2,000 Acres Of Valley Land Offered Farmers Without Cash Payment

LOW INTEREST RATE PROVIDED FOR BUYERS

Development Association To Push Colonization Program Here

40-60 ACRES TRACTS

Farmers With Abiilty Given Liberal Terms to Buy In Valley

Announcement that some of the larger land owners in the irrigated valley had agreed to market 2,000 acres, in tracts of 40 to 60 acres, at $50 per acre, with no cash payment required, on easy payments at five per cent, was made by the colonization committee of the valley development association here Tuesday afternoon.

Select Purchasers

The announcement was made at a meeting in the chamber of commerce offices of all committees. Thirty-one members were present. Jerry Vinson, vice chairman of the colonization committee, said that Dillard Anderson, chairman, had worked out details for early marketing of the tracts.

It is expected that farmers to whom the land is sold will be "hand-picked."

The colonization committee also reported that it had found that 57 per cent of the irrigated lands were owned by 20 men, including several non-residents, and that about four-fifths of the valley was farmed under the tenant system.

A number of the problems confronting the association were discussed at the meeting, which was presided over by B. B. Greever, general chairman. Two different plans were submitted, one by J. N. Sherrill, the other by the advisory committee consisting of G. C. McGown, G. A. Remington and C. H. McCullough, relative to the type of farm which should be encouraged. Each stressed dairying, poultry-raising, livestock, orchards, gardens and a diversified crop program.

Demonstration Farms

A plan for the establishment of several demonstration farms to show what can be grown in the valley was also discussed.

The purpose of the meeting was to get the several committees organized and their duties assigned. A number of talks on various phases of the valley problem were made by those present.

Tuesday's session was the initial meeting since the appointment of committees at a mass meeting here Thursday. Meetings on individual committees will be held at frequent intervals throughout the long period which will be required for the formation and execution of plans in connection with the development program, B. B. Greever, general chairman of the association, said.

The farm plan and marketing committees are expected to hold meetings within the next few days. The executive committee, composed of chairmen of all committees, will meet Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Japan Protests Soviet Troops

TOKYO, Oct. 28. (Wednesday) (AP)—Baron Shidehara, the foreign minister, in a memorandum forwarded today to Moscow, requested that Russian troop demonstrations on the Manchuria-Siberia border be discontinued. He declared the military operations might be misinterpreted.

Shidehara's communication stated the Russian troop demonstrations were causing an unpleasant effect on Japanese as well as Chinese soldiers.

The foreign minister said he was deeply concerned.

Chinese reports to the Japanese consul at Tsitsihar indicate that between 20,000 and 30,000 Russian troops are concentrated in the vicinity of Pogranitchnaya, or Suifenho, north of Vladivostok, and also west of Manchouli on another front.

A Tokyo vernacular newspapers today published Harbin dispatches stating the Russians have sent arms and ammunitions to the Amur army, composed of Chinese and Mongols, which was reported aiming to establish Amur as an independent state with Tsitsihar the capital.

The Amur troops are endangering Japanese interests on the Taonan-Anganchi railway, the dispatches said.

Murray Back in Guthrie To Fight for Program

GUTHRIE, Okla., Oct. 27. (UP)—Gov. William H. (Alfalfa Bill) Murray returned tonight to the scenes of his first political accomplishments to launch a campaign for passage of his seven-point legislative program.

Governor Murray, then plain "Bill," presided over Oklahoma's constitutional convention here in 1906, 25 years ago. He drafted the constitution and fought for its passage. Tonight, he started another fight—a fight to have the state's citizens pass his three constitutional amendments and four other proposals after they had gone down in defeat before an opposition senate in the last session of the legislature.

W. W. FRASER FALLS DEAD WHILE HUNTING

Do The Life-of-the-Party Girls Later Become Dull Wives?

Doc Laird Says Yes But Others Make Theory Debatable Point

NEW YORK, Oct. 27. (UP)—Today's burning issue on the great American campus was whether the co-ed who is the "life of the party" in college is destined to make a dull wife 10 years later.

Dr. Donald A. Laird, professor of psychology at Colgate, started the controversy by declaring that girls who have all the "it" in school soon burn out their thyroid glands. Hence, the football hero who sets his cap to marry the liveliest girl in his class may find, in the years to come, that his wife doesn't have enough of "the old pep" to pull a cat out of a barrel.

In some quarters the phychologist's theory met with mild assent; in others it was heartily approved and in still others it provoked caustic digs at its author.

Dr. Laird contends the girl with the personality plus, the girl with the snap and the pep, undergoes a definite change during the first ten years of married life and becomes a dull, unattractive woman.

He bases his views on hundreds of experiments with married couples.

"The girl who, in her late 'teens and early twenties," he said, "reaches the peak of her personality, slowly burns out the activity of the thyroid gland, which directly controls such activity."

One enemy of the theory, Dr. Ernest M. Lignon of Union college, at Schenectady, described Dr. Laird's theory as "a hasty generalization."

Stenographers, telephone operators and students in New York expressed varied views on the subject. One girl hazarded the guess that "Dr. Laird is probably a mean old man with whiskers who never got

Mrs. Judd to Bring Habeas Corpus Plea in Extradition Battle

Attorneys Claim Papers Sending Killer Back to Arizona Were Not Legal in Form

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 27. (AP)—The Winnie Ruth Judd murder case shifted today to a fight over extradition papers to send the confessed killer of two women back to Phoenix, Ariz., for trial.

Counsel for Mrs. Judd, declaring the papers, which were signed last week by Gov. George W. P. Hunt of Arizona, were of faulty legal construction, announced the intention of forcing a court review of the documents through a writ of habeas corpus.

On the heels of this declaration came a statement from the California attorney general's office that the papers had been presented by Sheriff James R. McFadden of Phoenix, found complete and signed by Gov. James Rolph Jr., of California.

Arguments Involved

If granted, the writ proposed by the defense will force a court here to permit arguments on the legality of the papers. The writ will supersede a similar action filed upon the surrender of Mrs. Judd last Friday night.

Counsel did not disclose what objection will be made but it was anticipated the brief description in the extradition papers of the killing of the victims, Miss Hedvig Samuelson and Mrs. Agnes Leroi, will be at least one basis for the contest.

The papers represent the time of the crime as Oct. 16. Mrs. Judd has said it was Oct. 17.

Probe Continues

The announcement of the defense was an about face of the position taken last night when counsel said extradition would not be opposed.

Meanwhile, the principal investigation of the crime went forward in Phoenix in a search for evidence to break down an anticipated plea of self-defense and insanity. Mrs. Judd has claimed she shot the women when they attacked her in a quarrel over a man.

Jail attaches here said they understood she has been examined by a psychiatrist and that she told him a member of her family had died in an insane asylum.

C-C AT BOWIE HEARS SENATOR

Connally Addresses Group At Annual Feast

Special to The Record News.

BOWIE, Texas, Oct. 27.—Senator Tom Connally Tuesday night addressed 150 members and guests of the Bowie Chamber of Commerce, assembled for the annual banquet and election of directors.

The speaker called present economic conditions a challenge to the courage and intellect of the state's citizenry and to its civic organizations.

"The resources of Texas lie not so much in nature's gifts but in the courage and intellect of the men and women who promote the development of these resources," he declared.

Exchange Needed

Senator Connally said that it lies with the chambers of commerce and the other organizations to solve the problem of exchange which is at the root of the present crisis.

"It is not overproduction that hampers us. It is lack of exchange facilities. Somewhere there are people who want what we have and can't use," he declared.

The speaker was introduced by D. B. Benson, chamber of commerce director and an old friend. Dr. J. T. Lawson, vice president of the organization, presided.

Directors Named

Lynn Garlington, M. L. Raines, J. C. Wood, David Warren and M. Posey were elected as new directors, to serve three years. With the 10 holdover directors they will meet next week to name officers for the coming year.

The meeting Tuesday night was held in the basement of the city auditorium. A banquet consisting almost altogether of Montague county products, including roast turkey, was prepared by the P.-T. A. of the Grammar high school. Members and guests were served by the girls of the home economic class, directed by Miss Mary Alma Beck, teacher.

The opening sing-song was led by Miss Inez Rudy, Rev. Bert B. Hall of the Methodist church offered the invocation.

Musical Numbers

Miss Ruby Evans and Mrs. David Warren were heard in duet and in solos. Miss Inez Rudy gave a vocal selection. Scott Avery entertained with a coronet solo and Miss Hettie Lois Dobkins with a whistling number.

Three retiring directors, O. W. Watson, J. W. Whitman and Dr. E. W. Wright, addressed the group and discussed the achievements of the year.

Visitors from Wichita Falls, Henrietta, Decatur, Montague and Bellevue were welcomed. The Wichita Falls contingent included Gus Hecht, Dr. O. T. Kimbrough, John Boswell and Wilburn Page.

Among the prominent guests were State Senator Grady Woodruff, Decatur; Ex-Senator Rube Loftin, Henrietta; Representative and Mrs. C. J. Sherill, Bellevue, and county officials from Montague.

Gas Committee To Meet Today

Important action relative to the city's effort to secure lower domestic gas rates here is promised in a meeting of the city council and the citizens' advisory committee to be held Wednesday noon at the Wichita club, according to Mayor Walter Nelson Jr.

The citizens' advisory committee named by the city council several months ago is headed by Judge J. T. Montgomery. An ordinance lowering domestic gas rates here from 75 to 50 cents per 1,000 cubic feet, which was to have become effective Oct. 1, was suspended by the state railroad commission pending final action of the courts upon its validity.

Wife's Brothers Charged In Slaying at Temple

TEMPLE, Texas, Oct. 27. (AP)—John Jackson, 31-year-old barber, was shot to death on the highway near the residence of his estranged wife last night. His body was riddled by bullets fired from shotguns at close range.

Murder was charged against his wife's three brothers, Jesse Moore, 23, Thermo Moore, 21, and G. W. Moore, 27, in connection with the shooting.

Officers learned that Jackson had driven past his wife's residence after being warned against trying to see her.

Wichita Parents to See Schools In Operation at Night Session Nov. 12

Every student in any public school of Wichita Falls will attend two night classes on Thursday night, Nov. 12, to show the parents and the public just how the modern American public school operates, according to H. D. Fillers, superintendent of Wichita Falls public schools.

Announcing the main local feature of the observance of national education week, the superintendent declared Tuesday afternoon that school officials aim toward receiving more than 8,000 visitors in the public schools on the night of Nov. 12.

Students, P.-T. A. members, members of the board of education, and other interested citizens will comprise the various reception committees.

School cafeterias will be open to serve to the public Thursday night from 6 to 7 o'clock, and all members of every family are invited to dine in the school cafeterias to partake of the food served daily for lunch in the schools.

The superintendent stated that the remainder of the program for Thursday night will consist of two half-hour class periods lasting from 7 to 8 o'clock. All students will be

HERMIT DEATH CLUE EXPLODED

'Strangers' Prove to Be Old Friends of Slain Man

Special to The Record News.

GRAHAM, Texas, Oct. 27.—Connection of the visit of two Baylor county men with the death of W. A. (Cap) Mitchell, wealthy recluse here Sunday night was eliminated Tuesday when Sheriff Arch Holmes of Seymour reported that the two "strange men" were among the most prominent citizens of Baylor county and old school mates of the slain man.

Told that two Baylor county men had visited the aged hermit, Sheriff Holmes learned that two brothers, widely known farmers and boyhood friends of Mitchell had tried in vain to find him in his home Friday. The pair told the sheriff they went twice to the dugout and later visited Mitchell's sister, but were not able to find him.

Sam Spence, district attorney, Tuesday took direction of the inquiry, pursuing the meager clues. The nude body of the slain man was found by a Chrystal Falls woman who called to see him Monday on business. Mitchell's clothing was found in the earthen hut.

Investigators were developing several theories, all of them growing out of the fact that the aged man, living alone and far from other residents, was known to have possessed a substantial fortune.

A large crowd attended funeral services held at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon from the home of Mitchell's brother-in-law, Robert Corley. Rev. Oscar F. Moline, pastor of the Graham Christian church conducted the services. Burial was in the Graham cemetery.

Besides his aged mother, Mrs. Nancy Mitchell, he is survived by two brothers and three sisters. The brothers are John Mitchell of Graham, and Jim Mitchell. Mrs. Robert Corley of Graham, Mrs. Fannie Wheeler of Olney, and Mrs. Mary McGowan of Fort Worth are the sisters.

No Indictment Returned In Collings Murder

NEW YORK, Oct. 27. (US)—The grand jury of Suffolk county, Long Island, reported today it had found no indictments from the evidence presented it in the "pirate" murder of Benjamin P. Collings.

District Attorney Blue said his purpose in presenting the evidence was to have it in record form available for possible future use.

HEART ATTACK PROVES FATAL TO WICHITAN

Death Strikes Oil Man and Sportsman on Dove Hunt Near Henrietta

CIVIC LEADER HERE

Companions Find Body of Victim Lying at Edge Of Cotton Field

W. W. Fraser, 43, well-known oil man, sportsman and church leader here, dropped dead while hunting near Henrietta late Tuesday afternoon.

A verdict of death from a natural cause, a heart attack, was returned shortly after when an autopsy and coroner's inquest was held in Henrietta.

Mr. Fraser, in company with John Harris and Ed Bristol, left Wichita Falls on the hunting trip shortly before 4 p. m. Tuesday. The trio was shooting doves on the Chester Russell farm, six miles southwest of Henrietta, and had been joined in the hunt by Mr. Russell.

They had been hunting about an hour and had bagged 25 doves between them, when Mr. Fraser fired at a dove. Some distance away from his companions, he was seen to pass from a stubbled wheat field into a cotton patch to retrieve the game.

Gun Found Loaded

A moment later he had passed out of sight. Mr. Harris was 150 yards away, Mr. Bristol probably 300 yards distant. They hurried to the point.

Mr. Fraser, they said, was stretched out on the ground, dead. His gun was beside him, and they opened it and found it fully loaded.

A physician was summoned from Blue Grove, a mile and a half distant. He said death was due to apoplexy. The body was removed to Henrietta and the autopsy and inquest held there shortly after 6 o'clock.

Dr. C. W. Stevenson and Dr. O. W. Wilson, both of Wichita Falls, had been summoned for the autopsy. They said death was caused by a heart attack, to which, according to Dr. Stevenson, Mr. Fraser had been subject for some time. G. P. Jones, justice of the peace, returned a verdict of death from natural causes.

Enjoying Hunt

Mr. Fraser's companions said that he was in exceptionally high spirits Tuesday afternoon. He manifested every sign of feeling well, it was said, and more than once during the hunt remarked that he was enjoying the shooting.

His friends declared that he had not been overly exercised, and that they had been hunting but an hour and that Mr. Fraser had walked only about a half mile.

Mr. Fraser had been subject about a year to heart trouble, according to Dr. Stevenson. The physician told Mr. Fraser's hunting companions that the attack could

Ardmore Officers Face Trial in Youths' Deaths

ARDMORE, Okla., Oct. 27. (AP)—Renewed prosecution in the killings of two prominent Mexican students at American colleges is scheduled for next month.

Marvin Shilling, Carter county attorney, said today that William Guess and Cecil Crosby, former deputy sheriffs, are due for trial Nov. 19, before District Judge Asa Walden.

Guess was acquitted last June 27 of a murder charge for the killing of Emilio Cortes Rubio, kinsman of President Ortiz Rubio of Mexico. Neither defendant has yet been tried in connection with the death of Manuel Garcia Gomez, young companion of Cortes Rubio, nor has Crosby been tried on either count.

However, Guess took complete responsibility for the actual shooting. The boys were slain in Ardmore while motoring to their homes below the Rio Grande.

Former Officer Waives Shooting Charge Hearing

BEEVILLE, Texas, Oct. 27. (AP)—E. M. Vaughn, former Beeville peace officer, today waived examining trial on an assault to murder charge in connection with the shooting of John Brown. His bond was set at $5,000.

Brown, elder brother of Lloyd (Lefty) Brown, star pitcher of the Washington Senators, was expected to recover from a wound in the lung. The shooting occurred during a dispute.

Oil Worker Fatally Crushed by Machinery

OVERTON, Texas, Oct. 27. (AP)—Beeman Griffin, 20, was crushed to death today when drilling machinery fell on him. The accident occurred about one-half mile from Overton.

U. S. Steel Dividend And Wheat's Advance Cheer Business World

By CLAUDE A. JAGGER
Associated Press Financial Editor

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—Impelling signs of progress in restoring economic stability were seen today in the maintenance of dividends by the United States Steel corporation, the news that the National Credit corporation had been assured of its initial half billion before the end of the week and a brisk advance in the wheat market.

Pronounced manifestations of depression appeared, however, in the $3,973,835 deficit from operations reported by U. S. Steel for the third quarter of the year, and omission of the Illinois Central railroad's dividend quarterly dividend of $1 after a unbroken record of payments extending over more than 80 years. The stock market was heavy most of the day, closing with numerous losses of $1 to $3 a share, but it had temporary upturn along with wheat.

Rail Plan Delayed

News that the Washington administration has completed its study of means of bolstering railway credit, particularly as a measure of strengthening financial institutions which hold some $5,000,000,000 in their bonds was received with interest in Wall street, but as anticipated, the administration's plan will be held in abeyance pending an agreement between rail executives and the Interstate Commerce commission on the commission's plan of granting conditional freight rate increases.

While officials of U. S. Steel declined to comment on dividends or earnings, it was said in high banking circles the fact the corporation was willing to make a large inroad into surplus might reasonably be interpreted as indicating its officials felt more profitable operations definitely were in sight.

$11,822,000 in Dividends

The corporation ordered a quarterly common dividend of $1, as it did in the previous quarter, and the regular preferred payment of $1.75. This meant taking $11,822,373 from undivided surplus, the largest inroad into surplus ever made by the corporation in any quarter to maintain dividend payments.

It was pointed out in banking quarters that sentiment has improved considerably in the steel trade. American metal market said today "there are further indications that the steel trade is now engaged in rounding a turn and October may be left behind as a low month in steel production." Furthermore, it is estimated that the steel corporation's operating expenses for the final quarter of the year have been reduced by about $7,000,000 by its 10 per cent wage cut, which became effective Oct. 1.

COLORADO F. & I. VOTES DIVIDEND

DENVER, Oct. 27. (UP)—The board of directors of the Colorado Fuel & Iron company at the quarterly meeting here today voted the regular quarterly dividend of $2 per share on preferred stock of the company.

No dividend was granted on common stock and no other action was taken by the board.

Husband and Wife Shot In Texas Farm Home

GREENVILLE, Texas, Oct. 27. (AP)—Mitchell Hudnall, 37, was shot in the arm and chest and his wife, Grace Hudnall, 37, wounded in the arm at their farm home today.

Two of their children, Thomas Guy Hudnall, 15, and Mrs. Annie Pearl Wilson, 16, told officers they were in another room. They said they heard two shots and ran in to find their parents wounded.

The Hudnall family moved to the farm from Lubbock a year ago.

Hudnall's wound was expected to result fatally.

