Stenholm drops challenge for House speaker's post

Congressman Charles W. Stenholm, recognizing that the votes were just not there and that the game plan for Democrats in the 99th Congress will be changed, decided Monday not to challenge Thomas P. "Tip" O'Neill for Speaker of the House.

Stenholm said, "After much discussion this weekend, I realized the coach of the Democratic team would not be changed at this time. However, the speaker has agreed to support changes in the legislative process. In light of that fact and the Speaker's announced retirement in two years, a challenge would not be helpful. It could be destructive and certainly would not be constructive. And my hope all along has been to make a productive contribution that will allow us a place at the table."

At a Monday press conference, the Stamford Democrat said the Speaker had made some assurances. He said O'Neill had promised to give conservative Democrats a bigger part in the legislative and leadership process. This includes the formation of a yet-unnamed advisory panel.

The Speaker admitted that the views of many congressmen, including members of the Conservative Democratic Forum which Stenholm had founded, had not been listened to adequately in the past. The Speaker also challenged the congressmen to make recommendations and contributions to the party's success, which Stenholm said they would be glad to do.

Stenholm said the decision was not an easy one. He said when the votes were added, the numbers needed to unseat O'Neill, were not there. After a meeting Monday of the Conservatice Democratic Forum, Stenholm said he called the Speaker and informed him of his decision.

"I still believe that the coach should have stepped down," Stenhom said. "When a team loses, the coach has to take some of the blame. They have to take credit for the fumbles as well as the touchdowns. But this was not to be so I look forward to helping with a better game plan in the 99th Congress."$

Stenholm was re-elected as coordinator of the Conservative Democratic Forum Monday. Before the opening of the Democratic Caucus, members of the CDF met for about two hours and during that meeting, chose Stenholm as their leader for another term.

Stenholm said that he "looks forward to a strengthened CDF in the 99th Congress, particularly in the legislative area." During the two-hour meeting, the group compiled a list of names to present to the Democratic Steering and Policy Committee in an effort to get more conservative members on thekey legislative committees of the Congress.

Stenholm said O'Neill assured him that a conservative member will be placed on the advisory panel to the leadership. The advisory panel will be instrumental in the next two years paving the way for O'Neill's successor when he retires.

Heating assistance program announced

Lone Star Gas Co. manager Byron Swank announced the company is again sponsoring Project HAP'N, Heating Assistance Program for the Needy.

"This is the third winter Lone Star has participated in the program by seeding the fund with a donation. We encourage our customers and the general public to once again join us in making a contribution to this worthwhile program," Swank said.

Lone Star started the program in the 1982-83 heating season to help persons living in the company's service area who were having difficulty paying their heating bills. During the two years it has been operating, Project HAP'N has channeled nearly $354,000 to help pay all types of heating bills for the needy.

Locally, West Central Texas Council of Governments will provide assistance in Mitchell County. The coordinating agency is Community Council of Greater Dallas, which will oversee assistance provided, based on a case-by-case determination of need. Project HAP'N assistance funds can be used for any type of heating bill.

Crime Stoppers
Reward offered in robbery

On Thursday, Nov. 22 at approximately 7:55 p.m., two black males robbed the 3-Point Quick Stop store on east hill in Colorado City. Both men wore panty hose over their heads and carried small chrome plated pistols. One man stayed at the counter to hold the other people in the store with his gun and the other went behind the counter and had the female clerk clean out the cash register and bring him the money bag from the office. Both men left on foot in a southeasterly direction when a car pulled up in front of the store. Both men were described as about 5 feet 10 inches to 6 feet, 130 to 150 pounds, and one had a mustache. Both were wearing blue-jean type pants and one had a black jacket.

Crime Stoppers of Mitchell County will pay up to $1,000 reward for information leading to the arrest and indictment of the persons that committed this or any other felony crime.

Call 728-TIPS. You do not have to give your name, and no one will know who called. You will be given a number and told when to call back for instructions on how to collect your reward. Out-of-town callers may call collect: (915) 728-TIPS.

Efforts made to save Texas money

By GARRY MAURO
Texas Land Commissioner

Recently, Texas Treasurer Ann Richards and I went over to the basement of InterFirst Bank in Austin to have a look at the computer system that will save Texans more than $100,000 in expenses and in additional earned interest.

Ann Richards and I are making a cooperative effort as part of the Texas Treasury's Rapid Deposit Program, which was started last year in an effort to place state money in interest bearing accounts as quickly as possible.

By placing payments from Texas Veterans participating in the Texas Veterans Land Program in the interest bearing accounts two days sooner, we are making an additional $22,000 a year in interest, as well as saving $72,000 in Texas General Land Office clerical expenses. This is made possible by the use of automated equipment to handle the payments.

