York Real Estate

By Associated Press.

New York, May 12.—With pennies saved from the sale of newspapers for the past two years at the entrance of Brooklyn bridge Mrs. Rebecca Carp is making her second investment in New York real estate. Although penniless when she came to this country, she took her stand among several competitors at the bridge and from mid night until 9 each morning, rain or shine, she has been selling papers with such success that she bought a three-story house. She has raised seven children and given the elder one a taste of higher education, and real estate records show she is now purchasing another valuable piece of property.

SEASONABLE WEATHER PROMISED THIS WEEK

Temperature to Be Made Normal Throughout Country, Says Weekly Bulletin

Washington, May 12.—Unseasonably high temperatures are not expected to prevail during the coming week over any portion of the country, according to the weekly weather bureau bulletin.

"Temperatures will rise Monday, however," the bulletin said, "over the eastern half of the country, and also Tuesday from the lake region and Ohio valley eastward, but probably to only about normal conditions."

"In the plateau region and the extreme Northwest it will be cooler by Monday night, with frost in the latter section, and by the middle of the week it will be cooler in the plains states, the upper Mississippi valley and the upper lake region."

"In the South normal temperatures will prevail."

"No precipitation of consequence is indicated over the eastern portion of the country. Showers will occur early in the week over the Northwest and Central West and probably by the middle of the week in the central valleys and the greater portion of the lake region, followed by generally fair weather during the latter half. In the west gulf states generally fair weather is indicated."

PROGRESSIVES WORK FOR NEW REPUBLICAN PARTY

Urge Committee to Call Convention—May Cut Down Representation From the South

By Associated Press.

Chicago, May 12.—Progressive Republican leaders meeting here today decided to urge the national committee to call a convention to make radical changes in the policy of the party, particularly to cut down Southern representation. Senator Borah acquiesced, although previously he had opposed the convention idea. Governor Hadley of Missouri favored the convention.

GAINESVILLE MAN NEAR DEATH "BREAKING" COLT.

Gainesville, Texas, May 12.—Ellis Hensley, owner of the Gainesville Transfer Company, was probably fatally injured when a young horse he was breaking to drive ran away, dragging him some distance. The horse was so badly hurt it was killed.

MANY DELEGATES ALREADY HERE

FIREMEN COMING IN FROM NEARLY EVERY TOWN IN STATE FOR CONVENTION

OVER 500 NOW PRESENT

Reports Indicate Thousand Delegates Will Be Here For Opening Tomorrow

The vanguard of the thirty-eight annual convention of the State Firemen's Association has reached Wichita Falls, and if the vanguard is any indication of the size of the delegations yet to come Wichita Falls will be taxed to her capacity to entertain the crowds that will be here tomorrow, Wednesday and Thursday.

It is estimated this afternoon that over five hundred delegates and sponsors have arrived, and those who are already here tell of larger crowds yet to come. It is expected that over a thousand firemen and their ladies will be here for the opening of the convention tomorrow.

Scattering delegations came in yesterday and last night, but the noon trains brought the big crowds. The trains brought in big delegations of handsomely uniformed firemen and ladies sent as sponsors from their departments.

The arrival of a large number of delegates so early had not been expected and there was some delay in getting the massed to their rooms, but soon all had been provided for. Secretary Thomas, who has been in charge of the arrangements, believes the committee has accommodations for all who will come, although the crowd will be larger than had been expected.

Delegates will be expected to register at the Majestic theater in the morning, and will meet at the city hall at 9 o'clock for the annual firemen's parade.

Following the parade the convention will be opened formally at the Majestic theater. Short business sessions will be held both in the morning and the afternoon.

Tomorrow night the Dutch lunch given by the Wichita Ice Co. will be an entertainment for the men, while the lady visitors will be entertained with a reception at the home of Mrs. Jack

NOTES AND PERSONALS OF THE EARLY ARRIVALS.

L. H. Ragan, city fire marshal of Brownwood, and J. P. Landrum of Lott, Texas, delegate of the Lott fire department, were the first arrivals for the firemen's convention, coming in Sunday. The Brownwood department is sending a large delegation to the convention, and will contest in the hose races to be held Thursday.

Mrs. W. J. Edwin, sponsor, and L. E. Erwin, S. B. Baker and T. J. Fisher of Hony Grove are here to attend the firemen's convention.

Sponsors and other lady visitors at the firemen's convention will be entertained with a reception at the home of Mrs. J. P. Jackson Tuesday night, while the firemen are enjoying the Dutch lunch given by the Wichita Ice Company.

Victoria is seeking the 1914 convention.

The Austin delegation of about twenty-five are already here. The Austin boys are very handsome in blue uniforms and caps.

Ballingier and Sweetwater are represented by big delegations.

Brownwood is here with a delegation of twenty-six firemen and ladies. Athlene has about the same number, with more to come.

Orange is represented by three delegates.

LaGrange and Corpus Christi are two of the candidates for next year's convention. The Corpus Christi boosters have badges on practically all the delegates from Southwest Texas. Corpus Christi has a big bunch of boosters on the ground and they are at work early and hard. The LaGrange boosters will arrive tonight.

Badges appeared early among the delegates for two candidates for fourth vice president. The candidates for whom their supporters are at work are W. D. McGulley of Brownwood and C. H. Boedeker of Bowie. Both are well known among the firemen of the state, and the contest promises to be a pretty one.

The $525 prize money for the hose races and the honors that go to the winners has attracted lively interest. Among the towns that will furnish competing teams are Brownwood, Comanche, Stephenville, Plainview, Austin and several others. This contest, which will take place Thursday, will be one of the most interesting features of the whole convention.

STEEL COMPANY BEGINS ITS DEFENSE TESTIMONY

President Farrell Is First Witness—Will Take a Year to Get Through With Case

By Associated Press.
New York, May 12.—Taking of testimony for the defense in the government suit to dissolve the United States Steel Corporation was begun here today, with J. A. Farrell, president of the company, as the first witness. The case for the government was completed in February. It is expected it will take another year to complete the case for the corporation.

I. C. C. FINDS DISCRIMINATION IN FAVOR OF TEXAS CITY.

By Associated Press.
Washington, May 12.—The Interstate Commerce Commission today found that the facilities and services rendered by the Texas City Terminal Company are substantially greater than facilities and services of the Galveston Wharf Company at the port of Galveston, and that the present discrimination in favor of Texas City would be equalized by a charge of $3.50 a car load by the Texas City company.