Testimony Opens in Houston 'Ride' Murder

HOUSTON, Oct. 27. (AP)—Tracing the movements of half a dozen major figures in the W. L. Edwards "ride" murder through witnesses, the state this afternoon prepared a background for the testimony of John Belois, the "star" witness in the trial of F. L. Bouknight, one of four indicted in the Edwards slaying. Bouknight is secretary to T. P. Lee, wealthy oil man.

Wolters Orders Allowable Cut on East Texas Wells

HOUSTON, Oct. 27. (AP)—A military order will make a further reduction in the Texas oil field's production Thursday at 7 a. m.

Brig. Gen. Jacob F. Wolters, in command of the field under martial law, directed today the issuance of a general order permitting each well to flow not more than 150 barrels daily. At present the allowable is 165 barrels. Previously it had been reduced, successively, to 225 barrels and 185 barrels. The new allowable will remain in effect until a plan is worked out to hold the production to 400,000 barrels daily, the general said.

OIL MEN URGE NEW PRORATION

Per-Acre Basis for East Texas Advocated

DALLAS, Oct. 27. (AP)—Members of the Texas Oil and Gas Conservation association in meeting here today unanimously recommended a per-acre basis of proration for the East Texas field.

The oil men hailed the reduction of the per-well allowable under the present plan of proration from 165 to 150 barrels as an indication the railroad commission was coming to such basis.

Those present at the meeting estimated 85 per cent of all East Texas operators were represented and approved the plan.

The plan provided that the number of the productive acres in the field be determined, and the number of these acres divided into the 40,000-barrel total allowable for the field.

Under the plan no lease unit would be considered as less than 20 acres. No well would produce more than its offset, and the limit of acreage counted for one well would be 100 acres.

The plan was presented by Charles Roeser of Fort Worth. He said the plan would place operations on a much firmer basis, give the small operator a definite production figure on which to borrow if necessary and would halt the wild drilling campaign.

The plan was indorsed by Col. J. Lewis Thompson of Kilgore, representing the East Texas landowners.

KILGORE, Texas, Oct. 27. (AP)—Crude oil production in the East Texas field yesterday from 2,821 wells amounted to 429,042 barrels.

The total number of wells reported today as completed was 2,639.

BEAUMONT, Texas, Oct. 27. (AP)—A continuance of the East Texas oil proration case, which was to have been held in federal court here Thursday, was announced tonight by Judge Randolph Bryant of this district.

Whether the hearing will be postponed until the next federal term will not be determined until arrival of attorneys tomorrow. The case was to have been heard Thursday before a three-judge court composed of Judge Bryant, Circuit Judge J. C. Hutcheson Jr., court of appeals, and Judge W. I. Grubb of Birmingham.

LABOR PARTY LOSES SEATS IN LANDSILDE

Voters Support National Government In Crucial Election

HENDERSON BEATEN

Leading Laborite Beaten by Conservative Candidate

LONDON, Oct. 28. (US)—The London Daily Herald, labor party publication, at midnight conceded the overwhelming victory of the National government over the labor opposition.

In a cartoon published in the midnight edition, titled "Honor Is Satisfied," the labor party is shown defeated at a duel. Three knives are in the back of the labor duellist.

Premier MacDonald, Philip Snowden, Stanley Baldwin and Sir Herbert Samuel are shown strutting away—but Snowden appears to be doing his strutting stealthily.

By WILLIAM HILLMAN
Universal Service Special Cable

LONDON, Oct. 27.—The British people today cast an overwhelming vote for the National government of Premier J. Ramsay MacDonald, and repudiated the obstructionist tactics of the Laborite opposition.

Returns rolling into London threw the city into a turmoil, with one out of every three returns in which Labor members of parliament figured showing the loss of the Labor seat to the government forces. Labor expected to drop below 100 seats in the house of commons.

Henderson Defeated

One startling indication of the strength of the national government juggernaut was the defeat of Arthur Henderson, Labor leader and former foreign secretary, by the Conservative candidate at Burnley, Admiral Gordon Campbell.

Campbell's victory by 9,000 votes was an unlooked-for triumph, and Conservatives, Liberal Nationals, National Liberals and National Laborites began their chant of victory. West end London's whoopee party, just to celebrate election night, turned into a tory jamboree.

Up to midnight, six former Laborite ministers including Henderson went into exile. At midnight, the lineup was:

Government parties: Conservatives 118, National Liberals and Liberals 21.

Opposing parties: Labor 11.

Labor Loses 28

Laborites at that time had lost 28 of their 287 seats. The Conservatives gained 25 seats from Labor; the Liberals gained one and the Liberal Nationals gained two.

Lady Nancy Astor, American-born peeress and first British woman member of parliament, won her fight for re-election in Sutton division, Plymouth.

Tom Shaw, former Labor minister of war, went by the board, as did Herbert Morrison, former minister of transport, and Miss Ellen Wilkinson, one of Labor's prominent women members.

The results of the election as seen at midnight indicated that not only was the probable tariff campaign of the National government swinging the tide of victory, but that the personal following of Premier MacDonald over and above the candidates themselves was deciding the issue in many places.

Liberal Wins

Sir Herbert Samuel, leading the Liberal National party, was elected after an important fight.

Edgar Wallace, detective story writer, running as a free-trade Liberal, was defeated. Former Labor Minister of Health Greenwood and Minister of Mines Turner went by the board.

The election count began in the face of the stock exchange's last betting odds giving the government a majority of between 200 and 206. Conservative party headquarters predicted a government landslide in the southern, eastern, and northwest counties, a lesser triumph in Scotland and clear majorities in London, Birmingham, and Liverpool.

The cabinet has been convened for Thursday to receive the election results. The new parliament will assemble Nov. 3 ,and be officially opened Nov. 10.

Vote in Fog

The polls opened at 8 a. m. with a typical British fog prevailing. Early voters were guided to the balloting places by election workers. In London some carried bells, shouting "follow the bell!" Women voters, who outnumber the men by almost 2,000,000, turned out in great numbers.

For the voters, the issue of the election—between the National government's emergency economy program and Socialism opposition to that program, particularly the 10 per cent cut affecting the dole—

LLOYD GEORGE CRUSHED

LONDON, Oct. 27. (US)—David Lloyd George's physician ordered him away from the radio and to bed late tonight when it became apparent that the national government's election victory was a landslide.

The doughty old Liberal party leader had fought to the last minute to throw his party's support to the Laborite opposition. Lloyd George is recuperating from a serious operation and it was feared the nervous tension of listening to the government's swelling triumph might do him serious harm.

was beclouded by the strange party alliances and splits that ensued.

A series of minor clashes marked the progress of the polling in London. In Kensington, 200 university students battled 500 Communists. Four persons were injured when razors and clubs were brought into play. Other outbreaks took place in Tooting and White-Chapel, London suburbs.

At Stocktontees, a big shipbuilding center, a previous Labor majority of 2,389 was turned into a Conservative majority of 11,031.

The Conservative candidate defeated the Labor incumbent at South Salford 22,140 to 15,302.

Manchester Changes

A sensational Conservative and National Liberal landslide and the rout of the Socialists and Liberals was indicated at Manchester, heretofore the stronghold of free trade.

Sir James Sexton, an old Labor leader, was soundly trounced at St. Helens by his Conservative opponent.

Sir Philip Sasoon, Conservative, friend of the Prince of Wales, was re-elected in Hythe.

At Worcester, the Conservative candidate was re-elected. In Stockton-on-Tees, H. MacMillan, Conservative, polled 29,199 against the 18,168 vote of the Laborite incumbent.

The Conservative candidate beat the Laborite encumbent at West Salford, 24,083 to 12,320.

In Wakefield, the Laborite encumbent was defeated by Dr. G. B. Hillman, Conservative, 15,881 to 11,774.

Henderson Beaten

Arthur Henderson, foreign secretary in the MacDonald Labor government, was defeated for re-election at Burnley by Admiral Gordon, the Conservative candidate. The vote was 35,126 to 26,917.

R. C. Wallhead was the first Laborite to win re-election. At Merthyr Fydfil, Wales, he polled 24,623 votes against the Conservative candidate's 10,834.

Lady Acland, Lloyd George Liberal candidate, failed to take Exeter from the Conservatives. The vote was 20,360 to 8,571.

The Conservative incumbent was re-elected at Ashton-under-Lyne, 15,652 votes to 11,074 for the Labor candidate.

At Hastings, a Conservative was re-elected with 22,640 votes over 4,963 for the Laborite and 4,561 for the National Liberal candidate.

Great Yarmouth was a National Laborite victory for the incumbent over a Laborite, 22,008 to 15,735.

At Cheltenham, a Conservative was re-elected over a Laborite 22,824 to 5,263.

A National Liberal defeated the Laborite encumbent at Dewsbury, 12,416 to 11,101.

Woman Laborite Loses

Miss Ellen Wilkinson, Laborite, was defeated for re-election at Middlesborough by E. J. Young, the Conservative candidate, 18,409 to 12,080.

Another Labor seat was lost at Edge Hill where Sir Hugo Rutherford beat J. H. Hayes, 11,722.

Former Labor Minister of Transport Herbert N. Morrison was beaten out at South Hackney by a woman Conservative candidate, Miss F. N. Graves. The vote was 15,920 to 12,827.

Labor lost a seat in Reading, where Dr. A. B. Howitt, Conservative, won over Dr. Somerville, the Labor incumbent, 24,439 to 19,277.

A Conservative was re-elected at Wallasey over the Laborite, 40,161 to 7,712.

The Conservatives took another seat from Labor at Doncashire, by 27,205 to 22,363.

The National Liberal candidate at Barnsby defeated the Laborite encumbent, 21,392 to 20,622. At Womersley the Conservative candidate was re-elected over a Laborite 33,725 to 16,124.

Two Labor Losses

Two labor seats were lost at Blackburn where Sir Walter Smiles and Captain Elliston, Conservatives, defeated Mrs. Mary Lamb and T. H. Gill, Laborites.

A Labor seat was lost at Everton, the Conservative candidate polling 12,186 votes to 7,786 for the Laborite.

Sir Ben Turner, prominent Laborite, was defeated for reelection at Batley and Morley by W. D. Wills, Conservative, 26,378 to 16,700.

Sir Samuel Hoare, secretary of state for India, was reelected in Chelsea over G. Foan, Laborite, 23,015 to 4,726.

Labor lost two seats and Former Minister for War Thomas Shaw went down to defeat at Preston. The vote was: Conservatives, W. M. Kirkpatrick, 46,278; A. C. Moreing, 45,483; Laborites, Shaw 25,710; E. Porter, 24,860.

DEATH STRIKES W. W. FRASER

Oil Man Falls Dead While Hunting Doves

have occurred anywhere with the same fatal result.

After the inquest the body was returned to Wichita Falls by the F. O. Moore Undertaking company of Henrietta. The Hines mortuary received the body here.

Funeral arrangements had not been made Tuesday night. Friends of the family said that arrangements probably would be completed Wednesday morning upon receipt of word from relatives who reside out of state.

Mr. Fraser had been a resident of Wichita Falls for 12 years. At the time of his death he was engaged in the oil business, leasing in East Texas.

Active in Civic Affairs

He had been associated with W. M. Priddy in various businesses here almost from the time he came to Wichita Falls. During the greater part of the time he was connected with the Duncan-Wichita Pipe Line company as vice president and general manager. That concern was purchased a year ago by the American Refining properties. With Mr. Priddy, he also had engaged in the business of the Priddy Claim company a number of years ago. He became active as an independent lease man about six months ago following the sale of the pipe line.

He was prominent in the affairs of the First Presbyterian church, and had been an elder in the church for the past several years. He also was assistant superintendent of the Sunday school.

He was a member of Wichita Falls lodge No. 635, A. F. & A. M., a Knights Templar, and a life member of Maskat Shrine temple.

Mr. Fraser also was well known as a sportsman. He was an ardent hunter and angler, and had contributed various hunting and fishing articles to outdoor magazines.

He removed here from Waco 12 years ago. He resided for a number of years in Waco, and had lived in Texas for 20 or 25 years. He was a native of Georgia.

He is survived by his widow, two sons, Wallace, 10, and Whitman 5; a brother, Howard Fraser of Waco; his mother and two sisters, who reside in Savannah, Ga. The family residence here is at 1515 Hays.

PROGRESSIVES TO LAY PLANS

'Join Us or Suffer' to Be Bloc's Attitude

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 27. (AP)—The Capital Times today said Wisconsin's eight Progressive congressmen would meet here within a few weeks and invite Progressives from other states to join them in a plan to force consideration of their demands by the 72nd congress under threat of refusing to vote with the regular Republicans on the organization of the lower house.

"After the Madison meeting the legislative program agreed upon, which will probably contain certain definite proposals for unemployment and agricultural relief will be made known to house Republican leaders," the Times said. "If they refuse to agree that such measures shall come to a vote under Republican control, it is likely that the Progressives will go over to the Democratic side in the organization of the house."

The Times said the Progressives will hold the balance of power because of the close division of the lower branch of congress.

Wisconsin Progressives have definitely decided, the Times said, not to attend the regular Republican caucus on the selection of a speaker and the various committee memberships.

The Times said the following congressmen probably will be invited: Philip D. Swing, California; E. H. Campbell, Iowa; Fiorello LaGuardia, New York; James H. Sinclair, North Dakota; O. B. Lovette, Tennessee and Paul J. Kvale, Minnesota.

Former Dry Agent Gets Sentence for Perjury

AUGUSTA, Ga., Oct. 27. (US)—Franklin L. Dodge Jr., former federal operative, whose testimony sent Cincinnati's erstwhile bootleg king, George W. Remus, to the penitentiary, was bound for the same place today to serve two years and six months for perjury. Dodge pleaded guilty to an indictment resulting from the trial of George Brown at Savannah last year.

TRAIN DERAILED

HOUSTON, Oct. 27. (AP)—Three sleeping cars and a day coach of a southbound Missouri Pacific train were derailed early today near Danberry, Texas. None was injured. The cars were placed back on the track immediately and the train proceeded. Officials here were unable to account for the accident.

U. S. Castaways Rescued After Six Months' Stay on Island

PANAMA CITY, Oct. 27. (US)—Three American castaways on Cocos island since last April were found today by the U. S. S. Sacramento. News of the rescue was flashed here tonight by Capt. G. H. Bowdey, commanding the gunboat. But no details were given.

The castaways, Paul Stachwick of Huron, S. D.; Gordon Brawner of Springfield, Ill., and Earl Pallimer, San Diego, Calif., left California in February to hunt treasure in islands off Ecuador, 500 miles south of here. Their yacht, West Wind, was wrecked on Cocos island in April.

Julius Fleischmann capitalist and former Cincinnati mayor, cruising in the South Seas in his yacht Camargo, radioed the naval station here that he had found a note indicating the three were still alive.

Fleischmann ordered the Camargo's gun fired and siren tooted in an attempt to bring the men to the west side of the island from the interior, but to no avail. The Camargo stood by until the Sacramento arrived.

A later message from the Sacramento stated that the castaways had been picked up shortly after 5 o'clock this evening on the south side of Cocos island and that the gunboat was proceeding with them to Chatham bay on the west side of the island.

Waco Court to Referee Truck Injunction Suit

WACO, Texas, Oct. 27. (UP)—The tenth court of civil appeals here consented today to act as referee for the opponents in the Robertson county "injunction war" waged in neighboring district courts over enforcement of the state's new motor truck regulatory law.

The court of appeals heard one story today and will take action tomorrow; it will hear another story from the same narrator next Monday morning. The supreme court of Texas, to which the matters were offered today, refused to have anything to do with them until the appellate court had made rulings.

Marriage Delays Duel Of Hungarian Fliers

BUDAPEST, Hungary, Oct. 27. (US)—The duel between Alexander Magyar and George Endres, Hungarian transatlantic fliers, over differences arising as a result of their flight, was postponed today when Magyar married Mme. Georgia Santelli, pretty divorce.

After the honeymoon, Endres and Magyar expect to resume their feud and arrange the date for their encounter.

Juror's 'Unsound' Mind Cited in Sheriff's Appeal

AUSTIN, Oct. 27. (UP)—One of the jurors who found Sheriff Woody Townsend of Bastrop county guilty of fee extortion and fixed his penalty at two years, had been in an asylum and is still of unsound mind, a motion for a new trial for the convicted sheriff, filed today, said.

District Judge Robertson has set a hearing for 2 p. m. tomorrow on this and 37 other reasons alleged by Townsend's attorneys why he should be retried.

"I want peace and quiet and a wife who's content to sit at home."

JONAS POINTS OUT INDIVIDUAL CASES

Refusing to express his opinion on Dr. Donald A. Laird's theory on "life of the party girls," R. O. Jonas, head of the psychology department at Wichita Falls Junior college, said Tuesday he knew of a number of girls who had unusual "pep" as co-eds and who continued years later to be the life of the party wherever they were.

On the other hand, Mr. Jonas said, other co-eds who were known as "It" girls in college changed to the other extreme in later years.

"It depends upon the individual," the Wichita Falls psychologist said.

Makers of Vicks VapoRub Score Another Advance In Home-Control Of Colds

Vick Chemists Develop the Perfect Ally to Vicks VapoRub—Introduces New Idea in Preventing Colds and Makes Possible the Vick Plan to Reduce the Family "Colds-Tax"

FREE TRIAL PACKAGES

Local Druggists Have Free Samples for Users of Vicks VapoRub

Mothers of two generations have depended on Vicks VapoRub for treating the family's colds. Now, in 26 million homes, they welcome the VapoRub—Vicks Nose & Throat Drops—based on a new idea in preventing colds. Together, these two newly discovered perfect ally to ideal, direct applications provide the new Vick Plan for better "Control of Colds" in the home—and further reduction of the family "Cold-Tax."

1.—Before a Cold Starts

On exposure to colds or any of the causes that ordinarily lead to colds—(crowded indoor places—stuffy, poorly ventilated rooms—sudden temperature changes—wet and cold)—that slow down the normal functioning of the nose, Nature's marvelous "first line of defense against colds"—use Vicks Drops promptly. Or, if a cold actually threatens—when you feel that first stuffy, sneezy irritation of the nasal passages—a few drops up each nostril, and many annoying colds will be avoided.

2.—When a Cold Strikes

During the day—any time, any place—use the convenient Vicks Drops as often as needed. At night, rub Vicks VapoRub well over throat and chest and cover with warm flannel. Leave bed-clothing loose around the neck so the medicated vapors can be inhaled all night long. This gives you full 24-hour treatment. (If there is a cough, try the new Vicks Cough Drops—actually medicated with ingredients of Vicks VapoRub.)

Trial Packages Free

In order that every user of Vicks VapoRub may test the new Vick Plan of better "Control of Colds" in the home, every druggist in the United States has been sent a limited supply of samples. Get yours today. If your druggist's supply is exhausted, send us the top of a Vicks VapoRub carton—or coupon from the VapoRub directions folder—and we will mail you a trial package of Vicks Nose Drops (also a sample of Vicks Medicated Cough Drops) together with a folder on the Vicks Plan for "Control of Colds" in the home. HOOVER'S FOES SMELL MOUSE

Morgan's Influence on President Watched

By LOUIS SEIBOLD

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27. (US)—The frequent participation of the House of Morgan in administration efforts to break up the national jam promises to be vigorously attacked in congress and during the presidential campaign.

