Bloody Clean-Up Made On Guam; Jap Isles Hit

By J. B. KRUEGER
Associated Press War Editor

Japan has broken her steady string of defeats in the Pacific, Burma and India with the capture of Hengyang, vital Chinese city from which the Japanese can drive south to split China in two.

Chungking received a message from Hengyang's garrison commander saying his Chinese troops, who had clung doggedly to the surrounded city far six weeks, had been slain almost to the last man. "I am afraid this may be my last mesage to you," he added.

Important Jap Victory

This most important Japanese victory in China since 1938 cleared most of the way for Nippon's army to close a 170-mile Chinese-held gap on the Hankow-Peiping railroad.

Nowhere else did Japan have the upper hand. Extermination of the last Japanese was in full swing on Guam, now after two years reclaimed by U. S. forces under Adm. Chester Nimitz. Warships and planes poured explosives on Japanese remnants trapped in a 15-square-mile area of northern Guam, while Marines and soldiers drove wedges into their lines in order to hack them to pieces.

Only Bloody Clean-Up Left

More than 10,000 enemy dead have been counted. The island, third of the Marianas group to fall, has been in American use for several days. Only the clean-up, bloody as it may be, remains.

In the New Guinea area Gen. Japan's air strength at Halmahera, stepping stone to the Philippines, in a 48-ton raid wiping out 13 grounded planes and damaging many others.

Islands Are Raided

On New Guinea American troops split trapped Japanese units into three segments. This operation, beginning July 10, has cost the Japanese from 4,000 to 9,000 men and apparently has foiled the enemy atempt to break free of the trap near Aitape.

Conspiracy In Strike Charged

Grand Jury Opens Philadelphia Probe

(By The Associated Press)

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 9—U. S. District Judge George A. Welsh told a special investigating grand jury today that Philadelphia's six-day transit strike may have been called "to have some effect on the impending national election."

The jurist, in a 40-minute charge, said he did not believe the upgrading of eight negro transit employes to operating jobs was the real cause of the unauthorized walkout. Strike spokesmen had said it was.

Biddle Makes Charge

"I don't want to bring politics into this investigation," Judge Welsh said, "but you may find that what was in the hearts and minds of the men who called this strike was intended to have some effect on the impending national election."

Attorney General Biddle, who ordered the grand jury probe, said at Billings, Mont., last night, as he traveled west, that he believed there was a "conspiracy" behind the walkout. He did not elaborate.

Negroes Resume Training

The negro workers resumed their training for trolley operating jobs today, two days after the Army crushed the walkout, which had slashed war production and caused negroes and white men to fight in the streets.

Assistant U. S. Attorney Edward A. Kelly indicated the jury was prepared to go beyond provisions of the Smith-Connally anti-strike act.

"We might find a conspiracy to sabotage the war effort," he said, "in which case we would not be confined to the Smith-Connally act, but would then proceed under the more drastic provisions of the second war powers act, which carries much more drastic penalties."

Strikers Defy Union Officials

DETROIT, Aug. 9 (AP) — United Automobile Workers (CIO) officials sought in vain today to persuade 7,000 strikers to return to their jobs at five plants of the Chevrolet gear and axle division of General Motors Corp.

Union heads promised to "make every effort" to get the employes back to work, but expressed little optimism over their task unless the National War Labor board reverses a regional WLB order upholding the discharge of seven officers of local 235.

Walter P. Reuther, vice president and director of the UAW-CIO General Motors department, accused the corporation of "entire responsibility" for the renewal of the strike yesterday after production was resumed for one day following an eleven-day stoppage.

WLB Is Blamed

At a show cause hearing he placed part of the blame for continuance of the second strike on the regional WLB for "double-talk" and "hedging" in not ordering the seven workers reinstated, as he said had been assured was a condition of terminating the first walkout.

Harry B. Coen, labor relations director for the company, said increased production rates, which precipitated the original walkout, were set after time studies with the union and were low enough for women to meet without complaint.

"Only six people, I understand, were sent home for failure to keep up the production rate," Coen declared. Reuther retorted that the production rates were in violation of the contract and that the six were fired — not just sent home.

Gen. Merrill Given New Assignment

SOUTHEAST ASIA HEADQUARTERS, Kandy, Ceylon, Aug. 9. (U.P.)—Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell announced today that Brig. Gen. Frank Merrill, who led "Merrill's Marauders" on a 700-mile jungle trek through northern Burma that paved the way for the capture of Myitkyina, has been transferred to the China-India-Burma liaison group at Southeast Asia headquarters because of his health.

Stilwell's announcement came four days after Army authorities disclosed an almost complete breakdown in the morale of Merrill's Marauders after the long, arduous march through the northern Burma mountains culminating in the seizure of the Myitkyina airfield.

Executions To Shake German Army Gravely

Move May Bring Full Collapse Of Reich Soon

BY JOSEPH W. GRIGG
United Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Aug. 9—Adolf Hitler's vindictive execution of eight high ranking army "traitors" will shake the German army to its core and may bring on the complete military collapse of the Reich in the very near future, Allied military intelligence sources predicted today.

Public hanging of the eight officers, including a field marshal, after a secret, two-day trial indicated these sources said, that Hitler is deliberately making the German army the scapegoat for Germany's defeat in a last desperate attempt to save himself and his Nazi aides.

Know War Is Lost

The effect on the wehrmacht, thousands of whose professional officers know the war is lost and who probably sympathized with the July 20 attack on Hitler, was expected to become increasingly evident during the next three or four weeks, when Paris seems likely to fall.

Some students of Germany believe it highly possible that the wehrmacht's morale may deteriorate so rapidly as to bring about a final collapse in six to eight weeks.

The Nazis, these sources said, now want to convince the German people that the party remained steadfast to the end and would have won the war but for sabotage and betrayal in the highest army quarters—the exact reverse of the legend so carefully built

Seventeen Die In Plane Crash

HAVANA, Aug. 9 (U.P.) — The office of the Pan American Airways at Antilla, Cuba, said today that 17 passengers were known to be dead as divers began removing bodies from the four motored clipper which crashed in Nipe Bay at Antilla during a takeoff yesterday for Miami.

Six bodies were recovered. Fourteen persons, including five crew members, escaped from the aircraft. Eleven were listed as missing.

The accident was the wost in Cuban aviation history. The clipper, en route from San Juan, P. R., to Miami, was turned over by a high wave while attempting to take off.

Airways officials at San Juan said all but two of the passengers who boarded the plane there were residents of Puerto Rico. The two were Cassie Henry, Richmond, Va., reported missing, and Gladys Vazquez, New York City, who was among those rescued.

Rough Waters Barred Takeoff

Sixto O. Bonilla, a federal guard at Buchanan, P. R., who was aboard, told the United Press that the rough waters of Nipe Bay apparently prevented the pilot from lifting the plane in the air. As the wave hit, the ship flipped

Allied Headquarters Moved From Algiers

ROME, Aug. 9. (AP) — Gen. Sir Henry Maitland Wilson, supreme Allied commander in the Mediterranean theater, announced today that Allied force headquarters were moved from Algiers to Italy last month. The job required 19 days and the transportation of hundreds of thousands of tons of supplies and equipment.

Two Soviet Armies Open Riga Battle

Noose Tightened On Remnants Of 20 To 30 Nazi Divisions Trapped In Baltics

(By The United Press)

MOSCOW, Aug. 9.—Two Red armies opened the battle for Riga and tightened their encirclement of the remnants of 20 to 30 German divisions in the Baltic states today with converging drives through swamps and massive forests on the southeastern and southern approaches to the Latvian capital.

Front dispatches said the 1st and 2nd Soviet Baltic armies already have won the first round by smashing the most powerful German attempt yet to break out of the Baltic trap and by knocking out more than three German divisions in a fighting advance across the Aiviekstes river 65 miles southeast of Riga.

Nazis Hurl In Reserves

Despite their initial setbacks, the Germans continued to hurl reserves, including guards regiments, into battle to contest every yard of ground on the Luban plains marking the approaches to Riga. Battles raged for every strong point, dispatches said, and in some sectors the Germans were counterattacking a dozen or more times a day.

Only by penetrating the marshes and forests lacing the Luban plains have the Russians been able to execute sweeping flanking maneuvers that cracked the enemy's main bastions, the army organ Red Star said.

Informed military observers said the Germans' Baltic armies apparently have decided against an attempt to escape by sea and intend to fight it out on land. The eventual collapse and destruction of the enemy units is certain, they said.

The Germans counterattacked at least 40 times yesterday with six infantry divisions and strong panzer forces around Bizal, 57 miles south-southeast of Riga, but failed to pierce the Soviet ring of encirclement and finally began to retreat after losing 6,000 killed and 1,350 captured.

Closely pursuing a battered enemy, Gen. C. Bagramian's 1st Baltic army then resumed its offensive and captured more than 80 towns and villages in a 14-mile advance northward to N. Radvisliskis, 45 miles south-southeast of Riga.

Simultaneously, Gen. Andrei I. Yerkenko's 2nd Baltic army captured Krustpils, Latvian railway hub 70 miles southeast of Riga, and advanced another eight miles to the northwest through Aiviekstes, 6 miles southeast of the capital.

Reds Hit Open Plains

Crossing the Aiviekstes river, the Russians emerged onto open plains stretching northeast to Riga. No formidable natural obstacles remained in the path of either the 2nd army or of the 1st army in their converging advances toward Riga. The 2nd army killed 2,000 Germans at Krustpils, junction of

Delay Seen In Ending Strike

FDR Due To Act In Truck Tieup

(By The United Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9—President Roosevelt was expected today to take early action to end the nation's second major transportation strike in two weeks—the midwestern truckers tie-up that has halted operations of 112 firms in eight states.

At Washington, however, it appeared that there would be further delay in government action to end the strike because a group of interested agencies still were studying the dispute. The agencies, including the Office of Defense transportation and Economic Stabilization Director Fred M. Vinson, will decide whether there is any way of settling the strike without government seizure of the lines.

The strike began last week when members of the general drivers union (AFL) began leaving their trucks because of refusal of their employers, the Midwest Operators association, to pay wage increases of seven cents an hour and three tenths of a cent mileage rates ordered by the WLB. The employers contend they could not pay the increases and remain in business.

Papers Delayed

In the earlier transportation strike, the Philadelphia transit workers' walkout, the president ordered Army seizure of the struck facilities and within four days the workers were back on the job.

The critical stage reached by the truckers strike appeared to be partly traceable to the failure of a July 12 WLB request for White House action to reach the White House until late yesterday.

The question of the whereabouts of the papers bearing the request developed Saturday when the first walkouts began. The WLB thought the White House had them. Reporters called the White House Monday to see what action was planned, and Byrnes' office was understood to have made a hurry call to the WLB, asking where the papers were.

Found In Justice Department

That was the first intimation the WLB had that the papers it had voted to send to the White House 26 days ago, had not ar-

Loophole Cited In Gasoline Rationing

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9. (AP) — There is a loophole in the national gasoline rationing program big enough to fly a sports biplane through.

Owners of private airplanes can demand enough gasoline to carry them on a vacation trip to the Yellowstone or a fishing trip to Florida, and their local ration boards must hand them the requested rations.

The only requisite is that the gasoline be used in the plane, not an automobile.

Officials of the Office of Price administration conceded today they are helpless to do anything about the situation under present regulation. Conferences have been held, however, looking toward a possible revision of the rule.

Flying clubs and other spokesmen for the private plane owners declare the amount of gasoline their ships use is negligible when compared with the nation's overall gasoline consumption. OPA has no way of ascertaining just how much gasoline the private fliers use, as their gallonage is lumped with other non-highway use fuel, including that used in stoves, motorboats, tractors and stationary engines. There are 22,367 licensed planes in operation.

Some Stoves To Be Made Ration-Free

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9. (AP) — The first stoves will be removed from rationing Aug. 15 when coalwood laundry stoves and gas ranges with non-metallic outside back or side panels come off the rationed list, the Office of Price administration announced today.

Nationwide rationing of stoves went into effect about a year ago.

Couple Gets Damages From Chemical Firm

AUSTIN, Aug. 9 (U.P.) — Mr. and Mrs. George H. Shafer were awarded $84,595 damages against International Minerals and Chemical corporation, a war plant manufacturing magnesium, in a verdict on special issues in 98th district court here last night.

Shafer, a geologist, owned and lived on a 110-acre farm adjoining the plant erected by War Plant corporation north of Austin. Illness, loss of earning power, and damages to stock and property, all were claimed in the suit to have resulted from discharge of waste chemicals that polluted water on the farm.

Bombers Hit War Targets In Nazi Homeland

Stuttgart, Balkan Areas Hit By Heavy Force

LONDON, Aug. 9. (AP) — More than 2,000 American heavy bombers and fighters from Britain and Italy attacked war targets today in Germany, Hungary and Yugoslavia while hundreds of planes slashed at bridges behind the French battle zone and exploded a huge ammunition dump.

About 750 Flying Fortresses and Liberators with an equal number of fighter escorts flew through soupy weather from England and cast explosives on undisclosed objectives around Stuttgart, "the Detroit of Germany," and in other sectors of southern Germany. Clouds were three miles thick.

French Bridges Hit

American Marauders and Havocs bombed six French bridges at noon. Five were across the Oise north of Paris. A German radar station in the Argentan-Alencon area also was attacked.

Italy-based American heavy bombers struck oil and plane facilities in Hungary and the Brod railway yards in Yugoslavia.

The U. S. Ninth air force announced that its fighter bombers supporting ground forces yesterday destroyed 51 tanks and damaged 22, mostly between Mortain and Vire and around newly-captured Le Mans. In the thousand sorties the Ninth flew yesterday, the fighter bombers destroyed 138 other vehicles, 34 gun emplacements, 63 railroad cars and two locomotives.

Treason Trial Nearing Close

DENVER, Aug. 9 (AP) — The prosecution concluded its case today in the treason trial of three Japanese-American sisters accused of helping two German prisoners of war to escape from the Trinidad, Colo., internment camp last fall.

Defense Attorney Kenneth Robinson was expected to ask for a directed verdict of acquittal. He had announced he would make such a request.

The defendants are Mrs. Billie Shitara Tanigoshi, 32; Mrs. Tsuruko Wallace, 35, and Mrs. Florence Shivze Otani, 33. After both attorneys and witnesses stumbled over the Japanese names, usual judicial formality was relaxed and they were addressed by use of their nicknames of "Billie," "Toots" and "Flo," respectively.

Women Maintain Composure

Throughout the two previous days of the trial, the women have maintained "poker face" composure, displaying little emotion even when the two Germans, who were recaptured shortly after their escape, testified against them.

Maps which an FBI fingerprint expert testified bore fingerprints of two of the sisters have not

Airlines Route Here Opposed

TWA, Braniff Join Against American

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9. — Attorneys for Transcontinental and Western Air, Inc., and for Braniff Airways, Inc., today took issue with recommendations by Civil Aeronautics board (CAB) examiners that American Airlines be permitted to serve additional cities in the Southwest including Oklahoma City and Tulsa, Okla.

Examiners had recommended that American be allowed to extend service from El Paso, Texas, to Tulsa via Lubbock and Wichita Falls, Texas, and Oklahoma City and that it also be allowed to extend its route from Little Rock, Ark., to Oklahoma City by way of Fort Smith, Ark., Muskogee, Okla., and Tulsa.

TWA Permit Opposed

The examiners also proposed that the CAB, deny TWA's application for service between St. Louis and Amarillo by way of Joplin, Mo., Tulsa and Oklahoma City and that American be allowed to include Joplin as an intermediate stop between Tulsa and Springfield, Mo.

They suggested that Braniff's application be denied for service between Memphis, Oklahoma City and El Paso; that Chicago and Southern Airlines be allowed to include Little Rock on a Pine Bluff, Ark., to Shreveport, La., route and that Delta Air corporation be authorized to extend service from Birmingham, Ala., to Memphis, Tenn., by way of Tupelo, Miss.

Leonard P. Moore, TWA attorney, told the CAB during today's

Question Raised On Deal With Britain

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9. (AP) — Chairman Connally (D-Tex) called the Senate foreign relations committee together today on the question of whether the Anglo-American oil agreement should be subject to Senate approval.