An additional savings has been achieved by not having to purchase the automated equipment, which will be supplied by the depository bank–$77,700 plus an annual maintenance cost of $3,000.

As Texas Land Commissioner, this is part of my common sense approach to running our state government.

Managing the Texas GLO is not a conservative question or a liberal question, but a question of effectiveness with modern business practices, and the application of those practices to the people's business.

In the case of the Texas Veterans Land Board, this meant taking advantage of modern banking techniques like the InterFirst Bank computer. We receive about $60 million annually for Texas Veterans participating in the Veterans Land Program. In the past, those payments often weren't deposited into the treasury for several days.

Now they come to a central post office box which will be emptied daily and the receipts deposited in an interest bearing account the same day of delivery.

The "lockbox system" will cut about two days off the former method of handling Texas Veterans Land Program payments–a rapid deposit system used by many modern businesses–increasing the interest this money makes for you and cutting down on state clerical expenses.

The fiscal reality of today's dollar demands that government use cost-efficient, modern cash management techniques to squeeze the most out of every state tax dollar. Using these sound, aggressive business practices and common sense management, I can promise you that the Texas General Land Office will continue to be a partial solution to our state's fiscal crisis.

Help your heart

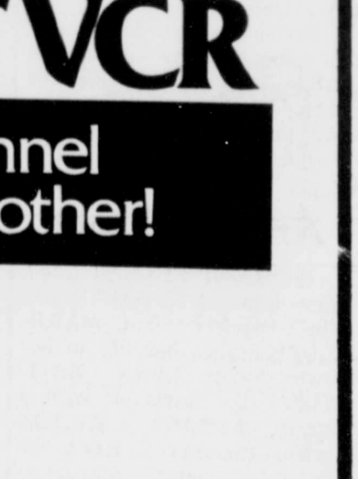

Heart attack warning signals given

During a heart attack, your body usually sends out warning signals that your heart is starving for oxygen. An uncomfortable pressure, fullness, squeezing or pain in the center of your chest for more than two minutes is one signal. Chest pain that spreads to your shoulders, neck or arms is another. Dizziness, fainting, sweating, nausea or shortness of breath may also occur. Sometimes the signals may subside, only to return later.

Help your heart! Learn to recognize these signals and take fast action. Remember that each year 350,000 Americans die from heart attacks before reaching the hospital. So don't ignore the warning signals. Act immediately.

If you are having chest discomfort that lasts for two minutes or more, call the emergency rescue service. If you can get to a hospital faster by car, have someone drive you. Find out which hospitals in your area offer 24-hour emergency cardiac care. Select in advance the facility nearest your home and office and tell your family and friends so they will know what to do. Keep a list of emergency numbers next to your telephone and in a prominent place in your pocket, wallet or purse.

If you are with someone who is experiencing the warning signals, and if they last for two minutes or longer, insist on taking prompt action. Expect the person to deny the possibility of anything as serious as a heart attack. Call the emergency rescue service, or get to the nearest hospital emergency room with 24-hour cardiac care. Give mouth-to-mouth breathing and chest compression (CPR) if it is necessary and if you are properly trained.

TEXAS GARDENER TIPS

Birds and Gardening: The Two Go Together

If you're a bird lover as well as a gardener, you'll like the Purple Martin. This friendly songbird and gardening go together naturally.

The martins are entertaining to watch and they also make your yard and garden more pleasant by ridding the area of many unwanted insects. In fact, bird authorities estimate that one adult martin can consume up to 2,000 mosquitoes in a single day.

A member of the swallow family, the Purple Martin measures 7 to 8 inches in length. The male is glossy black or violet with purple iridescence. In contrast, the female is light breasted.

These friendly birds, migrate northward from South America in late winter or early spring to nest and rear their young. They will make homes in most parts of Texas, except in the far west.

Watching martins is an extraordinary sight. They are masters of the sky and spend most of their lives in the air. They even take their food and water on the wing.

If you want to attract purple martins to you garden or yard, you must be able to meet several requirements:

• Location: A back yard on a large lot in the country or in a small town with a pond or stream nearby is an ideal location for martin houses. But they also may be attracted to large backyards in the city so long as there is a fairly large open area for their house.

• Spacing: The martin house needs to be placed in an open area at least 20 feet or more from the nearest building or large tree limb.

• Houses: A properly designed colony-type house should have at least eight compartments and be mounted on a cat-and-squirrel-proof pole 14 feet off the ground. Around January 1 is a good time to put up a martin house.

You can either build a martin house or purchase one. For information on where to order ready-made houses or instructions for making your own, write: Purple Martins, TEXAS GARDENER, P.O. BOX 9005, Waco, TX 76714.

