Sec. Acheson Hints That Cold War Will Last A Long Time

Western World Takes The Initiative But End Of Struggle Is Not In Sight

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 15 — Secretary of State Acheson evidently expects the cold war with Russia to last a long time.

He gives the impression that the western world has taken the initiative away from Russia during the last year and a half, but that the end of the struggle is not yet in sight.

The final outcome will take the form of a victory for the western democracies provided they display "unending diligence" and "unending courage no matter how difficult conditions may be."

This estimate of the western conflict with Russia came from the American secretary of state yesterday during a luncheon meeting of delegates to the Council of the Inter-American Defense organization.

Acheson had first delivered a prepared address in which he dealt in general and familiar terms with the world situation. Later he spoke again informally and without prior preparation in response to a toast to the United States.

Diplomats attached particular importance to his words to the extent that they reflected the views of America's foreign policy chief at the end of a particularly successful period of western diplomacy.

In this period Acheson has been the central figure. He spoke against the background of the signing of the Atlantic treaty here two weeks ago and complete agreement among the United States, Britain and France on the future of western Germany a week ago.

While Acheson did not specifically refer to these achievements or to the European recovery program in his brief talk he did declare that "in the past 18 months the forces of liberty have gained the initiative."

"We are approaching the time," he added, "when we can speak on equal terms with those who do

Democrat Tax Expert Backs GOP Proposal

Acid Test Expected On Foreign Plans; New Taxes Opposed

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 15.—Democratic Senator George of Georgia—No. 1 tax authority in the Senate—offered today to support a drive to slash government spending. The drive has been started by two Republican senators.

George told a reporter that he agrees with Senators Wherry (R-Neb), and Bridges (R-NH) that Congress must start using a knife on spending bills if it is to avoid a tax increase or in-the-red financing.

Acid Test To Come

"The acid test will come on our appropriations for foreign spending—the ECA, the Atlantic pact and similar measures," said the veteran chairman of the Senate's finance committee.

"Nobody can expect members of Congress to cut down on our domestic programs unless we first make a reduction on foreign spending," George continued. "If we're going to pare down anywhere we must start there."

Wherry, GOP floor leader, called reporters to his capitol office last evening, to announce the Republican drive to slash both foreign and domestic spending.

First he expressed agreement with President Truman that the nation may spend more than it is taking in—if Congress continues its present spending rate without raising taxes.

Getting Out Of Hand

Wherry said Republican senators feel that it "looks like the spending situation is getting out of hand."

Wherry said that personally he favors a general cut of 10 to 15 per cent in the President's spending plans but he added "it would be silly" to try to slice everything that comes along.

As appropriations committeemen, Wherry said, he and Senator Bridges, former chairman of

Soap, Cars, Home Freezers Listed For Price Cuts

(By The United Press)

Price cuts in a number of items ranging from soap to motorcars were announced today.

Hudson Motor Car Co., cut prices from $15 to $100 on 1949 models, following the lead of General Motors, Kaiser-Frazer, Willys-Overland, Ford and Nash. The lowest-price super-six now begins at $1,915.

The Austin Motor Co., Ltd., a British firm, announced cuts of $75 to $200 on all models on sale in America. A two-door sedan now can be had for $1,520.

Other Cuts Announced

At Chicago, International Harvester Co., announced reductions of $25 to $28 on two models of home freezers. On March 18, the company had reduced prices on household refrigerators.

Lever Brothers Co., of Cambridge, Mass., and the Kendall Manufacturing Co., of Lawrence cut soap prices. Lever prices were slashed about six per cent. The Kendall Co., said its reductions would amount to about two cents per box on the retail price of its granulated soap products.

Procter and Gamble today announced cuts in Cincinnati ranging from four to eight per cent in the wholesale price of household soaps, effective immediately.

At New York, the Rowe Manufacturing Co., maker of automatic merchandising equipment, reduced prices $20 and $15 on two models of cigaret vending machines, the reductions to become effective tomorrow.

Air "War" To Test Defenses

Key Industrial Sites Included In Mock Battle

Network Of Radar Warning Systems Will Be Operated

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 15.—A series of war games starting next month will test Air Force bomber and fighter fleets—and the vulnerability of vital American industry to enemy attack.

Strategists have calculated that the initial blow by an enemy would be directed at slugging into paralysis the great war munitions cities such as Detroit, Pittsburgh, New York, Chicago, Boston and Baltimore. Thus, the code name for the war games has ominous if not intended significance:

Here's The Code Name

"Operation Blackjack!"

Actually, the code name is taken from a card game.

Air Force officials said today that details on the numbers and types of planes to be used in the test by the strategic air command and the air defense command, definite dates, etc., are still to be worked out.

If at various times during the maneuvers all aircraft of the two commands are used the total of bombers and fighters involved might approach 2,000. However, any operation of the program will use only a part of this potential total force.

Radars To Be Used

Also important in the games will be the radar warning network and radar aircraft control nets from which intercepting fighter forces will be directed to defense of the target cities against the attacking bombers.

For the first few weeks of the maneuvers, the strategic and air defense commands will work with only small units of planes—one or two bombers and a few fighters — to make preliminary studies. From these they will work out attack and defense tactics.

In the final phase, comparatively large missions of bombers will take off from bases in the United States for "attacks" on big cities. The attacks will be made under various weather conditions and during both day and night. In some instances, it will be necessary for missions to fly out to sea for some distance to approach a

GETS $12.50 AND FREE HAIRCUT, STILL FEELS HE TOOK A "CLIPPING"—Gene Woods, seated, is held down by Bill Alford, at left, and Lee Turner while Bob Spence shears his curly black locks. All are city firemen. Woods first eroded Spence's superstructure then had to submit to similar treatment. It all started out as horseplay, in which the fire department offered Spence $4.50 and Woods $12.50 to submit to free hair cuts. Both accepted, but after Woods saw what he had done to Spence he offered $25 to break his part of the contract. No soap. Woods and Spence reputedly have slept in their caps since the operation. COMPULSORY INSURANCE SOUGHT

Battle For Health Measures Planned

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 15.—An administration health bill, including a compulsory insurance program, probably will be introduced within 10 days, Senator Murray (D-Mont(said today.

Senators opposed to President Truman's proposals already have jumped the gun on the administration by offering legislation of their own to expand medical and hospital services.

A bill introduced yesterday by Senators Taft (R-Ohio), H. Alexander Smith (R-NJ) and Donnell (R-Mo) provides for federal expenditures of over $1,250,000,000 in the next five years to aid states in developing health programs.

Silimar Bill Offered

A somewhat similar bill was offered last month, without any estimate of the cost. Senators Hill (D-Ala), O'Conor (D-Md), Withers (D-Ky), Aiken (R-Vt) and Morse (R-Ore) joined in sponsoring it.

Under both measures, states could use federal funds to buy membership in voluntary health and hospital insurance programs for persons who can't afford to do so themselves.

Murray said his subcommittee of the Senate labor committee may meet next wek to plan hearings on the various health bills. They probably will get underway about three weeks after the administration bill is introduced.

Is More Comprehensive

Earlier in the session Murray introduced a compulsory health insurance bill but he said the administration measure will be much more comprehensive.

Murray said the bill offered by Taft, Donnell and Smith would lead to a "vast bureaucratic system of socialized medicine" and "directly into the Russian system of state medicine."

Thus, he turned on Taft and others the same cry of socialized medicine they have raised against the program urged by President

LAMESA, April 15. (U.P.)—Two young men, taken into tow by authorities here this week as suspects in a Lamesa burglary, proved their innocence.

They maintained that it would have been impossible for them to have committed the Lamesa burglary. Sheriff Roy King investigated and said they were telling the truth.

At the time of the Lamesa burglary, said Sheriff King, the two suspects were in Roswell, N. M., pulling a burglary there.

Baby Smothers While Sleeping

Mary Beth Mason, 5-month-old infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Clyde Mason, of Lubbock route 7, smothered early today in her sleep, a coroner's inquest verdict showed.

C. E. Lynn, justice of peace and coroner, went with Chief Dep. Sheriff George Eubank, to the parent's residence in the Lemon addition three and a half miles from Lubbock on the Idalou highway after the mother had awakened and discovered what happened.

Buried Face In Pollow

Lynn was told by the mother that she and her husband went to sleep about 10 p. m. and that she expected to feed the baby at 5 a. m., when she usually awakened and cried for its milk. It was quiet when she awakened at 6:30 o'clock. She got out of bed and went to its bassinet to investigate.

The baby described by Lynn as "unusually strong and well developed for its age," had turned over and buried its face in a pillow so that suffocation resulted.

Graveside funeral services are to be conducted at 2 p. m. Sunday in Spur cemetery, with Rev. Stokes of Spur officiating. Burial will be under direction of Plains Funeral home.

Survivors, in addition to the parents, include a brother, Robert Wayne Mason, and the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Smith of Lubbock.

Workers Quit Early, Fired; 300 Walk Out

DETROIT, April 15. (U.P.)—A strike by some 300 CIO United Auto Workers closed the pressed steel plant of the Ford Motor Company's River Rouge operation today and caused the layoff of 8,300 others.

The company said four men were sent to the labor relations office late Thursday for quitting work too soon and lining up at the punch clock. This resulted in the walkout of 275 others in the gas tank department.

Ford said that the stoppage would not affect other plant operations until Monday at the earliest.

Five Convicted In Felony Cases

Seven years in the penitentiary and 15 years of probation were imposed this morning after five persons had pleaded guilty of felony offenses before Judge G. V. Pardue of 99th district court.

A. W. Salyars, assistant district attorney, said Judge Pardue set aside a five-year suspended sentence given Billy Minchey, 20, of Vernon in his court June 6, 1946, for burglary and ordered that it be served cumulatively with a two-year sentence for burglary recently assessed in Wilbarger county.

International Drug Ring In Japan Is Broken Up By U. S.

(By The Associated Press)

TOKYO, April 15.—Occupation authorities said today they had broken up an international narcotics ring involving U. S. soldiers.

The drugs were smuggled into Japan from China and Korea. They were supplied to American soldiers, Japanese and foreigners in the port cities of Kobe, Osaka and Yokohama, these sources reported.

Three soldiers convicted by courts-martial of using heroin have been given given sentences of dishonorable discharge and imprisonment for a year, criminal investigation department sources said.

Eleven others, mostly from Kobe, await trial on similar charges. Fifty-four Chinese, Koreans, Formosans and others also are under arrest.

Brig. Gen. Crawford F. Sams, chief of General MacArthur's public health and welfare section, said he believed "we have the situation well in hand—and we intend to keep it in hand."

Most of the arrests were in

Elephant Smashes Barn At Levelland For 3 A. M. Snack

LEVELLAND, April 15. (Special)—The A. M. Parker family, who lives at 1305 Ave. L in Levelland, thought an earthquake or cyclone or some other disturbance had struck this morning at 3 o'clock.

They heard a mighty crash outside.

Investigating, they found a small barn, 12 by 24 feet, overturned and Queenie helping herself to sacks of cow feed.

Queenie is a 63-year-old elephant belonging to the Tidwell shows and she evidently got hungry during the night.

At any rate she broke loose from her moorings and went on the prowl for food. She found it in the Parker barn, but the door wasn't large enough.

Queenie merely overturned the barn and helped herself.

Parker finally got in touch with the carnival people and a trainer came and took Queenie back to the showgrounds at 4 a. m.

Queenie offered no resistance, for she was a contented elephant by that time. What sacks of feed she hadn't consumed she had torn open and scattered about.

Three Die As Gun Explodes

PEARL HARBOR, April 15. (AP)—A gun mount explosion at sea yesterday killed three American seamen aboard the destroyer Hollister and injured 11 more, two critically.

One man, the gun crew captain, was killed in the blast and two others died later. The accident occurred during anti-aircraft practice 40 miles from Pearl Harbor. It blew off the side of the gun mount.

Nine of the injured were treated in Aiena naval hospital for minor injuries.

No names were made public immediately.

Capt. Charles T. Singleton, commander of squadron three of which the Hollister is the flagship, said four destroyers were engaged in the anti-aircraft firing.

The din was so terrific, he notified naval authorities, that the explosion was not even noticed. He knew nothing of the accident until he was notified by telephone.

"All we know," he said, "is that there was an explosion in the gun mount during firing of gunnery practice."

The Hollister mounts six five-inch guns. There are three mounts. The explosion came in the aftermount.

The Hollister arrived only Monday from Yokosuka, Japan. It was en route to San Diego but stopped over at Pearl Harbor for training with the Hawaiian sea frontier.

Patriotic Programs Asked For May Day

WASHINGTON, April 15 (U.P.)—A national committee headed by labor secretary Maurice J. Tobin has called on cities and towns throughout the nation to organize patriotic and religious programs for May 1.

State governors have been asked to endorse the idea and proclaim May 1 as "loyalty day."

The service was broken into 25-minute periods, each devoted to one of the seven last words, "Father, Forgive Them;" "Today Thou Shalt Be With Me in Paradise;" "Woman, Behold Thy Son;" "My God, My God, Why Hast Thou Forsaken Me?" PILOTS SHOOT FOR 1,000 HOURS

California Fliers Establish New World Endurance Record

(By The Associated Press)

FULLERTON, Calif., April 15.—With a new world's endurance record on their log, Dick Riedel and Bill Barris droned on today toward their goal of 1,000 hours—six full weeks aloft.

They sailed past the 726-hour mark established in 1939 by Wes Carroll and Clyde Schlieper of Long Beach, Calif., and radioed to their home field here:

"We feel wonderful and the engine's purring as smoothly as it did on take-off 30 days ago."

Riedel and Barris, however, did not officially receive credit for a new record until they hit the 727-hour mark at 6:44 p. m. (PST) yesterday. Barris was at the controls of the little Aeronca monoplane Sunkist Lady and swooped low across the field to salute the crowd.

"We'll see you in a couple of weeks or a month," the pilots told their wives over a loudspeaker on the field.

Barris estimated the Sunkist Lady had traveled nearly 65,000 miles since taking off from Fullerton at 11:44 a. m. last March 15. On this, their fourth

Clay Releases Woman Slayer

FRANKFURT, April 15. (U.P.)—Gen. Lucius D. Clay today ordered the release of Mrs. Wilma Ybarbo, who is serving a five-year sentence for shooting her husband, an Army sergeant.

The U. S. military governor directed that the Malden, Mass., housewife be returned to the United States "on the earliest convenient transportation" and released.

Son In U. S.

Mrs. Ybarbo's son, Jimmy, 6, was flown back to the United States to live with relatives after the conviction of his mother late last year.

Originally she was sentenced to 20 years imprisonment for fatally shooting Sgt. John Ybarbo of Goliad, Texas, after a night of drinking and revelry in the Ybarbo billet here.

A board of review later reduced the sentence to five years.

The defense attorney, Stanley H. Gaines, appealed to Clay for clemency.

White Easter Is Due In Midwest Sections

CHICAGO, April 15. (AP)—A snow, rain and wind storm whipper over mid-west areas today, indicating a white Easter Sunday in some cities.

There was heavy snow in a belt 50 to 100 miles wide from northern Iowa into central Wisconsin and southeastern Minnesota. Snow was reported from Iowa and northwestern Missouri to northern lower Michigan.

There was light snow as far south as St. Louis and some was forecast for Chicago. The strong northerly winds to the west of the storm center carried cold air from Central Canada southward to the northern plains and the upper Mississippi valley.

The U. S. Weather Bureau said weather over the rest of the country was generally fair and temperatures were around normal.

Mary Haworth's Mail...

Couple Whose Love Has Vanished Makes Effort To Stay Together For Son's Sake

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: We have been married 25 years and during the last seven years the marriage has soured. For more than two years my wife and I have scarcely spoken to each other, except of necessity, because I wanted to avoid quarrels in the presence of our son John, who is 14. Our daughter married recently and lives elsewhere.

My wife and I aren't stepping out on each other. We are just leading an estranged existence of mutual dislike under the same roof waiting until the boy will be old enough not to mind if we break up the home—perhaps when he finishes high school, four years from now. But I am beginning to wonder if the wait is worthwhile.

I love my boy dearly, have been very nice to him and have tried to keep his respect; but the critical attitude he takes toward his mother, and the disrespect he shows me lately, suggests that this environment is bad for him. Would it be better if he lived with either me or my wife alone?

BOY THINKS DAD'S TACTICS ARE WEAK

NATURALLY he prefers to have us both together, as now; but maybe we ought to separate before he enters high school next fall. He answers my most casual questions in a sarcastic, hateful way, disparages me at the least provocation and attaches no importance to anything I say.

I have always led an honorable life, have supported my family as best I could, and am fairly respected in the community—but he gives me the impression that am just a "punk." I can't very well take issue with his attitude and cause a rift, for his mother would be on his side, trying to show me up as a mean character; yet he seems to mistake my restraint for weakness.

I want to do what is right and best for him, so what is your advice in this very important matter? Signed F.L.

PARENTS' MUDDLING DEMORALIZES CHILD

DEAR F. L.: John is registering scorn of childish parents who think too much of him and not enough of themselves: and who have "failed" him by their own failure to resolve their interpersonal difficulties, long since, in a courageous decisive way, that would have given him a permanent pattern of home life to count on.

In staying together for his sake, but always with the handwriting on the wall that a break is coming, you have kept John on the rack, wondering how soon the ground would give way and the roof would fall.

Also you've been tearing him apart emotionally, vying with each other to be first in his partisan allegiance, the parent he would elect to live with after the home broke up.

In this process each has weakened John's character by pampering, hoping thereby to undercut the rival and win his whole heart. And by implication and attitude, if not in blunt language, each parent has damned the other to him—hense his resultant scorn of each, now boiling up in resentment of the "insecurity" deal they've given him.

MORBID STRIFE IS INFECTIOUS

YOU ARE living to learn from experience what I have long observed to be true, namely, that it isn't necessarily the broken home, but rather the character and quality of divorcing parents that affects children of divorce.

The sort of parents who fight each other stealthily before breaking up, and who continue to be immature and "headless" in the parent role after divorce, are the real agents of demoralization in their children's lives. And whether such parents part or stay hitched, the damage to children who feel the brunt of the battle is much the same.

Possibly your daughter got a fair start in life, by absorbing the security inherent in your early "best years" of marriage; but the parentaly strife to which John is exposed is morbidly infectious, hence bad for him; and if divorce is the only solution and bound to come, the sooner the better for his sake, I think. FUTURE MRS. TOM ORR

After Juanita Thomas becomes Mrs. Tom Orr Saturday, the couple will leave for their new home in Dallas, an apartment at 3217 Ave. G. The apartment is to be a surprise to pretty brunette bride, who hasn't seen it yet.

Practical Juanita already knows how to cook and loves doing it. She also sews a lot, and helped her mother design and make her wedding dress. For the past few weeks, Juanita has been shopping for her trousseau here in Lubbock, and has selected chambrays and silks for her bridal wardrobe.

When the Orrs leave Dallas by plane Monday at 4 a. m. for a week's wedding trip to Mexico City, the bride will be wearing a navy blue gabardine traveling suit with a yellow lace blouse. Her navy kid shoes will be complimented by a navy straw hat with yellow trim, and her corsage of yellow camellias will be set off by yellow gloves of embroidered organza.

The couple's common interests include bowling, parties and bridge. They were first introduced last fall at a Fort Worth party, while Juanita was a student at TCU, and have been engaged since March 6.

