Senate Closes Doors To Consider Schnabel

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The Senate voted 19-12 today to take a brief breather in its extended discussion of whether to fire Senate Secretary Charles Schnabel, who is under indictment for theft of state funds.

After five hours of closed-door debate Sunday night and today on Schnabel's fate, the Senate quit at 12:25 p.m. until 2 p.m.

Sen. Walter Mengden, R-Houston, predicted the Senate would vote to keep Schnabel on the job, pending his trial.

Asked why, Mengden replied, "Twenty years of faithful service."

Moments before the Senate voted to recess, Atty. Gen. John Hill announced his office would conduct its own investigation into the theft allegations.

Schnabel appeared for a few minutes on two occasions in the Senate chamber but sat in his office while the Senate talked about him for two hours today.

Senators met for three hours Sunday night to discuss whether to fire, suspend or keep Schnabel on his $37,500-a-year job but no decision was made.

Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby also met with Travis County Dist. Atty. Bob Smith, whose staff investigation led to the indictments against Schnabel.

Hobby said Schnabel had not offered to resign, and no one had asked him to do so.

Impeachment Delayed

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The Texas Senate delayed action today on the impeachment trial of Duval County District Court Judge O.P. Carrillo to take a vote on what to do about Senate Secretary Charles Schnabel.

Schnabel is under indictment for theft of state funds.

The Senate went behind closed doors to talk about Schnabel at the same time Carrillo's lawyers and the state prosecutor and his assistants met in private on rules to govern the impeachment proceedings.

The Senate was expected to postpone Carrillo's trial for the fourth time.

Petition To Incorporate Sand Springs Filed, Election Due

Noting he has no choice under Texas law, County Judge Bill Tune today said he will call an election over incorporation of part of Sand Springs.

Marshall Day presented Tune with a petition, signed by 33 citizens, and a map of the three-and-one-half-mile-long proposed city. Judge Tune said he and Day toured the area Friday and estimated that 229 persons lived in the area.

The proposed city limits would follow IS-20 from the east side of the KOA campground west to Salem Road.

Highway right of way is the only continuous strip of land encompassed inside boundaries, but the interstate connects several protrusions of residential and commercial property.

The homes of J. D. Fortenberry, Doyle Fowler and Walter Barbee are identified in the first protrusion which is 208 feet wide and runs 1,040 feet south along Salem Road.

Going west, the residence of M. A. Lilly lies within a 100-by-140-foot rectangle north of the interstate.

Next comes area around Scout Hut Road and Hooser Road. This rectangle is situated between IS-20 and the railroad tracks and has an estimated population of 96 persons.

Directly south is a 416-foot square containing the houses of Owen Johnston, Charles Rupard and Gary Richardson.

The boundary drops 208 feet south of the highway by H. C. Wallin's home. This segment continues west to Moss Creek Lake Road extending 208 feet further south there. Leopard's Auto Sales, Lakeway Grocery and a beauty shop would be within the proposed city limits.

But, from here west, nothing but highway would be incorporated until Wilson Road south is reached.

Here, the city limits line goes south to include the home of C. Grizzard and 208 feet west of the county road.

The boundary then follows the east-west Midway Road 624 feet before going straight back to the interstate. This would be the western limit of the proposed Town of Sand Springs and its largest protrusion.

These signatures appear at the bottom of the petition:

Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Day, Mrs. C. Grizzard, Lisa Grizzard, Mr. and Mrs. Jarrell Barbee, Amy D. Barbee, Diana Kohanek, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kohanek.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Barbee, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Wallin, Donald W. and Sherry Fryrear, Debbie Fryrear, Bob and Valerie Bowen, J. D. and Helen Fortenberry, Mr. and Mrs. Theo Earnest and Jimmy Earnest.

And Mrs. Wilma McLain, Mrs. Gary Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Lilly, H. D. and Mrs. Doyle Fowler, Douglas and Mrs. Doug Earnest and one name which could not be readily discerned.

Day said he did not want to comment about the plans to incorporate until after the election.

With the help of County Attorney W. H. (Bill) Eyssen Jr., Judge Tune found a state judicial precedent. In part, the court then ruled:

"...When county judge is presented with statutory petition, and proof satisfactory to him has been made that territory sought to be incorporated contains requisite number of resident qualified electors, county judge has no discretion and must call election."

Judge Tune said he has not set the date for the election.

Ford Appeals For Angola Cease-Fire

ST. LOUIS (AP) — President Ford called today for an immediate cease-fire in Angola, an end to all outside intervention and a government of national unity to stop the civil war there.

He also warned the Soviet Union that if it continues intervention in Angola "damage to our broader relations will be unavoidable."

In a speech prepared for delivery today before the American Farm Bureau Federation in St. Louis, the President promised continued U.S. efforts "diplomatic and otherwise to stabilize the military situation in Angola and promote a quick and peaceful settlement."

But he rejected the idea of using grain sales to persuade Russia to disengage in Angola.

Ford departed Washington at 9:06 a.m. EST and arrived at St. Louis Lambert Field at 11:10 a.m. EST. He was to meet with Farm Bureau leaders after his speech and with area news executives before returning to Washington tonight.

Ford was met at the airport by Republican Gov. Christopher Bond and Missouri Atty. Gen. John Danforth.

The group of welcomers was small and the weather chilly but sunny. The President said he was happy to be enjoying nice weather, but he passed up any handshaking.

He told reporters he expected the "prestige of the United States" to help secure a peaceful settlement in Angola and reiterated that he thought a cease-fire was the best first step to such a settlement, which he said must be reached among the Angolans themselves.

On another subject, the President said he would campaign some in New Hampshire but added that the best way for him to win votes was "working in the Oval Office on presidential matters."

Ford's aides described his trip to St. Louis as nonpolitical, but Agriculture Secretary Earl Butz, who flew here with the President, told reporters Ford definitely would win the farm vote in 1976.

While former President Richard M. Nixon got 70 per cent of the farm vote, Butz said, Ford will get "above 60 per cent." He said Nixon got a bigger vote because his opponent, Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D., was "poison to farmers."

Butz said farmers "vote their pocketbooks" and added that there has been prosperity throughout rural America.

Echoing the text of the President's speech, Butz said farmers have had the highest net income on record during the past three years and will approach $25 billion in 1976, without government payments.

He noted this would be well above the 1972 record of $17.3 billion, which Butz said included nearly $4 billion in government payments.

He credited Republican administrations with removing "the dead hand of bureaucracy" from the farmers.

He warned the Russians "there cannot be a lessening of world tension if the Soviet Union by military support and other means attempts to expand its sphere of influence thousands of miles from its borders."

Meanwhile, there were these developments related to Angola:

—Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger will meet with Soviet Ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin this week and ask about the Soviet statement and whether it represents a major shift in Soviet attitudes about Angola.

Elderly Beating Victim Dies

Martin Paredes, 96-year-old invalid who was severely beaten New Year's Eve, died Sunday without regaining consciousness at Malone and Hogan Hospital.

The beating is now recorded as a murder, according to Police Chief Stanley Bogard. "It will be recorded as the sixth murder in the city in 1975 since the beating occurred before 1976," said Bogard.

"There are few leads on the beating, but police are investigating all angles," added Detective Richard Cantwell.

Nicholas Paredes, the victim's grandson, found his grandfather beaten and lying in his bed at his home 506 N. San Antonio around 9:15 p.m. Dec. 31. Anyone with any information on the beating is asked to contact police.

In the other five murders in the city during the past year, an arrest has been made in each case. J. Doug Ingram was charged in the birthday party murder of Michael Ralph Green in April. Abel Trevino has been charged with the stabbing death in late April of Gomesindo Diaz Sr.

In June, Judi Carroll Cotton was arrested in connection with the death of Robert Earl Allen at 307½ NW 7th.

July saw Elmer Donald Clements arrested for the murder of Ruby Ortega at 207 S. Jones.

In December, Antonio Torres was arrested for the death of George Angulano in a vacant lot behind a warehouse.

White House staff chief Richard Cheney said Sunday on CBS "Face the Nation" that U.S. officials were encouraged by the Soviet comment, but Western specialists in Moscow said they see no sign of a basic change in Soviet policy.

—The Soviets accused China on Sunday of teaming up with "South African racists — the bitterest enemies of the African peoples — who are trying to spread the inhuman apartheid system to Angola." Until recently, China was reportedly supporting an Angolan faction that was opposed to the Soviet-backed faction.

—Recruiting and training of American mercenaries to fight in Angola has come to an abrupt halt in the United States, The Christian Science Monitor reported today.

