Medical Setup Is Inadequate, President Says

AMA Has Drive Underway Against Insurance System

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 22 — President Truman asked Congress again today to vote compulsory medical insurance as part of a national health program.

In a special message to the legislators, Mr. Truman said the "traditional method" of paying for medical care "cannot meet the health needs of today."

He recommended that Congress provide for a system of government payments of medical bills from a fund to be collected by special taxes.

School Aid Asked

Mr. Truman also asked:

1. Government financial aid for the expansion of medical schools.

2. Federal aid for "construction of hospitals and other medical facilities in communities where they are needed."

3. Increased federal grants to help state and local governments in "controlling certain diseases" and promoting "maternal and child health services, services for crippled children and general public health activities."

Mr. Truman sent a 3,000-word message to Capitol hill. His proposals, because of past advocacy, had been anticipated and lines already were forming for a battle over the recommendations.

Some administration backers say they see practically no chance that the program will be enacted in this session of Congress.

AMA Is Opposed

The American Medical association has already begun a campaign against it. Labor organizations have accused the AMA of setting up a $3,500,000 fund to fight the program.

The AMA fight is centered on the proposal for compulsory health insurance. Some of its leaders say that would mean "socialized medicine" but some

Cost Of Living Rises Slightly

WASHINGTON, April 22. (AP)—The government reported today that living costs edged up a bit in March, snapping a five-month decline.

The Labor departments, consumer's price index for mid-March rose half a point over mid-February. It was 169.5 per cent of the average for the 1935-39 pre-war period.

The rise was attributed chiefly to an advance in food prices.

Retail Food Up

Retail food prices went up one per cent in March over February to end a steady drop since last July. Most important factors were above seasonal advances for beef, fresh pork and lamb.

Prices of fruits and vegetables, as well as rents, also contributed to the rise in the index.

The index is based on a survey of prices in 56 cities.

In March, retail prices for moderate income families were three-tenths of one per cent above February. They were 1.6 per cent above March, 1948 and 72 per cent

Escaped Burglar Is Hunted

Public Enemy No. 1 Is Captured By FBI

Clyde Milton Johnson Is Wounded In Fight; Texas Wife Also Is Arrested

(By The Associated Press)

INDIANAPOLIS, April 22 — Clyde Milton Johnson, the FBI's public enemy No. 1, lay in cirtical condition at General hospital today with a bullet in his back.

Johnson was wounded in a running gun fight with three FBI agents on crowded Monument circle last night. Bullets struck two automobiles and the monument.

FBI Agent Harvey Foster said Johnson was charged with robbing the north side branch of the First National bank at Memphis, Tenn., Feb. 8 and with escaping from the Dade county jail at Miami, Fla., March 1.

Foster said Johnson "is the man the FBI across the nation wanted more than any other man at this time."

Johnson's wife, Billie Glaze Johnson, 25, of Guthrie, Tex., was arrested at a downtown hotel a few minutes after he was captured. Foster said she was charged with helping in the Miami escape and with being an accessory after the fact to the bank robbery.

The three FBI men tried to ar-

Break Is Made At Brownfield From "Detail"

Sheriff Calls Man Dangerous; Faced Two Charges Today

(Special To The Journal)

BROWNFIELD, April 22. — Robert Lee Davis, 21, Lubbock man who is under two concurrent five-year sentences for burglary from Lubbock county, escaped official custody here this morning, a few hours before he was to have been tried on two Terry county burglary charges.

Sheriff Ocie Murry of Terry county advised that "extreme caution" be used in arresting the man, terming him "very dangerous."

No trace of Davis' whereabouts had been found up to 2 p. m., the officer said.

Three Sentenced

Davis was to go to trial in 106th district court on two burglary counts this morning. He was charged with burglary of the International Harvester house in Brownfield and a Conoco service station at Meadow.

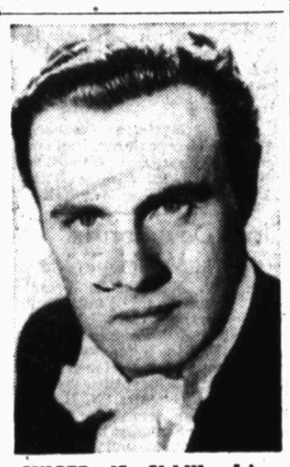

Three men charged in the same burglaries were convicted this morning, and sentenced to five and one-half years in the penitentiary. Five years of that time will run concurrently with two five-year concurrent sentences for burglary, from Lubbock county, the sheriff said.

Pursuit Delayed

Davis was one of five men employed to remove garbage for the courthouse jail at 8:45 this morning. As the men returned to the courthouse, parents of another prisoner came up and diverted Murry's attention momentarily. Davis slipped into the courthouse and left by the west side.

The sheriff was forced to return the other prisoners to jail, before he could pursue. Fifteen minutes later Davis had disappeared, having been seen only once, near the

DEFENSE WITNESSES ARE CALLED

Insanity Plea For McGee Is Stressed

By EDWARD WELSH
Journal Staff Writer

Two more defense witnesses and two depositions from witnesses who are now residing in other states were presented to the jury in the murder trial of Richard W. McGee this morning.

McGee, who is being tried for the slaying of R. L. Allston, 42-year-old manager of a Lubbock grocery firm, July 7, 1948, sat sullenly through most of the testimony with his head resting on his chest and with his eyes closed.

When Judge Dan Blair announced the noon recess Deputy Sheriff George Eubank tapped McGee on the shoulder to arouse him. The boy jumped up in a startled way and staggered out of the courtroom. On the way he collided with chairs and tables and appeared to be groggy and listless.

Banker Testifies

The first witness to be heard when the 72nd District court convened this morning was Elmer East, vice-president of the Lubbock National bank. East, who is also trust officer of the bank and a licensed attorney, stated that he had been named the financial guardian of Richard McGee on May 12, 1948. He stated that this did not mean that he was the boy's physical guardian.

"I only saw the boy one time before the shooting," East said. "That was on July 7, 1948, just a few hours before the crime was committed."

"McGee came to me about 11 a. m. that day," East testified, "and asked to be given some of the pension which the bank was to handle for him. As we did not have any money of his at the time I had to turn him down. His conversation was normal and his actions appeared to be the same."

Tried In 1942

The other witness was K. H. Dally, Borger, former county attorney of Hutchinson county. Dally said he was prosecutor of a case in which Richard W. McGee was tried for lunacy back in 1942. The charges, he said, had been filed by the boy's mother, Mrs. H. H. Stull, (at that time she was Mrs. Frances Avery).

The trial lasted all day, Dally said, and the jury returned a verdict that the boy was sane and he was released.

The trial took place at Stinnett while McGee was a student at Borger high school. The state brought out in the testimony that at that time McGee was an exceptionally good student and his classmates testified in his behalf. McGee himself was on the stand for an hour during the trial.

The first deposition was that of

Burglaries In City Reported

Five pounds of bologna, two or three cartons of cigarets and an unknown amount of gasoline were taken in a burglary of premises of A. J. Strader, who lives on Thirty-fourth one mile east of Five-Point drive-in theater, Strader informed the sheriff's department today.

Police said there also had been a burglary this morning of a used car office at 1939 Texas Ave.

R. W. Caruthers, in reporting theft of a two-tone 1948 Chevrolet aero sedan off the lot, said the office had been ransacked.

Second Car Stolen

Another automobile, a 1949 maroon Ford club coupe, license AP 7538, was reported stolen this morning from A. A. Browning of 1924 Thirteenth, police said.

Still another burglary, of a packing company here in March of 1948, was closed with conviction of one of three suspects who went into Judge G. V. Pardue's 99th district court and pleaded guilty. He was Billy Eugene Johnson, 21, of Lubbock. A. W. Salyars, assistant district attorney said three-year sentence was suspended during good behavior, upon application of the defendant's counsel, L. A. Howard of the firm of McWhorter, Howard and Cobb.

California City Is Rocked By Blast

INGLEWOOD, Calif., April 22 (AP) — A terrific explosion rocked this suburban Los Angeles city early today when a boiler blew up at the Basin Oil company's storage tank farm.

There were no known casualties.

A series of smaller blasts followed, believed to be power transformers. The blasts fired a gas main, shooting huge flames skyward. But firemen cut off the raw gas line.

None of the farm's oil tanks caught fire.

The force of the blast hurtled the huge industrial-type boiler off the five-acre plant to a nearby street, an estimated 100 yards.

Cattlemen Get Flood Warning

(By The Associated Press)

Ranchers were warned today to remove livestock from Trinity river lowlands near Liberty.

The warning was issued by the U. S. weather bureau. The bureau said the river rose 7.3 feet overnight—to within one foot of flood stage of 24 feet.

River Going Higher

The river is expected to reach flood stage this afternoon and rise two feet higher within 48 hours, the bureau said.

Liberty, county seat of Liberty county, is about 35 miles northeast of Houston. The Trinity empties into the Gulf of Mexico several miles below Liberty.

Meanwhile a 50-mile-an-hour line squall whipped across Houston to nearly today. It left broken trees, flooded streets and broken light and telephone lines.

Crops Damaged

Wind and an estimated three inches of rain were said to have damaged rice and corn crops in north and west Harris county. The line squall cut off electric power in several sections of Houston for short periods.

Cloudy, foggy weather prevailed over most of Texas today. Conditions were clear and bright in far West Texas and in the Big Bend and the Panhandle.

Thundershowers were striking along the upper Texas Gulf coast at midmorning.

Victoria, in South Texas, reported the biggest rain during the past 24 hours—1.02 of an inch. Other reports included San Antonio, .66 of an inch; Houston, .10; Austin, .26; Abilene, .03; Beaumont, .13 and Galveston, .19.

GEN. ROBERT SMITH SAYS LUBBOCK FIFTH IN AIR TRAFFIC

Pioneer Air Lines Joining In Battle Against One Of West Texas' Problems--Soil Erosion

By BILL CLARK
Journal Staff Writer

How an airline can help fight the battle against one of West Texas' major problems —soil erosion—is being demonstrated day in and day out by Pioneer Air Lines, its president, Gen. Robert J. Smith, said in Lubbock this morning.

(Picture On Page 8)

The general and Harding L. Lawrence, Pioneer vice president, are here on one leg of an annual "spring housecleaning" tour of five cities.

No inconsiderable weight in focusing public attention on conservation problems is being exerted by the crews of planes in flight, Mr. Smith explained.

"People like Dr. Paul Walser of the Soil Conservation service at Fort Worth are invited to speak to pilots and hostesses of our planes. Through these talks and literature pilots become familiar with examples of good conservation and extreme erosion."

"When the pilot, in the course of a flight, sees one of these examples, he passes a flight program to the hostess, who points out the scene below, thus giving passengers a bird's-eye-view instead of the so-called worm's eye view."

"It's amazing how much interest is generated this way. Just recently Harry Miller, a Brady oil man, came to see me in Dallas to talk about conservation after one of these flights."

Pioneer employes recently heard a talk by Louis Bromfield, noted author and soil conservationist, during Brom-

2,700 Airmen Will Be Stationed At Field

650 Civilian Employes Included; First Students Arrive By Sept. 20; Planes To Fly By Nov. 15; Big Payroll Assured

By BILL CLARK
Journal Staff Writer

Lubbock Air Force Base will become a permanent, integral unit of peacetime Air Force training "as soon as possible."

With it will come an annual payroll of five to six million dollars. Purchases of food, gasoline and other supplies will annually call for local expenditure of nearly that much.

The base will bring to Lubbock 2,700 officers and airmen and 650 civilian employes.

The Air Force will start letting construction contracts July 1. All families now living at the field must be out by August 1, when first permanent personnel will arrive in Lubbock.

By Sept. 20 the first students will be moved in as an advance unit. By Nov. 15 planes will be flying.

The momentous announcement was made at Air Force headquarters in Washington this afternoon.

The Air Force notified Senator Lyndon Johnson that the base will be reactivated "as soon as possible." It said the advance twin engine school of the Air Training Command now stationed at Barksdale field, Shreveport, La., will be moved to Lubbock in November.

The Air Training command headquarters and the 47th Strategic Bombing Group will remain at Barksdale. The Shreveport base will be further utilized by the Strategic Air Command, although its units to be moved there have not been announced, the Air Force told Johnson.

Lubbock must now put its collective shoulder to the task of meeting stipulations which Undersecretary of Air Eugene M. Zuckert and Major Gen. Robert R. Harper, commander of training for the Air Force, laid before city representatives when they were here with Cong. George Mahon and high-ranking officers of the Air Force Tuesday.

The terms under which the Air Force agreed to reactivate the west base are these:

1. All agencies and families which are now at Lubbock Army Air field, with the exception of Air Reserve units, must be off the base by Aug. 1.

Buildings To Be Restored Or Rehabilitated

2. The buildings they were occupying must be restored or rehabilitated by Federal Public Housing authority or the Veterans administration in accordance with previous agreements.

3. One hundred units of non-commissioned officers quarters at a maximum rental of $40 per month, of acceptable standards, must be ready and available by Nov. 15.

4. Two hundred fifty units of officers' quarters at a rental of $80 to $100 per month must be ready and available by Nov. 15.

5. The Fourth street extension must be paved to the base.

6. The Air Force must have the use of South Plains airfield (Municipal airport) for use as an auxiliary airfield, not to interfere with operations of commercial air lines. No farming between runways or chicken farming must be permitted.

7. The City of Lubbock or other agency must guarantee adequate bus service to and from the field.

8. Abernathy auxiliary field must be returned to the Air Force for use as a second auxiliary landing field. The field is now owned by the City of Abernathy.

City officials and members of the Chamber of Commerce Air Force Base commitee unanimously agree that the terms can be met without undue difficulty and are already engaged in efforts to meet them.

One of the first big jobs to be done is to provide substitute housing for the approximately 400 families, mostly of G. I.'s, who now live at the field.

Officials Already Are Working On Job

Working on that job already are officials of the City of Lubbock, the Chamber of Commerce, the Lubbock Housing authority, Texas Technological college and private businessmen.

Announcement that families living on the base will have to vacate should come as no surprise.

They pay from $20 to $32.50 a month for housing, depending on the size of the quarters.

When Lubbock Army Air field was built, it was built with the aim of eventually becoming a permanent base. At the end of the war, when housing was extremely acute, the Chamber of Commerce secured permission from the Air Force to use some of the buildings on a temporary basis for housing of G. I. families.

For at least a year, the families have known that the move would come. First announcement of that possibility was made early last summer.

Tech Seniors Included In Group

Of the 400 families, approximately 80 are those of Texas Tech seniors who will be graduated in June and probably would move anyway.

City, college, and chamber of commerce officials and the Lubbock Housing authority were not caught "flat-footed," nor are they any more than duly concerned about the task of providing additional housing.

Several solutions can easily be employed to provide 400 housing units of a standard comparable to that where the G. I. families are now living.

The question is which solution will prove the most desirable, and expedient.

Until a decision is made, authorities declined to elaborate on any of the contemplated methods by which immediate housing facilities will be provided.

Moving in of housing units of acceptable quality and size is considered the most likely answer.

First Group Arrived In 1941

It was late in December, 1941, that the first large number of military personnel arrived at the field from Brooks field, San Antonio, as a security detachment. In the early weeks of 1942 the first class of cadets arrived and started the intensive training routine which led to their graduation as pilots and commissions as second lieutenants.

Men who trained and received their wings at LAAF flew the bombers, Flying Fortresses, Liberators and B-26's, the fighters, the P-47's, the transports and cargo planes over such targets as the Ploesti oil fields, Berlin, Rome, Naples, Mersburg, Hamburg, Tarawa and Iwo Jima, Wake Island and Guam, the Philippines and Okinawa, the Hump and Burma and the emperor's palace in Tokyo.

Early in 1944 the field completed its mission of training pilots and began turning out instrument pilots, a job it continued until the field was closed on Dec. 31, 1945.

It had turned out a total of 7,008 bomber, fighter and transport pilots and 1,718 instrument pilots.

Was Second Oldest Training Base

LAAF was the second oldest training base in the vast AAF Central Flying command during the wartime expansion era.

During the four-year history of the field the post had five commanding officers: Col. Thomas L Gilbert, who served from Nov. 19, 1941, until March 23, 1943; Col. Ralph G. Holmes, March 23, 1943, until June 27, 1944; Col. Howell M. Estes, jr., from June 27, 1944, until about Nov. 15, 1945; Col. Harold N. Holt, from then until about Dec. 15, 1945; and Lt. Col. William G. Snaith, during the closing weeks of the base.

The west base officially became "a sub-base of Goodfellow field at San Angelo, as of midnight Dec. 31, 1945," it was announced by Lt. Col. William G. Snaith, the fifth commanding officer, at the time.

A total of approximately 100 military personnel, officers and enlisted men, and 60 civilians completed the process of sending out records and supplies.

After the "temporary inactivation" was carried out, a standby force of three or four officers and three enlisted men remained along with about 60 civilians to maintain the field as a sub-base.

Lt. Col. James M. Hunter of Salt Lake City, Utah, who served several months in the Iceland command, was the standby commanding officer of the sub-base, and had six or seven military men to help him.

Ih the fall of 1945 the AAF released a list of permanent installations which did not include LAAF, and the inactivation originally was ordered for Nov. 15, 1945, but it was held up three or four times until the final date.

General Confident City Will Provide Ample Facilities

Maj. Gen. Robert W. Harper, commanding the Air Force Training Command, gave the following statement to The Avalanche-Journal by telephone shortly after noon Friday:

"The Air Training Command Pilot school is being transferred to Lubbock Air Force Base from Barksdale Air Force Base because of the increasing importance of Barksdale's superb airdrome facilities to operational units of the strategic Air Force.

Is Ideally Situated

"There are a number of installations which are readily adaptable to requirements of the Pilot Training program, but there are few bases so ideally situated for the accommodation of the Strategic Air Command as is Barksdale.

"I am more than satisfied that Lubbock Air Force Base and the adjacent City of Lubbock will provide every possible accommodation for the Pilots Training school.

"There are 250 converted barracks-type quarters for military personnel and families on Lubbock Air Force Base and the City of Lubbock has agreed to make available (through private construction) 100 low rent housing units and 250 other units at reasonable rental rates, all of them inside the City of Lubbock.

Impressed By Lubbock

"I have been most impressed by the tremendous expansion of Lubbock's modern school system, the development of Texas Technological college and the warm hospitality which this civic-minded community is prepared to extend to our people.

"I know that all personnel of the Pilot Training school will leave Shreveport and Bossier City (residential area adjacent to Barksdale) with reluctance and regret. But I also know that they will agree that as they must go, they could not find a better new home than at Lubbock.

"I am expressing my personal appreciation to the city officials and citizenship of Shreveport and Bossier City, who have done so much to make the Pilot Training school's program a success during the last three years.

"This school has made an enviable record at Barksdale and the unhesitating co-operation of Shreveport and Bossier City has been a big factor in making it."

Program Meetings Attended By Parent-Teacher Units

Meeting yesterday were Parent-Teacher associations of George M. Hunt, Central Cottage, Chris Harwell and Dupre schools.

New officers of George M. Hunt Parent-Teacher association include Mrs. Ross Tillinghast, president; Mrs. Hugh Newton, vice president; Mrs. Pete Bynum, secretary; Mrs. L. R. Lambert, treasurer; and Mrs. C. A. White, parliamentarian. Installation services will be May 19.

The Thursday afternoon P-TA meeting was attended by 129 members. Mrs. Tillinghast announced plans for the spring P-TA conference and named Hunt school delegates.

The program included choral reading of nursery rhymes and verse and rhythm band selections by Miss Edith Whitlock's pupils. Main talk was by P. E. Davis, principal, who discussed "Better Homes With the Help of Schools."

All P-TA members are invited to a tea to be held in the home of Mrs. Hugh Newton, Idalou highway, May 5. Those who plan to attend will meet at the school at 3:30 p.m. and drive to the home.

CENTRAL WARD NAMES MRS. YOUNG

Mrs. A. W. Young was elected president of Central Ward Parent-Teacher association for 1949-50 school year, to replace Mrs. William Lowrimore, who had been elected but who resigned.

Delegates to the District 4 P-TA conference next week were Mesdames Gradie Bownds, C. S. Arnett, jr., J. B. Adams, F. F. Breazeale, N. W. Graves, Young, W. J. Culp, S. W. Brunson, Lynn Milburn, William Lowrimore, jr., Frank Todd and Tom Cobb.

The program included a talk by Mrs. Ivy Savage on "Better Homes With the Help of the School," rhythm band musical selections and a skit, "The Elves and the Shoemaker," by members of first grade sections taught by Mrs. J. T. Shaver and Mrs. Margaret Bailey.

High attendance by rooms were won by Mrs. Shaver's room and Miss Mary A. Hooten's room. Total attendance was 95.

Mrs. M. L. Welch showed a procedure book she had prepared for display at the approaching spring P-TA district conference. It was reported that members had spent a total of 160 hours in the Home and Family Life course being taught at Texas Technological college by Miss Martha Graves, and that nine members had completed the ½-hour course.

Members presented a gift of appreciation to Mrs. J. T. Shaver, who had kept the nursery this year.

COTTAGE SCHOOL SCHEDULES SUPPER

Cottage school Parent-Teacher association will hold its annual chuck wagon supper May 6, it was announced at a meeting at the school Thursday afternoon.

Dr. Doyle D. Jackson, professor of education and psychology at Texas Technological college, was principal speaker of the afternoon, discussing, "Home as a Place to Develop Citizenship and Responsibility."

The third grade class taught by Mrs. Virginia Landwer presented a program of Western and Mexican songs. Attendance prize was won by Mrs. Landwer's class and by the room taught by Mrs. Vera Stanford. The meeting was attended by 25 members and two guests.

CHRIS HARWELL P-TA HEARS PROGRAM

The fourth grade class taught by Mrs. Mary Shaffer presented a program on, "What We Are Learning in School," at a meeting of Chris Harwell Parent-Teacher association Thursday afternoon at the school.

Mrs. L. R. Rogers, vice president, was in charge of the business meeting. Mrs. George Long made announcements concerning the spring P-TA district conference to be held here next week. The meeting was attended by 50 persons, including four new members and a guest.

