County Steers Win Top Honors at Fort Worth

A Santa Gertrudis steer and a Brahman steer from Wellington, exhibited in the carcass division of the Fort Worth Fat Stock Show, brought grand champion and reserve champion honors to their teen-age owners.

Allen Havens learned Tuesday, Feb. 3, his 17th birthday, that his Santa Gertrudis-Hereford cross steer had been judged grand champion Santa Gertrudis on the rail. The 13-months old Romeo was in third place in judging on the hoof late last week.

Keith Martin, at 16 a veteran of top money places in major shows, received the reserve championship with his Brahman-Angus cross, Blackie, judged on the hoof. The steer placed third on the rail.

All steers entered by the Wellington boys were high in the judging. They are 4-H Club calves. Denny Carter showed a Santa Gertrudis that placed fifth and Havens received sixth on his other steer of the same breed.

Martin's Charolais steer, entered in the Junior Calf Show placed ninth in a class of 52.

The carcass class is an open show, with the Wellington youths competing against longtime adult breeders.

$1.6 Million Highway Project Approved for 4-Lane U.S. 83

The widening of U.S. Highway 83 to four lanes from Wellington to Lutie has been approved by the Texas Highway Commission at a cost in excess of a million and a half dollars. The announcement was made Wednesday morning, Feb. 3, by V. J. McGee, District Engineer of the Texas Highway Department, Childress.

Included in the Consolidated Highway Program of the Texas Highway Commission, this project in Collingsworth County on U.S. Highway 83, extends from FM Road 338 in Wellington, north to FM Road 1439 in Lutie, a distance of 12.2 miles, at an estimated construction cost of $1,650,000 and an estimated right of way cost of $60,000.

Half of the right of way cost will be the responsibility of Collingsworth County. The City of Wellington and Collingsworth County will also provide for curb and gutter from 8th St. to the north city limit of Wellington.

This work covers the widening, reconditioning and resurfacing of the present highway and calls for the construction of two additional lanes, from Lutie south approximately 8.6 miles. These two additional lanes are being constructed in lieu of required climbing lanes at approximately the same construction cost.

O. V. Johnson, Sr. Resident Engineer of Wellington, will be in charge of this project, and it is estimated that the contract will be let in the spring of 1971.

"Plug Economic Leaks" Says Baggary

Awards Presented at C-C Banquet Monday Evening

"Plug your economic leaks. It is not what you make, it's what you keep," Tutia editor H. M. Baggary told 314 interested listeners at the Collingsworth Chamber of Commerce banquet Monday evening, Feb. 2.

This was the last and hardest of four things Mr. Baggary said towns like Wellington and Tutia can do for themselves to solve their own economic problems.

Compared to this, going out and getting a large industrial plant is easy, and solving the farm problem is easy, he declared.

Mr. Baggary's penetrating talk on community development closed a fast-moving banquet program with Judge Charles Reynolds of Childress as the master of ceremonies.

Another highlight was the presentation of four awards for outstanding service.

C. T. Hubbard, on behalf of the Wellington State Bank, received a plaque for the best Christmas decoration by a business firm for the 1969 holiday.

Mrs. Leon Roberts of Gibson's was named the sales person most efficient and courteous to customers.

The community service award went to Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Harwell.

R. L. Mabery received the Outstanding Conservation Farmer Award presented by Salt Fork Soil Conservation District.

The retiring president, Ralph Owens, outlined 1969 accomplishments of the Chamber and paid tribute to the number of small industries the county has, some employing no more than two or three persons.

Deskins Wells, 1970 president, presented the other officers and the directors and introduced the speaker.

Mr. Baggary took note of the problems of small towns compared to those of the cities, pointing out that farmers are penalized for their efficiency and that small towns suffer accordingly.

First on his list of things that will plug small town economic leaks is buying at home. Women handle most of the retail dollar, he noted.

"Every time you take a dollar out of town you jeopardize every salary in town, including your husband's. Every dollar spent here is a boost to his salary and to the economy of the town."

Recognizing the responsibility of the merchants, he added:

"I am asking you to be self-ish and spend every dollar in Wellington. If you did that for 30 days, you'd have the boom I was talking about from industry."

First of the four things small towns can do to help themselves is to recognize that agriculture is an industry.

"If we could get big industry into Wellington, it would still be second to agriculture," he said.

"Agriculture is our No. 1 industry and too often we treat it like an unwanted step-child."

Deadline February 2

Late Filings Add to List of Candidates

Collingsworth County political activity picked up sharply just before the filing deadline Monday, Feb. 2. Mrs. John Coleman, Democratic County Chairman, has revealed.

But on the district level there is the almost unprecedented situation in which no candidates filed on the Democratic ticket for Congressman of the 18th District or Representative of the 75th Legislative District, posts now held by two Republicans.

100th Judicial District Judge Charles Reynolds, who is seeking a place as associate judge of the court of criminal appeals at Amarillo, filed with the state democratic chairman, who will in turn notify the county chairman of the candidacy.

Filings announced by Mrs. Coleman for the May 2 primary are:

Five men have filed for Commissioner of Precinct 4, the first time in recent years any county or precinct office has drawn such a large number.

Electra, Childress

Rockets Play Away From Home This Week

Wellington Skyrockets and Rockettes will travel to Electra Friday, Feb. 6, then on Tuesday, Feb. 10, the boys varsity and B teams will meet Childress on the Bobcat court.

"We defeated Electra when we played them here, but they always give us some problems when they play at home," said Coach James Stavenhagen.

"These should be good games but the outcome of the Tuesday night games with Shamrock will have their bearing on the Electra games."

Wellington is not out of the running for district 2-AA leadership.

"But our boys have got to win them all to share in this lead. They are capable of doing it if they will get down to business," Stavenhagen declared.

Quannah Indians still are on top in district play, having won all their games. Childress ranks second with only one loss. Wellington has two defeats to overcome and Shamrock has lost four games.

In the bottom half of the district are Iowa Park, Electra, Seymour and Memphis.

Winners in Friday night's games, in addition to Wellington, were Childress, Quannah and Electra.

Price Support Payments

Cotton Producers to Get Increase in 1970

STAMFORD—Producers in 13 counties in the northern end of the Rolling Plains, largely those along Red River or in the river valley, will realize more than $3.8 million increase in total price support payments on the 1970 crop than they earned last year.

This assessment was made by Charles Bragg, executive vice president of the Rolling Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., following release of 1970 projected yields, acreage allotments and payment rates by the State ASC Committee.

Price support payments in the 13 counties will total $17,921,825 in 1970, an increase of $3,852,644 over the $14,064,181 earned on the 1969 crop, he said. The increase will accrue as the result of several factors.

They include a 215-pound over-all boost in projected yields by the State Committee for the counties, against a total decrease of only 66 pounds in four of the 13. Also, a 2.07 cent-a-pound hike in the payment rate on the upcoming crop and a total increase of 29,270 acres in allotments for the section.

Three of the counties received the biggest increase in projected yields of any of the 32 counties in the area. King County's jump of 51 pounds, from 267 to 318, was the biggest hike in the Rolling Plains. Wichita followed with an increase of 44 pounds, from 303 to 347. Childress marked the third highest jump, from 325 to 363 for a gain of 38 pounds.

Donley County lost 43 pounds, being cut from 332 to 289. This was the second highest reduction in yields in the Rolling Plains, exceeded only by Mitchell's loss of 54 pounds.

