Orin Brown Dies in the Electric Chair

BRUNTSVILLE, June 15—Orin J. Brown, 56 years old, convicted of the hammer slaying of Mrs. Leola Murphy of Marion, Ind., died in the electric chair at the state penitentiary today.

Sunday Rain Brings June Total to 4.37

With the .26 in. of rain late Sunday afternoon, the total precipitation for the month of June to date is 4.37 in. June rainfall as follows: 4.04; 6.04; 7.18; 8.16; 9.75; 14.26. With wheat and barley fields ripening rapidly, producers are ready for harvest and that means, no more rain is needed for several weeks. Due to shortage of farm labor and rationing of tires for combines, tractors and trucks, harvest will present more obstacles than usual this year. It is hoped that rains, such as fell during the 1941 harvest, will not add to the expense and cut down the yield. One of the Panhandle's greatest harvests is in sight if it can be saved.

Over thirteen tons, 26,564 to be exact, of scrap rubber was collected by Ochiltree county citizens and sold to wholesale and retail oil and gasoline dealers during the first three days of the national rubber scrap campaign. J. H. Nail, member of the Panhandle of Texas Sub-regional Committee of District No. 3 Marketing Committee for the petroleum industry, was highly gratified at the loyal and patriotic response in this county to President Roosevelt's appeal for an all out rubber scrap salvage campaign. Mr. Nail stated that every retail service station operator and wholesale dealer in the county was cooperating wholeheartedly in the campaign. It is possible that the total even exceeds the above figure figure compiled by Mr. Nail late Wednesday afternoon.

Anyone who is unavoidably away from his home on June 30 may register at the registration place most convenient on that day, but all registrants are urged to make every effort to register with their local boards to avoid possible confusion in the future. Any person who must register away from home is warned to specify his home address so that his registration card may be forwarded promptly to his own local board.

A registrant who has more than one place of residence may choose which one he wants recorded as his place of residence, and in making the choice he designates the local board which will always have jurisdiction over him.

Upon his arrival in Perryton, Tuesday, Mr. Griffin stated that he was to help with the labor situation, and that he would be available at all times.

Grasshopper Infestation Has Started

County is Operating Poison Mixing Plant Courthouse Square

Grasshoppers are already causing damage to small grain and to millet and sudan that is coming up. County Agent E. W. Thomas reports. One field of oats near Perryton has been damaged severely and one third of a field of millet has been pretty well riddled.

The damage so far has been done mostly by hoppers hatched out among the turnrows. During the past few days, however, migratory hoppers have flown in and are heavily infesting some fields, and may start to cutting off the heads of grain.

The poison mixing plant on the southeast corner of the courthouse square is open Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday of each week, 8 a. m. to 5 p. m., and farmers are urged to poison the insects before it is necessary to stop for harvest.

JUST HERE and THERE

The following from "I Give You Texas" by Boyce House. It's entitled "An Editor's Prayer."

"Blessed are the merchants who advertise for they have faith in their business, and their prosperity shall increase many fold."

"Blessed is the woman who sends in a written account of a party or a wedding, naming dates and time and places. For she shall see more than a brief hint that such an event took place."

"Blessed are they who do not expect the editor to know everything by telling him whenever an interesting event occurs in which they are interested, for they shall have a better newspaper in the town."

"Blessed are they who get their copy in early for they shall occupy a warm spot in the heart of the editor."

"Blessed are they who do not think they could run a newspaper better than the editor runs it—yes, thrice blessed are they, because there are so few of them in the country."

The El Campo Citizen, published at El Campo, Texas, with a Perryton girl as business manager, came to us last week in a 16-page special edition commemorating the 42nd anniversary of the newspaper and a move into a new modern home.

Mrs. Vivian Sparkman, the former Miss Vivian Rogers and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Rogers, is business manager of the Citizen. Her husband, Warren A. Sparkman, is editor. Mrs. A. A. Sparkman is publisher.

We have watched the development and many improvements in the Citizen since the Sparkmans took over a few years ago. Congratulations to Vivian and her folks for the swell job they're doing.

Due to heavy consumption of asphalt in defense plants and army and navy camps and the acute shortage of tank cars for transportation, the completion of the hard surfacing of No. 117 east from Perryton to Pollett, through Booker, may be postponed.

Most of the caliche base is laid and ready for the topping course. There are a few miles of the highway close to Pollett that does not have the caliche base course finished. There will be a delay on this as the contractors, Sitton & Herbert, have pulled their equipment off, taking it to Dalhart where they have a contract for part of the construction work on the glider field at that place.

State highway officials hope it will be possible to obtain asphalt before fall. However the contractors and the state highway department have not given up all hopes and are making every effort to get immediate delivery.

Congratulations to Clyde Warwick, publisher of the Canyon News, for the honor of winning the Belo Cup, given annually by the Dallas News to the best all round weekly newspaper in Texas. Clyde also won the first prize of $25 cash for the best set small advertisement.

This is a well deserved award and tribute to Clyde Warwick and his Canyon News. It is particularly gratifying that with at least 1,000 weekly newspapers in Texas, a Panhandle publication should win the most coveted honor in Texas newspaper circles.

