Pest Management Day Set March 1

Deanna Myers, Mitchell County extension agent-entomologist, has announced the Third Annual Pest Management Cotton Production Information Day has been tentatively scheduled for Monday, March 1 in the Colorado City Civic Center.

The Annual Information Day will begin at 10 a.m., and will wrap up at 2 p.m., with a lunch break slated at noon and will be catered by Al's Bar-B-Q of Sweetwater.

Sponsoring chemical companies of the bar-b-q will have booths set up and time will be available during the meeting for persons to visit with their representatives, stated Ms. Myers.

She said there will also be speakers from the Experiment Stations in Lubbock and San Angelo to give presentations on weed control, planting date, fertilizer usage and cotton economics.

Following the presentations of the speakers, there will be some time set aside for questions directed to the speakers by the cotton producers attending.

Everyone is invited to attend.

MAYOR ELMER MARTIN recently signed a proclamation for the upcoming week of February 22 thru 27, designating it as "Petroleum Industry Week" in order to recognize all the persons connected to oil related line of work. On hand for the signing (left to right) were City Manager Rick Crowley, Dowell District Manager Pat Gill, District Driver Trainer Randy Griffith, Union Texas Plant Operator Rudy Castillo and Lon Robertson, owner and operator of Thomas Brothers Service Station. Watch for our special petroleum edition this month.

Proclamation

WHEREAS: Oil is the Nation's leading source of energy, and WHEREAS: Mitchell County produced over 17,000 barrels of oil a day in 1980, and
WHEREAS: The Oil Industry supplements the majority of family income in Mitchell County,
THEREFORE: I, Elmer Martin, Mayor of the City of Colorado City, do hereby proclaim the week of February 21 through 27, 1982 as "Oil Week" and urge the citizens of this community to recognize the tremendous contribution to the Nation's energy source made available by the Producers, Royalty Owners, and Oil Field Workers of Mitchell County.

Mayor Elmer Martin

Cecile Hubbard Captures Lead Role

Cecile Hubbard captured the leading role of Dolly Gallagher Levi in the first production of 1982 at the Colorado City Playhouse when they will prescnt "Holly Dolly" which has been tentatively set sometime in late April or early May.

Carl Beery Moore, director for the musical production, said he was extremely excited about the incredibly strong cast and the tremendous response during auditions Thursday (February 11) and Friday. He said there were more than 35 persons trying out for the 30 roles available; 10 speaking parts and a 10 man and 10 woman chorus.

Stage manager for the smash Broadway hit will be Linda Hearin. Tandy Curlee will portray wife hunting Horace Vandergelder and Dan Stevens will fill the role of Cornelius Hackl , who is a 30 year-old ball of energy. The part of Barnaby Tucker, a nervous 17-year-old, will be played by Tom Kelly and Emily Kincaid of Snyder, will portray a young millioneress Irene Molloy.

Allen Henry will characterize Ambrose Kemper who is in love with Ermengarde, Debbie Kelly. Fun loving and fat Ernestina Money's character will be depicted by Marie Jackson. Elaine Fugate will fill the role of Minnie Faye, who delights in being shocked. Porter Richardson will portray Rudolph.

Porter Richardson and George Womack will oversee set construction and design and Robin Pace is in charge of props. Shirley Delaney will be in charge of the costumes, with Greg Chaney handling the lighting.

"All we are waiting on now is the books before we can begin rehearsals and the production date will be set some time next week," commented Moore.

TRUSS KING, INC., was the scene of a ribbon cutting ceremony this past week to commemorate the opening of the newly founded business located on West First Street in the building once occupied by the Colorado City Sewing Factory. Pictured left to right are Ron Appling and Co-owners Tim, David and Andy Cook. Because of technical difficulties in processing the film, the RECORD was unable to make a print of the actual ribbon cutting.

Sales Tax Payment Is Reported Better

State Comptroller Bob Bullock returned $106.4 million in local sales tax payments to 954 cities who levy the one-percent local tax.

"This is the biggest single payment since city sales tax rebates began in 1968," Bullock said.

The $106.4 million payment represents a 16 percent jump over last February's checks, which in turn had grown 16 percent over the previous February. Payments so far in 1982 are running 13.2 percent above last year's January-February total.

"This increase is higher than inflation and population growth put together," Bullock said, "and at least part of this rise has to come from our work making sure these cities get every penny of sales tax that's coming to them."

The biggest check–$22.4 million–went to Houston, up 23 percent over last February's check.

Colorado City received $34,466.43 compared to $26,014.51 for the same period last year. This figure was up 24.82 percent over last year's.

Loraine's check for $11,325.02 was down 10.7 percent from last February.

