ANOTHER STRIDE IN DOMINATION MADE BY NIPPONESE

(Copyright, 1935, By Associated Press)

TOKYO, June 11.—Diplomatic and other non-Japanese quarters pictured the Japanese army today as having completed another enormous stride—the adding of Hopei province, China, to the vast realm it dominates.

They see in North China a subjugation comparable to those which in 1931 lopped Manchuria from China and in 1933 made added Jehol to Nippon's sphere of influence.

Had Lukewarm Backing

These sources view it as the action of the army, with lukewarm backing from the Tokyo government.

MINISTER RESIGNS

LONDON, June 11 (AP)—Dispatches from Peiping to the Exchange Telegraph (British) News agency said today General Ho Ying-Ching had resigned as Chinese minister of war because of shame over the way China has been "humiliated" by Japan.

The official Japanese version credits the army merely with the "purging of anti-Japanese elements" in North China.

Tokyo's official spokesmen insist the military authorities have carried out only local measures necessary to compel China to fulfill her obligations under the Tangku truce and the Boxer protocol. These measures, the government sources say, will insure peaceful relations among Japan, China and Manchoukuo in accordance with Japan's mission "to maintain peace and order in East Asia in cooperation with her Asiatic neighbors."

Destiny Is Speculation

Hopei's precise destiny remains a matter of widespread speculation. The Tokyo foreign office, while attempting to present as reassuring a picture as possible for world inspection, concedes that China's submission to the Japanese military demands has created an administrative and military vacuum in the province.

The situation results from the removal of the troops and organs of the Chinese nationalist government and elimination of other vestiges of the influence of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek and the Nanking authorities.

LORENZO MAN IS SERIOUSLY HURT

Dragged about 2 miles by a mule he had roped, T. E. Harner, 51, of Lorenzo narrowly escaped death this morning. He suffered a broken left upper arm and body bruises and abrasions.

After he had a lariat on the mule, Harner accidentally caught a foot in the rope and the mule bolted, dragged him, part of the way in a road. His leg was not injured seriously, attendants indicated. He was brought to Lubbock sanitarium and remained there this afternoon.

"Ole Miss" Is Still Soaring For Record

MERIDIAN, Miss., June 11. (AP)—While rumors flew last night that the Key brothers, Fred and Al, of Meridian, had "made a forced landing"-in their endurance flight, their plane "Ole Miss" continued to soar.

At 7:30 a. m. today the fliers passed their 163rd consecutive hour in the air since their takeoff 12:32 p. m. June 4 at that time the endurance plane had traveled 13,440 miles.

AMENDMENT IS OFFERED BY SEN. GORE

CONFIRMATION SOUGHT FOR ALL EMPLOYES MAKING $4,000

BY NATHAN ROBERTSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, June 11—Senate action extending NRA was temporarily blocked today when Senator Gore (D-Okla) sought to amend the resolution continuing the recovery law to require confirmation of all government officials receiving more than $4,000 a year.

Discussion of Gore's amendment used up the half hour allotted by the senate to discussion of the NRA resolution and the chamber, under a previous agreement, turned to debate on the public utilities holding company bill.

Would Call Bill Later

Chairman Harrison, of the senate finance committee, served notice, however, that he would call up the NRA resolution again later in the day, after the vote on the utility bill. That was due at 4 p. m. eastern standard time.

Harrison used up the first part of the half hour with a description of the NRA resolution as amended by his committee.

It drew support from Senator Tydings (D-Md), who said postmasters working under strict regulations had to be confirmed by the senate, but officials spending $4,000,000,000 of work relief funds did not.

WHEAT YIELD GUESS UP

CROP FOR 1935 PLACED AT 670,000,000 BU. BY GOVERNMENT

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 11.—Timely spring rains of May boosted the government's estimate of the 1935 wheat crop to 670,000,000 bushels.

The agriculture department's forecast based on June 1 conditions put winter wheat prospects at 441,494,000 bushels, reflecting a 9,957,000 bushels increase during May.

Spring Yield Up

In addition, the department said "spring wheat calculations indicate about an equal chance that production will be above 230,000,000 bushels as that it will be below that figure."

Present conditions, the crop report summarized, "would seem to suggest a total wheat crop this year of about 670,000,000 bushels, compared with 496,000,000 bushels last season, 529,000,000 bushels in 1933 and an average of 828,000,00 during the preceding 10 years.

Much Wheat Killed

Much of the winter wheat in the southwest was said to have been killed before the May rains, but prospects in other sections of the belt improved materially after the drouth was broken. The condition of the crops on the acreage remaining for harvest was reported to be 74.2 per cent or "about up to the usual average for this season of the year." The condition last June was 55.3 per cent, lowest ever reported.

The department said that where a year ago small grains and hay crops had been badly damaged by the drouth, this year spring rains supplied adequate moisture for the main producing states. It said the hay crop may reach 75,000,000 tons as compared with 57,000,000 last year.

New Evidence To Clear Hauptmann Reported Found

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., June 11. (AP)—New evidence which the defense hopes will clear Bruno Hauptmann of the Lindbergh murder is expected before the case reaches the New Jersey Supreme court, Vincent A. Marco, Hollywood attorney, said here today.

Marco said he was retained as counsel by the condemned man's wife while on an aerial trip to New Jersey with Mrs. Emma Gloeckner of Beverly Hills, Hauptmann's sister.

"The new evidence has been unfolded after two months investigation," said Marco, "before June 20 when the New Jersey Supreme court begins a review of the case. I plan to have it in such complete form that it can be submitted as additional evidence.

In Hauptmann's defense, it was intimated that the kidnaping of the young son of Charles A. Lindbergh was an "inside job."

GROUP FAVORS NEW TAXES

ROOSEVELT'S NEW TAX PROPOSAL MIGHT GET APPROVAL

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 11—A poll of the house ways and means committee showed today that if President Roosevelt should suggest heavy inheritance and increased gift taxes as a means of redistributing wealth his proposal would fall into sympathetic hands.

The check disclosed that of the 25 committeemen, 15 would go along on an inheritance-gift tax program, most of them without qualification. Two others said they would not, while nine were doubtful.

"Very Bad Politics"

A Democrat, who is one of the two opposing such an idea, said privately that the president had been told any change in basic tax structures a year before the next presidential election would be "very bad politics."

No one on Caapitol Hill had any positive idea as to what inheritance and gift tax rates might be in mind. The survey of the house committee was made on the basis of an assertion by Secretary Morgenthau before the senate finance committee. Saying that if the bonus were paid, new taxes would be needed, he asserted that the application of present income tax rates to inheritances

RECOVERY OF MONEY IS REVEALED

TOTAL OF $90,700 IS FOUND IN CANYON NEAR SALT LAKE

BY JOHN L. WHEELER
(Copyright, 1935, By Associated Press)

SALT LAKE CITY, June 11—A cache of $90,700 of the $200,000 ransom paid for the release of 9-year-old George Weyerhaeuser of Tacoma was found today in historic Immigration pass, near here, while hundreds of officers scoured the west to make the final roundup of suspects in the kidnaping of the lumber heir.

The money—wrapped in black oil cloth and a gunny sack—had been buried in a canyon about five miles south of here.

MAHAN BELIEVED "SPOTTED"

BUTTE, Mont., June 11 (AP)—Heavily armed department of justice agents surveying about Butte today indicated the federal men had definite knowledge that William Mahan, possibly with $84,000 of the Weyerhaeuser ransom with him, was "holed in" at a secret retreat here.

$110,000 Accounted For

It brought the total of the "snatch" money accounted for by government men to more than $110,000.

Department of justice agents here would not comment on details of the uncovering of the cache.

J. Edgar Hoover, director of the justice department bureau of investigation, announced in Washington it had been located as the result of constant questioning of Harmon M. Waley, 24-year-old ex-convict, and his 19-year-old wife, Margaret, held here as confessed members of the kidnap gang.

Hunt Pressed For Mahan

Throughout the west a hunt was pressed for William Mahan, scar-faced ex-convict, who abandoned a car containing $15,155 of the ransom money in escaping police at Butte, Mont., last Sunday.

It was spurred by Hoover's expressed belief that Mahan had the balance of the ransom money with him or buried. Hoover said Mahan may have "short-changed" Waley, who, he said, apparently received only $95,000 of the $200,000.

Waley had said by G-men to have spent only about $300 and to have burned $4,000 when things "became too hot."

"Declaration Of Grievances" Is Issued By "Grass Root" G.O.P.

THE 18 POINTS

(By The Associated Press)

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 11—The 18 points in "declaration of grievances" adopted by the Republican "Grass Roots" convention last night in skeleton form:

1. Violation of pledge to reduce cost of government.
2. Increase of 120,000 in federal payroll, rather than reduction.
3. Failure to stop borrowing; failure to balance budget.
4. Failure to keep government out of business.
5. Failure to maintain sound currency.
6. Congress reduced to a group of time servers.
7. Disregard of state's rights.
8. Subjection of people to arbitrary dictates.
9. Congress forced to appropriate four billion dollars to be used by the president for "secret purposes."
10. Secret control of two billion dollars given to secretary of treasury.
11. Destruction of food; importation supplies.
12. Millions spent on acreage reduction; more millions on reclamation.
13. Surrender of home markets to foreign nations.
14. Destruction of free competition; creation of monopolies.
15. Attempted control of commercial banking.
16. Attempt to control a larger mass of wealth than ever before concentrated in one man.
17. Use of power to put political pressure on hungry and needy.
18. Desire for centralized power and distaste for constitution.

PLEAS DENIED BY BOARD

STUART AND WILLIS' PETITIONS LOSE OUT TODAY

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, June 11—The governor's office announced today the board of pardons and paroles had recommended adversely on clemency pleas of Eligha Stuart and John B. Willis, sentenced to electrocution early tomorrow.

Killed His Daughter

Stuart, an unemployed widower, was convicted in Harris county of the murder of his daughter, Dortha, last July 23 to obtain a small amount of insurance money. Willis was convicted of criminal assault on a young married woman last August in a Tyler park.

SENTENCES TO STAND

HOUSTON, June 11 (AP)—The death sentences of Eligha Stuart and John Willis, both waiting death in the electric chair at Huntsville tonight, will stand, Governor James A. Allred said here today.

Both cases were affirmed by the court of criminal appeals.

Judge Stanhope Henry, chairman of the pardon board, said in the report on Stuart, which was approved by the other two members, that "no more inhuman murder case has been presented to this board for its consideration" since he became a member.

Cotton Campaign Is Being Explained

Community cotton committeemen from the 29 communities in Lubbock county, were meeting this afternoon in the courthouse to hear an explanation of the program for signing up of Bankhead bill applications for 1935.

