Wayne Tyrone, Snyder High School Athletic Director, is particularly happy over a letter he received this week.

The letter is from Bob Lilly, the Dallas Cowboy's all-star lineman.

The former TCU all-American forwarded his congratulations to Snyder High School athletes for their achievement in the Lily Day for Crippled Children.

The letter also revealed that the Snyder High group was the top Class AAA team in the state in the effort to raise funds for crippled children. The local youths collected over $340 during a Saturday effort a few weeks ago.

Tyrone said that all athletes in the high school participated in the effort.

A trophy for topping the Class AAA schools in the drive will be presented to the local athletes in the near future.

The Snyder High Athletic Director, who also is the head football coach, has his staff filled at SHS for the 1968-69 school year.

Two new coaches are coming into the system, and ironically, both are coming from the same school, Duncanville. Bill Bundy, backfield coach, was the latest addition to the staff. Alfred Redford, line coach, accepted an invitation to join the staff here a month ago. Both are scheduled to move their families here after the current school term is out.

And, if you think this is out of season, football will be the next sport to appear on the scene.

Interest in tennis has skyrocketed in the local public schools, especially during the past two or three years and it has been paying off in victories. Moreover, Snyder tennis players are beginning to make names for themselves in the college ranks. Gary Bell was ranked No. 1 at Tarleton State College this year, where he also was captain and named most valuable player on the tennis team. Gordon Stokes was ranked No. 2 on the ACC team. —WACIL McNAIR.

Vicious Winds Leave 70 Dead

Hundreds Hurt In Nation's Midsection

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The most vicious onslaught of tornadoes this year slammed across the nation's midsection leaving some 70 persons dead and a score of others missing today. Property damage ran into the millions.

Hundreds of persons were injured.

The clawing winds smashed structures in a nine-state area Wednesday evening and night. The toll climbed slowly today as rescue workers poked through the ruins.

Arkansas, a state periodically plagued by twisters, was hardest hit, with 43 dead. Iowa counted 14 dead and 20 missing. Illinois counted 10 deaths from twisters and severe weather and Missouri and Indiana 1 each.

The university city of Jonesboro, Ark., reported 34 dead and 350 injured by midmorning. The tornado bypassed Arkansas State University, however, and all its 6,000 students escaped injury.

Five of the communities hit Arkansas—Oil Trough, Tuckerman, Manila, Marion and Black Oak, are in the state's tornado alley, battered by frequent storms.

In northeastern Iowa, Charles City, Oelwein and Maynard were hardest hit.

The Red Cross estimated 60 per cent of Charles City was damaged, with 90 businesses wrecked or damaged, 300 homes destroyed and hundreds of persons injured.

In central and Southern Illinois, four were killed at Wapella and four in Freeburg. Two additional Illinois deaths were attributed to storms.

The Red Cross said Wapella, a community of 500 situated 30 miles north of Decatur, Ill., suffered 90 per cent damage. Every building in the small community except the high school was damaged or destroyed.

AFTER NEARLY TEN DAYS

Six More Miners Rescued

By HOLGER JENSEN
Associated Press Writer

HOMINY FALLS, W.Va. (AP) —Six coal miners, trapped nearly ten days two miles deep in a flooded mine shaft, were rescued early today and were termed "all in good shape."

They had been given up for dead since there had been no word from them since they were trapped.

The other four trapped with them since May 6 were found dead and their bodies were due to be brought out later today. Work had continued around the clock to reach the ten men though they were feared dead.

Another 15 miners, isolated a mile away and one mile from the mine's entrance, were rescued last Saturday.

The six were given a quick checkup at the mine entrance by Dr. Lee B. Todd and then rushed to Sacred Heart Hospital in Richwood, 15 miles away.

The six reached the mine entrance about 4 a.m. (EDT) and paused for a prayer at the opening of the long horizontal shaft that bores into the foot of a mountain.

At the three-story hospital, the men were shielded from newsmen while doctors checked them and they talked with their families.

"Thank God he's alive," said Mrs. Okie Galford of Baltimore, sister of John Moore, Jr. "We gave up hope after all this time, and we still can't believe it. He's my only brother and he better not go down that damned mine again."

Newsmen got a glimpse of the men who appeared cheerful as they sipped hot chocolate in their hospital beds. None appeared in poor condition.

Beside's Moore, the other five rescued were Joe E. Fitzwater, 33, of Rupert, whose brother barely escaped being trapped; Jennings H. Lilly, 30, of Mt. Nebo; Edward F. Scarbro, 38, of Richwood; Gene H. Martin, 34, of Clintonville; and Larry Lynch, 28, of Richwood. All of their homes are near the mine.

"You can tell the whole world that the Fitzwater family is the happiest darned family in the world today," said Mrs. Ernest Fitzwater when she grabbed a newsman in the hospital corridor.

The men had to crawl 800 yards through the 36-inch high tunnel to reach a battery-operated mine cart. This took them to a conveyor belt, normally used for hauling coal, and they rode it a half-mile to the mine's entrance.

Farm Workers Are Needed In County

Farm workers are urgently needed, according to an announcement today by Bill Estep, local office manager for the Texas Employment Commission.

He said anyone interested in farm employment may contact him on the third floor of the Scurry County Courthouse.

Third Cut In Oil Allowable

By JACK KEEVER

AUSTIN (AP) —The Railroad Commission cut the state-wide oil allowable for the third consecutive month today, setting the June factor at 45.2 per cent of potential.

The new allowable will permit maximum production of 3,485,366 barrels a day next month, compared to 3,512,874 in May under a 45.7 per cent market demand factor.

Written nominations by major buyers of Texas crude oil totaled 3,025,126 barrels a day for June, a decrease of 46,143 from May. The Bureau of Mines' forecast for June demand of Texas crude was 3,015,000 barrels daily, a decrease of 25,000.

Seven of the 14 top purchasers reduced their requests from this month, four sought the same amount of oil in June and three wanted more next month.

Texas' oil allowable started its decline in April, dropping from 49.6 per cent in March to 46.7 per cent, and was reduced another full percentage point for May.

Commission Chairman Jim Langdon said Texas crude oil stocks May 10 stood at 103.7 million barrels, an increase of 800,000 from a week ago and 1.8 million more than a month ago, but 800,000 less than at this time last year.

"The influence of crude oil imports is still below the expected quantity of average," Langdon said.

Nominations, in barrels per day, by major purchasers:

Atlantic Richfield—85,000
Cities Service—77,000
Continental—40,000
Gulf—223,500
Humble—573,000
Mobil—260,000
Pan American—305,000
Phillips—106,000
Pure—59,870
Shell—186,000
Sinclair—112,000
Standard of Texas—46,340
Sun—133,158
Texaco—180,000.

Sun, the only company to nominate by percentage, asked for a 42 per cent allowable, the same factor it sought last month.

Two Quakes Jolt Japanese Seaboard

By ROBERT LIU
Associated Press Writer

TOKYO (AP) — Two massive earthquakes, striking 10 hours apart, roiled the western Pacific and jolted 600 miles of Japan's eastern seaboard today.

The first quake, in midmorning, killed at least 25 persons and caused tidal waves and widespread damage.

The second, of similar size and from the same direction at sea, was recorded in Tokyo at 7:42 p.m.

There was no immediate report of casualties from the second shock, but the Central Meteorological Agency warned in radio and television broadcasts awa Aar Force Base, in northern would rise about six feet.

The affected areas were the eastern seaboards of the northern islands of Honshu and Hokkaido.

Police said in addition to the 25 known dead, eight persons were missing and at least 50 injured. Seven Americans at Misawa Eir Force Base, in northern Honshu, suffered minor injuries, but no planes were damaged.

It wasn't as bad as it might have been because the quake's epicenter was 93 miles out to sea, off Hokkaido, Japan's northernmost island.

The Central Meteorological Agency said magnitude of the quake at its epicenter was 7.8, above the seven-point scale used in Japan. It was the strongest quake since the Sept. 1, 1923, tremor that left much of Tokyo and Yokohama in ruins.

The tidal waves averaged four to five feet, but damage was reduced because they came at low tide.

Serious Disputes Threaten Talks

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent

PARIS (AP) — A serious disagreement appears to be developing in the Paris peace talks over re-establishing an effective buffer zone between North and South Vietnam as an important step toward scaling down the war.

U.S. authorities analyzing the problem are reported to believe that the discussions so far show it to be a real issue.

North Vietnamese representative Xuan Thuy, demanded Wednesday that the United States halt all military actions against North Vietnam, including "the bombardment of artillery based in the southern part of the DMZ" as well as air strikes there and elsewhere.

He also demanded that the United States withdraw from the zone, but U.S. officials said neither the United States nor its allies had established bases or sent troops into the zone for other than brief sweep operations.

The North Vietnamese have been reported to have entire divisions in that area, operating freely between their own and South Vietnamese territory.

In another area, the United States is working on proposals to support any Vietnam settlement with a peacekeeping system run by neutral Asian nations.

than 30 in a nine-state area from Kansas to Ohio —erupted as a strong cold front clashed with warm, humid temperatures in the mid 80s.

Shortly before striking in Arkansas, the wave of twisters raked northeastern Iowa. A funnel cloud roared through downtown Charles City around 4 p.m. Eleven were dead when the storm was over and police reported most buildings in an eight-block area were demolished.

