Jury Told Man Slain as He Fled

VICTIM OF EX-MAYOR'S RIFLE DECLARED ON DEATH BED THAT ASSAILANT BROKE UP HIS HOME

DALLAS, Feb. 17. (AP)—About 145 witnesses remained to be heard in the trial of John Lawrence, banker and former Mesquite, Texas, mayor, for the fatal shooting of Jack Kimbell, Mesquite farmer, when the fifth day of the trial opened today.

Only three of the state's witnesses had testified, declaring that Kimbell was shot fatally as he fled to gain safety in a store. The state today was to continue its presentation of evidence and several other eye witnesses were expected to testify.

State's witnesses against Lawrence testified that Kimbell was shot while fleeing when taking of testimony began Thursday afternoon. The jury was completed shortly before noon after a drawn-out selection due largely to the state's insistence on freedom from scruples against the death penalty.

Jury Told of Fight.

J. R. Scott of Mesquite, former grocer and former justice of the peace, J. L. Herndon, hardware and furniture merchant of the Dallas county town, and W. H. Tosch, meat market proprietor, told of seeing Lawrence engage in a fight with Jack Kimbell and his two brothers, Charlie and Oscar Kimbell, on the afternoon of October 6, Lawrence immediately afterward running to his bank and obtaining a heavy calibre rifle and shooting Kimbell as Kimbell tried to escape

HOME TOWN TALK

By B. D. D.

There is an old saying that the way to a man's heart is through his stomach. If the women who have been attending the Times free cooking school and home economics institute this week are looking for the way to the hearts of males they are better qualified for the conquest, for the lectures and demonstrations given by Mrs. J. F. Plummer have been informative and practical. There has been a fairly good attendance at the school and we believe all who have attended will say they have been benefitted.

But if we are to judge by the attendance the women of Wichita Falls are more interested in beauty than in how to prepare meals and furnish the home. A few weeks ago the Times sponsored a beauty and health charm school. The attendance at that school was nearly twice as large as at the cooking school.

Of course every woman wants to add to her beauty and charm. Not all of them desire to know much about cooking or how best to furnish a home, but the majority are interested in such things. We are inclined to believe that more favorable weather had something to do with the larger attendance at the charm school.

Contributions for the Houston national Democratic convention fund seem to have stopped at $70—this doesn't include another $100 which J. A. Kemp sent direct to the committee—. Surely there are others who want to contribute to this fund. Send in your check and we will forward it to the committee at Houston.

Hon. C. C. McDonald, Wichita Falls attorney, delivered an address before the Rotary club on the causes and the remedy for the crime wave, that will cause some thinking on the part of those who heard it, not that there will be full agreement on the part of all with all that Mr. McDonald said. But everything that stirs thought is good so we will say that all of Mr. McDonald's address was good. We regret that we could not have printed all that Mr. McDonald said.

Not that youth are any more responsible or whether responsible as much as their elders but because in youth is the future and hope of our civilization, we believe

TWO MEN ARE SHOT TO DEATH DALLAS COUNTY

DALLAS, Feb. 17. (AP)—Two men were shot to death in a gun battle near Trinity Mills, several miles north of Carrolton, Texas, shortly after noon today, according to reports to the sheriff's office here.

One of the dead men was George Lay, 58, Dallas county farmer, the report said.

Identity of the other victim was not learned while the third participant was not wounded.

FILIPINO LEADER TO BE CONFINED IN CALIFORNIA SANITARIUM FOR YEAR

U. S. REFUSES HAVEN TO MAN WITHOUT COUNTRY

APIA, Samoa, Feb. 17. (AP)—Edwin W. Gurr, former newspaper editor in western Samoa who was banished by the New Zealand government for political activity, arrived in American Samoa by steamer yesterday and was informed by Governor Graham that he would not be permitted to land. Gurr will be deported to New Zealand on a steamer leaving here tomorrow.

MOTHER OF SINCLAIR AIDE DIES AT NEW YORK HOME

NEW YORK, Feb. 17. (AP)—Mrs. Elmile Garnett Day, mother of Henry Mason Day, vice president of the Sinclair Exploration company, a subsidiary of the Harry F. Sinclair oil interests, died at her home here last night after an illness of several years. Her daughter said her brother had not been told of the death.

SAN ANTONIO GETS NEW ARMY PROJECT IN HOUSING FUNDS

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 17. (AP) Projects totaling several million dollars worth of construction work at U. S. army camps at San Antonio are included in the army housing bill now before the lower house of congress. San Antonio projects in the bill include:

Fort Sam Houston, Texas, $900,000 for barracks; new primary flying school at San Antonio, $180,950 for barracks, $540,000 for non-commissioned officers' quarters and $1,250,000 for officers quarters.

COURT ORDERS JURY TO FREE GOV. JACKSON

INDIANA CHIEF EXECUTIVE CLEARED OF ATTEMPTED BRIBERY COMPLAINT

JACKSON NOT PLEASED WITH COURSE OF CASE

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 17. (AP)—Ed Jackson, unencumbered, today resumed his duties as governor.

He was acquitted yesterday of the charge that he concealed an attempt to bribe former Governor Warren T. McCray in 1923 to name James E. McDonald as Marion county prosecutor. A jury returned a directed verdict of not guilty

Special Judge Charles M. McCabe ordered the acquittal when he sustained a defense motion which contended the state failed to prove that Jackson, Robert I. Marsh, local attorney, and George V. Coffin, Marion county Republican chairman, had concealed the alleged bribery by keeping McCray, then governor, in fear. The statute of limitations of two years, therefore, applied in the case. The indictment was returned last fall.

Governor Works at Night

For a week and a day the governor was on trial and during that time was able to give state business little of his attention. Occasionally in the morning before court opened and after adjournment at night he would go to the state house and attend to pressing matters.

It was over Governor Jackson's protest that his attorneys filed the motion for acquittal. The governor said he wanted to put his witnesses on the stand to refute statements of prosecution witnesses including former Governor McCray that he personally had put the alleged bribe before McCray. In a statement the attorneys said Jackson was prevailed upon to do their bidding because of Coffin and Marsh who are scheduled to be tried later.

Jackson Has Evidence

The governor, however, will make public his evidence as soon as the Marsh and Coffin cases have been disposed of, the statement said. Defense attorneys believed the Jackson evidence "will convince fair-minded persons that the charge of any wrong doing or criminal act on his part is wholly without foundation or fact."

Prosecutor William H. Remy said he was not prepared to say whether the state would appeal from the

HICKMAN'S COUNSEL FACES VAIN BATTLE TO SAVE HIS NECK

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 17. (AP)—Attorneys defending William Edward Hickman and Welby Hunt went slowly forward today in their admittedly hopeless fight to obtain an acquittal of the two young desperadoes of the murder of C. Ivy Toms, suburban druggist.

Today's session promised little of interest to spectators. Seven women and five men were tentatively seated in the jury box, but the defense had used only half of its 30 peremptory challenges and the prosecution but three of its allotted 20.

The examination of jurors must drag along until the defense has exhausted all its rights of challenge, Jerome Walsh, and Richard Cantillon, the defense lawyers, announced they would use all the challenges the law would allow in order to make the best possible showing in the appellate court. This statement was taken as a tacit admission of their belief that the verdict would be against them.

Fifty-nine talesmen had been examined at the close of yesterday's session. Attorneys for both sides expressed the belief that the case

SANDINO GETS PEACE OFFER FROM MARINES BUT DOESN'T ACCEPT

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, Feb. 17. (AP)—Communications said to deal with terms of peace have been exchanged between Augustino Sandino, rebel leader, and Rear Admiral David S. Sellers, commander of the United States special service squadron, who arrived at Corinto yesterday.

Letters said to include peace terms written by Admiral Sellers for Sandino and dropped by airplane over Sandino's positions were received by the rebel chieftain. Sandino replied to the letters giving the terms under which he would lay down his arms, but the terms have not been given out.

Admiral Sellers arrived at Managua today from Corinto for a conference with Charles E. Eberhardt, American minister in Nicaragua, and Brig. Gen. Logan Feland, commanding the American marine forces here.

Carleton Beals, American magazine writer, who recently arrived in Managua after interviewing Sandino, on February 3, said that the rebel leader had told him of the terms he offers for the restoration of peace, and that these terms had been relayed by him to the American legation.

FUNERAL GEORGE STEARNS HELD FROM FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH FRIDAY P. M.

Fueral services for George E. Stearns, 56, veteran conductor on the Missouri-Kansas-Texas railroad, who died suddenly at his home, 1507 Eleventh street, Wednesday night, were to be held from the First Baptist church at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon, with Dr. O. L. Powers, pastor, officiating.

Burial services were held at Riverside in charge of members of Wichita Falls lodge No. 635, A. F. & A. M.

Former Wichita Youth Dies From Gunshot Wounds

Word of the death Thursday afternoon of Collin Ivie, former Wichita Falls youth, at Newcastle as the result of gunshot wounds he received Wednesday morning while he was playing with a gun believed unloaded, was received here Friday by friends of the family.

Funeral services were to be held at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon at Newcastle where burial was to be made.

The youth was the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Ivie who moved from Wichita Falls to Newcastle about two years ago. Mr. Ivie is a brakeman on the Wichita Falls and Southern railroad. Young Ivie attended the local junior high school while here.

CHILD SERIOUSLY INJURED WHEN TRAIN STRIKES AUTO

TEMPLE, Texas, Feb. 17. (AP)—Elizabeth Brown, nine, received a broken leg and sever lacerations about the face, and her mother, father and six-year-old brother also were painfully bruised when the automobile in which they were riding was struck by a freight train at a grade crossing near the M. K. T. depot last night.

VIRGIL ARNOLD TO OPEN LIEUT.-GOV.'S RACE

HOUSTON, Feb. 17. (AP)—Virgil E. Arnold, Houston lawyer, announced here Friday that he would open his campaign as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for lieutenant governor with an address at Dallas, March 20.

PORCUPINE QUILL COSTS MAN'S LIFE

HAZELTON, B. C., Feb. 17. (AP)—A battle with a porcupine several years ago resulted in the death yesterday of Ernest Loring, former government telegraph lineman. One of a number of quills which entered Loring's flesh, worked its way through his body until it pierced his lungs bringing on a lingering and fatal illness.

DISTRICT MEET C. E. TO BEGIN FRIDAY EVENING

A large number of out-of-town delegates were expected to register Friday afternoon for the district Christian Endeavor convention, which is scheduled to start at 7:30 o'clock Friday evening at the First Presbyterian church, according to the registration committee.

The Rev. Erwin Montgomery of Graham is scheduled for the address of the evening Friday, and W. Roy Breg, field secretary of the Kansas C. E. union, will also speak. Grady Snuggs, president of the Wichita Falls city union, will extend a welcome to all the delegates, and Sherrill Ballew of Seymour, district president, will respond to the welcome. Miss Martha Wick will play a violin solo as an offertory, and the Rev. Lee H. Smith of Chillicothe will sing.

Following the program, a short social will be enjoyed, with Guy E. Curtis, religious educational director of the First Christian church, in charge.

Saturday morning, following a short devotional by the Rev. Daniel Grieder, special conferences will be held on various phases of Christian Endeavor work. Addresses will be given by W. Roy Breg, Dorothy McMasters of Quanah, the Rev. L. D. Grafton of Electra, Dr. Gaines B. Hall, Dr. Paul Henry Packard, and the Rev. David Rees-Jones.

Conferences will also be held Saturday afternoon, and the annual fellowship banquet will be held Saturday night, with Shirley Donnel as toastmaster.

The convention will close Sunday evening.

MAN WANTED IN TEXAS ARRESTED IN MICHIGAN

BATTLE CREEK, Mich., Feb. 17. (AP)—Harry L. Cohen, said to have been a member of the firm known as the St. Louis Sales company, members of which were indicted at Sherman, Texas, on charges of violating the national bankruptcy act, has been arrested here and is held under $5000 bond for trial in Texas. The charges grew out of the alleged concealing of assets in a bankruptcy case in 1926.

SHREVEPORT MAN TAKES POISON AT SAN ANTONIO

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 17. (AP)—A 52-year-old man whose papers indicate that he came from Shreveport was in the hospital here today with little chance of recovery after having taken poison last night in his hotel room. He told officers that he would kill himself if the physicians succeeded in saving his life.

Daughter Held After Mother Dies Of Poison Placed In Well At Her Home.

ALEDO, Ill., Feb. 17. (AP)—Postal authorities working on a "mail poison plot" case which was responsible for the deaths of two Aledo residents, followed a trail today which led them toward Los Angeles or Long Beach, Calif.

Investigation indicated the plot may have had its inception 18 months ago with the organization of an anti-chicken thief society, in which one of the victims, Mrs. Curtis Lowry, 40, had been active. Maurice Baker, 33, a farmer, the other victim, died on the same date as Mrs. Lowry, February 2, after having taken a sample of "flu" medicine sent through the mails.

Twelve Got Capsules

Twelve persons in Aledo, including the two victims and State's Attorney James A. Allen, were the only ones so far as is known who received poison capsules. None, except Mrs. Lowry and Baker, used the medicine. Following their deaths, State's Attorney Allen ordered an investigation and examination of the vital organs of the deceased, and the contents of the capsules.

The medicine, Attorney Allen said, had been mailed from Kansas City, Kan., although the labels on the boxes indicated it was a product of the Zerbst Pharmaceutical company of St. Joseph, Mo.

"The capsules showed evidence of having been tampered with by someone other than the manufacturers," he said. "The boxes in which they were mailed were intended to hold 25, but in the ones mailed there were but three sam-

CREAGER TO BE HONOR GUEST DINNER FRIDAY

R. B. Creager, Republican national committeeman from Texas, accompanied by two other party leaders of the state, arrived in Wichita Falls on schedule Friday afternoon for conferences with local Republicans.

Capt. J. F. Lucey, active vice president in charge of the Associated Hoover for President clubs of the state, and Leonard Withington, secretary of the state committee and director in charge of Hoover organization work, were with him.

They were to be guests of local Republicans at a dinner at the Kemp hotel Friday night at 7:30 o'clock, according to Orville Bullington, local attorney and vice chairman of the state Republican executive committee. All Hoover supporters and Republicans are invited to be present, Mr. Bullington said.

Mr. Creager, predicting there is no doubt of Hoover's nomination, forecast that Smith will be the Democratic nominee. As a result, he said, Texas will be a doubtful state. The sincerity of that belief is established, he said, by the fact that Republicans are making the most elaborate preparations for their campaign in the history of the state.

AMERICAN OIL TANKER CHUKY EN ROUTE TO JAPANESE PORT FIGURES IN NAVAL DISASTER

TOKYO, Feb. 17. (AP)—The captain and 13 members of the crew of the American oil tanker Chuky were killed when the vessel exploded.

A trawler arrived here today with 21 survivors of the disaster which occurred Wednesday as the tanker was en route from San Pedro, Cal., to Japan.

Several of the survivors, who were landed, were injured.

Dispatch Confirms Report

LONDON, Feb. 17. (AP)—A Lloyd's dispatch from Yokohama says the tanker Chuky was blown up and sank at the approximate position of 33 north longitude, 140 east latitude, or more than 150 miles south of Tokyo.

Fifteen of the crew were killed. Twenty-one other members of the crew were saved by fishermen and landed today at Misaka, Japan.

Operated by British Firm

SAN PEDRO, Calif., Feb. 17. (AP) The oil tanker Chuky left here January 19 for Tsurumi, Japan. At that time she was listed as being operated by the Chile Steamship company of New York. She is registered under the ownership of the Sheridan Steamship company of London.

The Chuky was a vessel of 7335 gross tons, built in Glasgow in 1922. The size of the crew is not known here.

Company Has No Details

NEW YORK, Feb. 17. (AP)—The Chile Steamship company, owners of the tanker Chuky, which exploded in the Pacific with the loss of its captain and several of the crew, today said the vessel was commanded by Captain C. Hermes and was manned by a crew of 35 men.

The Chuky was en route from San Pedro, Calif., to Tokyo with fuel oil when she exploded on Wednesday. The company here had received no details of the disaster and the cause of the explosion was not known.

WILL SWIM IN SHARK INFESTED WATERS WHILE MOTION PICTURES MADE

SPRING LAKE, N. J., Feb. 17. (AP)—Van Campen Heilner, field representative of the American Museum of Natural History, left today for the Bahama islands to pursue his studies of ocean life which this time will include an effort to disprove the belief that all species of sharks are man eaters. Heilner said he would offer himself as shark bait.

"It has long been a question whether a shark will attack a human being unless protected," Heilner said, adding that it was the belief of scientists that only the white shark and barracuda would. "I intend to prove it by swimming in shark infested waters while my assistant makes underwater motion pictures."

BRITISH AUTO RACER MAKES 193 MILE SPEED

MISSOURI PHYSICIAN BEGINS SERVING HIS LIFE SENTENCE

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Feb. 17. (AP)—Dr. Edward G. Croxdale, Southwest City physician, convicted of slaying W. S. Hatfield, night marshal at Southwest City, Mo., last August, today entered the Missouri state penitentiary to begin a life sentence assessed against him in McDonald county circuit court.

STOCK PRICES COLLAPSE AND LOSSES HEAVY

NEW YORK, Feb. 17. (AP)—Stock prices collapsed on the New York Stock exchange today in the most sweeping reaction since last summer. Standard industrials and rails broke $2 to $7 a share, with even larger declines in some of the high priced specialties, Greene Cananea Copper breaking $16.50. In the absence of any adverse trade news, the reaction was widely described as a necessary correction of a topheavy speculative position. The ticker was 30 minutes late in recording the final quotations.

HEAVENS CLEAR FRIDAY AFTER BIG SNOWFALL

(By the Associated Press)

Sub-freezing temperatures which were reported for Northern Texas last night were expected tonight and tomorrow. In East Texas, frost was expected to extend to the coast with freezing temperatures in the north and central portions. Temperatures in West Texas were expected to be unchanged.

Minimum temperatures reported yesterday to the weather bureau were Abilene, 28; Amarillo, 16; Austin, 38; Brownsville, 50; Corpus Christi, 48; Dallas, 31; Del Rio, 36; El Paso, 24; Houston, 42; Palestine, 36; San Antonio, 38, and Taylor, 36.

Childress, in the Panhandle, today reported clear skies, but impeded traffic because of the heaviest snow since 1910. The snow measured about eight inches on level ground and it was estimated that at least 12 inches fell during the snow storm.

Clear skies brought relief from rain and snow to Wichita Falls Friday morning, but heavy snowstorms were expected in Oklahoma.

Snow about an inch in depth fell here Thursday afternoon and night. Most of it melted soon after striking the ground but enough remained to coat automobiles and houses with a roof of white.

The minimum temperature recorded since 5 p. m. Thursday was 28 degrees and the maximum 44. The temperature at 1 p. m. Friday was 44 degrees. A north wind was blowing Friday afternoon and precipitation since 5 p. m. Thurs-

SEA YIELDS BODY MAN BELIEVED ONE LOST DOLE FLIERS

VENTURA, Calif., Feb. 17. (AP)—Brought up by the tide and current from Davy Jones' locker, the body of what once was a well built, athletic man of 30, was being held by authorities here today in an attempt to learn whether it was one of the long missing Dole fliers.

The body, which obviously had been in the salt water for several months, had but one outward identifying mark—a black taffeta neckerchief like those worn by American sailors. First guesses were that it might be the body of Lieut. Vilas R. Knope, U. S. N., navigator of the ill-fated Dole flight plane, "Miss Doran."

Unidentified Man Gives His Blood Response to Appeal Sent by Radio Behalf Woman in Kansas Hospital

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 17. (AP)—Mrs. Mary Dejaynes, 28, had a chance for life today—a chance afforded by the blood of an unidentified man, one of scores who responded last night to a radio appeal for blood to save the woman's life.

Mrs. Dejaynes entered the general hospital here January 29, suffering from a complication of diseases. Yesterday her condition became worse. Dr. Otto J. Printz, senior interne, asked if there was anyone who might give her blood.

"There's no one except my husband," she said. "He is at the county jail charged with robbery."

Last night a blood transfusion became imperative. The county jail was called, but the husband, Harry Dejaynes, had been taken to the penitentiary at Jefferson City, in the afternoon.

Then Dr. Printz called WDAF, the radio station of the Kansas City Star, asking that an appeal for blood be broadcast.

Ten minutes later calls began coming into the general hospital. The first dozen were told to hurry to the hospital for blood tests. The names of the others, more than 100, were taken.

The first to appear was a man and his wife, who refused to give their names. The man was selected and the transfusion was made early today as the wife looked on.

Mrs. Dejaynes was reported greatly improved.

Three Downtown Stores Swept By Fire Early Friday Morning With Total Damage Estimated $31,000

Damage estimated at approximately $31,000 was caused by flames which swept three stores in the 900 block on Indiana avenue early Friday morning.

The building, which includes 922-24-26 Indiana avenue, is owned by J. J. Perkins. Damage to the roof and partitions from flames and to floors from water was estimated at around $10,000.

The Marshall Millinery store, 924 Indiana, suffered a complete loss of stock and fixtures valued at $6000.

The Art Beauty parlor, located on the balcony at the rear of 922-24 Indiana, was also completely wrecked, with a property loss of about $5000.

The Wade-Thompson company wholesale confectioners, had $12,000 worth of candy and fountain supplies stored in the rear of 922 Indiana. Officials of the firm said Friday morning that damage would probably be about 50 per cent of the stock, or $6000.

Goods stored in this building invoiced $7000 on January 1 and two freight carloads of supplies been placed in the warehouse since that time.

The Wichita Music company, which had 20 pianos stored in the rear of 924 Indiana, estimated the damage at $4000. The music company suffered a similar loss when a number of pianos were damaged by the fire which wrecked Kimberlin's store several months ago.

The P. B. M. company had a few Christmas decoration supplies stored in the balcony of 926 Indiana. Otherwise this building was vacant. The goods were badly smoked up, but damage is not expected to exceed $200.

Make Requisition for Airplanes For Aerial Warfare Against Rum Runners Between Points in Texas

FORT WORTH, Feb. 17. (AP)—An aerial warfare against rum runners in Texas is seen in the announcement of A. R. Butler, enforcement director for the 17th district, that a requisition for airplanes has been forwarded to Washington from the Fort Worth office.

Whether the government will comply with the request is problematical, Butler said. Dry officers, however, have used aircraft successfully in Florida to wage war against rum runners and Butler is of the opinion that scouting planes would prove valuable in watching the wide area embraced in the gulf coast and Mexican border. River bottom distilleries also could be easily located from the air.

Planes would be equipped with wireless apparatus to inform agents the route being traversed by a convoy of trucks carrying liquor into Texas. Duty of pilots would be that of spotting the trucks, watching their movements and informing officers on the ground.

New York Favors Hoover

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17. (AP)—Sentiment of the delegates at large from New York to the Republican national convention is distinctly friendly to Secretary Hoover, in the opinion of Representative Snell of that state.

LESLIE DAILEY DIES AFTER OIL FIELD ACCIDENT

Leslie Dailey, 22, of Thrift, Texas, who was seriously injured when one of his feet was caught in the machinery of a tractor in the Burkburnett oil fields on February 11, died in a local hospital at 11:50 o'clock Thursday night.

The body was taken in charge by the Owens undertaking parlors of Burkburnett. Funeral arrangements will not be completed until the arrival of two brothers from distant points.

Physicians at the hospital to which Dailey was brought immediately after the accident, amputated one leg in an effort to save the youth's life.

DEFENSE RESTS IN SINCLAIR COMTEMPT 'JURY SHADOW CASE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17. (AP)—The end of the criminal contempt proceedings against Harry F. Sinclair, William J. Burns and others for shadowing the Fall-Sinclair oil conspiracy jury came within sight today when the defense rested its case.

The proceedings started last December 5, a little more than a month after the oil case ended in a mistrial, when it was learned Sinclair had Burns detectives shadowing the jury which was to decide his fate on charges of conspiracy with Albert B. Fall to defraud the government.

The government offered no rebuttal testimony and motions to strike out portions of the government testimony were renewed by defense counsel.

Henry Mason Day, who testified in his own behalf yesterday in the Sinclair-Burns criminal contempt proceedings, was excused today from attendance at court until Tuesday because of the death of his mother in New York last night.

Before Day went on the stand yesterday, he was informed his mother was near death. He was not told of her death until this morning.

The criminal contempt charges against C. L. Veitsch, Baltimore manager for the Burns Detective agency, were dismissed today by Justice Frederick L. Siddons in the supreme court of the District of Columbia. The government opposed the action, but the court held his guilt had not been established "beyond a reasonable doubt."

Veitsch was one of the six respondents cited as the result of the shadowing of the Fall-Sinclair oil conspiracy jury by Burns detectives employed by Sinclair.

Veitsch's part in the affair was to bring $1500 from Baltimore to Washington, with which to pay the surveillance squad. The government's testimony developed that he knew nothing of the shadowing and took no part in it. He brought the money here on orders from the Burns New York office.

HOLLIDAY SENDS CAGE TEAMS TO TOURNAMENT

HOLLIDAY, Texas, Feb. 17.—The Holliday junior and senior basket ball teams will go to Archer City Friday to compete in the county basket ball tournament.

The juniors have not been defeated this year and Coach Miller holds high hopes of yet further victories in the tournament.

the two most important statements in Mr. McDonald's address were these: "The greatest cause of the present crime wave is the weakened moral fiber, the atheism, fatalism and skepticism of youth." And, "We must provide an outlet for the pep, vigor and vitality of youth."

Some of our young people are shot through with a poisoning, destroying fatalism that leads them to believe they have no will, choice, volition or responsibility in their acts. It crops out in the investigation of many crimes of youth. Every competent preacher, teacher and moral leader ought to give his best in opposition to such a belief.

Thursday's rain ended in a snow that has apparently covered all of Northwest Texas to depths varying from one to five inches. It was the first genuine snow of the winter here, and for most of this section of Texas. The farmer thinks of it as putting a good season in the ground for wheat and grass and other crops, the golfer thinks of it in greening turf on the course, the school boy and the school girl think of it in snowballs and mothers think of it in terms of wet feet and colds. In cotton exchanges reports of the Texas snow will probably send cotton prices down a few or maybe many points.

HICKMAN'S COUNSEL FACES HARD TASK

A. Gray Gilmer, counsel for 16-year-old Welby Hunt, declared he would not join in attack upon the right of members of the present jury panel to sit in the case in which Hunt and William Edward Hickman are accused of the slaying of C. Ivy Toms.

Previously Richard Cantillon of Hickman's counsel had challenged the entire panel on the ground that they had served more than 20 days permitted by law. He said he would "preserve his point by using every one of the 30 defense challenges."

The panel was called January 16, but Judge Elliott Craig overruled the defense on the ground that the law meant 20 days actual sitting in the jury box rather than merely the time of impaneling.

The issue was reopened this morning when one of the tentative jurors told Judge Craig that he had served on a previous panel and might be disqualified under the judge's interpretation of the law. It was then Gilmer declared he was not in sympathy with the technical point raised by his colleague.

In an attempt to speed the selection of jurors in the face of the defense threat to use all of the 30 preemptory challenges, 15 of which remained, Judge Craig appealed to the prospective jurors themselves. He asked that each state as soon as he reached his seat if he had opinions which prevented his sitting in the case. As a result there was a quick march of talesmen through the box. Objection to the death penalty or prejudice against Hunt by reason of his association with the slayer of Marian Parker caused the excusing of many talesmen.

Opening of the Toms case was delayed a quarter of an hour while Judge Craig sentenced a defendant in a case previously heard by him.

FRANCE WILL PUT LIMIT ON MOVIES FROM AMERICA

PARIS, Feb. 17. JUDGE DISCHARGES HARRY HILL'S JURY DEADLOCK VERDICT

OTTAWA, Ill., Feb. 17. (AP)—The jury which for four days deliberated the fate of Harry Hill, charged with killing his mother, was discharged today after it reported a disagreement.

Twice before the jurors had reported they were unable to agree upon a verdict, but each time were sent back by Judge Joe E. Davis for further deliberation. They had been out approximately 70 hours. The men received the case Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

State's Attorney Hanson stated he would ask that a new trial date be set immediately after the trial of Hiram Reed, charged with causing the injury of Iola Bradford, young school teacher, by setting off a charge of dynamite in the stove of the school in which she taught. It is set for February 24.

The final vote of the jury was nine to three for conviction, with a penitentiary sentence of 14 years, the minimum, it was revealed after the jury had been discharged.

For the first 24 hours after the jury retired the vote was seven to five for conviction, with a sentence of life imprisonment.

Neither Harry nor Dr. Hill would talk to newspapermen. A Chicago reporter went into the ante-room, where young Hill was held pending his return to jail, and asked for a statement.

The young man broke into a rage and rushed at the reporter, cursing and swinging his fists. His father and a guard seized him, however.

No effort to obtain bond for young Hill was made. It was understood bond might be requested tomorrow.

COURT ORDERS JURY FREE GOV. JACKSON

judge's decision or what would be done with the cases of Marsh and Coffin.

The closing minutes of the trial were a strain on the governor. For the first time he was affected visibly when Judge McCabe took most of the afternoon to study over his decision. When the verdict finally was returned he gave the crowded courtroom his first smile since the trial began.