The agreement was signed yesterday by Acting Secretary of State Stettinius for this country and Lord Beaverbrook for Britain.

It leaves open the question of final form, and both sides appear to expect that the pact will go into effect as an executive agreement.

However, the door was not closed for its submission to the Senate as a treaty. Some members of the Senate committee say they see no necessity for ratification, especially since the pact is considered temporary pending an international agreement with all countries interested in oil.

American diplomats say the main piece of work now is to begin conversations with Russia, which has indirectly indicated a desire to export up to 150 million barrels of oil yearly after the war. The Soviet Union has imported some petroleum during the war, but normally is well able to supply its own needs.

Berlin Reports Allies In 87 Miles Of Paris

Second Nazi Line On Road To Paris Broken Near Caen

(By The Associated Press)

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS Allied Expeditionary Force, Aug. 9—Lt.-Gen. Omar N. Bradley's American First army swept straight through Le Mans today and stormed still unchecked into the last hundred miles to Paris.

An official announcement of complete occupation of the big road and rail junction city made it clear that U. S. armor was firmly beyond the city, 110 miles southwest of Paris, and a German broadcast said fast spearheads were only 87 miles from the French capital.

Canadians on the east flank meanwhile had smashed 16 miles below Caen through the Germans' second defense line, and crunched on the approaches to Falaise, only four miles away, a communicalons center essential to the whole eastern shoulder of the German line.

23 Miles Past Le Mans

The Germans pictured the American avalanche as already 23 miles beyond Le Mans, easily possible since the doughboys had not yet run into solid resistance, and there was no indication where, short of Paris, the Germans might be able to check them.

A front dispatch said the Germans in Le Mans were taken by surprise while making a hasty and futile effort to fortify the city.

The Canadian plunge carried within four miles of Falaise, itself only 65 miles above Le Mans. The Allied wings were curling around the bulk of the German army, threatening to pocket it.

Other U. S. troops battering southward neared Angers on the Loire river, 50 miles inland from the river port of Nantes and 80 miles southwest of Le Mans.

Broadens U. S. Front

This broadened the U. S. front in France to some 80 miles. Enemy resistance in the Loire push was reported light.

On the Breton peninsula, doughboys charged into the outer defenses of the great port of Brest after the German garrison refused a surrender ultimatum. Lt.-Gen. Karl Spang, commanding the German 266th infantry, was captured near Brest.

Both the Americans and Canadians were within little more than 100 miles—and perhaps closer—to Paris in a great pincers drive on the French capital.

The Allies apparently had split

Reconversion Rift Widens

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9 (AP)—Republican protests that the Murray-Kilgore reconversion plan could be used to set up a fat political machine sounded in Congress today. There also was some talk of a compromise settlement of the row over federal payments to displace war workers.

Senator Ferguson (R-Mich) declared "there never was a bigger political opportunity than that created" by one section of the measure providing for six months of vocational training for idle workers at government expense, with trainees to be allowed $50 to $100 a month for subsistence.

Could Select Anyone

"The proposed work administrator could select anyone for training at government expense; there would be nothing to prevent the selection from being political," Ferguson told reporters.

But Senator Wagner (D-NY) contended that "state bureaucrats" are opposing the Murray-Kilgore measure because they fear that federal participation in post-war unemployment benefits would curb their own political power.

"These state bureaucrats forget that it is the greatest good for the greatest number we are after—not the preservation of their jobs, their prestige or their po-

Texas' General Election Vote This Year May Top 1,250,000

BY GORDON K. SHEARER
United Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, Aug. 9 — A vote of more than 1,250,000 was visioned here today for the general election in Texas on Nov. 7.

Last presidential election year, the general election vote in the state was 1,116,863 according to Texas election bureau returns on the Roosevelt-Willkie race. Official returns were much less, 33 counties failing to file returns in time.

In the recent July 22, Democratic primary election the total vote cast was 823,460. Many communities, particularly Houston and San Antonio polled but a small part of their voting strength. The same was true in Jefferson county with a heavy possible vote in Beaumont and Port Arthur.

Little Change In Population

Latest population figures show little change in Texas' total. Many persons have come to the state to work in war plants but many former Texans have gone into service or to industries elsewhere.

Whether this heightens the chances of the Republicans to get votes for the Dewey-Bricker ticket was worrying some of the

"Paris" Is Magic Word Among Yanks Driving Through France On "Highway To Victory"

By HENRY T. GORRELL
United Press War Writer

ON THE ROAD TO PARIS, Aug. 9.—Paris is the name that you see and hear and feel everywhere along this road which the swift American motorized advance is making a highway to victory.

"Paris" read the big signboards at the road intersections.

A German paratrooper stopped me on the road between Laval and Le Mans to offer surrender and ask for water and information.

"Paris, yah," he said, "it is said that Paris will soon be declared an open city. You have reached Le Mans, yah, yah. The German army is now kaput (finished)."

From Paris, Tenn.

"Paris," shouted Pvt. Wayne P. Redden of the U. S. Army as I found him edging through the streets of Loue to attack a German resistance pocket. "Paris, Tennessee. That's where I'm from, brother."

And then he shouted back over his shoulder:

"You can tell the folks back in Paris, Tenn., that I'm personally willing to bet we'll be in Paris, France, in the next 10 days."

You can read it somehow in the taut faces of the troops as they deploy to wipe out a German suicide squad planted along the highway to delay our eastern spearheads. Somehow it's a victory symbol.

This is an amazing march up the broad national highway from Brittany. It moves at a speed that is breath-taking. Town after town flashes under the treads of the giant Shermans—some shattered and aflame after stiff German resistance but more of them un-

Tiny Cub Survives Bout With FW 190s

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

WITH THE AEF IN FRANCE, July 26 (Delayed)—Eight German Focke Wulfs dived from the clouds on a lone unarmed Piper Cub flown by Lt. Homer W. "Benny" Bennett but when the battle was over, two enemy planes had been destroyed. The rest had turned tail and the little "sky jeep" was waggling home to its landing pasture with four bullets in its frame.

Bennett and his observer, Lt. Edwin M. Maxey, of Lincoln, Neb., were weaving over the battlefront looking for German gun positions upon which they could call down artillery fire.

Eight FWs Swarmed In

"We were flying at two thousand feet," said Bennett who lives in Sioux Falls, Iowa, "and the first thing I knew eight FW190's were swarming around me, two coming directly toward me firing and a couple more from the sides. There was a terrific clatter from the engines and guns. I thought I was a goner."

Bennett began what his commanding officer afterward described as "some of the most daring and brilliant flying of the war," he turned his "grasshopper" into the first two planes making a pass at him, causing them to overshoot. That gave him a chance to lose altitude.

"I did some dives, wingovers and some other stuff that's never been named trying to get into the protection of our ack-ack batteries," he said, "and I wanted to get back on the ground. That's the only safe place."

Two Nazis Downed

He slipped from beneath the nose of one over-eager Nazi plane and it crashed into the ground and burst into flames. The friendly ack-ack knocked down another German and then some wandering P47 Thunderbolts pitched in on his side and sent the rest of the Nazis racing back toward Berchtesgaden.

"Benny made the Jerries look sick," said observer Maxey. "I just sat there and held on to keep from being thrown out while Benny went through his acrobatics in a magnificent job of flying."

They went home and the bad bullet patches were repaired and a few hours later went on another mission.

Bennett, who holds the air medal for 35 combat sorties in Normandy, had only one regret about the whole adventure.

"We would have given anything," he said, "to have been in one of those Thunderbolts with some belts full of bullets."

Familyhood Strikes Around Movie Set

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 9 (AP) — Did someone ask "What's in a name?"

Well, Sol Lesser started a film called "Three Is A Family." First, Hattie McDaniel, the negro character actress, announced she was expecting her first baby in the fall.

Then Mrs. Arthur Lake, wife of the leading man, said she was due for motherhood, also in the fall or early winter. Then Henry and Phoebe Ephron, who wrote the screen play, became parents of a baby girl.

And yesterday Cindy, a cat that had been hanging around the set, gave birth to three kittens.

Candidates For GOP Selected

DALLAS, Aug. 9 (AP)—On record today is a state Republican platform suggesting reforms in state and county government, in addition to the nomination of a Tyler railroad man, B. J. Peasley, for Republican candidate for governor.

Three hundred delegates to the state GOP convention here yesterday named a full slate of state candidates, except for the office of agriculture commissioner, and adopted a platform which called for a state cabinet named by the governor, with secretaries of state, commerce, natural resources, agriculture, labor, education, and finance and an attorney general.

Republican congressional nominees in ten districts also were selected by caucuses of delegates, with the nominations due to be confirmed at district conventions held Aug. 26.

Peasley is superintendent of motive power for the St. Louis Southwestern railway (Cotton Belt), with headquarters at Tyler.

Approve McDonald

Nomination for the position of state commissioner of agriculture, now held by J. E. McDonald, was left blank "because we approve him so much," said L. J. Benckenstein, Beaumont, chairman of the convention nominations committee.

Other state candidates are John A. Donaldson, Victoria, for lieutenant governor; H. L. McCune, El Paso, attorney general; Carl G. Stearns, Houston, associate justice, supreme court; Mark K. Hance, San Antonio, judge, court of criminal appeals; Charles B. Zuber, Dallas, state comptroller; Reno Eichenroth, Seguin, land commissioner; Mrs. Hugh Exum, Amarillo, state treasurer, and Miss Margaret Conger, Waco, state superintendent of public instruction.

Declines Nomination

Roy B. Jones, Wichita Falls oilman, declined to accept the nomination for railroad commissioner. Claud Ferguson, Paris flour mill operator, was nominated.

Congressional nominees are: second district, Lamar Cecil, Beaumont; third district, O. P. Stephens, Winnsboro; fifth district, Charles D. Turner, Dallas; sixth district, Charles W. Beck, Hillsboro; seventh, J. Perrin Willis, Rusk; eighth, Lester B. Robinson, Houston; eleventh, Charles R. Nelson, Clifton; thirteenth, L. C. Tankers Delivered By Inland Waterway

NEW YORK, Aug. 9 (AP) — A new, short route for delivery of ocean-going vessels from Great Lakes shipyards to South America was inaugurated recently when seven 350-foot oil tankers completed the 2,247-mile inland waterway passage from Duluth, Minn., to New Orleans, it was disclosed today.

The tankers, built for the Standard Oil company of New Jersey, are now in service between Lake Maracaibo, Venezuela, and refineries at Aruba and Curacao off the Venezuelan coast.

The tankers descended 600 feet from the starting point in Lake Superior to the gulf — 200 feet by use of ten locks, and the remaining 400 feet through the natural descent of the Mississippi river to New Orleans.

The San Joaquin, first ship to set out, made the trip in 20 days. Its maiden voyage, the company report said, "was packed with thrills" because in spite of exhaustive studies on every phase of the voyage "there was always a chance that calculations would go awry."

Chief hazards of the inland water route for ocean-going vessels were bridges spanning the Chicago canal and the hidden shoals and shifting channels of the Mississippi, the report said.

Animal consumption of wheat in the U. S. is estimated at about 500 million bushels a year.

INCOME REPORTED

NEW YORK, Aug. 9 (AP)—Continental Oil Co. and subsidiaries reports for six months ended June 30 net income of $6,607,250, equal to $1.41 a share on the capital stock, compared with $6,857, 964, or $1.46 a share, in the first half of 1943. Provision for post-war contingencies this year amounted to $300,000, against $600,000 in the like period last year.

KILLED BY LIGHTNING

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 9 (AP) — Two boys were killed and a third was stunned by lightning Tuesday while they were playing in Shakespeare park here. The dead were Douglas Chopin, 16, and Henry Lusse, 14.

In Stuart days, it was the custom to put a piece of toast in the wine-cup for flavor: hence the English expression "drink a toast."

Two simple steps to amazing New STRENGTH

1—Promote the flow of vital digestive juices in the stomach

2—Energize your body with RICH, RED BLOOD!

THESE two important steps may help you to overcome the discomforts or embarrassment of sour stomach, jerky nerves, loss of appetite, underweight, digestive complaints, weakness, poor complexion!

A person who is operating on only a 70 to 75% healthy blood volume or a stomach digestive capacity of only 30 to 60% normal is severely handicapped.

So with ample stomach digestive juices PLUS RICH, RED-BLOOD you should enjoy that sense of well-being which denotes physical fitness ... mental alertness!

If you are subject to poor digestion or suspect deficient red-blood as the cause of your trouble, yet have no organic complication or focal infection, SSS Tonic may be just what you need as it is especially designed (1) to promote the flow of VITAL DIGESTIVE JUICES in the stomach and (2) to build-up BLOOD STRENGTH when deficient.

Build Sturdy Health and Help America Win

Thousands and thousands of users have testified to the benefits SSS Tonic has brought to them and scientific research shows that it gets results—that's why so many say "SSS Tonic builds sturdy health —makes you feel like yourself again." At drug stores in 10 and 20 oz. sizes. S.S.S. Co.

Fascist Plot Is Disclosed

NEW YORK, Aug. 9 (AP) — A stenographic report of the Fascist war council meeting that planned the Italian invasion of Greece in 1940 disclosed how Benito Mussolini and his aides plotted an "incident" as "justification" for the attack, the Office of War information reported today.

The transcript was published July 13 in the Rome newspaper Il Tempo.

The Il Tempo text said Mussolini called the council into session at 11 a. m., Oct. 1, 1940, and said he wished to discuss the "way in which the action that I decided to take against Greece should be carried out."

Scheme Backfired

The council planned the attack for Oct. 26—it actually occurred two days later—and set Nov. 15 as the timetable date by which Greece was to be knocked out. But by Nov. 15 Mussolini's grandiose scheme had backfired, the Italians had been driven back into Albania, and it eventually became necessary for Hitler to come to the aid of his Axis ally.

Among those listed as present by the published record were Count Galeazzo Ciano, Mussolini's son-in-law, at that time foreign minister, who later was executed for voting to depose il duce as premier, and Marshal Pietro Badoglio, a principal figure in the Italian surrender.

A Greek white book published in Washington last year said that when the Italians attacked, the Fascist minister in Athens handed the Greek premier a note charging that the Greeks had "acquiesced in the use of their territorial waters, their coasts, and their harbors by the British fleet."

HEALTH QUIZ

	YES	NO
Do you have poor digestion?	☐	☐
Do you feel headachy after eating?	☐	☐
Do you get sour or upset easily?	☐	☐
Do you feel tired—listless?	☐	☐

Do you feel headachy and upset due to poorly digested food? To feel cheerful and happy again your food must be digested properly.

Each day, Nature must produce about two pints of a vital digestive juice to help digest your food. If Nature fails, your food may remain undigested—leaving you headachy and irritable.

Therefore, you must increase the flow of this digestive juice. Carter's Little Liver Pills increase this flow quickly—often in as little as 30 minutes. And, you're on the road to feeling better.

Don't depend on artificial aids to counteract indigestion—when Carter's Little Liver Pills aid digestion after Nature's own order. Take Carter's Little Liver Pills as directed. Get them at any drugstore. Only 10¢ and 25¢.

'One Man Army Of Anzio', Who Killed 60 Nazis, Is At Home

SPRING MOUNT, Pa., Aug. 9 (AP)—The "one man army of Anzio" and his mom are together again today, and "The Army" is broke but happy.

Pfc. Alton W. Knappenberger, the 20-year-old, 120-pound, five-foot-four inch country boy who blasted 60 Nazis to their doom, held off two attacking German infantry companies and won the Congressional Medal of Honor, arrived on an unannounced furlough last night and so surprised his mom and step-father, Harvy Seibert, that Mrs. Seibert burst into tears when he walked into their modest home.

The "Army" had only $20 to his name, to see him through a 22-day vacation.

Pickpocket Took $150

"I'd saved up $150," he said, "and I wouldn't even spend a nickel of it when they let me go to see Naples, on account of this furlough coming up.

"Then while I was in Naples a pickpocket took it all. The people there are pretty hard up.

"I've thought some of cashing in a war bond, but I guess I haven't got the heart to do it."

