Wilbarger-Wichita Soil Conservation District News

The Wilbarger - Wichita Soil Conservation District officials recommend seeding of winter legumes from Sept. 15th to Nov. 1st when moisture is available.

Technical guides used by Soil Conservation Service in servicing SCD cooperators contain the following reasons for seeding winter cover crops. They protect the land against wind and water erosion; maintain and improve the fertility level of the soil and improve the physical condition of soil.

Austrian winter peas have done the best job of furnishing winter cover, according to Elvy Sargent work unit conservationist for the Soil Conservation Service at Iowa Park. When seeded alone, 36 pounds per acre of Austrian winter peas are recommended. Austrian winter peas are adapted to all wet drained soils in this area.

Other seeding standards suggested are to inoculate all seed, fertilize according to soil analysis or if none is available, 200 pounds per acre of 0-20-0 or its equivalent has given satisfactory results.

Tom Moore Pledge Investigation Of Insurance Frauds

Tom Moore, candidate in the run-off for Attorney General of Texas, campaigned in South Central and East Texas this week and pledged to continue the insurance investigation that he started while District Attorney, if he is elected Attorney General in Saturday's run-off.

While District Attorney at Waco, he had the grand jury indict all parties responsible for insurance frauds, when the present attorney general was taking no action on the matter.

Moore believes that not only are the insurance laws inadequate in Texas, but they should be more vigorously enforced.

Joseph A. Janeke, Burkburnett Attorney is Moore's campaign manager for twelve counties in this area, and he states that it appears that Moore is getting support in this clean up fight from Texans in both branches of the Democratic party in Texas, and he should carry Wichita County by a much bigger vote than he did in the first primary, when Moore carried the County by 200 votes.

Oil Bowl Game Friday, August 24 At Wichita Falls

H. N. "Rusty" Russell and Ted Dawson, who will coach the Texas squad in its quest of an 11th victory in the 19th annual Oil Bowl football game, August 24th at Wichita Falls, completed their team Friday.

And it aptly could be called a dream team.

The lone Star crew will have 15 all starters and 15 who performed last week in the annual North-South game which climaxed the Texas High School Coaches school at Lubbock.

The Oklahoma squad, which has earned one tie but no victories in the series, will not be completed until this weekend. The Texas - Oklahoma rivalry dates back to 1945. Prior to that time, the game was a North-Texas-Southern Texas classic.

The Texas roster reads like a "who's who" in Texas schoolboy circles. Backs include Charles Milstead of Tyler; Bobby Lackey of Neslaco; Mike Dewdle of Graham; Veon Scott of Chillicothe; Larry Dueitt of Corpus Christi Miller; Henry Colwell of Abilene; Edwin (WaHoo) McDaniel of Midland; Gordon LaBeouf of Port Naches and Bobby Boyd of Garland.

The linemen are Larry Ward, Nederland, end; Sam Caudle, Abilene, guard; Charles McKenzie, Grand Prairie, tackle; Jerry Payne, Breckenridge, end; Bobby Loveless, Houston San Jacinto, guard; Joe Glass, Baytown, guard Arvie Martin, Pleasant Grove, tackle; James Schillingburg Kermit, tackle; Burtt Lauck, Wichita Falls, tackle; Garry Rarbank, Wichita Falls, center; Kenneth Walter, Port Arthur, end; Tom Inman, Midland, center; Jerry Graves, Big Springs, center; Gayle Oliver, Refugio tackle, and Larry Stephens, Angleton, end.

Of this group, Ward Caudle, McKenzie, Dueitt, Loveless, Glass Martin, Schillingburg, Lackey, Millstead, Boyd, LeBeouf, McDaniel, Graves and Stephens played in the Coaches school game.

Tickets for the annual charity classic to be played at Midwestern University are now on sale at the Oil Bowl ticket office in the lobby of the Kemp Hotel in Wichita Falls.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

ODESSA, WASH., Record: "The man who lived thru the depression, has seen conditions that were really rough. His greatest lesson is the one that gives him comfort now. He studiously avoids going into debt, has devoted a part of his annual gain into savings designed to carry him through any bad years. When we have provided this protection, we are independent of government whims and fancies.