The city and MTA sales taxes are collected along with the state sales tax by merchants and businesses and rebated monthly to the cities in which they are collected by the Comptroller.

VOLUNTEER FIREMEN OF THE Colorado City Volunteer Fire Department were on hand Wednesday, February 10, for a washdown of Second Street, from Col-Tex Service Station to the Colorado City Compress, after a gasoline truck leaked gas out onto the street in downtown Colorado City.

Safety Surpasses 3,000th Day

Some 92 Dowell employees in the Colorado City District has joined more than 8,500 Dowell employees from 130 locations nationwide to devote one entire work day to the discussion of safety and participation in safety related activities. This special effort is part of Dowell's fourth annual "National Safety Week" that was held this week in the C. C. Thompson Room for the Colorado City District employees.

Dowell is a division of Dow Chemical U.S.A., and provides services such as cementing, well stimulation and drilling fluids to the oil and gas industries, according to District Manager Pat Gill. Gill added, Dowell provies industry cleaning and mining services, also.

"Safety Week" is designed to heighten everyone's awareness of potential hazards, commented Mike Seller, Dowell's manager for safety and loss prevention. "We already have the best safety record in the industry, but you can never be too safe. Safety demands constant attention, and "Safety Week" makes that point very vividly," stated Seller.

Gill said that the Colorado City District office takes great pride in having one of the best field operative offices with the impressive record it has. He said they have passed their 3,000 day without a serious or disabiling injury on the job. Three thousand days sounds grand, but when you figure that in a period of more than eight years no one has been seriously injured and the company is busy every day around the clock, then you do have something to be proud of," commented Gill.

"Safety Week" is only part of an intensive year long safety program at Dowell. According to Gill, every employee goes through extensive driver training at Kellyville, Okla., training center. This is not all the safety training a Doweller faces, added Gill. He must also attend one safety session a month which lasts approximately one hour.

Every employee wears Nomex fire retardant clothing; hard hats; safety shoes and glasses on every job and before each job, there is a safety meeting to discuss the best and safest methods for completing the job.

Al Look, president of Dowell stated, "our outstanding safety record is one of our most valued achievements. It's good for everyone–the employee, Dowell, the customer and our families at home. Working safely is a large part of Dowell's success and reputation, but we can't afford to rest on our laurels. "Safety Week" is the starting point each year to renew our efforts for an even safer year to come."

In conclusion, Gill said, "we live by our company policy which is: If a job can't be done safely, then we don't do it-".

Annual Kiwanis Club Pancake Supper Slated For Friday Night

The Annual Kiwanis Club Pancake Supper is planned for tomorrow (Friday) in the Kelley Elementary School Cafeteria, announced Kiwanian President Robert Hoback.

Along with the pancakes, the Kiwanians will be serving bacon, coffee or milk, butter and syrup.

The supper will begin at 5 p.m., and will continue until 8 p.m. Cost of the meal is $3 for adults and $1 for children. Tickets may be purchased in advance from any Kiwanian and they will also be available at the door.

All money raised at the annual fund raising pancake supper is used to support the youth of Mitchell County. The Kiwanis Club does many things for the youth, including scholarships.

Everyone is invited to attend the pancake supper, as the Kiwanians themselves will be doing the honors of cooking it up, concluded Hoback.

"IF A JOB CAN'T BE DONE SAFELY, DON'T DO IT" is the company policy that the Dowell employees must live up to daily. All of the Colorado City's 92 Dowell employees have attended an eight hour safety session this week in the C. C. Thompson Room. Pictured above is a crew from the Colorado City division as they are meeting for a required safety meeting before a job on location.

Artists' Workshop Slated

Junior college students and interested artists from throughout the Permian Basin are expected to attend the annual art workshop February 19-20, on The University of Texas of the Permian Basin campus.

The workshop begins Friday at 8:30 a.m., with a continental breakfast and registration. Open workshops in weaving, sculpture, stained glass, printmaking, watercolor, ceramics and drawing are scheduled 9 a.m.-12:30 p.m. At 10 a.m., a slide presentation on "Contemporary Ceramics" will be presented by John Harmon, to be followed by a drawing demonstration at 11 a.m., by Barry Phillips, Odessa College art instructor.

Lunch will be provided by UTPB in the main art lab with a special showing of the film, "Pablo Picasso: The Legacy of a Genius" at 12:30-1:30 p.m. The open workshops will continue from 1:30-5 p.m., with Martha Edwards, UTPB assistant director for Media Services, making a presentation at 3 p.m., on the "Filmmaking Process."

