Public Meeting Set For Deep-Draft Inshore Port

A public meeting will be held at 6:30 p.m. Thursday, September 20 in Miller High School Auditorium in Corpus Christi on an application of Nueces County Navigation District Number One for a Department of the Army permit to begin development of a multipurpose deep-draft inshore port near Port Aransas (Corpus Christi Bay).

All residents of the Rockport area who are interested in this important project are urged to attend the meeting.

The Corps of Engineers is considering application number 9563 by Nueces County Navigation District (NCND #1) for a Department of the Army permit to begin development of a multipurpose deep-draft inshore port near Port Aransas, Texas. The work proposed at this time would terminate at Harbor Island which separates Aransas Bay from Corpus Christi Bay.

Work covered by the application consists of modifying the existing Corpus Christi Ship Channel and Channel to Aransas Pass and constructing oil docks and related facilities to accommodate 275,000 DWT tankers. Included are a combination turning basin and Very Large Crude Carrier (VLCC) docking basin, the docks, storage tanks, pumping station, buildings and utilities necessary for unloading, storing and distributing crude oil. Material dredged from the Gulf of Mexico reach of the enlarged channel would be deposited in the Gulf. Material from the inland reach would be deposited on and adjacent to Harbor Island.

While the plans for the port are not sufficiently detailed for issuance of a permit, they do give the general nature of the work proposed now and in the future. Some features such as possible relocation of the North Jetty and construction of a water exchange channel must be investigated further.

While not a subject for consideration at this public meeting, the Corps of Engineers is authorized by a resolution of the Committee on Public Works of the House of Representatives, United States, adopted October 12, 1972, to consider modification of the existing project for the Corpus Christi Ship Channel to provide for increased depths and widths in the entrance channels from the Gulf of Mexico to a deep-draft inshore port at Harbor Island. It is anticipated that funds to start this study will be made available late this calendar year. When initiated, the study will consider the improvements proposed to the accomplished by Nueces County Navigation District No. 1 at its expense under the requested permit, the extent of further navigation improvements needed to accommodate the prospective traffic to the deep-draft inshore port, and the

City, County, Navigation Dist. Endorse Harbor Island Project

By a three to one split vote, the City Council Monday passed a resolution favoring development of a deep-draft inshore port near Harbor Island. Aldermen Charlie Garrett, N.F. Jackson and Joe "Pepe" Zambrano voted in favor of the resolution and Alderman Murray McMillan voted against it. The City of Rockport thus joins Aransas County Navigation District, the Chamber of Commerce, and Aransas County Commissioners Court in approving the project as explained in the following letter which has been sent by Aransas County Navigation District to the U. S. Corps of Engineers at Galveston:

Immunization Clinic On September 17

The monthly immunization clinic will be held September 17 from 2 p.m. to 6 p.m. at the V.F.W. Hall. Public Health nurses will be on hand to provide immunizations (shots) at no cost to anyone requesting this service. Tuberculin skin tests will also be available.

Those attending should bring all records of previous immunizations or skin tests with them to the clinics. The clinics are continuing to be held on the third Monday of every month.

Fire completely gutted the Mini-Mart Drive-in grocery store on Liberty Street Sunday night. It was announced by a spokesman for the City Police Department Monday that the fire was under investigation by police and the fire marshal.

County Votes 5% Pay Hikes

Members of Aransas County Commissioners Court agreed Monday to grant 5 percent salary increases to all county employees and all elected county officials.

County Judge John D. Wendell said a public hearing will have to be held before the pay hikes go into effect January 1, 1974. Sheriff Bob Hewes had sought a 10 percent salary boost for all personnel in his department. County Clerk Ruby Hart had asked for a 10 percent increase for her chief deputy and deputy, and County Attorney Ellis Clark had asked for a salary increase for his secretary from $2,500 to $3,600.

At last week's Commissioners Court meeting it had been indicated that expenditures for operating the county government for the coming year would be about $691,000.

Judge Wendell said the 5 percent across-the-board pay hikes would add about $16,000 to the budget.

Girl Scouts To Register

All second and third grade girls who want to be Brownie Girl Scouts this school year are invited to register with a Brownie Troop Monday, September 17. Girls who were in the Fulton Troop last year or who attend Fulton School now are to register between 3:45 and 5:15 at the Fulton Lions Building behind Circle K. All other girls are to register at the Girl Scout Little House at Linden and Live Oak near Rockport Apartments. The fees for the school year are $2.00. Regular meetings will begin Monday, Sept. 24. A parent MUST accompany the girl.

All 4th, 5th and 6th grade girls interested in Junior Scouting are to register at the Little House Tuesday, Sept. 18 between 3:45 and 5:15. Regular meetings will begin Tuesday, Sept. 25. Two troops will be formed after registration, if necessary. NEW scouts must be accompanied by a parent. Cadettes (7th, 8th and 9th grade girls) will register Wednesday, Sept. 19 at the Little House and begin regular meetings the next week.