Constitutionalists Asked Not to Aim in Direction of Brownsville—Battle is Imminent

By Associated Press.
Brownsville, Texas, May 12.—Constitutionalists came within sight of Matamoras at 11 a. m. today approaching that city from two sides. They are expected to attack at any moment. General Blanco the constitutionalist commander last night sent a courier to Major Ramos, the federal commander at Matamoras requesting surrender of the city and threatening attack within twelve hours.

Gen. Ramos replied with a refusal and told the constitutionalists to "come on." Captain G. J. Head of the Texas volunteer guard and two citizens have gone in automobiles, carrying American flags to meet the rebels and to deliver a request from Captain Kirby Walter, commanding the United States troops at Brownsville requesting that orders be given Blanco's men not to shoot toward Brownsville.

UNIVERSITY REGENTS URGE AMENDMENT

Austin, Texas, May 12.—The board of regents of the University of Texas has issued an address to the people in advocacy of the adoption of the proposed amendment to sections 49 and 52, article 3, of the constitution in the election called by Governor Colquhoun for July 3, 1913.

The regents show that there are 2,121 students now in attendance at the university, 300 more than were in attendance last year; that under the present constitution no buildings can be erected at the university out of appropriations made by the legislature; and that the adoption of the proposed amendment would authorize the use of the income from the university permanent endowment for the erection of buildings and would not make any addition whatever to the taxes to be paid by the people. The regents also refer to the benefits that would accrue under the proposed amendment to the other state institutions, which, of course, would include the state normal schools, the College of Industrial Arts and the Agricultural and Mechanical College.

The following paragraph in the statement of the regents is interesting:

"For thirty years the University of Texas has grown steadily in the esteem and confidence of the people. The men who have constituted its governing board have been distinguished citizens, selected from the different sections of the state; its faculty have been well equipped scholars, chosen without political influence, for merit and efficiency; nearly twenty thousand Texas boys and girls have been students in its halls; no breath of scandal has touched it; its growth and prosperity have more than kept pace with the advancement of the great state which gave it being and whose bounty sustains it year by year. On serious handicap under which it has labored and is laboring now can be removed by the people of Texas on July 3 next without touching the pockets of any citizen."

STERLING WHITE CASE ON TRIAL

CLAY COUNTY YOUTH IS CHARGED WITH KILLING GIRL

LOCAL OFFICIALS ATTEND

One Hundred Witnesses Summoned for Trial—Judge Scurry Will Conduct Prosecution

District Judge P. A. Martin, District Attorney Eugene Sherrod left at noon today for Henrietta where the trial of Sterling White charged with murder in the first degree for the killing of Henrich Lee near Poth last October, was scheduled to be opened at 1:30 this afternoon.

One hundred witnesses have been summoned for the trial and it promises to be one of the hardest fought cases ever tried in Clay county.

Judge Scurry will be assisted in the prosecution by Judge H. A. Allen of Henrietta while White will be defended by Wainland and Parrish and Taylor and Humphreys of Henrietta.

Girl Killed at Party

Bulah Lee was one of the most popular young girls of her community. Sterling White was a prosperous young farmer and the two had been sweethearts but an estrangement had grown up between them. One Saturday night Miss Lee went to a party at a neighbor's house. Her escort was another than White. All was merry at the party until young White stepped toward the girl and scarcely without a word drew a revolver and fired several shots into her body. He then turned and ran from the house. A moment later the horror-stricken groom, in the house heard two shots in the darkness outside. An hour later White was found apparently dying from a bullet wound in the breast. For days he hovered between life and death and when he began to recover a stronger hold on life he was removed to the county jail at Henrietta where he has since been confined. It is understood his plea will be insanity.

NARROW ESCAPES WHEN WAGON HITS CAR TRACK

Tom Courtney, the twelve year old son of Mrs. Belle Courtney, 1499 E. 13th street, was severely bruised about the hips, and Phil Dearbeck, driver for the McFall Transfer Co., suffered a fractured rib and severe sprains across back when they were thrown from the top of a loaded wagon this morning by the wheel striking the rail of the street car track. The place of the accident was at the corner of Seventh street and Ohio Avenue.

Dearbeck was driving the wagon which was loaded with lumber and other material being hauled from the Katy freight depot to the carnival grounds on Indiana Avenue. He was turning across the street car tracks from Ohio Avenue into the Seventh street. When the front wheel struck the rail it slid along the inside of the rail. The Courtney boy who was sitting at the side of Dearbeck fell headlong to the pavement at the side while Dearbeck went headfirst onto the wagon tongue between the horses.

Boy Lands on Head

The boy struck head first on the pavement and his body was thrown under the front wheel which struck him across the hips. As the wheel slid along the track it caught the boy at the hips and while it struck them with force and pinched them so that his trousers were torn nearly off, he was pushed and rolled along the rail until finally he managed to roll partly out and was then dragged out by one who witnessed the accident. Others who had seen Dearbeck fall ran to the horses heads and stopped them while others assisted in lifting Dearbeck from his perilous position. Both were carried to a physician's office and later removed to their homes.

Had Lucky Escapes

The wagon was heavily loaded and it is considered very fortunate indeed that neither of the two were seriously hurt.

At about the same time with this accident two automobiles, one driven by Ralph Christy, local manager for a cordage and oil well supply company here and the other by County Commissioner J. A. D. Smith of Burkburnett, collided at the corner of Seventh and Indiana while turning from opposite directions. The machines came together head on but neither of the drivers was hurt. The automobiles were damaged, but not seriously.

BATTED CORZINE OUT OF THE BOX

DRILLERS HAVE EASY TIME WINNING FROM BONHAM SUNDAY

KANE WORKS FOR LOCALS

New Southpaw Does Effective Work—Wichita Puts Game on Ice in First Two Innings

Batting Bonham pitchers to all corners of the lot and backing up Harry Kane's 18-karat pitching in snappy style, the Drillers made it two out of three yesterday.

But, father, where was the mighty Corzine?

Hush, Skimantia, it's a shame to tell you.

Close to a thousand fans saw the slaughter. They had their money's worth by the end of the second inning, for by that time the Drillers had battered Corzine out of the box and Nicholson had made that awful fifty catch on first—what more could you ask for four bits?

The Drillers landed on Corzine for six runs in the first two innings and were never in danger after that. Fusick, who beat the locals Friday, went in the box and yielded four more hits and four more runs. It was a walk away for the Drillers, and the Bonham fans who were in the grandstand became very, very quiet. There was quite a bunch of them, and they were heard from in the first inning, but that was all. After that it was a Wichita Falls crowd strictly.

Kane's Work Effective.

