

On The DIVIDE

Three "back-woods" looking guys seen in Eldorado Wednesday were not gold prospectors, they were Sonora Lions club members. Evidently, barbers have a minority representation in the Sonora civic body, unless they just naturally wanted to take a vacation while business men raised a good crop of beard to create a proper atmosphere for the Frontier Jubilee April 21-22. Buzzy Stokes says it takes genuine civic loyalty to weather the gross ridiculing that accompanies such enterprises as going for weeks without shaving.

Interest is still high in the Eldorado Lions club softball team. R. L. Sample says that double-header ball games are out of the question. "When our elderly players get heated up, they perform fine, but when they cool off, you can't bend them." Sample said.

If you would get some "straight from-the-shoulder" information and ideas upon European wars and threats of wars, and of the U. S. participation in any such conflicts, just get one of the Legionnaires. . . .one of the overseas veterans. . . .to talking, says "Sauce" in the Brady Standard. Most of them have pretty definite ideas on the subject. However, and also, most of them are pretty closed mouthed and some will even tell you flatly they don't want to talk about their experiences. But want to forget it all!

Perhaps we can let Gen Smedley D. Butler, who saw plenty overseas service during the world war, express the sentiments of Legionnaires, "Sauce" advises. Speaking at Albuquerque, the fiery Texan said: "My guess is they won't fight. They'll talk it over after Italy and Germany get the swamps and deserts they are after. I've watched this war racket for 40 years, and if I can utilize my experience to keep our country from biting at it, or being inflamed over useless struggle, I'll have my duty. It's just a game of politics."

Softball Gains In Interest

Interest in the popular sport, Softball, is gaining momentum as additional teams are being talked in the city. At the Wednesday Lions Club luncheon a committee was formed to outline plans for organizing a softball league.

Mack McLaughlin was named chairman of a committee composed of Jerry Pennington, Edwin Sharp and W. C. Doyle, who will work out details for the league.

It is being talked that several teams is planning to organize here in the near future. The Lions club committee have asked that those interested in organizing a softball team get in touch with one of the committee members.

In an interesting double header game Sunday between the Lions Club team and Shell Pipe Line, the Shell boys defeated the Lions in the first game by a score of 15 to 17. In the second game, the score was somewhat uncertain, there being slight differences of opinion, but it was generally conceded that the Lions did not emerge victorious.

Billie and Imogene Miller of Mertzon spent last week end with the W. C. Parks family.

FRONTIER JUBILEE AT SONORA

Several hundred people are expected to attend the Frontier Jubilee, sponsored by the Sonora Parent-Teachers Association, Friday, April 21. Invitations have been mailed to citizens and friends in and out of Sutton county urging them to celebrate this gala affair.

The Frontier Jubilee will be opened with a parade at 5:30 p. m. with Miss Annie Duncan, director, in charge of parade arrangements featuring the characteristic chuck wagon, old-fashioned hack, cowgirls and cowboys Indians, damsels arrayed in frontier styles and other various parade arrangements. Several of the local business establishments are planning to have floats, also. Movies of the parade are to be made by Edwin Sawyer and very likely pictures will be published in some of the state papers.

Immediately afterwards, the chuck wagon supper and hot coffee all evening" will be served tempting to the tunes of "The Old Arkansas Traveler," and other music of the old-time fiddlers, supplemented by tunes furnished by the Juno Playboys, which will take place on the courthouse lawn, a commendable asset to Sonora since its shapely, imposing and attractive trees and hedges. For its impressive rock retaining wall.

An hour's program of good entertainment characteristic of the occasion is promised by the entertainment committee, according to Boyd Cavey, chairman.

The finance committee announces that nominal price ranges will entitle any person to eat the chuck wagon supper, to dance to old-time square dance music and to see and hear the program.—Devil's River News.

THE FIRST CENSUS

Provision for the taking of a census of the United States every 10 years is made in the Constitution, and this was originally intended principally for the purpose of determining how the representation in the House of Representatives should be apportioned.

