Heaviest Mass Attack Blasts Jap Oil Center

Yanks Capture Eleventh Island In Palau Group

By LEONARD MILLIMAN
Associated Press War Editor

Tokyo radio reported 1,000 Allied planes today raided Formosa, guarding the China coast, while others carried out the heaviest mass attack ever made on Japan's vital oil center at Balikpapan, Borneo.

American amphibious forces captured their eleventh island in the month-old invasion of the Palau group, within 600 miles of the Philippines. The newest islet was Balrakaseru, taken without opposition by 81st division infantrymen.

Japanese broadcasts told of an eighth-hour air battle over Formosa as "some 1,000 fighters and bomber planes" swept the length of the island. An Imperial communique claimed "approximately 100 enemy planes" were shot down in the first six hours of the massive air battle which began at 7 a.m. (Tokyo time).

Two Port Cities Hit

Principal targets were listed as Tainan and Takao, port cities on the southwestern coast, and Taichu, a railway junction near the center of Formosa.

The attack — assuming the reports to be true — presumably came from Vice Adm. Marc A. Mitscher's powerful carrier force. Tokyo had expressed fear that American carriers were "still lurking" in the area after their smashing surprise raid earlier this week on the Ryukyu islands which link Japan and Formosa.

A carrier smash at Formosa would surpass in daring the raids on the Ryukyus, and would be the closest approach of American naval forces to their goal on the China coast. Heavily-fortified Formosa was the jumping off place for Japanese planes which bombed the Philippines at the start of the war and probably the embarcation point for the recent invasion of the Foochow area on the nearby central China coast.

Earlier Tokyo reported 100 Liberators, escorted by 30 Lightnings, raided Balikpapan Tuesday. If true, it would be the sixth recent

Probe Termed 'Smear' Action

DALLAS, Oct. 12. (U.P.)—A House campaign expenditures committee's investigation into the alleged political connections of the Committee for Constitutional government was labeled a "smear campaign" today by E. M. Biggers, a Houston printer whose published pamphlets have been labeled by the committee as "anti-New Deal."

Biggers was testifying before the investigating committee headed by Rep. Clinton P. Anderson, (D., N. M.), which is holding one of a series of nationwide hearings into the CCG's activities.

"I think this is just a smear campaign," Biggers told the committee. "I approve of the committee for constitutional government and this (investigation) is a fight between the CCG and the administration because the administration is fighting the Constitution."

"Should Investigate Congress"

Biggers said he thought that Congress should investigate itself for turning "every power of the people in this country over to the bureaucrats."

The committee sought to find out the names of the printers all over the country who have printed anti-New Deal literature, and Biggers, after being assured by Anderson that Rep. E. J. Gathings, (D., Ark.), a member of the committee, was an independent Democrat and not a New Dealer, agreed to give the committee the names of the concerns "so far as I can remember."

Biggers pointed out that anyone could print his pamphlet since it was not copyrighted and said he had granted permission to anyone asking for it with the sole stipulation that they not charge more for it than he was getting.

The Houston printer testified that he had gone into the printing

Collapse Of Hungary Near

Austria Facing Early Attack By Reds; Nazis' Balkan Defenses Folding Fast

(By The Associated Press)

MOSCOW, Oct. 12. — Hungary appeared on the verge of a military knockout today as Russian forces overran Magyar defenses on a 120 mile front guarding Budapest.

The developing debacle, with apparent imminent collapse of Hungarian resistance, emphasized final disintegration of Hitler's Balkan defenses, and indicated an early assault by the Red army upon Austria.

Moscow military sources expressed belief that the German high command already is reckoning no Hungary's complete elimination from the war.

Second City Captured

Russian and Romanian forces yesterday captured Szeged, second largest city in Hungary, and Cluj, capital of Transylvania, with general advances elsewhere on the Balkan front. (Marshal Tito announced that Russians and Yugoslav partisan forces had surrounded Belgrade.)

Meanwhile, to the north, the battle for East Prussia seemed under way, with the Germans being thrown back from their border defenses 15 miles northeast of the fortress city of Tilsit.