The award coming back to the Panhandle is another tribute to the outstanding newspapers of the Panhandle. Four times within the past twenty years have Panhandle newspapers won the Belo Cup.

Prefabricated Granaries are Available for Farm Storage

A limited number of prefabricated wooden granaries are available to wheat producers of Ochiltree county. These bins which are shipped knocked down can be secured through the county AAA committee.

The bins come in two sizes: 12x16 with a capacity of approximately 1,600 bushels, selling for $225; and 14x16, capacity 1,800 bushels, cost $270. The above prices are F. O. B. any designated shipping point in the county.

Audie Conley, chairman of the county AAA committee, stated Wednesday afternoon that orders for 110 bins had been placed with his committee.

The first of the 1942 crop to be sold in Perryton brought $1.02 per bushel, regular market price of 97c plus a five cent premium. The wheat was Early Black Hull, a No. 4 grade testing 55 lbs. Aldon Bell, general manager of the Equity, purchaser of the wheat stated that it was free of moisture.

After Mr. Urban combined his first load, he estimated the field of Early Black Hull was making 18 bushels to the acre. As more was cut, the field averaged 23 bushels. Mr. Urban stated at time of delivering the first load, the remainder of his wheat was of higher grade and yield. He is storing the balance of his crop in granaries on his farm. After interviewing farmers, grain men and agricultural officials, it appears that the harvest will be in full swing in the Perryton area by June 25. This date could be later if rain prevents grain from ripening. Wheat north of Perryton in the Oklahoma Panhandle is a few days ahead of most Ochiltree county fields.

Predict 15 bu. Average

Conservative estimates for the yield in the Perryton area is slightly in excess of 5,000,000 bushels. This total could be cut by hail or delays and losses in harvesting such as in 1941 when excessive rain cut production.

County Agent E. W. Thomas estimates the 225,000 acres of wheat in Ochiltree county will produce an average of 15 bushels to the acre, or a total of 3,375,000 bushels of grain. With considerably more than 100,000 acres of wheat crops in the Oklahoma Panhandle and sections of other counties in the Perryton area, the possible yield is over the five million mark.

Storage is the Problem

The most serious situation confronting the wheat producer of this and all other Southwest wheat producing communities is where to go with the wheat when it is harvested. Practically all terminal and local elevators in the country are bulging with grain.

In past years, much grain has been stored in railway cars. Due to the transportation problems of the war effort, this is out of the picture this year.

No elevator can obtain a car in which to ship stored wheat unless the shipper has a permit from the receiving elevator that unloading space is available and that the car will be unloaded within 24 hours. On sold wheat the shipper must certify on the bill of lading that the wheat shipped has been sold and is thus it appears certain that much of the 1942 crop will have to go into storage on the farm and that every available space must be utilized. Barns, garages, empty buildings and houses, schoolhouses and vacant store buildings must all be pressed into service as storage facilities.

There is a great surplus of wheat in the United States today. There is not an acute need for wheat in the war effort at present. Every grain must be saved for that day of peace when the product of the United States wheat farmer will come out of storage and be shipped to every part of the world to feed the starving, war torn mouths of the world.

Premier and Hero

VITAL LINK in the supply lines of the United Nations is the Norwegian Merchant Navy. One of its heroes is Captain Carl Iver Jensen, who at 31 is one of the youngest skippers in the service. In 1940 he slipped through the German blockade of Sweden with five freighters and reached a British port. When he brought a new British-built freighter into a U. S. port recently, Captain Jensen gave a dinner for Norway's Prime Minister Johann Nygaardsvold, now visiting in this country.

Wild Housecats Menace to Birds

The 800 some odd species and sub-species of birds in Texas—more kinds of birds than any other State or region possesses—are busy nest building or raising young these days, and so the bird's worst predator, worse even than the hunter, is having a field day. The predator referred to is the ordinary house cat.

The tame little pussy cat slumbering on the doorstep in the sun looks innocent enough. But let a cardinal, a wren, a cedar waxwing, a beautiful male redwing blackbird, a mourning dove quail or any other bird get within reach of its scratchy paws—and there's one less bird "deep in the heart of Texas." Tame cats are bad enough. When they stray from home and become wild creatures, they live almost exclusively on birds. All persons interested in the rich birdlife heritage of Texas should kill all stray housecats, the Game Department advises. Tame cats desired in the home should be kept there and fed regularly, so they will not prey on bird-life in spare moments.

No less than 50 wild housecats were observed recently by a field biologist of the Game Department on a trip from Austin to Mineral Wells. And all along the highway young mourning doves were so thick the biologist had to drive well under the standard 40 miles per hour to avoid running over the birds which were feeding on weeds along the road. Many of the doves, as well as many other species of birds observed, undoubtedly were devoured by the cats.

Keep your tame cat penned up, especially at this season; and kill all wild housecats if you like birds.

Lake View Tattler

There is so much water around here, with no way for it to drain! If it comes another rain, we will be moving out. I think when this rain is over, I'll call out the neighbors and organize a spade and shovel crew to grade the road so that water will have a way to run off.

June Edwards spent the week-end with Maxine Kenny. Maxine and June and Juanita Williams came on horseback to the writer's home last week to see if there was anything we needed.