Quoting sources close to the Central Intelligence Agency, the newspaper said the halt appeared to be the result of an article it published last week that said ex-U.S. servicemen were being trained for mercenary work in a CIA-sponsored operation at Ft. Benning, Ga.

But today's article said the center of recruitment has moved to Europe, where some African embassies are quietly recruiting Europeans, using American and other funds.

Administration officials have denied that American mercenaries were being used but declined direct answers when asked if foreign mercenaries were being hired.

Gunmen Surrender Japanese Jetliner

MANILA, The Philippines (AP) — Two gunmen who seized a Japanese jetliner carrying 219 persons at Manila airport in a bid for free passage out of the country surrendered to authorities early Tuesday, peacefully ending a nearly 12-hour siege, officials said.

The gunmen used their arms and handkerchiefs to shield their faces from photographers as they walked down the ramp and were driven away in a car to be interrogated.

Military sources said the hijackers, who surrendered their revolvers, had demanded anonymity as the price for giving up. Airline officials in Tokyo said other conditions were "special forgiveness and pardon" and "better living conditions."

It was not immediately known whether the Philippine government met these demands. Earlier, the air force chief, Maj. Gen. Jose Rancudo, said he would recommend a presidential pardon for the hijackers if they gave up peacefully.

Government broadcasts said the identities and nationalities of the hijackers were "still unknown." However, a Japanese diplomat exchanged earlier for several crew members said the hijackers were Filipino brothers, aged 18 and 24.

The hijackers surrendered to Philippine Tourism Secretary Jose D. Aspiras and the deputy constabulary chief, Brig. Gen. Gregorio Fider, who went aboard the parked aircraft 50 yards from the terminal building for the final surrender negotiations, the officials said.

Before the surrender, the gunmen had freed the passengers, then released eight stewardesses in

Tax-Cut Bill Could Get Extension

WASHINGTON (AP) — The six-month tax-cut legislation for this year may be extended or increased, leaders in both the Congress and the Ford administration say.

Noting that some experts indicate the economy may flatten out during the year, House Democratic Whip John J. McFall of California predicted, "I think we may have to have a larger tax cut."

President Ford has said he will propose increased tax reductions in his State of the Union message, and his chief of staff, Richard Cheney, repeated that promise Sunday.

McFall appeared on ABC's "Issues and Answers," and Cheney was interviewed on CBS's "Face the Nation."

McFall said he feels Congress should consider a larger tax cut, if needed, by about the middle of the year.

The current tax cut, approved in December, lasts for only six months, and some action will have to be taken to extend it or taxes will jump back to 1974 levels when it expires.

The compromise measure includes reductions of about $18 billion, on an annual basis, from 1974 levels. Various experts have estimated this at a reduction of $2 to $6 a week for most workers from the taxes they would have had to pay.

Ford had asked for a cut of $28 billion, or $10 billion more than was approved. Cheney said Ford will repeat his call for this increased reduction, to be coupled with a $395-billion federal spending ceiling.

McFall noted, however, that the congressional Joint Economic Committee has warned that such a ceiling would add to unemployment and slow economic recovery.

The battle over spending limits raged between the White House and the Congress in the fall. Ford finally settled for a congressional promise to try to hold down spending when a tax cut was approved last month.

Both sides called it a victory: Congress because it had not agreed to a specific ceiling and Ford because Congress accepted the principle of reducing spending when cutting taxes.

exchange for Japanese Consul Tamotsu Furuta and Japan Air Line's manager in Manila, Sakae Seike, military officials said.

In addition to the diplomat and the airline official, the hijackers held 12 male crew members at the time they gave up. No injuries were reported in the siege.

Officials denied an earlier report carried by the government radio that the hijackers had surrendered to Imelda Marcos, wife of the Philippine president.

Department of Public Information broadcast controlman Eddie Pangilinan said their field reporter "made the mistake and was later corrected by the senior reporter."

Mrs. Marcos was at the airport to see one of her daughters off on a flight to the United States and her presence there was coincidental, the official Philippine News Agency said.

A woman passenger with a heart condition who was released earlier told reporters the hijackers were armed with a snub-nosed revolver and some "plastic explosives" tied to their waists.

In a radio conversation with military negotiators, the hijackers said they just wanted "free passage out of the country. We don't intend to harm anybody."

The World At-A-Glance

PITTSBURGH (AP) — City teachers vowed to man picket lines today and continue their five-week-old walkout, despite a back-to-work court order and a school board decision to reopen classes for 62,000 public school pupils. A last minute bargaining session ended early today and produced only bad feelings as the school board released its latest offer and the teachers turned it down. "The schools will not reopen until new contracts are negotiated and ratified," said Pittsburgh Federation of Teacher President Albert Fondy, adding that no new negotiations were scheduled. He said pickets would be placed at all 104 public schools.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Radio communications and telephone hotlines were hooked up and helicopters were ready today to help hospitals deal with a slowdown by doctors protesting the rising cost of malpractice insurance. Medical spokesmen said Sunday that hospitals in the Los Angeles area formed a communications network to distribute patient loads evenly. The slowdown began Jan. 1, but the full impact was not expected to be felt until today with the end of holiday vacations.

Meanwhile, doctors and state officials prepared to resume a meeting in Sacramento today which ended in Los Angeles on Saturday without agreement.

CONCORD, N.H. — Ronald Reagan kicks off a two-week campaign swing today with a bus tour through snow-covered New Hampshire, where he hopes to mount a strong challenge to President Ford in the state's first presidential primary. Reagan will visit two dozen small communities in three days. After visiting four other primary states, he'll return for another three-day swing Jan. 15. Reagan has placed heavy emphasis on New Hampshire because he's trying to demonstrate early that Ford does not have widespread electoral appeal.

MIAMI (AP) — National Airlines is planning a limited schedule of flights for Tuesday, the first since flight attendants walked out Sept. 1 in a dispute over pay, hours and fringe benefits. Stewards and stewardesses ended the 126-day strike by voting 3-1 to accept the contract.

Terrorists — World Problem

Perhaps — just perhaps — the terrorist kidnapping of the oil ministers of 11 OPEC states, plus members of their delegations, could at last bring action to curb such senseless acts worldwide.

There appears no rational motive for the Austrian incident. But then, most of these terrorists attacks defy logic. They are a sort of global madness from which no one is safe.

But until now, most Third World states — including Arab countries — have resisted international efforts to combat terrorism. As recently as last month, a U.S.-sponsored resolution condemning Middle East terrorist attacks was turned down in the United Nations. But as the events of Vienna show, unbridled terrorism must eventually threaten everyone, whatever their politics.

Those states which have given terrorists support must be condemned. Any nation which looks the other way and harbors terrorists within its borders should be subject to international sanctions.

The FBI and New York police are bending every effort to track down the airport cowardly bombers.

The terrorist must be regarded as world society's enemy, whatever the cause he claims to espouse. Some way must be found to uncover them and leaving them before the bar of justice.

Good News From Arkansas

News from Arkansas National Wildlife Refuge was good: Whooping cranes arrived at the end of their annual migration from Canada in record numbers.

Twelve young birds accompanied 48 adults to their wintering home near Austin, 70 miles north of here. These 56 birds, plus four young wintering with foster parent sandhill cranes in New Mexico and 23 in captivity put the total number of whooping cranes at 83. Only 49 were counted at Arkansas last year.

The whooping crane was almost extinct in the 1930s when only 12 were known to exist. The 12 young birds marked the highest number of juveniles to fly south since counting was begun in 1937.

The success of the experiment which placed whooping crane eggs with sandhill cranes is encouraging, too, and expansion of this program can be expected in the future.

The whooping cranes are not out of the woods yet. Accidents of nature, man-made blunders, any number of circumstances can bring new setbacks to the long battle against losing forever these graceful, giant birds.

Resolved That—

Around The Rim

Tommy Hart

The fewer New Year's resolutions you're going to make the fewer you're going to break. But, if you must, make a few that will be a cinch to keep — otherwise it will damage your batting average. Here are mine:

TRY TO FIND out why the bids on the Roy Anderson baseball complex came in at more than $300,000 over estimated when the entire bill for Steer Park, which housed a professional baseball team here for years and is still idle, was built for about $5,000 in 1947. That figure included a lighting system, too.

Try not to watch as many football games on television next fall as in the past, especially the college variety. We are becoming a race of zombies, miserable when we venture away from home on weekends. Little wonder our wives become entranced by some debonair, hand-kissing television character. She likely comes, in time, to reason he's talking directly to her.