LOVE,
LOU.

1½ cups sugar
2½ teaspoons baking powder (or 4 teaspoons tartrate baking powder)
1 teaspoon salt
½ cup Spry
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
1 cup less 2 tablespoons milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 eggs, unbeaten

Sift flour, sugar, baking powder and salt into mixing bowl . . . Drop in Spry . . . Add grated lemon rind (gives cake a delightful little tang) . . . Add ⅔ of milk, then vanilla and beat 200 strokes (2 minutes by hand or on mixer at low speed). Scrape bowl and spoon or beater . . . Add rest of milk and eggs and beat 200 strokes.

Bake in two deep 9-inch Sprycoated layer pans in moderately hot oven (375° F.) 20–25 minutes. Spread Easter Frosting between layers and on top and sides of cake, reserving some frosting to form a "nest" on top. Cover sides and inside of nest with green-colored coconut and fill with multi-colored small candy Easter eggs. Place little cut-out (or candy) rabbit beside nest. Decorate sides of cake with small sugar flowers, as pictured.

Easter Frosting

Federal Housing Plan Begins Slow Waltz Through Congress

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, April 15 — Once more a government housing program begins its slow waltz in Congress. It may get through this year, in some form.

The Senate has begun debate on it and is expected to pass it next week. Then it's the turn of the House. The House has given it the icy stare in previous years.

In 1946 and again in 1948 the Senate passed a public housing bill. Both times the House failed to act. This killed it, since both houses must approve a bill before it can become law.

Various housing bills like the present one have been batting around in Congress for years. In the past five years congressional committees took at least 11,500 pages of testimony from people for or against it.

Before both houses of Congress get through with the present bill it may be changed from the one starting out. But the present one will be explained here briefly.

If it became law, the bill, as it stands would cost billions in government money over many years. With that money it would help do three main things:

1. Help cities get rid of their slums but not before the poor people living in them had some place to go.

2. Build 810,000 public housing units during the next six years for low income families, like families living in the slums which the cities would want to tear down.

3. Give loans to poor farm families that need help in building or repairing homes, proided they need and can qualify for the help.

Private Building Inadequate

But wouldn't all this interfere with private builders? Senator Sparkman, Alabama Democrat and one of the bill's sponsors, says:

"Private enterprise cannot provide decent housing, new or old, for families of low income . . . public housing is the only solution."

Apparently many Democrats and Republicans feel as he does, for 11 Democrats and 11 Republicans have sponsored the bill.

As for slum-clearance, Sparkman told the Senate yesterday:

"On the . . . findings of . . . congressional investigations through the past five years, it seems clearly established that only through an effective program of federal aid can real progress be made in the clearance of slums."

Socialism Denied

Enemies of public housing have cried that it's a step toward socialism. This charge was made once again, and recently, by Rep. Jesse Wolcott, Michigan Republican. He helped block passage of the bill in the House last year. He said "it still looks like socialism to me."

The charge of socialism has been flung around freely in Congress in recent years at various proposals that have come up. But is this housing bill a step in that direction?

No, says Raymond M. Foley, federal housing administrator. He told a House committee the other day that if the government can't serve the basic needs of the great majority of the peole, then:

"There are created the very conditions under which socialistic or Communistic systems of government may falsely appear to be acceptable."

The Senate sponsors of the bill don't say it covers all matters necessary, to use Sparkman's words, "for a complete, national housing program."

If it passes the present bill, Congress may tackle later the other national housing problems he mentioned.

Man Too Ill To Work Puts Out Fire, Drops Dead From Stroke

DETROIT, April 15 (AP)—Arthur Root, 65, employe at a large creamery, was told he was to ill to work.

His supervisor advised him to go out and sit in the sunshine.

Outside, Root spotted smoke coming from the plant. He grabbed a fire extinguisher and rushed up stairs to the roof, calling for others to follow.

The blaze was extinguished with only $1,500 damage to the building.

As the last thin columns of smoke curled upwards, Root dropped dead with a heart attack.

OLD AIR CORPS BRASS SHOCKED

"Flying Sergeants" Meet For First Reunion Since Wartime

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, April 15. — The Captain looked thoughtfully through a smoke ring he had just blown.

The "flying sergeants," he said, were quite a gang. Tough as they come. Tough as the speedy little P-38's they flew. Men who loved to get their shoes off the ground.

What's left of the "flying sergeants" who eventually became the 82nd Fighter Group are in town today for their first reunion. The boys, that is, who weren't doing something more important like helping operate the Berlin airlift.

Capt. Emory C. (Slick) Morgan, an old enlisted man himself, told me about the boys.

You might remember some of the story. Three and a half months before Pearl Harbor, a class of 200 privates, corporals and sergeants shocked the hide-bound traditionalists of the Army Air Corps by climbing into planes and beginning flight training. Up to that time only aviation cadets had been accepted. But by time somebody had seen the hand-writing on the wall.

The training of enlisted men as pilots began so that sergeants could replace officers in flying C-47's to and from air depots. Most of the original group, as I said, quickly graduated to the faster fighter jobs.

Because all other pilots wore the bars of officers, a rank of staff sergeant pilot was created for the "flying sergeants."

Red Tape Thick

Of the original 200, only 97 of them finished their schooling and many of them are still in service —all as officers.

Graduation day created somewhat of a fuss, Capt. Slick Morgan said. One technical sergeant had to be busted to staff sergeant so he could get his wings because staff sergeant was the only rating promised to the men. Time was wasting and there weren't enough scissors around to snip through the red tape.

"Because a lot of Army brass didn't know what the flying sergeants were up to," the captain said, "we had a lot of other trouble."

For instance, at Mather Air Force base in Sacramento, Calif., a sergeant was minding his own business as he taxied down the runway one day. The boy was a stranger at the base. An airdrome officer who didn't know the sergeant was ready to take off, made a loud noise.

M P Apologizes

"Sergeants," he told Sgt. Lloyd C. Atteberry, the pilot, "aren't supposed to taxi planes on this base."

The sergeant said it was a bore to be on the ground and have to taxi a plane, anyhow, and why didn't the officer get somebody to tow the ship down the runway. The officer ordered that done, the sergeant gunned 'er and waved goodbye as he took off.

Another time in New Orleans three of the sergeants were pitched into the guard house by an MP for wearing wings. They were in there a couple of hours before somebody got somebody else on the phone. The MP bowed his head a little as he apologized.

The flying sergeants after about a year of being kicked around came into their own in September of 1942. They became second lieutenants. The group was broken up. Half of them stayed in California as instructors and the rest were assigned to overseas duty.

"We were right proud of our bars," Capt. Morgan said, "but we had a whale of a lot more fun as sergeants."

Red Leader Failing In Health Rumored

BERLIN, April 15. (AP)—Westerners speculated today that the failing health of Bulgaria's Communist Premier Georgi Dimitrov has taken a turn for the worse.

The Sofia government announced yesterday that Dimitrov had gone to the Soviet Union for medical treatment.

Western newspaper reporters admitted to Sofia last month to cover the trial of 15 Protestant pastors accused of spying learned that Dimitrov has heart trouble and tuberculosis of the skin. Western diplomats said he uses hair dye and rouge in an effort to seem vigorous and well-preserved. He is 66 years old.

The Sofia dispatches did not mention the nature of Dimitrov's ailments necessitating treatment in Russia.

There was no hint from Bulgaria that his trip might be a cover-up for trouble between him and the Russians. Such a possibility seemed remote. He is a close friend of Prime Minister Josef Stalin, and reputed to be the most influential Communist outside Russia.

Dimitrov has actively backed the Comingform (Communist International Information bureau) in its feud with Premier Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia.

Texan Knocks Draft Appropriation Cuts

WASHINGTON, April 15. (AP)—Rep. Thomas of Texas cautioned the House Thursday against "dangerous action" in cutting selective service funds in half.

The House, by an 82 to 9 vote, however, trimmed the allotment to $4,500,000. Thomas said 3,022 local draft boards still must handle registrations and already have been cut down to part-time employees.

Nowadays The Boss Is The Glad-Hander

Problem Isn't How To Butter The Boss--Just The Opposite

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, — How can a boss butter up the hired hands?

The other day I let go with a powerful piece about how the ordinary man, given a lifetime or two, could successfully butter up his boss and get a raise. Any boss.

And a fellow came right back at me—one of those strange people who hire other people for a living.

"Listen, Boyle," he said. "You're living in a dead age. The problem in the industrial world today isn't how to butter up the boss to get ahead. What the boss has to worry about is how he can get ahead by buttering up his employes."

Well, for me this was a brand new idea.

I went to work at a time when people stood in lines for jobs. And I guess that ever since then I have thought of a boss only as something you tried in a vague way to placate.

Certainly I never thought of him trying to do anything more than the small service of showering me with money.

I can't think of anything a boss can do for me except to stay out of my day dreams. I don't want him to blunder into my private world any more than I want to tiptoe into his. To me he is strictly on his own.

But some employes aren't the kind of workaday snob I am. I asked a few what they thought a boss could do to butter them up.

And here are their answers:

Keep 'Em Guessing

"Borrow cigarets from them once in a while, so as to make them wonder whether he can afford them a raise."

"When the employe greets him 'Hiya, big boy,' the boss should come back with a heavily emphasized 'Okay, Chum.' This will leave him wondering whether he said chum or chump."

"Take up personally all office collections for weddings, birthday roses and funeral wreaths. This will make the employe think he is a regular guy. And it doesn't have to cost him a cent because they won't know whether the boss contributed anything himself or not."

"Call all employes together once a year for a sandwich luncheon to hear their suggestions.

They'll Forget Gripes

"They will forget their gripes for another year . . . and he can forget the suggestions."

Looking back over this list, I think there must be a better solution:

Perhaps the boss and the employe he wants to butter up should go together to a psychiatrist, hand in hand.

"I've switched to PENETRATORS"

the 3-in-1 SYPHONS

for low cost irrigation

Farmers who think "all syphons are alike" find out differently when they try "Penetrators." Priming is faster, easier. Heavy-gauge aircraft aluminum gives light weight plus extra strength and durability. And the patented "Handi-gate" really works! No need for syphons of 2 or 3 different sizes. Try "Penetrators," the original row crop syphons.

Second Annual South Plains Relays Will Open Here Today

468 Athletes From 36 Schools Will Compete; Two Finals Set

Second annual South Plains Relays, one of the top school-boy track and field meets of West Texas, was scheduled to get underway at 2 o'clock this afternoon at the Texas Tech oval with 468 athletes from 36 schools competing for individual and team honors. Finals will be held starting at 2 o'clock Saturday aternoon.

Contrary to previous announcements, final events will be held in the broad jump and the high jump, while the discus event will not be unreeled until Saturday. The change in the running of the three events will eliminate the possible danger of injury from a thrown disc, since all three preliminaries would have been run on the same field at the same time.

Lubbock Title Hopes Dimmed

Westerner trackmen appear to be in fair shape for the South Plains relays, preliminaries beginning today at 2 p. m., but there has not been a heavy week of practice leading up to the meet, Tuesday being the only hard day of work.

Adair May Be Out

There is still a possibility that Alfred Adair will be unable to compete in the relays. He is co-holder of the pole vault record, set last year at 10 feet, 9 inches, and has gone higher than that mark this year, clearing 11 feet in the district meet last week at Tech.

If he cannot participate the Westerner chances in the pole vault, high jump, and discus will be considerably lessened. For the past two weeks he has run on the 440-yard relay team and had been counted on in the relays this week.

Sprinters Donald Decker, Wayne Stroud, and Charlie Williams will be counted on in the 100-yard dash, and these may also compete on the 440-yard relay team along with Danny Boone.

In the 220-yard dash, Malcolm Young and perhaps Williams will enter along with Decker, who won both the 100 and 220-yard dash last week.

The Westerners have appeared strong in the broad jump with Danny Boone, Henry McDougal, and Eddie Goetze making good jumps. Goetze won the event last week, and Boone and McDougal placed. McDougal also has run the 120-high hurdles, but Danny Rawls is the top performer in that event for the local team.

Other probable standouts are Morris Moyers, shot-put; Bobby Davis and Douglas Ross, discus; W. J. Blake, pole vault; and Goetze, 440-yard dash.

Teams the Westerners will be competing against are Abernathy, Anton, Seagraves, Pampa, Abilene, Childress, Kermit, New Deal, Morton, Springlake, West Texas, Crane, Plainview, Spur, Odessa, Brownfield, Ropesville, Big Spring, Union of Terry, Phillips, Plains, Muleshoe, San Angelo, Tahoka, New Home, and Levelland.

Also O'Donnell, Meadow, Lefors, Pecos, Amarillo, Slaton, Borger, Memphis, and Seminole.

The track was in good shape Thursday, and events will be run with as little delay as possible. To aid the officials, all persons not actively engaged in any event will be kept in the stands until shortly before an event in which they participate. No spectators or coaches will be on the field at anytime.

Six Heats In Some Events

The large number of entrants will necessitate the holding of as many as six heats in some of the events to determine the finalists for tomorrow. Largest entries are in the dashes, with the 100-yard dash being particularly crowded. In the field events the pole vault has 42 entries.

Approximately six finalists will be picked for each field event, and possibly eight will advance to the finals in every running event. Every boy will wear a number to facilitate scoring and recording.

Odessa was the winner of the meet last year with 30 points, 18½ of which were scored by the high-point man of the meet—Byron Townsend. Lubbock finished second with 25 points, and Abilene was third with 24½.

Admission to the relays will be 60 cents for adults and 30 cents for children. The meet is sponsored by City Recreation department, Lubbock Public schools, Texas Tech, and the Chamber of Commerce.

Baldridge Bakery will furnish a sound truck both days of the meet.

The existing records:

120-yard high hurdles: Bill Howton, Plainview. Time 14.5.

100-yard dash: Carl Mayes, Pampa. Time 9.7.

Medley relay: Amarillo. Time 3:51.

440-yard dash: Duny Goode, Midland. Time 53.2.

440-yard relay: Odessa. Time 44.3.

220-yard dash: Carl Mayes, Pampa. Time 21.3.

880-yard relay: Abilene. Time 1:33.3.

880-yard dash: Leon Lepard, Big Spring. Time 2.03.3.

One mile relay: Big Spring. Time 3:34.3.

High jump: Byron Townsend, Odessa. Height 5 feet, 10¾ inches.

Shot-put: George Lively, Abilene. Distance 46 feet, 9 inches.

Broad jump: Byron Townsend, Odessa. Distance 21 feet, 2½ inches.

Discus throw: Byron Townsend, Odessa. Distance 154 feet, 9 inches.

Pole vault: Sam Davis and Alfred Adair, Lubbock. Height 10 feet, 9 inches.

Snead And Schneiter Invited To Tourney

FORT WORTH, April 15. (AP)—Additional invitations have gone out to top golfers for the Colonial national invitation tournament scheduled here June 2-5 but Frank Stranahan, the muscular Toledo, O., amateur isn't among them.

Sam Snead and George Schneiter, professionals, are among the latest invited, however. They were sent the invitations after the PGA hinted it might not recognize the tournament as official.

The PGA had informed Colonial Country club that at least two players in the running for Ryder cup team berths were not on the original list and since the event here is sponsored by the PGA it "is highly desirous that they be included."

Westerners To Battle Altus

Three baseball games in two days face the Westerners today and Saturday upon their arrival in Altus, Okla. The local nine was scheduled to arrive there at noon and play the first game at 8 p. m.

A doubleheader at 2:30 and 8 p. m. tomorrow completes the schedule and the team may return to Lubbock late Saturday night. Sixteen boys, Coach Fred Taylor, and Manager Arlen Harris left by chartered bus at 8 a. m. today.

Hamilton Gets Nod

Last year in two games at Altus the Sooner team under Coach Hal Hilpirt defeated the Westerner 14-2, and 5-4, and then added insult to injury by coming to Lubbock and winning an 11 inning game, 8-5. So this year the Westerners have a score to settle with the Oklahomans, but they will go into the games as underdogs by virtue of pitching material.

Pitching Impressive

Early season prospects in the pitching department for the high school nine were perfect, with five hurlers available. But Jack McCabe was declared ineligible, and Mac Taylor and Jim Wilson left the team, leaving the squad with only two boys who started the season on the mound—Bennie Day and Jimmy Hamilton.

Hamilton has been a steady pitcher, having good control and lots of stuff on the ball. Day is a lefthander with more speed than control, but he suffered an injury to his back earlier in the week and may not be in top shape. The two pitchers will probably be helped in their pitching chores by other team members. Morris Turner pitched last year, as did Jimmy Richards, and either could be used for a few relief innings.

Pre-Season Record Good

A good early season record has been built up by the Westerners, winning eight consecutive games off such teams as Boys club, Texas Tech Independents, Morton and Slaton. But the stiffest test will be the encounters with the Altus diamond squad.

Byron Nelson Plans Comeback In Meets

NEW YORK, April 15 (AP) — Byron Nelson, the one-time kingpin of professional golf, plans to hit the tournament trail again.

He won't make the week-end, week-out grind, he disclosed here yesterday, but he's going to play in a greater number of tournaments this summer.

One of them is the Goodall round robin here May 12-14. Others will be the Texas P. G. A. championship and the Colonial Open at Fort Worth. He also may play in the National Open.

"I can't say yet whether I will play in the open," Nelson said at a luncheon given by the promoters of the Goodall tournament. "I have agreed to give a number of exhibitions that week, and unless they can be cancelled it is unlikely I will be in the open."

Looks Like Good Year For Small Boys

Major League Players Blast Pitchers For 30 Home Runs

NEW YORK, April 15 (AP) — It looks like a good year for small boys who perch on roofstops around major league baseball parks. Home runs are coming in droves.

The season doesn't open until next week and the big league parks are a few sizes larger than most minor league enclosures, but take a look at what happened yesterday.

Fifteen major league teams—12 of them facing major league opposition—hit 30 home runs in exhibition games.

Four of the clubs hit three homers in a single inning. Only the Chicago Cubs failed to put the ball out of the lot at least once.

Murderers' row on the New York Giants—Sid Gordon, Johnny Mize and Bobby Thompson—blasted successive round trippers off Cleveland's Bobby Feller. The Indians retaliated with three in a row off Dave Koslo by Bob Kennedy, Jim Hegan and Early Wynn. And for good measure Koslo added one for New York and Lou Boudreau and Mickey Vernon each had one for Cleveland. All this firing took place in Hickory, N. C.

The Chicago White Sox whipped Pittsburgh, 4-3, at Memphis on the strength of home runs by Floyd Weigel and Cass Michaels. Each came with one on base.

Homers also decided the issue as Cincinnati edged the New York Yankees, 2-1; the Philadelphia Phils downed Baltimore, 6-3, and the Boston Red Sox beat the Boston Braves, 6-2.

Cincinnati's tallies came on a home run by Ray Mueller with a man on base. Johnny Lindell's circuit clout was the only Yankee counter.

Dell Ennis, Eddie Miller and Stan Lopata all connected in the fourth inning for the Phils.

Pesky Gets Homer

And Johnny Pesky's one-on blast clinched the Boston city series game for the American leaguers.

The Philadelphia Athletics got three in an inning against Savannah, Ga.—by Ferris Fain, Hank Majeski and Buddy Rosar.

Five for one club was tops for the day with the honors going to Cleveland and the St. Louis Browns. Dick Kokos of the Browns was the only player to get more than one. He got a pair. Al Zarilla, Jerry Priddy and Ken Wood got one each as the Browns whipped Texarkana of the Big State league, 9-1.