Harry Kane made his debut with the locals yesterday, and is entitled to a goodly share of the credit for the victory. He had everything but control at the start, and as the game progressed his control improved steadily. He is a southpaw and has some fast-breaking curves and a bunch of speed. Taking into consideration that it was his first game in a month, he showed splendid form. With improved control, which ought to come to him after a little work, he should make the team one of its best pitchers.

The locals made three errors behind Kane, but only one of them resulted in a score. Kane made one bad throw to first and Nicholson made two bobbles, both on batted balls that he was over anxious to field. Workman missed two flies in left field, but both were difficult chances that make it impossible to charge errors upon. There was some real snappy work in the field. Workman and Lawson both pulled in some hard chances, and the infield let mighty few go by that could have been handled at all.

While errors behind Corzine and Fusick were responsible for many of the locals' scores, they earned enough runs to win. The visitors' infield seemed to have an off day.

How They Scored.

Of course, Bonham scored in the first inning. With one out Sporn walked and scored on Nichols' two-bagger over center. In the third Heck sent a grounder to Kane, who threw badly to first, the runner going to third. Nicholson sent a grounder to Nicholson and the latter, in his anxiety to cut off a score, failed to field the ball. Heck coming in. Bonham's final score was in the ninth, when Leslie hit for three bases and scored on Heck's safe fly to left field.

The Drillers started with a rush. Nevitt led off with a single and White sacrificed neatly. Nicholson delivered a corking three-base drive, scoring Nevitt, and Workman came up with a pinch single that scored Nicholson. In the second inning Phillips started the fireworks with a single, taking third on infield outs by Morris and Kane. Nevitt was safe when Nichols dropped the throw to catch him. Phillips scoring. White scored Nevitt with a two-bagger that all but cleared the fence. Nicholson was passed and Brown advanced both runners when Sporn failed to handle his grounder. With the bases full Workman rapped out his second pinch hit of the game, scoring White and Nicholson. Lawson went out, retiring the side, and that was the end of Mr. Corzine.

Fusick held the locals scoreless for two innings, but the trouble started some more in the fifth. Brown hit for two bases and Workman dropped one neatly over the left field fence. In the sixth Kane led off with a single and was forced at second by Nevitt. Nevitt stole and took third on Nichols' error, which allowed White to reach first. White cleverly drew a throw from Trammell, and got in a chase between first and second. While the infielders were having their fun Nevitt scored. Heck throwing poorly to the plate. Nicholson forced White at

Notes of the Game.

One play by the locals was almost worth the price of admission. With Nichols on first, Dorsey singled to left field. Workman threw to second to catch Dorsey, and the ball went through to Lawson, who made a lively leg to third, catching the runner here. It was a snappy piece of work. This is Corzine's second defeat of the year and the first time he has been driven from the box. The locals solved his delivery last year and it looks like they might do it some more.

Nicholson's one-handed catch in the second inning was one of the game's features.

Covington has been released, and the pitching staff now includes Kane and Scoggins, left-handers, Myers and Jones, with Duke Morris ready and able to take the box if necessary.

The grandstand chipped in for Workman's home, and the $12 which was collected was divided with Foley White, whose home run won Saturday's game.

The three errors don't matter much. The team was playing ball.

That double steal in the sixth was no other nifty piece of work. Foley White's head helps some.

Denison has been romping on Sherman, and Humphries' squad ought to be in the proper frame of mind to drop three straight.

Leslie could have scored on his three-base drive in the ninth if he had had a coachee at third. It pays to watch those little things.

The Bonham rooters were loud at first, but they certainly kept very still after the second inning.

Kane seemed to do better work with men on bases than when the sacks were empty. It's the boys that pitch in the pinches that win games.

Wichita Falls had two chances for double plays in the sixth inning, but failed to get more than one each time.

Leslie got three hits out of four times up, two of them three-baggers. That balances that drizzly error he made.

The team has now won four out of eight on the home lot. Five out of the remaining six would keep the percentage about right.

Five of the Drillers' ten runs were scored after two men were out. The keep fighting stuff is what won two pennants.

Paris 3, Durant 0.

Special to the Times.
Paris, Texas, May 12.—Durant lost again yesterday, getting only four hits off Kerr. The locals got to Speer for three runs in the fifth, enough to clinch the game. Score:

Durant 000 000 000—0 4 1
Paris 002 000 000—3 8 1
Batteries: Speer and Naylor; Kerr and Moore.

Ardmore 5, Texarkana 3.
Special to the Times.

Ardmore, Okla., May 12.—Ardmore won her fourth and Lis Torrey his third victory of the season Sunday. The locals won in the eighth, after Texarkana had tied the score.

Score:
Texarkana 001 000 020—3 9 1
Ardmore 002 000 12—5 10 2
Batteries: Weeks and Buster; Torrey and Bettison.

MANY FROM BONHAM ON BASEBALL EXCURSION.

The baseball excursion brought 337 passengers into the city yesterday, of whom 214 were from Bonham.

When the Drillers play at Denison next Sunday an excursion will be run from this city. The fare will be $2 for the round trip. The train will leave for Denison at 2 p. m. and will return at 10 p. m.

The fourth grade of Austin school, chaperoned by Misses Sammons and O'Neal, enjoyed a moving picture party at the Gem Saturday afternoon. The following were present: Ella Mirle Mathis, Alice Jenne, Eleanor Allen, Audrey Ferguson, Louise Stevens, Lorraine Johnson, Alice Wood, Eloise Brigantwell, Crystelle Waggoner, Hortense Horton, Lois Duncan, Eunice Lee Duncan, Lela May Lawler, Gretchen Avis, Cecile Adickes, Ruby Avis, Ruth Barnard, Dana Graham, Stanley Livingston, Gerald Yates, Seale McCreless, Emmett Hinckley, Edwin Hund, Parker Hammersly, Solle McCreless, Leonard Wright, Homer Randall, T. W. Caskey and Carroll Stampfl.

MRS. ROY ARLEY HOSTESS, COMPLIMENTING HER MOTHER

As a compliment to her mother Mrs. Paul Robinson of Muskogee, Mrs. Roy Arley entertained with a picture party on the afternoon of Saturday, May 10. The house was decorated tastefully for the occasion, pink being the color scheme, which was shown to very pretty effect by the drawn shades and darkened rooms. The favor for high score, a bluebird pin, went to Mrs. McCoy, while Mrs. Ted Smith received the consolation, a carnation bouquet. Mrs. Arley served an ice course. The

HOW ONE WOMAN WON

Her Health and Strength Back Again by The Use of Cardui.