Following is a comparison of total price support payments to farmers in the 13 counties on their 1969 and 1970 cotton crops:

Junior Teams Second, Third in Tournament

Wellington Junior High boys won second place in the Shamrock Junior High Tournament, and the girls third place, it has been announced by Coach Carroll Nunnelley.

Trophies were awarded Saturday night, Jan. 31, the closing session of the three-day meet.

The Firecrackers defeated Samnorwood boys 43 to 14 in the first round Thursday, then won over McLean boys 49 to 22 in the second round of play.

Their loss in the championship finals Saturday night was to Shamrock Junior High 55 to 41.

High scorers for Wellington in the first game were Dickie Johnson 11, Randall Hodges and Brent Wade, 10 each; Joel Rainey had 4 for Norwood.

Mike Williams led the scoring in the McLean game with 18 points and Brent Wade was high in the finals with 12.

The Junior High girls defeated Norwood girls in a tight 26-25 score in the first round, then lost to McLean 35 to 26 in the second.

They came back to defeat Erick, Okla., 26 to 21 in the game to determine third place.

Phyllis Sullivan led the scoring in each game, 16, 13 and 11 for a total of 40 points.

Coach Nunnelley had praise for both boys and girls teams. "They did a real good job in the face of strong competition," he said.

Wheat, Feed Sign-up Opens

Government Cotton Sign-Up Delayed

There has been a short delay in starting the cotton sign-up under the government farm program, Bob Weatherly, county executive director of the Collingsworth County ASCS announced.

The sign-up was to have started Monday, Feb. 2.

The feed grain and wheat program are unchanged, and any farmer interested in only those two may go ahead and sign up, Mr. Weatherly continued.

Farmers will be notified when the cotton sign-up will be open, he added.

The 1970 Upland Cotton program is the same as for 1969. Producers may plant their full cotton allotment and a price support payment of 16.80¢ per pound times their yield will be made on 65% of the allotment. There will be no diverted acres on cotton.

To participate in the 1970 wheat program, producers will be required to divert at least the minimum acreage which is 30.3% of the allotment to be eligible to earn certificate payments on the planted wheat acreage up to 48% of the farm allotment.

There will be no diversion payment on the required minimum diversion, however a producer may sign up to divert an additional 50% of the allotment and earn a diversion payment based on 50% of the county wheat loan rate times the farm's projected yield.

Small farms with allotments of 19.2 acres or less will be able to divert the entire allotment for payment.

Under the feed grain program, all farms participating in the program may divert as little as 20% of their feed grain base and qualify for price support payments.

Farms with feed grain base of more than 25 acres may divert additional acreage for diversion payment up to the larger of 25 acres or 50% of the feed base.

Payment rates for land diverted above the qualifying 20% will be based on 40% of the total county support rate (loan rate, plus price support payment rate which is $1.22 per bushel) times the farm's projected yield of the crops involved.

Betty Crocker Awards Go to Three Area Girls

The 1970 Betty Crocker Homemaker of the Year was announced late last week in three area schools. This is an honor reserved for senior girls.

The Wellington award winner is Kathy Cox; Ruth Dwight was named from Samnorwood and Debbie Powers from Arnett.

Kathy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cox, is editor of the school annual this year and she also works in the high school office.

She is a Beta Club officer, a member of the Student Council and was chosen Best All Around Girl. Also she is a Pep Squad officer.

Ruth's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dwight. She is president of her FHA Chapter a member of the basketball team, Lions Club Sweetheart and president of the Methodist Youth Fellowship, co-editor of the annual, and a member of Beta.

Debbie is an active member of the Arnett senior class, has a long list of accomplishments that go back through the time she has attended this school.

In addition to receiving a specially designed silver charm from General Mills, sponsor of the annual homemaking education program, the girls are now eligible for one of 102 college scholarships totaling $110,000.

From school winners in the state, a State Homemaker of Tomorrow and runner-up will be selected within the next few weeks. The state winner will be awarded a $1,500 scholarship and the runner-up a $500 educational grant. In addition, the school of the state Homemaker of Tomorrow will receive a complete set of Encyclopedia Britannica Co.

This spring, the 51 Homemakers of Tomorrow representing every state and the District of Columbia each accompanied by a school advisor, will join for an expense-paid educational tour of Washington, D.C., and Colonial Williamsburg, Va. Climax of the tour will be announcement of the 1970 Betty Crocker All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow. Selected from the 51 finalists on the basis of original test scores and personal observation and interviews during the tour, she will be awarded an increase in her scholarship to $5,000. Second-, third- and fourth-ranking Homemakers of Tomorrow in the nation will also be chosen, and will receive scholarship increases to $4,000, $3,000 and $2,000 respectively.

New Tax Form 1040 Issued

The new Form 1040 for income tax returns replaces both the former card form 1040a and the old form 1040. It has spaces for information only on the front, with no spaces on the back for itemized deductions, dividends, interest, capital gains and losses and similar data.

Separate sheets, called "schedules", will have to be attached for such items, explains Linda Jacobsen, Extension home management specialist, Texas A&M University.

Internal Revenue Service estimates that 31 million taxpayers will need only form 1040, 20 million will have to file only that form plus schedule A for itemized deductions, and 26 million will need three or more forms.

Other forms which people may need include: schedule B, if gross dividends or interest exceed $100; schedule C, if reporting business or professional income; schedule D, for any capital gains or losses; schedule E, for income from pensions, annuities, rents, royalties, partnerships, and other miscellaneous sources; schedule F, to report farm income; schedule G, if benefits of income-averaging are claimed; schedule R, for claiming retirement income credit; and schedule SE, to report income from self-employment.

Some taxpayers also will have to add a schedule T for investment credit, foreign tax credit, self-employment taxes, recoupment of an investment creditor for a prior year, or retirement income credit. Other taxpayers will need a schedule T only as a work sheet.

More Chickens in American Pots

The average American had more chicken, turkey, beef, rice and fruit in 1969 than in 1968. He ate less lamb, veal, eggs, butter and milk but about the same amount of cheese, coffee, ice cream, melons, cereal and bakery goods. All told, that is more than 1,400 pounds of food, reports Extension Consumer Marketing Specialist Gwendolyn Clyatt.

1970's May Be Record Decade in Traffic Fatalities

What will the decade of the 1970's be traffic fatality wise in Texas? Here are some facts that could give you an idea. There were 25,000 persons killed in Texas traffic during the 1950's and 30,000 killed during the 1960's. If the past and present trend continues, the 1970's will be another record decade.

All motor vehicle owners who still have their inspection stickers on the lower right-hand side of their windshields, are reminded that April 15 is the deadline for having the new stickers placed on the lower left-hand side of their windshields. Only about 16% of the registered vehicles in this county have been inspected.

Enrollment for Supplemental Medicare Open Until March 31

ENROLLMENT FOR—2 c must

The annual period for enrolling in the supplemental medical insurance program under Medicare will end on March 31, 1970, according to Travis C. Briggs, manager of the Amarillo social security office. This will be the last opportunity for many persons over 65 to become eligible for the doctor bill part of Medicare. Those enrolling during this period will have this coverage effective July 1, 1970.

A representative of the Amarillo office will be at the courthouse in Wellington on Feb. 10, 17 and 24, between 8:30 a.m. and 11:30 a.m.