The first census was taken in 1790, in accordance with a bill introduced in the House by James Madison, who later became President. This simply provided for a count of the population, divided into the following classes:

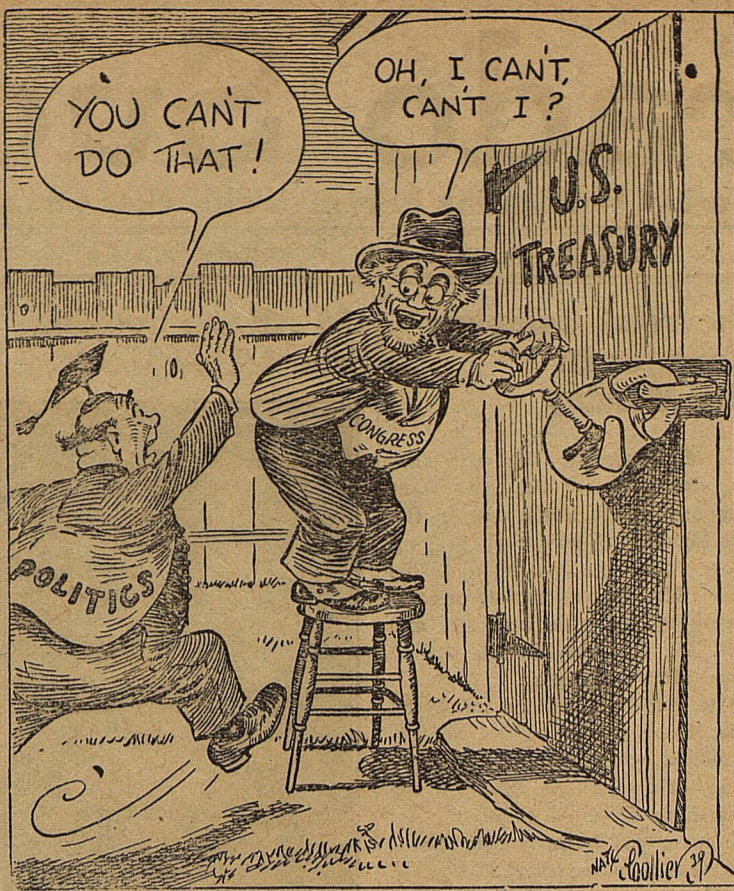

White males over 16, white males under 16, white females, free blacks, and slaves.

Madison at first wanted to list the occupations of the people, but fear of opposition by the citizens, who might suspect that the government was trying to get a line on their incomes so as to levy higher taxes, caused the Senate to strike out that provision.

Six months was allowed for the taking of the first census, the total cost of which was $44,377. In some sections a good many people objected to giving the mere information concerning age, but a fairly good job was done and it was shown that the new nation had a population of 3,929,214.

The taking of the 1940 census will probably require the services of 150,000 persons, and the enumerators will be expected to complete their part of the work in 30 days. The count is expected to

LOCK THE STABLE BEFORE THE HORSE IS STOLEN

Nobody's Business

By Julian C. Capers

AUSTIN.—The time for a definite decision by the regular session of the 46th Legislature on what it will do about social security, and how it will finance whatever action it may take on the question, was almost at hand this week. But three weeks of the regular session remained at the end of another hectic seven days of battling, which saw the Senate reverse its previous decision, and adopt a sales tax constitutional amendment. The House promptly countered with a bill imposing a gross receipts tax upon business. Gov. O'Daniel took the air Sunday morning, backed the Senate bill and condemned the House measure as inadequate, and threw the last of his strength into the battle in favor of a $40,000,000 sales tax on poverty. The Governor offered the same specious arguments which he and the special interest lobby which fathered the sales tax have used all along—contending that to freeze a $40,000,000 sales tax burden on the lower income group into the Constitution would "take pensions out of politics, and prevent "demagogic officials" from using pensions for political purposes. He did not state why a demagogue, running for office next year, couldn't advocate a more liberal constitutional pension and garner the "sucker" votes as easily as O'Daniel himself did last summer by promising $30 a month by statute. He also voiced a veiled threat toward the legislators, when he declared that he had no word of criticism for any member—at this time," but declared he would wait for completion of the record." He also sought to justify his own political record, by reminding the voters he had done his best, and that final decision rests with the Legislature. This situation, apparently, is one of the many things the Governor has learned since he toured the State last summer, promising everybody $30 a month.

TIMELY TOPICS

After using its present state seal for 71 years, Alabama is to have one of new design, bearing a map of the state and showing its principal rivers. The Daughters of the Confederacy sponsored the new seal, asserting that the present one, adopted in 1868, "was described by a carpetbagger."

The picture of a cat that never existed appeared on a Spanish postage stamp issued in 1930 honoring Lindbergh, also bearing a portrait of the flyer, his plane and the Statute of Liberty. It was erroneously rumored that Lindbergh had taken a black kitten as a mascot on his Paris flight.