Senior girls are to call Miss Elizabeth Whitney at 729-5217 for registration and meeting instructions.

This last year there were two Brownie troops, two junior troops, one cadette troop and a senior troop here. A total of 130 girls and 20 adults participated in the wide range of activities offered through the scouting program. Service projects included clean-up campaigns, bike safety programs, first aid training, help with several fund drives by volunteer girls and participation in the annual Firemen's Christmas Program. Each troop had several special programs planned by the girls. Activities included camp-outs, local trips, trips out of the area, parties and handicraft projects.

There are new style uniforms available to girls desiring them but the old uniforms will still be accepted.

For additional information girls should contact their leader from last year or Mrs. Edward Armstrong, Service Team Director for Rockport-Fulton at 729-5728.

Pirates Open Season Friday Versus Mathis

By BOB CRAWFORD

The hour that many have waited on will soon be upon us -- Rockport - Fulton opens their 1973 season tomorrow night against Mathis at Pirate Stadium with game time at 8:00. The Pirates will be playing their first game, but Mathis will be coming off of a 7-7 tie with Calallen last week. Mathis features the passing game with quarterback David Myles at the controls. The favorite target for Myles was Keith Laechell in last week's game as the pair connected seven times for 102 yards.

Rockport-Fulton will be nagged by injuries with four or five players out, but Coach Bobby Flanagan pointed out that with the depth the Pirates have this year, the team will be in pretty good shape. Missing this week's action will be Ricky Littleton, Alan Passmore, Joe Green, and possibly Danny Cox.

Offensively the Pirates should open like this: Ends-David Farnham and David Brooks; Tackles - Bob Gillis and Rusty Morrison; Guards - Peden Rogers and Cox, Bob Mundine, or Scott McCaskey; Center - David Mundine; Quarterback - Scott Gillis; Fullback-Denzel Bardwell and at Halfbacks - Rickey McLester and Gene Carter.

Defensively the Pirates should have Carter, Farnham, Glafro Solis, and Bill Mercer or David Prophet in the secondary; at linebackers the Pirates will have Bob Mundine and Melvin Morgan; and in the trenches the Pirates will have Brooks, Morrison, Gillis, Ernest DeForest, and either David Mundine or Gary Thompson, with backup help from Ralph Weekley, Domingo Segovia, Marcus Carleton and Chip Hale.

The Pirates will be trying to generate and establish an offensive machine to put points on the scoreboard.

This year Pirate Stadium has taken on a new look on the south side with new bleachers for the visitors and a new box for the opposing team's coaches and filmers; this came about at an agreement by the District 15-AAA members.

Rockport-Fulton will need the support of the people of the surrounding communities if they are to have a successful season, so let yourself be counted and be heard at Pirate Stadium Friday night, "come rain or come shine".

Air Force Band Coming Sept. 19

Under sponsorship of the Chamber of Commerce, the Air Force "Band of the West" from Lackland AFB will present a band concert at Rockport-Fulton High School Auditorium at 8 p.m., Wednesday, Sept. 19.

There will be no admission charge to hear this outstanding 50-piece concert band. The people in the Rockport area are fortunate to have the opportunity to hear this great band and it is expected that the auditorium will be filled with men, women and children.

Grand Jury Indicts Local Man In Slaying at Aransas Pass

The Aransas County grand jury has indicted Tony H. Rodriguez of Rockport, on a charge of murder in connection with the shooting death last December of Edna Moats.

The jury returned a separate indictment against Rodriguez charging him with robbery by firearms in the same case. Judge John H. Miller of the 36th District Court, set bond at $25,000 in each of the two indictments which were among 24 true bills returned by the jury in a three-day session last week.

The jury also returned four no bills. Included among the 24 true bills reported to the court were five that alleged misdemeanor law violations. These were transferred to the county court.

Rodriguez is accused of shooting Mrs. Moats in the robbery last Dec. 29 of a drive-in grocery store in Aransas Pass. The robbery by firearms charge alleges that he took money from the victim at gun point.

Also indicted by the grand jury was Robert Brooks Dye who was charged with assault with intent to murder in the April shooting of Linda M. Dye.

Other persons indicted by the grand jury and the law violations they are accused of include Carlos Hernandez Jr., assault with intent to murder; Wallace Sartor, fondling; Donald Dee Johnson, named in two indictments on burglary charges; Carlos Esquivel Jr., burglary; Bennie Joe Cady, Charles A. Hammond, obtaining money with a worthless check; Raul Benavides, burglary of a vessel; and Charles Ray Duhart and William La Bron Paige, attempt at burglary.

