Congress Overrides Veto Of President

Pensions Bill Passes Monday By Two Houses

Spanish War Vets Aided In Measure Enacted By Two Overwhelming Votes After Hoover Showed Disapproval Objections Given

WASHINGTON, June 2.—By two overwhelming votes, congress today enacted the measure liberalizing pensions for Spanish War veterans over the veto of President Hoover.

With few preliminaries, the senate voted 61 to 18 to override the first veto message of Mr. Hoover to be acted upon. Within an hour, administration leaders in the house were trampled down as they sought to defer a roll call until Thursday and the house at once proceeded to vote 208 to 14 in favor of enactment of the bill.

Solid Lineup Shows
The roll call showed the most solid lineup against a presidential veto in recent years, only a handful of republican regulars in each branch standing by the president. The democrats in the senate and house voted solidly against the veto. The measure originally went through congress with the support of administration leaders, but was cut out by a group of republican regulars in the senate and house.

Objections Given
In vetoing the legislation, President Hoover stated three objections. He complained it would allow pensions to veterans whose disabilities were not permanent.

Graf Zeppelin Starts On Eighth Ocean Crossing With 72 Aboard

GIANT SHIP EMBARKS ON FINAL HOP OF AIR JOURNEY

NAVAL AIR STATION, LAKEHURST, N. J., June 2.—Under a quarter moon so bright the night sky was blue instead of black, the dirigible Graf Zeppelin floated from the ground at 9:12 P. M. tonight to start its eighth ocean crossing and complete its journey across four continents and two hemispheres.

With 22 passengers, four of them women, and a crew of 50, the giant ship lifted lightly into the luminous sky and, with a roar of its five great motors, nosed away for New York and the sea beyond.

Departure Uneventful
The departure was uneventful, the ship being towed easily from the hangar by the mobile mooring mast and scarcely more than half a hundred men. Ropes were cast loose. Cultural orders were barked from the open windows of the control cabin, where Dr. Hugo Eckener, commander of the ship, superintended the sailing and then gave the final orders to the sailors and marines holding the ropes.

"Up ship," a navy officer called on signal from Dr. Eckener, and slowly, gracefully, the enormous ship, rimmed in silver by the moon on one side, and on the other a shapely dim mass against the sky, floated upward. Bells rang sharply ending the stillness and five engines shattered the quiet with the throbbing sound.

Its cabin windows an added constellation in the night, the dirigible swung away toward New York, off on its latest great adventure. Three minutes after the ground began to drop away from the dirigible it was out of sight.

Crosbyton Has Trades Day As Monthly Event

Between 15,000 And 2,000 Out-Of-Town People From Trade Territory Attend Affair; Businesses Co-Operate

(By Staff Correspondent) CROSBYTON, June 2.—Between 15,000 and 2,000 out-of-town people from the trade territory of this metropolis of Crosby county each month attend the monthly trades day sponsored by the Crosby Trades Day association, says A. A. Hatchell, president.

"We have 41 business firms in Crosbyton that belong to the association and pay dues regularly," the president explained. "The dues from members are used to pay seven cash prizes and the printing of tickets for the day and other events."

"Our association is separate from the Crosbyton Chamber of Commerce but we work with them. I believe that our work is growing all the time. Larger crowds come here each month and our third sales day for 1930 will be June 16."

The association was connected with the chamber of commerce for some time, the president stated, but it was decided to form a separate group.

What advertising the members do is done independently. Most of the participants find it a good thing, he said, to advertise any special sales they may have in the weekly paper.

Crosbyton's trade territory extends for about 30 miles to the east and the same distance to the south. It also goes about seven miles north and meets the Ball's territory about half way between the two towns or three or four miles west.

Baptists Vote Movie Control

Unwavering Defense Of National Prohibition Law Is Recommended In Conclave Of Church At Cleveland

CLEVELAND, June 2.—(AP)—The national convention of the northern Baptist church here was on record tonight recommending federal control of the moving picture industry and advocating an unwavering defense of the prohibition laws. Resolutions of these subjects were approved today as the convention neared its final session.