RUSSIANS WITHIN FIVE MILES OF MEMEL

LONDON, Oct. 12 (AP)—Russian troops battled within five miles of the Prussian port of Memel today in a siege of growing ferocity after invading what Hitler considers German soil by occupying the town of Plikisi inside the Memel metropolitan area, acquired by Germany in the spring of 1939.

In the south, the Moscow radio said, other Russians broke into Debrecen, third largest Hungarian city of 122,507, on the Orient railroad 116 miles east of menaced Budapest. The Germans said their tanks had thrown a 20-mile-wide ring around strong Soviet armored forces in this area and had beaten back relief columns moving up from Oradea, in Romania, and Karcag, in Hungary. The German communique acknowledged the loss of Cluj, capital of Transylvania.

Violent Battle Reported

All along the frontiers of East Prussia, the Germans reported violent battle.

A "concentric attack" was launched against Memel with more than 200 Russian tanks, Berlin said, emphasizing that Memel was encircled. Of these 98 were reported destroyed 15 by guns of German warships supporting the beleaguered garrison.

Soviet attacks north of Warsaw and south of Rozan on the historic Narew river were checked, the enemy asserted, as was another thrust from the Lithuanian frontier town of Vilkaviskis toward the east frontier of East Prussia.

The Germans sadi the Red army had renewed its assault on Riga,

YANKS STORMING AACHEN—Doughboys of the American First army today stormed into the suburbs of Aachen, paced by a devastating assault by artillery and divebombers. The ancient city, better known by its French name of Aixe la Chapelle, shown above in pre-war days, was faced with obliteration after the Germans' refusal to surrender the city. In the center is shown the historic Rathaus, built in 1353-70, on the site of Emperor Charlemagne's palace. Here 32 German emperors and kings were crowned. (NEA Telephoto).

Description Of Slaying Given

Green On Ground, Witness Relates

By WALTER SWITZER
Journal Staff Writer

J. B. Carpenter was approximately five feet from Hubert Green— and Green was unarmed and on "all-fours"—when Carpenter fatally shot Green the afternoon of Aug. 3, a state witness testified this morning when Carpenter's murder trial went into its second day.

The witness was Joe Rieger, lay inspector for the city health department and a former peace officer.

He was the third of four witnesses the state introduced to the 72nd district stand before Judge Dan Blair ordered a noon recess.

Heard Shot, Saw Scuffle

Rieger said he had been at McDonald Packing company the afternoon of Aug. 3. He left there about 3:15 o'clock and drove by the barn—the scene of the shooting.

"I heard a shot from my left," he said. "I looked and got a glimpse of three or four men running. About eight or nine feet from me, between two cars, there were two men scuffling over a gun. Both stooped over. I didn't then recognize either of them but could see the gun.

"I stepped out of the car. I started to them and was within three or four feet of them when Carpenter tripped Green over his right leg.

Green Had No Weapon

"By that time I recognized them. Green hit the ground on his all-fours. Carpenter had a gun in his hand. He stepped toward me, which would be away from Green, took just a short step, just enough to turn around good, and

Stimson Says Ballots Censored By Mistake

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12. (U.P.) — There have been 268 cases discovered in the Army and Navy in which censors have stamped war ballot envelopes, the War department said today. Only two cases have been found in the Army in which such envelopes actually have been opened by censors, it was said.

Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson told his news conference earlier that in the 268 cases the outer envelopes containing the ballots had been opened by censors and that in two cases the inner envelopes had been opened. The War department, however, said later that subsequent checking showed this to be an incorrect report.

"In view of the more than 4,000,000 ballots requested, this number is so infinitesimally small that it fully indicates such incidents were due to accident or mistake and not to design," Stimson said.

He recalled his earlier statement that an Army order was sent to censors in December, 1943, prohibiting them from opening ballots. Directions drawing attention to the order were radioed later to all overseas commands, he said.