Knappenberger is plenty glad to be home.

"I don't like to fight," he said. "But I guess the worst darned ordeal was when I got this medal."

He pointed to the nation's highest heroism award, which he'd already given to mom.

Had Rather Fight

"It's nice, but I had to stand there while General Clark presented it and, well, I guess I'd almost rather fight."

Knappenberger, a sunny-faced youth with a steady smile, was ordered to retreat with the remnants of his battered company when the Nazis attacked on Anzio — but he decided against it.

While his comrades moved to the rear, he covered them with steady bursts of fire that bowled over lines of Nazi soldiers until he ran out of ammunition.

Then he moved back, took more ammunition from the body of a fallen American, and resumed the battle. When he finally withdrew, the Army officially credited him with 60 enemy dead.

Funeral Services For Mrs. Kelley Pending

Funeral arrangements for Mrs. Horace G. Kelley of Crosbyton, who was one of four persons fatally injured in an automobile accident Saturday between San Diego and Long Beach, are pending arrival of the body from California which is expected here today or tomorrow, relatives said.

Mrs. Kelley, the former Miss Helen Woods, daughter of former Sheriff and Mrs. R. C. Woods of Crosby county, was married about two months ago to Seaman 1/c Kelley, who was seriously injured, and is in a naval hospital at Oceanside. His home was at Becton.

Details of the accident, and names of other victims were not known here. The father of Mrs. Kelley went to California after receiving news of the tragedy, and is to accompany the body home. Other survivors include the mother, a sister at Post, and a bother, who is in service overseas.

Eighth Inches Ahead In Italy

ROME, Aug. 9 (U.P.) — British troops battling stubbornly resisting Germans captured a dominating height east of Florence and inched forward in the western suburbs today, but in the ancient rennaissance capital itself activity was limited to patrols and sporadic small arms fire.

With both sides obviously reluctant to launch a pitched battle inside the museum-like city, the Eighth army's constant probing across the Arno river into the northern section was aimed merely at checking to see that the Germans do not infiltrate back.

The British patrols reported they have curious feeling of invisibility as they steel through the streets of North Florence, because the Florentines pretend not to see them, fearing German wrath later.

Water Supply Short

The patrols said some parts of that sector have no water supply since the Germans blew up a pumping station. Florentines fortunate enough to have water have started a black market, selling it at 20 lire per bottle.

The fate of Florence probably will be decided in the loop of the Arno at Pontassieva to the east and in the area between Empoli and Montelupo to the west, where violent battles were raging.

In the Arno loop, British troops captured point 557, which is five miles southeast of Florence and three and a half miles southwest of Pontassieve, and subsequently repelled a strong German counter-attack. On top of the hill was a monastery which the Germans had converted into a strong point and where the British took a number of prisoners.

Front dispatches said the Germans were using self-propelled guns in this sector and they still have use of an excellent bridge crossing the Arno at Pontassieve. The German bridgehead south of the Arno in this area extends from four miles east of Florence's outskirts to three miles south of Pontassieve.

West of Florence, the British were battling the Germans for a pocket about five square miles between highway 67 on the south, which runs almost straight between Empoli and Montelupo, and a shallow loop of the Arno river on the north.

It will be necessary for the Eighth army to clear this area before attempting any large scale crossing of the Arno in the expected drive to force the Germans into their strongly fortified Gothic line to the north.

The Eighth army now occupied Montelupo, but Empoli is a no man's land.

In the central sector of the front extending across the Italian peninsula, the British yesterday again took mount Grillo, north and slightly west of Arezzo, which the Germans had regained a few days ago.

The sharpest action experienced by the American Fifth army in the western end of the line was purely accidental, breaking out when an American mine laying detail southwest of Pisa met a German patrol which called in the German artillery for support.

American tanks thundered to the rescue and threw back the German patrol.

Diversion Of Nylon Into Hose Charged

NEWARK, N. J., Aug. 9 (AP) — Diversion of nylon for women's stockings at the expense of the manufacture of Army parachutes and aerial tow lines was alleged yesterday by New Jersey FBI Chief Samuel K. McKee as he announced the arrest of three men on charges of conspiracy to defraud the government.

McKee said the nylon, "badly needed" by the government, "was made into women's hose and sold at black-market prices."

Enough nylon to make 12,000 pairs of 100 per cent nylon hose had been diverted, the FBI chief stated, and FBI agents recovered $30,000 worth of thread and unfinished hosiery.

News Briefs

Two Lubbock youths, occupants of a downtown hotel, were arrested Tuesday by police in connection with thefts from the rooms of two other guests. A 17-year-old youth is to be charged, possibly today, according to Aubrey Fawver, assistant police chief. Another youth, 15, was turned over to juvenile authorities. All property reported missing — a radio, fountain pen, slack suit, sports coat, pen knife and three shirts — has been recovered, Fawver said. He indicated that other youths might be involved in the thefts. One of the pair was reported to be an employe of another downtown hotel, the other is a former employe of the hotel where he was registered. The juvenile already was "on probation," Fawver said, and the other had been "handled" before by the police department.

Overheated Concrete In Dallas Exploded

DALLAS, Aug. 9 (AP) — Fire in a one-story brick building behind a Highland Park pharmacy early today set off a series of explosions that aroused people of that North Dallas and Highland Park section.

Firemen attributed the explosions to overheated concrete exploding in the alley near the building. The detonations were like pistol shots, about a dozen of them, causing hundreds of people, many in night clothes, robes and slippers, to come to the scene.

Trolley service was interrupted a half hour.

The fire was quickly brought under control.

"Boy, oh boy, it's getting to be a job to run this railroad!"

"You see, I started out with just a little bit of track and only one train."

So did the Fort Worth and Denver Railway, Jimmy, back in 1882.

"But I kept adding new track and switches and engines and cars, until now I've got a real railroad."

Nice work, Jimmy; that is exactly how we grew to our present size. Altogether, the Burlington Lines have 11,000 miles of track and serve 13 different states.

"Boy, can I get around on my railroad! Why, I've got track running all over the place."

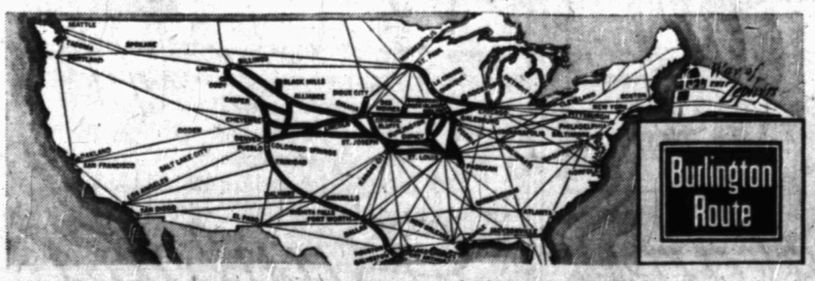

In a way, the Burlington Lines blanket the country, too, Jimmy. Because of their location and because they serve 22 principal gateways and have more than 200 interchange points, they form an essential link between railroads from the north, east, south and west. So, you see, as a team, we have track running "all over the place."

"Look, I've got a lot more things along my track than I used to have. Army camps and munition plants and a bunch of new factories. It sure keeps me hustling to see that they get good service."

It's keeping all of the railroads hustling these days, Jimmy. A freight train starts on its way somewhere every four seconds. Every six minutes, a troop train. And there's a tremendous amount of civilian travel being handled at the same time.

"You know something, though—my dad says for me to keep right on figuring new ways to do more things better on my railroad. Because, he says, there'll be plenty of new jobs ahead that will take a lot of doing."

Dad is right, Jimmy. There's a lot of work for all of us in the peacetime days ahead. And the Burlington Lines are proud to be among the army of railroads which will team up to handle the lion's share of tomorrow's transportation job—just as they're handling today's.

that will help end the war sooner!

TODAY'S SUPER-FUEL is 100-Octane, as compared with 90-Octane for pre-war aviation gasoline.

This difference of 10-octane numbers is definitely contributing toward hastening the day of victory, because these extra octane numbers represent extra fighting power... extra range and carrying capacity for our big bombers... extra speed for our fighter planes!

In thirty months, U. S. production of 100-Octane Aviation Gasoline has been multiplied ten times. Our facilities for producing this precious, fighting, super-fuel can now deliver 21,000,000 gallons daily. Think of it! This is a greater quantity of aviation gasoline alone than the combined total of all petroleum products available to Axis Europe.

Phillips Petroleum Company, among the first to take 100-Octane gasoline out of the laboratory and into mass production, is now one of the nation's five largest producers of 100-Octane, despite the fact that Phillips operates only in the Middle West.

This production achievement suggests how competently and completely Phillips is devoting itself to the war effort, with similar special emphasis on butadiene for synthetic rubber.

Until that great day comes, when you can say "Fill 'et up with Phillips"... and the service man cranks into your tank a new and improved Phillips gasoline ... remember that Phillips refineries, in addition to producing gasoline, lubricants, and fuel oils, are also gigantic chemical plants pouring out weapons for victory.

Brides - Elect Are Honored

To honor Misses Glenna Jack and Nova Wyly, brides-elect, and to announce their wedding date, a tea-shower was given for them in the home of Mrs. D. F. Cogburn at 2623 Twenty-fifth street Tuesday evening from 6 until 7 o'clock.

Hostesses were Misses Bonnie Faye Cogburn, Jo Crisler, Margaret Hughes and Jean Freeman. In the receiving line were Misses Jack and Wyly, their mothers, Mrs. J. Alta Wyly and E. M. Jack, and Miss Cogburn. Miss Freeman who poured was assisted in the dining room by Miss Crisler. Presiding at the guest register was Miss Hughes. Miss Eleanor Ferguson played piano selections during the receiving hour.

Decorations carried out a blue and white motif. A bouquet of daisies centered the tea table. Mint cups contained the names of the couples to be married and announced the wedding date as August 12. A streamer across the mantel in the living room was also lettered with their names. Miss Jack is to marry Arlon Miller and Miss Wyly is to marry Odell Purdy.

The double wedding ceremony will be performed in the home of Miss Jack in Friona. The brides-elect and Mr. Purdy are former students of Texas Technological college.

Guests calling were Mesdames Arthur B. Watkins, R. F. Rogers, A. L. Ferguson, Clara Tyson, John R. Freeman, A. L. Vaughn, A. E. Cogburn, Bob Poynor, and Miss Ruth Felps. Out of town guests were Mesdames Foy L. Cogburn and J. A. Parks of Brownfield, Mesdames W. E. Miller, Cora Pace, J. T. Corder, W. L. Miller and Misses Vrona and Verl Miller of Floydada.

FOR WELCH FAMILY

There will be a reception tonight from 7:30 until 8:30 o'clock on the lawn of Central Baptist church for Rev. and Mrs. J. A. Welch and family who recently returned to Lubbock to live.

Tech Short Course Is In Final Session

Third and final day of the livestock feeding short course got under way at Texas Technological college this morning with discussions on the development and feeding of dairy cattle.

The day's meeting will be climaxed by presentation of awards to four high-ranking judges of beef cattle, dairy cattle, hogs, sheep, and one award to the high man judging all classes of stock. Speakers scheduled on the day's program were J. D. Strickland of Tech animal husbandry department and E. E. Eudaly of the extension service at College Station.

Importance of keeping the right kinds of cattle, sheep, and feed, combined with proper management, was stressed by all speakers on Tuesday's program of the short course.

Theme of yesterday's program was feeding and management of sheep and cattle, discussed by Dr. F. G. Harbaugh, Ray C. Mowery, W. L. Stangel, all of Tech animal husbandry department, and J. Forrest Runge, Christoval rancher. Runge suggested that cattlemen base stocking of range on 25% below the average rainfall to insure against over-stocking. Basing his recommendations on records kept for 21 years on rainfall and production, Runge illustrated his speech by showing a rainfall chart and pictures of poor, fair, good and excellent ranges.

Beef cattle and sheep, three classes of each, were judged by 50 dairy and cattlemen present. Night session in the agriculture auditorium was the showing of two movies, "Livestock and Meat" and "Cows and Chickens."

Duke Is Greeted In Democratic Manner

BALTIMORE, Aug. 9 (AP)—The Duke of Windsor, visiting his duchess' native city today, was greeted democratically by a woman bystander with: "Howya, duke? How's the duchess?"

The former King of England told his questioner, who had grabbed his arm, that the duchess was well and probably would visit the city later.

Forty-year tests at the U. S. Fisheries Laboratory at Piver's Island, N. C., show that diamondback terrapin can be bred as easily as chickens.

Severe Floods Are Reported In Japan

NEW YORK, Aug. 9 (AP) — A routine dispatch on crop conditions broadcast by the Japanese Domei news agency to the controlled press of occupied Asiatic areas and reported today by United States government monitors disclosed that a wide area in northern Japan had been subjected to severe floods some time last month.

Labor Supply Down Slightly

Indications of a labor supply "slightly less than that of last year" for the fall harvest on the South Plains are found in the recent report of John D. Reed, commissioner of the Bureau of Labor Statistics at Austin, in a statewide report to Governor Stevenson.

"With reference to the farm labor situation for the fall harvest, . . . while this is uncertain, indications are that the labor supply will be slightly less than that of last year," he later informed Avalanche-Journal publications. "If we are fortunate enough to secure favorable weather conditions along with proper transportation and distribution of this type of labor, I am sure that harvest demands will be filled. However, there will be no surplus available."

Many Workers Leave State

Read's report to the governor said 15,476 persons from 109 counties had left Texas as result of being recruited by licensed recruiters for farm labor, mostly from Bexar, Zavala, Hidalgo, Webb and Maverick counties. Lubbock county was placed 11th on the list of counties that had supplied farm workers to other states, with 336. At that, Reed said, the exodus of laborers is a 20 per cent reduction as compared with 1943, a reduction of 62 per cent as compared with 1942.

The commissioner said his records showed no farm workers solicited by licensed agents from Castro, Motley, Bailey, Dickens, Yoakum, Gaines or Borden counties, but the following numbers of laborers, mostly Mexican, were recruited from the following other counties:

Dawson, 53 who went to the Colorado beet fields; Garza, 40 to Colorado; Lynn, 10 to Colorado; Terry, 24 to Colorado and 7 to Nebraska; Crosby, 4 to Colorado and 6 to Nebraska; Lubbock, 311 to Colorado, 15 to Minnesota, 10 to Nebraska; Hockley, 13 to Colorado, 4 to Nebraska; Cochran, 11 to Colorado, 9 to Nebraska; Floyd, 5 to Michigan; Hale, 28 to Colorado; Lamb, 5 to Colorado, 5 to Minnesota, 5 to Nebraska and 6 to Wyoming.

Other Texas farm laborers went to Montana, Ohio, Wisconsin, North Dakota, Illinois, Iowa and Washington.

Reds Who Tried To Kill Nazi Released

ANKARA, Aug. 9 (AP)—Turkish authorities today released from prison two Russian citizens, employed by the Soviet consulate at Istanbul, who were sentenced to 16 years and eight months imprisonment in 1942 after a bomb attempt on the life of German ambassador Franz von Papen.

The employes, George Pavlov and Leonid Kornilov, were met at the prison gates by Soviet embassy officials and their wives, carrying flowers, and were escorted to the Russian embassy.

They had served two years and five months of their sentences.

Their release followed passage by the Turkish assembly last week of an amnesty bill for political crimes committed on Turkish territory in the past few years by nationals of the United Nations.

Roswell Man Will Be Speaker Tonight In Adventists' Session

J. L. Dittberner of Roswell, N. M., will be the evening speaker at the Seventh-Day-Adventist conference session tonight in St. John's Methodist church, Fourteenth street and Avenue X. The theme of his sermon will be "Looking Unto Jesus," it was announced.

DITTBERNER

During the morning devotional period J. W. Turner of Fort Worth stated that if Christians believe in the coming of Christ, they will earnestly work for their loved ones and friends. Now is the time for each one to begin praying diligently for them, he said.