County Baptist Women meet

The Mitchell County Baptist Women met Thursday, Nov. 29 at Oak Street Baptist Church.

Marilyn Davis, wife of the Oak Street Baptist pastor, reviewed the book, "The Partnership Principle," which was the foreign mission study book for Baptist Women for 1984. She told of the system of sending and supporting missions in three countries--Brazil, Mexico and the Neterhland Antilles which includes six islands in the Caribbean. This system works by the union of Christians in churches from the United States and these foreign countries. This was accomplished in 1979-1981. The new work began in the Netherland Antilles in 1983. It was also began in Mexico in 1983 and will be continued until 1985.

Over 30 women from the First Baptist Churches in Colorado City, Loraine, Westbrook, Plainview Baptist and Oak Street Baptist attended the meeting.

Honey-spiced bread, a recipe from Brazil, was served to those present.

Veterans benefits improve

A 3.2 percent increase in Veterans Administration compensation checks to service disabled veterans and dependents beginning in January is one of numerous improvements in veterans benefits announced today by VA Administrator Harry N. Walters.

The increase in disability compensation and other benefits is the result of the Veterans Benefits Improvements Act of 1984 signed into law by President Reagan.

The rate boost means an increase from $1,255 to $1,295 per month for a veteran with a disability rated at 100 percent. Veterans with a 50 percent disability will receive $376 a month, up from $364, and those with 10 percent ratings will get $66 a month, up from $64.

The legislation also increases to $349 the annual allowance made to certain veterans whose artificial limbs or wheelchairs cause wear on their clothing.

In addition, the bill provides the same percentage increase in dependency and indemnity compensation (DIC) rates for surviving spouses and children of veterans who died in service or of service-connected causes.

Walters pointed out that a significant feature of the bill is the establishment of a trial program to run from February 1, 1985, through January 31, 1989. During this four-year period, the VA will test whether vocational rehabilitation training and other techniques can be useful in expanding the employment prospects of certain disabled veterans considered to be unemployable.

Other provisions of the bill include:

--a 10 percent increase in Vietnam Era GI Bill benefits, survivors' educational assistance benefits, and vocational rehabilitation subsistence allowances, effective October 1, 1984;

--a two-year extension of the Veterans Readjustment Appointment Program which provides federal employment advantages to certain Vietnam Era and disabled veterans;

--an extension of the participation deadlines and funding authority under the Emergency Veterans' Job Training Act;

--an increase in the maximum specially-adapted housing assistance grant from $32,500 to $35,500; and

--an increase in the maximum amount of the automobile assistance grant from $4,400 to $5,000.

Full details of all changes in the compensation rates and information on eligibility requirements are available by contacting the nearest VA regional office.

Letter to the Editor

To the editor:

I am a very concerned citizen of Colorado City about the welfare of the youth. They have no where to go. In order for our teenagers to have a place to go, I have opened my home and property which is not owned by the city or state and is outside the city limits. I have done this to keep them off the streets and highways.

In order to give our youth a place to go, I have opened up my home and property to them. I also think that other people so concerned should join in my cause.

Kayla & Dale Adams

Truesdell, Adams united in Seminole

Kayla Truesdell became the bride of Dale Adams Nov. 10 at 7:30 p.m. in the Seminole Community Chapel with Will Weathersby officiating the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Max Truesdell and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Coy Adams of Colorado City.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal white gown of silk organza over taffeta. The round neck was adorned with Venise lace with satin ribbon. The bishop sleeves were finished with a wide cuff, lace and ribbon. The empire waistline was also finished in lace and ribbon. The gown featured a full skirt that fell into a wide ruffle that also featured lace and ribbon.

She wore a fingertip veil with scalloped edges and blusher. It was made of satin ribbons tied in a bow and trailed to the shoulders.

Her bouquet was made of Rubrum lilies with a burgandy throat, imported from South America. For something old the bride wore her grandmother's diamond and pearl lavaliere. New was a small lace Bible, diamond and pearl lavaliere. New was a small lace Bible, carried under her bouquet. Borrowed was her sister-in-law's pearl earrings. Blue was a satin case with pennies bearing the couple's birth dates.

Suzanne Hogg of Lamesa served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Nancy Stewart of Aspermont, Kelley Garrett of Plainview and Becky Smith of Abilene.

They wore burgandy taffeta gowns that featured full, gathered skirts and double ruffles at the neckline. A sash at the waistline, tied into a large bow in the back. Each wore a comb in their hair, adorned with dusty rose lilies accented with navy blue and burgandy flowers. They carried identical bouquets containing one large dusty rose tiger lilly, surrounded by navy blue and burgandy hepaticas and violets. Babies breath accented with long dusty rose ribbons, tied in love knots finished the bouquets.