This part of Medicare helps pay for doctor bills and other related medical services and is separate from the hospital part of the law. The medical part is paid for by the participants paying $4 a month—which will increase to $5.30 in July—with the government matching the costs from general revenue.

Each year, January through March, there is a general enrollment period giving those over age 65 who are still eligible to enroll another chance. One must enroll within three years after his first opportunity to enroll at age 65.

Persons born Oct. 1, 1901, or earlier who have never enrolled are no longer eligible. Those born after Oct. 1, 1901, are still eligible during this period.

The general enrollment period does not apply to persons just becoming 65, or to those already enrolled. It is just for those over 65 who have never enrolled in the doctor bill part of Medicare, or for those who were enrolled and dropped out in 1967 or later.

Additional information about the enrollment and the forms to enroll can be secured from the Amarillo or any other social security office.

Sneakers Come Air-Conditioned

COLLEGE STATION. — New air-conditioned tennis shoes and sneakers fit comfortably into the warm Texas picture for summer and fall. Woven from Cordura nylon the shoe uppers are light weight and durable.

Fannie Brown Eaton, Extension clothing specialist explains that Cordura, an abrasion-resistant textile, is more than twice as strong as cotton duck of comparable thickness but weighs only half as much. The fabric is cool to wear because it breathes through hundreds of tiny openings that let air in to the feet. Shoes are machine washable in medium water temperatures, non-shrinking and quick-drying. The casuals, called Jeepers, are available in sizes for women, misses, children, men and boys in several colors, Miss Eaton says.

Dakil Approved for Midland College Post

ODESSA. — Regents of the Odessa Junior College District confirmed the appointment of Camal C. Dakil, counselor at Midland College and former counselor at Midland High School, as dean of student affairs at Midland College.

Born and reared in Wellington, Mr. Dakil is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Farris, now of Shamrock, and the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Mack Saied, Sr.

Dakil, a Midlander since 1966, replaces Charles D. Hays whose resignation was accepted Tuesday night. Hays is leaving the college to complete his doctoral studies in junior college administration at Texas A&M University.

The new dean of student affairs received his bachelors and masters degrees at West Texas State University and has completed other graduate work at the University of Texas.

He served as coach and student counselor at Dumas High School for seven years before being named a counselor at Midland High School in 1966.

He later served as personnel manager for Windecker Research, Inc., before joining Odessa College as a counselor last August. He was assigned to Midland College as a counselor in October.

He and his wife, Nancy, a teacher at Bonham Elementary School, have two children, David 10, and Susan, 9.

He is a Rotarian and a member of St. Luke's Methodist Church.

Moon to Mars Feeding Tackled

COLLEGE STATION. — Although a space flight to Mars is at least 17 years away, the problem of feeding astronauts on the 28-month trip already is being tackled.

Food must be produced aboard the spacecraft by physico-chemical techniques and growing plant life, the Chief of Food and Nutrition for the National Space Aeronautics and Space Administration, Houston, said recently at Texas A&M University.

Dr. Malcolm Smith, Jr., said that on the Mars mission, potable water and oxygen from human and cabin waste products will be required.

Heating and carrying food stuffs are two problems.

The Apollo Command Module and the Lunar Module have no equipment for heating or storing frozen foods but scientists and engineers at NASA expect to conquer these problems in the near future.

Microwave energy, like that used in new microwave kitchen ovens, may be used to heat foods despite high power requirements and electromagnetic interference, Smith said. Weightless conditions in space make conventional oven heating impossible. The foods team is trying to develop a variety of foods that are highly palatable and tops in nutritional quality. Smith said his researchers attempt to determine the food preferences of each astronaut by several interviews with him and his wife.

But, he said, some foods may not be popular if they are repeated frequently on prolonged space flights.

"I think eventually we will have flight food systems like submarines and later on large galleys and dining areas where food can regain its role as a nutrient for the body and the mind," Smith concluded.

Notes from Your County Home Demonstration Agent

By Mrs. Leta Hill

For Valentine greetings in the form of a sweet dessert try this heart-shaped meringue filled with lemon. The recipe makes four to six small meringues or a large one.

Before preparing the meringue shell, line a cookie sheet with unglazed brown paper on which is traced a large heart or small hearts if you wish individual servings.

Beat four egg whites until frothy, then add a half teaspoon cream of tartar and gradually add one cup sifted granulated sugar. Beat until the mixture is stiff.

Add a half teaspoon vanilla and a few drops of red food coloring.

Now, using a pastry tubes or tablespoon, outline the heart design with the meringue. This makes a border. Then build up the outer edge of the border to about a half inch and in the center put just a bit of meringue for a base.

Bake in a slow oven 275 degrees until set. The large heart will take about one hour to cook—the smaller ones from 25 to 30 minutes.

To remove the meringue easily from the brown paper, lift the paper and all from the pan and place a damp towel on the warm cookie sheet. Replace the paper and meringue and after a minute of steaming the meringue will loosen from the paper.

Fill the heart with a favorite lemon or other fruit filling or with ice cream.

Maybe you'd like to try this for a special treat for your family on Valentine Day.

New Dry Whole Milk

Ten years of research have produced a new dry whole milk powder which may successfully meet the ultimate trial: it tastes like milk.

The product, Dairy Fresh, was developed by U.S. Department of Agriculture research engineers. In marketing tests it proved itself successful as a beverage.

In the tests made just about everyone who bought and used the new powder could not tell the difference between it and fresh fluid milk.

Nonfat dry milk powders are not new; they have been sold in supermarkets for years. But powdered whole milk, prior to Dairy Fresh, was not generally sold in retail outlets. It went mainly to the institutional trade usually for cooking and baking.

Dairy Fresh is made by a continuous vacuum foam process which pasteurizes, homogenizes and concentrates whole milk and reduces it to powder.

A can of the Dairy Fresh powder can be reconstituted to the equivalent of one quart of whole milk, with a butterfat content of 3.25 percent.

The powder can be stored under normal home refrigeration for six months. To reconstitute, homemakers add cold water to the powder in an electric mixer or shaker.

Virtually all Dairy Fresh users in the market test gave it high scores when asked to rate its taste, wholesomeness, costs and richness. And when asked to compare Dairy Fresh with fresh fluid milk, the great majority considered it as good or better than fresh milk on all of these counts except richness.

This new powdered milk does not cut into another product's market. The test homemakers like the "ease of storage" characteristic.

Dairy Fresh will open new outlets for milk in camping, resort homes and for special uses. Fluid milk sales during the test period were not affected by Dairy Fresh.

Look for it soon in your local markets.

Wellington Beta Delagates Attend State Convention

By Susan Oney

The 12th annual Texas Beta Club convention was held at the Statler-Hilton Hotel in Dallas Jan. 23 and 24.

Attending from Wellington were Malicia Junod, Lillian McKinney, Susan Peters, Beth Peters, Kathy Scott, Kathy Scott, Susan Oney, Mike Davis, Stan Parker, Danny Watts, and the sponsors, Mrs. Ben Ratliff and Charles Floyd.

Registration was from 12:00 noon to 6:00 p.m. with the first general assembly at 7:30 in the Grand Ballroom.

Gary Stretcher, Texas Beta president from Millsap, presided. A song session was followed by presentation of the colors, then Gary gave his key note address, "Get Involved."