Government bureaus are cracking down on certain manufacturers of beauty preparations who make extravagant claims in their advertising. One indignant beauty expert told an official, "You just don't want women to be beautiful."

Herman Douyard, fishing-bait salesman of Northhampton, Miss., has invented an automatic worm vendor to serve customers while he sleeps.

Judge R. C. Burwell of London declared in court that if women controlled their tongues half the lawyers would be out of work.

Samuel Miller of Elizabeth, N. J., was upset when he found that his brother had sold his overcoat to an old clothes dealer for a few cents. Samuel had pinned $190 in the lining of the coat.

error offered the same specious arguments which he and the special interest lobby which fathered the sales tax have used all along—contending that to freeze a $40,000,000 sales tax burden on the lower income group into the Constitution would "take pensions out of politics, and prevent "demagogic officials" from using pensions for political purposes. He did not state why a demagogue, running for office next year, couldn't advocate a more liberal constitutional pension and garner the "sucker" votes as easily as O'Daniel himself did last summer by promising $30 a month by statute. He also voiced a veiled threat toward the legislators, when he declared that he had no word of criticism for any member—at this time," but declared he would wait for completion of the record." He also sought to justify his own political record, by reminding the voters he had done his best, and that final decision rests with the Legislature. This situation, apparently, is one of the many things the Governor has learned since he toured the State last summer, promising everybody $30 a month.

Best opinion here was that the Senate will not take the House gross receipts bill, which would tax retailers of tangible personal property 1 per cent, one fourth of one percent on wholesalers gross receipts, and one tenth of one percent on gross receipts of money lenders and transactors of credit business. It excepts firms having a gross annual income of less than $45,000. It also would increase natural resources taxes about 33 percent, and its sponsors, G. C. Morris of Greenville and Ross Hardin, of Limestone, estimated it would raise about $34,000,000 of which a fourth would have to go to the school fund, the remainder to social security purposes. Hearing on the bill was set by the Senate for Tuesday night.

The Senate plan involves a 2 percent sales tax, and increased levies on natural resources approximating those in the House bill. It would be submitted to the voters this year and would expire in 1942, unless readopted by the voters before January 1, 1943. Some observers believed the Senate might amend the House bill by substituting a sales tax provision for the gross receipts section, since the belief here is still prevalent that a sales tax constitutional amendment cannot get through the House. Otherwise, if the Senate rejects the House plan, there remains only the possibility of an omnibus tax bill that will add $10,000,000 or $12,000,000 to the present levies on natural resources, which might get through, or a deadlocked session. Already, there is considerable talk of a special session, in anticipating that no tax legislation at all will get through the regular session.

WEST STOCK RISES

Following a personal appearance by Jim West, Houston oil multi-millionaire, before the Senate subcommittee on governor's nominations, in which West bluntly told the committee that he opposed Franklin D. Roosevelt and he expected to continue to do so, the committee reported favorably on West's nomination as Highway Commission Chairman. Corridor talk at the capitol indicated the opposition which West's activity on behalf of Alf Landon, 1936 Republican presidential nominee aroused last week, had died down considerably, and best informed Senators believed West would be confirmed, possibly before this column is printed.

COUNTY JUDGES SEEK COMPROMISE

Strong opposition to the so-called County Judges' Road Bond Bill which has developed since details of the scheme to put the State's credit behind $200,000,000 of "dead horse" county lateral road bonds have been revealed, had the faction of County Judges supporting the measure, headed by Jake Loy of Grayson county, seeking a compromise here this weekend. The Texas Good Roads Association, opponents of the bill, insisted that any compromise plan for disposing of the surplus accruing in the recent Bond Retirement Fund, financed by one-cent of the gasoline tax, should call for the construction of new roads with the money, instead of using it to pay off the "dead horse" bonds, and they also demanded a better method of distributing the benefits to the counties than that of the Judges, which would reward the extravagant counties, and penalize the thrifty which have issued few bonds. The bond speculators who sponsored the county Judges Bill are opposed to building new roads with the money, as that will not increase the value of depreciated county bonds they are holding for a rise, which will come, of course, if the State assumes payment of the county bonds.