The groom's niece, Jill Willingham of Colorado City, was the flower girl. She wore a matching burgandy taffeta dress trimmed with ecru lace. She carried a lace basket containing rose petals that were given to the bride by the groom during their courtship.

Jerry Don Lewis of Colorado City served as best man. Groomsmen were Kris Kimmel of Snyder, Stephen Kimmel of Lubbock and Kerry Culbertson of Andrews.

They wore navy blue tuxedos with boutonniers of burgandy lilies and a sprig of white baby's breath.

Todd Howell, nephew of the bride, was the ringbearer. He carried a lace pillow with long white satin ribbons holding the couple's rings.

Ushers were Randy Truesdell, brother of the bride, of Odessa, and Gary Adams, brother of the groom, of Oklahoma City. Registering guests were Deena Arnold of Lubbock and Lisa Jo McCasland, also of Lubbock.

The couple stood before a large stained glass window. The altar table was decorated with a large family Bible, belonging to the bride's parents. Behind the Bible stood the unity candle. The table was decorated with lemon leaves and baby's breath. Behind the table was a double arch of candles also decorated with lemon leaves. Boston fern was used to accent the altar table. Pews were marked with large burgandy bows tied with baby's breath.

Selections from the "Velveteen Rabbit" were quoted by the minister to open the ceremony. Nancy Stewart sang "Evergreen," as the candles were lit. Other selections were, "Just You and I," "Up Where We Belong," sang by Nancy Stewart and Doug Harriman. "Nobody Loves Me Like You Do," was sung by the pair as the unity candle was lit. The bride's brother, Randy Truesdell, read 1 Corinthians 13 before the unity candle was lit.

Brenda Barrett sang, "Wedding Prayer," and "Annie's Song."

A reception followed the ceremony. The bride's table was covered with Chantilly lace containing a double ruffle which draped to the floor. Centered on the table was a gazebo adorned with dusty rose, silk flowers and satin ribbons. Inside the gazebo was a miniature bride and groom. On either side of the gazebo were antique crystal candelabras holding dusty rose candles.

A three-tiered wedding cake sat at the end of the table. The cake top was adorned by two white doves, accented by flowers and lace carrying out the bride's chosen colors. The sentimental top was also used by the bride's aunt and uncle on their 50th wedding anniversary.

The groom's table was covered with a navy blue cloth and was accented by all brass serving pieces. The cake was a traditional chocolate cake covered with pecans and ornamental fruit. One end of the table held a large brass tray of meats, cheeses and olive hors d'oeuvres. On the other end of the table was a large brass coffee service. In the center of the table were two burgandy hearts containing personal mementos of the bride and groom.

Serving at the bride's table were Angela Wheeler of Snyder and Connie Howell, sister of the bride, of Big Spring. At the groom's table were Kay Willingham, sister of the groom, of Colorado City, and Carrie Richardson of Snyder.

The house party consisted of Marla Rogers, Mary Katherine Ives, Rachel Weathersby, Amy Franklin and Keva Jackson.

For a wedding trip to Iztapa, Mexico, the bride wore a jade green linen suit with matching green accessories. A lily corsage was lifted from the bridal bouquet.

The couple plans to reside in Lubbock.

A bridal luncheon was held recently, hosted by Connie Dagley, Glenda Lowrie and Marla Rogers. The rehearsal brunch was held at the Party Place, hosted by the groom's parents.

Your Stars Above

ARIES (3-21/4-19) That class reunion you are dreading could open up an exciting new romance. So cast aside your fears and make plans to attend. Don't be afraid of the changes wrought by the years.

TAURUS (4-20/5-20) Your eagerness for marriage could lead you into a big mistake. Give yourself time to get to know the person before leaping into matrimony. There are worse fates than being single.

GEMINI (5-21/6-20) Unlike your Taurus neighbor, you are waiting too long. Either say yes, or let the poor fish off the hook. Three years is a long engagement and indicates some serious reluctance on your part.

CANCER (6-21/7-22) Your life is in a rut, so give it a jolt by trying a new and exotic place for your vacation. Travel alone and you'll be in a position to meet others of like mind.

LEO (7-23/8-22) Be firm with someone who is going to try and borrow money — again! Although the sums are small, they are adding up, and you should not let your amiable nature make a patsy of you.

VIRGO (8-23/9-22) Your desire for a big new house could lead you into financial trouble. Take a good look at your present home, and consider a thorough remodeling job. This is no time for big debt.

LIBRA (9-23/10-22) Politics is a fascinating topic, but you should state your feelings without leaving the impression that those who don't share them are mentally defective. Tact is the by-word!

SCORPIO (10-23/11-21) It is never too late to expand one's education, and you can only reap rewards by returning to school now, even if it is only part-time.