The same schedule will be followed on Saturday except the "Filmmaking Process" is scheduled at 10:30 a.m., and a panel discussion on "Can Art Be Taught-Is Talent Necessary?" is scheduled at 2 p.m.

Those attending the workshop can experience one or all of the different mediums during the two day workshop, according to Prof. Pamela Price, assistant professor of art.

Price noted the workshop wil be continous. "Late arrivals will have no problems in becoming involved in an area that has already begun," she said. Price encourages everyone to visit all areas and to participate in one of those that hold special interest.

Price said the workshop was primarily designed for junior college students and teachers in the public school systems. It is now open to anyone who meet UTPB admission requirements at either the graduate or undergraduate levels and UTPB non-art majors. Those interested, however, and not a member of an art class or who do not meet admission requirements are welcomed to come, but must phone for a reservation space.

There will be no registration fee and all materials will be provided as well as lunch on both days. The public is invited. The workshop is scheduled to continue until 5 p.m., both days.

Students from Odessa College, Midland College, New Mexico Junior College, South Plains College, Howard College and Western Texas College have been invited to participate.

Southwestern Fat Stock Show Hosted By Fort Worth

The Southwestern Fat Stock Show in Fort Worth hosted the Dan Story Standard of Perfection (SOP) Polled Hereford Show February 2. Dr. Stan Coley of Bur-Cole Ranch, Grovetown, Ga., awarded the grand championships to his senior champs and the reserve grand banners to his junior champs.

The 70-head bull division was headed by WP Enforcer Lad 100L, owned by Palaschuk Farms Ltd., Wishart, Sask.; Sam Sells and Sons, Moultrie, Ga.; and Beck-Powell Polled Herefords, Linton, Ind. Sired by Gold Standard Sire Enforcer 107H, 100L has been a strong showring crusader, collecting championship titles at state fairs and SOP shows for three seasons. His most recent victories came as he was named grand champion at the American Royal SOP show and reserve grand champion at the North American International Livestock Exposition's SOP Show. Garard Palaschuk's entry, WP Miss Enforcer 57M was also sired by Enforcer. She moved into the reserve grand championship on the 82-head female slate from the junior championship. 57M was named grand champion heifer at the 8th National Junior Polled Hereford Heifer Show and also holds that title from the 1981 Canadian Western Agribition.

WSF Miss Charme 11M wrapped up her second SOP grand championship of the season, moving into the top spot from the senior championship. She was sired by Gold Standard Sire Charme Norden 10G and is owned by Wooden Shoe Farm, Othello, Wash., and Wasser and Winters Co., Inc., Toledo, Wash. Last month 11M was named grand champion at the National Western Stock Show's SOP competition. Wasser and Winters took two more divisional titles with reserve calf champion bull and reserve senior champion bull. The calf was MHF WW Mr. Charmer 1N, sired by WW Charme 24K and coowned with Malone Hereford Farm, Moline, Kan. Reserve senior champion WW Charme 207L is a full brother to the grand champion female.

The reserve grand champion bull title went to DJM Grand Design 113, an Enforcer son owned by DJM Polled Herefords, Hawley, Texas; R. W. Penn, Canton, Miss.; and American Management and Marketing, Miami, Fla. J. L. Beasley III took another banner home to Hawley, with reserve senior champion female, DJM Lady Anxiety 168. A successful competitor as a calf, this Enforcer daughter continues to win acclaim as a two-year-old with her first calf.

Master Key Place, Fulton, Mo., scored a one-two victory in the heifer calf championships, taking home both the purple and lavender banners. MKP Miss Sharon M127, an Enforcer daughter, was named calf champion, while the reserve title was awarded to DF Miss J Banner B59. The reserve champ was sired by Gold Standard Sire WSF PRL Justa Banner and is co-owned with Donelson Farms, Princeton, Mo.

The race for the bull calf championship was won by Pride & Joy, who added this calf champion title to a growing list from state fair and SOP competition. He was sired by Gold Trophy Sire Will-Via Justa V and is owned by ACE Polled Herefords, Millbrook, N.Y.; G&R Polled Herefords, Marysville, Kan.; Donnie Riffel and Family, Enterprise, Kan.0 and Sheridge Associates, Mitchell, Ind.

The reserve junior championship titles went to a pair of Enforcer offspring. Reserve junior champion female BSF Elegant Lady is owned by ACE, Ballard Stock Farm, Nashport, Ohio; Charles Southern, Granville, Ohio; and Frederick Davidorf, Columbus, Ohio. QRR Enforcer 107HM46 was named reserve junior champion bull for Quail Run Ranch, Carrollton, Texas; Jim and Moe Barrington, Wichita Falls, Texas; Double NN-S Ranch, Loraine, Texas; and Falklands Farm, Schellsburg, Pa.