Washington, the St. Louis Cardinals and Brooklyn were held to one apiece, but Brooklyn's — by Billy Cox—gave the Dodgers a 3-2 edge over the Senators at Washington. Clyde Vollmer hit one for Washington and Red Schoendienst for St. Louis.

Raider Track Squad Leaves

An 18-man track and field squad from Texas Tech was scheduled to leave this morning at 8 by bus for Albuquerque, N. M., where tomorrow afternoon they will meet the University of New Mexico in a dual track meet.

Coach Maxey McKnight, happier than usual because of one good day's workout yesterday under a warm sun, still is bothered by a crippled squad. At the same time, he is eager to make it two straight over the Lobos, beaten last year in a dual meet here.

Coach McKnight is counting on piling up a heavy point advantage in the dashes, mile relay and two of the field events, while hoping for outside strength in other events. But Charley Reynolds, ace sprinter, and Ben Wilson, quarter-miler and mile relay team member, both are on the doubtful list.

Reynolds Is Injured

Reynolds hurt his foot last week and is not in shape yet. Wilson has been plagued with a bad left leg all spring and it has not responded to treatment. Wilson's place on the relay team will be taken by Joe Wilson, who also will run the half-mile, while Ben Wilson may see no action.

Ed Clepper, brilliant high jumper and hurdler, will carry much of the load on his shoulders, but will have help from Reynolds in the dashes. Charley Pinnell, who developed into a pole vaulter, will assist in that event, as well as in the hurdles and high jump.

Mile Relay Team To Go

Making the trip will be the mile relay team of Costin Bufkin, Seth Murphey, Joe Wilson and Reynolds. Bufkin and Reynolds also will run the quarter mile, Murphey will join Moon Mullins and Herman Bailey in running the sprints; Ed Wilson, Joe Wilson and Harold Barber will run the half mile; Edgar Hawkins will run the mile; and Claude Freeman will run the two-mile.

In the field events, McKnight has Dingy Davis and Ted Peabody in the weights; Clepper in the hurdles and broad jump, high jump; Pinnell in the hurdles, high and broad jump and pole vault; Joe Overton in the high and broad jumps; and Jim Elliott and Henry Briscoe in the javelin and weights.

Dallas Chalks Up Second Loop Win

(By The Associated Press)

Texas league baseball clubs move into the parent state tonight for first-day games at Fort Worth, Dallas, Houston and Beaumont.

Fort Worth meets Tulsa, Oklahoma City goes to Dallas, Shreveport will be in Beaumont and San Antonio moves to Houston.

Only two Texas league clubs played in Texas during the first two days of the season.

San Antonio played host to Houston two nights running and kept all the cake, winning both games, the one last night, 4-2.

The Dallas Eagles battered the Oklahoma Indians again last night in Oklahoma City, 12-2. Wednesday they won 23-2.

Fort Worth took its second game from Tulsa 6-3 and Beaumont squared its account with Shreveport, winning 4-2.

Fence rattling power was absent last night. There were no home runs.

Holiday Halts Play In Southwest Loop

(By The Associated Press)

Southwest conference baseball teams take an Easter vacation from league play this week end. But there are non conference tilts scheduled.

Play that counts in the conference standings resumes next Tuesday with four of the teams in action.

Southern Methodist university engages Texas Christian university in Dallas and Rice goes to Waco to battle Baylor university.

Then on Wednesday those traditional foes, Texas A. & M. and the University of Texas, cross bats in Austin.

Curling, played on natural or artificial ice, resembles lawn bowling and deck shuffleboard.

Lubbock Hubbers Tangle With Blue Sox Nine Here Tonight

Lubbock's Hubbers open their home exhibition stand of three games with the Abilene Blue Sox as their opopnents at Rosenthal Field tonight at 8.

Slated to open on the mound—and to go as far as he can—is Royce "Rooster" Mills, veteran Hubber hurler. Mills has not pitched a game this spring, but is in top shape and says he is ready.

If Mills weakens and needs help, Manager Jackie Sullivan will use either Charles Willis, the rookie hurler from Dallas, or Oscar Kuver, the veteran picked up from Paul's Valley of the Sooner State League. For that matter, he may use both.

A curious crowd, that is expected to be the largest to see the Hubbers in action this spring, is anticipated. They will see a park that has been repainted and a diamond on which much work has been spent. They also will see a baseball team that has looked good in spring training.

The training camp at Greenville ended Sunday and the Hubbers headed homeward on Monday, playing Vernon that night. They won that game 10 to 4, but dropped a 7-6 tilt to Abilene Tuesday night. It gave them a spring record of six victories and one defeat.

They opened March 27 with an intra-squad double-header, played by Greenville, Lubbock and Corpus Christi clubs. That was a week after the season started. March 30 they beat Greenville 4-1 and two nights later licked Borger at Paris 10-9. The Hubbers beat Farmersville in McKinney April 3 6-2, after which they had four days in camp.

Paris fell Hubber victims April 6 by 8-7 and the next night the Lubbock club beat Henderson 11-3. Then came the two games on the way home.

Yesterday, the Hubbers got in a good two and a half hour workout under a clear sky and hot sun. Manager Sullivan sent the team through a long hitting practice, trying to sharpen up batting eyes that haven't proven to be too strong. Every man hit a minimum of three times, more than had been possible at Greenville.

The pitchers also came in for considerable work, mainly running to get off excess weight, as well as to strengthen them for the long season ahead.

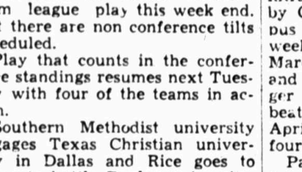

A snappy infield practice finished off the long session. More of the same is in view for the Hubbers today, starting at 11 a.m. It will be a light workout, with more attention being given to hitting than anything else.

Abilene is bringing a team liberally sprinkled with Cubans to Lubbock. Hayden "Stubby" Greer, who took over the managerial reins this year, will be at shortstop. He took over a club that severed connections with Brooklyn and which this year is working with Washington. And from the Cubans Greer is attempting to build a ball club that will be in the thick of the pennant fight.

But the Cubans haven't entirely lived up to advance billings and Greer has secured help in the form of Leo Bahonen at first base, Joe Wessing at second and Bob Skinner in centerfield. The only holdover from last year is Bernice Copeland, a pitcher.

Between The Lines. . .

By Joe Kelly

GREENVILLE.—It's amazing the pride that the New York Yankees take in their ball club. Perhaps it explains why they are among the top clubs year after year. It's more than baseball to them, more than a business organization; it virtually is a religion. They take more pride in being a Yankee than most men take after building up a business firm for years and years. That's why you feel almost as though you should remove your hat and shoes before entering into the presence of a group of them.

But perhaps it was Bill Dickey, more than anyone else, who made you feel the deepness of their feeling. We asked him, during a conversation, if he was glad to be back with the organization. His answer, coming quietly and with almost reverence, was, "You bet. There's nothing like it. Once you're a Yankee, you're always a Yankee." There was such depth of feeling in the way he said it that you knew that it wasn't to be considered lightly. The players feel differently, which also explains why the Yankees, when they were champions, always looked the part, both on and off the field.

It was a tremendous personal thrill to talk to Dickey. The Louisiana born Yenkee catcher-coach, past manager of the Yankees, always was an inspiration to anyone watching a game. He was unmistakable on the field. He was a wicked hitter, a great catcher. He ranks with the all-time greats of the game. Yet he was generous with his time, willing with his answers. We opened the conversation and let him carry it from there. His voice was so low we had to strain to hear all he said. He fell to talking about why he thought the Yankees had the best players in the game.

"You have to have natural ability," he drawled. "I'd place that at the top of the list. You may think a man with made ability is good, but he isn't as good as the man with natural ability. Take Joe Gordon, for instance. He is a top flight player and it's all natural ability. He instinctively knows where to move and what to do. Every man on the Yankee team has it, they have too." We asked about competitive spirit. "Competitive spirit?" Dickey mused. "Without it you wouldn't stand a chance to play for the Yankees. Every man coming to this ball club has to have competitive spirit. If he doesn't, he isn't kept. Almost without exception, players who have been traded have lacked it."

A definite exception was Gordon, wasn't it, Bill? "You may think I'm harping on Gordon," Dickey said slowly. "Maybe I am, but only because he was a great player for the Yankees. Yes, he was a definite exception. No one ever had greater natural ability and as for competitive spirit, he was a leader. Day after day I saw him make plays that were impossible. He used to be an acrobat, you know. He was never off balance." Dickey paused, then went on. "You can quote me as saying Joe Gordon is the greatest second baseman I ever saw, the greatest infielder and a great team player. He was always toughest when the chips were down. Gordon never had a great batting record, but he was always dangerous in the clutch. How many times have you seen him break up a game with a home run or a long hit? Plenty. He always had that extra spark."

We told him that we had seen Gordon with the Indians in Lubbock for two years. "Then you saw the greatest double play combination in the business," Dickey stated immediately. "Lou Boudreau and Joe Gordon. No one else can touch them. They are almost equal in ability, but Gordon is a shade better than Boudreau. That's because he's faster. They're both natural players, have great team spirit, hit well and move fast. But Gordon gets that extra step start. It's sheer pleasure to see them in action."

"Perhaps the best illustration of Gordon's greatness," Dickey continued, "is one game in which he thought he had been given an error, but hadn't. It cost a Yankee pitcher a no-hit- no-run game. Early in the game, a batter lined a hit past the first baseman. Gordon moved over and touched it with the tip of his glove. It was the closest to a hit the opposing team came all afternoon. The pitcher thought he had a no-hitter. So did Gordon and the rest of us. We were amazed to read, after the game, that they had given the batter a hit. I was so used to seeing Joe make those sensational plays that I took it for granted it was an error. And so was the scorer. He figuredе that if Gordon couldn't get it, it must be a hit."

What about the 1949 Yankees? "I don't know," Dickey declared. "We've been getting fine pitching, exceptionally fine. The fielding has been wonderful, but we're not hitting." Dickey shook his head. "If that had been any one of those Yankee teams around the turn of the 30s, the final score would have been about 18 or 20 to something (Greenville had beaten the Yanks 4-3). I don't know what's wrong, but we just aren't getting our hits. Maybe we'll snap out of it before the season opens." We thanked Bill for his time and drifted on to the next person, convinced that we had just been talking with one of baseball's all-time greats.

Lamesa Loboes Will Meet Midland Today

LAMESA, April 15. (Special)—Lamesa's Loboes, with a 6-2 victory over Abilene yesterday afternoon behind them, go after the visiting Midland club of the Longhorn League here this afternoon. Game time is 3 p. m.

Paul Cooke, Lobo righthtander, is scheduled to work the first three innings, with Bill Jones, a southpaw, slated to finish the game.

Yesterday's first exhibition game of the season at home was notable for the work of Stan Grzywacz, the winning hurler. Grzywacz allowed only one hit in the final four innings and belted a grand slam 375-foot home run over the centerfield fence in the eighth. That blast put the game away for the home club.

Abilene's runs in the first and third innings came off lefthander Leon Hayes, who allowed five safeties in as many innings.

The Loboes scored twice in the opening frame on a lone hit off Roland Viadora. They did not score again until Grzywacz slammed his fourmaster off Lefthander Joe Nakamura in the eighth to break up a tie game.

Art Bosch, Abilene rightfielder, had a double and triple, while Dan Pinto, Lobo leftfielder, sparkled defensively with seven putouts besides engineering a double play. A crowd of 450 watched the contest, played in fine baseball weather.

The line score:

Abilene	101	000	000	2	6	2
Lamesa	200	000	04x	6	5	3

Viadora, Nakamura (6) (LP) and Zigelman; Hayes, Grzywacz (6) (WP) and Finley.

Veteran Right-Hander From New York May Help Hubbers

(This is the fifth in a series of articles describing the Lubbock Hubbers. Material for the articles was gathered while the Hubbers were in spring training).

BY JOE KELLY
Journal Sports Editor

GREENVILLE—Bob Feller may have hurled a nine inning no-hit, no-run game, but the Hubbers have a hurler who boasts having thrown 14 innings of no-hit, no-run ball.

Oscar Kuver, a (censored) Yankee from Staten Island, N. Y., is a veteran right-hander making his initial appearance in Lubbock uniform. But he is no stranger to Texas. This is where he broke into professional ball and much of his experience has been gained in this state.

Kuver, pronounced as though spelled COO-ver, is a New Yorker without question. The second he opens his mouth, pure New Yorkese flows forth. The result done good-naturedly, that Kuver takes in the same way.

Always Liked Athletics

His start into baseball came like most any other American boy's. He admits he was born and that his adolescence was little different than any other. He wasn't too crazy about school, but he did like athletics from the beginning. In fact, he says that his earliest recollection of sports is having baseball equipment lying around.

He went through New York schools, eventually winding up with a diploma from New Dorp High school in 1943. He lettered for two years in football, basketball, but the latter was his first love.

Kuver must have had more than a fair share of intelligence, for he was quarterback on the high school grid team for two years. He alternated between center and forward on the baskeball team, although he stood only five feet, 11 inches. His weight seldom changes from the present 170 pounds.

Enlists In Navy

The New Yorker hadn't any more than gotten out of high school before armed service stared him in the eye. He beat the draft by enlisting in the Navy and spent a couple of years overseas.

Kuver was stationed on New Caledonia in the Southwest Pacific, on Guam in the Central Pacific and on Okinawa. On New Caledonia and Guam, he played service baseball and it was during this time that he hung up his 14 inning no-hit, no-run game. On his team were such major leaguers as Bob Klinger, Earl Brucker, Bill Goodman and other lesser lights.

Mace Brown, the former major league star pitcher, was athletic head on Guam and he influenced Kuver to a large extent. He was present when Ossie threw his no-hitter.

Some one else who was around the islands and was impressed was Homer Peel, who came home to manage the Paris club of the Big State league. So when Kuver was discharged in June of 1946, Peel hurriedly sent for him. He reported to Parris and finished the season, being used in spot relief roles.

Started With Paris

The following year he was with Paris at the start of the season, but was optioned to Ardmore of the Sooner State league. There he won 10 and lost 14, appearing in 33 games. He hurled 10 complete games, pitching 162 innings, giving up 141 hits, 140 runs, of which 100 were earned, issued 148 bases on balls, fanned 146, hit eight batters, topped the league in wild pitches with 14 and had a 5.56 earned run average.

Kuver also had a .162 batting average on 11 hits in 68 plate appearances. He hit one homer and one double, received 13 bases on balls, drove in nine runs and fanned 21 times.

Last year he was with Paul's Valley in the Sonner league, winning 15 and losing 14. Other records for 1948 are not available yet.

He was drafted during the winter by George Schepps, Hubber general manager, who considered him ready to make the climb. He has worked several games this spring, showing a sharp curve and a change of pace.

Kuver is married, tying the knot on Jan. 15 of this year, and his wife is working in Lubbock. He is, incidentally, 22 years old.

Threats Nothing Compared To Eels

NEWARK, N. J., April 15. (AP) She said her husband threatened her life with a shotgun.

Then she said he threatened to stab her.

But Mrs. Martha Giles, suing for divorce from Albert F. Giles of Barnegat, said what she minded most was when he wanted her to cook eels for dinner.

She refused, she testified before advisory Master Herman E. Hillenbach yesterday.

But her husband retaliated; she said, by striking her on the face with a live eel and then sending it wriggling down her back.

Hillenbach granted her a divorce.

Sunbeamers To Test Stamford

Stamford will be host to the Bluebonnet-Sunbeamer Laundry softball team from Lubbock Saturday night in an exhibition doubleheader that will give both teams their first tests of the season.

The games will be played at Municipal field, with the first tilt set for 7:30 p. m.

Stamford and Lubbock both are entered in the Texas Softball league, but are in separate divisions. They are expected to be strong contenders for the title this season.

Pre-game ceremonies will include an opening address by Lee Walker, manager of the Chamber of Commerce. Other brief speeches will be made by Ralph Bumpass of Lubbock, TSL vice president, and Clyde Fortune of Waco.

The Stamford High school band will play several numbers and Mayor Clay Markham will throw out the first ball.

Both Stamford and Lubbock had strong teams last year, the Sunbeamers winning the pennant handily behind the hurling of Jackie Neel, no longer with the local club, and the strong batting and defensive play of the other members. Stamford was one of the leading contenders for the title.

Last year the Sunbeamers won three of four games from the Stamford nine and indications are that they are just as strong this season. Their mound staff will be headed by G. W. Warden, Texas Tech student, who was one of the top pitchers in the league. He will have assistance from Warren "Stringbean" Pope, another consistent winner last season, and Loy Hubbard, who worked for another Lubbock nine.

President Of Business Clubs Compliments Lubbock Chapter

F. H. (Doc) Bachman, president of the national association of American Business clubs, today pledged full cooperation of the national office to its Lubbock chapter.

Appearing as honor guest at today's weekly ABC luncheon ini the Hilton hotel, Bachman highly praised the Lubbock club for its sponsorship of the local Boys club program, stating that "the national office exists to do anything we can to help you."

Bachman, formerly an accounting instructor at the University of Illinois and now secretary-treasurer of Clifford-Jacobs Forging company, Champaign, Ill., spoke briefly on several phases of the national ABC program.

Movie Is Sponsored

He discussed the club's campaign to raise some $25,00 with which to produce a sound color movie on spastic paralysis. The film, when completed, is to be shown to civic groups throughout the country, in an effort to stress the need for proper treatment of spastic children.

At present, Bachman reported, the ABC Spastic Fund, Inc., set up for this purpose, has raised $12,000, or about half its goal. He asked cooperation of the Lubbock club in this campaign.

Bachman said he was convinced that "a great deal of work is being done this year by our national committees." He paid particular tribute to the club's national publications committee for what he termed "improvement in size, content and format" of "The Ambuck," magazine published once every two months by ABC national headquarters.

Books Balanced

Reporting on the club's national office finances, Bachman said, "Financially, we are sound. Of course, we don't operate with the purpose of showing a profit. But we have been able to operate this year without creating a deficit, and our books show a balance on the 'right' side."

The national president urged that any ABC members who have recommendations or resolutions to be presented June 26-29 at the national convention in Big Spring send copies of their proposals to national headquarters not later than June 10. In this way, he explained, clubs throughout the country may be notified in advance as to what items will be considered at the national meeting.

He closed his address by urging local ABC members to attend the convention at Big Spring.

"Big Hat" Award Given

Accompanying Bachman was Douglas Orme, of Big Spring, governor of the sixth ABC district. Orme said that a recent tour convinced him that the affairs of the district are in good order, and that "our chapters in this district are active and progressive." He also invited local ABC members to attend the Big Spring convention, assuring them that they would receive a hearty welcome there.

Later in the program, Bachman made an ABC "Big Hat" award to Ed Hambright, Lubbock member. Membership in the "Big Hat" club is confined to those members who have sponsored three members during one fiscal period of the ABC. The western-style hat given Hambright had four stars, one for each of the members he had sponsored during the current year.

Both Bachman and Orme were introduced by B. Watkins.

Plans for this year's ABC rodeo were discussed briefly, and a list of committee members for the event was issued. Harry Van Horn announced that box seat tickeet sales will begin May 4, with reserve seat sales to start May 16.