SAGITTARIUS (11-22/12-21) The excitement of a big city suits you in every way, so think hard before making a commitment to one who prefers more bucolic surroundings.

CAPRICORN (12-22/1-19) Do not try to force a family member into your religion. This is an extremely personal matter, and everyone should be left free to make their own decision in accordance with their beliefs.

AQUARIUS (1-20/2-18) Constant change is your nature's need, so take it into consideration before settling into a corner. Few of us can do a job well, no matter what the pay, if we don't enjoy it.

PISCES (2-19/3-20) If a neighbor's constant demands are beginning to be an imposition, take a deep breath and say no. Offer an apology if you must, but don't be talked out of your resolution.

A jump on Santa: A Los Angeles man spent a sooty half-hour in a chimney he had tried to slide down while firefighters tugged to get him out. "Santa Claus can do it, but he's the only one," said Noel Murchet of the Los Angeles Fire Department. According to authorities, the man's girlfriend had locked him out of the house. I wonder if Santa will try that chimney.

Witchcraft: Two officials of the Mwangeka soccer team were arrested for using bird feathers and other "witchcraft paraphernalia" to put a curse on an opposing goalkeeper during a recent game in Kenya. The Kenyan News Agency said that early in the game two unidentified officials threw ash, mixed with soil and mysterious-looking bird feathers, near the goal of the opposing team. Mwangeka won, 4-3, on penalty kicks, but the game was nullified. Oh, curses, foiled again!

Sticky business: Kendall Smith, 38, a carpenter from Valparaiso, Ind., was charged by police with using a caulking gun and a tube of Liquid Nails to seal 102 parking meters at Lake County courthouse in Crown Point, Ind. Smith sealed the meters after he was fined for failure to pay a parking ticket, said police. The estimated damage was $8,000. Maybe he came unglued.

Soup's on: George Cabaso, 27, enjoyed a hearty meal at a restaurant in Baguio City, Philippines, and then went into the kitchen and dropped a snake into a bowl of soup, hoping to get his dinner free by lodging a complaint, police said. The cook caught him in the act. While police were taking his statement, they said Cabaso swallowed the nine-inch snake. Then, they said, he asked, "Where is your evidence?" Cabaso was set free. But what a price to pay.

Check fire safety equipment to be sure it is efficient

Thousands of people die each year in home fires. Some of those people thought they were protected by fire safety equipment. But what they had been sold was junk.

As in many other product areas, we find consumers subjected to high pressure sales tactics, leading to the sale of worthless or less than efficient fire protection equipment–much of it at inflated prices.

One typical sales tactic is to send the consumer a card in the mail offering a free fire safety inspection. Once the salesperson gets in the door, he may take a look around and declare the home to be a matchbox, ready to go up in flames at any time.

If the homeowner already has smoke detectors, the salesman may say that these alone will not do the job. He may also say there should be a "coordinated system" covering the entire house, which, coincidentally, his company offers.

He may tell the consumer that smoke is not the biggest killer in fires, when, in fact, it is.

He may also try to sell the consumer heat detectors on the false premise that smoke detectors are inadequate. But the National Fire Protection Association (NFPA) says if you can only afford smoke detectors, they ar eprobably adequate. If you want maximum protection, and can afford it, then heat detectors in the kitchen, garage and attic, along with smoke detectors at each level of the house, are a good idea.

Check to see if your smoke detector is UL (Underwriters Laboratory) listed. If it is, it should do the job. There's no need to spend a great deal of money.

If you are solicited by a company wanting to install fire alarms, check with your local Better Business Bureau or fire department to see what kind of reputation the company has. And, remember, if you are solicited in your home and sign a contract there, you have three business days in which to cancel your contract. If you decide to do so, it must be done in writing.

If you need more help or information on consumer problems, contact your nearest Attorney General Consumer Protection Office (in Austin, Dallas, El Paso, Houston, Lubbock, McAllen, and San Antonio). The Attorney General's Office is the people's law firm. We're here to help you.

Guelker enjoys cooking stews; chilies in winter

Sue Guelker

Sue Guelker learned to cook from her mother and grandmother.

"I learned the basics from my mother and I guess I learned to experiment from my grandmother."

Mrs. Guelker likes to experiment with recipes. "When I try out a new recipe, I go strictly by it and then if we like it, I'll experiment and change some things up in it."

She likes to cook from scratch and her favorite things to make are sweet breads. "I like to cook, but not clean up."

In the winter, Mrs. Guelker likes to fix chilies, stews and Mexican food.

Since her husband farms, she tries to have a big lunch and eat leftovers for supper.

"Carl will eat anything, but he does like to have meat with a meal so I don't fix too many casseroles."