Ku Klux Klan Scored

Judge McCabe in his final decision vigorously condemned the Ku Klux Klan, fear of whose power, the state charged, kept McCray from revealing the alleged offer of $10,000 and immunity from embezzlement charges then pending against him if he would appoint McDonald prosecutor.

Judge McCabe said he could not see how any governor of Indiana could have believed the klan could have controlled the verdicts in the courts.

"I am perfectly aware of the slime and disgrace of that organization," he said. "There is no more regrettable bit of history in Indiana that the organization and participation in politics of the Ku Klux Klan. It has resulted in dishonor to the state of Indiana."

Former Governor Testifies

The trial started February 8. The state used only seven witnesses. Former Governor McCray and his attorney, James E. Noel, both testified that Jackson, then secretary of state, offered McCray the $10,000 bribe. D. C. Stephenson, former klan grand dragon and now serving a life term for murder, testified that he was the donor of the $10,000. Former State Purchasing Agent Fred Robinson testified that he first carried the alleged offer to McCray, who refused it.

NEW DRY CHIEF TO BE APPOINTED FOR TEXAS

FORT WORTH, Feb. 17. (AP)—Assignment of Harry M. Dengler, field supervisor of the prohibition department, as acting administrator for the Texas district, is only temporary and a new dry chief will be appointed as soon as the list of eligibles is announced by the civil service commission.

This was the statement of Dengler in response to a query as to whether he would succeed C. A. Warnken, who has returned to his old post as legal advisor of the prohibition department.

Examinations for prohibition administrator and other positions in the service were conducted in January, but no report of grades has as yet been made, Dengler said. It is the policy of the government to name a chief from the district in which prohibition headquarters is located, he said.

MRS. VEE FAULK AND INFANT DAUGHTER DIE SAME DAY AT HOLLIDAY

Mrs. Vee Faulk and her infant daughter died at the family home in Holliday at 2 o'clock Friday morning. Funeral services were held from the Hines mortuary chapel at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon with Dr. O. L. Powers, pastor of the First Baptist church, officiating. The body was forwarded to Bremond, Texas, for burial.

Mrs. Faulk is survived by her husband, who is manager of the Humble Oil company at Holliday, and four children.

TWO DEAD OF POISON PILLS SENT IN MAIL

ples. An investigator for the Zerbst company examined the boxes also and definitely established that the contents of the capsules had been tampered with."

Crank Seen Responsible

Another theory on which authorities were working was that the poison had been mailed by a crank seeking to damage the reputation of the Zerbst company.

I. V. Kinney, postoffice inspector, of Rock Island, Ill., was assigned to the case. It is he who traced the mailing of the medicine to Kansas City, and while there picked up clues which led him to believe the plotters had gone to California.

POISON IN WELL KILLS ONE AND RENDERS EIGHT ILL

LOUISVILLE, Ga., Feb. 17. (AP)—A poisoned well and flour bin, which a coroner's jury said brought death to Mrs. Rose Kelly and illness to eight members of her family, have been charged to a neighbor woman and her daughter.

Mrs. Liza Ann Davis, 25, and her mother, Mrs. Ida Williford, 55, were arrested yesterday, charged with murder. Officers declared the arrests followed the finding of footprints that led from the Kelly home to the house where the accused women resided, a grange, near this town.

When a jury pronounced Mrs. Kelly's death due to poisoning, an investigation was started which officers said resulted in discovery of poison in the Kelly flour bin and well.

A motive was suggested in the statement that Tom Kelly, the dead woman's husband, recently furnished information in a robbery for which the husband of Mrs. Davis is sought.

Sheriff D. C. Thomas, who made the arrests, said that both women were packing their clothing when he went to the Davis home. The women denied all knowledge of the crime and insisted that they be given an immediate preliminary hearing. The hearing, the sheriff said, will await a report by state chemists in Atlanta, to whom the viscera of Mrs. Kelly has been sent for examination.

LEVIATHAN RUNS AGROUND IN SOUTHAMPTON WATERS

SOUTHAMPTON, Eng., Feb. 17. (AP)—The United States liner Leviathan went ashore near Alshot, at the head of Southampton Water, on her arrival here today, but aided by four tugs she was removed and enabled to proceed to her dock.

JURY TOLD MAN SLAIN AS HE FLED

into a store. They were the only three witnesses heard Thursday before adjournment until Friday morning.

Herndon, the first witness called, testified that when he drove up in front of his store he noticed a crowd on the square and the three Kimbells huddled together.

"I got out of my car and heard someone shout 'Look out, he's got a gun'," the witness said. "I looked and saw John Lawrence at the northeast corner of the square with a rifle. The Kimbell boys ran and scattered. Lawrence raised his gun and shot twice. The first shot hit the ground behind Jack, who shouted and fell on the sidewalk nearly in front of my store at the second shot."

"Did you hear Jack Kimbell say anything?" District Attorney William McCraw asked.

"Yes," replied the witness. "He said: 'He's broken up my home and shot me in cold-blooded murder.' I ran to him and dragged him by the arms to the door of my store. Three other men helped me carry him into my store. Jack said: 'Lay me down, boys, I'm dying.' We put him on a mattress in the store. He said two or three more times that Lawrence had broken up his home and shot him down in cold blood. We searched him but found no gun or other weapon. I got out the ambulance and took him to the hospital."

Former Justice Scott, the second witness, testified that he called Lawrence into his store to sell him some ink and that as he left the store Charlie and Jack Kimbell called Lawrence to the edge of the sidewalk. As their voices rose, he heard Charlie say: 'You just sit steady in the saddle and we'll pay you every cent we owe you.' Lawrence then asked "When?" and Charlie said "When we get ready."

Lawrence Made Threat.

"Lawrence then said, 'I'm going to crack down on you'," the witness testified. "Charlie said, 'Do it, do it now,' and Lawrence said: 'You want to fight; I meant to sue you'."

After a physical encounter a pistol fell to the ground and was taken inside the store. Lawrence coming in and demanding his gun shortly afterward, the witness said. When he was not given it, he went to his bank and shortly afterward Scott heard shots and saw Lawrence standing with a rifle in his hands and Jack Kimbell lying on the sidewalk.

W. H. Tosch testified to seeing practically all of the affray and the shooting. Jack Kimbell dodged behind an automobile at the first shot but fell at the second, he said.

The court room was crowded to capacity.

A summary of allegations in a $50,000 alienation of affections suit by Jack Kimbell, for whose slaying John Lawrence, former Mesquite, Texas, mayor is on trial here, against the accused man was read before jurors here today.

The document charged that Lawrence had been meeting Kimbell's wife secretly and had corrupted her and caused her to sue him for divorce, thereby destroying Kimbell's family.

day was .06 of an inch (melted snow).

The Missouri-Kansas-Texas lines reported that it started snowing hard in Oklahoma at 7 o'clock Friday morning with a temperature of 26 degrees all along the line. Heavy snows fell along the line Thursday afternoon, stopping at 5 p. m.

The Fort Worth and Denver reported the weather clear and calm Friday morning. Heavy snowfall was reported from Texline to Henrietta, with light snow and rain from Henrietta to Fort Worth.

Temperatures at 5 p. m. Friday was as follows: Texline, 14 degrees; Amarillo, 18, and Childress, 27.

SEYMOUR, Texas, Feb. 17.—A slow rain which began falling here Thursday morning turned to a heavy snow at noon, which continued throughout the day and resulted in more than an inch precipitation. This locality now has abundant moisture to insure small grain crops.

HOLD ALLEGED GUNMAN WANTED IN MONTANA

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 17. (AP)—An alleged gunman from Montana was arrested here today on a charge of being a dangerous and suspicious character. He was lodged in jail while police communicated with Montana authorities. The man who gave the name of Henry Polan, 49 years old, admitted, police announced he was wanted in Plenty Wood, Mont. He did not mention the charge.

The arrest followed receipt of information by police that Polan was here trying to find a partner to assist him in "doing a few jobs."

A loaded revolver and a quantity of dum dum copper cartridges were found in the room where he was arrested, police said.

Amnesia Victim Held by Police In New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 17. (AP)—A man, thought to be an amnesia victim, was held in the parish prison today for examination.

He was taken to a precinct station last night after he failed to pay a taxicab bill. He was well dressed, educated and said he was a doctor.

"I believe I am Dr. Edward A. Brown," he declared after the name, "E. A. Brown" had been found on his wallet. "But I am not sure," he added.

"I don't know where I came from or where I am. I don't remember how I got here. I think it must be amnesia. I had $800, but someone hit me on the head and took it away from me."

He spoke of "my hospital" and said one must take a "yellow street car and not a red one to get there."

FATHER OF FIGHTER MEETS SAME DEATH THAT TOOK HIS SON

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Feb. 17. (AP)—Thomas Klecal, 74, father of Stanley Ketchel, whose sensational career in the prize ring was cut short by an assassin, has met a similar fate.

Klecal's body, with the throat slashed, was found in a barn loft at the family home yesterday. John Klecal, a son, in whose possession a bloodstained knife was found, was held.

The killing, occurring nearly 17 years after Stanley was shot to death at Conway, Mo., is believed by authorities to have had its motive in a dispute over land left by the former middleweight champion, which since has multiplied in value. Stanley, who adopted the ring name of "Ketchel," bequeathed to his mother parcels of resort land along the Pine Island lake district near here.

Mrs. Klecal recently drew up a will, police said, under the terms of which the property would have reverted to her husband at her death. Alexander, another son, instituted court proceedings in an effort to obtain $15,000 from the mother as his share of the estate. The suit is still pending. Although no legal action has been taken by the other brothers, Leon, of New York City, and John and Arthur, who live here, they were said to have objected to provisions of the will.

John, arrested several miles from the scene of the slaying, denied connection with the killing, but refused to answer questions, police said. He would give no account of his movements nor explain the bloodstained knife. A cap, which was picked up near the spot where the body was found was identified by Arthur Klecal as the property of the man held.

John is the youngest brother of the late Stanley. The latter, who many critics hold to have been the greatest middleweight fighter of all time, was shot to death November 15, 1910, at the Two Bar ranch of Colonel R. P. Dickinson at Conway, by Walter Diplay, a farmer. The shooting is said to have followed a dispute over the affections of a young woman. Diplay is serving a life sentence.

PLANES TO CARRY TOURISTS AT FARE CHEAP AS TRAINS

CHICAGO, Feb. 17. (AP)—Completion of plans for transcontinental airplane service at fares virtually the same as those charged by railroads, was announced today by officials of the Yelloway Bus system. Operation is to start early next summer.

The planes are to be tri-motored and will carry 12 passengers. The announcement said that traveling time between New York and Chicago will be reduced one-half, with the cost approximately the same as would be paid by rail.

The new service expects to open with two lines between Kansas City and New York, one route being via St. Louis and Pittsburgh, the other via Chicago and Cleveland.

Roger W. Taggert, president of the Yelloway system, said the make of plane to be used has not been determined.

The Constant Flame

By Winifred Van Duzer — Author of "THE GOOD BAD GIRL," "GOLDEN ROADS," "THRILL HUNTERS" and Other Popular Serials (Copyright, 1927, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

What Has Happened So Far

Emily Day daughter of very poor parents has a great yearning to make a success. She finds it impossible to mingle with the socially elect of the little town where she lives owing to her poverty and the fact that her father is a factory worker. She loses her heart to Kent Rossiter a rich young man, who is supposed to be engaged to Marilee Grainger. One moonlight night at a party Kent kisses Emily and calls her beautiful. He goes away to study law but she never forgets him. Meanwhile, Marty Nolan, whose father keeps a "speakeasy," tells her he too is going to be a lawyer and that some day he intends to marry her. She gets a job with Mrs. Frances Haldan, a wealthy interior decorator who tells her the only aristocracy in that of work. Mrs. Haldan introduces her to Kingdon Coles, a dramatic critic, who proposes to her in vain. Meanwhile, Kitten, Emily's younger sister, is wildly seeking for thrills. She meets Ted Lanier on the sly. Stella Brent, a school girl friend of Emily's finds herself deserted by Skeets Bradley, reckless son of a rich family. Kitten goes on a wild party with Ted without letting her sister know.

Emily gets a raise. Kitten climbs in a window late at night to elude her sister.

Kent comes home for the wedding of his sister Avis, who has thrown herself at Marty Nolan. Fearing her father's wrath she marries a man she does not care for.

As Kitten paused a car stopped and she got in

Now Go on With the Story

CHAPTER XXXII

A week or so later Emily put a new clipping into the Japanese box. The Lyall Star printed a picture of Kent; a blurred and unflattering likeness which didn't look much like anyone, really.

But she thought it marvelous; with a warm, gentle flush gliding over her she studied the features—the proud tilt to the head, the frank young eyes, the beautifully chiseled lips. Rather grave they were in the picture; not laughing as in the old days.

The story said Kent had come home to live after years at school and abroad. He had passed his bar examinations with honors and expected to open an office in Lyall.

So Anne didn't know after all. Emily told herself exultantly. He was coming back—coming here to live—to open an office like any young country lawyer, trying to work his way up. Different from Marty, who wished to "play with the right crowd."

Oh, he'd succeed! So brave, so very fine! She was enormously proud of him.

And she was in an ecstasy the next day when the Item printed a half page editorial suggesting Mr. Kent Rossiter for district attorney.

"What we need," ran the article, "is someone with the courage to defy boss rule in this county. A man of sincere purpose and unquestioned integrity; a crusader.

"The name of Rossiter always has stood for honor in this community.

"That he is young—barely twenty-five—is no argument against his ability.

"This newspaper, in accordance with its policy of fair play, submits to the voters the name of Kent Rossiter for the office of district attorney at the fall elections."

A crude piece of writing it was, but it might have been done in fire so brilliant did it seem to Emily.

A week or so later Emily put a newspaper picture of Kent into the Japanese box.

She bought the newspaper at noon and carried it back to the shop, folding it so that the article was on the outside. And whenever she had an idle moment she would read it, always with a new thrill.

Once, glancing up, she saw a man who sometimes went into Judge Morrow's office standing with a newspaper in his hand. His hat was on the back of his head and he scowled. She could see the headlines and knew he was reading the editorial about Kent.

Suddenly the man jerked his shoulders and pushed his hat still farther back. She got the impression that he was very angry and wondered if Boss Morrow would mind if Kent was district attorney.

The man dashed up the stairs and she watched him, through the window, enter Morrow's office and put the paper on the desk. Another man stepped forward and the three read together.

They talked afterward and she speculated upon what they were saying. Had she heard she would not have understood.

When the first man shook his finger under the judge's nose he was blustering, "You're back of this Morrow."

The three eyed each other and the one who had been in the office inquired, more mildly, "What's the dope?"

The first exploded. "Can't you read? Ask him what's the dope!" Thrusting his chin toward the judge.

Morrow was quiet though a purple shadow crept up his jowls. "You know what it's about. If you hadn't pulled the raw stuff on those bridge contracts' Whole county's one grand squawk.

"Think I'd throw this his way if he wasn't a half baked parlor pup? Know the name, don't you? Think it'll muffle the public yip for 'pure politics'?

"Supposing you highbinders look around the end of your ugly noses for once. Now get out; I'm busy."

Emily saw the two come down the stairs and walk away up the street together, red and silent.

When she started for home the lemon-colored roadster that used to come tearing up the hill and stop noisily before the Brents' was parked at the corner. Stella, looking oddly little and frightened, was in a corner of the seat.

Emily crossed to her gaily. "Skeets taking you out, dear?"

"Just a ride up the river. Grand day for that." Stella laughed uneasily.

Emily stood by, embarrassed, trying to think of something to say. When Skeets came, finally, he put something in the back of the car. It was then Emily caught sight of two bags tucked away under the cover; a smart one half covered with labels; the other new and such a gaudy bag as Stella would buy.

She leaned over whispering while Skeets fooled with the engine. "Is it an elopement, Stell? You're going to be married? Oh, I hope you'll be happy!"

The other girl shot a nervous glance at Skeets and Emily pressed her hand.

She looked backward at the corner. Stella was watching her and there were tears in the black eyes.

About this time a small, white-clad figure was sliding through the hedge toward the Brents'.

Dottie hadn't talked. No one had been able to make her tell about the night in the St. John mountains.

For this she was kept at home. She could stroll about the yard but she had always to be within sight of the house. She had grown moody and resentful; her only interest was helping Kitten get out on her own escapades.

There was a tiny building at the back of the lot which had been a play-house when the children were small; here the two youngsters kept a mirror and powder and rouge and earrings.

They went here now and Kitten made herself up. She felt very much the lady of the world with ear-drops dangling against her throat and her lips painted scarlet. Of course she couldn't do this at home for it always brought about trouble with Emily.

Presently she took the path up the hill which was not visible from her own home and hurried over to Main street. There she loitered, turning her head as cars passed. One stopped and she got in.

A dark face bending toward her, then; a long, slender hand touching hers for an instant.

"So you came? "Lamb-child—"

BYRD'S AIDES PRAISE PLANE FOR POLAR TRIP

NEW YORK, Feb. 17. (AP)—Associates of Commander Richard E. Byrd were pleased today over the performance of the plane he is to use in the Antarctic.

The giant plane, now at Miller field, Staten Island, had its first flight yesterday. Floyd Bennett, Byrd's pilot, in his North Pole flight, pronounced the plane a "nice job."

Test flights to Columbus and Cleveland, Ohio, and to the Ford airplane works at Detroit are planned for the next few days.

From the Files of THE WICHITA DAILY TIMES

February 17, 1908

A meeting of the charter members of the Elks' lodge which will be installed in this city on Thursday, February 20, will be held in the chamber of commerce rooms Wednesday night.

All the plans for the entertainment of the visitors and for the installation have been worked out and there will be something doing when the herd of fawns from the Wichita country are corraled and adorned with the antlers of Elkdom. The installation ceremonies will be performed by the Gainesville lodge and visiting delegations of Elks will be here from Fort Worth, Gainesville, Dallas, Amarillo, Abilene and other points.

After the installation a banquet will be spread at night.

In a personal letter from Dr. C. P. Grandfield, first assistant postmaster general at Washington, D. C., Postmaster Otis T. Bacon received assurance that Wichita Falls is to get free mail delivery.

It will be remembered that Dr. Grandfield stopped off for a short visit in Wichita Falls several months ago while en route to the Pacific coast, and was then pleased at the growth of the town since he last saw the place over 20 years ago.

In reply to a letter from Mr. Bacon, congratulating him on his recent promotion, Dr. Grandfield sent the following letter:

Postoffice Department, First Assistant Postmaster General, Washington, D. C.,

February 13, 1908.

Mr. Otis T. Bacon, Wichita Falls:

My Dear Bacon—I thank you for your letter of the 8th instant. I appreciate very much the congratulations of my friends. I also congratulate you on the fact that your city is to have free delivery service. Very truly yours,

C. P. GRANDFIELD.

Safe and Sane Relief for Pain

Capudine is the logical agent to relieve pain and high nerve strain because it gives relief by soothing the nerves,—not by deadening or doping them. It contains no opiates.

Being liquid, Capudine acts very much quicker than tablets and powders. Highly effective for headaches, neuralgia, rheumatic pains, periodic pains. At all drug stores; 30c and 60c sizes.—Adv.

Indigestion Immediate Relief!

What most people call indigestion is usually excess acid in the stomach. The food has soured. The instant remedy is an alkali which neutralizes acids. But don't use crude helps. Use what your doctor would advise.

The best help is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. For the 50 years since its invention it has remained standard with physicians. You will find nothing else so quick in its effect, so harmless, so efficient.

One tasteless spoonful in water neutralizes many times its volume in acid. The results are immediate, with no bad after-effects. Once you learn this fact, you will never deal with excess acid in the crude ways. Go learn—now—why this method is supreme.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—any drugstore.

"Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875.

Are You Nervous, Run Down, Weak?

To have "pep" and ambition, and the ability to do a big day's work and feel "like a two year old" at night, you must eat three good meals a day, relish your food and properly digest it. If you can't eat, can't sleep, can't work, just take a teaspoonful of Tanlac three times a day before meals.

Mr. John Robertson, of 522 Spring St., Little Rock, Ark., says: "I couldn't eat anything, couldn't sleep, and working was almost an impossibility. But after 3 bottles of Tanlac I could eat a bull's horn and sleep like a log!"

Tanlac is wonderful for indigestion and constipation—gas, pains, nausea, dizziness and headaches. It brings back lost appetite, helps you digest your food, and gain strength and weight. It contains no mineral drugs; it is made of roots, barks and herbs, nature's own medicines for the sick. The cost is less than 2 cents a dose. Get a bottle from your druggist and give it a thorough trial. Your money back if it doesn't help you.

HINDUS MAY BUILD TEMPLE IN GOTHAM TO PROMOTE FAITH

BOMBAY, India, Feb. 17. (AP)—Advices from Indore say that a Hindu temple may rise in New York in celebration of the initiation of Miss Nancy Ann Miller of Seattle, Wash., into Hinduism if it takes place at Poona. It is understood that the Maharatta mission at Poona will erect the building in honor of the warrior Shivaji, who founded the Maharratta power in India.

The initiation would precede the marriage of the American girl to the former Maharajah of Indore. The youngest of his two wives is stated to be plunged into despondency over the approaching marriage.

The state council and the regency in Indore is understood to have taken into account the general unfavorable light in which the marriage is held in Indore and to have informed the former maharajah he could enter the state. No disposition was shown to welcome his fiancee. This is thought to account for the length of the couple's stay at Nuwara Eliya, Ceylon, which they left yesterday for Bangalore, India.

POLISH UNIONS PROTEST BRINGING OF AMERICANS INTO MINES OF SILESIA

KATTOWITZ, Polish Upper Silesia, Feb. 17. (AP)—The trade unions here have protested to the government against the reported signing of a contract by the Harriman interests with several hundred American miners for work in Silesia.

The unions state that the contract calls for one to two years work in the Giusche mine of the Harriman interests with fare both ways and daily pay of fifty zloty (about $5.50) guaranteed.

The trade unions at the same time stated there were already 46,000 unemployed miners in the district.

70 REBELS KILLED SERIES OF BATTLES IN MEXICAN STATE

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 17. (AP)—Dispatches from Guadalajara today said more than 70 Catholic rebels, including five chieftains, fell under federal fire yesterday during a series of clashes in the state of Jalisco. Different groups of insurgents, who have suddenly become active in the region where the Catholic rebellion has been going on for several months, were defeated.

Three chieftains fell in battle, two were captured and executed by municipal authorities. Another surrendered and another leader was stated to have been seriously wounded.

On the different battlefields 48 rebels were actually counted dead. Eleven were taken prisoners and immediately executed. A number of others are understood to have been killed in the encounters.

AX BLOW WORTH $1000 IN GOLD

MODESTO, Calif., Feb. 17. (AP) A mouldering sheepskin bag containing $1000 in double eagles burst and scattered its treasure when Frank Dittmar, Sawmill Flat rancher, drove his heavy axe into the roots of a scrub tree near his ranch yesterday.

The gold probably was hidden by a miner during the early days of the California gold rush. Dittmar's blow cut one of the gold pieces in half.

SOCIAL AND HOUSEHOLD ITEMS OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

Local Physicians Address Forum Members at Clubhouse Thursday

Members of the health and home department of the Woman's Forum heard two professional lectures Thursday afternoon at the clubhouse, when Dr. Maude L. Lindsey and Dr. James W. Powers were the speakers for the afternoon. Dr. Lindsey talked on "The Diseases of Children," and Dr. Powers outlined first aid treatments in cases of accidents occurring frequently in the home. The speakers were introduced by Mrs. W. W. Cook, chairman of the department.

Proper care in the early days of a child's life was emphasized by Dr. Lindsey who said the primary aim of the physician is to build a strong framework.

"The most promising field of medicine is prevention," she said. "Most of the diseases of child are within the field of medicine to prevent," the speaker believes. This she would do through vaccines and serums.

The nervous child is often the cause of an unhappy family, and parents should take care that the nervous disturbances of children are given the proper care, she pointed out, as she outlined the causes for nervous childhood ills.

The weight of a child is of great importance, Dr. Lindsey said, as through the weight, the mother may judge as to the health of the child. The effectiveness of weight as a means of judging health decreases as the child grows older.

The speaker touched upon the inherited weaknesses and tendencies of children and gave her hearers an idea of the every day ills of children that may prove fatal.

Dr. Powers Speaks

First aid treatment in the home is the emergency treatment until a doctor arrives, Dr. Powers explained, and he advised the women to keep a level head when accidents occur.

"Make the patient comfortable and keep him quiet. Don't do too much," he said, and he outlined the emergencies which may be taken care of under the general heading of first aid.

For hemorrhage, he advised pressure; if pressure of the fingers is insufficient, he advised tourniquet, bandages and dressing.

Dr. Powers commended the use of mercurochrome for painting sores and denounced the use of ointments which will form a film over the wound and allow the germs to do their work unmolested by sterilization.

He discussed the infection of wounds which is caused by the entrance of germs into the wound, creating inflamation manifested by pain, redness, swelling and pus formation. To prevent infection, the wound is to be sterilized and covered with sterile dressing, and he advised against painting the wound with ointments.

Dr. Powers also discussed first aid measures in fainting, care of burns, sprains, strains, acute indigestion, poisoning, fractures and burns from flames.

Twenty-seven women attended the meeting, and the hostesses were Mesdames Archie Kautz, chairman of arrangements, F. E. Hodge, F. H. Kipps, A. C. King, A. W. King, B. F. King, R. A. Lincoln, Harry S. Mays, R. C. Lipscomb, J. T. Young, B. B. Craft, Fred Couper. Tea was poured by Mrs. Kipps who presided at the attractively appointed tea table.

Sure Way to Get Rid of Dandruff

Girls—if you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to comb or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it; then you destroy it entirely.

To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and two or three more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. Four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you may have. This simple remedy never fails.

Paris Peers Into the Spring Color Crystal

By ROSETTE
NEA Fashion Expert

PARIS, Feb. 17.—After seeing all the mid-season collections to be seen, it is very evident that white, combined with two or three pastel shades, is favored all around for wear in the Midi or at Palm Beach.

Most of these suits include the eternal sweater, plaited skirt and a straight three-quarter length coat with a light fur collar. The word sweater however, seems the wrong term to apply to the garments which resemble the original sweater in shape only, as the modern article is a much more elaborate affair. Those sweaters, for instance, made of a mixture of wool and silk with a gold or silver thread running through the pattern, are as dressy as a crepe de chine blouse.

Rose and Green on White

Patou has a white ensemble trimmed with rather wide bands of rose and green on the sweater, and another trimmed with red which has a white handkerchief scarf showing the same red border. All these white suits are worn with white hats and a rather novel shade of brown shoe.

Apart from white, there is a certain shade of egg-blue flecked with white which promises to be popular during the coming spring, as well as a faded pink and a delicate grey. Jenny features all these colors in her collection for Monte Carlo and Cannes and sometimes uses all three on one ensemble, that is to say, she will trim the sweater of a pearl grey suite with alternate bands of pink and blue to great advantage.

Those of us who are less fortunate and have to stay at home, are forced to admit that everywhere we go black is predominant to the point of uniformity. There are very few women to be seen wearing bright colors, in the afternoon at least, and even in the evening at any smart gathering you will find a goodly sprinkling of black frocks.

It may be a passing fancy and perhaps ere long we shall see the palest of pale tones, but for the moment at any rate the really smart woman wears black. Besides being chic and becoming, a great deal of ingenuity can be displayed in the choice of accessories and all of the relieving color required can be added by a piece of jewelry, a flower or even one of those rather large plain mousseline de soie handkerchiefs, the way of wearing which can be many times renewed.

Fur Trims Black Coats

All of the black coats one sees are trimmed with a light fur which goes far to relieve the somberness of the ensemble, and often the lining matches the fur.

As an alternative to all-black, there are some ensembles of black and beige, black and white and black and pink which are perhaps equally attractive. A very smart woman lunching at the Ritz the other day was dressed in a black cloth coat which featured a rather small collar of ermine, which formed the lining of the coat. As a contrast to the small collar, the sleeves are voluminous, pouch-shaped and trimmed with ermine to the elbow. This was worn over a simple little white satin frock and accompanied by one of the new tight turban shapes in black taupe. The whole ensemble was in very good taste, exceedingly smart and yet sufficiently discreet to be worn in the street without attracting undue attention.

As Jenny envisions spring color combinations: (left) a light blue jersey frock with silk coat of darker blue; (center) a beige tweed ensemble, trimmed in kid, the sweater of mixed silk and wool in beige and tan, the belt of kid and the hat big and kid-trimmed; (right) a velvet coat in pink, trimmed with stitching and summer crepe.

WOMEN HEAR TALKS ON DRY LAW ENFORCEMENT

Papers discussing law enforcement and problems of intelligent voting, and ways and means of appealing to the legislature for a more strict and effective "search and seizure" law were given in the meeting of the Central Women's Christian Temperance union Thursday at the home of Mrs. Ella Tarman on Brown street. Mrs. Kate Biles, Mrs. Pross and Mrs. Watkins discussed the theme.

All the members of the central union present were announced as qualified voters, and they were urged to make a careful and systematic study of the political issues. A special committee has been appointed to keep them informed as to each candidate's qualifications and stand on prohibition. "We must elect men who are dry from principle, not for votes only, and whose prohibition record is older than their campaign for office," it was declared.