Out-of-town guests introduced include John Hansard, Amarillo; Paul Murphy, Fort Worth; E. C. Buell, Wichita Falls; and Gayle Chapman, Glen Sizemore, and W. T. Baughman, all of Clovis.

George Dale presided, with invocation by B. Watkins.

target from a surprise angle.

While plans up to now refer only to B-29 and B-50 type bombers, some officials thought it probable that the huge B-36s also would be used.

However, it is unlikely that any formation of these giants will make mass attacks on targets. Tactics for the B-36 call for single-plane missions operating at altitudes of 40,000 feet or more.

"Operation Blackjack" is the first of a program of annual air-war games planned for this and the next four years.

The 1950 games will be designated "Operation Poker," the target area the same, but with the attacking bombers flying from bases in the Caribbean instead of the United States.

In 1951, "Operation Casino" will be against targets in the eastern United States east of the Mississippi, with attacks from bases in Alaska, Newfoundland and the Caribbean.

In the 1952 games, unnamed yet, West Coast cities will be the targets, with attacks launched from Hawaii and Alaska.

The 1953 schedule contemplates the entire United States as target area.

However, he made clear that he does not believe the newly won unity and the growing strength of the western world mean that the Russians will quickly come to terms.

"I should like to say our troubles are, in my opinion, only temporary and that they will shortly disappear," Acheson declared. "But I cannot in honesty say this."

He told the meeting that there are "two forces at work in the world," and added:

"The outcome will be decided by our courage in meeting the exigencies before us, by unending diligence and attention to the danger before us. We need unending courage no matter how difficult conditions may be."

Reburial Rites For Sudan Man Are Set

In 1943, DeLoach enlisted in the Army Air corps. During his training period, he was stationed at Lubbock, San Antonio, and Enid, Okla. He received his pilot's wings at Altus, Okla., Army Air field in February, 1944.

He was stationed briefly at Big Spring before going overseas to fly transport planes over "The Hump" in northern India into China.

Prices Skid

story. They might fall a little short of their goal. Even if they do, it still will be an Easter to be remembered for heavy sales and good profits—considerably above a lot of satisfactory pre-war years.

The total of sales and profits actually is secondary right now in the minds of most retailers, especially department stores, clothing and specialty shops.

Adjustment Big Problem

The big thing is adjustment to the new post-war buyers' market rapidly engulfing business. Can the merchant give customers quality and value they demand at prices they want to pay? The current Easter season is the primary test.

In looking for a yardstick to measure how business is going, you have to remember that last year Easter was March 28 and this year it is April 17. Comparisons between the two years are warped by the different dates. March and April must be taken together to gauge volume.

The first week in March, department store sales were eight per cent under a year ago. But the week ended March 26 was off 16 per cent compared with Easter week in 1948. The next week they snapped back to plus eight per cent. On a cumulative basis, sales in early February were slightly ahead of a year ago but dropped back steadily to a level six per cent below March 26. Then they started a slow come-back.

Latest Picture Given

Latest figures compiled by Dun & Bradstreet, a statistical survey organization, gives this picture for sales during the week ended Wednesday:

In the country as a whole, sales were unchanged to four per cent ahead of a year ago. Northeast and Northwest regions were ahead by one to five per cent, East and Middlewest were two to six per cent ahead, South and Pacific coast were from three per cent below to one per cent above, and the Southwest was unchanged to four per cent ahead.

Some merchants are confident they can do a bigger March-April business than last year. Others aren't so confident. Their reasons stem from basic economic trends —plus local influences.

Here's an illustration. It doesn't make any difference how good the rest of the country is doing, if it rains cats and dogs in your town on a vital Thursday or Friday shopping day.

They're Hustling Now

Another thing merchants are finding out is that they have to go after business with a hustle. They are stressing value, quality, style, price, credit and everything else the customer wants.

Price is the most controversial point. Merchants know they can sell at extremely low prices, but they can't make a profit. Balance between the two is the trick.

The big mail order houses cut prices early in the year. Others followed for the spring trade. Still others promise reductions on fall lines. The trend is downward.

Brotherhood Initiates Get Salt Rubbed On Fresh Wounds

Strange Lenten Ritual Of Small Catholic Group Accompanied By Anguish Of Tortures

By DAVID E. WEBER
United Press Staff Writer

SANTA FE, N. M., April 15.—The slap of stinging yucca whips played a bloody accompaniment today to the strange Lenten ritual of the Penitente brotherhood in scores of small villages in remote northern New Mexico hills.

The annual public flagellations and other forms of penance practiced by this little known Catholic brotherhood will come to an end tonight in dozens of darkened moradas.

The final ceremony, in which the chapel is slowly reduced to pitch blackness by the snuffing out of candles, symbolizes the darkness that fell over the world when Christ died on the cross.

Wounds Salted

With only slight local variations, the lay brotherhood, which historians say stems directly from the Third Order of St. Francis, follows this ritual each year beginning on the even of Ash Wednesday, and finishing on Good Friday.

The morada, a small, private chapel, is always set apart from the Catholic church in the community.

Here the initiates who have declared themselves members of the order are brought before the sangrador (blood letter), who cuts the kun on their backs, three times down and three times across. Salt is then rubbed in the fresh wounds, giving the Penitente his first taste of the fearful physical anguish that is to come.

Other Tortures Included

The initiation ceremony is the last time that any form of torture is inflicted on the Penitente by anyone other than himself. Later in the holy period, he may cut his back to ribbons with the braided whip, or he may lash cactus to his knees during prayer. He may deprive himself of sleep, or drag a heavy wooden cross over endless miles of winding mountain paths.

Almost daily "processions of blood" are held in the tiny Penitente villages. The leader, Hermano Mayor, heads the procession, carrying a near life-size crucifix of Christ.

In recent years, there have been few officially recorded cases where one of the flagelants was permitted to re-enact the death of Christ by being tied to a cross until he slumped into unconsciousness. The last recorded "crucifixion" occurred late in the 1930's.

The rigors of the brotherhood forced its extinction in other parts of the world centuries ago. But in New Mexico, where it was brought in the late 16th and early 17th centuries by Spanish conquistadores, it has survived the ages as well as the strong disapproval of the church.

Cool Weather Covers State

(By The Associated Press)

The old story that "if you don't like Texas weather just wait a few minutes and it will change" was exemplified today.

Yesterday temperatures ranged from 58 degrees in the Panhandle to 100 in South Texas. Today it's cold over the entire state. Dalhart started off with 31, Amarillo had 36 and Lubbock 37.

There were snow flurries at Dalhart and a trace of rain at Amarillo.

Hottest weather yesterday included 99 at Laredo. 94 at Presidio and 92 at Del Rio and Corpus Christi. Amarillo had the minimum 58.

No Rain Seen

It was unlikely that the South Plains would receive moisture from the current cold front, Harold Frost, chief meteorologist at the Lubbock Weather bureau station at Municipal airport, indicated this morning.

The bureau forecast called for medium clouds to begin dispersing shortly afternoon, with accompanying rise in temperatures, possibly as high as the middle 70's. The cloud formation this morning was ato-stratus at an estimated altitude of 7,000 to 8,000 feet.

Losses From Checks, Accounts Reported

Mos addicts put the narcotics in their cigarets, which gave them "a lift which lasted for about an hour," one agent said. He added that no addicts he knew in the United States "would get a bang" out of the small amounts used.

Half a dozen soldiers at Kobe said the cigarets often were used at parties.

General Sams praised the cooperation of Japanese narcotics agents who assisted in the roundups at Kobe and Osaka.

"Bing" Back, Hope Resumes His Hobby

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Calif., April 15 (AP)—Bob Hope's happy today. He says he and his children can again play their favorite game—Pin The Tail on Bing."

Bing, a pink-eyed albino mule named for a blue-eyed friend of Hope, wandered away from the comedian's ranch Tuesday. The little mule was found on the road to San Fernando—and wound up Thursday at the Van Nuys animal shelter.

Bing, big ears flapping happily, was returned to Hope Thursday night.

Voided Divorces Put Woman In Quandary

MIAMI, Fla., April 15 (AP) — Geraldine Loewe Baylek, who sued three husbands simultaneously to get a court decree establishing her marital status as single learned today she is still married to husband No. 1.

Special Master Harry Gordon, in his report to circuit court, stated the case this way:

She married Richard Edward Fishell of Hollywood, Calif., at Brooklyn, N. Y., on Dec. 4, 1942, and obtained a Mexican "mail order" divorce from him.

Her next husband was Ross Maurice Newhouse of New York, whom she married Feb. 28, 1946. Six months later he walked out and she obtained a "personal appearance" Mexican divorce.

Then she married Thomas Wolfe Baylek of New York. That partnership lasted eight months.

The former Geraldine Loewe testified she is "in a quandary and frankly I don't know what my status is."

Special Master Gordon decided her two Mexican divorces were invalid, and she is still Mrs. Richard Edward Fishell.

Health Bills

Truman.

Morse hailed the health bill introduced yesterday as evidence that efforts to "liberalize" the Republican party are "getting somewhere."

Doctors Are Warned

He told the Senate that if doctors want to avoid "socialized medicine," they had better cooperate with those who are trying to work out improved health services "based on the free enterprise system."

He accused the American Medical association of trying to get along without any national health legislation at all—or only such legislation "as it writes or dictates."

"Doctors will discover they cannot get by on a political propaganda program based on their selfish interests," he said.

Morse said he will "fight against compulsory national health insurance." But he added that the doctors must show they realize they have "a great social obligation to perform."

Neill reported to police Thursday night that he had discovered the skirts, valued at $22, on an automobile parked here. Police waited at the car until the two youths returned to it and arrested them.

Louis Mora, 36, was fined $75 and county court costs Thursday for drunk driving, R. V. Williams $25 and costs for violation of check law, County Attorney Waggoner Carr said.

U. S. Arms Storage In Japan Is Denied

TOKYO, April 15 (AP)—Allied headquarters today branded a "mendacious lie" a Chinese Communist radio charge that the United States secretly was building up a store of arms in Japan.

"There is no foundation whatever for the report," headquarters' public information office said. "It is a complete fabrication and merely follows the usual form of Mendacious red propaganda."

Quake Danger Still Evident

SEATTLE, April 15 (U.P) — A giant fault in the earth's surface was blamed today for the earthquake that rocked the Pacific northwest Wednesday, causing eight deathes and an estimated $20,000,000 in property damage.

A study of seismographic reports placed its center just east of Tacoma in the Cascade mountains. But its effects were felt throughout Oregon, Washington and British Columbia.

Seismologists said that when the million-ton fault slipped towards the earth's center, it scraped against earth rock in a normal, stable position, jolting the countryside for hundreds of miles.

Other Tremors Felt

The faint tremors were felt yesterday forenoon, one at Washington State college and the other at Mount St. Michael's scholasticate.

Harold E. Culver, chairman of the state college geology department, said a tremor recorded at 11:20 a. m. might not have been an earthquake he said it "very easily could have been a blast nearby."

The Rev. Francis Altman, in charge of the seismograph at the scholasticate, thought a tremor he recorded at 11 a. m. might have been a settling effect from Wednesday's quake.

Seismologists warned that new quakes were possible.

Hundreds of persons were injured in the quake Wednesday and more than 60 were hospitalized.

Economy Drive

that group, will aim first at the $5,580,000,000 European recovery authorization just cleared by Congress.

If Congress is forced to vote additional taxes—as requested by Mr. Truman—"a depression and hard times" would result, Wherry said.

The Republican leader said he expects plenty of support for the economy drive "from those on the other side of the aisle," referring to the Democrats.

Many Will Join

Informed of this, George said he thought many Democrats would join in the drive to cut spending and avoid new taxes or a deficit.

Wherry released a statement on behalf of himself and Bridges. It said:

"If all the money-spending, socialistic recommendations made by the President are adopted by Congress, taxes must be increased by $5,000,000,000 or the treasury department will have to return to the highly-inflationary policy of deficit spending.

"Either road spells hard times for the American people."

They estimated that the proposed new farm program of Secretary of Agriculture Brannan might "cost more than $5,000,000,000 a year." They spoke out, too, against "bigger and bigger social welfare programs," and said they will "comb carefully" the foreign aid program.

Pardons Board To Hear Final Plea For Man Doomed To Die

HUNTSVILLE, April 15. (AP)—Youthful Buster Northern, scheduled to die in the electric chair only hours from now, cried his innocence today. But in his death cell here, he awaited word from three men in Austin who were hearing a new plea for his life.

The state board of pardons and paroles scheduled a meeting for 2 p. m. to reconsider Northern's case.

George O. Youngblood of Dallas, a court-appointed attorney for Northern, asked for the meeting. R. A. (Smoot) Schmid, chairman of the board, said, "I don't know what Youngblood has to tell us. He called me during the lunch hour (yesterday) and made the appointment with a board secretary.

Twice Denied Clemency

Northern, a Dallas youth, is scheduled to die shortly after midnight for the stomping death of an elderly woman near Dallas in 1946. She was Mrs. W. H. McHenry, 69, of Taloga, Okla.

The youth, now 20 years old, was 17, just inside the age limit for felony charges in Texas, when convicted of murder. Before 17 the state law says a boy cannot be charged with a felony, but must be considered a juvenile.

Twice the prison board has denied him clemency. The vote both times was 2-1. Gov. Beauford Jester said there is no action he can take without board recommendation.

"I still say I didn't kill her," Northern said yesterday.

"It looks like things are going against me. Well, I'm ready to go."

Others Claimed Guilty

He insisted in a death cell interview, "there were two other men and one woman in the deal." Northern readily admitted he had beaten the woman, taken her car and left her unconscious.

The husky youth meditated at length Wednesday with Father Frank Braun, Catholic chaplain at the prison. Northern is a Catholic.

"He is somewhat nervous, but he is in very good spirits," the chaplain said. "He is smoking a lot of cigarets. If he has to go to the electric chair, he will be ready to go."

Two ministers appeared before the pardon and parole board Wednesday pleading clemency.

Schmid For Commutation

Schmid, who was Dallas county sheriff when Mrs. McHenry was slain, voted for life imprisonment, as he did on a previous occasion. Board members Walter Strong and L. C. Harris again refused to commute the death sentence.

The saga began in March of 1946 when Mrs. McHenry befriended Northern by giving him a ride at McAlester, Okla. She was driving to Dallas to visit her daughter, Mrs. Fred S. Morgan.

Northern was convicted in Dallas of murder May 6, 1946. A higher court reversed the conviction because although the indictment had alleged Northern stomped the woman to death, it had failed to stipulate "with his feet."

Another jury convicted him a second time in January of 1948. This conviction was affirmed Nov. 10, 1948.

Northern was sentenced on Jan. 12 this year to die Feb. 15. A reprieve until March 17 came on Jan. 17.

A second stay was issued on March 4 when the pardon and paroles board recommended another 30-day delay.

Moslem Sensitive About His Weight

NANKING, April 15. (AP)—Portly Governor Ma Hung-Kwei of Ninghsia is sensitive about his weight.

Arriving from the northwest Thursday, the Moslem leader was described by a Nanking newspaper as weighing 300 pounds.

Immediately the governor demanded a retraction—and got it. He weighs 240 pounds, the newspaper dutifully reported in its retraction today.

Airline Seeks Crash Damages

CLEVELAND, April 15. (AP)—In a $725,000 damage suit, Northwest Airlines, Inc., claims the Glenn L. Martin Co., sold the airlines five defective planes, including one in which 36 persons were killed.

Northwest, with headquarters in St. Paul, brought the suit in federal district court here yesterday against the Baltimore airplane manufacturer.

The petition said 33 passengers and three crew members were killed near Winona, Minn., last Aug. 29 when a wing of one of the Martin-built planes "tore off in flight."

Northwest asked 450,000 for the lost plane and its equipment, $250,000 for the loss of services of the other four planes, and $25,000 in workmen's compensation for which Northwest Airlines became liable.

Suit Over Insurance

The planes were not suitable for passenger service and the Martin Co., was negligent in their production, the petition claimed. All five planes, it said, were obtained from the Baltimore plant within a year before the crash near Winona.

In Baltimore, Glenn L. Martin, president of the defendant company, said the suit was a "quarrel between insurance companies which does not affect us at all." The only way to settle the dispute, he added, is through the courts.

Martin contended insurance companies of Northwest Airlines seek to make his firm liable in the crash, while Martin company insurance representatives are unwilling to pay for Northwest's misfortunes.

The Civil Aeronautics board has investigated the case of the plane crash and held public hearings on it. In Washington a CAB spokesman said a report would be made shortly, but until then no information would be released.

Young Roosevelt Endorsed By Group Opposing Tammany Hall

NEW YORK, April 15. (AP)—The fair deal Democrats, a group of young men and women opposed to the present leadership of Tammany hall, have endorsed Franklin D. Roosevelt, jr.'s congressional candidacy.

Roosevelt has been denied the Democratic nomination in the 20th ctongressional district by Tammany hall, whose leader is Hugo E. Rogers.

Joseph L. Broderick, chairman of the recently-organized fair deal Democrats, said in a statement after the endorsement yesterday:

"Tammany will be shown in this election and in the fall primaries that it does not represent the half-million enrolled Democrats in New York county (Manhattan), but is rather a small clique, interested in patronage, control and plunder."

Welcoming fair deal support, Roosevelt said "the fair dealers have already shown that they will not sit by while hand-picked Tammany candidates are thrust upon them."

A majority vote of the Tammany leaders in the 20th district has picked municipal court Justice Benjamin Shalleck for the Democratic nomination. There will be at least two more candidates—Republican and American Labor party.

Roosevelt has been nominated by the Liberal party and also will run with a new Four Freedoms label.

A special election will be held in the 20th district May 17 to fill the seat of the late Sol Bloom, veteran Democratic congressman.

U. S. Protests Czech Arrest

PRAGUE, April 15. (AP)—The United States demanded today the early release of Vlasta Vraz, American relief worker held in prison for a week by Czechoslovak police.

The U. S. embassy delivered a note to the foreign affairs ministry protesting the arrest of the Berwyn, Ill., woman last Saturday. She was held incommunicado for three days. Then an embassy demand for an interview was granted.

Miss Vraz told a consular official that she was being detained during an investigation of "suspicion of political activity."

Today's note protested against "arbitrary methods" used by Czech police who arrested Miss Vraz at her office last Saturday, at about 1 p. m. She was told she would be returned to her office by 5 p. m. Instead, she was held for three days before she could be seen by anyone from the United States embassy. Her automobile has been confiscated.

Other Facts Asked

The embassy demanded, besides her early release, to be advised without delay "of facts and circumstances surrounding the case, including specific charges, if any, against Miss Vraz." Inquiry was also made whether she could obtain a lawyer of her own choice.

It was learned that Miss Vraz herself has asked for a damper on publicity about her arrest because she was fearful how the news would affect her mother in Berwyn. She had also expected quick freedom.

She had been in custody a week today, the third American now in jail with the foreign office unwilling or unable to do much about it. The two others are American soldiers who wandered across the border and were jailed as spies last December. They were tried in secret and sentenced to prison terms of 10 and 12 years. All the while, the Czechoslovak government kept ignoring American demands for information about the pair.

Calf Eats Income Tax Refund Check

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 15 (AP) — Federal income tax refund checks are green.

Grass is green.

And one Oklahoma calf eats anything that is green.

That's why an Oklahoma farmer wants a duplicate refund check.