On Monday of last week, Elma Pipkin and Lilly Bailey drove within a half mile of the house, then waded the rest of the way, to take their music lesson. In the afternoon, Mrs. Johnny King and daughter Aneta came for Aneta's lesson. Mrs. Hollis Gossett and daughters also waded water to reach the Powell home.

Mrs. James Reed visited in the W. Y. Williams home last week. Other callers in the Williams home were Mrs. Edd Beck and son Erlen, Juanita Beck and Earl Kenny.

Dennis Reed and daughter Margaret called in the Olan Williams home, Thursday morning.

Just because the ducks are always quacking is no sign they are not smart. On the Pipkin lake near the Lake View school, ducks have made nests by beginning near the roots of tall grass and weaving mud and grass in the stems of growing grass, all the way to the top, then they build their nests. If the water is low the nests lay on the top of the water, and if water runs in the lake causing the water to rise, the grass rises with the water. The nest still floats on top of the water.

There are several nests with eggs in them. One had eight eggs and one six. Perhaps the reason little ducks swim so young is that they hatch floating around on the water.

MAKING A HAM AND SWEET POTATO ROLL

The Ingredients

Ham and sweet potato roll is so good, and easy to make too. For this recipe, use $\frac{3}{4}$ pound ground smoked ham, $\frac{1}{2}$ pound ground pork, $\frac{1}{2}$ cup cracker crumbs, 1 egg, $\frac{3}{4}$ cup milk, pepper, and 2 cups mashed sweet potatoes. Combine all ingredients except potatoes.

Making the Roll

Spread on waxed paper to one-half inch thickness, which will make a sheet about 6 x 10 inches. Spread with seasoned mashed potatoes and roll like a jelly roll. Press the last inch of uncovered meat firmly in place so the roll will hold its shape.

The Finished Roll

Bake in a 350°F. oven for 1½ hours. Garnish with pear halves topped with mint meringue, made by beating 1 egg white, 1 tablespoon corn syrup and 2 tablespoons mint jelly together.

Texas Needs Drivers' License Examiners

AUSTIN, June 17—The Department of Public Safety will hold a statewide examination for prospective Drivers License Examiners in the near future. State Police Director Homer Garrison announced today. Applications, available by mail from Garrison, now are being accepted.

Drivers License personnel has been depleted, Garrison said, by the loss of Examiners going into the armed forces and by the transfer of Examiners to replace Patrolmen who have joined the military. Sixty five members of the Department now are on leave of absence as soldiers, sailors, Marines or Coast Guardsmen.

Applicants must be between 23 and 35, have at least a high school education or its equivalent, be in perfect health and well proportioned, and of excellent character. The examination will be given at a date yet to be set in the 14 district headquarters over the state.

Those who make top grades on the written and oral examination will be sent to Camp Mabry, departmental headquarters in Austin, to attend a short training school.

Two Perryton Men Are Assigned to Armored Division

PT. KNOX, Ky.—(Sp.)—Arriving here for an introduction to the Army through its swiftest, hardest-hitting land branch, the Armored Force, the following Panhandle Texas men, are now assigned to the 8th Armored Division, commanded by Maj. Gen. Wm. M. Grimes:

Pvt. Albert L. Smith, 921 S. Main street, Perryton, Texas.

Pvt. Jack H. Allen, 529 SW 3rd street, Perryton, Texas.

Pvt. Johnnie K. Tidwell, Clarendon, Texas.

Pvt. Benjamin H. Stoots, Jr., Giles, Texas.

Pvt. Harry Elbert Reimers, Amarillo, Texas.

Pvt. Howard B. Pryor, Amarillo, Texas.

Pvt. Clifford Easley, 204 E. 4th street, Amarillo, Texas.

Coming directly from reception centers, the men will first be engaged in learning the fundamentals of army life, preparatory to working with the speedy armored vehicles and powerful guns with which an armored division makes its lightning thrusts.

Calisthenics and road marches will transform soft muscles into hardened sinews; lessons in military courtesy, map reading, tactics, care of clothing, and equipment, hygiene and current events, will place civilian minds on a military alertness. When the more advanced stages of training are reached there will be study in operation of light and medium tanks, half-track scout cars, jeeps, motorcycles, anti-tank weapons machine guns, 27mm, and 75mm, and 105mm guns, rifles, pistols and Howitzers.

To man the 20,000 weapons, drive the 3,500 vehicles, be able to make repairs on them and keep them supplied with ammunition and fuel while the division is rolling across the ground covering 150 to 175 miles a day, requires that almost half of all the men be technical specialists.

Upon arrival here the men are given comprehensive mental and physical aptitude tests which, combined with their previous experience and training, determine the work for which they are best qualified. After their basic training is completed, they will be assigned duties accordingly. Later, those who

Last Rites Held For Mr. Kaseburg

Friends of "Curley" Kaseburg, as he was known locally, gathered at the Funeral Home Friday afternoon for simple, impressive funeral services conducted by Father J. J. Lewis, pastor of the Sacred Heart Church, Canadian, who chose the subject, "Death in General," for his talk.

Mrs. Carl Ellis sang "The Roseary." She was accompanied by Mrs. Dean Blank at the piano. Pallbearers were W. E. McMillen, C. V. Hobbs, Ralph Adams, C. E. Farnsworth, M. P. Browning and J. A. Russell. Interment was made in the Ochiltree Cemetery.