Only an hour later a twister whipped into Oelwein, 50 miles from Charles City, striking first at the south edge of the community and then blasting a path through the business district. The highway patrol said two persons were killed in the city, two were missing and a child was killed just north of Oelwein.

National Guard troops were called out both in Arkansas and Iowa. Additional doctors, nurses and blood were flown to stricken parts of Iowa from as far away as Minneapolis.

The storms in Arkansas poured more heavy rain on sections of that state still flooded from heavy downpours earlier in the week.

Tornadoes or severe thunderstorms swept almost the entire length of Illinois, starting before noon Wednesday and continuing into the night.

Hardest hit in Illinois was Freeburg, near East St. Louis, where four died and scores were reported injured.

Two died at Wapella, in central Illinois. Communication was lacking with Wapella, and authorities feared the toll there would go higher. An elderly woman died of a heart attack after a tornado swooped across Natrona, also in central Illinois. A University of Illinois student was electrocuted by an aborted traffic signal in a flooded Champaign street intersection.

Severe thunderstorms sweeping western Kansas and Missouri unleashed several tornadoes in that region as well. One man was killed near Joplin, Mo., when a bolt of lightning struck a tree and jumped to a tractor he was driving.

Tornadoes swiped through central Indiana into the night hours, causing several injuries and considerable property damage southwest of Indianapolis. Baseball-size hailstones pounded some communities just west of the Indiana capital during the storms.

Transplant Patient Doing Well

HOUSTON (AP) — An Arizona accountant began his 14th day as a heart transplant patient today and doctors said they were pleased with his progress.

Everett C. Thomas, 47, of Phoenix, Ariz., one of only four survivors of 14 such operations in the United States, South Africa, France and Great Britain, continued in good condition at St. Luke's Episcopal Hospital.

John Stuckwish, 62, of Alpine, Tex., died late Tuesday after receiving a new heart May 7. He was one of three persons receiving heart transplants at St. Luke's. James B. Cobb of Alexandria, La., died May 8, two days after his operation.

In a speech Wednesday night at a Houston church, Dr. Denton A. Cooley, who heads the St. Luke's Hospital transplant team, said Thomas was enjoying "this adventure all the way."

"In fact, he said if he'd known cardiac transplant was this easy, he'd have asked for it long ago," Cooley added.

The other living heart transplant patients are Frederick West in London, the Rev. Jean-Marie Boulogne in Paris and Philip Blaiberg in South Africa. Blaiburg received his heart Jan. 2 and is recuperating at his Cape Town home.

Uneasy Night In N. Texas

AP WIRE SERVICE WRITER

Booming thunderstorms and at least one tornado gave Texans yet another uneasy night in the north central and northeast part of the state. Renewed weather violence was expected in the afternoon.

Blustery winds, rain and hail which broke out in West Central Texas and rumbled eastward were late to the same cold front that generated death-dealing twisters in four Arkansas towns.

Appearance of a funnel cloud in the southwest edge of Henderson County between Athens and Kaufman preceded by only a few minutes a tornado watch for 30 counties in Texas.

This alert remained in force until 3:30 a.m. although Weather Bureau radar indicated most of the thunderstorm diminished into no worse than moderate intensity as they surged eastward from near Dallas past Texarkana.

Plea Is Entered

Erskine Clayton Bourn of Snyder pleaded guilty in District Court this morning to a charge of driving while intoxicated. He received a two-year probated term. The offense occurred Dec. 14, 1967.

Last Week Counted As War's Costliest

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese troops launched strong attacks today north of Saigon and in the Central Highlands as the U.S. Command announced that more American soldiers were killed in combat last week than in any week of the Vietnam war.

U.S. Command said 362 Americans were killed, 19 more than the previous record in the week of Feb. 12-17. The U.S. Command reported 5,552 enemy killed last week, no record, while South Vietnamese headquarters said 675 government troops were killed, their third highest weekly toll of the war.

A U.S. spokesman said much of the American death toll resulted from heavy action in the northernmost provinces, where U.S. Marines fought several battles last week around Dong Ha, 11 miles south of the demilitarized zone. The week also saw hard fighting in and around Saigon as American and South Vietnamese forces crushed the second enemy offensive within four months against the capital.

Allied forces reported nearly 400 more Viet Cong and North Vietnamese killed Wednesday in clashes from the canal-laced Mekong Delta to the demilitarized zone. And today there were reports of more fighting in the Central Highlands on three sides of Kontum, a key provincial capital, and near Khe Sanh, in the northwest corner of the country.

The Communist command appeared to be trying to keep up the military pressure to strengthen its bargaining position at the Paris peace talks. It sent troops storming at American and Australian positions and South Vietnamese outposts.

Near Khe Sanh, North Vietnamese troops fought U.S. Marines from bunkers for 7½ hours.

The heaviest fighting was around Kontum City where an allied force reported 147 North Vietnamese killed in five hours of action Wednesday during which not an allied soldier was killed.

That battle was seven miles northeast of Kontum City. Today, in the darkness before dawn, North Vietnamese troops about 20 miles west of the city opened up with mortars, rocket-propelled grenades, flamethrowers and small arms on a patrol base and an outpost of the U.S. 4th Infantry Division within 400 yards of each other.

The defenders of the outpost were forced back to the patrol base, which retaliated with mortars and artillery while Air Force twin-engine AC47s armed with rapid-firing guns sprayed thousands of rounds into the enemy positions under the light of flares.

Bonanza In Chairs

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — If ice cream parlor chairs are of value to antique collectors, then Milwaukee County has found a bonanza in an attic. Howard A. McMillan, the county's purchasing agent, said Tuesday 326 wire-back chairs were found stored in an attic of a county-owned building. McMillan said officials don't know how or when the county acquired the chairs.

Arms Control Amendment Rejected

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate rejected today a crime bill amendment that would have banned interstate mail-order sales of shotguns and rifles.

The vote was 53 to 29.

The amendment was offered by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., whose brother, President John F. Kennedy was assassinated with a mail-order rifle. It was a key part of the firearms control legislation urged by President Johnson.

The bill itself would prohibit interstate mail-order sales of handguns and ban over-the-counter handgun sales to nonresidents of a state and to persons under 21.

Kennedy had contended failure to include shotguns and rifles in the mail-order ban would leave "a loophole for death and destruction."

The Massachusetts Democrat referred to the Nov. 22, 1963 assassination and to the slaying of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., last month as he told the Senate Wednesday:

"It is the rifle that has been the tool of vicious assassins who have brought us national tragedy and international shame."

And discussing slum riots, he added:

"It is the sniper's rifle, with its long-range and deadly accuracy, which throws fear into the policeman and the fireman who must deal with the violent upheavals which have plagued our cities."

The bill would also prohibit over-the-counter gun sales to nonresidents of a state and to persons under 21, tighten import restrictions, put new curbs on sales of such devices as mortars and bazookas, and establish tougher standards and higher fees for licensing manufacturers, importers and dealers.

WOMEN

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED — Mr. and Mrs. John W. Brinner, 406 Twentieth Place, announce the engagement of their daughter, Cheryl Anne, to Byron Dean Comer, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Comer of 3100 Fortieth Street. The couple have set their wedding date for May 31, in the Trinity Methodist Church of Snyder.

Fun Time Is Around The Corner

Don't sigh and gaze at the calendar, Mom, and wonder what you're going to do with the kids when school's out.

This is that time of year, to be sure, when such worry sets in. Parents picture long Summer days with time hanging heavily on the hands of lively children and brace themselves for the old wail 'what'll I do now, Mom', or 'there's nothing to DO around here.' They shudder a bit and mentally turn back the clock hoping to postpone that day in June when the children come bounding home, full of eagerness and joy.

But stop and think a minute. Isn't it better to concentrate on that eagerness and joy?

Forget the feeling of foreboding. You'll only annoy yourself and the children to, if you express anxiety.

After all, Spring and Summer are made for children. These are the seasons of growth, change and adventure. Why not share it all with them by setting up a really good environment for play?

This doesn't mean doing things with them constantly (after all YOU want some privacy too) but setting up an environment wherein they can be on their own or happily occupied with friends.

It doesn't have to be elaborate; it just takes basic planning: a combination of physical activity on big play equipment; group games (baseball, swimming); planned trips; spur-of-the-moment trips or leisurely walks (even to the supermarket), interspersed with quiet times for reading, painting, clay modelling, watching TV and times for privacy, self-choice and self-direction.

Don't try to stick to a set routine. Spontaneity is a good ingredient too. Perhaps the housework will play second fiddle, but after all, kids come first. If you happen to be an orderly housekeeper who wants housework accomplished before anything else, let the children help: simple, quick jobs for the little ones; more responsible tasks for the older ones. They'll enjoy it, in spite of the grumbling.

Of course there are community programs and Summer camps to keep children occupied, and these are great if the child benefits from them. But many a youngster would rather have a firm base at home, familiar surroundings and the freedom to come and go from his own house.

This time of year engenders a special quality and exuberance in play, a spirit that should be encouraged.

So don't despair, Mom. With a little foresight and planning, you and the kids can enjoy the coming out - of - school months, and you'll know the warmth and fun and friendship and excitement that comes from good play.