DUPRE GROUP HEARS MR. HILL

Ishmael Hill, assistant superintendent of Lubbock public schools, spoke on, "Better Homes With the Help of Schools," at a meeting of Dupre school Parent-Teacher association Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. L. L. Miller was in charge of installation services. The meeting was attended by 72 members, and attendance prize was won by Mrs. Jennie Terrell's room. A fifth grade class under direction of Mrs. Billie J. Tabor, presented a group of songs.

Federation Meeting Will Be Saturday

Mrs. L. P. Gilbert of Athanaeum club will give the welcoming address to those attending the County Federation of Women's clubs meeting Saturday in Fellowship hall of the First Presbyterian church.

Approximately 100 women are expected to attend the session, scheduled to begin at 9:45 a. m. Hostess clubs will be Athenaeum, Twentieth Century, Sorosis and Lubbock Music. Mrs. John Redwine of Shallowater, Federation president, will be in charge of the business session.

Mrs. Ben Brewer will review, "Cheaper by the Dozen," and Miss Carolyn Chick will present a reading during the morning session, which will also feature club reports. Covered dish luncheon will be served at noon, and the afternoon program will include vocal selections by Mrs. Frank Goodwin and a talk by Mrs. Roscoe Wilson about her visit to Scandinavian countries. Mrs. H. F. Godeke is program chairman.

All members of federated clubs are invited to attend the meeting and bring a covered dish for the luncheon.

Pictorial Arts Are Studied By Chapter

A program on sculpture and pictorial arts was led by Mrs. F. A. Kleinschmidt for Daleth chapter of Delphian society Thursday morning in the home of Mrs. John D. Frye, 2307-B Sixteenth. Taking part on the program were Mesdames D. M. Beach, Walter Clark and T. K. Martin.

A round table discussion followed the program.

The chapter will meet May 5 at 9:15 a. m. with Mrs. A. H. Douglas, 2913 Twenty-first.

Weekend Dances Will Be For Tech Clubs

Tech Socii club will have a Spring Jamboree tonight at 9 o'clock at Hotel Lubbock. It will be an informal event.

The annual presentation dance of DFD social club of Tech will be held Saturday night at 8 o'clock at Hotel Lubbock ballroom. Burl Hubbard's orchestra will play for dancing and for the presentation of 44 new members and pledges and the club's new president whose identity has not been revealed.

RECITAL IS SATURDAY

Miss Dorothy Dale Kennedy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Kennedy, will be presented in a senior piano recital at 8 p. m., Saturday in Aggie Memorial auditorium on the campus of Texas Technological college. Her teacher is Mrs. T. W. Womack.

Mary Haworth's Mail...

Woman In Doubt About The Attitude To Take Toward Recently Married Relatives

DEAR Mary Haworth: In all your wise counsel to troubled individuals, I have never seen anything that applies to our situation. I shall greatly appreciate your guidance in the circumstances here described.

What should be the Christian attitude when an older member of the family—the grandparent of one's children — gets married, thereby culminating a long period of openly flouting God's moral laws? How does one go about healing the hurt to one's self and the children, when there will be daily contact with the newly married pair.

How can one forgive the whitewashed sinners when there is no evidence of repentence on their part; but instead a blissful attitude that now they have become unified with the rest of us—who have always cherished the laws of God and tried to instill that attitude into our children?

The marriage was not a civil contract. It was a religious ceremony, invoking the same sacred blessings and admonitions that supposedly distinguish the truly Christian approach to marriage. I shall be anxiously awaiting your reply. Signed: V. G.

CHARITY IS ESSENCE OF CHRISTIAN TEACHING

DEAR V. G.: Reading the Gospels, one discerns that Jesus, great teacher and pure example of "the Christian attitude," had great compassion for sinners whose guilt was heavy but whose spirit was loving.

For example in Luke, 7: 37-50, there is the story of Jesus' reaction to "a woman of the city, which was a sinner," who had ventured into His presence. Simon, a Pharisee, the host on that occasion secretly felt that if Jesus understood her character, He would rebuke her as unworthy.

But Jesus, reading the Pharisee's heart, explained: "Her sins which are many, are forgiven; for she has loved much: but to whom little is forgiven, the same loveth little." And He said to the woman, "Thy sins are forgiven. Thy faith hath saved thee; go in peace."

FOR GUIDANCE SEE 1 CORINTHIANS 13

AGAIN in the parable of the Prodigal Son, whose father ran to greet his homecoming with thanksgiving; and in the parable of "one sheep gone astray,"—of more concern to the Good Shepherd than 99 safe in the fold, — Jesus taught that the Christian attitude is merciful, solicitous, loving-kind, ever ready to assist the wayward out of confusion into peace.

And in the parable of the laborers in the vineyard—Matthew, 20: 1-16—Jesus strongly rebukes the self-righteous "faithful," who, having persevered in good works all along, acridly feel that late comers to their ranks don't deserve much credit for tardy effort.

Taking issue with those who murmur against "equal treatment" of the first and the last, Jesus bluntly says, "Take what is thine and go thy way: I will give unto this last, even as unto the."

Finally Paul has something to say about the Christian merit of charity — which suffereth long and is kind; thinketh no evil and never fails those who need its encouragement. See 1 Corinthians 13. M. H.

Slaton Man Is Charged Here

W. T. Wyatt, 32, of Slaton, who officers alleged had forged checks totaling at least $52, was charged late Thursday with forgery and was placed by Justice of the Peace C. E. Lynn under $1,000 bond in binding him over to grand jury investigation.

Wyatt's arrest Thursday afternoon at S & Q Clothiers resulted from a telephone radio hookup from the store to the police department to a radio patrol car, officers said.

Listens To Conversation

While store employes talked with Wyatt in the store, Sidney Smallwood, acting desk sergeant at the station was listening to the conversation over an open telephone circuit. He, in turn, was in communication with a radio patrol car which was parked outside the store. Patrolmen J D. Atchison and Glenn Fletcher made the arrest when Wyatt left the store

Detectives Leroy Boling, jr., and Robert West said Wyatt was investigated in connection with two $10 checks at the clothing store, a $23 check at Dunlaps department store and a $5 check at J. C. Penney Co. and John Halsey's drug store.

Kate Adelle Hill, registered at a local hotel, told police a wardrobe trunk and its contents, valued totally at $87 was missing from the hotel's check room where she had left it March 13. Value of the clothing and other articles in the trunk was assessed at half their original price, the owner indicated.

Burglary of the residence of Mrs. Ruby Bomar of 1623 Eighteenth and the taking of a $52 wrist watch and clothing valued at $8 was reported to police late Thursday. Entrance to the house was through the front door which was not locked, she indicated.

Melvin Dean Barton, 24, of two miles northwest of Pep, was released from county jail to custody of Terry county officers Thursday afternoon, so that he may face trial of a forgery charge filed in Brownfield.

Barton is under two forgery indictments here, the sheriff's department said.

He was arrested March 22 after an area-wide hunt for a person fitting his description who had purchased by worthless checks ranging as high a $2,500 a quantity of farm implements and other goods.

He will be returned for trial here after Terry county officials have disposed of his case there, it was explained.

Austin College Exes Name Officers Here

Dr. Allen T. Stewart was elected president of the South Plains chapter of Austin College Alumni and Ex-Students association last night at a meeting in Hotel Lubbock.

Other officers elected included Mrs. Otis Harman, vice-president, and Ross Hester, secretary.

Plans for the college's centennial celebration were outlined for the group by William Northcutt, vice-president of Austin college. The plans include the Alumni and Ex-students association's campaign to build a $250,000 student union memorial building as a centennial gift to the school. The building would be in memory of all Austin college ex-students who lost their lives in the two world wars, Northcutt said.

A movie of Austin college as it is today was shown at the banquet meeting.

Attending were Dr. and Mrs. A. T. Stewart, Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Lewis, Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Foster, Dr. and Mrs. Joe Dennis, W. C. McDonald, Mr. and Mrs. Dell Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. Garnet Reeves, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Harman, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Nabors, Tubby Reid, Reid Steele, and Mr. and Mrs. Ross Hester.

Three Convictions Are Reported Here

Earl Taplin, 30-year-old negro of Lubbock route 6, was fined $25 and costs Thursday in the justice court of C. E. Lynn after he pleaded guilty of a charge of making a false statement in an effort to obtain a driver's license.

Taplin. Lynn pointed out had written to Austin and said his driver's license had been burned along with his car. In reality records at Austin showed the negro's license had been suspended Jan. 1 for six months in connection with a drunk driving conviction in Brazos county. Lynn said.

Marvin Clifton Arnold, of Ralls, was convicted of a drunk driving charge in county court and assessed a fine of $75 and court costs and his driver's license revoked for six months.

Arnold, who had pleaded innocent on March 25 and posted $500 bond, appeared in court Thursday, waived trial by jury and his right to be represented by council. Immediately after the judgment was assessed by Judge Davies, Arnold gave notice of appeal from the conviction.

Father Of Lubbock Woman Is Claimed

W. L. Wyatt, 76, of Hollis, Okla., died in West Texas hospital at 11:58 o'clock Thursday night after being in bad health for two months.

Ralls Citizens Plan Donations To Lubbock County Blood Bank

Plans were being made today by Lubbock county chapter of the American Red Cross for typing of blood in Ralls Saturday.

Mrs. Pauline Watkins, volunteer worker with the Red Cross in Ralls, is making arrangements for typing of blood from 1 to 3 p. m. Saturday in the Southwest Public Service Co. offices. Representatives of the Lubbock county chapter will type blood of prospective donors.

A banquet was conducted in Lorenzo Thursday in the First Methodist church, with 110 persons attending. Mrs. W. B. Agee, co-chairman of the Lubbock blood bank committee, was the main speaker. Bob Edwards, blood bank technician, and Miss Irene Pipes, technician at St. Mary's hospital, and Mrs. C. E. Davis, motor corps chairman, attended from Lubbock

The Lorenzo Lions club sponsored a blood contribution project there Thursday. Leon Pierot, Ralls chairman of the blood donor service there, will arrange for persons to come to Lubbock to give blood as needed.

School Is Observing Spirit Of Old West

"The spirit of the Old West" prevailed today at J. T. Hutchinson Junior High school as the school's first annual Ranger-Rancher day got underway.

Students of the school, clad in Western attire, attended a morning assembly which featured a Western variety show.

A second assembly, in the form of a Western quiz show, was to be held this afternoon. It was to be highlighted by the announcement of the names of the boy and girl chosen as the school's "most typically Western-dressed."

An after-school party from 3:40 to 6:30 p. m. was to close the day's activities.

Arrangements for the all-day program were in charge of Virginia Carter chairman of the event.

Filibustering Senators Relax After Science Bill Agreement

AUSTIN, April 22. (AP)—Weary senators today slept off the effects of what was believed the longest filibuster in the annals of Texas legislation.

Adjournment came at 9:55 p. m. last night after 31 hours 25 minutes of continuous session. Old timers could remember none longer.

All but a few hours had been filibuster against the basic science bill sponsored by the medical profession.

A compromise agreement between friends and foes of the bill ended the record tug-of-war. It called for immediate final passage of both the basic science bill—after a revision—and a bill to create a chiropractic licensing and regulating board.

Bill Goes To House

Chiropractors had fought the first bill but sought the latter.

Both were finally passed before the Senate quit.

The compromise also brought to possible conclusion one of the bitterest legislative fights between professions in the state's history.

Session after session, the battle-worn basic science measure has embroiled the legislature. Medical doctors and chiropractors have sniped viciously back and forth. This year the battle line extended to the courts in libel suits.

The revised basic science bill now goes back to the House for approval of the amendment. The unchanged chiropractic bill goes to the governor for signature.

The compromise amendment requires the University of Texas to offer all the basic sciences on which examinations are made mandatory by the bill on all who would practice any phase of the healing arts. Successful completion of 60 hours of college work including the sciences would exempt anyone from the examinations.

Agreement Called Fair

The filibusterers termed the compromise a "major victory" for themselves.

They had argued that all six of the basic sciences called for by the bill were not offered in any one school in Texas. Virtually the same amendment as the one finally adopted to make them available in one school had been turned down by the bill's proponents some 24 hours earlier.

Both sides called the final agreement "fair."

"I hope now that the various branches of the healing arts will quit their politics, go back home, set up their own boards, clean up their own houses and get back to the business of working for the health of the people," said Senator Walter Tynan of San Antonio, floor leader for the basic science bill, in his closing remarks last night.

Debate Taken In Stride

Senator Fred Harris of Dallas, opposition floor leader, saw the final outcome resulting from "the spirit of compromise, the democratic form of government and the way of life we have in the United States."

"We have reached an agreement we think is fair," he said.

The compromise had been forced by "extended debates" by Harris, 11 hours and 3 minutes; Senator Hill Hudson of Pecos, 8 hours and 20 minutes (with a three-hour break); and Senator Dorsey B. Hardeman of San Angelo, 5 hours.

The Senate had taken the entire affray in stride. There was never a display of uncontrolled temper or frayed nerves. There was joking, ribbing and laughs mixed with serious debate to the very end.

The only meals missed were by the senator who happened to be holding the floor when a mealtime came. Food that would do justice to any home's table was served in an adjoining committee room.

Naps, nips and shaves were snatched by those who wanted them whenever and wherever they could be had.

Final votes were 23-3 on the chiropractor bill and 25-1 on the basic science bill. Adjournment was to 10:30 a. m. Monday.

Tech Students Plan To Attend Conclave

Five students from Texas Tech will attend the first annual convention of the Texas Intercollegiate Students association which will be held in Denton Saturday.

The convention, which will be made up of student governing bodies, will discuss various problems concerning student government. It will be held at North Texas State Teachers college. Approximately 20 colleges and universities of Texas will be represented.

Clint Formby, student body president at Tech, Margaret Clark, secretary to the Student council Lamar Jackson, student council member, Curtis Sterling, recently elected student body president for 1949-50 and Marshall Gettys, student council vice-president for next year, will represent Texas Tech.

High Tax Schedules Killing Incentive, New Yorker Asserts

Harry C. France of New York City, investment counselor, last night told members of Lubbock Knife and Fork club that "money has become a problem in America; it is like a good boy who develops bad habits."

The occasion was the regular monthly dinner meeting of the club, held in Hilton hotel.

France explained that these "bad habits" that money has acquired are inflationary and deflationary forces, which, he said, can easily engulf the United States unless carefully forestalled.

'Panics' Largely Eliminated

In reviewing briefly the economic history of the United States, France said that yesteryear's "money panics" have largely been eliminated since the passage of the Federal Reserve act and establishment of Federal Reserve banks. The Federal Reserve act and the banks provided therein "gave us an elastic currency," he said.

He pointed out, however, that in 1930, "the United States government spent a great deal more money than it took in," and that it continued this practice for sixteen consecutive years.

France declared that "the United States has been borrowing and borrowing," with the result that future generations will have an "economic heritage" that is not pleasant to contemplate.

"Today we are spending more in Washington than everybody in the United States made 30 years ago," he said, adding that "present tax schedules are killing incentive." France pointed out that "when you kill incentive, you kill everything."

In a brighter vein, the speaker said that the three big types of money today are, first, currency in circulation, or "floating money." He pointed out that in 1929, four billion dollars in floating currency was in circulation, while 28 million dollars is in circulation at present.

A second type of money, he said, is checking account money, of which 85 billion dollars worth is in circulation at present, as contrasted with 22 billion in circulation in 1929. A third type of money is Series E bonds, which was not in existence 20 years ago. Some 30 billions of dollars are in such bonds today, he said.

Prosperity Period Seen

"Add it up and you have a pile of money that will promote the greatest period of prosperity ever in the United States," the speaker said.

At last night's meeting, Lubbock Knife and Fork club members elected three new directors to replace as many whose terms are expiring this year. Elected were Mrs. Roscoe Wilson, Dr. A. G. Barsh, and Dr. H. I. Robinson. They will replace Mrs. R. B. Luker, Dr. R. E. Garlin, and Cecil Cale.

The speaker last night was introduced by James L. Quicksall.

Maternity benefits have been added to Mexico's National Social Insurance Law.

Touch Of Artistry Is Revealed In Death Of Met Opera Singer

By PAUL SIMMONS
Associated Press Staff Writer

ATLANTA, April 22.—There were no encores—no applause of any kind—today for the deepest role of tragedy Metropolitan opera singer John Garris ever portrayed.

If there had been, the 35-year-old native of Frankfort-on-Main, Germany, would not have heard them. His body lay cold and pale in the city morgue while police sought to provide the supporting cast for his ghastly, last role.

Garris was shot to death Wednesday night in a plot as dark as any that ever went into make-believe. His body was found lying in a dark alley early yesterday, face up in a feathery rain. Mists swirled overhead.

Touch Of Artistry Seen

It was as though the play had started at the end—with a chilling death scene — and with no sign or hint of what had gone before. Investigators found the mystery of his end that baffling.

"Murder is usually fouled up," said Homicide Lt. M. M. Coppenger, "but this is worse than the most."

But the police, hardened to hoodlum killings, saw a touch of artistry in the death of the foreign-born opera tenor. His protagonist aimed at his heart. It was not a gangster's crude or random shot.

A steel-jacketed bullet dealt death. An autopsy surgeon found it lodged in the spine. It had pierced the heart.

Nor was it a crime for monetary gain. Garris' purse with $20 in it was near the body. A costly wrist watch was on his arm.

Instead, there were fantastic and theatrical touches. Garris was hatless and coatless when a negro porter, Love Thomas, on his way to work, found him dead in the misty rain. The singer's coat, unpierced by a bullet, and his hat were found atop a garbage can three blocks away.

Tragedy Shocks Singers

The rest of the Metropolitan Opera company, after three nights in Atlanta, were enroute by train for Memphis, Tenn., when the tragedy broke. They were shocked by the eerie news.

General Manager Edward Johnson, upon arrival in Memphis, was quick to say that the tenor's character was "perfect as far as he knew. Then he added —"we all loved him."

Coppenger and another investigator reached Memphis by plane ahead of the company. They questioned the members briefly, then released them for their one-night Memphis appearance, in "Lucia Di Lammermoor."

The show went on without a sign from the cast of the tragedy left behind. In the lobbies, Garris' bizarre death ruled the conversation.

Police officers circulated backstage. They watched, but disclosed nothing.

This much they knew:

Garris took his luggage to the Atlanta station about midnight to entrain with the others. The special train did not leave until after 4 a. m. and police believe the tall, blond and balding singer was dead by then.

Phone Call Is Clue

Miss Cathy Sanger, a member of the ballet, said she saw Garris leaving the station just after midnight. He told her, she related in Memphis, that he was going to get something to eat.

Detective J. M. Pack said he believed the singer was shot to death in an automobile in the gloomy, stone-walled warehouse district and the body later laid out in the alley. The time was put at about 2 a. m., leaving the tenor's last hour and a half unaccounted for.

Investigators found a mysterious telephone call their most promising early clue. They said it was made to the YMCA just before Garris checked out of his hotel at dusk. They sought its recipient.

The dead singer's real name was Hans J. K. Gareis. He was an accompanist, concert pianist and conductor before he fled Hitler's Germany to Greece and thence came to America in 1941.

He was first known in opera for his Wagnerian roles, especially in "Die Meistersinger." His last opera portrayals were as Cassio in "Otello" here Monday and Laertes in "Mignon" Tuesday.

He attended a Wednesday performance whose cast included Bidu Sayao, Ferruccio Tagliavini, John Brownlee and Salvatore Baccaloni.

Other stars in the company are Robert Merrill, Dorothy Kirsten, Charles Kullman, Rise Stevens, Patrice Munsell, Ramon Vinay, Leonard Warren and Licia Albanese.

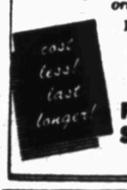

Young children who had never seen rain stared in amazement as the first rain in more than 10 years peleted down recently in the Swakopmund area of South Africa.

Clovis Pioneers Blast Hubber Nine, 18 To 3

LUBBOCK EVENING JOURNAL
SPORTS
PAGE SIX, LUBBOCK, TEX., FRIDAY, APRIL 22, 1949

Russell Is Scheduled To Hurl Against Borger Club Tonight

No one could be blamed if Manager Jackie Sullivan had halted, sometime during last night's fiasco at Rosenthal Field, and hollered good and loud, "Run for the hills, the dam's broke!"

It was that kind of a night in Lubbock, where the Clovis Pioneers played ungracious guests and slammed four Hubber hurlers for 16 hits and an 18-to-3 victory.

It also was that kind of a night generally around the league, with Amarillo's Gold Sox lofted into first place by beating the host Abilene Blue Sox 12 to 3. Borger unloaded a rash of basehits at the expense of Pampa to even their two-game series, 11 to 2. And Albuquerque rose up to smite Lamesa 8-7, despite a seven-run deficit in the first inning.

The Dukes didn't let a little matter of seven runs stand in their way. They sent Mary Christensen to the mound and he blanked the Loboes for the remainder of the game. Meanwhile, the Dukes pecked away at the offerings of the Lobo hurlers, tying up the game in the sixth on Manager Jay Haney's muff of an easy fly ball and winning in the seventh.

Okrie Gets Double

Shortstop Frank Okrie led off with a double, moved to third on an infield out and crossed the plate on Len Attyd's long fly to the outfield.

Allen Maul slammed a home run to pace the Duke efforts and added a double for good measure.

Cliff McClain, Duke rightfielder, went for a free walk in the sixth when he objected to a call by Base Umpire Bill Fisher. McClain claimed Rightfielder Rheingans trapped his line drive, instead of catching it.

In Lubbock, the doings were not to the liking of the crowd, which numbered approximately 1,000. They had had enough by the seventh inning and began filing out of the park. The slaughter was rather pathetic, with no one able to get the Pioneers out in order all the time.

Pitts In Trouble

Southpaw Herby Pitts started the game and ran into trouble in the first inning. Three walks, two singles and a pair of outfield flies sent four runs denting the rubber and the final one was enough to win the game.

Mel Kramer, who gave up only six hits, fanned 11 and issued only one walk, deserved the triumph rickly. He yielded a safetly in the second to Charley Willis and one in the third to Bubba Kaine. In the third, Sullivan and Jim Prince hit successive singles and Chick Fowler blasted a pitch over the centerfield fence.