H. M. Williams of Clovis, N. M., publishing department secretary for the local conference, reported that while grappling with the paper situation and loss of sales agents to the services, the four national Seventh-Day Adventist publishing houses put out more than $6,000,000 worth of literature in 1943 as compared to $3,660,176 the previous year.

Meetings will continue through-out each day until Saturday evening.

Switchman Killed; Didn't Heed Slogan

FORT WORTH, Aug. 9 (AP)—Oliver P. Frazier, 34-year-old railroad switchman, was dead today because he failed to carry far enough that age-old railroad warning to "Stop, Look and Listen."

He stopped to allow a freight train to pass, then stepped across the track in front of a passenger train moving in the opposite direction and which had been hidden behind the freight.

He was decapitated.

Dallas-Atlanta Phone Facilities Authorized

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9 (AP) — The American Telephone and Telegraph Co. and the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Co. were authorized by the federal communications commission today to supplement cable and other facilities between Atlanta, Ga., and Dallas, Tex., at an estimated cost of $6,000,000.

GI Vote May Be Weakness In Governor Dewey's Campaign

BY S. BURTON HEATH
NEA Staff Writer

ALBANY, Aug. 9—When Governor Dewey denounced the CIO Political Action committee, without naming it, for criticizing the New York soldier vote law, he was striking at one phase of what many Democrats think may reelect President Roosevelt — the commander-in-chief issue.

Democrats claim and Republicans fear that the great bulk of the uniformed vote will go to the President because his war leadership is considered a known quantity while that of Mr. Dewey would have to be taken on faith and hope. Similar considerations may influence the votes of many stay-at-homes who have men in the armed forces.

The Democratic campaign will play that issue to the limit in every ramification Chairman Hannegan and his fellow strategists can discover or devise in hope of confirming servicemen and their relatives in their supposed pro-Rooseveltism.

Dewey's Stand Exploited

As one approach, Governor Dewey's refusal to go along on the federal ballot for servicemen is being exploited. Here, thus far, the CIO left wing pro-Roosevelt organization appears to be doing most of the ball carrying. It is Governor Dewey's contention that the "Citizens Non-partisan Committee for the Servicemen's Vote" is a CIO left wing front with a thin window-dressing of Democrats and anti-Dewey Republicans.

New York state has 1,100,000 men and women in the armed forces.

For them, contending that the federal ballot could not legally be counted under the state constitution. Governor Dewey and the Republican legislature provided a simple method of voting.

All that the serviceman need do is send to Albany, direct or through family or friends, his name, his pre-service street address (to determine his election district) and his service address to which the ballot is to be mailed.

Will Be Sent Ballots

He will be sent exactly the same ballot he would use if he were voting at home, which he is to mark and mail back to Albany, whence it will be sent to the voters's home election district for counting.

Last year 62,000 New York servicemen asked for ballots and 42,000 of them actually voted—two out of three. The state war ballot commission estimates that 250,000 of New York's absent servicemen are under age; some are aliens and others will not trouble to apply. If 350,000 should ask for ballots, the commission would expect, on the basis of last year's result, about 200,000 votes.

In a close election that number could easily decide whether New York's 47 electoral votes shall go to President Roosevelt or Governor Dewey. Mr. Dewey lost the governorship in 1938 by 64,394, and Herbert Hoover carried New York in 1928 by only 103,481 votes.

"It's Dynamite"

What is considered more important—if the Democratic CIO coalition could persuade all servicemen and their families and friends that Governor Dewey, fearing the service vote, is trying to keep soldiers and sailors from voting, their action might easily decide the result in several other states.

For that reason Governor Dewey is trying to get across his contention that it is as easy for New York servicemen to vote under his law as under the federal; and that whereas there can be no question about the legality of votes cast under his law, federal ballots might be tossed out.

He claims that, for the sake of embarrassing him, the CIO Political Action committee, through a front, is perpetrating a fraud upon the soldiers and sailors by trying to hand them the federal ballot.

In time of war a court might hesitate to toss out soldiers' ballots because they did not include every office at stake in the soldiers' home districts, but only the four offices for which the federal ballot provides.

The CIO says, "Take a chance." Governor Dewey says, "Let's be sure that those who do vote shall have their ballots counted."

310 Italian Senators To Face Prosecution

ROME, Aug. 9 (U.P.)—A total of 310 Italian senators were listed today for prosecution before a newly-created high court on charges of being implicated in Fascist crimes.

The list, which left only 110 senators unimplicated was submitted to the court of Count Carlo Sforza, high commissioner for pnnishment of Fascist crimes. He emphasized that those named would be tried under a clause in a recent decree which prescribes punishment rather than merely "purification."

The clause affects members of legislative or institutional assemblies which by their votes or acts contributed to the maintenance of the Fascist regime or aided in Italy's participation in the war.

Although the high court only can remove a guilty defendant from official position, the offender still would be liable to trial by an ordinary criminal court.

While the Fascist chamber corporations have been abolished by the Bonomi government, a similar course in the case of the senate was not expedient because senators nominally are appointed by the king and the question of that body's legality could not be taken up until the whole monarchial situation comes under consideration.

As a result, Sforsa and his aides decided to bring individual senators to trial to fix their responsibility for Italy's political history in the past 20 years.

The Liberty Bell cracked as it tolled for the death of the first U. S. chief justice, John Marshall.

Short Cotton Crop Expected

AUSTIN, Aug. 9 (U.P.) — A 44-year record of Texas cotton crops was issued here today by the U. S. Bureau of Agricultural economics, showing that the 1944 crop, as now indicated, will be smallest of the century with the exception of three years.

The estimate placed Texas cotton crop for this year at 2,450,000 bales. In 1907 the crop was 2,300,000 bales; in 1921, it was 2,198,000 bales, and in 1934 the crop was 2,401,000 bales. Biggest crop in the 40 years was 5,628,000 bales in 1926. Crops of more than 5,000,000 bales were reported also for 1928, 1931, and 1937.

Last year's cotton crop was 2,823,000 bales and the average over 10 years has been 3,273,000 bales.

Crop Got Late Start

Discussing this year's prospective crop the report said:

"Cotton got off to a late start in central, eastern, coastal and southern counties, but in the high and low plains of the northwest the crop started under favorable conditions. The month of July was dry with excessively high temperatures except in the favored northwestern areas. In spite of the dry, hot weather in the east half of the state, cotton held up fairly well in most areas. Fields were clean, insects were held in check, and the crop was blooming rather freely.

"Detrimental high temperatures and hot winds had reached into the high plains area by the end of July and on Aug. 1 rains were badly needed to check the deterioration in all parts of the state, except the early areas of South Texas where the crop is largely made.

"As usual, August weather will be an important factor in determining the final outcome of this year's crop."

French Author-Pilot Is Reported Missing

ROME, Aug. 9 (AP) — Antoine de St. Exupery, 44, French pilot and author, is missing after a mission over southern France, an official announcement said today.

During his youth he was a French mail pilot and from these experiences he produced his novel, "Night Flight." His "Flight To Arras," published in 1942, gives an account of his last reconnaissance flight over France in May, 1940.

Lubbock Man Piloted One Of First Gliders On Invasion

A NINTH AIR FORCE TROOP CARRIER BASE, European Theater Of Operations — Among the first glider pilots to participate in the initial aerial assault upon the enemy on "D" day was F/O Audry B. May, of Lubbock, Texas.

Taking off from his home base, he arrived safely over the designated D. Z. (Drop Zone). The moon was out by then, and he could see the details of the landing field. Trees fifty feet high encircled it, the limbs looped off until only tall trunks remained.

Helped Guard Post

Making the landing safely they unloaded the glider and then he and the others made for the nearest C. P. (Command Post). Here a general detailed him to guard the C. P. that night. When he was relieved he was sent out in search of supplies. That night he returned and again helped to guard the C. P.

Next morning he, with five others, patrolled the landing zone. No Germans were encountered, but there was heavy fighting to one side. That night he again guarded the C. P. Next morning he went out in search of equipment left behind in gliders, and searched for water as they had exhausted their supply. Quite some equipment was gathered, but no water was found.

Had Group Of Prisoners

When he returned, the general had a formation ready to leave for the beachhead. A large group of prisoners were put in their charge, many of whom were too weak to make the beachhead and had to be left at first aid stations enroute.

Reaching the coast they turned the prisoners over to the proper authorities, after which he was put on a boat and was soon back in England. Here transportation was provided, and he was soon back at his home base. For the part he played in the invasion, he has been awarded the Air Medal.

F/O May was employed in civilian life by Sinclair Oil company, Crosbyton, Texas. His wife, Mrs. Doris A. May, lives at 1412 Ave. T, Lubbock, Texas.

The Ninth Air Force, to which his organization has been assigned since arrival in the European theater of operations, figured prominently in the airborne invasion of Cherbourg. Newest of troop carrier organizations, Ninth Troop Carrier command is commanded by Brig. Gen. Paul L. Williams, leader of the airborne invasion flights of Africa, Sicily, and Italy.

Social Credit Group Re-Elected In Alberta

EDMONTON, Alta., Aug. 9 (AP)—The province of Alberta's social credit government and all nine members of its cabinet were returned to office in Tuesday's voting, returns showed today.

The social crediters, led by Premier E. C. Manning, campaigned on the assurance they would continue their drive for money reform started in this province by the late Premier William Aberhart, who led them to victory in 1935.

DIES OF WOUNDS

Fulbright Apparent Winner In Arkansas

(By The United Press)

Youthful Rep. J. W. Fulbright, author of the "Fulbright peace resolution," advocate of internationalism, and former college president, was assured of a seat in the Senate today on the basis of almost complete returns from yesterday's Democratic runoff primary in Arkansas.

He defeated Gov. Homer M. Adkins, his nearest rival in the primary for the Democratic nomination two weeks ago in which he won a plurality in a field of four but not a majority, necessitating yesterday's runoff. The incumbent, Sen. Hattie Caraway, the only woman in the Senate, was defeated in the first primary. In Arkansas, the Democratic nomination assures election.

I'd rather skip any new car rush—worse than a nylon stocking sale after War. More cars have already gone out of the running than ever were built any year! How'll everybody get his new one overnight? But I've come this far with my engine OIL-PLATED, so I figure I'll be all right. I'll just keep it safely OIL-PLATED by staying with my good old friend Conoco Nth motor oil. If you think you can beat it, okay. But remember, any engine is bound to have acids inside from every explosion. Therefore you'd risk too much grief from corrosion, as I understand, except that OIL-PLATING is made to check it. The cans of Nth oil tell you about a modern synthetic that does the OIL-PLATING. You'd imagine it's kind of magnetized to working parts, making a protective surface to shed off acids, before the worst happens. Good thing you needn't wait for an OIL-PLATED engine; you can have that whole improvement now, using Conoco Nth oil.

2,277 Die In Railway Mishaps In 6 Months

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9 (AP) — The Interstate Commerce commission announced today that 2,277 persons, including passengers, employes and trespassers, lost their lives in railway accidents in the first six months of 1944, a decline of 72 compared with the same period last year.

The number injured during the same period totaled 28,970, an increase of 113.

The number of train accidents involving more than $150 damage to railway property rose from 8,209 in the 1943 period to 8,219 in 1944.

GENERAL GIVEN MEDAL

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9 (AP) — The Army awarded the Distinguished Service Medal today to nine generals for outstanding leadership in Italy and Normandy. The DSM was awarded to Maj. Gen. John B. Coulter, El Paso, Tex., who commanded the 85th division in the march on Rome.

KING HONORS DEVERS

ROME, Aug. 9 (AP)—Lt.-Gen. Jacob L. Devers, deputy commander-in-chief in the Mediterranean theater, was made a knight commander of the Order of the Bath by King George VI during the monarch's visit to Italy, it was disclosed today.

Demo Electors To Convene

FORT WORTH, Aug. 9 (AP)—An "informal" meeting of Texas' 23 Democratic presidential electors will be held next Wednesday at Austin to consider a letter mailed by National Committeeman Myron G. Blalock, Marshall, asking the electors whether they intended to support the Roosevelt-Truman ticket in the electoral college, the Fort Worth Star-Telegram said in its morning edition today.

Replying to long distance queries by the newspaper last night, most of the electors who had received the Blalock letter said they had no comment regarding their intentions until after the Austin meeting.

Lubbock's Homer L. Pharr said "I will follow the principles of the Democratic party and support the party nominees."

Fred H Minor of Denton said he intended to vote the same way for essentially the same reasons.

Bound By Convention

Olen McWhorter of Greenville, said that in his opinion the "electors are bound by the action of the party in convention last May," adding that if any people wanted to alter the instructions of the convention the "fair thing for them to do is to get some electors of their own on the ballot and let the voters decide the matter."

T. J. Holbrook of Austin, elector-at-large, repeated earlier charges that Blalock was "joining a Communist, CIO, big boss group to hob the people of Texas of a voice in the nation's affairs."

Ernest A. Bosl of Schulenberg said he intended to leave his vote "strictly up to the voters of my district." He said they were the only persons to whom he owed allegiance.

Oil Well Drilling Is Ahead Of 1943

TULSA, Aug. 9 (AP)—A total of 12,052 wells have been completed this year compared to 9,896 for the same period of 1943, reports to the Oil & Gas Journal showed today.

Four hundred and 70 wells were completed last week, including 254 oil, 42 gas and 174 dry. The total for the preceding week was 459 and for the like week of last year 415.

Texas with 114 completions and Oklahoma with 51 continued to receive the biggest drilling play for the week. California reported 48 completions, Illinois 41 and Kansas 30.

Johnson Relieved As Governor Of Rome

ROME, Aug. 9 (AP)—Maj. Gen. Harry W. Johnson has been relieved as military governor of Rome to accept a combat assignment, it was announced today following an earlier announcement that the Texan had been awarded the Grand Cross of the Order of the Crown of Italy.

Johnson departed for the United States for "an important assignment with troops."

Obstacles To Cattle Feeding Under Fire

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9 (AP) — Removal of price obstacles to cattle feeding will be sought in a conference Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo) has arranged with economic Stabilization Director Fred M. Vinson.

O'Mahoney told a reporter today there are two defects in cattle regulations imposed by OPA. These, he said, are a shortage of high grade meats, resulting in black market operations, and a weakening of prices for lower grades of cattle because of a tendency of packers to force down prices of those grades in order to bid for the higher grades.

"The correction," O'Mahoney said, "lies in removing price obstacles which now discourage feeding and in placing a floor under cattle prices so that there will be no incentive to the packer to lower the price on range cattle."

Air Battle On Saipan Called 'Turkey Shoot'

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Aug. 9 (AP) — Pilots of Navy Air group 16, back from 11 months' overseas duty, today said the great air battle for Saipan probably would be recorded in history by some other name, but that to them it always would be the "Mariana turkey shoot."

Japanese planes, which were the turkey targets for fast-shooting American pilots, dropped so fast that some of the enemy fliers became panicky and parachuted from their planes before the navy men could shoot them down, group officers reported.

Returning with the group from the Mariana air fight and the battle with the Japanese fleet in the eastern Philippine sea war, was Ens. Edward G. Wendorf, West, Texas, who shot down two Zeros over Kwajalein after mistaking a flight of enemy craft for his own and trying to join up with them.

Benjamin Stoddert of Maryland was the first U. S. secretary of the Navy.

The women who wouldn't sit and wait

IT ISN'T EASY to say "good-by" to the family, and to friends, and to nice long week ends.

It may not be natural for a woman to salute and stand at attention and say "Yes, sir"...

But ask any Wac if she'd change places with anyone in the world—and the answer would be "No!"

For deep down inside, every Wac knows the enormous satisfaction of being truly useful at a time of critical need.

The Wac spirit is a gallant spirit. The spirit of women who would rather be in the war, than sitting and waiting for it to end.

The Wac pride is an honest pride. In a job well done. In being part of the Army of the U. S.

You really have to hand it to the women of the WAC....

Nazis Abandon Atlantic Wall

IRUN, Spain, Aug. 9 (AP)—Adolf Hitler's once-vaunted Atlantic Wall for more than 100 miles from the Spanish frontier north through Bordeaux has been virtually abandoned and is manned by only a handful of over-aged German railroad troops, advices from France said today.