Th group classes saw two blue ribbons awarded to Wasser and Winters Co., who was later named premier exhibitor of the show. Their winning get-of-sire group was sired by Charme Norden 10G, and they took the first-place award in the best-six-head class. The calf get-of-sire class was won by E. B. Gee Ranch, East Prairie, Mo., with a quartet of Enforcer calves.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor,

As a member of the Howard County Historical Commission and the Permian Basin Historical Association, I am interested in the history of our part of the country.

My grandparents settled in Mitchell County in 1901 and I have recently found some of my grandfather's writings–most of which were printed in the Colorado paper before 1914. The one I am enclosing was of especial interest to me with its price of land of "$7 to $30 per acre."

If you have your files from that time you will probably find other writings by "W. E. Berry–Rambler." If you desire to use any or all parts of this, I will be glad to feel you have helped to bring back some of the old days. If you do not think it worthy of printing, just file it in File 13.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Bill Earley

The following was found among papers among possessions of Mary Ellen (Mayme) Berry Creath after her death. It was copied by Helen Creath Earley from the handwritten copy, done ry. Colorado City Jan. 2, 1971.

Hello, stranger, ever been out here in Colorado, Mitchell County Texas? If you have not you have not seen all the grand sights. If you will listen to me for a short while I will tell you of a country of beauty of which in your wildest imagination, you have never dreamt of.

There is an idea prevalent among the citizens of this region which can trace their first impression of civilization back to Revoluntionary days. It seems that Texas, our glorious Lone Star State "equals no dice" to all New England States, and is the very embodiment of the wild west. They seem to think of us as the home of the lawless and the asylum for crime, within whose borders the tread of a gentleman is never heard; where the dress of a man is buckskin adorned with six-shooters and the idea of Texas women are amusing to them. At the very mention of the name "Texas," their imaginations picture in vivid hues–buffalo, Indians, pistols, cowboys, cut-throats–where the white-faced cattle must wear brass faces and the jack rabbits wear buckskin leggings.

This was my first impression of Texas–from what I had heard. I will endeavor to prove that this interpretation is not the correct one–that it was an illusion circulated to strike terror into the hearts of men by the one word, "Texas." But as all fair-minded men and women are open to conviction I will show you it was false. Some of the various synonyms mentioned above have originated more from ignorance or indifference than from actual facts. That some of these striking assertions about all western countries have existed or do now exist within our borders is not to be denied, but in so modified a form that you might traverse the great thoroughfares of our Eastern cities and not excite greater comment than they do now in the state which is usually accredited with fostering their growth.

So to deal with them respectively. I will first consider the BUFFALO-about the most which can be said is that with their native characteristics, they have long since preceded their more slow going neighbors to the happy hunting grounds, save for that small portion in the Texas Panhandle known as the Goodnight Ranch where they roam harmlessly in that small pasture.

Indians, I believe, are thought to approach our large cities, tomahawk in hand, blanching the face of every man, woman, or child who has a scalp to lose. But, they too, in the last few years have heeded Horace Greeley's advice and gone west, until today an Indian in Texas, is in reality, as great a curiosity as some erroneously believe a gentleman to be.

Pistols certainly are to be had of the latest and most approved pattern in every town in the state. Yes, sir, Messrs. Smith and Wesson and Mr. Colt can not complain that Texas does not pay a just tribute to their mechanical genius. But–and this is an open question today–are they used more to adorn the indoors or for warfare.

Now for this outlandish Cowboy. Behold him as he rides in the roundup, lariat in hand, mounted on his mustang pony, his sunburnt face shaded by the brim of his sombrero hat, leather leggings, booted and spurred, and you have the much talked of "Hero of the Plains," performing duties which only a hand trained to handle the lariat can perform. He is immediately transformed into a most useful citizen, who perchance could not adorn a drawing room, but beneath whose rough exterior beats a heart as responsive to the needs of humanity as many a one covered with broadcloth and fine linens. Cut-throats, we humbly acknowledge, may be found also of the latest pattern among the best neckwear of the day. Thieves, too, are investing our large towns as well as the rural districts–but no worse than in cities east of here.

As for our white-faced cattle–since Burbank has discovered the thornless cactus–they have to wear brass faces no more. As for our long-eared Jack rabbit, he has his leggings off and he, too, is fast going to that "Sweet by and by." So, notwithstanding all the evils of which we were accused, we have a grand and glorious state, always ready to be in the future, as in the past, a true and tried friend to all who week to test our friendship.