Take a detached view at the alley behind my house and see it the way the sanitation workers look upon it — as a disaster area; then try to do something about the decaying garbage racks. Little wonder a lot of us let weeds grow up around the containers.

Lie down and think how life was under the presidency of Harry Truman and how it might have been under Millard Fillmore.

TRY TO FIND out what happened to those collapsible paper bells, invariably red and made of crepe paper, which one used to see everywhere at Christmas time. (Now you get baubles shaped like giant tear drops).

Take a memory course to master the art of learning the first names of more people. ("The face is familiar — pray give me a hint about the handle you use.") It would be better if people greeted others they see only occasionally and say "Hi, John Doe." Now, one often spends much of his time at parties and gatherings seeking some clue to the identity of people he only vaguely knows, covertly approaching to third parties to ferret out the information. You say you never have those problems? I applaud you and would like to know how you catalogue such information in the recesses of your brain.

Try to find something to occupy my time between 4 a.m. and 6:30 a.m. Invariably, I awaken at the former hour and stare at the shadows on the ceiling.

Try to find something to occupy my time between 4 a.m. and 6:30 a.m. Invariably, I awaken at the former hour and stare at the shadows on the ceiling. You've listened to me. Now, I'm prepared to hear you out.

My Answer

Billy Graham

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: I guess you would probably say I am not a Christian. However, I am a member of a church (although I do not go very often). I work hard, and I believe in God, and I think that should be enough. Don't you? — M.R.

DEAR M.R.: The important thing is not what you think, but what God says. The Bible repeatedly warns us against trusting in our own good works to save us. "For no human being will be justified in his sight by works of the law..." (Romans 3:20, Revised Standard)

The reason for this is twofold. First, God is completely holy, and in Him there is no imperfection or sin whatsoever. His standard for man is nothing short of perfection. Second, all men are sinners by nature and practice. Because we have sinned, we stand under the judgment of the holy God. No matter how good or moral we may be — or even how "religious" we may be — we still are sinners. God's standard is perfection, and sinful man can never reach that standard. "For all have sinned, and come short of the glory of God." (Romans 3:23)

The good news of the Gospel is that God has provided a way for us in Jesus Christ, and that through faith and trust in Him we can be saved. He took our sins upon Himself on the cross. When we come to Jesus, we give up trusting in ourselves and our own righteousness, and trust Him

NEW COMMEMORATIVE STAMP

'Things Have To Get Better'

John Cuniff

NEW YORK (AP) — In the vast volume of reports and forecasts from business, government, and academe, is the feeling that we have paid our dues and now we are entitled to a better year in 1976.

We endured high unemployment, prices and interest rates. We faced and survived shortages of various sorts. We cut back our living standards. We did without. And we survived.

Now, we are told, we have won for ourselves a few rewards for having faced grim reality, for having met the enemy and taken his rewards. Deprivation has its rewards, we are told. Things have to get better.

Therefore, inflation will recede, as will unemployment. Interest rates might come down too.

Personal income will be up and therefore we will be able to afford more cars, houses and capital goods than in 1975.

This might very well be so, and after reading the same outlook in so many reports and forecasts, it is hard to disagree. Few people even want to do so, and they can hardly be blamed. It was a tough year.

The cautious optimists will ask, however, if we have learned anything from our experience, and whether or not we are going to use any such knowledge to avoid future economic pitfalls.

Early indications are that we did indeed learn, but that we might still be able to absorb a lot more.

We learned that spending by governmental units cannot continue to rise without higher taxes, and that if we attempt to do so reality falls upon us in the form of financial collapse and possible bankruptcy.

New York learned that lesson, and cities all over the country seem to have taken heed. They too were spending at unsustainable rates and a few of them were only slightly less worse off than New York.

The word now is to cut spending. How long will it last? We can't say, but for the moment it does appear a lesson has been learned.

Americans learned to do without. Despite doubts by sociologists that they could "lower" their standards of living, they did so. They switched to less expensive foods and entertainment. They did without the second car.

Scranton Gamble

Rowland Evans

WASHINGTON — The dangerously overdue effort to bring order into President Ford's chaotic political structure within the White House now centers on former Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania, a long-time Ford intimate whose liberal credentials pose a risk.

ALTHOUGH NO final decision has been made, Scranton is now the President's top choice to become full-time, resident political coordinator working from a White House office. Whatever the risk, it is not a moment too soon. With the White House lacking any semblance of a political organization, the most minor decisions dealing with the President's campaign simply are not being made.

For the President, Scranton has one overwhelming attraction: he has privately agreed to take the job refused by other less risky Republican notables.

BUT AGAINST THIS availability are political liabilities. Scranton's liberal reputation could hurt Mr. Ford's uphill drive for conservative votes in the crucial New Hampshire and Florida primaries. He lacks close familiarity with the politics of 1976, a decade after leaving the office and a dozen years following his tardy effort to derail Sen. Barry Goldwater's presidential nomination — a fight whose bitterness Goldwater's zealots have not forgotten. Nevertheless, Mr. Ford desperately needs a political agent in the White House, and Scranton may suffice. Rogers Morton, outgoing Secretary of Commerce, has been cautioned by his doctors against any full-time political job.

PENDING THE PRESIDENT'S final decision, Scranton will become resident political aide, acting as Mr. Ford's liaison with the President Ford Committee (PFC), with the Republican National Committee and with party leaders around the country.

To PFC chairman Howard H. Callaway and political director Stuart Spencer, the need for a high-level political decision-maker has become a single most urgent of myriad problems waterlogging the Ford campaign.

"You cannot get a decision on anything over there now," one PFC official told us. "We don't know when the President will campaign in New Hampshire and Florida, how long, under what circumstances. We don't know anything and time is short."

OUT OF THAT vacuum came former Las Vegas showgirl Sheila Gramshammer linking her lavish Vail, Colo., dinner party for the President and Mrs. Ford Monday night to a Ford presidential campaign fund-raiser — only the latest in a series of damaging bloopers.

Plays 'Medical Roulette'

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My husband has bronchietasis, and he is scheduled to go in for hernia surgery. Should he notify the surgeon about this condition?

I have told him he should do so, but he says the medical equipment used during surgery will let the surgeon know all there is to know. My husband is 37 and hasn't smoked for ten months. — Mrs. R. P.

Your husband is mistaken. Bronchietasis is a chronic dilation of the bronchi of the lungs and it interferes with breathing. True, it can be suspected from a patient's history. It is often secondary to an earlier ailment, pneumonia or tuberculosis, for example. But it may not show up on X-rays.

It is most important for the surgeon to know about this. It could make a difference to the anesthetist, who wants to be alerted to any potential breathing problems prior to surgery. Your husband seems to be playing a kind of "medical roulette."

Too often, patients conceal (by their silence) things like this, adopting your husband's attitude that it is up to the doctor to find out through this own detective work. It was a wise man who said you should be scrupulously honest with at least two people in life, if with no others — your doctor and your lawyer.

Dear Thosteson: I am 78 and concerned about my eyesight.

Is it true that in some cases of senile cataracts, the cataracts grow only to a point quite short of causing total blindness, thus lessening the need for removal?

Hoping for an affirmative answer (along with many senior citizen friends). — H. D.

You are correct in that not all cataracts require removal. They do not always progress to that extent. Some people with cataracts never have to do anything about them.

However, they never get better, and in the vast majority of cases they do develop to the point where sight for all practical purposes is lost.

From your letter it is difficult to determine whether you fear sight loss or the surgery required to remove the clouded lens. If you fear the operation, you should know that it is not that serious a procedure. It would be much better to regain useful sight than to suffer with cataracts which have progressed far enough to impair your daily activities.

You and other readers might find my booklet, "Cataracts and Glaucoma," helpful in understanding the condition and in making a judgment as to what course to follow. For a copy, send 25 cents to me in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a stamped (13 cents now) and self-addressed envelope.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am subject to blood marks on the surface of the skin. If I bump any part of my body against something solid I get a red mark. I also will develop black and blue marks with the slightest contact. — Mrs. M. S. C.

The cause of such bruising can be difficult to pinpoint. A vitamin C deficiency can be the cause, and if so can be corrected with use of citrus juices, fruits or vitamin supplements.

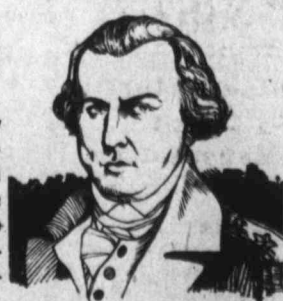

It can result from a chronic low platelet count in the blood, or to undue fragility of the capillaries (tiny veins) serving the skin surface. I suggest you have a complete blood profile taken by your doctor.