Misdemeanor indictments transferred to county court named Danny L. Harris, possession of marijuana, and Leroy Zemait, Michael Thomas Saba, Benjamin Rodriguez and Guadalupe G. Ramos, all charged with driving while intoxicated.

Names of three persons indicted were withheld because they had not been arrested, or posted bond.

Solid Waste Disposal Contract Agreed On

The City Council Monday voted to authorize Mayor Walter S. Falk, Jr., to sign a contract for a new method of solid waste disposal.

The contract will be prepared within the next two weeks and will become effective January 1, 1974. It will be an agreement between the city and Franklin F. Kelly of Sinton whereby all city garbage and trash will be hauled to the county dump grounds area where it will be compacted by machines to be installed by Kelly and then hauled by Kelly's trucks to a waste disposal center near Sinton.

In other actions, the Council: --Interviewed representatives of four Certified Public Accountant firms to consider appointment of a firm to do the city auditing work.

Representatives of the following firms were present: Harris, Robertson & Co., Sinton; Robert H. Erwin, Aransas Pass; McCarthy, Millikin & Green, Beeville; and Bumgardner, Morrison & Co., Port Lavaca.

Johnson was also charged with the August 23 burglary of Payne's Restaurant at City by the Sea. That case was investigated by Deputy Mike Webb.

Johnson will also face charges on a city burglary of the Razz-Ma-Tazz lounge being investigated by Rockport Police Department.

Johnson was in San Patricio County Jail awaiting action on eighteen charges of burglary against him in that county. He was indicted by the Aransas County Grand Jury last week on both county burglaries.

A 32-year-old Fulton man was charged with possession of cocaine Monday. James David Estes was arrested as the result of a previous narcotics raid upon his residence in Fulton. Estes was arrested at his residence by Sheriff Bob Hewes and Deputy Joe Williams.

The residence had been the location of an earlier search by Williams and two state narcotics agents, who were also assisted by Texas Ranger Jim Peters.

Williams reported that a quantity of what has been analyzed as cocaine was seized from the residence in that raid.

Estes was placed in Aransas County Jail with bond set at $4,000. Two other persons had already been charged in connection with the raid.

Mrs. Olga McLester read the minutes from the last meeting, and Mrs. Mellinee Shults gave the treasurer's report.

Old business was discussed and plans for the new year were made.

Mrs. Josephine Cox was in charge of the social hour. She led the class through "first day at school" activities which proved fun for all.

Delicious dessert and punch were served to the following: Mesdames Mellinee Shults, Ethel Brown, Edna Yount, Mary Scrivner, Olga McLester, Josephine Cox, Eva Lutz, Chris Chrisma, Myrt Russell, Lillian Sorenson, and Louise Shults.

C of C to Buy More Xmas Decorations

The Chamber of Commerce directors held their monthly luncheon meeting Tuesday noon at Ramada Inn and voted to order additional Christmas decorations for the business districts of Rockport and Fulton.

In acquiring the new decorations on a purchase-lease basis, the Chamber decided to order 28 Christmas tree decorations and two Santa Claus figures to be added to the Christmas decorations the C of C already has.

Bill Janeczek, president, said the Chamber of Commerce would greatly appreciate contributions from local people, business firms, clubs and organizations to assist the Chamber financially in the purchase of these decorations.

He said the Woman's Club of Aransas County already has contributed $100 for which the Chamber directors are grateful. Also, he said, the City of Rockport has indicated it will try to help if sales tax receipts exceed the anticipated figure which already has been budgeted.

Janeczek also announced the appointment of Joe Lister to the board to fill out the unexpired term of Delmar Hiller who now works in Corpus Christi, and the appointment of Joe Hugenberg as vice president in Hiller's place.

Susan Rojas Birthday Party

Susana Rojas was honored on her 11th birthday Sept. 1 by her mother, Mrs. C. Morales.

Refreshments of punch, cake, cookies, ice cream and candy were served to Vera, Terry and Tommy Huff, Lettie Rodriguez, Rudy, David, Norma and Christi Perez, Azmie and Danies Chupe, Donald, Sue-Sue and Rachel Thompson, Robert and Silvia Moreno.

a houseful of ways to save on your electric bill.

Be a waste-watcher. Make every kilowatt count.

If you're like most South Texans, you enjoy the conveniences of electric living. Cooling your home, cooking, cleaning and laundry are all made easier with electric energy. Only you know what electric helpers are necessary for your life.

Use all the electric power you need... but need what you use. Cut the waste and you'll cut the cost. It's really up to you how much you save on your electric bill. So that you can enjoy electric living at a budget price, here are some tips for efficient use of electric appliances.

AIR CONDITIONING

If your house is air-conditioned, turn the thermostat up a few degrees to 76 or 78.