Extending as it does more than seven hundred miles in either direction, it has more than 3,000,000 square miles and a great area of water surface occupied by lakes, rivers, and coast line. Texas is an empire of itself, more fruit land than California, more granite than New .Hampshire and coal fields that rival in richness, those of Pennsylvania; more railroad mileage than any other state, more cotton than any other two states and more cattle grazing on its thousand hills than any other state in the Union. Its praries furnish grass the year around for "millions" of cattle, or when broken for cultivation their abundance of products of cotton and cereals are shipped to markets all over the world.

I have traveled a great deal in my young days, in England, France, Canada and Australia; have also been in 28 states of the Union and made five voyages from the United States to England. I made one trip of 36,000 miles around the world and have seen farming in all these countries, but I must say that this state and old Mitchell County is the best county I have ever seen. No country on earth possesses such attractions or advantages with which to shower blessings on mankind as this great state of Texas and there is no other country where such reward can be obtained with less labor or enjoyed more with complete contentment. Within its borders every want of man can be obtained. Let me say right here that truly the fields of Texas are golden with opportunity and offer as near as possible the attainment of "The Poor Man's Paradise"– a home for a man of small means and a promise of wealth and humor to the young and ambitious.

Slavery is dead and over its grave the capital of the North has been wooed and won to wed the rich resources of the South; their issues are Peace, Plenty and Prosperity. We are blest with good moral society, good neighbors, and, in general, good crops. Did you ever stop to think about the crops we raise in this sunny land? And did you know that three-fourths of the world are fighting for our fleecy staple cotton? As for myself, I think it an honor to belong to that class of tillers of the soil who raise it. Its fiber is currency in every bank in the land, and, loosing its fleeces to the sun, it still floats a starry banner that glorifies the world and will bring a subsidy from all nations of the globe. Surely then, this must be the inheritance that God gave to the Southern people when he arched our skies, established our mountains, girded us about with oceans, loosed our rivers and measured the rain on us and our children forever. Cotton is king and long may he reign.

For me to describe this delightful climate is bewildering in the extreme, for one must experience it-must come in contact with it-to appreciate it. Our "northers" which begin in September last about 3 days, then recur at intervals until the middle of April give a lift to the dullest and health and strength to the weakest. Our summer season is a long one, is greatly modified by the constant sea breezes which waft away the hot winds so much dreaded farther north. Coming as they do from the Gulf of Mexico, they are a delightful feature of a summer in Texas. Visit this great and glorious state in May or June and you will think it the garden of the world, for lying before you are smiling farms and undulating prairies whose thousands of white faced cattle roam at will. Old Mother Earth is radiant with an endless variety of wild flowers which made me think I was again in the rose gardens of France. Everything is teeming with life; she presents a youthful appearance in her fresh green mantle and unconsciously you observe her freshness and vigor. The stars blink lovely from their home above; the birds sing from the bushes and the perfumes of wild flowers is wafted on the summer air.

To awaken us with a better nature and remind us that the world is not so dark and dreary as our sinful nature would sometimes have us believe, here flourish peach, plum, pear, apple, apricot, figs, grapes, blackberries and strawberries, while down on the coast counties oranges, bananas, and pineapples grow in all their splendor. And watermelons. Why, sir, you have to look twice to see the end of the vine! Sweet potatoes and Irish potatoes do well; all kinds of garden truck do fine. Our fields are cotton, Indian corn, June corn, kaffir corn, milo maize and brown sorghum corn. Peanuts do well here in sandy soil. Along the creeks and rivers walnut and pecan are found. Live oak, post, oak, hackberry, grow in Central Texas while pine is found farther east.

Now kind friends, I have no land to sell. I have no axe to grind with any land agent, land shark, or land knocker. I have had some dealings with some of these "gentlemen" in the real estate business and some will tell you that you can come to a county with nothing, do nothing, and still make a fortune. You know this is false and I do too. Now don't understand me to say that all land agents are frauds, for they are not. We have some as honest and trustworthy men in this business here in Colorado as you will find in any state, and if these few lines should influence you to come out here to Mitchell County, I could refer you to them. My object in writing these few lines is to help some poor struggling farmer that is carrying a heavy debt or mortgage or who is renting land on shares and giving the landlord half, or who is farming up north where he must farm six months to raise enough feed for his stock for the next six months.

I came here to Mitchell County eight years ago with hardly money enough in my pocket to rattle. I rented land the first four years, then bought this farm of 320 acres where I am now today. The land is worth $25 per acre. I have a good home with modern improvements and paid for with plenty of stock, also a young orchard just beginning to bear apples, peaches, plums, pears, cherries, apricots, figs, grapes, blackberries, dewberries, gooseberries, pie plant and asparagus. Our field crops are cotton, Indian corn, June corn, kaffer corn, milo maize, sorghum, brown corn, peanuts, sweet potatoes, watermelons ... "Why sir," you have to look twice to see the end of the vine.