Tampa, Fla.—In a letter from this city, Mrs. E. C. Corbin writes: "I was all weakened and worn out with womanly troubles. My husband brought me some Cardui as a tonic, and, from the first day it seemed to help."

"I had almost lost my reason, but, thanks to Cardui, I did not. Soon, I felt and looked like a new woman. I think the remedy is wonderful. I recommend it to my friends, for I have received great benefit from it."

Cardui acts specifically on the weakened womanly organs, strengthening the muscles and nerves, and building them up to health.

It helps to refresh the worn-out nervous system and relieves the effects of overwork, both mental and physical.

Fifty years' successful use fully prove the merit of this purely vegetable, tonic remedy for women.

In every community, there are some who have been benefited by Cardui.

Wichita Falls, Texas, May 12, 1913

The Houston Post makes observation: "It's about this way. It interests most of us very much to see these new fangled split-skirted clothes on pretty girls who are not our kin."

About the best investment the city government of Wichita Falls has ever made is the garbage burner installed on the outskirts of the city. If run on full time this incinerating furnace will be able to reduce to ashes all the garbage and fifth city of this size can scrape up and have hauled to and dumped into it. Later on, after the population increases, it will be necessary to enlarge the present plant or erect another. Our city council and mayor should be commended for their action in this matter.

We can't tell, of course, whether Dr.
Friedmann is another Doc Cook, or not, but we're in favor of giving him the benefit of all doubt. If he really has discovered a cure for tuberculosis then he is entitled to receive all honors. If it is true the American people should be protected from imposition but it occurs to the ordinary man that the best proof of Dr. Friedmann's cure for consumption is not the examinations of the virus made by scientific medical experts, but rather the condition of his patients before they gave themselves up to his treatment, and after they had been treated for a few weeks. It strikes us if they showed an improved condition it would be evidence that his remedy is doing good and not harm.
Many reputable persons have contributed testimony to the effect that they had received his treatment and were feeling better and improving. If that be a fact, then why all this stir about proclaiming Dr. Friedmann a fakir and a fraud?

A correspondent of the Archer County News, signing herself "A Farmers Wife," writes that paper as follows: "If I would not be guilty of contempt of court in so doing, I would like to ask, through your paper, for an estimate of the number of grasshoppers a quarter of an inch in length, that the forty plover that perished before Judge Melugin's gun a week ago would have eaten during the spring and summer.
Also the value of the crop that will be destroyed by those self same hoppers now enjoying life x x x. The farmer do not kill the birds. It is the man from town who wants a little fun."
The law does not protect the plover, yet they live almost entirely on insects, and make their passage through this country about the season of year that crop destroying insects are doing their most damage. It would therefore seem that in a country that suffers as much as this from the ravages of these crop-destroying insects, everyone should be willing to deny himself the pleasure of killing birds that are known to be the farmer's friend.

REPUBLICANS PAID PENALTY.

Only thirteen of the 289 Democratic members of the house announce a purpose to vote against the new tariff revision downward.

Considering interests involved, personal, political, financial, commercial and industrial, all selfish—and some of them predatory—this is a remarkable showing. Four years ago a Republican congress, pledged almost as strongly to reduce monopolistic taxation, passed the Payne-Aldrich tariff for plunder, with only eighteen members of the majority dissenting.

Only one Democrat in twenty-two for any reason, disregards his party's promise. In 1909 only one Republican in eleven voted in congress as his party had said he would in its platform.—New York World.

CALLING HUERTA'S HAND.

We think he who would accuse of Jingoistic tendencies those who advocate the recall by Washington of Ambassador Wilson, whose position in Mexico City since Huerta's thugs disposed of Madero and Suarez has been a doubtful position at best, must be giving little heed to conditions now obtaining in the neighbor republic. We are far from inclined to credit all, or even a substantial part, of that which returning Americans have to say of the ambassador's relations to Huerta, and his dangerous contacts, but there is no doubt that the recall of Mr. Wilson is a step toward the restoration of order and peace in Mexico.

Why is the soda cracker today
such a universal food?

People ate soda crackers in the old days, it is true—but they bought them from a barrel or box and took them home in a paper bag, their crispness and flavor all gone.

Unedea Biscuit—soda crackers better than any ever made before —made in the greatest bakeries in the world—baked to perfection —packed to perfection—kept to perfection until you take them, oven-fresh and crisp, from their protecting package. Five cents.

NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY

a recognition of the Huerta dictatorship as a legal government to Mexico City, even while rebellion was again breaking out in the north and conditions in the federal district were as unstable as water has not been forgotten or its significance minimized, rather the suspicion has taken shape in the consideration of the behavior of the ambassador since the murder.

But the relations of the hanging on diplomat, pending replacing of him by the President when it shall be safe, if ever it is, to recognize there is a government in Mexico, is rather apart from the effect of Huerta's bluff attempted Friday to force the United States, he hoped, to recognition of his regime as legitimate. Huerta's poor, cheap play touching Wilson's "diplomatic standing" in Mexico should be called, and called at once. Now more than ever many will desire the recall of Wilson and the severance of all relations with Huerta, whether these are diplomatic or "by sufrage." If the arch-betrayer takes the position that the United States diplomatically has no standing in Mexico we cannot see that our consular service or diplomatic representation therein can do aught to protect our interests and our people if Huerta's army shall go on a rampage in attempting to annihilate Carranza and "all enemies" of the Huerta dictatorship. Americans included. Huerta, it is declared, can do nothing toward obtaining that European loan without the political recognition of this nation. It would seem the United States has the hand to call Huerta's this "repudiation" should not be swallowed. Our representation in Mexico

now, especially the head of it, is practically useless. It would seem the only line of conduct for the United States is to grin at Huerta whenever he froths at non-recognition and the delay of the loan from Europe, watch the progress of Carranza and require Messrs. Bryan and Garrison to keep their eyes on the border.—Waco News.

UNCLE SAM'S New METHOD OF MAKING POSTAGE STAMPS

Examining and Reeling Postage Stamps

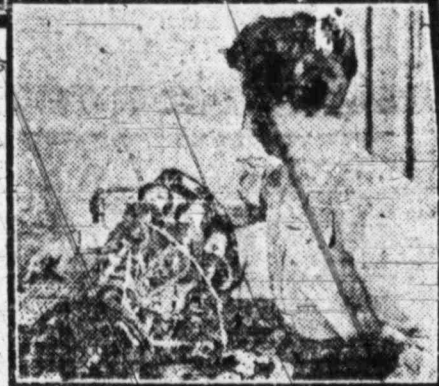

UNCLE Sam's mechanical experts have just invented some remarkable new machines that are going to revolutionize the methods of manufacturing our postage stamps. The present method of engraving the steel plates from which stamps (like to stationery and visiting cards) are printed will be almost the sole feature of the old process that will be allowed to survive, so complete will be the transformation.