Turn off your air conditioning if you're going to be away from home for a day or more. However, in humid areas you may want to leave it on at about 80 degrees to prevent excessive humidity build-up.

If you have window air conditioners, turn off units in rooms you're not using.

Clean or replace air conditioner filters every two weeks.

Lights and TV's add heat. Turn off those not actually being used. Save mopping, dishwashing, laundering and bathing for cooler morning or night hours.

IN YOUR KITCHEN

Cook foods at the lowest possible heat setting. They'll look better, and taste better.

Match pans to unit size to prevent waste. And remember, small appliances often do a better, more economical cooking job than your electric range.

Don't be an oven peeper. You lose up to 20% of your heat each time you open the oven door.

Don't open refrigerator or freezer door unnecessarily. Buy the size refrigerator-freezer that fits your needs. An over-large refrigerator or freezer wastes space and electricity.

A full load in your dishwasher is more economical. Do a day's dishes all at one time.

IN THE LAUNDRY

Wash and dry full loads in the washer and dryer.

Clean lint filters in both machines after each load.

Dry but don't overdry! Too much drying wastes energy, increases fabric wear and requires more ironing.

WATER HEATING

Turn off the big drip. A drippy hot water faucet uses gallons of hot water and is money down the drain. Showering uses less hot water than a tub bath.

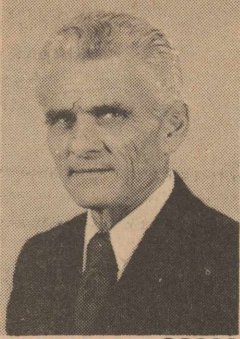

A special wall poster, entitled "The Electric Diet" with a list of energy-saving tips is available at all CPL offices along with booklets which tell you how to get the most efficient use of your air conditioning and other appliances.

If you have further questions about conserving energy, please call your CPL office. We're here to serve you.

OUTDOORS 'n things

by

For the last 15 or 20 years I have been quoting Aldo Leopold on things having to do with conservation. Dr. Leopold is known as The Father of Wildlife Conservation and aptly deserves the title. He was born in Iowa in 1887, and began his professional career in 1903, when he joined the U. S. Forest Service. In 1924 he was appointed Associate Director of the Forest Products Laboratory in Madison, Wisconsin. In 1933 the University of Wisconsin created a chair of game management for him. His death in 1948, fighting a grass fire on a neighbor's farm, was a blow to the whole conservation world. At the time of his death he was on assignment to the United Nations as advisor on conservation. In September, 1965, he was named to the National Wildlife Federation's Conservation Hall of Fame.

Every honor bestowed on Aldo Leopold was honestly earned, for his writings if for nothing else. He has left behind books, essays, and articles that will last as long as there are people who appreciate wise words on conservation or beautiful use of the English language.

For years I have heard about Leopold's book "A Sand County Almanac", but, you must admit, there is not much in the title to stir the imagination. I recently obtained a copy of it, however, and, once I started reading it, I couldn't put it down. It is a fine textbook on soil, water, and wildlife conservation, written so beautifully that it reads like a book-length poem.

For instance, he tells of a huge oak tree whose growth rings date back to 1865, that was killed by a bolt of lightning. As the tree is converted into firewood Leopold follows the saw as it cuts through the growth rings, and relates something of interest about the weather, the wildlife, or the plant community of the county that happened that particular year. When the tree falls you have had a comprehensive run-down on the conservation milestones, both good and bad, that the county has passed.

Leopold goes through the year, month by month, and discusses the wildlife and the plants that make themselves known during that period. He blends the activities of man into the picture to show how man, wildlife, and plants live together, and how each influences the other. All this is done so beautifully that you don't realize that you're being taught a series of lessons, but, nevertheless, you learn.

The last part of the book is made up of "Sketches Here and There", a series of essay-type conservation lessons that are just as beautifully done as the "Almanac". In these sketches he runs the gamut from wild yet peaceful rivers, to the delicate balance of nature in the desert, to the multiple uses of a wilderness area.

After just about every paragraph I would stop and think, "I wish I had written that". I can't say enough in the way the West" was one of the first musical organizations formed when the United States Air Force became a separate branch of the Armed Forces September 1947.

Currently one of the largest of the Air Force's musical units, the band is an official Air Training Command unit. The band furnishes music for military ceremonies, appropriate official and civilian functions and recreational and entertainment events.

In December 1968, the "Band of the West" received the Air Force Outstanding Unit Award for exceptionally meritorious service in community relations and military performances.

The "Band of the West" has gained national and international recognition through appearances and engagements in the western United States and the Republic of Mexico. The band is an annual attraction at the Texas State Fair at Dallas.