The motives of the president in trying to start things moving in the right direction are generally approved. The difficulties of his task are manifest and, provoke sympathy. His methods in meeting the perplexities confronting him, however, are certain to be questioned.

Up to date his efforts to break up the jam, which is at once administrative, economic, political and tempermental, have not been successful. His sticks of dynamite have not yet touched the key log, which is economic.

Progressive and Democratic leaders criticize the president for his tendency to turn to Wall street for help. By Wall street they mean the financial citadel of J. P. Morgan.

Information Demanded

These critics propose to demand the fullest information regarding the extent of Morgan activities in government affairs. They are preparing a chronological summary to support their criticism for use during the coming campaign.

This is declared to show that men and interests closely associated or indirectly affiliated with the Morgan system have played a very prominent part in arranging and carrying out the administration's relief program.

The president's progressive and Democratic critics assert that Mr. Morgan and Mr. Lamont and Mr. Cochran, his aids, are entitled to the credit (or blame) in promoting Mr. Hoover's ventures in European diplomacy and politics. A large share of the credit for arranging the recent banking setup to release frozen assets is accorded the House of Morgan.

Ancut Moratorium

From independent banking sources outside the Morgan unit comes some interesting information regarding the one-year moratorium on European debts. This was designed to relieve the German financial crisis.

According to this information the moratorium plan was proposed to Mr. Hoover more than a year ago by a group of New Yorkers, including Owen D. Young and Federal Reserve Governor Harrison. The president is said to have then regarded it as premature.

Some of the president's critics now hold that the final approval of the project by the Morgan interests was an important factor in its adoption.

It is also contended that the Franco-American conference was personally arranged by J. P. Morgan. A few days before Premier Laval announced his plans to confer with President Hoover, Mr. Morgan held frequent conferences with the former at Paris.

These and other events held to establish the great influence of the Morgan house in international affairs are provoking lively interest among progressive and Democratic leaders.

Openly Confident

The president has made no effort to conceal his confidence in the ability and willingness of the Morgan institution to help out. Regardless of the actual value of the Morgan assistance, he is certain to be criticized.

Aside from the general character of the help rendered by the Morgan institution, comparatively minor details are seized upon by administration critics to prove the close alliance between important government officials and the great international banking house.

One incident furnishes an example. As the head of the government's legal department, Attorney General Mitchell is empowered to train a vigilant eye on the activities of financial and industrial corporations. The Morgan firm is extensively interested in many such ventures.

Deft Workmanship in Antique Quilts Takes Prizes in Frederick

Special to The Record News.

FREDERICK, Okla., Oct. 27.—"Don't date yourself," as a modern piece of advice, but beautiful things which date themselves—and far back yonder, too—carried off most of the honors at the rose and quilt show held here Monday, Oct. 26, by the Women's chamber of commerce.

A quilt 141 years old was exhibited by Mrs. Frank Moss, still intact, still beautiful. The first prize for the prettiest old quilt was awarded a tulip pattern made in 1849 in Tennessee and owned by Mrs. J. P. Bellah.

Prize Winner

Warm shades of red and blue combined with tan in a hand woven spread made in 1854 by the great-great-grandmother of Mrs. Mary Beeker. Its intricate design and painstaking workmanship won for it the first prize in handwoven coverlids. Other spreads exhibited dated back three generations, with colors as lively as they were 50 years ago.

Eighteen thousand pieces composed a quilt set together by Mrs. Woodruff of Grandfield, each piece a tiny octagon. A cream-colored lace spread pieced from lace scraps gleaned from a large department store, was exhibited by the maker, Miss Mae James. Another quilt, pieced by a man from Davidson when he was a little boy, was made as carefully as any woman might, but the man refused to reveal his name.

The Samaritan class of the Baptist Sunday school won first for the best pieced quilt, and Mrs. Paul Brunk won first in applique quilting with a pink and green delicately stitched pattern.

Junior Award

First in the junior division was won by the sunbonnet baby design of Dorothy Liebman.

Old articles exhibited, though not competing for any prize, were embroidered samplers dating back 100 years, a Paris bonnet of 1813, beribboned and flower-trimmed, with the owner's blue silk parasol of the same date; napkins woven in Germany in 1812, bookmarks—old tokens of friendship—75 years old, one with its sentiment, "A token of love," woven of the brown hair of the donor.

The rose exhibits were few in quantity, but a number of lovely bouquets were shown. Mrs. J. E. McConnell won both firsts, with her one variety and mixed bouquets.

A varying program of entertainment was offered at intervals during the afternoon of the show, featuring musical numbers and dancing. Mrs. L. H. Beaty was chairman of the show, and Mrs. George McHugh directed the entertainment.

Classes Secure if 1931 Taxes Are Paid

Special to The Record News.

BURKBURNETT, Texas, Oct. 27.—Records of the office of the superintendent of Burkburnett public schools show that the district schools are in a position at present to finish the 1931-1932 school term if the 1931 taxes are paid.

The budget for the present year calls for the expenditure of $62,483, including interest on bonds. This is a reduction of $11,000 under the expenditures of last year. Reductions were made possible through the reduction in the number of teachers and further reduction in the salary schedule.

Funds for the maintenance of the schools for the current year are to be derived as follows: Balance on hand, $14,388.87; state apportionment, $28,455; tuition from Everett school district, $1,000; vocational aid, $337.50; local taxes $35,000. The above amounts make a total of $79,181.37, which will enable the present school to be finished with a surplus if 1931 taxes are paid in time.

The Season of Gifts...at Popular Prices...

In our Gift Sections this year we've done what we consider the best job of selecting since we've been in the gift-finding business.

When we went to the Gift Market we found things which previously were too high for the smaller purse . . . but we find that this year our problem had been solved. "The prices on the most attractive gifts are lower," and we believe that a visit to our Gift Shop will make your gift buying a lot more enjoyable.

We found Book-Ends of hand carved soapstone, imported from China . . . last year the price was $5.95, and now they are $1.95 pair.

We found Lamps that will not only shed light gracefully, but beauty and harmony in the room which they will grace. These lamps complete with shades are only $2.95, $3.95 and up to $9.85 . . . lots lower than last year's prices.

Crockett P.-T. A. Program Stresses Peace Movement

An inspiring peace program was given Tuesday afternoon at Crockett school when members of the P.-T. A. met in regular monthly session. The theme of the day was stressed in the impressive devotional given by Mrs. Wm. D. Bratton, who used "World Peace," as her text. "We prosper," she said, "by settling our controversies." She spoke of the 58 countries who have already agreed on the Kellogg peace pact and stated that prayer and knowledge was always of direct help to the government, and that the P.-T. A. units disseminated such knowledge with their peace programs.

Mrs. Milton Johnson gave an inspirational talk on the topic of the day, saying that world peace is something concerning every person, and is of more vital interest now than ever before. The world wide movement, she stated, is the result of the desire of the farmer, the laborer, the mother and all other people for peace. Mrs. Johnson told of the first society for peace organized 100 years ago.

Mrs. T. S. Richardson, president of the unit, called the meeting to order and following the devotional, Dr. Austin F. Leach made a short talk on the 50th anniversary of the Red Cross, making a stirring appeal for new members.

Business Meeting

Mrs. Richardson explained to parents the full meaning and duties of P.-T. A. membership. Following the reading of the minutes, Mrs. C. A. Rogers, treasurer, gave a report and explained the disposal of the dues.

Miss Ida Moore, principal, explained the new standard of grading established in all city schools by H. D. Fillers, superintendent. A, as given on new reports, she said, is better than excellent; B marks good work; C is only fairly good; D is passing and F is inferior. Miss Moore said the parents' part in child school life is to keep the child happy and the teacher will do the rest.

Miss Roberts' high one-room gave some voice and instrumental numbers, showing the excellent work of the school. Mrs. W. E. Maxson, city council representative, gave her report and Mrs. Julian McFall, chairman of magazines, urged all mothers to buy the magazine.

Mrs. C. P. Warman announced the school carnival for Friday evening, an event that has become an annual affair anticipated with pleasure.

It was announced that Mesdames George Smoot, J. T. Tibbets and L. A. Childs will promote an advanced study club for mothers.

Mrs. Austin Leach, program chairman, introduced Mrs. J. W. McCutchen who ssng "Dawn," with Mrs. O. G. Stephens accompanying.

Following the inspiring talk by Mrs. Milton Johnson, it was announced that Miss Clark's sixth grade room was winner of the attendance prize, and Mrs. Leach announced Nov. 4 as father's night.

Approximately 150 mothers and teachers were present.

PEEPS AT PEOPLE

By MRS. L. N. CASON

Roses are blooming and ageratum forms many a mass of blossom and many a lovely border; but one of the prettiest spots that I have seen this autumn is a triangular bed of turnip greens that flourishes in a sunny corner back of one of the handsome homes in Country Club estates.

◇ ◇ ◇

Looking at the sprightly green leaves, as tenderly vivid in color as any hothouse plant I could, in imagination, smell the steam from the kettle where they boiled with a piece of well cured jowl or a fresh hog's head or the shank of a ham. Umph! Next to bacon and coffee, the most appetizing smell on earth.

◇ ◇ ◇

All last spring, while Huey Long and his cohorts argued over the proper way to eat pot liquor—or "likker" as they called it—I sat silent, knowing exactly how it should be done in polite circles.

◇ ◇ ◇

A black mammy taught me to make corn pones; she put a lump of fresh hog lard in her water-milliground white corn meal, salted it, scalded it with very hot water—not boiling—patted it into pones with her hands so that each little pone when baked a golden brown, bore the print of her fingers.

◇ ◇ ◇

Then put pot liquor from the black iron pot where the greens are boiled and from which they are drained, into bouillon cups and serve piping hot with a golden brown corn pone. It is no sin against good manners to crumble the pone in the cup and eat it with a bouillon spoon. It's just as good when it is put in a cup with a broken handle and eaten with a teaspoon.

◇ ◇ ◇

A pod of red pepper should have been boiled with the greens. When they come to the table chopped fine, with a dew of grease from ham or jowl beautifying them and slices of transparent meat across them, add a soupcon of finely chopped spring onions and use plenty of pone and there is food for the gods.

◇ ◇ ◇

It's a simple meal and the dish to accompany it is lye hominy, mashed and fried but never greasy, until all the liquor is gone. Black coffee goes with it.

◇ ◇ ◇

Sweet potato custard made from potatoes that run a golden juice and with an abundance of eggs, milk and butter is the ideal dessert. I have seen people add whipped cream in the serving. But real custard doesn't even need that.

◇ ◇ ◇

Oh, I like the canapes and cocktails and salads and French dishes; but once in a while, have a meal like the one of which I have talked and if you are not utterly spoiled in taste, you should enjoy it.

S. M. U. Professor Gives Talk Here

Dr. G. O. Clough of Southern Methodist university addressed members of the junior high school section of the City Teachers' association at the initial meeting of the section at Reagan junior high school Tuesday afternoon. The speaker's topic concerned the use of informal objective tests.

Dr. Clough stressed the importance of giving tests more frequently, saying that if tests are more frequent, they are stimulative to better preparation and more accurate measurement of the work of the student and the efficiency of the instructor.

The other speaker on the program was H. D. Fillers, superintendent of Wichita Falls public schools. Mr. Fillers commended the junior high section of teachers on their interest in the work they are now undertaking. W. A. Franklin is president of the section.

A musical program was directed by Miss Rachel Davis, music instructor at Reagan. The numbers given were a piano solo, "Country Gardens," by Nettie Maxine Baber, and a vocal solo, "Let Me Dream Again," the Londonderry air, sung by Lela B. Crawford, accompanied by Maxine Baber.

Wolf Finds Too Many At Doors for Welcome

OAKLAND, Oct. 27. (UP)—Nobody wants a wolf at the door these days.

This discovery was made by "Boots," full grown wolf which escaped from the city zoo, wandered in the wide open spaces, but returned to seek the shelter of his cage.

Dirty, crestfallen and hungry, "Boots" opened the door of his cage himself, entered and made himself at home after days of wandering.

Fearing to alarm residents of the city, officials kept his escape secret while a search was conducted.

Legion Auxiliary Announces Plans For Winter Work

Interesting work of the auxiliary to the American Legion was announced in the regular session held at the Memorial auditorium Tuesday afternoon when Mrs. J. B. McDowell, president, called the meeting to order. The pledge to the flag and "America," opened the program and Mrs. W. W. Cook, acting chairman, led in prayer.

Following the regular order of business, Mrs. J. Cohen was appointed flower chairman and the resignation of Mrs. S. J. Schwab, chaplain, was accepted.

It was announced that the post representing the local auxiliary at the 13th annual convention in El Paso had been sold to the chamber of commerce.

Mesdames H. A. Carter, L. D. Tadlock, P. L. Jones, Perry F. Wright, George Wiest and J. V. Leggett were initiated into the auxiliary and Mrs. Mattie Sheldon, a gold star mother, was introduced.

Among interesting bits of work planned by the auxiliary is that of locating legionaires and their families who are in need of aid. The annual armistice day feed for members of the legion and their families will take place as usual at the auditorium on Nov. 11. A cradle roll department for children 1 to 4 years will be established.

During the program, Mrs. Thomas F. Cunningham conducted an "Americanization Program" and Mrs. Curtis Young gave a paper on "Patriotic Endeavor."

On behalf of the auxiliary, Mrs. L. I. Lucey presented Mrs. N. Manoushagian, past president, with a handsome pin.

"Keep the Home Fire Burning" closed the meeting.

Austin Mothers Talk On 'Home' Topics

Much interest was shown at the first meeting of the Austin school study circle held Tuesday morning in the auditorium of the school when instructive papers on home topics were read.

"The Home and the Family," and "Home, a Rich Background," were themes discussed by Mrs. R. L. Underwood who stated that during the White House conference the home was urged to better its work in two regards; first, the health and happiness of the child and second in determining the moral physical and intellectual standards of living. "The success of a nation does not depend on political forces, its wealth or the worth of its capitol building," said the speaker, "but on its homes."

Mrs. C. B. Neal read an interesting paper on "A Successful Home," in which she stated that a good home today differs greatly from any other period. Modern science and inventions have taken much work from the home into the factory, she said; there is less work for the child to do and the work of the mother deals more with securing cultural and spiritual satisfaction than with material production. The moving picture, the swimming pool and ease of transportation were mentioned as means of change in the social life of a family.

Members present were Mesdames E. H. Ames, R. L. Underwood, H. R. Cloughley, J. R. Kolb, Tom Martin, O. D. Scott, J. B. King, C. R. Neal, Reece Carter, W. P. Griffis and O. F. Bagwell.

Music Study Club Has Folk Music Program

The rhythm and melody of folk music was demonstrated beautifully in the program given Tuesday morning when members of the Music Study club met at the home of Mrs. J. E. Hall. Two Indian groups were given in voice and piano. Mrs. W. L. Olmstead, accompanied by Mrs. Phillip Oviatt, sang three numbers, by Lieurance, "The Deserted Lodge," "Where the Sad Waters Flow," and "Sad Moon of Falling Leaf," giving a delightful interpretation.

Two piano numbers by McDowell, played by Mrs. Phillip Oviatt "From an Indian Lodge," and "At the Old Trysting Place," demonstrated the talent of the accomplished musician.

A group of "Lonesome Tunes of the Kentucky Mountains," was given by Mrs. A. H. Mahaffey with Mrs. Oviatt accompanying. "The Merry Golden Tree," or "Lonesome Low," and "Sourwood Mountain" were Harlan county songs and "Frog Went a'Courting," an Estall county tune completed the series. Mrs. Mahaffey's lovely and sympathetic contralto voice and the delightful accompaniment of Mrs. Oviatt made the group an unforgettable bit of melody.

Mrs. Hall, accompanied by Mrs. Olmstead, played White's "Nobody Knows the Trouble I've Seen," with her usual beautiful spirit, and Mrs. Pearl Calhoun Davis closed the musical program with a group of Louisiana plantation songs from Bayou Ballads," by Mina Monroe. Mrs. Walter Robbins was her talented accompanist. Mrs. Davis' exquisite lyric soprano voice and her spirit of artistry gave full value to the group, which included "Pity Poor Mamzelle Zizi," "Marianne Loves," "Forward March, Grenadiers," and "Suzanne, Suzanne, Pretty One."

A short business session was held in which Mrs. Garrett acted as secretary, and Mrs. O. E. Nichols gave an original and sparkling current events talk.

Members present included Mesdames E. A. Bebb, Kenneth Bebb, Pearl Calhoun Davis, M. M. Garrett, W. C. Hamilton, Jess McLarry, A. H. Mahaffey, O. E. Nicholls, Phillip Oviatt, Walter Robbins, F. E. Van Wormer, Fred B. Sharpe, Miss Florence Sammons and the hostess, Mrs. J. E. Hall.

Adams Street W. M. S. Has Mission Study

Members of Adams Street Methodist Woman's Missionary society met Tuesday at the church when Mrs. A. M. Switzler gave the devotional and Mrs. J. B. McLaren an interesting reading.

In the short business meeting with Mrs. McLaren presiding, a program committee was appointed including Mesdames J. D. Frost and J. L. Flowers. Mrs. W. H. Garner gave a prayer.

The mission study lesson was directed by Mrs. McLaren and Mrs. W. H. Garner dismissed 15 members with prayer.

Last Rites Said For Mrs. Patrick

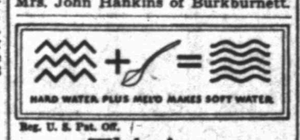

Funeral services for Mrs. J. B. Patrick, 41, who died Monday at the family home, 2204 Tenth street, were held Tuesday afternoon from the Floral Heights Methodist church.

Services were conducted by Dr. C. M. Simpson, pastor of the church. Burial was in the cemetery at Burkburnett. Mrs. Patrick formerly resided in Burkburnett before removing 12 years ago to Wichita Falls. Arrangements were in charge of the Merkle Undertaking company.

Mrs. Patrick had been in ill health for a year. She had been active in the affairs of the Floral Heights Methodist church, and for the past eight years was a teacher in the primary department.

Pallbearers were Harold Murph, T. C. Anthony Jr., F. P. Warren, Leon Deaton, W. E. Bell, and W. W. Riley.

Surviving are the husband, who is engaged here in the oil business; a son, Raymond, 10; and a sister, Mrs. John Hankins of Burkburnett.

This is a hard-water country

Soap and hard water make scum. The hardness in the water combines with the soap. The scum collects dirt. There is a dirty ring around the dishpan, the washtubs, the bathtub. But soften hard water with Mel'o and no scum forms.

Water softened with Mel'o is a wonderful cleaner, with or without soap. It makes the soap much more effective, too, saving from ⅓ to ½ the amount ordinarily used. Mel'o costs only 10 cents a can. New Group Open For Shakespeare Junior Students

That children may be taught the beauties of the best literature has been splendidly demonstrated by the growth of the National Junior Shakespeare Story Telling club, directed by Ella Merle Mathis Bristol. The club, organized only a month ago, has grown into a membership of 57 children ranging in age from 5 to 15 years.