There is plenty of land here yet for sale from $7 to $30 per acre on easy terms. We have the black and red heavy sandy, and thinning the shinnery land is the cheapest and best for fruits. Another advantage a man has in this county–one man can work double the amount he can back east. I have 180 acres in cultivation and my two boys did all the plowing, planting and cultivating and chopping. I helped them some to chop out. One hundred thirty acres was in cotton. Picking, I had to hire extra help. Our crops made ¼ to 1 bale per acre. Indian corn, about 25-30 bus., June corn 30-4-; Kaffier corn, 40-50; maize 40-45; sorghum 8-10 tons. Plenty of good water can be found at 50 to 150 feet; I have two good wells 70 feet deep, two good springs, and the Colorado River is on my north line. I live four miles from a post office and store, three miles to a public school of 85 children enrolled; public gin, three miles; we have preaching three times a month and Sunday School of 100 pupils.

Agape Club Meets At First Methodist

The Agape Club met Monday, February 8th at 6 p.m., in the Fellowship Hall of the First United Methodist Church.

President Juanita Coker presided. She spoke on the subject of "Who Are Members of the Global Family." Della Fox talked on "Christian Perspective" and Bea Richards read a scripture about the woman at the well whom Jesus asked for a drink of water, as told in John, fourth chapter.

The meeting closed with prayer by Juanita Coker.

Members in attendance were Betsy Davis, Eddie Jamison, Nelda Garrett, Phyllis Glover, Bea Richards, Frances Godwin and Wilma Reynolds. Also attending was one guest, Charles Godwin.

Refreshments of sandwiches, a salad plate, cake and coffee were served by hostesses Della Fox and Juanita Coker.

Poultry Prices Expected To Be Higher In '82

International trade was a bright spot for poultry and egg producers in 1981 and that situation should continue this year. Also, lower feed costs should help producers in 1982 although other costs are expected to rise, notes a poultry specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Egg production should be about the same this year as in 1981 while per capita consumption is expected to continue a slow decline. Prices for cartoned eggs will likely be a little higher in 1982.

Turkey prices will probably remain under pressure due to record high stocks of frozen birds.

Peanuts Plentiful Again

After being in short supply two years ago, peanuts are once again plentiful, thanks to a bumper crop last year. Total peanut stocks as of last November were up 72 percent from a year earlier and shelled peanuts were up 94 percent. Farmers plan to plant about the same acreage to peanuts this year since a good domestic demand should keep prices strong, says an economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. The new farm program provides a price support of $550 per ton for peanuts grown under the national poundage quota, with annual increases based on increased production costs not to exceed six percent.

Avenue D Baptist Church Hosts Miss Helen Nixon

A special service of recognition will be held at the Avenue D Baptist Church in Snyder on Sunday afternoon, February 21, at 3 p.m., for Miss Helen Nixon.

Miss Nixon has served a total of 32 years under the Foreign Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention in Argentina. She has received a medical retirement and is at home in Snyder.

Those participating in the program include: H. F. Scott, pastor of the Bacon Heights Baptist Church in Lubbock who is a member of the Foreign Mission Board.

Ben Bedford, Assistant Director of Eastern South America, is in charge of Spanish work.

Dr. Thurman Bryant, is director of Eastern South America.

Following the program, a reception will be held in honor of Miss Nixon. The congregation of the Avenue D Baptist Church and the Mitchell-Scurry Baptist Association extend a cordial invitation to all of her friends to be a part of this service, according to Malcolm Brown.

Real Estate Agents' Duties Clarified

The purchase of a home or sale of real estate is usually handled through the use of a real estate agent or broker. Many times more than one broker is involved in the transaction and frequently the agent or broker may not explain the duties and obligations the agent or broker has to the person they are representing in the sale.

A broker's duties are governed not only by contract but also by principles of agencies which impose certain good faith obligations on the broker. Not fulfilling these obligations can leave the broker open to charges of fraud. These duties include loyalty and good faith, integrity of the strictest kind, fair and honest dealing, unbiased judgment to the principal, no antagonistic relationships and his best efforts to represent his client.

There are specific State statutory prohibitions which may lead to a broker's suspension or legal liability. Some examples of this are:

–Failing to make clear the party for which the broker is acting;

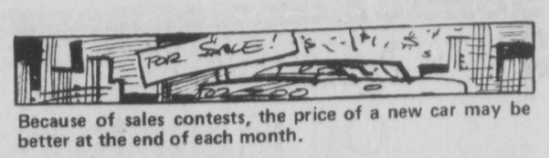

–Receiving compensation from more than one party without full disclosure and consent.