Mr. and Mrs. Mickey Sterling, Melisa, Johon Robbi and Zane visited Sunday in Snyder with Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Sterling.

Carry Load Silently

By AUDREY SACCO

HAMMOND, Ind. (AP) — Imagine women meeting and exchanging ideas without making a sound.

This is what happens when members of Hawaii Circle of the Women's Missionary Society of Hammond First Baptist Church meet.

They "speak" a language all their own because they are deaf. Ages of the 12 to 15 regular circle members range from 17 to 58.

"The circle was organized three and a half years ago," said Miss Maxine Jeffries, "when we found a need for it.

"Deaf people need help in religion and Bible instruction too."

They sing, say prayers, sew, do mission and white cross work at their meetings just like the eight hearing circles of the WMS.

Miss Jeffries feels there's nothing they cannot do.

"They carry their load just like the other groups and they know the same things are expected of them.

"Most hearing people," she said, "don't understand a deaf person can't automatically lip read just because he or she is deaf."

They must have the capability and training to read lips.

There a few women in the circle who lip read as well as well as "talk" in sign language, but all can converse in signs.

Language for the deaf is different. A word which has one or two meanings in sign language may have as many as four, five or six uses for the hearing.

"It sometimes gets difficult to explain what a word means as a speaker or guest uses it," Miss Jeffries said. "That's where the interpreter helps in getting the message and meaning across to them.

"The deaf aren't distracted easily, the noises around them don't bother them, so they make good workers," she added, "and we've been able to find jobs for some of them."

These women give bridal and baby showers and parties "just like the others" and can drive.

Mothers Honored With Salad Supper

The YWA's and GA's of Northside Baptist Church honored their mothers Monday night with a salad supper in fellowship hall.

The theme was "A Tribute To Our Mothers." Colors of red and white were used. Honeysuckle and red roses were used for table decor. Brenda Browning welcomed the mothers and Mrs. Carl Stokes gave a devotional on "Mothers and Daughters."

Those present were: Mrs. Jimmy Browning and Brenda, Mrs. Della Edmonson, grandmother, Mrs. Bobby Burney, Vicky and Vallary, Mrs. James Green and Shelia, Mrs. Claton and Iva, Mrs. Clint McCowen and Clintia, Mrs. Cecile Mearse and Mindy, Mrs. Robert Komma and Karan, Mrs. Carl Stokes and Kathy, Mrs. Willie Davis and Debra.

Buttercream Frosting

1 cup sugar
1 tablespoon light corn syrup
½ cup water
3 large egg whites
1 cup butter
2 teaspoons vanilla

In a medium saucepan stir together the sugar, corn syrup and water. Over low heat, stirring constantly, cook until sugar dissolves; continue cooking without stirring to 240 degrees on candy thermometer or to soft ball stage in cold - water test. In a medium mixing bowl, beat egg whites until stiff; very slowly beat in hot syrup; cool. In a large mixing bowl, thoroughly cream butter and vanilla; beat in egg white mixture, a few tablespoons at a time; beat thoroughly after each addition. Use as a thick frosting for top and sides of a sponge cake pan. Store in refrigerator. Before serving, let stand at room temperature for 10 to 30 minutes — depending on warmth of room. (After frosted cake is chilled, it may be covered with transparent plastic wrapping.)

Make soft after - bath slippers from cotton terry washcloths. One washcloth, folded and gathered around the edges, will make a slipper. Trim with matching cotton ball fringe.

PTA Holds Tea At Central

Mrs. Keith Collier presided at the punch bowl when Central PTA concluded its 1968 program with the "Awards and Appreciation Tea" in the school cafeteria. Mrs. Lee Palmer was selected president for next year.

Mrs. N. L. Whittenberg, president, made the presentation of a life membership to Mrs. Jo Cotton, who had been program chairman. Service pins went to Mrs. Preston Wilson, vice president, Mrs. Mae Kerby, chairman in charge of pictures, and Mrs. Elizabeth Beavers, publications chairman.

Mrs. Dorothy Miller was elected chairman of the projects committee, others on the committee include Mrs. Mae Fulford and Herman Trigg.

To each of the personnel working at Central the president and the program chairman presented a beautifully decorated cake baked by the home room mothers.

HUNDREDS OF LIVES AT STAKE

No Job For Making Errors

By PHIL THOMAS
AP Business Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Eight hours a day, six days a week, Michael J. Rock doesn't dare make a mistake in his job—hundreds of lives are at stake.

Rock is an air traffic controller, the man who keeps the big airliners away from each other as they fly the crowded sky.

"If you're controlling 30 planes with 100 persons in each, that's a lot of lives," Rock said in an interview. "There's no room for a mistake. The pressure is fantastic."

Rock, 31, a controller at New York's La Guardia Airport, is a founder and chairman of the newly formed Professional Air Traffic Controller Organization, PATCO. Since the organization's formation last January, Rock said, some 4,800 controllers have joined. The Federal Aviation Administration estimates the number of controllers in the nation at about 14,000. Other organizations representing these Civil Service employes include the Air Traffic Controllers Association and the National Association of Government Employes.

Rock said PATCO not only hopes to improve the controller's lot but the air traffic system as well.

"The whole system has been patched for years," Rock said. "It's just barely keeping up, and the projections for the increase in air travel in the next decade are fantastic. About 20 per cent of the population now flies. In the next 10 years, it's expected 80 per cent will fly.

"We need airports. More and more flights are being added and there's no place to put the planes down."

Finding the right spot for those planes to land is the controller's job.

A controller, whose salary ranges between $6,000 a year for a trainee to about $14,000 at the top, usually handles his planes vocally and visually, by radio and radar.

Depending on the time of day and the part of the country, he may handle as little as one plane at a time or as many as 30.

"But every time you go to work it's like fighting for the championship," Rock said. "And when you're finished it takes three or four hours to unwind."

Rock, a controller for 10 years, said PATCO planned to ask Congress to give more funds to build new airports as well as supply new equipment for present airports.

Proposed legislation directly concerning the controller also will be taken to Congress, Rock said.

Among the items to be sought, he said, would be higher salaries, with the apprentice getting $7,000 and the "front line" controller $15,000; retirement after 20 years at 50 per cent of pay; higher hiring qualifications, such as several years of college, and "no more than 40 hours a week except in emergencies."

"I've been on six days a week for more than a year," he said, "with no relief in sight."

GRANTED FELLOWSHIP — G. E. (Sandy) McPherson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Morrow, has been granted a full fellowship in the Institute of Contemporary Correction at Sam Houston State College. A 1963 graduate of Snyder High School and a criminology major at SHSC, he will intern this summer at the state prison and receive his bachelors degree in August. Then he will begin graduate work in September. With a grade point average of 3.8 on a 4 point scale, he made the deans list of academic honors and was initiated into Alpha Kappa Delta, national sociology honor society on May 6. He is married to the former Evelyn Starnes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Starnes of Snyder.

Animals Tabu At Zoo

Candidates Swap Verbal Potshots

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Renewed campaigning for the Democratic nomination in a June 1 runoff took both Don Yarborough and Lt. Gov. Preston Smith into Dallas and they traded verbal potshots without meeting Wednesday.

Yarborough told newsmen his opponent is "a counterfeit conservative who has and will continue to put aside the best interest of the people to serve that lobby clique."

The lieutenant governor asserted that Yarborough is "an ultraliberal who believes that the people of Texas will be led by shouting and pounding."

Yarborough's remarks were made at an informal press conference before he took time for the taping of a television program.

Asserting that Smith "has no real allegiances to conservatives or liberals," Yarborough added, "He serves only the special interest groups who make up the Austin lobby. My opponent's record is a classic example of 'anti-people' and pro-lobby voting."

Yarborough called on his rival to "get back to the issues" and said he intends to work for the Trinity River canal project because it is needed to promote industrial growth in rural sections of Texas.

Smith, in turn, declared, "It will be necessary during this campaign for my opponent to discredit the fact that I have served the people of Texas for 18 years. He will talk as if my experience has been forced on the people—as if I had not stood for re-election every two or four years."

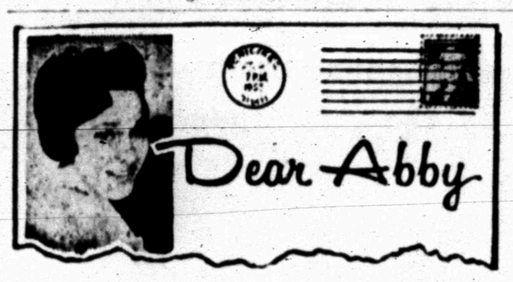

In speaking to several groups of supporters in Dallas, the lieutenant governor said Yarborough has made a career of losing political races.

Smith added that operation of the state's $2.5 billion government "cannot be helped by a shouting and pounding liberal—your governor needs a knowledge of the problems and opportunities before our state."

DEAR ABBY: I go to a private school and share a room with a girl I'll call Mary. She is a lovely girl from a very good family. She started going with a boy who goes to a prep school near here. I guess you could call it "love at first sight." They saw an awful lot of each other. Too much, really.

Well, Mary finally broke down and told me she was "worried." She thinks she's pregnant. She hasn't gone to a doctor and won't go to one because she's afraid her folks will find out.

She won't tell her boy friend. I'm the only person she has told, and I promised her on my life I wouldn't say a word to anyone.