This group, divided into sections according to their ages, has been meeting once a week for the past month. They remain in class one hour, studying one Shakespearean plan arranged for juniors at a time. There will be 20 lessons in the course and several plays will be dramatized and presented on the stage. The children have no home work at all; credit is given in school. Branch clubs are being conducted in Henrietta and Bowie.

So much enthusiasm has been shown that another group is being organized by Mrs. Bristol, the meetings to begin in about two weeks. The classes are open to all interested children.

The personnel of the present group includes Quincey Joe Lee, George Mytinger, Frank Kell Mytinger, J. B. Nail Jr., Gwendolyn Rogers, Patricia Pond, Betty Sue Tennyson, Janie Lou Lankford, Mona June Fagadau, Billy Wells, Ben Lockhart Jr., Billy Murph, Peggy Jo Pond, Gerald Pond Jr., Sylvia Price Jonas, Laura Virginia Abernathy, Rex Curtis, Bill Hughes, Bob Hughes, Jimmy White, Steve Rider Jr., Betty Jane Staniforth, Bobbie Dick Harris, Ted Guinn Harris, Eloise Curtis, Mary Frances Harris, Eugene George Jr., Billy Leona Harris, Jimmy Brown, Bobby Hayes, Julia Lynn Duncan, Irvene Roberts, Betty Ann Morrison, Elizabeth McHam, Jennie June Donnell, Ruth Thomas, Norma Jean Lehrack, Roberta Gould, Mae Anna Duncan, Barbara Alice Noe, Nadene Steward, Ruth Nathalie Stuckey, Harvey White Jr., Jimmy Curtis, Roy Childers, Gordon Jones, Paul Marcus, Elaine Stuckey, Paul Stuckey, Bill Loggie, Bob Loggie, John Robbins, C. I. O. O. F. Meeting Called for Nov. 9

Delegates from 20 Northwest Texas counties are expected here Nov. 9, to attend the district grand lodge conference of the I. O. O. F., which will be held here on that date, it was announced by executives of the local lodge.

Approximately 100 delegates will attend, it was estimated. Among distinguished visitors will be Grand Master Compton of Waco.

Features of the conference will be a session of the grand lodge, and the conferring of the grand lodge and past grand lodge degrees.

The conference will be conducted from the Odd Fellows hall here, 807 Austin street. The district meeting will be open to all members of the order.

A second meeting of interest to Odd Fellows, it was announced, will be an inter-city meeting at Electra on Nov. 5. The meeting was postponed to that date from Oct. 22.

Corinne Tucker Becomes Bride Of E. L. Mount

A wedding noted for its exquisite simplicity was solemnized Tuesday morning at 11:30 when Miss Corinne Tucker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reagan Tucker, became the bride of E. L. Mount, the impressive ring ceremony being read by Rev. Wm. D. Bratton, rector of the Church of the Good Shepherd, at the home of the bride's parents on Huff avenue.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and the ceremony was said before the wide windows with a background of massed autumn roses. She wore a two-toned blue crepe frock with accessories to harmonize and carried an arm bouquet of rosebuds. There were no attendants and only relatives and a few very close friends were present.

The bride is one of the loveliest of Wichita Falls girls. She has lived in the city all her life and has hosts of friends. She is a graduate of Wichita Falls High school and attended Junior college.

Mr. Mount, who made his home in Wichita Falls several years ago, is a graduate of the University of Oklahoma and is a member of the Delta Tau Delta fraternity. Since his graduation he has been connected with the geophysical department of the Continental Oil company.

Mr. and Mrs. Mount left directly after the ceremony for Greely, Colo., where they will make their home temporarily.

Gov. Murray Invited Here

Okla. Executive Told of Boom For President

Gov. W. H. Murray of Oklahoma was informed in a letter mailed Tuesday of the organization of a Murray-for-President club here Monday night. An invitation that the Oklahoma executive come here at an early date to receive a portrait of himself, painted by Emil Hermann, local artist, and to address his friends and admirers here, also was extended.

At the organization of the club Monday night, the belief was expressed that Governor Murray probably could be induced to come here, now that a club has been formed to back his proposed candidacy for the presidency. Governor Murray told a Wichita Falls delegation that recently conferred with him at Oklahoma City that he would speak in Wichita Falls and accept the portrait, but would not set a date.

The letter of invitation mailed Tuesday was drafted by the officers of the club, Claude Miller, president; J. B. Marlow, vice president; Milburn Nutt, secretary; and W. R. Wilcke, treasurer. A reply is expected from the Oklahoman in the next few days.

Smithsonian Expert Finds 20,000-Year-Old Shell

PARIS, Oct. 27. (UP)—J. Townsend Russell, curator of old world archeology at the Smithsonian Institution, has discovered a triton shell 20,000 years old.

He found the shell this summer in the Cave of Marsoulis, Haute-Garonne, where he has been in charge of cooperative excavation carried on by the University of Toulouse and the Smithsonian institution.

The 20,000-year-old triton shell is the first of its kind ever reported from the paleolithic or Old Stone age.

Under Spain's proposed agrarian reform 60,000 families would receive grants the first year.

Memorial Program

Presentation of two bronze memorial tablets to Wichita Falls High school by the senior class of 1931 and a memorial program to the late Dr. J. W. Cantwell and R. D. Ford featured the general assembly program of the high school and college Tuesday morning.

Miss Lelia V. Davis, sponsor of the '31 graduates of the high school, was in charge of the memorial program, which began with a vocal solo, "I Would Be True," sung by Miss Margaret Bone, who was a 1931 senior and sang the same song at the school services last spring. Miss Mary C. Boone, also a '31 graduate, gave a tribute to the two men, and Joe Uttz made the presentation.

Mr. Uttz, who was chairman of the gift committee of the senior class, read the meaning of the tablets and explained the tributes. The slab for Mr. Ford reads as follows: "In Memory of R. D. Ford, 1889-1931, Counsellor, Teacher and Friend. Senior Class of 1931." And the slab for Dr. Cantwell says the following: "In Memory of J. W. Cantwell, 1868-1931. His noble life lives on in our hearts."

Uttz declared that it has been decided that the tablet in memory of Mr. Ford will be placed permanently in room 327 of the high school, in which the past teacher, the majority of whose pupils were seniors, taught English. It has not been decided, however, where the tablet to Dr. Cantwell will be placed.

Preceding the commemoration, Principal S. H. Rider stated that many favorable comments had been made regarding the accomplishments of the high school pep squad and band.

He announced that the Girl Reserves will present a very entertaining program for the entire student body of the high school and junior college Thursday morning at the regular meeting time of the girls' organization. The main part of the program will be a gruesome Hallowe'en play, "At the Stroke of Twelve," to be presented by the Blue Curtain players of the junior college.

Gardner Walker, president of the present freshman class of the college, invited all college students to the freshman party at the Elks club Friday night, starting at 8 o'clock.

Wichitan Issued Today

An unusually large Wichitan featuring plenty of advance dope on the Electra game as well as the regular 7&gh points, will be distributed among students of the high school and junior college Wednesday morning, according to Vernon McDaniel, business manager of the paper.

Termite's Destructive Work Draws Interest To Fight Against Ant Pest

MANY HOUSES DAMAGED HERE

Insect Eats Out Walls and Wooden Floors

Destructive invasions of several Wichita Falls homes by a tiny ant-like pest, the termite, in recent years has aroused much local interest in the persistent fight now being waged by the United States bureau of entomology upon this remarkably active insect.

While it has been known that the subterranean termite, which demands moisture for his existence, prevails throughout the coastal regions in the South, he was not supposed to have adopted himself to North Texas. Government charts show that his activities normally are limited to the gulf coast, so far as Texas is concerned, while a different type, known as non-subterranean, is more or less common in other states extending almost to the Canadian line.

Invade North Texas

But in recent years these little blackish, white-winged native ants have found sufficient 'moisture beneath various houses in Wichita Falls to establish themselves definitely as a menace. Their presence here is attributed generally to introduction by incoming lumber from territory in which the insect thrives. Their continued existence is said to be due largely to inadequate drainage beneath the structures which have been attacked.

In the several houses known to have been damaged by termites, drastic steps have been taken to eliminate the pests. Foundations and ground sills have been scraped clean of all traces of the protecting "mud" runways which the termite constructs to reach desired wooden portions, and to protect him from detection. Such foundational structures have been treated with preservatives, and in some cases equipped with metal flanges to prevent the upward travel of the termite army.

One of the homes in which a determined fight has been waged to repel the invader is that of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Barnard on Elizabeth street. Termites first appeared there in the spring of 1930, when small spots of what appeared to be brown mud appeared in the surface of a pantry floor. When scraped away, this substance revealed sizable holes in the flooring. The invader being identified by G. C. McGown, county farm agent, the supporting blocks and sills under the house were treated with kerosene.

In the spring of this year, however, the termite was present in increased number. The dingy brown spots appeared on a dining room wall, near the ceiling. Twelve holes in all, ranging from one-fourth inch to one inch in diameter, were found to have been cut cleanly through the boarding beneath the paper.

Examination revealed that the insects had built their tiny tunnel from the foundation upwards inside the partition between the pantry and dining room. Reaching a point near the ceiling, apparently they found wood to their liking, and forthwith consumed portions of the side next to the dining room.

There followed a minute examination of all foundational structures. Every sill and supporting block was scraped clean of the brownish mud which indicated the presence of termites. They were then heavily treated with tar-creosote. The pantry wall was replaced with sheet-rock, and a new flooring installed where the attack had taken place in the spring of 1930.

Several Homes Damaged

Two houses on Grant street are known to have been attacked. In one, the tell-tale brown splotches were found beneath the base of a reading lamp. Later, small openings were cut in other portions of the floor. Careful treatment of all foundations and sills with kerosene apparently has checked the activity of the destroyer in that house.

In the other Grant street residence, several pieces of flooring along one side of a large room suddenly gave way—revealing the wood's slow conversion to a spongy, porous section, undisturbed only on its upper surface. The entire section had to be replaced. Removal of all traces of the termite's runways and "castles," and treatment with chemicals, have been effected as a step toward preventing recurrence of the invasion.

In two locations, also on Grant street, the termite has been found numerously imbedded at the roots of chrysanthemum plants which have died. The roots had been destroyed.

At least two other buildings are known to have been damaged heavily by the insect. A Tenth street residence has received new floors in several rooms. A business structure in a suburban district was robbed twice of its flooring by an attack of myriad termites.

According to the government bureau, American home owners pay an annual tribute of thousands of dollars to the tiny destroyer. Existing in ravenous hordes, it literally devours wooden sections, cotton fabric and books. The paste with which it builds tunnels for its passage from ground to feeding places is in effect wood pulp.

How to Fight Pest

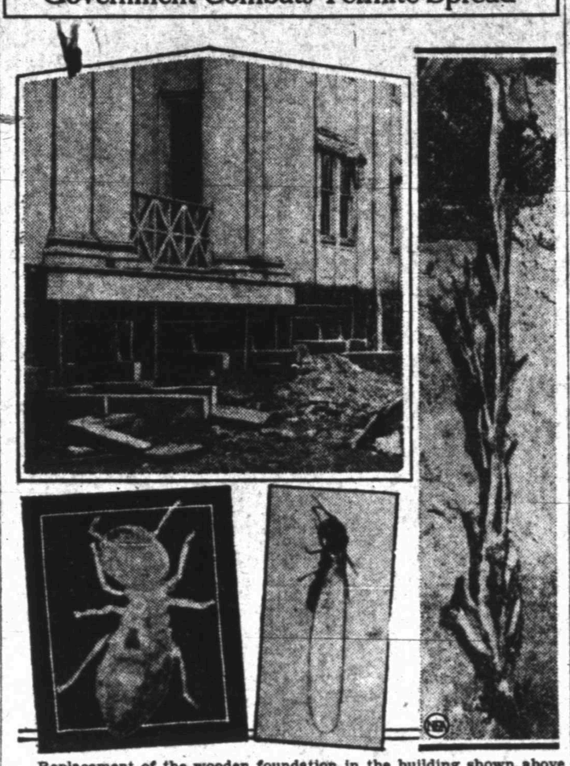

Improper construction of houses often permits the entrance of the termite, according to Dr. Thomas E. Snyder, senior entomologist for the government. The insect is able to reach wooden surfaces built above the ground by building these tubes on masonry walls. Heavy creosote treatment of wood portions in contact with the ground is recommended, and another way to prevent their spread is to use metal shields around the foundation, including all pillars, supports, and piping. Such shields should have their projecting edges turned downward at an angle of about 45 degrees, and should be made of non-corrosive substance.

Dr. Snyder also says: "Floor joists imbedded in masonry or concrete, or laid in masonry in contact with the earth, should be impregnated with a chemical preservative. The ends of beams or girders entering masonry or concrete should also be chemically treated. Walls and roof timbers, unless of naturally durable woods resistant to both insect attack and decay, should be protected on the weather side with waterproof building paper, which is generally considered good building practice, to prevent the accumulation of moisture."

Should a home owner detect the presence of the earthern tubes of a termite colony on the side of the house, he should break these tubes down, Dr. Snyder points out. The ladder by which the insects travel to and from the required moisture in the ground is thus broken, and they die.

Termites are continually underground or in the dark, and only the spring brood—ant-like insects with wings—see daylight for any length of time. Without contact with moisture, the working type of termite is helpless. Able to maintain contact with moisture, he continues to consume wood fiber until springtime, when he breaks out from the woodwork fully winged, and ready to aid in starting another colony elsewhere.

Government Combats Termite Spread

Replacement of the wooden foundation in the building shown above was made necessary by termite infection. Below, at the left, is shown the unwinged worker, which is always concealed. Next to the right, the winged adult. At the right is shown one of the "wood-pulp" communication tubes the insects construct upon which to travel from the soil to wooden parts selected for destruction.

O'Neill's New Play, Lasting Almost Five Hours, Thrills New York

NEW YORK, Oct. 27. (UP)—New York's "first nighters" viewed three plays in one before and after dinner last night and found the experience to their liking.

Eugene O'Neill's latest work, "Mourning Becomes Electra," was the offering of the Theater guild.

During three plays, 14 scenes, and four hours and 53 minutes of drama the playgoers were given an insight into the inner decay of a wealthy New England family in the period following the civil war.

The tale of family waywardness, suicide, murder and broken minds began at 4:10 in the first of the trilogy of plays, "Home Coming," and it was interrupted at 5:50 for dinner.

"The Hunted," resumed the story at 7:10 and the final curtain after "The Haunted" at 10:38 sent the playgoers home with the last drab, sordid detail.

TILLMAN JOINS TURKEY MART

Producers to Pool Fowls for Thanksgiving

Special to The Record News.

FREDERICK, Okla., Oct. 27.—A turkey marketing association has been organized by Tillman county producers. Key men were chosen from each school district in the county to call meetings of turkey growers in their respective districts, so that listings may be made of all the birds which will be ready for sale Thanksgiving.

Both Thanksgiving and Christmas pools will be formed, and as soon as enough listings have been secured for a carload or more, buyers will be notified through the marketing department of the Oklahoma Agricultural and Mechanical college. A sales committee consisting of C. M. Givens, M. T. Emanuel, and R. Hopper will receive sealed bids from buyers on Nov. 7, so that the purchasers will have ample time to put the birds on the terminal markets. Money must be deposited in a local bank to cover the check of any bidder immediately, and a statement as to time he desires delivery must accompany each bid.

Turkeys will be pooled at the more convenient places, wherever the buyer is willing to place cars. If no satisfactory bids are approved by the sales committee, producers will be advised to sell their birds as they wish. Annual dues of 25 cents will be paid by each member of the association, to defer expenses of marketing.

The key men in the school districts are: Consolidated No. 6, Frank Baldwin; Haskell, E. T. Ayers; Pleasant Valley, M. T. Emanuel; Hilltop, Lee McCord; district 137, Frank Barnett; Thacker, E. L. Hoover; Pleasant Ridge, Joe Cardwell; Manitou, R. Hopper; Consolidated No. 1, H. P. Adams; Hollister, L. P. Livingston; Lone Star, G. W. Sizer; Leggett, H. M. Burton; Sunset View, A. S. Patton; East Jack Creek, J. M. Cochran; Otter Creek, J. H. Bennett; W. E. Stillson, Indiahoma; and W. C. Elmore, Grandfield.

Accused Frederick Bookkeeper Makes Bond on Indictment

Special to The Record News

FREDERICK, Okla., Oct. 27.—Bond of $750 for her appearance in district court here Nov. 2, has been posted by Mrs. Bonnah Oswalt, indicted by the recent grand jury for embezzlement of public funds.

Mrs. Oswalt formerly served as city bookkeeper and collector here, and a shortage occurred in her books during that time. She is now of Crowell, Texas, and made her appearance voluntarily accompanied by her husband, James Oswalt, and brother-in-law, Harry Oswalt, county attorney of Foard county, Texas.

Guarantors of the bond signed by Mrs. Oswalt were J. D. Craig, L. S. Brown and A. L. Schrimsher.

France imported more than 300,000,000 pounds of raw wool in the first half of this year.

CHARGE FILED IN SLAYING

Realtor Succumbs to Bullet Wound

DALLAS, Oct. 27. (AP)—William Davis, 58, was charged with murder today in connection with the death from gunshot wounds of Charles L. Stephan, 39, real estate dealer.

The defendant allegedly entered Stephan's office Oct. 6, and shot him with a pistol. Arthur L. Wolf, 37, another real estate dealer, was severely wounded at the same time, but recovered.

Davis was charged with assault to murder for the shooting of Wolf.

Investigators learned that Davis had attacked Stephan and Wolf because of rage over the failure of a proposed real estate transaction to develop as anticipated.

Stephan died last night of his wounds and officers immdeiately re-arrested Davis, who had been at liberty under bond.

F. Trubee Davidson Escapes in Crash

MITCHELL FIELD, New York, Oct. 27. (AP)—Assistant Secretary of War F. Trubee Davison, in charge of aeronautics, narrowly escaped injury today when the landing gear of an army plane buckled as the ship landed.

Davison had flown from Bolling field, Washington, as a passenger with Lieutenant Quasada.

Men on the field rushed over just as the plane tipped over on its wing but Davison and the pilot were able to jump out without assistance. Neither had been injured.

Garage Man Cleared Of Bond Theft Charge

TULSA, Okla., Oct. 27. (AP)—City officers announced today they had released Joe Jones, former garage man, and cleared him of any implication in the alleged attempted disposal of nearly $60,000 in stolen bonds and unclipped coupons recovered yesterday.

Jones had been arrested with Frank Smith and Edward Winsor. The latter two still were held.

Loose DANDRUFF?

Get rid of it overnight

Dermatologists tell us that many serious cases of dandruff and falling hair could have been prevented by simple, early treatments.

If you have any evidence of dandruff, go after it with Listerine, the safe antiseptic. It has checked this humiliating condition for tens of thousands. You simply douse it on full strength and massage the scalp vigorously. Often you get results over night. Stubborn cases require more systematic treatment to see a real improvement.

If infection is present on the surface of the skin, Listerine attacks it. A powerful germicide, it kills bacteria in 15 seconds, the fastest killing time accurately recorded by science.