Jason O. Gordon, assistant county agent, was to explain the purposes of the campaign and the methods of signing up new contracts.

18-SHAFTED ATTACK IS HURLED AT FDR BY MID-WEST PARLEY

(By The Associated Press)

SPRINGFIELD, June 11—"Grass root" Republicans today followed through an 18-shafted attack on President Roosevelt with a "declaration of constructive principles."

Members of the resolutions committee, went into session after adjournment late last night to draft the "declaration" which Edward A. Hayes, of Illinois, former national commander of the American Legion, said would contain principles "constructive in character."

Would "Point The Way"

They would "point the way in which we can be helpful in ending the depression and in the preservation of American institutions," he declared.

The attack on President Roosevelt termed a "declaration of grievances," was brought in by Hayes, resolutions chairman, and was ratified with cheers by the 8,000 accredited delegates in the big Springfield fair grounds coliseum.

Provokes Applause

Provoking shouts and applause, Hayes declared "we hold the president personally responsible for the record of his administration.

"He has furnished a pattern of planned economy which, if carried out, spells the death of American institutions."

The president was further denounced as having shown a desire for centralized power, and a "distaste for the constitution," in commenting upon the Supreme court's blow to NRA.

Seek Demo Support

Robert G. Simmons of Nebraska, former congressman, today joined other convention orators in making a bid for support from the Democratic ranks.

"We should welcome to our labors, on a parity with us, those who will subscribe to our purposes, without regard to previous party affiliations," Simmons told the morning session at the coliseum.

Patrick J. Hurley, former secretary of war, appealed for a "liberal and constructive" course for the party today. Simmons said, "we must offer a progressive leadership."

No Basic Difference

"There is no basic difference between the parties in social ideals," he declared, "but we believe that the problems of a sick nation can be solved by strengthening local units of government."

Earlier in the session, the delegates heard former Governor Frank O. Lowden of Illinois sound the battle cry, "save the constitution."

The keynoter, Harrison E. Spangler of Iowa, said, "we call upon all Americans to join us in an effort to defend and re-establish American social, economic and political institutions."

Aim At Roosevelt

Orators who harangued the "Grass Roots" convention, took the same aim as that adopted by the resolutions committee and ratified by the delegates—at Roosevelt, rather than at his advisers.

The attack on President Roosevelt included shots by John D. M. Hamilton of Kansas, named permanent chairman.

"We find despotism set up on a fixed course to destroy this government," he charged. "We need no longer resort to pussy-footing terms when we speak of those who have deliberately, planned a permanent state bureaucracy."

MEETING SET ON PLACES

HISTORICAL PART OF CENTENNIAL WILL BE DISCUSSED

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, June 11—L. W. Kemp, of Houston, chairman of the advisory board of Texas historians for the Centennial, announced today an initial meeting would be held here June 18.

Applications of historic places for allotments from approximately $500,000 available for that purpose would be considered then, he said. Similar meetings would be held later.

To Recommend Expenditures

Kemp announced the board would recommend expenditures for permanent markers, monuments or buildings, but would not approve allotments for pageants.

He said that while the board looked "with favor on pageants and similar celebrations, it thinks that such celebrations should be paid for by the citizens of the communities in which they are held."

To Erect Monuments

Kemp said the board would recommend erection of a monument costing $100 at each unmarked grave of Texas patriots.

He asked the public to supply information concerning unmarked graves of soldiers who served in the army of the Republic of Texas or before April 21, 1836; in the Santa Fe expedition of 1841; Woll campaign and Mier expedition of 1842; officials of the republic; signers of the Texas Declaration of Independence, or other prominent pioneers

JURY RETURNS ITS VERDICT QUICKLY

SHERIFF TO MAKE AN APPEAL OF JURORS' DECISION IN CASE

Sheriff Len Irvin of Lamb county and 18 other persons were convicted of conspiracy to violate liquor taxing acts by a United States district court jury which reported at 3:38 o'clock this afternoon.

The tall sheriff's 280-pound son, Driscol. George Carpenter, and Jim Etter were found guilty of 7 counts. Star Haile was convicted of conspiracy. The sheriff was convicted of six counts.

The other defendants had pleaded guilty.

Face Prison Terms

All except Haile face possible penitentiary terms ranging upward to about 14 years and heavy fines.

"I have nothing to say," Sheriff Irvin said.

His attorneys said the case would be appealed.

The counts charged, respectively, possession of an unregistered still, distilling without bond, distilling with the intent to defraud the United States government, illegally fermenting mash, removal of distilled spirits from an unregistered still, and aiding and removing such distilled spirits.

The government won on every count submitted to the jury. Olan Riding was foreman.

Although E. E. (Jack) Page, Mrs. Star Haile, and Mrs. N. T. Dalton were acquitted on the court's instruction, the three were re-arrested as they left the courtroom early this afternoon. They had been charged with being liquor dealers without paying a tax. Mrs. Haile this afternoon had waived hearing and had posted $1,000 bond set by United States Commissioner Olive Fluke.

Charge of Judge Wilson required 1 hour and 55 minutes. It was given after District Attorney Clyde O. Eastus, in closing the arguments, referred to Sheriff Irvin as "the master mind, the big shot, if you please."

Opened A Week Ago

The case was opened a week ago Monday, with 27 of 29 defendants present. Fourteen pleaded guilty, the case against Constable Sam Hutson of Littlefield was dismissed immediately by the government.

Later the government moved for dismissal of cases against J. J. Little and Roy Campbell. Judge Wilson instructed acquittal of former Deputy Sheriff J. L. Walraven of Lamb county and Buddy Johnson.

Judge Wilson instructed the jury to find guilty the 14 persons who admitted participation in a "pro-

ABORTION CHARGE FILED HERE TODAY

A complaint charging Dr. O. C. Boone, a Lubbock chiropractor; Raymond Short of Brownfield, and a third man with performance of an instrumental abortion was filed at noon today in Peace Justice J. T. Trigg's court by District Attorney Daniel A. Blair.

Warrants for arrest of the three on the charge were issued to be served this afternoon.

Short, arrested Monday at Tahoka and brought here by Sheriff B. L. Parker, was in Lubbock county jail. Short was questioned last night and Boone this morning by District Attorney Blair and Sheriff Tom Abel. Boone was not detained, the complaint having not been filed then.

The third man named in the complaint was accused of a liaison with a 17-year-old Tahoka girl who under went the operation, Blair said. She supposedly was at her home today.

Short and a woman, also of Brownfield, brought the girl here Sunday, Blair said. The operation was alleged to have been made between 10 a. m. and 2 p. m. Sunday.

Federated Clubs Favor Federal Legislation Of Birth Control Question

RESOLUTION IS PASSED BY VOTE OF 493 TO 17 AT DETROIT

(By The Associated Press)

DETROIT, June 11.—The general Federation of Women's Clubs gave endorsement today to federal legislation for dissemination of scientifically regulated birth control information. The vote was 493 for the resolution and 17 against.

The convention also adopted resolutions condemning lynching, communism and fascism and others urging aid in cancer control and in securing federal aid for child welfare. The convention passed the anti-lynching resolution with only four negative votes.

Endorsing Amendment

Mrs. S. Blair Luckie, of Chester, Pa., chairman of the legislative committee and sponsor of the birth control resolution, said that "this action imposes no responsibility upon an individual. It is neither political nor religious. We stand for law enforcement. We are hereby simply endorsing an amendment to the penal code of our government."

There was little opposition from the floor to the resolution, described as the most controversial ever injected into a federation convention.

Dr. Josephine L. Peirce, of Lima, O., second vice president, raised the subject of families on relief rolls during the discussion.

"The government says what relief families may have in providing for their families. Why should not we and these families have something to say about the size of these families?"

The subject has been under study a year by the federation's member clubs.

RANCHERS OF FIVE STATES PLAN WAR ON "RUBBER TIRE RUSTLER" OF TODAY

(By The Associated Press)

CHEYENNE, Wyo., June 11.—War on the "rubber tire rustler"—the modern cattle and horse thief—has been declared by ranchers of five western states.

Alarmed at the mounting losses incurred through the operations of the rustlers, brand inspectors from Wyoming, Montana, Colorado, Nebraska and South Dakota will meet Sunday at Cody, Wyo., to map their campaign.

"The ranchers, in recent years have been at the mercy of the modern rubber-tire rustler, who makes a quick raid on herds, particularly horses, and speeds away with a few animals in a truck," said Russell Thorp, secretary of the Wyoming Stockgrowers' association.

"The modern rustler takes only a few animals, compared to the number that the old-time cattle thief drove away. The stolen animals, recently, have been disposed of principally at auction sales rings or direct to butchers, and ranchers, frequently, never know what hap-

WASHINGTON SURRENDERS TO SHRINE MEMBERS AS THEY STAGE BIG PARADE

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 11.—The nation's capital, which dearly loves a parade, surrendered today to the fun-loving gentlemen of the Mystic Shrine.

Leaving gravity at home with their business clothes, the nobles of the "playground for Masons," clad in bright-hued pantaloons and cocky red fezzes, completely took over historic Pennsylvania avenue.

Today's parade starting at 10 a. m. (E. S. T.) was for the ostensible purpose of escorting Shrinedom's imperial potentate, Dana S. Williams, through the lavish "Pavilion of Omar" erected in front of the White House.

It will be duplicated as the shrine's "official parade" tomorrow night, while Thursday night's program calls for a huge illuminated pageant as a climax to the 61st annual conclave.

Initiation And Installation Service Precede Kappa Gamma Sorority Dinner

Novel Theme Used For Monday Affair

Following a closed initiation and installation service, members of the Alpha Beta chapter of Kappa Gamma sorority and several guests attended a banquet in Room 212 of Hotel Lubbock Monday evening. Thirty-five women were present.

Seven were formally initiated into the society early in the evening. They were Misses Edith Henderson, Estelle Griffin, Evelyn Jones, Mildred Boone, Carrie Little, Beth Wulfman and Wayne Atcheson. Officers installed were: President, Miss Dorothy Levey; vice-president, Miss Helen Hart; treasurer, Mrs. Eunice Smartt; recording secretary, Mrs. Winnie Wheat; corresponding secretary, Miss Jewell Cruse.

Misses Willette Waters and Verna Upton were hostesses for the banquet, which was on the theme of a luau or Hawaiian love feast. Leaves, fruits and flowers were arranged along the table and as a centerpiece to lend atmosphere of the island. Place cards were paper palm trees with initials carved on their trunks, and a map of Hawaii was a frontispiece to programs at the plates.

As guests entered the room they were given leis to wear. A group of Floydada musicians presented a program of Hawaiian music after dinner. The personnel was Mrs. T. W. Whigham, Mrs. Pearl Fagan, Misses Clara Belle Yearwood, Ruth Wright and Muriel Fagan.