There's an old saying — if your feet hurt, you hurt all over. Dr. Thosteson's new booklet, "Relief and Care of Your Feet," shows you how to avoid and take care of foot problems. To get your copy, write to Dr. Thosteson in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped (13 cents now) envelope and 25 cents.

QE 2 Gashed, Passengers

Leave By Train

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) —
The passengers from a cruise on the Queen Elizabeth 2 were scheduled to leave the ship here today and make the rest of their trip by land.

The 963-foot liner suffered a six-foot gash 23 feet below the water line last Wednesday after it rammed a coral reef in Nassau harbor in the Bahamas and limped into Norfolk Sunday night.

None of the 1,750
passengers or 1,000 crewmen was injured.

A special 17-car Amtrak train was chartered by Cunard Lines to transport the passengers to Washington, Philadelphia and New York.

After the accident, the QE2
went to Port Everglades, Fla., where concrete was pumped in to plug the hole.

However, as the ship was proceeding to New York on Saturday, the plug failed and the leaks resumed.

"The ship is in no danger whatsoever, but officials decided to have repairs done here rather than take a chance and return to New York with it," said Robert Garris, president of Fred Gaskell Co., local port agent for Cunard.

Extra Body Found In Lake

MERIDIAN, Tex. (AP) —
Searchers looking in Lake Whitney for the body of a man missing since New Year's Day Saturday found what they were looking for plus another body which possibly had been in the water for more than a year.

Bosque County Sheriff John Baxter said that while the western part of the lake was being combed for the body of Robert A. Hutto, 46, of Cleburne, two automobiles with bodies inside were found.

Baxter said one of the vehicles contained Hutto but the second car, with 1974 license plates, had a body that was so decomposed that authorities could not determine whether it was a male or female.

WINDBLOWN MUMMERS PARADE — High wind gets under skirt of high Fancy Dress division float threatening to topple it as helpers grab to hold it down as the twice-delayed Philadelphia Mummers Parade moved up Broad Street in windy, bitter-cold weather Sunday. Coast Guard Probes Gulf Ferry Sinkings

NEW ORLEANS (AP) —
The Coast Guard is trying to determine if the small supply boats which ferry men and equipment to and from Gulf of Mexico oil rigs are able to withstand occasional rough seas.

Eight persons have been subpoenaed to testify at a hearing Wednesday on the sinking of the Bo-Truc Nine on Christmas Day, when four supply boats sank in the Gulf, leaving three men dead and two missing.

The Bo-Truc Nine was last heard from in the predawn hours Dec. 25 when she departed a Gulf Oil Co. platform after taking on supplies.

The sunken 80-foot vessel was located later about 20 miles northeast of the rig, 25 miles south of Grand Isle.
Bodies of three crewmen were recovered. A fourth is missing.

Those subpoenaed as witnesses are the passengers taken to the oil rig, a rig crewman and representatives of the boat's owners, Cherame Bros. of Golden Meadows.

"The lessons learned from the casualties could possibly affect policies concerning the operation, construction and manning of offshore oil exploration vessels," a Coast Guard spokesman said.

The hearing will try to determine whether safety regulations should be upgraded to deal with rough weather in the Gulf, Cmdr.
Richard Hicks said.

Cherame Bros. lost
another vessel Christmas Day when the Bo-Truc Five sank as she unloaded cargo at an Atlantic and Pacific rig in winds of 30 knots.

Three crewmen and two roustabouts were safely evacuated as the 78-foot boat sank. Under investigation is the possibility that rough seas slammed the vessel into the rig, knocking a hole in her hull.

The 85-foot Elmer D.
Connor was tied up at a Tenneco rig Christmas morning when the crew awoke to find it sinking. Two men were rescued; a third is missing. Rough seas may have flooded the engine

Ambassadorship

WASHINGTON (AP) —
U.S. officials are refusing to confirm a published report that former presidential counselor Anne L. Armstrong will be the next American ambassador to the United Kingdom.

A White House spokesman said late Sunday that he had no information on who will succeed Elliot L. Richardson as U.S. ambassador to London, but he said there could be an announcement later this week about Ford's nominee to the post. The State Department referred inquiries to the White House, although one department official said he believed the report had no foundation.

Richardson leaves the job this week to become secretary of commerce.
Mrs. Armstrong, who resigned Dec. 21, 1974, from a Cabinet-level post as counselor to President Ford, was named by The Guardian
as Richardson's successor.
The British newspaper gave no attribution for the report from Washington.

Army Claims ABM Limited By Pact

WASHINGTON (AP) —
The Army says its Safeguard antimissile system would be fully effective against Soviet missile warheads if it were not for limits imposed by U.S.-Soviet agreement.

The Army rejects claims that the Safeguard no longer is effective technically because the Russians have developed and started to deploy multiple independently targetable warheads (MIRVs) on its missiles.

This conclusion in effect challenges the position of the House Appropriations Committee, which said the "utility of Safeguard to protect Minuteman (intercontinental ballistic missiles) will be essentially nullified in the future" by the Soviet deployment of new missiles armed with multiple warheads.

The committee's position was influential in a congressional decision to shut down the the country's only antimissile complex at Grand Forks, N.D., while keeping in operation a key ABM radar there.

"The assumption that a MIRV environment makes Safeguard ineffective is not correct," the Army says.
"Safeguard can defend against MIRVs essentially as effectively as it can defend against simple RVs (warheads).

"The advantage to the attacker of Multiple RVs is that he forces Safeguard to use more interceptors to attack a given ICBM payload.

"This is important in the case of Safeguard because the system's major limitation is the restriction to 100 interceptor missiles imposed by the ABM treaty."

As originally proposed, the Safeguard system would have comprised 12 separate sites which its designers said would have shielded all of this country's 1,000 Minuteman missiles and its bomber bases from surprise Soviet knockout attack.

That full system would have cost an estimated $20 billion.

However, Russia and the United States agreed in 1972 to limit each country to two sites. Later, they decided to limit the ABM still further to a single site in each country.

State Deaths Below Estimate

By The Associated Press

Texas mercifully counted far fewer traffic deaths than the dire total which state police had predicted would occur during the extended New Year's weekend.

The Associated Press began its tabulation of deaths from all violent causes at 6 p.m. New Year's Eve and continued the grim tally until midnight Sunday.

The count reached 48 dead with 26 persons killed in traffic, 22 fewer than state police had predicted would die in accidents.

The Texas Department of Public Safety had forecast 48 would die in traffic alone during the holiday period from 6 p.m. Wednesday to midnight Sunday.

These were among the latest victims:

Charles Crane, 17, of Austin was killed Sunday in a two-car accident in Austin.

A Plano man, Joe David Higgs, 36, died Saturday night at Dallas when his car hit a light pole.

Frank E. Hoots, 21, of Maxwell died Sunday in a three-car pileup about 6 miles east of San Marcos at Texas 80 and Texas 142.

Robert Deary, 41, of Taylor was killed Sunday in a one-car accident near that city on Texas 95.

Two small girls died Sunday afternoon in Odessa as a pickup truck driven by a woman smashed through the front of a laundromat. They were Stephanie Ruddick, 5, and Andrea Nuzem. Officers said the two children were there with their mothers and were standing behind a soft drink machine when the vehicle broke through the front of the building.

More Added To X-Ray Technician Program

The health care industry of the Big Spring area will be strengthened by seven accredited radiological technicians due 1977. Three students are due to graduate from the Malone-Hogan Hospital School of Radiological Technology in May of this year, and four more are entering their second semester of the first year program. An announcement came Friday that the advisory committee for the school has approved the promotion of both the first and second-year students into the next scheduled phase of training.

"This is good news for all area hospitals," according to Mrs. Charlene Ragan, personnel director at MHH. "The health care industry is one of the largest in Big Spring, and skilled technicians are much in demand."

Graduates of the school are eligible to take the national registry exams for Registered X-ray Technologists, the certificate being recognized anywhere in the world as a documentation of proficiency in X-ray technology.

Three second-year students have just completed a lecture course in Special Procedures and Radiotherapy, and are now rotating the responsibility of conducting the daily anatomical and technological film conferences; a discipline in teaching fundamentals developed and conducted by Mrs. Lila Brewster and Mrs. Preston Harrison of Big Spring. The students also have concluded preliminary fundamental courses in nursing arts, medical terminology, anatomy and physiology, positioning, exposure techniques, dark room, office procedures and film analysis, earning an emblem for their uniforms.