It has been the featured band at "Old Milwaukee Days," Milwaukee, Wis., and is annually featured at the "Fiesta de Amistad" celebration of the cities of Del Rio, Texas, and Ciudad Acuna, Mexico; and the "George Washington Celebration" observed by Laredo, Texas, and neighboring Nuevo Laredo, Mexico.

of recommendation of the book to anyone who is interested in conservation or who likes to read beautifully written things. It is available at just about any good book store in both hardback and paperback editions.

Police Chief Gives Auto Safety Advice

During the period of January 1 to September 11, a total of 104 reportable traffic accidents have been handled by the Rockport Police Department. This does not count the accidents on private property and minor fender benders.

According to Chief of Police James Craigmile, a large percentage of the accidents are due to driver error or driver inattention. "Driving is a full time job behind the wheel, it is no time to ponder your business or personal problems," he said, continuing: "Many of our accidents involve local people who have lived in Rockport for years. These motorists should know the local hazards and traffic regulations much better than visitors to our community."

"Each time an accident occurs, it costs in terms of time, money and inconvenience."

Chief Craigmile urges all drivers to help in reducing the traffic accident rate.

Some suggestions are:

1. Leave home early, then you can take your time getting to your destination.
2. Obey all traffic signs and regulations.
3. Adjust to road and weather conditions.
4. Be considerate toward other motorists.
5. Don't take unnecessary chances.

Chief Craigmile said: "Quite often my officers are informed by traffic violators that they should be out catching criminals"—Here it is well to remember that thousands of persons were killed in traffic accidents last year. And if you are the victim of a traffic fatality, then you are just as dead as you would be if a criminal shot you with a gun."

"So when you get behind the wheel, remember, 'DRIVE TO ARRIVE.'"

State 4-H Center To Be Built

Within the next few months a concerted effort will be made by all 4-H's in San Patricio and Aransas Counties to raise funds for a Texas 4-H Center. The Center will be located at Lake Brownwood on 78 acres of land donated to 4-H.

The Center will cost $1,500,000. Over one-half of this money has been and is being raised by 4-H members.

Design for the center will include a Main Hall, 12 cabins, swimming pool and a manager's residence. The center will house 196 people.

The Center will be used all year long. It will be used by both youth and adult groups.

This center will serve for all prominent 4-H activities in Texas. It will be the central facility for 4-H leaders and extension service personnel to use in emphasizing and developing 4-H programs through conferences and seminars. It will tion is scheduled on September 13 with the course beginning in October. Civilian personnel, GS 11 and above, and military officers are eligible to enroll.

This two year course is administered by the Industrial College of the Armed Forces (ICAF) and supports the national interest by increasing the knowledge of military and civilian executives who are or may be engaged in managing key national security programs. Classes will be held at the rate of about three per month through May.

There is no fee for this course; all it takes is your presence, interest and participation. Dr. Eugene Jekel, Associate Professor in the College of Education at Texas A&I University, Kingsville, will be in charge of the class.

For enrollment, contact Lt. James M. Jones in Corpus Christi at 855-8433 or Lt. Eugene Jekel in Kingsville at 592-5085.

Roberts - Starcic Unite

Miss Linda Ann Starcic and Kenneth Raymond Roberts were married September 1, 3:00 p.m. at the St. Mary's Star of the Sea Catholic Church in Aransas Pass. The Rev. Thomas Meany read the double ring vows. Mrs. Lois Lister, sister of the bride read selected scriptures of Genesis 2:18-24 and 1 Corinthians 12:31-13:8a. Mrs. H.E. McCullough was organist and she played "Love Story", "Because" and other traditional wedding music. Two baskets of white gladioli, trimmed with royal blue ribbon and bows decorated the church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Starcic, Aransas Pass and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Roberts, Lamar, Texas.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a formal length gown of white crepe and venetian lace, styled with long sleeves and empire bodice of lace. An organza caplet trimmed with lace held her illusion veil and she carried a bouquet of white daisies and white roses.

Juniors to Take Special Tests

This fall, juniors at Rockport - Fulton High School will have the opportunity to join over one million other students around the world in taking the "Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test/National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test" (PSAT/NMSQT) as an important step in making college plans.

This test, to be given here on October 23, is designed to measure verbal and mathematical aptitude—two abilities that research has shown to be important in doing college work.

In addition to helping a student find out more about himself and his abilities, the PSAT/NMSQT can lead to other opportunities. The PSAT/NMSQT "Student Bulletin," available from Mr. Padgett the high school counselor, will describe:

--how a student can enter the competition for scholarships administered by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation.
--how a student can enter his or her name in the College Board's Student Search Service (SSS) files so they can get information from colleges that may be looking for students with certain abilities.