Listerine helps to dissolve oily crusts and quickly removes them, as well as horny scales. And Listerine quickly relieves that burning, itching sensation. It soothes inflamed or irritated areas of the scalp.

If scalp is excessively dry, a little olive oil may be used in connection with the Listerine shampoo, or independent of it. The oil aids in dissolving crusts and scales and keeps hair from drying out. Lambert Pharmacal Company, St. Louis, Mo., U. S. A.

The Puritan Strain

THE Puritanism of colonial New England has come in for its full share of criticism in the last few years. Lowbrows have jabbed at it for its fondness for restrictive rules of conduct; highbrows have attacked it for its intellectual and artistic barrenness.

But the strain is still strong in American life; and now and then we discover that it possesses all of its old vitality, turned into new and more productive channels.

There died in Cleveland a short time ago Samuel Mather, a direct descendant of the famous Puritan Mathers of colonial Massachusetts.

Those early Mathers are familiar to every schoolboy. What school history book fails to record the piety of Cotton Mather and Increase Mather, back in the days when the Massachusetts bay settlement was young?

Now the Puritanism of this family, through succeeding generations, died out—or, rather, changed its form. This Samuel Mather was not a theologian, like his predecessors. He was one of the greatest of the nation's industrialists.

Beginning his business career in the years immediately following the civil war, Samuel Mather helped to build up the enormous industrial kingdom that stretches from Cleveland to Pittsburgh. Great fleets of steamers appeared on the lakes because of his enterprise. The iron regions of Minnesota and upper Michigan were developed by him and his associates.

All in all, the man was one of the most useful industrialists the nation has produced.

But the interesting thing about him, just now, is the fact that he was the modern representative of one of the most famous of the old Puritan families.

Colonial Puritanism may have been hard, narrow and sterile. But it was possessed of tremendous energy, and it has transmitted that energy to its descendants. In its early career it gave a growing nation its intellectual and religious key; in later years, losing its dour austerity, it provided some of the country's most notable business leaders.

Loving a Garden

A MAN can get into trouble in a great many ways these days; but one of the oddest ways of all, surely, is that discovered by the New Yorker who landed in police court because he tried to take home a bucketful of soil from a city park.

This man, it developed, wanted to grow some geraniums in pots on the fire escape outside of his apartment window. To do this he had to have some dirt, and the city park seemed the handiest place to get it.

But it all proved sadly illegal, the would-be gardener had to go to court, and the fire escape remains, presumably, unadorned by flowers.

The desire to have a flower garden is one of the oldest and most universal of human impulses. But the man who lives in a metropolitan apartment house must, apparently, learn to stifle it.

Selling Aircraft Carriers

ONE of the most interesting rumors of the year is the one recently circulated in Boston, to the effect that plans are now under way for purchase by a private company of the navy's two great airplane carriers, the Lexington and the Saratoga, which would be transformed into express passenger steamers on a transatlantic route.

The rumor may turn out to be utterly groundless; meanwhile, however, American citizens will probably wonder just why the navy should be considering relinquishing these two expensive warships.

Designed originally as the most powerful battle cruisers on earth, the two ships were changed to airplane carriers because of the Washington naval treaty. If the navy wants to sell them, they must have failed as airplane carriers—in which case they must be listed as the most costly experiments the navy has ever made.

The Short-Selling Ban

THOSE who have urged prohibition of short sales in the stock market would do well to ponder recent remarks by Richard Whitney, president of the New York stock exchange.

Pointing out that a real rise in stock values is dependent on the re-establishment of an economic equilibrium, he added:

"The prohibition of short selling would delay and cannot hasten this process. Neither our governmental authorities by means of legislation, nor the New York stock exchange by means of its regulations, can by any magic perform economic miracles."

That states the case pretty well. The present depression was caused by something a good deal more important than the speculator who sells stocks before he buys them.

EXPLANATION OF YESTERDAY'S CARTOON

THE LONGEST RUN IN 18.2 BALKLINE BILLIARDS—What is reputed to be the longest run ever made in 18.2 balkline billiards was made by Willie Hoppe recently, at the Strand Billiard academy, 1579 Broadway, New York City. Hoppe started Friday afternoon, Oct. 2, playing with Walker Cochran. He ran 200 from the spot that afternoon, and ran another 200 from the spot that evening. Saturday afternoon he again made 200 from the spot, running another 200 that evening. On Sunday, Oct. 4, his run was 98—making a total of 898 straight points.

Tomorrow: "The most unique baseball player in the world."

THE GIRL WHO WON

By May Christie

Young and vivacious Nollie Day, public stenographer at an exclusive New York hotel, is befriended by the wealthy Mrs. Judson, a widow. One evening, Nollie goes to the theater in place of Mrs. Judson, where she meets handsome Tony O'Brien. She reveals her own identity but Tony does not hear her. Later in the evening she refrains from repeating her explanation for fear that Tony would lose interest when he learned the truth. Next day, Tony telephones and learns Mrs. Judson has gone abroad. Disbelieving the report, he comes to the hotel. He looks at Nollie without recognition but she believes it is because he has discovered her masquerade. Before Nollie can reach him, he disappears. Nollie secures a new position as secretary. Jack Brilling of Galbraith & Co. Misses Galbraith, Brilling's fiance is jealous when Brilling takes Nollie to dinner and warns Nollie against overstepping. Brilling tells Nollie he loves her.

Miss Galbraith enters the office just as Nollie frees herself from Brilling's embrace. Nollie is discharged.

Mrs. Judson gives Nollie a letter Tony had written her abroad. Intending to help Nollie and set the matter straight, she phones Tony to learn he has left on a vacation.

Mrs. Judson asks Nollie to become her secretary and visit her ranch.

Nollie accompanies Mrs. Judson to a garden party and meets Rhoda Vane.

CHAPTER XL

For the Brillings' dinner party, Rhoda wore an exquisite white satin gown.

"You look quite bridal yourself, Rhoda," commented Mrs. Judson.

She had a shrewd idea this virginal display was for the benefit of Tony O'Brien.

Tony had been bidden to the party, too. He had demurred at first, but finally had given in.

Rhoda was determined he should go. To keep on refusing would be churlish.

And Rhoda had done a great deal for him in the way of sending him clients in his law business.

He was indebted, then, to Rhoda. He must not antagonize her.

It wasn't in Tony's character, anyhow, to disappoint a woman who had been as pleasant to him as had Rhoda.

He liked Jack Brilling, too, in his careless Irish way. He was quite ignorant of the fact that Nollie had worked for him.

To tell him of the circumstances of her departure from the offices of Galbraith & Co. had been on the tip of Nollie's tongue.

But why spoil Tony's evening with the recital of what, after all, had been her own foolishness?

She had been wrong in taking supper with Jack Brilling when she was only a very minor employe in the firm of his now father-in-law, Mr. Galbraith.

And it had been a highly unpleasant ending . . . the fiance's jealous wrath!

Madeleine was now a bride, the episode forgotten. Why stir up old stories unnecessarily, then?

If Jinny Judson—who knew the whole circumstances—told Tony, that would be quite different, and outside Nollie's jurisdiction.

Nollie made up her mind in the meantime to say nothing.

In the luxurious hunting lodge that Mr. Galbraith had loaned his daughter for her honeymoon, Tony was dinner partner to Rhoda.

In her white satin dress that had something very virginal about it, Rhoda was beautiful.

Tony told her so. With his tongue, that is. His heart was elsewhere.

Why on earth couldn't Nollie Day be here?

Like a cup of clear water on a broiling day . . . like an oasis in the desert . . .

And Rhoda Vane was, in reality, and not as she was posing now, Nollie's direct antithesis.

Like a glass of champagne that left one with a headache afterwards . . . like the hard glare of the noonday sun . . . further metaphors failed Tony.

He talked and laughed in his gay Irish way, but his thoughts were away with Nollie.

"What a hard face Madeleine Galbraith has got!" thought he. Tonight there was a self-satisfied smirk upon it.

In his kindly heart he felt sorry for poor old Jack, the groom.

Madeleine was flirting coyly with Ted White, a rous-about-town, whom Tony detested.

"Do look at her. She must be all of 40, but a bride. Isn't she kittenish?"

This was from Rhoda. It woke Tony from his reverie.

"I can't stand White. But it's a good thing old Madeleine pulled off this coup, for her own sake—and for Jack's sake I hope she makes him happy."

"That I doubt. She's jealous as can be. He'll have to toe the line, from now on," whispered Rhoda.

"What are you two good-looking people discussing?" bleated Madeleine from her place at the head of the table.

"Only love's young dream. We think it too wonderful," burbled Rhoda.

They played old-fashioned games after dinner, and it was Rhoda—exhilarated by champagne and the stimulating presence of Tony—who suggested hide-and-seek-in-the-dark.

Madeleine agreed to this. She thought it would be a great lark.

Tony was "seeker." Rhoda determined she would isolate herself . . . Tony would find her . . . she would see that he did. . . .

He would surely kiss her then? She would contrive that he would.

In an out-of-the-way bedroom Rhoda hid. Her heart—if she possessed such an organ—thudded as she head Tony approaching.

The door was half open in the closet where she was hiding . . .

He groped in there. His hand touched her bare shoulder.

She drew a little gasping breath. He caught her.

'Rhoda, is that you?"

She practically threw herself into his arms, her hands about his neck, her body thrust against him.

Nollie sat alone by the dying embers of the log fire in Mrs. Judson's living room.

Eleven o'clock! She'd go to bed. She felt restless, worried, visionary.

What was Tony doing at the Galbraith lodge? Was Rhoda making headway with him? Or Jack Brilling and his bride making trouble? Trust Tony, who loved her.

Throw the foolish thoughts away.

But Rhoda Vane was rich—and of another, larger world than Nollie's. She was beautiful.

Nollie shook with apprehension as a tap came at the window pane that was nearest to the fireside.

She hadn't drawn the curtain.

Tony's handsome face beamed through the glass at her!

"Acushla, I couldn't keep away. Let me come in. Oh, please, Nollie."

She had thrust the window back, and his head was level with her own and his Irish eyes were full of devilment and pleading.

"It's late. You shouldn't have broken away. What would Mrs. Judson say to this, Tony?"

But her heart rose with a glad, proud joy that Tony had slipped away from the party and returned to her.

Feminine Aversion to Fat Tempts Advertisers to Promise Wonders

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27. (US)—Bulging feminine obesity was revealed today as one of the most fertile sources of trouble for the federal trade commission—officially speaking.

The commission's monthly summary of its efforts to eliminate false or misleading advertising and "unfair trade practices" show a preponderance of cases involving devices or alleged medicines designed to reduce feminine avoirdupois.

A favorite, appearing under several different trade names is the rubber "reducing belt" or corset "made of scientifically treated rubber that massages the abdomen at every move of the body, even at the mere process of breathing, producing the same effect as an expert masseur."

Belt Bared

The commission—composed entirely of men—apparently regarded that as "unfair competition" and issued a cease and desist order in one instance, while other similar cases are now under investigation.

Several varieties of so-called "salts" advertised as efficacious for turning curves into straight lines also came under the commission's fire.

Aside from over-emphasized waistlines the chief target of advertisers rebuked by the commission was the entire category of human ills. Remedies guaranteed to cure catarrh, nervous disorders, stomach trouble, heart trouble, intestinal trouble, deafness, indigestion, bladder trouble, high blood pressure, liver, kidney, bowel, gland and blood ailments, were all included.

Bashfulness "Cure"

It was reported that one publisher had been induced to discontinue publication of advertising matter for an ultra ambitious vendor of a sure cure for bashfulness. Another publisher decided to drop advertisements of an alleged cure for the tobacco habit.

Contrasting with the numerous reducing schemes there was the case of a firm advertising a cream designed to add flesh to any part of the body where it might be needed.

Soaring beyond material bounds into realms approaching the supernatural was the offer of a New York jewelry firm to sell wonder-working rings "alleged to have been first made during the fifteenth century by a Spanish goldsmith and to bring its wearer his fondest desires in love, hope, power, happiness, health and wealth." The commission obtained an agreement with the dealer to discontinue that advertising.

Girl's Body Found In Wisconsin Town

ANTIGO, Wis., Oct. 27. (AP)—The body of an unidentified girl, about 18 years old, was found last night in a field at Matteon, Shawano county village. The upper part of the unclothed body had been crammed into a gunny sack with the arms protruding through holes in the sack.

Coroner Harvey Steubenvall said he was unable to determine whether the girl were an Indian. Apparently the body had been in the field at least a week.

There were several wounds but the coroner had not determined what caused them.

Speed Record Holder To Woo New Laurels

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Oct. 27. (AP)—Lowell R. Bayles, who early in September won the Thompson trophy at the national air races in Cleveland, Ohio, announced today arrangements had been completed for attempt to break both the American and the world land plane speed record at Detroit next week. Bayles will use the Gee Bee plane City of Springfield which he drove to a speed of 236 miles an hour in winning the Thompson trophy. The plane will be equipped for the attempt with a Pratt & Whitney motor capable of developing 750 horsepower, or 200 horsepower more than was developed by the wasp junior motor used at Cleveland, he said.

Answers to Questions

This great service is maintained by The Record News for the benefit of its readers who may use it every day without cost to themselves. All they have to do is ask for any information desired and they will receive prompt answers by mail. Questions must be clearly written and stated as briefly as possible. Enclose two-cent stamps for return postage and address The Record News Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, Director, Washington, D. C.

Q.—How many airports are there in the United States?—N. K.

A.—In 1930 there were 1,114 municipal airports, 354 intermediate, 240 auxiliary, 53 army, 14 navy, and 7 miscellaneous. Approximately 10,500 airplanes are being operated in the United States, 5,000 of these being in the hands of private owners, individuals and companies outside of aeronautics.

Q.—What is the title of Queen Wilhelmina's daughter?—H. W. B.

A.—The Princess Juliana bears the title of Princes of Orange-Nassau, Duchess of Mecklenburg.

Q.—When was Jefferson Davis in Washington as a public servant?—V. D.

A.—Jefferson Davis was a representative in congress in 1845-46, when he resigned on account of the Mexican war in which he participated. He was appointed to the senate in 1847 and elected for the next term. He was secretary of war in the cabinet of President Pierce from 1853 to 1857, and elected again to the senate, 1857-61, when he resigned on account of the Civil War.

Q.—Please explain why no two people see the same rainbow.—A. M.

A.—The rainbow is always seen along the circumference of a circle whose center is on a straight line with the eye of the observer, hence no two persons see strictly the same bow.

Q.—Has the United States paid Denmark for the Virgin islands?—E. E. R.

A.—On March 3, 1917, congress appropriated $25,000,000 to pay for the Virgin islands. On the 31st of that month a treasury warrant was made out to the envoy extraordinary of Denmark, and this warrant was returned as paid on April 2, 1917.

Q.—When will the Bicentennial stamps be on sale?—L. I. K.

A.—They will be on sale to the public on Jan. 2, 1932. Collectors and others interested may obtain them on Jan. 1, at the postoffice in Washington, D. C., and at the Philatelic agency, postoffice department. The series will be in 12 denominations, from ½ cent to 10 cents inclusive.

Q.—Is there any method of destroying cockroaches without the use of poisons and repellents and fumigants?—W. A. J.

A.—Various forms of traps have been employed very successfully. These devices are all so constructed that the roaches may easily get into them and can not afterwards escape. The destruction of the roaches is effected either by the liquid into which they fall or by being doused with hot water.

Q.—What is meant by national origins in immigration?—M. T.

A.—It refers to the national origins plan of prorating immigrants. A basic quota arbitrarily fixed at 150,000 is prorated to the various countries in the proportions which inhabitants of the United States having those national origins bore to the whole population of the United States in 1920. If those of a given national origin contributed 20 per cent, for instance, to the 1920 population, they would be alloted 20 per cent of the total annual quota.

Q.—Who holds the all-time highest pitching percentage in baseball?—A. J. G.

A.—Frank G. Menke says: "The best average since 1900 was 1.000 perfect, turned in by Tom Zachary, then with the New York Americans, 1929, when he won 12 games and lost none. However, it is a rule in baseball to remove marks made by pitchers who do not figure in at least 20 complete games per year. In such a case, the honor, belongs to Smoky Joe Wood, who in 1912 pitching for the Boston Americans, won 34 games, and lost 5, and had an average of .872."

Q.—How does our total air force equipment for war compare with other countries?—F. A.

A.—France has the largest air force—4,853 planes; Great Britain is next with 2,065; then Italy, 1,884; United States, 1,809; Russia, 1,520; and Japan, 1,312. Great Britain and the United States rival each other in highest efficiency. Italy follows closely. Japan is making steady progress. German aviation, while non-military in appearance, is second to none in skill and technique. Soviet Russia is very ambitious, planning to develop her fleet to match the combined forces of Europe.

HALL HIGHWAY LINK OPENED

Eli-Lakeview Strip Ready For Heavy Traffic

Special to The Record News.

MEMPHIS, Texas, Oct. 27.—The pavement from Eli to two miles west of Lakeview on the new Memphis-Mulberry bridge highway, has been opened to traffic. This opened the road from Memphis to Lakeview and the first part of the paving job is complete.

The pavement has been curing for a period of 28 days due to the fact that heavy traffic will be placed on it immediately for the hauling of batch to Mulberry bridge where the last part of the road is being started. The usual curing requires 21 days.

Some 6,000 feet of mesh fencing is being erected on the road where the fill is over five feet and on the approach to bridges, County Engineer Hasie stated. Center stripes for traffic division are being painted in the middle of the pavement, and parts of the road where painting and fencing is being done is blocked to traffic. Joint sealing was completed last week and the road will probably be completed in about eight days.

Flagpole Dance by Two Girls Barred

Special to The Record News

TEXARKANA, Texas, Oct. 27. (AP)—Two girls were restrained from staging a marathon dance on top a flagpole above a hotel today by a court injunction.

They had erected a tiny platform at the top of the pole on which they proposed to dance for 100 hours.

The dancers, Betty Fox and Babe Fox, contended that their "dance" was not a marathon performance but Judge Johnson, in issuing the injunction to District Attorney Elmer Lincoln, ruled against them.

The legal action followed a warning issued to the girls' manager, Benny Fox, yesterday. When they persisted in their plan for the dance, Lincoln obtained the injunction.

Hearing of the injunction was planned for this afternoon.

Hope Held for Car Crash Victim

Special to The Record News.

BRECKENRIDGE, Texas, Oct. 27.—O. A. Bass, secretary of the Breckenridge Finance company, who was critically injured Saturday night in an automobile accident on the Cisco highway, was improved Monday and given a chance for recovery. It was feared at first that his injuries would prove fatal.

Bass was returning from a business trip to San Antonio, Mrs. Bass said. Another car is alleged to have struck his car causing it to overturn. He was picked up by a passing motorist and brought to the Westside hospital. Bass was riding alone.

To End a Cough In a Hurry, Mix This at Home

To quickly end stubborn coughs due to colds, it is important to soothe the inflamed membranes, get rid of the germs and also to aid the system inwardly to help throw off the trouble.