A committee report on relations with the federal council of churches in Christ was adopted. The committee had considered whether sponsoring a radio preacher by the council is a proper function. "While recognizing the unique phase of this situation, we would not favor making this precedent by which the federal council would undertake the appointment of an official preaching ministry," the committee reported.

Did More Good Than Anything

After Other Treatment Failed To Help Plainview Farmer Argotane Restores Him

"Treatment, medicine, diets, nor anything else helped me until I got Argotane," said G. J. Martin, a well known farmer residing on route 1, Plainview, Texas. Mr. Martin has been a prominent resident of this section for the past twenty years.

"For the past three years," he continued, "I have simply suffered torture with my stomach. My food would sour almost as soon as I had eaten, and gas would form and cause such terrible cramping pains in the pit of my stomach, that I could hardly stand them. Many a night I had just rolled and tossed all night long, so racked with pain that I could not sleep. I also suffered a great deal from kidney trouble. I just tried everything that was recommended, but couldn't find anything that would help me. I was losing in strength and getting so nervous I could hardly do my work. At last I became so miserable and uneasy about my condition that I had about decided to give up hopes of ever being a well man again."

"But upon recommendation of a friend who urged me to try Argotane, well, on his advice I got me a bottle and when I finished taking it, I commenced to improve. And right then and there I decided I had found the right treatment at last, so I got the second bottle, and my stomach hasn't given me the least bit of trouble since I finished taking it. I have taken it only a few weeks now, and talk about eating! My, I eat like a wolf and never have a step of gas, nor a pain of any sort, and I'm always ready with a big appetite for the next meal. I sleep like a log for eight or nine hours every night and wish I had time to spend more. Argotane has done me more good than anything else I ever tried, and my only regret is that I don't have the opportunity of taking it every day."

Argotane may be purchased at Lubbock at the Bowen's Drug Store. Adv.

WATERTOWN, N. Y., June 2. (AP)

An enraged female black bear, whose cubs recently had been taken away from her, killed her feeder, Emerson E. Joyce, 68, at the John C. Thompson Park zoo here today.

So ferocious was her attack that none at the park dared go to the assistance of Joyce in his death battle. Grove H. Brenon, park superintendent, heard Joyce's cries and the bear's roars and rushed to the cage. When he got there the bear had dragged Joyce's body into an artificial cave so that only his feet were visible.

Police later recovered the body, badly crushed and with the neck broken. The bear weighed 500 pounds.

Park officials explained that when Joyce entered the cage, he failed to drop an iron grating over the mouth of the animal's cave. She walked out and up behind him, taking him off his guard.

A shotgun was brought into play to rescue Joyce's body, and the bear was wounded in the head.

Hunt Grocery Holds Formal Opening Today

McClelland And Williams To Have Market In New Store Location, 1411 Avenue K; Public Invited

Announcement is made today of the formal opening of the Hunt Grocery company and McClelland & Williams market at their new location 1411 Avenue K, to be held tonight at 7 o'clock. The general public is invited to attend.

With the increasing down-town congestion and need for a larger building, decision was made to move into a new location. The new building is well ventilated and has important improvements such as a drinking fountain, hot and cold water, and electrical refrigeration throughout.

The market has a new display case and the addition of a delicatessen department.

Mr. Hunt has been in the grocery business here for the past 18 years. In 1898 he moved to Lubbock and accepted a position with a mercantile establishment, later giving that up to become cashier in the Citizens National bank.

In January 1913 Mr. Hunt resigned to enter the grocery business and has been in that work since that time.

In testifying in a case at Liverpool, England, in which the print of a finger on a piece of glass was the chief evidence, H. Cooke, police finger print expert, testified that Finger-print evidence is infallible.

Hankins Back After Cavern Business Trip

Lubbock Man Reports Success In Efforts To Get Federal Designation Of Carlsbad Cavern Highway

His efforts meeting with success, H. Hankins, of this city, returned during the past week end from Washington, D. C., where he has been in interest of securing federal designation for the Carlsbad Cavern highway through Lubbock.