In addition to advanced anatomy and physiology, position-exposure techniques, and radiation physics, a course on the fundamental of management has been developed and will be presented for the first time in the new semester.

Students being promoted are Mrs. Rosemary Hanen, James McCutchan, and Michael Sanchez, second year; and Susan Weaver, Dale Griffith, Leland Porter, and Joe Rocha, first year. "Effectiveness of the training program has been successfully measured many times over by the quality of exams performed on our patients," said Dr. Buick Williams, chairman of the radiology department and director of the school. Sam Subia is the program educational coordinator.

SNUG AS A BUG — "Yes, I love the snow," said Michael Loyd Carter, 7½-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Carter, Stephenville. Young Mr. Carter was out in Friday's snow with his grandmother, Mrs. Melba Reed, enjoying the sights of Big Spring. "I realize the coat is a little long in the sleeves, but it's warm and I plan to grow into it," said Carter. Asked what he thought of his tour around the town with his grandmother, Carter replied "I'm told it beats walking."

Steelman Announces Bid For Bentsen's Senate Post

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Rep. Alan Steelman, R-Tex., formally announced for the U.S. Senate today, calling for a revolution of voters against "big government, big labor and big business."

"In the Spirit of '76 we must dedicate ourselves to a second revolution, a revolution of ballots to restore the rule of the majority, to liberate our system of the big impersonal special interests which dominate the high councils of government," he told a Capitol news conference.

"We must rededicate ourselves to the principles of a free market economy, respect for individual initiative, revitalized state and local government, a strong national defense."

Steelman called on his own party to "come to grips with the fact that we are an ever-dividing minority and that if we are to become the majority party and help save the two-party system, we must show that we can be as tough on big business when it is wrong as we are on big labor and big government."

Steelman said he had been counseled against making a race against "a well-known, well-heeled opponent" but he had fought uphill battles before.

He said he felt that 1976 must be "a time to profit by old mistakes and most of all, renewed commitment to the revolutionary ideal."

Steelman said he felt that a contest between President Gerald Ford and Ronald Reagan would encourage participation in the Texas GOP primary.

Steelman announced earlier his support for Ford. The other announced GOP candidate for U.S. Senate is Louis Leman, president of an oilfield products firm at Houston.

Announced candidates in the Democratic primary are the incumbent, Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, D-Tex., who also wants the Democratic presidential nomination, and Phil Gramm, on leave from the faculty of Texas A&M University.

The filing deadline for candidate in either primary is Feb. 2.

Burleson Announces

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Congressman Omar Burleson, who represents the 17th District of Texas in the United States House of Representatives, has announced for re-election. He has filed for a place on the ballot in the Democratic Primary Election on May 1.

Burleson was elected to the 80th Congress from the 17th District and has been re-elected to each succeeding Congress. He is a member of the Ways and Means Committee, considered to be the most powerful and prestigious in the House. In addition, Congressman Burleson serves on the newly created Budget Control Committee which has, as its purpose, relating federal expenditures to federal revenues with the goal of reaching a balanced budget.

No Appeal, But Posts Bond

Melton Rangel appeared at the municipal court desk Monday morning with appeal bond, but Municipal Judge John R. Coffey had never had the man before the bar.

Rangel was taken into custody the night of Dec. 20, on a charge of public intoxication, but he was released to Justice of peace Gus Ochotorena. When Rangel did not reappear at the station the Monday following, a warrant was issued for his re-arrest.

Vacation Cut Short By Arrest

Kenneth O'Dell Werline, 27, of Kerrville, was arrested by city police as he descended from the Greyhound bus here Sunday. Detective Leroy Spires said that Werline was wanted on a warrant from Kerr County for felony theft of $100. The officers recovered $1,052.12. Missing was the price of a ticket to Denver, Colo.

Ducats Sell For QB Club

Only a few more days remain for getting tickets for the annual football-volleyball banquet of the Quarterback Club and featuring Charley Johnson, all-pro quarterback of the Denver Broncos.

Johnson, who also played many years for St. Louis and for Houston, is a Big Spring native, the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. (Perry) Johnson.

Tickets (only $3) should be purchased any Thursday from any of the following locations: Security State, First National and State National banks; school administrative offices; Colorado River Municipal Water District, the radio stations (KHEM, KBYG, KBST), or from Hollingsworth, Wilson, Lee and Reynolds.

The affair will be held in the high school cafeteria and Winston Wrinkle will be the toastmaster. Traditional awards will be made to football and volleyball players, whose dates also will be guests of the Quarterback Club, said Pascal Odom, co-captain.

Bogus MP Gets Wish

An alleged military policeman had local police looking for a non-existent escaped prisoner Sunday night.

"Sgt. Fulkerson" called from Rip Griffin's truck stop and told local officers that an AWOL prisoner escaped.

He described the prisoner as "John Crawford, 6'1", 180 pounds with long black hair, blue eyes, light green coat, tan pants and wearing handcuffs."

Detective Avery Falkner went to the truck stop to talk to the supposed Army officer and immediately was suspicious. "He didn't have a gun, a key to the handcuffs, or much of anything else, except a duffel bag," Falkner stated.

The man was taken to the police station for questioning and admitted that his was a false story, and that he was simply hunting a place to spend the night. The 24-year-old Tennesseean got his wish — but he was still being questioned today.

New Sanitation Chief Named

Ulis Johnson, 40, has been named city sanitation superintendent, according to Harry Nagel, city manager. Johnson replaces Dick Nichols, who resigned.

Johnson has worked with the city since June 20, 1958 and was foreman of the sanitation department. "We are very pleased to promote an employee with the years of experience in the department such as Johnson has with the city," Nagel stated.

VFW Post To Have Meeting

The Veterans of Foreign Wars post No. 2013 will have its regular meeting Tuesday 8 p.m. at the VFW Hall on the Country Club road.

District Commander Rudy Hernandez, Monahan, and members from the Midland and Odessa posts, will be present to report on plans for the Spring convention in Amarillo in April. All members and other interested veterans are urged to attend. The post is making an effort to complete its paid membership rolls.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK (AP) — Cotton futures No. 2 were lower by as much as $1.40 a bale in midday dealings today. Profit taking following recent advances depressed futures prices, brokers said.

The average price for strict low middling 1-1/8 inch spot cotton advanced 107 points to 57.44 cents a pound Friday for the 10 leading markets, according to the New York Cotton Exchange.

Wholesale prices were 40 cents to $1.40 a bale lower than the previous close. March 61, May 62, 27, and July 62, 32.

Israel Strike Traps Tourists

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — Almost 5,000 tourists were trapped in Israel's Red Sea resort of Eilat today by strikers protesting the closure of copper mines dating from Biblical times.

Eilat's airport and harbor were closed and angry copper miners blocked the desert road into town with a barricade of earth-moving machines, stranding tourists in a score of hotels.

The town of 20,000 declared a general strike after a government committee decided Sunday night to close the Timna copper mines — which have operated since the time of King Solomon — because of a $9 million operating loss.

"Everything in Eilat is closed except the food shops, and the tourists are sitting around their hotels or on the beaches," said a hotel operator by telephone from the sealed-off town. "All the hotels are full. There are almost 5,000 tourists and almost all of them are foreigners."

Schools closed for the day and high school students demonstrated against closing the mines, which employ 700 men and are one of Eilat's main economic assets.

The low world price for copper and the high cost of mining at Timna made the closure imperative, said a spokesman for the copper company.

Eilat, a pioneering town built in 1949, depends on tourism, its seaport and the copper mines for employment, and the vital harbor traffic has declined since the reopening of the Suez Canal last June.

FBI Caused Unrest Which Killed Four

By The Associated Press

An FBI memo credited secret operations against black militant organizations for 1969's "high degree of unrest" within the San Diego black community, according to published reports.

That summer, four persons were killed and four others wounded in fighting between two militant groups. An FBI official says the bureau was not aiming for violence.

The Sept. 18, 1969, memo to then-FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover from the bureau's San Diego office described how agents tried to foment dissension between the Black Panther party and a group known as US, the San Diego Union and the Los Angeles Times said Sunday.

The New York Times had a similar story in Monday editions. "Shootings, beatings and a high degree of unrest continues to prevail in the ghetto area of southeast San Diego," the memo said.

"Although no specific counterintelligence action can be credited with contributing to this overall situation, it is felt that a substantial amount of the unrest is directly attributable to this program."