The first general assembly also included the campaign rally for candidates for state officers. Richard Cordes, vice president in 1969, led the rally. Each candidate gave a two-minute campaign speech. Following one-minute demonstrations on stage for each candidate, each person running for office answered questions extemporaneously.

Richard Cordes gave his message as vice president at the second general assembly on Saturday morning. His inspirational talk was about the Texas Farm Bureau Citizenship Seminar held at Waco. He, along with other Texas youth, was taught the value of our government and its constitution and the immediate need to preserve it. Richard shared the knowledge he learned with his fellow Betans.

Bill Krisher, director of the Southwest Regional Fellowship of Christian Athletes was the guest speaker. His skill in speaking to young people, along with his sense of humor, made him a big hit with all the Beta members.

The group then divided into special conferences for presidents and vice presidents of chapters, projects and plans, and secretaries and treasurers.

Individual voting for state officers was from 9:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon Saturday.

Full time was provided on Saturday afternoon for sponsors and Beta members to go sight-seeing, visiting, or any other personal activity.

The third general session was opened at 6:00 p.m. Saturday night. The talent show was held at this session, then the new state officers were installed. J. Rice was elected president, Tommy Fenter, vice president, and Janice Cartwright, secretary.

SOIL TESTING TIME

Pantry Shower Given Bride

The home of Miss Susan Oney was the setting for a pantry shower honoring Mrs. Jim Frank Lindsey, a recent bride.

The event was held Wednesday afternoon, and other hostesses were Miss Pam Guthrie, Miss Katly Tyler, and Miss Linda Williams.

Guests visited informally and refreshments of pop and cookies were served.

Approximately 40 friends called between 4:30 and 6:00 p.m.

Eye-Witness Account of London Musical Given Wellington Club

On January 20, Wellington Music Club members met with Mrs. L. W. Wells, with Mrs. Don Van Pelt as co-hostess.

During the business session, with Mrs. Dan Henard, Jr., presiding, general plans for National Music Week were finalized.

Recognition was made of recent guest performers.

An unusually festive program was presented by Mrs. Wells, as those present became "first nighters by proxy" to attend a production of Anne of Green Gables. Just this month Mrs. Wells and her sister, Mrs. Mildred Starr, were in London to see this musical, in which Pat Starr is a member of the original cast.

Each member received a colorful play bill of the musical. Taken from the book series by L. M. Montgomery, "Anne of Green Gables" recently received Variety's 1969 Award for Best Recorded Musical.

Excerpts from the recording were presented.

Critics and audiences continue to acclaim this production at The New Theatre.

Part of the show will represent in Expo 70 in Japan.

Then the group also saw playbills of plays and ballets which Mrs. Wells and Mrs. Starr saw while in London.

Those present were Mrs. Henard, Mrs. Harry Patterson, Mrs. Kyle Lindsey, Mrs. Tony White, Mrs. Van Pelt, Mrs. Allen J. Peters, Mrs. B. M. Sims and Mrs. Wells.

The next meeting will be an American Folk Music Concert, with autoharp guest artist Mrs. Bob Fowler of Memphis.

60th Anniversary

Cubs, Scouts Observe National Week Feb. 7-14

Wellington Boy Scouts and Cubs will observe National Boy Scout Week from Saturday, Feb. 7 through Friday, Feb. 13. This is the 60th anniversary of Boy Scouts of America, and this year's slogan is "America's Manpower Begins with Boypower."

Cub Scouts of three dens will attend church services as groups, the boys wearing their blue Cub uniforms, according to Cubmaster Bill Anders.

Boys of Den 1 will attend the Church of Christ, Den 2 the First Baptist Church, and Den 3 the First United Methodist Church.

The boys will also wear their uniforms throughout the week, continuing their February theme that "Cub Scouts Give Good Will" through their various activities in the community.

They will make plans for their annual Blue and Gold Banquet on Feb. 26, Mr. Anders said. This will be a family affair, with a pot luck supper preceding the program. Special guests will be the officers of Wellington Kiwanis Club, the sponsoring organization, as well as the den chiefs.

The banquet will be at 7:00 p.m. in Bura Handley Community Center.

Boy Scouts of Troop 32 have no special activities planned for Boy Scout Week, although they will be encouraged to attend their own churches, wearing their Scout uniforms, said Scoutmaster Glen McLain.

Students Hear Bill Collins Jr.

Bill Collins, Jr., manager of community development services for Lone Star Gas Company, discussed "Our Home Town" for Wellington High School and Junior High students Tuesday, Jan. 27.

He discussed everything that makes up a town—businesses, residential areas, streets, etc. Mr. Collins stressed that more pride must be shown in the general appearance of Wellington, and more work must be done to improve it.

Score sheets for "Our Home Town" were distributed so the students might rate each part of their town.

Mr. Collins accompanied his commentary with slides. He was introduced by Lynn Jenkins, president of Wellington Rotary Club and secretary of the Chamber of Commerce.

The Skyrocket Youth Conference was the joint sponsor of this appearance.

PSE Pork New Problem

COLLEGE STATION. — A relatively new problem in swine production, pale, soft, exudative pork (PSE), or pale watery pork, has been found in Texas A&M University studies to be associated with fast-gaining, meat-type hogs.

Dr. G. T. King of the A&M Animal Science Department said the purpose of the research was to determine causes and physical and chemical traits responsible for PSE pork.

Several factors appeared to affect the condition, he explained. One of these was sex. Of the 117 carcasses evaluated in the project, barrows generally had a better loin score than did gilts.

In breed effect, Durocs and Yorkshires scored second highest in loin color.

Overall, the faster gaining and more efficient pigs produced the most PSE pork, compared to slower gaining and less efficient pigs. It was also noted as the age of the animal increased, the amount of PSE pork produced decreased.

And finally, King and his associates, Dr. Z. L. Carpenter and W. B. Tuley, found that rapid environmental temperature changes brought on higher incidences of pale, watery pork.

PSE pork, King said, has less eye appeal for consumers, and could cause a merchandising problem.

Mr. and Mrs. Quince Fulton of Fort Worth spent the week end with his mother, Mrs. D. E. Fulton. Their daughter, Jeanie Quinn, was on a ski vacation in Colorado.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Ford and Mrs. J. L. Burt spent the past week end visiting Mr. and Mrs. Roy Brinson and Mr. and Mrs. Burt Brinson and sons at Frith.

Visiting in the home of Mrs. L. A. Gilmore over the week end were her son, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Gilmore of Canyon.

1970 License Plate Sales Brisk in County

Motor vehicle license purchases were brisk during the first two days after they went on sale in the office of Mrs. Rita Owens, county tax assessor-collector.

She reminded that this year, the purchaser need only bring the completed registration form which was mailed earlier to all vehicle owners in Texas.

All tags bearing letters and numerals are the same color this year, white luminescent background for better night visibility, with blue lettering.

Personalized tags are white luminescent plates with green letters.

Mrs. Owens' office received 2195 plates for passenger cars, numbered BNC 975 through BNG 199.

The 625 truck tags are numbered 1 E 5050 through 1 E 5674, and the 825 farm truck tags from 8 A 8825 through 8 A 9649.

The office also received 1100 farm trailer tags, 225 trailer tags, along with special trailer, house trailer, and motorcycle license plates.

Tags may be put on as soon as they are purchased, and this year's deadline is midnight April 1.