For these purposes, here is a home-made medicine, far better than anything you could buy at 3 times the cost. From any druggist, get 2½ ounces of Pinex. Pour this into a pint bottle, and add plain granulated sugar syrup or strained honey to fill up the pint. This takes but a moment, saves money, and makes a remedy so effective that you will never do without, once you have used it. Keeps perfectly, and children like it.

This simple remedy does three necessary things. First, it loosens the germ-laden phlegm. Second, it soothes away the inflammation. Third, it is absorbed into the blood, where it acts directly on the bronchial tubes. This explains why it brings such quick relief, even in the obstinate coughs which follow cold epidemics.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of Norway Pine, containing the active agent of creosote, in refined, palatable form, and known as one of the greatest medicinal agents for severe coughs and bronchial irritations.

Do not accept a substitute for Pinex. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

Nine School Children Hurt as Truck Hits Cows on Highway

LUFKIN, Texas, Oct. 27. (AP)—Nine school children were seriously injured on the highway near Pennington today when the privately owned truck in which they were riding to school overturned.

The accident occurred when the truck, attempting to pass an approaching automobile, collided with two cows running across the road.

Eleven children were riding on the truck. In overturning the truck pinned several of them underneath it in the roadside ditch.

The injured:

W. G. Rosser, 16, driver of the truck leg broken.

Buck Rosser, 12, both legs broken.

Olemintine Rosser, 14, broken wrist, spinal injuries, unconscious.

Wanda Joy Rosser, 10, broken arm.

Maurine Rosser, 9, broken arm.

J. W. Doyle, 15, head injuries, unconscious.

Three other children of the Doyle family, whose names were not learned, were severely injured, one received a broken arm. The other two were painfully cut and bruised.

Pauline Rosser, 18, and Tom Rosser, 7, were the only ones to escape injury. They were thrown clear of the wreck.

The truck was the property of Tom Rosser, a farmer living near the village of Friday. The truck was being used to transport the Rosser and Doyle children to school at Pennington.

The cows were killed in the collision. A preliminary investigation indicated that the cows were responsible for the accident.

NOCONA WAITS LEGION VISIT

District Convention Set for Saturday

Special to The Record News.

NOCONA, Texas, Oct. 27.—The American Legion and Legion auxiliary will hold a two-day district convention here Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 31 and Nov. 1.

Responses received so far from posts in the district indicate an attendance of at least 250 or 300.

Information desks and registration bureau will be established in the Lion's club rooms in the Fillmore hotel building Saturday afternoon, Oct. 31. All visitors upon arrival in the city should register and obtain information regarding convention activities.

Saturday, Oct. 31, Afternoon—Registration at Lion's club rooms.

Evening—Halloween dance for convention visitors. (Suitable entertainment will be provided by the auxiliary for those who do not wish to participate in the dance).

Sunday, Nov. 1, 8:30 a. m.—Officers' breakfast for post officers of the district, and state officers.

11 a. m.—Patriotic services at the high school auditorium, to which the public is urged to attend. This will be featured by an address delivered by Hon. Hal Brennan of Laredo, post department commander.

12:15 p. m.—Dinner served at the school gymnasium. Congregational singing of songs popular in the days of 1917-18. Address of welcome and response. Introduction of distinguished visitors and five minutes' talk on pertinent subjects.

1:30 p. m.—Business session of legion in gymnasium. Business session of auxiliary in school auditorium.

The "40 and 8" are desirous of putting on a "wreck" Saturday evening and no doubt will, provided a sufficient number of "goats" are procured for the purpose.

Several very interesting and entertaining addresses will be made by speakers. Among them will very likely be John Gould, who served in France in the quartermasters corps, in a short talk on "The Nutritive Value of Spinach."

Girl Crash Victim Buried at Frederick

Special to The Record News.

FREDERICK, Okla., Oct. 27.—Burial was made in the city cemetery of the body of Edna Norrid, 25, young woman killed here Oct. 5 in a car wreck, when two letters sent to her parents at Fabens, Texas, failed to elicit any reply as to the disposal of the body.

The funeral service was conducted by Rev. H. W. Stigler at 10 o'clock Saturday morning. It was thought inadvisable to hold the body any longer, as she had already been identified positively by her mother, Mrs. E. C. Norrid, who wrote over a week before the burial and asked for her daughter's belongings to be sent to her home. A letter was directed to her, asking for instructions, and telling her the girl was not yet interred. No reply was received to the letter, or to a second one dispatched.

HOW'S THE EFFECT?

New Vinegar Tastes Like Whisky and Looks Like Wine

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27. (US)—A new miracle of science appeared today as a possible solution for a famous "noble experiment."

The American Chemical society announced that F. W. Freise, a Brazilian chemist, has produced vinegar which "tastes like old whisky and has the color of Rhine wine." The society quoted a lengthy technical description of the process by which the vinegar is produced from fermentation of coffee fruit pulp.

Farm-Bred Judge Trips Defendant On Harvest Time

HAMMOND, Ind., Oct. 27. (AP)—Judge V. S. Reiter, who has presided over the Lake county superior court bench for 25 years, learned the fundamentals of farming on a farm near Rochester.

That is why William Fox's excuse was not good enough.

Arrested on a bench warrant because he failed to appear in a divorce hearing, he testified he had been stricken with rheumatism while working in a wheat field June 15.

"What were you doing in a wheat field June 15?" inquired Judge Reiter.

"Harvesting."

"Not in Indiana," the judge replied. "That's three weeks early for harvest here. Jail for you."

Health and Diet Advice

Relieving Stomach Trouble

While digestive discomfort may often be temporarily relieved by such measures as taking baking soda or other remedies, you should understand that this is only a relief which does not remove the true cause of the trouble. There is no good reason for expecting a permanent cure with only temporary treatments. They are undoubtedly helpful in alleviating symptoms, but one should not lose sight of the fact that a true cure must require more stringent measures.

Patients with digestive discomfort will often be pleasantly surprised to know how easily the symptoms may be relieved. The most common cause of stomach trouble is undoubtedly found in the foods used. One may be eating more than one can digest or using wrong combinations or poor articles in the diet such an onions, garlic, pickled meats or even good foods which are improperly prepared.

For temporary relief of indigestion a warm enema often brings quick results. The patient should also drink as much warm water as he can without discomfort as it will help to wash out the stomach. If there is gas or a burning feeling, some ordinary baking soda in the water will prove helpful. Applying hot towels around the stomach is very soothing, relaxing the tense muscles and alleviating the pain. If there is a pronounced desire to vomit, it is advisable to have the patient do so, but not if the vomiting appears to be continuous even after the stomach is empty.

However satisfactory temporary measures may seem, one should remember that they will do nothing to remove the true cause of the attacks of indigestion. Their only purpose is to bring relief and the average case will grow gradually worse if only temporary measures are used. For the permanent removal of indigestion it is usually advisable to use some form of the fasting treatment, followed by a well chosen diet. The fast brings about rapid results in many cases as it gives the stomach a good rest. There is possibly no other disorder where the fast brings about such a decided improvement as in stomach trouble. A short fast is always a good preparation for any radical change in the diet, and is necessary in advanced cases to ensure rapid results from the treatment.

Those having chronic gastritis, or stomach acidity, will find that the water fast is beneficial in overcoming these troubles. My article on "Reducing Stomach Acidity" gives the method for taking a water fast. I also have articles on Stomach Ulcers, Milk Diet, and Excessive Gas, Gastritis, Stomach Pains, etc., any of which I will be glad to send you. Do not forget to enclose a two cent stamp for each article desired. If you have had a diagnosis made and know the name of your trouble, be sure to tell me as I may be able to select some special article which would be most suitable for you.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

The Best Test

Question—Mrs. I. N. V. writes: "Would thank you to please inform me what length of time is required after a meal of red beets for the color to appear in the stool. Also would the tenderloin of fresh meat require as many hours to digest as pork?"

Answer—The length of time required for the color to show in the stool after a meal of beets depends entirely upon the person's intestinal tract. However, it should appear within 18 or 20 hours and, if longer than this, there is a possibility that there is an obstruction present. Tenderloin of fresh meats does not require as long to digest as the parts of the meat which have more fat as the leaner the meat the more easily it is digested.

Itching Blisters on Hands

Question—Miss Viva S. asks: "Will you please tell me what causes blisters to come on my hands, which itch intensely. After these are opened, a scab forms. I find this occurs after handling most any kind of vegetables. I have been told it was tetter."

Answer—Tetter is a popular name for a large variety of skin disorders. From the symptoms mentioned in your letter you are probably suffering from eczema. If you will send me a self-addressed, stamped envelope, I will be pleased to send you my article on this subject together with a diet which should prove very beneficial. Sun baths, or physiotherapy treatments should also be helpful.

Bloodshot Eyes

Question—G. O. K. asks: "Will you please tell me why my eyes are bloodshot? There are times when one or both are so without any apparent reason."

Answer—Bloodshot eyes are often caused by reflexes from some other part of the body, principally the ailmentary canal. A disordered stomach from bad food combinations is probably the greatest common cause. You should, however, have the eyes examined by an optometrist to discover if eyestrain is present.

COYOTES AND TIGERS DRILL HARD FOR SATURDAY GAME HERE

The Rambler's Corner

By FRED THOMPSON

Cubs in Danger

Fans hereabouts who for several years have watched the Olney Cubs romp away with district and regional titles have got so much in the habit of taking Olney victories for granted, that they are forecasting another sweeping Olney championship this year.

It seems that Crowell's great showing so far this season has not properly impressed them.

They had better get wise pretty quick. The Olney Cubs this year stand an excellent chance of meeting old man Waterloo. Their hopes for the district 3 class B title stand a good chance of being utterly shattered on Nov. 6 when they play Crowell.

Olney has a heavier and more aggressive defense than Crowell, who depends largely on Crews Cooper's lightning speed and ability to wiggle through a broken field. Olney has four powerful backfielders, Rue, Graves, Elmore and Duckworth. But in contrast to their wicked offense, they have a relatively weak line. Fans must remember that eight of the eleven men who won Olney's championship last year graduated. On the other hand, Crowell has one of the most powerful lines in this section, and their strong defense has a good chance of stopping the powerful Olney offense.

If Olney is to continue winning the district championship, it must beat a Crowell team that at this date looks almost unbeatable.

A Good Story, If True

I heard this from a football fan who was on the sidelines at the Quanah game. He wasn't sure that he had the facts exactly straight, but here's the story he told me, anyhow:

Quanah had the ball and on a running play split the Coyote defense open for a good gain. But after the players had regained their feet, Captain Harrell of Quanah rushed up to Referee Ziggy Sears and said, pointing to one of his men: "Did you see that? That's a 15-yard penalty for us for clipping, isn't it?"

Ziggy was swept off his feet. It is not every day that a captain points out faults of his own team and asks for penalties.

"Yes," said Ziggy, "I saw it. But if that's the way you feel about it, the penalty will be only five yards instead of 15."

Budding Bards Dept.

And now friends and enemies, it strikes us that it has been weeks, nay months, since this immortal column was embellished with poesy.

We hinted last week that John Milton the Last, of Electra, had written a new poem. Indeed he has. He tacks it onto a letter, as follows:

"Most Honored Sir! (Methinks you objected to my last salutation of 'Say, Rambler')

"It has taken me a week or more to recover from the wisecracks at my poetry, but since reading the attempts of the other budding bards, I have decided that I could be worse. You have heard of people with 'souls of poets.' Well, we, including yourself, have 'soles of poets.'

"Since getting all those brickbats through your corner I have writtne the following lament:

"Miss Milner (personal) I am surprised that you insinuated that I 'borrowed' my last poem from some other source, but of course I wouldn't follow your example. I also challenge you to find the source."

Lament of John Milton The Last

All right, I've written something I shouldn't,
Or failed to write something I should
Though just what it was I'm uncertain, because
My memory's not very good.
I thought my poetry was perfect
I can't understand why it's not
But it's evident I'm simply steeping in crime
For the Rambler and fans say it's rot!

Did I use the wrong kind of rhymes?
Did I fail to use the right lines?
Did I laugh just a bit at Fred's wit,
Or what was the matter with me?
I'm wearing the scratchiest sackcloth,
My head in the dust-bin is hid
Since the folks made fun of the poetry
That came from under my lid.

Glue It On

At last I have discovered what's wrong with Hon. Milton. Poetry is supposed to come from the heart, not from under a lid. We admit, Johnnie, that your lament was an improvement of at least .9876 per cent over your last contribution, but you could do a lot better if you'd keep your hat firmly on your head and prevent the poetic overflow. (Personal: Better leave Miss Milner alone; she graduated from Ozone, or Oxford, or somewhere like that, and she knows every book that was ever written.)

Stamford Bulldogs Defeat Hamlin, 24-0

Special to The Record News.

STAMFORD, Texas, Oct. 27.—The Stamford Bulldogs journeyed to Hamlin today and captured a 24 to 0 victory over the Hamlin High school eleven. The game originally was scheduled to be played last week, but was postponed on account of rain.

A passing combination, Bounds, fullback, to York, halfback, made sensational gains for Stamford, one of the heaves being good for 35 yards and a touchdown. York scored two other touchdowns for Stamford, and Bounds took it over for the third counter after a drive down the field.

Dreiser Asks Borah To Probe Mine Dispute

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27. (AP)—Senator Borah of Idaho was asked today to sponsor a congressional investigation into conditions in the Kentucky mine dispute by Theodore Dreiser, chairman of the national committee for defense of political prisoners.

The senator took the request under advisement.

NOCONA WINS PRACTICE TILT

Elect's Coach Issues New Ways to His Team

A practice game between Nocona and Wichita Falls teams composed of first and second stringers jumbled indiscriminately in the lineups attracted quite a bit of attention at the high school practice field yesterday afternoon, Nocona winning the tussle, 7 to 6. But the main cry of the Coyotes was "Beat Electra" and after several of the first string Coyotes had been used in the practice game the regulars were sent through a hustling scrimmake as the Pack continued to get in shape for its next conference tilt here next Saturday.

The scrimmage lasted until dusk, with the Pack showing a fine fighting spirit. Apparently Wichita Falls fans this week are to be treated to an even more thrilling combat than that last Saturday, when the Coyotes made a commendable showing against the powerful Quanah team. The Wichita Falls-Electra game will be between two fairly evenly matched teams, and the quality of fight in the two aggregations undoubtedly will have a large bearing on the outcome.

J. Z. Powell, regular quarterback, captained the team that went against the class B Nocona outfit here yesterday. There were several other regulars in the lineup, among them J. R. Holton, who played in the backfield, and made some of the longest runs of the day. The Nocona team included Zachary, Fenoglio and Perryman in the backfield, all of whom are regulars.

During the first half, neither team was able to show to advantage. In the early part of the third quarter, however, the Coyotes got going. Two long gains by McBride, with a 20-yard sprint around left end by J. R. Holton gave the Pack a first down on the four-yard stripe. Two plays later Holton took it over, Hanks' place kick for extra point was low and wide.

Nocona scored their touchdown early in the last period. Lindelof got off a punt of about 45 yards from midfield, which McBride juggled, Harralson of Nocona recovering on Wichita Falls' one-yard line. Zachary was held for no gain on a buck at the center of the line but Perryman on the next play went off his left tackle for the touchdown. Perryman then passed to Lindelof for the extra point, which won the game.

The Pack staged a remarkable comeback with an aerial attack, three or four passes, McBride to Holton and Hanks, clicking to perfection and these, coupled with nice gains by Holton through the line took the Coyotes straight down the field for a first down on the three-yard line. But on the next play, Powell fumbled the ball and Nocona recovered. They immediately punted out of danger.

With five seconds to go, and the ball in the Coyotes' possession near their own goal line as the result of a long Nocona punt, Coach Holton sent in his entire first string team, including Capt. Benny Withrow. On the first play Withrow tore the Nocona line to shreds and raced about 35 yards. He made another long gain to put the ball in midfield just as the final whistle was tooted.

The Nocona victory atones for a 7 to 0 defeat they suffered at the hands of the Coyote B squad in a recent game played at Nocona.

Coach Holton announced his regulars would again be put through a stiff workout today, and that a scrimmage with Electra plays probably would be on the program.

TIGERS PERFECT NEW STYLE OF ATTACK

Special to The Record News.

ELECTRA, Texas, Oct. 27.—The Electra High school Tigers have begun their week's preparation for their encounter with the Wichita Falls Coyotes Saturday afternoon.

Coaches Harvey Stanford and Tampke issued new plays in the initial practice session and spent most of the afternoon perfecting this formation. This new style of attack will likely be tried against the Cubs Wednesday, which day is usually set aside for the weekly scrimmages.

With every recruit on hand Monday, the squad appeared to be in the best condition than at any time this season. There were no serious casualties reported, due to the hard game with the Vernon Lions Saturday, and from all indications, injuries should not hinder the Bengals' game this week-end.

The mentors are expected to change the backfield again for the coming tilt. Lee Parnell, who has been running at fullback, has been shifted to half with Sandefer at the fullback post. Cloninger still maintains his old position at quarterback with Manard Stroud and Boutwell alternating with Parnell at the other two backs. These five balltoters are depended upon to carry the bulk of the Tigers' offense against the Coyotes. Of the five mentioned, only two played in the game against their old rivals last year.

Due to the superb showing of the forward wall in the game against the Lions, it will probably remain intact with several likely candidates on hand for substitutions.

ELECTRA GIRLS' PEP SQUAD GETS READY

Special to The Record News

ELECTRA, Texas, Oct. 27.—The Red Peppers, Electra High school's girls pep squad, are practicing stunts and yells this week to be in readiness for the annual Tiger-Coyote football classic at Wichita Falls Saturday. The girls, in their pretty red and white uniforms, have been doing good work this year under the direction of Miss Ethel Varnell, head of the girls' physical education department. Officers of the pep squad are Rosemary Magee, president and yell leader; Carrie Mae Dees, secretary; Elizabeth Cooper, reporter; and Kathrine Sheridan and Catherine McClure, assistant yell leaders.

E. E. Rogers, principal of the high school, announced Tuesday that the high school pupils would meet in assembly at least twice this week to practice songs and yells.

Wood Seems to Be Football's Napoleon

By WILLIAM BRAUCHER
NEA Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—The 1931 crop of gridiron Napoleons is fairly promising, but the boys will have to do an awful lot of fast Napoleoning to follow the pace set by William Barry Wood Jr. of Harvard.

Wood now has the inside track to the All-American quarterback job. Though there are quite a few signal-callers throughout the country who seem to know enough not to forward pass from behind their own goal line when their team is leading by a single touchdown, none seems to have Wood's poise and his calm way of imparting confidence to the team he directs.

Wood might have been excused for a little nervous excitement with a team like Army in front of him with a 13-point lead. But this chap doesn't get that way. He preserves under the most trying conditions the spirit the Rockne used to call "the old savoir faire." After all, what are a couple of touchdowns? Wood, rather than excited, seemed amused by the Army's scoring antics.

The Harvard team caught that spirit as Wood calmly and with concentration on the task ahead set about deliberately following the plans which he and his coaches had decided upon before the game. It was a test of his ability to bring his team up from behind, a true test of quarterbacking ability.

With as much nonchalance as George Earnshaw might show pitching to the Peoria Three-Eye team with a six-run lead to work on, Wood simply drew back and pegged the ball to his mates for a couple of goals. Very easy, if you know how.