To help students interpret and make the best use of test scores, they will receive a booklet called "Your PSAT/NMSQT Scores" with a score report which will explain how students can estimate SAT scores. Then, by using such College Board services as "The College Handbook" and "College Locator Service", students can compare themselves with enrolled students at hundreds of colleges and universities as well as find out their chances of getting into—and succeeding at—the colleges of their choice.

Gene Garcia of Rockport visits with Miss Hope of Pennsylvania, Lewis Spears of Austin, Chairman of Schools and Colleges Committee, and Dr. Jackson Giles of Corpus Christi, during the 28th Annual Meeting of the American Cancer Society held in Houston recently. Garcia, a delegate to the ACS meeting, said Miss Hope, Cecelia R. Evans was one of the featured speakers. Other speakers included Tom Landry, coach of the Dallas Cowboys and 1973 Texas Crusade Chairman. Mrs. Birch Bayh, wife of the Indiana Democratic Senator, and 1974 National Crusade Co-Chairman, also spoke at the meeting. Mrs. Bayh has devoted much of her time and energy to aiding ACS programs after undergoing a mastectomy in 1971.

Garcia said ACS research grants in Texas total over $1,700,000 and that 17,177 Texas cancer patients received services from the Society last year.

McDavid, Jr. Joins Insurance Firm

John M. McDavid, Jr. has joined the Rockport Insurance firm of Glass, Sorenson and McDavid. His father, John McDavid, Sr., is managing partner of the company which is located in the First National Bank building on Main Street.

The younger McDavid is a native of Rockport and a graduate of Rockport-Fulton High School where he was president of the Student Council. He was awarded two varsity letters in football, and was captain of the local team in his senior year.

McDavid attended Texas A&I University in Kingsville for one year before transferring to the University of Texas in Austin. While at A & I he was on the Dean's List for scholarship. At the University of Texas he majored in finance and was graduated with a Bachelor of Arts degree this spring. He is a member of Delta Tau Delta fraternity.

Recently McDavid was married to Margie McNorton of Rockport. They make their home on N. Austin Street, Rockport.

Get In Shape For Hunting Season

AUSTIN - You say your lease is all sewn up, your gun is oiled, your camping equipment is in top shape and you are sitting on your hands waiting for the hunting season to start?

Maybe you shouldn't be sitting, suggest Texas Parks and Wildlife Department officials.

Instead, walking and maybe even a little jogging would be better for your heart. According to the American Heart Association, 50 percent of all deaths in Texas are from cardiovascular diseases, heart attacks being the single greatest killer. Hunters, especially those with sedentary jobs, are prime candidates to become one of these statistics.

Part of every year's hunting preparations should also include a program geared at preparing the body for the rigorous days ahead.

Here are some tips from the American Heart Association which should help a few more hunters get safely home from their trip:

--Arrange to see your doctor before your trip. Discuss your plans with him and take his advice.

--Dress sensibly. Consider the climate both day and night. If you hunt at an altitude higher than where you live, start a few days early to get acclimated. Get adequate rest before the hunt starts. Don't hunt when exhausted. Plan your day of hunting and rest often.

--Know the approximate distance to be covered. Know the location of the nearest phone, doctor or emergency center.

--If you are already a heart patient, be sure one member of your party knows about your condition and the medicines you take. Never hunt alone.

--When you bag a heavy deer, get help in taking the animal out of the woods.

The checkup a few months before the hunt is most important. If your doctor okays it, start a training program to get yourself in shape.

B&PW District Conference Held

On September 8th and 9th District 13 of the Business and Professional Women's Clubs of Texas met at George West for the annual District conference. There were 82 delegates in attendance from the nine clubs in District 13, including Rockport, Alice, Beeville, Corpus Christi, Corpus Christi Downtown, George West, Kingsville, Robstown and Sinton.

Among those in attendance from the Rockport club were Loyce Ogle, president, Flo Griffith, first vice president, Virginia Shivers, Elsie Hawes, Kathy Rogers, Van Morgan, Dorothy Leslie and Patsy Parr. The conference was hosted by George West and chaired by Edna Borden of Corpus Christi, the District 13 Director. Maude Arnold of Fort Worth, the State Federation president, attended also.

Of great importance to the conference this year was the Homestead Amendments Nos. 2 and 3 which will be on the ballot this November. A keynote speech was given in definition of these two amendments which will 1) extend the homestead to include single men and women and prevent the abandonment of a homestead without the consent of both the husband and wife, and 2) extend the $3,000 state ad valorem tax exemption to the homesteads of single men and women and allow the city, county and school district taxing agencies to extend the homestead exemption to single men and women over the age of 65. It was pointed out the importance of these amendments to all B&PW Club members.

Rockport presented a workshop on public relations, by means of a skit, posters and a speech. This was presented by Kathy Rogers with the assistance of Flo Griffith, Elsie Hawes, Van Morgan and Patsy Parr.