High tribute was paid to Frances E. Willard, organizer and first president of the national W. C. T. U. Her outstanding qualities of pioneering and perseverance regardless of conventionalities have profoundly influenced the hearts of the world, it was said.

"She held high the standards of temperance and morality and trained by precept and example the boys and girls of her day and generation to respect law and order and influence them to a higher plane of living. It is the result of such seed planting that we have our prohibition today. It is the buyer who makes the bootlegger. Where there is no demand there is no supply. The buyer is the greater enemy of our government."

The central union will organize a north side union at the Huey school in March. There will be a mother's program in March at the First Methodist church.

NEW CENTURY JUNIOR CLUB WITH MRS. CLARK

Mrs. Eugene Clark was hostess to the New Century Junior club Wednesday afternoon at her home on Taylor street with the president, Miss Elva Killingsworth, in charge. Miss Crystelle Waggoner talked on "Beauty Spots in Canada," and she was followed by a paper, "The Canadian Mounted Police," given by Mrs. Ray Puckett.

Refreshments were served to Mesdames Dillard Anderson, A. R. Dillard, S. M. Gose Jr., Paul Harding, O. B. Kiel, Ray Puckett, Tom Sorey, Gordon West, Misses Margaret Duncan, Marguerite Fisher, Vera Hale, Elva Killingsworth, Ethel Moran, Crystelle Waggoner.

JUNIOR TRAVEL CLUB HAS VALENTINE SOCIAL

A valentine social was enjoyed by the Junior Travel club members at the Forum clubhouse Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Horace Lankford leading the program and giving a paper on "The History of Valentine." Mrs. C. G. McCaleb talked on "Valentines, Old and New," and was in charge of the valentine box. Each was remembered with a valentine by first guessing from a descriptive rhyme. Roll call was answered with valentine quotations by Mesdames O. T. Ailes, W. H. Caldwell, W. H. Caldwell, E. A. Deaton, E. T. Duff, J. J. Fennessy, Sam Holliday, G. C. Johnson, A. L. Lane, Thelbert Martin, W. A. McCarty, D. O. Johnson, W. J. Morgareidge, C. C. Myers, G. K. Wilson, O. W. Wilson, Miss Iva Willis.

MARYE and MOM Their Letters

BY RUTH DEWEY GROVES

Dear Marye:

I am sending the cook books as you requested, also a box of jellies and preserves, and I hope you won't confine your interest to the latter.

It is very sensible of you to plan to have Alan home for lunch but isn't it too far from his office to your apartment for him to come home every day? He would have to bolt his food, and that would be bad for his digestion.

I'd suggest that you arrange to give him a nice, nourishing dinner instead. I never have approved your going out so much. It must be expensive, and after all it's much the same food that you say he shouldn't have for lunch. Besides I think it's a mistake to drag a man out of his home in the evening, too often. And it won't do you any harm to get more rest either.

I saw Norman Darby on the street today and I must say he looks frightly dissipated. I hope you didn't wear yourself out trying to live up to your new "freedom" as you call this shoving aside of natural feelings. You say Alan told you to do as you pleased. And he hasn't confessed he is jealous, has he?

Well, my dear, people don't always confess, do they? Even we old-fashioned fogies have that much in common with you up-to-date husbands and wives. People always had pride and much the same general feeling about things that you have. Only we didn't act like ostriches and stick our heads in a sand pile. And some of your theories are exactly as blindfolding to you as sand is to an ostrich.

One of your theories seems to be that love of home life will come naturally to a husband whenever his wife gets tired of running around and wants to spend the evenings listening in on the radio. A woman with any sense gets tired of it about the time she sees her freshness beginning to fade. And then what? Most likely her husband has the habit of going to theaters and night clubs.

I'd advise you, Marye darling, to begin cultivating Alan's taste in the right direction before it's too late. You haven't been married so long that you can't do it. It's generally the woman who wants to go some place almost every night the first year or so. Then comes a baby, chances are, and if they can't afford a nurse she has to stay at home while her husband keeps right on leading the life she got him into. I hope this won't happen to you.

With all my love,
MOTHER.

Tomorrow: How Alan feels about it.

HARD WATER PLUS MEL'O MAKES SOFT WATER

Out of the faucet Into the dishpan

THERE it comes, hard city water. Dishes to be washed, and only hard city water to wash them in. You know what will happen, don't you? The soap will mix with the hard water, and form a dirty scummy ring around the edge of the dishpan. How can dishes really get clean in that water?

Have you discovered Melo? Melo will soften hard water. No dirty ring, grease cut, dirt dissolved. Lots of fluffy suds. Bring on your hard water! Then bring on Melo! Get a can of Melo today at your grocer's.

ZOË BECKLEY'S CORNER

The Wanted Young Man

"Dear Zoe: I have met and gradually grown to love a certain young man whom I see daily as I pass his office, but he doesn't see me. I long for his friendship, but how can I win it?

—"FRIEND OF FRIENDS."

If you have met him but simply don't see him often, why not do as other girls do and invite him places? Drop him a cordial note saying some of your pals are coming to your house and won't he join in? Tell your mother or auntie or dad that you know a nice, reserved young man who needs a little encouragment and you win his friendship—ask him to supper or take him to drive in the family flivver?

There are lots of ways for a girl to show interest without hurling herself at a man's head. Frank friendliness is always well received. Honest admiration likewise. Every human heart warms to it, and remember many a hard working youth is as lonely and anxious for a bit of kindness and hospitality as a girl is.

Prisoner's Song

"Dear Zoe: Mother will not let me go out with any boy friend and I can't go out of the house at all unless some girl friend is along. My health is poor. I lie to Mother about going sometimes with boys and she knows it, but still won't let me ask them to the house or anything. There is one I love, but Mother hates him worse than the rest. He is her first cousin. I would die for him. Won't you tell me what's best?—J. M."

If you are not well, early to bed is the rule for you—till you are plump and husky. But Mother is a little severe when she forbids occasional early parties of your friends at the house. Ask her again and explain that you want to do what's right, but are very lonely. Surely she wants your happiness and will be willing to compromise.

As for the second cousin sweetheart, thumbs down. It is not well to marry your blood kindred. Marriages between first cousins are prohibited by law in many states. This is why Mother is opposed. It isn't "hate"; it's just anxiety for your welfare.

How Shall We Know?

"Dear Zoe: How can I find out if she loves me and appreciates what I do? I have loved and adored this girl from the first and do everything I can to make her happy.—JEAN."

It always seems to us that such a question is like asking "How can I tell if a girl is pretty?" You sort of know, just by looking at her.

When you "love and adore a girl and do everything you can to make her happy," can't you tell by her response whether she returns your feeling and appreciates what you do? If she gives no sign, she evidently doesn't.

If she loves you, her face will light with pleasure at sight of you. She will blossom out in a sweetness of smiles and sparkles, indescribable in words, but familiar to all lovers. She will thank you for your attentions with warmth and grace. She will show that she likes to be with you and is more or less indifferent to others. She will do the things you like and refrain from doings and sayings and habits that get on your nerves till you want to shake her—as you do some girls. She will encourage your love, and with a hundred little proofs such as every feminine creature ever born knows how to give, show you she returns it. Then it's up to you.

On the other hand, if she accepts your generosity as a matter of course, has dates when you try to make one with her, pulls away from you both mentally and physically when you come close, and is indifferent when you talk about yourself and your work, you can just about put it down that you are not her man.

Goodness Gracious, Agnes!!!

"Dear Zoe: He gave me a Christmas present, although I never really go with him and just speak when we meet. But I love him desperately and must have him at once. His very presence thrills me to death.—BILLIE."

Well, the Christmas present looks as if he took more than a passing interest, which gives you a start.

If you love him so desperately and must have him at once, why don't you walk right up and gently grab him? Perhaps he would be tickled to death.

We once knew a man to fall madly in love with a girl who simply got up, crossed the hearth and sat on the arm of a man's chair. The man had been telling her a few little things about his lonely childhood, etc., and she felt a sudden pity. She expressed it in a natural, spontaneous way—and the man fell for her so heavily that he never recovered!

That's the best tip we can give you.

ANOTHER UNSOLICITED TRIBUTE FOR ALL-BRAN

Good news for sufferers from constipation

Mrs. Kiell sat down and wrote us a letter when she had proved ALL-BRAN a safe "sure-cure" for constipation. Read her voluntary tribute:

April 4, 1927

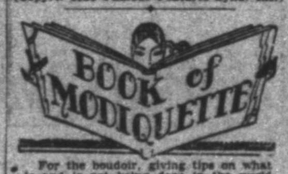

"I have been using Kellogg's ALL-BRAN for quite some time and I want to tell you how much I appreciate it. I have found it a sure-cure for constipation, and know it is a remarkable regulator for the stomach. After using it, my family and I certainly will not be without it. I have even gone so far as to send some of it to my mother in Poland, Europe."

Gratefully yours,
Mrs. Anna Kiell,
77 Wolcott Terrace, Newark, N. J.

Perhaps you know what a terrible affliction constipation is. Blighting wherever it thrives. Ruining health. Marring beauty. Causing headaches, back pains, foul breath, loss of sleep—indeed, leading to more than forty serious diseases.

But did you know it can be easily relieved by a pleasant cereal food? Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is guaranteed to bring relief. Eat two tablespoonfuls daily—chronic cases, with every meal. Serve with milk or cream—fruits or honey added. Use in cooking. At grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

SANDINO RETREATS BEFORE ADVANCING MARINE DIVISION

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, Feb. 17. (AP)—Massing of marine cavalry, infantry and airmen around Matagalpa today was believed to have forced the rebel general, Augustino Sandino into hiding. Sandino is thought to have sought refuge in the mountain regions northwest of Matagalpa to avoid conflict with the marines.

The airplane carrier Saratoga arrived at Corinto with three additional planes for use by the marines. They are now being put in condition.

Marines, mounted on all available animals to match the mobility of Sandino's mounted followers, are operating in the vicinity of Matagalpa. The aviation patrol is also especially active in the region where Sandino has been active recently.

Marines entered the village of Trinidad, about 25 miles west of Matagalpa, soon after rebels had left. Some residents had fled and supplies were taken from the stores of the village by Sandinistas. The strength of the rebel forces was estimated by marines at 100.

The Marcell building will be occupied in the future as a club room.

LAWTON-FT. SILL RAILWAY UNDER HAMMER FOR TAXES

LAWTON, Okla., Feb. 17.—The Lawton Light & Railway company, which for so many years furnished means of transportation between Lawton and Fort Sill, has been sold for taxes. Three large buses now provide the transportation.

The property of the company was purchased by Raymond Fields of this city on the highest bid of $6100. Three out-of-town bidders were present.

Real estate consisted of four lots in the northeast section of the city, where the car barn was located. There are four miles of trackage and a large quantity of copper wire. The old cars possess little value.

Footlight Pals of Eddie Foy Fill Out His Act on Kansas City Stage While Body of Actor Rests on Bier

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 17. (AP)—Actors and theater officials associated with Eddie Foy during the closing years of nearly a half century on the stage, united here last night to replace the act closed by his death and to honor the veteran comedian at a service conducted by the Elks lodge.

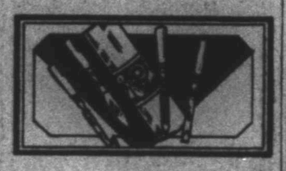

While the program in which he starred at the Orpheum theater here until his death yesterday following a heart attack continued, the Elks lodge, of which he was a member, held a brief ceremony. The small chapel where his body lay in state during the afternoon, was filled with friends of the stage.

The Rev. Father Bernard Hale, pastor of the Cathedral of Immaculate Conception and son of Lon E. Hale, a dancing partner of Mr. Foy in 1887, said the rosary. After the Elks' ritual, Mrs. Grace Nelson McTernan, formerly an opera singer, who appeared with the 71-year-old actor many times in New York, sang "Goodbye, Pal."

Mrs. Foy, who had been under the care of a nurse, was unable to attend the services. However, she left with the funeral party shortly before midnight for New Rochelle, N. Y., the Foy home. Six of the seven Foy children were to join the party at Chicago.

Radio to Guide Planes in Fogs For Safe Flight

CHICAGO, Feb. 17. (AP)—One more obstacle to safe aviation—fog—is about to be overcome through experiment revealed by Col. Paul Henderson of the National Air Transport, Inc.

"Since radio engineers have found that radio waves can be directed through ether," Colonel Henderson said, "experts have evolved a system of guiding pilots through fog and storms by means of radio signals.

"In a recent experiment one airman had been guided through an intense fog from a New York field to one in Western Pennsylvania.

"Fog has been the chief source of trouble to airmen since man conquered the dominion of the birds. Now it is almost certain that this element will no longer endanger flying."

OFFICERS' SLAYERS SOUGHT BY POSSES IN CHICAGO DIVES

CHICAGO, Feb. 17. (AP)—Chicago today was the center of a double manhunt after Sheriff C. M. Johnson of Lafayette, Ind., notified Deputy Commissioner O'Connor that he believed the slayers of two Indiana deputies were hiding here.

The men sought are John Burns and Samuel Baxter, of West Lafayette, Ind., who disappeared while in custody of two deputies who were escorting them to a state reformatory in Indiana February 7.

Yesterday the bodies of the officers, John P. Grove and Wallace McClure, were found by Charles Abdill in the woods near his farm house in Danville, Ill. Preliminary examination showed Groves neck had been broken and McClure's skull crushed.

WEATHER DELAYS WORK ON OLNEY HIGHWAY

OLNEY, Texas, Feb. 17.—Construction work on the grade and bridge work of highway No. 24, between Olney and Graham, was temporarily stopped here Thursday morning on account of the rains of the past few days. Most of the grade work has been completed for the first 10 miles south of Olney, and some concrete structures laid. Contractors are now ready to begin on the grade work as the highway enters the south city limits.

SENATOR REED 'TRAINS GUNS' ON PRESIDENT

MISSOURI SOLON CHARGES COOLIDGE TOOL PART IN COAL DEBACLE

I. C. C. CHANGES DECISION TO SAVE JOBS, CHARGE

Mellon and Others Get Ride in Senator's 'Hot Shot' Before Upper House.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17. (AP)—Intimidation of certain members of the interstate commerce commission in the Lake Cargo coal rate case by a political influence emanating from Pennsylvania and running into the White House itself was charged today in the senate by Senator Reed, Democrat, Missouri.

Asserting that the commission had reversed itself in this case so as to favor the coal operators of Pennsylvania over those in West Virginia, Kentucky, Tennessee and Virginia, Senator Reed declared it had rendered a decision "not only revolutionary and unjust," but "probably the most arbitrary yet handed down by a federal board or tribunal."

Reed Scores Reversal

Speaking on the eve of his departure on a stumping tour, which is to take him across the continent, the Missouri Democrat said it was "hard to escape the conclusion that the interstate commerce commission reversed itself because it sat under the shadow of the suspended sword of Pennsylvania," wielded by Senator Reed of that state, who, the Missourian said, "possessed the advantage of long experience and intimate association with the secretary of the treasury."

Recalling that only two years ago the commission had refused the petition of the Pennsylvania coal operators for a higher differential in rates on coal to the lake ports and the northwest, the Missouri senator said then it was that the "political battalion" was called into action, with the Pennsylvania Reed boldly declaring that Pennsylvania should have the representation on the commission which would correct the conditions of which the Pennsylvania operators complained.

Lost Case on Merits

"Having lost the case upon its merits in the court," he said, "it was now determined to change the personnel of the court."

The Missourian reminded the senate that his Pennsylvania cousin had opposed the nomination of Thomas F. Woodlock of New York to the commission until he had had assurance from the White House that Pennsylvania would be considered in the next appointment.

"Time ran on," the speaker continued, "but it did not run very long until the articles of the treaty of peace between the senator from Pennsylvania and the president were put into force.

"The term of Commissioner Cox, one of the commissioners who had concurred in the majority opinion (against the Pennsylvania operators) was about to expire.

"He had been a good commissioner. So far as I know, neither his ability nor fidelity had ever been questioned.

Woods Case Is Cited

The Missourian then told of the appointment of Cyrus E. Woods of Pennsylvania to succeed Cox and of the rejection of his nomination by the senate, because he had been connected with the Pennsylvania coal industry, both as attorney and stockholder.

"Under the circumstances, it would not have been wise to have just then and there appointed another man like Wood," Reed continued. "So Mr. Brainerd was appointed to fill the seat made vacant by Cox. And be it said to Brainerd's credit, he did not undertake to participate in the decision on rehearing.

"But, nevertheless, the removal of Cox had removed one of the obstacles to the reversal of the case.

Esch Under Influence

"The term of Commissioner Esch was about to expire.

"His emoluments and honors were, of course, dependent upon reappointment.

"He must have known of the threat of Senator Reed that Pennsylvania proposed to be represented.

"He had doubtless observed that the senator from Pennsylvania had climbed to the very apex of political power and influence.

"I doubt not that the commissioner often viewed with disconsolate eyes Cox's scalp already suspended from the pole of the Reed tepee. He naturally desired to avoid a similar fate.

"Cox had been removed. And upon rehearing, although the case had been fully tried in the first instance and there had been no change in conditions, Esch and Aitchison changed their votes and rendered a decision fixing the differential at the point demanded by the Pennsylvania interests."

PLAN SYSTEMATIC TICK ERADICATION NUMBER COUNTIES

FORT WORTH, Feb. 17. (AP)—Notwithstanding the fact that the force of inspectors engaged in tick eradication work has been reduced from 342 to 228 since the livestock sanitary commission was reorganized February 4, 1927, the inspection work has not been retarded and progress has been made according to figures in the annual report just completed.

Plans have been completed by the commission whereby systematic tick eradication work will be begun in several additional counties in the near future. Among them listed are Wood, Freestone, Bell, Travis, Brazoria, west of the Brazos river, and Dimmitt, and plans are being formulated for work in Red River county. The report shows that three counties took up tick eradication work last April, Burnet, Lampasas and Lavaca which required the services of 28 additional inspectors and during the past dipping season the following counties were released from quarantine: Coryell, Bandera, Bastrop, Colorado, Fayette, Kendall, Nueces, Titus and Matagorda peninsula and were declared in free area.

The report indicates that much work was done and much accomplished when limited funds are taken into consideration. Approximately two-thirds of Texas is now free from tick infestation. All of west Texas and north Texas are tick free and a large part of south Texas. South Texas, from Frio and Atascosa counties to Cameron, is largely in the inactive quarantine area, while a large part of east Texas is beyond quarantine lines, elections must be held in such counties before systematic work can be undertaken and such is the case in east Texas.

The report announces that the United States bureau of animal industry has increased its force of inspectors in Texas for 1928 to assist in tick eradication, more than ever been allotted in the state before. This will expedite the work greatly due to the shortage of funds which the commission now faces, according to the report. Assurance also has been given that the federal assistance will continue indefinitely.

The commission reported best results in sheep scabies eradication than any other department, due to the law which the sheep and goat producers induced the legislature last year to pass laws that adequately support their work.

THREE MATCHES PLAYED IN POLO COMPETITION

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Feb. 17. (AP)—In three matches in the annual Southwestern midwinter tournament Thursday afternoon, Austin, Texas, defeated Stonewall, Texas, 22 to 16; Camp Marfa, Texas, won from the fifteenth field artillery, San Antonio, 13 to 6, and air corps training center, San Antonio, defeated the twelfth field artillery, San Antonio, 11 to 4.

Two matches are scheduled for Friday, when Fort Bliss will meet Abilene on Breckenridge park field at 3 p. m., and eighth corps area headquarters will play Camp Wood on Harbord field at 2 p. m.

The San Antonio Freebooters were unable to organize and forfeited their game to the ninth infantry.

There will be no games Saturday and Sunday, it was announced Thursday, on account of the military horse show, which will be staged in the division infantry post.

Austin overcame a 15 goal handicap, the highest a team has ever carried in the tournament, to win.

Davis, secretary of war, sent this telegram to a banquet in honor of Lindbergh: "His wonderful flight has done more to promote good relations with South America than whole diplomatic corps. He should have remained in Havana, as diplomats seem up in the air and lost in the fog. Hope you can keep him on the ground at least six of the 24 hours."

WASHINGTON.—Representative Kvale of Minnesota wishes congress to authorize the minting of Lindbergh medals, which would be sold to purchase the flyer's early home at Little Falls, Minn., and for the erection of a museum in St. Louis to house his trophies.

CLEVELAND.—Fortunate the remote dwelling that is under the path of the air mail. A letter from Clearfield, Pa., describes how Paul Collins, air mail pilot, noticing a house on fire, swooped low. The noise of his engine awakened a family of eight, probably saving their lives.

SAN FRANCISCO.—Arizona, wounded on the Argonne, is in retirement with honors. He was decorated for valor under fire as the 30th infantry marched by in salute. The decoration was a new blanket. Arizona is an army mule, who was dragging a field gun into place when struck by shrapnel.

ATLANTIC CITY.—The pestiferous Jersey mosquito seems to be particular. Dr. Thomas J. Headlee, state entomologist, wants mechanical apparatus developed for the detection of the insects. "Unfortunately," he said, "men engaged in collecting samples of the mosquito fauna exhibit different degrees of attractiveness to adult mosquitoes."

NEW YORK.—Only 29 persons out of every 100 patrons of a national chain of restaurants drink water. Therefore it will not be served until the end of the meal unless requested.

ELIZABETH, N. J.—The nation's doctor's bill is estimated at $1,500,000 a day by Miss Elizabeth G. Fox, director of the public health nursing service of the Red Cross.

CHICAGO.—Dr. Joseph Jastrow thinks the United States should spend $150,000,000 a year to make people honest. He gave his views at a conference on character development.

ALBANY, N. Y.—Loan sharks are making $25,000,000 annually in illicit profits in this state, it has been stated at a public hearing.

TARRYTOWN, N. Y.—John D. Rockefeller Jr., is to create a lot of jobs; will spend more than $1,000,000 for roads, bridges and tunnels on his estate in Pocantico hills.

NEW YORK.—Samuel L. Parrish, lawyer and financier, one of the first golfers and motorists in this country, is to marry at 79. The lady is Mrs. Clara Bloxsom, 54.

Black runners and camels brought it to them in the heart of the AFRICAN JUNGLE!

On safari—the famous explorers and big game hunters, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Johnson, in one of their African camps. In choosing supplies they selected Maxwell House above all other coffees

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Johnson tell how they obtained America's favorite coffee on their famous hunting trip

FOUR years in the heart of Africa, hunting big game! What amazing adventures Mr. and Mrs. Johnson had! What wonderful motion pictures these famous explorers made of the naked savages and wild animals! "Simba, King of the Beasts," is one of the most thrilling dramatic treats ever offered America—you must see this film!

Far from civilization the explorers went. Their lives depended on their baggage. With every ounce precious, carried man-back through the wilderness, only essentials could be taken.

Carefully they chose their supplies, the one best of every kind, say Mr. and Mrs. Johnson. Above all other coffees they selected that rich blend which is America's favorite coffee—Maxwell House!

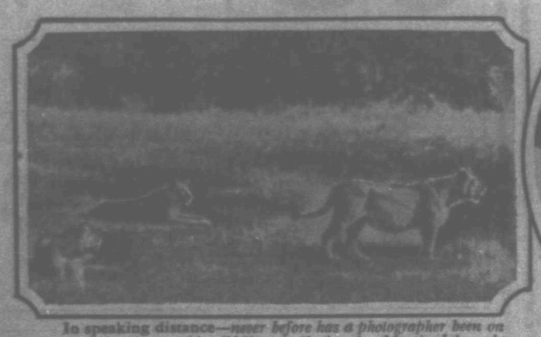

"Wishing to secure the best possible coffee," Mr. Johnson writes, "we selected Maxwell House. It was delivered to us by camels and black runners throughout our stay in Africa."

The blended richness of many fine coffees is in Maxwell House—a touch of difference that has taken the country by storm. One sip of this fragrant, mellow blend is a new experience in good living.

Ask for Maxwell House at your grocer's. In round sealed tins.

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

The wolf also shall dwell with the lamb, and the leopard shall lie down with the kid.—Isa. 11:6.

AGAINST FOOTBALL

E. C. Harrell, Brownwood attorney, who has announced for the legislature on an anti-football platform, is about a quarter of a century too late. There was a time, particularly before the "open" game was developed, when a good many people would have supported a measure abolishing football, for its toll of injuries was much heavier, and the game had not come into the widespread popular favor that it now enjoys.

Within the past decade, football has come into its own, in Texas. High school football is now on a plane where it has about supplanted baseball as an expression of rivalry between neighboring communities. It is not unusual for a high school game to be attended by over 5000 people, even in the smaller towns. A high school team going away for an important game is apt to be accompanied by most of the community it represents, and its followers won't all be young folks, either. Any serious effort to do away with football would bring a terrific protest.

Mr. Harrell attempts to put football in the same legal category with prize-fighting. A good many people would like to see that, to have boxing matches as legal as football is. They haven't been able to make any headway in the legislature, but opposition to public boxing matches is dwindling steadily. We'd suggest to Mr. Harrell that he seek a new plank for his platform.

WEST TEXAS' ATTITUDE

Commenting on the Lamest Reporter's declaration that it "longs to see the day when Texas shall be two states, and it will come," the Abilene News thinks that the sentimental objections to division are potent enough to squelch any such movement; that West Texas' increase in wealth and population will get this section what it wants.

The 1930 census will reveal that West Texas is entitled to further increases in representation in the legislature and in congress. When the 1920 census was taken, it was found that some sections of East Texas had four or five times as much voice in public affairs as some sections of West Texas. This was corrected, grudgingly and with difficulty. East Texas legislators seemed to have the idea that everybody who had moved to West Texas was just camping out, awaiting a favorable opportunity to move back. We are confident that the next census will find West Texas in line for a still larger voice in the legislative bodies of the state and nation. East Texas is still able to block redistricting, and may do so. There are still too many legislators who look upon West Texas as a sort of step-child.

We may not have heard the last of the "divide Texas" talk. West Texas will not be satisfied with less than its due, and there is more quiet sentiment for division in West Texas than some folks realize. Let's hope that the occasion will not arise for that sentiment to become vocal.

INCONSIDERATE

The "bread-line" has reappeared in New York City. Between 6000 and 8000 men are daily served with bread and soup, to keep them going until they can find work. The figures are those of the New York World, which adds that enlistments in the army are unusually heavy, the jobless taking that route to escape hunger. Soup kitchens and "flop joints" are being established to provide for the steadily increasing number of unemployed in the metropolis.

It is quite inconsiderate of the patrons of these agencies to appear in such numbers. They ought to remember that there is a Republican administration in control and that therefore prosperity reigns. It is really downright impudent of them to be jobless while a Republican occupies the White House.

SHOULD BE IN ITS FRIENDS' HANDS

One point in the talk made Wednesday by Mr. J. T. Harrell, on the city manager plan, deserves some emphasis.

"The mistake must not be made," said Mr. Harrell, "of voting favorably on this plan and electing a mayor and council opposed to it. The plan could not be a success. It would be very unfair to a new city manager and very unfair to the supporters of the plan."

When the city manager question was first broached, this paper undertook to point out the advisability of having two elections, the first to determine whether the city-manager amendment should be adopted; the second, the regular city election, to choose officials to act in compliance with the mandate of the first election. This, it seems, cannot be done, under the charter. We must vote on the amendment and on the officials at the same time. It might easily result in just such a situation as Mr. Harrel describes—adoption of the city manager plan, but placing it in the hands of those unfriendly to it.

The way to avoid such a situation is obvious enough. Let it be known just how each candidate for municipal office stands. It would not be unfair, in the cases of incumbents seeking reelection, to inquire why, if they favor the city-manager plan, they have been so silent on the subject heretofore. In any event, the public should be fully informed of each candidate's attitude toward the city-manager amendment. The city-manager plan, if approved by the voters, should be put into effect by its friends and not by those who are opposed to, or indifferent toward, that form of government.

The Times will cheerfully accord space in its columns to candidates who desire to make their views known.

BANNING AMERICAN ACTORS IN ENGLAND

An American girl, member of a troupe appearing at theaters in England, has been notified by the authorities that she must give up her part. It seems there is a law in England which provides that an alien may not be given employment when a native is available for it. The law does not apply to headliners or stars, but may be invoked against the lesser members of a cast.

This country is by no means helpless in such a matter. By enacting a similar law, it would work a far greater hardship on English actors in the United States than the English law imposes on the comparatively few Americans who go to England. The immigration law, which now permits actors to enter outside of their countries' quotas, could be tightened up a bit so as to bar them, and probably the American stage would not greatly suffer.

We'd like to see some retaliatory action taken by this country. There is a principle to be upheld.

Can Babbitt Do It?

By GLENN FRANK
President of University of Wisconsin and former Editor of the Century Magazine

Must Babbitt remain a boob forever?

Charles A. Beard attacks this question in a recent issue of the Menorah Journal, in an article in which he goes to the heart of the problem of the future culture in America.

Mr. Beard goes after the priests of bogus culture with hammer and tongs.

Many of Babbitt's critics seem to assume that culture is a thing of precious books and pretty music alone, a thing taken on in leisure hours, a polish of mind and manners, a thing of the studio, of the library, of the gallery, and of the drawing room.

Mr. Beard counters with the contention that genuine culture is a thing that must flower out the life and work of men, not a thing apart from their work, not a thing tacked on to life after office hours.