Everything connected with printing the stamps, gumming them, perforating and counting them is to be done in a new and different way and entirely by machinery.

Under this new regime too—a literal mechanical age in postage stamp manufacture—tireless, nerveless tollers, made of iron and steel, will even displace human hands in coiling the stamps into those rolls which are required for the penny-in-the-slot machines, which are now patronized by so many of our people who formerly bought the little stickers over the counter.

Just recently two new factors, quite aside from increase in population, have appeared on our national horizon and have signaled for the future a greatly increased demand for postage stamps. One of these new influences is the Parcel Post, which people all over the land are patronizing so liberally, with a consequent whetted appetite for postage stamps. The other element that bids fair to "boom" the postage stamp market is one cent letter postage, which has been agitated for some years past and which appears to be rapidly coming closer to realization.

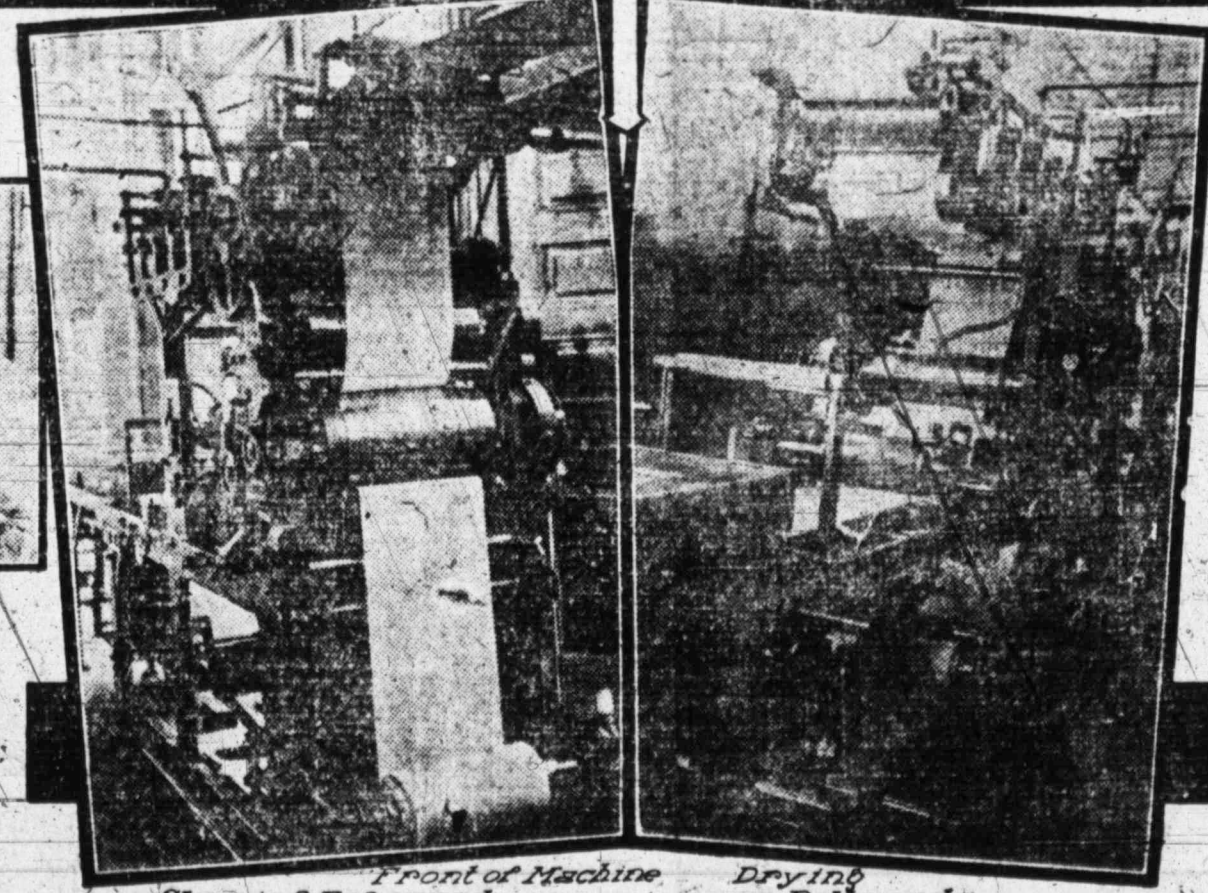

Then, too, it must be remembered that the Postal Savings Bank, which is not as yet an old story by any means, has added materially to our national consumption of postage stamps and the extension of Rural Free Delivery, and the latter day reduction in the postal rate to Great Britain and Ireland have worked to the same end. And this without taking into account that Uncle Sam's cal—we might almost say automatic method of manufacturing postage stamps is found in what may be called a combination machine. The use of the word "combination" is appropriate in this connection because this lone complex machine, its steel muscles energized by electricity, combines practically all the functions of postage stamp manufacture. In other words this self-sufficient toller performs, single-handed, as it were, all the operations of postage stamp creation from the time the white paper begins its transformation until it finally comes forth in the guise of beautifully printed, gummed and perforated stamps. That this new machine, one of those that "almost think," accomplishes a truly phenomenal short cut in stamp manufacture will be better appreciated when it is explained that this one invention does away entirely with twenty-three operations (some performed by hand and others by machinery) which have heretofore been necessary in the production of postage stamps.

Naturally, a machine, which concentrates tasks the way this new miracle worker does, is going to save an immense amount of floor space in Uncle Sam's postage stamp manufactory, at Washington. But yet more important is the circumstance that it is going to save the multiplying the conclusion that the combination machines when used exclusively for making our postage stamps will cut down the cost of manufacture at least 57 per cent.

But for all that new economies and the cutting out of "lost motion" are very welcome to the government just as they are to most private business houses the saving effected by this new type of machine is in the eyes of many officials, rather overshadowed by the fact that this new invention is going to make possible a rate of postage stamps production undreamed of under the old conditions. And this takes the weight of responsibility from the shoulders of the men in the Post Office Department who had come to the conclusion that it was going to be impossible to multiply one operation of gumming or mulling the stamps—and inasmuch as a single combination machine is capable of turning out 12,000 completed stamps per minute, it may be realized that a battery of the machines would pour forth miles of postage stamps every hour in the day.