–Acting in a daul capacity as a broker and an undisclosed principal.

–Accepting or charging an undisclosed commission or profit on expenditures made on behalf of a principal.

–Commingling funds or failing to properly account for or remit monies held for others.

–Splitting commissions with anyone not

Mattox Asks For Investigation

by Jim Mattox

The U.S. Marine Corps obviously wishes everyone would forget about the drowning death of Dallas Marine recruit Randall Christian last August, but fortunately U.S. Rep. Jim Mattox is not giving up his fight to get satisfactory explanations about what the Marine Corps insists was merely an "unfortunate training accident."

Rep. Mattox, a Democrat from East Dallas, has asked the secretary of the Navy to review the Marine Corps investigation into Pvt. Christian's death as a "last resort' before asking for a congressional investigation. In a letter to Secretary of the Navy John Lehman, Jr., Mattox said: "I have regretfully concluded that we are faced with an official whitewash of the events surrounding the drowning."

We agree. Two Marine Corps investigations, including a formal board of inquiry, concluded that Pvt. Christian's death was an unfortunate accident and that negligence was not involved. In the process, Pvt. Christian's water safety instructor, Gunnery Sgt. Rudy Rodriquez, was cleared of any blame. But, as we have insisted before, negligence on someone's part is implicit when an apparently healthy 18-year-old who once worked as a lifeguard drowns in a pool that is surrounded by dozens of equally healthy men, some of whom are qualified lifeguards.

A footnote to the Christian case was added this week when the Marine Corps announced it will investigate other charges about Sgt. Rodriquez which allege that before Pvt. Christian drowned, the sergeant kicked a second recruit in the chest to keep him from reaching the side of the training pool. At least five witnesses told Marine Corps investigators that Sgt. Rodriquez pushed Pvt. Christian away from the edge of the pool, even t8ough the recruit was having trouble treading water.

Marine Comandant Gen. Robert Barrow has called for a complete review of procedures relating to water-survival training, but that action does nothing to fix responsibility for Pvt. Christian's death, punish whoever was guilty of 'etting him drown or dentify those who attempted to hide the facts in the tragedy.

The secretary of the Navy ought to give careful review to the Christian case, take appropriate action to ease the bitter memories of his family and insure that the Marine Corps' training programs do not result in other deaths. If he does not, a congressional investigation will be in order, we believe.

Loraine Area Personals

By Ida Baird

Mrs. Syble Walker hosted the Loraine Game Club Tuesday night, February 8. Four tables of 42 were played.

Refreshments of lemon-cherry ice box pie, coffee, hot apple juice, nuts and candies were served.

Those playing were Rev. and Mrs. Fred Witta, Dr. and Mrs. Bruce Johnson, Messrs. and Mmes. C. A. Matejowsky, Jack Linam, Doyle Hester, W. A. Taylor, J. M. Templeton and Ida Baird.

xxx

Charles Lee Griffin and sisters, Mrs. William Robinson of San Angelo and Mrs. Donnie Hodges from Midland, went to Pleasonton Sunday to be with their sister, Mrs. John Mayse before she entered the Methodist Hospital in San Antonio where she underwent back surgery at 1 p.m., Tuesday.

They remained with her through Tuesday and returned home Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Mearse spent the weekend in Midland visiting their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ken Albus.

xxx

Mr. and Mrs. Olen Lee hosted a noon dinner Saturday, February 13, honoring their son, James Clifton on his 47th birthday.

Present were Mr. and Mrs. Jim Clifton, Mrs. Herbert Roever and Candi, and Mr. and Mrs. James Clifton, Melissa and Teresa and the hosts.

xxx

Two families from Fort Worth are moving to Loraine this week. They are Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Smith and two daughters, Wendy and Wanda and granddaughter, Candy and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Smith and baby, Jamie from Fort Worth.

Both men will be working for Jerry Woods in his building contractor business.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Utley left Monday, for their home in Cortez, Colo., after spending the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Hershel Williams.

xxx

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Martin had as their Tuesday afternoon and evening dinner guests, two sons and wives, Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Martin and Mr. and Mrs. Don Martin from Abilene.

xxx

Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Graham accompanied two of their daughters and husbands and enjoyed a fine vacation at Red Rivera, New Mexico, last week.

Their daughters and husband are Mr. and Mrs. Mike Hemphill and Jill from Lake Colorado City and Mr. and Mrs. Willis Hughes and children, Holly, Cody and Kim from Roscoe. Also accompanying them were Mr. and Mrs. George Hughes of Roscoe.