The route has been designated include far more territory than had anticipated," said Mr. Hankins. "It starts in Marysville, Va., and continues through Oklahoma City, Lubbock and thence to Carlsbad, N. M., and El Paso. Benefit of the highway to this city will be immeasurable.

One Slight Change
There has been one slight change in the designation. Instead of entering the Texas side at Quanah, the highway will pass through Childress, due to the fact that there is a toll bridge across Red river, immediately north of Quanah.

"The highway has not yet been given a number, but we believe it will be No. 68. In Texas it will pass through Childress, Paducah, Malheur, Crosbyton, Ralls, Lubbock, Brownfield, and continue through Abilene, Lovington and Carlsbad, N. M."

"Negotiations will be started soon toward having Carlsbad Cavern highway connect up with a route from El Paso to Mexico City. If this project is realized hundreds of international tourists will pass through Lubbock each year."

Mr. Hankins, who is president of the Carlsbad Cavern Highway Association, was accompanied to Washington by A. B. Davis, manager of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce. The latter returned home early last week, due to the illness of his son, John.

Advocates of the Dardanelles expedition during the World war took part in the dedication of a new street bearing the name of the Dardanelles in Paris recently.

BRADY, June 2. (AP)—Found at his home shot on the eve of the scheduled trial of three alleged bank robbers against whom he was expected to be the chief witness, William F. Roberts, cashier of the Lohn State bank, was in a sanitarium here tonight.

Roberts had a bullet wound in the chest, inflicted with a .38 calibre pistol. Doctors gave him better than even chances to live. Friends said he had been in poor health.

The trial of the three Rice brothers on a charge of robbing the Lohn bank had been set to start today but was postponed until January 6.

ary because of Roberts' condition. Roberts was the man whom the trio was alleged to have held up January 6.

ONE MINUTE PULPIT

My son, fear thou the Lord and the king; and meddle not with them that are given to change: For their calamity shall rise suddenly; and who knoweth the ruin of them both?—Proverbs, xxiv, 21, 22.

THE WTCC CONVENTION

WELL, Lubbock got the WTCC convention, like it has gotten almost every other convention it has sought in recent years, because people want to come to the South Plains. They want to see all the good things they've been hearing. They are interested in this section's growth and development.

Voting directors of the WTCC almost had to choose Lubbock, the only city to offer the organization, the kind of a meeting most West Texas approve. A business gathering, without the froth and foam, was the basis of LUBBOCK'S invitation, overwhelmingly accepted. It will be interesting to watch the affair work out.

A whole lot of the people of West Texas believe Lubbock is "only kidding" about this business session stuff—and, maybe they're right. Perhaps when convention time rolls around, the urge to "make whoopee" will be so strong that all the king's horses and all the king's men won't be able to stop it—but it won't be the costly kind for the host city.

Perhaps, on the other hand, the Lubbock meeting will be strictly a business meeting, where work will be done socialities will be small and West Texas will benefit. If it is a new era of service will be opened for an organization which has a decided place in this great growing land of ours.

It is the opinion of the Morning Avalanche that Lubbock can do something big—can win the praise of all West Texas—if we stand pat on a business session gathering here next year. If the delegates come for work and do that work, without interruption from monkey-business, the WTCC is bound to profit thereby.

MATERIALISM

Everybody is saying, philosophically, harsh things about materialism. Just what is materialism, you ask? Well, it would be hard to explain straight off, because the word is all mixed up with Democritus, the late President Wilson, the "wealth of nations," prohibition, service clubs and modern physics. But quite roughly, "materialism" is something the "high minded" find it convenient and profound to dislike publicly; also, roughly, it is something which most anyone anywhere finds convenient and profound to dislike publicly.

Here we are, all soundly convinced that "materialism" sums up an exceedingly low way of looking at life. We're constantly reassured that we are materialistic or becoming so. Take hope, Americans may have their tile bathrooms, but at heart they are the most restlessly spiritual people on earth. Anything with a touch of "idealism" or a flavor of the high, noble things, goes straight to their heads. Really, there ought to be a little more said in favor of materialism. On investigation it might prove to be not so dreadfully bad. And it isn't fair to build up a fine world of banks, homes, automobiles, radios, sports and sanitation and then go about condemning the "material."