'Battle Of Statler' Is Still A Mystery

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12 (U.P.)—The so-called "battle of the Statler" remained among the capital's unsolved political mysteries today as spokesmen for the Senate campaign expenditures committee continued their determined silence on the incident.

Both the chairman Thomas F. Green, (D., R. I.) and Committee Counsel Robert T. Murphy refused to comment on their "exploration" of the tussle that took place in the Statler hotel here just after President Roosevelt's speech to the AFL teamsters union. Two naval officers were involved in the fight.

EDD R. CAMPBELL DIES

HOUSTON, Oct. 12 (U.P.)—Judge Edd R. Campbell, well-known Texas attorney and a native of Fayette county, died at his home here last night. The former criminal court judge of Harris and Galveston counties was 67 years old.

Moscow Talks May Heal Polish Rift

Aircraft Plant At Bremen Hit

LONDON, Oct. 12 (AP)—Approximately 750 Flying Fortresses and Liberators attacked an aircraft components factory at Bremen today while RAF heavies pounded synthetic oil plants at Wanne-Eickel in the Ruhr.

The American bombers, escorted by Thunderbolts and Mustangs, also bombed other unspecified targets in northwestern Germany as the German radio reported still another raid on central Austria by U. S. 15th Air force bombers from Italy.

Wanne-Eickel is an industrial city northeast of Essen.

Gun Installations Ripped

While these two big fleets were out, a smaller force of Lancasters shot across to Holland ripping gun installations at Breskens, where a large number of German troops are trapped.

The widespread daylight attacks followed the 173rd raid on Berlin last night.

Fighters ranged into Germany and battered railroad yards and lines in the Dusseldorf area behind the Siegfried line, while other fighters and bombers kept besieged Aachen under attack, wave after wave.

No encounters were reported by the fighters with German planes up to 1 p. m. and no U. S. fighter was reported lost. Ninth Air force fighters sighted several jet propelled planes yesterday, but none offered combat.

Mosquitos, which seldom miss a night, made the attacks with the loss of a single plane.

Hundreds of American bomber crews that had been alerted for possible participation in the annihiliation of Aachen still were standing by. The heavy bombers

Several Fruits Of Parley Evident

MOSCOW, Oct. 12 (U.P.)—First fruits of the Stalin-Churchill conferences became evident today with a series of diplomatic developments which included an 11th hour effort to achieve a Polish settlement, the apparently imminent capitulation of Hungary, and the acceptance by Bulgaria of preliminary armistice terms.

There was no doubt here that it was more than a coincidence that these developments followed almost immediately upon the arrival of Prime Minister Winston Churchill and his initial conference with Marshal Josef Stalin.

It was believed other developments of equal o rgreater significance will follow shortly.

Cordiality Unprecedented

Churchill and his party were received in an atmosphere of unprecedented Anglo-Russian cordiality in which was seen important signs for success of the negotiations.

The importance of Stalin's acceptance of a banquet invitation at the British embassy last night was difficult to over-emphasize. This gesture, which might be regarded as routine in other countries, was absolutely without

Death Of Maj. Ryan In France Reported

Death of Maj. W. E. Ryan, former Midland surgeon and hospital owner, was reported by the War department Wednesday night, Lubbock relatives said. He was in France.

He is a son-in-law of Mrs. M. I. Davis of 2118 Thirtieth, a brother-in-law of Mrs. James O. Simmons, jr., of 2419 Twenty-second.

Major Ryan, a graduate of Baylor Medical school, moved to Midland in the fall of 1926.

The officer, reputed to have operated the largest tent hospital in the Army, died in a vehicular accident, "in line of duty," behind the Third Army front. He is survived by his widow, in Peabody college; two sons, W. E. jr., and Charles, respectively of Boulder, Colo., and Memphis, and a daughter, Quincey Belle, in Ward Belmont. His mother and a sister live in Abilene.

Sinatra Appears And Cops Called To Handle Riot

NEW YORK, Oct. 12. (AP) — Heavy police reinforcements were dispatched to Times Square today as a police-estimated crowd of 25,000 teen-age Frank Sinatra fans stormed the Paramount theater where the singer is appearing on the stage.