Abby, she is starving herself to keep thin and she cries all the time. What can I do to help her?

MARY'S FRIEND

DEAR FRIEND: Implore Mary to tell her mother at once. If you do nothing more in your young life than to persuade Mary that in time of trouble her parents are her best friends and stand ready to help her, no matter what her problem is, you will have earned a star in your crown. If you fail, please ask her to write to me.

DEAR ABBY: There is a new assistant clergyman at our church who seems to be very liked by everyone — especially the young people. I was shocked and disappointed last Sunday to see him standing out in front of the church right after services smoking a cigaret.

This bothered me so much that I wrote him a note telling him I thought he was setting a bad example for the young people, and if he had to have a smoke he should at least wait until he could do it behind closed doors. He telephoned me and told me that he wasn't "proud" of his smoking habit, but he had it bad, and he would be more ashamed sneaking a smoke in private than smoking in public. What is your opinion?

CHURCHGOER

DEAR CHURCHGOER: I admire the young clergyman's honesty, but I deplore his weakness.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: The gals in our bridge club invite your opinion or comments about a person who sends a strange substitute in her place when she cannot attend without mentioning it to the hostess.

We have one member in our group who always does this. Afterwards she says that she owed "so and so" an invitation, and this is how she pays back her social obligation. We have never heard of this, and we all feel that if one of our members cannot come, we would prefer inviting our own substitute. (We all have friends to whom we "owe" an invitation.)

Several of us have gone to the door when we entertain the bridge club to meet a complete stranger who announces that she has come to substitute for "Frannie."

What do you suggest?

BRIDGE GALS

DEAR GALS: I suggest that you "gals" get together and vote on the method for providing a substitute should a member be unable to attend. Then give Frannie the word, and if she doesn't observe the rules, give her the gate.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: I did what you advised the mother of a teenaged daughter to do. I gave up nagging at her about her messy room and simply closed her bedroom door.

Today, my once-sloppy teenaged daughter is a married woman, and I can't believe what a terrific little housekeeper she has turned out to be.

When I visited her one day last week, I draped my sweater over a chair. She very indignantly said, "Mu-thurrrr, please let me hang up your sweater — you are messing up my whole house!"

IRS Wins Tax Judgment

EL PASO (AP) — The U.S. Internal Revenue Service have obtained a $480,000 tax judgment against Merced and Pedro Munoz, father and son owners of the Sun Furniture and Hardware Co.

They fled to Mexico and have not returned since being indicted in a gun smuggling conspiracy, agents said.

In October of 1964, Treasury agents raided their store in South El Paso and confiscated more than 300 weapons, including an antique gun and coin collection.

The federal court judgment entered Wednesday includes interest on delinquent taxes for 1960-64. Trustees of the Munoz estates, declared involuntarily bankrupt, were directed to sell the store property for $64,000.

The government also was awarded the elder Munoz' residence, firearms, the coin collection, merchandise and fixtures from the store and cash surrender value of a 2,500 fire insurance policy.

Czechoslovak Liberals Look To US For Encouragement

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

PRAGUE (AP) — Some highly placed Czechoslovak Communists who stand for liberalization of the regime express hope privately for a gesture from the United States which might bolster their morale in what looks like an uphill fight against Moscow-inspired pressure.

Non-Communist sources point out, however, that anything beyond a gesture might add danger to an already potentially explosive situation developing between Czechoslovakia and other members of the Communist bloc.

Communist informants say the United States, without appearing to interfere in the current situation, could do two things which might help both materially and in terms of morale in a country whose economic problems present formidable barriers to liberalization.

One of these, the informants says, would be to extend most-favored-nation status to Czechoslovakia in trade with the United States. The other would be to reach an agreement in the deadlocked quarrel over $20 million worth of Czechoslovak gold impounded by the United States since World War II.

American trade with Communist Czechoslovakia reached a peak in 1966, an over-all exchange figure of $65 million. The United States sold this country mostly grain, fertilizers and other agricultural products. Last year, the trade figure fell off by half.

The present regime, under Alexander Dubcek, first secretary of the Communist party, has made clear it would like most-favored-nation treatment. The policy of the U.S. administration is that an agreement should be negotiated.

The administration favors similar procedures in the case of Romania, also a maverick in the European Communist camp. However, the U.S. Congress has been unwilling to act.

The gold in question is Czechoslovakia's share of what was looted by the Nazis in Europe during the war. The United States, as a victor nation, pledged itself to seek the rightful owners. The gold was impounded.

Since the Communist takeover in Czechoslovakia, however, and the subsequent nationalization of all property, including that of foreigners, American citizens have registered $72 million in claims, plus $41 million more in interest.

After the Communist takeover, the United States also confiscated a steel mill for which the previous non-Communist Czechoslovak government paid $17 million. The United States subsequently sold it for $9 million, which was applied against some of the claims. The present Prague government insists that the $17 million is deductible from any bill presented by the Americans.

There have been long and fruitless negotiations about the gold. The Czechoslovaks say the Americans agreed in 1961 on a lower claims figure. The United States did imply it might forget about the interest.

A Junior Editors Quiz About VENICE

QUESTION: Why does Venice have streets of water?

* * * *

ANSWER: "Flee from the barbarians" was the cry when Attila, king of the Huns, swept down from the north toward Italy in 425 A.D. Many fugitives sought shelter on a group of small muddy islands in a lagoon near the head of the Adriatic Sea. Finding safety in a troubled period, they became permanent settlers. So that they could put up buildings, they drove stakes deep into the mud (upper right). Since there was hardly any land for farming they built ships and began to trade with the rich nations to the east. The openings between islands became the famous canals and were bridged over. Other canals were dredged out, making waterways for streets with boats for vehicles. So arose the famous city of Venice. The Venetians developed a special boat to carry passengers and goods around the city. Still in use today, the long, graceful gondolas are propelled by gondoliers, who stand in the stern, using a long oar or sweep. Read some more about the history of this fascinating city.

Boyle's Still Searching For Peace

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — My bathroom has many advantages. It is cozy, well-heated, has comfortable seating and a ready reference library that will at least measure up to that found in the average dentist's office.

But for 20 years I have tried to find peace in that bathroom —and it simply can't be done.

Every American boy is inspired by the fact he has a chance to grow up and become president of the United States—or at least earn enough money to have a bathroom of his very own.

This is unlikely, particularly in the case of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, who has an 11th child on the way. If he yearns for a bathroom of his own, he'd do better to forget the White House and set his sights on taking over the Pentagon.

When I graduated to a two-bathroom apartment two decades ago, I patted the tiled walls in joy. I thought that at least I had achieved one of my lifelong dreams—a stall shower of my own, a place where I could come and sit and brood and fill out my income tax returns undisturbed.

It was to be my private ivory tower, my monk's cell, my hermitage, my retreat from the world that seems always too much with us.

What a delusion!

It started with a simple question from Frances, my wife: "You don't mind if I hang a few stockings to dry in your stall shower, do you?"

"No, of course not," I answered.

I was like the kindly Arab who let the camel stick its nose into his tent to get warm and soon found himself crowded out by the animal.

My bathroom is now a forest of bottled lady lotions and dripping feminine finery. It has become a laundry for Frances and our teen-age daughter, Tracy Ann.

They wash their hair there, too, do their fingernails there, and use it as a conference room to cook up family plots against me.

Our cat, Lady Dottie, now also has her box in my bathroom. Where else? Believe me, friend, you may have had trouble in your life, but you don't know what trouble is until, on a harried Monday morning, you rush into a stall shower and stub your toe on a steel pan full of moist cat gravel.

Now, when someone knocks on my bathroom door, I never know whether it'll be a member of the family, a visiting Elk, the neighborhood scissors grinder, or a kid selling Girl Scout cookies.

But whoever it is, each asks the same thing in a tone of complaint and accusation:

"What are you doing in there?"

What am I doing in there? I'm doing what those diplomats are doing in Paris. Just trying to find a little peace.

The institute is sponsored by the Universities of Texas, Colorado, Kansas, and Washington University in St. Louis. It is supported by National Defense Education Act funds.

DO WE WANT TO CHANCE IT ?

Czechoslovak Liberals Look To US For Encouragement

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

PRAGUE (AP) — Some highly placed Czechoslovak Communists who stand for liberalization of the regime express hope privately for a gesture from the United States which might bolster their morale in what looks like an uphill fight against Moscow-inspired pressure.

Non-Communist sources point out, however, that anything beyond a gesture might add danger to an already potentially explosive situation developing between Czechoslovakia and other members of the Communist bloc.

Communist informants say the United States, without appearing to interfere in the current situation, could do two things which might help both materially and in terms of morale in a country whose economic problems present formidable barriers to liberalization.

One of these, the informants says, would be to extend most-favored-nation status to Czechoslovakia in trade with the United States. The other would be to reach an agreement in the deadlocked quarrel over $20 million worth of Czechoslovak gold impounded by the United States since World War II.

American trade with Communist Czechoslovakia reached a peak in 1966, an over-all exchange figure of $65 million. The United States sold this country mostly grain, fertilizers and other agricultural products. Last year, the trade figure fell off by half.

The present regime, under Alexander Dubcek, first secretary of the Communist party, has made clear it would like most-favored-nation treatment. The policy of the U.S. administration is that an agreement should be negotiated.