A lot of times Mrs. Guelker helps her husband feed the cows and strip cotton. When she does help him, she comes home and they have a light supper.

"When Carl works all day and I don't help him, I try to have a good supper for him when he gets home."

Mrs. Guelker is married to Carl and they farm and ranch north of town.

Today, Mrs. Guelker is sharing three of her recipes with RECORD readers.

While supplies last!

Thanks to you, We're happily extending our Big Cottonseed Discount!

Due to the late harvest and demand, we have extended our popular "Big Cottonseed Discount" program until December 31st. While the supply lasts, you can buy the number one certified cottonseed for as little as $15.25 a bag (F.O.B. Lubbock).

Read what your neighbors say about GSA Certified Cottonseed.

"GSA 75 was about the only cotton in the area with premium micronaire."

"I had some GSA 75 that was pre-watered and some dryland. GSA 75 stayed in burr well and had good storm proofness."

Staple was 32-33, micronaire 3.4, strength 26+.

"GSA 75 is very consistant in yield and micronaire."

"I've grown GSA 75 for four years. It's the only one we have this year with a premium micronaire."

Yield was one bale to the acre, staple 32-33, micronaire 3.6, strength 27.

GSA 71 is number one again! It's now being called the banker's cotton, as well as the grower's choice, because its big yields and quality fiber are paying the bills.

CHS basketball off to late start

By TONY FRANCO

One thing about reaching the third round of the state football playoffs--and one most people can probably live with--is that the Colorado High School boys basketball team is forced into a late start.

Some might see it as a problem but head basketball coach Mike Hart sees an opportunistic side to the late undertaking.

"It'll hurt us initially in the first half (of the season) but it helps further down if you're fortunate to make the playoffs," said Hart. Not many people see it in that light. Stands to reason that experience in pressure situations can only help in any other activity.

At a recent practice, the Wolves even looked the part of roundballers with new shorts, new shoes, new practice shirts and yes--new nets.

The old ones were cut down following last season's district title clinching victory over the Ballinger Bearcats.

Last year's title was the first in five years. What are the chances for a repeat performance?

"If we work as hard as we did last year we'll be in a dog fight with them," said coach Hart.

"It's twice as hard to repeat because everybody wants a piece of you. People are gonna' be up to play Colorado City every time."

That's the flipside of doing successful things like hording trophies--people remember you.

The Wolves do return a strong nucleus from last year's team.

"We lost some good folks," said Hart. "We've got three starters back and two lettermen, with quite a bit of playing time. What we're lacking in height we'll make up with quickness and smarts. I'm pleased with what they've retained from last year."

Returning from last year's championship team are starters Don Randle, Doug Chitsey and Armando Rivera along with lettermen Ruben Rivera and Perry Conner.

Randle, a 6'4" senior, last year led the Wolves in scoring (13.9 per game), rebounding (10.7), field goal shooting percentage (48.5) and was second in defensive marks (6.5).

Chitsey, a 6'2" senior, was last year's second leading scorer (9.9), second leading rebounder (seven), second in assists and has the best three throw percentage (58) among all returnees.

"It's too early to tell (who's on the varsity)," said coach Hart. "Right now they are divided into seniors and juniors. I've got to look at them a couple of three days then make a decision. We'll carry ten on the varsity and ten on the junior varsity."

Other seniors out for basketball are Heath Blassingame and Ronnie Hernandez.

Besides letterman R. Rivera, other juniors are Wayland Ballard, Mike Ligon, Moises Molina and Albert Rivera.

Sophomores are Joe Cantu, Marty Cleckler, Wylie Dakan, Scott Dennis, Bruce Gonzalez, Terry Jackson, Larry Mayes, Larry Raschke, Donny Salazar and Michael Swann.

Freshmen for the 1984-85 season will be Guy Compton, Duane Jones, Ismael Silva, Eduardo Melendez, Ken Norman, Cory Flanagan, Greg Rodriquez, Derrick Ramsey, Steve Smith, Jeff Neff, David Garcia, Brandon Fuller, James Woods, Saul Pineda and Richard Reyna.

The varsity Wolves were to have participated in a Wylie tournament this past weekend and kickoff the regular season Tuesday at Breckenridge.

Chuck Claxton

Alvarez listed in Who's Who

SNYDER--Margaret Alvarez of Loraine is one of 26 sophomore students at Western Texas College named to Who's Who Among Students in American Junior Colleges for 1984-85.

Who's Who nominees at WTC are selected by a committee made up of faculty members and students. More than 1,500 institutions will be represented in the Who's Who directory this year. Outstanding students have been honored in the annual directory since it was first published in 1934.