J. Charles Kaseburg was born to Mary and William Kaseburg on January 13, 1890 at Boston, Mass. At the age of six years and eleven months, he was placed in a Catholic Home for Children in Boston where he remained five years.

On August 28, 1901, Charles went to live in the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Whalen, Huron, S. D., who became his beloved foster parents. He remained with them until he was able to make his own way.

Mr. Kaseburg, a barber by profession, came to Perryton from Kansas City, Mo., about ten years ago. During his stay here, he made many friends through his business associations and because of his cheery disposition. His hobby was golf. His sudden death Wednesday night, June 10, came as a shock to the community. Death was attributed to a heart attack.

Mrs. R. T. Correll and son, Archie, went to Roswell, N. M., Saturday for a few days visit with Miss Virginia Correll.

A. P. McCrevey returned Thursday from a week's trip to the Kansas City markets where he purchased furniture for the Perryton Furniture Co.

show the greatest proficiency will be sent to the Armored Force School for advanced technical training and some, those who demonstrate leadership ability, will qualify for the Armored Force Officer Candidate School from which they will graduate as commissioned officers—second lieutenants.

Joint Installation Legion-Auxiliary Officers, Aug. 3

Thomas, Mrs. H. I. Hudson, Mrs. H. C. Graham and Mrs. O. R. Truax, appointed from the Auxiliary by Mrs. E. B. Gyger, president.

Mr. and Mrs. Shotwell extended the Post and Unit an invitation to initiate the new barbecue pit in their back yard. Plans are under way for a big chicken fry at the Shotwell home.

COLLEGE STATION—The battle against inflation is one that can be won on the home front, according to H. Williamson, director of the Texas A. & M. College Extension Service, who has just concluded a series of meetings in various Texas cities with key representatives of all governmental agencies contacting the rural people of Texas.

"The average man and woman in Texas," Williamson says, "is ready and anxious to do everything possible to win the war; but they want to know what they can do now."

The A. & M. Extension Service is forming a human chain that can disseminate information to every farm home in Texas in a very short time, and the message we want to get across to them at the present time is a simple one.

Economists estimate that there will be 17 billion dollars more available this year than there will be in the year before. In other words, if you take a dollar to spend on goods, you can get 75 cents worth of goods for 75 cents worth of goods if you want to bid up the prices of goods, but that is foolish economy. The thing to do is spend your 75 cents and take your quarter to change.

Now that quarter needn't burn a hole in your pocket, because you can do a lot of good with it if you want to. You can pay your debts, you can buy War Bonds, you can pay it aside to be used after the war to buy consumer goods that you cannot buy today.

"If you want to go the whole route, just spend half of every dollar you have instead of spending three-fourths of it. That will leave a lot of consumer goods available for the other fellow, and prices will not rise unless one person is willing to pay more for an article than his neighbor."

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

These huge 60-ton heavy tanks cost $120,000, and America's automotive and locomotive plants are turning them out on a never-ending assembly line. Our army uses light tanks, weighing 14 tons, and medium tanks of 28 tons also, but we favor the medium tank over the other two.

These heavy tanks are needed for certain phases of modern warfare, and with their thick armor and heavy-gauge guns they are almost unstoppable. They are considered superior in gun power, in maneuverability and in the power of their huge tractor motors to Axis tanks. Americans everywhere are helping to pay for these monsters of war through their purchase of War Bonds. Invest at least ten percent of your income in War Bonds every pay day.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Whippo and daughter, who have been visiting here left Friday for a short stay with his brother, Charles Whippo and family of Amarillo and a visit in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Kent, Lubbock before returning to their home in Breckenridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Taliaferro and Mrs. Fred Nies of Wichita, Kansas, visited from Sunday until Tuesday with Perryton relatives and friends. Both Mr. and Mrs. Taliaferro and Mr. Nies are doing defense work in Wichita.

The Library Corner

Your public library is of even more value to you now that you can't go traveling around so much in your car and have to find most of your relaxation at home. In the cities library circulations are up fifteen per cent and in spite of the busy harvest season here the Perryton Library is receiving increasing use. The Library Board has tried to get as many new books as funds will allow for your summer pleasure. They are waiting for your choosing every week day afternoon between one and six.

"The Moon is Down," by John Steinbeck is a book Americans all over the country are reading with avid interest. John Gunther calls it "one of the best short novels I ever read." In a review of it he says:

"Mr. Steinbeck may have altered his locale from America to somewhere on the somber embattled shores of an unnamed country, which must be Norway, but he has not lost one of his essential preoccupations, the struggle of free mankind against oppression. The point is that 'The Moon is Down' should hold equally true for any conquered land and for any and all conquerors. The lesson this book carries should be known to every American."

Another book important to Americans is Granville Hicks' "Only One Storm," which might be called the discovery of America in a hill village. It is a big novel of city and country folk facing social problems, a town meeting kind of story laid in a Berkshire town which is yet all America in its democratic workings. The novel is not only founded upon the Bill of Rights, it translates the Bill of Rights into current American life.