During the evening Miss Kathleen Conrad, past recording secretary, reviewed the year's program and Miss Juanita Price, retiring president, talked and introduced Miss Levey, who also spoke.

New Committees

Miss Levey appointed committees for next year as follows: Social—Miss Martha Alice Penney, chairman, Misses Bonnarea Stephens, Gladys McSpadden, Jones and Waters; membership—Miss Ruth Plemons, chairman, Misses Louise Chance and Henderson; publicity—Miss Atcheson; yearbook—Mrs. Lillian McPherson, chairman, Misses Boone and Conrad.

This meeting was the last formal gathering for the season, but there will be two other socials with Mrs. Thord Dockray and Miss Cruse and Mrs. Ruby Skipper and Miss Stephens as hostesses.

Other members attending were Misses Sylvia Ainsworth, Margaret Cathey, Maurine Jons, Ruth Ford. Special guests were Misses Pauline Conner, Mary Beth Sheely, Margaret Turner, Ruby Lee Brooks and Mrs. Lucile B. Smith.

Catholic Society To Disband For Time

St. Anne's Catholic Altar society closed the year at a meeting with Mrs. L. M. Drown at Hilton hotel Monday afternoon. Officers will be elected at the next meeting, which will be in September.

SMALL BOYS ARE TREATED HERE

Three small boys had medical attention here late Monday as a result of accidents.

Four-year-old Thomas Wayne, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Shirley, 1505 Twenty-second street, cut his left middle finger severely playing with a lawnmower. He was treated at Lubbock sanitarium about 7:30 p. m.

Evidently recovered from effects of gasoline he drank when seemingly mistaking it for water, 2-year-old Kenneth Wayne Hope was discharged from Lubbock sanitarium this morning. The child had been drinking water from a small fruit jar Monday afternoon. Nearby his father, E. H. Hope, Camp Joy, was painting an automobile. The father filled the jar with gasoline, intending to use it to wash paint from his hands. Little Kenneth found it and drank some. He was taken to the sanitarium about 9 p. m.

His right toe nearly severed when a "go-devil," a listed cultivator, ran over it, Garland Taylor, jr., about 5, was treated at West Texas hospital. Several stitches were taken in the wound. His parents live about 1 1-2 miles from Brownfield.

Women In Methodist Work Discussed

CANYON, June 11 (Special)—Sixteen women attended a meeting of local missionary society at the church Monday afternoon. Mrs. B. H. Sides conducted a devotional and World Outlook program on "The Work of Women in Methodism."

Four bouquets and 25 visits to the sick were reported.

Japan Is Studied By Christian WMS

A year's program was concluded at a meeting of First Christian Women's Missionary society at the church Monday morning. Participation in a July council of all organizations of the church was planned. Mrs. G. P. Kuykendall presided. A program on "Japan" was led by Mrs. Grady West. It included:

Prayer, Mrs. Kuykendall; devotional, Mrs. G. W. Sears; group song, "Take My Life and Let It Be"; "Tennojis Church Family," Mrs. H. W. Moore; "From College Campus to Life As Is", Mrs. J. W. Kolb; "A Little Child Shall Lead Them," Mrs. Joe Nislar; "What Would A Japanese Think of Our Community?" Mrs. Clyde Elkins; "That's Why I Love Japan," Mrs. J. E. Hartley. Mrs. Mary F. Hinton reported on a recent convention at San Angelo.

Circle 4 was host for a social hour. About 30 attended.

Broadway Church Is Having School

A large enrollment featured sessions of a daily vacation Bible school that opened Monday morning at Broadway Church of Christ. Classes for boys and girls between 4 and 15 will be conducted each day from 9 until 11 o'clock.

Opening the session was a chapel period followed by study periods for graded classes and songs, stories, memory work, handicraft and projects.

Each of four departments, with supervisors and teachers, outlined a study course, "The Life of Christ." Recess periods were arranged for all departments. Misses Geraldine Fox, Mary Kelly and Mary Lou Hamilton will direct play. Projects will be exhibited at the close of the school and a public program will be presented.

F. C. Cook, Texas Technological college foreign language instructor, is visiting his mother in Austin. He will be a director at a Georgia boys camp part of the summer.

Machine-Gun Kelly Gave Federal Men Name Of "G-Men"

WASHINGTON, June 11. (AP)—The term "G-men" popularly linked with the college-trained criminal hunter of the federal bureau of investigation was first attached to them by a kidnaper, George "Machine-Gun" Kelly.

J. Edgar Hoover confirmed this today as he paused for a moment in announcing new details in the Weyerhaeuser kidnaping case.

"Our men surprised Kelly and his wife, Catherine, in an apartment at Memphis, Tenn.," Hoover said. "Kelly had made numerous threats and boasts and after his capture he kept talking about G-men.

"One of our agents asked him what he meant and he replied: 'Why, G-men are government men.'"

Lad Looks Forward To Swallowing Again

LAYMAN, Wash., June 11. (AP) — Unable to swallow for more than 550 days, 14-year-old Charles Bassett, looked forward today to a new series of treatments which doctors hope will conquer his malady.

CLAIMED BY DEATH

DALLAS, June 11. (AP) — R. E. (Tommy) Tomlinson, 49, president of the Texas Automotive Federation, died at his home here Monday. The funeral will be tomorrow afternoon.

BRIGHT SPOTS

But Still Careful

BUTLER, Pa. — Frank Rusniak knows a persistent burglar who insists on leaving no clues behind him.

The robber awakened Rusniak, who was knocked unconscious by a pistol butt in the struggle which followed. Reviving, Rusniak went to a neighbor's house for help.

Returning, he found the intruder had come back, smashed a window and retrieved his coat.

Frank and the neighbor went to tell police. They reached home to find the burglar had made a third trip, to pick up a pencil and some loose change he had dropped.

Undecided

DALLAS — First telephone call: "Send a policeman out. I think my dog is mad."

Police: "O. K."

Second telephone call: "Never mind about the policeman. The dog has died."

Police: "O. K."

Third telephone call: "Send the policeman on out. That dog is not dead."

Officer who made the call reported that the dog was dead.

Discovery

BILLINGS, Mont. — A. L. Huss drilled for water and got a mysterious gas which, he claimed, will extinguish any fire placed near it.

V. H. Steele, fire chief, and Clarence Peterson, high school chemistery instructor said they thought at first the gas was carbon dioxide, but found it was not.

Huss intends to have his well tested to determine if it might produce something more valuable than water.

Bamboozle Bugs

BALTIMORE — State Forester F. W. Besley's telephone rang and an urgent voice said a horde of caterpillars had just descended on some young ash trees at the College Park nursery. Would he rush through a requisition for enough arsenate of lead to kill them and save the trees?

Besley swiftly prepared the requisition. Then the telephone rang again.

"Never mind the arsenate of lead," Beshley was told. "Flock of blackbirds just descended on those trees and there isn't one caterpillar left."

Taking No Chances

NEWARK, N. J. — When Detective James Wright of Rome, N. Y., came here to take back a prisoner, he carried a suitcase so heavy a bellboy in a hotel couldn't lift it alone.

"What's in it?" Newark police asked.

"You'll see," said Wright. "I'm taking no chances on letting this bird get away."

When Detective Wright started back, he placed his prisoner in the back seat of his car and handcuffed him securely to the suit case. Before he left, he opened the suitcase long enough to let the curious peep inside. It contained—

COLLEGE MEN TO MAKE GAS TESTS

AUSTIN, June 11. (AP)—The railroad commission has announced the appointment of eleven petroleum and two chemical engineers, all graduates of the University of Texas and the Texas A. and M. college, to assist in making open-flow tests of Texas gas wells.

The appointments were as follows: Thomas F. O'Rourke, Houston; Harry W. Elliott, jr., Fort Worth; Aubrey C. Godbold, Dallas; Jack Woodward, Brownwood; Heath Renfro, Childress; M. L. Ferguson, Charlotte; Gilmer Huston, Trinity; Mack Upchurch, San Antonio; F. V. L. Patten, San Antonio; H. T. White, San Antonio; A. B. Stevens, College Station; S. T. Martin, Gilmer, and J. P. McGowan, Cleburne.

Ernest O. Thompson, chairman, said the men were employed with the aim of getting the most scientific information possible on which to base an order for the ratable taking of gas. Approximately 1,500 wells must be tested by July 10.

Commissioner C. V. Terrell, said the commission realized the importance of the new regulation of gas production and felt it was obtaining "the best qualified men possible to assist in perfecting orders on ratable taking of gas that will be a credit to Texas."

JIMMIE, JR., PILOTS ENGINE

AUSTIN, June 11. (AP)—Jimmie Allred, jr., 5, son of the governor, realized the ambition of most small boys, Monday. He rode in the cab of a passenger locomotive.

As a part of "railroad week," Jimmie, guarded by a Texas Ranger, boarded the locomotive of a crack train near the city limits, blew the whistle to his heart's content, and "assisted" in piloting the train to the station.

Good Field Looms For Women's Play

REGISTRATION OF 50 WOMEN IS GOAL SET FOR OFFICIALS

With two days to go, including today, before the gong rings for first rounds of match play, the qualifying field in the first annual Women's West Texas Golf association tournament bids fair to show a registration of around fifty feminine players, the goal set by association officials.

Fifteen Lubbock women and two from Slaton had qualified this morning, and approximately that many more, from out of town, were expected to unlimber their drivers and niblicks in qualifying trials today. The field, it has been definitely ascertained, will contain some of West Texas greatest women shotmakers.

Delegates from Abilene, Amarillo, Fort Worth, Big Spring and Sweetwater arrived yesterday and played practice rounds.

A front nine 41 shot by Mrs. J. W. Ross of Amarillo was the best practice work turned in yesterday, and the score established Mrs. Ross as a contender for the first championship.

Mrs. Rhea Vernon, Lubbock's No. 1 woman golfer until she moved to Abilene, arrived yesterday and sampled the fairways and greens. A strong contender in several outstanding Texas tournaments, Mrs. Vernon is one of the ranking favorites to take the throne next Sunday as the association's initial queen. She probably will qualify today.

A large delegation from Amarillo began arriving yesterday, including Mrs. Ross, and others are expected today. Mrs. Walter Sykes, wife of a prominent Amarillo professional, and Mrs. Jessie A. Rogers were Amarilloans arriving yesterday. Mrs. Frank Wolflin and eight more Amarillo golfers are entered and probably will arrive today.

Arrival by plane this morning of Mrs. Frank Goldthwaite, the former Aniela Gorczyca, Mrs. R. E. Winger and Mrs. Bertha Bowen, all of Fort Worth, added color and sharp anticipation to pre-tournament plans. Mrs. Goldthwaite, former Texas and Southern champion and three times winner of the Fort Worth title, ranks as one of the prime favorites.