James B. Adams, associate director of the FBI, told the Los Angeles Times that the bureau was "not trying to get people to kill each other, but to disrupt these groups, reduce their effectiveness."

"I don't know of any action that was designed to produce violence. This violence was taking place before we got in the act."

The plan was aimed at creating dissension and preventing the Panthers and US from joining forces, Adams said. He admitted that only a "very thin line" separated the activity from the actual promotion of violence.

Adams said FBI headquarters should have challenged the wording of the memo from the San Diego office.

The FBI action was outlined in a three-page memo, part of a 1,200-page report recently turned over to the Senate Select Committee on Intelligence, the newspapers reported.

The two organizations, the Union said, were classified as militant "hate groups" by FBI counterintelligence agents.

It said FBI agents and informers distributed phony posters, allegedly done by US, depicting the Black Panther leadership as corrupt.

After one Black Panther member was shot to death, the Union said a memo was sent to Washington from the San Diego FBI office, saying, "In view of the recent death of Black Panther Party member Clifford Bell, a new cartoon is being considered in the hopes it will assist in the continuance of the rift between the Panthers and US."

The Times said Hoover approved the posters and termed them "clever cartoons which belittle the Panthers and should further differences among BPP leaders and members."

Black Panther spokesman David G. DuBois said at the party's Oakland headquarters Sunday that the Panthers had "consistently maintained that the FBI was involved during that period."

Local police officers followed instructions written on a mirror in the men's room of the Dairy Queen on the Lamesa highway and called the FBI.

Somebody wrote in soap on the washroom mirror, the words, "Help. Call FBI." Also left was a California license tag number, according to Police Detective Leroy Spires.

Final Look At U.S. Assassinations

NEW YORK (AP) — CBS News ends its four-part series on American assassins tonight with studies of the slaying of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., and the attempted slaying of Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace.

Sirhan Sirhan, a Palestinian refugee, was convicted of fatally shooting Kennedy at a Los Angeles hotel's kitchen pantry in June 1968, just after Kennedy's victory in the California Democratic presidential primary. Of that shooting, CBS, after re-examining the case, says: "Despite the belief by some that two gunmen were involved, 'the best evidence now available leads almost inescapably to the conclusion that only one gun was fired.'"

"And barring new evidence to the contrary, that gun most likely was the one held by Sirhan Sirhan and there is no hard evidence that anyone else was involved."

In its re-examination of the Kennedy case, the CBS show considers the theory that Sirhan somehow was "programmed" or hypnotized by others to shoot Kennedy.

CBS Newsman Dan Rather, granted permission to interview Sirhan in prison but not to film the interview, quotes him as saying several times "that he simply does not remember the shooting of Sen. Kennedy."

"He also said that if any other person influenced him in any way to do the shooting, he is not aware of it. When asked directly if he could think even remotely of anything that might suggest a conspiracy or someone influencing him, Sirhan said repeatedly, 'No, if there is anything or anyone, I do not know it, Mr. Rather.'"

Arthur Bremer was convicted of shooting Wallace in May 1972 at a Maryland shopping center when Wallace was campaigning for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Of that case, CBS notes that Wallace feels — but has no proof — that Bremer wasn't acting alone. But it concludes that "there is no doubt whatsoever that Arthur Bremer shot Gov. Wallace and that there is no solid evidence pointing to a conspiracy ..." to shoot Wallace.

Unlike CBS News' two previous re-examinations of the assassinations of President John F. Kennedy and Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., tonight's one-hour show is relatively positive about its own findings.

While some questions remained unresolved, the program doesn't call for a new independent investigation of either the shooting of Robert F. Kennedy or of Wallace. Such new probes were urged by CBS in its shows on President Kennedy's death and King's slaying.

Tonight is a heavy news and sports night on TV. At 8 p.m. EST, NBC starts a three-hour special on U.S. foreign policy, competing against ABC's two-hour Olympic games special.

At 10 p.m. EST, when CBS' assassination program starts, ABC will be offering a one-hour special on issues involving the health of women.

Judge Won't Stop Courtroom Prayers

DETROIT (AP) — A Wayne County judge says atheist Madalyn O'Hair will have to take legal action against him before he'll stop prayer services in his courtroom.

For the past 20 years county employees have used the courtroom of Wayne County Common Pleas Court Judge Frederick Byrd for lunch hour Bible study sessions and rosary devotions.

In a recent letter to the judge, Mrs. O'Hair said the sessions are "wholly illegal and unconstitutional, being an impermissible admixture of state and church."

Mrs. O'Hair is the lawyer whose suit resulted in the 1963 U.S. Supreme Court decision banning prayer in public schools.

"I'm calling her bluff," Byrd said Sunday. "These services have been going on since long before I became a judge and I see no reason to end them."

Byrd said employees use his courtroom Wednesday after noon for Bible study and Thursdays at noon for rosary sessions.

"She can't make an analogy with the banning of prayer in schools because this is a completely voluntary thing with employees," the judge said.

The judge said he has written a letter to Mrs. O'Hair telling her he is waiting to talk to her representatives "to correct her errors, misapprehensions and concerns about what goes on in my courtroom."

"If she feels that the meetings by employees are unconstitutional, then she can take me to court," he said.

Mrs. O'Hair said Sunday in Austin, Tex., that the society would take Byrd to court if necessary to end the meetings.

Mrs. O'Hair said she was "furious" at Byrd's contention the religious meetings were not unconstitutional.

"He's a judge," she said. "He knows better than that. Jefferson would be twirling in his grave over this case."

Alaska Crash Kills Pipeline Execs

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — When a chartered jet that had been cleared for landing failed to report to the tower at Anchorage International Airport Saturday night, controllers tried to find out why. Within three minutes, they discovered a wreck that killed six of the eight people aboard.

Carl Van Daley, Winship's chief of operations, said the Winship Air Service Learjet "hit considerably short of the runway." Wreckage was strewn over 300 yards.

The FAA said the ceiling was 300 feet with visibility a quarter of a mile because of the fog.

The mishap closed the airport for 2½ hours. The survivors, Charles Buck and Wylie Pieper of Houston, were reported in fair condition in Anchorage Community Hospital.

Both men are vice presidents for Brown and Root, Inc., contractors to British Petroleum, part of a consortium building the trans-Alaska pipeline.

The dead were identified as pilot Carole Meyer, 47, and copilot Jack L. Spurgeon, 37, both of Anchorage, and passengers Wolfgang Pabst, 45, of Anchorage; Victor Abadie, Jr., 50, of San Francisco; Gerald Dobelman, 55, of Houston, and Warren T. Moore, 50, of Anchorage.

Dobelman, a group vice president, and Abadie, an engineer, were traveling with Brown and Root. Moore was president of Alaska Constructors, Inc., and Pabst was vice president of the same company.

Pabst and Moore had lived in Houston before moving to Alaska to work the construction of the pipeline.

A Winship spokesman said the plane was under contract to Brown and Root. The plane was en route from the Dead Horse pipeline camp near Prudhoe Bay when the accident occurred.

Miss Garrett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Garrett, placed first in a field of 29 contestants.

Armed Services Combat Military Child Abuse

WASHINGTON (AP) — The armed services are launching major efforts to combat child abuse among military families. Military experts believe some child abuse problems in service families may stem from stresses peculiar to what one called "the mobile military lifestyle."

An Air Force medical service publication said "recurrent or prolonged family separation by duty assignment all too often leaves the mother with the full responsibility of home and children."

"... Many younger servicemen and their wives are often unable to adequately manage their financial affairs, thereby provoking additional problems for themselves.

"Some joined the service because they were neglected by society, and because of this they may be poorly equipped emotionally to be parents."

The Army and Air Force already have inaugurated new programs to cope with the child abuse problem, while the Navy said it is preparing to establish a similar program for itself and the Marine Corps.

Under the Army's plan, special "child advocacy program officers" will be assigned at virtually all bases.

"The problem calls for identification of child abuse cases, protection of the child's rights and professional help for the parents," the Army circular said.

All alleged cases of child abuse will require examination by a military doctor. After an initial exam, an Army hospital commander may report the incident to law enforcement agencies, if necessary.

In general, the Army said its program is aimed at developing "emotionally healthy families rather than removing the child from the home and punishing the parents."

Individual and group therapy, counseling and change of environment are listed as forms of treatment. Army officials also are planning telephone "hotlines" manned by trained volunteers, "parents anonymous" programs for group therapy and other educational approaches "to help parents cope with the frustrations of raising a family."