"Old McDonald Had a Farm," by Angus McDonald is a fascinating story of old Jim McDonald, a Presbyterian preacher who came from Mississippi and who, at sixty-one succumbed to his yearning for a farm of his own. He bought a poor place with little on it except rocks and air, in the southern foothills of the Ozarks in eastern Oklahoma. There, in the years between 1912 and 1922, lived old McDonald. And out of his tremendous energy and his love of the soil combined with more than ordinary intelligence, there blossomed a place that, to him, was a sort of paradise.

"In This Our Life" by Ellen Glasgow has just been awarded the Pulitzer Prize for the most distinguished novel of the past year. Miss Glasgow is considered one of the few major American novelists. Her philosophy of life is implicit in all her books—that character is destiny. This is a novel of modern times, laid in a Virginia tidewater city, ending a few days before the outbreak of war in Europe. The members of the Timberlake family, mother, father, and the two young women who are their daughters—are the central characters of an intensely dramatic story.

"Flight to Arras" by Antoine de Saint Exupery is one of the classics about flying to come out of the war. This deeply tragic and beautifully written book describes one flight by the author just before the fall of France.

Perryton Youths at Corpus Christi

Charles H. Linville and Charles Patton of Perryton, who have been employed at the Corpus Christi Navy War Work Center, recently were appointed by the Civil Service Commission to the Corpus Christi Naval Air Station as Helper Trainees at $120 a month each, according to information received here this week.

While assigned to the Navy War Work Center in Corpus Christi, these young men received work experience at the Naval Air Station there in the repair, construction, and maintenance of airplanes and airplane engines.

Linville and Patton were referred to this Center by the United States Employment Service. Besides the work experience which these boys obtained at the Corpus Christi Naval Air Station, they also attended related information and training classes taught by instructors furnished through the Corpus Christi Public Schools and the State Board for Vocational Education.

HE: Hello... that you, Helen? Listen, I forgot to tell you to send the car over for greasing and an oil change.

SHE: Oh, all right Bob, but what about the tires and the battery and all the other things it might need?

HE: Right... everything should be attended to. Gosh!... can't you take some responsibility for the car?

SHE: All right, smarty... I have taken the responsibility. I joined the Once-a-Week Club today.

HE: Great Caesar's ghost! Another club! Didn't we just agree last night to cut out unnecessary expenses?

SHE: That's exactly what we are doing. This is a club without any dues, fees or anything.

HE: I'm listening... proceed with caution!

SHE: Well, you know that nice Conoco station over on Myrtle Street? I went in there this morning and Mr. Blevins, the Mileage Merchant, told me he would go over our car every Thursday morning; check the tires, the battery, water... in fact, everything... and if he saw anything needed, he would write it down for me.

HE: Atta girl! This war will make a business woman out of you yet!

SHE: Oh, yeah? Well, I may be a business woman, my dear, but I'm going to get a permanent this afternoon just to prove I'm still a female... and the price will be charged up to the extra life of our car and the savings we're going to have because of that Conoco Once-a-Week Club.

No Arrests in Service Station
Burglary

Sheriff J. S. Talley says that no arrests have been made in the looting of Harold Simpson's Phillips "66" wholesale and retail oil station at Farnsworth. The place was broken into and robbed at about 3:30 a. m. on Wednesday, June 10.

A check of the merchandise divulges that the loss was much greater than at first report. Total loss including $51 in cash runs almost $400. It included cigarettes and tobacco, tools and auto accessories, cartridges, a 22 cal. rifle, fan belts for cars and tractors, tire boots and patching materials, and many other items.

Health Rules for Early Summer

AUSTIN, June 8—Some timely advice to vacationists concerning the proper precautions to be used in water sports was released from the State Health Department today by Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

It was pointed out that, in view of wartime restrictions, vacation pleasures are apt to be limited to excursions and picnics at nearby lakes, rivers, and ponds of unfamiliar depths and currents, and without the usual lifeguard supervision associated with bathing beaches and commercial swimming pools.

"Swimming and water sports are beneficial to good health provided one's physical condition justifies this type of exercise," Dr. Cox asserted; "nevertheless, they possess dangerous possibilities if the rules of safety, through carelessness or thoughtlessness, are disregarded."

The State Health Officer outlined the following simple rules for bathing and swimming in safety:

1. At least one hour should elapse after a meal before entering the water.
2. Upon the first indication of fatigue, come ashore and call it a day. Don't re-enter the water.
3. If becoming chilled, leave the water immediately.
4. Do not enter the water when

Dr. Ryan to Conduct Monthly Health Examinations

Health examinations will be given in Dr. Ryan's office during a three day clinic, Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, June 22-23-24, with the aid of the Hemovimeter machine which detects traces of disease as well as other deficiencies of the body through electrical vibration.

The Hemovimeter offers a new form of diagnosis in that it can locate poison toxins in the human body that may be causing arthritis, asthma, colitis, constipation, fatigue, aches, indigestion, gall bladder, heart, kidney and liver complications, lumbago, nervousness, rheumatism, sinus trouble, ulcers of the stomach and bowels, hayfever, etc. If you are overweight and are de-overheated.

5. Learn to float. This is most important.
6. Never attempt to rock a boat in a spirit of fun.
7. Never swim in water that may be polluted. Swimming close to or even a few miles below sewage outlets is inviting the possibility of acquiring disease.