The shrieking, shouting crowd rushed police lines about the theater, ripped the shirt of one patrolman and smashed the window of the theater's ticket booth. Several persons fainted in the street.

Police said the Columbus day holiday was responsible for the extra-large crowds of school-age boys and girls.

More than 200 policemen were stationed in the area shortly before noon after several outbreaks of disorder in the early morning. An estimated 2,000 girls in sweaters, bobby socks and saddle shoes and boys in polka-dotted bow ties were at the theater at 7 a. m., police said.

Acting Assistant Chief of Police Inspector John W. Conway estimated the crowds at 25,000 at 11 a. m. in addition to about 5,000 inside the theater.

When Sinatra made his first appearance on the stage, the audience stamped their feet, screamed and ran up and down the aisles.

The outbursts were too much even for Sinatra, who several times asked for quiet and threatened to forget about the show unless the uproar subsided.

Fight To Go On Unabated, Says Eisenhower

Winter Campaign To Be Waged, If Necessary

BY EDWARD KENNEDY

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, Allied Expeditionary Force, Oct. 12. — Gen. Eisenhower declared today that "we have a hard job ahead but victory is certain."

The supreme commander said he would permit no fraternizing with the Germans as his invasion armies move deeper into the Reich.

He is resolved on one thing: That the fight will continue unabated through the winter, if necessary, and as much longer as it may take to crush the enemy. There may be pauses in the Allied advances due to the ferocity of German resistance and our own supply problems, but there will be no letup in aggressive action on the part of the Allies.

U. S. Policy Clarified

The present destruction of Aachen by the American First Army following the refusal of the German commander to surrender to spare the town is a matter of field tactics, rather than general American policy toward German cities, he said. Field commanders, it was made clear, can use their own methods as long as they observe the rules of war.

While the general regards a sudden German collapse as always a possibility, he sees no reason to rely on its coming at any given time. The threat of the Red army in the east and the Allied army on German soil in the west can have no effect on the leaders who face the loss of everything, once they admit defeat, in Eisenhower's opinion.

In Excellent Health

The general appeared in excellent health.

Eisenhower said the Allied armies were entering Germany as conquerors and would treat the Germans justly.

Discussing recent operations, the general praised the fight of the British First airborne division at Arnhem in Holland.

"I feel myself that not enough credit has been given to the tremendous advantages that accrued to us through operations of the First Allied airborne army," he said, "the First British airborne

Bologna Sector 'Earthquaked'

ROME, Oct. 12 (AP) — A great force of American heavy bombers delivered one of the most concentrated attacks of the war today on German barracks, bivouacs, stores and dumps in a rough circle around besieged Bologna while Allied ground forces deployed ten miles from the city.

The force of Flying Fortresses and Liberators was larger than that which left Cassino below Rome in ruins last spring and was the largest the U. S. 15th Air force ever dispatched over a single target.

Meanwhile, Brazilian expeditionary forces smashed today to the vicinity of Gallicano, 29 miles inland from the big Italian west coast naval base of La Spezia.

Another column, advancing up the opposite side of the Serchio river valley, reached Barga, four miles east of Gallicano. The apparent objective was to outflank La Spezia itself.

Resistance Mounts

In central Italy, American and British forces of the Fifth army met increasing enemy resistance in their attempt to break through the last of the Apennine hills into the Po valley, Allied headquarters announced.

The only other significant gains in yesterday's fighting came on the Eighth army front where British troops captured Longiano, 12 miles west of Rimini.

Headquarters said the Eighth army gains in the foothills west of Rimini in recent days had outflanked German positions behind the Fiumicino river sufficiently to compel the enemy to withdraw the Adriatic sector of the line to positions running northeast and southwest through Gambettola.

Frantic Daylong Attack By Nazis Is Beaten Off

Enemy Attempts To Reinforce Battered Garrison Fail In Hail Of Fire; City Under Heavy Air, Artillery Assault

(By The Associated Press)

OUTSIDE AACHEN, Oct. 12.—American infantry fought into the factory district on the outskirts of Aachen late today while to the north foot troops and armor beat off a daylong counterattack by the Germans who were supported by 20 to 25 tanks.