Cudd Attends ATA Meeting

Wayne Cudd left Wednesday for Denver, Colo., to attend a one-day area meeting of the American Truckers Association. He is representing the livestock carriers.

He and Mrs. Cudd were in Austin Jan. 26 and 27, where he attended a meeting of directors of the Texas Motor Transportation Association.

While in Austin, Mr. and Mrs. Cudd were joined by friends, Mr. and Mrs. Miller Asher of Smiley.

Fabric Showing Slated Sat.

Mary Graham Earp, sales representative in Denton for Leiter's Famous Designer Fabrics, will hold a showing of these fabrics at the home of her mother, Mrs. Grover Graham Saturday, February 7, from 2:00 to 4:00 p.m.

The collection will feature materials used by famous name couturiers, and both imported and American fabrics are included.

Mrs. Earp, who will be here for a week end visit with her parents, has invited the women of the Wellington area to attend this showing.

Working Wives Make Difference in Living Standard

COLLEGE STATION. — Income that working wives bring home often makes a big difference in living standards. For families near the edge of poverty, the wife's earnings at least assure a supper.

A recent study of rural South Carolina families showed that where the husband and wife worked, only one in every eight families lived in seriously deprived economic conditions, reports Doris Myers, Extension home management specialist.

When there was no breadwinner in the family, the percentage increased. One in four families were seriously deprived.

Men In Service

Sgt. Roger Norman Black, now at home on 20-day furlough, will leave Feb. 15 for six months duty in Germany. It is his second overseas assignment.

During his year's tour of duty with the 82nd Airborne Division in Vietnam, he was awarded the Bronze Star twice and the Army Commendation Medal.

For the last six months he was stationed with the 118th Artillery at Ft. Sill, Okla.

His wife, Barbara, will remain in Wellington with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Black, while he is in Germany.

Imports Supply Eighth of Food

COLLEGE STATION. — One-eighth of the things we eat comes from another land. This fact, says W. E. Black, Extension economist in marketing and policy at Texas A&M University, is based on the most recent U.S. Department of Agriculture food imports figures.

Some of these imports, he adds, compete directly with foods we grow here in this country. Among these are some meats, dairy products, and fruit and vegetable products. Such imports work some hardship on our farmers, but to our consumers it means competition and more attractive food prices, explains Black.

However, a large proportion of our imported eating is in items not grown in this country, yet are a part of nearly every meal. It's pretty hard to think of eating many meals without a steaming (or iced) cup of coffee, tea or cocoa. Yet all of these beverages come from other countries... Asia, Africa, South and Central America, notes Black.

Too, it's pretty hard to imagine meats without pepper, hot rolls without cinnamon, gingerbread without ginger, ham without cloves—you could go on and on. Cooking and, of course, eating, would be very boring without spices and herbs. Here again we rely heavily upon overseas friends to help us out.

A very high proportion of our most popular and widely used flavoring agents come from other countries. Pepper from East Indies, cinnamon from Indo-China, cloves from Zanzibar, oregano from Greece, allspice from Honduras, poppy seeds from Holland... the whole world helps make our meals tasty and different.

Another food, and one of our favorites, for which we rely upon overseas friends is bananas. They come to us from South or Central America or the Caribbean countries.

One bite in eight—that's how much of our food comes from overseas. While some of it competes directly with our own foods, much is types and kinds we wouldn't otherwise have but like very much.

Teen Rebellion Can be Constructive

AUSTIN—Teenagers rebelling against apathy are the subject of a book written by Mrs. Bert Kruger Smith, assistant for mental health education at The University of Texas Hogg Foundation for Mental Health.

"Boomerang Friendship" is the story of the TARS (Teens Aid the Retarded), a volunteer youth organization sponsored by the Association for the Retarded Children in Texas, and is designed for use by teachers and others working with teenagers in various youth projects.

Booklets in quantities up to 100 copies are available at 25¢ each. Orders should be sent to the Texas Association for Retarded Children, 704 Littlefield Building, Austin, Texas 78701.

Trio Attends THDA Meeting

The District I THDA Training Meeting was held in the First Christian Church at Shamrock on January 29 at 10:00 a.m. Mrs. Leo Begner, district director, presided.

Seibert Worley, president of the Chamber of Commerce, welcomed the THDA women to Shamrock and Wheeler county.

Plans were made for the district meeting to be held April 16 in Hereford. The THDA State Meeting will be held in September in Galveston. Collingsworth County delegates to the district meet will be elected in the regular council meeting February 9 in the county courtroom, according to Mrs. Creed Hill, home demonstration agent.

Mrs. Begner announced that a donation had been made to a cancer fund in memory of Mrs. A. M. Saunders, Collingsworth County THDA Chairman.

Sixty-seven women from over the Panhandle district attended this meeting. Those attending from Collingsworth County were Mrs. Malcolm Horton, Mrs. Haskell Manuel, and Mrs. Hill.

Father Burke Rejects Move

The city of Wellington came close to losing its only Londoner last week.

Father Pat Burke disclosed to The Wellington Leader that on Jan. 21 he received a letter from the Bishop of the Amarillo Diocese, asking him if he would like to be transferred to Perryton as Parish Priest. The change would have been effective Feb. 1.

Father Pat said the decision was a difficult one, and he spent three days wrestling with it, before writing to Bishop Lawrence DeFalco and asking to be left here until something better. Father Pat said:

"My first love has always been teaching children, and I would like my next parish to be one with a school of my own. Until one like that, or a city parish, becomes available, I would like to stay in Wellington."

This town and its delightful people have grown on me for the past eight years, and I have made many friends among adults and children alike. When I do eventually have to leave, it will be quite a wrench."

Bishop DeFalco wrote to Father Pat since then, and expressed his willingness to go along with the priest's wishes, until something more to his liking came along. The Bishop also informed Father Pat that he will be visiting Wellington and Shamrock very soon.

Spanish Style Furniture Tops

COLLEGE STATION.—Spanish-Mediterranean styled furniture still is the top selling style but sales in modern and contemporary styles are increasing the fastest.

Bonny Lay, Extension housing and home furnishings specialist, reports on a semi-annual survey conducted by the home furnishings trade newspaper, "Home Furnishings Daily."

According to rooms, Spanish rules in the bedroom, dining room and family room. It was listed second behind traditional for the living room.

Green, whether solid or the dominating color in a print, is the favorite color for both traditional and modern furnishings. Gold was second with black-brown-beige neutrals, and yellows and blues showing a definite increase in popularity, Miss Lay says.

In woods, walnut dominates the modern, contemporary and Scandinavian styles; whereas pecan is for Spanish-Mediterranean styles. Maple continues to be favored for Early American; fruitwood for French and Italian; and mahogany for 18th century styles.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Melton during the week end were Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Melton and Kevin of Galveston and their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Harmon Elliott of Muleshoe.

Mr. and Mrs. Slick Sullivan of Graham were here over the week end visiting with Mrs. Velma Cates and family.

Mrs. Bernice Welch of Fort Worth was here over the week end attending to business and visiting with friends. She returned home Tuesday by Snyder, Okla., to attend the funeral of a relative. Fort Worth schools had a holiday Monday for the Fat Stock Show.

Wellington Takes Double Header From Iowa Park

Wellington Skyrockets defeated Iowa Park boys and girls in a double header played on the Hawks' court Friday evening, Jan. 30.