"Excursions, picnics, and swimming parties contribute much to a healthy, happy, normal life, which is especially desirable at this particular time when the whole nation is tense and under a strain," Dr. Cox said. "It is by no means advisable to eliminate these excursions from our summer program, but it is important that they prove beneficial and not disastrous."

Madagascar Today

A BRITISH "TOMMY" stands guard at Madagascar's Diego Suarez naval base, while a small Malagasy looks on with approval. Coveted by the Japanese because of its strategic location on United Nations supply lanes through the Indian Ocean, Madagascar was occupied by British troops last month. President Roosevelt has pledged that the island will be held in trust for France. This photograph, which was down to Cairo then cabled to London and New York, is one of the first pictures of the occupation to reach the U. S. The scene typified the friendly welcome which the natives gave the British.

Fashion Spotlight Now on Hosiery

Always an important item in the fashion picture, hose are assuming the spotlight more than ever in these days of curtailed silk and nylon production.

Because of this, stylists at Oklahoma A. and M. College are recommending that Mrs. Buyer pay special attention to her costume colors and to the occasions for which the hose will be worn in order to gain maximum satisfaction from her purchases.

Mrs. Buyer's own height and weight will also need to be considered in buying the hose, the stylists say. Women with larger legs may find the sheer darker browns, or black an answer to their prayer for better leg-appearance. The new costume colors may be worn by some types, particularly if hose and dress match exactly.

Thread weights in silk hose should be determined by the type of wear which the hose will get. Two and three thread are best for evening or afternoon wear, four thread for street, business or daytime wear, and the heavier service weights for walking or other more strenuous work. The new cottons and rayons may be used for many of the same occasions for which silk hose were formerly worn.

FOR HIGHER EDUCATION: Grants in 1839, 1876, and 1883, resulted in a total of 2,329,168 acres of the public domain being set aside for higher education in Texas. Bascom Giles, Commissioner of the General Land Office, pointed out recently. The first grant of 221,400 acres in the rich agricultural belt was sold at an early date without mineral reservation. Later actions gave an additional 2,000,000 acres in West Texas. This land has never been sold but has been held in solid blocks and leased for grazing purposes. Some of it has been found to be rich in oil, the proceeds from which have been used for purposes of higher education.

Dan Moody Questions O'Daniel

AUSTIN, June 17—Dan Moody, Austin attorney who has spent thirty years framing questions witnesses couldn't answer, today called on W. Lee O'Daniel to answer three questions in the latter's speech at Waco Friday in a new development in the red-hot U. S. Senate race.

Declaring "every thinking citizen must realize Senator O'Daniel went to the Senate labeled as a sort of medicine show man and the result of a queer quirk in Texas politics," Moody commented that "there are 10,000 men in Texas who could do a better job there than O'Daniel."

Moody announced he had written O'Daniel asking him to answer the following questions:

"1. You state you cannot accomplish anything in the Senate and your record of not getting more than four votes on any proposal proves that. What justification can you offer for asking a six-year term?"

"2. In the face of your admission and record, how can the people of Texas expect you to have any effective part in solving the present problems or those that will confront this nation in the post-war period?"

"3. You spoke and voted in opposition to extending the service of men who had been called under the selective service act . . . will you describe what would have been the fate of this nation if your position had prevailed?"

PRICE REGULATION and How it Affects Your Harvest FOOD BUYING

In acting to block the further rise on prices, your Government has taken another step to safeguard the security and well-being of every man, woman and child in this nation.

Here is how the far-reaching regulation works out in normal everyday life.

Suppose you are the head of a family and today you are going out to do the shopping for your household.

This spring you worried about the way prices on everything were shooting up. You were haunted by fear that, if something wasn't done to stop them, you were going to have a tough time making both ends meet.

Well, that something has been done. On May 18, the most important phase of the new General Maximum Price Regulation went into effect.

When you go to Bryan's Food Store to do your marketing, you now find that prices (on all items not excepted in the Regulation) have stopped dead in their tracks. The prices you are now asked to pay are no higher than the highest prices charged for the same articles back in March of this year.

That is what the regulation clearly states. Your merchant knows the regulation. If he asks you to pay higher prices than his maximum March prices, he is breaking the law.

But not one out of a thousand storekeepers will wilfully violate this regulation. It isn't smart these days to chisel. The life of the nation depends upon the straight-dealing and unity of its citizens.

Remember that prices, except for certain foods and farm products, and some special items, can't go up for the duration of the war.

Your cost of living is fixed, insofar as most of the necessary things of life are concerned. The dollar in your wallet or handbag will keep its present value, barring unforeseen events, just so long as we are at war.

Savings and insurance will not drop in buying power. Rising prices will not add needless billions to the cost of war materials. And our men on the fighting fronts will keep their spirits high in the knowledge that the money they send home will buy its honest equivalent in the things that are needed to maintain health and security.

We want your help, your wholehearted help, to pull America out of the toughest spot in her history. Whether you are a buyer or seller, you must give this new regulation your full support.

For America's present and future is at stake!

A big harvest requires lots of food . . . make Bryan's Food Store your food shopping headquarters . . . if it's case lots or one can . . . Bryan Food Store is the place to buy!