The Germans have thrown one of their finest divisions into the battle in a desperate, but so far abortive, attempt to relieve or reinforce the Aachen garrison. German troops inside the wrecked and burning city were being battered from the land and air.

Every counterthrust has been beaten back under a barrage of heavy artillery.

The corridor in the American arc about the city still is about a mile wide and it is under artillery and small arms fire.

"Nothing Has Come Through"

"Nothing has come through that corridor in any size in any direction," a high ranking officer said. "Certainly the Germans have not, and are not evacuating Aachen. Try to tell that to the boys up there who are doing the fighting for Aachen, and give them a laugh."

Inside the bomb-pocked city, the defenders still were fighting to hold onto their positions. Ordered by Hitler to fight to the death, they ignored an ultimatum which gave them the choice of surrender or destruction. And now the attack is underway to destroy them.

The Americans are not in the main part of Aachen. They are methodically cleaning up the outlying factory district, building by building, and getting into position for an assault on the main part of the town.

Counterattacks Fail

The Germans' daylong counterattack was in the Bardenburg area, six miles north of Aachen, which has been the scene of some of the heaviest fighting inside Germany. There the foe has thrown in attack after attack in a frantic effort to shatter the force of the advance which broke through the Siegfried line on the north. The Americans gave no ground under this assault and late in the afternoon had contained it.

In the Germeier area, 11 miles southeast of Aachen, the Americans were forced to fall back in the Hurtgen forest under a fierce counterattack by Nazi infantry. This was a localized action. The depth of the withdrawal was not reported by Army headquarters, but an officer indicated it was not considered serious.

American fighters and bombers returned to Aachen and resumed bombing and strafing of

Aachen Water Supply Cut Off

City's Food Supply Is Running Low

By WILLIAM SMITH WHITE
Associated Press Staff Writer

WITH AMERICAN TROOPS At The Edge Of Aachen, Oct. 12. —Its water supply wholly cut off, its food running low and its people cowering for the second successive day in basements and sewers, Aachen huddled miserably this afternoon under the First army's unending air and artillery bombardment.

Slowly the city is being drained of all life. Little groups of civilians are creeping out and into our lines. Soldiers—those who can escape the watch placed over them by their officers—are coming out in similar small bodies, although just a while ago one group numbered about 50.

Civilians Looking Ahead

Some of these prisoners have told interrogators today that many civilians still in Aachen are hoarding bottles of wine and fruit with which they hope to ingratiate themselves with American troops.

In the center of Aachen is a scene like some imaginative painting of the last judgment. Smoke boils and shifts but never lifts from the center of the city and fires gleam only fitfully and thinly through this almost impenetrable cover.

The spire of Aachen cathedral is still standing, unhit, but nothing of the rest can be seen below its roof.

Factory Section Cleared

The northeastern factory section on the outskirts has been cleared by our infantrymen and they met only light sniper resistance. But this is all that has yet been attacked anywhere in Aachen by foot soldiers. It is still an artillery and air attack and the Yanks are taking their time at it, for certainly time is working for them here.

If Aachen fell to the First army at this moment, it would get a mere skeleton of a city, for most of the buildings still upright are no more than gutted walls.

In the German phrase—"Aachen kaput!" (Aachen finished).

Partisans Clear Nazis From Albanian Town

ROME, Oct. 12. (AP)—Albanian partisans have cleared German troops from Gjashdle, two miles inland from Sarande (Porto Edda), Albanian port opposite Corfu which British invaders captured yesterday, an Allied communique announced today.

More than 600 prisoners were taken in the area by the land forces of the Adriatic. Gjashdle was mopped up before noon.

Allied headquarters said that a considerable quantity of guns and stores were captured in the Sarande area.

The bulletin gave no information on the situation in Greece.