But what's the use? "Materialism" has all the "forces for good" against it. It has had to stand a lot of abuse and plain speaking. But it will stagger on. It was made for punishment. In a democracy it is one of those rare things at which anyone can take a kick while holding it close to his head.

LIFE MORE LIVABLE

The assertion that Americans are motor mad, that we are sorely afflicted with "acute motoritis," may be a clever one, but aside from more cleverness in phrasing it does not add anything to the discussion. It may be held that just as we were once "bike crazy" so we have now gone wild over the automobile, but this would not be true.

In a great measure the bicycle was given up by people who took to the motor car as a more effective means of getting about; at least those that could afford it did so. And just as they used the two-wheeled vehicle to expedite the business of the day, so these persons are this day using the motor car for many things besides pleasure rides. For many people the ownership of an automobile merely means that they can carry on with more dispatch the business of the day.

The development of the automobile and its increasing use is only one more indication that our standard of living has been raised. We know what we want and, even at the cost of some little hardship, if that is necessary, we are going to get it. We may call it "motoritis" if we like, but the point is that it is a good thing to have, and that it will endure until something even better than the motor car makes its appearance. And then we shall go in for that.

It may be all right for John D. to pass out nickels instead of dimes, but we should like to see him try it out on some of the waiters we have had.

WELCOME NEW SENATORS RECEIVE DEFENDERS' RECOMMENDATION OF CAMPAIGN FUND FRODO GROUP

What Price Candidates? This is the first of a series of four articles by Charles P. Stewart, Washington correspondent for Central Press, dealing with current political campaign expenditures throughout the country and their investigation by the recently appointed senate committee, headed by Senator Gerald P. Nye of North Dakota.

By CHARLES P. STEWART Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, June 2.—Candidates for U. S. senate seats will do well to mind their campaign 'p's and q's this year—or, thinking themselves elected next November and presenting their credentials when the 72nd congress convenes, maybe they will find it mighty difficult to overcome the already-sitting senators' objection to admitting them.

Their welcome (or otherwise) will depend largely upon the recommendation of Senator Gerald P. Nye's committee (the North Dakotan being chairman) on expenditures by the various aspirants to enter the upper congressional chamber—or, if previously in to stay in, re-elected.

Senator Nye's committee is similar to the famous committee under the chairmanship of the then Senator James A. Reed of Missouri, which succeeded in keeping the senate doors closed against Frank L. Smith of Illinois and William S. Vare of Pennsylvania—on the ground that their respective nominations had cost too much money—despite the superficial regularity of the documentary evidence they offered in support of their claims of recognition as duly-chosen members of the council of solons.

The Nye committee, however, has one advantage over the Reed group of investigators. The latter was not thought of, and created, until the 1926 congressional campaign had been in progress for several weeks. Consequently it had to dig back into past records, lost considerable time in doing so, never succeeded in fully catching up with developments and consequently had to do considerable guesswork throughout the entire period of its activities. To be sure, it guessed to so devastating an effect as to keep Candidates Smith and Vare out of the senate. Nevertheless, had it been ready and waiting to launch its inquiry simultaneously with the campaign's opening, and follow it from start to finish, its task would have been easier.

The Nye committee was named ahead of the first of the 1930 primaries, was on the alert, probe in hand, at the very outset, and jabbed it in, the instant the result of the initial primary was available—from Illinois, as it happened.

Why there should be so much more of a rumper over the selection of U. S. senators than over the selection of any other class of high public officials may not be immediately apparent to some folk. However, there are good reasons for it.

Any hocus-pocus in connection with the election of a governor, for example, important as it may be to his particular state, is of less national importance than in connection with that of a senator, for the obvious reason that a governor's sphere of influence is limited to his own commonwealth, while a senator's is countrywide. Besides which, of course, Washington has nothing to say about state fights.

As compared with representatives, of whom there are 435, there are only 96 senators; so that a single senator's vote counts for nearly five times as much as a representative's. Moreover, the average representative, running in a relatively far smaller ball-wicket, is easier to watch, as to his methods, than a senator.