AUSTIN NOTES

Railroad Commissioner Ernest Thompson won another round in his eight-year battle to reduce pas rates in nearly 200 towns served by the Lone Star Gas Co., when the Austin Court of Civil appeals for the second time upheld the ruling of the Rail Commission, cutting the gate rate to these cities from 40 cents to 32 cents a thousand cubic feet. The first decision was reversed by the Supreme Court on technical grounds which some lawyers think are satisfied by the new opinion, written by Associate Justice M. B. Blair, author of the first opinion. An appeal will be taken by the gas company, and the case probably will be in court several years yet. . . . This session of the legislature will cost about $675,000, Senator Morris Roberts estimated, as he offered another "pay check" bill for the legislature, adding $150,000 to the $525,000 already appropriated. Last regular session cost $650,000.

MEN LOVE GIRLS WITH PEP

If you are peppy and full of fun, men will invite you to dances and parties. BUT if you are cross, listless and tired, men won't be interested. Men don't like "quiet" girls. When they go to parties they want girls along who are full of pep. So in case you need a good general system tonic, remember for 3 generations one woman has told another how to go "smiling thru" with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helps build up more physical resistance and thus aids in giving you more pep and lessens distress from female functional disorders. You'll find Pinkham's Compound WELL WORTH TRYING!

METHODIST CHURCH

"He Restored My Soul."—Psalm-23:3.

A horse of a dog or a cat will often find its way home unless it is trapped in some way. But a sheep seems far less able to find its way home alone. The shepherd must listen for the cry and bring the sheep back to the fold. We need God as the sheep needs the shepherd. The sheep has little urge to drive it home. Man has no overwhelming desire to be one with God. Lost humanity must be sought for, pleaded with in patience and Christian, love and brought home, to the fold of God. We have no power to save ourselves, the power to run away and the strength to come back to the Church, comes from God, thus it is His seeking spirit that is after every unsaved soul in all this world.

Value Of Cheese In Daily Diets

Neutrally cheese ranks alongside of meat as a source of efficient protein. But it is for its calcium that nutritionists look with favor on cheese, especially Swiss and Cheddar types. Cheese is also an excellent source of vitamin G, and is rich in vitamin A if it is a kind that contains considerable butterfat.

Because cheese such a slightly concentrated food it should be eaten as a main part of the meal—Not as an incidental tidbit. Contrary to a notion some persons have, cheese is highly digestible. Difficulties that come from eating it are caused by taking it in too concentrated a form or in too large quantities at one time.

Cooking cheese is simply a matter of heating it slowly until the fat in the cheese melts and blends in with other ingredients. Cheese should be cooked at low temperature—over water or in a slow oven because of its protein. Intense heat makes the curd tough and leathery.

Whenever possible in cooking, combine cheese by first blending it into a sauce. In making macaroni and cheese, for instance, the cheese may be melted into white sauce—then poured over the macaroni. Cheese added in layers or put atop the dish will not get so well mixed throughout.

Welsh rabbit, if made by mixing the cheese first into a white sauce mixture before combining with the eggs will present none of the usual curdling problems. If course, the temperature must remain low throughout.

To blend best cheese should be in as small pieces as possible. Hard cheese may be grated—soft cheese shaved or pressed through a wire sieve.

Ernestine Finnigan Goes Political

Another Eldorado girl is making good politically. At John Tarleton College, Stephenville, Texas Ernestine Finnigan was nominated as a candidate for the office of feature editor of the "Grassbur," student yearbook.

The election which takes place in May promises to be a closely contested race. Political parties have already been formed, and electioneering has started. As in the past, there will be speaking, campaign literature, and even serenades by improvised bands. One candidate for a student office is organizing a hill-billy band to promote his candidacy.

ONE THING And THEN ANOTHER By Fred Gipson

SAN, ANGELO.—Once again the European diplomats are making a poker game of destiny. And the dealer is slipping the cards fast from the bottom of the desk, aiming to take the green-horn player, America, for her roll.

What I'm wondering is whether or not America is still the green-horn she was in 1917, when she watched her youth swept from the table by card sharps who'd stacked the deck against her.

Looks to me like it's about time each and every one of us went off by ourselves and sat down on a quiet creek bank somewhere and tried to figure out what's going to happen in Europe. That's like trying to answer the question of how far it's up.

When I get to thinking of war, I can't help but get mighty personal about the matter. Me—I don't want to get into any mess like that. I'm just here and in spite of how lonely and frustrated I get some times, I'd still rather hang on, getting what little bits of enjoyment that come my way in life, than be shot through the middle and left to fertilize some war-torn foreign soil.