HOME DEMONSTRATION CLUB NEWS

Missouri Ave. Club

Mrs. Earl McGarrugh and Mrs. Fred Huston entertained the Missouri Ave. Home Demonstration Club in the McGarrugh home Friday, June 12.

In observance of Flag Day, Mrs. Huston gave an interesting talk on the History and Origin of U. S. Flag. Jane and Ellen Ackley acted as color bearers. Mrs. Huston said a blue uniform was used for the field, a white shirt for the stars and white stripes and a red skirt for the red stripes.

Miss Huffhines gave a demonstration on refinishing furniture. She advised the group to examine old pieces which were stored in the attic or basements and remodel them. In removing old varnish, use a good remover, cleaning a small space at a time, rub off with vinegar and when dry finish with clear varnish or hard oil.

A delicious refreshment plate, carrying out the red, white and blue was served to Mrs. E. E. Huffhines of Richardson, Miss Elizabeth Huffhines, Mrs. C. E. McGarrugh and daughters, Miss Ruby and Lola and Miss Oneda Phibbs, visitors; Mesdames D. D. Shanks, Fred Huston, A. L. Ackley, Harold Kershaw, Bill McLanahan, John E. Johnson, Beulah Stark, W. L. Council Report

The County Council of Ochiltree County Home Demonstration Clubs met Saturday afternoon, June 13, at 3 o'clock in the county courthouse. "What would your club like to have me demonstrate that would be more in keeping with the times?" Miss Huffhines, county agent, asked the council. "When the plans for the year's work were made, this country was not at war. Now, accessories for the living room are not as important as food preservation."

There were representatives from six of the seven clubs in the county present. They chose, "Methods of Drying Food" for the August demonstration, rather than "Small Handmade Accessories for the Living Room." "Canning in Tin" was the subject selected for September. What does your club want for October and November?

All expansion-education chairmen are asked to remember that the quarterly expansion reports are due at the next council meeting to be held July 11.

Visitors present were: Mrs. L. F. Waggoner, Mrs. J. L. Flowers, Mrs. Harley Gunter, Mrs. E. E. Huffhines and Miss Elizabeth Huffhines, agent. Lumber for Farm Storage Construction

COLLEGE STATION, June 10.—Texas farmers may now order lumber from local dealers for farm storage construction, packing or boxing 1942 crops.

The Texas USDA War Board announces an amendment to the recent War Production Board lumber freeze which permits release of mill stocks of lumber. This is expected to help ease the difficulty farmers in some areas are having in obtaining materials to build and repair farm storage needed to handle the 1942 grain crops.

Farmers desiring lumber must sign endorsements to the effect that the lumber is obtained for purposes specified as exempt from the lumber freeze order. If dealers do not have necessary lumber on hand, they may use farmers' statements to obtain stocks from lumber mills, the board said.

Lumber dealers also may endorse orders to mills so long as material in the order is restricted to specified purposes. Dealers operating under this plan will not have to await sufficient farmer endorsements to obtain full carloads before placing order to mills.

Certain grades and sizes of lumber which are not being purchased for war purposes at the present time also are released. Included are short lengths and sizes suitable for side wall and roof framing, for sheathing and sub-flooring in all types of housing and small buildings.

Any construction made from lumber obtained as a result of the WPB ruling will be subject to the limitation under the recent conservation order which requires permission for farm construction costing more than $1,000. In such cases, farmers may file applications with county USDA War Boards, just as they have been during past weeks.

If there weren't any controversial discussions in a barber shop it probably wouldn't be a place where men gathered.

Of the 163,910 aged Texans receiving Old Age Assistance in January, 1942, 1,174 died before receipt of their February warrant.

Clean Bins Before Storing New Wheat

A warning to clean bins and to treat them for stored grain pests before harvest has been issued by C. P. Stiles, Oklahoma A and M. College Extension entomologist. "More wheat has been stored on the farm during the past 12 months than ever before in the history of the state and much of it contained more than average amount of moisture when harvested last year," says Stiles. "Moisture in wheat favors insect development and much of the wheat in the bins throughout Oklahoma was infested with bran bugs and other stored grain pests."

Where old wheat is removed from the bins and marketed, bins should be thoroughly cleaned by sweeping down the side walls and floors and removing all grain and dust from the bins. This waste feed should be fed or even hauled out in the field and dumped as the trash may contain many eggs that may later hatch to infest the new wheat when it is stored in the bins.

All wooden bins, in addition to being thoroughly cleaned should be washed or sprayed inside with this solution: one gallon of emulsified winter spray oil (not red engine oil), nine gallons of water, and three ounces of lye.

This will kill all eggs attached to the sides of the bin and will also kill many of the cadell larvae that burrow into the wood and later emerge as black beetles to infest the grain after the new grain is stored.

McMillen Club to Meet On Thursday, July 23

The McMillen Home Demonstration club will meet with Mrs. B. E. Plummer, Thursday, July 23, at 3 p. m. Members note that there will be only one meeting in July and that on the date of the second meeting. Visitors always welcome.

Although both figures were above January, 1941, levels, employment in Texas dropped slightly in January, but pay rolls rose slightly in comparison to December, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reported.