So Mr. Beard has little hope that Babbitt will emerge from crudity into culture by taking correspondence courses in French, by buying pictures he does not understand and could not paint, by giving money to Greenwich Village geniuses, or by trying to ape the cultivated men of other lands and other times; but he thinks Babbitt must build his culture in and through his own character and in his work.

"Hope for him," says Mr. Beard, "if there is any, lies in introducing sincerity, thought, beauty, and greatness of spirit into his own work, here and now—the business of building, making, and distributing."

He wonders whether Babbitt can do it; here are some of the questions his wondering raises:

Could Babbitt imagine a banking house refusing to float a loan because it was not to be used for a creative and constructive purpose?

Could Babbitt imagine the power corporations under his control bent upon discovering how much current they can sell for a penny instead of how little?

Could Babbitt imagine his advertising swept clean of clap-trap?

Could Babbitt imagine his colleagues making over an industrial city for the sake of beauty and the good life instead of for unearned increment and a fat bank account?

Could Babbitt imagine great collective effort for some other purpose than war or exploitation?

He asks many other questions, but these suggest the point upon which he lays primary emphasis, namely, that the future American culture must come, if it comes, in terms of the day to day life of the American people.

The mediaeval man put beauty into the cathedrals he built.

The modern man may not build as beautiful cathedrals, but he can stand alongside the mediaeval man without blushing if, in the way he conducts his bread-and-butter enterprises, he builds beautiful communities and a beautiful civilization.

Me and Mine

Our Washington Correspondent

By RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—When politicians fall out, honest voters sometimes are permitted to kick them in the pants. True, the voters do not always fall to this task with all the gusto that might be desired, but that's their own business.

It may be doubted whether the selection of presidential candidates offers as good an example of this truth as some of the senatorial and gubernatorial contests, but it is conceivable that some of the ordinary voters may actually have something to say this year about the choices of the convention.

The ray of hope appeared when Hoover's managers decided to fight Senator Frank Willis in the Ohio primary for convention delegates and to enter primaries in other states whose politicians had planned to send favorite sons or uninstructed delegations. It may be that Hoover will lose his shirt in some of these primaries, but at least the voters will have a hand in the process.

Tuesday, April 24, may prove to be the Hoover Armageddon. On that day primaries are held in Ohio, Massachusetts and Pennsylvania, which have 189 delegates to the Republican convention. Previously, Hoover will have won 33 delegates from Michigan and 11 from New Hampshire and Lowden or someone else presumably will have captured nearly all the 122 delegates from Illinois, North Dakota, Nebraska and Wisconsin. Hoover is assured of a healthy platoon of delegates in subsequent primaries, but the dominant politicians of Ohio, Massachusetts and Pennsylvania have refused to put up a Hoover slate.

After the 24th, there will be much more light on the claim that Hoover is the choice of the great majority of Republican voters. That claim is what Hoover is trying to establish in those three primaries. It has not been proved to date.

Hoover will invade the three states only because the politicians have fallen out. In Ohio, for instance, every effort was made by the Hoover generals to arrange the eventual delivery of the Willis delegates to Hoover. There are scheming politicians and scheming Hoover politicians. The latter include such veterans as Walter Brown, recently appointed assistant secretary of commerce; Secretary Work, Postmaster General New, Ogden Mills, and Senators Moses and Edge.

There may be little choice between the rival sets of politicians, but the Hoover politicians have the advantage of possessing a real candidate, whereas the eastern anti-Hoover politicians merely ask the voters to leave everything in their hands with the assurance that it will come out all right.

Until a few days ago, the pre-convention campaign was almost entirely one of politicians. Hardly anyone wondered how the voters felt. It was a question of how the organization felt in Michigan, how Watson stood in Indiana, Edge in New Jersey, Mellon and Vare in Pennsylvania, the divided leaders in New York, Charles Innes in Massachusetts, Moses in New Hampshire, Dave Mulvane in Kansas and so on.

Thus far, the presidential primaries have never produced a president. Only 17 states, with 502 delegates in the Republican party and 456 in the Democratic party, have it, and in some of these as already demonstrated, the machine politicians generally control the situation. Roosevelt mopped up the terrain with Taft in the 1912 primaries and was licked. Wilson beat Clark by one state and 40 or 50 delegates, all of which helped but was far from decisive. In 1920 Harding carried only Ohio, running fifth in popular vote. Leonard Wood and Hiram Johnson cleaned up in the primaries and were in turn cleaned at the convention.

But delegates are delegates and politicians want them even if they sometimes resort to the perilous expedient of allowng the voters a small voice in determining the party candidate.

Freedom!

There is more freedom for a girl in a well ordered and intelligently managed home than in any other place under the sun.

"Nonsense," you say. "The last place I'd look for freedom is my own home. When I want to express myself I go to liberty hall and that's anywhere outside my home."

You jumped, my young friend, too fast. I said there was more freedom in a well ordered home than in any other place. You talk about "Liberty Hall" as being the place where you get liberty. What's the meaning of the word "liberty?" The state of being exempt from the domination of others or from restricting circumstances.

And so you reach out of your home to become exempt from the domination of others.

You actually make me want to laugh. You rush out of the home of "no freedom" and run into a system where liberty in thought, dress and action is absolutely taboo.

But I cannot laugh. It's too serious a matter. The difficulty which youth is having in trying to fit itself into the system of no freedom is causing suicides, disappearances and mysterious psychosis.

At heart we're all egotists. Youth is full of ego. When together in a group it may sing, "We're free! free! free!" But remember you are free only as compared with another group who are in jail or in an unintelligently managed home.

But when a single youth gets alone with himself or herself he or she feels adequate. He asks himself "How can I be adapted to the manifold claims of the crowd without suffering the destruction of my own personality?"

Well, my dear, you cannot be an individual in the state of uniformity unless you educate yourself to have ideas, thoughts, feelings and actions independent of mass thoughts and actions.

Every one of us must express ourselves or else we go "bughouse." And I claim that intelligent parents have far more interest in seeing that you get your freedom than any school or club or social group under the sun. A wise mother wants you to wear your hair so it is becoming to your face, to buy heels that properly support your body, to choose friends with discriminating taste, to interest yourself in music, crafts and vocations that your ego may find adequate expression.

Don't jump out of a home which you think is a "frying pan" into the fire of uniformity. The poor Smith college girl who so suddenly disappeared wrote in her school theme: "I have always wished to see what is on the other side of the blue hills." She lived in a world of artificial restraints—dances, dress, bobs, books and everything all alike—no self-expression of self, simply self-expression of the group.

And that's not true freedom and it isn't liberty hall.

OUR CONVERSATION CORNER

Earning Money.

Our class is planning a trip to another state after graduation. I am anxious to go but must earn the greater part of the expense myself. Can you suggest ways for me to earn money?—SENIOR GIRL.

Answer.—Repeat your request and enclose S. A. S. E. and I will send you my helplet: "How Girls Earn Money."

Pay Checks.

Dear Arthur Dean: Have just finished reading your article on "What They Want and When," in which you ask for a few suggestions from young people. Your first suggestion is a question sent in to you: "How do you keep the friendship of a boy and refuse to let him kiss you?"

Well, it depends pretty much on the type of boy he is. Any boy, good or bad, even if he isn't the "petting type" may have become fond enough of you to want to kiss you. The "petting type" is the type whose friendship you will lose if you don't comply—and you are better off without it. Then the other type is the boy who likes you a lot—maybe it's even love and would like to kiss you. But refusing to kiss him will not cost his friendship because he will like you for yourself and the company you afford him without expecting "pay checks" after having once been refused. This friendship is one to guard.—GIRL OF SIXTEEN.

DAILY HEALTH TALK

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN
Editor Journal of the American Medical Association and of Hygeia, the Health Magazine.

There is a common superstition that negroes and the savage tribes of Africa invariably have sound, pearly white teeth, and this in spite of the fact that they pay no special attention to their diet or to the care of the teeth. Now Dr. A. T. Till provides the results of an investigation into the dental condition of children in South Swaziland in Africa. Only 25 per cent of the children were found to be free from carious teeth.

The diets of these children were based principally on maize. Milk, butter and eggs were seldom eaten. Meat was taken only irregularly and then in large amounts. The nursing women of the tribe take no milk, because of a superstition that the drinking of milk prevents the mother from being able to nurse her child. An exactly contrary opinion is held by most white mothers.

In South Swaziland the mother nurses her baby from 18 to 24 months, and begins to feed it sour mealie-meal porridge from as early an age as two or three weeks.

Today the scientific evidence available indicates that the pregnant mother should have diet rich in vitamins and calcifying substances. The diets of the African mothers and children were poor in vitamins and high in cereals, which is full of anti-calcific substance.

On the other hand the African children have a great deal of sunshine, which aids the formation of vitamins in their bodies. They wear little clothing and the skin is constantly exposed freely to the sun's rays.

It is customary among the tribes of South Swaziland to rinse the mouths with water after meals, rubbing the teeth and gums with the fingers. Children are given stones and bones to bite on as exercise for the teeth and gums. Undoubtedly the presence of caries in the children and the early decay of many teeth are due to the bad diets that pregnant mothers and the children indulge in.

Dr. Till noted that in every case where a child had no decaying teeth, it was also free from signs of infected tonsils, adenoids or rickets. Neither was there any record that it had ever suffered rheumatic symptoms.

The heights and weights of all of the children studied were noted and the children with decaying teeth were found under weight in more instances than those free from this disturbance.

Maud Jonsons kid sister Dottie had a dime this afternoon and she bawt a balloon from the balloon man and she was standing in frunt of our house holding it by its string, and I sed, Hay Dottie, is that a fast balloon or a slow balloon?

I dont know, how do you meen? she sed, and I sed, Well slow balloons are the best, if its a slow balloon you can leeve go of the string and grab a hold of it agen wile the balloon is still there. Why dont you try it and see if its a slow one? I sed.

Im afraid, you try it for me, Dottie sed.

Wich I did, and the ferst thing I knew the balloon was a way up in the air and still going, and I sed, No, thats no slow balloon.

And Dottie started to yell and holler and cry and point up in the air all at the same time, and me looked out her window and I quick sed, Holey smokes ma dont lissen to her, she asked me to find out if it was a slow baloon and I found out for her as a favor and now look at her, G winnickers.

You get that balloon back for her or youll buy her another one with money from your bank, ma sed. And she closed the window and finished the argewment, me thinking. Aw heck good nite gosh shang the luck.

Wich by that time the balloon was all a ways out of site, and I started to wawk feeling discourraged with Dottie following me, and after about 3 blocks I came to some man sharpening a pencil out of a parler window, and I sed, Say mister, did you see a balloon come down around heer anywares?

Was it a big red balloon with 4 people in it? the man sed, and I sed, No sir, it was a ornerry size blue balloon with a string, and he sed, Then I dident see it.

Proving he proberly hadent saw eny kind and dident think enybody elts had, making me feel more discourraged insted of less, and I sed to Dottie, Hay Dottie, I tell you wat, Ill give you these 2 cents and the next balloon I find, and then you'll have 2 cents and a balloon too, wats you say?

Wich she sed yes, proving its often a good thing for me that wimmin dont know mutch about biznes.

So there was a young lady that had done all the battlefields in Europe and was kinda trying to cover all the points of interest at home too. She was wandering around at Gettysburg, and she met a young man that was trying to make a hit with her.

"Yes," says the fellow, "this is a mighty historic spot."

"Is it?"

"It sure is. My grandfather lost a leg here."

A forest trail an empire's seat;
The first faint footsteps waver so,
But afterwhile they learn to go,

Long-Lived Radio Waves

That the voices of famous present-day men, transformed into radio waves, are now wandering around the earth and may be picked up a century hence is the startling contention of engineers of the Mariconi company, London. Such waves, they say, never die out completely with sensitive enough receivers they might be heard in 2028.

Already they have heard programs that have circled the world three times.

Commenting on the idea, Dr. Lee de Forest, inventor of the vacuum tube, says: "Theoretically the waves exist forever, as do those of the ocean. Radio waves are too weak to be recorded by existing receivers even a few minutes after their emission."

The Wanderers

He wandered into the Gazette office late yesterday evening. We had never seen him before but we knew what he wanted. "How's work?" he said, which is the pass word of the drifting printer. We told him we didn't need any extra help. He did not seem especially disappointed. He had heard that many times before. And he was just a mouse of a man; well along in years. He didn't even ask if he could "see the boys," which, when it is permitted, always costs the boys. He inquired what good towns there were South of here; we donated two bits to the cause of wanderlust and he went on his way. There aren't as many of them as there used to be. But the few that are left come and go. They come from somewhere, going nowhere. Just drifting, unable to get the smell of ink out of their nostrils. It's an odd world and there are odd people in it, but the drifter is a puzzle and a character all himself.—Burns Hegler in Augusta Gazette.

The Counter-Attack

We (correspondents) reached Chateau-la-Doultre, southeast of Chauteau-Thierry, 3d division headquarters, in the middle of a staff conference (July 15, 1918).

Colonel R. H. C. Kelton, chief of staff, had traced on the map the situation since the first shock of the German attack had, apparently dislodged a part of the division from its advanced position.

The French 125th division on the 3d's right had been forced to give more ground, and General de Montdesir, commanding the 38th French corps, had ordered both units to withdraw somewhat to a stronger, prepared position.

Maj. Gen. Joseph T. Dickman, the division commander, leaned forward, steel helmet tilted over his nose, lower jaw thrust forward, pugnacity in every line of his powerful figure. He glared through his thick glasses, as if he actually saw the Germans in his front line.

"Well, damn it, let's get 'em out of there," he said. Then the door closed.

That was a special, a vivid bit of history. It meant the launching of an American counter-attack, first of the day on the allied side, and the sending to the French higher command of this now famous letter:

We regret being unable on this occasion to follow the counsels of our masters the French, but the American flag has been forced to retire. This is unendurable and none of our soldiers would understand their not being asked to do whatever is necessary to re-establish the situation. At present it is humiliating to us and unacceptable to our country's honor. We are going to counter-attack.

The French G. H. Q. seiged on the letter as propaganda to prove that the new American troops not only would fight, but preferred to fight. Published in American newspapers, it aroused great enthusiasm. But the writer's name was not given, and authorship has been attributed to almost everyone except General Dickman. The mere fact that the Americans had counter-attacked was hailed by London newspapers as "the best feature of the day's news."—Thomas M. Johnson in Century Magazine.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC CHIEFS WILL OBEY U. S. COURT ORDER

LULL AND ASSOCIATES TO ESCAPE CONTEMPT FINE IN UNION FIGHT

ISSUES OF CASE WILL BE APPEALED HOWEVER

Attorneys Will Attack Section of Esch-Cummings Rail Statute In Appeal.

HOUSTON, Texas, Feb. 17. (AP)—Three high officials of the Southern Pacific lines of Texas and Louisiana, who on February 10 were adjudged guilty of contempt of a federal court order to disestablish a "company union" and were threatened with jail sentences, will comply with the order but will appeal "questions of law and fact" to higher courts.

In a statement to the Associated Press, H. M. Lull, vice president of the railroad, announced that he and his associates, G. S. Waid, his assistant, and J. F. Torian, general superintendent of the railroad, who were declared guilty of contempt by Federal Judge J. C. Hutcheson of Houston, would obey the order to disestablish the association of railway clerks, the company union.

Appeal to Be Taken

At the same time, he asserted, the questions involved are of such "far reaching importance" that an immediate appeal to the circuit court of appeals will be taken, and a trial of the case "on its merits" will e sought for March 12. He indicated the appeal would seek to test the Esch-Cummings railroad act.

Disclaiming any intention of acting in contempt of the order, Mr. Lull said he and his associates had dealt with the "local association in full belief that it was representative of not only a majority" of the employes involved, but was also a "local organization that would have more at heart the success of the railway and the welfare of the members" than would the clerks union, "dominated by central powers from abroad."

The questions of law involve the construction of the Esch-Cummings act, Mr. Lull said, while the questions of policy concern "whether employes of a railway shall be free to conduct their negotiations with the management in their own way or whether they shall be dominated by outside organizations."

To Observe Court Orders

While expressing intention to carry the matter to a final "determination in this court and in the higher courts, if necessary," Mr. Lull and his associates will observe all court orders, he said, that litigation may be carried on in a "dignified and dispassionate way" and that the element of contempt may be eliminated.

He added, however, that he understands the court order not to require conducting "any negotiations with the Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks," which is affiliated with the American Federation of Labor.

LULL DENIES THAT HE WILL DISSOLVE RAIL UNION

HOUSTON, Texas, Feb. 17. (AP)—H. M. Lull, executive vice president of the Southern Pacific lines in Louisiana and Texas, issued a statement here today denying that the Association of Clerical Employes, generally known as the company labor union for 3500 employes in the two states, will be dissolved.

Federal Judge J. C. Hutcheson in a recent order after having found Mr. Lull and two associates guilty of contempt of court in a controversy with the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks, a union labor organization, ordered the association "disestablished."

"In numerous newspaper articles," the statement said, with respect to the pending litigation between the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks and the Texas & New Orleans Railroad company (the operating company of the Southern Pacific lines in Louisiana and Texas) the statement has been made that the court had ordered the railway company to dissolve the Association of Clerical Employes and the statement has now been made in the newspapers that the railroad company would dissolve the association. Nothing could be further from th facts.

"The association is not a party to this litigation and the court has not the power and has not attempted to require its dissolution. The railroad company has not the power and does not intend to dissolve or attempt to have dissolved the association.

"All that is required of the company in this respect is so long as the temporary injunction remains in effect, it shall not recognize the association as representing the clerical employes and of course, the order of the court will be obeyed so long as it remains in effect. It is confidently believed that it will not be in effect after the appellate courts shall have passed on the case.

"In this connection it is proper in view of the confusion of published reports to reiterate that the Texas & New Orleans Railroad company has no dispute with its clerical employes, but only with the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks, which is a foreign organization, controlled from headquarters in a distant state."

HAVANA CONGRESS UNABLE TO TRACE HARMONIOUS PATH

ARGENTINA CONTINUES BAR TO ACCORD OF UNION OF PAN-AMERICA

BUENOS AIRES LEADER HURLS MONKEY WRENCH

HAVANA, Feb. 17. (AP)—The subcommittees of the Pan-American conference today pushed on with their work in an effort to clean up before the conference adjourns on Monday.

The subcommittee of the Pan-American union met this morning on a definition of the word independence and planned to present a report to the full committee later in the day. The gist of the committee report will be a recommendation to refer a definition of the fundamental rights and duties of states to some future conference.

The Argentine delegate was absent from the session as were several others.

The subcommittee which is considering the pacific settlement of international disputes went into session late this morning and was hopeful of being able to make preliminary recommendations on the subject before the conference adjourned Monday.

Chairman Guerrero of the public international law committee stated this afternoon that the committee intended to complete consideration of a convention specifying all formalities regarding treaties and also one defining the rights and deputies of diplomats and consuls.

Argentina Blocks Harmony.

Resignation of Dr. Honorio Pueyrredon, head of the Argentine delegation, proved a barrier today to attempts of the subcommittee on public international law to reconcile differences as the Pan-American congress neared its close. The committee is debating a definiton of national independence which involves discussion of the right of intervention.

Before it began its labors last night the resignation of Dr. Pueyrredon as ambassador to the United States and leader of the Argentine delegation was announced. When the committee met it was found impossible to agree on final procedure and the task was made more difficult by the absence of Dr. Pueyrredon. The Argentine with Gustavo Guerrero, Salvador, had upheld the doctrine of absolute prohibition of intervention by one state in the internal affairs of another.

Frankness Is Urged.

Most of the members of the subcommittee were convinced that the best procedure would be the frank admission to the full committee that it could not reconcile varying views on the fundamental issue the extent to which the independence of one state was dependent upon respect for the rights of other states. They thought, therefore, that the matter should be referred to the next Pan-American congress with some previous study of it by a body of experts, if possible.

Dr. Pueyrredon in making public his resignation said it had first been sumbitted Tuesday night but that his government asked him to reconsider it. This he refused to do. He would rather abandon his posts, he explained, than abandon his stand for the inclusion of a declaration in favor of the removal of tariff barriers in the Pan-American union convention.

Olascoaga Heads Delegation.

Dr. Laurentino Olascoaga, Argentine minister at Havana, who succeeds Dr. Pueyrredon as leader of the delegation, immediately cabled his government for fresh instructions.

Losing no time in the discussion of the pacific settlement of international disputes, the subcommittee named to consider that subject was summoned to meet today. Before it was the question of modifying the report presented by Ricardo Alfaro of Panama along lines suggested in the debate in which Charles Evans Hughes of the United States played a prominent part.

The whole weight of the United States was thrown behind the proposal to outlaw all aggressive warfare in this hemisphere by Mr. Hughes. His country, he said, is "opposed to any acts of aggression, desirous of seeing force abolished from this hemisphere, and seeks nothing but the prosperity, independence and friendship of all American states."

Hughes Against War.

Mr. Hughes fully supported a resolution introduced by Fernando Gonzalez Roa of Mexico which declared all aggressive war illegal and provided international disputes should be settled by pacific means.

Mr. Hughes suggested the establishment of joint international commissions patterned on the lines of the American-Canadian boundary commission, by conclusion of pecuniary claims conventions, and by establishing firmly the principle of arbitration. This would be subject only to the limitation which sovereignty of countries required.

As means to the pacific settlement of disputes he urged periodical conferences for candid exchanges of views on controversial subjects, measures of conciliation and judicial settlement.

The means of pacific settlement of disputes is regarded as a subject too far reaching for conclusion by the present conference which ends Monday. It is hoped, however, that a skeleton plan may be outlined and thus the labors of some future conference on the matter facilitated.

ARGENTINA TO ABIDE BY DECISION OF DELEGATIONS

BUENOS AIRES, Feb. 17. (AP)—La Nacion today said that Foreign Minister Gallardo after being shown dispatches from Havana telling of the resignation of Dr. Honorio Pueyrredon said that Dr. Pueyrredon, having been assured of his government's absolute confidence in him, would accept the decision of all other delegations on the preamble to the Pan-American union convention.

The foreign minister added that the difficult situation created by Dr. Pueyrredon's stand would be solved today and the government would then decide whether to make public the messages exchanged between the foreign office and the chief of the Argentine delegation.

Royal Theban Tomb 40 Centuries Old Yields Valuable Data on Life Along River Nile Ages Before Christ

NEW YORK, Feb. 17. (AP)—The story of a battle on the river Nile 4000 years ago as revealed by the mummified bodies of 60 soldiers, found buried in a royal Theban tomb, is told in a bulletin of the Metropolitan Museum of Art.

Dr. H. E. Winlock, associate curator of Egyptian art at the museum, reconstructs the battle from reports of the wounds found on the mummies by the museum's Egyptian expedition.

From the small head wounds and the downward course of arrows found in the bodies, Dr. Winlock says the men must have died storming a castle, the head wounds evidently having been caused by small missiles thrown from above. They were soldiers of King Menthuhotep and the unusual honor paid them of burial, in a royal tomb lead to the conclusion they fell in an important engagement.

Other wounds on the bodies, the article says, show that the wounded were dispatched with clubs by the victors after their comrades had retreated. Another attack, however, must have been successful as the bodies were recovered for burial.

The tomb in which the bodies were found was first discovered in 1923, but because of the disorder showing the previous visits of thieves it was sealed and not opened until recently. Meanwhile, the expedition devoted itself to more promising excavations. When the tomb was reopened, marks on the linen of the soldiers showed their period to be that of 2000 B. C., an important find as excavators had previously failed to discover what manner of men were the invaders who descended on Egypt from Thebes, in 2000 B. C., conquered Memphis and started the second great period of Egyptian culture.

PROTEST STATE TAX ON GASOLINE SOLD ARMY

AUSTIN, Feb. 17. (AP)—Briefs for the state in the case questioning its right to force payment of gasoline tax on gallonage sold the federal army posts at San Antonio were filed Friday in supreme court by D. A. Simmons, first assistant attorney general.

The state sued the Grayburg Oil company in Travis county district court for about $12,000, allegedly due under the old one-cent gasoline tax now boosted to three cents. The company unsuccessfully claimed through trial and appellate courts that the state had no right to make such a levy since the commodity in question went to the federal government and was unloaded on national property, over which the state had no ordinary jurisdiction.

Mr. Simmons claims the tax is not on gasoline but is an occupation toll put on dealers; that the Grayburg company is not an agent of the government and not exempt from any state tax.

Final settlement of the case against the state would mean a relatively big loss in revenue.

"Cheap" paint

will never fool Jim Stewart again

He, like thousands of others, now knows that "You can't paint a house with applesauce"

Jim Stewart—and there are now thousands of "Jim Stewarts" all over the country—is the man who has found out the truth about "cheap" paint. He knows now that "cheap" paint isn't cheap at all!

This particular "Jim Stewart's" experience is typical. Last fall his house needed repainting. So he bought $46.75 worth of fine old SWP House Paint from his local S-W dealer, figuring on the same covering basis as the brand he had been using. But he had almost half of the SWP left over. He returned $17.00 worth of the paint!

Up-to-date painters everywhere are using SWP House Paint. They realize that its beautiful colors—creamy smoothness—brushing ease—covering ability—and durability—can only be produced by scientific processes.

Thousands of other men have learned this same fact—that SWP House Paint, while costing more per gallon, covers 360 square feet per gallon (two coats), where the average "cheap" paint covers only 250 square feet per gallon (two coats).

Where 11 gallons of "cheap" paint are needed for the average house, only 7 gallons of SWP are needed. That saving of four gallons makes the total paint cost about the same for SWP House Paint as for the "cheap" brand.

But that's only half the story. After a short time your wishy-washy "cheap" paint is usually peeled, chipped, faded. But fine old SWP, with its beautiful, sunfast colors, lasts on the average for five years—and it looks rich to the very end. So there you have it. "Cheap" paint actually costs about the same as fine old SWP on the wall and it costs two and a half times as much for repainting. There's no earthly way to beat it.

"Paint Headquarters" can save you money

"Cheap" paint products are cheaply made of cheap materials. That's the only reason they can be sold profitably at a low price. And this applies to lacquers, enamels, and varnishes. It takes high priced materials to make an economical paint product. Low price-per-gallon and economy are miles and miles apart.

Drop in at "Paint Headquarters" today for your free copy of the Household Painting Guide. It shows you the right finish for every need. Stops mistakes. Saves you money.

Confer with us on any painting or refinishing job—inside or outside. We can give you "best results at lowest cost."

FRISBY REVEALS TENDER SIDE OF DUCE MUSSOLINI

A. Mussirl, a humble employe of Mussolini's government, who gives up own teeth to promote better understanding with America.

WASHINGTON — A tender message from Mussolini, and a heartening telegram from New York brought cheer to Congressman Frisby today in his hour of need.

More than two weeks have passed since the loss of Mr. Frisby's teeth became a delicate international question.

Today Frisby received the following telegram—

CONGRESSMAN FRISBIE
MAN CLAIMING TO BE LON CHANEY OFFERED TO SELL US SET OF FALSE TEETH INSCRIBED QUOTE TO EUASTACE FRISBIE FROM BROOKLYN LODGE OF ELKS FEBRUARY EIGHTEEN NINETY TWO UNQUOTE SAYS FRISBIE LOST TEETH TO HIM IN POKER GAME STOP WHAT SHALL WE DO

The Congressman also made public the following Frisby-Mussolini correspondence—

Congressman Frisby, Care Washington Monument,
Sir—

Your sad plight has touched my heart—please accept the enclosed set of china teeth which I knocked out of the mouth of one of my Government employes who was using them to chew the rag instead of working.
MUSSOLINI.

DRAMA LEAGUE TO SAVE SPOKEN ART IN AMERICA

EVANSTON, Ill., Feb. 17. (AP)—To save the spoken drama of America from being relegated to the realm of lost arts, the Drama League of America will seek a $1,000,000 trust fund to finance a program for education and development of the art.

The drive for the fund was announced last night at a joint observance of national drama week and the eighteenth anniversary of the Drama league's founding. William Lyon Phelps of Yale university is chairman of the national executive committee for raising the fund.

Worn Out Boats and Discarded Rock Bricks From Paved Streets of Paris Used by Nomads to Build Village

PARIS, Feb. 17. (AP)—"Morocco" is a new village, built of worn out boats, on new ground made by the deposits of the river Seine, northeast of Paris. There are a hundred and fifty families, in frame sheds they built themselves, with the street they also made from old paving stones.

A tramp, settling down after a life of travel, started the squatter community. Workers hunting cheap lodgings camped alongside and in a few years the vacant land has become a village without any public utilities, officials or rights but self governing as far as it is governed at all.

The squatters recently claimed the land as their own because it was made by the river beyond a dike that is government property. The courts enlightened them but as there is no other use for the ground the squatter village is in a fair way to be legalized as a town.

The buildings are primitive. Old canal boats, bought for $12 apiece, are torn down. The cabins lifted out, make one room homes and gradually they are enlarged with timbers and boards from the boats.

MEMORIAL AUDITORIUM WILL BE PROTECTED BY 50 FIRE EXTINGUISHERS

Fifty fire extinguishers purchased recently by the Wichita Falls city council for use in the Memorial auditorium have arrived and work of installing them will start Monday, W. B. Ward, auditorium building manager, announced Friday.