That was almost the last time a Hubber saw a base, except while in the field. Willis pumped a double to left the same inning and Mike Dooley walked in the fifth. But from the fourth on, Kramer didn't give up a single safe blow.

Hubber hurlers hurt their own cause with nine bases on balls, while Clovis put together 16 hits, of which four were doubles and one a home run. Ray Bauer slammed the circuit clout in the sixth with two on, giving Royce Mills a rude greeting. Mills came in to take over Bob Covington's job with two on. After Bauer unloaded the sacks, Mills put out the fire.

Hubber Infield Performs

The game might as well have been called in the first inning, when Clovis pushed over four runs. The slaughter went like this: Jacinto singled to center. Jim Sinovick walked. Wilcy Moore walked. Chuck Novotney plated two with a single to right. Bauer strolled. I. B. Palmer, only hitless Pioneer, flied to center to score Moore. And Earl skied to right to send Novotney home.

In only one inning did Clovis hits outnumber the runs, the second, when three hits, including a double, scored only one run. But the Hubbers could thank some sleepy Clovis baserunners for their failure to make more off their hits in that frame.

One reassuring factor last night was the Hubber infield, which came up with a pair of double plays. To offset that, Clovis pulled the ancient double steal in the second, with Sinovick scoring and Moore taking second.

Tonight Borger comes to town, with Cotton Russell, scheduled to chuck last night, taking the mound for the Hubbers.

Top Bowlers Slated To Enter Meet Here

The fifth annual West Texas-New Mexico Bowling tournament will have some of the best bowlers in the state compete by the time the tourney is completed, and 72 teams are entered.

Scheduled to begin Saturday with team matches at 5 p. m the tourney will last three weekends and be completed May 8 with the final singles and doubles games. All team play will be played on Saturday of the three weekends, and doubles and singles will be rolled on Sundays.

Seventy-two teams will participate in the kegling tourney and all pin-toppling will be done at Lubbock Bowling club. E. A. Christensen has been working for many weeks to get the tournament organized and the weekend schedules completed and he has finally finished the job. But keeping the tournament moving along on schedule will be another big headache.

One of the better bowlers from Lubbock will be Ben Brown, Texas Tech student. The slender kegler has bowled 289 scores on two different occasions in city league competition, and he has posted several 700 series in the leagues. It could be said that he is working his way through college splintering wood for Brown has placed in the money in several tournaments recently.

RED SOX NOTCH FIRST VICTORY

Cincinnati Blanks Cardinals, 5 To 0

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

Attention, Happy Chandler! Somebody is tampering with the big league standings.

Cincinnati, doomed by the experts to finish in the cellar, is the only unbeaten team in the National league.

The poor, old beat-up New York Yankees, supposedly hobbled by the loss of Joe DiMaggio and others, are out front in the American league.

Eddie Dyer's St Louis Cardinals still haven't won a game, and the powerhouse Boston Red Sox had to resort to bases on balls to break into the victory column.

Lefty Beats Cards

Maybe things will straighten out when the weather gets hot but right now, Happy, they're in a terrible mess.

Bucky Walters, starting his first full year as Cincinnati manager, followed the old custom of pitching lefthanders against the Cardinals. As usual, it worked.

Following up Kenny Raffensberger's opening day performance, Walters called on another lefty, John Vander Meer yesterday. The 33-year-old veteran responded with a five-hit shutout, 5-0. Vandy, a 17-game winner last year, retired the last 11 batters in order to top Howie Pollet.

The power the Reds are not supposed to have won for them. Hank Sauer and Jimmy Bloodworth hit homers each with a man on base, to ruin Pollet's first start.

Now the Reds go to Pittsburgh to help the Pirates open their home season today.

The first night game of the season is also on schedule—Philadelphia at Washington. The Senators had their home opener Monday.

The Yankees' replacements came through to give Manager Casey Stengel a third straight victory over Washington, 2-1. Johnny Lindell, playing in DiMaggio's old spot in centerfield, started the winning rally against Forrest Thompson with a single in the last of the ninth. After an error, Hank Bauer, Charley Keller's sub in left field, came through with a game-ending double.

Indians Drop Browns

Cleveland warmed up for its home opener by thupming St. Louis, 8-2, with the help of homers by Larry Doby and Joe Gordon.

The Boston Red Sox untracked themselves to salvage the finale of their series with the Philadelphia A's, 4-0. It was a scoreless battle between Phil Marchildon and Mel Parnell until the ninth. Two walks with the bases loaded and a single by Parnell gave the Sox their margin.

Chicago finally stopped Johnny Groth's home run splurge, trimming Detroit, 5-2. The White Sox pitchers "held" Groth to one single in two official as bats. He also walked once and was hit by Howie Judson, the winning pitcher. Lou Kretlow, who lasted until the sixth, was the loser.

Leo Durocher's New York Giant sluggers finally hit their home run stride to ruin Brooklyn's Preacher Roe, 4-1. Homers by Sid Gordon and Mickey Livingston, each with a man on, accounted for all runs with Clint (Floppy) Hartung turning in a neat four-hit job.

Bob Scheffing hit a two-run homer in the eighth for Chicago's 4-3 edge over Pittsburgh. Emil Kush, who came on after Walt Dubiel left for a pinch hitter, was the winner over Bob Muncrief, making his first start as a Pirate and Phillies were not scheduled.

Lubbock Tops Bulldog Nine

The first hurdle toward the south half District 1-AA baseball flag was passed here Thursday as the Westerners defeated Plainview, 11-6, behind the six-hit hurling of Jimmy Hamilton.

In winning the game Hamilton struck out eight batters and walked only two, both in the first inning when the Bulldogs scored their initial run on the walks and a base hit. Jack Howton, Plainview mound ace, gave up only six safeties, but his fielding was poor and nine miscues were committed.

Errors Mar Play

A double play in the first inning by the Westerners was the outstanding fielding accomplishment. After Bill Blair had singled to drive in one run, John Long advanced to third on the play. As Blair took second base Morris Turner fired the ball to third baseman Neil Sikes, catching Long between home and third. He was caught in the rundown and tagged out by Catcher Turner, who fired the ball to Charles Galey at second to catch Blair sliding back into second after he had rounded the keystone sack for the second out.

Errors afield kept both teams in hot water throughout the game, but Lubbock got the edge in the second inning when they scored six runs on three hits and four miscues by the visiting Bulldog nine. And from that point they were never threatened.

The game was poorly played, and sloppy fielding marred what could have been a tight ball game since both teams had the same number of hits. The Plainview pitcher whiffed five Westerner batters.

A home run in the seventh inning by Howton into left-center field highlighted the hitting. His blow came with teammate Randall Cooper on base, but the next man flied out to Garnet Reeves to end the inning and the game. The long hit traveled on the ground all the way, scooting through shortstop and through the hole in the field.

Charles Galey slammed a triple into left-center field in the second inning with no one on base and two outs. Neil Sikes walked, but Morris Turner struck out to end the inning.

Hitting was led by the Bulldogs' John Long with two hits in three trips to the plate, and no Westerner got more than one hit.

In the big second inning the Westerners batted around. Scoring runs were Sikes, Turner, James Burgess, Reeves, Hamilton and Bobby Brown.

Brown knocked in Burgess and Reeves with a single into center field and the other runs came on errors and one run walked in.

The Westerners are scheduled to play a doubleheader with Brownfield today at Chapman field diamond, beginning at 3:15 p. m.

Lubbock Not Expected To Retain Crown

West Texas Trackmen Speed Final Drills For Big Meet

The starter at the Region One Texas Interscholastic league track and field meet Saturday at Texas Tech will be a busy man during the preliminaries as he keeps events moving in three separate divisions.

With 18 districts represented in the meet, more athletes will be attracted than at any other time this year. And the South Plains Relays had more than 325 entrants.

Preliminaries get underway at 9 a. m., and the finals start at 1 p. m. with three separate divisions represented. Finals in AA, A, and B will be run off in each event in that order. The first two places in each event will qualify for the state meet in Austin May 6-7. Approximately 700 athletes are expected for the big show from nine TIL regions over the state. The Region One should provide approximately 80 boys.

Lubbock, which has capitalized the team honors for five years, is not expected to win this year, but some of the team members should be in the runner-up spots.

The Westerners have been undergoing little practice this week because of the soggy condition of the track at Chapman field, but Thursday the boys managed to warm up slightly.

Preliminary events and the finals will be run at Tech, and a charge of 60 cents for adults and 30 cents for children will be made for the finals.

The Region One records include:
120-yard high hurdles: Howton, Plainview. Time 14.3.
100-yard dash: Mayes, Pampa Time 10.
440-yard dash: J. Johnson, Lubbock. Time 52.6.
200-yard low hurdles: Howton Plainview. Time 22.5.
440-yard relay: Pampa (Keith Wilson, Davis, Mayes). Time 44.1
Shot-put: Curry, Lubbock. Distance 46 feet, 9 inches.

MATCH PLAY STARTS

HOUSTON, April 22. (AP)—Match play in the Brae Burn Country club invitation tournament starts today with 32 golfers in the field.

Oklahoma City Loses Ninth Straight Game

(By The Associated Press)

Two long streaks in the Texas league are still intact today.

Dallas didn't play last night and still has seven straight victories.

Oklahoma City did play last night and now has nine straight losses.

Tulsa's Oilers beat the Oklahoma City club again, 10-7.

Wet grounds postponed the Dallas-Fort Worth tilt. The two teams meet here tonight in a double header.

CHAPTER V

TURNING ON THE POWER

THE golfers of today are distance-minded, even the weekend golfers. I know that to be true because so many of them come to me during the course of my travels around the country and want to know how they can get more distance.

They have the strength and the golfing ability, but they don't know how to make the most of what they have. No matter how big and strong you are it doesn't mean a thing in golf, unless you know how to apply your strength. Distance is obtained by a full use of your physical faculties and strength in combination with perfect timing.

My advice to the beginning golfer is to go ahead and hit the ball as hard as he can right from the start. He will be wild for a time. That's only natural. Later on he can straighten out his hooks and slices with minor alterations to his swing. But if he doesn't learn to hit the ball hard right at the start, he will never be able to get distance without a major overhauling, because his speed and timing setup will be for something less than his full power.

"The tournament golfers of today are shooting for birdies all of the time. Within reason, we try to hit our tee shots as far as we possibly can. Naturally, we don't hit them as hard as we can if there is a chance that they will land in a group of trees or some other hazard.

Picks His Spots

Moreover, the location of the pin on the greens doesn't discourage us in our quest for birdies. No matter where they put the pins we shoot for them and try to get down in as few strokes as possible.

Before I go into detail on how I turn on the power, let me say that I don't got out and blaze away with all of my power on every hole. I pick my spots.

The long par fours or the long five pars are the holes I usually select to cut loose on with all of my extra power in an effort to get birdies. The idea behind the turning on of your extra power on these holes is to get as far out off the tee as possible in the hope that you won't have a wood shot to the green for your second shot.

Most par five holes offer you an excellent chance to score in sub par figures if you can get any distance at all off the tee. Pump the ball out as far as you can and reach the green in two on these holes if it is at all humanly possible for you to get there.

IN reviewing the changes in the game that have given us tournament golfers increased and controlled power, let's start with the grip and stance. We now grip our clubs more firmly than they have ever been gripped. By using a firmer grip we are able to hit with greater authority and at the same time maintain complete control of the clubhead.

As for the stance, it is now considerably wider than it ever was. The purpose of the widened stance is to create greater traction with the feet. This widened stance and increased traction anchors us so that we are able to apply additional power to the swing through the legs while still maintaining perfect balance.

We also create additional power by first applying all of the body that we can to the swing. More power can be efficiently applied on the downswing by having the hips turn to the left, the shoulders follow, and then the arms and hands contribute their power.

Body Action Important

Body action plays an important part in the golf swing when the body turns as fast as possible from the top of the swing to the left. Don't stop your body once you have initiated the swing. Keep it moving throughout if you want to develop power.

Of course, all of the above applies chiefly to wood shots, but additional power and distance can also be gained on iron shots in the same manner.

Gene Sarazen, who really spans two generations of golf, summed up the importance of the changes in the game I have outlined above after I had congratulated him on the way he played in a recent tournament in which we happened to be paired together.

"If I had driven as well in my day as I do now," said Sarazen, after thanking me for my congratulations, "I would have won more tournaments than I did.

"In my prime I was extremely wild off the tee. As a result I had to work much harder to score than I do now."

The reason that Gene's scores don't indicate his improvement is that he isn't as keen competitively as he used to be. If he were, he would still be winning tournaments.

Wood Shots For Distance

GOLF, to my way of thinking, is broken down into three departments, woods, irons and putts. And each department is equally as important. If there is one department that is more important than the others, however, it would probably be the wood shots.

Suppose I tell a little story here to prove my point, comparing golf to the game of billiards. In billiards the player must control his cue ball at all times to set up his next shot. It's the same in golf, the player must control his tee shots in order to set up his next shot.

If the wood shots go astray you could be the best iron player in the world, but you would have no real chance to prove it because you would be playing from out of the rough and bunkers or from behind trees all of the time. Whereas, if your tee shots are controlled your iron play problems will be much simpler. Which means, in turn, that your short game and putting problems are also simplified because you can always be on the offense instead of the defense.

When controlled, a tee shot sets up the second shot and simplifies it. Since the second shot is simplified, it stands to reason that the third shot, which normally is the putt, will be relatively easy.

Woods And Irons

"What are the chief differences between the swing you use for wood shots and the swing you use for iron shots?" is a question quite frequently asked of golf instructors. The answer, as far as I am concerned, is that there should be no great conscious difference in the swings used. Once you've grooved your swing you shouldn't be conscious of making any fundamental changes, no matter what club you are using.

Strictly speaking, of course, there are differences in the swings, but they should be so slight as to be relatively unimportant to the over-all idea of the swing. Very few golfers actually swing exactly alike, but there are any number who follow the same fundamentals in playing the game.

Naturally with a wood club the action of the swing is slower because the swing is longer. With an iron the action of the swing is speeded up, but fundamentally it is the same swing. When you use your wood clubs you are trying to hit the ball as far as you can, whereas when you use an iron you are trying to combine distance and accuracy so efficiently that the ball will drop into the cup.

When you are shooting at a green with a wood club you must remember that you have a much smaller target because it is very difficult to hit the green with a wood club and hold the ball on it. That's because the ball comes onto the green off the wood club very fast and with very little bite, or backspin, on it.

(Monday: Control Of Wood Shots).

Boys Club Pounds Levelland, 8 To 2

The Boys Club batters hit three Levelland hurlers, with ease yesterday to take an 8-2 decision in a seven-inning tilt at Boys Club diamond.

Pitcher Jackie Martyn led the batting with three singles in four times up, and Leslie Baker had a double and a single in three times at the plate. In his only appearance at the plate Mackie Lawrence walloped a four-bagger, the first to be hit by a Boys Club batter this year.

Zack Reed of Levelland doubled driving in one run.

Martyn, pitching for Boys club, made 15 strikeouts. M. D. Stevens and Jackie Cook caught.

Levelland worked pitchers Barnett, Raley, and Rogers.

Boys club plays Tech Independents Saturday at 2 p. m. at the club diamond.

Hub Players Leave Today

A pair of Hubbers, both optioned to other clubs, were due to leave Lubbock today for their new assignments.

George Schepps, Hubber general manager, announced yesterday that Jackie Wilcox, last year's shortstop, had been optioned to Kilgore of the East Texas league.

At the same time, Lloyd Pearson was given the okay to report to Corpus Christi, where he had been optioned Tuesday. When Al Duarte, Hubber centerfielder, came up with a sore ankle Wednesday night, Schepps decided that Pearson should stay over until examination could show whether Duarte would be available for action.

PEARSON

An examination, including x-ray, yesterday showed that there is nothing fundamentally wrong with the ankle and that Duarte should be back in the lineup within three days. As a result, Pearson was told he could leave.

John Alvis, who did not report last year and was placed on the restricted list, yesterday was reinstated at the request of the Hubbers. At the same time, Alvis was given his unconditional release. He was a third baseman.

Duarte was examined yesterday by the club physician, Dr. J. H. Stiles, who said that the outfielder should be ready to play again in three days. X-ray pictures disclosed that the ankle break of last year is healed thoroughly and that light exercise is all Duarte needs.

Joe Wisniewski, outfielder, is making rapid strides toward recovering from his flu and should be discharged from the hospital within the next three or four days.

Schepps also announced yesterday that the league, in a special vote, had turned down the proposal that the playing limit of veterans be raised from six to eight. As a result, the Hubbers will be unable to keep two of the four veterans on whom they had planned.

Pearson, Wilcox, Oscar Kuver and Frank McAlexander were the four veterans it was decided to cut from the squad, so that the Hubbers could meet the league limit of six.

Three of the four have been placed and McAlexander probably will be optioned today.

K. CARTER WINS

K. Carter defeated Sanders school yesterday in a doubleheader softball game. The boys team won, 20-9, and the Girls took a 20-13 decision. Robert Coronado was the top hitter for the Carter boys.

CURL TO FIGHT

CORPUS CHRISTI, April 22. (AP)—Jimmy Curl of San Antonio, Texas middleweight champion, will meet Tony Elizondo of Corpus Christi here next Monday night with the title on the line.

Between The Lines. . .

By Joe Kelly

It's too bad Clovis got all the batting practice last night, but that's the way baseball is. Sometimes you have it and sometimes you don't. Last night, Mel Kramer had itin his big right arm, the former Hubber turning back his old club on six stingy hits. And Paul Dean's crew had everything they needed in the way of hitting power, although they would manage only four doubles and a home run out of 16 safeties. It didn't matter much who was hurling for the Hubbers; they all looked alike to Clovis.

You can't tell much about the umpiring this early in the season, Wednesday night it didn't look bad and everything went off smoothly. But last night they had all kinds of trouble. The biggest boner, of course, was Umpire Biondi's call at first base in the fifth inning. Manager Jackie Sullivan had tossed to Buddy McCallum to get one runner at second, but Buddy's throw to first lost Jim Sinovick by at least two steps, a run scoring. Lo and behold, the umpire called Sinovick out. Practically the entire Clovis team, including Manager Paul Dean, stormed the ump, who stoically retreated. The decision stuck.

Earlier, Jess Jacinto was the victim of a rhubarb with the plate umpire, a kindly old gentleman by the name of Sadowski, up from the Longhorn League. The slightly myopic Mr. Sadowski, who delighted in hopping from one side of the plate to the other, undoubtedly to get a better view of the curve breaking away from him, called Jacinto out on a third strike that barely tipped his bat. At least Mike Dooley got the umpire to believe it and Jacinto couldn't convince him otherwise. Paul came dashing down from third to join in the argument, pushed his homely mugg in traditional style into Sadowski's face and proceeded to expound. We don't think that they were discussing fish, the manners and habitats.

Bob Covington, a raw rookie, didn't do such a bad job on the mound while he lasted. He showed considerable poise, but got into trouble when he lost control. He actually had two scoreless innings, more than any other Hubber pitcher could boast. Herby Pitts just had one of those nights and Royce Mills, after he had gotten the bases empty, had no trouble in retiring the side. As for Jackie, he merely saved his pitcher's sore arms for other nights and labored, as he knew, in a losing cause. But Clovis had best beware. The Hubbers don't like such football scores.

Paul Dean apparently is going to try and go through the season with only four pitchers and a total of 14 players. He can't be counted on for regular mound work himself. In fact, we doubt if he does much throwing. But that's cutting it pretty thin. It means he has only eight regulars and two utility players. If any player is hurt, and his pitchers go sour, he'll be skimming along on a shoelace. Paul hasn't been in this league for a season yet. He doesn't know what lies in wait for him. He's been used to those friendly 2-1, 4-3, 6-5 games, where one pitcher goes the route, or close to it.

When the season wears on a bit and the football game scores go on almost every night, where you often use two and three pitchers a game, Paul will realize that four hurlers, in this circuit, do not constitute a pitching staff. They are only a shock force. If and when the time comes that he uses two or three a night, he might just as well start exploring the cellar of the league. Unless, that is, he has managed to land four supermen. If that is so, it will create history in the league. Some one should take the embryonic Dean aside and whisper gently in his ear that this is, after all, a hitter's Paradise and pitchers were made only to serve at targets.

There have been a lot of unhappy grumblings in the stands the past two nights, which is all right, since it is the fan who pays the freight for a ball club. But don't condemn a team that isn't set yet. Additional players will be obtained and replacements are to be made still. Two of the starting team members are in the hospital. It's a patched-up Hubber nine trying to do its best under circumstances far from ideal. Instead of the riding that marked the game last night, we'd like to see a little support for a team that is hustling and is trying every minute.

Jean Mougin arrives Saturday and will go into light training here. As you know, he'll be Bill Henderson's opponent come Tuesday night at Chapman Fieldhouse. Mougin will be making his last appearance in the United States when he fights here. He goes to Montreal, Que., Canada, and sails for France from there. He'll be trying to make his best showing to date, so as to leave a favorable impression behind him. On the otherhand, Henderson will be seeking revenge for the licking he took in El Paso. We hope he gets it. He no longer has contract trouble, since he has been given his original contract back. He has no worries and is free in mind. He'll be doing his level best. It ought to be a great fight.

Raider Tennis Team Returns To Lubbock

Two Texas Tech netmen, Jake Broyles and Glenn Ivy, who were scheduled to meet seeded Nick Carter, San Francisco, and Bobby Curtis, Denver, in the River Oaks Tennis tournament in Houston, have returned to Lubbock after pastponement of the match the second time.

Broyles said late Thursday that rain in Houston and pressing academic work prompted him and Ivy to come back to school rather than wait-out the weather.

Federal Housing Bill Goes To House After Battle In Senate

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 22.—The long range housing bill landed in the House today after Senate approval at a stormy session.

The bill authorizing a vast slum clearance program and construction of 810,000 public housing units during the next six years was passed by the Senate a few minutes before last midnight. The vote was 57 to 13.

The measure also provides for a $275,000,000 farm housing program and for a research program designed to spur home construction by cutting building costs.