In the old days, before the Seventeenth amendment to the United States constitution, when senators were chosen by their various state legislatures, there were stories of occasional queer doings at one state capital or another—a majority of the members of a legislature being more conveniently concentrated, to influence (if at all susceptible to it), than the far-flung voters of a whole state.

That was the complaint, at all events, leading to adoption of the direct primary and popularly elective method of filling senate seats.

And soon thereafter there began to be a howl about the amount of money some of the candidates were spending. Maybe just as much had been spent under the legislative system—except the legislators did not howl about it and other people did not know it. Or maybe (and more likely) a thin but adequate layer of cash, spread over an entire state, runs to a higher total than a deep, copious pour on to the limited area of a capital city.

Clarence De Mar, a printer, who at the age of 41 won his seventh marathon recently, proved he's no pica.

NOSE AND EAR INFECTIONS OFTEN CAUGHT AT BATHING POOLS

BY DR. MORRIS FISHER Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association

The coming of warmer weather means for the physician an increasing number of infected ears due to carelessness in swimming and bathing. British authorities group patients according to two types—those who have infected noses and those subject to recurrent infections in the ear.

The swimmer must breathe correctly if he is to be secure against an involuntary rush of water into the nose. People with chronically infected nose or with ear drums that have permanent perforations because of infection should avoid bathing in public swimming pools.

The American investigators have found that the swimmers who are most frequently infected with infection of the nose and ears are the beginners, the expert divers and polo players. Beginners get more water into their noses than they should; the expert divers and polo players are under the water so much that they overlook the ability of the system to take care of the extra demand.

An investigation revealed the fact that infection of the sinuses and of the ears occurred in about 30 per cent of those doing plain swimming and in about 80 per cent of divers and polo players. One observer reported that out of 10 expert divers, eight had some form of infection of the sinuses or the ears.

Most public swimming pools in America provide for the use of chlorine in the water for regular draining, and for the removal of sediment and infectious material. Under these circumstances the swimmer is less likely to be infected, unless he comes in contact with a heavy dose of infection from some person who should not be using the pool.

It is important to realize that there are few cases of infection from swimming in the ocean or from swimming in rivers or lakes where people are few. The exposed bathing beaches where there is hardly room to move the arms, people are constantly exposed to the excretions and secretions of their neighbors. Indeed, civilization and the overcrowding of human beings bears the brunt of responsibility for infection of the respiratory tract.

The six major wars will come to mind quickly: Revolution (1775), War of 1812, Mead, Mexican War (1846), Civil War (1861), Spanish-American War (1898), and the World War (1917). The official war record of the U. JAAFAR WON BOTH THE GERMAN IRON CR OSS AND THE BRITISH C. M. G.—Jaafar was a staff officer in the Turkish army at the outbreak of the World War, and fought the British as a German ally. The Germans decorated him with the Iron Cross for gallantry. In 1918 he forewore his Turkish allegiance and joined the British in their fight against the Turks. General Allenby decorated him with the C. M. G. for conspicuous gallantry in the face of the enemy. Jaafar is the only combatant to be decorated by both sides in the war. The Husband Hunter

© 1930 BY NEA SERVICE INC. BY RUTH DEWEY GROVES

BEGIN HERE TODAY

NATALIE CONVERSE, jealous of her husband, ALAN, quarrels over BERNADINE LAMONT. Alan sends her to the secretary, PHILIPPA WEST, who successfully schemes to arouse Natalie's suspicions, and she leaves Alan. Wounded pride prevents either from seeking a reconciliation, and Alan turns to Phillipa, who plays her part so cleverly that they soon become engaged.

Natalie writes Alan, informing him of her return. Phillipa, fearful of losing Alan, leaves home and takes an apartment, and he agrees to pay for the furnishings. Alan's meeting with Natalie, who brings her young sister, FLORENCE with her, leaves Alan hopeful, but baffled as to her intentions. Torn by knowledge of his love for Natalie and his entanglement with Phillipa, Alan's silence causes Natalie to believe that he does not love her. He goes to Phillipa and asks her to release him. Phillipa refuses and makes an appeal to his pity and chivalry.