The administration favors similar procedures in the case of Romania, also a maverick in the European Communist camp. However, the U.S. Congress has been unwilling to act.

The gold in question is Czechoslovakia's share of what was looted by the Nazis in Europe during the war. The United States, as a victor nation, pledged itself to seek the rightful owners. The gold was impounded.

Since the Communist takeover in Czechoslovakia, however, and the subsequent nationalization of all property, including that of foreigners, American citizens have registered $72 million in claims, plus $41 million more in interest.

After the Communist takeover, the United States also confiscated a steel mill for which the previous non-Communist Czechoslovak government paid $17 million. The United States subsequently sold it for $9 million, which was applied against some of the claims. The present Prague government insists that the $17 million is deductible from any bill presented by the Americans.

There have been long and fruitless negotiations about the gold. The Czechoslovaks say the Americans agreed in 1961 on a lower claims figure. The United States did imply it might forget about the interest.

A Junior Editors Quiz About VENICE

QUESTION: Why does Venice have streets of water?

* * * *

ANSWER: "Flee from the barbarians" was the cry when Attila, king of the Huns, swept down from the north toward Italy in 425 A.D. Many fugitives sought shelter on a group of small muddy islands in a lagoon near the head of the Adriatic Sea. Finding safety in a troubled period, they became permanent settlers. So that they could put up buildings, they drove stakes deep into the mud (upper right). Since there was hardly any land for farming they built ships and began to trade with the rich nations to the east. The openings between islands became the famous canals and were bridged over. Other canals were dredged out, making waterways for streets with boats for vehicles. So arose the famous city of Venice. The Venetians developed a special boat to carry passengers and goods around the city. Still in use today, the long, graceful gondolas are propelled by gondoliers, who stand in the stern, using a long oar or sweep. Read some more about the history of this fascinating city.

Boyle's Still Searching For Peace

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — My bathroom has many advantages. It is cozy, well-heated, has comfortable seating and a ready reference library that will at least measure up to that found in the average dentist's office.

But for 20 years I have tried to find peace in that bathroom —and it simply can't be done.

Every American boy is inspired by the fact he has a chance to grow up and become president of the United States—or at least earn enough money to have a bathroom of his very own.

This is unlikely, particularly in the case of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, who has an 11th child on the way. If he yearns for a bathroom of his own, he'd do better to forget the White House and set his sights on taking over the Pentagon.

When I graduated to a two-bathroom apartment two decades ago, I patted the tiled walls in joy. I thought that at least I had achieved one of my lifelong dreams—a stall shower of my own, a place where I could come and sit and brood and fill out my income tax returns undisturbed.

It was to be my private ivory tower, my monk's cell, my hermitage, my retreat from the world that seems always too much with us.

What a delusion!

It started with a simple question from Frances, my wife: "You don't mind if I hang a few stockings to dry in your stall shower, do you?"

"No, of course not," I answered.

I was like the kindly Arab who let the camel stick its nose into his tent to get warm and soon found himself crowded out by the animal.

My bathroom is now a forest of bottled lady lotions and dripping feminine finery. It has become a laundry for Frances and our teen-age daughter, Tracy Ann.

They wash their hair there, too, do their fingernails there, and use it as a conference room to cook up family plots against me.

Our cat, Lady Dottie, now also has her box in my bathroom. Where else? Believe me, friend, you may have had trouble in your life, but you don't know what trouble is until, on a harried Monday morning, you rush into a stall shower and stub your toe on a steel pan full of moist cat gravel.

Now, when someone knocks on my bathroom door, I never know whether it'll be a member of the family, a visiting Elk, the neighborhood scissors grinder, or a kid selling Girl Scout cookies.

But whoever it is, each asks the same thing in a tone of complaint and accusation:

"What are you doing in there?"

What am I doing in there? I'm doing what those diplomats are doing in Paris. Just trying to find a little peace.

Compressed Course In Chinese, Japanese

AUSTIN (AP) — A summer institute in Chinese and Japanese is being offered at the University of Texas.

Participants compress a year's work into 10 weeks by doing four hours of classroom work and one hour in the language laboratory each day, plus other work.

The institute is sponsored by the Universities of Texas, Colorado, Kansas, and Washington University in St. Louis. It is supported by National Defense Education Act funds.

Panel To Probe TU Dismissal

AUSTIN (AP) — The University of Texas committee on academic freedom will be asked to inquire into the case of a faculty member who has been told his services will be terminated next year, a group of professors has decided.

He is Larry Caroline, an assistant professor of philosophy who has called in speeches for a revolution in this country and steps to abolish private property.

After 90 minutes of debate, however, the professors rejected a proposed statement that "because of the way in which the Caroline case has developed, an atmosphere now exists which tends to intimidate those who wish to speak out on controversial issues."

Dr. Rainer K. Sachs of the physics department urged that such a statement be delivered to the campus chapter of the American Association of University Professors. It was disapproved by an apparently close voice vote.

Sachs said, "the chairman of the board of regents (Frank Erwin) in effect prejudiced the case in the newspapers." He also mentioned "intervention of a dean in a department matter," apparently referring to Dr. John Silber, dean of the school of arts and sciences.

Dr. David Edwards of the department of government said "much intensified fears" existed on the campus.

Caroline called for an American revolution at an anti-war rally on the Capitol grounds last Oct. 21. He said it was needed to change the American society and way of life.

At a campus meeting March 16, Caroline urged the abolition of private property. In a letter to the student newspaper last Sunday, he deplored "needless violence" but said looting was "simply stealing back that which has been stolen from you."

The budget council of the philosophy department informed Caroline Saturday that he would receive a terminal contract severing his relations with the university May 31, 1969.

Caroline told the student newspaper he would fight the council decision.

University president Norman Hackerman and Silber said Monday they found no reason to reverse the council's decision.

Silber attended Wednesday's meeting of the professors. He said Caroline was "no timid flower" and probably could be counted on to appeal his case without help from the professors.

The committee on academic freedom and responsibility is being requested to look into the Caroline case and determine if a full hearing is needed.

Nearly half the professors departed before a vote was taken on the resolution.

Dr. Douglas Morgan, a member of the philosophy department's budget council, said that if a hearing is held, it will discover there was no violation of Caroline's rights.

Morgan said he voted against the council's action because he thought it erred, but the error was one of judgment.

Confederate Flag Flies In Vietnam

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon has assured outraged Southern congressmen that servicemen will be allowed to fly their home-state flags in South Vietnam—even if those flags are emblazoned with the insignia of the Civil War Confederacy.

The flap started about two weeks ago when Rep. W. S. Stuckey, D-Ga., told the House he was "upset, angry and indignant" because one of his constituents in Vietnan was ordered to remove the Georgia flag from above his bunk.

"The reason given was that since some people view the Confederate flag as a symbol of racism," Stuckey said, "all state flags which contain bars and stars must be removed."

He read part of a soldier's letter to the soldier's mother complaining the order came out "because of the racial tension" following the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

While the Southern state flags had to come down, Stuckey said, flags from such states as New York and Ohio "were allowed to remain displayed."

The Georgia congressman said he had written to the Pentagon demanding "that this ridiculous and dangerous order be investigated."

Asked about this, the Pentagon said a preliminary inquiry showed that, on April 10, during the period of civil disturbance after King's death, a local decision was made within the 1st Marine Aircraft Wing in Vietnam "to prohibit the outward display of the Confederate flag."

The aim, the Defense Department said, was to "reduce the likelihood of any racial tensions within the wing."

The Pentagon identified neither the originator of the order nor the Marine who had to pull down the flag.

"When the appropriate officers were informed that the flag was the official state flag of Georgia, the order was clarified and the state flag was again displayed," the Pentagon said.

No Progress In Newspaper Strike

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit newepaper strike has lasted six months as of today with neither unions nor publishers showing signs of changing their positions.

The American Newspaper Publishers Association lists a 230-day shutdown of the Terre Haute (Ind.) Star and Tribune in 1964-65 as the longest ever, but these newspapers combined have less than a 10th the circulation of either the News or Free Press.

Within the past week, negotiations between the publishers and two of the four striking unions have broken off. No talks are scheduled with the other two unions on strike.

The most optimistic predictions are that the more than one million Detroiters who have been without their regular papers since mid-November won't get them back for another two weeks. Some sources predict neither paper will resume publication in the next two months.

The 13 unions still without contracts—nine are not on strike—have at least an unofficial understanding that none will go back until all do.

The strike that started it all erupted at midnight Nov. 15 when the Teamsters Union struck the News in support of new contract demands.

Two days later the Free Press shut down voluntarily. The newspapers operate under an agreement that a strike against one is a strike against both.

Twice Teamsters at the News voted down settlements negotiated by their representatives. Final agreement didn't come until March 15.

The strike then was 121 days old, the contracts of the 13 other unions with which the newspapers deal had expired and four of them had proclaimed themselves officially on strike and started picketing.

The publishers settled with the Teamsters on a three-year contract, effective at the resumption of publication, and carrying pay increases of $11 weekly the first year, $10 the second, and $9 the third.

Through the first week of May the newspapers had offered this same $30, three-year package to at least four of the remaining 13 unions, and spokesmen for most of these and the others indicated this was acceptable, if agreements can be reached on contract termination date and overtime.