The fate of the bill in the House—which is in recess until Monday—is uncertain. Somewhat similar bills passed by the Senate last year and in 1946 died in the other branch of Congress.

Amendments Rejected

House opposition in the past was directed against the public housing feature. Some influential House members still are contending that it would lead to socialization of the building industry.

That argument was raised during the five days of Senate debate on the bill, too, but it was overridden.

On final passage, 33 Democrats joined 24 Republicans in voting for the bill. Against it were two Democrats and 11 Republicans.

Sponsors of the bill—11 Democrats and an equal number of Republicans—were able to bring about the defeat of practically all major moves to amend it.

Among the amendments batted down was one by Senators Bricker (R-Ohio) and Cain (R-Wash) which would have prohibited segregation on the basis of race, creed or color in the renting of public housing.

The proposal was beaten 49 to 31, with supporters of President Truman's civil rights program leading the fight against it. They called the amendment a move to kill the bill and said civil rights should be handled in separate legislation.

Provisions Cited

Bricker, on the other hand, contended that it was an opportunity for senators to demonstrate how they feel about civil rights.

But the amendment which touched off the noisiest fireworks was one by Senator Taft (R-Ohio) to strike from the bill $12,500,000 in grants to farmers for improvement of sub-standard farms. That is only one section of the three-part farm program.

Taft's amendment was defeated, 41 to 30, after Senator Langer (R-ND) had threatened to talk all night against it.

The major provisions of the housing bill are these:

1. The federal government would contribute up to $308,000,000 annually for up to 40 years to help finance 810,000 public housing units which would be built in the next six years. The 810,000 figure is a compromise between the 1,050,000 Mr. Truman wanted in seven years, and the 600,000 a group of Republican senators wanted in six years.

Farmers Included

The federal government's share of the cost is a minor part of the total. Most of it would be met from the rents collected, along with local community contributions. The housing units would be owned and operated by local communities.

2. A five-year slum clearance program, with two-thirds of the cost to be met by the federal government and the balance by local communities. The bill authorizes $1,000,000,000 in federal loans and $5,000,000 in grants.

3. A three-part $275,000,000 farm housing program: 33-year loans at not more than four per cent interest, to be available to owners of self-sustaining farms who are otherwise unable to finance adequate housing; a similar loan program, along with annual federal contributions for up to 10 years to owners whose farms were not at the time self-sustaining but could be made so; loans and grants would be available for minor improvement and repair of dwellings on farms which could not be made self-supporting.

Plane That Crashed In February Found

SAN FRANCISCO, April 22. (AP)—The plane in which five scientists and two pilots crashed Feb. 3 has been found, the Navy said today.

The party was enroute from the Naval Inyokern ordnance test station to a scientific meeting in Berkeley.

The military information office here said the wreckage was "definitely identified" today by a Navy and Air Force ground party. The wreckage was found at the 7,000-foot level near Owens Peak, in the southern Sierra Nevada.

Miss America Shares Honors With Onions

RAYMONDVILLE, April 22 (U.P) — The lowly onion came into its own today in the lower Rio Grande valley.

With the arrival of Bebe Shopp, current Miss America titlist, the Willacy County Onion Fiesta got started with an odoriferous whoop and holler.

Bebe and her mother landed in Brownsville today, where they were whisked from the airport to put in an appearance at a valley-wide Rotary club luncheon in Raymondville.

Tonight the famed beauty will crown another beauty — blonde Wilma Cutler, as Queen Noino . . . onion spelled backyard.

"The dreath of a national holiday" will be turned over Saturday to the dedication of the county's new water gateway, Port Mansfield. Gov. Beauford Jester and legislative delegations will be on hand for the ceremonies and a dinner following.

Today's activities include a livestock show, art show, golf tournament, horse racing, band concert, barbecue, parade, rodeo and square dances.

Labor Shortage Is Reported Reduced

WASHINGTON, April 22. (U.P)—The United States Employment service says there is a shortage of workers in only eight labor areas throughout the entire nation. That is the lowest number since the wartime labor shortage.

The employment service said it is still difficult to get enough workers to fill available jobs in the following areas: Erie, Harrisburg, and Lancaster, Pa.; Youngstown, Ohio; South Bend, Ind.; Moline, Ill.-Davenport, Iowa; Jacksonville, Fla., and Dallas, Texas.

In November, 1948, the service designated 33 out of a total of 98 areas as tight supply regions.

Legion Group Will Open Meet Saturday

AUSTIN, April 22 (U.P)—William McCraw, state commander of the American Legion, said today that the Legion's governing committees will arrive in the capital city tomorrow for a two-day meeting.

The Legion's executive committee, board of trustees and five key department committees, he said, were called to attend the semi-annual meeting and the third annual aerial round-up.

The executive committee, McCraw said, is expected to name a meeting place for the 1949 annual state convention to be held in August.

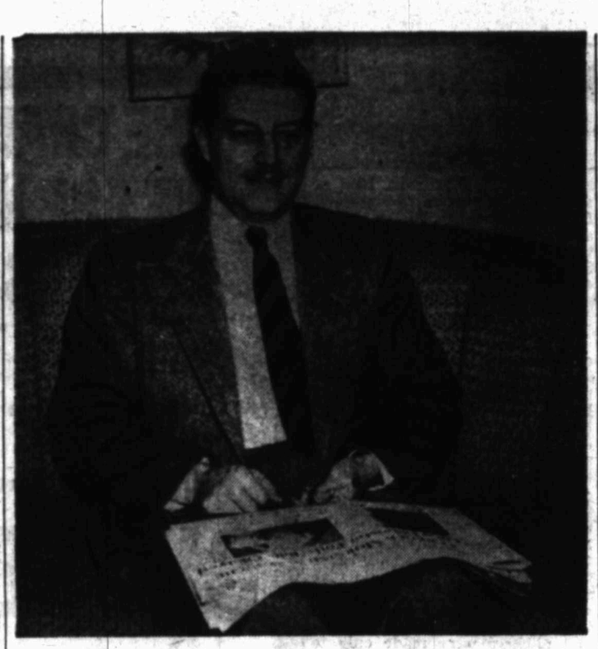

"The two-day meet will be topped off," he said, "with a ride on the river boat Commodore Sunday afternoon."

Names Of Air Crash Victims Announced

SHREVEPORT, La., April 22 (AP)—Barksdale Air Force base officials today released the names of the three fliers killed late last night in the crash of a two-engine B-25 bomber during a routine training flight nine miles south of the base.

The victims were identified as follows:

First Lieut. Wafren A. Burlison, OJai, Calif.; First Lieut. Charles A. Baldwin, jr., South Boston, Mass., and Staff Sgt. Elois Dauphin, Plain Dealing, La.

Stock Market

GAINS, LOSSES MIXED

NEW YORK, April 22 (AP) — Selected issues carried out a nervous rally in the stock market today following a sharp break in prices yesterday.

The market closed with a mixture of gains and losses. Most changes were fractional but a few issues showed much wider variations.

Turnover—except in a a couple of issues—slowed down in the afternoon after brisk morning business.

The market opened under pressure but soon found a bottom with declines of fractions to around a point. Many morning losses were converted into gains and for a while a decisive rally seemed to be in the making.

Buying faded away for awhile, only to perk up again toward the close.

Morning selling was a carryover from yesterday, when the general price level took one of the worst drubbings of the year. Prices on average dropped to a low since Feb. 28.

Richfield Oil was one of the most active issues, rising about 2 point sat one time to a new hop for the year. Sinclair was also lively and higher.

Tending upward a good part of the day were Granby Consolidated Mining, National Steel, Chrysler, Montgomery Ward, Sears Roebuck, Southern Pacific, Standard Oil (NJ), and American Airlines.

Holding back most of the time were General Motors, Goodrich, Douglas Aircraft, Consolidated Edison, Kennecott Copper, Dupont, General Electric, and Mission Corp.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, April 22 (AP) — Cotton futures were easy in moderately active trading today, with most of the activity in evening-up operations in nearby May prior to first notice day next Tuesday.

A leading spot firm sold about 10,000 bales of nearby May against purchase of old crop July futures at a difference of 80 points.

A private crop survey placed the cotton acreage in the southeast about 12 per cent ahead of last year. Gains of 25 to 30 per cent were forecast in the Corpus Christi section of Texas, 10 per cent increase in the Gulf coast area of Texas, increases of 20 per cent in the Abilene territory, 15 per cent in the Vernon area, 30 to 35 per cent in the South Plains around Lubbock. An acreage increase of 15 per cent was forecast for Oklahoma.

Futures closed 75 cents a bale lower to 28 cents higher than the previous close.

Health Plan

other medical men are backing it.

In his message the President said that voluntary insurances plans "have proved inadequate to meet the need," most of them offering "only very limited protection."

He went on to reply to some of the attacks which have been made on his proposals, by saying:

"Health insurance is a method of paying for medical care. It will not require doctors to become employes of the government. It will not disturb the freedom of doctors and hospitals to determine the nature and extent of treatment to be given. It will not interfere with the personal relationship between doctor and patient.

Doctors Remain Free

"Under such a plan, patients will remain free to choose their own doctors, and doctors will remain free to accept or reject patients. Moreover, patients, doctors and hospitals will remain free to make their own arrangements for care outside the (government) insurance system if they so choose."

Getting the jump on the administration, four Republican senators—Taft of Ohio, H. Alexander Smith of New Jersey and Donnell of Missouri—introduced a health bill a week ago. They proposed federal expenditures of upwards of $1,250,000,000 in the next five years to aid states in developing their own health programs, rather than backing a national program.

Taxes Would Be Added

A somewhat similar bill was offered last month, without any estimate of cost.

The American Medical association has proposed its own program, putting emphasis on voluntary health plans.

The President gave no estimate of how much his program might cost although he said he recognized that many people "are concerned" about that.

Mr. Truman's proposed insurance plan would be compulsory in the sense that those covered by the law would have to pay the insurance "premiums" in the form of taxes.

The idea is that taxes would be deducted from payrolls just as are present social security taxes.

Rep. Dingell (D-Mich) will introduce the President's measure in the House Monday.

Dingell has estimated that the tax needed to get the program underway would be one and one-half pr cent each on employer and employee on payrolls.

Airline Chief Visits In City

field's visit to Houston.

"We of the Airline feel that we have a responsibility to contribute to the community, not just to serve it," Smith asserted. "We plan to stay a long time and to shoulder our responsibility of rendering service.

"I think that is a basic philosophy of the United States, to give more and more service downward and outward to more and more people. That's what we are trying to do. And I think that is what happened when rural free mail delivery, farm-to-market roads, rural electrification, and laws like the pure food and drug act were established."

At a luncheon meeting of American Business club at noon today in Hilton hotel, Gen. Smith discussed that philosophy.

He had other good news. Last year Lubbock ranked fifth among the 25 cities Pioneer serves in number of arriving and departing passengers. Ahead of Fort Worth, Lubbock was exceeded only by Houston, Dallas, Midland and Austin.

But a fond hope of many Lubbock citizens—that Pioneer would establish headquarters in Lubbock—appeared to be smashed.

Gen. Smith said he understood that the adjutant General of the Air Force a few days ago inspected Ellington field, the line's current headquarters, and announced it was probable that the headquarters would not have to be moved.

Lubbock, like many other cities, had extended a hearty welcome to Pioneer in the event the headquarters had to be moved.

"Things like that are most gratifying and we are happy to have had these indications that we would be welcome," the general remarked.

With eight flights arriving and departing here daily, Smith said he hopes even better service can be established. An application is pending for a line joining Amarillo, Pampa, Enid, Ponca City, Bartlesville, Tulsa, McAlester, Okmulgee, Denison, Sherman and Fort Worth.

But giant airliners for Pioneer? Not likely, Smith says.

"We feel that we can be of greater service by continuing with DC-3's, expanding by increasing the frequency of our service rather than by going to larger planes. Eventually, we will replace DC-3's with later planes of comparable size."

Smith was asked his opinion regarding the squabble between Dallas and Fort Worth over the new Fort Worth International airport, which threatens to make Love field in Dallas a thing of the past.

"We naturally want to serve the airport closest to both towns," he replied. "The problem will resolve itself when the new airport is built to serve both cities, and like the other airlines, we will use it."

His record of running a successful new air line is equaled only by a distinguished war record. He was commander of the North African division of ATC during the war, with headquarters Cairo, Egypt. At present he is commanding general of the 309th Reserve Bomb division. He has been in military and civil aviation since 1917 and has been head of the aviation department of the Dallas Chamber of Commerce as well as an official of American Airways and Braniff International Airlines.

The current tour is taking the general to San Angelo, Midland, Odessa and Big Spring as well as Lubbock.

above the pre-war level of August, 1939.

Retail prices, however, are about three per cent below the post-war peak of August and September last year.

The mid-January index represented a decline of 5½ index points, or 3.1 per cent, from the living cost peak of August and September. In mid-January the index had slipped back to almost where it was at the start of 1948.

In another government report thrown light on the economic picture, the Bureau of Employment Security reported last night that the recent rise in Unemployment has spread fairly evenly over the nation. There have been no particular spots hit too hard, it said.

The bureau said almost every important labor area in the country now has an increased labor supply.

Brownfield Is Host To IOOF Convention

BROWNFIELD, April 22. (Special)—The annual convention of the South Plains IOOF association opened here today with representatives of approximately 40 area lodges attending.

The convention began with registration this morning, followed by a welcoming address by Mayor C. C. Primm. The response was given by Alma Powell, of Levelland.

The afternoon session featured a downtown parade at 1 p. m. and a memorial service to be open to the public at 6:30 p. m. in the Veterans hall.

SMITH IS SPEAKER

Gen. Robert J. Smith, president of Pioneer Airlines, was principal speaker at the American Business club at the Hilton hotel today noon. Nat Harris and Fred Hinson were introduced as new members. Harding L. Lawrence, Houston, a Pioneer vice president; Gene Thummel, Amarillo, Pioneer district manager; and N. A. Brown, San Antonio, were out-of-town guests at the luncheon.

Visiting breeders attending the show included Art Miller, Memphis; Ray Hawkins, Canyon; U. C. Fleming, Amarillo; Ross Tunnell, Slaton; C. Thomas, Enid, Okla.; A. L. Chambers, Canyon; Mr. and Mrs. Rocky Seiberling, Amarillo; Ross Schwab, Roswell; H. M. McElroy, Eden; R. E. Callender, College Station; and Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Clark of Denver City.

Officials of the South Plains breeders association are supervising the show.

Bus Is Overturned; Passengers Unhurt

HOUSTON, April 22. (U.P)—A Greyhound bus bound for Houston from New Orleans hit a mule and overturned early today on the Beaumont highway near Sheldon but the driver and 24 passengers escaped without serious injury.

The mule, shot by deputy sheriffs, was the only casualty.

Officials said passenger crawled calmly through the front door and emergency door of the vehicle and continued their trip, 90 minutes behind schedule, on another Greyhound bus.

Passengers given first aid at a Houston hospital were Arthur J. Buchanan, 23, of Houston; W. R. Stewart, 18, of Bonifay, Fla.; Lester O'Conner, 19, of Villeplatte, La., and Willie Langley, 30 of Dayton.

Johnson commandeered a passing automobile, but the driver, Walter Stone of Indianapolis, stopped it and fled.

With bullets whistling past him, Johnson ran through a crowd waiting at a bus stop and leaped into a parked taxicab. As the cab started to pull away one of the FBI men leaped onto the rear and fired pointblank through the rear window.

He saw Johnson slump, but the fugitive remained conscious and ordered the cab driver, George Johnson, to take him to a doctor. The doctor called police who took Johnson to the hospital.

Admissions Cited

The service station was operated by Dep. Sheriff Elmer McCutcheon of Meadow. A .22 caliber pistol taken from the station was traced down after its clip had been found outside the harvester company building.

Four youths, including Davis, or some of them, admitted March 17 that they had burglarized the Brownfield and Meadow business places Feb. 9. The four admitted they had broken and entered Haskins' store at Wolfforth March 10. Some of them admitted they had burglarized a Big Spring liquor store and the Black grocery store in Lubbock. Two automobiles, one at Amarillo and one at Big Spring, were stolen by at least some of the four youths, they said.

Others who made statements in connection with the cases and were convicted here this morning were Chester Wayne Morgan, 17, of 1614 Main in Lubbock, Ferion Dwain McCreary, 20, of near Lubbock, and J. B. Jackson, 19, of Myrtle drive, in Lubbock, Sheriff Murry said.

McGee Trial

Dr. J. Lloyd Morrow, Passaic, N. J. Dr. Morrow had been in charge of the more severe mental cases at Darnell General Hospital, Danville, Ky., during 1944 and when McGee was brought there as a military patient.

Served In Italy

McGee served about one and one-half years in the Army Air Force. Seven months of this time was with the 723rd Bombardment Squadron in Italy.

"McGee was insane on July 9, 1944," the deposition read.

"It was impossible to say exactly what type of insanity McGee suffered but he had delusions, was generally confused, had hallucinations and a persecution complex," Dr. Morrow said in the written statement.

The defense attorneys, Burton S. Burks, Lubbock, and Col. E. A. Simpson, Amarillo, also introduced and read the Army records of McGee.

The discharge papers which were issued shortly after McGee was released from the Darnell Hospital read; in part,

"Honorably discharged for reason of dementia praecox unqualified incurred while in service and in line of duty. Such mental disease was not present at the time of enlistment."

Father Was Patient

The other deposition was from Dr. George W. Jackson, superintendent of the State Hospital, Little Rock, Ark.

District Attorney Lloyd Croslin and special prosecutor George Dupree, objected to the majority of question and answers in this deposition on the grounds that Dr. Jackson admitted his information was based on incomplete records and on recollections. It was let out that the father of Richard, one Gerdis McGee, had been an inmate of this mental institution sometime during the 1920s or 1930s.

Doctors Testify

The defense attorneys have called in a long list of lay and expert witnesses yesterday to prove that McGee was insane and therefore was not responsible under the laws of Texas for the crime he committed.

"Richard W. McGee has been insane since July 24, 1947."

This statement was voiced by Dr. Paul L. White, psychiatrist at the University of Texas since January 1938.

Incident Is Related

"I warned people in 1942 that Richard McGee was crazy and that someday he would kill someone," Dr. Stephens told the jury.

In examining the two witnesses the defense sought to bring out that McGee had been an abnormal boy from childhood.

"On the evening of July 24, 1947, I was called to the gymnasium on the campus of the University of Texas," Dr. White testified. "I went to the shower room and there I found Richard W. McGee sprawled out on the floor of the shower-bath, nude and with the water running."

Dr. White said he was unable to get a clear statement from McGee at that time as to what his trouble was. All answers he said were mumbled in such a way he could do nothing for the boy.

Sent To Hospital

"I was with him for 30 minutes at that time," Dr. White said. "The boy kept trying to brush me aside."

According to Dr. White, McGee remarked at that time;

"'I am Jesus Christ. I'm here for a special purpose.'"

The following day, Dr. White related, he signed papers committing McGee to the VA mental hospital at Waco for a 90-day observation period. The boy was released at the end of that period.

Talked To McGee Here

Dr. White next saw McGee on March 6, 1949, when he was called here by Attorney Burks to make an examination of the boy's mental condition.

"He was insane in my opinion at the time of that examination," Dr. White declared.

Dr. White further stated that McGee's peculiar type of insanity is known as "schizophrenia" or split-personality. When asked by Special Prosecutor George Dupree to further clarify the term, White said persons so affected had delusions of grandeur, divided and disconnected activities and in general were not wholly competent in their behavior.

Attorney Dupree asked the specialist if he was assuming a lot when he based his opinions on a single examination of three hours duration. Dr. White said he was able to get enough data from such an interview and from the records to show that, "in my opinion the boy has been progressively insane since he was quite young."

"He is incurably ill in his mind and in my opinion he will grow steadily worse. There is no cure for him," Dr. White asserted.

Dr. Stephens was only on the stand for a few minutes. He too made a positive statement that McGee was insane and that in his opinion the boy had always been "abnormal."

Dr. Stephens said that years ago in Borger the boy's mother, Mrs. H. H. Stull, had come to him seeking help in getting the boy adjusted to a normal way of life. He cited such incidents as running away from home, camping out in the canyon and fits of anger as signs of the boy's insanity. These were not in his opinion "normal."

RITES SET TODAY

DALLAS, April 22. (AP)—Funeral services will be held today in Ennis for former Ellis County Judge William Madison Tidwell, 82, who died here yesterday.

Tidwell was a member of the 36th legislature.

Reds Blockade British Sloop

SHANGHAI, April 22 (AP) —The British sloop Amethyst late today still was trapped by Communist guns which have blasted four British warships in the last three days.

A British naval spokesman said the sloop, which was heavily damaged Wednesday by artillery on Yangtze river, had moved under Red small arms fire downstream some 10 miles.

All of the sloop's wounded and half of her crew of 148 reached Shanghai.

Out Of Gun Range

At her new anchorage the vessel was reported out of Communist gun range but unable to proceed down the river because of threatening shore batteries on the 150 miles course to Shanghai. Earlier there had been some indication the sloop might try for a night escape.

(British Navy headquarters at Singapore reported a RAF flying boat tried to make a landing near the Amethyst and was driven away by Red fire. This apparently was a second attempt. A flying boat earlier had landed near the Amethyst and put a doctor aboard.)

British naval authorities tonight counted 44 dead as a result of the Communist artillery attacks. Two of the wounded, including the captain of the Amethyst, were said to have died of their wounds. An estimated 82 were injured but that toll may be higher. It was not known how many Communist casualties resulted from British naval fire.

British Use Ship

The U. S. naval hospital ship Repose arrived at Shankhai from the western fleet base at Tsingtao and its facilities were turned over to the British.

It was during attempts to reach the Amethyst that the 10,000-ton cruiser London, the destroyer Consort and the sloop Black Swan were hit by Communist artillery on the Yangtze's north bank.

Here is the best estimate now of the casualties: London, 15 dead, 23 wounded; Amethyst 19 dead, 38 wounded; Consort 10 dead, 16 wounded; Black Swan, five wounded.

Last 100 Hours Are Hardest For Fliers

FULLERTON, Calif., April 22 (AP)—The last 100 hours, record nonstop fliers Bill Barris and Dick Riedel say, are the hardest.