Yes, in one way, that's selfish. And I do have the greatest sympathy for the European nations invaded and the people that are oppressed, made homeless and slaughtered. Sometimes, reading about it all, I get so mad that I'm ready for the moment to go over and join the army of the oppressed.

Then, I get to thinking. We ran the Indians from their lands here in America. We needed room. We took it.

The over-populated nations of Europe are needing room. They're taking it.

Wherein is the difference? Maybe I'm wrong, but it looks to me like we've got plenty to do right here at home. We've exploited our resources shamefully, wasted our timber, cleared land for farming, then let it wash and blow away, slaughtered the wild game that once abounded in the wood until there's little left.

We've got cities full of slums where disease and starvation are sapping the life out of human beings almost as fast as Hitler and Mussolini are blasting it out.

I see people like that almost every day. Just walk down the streets of any of our cities, and you can see them, too, pitiful creatures, men and women, their bodies wasted away with disease, skinny, hollow-eyed children, pilfering garbage cans for food.

And they're not all in the cities, either. You can find them in tumbled-down tenant shacks all over the country. The banks of the Rio Grande River are lined with their kind. So are those of the Mississippi.

Those people are human beings just like us. And but for the kindness of the gods, might have been us.

No, they're not being slaughtered by bullets and booms. But they're dying just the same, or living in such miserable squalor that death comes as a relief.

Looks to me like, if we've just got to the point where we must spend a lot of money and effort saving people from suffering and death, we could do mighty well starting right here at home.

The expenditure of human life and money wouldn't be half what a war would cost.

And, along with it, we could do more toward preserving our natural resources, so our progeny can enjoy life at least as well as we have.

Of course, being human and somewhat selfish, I'm not likely to do a whole lot of good for these poor unfortunates here at home. I tend to shun them, just as you do.