Publishers insist the new contracts be for three years from the date publication is resumed. Unions insist they cover the three years from the old expiration dates of Nov. 15 and Dec. 1, 1967.

Suspect Is Committed

DALLAS (AP)—Perry Wayne Reynolds, ruled insane by a jury, will be committed to a state hospital for the mentally retarded.

Reynolds had been indicted for the Feb. 3 murder of Conroe priest Joseph Morrell, whose body was found in a room at the Baker Hotel where Reynolds worked. The ruling of insanity will preclude prosecution. The state did not contest the insanity ruling.

Indicted also in the slaying is Larry Keith Staley, who is yet to be brought to trial.

Reynolds had spent 20 years in a state school for the retarded and, in a psychiatrist's judgment, does not know right from wrong. The hearing was held in Judge Jim Zimmerman's criminal district court.

Milkman Or Fireman?

LUDLOW, Pa. (AP) — Volunteer firemen responded quickly when the engine of Leroy Harlan's milk truck caught on fire. They needn't have bothered. Harlan put the fire out with six quarts of milk.

Spacemen Temporarily Grounded

By PAUL RECER

SPACE CENTER, HOUSTON (AP) — A sinus condition has indefinitely grounded one astronaut and a bone fracture has temporarily suspended another from training, National Aeronautics and Space Administration officials said Wednesday.

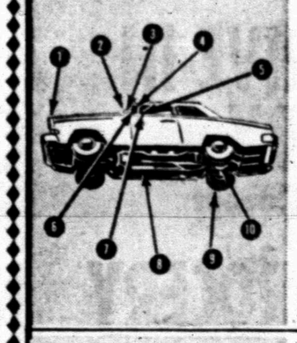

Astronaut John S. Bull, 33, a Navy lieutenant commander, has been grounded; officials said, because of a sinus condition which "has not responded to treatment."

Scientist-astronaut Dr. Robert A. R. Parker, 31, suffered a fracture of the bone on the end of the spine, during a parachute exercise at Williams Air Force Base, Ariz. The injury is not considered serious.

Officials said Bull complained of the sinus condition "several weeks ago." The condition since "has been continuous, but medics have not come to any conclusion."

The condition is "aggravated by changes of pressure," officials said, and as a result Bull has been barred from flying. They said he is also unable to take part in the vacuum chamber test of a model of the craft to be used for a lunar landing.

Ceremonies Begin At 6 Friday Night

The annual Little and Farm League baseball season gets underway Friday night in Towle Park with opening ceremonies slated for 6 p.m. at the Little League Park.

Coordinator for the program is Dr. Robert Hargrove. He said a change in the activities this year calls for the playing of the National Anthem prior to each game.

During opening ceremonies Friday, Charlie Freeman, president of the National League, will introduce managers, coaches and umpires in the league. Players on each team will be introduced, and they will stand on the infield between third and first as introductions are made.

Similarly, Richard Hardin, president of the National League will introduce officials, and they will introduce their players.

There is only one new manager in the Little League this season. Bruce Kerley will be at the helm of the Cubs. The Farm League has several new managers, including Walter Caddell, Willie Davis and Al Young.

On the first night of activity, the Indians tangle with the Yankees followed by a clash between the Giants and Cubs in the Little League. The Farm League slates the Giants against the Cubs in the opener followed by a tussle between the Indians and the Yankees. Both openers are on tap for 7 p.m. Home teams will be the Giants and the Indians in both leagues.

Sponsors of the various teams also will be represented at the opening ceremonies.

MEMORIAL AWARD—Mickey Almond, Tiger shortstop, won the Robert Hobbs Memorial award, given annually to the most valuable player on the Snyder High School baseball team. The award, presented by Coach Speedy Moffett, is sponsored by anonymous donors.

'Image' Spoiled By Track Suspensions

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

BALTIMORE (AP) — Thoroughbred racing's tarnished Triple Crown could get some polishing today, depending on the mood of Peter Fuller, the owner of Dancer's Image.

Lou Cavalaris, the colt's trainer, and his assistant, Robert Barnard, were suspended by Churchill Downs stewards late Wednesday night as a result of an illegal pain-relieving drug that led to Dancer's Image's disqualification from the May 4 Kentucky Derby.

Fuller, who had left Louisville with Cavalaris en route back to Baltimore about an hour before the suspension was announced, told The Associated Press during a stopover in Chicago early today he had not decided whether to enter his colt in Saturday's Preakness.

Entries for the race were due today.

Before the hearing began earlier this week, Fuller had said Dancer's Image would not run in the second jewel of the Triple Crown at Pimlico if Cavalaris was suspended. But Cavalaris has urged all the while that the colt run, no matter what his status as a trainer.

The three stewards indicated further investigation was merited and referred the matter to the Kentucky Racing Commission.

Fuller said he would appeal the decision to the commission in hope that Cavalaris would be able to train Dancer's Image during the course of his suspension.

After meeting nearly 48 hours behind locked doors, the stewards announced that Cavalaris and Barnard were forbidden to enter any race track through June 13.

They also officially announced that Dancer's Image, who finished first in the Derby by 1½ lengths over Calumet Farm's Forward Pass, was disqualified and placed last.

This made Forward Pass the Derby winner, gave the first money of $122,600 to Calumet Farm, and gave the colt a shot at becoming the first Triple Crown winner since Citation added a Belmont Stakes triumph to Derby and Preakness victories.

The investigation started when a post-Derby test disclosed a trace of phenylbutzone, or a derivative of the analgesic, in the routine urine sample taken after the Derby.

CARDS SWAT PIRATES

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Julian Javier will never be mistaken for Babe Ruth . . . but the slender St. Louis Cardinal is the Sultan of swat today in the starry eyes of a McKeesport, Pa., youngster.

Javier borrowed a page from the Ruth legend Wednesday night after a hospital visit to 6-year-old Mark Sandusky, whose legs were crushed in a recent automobile accident.

The boy, who might never walk normally again according to his doctors, asked Javier to hit a home run for him in the Cards' game at Pittsburgh.

Javier obliged in the fourth inning, slammed his first hit of the season to back Steve Carlton's four-hit pitching and give the Cardinals their second successive 1-0 victory over the Pirates.

"I wasn't thinking about it," Javier said afterward. "But when I was running around the bases, I thought, 'Look what I did!'"

The Chicago Cubs caught Los Angeles from behind 5-3, Cincinnati trimmed the New York Mets 3-0 and San Francisco topped Houston 7-3 in other National League action. The Atlanta-Philadelphia game was rained out.

In the American League, Baltimore slugged Detroit 10-8, California beat the Chicago White Sox 4-2 at Milwaukee, Boston downed Washington 6-4 and the New York Yankees played Cleveland to a 2-2, rain-curtailed standoff. The Oakland-Minnesota game was washed out by rain.

Javier, the Cardinals' slick-fielding second baseman, hit Steve Blass' first pitch in the fourth inning into the light tower next to the left field scoreboard at Forbes Field.

Carlton held Pittsburgh hitless until the fifth and nursed the one-run edge all the way for his fourth victory against one loss. The tall southpaw struck out six and allowed only one runner to reach second base.

Dick Nen, a former Dodger, beat his old teammates with a two-run pinch hit single in the ninth, capping a three-run Chicago rally. Nen delivered the winning hit after Randy Hundley's run-scoring single tied the game.

Losing pitcher Jim Grant checked the Cubs on five hits until the ninth and slugged his first National League homer, a two-run shot in the third. Ernie Banks tied it with a two-run double in the fourth, but committed a seventh inning throwing error before Wes Parker's sacrifice fly sent the Dodgers in front 3-2.

George Culver blanked the Mets on seven hits and the Reds, who had dropped six of their previous seven starts, pounded loser Jerry Koosman and two relievers for 13.

The first of Tommy Helms' three singles drove in the only run Culver needed in the Reds' two-run second inning. Vada Pinson scored the second run on a sigle by Leo Cardenas and doubled another run home in the eighth.

Willie Mays' 571st career homer—a two-run blast in the first inning—triggered San Francisco's victory over the Astros. With Ollie Brown's two-run single keying a four-run burst in the sixth, the Giants built the lead to 7-0 before Doug Rader hit a three-run homer for Houston in the seventh.

Gaylord Perry picked up his fourth victory against two setbacks, but needed ninth inning help from Frank Linzy as the Giants beat the Astros for the 31st time in their last 34 meetings at Candlestick Park.

Grid Boycott Hits Bears

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — Negro football candidates at the University of California are boycotting spring practice, demanding the right to say who should play which position and when.

Coach Ray Willsey silently read their demands, presented by one athlete and one student non-athlete, declined them, and handed back the paper.

"I do not believe these prerogatives of a coach are negotiable," he said. "I cannot ignore my responsibilities."

He refused to give details of the demands.

He also refused to name any of the athletes.

"I will not initiate any name calling," he said today. "I don't want to appear to the public to be exposing them to criticism."

He said in a statement: "It will be a tragedy that competition will be denied to some outstanding young men because of their actions.

"These men, by not reporting for practice, are, in effect, removing themselves from the California football team."

Willsey said he has no idea when or if the Negroes will return. Football practice ends Saturday.

Pressed for a count, Willsey said 14 were out for spring drills and every one played in last Saurday's alumni game.