CLAREMONT MINN. News: "For the past twenty-five years there has been a wild race among the different groups of people in this country to get more back in the form of subsidies than one pays to the subsidies of other groups. It is admittedly a poor practice all around as in transfer, politicians and their appointees take off a large slice of the exhorted money."

WORREN, R. I. Gazette: "A group of foreign manufacturers being shown an American plant saw a machine that took a piece of steel and in one operation stamped, punched and shaped it into a finished prouct. After they had watched it for a while, an apparently bitter argument broke out, with much arm waving and finger shaking. The guide asked the interpreter accompanying the party what the shouting was all about. "Some of them,' said the interpreter, 'insist that it can't be done."

FOREST, MISS., Times: "Like other business, we sometimes receive in the mail a circular describing some kind of insurance policy which would mean a 'big saving' in protecting property against fire of theft. Such circulars are tossed immediately into the wastebasket. Cheap insurance is apt to be more expensive in the long run.

GREENSBORO, N. C. Democrat: "The hot dog is simple and down to earth and economical. It's withhin the reach and pocketbook of everybody, and it has the taste of America. Let's toast the American Way, the hot dog way It's a national tradition to be proud of. So pass the mustard Hot dog"

BASSETT, NEB., Leader: "It is the consumer who will pay for the increased wage and fringe benefits the steel workers may gain. There is nothing remarkable about this, for obviously if a business does not recover its costs and a reasonable profit for re-investment and for dividends to those who have provided the facilities, it cannot hope to remain a going concern for very long."

HUMBOLT, IOWA, Republican: "After many years of experience in the newspaper business and a close association with the facts concerning many acts of delinquency by juveniles, and the attendant reaction of the parents, we have come to the conclusion that the best way to make sure of proper home training is to levy the penalty on the parents."

Catch The Rain Where It Falls

Nowadays millions of people think of flood control as something that requires huge multi-purpose dams costing an incredible sum of tax money.

The truth is that big-scale flood control, in case after case, can be better effected at vastly lower cost, by small upstream dams.

This story was recently told in a National Municipal Review article by Peter Farb. Mr. Farb dealt with what has been done on a stream in Western Oklahoma which formerly suffered an average of nine floods per year. The Soil Conservation Service, with only pennies to spend where the big dam groups spend dollars, solved the problem by the upstream approach. Of this, Mr. Farb writes, "The upstream approach is as different from the big dam approach as earth is from concrete. While SCS diminishes floods by tapping water upstream and thus mminimizes downstream flood conditions, the Army Engineers try to control already swollen rivers." The upstream dams, he adds, are each about 1-1200th the size of a typical big dam built by the engineers, and the cost is comparably less.

The whole theory of upstream flood prevention can be expressed in a phrase — catch the raindrops where they fall. It is sound, it works, and it is relatively inexpensive.

Why, then, has there been so much propaganda for the multi-hundred-million dollar big dams? One reason is that these dams also produce power and their construction is devoutly desired by those who want to see a tax subsidized, socialized, federal electric power monopoly established in this country.

THE COST OF CRIME

J. Edgar Hoover of the FBI states: "We complain about high taxes, but last year crime cost every man, woman and child in the United States $122.00 or a staggering estimated total of twenty billions of dollars. Perhaps this figure could become more meaningful if we realized that for every $1.00 spent on education, crime cost $1.46, and for every $1.00 which went to the churches of the nation, $13.00 went to crime."

Mr. Hoover said this is a speech urging improvement in crime control, especially as it affects the parole system and the problem of the repeater. And the challenge of this, he added, "is a challenge to all of us."

Wilbarger-Wichita Soil Conservation District News

Construction of channel type, variable grade terraces is moving along at a good pace in the Burkburnett area of the Wilbarger-Wichita Soil Conservation District. The purpose of graded terraces is to intercept the flow of water across cultivated land at frequent intervals and divert it to protected pasture land or grassed waterways with a minimum of erosions.