FAA Finds That Some Airline Pilots Violated Safety Rules

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — The Federal Aviation Administration has found that during the 2½ years from May 18, 1972, to Dec. 14, 1974, some Eastern Airline pilots consistently violated safety regulations, a published report says.

But an FAA spokesman says that Eastern has improved markedly from a safety standpoint since the report was made 11 months ago, the Charlotte Observer reported Sunday.

The report was issued after a study of 16 fatal crashes and other emergencies involving EAL planes. One was a crash near Charlotte on Sept. 11, 1974, that killed 72 persons. Another was a crash in the Everglades near Miami on Dec. 29, 1972, that killed 99.

The FAA report said some pilots violated both federal and company safety regulations and that confusion about other regulations reduced the pilots' ability to deal with emergencies.

Eastern spokesman Jim Ashlock said the report was "not a valid analysis of Eastern in its present form. The one thing we don't compromise on in any way is safety."

He conceded, however, that when the report was released, it emphasized "certain areas we had recognized as points that needed to be reexamined and improved upon."

Gordon Becker of the FAA's Southeastern flight standards division said the agency will not act on the report because many of the problems have been solved or are being worked on by the FAA and Eastern.

The 16 incidents in the report occurred in North Carolina, Florida, Ohio, Kentucky, New York, Texas and San Juan, Puerto Rico.

The study was based in part on interviews with Eastern pilots and the remarks of FAA inspectors who rode in the cockpits with Eastern pilots on nearly 100 flights.

A spokesman for the pilots says some safety procedures were being ignored because pilots had too many to follow. The FAA agrees there may be so many safety rules they've become an obstacle to flying.

Sections of the report, which was not made public, were released Sunday by the Observer.

The last incident on the report occurred Dec. 14, 1974, in Houston, where a Boeing 727 hit some trees during an approach. There were no fatalities.

But FAA officials said the Houston incident was "the last straw" and ordered the investigation.

WOLVES MAILED BOY — John Colorio two years old, was mauled by three Timber Wolves when he slipped on a ice covered walk and his leg went into the Wolves cage at the gate where the wolves are fed. He underwent surgery Friday, is reported in fair condition. Here he is comforted by his mother Mrs. Stephen Colorio.

Refinery Blaze

HOOKER, Okla. (AP) — No one was reported injured Sunday when an oil line ruptured and burst into fire at a natural gas refinery near here.

"It's one helluva fire," Highway Patrol trooper Jim Matt said hours later. Patrolmen reported the fire was clearly visible in Guymon, about 18 miles away.

It's Dallas, Pittsburgh In Super Bowl X

Preston Pearson Nabs Three TD's In 'Poke Win

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Preston Pearson, who's never really been wanted, today appears to be one of Dallas' key players in Super Bowl X after the Cowboys' 37-7 rout of the Los Angeles Rams in the National Football Conference championship game.

"The Other Pearson," no relation to Dallas wide receiver Drew Pearson, surpassed his namesake as a pass catcher Sunday by latching on to three Roger Staubach touchdown throws covering 18, 15 and 19 yards.

Thus the muscular 6-foot-1, 205-pound running back vaulted into the spotlight as the Cowboys head for Super Bowl X against Pittsburgh, the club he was with last year when the Steelers won the NFL's title game.

The Super Bowl isn't new to Pearson, however. He will be playing in his third—all with different teams, a first in the ten years of the game.

"I wasn't offered any scholarships at Illinois," said Pearson, who played no football as an Illini. "I played only basketball and once I blocked a shot by Kareem Abdul-Jabbar. Yeah, I really got him. But we lost by 25 points."

The three touchdowns passed came on different plays, called by Staubach in the huddle as he watched who the Rams brought in on defense.

"But while I was still in the huddle, I watched to see who the Rams brought in and I changed a lot of things depending on that," said Staubach. "We ended up making some big third down plays."

When Dallas' multifaceted offense wasn't silencing a crowd of 84,483, the Cowboy defense was throwing a blanket around the Rams' top threats, running back Lawrence McCutcheon and wide receiver Harold Jackson.

"Our game plan was to control McCutcheon and Jackson," said defensive end Harvey Martin. "I looked at the stats, and saw that LA got 237 yards rushing last week against St. Louis, and McCutcheon had 202. Now, you don't win championships that way—not when three of your backs get only 35 yards."

The 6-5, 250-pound sacked quarterback Ron Jaworski four times and the Rams wound up with a net of 22 yards rushing.

Pearson, a 12th-round draft choice of the Baltimore Colts in 1967 who thought about quitting football when the Steelers cut him during the preseason, was the key receiver in the game.

His first of seven receptions gave Dallas a 7-0 lead in the first quarter. It came on a perfectly executed screen pass. Staubach drifted into his own backfield, then lofted a feather-soft pass to Pearson, who broke one tackle on his 18-yard run.

After Golden Richards caught a four-yard scoring pass from Staubach, Pearson extended the Cowboy lead to 21-0 when he leaped nearly parallel to the ground to catch up with a Staubach toss in the end zone.

The Ram pass defense which permitted just 151 yards per game this season couldn't stop Staubach. He hit 16 of 22 tosses for 220 yards and four scores.

The Rams, trailing 34-0 early in the fourth period, took advantage of a pass interference penalty to score their only touchdown, a one-yard run by John Capelletti.

10 years — as "the finest coach ever."

Several others took occasion to note that Dallas is the first "wild card" team to advance to the Super Bowl, where the Cowboys now will battle the defending champion Pittsburgh Steelers Jan. 18.

A middle-aged woman in the crowd informed nobody in particular, "We even put our church services back 15 minutes so everyone could watch the game (on television from Los Angeles). But I'm not going to tell you what church it was."

Eying some barbed wire atop the restraining fence, a young feminine fan said of the receiver who caught one of the Cowboys' scoring passes, "I'd climb over that fence to see Golden Richards." She resisted the impulse, instead asking reporters to give Richards her name and telephone number.

While the Dallas team was still on the way home, the first handful of fans began standing watch outside Moody Coliseum at Southern Methodist University, where tickets to the Super Bowl game will go on sale at 7 a.m. Tuesday.

A club spokesman said the would-be ticket buyers can start registering, stating how many ducats they want and taking numbers for places in line at 11:30 p.m. today. The tickets will be offered only to season ticket holders unless some remain after their needs are met.

FIRST OF THREE — Preston Pearson holds onto the ball as he dashes into the endzone for his first touchdown Sunday against the Los Angeles Rams in NFC Championship action. Pearson caught three passes and turned them into touchdowns as the Cowboys won 37-7.

Thousands Welcome Cowboys At Dallas

DALLAS (AP) — Roars of approval from a mob of home town fans greeted the Dallas Cowboys as they returned from whipping the Los Angeles Rams 37-7 for the National Football Conference championship.

Police estimated more than 10,000 persons assembled at Dallas Love Field, where the National Football League club's chartered airliner landed late Sunday night at the end of the flight from California. Some waited three hours in 28-degree weather, armed with gay placards and banners.

In tribute to Dallas quarterback Roger Staubach who tossed four touchdown passes, one sign proclaimed, "Hail Mary, full of grace, Roger's taken us to first place." Staubach stepped to a fence holding back the crowd and shook as many hands as he could reach.

Another sign, poking a bit of fun at usually poker-faced head Coach Tom Landry, commanded, "Smile, Landry." He did while deplaning with his wife and their daughter and son.

Each player, coach and other person in the official party was introduced over a loudspeaker system to a bedlam of cheers and screams as they stepped into view.

One of the first to emerge was club owner Clint Murchison, who grabbed a microphone to acclaim Landry — who has led the Cowboys into the postseason NFL playoffs nine of the past

BSHS Sophs Remain Unbeaten

The Big Spring High sophomore cagers continue to be undefeated after defeating the Snyder sophs 66-58 here Saturday night.

They take their unblemished record into district action Tuesday in Abilene.

In the game Saturday, Coach Ron Rogers cagers led 19-13 in the first quarter, 38-30 at the half and had a 52-46 lead at the end of the third stanza.

Scott Wilder and Marty Latta paced the scoring with 14 each followed by Ronnie Foreman with ten.

Hawks 'Rested' For Host Role In ABC Tournament

The sixth annual American Business Club Olympics will be held at Howard College starting Thursday, Jan. 8 and lasting through Saturday.

All three defending champions will be on hand for the tournament, including the hosts, the Howard College Hawks, who won the tournament in 1971, 1972 and 1974; Cisco Junior College who were champions in 1973 and the defending champion, Panola College.