TRUMAN TO BE IN TEXAS

DALLAS, Oct. 12 (AP)—Myron G. Blalock, national Democratic committeeman for Texas, said Senator Harry S. Truman of Missouri would make two stops in Texas tomorrow en route from New Orleans to the West coast. The Democratic vice presidential nominee will stop at Houston at 9:30 a. m. and at San Antonio at 3:35 p. m., Blalock said.

Texas U. Rift Takes On Broader Scope

AUSTIN, Oct. 12. (AP)—Ralph E. Himstead of Washington, secretary of the American Association of University professors, has notified the local chapter of the association that he would meet with regents of the university Oct. 27 and with the university chapter Oct. 28.

The telegram did not specify what the object of the visit would be, but the association has previously interested itself in the regent's failure to re-hire three economics professors.

Meanwhile, a meeting of the faculty had been called for today to consider the most recent controversy involving regents and the school's administration.

A statement "upon the issues involved in the current situation" was promised by President Homer P. Rainey of the university.

While he would not amplify upon the announcement, it was presumed he referred to the dispute over whether or not a regent had sent him a message telling him he was making too many speeches, such as those before religious groups.

Rainey said he would make the statement at a faculty meeting late this afternoon.

Former Senator Of Gainesville Dies

GAINESVILLE, Oct. 12 (AP) — W. S. Moore, Gainesville attorney and former state Senator and Representative, died at a local hospital yesterday following a long illness.

Funeral services are set for Friday afternoon.

Moore, a local attorney 34 years, was state Representative from Grayson county in 1907, served as state Senator from district 9 in 1925 and filled an unexpired term as judge of the 16th district court of Denton and Cooke counties one year later.

Act Of Congress To Determine Power Of Council Delegate

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12. (U.P.)—Influential Democratic and Republican spokesmen in the Senate revealed today that the degree of authority for the American delegate on the Council of the new League of Nations will be determined not by treaty but by an act of Congress creating the new office.

A treaty requires a two-thirds Senate vote for ratification; an act of Congress requires only a simple majority of both House and Senate.

The two spokesmen—Chairman Tom Connally, (D., Tex.), of the Senate foreign relations committee, and Sen. Warren R. Austin, (R., Vt.), author of the foreign policy plank of the Republican platform—proposed identical ways for solution of the major problem raised by the Dumbarton Oaks proposals.

The charter of the new organization will be presented to the Senate in the form of a treaty and one third plus one of the senators voting could defeat it. American officials contended that the question of the American delegate's authority to vote is a purely domestic issue and need not be em-

Wage Formula To Hold Until After V-E Day, Official Says

BY JOSEPH A. LOFTUS
Associated Press Labor Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12 (AP) — An official in the first circle of administration advisers said today the Little Steel formula would be held where it is until victory in Europe or at least until military experts can safely name that day.

This is not considered as of today to be a pre-election possibility. Disclosure of what amounts to settled policy came as the result of a request for comment on yesterday's War Labor board decision to omit recommendations from the forthcoming WLB report on wages and living costs.

The official, declining to be identified by name, expressed no surprise at the WLB action and said it was expected and was the sensible position to take.

He said, in effect, that the administration would not tinker with the delicate balances of a wartime economy; that it would be time for a change only when the end of wartime pressures is clearly in sight. Production cutbacks following V-E day will relax competition for manpower.

The official's views coincide with impressions which some labor leaders got from President Roosevelt in a recent conference.

"Through Back Alleys Of Europe"

Ninth Division Boys Peeved; They Always Miss Big Towns

BY HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Staff Writer
WITH AMERICAN TROOPS In Germany, Oct. 4 (Delayed) —

Doughboys of the famous fighting Ninth infantry division are peeved because they have fought in six countries and on two continents without hitting a town large enough for them to relax and raise a little whoopee.

"We have never been in a town of any size in French Morocco, Tunisia, Sicily, England, France, Belgium or Germany," said Capt. Lindsey Nelson of Columbia, Tenn., who remarks a little sourly that the boys plan to call the history of their outfit "Through Back Alleys of Europe with the Ninth Division."