The extinguishers were manufactured by the Fyr-Fyter company of Dayton, Ohio, and were purchased by the council through a local dealer. They are one quart size.

Installation of the fire extinguishers in the auditorium will result in a substantial decrease in the insurance rate on the building, city officials say.

480 SKILLED WORKERS LOSE SHIP YARD JOBS

BOSTON, Feb. 17. (AP)—A total of 480 skilled mechanics employed at the Charlestown navy yard have been discharged because of lack of work, it was learned today. This brings the total number of employes down to 2100. Local naval officials say there are no immediate prospects of work and that the yard is experiencing one of its dullest periods since the war.

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which sooth and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guarantee satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and cold, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (Adv.)

TWO WICHITANS DELAYED FOUR HOURS BY SNOW

W. A. Stuckey, 1515 Kemp boulevard, and his son, Earl Stuckey, found the road between Kirkland and Goodlett blocked by snowdrifts while driving from Pampa to Wichita Falls Thursday afternoon.

Mr. Stuckey said Friday morning that it required four hours to drive 15 miles. The snow for a distance of more than a mile had drifted until it was more than two feet deep on the highway.

About 15 cars were held up and they finally forced their way slowly through the drifts by pushing the car ahead which was breaking the way.

SOMERVILLE GETS OFFICIAL NOTICE OF FEE OPINION

Wayne Somerville, Wichita county attorney, Thursday received the official copy of an opinion given at his request Wednesday by the attorney general's department at Austin concerning the authority of justice courts to impose commitment fees upon persons convicted of misdemeanor violations.

Mr. Somerville announced that copies of the opinion have been made and will be forwarded by him to justices of the peace and constables in the county, with instructions that it be followed out. Any departure from the opinion, he declared, will be met by the filing of charges.

The official opinion served only to confirm the press reports of its contents as supplied to Mr. Somerville the day it was issued. The opinion rules that the commitment fee of $1 provided by law may not be collected in justice court unless a convicted person is actually placed in jail by court order.

RIVALS FOR PRESIDENT WHITE HOUSE GUESTS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17. (AP)—Three avowed presidential candidates were among the group of senators at a White House breakfast this morning.

They were Senators Curtis of Kansas, Watson of Indiana, and Willis of Ohio. Others present included Borah of Idaho, and Walsh of Montana.

BRYANT RETURNS FROM TEXTBOOK BOARD MEET

Burl Bryant, county superintendent of schools, returned Thursday from Austin, where he attended the recent meeting of the state textbook commission, of which he is a member. Mr. Bryant was absent more than a week attending the meeting, which was described as the most important of the past year because of the large number of textbooks which were up for adoption.

SUSPECT BELIEVED TO HAVE KILLED NEGRESS ESCAPES

FORT WORTH, Feb. 17. (AP)—A suspect, believed to have murdered Mollie Steward, negress, whose body was discovered in a servants' house here early last night, had evaded police today.

The body was found by the sister of the dead woman. The negress' throat had been slashed with a razor, 2which was discovered nearby.

MISSOURI OFFERS REED AS DEMOCRATIC HOPE

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 17. (AP)—Mrs. souri still tells how 30 years ago, when James E. Reed was prosecutor of Jackson county, in which Kansas City is situated, he tried 287 cases in two years and got 285 convictions.

It has been largely as a prosecutor of what he deemed evil in public affairs that Reed has been a prominent figure in the United States senate since 1911, attracting national attention which now prompts his friends to offer him to the Democratic party as its nominee for president.

If Senator Reed were the Democratic candidate for president, and if his disposition were not to seek the stump and carry the battle to the enemy, he might wage a front porch campaign from his new Kansas City home on Cherry street—for he has the front porch.

The broad veranda fronts the large brick house into which Senator and Mrs. Reed moved only last summer, after having maintained their residence for many years at a downtown hotel. The home stands in the center of a three-acre lawn, facing the east, with a hill sloping toward it across Cherry street.

In the basement of this residence Senator Reed has his library and his "work shop"—the latter a long room, simply but comfortably furnished, with a fireplace at one end and at the other a door leading into the library. Here are valued mementoes of a public career which began in 1896, and treasured pictures, including those of his parents.

Ohio, native state of seven presidents, would have an eighth son in the White House if Reed became the nation's executive, for the man who has been serving Missouri in the senate for 17 years was born on a farm near Mansfield, Ohio, on Nov. 9, 1861.

As a boy he went with his parents to Iowa, where he grew to manhood near Cedar Rapids, entered the practice of law, and was married in 1887 to Miss Lura M. Olmsted. In that year they went to Kansas City, where Reed followed the law, was elected county prosecutor at 27, and went on to two terms as mayor of Kansas City and thence in 1911 to the senate.

HI-Y CLUB MEETS FRIDAY WITH STATE SUPERVISOR HERE

The Y. M. C. A. group of 50 older boys, known as the Hi-Y club, in the Wichita Falls high school under the supervision of J. C. Presson, met in called session Friday morning to honor their state supervisor, Grover C. Good, state Y. M. C. A. boys' secretary, who is in Wichita Falls this week in the interest of the North and West Texas older boys' conference. This conference will be held in Wichita Falls, March 9, 10 and 11, under the auspices of the state Y. M. C. A. of Texas.

Their state secretary outlined to the Hi-Y boys their responsibility as hosts to the old boys' conference. He emphasized the appointment of 10 committees of boys, as committees on reception, music, speakers, publicity, delegation, Sunday school and church, entertainment or homes, and other committees on literature and local arrangements such as (posters, stickers) advertising the conference. Everyone of the 50 Hi-Y members was placed on some committee and put to work.

Frank Williams of Wichita Falls is president of the Hi-Y club and assumed the responsibility for all committees.

Mr. Good states that the churches, ministers, luncheon clubs, schools and all organizations have given him a warm welcome to bring this conference to Wichita Falls.

FEDERAL TRADE BUREAU TO INVESTIGATE UTILITIES

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17. (AP)—The Federal Trade Commission decided today to proceed immediately to carry out the provisions of the Walsh resolution calling for an investigation of public utility power corporations.

FAMOUS NEGRO CHORAL CLUB TO APPEAR HERE EVENING FEBRUARY 22

In booking the Aida Choral club to appear in the Washington school auditorium Wednesday, February 22, the Negro Community club is making it possible for music lovers to hear one of the best organizations of its kind in the southwest, it was announced Friday.

Portia Washington Pitman, director of the club, is the daughter of the late Booker T. Washington, and is well and favorably known throughout the nation by the people of her race as a pianist of the first rank, she having studied three years in Berlin under famous musicians preparatory to the work in which she is now engaged. Every member of the club is said to be an artist.

Mrs. Pitman directed the negro school children's chorus of 600 voices for the N. E. A. in Dallas last fall to the satisfaction of all who heard her.

FILE FELONY CHARGE AGAINST MAN ACCUSED OF BANKING DICE DAME

A felony complaint charging Charlie Weatherly with operating a gaming table and bank was filed by the district attorney's department Thursday afternoon following a raid by deputy sheriffs upon a room in a local rooming house.

Ten other men, said by officers to have been arrested in the raid, were fined $1 and costs after complaints charging them with gaming had been filed in justice courts.

NEW ORLEANS ENTERTAINS OFFICERS U. S. S. TEXAS

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 17. (AP)—After paying homage to Momus, lord of Misrule and God of Mirth and Laughter, New Orleans today prepared to entertain the officers of the U. S. S. Texas at a ball tonight as the second event in the annual Mardi Gras celebration.

Downtown streets, rid of street cars and automobiles in honor of the occasion last night were packed with thousands of persons who witnessed the parade of Momus.

The God of Mirth headed a procession of 17 floats, colorfully decorated and interspersed throughout the parade were a dozen bands which poured forth stirring music.

After the parade the ball of the mystic krewe of Momus was held.

BULLINGTON TO ASK $1,000,000 FOR P. O. HERE

WICHITANS WILL MAKE TRIP TO WASHINGTON WITHIN NEXT 10 DAYS

CHAMBER COMMERCE TO EMPLOY DAIRY EXPERT

Agricltural Committee Believes Colonization Scheme Needed To Settle Valley.

Orville Bullington and a representative from the chamber of commerce will leave for Washington within the next few days to present Wichita Falls' claims for a $1,000,000 federal building, Hubert M. Harrison, general manager of the chamber of commerce, announced at the regular weekly meeting of the business council in the Kemp hotel at noon Friday.

During January the freight rate claim department of the chamber filed claims totaling $3900 for local merchants and has already collected most of the money due, Mr. Harrison said.

"All members of the chamber of commerce are invited to attend these weekly council meetings," Mr. Harrison said.

"This is a sort of forum of the community in which all walks of life are represented. The powers of this body are limited to discussion, initiation and recommendation. I trust you will take your membership with due seriousness.

"Four consecutive absences without an excuse of illness or absence from the city will automatically vacate any delegate's place on the council."

In discussing a recent trip through the South Plains region Mr. Harrison said, "The South Plains presents one of the most fertile fields for commercial advancement that is available to Wichita Falls today. Two railroads and one concrete highway will soon link Wichita Falls to that territory.

"Fort Worth is our strongest competitor in that region. It is up to our wholesalers and industries to establish a closer contact with that country.

"Ground will be broken within the next 10 days for the city's new municipal airport."

J. D. Parnell, former state senator, introduced visitors from Byers and Petrolia who were here asking that the chamber of commerce assist them in having a highway designated from Wichita Falls to Byers and on to Waurika.

Clay County Visitors

The visitors were W. E. Cornutt, Clay county commissioner from Petrolia; H. W. Perkins, of Petrolia; and Robert Ligon, T. H. Harrison and Lee Curtis, all members of the Byers good roads commission.

"The Byers people and the people in the north end of Clay county are interested in a paved highway to Wichita Falls," Mr. Ligon said, "for your city has grown so big that we cannot get along without it. And I know that you are looking for Byers and it does not make much difference how you spell the word."

C. D. Whitley, chairman of the committee in charge of selling tickets for the special train to Houston for the christening of the "City of Wichita Falls" on March 20, announced that 34 reservations for tickets for the trip had already been received.

J. T. Harrell, chairman of the agricultural committee, made a report on the work of his committee.

"Your committee thinks it is wise to put an extensive educational campaign as to the proper handling of dairy products," Mr. Harrell said.

"There are several things the farmers must learn before they can profitably produce milk. Our climate is better adapted to dairying than in that of northern states.

"But the mere fact that we have created a market for milk does not solve all our problems. The farmer must produce his own feed. We intend to employ a full-time man to carry on an educational campaign among the farmers.

"In a preliminary we find that we do not have the right type of dairy cattle. We must breed a higher type that will produce more milk. We are going to foster a cow-testing association.

"We hope to interest a number of Wisconsin dairymen in the Wichita valley and have them locate here. We need 10,000 farmers in the valley. We are not going to successfully settle the valley without a colonization scheme."

PRELIMINARY TRIAL OKLAHOMA OFFICERS SCHEDULED MONDAY

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Feb 17. (AP)—The little village of Bomar, between Marietta and Thacherville, will be the scene Monday of the preliminary trial of two Love county officials charged with appropriating a portion of the loot stolen from the Love County National bank several weeks ago, it was announced today by Fred Hansen, assistant attorney general.

County Judge James Mathers and County Attorney Wes Croy were charged with grand larceny as a result of the investigation of Hansen into the robbery. They accompanied Claude Andrews, a confessed member of the gang that staged the robbery, to a farm where at least a portion of the loot was buried. A bag containing part of the stolen money was returned to the bank and Mathers and Croy are accused of retaining the remainder, more than $5000.

Both men asserted they did not count the money they recovered and that it was returned to the bank intact.

The preliminary trial will be taken to Bomar as the result of a change of venue granted the two men. It will be held before O. E. McCage, Thackerville justice of the peace. Because of a contagion in Thackerville it was decided not to hold the trial there, Mr. Hansen said.

Two men lost their lives as a result of Marrietta robbery, Sheriff Sam C. Long killed Oscar Harrison, one of the bandits, and was fatally wounded in the gun fight, dying several days later.

POSTMASTERS NOTIFIED NOT TO TAKE CUBA MAIL

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17. (AP)—Advance notices to some 50,000 postmasters in the United States ordering them to be prepared to decline all parcel post shipments to Cuba which could not arrive in that country prior to March 1 were sent out today by W. Irving Glover, second assistant postmaster general.

ON EXTENSION OF O. A. & P. FOUR MILES OF RAILS

FLOYDADA, Texas, Feb. 17.—Four miles of the rails have been laid on the extension of the Quanah, Acme & Pacific railway from McLain to Floydada, according to A. F. Sommer, vice president and general manager of the road, and additional crews will be put to work at once in an effort to rush to completion the work.

While the actual laying of the rails has been going on less than one week the officials are not satisfied with the time being made and the extra crews will be placed on in an effort to lay as much as a mile per day. The extension, when completed will cost approximately $1,250,000. Work on the $35,000 station will begin following the completion of the road into Floydada.

OLNEY CUBS HONORED.

OLNEY, Texas, Feb. 17.—Members of the Olney Cubs, high school basket ball team, are to be guests of the local Rotary club at their next weekly meeting on February 21. The Cubs recently won the Young county championship, competing with teams from seven other communities. The district tournament will be held in Wichita Falls the last week in February with the Cubs representing Young county.

SEEPAGE IN RIVER WILL BE SURVEYED BY U. S. ENGINEERS

AUSTIN, Feb. 17. (AP)—Nine inspectors have started exhaustive tests to determine whether there is seepage loss from the Rio Grande, the United States geological survey bureau here said Friday.

Six or more permanent water stage recorders probably will be placed at strategic points along the river as result of the present investigations, for which more than $20,000 has been appropriated, the bureau said.

Work of installing a permanent station at Eagle Pass already is under way.

Not since 1926 has there been an official report as to seepage, and that one disclosed a possible loss. The government unsatisfied, proposes to test correctness of the two-year-old findings.

HIGH HONOR PROPOSED FOR GENERAL LIGGETT

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17. (AP)—The rank of lieutenant general, retired, would be conferred upon Major General Hunter Liggett, one of the two lieutenant generals in the world war, under a resolution today by Senator Johnson, Republican, California.

"This in my opinion is but tardy justice to a distinguished officer who rendered the most signal service in the world war," Senator Johnson said.

Investigate the friendly service that has enabled so many to meet emergencies and necessities.

FLOYDADA IS PLANNING FOR FREE MAIL DELIVERY

FLOYDADA, Texas, Feb. 17.—One of the most important steps looking toward city free mail delivery was made in Floydada this week, when the city council contracted to a Kansas City firm the numbering of all the business and residences in the city. The work will be started immediately and, according to officials of the company, will be completed within 30 days.

The contract for the naming and marking of the streets has not yet been let, but following the agreement of the council on the proper plan for this work it will be started. Other requirements of free mail delivery are already available in Floydada and a request for this additional service will be made by members of the Floydada Luncheon club as a part of their year's work.

$410,000 BOND ISSUE WILL HIKE VERNON TAX

VERNON, Feb. 17.—The tax rate of the city of Vernon would be increased 25 cents per $100 valuation should the three bond issues aggregating a total of $410,000 for city improvements, for which an election has been ordered, be given a favorable vote March 20, S. H. Hall, city secretary, states.

This increase would bring the total Vernon tax to $2.10 per $100 valuation, a low rate compared with the levies in other cities, according to the secretary.

DALLAS WANTS LOAN OF TWO U. S. FIELD PIECES

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17. (AP)—The loan of two three-inch field pieces by the secretary of war to the city of Dallas was reported favorably by the senate committee on military affairs today.

The guns will be used for exhibition purposes in the state fair park at Dallas under the terms of the bill.

AVERAGES LOWER AS GRAIN FEELS EFFECT OF RAINS

CHICAGO, Feb. 17. (AP)—Wheat values underwent a setback today owing largely to widespread snowfalls beneficial to United States winter wheat. Denials too, were current toward the last that any purchases of grain for Russia are being made in the United States or Canada or that any are contemplated. Export demand, however, for wheat from North America was fair, new business being estimated at 850,000 bushels, chiefly Canadian.

Skepticism about reports of big buying of wheat from Canada to be shipped to Russia showed itself quite pointedly at times today. Liverpool advices were to the effect that no trace of any Russian buying was apparent and it was pointed out here that the Baltic is usually icebound at this time, remaining so until about the date that spring navigation is resumed on the American Great Lakes.

The most definite fresh news available today concerning bread stuffs purchased for Russia was that a little flour and wheat both from North America and Argentina has been bought by Russia. It was also stated that Russia will be in the market from now on, but in a conservative way.

Grain Pit Notes

CHICAGO, Feb. 17. (AP)—Action of the wheat market in advancing over 3 cents per bushel yesterday, the largest upturn in a number of weeks, caused sentiment to become much more bullish than of late. Reported sales of 8,000,000 bushels wheat to Russia, while generally believed to be considerably exaggerated, had a great deal to do with the advance.

A special Argentine government crop report on corn said early planted grain in the province of Buenos Aires was below normal in condition, owing to cold weather early in November, while the small late panted acreage was a failure due to dry weather.

Poultry and Produce

Butter lower; receipts 6906 tubs; creamery extras 44½c; standards 44c; extra firsts 43¼@44c; firsts 41½@42½c; seconds 38@40½c.

Sugar and Coffee

NEW YORK, Feb. 17. (AP)—The raw sugar market was steadier in tone early today, but no sales were reported and prices were unchanged at 4.14 for Cuban duty paid.

More favorable advices from London and lighter offerings in the spot market had strengthening influence in the raw sugar futures market. After opening unchanged to 3 points higher, prices continued firm throughout the remainder of the forenoon and at midday were 2 to 3 points net higher. Trading, however, was less active and prices responded to moderate covering from houses with European connections and fresh outside buying for investment.

The decline to the $5.60 level for fine granulated by local refiners failed to create increased buying and the demand was again light.

Sugar futures close firm; approximate sales 34,150 tons. March 2.40; May 2.49; July 2.58; September 2.66; December 2.77.

NEW YORK, Feb. 17. (AP)—Coffee spot firm with a good demand Rio No. 7, 15⅛; Santos No. 4, 22⅝; Rio futures steady. Sales 78,000 bags. March 14.75; May 14.15; July 13.80; September 13.53; December 13.29.

Santos futures steady. Sales approximated 12,000 bags. March 20.90; May 20.70; July 20.15; September 19.68; December 19.19.

CURB OPENS WITH PRICES HIGHER BUT LATER TREND SHAKY

NEW YORK, Feb. 17. (AP)—Although many stocks made gains of 1 to 7 points in the early trading the curb market in general was unsettled because of liquidation from many sources and efforts at pool liquidation and as the session progressed the majority of active stocks was in supply at sharp concessions. There were some new features including the trading in drug products, which sold at 80¼. Deere and company had wide fluctuations, starting with a gain of 4 points at 283 and after falling to 270, rallying sharply.

Firestone tire was directly influenced by the unfavorable rubber market and also by reports of cuts in tire prices and suffered a further loss of 6 points following yesterday's decline. Schulte-United stores, which was traded yesterday at 22 to 21⅞ was in supply and yielded to 21¼, while the preferred was traded at 100.

Sparks Withington, which has been steadily advancing for about a week, had a further advance of 5 points. Tubize was helped by the steps taken to unify the silk market and rose 7 points. Realty associates was another strong feature in the early trading and moved up 5 points. Bancitaly was in special demand and had a further advance of 5 points establishing a new high record at 182¾.

Utility shares, which were strong in yesterday's trading, were under special pressure. American Gas & Electric yielded more than 4 points and Electric Bond & Share dropped about 2 points. American Light & Traction was exceptionally strong in this group.

In the petroleum group pipe line stocks were active and strong. Prairie Pipe made an additional gain of over 5 points, lifting its high record to 216 and Illinois Pipe rose over 7 points. Standard Oil of Indiana was heavy, recording a new low for the year on a decline of about a point. Vacuum dropped 2¼ points to 141.

PRICES BREAK SHARPLY ON STOCK SPECULATIONS

NEW YORK, Feb. 17. (AP)—Disregarding the favorable 1927 earnings reports of General Motors corporation and the Pennsylvania railroad, prices broke sharply today on the New York stock exchange under an avalanche of selling orders for both accounts. Leading industrial and railroad shares dropped 2 to 6 points, with larger collapses in some of the high priced specialties.

MASTER PAINTERS TO MEET BUFFALO, N. Y., NEXT YEAR

HOUSTON, Texas, Feb. 17. (AP)—Buffalo, N. Y., was selected as the 1929 convention city of the International Association of Master Painters and Decorators in final session here today.

Charles H. Fowler, vice president, of Philadelphia, was elected president to succeed Alfred E. Joy of New York. William Paris of Toronto, Canada, was named vice president.

BONDS CONTINUE DULL BUT PRICES HOLD STEADY TONE

NEW YORK, Feb. 17. (AP)—Dullness continued to characterize the bond market today, but prices were steady. Slight stiffening of time money and commercial paper rates yesterday undoubtedly emphasized traders' hesitancy in adding to commitments. New issues during the week have been in relatively small volume, and readily taken. The $8,500,000 E. W. Scripps company 5½ per cent issue was reported oversubscribed.

A few railroad issues stood out in today's transactions. Florida East Coast 5s had a fractional decline and "Frisco" Income 4s moved up slightly. Moderate trading took place in Gulf States Steel, Armour 5½s, Kayser 5½s and a few other industrials, but price changes were negligible.

Trading in the foreign department tended to fall off in volume. A few South American obligations were in moderate demand.

United States government issues, which moved forward on heavy buying late yesterday, were quiet but firm early today.

TRADERS NERVOUS OVER RAIN EFFECT COTTON PROSPECT

NEW YORK, Feb. 17. (AP)—The cotton market was nervous and irregular today, owing to conflicting opinions of the adequacy of precipitation in the Southwest and an apparent tendency to even up commitments for over the weekend. An early advance of 16 to 20 points on higher liverpool cables was followed by reactions and the mid-afternoon market was quiet, within a point or two of yesterday's closing quotations.

The market opened steady at an advance of 10 to 15 points on relatively firm Liverpool cables and belief that rains in West Texas had been sufficient to relieve droughty conditions. The advance met realizing, but offerings were comparatively light and buying continued. May contracts advanced to 18.28 and October to 18.16 by the end of the first hour, or about 16 to 20 points net higher.

Private cables reported hedging and Manchester liquidation had been absorbed by calling and local buying in Liverpool, but that the cloth turnover with India had been disappointing, although China advices were more encouraging with improved sales.

There were comparatively few buying orders in evidence after the early demand had been supplied and prices sagged off under realizing by recent buyers and local and commission house selling. At midday prices were within 4 to 5 points of yesterday's closing quotations, with May selling around 18.13 and October 18.03.

Futures closed barely steady, 2 to 7 points lower. Spot closed quiet; middling 18.35.

New Orleans Cotton.

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 17. (AP)—An early advance was followed by a steady decline in the cotton market today and trading after starting off active slowed down until midafternoon fluctuations were few. After advancing to 18.02 for March and July and 17.98 for May on higher Liverpool cables and official forecasts for fair weather in the West the market eased off on selling by ring traders and March dropped to 17.85, May 17.82 and July 17.87, or 15 to 17 points under the highs, but 4 to 5 points over the previous close.

Exports today 21,058 bales; for the week 141,907.

The market was firm in early trading today due to firmer Liverpool cables and the official forecast for fair weather in the west.

First trades showed gains of 15 to 17 points and the market continued to advance after the start until March reached 18.02, May 17.98 and July 18.02, or 20 to 22 points net up. Toward the end of the first half hour prices reacted 8 to 10 points on profit-taking, but the undertone was steady.

The market continued sluggish the remainder of the morning and prices eased off further on additional realizing. March traded off to 17.86, May 17.83 and July 17.87, or 14 to 15 points under the highs, but still 5 to 6 points above the previous close. Near noon the market rallied slightly on some covering, advancing 5 to 8 points from the lows.

Livestock Market

FORT WORTH, Feb. 17. (AP)—Small livestock receipts Friday found a rather dull market at Fort Worth, the hogs being the only division with representative numbers in the yards. The count showed but 1200 cattle, 300 calves, 1200 hogs and 1,000 sheep.

Cattle trade was of the peddling character with most of the receipts of the common or mixed kind.

Plain yearlings sold from $11.00 down; fat cows made $7.65; butchers $7.00; meaty cutters $5.25@5.75; canners $4.50@5.00.

Slaughter calves unchanged, good to choice heavies $11.25@11.50; weighty calves $10.75; culls begging at around $6.00.

Hogs were 5 to 10c lower. Good to choice butchers $8.00; bulk of rail hogs $7.85@8.00; best truck butchers $7.90 and desirable fat pigs $6.50@6.75.

Sheep receipts consisted largely of shorn offerings in both fat and feeder grades with trade steady and prices unchanged. Some slaughter lambs brought $11.30; slaughter yearlings $10.50; good shorn wethers $8.75 and the remainder were slow trading, four decks of fat and feeder lambs mixed being sent to another market.

Hogs, receipts 1200; 5c to 10c lower; top $8.00; truck top $7.90; lights $7@7.80; packing sows weak to 15c lower, few at $7.00; killing pigs steady, mostly $6@6.75.

Cattle and calves, receipts 1500; hardly enough cattle of any one class on sale to test values; slaughter steers shown $7.85; butcher grades $7.00; low cutters $4.50@5; heavy slaughter calves $11.50; sorts and small lots heavies scattered $10.75 down.

Sheep, receipts 1000; few sales clippers steady, few slaughter lambs $11.50; slaughter yearlings $10.50; slaughter wethers $8.75.

CHICAGO, Feb. 17. (AP) (U. S. Department of Agriculture)—Hogs receipts 48,000; steady; active; top $8.30 bulk good in choice 170 to 210 pounds weights $8.10@8.25; 220 to 250 pounds $7.90@8.10; 260 to 310 pounds $7.75@7.90; best light lights upwards to $8.25; most pigs $6.75@7.25; bulk packing sows $6.85@7.10.

Cattle 25,000; most killing classes steady; slow; most steers or lightweights, and selling slowly at $12.00 downward to $11.50 and below; bulls scarce; steady; vealers 50 to 75c lower; replacement steers getting good action as week closes; numerous on country account; at $11.75 down to $10.50; sprinkling of choice vealers $17.00@17.50; good weight southern vealers $15.00; with light kinds as low as $11.00.

Sheep, receipts 9000; steady; choice handy weights to outsiders $15.75@15.90; good to choice 92 to 100 pound lambs to packers and plain lighter weights $15.00@15.25; sheep steady to weak; good fat ewes $8.00@9.25; good 130 pound clipped aged wethers $7.50; feeding lambs steady.

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 17. (AP) (U. S. Department of Agriculture)—Hogs 6500; uneven, steady to 15c lower; mostly 5@10c lower than Thursday's average; stock pigs weak to 15c lower; top $8.05 on 170 to 190 pounds; bulk desirable 160 to 225 pounds $7.85@8.00; 230 to 320 pounds butchers $7.50@7.90; packing sows $6.25@6.85; stock pigs mostly $7.00@7.50.

Cattle 500; calves 50; largely a cleanup trade, with hardly enough of any one class offered to test values; vealers steady to weak; stockers and feeders slow, weak; fairly liberal supply held by dealers; few short fed steers of light and medium quality, $11.00@12.00; good to choice vealers $14.00@15.00.

Sheep 1500; lambs, around 25c higher; sheep steady; top wooled lambs $15.35; 87 pounds kinds $15.00; 122 pound wooled wethers $9.50.

TEXAS LIVESTOCK SHIPPERS PROTEST CHANGE OF RATES

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 17. (AP)—Texas livestock shippers appeared at the Interstate Commerce Commission livestock rate hearing here today in protest against a recent change in conditions governing shipment of livestock between Texas ranges and Indiana and Illinois feed lots.

Suspension of the change had been obtained by the shippers, and the hearing today was on the question of whether the suspension should be lifted and the new rate take effect.

H. D. Driscoll, who with A. H. Priest, is counsel for the livestock producers of Texas, declared the new conditions would increase the rate on shipments to Indiana and Illinois from 61 cents to 73 cents a hundred pounds.

L. M. Matthews, assistant traffic manager of the Pennsylvania railroad said that no appreciable change in the tariff had been contemplated by the roads.

Mr. Driscoll insisted, however, that the change would require Texas shippers to transfer at St. Louis instead of going direct to Indiana, and the transfer caused the difference in rates.

The arguments were completed and counsel instructed to file briefs. Later the commission examiners resumed the hearing of testimony by shippers in the general livestock rate case.

Romance Skids When Principals Fight at Altar

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, O., Feb. 17. (AP)—Because he laid down ten rules of conduct for his prospective bride as they stood before the church altar, Nick Masciarelli is still a bachelor.

Nick chose the last minute to tell Miss Rosie Dvecky what would be expected of her after she became his wife. Hearing the last of the ten rules, Rosie cast away her bridal veil, hurled her corsage of flowers at Nick and stormed out of the church.

Rosie, in the opinion of the would-be groom, should be prepared to wash all the dishes, have meals ready on time, should not walk the streets at night and avoid looking at other men. There were other rules less important.

And now Nick is trying to get his money back for the marriage licence.

"This is a lesson to those who would get married," said Nick. "Always explain just what you are going to require of your wife before buying the license."