Fighting off fatigue, the co-pilots passed the 900-hour mark today and discussed plans to shorten their shifts at the controls in order to stay awake until Tuesday morning.

That's their goal—1,008 hours at 11:44 a. m.—but it's still four days away. They cracked the old record of 726 hours last week.

Barris and Riedel, to relieve the monotony of the final days, plan to fly to San Diego to appear at the Gold Cup air races Sunday. But they intend to wind up here right where they started six weeks ago.

Meanwhile, at Yuma, Ariz., two ex-combat fliers, Bud Woodhouse, 26, and Woodrow Jongward, took off Thursday in an attempt to better the Barris-Riedel venture. They plan to fly at 9,000 feet over Yuma and will be refueled via a ground-to-air system similar to that used by the Fullerton fliers.

Students Strike At Negro School

GLADEWATER, April 22. (U.P)—Some 200 negro students stayed away from their classes at Jarvis Christian college today in a strike for improvements.

They left their classrooms, orderly and quietly, Thursday in a demand that the society which supports the school spend more money for improving its facilities.

They wanted a football field, repairs to boys' and girls' dormitories, a home economics laboratory and a better drainage system.

Student leaders said the United Christian Missionary Society of the Disciples of Christ, which supports the school, had 20 flowing oil wells to finance its institutions.

They claimed Jarvis was getting only a small portion of the money.

The walkout was staged as a sympathetic gesture toward Jarvis President P. C. Washington, who resigned Wednesday. He said he had tried for vears to obtain necessary improvements.

Bank President At San Angelo Claimed

SAN ANGELO, April 22. (AP)—Alex Collins, 70, president of the Central National bank here and former district attorney, died of a heart attack at his home today.

Collins served two terms as county attorney in Van Zandt county before coming here in 1909 when he opened law offices with the late W. C. Blanks.

WOMAN IS INDICTED

AMARILLO, April 22. (U.P)—Mrs. Elizabeth Pearl Choate Langston, 41, was indicted yesterday by a Potter county grand jury on a charge of murder. She is accused as a result of the tavern slaying last week of Bud Allison, a carpenter.

Slowdown In Rotation Of Earth Making Trouble For World's Chief Timekeeper

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Staff Writer

PHILADELPHIA, April 22 — The world is about to face a choice between two kinds of time, because the earth's rate of rotation is slowing.

This was the message today of the world's chief timekeeper, Britain's royal astronomer, Sir Harold Spencer Jones, chief of Greenwich time. He is having trouble with the length of the day, he reported to the American Philosophical society.

Time Is Slower

He said that because of the gradual slowing in the earth's rotation, time today is not the same as in Babylonian days. Records of Babylonian astronomers show this. Time is slower now because the earth takes longer to reel off 24 hours.

That will go on, Sir Harold said, until it will take 47 of the present days for the earth to make one turn on its axis.

In that day, too, the earth will always present the same face to the moon, because the moon's motion around the earth will be slower. You will have to travel half way around the world then to see the moon, if you happen to live on the wrong side.

Atomic Clocks Correct

Sir Harold said that although this long day is too remote to be important now, its beginnings are about at the parting of the ways.

Until now clocks haven't been accurate enough to be bothered. But Sir Harold said the new atomic clock about to be built by the National Bureau of Standards, Washington, will really differ from the time shown by present Greenwich methods of relying on the earth's rotation. The atomic clocks will be correct. Mother earth will be wrong.

The slowdown is due partly to the drag, that is friction, of tides in shallow seas. The moon raises these tides. It works just like the moon using a rope to hold back the earth.

Other causes are the pulls of other planets and probably the fact that the earth's outer mantle of rock is rotating faster than its core, thus creating more friction.

Police stood by to protect those wanting to work, when dockworkers in Zanzibar struck, Dar-es-Salaam announced.

"Men have too much leisure, women too little," said Mrs. M. Tait, secretary of the London Union of Mixed Clubs and Girls' Clubs.

DEPOSITS $11,660 CHECK—That's a $11,660 check which Mrs. Horace Humphries, secretary of Lubbock county chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, is shown presenting at a bank window. Although the chapter sent only a little more than $5,000 to the national foundation as result of its March of Dimes campaign, keeping the same mount locally, it received the $11,660 in response to appeal for additional funds. John M. Denman, vice president of Citizens National bank, is pictured behind the window. (Staff Photo).

Deal To Buy Movie Interest Is Failure

HOLLYWOOD, April 22 (AP)—A reported $5,400,000 deal to buy the Mary Pickford and Charlie Chaplin controlling interests in United Artists Corp., has collapsed.

The Nasser brothers, theater chain owners, announced Thursday shortly before a midnight deadline that the deal had fallen through. Chaplin's option for purchase of the stock, held jointly by him and Miss Pickford, expired at midnight.

Fund Appeal Is Answered

The heaviest demand in the history of the Lubbock county chapter, National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, has been experienced during the last 12 months, chapter officials announced.

The result was that the chapter not only used all funds raised locally but had to call on the national foundation three time for additional aid. This week, a check for $11,660 was deceived. In two previous calls, a total of $8,161.67 was received.

The money received this week will be used to pay hospital and doctor bills already accrued in the care of infantile paralysis patients.

During the last 12 months, the chapter has asserted 35 patients who were victims of the dreaded polio. At present, five of the children being aided by the chapter have been in hospitals for months and likely will remain months longer.

Following its March of Dimes campaign this year, the Lubbock county chapter kept more than $5,000 and sent more than $5,000 to the national foundation. The check received this week represents more than double the amount turned in from the county to the national organization this year.

Canyon Pay Section Defined At Humble Well In Scurry County

The Canyon pay section has been defined at Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 1 Huddleston, second producer for the Sharon Ridge-Canyon field of Southwest Scurry County.

After flowing commercial amounts of oil on a drillstem test to 6,715 feet in the Canyon, casing was run and the prospector drilled ahead beneath pipe.

A core was cut from 6,717 feet to 6,743 feet, recovering 18 feet of lime with slight oil stain.

A two-hour and 33-minute drillstem test then was taken at 6,715-6,743 feet and showed gas in 13 minutes and fluid in 65 minutes. The well cleaned to pits for 40 minutes, then was turned to tanks for 45 minutes.

Flow Is Recorded

It flowed at the rate of 13 barrels of fluid per hour, which was 35 per cent salt water. Gas-oil ratio was 650-1.

On last report, preparations were being made to attempt squeezing off the water.

The prospect is 660 feet from south and 573 feet from east lines of section 163, block 97, H&TC survey.

No shows resulted from a drillstem test at Humble No. 1-B Edmondson, wildcat one and one-quarter miles west of the North Snyder field of North-Central Scurry county and 760 feet from north, 1,980 feet from east lines of section 437, block 97, H&TC survey.

The tool was open one hour at 7,111-35 feet, with a small blow of air for 40 minutes, and recovered 25 feet of drilling mud. There were no signs of oil, gas or water.

The venture was drilling ahead beyond 7,160 feet in lime and shale.

Two Tests Made

A deep unidentified lime formation in Northwest Scurry County underwent two drillstem tests by Humble No. 1 Edmondson, wildcat eight and one-half miles northwest of Snyder.

The first examination, for 50 minutes at 7,980-8,080 feet, and a slight air blow for four minutes and recovered 20 feet of drilling mud.

A second drillstem test of the horizon was run at 8,079-8,118 feet, with the tool open one hour. A fair blow of air held at the surface for 30 minutes. Recovery was 90 feet of slightly oil and gas cut drilling mud.

This venture, 330 feet from north and east lines of section 327, block 97, H&TC survey, was drilling ahead beneath 8,129 feet in lime.

An outpost has been staked to the North Snyder field of North-Central Scurry County by Cities Service Oil Company.

It will be the concern's No. 1 Jolly, spotted 1,980 feet from west and 467 feet from north lines of section 393, block 97, H&TC survey, about nine miles north of Snyder. Drillsite elevation is 2,450 feet.

Oil Is Indicated

It is to be a 6,900-foot rotary exploration to test into the Canyon lime of the Pennsylvanian. Operations are starting by April 25.

Lone Star Producing Company drillstem tested its No. 1 Maule, North Scurry County wildcat, for one hour at 8,091-8,115 feet in an unidentified lime and chert formation.

A 2,250-foot water blanket was used. Recovery was the water blanket slightly cut with oil, gas and drilling mud. More hole was being made.

Location is three miles east of Dermott and 660 feet from south and east lines of section 451, block 97, H&TC survey.

Standard Oil Company of Texas has completed its No. 1-4 J. W. Brown for commercial production from the Canyon lime of the Pennsylvanian in the North Snyder of North-Central Scurry County.

On an initial production test, the well flowed 24 hours through a 12/64-inch choke to make 441 barrels of 44-gravity oil. Gas-oil ratio was 1,051-1. No water was present on the test.

Production was natural from the canyon open hole zone at 6,666-6,848 feet. Top of pay was picked on 66,56 feet.

This new producer is 660 feet from west and 1,980 feet from north lines of the lease in section 441, block 97, H&TC survey.

San Antonio Fiesta Week Ends Today

SAN ANTONIO, April 22. (AP)—The Battle of Flowers parade today brings fiesta week in San Antonio to a climax.

An estimated half-million people are expected to jam the narrow, winding streets to see the parade of the "happy days."

The queen of the court of gaity was crowned last night. She is Terry Emerson.

Other royalty of the queen's court includes 15 visiting duchesses from other cities. Visiting duchesses are Misses Patricia Murchison of El Paso, Peggy Monnig of Amarillo, Nancy Nixon of Corpus Christi, Carolyne Riviere of Tyler, Sally Brittingham of Albany, Ann Cleveland of Midland, Clara Pope Willoughby of San Angelo, Mercedes Baker of Goliad.

Annette Phillips of Austin, George Ann Brown of Fort Worth, Diana Callan of Waco, Trudie Elmore of McAllen, Carolyn Brock of Dallas, Joan Rice Farish of Houston, and Jane Ward Nowland, representing the U. S. Air Force.

Bitsy Grant Scores Upset Net Triumph

HOUSTON, April 22. (AP)—Bitsy Grant, at one time the little giant of tennis, is a surprising quarter-finalist in the 15th annual River Oaks tennis tournament.

The Atlanta, Ga., veteran, one-time Davis Cup player who wasn't seeded, yesterday upset Art Larsen, San Francisco, seventh seeded men's singles player.

Seven national stars complete the quarter-final bracket of the men's singles division.

Irvin Dorfman, national champion Richard (Pancho) Gonzales, Ted Schroeder, Bill Talbert, Bob Falkenburg, Sam Match and Earl Cochell won matches yesterday.

'Can't Understand Why She Killed Them'

Mother Held In Lonely Hearts Deaths 'Fine Woman' Says Son

SAN ANTONIO, April 22. (U.P.)—Young George Brennan maintained today his mother is a "fine woman," even though he admitted he helped bury two men she killed in a "lonely hearts" racket.

He told Texas Ranger Zeno Smith, however, that he still did not know why the men were slain.

His mother, Mrs. Inez Brennan, 45, Dover, Del., recently implicated herself and two sons in the brutal killings, apparently for money.

"I can't understand why she killed those two men," Smith quoted Brennan as saying. "We were never in financial difficulty. All of us worked and turned over our money to her."

Smith said Brennan spent more than eight hours dictating a 10-page statement after he was taken into custody.

Admits Burials

The ranger said Brennan told him he "helped bury two men" because he was frightened.

"I had to protect my mother."

The Air Force listed Brennan's age as 19, but he informed Smith he was only 17 and that he falsified his age to get into the Air Force after "tension" at home became unbearable.

Smith said Brennan's 25-year-old wife is an expectant mother.

The murders involving Mrs. Brennan, Delaware police said, were of Hugo Schultz, 65 at Concord, N. H., last October, and Wade N. Wooldridge, 70, at the Brennan farm home near Dover last Jan. 10.

PONIES WIN MEET

FORT WORTH, April 22. (AP)—A tie for first place in the final event gave Southern Methodist university a one-point victory over Texas Christian university in a triangular track meet here yesterday. The Mustangs finished with 61 points to 60 for the Frogs. Baylor was third with 47 points.

$100,000 Asked For Star's Alleged Son

LOS ANGELES, April 22. (AP)—Attempts will be made to get $100,000 from Wallace Beery's estate for an alleged son, Johan Schumm.

Maurice Rose, attorney for the boy's mother, Mrs. Gloria Schumm, said the $100,000 claim will be filed as soon as the executor of Beery's estate is appointed May 3.

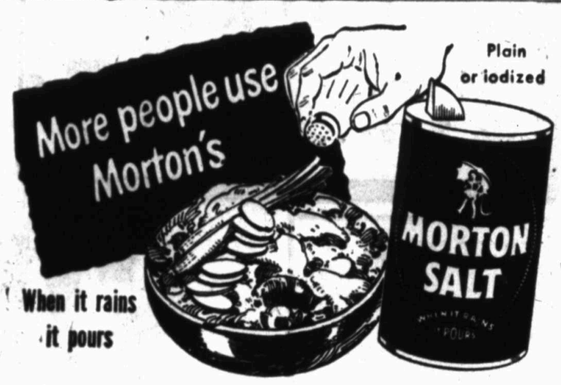

Mrs. Schumm, 32, movie bit player, in a paternity suit pending when Beery died last week, claims the actor fathered the child.

This Beery vehemently denied in his will: "Johann Schumm is not my issue, and I declare that under no circumstances is he to inherit any portion of my estate."

Attorney Rose explained that $100,000 is the sum estimated necessary to educate and bring up the child in the manner to which Beery was accustomed.

Beery's estate is estimated at between $500,000 and $2,000,000.

In another phase of the case, Mrs. Mary Areta Beery, divorced wife of the late actor, was appointed court guardian of the estate of their adopted daughter, Carol Ann, 19, who will inherit roughly one-third.

Aggie Muster Held In City

Strains of "The Spirit of Aggieland" echoed from the stock judging pavilion at Texas Technological college Thursday night as approximately 75 former students of Texas A. & M. college gathered for their traditional Aggie Muster, held each year on April 21.

In election of officers, Jack Christian, Littlefield wholesale oil dealer, was named president; Leon Ranson, Levelland, vice president; and L. O. Buchanan, Lubbock, secretary-treasurer.

D. W. Sherrill, Lubbock county agent, retiring president was master of ceremonies at the Muster, featured by a chicken barbecue and an informal meeting.

Wide Area Represented

C. W. Whitfield, 2408 Twenty-ninth, member of the 1913 class was the oldest Aggie present. Others attended from Morton, Ralls, Amherst, Plainview, Sundown, Levelland, Littlefield, Wichita Falls, Whitharral, Abernathy, Dallas, Brownfield, Amarillo and Floydada.

In the short program, W. G. McMillan, local contractor, reported on the group's efforts to get Tech in the Southwest Conference, declaring that improvement of the college's physical plant was one of the barriers keeping Tech out of the conference. Pressing Tech's application was one of the group's objectives during the past year and will be continued.

Dr. J. J. Willingham, head of Tech's dairy products department, read the traditional roll call and Prof. Ray C. Mowery, animal husbandry department head, dismissed the Muster.

The group voted to hold its next meeting on the occasion of a visit here of Coach Harry Steitler of A. & M., date to be announced.

Singing of the Aggie song closed the meeting.

A delicious luncheon salad is made by stuffing avocado pears with creamed cottage cheese. Flavor the cheese with finely grated onion and chopped pimento and garnish with parsley.

HAD NICKEL SPOTTED

DENVER (U.P.)—A bus operator stopped his vehicle on a busy viaduct, got out and picked up a nickel that was lying in the street. He explained to passengers that he had seen the coin roll out through the open bus door on an earlier trip and decided to pick it up on the way back.

Burlington Officials Pledge Better Area Freight Service

Better freight service and more cars for movement of grain and other farm products from the South Plains area were promised by officials of the Burlington Lines at a dinner given by the railroad officials Thursday night, closing out a day's inspection trip to the area.

L. R. Capron of Chicago, vice president in charge of traffic of the Burlington; and W. O. Frame of Fort Worth, general manager of the Fort Worth and Denver, a subsidiary, made the pledges of better service and more cars in brief talks at the dinner, attended by approximately 50 Lubbock business and professional men.

Praises Industrial Growth

Other railroad officials here on the inspection trip included: R. Wright Armstrong of Fort Worth, vice president of the Burlington in Texas; C. S. Edmonds of Fort Worth, freight traffic manager; M. G. Monaghan, assistant general manager; and W. M. Gray, general agent, both of Amarillo.

"Everything I have seen on this trip has pleased me greatly," Capron, who visited here two years ago, declared in his talk. "From all I see and hear, you're assured of crop conditions which approach those of two years ago when you raised bumper crops all over the area.

"Lubbock is certainly the bright spot on our railroad and its industrial growth since the war has been phenomenal. We want to do everything we can to promote Lubbock's growth and that of West Texas. If we don't we wouldn't be entitled to the job we're doing."

Frame said the boxcar situation looks better this season and revealed that several hundred cars had been stored to take care of the grain movement from this area.

"We hope to have enough cars to serve the area," he said.

Homer D. Grant, president of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, presided at the dinner and introduced Armstrong, who introduced the other railroad officials.

Guy Victory, local general agent of the railroad, was host for the occasion. The officials left last night for Wichita Falls.

Area Amateur Radio Operators To Open Meet This Weekend

More than 200 amateur radio operators from a 300-mile radius will attend a "Hamfest" in Lubbock Saturday and Sunday, and plans for their entertainment were virtually complete Thursday, it was announced by U. V. Blake.

Blake is president of the South Plains Amateur Radio club, which, with the Tech Amateur Radio club and the XYL club, women's auxiliary, is sponsoring the get-together.

Entertainment Is Planned

Entertainment for the wives of radio hams is also planned.

Registration will begin in the junior ballroom of Lubbock hotel at 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon. The men will then be escorted through the Texas Tech Engineering show and the women through the Home Economics show.

A buffet supper at the Naval Reserve Training center on the college campus will honor the amateurs and their guests, beginning at 7:30 p. m. Saturday.

At 8:30 p. m. a program of talks and entertainment will be conducted, and the program will be followed by a dance.

Sunday morning the XYL club will entertain the women with a coffee in Lubbock hotel, and concurrently, the men will have an informal meeting in the junior ballroom of the hotel.

An awards dinner beginning at 12:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon will see the presentation of awards to amateurs who have engaged in outstanding public service through radio during the past year. Awards are contributed by supply houses and manufacturers.

The convention is scheduled to end at 3 p. m. Sunday.

In addition to Blake, other officials of the South Plains Amateur Radio club are Rogers Orr, secretary, and Bruce Craig, program director. E. C. Pool is chairman of the publicity committee.

Mental Experts Study Motives Involved In Slaying Of Boy, 6

DETROIT, April 22. (AP)—Mental experts today studied the queer motives which led young Theodore Hilles to kill a little boy.

Hilles, 19, slow-witted and languid, confessed that he garroted and clubbed six-year-old George "Peanuts" Counter in a hotel furnace room yesterday.

Nine hours after the lad's nude and partly burned body was found on an ash-heap state police seized Hilles on a hitch-hike flight 50 miles from Detroit.

Addict Of Movies

A neighborhood "bad boy," called "backward" by acquaintances, Hilles gave a formal statement of the killing to Prosecutor Gerald K. O'Brien.

He will be charged with murder, O'Brien said. A psychiatric examination will follow.

The freckle-faced youth, addict of sensational comic books and movies, told police he went to a carnival and two movies after George's slaying.

At his arrest he muttered: "I'm sorry the kid is dead."

That was virtually his only display of emotion, police said, as he told of killing little George, factory worker's son. George was one of six children of Mr. and Mrs. John Counter.

Hilles, small for his age, spent most of his time playing with little boys and teasing them, residents of his neighborhood said.

Promised Victim Dollar

It was during such games that Hilles promised George a dollar and led him into the furnace room, according to police.

There he assaulted the boy and then choked and beat him because "Peanuts began to scream and wanted to go home," Prosecutor O'Brien said.

Police said the child's body was put into the furnace. This Hilles denied but he admitted he burned George's clothing "so they couldn't tell who he was."

Hilles' estranged parents said their son's main interests in life were movies and comic books. The youth and his father lived at the hotel.

"All he ever got a thrill out of was going to the show," said the father, Albert Hilles, a repair man. "He liked blood curdlers."

The mother, Mrs. Virginia Hilles, a waitress, said Theodore spent the money she gave him three times a week "on movies and comic books."

Private home builders in Argentina are failing to overcome the housing shortage as they cannot compete with the the Government for labor and materials.

Two Slightly Hurt In Auto Collision

No serious injuries were received in a two-car collision in 3200-block Nineteenth about 8:45 p.m. Thursday. A light 1939 vehicle driven by Edward Leverett Payne, 44, of 3711 Twenty-first, and a 1949 Mercury automobile driven by Donal Latimer Hamill, 18, of Levelland route 2, were badly damaged, investigating officers of the Texas Highway patrol reported. The Highway patrol said that Payne was driving west on Nineteenth street and attempted to turn off the street onto a side avenue. The lights of oncoming cars apparently blinded him, and he turned in front of the heavy automobile driven by Hamill.

The Hamill vehicle hit Payne's car on the right front, the impact causing Payne's car to turn completely around from its original direction.

The drivers were treated for minor scratches and bruises at Lubbock Memorial hospital.

North Dakota And Minnesota Handing Out Bonuses To Vets

BISMARCK, N. D., April 22. (AP) June 29 will be "B" (for bonus) day for an estimated 60,000 North Dakota veterans of World War II.

Brig. Gen. H. L. Edwards, state adjutant general whose office will make the payments, said that date had been set for receipt of applications. Bonuses are expected to average $450 at the rate of $17.50 per month for foreign service and $12.50 for stateside service between Jan. 1, 1941 and Jan. 1, 1946.

Applications will be unsealed and assigned serial numbers on July 7, with those received after that date to be numbered in order of receipt. Each application must be accompanied by a photostatic or certified copy of the claimant's discharge.

Official application blanks will be mailed to veterans outside the state on June 29, the general said, adding that stacks of mail now on hand from such veterans would be considered as requests for the blanks.