Bolstering his case, Nelson said, when his "country division" finally got to Verviers, a medium-sized Belgian town, three liasion officers got lost because they had forgotten how to get around in a city, and nobody slept much because they weren't used to bright lights.

Just Miss Big Towns

One street light was burning!

"We always just miss the big towns or go between them," he said woefully. "The only one we got to that was fairly large in Africa was Bizerte—and there were only three buildings and one civilian left standing in it. It was a complete wreck.

"Other divisions, after the end of the African campaign, went back to Bivouacs near Oran or Algiers, but they sent us to Magenta, 50 kilometers due south of Sidi Bel Abbes in the direction of the Sahara desert. Sidi Bel Abbes was full of fleas, dogs and Arabs, and there weren't any souvenirs to buy, and all you could do was walk around until you got sunstroke, or sit in a cafe and drink beer that was 99 per cent water.

Bizerte, With Italian Accent

"Then we went to Sicily. The British on our left flank and the Americans on our right headed for Messina—a real city—but we only got as far as Randazzo. It looked like Bizerte with an Italian accent. Nothing was left in one piece.

"When we finished in Sicily, the British boys got to go to Catania, and some of the American units to Palerno. We drew Cefalu—a village with one cathedral, no bars, no picture shows, no nothing. Did you ever look at a cathedral for ten straight weeks?

Same Story In England

"In England it was the same old story. We got stationed at a former British army camp in southern England, a half-hour's drive from the nearest village and 30 minutes in wooden barracks and listening to the rain.

"We came to France and we thought sure we'd get a pocketful of Paris. But they started us in the opposite direction, toward Cherbourg. Just as we reached the western side of the town, they turned us around and told us to go out and clean up the rest of the peninsula.

"When they sent us through the St. Lo-Perriers line, there wasn't a town in sight—we were in the middle again. We started for Paris, and it finally looked like we were going to get into town—and what a town! But the day Allied troops entered Gay Paree we were in the town of Christency 30 kilometers south, with a populatio nof not more than 100 persons on market day.

1—Promote the flow of vital digestive juices in the stomach

2—Energize your body with RICH, RED BLOOD!

Improper diet, overwork, undue worries, colds, the flu or other illness often impairs the stomach's digestive functions and reduces the red-blood strength.

A person who is operating on only a 70 to 75% healthy blood volume or a stomach digestive capacity of only 50 to 60% normal is severely handicapped.

At such times Nature needs extra help to restore its balance and function properly. Undigested food places a tax on the system...insufficient blood strength is a detriment to good health.

If you are subject to poor digestion or suspect deficient red-blood as the cause of your trouble, yet have no organic complication or focal infection, S.S.S. Tonic may be just what you need!

S.S.S. Tonic is especially designed (1) to promote the flow of VITAL DIGESTIVE JUICES in the stomach and (2) to build up BLOOD STRENGTH when deficient.

These two important results enable you to enjoy the food you do eat ... to make use of it as Nature intended. Thus you may get new vitality ... pep ... become animated ... more attractive!

Johnston Urges Greater Trade

NEW YORK, Oct. 12 (AP)—Eric A. Johnston, president of the United States Chamber of Commerce, told the national foreign trade convention last night that "we don't want the old pie of world trade divided into smaller pieces. We must have a bigger pie."

Johnston, globe-trotting representative of American business, was presented the Captain Dollar memorial award for 1944 at a world trade dinner, for "distinguished contribution to the advancement of American foreign trade.

In a prepared speech of acceptance, Johnston offered "with the naivete of an amateur," what he called three fundamentals for the "task of building a workable peace from the world's shattered ruins." They were:

1. "The absolute necessity for a vastly expanded postwar trade among nations."

Prosperous People Essential

2. "If there is going to be a larger volume of foreign trade, we must have more prosperous people. You can't sell goods to the penniless or the bankrupt."

3. "A strong, a prosperous, a free America."

"For three decades now we have been having a gradual hardening of the arteries of trade," Johnston said. "This commercial arteriosclerosis has increased the economic tensions in every land. Unless intelligent application of known curatives can be applied, our postwar world will suffer a paralyzing stroke. I am talking to you, the doctors, tonight.