Once, fumbling a bad pass from center, he quickly recovered and ran across the line with the extra point after touchdown that brought the Crimson victory.

He saved the game time and again, intercepting forward passes and pouncing upon Army runners who had broken through the Harvard first line defenses.

There are other good quarterbacks in this and that neck of the woods. On the Pacific coast they swear by Orv Mohler, a junior who turns the semaphores for Southern California.

Carl Cramer, a sophomore, pulled Ohio out of the ruck against Michigan and gave the Buckeye boosters the first real thrill they have been able to get out of quarterbacking since the bright days of Stinchcomb and Holman.

In the South, Fullback "Hurry" Cain, who calls the signals for Alabama and then runs with the ball himself, is being mentioned by those whose unfortunate task it is to select all-star teams. The selectors' job might be easier if Austin Downes, the Georgia quarterback who knows what it takes to beat Yale, wouldn't bear down so hard.

In the Southwestern conference Weldon "Speedy" Mason dominates the picture insofar as quarterbacking is concerned. But a great group in the Southwest will swear by the decisions of Elkins, who directs the stampeding Longhorns of Texas university.

There are others. Before the season is over, the name of Ralph Hewitt of Columbia will be "right up there," as your Uncle Wilbert Robinson formerly of the Brooklyn Dodgers would say it. There is Booth at Yale; Berry at Illinois; McCall at Dartmouth; White at Purdue; La Mark at New York U. —and all these are pretty smart people at picking the correct numerals.

But they are not quite up there with William Barry Wood Jr., because he is up there quite a way.

Olney Cubs Hard at Work Preparing For Megargel and Crowell Games

Special to The Record News

OLNEY, Texas, Oct. 27.—Coach Albert Acker's regional champions came through the Munday game with only a few minor injuries and are hard at work preparing for Megargel and Crowell. The Cubs well remember that it was the Megargel team that gave them plenty of trouble with superior fight in 1929 to earn a tie, so they are not taking the Bluebirds lightly. The battle cry is still "Stop Crowell," and Acker and his boys are thinking about the big Foard county entry in all their preparations for the Megargel game here Friday.

While it is true that scouts saw nothing that would be valuable to them in the Friday game here, Acker had no chance to see what his boys could do against a hard driving team with the speed, power and deception that his boys must face in the Crowell, Archer City and Chillicothe games. Acker reasons that his boys will have no more than a fighting chance to defeat Crowell with Carter on one end and J. Todd at the opposite tackle. These two boys have turned all opposition away this year and the Cub attack Nov. 6 is likely to be directed away from those two boys. The Cub line has only one regular man from last year's championship team, Co-captain O'Brien, and it is not likely that a green line will be able to meet the experienced Crowell forward wall on even terms. It looks like the game will have to be played in the air so far as Olney is concerned. That is not encouraging to local fans. The air route has not been inviting to the local team this year. Only against Electra have the Cubs shown any semblance of a successful passing attack. Since then the receiver and passer have not been very successful in making connections

BLUES DEFEAT EL RANCHITO

Local Poloists Win Final Game, 10 to 9

The Wichita Falls Blues finally won a polo game from the hard-riding El Ranchito club of Fort Worth at Fain field here yesterday afternoon, ekeing out a 10 to 9 victory in the third game of the series. It was a closely contested match throughout, and the Fort Worth riders by scoring three goals in the last hectic period, threatened to snatch the contest out of the fire.

The Fort Worth team won the first two games of the series, defeating the Blues Saturday, 8 to 5, and again Sunday, 9 to 5, and thus carried off a set of four beautiful loving cups donated by E. R. Fain. After the final game yesterday afternoon, Mayor Walter Nelson Jr., after a brief talk praising the skill of the visiting players, presented the trophies to the winners. A speech of acceptance was made by Eddie Compton, Fort Worth attorney, who plays on the El Ranchito team.

S. R. Featherston, playing back for Wichita Falls, maintained his sensational play yesterday afternoon, scoring four goals. Featherston scored two goals in each of the first two games. Fain, playing No. 1 position, also turned in a brilliant game, scoring two goals. Horrace Robbins accounted for the other Wichita Falls counter. The Blues were given three goals as a handicap at the start. The local team stopped Tom Hickman, Texas ranger captain who plays with the Fort Worth club, holding him scoreless the four chukkers he played.

Lamesa Prepares for Championship Game

LAMESA, Texas, Oct. 27.—The preparation of local school officials for a record attendance at Friday's football game between the Brownfield and Lamesa High schools is under way, according to Coach F. T. McCollum. Reports are received from Brownfield stating several hundred fans from there will accompany the club here for the game.

The winners of the Brownfield-Lamesa game here Friday will determine the championship of the southwestern division of district two, class B.

Local fans are conceding Littlefield or Olton from sub-district No. 1, Floydada, Lockney or Paducah from sub-district No. 2, Post from No. 3, and Lamesa or Brownfield from No. 4, as teams to enter the semifinals.

Title Cleared for U. S. Station at Sabine Pass

PORT ARTHUR, Texas, Oct. 27. —Dr. W. A. Korn, in charge of the U. S. public health and relief office for the Sabine district, today announced the government has secured clear title to the site at Sabine Pass on which the $375,000 quarantine station will be erected. The land cost $25,000.

Plans are now being drawn for the station, he said.

Redbirds of Reagan Beat Bowie In Opening Conference Tilt, 20-0

Coach A. D. Beck's Redbirds of Reagan Junior High school journeyed to Bowie yesterday afternoon accompanied by the school pep squad and a caravan of rooters, and captured a 20 to 0 verdict over the Bowie Junior high eleven in the opening league game for either side in the Northwest Texas Junior High school conference.

The Redbirds showed a strong running and passing attack and found that Bowie offered little opposition. The final touchdown was made in the last period with a second string Reagan line functioning.

The Bowie eleven showed their best fight in the first quarter, holding the Redbirds scoreless. In the second period, however, a strong drive sent the ball down the field and D. L. Smith, Reagan fullback, dashed over for a touchdown. He drop kicked successfully for the extra point.

In the third quarter the Reagan outfit opened up a brilliant passing attack that swept the Bowie eleven off its feet. A series of flips netted about 60 yards, and Allen Robinson went over for the second touchdown. Smith again drop kicked for the extra point.

With three minutes to play in the final period, Robinson got through the Bowie defense and sprinted 40 yards for the final marker. Smith's drop kick this time was blocked.

Smith's drop kicking and punting were one of the features of the game. One of his punts sailed for 65 yards, one of the longest boots a junior high school player ever made.

Crowell Prepares For Burk Game

Special to The Record News.

CROWELL, Texas, Oct. 27.—After a week's rest the Crowell Wildcats have recovered from minor injuries and will meet the Burkburnett Bulldogs here Friday afternoon with their full strength.

Coach Grady Graves states that his team is by no means taking Burkburnett lightly and are looking forward to a tough battle in the game. Every precaution to prevent an upset in the dope is being taken in order that the Wildcats may meet Olney here on the following week with an undefeated record.

A team of Crowell reserves will journey to Childress Thursday afternoon to play the Childress second team.

Mrs. Catherine McGinley has died at East Maitland, N. S. W., at the age of 111.

CADET TO BE BURIED TODAY

Body of Army Player to Lie In State

WEST POINT, N. Y., Oct. 27. (UP)—Soon after the sun comes up over the silvery Hudson that winds around this famous point tomorrow, the body of Cadet Richard Brinsley Sheridan will be transferred from the cadet hospital to the Catholic chapel where it will lie in state with a cadet guard of honor.

That will be the first ceremony in a day of tributes to the 21-year-old army honor student who received a broken neck on the football field at New Haven last Saturday when the Army played Yale.

When flags were lowered from half staff at the United States military academy tonight, officers announced the completion of plans for giving Cadet Sheridan of Georgia a full dress military funeral such as is accorded to national heroes.

He will be buried in the West Point military cemetery near such national heroes as Gen. Winfield Scott, Gen. George Custer and Gen. Robert C. Anderson, the commander of Fort Sumpter in 1861.

Mrs. Richard B. Sheridan, mother of the dead cadet, and another son, Gerald, spent the night on the army reservation. During the morning they will be escorted to the chapel where silent comrades of the dead cadet, epic and span in their full dress uniforms, will pay their last respects by alternating as guards of honor.

Sheridan's father and sister, Mrs. J. L. Herman, were hurrying here tonight from South Carolina, and were expected to arrive in the morning.

Cooperative societies of Denmark handled nearly $500,000,000 worth of products in the last 12 months.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Oct. 27. (AP)—An early decline in cotton today was followed by advances on covering and trade buying.

After selling off to 6.61 early, January advanced to 6.84 in the late trading and closed at 6.82, with the general market closing steady at net advances of 12 to 16 points.

Firmness in the grain market was a contributing factor in the late advance accompanied by some western buying of cotton on the advance which extended to 6.76 for December and 7.00 for March in the late trading or about 14 to 18 points net higher. Closing quotations were a few points off from the best under realizing.

According to the New York cotton exchange service world's consumption of American lint cotton for the first two months of this season has amounted to 1,892,000 bales compared with 1,665,000 for the same period last season. These figures did not come in for much comment in connection with the action of today's market, but the readiness with which the early selling on better weather and expectations of increased receipts was absorbed, seemed to make some impression on sentiment.

Liverpool cables said that hedging had been absorbed by trade calling and covering in that market and said that India trade was improving with a fair business in yarns for both home and export trade. Exports today 20,768 making 1,468,442 so far this season.

Futures closed steady, 12 to 16 points higher. Spot steady; middling 6.80.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 27. (AP)—After ruling quiet most of the morning with prices ruling reactionary and about half a dollar a bale lower, the cotton market was more active and steadier in the afternoon, recovering the early dips and later making highs for the day more than a dollar a bale above the lows. The close was 14@18 points up from yesterday's close.

Liverpool is due tomorrow 9@10 penny points up on New Orleans.

Liverpool cables came in 3@6 penny points better than due and private cables stated that hedge selling had been absorbed by trade calling and shorts covering. Manchester cabled that trade with India was improving and yarn prices were firmer with fair business for home trade and export.

Active months made new highs 22@25 points above the lows with December at 6.52, January at 6.83 and March at 6.99. The close was at or near the top with the active months 14@18 points net higher for the day.

Port receipts 81,651; for week 210,120; for season 3,192,606; last year 4,153,329. Exports 21,547; for week 132,806; for season 1,434,386; last season 2,009,412. Market Slips Lower While World Awaits for Promised Good News

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, Oct. 27. (US)—Prices on the stock exchange slipped lower again today while waiting for concrete cheer from actual developments. Volume increased only slightly as prices eased further, but several rallies during the day were not sustained. The market was inclined to anticipate declaration of regular common dividend by the U. S. Steel corporation and to some part of the speculative fraternity this action was thought likely to lead to some modest further rally today. This feeling, however, failed to bring any new buying into the market but rather discouraged short selling for the time being.

With the British election results overhanging, even though a Nationalist victory was being anticipated, the market still lacked any incentive to move forward, beyond hopes for the building up of a technical position favorable to an upturn. All sections of the market yielded, with some railroad stocks sinking to new lows on unfavorable dividend news. The only cheerful development of the day was further advance in wheat prices, some options of which attained new highs for the present upturn.

The cheering action of wheat today represents the one bright spot in the domestic situation. Its action is being closely watched by the most influential interests in America. One dominant steel executive expressed the opinion that sustained advance in wheat might well inaugurate an entirely new era. One of the great practical economists of the present day likewise declared that "wheat might lead us out of the rut."

It is known that powerful speculative factions have been in the wheat market for a month or so, practically all aligned on the constructive side. If the present advance turns out merely a speculative operation, the subsequent reaction will prove extremely disheartening to the entire economic sphere, but seemingly there is some fundamental basis for the action of wheat, including the reduction in plantings. Influential interests known to be actively interested or closely observing wheat's present fluctuations include Cutten, Livermore, Howell, Baruch, and Rockefeller (Percy A.).

The thought uppermost in the minds of keen students with respect to wheat is, of course, its possible cue to inflation gradually spreading to the general list of commodities.

Pending such development, however, there is the actuality which the market is facing in reduced dividends. Illinois Central today omitted its common dividend entirely. The emphasis which this places on the prospects for maintenance of Pennsylvania railroad's dividend, when the latter's directors meet tomorrow, was not overlooked by the market, and pennsy shares slipped back within a fraction of their low for the bear market. Very obviously, the railroad systems are not waiting for external aid to protect their bonds; they are economizing in every direction including curtailment of dividends. New York Central and other prominent rails were again in supply and slipped off more than a point on the average.

Louisville & Nashville was another rail to slip to a new low, at which price its $5 dividend seems decidedly uncertain. The railroad bond list moved lower.

Whatever buying of importance is coming into the stock market currently seems to be on a scale down.

U. S. Steel's directors in maintaining the $1 quarterly dividend, very patently were actuated by external influence rather than by earnings. The third quarter statement disclosing little over half the preferred dividend earned, and then only by inclusion of upwards of $7,000,000 "special income" plainly related the true state of affairs in the industry; other steel corporations reported comparative returns and inland steel lowered its dividend. Steel's third-quarter showing was the worst in its history.

Within the past week there has occurred a decided change in market opinion regarding the dividend prospects at today's meeting; mention was made of "Washington influence" to maintain the payment "so as not to disturb sentiment." On the other hand, it may be the steel directorate once again is willing to dip into the corporation's surplus in the belief that a turn is nearby.

Steel common was available after the close a point below its final quotation on the New York stock exchange. The $4 dividend will not be considered secure until earnings equal the distribution.

Basis delivered group three: Oats—No. 2 red 24@25c.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Oct. 27. (AP)—In the face of stock market weakness, grains late today rose buoyantly with wheat soaring above the season's top price record. Reports were current that France had practically completed negotiations for the purchase of 20,000,000 to 70,000,000 bushels before next August. Advices from abroad said the wheat Russia had been shipping of late was of extra poor quality, unadapted for milling.

Wheat closed strong at the day's highest point, 2¼@2¾ cents above yesterday's finish and more than 3 cents a bushel up from today's bottom. Corn closed ½@1c advanced, oats with ⅝@⅞c gain and provisions unchanged to 7 cents down.

Rapid advances in wheat developed during the final hour of trading and after the pit had become almost bare of offerings as a result of persistent selling earlier.

Corn and oats were mainly influenced by wheat. Besides, unfavorable weather prevailed over the corn belt, and indications pointed to curtailed receipts of corn.

Provisions averaged lower, influenced by weakness of hog values.

Closing indemnities: Wheat, Dec. 55⅝c. 59½c; May 60¼@¼c. 64⅝@⅛c; July 61⅜c. 64⅜c. Corn, Dec. 37⅜@⅜c, 39⅛c; May 42¼@¼c, 43⅜c; July 45⅝c, offers.

DRY GOODS MARKET

NEW YORK, Oct. 27. (AP)—The demand was light today for unfinished cloths in the cotton goods division. Moderate sales of printed cloths were being made. Other finished lines continued to move in small lots. Wool goods ruled quiet. Prices were being cut sharply on some finished rayons, printed and piece dyed. Silks were selling moderately. Floor coverings showed growing price irregularity.

BOSTON WOOL

BOSTON, Oct. 27. (AP)—Bids covered practically all grades of territory wool, but comparatively few sales were being closed. The limited volume of business comprised mostly 58, 60's and 64's, and finer grades. Buyers and sellers in many cases were 2c apart on a scoured basis, but most wool houses were quite firm on their asking prices.

Tillman Exceeds Quota In Support of Murray

Special to The Record News.

FREDERICK, Okla., Oct. 27.—More than 1,700 persons in this county signed the petitions Saturday which are being sponsored by Gov. W. H. Murray, most of them being secured at headquarters which were maintained at the Hotel Frederick. Four of these were initiative measures and three constitutional amendments. Tillman county's quota was only 600.

Farmer Arrested in Strange Deaths Of Three Men in Arkansas Hills

DE QUEEN, Ark., Oct. 27. (AP)—Officers arrested a Sevier county, Arkansas, farmer today for investigation in connection with the slaying of two men and a youth whose bodies were recovered in a wooded area seven miles north of DeQueen.

An attempt to identify him as the driver of the truck of E. S. Chappell, 56, Springdale, Ark., was to be made today. Officers said they had two witnesses who had seen a man driving the truck.

The slayings were believed to have taken place in Oklahoma territory about one-half mile from the Arkansas line.

A shoe, identified as that of Chappell, was found in the weeds near the truck.

The bodies of Chappell and another man, tentatively identified as R. T. Ethridge, a brush salesman from Schlater, Miss., were found yesterday.

The bodies were badly decomposed and apparently had been in the woods for several days. The bodies were nude. The men had been killed by bullets.

The body of the youth, who was identified as Jack Odell, a farmer, was found last week.

PAGEANT GIVES COTTON USES

Henrietta Program Portrays Importance of Crop

Special to The Record News.

HENRIETTA, Texas, Oct. 27.—More than 16 Clay county clubs took part in the cotton pageant presented by the federated clubs of the county at the Henrietta High school auditorium Monday evening.

The pageant, arranged by the Henrietta clubs, was based on the importance of cotton in Texas and the necessity of increasing the uses of cotton products. Cotton textiles displayed in the pageant were donated by mills in Houston, San Antonio and Brazos Valley.

A realistic cotton field, with a newly ginned bale in the background, was the scene of the pageant. Following a chorus of southern songs by the cotton pickers, King Industry, representing the Byers clubs, entered and briefly stressed the importance of the cotton industry. Queen Cotton, representing the Bellevue clubs, emerged from the bale, and was pledged the support of Texas industries.

An entertaining program was presented before the queen. It included a cotton boll dance, a southern dance, negro spirituals, and an amusing cake walk. These numbers were contributed by various clubs from over the county.

The final presentation outlined the objectives of the Association for Increased Uses of Cotton, stressing the use of cotton bagging instead of jute, rayon instead of silk, a "Cotton Christmas," and the uses of cotton for blankets, upholstery and draperies. Products of several Texas mills were displayed, and sport, street, and school frocks were modeled. One of the most interesting models was a man's suit, made of Texas cotton. The program was concluded with "Dixie," sung by the Henrietta Boys' Glee club.

The pageant was arranged and directed by Mrs. P. H. Boddy, assisted by Mrs. F. O. Moore. The attendance was estimated at about 300.

Petain Party Sees Newport

French Envoys See Where Troops Landed

NEWPORT, R. I., Oct. 27. (AP)—Pages of history were turned back 151 years today as Marshal Henri Petain of France and the official French mission to the Yorktown sesquicentennial visited this city, where the first French troops to come to America landed.

Marshal Petain and his countrymen came here from New York on board the French cruisers Duquesne and Suffren, accompanied by Gen. John J. Pershing. Salutes were exchanged by the French vessels and the American cruisers Chester and Pensacola.

Following in the footsteps of their illustrious kin of American Revolutionary fame, Marshal Petain and members of his party were rowed from the cruisers to King's park in small boats and stepped out at the monument which marks the spot where their ancestors set foot. Marshal Petain planted a tree in memory of the famous Frenchmen.