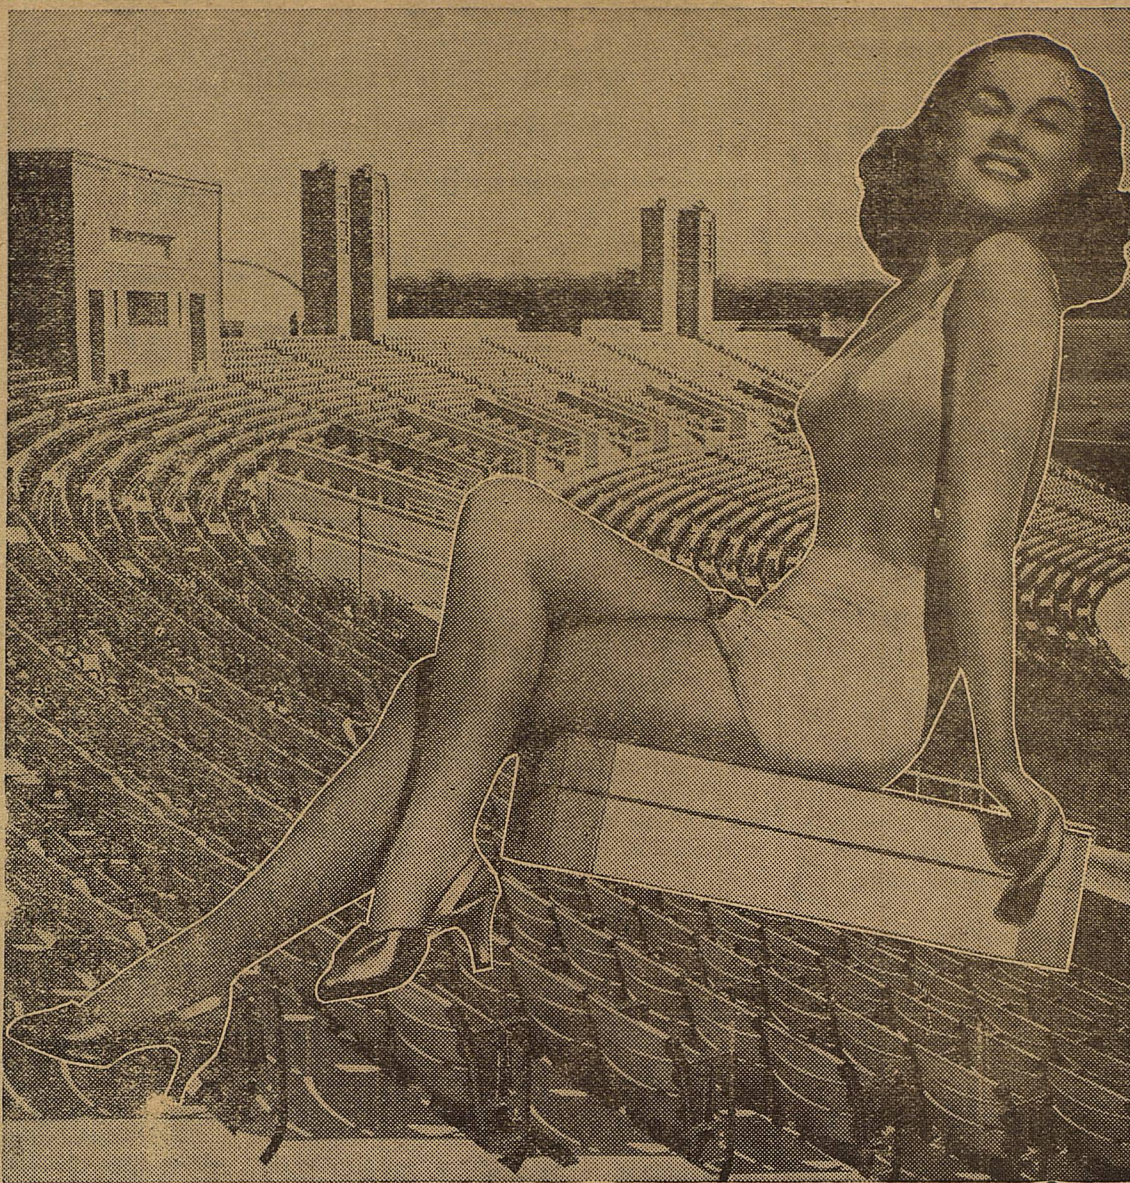

Yet, now and then I try to help a little. And now and then, you try to help a little. And if both of us say alive, we'll eventually do some good.

But I don't figure we can help any by going over to Europe and getting ourselves shot.

Me—I want to stay out of that European poker game. I believe the cards are all marked.

Drive Safely. Save a life.

Farley tried to placate George, assuring him that most New Dealers were against the purge, adding, 'After all, the Chief (Roosevelt) is his own worst enemy.' The senator is said to have shot back: 'Not while I live.'

Thinking was had broken out, or something, citizens of West Kinston, N. C., rushed out to buy a paper early one morning when a boy ran down the street shouting Extra! Extra! They discovered later that "Extra" was the name of his dog.

Prevention Of Insects In Poultry Houses

During the winter months insects are sleeping in tiny cracks and crevices of the poultry houses coops, and trash. All trash should be burned. The premises should be sprayed with a good disinfectant once a month during winter and spring months.

A good disinfectant can be made of equal parts of carbolenium and either crude oil or kresol dip and if applied as directed will kill thousands of insects that have been sleeping during winter months.

For blue bugs, equal parts of Carbolenium and either crude oil or creosote applied on poultry houses every two weeks until bugs disappear entirely.

To rid premises of mites and fleas use a solution of creosote, stock dip or crude carbolic acid, applied with a pump spray every two weeks.

Sodium flouride (applied by either the pinch or dip method) to every feathered fowl on the place will both prevent the coming of lice or destroy them.

80 Percent Rule Is Eliminated From Farm Program

The 80 percent rule has been eliminated from the Schleicher county farm program, according to a notice received last week by County Agent W. G. Godwin.

The following notice was received from the State Office April 15:

"1939 Conservation program amended by omitting the provision for computing payment on 125 percent of planted acreage where less than 80 percent of cotton allotments planted and failure to plant not due to flood or drought. Payment will be computed on basis of allotment irrespective of acreage planted for harvest in 1939, if it is determined that normal farming operations were carried out."

"From this wire we assume that producers will be paid on their cotton acreage allotment regardless of whether any cotton is planted in 1939, provided farming operations are carried out on the farm," Mr. Godwin stated.

Quickest NON-SKID STOPS YOU'VE EVER HAD

IF THERE'S any tire that will stop you quicker on a wet, slippery road than the new Goodrich Silvertown with the Life-Saver Tread, we just haven't seen it. As the never-ending spiral bars of this road-drying tread roll over a dangerous film of water they act like a rapid-fire battery of windshield wipers—sweep the water right and left—force it out through deep drainage grooves. And on all roads, at all times, Silvertowns give you another great life-saving feature—the famous Golden Ply that protects you against dangerous high-speed blow-outs. For safety tomorrow get Silvertowns today!