Thad Sullivan and Mrs. Joe Stama have recently completed over 3 miles each of channel type terraces. Construction of terraces is not all the answer to erosion problems on cropland; they do support other conservation practices such as contour tillage and good crop rotations which maintain the soil structure and fertility.

The problem of proper grass areas to outlet terraces have reed waterways or safeguard areas to outlet terraces have several farmers in ... terrace systems.

Ralph Swinford of the Cooper community has KR Bluestem on approx 10 acres of waterways rigged up a sprinkler system to get the grass that is necessary to protect terrace outlets.

Now is the time (permitting) to seed such ghums on waterways a dead non-competitive next springs seeding of stem and Buffalo grass.

Door Trick Gives All-Season Porch

Here's an idea for screening-in a porch for summer that will double as a sun room the rest of the year.

Enclose it with combination storm and screen doors made of ponderosa pine. The doors, fitted together around the open sides of the porch, eliminate much of the need for elaborate framing.

With the screens in place, the porch becomes a dining, sleeping, relaxing or play area. With the first chill days of autumn, the screens lift out and the light glass panels slide into place, making a sun room which can be used in all but the coldest months.

Bridal Shower Honors Miss Hodges Monday Evening

Miss Peggy Hodges, bride-elect of Mr. Buddy Pierce of Wichita Falls, was complimented with a bridal shower on Monday evening, August 20th, at the Thrift Memorial Baptist Church.

The shower rooms were beautifully decorated with seasonal flowers and arrangements of ivy while other decorations were carried out with the honoree's chosen colors of pink and white.

Miss Wanda Redman presided at the bride's book while Misses La Wannah Good and Joyce Lovelace served punch and cake from the refreshment table.

Mrs. G. T. Roberts presented the honoree with a pink carnation corsage and white corsages were presented to the other honor guests, Mrs. Henry Hodges and Mrs. Virgil Pierce.

Entertainment was provided by Misses Vyvyan Morris, Leta Frances Baker and Velma Shaw, who rendered vocal selections, accompanied at the piano by Miss Pat Lacy.

Miss Cleona Mullins presented the honoree with a beautiful selection of gifts.

A group of 25 friends of the honoree were hostesses for the affair.

Miss Hodges and Mr. Pierce will be united in marriage in a candlelight ceremony Friday evening, August 31st at 6:00 P. M. at the Thrift Memorial Baptist Church with Rev. Marion D. Baker, pastor of the church, officiating.

This includes 42 mic credit courses and more 30 adult education courses. ollment for these evening s will begin Monday, Sept. from 7 to 9 p. m. in the istration building, and will ue through Thursday even- Academic enrollment will d Thursday evening, Sept. from 7 to 9 p. m. in the nistration building. The Uni y Book store will be open se needing books and sup- t this time, Clarence Oden tore manager emphasized.

Evening College and its ons of Adult Education and spondence evidenced a de- surge in enrollment during 55-56 school term.

fall academic enrollment, ing correspondence stu- totaled 550, while the new- ganized Division of Adult tion enrolled more than 350 ts in the 9-week adult ed- n courses. A 25 percent in- e in the spring enrollment realized when 603 enroll- were made in academic s and 525 enrolled in the classes offered by the Adult Education Division.

Recent surveys indicate that the fall enrollment in the Evening College and its Divisions should rise another 15 to 20 per cent. The splendid cooperation of the various academic departmental chairmen in the scheduling of various classes and the high quality of teaching have made these gains possible, Dr. Dobbs stated.

Plans are being made on a long range program to make it possible for a person to receive a bachelor's and master's degree by taking evening college cours- es. The English and Education Departments have been among the first to offer major programs in the evening school, Dr. Dobbs said. A planned increase in curriculum offerings are under study by several other departments and will be put into effect as soon as practicable.

This fall 42 academic clas es have been scheduled. These classes include:

Art — Ceramics, Biology, General Zoology, General Botany;

Business Administration —typing, Accounting, Federal Taxation, General Insurance and Investment.