The skiing was perfect and they reported it snowed six inches on Wednesday while they were there.

The younger group spent most of the time skiing and Bobby and Wanda and the George Hughes enjoyed taking snow mobile rides and saw deer that seemed to be enjoying the beauty as much as they.

Mrs. Willis Hughes twisted her knee and they returned home on Thursday. The others remained until Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Stirl attended the 26th annual Soil and Water Conservation meeting held in Phoenix, Arizona February 7-11.

The 2,000 people attending represented all the states in the Union.

Some of the main speakers were the Honorable Bruce Babbitt, Governor of Arizona. He spoke of conserving the water from the dry state of Arizona, which is the fastest growing state in the Union.

The Honorable John R. Block, Secretary of Agriculture talked on the present and future of farming and ranching, which was of great interest.

The N.A.C.D. President, Lyle Bauer, made a fine talk on saving and conserving our natural resources for future generations.

Scott H. Buzley spoke on the awards program that the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company give each year.

The Stirls' report a very fine and worthwhile meeting. While the men were attending the sessions, luncheons and tours, were provided for the wives, which they enjoyed.

L.I.P. Seeks Authority To Clean Up City

The L.I.P. will meet in regular meeting at the Loraine Lions' Club at 7:30 p.m., Thursday, February 25th.

Spokesperson for the club stated they hoped to hear at this meeting replies from owners of several old buildings in downtown Loraine, regarding permission to tear them down, after which they have plans to clear and beautify the sites.

They had previously contacted authorities in Austin seeking the proper way this can be done in a legal way.

At this meeting, plans for starting a Little League program this spring, will be discussed along with other matters of civic interest.

Show your interest in our town and community by being present to discuss and help put these ideas in motion.

Loraine B & P W Meets At Loraine Lions' Club

Mrs. Vida Mae McDaniel was speaker when the Loraine B&PW Club met in regular session at the Loraine Lions' Club Monday night.

Mrs. McDaniel spoke on "Women in Finance." She spoke on how we as women can invest in certificates and make our money earn more for us. Basically our interest paying and our interest earning. All timely hints for women to make note of.

During the social hour, Nettie Crownover, Billie Ruth Tartt, Billie Schroeder and Pam Butler, received prizes in a drawing contest. A gift was presented the speaker.

The two hostesses, Fielda Blair and Pam Butler served cookies, punch and coffee to the one guest, Vida Mae McDaniel and Mmes. Lola Fay Bennett, Margaret Brame, Wanza Graham, Billie Schroeder, Doris Henderson, Nettie Crownover, Billie Ruth Tartt, Dorothy Johnson, Juanice Butler and Helen Williams.

The Valentine theme was used in room and table decor.

Cook Reviews Book

Mark Cook of Colorado City will review the book "Challenge of the Cities," when the Loraine Baptist Women meet at 10 a.m., Thursday, February 18th.

This is a Home Mission book to be reviewed before the church will take the annual Annie Armstrong Home Mission offering.

A covered dish luncheon will be served at noon.

Practical alternatives are in short supply . . .

let's keep searching.

This is the TEXT (Texas Experimental Tokamak) at the University of Texas at Austin. It's used in nuclear fusion research that has been supported since 1957 by investor-owned utility companies in Texas.

We Americans have always been good at dreaming big dreams, setting seemingly unreachable goals. But we're also very good at figuring out ways to make those dreams and goals a reality.

Today, one of our biggest goals is to assure ourselves of the energy we need . . . now, and for tomorrow. At your electric company, we know the fuels used to make electricity—oil, natural gas, coal, and uranium—won't last forever. So we're looking hard for practical alternatives.

There are breeder reactors, which make nuclear fuel while they make electricity and thus would extend our uranium supplies by hundreds of years. This technology exists today and is in the process of being developed in this country.

There is also solar. Some types of solar power are providing supplemental energy for homes and business now, but focusing the sun's heat to generate electricity economically in large amounts is years in the future.

Other technologies—geothermal, biomass, wind power—are being developed, but like solar power are not now practical for generating electricity in Texas. Giant storage systems would be required for times when the sun doesn't shine or the wind doesn't blow.

Way down the line is nuclear fusion (different from fission, the process used in all present day nuclear plants). We could make electricity with an element found in ordinary seawater if we had fusion, but its use is still decades away.

In other words, while some of these ideas hold promise, we're still a long way from energy alternatives that are truly practical.

In the meantime, we're going to keep making your electricity the best way we know how. And searching for ways to do it better.