Ganada, Arizona will be a newcomer to the tournament and will face some hefty records collected through the years, including some individual records difficult to top.

Archie Myers of Howard College amassed 106 total points during the classic in 1972 and David Wilson of Christian College of the Southwest has the record for the most total points in one game with 47.

The tournament is traditionally a tough one, with the winner early in the season usually becoming a strong contender for national junior college basketball honors.

Coach Harold Wilder said this week, "The Hawks are rested after the holidays and they are enthused about attempting to regain the title in the tournament."

Pairings and times of games will be announced prior to the opening of the meet Thursday.

HIGH HOP — Dallas quarterback Roger Staubach, 12, hops over a blocker and past the Rams Merlin Olsen, 74, as he rushes for a first down during action in Sunday's NFC Championship in Los Angeles. Staubach led the Cowboys to a 37-7 victory and a ticket to Super Bowl X.

Landry: Everything Just Fell Into Place For Us

By The Associated Press

The score didn't tell how dominating the Cowboys were. Dallas outgained the Rams 441-118 and rolled up 24 first downs to just nine for Los Angeles. And the Rams had only three first downs in the entire first half. Staubach, running his club with grace, wound up gaining 54 yards, second only to Robert Newhouse's 68.

And the quarterback, running only seven times when forced to, kept the Ram defense off balance with his play selection.

"It all fell into place," said a smiling but subdued Dallas Coach Tom Landry. "We were in the right place for the interceptions, we were in the right place for the big catches. All I can say is it was our day."

"They whipped us good in every way," said Ram Coach Chuck Knox. "They executed better. They took us out of the game early and we weren't able to do the things we wanted to do after that."

The Rams beat Dallas in the preseason 35-7, but the Cowboys stunned the Rams 18-7 in the 1975 regular season opener. Staubach said, "This victory was more satisfying, because we had been the underdog all year and people said we shouldn't be here. This is a young team, but they don't give up."

Wake Forest Jolts Ranked Cagers

By The Associated Press

They held a Wake for North Carolina and North Carolina State over the weekend.

"Wake Forest is awfully good," said North Carolina State Coach Norm Sloan after the Deacons whipped his ninth-ranked club 93-78 Saturday night to win the Big Four basketball tournament.

It was the second upset in two nights for the surprising Deacons. They advanced to the Big Four finals with a 95-83 decision over third-ranked North Carolina, the previous night.

"It was a great tournament win," said Wake Forest Coach Carl Tacy. "We feel we now should be ranked in the polls."

The Deacons' stunning one-two punch of Top Ten teams was all the more dramatic since they have not been ranked in the AP poll despite an unbeaten season so far.

"They should have been rated before they came to the tournament," noted Sloan. "Jerry Schellenberg and Wake Forest's board work were outstanding. We have no excuses. We just got whipped."

Schellenberg, who scored 24 points to lead Wake Forest's victory Friday night, contributed 31 Saturday night. North Carolina, meanwhile, beat Duke 77-74 to gain third place in the tournament at Greensboro.

While Wake Forest had no respect for two blue ribbon teams, top-ranked Indiana had trouble with a club of supposedly lesser stature. The Hoosiers finally pulled out a 66-64 thriller over Big Ten colleague Ohio State.

In other games, No. 2 Maryland crushed Long Island University 111-88; No. 4 UCLA whipped No. 5 Notre Dame 86-70; sixth-ranked Marquette trimmed South Carolina 80-72; No. 8 Alabama walloped Vanderbilt 83-66; No. 11 Louisville was upset by West Texas State 84-78; No. 12 Tennessee beat Georgia 79-73; 13th-ranked Washington routed Seattle 106-75; No. 15 St. John's downed St. Joseph's, Pa. 75-62; Purdue whipped No. 16 Minnesota 111-110, in two overtimes; 17th-ranked Michigan defeated Northwestern 82-72; 18th-ranked Centenary stopped Texas 75-70; Houston shocked No. 19 San Francisco 94-73 and Auburn upset 20th-ranked Louisiana State 102-86.

They're still hungry."

Landry said it was a young team, but playing 16 games gives a team experience and confidence and "it becomes almost like a different season. Oh, I knew we would have a good team this year. We had a great training camp, but you don't expect to go to the Super Bowl in one year with a team this young, not when you lose the players we lost."

He said the team's confidence was bolstered by the opening game victory over the Rams and a 37-31 overtime upset of the Cardinals the next week.

"But we had some setbacks, too," said the effusive Martin. "Before the second Cardinal game, we talked all week about how we would push them out of the park, and they whipped us 31-17. Heck, I couldn't show my face in Dallas that week."

He said the season's turning point came the following week, when the team demolished the Washington Redskins 31-10.

"This game is important for our confidence, too," said Martin. "Coming to a place where 90,000 people are screaming their heads off and winning is a big thing."

Then Martin's roommate, receiver Percy Howard, said, "I thought they were screaming for us."

Pearson said he was glad to be in the Super Bowl, "but as I was coming off the field, I began to think it's against the Steelers and you think, 'Oh, my God.' They don't have any weaknesses I know of, but if they do, Landry will find them."

Steelers Nip Raiders 16-10

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Pittsburgh Steelers wore golf gloves here against the Raiders. Now they're going to the Super Bowl in Miami to tee off on the Dallas Cowboys.

"I don't think there's a team in the National Conference that can give them a game," linebacker Phil Villapiano said after his Oakland Raiders lost 16-10 here Sunday in an American Football Conference title game that was more arctic than artistic.

That remains to be seen, and the Steelers will be tested Jan. 18 by a Dallas team that crushed Los Angeles 37-7 in the NFC title game.

Many players on both sides wore golf gloves here as temperatures fell into the teens, and biting winds and snow squalls raked the field, partially frozen and slippery despite pregame covering and heating.

The National Weather Service set the wind-chill factor at 12 degrees below zero, and the hitting was as harsh as the elements, contributing to eight lost fumbles and five pass interceptions.

"The elements were a factor. Everything was a factor," said Steelers President Dan Rooney, whose team survived three interceptions in the first half and five lost fumbles in the second half.

"I can't think of a team that deserves a second Super Bowl more," said Steelers Coach Chuck Noll. "These people did everything they had to."

The Raiders, who hoped died with the final gun after Ken Stabler passed to Cliff Branch at the Pittsburgh 15-yard line, ended another successful season with final defeat.

They've been to the playoffs eight of nine seasons now, yet they still haven't realized their ultimate goal, the Super Bowl championship.

"When we started out, we thought this was gonna be our year," lamented Raider Coach John Madden. "We worked real hard all year, and then it gets to this point. It's all over."

Offensively, the Steelers benefited from two second-half touchdown drives directed by Terry Bradshaw, who went into the game with a sore knee and finished with a minor concussion.

The Steelers' top receiver, Lynn Swann, sustained a more severe concussion. He was hospitalized in satisfactory condition, and his Super Bowl status was unknown.

Swann was later taken from the game after suffering a head injury in another play. Steelers won the game, 16-10.

Houston Begins First SWC Race

By The Associated Press

Houston takes its first crack at a Southwest Conference basketball championship Tuesday night and the loop's founding fathers couldn't have picked a harder place for the Cougar debut—Arkansas.

Boasting the finest intersectional record in the league at 8-1, Coach Guy Lewis' Cougars ride the momentum of a 94-73 rout of 19th ranked San Francisco into the contest.

Although Houston has been a member for four years, this is the first season the Cougars are eligible for the SWC crown.

Lewis was euphoric over the Cougar triumph in the finals of the Bluebonnet Classic Saturday night.

"That's one of the best wins I can remember—one of my all-time great wins," said Lewis. "We beat one heckuva fine basketball team and the only way you can beat a team like that is with team basketball."

San Francisco Coach Bob Gaillard sounded warnings for the rest of the SWC, saying "Houston did everything absolutely perfect. They shot 61 per cent from the field and out-rebounded us 38-24."

The night before San Francisco edged the Texas Aggies by only two points. Sonny Parker came back with 39 points the next night, prompting Coach Shelby Metcalf to proclaim "Parker is the best that's been in this league in my 18 years."

Baylor jumped to the front of the SWC pack with an 87-69 bumping of Rice as the Owls fell apart to a pressing defense.

The SWC brought its non-conference record to 48-33 with five best record against outside competition in a decade.

In other games Tuesday night, Baylor is at Texas, Texas Tech is at Rice. SMU is at TCU tonight.