Education — Introduction to Education, General Psychology, Reading in the Elementary school Mathematics in the Elementary School, Teaching of Secondary School Math, Seminar in Secondary Education and Research methods.

Physical Education — Fundamentals of Ballroom Dancing.

Engineering Drawing — Engineering drawing, Descriptive Geometry. English — Remedial Grammar, Rhetoric and Composition, Technical Writing, The short Story of Etymology and semantics and Shakespeare.

Foreign Language— Beginning French and Beginning Greek. Geology—Mineralogy.

History and Politics Science — Survey of American History to 1865 and American National Government. Matematics — College Algebra, Plane Trigonometry and Engineering Problems. Music — Elementary School Music and Symphonic Literature.

Speech and Drama — Public Speaking and Scene Construction and Painting of Scene Design.

Physics — General Physics.

Sociology — Introductory sociology.

Since the initiation of the Adult program. the enrollment and the number of offerings have steadily increased. More than 30 Adult courses are offered this fall, Dr. Dobbs stated.

The Midwestern University Division of Adult Education offers cultural, professional and technical training to the youth and adults of Wichita Falls and surrounding areas, stated Dr. White, newly elected President of Midwestern University. This program was organized to furnish opportunities for all citizens of the area to develop their intellectual and spiritual qualities essential for good citizenship and to furnish training for profitable and independent economic activity.

The Adult Education Division is dedicated to meet the various needs of those people who want to pursue knowledge of any kind whether it be cultural, vocational or recreational. Classes are organized in various fields whenever sufficient interest has been shown to warrant such offerings.

Te fall term in Adult Education, Sept. 17 to Nov. 16 will include such 9-weeks courses as:

Monday — Beginning Shorthand; Intermediate Shorthand; Advanced Shorthand; Real Estate Investments Analysis, slide rule techniques, Advertising, Practical Business Law and Beginning Typing, Sec. 1

Tuesday—General Mathematics Review, Ceramics, Weaving, beginning Geology, beginning Typing, Sec. 2; Intermediate and Advanced Typing, Sec. 1, Child Development.

Wednesday — Spanish for Travelers, Business English, Interior Design, Personality and Adjustment, Conversational English and sewing.

Thursday—Blue Print reading, Ceramics, Oil Painting, Weaving, Beginning Typing, Sec. 3, Intermediate and Advanced Typing, Sec. 2, Advanced Bookkeeping, Beginning Bookkeeping, office management, Oil and Gas Leases.

Since most of the people enrolled in the adult classes are working and find their time limited, plans are made so that enrollment can be made by mail in any of the non-credit courses offered by the University. Enrollment blanks and class schedules will be mailed by request to those persons who desire to take any of these courses, academic or non-academic, offered by the Midwestern Evening College. Registration is made by filling out the enrollment blank, attaching a check for the proper amount and mailing both to the Office of the Evening College, Dr. Louis H. Dobbs, Director, Midwestern University, Wichita Falls, Texas.

By TED KESTING

We've a special treat for off-season hunters this week — crow hunting tips from one of this country's top authorities on the subject, Bert Popowski:

The only way to outwit a crow with reasonable consistency is to think that he is smarter than you are, with better eyesight and substantially better hearing.

Use No. 9 shot and you'll kill more crows. No matter how powerful, no shotgun lead beats a charge of 9's as proper crow medicine. Although this loading comes only in low brass, low velocity skeet load, the number of pellets in such a load beats the pellet count of any other loading of the same gauge that can be compared to it.

Whenever a single crow, followed by a cluster of three or more comes in, the smart shooter will pass up the single, keeping his eyes glued to the flock, and holding rigidly still. That's the way the doubles and triples are racked up. If the single bird is taken, the opportunity for multiple kills is often fumbled away.