BEARISH SENTIMENT CONTROLS IN TRADE ON STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Feb. 17. (AP)—Speculative sentiment in today's stock market was distinctly bearish. Pools endeavored to mark up a few issues in the early trading on the publication of unusually favorable 1927 earnings by the General Motors corporation and the Pennsylvania railroad and the drop in brokers' loans, but they encountered large offerings on the rallies. Lowering of the call money rate from 4½ to 4 per cent also inspired a rally around midday but it was short lived.

There was nothing in the day's news to influence the general selling movement which appeared to be based on the belief that the market was over-bought, and that a reaction was warranted on technical grounds. Several commission houses suggested that the widespread and unfavorable publicity given to brokers' loans necessitated a sharp reduction in that item before another major advance was possible.

Metal shares, which have been widely exploited on the strength of new processes and ore discoveries, were among the hardest hit. Midland Steel products preferred broke nearly 8 points, Greene Cananea Copper and Calumet & Arizona fell 7 points each and Mullins Body, Manati Sugar, National Biscuit, Case Threshing Machine, Brooklyn Edison and Transue & Williams sold 4 to 5 points below yesterday's final quotations.

Special selling of the rubbers was inspired by reports of large inventory losses while the oils lost ground as a result of the recent cut in Smackover crude prices and unfavorable dividend rumors.

Stock prices moved within irregular limits at the opening of today's market. General Motors, which reported the largest peace time earnings in corporation history yesterday, opened unchanged from yesterday at 136⅛ despite the fact that the quarterly dividend of $1.25 came off the stock today. Western Maryland and Vanadium Steel each opened a point higher but Nash Motors and Union Carbide were fractionally lower.

Irregularity continued throughout the early dealings. Pools made an effort to revive bullish enthusiasm as a result of the reduction of more than $15,000,000 in Brokers' loans last week but they encountered stiff opposition. Further weakness developed in Freeport-Texas, which sold off 2 points to 73¼, or more than 35 points below the recent high, in the first few minutes of trading. Heaviness also developed in a few tobaccos and rubbers. American Express advanced 3 points to 194, the highest price since 1914, and Electric Auto Lite moved up to a new peak above 121. General motors ran into heavy selling and yielded most of its gain before the end of the first half hour but Studebaker and Hupp each sold at least a point above yesterday's final quotations. Good buying also was noted in American Republics, Montgomery Ward, American Smelting, Continental Can and Radio. Foreign exchanges opened irregular, sterling cables being unchanged at $4.87 7-16 and Spanish pesetas dropping 5 points to 16.94 cents.

Much of the forenoon professional selling which carried down many of the important stocks a point or so, with others sagging from 2 to 6 points, was based on the character of the business news on certain industries which caused some discussion of the safety of current dividends. After prices had sank to levels, which uncovered new buying orders, the list began to head up again, Mullins Corporation rebounding from 73⅛ to 78. U. S. Steel was down to 142⅝ at one time and General Motors to 135⅛. The renewal rate for call loans was continued at 4½ per cent.

The closing was weak. Large selling orders were dumped into the market in the final hour and prices of leading industrial and rail shares tumbled 2 to 6 points. Total sales approximated 2,800,000 shares.

Ticklers from Ticker

NEW YORK, Feb. 17. (AP)—Softwood lumber mills of the country had orders for 58,000,000 feet in the week ended February 11, or 20 per cent larger than a year ago, the National Lumber Manufacturers association reports. Shipments and production increased in much same proportion. Compared with preceding week, the volume of business was about the same, with little or no change in production, but shipments fell off noticeably. Unfilled orders of 217 southern pine and west coast mills were 541,055,849 feet against 606,-644,241 feet from 215 mills the week before.

In contrast to loss of $135,690 in 1926, Century Ribbon Mills, Inc., earned $48,-384 in 1927, equal to $4.42 a share on the 7 per cent preferred stock.

An order involving $2,000,000 has been placed with American Locomotive by the Union Pacific for 22 three-cylinder engines and 15 extra tenders.

American Metal Company, Ltd., earned $3.63 a share on the common in 1927, after preferred dividends, against $3.88 a share in 1926. Net profit declined to $2,-313,784 from $2,657,309.

Production of crude lead in the United States and Mexico in January was 76,881 short tons, against 79,072 in December, and 79,593 in November, the American bureau of metal statistics reports. Output of refined lead was 77,316 tons against 77,217 the month before and 74,801 in November. Stocks of refined lead in the United States and Mexico on January 31 were 36,418 tons against 32,945 a month previous and 30,016 at the close of November.

Heavy construction projects proposed in the United States the last week valued at $71,750,000, indicate a high rate of activity in big buildings, chiefly apartment houses and hotels. The so-called residential group accounted for more than 37 per cent. Figures for the corresponding week a year ago were $85,350,000, McGraw-Hill construction daily reports.

Norwalk Tire & Rubber had net loss of $7624 for the last quarter of 1927 against net loss of $63,893 in the same quarter of 1926.

Thomas H. Blodgett, president of American Chicle company and chairman of the executive committee of Snider Packing company, has been elected a director of Consolidated Laundries corporation, as has also A. S. Jenkins, vice president of American Chicle. It is expected both will assume executive positions with Consolidated Laundries. Other additions to the board include Thomas D. Webb, vice president American Laundry Machine Co., and R. E. Miller, vice president, Bank of New York & Trust Co. A program of expansion is planned, it is said.

Nevada Consolidated Copper Co. and subsidiaries, including Ray Consolidated Copper Co. had profit of $1,871,882 for the last quarter of 1927, before depletion and federal taxes, against $1,578,920 in the preceding quarter and $2,190,011 in the last quarter of 1926. Profit for 1927, based on quarterly reports, was $6,668,902 against $7,791,434 in 1926. The outstanding stock consists of 4,355,094 shares.

Production of silver in 1927 in the United States, Canada, Mexico, Peru, Australia and Burma, which produced 88 per cent of the world's supply in 1926, amounted to 219,604,000 fine ounces against 221,062,-000 ounces in 1926. January output in the United States was 5,851,000 ounces against 5,015,000 in December; Canada 1,-514,000 ounces against 1,723,000; Peru, 1,-474,000 against 1,836,000. Mexico produced 8,300,000 ounces in December, the same as in November.

DAIRY FARM

WELL ADDS NEW SAND TO FIELD IN WILBARGER

An entirely new pay horizon was added to the Fluhmann pool in Wilbarger county when the Roxana Petroleum corporation's No. 1, T. J. Milner, in section 30, block 9, was placed on the swab and in the first 14 hours produced 102 barrels from a sand topped at 1680 feet.

The well, which was a former producer in the 1450-foot sand, was being deepened in an effort to pick up the 1800-foot pay when the new sand was uncovered. This was drilled five feet when several hundred feet of oil rose in the casing. The producer is in the southwest corner of the east half of the southwest quarter of the section and is the furthest east well of the pool.

COLE WELL IN LAREDO FIELD MAKES 110 DAY TEN THOUSAND FEET GAS

LAREDO, Texas, Feb. 17. (AP)—The Cole Petroleum company's No. 51 has come in with 110 barrels of oil and 10,000,000 cubic feet of gas daily, reports from the field state.

PRAIRIE TO OCCUPY NEW BUILDING AT MIDLAND

MIDLAND, Feb. 17.—Plans have been completed for a new two-story building to be occupied by the Prairie Oil and Gas company at Midland. Prairie under the management of W. A. Yeager, will occupy the upper floor. The West Texas Gas company, a subsidiary of the Prairie, will occupy the first floor.

First runs of crude oil from the Atlantic tank farm at Midland were turned into the Magnolia line here this week to DeLeon. The Magnolia is now sending 17,000 barrels daily from the Midland tank farm.

Another Midland county test will be made on the Roy Parks ranch, section 31, block 41, township 2, south. The well will be drilled by Shoup, et al.

On the Disbney and Gholson No. 1 Morelan, section 17, block 39, township 1 south, red mud was drilled through, and the drill is now in gray water sand at a depth of 1158 feet.

Voice of the People

SVIDLOW THINKS DOCTOR'S NAME WAS NOT TROTSKY

February 17, 1928.

Editor of The Times: A number of people have talked to me about Dr. Anthony, and have wanted to know what I think of him.

I have been told by a number of parties that he was a Cossack in the Russian army; also that he was a relation of Trotsky. Trotsky's real name is not Trotsky, but Bernstein, and as every one knows, Bernstein is a Jewish name. Now in Russia a Jew can not be a Cossack. Now it is out that his name was Lukan, this Dr. Anthony, and now we learn that his name is Trotsky also. If he is a real relation of Trotsky, the ex-secretary of state, then his right name is Bernstein. He states further that he is the one that saved the czar's daughter, Anastastia. The Anastastia in New York now says that the fellow who saved her was from the red Russian army and was named Tsalkowski, but what I would call him is Dr. Bluffer. Of course he is not the only one in the world who is Dr. Bluffer; there are a great many of that kind.

Several have asked me what I think of the Princess Anastastia. What I know I have read from the Jewish paper, "The Forward," and from letters from Russia.

On July 7, 1918, the czar with his family, his doctor, Dr. Botkin, and his servants were all killed in the basement of the jail in which they were imprisoned. After their bodies were riddled with bullets they were burned.

I understand that the Princess Anastastia now in New York says that she can not speak the Russian language. She forgot it during the time she was ill. The second thing, she was in Rumania married to the man who saved her, Tsalkowski. He saved her by rescuing her after she was wounded, then got a horse and wagon and drove from the little town of Ekateringburg, Siberia, to Rumania. A son was born to them, but she does not remember what became of him, though she remembers that her husband was killed.

In my opinion it is all another bluff, just a business proposition. Probably she thinks she may have an offer to become a movie actress.

DAIRY FARM

AN IDEAL DAIRY PROPOSITION

632 acres, 80% of fine sandy loam soil, 175 acres in cultivation and the balance in pasture sodded with good native grass, but 100% tillable. Located on the new highway now being paved to Archer City, and overlooking Lake Wichita with a fine view of the city of Wichita Falls, Texas. Place is accessible to electricity as the Archer City high line crosses this property. The proposed South Side Irrigation Canal will irrigate by gravity about 65% of this farm. The price of this land is considerably under land priced in this area.

WELCH & RICHARDSON

By JIMMIE MAXWELL

Humble Oil and Refining company No. 1 Reilley-Griffin, located in the Spillers survey, about one mile north of the Hines river bed production, in southwest Wichita county, is drilling at 400 feet after spudding in a few days ago.

The Fain-McGaha company is bailing the sand at 1460 feet in their No. 1 L. F. Wilson test in the Geraldine townsite, Gohlke pool, Archer county. The same concern has made location for No. 2 Wilson in block 27, Geraldine, and will offset the D. O. Johnson producer to the east.

Golding and Cochran have made location for their No. F-1 W. T. Waggoner test to be drilled 205 feet south and 205 feet west of the northeast corner of the southwest quarter of the northwest quarter, section 8, block 17, about five miles southeast of the Texas B lease in southeast Wilbarger county.

The Texas company will put down a wildcat test 2208 feet south, 923 feet west of northeast corner of W. E. Wolf lands, abstract 888, two miles southeast of Mankins in Archer county.

Atlantic Oil-Lambert-Trout No. 2 W. H. Barton in Spillers survey, southwest Wichita county, bailed salt water from a stray sand picked up at 1475-76 feet, and will continue drilling to the 1650-foot sand.

The Fain-McGaha company No. P-1 W. T. Waggoner, located in section 16, block 4, H. T. C. R. R. survey, Wilbarger county, offsetting B-8 Texas company, to the west, will run the sand tester to try out a sand topped at 2391-2407 feet.

The secretary of state Thursday issued a charter to the Straus-Allen Oil company, Inc., of Wichita Falls, with a capital stock of $30,000. Incorporators were: Reece Allen, J. C. Straus and Gordon T. West.

L. P. Hammond is drilling at 1790 feet on his No. 1 John and Jeff Waggoner well, located in the Hezekiah George survey, 424, southwest Wichita county.

The Gulf Production company has abandoned its No. 1 Etta Taber well, located in block 9, Dallas county school lands, as a dry hole at a total depth of 1590 feet.

Business Man Suggests Organization Of Open Forum in Wichita Falls to Provide Lectures Here by Noted Men

Editor The Times:

While riding up and down Seventh street and glancing at our splendid Memorial auditorium the thought occurred to me of presenting in that building a free intellectual entertainment open to people of every walk of life. An entertainment of that sort can be made possible by organizing an open forum. Why not have an open forum in Wichita Falls?

Time and again Mrs. Kruger, one or two of our friends, and I have motored to Dallas to hear lectures sponsored by the open forum and given by such noted lecturers as Mary Austin, Edward Howard Griggs, Judge Ben H. Lindsey, Will Durant and others. Needless to say, we have greatly benefitted by the lectures and by the discussions upon all subjects of human interest. Each time we spent the most enjoyable and most profitable two hours. (The time of the lectures is from three to five every Sunday afternoon, beginning the last Sunday in October and ending the last Sunday in March.)

February 12th, Will Durant spoke again before the open forum of Dallas. (This was his second appearance there.) After pushing ahead through the corridors of the City Hall auditorium, Mrs. Kruger, one of our friends and I finally found an empty space on the stone steps of the balcony, a space between the benches, and we remained seated there the rest of the afternoon as later standing room was not available. The window sills were turned into seats, and the back of the stage was filled with eager listeners. What attracted my attention and pleased me most of all was that a section, filled to capacity, was reserved for colored people.

During the lecture I could not help watching the intent faces of the people and realized more than ever the need of an open forum in our city.

Being near Dallas we can obtain their lecturers for a small sum of money. The support of the open forum will be wholly voluntary, either in the form of subscription or in the basket collection. The forum will be open to all alike whether or not any contribution is made to its support.

I feel sure that the people from surrounding territories will be very glad to aid us in realizing this great achievement and enjoy spending two hours each Sunday in an atmosphere of culture and learning, which will be a great treat to them as well as to us.

The people of Wichita Falls are ever striving for higher aspects of life. I am sure that they will grasp this opportunity and cooperate in every way possible to make the dream of those who are not able to go to Dallas to hear the lectures and to partake in the frank discussion in which all shades of opinion are brought into the open come true.

The progressive democratic spirit of the people of Wichita Falls has brought about many evolutions in our good city. With that grand Memorial auditorium bidding welcome to all we are ready to partake in just such a movement as the open forum presents.

I should like to have an expression from the people of Wichita Falls and the nearby counties. The above is just an opinion of one individual who is willing to give all the aid possible to the organization and maintenance of a meritable institution like the open forum.

With many thanks to you, dear sirs of the Wichita Daily Times, for publishing this lengthy letter, I remain

Yours most sincerely,
SAM KRUGER.

SLOW RAIN AIDS FARM CONDITIONS ABOUT OLNEY

OLNEY, Texas, Feb. 17.—A slow rain starting early Thursday morning fell throughout the day here, and will prove a great benefit to the farmers in this community. The light showers of two weeks ago brought the winter wheat out and today's rain is expected to be a big aid to growing crops.

The aspen is the name of a tree that is often preceded by the adjective "trembling."

FORT SILL TO GET LARGER QUARTERS FOR U. S. OFFICERS

LAWTON, Feb. 1.—Seventy-two thousand dollars is now available at Fort Sill for the erection of additional officers' quarters and construction in expected to start upon final authorization from Washington, according to announcement from Fort Sill.

Present plans call for the codings so placed that they will codings so place that they will coincide with plans now on hand for further improvements.

Construction work is now under way on the national guard camp on the reservation. Fort Sill authorities hope to move the entire guard camp to the new site before the annual encampment next summer. Money for the work is not now available, but it is believed the project may be worked out.

One of General Irwin's plans for the national guard camp is to beautify the grounds through the planting of trees. In addition to beautifying the ground and affording shade, the trees aid in keeping down dust.

OLNEY ROTARY TO STAGE WEEKLY MEMBER SCHOOL

OLNEY, Texas, Feb. 17.—Instructors for the Rotary school to be conducted by the Olney Rotary club have been announced. Those who will have charge of the topics to be discussed the first evening of the school will be Charles Wolverton Jr., B. C. Schulkey, R. A. Drum and M. D. Wolverton. Each topic discussed will be followed by a question and answer period. The Rotary school will be held each Tuesday evening in the municipal building for the month beginning February 28.

LOCAL INVENTOR GETS PATENT ON FOLDING LADDER

James H. Kellow, 1510 Seventeenth street, said Friday he had been notified by telegraph that he has been granted a patent for a folding and extension ladder of his invention.

The device, he said, is being manufactured here by the James H. Kellow Ladder company, located at 202 Lee street. One feature of the ladder, which Mr. Kellow said also is protected by the patent, is a support of special design for the rungs. The support, he said, greatly increases the weight bearing capacity of the ladder.

'Don't dope YOUR Cough

It is not wise to use remedies which depend upon "dope" such as narcotics, chloroform, cannabis or tar products. They may stop your cough temporarily by numbing the tissues, as most cough mixtures do, but this is not enough.

The inflamed air passages must be soothed naturally, the germ-laden mucus loosened and expelled in order to effect a lasting recovery. PERTUSSIN assists Nature to accomplish these results in a remarkably short time—and it is absolutely harmless.

RICHARD E. BYRD WILL EXPLORE UNKNOWN CONTINENT LARGER THAN UNITED STATES

EDITOR'S NOTE: Today is presented the last of a series of three exclusive articles, through the Times and NEA service, describing the plans for Commander Richard E. Byrd's flight across the south pole. In the following article, Byrd himself discusses the expedition.

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—There is but one great adventure left to scientific exploration, an adventure dared by only a few men—and accomplished by none. It is to cross the vast antarctic continent that lies in the region of the south pole.

Com. Byrd

In the latter part of 1928, when the southland is having its summer, Commander Richard E. Byrd and his expedition will plunge into the frigid desolation far south of New Zealand, bent on conquering the unknown polar regions with airplanes.

It is the most perilous task an aviator ever has set for himself. The south polar country is the coldest place on earth. It is absolutely devoid of animal life. It is furrowed with mountain ranges and swept with gales which no airplane could weather.

Certain of Scientific Discoveries.

To the dangers, Byrd pays no heed other than to take every possible precaution. He discusses the expedition as nonchalantly as though he were reminiscing of the transatlantic or north polar flight, both safely entered in his list of accomplishments. He is eager for the new adventure and enthusiastic over the certainty of valuable discoveries.

"The antarctic," said the flyer, "is a vacuum so far as science is concerned; a frozen continent, a great blank space on the maps of the world. The unexplored area is estimated at 4,600,000 square miles—about one and one-half times the size of the United States.

"A dozen or more scientists, men who are specialists in their lines, will be taken along. They will study mineral deposits, earth formations, wind currents and animal life as far south as life exists.

"There is meteorological data there which alone will justify the risks an explorer must take."

Will Take Three Planes.

The actual start, according to present plans, will be made from New York City, September 10, 1928, on a ship built for polar travel. Three planes will be carried: a Fokker similar to the one used on Byrd's transatlantic flight, and two smaller machines. To facilitate observations, the airplanes will have open cockpits and plate glass instead of floorboards.

"We'll cut across the Panama Canal into the Pacific," said Byrd, "and touch at New Zealand. Thence we head toward the great adventure."

He expects to establish his main base at Discovery harbor, off Ross sea. There the planes and supplies will be put on the great flat ice barrier that extends 400 miles toward the pole. Huts will be built, and storage rooms cut into solid ice. Smaller supply depots are to be scatted across the barrier to the foot of Beardmore Glacier, where the actual flight across the continent will begin.

At Wonalancet, N. H., Arthur T. Walden, veteran of arctic expeditions, already is training a team of huskies for the use of Byrd's party. The dogs will be used in laying the chain of supply depots across the ice barrier.

"An important point in our favor," Byrd declared, "is the fact that we can put down these permanent bases. This we were unable to do when I flew across the north pole.

"The ice barrier is flat and we will be able to land without difficulty—barring, of course, the violent storms that occur there frequently. Our planes will have interchangeable landing gear—pontoons for water and skis for snow.

Contact by Radio.

"We expect to reach the Ross barrier in January, 1929. If all goes well, we'll be back in civilization by 1930. Of course we will have high-powered radio equipment that will keep us in touch with the world. Enough food will be taken to last a year and a half."

From the foot of Beardmore Glacier, where the last food and fuel will be put on Byrd's big plane, the distance to the pole is 900 miles. This route has been explored by Scott and Amundsen, but the rest of the continent never has been seen by man. It is between the pole and Weddell sea, 1750 miles on the other side of the world, that the greatest discoveries are to be made.

If he crosses that uncharted territory to emerge safely at a landing base on Weddell sea, the greatest adventure now left to aviation will have been accomplished.

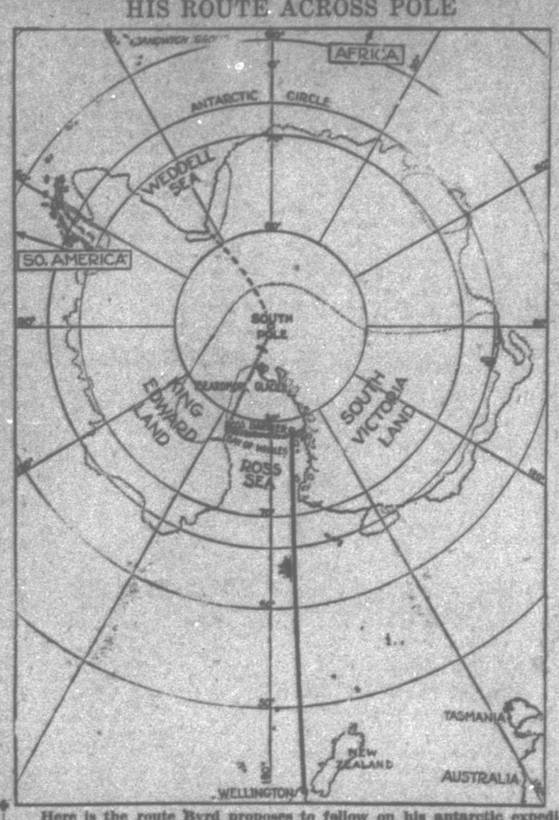

Many Would Join Party.

Byrd smiled as he told of the hundreds of would-be adventurers who want to go along. "I don't resent their offers," he said. "It's the pioneering spirit in all of us.

"Of course there will be a number of scientists, and men to transport the supplies. But only three men will fly with me.

"One of these, and second in command of the expedition, will be a shipmate tried and true—the man who flew across the north pole with me—Floyd Bennett."

HIS ROUTE ACROSS POLE

Here is the route Byrd proposes to follow on his antarctic expedition. From New Zealand the party will go by ship to Ross sea, 1300 miles away. From bases established there, his flight will lead to the south pole and thence to Weddell sea, 2650 miles from the starting point.

Husband Rosa Raisa and Baritone Chicago Civic Opera Company Has Two Hobbies, Auto Racing and Guns

The opera, "Aida," which the Chicago Civic Opera company will present in Wichita Falls, February 29, has many noted singers in the cast, but next to the star, Rosa Raisa, more interest accrounds her husband, Giacomo Rimini, the baritone. This interest is not manifested just because he is Rosa's husband, nor because he is a divine singer, though either fact is enough to make him interesting, but because he has two hobbies that are very unlike any a singer is supposed to have. One is racing cars, with himself at the wheel; the other is collecting guns, or any sort of firearms.

RIMINI

Before he became a grand opera star he was an automobile mechanician and racer. Then it was his living; now it is his relaxation from singing. He was working in an automobile factory as a mechanician and part of his job was to approve the cars after they were assembled at the factory and give them his O.K. before they were put on sale. Cars were not as perfect then as they are now, and something was always going wrong with the machinery. It was while he was doctoring the injured cars that he became interested in becoming a racer himself.

It is years since Rimini last drove a car in a race, for his interest now is in operatic singing, but the peasants 'round Verona who are familiar with the roar of his Fiat car as he burns up the country roads, would back him to beat all the speed-demons of auto racing history if ever he entered into another automobile race.

Rimini's collection of ancient and modern firearms in his villa at Verona, Italy, would make many a museum envious of his success as a collector. Trench mortars, cross bows, old fashioned pistols, rifles of various calibers, shotguns, both single barreled and double barreled, revolvers, automatics, Maxim silencers—Rimini has them all!

He has a 200 acre hunting park on his estate near Verona. There it is his delight to hunt the savage little Italian wild pigs that are so fierce and so prone to attack despite their diminutive size. No shotguns avail against the wild pigs; they must be thoroughly drilled with a steel bullet from a large-bore rifle to stop them. Rimini has never had much desire to hunt since 1912, during the Carranza revolution in Mexico. He was on his way to Mexico City to sing in grand opera. The rebels cut the railroad and while the delay held him in Laredo, he and some companions went hunting and were horrified to behold 40 corpses hanging on the telegraph poles. They were the revolutionists who had torn up the railroad and had been strung up by federal troops. Rimini hasn't cared much for hunting since.

POWER OF CONGRESS TO CURB COURTS ASSAILED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17. (AP)—Opponents of the Shipstead anti-injunction bill made a surprise frontal attack on the measure before the senate judiciary committee today, contending that congress lacked constitutional authority to enact such a law.

DEATHS

Lee Stowe

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 17. (AP)—Lee Stowe, 14, died early this morning from injuries received when he was struck by a truck late last night. His skull was fractured and he never gained consciousness.

Mrs. Scott T. Mitchell.

TEMPLE, Texas, Feb. 17. (AP)—Funeral services for Mrs. Scott Talley Mitchell, 52, wife of J. C. Mitchell, prominent ice manufacturer here and former secretary of the Texas Ice Manufacturers association are to be held Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Mitchell who died here last night was a sister of Lynn P. Talley, governor of the federal reserve bank of the 11th district.

Mrs. F. F. Neville

HENRIETTA, Feb. 17.—Mrs. F. P. Neville, 63, died in Dallas Friday morning following an illness of four years' duration. A stroke of paralysis caused her death.

She had been in Dallas visiting a daughter, Mrs. C. L. Oheim, for the past three weeks. Mrs. Neville was an old time settler of Clay county, having lived here when Henrietta was first settled. She is survived by one sister, Mrs. J. E. Hunter of Port Lavaca; one brother, Jim Pearce of Troupe, Texas; and six children, all of whom were present when she died.

Children who survive are P. H. and W. J. Neville, Mrs. F. O. Moore, Mrs. M. M. Alexander, Mrs. Lewis Ikard of Henrietta, and Mrs. Oheim of Dallas.

Funeral services will probably be held Saturday in Henrietta.

John W. Davis, Democratic Leader In 1924 Presidential Race, Tells Party to Avoid Issue of Religion

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17. (AP)—As the nation's voters cast inquisitive glances at the field of candidates for president, those of Democratic persuasion are receiving a good deal of counsel and some concrete demonstrations of harmony and tolerance to guide them in the November winnowing at the ballot boxes.

The Democratic party's 1924 nominee, John W. Davis, points to past and present European executives to support his plea that religion should not be a major issue in the forthcoming race for the White House. Speaking at Columbia, S. C., last night before the convention of the State Bar association, Mr. Davis reminded that Gentile England had in Disraeli a Jew prime minister; Protestant Canada a Catholic premier in Laurier, and Catholic France a Protestant president in Doumergue.

"I'd be ashamed," he said, "to believe that the spirit of tolerance is less in America than in those great democracies I have named."

He did not mention present candidates in his speech, but earlier had said that Governor Smith of New York, Democratic candidate, would be "highly acceptable" to him.

Catholic, Jew and Protestant gathered at a good will dinner in Richmond last night to hear "outstanding figures of their creeds plead for religious tolerance. Senator Ransdell, Democrat, Louisiana, spoke for the Catholics; Governor Byrd of Virginia, for the Protestants, and Rabbi Louis D. Mendoaz of Norfolk, for the Jews. The Rev. Peter Ainslie, pastor of Christian temple, Baltimore, father of the good will idea, and a leader of the Christian unity movement, also spoke.

All urged that each creed judge the other by its best, rather than its worst, while Rabbi Mendoza called for "loyalty to man—unlabeled man, the dream of Jefferson and Wilson."

Chicago, with its reputation for turbulence in politics as well as other fields, offered the concrete example of practical political harmony. There Anton J. Cermak, president of the Cook county board, withdrew from the race for governor to become a candidate for the United States senate. The idea was to make Cermak a running mate for Justice Floyd E. Thompson, candidate for governor, instead of splitting the party.

The Republicans now are building up two slates, the Small-Thompson-Crowe group and the faction of Senator Charles S. Deneen, and Democratic leaders saw in Cermak's move an omen of victory for the party.

More counsel for the Democratic party to accept the challenge of issues and not "again fall a victim to its own folly and blither about nonessentials" came from Representative Finis Garrett of Tennessee, speaking at Indianapolis before the Indiana Democratic Editorial association.

Garrett, the minority leader in the house, is a candidate for senator from Tennessee. Observing that in 1924 the party divided and fought "with passionate abandon over imaginary goblins and academic abstractions," Garrett said:

"The favoritism, which within seven short years, has been wrought into law; the tangled confusion following in the wake of corruption and shame; the foreign policy, or lack of foreign policy, which has left us without a friend among the nations of the world; the domestic distresses which all their cunning has not enabled them to cure because avarice forbade alleviation; surely summon us to find a firm and common ground upon which the legions of democracy can stand and give lusty battle as in the victorious days of yore."