If it's Co-Op it's OK. 9-lfc

"Do not delay, but clean the bins just as soon as the old wheat has been removed," concludes Stiles.

On the Home Front of World War II

(A weekly summary of developments in the Victory Program, prepared by the Regional Information Office, OEM)

Civilians in the Southwest can be forgiven for their pride in what is being done all around them to help win the war as they see signs that the new war plants are humming. Surely they can glory in the fact that in the Southwest there were big oil equipment factories that could be converted to making machines of destruction. And, they can be cheered by the munitions output from sectional industries that formerly made cotton gin machinery and other farm and industrial equipment.

But, instead of being tempted to relax they must get into still a more vigorous stride toward Victory. They must realize that the pull will be long and hard, and that we are just getting started.

The sacrifices which the Home Front will be called upon to make, and the jobs that will have to be done in each state and community in the months to come are many—just extensions of what already has been experienced—and will require greater energy and determination.

Where we have had little for civilian use, we will have still less.

After a little more than six months of war, we are turning out ships and weapons at a rate that must give Hitler and Hirohito nightmares. But we can't afford to let down—we must turn out ships and weapons even more rapidly, and as materials get scarcer, the folks on the Home Front will cheerfully do without, or give up what they have, so that the boys who are doing the fighting will have more.

Right now, in all parts of the Southwest, the home folks are searching their homes, and cellars, and garages, and barns, and smoke-houses for the presently most needed material—RUBBER.

Everyone knows the situation. The Japs cut off our supplies of crude rubber. In addition to making the crude rubber stockpile last, we've got to find every piece of rubber that all of us can spare so it can be reclaimed and used for war production.

The scrap rubber campaign is the biggest thing of the moment. The President has outlined the details and turned the job over to the state and local salvage committees. Governors and mayors, civic and professional leaders, and volunteer groups of all kinds already have pledged their fullest help.

It's a job for everyone to GET IN THE SCRAP, so the President and the War Production Board can find out how much rubber we actually have. Important decisions hinge on the results in every city and community in the Southwest and the nation.

The rubber campaign is simple. All that everyone has to do is find all the rubber he can and turn it over to the volunteer collectors, committees, civic and charitable groups or patriotic and service organizations. Or, if he wishes, to take it to any filling station—designated by the President as the official depositories for the drive.

Working with their oil companies, the filling stations are paying a cent a pound for all kinds of rubber scrap. The oil companies will see that the scrap goes to the proper reclaiming plant, and if there is any profit from their sale as directed by the government, the profit will be turned over to some worthy war cause.

Collecting scrap rubber is just one of the things to expect in the coming months. There will be many ways in which civilians will be asked to change their lives so that war industries may have the materials and so that there will be means to transport them.

Here's the way it is with food: Sugar is being rationed. The shipping shortage and Axis subs have made tea and coffee and bananas less plentiful. Other things that always have been brought in from abroad are going to grow scarcer, too, because of enemy action and because cargo space can't be spared for things we can get along without; and we can get along without everything but the barest essentials.

Fish will be harder to get. It's pretty obvious that the war has interfered with off-coast fishing, and besides the Army and Navy and Lend-Lease need fish as food for our soldiers and sailors and for our allies.

Pork may grow harder to get because we're sending lots of pork abroad in the same way. Because we're trying to save all possible tin for war we must learn to depend on fresh fruits and vegetables rather than on food from cans.

These things we must not do: We must not hoard food. We must not buy too much food at one time. We must not waste food. Not only must we eat fresh fruits and vegetables to save tin (there is enough tin in a single can to provide the indispensable tin required for two Army compasses), but we must try to find locally grown vegetables and fruits in order to cut the load on our railways and on our trucking system. And we must find substitutes for fish and pork. There are plenty to be had.

We won't have to ration clothing this year—at least it doesn't look that way now. But look for further changes in style along the lines of those we have had already, in a further effort to save cloth for the Army and Navy. The wool problem grows more serious in the face of military need for wool and it is probable that we'll all wear a great deal more cotton than we did in time of peace.

Leather is a problem, too, although civilian shoe stocks are still adequate.

Because our railways are bearing an increasing burden, there will be fewer passenger trains and slower passenger trains and passenger trains crowded to the point of discomfort. That goes for buses too.

And, as for the automobile, anyone who grinds rubber from his tires in unnecessary driving these days is willfully aiding our enemies.

Use Fabrics Wisely: With the nation's cotton mills devoting a percentage of their looms, under WPB order to production of textiles for military purposes, such as sand bags, camouflage cloth, and food and agricultural bags, OPA's Consumer Division is urging housewives to streamline their new slip covers, curtains and other fabric household furnishings. Wise use of fabrics will help spread the available supply of textiles among civilians.

OPA Pamphlets are Here: Office of Price Administration officials are asking retailers throughout the Southwestern region to report any persons who offer to sell them copies of a government bulletin, "What Every Retailer Should Know About the Maximum Price Regulation." No such sales solicitation has been authorized by OPA. Copies of the pamphlet may be had free upon request from an OPA office.

Dried Commodities Exempt: A ruling that dried agricultural commodities such as peas, lentils, seeds and hops are "unprocessed" and consequently are not covered by the General Maximum Price Regulation, has been issued by OPA, in amendment No. 4 to the regulation.