MINNESOTA GOVERNOR WILL SIGN BONUS BILL

ST. PAUL, Minn., April 22. (AP) Gov. Luther W. Youngdahl said he would sign tomorrow a bill giving Minnesota veterans of World War II a bonus that will cost the state an estimated $90,000,000.

Initiated in the state house of representatives and enacted by the senate last night, the measure provides a $15 monthly payment for overseas service with a maximum of $400, and $10 for domestic service with a $270 limit for the period between Dec. 7 1941 and Sept. 2, 1945.

Men in the armed forces five years prior to Pearl Harbor are excluded and close relatives of those who died in service will receive the full $400 under the bill.

Actual bonuses are expected to total $82,000,000, with administration costing $2,000,000 and bond interest $6,000,000.

Americans Soft From Easy Japanese Life

TOKYO, April 22 (U.P.)—Many members of the occupation forces are going to pot, according to a Japanese who makes a living on flabby muscles.

Seiichi Misu, licensed masseur catering to the foreign community here for 32 years, says foreigners are sagging more than ever these days. He blames it all on automobiles, cheap Japanese servants, liquor, and desk jobs.

Confidentially, he admitted that his rubbing and pounding would not change the shape of his soft-living customers, but they seemed to enjoy the delusion.

MEET THE MANAGER—William F. (Bill) Dean, owner and manager of Bill Dean Motor company, was born at Wellsville, N. Y., Feb. 13, 1898. He was educated in the public schools there and was graduated at St. Bonaventure college, Alleghany, N. Y. He was employed by the Bessemer Gas engine company for several years. In 1920 he moved to Oklahoma for that company, and in 1925 he went to southern Argentina in an engineer's capacity for the company and remained there about a year. In 1926 he was returned to Borger, where he remained several years. In 1931 he went to work for Magnolia Petroleum company. While traveling for Magnolia, he became familiar with Lubbock and its people and decided to move here and go into business. So in 1934 he began operating the Dean Supply company, wholesaling tires and other supplies. During the war his firm engaged in Packard service and at the end of the war awarded a dealer contract. Mr. Dean is a member of Lions club, Lubbock Country club, Knights of Columbus, and St. Elizabeth's Catholic church. Mr. and Mrs. Dean and one son, Bill, jr., a student at Roscoe Wilson school, live at 2608 Twentieth. Dean likes to play golf and baseball and fish when he has an opportunity. (Staff Photo).

Old False Teeth Are Used By Missionary

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. April 22 (U.P.)—The natives in Africa are hard up for false teeth.

If there's an old set around the house. Dr. Theodore Shanks, Presbyterian missionary dentist in West Africa, can use them.

Members of the North Park Presbyterian Church here have sent him over 27 full sets, six partial plates and miscellaneous odd ones.

New Luxury Hotel Is Ready For Tourist Business In Mexico

By CLAUDE RAMSEY
United Press Staff Writer

VALLES, Mexico, April 22 — The Land of Manana has a new hotel designed to fit the most world-weary traveler.

It's the swank $2,300,000 Taninui, built by Gov. Gonzalo N. Santos of San Luis Potosi State, the second biggest land owner in all Mexico.

The hotel was finished Jan. 29 but the governor and his Texas wife didn't get around to calling in the reporters until now.

Its attractions are many, all aimed for the comfort of the tired U. S. business man and his wife. But no gambling.

An enormous circular tile swimming pool is built over a hot sulphur springs where the water remains constantly at 104 degrees. Wild rose and gardenia petals drift down from nearby bushes to float upon the steamy water.

Pool In Cave

Another swimming pool is deep in a mountain cave from which gurgles Choy River. A genuine river, not a creek. Wild parrots frequent the cave high above the water.

The Taninul is only two stories high, but it stretches for more than a third of a mile in length. A single patio is longer than any corridor of the Pentagon.

Its bar is the Otates, or bamboo, room, a big circular room with the story of the three musketeers told in murals around the walls. Other murals all done by Ax Pena, have big sexy mermaids looking down upon the lobbies.

Tales of the hotel's grandeur are almost unbelievable.

One guest arose, looked for the dining room, and then ordered a cab for the trip.

Fabulous Owner

The man behind the hotel, the governor, is almost as fabulous as his hostelry.

He was wounded in the revolution 32 years ago, paralyzed from the waist down. He went to the famous sulphur springs in the mountain country of the Huasteca Indians, midway between the Rio Grande and Mexico City. They called it "Taninul," which literally means, "a place to fill your water jar," but is commonly used as "abundance of water."

Seven years ago he purchased the springs. Two years were spent in planning the hotel, four in actual construction.

"That sulphur water is for humanity," he said. "What we did is nothing compared to what God did."

Vast Land Holdings

Santos owns more land than anyone in the country except the Pasquel family. One ranch is 14 by 14 miles. One herd of cattle numbers 5,000 head, one orange grove covers 30,000 acres.

Rates at the 250-room Taninul run from 80 pesos for a single room up to 300 for the bridal suite. At the present rate of exchange that amounts to about $12 and $44.

But the rates include food, the privilege of swimming in any of the pools, the use of the Santos stables, and the privilege of hunting for deer, turkey,, javelina, jaguars, mountain lions, royal pheasant, quail, white wing, blue dove, grouse, ducks and geese.

India sent its first batch of settlers to the Anadman Islands in the Bay of Bengal—120 displaced families from East Pakistan.

Economic Tides Call For Reversal Of Truman's Program, Economist Tells East Texas Chamber

BEAUMONT, April 22 (U.P) — Economist Raymond Moley said today that current economic tides call for a complete reversal of President Truman's administrative program.

If the chief executive doesn't reverse himself then congress should, the onetime New Deal "braintruster" told an opening session of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce convention.

Now a contributing editor of Newsweek magazine, Moley said current conditions call for a decrease in spending, liberalization of restrictions on borrowing, and amendment rather than repeal of the Taft-Hartley act.

It is also a time, Moley said, when local government should assume their own responsibilities with zealousness and "increased competence."

SMU Professor Talks

Dr. Arthur A. Smith, chairman of the economics department at Southern Methodist university, also addressed the session — on "The Great Economic Challenge."

The canvention opened on a theme of "Facing Facts." One of the "local" problems due for close scrutiny was the increase of urban populations and the corresponding decline in tilling of farmland, a key factor in East Texas prosperity.

In his prepared text Moley referred to the Hoover commission's report on federal government and declared that waste is rampant.

"There is a waste amounting to something like three to five billion dollars in its expenditures" Moley said. "In short, without cutting any of the services now performed, it would be possible to live within our present tax structure, pay off part of the debt and end safely in the black."

State Functions Lessens

He charged that despite the government's "earnest denials" it is proceeding rapidly with socialization of the system of private enterprise.

He further charged the federal government with grabbing more and more state functions, even when it is already "swamped by its present load of bureaucracy." Its casting envious eyes towards the tidelands, he said, was a good example.

Economically, Moley forecast a coming period of "disinflation" and said it would demand a reversal by President Truman of his program as outlined during the 1948 campaign and in subsequent speeches to congress.

"There should be a sharp curtailment of spending in all lines that are not directly designed to encourage private investment and the consumption of goods," he said.

No Tax Increases

"That means no tax increases. It means a liberalization of the restrictions upon borrowing for consumption. It means a reasonable amendment, rather than the repeal of the Taft-Hartley act."

Smith, the college economics professor, talked on "The Great Economic Challenge." He defended this nation's economic system, but said that "democracy, like all social institutions, faces the challenge of adaptability to change. We need a new breed of statesmen, as well as a new breed of industrial and labor leaders."

Excessive Stimulant For Milk Cows Risky

CHICAGO, April 22 (U.P)—Farmers are being warned by the American Veterinary Medical association against excessive use of thyroid stimulants for dairy cattle.

Such stimulants as thyroprotein have been successful in increasing milk and butterfat production, the association said. The drug does it by stimulating feed consumption and using up part of the animal's body fat store.

The AVMA said the stimulants "can be fed in limited amounts for short periods without causing permanent ill-effects in most cows, but extended feeding of these drugs is likely to be harmful."

When used extensively, the AVMA said, the drug causes mastitis (udder disease), strong reactions in respiratory rate, heart beat and body temperature, and ovarian cysts, as well as weight loss.

Two Mine Workers End Long Service

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., April 22 (U.P) — The last colliery whistle has sounded for Gus Spicher and Thomas Edwards after a total of 133 years as mine workers.

Spicher, chief mechanic for the Loree division of the Hudson Coal Co., took his first job with the company 67 years ago. He was chief mechanic for the past 52 years.

Edwards, who began working for the Hudson company 66 years ago, served variously as a fire boss and mine foreman.

Administration's Crop Storage Plan Is Up For Senate Debate

WASHINGTON. April 22. (AP)—A nation wide system of elevators, warehouse and other storage facilities for major farm crops came up for senate debate today as one part of the administration's farm program.

Senator Elmer Thomas (D-Okla) told a reporter he hoped for quick agreement to changes in the government's Commodity Credit corporation with its $5,000,000,000 authority to support farm prices.

But critical Republicans, including Senator Williams of Delaware, said they have a lot of questions to raise.

Was Election Issue

The proposed changes in the big farm price-support corporation figured in the election last November. President Truman and his farm cabinet member, Secretary of Agriculture Brannan, then accused the Republican-controlled 80th congress of hamstringing the farm agency.

They contended the C.C.C. lacked authority to provide enough storage space for corn, wheat and other major crops under price-supporting government loans and that farmers unable to obtain these loans were forced to sell as market prices dipped.

Senator Aiken (R-Vt) and other GOP farm leaders heatedly deny this charge although many of them are supporting some changes urged by Brannan.

Doublecross Charged

Aiken and Senator Thye (R-Minn) have charged that Brannan helped shape the original legislation, and then told midwestern farmers the GOP congress let them down.

In general, the pending bill would give the secretary of agriculture authority to appoint directors of the corporation and assign them to other duties in the Agriculture department.

At present the Senate must confirm most directors, who cannot be assigned other duties by the secretary.

The amendments also would allow the corporation to acquire elevators and warehouses for storage of government crops, except for cotton and tobacco. Brannan said the agency now lacks this definite authority. He has promised it will be used only if private facilities are not adequate.

707th Reserve Makes Plans For Expansion

The 707th Bomb Squadron reserve met Thursday night with over 70 attending, Capt. Cecil E. Jennings, assistant operations officer, reported.

Capt. Jennings announced that paychecks are now coming through and an expansion program for the squadron is set to get under way.

Training flights are now being made, and it is expected that activity will be stepped up if the air base at Lubbock is re-activated, Capt. Jennings said.

Many Of Top Radio Performers Making Video Show Plans

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, April 22. — When will television become big-time? Next fall perhaps. Fall of 1950 for sure.

That's the way it looks after a survey of TV plans of most of the big air shows. It's apparent that most of the top television talent will come from the industry's older brother, radio. Here is the latest news:

Cantor Plans Show

Eddie Cantor — Will definitely jump into TV next fall with simultaneous radio and telecast for present sponsor.

Amos 'J' Andy—"We are working on an unusual idea for television and hope to come up with something in the next few months."

Burns and Allen—Going to New York in June to discuss a TV deal with CBS' William Paley.

Jack Benny—May do a monthly videocast in the fall; was happy with his debut on the local CBS station.

Bing Crosby—Definitely plans a TV show, but may wait another year; will do show on film.

Skelton Tied Up

Duffy's Tavern—Easily adaptable to TV because of one barroom set' may wait until fall of 1950.

Truth or Consequences — Did one show here on TV; waiting until kine-scoping is better or coast-to-coast telecasting is possible.

Red Skelton — Mgm contract keeps him off TV until December, 1952.

All In A Lifetime — Things To Worry About

PIONEER GROCER DIES

SAN ANGELO, April 22. (AP)—Funeral service will be held here tomorrow for E. L. Martin, 83, a pioneer San Angelo grocer, who died yesterday. He was a former resident of Brownwood.

Martin was president of Martin-Glover Co., wholesale grocers.

"Don't soak the immigrants," is the slogan in Australia, where the Government plans fines up to $4,000 for agents who demand exorbitnat fees for arranging passages to Australia.

Former Himmler Aide Is Martyr

Unwelcome Nazi Hero Arises From Malmedy Murders Probe

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, April 22.—The U. S. Cenate controversy around the Malmedy massacre trials will produce one unwelcome outcome—it will create a new post-war German military hero.

He is Col. Joachim Peiper, a handsome young former adjutant to SS chief Heinrich Himmler.

This tough-minded storm trooper, now under sentence of death, is a symbol to many hero-loving Germans of the war they lost. And from the allied point of view, he is a dangerous man for this reason: he isn't the type the German people should ever come to regard as a martyr.

Trial Investigated

A senate subcommittee is now investigating the army's prosecution of Col. Peiper and 72 other German soldiers. They were accused of murdering 750 American prisoners and 150 Belgian civilians in the wintry Battle of the Bulge in 1944.

The American army's quest for justice in this situation has been as confused as was the Battle of the Bulge itself. But unlike the battle, it has had no decisive impact on the German mind.

The original trial was held in the Nazi concentration camp at Dachau, hardly a scene renowned for justice.

Of the 73 defendants, 43 were given death sentences. But since then there have been two official investigations of the trial. One was military, one was by a civilian commission. And in a final review of the matter Gen. Lucius D. Clay reduced the death sentences to six. Of the other 67 originally convicted, 20 are under life sentence, 34 serving shorter prison terms and 13 have been freed.

Mock Trials Scrutinized

And now a senate subcommittee is hearing testimony that confessions were obtained by physical cruelty and psychological fear induced by "mock trials."

What other effect can all this have on many Germans except to make heroes to them of Col. Peiper and his co-defendants?

Whether the German mind can understand the American desire to deal out justice fairly and squarely in this situation is another matter. Certainly it is a sad result to have a man like Col. Peiper, as Nazi as Hitler and completely devoted to his anti-Christian principles, loom any larger to his countrymen.

He is the kind of man they need to forget.

Plot Is Uncovered By Texan's Arrest

PANAMA, April 22. (U.P.)—A plot for an armed insurrection this week in the city of David, near the Costa Rican border, was uncovered by police today.

In connection with it, police arrested former president Harmodio Arias, brother of Arunfo Arias, unsuccessful presidential candidate in last year's elections, and several other government opponents.

Police said the plot was discovered with the arrest of Wilson W. Brown, 34, a native Texan and former major in the U. S. Army Air force reserve. They said Brown described himself as an international arms peddler and confessed his involvement in the alleged plot.

The police said that a ship carrying arms had been sighted from the Panama shore but that it had returned to Costa Rica.

Churches Plan Large Merger

CLEVELAND, April 22. (AP) — The General Synod of the Evangelical and Reformed church has given final approval to a merger with the Congregational Christian churches.

The action makes possible creation, probably early in 1950, of a New United Church of Christ as the seventh largest Protestant denomination in this country.

The combined denominations have a membership of about 1,900,000.

Delegates to the special two-day session of the general synod voted, 249 to 41 in favor of the merger Thursday.

Invite Others

Before adjourning, they passed a resolution inviting other Protestant denominations to help make the new church a means of achieving still further union.

The merger, the resolution said, should be "just one added step in the direction of an every larger oneness of the followers of Christ. —We earnestly seek the opportunity to enter into union with all whose mind and heart are centered in Christ."

Between now and mid-June, the 34 Evangelical and Reformed synods will vote on the union. A majority much larger than the 23 required by the general synod is expected to approve.

A year ago the synods voted 33 to 1 in favor of the Basis of Union, a merger plan produced after seven years of discussion and work by a joint commission.

Interpretations Added

Last June in Oberlin, O., the Congregationalists' general council added to the basis of Union set of interpretations. That necessitated thursday's general synod vote and the upcoming synod referendum on the interpretations.

The Congregational Christian churches gave final approval to the merger at a general council meeting here last Feb. 5.

After the synods have acted, the way will be clear for each denomination to hame 350 degelates to attend a general synod of the New United Church of Christ. At that meeting the merger will be consumed.

Highway Dedication Ceremony Is Today

GAINESVILLE, April 22. (AP)—Texas highway commission chairman Fred Wemple of Midland will participate today in the dedication of the Texas section of the Blue Star Memorial highway near here.

The dedication ceremonies will be six miles north of Gainesville on highway 77. The highway runs in Texas from the Red river north of Gainesville to Laredo, on the Mexican border. It memorializes those who lost their lives in World War II.

Artist Loses No Time Painting Portrait Of Dr. H. I. Robinson

When Tom Hall decided to paint a portrait of Dr. H. I. Robinson, pastor of First Methodist church, he lost no time doing it.

He painted 18 to 20 hours daily and on Monday night finishing the portrait in eight days. A surprise presentation was made to Dr. Robinscon Tuesday morning at the Methodist Men's Coffee club meeting in Fellowship hall of the church.

Used Photograph

Hall, who lives at 2020 Main, used as model a photograph obtained from Mrs. Robinson.

A former student in Lubbock public schools and in New Mexico Military institute, Hall has won prizes for art at various times since he was in the third grade in school. Recently, a portrait, "Ruth," which he painted won in the professional class of an exhibit sponsored by district women's federated clubs.

The painting will be exhibited in the parlor of the church Monday afternoon at a tea following the Woman's Society of Christian service meeting.

Australia will offer half its canned fruit output this year to Britain.

Ship Captain Shot In Seat Of Pants

SHANGHAI, April 22 (AP)—Captain Peter Cassiet of the cruiser H. M. S. London will probably take his meals standing up for the next few days.

The skipper said today "I got hit in the seat of the pants" when Communist shells and shrapnel tore 23 holes in the British ship's hull yesterday in the battle of the Yangtze.

His wounds, he said, were painful but not serious.

A Chinese river pilot standing on the bridge within a few feet of the captain was killed.

GOP Senator Explains Problem Of Housing, Slums In America

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, April 22.—A simple explanation of America's housing problem and why there are slums and how they got that way has been given by Senator Taft, Ohio Republican.

In the Senate debate yesterday on the public housing bill, Taft, who supports the bill which would supply government money to help build homes and wipe out slums, said what follows:

In this country there are about 35,000,000 married couples, some with families. About 3,000,000 of them live doubled up with other families.

And of that 3,000,000, about one and a half million want homes of their own. But—

Cost Too High

Between five and six million present housing units are substandard and about half of them—possibly as many as 4,000,000—are in slums.

But why haven't we provided enough decent homes for people? The cost of housing is too high, Taft said. He added:

"If homes could be purchased for half of what they are now being purchased for, I do not believe we would have any slum problem or any other serious problem of housing.

"Today it is very difficult to build a four-room house for less than $7,000. A family would have to have an income of approximately $3,000 a year in order to live in a $7,000 house."

Forty-five per cent of all families in the United States—or 15,000,000 families—have an income of less than $3,000. With some exceptions, these families are unable to buy new homes.

Slums Replace Slums

That makes 15,000,000 families unable to buy new homes. And—22 per cent of all the 35,000,000 families in the nation—or more than 7,000,000—have incomes of no more than $2,000.

The amount of rent they can pay is so low that by the time they get apartments, their rent is hardly sufficient to keep up the houses. So those houses deteriorate.

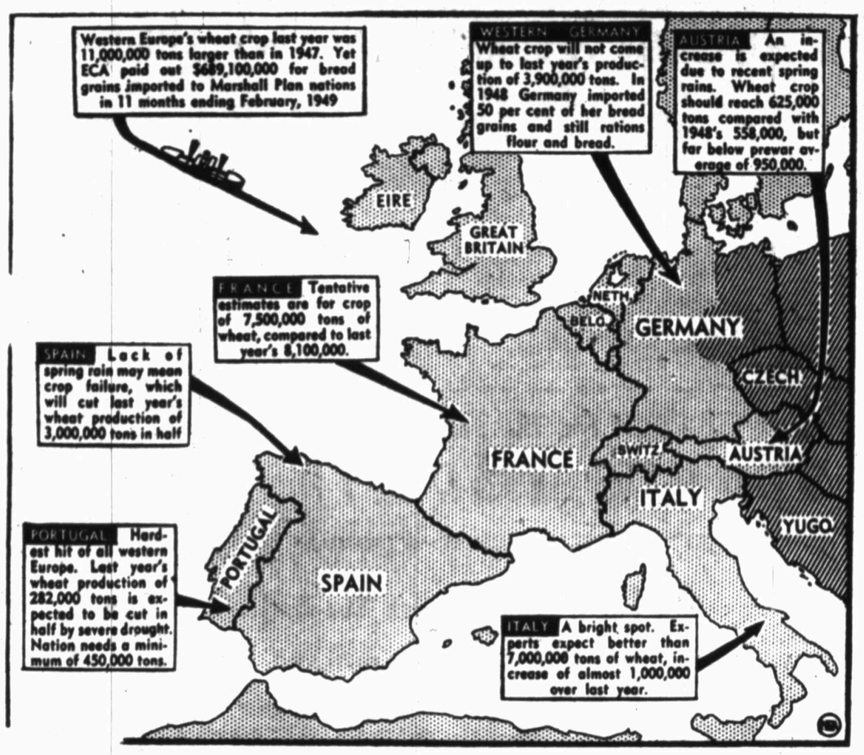

The slums are occupied by people who can't afford to pay even a "reasonable" rent and, said Taft, "the rent which is paid is so low that no landlord, even if using all the rent, is able to pay the taxes and keep the buildings in reasonably good condition. So they deteriorate into slums.

There you have the picture. The low income families live in houses that deteriorate. And the lowest income families live in the houses that have deteriorated most.

More than 4,000,000 families pay less than $20 a month rent. And, Taft explained, "the 4,000,000 lowest income families have gradually gravitated to the 4,000,000 least desirable, sub-standard dwellings."

If there were 4,000,000 houses waiting for them to move into and they continued paying $20 a month rent for them for any length of time, those houses also would deteriorate into slums.

In short, the history of American housing shows that over a period of time one slum has been replaced by another.

DROUGHT PERILS WESTERN EUROPE WHEAT CROP—Most countries of western Europe will need larger imports of wheat from the U. S. and Argentina this year because drought, due to lack of winter snow and rain, will cut crops considerably below last year's bumper harvest. The 1948 grain crop was nearly at prewar level, but still does not solve Europe's food problems because meat and dairy production is down and the population up eight per cent since 1938. This map gives the country-by-country situation.