These Nazi fortifications have been outflanked to the north by the swift progress of American troops through Brittany and eastward towards Paris in much the same way as the Maginot line was outflanked when the Germans broke through Belgium in 1940.

With their communications seriously menaced, the Germans were said to have begun a full scale evacuation of their forces in southwestern France, leaving only a few gestapo agents and gendarmes to cover the French-Spanish frontier.

Evacuation Said "Temporary"

German police at the Hendaye bridge maintained that the evacuation was a "purely temporary withdrawal," necessitated by the reassignment of border region forces following the shift of certain SS (elite guards) units of the frontier garrison toward the Loire river.

Frenchmen living on the Spanist side of the frontier said however, they are convinced the Nazi high command is abandoning southwestern France, and many believe they will awake some morning soon and find the last German gone.

High Italian Award Given Gen. Johnson

ROME, Aug. 9 (AP)—Maj. Gen. Harry H. Johnson, military governor of Rome, was decorated today with the Grand Cross of the Order of the Crown of Italy, one of the nation's highest awards, on behalf of Crown Prince Umberto, lieutenant general of the realm.

The citation said Gen. Johnsoh, "by virtue of his personal ability to secure cooperation from all Allied authorities, was able to reestablish the economic and political structure of the city of Rome in a minimum of time."

The Texan, 49, gained a reputation as a bayonet fighter with the 36th division in the last war. He remained in Germany with the Army of Occupation until 1919. He reentered the service in 1940 as a lieutenant colonel, became a brigadier general in 1941 and commanded a cavalry brigade at Laredo in 1942.

Huge Cave Is Found South Of El Paso

CHIHUAHUA, Mexico, Aug. 9 (AP)—Discovery of a huge cave in the mountains 35 miles south of El Paso, Tex., was reported here today by Eduardo Silva, a gold miner.

Silva said he explored the cavern, situated near the village of Samalayuca, to a distance that he calculated at three miles, without reaching the end. The cave has four large divisions, he added.

Vocational Counsellors Needed To Help Veterans Find Jobs

BY JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9—When Johnny comes marching home, who's going to tell him where to look for a job or what kind of job fits him best? You?

You're probably not equipped to do it, and do it right.

Johnny, nevertheless, is going to get a lot of free curbstone advice from his friends and well-wishers who may not be the best people to advise him.

A good vocational counsellor needs training. But there are perhaps no more than 6,000 trained counsellors in this country. Probably half of them are only partly trained in the professional sense.

Millions To Shift Jobs

But look at this picture:

Millions of people will be shifting jobs during conversion and after the war millions of men and women will be coming back into civilian life from the armed forces. Those service people who want their old jobs back can get them. But what of those who want a new job and need help in choosing one?

They can go for help to: Any one of the 1,500 U. S. Employment Service offices or to any one of the 115 veteran administration offices.

But there are 17,000 incorporated townis in this country, plus all the other communities against the mere 1,615 government offices to which the veterans can turn for vocational guidance.

To Be Community Job

Thus it would seem vocational guidance for veterans will be a community job. That's exactly what the bureau of training of the War Manpower commission says it will have to be.

The bureau has just issued a study — and distributed 13,000 copies — on the need for vocational counsellors, what kind of training they need, how they can pick up some training in a hurry, and what communities should do to give vocational guidance.

The bureau says: "The total demand for counsellors will exceed the number now trained. As long as work is plentiful almost any clever interviewer can direct an applicant into the highest paying job near at hand but when the long pull is involved vocational counselling of a high order is required."

Time Is Short

But time is short, knowledge is needed fast, even a little training is better than none, and as one step in the right direction the bureau suggests:

All communities have schools where some teacher or principal has had some counselling training. It is estimated that of the 25,000 public schools in the United States, not over 2,000 have professionally trained counsellors. So:

"This places a singular responsibility upon the community to arrange as promptly as possible additional professional training for the best equipped person available in the field of vocational counselling because the usual counselling responsibilities of a teacher or school administrator will be extended to include adults of military and work experience reaching beyond high school years.

"An averaged sized community will have from 15 to 20 organizations ready to offer assistance.

"This is all as it should be except that somewhere in the community, whether it be large or small, should be someone who knows and can be entrusted with the complete history of the one who needs counsel and will use it discreetly and wisely in helping him plan his future."

Browns Open Vital Road Series Today

Sewell Withholds Optimistic Talk

(By The Associated Press)

Luke Sewell's St. Louis Browns opened their final decisive eastern tour today and even the boss was surprised to find a 6½-game mattress to fall back on if the going got too tough.

"I didn't realize we had that much of a lead until I read the newspapers," said Sewell, "we just concentrate on trying to win every day."

Sewell may believe deep down in his heart that his Brownies are "in" but you won't hear him say so until the last mathematical doubt has been eliminated. With Billy Southworth of the Cardinals conceding nothing despite a 16½ game lead, Sewell appeared entitled to reserve comment.

Road Trip Big "If"

The big "if" to the Brownies chances continues to be the current road trip. If the club can play .500 ball or close to it without developing any serious slump tickets can be printed for an all-Sportsman's park world series.

Joe McCarty hasn't given up on the Yanks, declaring "there's nothing the matter with us that a few well pitched games won't fix." He planned to send Hank Borowy to the firing line today, leading with his ace against the Brown's No. 1 man, Bob Muncrief.

Play Four In New York

Four games in four days in New York will be followed by four in three days in Boston where Joe Cronin's Red Sox have hopes of blasting the visitors despite the imminent loss of Tex Hughson who is due to pitch his last game today against Chicago. Detroit and Cleveland, still in the thick of the race, staked their hopes on successful eastern invasions. To date the eastern clubs hold a 125-110 victory edge in four American league intersectional series.

Both leagues resumed with a full schedule today after New York's 8-4 nod over Pittsburgh held the Tuesday spotlight. Bill Voiselle kept the Giants in fourth place by scattering eight hits and coming through with a double to touch off a 3-run winning spurt in the sixth for his 14th win. Max Butcher, routed in the second, was the loser.

Four States' Teams In Baseball Playoff

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 9 (AP)—American Legion Championship baseball teams from four states are headed for New Orleans to open the regional championship Thursday night at Pelican stadium.

The four-day series is expected to be hard-fought among the Holy Cross-Comiskeys of New Orleans; the Austin, Buddies, the Little Rock, Ark., Doughboys and the winner of the Mississippi championship being played today in Meridian between Hattiesburg and Meridian, the result of a tie game in Mississippi.

The three visiting teams, each carrying the colors of its state, are expected to arrive here ahead of the opening game to engage in practice.

Drawings for opening night will be made Wednesday night at a banquet at the New Orleans Athletic club.

Cravath Has Tried 15 Years To Find Defense For 'T'

WICHITA FALLS, Aug. 9 (AP)—Bespectacled Jeff Cravath, whose Southern California team used the T formation for a Rose Bowl triumph, has been trying for 15 years to perfect a defense to stop this play.

He tells you he thinks it may some day be done—possibly by him—then says in the next breath:

"I hope no defense ever is built to stop it; it's too colorful and adds too much to the game."

Cravath, who thus appears to be opposing himself, is an instructor at the Texas High School Coaching school, a gathering of more than 300 mentors from Texas, Oklahoma, Arizona, New Mexico and Arkansas. Most of them are here to find out about a defense for the T; too many high schools in this section now are winning with it.

Variety Best Answer

"I think the best way to combat this formation is a variety of defenses—four, five, six and seven-man lines, said Cravath. "It can't be stopped with one defense. You have to mix them so you make the quarterback running the T gamble."

Cravath doesn't believe the rule allowing a passer to throw while less than five yards back of the line of scrimmage will help the T formation except possibly in passes to the ends after faking. "You can't get the other receivers down there fast enough," he explained.

The Pacific Coast conference adopted this rule in line with the professionals but Cravath says it's just an experiment. "We want to find out what good points it may have and submit our findings to the National Rules committee," he said.

"But I don't want anyone building a defense that will stop the T," Jeff declared in returning to his pet play. Then he hurried off to look for a certain coach. "That fellow sent word he had worked out a defense to stop the T," said Cravath over his shoulder.

San Angelo Is Grid Favorite

Bobcats To Have 15 Lettermen

BY HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

WICHITA FALLS, Aug. 9 (AP)—As much as Jewell Wallace would like for his San Angelo Bobcats to be taken off the spot he can't quite hide his enthusiasm over chances of the team repeating as Texas schoolboy football champions this season.

Trouble is that his own summation makes San Angelo a strong favorite to sweep back to the finals.

There are fifteen lettermen, six of whom were regulars on the 1943 outfit, and the team is going to be big as high school teams go.

"We will have better passing although we'll be slower on our running game," said Jewell today while attending the annual Texas high school coaching school. He added that the team would also have excellent punting.

Favored By Coaches

Opposing coaches are making San Angelo the No. 1 choice for the title, listing among other teams as top contenders the Highland Park Scotties of Dallas, the Wichita Falls Coyotes, the Amarillo Sandies, Denison Yellow Jackets, Breckenridge Bucks, Marshall Mavs, Milby of Houston, Port Arthur and Brackenridge (San Antonio).

Replacing Joe Williams, the all-state center of San Angelo, will be Sam Callan, who played tackle in 1943. In some ways Callan is rated better than the brilliant Williams, especially at linebacking. Stepping into Milton Rathbone's shoes at quarterback will be Dwain Dodson, who sparked many drives for the Bobcats.

Returning veterans who were in the starting line-up last fall are Callan; Vernie Horner, end; Dennis Doyle, tackle; George Hughes, guard; Ken Carley, halfback, and George Graham, fullback.

Wallace indicated the team to take the field next fall would be made up of Horner and Jack Coffman, ends; Doyle and Douglas McSwain, tackles; Hughes and Bernard Adkins, guards; Dodson, quarterback; Carley and Buddy Hudson (not a letterman last season because of injuries) halfbacks; and Graham, fullback.

That means a line averaging 179 pounds and a backfield of 160.

"We sure have a tough schedule," said Wallace, listing Amarillo, Denison and Lubbock in addition to strong district opponents at Sweetwater, Odessa, et al. But you should also hear what the coaches at Amarillo, Denison, Lubbock, Sweetwater and Odessa are saying.

Jaycees Nip Wizzers; Newsies Down WACs

Local softball fans were offered almost every kind of entertainment Tuesday night as the Junior Chamber of Commerce softball team won its first victory of the season 14-11 over Keith's Wizzers at the Twenty-third street and Avenue W basin.

Kirby pitched the win for the Jaycees, issuing eight hits to the Wizzers, and whiffing four, and Rowland caught. Rutledge hurled for the losers, allowing 13 hits while striking out two, while Rollins did the catching.

In the nightcap of the doubleheader, Avalanche-Journal's Newsies provided the slugfest, and belted three home runs with one aboard each, to win over the South Plains Army Air field WACS 20-7.

Stevens worked on the mound for the Newsies, limiting the Wacs to six hits, while Graves caught. Battery for the Wacs: Elkins, allowing 16 hits, and Angelly.

Philadelphian Refuses $100,000 For Bangtail

NEW YORK, Aug. 9 (AP)—Walter M. Jeffords, of Philadelphia, has refused an offer of $100,000 for his unbeaten two-year-old colt, Pavot, winner of $52,475 in capturing the first four starts of his career.

The offer was made by Sol Tutchick, trainer of the Havahome stables, after he watched Pavot win the U. S. Hotel stakes at Belmont Saturday.

Terrific Threesome Big Factor In Comeback Of Chicago Cubs

BY CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
Associated Press Feature Writer

CHICAGO, Aug. 9—Some of the lifting power that has pulled Charlie Grimm's Chicago Cubs from the National league dungeon into contention for a first division berth has been provided by a pair of newcomers and a pinch hitter, who, with the aid of glasses, "found" himself as well as the ball.

The terrific threesome includes Catcher Dewey Williams, Southpaw Pitcher Bob Chipman and Outfielder Dim-Dom Dallesandro.

During six full years in the minors, Dallessandro never hit below .309 and his best year was in 1939 with San Diego of the Pacific Coast League when he clipped a gaudy .368. He joined the Cubs in 1940, clubbed .268 and .272 the first two seasons and then was assigned to pinch-hitting duties.

But now the sturdy little outfielder is a regular and appears headed for his best year with the Cubs, batting around the .325 mark and driving in a fine quota of runs. Dim-Dom packs 175 pounds in his compact 5 foot 6 inch frame, and these rather odd proportions have earned him the over-all title of "man of many monickers." Among his choisest sobriquets are "animated fire hydrant" and "the tree stump that walks like a man."

The "man in the hole" appeared this season with new equipment, a pair of glasses. He says "it's sure swell for a ball player to be able to see."

On June 7, the Cubs traded Shortstop Eddie Stanky to the Brooklyn Dodgers for Hurler Chipman. Chipman, a former Brooklyn newsboy whom the Dodgers recalled from Montreal after he had made a 15-7 record last year, came to the Cubs with the reputation of wildness typical of a southpaw.

In 36 innings of pitching for Manager Leo Durocher, he had allowed 24 walks. In the first 53 innings he pitched for the Cubs, he permitted only nine walks and had an earned run average of 2.54 per game.

"I feel relaxed and loose working for Grimm," says Chipman, explaining his metamorphosis. "When I first reported to the Cubs in Pittsburgh, Grimm just handed me the ball and told me to get out on the mound. And that's the way it's been ever since Grimm had enough faith in me to use me as a regular starter.

"You had to pitch to certain spots for Durocher and if you missed you were in for a blistering. Some pitchers just haven't got the control to do it and by trying too hard they get wilder. Guess that was what happened to me."

Sheer determination brought Williams bouncing into the big time. The Cubs bought him from Toronto on June 28 after he had been hitting .311 for Manager Burleigh Grimes and killing off base runners at an alarming rate.

The 26-year-old catcher—a former pupil at Macon, Ga., for Milt Stock, now a Cub coach—thus joined the Cubs quietly and without drum beating. But his fanfare was soon to follow in the form of loud praise from Grimm.

"The kid has a great arm and is as alert as a cat on bunts," says Grimm. "And he's great working with pitchers. He calls 'em right and is smart at gauging ticklish situations."

Rotary Shades ABC; Dean's Bumps Purina

The Rotary baseball juniors, behind the pitching of Walter Higginbotham, edged out the American Business club 3-2 in an overtime battle at Chapman field Tuesday night.

Striking out one and scattering seven hits over the eight innings, Higginbotham worked on the hill for the Rotary while Keeling caught. Pitching two hit ball, McCollum whiffed six for the ABC lads, and Strickland did the catching.

In the National league contest, Bill Dean's Service nine rolled to an easy win over Purina Mills 7-4. Armstrong pitched the victory for Dean's, and Cline caught. Battery for Purina Mills was Balch and LeMond.

Army-Navy Tilt To Be Revived

Grid Spectacle To Leave Hinterlands

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9 (AP)—Collegiate football's super spectacle, the Army-Navy game, probably will leave the rural hinterlands and come out in its traditional metropolitan setting this year.

No site has been set for the service gridiron classic, scheduled for Dec. 2, but both Army and Navy officials here indicated a favorable attitude today toward proposals for staging the game in Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington or New York.

It's the Navy's "home" game this season, and the choice of a locale will be made by the admirals and lesser lights who run the academy at Annapolis. But the Army, of course, must concur in all arrangements.

The Navy always has been in favor of the crowd-luring type of contest, staged in a metropolis. In the year following Pearl Harbor, however, the Army clamped down, as did the Office of Defense transportation, and ruled the game should be held at either Annapolis or West Point, with attendance restricted to residents of the immediate area.

That meant that instead of the usual crowd of 70,000 or 80,000 fans and the colorful fanfare that normally accompanies such a spectacle, the service game in 1942 and 1943 drew under 18,000 customers. It was held in Annapolis two years ago and at West Point last fall.

Women's Golf Field Reduced To Sixteen

CHICAO, Aug. 9 (AP)—Upsets marked the first round play Tuesday in the Women's Western amateur golf championship, but three of the highly favored stars—defending titlist Dorothy Germain, Medalist Sally Sessions and Veteran Phyllis Otto—came through with crushing wins as the field was reduced to 16 contestants.