Mrs. Winger Is Champion

Mrs. Winger is current city champion of Fort Worth, and a star golfer. Mrs. Bowen ranks as one of that city's outstanding players.

Other arrivals yesterday were Mrs. Gordon Phillips of Big Spring, Mrs. John E. Phillips of Fort Worth, Mrs. Nick Carter and Mrs. C. W. Taylor of Slaton. The Slaton ladies turned in qualifying scores yesterday.

A large number from Big Spring is expected to arrive today, along with others from Abilene, Sweetwater, San Angelo, Brownwood and Mineral Wells.

Through yesterday's qualifying, Mrs. Cliff Dean of Lubbock, secretary of the association, remained low with an 87 for the 18 holes. The concensus is, however, that a much lower score will take medalist prize.

Qualifying is to end after Wednesday, with first round matches scheduled Thursday, the second round Friday, semi-finals Saturday and finals Sunday. Except for the finals, all matches will be for 18 holes. The championship is booked for the 36-hole route.

The annual business meeting is scheduled for Thursday evening at 8 o'clock at Hotel Hilton.

A prize is offered to the four-player team scoring the lowest composite medal score, and another to the winner of a driving contest to be staged Saturday afternoon at 6 o'clock.

The social calendar includes a buffet supper and Calcutta party Wednesday night at the club house, dance at Hilton Hotel Friday night, barbecue supper and informal party at the club house Saturday afternoon following the driving contest.

SPORTOGRAMS by COLLIER PARRIS

(C. A. G. Hitting For Parris)

Yesterday the Pinch Hitter announced that Mr. John Collier Parris, regular conductor, motorman and engineer of this column, would be back in the harness today after a siesta in Hollywood.

The warning, however, caused such a great howl on the part of the fans that the Pinch Hitter is back again, hey, hey. (As a matter of truth, Parris didn't get back in time to get his column in early and not a single fan seemed to give a darn about who writes it!)

The coming golf appearance of Mrs. Aniela Gorczyca Goldthwaite is attracting a lot of interest among the gents of the links, even though Mrs. Goldthwaite is to perform in a ladies tournament.

The crack Ft. Worth shotmaker, returning to the golf wars after spending some months on more important domestic matters, is certain to attract a big gallery when she tees off in the first annual West Texas Women's Golf association tourney at Lubbock Country club this week.

Ft. Worth sports scribes report that the only bad thing about Mrs. Goldthwaite's golf play is her name, which is a nightmare for writers, linotype operators and proofreaders, alike.

Goldthwaite isn't so bad, but the first two handles are plenty tricky!

The former state and southern women's champ comes well recommended, not only as a player, but also as a good sport and a credit to the game.

Better get in the gallery and watch her play.

The New York Giants, with five full-length hurlers, a great shortstop and first baseman, look practically as good as "in" in this year's gonfalon chase in the older major circuit.

But if and when the lads split the series melon they'll have to thank heaven for an aging but none-the-less potent reserve player—Mr. Marcus Aurelius Koenig.

Already this year the former Yankee star has stepped into the breach for Trav Jackson at third, Dick Bartell at short and Hughie Critz at second and has done the job in high class manner.

Manager Terry must want to kiss him every time he sees him!

Speaking of the National league, did you know that Van Mungo is credited with having the fastest ball in either of the big circuits?

Not long ago the fireball deliveries of all the fast ball pitchers were clocked with some sort of an electrical "eye" apparatus and Brooklyn's Mr. Mungo's was the swiftest.

At 24, and settled down, he bids fair to become one of baseball's truly greats before he hangs up his spikes.

Most of the fans we have heard talk on the subject seem to think "Alabama" Pitts got a raw deal when he was barred from playing in the minors because of his penitentiary record.

We can hardly understand the ruling, either, since baseball is entertainment and other forms of professional entertainment have not in the past barred from their ranks those who have run afoul of the law.

It is hardly plausible that Pitts' connection with baseball would cause many of his teammates or opponents to take up hijacking as a form of off-season employment and his penitentiary record is good, indicating that he has seen the error of his ways.

If all forms of employment are to be closed to those who are freed after prison terms, heaven help the ex-convict who decides to try to beat an honest "comeback."

Coach Russell T. Smith, of Texas Tech, is a careful man and rarely is caught talking when he should be listening.

That being the case, we may accept without a grain of salt his prediction that this year's coaching school will "go over all right."

Dutchy is not given to Pollyannaism or superlatives.

And in all honesty, we must report that he isn't claiming that any attendance records will be broken this year, although he doesn't say they won't.

What he does say is that "we're getting letters from prospects every day and advance indications are good."

That is comparable to less careful guys promising the moon.

Maverick county, Texas, spinach goes a long way. A Syracuse, N. Y., woman returned to Pedro Martinez, a spinach harvester, the empty wallet he dropped when packing a spinach basket.

CANZONERI IS STILL KING OF CLASS

LITTLE POLE BATTLES FURIOUSLY BUT IS RULED LOSER

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 11—Tony Canzoneri was still lightweight champion in fact as well as in name today, but he had behind him an interesting twelve-round tussle with Frankie Klick that stamped the little San Francisco Pole as a likely challenger for Canzoneri's crown.

Canzoneri staved off Klick's early round attack last night, then went on to win through heavier punching.

His crown was not at stake, but the fact that he was facing a top-notcher in Klick, holder of the synthetic junior lightweight title, gave the fight a championship aspect. Ten thousand fans saw the bout in Griffith stadium.

Jack Dempsey, the referee, decided the fight after the two ringside judges split. The decision met with boos from the fans.

BILL SAYS "I'LL PLAY THESE"

BUT REST OF MANAGERS IN MAJOR LEAGUES AREN'T SO CERTAIN AND WANT TO "DRAW"

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, June 11.—Big league managers are in a scramble to complete pending deals before the Saturday night deadline . . . Every club except the Giants is looking around . . . Bill Terry says he will stand pat on what he has.

The Cleveland Indians think a top flight catcher may be the difference between the pennant and a second or third place finish and General Manager Billy Evans is dickering for Rolly Hemsley, the reformed play-boy of the Browns.

Berger In Demand

Five National league clubs want Wally Berger, star outfielder of the Braves . . . Brooklyn offered Pitchers Less Muns, Ray Benge and Outfielder Stan Bordagary but was turned down . . . Then the Dodgers tried it again with other players and cash . . . Bill McKechnie said "no can do."

The Yankees offered cash and two players for Sam West of the Browns but Rogers Hornsby laughed . . . Right field still is wide open so far as the Yanks are concerned and they think an outfielder like West will improve chances for a five cent world series.

Cronin Could Use Him

Connie Mack is busy denying rumors he will peddle Jimmy Foxx to the Red Sox for a fancy sum . . . Joe Cronin could use Foxx as the right side of the Boston infield isn't hitting the size of its hat.

The Deans asked to be traded . . . Then took it back . . . There seems to be nothing doing there since Branch Rickey now says the brothers are in St. Louis to stay awhile.

St. Louis fans are "on" Hornsby for selling so many of his first stringers . . . They didn't say much when Blaeholder, Newsom or Hadley left, but howled plenty when the "Rajah" sent Oscar Melillo to Boston . . . Hornsby says if the squawkers would attend the Browns' home games he wouldn't have to break up his club.

JUDGE LANDIS IS TO RULE ON CASE OF "ALABAMA" PITTS AND BASEBALL

MICHAEL WILL MEET ARTHUR

EX-FOOTBALLER TRIES CHANCES WITH VET HERE WEDNESDAY

A flame-haired ex-footballer not long out of high school and a graying veteran off one of Canada's star hockey teams clash tomorrow night in the special event of Sled Allen's wrestling show at the new outdoor arena. The contestants are Red Michael and Ernie Arthur.

Four years ago Michael was a member of Odus Mitchell's Pampa High school Harvester football team. For a year and a half now he has been earning a living via the torso-twisting route, and buildfng himself a fair reputation. He has worked here twice on preliminary bouts.

Catching On Fast

Michael is not one of the world's greatest grapplers. He's just a kid starting out, but he has picked the business up fast and seems to improve from week to week. He should be able to look back on the tiff with the veteran Arthur as one of the most important milestones, because the Canadian knows a lot about wrestling, even if he does depend to a great extent nowadays on "roughing it out."

The main event this week brings together a couple of tough guys who are capable of doing anything that was ever connected with pro wrestling. John Felix, grizzled Greek from Chicago, is just about as hard as they come. His opponent is the much-discussed Masked Marvel, the lightning-fast individual who continues to conceal his identity after more than a month in this circuit.

Promoter Allen will be presenting his second show in the outdoor arena at 13th and Avenue F. Additional lights, outside and inside the arena, are being strung this week, assuring plenty of illumination over the entire grounds. Parking spaces are to be patrolled against vandalism.

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, June 11 — Kenesaw Mountain Landis, baseball's court of last resort, today had another big problem to settle—the case of Edwin C. "Alabama" Pitts.

The executive committee of the National Association of Minor Professional Baseball Leagues yesterday declared void Pitts' contract with the Albany club of the International league, because he is an ex-convict. Immediately, Johnny Evers, manager of the Albany club, owner Joseph Cambria, and Pitts, himself, wired Landis asking a hearing in an effort to have the committee's decision over-ruled.

Landis, still suffering with the heavy cold which forced him to conduct the Walter Johnson-Willie Kamm case two weeks ago in his hotel suite, was expected to decide today on the requests of Pitts and the Albany club officials for a hearing. He refused comment on the case yesterday.

GIANTS HOME TO STRETCH LEAD

BILL TERRY SAYS IT WILL BE TEN GAMES BEFORE NEXT TRIP

(By The Associated Press)

The Giants were back in New York today to treat the home-folk to some high-geared baseball in the Polo grounds where, they feel sure, the National league flag will fly in harvest time.

Today the Cincinnati Reds engage the Giants in a double-header. Castleman and Fitzsimmons have been selected to attempt to widen the lead of the Giants which, Terry says, will be ten games before the club takes to the road again.

Pirates Bombard Reds

The Pittsburgh Pirates, favored by some to wind up in second place, dragged out the Big Berthas against the Reds yesterday to demolish them, 14 to 1. It was the only game played in the major leagues.

Five round trip blows, three of them in succession in the eighth inning, made winning a hopeless proposition for Cincinnati. Paul Waner opened the bombardment in the eighth, smacking the ball into the top tier of the right field stands. Then Arky Vaughan, not to be outdone, hit one to the same spot. Pep Young completed the stunt, which lacked one homer of tying the major league record, by whaling one to the center-field fence.

Gus Suhr hit a homer in the fifth to start the Pirates' scoring and Vaughan got his first of the day in the seventh.