He said five or six were lettermen.

Aggie Passing Vs. A&M Power

COLLEGE STATION (AP) — The passing of quarterback Edd Hargett and the running of tailback Larry Stegent will be pitted against each other in the Maroon and White game concluding Texas A&M's spring football practice Saturday afternoon.

Housley and Stegent will lend their running power to the Maroons, who will be quarterbacked by Charlie Riggs. Jack Whitmore will be at wingback.

Hargett's White team will have Johnny Weaver at tailback, Javier Vela at fullback and Barney Harris at wingback.

Racers Predict 170 m.p.h. Lap

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — It's the consensus of 15 top drivers at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway that it will take a speed of more than 170 miles an hour to win the pole position in this year's Memorial Day 500 mile race.

That's faster than any lap has ever been run around the 2½-mile paved oval. The current qualifying record is 168.982 for the 10 miles and a best lap of 169.779 by Mario Andretti of Nazareth, Pa., last year.

Andretti, who has broken the qualifying record three straight years, is confident the 170 m.p.h. barrier will be shattered in Saturday's qualifications for the 52nd annual classic.

He predicted in a poll Wednesday a top average of 170.6 m.p.h. with a best lap of 172.3 in Saturday's 10-mile runs.

The pole car, the No. 1 starter, is determined by the best average speed in the first day of the two weekends of qualifications.

Senior Girls In Semifinals

WACO (AP) — Mrs. Frank Goldthwaite of Fort Worth met Mrs. Clint Bates of Baytown and Mrs. Raleigh Hall of Waco faced Mrs. W. K. Powell of San Angelo in the semifinals of the Texas Senior Women's Golf Tournament Thursday.

Mrs. Hall, Mrs. Goldthwaite and Mrs. Bates all posted 1-up victories in Wednesday's quarterfinals. Mrs. Powell defeated Mrs. H. A. Watson of Dallas 2 and 1.

Mrs. C. D. Lee of El Paso, winner of seven consecutive titles from 1959 through 1965, lost to Mrs. Hall. Mrs. Goldthwaite edged Mrs. H. E. White of Houston and Mrs. Bates defeated Mrs. Charles Neill of Canyon.

The championship match will be played Friday.

Heavy Bout On Tap Today

NEW YORK (AP) — A heavyweight title fight was all set today between five-state champion Joe Frazier of Philadelphia and Manuel Ramos, the Mexican titleholder, for Madison Square Garden Monday night, June 24.

Sul Ross Wins In 16th

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Mark Farquhar pitched nine innings of one-hit relief and Sul Ross bunched three hits and a sacrifice fly for two runs in the 16th inning to beat St. Mary's 8-6 Wednesday.

The victory gave Sul Ross a 1-0 lead in the best-of-three series to determine the NAIA District 4 champion.

St. Mary's jumped off to a 5-0 lead after four innings. Sul Ross got back four runs in the sixth and tied the score at 5-5 with another run in the eighth.

After St. Mary's went back in front 6-5 in its half of the eighth, Sul Ross sent the game into extra innings with a run in the ninth.

The two teams will play the remainder of the series at Alpine Saturday.

The winner joins District 8 champion Tarleton and district titlists from New Mexico and Louisiana in the double elimination regional tournament at Stephenville May 23-25.

The regional champion advances to the NAIA championships at Joplin, Mo., June 2-7.

ARKANSAS MOVES UP

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Arkansas shut out San Antonio for the second straight night and moved into second place in the Eastern Division and Albuquerque opened a 3½-game lead in the Western Division of the Texas League Wednesday.

The Travelers' Santiago Guzman, an 18-year-old from the Dominican Republic, blanked the Missions 5-0 on six hits, half of them by outfielder Bill Schelsinger.

Albuquerque unloaded a 16-hit attack behind Dick Armstrong's four-hit pitching and whipped Dallas-Fort Worth 8-1. The victory was the Dodgers' third straight in the current four-game series and their sixth without a loss to the Spurs this season.

Armstrong, who pitched a no-hitter against the Spurs, had a two-hit shutout going into the ninth inning. Jim Barfield hit a two-run homer in the second and a triple in the fifth for Albuquerque.

El Paso moved out of the Western Division cella by handing Shreveport its third straight loss 4-2. The Braves had come into the four-game series with the Sun Kings as the Eastern Division leaders and now are in third place.

Memphis pitcher Steve Renko gave up three runs in the third inning and then stopped Amarillo on three hits the remainder of the game as the Eastern Division leaders won 6-3. The loss dropped Amarillo into last place, eight percentage points behind El Paso.

US Drilling Ship To Probe For Long-Buried Treasure

By RALPH DIGHTON
AP Science Writer

LA JOLLA, Calif. (AP) — The world's most scientific drilling ship sails June 15 on an 18-month voyage across two oceans seeking long-buried treasures of vast potential to man's mind and purse.

The 400-foot Scripps Institution of Oceanography vessel will draw on craft orbiting in space for navigational guidance and warning of storms as it probes in record depths in the primordial ooze that covers seven-tenths of the planet.

Dr. Melvin N. A. Peterson, chief scientist for the National Science Foundation's Deep Sea Drilling Project, says the goals are both academic and practical.

The ship could find:

1. Clues to new oil fields believed bigger than any yet tapped from the continents and their fringes.

2. Precious metals—gold, silver and manganese—strewn in nodules, possibly layer upon layer for miles on either side of giant cracks in the earth's crust.

3. A history of earth, recorded in the sediments built up through the ages by the "snowfall" of plant and animal matter from the surface to the ocean floor.

Although the $12.5-million project is primarily scientific, he says, it is frankly aimed also at proving the economic benefits to be gained from exploring the ocean and its floor.

Although the ship is rigged much like those that drill for oil in the comparatively shallow waters of continental shelves, officials are hoping fervently they will not actually find oil.

Striking oil—and the gases captive in underground pools—could release a gigantic bubble to rise up through the ocean and burst at the surface, tossing the 10,500-ton ship like a raft caught in a hurricane.

"Chances are the ship would capsize," says Peterson.

"We are taking every possible precaution against finding oil, even though locating possible oil-bearing areas is one of our major goals. If our core drill bites into anything that looks like oil sands we'll pull out and move off in a hurry."

The Scripps project calls for drilling 40 to 60 holes as deep as 2,500 feet in depths as great as 20,000 feet in the Atlantic and Pacific. Aboard the ship will be 75 scientists, engineers and crewmen—including expert geologists and drillers.

Peterson believes rich deposits of minerals may lie on the slopes of the great rises—much like mountain ranges—jutting up from the floors of the Atlantic and Pacific oceans.

One of the goals of the project is to take samples of the sediment on the slopes.

The ship that will make this possible is the Glomar Challenger, due to sail June 15 from Orange, Tex., on its maiden voyage. The latest thing in drilling ships, it has a 142-foot-tall derrick over a 20x22-foot center well through which as much as 23,000 feet of five-inch pipe can be lowered to core into the ocean floor.

Peterson says this will be the longest drill string ever suspended from a ship or floating platform.

Cores from the rotary-drilled holes will be pulled up continuously through the drill pipe.

These cores will be the real prizes of the expedition. From the layers of sediment scientists hope to be able to reconstruct the history of the planet by dating the fossil remains of plants and animals which have died and fallen to the ocean bottom.

When evidences of oil or mineral wealth are found, the locations will be marked and the information released to industry.

The ship's first drilling test will come about July 1, when it will start coring into some mysterious humps dead center in the Gulf of Mexico. The humps, 10,00 feet below the surface of the ocean, are known to oceanographers as the Sigsbee Knolls and are believed to be salt domes formed by the pressure of sediment slowly sliding down the slopes of the Gulf basin.

Later the ship will move out into the Atlantic and on to the Pacific to test a spectacular new concept that the ocean floors are expanding outward from the great undersea rises and spreading, the continents apart at a rate of an inch or so a year.

The theory is that all the continents once were a single land mass and split up and began to drift apart some 200 million years ago. It is based on the way the opposite coastlines of the Atlantic Ocean seem to match, like the opposite shores of a river. The fact that the opposite coastlines of the Pacific do not match is sometimes explained as being due to an ancient land collapse in the middle of that much wider ocean.

Resurrection City To Pay Its Way

By STAN BENJAMIN
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 15 acres of federal grass are free but from there on "Resurrection City" has to pay its own way.

Government officials said the planned bivouac of some 3,000 Poor People's Campaigners in the heart of the nation's capital is expected to cost the public little or nothing.

In granting permission last Friday for the campaign to set up housekeeping on national park land near the Lincoln Memorial, the Interior Department made it clear who was to pay the bills.

The permit specifies that the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, sponsor of the tent city, is responsible for:

—Building and maintaining the campsite.

—Providing sanitary facilities.

—Making connections with available water, sewer, power and telephone lines.

—Providing for garbage removal.

—Restoring the park to its original condition when they leave—except for wear and tear on the grass.

All this, the permit says, is at the expense of SCLC, which must also post $5,000 as security.

Water and sewer pipes that once served now-demolished buildings on the location are still in place and Resurrection City has tapped into them. The District of Columbia will charge the same rates for water and sewer service as it does to other customers. SCLC must even pay for the installation of water meters, and an organizer said the deposit for electric service was $10,000.