The boys edged Iowa Park 72 to 61. Bobby Saled led the scoring with 23 points, while Lester Robinson made 18. Bob Duggins was high pointer for Iowa Park with 28.

"We had a close ball game, for we didn't play exceptionally well," said Coach James Stavenhagen. "I was happy to win, especially with Iowa Park and playing no better than we did."

Scoring was even at the end of the first period, 14-14. Then Wellington began moving ahead a few points per quarter and never allowed the Hawks to get the upper hand.

Wellington girls won 44-13, playing well both offensively and defensively. They jumped to a 16-5 lead by the end of the first period, then allowed their opponents only two points in the second period and one in the final quarter.

Pam Guthrie was Wellington's leading scorer with 22 points. Kathy Singley had 15. Leading the Iowa Park point-makers was Sue Crawford with 5.

"I felt like our girls played a real good, controlled ball game," praised their coach.

"They are beginning to take advantage of their opponents' mistakes and as a result they are scoring less, but they keep the opponents down."

Fire Damages Small House

Fire which broke out late Wednesday night, Jan. 28, heavily damaged a three-room house owned by Mrs. W. E. McDonald at 400 13th Street, Fire Chief Jim Sikes reported.

The blaze started near the kitchen range, and firemen fought the blaze for approximately an hour and a half, Mr. Sikes said.

Two grass fires that originated from burning trash in cans in alleys were reported Sunday. One of these was at 402 Dallas Street and the other at 100 Belton, according to the fire chief.

A call about 9:15 a.m. at South Side Salvage proved to be a false alarm, he added.

Cotton Industry Trends Noted

COLLEGE STATION. — Efforts to improve the competitive position of American cotton should be continued and intensified, says a Texas A&M University agricultural economist.

John G. McHaney, Extension economist, in reviewing some cotton industry trends for periods in the early and late 1960s points out that worldwide both the production and consumption of cotton are on the increase.

During the period from 1960-62, the United States was producing an average of 14.6 million bales annually. But, he notes, the picture was much different for the 1966-68 period. American production dropped 36% to an average of 9.4 million bales annually.

What happened in foreign countries? McHaney says production for the earlier period averaged 31.9 million bales compared with 40.3 million bales for the later period. This is an increase of 26%. The implications are simple, he says, more competition for American cotton.

He adds that cotton consumption in the world has not declined. For the 1960-62 period, world consumption averaged 45.9 million bales and from 1966-68 it rose by 14% to 52.4 million bales annually.

And on U.S. exports, he says that during the earlier period they averaged about 5.1 million bales annually but declined by 22% to about 4 million bales during the later period.

Foreign free world exports have increased from an annual average of 9.4 million bales to about 11.1 million during the later period, an 18% increase. Total world exports, including communist countries, have increased from an annual average of 16.3 million bales to 17.4 million, up 7%.

The worldwide picture, the economist says, emphasizes the competition between producing countries and the need for even greater effort on the part of the American industry to regain its former standing.

Other Editors Say . . .

Double Standard

Gail Jameson, former teacher at Cloverdale, is suing Sonoma county for $257,500. She claims sheriff deputies entered her home searching for marijuana and confiscated 13 nude photographs of herself. She charges the pictures were circulated to her employers, who fired her. The state board of education then revoked her teaching credentials. Compared with activities permitted other teachers and professors, Miss Jameson's indiscretion seems minor. For examples, at Jose State, Herbert Marcuse exhorts his students to overthrow the U. S. government and install a communist regime. At UCLA, Communist Angela Davis, a black militant professor, does the same thing. They don't get fired for such trivial things as calculated treason — but Miss Jameson does for just having nude photographs of herself in the privacy of her own home. Strange paradox, isn't it — Sebastopol, Calif. Times.

Law and Order

Probably no single issue created as much emotion during the recent presidential election campaign as did that of law and order. Still, after all of the oratory and discussion, there was no general agreement as to what this issue really meant and a strong doubt remained in many persons' minds if it was really a valid issue.

Louis H. Pollak, writing in Bell Telephone Magazine, looks at this issue and the following paragraphs are from his article. No one . . . Richard Nixon, Hubert Humphrey or George Wallace — has defined it so well.

"My concern really lies with the people who yell about law and order in the perspective of law as merely a repressive process for keeping people quiet and peaceful. It is the same perspective that cries when an appellate court sets aside a criminal conviction and orders a new trial because of some procedural defect, a coerced confession, lack of a lawyer or what have you. It's the same perspective that says, 'There goes the court setting a criminal free on the basis of some technicality.'"

"How often have we heard the word 'technicality' used! The technicality that the court is concerned about is a violation of law and a very fundamental violation of law. It is a breach of centuries-old traditions in regard to how the criminal process is to be conducted. It involves some very weighty values that have to do with searching for the truth and the dignity of individual citizens. I worry very much when I hear the same people on one hand claim themselves to be proponents of law and order and on the other hand criticize judges concerned about 'technicalities.' That's the decline in respect for fundamental American values which I find distressing."

AUSTIN.—Texans who registered to vote before the Jan. 31 deadline are assured plenty of action for their 1970 registration certificate.

One of the nation's hottest U.S. Senate races is due to rage on through the Nov. 3 general election.

Sen. Ralph Yarborough, 66, of Austin, and former Congressman Lloyd M. Bentsen, Jr., 48, a Houston business executive, are major Democratic contenders for Yarborough's seat. Whoever wins will face Republican Congressman George Bush, 45, of Houston, in November.

Gov. Preston Smith, 57, a cinch to win the May 2 Democratic primary nomination in the gubernatorial race, will be challenged by Republican Paul Eggers, 50, of Wichita Falls, in the general election.

Republicans talk freely about million-dollar campaigns for Bush and Eggers.

Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin will be opposed by District Judge David Brown of Sherman in the Democratic primary and Corpus Christi attorney Edward Yturri, 42, a Republican, in November.

Republicans came up with a surprising number of statewide candidates before the Feb. 2 filing deadline.

In addition, there will be hard fought local contests in many Texas counties.

Long-time conservative leader Bard A. Logan of San Antonio said he was "tired and needed a rest" so he resigned as chairman of The American Party of Texas. Vice-Chairman H. W. Matthews of Conroe succeeds Logan until the election of a new leader at the state convention.

Chief chore of the American Party now is to get 30,000 to attend its May 2 precinct conventions, so it can qualify a gubernatorial candidate of the ballot.

And there will be a sizzling Nov. 3 battle over the liquor-by-the-drink proposition on the constitutional amendments ballot. Lines are already forming and campaigns shaping up on that.

Treasure Booklet

Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler is now distributing free copies of his booklet, "Treasure Tempest in Texas." It's about the Padre Island galleons and their cargo.

At the request of Corpus Christi Rep. Frances Farentino, State Auditor George McNiel checked on whether state facilities had been used in printing the booklets. He reported that General Land Office facilities had been employed, but that Sadler had reimbursed the agency $5,000. "It might be in order for me to observe that it is not unusual for general information brochures to be done at State expense," McNiel wrote, saying that Sadler appears to be "leaning over backwards to avoid criticism."

Printing of brochures is common practice in many state departments, as a necessary part of informing the public. Thousands of copies of various and elaborate well written and informative booklets have been provided by numerous departments to the schools and libraries of Texas. Many departments even have their own printing plants.