Braddock To Be Backed Heavily ---By Sentiment

RING FANS RUEFULLY SHAKE THEIR HEADS OVER OUTCOME

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, June 11—Jim Braddock, the Cinderella kid, will be heavily backed by sentiment, if nothing else, when he steps into the Long Island ring with Max Baer on Thursday night.

The hard-bitten boys came in from the sidewalks of New York yesterday to watch the Irish challenger wind up his training in two rounds of boxing with Jack McCarthy of Boston, the slugger who seemed to be going places until Charlie Retzlaf cut him down.

Shake Their Heads

Ruefully they shook their heads as McCarthy shot his right to the Braddock chin. If McCarthy could land his right, they mused, what would Baer do with his crushing right hand punch.

Those wise in the business of evaluating fighters gave Braddock a small chance to win. Some said the former longshoreman was a 100 to 1 shot.

Others, however, having in mind his durability through a career of twice as many fights as Baer, said they would not be surprised if he upset the dope.

He's Heavier Now

He licked Art Lasky when Lasky was considered good, they argue. He's got a good left hand and fear is no part of his mental makeup. Besides he is no longer the thin man; he weighed 194 yesterday.

Meanwhile, Baer, winding up his training at Asbury Park, N. J., took time out from his calesthenics to direct some verbal shots at Arthur Donovan, the referee.

He said he would refuse to fight if Donovan, who handled his fights with Schmeling and Carnera, was chosen as referee.

Baer said he didn't question Donovan's honesty but that he thought he lost his head in the excitement.

BUCS' LATE RALLY DEFEATS PANTHERS

(By The Associated Press)

The Texas league-leading Galveston Bucs made a couple of runs in the ninth inning last night to defeat the Fort Worth Panthers in the third game of a series, 4 to 3.

The Veteran Fred Johnson, ahead in the final inning, first allowed an earned run on a base on balls. Then a single, a long fly and an error let the Bucs put across the paying score. Jack Jakucki kept eight Fort Worth hits scattered. Only one of the Cats' runs off him was earned.

Dallas Wins A Game

Dallas trounced Houston, 7 to 2. The Steers won the game on a three-run rally in the fourth inning but were not satisfied and added three more in the final after they had counted one in the seventh. The Buffs scored in the first and eighth.

The Beaumont Exporters clouted Stiely in a 15-hit attack to defeat the Oklahoma City Indians, 10 to 1. Buddy Bates had a perfect day at the bat, getting four hits in four official trips and scoring four runs, one of them a homer. Joe Hare was on the mound for the Exporters.

Tulsa rested at Houston because of rain.

FOURTH ANNUAL SWIMMING SCHOOL IS TO BE CONDUCTED AT CITY POOL

A fourth annual Avalanche-Journal-City Swimming pool Learn-to-Swim school will be conducted from Friday through June 26.

Instruction, based on American Red Cross methods, will be free, but a nominal charge will be made for use of the pool.

In former schools more than 600 learned to swim. Oldest student last year was 63 years old, youngest 3. Many were able to swim across the pool, 60 feet, after their first instruction, it was said.

Instruction schedule is:

Junior boys, 8:30 a. m. to 9:15 a. m.; junior girls, 9:30 a. m. to 10:15 a. m.; women, 7:30 p. m. to 8:15 p. m.; men, 8:30 p. m. to 9:15 p. m. Classes will be conducted on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays.

Registration may be arranged either at the Avalanche-Journal office or at the swimming pool.

SOUTHERN PLAY IN SECOND ROUND

NASHVILLE, Tenn., June 11. (AP)—Initial appearances of the defending champion and favorite, Bryan M. Grant, 24-year-old Atlantan, and Berkeley Bell, New York star, in second round matches quickened the pace of the Southern Amateur tennis tournament today.

After drawing first round byes yesterday Grant was matched with Pollard Parsons, Nashville veteran while Bell, top-seeded over Grant, faced Carl Smalley of Austin, Texas.

Three other seeded performers idle yesterday—J. Gilbert Hall of New Jersey, No. 3, John McDiarmid of Chicago, No. 4, and Robert Bryan of Chattanooga, No. 5—also opposed second round rivals today.

Of the three seeded entrants who saw action yesterday only Billy Reese, No. 8, a Georgia Tech stroker, was forced to a three set match. Reese eliminated Joe Folk, Nashville, 4-6, 6-3, 6-1. Martin Buxby, University of Texas youth rated No. 6 and Hal Surface of Kansas City, No. 7, breezed through opposition "under wraps."

Buxby defeated Frank Pittman of Vanderbilt university, 6-3, 6-3, and Surface ushered Bob Alexander of Nashville to the sidelines, 6-2, 6-1.

Nervousness And Dizzy Spells Gone; Like A New Man

Gly-Cas Wasted No Time In Getting To Source of Lubbock Man's Health Troubles—Even When All Else Had Failed In Case

It is actually astonishing what this new Gly-Cas will do in the most stubborn and severe cases of rheumatism, neuritis, stomach, liver, kidney, bowel and blood troubles. Many Lubbock residents now realize how fortunate they are in having this new remedy introduced here—as they have found it to be just the medicine they had been needing for years.

MR. C. A. ASHLEY

Just recently, Mr. C. A. Ashley, 2313 Texas Ave., Lubbock, respected local gentleman, made the following praising statement to the Gly-Cas Man at the Mark Halsey Drug Co., 1219 Broadway, that his friends might learn of this new remedy and benefit by it as he has:

"For years I would suffer terribly after each meal—regardless of my diet," said Mr. Ashley, "Gas would form in my stomach and press against my heart so bad I could not stand it if I was sitting or lying down. I could not even take a drink of milk without it souring dreadfully on my stomach and of course such foods as meat and cabbage I did not dare eat at all. Dizzy spells were quite frequent, nervous, couldn't sleep and lost my appetite entirely. Foods were not tempting to me at all. It was terribly discouraging—trying all kinds of medicines and treatments continually and still no results and I had about decided that I was doomed to finish life in suffering when friends persuaded me to give Gly-Cas a trial.'

"I found Gly-Cas to be even more than it was recommended to be," continued Mr. Ashley. "For the first time in years I can eat and enjoy my meals without any suffering afterwards. Gas, bloating and indigestion are all in the past and I am even able to eat the foods I hadn't dared touch for years. Those dreadful dizzy spells are gone too, appetite is much better and my nerves are quieted. It is wonderful to feel so good, sleep so well and enjoy life as others. I hope there are others that will learn of this new remedy through me and benefit by its use as I have."

The Gly-Cas Man is daily meeting crowds of local people at the Mark Halsey Drug Store, 1219 Broadway where he is introducing and explaining the action of this amazing new remedy.

WORK IS SOUGHT FOR POOR KIDDIES

Work for the summer is sought by four girls 12 to 15 years of age and two boys, 11, who are cramped by confines of a six-room house in which dwell 19 children.

Mrs. W. T. Milam, founder of Opportunity home for orphans, in which the children live, asked that anyone who can keep the children all or part of the summer call 739 or see her at 1109 Nineteenth street.

The children will help with housework, work on a farm (the boys), care for babies, go on a vacation and help with work or do other tasks. Mrs. Milam recommended their work.

School Patrons May Get Checks

Checks recompensing Lubbock county school patrons for private transportation of their children to school last year may be obtained at the office of Joseph R. Griggs, county superintendent, he has announced.

Payments will average $13, he said, the total being about 71 per cent of the claims.

Under state regulations, only those patrons who make application for reimbursement at the beginning of the year are entitled to be paid. Lubbock county will receive nearly $1,000 from this source, Griggs added.

RICHARD COLE TO BRING BAND HERE

Announcement of the engagement of Richard Cole's band for a dance at the Auditorium next Tuesday night, June 18, was made today. The band is one of the most popular in the southwest and is on a brief tour of this section.

Appearing in Amarillo last November, the band offered a variety of selections that included favorite melodies, even old Irish lullabies, as well as the latest snappiest dance tunes that delighted a large crowd from over the Panhandle. Many local people attended.

The band is famous for its novel-and exciting rhythm and entrancing melody. Featured artists are: Paul Cadieux and Mary Jo Stroud, both exceptional vocalists.

The band is being booked in this section by the Music Corporation of America.

LOW wheels, larger tires, and the high speeds of today make blowout protection in your tires vital to your safety as never before. Are you accepting exaggerated and unsupported advertising and sales claims—or are you accepting the judgment of men who risk their lives on their tires and know from experience the tire that gives them the greatest blowout protection?

Thirty-three race drivers and their mechanics lined up for the dangerous, gruelling grind of the 500-Mile Race at the Indianapolis Speedway May 30th. Firestone Tires were purchased and used on every one of the thirty-three cars.

Kelly Petillo won the race at an average speed of 106 miles per hour. Wilbur Shaw was second, flashing across the finish line just behind the winner. Both drivers broke the track record without tire trouble. In fact, not one of the thirty-three drivers had tire trouble of any kind.

For sixteen consecutive years Firestone Tires have been on the winning car. The race this year simply emphasizes again the undisputed evidence that Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires have the greatest stamina and blowout protection.

Gum-Dipping is one of the outstanding reasons why Firestone Tires give such amazing performance. By this process every cotton cord is soaked and every strand is insulated with pure liquid rubber, preventing internal friction and heat, the main cause of blowouts. Gum-Dipping is a patented extra process not used in any other make of tire.

When you consider that there were 882,000 automobile accidents in the United States last year, and of these, 43,000 were caused by blowouts, punctures, and skidding, you will more fully realize how very important it is for you to protect your life and the lives of others by equipping your car with Firestone Gum-Dipped High Speed Tires —the safest tires built.

It will be worth your time to read these three questions and their answers:

QUESTION 1—"Will the tread give me the greatest traction and protection against skidding?"

ANSWER—Leading university tests show Firestone High Speed Tires stop your car 15% quicker than the best of other popular makes of tires.

QUESTION 2—"Are they built to give me the greatest blowout protection?"

ANSWER—Unequaled performance records for sixteen consecutive years prove that Gum-Dipping gives you the greatest blowout protection ever known.

QUESTION 3—"Without sacrificing these two important safety features will they give me longer mileage, thus making them the most economical tires I can buy?"

ANSWER—Thousands of car owners report unequaled mileage records—evidence of the longer wear and greater economy of Firestone High Speed Tires.

Volume—Direct Purchasing—Straight Line Manufacturing and Efficient and Economical System of Distributing to 500 Stores and to 30,000 Dealers, enables Firestone to give greater values at lowest prices

MISS Maggie (Margaret-to-you) Turner, who presides over the women's realm for The Journal, and her assistant, Miss Evelyn Babb, remark that times surely must be getting better.