Marshal Petain and General Pershing lunched at the home of Dr. Alexander Hamilton Rice, chairman of the local reception committee. Visits to many of the historic points of interest were made in the afternoon and a municipal banquet was tendered the visitors tonight, followed by a ball.

Unemployed Picket Oregon Business Parley

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 27. (AP)—More than 100 men picketed a downtown hotel here today at which governors and representatives of the far western states were meeting to discuss economic problems.

Spokesmen for the crowd, saying they represented the "organized unemployed," demanded jobs for their followers and urged the release of Thomas Mooney and Warren K. Billings, imprisoned in California for the 1926 San Francisco preparedness day bombing.

Wilbarger Farm Agent Plans for Spring Show

New Zealand Fan Reports Hearing Broadcast Wichita Game

Play-by-play report of a Texas league baseball game broadcast by station KGKO in this city was clearly received as Gisborne, North Island, New Zealand, by M. Stafford of that place, according to a letter received by the local radio station.

The game in question was on Aug. 16 at San Antonio. Mr. Stafford's letter shows postmark of Sept. 9 in New Zealand. Gisborne is a city of 16,570. The letter stated that other programs from the Wichita Falls station have been received by Mr. Stafford at his home in Gisborne.

RITES SET FOR R. G. GRAHAM

Young County Pioneer to Be Buried Today

Special to The Record News.

GRAHAM, Texas, Oct. 27.—Funeral services for R. G. Graham, son of the man for whom this city was named, will be held at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon from the home of his sister, Mrs. H. B. Bruce. Mr. Graham died at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Ray Knaur in Fort Worth Monday. The body will be brought here in the care of the Morrison Funeral home Wednesday morning.

The son of the late S. E. Graham, pioneer of West Texas and one of the founders of Graham, R. G. Graham made his home here for many years, leaving the city only a few years ago.

Among other business interests, he was publisher of the West Texas Reporter until its sale to the Graham Leader in 1914.

Services Wednesday will be conducted by Rev. R. E. Edwards of the First Methodist church. Burial will be in the Oak Grove cemetery.

Mr. Graham is survived by two sons, R. G. Jr., Nashville, Tenn., and M. K., Pampa; three daughters, Mrs. J. W. Barton, Nashville, Tenn.; Mrs. J. J. Lovell, Charleston, W. Va., and Mrs. Ray Knaur, Fort Worth; two brothers, M. K. and E. S. Graham, and a sister, Mrs. H. B. Street, all of Graham.

Boom in Auto Sales Is Seen

Tire Manufacturer Forecasts Better Business

NEW YORK, Oct. 27. (AP)—William H. Lalley, president of the Kelly-Springfield Tire Co., expressed the opinion that renewed buying of automobiles, beginning late this fall and reaching full volume in the spring, would be a major influence in the revival of all lines of trade.

He said the replacement market alone "is already of tremendous potentiality for there has been a buying holiday" for the past two years. "The country does not need a new industry to lead it out of the doldrums," he added, "it may look confidently to the automobile."

Paris Receives Big U. S. Gold Cargo

PARIS, Oct. 27. (UP)—A record shipment of American gold, $65,000,000, arrived at Cherbourg on the liner Milwaukee today and was sent to Paris to be added to the vast pile stored in the vaults of the Bank of France.

The Milwaukee's shipment brought the influx in two days to $81,000,000. The Dresden debarked $16,000,000 yesterday. The De Grasse is en route with another $12,000,000. Total withdrawals from the United States since the heavy flow began six weeks ago have reached $510,000,000, almost half the Bank of France's holdings in America.

New Protective Features of CORPORATE
TRUST SHARES
ACCUMULATIVE SERIES and
SERIES AA—DISTRIBUTIVE TYPE

To the fundamental principle of diversification, the new series Corporate Trust Shares add many new and desirable protective features.

In order to maintain a stronger investment position, any stock may be eliminated, but only after the occurrence of certain definite fixed events.

To provide higher average return, all of the portfolio funds are invested in stocks; also interest on accumulation, compounded monthly, is paid to shareholders.

More definitely to assure continuity of the trust service, trustee's fees are paid in advance for the life of the trust.

Because they conform to the highest standards of fixed trust operation, the new series of Corporate Trust Shares are finding widespread approval among investors of all classes.

SENATOR HERE

Tom Connally to Speak At Optimist Luncheon

Senator Tom Connally of Marlin, Texas, will address the Optimist club at its luncheon here Wednesday noon at the Kemp hotel.

Persons other than members of the Optimist club are invited to hear Senator Connally, but are requested to make reservations for the luncheon by calling the chamber of commerce office, 6131, before 11 a. m.

Senator Connally made the principal address at the annual banquet of the Bowie Chamber of Commerce Tuesday night.

CIVIC THEATER PLAY NOV. 20

Two-Act Comedy Selected For P.-T. A. Benefit

Selection of "A Successful Calamity," by Clare Kummer, as the Civic Theater Players' second production of the season on Nov. 20 was announced Tuesday by J. C. Straus, director and manager, with the statement that the one-night performance will be given for the benefit of the Wichita Falls P.-T. A. council luncheon fund.

All P.-T. A. groups in the city will participate in sponsoring the November performance, it was said. Rehearsals on the play began this week, and the sale of tickets is scheduled to begin next week. Proceeds of the play are to provide lunches and other necessities for public school pupils under the supervision of the P.-T. A. council.

H. H. Ferrell, veteran of many excellent dramatic productions here, has been cast for the leading role in "A Successful Calamity." He will be given an opportunity in this play to portray a pompous millionaire. The play is a two-act comedy, using two scenes for each act.

Rehearsals are again being held in the dining room provided by the Kemp hotel for that purpose, it was announced.

'AL' MUST STAY BEHIND BARS

Capone Loses Appeal For Bail Pending Appeal

CHICAGO, Oct. 27. (US)—Scarface Al Capone won and lost today before the United States circuit court of appeals.

He won his determined fight to avoid immediate commitment to the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kan.

He lost his fight for bail.

While he need not go to Leavenworth, he must stay behind the bars at the Cook county jail, whatever satisfaction that may be to him.

Stay Asked

The court's ruling, rendered shortly after 2 p. m. today, was upon the motions of Al's attorneys for bail and a writ of supercedeas.

The purpose of the writ was to stay execution of the sentence of 10 years in the penitentiary and one year in jail for income tax violations during the period his lawyers require to appeal his conviction to the higher courts.

The writ was granted—that is, Al need not go at once to the penitentiary—but the bail was denied, so he stays in jail pending the outcome of his appeal before the appellate court and, perhaps eventually, before the supreme court of the United States.

Delay Forbidden

In granting the writ the court warned that if the defense indulged in delay the court would be disposed to vacate the writ forthwith.

Capone's dubious victory further was clouded by the fact that the writ of supercedes does not suspend the fine of $50,000 which was imposed upon him last Saturday by Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson.

Also whatever time Capone spends here in the Cook county jail while his lawyers are wrestling with the higher federal courts will not be credited on his sentence, if the sentence finally is upheld.

Judges Agree

The three members of the court of appeals, Judges Samuel Alschuler, Evan A. Evans and Will M. Sparks, were sitting en banc today when the decision was read. The ruling said:

"It is ordered that supercedeas be granted suspending the further execution of the sentence of imprisonment of the defendant, but not suspending any proceedings for the collection of the judgment for the fine and costs awarded against him.

"It is further ordered that the defendant's petition for enlargement upon bail pending the hearing of his appeal be denied."

Borger Wants Murray As Presidential Candidate

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 27. (AP)—A petition signed by 1,015 residents of Borger, Texas, asking Gov. W. H. Murray to become a candidate for president, was presented to the governor today by M. E. Shephard, whose home is in Dewey county, Oklahoma. He said Cicero I. Murray, cousin of the governor, and other representatives of the governor's weekly newspaper, sent him to Texas to circulate the petition.

FIRE WRECKS AUTO

Fire damaged an automobile on Flood street shortly before midnight Tuesday, according to fire officials. Although the machine was almost wrecked by the flames, damage was estimated to be less than $20. The car belonged to a Mexican.

They'll Invite Gandhi to U. S

If Mahatma Gandhi decides to visit America, it may be that his decision will have been much affected by the entreaties of the trio pictured above. Sailendra Nath Ghose, president of the Indian National Congress of America, and his two little daughters, Lilabati (left) and Miriam (right), are shown as they sailed from New York for London to present the Mahatma with letters of invitation from scores of the little Indian leader's American admirers.

10 Commandments of Business Career Outlined for Hi-Y Club

"The Ten Commandments of a Successful Business Career" was the subject of an address given Monday night by J. H. Allison to members of the Boys' Hi-Y club of Wichita Falls.

Allison explained that the ten commandments of a successful business career were as follows:

1. A young man must be honest, truthful, frank, sincere and serious.
2. He must be considerate of the interests of others, especially in business relationships.
3. He must guard and conserve his health and build up a strong body and moral character.
4. He must strive to secure a good education. He must stock his mind with good things that may come in useful later in life.
5. He must make an early decision as to his vocation and prepare himself definitely to that end.
6. He must be clean and wholesome in character.
7. He must be ambitious and courageous to do the right thing under all conditions and circumstances.
8. He must be loyal to himself, his school, his home, his state, and his nation.
9. He must cultivate stability which will enable him to stick to a job to the end.
10. He must scrupulously observe the golden rule.

Briefly remarking about success, the speaker stated that success is not measured in dollars and cents. Success means the real worth upon which, with persistence and determination, good may be accomplished.

Mr. Allison was the only speaker on the program. The members included a few routine matters in their business session. They are now working to obtain a charter, according to T. F. Richardson, sponsor of the organization.

Maude Adams Prepares for Return To Stage Behind Closed Doors

NEW YORK, Oct. 27. (AP)—Defying Broadway tradition, a frail silver-haired actress was preparing today behind locked doors for what may be the greatest comeback in the history of the theater.

She is Maude Adams, who made her stage debut 58 years ago as a baby in arms, who was the toast of Broadway 25 years ago when she was playing "Peter Pan," and who vowed, after her director lost his life on the Lusitania 16 years ago, that she never would cross the boards again.

Result Uncertain

But the locked doors behind which she is rehearsing now are a symbol of a big "if" which, after years of false reports and ill-founded hopes, may keep "Maude Adams in person" from every glittering in letters of light again.

The proverbial taciturnity of the famous actress made her the J. P. Morgan of the stage long ago. "I have never been interviewed," she boasted, after the financial genius broke for the second time his rule never to talk for publication.

Agents Silenced

Yet theater folk were certain the publicity would flow in conventional Broadway manner as soon as rehearsals began. Nothing of the sort happened and Miss Adams quickly became the despair of press agents, the nemesis of reporters and the mystery of Broadway.

After the casting had been completed for "The Merchant of Venice," Miss Adams' comeback vehicle, every one was given the same warning.

Business managers, actors, actresses, stage managers, directors and even her co-star, Otis Skinner, who usually relish publicity, were told by Miss Adams the show never would open if any one breathed a word to any one about what was going on.

"We can't say" and "we don't know" have become the stock answers to all questions.

TAX LAW TEST BEFORE COURT

Supreme Tribunal to Pass On Relief Measure

AUSTIN, Oct. 27, (AP)—One of the principal "relief" measures enacted by the second extra-ordinary session of the Texas legislature in an effort to "ease" the way during existing stringent times for taxpayers was submitted to the supreme court for a determination of its constitutionality today.

The law would remit interest and penalties on delinquent taxes for those who paid the past due assessments prior to Jan. 31, 1932. It was designed not only to relieve some of the burden from payers of taxes but planned as an inducement for debtors of the state to make remittances and thus replenish a badly depleted treasury.

Soon after Gov. R. S. Sterling signed the bill, which had been passed by the two-thirds majority in each house necessary to put it into immediate effect, Atty. Gen. James V. Allred, notified George H. Sheppard, state comptroller, that he should caution county tax collectors about following its provisions. The attorney general expressed doubt of its constitutionality.

Vernon Lemens, member of the legislature from Rainbow, advocate of the law, immediately planned a test case. A tax payer proferred the amount of his delinquent taxes, minus interest and penalties, to J. R. Williams, Travis county tax collector, but, acting on advice from the attorney general, through the comptroller, Williams refused to accept payment.

Application for mandamus to force Williams to issue a receipt for the taxes was denied by all three of the Travis county district court judges. Immediate appeal to the third court of civil appeals was perfected. That court, anxious to complete a quick test of the law's constitutionality, certified the questions involved to the supreme court.

American Legion To Give Masquerade Ball

A masquerade ball at the Kemp hotel Saturday night, Hallowe'en, will be offered by Pat Carrigan Post, American Legion, to raise funds for equipment for the drum and bugle corps, according to the announcement of J. W. Leggett, who is in charge.

The public, it was said, is invited. Dancing will start at 9 p. m. Music will be furnished by the Gordon Shay orchestra.

Man, 81, and Woman, 72, Are Wed at Farm Home

ABILENE, Texas, Oct. 27. (AP)—J. A. Syfrett, 81, of Abilene, and Mrs. J. B. O'Neal, 72, were married today at the bride's farm home near Cottonwood, in Callahan county.

Three generations of Syfrett's family attended the wedding.

The couple met several years ago, but their romance dates back only to August of this year, when they began a correspondence. They will live at Cottonwood.

ROAD BACKED IN MONTAGUE

County Pledges Support in Joint Meeting

Special to The Record News.

NOCONA, Texas, Oct. 27.—Assurance of Montague county's cooperation and financial support in securing the right of way along highway 5 from Nocona to Ringgold was given a joint meeting of civic club members and business men from Gainesville, Montague, and Nocona here Tuesday afternoon.

About 50 leading business men from the three towns were present. The conference was sponsored by members of the Nocona Lions and Rotary clubs.

A committee of citizens to work out plans for working with the county in speeding right of way work was appointed. The committee, which includes Joe L. Janawy, T. B. Wilkes and E. W. Humphrey met Tuesday night to map its program.

County Judge H. N. Dearmore and County Commissioner Wade London said the county would pay any reasonable price for the right of way along the road link to Ringgold. The county will supply a man to assist in the work and is ready to begin operations Wednesday, Judge Dearmore said.

It was estimated that the state highway department will spend $200,000 on the Montague part of the highway and that work will begin by the first of the year.

Among the business and civic leaders present at Tuesday's meeting were Egbert Thompson, Gainesville Chamber of Commerce head, Joe Boozer, Gainesville, president of the Highway Five association, and Julius Haralson of Montague.

W. J. Stone, president of the Nocona Rotary club, presided.

Schools to Hold "Open House"

dismissed early from their classes in the day in order that they should attend the two brief night classes.

Mr. Fillers said P.-T. A. meetings usually do not enable the fathers to visit the schools and become acquainted with up-to-date systems. So on Thursday night parents of every child in the city will have the opportunity to visit the public schools and see classes in regular recitations.

The new plan has been approved by the board of education, and all public schools will comply with the arrangements. The project is being sponsored by the school principals of the city of which association J. F. Parks, principal of the Alamo elementary school, is president. Joe McNeill is publicity manager for the program.

Doolittle Perks Plane For Winter in Office

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 27. (AP)—"Baby Powerhouse" in which Major Jimmy Doolittle, noted speed flier, has been hanging up cross-country airplane records the last few months, is going to be "parked" for the winter.

And the major is climbing out of the cockpit into his swivel chair at the Shell Petroleum corporation offices here for "routine duties" for the winter, he said today after returning to St. Louis yesterday in record time for Mexico City.

The speed flier whizzed back to his home city in 6 hours and 23 minutes flying time, averaging 230 miles an hour in his diminutive, but powerful biplane. He previously crossed the country from west to east in 11 hours and 11 minutes, and on his recent trip to Old Mexico hooped from Otta, Ont., to Mexico City, via Washington, in 12 hours and 36 minutes.

Youth Charged With Car Theft After Chase

Special to The Record News.

ELECTRA, Texas, Oct. 27.—A 17-year-old boy charged with theft of an automobile at Quanah was returned to Quanah Tuesday by Sheriff Hawkins from Hardeman county. The boy was forced to abandon the car near Electra Monday night. He had failed to pay for gas purchased at an Oklaunion filling station and the operator chased him. Police officials, were notified and arrested the boy after he had abandoned the car.

Nominating Committee Of C-C Meets Today

A chairman of the nominating committee of the chamber of commerce will be elected Wednesday when that group holds its initial meeting in the chamber offices at 3 p. m., it was announced Tuesday.

The committee, composed of Jack Barnard, B. B. Greever, W. E. Huff, Oral Jones, J. T. Harrell and Grover Bullington, was named Friday at a membership meeting of the chamber. It was instructed to choose 20 nominations from which six directors of the chamber will be elected at the annual meeting in January.

Selection of the 20 candidates for directorate positions is expected within the next 10 days, it was said.

Court Fines Man $100 On Pistol Charge

Pleading guilty before Judge Irvin J. Vogel in the county court at law Tuesday to a charge of carrying a pistol, a man arrested by city officers recently was fined $100 and costs.

The man drew a pistol from his pocket and tossed it away, it was said, when he saw officers on a street in the residential district several days ago. They were investigating a traffic accident, it was said, but turned their attention to the defendant when he allegedly discarded his gun.

Convicted by a jury on a charge of having violated the health laws in a baking plant here, a man was fined $25 and costs.

A negro woman, whose trial on a charge of drunkenness was begun Monday afternoon, was acquitted Tuesday morning by a jury.

Let's talk Straight from the Shoulder

WHAT'S the net of this cigarette question? Let's lay the facts face up.

What you want in a cigarette is taste. You want mildness . . . smoothness . . . and pleasure when you smoke.

You rule out harshness, bitterness and bite.

• • •

IT'S no secret that Chesterfield pays top prices . . . yes, and a premium for the ripest, mellowest, sweetest-tasting leaf that grows.

But it makes Chesterfields taste better and smoke smoother . . . and that to us is a justifiable extravagance.

The men who buy Chesterfield tobacco are experts in the art of judging and selecting this quality leaf.

The men who do the curing and conditioning are specialists, too . . . carefully trained in handling these fine tobaccos.

IN BLENDING, Chesterfields are also different.

Instead of merely mixing the tobaccos together . . . we cross-blend them. It's like making a new and better-tasting kind of tobacco—a tobacco with greater smoothness, more mildness, and a more pleasing aroma. That's how we get that Chesterfield flavor. Milder . . . riper . . . mellower.

What about cigarette paper? . . . That's part of the story, too. Only the best that's made—the purest and finest—is good enough for Chesterfield.

Pick up a package. Note its clean appearance . . . free from heavy inks. And it's moisture-proof.

And three big factories at Richmond, Durham and San Francisco—operating under the strictest sanitary standards—rush them fresh to you.

Good . . . they've got to be good. Because they're made that way.

And most important of all . . . you can taste this goodness in the cigarette. You can tell it in the smoke.

Light up, Mister! Try Chesterfield.

Let the cigarette do its own talking. You'll get the whole thrilling story, in just two words . . . "They Satisfy"!

"Yes Sir—Mild yet they Satisfy"