Florence, believing that Alan really loves Natalie, engages the help of her fiancé, ANDREW, to fake an illness in order to keep Natalie in New York.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XXXII "Was she scared?" Andrew repeated. "Honey, I felt like a criminal. She was frantic. Wanted to come right over."

Florence put a hand on her sister's arm and sighed. The sight was not altogether for her sister. "Poor Natalie," she said. "I hope you didn't lay it on too thick."

"Hope I said I'd get you home all right. Told her you were pretty sick on the train, but we got you fixed up here in the drug store, so we could taxi home. Said I was just calling her up to let her know so she'd be prepared. That was right, wasn't it?"

"Yes, I guess so. I guess so. Florence's mind was on something else. I wonder how long it will take this smetic to work," she added with a wry face.

"You know, we overlooked something," Andrew exclaimed. "She might call a doctor."

"Oh, lordy, I hope not," Florence groaned. She felt doubly upset now. Tell him to drive faster," she urged desperately. "I don't want Natalie to do that."

"They sped along; it was not far. But she was vastly relieved to see her brother-in-law's house come in sight. When they circled into the drive, she leaned weakly against her companion and made a queer little hiccup sound. Andrew patted her shoulder. "Courage kid," he whispered.

some forward to help Natalie get her upstairs and put her to bed. The young man remained below and worried. No one came down to tell him anything before the doctor arrived, not even Ethel to answer the bell. She had started, but Natalie told her there was someone downstairs to open the door. "I need you here," she added, her hands cupping Florence's forehead.

Andrew never was so sorry to see anyone as he was that doctor. "H... ow do you do, sir?" he greeted him. "Good evening. Where's my patient? Upstairs?"

Andrew stopped him. "Ju... st a moment," he said, fidgeting nervously in the doctor's path. "I... I'm afraid that we may have called you unnecessarily, doctor," he blurted out. "You see, I bought Miss Jayhunter home. She was a little upset on the train, and I called Mrs. Converse, and she called you, and I really don't think it's anything serious at all." His voice had mounted excitedly.

The doctor stared at him, suddenly perplexed. Then, "You man," he said, "don't think," he passed on. "Oh, Dr. Wagnall, I'm so sorry you've come," Natalie exclaimed when she reached the head of stairs. She had come out to see him. "My sister's in bed," she added, turning back to Florence's room. Down in the hall Andrew's with mouth agape, thinking what Florence was in for. Well, done his best, he consoled him. Florence could give it up and she had a slight pain—a touch of indigestion, maybe.

But Florence was not disposed to give it up. Her plan meant too much to Natalie, and she already had feared the worst herself, so quiet? Unless... She eyed the doctor searchingly as he took her hand and asked her a few questions. He had a kindly face, she felt, but he looked disconcertingly intelligent. She wondered how knew Natalie. There was a note in his eyes, she thought. "See HUSBAND HUNTER, Page 10."

Cotton Declines Reflect Livestock Narrow Demand For Grain Cash, Future Markets Are Unsettled Monday

Cotton
NEW ORLEANS COTTON
 NEW ORLEANS, June 2 (AP)—Cotton was quiet today with narrow price fluctuations after an opening drop due to poor cables and favorable weather in the belt over the week-end.
 Liverpool came in 4 to 5 points worse than day and first traders have showed losses of 8 to 10 points. The market after a slight rally of a point or two on covering eased off again in early trading. July easing to 18.70 and October to 14.94, or 14 to 15 points below Saturday's close.
 The market ruled quiet for the rest of the morning and during most of the period after mid-session prices remaining within the early range and near the low.
 There was a dropping off in late trading and December made a new low at 14.75 or 16 points net lower for the day. July closed at 18.73, 3 points above the low but 12 points net lower for the day. October closed at 14.75 or 14.94, or 14 points net lower.
 Port receipts 4,579; for week 18,000; for season 8,448,804; last season 8,280,823. Exports, 3,999; for week 5,124; for season 8,301,880; last season 7,624,266. Port stock 1,746,533; last year 1,048,531. Combined shipment stock at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston 71,894, last year 87,862. Spot sales at southern markets 3,284, last year 5,487.
NEW YORK COTTON
 NEW YORK, June 2 (AP)—Reports of favorable weather for crop progress over the Memorial Day adjournment and relatively easy Liverpool cables were reflected by declines in cotton here today. July sold off to 18.90 and closed at 18.01, while the new October contract closed at 14.62, with the general market closing barely steady at net declines of 12 to 20 points.
 The opening was steady at a decline of 11 to 19 points. The market sold about 17 to 20 points net lower during the early trading. It then steadied and rallied of a few points on covering occurred during the middle of the day, but prices eased again later and the close was within a point or two of the lowest.
Markets At A Glance
NEW YORK, June 2.—(AP)—
 Stocks (irregular); railroads loss ground.
 Bonds steady; volume increases but prices move narrowly.
 Curb steady; Ohio Oil touches new high.