Plans For New Play Excite Helen Hayes

NASSAU, Bahamas, Apr. 22 (U.P.)—Helen Hayes is a little excited about her next play.

It will be William McCleery's "Good Housekeeping." Miss Hayes will play the mother. In the play, she'll have two daughters. One of them will be her real-life daughter, Mary, who was graduated last month from the American Academy of Dramatic Arts.

"I don't know which of us is going to be most nervous," Miss Hayes, in private life Mrs. Charles MacArthur, admitted.

Mary made her debut with her mother in a summer stock production of "Alice Sit by the Fire."

"Of course, I blew my lines," Mrs. MacArthur recalls. "Mary was as steady as a rock."

Here for a family vacation, Mrs. MacArthur disclosed plans for the try-out of "Good Housekeeping" in August at Dennis, Mass. If the play lives up to expectations, it will be taken to New York in the fall.

Pasha Assassinated, Dog Mourns, Dies

CAIRO, Egypt, April 22 (U.P.)—Mabruk, the great dane of former Egyptian Premier Mahmoud Fahmy el-Nokrashi Pasha, has died of a broken heart.

Since the assassination of his master two months ago, Mabruk, who had been a constant companion of the premier on his many walks, has never been himself. He refused to eat. The last three days he did not touch any food at all until he was unable to move. Then one morning he was found dead.

Nokrashi Pasha used to arrange for the dog's meals himself. Jetblack and standing almos three feet high, Mabruk—meaning congratulations in Arabic—was devoted to his master.

BUSY AS A BEAVER

DETROIT (U.P.)—Carlos Gutierrez, rookie policeman, celebrated his first two days on duty by raiding two bootleg liquor places and a gambling house and making 41 arrests. Of the 41 arrests, he obtained 38 convictions.

Switzerland has given free vacations to over 250 British crippled ex-servicemen.

High School Driving Contest Is Proposed

High School students may be able to compete soon in a contest to determine the boy and girl safe driving champions of Texas.

Such a contest will be proposed to officials of the Interscholastic league at a statewide meeting of delegates May 7 in Austin, it was announced Thursday by George Berry, Lubbock attorney.

Berry is regional vice-president of the Texas Safety association, which actively sponsors driver training in the schools throughout the state. The contest is being proposed jointly by the Safety association, the State Department of Education and the Department of Public Safety.

Jester Praises Program

"Teaching safety to your people gives the schools one of their greatest opportunities for service," Berry said. "Governor Jester recently described the driver training program as 'The greatest safety stride of all.' A safe driving contest would stimulate greater interest in driving skill and would promote the spread of driver training to schools not now offering it."

The goal of the school safety program, Berry said, is for every high school graduate to get a crisp new driver's license along with his diploma. About half the secondary schools are now teaching safety courses, but only a part of these give actual behind-the-wheel training.

Students or graduates of approved courses, holding valid drivers licenses and never having been involved in a collision or a moving traffic arrest, would be eligible for the contest

The competition would follow the usual pattern beginning with the local school and continuing through district regional and state competition. Cars would be furnished to the schools by the Texas Automotive Dealers association.

Regional Meet And Vocational Ag Contests Set Saturday

Schedule For Events Given

West Texas students, estimated to be between 1,000 and 1,500 in number, from approximately 200 schools are expected to attend the Regional One literary and athletic meet, a division of the University of Texas Interscholastic League, to be held here Saturday.

Region One extends west to El Paso and covers the entire Panhandle area. Participating schools are divided into three classes, including AA, A, and B, according to size, so that competition may be on an equitable basis, according to Sam Leifeste, director general of Region One.

One Act Plays Set

With the exception of the class AA one-act play contest which includes only Lubbock and Amarillo, all contest events are to be conducted Saturday. The Lubbock and Amarillo one-act plays will be presented at 7:45 p. m. today in the auditorium of Senior High school. Other plays are to be given Saturday in the auditorium.

A schedule of Saturday's events, under direction of staff members of Texas Technological college, are:

Debate, Dr. J. William Davis, director, class AA, A, and B preliminaries, room 302, Administration building, 10 a. m. Class AA, A, and B preliminaries, room 302, Ad building, 1 p. m.

Declamation, Dr. F. L. Mize, director, class AA, A, and B all divisions, Agriculture auditorium, 10 a. m.

Schedule Is Given

Extemporaneous speech, L. G. Kammerdiener, director. Class AA contest, room 216, Administration building, 1 p. m.; class A, Ad building 210, 1 p. m.; class B, Ad building 206 A, 1 p. m.

Ready writers, R. A. Mills director, classes AA, A, and B, room 11, Library, 1:30 p. m.

Typewriting, Mrs. Ethel Terrell, director, classes AA, A, and B, room 316, Administration building, 10 a. m.

Shorthand, Mrs. Ethel Terrell, director, classes AA, A, and B, room 320, Administration building, 11 a. m.

Shows Are To Open At Tech

The 17th annual Texas Tech Engineering show and the 13th annual Home Economics Open House were to open at 2 p. m. today at Texas Technological college, the first of four events on the campus this weekend expected to attract several thousand visitors from over West Texas.

High school students, teachers and visitors who will be at the college in connection with the annual Region 1 Interscholastic League literary and athletic meet and the annual high school Vocational Agriculture judging contests are expected to add to the large crowds who visit the show annually.

The regional meet and judging contests are slated Saturday, with the exception of one-act play contests in the league meet tonight.

OUTSTANDING WOMAN OF 1948

Honor Is Paid To Mrs. J. D. Lindsey

Recognized Thursday night as Lubbock's Outstanding Woman of 1948, Mrs. J. D. Lindsey, of 1520 Avenue M, received tributes at the birthday banquet of Altrusa club in Hilton hotel for her various contributions to Lubbock life.

Miss Mary Boyd, Altrusa president, presented a loving cup to Mrs. Lindsey for "having been such an outstanding citizen, for having influenced the lives of so many people, and for setting such a fine example and presenting such a challenge to those who are to follow in your footsteps."

Pioneer Area Resident

Mrs. Lindsey was nominated by Lubbock Business and Professional club for the honor. The board of directors of Altrusa club, service club for business and professional women, chose Mrs. Lindsey from candidates chosen by various clubs in the city.

Mrs. Lindsey has lived in Lubbock county since coming by covered wagon with her husband and children in 1901 from near Albany. They moved to a ranch, the Cottonwood ranch, west of Lubbock, on which cattle then roamed in large numbers and which since then has been the sight of wartime flight training.

Sold Land For Base

Lubbock Army Air field was established on a portion of the ranch. Mrs. Lindsey sold 1,400 acres as site for the air base for $35 an acre, the amount set by appraisers as reasonable, making no effort to gain higher price. Two hundred additional acres later

Judging Teams To Take Part

Over 1,000 high school Vocational Agriculture students from Area 1 and 2 will participate in the annual official high school judging contests which will be held at Texas Technological college Saturday, according to Dean W. L. Stangel, head of the agriculture department at the college.

The agriculture education department under Prof. Ray Chappelle will be the over all supervisor of the event. Seventy-two high schools had entered one or more judging teams in the contests late Thursday. Deadline for entries is at 5 p. m. today.

Barbecue Slated

The boys will be special guests of the Plains Co-Operative Oil Mill at a barbecue held in Aggie Grove on the campus Saturday evening. Roy Davis is in charge of the barbecue.

Teams will be composed of three boys. They will judge in seven contests. Judging will begin at 8 a.m. Saturday and continue until 3:30 p.m. Contests which the boys will enter are, livestock, dairy cattle, dairy products, poultry, meats, crops and cotton classification. Results of the judging will be announced at 5:15 p.m. in the Aggie Judging Pavilion at the college.

OPAL DIXON

THE QUESTION

What is the economic outlook in your locality?

THE ANSWERS

E. B. HEDRICK, president, First National bank, Hereford: I'd say exceedingly good at the present time. We've been blessed with some good rains over there and that's what we wanted. We have irrigation too. Agriculture and cattle raising are our principal sources of income and a great many out-outside cattle are brought in there, too. There's been a little slackening of business as there has been all over the country, but I imagine that it's relatively small in comparison to the general situation."

M. R. SNYDER, president of City National bank, Plainview: Our crop conditions at this time are very good. Of course when we think of economic conditions, we think of agriculture, since we are in an agricultural area. I think everyone is of the opinion that prices are levelling off, but we don't look for anything drastic. Our deposits in our local bank are not down drastically. Since the first of the year, I would say as a whole people have a little less money than they had a year ago."

R. H. HESTER, President, First National Bank, Levelland: "Activity in this area for business to show a decline of any extent. Our employment situation should stay normal with tapering off of the inefficient. New industry will continue to improve our economic position in this area. We'll have a few ups and downs before the year is out, I'm sure, but all in all prospects look exceptionally good."

W. O. (BILL) STEVENS, vice-president, Republic National Bank, Dallas: "The recent slump, I think, has been a good readjustment and I hope it means a more or less normal position. March was better and April has shown increases. I think the February slump can be attributed to a late Easter. Reports give increases for department store sales over Texas. We face an optimistic future. It is so optimistic that our bank has already purchased a $2,000,000 site for a substantial building program.

W. K. CRAWLEY, executive vice president, First National Bank, Lamesa: "We've got a wonderful seasoning for crops in our area. . . . Better than five inches of moisture this year. At least 85 per cent of our land will go to cotton. There are some cattle on feed, but the most promising thing about our agriculture in Dawson county is the revival of the dairying and poultry industries. Our hatcheries sold more chickens than ever before this year. The recent leveling off was necessary, I believe, for everybody was spending too much money. I don't believe we're due to get any big decline, though.

J. O. GILLHAM, president, Brownfield State Bank & Trust Co., Brownfield: With good rains and pegged prices, it looks like most of our problems in this section will be minor. I think the outlook is exceptionally bright. We will have some price adjustments, no doubt, but on the whole we should have a prosperous year. I thing now we're suffering more from dour predictions than from real fundamentals. The experts may talk us into a depression, but we have no evidence of its appearance now."

ROGERS WILLETT, vice president First National bank, Amherst: "Conditions are good out there. We had a two-inch rain. Our whole territory is in better shape than it has been since 1941."

TEMP S. CURRIE, JR., assistant cashier, State National bank, Big Spring: "We've had nice general rain over our area and the prospects are good now for a cotton crop. The farm prospects are very good and so is business. People have less money than two or three years ago, but the outlook is not serious."

R. M. KENDRICK, president, First National Bank, Brownfield: "I think we've hit a downward or leveling off trend, but believe it is a good thing. I don't believe it will get out of control, but it's going to be a little tighter than in recent years. Terry county is in the best condition agriculturally in years. Wheat looks good and farmers are prepared for a good crop year. The oil situation is turning active and a lot of outside money is coming in from that source."

F. B. MEGL, assistant cashier, First National bank, Tahoka; "It looks mighty good at this time. We're in a cotton country and the moisture makes it look like we're going to have something like a 1937 crop. In our locality in general, it looks like we will be in ex-

THREE HUNDRED eighty-five years ago this April 23 was born in Stratford-on-Avon, in Warwickshire, England, one William Shakespeare.

Some say he is the greatest literary figure of the English language. Others say his works are a bore. Some even say he didn't write 'em in the first place but, instead, they were the work of one Francis Bacon.

But at any rate, everybody knows William Shakespeare's name and most of us have had to wade through some of his stuff, whether we liked it, or not.

Although you've heard of William Shakespeare most of your life, how much do you really know about him?

Not much, probably — so we'll give you some little known dope on the gent who could fashion words and phrases in ways both neat and obscene, and get away with both:

Most historians agree that Shakespeare was born on April 23, 1564, but he may have been born a few days earlier. Since his death is known to have come on April 23, in 1616, there is a probability that there is a slight error in the generally accepted date of his birth—William Shakespeare didn't spell his name the way we spell it. He spelled it "Shakspeare." Others spelled it "Shaxpere," or "Shakespere," and it is highly probable that the original Anglo-Saxon spelling was "Seaxbehr."

BILL'S Old Man, name of John, was a farmer, a trader and, latterly, a sort of peanut politician. He finally got to be city treasurer, then mayor of the town of Stratford, but he later went broke and also paid a fine once. He got stuck for permitting a dunghill to gather in the street in front of his home—which may account for some of the not so delicate words and phrases later used by his son as a matter of poetic license, or sumpin.

People also named Shakespeare haven't always liked to have folks think they were kin to Wm. One, name of Hugh, changed his name from Shakespeare to Sawndere, in 1687, on account of William's writings—in Hugh's opinion—had given the name a bad reputation.

At any rate, the Shakespeares of William's time weren't unduly prominent folks, which fact has been proven by failure of historians and palaeographers who have failed to trace the family back of William.

William Shakespeare married at age 18, his wife, one Anne Hathaway, being eight years his senior. Very, very shortly thereafter, Shakespeare's first child, was born—a girl, Suzanna. Later, he and Anne had twins and history records that one was a girl, the other a boy.

Shakespeare left Stratford as a young man, after doing considerable roistering in the local bars and poaching on the estates of rich landowners. He went into the theater in the most unimportant roles, finally landing in London. Later, he spent much time barnstorming with various road companies.

In 1592, when William was 28, he began to have sufficient success as a playright to bring down criticism from his competitors. Must have been pretty good to do that.

IN 1593, Shakespeare did his first serious poetry writing, turning out "Venus and Adonis." A short time later he achieved success as an actor and probably toured on the Continent, as well as England. Then he began turning out about two plays a year, acting in many, if not all, of them.

Making money handily, William went back to Stratford and, finding his Dad in hard shape, bailed the Old Gent out from various court actions on debts. With plenty of moolah in his kick, he had a local artist draw him up a coat-of-arms and became quite a fellow around the place.

After another shot at the big time in London, Shakespeare returned to Stratford to end his days as a country gentleman. He was popular with the rich, even though he ribbed 'em unmercifully.

No living person can successfully claim to be a direct descendant of William Shakespeare, since his only known son—one of the twins—died as a boy.

Shakespeare was never a "big rich" man, despite his success with the quill and on the boards, although he made a good living and spent freely. During his best years, he probably earned the equivalent of $5,000 per annum—which, of course, was worth five or six times as much as it is today in buying power.

Apparently he wasn't much of an investor, except for a farm, or two, and a couple of houses in Stratford.

WHETHER Shakespeare wrote everything to which his name is today attached is a matter about which authorities always have disagreed.

No doubt, he patched up numerous plays written by others and thu. got credit for some stuff that wasn't his. But it's a good bet that Shakespeare was the biggest big leaguer in the theatrical writing field of his day and that whatever Sir Francis Bacon did or didn't write, Shakespeare did enough on his own to deserve his niche.

Numerous paintings and sculptures of the guy indicate that he was quite a handsome Joe and the saloon gossip of the era was to the effect that he was something of a Cassanova.

But there's one thing about Bill Shakespeare that is known and which cannot be said of any other writing man in history, to wit:

He's the only guy whose career has enabled other men to make a living out of being authorities on what he did and didn't do.

Literally scores of men have spent their adult lives—and owe their earnings—to being "Shakespearean authorities," which makes G. B. Shaw and all the rest look like pretty small potatoes.

BY DREW PEARSON: A.F. OF L. SHOULD APPOINT INVESTIGATOR TO PROBE GRAFT

Local Unions Were Powerless Under Czar Berry

WASHINGTON.—The more you probe into the record of the late George Berry, president of the Pressman's union, the smellier the mess becomes. Also, the more difficult becomes the job of union locals to clean up the mess.

Five locals have now asked for a thorough investigation of Berry's will and the manner in which he robbed his own union. They are: San Francisco, Seattle, Indianapolis, Washington, and the chapel of the New York World-Telgram. However, the union's executives, who long let Berry get away with almost anything he wanted from the union's treasury, want to conduct the probe in their own way. They don't appear happy about outside interest.

PEARSON

However, for the sake of all other honest labor unions in the U. S. A., the case of the Pressman's union appears to be one where President Green of the A. F. of L. should appoint a trusted A. F. of L. attorney to work with the Justice department in protecting the rights of all union members.

Otherwise, it will be very difficult for union locals to act. For here is an illustration of what happened in the past when one local challenged the honesty of President Berry.

In 1920, the Chicago local of the union did challenge Berry, accusing him of using union funds to finance the Clinchfield, Tenn., hydro-electric corporation, which Berry owned. The Chicago local sued, proved its case and got a $165,000 judgment against Berry, in the course of which U. S. District Judge A. M. J. Cochran said: "It may be that in their wisdom, the union members may want Mr. Berry still to rule over them notwithstanding the findings made here. In the 1920 convention he said that the unions would fight like hell. That described him. He has fought like hell in this case to keep the truth from being known."

Berry Was Czar

The aftermath of this case, however, was most significant. Though the judge rendered a $165,000 judgment against Berry, it was never paid. Since he controlled the union, the judgment was forgiven.

Furthermore, the Chicago local which brought the suit was penalized. The union officers in charge were thrown out and a steward was appointed by Berry to run the union.

For years afterward, Berry ran the Chicago local through a steward. This he had the power to do under the union's by-laws.

Meanwhile, the U. S. treasury's files against Berry are almost unbelievable. The pressmen's head was given one year in jail for income-tax evasion, but since he threw himself on the mercy of the court, the government did not have to prove its case and none of the amazing details were ever published.

However, one of the unbelievable ways in which Berry cheated his own union was by buying a hunting lodge in Canada out of union funds for $7,500. Then he sold it back to the union for $24,000. In other words he sold to the union a hunting lodge which it already owned, and pocketed the price—$24,000.

Berry and other union executives were also allowed $9 a day for traveling expenses. However, they construed this to mean $9 a day whether they were traveling or not, and Berry drew that amount every day even while at home.

However, when he traveled, he had the hotel bill sent to the union so that he collected twice. This was in addition to the $9 a day.

Between the years 1926 and 1941 Berry reported an income of $74,000. However, the U. S. treasury, checking up on his revenue, arrived at the figure of $842,000 instead. And when they prosecuted Berry for income-tax evasion, it is interesting to note that Berry dipped into the union treasury to pay his defense attorney's fees — to the tune of $100,000.

In other words the union paid the expense of defending Berry for cheating the union.

Note—One reason for Berry's heavy expenses was that he was supporting two Mrs. Berrys—his own wife, and a Mrs. Alva Berry, who lived on one of his near-by farms in Tennessee.

WEATHERBEATEN Navajo and Hopi Indians sat in the thick-carpeted, mahogany - decorated room of the House public lands committee the other day and told a story of governmental neglect.

Shepherded by fortright Norman Littell, their counsel, the Navajos told how the most modernized country in the world has given them not one high school on their entire reservation.

With 24,000 children on a reservation the size of West Virginia, the U. S. government has given the Navajos schools for only 6,000.

Sam Ahkeah, chairman of the Navajo tribal council, told the story eloquently.

"It is difficult to sit here in this beautiful building and discuss the deplorable conditions on our reservation," he said. "In some cases our people must travel 400 miles over almost impassable roads to reach the nearest hospital.

"We need roads, hospitals, and —most important—schools," he begged. "Most of our children must grow up without schooling."

Eighty per cent of the Navajos are illiterate and 65 per cent cannot speak English.

Remarked Rep. John Murdock, Arizona Democrat: "If the Navajos could live on scenery, they'd be rich indeed."

Note—If the Navajos could collect royalties they claim from the Vanadium corporation they would be wealthy. They own some of the best uranium deposits in the world, through a technicality have had difficulty collecting royalties.

Spring Fever!

BY RUTH MILLETT: TO THE LADIES

The Feminine Viewpoint

WHEN they met and married he had only a high school education and hadn't planned to get any more. But she was set on his taking advantage of the G. I. Bill to get a college degree and was willing to work, herself, to supplement his allotment.

After two years of college, he is anxious to quit and get a job. He has barely made passing grades, though he has studied hard. He cannot see how college is training him for any job he wants and will be good at. She has told him that if he quits he will be letting her down.

Her letter to me, asking if she isn't in the right, brings up the question: "Can a wife be too ambitious for her husband?"

In this case I think the answer is "Yes." A girl marries a man who is as well educated as he wants to be and who apparently has assimilated about as much formal learning as he is able to take.

But instead of marrying him for what he is, she marries him thinking she will make him into the kind of husband she wants.

MAY BE SELFISH ATTITUDE

HER willingness to help out by holding down a job isn't any noble sacrifice on her part as she obviously feels it is. She is working not toward her husband's happiness, but toward her own. She is working for something she wants, not for anything that he feels is important.

If she keeps on pushing him along a course that has become irksome to him—she may ruin their marriage. And, of course, she runs the risk of killing his ambition by trying to steer it into channels that satisfy her and do not satisfy him.

It's an admirable thing for a woman to be ambitious for her husband, when her ambition takes the right form of expression, and when she stands willing and ready to help him get what he wants out of life.

But when a wife tries to satisfy her own ambition through her husband she becomes not a helpmate but a slave driver cracking a whip.

No matter how often she tells herself she is just giving him the push he needs, she is making a big mistake. For a husband doesn't need a woman behind him shoving him ahead. He needs a wife at his side, letting him set the pace—but keeping in step with him through life.

American Practice Of Naming "10 Best" Persons Denounced

NEW YORK, April 22—The great American habit of naming the 10 best everybody, as an exploitation dodge for private promotions, has finally touched such proportion that no ordinary citizen can fall into the feathers without wondering whether dawn will greet him as one of the 10 best wifebeaters or typhoid carriers of the season.

RUARK

I do not know whether a man can sue for being included in one of these things but it would be an interesting case to lug before the bar. Suppose, for instance, you are dickering for a bank-loan, and some blithe press-agent names you as one of the 10 biggest cafe-spenders of the year?

All I know, should they rouse me with the news that your correspondent has been chosen one of the 10 best baldheaded, pot-bellied, bag-kneed practioners of illiterate letters for 1949, he will flush a mouthpiece out of the mandamus marshes and start making noises that rhyme with torts.