Last year's co-medalists, Catherine Fox of Bloomfield, N. J., and Kay Byrne of Rye, N. Y., and Veteran Ann Casey of Mason City, Iowa, were expelled in a series of surprises.

Jean Hopkins, 23-year-old Cleveland, Ohio, district champion was one under par in knocking out Miss Casey 5 and 4.

Marjorie Lindsay of Decatur, Ill., the 1943 Illinois state champion, was only two over in ousting Miss Byrne 4 and 3. Mrs. H. M. Sims of Evanston, Ill.

The tournament's Cinderella girl, small Miss Sessions of Muskegon, Mich., swept into a six-up advantage over Mrs. Thomas E. Nolan of New Castle, Pa.

The Philadelphia sensation, Miss Germain, was one-under-par in trouncing Carol Clark of Cincinnati, 6 and 5. Steering even with par, Miss Otto of Omaha, Neb., runner-up in the 1942 western open, rounted Veteran Marjorie Row of Detroit, 7 and 6.

Closest match of the way was the 19-hole victory of Betty Jean Rucker, Spokane, Wash., over Lillian Townsend of Evanston.

Duck Hunting Rules Are Liberalized

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9 (AP)—Hunters may shoot more waterfowl, and over a longer period this fall and winter under liberalized hunting regulations announced today.

The open season will be 80 days, ten longer than last year.

The general daily bag limit for ducks remains at ten, but an additional bag of five mallards, widgeons, and pintails, singly or in aggregate, is allowed. Thus, if a hunter kills five or more of those species in a day, his bag limit on all ducks is 15.

Here's the A-B-C of War Bonds: "All Buy Cheerfully!"

WELL, as the boys say, there's nothing like coming home from a trip and getting a good desk under your feet again!

The old Plainsman, a little frazzled around the edges, got back top-side up from Chicago and Detroit determined never, never to leave home again—at least until travel conditions become something more like normal.

South Plains people have read and heard many times before that "there's no place like home" in this era of jampacked trains, but we can't refrain from offering a hearty "amen!" to everything that's been written and said before.

Getting places these days is what Sherman said war was, and we're not fooling.

Nearly all along the route up and back between here and the giant metropoli of the Midwest, trains were late and terribly crowded.

It's the honest truth that we missed getting into dining cars more frequently than we got into them and one time, when we did get in, all that was left to eat was a piece of pie and two pieces of cheese, plus a cuppa cawfee.

We did wangle from the dining car waiter one piece of bread without butter, which we shamelessly dunked in our coffee!

EN ROUTE home from Detroit, we got into Chicago at 7:20 a. m., and had a three hour layover. We decided to stretch our legs and walked the dozen blocks or so to the Palmer House, where we aimed to have a good breakfast, on account of fearing we'd never make the diner at noon.

For the benefit of those who are not familiar with Chicago, let us remind one and all that the big Palmer House is the best of the Loop hotels. In fact, it is one of the better big city hotels of the country.

But on the day we dropped in there for breakfast we could not get a thing to eat but toast, coffee and boiled eggs—two to the customer.

The Palmer House simply was fresh out of cooks!

When we reached Kansas City on the way home, the train was split, due to the fact that there was a bridge out near Woodward, Okla. One part of the train, carrying the folks bound for the West Coast, was shunted through by way of Grand Junction, Colo. Our part, a "bob-tailed" emergency train, was routed around through Newton, and Kiowa, Kans., hitting the mainline at Waynoka, Okla., four hours late.

Eventually, we stopped alongside of Moreland, Okla., where we lay for about four more hours in the blistering heat, while the bridge was being repaired.

Moreland is a place about like Roaring Springs, but there was not a single newspaper or package of cigarets in the whole town!

The train ran out of ice for drinking water and, to make things jollier, the water tanks over the gents' compartment broke, flooding the floor of the smoking room to a depth of the ankles!

This may all sound pretty wild, but we've got witnesses who'll bear us out.

Also on the "bob-tailed" train were Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Pryor, en route home from Boston and New York; and Miss Josephine Looney, on her way home from a visit with her folks in the Midwest, all of Lubbock.

They'll bear out our story, word for word.

DON'T get the idea The Plainsman is kicking, or criticizing the railroads. Anybody who travels these days should ought to take what he gets and be happy about it, and the railroads are doing the greatest job imaginable under the worst of handicaps.

But we're telling about the trials and tribulations of traveling these days in the hopes it may save someone else some woe and, at the same time, permit the railroads to do a better job for those who simply have to go to and from places.

Nearly everybody is remarkably goodnatured in the crowded stations and on the jammed trains these days.

But human nature being human nature, there are always some heels around.

Mr. and Mrs. Pryor told us this story as our train lay on the Moreland siding and the sweat trickled into our ears. We pass it along here just to let folks know how nasty some human beings can be.

ON the train with us was a Navy wife, about 22 years old, with a perfectly beautiful and engaging daughter of 17 months.

The young mother and baby had started from Miami, Fla., and were en route to Fresno, Cal., about a week's jaunt on the train.

While we were on the Moreland siding, Mr. Pryor got off the train and wangled up what food he could for the young mother and child, simply as a matter of courtesy. Mrs. Pryor from time to time had been helping the mother entertain the baby.

When Mr. Pryor gave the food to the young mother, she was greatly appreciative and thanked both him and Mrs. Pryor for their kindness.

"You're so different from some people on the diner the other morning," she said, and, upon being pressed, continued:

"The baby and I were in for breakfast. Two other people were at the same table and the baby cried a little.

"A woman at the table turned to me and said, 'I wish you would take that child out of here. I can't eat my breakfast for all that howling!'"

Where the young mother made her mistake was in leaving the diner. What she should have done was—well, use your own imagination.

Incidentally, the young mother hadn't seen her sailor husband for 15 months.

That story, however, depicts an unusual situation. Most people on the road today, even though they miss meals and have to push and shove their way on and off trains in the depots, are darn good sports about it.

With a great shortage of redcaps in the stations, it is not unusual for a man to offer to tote a suitcase for a lady, even though his feet are sinking into the concrete up to his ankles from the weight of his own burden.

But take a tip from us. If you plan going somewhere by train, plane or bus, better put it off until there's more room.

There's nothing exaggerated about the Office of Defense Transportation's attitude in the matter.

That Man on Avenue Q says one great trouble with most free speech is that it isn't worth any more than it costs.

* * *

According to evolutionists, it took millions of years to make a man of a monkey.

But almost any woman can reverse the procedure in a few minutes!

HERE'S a chance for someone to help The Plainsman do a good turn.

Does anyone know a South Plains resident who is the mother of Lt. Luther W. Tate, formerly of Lubbock?

Lieutenant Tate is reported missing in action somewhere in China and his fiancee, Miss Lee Estes, of St. Louis, wants to contact the lieutenant's mother whose name no longer is Tate.

Miss Estes has some pictures and momentoes of Lieutenant Tate which she thinks the lieutenant's mother would like to have.

Anyone knowing of the whereabouts of Lieutenant Tate's mother can do a good deed by passing along her name and address to The Plainsman, care of The Avalanche-Journal, Phone 4343.

Thanks in advance.

Feminine Viewpoint

BY RUTH MILLETT
(Copyright, 1944, For The Journal)

WAR Wives who have taken over most of their husband's responsibilities for the duration think and talk about what a relief it will be to be able to unload extra burdens when their men return.

MILLETT

But if they expect their husbands to immediately step back into harness and take over exactly where they left off when they got into uniform, the wives are going to be mighty disappointed.

For the man who has been living a soldier's life, with no personal claims on him, is likely to be a bit slow about picking up his responsibilities.

Not because he doesn't want or intend to or because he cares less for his family than he once did—but simply because he has been out of harness for so long.

ADJUSTMENT TOUGH

ANYONE who has ever held down a job knows how difficult it is to walk into an office after a vacation and start in on the old routine. It takes a few days, when you've only been away from an office for two weeks, to get back into the habit of work and attention to details.

And the men who return from war will find the process of fitting back into the old life and taking on their old responsibilities difficult in the same way—only much more so.

For that reason wives of returning service men will have to be patient and understanding and not let it bother them if their men for awhile act more like guests than heads of families.

And they'll have to use tact and diplomacy to unload the responsibilities they assumed when their husbands had to drop them.

But it will all work out all right, if the women don't get impatient or discouraged.

Star Beams

"DON'T expect everybody to think alike," advises an editor. We never have. Fact is, we don't expect everybody to think (period).

Today's Journal Editorial

WHEN GERMANY FALLS

Recent reports have said that official Washington quietly is doing what it can to discourage plans for wildly unrestrained celebrating in the United States when Germany capitulates.

That sort of celebrating should be discouraged. But probably such things won't require as much discouraging as some may imagine.

Of course, there will be celebrating when the Nazis finally are forced to admit defeat. The celebration may be loud and long and wild. Certainly it is going to be something to celebrate.

But most of those who celebrate will do so—certainly they should do so—with the full and solemn realization of the situation that exists. There can't be any celebration of the end of a war when Germany falls. It merely will mark the end of the first part of the war.

Still remaining for subjugation, after the Nazis quit, will be Japan. True, everyone hopes that the Japanese capitulation will follow close upon that of Berlin. There is some logical basis for such a hope. But it is no more than a hope, wholly without assurance of realization.

The probabilities, as they appear now, are that the Japanese will continue fighting in the hope of gaining an advantageous negotiated peace. If so, they naturally will fight on the defensive. They will occupy positions difficult to attack and relatively easy to defend. Dislodging them will be difficult, and probably very costly in lives. It is entirely possible that defeat of Japan may cost more American lives than sacrificed for victory in Europe.

Most Americans are aware of this prospect. It will be in their consciousness when the time comes to celebrate the collapse of Germany. They aren't likely to forget, in their enthusiasm, the strong probability that thousands upon thousands more American lives still remain for sacrifice in the Pacific before real peace and security can reign upon earth once more.

Even so, precautionary measures like those reported from Washington are advisable. They represent foresight, even though events of the future may demonstrate they were unnecessary. They are justified on the grounds that no avoidable chance can or should be taken that America's guard will be lowered, even for an instant, until the last enemy is down and out.

By DREW PEARSON
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—This column, it should be noted in advance, is likely to be dull. But if you are interested in keeping your son or husband out of another war, it should be important.

The United States and Great Britain are just concluding the first agreement aimed to remove the danger of war—an agreement on oil.

Oil is one of the most ticklish economic subjects in the world. Oil is what makes a nation's battleships move, runs the automobiles, sends the planes into the air—in fact, spells the difference between a nation of strength or a nation which must bow to the whims of others. The present oil agreement seeks to settle the battle for oil; eliminate one important cause of war.

PEARSON

The last war was scarcely over when Great Britain began maneuvering to corner the oil supplies of the world. British leaders were quite frank about it.

"The British position is impregnable,' said Sir Edward Mackay Edgar, British petroleum banker. "All the known oil fields, all the likely or probable oil fields, outside of the United States itself, are in British hands or under British management or control, or financed by British capital."

E. G. Pretyman, member of Parliament and former Civil Lord of the Admiralty, was equally frank. "When the war came," he said, "the British government controlled about two percent of the world's petroleum supplies . . . Now, when adjustments are completed, the British empire will not be very far from controlling one-half of the available supplies of petroleum in the world."

U. S. PROTESTS

FINDING itself in this position, the United States government jumped into the battle for oil with vigor. Secretary of State Charles Evans Hughes wrote a series of blunt, bare-faced notes to the British, wanting to know why they barred American oil companies from Palestine, since Palestine was not British but merely mandated to the British by the League.

Hughes was equally peremptory over the barring of U. S. companies from Burma and the Dutch East Indies. Feelings were aroused on both sides. It was not a happy situation.

Meanwhile, the British, though barring the U. S. from their areas of interest, quietly invaded ours. They turned up with concessions in Colombia, not far from the Panama Canal. Even in Panama proper, a British gold-mining company staked out a huge and suspicious claim in an area where no gold was known to exist.

Thus, until about the time the East Texas oil fields came in, alleviating our immediate worries over the diminishing supply of oil, that precious black commodity was our chief source of friction with a nation which had recently been our valiant ally in the war.

HISTORY REPEATS

IN World War II, history at first began to repeat. The five senators who toured the world war fronts came back with the story of how the U.S.A. was rapidly depleting her oil reserves while the British were hoarding theirs. They told how the British were trying to keep us from further developing oil resources in Arabia; how the British had a refinery on the Gulf of Persia, 50% idle, while we shipped oil clear across the Atlantic to British armies in the Near East.

Yes, it looked as if history would repeat.

On last April 29, however, representatives of the British and American governments negotiated an informal understanding aimed to eliminate the oil battles of the future. It was an excellent, far-sighted agreement. And during the last two weeks in Washington, Lord Beaverbrook and his associates have been negotiating with Secretaries Ickes and Hull to make this informal oil agreement formal and binding. This time, the British have been far more cooperative and far-sighted than in 1919—with one possible exception.

After U. S.-British experts laid their excellent April 29 ground work, Lord Beaverbrook kicked over the traces at some things, and he seems to be keeping a more watchful eye on the interests of the Empire than on a fair future peace. For instance, he has been insisting that Britain have the right to ban the sale of U. S. oil in England, despite the fact that British Shell sells in this country. However, the basic agreement is truly encouraging when it comes to future peace.

AGREEMENT PROVISIONS

IT provides, first: "That petroleum shall be available in international trade to the nationals of all peace-loving countries in adequate volume, at fair prices and on the equitable and non-discriminatory basis."

It goes further and provides that all resources shall be developed "with a view to the availability of adequate supplies in both countries as well as other peace-loving countries, subject to provisions of collective security."

This means that, if the U.S.A. runs out of oil or vice versa, it is up to Britain to help supply us unless, for example, one or the other attempts to conquer Ethiopia as Mussolini did, and the world peace-machinery countries attempt to cut off their oil as the League tried to do to Italy but, because of pressure from the big companies, could not do.

The agreement also gives "equal opportunity" for "acquisition," "development," etc., in areas under concession. This eliminates cut-throat rivalry for new fields. Each nation is to respect the valid concessions of the other and its citizens.

RESTRICTIONS BARRED

FINALLY, and very important, "exploration, development, operation of refineries and distribution shall not be hampered by restrictions imposed by either government or its nationals."

There are various other provisions too long to be detailed here, including provisions for an international petroleum council; a multilateral oil treaty by which Russia and other nations can line up with Britain and the U.S.A. in plans for conservation; estimates for supplying long-range demand; plans for oil distribution among the various countries.

Finally, Britain and the U. S. undertake to obtain the collaboration of other Governments in this very important agreement for eliminating future friction over one of the world's most ticklish questions. If there can be more agreements of this kind, with not too much of the Beaverbrook and Adolf Berle type of diplomacy, there may be real hope for permanent peace.

NOW it leaks out, from sources close to the White House hierarchy: Henry Wallace never had a chance for renomination. He had put himself into a position somewhat similar to that which flattened Jim Farley before the 1940 convention. . . . They tell me that Wallace, sometime in 1942, got an inspiration. He went to the President and let it be known that if Roosevelt didn't intend to run for a fourth term, he, Wallace, felt he would be a logical candidate. The President did not tell him yes or no. Wallace proceeded, in one way and another, to start a boom for himself. Shortly thereafter, he found that he was in bad with the Boss. Instead of having his say, like Farley did, he nursed his hope and his ambition, but found he could get no support without a declaration from above. When FDR, by continued silence, delivered a virtual "pocket veto" on the aspirations of any other Democrat for the top job, Wallace frantically went after renomination, the next best in sight. . . . But Roosevelt wanted no part of him by then, and the "if I were a delegate" letter was written on fly-paper.