Never place your decoys directly behind your blind when the wind is blowing squarely in to the the middle of your back. Always separate them into two groups, placing one on each side of the blind and some 10 to 15 yards behind the blind and a like distance to each side of it. Mount those decoys as high as you can get them in shrubs or trees to give them maximum visual prominence. Crows will then top out directly over your blind's opening, where they offer superb shots.

Your face is the most glaringly visible portion of your anatomy. A light gauze mask of neutral gray-green color, with a nose opening to keep it from slipping sidewise on your head and to permit unobstructed breathing, and a mouth opening for the use of the call, is the best way to conceal that tattle-tale face. It helps conceal the glint of glasses too.

Two Friberg 4-H Members Will Enter College This Year

4-H work will go to college for many boys and girls this September. Especially is this true with 4-H boys and girls from the Friberg-Cooper 4-H club of Wichita county. The Friberg 4-H has two members which will leave for college this year, Mr. Bill Kolter and Miss Cecilia Musgraves.

Bill and Cecilia have been active in 4-H work in their local club by filling offices and various chairmanships.

Bill has written the following statement regarding the value of 4-H:

The financial gains of 4-H projects on our farm are easily measured, but it is impossible to number the improvements in ones personality and character brought about by 4-H club work. The new methods I have learned the people I have met and the fellowship I have had with them are all part of my wonderful 4-H experiences. I only hope that I may share with other young people this wonderful knowledge of unlimited opportunity and in doing so, may instill in them a desire to work for these same enriching and inspiring experiences of true happiness and success. In so doing, the youth of today will be molding the world's hope for a lasting peace in a United tomorrow."

Among the many projects and achievements Bill has won, he has also had important recognition, honors and awards received in project exhibits and project work in the county, district, state and national 4-H.

Bill has dedicated himself for full time Christian work and has been ordained as a Methodist Minister.

The 4-H members and adults are very proud of Bill and we wish him all the success through the years. Through his work, we know he will acquire this success.

Rural Voters Overwhelmingly Support Will Wilson for Attorney General

Will Wilson, Democratic candidate for Attorney General of Texas, has much in common with the rural folks.

He's a farmer too!

He is sharing with many of them, disheartening experiences with the drought.

Wilson loves the land, and is a practical farmer. He spends all available time trying to fix his fences and to save the crops and trees he planted himself.

Wilson recently toured Texas with the Soil Conservation Service inspecting the small dam projects planned for creeks. He believes that this form of flood control is a possible solution to the water problem.

As attorney general, Will Wilson will act as legal advisor to the Agriculture Commissioner. During his campaign for Attorney General he has pledged strict enforcement of water conservation laws and water rights.

Rural voters of Texas feel that as their Attorney General Will Wilson can bring the attorney general's office closer to them and their problems, as he shares the same problems they have on their own farms.

In the July primary election, Wilson gained overwhelming support of the rural voters. He carried 206 out of 254 counties. In a four man race he received over 49% of the vote and a 185,000 vote lead over his nearest opponent. A total of 673,000 Texans voted for Wilson, in the primary, giving him more votes than any other candidate received in the governor's, lieutenant governor's or attorney general's races.

WILL WILSON is pictured above as he inspects his burned out crops on his farm near Brushy Creek in Williamson County.

Experts dis- but lately most of them to favor angling into the perhaps even more than However, Willard Cran- oats and motors editor of Afield magazine, says, "I atingly and strongly ad- exact heading into the for an inexperienced boat- ught out in dangerous in a boat 16 feet or under. re his reasons:

ng as the boat heads ex- into the crests the force wind and wave hit each ually. But take an ang- urse, even a slight one, e powerful forces of wind ater both start striking le of the boat, trying to more. No matter how e motor is going, or how a hand on the tiller an ze wave or hard gust of perhaps both combined, n jerk the bow around rther. And being swung to the waves is about rst thing that can happen all boat in bad weather. g waves at somewhat of le may result in more being sprayed in. Water a small boat in a storm us — it always rushes it is least wanted. As the s to one side, the water here and by the force of val, as well as its weight, that side down more. It eatly to any tip, roll or dive.