"Lists" Are Assailed

We now have the 10 best-dressed women, the 10 best-dressed men, the 10 best-dressed drinkers of canned heat, the 10 outstanding authors, the 10 highest tax-payers, the 10 funniest radio comics, and the 10 best amateur dancers, according to Mr. Arthur Murray's studio.

I have a bulletin that Mark, the "famous hair-stylist," has just selected the 10 most provocative sets of eyebrows. He lists the dog-actor, Lassie, as owning the most intelligent. I also notice that the telephone operators' circle has named the outstanding telephone voices of the year. To keep up with our feverish times, a New York cafe owner also has put out a list of the 10 voices he would most like to wire-tap.

This thing has to stop somewhere.

Take Mr. Murray's little promotion. I doubt if he would like it very much if he were elected to the ranks of the 10 best baldheaded dance instructors who once used the GI bill of rights to help run the two step into a million bucks. But he did, and I didn't consult him any more than he consulted Mayor O'Dwyer, Joe DiMaggio, Tallulah Bankhead, Doris Duke, Gen. Mark Clark, Milton Berle, Bing Crosby or Leon Henderson. I doubt if any of them, with the exception of Mr. Henderson, has logged enough recent dance-floor hours to qualify for anybody's fictitious cotillion.

ALL I WAS thinking that being broadly publicized as a lounge-lizard might fit ill with Mr. O'Dwyer's political plans, or Mr. DiMaggio's athletic reputation, or Gen. Clark's military plans, or Miss Bankhead's lawsuit against the soap people, or Miss Duke's recurring divorces.

Mr. Henderson, the late OPA chieftain, can bear up under his nomination as "supreme in technical perfection in the rhumba," because Leon is a compulsive rhumba-dancer, who cannot take his rhythm or leave it alone. Mr. Henderson will collapse some day with his dancing pumps on, while the maracas go mad and the latins durch to the strains of "Mama Inez." Mr. Henderson invests overmuch energy into his samba, too.

But suppose none of these characters want a reputation as a willie-of-the-pickle-boat? What do you do, look up Mr. Murray's publicity man and clout him on the whiskers?

Battle Plans Revealed

My idea would have to do with the old business of battling fire with flame. I got my own lists. Say, the 10 best participants in juicy divorce scandals. The 10 best barroom brawlers, the 10 best alimony grabbers, and the 10 best child movie stars most deserving of a brisk hairbrush on the fundament. I was thinking chiefly of Margaret O'Brien, here.

I got nothing but lists—the 10 sloppiest dressers, most impossible table-mannered, stupidest, silliest and conceited citizens from all over. I got the 10-best fingernail gnawers, the 10 most dandruffy, the 10 most ill-tempered.

This is merely fair warning that if this innocent bystander ever finds his eyebrows, pants, feet, arms, legs, tax receipts or other personal possessions on anybody's "10" roster, he will fire without warning. One of the most potent weapons he is constructing for the future is called a shoot-list, for the 10 most likely targets.

A TRIUMPH IN THE CLOUDS

The experts were practically unanimous in advance agreement that the past Winter would provide the crucial test of the effectiveness, not merely of the Berlin air lift, but also of whether large and populous centers could rely upon air transport for supplies in huge quantities for long periods. Many doubted that the planes could do the job.

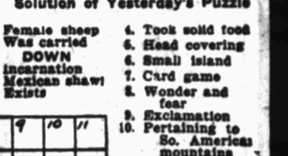

Winter now is virtually at an end. Supply lines not only were maintained, but were expanded enormously, reaching a peak recently of 1,398 flights carrying nearly 13,000 tons of necessaries—the equivalent of 22 freight train loads—in a single day. The Berlin air lift definitely was provided a smashing success.

The subsequent rumors that Russia is sending, or has sent, emissaries to the United States to discuss termination of the Berlin blockade remain unconfirmed. But, in view of the air lift record, the supposition is more than reasonable that, given the opportunity without too much embarrassment, the Soviet would like to abandon an undertaking which has been one of the biggest "busts" in history

f-Card of Thanks

CARD OF THANKS

We want to express our appreciation for the beautiful floral offerings, for the food, and for all the kindness shown us during the illness and death of our loved one. You made it easier for us to bear, and we would like to repay each of you in some way. We are thankful to God that we have friends and neighbors like all of you. May God bless each of you is our prayer.

Ever Grateful,

India Scooped World In Study Of Weather

SAN FRANCISCO, April 22 (AP)—A poet in ancient India, some 2,000 years ago, scooped modern science on the theory of clouds and rain-making.

A New York chemist, Dr. Vaman R. Kokatnur, told the national meeting of the American Chemical Society here that Indian scholars of that era realized clouds are composed of water, air, dust and radiant energy, a fact which was not discovered again until this century.

The writers of ancient India suggested fundamentally the same method of making artificial rain which have been developed recently, Dr. Kokatnur said.

After fighting a bush fire, Mick Saywalker, of New South Wales, Australia, is reported to have drunk 75 pints of beer in 75 minutes.

cellent condition. Our farmers and business men are both in good condition, even at this time."

WADE COOPER, vice president, City National Bank, Houston, formerly vice president of the Lubbock National Bank: "The economic outlook for Texas in general is very bright. Of course, we all know the eyes of the nation is on the Southwest and especially Texas. We base that statement on our experience in talking with outside people from week to week. I don't feel that we're going through a depression, but we're leveling off on the road to normalcy. Everything really looks good out here on the South Plains."

FRANK MATCHETT, President, First State Bank, Seagraves: "I'm not a defeatist by any means, but I think we're beginning to level off. It had to happen, but I don't think there's anything coming like the 30's. As for the South Plains, this area looks better than I've seen it in 12 years. In fact, this is the brightest spot in the Southwest."

E. S. LEE, cashier, Spur Security State Bank: "I am very optimistic for the future since our recent rains. Prospects in Dickens county are good; the range is excellent and the wheat crop outlook is fine; farmers are in better shape than they've been in years. A lot of them have paid off their loans in full, which makes for a healthy situation. We've got a lot of oil activity, leasing and drilling, which is helping us out also."

League Meet

classes AA, A, and B, are scheduled for 9 a. m. Finals in field events are to be held at 1 p. m., and track finals are scheduled for 2 p. m.

Tennis events, with Morley Jennings as director, will be conducted today and Saturday. Class A and B preliminaries will be held at Tech gym at 9 a. m. today. Class A and B semi-finals and finals will be held at 10 a. m. Saturday. Class AA Boys' singles and doubles events will be held at 10 a. m. Saturday at the courts north of the men's dormitories, while girls' singles and doubles are to be held at 10 a. m. Saturday at the courts west of the gym.

Awards to winners in literary events will be made from room 325, Administration building Leifeste said Thursday, while athletic awards will be made at Tech field.

SIXTEEN SCHOOLS TO TAKE PART IN PLAY CONTESTS

Sixteen Northwest Texas high schools will compete in the annual Interscholastic league one-act play competition beginning tonight, in Senior High school auditorium. Miss Annah Jo Pendleton, regional director of one-act plays, announced Thursday.

Three conferences will compete for the regional victories and a chance to go to Austin for the state finals.

Beginning at 7:45 o'clock tonight in the auditorium, the conference AA competition will see Amarillo Senior High school players present "Afterwards." That performance will be followed immediately by the Lubbock Senior High players and "Jazz and Minuet."

Conference A competition begins at 9 o'clock Saturday morning with Perryton, Andrews, Slaton, Floydada and Memphis high schools competing.

Conference B, which begins at 1:45 o'clock Saturday afternoon, will include White Deer, Morse, Friona, Lakeview, Whiteface and Canadian high schools in competition. Following a break, the conference B competition will resume at 7 o'clock Saturday night with Anton, Olton and Shallowater presentation.

Twenty-five cent admission charge will be made for each group of plays, Miss Pendleton announced.

Judging Teams

test will receive banners and the three highest individual winners in each contest will be awarded medals. Ribbons will also be given to the five highest boys in each division.

A grand sweepstakes prize will be awarded to the school with the most winning teams. Schools must have at least three teams entered in the judging in order to compete for this prize.

Tech students and faculty members will aid with the contests. The animal husbandry department under the direction of Prof. Ray Mowery will be in charge of judging livestock, meats, poultry and dairy cattle. Other faculty members who will aid in these contests are Stanley Anderson, Hubert Mathews and Koy Neely.

Plant Industry under Dr. A. W. Young will handle the judging of crops, cotton classification and seed identification. Jud Morrow and Earl Burnett, of the faculty, will help with these contests.

Dr. J. J. Willingham, head of the dairy manufacturing department, will be in charge of judging of milk, cream and ice cream. Some of the poultry judging and the meats judging will be held at the Keeton Packing company. Cotton classification will take place in the Government Cotton office.

Students who attend the contest will also have a chance to visit the Engineering Show and the Home Economics Open House which are also being held on the campus this weekend.

Tech Shows

than 200 West Texas high schools will have an opportunity to visit the college during the two-day program, one of the highlights of the spring session at Texas Tech. In addition, numerous townspeople and area residents visit the show.

Francis Miller, general chairman of the Engineering show, said final plans had been completed and the public would see the largest display of exhibits and demonstrations which have ever been presented in connection with the event. Eight departments in the Engineering division and the departments of physics, geology and Military Science have combined in an effort to show the public what an engineer must do to obtain an education.

Members of the R.O.T.C. unit at the college will direct traffic. Visitors will find the exhibits of the Engineering show in the engineering, textile and chemistry buildings on the campus. Student guides will be at the doors with programs for visitors.

Plans have been made to carry on an all day chess game by radio with students at Texas A&M. This, as well as a nerve tester, an antique music machine and a set of jumping rings, is just a few of the exhibits the electrical engineering department will have on display.

Chemical engineers will present a magic show with all of the various oddities of chemistry. Trick cosmetics, and the indestructable shoe string will be featured here. Textile students have their entire building open to the public. Visitors will be able to see just how raw cotton and wool is taken step by step into the finished fabric.

Other Exhibits Ready

Amateur physicists will be interested in the Geiger counters used in testing for radioactivity and the tesla coil which the physics department will have on display. They will also feature a candle which burns under water, a dry ice rocket an da hair micrometer.

The newly-re-organized petroleum engineering department will be set up in its new building to receive visitors. A deep well pumping unit, seismograph units and descriptive movies will be the highlights of their show. Several heavy types of oil field equipment will be seen on the campus near the P.E. building.

A continuous strip of paper from a model paper mill will be shown by industrial engineering. The Military Science unit will feature displays of modern weapons, raido communication, teletypewriters, bridge models, mines and mine detectors and demolition chests.

The Home Economics Open House is presented each year to show the type work that the department is doing in training young women. A highlight of this year's open house will be the showing of "Futures Unlimited," a 45 minute film showing Texas Tech and its activities. It will be shown in annex G of the Home Economics building at 3 p.m., at 7 p.m. and again at 8 p.m. today.

Other events on today's program for the open house include at 2 p.m., a tour through the kitchen of Women's Dorm 3. The institutional management class will conduct the tour. Visitors are urged to enter the building through the lobby of the dormitory, and from these guides will point out and explain the various equipment.

An exhibition of the metabolism testing apparatus will be on display from 3 p.m. until 5 p.m. in the lobby of the Home Economics building. From 3 p.m. until 4 p.m. in building x-25D, a demonstration on making and using decorative paper will be given.

Clothes To Be Modeled

Visitors will be able to judge for themselves as to the ability of the cooks which the department is training. Hot bread of various types will be served at all times during the day. The Home Management house will be open for inspection.

Two modern kitchens, one equipped with gas implements and the other with electricity, will be featured by homemaking students. A style show in which high school students of this area will model clothes they have made in class will be given Saturday. Tech students will act as commentators for the style show.

Two other movies, one on "Saving Steps in the kitchen," and the other entitled, "Freezing Fruits and Vegetables at Home," are also on today's program. The films will be shown in annex G beginning at 4 p.m.

Late visitors will be able to see all of the exhibits and demonstrations as the doors for both events will remain open until 10 p.m. Both the open house and the Engineering Show will continue through 10 p.m. Saturday.

East Texas C. Of C. Draws Resolutions

BEAUMONT, April 22. (AP)—A fight for federal economy as outlined in the Hoover report would be one aim of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce if a resolution drawn yesterday is adopted.

The 23rd annual convention of the East Texas group opened here yesterday.

The resolution was one of a number drawn for presentation at a general session tomorrow. Others include: support for the Marshall plan and the North Atlantic pact and condemnation of the state legislature for making biennial appropriations and estimating income for a two-year period instead of on an annual basis.

Arthur Temple, jr., of Lufkin yesterday said in an interview that forest fires set deliberately are eating away millions of dollars worth of East Texas timber. He is chairman of the chamber forestry committee.

Temple said East Texas lost $5,000,000 worth of timber from fires last year.

Mrs. Lindsey

were sold for $47.50 an acre. Tribute was paid to her unselfish manner in those transactions Thursday night.

In her tributes to Mrs. Lindsey, the Altrusa president said "Mother Lindsey has actively supported Milam's orphans home with her time, her self and her money; she has been active in the work of the Red Cross; from time to time she has made it possible for students to go to school; she has employed Tech students in preference to other people so that they might earn an education; she is a life member of the Tech museum and has actively supported it since it was first started.

Supported Many Causes

"She has for years furnished the Downtown Bible class a meeting place, thus indirectly influencing the lives of thousands of people; she is an active member of the Business and Professional Women's club; she was one of the first to recognize the need of a club house for the women of Lubbock, bought a life membership in the club and is one of its largest donors; she has given freely of her services and furnished food and clothing to those in distress; she acted in a most unselfish manner and was instrumental in locating the west air base at Lubbock, and she has supported many other causes.

"One might say briefly that Mother Lindsey has been for everything that has been for Lubbock, not only during the year 1948, but during every year from 1901 up to the present time."

The Lindsey family lived on the ranch west of Lubbock about seven years.

The late Mr. Lindsey built the first Lindsey theater in Lubbock in 1916, and he and a son, Clifton, operated the theater. They later added other theaters to the Lindsey group.

Mr. Lindsey died March 9, 1927. Clifton Lindsey died in 1936. Two sons of Mrs. Lindsey live in Lubbock. They are Ralph Lindsey of 2019 Fifteenth and Ernest Lindsey of 2004 Seventeenth.

Mrs. Lindsey is president of Lindsey Theatres, Inc. She formerly went to the office regularly and now conducts business which requires her attention at home.

Concerning her selection as outstanding woman for 1948, Mrs. Lindsey said, "It is an honor and I really appreciate it, but it is such a surprise."

Mrs. R. S. Wilkinson gave the invocation at the dinner. Mrs. Asher Thompson presented two vocal selections, with Mrs. James Atcheson as piano accompanist. Mrs. Mary Moore presented history aims and purposes of Altrusa.

The club was founded 32 years ago in Nashville, Tenn. The name Altrusa was taken from the word altruism, meaning "regard for others," Mrs. Moore explained.

Approximately 35 persons attended the dinner.

Women who previously have been chosen for the annual outstanding woman award are Mrs. W. T. Milam, 1946, who received the award because of her work in Milam's orphanage; Mrs. Lila Lenning, 1947, who was selected because of the endowment fund she set up at First Methodist church to finance a visiting nurse's program, and Mrs. C. R. Cagle, 1948, chosen because of her work with Lubbock Girl Scouts.

Mrs. Milam and Mrs. Cagle were among special guests at the dinner.

India's Status Is Weighed

LONDON, April 22 (AP)—A historic conference, to determine whether India must quit the British commonwealth if she becomes a republic, entered its second day today.

Several informants said they expected the touchy problem, important to Britain's crumbling empire, will be solved before the end of the secret meetings of statesmen next Wednesday. India's Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru left an hour's conference yesterday with British Prime Minister Attlee, smiling confidently.

Severance Expected

Nehru's rich and strategically important nation just south of the Soviet border wants to become an independent republic, owing no allegiance to the crown, but still to maintain some sort of link with Britain. She refuses any set-up which would automatically commit her to go to war.

If no compromise can be found, India is expected to sever her last tie to Britain, just as Ireland did. Neighboring Pakistan and Ceylon, and possibly South Africa, may follow whatever course the Indians take.

Representatives of Britain and all the dominions are attending the meetings.

The liberal News Chronicle described the conference as intended to "bring the machinery of the commonwealth into line with modern realities."

Glacial Rock Now Tribute To Nature

FITCHBURG, Mass., April 22 (U.P.)—One of the strangest monuments in New England was created and dedicated to the power of nature.

The monument, a 110-ton granite boulder perched atop Fitchburg's Rollstone Hill, bears a bronze plaque reading:

"This boulder, carried by the last glacier from Mount Monadnock, N. H., to the summit of a hill whose name commemorates it, was for centuries a landmark to Indians and settlers.

"Threatened with destruction by quarrying operations, it was saved by popular subscription and reassembled here, 1929-1930."

Hungary is seeking foreign trade with several South American countries, to obtain cotton, wool, coffee, linseed oil and hides in exchange for iron and steel, cement and caustic soda, Vienna reports.

GOP Not Committed To Support HST Program, Says Republican

WASHINGTON, April 22. (AP)—A top Republican today disputed Vice-President Barkley's statement that the GOP has a responsibility to help enact President Truman's legislative program.

Barkley told a Jefferson-Jackson day dinner audience in New York Thursday night:

"It will not do for any minority, by whatever name it may go, to assume or assert that it has no commitment, that it can still continue to oppose the program for which the people voted, because they were not chosen instead of us."

"Too Much Territory"

Senator Brewster of Maine, chairman of the GOP senatorial campaign committee, said he thinks Barkley took in too much territory when he said that the president's program was "approved by a majority of all of the people" last November.

"The president got less than half of the total vote cast and that vote represented only about one-fourth of the American people who were qualified to go to the polls," Bwerster said, adding:

"I fail to see where there is any mandate for the Republicans to support what Mr. Truman proposes."

Barkley contended that the Democrats always had been "liberal" in their views and have been "in the forefront for the welfare of the great masses of the people."

Brewster retorted that it's the Republican who really are trying to save this country from the "totalitarianism" he said is inherent in some of President Truman's proposals.

Record Cited

Barkley said the Democrats' record in the fields of agriculture, social security, international trade, housing, health, education and in the promotion of peace "has not been paralleled by any other political organization."

There has been disagreement among Republicans over how much of the Truman program to support. Senator Taft of Ohio, chairman of the GOP policy committee, told the Senate Thursday in support of the long-range housing bill which Mr. Truman has endorsed, that he things a $1,000,000,000 outlay for public welfare "is a very small contribution" for the federal government to make.

The Ohioan said he thinks the government ought to undertake housing, education and health and welfare programs to aid the needy. But he attacked President Truman's universal medical care proposal as "socialized medicine."

UMW Wants Shorter Work Week For Men

PITTSBURGH, April 22. (AP)—The United Mine Workers union is going to try to shorten the work week of the coal miner.

UMW Vice-President Thomas Kennedy says the union also will seek at coming contract negotiations:

1. A better distribution of mine labor so some diggers won't work five or six days a week while others work one or two days.

2. An "improvement" in the welfare fund. The coal industry now pays 20 cents for every ton of coal produced.

Kennedy made the statement to delegates of the International Labor organization holding a two-week meeting here.

It came 24 hours after George H. Love, president of the Pittsburgh Consolidated Coal Co.—largest bituminous coal producer in the world—urged the UMW to "see that there is no further increases in costs and that productivity is improved."

Ozzie Nelsons Want Sons' Contract Okay

LOS ANGELES, April 22 (AP) — Ozzie and Harriet Nelson's boys should find their radio work pleasant.

The husband and wife team court approval Thursday of employment contracts for the "exclusive" services of their own sons, David, 12, and Eric, eight. The contracts cover the boys on the Sunday radio show for 56 weeks, starting last March 4 at $200 a week each.

They'll work up to $400 a week gradually.

Belfast printers protested that its school hymn books are being printed in Holland.

'Sons Of Republic' Name New Officers

HOUSTON, April 22. (AP)—Randell E. Briscoe of Houston is new president of the Sons of the Republic of Texas.

Briscoe was elected Thursday at a meeting on San Jacinto battleground.

More than 1000 people observed the 113th anniversary of the Battle of San Jacinto by taking part in ceremonies there.

Other officers are Frank A. Gossett, Houston, vice-president; Bishop A. Frank Smith, John S. Hornbuckle, and John Crane McVea, all of Houston, Dr. Allen R. Woodward, Arlington, and L. W. Kemp, retiring president.

There will be enough whikey in South Africa by Christmas "for every man to have his usual bottle," David Alexander, of the Whiskey Shippers Association, said in Cape Town.

Scientists Say New Drugs Are Effective In Dropsy Treatment

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Staff Writer

DETROIT, April 22. (AP)—A new drug brings safe and effective relief from dropsy, three New York scientists report.

The drug is named thiomerin. It is a new one of the mercury drugs that make the kidneys secrete more water. This in turn acts to pull the collections of water in the body tissues back into the bloodstream.

Dropsy, the watery swelling of arms, legs or ankles, sometimes comes with heart and kidney diseases and also pregnancy and some other conditions.

Injected Under Skin

Thiomerin can be injected under the skin to provide longer lasting action than by injection into the blood, said Drs. Robert C. Batterman, David Uterman and Arthur C. Degraff of the New York university college of medicine.

Tests on many patients showed thiomerin is as effective as other mercury diuretics, they told the Federation of American Societies for Experimental Biology.

Another promising treatment for dropsy was reported by Dr. Samuel A. Corson and Elizabeth O'Leary of Howard university in Washington.

It consists of injections of concentrated alkaline sodium salts. It works with amazing speed in relieving dropsy in dogs, it was said. It starts to work in 10 minutes and brings removal of most of the swelling within a few hours.

An Expression Of Gratitude

This will serve to advise my many, many friends in Lubbock and this area that I have resigned as manager of station KSEL. This move has been contemplated on my part for several months, but it has been difficult to work out plans until this time.

I wish to thank the business men and my friends of this area for the many kindnesses you have shown me during my stay at the station. Your cooperation has been wonderful, and I wish to assure you that I will be ever grateful for every courtesy you have shown me.

Sincerely,

(Signed) CLYDE H. SMITH