Senator Reed, Democrat, Missouri, is to be the first candidate of either party to take the stump. The picturesque campaigner will leave Washington Saturday to present himself to voters in at least nine states, all of them in the west. Beginning at Dallas, on February 20, the senator will speak at Topeka, Denver, Albuquerque, Phoenix, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Salt Lake City and Omaha. Other dates may be arranged while the senator is en route.

The New York situation continues to interest Republican leaders, who are deeply curious concerning how the state's big bloc of convention votes will be split up, when the split-up does come, if the delegation goes to Kansas City uninstructed.

Friends of Senator Curtis of Kansas, an announced candidate, are cooperating with New York's Republican national committeeman, Charles D. Hilles, and the state chairman, George K. Morris, to have the delegation uninstructed, and Curtis' supporters believe he will get a big portion of the votes. Hoover and Lowden advocates also are active in New York, hoping to get a share of the support.

Morris visited the White House yesterday, but he said he did not discuss politics with Mr. Coolidge. He thought it unlikely that the president would be a candidate and he believed New York would send a delegation to Kansas City without instructions.

Morris talked also with under secretary, Ogden Mills, of the treasury, who is openly for Secretary Hoover. Mills recently was Governor Smith's opponent of the empire state governorship.

A sidelight on the Ohio situation, with a bearing on the prohibition question, developed at Sarasota, Fla., where former Representative Charles L. Knight of Ohio declined to run as an Ohio convention delegate at large pledged to Senator Frank B. Willis, a Republican candidate. Knight informed Willis' campaign manager, Carmi Thompson, that he would not run because he had observed that "an effort is going to be made to paint the lily and gild the rose by putting a dry plank in the platform."

"Now this means," he said, "the wisdom and virtue of the eighteenth amendment and the Volstead law must be commended," and he added that he did not believe the two laws contained "either wisdom or virtue."

He gave assurance, however, that he would support Willis.

WEST TEXAN GETS LIGHT TERM AFTER ATTACK ON CHILD

LUBBOCK, Texas, Feb. 17. (AP)—P. T. Callaway, 59-year-old cotton compress executive and church leader, today was found guilty in 72nd district court of criminal assault upon an 11-year-old girl.

PEOPLE OVER 40

People over 40 have to be careful of their blood pressure. It's at this age, due to our abnormal living habits, that our blood pressure begins to slip up on us. And high blood pressure shortens life—may cut it off suddenly.

Modern living puts too great a pressure upon the vital organs, especially the liver. The liver becoming weak and sluggish fails to cleanse the blood of the poisons formed in food waste. The whole system then becomes toxic, with stomach, kidneys heart and blood vessels affected.

The liver occasionally needs a little help, and there's nothing better for this, as physicians agree, than ox gall. Ox gall is a remarkable natural stimulant for the human liver, promoting its normal active functioning so essential to real health. Dioxol tablets are genuine ox gall in dainty and tasteless form, each tablet representing 10 drops of pure ox gall. To be sure of getting the genuine ox gall, be sure of getting Dioxol. They cost less than 2c each at good druggists, and a few bring a delightful change.

Lesson No. 8

Question: Why is the emulsified form the more efficient way for me to realize the health-giving benefits of cod-liver oil?

Answer: Because when cod-liver oil is emulsified it is more perfectly absorbed, and does not disagree with digestion. Take a month for 128 months is the new plan of our home loan. This is considered the most attractive home loan available in Wichita Falls. We will make all of the conservative loans that can be offered us. We do not care for any other kind. About 50% on houses that have been occupied and 60% on new houses is what we lend. The borrower does not have to put up a lot of cash for loan expenses; simply pays $12.00 a month for on or before 128 months. The interest charged is 8.4% and all repayments on the loan earn the borrower 8%. If you have a loan on your property whose terms are not so favorable to you, or if you want to make improvements, or possibly merge a small second lien into the first lien, we will be glad to have you talk over your requirements with us.

Near your home is a drug store displaying this League Emblem. This League Druggist is a man in whom you can have the fullest trust and confidence. In this League Drug Store there is a legally registered pharmacist, ready at all times to serve you. Otherwise this drug store would not have been eligible to membership in the League and could not use the Emblem.

The League Emblem is your protection and your guarantee that any member of your family can trade with the store displaying it with absolute safety.

Not alone is the druggist necessary to fill doctor's prescriptions—but there are hundreds, almost thousands, of commodities you need and use daily and buy frequently, sold by drug stores, that should for safety's sake be purchased only from drug stores. On most of these items the pharmacist's knowledge of drugs and chemicals enables him to judge of the quality—a protective service to you, not possible to obtain anywhere else other than in a drug store; service that adds nothing to the price but does add to the value of the merchandise.

The Third Wedding Anniversary

Whatever the period, you will all want to celebrate your wedding anniversary. This is the third or the "leather wedding," and may be celebrated in the form of a tea, reception, dance or a card party. Since the couple has been married only a short time, perhaps they will enjoy a dance or bridge party.

You can make lovely invitations by writing the invitations on a plain white correspondence card with a small piece of leather knotted in one corner.

Use some definite color scheme for room and table decorations. You will be able to purchase inexpensive leather favors. For the men possibly leather key rings and for the ladies little memo pads, address or note books or tiny leather straps to hold handkerchiefs. This does not mean that you must buy the most expensive articles for favors; by buying them in quantities you can get them a little cheaper.

As is the usual custom, appropriate gifts representing the particular wedding are always given the bride and groom. It is a little more difficult to buy leather articles for the home, although there are many lovely personal gifts which can be given.

Leather table covers and pillows are acceptable gifts. Since leather goods are quite expensive, all of the guests might go together and present the couple with a leather bottom chair and footstool.

If you are entertaining at a card party or dance only light refreshments should be served, of course, depending upon the number of guests present.

Color in the Kitchen

At the present time color in the kitchen is being emphasized more and more. Scarcely a day passes but what you can read in the daily paper or current magazine or see advertisements of colorful kitchens. The reason for this is because the men are beginning to realize that the housewife and mother spends the greater part of her time in the kitchen and in order for her to be satisfied and happy she must have a cheerful and pleasant place in which to work.

The location of the kitchen has so much to do with the furnishings. If it has a northern exposure choose a warm color, or if a south exposure where you have a lot of bright sunshine, see that your kitchen is furnished in some of the cooler colors such as blue, green or gray. A kitchen with the walls painted white always has a cooling appearance.

The warm colors are rose, yellow, tan. A kitchen with an east exposure should be decorated with some of the warm colors, while a kitchen on the west should be furnished cooler colors.

If you are planning to redecorate your kitchen, choose a color for the walls, and have a rather subdued color, one which will not just glare at you. The floor covering is important; the predominating color should form the background, with brighter colors in the designs.

At the present time, new housewives have the advantage of some of the older ones who have their kitchens furnished. Bright colored enamel kitchen ware is now on the market in most all the lovely shades, such as blue, rose, green, yellow, and even red if you like to bring into your kitchen a real warm color.

Household Hints

1. For a change use tomato catsup in place of canned or fresh tomatoes in a soup or stew. It gives a pulquant and delicious flavor.

2. When blankets become torn or worn in the center, cut up the middle, take the two ends which are whole, place together and sew, thus making a center.

3. The blackest mildew stains can be removed from white goods by boiling in water to which two tablespoons of peroxide have been added for each quart of water. It will remove almost any other stain as well.

4. Open an asparagus can at the bottom instead of the top, because by doing this you not only avoid breaking some of the tender tips, but it also is much easier to remove the asparagus from the can, since the stem end is so much larger than the tip end that even the first stalks slip out quite readily.

5. For unusual cookies mix a tablespoon of soft butter with one of finely grated chocolate and add enough sugar to make the mixture crumbly. Sprinkle a little of this on each cooky after it is in the baking pan. The melted mixture makes a delicious coating.

6. For attractive servings, use eight-ounce baking powder cans for molding gelatin salads. They unmold easily by placing the can in a pan of hot water; then cut into slices for serving.

Sweet Potatoes in Many Ways

In composition sweet potatoes and white potatoes are much alike so should be used interchangeably in the diet. The chief food constituent is carbohydrate in which the sweet potato excels by from five to eight per cent. The sweet potato contains vitamin A and B but little or no vitamin C.

Since potatoes have very good value and are reasonable in price they are served daily in most families.

If sweet potatoes are cooked without breaking the skins very little of the food value is lost. They are very desirable if washed thoroughly with a brush, then baked. They may then be served with butter, salt, and pepper. Sweet potatoes are always very delicious served with pork or some fat meat.

Potatoes should not be peeled, then permitted to stand in water for a very long period of time for the water soaks out some of the starch which is then lost. They may be prevented from turning black after being peeled by placing them in the ice box just as soon as skins have been removed.

Many very pretty molds can be made from mashed or riced sweet potatoes. When the potatoes are

Nutritious Soups

This is just the season when good nutritious soups should form an important part of the diet of every family. Many times we do not care to serve meat but something should take its place, and a nutritious soup should be the food to fill this vacancy.

Soups are easy to prepare and as a rule are liked by every member of the family, and they are especially good for children.

A heavy soup takes the place of the main dish of a meal and should be accompanied by toast, crackers, hot muffins or bread sticks.

A thin soup usually acts as an appetizer.

From the dietetic standpoint soup is valuable in the diet, it aids in digestion by stimulating the flow of the digestive juices, and always creates an appetite the reason for always serving soup at the beginning of a meal.

The seasoning of a soup is the most important part of soup making. It must have the proper seasonings and added with discretion. Just a bit of onion, celery, salt, bay leaf, or kitchen bouquet adds just the right flavor. If you have accidentally added too much salt to your soup, slice a raw potato, and allow it to boil a few minutes. The potato absorbs some of the salt and it can be removed.

Home of Food Products?

An article for food use in a can or package is like a person dressed in his "best." But you can't judge by appearances.

Every housewife should know something of the homes of the food products she buys. She should know something of the materials used—of the methods employed.

Is the factory clean? Is it sanitary? Are the materials pure and kept pure? You can't always tell by the looks of an article or by the taste. There's only one safe way—and that is knowledge of the source of production—acquaintance with factory.

The Calumet Baking Powder company of Chicago seem to appreciate the importance of the housewife knowing the facts about the Calumet factory—the Home of Calumet Baking Powder. They not only invite everyone to visit their plant but also publish booklets, etc. picturing and describing their factory. It is the largest, finest, best equipped factory of the kind in the world. Absolute sanitation governs every operation of manufacture. Every appliance, every inch of space is kept hygienically clean. Human hands never touch Calumet.

In acquainting the housewife with their rigid rules of cleanliness, purity and sanitation, the Calumet Baking Powder company establish a standard that is always open to investigation—guaranteeing at all times strict adherence to their policy of protection against impurities and unsanitary factory conditions.

RECIPES

Hot Biscuits With Cinnamon Butter

2 cups flour
2 level teaspoons Calumet Baking powder.
½ level teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons shortening

Sift flour, then measure and sift three times with baking powder and salt. Cut in shortening and gradually add milk. Roll or pat out and cut ½-inch thick. Bake in a hot oven (450 degrees F.) 15 to 17 minutes. Just before serving spread each biscuit with a mixture of butter, sugar and cinnamon.

Shrimp Cocktail

Allow one-third cup of diced cooked or canned shrimps for each person to be served and combine with the following sauce:

½ tablespoon tomato catsup or chili sauce
½ tablespoon lemon juice
2 drops tabasco sauce
¼ teaspoon celery salt
2 drops Worcestershire sauce.

Combine the ingredients in the order given, mixing them well. If desired a half teaspoon of olive oil may be added. This is sufficient for one serving.

Pittsburgh Potatoes

1 lb. potatoes
1 cup grated cheese
1 diced pimento
½ cup bread crumbs
4 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons flour
1 cup milk.
Salt and pepper.

Dice potatoes and boil until soft. Put a layer of potatoes in baking dish. Sprinkle with grated cheese, salt, pepper, butter and chopped pimentos. Add another layer of potatoes and repeat with cheese and pimento. Pour over this one cup of white sauce. Cover with buttered bread crumbs. Bake in oven until well browned on top. Prepare the white sauce by melting two tablespoons butter, and stirring in flour until smooth (2 tablespoons flour) and then add one cup of milk, salt and pepper.

Upside Down Cake

Put in a skillet:
1 cup crushed pineapple.
1 cup brown sugar.

Cake batter:
1 cup sugar.
1 egg.
1½ level teaspoons Calumet Baking Powder.

Mix as for any cake and pour in skillet over the above mixture. Bake in a moderate oven (350-375 degrees F.) 30 minutes. Serve with whipped cream.

Special Desserts for Winter

Cold wintry days create a demand for rich, steaming desserts. They seem to be just the right things to send us away from the table happy and ready to face the freezing temperature which we come in contact with on the outside.

In planning a dinner there are ordinarily three parts which must be taken into consideration—the dinner course, salad and dessert, with sometimes a soup.

Since apples are the least expensive of the available fruits, more of them should be used in the winter desserts. Apple pies are always heartily received, especially by the men folks. Apple dumplings are quite delicious if served any time during cold weather. Apple tapioca is inexpensive, easily made, and thoroughly enjoyed by children and grown-ups. It may be served with a sauce, thin cream or whipping cream. Applesauce cakes are delicious.

There are various ways in which they may be served and they need not become tiresome if served quite often. After the apple has been cored it may be filled with either white or brown sugar. Add a lump of butter to each apple, then some water and bake until the apple is completely cooked. Nuts, marshmallows, raisins or any dried fruit makes tasty variations.

Now a Health Beverage

With a Delicious Flavor

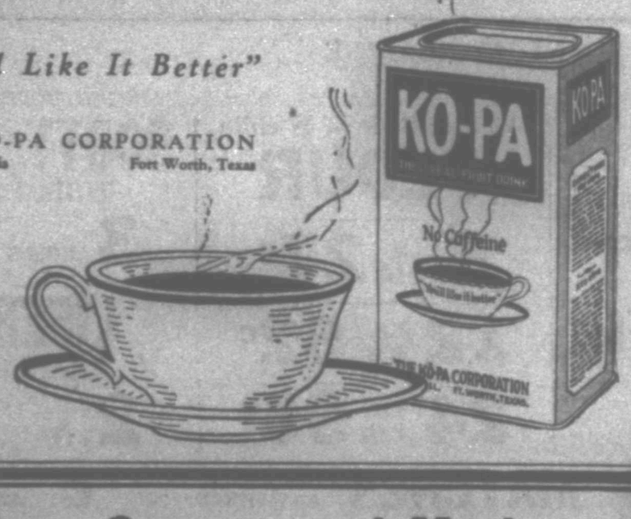

NATURE provided the ingredients, untainted by injurious caffeine. Science scored a complete triumph in flavor blending. Result: KŌ-PA*, the cereal fruit drink which is replacing coffee in thousands of homes.

From sun-drenched hills and valleys come the selected whole grains, figs and raisins of which KŌ-PA is made. Only the queen grains are used . . . and they are toasted by an exclusive process. To the mellowness of these golden-brown bits is added the blended flavors of fruits to complete the coffee-like flavor and make KŌ-PA extra nutritious.

KŌ-PA brings all you like in coffee . . . but none of its harmful effects. Serve it with every meal. The children will like it and it's good for them. Order of your grocer.

PRESS CRITICIZED FOR EXPRESSIONS REGARD PROHIBITION

The "apparent attitude" of the local press toward prohibition and the Anti-Saloon League in their political phases is deplored by the Wichita Falls Ministerial Alliance in a statement given out Thursday night by a special committee composed of the Revs. S. A. Barnes, Paul Henry Packard and Alvin F. White. The committee was appointed at a meeting of the ministerial alliance Tuesday. The statement in full follows:

"The Wichita Falls Ministerial Alliance in its regular monthly meeting last Tuesday morning at the First Christian church discussed, among other things, the approaching national political campaign and its bearing upon the question of prohibition. The ministers unanimously reaffirmed their stand for prohibition, and expressed their determination to support only those candidates for office, and especially the high office of president of the United States, who are avowed friends of the eighteenth amendment to the constitution of the United States and the Volstead law.

"The apparent attitude of the local press toward this great moral question is deplored. Certain editorials of recent date have spoken sarcastically of the Anti-Saloon League of America, and unduly criticised that organization. Proposed dry candidates have been spoken of as 'light-weights.' These and other editorials lead us to believe that the local press is unfriendly to the prohibition cause. If we have misjudged the intention of these editorials and are wrong in our conclusions, we stand ready and willing to be corrected.

"We are not unmindful of the rights of free speech and we acknowledge the privilege of any person to express himself freely on either side of this or any other great question; but we, the leaders and representatives of the thousands of Christians and law abiding citizens of Wichita Falls, feel that the press of our city should give some expression representative of the thoughts and ideals of these people. Therefore, the Ministerial Alliance at its last meeting appointed a committee to draft this statement expressing our views and present them for publication.

"We have never lost faith in the prohibition movement and are firmly convinced that American prohibition has already resulted in untold good to our country. The story of the economic benefits of prohibition is told in terms of millions of dollars saved and turned into legitimate channels of trade. The saloon as a dominating power in politics no longer exists. The open saloon on every prominent corner with its constant temptation and treating system cultivating and encouraging the drink habit in thousands of men is no more. Our government is no longer legally engaged in the business of making drunkards and filling drunkards graves, and it is no longer collecting a toll of revenue from the struggling and starving wives and children of drunkards. The eighteenth amendment, though partially enforced, has been a great blessing to our land. We stand for its retention, for no modification and for better enforcement. We will oppose with our influence and our votes any candidate known to be unfriendly to this great reform."

BUDGET ESTIMATE FORMS MAILED TO CITY COUNCILMEN

Uniform budget estimate blanks have been mailed by City Clerk W. E. McBroom to all city commissioners in order that they may make up their estimates for the budget for the city's next fiscal year, starting April 1.

The blanks were mailed by Mr. McBroom at the request of Mayor R. E. Shepherd and in accordance with section 67 of the Wichita Falls city charter.

After making up their estimates the commissioners will return the blanks to Mayor Shepherd, who will draw up the budget, using the commissioners' estimates for their respective departments as a basis.

The budget will be given the council for approval and then it will be necessary for that body to pass an appropriation ordinance based upon the amounts set forth in the budget. This ordinance will be drafted by the city attorney.

With the exception of funds that will be set aside for equipment for the new Memorial auditorium, the new budget is expected to be practically the same as that adopted by the city for the present fiscal year.

Call Meeting of Former Gobs Now Living in Wichita

Former "gobs" who live in Wichita Falls have been called to meet on the evening of February 28 in the court room of O. L. Gibbs, justice of the peace, to decide whether they shall form an organization.

A. F. Clayton, chief machinist's mate in charge of navy recruiting here, is sponsoring the meeting at the solicitation of several who formerly saw service in that branch. He estimates that at least 200 ex-gobs live in or near Wichita Falls.

The organization, as planned, is to be one of a purely social nature, designed to bring together those who once served in the navy so that tifey may talk over old times. It is planned to be an organization without membership fees or other charges, Clayton explained.

'Pola,' Police Dog Stages Exhibition At Junior College

"Pola," the intelligent German police dog from the Garden theater, demonstrated to a packed assembly of junior college teachers and students in the auditorium Thursday afternoon, her ability to understand commands given in English by her owner, M. S. Klein. She went from the audience and brought various articles off the stage, one at a time, as directed by her master. She then carried from the audience to the stage articles as directed. She said her "hello" and sang for them.

"Pola" is soon to appear in motion pictures and free screen tests are being taken each night at the Garden in making selections of persons to appear in the production. These film tests will be exhibited at the Garden February 27 and 28.

JURY FINDS FOR LOCAL HOSPITAL IN DENYING $40,000 DAMAGE CLAIM

Judge W. W. Cook of the 78th district court awaited Friday the expected filing of a motion for a new trial on behalf of Mrs. J. Will Morgan, whose claim for damages against the Wichita Falls Clinic hospital was denied by verdict of a jury Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Morgan sued the hospital for $40,000, alleging loss of eyesight. The jury found for the hospital after a three days trial.

TWO NEW STORES TO OPEN IN JUNIOR COLLEGE DISTRICT

Monroe Street Hardware at 1521 Monroe Invites Public to Formal Opening of Store All Day Saturday

The Monroe Street Hardware, 1521 Monroe street, junior college district, will hold a formal opening from 8 a. m. until 11 p. m. Saturday, February 18, according to W. B. Thurman, owner and manager of the new concern.

The new store offers a convenient shopping center for thousands of people who live in the suburban districts, and especially to those living in the vicinity of Monroe street and the junior college business district.

The new store has a complete stock of shelf hardware, sporting goods, gas stoves and refrigerators pipes and fittings, kitchenware, queensware and dishes of all kinds, radio equipment, lawn and garden tools, poultry nettings and supplies, fencing, fishing tackle and golfing supplies, and many other articles a hardware store usually carries in stock.

A department of the store that is certain of receiving a good patronage is that of the dry goods notion department, where many of the smaller needs may be filled. This department was added because of the demand for dry goods notions in the vicinity of the junior college.

Another department of interest in the store is the pipe and fitting department. The store is equipped to do all kinds of pipe cutting and carries a complete line of pipe fittings.

Mr. Thurman has had many years of experience in the hardware business, having been connected with various retail and wholesale hardware concerns for a number of years. He was a traveling representative for one of the largest firms in the city for several years.

The building in which the store is located has recently been remodeled and presents a very attractive appearance. There is plenty of parking space in the vicinity of the store, and patrons of the concern are certain of receiving the very best of service.

Mr. Thurman stated the store would remain open evenings for the convenience of its trade. Evening service will give many persons an opportunity of securing supplies when urgently needed, he announced.

FORMER STATE SENATOR TO INTRODUCE SENATOR REED

AUSTIN, Feb. 17. (AP)—Former State Senator T. H. McGregor of Austin, strong political friend of ex-Governor James E. Ferguson, has been chosen to introduce United States Senator Jim Reed when Reed opens his presidential nomination campaign in Dallas Monday night, it was learned Friday.

Senator Reed will make a speech to the Dallas Reed club at noon Monday and will talk to the public generally Monday night.

Hook's Cash Grocery, Market and Drug Store, Avenue F and Polk, to Stage a Formal Opening Saturday

Hook's Cash Grocery, Market and Drug store, 2208 avenue F and 1515 Polk street, will have a formal opening from 8 a. m. until 11 p. m. Saturday, February 18, according to an announcement of the management of the concern.

A popular jazz orchestra will play during the hours of the formal opening, and with demonstrations and other interesting features the store promises an interesting and profitable day for its patrons. Special prices on the merchandise carried in stock have been made for the occasion.

Hook's grocery has a complete stock of nationally advertised foods and articles for the housewife. The concern boasts that its merchandise is of the highest quality, and is being sold at reasonable prices. Quick turnovers at small profits is the policy the concern advocates.

The market of the institution deals only in inspected meats, and specializes in choice cuts of veal and baby beef. The meats are from the world's largest packing plants and bear the government stamp for healthful and wholesome products.

The store is strictly a cash and carry concern, and has ample room to take care of very large crowds; in fact, it is one of the largest grocery stores in the city. Its stock is kept in neat and attractive wall fixtures and center fixtures of the very latest design.

Delicatessen, home cooked foods, fruits and vegetables, drugs, cosmetics and patent medicines are sold at the store in connection with the other departments.

The management of the concern stated that a number of workers would be glad to assist the trade during the formal opening and at all other times when needed.

ART OF CAKE MAKING EXPLAINED AT TIMES COOKING SCHOOL

Mrs. J. F. Plummer Gives Recipes for Angel Food and Golden Gate Cakes in Addition to Lecture on Entertaining

Thursday was cake day at the annual Wichita Daily Times cooking school being held this week at the Memorial auditorium and Mrs. J. F. Plummer, domestic science expert, who instructs the classes, explained to several hundred women the art of cake making.

In addition to giving her favorite cake recipes, Mrs. Plummer gave a short talk on the subject of "Hospitality and Entertaining."

"The first thing to consider when entertaining is inviting the guests," Mrs. Plummer declared. "You must choose who your guests are going to be. They should be congenial with one another and you should only invite as many as you can conveniently take care of.

"If you expect to entertain a large number of guests you should choose refreshments that are easily prepared and I suggest some kind of ice made at home."

Mrs. Plummer suggested that the hostess serve the refreshments before the entertainment. This serves two purposes, she said, to relieve the hostess of any anxiety of her refreshments melting or getting cold as the case might be and also places the guests in better spirits to prepare their evening meal after they return home.

Two of the cake recipes which Mrs. Plummer explained Thursday afternoon and which met with the instant favor of the several hundred women in attendance at the school were those for angel food and golden gate cake. The latter is one which will help use the egg yolks that are not utilized in the making of an angel food cake.

Angel Food

1 teaspoon cream of tartar.
1½ cups sugar.
1 teaspoon flavoring.
2 teaspoon cold water.
1¼ cups flour.

Bake at 350 degrees for 60 minutes. Egg whites should be chilled but not frozen before beating. Add ¼ teaspoon salt to egg white and beat. One teaspoon cream of tartar, then add 1¼ cup sugar after being sifted to get lumps out, one teaspoon flavoring, one teaspoon cold water, 1¼ cups flour. Then place into pan after it is rinsed in cold water. Then shake cake well before placing in oven.

Icing for Angel Food Cake

2 egg whites.

Put one-half cup hot water onto two cups sugar and stir a little to dissolve sugar and stir only one way. Cook until it spins a thread, then let it cool until it stops bubbling. Pour into beaten egg white and add powdered sugar, ¼ teaspoon flavoring. The harder it is beaten the smoother and glossier the icing will be.

Golden Gate Cake

1 cup sugar.
½ cup butter.
8 egg yolks.
2 cups flour.
2 teaspons baking powder.
¾ cup milk.
1 teaspoon vanilla extract.

Bake for 35 minutes.

To one cup sugar add one-half cup butter, the cream. Add 8 egg yolks and use wooden spoon to finish mixing. Add flour and milk, baking powder and extract.

Golden Gate Cake Filling

2 tablespoons butter.
2 egg yolks.

Juice and grated rind of 1 lemon. Turn eggs, butter and lemon in mixing bowl and then stir in sugar until the entire package is used.

Samples of both the angel food cake and the Golden gate cake were given to those present.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

Brass Andirons

To clean brass andirons, scrub first with hot suds and soda and then scour with bath brick moistened in kerosene. When dry, use any commercial polish.

Sink Brush

A worn whiskbroom makes a fine sink brush if you cut off the worn bristles clear up to the stiff part. Always rinse clean after using.

Secure Hooks

When screwing eyes into the end of brooms, mops and so on, to hang them up, dip the screw into glue before inserting them permanently and they will never come out.

Bent Candles

Candles that have become twisted with heat should be laid in a warm place until they are softened, then straightened and put in the icebox.

Suitable Apparel

Cold winter days are more cheerful if the home-maker wears smocks of gay colors. Reds, vivid oranges and yellows are the best shades.

Creamed Liver

Mud Stains

Let mud stains dry thoroughly before attempting to remove them. Brush thoroughly and then try French chalk, alcohol or some patent cleanser.

Grease Stains

If your homespun linen table linen gets grease stains on it, soak thoroughly in tepid water and rub with soap until loosened. Hot water sets them.

Lined Drapes

If your window drapes are of some medium weight material, line them with sateen in matching shade or the shade of your walls gives them luxurious weight.

Stringing Beads

Beads should be strung on violin strings, if they are at all heavy and likely to break the string easily. Dental floss is good too.

X-Ray Employed To Locate Ring In Thief's Body

TEMPLE, Texas, Feb. 17. (AP)—The X-ray was used here last night by officers in an attempt to find a diamond ring missing from a local jewelry store.

A suspect said to have had a ring similar to that missing from the store was arrested and placed in jail. He was searched, but no trace of the ring could be found. Then an X-ray photograph was taken of his stomach and a specialist said there was a substance there which might be the ring.

A second ring, identified as one missing from the same jewelry store was found in the possession of a young woman.

NEGRO DIES SUDDENLY ON TRAIN EN ROUTE TO HOME IN WICHITA FALLS

Funeral services for Sam Hicks, 26, a negro who died suddenly on a passenger train while en route from Munday, Texas, to his home in Wichita Falls Thursday, have been tentatively set for Saturday. Hicks had been ill and presumably was en route home for that reason. O. L. Gibbs, justice of the peace, held an inquest, finding death to have been due to natural causes. His mother lives here.

$2,000,000 CANADIAN GOLD DELIVERED TO N. Y. MARKET

NEW YORK, Feb. 17. (AP)—A shipment of $2,000,000 in gold from Canada was received today by the Bank of Montreal, a total of more than $40,000,000 to return to New York since the movement began in December.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

READER ASKS QUESTIONS OF MINISTERIAL ALLIANCE

Editor The Times: I have noticed that the Ministerial alliance has found fault with the attitude of our papers relative to prohibition. It has gone again on record eulogizing the moribund child of fanatics and intolerants. But why an association of messengers of the gospel should delve into politics is hard to understand, save that the gospel which they—members—announce is considered inferior to prohibition. The alliance speaks of "the story of economic benefits of prohibition is told in terms of millions of dollars saved (?) and turned into legitimate channels of trade." If this were true it would not be so bad, but just the other day it was reported that a bill was introduced in congress for $12,000,000 for the purpose of enforcement. Why $12,000,000 should be appropriated when "millions of dollars were saved" has not been explained by the august alliance.