Reasons:

No. 1: Students graduating from Tech are getting jobs in greater numbers than for the past five years.

No. 2: This year's crop of marriages is featured by numerous couples who have been out of college for five years but who have not here-to-fore been able to afford matrimony.

Miss Babb, who is going to Kansas this week to be maid of honor in a couple of knot-tyings, reports that among the lassies with whom she pursued knowledge in University of Kansas and University of Chicago, there are three who are finally making it to the altar after being held off five years by Old Man Depression.

One of them is marrying an engineering graduate who has been working in a filling station until he recently caught on in his own line, while another is hitching up with a lad who has had a similar experience.

TIME sometimes repudiates a man but sometimes, as in the case of Mr. Henry Ford, it bears him out.

A couple of years ago the country was in full cry against Mr. Ford because the great motor maker declined to knuckle under to NRA.

It was not a matter of wages or hours, for Mr. Ford already was doing more for his employes than was prescribed by the law of the Blue Eagle.

It was a matter of principle with him, and as the storm broke around his venerable head he "stayed put" and stood it.

When the Supreme court ruled against NRA's claim to constitutionality, it vindicated Mr. Ford who, incidentally, is still giving his thousands of employes a much better break than NRA set forth.

The Plainsman was sorry to see NRA go by the boards, for the reason that he fears "chiselers" will take advantage of the situation and that a loss in the recovery fight will result.

Never-the-less, we think it is no more than fair to point out Mr. Ford's position and to make mention of the fact that his judgment and his principle has been upheld.

He got a lot of kicks and cussings when, time has borne out, he was right.

SOMETHING like a week ago one Lewis Wesley, negro porter, received a three-year suspended sentence on a charge of assault to murder Policeman Sid Caraway here on Christmas eve.

Behind that is a story—a story of a Lubbock policeman who used his head in the face of very apparent danger, and got a slash across the head while doing it.

Patrolman Caraway entered a local hotel lobby just in time to find Wesley chasing the clerk around, wild with drink and a knife in his hand. A number of people were in the lobby but were powerless against the armed negro.

Caraway called for Wesley to stop and the latter wheeled on the officer.

Realizing that to shoot his heavy pistol in the populated lobby might result in injury to an innocent person, Caraway elected to attempt to knock the porter down with his gun. When he did the negro slashed through the policeman's heavy service cap, inflicting a wound later requiring four stitches. Undaunted, the officer swung his blackjack and the assailant went down and his spree was halted.

WHILE the incident is now a closed one, The Plainsman tells the story of what happened just to give credit to a cool-headed copper who would have been morally and legally within his rights had he blown a hole in Wesley big enough to drive a cotton wagon through.

Instead of endangering other lives, Caraway kept his judgment and "took the rap" himself.

And if you think facing a maddened black with a knife in his hand is fun—just ask Sid.

He knows!

Radio Success Stories Equal Those Of Filmland; Movie Players Welcome Stars Of Air Who Also Struggled Hard

BY DAN THOMAS
Journal Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, June 11—Go west, young man, go west—and if you want your dreams to come true, settle in Hollywood.

That advice used to be pretty good, for boys and girls alike. And the film colony still is a pretty good place in which to realize the wildest of your dreams.

However, it isn't the only place—as the celluloid celebrities readily admit after rubbing elbows with recently imported stars of the ether waves.

You also can run over to your nearest radio station. At least that's the conclusion after listening to tales spun by such radio favorites as Amos 'n' Andy, Helen Jepson, Benay Venuta, Myrtle Vail and Frank McIntyre—all of whom have been recruited for Paramount's "The Big Broadcast of 1935."

Four Years to a Record

The famous blackface comedians who have set a record in the way of sustained broadcast, spent four years between their first radio appearance and national hookup. During those years they toured the south, appearing in "home talent" shows and doing broadcasts whenever they could get jobs.

Then, without any effort on their part, a radio executive offered them a chance on the "big time." Since then, they have been on easy street.

Miss Jepson began her career as a member of a chorus on a network program. She was there for months. One night a soloist failed to show up. Helen was substituted for her—and never returned to the chorus.

"I spent three years singing on occasional local programs in San Francisco," Benay Venuta recalls. "Most of the time I was sitting in various offices hoping to get jobs. So I went to New York, got an almost immediate audition and my troubles were over. I have been on national programs ever since."

Finds a Sponsor

Miss Vail, of Mert and Marge fame, has a similar success story to relate. "I conceived my program while trouping in vaudeville," she says. "But after several prospective sponsors told me the idea was insane, I was about to give up. Then I heard that P. K. Wrigley, Chicago gum magnate, enjoyed a little insanity in his entertainment. So I went to him. He liked my program and offered to sponsor it.

Frank McIntyre, best known as Captain Henry of the Showboat, used to sit around the Lambs Club in New York and say that someone would have to die before he'd get a chance to demonstrate his ability. He coveted the Captain Henry role even then. But Charles Winninger, who was singing it, was very robust.

Suddenly Winninger decided to desert the radio and return to the legitimate stage. That gave McIntyre the chance he craved. And he made good the first night.

No wonder our film stars are so willing to meet these newcomers to the screen halfway. Their experiences equal any of Hollywood's own "from extra to star" stories.

"Heavy" Manners

Coming out of retirement after finishing the first draft of a novel he's writing, David Manners is wearing grease paint again. And he's starting a brand-new screen career for himself—playing a heavy, for the first time in his life, in "Jalna."

"I never knew you could have so much fun making pictures," exclaims Dave, who has been a screen actor for the last five or six years. "I guess that's because I always was one of those good boys who never really had anything to do."

Learning Her Language

Rita Cansino, 16-year-old Spanish actress, recently was signed by the Fox studio to appear in Spanish versions. So now she's spending several hours daily learning how to speak that language. Although her parents are both Spanish, Rita was born in New York and learned only English.

No Harm Done

When you see "The Broadway Melody," you'll see Jack Benny engaged in a terrific fight in a theatrical office. But don't get alarmed over the vociferousness of the punches. The sound track for them was made in advance by a technician clapping his hands at regular intervals while standing very close to a "mike."

Undecided

TODAY'S JOURNAL EDITORIAL

HERE'S PROOF OF TWO OLD SAYINGS

That truth is sometimes stranger than fiction and there is something new under the sun has been brought out in a news dispatch reaching The Journal from the far-away land of "Down Under."

It is something to note down, because it is certain to crop up before many months in the form of a detective story plot.

James Smith, ex-boxer, of Sidney, Australia, left home April 8, saying he was going fishing, and did not return.

Ten days later two fishermen caught a 14-foot shark, hauled it ashore, and delivered it to an aquarium, where it was placed in a pool. A week later the shark, which had refused food, became violently ill and coughed up a lot of undigested food which included a man's arm. On the arm was the tattooed picture of two boxers. Police records listed two men so tattooed, and one was James Smith. Fingerprints made the identity certain.

Detectives found a hut on the beach off which the shark had been caught. It contained some of Smith's belongings. The owner had disappeared. May 18, he was arrested in Sydney and charged with murder.

The de Goncourts are credited with saying: "Never will the imagination approach the improbabilities of truth." Here's an illustration.

Dutchers' News And Views OF WASHINGTON

Dutcher

(Copyright, 1934, NEA Service, Inc.)

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 11—There are miserable days here for prophets. But it seems no great risk to make at least one prediction:

"We are going to find out whether NRA was a boon or a curse.

In case it wasn't much of either, we'll find that out, too.

There hasn't been any real agreement about it. In fact, the administration—except for the loyal and zealous NRA-ers themselves—had been going cold on NRA for months, to the point of doubting whether it was more help or hindrance in the recovery effort.

Even Roosevelt, it may be told, at one point became distinctly lukewarm about the experiment. That was why Senate leaders were able to put through the devitalizing Clark amendment extending NRA nine months and killing it as effectively as the supreme court could ever kill it.

Only when the political implications of allowing such an important New Deal segment to die ingloriously on the eve of a presidential campaign became plain to Roosevelt did he turn on the heat for extension until after the next election.

Jittery Over Future

Now NRA, at least as it was, is dead. Its enemies are happy, but already there's a wave of jitters over the possible effects of the obliteration of the codes.

What happens when industry is left to itself and "chiselers" are allowed at large?

Regardless of administration stopgaps and future plans, everyone will watch for proof or disproof of General Johnson's assertion that the end of NRA would mean loss of 3,000,000 jobs and $3,000,000,000 in wages.

Or were certain economists right when they insisted that recovery was being retarded, unemployment continued, and industrial activity hampered by code restrictions?

You recall, of course, that there has been constant debate between NRA's enemies and friends as to whether its operation was responsible for business improvement in the last two years or whether the improvement was due to natural forces which might have operated even more effectively without NRA.

What Of Little Fellow?

What will happen to the "little fellow" in business, for whom Senators Nye and Borah, Clarence Darrow, and others bellowed so loudly? According to one version, he is now released from opression and bound to be happier and more prosperous.

But in NRA files is impressive evidence that "little fellows," prior to the code era, were being gobbled up at a terrific rate through bankruptcies and mergers.

Will the gobbling process be resumed? A wave of price-cutting seems to be inevitable. Will it be accompanied by deliberate price wars, designed to drive the "small business man" out?

Try To Figure This One

What will be the other effects of the anticipated widespread price-cutting? One quite large school of thought insists that it will stimulate consumer demand by expanding purchasing power and thus start more wheels turning and create more employment.

But one also seems to have heard much from high places to the effect that higher price levels were essential to prosperity and that prices still weren't high enough. And everybody knows that prices boosted and maintained under the codes were, in effect, permitted as a trade for minimum wage and hour standards in the benefited industries. What about wages?

If wages are cut, what happens to that purchasing power which everyone agrees is so necessary and which, according to the first version, will be increased by lower prices.

It certainly does tend to get a fellow all mixed up!

ENEMY'S KISS

by Evelyn M. Winch

SYNOPSIS: Alison Rede has returned from school in Switzerland to meet her father at a house he is supposed to have taken outside London. But the house is dark and deserted; while washing up after her journey Alison is horrified to see a hairless face peering at her. She slams the door, and the intruder slithers away. But her electric torch is going dead. She decides to make a break for the outside door.

Chapter Two
NEW DANGER

Coming in, exploring this empty house for any sign of her father, Alison had passed two pairs of stairs. One, leading off the long passage which ran straight from the front hall, was evidently the front stairs to the bedrooms; the other, cut off by a baize door, came down outside the pantry door and ran directly outside the bathroom.

An upper baize door with a spring to it cut this part of the house off from the front part, too. Those last three faint creaks had seemed to come from the front passage. Could she creep down these backstairs unseen and gain the window and the road? Safer, perhaps, to slip down the ivy—unless, guessing her intention, he had gone to wait down there in the dark road!