H. C. Jones, Collector of Internal revenue here, said he received the following from an accountant representing the farmer:

He put the check in his hip pocket and went about his work of repairing a fence in his feed lot. While working, a calf came up behind him, took the check out of his pocket and ate it."

Mining men in Mexico, as elsewhere, are reported believing that the days of very high prices for zinc, copper and lead are drawing to a close.

Two Anti-Communist Underground Units Register With U. S.

WASHINGTON, April 15 (INS)—The Justice department announced today that two anti-Communist underground groups have registered themselves as foreign agents.

In publishing the February and March registrations under the terms of the foreign agents registration act, the department revealed that the organizations were of Lithuanian and Russian derivation.

Monsignor Mykolas Krupavicius and Vaclovas Sidzikauskas of New York City registered as agents of an underground movement in Lithuania and Germany known as the Supreme Lithuanian committee of Liberation (VLIK).

The two explained that they intended to seek "moral and political understanding and assistance of the U. S. government and people for an eventual liberation of Lithuania."

They gave their address as the Lithuanian American Information center in New York.

At the same time the U.S.A. branch of the Nacianalno Trudovoy Soyuz (Russian Popular Laborist association—NTS) registered itself as an agent of the Russian Popular Laborist association, described as an anti-Communist underground in Europe.

The Justice department said that Victor M. Baydalakoff, the president of the association, had previously registered as the agent of several of the leaders of the European movement.

All foreign agents registrations are available for public inspection at the Department of Justice in Washington.

Texans Propose Revamp Of Law Governing Child Delinquency

AUSTIN, April 15. (AP)—Juvenile delinquency bills up before the present legislature propose no change in punishment.

The penal laws for child delinquency were established in 1943 and have remained unchanged.

The trend since then has been toward prevention— rather than punishment—of juvenile delinquency.

"I hadn't studied the matter and can't say whether we do or don't need any changes in the punishment of delinquents," said Rep. Cecil Storey of Longview, chairman of the house committee on criminal jurisprudence.

Senator R. L. Proffer of Justin, senate sponsor of the bill establishing a youth code commission, said the bill would set up a diagnostic center for youths in trouble," that will help straighten them out."

Under present law delinquent children are established as "wards of the state, subject to the discipline and entitled to the protection of the state."

The legislature in 1943 took them out of the jurisdiction of criminal courts and put them under civil law.

Boys between the ages of 10 and 17 and girls between 10 and 18 are subject to the delinquent children laws.

The law says youths in those age brackets shall not be deemed a criminal by reason of any judicial decision, "nor shall any child be charged with or convicted of a crime in any court." That means any crime—murder, arson, theft, rape.

What happens when a boy under 17 steals an automobile? The law says he can not be charged or convicted of theft. The courts can declare him a delinquent child. That's all. Then they can put him on suspended sentence, in custody of someone or send him to the reformatory.

Typical of the way in which juvenile laws work in serious crimes is one which came before the court of criminal appeals this year:

The court upheld a 55-year prison sentence assessed against a 17-year-old boy convicted of murder.

The boy was only 14 years old and on parole from the Gatesville Training School for Boys when the fatal shooting occurred. He was sent back to the training school—not for murder, but for violation of his parole. In 1948, two weeks after the boy had his 17th birthday, he was brought to trial and convicted.

After commencement, the Hale Center seniors pack for a week's trip through South Texas to visit historical points in and near San Antonio, Austin, Houston and probably Galveston.

Sponsors of the class are Mrs. M A. Payne and R. C. Bird. Its members are Trula Jean Adams, Richard Allen, Billy Brewer, the class president; Phil Carlton, Mary Ruth Cornett, Eldon Davis, Billie Joe Davis, Geraldine Kaker, Jo Nell Lail, Bobbie Jean Lee, Homer Gerald Lee, Jean McCormick, class reporter; Frances Lou Pollard, class secretary; Avis Robertson, vice-president; Anna D. 'Hobo Day' Scheduled

Seniors will dress in old clothes for their traditional Hobo Day, April 22, when they take on menial tasks around town to earn funds for their trip. The seniors present their final assembly program the morning of May 6 at the High school, when the class will and testament, prophecy and other data will be unreeled.

Other classes in High school have scheduled trips for school closing as follows: Freshmen, a picnic in Mackenzie State park, Lubbock, April 21; Sophomores, a trip to Palo Duro park, near Canyon, April 22; Juniors, a trip to an Oklahoma resort the weekend of April 21.

Class Picnics Planned

Principal E. S. Agnew of the Hale Center Ward school said all classes of the school will hold picnics in the city park on various days, and all will appear in special school closing morning assembly programs, to which the public will be invited, in the last few weeks of school.

Eighth grade commencement will be held for 33 graduates of the Ward school Thursday night, May 19—a tentative date as yet, Agnew said.

An all-high school picnic will be held sometime during the last few days of school, to which parents and patrons of students will be invited. Expense of the picnic will be offset by funds received in a special variety program held at the high school this week.

Battle Over Taft-Hartley Law Moving Toward Compromise

WASHINGTON, April 15. (AP)—Opposing sides in the war of the Taft-Hartley act were moving a little closer together today toward a possible compromise.

Two things showed the trend:

1. A Republican-Dixie group in the House shifted its tactics and produced a new Wood labor bill yesterday—a substitute for still another carrying the name of Rep. Wood (D-Ga). It would still keep most of the Taft-Hartley law. But it contains fewer curbs on labor unions than Wood bill No. 1, which went beyond Taft-Hartley in that respect and was bitterly condemned by labor leaders.

2. Administration supporters in the House began planning a counter-move to gain votes. And some of them were talking freely—though not for publication—about changing their own Truman labor bill to make it more like Taft-Hartley.

Compromise Expected

If this happens, it will probably be in the form of a few amendments to the Truman bill, to be offered during the debate which is scheduled to begin April 26. The Truman bill would repeal the Taft-Hartley law and replace it with a somewhat enlarged version of the Wagner act of 1935.

No definite administration decision on these amendments has been made, but the tendency today was so marked, and in such important Democratic circles, that observers could have no doubt the idea of compromise was getting the closest attention.

One influential administration leader in the House told a reporter:

"I think that out of this present situation we may be able to get the best labor law the country has ever had. There seems to be a desire on both sides to get a little closer together."

Victory Being Claimed

Introduction of the new Wood bill was a significant step in the political jockeying for position. It is supported by a large group of Republicans and southern Democrats who want to keep most of Taft-Hartley. They are claiming victory for it.

Wood said in a statement that it incorporates the "best features" of the Taft-Hartley act but makes "many" changes of a "liberalizing nature," in order to meet criticisms by labor unions.

Wood himself was out of town, and the bill and statement were issued for him by Rep. Cox (D-Ga).

House Republicans made no secret of the fact that they had much in to with forming the bill. They told reporters it was discussed early this week in conferences attended by Republican members of the House labor committee, and by Republican Reps. Martin (Mass.), Halleck (Ind) and Brown (Ohio).

Differences Cited

They also said one of their purposes was to bring their own program more closely in line with the labor program being prepared by Senate Republicans such as Taft of Ohio and Ives of New York.

However, the tentative Taft-Ives proposals, some of which were disclosed Sunday by the Associated Press, would eliminate a good deal more of the Taft-Hartley act than the new House bill would.

For example, the Senate program would abolish the Taft-Hartley job of general counsel of the National Labor Relations board. The Wood bill would keep that job the way it is. The Senate program would permit "preferential hiring" contracts, under which employers would hire only union men so long as these were available. The Wood bill wouldn't.

The Wood bill retains the Taft-Hartley act's 80-day injunctions in national emergency cases, though it makes a couple of procedural changes in the emergency provision.

It makes a concession to the idea of Taft-Hartley "repeal" by saying that this law is "herby repealed." But the rest of the bill would re-enact most of the Taft-Hartley language.

Like the Taft program, the Wood bill requires officers of companies to sign non-Communist oaths—not merely union officers as at present.

Building Permits In City Near $3 Million

Lubbock's building total at mid-April is approaching the three-million dollar mark, records of Lloyd Ross, building inspector, revealed Thursday afternoon.

Issuance of $449,573 in building permits during the first half of April brought the year's total to $2,723,761. This week was a heavy one, with permits during the first four days totaling $179,038, although no large individual jobs were started.

Largest individual permit was issued to Redeemer Lutheran church, owner, and Joe Telford, contractor, to construct a $46,800 church at 2221-23 Twenty-second street.

It appeared doubtful that April volume would equal that of March, when permits totaled $1,112,869. January total was $328,209, February $833,110.

British tourists will spend $16,248,000 in Switzerland this year, under new touring restrictions, compared with $32,000,000 they spent there in 1948.

WORLD STUDY OF PROBLEM URGED

Disease Of Old Age Trouble In Politics, Scientist Claims

By RENE J. CAPPON
Associated Press Staff Writer

BALTIMORE, April 15.—Getting the aches and pains out of old age may relieve the world's chronic political ills at the same time, a noted British scientist suggested today.

Anyhow, said Dr. Vladimir Korenchevsky, this business of growing old nowadays is a "disease"—not a normal physiological process. And it's largely unnecessary.

But to return to prospects for making the globe a likely place to grow old, or even up in, here's how age ties in:

"The world is generally run by older men. Because of their age they have the wisdom that comes with experience." But they also have the mental and physical weaknesses that come with age, the Oxford university scientist explained.

Experience Lacking

What to do? Get younger men to run the world? Well, they don't have greybeards' infirmities, "but at the same time they haven't got the experience that makes for wisdom."

So the eventual answer, Dr. Korenchevsky told a reporter, is to "get rid of the infirmities of old age—and have wisdom unfettered for a better world."

How to achieve this?

The Russian-born Gerontologist (meaning scientist studying the processes of aging) has been doing research since 1907.

And the notes that science still doesn't know standards of normal aging and normal old age. Besides, "gerontological research can't alter in a few months, or even years, what hereditary development has fixed in a million years" with respect to man's aging.

World Research Urged

By growing old and calling it a "disease" Dr. Korenchevsky doesn't mean the inevitable sweep of years—just the infirmities and senility they bring.

In declaring this "unnecessary," the doctor is expressing his faith in scientific conquest of even these formidable obstacles. He believes an international research foundation should tackle the job.

"Gerontological research is very expensive," he declared, "and if there is not a sufficient number of research centers in any country, the obvious exit out of this difficulty is to pool all willing and available scientific manpower into a co-operative international organization.

"That is the chief aim in the organizing activities of our British Society for Research on Aging."

Dr. Korenchevsky is currently visiting the gerontology research center at Baltimore city hospitals.

Scottish Rite Heads Named

Louie F. Moore, of 2311 Thirty-second street, last night was named president of the South Plains Scottish Rite club as the Masonic organization conducted its annual observance of Maundy Thursday. The program was held in the Lubbock hotel.

A total of 86 persons attended the program, representing numerous towns over the South Plains.

Moore succeeds Guy Swain of Levelland and Sundown.

Other Officers Named

Other officers named by unanimous action following their nomination by a committee named for that purpose included Fletcher B. Lewis, of Brownfield, first vice president, Case Cabool, of Levelland, second vice president; and E. D. Parker, of Lubbock, re-elected secretary.

Three outgoing officers, in addition to Swain, included Moore as vice president and Jim Graves as second vice president.

Dr. J. M. Gordon gave the invocation for the program. Following the banquet, introduction and recognition of KCCHs present was by Dr. Ben B. Hutchinson. Those present were Fletcher B. Lewis, Dr. J. M. Lewis and A. H. King.

Clovis Kendrick of Brownfield gave the toast to the departed brethren. Rev. W. V. Bane, pastor of Breckenridge, was in charge of the ritualistic observation and gave the benediction.

The nominating committee was composed of W. D. McCarty, Ely Fonville and Syrian E. Marbut.

Ex-Jap Officer Is Given Prison Term

YOKOHAMA, April 15 (INS) — Norifumi Otosu, a former Japanese army lieutenant, today was sentenced to 30 years in prison for beheading a captured B-29 flyer in the final days of the war.

The U. S. Military commission of Yokohama said that the death penalty was not demanded because Otosu acted under the orders of superiors.

At the opening of his trial last Monday, Otosu pleaded guilty and said that the beheading of the airman was motivated by a desire to avenge the atom bombings of Hiroshima and Nagasaki.

The former Japanese officer also admitted having watched Japanese soldiers practice swordsmanship and archery on other prisoners of war.

The arrest of Otosu was announced last week. He was apprehended after a search of two years.

The United States supplied Panama with almost all the textile piece goods sold there, during the last year.

Large Posse Hunts Gun-Crazed Thief After Car Stolen

VIROQUA, Wis., April 15 (INS)—A 100-man posse searched the woods near Rising Hill, Wis., today for a gun-crazed car thief who fled from Wisconsin police.

The manhunt, aided by bloodhounds, started last night when the gunman, identified by police as 35-year-old Carl Heart, eluded capture by firing a fusilade of shots at four police officers and a doctor near Viroqua.

Officials said the five men who were chasing Heart's stolen auto rolled from their squad cars seconds before the gunman riddled the autos with bullets.

One Man Held

An alleged companion of the bandit, 27-year-old William Sparbuck, of Munice, Ind., was captured early in the chase, police scheduled him for extensive questioning today.

Dr. Raymond Hirsch, 45-year-old Viroqua physician, was cut by glass shattered by the gunman's bullets. More than 30 shots were exchanged in the gun battle last night before Heart escaped into woods between Viroqua and Rising Hill.

The doctor said his car was stolen from in front of Viroqua's Vernon Memorial hospital. He and officer Floyd Potter set out to find the auto with the aid of another police squad.

They spotted it several blocks from the hospital where it had broken down, and Sparbuck was seized with it. Heart, pushing the stalled auto with a second stolen car, fled. Police and the doctor chased him.

They said they cornered Heart on a highway eight miles south of Viroqua but that he fled into the woods.

Yangtze Battleground Quietens As Chinese Open Peace Parley

NANKING, April 15. (AP) — A lull fell today over the Yangtze, embattled river line between the Communist north and the Nationalist south.

It could only have been ordered by the Communists. They hold nearly all the cards in China's long and costly game of civil war.

Observers took the lull as additional proof that the Nationalists delegates at Peiping's "peace" conference had made concessions.

Now they waited for news from beyond the Communist-built wall of silence as to how far these concessions go.

Pao Ching - An, government spokesman, told newsmen the formal peace talks opened in Communist Peiping Wednesday night. That was all the news he had to offer.

Observers speculated that the government delegation now would try to stall on methods of complying with Communist conditions.

They took it for granted that the government had agreed to the conditions. These call for the surrender of government armies, trial of Nationalist leaders as "war criminals", and a complete revamping of the government to give the Communists control, among other things.

Observers saw a chance that the talks may break down, just as they did after the delegation arrived in Peiping. That breakdown provoked a Communist ultimatum to accept the terms or the consequences.

Nanking Threatened

The consequences would be a crossing of the Yangtze in force. This threat still hangs over Nanking and the Nationalist delegation.

Although Communist troops are reported to have withdrawn for several miles at some points along the Yangtze's north bank, they still are in an excellent position for a swift and major drive across the river.

Both sides seemed to have made last-minute military spurts Wednesday before the formal opening of peace talks brought on the lull.

Good Friday Miracle Hoped For Through School Girl's Kiss

Crippled And Curious People Return To Home Of Girl Who "Makes Statue Weep"

SYRACUSE, N. Y., April 15. (AP) — The crippled and the curious return today to the home of Shirley Anne Martin, hoping for a Good Friday miracle through what many call "tears" shed by a religious statute.

They want to see the 11-year-old school girl whose kiss on the forehead of a broken plaster image of St. Ann, witnesses say, brings watery drops from its eyes. Some want the liquid for curative attempts.

The child's mother, Mrs. Arthur E. Martin, told a reporter:

"We don't claim any miracles. We don't claim to be healers. It just happened and we have opened our house for whatever it may be worth."

Large Crowd Gathers

Shirley Anne's parents whisked to an undisclosed place last night after she had participated in a television broadcast.

The girl was reported exhausted from appearances before hundreds of persons who have converged on the family's flat since Wednesday.

Whether Shirley Anne, who is a Roman Catholic, would be at home was uncertain.

Police Lieut. Mathew Solinski estimated that an average of 2,500 persons was around the place for several hours last night, even though the Martins did not return after the telecast. Streets were blocked off and buses were re-routed.

Many Crippled

The police lieutenant said there were crippled and blind persons in the crowd. Some, he said was told, had come from Detroit and Toronto.

Today "being Good Friday, anything might happen," he commented to a newsman.

Motorcycle Patrolman Robert Chappel reported that "many people" in the crowd were crippled or apparently in ill-health.

He said some had said they wanted "just one of the tears" from the statute head of St. Ann, mother of the virgin Mary. Others, he added, said they wanted to take the watery substance home to ailing relatives or friends.

Some spectators who saw the statute dabbed handkerchiefs against the painted face. Others touched it with rosary beads.

Scientific Test Asked

More confirmation that the three-inch statute head shed what witnesses called "tears" came from employes of the television station.

Paul Wiley, a cameraman, told a reporter:

"I saw tears come from both eyes."

Al Rein, station stage director, asked by a reporter if he had seen "tears," replied:

"I'll say I did."

Meanwhile, a minister suggested a scientific test.

The Rev. Glenn O. Canfield, pastor of May Memorial Unitarian church, who said he had looked at the statute head, told a reporter:

"A chemical analysis should be made to determine whether the girl's sliva and the liquid solution that appears on the doll's face are the same."

Navy's Men-Only Tradition Broken When Wave Comes Aboard For Active Sea Duty

OAKLAND, Cal., April 15 (INS)—An iron-bound Navy tradition was broken Thursday when a smiling and very feminine Wave climbed up the gangplank of the Navy transport, USS General Butner at Oakland.

Lt. (JG) Clarice L. Pierson went aboard the transport as the first Wave known to go on sea duty.

Lt. Pierson, a reserve officer, will act as an administrative assistant in the ship's transportation department during her two week training cruise.

Her husband, Lester H. Pierson, a former Navy man himself, waved goodbye at the dock.

Lt. Pierson admitted she was excited and said:

"I just hope I don't get seasick."

Reds Fail To Quiet 'Voice' Broadcasts

NEW YORK, April 15 (AP)—A State department official says most "Voice of America" broadcasts to European Russia are getting through despite Soviet attempts to jam programs.

Charles W. Thayer, who heads the department's international broadcasting division, also said that comparatively few programs beamed at Asiatic Russia from Hawaii have been made ineffective by jamming.

Voice technicians, using special sounding devices, have determined that Russians have used at least 18 radiotransmitters to drown out "Voice" broadcasts.

A "Voice" spokesman said that it takes one regular Russian radio transmitter to jam every American program.

Radio jamming was used widely during the war. It consists of broadcasting an irregular noise pattern which makes it impossible to hear the regular broadcast.

Slayer Traced By Initials In Blood

MT. CLEMENS, Mich., April 15. (AP)—Too weak to talk, a stabbing victim traced two letters of her stepson's name last night with her own blood while police watched.

Then she died.

Officers immediately went to a nearby shack where they said they found Joseph D'Augustino, 39, burning a blood-stained shirt.

Prosecutor John Matthews said D'Augustino admitted the slaying of Mrs. Mary Graves, 73-year-old common-law wife of his father.

Mrs. Graves lay on the floor of her home for two hours before she was discovered. When police arrived with her husband Louis, she dipped her finger in blood and traced: "J-O."