It may be possible that the ministerial alliance is a competent observer and investigator, regardless of its tendency to generalize. Therefore I take the liberty to seek information from the apparent competent body.

(1) How many cases has the alliance observed in which persons who drank to excess before the advent of prohibition now abstain totally because of the legislation?

(2) How many cases has the alliance observed in which persons who had been impoverished by the use or abuse of alcohol prior to the amendment now maintain better standards of living or bank accounts as a result of the legislation?

(3) How many regulated saloons have been closed to the alliance's knowledge, which have not been offset by unregulated places where liquor is still sold?

The records of a county in Pennsylvania—Allegheny—show 20,567 arrests for drunkenness in 1914, a wet year, and 25,401 arrests for the same offense in 1924, a dry year. Was the savior—prohibition—asleep?

I am not in favor of the pre-war saloons, but for every saloon closed you see 10 boys carrying a flask on their hips. Does this spell improvement? What is the cause for this lawless condition if not prohibition? JOHN WARMUTH.

Nothing contributes so much to the success of a meal as the quality of the coffee served. That is why thousands of housewives choose Morning Joy Coffee. This famous blend from New Orleans—the home of good things to eat—is specially prepared in one of America's finest coffee roasting plants, located in one of the world's greatest coffee markets.

Morning Joy Coffee has everything that good coffee should have—absolute purity—delightful aroma—satisfying flavor—full strength. A marvelous blend perfectly preserved in a modern, air-tight, vacuum can. A cup of Morning Joy Coffee, first thing in the morning, adds joy to the day; a cup after dinner mellows the whole meal, and helps digestion. A drink of steaming hot coffee out of your vacuum bottle will take the chill off on long rides, fishing trips or outings. Anytime—anywhere—Morning Joy Coffee satisfies.

HUDKINS AND BAKER SCRAP FOR SHOT AT DUNDEE'S TITLE

WELTER SCRAPPERS TO MEET FOR THIRD TIME; EACH HAS VICTORY IN PAST SESSIONS

NEW YORK, Feb. 17. (AP)—Ace Hudkins and Sammy Baker tangle in a 10-round bout at Madison Square garden Friday night to determine the challenger for the welterweight crown now guarded by Joe Dundee of Baltimore.

Although at Cat of Nebraska has been quoted as an 8 to 5 and a 2 to 1 favorite throughout the week, quite a flurry has been occasioned with reports that he is having difficulty in making the weight limit of 147 pounds.

Baker, the soldier-boxer of Mitchell field, concluded light training Thursday below the regulation poundage, tipping the beam at 146. On the other hand, Hudkins was said to weight 148½, with a pound and a half of surplus to reduce before the formal weighing-in exercise at the New York State Athletic commission's offices in the afternoon.

Title Bout Promised.

Handlers of the Wildcat say he will be down to the 147 pounds without difficulty. Should he exceed that amount, however, it will mean that he cannot hope to figure in the role of challenger against Dundee, but must shift his activities to the middleweights in which realm Mickey Walker is king.

The winner of Friday night's tussle has been promised a bout with Dundee at the garden on March 23 provided the Baltimore pugilist is reinstated by the Empire state solons. Dundee is still under the ban here from his recent fiasco in Los Angeles.

Third Meeting.

Hudkins and Baker have met twice previously. In the first tilt, Baker was victor when the referee stopped the bout in the seventh round at the Polo grounds last summer to save Hudkins from a severe pummeling. Before the scrap, Hudkins was the big favorite. Baker ripped a deep cut over the Nebraskan's left eye, which bled profusely and had Hudkins virtually blinded when the bout was terminated.

At a meeting in Los Angeles afterwards, Hudkins carried off a judges' decision in a close struggle which saw the soldier drop to the canvas twice while the Wildcat went down once.

Pack to Tackle Strong Sooner Team Saturday

Union Valley Cagers, Rated One of Best in Southwest, Opposition For Coyotes.

Union Valley, Okla., High school cagers, one of the strongest teams in the Southwest, provide the competition for Coach Bud McCallum's ambitious Coyotes Saturday night in one of the last games the Pack will have before it enters the district interscholastic league competition here next week. Union Valley bumped the Coyotes on the Oklahomans' court a few weeks ago and is quite likely to take down a decision here Saturday night. This Sooner quintet has lost few games in recent years, the team being composed of three and four-year veterans and is a strong contender for Oklahoma titular honors.

The Coyotes will go into the game in a crippled condition, with Bain and Anderson, who have been used of late as regular forwards, on the sidelines with injuries. Turner will be stationed at center and Captain Mills and Allred at guards. Curtis and Griffin are expected to take the places of Bain and Anderson at forwards.

Coach McCallum hopes to bill one more game early next week before the district competition, and if his two crippled forwards come around as expected, the team should be in good shape for the big tourney.

The National guard team of the commercial league will supply opposition for the Coyote second team in the second game of the evening, the opener starting at 7:30 o'clock.

CUB MOUNDSMEN GIVEN FIRST WORK OF SEASON

The 13 pitchers present at the island camp were put to work, warming up muscles that had become stiffened through the "off" season.

WEST TEXAS TEACHERS SWAMP SIMMONS QUINT

CANTON, Texas, Feb. 17. (AP)—Playing in championship form the West Texas State Teachers college Buffaloes swamped the Simmons university Cowboys, 60 to 30, to sweep the two-game series here Thursday night.

ABILENE CHRISTIANS DEFEATS ST. EDWARD'S

AUSTIN, Texas, Feb. 17. (AP)—Showing some fast floor work and extremely clever ball handling, the Abilene Christian college basket ball team defeated St. Edward's university, 48 to 37, here Thursday night in a non-conference game.

The Christians started out with a burst of speed, Powell and Hill showing the way with a fancy assortment of long and short shots for points. At the half the visitors were leading, 27 to 16. Despite a fighting come-back and superior score in the final period, the Saints were powerless to retrieve the lost advantage.

The Saints will play Southwestern university of Georgetown Friday afternoon here.

The biggest upset of the girls' basket ball league titular race was recorded Thursday night at the junior college when Draughon Business college defeated P. B. M.-Whippets, 16 to 12, in the first victory of the season for the former team and the first defeat of the second half for the latter.

The business college lassies, with a revamped lineup, played their best basket ball of the season and tallied seven field goals to three for the opposition. Johnson, a newcomer at center, led the attack with nine points and was given able scoring assistance from Ellard, Waldrip and King. The first half champion Whippets felt the loss of their pair of guards, Arbuckle, who is out with injuries, and Wright, who has switched allegiance to the Electrics.

The P. B. M.-Whippet loss firmly entrenched Texas Electric Service company in first place, this team bowling over Continental Oil company in a hard fought contest, 10 to 7. The Conocos also showed improvement over their past form, particularly in holding the high scoring Electrics to a total of 10 points. Boyse scored five of Conocos' seven points.

Prelims Loom On Fight Card Friday Evening

THE CARD

Dempse Moore, Wichita Falls, vs. Russell Beckwith, Oklahoma City, light heavyweights, 10 rounds.

Floyd Anderson, Wichita Falls, vs. Bulldog Nolan, Wichita Falls, lightweights, four rounds.

Spike Stewart, Wichita Falls, vs. Swede Lusk, Wichita Falls, welterweights, four rounds.

Though Dempse Moore and Russell Beckwith, principals in the main event of Friday night's fight card at the Gym, are the chief attractions of the program, the preliminaries stack up as promising lots of entertainment for the fight customers. Four bouts are to precede the main go and each one looms as a real contest.

The semi-final marks the return to the ring of Battling Cossey, Wichita Falls youngster, who in the past has been one of the most popular of the preliminary boys. His heavy punching and willingness have made him a prime favorite. His opponent is Kid Murdock, older brother of Eddie Murdock, and he should make it sufficiently interesting for Cossey.

Promoter Alec B. Ross announced a substitution in the six-round go. Art Villalon, Mexican, slated with Lefty Hemmi of Scotland, failed to respond to telegrams and Ross is bringing in Sam Riley of Altus for the Scotland southpaw.

Floyd Anderson vs. Bulldog Nolan and Spike Stewart vs. Swede Lusk are the four-round preliminaries.

Heating facilities at the Gym arena have been improved, according to Ross, and the customers are promised comfortable conditions.

Two Surprises Registered in Cage Tourney

High School A. A. U. State Competition Draws Flock of Strong Teams to Athens.

AUSTIN, Texas, Feb. 17. (AP)—Two surprises were sprung in the first round of the A. A. U. high school basket ball meet, completed here Thursday night. Martins Mill plastered Corsicana, 39 to 31, and Eustace, a small Henderson county town, drubbed Mineola, 38 to 30.

The major and consolation tournament was to get under way Friday morning. Ben Wheeler and Brownsboro were eliminated from the tournament Thursday night in the only second round tilts played. This leaves eight teams each in the major and consolation tourneys.

Pairings Friday bring together Sunset and Wills Point, Athens and Eustace, and Murchison and Martins Mill. Sunset and Athens are favored to meet in the finals.

Van Zandt county showed up well in the first round, three teams from that county coming out on top. Four Henderson county teams were victorious in the first round, but Athens eliminated Brownsboro Thursday night.

Semi-finals and finals in both major and consolation events will be played Saturday afternoon and night.

The scores:
Murchison 38, Crawford 29.
Eustace 38, Mineola 30.
Wills Point 26, Krum 11.
Martins Mill 39, Corsicana 31.
Waco 17, Gunter 15.
Sunset (Dallas) 48, Rice 19.
Tyler 26, Ben Wheeler 20.
Athens 34, Brownsboro 15.

Joe Stecher and Lewis Ready to Quit Heavy Work

Heavyweight Grapplers Plan Only Light Sessions for Saturday And Sunday Training.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 17. (AP)—Only the finishing touches remained Friday to be given to both Ed "Strangler" Lewis and Joe Stecher who will enter the wrestling arena here Monday night to determine who is to flaunt the world's heavyweight wrestling championship.

Light road work, and a few limbering up exercises were the only activities on the program of the mat men Saturday and Sunday. Thursday Stecher took a cross country jaunt lasting an hour and a half and his usual tug of war with his training mates at the other end of the rope followed. In the afternoon two hours of wrestling with his husky partners gave no indication of taxing either his wind or strength.

Lewis, changed his program Thursday by continuing some strenuous training and he spent nearly three hours on the mat besides going through road work and several games of handball. All the Strangler's mat sessions are held behind closed doors and two private detectives guard the gymnasium where he works out.

Promoter Tom Packs has set Saturday night as the deadline for persons having reservations to call for them. The reserved tickets remaining after that time will be placed on sale.

Friday a confab between the two wrestlers on rules will be held in an effort to prevent arguments at the time of the bout.

SCHAEFER IS WINNER OVER FORMER CHAMP

CHICAGO, Feb. 17. (AP)—Young Jake Schaefer, world's champion at 18.2 balkline billiards, wound up an eight game series Thursday night as winner over Welker Cochran, former titleholder, 2,737 to 2,185 in a total of 44 innings. Cochran won three of the 400 point blocks and Schaefer five.

In the third block Schaefer ran 400 points, an entire block, for the third highest score ever made in a professional match.

DRIVER NARROWLY ESCAPES IN THIRTY-FOOT CATAPULT WHEN MAMMOTH RACER SKIDS IN RUT

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., Feb. 17. (AP)—Hurtling along at an unofficial speed of 175 miles an hour despite a rain beaten beach, Capt. Malcom Campbell, British automobile racer, escaped possible serious injury here Thursday when his giant speedster struck a rut and was catapulted 30 feet through the air.

So great was the impact when the 12-cylinder juggernaut settled back on the beach that it smashed a bracket on the rear shock absorber and ripped away the underscreen.

Regains Control

Captain Campbell was half thrown from the driver's seat but maintained control of the machine and completed a trial run down the beach at reduced speed.

The British pilot was putting his racer through its first test here preliminary to an attempt to break the world's speed record of 208.7 miles an hour, made by a fellow countryman, Major H. O. D. Seagrave, here last year. He said the necessary repair could be made within a few hours and that he probably would give his speedster another workout Friday.

Further Trials

Frank Lockhart, internationally known driver, also expects to give his 16-cylinder Stutz "Black Hawk Special," a run Friday in preparation for a try at the record.

Meanwhile the stock car events on the program Thursday of the 25th annual speedway carnival which will be climaxed by the assaults on the speed record, were postponed because of rain.

SCHWARTZ SCHEDULED AGAINST BILLY SHAW

DETROIT, Feb. 17. (AP)—Corporal Izzy Schwartz, recognized by the New York Boxing Commission as holder of the disputed flyweight title, steps out of his class here Friday night to engage Billy Shaw, a local 120-pound boxer, in an eight-round contest. Schwartz is expected to weigh in at around 110 pounds.

Frenchy Belanger, Toronto flyweight, meets Joey Ross of New York in another eight rounder.

The Belanger and Schwartz bouts are given a secondary place on the program, which is headlined by a ten-round contest between Clarence Rosen and Pete Firpo, who meet for the fourth time to settle local bantamweight feud.

CONGER AND HAHN LIKELY TO MEET IN MILE EVENT

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 17. (AP)—Ray Conger, former University of Iowa athlete, and Lloyd Hahn, Boston A. A., will run in the open one-mile race, starting 30 yards behind scratch, in the Kansas City Athletic club indoor track and field meet here Saturday night unless they can be matched in a special 1000-yard race.

TO KEEP NATION'S YOUTH OUT OF MISCHIEF SAYS JOHN HEYDLER OF SANDLOT DONATION

NEW YORK, Feb. 17. (AP)—The major leagues feel that the American Legion's plan for developing sandlot baseball offers an excellent means of perpetuating the national game and of keeping the nation's youth out of mischief.

It was chiefly for these two reasons that the American and National leagues, meeting in Chicago this week, voted to contribute $50,000 to the legion's proposal which would bring 100,000 American youths into baseball competition each year through a series of tournaments.

So said John Heydler, president of the National league, Thursday when asked to explain just what it was that the big time circuits hoped to accomplish by their move.

Not only will the plan stimulate the American youth's interest in the game, Heydler believes, but it also will result automatically in a substantial increase in the number of playgrounds from coast to coast.

"With major league support guaranteed so far in advance of the playing season," he said, "legion posts in every section of the country will make arrangements for their individual tournaments. I believe the impetus given the game by this program will result in opening up of a large number of new playgrounds."

Under the legion scheme the country would be divided into two sections, eastern and western. After preliminary play in each section the survivors would clash in the finals for the championship of the country. To the title winners will go a trip to the world series with the major leagues acting as hosts. The $50,000 appropriation divided equally between the two circuits, is intended principally to defray expenses of transporting the teams from city to city during the various rounds of play.

Anonymous letters seldom are worth the white paper they are written on. This column in the past has tried to have as little to do with this type of correspondence as possible. But this morning's mail brings in a letter signed, "A Fan," dealing with tennis, that seems to be worth something. At least it is sincere and brings up some interesting things concerning the court game. We take the liberty of reproducing it against the wish of the unknown writer:

"During the summer of 1927 the local tennis players were greatly handicapped in securing courts upon which to play. As a rule, the city courts, during the period of July when the older men were free had been appropriated by the school students or others seeking recreation, a condition eminently fitting since the courts are public, and no great loss either as the courts were in a deplorable condition—always. They were never wet down, rarely rolled, and frequently for days at a time, even unlined. The surface partook more of the nature of a plowed field than of court compact. A group of able players just passed upon the city courts as rankly impossible.

"They tried the Municipal club with its contingent fee of 50 cents to get access. A charge so staggering to guarantee high class courts properly kept, but these proved as imperfect and as ill-kept as the city ones. Finally Lee Wilson extended to this coterie the privilege of playing upon the courts adjacent to his home.

"There are others whose names I do not know.

"Tom McCarty has achieved recognition as a city champion and he with Cook took the doubles championship for the past two years. Peewee Haynes played on the Baylor team and he is a rattling good player, being the youngest of the group.

"There is a unique element in the fact that Toone took a championship in Panama some years ago and Davis a championship in Central Africa. They are the oldest members of the bunch and doubles partners, both extremely good players, both tropical vets.

"I am not a tennis player but I am a tennis fan. If there is anything of interest in this letter you may follow it up. I am writing it unknown to any of the players, but I would like to see the tennis activities of the city get some publicity. These players are go-getters, wildly enthusiastic about their sport and propose some bang-up competition this year. Any nice Saturday afternoon you can find most of them out on Lee Wilson's courts. For additional data you might consult Thornton Davis.

"You may use the information given you, but please do not produce the letter or print it. If it is of no consequence at all please destroy it. I have not a thing to gain in bringing this to your attention and I know the players themselves have never given the matter of publicity a thought."

If the city has not provided courts of acceptable quality, it is something that ought to be "saw to." We haven't the slightest idea about the condition of the municipal courts, but if it is such as this writer claims, it is a matter that should be brought to the attention of the proper authorities, A. W King, city park commissioner, and Charley Bunnenberg, park superintendent. We know that both these men are vitally interested in the parks and playgrounds of the city and sincerely believe that both will do anything they can to alleviate any disagreeable conditions concerning parks and playgrounds. We are wont to believe that if the tennis courts are not what they ought to be, these two men are not aware of the fact.

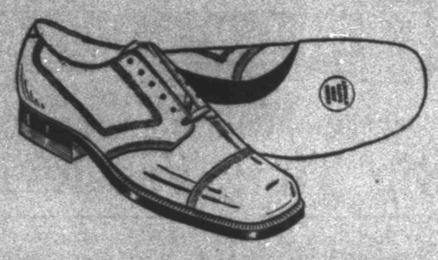

In the eye of the sport following public of Wichita Falls tennis has never amounted to much, and the trouble lies mainly in the tennis players. Competitive tennis in Wichita Falls is all but a dead issue. Year after year a few energetics have tried to boom tennis tournaments and put them over. A half dozen or so entries have usually been the result, and who can be interested when the players show so little interest? The city championship usually draws 10 or 12 entiries. And this is a city of some 60,000 people.

Competition is the life of any sport. We don't care what sport it is, it is competition that breeds interest. Wichita Falls tennis will remain in the background until there is more competitive play, until the players show enough interest to work hard to put tournaments over. Those few who do play in the tournaments do some real work toward interesting others and making the tournament competition attractive. That doesn't go for all the tennis players, but it does for nearly all. The composer of the above letter, who is not even a player, shows more interest—in writing it—than 99 per cent of the players have in the five years that we have followed the game in Wichita Falls.

As for the publicity part of it, tennis can't expect to receive much of it until the players do something that is worth talking about. There's nothing to interest the public in a half a dozen players playing a few friendly sets of doubles and singles every now and then with nothing at stake. If tennis is to grow and acquire a place of more prominence in Wichita Falls, it will have to come through the efforts of those who now play the game and want to see it thrive.

We'd like to have some more comment on the tennis situation in Wichita Falls. If there's any way to make it a bigger and better game for Wichita Falls, let's do it. If our public courts are not what they ought to be, let's raise Old Billy with these city officials and see if we can't accomplish something.

ARNOLD GLOVE-GRIP SHOES

Arnold Glove Grip Shoes are built so that they form the arch, properly support it, and prevent the flattening out of bone structure. The narrowness of the shank of the sole, and the curve of the upper keeps the arch in place. The tighter the lacing, the more the curve of the earch is inlacing, the more the curve of the arch is in-Glove Grip Shoes, when the shoe is laced, the arch is lifted up instead of being pushed down. The secret is in the Glove Grip feature—which is patented.

Bulging Muscles No Asset, Says Tunney

By GENE TUNNEY
World's Heavyweight Champion

"Dear Gene: My ambition is to become the strongest boy in our school and later to be the strongest man in the world. I am 14 years old but I can already lift more weight than any of the 16-year-old boys in the school. Our gym teacher says that my chest and biceps measurements are already those of the average 18-year-old boy. Would you please give me a set of rules by which I can develop great muscles and realize my ambition to become a strong man?"

I picked the above letter out of the hundreds I receive every week from boys all over the country, as being especially worth while speaking about. While I hate to dampen the ambition of this fine, husky lad, I do want to say to him and to all boys: "Don't try to become 'strong' men in the sense of cultivating bulging muscles and power to lift weights or bend iron."

Every boy gets a great thrill when he begins to notice a big goose egg rising on his upper arm and he starts cultivating it. I don't know why, but big biceps are always held as the sign of strength. Perhaps because they are the most noticeable muscles on the body, but they are far from being a correct index of all-around strength. My advice to boys whose upper arm muscles begin to show unusual development is to let them absolutely alone and on the contrary, start immediatetly to developing other muscles so that they will catch up with the over-developed parts.

It very often happens that one set of muscles or one part of the body gets ahead of the others in development and the owner immediately decides that he is "built" for something or other such as weight lifting, wrestling or some other form of exercise that requires special physical strength in one part of the body. Such a man wrongs himself greatly if he pursues that form of exercise too closely just because he thinks he is especially fitted for it for he simply becomes a "lop-sided" person.

Coordination Demanded

Over development by exercise of one single part of the body is worse than no exercise at all.

The only road to real strength is by coordination of all the muscles of the body and the coordination of the brain and the muscles.

All down the list of boxers from the past to the present there is not one who was a "strong man" in the manner of Sandow, whose wax bust used to adorn the windows of cigar stores and attract the envious gaze of every boy who passed by. I suppose that there are men on every vaudeville stage and in every circus who can bend horseshoes and iron bars and perform feats that would stump any professional boxer who ever existed. But I wouldn't be afraid to climb into the ring with any of them, nor would I trade my physique with them.

There was a great strong man once in Germany named Breitbart. After the armistice he used to give exhibitions among the allied soldiers and his feats of strength were incredible. When he appeared stripped to his trunks one would say at first glance that he was a perfectly built man. One of his performances was to drive nails into an oak board with his fist and I do not think there was any trick about it. He could make a corkscrew out of a half inch iron bar in a twinkling. He was simply a powerful man so far as arms and shoulders went.

Strong Man Failed

Not long after the war Herman Wolff, a Berlin boxing promoter persuaded him to desert the stage and take up boxing. Herman had just been to America, and he had visions of a long row of heavyweights stretched out from coast to coast before his mighty invader. But before Breitbart even got to Berlin from his home in East Prussia he had been hammered out of the ring by all the village second and third ratters along the route. If he had ever hit one of them it would have been "curtain." But he never did, nor could he get out of the way of anybody who tried to hit him.

This brilliant example of the lack of coordination in body development went sadly back to the stage and died from a tiny scratch he got while driving nails with his fists. His magnificent body could not withstand incipient blood poisoning.

The shoulder and arm development of the great wrestler Zbyszko was an imposing sight as he faced an opponent on the mat. Yet many times in his long career, he lost or drew gruelling matches with men whose muscular development did not even approach his so far as the eye could see. The invisible muscles and tendons of his opponents were doing their jobs together while in Zbyszko's shoulders and biceps lay his chief power.

Wrestling has a tendency to overdevelop certain parts of the body and should never be followed to the exclusion of other forms of exercise.

Monte Munn, the middle western giant, was another example of one-sided training. When he first began to bowl over the best wrestlers of the country with his great strength, he decided to try boxing but he did not even get started. Perhaps he could have broken any of his opponents in two across his knee but he was hopelessly outclassed in the ring.

COYOTES' FOOTBALL CLASH IS POSTPONED UNTIL NEXT TUESDAY

A sloppy gridiron Friday caused postponement of the first of the intra-squad games on the Wichita Falls High school spring training football program, according to announcement of Coach Bud McCallum. The game now is scheduled for 4 o'clock next Tuesday afternoon, with the "Army," led by Duncan Perkins, meeting the "Navy," in charge of Raymond Mitchell, 1927 Coyote captain.

Next Tuesday's game will be the first of a round robin schedule, each of the four teams playing six games.

BOY SCOUTS TROUNCE PRESBYTERIANS, 22-21

Boy Scout troop No. 2 basket ball team defeated First Presbyterian church cagers Thursday night in the church gymnasium, 22 to 21, in a hardfought scrap. The Presbyterians led, 10 to 4, at the half, but the scouts opened up a last half attack that swept aside all opposition.

DATES ANNOUNCED FOR JUNIOR GOLF TOURNEY

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 17. (AP)—River Oaks Country club of Houston will play host to Texas junior golfers June 13, 14, 15 and 16, when the second annual Texas junior golf championship will be held, according to Felix McKnight of San Antonio, president of the association.

The first tournament was held in San Antonio last summer, with 75 of the state's best boy golfers competing in the three flights. Hugh Carpenter, Dallas, won the tournament, defeating Dick Gregg of Houston in the finals, 5 and 4. Carpenter will not be eligible for competition this year, for he recently accepted a position as assistant professional at the Cedar Crest Country club in Dallas.

Entries for the tournament can be made by writing Dick Gregg, 740 First National bank building at Houston.

EIGHT DISTRICT TITLES AT STAKE THIS WEEKEND

AUSTIN, Feb. 17. (AP)—Eight of the 27 district basket ball championships of the Texas university interscholastic league will be decided Friday and Saturday, and the remaining 18 next week, Roy B. Henderson, league director, announced Thursday.

Slocum already has won the district 15 title.

All district championships must be decided by February 25, in preparation for bi-district tournaments to decide who shall come to the state championship tourney in Austin March 9 and 10.

Places of this week's tournaments and the directors of them are: District No. 1, Canyon, S. B. Burton; No. 6, Greenville, L. P. Hale; No. 8, Colorado, Dr. D. W. Arnett of Simmons university, Abilene; No. 13, Brownwood, J. H. Shelton; No. 17, Alpine, B. C. Graves; No. 18, San Angelo, W. R. Bizett; No. 23, Asherton, J. B. Rollins, of Cotulla; No. 24, San Marcos, O. W. Strahan.

VALLEY RACE CENTERS ON SCRAP FOR SECOND PLACE

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 17. (AP)—The struggle between Missouri and the Oklahoma Aggies for second place in Missouri Valley basket ball will be resumed Friday night as the feature of a three-game slate.

Victory for both Missouri and the Aggies would leave them in second and third places, respectively. Should the Tigers lose and the Aggies win, they would exchange places.

Nebraska has a chance to displace Kansas, in a tie for fourth with the Kansas Aggies, by beating the Jayhawkers. The two Kansas teams have won six and lost six, while Nebraska and Washington are deadlocked in sixth place with five wins and six losses.

The pace setting Oklahoma Sooners do not play until Saturday night when they take on Iowa State at Norman. Victory would make 14 straight for the Sooners.

FRENCH SOLONS REMOVE TAX ON IMPORT OF GOLD

PARIS, Feb. 17. (AP)—The chamber of deputies, during discussion of supplementary credits, today voted an article removing the business turnover tax of two per cent on imports of gold ore, dust, ingots and coin. The tax has been in effect several years.

Good Vaudeville Bill at Majestic Music Features

Miss Lee Morse, international Columbia record star, received a warm welcome with her southern plantation songs and blues. She sings several original numbers which prove as popular in the theater as on the phonograph.

Miss Morse had a mellow, pleasing voice and then her long red bobbed hair is not exactly a handicap.

Gordon Bostock presents "Amateur Nite in London," with the scene set in a cheap music hall in London. This act brought down the house Thursday night and every man in the audience envied the actor who was paid for doing nothing but make dirty cracks from the balcony while the amateurs are on the stage.

Language fails in the description of the amateurs but they are certainly a choice aggregation of "amateur" talent. Most of them have to be dragged off the stage and a gunshot from the wings indicates the fate of one poor girl who attempted an oriental dance.

Bostock, described as an "airedale" by the rowdy in the balcony, is stage master and does some good acting.

Eddie and Morton Beck from "Poor But Honest Parents" present a cycle of melodies which switch from the sublime to the ridiculous with confusing speed. They give a new interpretation of "Broken Hearted" sung as a duet. One of the boys gives an imitation of Lon Chaney.

Victor Oliver and Margaret Crangle put on "The Aristocrats of Variety." Victor dances, plays the piano and violin, hands out a line of patter, running from puns to politics, and sings. Margaret plays the uke and violin, dances in numerous elaborate costumes and sings nicely.

ALL BUT TWO OF GIANT TOSSERS DOWN TO WORK

NEW YORK, Feb. 17. (AP)—With pitchers Larry Benton and Virgil Barnes on the jot at the Hot Springs, Arkansas, training camp the Giants Friday inched only two of their batterymen, Vic Aldridge, who was acquired by New York from Pittsburgh in the deal for Burleigh Grimes, and Jess Doyle.

Barnes and Benton had brief workouts Thursday, the former turning over his signed contract to Secretary J. J. Tierney. The squad now numbers 18. Manager John McGraw is expected to join the Giants Saturday.

Did He Fight? Oh Man! Could He Love? Oh Baby!

The Patent Leather Kid was the greatest ring hero—a mighty fighter with gloves—but the roar of guns, the clash of muskets made him sick, sick with fear—yellow—yellow as hell—Then something stirred in the "Kid's" dormant soul—an awakening of love—his girl—his country. Did he fight? Oh man, just watch! The greatest drama of all time!