What are the objections of some experts to heading straight into waves? If the bow has a tendency to dive, it might dip deep enough so that the parted waves rejoins in the boat. If such a boat met the oncoming water at a slight angle, that same wave might push the bow up. However says Crandall, it might try to push the boat sideways. As a rule common sense seems to say it's muchbetter to hold the bow up by moving weight back, or adjusting motor speed, than to let a wave try to do the job.

The second objection to head-on hitting of waves it that it may be hard on the boat. But the question here isn't just one of prolonging the eventual life of the boat. It is the life of the passengers. Remember, we've been talking about boats under 16 feet, outboard, even row boats and canoes.

Notes from HD Agent

There are more people over 65 years of age in the United States than there ever have been before. Statisticians tell us that we can expepct this number to increase considerably in the coming year.

Though most of us want to live longer, we do not want to be "old." It is therefore, becoming more important for us to plan to live fully as we grow older, so we can enjoy those added years, says Thelma Wirges, county home demonstration agent.

The only insurance against growing old seems to be to live fully and intensely day by day, to have useful interests, activities and hobbies and continue learning something.

What you learn doesn't matter a great deal so long as it is interesting and worthwhile to you. Some things can be learned best alone; other things are more important learned in groups.

Start now to develop more varied and widening interests to provide insurance against old age.

Mrs. J. W. Nicholson, Family Economics Demonstrator, has done an excellent job making her home a better run business and making herself a better business woman. Mrs. Nicholson, organized a business center, a family file, got her birth certificate and is keeping expense-income records. Sound business methods can mean better living for any family. An activity so important as keeping up with business affairs of the family deserves a place in the home that offers comfort and convenience. Every family has important business to conduct, records and accounts to keep and correspondance to handle. Good business methods help to: 1. Save time. 2. Answer mail promptly. 3. Prevent costly mistakes and loss of money and 4. Avoid legal difficulties.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Maloney are working as a Farm and Home Development demonstrator family. They are keeping excellent income-expense rdecords on the farm and home. By doing this, they find they know just where they are. Do you know where you stand at all times? The Maloneys are also working on a family file. They have found it safest to keep valuable papers dealing with financial and legal family affairs in a safety deposit box or a fireproof box. However, there are papers on the farm, home and family that need to be organized at home.

Hon. Price Daniel Favors Old People

Elmer Lee Todd, president of the Texas United Pension Association, today endorsed Senator Price Daniel for Governor.

Todd, who lives in Waco, made the following statement:

"Elmer Lee Todd, president of the Texas United Pension Association, urges each of the 223,000 old age pension recipients, their sons and daughters, relatives and friends to support Senator Price Daniel for Governor of Texas because his record shows that down through the years he has worked for the benefit of the aged, blind and dependent children.

'His record shows that from the time he was first elected to the State Legislature he has worked without solicitation for the old people of Texas. He was a co-author of the Omnibus Tax Bill which finances old age assistance in Texas. When he was Speaker of the Texas House of Representatives he appointed committee members who were favorable to old age assistance legislation. This is very important in getting bills before the House.

"He has advised and helped write other bills for the old people while he was Attorney General of Texas. Since being in the United States Senate he was co-author of the Long Amendment to the recently passed Social Security Act which will mean an additional $3.00 per month to every old age assistant recipient in Texas, beginning in October. This Social Security bill also makes permanent the McFarland Amendment which has been on a temporary basis and assures all old age recipients of a continuation of the $5.00 they have been receiving on a temporary basis.

"These are deeds, done and well done. They are not idle promises from an untried and unproven aspirant to the Governorship. The old people of Texas have never had a truer or more consistent friend in any public official than they have in Senator Price Daniel."

Your answer depends on what you are adding. Two apples plus two apples always equal four apples. But two dollars plus two dollars soon become MORE than four dollars when you put them in your savings account. The difference (in your favor) is the interest that is added, as earned, to your original deposit, and compounded regularly. This accumulating interest, combined with your own systematic savings will steadily add up to that new home, that college education for your children, or whatever else your dreams are made of.