Other activities included the report of the various club presidents on the activities of their clubs for the year 1972-73 with plans for the 1973-74 club year. Rockport was proud to announce the formation of a Nike Club and the awarding of a $500 scholarship.

Concerned Women Sponsor Many Worthwhile Projects

An evaluation of emergency medical resources tentatively was adopted as a new project by the Concerned Women of Aransas County, at the organization's meeting Sept. 5 at the Fellowship Hall of the United Methodist Church.

Current programs in progress under sponsorship of the group also were reviewed by Ruth Langham, president.

Mrs. Langham reported that a total of 80 placements were made during the summer months under the organization's YES (Youth Employment Service) project.

In this project the women's group brought together students looking for part-time or summer employment and individuals and businesses requiring their services.

The Community Referral Service, a continuing project of the group, also was reviewed and tentative plans were made to expand the program to include resource assistance to young people on Saturday mornings on questions concerning drugs, pregnancies and venereal disease.

Volunteers have provided by telephone and through the Concern Center at 114 N. Church St. information about resources, services and facilities within the county.

In assessing the group's work thus far, Mrs. Langham said that "money is not the problem" explaining that some $700 has been raised through the "Castaways" project -- a used clothing collections center and outlet.

"It's getting a finger on the pulse of the community," she said, referring to the problem faced by the relatively new organization.

Mrs. Langham said the most "concrete" project undertaken by Concerned Women to date was Y. E. S. This project will be continued through the school year through contact with the high school counselor.

The proposal for evaluating emergency medical resources developed during a discussion among members of the group on the difficulty of reaching a physician during weekends. John Leslie, a member of the recently organized Rockport

Post High School Education Grants Are Available

COLLEGE STATION -- High school graduates desiring to further their education and who need financial assistance to do so may now apply for grants to fund part of this training.

Under a new federal program, the Basic Educational Opportunity Grants Program, interested students may apply for grants that will pay up to one-half of their educational costs, points out Dr. Warren Mauk, 4-H and youth specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The Extension Service, through its county agents, has applications for the grants as well as additional information on the program. Applications are also available at post offices, high schools and state employment offices.

"The new program provides an excellent opportunity for students to enroll in colleges and universities as well as in vocational or technical schools," says Mauk. "However, the program in which the student enrolls must require a high school diploma and must be at least six months in duration."

"Students must be entering a post-secondary educational program for the first time after July 1, 1973 and on a full-time basis. And grants must be applied for annually. Applications for the 1973-74 school year may be submitted until next February."

According to the Texas A&M University System specialist, the amount of the grants are based on the cost of the program in which the student enrolls and the ability of the student or his family to pay for the training.

The issuance of the grants will not be influenced by scholarships or other sources of funding.

The organization was ready and willing to consider the sponsorship of any project of concern and need in the county.

Guidelines For Consumers Purchasing Meat In Mexico

The U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) has issued guidelines for consumers who bring meat back to the United States from Mexico.

Leo G. K. Iverson, deputy administrator of USDA's Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service (APHIS), said officials are concerned that consumers who are now going into Mexico to buy meat will purchase more than the 50 pounds for personal use that can be brought back into the U. S. Any excess may have to be seized and destroyed at the border, causing a loss to consumers.

"APHIS inspectors routinely examine meat from Mexico being brought through our border stations in amounts smaller than 50 pounds," Mr. Iverson said. "But the Federal Meat Inspection Act prohibits entry of foreign meat in amounts in excess of 50 pounds per person, unless certified for export by the foreign country and inspected by a U. S. meat inspector."

In addition to the general restrictions on foreign meat, animal health regulations currently prohibit the importation of any fresh pork, poultry and eggs from Mexico. Pork and live hogs are prohibited because of the danger of their carrying hog cholera -- a highly infectious swine disease.

Likewise, poultry and eggs are not allowed entry into the United States because of the possibility that they may carry exotic Newcastle disease, which affects poultry and other birds. USDA officials have been working to eradicate an outbreak of this disease in southern California for the past 17 months.

Mayor Addresses Rotary Club

Financing and managing the city of Rockport was discussed by Mayor Walter S. Falk, Jr., at a luncheon meeting of Rotary Club Sept. 3 at the Sandollar Restaurant.

He declared it is the policy of the administration to demonstrate its financial responsibility by living within its budget and using resources of the city in the most economical way possible.

Falk said present real and personal property evaluation for city tax purposes totals $8,030,934. From this source approximately $120,000 in tax revenue is anticipated, while the remainder of the municipal departments such as sewer and water, and from the city's share of the state sales tax.