 Cotton lower, easy; and favorable weather.
 Sugar steady; better; up 1 cent demand.
 Chicago: Wheat easy; beneficial rains and lower Liverpool.
 Corn steady; frost Illinois and 40 cent west.
 Cattle irregular.
 Hogs steady to higher.

 To the Creditors of Littlefield College, a corporation, of Littlefield in the county of Lamb and District of Columbia, a bankrupt. Notice is hereby given that on the 10th day of May A. D. 1930, the said Littlefield College, a corporation, was duly adjudged bankrupt, and that the first meeting of its creditors will be held at my office in the City of Lubbock, Lubbock County, Texas, on the 12th day of June, A. D. 1930, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, at which time the said creditors may attend, prove their claims, appoint a trustee, examine the bankrupt and transact such other business as may properly come before said meeting.

Grain
FORT WORTH GRAIN
 FORT WORTH, June 2.—(AP)—Arrival of the first car of 1930 wheat in Fort Worth last Saturday was being used in world markets today to hammer the price of that grain down, unsettled both cash and futures markets all over the country. While mills have been taking old crop wheat very sparingly at prices well above the current position on the Chicago market, they practically shut off their purchases today and little wheat was sold except at marked price recessions.
 This sporadic buying created a very irregular and unsatisfactory market condition at all terminals, and commission men had little cheerful news to send their customers. The large supply of old crop wheat still on hand and the nearness of the new crop promises to continue the dominating influence with poor demand for all wheat the rule. Mills were nominally bidding 1.11-1.13 for ordinary No. 1 hard Monday but none was buying except to meet immediate needs.
 Bids and offers on coarse grains ranged as follows: basis carloads delivered—freight paid to Texas commission points:
 Corn: No. 3 mixed 95-96; No. 2 white 95-100; No. 2 yellow, 95 1-2-95 1-2.
 Oats: No. 2 red, 83-84.
 Barley: No. 2 nominally, 69-69.
 Sorghums: No. 2 milo per 100 pounds 2.07-2.08; No. 2 kafir 1.87-1.77.
 Dealers also quoted, basis delivered Texas group one; No. 3 mixed corn 62-63; No. 2 white 97 1-2-96; No. 2 yellow 97-98; No. 3 white oats 51-51 1-2, to which add 1c for delivery Texas group three.
CHICAGO GRAIN
 CHICAGO, June 2 (AP)—Reported ideal conditions for the new wheat harvest in Texas and for ripening the Oklahoma crop did much today to slide the wheat market downward.
 Closing quotations on wheat were unsettled at nearly the day's bottom level and 1 1-8 to 5-8 lower than Saturday's finish. Corn closed 4-8 to 7-8 advanced, oats 1-4 to 1-3 up and provisions 5 to 12c off.
 Corn and oats showed an upward price trend all day. Corn receipts were small compared with what was expected and country offerings were for the most part held at above current prices. Oats crop reports were less favorable than of late, rains being needed.
 Provisions declined, responsive to setbacks in the value of hogs.

Hoover Veto

ties arise from "vicious habits," that it lowered the period for non-service connected disability pensioners, and that there should be requirement of need as well as disability for granting pensions.

Chairman Knutson of the house pensions committee brought back word from the White House today that Mr. Hoover had agreed to approve a modified measure, but it was too late to stop the senate, where an agreement previously had been entered into calling for a vote on the veto at 3 o'clock.