The husband then led officers to his son's shack. The 73-year-old man said his wife and son had frequent quarrels.

Powerful Wine Fumes Almost Kill Brothers

SAN DIMAS, Calif., April 15. (AP)—Death from wine fumes was almost the fate of the brothers Mazzetti.

Frank, 48, and Peter Mazzetti, 45, went down into a huge winery tank to clean out the musty old Zinfandel dregs Thursday. The trap door banged shut behind them. The Zinfandel was gone but its bouquet, compounded into noxious gases, knocked them out.

Their father, Joseph Mazzetti, found them shortly afterward and called sheriff's deputies who hauled them out and revived them with oxygen.

Ounce of Prevention...

Cowboys of just a few years ago would have been puzzled by the above illustration. But livestock producers today see it as a picture of a routine job . . . vaccination of a calf to help keep him healthy.

Livestock producers and meat packers have a common goal: to supply America with all the wholesome, nutritious meat this nation of ours needs. And so at every step of the way—from range, farm and feed lot to the tables of consumers—precautions are taken to produce meat of the best possible quality . . . meat that will receive the familiar round purple stamp "U. S. Inspected & Passed." This purple circle, found on every important cut supplied by federally inspected packers, is the housewife's guarantee of good, wholesome meat.

Growing animals are subject to various ailments. Meat, milk, wool and other valuable by-products . . . enough to supply a good-sized nation . . . are lost on farms and ranches each year. Add to this the lost grain and grass fed to animals which never live to maturity, or fed to unthrifty livestock that gain slowly. Total dollar losses run into billions.

Much has been done toward reducing these losses. New drugs and chemicals, such as the sulfas, penicillin and phenothiazine, are conquering livestock ailments, pests and parasites. But some of these causes of reduced production and profit are stubborn. To lick them will take increased knowledge, cooperation among neighbors and a constant watch for danger signs. But the increased earnings which can result from these efforts make them more than worth while. Production of healthy livestock is the only way to keep the markets for the meat you produce supplied and expanding. In solving your problems your local, state and federal veterinarians are good men to turn to for help.

Price Balances Supply and Demand

In the first six weeks of the year livestock and meat prices have dropped with great rapidity. In my 24 years with Swift & Company I have never seen so violent a drop. On the other hand, I have never seen prices start down from so high a level. It is the law of supply and demand at work.

When the wholesale prices of meat—the amount meat packers can get for it—go down, it means lower prices for livestock. It always has been and always will be that way. When demand for meat increases, we are able to pay producers more for their livestock. The prices Swift & Company, and the other 26,000 meat packers and commercial slaughterers, pay for livestock are governed by what they can get for the total available supply of meat and the by-products. As in the past, so in the future, livestock prices will result entirely from the balance between supply and demand.

Let's Be For Things Seems to me that most of us spend too much time and blood-pressure being against things. Let's be for things. Let's be for freedom of choice and initiative. Let's be for a system which allows a man to choose freely his own work, to make his own opportunities, to plan his own production. Which lets him decide where and how he lives; how he spends or invests his earnings. Let's be for our country, where a man's the boss of his own time, his own thoughts and his own political and religious beliefs. Let's take a good look at the rest of the world, then reverently thank God, and be for the United States.

Hope you have a prosperous summer, and we'll be looking forward to being with you again. Meanwhile, if you're in Chicago, plan to visit us at Swift & Company. All of us in the Agricultural Research Department cordially invite you to drop in for a chat. We'll be looking for you!

F. M. Simpson.

Quotes of the Month

The livestock producer, both by nature and by necessity, is a true conservationist. He would no more deliberately ruin the property on which he depends for his livelihood, and which he hopes to pass on to his children, than the manufacturer would deliberately tear down the plant in which he operates.

A. A. Smith, President
American National Livestock Assoc.

Livestock provides one-third of all the food energy in the American diet, and 80 per cent of all the land used to produce the nation's food supply is devoted to livestock production. That is the story of a big business, vital to all Americans.

Saving More Lambs

Alexander Johnston

By Alexander Johnston, Wool Specialist
University of Wyoming, Laramie

Because every lamb grown to market maturity will now bring from $15 to $20, lamb mortality has become a source of increasing loss. Lambing practices reflect this. Open range lambing is decreasing. Pasture lambing is increasing in favor. Bands of from 500 to 1500 ewes are run in fenced separate meadow pasture. If spring storms are prevalent, shelter sheds are provided The ewes lamb by themselves with little assistance.

Shed lambing is popular, especially when July or August fat lambs are desired. The lambing band is kept in a feed corral or small pasture adjacent to a lambing shed. When a ewe lambs, she and her "green" lamb are taken into the shed to an individual pen or "jug." After a day in the "jug," they are put in a larger pen with others. Gradually, over a period of 3 to 10 days, larger and larger units are merged. From the shed these bunches go out to green pastures or into feed yards until the pasture grows. Under this system of almost complete control, a very high percentage of lambs is saved.

The paddock system of lambing also is receiving favorable attention. Ewes, after they lamb, are transported from the range to the lambing shed by trailer. After a day or two in the shed, a small bunch is made up and turned into a small pasture with a shelter shed. In a day or two, several small bunches are merged and go into a larger pasture. This is repeated until at the end of two weeks or so, the summer bands are assembled.

Federal Airport Plan Slates Almost $70 Million For Texas

WASHINGTON, April 15. (AP)—A billion-dollar plan calling for 2,794 new airports and improvements of another 2,183 was announced today by the Civil Aeronautics administration.

The estimated cost of the plan included $510,600,000 in federal funds and $604,700,000 in state and local funds.

Made public by Civil Aeronautics Administrator D. W. Rentzel, the plan is the 1949 version of an annual three-year forecast required under the 1947 federal aid airport act.

Funds Not Involved

It involves no actual assignment of funds. That is done by the CAA after Congress votes money each fiscal year. In three years, Congress has appropriated a total of $117,500,000 for the airport program. The program is scheduled to run through 1953.

The new plan envisions 24 new and 543 improved airports with runways ranging from 4,500 feet to 9,500. These airports serve domestic trunk airlines and international carriers. CAA said it is giving special attention to building and improving airports for use by scheduled airlines in accordance with recommendations of the presidential and congressional aviation policy boards.

The plan also calls for 165 new and 443 improved class III airports, with 3,500 to 4,500-foot runways; 474 new and 574 improved class II airports, with 2,500 to 3,500-foot runways; 1777 new and 581 improved class I airports, with 1,500 to 2,500-foot runways; 291 new and 40 improved seaplane bases, and 63 new and two improved heliports (for helicopters).

The plan showed that Texas had 554 of the nation's 6,016 civil airports operating last Dec. 31. The new Texas projects will cost approximately $60,873,000, with the federal government supplying $29,080,000 of the total.

Projects Listed

A total of 23 class 5 air port projects, which have landing strips of 5,500-6,500 feet, were listed for Texas.

They included Austin municipal; Jefferson county, Beaumont; Big Spring municipal; Rio Grande valley, Brownsville; Childress AAF; Cliff Maus, Corpus Chhistri; Maverick county, Eagle Pass; Anderson, El Paso; Greater Fort Worth international (Midway); Galveston municipal; Harlingen valley; Hondo municipal; Kingsville Naas; Laredo municipal; Lubbock municipal; Marfa-Alpine; Midland-Odessa; Midland airpark; Sweetwater municipal; Waco municipal; Kell field, Wichita Falls, and Wink municipal.

Also listed were three class 6 fields—Houston, San Antonio and Pecos municipals.

Pecos now is in class 6 with runways 6,500 to 7,500 in length. San Antonio is in class 4 (4,500-5,500), and Houston in class 5.

Mad Hatters Put Bee On The Males

LONDON, April 15 (AP) — Pink Easter bonnets for men! The time has come, say the "mad hatters."

They're a newly-formed British society for the promotion of brighter hats for males.

"We're going to strike a blow for poor, drab Englishmen" founder member Izzy Bonn proclaimed today. He's a well known radio comedian.

"Why shouldn't men wear mad, gay hats? Why should men be submerged by feminine fripperies? Let London's lovelies beware — we'll be there."

CORPUS CHRISTI, April 15. (AP)—Frank Dubravo, 17, senior in the Mathis, Texas, high school, stepped into a deep hole while wading in Lake Corpus Christi and drowned.

His body was recovered about a half hour after the accident about 2:30 p. m. yesterday.

Weepy Films Hurt Matinee Receipts, Says Roz Russell

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, April 15—Hi-ho, Silver, the clothes-horse rides again!

It's Rosalind Russell, who has come out of movie mourning to return to her gay, gussied-up self in "My Next Husband." No more weepers for her, says Roz, and with good reason her film dramas were okay with the critics but death at the box-office.

For her current film, the actress has umpteen splendiferous gowns that would make Electra jump for joy. Roz couldn't be happier.

Matinee Trade Off

"There's no doubt about it," she explained, "the matinee movie trade has fallen off terribly. Women simply aren't going to the movies in the daytime as much as they used to. I think I know the reason for this.

"Women used to love to see fabulous fashions in the films. They liked to drool over the out-of-this-world clothes that were worn by Gloria Swanson and Norma Shearer and Joan Crawford and others.

"Nowadays there are no style leaders in the movies. Since the war, everything has been documentary; life is portrayed as it really is.

Own Lives Dull

"That's why women haven't been going to matinees as much. They don't want to see their own lives on the screen They want to be carried away into another world."

Movie actresses are missing the boat as far as glamor is concerned, Roz indicated.

"The magazines used to carry lots of photos of film queens in lavish gowns. Now the accent is on home layouts, with the star puttering about the kitchen in a peasant dress. But the average girl reader of the magazine has a peasant dress; she wants to see something glamorous."

Ohio Officers Push Hunt For Gunmen Who Kidnaped Police

STEUBENVILLE, O., April 15. (AP)—A hunt for kidnapers of two Weirton, W. Va., policemen centered in southeastern Ohio today after the car the gunmen used was found 23 miles west of here.

The new gray sedan was found on a farm lane near Amsterdam, O., Thursday night. It had been parked there all day, a farmer living nearby told the state highway patrol.

Area Searched

On a 14-hour-old trail, state highway patrolmen and sheriffs of five counties in the vicinity roamed the area all night. Roadblocks were set up at strategic intersections and bridges, but no trace of the two men turned up.

zLt. Allen Rossell and patrolman James Herman of Weirton identified the car as the one in which three men forced them to drive to near Hanoverton, O., Thursday morning. They were left there handcuffed to trees.

The abandoned automobile was checked for fingerprints. In it was a piece of gun holster one of the kidnapers had worn. The highway patrol said the car was stolen in Pennsylvania and equipped with stolen West Virginia plates before the two Weirton policemen were kidnaped.

Rossell and Herman said their kidnpers answered descriptions of gunmen who robbed the National Bank of Follansbee, W. Va., of $5,400 Wednesday morning.

Officers Overpowered

The two policemen were looking for the bank robbers when they picked up the kidnapers on suspicion. En route to the police station the officers were overpowered and driven into Ohio. On the trip, they said, the car stopped and two of the gunmen forced the third gunman to get out because he appeared nervous.

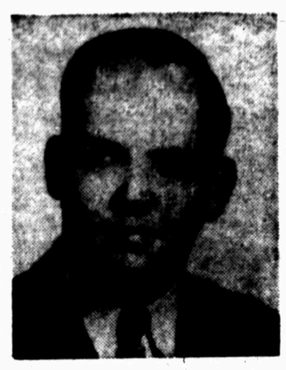

Possibility the other two kidnapers might have been in Dennison, O., Thursday night was raised by the story of a miner who said two gunmen commendered his automobile near there.

(NOTE TO READERS: On Good Friday three years ago, The Plainsman first presented the following column—The Story of the Crucifixion as it would be written today by a newspaper correspondent on the scene. Initial publication attract-d widespread interest and many readers wrote in for extra copies to send friends and for scrapbook purposes. The column was repeated on Good Friday of 1947, and was acted out at both Sunday school and evening worship hours at First Baptist church on last Easter Sunday, the latter enactment being broadcast by Radio Station KFYO. The column is presented again this year as a part of this area's observation of Easter. In writing the original column, The Plainsman availed himself of the technical advice of the Rev. Dr. A. (Special To The Avalanche-Journal)

JERUSALEM, April 15 — Jesus Christ, 33-year-old itinerant evangelist and leader of a new religious group in the Jerusalem-Galilean area, today was executed by crucifixion on Calvary hill, a few miles outside of this city.

Actual site of the execution was Golgotha, a point on Calvary hill to which all condemned persons in this section are taken for crucifixion. Locally, it is known as "the Place of a Skull."

Heavily armed Roman soldiers were in evidence as thousands—including many women — watched the execution, but charges out of which the crucifixion grew were obscured by political unrest. Unprecedented action by Pontius Pilate, Roman governor in this district; by King Herod and highest Roman judicial circles in declining to permit orderly course of law in the case, were believed to have been occasioned by official fear of an uprising should Christ have been found not guilty of violation of statutes prohibiting free speech.

Informed circles here said a regimented minority, under dictation by the Sanhedrin, insisted upon exacting the death penalty against Christ despite the fact that he never urged armed rebellion or violent reaction against constituted authority. Threats of a taxpayers' strike unless extreme action were taken had been heard and approaching elections further affected the carrying out of demands for crucifixion.

Early today Christ was seized by radical groups under protection of the Roman military and forced to walk the several miles between Jerusalem and Calvary hill, carrying the heavy cross upon which he later was nailed. Multitudes, crowding the line of march, shouted jibes, threw stones and other missiles and otherwise resorted to mob violence as the overburdened prisoner staggered along under his burden, tiny rivulets of blood flowing down his face from lacerations caused by a crown of thorns placed upon his head.

THE actual execution lasted for three hours, from noon until 3 p. m., and during most of the time the condemned prisoner maintained silence. Upon seven occasions, he spoke each time briefly and his first word from the cross was such as to command silence even from those who hated him most. That was when he said: "Father, forgive them, for they know not what they do."

Later, after supplication from one of his two companions on the death crosses—a man whose police record is that of a common thief —asked Christ to intercede for him. Christ replied: "Verily, I say unto thee, today thou shalt be with me in Paradise."

Noting the presence in the crowd of his mother, Mary, Christ later intoned; "Mother, behold thy son," adding to a friend, John, who was at the mother's side, "Son, behold thy mother."

Only note of anguish which came from the tortured Christ was in the latter part of the crucifixion. Fixing his eyes aloft, he cried, "My God, my God, why hast Thou forsaken me?" Later, he called, "I thirst," and as a soldier thrust a spear into his side, he said: "It is finished," adding shortly thereafter, before his death, "Father, into Thy hands I commend my spirit."

Throughout the entire incident, during which the baser of human emotions were laid bare for all to see, screams and catcalls from Christ's enemies rang across the barren ground. Members of the body-guard of Governor Pilate appropriated the clothing worn by the condemned man and gambled among themselves for its possession. Many of the soldiers had been drinking.

Atop Christ's cross, in Hebrew, Greek and Latin to enable all of the polyglot population to translate, was an inscription contributed for the occasion by Governor Pilate, himself. It read "Jesus of Nazareth, the King of the Jews" and elicted much ribald comment from the spectators.

IN the crowd, around the crucifixion hill were a few supporters of the cause of the condemned preacher, but presence of armed troopers and thousands of Christ's political enemies made any effort to rescue him impossible of success. The condemned prisoner, himself, apparently opposed any rescue action and his courageous conduct indicated that he had become resigned to his fate.

Peculiar weather conditions, including a mid-day wave of darkness, added to the stark surroundings and draped a weird curtain of wind and cloud about the hilltop upon which Christ's cross was raised between two other crosses. Upon the latter were executed two minor police characters previously found guilty of being chronic law violators.

This city was quiet tonight after completion of the three-ply executions, although soldiers under command of Rome continued to patrol the streets. Rumors that Christ had promised to "return from the dead" within three days after his crucifixion still were heard, but attracted little belief, even from most of his longtime supporters.

The body lies in a vault in Golgotha cemetery and relatives and friends have made no announcement regarding funeral services and interment.

Christ has been a much discussed figure in this area for the past three years, during which he preached upon many occasions to crowds large and small. Credited, at least in much of the public mind, with the power to perform strange miracles, he had become a powerful influence among the people, which brought him the enmity of leaders of the territorial political machine who saw in him an individual around whom opposition likely would rally.

Generally referred to as the son of a one-time carpenter and construction worker in this area, one Joseph, husband of Christ's mother, Mary, the evangelist never-the-less insisted he was the progeny of Diety and that Mary had been divinely chosen to give him birth. He has publicly claimed to be "the Son of God" and his more closely associated followers believe he is such.

Usually mild and gentle, Christ showed several days ago that he was capable of direct action if he believed that essential to driving home his theories. Armed with a quirt, he descended upon Jerusalem Temple and drove therefrom traders and business men who had appropriated the premises for commercial purposes.

CHRIST is admitted here, even by his social, religious and political enemies, to have possessed a striking personality, great persuasiveness and unprecedented forensic ability. In fact, basis for the opposition which led to his crucifixion allegedly stemmed from his ability to arouse in the masses an almost fanatical following.

Spearhead of his organization is a group of twelve men, nearly all from humble surroundings, called "Jesus' Disciples." Several of them witnessed the execution, but only one, John, dared go so near the cross that Christ could see and speak to him. In addition to Mary, John was accompanied by a friend of the family, Mary Magdalene, once a notorious night life figure but, since meeting Christ, said to have changed her ways.

Governor Pilate was not available for comment following the crucifixion, but those close to him said the government expected the execution to end the so-called "Christian movement," which they described as being "inimical to the public interest and to the aims of the totalitarian government at Rome."

BY DREW PEARSON: CONGRESSMEN'S EASTER VACATION REALLY A REFRESHER COURSE

Demo Revolt Rumbles Worry Rayburn, McCormack

WASHINGTON — Despite talk about the boys "needing a rest," real story behind the 10-day Easter recess of the House, beginning today, is that Speaker Sam Rayburn and Majority Leader John McCormack are sending their charges home for a "refresher" course.

PEARSON

Rayburn and McCormick are chiefly concerned over another G. O. P.-Dixie coalition against repeal of the Taft-Hartley labor law, and they think some elbow-rubbing with the folks at home is the best preventive. The strategy applies to Republicans from industrial districts as well as Democrats.

Meantime, local AFL and CIO leaders are planning to give the returning politicos a stiff workout during the 10-day "vacation."

Rayburn and McCormick are keenly aware that the Taft-Hartley vote will be a crucial test they can't afford to lose, if they are to keep northern city Democrats in line on other administration measures. Ever since the G.O.P.-Dixie coalition against rent control, there has been talk of a northern "revolt," or a coalition-in-reverse, in which northern Democrats would gang up with Republicans to block southern farm bills.

RUMBLES OF REVOLT

At a dinner meeting with north and south freshmen Democrats last week, Rayburn and McCormick heard increasing rumbles of "retaliation" against southern coalitionists. This wasn't all cloakroom whispers. Quite a number of big-city Democrats, who believe in carrying out Truman campaign promises, have spoken out openly.

Among them are freshmen Democrats Anthony Tauriello of Buffalo, N. Y., and Earl Wagner of Cincinnati, who angrily told McCormick the time had come to "stop appeasing and start hitting back" at southern opponents of the fair deal program.