Snatching at her courage, Alison released the door. Cautiously, trembling, she opening it a little way and peered out. The faint glow of the torch showed her an empty passage, a white bedroom door, a tiny square of window with the rain pouring down it and the far baize door, shut. The way was clear!

For no more than a second she listened, breathless, but now it seemed as if the whole house held its breath too. There was no sound at all, even the mice were still. And there was the stairway, close at hand, dark but empty.

Alison ran.

She had reached the turn of the stairs when the torch went out. . . .

The black dark seemed to hit her, knocking out her breath; it was like going blind. But her hand tightened on the stair-rail and she went on, running, two steps at a time.

She suffered, in those few seconds, the most primitive of all emotions—a fear fine-drawn to the point of battle, in which every nerve and muscle is strained to the utmost, ready to fight. Her foot found the lower passage level with a jerk that hurt.

Creak! Pit-a-pat . . . .

A thin spear of light cut the darkness ahead, showing her the half-glass pantry door on her right, the lower baize door ahead—a beam of light split by the banisters above.

It was coming—running along the bathroom passage, chasing her down the stairs!

Alison made a dart. The pantry door was not quite shut, it gave; a loose board creaked as she sprang through and the beam of light overhead went off abruptly.

She slammed the door violently; throwing herself against it, she felt for a key and found none; she stretched up her right arm towards the wall to brace herself to take the strain.

She reached up her hand with all four fingers and the thumb spread and found them pressing flat against a man's face!

Her nerve broke.

In the recoil she screamed a hideous, shrill, bubbling shriek which rose and echoed wildly through the house as she fumbled for the door handle in a crazy effort to escape. A scream cut sharply at its highest point as a man's hand closed expertly upon her face, the thumb and forefinger pinching her nostrils shut while the palm block her mouth.

Alison gave a gurgle and fainted.

"That's better . . ."

She became conscious of a very firm arm holding her tight, of rough tweed scraping her cheek and the rapid beating of her own heart.

"Oh!"

She tried to sit up. The flickering blue bead of light came from a lantern that was standing on the floor; by it she could see in faint outline an enameled table under the window, a bunch of dirty brooms, all tied together, leaning drunkenly against a sink.

• • •

Memory came back and she gave a gasp. Shrinking, she writhed from the arms which held her and slid free on hands and knees. Whirling around found herself looking up into a pair of bright and quizzical blue eyes.

"All right?"

A pair of broad, tweed covered shoulders, large friendly features, pleasantly red-tanned, dark hair that grew crisply off a wide forehead, keen eyes light as a bucket of seawater—this was no grisly ghost but a mere man, reassuringly hu-

Was Weak, Easily Worried

"I felt weak, tired and very nervous," writes Mrs. Clifford Wehunt, of Smyrna, Ga. "It seemed like everything worried me. Children got on my nerves with their noise at play. My mother had given me Cardui when I was just a girl for rundown condition, and I was better from taking it, so I decided when so nervous and weak that this was the time to take Cardui again. It surely did help me. I am stronger and my nerves are better."

Thousands of women testify Cardui benefited them. If it does not benefit YOU, consult a physician.—Adv.

LITTLEFIELD IS TO BANQUET

DEAN GORDON TO GIVE TALK AT ANNUAL C-C AFFAIR TONIGHT

(Special To The Journal)

LITTLEFIELD, June 11 — Dean James M. Gordon of the division of arts and sciences, Texas Tech, Lubbock, will speak tonight at the annual Littlefield Chamber of Commerce banquet, in the First Presbyterian church. Dean Gordon will substitute for Ray H. Nichols, Vernon publisher and president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, who was unable to fill his engagement.

Mr. Nichols was sent to Washing by his regional organization to open a service office there. He will be unable to return to Texas in time to fill his engagement here.

A number of out-of-town leaders in chamber of commerce work have been invited, as well as local men. Particular attention is being paid to agricultural work and both the county agent, D. A. Adams, and the home demonstration agent, Miss Bernice Westbrook, are on the program.

Ticket Sales Good

Local ticket sales have been good, it was said today. Largest crowd in the history of the organization is expected.

J. S. Hilliard is to be toastmaster. Invocation will be given by Rev. Joe F. Grizzle, Baptist pastor, after America is sung by the audience.

Scheduled program as announced by the toastmaster, includes:

Welcome, Senator Arthur P. Duggan; responses, by out-of-town speakers; introduction of guests; review of 1934-35 activities, Joe W. Hale, secretary; this year's agricultural program, D. A. Adams, county agent; home demonstration program, Miss Bernice Westbrook, demonstration agent; music, Littlefield fire boys; address, Dean Gordon.

Besides Dean James M. Gordon, Durwood H. Bradley and O. O. Reeves will represent the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce at the banquet tonight in Littlefield. Several other men may go if they can arrange their affairs, it was learned.

LOCAL MAN DIES

Bill Jones, about 35, died at 3:30 o'clock this morning at 1713 Broadway. He was a brother of Mrs. John Zournas. Death was attributed to pneumonia. Sanders Funeral home had charge of arrangements.

DAILY MARKETS

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, June 11. (AP)—Cotton futures opened quiet, 2 to 4 higher on steady Liverpool cables and trade buying with offerings light, July 11.60; Oct. 11.29; Dec. 11.30; Jan. 11.31; March 11.37; May 11.42.

In the absence of any follow-up to the buying side, prices sagged a few points under light scattering during the first hour. Oct. sold off from 11.30 to 11.25 and the market held within a point or two either way of the previous closing levels. The weather map showed rain in South Texas. Fertilizer tax tag sales for May in 12 southern cotton states amounted to 236,766 tons, constituting the largest quantity reported for any May on record and 54 per cent above May last year. Sales since January 1 represent an increase of 12 per cent over the corresponding period of 1934. Liverpool cables reported a dull market.

The market remained dull throughout the morning. After easing to net losses of 1 to 4 points, influenced by a more favorable view of the weather, the small volume of offerings tapered off and prices recovered slightly on local and New Orleans buying. Oct. advanced from 11.22 to 11.27 with the market at mid-day generally 1 to 3 points net higher.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, June 11 (AP)—Futures held in a narrow range at the start of trading on the cotton market today after opening from 2 to 4 points higher.

The better tone was due largely to reports of extensive insect damage in many sections of the belt because of the cool, wet weather.

July opened at 11.56, Oct. at 11.25, Dec. at 11.26 and Jan. at 11.28 and sold around these prices during the first half hour.

Liverpool reopened today after a three-day holiday, but cables from abroad reported a dull market there.

Prices were a little firmer on the English exchange, strengthened by advices from Alexandria that lead worm damage was widespread in that area.

Futures developed easiness during the morning and early gains were overcome by losses ranging from 1 to 6 points.

Light offerings by the trade and professionals on continued favorable weather in the belt proved sufficient to depress July to 11.49, Oct. to 11.16, and Dec. to 11.23.

News from Washington continued to govern the trend of prices and the absence of developments from that quarter kept prices in a narrow range.

JAPANESE MOVE

Tokyo is not concerned with the measures taken to fill the Hopei vacuum. But non-Japanese sources believe the Japanese army will dictate what regime shall govern the province and what Chinese troops, if any, shall be stationed there as well as in what areas.

Already the Japanese army has notified General Shang Chen that he will not be permitted to post his Chinese forces within a zone seven miles on either side of the railways linking Peiping, Tientsin and Shanhaikwan.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, June 11 (AP) — The wheat market derived little stimulus early today from the government crop indicating that although beneficial rains had improved domestic winter wheat prospects, federal statisticians did not expect as large a crop as private authorities forecast. Moderate buying lifted prices only momentarily.

Opening 1-8 lower to 5-8 higher, July 83 5-8 to 84, wheat later reacted to around the previous close. Corn started 1-8 off to 1-2 up, July 82 3-8, and then lost its gains.

Wheat closed unchanged to 3-8 cents below the previous finish, July 83 1-2 to 5-8, and corn was unchanged to 5-8 off. July 81 7-8 to 82. Oats lost 1-4 to 3-4, rye 5-8 to 7-8 and barley was unchanged. Provisions were steady to firm.

CHICAGO CASH GRAIN

CHICAGO, June 11 (AP) — Cash wheat No. 1 red 87; corn No. 2 yellow 87 to 87 1-2; No. 2 white 91 lake billing; no oats; barley nominal feed 45-60.

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, June 11. (AP)—Demand for grain at Fort Worth today was fair. Receipts were only 8 cars wheat, 2 corn and 2 sorghums.

Delivered Texas gulf ports, export rate or Texas common points: wheat No. 1 hard 1.02 1-2 to 04 1-2. Barley, western billing, No. 2 nom 57-60; sorghums No. 2 yellow milo per 100 lbs nom 2.00-05; No. 2 white kaffir nom 1.85-88;

Delivered Texas common points or group three: corn (shelled) No. 2 Mexican, 96 per cent white, 1.06-07; No. 2 white northern 1.13 3-4 to 14 3-4; oats No. 2 red 51-52.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, June 11 (AP)—Buyers still held the stock market fort today and sellers showed little disposition to rush the parapets.

The metals pushed up in response to a meeting of the senate silver bloc which considered ways and means of stimulating the government's purchasing program. A variety of preferred issues and scattered rails, oils and utilities were in fair favor. Dividend-paying specialties were also in demand.

Grains and cotton were unenthusiastic. Secondary carrier bonds found followings. Sterling firmed in foreign exchange transactions, but the gold currencies were reactionary.

Stock trading started off listlessly and somewhat irregularly but volume and prices began to pick up around noon. American Crystal Sugar preferred and Hercules Powder got up about 2 points each and gainers of fractions to a point or more included U. S. Smelting, Cerro De Pasco, American Smelting, Santa Fe, Union Pacific, Delaware & Hudson, Standard Oils of California and New Jersey, Pacific Gas, Consolidated Gas, Chrysler, U. S. Steel, Du Pont, Case, Goodyear, U. S. Rubber preferred and Great Western Sugar.

pens to missing stock.

The campaign will be along somewhat different lines than the methods used years ago to discourage rustling when thieves frequently were hanged from the most convenient tree.

"The five states are going to work out a prospective agreement by which representatives will be present to inspect brands at all auction sales rings and all public markets," explained Thorp. "Thus information will be exchanged, and the records of sales will be made available to ranchers. In this way, the ranchers can trace their stock and recover money paid for it at any auction ring or public market."

DRAG FOR BODY

AUSTIN, June 11 (AP)—Austin firemen and volunteers searched the Colorado river today for the body of Marvin Burleson, 17, of Big Spring, who drowned when a small fishing boat sank yesterday.

A companion, Ben Ligon, was rescued by another fisherman as he was swept into midstream after abandoning the boat.