The combination machine justifies its name by being not merely a simple mechanism, but a set or series of four machines in a row. First comes a printing press; then a gumming or mulling machine; next a drying apparatus; and finally, a perforating machine. The whole amalgamated continuous affair occupies a floor space no more than twenty-five feet in length by three feet in width. And it stands no more than seven or eight dosen persons. Even the two employees who are assigned to a combination machine have little to do except to turn on and off the electric current and to see to it that the paper feeds in properly at one end and emerges satisfactorily as postage stamps at the opposite terminal.

One of the most valuable and most revolutionary qualifications of the new postage stamp machine is found in a feature, which, because it is not spectacular, might not receive the attention it deserves from the casual observer. This consists in a mechanical arrangement which permits the printing of stamps on paper supplied in roll form instead of in single sheets. More important, yet, this roll paper can be fed into the press dry instead

Examining and Counting Postage Stamps

age stamp work in order that it might be so mellowed or softened as to properly receive the impression from the engraved plate.

The secret of the miracle accomplished by the new machine in this sphere is found in the tremendous pressure, which it can apply to the dry paper as it presses against the revolving roller which carries on its circular surface the engraved plates of postage stamp designs. In order that the stamp impressions may be made with success on the dry surface of the rapidly unrolling paper not only are there facilities for bringing to bear great pressure at the contact between the paper and the printing plate, but there are likewise adjustments for keeping the great ribbon of paper taut and at the proper tension as it is fed into the press and passes over and between rollers to reach the printing cylinder. The ink for printing is fed automatically from an overhead font and a "wiping cloth"—unrolled at slow speed from a reel—removes the surplus ink from the face of the printing plate. This latter is a prime essential of high grade plate printing, and it was supposed until recently that it could be performed satisfactorily only by hand. Thus this is one more feature of the new machine that is a revelation even to those who know something of the technicalities of practical printing.

Rollers and cylinders play a mighty important part anyway in the workings of the combination machine. The whole apparatus seems to be made up of groups and clusters of these whirling shafts. The next cylinder encountered by the postage stamps in the making after they leave the drying rollers is a glass cylinder, and it spreads a coating of gum or mulling tween heated rollers as was done to dry the ink. This second drying is accomplished by causing the paper to travel on wires through a wooden box or tunnel, which is only eight feet in length, but in which so high a temperature is maintained that the stamps emerge bone dry.

Finally the stamps go to the perforating department of this machine. Here the paper is placed (automatically, of course) beneath needles moving with lightning-like rapidity and which punch holes, lateral and transverse, between the rows of stamps, the continuous sheet of stamps passing through the perforator at any desired speed up to 250 feet per minute. Incidental to all its other duties the versatile stamp machine accurately counts the stamps that pass through it, thereby performing another chore that formerly required human effort and leaving as the only remaining responsibility that of examining the new-made stamps for defects of printing or perforation.

If stamps are to be supplied to the public in sheets they can go direct from the combination machine to the shipping room where they are packed for transportation in the huge automobile that carries them on the first stage of the journey to post offices up and down the land. But if they are to reach the public through the medium of the vending machines that stand in stores, hotel lobbies, etc., the stamps must first be prepared for their fate by another remarkable new invention—namely the machine evolved by Uncle Sam's experts for cutting and coiling the stamps. This machine takes the broad expanse of stamps as they come from the press, separates them into strips of the width of one

Weekly News Letter

From The French Capitol

Paris, May 10.—The passing away of Honoré Champion has recalled the days when for several weeks this well-known bookseller entertained unawares the Empress of Russia. Day by day he showed her majesty the libraries and museums of Paris, calling her Mademoiselle Hesse. She concealed her identity from her guide until the last, planning, however, to surprise him when the opportune moment came.

M. Champion was one of the last representatives of the old school of French booksellers. He began his career at a time when the seller of books instead of being in a maze of wholesale and retail discounts, de luxe editions, fine binding, and eagerness to bring out a "best-seller," was to a great degree the collaborator and friend of his clients, and it was almost as a colleague that Champion was treated by the philologists and members of the Academy of Inscriptions and Belles Lettres, who met every Friday after the session of the Academy in his store on the Quai Malaquais. The late Duke De Anjou in particular had a very high opinion of the knowledge and character of Honoré Champion, and never missed an opportunity of showing his esteem. One day he sent for him and said:

"Champion, a young lady of very high family is coming to Paris shortly and she wishes to have someone guide her to the museums, libraries and collections. Her name is Mademoiselle Hesse; that is all I can tell you. Will you be her guide?"

Champion readily agreed, and he piloted the mysterious woman for several weeks until she left, thanking him very warmly.

The bookseller had forgotten all about the incident, when one day the Empress of Russia happened to pass his door, driving in state on her way to the Academy. He gazed on the glittering equipage with an idle eye, when to his great astonishment he saw the Empress smiling and waving her hand energetically in his direction. He then realized that the Empress was no other than Mademoiselle Hesse. Before her marriage the Empress was the Grand-Duchess of Hesse and she it was whom he had escorted through the art treasures of the capital.

An exhibition of the works of the celebrated Revolutionary painter, Jacques Louis David, and his pupils has just been opened and proves of very great historical as well as artistic interest.

Anatole France counts among his cherished possessions a book of sketches made by David for his state picture of the Coronation of Napoleon. He found it during his wanderings on the quays of Paris, which are lined by the stalls of the second-hand bookmen. Rumaging in a box he unearthed the sketch book, and at once asked the price. "Five cents," said the stall-keeper. France paid without bargaining.

Pierre Nollet, under sentence of twelve years' servitude for complicity in the murder of M. Clerc, an engraver, at Versailles, under circumstances somewhat similar to those of the Steinhell case, has been allowed, by special permission of the government, to marry his sweetheart, Mademoiselle Jeanne Boulicot, before leaving for the French penal settlement in Guyana.

Nollet was married in handcuffs. Two inspectors accompanied him to the mayor's office, where the ceremony was performed. The inspectors acted as witnesses. The bride couple were allowed to kiss once before and once after the ceremony. Neither the months he has already spent in prison nor the prospects of twelve years' penal servitude seems to have affected the prisoner. With head erect and smiling, he went through the formalities with the air of a free and happy man.

Statistics just published show that in the year 1912 the receipts of the various places of amusement in Paris amounted to over $12,000,000 as against $11,500,000 for 1911.

The constant opening up of new ways to spend money for relaxation seems to have no effect on the increase of receipts. The moving picture theatres evidence this. Today they are counted by the hundreds in Paris, and one of them shows total receipts for the year amounting to $300,000.