Motion Rejected

Knutson's motion to postpone a vote in the house was rejected 233 to 65.

Senator Connally, democrat, Texas, led the move in the senate against the veto. He was joined in debate by speakers on both sides of the chamber. Senator Bingham, republican, Connecticut, sought to refer the veto message to committee for consideration, but his motion was held out of order.

by Judge Mullican within the next few days, it was stated last night. Headquarters will be established in the candidate's office over the First National bank. The chairman last night explained that the campaign as it will be waged in Texas, will be largely one of letter writing of one friend to another. It is planned to enlist every group of business and professional men in the city, every line of endeavor, and spread the name of Bledsoe to every nook and corner of this state. A campaign manager will be chosen within a short while.

To Make Tour

Senator Bledsoe will leave Wednesday morning for an extensive campaign tour of the south and east portions of Texas. It was announced that this tour will not be one for the purpose of making speeches but rather a visit to friends in many of the major cities. The candidate expects to be away from Lubbock for the greater portion of the time between now and the election.

appointment, they handcuffed him, Harrell said. Bonds totalling $33,000 on 25 felony cases were forfeited April 14 in Dallas when Storey failed to appear for trial. Storey had agreed to withdraw appeal in the five year conviction for the Krum bank robbery case if several other pending cases were dismissed, but this agreement was defaulted.

Five 25 Charges

The cases against him included five burglary charges, five of theft of over $50; one arson charge; four receiving and concealing stolen property; three robbery with firearms; one accessory to murder; three assault on disfigure.

Officers had sought him intermittently since April 14 and it was variously reported that he was in Denton all the time and that he had hidden in the territory surrounding Denton.

Magicians Have Tricky Time in Naming Officers as Rabbits Supplant Ballots

CHICAGO, June 2.—(AP)—The way magicians, in national convention, elect officers is, as might be guessed, tricky.

The session of the Society of American Magicians was held yesterday. Each voter was obliged to roll up his sleeve, remove his hat, and mark his ballot with the same pencil on an especially prepared piece of paper cut into 300 pieces, each numbered. Each voter likewise was compelled to take a strange oath not to tamper with the embossed ballot box.

These Hardeen, retiring president, reached for the first ballot. He drew out a rabbit. In went his hand again, and out came a lighted candle. Then a pair of handcuffs, a book county. He served as mayor of Lubbock before the time he was elected senator from the thirteenth senatorial district and is now serving his first term in the state upper house.

Statewide attention was directed to Senator Parrish last year, when he introduced and succeeded in having a bill passed making drastic changes in the state's fee system. He was looked upon as a friend by such divergent politicians as Love and Barry Miller and Dan Moody and Jim Ferguson, winning their open expressions of commendations upon the floor of the state senate.

Some of his close friends here stated their opinion was that Parrish would not run, because of Governor Moody's avowed intention of entering the race for a third term. Because of this, should Moody decline to run, they believe Pink will consent to make the campaign.

LONDON, June 2.—(AP)—King George will celebrate his 65th birthday anniversary tomorrow, and on the eve of the celebration numbers of subjects have been gladdened by inclusion of their names in the birthday honors list.

The list covers men and women in all professions, but the name that perhaps will capture the public imagination is that of the girl aviator, Miss Amy Johnson, who flew alone in a tiny airplane from England to Australia in 19 days.

RESOLUTION DOWNED

Marriage Between Catholics, Presbyterians Denounced

CINCINNATI, O., June 2.—(AP)—By a small majority vote, the 142nd Presbyterian General Assembly of the United States of America today turned down a committee resolution that would have stricken from the confession the section that denounces marriage between Presbyterians and Catholics.

The vote was taken on one of 10 resolutions offered by the assembly's special commission on marriage, divorce and remarriage, which declared the section referring to Catholics adds no weight to the marriage precautions, but does add a means of offense.

The resolution evoked debate in which sentiment seemed almost equally divided and when the vote finally was called for the opponents had a small majority among the 908 voting commissioners. A count was not taken.