Miss Alvarez was salutatorian of her graduating class at Loraine High School and at WTC is a member of Phi Theta Kappa, a national honor fraternity for students in junior-community colleges. She is majoring in physical education and plans to transfer to Angelo State University following graduation from WTC.

Miss Alvarez is a member of the Loraine Sports Boosters and serves as reporter for the club. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anastacio Alvarez.

Claxton returns as C-City coach

By TONY FRANCO

It's safe to wager that at least more than one school athlete has dreamed of returning to his hometown as a coach.

It's the kind of community pride and thinking that makes any town a better place to live in.

"Well, let me think of what to say," said Colorado Middle School coach and 1980 Colorado High School graduate Chuck Claxton.

"I always wanted to come back here. I guess that's been my dream."

Chuck, uh coach Claxton, played football for CHS, was All-District in basketball and a regional qualifier for the 1979 and '80 tennis teams.

Upon graduation from CHS, Claxton furthered his education at Western Texas College in Snyder and at Angelo State University where he worked on his degree.

Coach Claxton has been student teaching at CMS since the beginning of the current school year but just recently was hired on a full-time basis.

Does working with former coaches of your own present any problems or make you nervous?

"No. I really enjoy working with this coaching staff. I guess the main reason is I was already acquainted with them."

"I enjoy working with the kids," said Claxton. "If they like you, you can get them to do about anything for you."

"The kids have responded well and have been making it a rewarding season."

Coach Claxton serves as the head 7th grade boys basketball coach in addition to his duties as scout and assistant football and track coach.

Any memorable experiences in the short time you've been coaching?

"Sure. The seventh grade football team went 6-1 and the eighth grade went 4-2-1 with a difficult schedule. The basketball team is 4-0."

"It makes you feel something special to be a part of a program when the team makes it to the playoffs," said Claxton of CHS's recent football success.

Look's like Chuck, 22 and born on February 5, 1962, also learned some public relations enroute to his coaching and teaching certificates.

CMS 7th boys, girls win championships

Colorado Middle School seventh grade boys and girls basketball teams won championships at a Coahoma tournament last Saturday and in the process both squads extended their unbeaten records to 4-0.

Both teams defeated Forsan, then beat host Coahoma in the finals.

The girls team defeated Forsan 32-5 and were led in that game by Priscilla Mayes, 13 points.

The Wolves shut out Forsan in the first quarter for a 5-0 lead then extended their lead to 12-2 at halftime. After three periods, the Wolves led 20-5 and then held Forsan scoreless in the fourth period.

Also scoring against Forsan were Cami Redwine with six points, Kalyn Gill five, Amy Chitsey four, Tammy Bradley three and Melissa Rivera two.

In the girls 31-10 championship victory over the Bulldogs it was Gill as high point with 13.

After one period, the two teams were tied at 5-5. The Wolves went ahead 13-9 at halftime then held the Bull puppies scoreless in the third period for a 20-9 lead.

Also scoring in the championship game were Bradley with six points and Redwine, Mayes and Cody Calaway with four.

The boys team reached the finals with a 34-19 victory over Forsan and Dane Hoover was high point with 22.

The Wolves led 22-10 at halftime and also scoring were Tracy Ausbie with 10 and Stan Bradbury with two.

In the Pack's 27-24 championship win over the Coahoma Bulldogs again it was Hoover as high point with 13.

The Wolves trailed 16-10 at halftime.

Coahoma increased it to 18-10 before Colorado City then outscored the Bulldogs 17-8 in the second half.

Also scoring were Ken Land with six, Mark Alvidrez four and Ausbie and Hadley Weaver both scored two.

Purchasing stamps, etc. aids conservation fund

By GOVERNOR MARK WHITE

AUSTIN – Texans have an exciting opportunity to participate in the first program of its kind in the country to raise money to protect nongame wildlife and endangered species without raising taxes.

By purchasing collector nongame stamps, decals, and limited edition prints and silver medallion series beginning this week, Texans can contribute to the new Texas Nongame and Endangered Species Conservation Fund administered by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

The 68th Legislature voted last year to create this fund to support nongame wildlife research, mananagement and public education and to acquire habitat for endangered species.

Since its creation in the 1970s, the nongame section of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department has stretched available dollars as far as possible to continue its program to protect endangered wildlife. Its funding problems are compounded by a limitation on using revenue from license sales or excise taxes on hunting and fishing gear for projects to protect endangered species.

Under bid accepted by the state, Collectors Covey, Inc. of Dallas is producing stamps and decals based on an oil painting by nationally known wildlife artist Ken Carlson. It is appropriate that these stamps and decals, costing $5 each, bear the image of the whooping crane--a symbol of successful efforts to prevent the extinction of one of our state's most beautiful birds. Collectors Covey will also produce limited edition prints of Carlson's painting along with special issues of silver medallions.