Tales about Jack Topping planning a wedding with Lois Andrews were counterfeit. The former Mrs. Jessel is back in California and has very different plans. . . . It will cost Lucky Millinder 20 grand to get a divorce so he can marry his vocalist, Judy Carol. . . . Arturo de Cordova, who breaks up and makes up with Lupe Velez every second day, rushes Simone Simon in between. . . . Fred Waring, who opened at the Roxy as an added attraction with "Wilson," for $25,000 a week, conducted the Roxy orchestra 15 years ago at union wages. Beginning Sept. 7, he starts a radio contract at $18,500 per broadcast per week. If "Wilson" is still running (and if it is not, he will have made a similar deal elsewhere), his gross will be $43,500 a week, plus royalties for records, etc., making him the biggest earner in show business—well over $2,000,000 a year.

PEGGY HOPKINS JOYCE is still the best-looking, the best-dressed and the best-behaved lady of the best spots. . . . An old Chicago friend phoned me from there with the grand story: That Paulina Longworth, daughter of Alice Roosevelt Longworth, is betrothed to Alexander McCormick Sturm. Mrs. Longworth will make the announcement very soon. . . . How well I remember when Alice Roosevelt, the most glamorous girl on the continent, if not in the world, became engaged to Congressman Nickey Longworth in 1906! . . . She was the No. 1 copy of the nation. . . . In contrast, how many readers even remembered, if they ever knew, that she has a daughter? . . . Sturm is a writer, lives in Westport, Conn., and is blood-kin of the mighty McCormicks of Chicago. . . . They will wed in Magnolia, Mass., the Longworths' summer place.

During the most enervating hot spell in New York history, the de luxe picture palaces have been jammed from early morn through the post-midnight shows. Not only has there been an unusual assembly of excellent films, but the air-cooling plants have been a headline draw. . . . The problem hasn't been getting the customers in, but getting them out — some remained eight and ten hours, for the price of one admission.

THE Barry sisters have more than singing on their minds. Claire will soon marry Al Weinberg, who is in the yarn business (no, not a columnist!), and Merna is holding hands with Don Douglas, radio actor. . . . Marilyn Hightower, who was a featured dancer in the "Ziegfeld Follies," is dancing with Sam Wall, manager of Dean Hudson, the bandleader. . . . FDR's campaign manager insists that Elliott Roosevelt wait until after the election to marry. . . . Maxine Keith, Mutual commentator, may take a trip to Reno. A Broadway press agent has high hopes that she will. . . . Rosemary Warburton, one of the prettiest cafe habitues, is getting the rush from Casilli Adlerberg. . . . "Rusty" King, the Roxy singer, dining with a Broadway liquor-man whose name is perfect for paragraph purposes: Mr. Moonshine. . . . Gene Williams, Johnnie Long's vocalist, crooning to Miriam La Belle, Hollywood starlet.

This does not come from Bing Crosby's press agent, but I still don't believe it: Bing was in town, and, weary of being followed about and hemmed in by crowds, he took a taxi and dropped off at an obscure side-street cafe. He was dining alone when a stranger came over and said, "I remember you. You worked a week for me years ago in my theater in Bay View, N. J., for $50. As I paid you off you thanked me and we got to talking and you said some day you hoped to be a star on the screen or the air or the records, or maybe all of them." "That's right," said Bing, "I remember." "Well—how did you come out?"

Yank Break From Beachhead Came In Sun Of High Noon

Ernie Pyle In On "Kickoff" Against Germans

By ERNIE PYLE
Special Correspondent

IN NORMANDY (By Wireless)—The great attack, when we broke out of the Normandy Beachhead, began in the bright light of midday, not at the zero hour of a bleak and mysterious dawn as attacks are supposed to start in books.

ERNIE PYLE

The attack had been delayed from day to day because of poor flying weather, and on the final day we hadn't known for sure till after breakfast whether it was on or off again.

When the word came that it was on, the various battalion staffs of our regiment were called in from their command posts for a final review of the battle plan.

Each one was given a mimeographed sketch of the frontline area, showing exactly where and when each type bomber was to hammer the German lines ahead of them. Another mimeographed page was filled with specific orders for the grand attack to follow.

Setting Not Romantic

Officers stood or squatted in a circle in a little apple orchard behind a ramshackle stone farmhouse of a poor French family who had left before us. The stone wall in the front yard had been knocked down by shelling, and through the orchards there were shell craters and tree limbs knocked off and trunks sliced by bullets. Some enlisted men sleeping the night before in the attic of the house got the shock of their lives when the thin floor collapsed and they fell down into the cowshed below.

Chickens and tame rabbits scampered around the farmyard. Dead cows lay all around in the fields.

THE regimental colonel stood in the center of the officers and went over the orders in detail. Battalion commanders took down notes in little books.

The colonel said, "Ernie Pyle is with the regiment for this attack and will be with one of the battalions, so you'll be seeing him." The officers looked at me and smiled and I felt embarrassed.

Then Maj. Gen. Raymond O. Barton, Fourth Division commander, arrived. The colonel called, "attention!" and everybody stood rigidly until the general gave them, "Carry On."

An enlisted man ran to the mess truck and got a folding canvas stool for the general to sit on. He sat listening intently while the colonel wound up his instructions.

Then the general stepped into the center of the circle. He stood at a slouch on one foot with the other leg far out like a brace. He looked all around him as he talked. He didn't talk long. He said something like this—

"This is one of the finest regiments in the American Army. It was the last regiment out of France in the last war. It was the first regiment into France in this war. It has spearheaded every one of the division's attacks in Normandy. It will spearhead this one. For many years this was my regiment and I feel very close to you, and very proud."

General Shaken By Emotion

The general's lined face was a study in emotion. Sincerity and deep sentiment were in every contour and they shone from his eyes. General Barton is a man of deep affections. The tragedy of war, both personal and impersonal, hurts him. At the end his voice almost broke, and I for one had a lump in my throat. He ended:

"That's all. God bless you and good luck."

Then we broke up and I went with one of the battalion commanders. Word was passed down by field phone, radio and liaison men to the very smallest unit of troops that the attack was on.

THERE was still an hour before the bombers, and three hours before the infantry were to move. There was nothing for the infantry to do but dig a little deeper and wait. A cessation of motion seemed to come over the countryside and all its brown-clad inhabitants—a sense of last minute sitting in silence before the holocaust.

The first planes of the mass onslaught came over a little before 10 a. m. They were the fighters and dive bombers. The main road running crosswise in front of us was their bomb line. They were to bomb only on the far side of that road.

Our kickoff infantry had been pulled back a few hundred yards this side of the road. Everyone in the area had been giving the strictest orders to be in foxholes, for high-level bombers can, and do quite excusably, make mistakes.

We were still in country so level and with hedgerows so tall there simply was no high spot—either hill or building—from where you could get a grandstand view of the bombing as we used to in Sicily and Italy. So one place was as good as another unless you went right up and sat on the bomb line.

Having been caught too close to these before, I compromised and picked a farmyard about 200 yards back of the kickoff line.

And before the next two hours had passed I would have given every penny, every desire, every hope I've ever had to have been just another 800 yards further back.

Hungarian Cabinet Members Dismissed

LONDON, Aug. 9 (AP) — The Berlin radio quoted a dispatch from Budapest today as saying that Admiral Nicholas Horthy, Hungarian regent, had dismissed Bela Imredi, minister without portfolio, and two other cabinet members "at their own request."

The others dismissed were identified as Antal Kunder, minister of commerce and transportation, and Andor Jaross, home secretary.

The significance of the development was not immediately apparent. All three, however, were strongly identified with pro-Nazi elements in Hungary and took office last March 23 when a new government was organized under Premier Doemez Sztojay to intensify the war effort.

FAILURES DECLINE

NEW YORK, Aug. 9 (AP)—Industrial and commercial failures totaled 15 for the week ending Aug. 3, a drop of four from the preceding week and less than one-third of the 51 for the corresponding week a year ago, Dun and Bradstreet reported today.

UTILITIES SCORE ADVANCE
NEW YORK, Aug. 9 (AP) — A handful of utility issues, the more active of the group under the $10 level, scored modest advances in the stock market today although their early gains were pared.
Low-priced motors drifted under the burden of continued liquidation but selling lacked urgency and losses were fractional most of the day.
Prominent shares in other categories were neglected and, toward the close, held within minor fractions of previous prices. Turnover was about 1,000,000 shares for the session.
The war news again was a restraining factor to bidding.
Ahead much of the session were North American, Electric Power & Light, Public Service of New Jersey, American Water Works, National Power & Light, Columbia Gas & Electric and General Realty & Utilities. Martin-Parry drew some late support. Tilted forward but less active were Standard Oil (N.J.), Texas Co., U. S. Steel, Chrysler and General Motors.
Graham-Paige, Hupp Motors and Packard were behind throughout, along with Goodrich, American Telephone and Santa Fe.
Bonds moved unevenly. Cotton in late trades was 25 to 40 cents a bale higher. Wheat at Chicago closed off ¼ to up 1⅛ cents a bushel.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT
NEW YORK, Aug. 9 (AP) — Cotton futures moved higher in quiet trading today as small mill buying and commission house interest in the distant months met only scale up liquidation. Many traders held to the sidelines awaiting fresh incentives.
Futures closed 35 to 55 cents a bale higher.

Flying Bomb Attacks Continued On Britain

LONDON, Aug. 9 (AP) — The Germans resumed their flying bomb attacks upon Britain today after a night of sporadic assaults which an official announcement said had "caused damage and casualties in residential areas" in London and the southern counties.

EMPLOYMENT DECLINES
DETROIT, Aug. 9. (AP)—Edward L. Cushman, War Manpower commission director for Michigan, conceded today that war plant employment had declined from last November's peak but described the manpower problem as more acute, because of continuing draft calls and the return of women to household tasks, "than at any time during the war."

TO INVESTIGATE DISPUTE
DALLAS, Aug. 9. (AP)—The Regional War Labor board said today a tripartite panel would meet Aug. 11 at Odessa to investigate a labor dispute in the North Crowder field of the Stanolind Oil and Gas Co., where 40 employes have been off the job since June 20.

TO PROBE CONTRACTS
WASHINGTON, Aug. 9. (U.P.) — The War department board of officers investigating the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor also will inquire into the awarding of Hawaiian defense contracts to Hans Wilhelm Rohl, German born contractor, the House military affairs committee reported today.

Snowslide In Chile Buries 100 Persons

SANTIAGO, Chile, Aug. 9 (AP) — A snowslide in the Andine copper mining town of Sewell buried 100 persons yesterday. Reports this morning said that four bodies had been found and eight injured persons were rescued.
In central and southern Chile, violent winter rainstorms swept over a wide area, flooding streets in Santiago and Valparaiso. Telegraph communications were interrupted.

During the first days of the Allied landings in Salerno, Italy, naval units lobbed shells ashore in support of the ground forces at the rate of 6,000 to 10,000 a day.

Sale Of Papers To Yanks Is Barred

LONDON, Aug. 9. (AP) — The sale of all daily newspapers except the Army's Stars and Stripes, has been suspended in all U. S. Army camps in the European theatre of war as part of a move designed under the soldier vote law to prevent presentation of biased news to troops prior to the elections.
Hitherto, English newspapers have been available in most camps.
The Stars and Stripes was not affected by the ban because, as an Army official said, "it is our own and we are assured it is unbiased."
"Strict regulations have been laid down for the Stars and Stripes concerning the absolutely unbiased presentation of all political matter," he said.
The new ruling also bars British newspapers and magazines from Red Cross clubs. Nevertheless, the soldier may still receive any publication he desires by mail.
At present 12 magazines are accepted for sale at the post exchanges without question because of their record of impartiality, it was said.

the Moscow-Riga and Daugavpils-Riga railways.
Heavy German counterattacks slowed or halted Soviet advances all along the central and southern sectors of the vast eastern front, but the 1st Ukrainian army extended its bulge across the Vistula river some 11 miles below Warsaw and with the 2nd army widened the Russian arc paralleling the Czechoslovak border to 180 miles.

Rewards Posted For Slayers Of Women

FORT WAYNE, Ind., Aug. 9 (AP) —Investigation of the recent slayings of three Fort Wayne women was spurred today by the posting of a wards of $5,000 in each case for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the killers.
The nude and battered body of the latest victim—Phyllis Conine, 17-year-old high school girl—was found Sunday several miles south of the city. Missing since Friday, her skull had been fractured and there were evidences of strangulation. Condition of her body prevented determination whether she had been raped. Her purse was found yesterday several miles from the scene.
First victim of the series of slayings was Wilhelma Haaga, who staggered into a farmhouse last Feb. 2 beaten so badly she was unable to tell what had happened. She died three days later.
Last May 22, the body of Anna Kuzett, 22, war plant worker, was found along a dark road on the western edge of the city. She had been raped.

Limestone's Sheriff Race All Muddled Up

GROESBECK, Aug. 9 (U.P.) — Limestone county citizens wondered today who will be their next sheriff.
The two top men who led in a three-man race for the office in the first primary — Sheriff Sam Adkins and Herman Adams — later decided to withdraw. The third man, Charlie Shreve, did not have a majority so the county Democratic executive committee met to mull things over.
Now, the committee has decided to let all three men — or as many as want to — run again in the second primary.
Voters are wondering what will happen if Shreve, too, decides not to run.

Prices On Crackers, Cookies To Increase

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9. (AP) — After Aug. 14 you will pay a little more for cookies, crackers, toast and crumbs sold to retailers by specialty wholesalers, the Office of Price administration announced today.
The slight increase results from new ceilings based on the highest price of March, 1942, rather than on the previous "fixed mark-up," OPA said.

SPLINTER IS REMOVED
NEW YORK, Aug. 9 (AP)—The British radio, crediting reports from German circles in Copenhagen, said today a Danish brain specialist, Prof. Edward Busch, "recently removed a shrapnel splinter from Rommel's head but refused to accept a fee." FCC monitors recorded the broadcast. By Berlin account, Marshal Erwin Rommel was injured in an air raid July 17.

KESSELRING SAID WOUNDED
(By The United Press)
Unconfirmed reports from the Italian front today said that German Field Marshal Albert Kesselring has been seriously wounded and that Italian Marshal Rudolfo Garziani has taken over the command. The report from the BBC European service, was recorded this morning by NBC.

San Marino, in the heart of Italy—a country within a country—claims to be the oldest state in Europe. It has an area of 38 square miles and a population of about 15,000.

Congratulations To:

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Carruth of 602 Avenue E on birth of a son weighing 8 pounds 15 ounces at 11:43 o'clock Tuesday night in St. Mary's hospital. Carruth is a grocer.

Heavy Vote Seen

Democratic leaders. Especially, in view of the split of Democrats into fourth term and anti-fourth term factions.
Both Democratic and Republican electors have been certified for the November ballot This was done after the May 23 party conventions. Now one Democratic faction says the September state convention has the power to substitute party electors. If the Democrats can do so, the Republicans can do so and there was an undercurrent of speculation at Austin whether the Republicans might withdraw their electors if the Democrats have two sets, and ask Republicans to vote for the anti-fourth term electors.

"I finally managed to cut my belt with a knife and escape through a door," he said. "It was a terrifying experience."
Two women passengers escaped from the cabin by breaking the windows with the heels of their shoes, Bonilla said.
Nipe Bay is near the northeastern tip of Cuba across the island from Guantanamo Bay where the United States has a naval base.
The accident followed by 18 months the crash of the Yankee clipper in the Tagus river, Lisbon, at the end of a Trans-Atlantic hop on Feb. 23, 1943, when 24 persons were killed and 15 injured.

refinery on the Danube 30 miles west of Budapest was left in flames. Other targets were a Messerschmitt assembly plant at Glor, and airdromes at Veches and Tokol.

Site of War Plants

Stuttgart, a city of 400,000, and the capital of Wurtemburg, is in southern Germany 100 miles from the French frontier. It is on rail and highway routes to Paris and Munich and is the site of a ball bearing factory, a magneto works, and airplane engines and assembly plants.
British medium bombers in the early afternoon exploded an ammunition dump in the Lyons forest, ten miles east of Rouen. A forest fire was kindled by the explosion and "this was followed by a gigantic unheaval of the earth which sent a wave over a radius of five miles," a pilot said.
The reported thrust into the Reich was the first since Sunday for British based heavy bombers, which had devoted all their efforts to support of Allied armies in France.