He estimated that approximately 95 per cent of the taxes levied by the city would be collected. City water is bought from the Aransas County Conservation and Reclamation District and then sold by the city to home and industrial users. The mayor said the city's share of state sales taxes has increased, and that federal revenue sharing has enabled the city to make a number of investments in needed equipment. Of federal revenue sharing, $30,196 already has been appropriated, while $30,361 remains on hand for emergencies.

Falk briefly reviewed present status of various city departments. He said that due to leaks and other mechanical problems, at first the city was not able to recoup the amount paid the water district for water distributed by the city. However, with reduction in leakage and an increase in retail water rates this has been corrected and the water department is now operating in the black.

Capacity of the city's sewage plant soon will be doubled to a million gallons a day, sufficient for the immediate future. However, in anticipation of a population increase with its expanded demands, application has been made for federal funds to again double the plant's capacity at some later date when it is needed, Falk pointed out that early application for federal assistance was important in establishing priority.

Last year a 6 per cent raise in salaries was given city employees in an effort to stabilize employment and to put them on a par with employees of nearby communities. Falk said this was especially important in retaining policemen who in the past have been lured away by higher salaries. The police department now numbers five, including the chief, a sergeant and two patrolmen. A temporary patrolman also will be hired soon, he said.

The mayor said it is hoped to make the street department self-sustaining with improvements to be paid out of income. This already is true of garbage department, he said, adding that contracts have been awarded for solid waste disposal in an area near Sinton. Fees collected from homeowners and business firms using this service will pay the cost, he explained. As to water and sewage service, Mayor Falk said recent large scale extensions of the system have been paid for by the users such as Rockport Racquet and Yacht Club and Key Allegro. This arrangement resulted in no cash outlay by the city, he said.

Falk spoke with pride of recent improvements at city parks, especially new Memorial Park. He also pointed out that only $5,100 a year was spent on fees for the city council and mayor. He claimed this is a remarkably low figure for this department of city government.

The Lieutenant Governor's Report

By BILL HOBBY

AUSTIN -- Most Texas veterans are well aware of the benefits available to them from the GI Bill.

This federal program has provided hundreds of thousands of former servicemen and women with money for education.

It also enabled thousands of veterans to buy homes with government-guaranteed loans. What many veterans do not realize is that the State of Texas has a similar program in grateful recognition of their service.

The Texas Veterans Land Program so far has helped almost 50,000 former servicemen purchase tracts of land. Since 1948, the state has loaned $400 million to help Texas veterans buy 3.5 million acres of land.

Under the program, the Veterans Land Board buys a minimum of 10 acres for the veteran. He then pays for the land in semi-annual installments for 40 years, although the principal may be pre-paid without penalty.

The maximum loan is $10,000. However, the veteran may pay the difference in cash if the tract costs more.

The veteran pays only five and a half (5-1/2) per cent interest on the money. At today's interest rates, that is a real bargain.

To be eligible for the program, you must have served no less than 90 consecutive days in the military between September 16, 1940, and the end of U.S. military involvement in Vietnam. Persons receiving a dishonorable discharge are not eligible.

Persons on active duty also are eligible even though they may be stationed outside the state. The chairman of the Veterans Land Board is Bob Armstrong, commissioner of the General Land Office. You may write him care of the Veterans Land Board, Austin, Texas 78701 for the materials and information necessary to make application.

I urge all veterans to become informed about the benefits of this program. And I ask all Texas to join me in supporting the continuation of the Texas Veterans Land Program.

On the ballot this November, Proposition Seven seeks the constitutional authority to extend the lending authority of the Veterans Land Board by $100 million.

Without this additional lending authority, Commissioner Armstrong estimates that the program will have to be curtailed toward the end of this year.

The Texas Veterans Land Program is not tax-supported. It is paid for by the veterans who participate in it.

I believe the continuation of this program is the least we can do to show our thanks to the men and women who have given so unselfishly of their service to our state and nation.

Morrison Reunion

There was much excitement, conversation and good food as the Morrison clan gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Leslie over the Labor Day weekend. It has been over a year and a half since they had all been together.

Sgt. and Mrs. W. T. Buchholz (Marilyn) and their children, Wesley and Sandra have just returned to Texas to make their home -- Bill retired from the Marine Corps on Aug. 31st after 20 years service-- and they wish to reside in Texas so he is at present looking for a job in this area as a machinist. They will make this their headquarters until he finds employment, meanwhile taking a few days to see his folks in Garland and running down prospects in Houston.

Also present: Mr. and Mrs. Ed Morrison and sons Ronnie, Kenny and Tommy of San Antonio; Mr. and Mrs. Hugh (Bubba) Morrison of Houston; Mr. and Mrs. Bob Morrison of Portland with their daughters Deana and Ann; from Rockport -- Rusty and Ricky Morrison and Jeannette and Cecil Lang, and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Morrison.