"I've had enough," bluntly asserted Tauriello. "I was elected on the Truman program, and I believe in the whole program. I'm tired of seeing the program delayed undermined by members of my own party. A lot of us think it's time to start retaliating."

At the dinner, Rayburn and McCormack made strong pleas for harmony. Since then the grumbling has somewhat subsided.

OREGON'S bushy-browed Senator Wayne Morse, considered publicans, nevertheless has a strong though secret following in Congress.

This group not only takes its political cues from Morse, but is quietly boosting him for the vice presidency in 1952. He is the only Republican, they feel, who can take votes away from the Democrats in their greatest stronghold—labor.

Leaders of the Morse movement include such congressmen as John Phillips of California, H. R. Gross of Iowa and James Golden of Kentucky—all progressive Republicans. Morse, himself, didn't learn of their support until he was invited to talk off-the-record the other day before a gathering of about 20 Republican congressmen.

With characteristic bluntness, Morse tore into the ills of the Republican party.

"This coalition with the southern Democrats is costly," he thundered. "We are now labled the anti-human rights party."

The Oregon senator went on to denounce his party's leadership. "I speak only of the Senate," a black sheep by old guard Rehe declared, "but in the Senate, we have a few who hold policy meetings. The rest of us read about it next morning in the papers and are called together at 10 o'clock to confirm it."

He accused G.O.P. leaders in Congress of playing turtle during the last election.

"It wasn't Dewey's job to defend the 80th Congress," said Morse. "It was up to our top leaders in Congress. A lot of them suffered political laryngitis."

As for the G.O.P. stand on labor, Morse snorted: "We've got an anti-labor label on our party, and we'll keep it until we liberalize the Taft-Hartley law.

"Why," he added, "the payment of $7,500 for drafting the Taft-Hartley law is a subject of discussion in every local union in America."

Merry-Go-Round

Illinois Congressman Harold Velde, who replaced Everett Dirksen in Washington, is quietly making good. One of the first things he did after election was to sit down with labor groups who opposed him and offer cooperation. . . Credit Representatives Jackson of Washington, Mansfield of Montana and Kirwan of Ohio—all Democrats — with doing a great job in defeating the private power lobby during debate on the reclamation program.

Bill Rogers, dynamic counsel for the Senate expenditures committee, is a Republican. But he chalked up such a good record with both Republicans and Democrats that Democratic senators insisted he remain as mainspring of the committee. . . Toledo, O., may be a typically American city, but it turned out more art admirers per capita than any other city in the U.S.A. to see the German masterpieces captured by the U. S. Army. Toledo also did a great job in sending democracy letters to Italy—largely inspired by live-wire Mayor Mike Di Salle.

VICE PRESIDENT Alben Barkley brought down the House with this story at President Truman's "harmony" dinner with freshmen congressional Democrats. Here is the Barkley story:

A minister sermonizing to his flock on the virtues of friendship inquired if there were any members of the congregation who could honestly say they had no enemies. An aged man with a long beard arose in the rear of the church.

"Ah, I am glad to see that there is at least one among us who can answer my question," beamed the minister. "How old are you, sir?"

"One hundred and four years."

"That's truly remarkable," said the reverend. "Do you mind telling us how you have managed to be without enemies in such a long life span?"

"Because," said the old man, "I outlived them all."

"Consarn Yuh, Quit That Balkin'!"

BY RUTH MILLETT: TO THE LADIES

The Feminine Viewpoint

"WOMEN ARE forever being told how important it is for them to 'keep up with their husbands.' I'd like to know just what those words actually mean," writes a young woman who has been married less than a year.

Advising a woman to "keep up with her husband" is rather vague. So let's talk about some ways in which it is important for her to "keep up."

MILLETT

One. She should keep up with his ambition. A woman sometimes holds a man back because she likes the pattern of her life as it is, and doesn't want to see it changed. A better opportunity for him may not look better to her, if it means moving away from family and friends, or leaving a home she loves, to make a start in a new place.

Two. She should keep up with him socially. The sociable, attractive, successful man with a mousey little wife is a twosome everybody knows, and about whom most people say sooner or later, "I wonder why he married HER."

Three. She should keep up with his career. That doesn't mean, of course, that she is supposed to have his technical knowledge. It does mean that she should try to understand enough about his work so that she realizes what he is trying to do, has some idea of the success he may attain, and can discuss his work with him.

Four. She should be able to share at least some of his outside interests. There's not much companionship in a marriage if a woman refuses to share her husband's leisure time activities, for few men make the effort to learn to enjoy doing the things their wives like to do.

MAINTAIN OWN INTERESTS

FIVE. SHE should have some interests of her own, so that she continue to enrich her own personality through the years. When a woman stops thinking for herself and having some life of her own, she starts to lag behind her husband.

Six. She should stay physically attractive. She can no more afford to let herself go than a career woman can, for just as a career woman must be a credit to her employer, a wife should realize it is her duty to be a credit to her husband.

Seven. She should keep up with her husband's need to get some fun out of life. The wife who keeps up with her husband on this point should not only be willing to join in his plans, but should make an effort, herself, to keep their life together from slipping into a monotonous routine.

"Try And Stop Me"

A DIPLOMATIC publisher complimented a socialite from Richmond on her splendid appearance and added, "Do you feel as well as you look?" She answered, "There are only two things the matter with me: Dandruff and a badly spoiled stomach." "Aren't you lucky," commented the publisher, "that only one shows."

The lady reported the conversation faithfully to her husband a moment later. He nodded slowly and asked, "Honey, did you have your hat on at the time?"

"Goldfish Bowl" Houses Draw Ire Of Man Seeking Privacy

NEW YORK, April 15. — The whole postwar trend in popular housing seems to have reversed the original concept of man's castle — namely, a place to come in out of the rain, where a man can beat his wife in blessed privacy.

RUARK

A close inspection of the journals devoted to modern shelter will convince you that the current creed espouses the open-faced goldfish bowl, with everything but the bathroom either al fresco or sheated in glass. It is practically against modern architectural law to install anything inside that can be located in the yard.

If they cannot get you out of the house into the yard, then they fetch the yard inside the house, so that corn now grows in what used to be the parlor, and rattlesnakes and rabbits romp happily with the hearthside kitten.

Florida, California Blamed

We have the states of Florida and California—notably the latter—to blame for the modern assumption that a house must have three glass sides and a roll-back roof to be up to date in the wigwam league. This rather broad error in judgment was predicated on the assumption that both states enjoyed such blithesome weather that you could spend 24 hours a day frolicking in it. This ain't necessarily so.

I admire a certain amount of communion with nature, but a steady diet of it is apt to irk. Every so often a man craves the snugness of four walls, with the curtains drawn and the roof nailed solidly to the joists, or whatever it is you nail a roof to.

As for these indoor, roofless gardens, full of flowers, birds and bugs, I never saw the necessity for 'em. The least you can demand of a garden is to stay outside where it belongs.

Occasional Picnic Fun

ALONG the same lines, an occasional picnic is fun, but I have noticed that the people who live in these transparent houses seem unable to cook on stoves. Unless the meal is burnt in a barbecue pit and served with a liberal sprinkling of ants, the hostess seems to feel that she has failed in her hospitality.

This kind of outdoor cuisine also breeds a type of man who is miserable unless he is wearing a chef's hat and discoursing endlessly on his special receipe for barbecue sauce. I don't mind eating the stuff occasionally, but I hate lectures on it. It all tastes alike, anyhow, and you can buy it by the bottleful in any store, without the sermon.

One of these open-air pagodas may be practical for the rich man who owns a mountain, a lake or a slice of ocean-frontage on which to feast the eyes but they are a little too all-revealing for the proprietor of the half-acre plot in a crowded neighborhood.

You feel like somebody is looking over your shoulder all the time. Strangers saunter by and stare interestedly at your television program, comment on your wife's taste in furniture, husbands and children, and provide a constant view of their own dreary domestic doings.

Damage Suits Seen

If you have the kind of friends I have, entertaining them in such a wickiup is fraught with nervousness over the ever-present threat of damage suits. My acquaintances are of the type who walk through glass walls, who stumble over fountains, and fall into swimming pools situated too close to the door. They crisp themselves on barbecues, and contract pneumonia in the open air.

These sliding panels and removable walls are not altogether practical for a nervous man, either. It is disconcerting to come home and find the dining room full of migrating geese, and with the living room shifted to the other side of the house. I like a house to stay put. If there's fidgeting to be done, I'll do it.

I hope to live in a house again some day, and when I do it'll have four walls and non-shifting rooms in it. Flowers and animals will flourish outside, if at all. Glass will be used sparingly, and the roof will not roll back. Way I figure, a man wants to live out doors all the time, well, why build a house at all? A vacant lot and a sleeping bag is all he needs.

Today's Thought

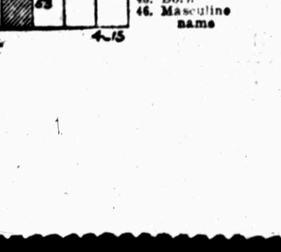

A man that beareth false witness against his neighbor is a maul, and a sword, and a sharp arrow.—Proverbs 25:18.

Reproach is infinite, and knows no end
So voluable a weapon is the tongue;
Wounded, we wound; and neither side can fail,
For every man has equal strength to rail.

ECONOMIC COLLAPSE UNLIMITED

The idea of the universal co-operative, suggested anew this week by Murray D. Lincoln, president of the Co-operative League of the U. S., is not new. Many visionaries have preached that Utopia would result from a system under which everyone could buy everything at cost, with no margins for profit anywhere along the line between producers and consumers.

But the visionaries never answer several questions convincingly. What would happen to the millions of jobs represented by the profit system? Who would pay taxes? Co-operatives don't pay them. They cripple or destroy competing private businesses which do. Yet no one pretends co-operatives would eliminate taxes. On the contrary, most such agencies owe their existence and/or survival to support received from tax funds.

Co-operatives as yet haven't done much harm because they are relatively few. Others have been able to absorb the taxes co-operatives escaped because the total is relatively small. But the thought of a nation of co-operatives arouses the frightening spectres of joblessness on a scale impossible to imagine and the operation of the agencies by a government which is notorious for its inefficiencies and extravagances.

Council Finds Man Owns Paved Street

DES MOINES, April 15. (AP)—A Des Moines insurance man is the proud owner of a section of paved city street, just a year old.

A dismayed city council discovered one half of a four-block section of paving is on property Lester W. Basham bought in a 1933 tax sale.

Basham's attorney said Basham could "build a fence completely around the street if he wanted to."

Reds Slowly Lose Ground In Anti-ERP Propaganda Battle

By DANIEL De LUCE

PARIS, April 15 (AP)—Soviet Russia is unintentionally helping to popularize the European Recovery Program in western countries.

Red accusations that ERP's multi-billion dollar aid is an American trap to enslave Europe ring hollowly as evidence piles up to the contrary.

Moscow propaganda works on the recent Goebbels theory that if you repeat something often enough, people will believe it. It disregards a principle stated a century ago by an American: You can't fool all of the people all of the time.

Newsman Heads Staff

ERP's own publicity—or to use the official term, information—is directed in 19 participating areas by a staff headed by Alfred H. Friendly, veteran reporter on leave of absence from the Washington Post.

The staff, about 55 Americans and 20 Europeans, is scattered over the continent. It is part of the Economic Cooperation Administration, a streamlined American governmental agency in charge of ERP.

The ECA information budget in Europe is barely $500,000 a year.

Friendly, who gets along on his budget without asking for more, estimates that Communist parties in western Europe probably spend 20 times as much on denouncing the ERP, as is spent by all other sources in defending it.

Coverage Hard

Favorable newspaper coverage is fragmentary at best. ERP involves knotty questions of trade, production, finance and international economics. Reducing these to ABC for the average reader is a never-ending problem.

Special pamphlets and films in ECA's opinion, help to meet this lack.

A handicap for ECA information men is that the ogirinal title of the recovery program—the Marshall Plan — was formally shelved. Marshall, of itself, was a name with loads of personal and historic significance.

In its place are alphabetical combinations: ERP, ECA and OEEC, the latter standing for Organization for European Economic Cooperation, in which 19 participant governments confer.

"How could anyone cheer for OEEC?" one European premier has asked. "I can't even pronounce it without stuttering."

A greater handicap for ECA information men is that ERP aid is split into many indirect forms, including remote banking operations. Its effects are widely diffused and correspondingly difficult for the average European to measure.

As ECA sees it, the primary purpose of ERP information is not to stimulate European flattery of the United States. It is to encourage enthusiastic support by 270,000,000 Europeans for ERP projects and policies in the common welfare.

Second guessing, it appears that Soviet strategists made the mistake of overplaying their hand in opposing the goal of an economically healthy western Europe.

Communist propaganda still screams that ERP means war. But after a year of watching it in operation, thoughtful Europeans add: ERP means that if there is a war, the west will win it.

School Group To Receive Plan For Driver Education

AUSTIN, April 15 (AP) — A year from now some Texas high school student may be picked state champion automobile driver.

When delegates of the Interscholastic league meet May 7 for their annual business session, they will be presented a plan for sponsoring driver education and training contests.

Working with the league on the driving contest proposal are the Texas Safety association, and the Department of Public Safety. Both groups also help the State Department of Education in its teaching of driver education and training classes in public schools. More than 400 Texas schools have courses in driving.

Expert Denounces DDT Use In Dairy

COLLEGE STATION, April 15 (Special)—Texas dairymen are warned not to use DDT for insect control. The warning comes from G. G. Gibson, extension dairy husbandman of Texas A. & M. College, who adds that small amounts of DDT in a food such as milk might prove harmful in time.

And the presence of DDT in milk goes strictly against the grain with the Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act.

Dairy animals or livestock being finished for slaughter should not be fed forage treated with DDT or other chemicals in the same class, he cautioned.

It's a different matter when it comes to fly control in and around farm buildings. DDT is all right for this. So is chlordane and BHC. But methoxychlor is the one recommended for use around dary barns where milk is being processed.

Even better than chemical sprays, Gibson suggests that dairymen get to the bottom of the fly situation with proper clean-up and other sanitation measures.

City Plans Early Improvement Of Street Lighting System

Extension For City Limits Also Is Due

Plans for an early start toward improving the Lubbock street lighting system were made Thursday afternoon at the semi-monthly meeting of the city commission which gave initial approval of one extension of the city limits and took another under advisement.

City Manager Steve Matthews said some of the equipment needed for extension of the lighted areas has been received. Some of the remainder has been ordered with early delivery expected.

The general plan, he said, is to start the installations of the lights available at once, and to continue the work as long as materials are available.

Survey To Be Made

Meanwhile, he reported, a complete survey will be made to determine all needs so that a systematic program can be adopted which will make Lubbock a well-lighted city. He predicted that much progress toward this goal will be made before the end of the summer.

Immediately available, the commission was told, are the parts for about 300 lights. These will be suspended from wooden poles and will be installed first. They will be distributed so that all residential areas will receive some of the benefits of the added illumination.

In addition, he said, most of the fixtures are on hand for about 500 lights which are to be suspended from arched metal standards. The delayed delivery of the metal pipe to be used in fabricating the fixtures is holding up this work. The material has been on order nearly two years and Matthews said he is attempting to hasten deliveries.

Lighting Program Supported

Most of these will be placed on highways through the city and on boulevards and more heavily traveled thoroughfares.

The commission is without any exact estimate of needs to do a complete job of lighting the city. Guesses of minimum needs range from 1,000 to 2,000 lights in addition to those on hand and ordered.

Mayor W. H. Rodgers and Commissioners E. K. Hufstedler and Clarence Whiteside voiced their support of whatever program is needed to provide lighting adequate for Lubbock. Commissioners John Spikes and W. B. Price were absent from the city and did not attend the meeting, but are known to share the view of the other members.

Much, if not most, of the money needed for whatever program is undertaken is available from bonds voted in 1945. Any additional funds will have to come out of current revenues.

Annexation Ordinance Approved

First steps toward extension of the city limits to include the Mc-Millan Heights addition, in northwest Lubbock, were taken when the commission approved publication of an ordinance providing for the annexation. The addition embraces about 11 blocks bounded on the south by Maple street, the north by North Fourth, the east by Van Buren avenue and the west by Tyler avenue.

The ordinance cannot be considered for action until 30 days after publication. A public hearing must be held before final action can be taken. The hearing probably will be held in late May or early June.

The commission also received a petition requesting a north and northeastward extension of the city boundaries to include the Country Club and the Clayton-Carter additions. It was taken under advisement for further study, but with expressed doubts as to whether the annexation is practical at this time.

Paving Work Ordered

Other business transacted at the meeting was routine.

City Engineer R. L. Oldham was directed to proceed as rapidly as he can with the provision of all new paving which is requested and which complies with the financial and other requirements governing such improvements. He estimated that requests for nearly 100 blocks have been received during the past few weeks.

No forecast was attempted as to when the improvements might be started and completed, although some will be done during the approaching summer, the commission was told. Some of it will be done under contract and some by city crews.

Truman Green, electric department superintendent, was authorized to make provision in his departmental budget for increases in the wages of linemen to match those paid by the Southwestern Public Service Co. for similar work. Green said the increase will be about 10 cents an hour, to $1.75, in the wages of 10 to 14 linemen.

Resolution Approved

The commission approved a resolution, already enacted by the county commissioners' court creating a joint airport board to regulate building zoning in the vicinity of the Municipal airport. The county's representatives on the board are Robert Bean and Ernest Exum. The city's are Ray Hinchey and Bob Walker. Bean, Hinchey and Walker are members of the city airport board.

City Attorney Vaughn Wilson was directed to proceed with efforts to collect delinquent city taxes of all kinds, and to file suits when other methods of collection fail.

Ordinances passed on second reading included one authorizing

Meeting Asked On Courthouse

Seven members of the City Planning commission, meeting in monthly session last night in City hall, passed two resolutions important from the standpoints of orderly and uniform city progress.

In addition, members approved two zone change requests, shelved a third such request for additional study by the zoning sub-committee, and approved a number of plats.

The first resolution, made by Chas. A. Guy, and seconded by W. L. Bradshaw, provided "that the City Planning commission address a letter to the Lubbock county commissioners, seeking a joint meeting to discuss plans of the county commissioners to construct a new county courthouse." The motion was passed unanimously.

Second Resolution Offered

The second resolution was made by J. D. Hassell, jr., to the effect "that the intent and desire on the part of the City commission to enforce zoning ordinances as expressed by the majority of the City commissioners at the joint meeting held with the City Planning commission March 16, 1949, be commended by the Planning commission and that such enforcement by proper authorities be put into effect without delay."

The resolution was passed with an amendment by Homer D. Grant, recommending "that action be taken on a previous resolution by the City Planning commission which would limit servants quarters to 288 square feet."

Strict Enforcement Urged

The latter resolution was passed after members recognized the necessity for strict enforcement of existing zoning laws. They pointed out that although most local citizens abide by the zoning laws and forego construction which does not meet the specifications therein, others have disregarded the laws. Hence, strict enforcement of the zoning ordinances was felt necessary in order to protect those who conform to the ordinances.

After reports from the zoning subcommittee, members approved a zone change request from J. H. Walker, jr., asking that the present "F" (local retail) zone in block 42, Wheelock's second addition, be extended to include all of the west one-half of block 42.