"There's no National Park Service money involved," Nash Castro, director of the Park Service's National Capital Region, told an interviewer. "All we've done is assign them land."

The camp-in will probably cost the District of Columbia some money—mainly for extra preparedness—but it won't be much, a spokesman said.

"We are not directly providing any services without charge," he said, "except for essential health services with the cooperation of doctors in the District. We consider that a community necessity."

The District has already ruled that camp-dwellers would not be considered D.C. residents for welfare-payment purposes.

The Civil Service Commission has ruled government employees may participate in the Poor People's Campaign, but only on their own time and only if it doesn't interfere with their work or embarrass their agency.

The campaign is getting quite a bit of help, however, from nongovernment groups.

The area's Health and Welfare Council, a private coordinating group, reported food dealers have set up an emergency committee aimed at feeding up to 3,000 campaigners for one month.

Dentists, doctors, teachers and other private citizens have offered their help. And churches have been giving temporary shelter to the vanguard of the campaign, now preparing the tent city for the arrival of the main group of demonstrators.

An attorney's group volunteered legal services, and PRIDE Inc., a self-help Washington Negro group, offered to keep the camp clean and haul away garbage.

Arguments Begin In Laite Trial

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP)—Arguments began today at 10 a.m. in the conspiracy trial of Georgia state Rep. William Laite.

The government charges in a five-count indictment that Laite perjured himself while testifying before a federal grand jury in Lubbock March 8, 1967.

The probing body was looking into contracts between Laite's Macon, Ga., construction firm and the Federal Housing Administration. Laite's firm had a contract to rehabilitate 60 repossessed FHA houses in Big Spring, Tex.

Laite also is under a 23-count indictment returned by a grand jury in Dallas charging that the Georgian made false statements to FHA.

The government rested its case against Laite Wednesday morning and was followed by the defense presenting character witnesses, led by former Georgia Gov. Carl Sanders, in Laite's behalf.

Sanders said he had known the defendant for 10 years and that he had a good reputation over all of Georgia.

Laite's wife, Marilyn; William Meeks of Blairsville, Ga., and Edward Rozier of Macon followed Sanders to the stand.

Earlier, Mrs. Ruth Bailey, who now lives in Louisville, Ky., and was a bookkeeper for Laite during two months of the Big Spring job, testified that Laite told her it was none of her business when she told him that employes should be paid overtime for work in excess of 40 hours weekly.

William B. Sargent, a foreman, also testified that Laite refused to pay premium rates for overtime work.

Credit-Cost Bill Near Completion

By JOE HALL
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — An eight-year Capitol Hill battle to enact a landmark cost-of-credit disclosure bill is within three steps of what President Johnson termed "a great victory for the American consumer."

Senate-House conferees reached final agreement Wednesday, after weeks of work, on a compromise measure requiring that most borrowers be told the dollar-and-cents cost of credit on loans and purchases.

It's estimated the bill would cover approximately $100 billion annually, on installment purchases, loans and other credit deals.

Sponsors said there is no question the House and Senate will approve the compromise version of the bill, probably next week.

Johnson left no doubt that the third remaining step, his signature on the legislation, would follow quickly.

He called it a long-overdue, "strong truth-in-lending" bill.

Under the measure those extending credit or making consumer loans would have to disclose two things on most transactions:

—The annual interest rate figured on the declining balance of the obligation.

—The total cost of credit in dollars and cents over its full life.

The battle for the legislation began in 1960 when it first was introduced by former Sen. Paul H. Douglas, D-Ill.

It finally was passed 92 to 0 last July 11 by the Senate, and 382 to 4 on Feb. 1 this year by the House.

But the House added a number of provisions to the measure and this led to a long-drawn-out conference. Most of the House items were retained in the final version but several were revised.

One of the knottiest problems involved revolving credit, which has become increasingly popular with retail chain stores.

The chains contended it was very hard to figure an accurate annual interest charge on such accounts.

The Senate voted to allow them to state only the monthly interest rate, often 1½ per cent. But the House insisted on an annual rate which would be 18 per cent if the monthly charge were 1½ per cent.

Under the compromise, the store would have to give both of these but could also state, if it chose, an effective rate based on its annual yield from such business. This would normally be less than the 18 per cent.

Also, a minimum revolving credit charge of 50 cents a month or less would not have to be used as the basis for the interest disclosure.

Sinclair Begins To Reorganize

HOUSTON (AP) — Sinclair Oil Corp. has taken its first step toward a reorganization which would make the parent corporation an operating company instead of a holding company.

The reorganization will affect five major subsidiaries.

Directors of the corporation elected a new chief executive officer and named a new slate of officers at an annual stockholder meeting Wednesday.

O. P. Thomas was named new chief executive officer. Thomas, president since 1964, succeeds E. L. Steiniger, who retired as board chairman at age 65. Steiniger will continue as a director. Directors decided to leave the post of chairman vacant.

With the parent corporation no longer a holding company, functions now handled by subsidiaries will be carried out by new corporate departments.

"These changes will be carried out in an orderly manner over the coming months," Thomas said. He said the reorganization will provide for better coordination of Sinclair's total operations.

Two executive vice presidents and 12 vice presidents to head the new departments also were named by the board.

Steiniger reported a record net income of $26.5 million the first quarter of 1968 and said prospects for the balance of the year are good.

He said Sinclair has reduced its long-term debt from $425 million to $382 million and increased its total assets to a record $1.835 billion.

"We will bring seven additional major new petrochemical units on steam this year, most of them in Texas," Steiniger said.

Subsidiaries affected by the reorganization are Sinclair Oil & Gas Co., Tulsa, Okla., and Sinclair Research Inc., Sinclair Refining Co., Sinclair International Oil Corp., and Sinclair Petrochemicals, Inc., all of New York City.

New executive vice presidents named are J. B. Kennedy, who holds a similar post with the parent corporation, and J. P. Downer, presently financial vice president and chairman of the finance committee.

New vice presidents and departments they will head include G. D. Almen Jr., exploration and production, North American; R. R. Chambers, research and development; R. M. Cooper, manufacturing; A. L. Diano Jr., marketing; G. C. Drescher, corporate relations; R. L. Elston, international operations; J. L. Grant, financial; G. B. Mallum, law; J. S. Morrison, supply and distribution; J. A. Scott, petrochemicals; M. E. Stone, employe relations, and E. W. Unruh, purchasing and engineering.

Almen currently is president of Sinclair Oil Gas at Tulsa. All the others are from New York City.

Buzzing Bees Beware!

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — In case the bees haven't heard—no longer can they buzz in Charles Caballero's backyard. An order to this effect was signed Wednesday by Superior Court Commissioner James P. Natoli. Caballero, 77, complained the bees living in the yard of his neighbor crossed over property lines.

Just How Sterling Is The Pound?

By LAWRENCE MALKIN
Associated Press Writer

LONDON (AP) — How sterling is [illegible] six months after devaluation? The answer that, the British are asking not only to themselves but to Washington and the dollar.

Full confidence in the pound has not returned because the British know their currency is still at the mercy of international financial storms. Nor has British self-confidence returned, either politically or economically, because no one can safely say whether devaluation is doing its intended job of restoring national solvency. And no one can be expected to know that until at least the end of the year.

Last week the pound trembled in the world's money markets for a complex of reasons ranging from reported Russian troop movements to the distrust, and even hatred, of Prime Minister Harold Wilson and his Labor government felt by British and foreign businessmen.

Little of this had anything to do with the underlying strength or weakness of the British economy, but it was enough to keep buyers away from British pounds. The rate fell, then recovered somewhat, partly because of huge international currency swap agreements designed to protect the pound against just such short-term flows of confidence.

When the British cut the value of their currency Nov. 18, experts including U.S. Treasury Secretary Henry H. Fowler warned that the dollar would go into the front line in the speculators' war against the world monetary system. The subsequent gold rush against the dollar proved these warnings correct.

Now the United States is proposing to raise taxes and is restricting foreign investment to protect the dollar just as the British have done to protect their pound. The British fear they may be caught in the backlash.

"A run on sterling now would not be a commentary on current British economic policy—which is, in fact, being less inefficiently conducted than for many years—but a run up a ramp against the dollar," commented the weekly Economist.

Nevertheless, British officials are also concerned lest U.S. efforts to halt the dollar drain could affect Britain's export drive, especially if Congress passes protectionist legislation against imports. The British calculate that a 5 per cent surcharge on imports to the United States, Britain's largest market, could cost this country up to $200 million a year in trade. A serious consumer recession could cost more.

The six months after devaluation have not put Britain's trade into the black, but no one here expected that it would. On the contrary, the trade gap has grown wider. Imports have soared 24 per cent over last year as goods ordered earlier were delivered at higher, post-devaluation prices.

The British also have been on a record buying spree since devaluation, and despite record taxes imposed in the budget in March, the spree is only now beginning to tail off. Automobile sales at home dropped sharply last month, making way for record export orders.

But the psychological effect of devaluation apparently confounded the treasury as people fled from paper money into any kind of durable goods. The gold rush and devaluation combined to boost sales of jewelry by 41 per cent in March. Nowhere has the effect of a cut in currency values been more pronounced than in the stock market. All indexes have pushed to record highs since devaluation as buyers rushed into the market and sellers held back.