The largest receipts of any place are taken by the Opera, $600,000. This is explained by the fact that more foreign visitors go to the Opera than any other theatre, so that it maintains a fairly good audience at all seasons of the year.

RAPID RISE.

The rapid rise of the Tyler Commercial College of Tyler, Texas, in public favor is shown by the tremendous number of students enrolling from over half the states in the Union. Graduates of this famous institution holding good salaries positions are receiving enormous dividends on the money they paid out only a few months ago for their practical education. Buy a scholarship for a course of book-keeping, business training, shorthand, typewriting or telegraphy in this institution; it will prove the best investment of your life. There is absolutely no speculation in buying a scholarship for one or more of these courses; they are worth over 100 cents on the dollar. The valuable knowledge obtained while in this practical school will be used throughout life. Shrewd, far-sighted business men are desiring T. C. C. graduates for their offices; they realize their training is modern and thorough. The famous Byrne simplified shorthand, which we teach, is as simple as A, B, C and complete from A to Z. It meets the needs for rapid work, with speed to spare; it fits into any business as though it were made to order, there is nothing but what can be written readily and read with ease with the Byrne Simplified. It has overturned shorthand traditions, and precedents, broken all records in the shorthand world—set up a new standard of results.

The Byrne practical bookkeeping and business training is equally superior to other systems as is the shorthand. Keep your eye on the famous Tyler simplified shorthand and practical bookkeeping until you master a thorough course. It does not cost as much to get these modern, practical systems in a school with a worldwide reputation as it does inferior systems in other schools. Write for beautifully illustrated catalogue containing convincing facts of the superiority of the system and methods used in qualifying our students for the best positions and of placing our graduates in them. Our telegraphy department is the only one in this state that teaches station work by means of a train wire of a trunk line railroad and the use of every blank used in their freight and passenger work. Address Tyler Commercial College, Tyler, Texas, for catalogue, stating which of the courses you are interested in.

ATTENTION MOTHERS.

If You Have or Know of a Delicate Child, Read This Letter.

"My little daughter, Louise, age 3 years, has always been delicate, anemic, had no appetite and seemed listless; and we could not seem to find anything that would help her until we were advised to give her Vinol. She started taking it six weeks ago and inside of two weeks showed a marked improvement, both in appetite, vim and looks. Being so well pleased with the results, I continued giving it to her, and words fail to express my gratitude and faith in Vinol, both as a blood maker and body builder. As my child was an anemic for so long it makes the reason all the stronger for me to recommend it to others I think. I can give you the name of the doctor who recommended it to me."

SUNDAY SCHOOL WORKER ASSUMES DUTIES HERE

H. M. Frank Will Cover Northwest Texas as Missionary—His Snake Story

H. M. Frank, appointed Sunday school missionary for this section by the Northwest Texas Presbytery, has assumed his duties. With Wichita Falls as his headquarters, his territory extends west to New Mexico, although appointed by the Presbyterian church, his work will be interdenominational.

Mr. Frank has had considerable experience in this work, having performed duties of this kind in Alaska and in South Dakota. He expects to help the other churches in their work in the factory district, and it is likely that what is known as a social center will be established there. He will co-operate with Sunday schools and churches throughout Northwest Texas in his work.

The title of champion rattlesnake killer of South Dakota might be conferred upon Mr. White. While working in the plains of that state he destroyed more than a hundred of the reptiles in a short time. Once while he was away from home his wife died, covered a number of the snakes in the vicinity and told him of them. He went to the place indicated and put sixty-four snakes out of business before quitting work. Later he killed nearly as many more.

spective hotels. As fast as the patrols and delegates were assigned, their rooms and quarters and caught their breath they appeared on the streets, many of them in the dress costumes of their patrols and some in fatigue costumes.

The crowd of sons of the desert added to the large throng of people on the gaily decorated streets, put the true convention spirit in the air.

About the busiest place in the city was the registration headquarters, and the members of Hella temple worked like Trojans in seeing that all visitors were properly taken care of on their arrival.

WONDERFUL LITTLE PEOPLE SPECIAL CARNIVAL ATTRACTION

The Filippino Midgets at the carnival here are without doubt the two smallest people who have ever visited this section of the country. They will be here only until Friday night.

It is amusing to watch these tiny mites of humanity dance and perform. These little people have danced twice in the White House for President Taft and his family. They were the feature attraction at the St. Louis world's fair. Everyone who attends the carnival should pay them a visit. 12 1t

Weekly News Letter

From The French Capitol

Paris, May 10.—The passing away of Honore Champion has recalled the days when for several weeks this well known bookseller entertained unaware the Empress of Russia. Day by day he showed her majesty the libraries and museums of Paris, calling her Mademoiselle Hesse. She concealed her identity from her guide until the last, planning, however, to surprise him when the opportune moment came.

M. Champion was one of the last representatives of the old school of French booksellers. He began his career at a time when the seller of books instead of being in a maze of whole, sale, and retail discounts, de luxe editions, fine binding, and eagerness to bring out a "best-seller," was to a great degree the collaborator and friend of his clients, and it was almost as a colleague that Chaboudi was treated by the philologists and members of the Academy of Inscriptions and Belles Lettres, who met every Friday after the session of the Academy in his store on the Quai Malaquais. The late Duke De Anjou in particular had a very high opinion of the knowledge and character of Honore Champion, and never missed an opportunity of showing his esteem. One day he sent for him and said:

"Champion, a young lady of very high family is coming to Paris shortly and she wishes to have someone guide her to the museums, libraries and collections. Her name is Mademoiselle Hesse; that is all I can tell you. Will you be her guide?"

Champion readily agreed, and he piloted the mysterious woman for several weeks until she left, thanking him very warmly.

The bookseller had forgotten all about the incident, when one day the Empress of Russia happened to pass his door, driving in state on her way to the Academy. He gazed on the glittering equipage with an idle eye, when to his great astonishment he saw the Empress smiling and waving her hand energetically in his direction. He then realized that the Empress was no other than Mademoiselle Hesse. Before her marriage the Empress was the Grand Duchess of Hesse and she it was whom he had escorted through the art treasures of the capital.

An exhibition of the works of the celebrated Revolutionary painter, Jacques Louis David, and his pupils has just been opened and proves of very great historical as well as artistic interest.

Anatole France counts among his cherished possessions a book of sketches made by David for his state picture of the Coronation of Napoleon. He found it during his wanderings on the quays of Paris, which are lined by the stalls of the second-hand bookmen. Rumaging in a box he unearthed the sketch book, and at once asked the price: "Five cents," said the stall-keeper. France paid without bargaining.