Also approved was a request from A. J. Richardson to re-zone lots 16, 17, and 18, Easley subdivision of block 31, Roberts and McWhorter, to allow construction and operation of a wholesale and retail plumbing business. The property was changed to a "G" (business) zone.

Shelved for further study was the request of Minnie B. Sanders for a zone change to allow con-

THE QUESTION

From your own experience in vacationing, what is one piece of advice you would offer to anyone planning a vacation?

THE ANSWERS

JOE ED SWEATT, Lubbock route 3, landscaping helper: "Be extra careful in driving. Try to pick something that will keep you interested. Don't go somewhere that wouldn't interest you. Think it over in advance so your vacation won't be wasted."

EARL HUNT, 2318 Twenty-eighth, general agent of American Life Insurance Co.: "I would suggest that they not try to cover too much territory in one trip, but take their time and enjoy the scenery and pastimes that are available."

MRS. JAMES W. TOWNSEND, Petersburg route 1, housewife: "I know a lot of things I wouldn't do. I wouldn't take my children near water. Take a first aid kit along if you have children in case of snake bites or other things."

B. R. DIXON, special agent, hail department of Great American Insurance Co.: "Forget everything and have a good time. That's the best way."

MRS. E. C. CALDWELL, Littlefield, clerk at Rutherford & Co.: Do something different from what they are used to doing. That's the only kind of vacation that really helps."

ARVOL HAYS, 4620 Ave. P, solicitor for Lubbock Insurance agency: "I would say plan your vacation and allow plenty of time to avoid rushing during your trip. After all, the purpose of a vacation is pleasure and to get away from the daily routine of life."

NOT FUNNY TO THEM

DENVER (U.P.)—The district attorney's office and the morals bureau are working to apprehend a couple of Denverites. One has been passing worthless checks, signing them "Keating" and "Schmidt," the names of the D. A. and his deputy. The other stole up to the morals bureau office and hung a sign over the door. It read: "Pyramid Club Headquarters."

DIDN'T TAKE LONG

CHICAGO (U.P.)—Mrs. Pauline Fohn told police she was away from her home visiting a neighbor for only 15 minutes, but during that time burglars stole a $4,000 mink coat, a $3,500 mink cape, $105 in cash and a $1,900 check.

PLAINVIEW, April 15—Today has been designated as Holstein day at the Panhandle-Plains Dairy show and judging of entries was the feature of this morning's events.

Two auctions were to be started at 1 p. m. The Holstein-Friesian class was to be auctioned in the arena and a special tent was erected in which milking shorthorns were knocked down to highest bidders.

Thursday was official Milking Shorthorn day at the show. This breed was second only to Jerseys in the number of entries with more than 170 registered bulls, cows and calves being shown.

Won In 1945, 1947

The Lewis brothers are exhibitors of long experience who have won twice before at the Panhandle-Plains show. They had the grand champion in 1945 and again in 1947. The winner Thursday was an all white cow six years old.

The grand champion bull was Don Acres Improver owned by Harry Rothwell, Dimmitt. This shorthorn bull was four years old and roan in color. It weighed well above 2,000 pounds. According to Dr. C. E. Donnell, who has missed few dairy shows on the plains, the purple ribbon winner was the third grand champion bred on the Don Acres farm near Canyon. Reeves Donnell is operator of the farm.

Frank F. Weil, Hale Center dairyman, was superintendent of the milking shorthorn division and was assisted by Marion Bruce, Amarillo dairyman. Richard V. Keim, president of the Idaho Milking Shorthorn Breeders association, Nampa, Idaho, was judge.

For the second straight day of the week long show the arena and grandstand were filled with spectators and prospective buyers. Many were looking over the judging which included some of the 40-odd animals that will be offered for sale Friday at auction.

Officers Chosen

At a banquet for all breeders Wednesday night new officers were chosen to guide the destinies of the Panhandle-Plains Dairy show next year. Chosen as president was T. G. Herring, sr., Crosbyton. Herring is a well known cattleman of many years experience and has been interested in the show for a long time. Leo Witkowski, Happy, was named vice-president and Raymond Lee Johns was re-elected secretary-manager.

The board of directors will include: Clifford Throckmorton,

"ACT OF NATURE," JURY DECIDES

G. K. Horton Winner In Suit Involving Blowing Of Land

An "act of nature" — severe sandstorms — caused damage to Charlie Hoover's Deaf Smith county wheat farm in 1945-47 not G. K. Horton's farming methods on adjacent land, a 99th court jury decided here Thursday night.

Reporting to Judge G. V Pardue at 8:10 p. m., the jury answered issues interpreted "straight down the line for Horton," and denied Hoover any financial recovery asked as damages to his fences and crops.

Horton, the jury found, "while exercising dominion over the land adjacent to plaintiff's land" did not make such "unreasonable use of such land as to be contrary to good farming practices in Deaf Smith county, thereby causing the blowing of soil from his said land onto the land of the plaintiff."

The jury declined to award any money to Hoover for damage to fences and growing wheat by sand which blew onto his land from the direction of the Horton farm.

As a matter of fact, answers to special issues continued, sand or dirt from other property than that of Horton blew onto the Hoover farm in 1945 through 1947 and constituted a proximate cause of damage to the plaintiff's wheat and fences.

Jury Deliberates Hour

It also answered that plaintiff's permitting tumble weeds or other vegetable growth to collect in and about his fences was a proximate cause of the damages to such fences.

The jury's verdict was signed by W. M. Ryan as foreman. The jury received the case at 6 p. m. and deliberated approximately an hour after going to dinner.

Avery Facing Fight To Retain Top Post At Montgomery Ward

CHICAGO, April 15. (AP)—Sewell L. Avery, key man in the recent wholesale changes in executives at Montgomery Ward and company, appeared headed for a showdown fight to retain his post as top boss of the big merchandising firm.

The newest battle confronting the 74-year-old chairman and director is expected at the annual stockholders meeting next Friday.

But Avery is no newcomer to fights at Montgomery Ward. And there appeared no indication that he would be defeated in his bid for re-election as a director, despite the current upheaval in his top management group.

During the war he stubbornly resisted government attempts to take over the huge Chicago plant. He lost that fight But he didn't give the government possession of his office until two soldiers carried him through the plant and deposited him on the sidewalk in front of the main entrance.

New Officers Named

Apparently in preparation for the stockholders meeting the company yesterday installed a new group of eight vice presidents to replace some of the officials who have quit in the current management blow-up. They were named by the company's executive committee, which includes Avery and four other directors.

The eight are veterans in the company organization. Three were already officers of the company, holding the positions of secretary, treasurer, and controller. The added titles do not change their duties. No president was named to replace Wilbur Norton who resigned last summer.

Avery told a reporter, in commenting on the recent resignation of officials—including four vice presidents since last Saturday—that the company has rid itself of the "very real conspiracy we have had.

"It has been cleaned out," he said. "The new people we have elected are capable high grade men. There should be nothing puzzling or confusing about the recent events. I am completely satisfied with our new group of people who have proven themselves."

Stockholders Informed

Naming of the vice presidents, it was reported in financial circles, was in the way of an answer to a demand by a large stockholder for an explanation of the recent disturbances in the company's top management. The request was by the Wellington Fund, a Philadelphia investment firm, which owns 8,000 shares of Ward's stock. It said it had not as yet voted for the Avery slate of directors.

The company's largest stockholders, Massachusetts, Investors trust, earlier had served notice it would vote its 104,000 for the re-election of three board members, but would pass Avery.

There was talk in financial circles that some firms holding large shares are disturbed by recent events and are considering a change of policy. But there appeared nothing to indicate other Ward directors would turn against Avery.

Sales of the company, the nation's second largest retail merchandising firm, were more than a billion dollars last year and earnings were a record $68,000,000. The man primarily responsible for this financial condition, say financial sources, it Avery.

SPONSORS' DRIVE UNDER WAY—Members of the Lubbock Exchange club are contacting Lubbock business firms and organizations this week and next in an effort to secure sponsors for every boy who runs in the second annual Lubbock Soap Box Derby, Monday, July 4. In the picture above, J. C. Sanders, seated, owner of Lubbock Tailoring company, is shown handing his check to Bill Bartley, Derby director, as Joe Holmes, standing left, and Glenn Woody, right, members of the sponsors' committee look on. Each sponsor pays a fee of $17.50, which provides a boy with a wheel and axle set and steering gear apparatus. The boy's racer will bear the sponsor's name as it rolls down the hill in Mackenzie State park on the day of the big race. (Staff Photo).

Russians Say Atlantic Pact 'Hypocrisy' In U.N. Debate

NEW YORK, April 15. (AP)—A final Russian charge of "hypocrisy" flung at the western powers wound up Thursday night the first round of the battle over the North Atlantic pact in the United Nations assembly.

Some delegates said they hoped that finished the fight for this session of the assembly but others expressed belief the Russians would find an excuse to attack the North Atlantic pact again. The assembly is expected to run at least a month longer.

Warren R. Austin, United States chief delegate, told the assembly the North Atlantic pact is not aggressive; that the United States "abhors" war and does not want war with anyone.

Waited 24 Hours

Austin had waited more than 24 hours through a long and weary round of speeches for a chance to answer the initial blast at the pact launched Wednesday by Andrei A. Gromyko, Soviet deputy foreign minister.

Gromyko waited until Austin finished and then was recognized for a short reply to the American. He said Austin's speech concerning the defensive character of the pact was "thoroughly hypocritical and false."

Gromyko said the truth about the purposes of the pact would be found in speeches by American political leaders instead of by "pompous phrases about the struggle for peace and security."

He pointed to a recent speech by Rep. Clarence Cannon (D-Mo) about the need for a quick attack in the event of a war with Russia, and by other such statements published in U. S. newspapers as examples of purposes of the pact.

Gromyko said, finally, that the statements made by Austin and by Hector McNeil, British minister of state, in the assembly "are nothing but empty words."

McNeil challenged Gromyko Thursday to file a complaint against the North Atlantic pact if he felt it violated the U. N. charter.

The assembly adjourned at 11:17 p. m. (EST). The U. N. will not have major meetings until Monday because of the Easter holidays.

MEET THE MANAGER—Joseph H. Thomas, manager of Jones-Roberts Shoe store, was born March 21, 1916, at Texarkana, Texas. He was educated there and graduated from Texarkana High school. In 1933 he started in the shoe business there as a salesman and stock clerk. In 1936 he went to Rodessa, La., as manager of a shoe department in a department store there. July 1, 1937, he moved to Henderson, Texas, as manager of a shoe store there. Then he went to Tyler in August, 1938, enrolling in business college and working part time. In February, 1939 he went back to Texarkana to manage a shoe store, this time becoming office manager and and assisting in buying and accounting. In February, 1942, he joined the Army, later going to OCS and receiving a commission. His duty was at various points in the United States before he was released as a first lieutenant after four years and two months service. He returned to Texarkana to work for a while, then in April, 1948, accepted a job in St. Louis as merchandise manager of shoes for a group of department stores. He came to Lubbock as manager of Jones-Roberts in January of this year. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas live at 1715 Twenty-eighth. (Staff Photo).

Houston SPCA Threatens To File Charge Against Man Who Put Chicken In Bottle

HOUSTON, April 15. (U.P.)—The Anti-cruelty people threatened a lawsuit today to get Alice the chicken out of the bottle she calls home.

Alice has lived in the five-gallon glass jug almost since the day she pecked her way out of an egg.

But Mrs. C. E. Appleby, superintendent of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, said Alice's confinement is "sheer cruelty" and threatened to file suit against her owner, Clyde Roco.

Experiment Claimed

Roco, a grain dealer, slipped Alice into the jug last Feb. 28 when she still was so young no one knew for sure whether she was Alice or Albert. It was an experiment to prove a chicken thrives on good feed and a minimum of exercise.

When the SPCA heard of it, W. S. Poe went to interview Roco. He beat a hasty retreat after stumbling over loose potatoes strewn over the grain store floor.

Thursday Poe went back, but Roco's employes played keep away — basketball fashion—with Alice and her bottle until the SPCA man went away empty handed.

Last night the SPCA said it would file suit.

"Gone Far Enough"

Mrs. Appleby said "This thing has gone beyond the experimental stage and we'll take the chicken out of the bottle and hold it at the shelter until this is settled."

Roco said the experiment already was a success. Alice, a six-week-old speckle-feathered Dominecker pullet, weighed 2¼ pounds. The grain dealer said she was a superior bird because of her upbringing.

Meanwhile, his attorney's thumbed through law books to determine whether, in the eyes of the law, a chicken is an animal.

Pakistan is reported critically short of cloth.

At last night's meeting, K. N. Clapp, W. L. Bradshaw, and C. J. Griggs, members, gave highlights of the National Citizens' Conference on Community Planning, which they attended in Oklahoma City March 27-30. Briefly they reported on conference sessions dealing with parking, public transportation, location of public buildings, and zoning, and contrasted methods other cities have of dealing with these matters with methods used in Lubbock. They pointed out that conference leaders stressed the importance of co-operation of citizens in community planning.

Members attending last night's meeting were K. N. Clapp, chairman; Homer D. Grant, W. L. Bradshaw, Chas. A. Guy, J. D. Hassell, jr., J. H. Murdough, and C. J. Griggs.

Land Suit

utes to the side, commenced at 3:30 p. m., after Judge Pardue had read his charge to the jury.

James Witherspoon, Hereford attorney, opened argumen's for the plaintiff, followed by George McCleskey and G. H. Nelson of the defense and George Dupree who closed for the plaintiff.

Nelson told the jury that a verdict for Hoover would mean "there aren't enough courthouses in Texas to take care of the blowing sand cases that will be filed from here out."

The case, so far as the facts outlined to the jury are concerned, has no precedent in American jurisprudence, attorneys said.

It got under way Monday with the selection of a jury, and was particularly hard fought throughout.

The action was transferred to Lubbock county on a plea of privilege granted by the Deaf Smith district court and affirmed on appeal to the Amarillo court of appeals, court officials said.

GLITTER GALLERY—Barbara Brown, left, and another model, who calls herself simply Carmen, provide the ornamental background for two of the world's most fabulous gems. Barbara wears the famed 44½-carat Hope Diamond, while Carmen's necklace is the blue-white 100-carat Star of the East. The stones were purchased from the late Evalyn Walsh McLean's collection by New York jeweler Harry Winston.

New York Dressmaker Spurns Hat For 1949 Easter Parade

By BARBARA BUNDSCHU
United Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, April 15 — New York's high society dressmaker said today she would carry her Easter flowers in her handbag next Sunday, and she won't wear a hat.

"I don't have a hat," said Carrie Munn, who puts off her custom dressmaking business after hours to become Mrs. Orson D. Munn of Park Avenue and the social register.

"My hairdo is too important," she said. "I haven't had a hat since I started wearing it this way —must be three or four years."

Will Wear Black Velvet

For church-going propriety, Mrs. Munn will wear, as usual, a three-inch braided crown of black velvet, partly under and partly over her high piled bright blonde curls.

She'll dress that up with a bit of veiling tucked under the braid to fall over her forehead.

"My hair is very different and dramatic, if I do say so myself," she said. "And I can't take it off and put on the bureau. And I look grotesque in a hat. It makes my head too big."

Mrs. Munn said her thick blonde hair falls just below her shoulders when she lets it. She describes the hair-do as a sort of "exaggerated Psyche, off the crown with the curls falling all around to the back."

Suit Is Black

Below the hair, she'll wear a black faille bolero suit with a white organdy blouse trimmed with green bows, black gloves, black shoes, a sable stole and the handbag—with the flowers in it.

The bag is Mrs. Munn's patented invention and long-time trademark—a gold-trimmed transparent lucite box. Inside, on Sunday, she'll carry "lovely little white enamel things with flowers on them."

No real flowers, she said.

"I'll look fancy enough, don't you think?"

Money Pours In For Well Rescue Diggers

SAN MARINO, Calif., April 15 (AP)—The men who dug for little Kathy Fiscus are being well remembered.

More than 2,200 letters have been received by the Kathy Fiscus Rescue Fund from virtually every state in the union. Mayor Clark E. Bell, chairman of the fund committee, said the first 200 envelopes opened contained about $1,020, an average contribution of $5.10.

If the average continues, it will mean a total of more than $11,000 for the men who worked 52 hours to reach the three-year-old tot who fell to her death down an abandoned well.

LILA LEEDS INJURED

HOLLYWOOD, April 15 (AP) — Actress Lila Leeds, who co-starred with Robert Mitchum in that famous marijuana melodrama, is in a hospital today suffering from shock, bruises and a broken right arm received in a collision of two expensive cars.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., April 15. (AP)—John Crivelli, Paterson, (N.J.) Evening News photographer, was announced today as 1948 winner in the Associated Press national contest for excellence in news photography.

The announcement was made by William P. Steven of the Minneapolis Tribune, president of the Associated Press Managing Editors' association which conducts the contest. It is limited to photos produced by AP member newspapers.

Crivelli's photo, "Study In Agony," shows a 15-year-old boy, his face contorted with pain, as a doctor strives to dislodge his hand from a metal fence, a picket of which has pierced the lad's finger.

First Prize $100

The winning picture, which was transmitted by AP wirephoto on Jan. 8, 1948, received 28 points out of a possible 30. It was chosen for first place by two judges and for third by the other.

Crivelli will receive a $100 cash prize and a photograph of a silver and oak plaque bearing his and previous winners' names. The plaque is kept on permanent exhibit in AP general headquarters in New York.

Second place went to "Parade" by Barney Cowherd of the Louisville Courier-Journal and Times. This photo is a study of children viewing a pre-Christmas parade. It received 18 points.

Judges were L. D. Hotchkiss of the Los Angeles Times, Gene Thorne of the Waterloo (Iowa) Daily Courier and A. Y. Aronson of the Louisville Times. The counting system gave ten points for each judge's choice for first place, nine for second and so on through sixth place with five points.

Other Winners Listed

Besides the foregoing, point-winners were:

"Twisted Ankle" by Ernest Sis-to, the New York Times, 12 points.

"Christmas Tears" by H. G. Wohlwend, the Clinton (Iowa) Herald, 10.

"Contour Plowing" by Don Lltang, the Des Moines Register and Tribune; "The Bells Are Ringing" b yCharles Hoff, the New York Daily News, and "Tragedy's Aftermath" by Howard Hommersley, jr., the Roanoke Times, nine each.

"Retrieving Body" by Brandt Gray, the Salt Lake City Tribune, and "Wall Street Strike" by Pat Mulligan, the New York Sun, eight each.

"Just Before the Crash" by J. J. Nicklas, the Allentown (Pa) Call and Chronicle, and "Coming Out" by Paul A. Hunter, the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph, seven each.

"To a Sliding Stop" by Norman C. Hill, the Ottumwa (Iowa) Courier, and "Leap For Life" by Pat Candido, the New York Daily News, five each.

Duchess Of Windsor Returns To Britain

LONDON, April 15. (AP) — The duchess of Windsor returned to Britain today for her first visit in two years.

London newspapers wrote approvingly of her clothes, but not one followed up a recent suggestion by Lord Beaverbrook's Evening Standard that the British stop "cold-shouldering" her. The paper said "it would be a sensible and popular step if the 'ban' on the duchess of Windsor were ended forthwith."

Nor was there any hint that the royal family might relax its ban against receiving the American-born woman for whose love King Edward VIII gave up Britain's throne.

The former king, who arrived a week earlier, met her at Victoria station. The Duke last week stayed with his mother, dowager Queen Mary.