Planes Fill Skies

Planes filled the channel skies throughout the morning. One bomber fleet took more than an hour to cross the coast.
Twice within three hours last night, RAF Lancaster and Halifaxes attacked three fuel dumps in northern France—all considerable distances from the battle front and each containing hundreds of tons of oil.
All three dumps—at Aire-Sur-la Lys in the Pas-de-Calais area, in the Foret de Lucheux to the south and in the Foret de Chantilly just north of Paris—were left in flames.

Explosives Fall Short

More than 3,200 sorties were flown yesterday against German front positions in support of ground troops driving toward Paris, but Allied appraisal of the results was marred again by a report that some explosives fell short, bombing Canadian positions.
The weather was unfavorable over the battle area today, but prospects were for improvement.
Of the stabs into Germany and Hungary today, German broadcasts said heavy U. S. bombers with strong fighter escort struck into the southern Reich from the west and suffered losses in air battles over Budapest and Lake Balaton.

rived. An intensive search began, carrying investigators through the Bureau of Budget, where all matters pertaining to executive orders must be cleared, and into the Department of Justice—last clearance point before they are laid on Byrnes' desk.
The Justice department finally discovered the papers in the possession of the wrong division. They were hastily transmitted to the White House and thence to the President.

OVERLAND MOVEMENT OF FREIGHT PARALYZED
KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 9 (U.P.)—The movement of freight by over-the-road carriers remained paralyzed here today with an estimated 2,000 big carriers held up in garages and at docks as the eight-state tie-up continued.
Police reported no difficulties, although there were reports of touring carloads of strikers, calling on additional drivers of the AFL union to leave their jobs. An estimated 5,000 drivers and dockmen were idle in this key milwestern terminal city.
Some Army trucks were called into service to move military freight and two private line carriers loaded with government "hot freight" went out last night for Denver but spokesmen for the operators said that "several million pounds" of government freight remained in ware-houses throughout the area.

Nazi Executions

up since 1918 that World War one was lost because the home front cracked while the army still was unbeaten.

Nazis To Go Underground

Once the war is finally lost, the Nazis obviously intend to go underground, relying upon the hundreds of thousands of young men and women who have been conditioned to Nazi doctrines for the past decade or more to keep resistance alive until they again can come into the open.
Gestapo Chief Heinrich Himmler is believed to have been earmarked for the job of leading this underground army, and Allied military men recognize that the task of rooting out and destroying it will occupy the military and secret police of the Allied nations for some time after the peace.
Stockholm reports tended to confirm the belief that German morale has been badly shaken by the new Nazi purge and that the long-expected collapse is not far off.

Nazi Masses Skeptical

A traveler arriving in Stockholm from Germany said Propaganda Minister Dr. Joseph Goebbels' explanation of the plot against Hitler was received with indifference or skepticism by the German masses.
The trials and executions, the traveler said, had the double purpose of eliminating elements that might be capable of taking over power after the German military collapse and to pave the way for a new "betrayal" legend.
Hitler's chief aides, he said, were doing their utmost to deprive the Germans of any feasible alternative to the Nazi regime and to find a scapegoat for the impending military disaster.
(The Swiss Basler Arbeiter Zeitung, in a dispatch reported to the Office of War information, said repercussions of the plot against Hitler were discernible in southern Germany across the Swiss frontier, where gestapo arrests had become "the order of the day." The newspaper added that members of the German aristocracy—the landed class denounced by the Nazis for implication in the plot—were disappearing "no one knows where.") summon before the jury officials of the Philadelphia Transportation company, the CIO Transport Workers union, strikers and government war agency officials, the Army, which took over operation of the lines under orders of President Roosevelt, announced the resumption of the training program for both white and negro operators.

"Operations of the PTC have been restored to normal," said an announcement today from Maj. Gen. Philip Hayes, the War department's representative in operating the system.
Meanwhile, armed guards continued to ride every bus, trolley, subway and subway-elevated today as the Army studied reports on the 181 employes who failed to show up for work Monday on the first day of restored service.
In the first disclosure of action which fomented the walkout, James J. Fitzsimon, international vice president of the TWU, said PTC workers voted on July 18—two weeks before the walkout—to go on srike over the company's upgrading of eight negroes.

Guy Reports On Trip To Chicago, Detroit

First-hand report of the National Democratic convention and observation of labor and racial situations as they exist in Detroit were given by Chas. A. Guy at the luncheon of the Lubbock Rotary club today noon in Hilton hotel. The speaker was introduced by George Pratas, program chairman.
Also on the program were Charline Jordan, vocalist, and Carolyn Reynolds, pianist.
Two new members were introduced to the club by O. W. Ribble. They were Cols. James A. DeMarco and Howell M. Estes, jr.
Out-of-town guests were: Carl Peters, Ithaca, Mich.; W. F. Fulton, Globe, Ariz.; Jim Stark, Lockney; George Loos, Laredo; Clinton M. O'Brien, Robstown; J. L. Gubbels, Austin; J. Edd McLaughlin and Jimmie Rankin, Ralls; and Rev. Dr. Mar Yosip, Temple.

Rival Polish Groups Fail On Agreement

MOSCOW, Aug. 9. (AP) — Rival Polish regimes failed to agree today on a plan of fusion and leaders are returning to their respective headquarters in London and Lublin with renewal of negotiations delayed at least until after the Russians capture Warsaw.
Premier Stanislaw Mikolajczuk consulted the U. S. and British ambassadors late today after the Soviet-sponsored Polish committee of national liberation said his exiled government in London was clinging to the "dictatorial" constitution of 1935, blocking formation of a "democratic provisional government." He probably will leave for London tomorrow.
President Morawski of the committee departed for Lublin.
Both sides left the way open for talks in the indefinite future, but indicated they preferred to wait until the Germans are driven from Warsaw, the Polish capital, which could be the scene of their next deliberations.

'Paris' Magic Word

touched and as warm as the deliriously-happy Frenchmen who run out to lavish champagne and kisses upon us.

Contrast Terrific

The contrasts are terrific. You hasten your jeep through the burning hell which is St. Hilaire du Harcouet and emerge covered with cinders and your eyes red from smoke into a countryside so sublimely beautiful and peaceful that it's almost unbelievable that a great retreat and a great advance have just been made across it.
Flags and banners festoon the way now and French kiddies threw kisses at my jeep as I sped along. For mile after mile there was no sign of war except a couple of camouflaged, hastily-abandoned German 88's and the ever present reminder that our armored spearhead was up ahead—the tank tracks ground into the highway.
So one rolled on through the daily decorated villages . . . Ernee, Le Chenes, Le Lande, Grenoux. Not until we came to Laval did we find war. Buildings were burning there where the Americans a few hours before had liberated the capital of Mayenne.

People Mad With Joy

The people of Laval were mad with joy. They climbed over the fenders of the jeep and Bob Casey of the Chicago Daily News, who was riding in the front seat, was kissed by all sorts of gals from babes in arms to grandmothers. We were told that some of the populace earlier had been killed when they rushed into the streets while the fight was still going on.
We did not pause at Laval because it was rumored that already Le Mans was ours 45 miles farther ahead on the Paris road. Several kilometers ahead we found the tail of our fast moving column and raced past hundreds of armored vehicles.
We finally joined the spearhead at a crossroads marked by the small town of Avesse after enduring a warm and winey welcome at Cosse en Champagne by women, children and crippled oldsters from the last war. They insisted we drink to their liberation and one old fellow, embracing me and waving his arms alternately, shouted in enthusiasm:
"Take our wine. Take our food—even our women. Take anything you like."
We settled for a few bottles of wine.

Yanks Smash Into Le Mans

German armored forces—heretofore so carefully husbanded—through three great blocks. The enemy threw tanks into vain attempts to halt the surge into Le Mans, four armored divisions had been committed to a futile counterattack at the Allied center near Mortain. The enemy was throwing other steel machines against the Canadian army tide advancing below Caen.
A front dispatch said Americans had sealed off the German penetration near Mortain, aimed at splitting the Allied corridor, and had knocked the enemy from Cherence Roussel in that area and captured three more towns. Fighting continued, however, near Juvigny, northeast of Mortain.
U. S. forces were closing also on the ports of St. Malo, on the north Breton coast, St. Nazaire, and Nantes. Reconnaissance patrols were reported at the Loire's river mouth.

Nazis Pull Back

(The Berlin radio said German troops at St. Malo had pulled back within the inner ring of the city's defenses.)
The Canadian drive, ripping through a great German anti-tank wall, had cut more than 10 miles forward, carrying 16 of the 20 miles from Caen to the road hub of Falaise. From 800 to 1,000 Germans were captured. The key town of Bretteville-Sur-Laize, nine miles below Caen, was seized.
On the Canadian left, the Germans counterattacked today against the British bridgehead across the Orne river, but it was repelled with slight loss of ground, and the bridgehead was termed secure. This British wedge threatens to trap Germans between the Orne and Laize rivers by joining with the Canadian push below Caen.
Supreme headquarters said that the bulk of approximately 100 submarines which the Nazis were reported to have in Brittany were believed to have escaped.
Lt. Gen. Omar N. Bradley's columns fought in the outskirts of St. Malo on the north coast. The siege was into its fourth day. Headquarters reported the Americans four miles from Brest and five from Lorient.

Nazi Thrusts Beaten Off

The British Second army punched into central German defenses between Vire and Thurty-Harcourt, tank-supported British infantry beat off strong German counterattacks seeking to wipe out the Grimboso bridgehead.
The forward unit of the Canadian First army still was rolling toward Falaise, birthplace of William the Conqueror, and the level land leading toward Paris.
Hundreds of German prisoners were captured but the Canadians had no time to count them.

Reach High Ground

(The British radio said that the Canadian drive had reached the high ground near the village of Potigny, a little more than five miles from Falaise, a communications center).
Supreme headquarters gave no new information on the drives for St. Nazaire and Nantes. U. S. units are known to be within 12 miles of each.
(The German radio reported a fierce battle for Lorient and said the Germans have "withdrawn closer to the fortress itself.")
Further indications were that the Germans virtually were abandoning southern France to scrape together forces for defense of the Loire river line. From Spain came word that a second trainload of guns and other equipment en route north from the Bayonne defenses, 275 miles south of the Loire, had been wrecked by the French maquis.
Prime Minister Churchill visited the Normandy battlefront again yesterday and talked to Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery and Gen. Bradley.

litical power," Wagner told the Senate.

"Must Fix Uniform Rates"

Congress must fix uniform rates of compensation higher than present state levels, Wagner continued, without waiting for the "remote possibility" that the states themselves will liberalize their programs.
Senator Ferguson and another Republican, Senator Aiken of Vermont, also said they regard present state compensation scales as inadequate and proposed that a middle ground be found by Congress between them and the $45-a-week rate provided in the federal plan.
A supporter of the Murray-Kilgore proposal, Senator Wallgren (D-Wash), said he thought there should be a modification of its provision for unemployment payments at $12 to $35 weekly, with the federal government supplementing state payments which average less than half that maximum.
The Senate tentatively scheduled a vote tomorrow on the issue.

oral arguments that he believed American was attempting to revise and shorten its transcontinental route by 213 miles between Chicago and Los Angeles.
Hamilton O. Hale, attorney for American, agreed American desires to shorten its transcontinental line, that Oklahoma City and Tulsa should have transcontinental service both east and west and that Tulsa, Oklahoma City, Fort Smith, Lubbock and Wichita Falls should be given local service by American if CAB decides transcontinental planes should not stop in smaller cities.
Braniff attorneys contended American now has 30 per cent of the air traffic business and that "it is time to stop adding more cities to this practical monopoly of air transportation."

Greatest Test Is Ahead For Hitler

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

Whether there's truth in the report that Gestapo Chief Himmler-the-hangman has been assassinated and Reichsmarshal Goering wounded, the fact remains that all the leaders of the Hitler regime are increasingly in danger of violent death.

The dictator has put the already war-weary and gloomy German people under a terrific strain of regimentation in his program for total war. He has chained them to their galley seats and is using the lash to make them pull their oars. His armies are under the even greater stress of continual defeats and retreats.

Gallows Claims Officers

Thus while Hitler may be able to keep the lid on for a time by terrorism and force, morale inevitably will deteriorate to the point where more and more individuals will seek the lives of the leaders responsible for Germany's catastrophe. The gallows which yesterday claimed eight more army officers has only begun its grim work. No wonder the fuehrer's spirits are so low that he's said to be taking a rest cure in his Alps retreat at Berchtesgaden.

The greatest test of Hitler's ability to hold his people in line is still to be made. He's about to undergo a trial by fire in the great retreats which the German armies must achieve in the western and eastern theaters to reach the inner defenses of the reich for their last stand.

Next Few Weeks Crucial

The next few weeks are going to be among the most crucial of the war. They will tell us whether the out-matched Nazi soldiers can endure the bloody grind of firing and retiring — firing and retiring. They will tell us whether the German home front can stand the frightful casualty lists and growing defeat.

The greatest single menace hanging over Hitler as he tries to extricate his armies probably is the mighty Allied air-force which these days roams the skies with little challenge.

Air Power Is Used

The fine and going Canadian offensive in the Caen sector provides an excellent illustration of the use of air power in battle. This vastly important and difficult attack was preceded by an unprecedented bombardment by some 1,600 planes, after which the hard-hitting Canadians slammed into the powerful German defenses and hurled the enemy back several miles.

That battle, by the way, is worth watching. The Caen sector is the hinge on which the Hitlerites are swinging back their loose left flank in retreat. If that hinge is broken it will place the Nazis in a precarious position.

Lend-Lease To Britain Expected To Decline

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9 (AP) — A steady downward trend in lend-lease shipments to Britain is expected by officials here once Germany has been defeated. Supplies will be trimmed, they say, in proportion to Britain's need for assistance in the war against Japan.

To bulwark Britain's economy and America's industrial employment against a drop due to this curtailment, it was said, Congress may be asked soon for legislation authorizing transition credits.

Thus items which war requirements formerly justified under lend-lease could be shipped instead on a credit basis and the whole system of trade be shifted back as rapidly as possible to normal commercial trade.

A report by the National Association of Manufacturers that lend-lease to Britain would be continued when the war with Germany had ceased, while that with Japan continued, was described by economists as literally true. They insisted, however, that under terms of the lend-lease law itself Britain could be sent only such goods as she needed to fight Japan — including civilian supplies.

The United Kingdom has an area of 94,281 square miles.

Over-Optimism On War's End Rapped

FORT WORTH, Aug. 9 (U.P.) — Americans inclined to be over-optimistic about an early end of the war today had this warning from Lt. Gen. William S. Knudsen, director of Army Air Forces material and service:

"We must not sell the hide until we've shot the bear."

Knudsen and two other army generals visited the Convair Fort Worth Aircraft plant yesterday. Accompanying Knudsen were Maj. Gen. B. E. Meyers, deputy commander of AAF material and service, Patterson field, O., and Brig. Gen. Ray G. Harris, commander of the Midwestern procurement district, Wichita, Kans.

Emphasizing the continuing need for large warplanes, such as the ones in production at Convair's huge plant, Knudsen said, "we'll certainly take all we can get."

On the question of a possible early windup of the war, Knudsen declared:

"When General Marsall and Admiral King tell me the war is over, I'll be willing to believe it. Not before."

Vermont Republicans Stick To Tradition

MONTEPLIER, Vt., Aug. 9 (AP) —Vermont's staunch Republicans apparently have heaped tradition upon tradition in nominating Mortimer R. Proctor for governor.

By his victory in yesterday's primary, the present lieutenant governor virtually was assured of occupying the gubernatorial chair in which his father and grandfather once sat, for in Vermont the GOP nomination is tantamount to election.

Assignats were paper money issued in France in the latter part of the 18th century.

Western Fields
that feed a Nation at War

Look to the West, America, and fill your eyes with the boundless expanse of American fields—symbol of Freedom's Food.

Today, our golden fields of war are working hand in hand with our black smokestacks of war industries.

And under the plow, the drill and the combine the Good Western Earth is turning out the precious food that peoples live on, armies fight on, wars are won on.

For example, this year's wheat crop is the largest in our history. Could there ever be a prouder time for American farmers?