Pierre Nollet, under sentence of twelve years' servitude for complicity in the murder of M. Clerc, an engraver, at Versailles, under circumstances somewhat similar to those of the Steinhell case, has been allowed, by special permission of the government, to marry his sweetheart, Mademoiselle Jeanne Boulicot, before leaving for the French penal settlement in Guyana.

Nollet was married in handcuffs. Two inspectors accompanied him to the mayor's offices, where the ceremony was performed. The inspectors acted as witnesses. The bridal couple were allowed to kiss once before and once after the ceremony. Neither the months he has already spent in prison nor the prospects of twelve years' penal servitude seems to have affected the prisoner. With head erect and smiling, he went through the formalities with the air of a free and happy man.

Statistics just published show that in the year 1912 the receipts of the various places of amusement in Paris amounted to over $13,000,000 as against $11,500,000 for 1911.

The constant opening up of new ways to spend money for relaxation seems to have no effect on the increase of receipts. The moving picture theatres evidence this. Today they are counted by the hundreds in Paris, and one of them shows total receipts for the year amounting to $300,000.

The largest receipts of any place are taken by the Opera, $600,000. This is explained by the fact that more foreign visitors go to the Opera than any other theatre, so that it maintains a fairly good audience at all seasons of the year.

RAPID RISE.

The rapid rise of the Tyler Commercial College of Tyler, Texas, in public favor is shown by the tremendous number of students enrolling from over half the states in the Union. Graduates of this famous institution holding good salaries positions are receiving enormous dividends on the money they paid out only a few months ago for their practical education. Buy a scholarship for a course of bookkeeping, business training, shorthand, typewriting or telegraphy in this institution; it will prove the best investment of your life. There is absolutely no speculation in buying a scholarship, or one or more of these courses; they are worth over 100 cents on the dollar. The valuable knowledge obtained while in this practical school will be used throughout life. Shrewd, far-sighted business men are desiring T. C. C. graduates for their offices; they realize their training is modern and thorough. The famous Byrne simplified shorthand, which we teach, is as simple as A, B, C and complete from A to Z. It meets the needs for rapid work, with speed to spare; it fits into any business as though it were made to order. There is nothing but what can be written readily and read with ease with the Byrne Simplified. It has overturned shorthand traditions and precedents, broken all records in the shorthand world—set up a new standard of results.

The Byrne practical bookkeeping and business training is equally superior to other systems as is the shorthand. Keep your eye on the famous Byrne simplified shorthand and practical bookkeeping until you master a thorough course. It does not cost as much to get these modern, practical systems in a school with a worldwide reputation as it does inferior systems in other schools. Write for beautifully illustrated catalogue containing convincing facts of the superiority of the system and methods used in qualifying our students for the best positions and of placing our graduates in them. Our telegraphy department is the only one in this state that teaches station work by means of a train wire of a trunk line railroad and the use of every blank used in their freight and passenger work. Address Tyler Commercial College, Tyler, Texas, for catalogue, stating which of the courses you are interested in.

ATTENTION MOTHERS.

If You Have or Know of a Delicate Child, Read This Letter.

"My little daughter, Louise, age 3 years, has always been delicate, anemic, had no appetite and seemed listless, and we could not seem to find anything that would help her until we were advised to give her Vinol. She started taking it six weeks ago and inside of two weeks showed a marked improvement, both in appetite, vim and looks. Being so well pleased with the results, I continued giving it to her, and words fail to express my gratitude and faith in Vinol, both as a blood maker and body builder. As my child was an anemic for so long it makes the reason all the stronger for me to recommend it to others in similar condition." Geo. E. Munro, Book

SUNDAY SCHOOL WORKER

ASSUMES DUTIES HERE

H. M. Frank Will Cover Northwest Texas as Missionary—His Snake Story

H. M. Frank, appointed Sunday school missionary for this section by the Northwest Texas Presbytery, has assumed his duties, with Wichita Falls as his headquarters. His territory extends west to New Mexico, although appointed by the Presbyterian church, his work will be interdenominational.

Mr. Frank has had considerable experience in this work, having performed duties of this kind in Alaska and in South Dakota. He expects to help the other churches in their work in the factory district, and it is likely that what is known as a social center will be established there. He will co-operate with Sunday schools and churches throughout Northwest Texas in his work.

The title of champion rattlesnake killer of South Dakota might be conferred upon Mr. White. While working in the plains of that state he destroyed more than a hundred of the reptiles in a short time. Once while he was away from home his wife discovered a number of the snakes in the vicinity and told him of them. He went to the place indicated and put sixty-four snakes out of business before quitting work. Later he killed nearly as many more.

spective hotels. As fast as the patrols and delegates were assigned their rooms and quarters and caught their breath they appeared on the streets, many of them in the dress costumes of their patrols and some in fatigue costumes.

The crowd of sons of the desert added to the large throng of people on the gaily decorated streets, put the true convention spirit in the air.

About the busiest place in the city was the registration headquarters, and the members of Hella temple worked like Trojans in seeing that all visitors were properly taken care of on their arrival.

WONDERFUL LITTLE PEOPLE SPECIAL CARNIVAL ATTRACTION

The Filipino Midgets at the carnival here are without doubt the two smallest people who have ever visited this section of the country. They will be here only until Friday night.

It is amusing to watch these tiny units of humanity dance and perform. These little people have danced twice in the White House for President Taft and his family. They were the feature attraction at the St. Louis world's fair. Everyone who attends the carnival should pay them a visit. 12-11 of the Palace Drug Store depends on the goods and the services that we give you today and not on something we promise to do tomorrow. The business methods and the class of merchandise of our store today will make or unmake the business of the years that are to come. Nobody knows this better than we do. We realize that the best goods that money will buy and the best service that grueling effort will produce are none too good for the people who trust us with their money and in many cases with their lives. We are here to stay. We are as permanent as the Ninth street hill and we will make your today's transactions with us sufficiently satisfactory to make our business relations continue pleasant and profitable to both of us as the years go by.

OUR STANDARD.

Great individuals and good individuals, with any kind of successful business, must hold and maintain the proper STANDARD.

No individual can lay claim to success alone. There must be something to bring about even a fair degree of success. Conditions, environments and grit contribute towards the success of any enterprise or undertaking, but the main thing in this world of endeavor is to set a high STANDARD and live up to it.

The word STANDARD in our business means an IDEAL with the best none too good for those we serve.

We are fully equipped to serve you most efficiently. We remember those whom the great reaper, death, has gathered, and our high ideals permit of nothing but the best in quality and service. Remember this is not an agents proposition.