Pollution Fight Set

Texas Air Control Board will ask Attorney General Martin to begin legal proceedings soon against persistent air polluters, particularly in Houston and El Paso.

Pollution issue is being spotlighted by candidates from local to senatorial level.

On Jan. 29, Texas Water Quality Board called on the U.S. Navy, seven towns and three industries to explain poor quality discharges into public streams.

Navy said it would keep on dumping raw sewage into the Sabine River until it gets $146,000 for treatment facilities.

Towns invited to answer questions about their sewage discharges were Celeste, Center, Greenville, Hemphill, Newton, Quinlan and Timpson.

Attorney General Rules

County commissioners have discretionary authority to maintain streets which are an integral part of the county or state road system within a city, if the city consents, says Attorney General Martin.

In other recent opinions, Martin concluded that:

—Appropriated state funds may not be used to purchase liability insurance on an aircraft (not a "motor vehicle") under the tort claims act.

—A district attorney may not retain a percentage of monies collected as civil penalties in civil suits which he initiates on behalf of the Parks and Wildlife Department to abate water pollution.

—Banks can validly plead the statute of limitations in escheat action by the state to recover inactive accounts (four-year statute commences to run only after the bank has denied its liability to pay dividends to the rightful owner and has given notice to the owner of the dividends).

—A misdemeanor driver's license case in Wichita Falls must be tried either in the new municipal courts or the justice court, where punishment is by fine only, not to exceed $200. All other misdemeanors so arising must be tried exclusively in municipal courts.

—Probate court has no power to approve claims filed under a section of the Probate Code where claims have been rejected by operation of the law under another section of the code.

—A justice of peace in Bexar County must run for re-election this year due to mistakes in abolishing six justice precincts and creating three new ones in their place back in 1967.

Crime Session Urged

Austin newsman and businessman Wick Fowler has launched a one-man campaign for a special session of the legislature to enact "emergency laws" dealing with criminals and drunk and careless drivers.

Fowler, known as a humorist, was dead serious when he contended that only in a special session could full attention be focused on the rising crime rate and traffic dangers.

Noting there were 3,580 traffic deaths last year, he said: "Had this number been killed

CROSSROADS REPORT

I see where President Nixon's second stab at filling the vacant Supreme Court seat met opposition from such great moral forces as some labor bosses, the New York Times and our multitudinous pack of black toadies.

Of course, picking a man to fill a Final Decider job is always a gamble. There is just no way to tell when putting a judicial robe or a referee's shirt on a man will send him on an overbearance jag.

But Mr. Nixon may have trouble getting Senate approval of any Court nominee makes while he's in office if he's not careful to pick from among the Liberal-certified saints like Senator Kennedy or Dr. Spock.

and injured in one incident, say a tornado or hurricane, the state would be overwhelmed by hysteria." Fowler also pointed out that there were 400,000 major crimes committed in the state last year and the crime rate is growing. He urged Texans to petition Gov. Smith to call an emergency session of the lawmakers.

Crime Fight

Governor's Criminal Justice Council says that 84% of the 1969 federal crime control money received by governments below the state level in Texas is being used in the state's major cities. Remaining 16% is split between smaller cities, towns and rural areas. Largest amounts were Houston, $227,000; Dallas, $201,844; Fort Worth, $108,750.

At the state level, four agencies received $197,231. They were the Department of Public Safety, Department of Corrections, Adjutant General's Department, and the Commission on Law Enforcement Officer Standards and Education.

Courts Speak

Supreme Court in effect upheld the constitutionality of a law which authorizes a youngster to be declared delinquent if he is behaving so as to endanger the health or morals of himself or others.

High court dismissed the appeal of a teenager sent to a state correctional school by a county judge before an appeals court ordered him released on bond.

Third Court of Appeals denied the appeal of an Austin high school boy sent to a reform school after his school principal ordered him to empty his pockets and found marijuana. Court said the principal was acting for the father.

Supreme Court rebuffed the effort of major bus companies to prevent Corpus Christi from operating a special bus service outside its city limits.

A Houston doctor, according to the Supreme Court, should not be held liable for damages to a patient who complained that the drug given him for a urinary infection caused him to become dizzy.

HOSPITAL IMPROVEMENT

While there were no babies in St. Joseph's Hospital nursery, staff members took time from their duties to redecorate it. Two who painted were Mrs. Austin Luther, on the ladder, and Mrs. Jerol Morris, right. Among those who took over their nursing and office duties was Mrs. J. K. Porter.

Four Staff Members Redecorate St. Joseph's Hospital Nursery

Four nursing service staff members at St. Joseph's Hospital took off white uniforms and put on their painting togs to redecorate the hospital nursery, Sister Mary Perpetua has announced.

Work was completed Monday, Feb. 2.

The quartet included Mrs. Austin Luther, Mrs. Jerol Morris, Mary Lourdes Aguirre, and Mary Tingle, who is a high school girl working after class.

But back of them was another group of hospital employees who took over the nursing and office duties while the four painted.

These were Mrs. Petra Pena,

Mrs. Cora Brown, Mrs. J. K. Porter, Mrs. Author Jones, Mrs. June Jones, Mrs. Esther Allen, Mrs. Beulah Powell, Mrs. Ike Paschall, Mrs. Tommie Muddock and Mrs. Eddie Saldana. Mr. Luther, a Highway Department employee, joined the group.

Nursery walls and cabinets are now a soft white, completely re-done for the first time in several years.

Panhandle Water Conservation Urgent PEP Delegation Told

Conservation of the Panhandle's water was the theme of a meeting in Amarillo Jan. 22, attended by George Shadid, representing the Chamber of Commerce, and Dee Burba, Farm Bureau manager.

The Panhandle Economic Program (PEP) was the sponsor.

There will be no big changes in irrigation in the Panhandle, several speakers emphasized. Instead, they stressed securing maximum crop yields with the minimum amount of water.

Depletion of water reserves take several thousand acres out of irrigation each year, the men heard.

The relation of water and the Panhandle's burgeoning feedlot industry was defined, as water is needed for the grain sorghum that will be required to support this beef production.

Tailwater recovery was discussed, along with water harvesting, which entails lining playa lakes with plastic or aluminum sheeting to collect and hold runoff water.

The first cotton gin was turned by hand.

New Method Used to Form Fabrics for Home Furnishings

COLLEGE STATION. — Although weaving, knitting and felting currently account for most fabrics used in home furnishings, a new process may give stiff competition.

The new fabric, produced on an European-developed machine, is neither woven, knitted nor felted, describes Extension Specialist Jane Berry. The fabric is made by laying thousands of yarns side by side on trays where they are stitched into position by tiny needles.

The resulting fabric has several characteristics ideal for home furnishings use, notes the housing and home furnishings expert.

Malimo fabric currently is available in ready-made curtains, draperies and table linens in both solid colors and fashionable prints. In the very near future consumers will be able to purchase upholstered furniture, slip-covers and bedspreads made of malimo cloth, Miss Berry says.

Malimo technology takes much less time to produce fabric than with conventional methods. Economy of production can be passed on to the consumer in lower prices. Versatility, another asset of the process, permits a wide range of textures and patterns.

Fabrics made by the malimo process are noted for superior performance, Mrs. Barry reports. They dimensionally are stable under practically any conditions; will not stretch, sag or shrink. Most malimo fabrics may be machine washed and dried.