LARGE CROWD AT FARM MEETING

A large crowd, that nearly filled the community auditorium at Shallowater Monday night, attended the monthly meeting of the Shallowater Community Farm association. The scheduled program was held.

O. G. Tumlinson, College Station, former Lubbock county agent, an unexpected visitor, spoke briefly. He was accompanied by H. H. (Bill) Williamson, vice-director of extension work; E. L. Deal and R. A. Meeks, Washington, D. C.

Following a musical program, a number of speakers were heard. Mrs. A. F. Reese, Shallowater; R. L. Hooten, school superintendent; Rev. W. E. Peterson, Methodist pastor and John Murrell, farmer, spoke. Jason O. Gordon, assistant county agent, also spoke.

Special music was given by Miss Nina Ruth Todd and by the Todd and Calley girls quartet.

NEW TAX PLANS

and gifts would bring in $300,000,000 to $600,000,000 annually.

From 4 to 63 Per Cent

That would mean taxes ranging from 4 per cent on inheritances and gifts of over $50,000 to nearly 63 per cent of those over $1,000,000. There are no direct inheritance levies now, and gift taxes range from 3-4 of one per cent on gifts under $10,000 to 45 per cent of gifts over $10,000,000.

Representatives Sanders (D-Tex.) and Dingell (D-Mich) made no secret of their positions. The former said that "our estate taxes are nowhere as high as those in Great Britain."

IRVIN TRIAL

tected Lamb county liquor ring. They are Jerry, Felix, and George Silhan, N. O. Roper, Henry Fulcher, Mrs. Rebecca Carr, Mrs. Bill Herman, Vernon Herman, Guy Foster, Leonard Terry, Mrs. Leonard Terry, M. L. (Auctioneer) Lynn, Virgil Dudgeon, and John Purdy.

All of the defendants remain on trial in the eleventh, or conspiracy, count. Defendants in the first, second, third, fourth and sixth counts are the Irvins, the Silhans, Carpenter, Etter, and Foster. Driscol Irvin, the Silhans, Foster, Etter, and Carpenter are defendants in the fifth count.

Awaiting Sentence

Several persons who previously had pleaded guilty in federal court here of violation of the Harrison anti-narcotic act were in the federal building this morning, presumably awaiting sentence. They included: Dr. L. W. Kitchen, veterinarian, and Dr. V. A. Hartman, physician, both of Post; Dr. J. A. Green, Lubbock; Dr. C. L. Edge of Crosbyton, and W. H. Nickson, Crosbyton druggist.

Doctors Hartman and Kitchen were acquitted of murder of a narcotics inspector recently. They now face a charge of conspiracy to violate the narcotics act. Co-defendants with them are Sheriff W. F. Cato of Garza county, Lena Roberts, and Ed Frazier.

Sentence also remains to be passed on Dr. William Houghton, Floydada; Dr. W. E. Redford and Dr. L. C. Wayland, both of Plainview, all of whom have pleaded guilty of illegally dispensing narcotics.

Termed "Big Bully"

Eastus also referred to the 6-foot 5-inch sheriff as a "big bully who knocks them in the head." George W. Dupree, a defense speaker, had referred to the 14 persons pleading guilty as a "bootleggers' convention." Eastus charged that Irvin was the "master of ceremonies of that convention."

"It is not necessary that each party to a conspiracy know every other member, it is not even necessary that they ever have seen each other," Judge Wilson said.

"People can drop out of it. You could start a conspiracy and some fellow might say, 'I quit.' He drops from the scene. They contact a new man, and he comes into it. It is not a new conspiracy because of that," he said.

Rules Otherwise

He ruled, however, that if the jurors found two separate conspiracies had been formed in the three-year period before return of the indictment that "you will acquit the defendants who pleaded not guilty."

"The burden is on the government to prove what it alleged," he said. "In other words, if this evidence shows two separate and distinct conspiracies existed, the defendants are entitled to a verdict of not guilty."

To Exclude Testimony

He again cautioned the jury to exclude from their minds, in considering the case, all testimony tending to show illegal transactions prior to April 20, 1932. Statements attributed to E. E. (Ed) Wheeler, fugitive defendant, in Hobbs, N. M., before Wheeler went to Lamb county also were excluded.

"The government relies on a lot of witnesses who themselves have been in the liquor business unlawfully," Judge Wilson said. "These parties show, if what they say is true, that they are accomplices. You should be cautious in handling their testimony. It is for you to give it such weight as you see fit, or set it all aside. The worst men can tell the truth.

"You are to consider not how bad a man is, nor how bad is his record, but is that witness telling the truth."

He told the jurors that the Irvins, when they took the stand, were to be judged on the same basis.

"We know they have powerful motives for falsifying, since their liberties are at stake," he said.

Arguments were given Monday afternoon by Dupree, Charles C. Crenshaw, and W. D. Girand, sr., defense attorneys, and Joe H. Jones, assistant district attorney.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS

None Hurt In Collisions — None was hurt in two automobile collisions here Monday afternoon, police reported. A Chevrolet coach driven by Mrs. C. O. Head, 2011 Broadway, and a Ford V-8 driven by Rupert Triplitt, 17, of 2435 Twentieth street collided in the 2000-block Broadway at 3:30 o'clock. Five minutes later, a Chevrolet coupe piloted by Mrs. T. T. Brooks, Sunset tourist camp, and a Ford-T pickup piloted by John Freeman, 18, of Wolfforth collided at Avenue H and Ninth street.

Two Fines Paid — Two fines of $10 each for speeding were paid in corporation court Monday.

• • •

Keys Are Stolen — Keys seemingly are at a premium among young thieves. J. J. Rozzell, 1916 Sixth street, informed police Monday afternoon that a ring of keys had been stolen from his automobile. Kuykendall Chevrolet Co. reported, also Monday afternoon, that 10 sets of keys had been stolen from its cars by small boys.

• • •

Youths Arrested — Police this morning arrested three negro youths as suspects in injury of Cora Murry, a negro laundress, 209 Eighteenth street, who was struck by stones thrown by two negro boys at her home. She had hospital treatment.

Classes began at 7 o'clock this morning.

Sixty or more students have entered the second annual band school at the college, D. O. Wiley, director and band school instructor, said this morning.

KIDNAPING CACHE

ditional persons had been taken into custody in Salt Lake City for questioning in connection with the abduction. The boy was released near Tacoma June 1 after eight days in the hands of his abductors.

At Washington indications were reported that the justice department investigators believe the audustion was a two-man job aided by a woman. The alleged confessions of Waley and his wife implicated Mahan as the third member of the gang.

Removal Awaited

Removal of Mr. and Mrs. Waley to Tacoma to face mail fraud charges in connection with kidnaping was awaited today, with further concentration here of department of justice agents.

Four more government men had come from Tacoma, and it was believed they brought warrants issued there yesterday charging the Waleys and Mahan with conspiracy in the use of the mails to defraud. Three more agents arrived later.

The trial of the defendants in Washington state courts under Washington's new law providing death for kidnapers was virtually assured today with the announcement by Hoover that the decision rested with J. Charles Dennis, United States district attorney at Tacoma.

GOOCH TO HEAR HIS DOOM ON SATURDAY

DURANT, Okla., June 11. (AP)—The first man ever condemned to death for kidnaping by a federal court jury, Arthur Gooch, Oklahoma bad man, will hear his doom pronounced Saturday by Federal Judge R. L. Williams.

Gooch was tried under the Lindbergh kidnap law after Judge Williams refused to accept his plea of guilty to the abduction of two Paris, Texas, policemen, H. R. Marks and R. N. Baker, and forcing them to take him from Paris into the hills of Pushmataha county, Oklahoma, where they were released.

Judge Williams refused to accept the plea because a life sentence was the maximum he could assess, and passed the case on to a jury to determine the sentence.

The trial of the little, neatly dressed ex-convict was quickly over. Evidence required only 45 minutes, arguments were brief, the judge's instructions terse. The jury deliberated an hour and a half first voting eleven to one for death and unanimously for death on the second ballot.

Rev. John D. Leslie Dies Early Today

DALLAS, June 11. (AP)—The Rev. John Douglas Leslie, 75, of Dallas, stated clerk of the general assembly of the Southern Presbyterian church, died here early today.

He became ill Thursday on a train near Gladewater, Texas, while on his way home from the general assembly at Montreat, N. C.

Dr. Leslie, author of "The Second Coming of Christ" and other religious works, was born at Statesville, N. C. Before moving to Texas in 1894 he had served several pastorates in Mississippi.

Dr. Leslie was stated clerk of the presbytery of Fort Worth in 1895-99 and 1911-16; synod of Texas in 1904-22 and permanent clerk of the general assembly from 1910 to 1922. Since that time he had been stated clerk.

ENEMY'S KISS by Evelyn M. Winch

man and alive! Alison drew a deep sigh of relief and grew exceedingly indignant.

"What exactly do you think you're doing?"

It is not easy to show dignity on all fours but she did her best.

He countered with an innocent "What is going on here?"

"Considering you tried to kill me—"

"I didn't!"

"You tried to choke me!"

"Only to stop you yelling!"

"You'd absolutely no right to frighten me like that!"

She struggled to her feet. She was still hot and panting with rage. Her round, childish face was flushed, her dark grey eyes sparkled with anger, although her soft mouth trembled and her knees felt like warm wax.

"What're you doing here anyway?" she demanded; charged him fiercely with "You must've climbed in through that window!"

"I did." He was standing, too, now, smiling at her. "So did you for that matter!"

"That's got nothing to do with it," said Alison haughtily. He had nice teeth when he smiled and two attractive dents beside his chin.

"Do you always come in that way and then rush round screaming?" His voice was deep and tinged with suppressed laughter.

"I didn't rush," she began, then changed her mind. No use bandying words—particularly as he was getting the best of the exchange. She turned purposefully to the door.

"Where are you going?" Quickly.

"To ring the police!"

She wrenched the door open. The lantern went out with a snap and the black dark closed on her like a swung curtain.

"Oh!" Involuntarily she gave a cry, clutching at the man.

"All right, I'm here." His arm closed firmly round her. "But listen. You're not going through that door till you tell me what's up."

Tomorrow, Alison does a little explaining.

Ann Harding Says Child Is Guarded

SAN FRANCISCO, June 11. (AP) — Ann Harding, screen actress, has revealed that her six-year-old daughter Jane is watched constantly by armed guards because of an attempted kidnaping.

The actress made the disclosure in a petition to the state supreme court for a writ of prohibition to restrain a Los Angeles superior court from proceeding with a custody action filed recently by her divorced husband, Harry Bannister.

Miss Harding did not name anyone in the asserted kidnaping attempt, which she stated occurred several years ago.