Nongame stamps and decals are available now by mail order from the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, 4200 Smith School Road, Austin, 78744, or from any of the department's district offices and 59 state parks located throughout Texas. Any outlet selling hunting and fishing licenses can also offer the nongame stamps and decals.

Collectors Covey will pay the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department $40.50 for each print sold and $20 for each medallion series sold. The bid contract specifies that Collectors Covey will pay a guaranteed minimum royalty of $250,000 which will go to the Texas Nongame and Endangered Species Conservation Fund. Individuals and corporations can also make private donations to the fund.

This unique new program is fostered by the kind of cooperation and creative thinking that Texas needs to tackle difficult environmental issues. It has the support of the National Audubon Society, Sierra Club, Sportsmen's Clubs of Texas, Nature Conservancy, and the Texas chapter of the Wildlife Society.

I have every hope that the new Texas nongame stamp will experience the same success as the state's "duck stamp" which has raised more than $2.8 million to protect waterfowl.

To publicize this ongoing effort, I have signed an official proclamation designating 1985 as Texas Nongame Wildlife Awareness Year.

Summer internship applications available

WASHINGTON, D.C.–Congressman Charles W. Stenholm announced that applications for summer internships in his office next June and July are now available from his Abilene District office.

Four interns will be chosen in March 1985, and will have the opportunity to participate in the workings of the Congressman's Washington office. Interns are exposed to legislative activities such as committee hearings and floor debate, help with constituent inquiries, and assist in the day-to-day operations of the office.

College students in or from the 17th Congressional District, teachers at any level, or residents of the District with a demonstrated interest in government are eligible for the program. Selection is made by a district wide committee headed by Stenholm's predecessor, former U.S. Representative Omar Burleson of Abilene.

All applications must be postmarked by midnight, January 15, 1985. Forms and additional details may be obtained from Congressman Stenholm's Abilene office: P.O. Box 1101, Abilene, 79604, phone 915-673-7221.

Roenfeldt hosts Night Group

The Baptist Women Night Group of the First Baptist Church in Colorado City met Monday, Dec. 3 at the home of Billie Roenfeldt.

The meeting opened with a poem read by Anna Staats. Everyone was reminded to bring gifts to the church office for the elderly shut-ins by Dec. 15. The offering for the Helping Hand was taken.

The foreign mission program for the evening was directed by Marguarite Turner with almost all participating. It was entitled "Because I Love Him" and included missionary testimonies from around the world. These testimonies were interspersed with prayer requests, theme interpretations and calls for commitments.

The Southern Baptist offering goal this year is $66 million and the First Baptist local church goal is $10,000.

Those attending the salad supper were Anna Staats, Virginia Dearen, Billie Roenfeldt, Catharine Morris, Jessie Mae Merket, Earline Sellier, Marguarite Turner, Billy Harrison, Delaine Myers, Charlene Hubbard, Joy Piland, Louree Upton, Frances Cooper, Betsy Aycock and Margaret Bodine.

Texas oil production set at 100 percent

AUSTIN–The Railroad Commission continued the Texas oil production rate for December at 100 percent of market demand.

Chairman Mack Wallace and Commissioners Buddy Temple and Jim Nugent directed the continuance of the top production allowable after reviewing oil companies' nominations to buy a total of 2,318,673 barrels of Texas oil per day. The December nomination total, a decrease of 14,226 barrels daily when compared to November purchaser nominations, indicates market demand. December 1983 nominations totaled 2,379,358 barrels daily.

Although next month's state total for the permissible rate of production is calculated to average 2,872,289 barrels per day, actual production is estimated to reach 2.3 million barrels per day. Actual production in December 1983 was 2,180,150 barrels of oil per day.

The Commission first went to the ceiling level for oil production in April 1972, and December marks the 94th month in a row for the maximum allowable. It applies to all fields in the state except those that are assigned lower legal rates of production so that reservoir pressures will not be depleted before the maximum amount of oil has been recovered.

Wallace also reported that December nominations for the purchase of Texas gas totaled 21,928,015 Mcf-d (thousand cubic feet of gas per day). November gas nominations totaled 21,869,385 Mcf-d. December 1983 nominations amounted to 22,072,280 Mcf-d.

The next statewide oil and gas production allowable hearing will begin at 9 a.m. on Tuesday, Dec. 18, in Rm. 309 of the Railroad Commission's headquarters building at 1124 S. IH 35 in Austin.

Chairman Wallace reported that crude oil and petroleum products imported into the U.S. averaged 5,715,000 barrels per day for the four weeks ending Oct. 26, an increase of 460,000 barrels per day from the same period last year.