Soldiers Get Freeze-Dried Food Instead of C-Rations

COLLEGE STATION. — "Of course, they aren't like those meals Mom cooks, but I can't complain," a young soldier in Vietnam wrote about food packets now replacing infamous C-rations. The new packets are freeze-dried Long Range Patrol (LRP) rations.

Soldiers add water to the food or eat it dry like popcorn for light-to-carry, more nutritious and tastier meals. LRP rations weigh half what C-rations do, reports Sally Springer, Extension food and nutrition specialist, Texas A&M University.

The advantage: LRP's are quick, easy to reconstitute, and are able to withstand free-fall delivery by helicopter.

If other conditions permit, servicemen on patrol missions in the DMZ area, their counterparts in the Central Highlands and men in comparable situations elsewhere, can whip up a dinner in less than five minutes by just adding hot water.

Food scientists at U.S. Army Natick Laboratories in Massachusetts developed the food packets specifically for troops engaged in "unconventional warfare operations in remote areas."

U.S. Department of Agriculture researchers helped in technical studies and research on freeze-drying techniques which made production of the packets possible.

Each menu features one of these meat entrees:

Chicken and rice; beef and rice; beef stew; pork with scalloped potatoes; beef hash; spaghetti and meat sauce; chili con carne and chicken stew. The latter three are especially popular.

Each meal includes a dessert, usually a cereal, fruit or chocolate bar, freeze-dried coffee and often a cocoa beverage mix.

Each flexible film-packaged Long Range Patrol food packet has more than 1,000 calories.

When first used in 1964, 300,000 experimental food packets went to Vietnam. The number increased each year. More than 4 million packets went to Vietnam in fiscal 1967.

Jack Hazlewood Announces for State Senator

Amarillo attorney Jack Hazlewood said today that he will become a candidate for the Texas Senate representing the 31st Senatorial District.

Hazlewood said: "The people of the Panhandle will be faced in the Seventies with an opportunity to participate in the greatest period of growth, change and diversification yet seen in Texas. Active and dynamic leadership in the political arena is necessary if we are to have an effective and substantial involvement in these great events to come. We stand at the crossroads, and the direction we take can determine the outcome of critical events, many of which we cannot even now foresee.

"Our course will be directly affected by the quality of leadership exercised by our next Senator for the 31st Senatorial District of Texas. Whether to offer myself for nomination to this important post has been for several months a question with which I have been deeply concerned. I have been encouraged to do so by a large number of persons from all walks of life. My decision has been made after long and hard study and deliberation.

ALTERED CHECKS

Do you know what a "material alteration" on a check is? It is any change or addition which in any way changes the effect of the check.

A bank is responsible for the payment of an altered check. This does not apply, however, if the alteration was made by the drawer.

Never issue blank checks. The person in possession has the authority to fill in the check. And for any sum.

Suppose there is a discrepancy between the written amount and the numerals. Usually the written amount is assumed to be the true amount. Where a check is cancelled by mistake, the cancellation is without effect.

Suppose the name of the payee of a check is misspelled? The payee endorses his misspelled name, followed by his correct signature.

Here is some good news. Collingsworth County is one of thirteen counties in the Rolling Plains that will have an increase in cotton payments in 1970. Last year cotton growers received a total of $1,846,608 in payment for cotton acreage. This year the cotton payments will total $2,131,005, an increase of $286,397. Donley was the only county in this area that suffered a loss instead of an increase with Hall receiving the greatest total increase and Childress ranking high percentage-wise.

The increase was due to several factors, according to the Rolling Plains Cotton Growers. First was a 215-pound overall boost in projected yields plus a 2.07¢ hike in payment rate. In addition there was a 29,270 acre increase in allotments in the thirteen county area. Collingsworth has suffered most in the loss of acre allotments in the last 20 years. Somehow or other too many of our cotton acres were allowed to slip away in the past two decades. Hall and the irrigated counties on the high plains did a much better job of keeping their allotments. Anyway it is good to know that there will be over a quarter of a million dollar increase this year.

Wellington people continue to talk about the remarkable speech made by H. M. Baggarly at the Chamber of Commerce banquet Monday night. Among other things he said: "Wellington and Tulsa would both be booming if the money spent out of town were spent at home." And he also said: "When a woman trades out of town she is jeopardizing her husband's job or his business." He also said that stopping such leaks in the economy was harder than securing a meat packing plant or a similar industry.

There was a nice group of out of town people present for the banquet. In addition to Judge Charles Reynolds who may be unopposed for Associate Justice of the Court of Civil Appeals, there were four candidates for state senator present. These were: Democrats, Max Stewart, Jack Hazlewood, Mrs. Hudson Moyer, and Republican Malouf Abraham. Mayor Ernest Stroud of Amarillo had purchased a ticket but phoned his regrets at the last minute. He was probably busy filing for county judge of Randall County—a race he entered at the last minute.

Somebody over at City Hall may come across a few words from the retiring president of the Chamber of Commerce, Ralph Owens. The C of C rented the auditorium well in advance at the usual rental fee of $25 and the wives of the directors who were in charge of the table decorations and arrangements expected the place to be neat and clean when they went down to start getting the tables ready for the annual banquet. The energetic Ralph Owens went with them and thereby hangs a tale.

The small room in the Community Building where Kiwanis, Rotary and other clubs meet was neat and trim and the floors were waxed and polished. When the connecting doors were opened into the main auditorium they found a mess with debris on the floor and the floor itself looking as if it had not been waxed or polished in months. Ralph started in and had the main auditorium swept clean in a fairly short time; but it required an excessive amount of sweat.

That is not all. When the ladies started work on the tables they discovered that part of the lights were not functioning. After the city employees had fixed the lights the ladies had to perform a second cleaning job, dusting and sweeping. At the end of the banquet the directors and their wives got busy and put all the chairs and folding tables back in their place in a neat manner.

Mayor John Coleman and I put the wooden chairs that the band used on the stage back in the smaller room that is used by Kiwanis and Rotary. We put two tables where we thought they should be. Since Mrs. Aaron was so busy we could not get her ear, the Mayor and I left the lighter tables in the center of the room. That night at 11:30 Margaret Vines was called and she and Lloyd had to go down and finish what the Mayor and I had left. Ralph

Capital Accounts of Wellington State Bank Increased January 30

Following a meeting of the directors on Jan. 30, C. T. Hubbard, president of the Wellington State Bank, announced an increase in the capital account and another in the certified surplus, bringing the combined capital accounts to over three quarters of a million dollars.

In the Friday meeting, the directors voted to increase the capital stock from $100,000.00 to $150,000.00 and the certified surplus from $200,000 to $250,000. These sums, with $338,406.53 in undivided profits plus $36,433.38 in reserves brings the total capital accounts now in force to a total of $774,903.69.

"These increases in capital accounts have been made," Mr. Hubbard said, "in order that we may be able to serve the banking needs of the people of the Wellington area better."

This increase in the certified surplus comes less than one year after an increase of $100,000 was made in April of 1969. Officers of the bank are: C. T. Hubbard, president; E. M. Hunter, vice president; Paul Bell, vice president; Estellene Glenn, assistant vice president; Nadine Birchfield, assistant vice president; Jack Neeley, cashier, and Janell Brown, assistant cashier.