"It seems to me that the duty of selling our people the necessity of a greatly expanded trade is your number one must."

TO REDUCE PERSONNEL

DALLAS, Oct. 12 (AP) — War production board personnel will be cut 50 per cent when Germany is defeated, George L. Noble, regional WPB director, said here today. Certain industry controls will no longer be needed, he said, and the compliance, salvage, war production drive and some of the priority departments will be abolished.

Crude Oil Production Declines Moderately

NEW YORK, Oct. 12 (AP)—Crude oil production last week dropped moderately from the record levels of the preceding period, the American Petroleum institute announced today.

The average daily output of 4,691,550 barrels compared with 4,390,300 barrels in the like week of 1943 and was 70,750 barrels under the preceding week's daily average production of 4,762,300, a record high.

Gasoline production in the week also was lower but there was a good increase in total finished and unfinished stocks. Production amounted to 14,252,000 barrels last week against 14,494,000 a week earlier. Stocks of finished and unfinished gasoline amounted to 78,554,000 barrels, compared with 78,028,000 in the preceding period and 69,014,000 a year ago.

Total heavy fuel oil production for the week was estimated at 8,676,000 barrels, compared with 9,292,000 in the preceding week and 7,816,000 a year ago.

Refinery operations were at 91.8 per cent of capacity, with a run to stills indicated of 4,506,000 barrels of crude oil daily. In the previous week operations were at the rate of 97.3 per cent and runs indicated of 4,775,000 barrels. A year ago the total was 4,115,000 barrels.

Hungarians Urged To Throw Off Nazi Yoke

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12 (U.P.)—Chairman Tom Connally, D., Tex., of the Senate Foreign Relations committee, called on Hungarians today to "shake off the German yoke" that has plunged them to defeat and ruin.

In a message broadcast to Hungary by the Office of War Information, Connally said that Hungarians of today can lay the basis for a better existence for the Hungarians of tomorrow only by "breaking with Germany and contributing their strength and courage to the final defeat of Germany."

THE JAPS STILL HAVE THE FATS!

You must keep saving used kitchen grease!

THE FAR EAST was our biggest outside source of fats and oils ... and the Japs still hold that. True, we are winning victories in Europe. But they don't help this shortage problem. Therefore we cannot relax one bit on saving used fats. They are still needed, and even more urgently than ever ... to make explosives, tanks, planes, synthetic rubber, soaps, medicines and other war and civilian materials.

YOU did a grand job in 1943. This year, you'll average more than 200 million pounds saved. Keep up the good work! Go right on saving all scrapings, drippings, trimmings and table scraps. Herds of War

"Out where the West begins" is where important food for war begins too.

The thundering herds of our western ranges stand for a basic food men eat to fight on, men eat to work on.

When the war cry went out for meat and still more meat, western ranchers, stockmen and farmers responded by raising the greatest number of beef cattle, hogs and sheep in the history of our country.

Put her there, partner! You're doing a great job in that fighting Home on the Range!

Aachen's Fate May Be War Barometer

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

The imminent denouement of the strange battle for ancient Aachen, which the Germans made a key position in their Siegfried line, is likely to make it easier for us to estimate our prospects of achieving a quick knockout of Hitlerdom.

Aachen has been no easy nut to crack. The Nazis picked it for defensive purposes because it's railway and highway center, and because it lies in a hollow and is surrounded by heights—a strong point by nature. It's a shield for neighboring Cologne and the gateway into the Ruhr.

Hitler Invites Destruction

The battle of Aachen emphasizes that Hitler intends to fight to a bloody finish, ruthlessly sacrificing not only military but civilian lives, and inviting the destruction of proud cities like this one-time center of culture for western Europe.

Again it is demonstrated that the Nazi Attila has fanatical commanding officers who are ready to do his will. The German command in Aachen did their best — or one might better say their most cruel worst — to prevent the surrender not only of their soldiers but of civilians before the American ultimatum expired.

German Support Not Total

However, we also learn that not all German soldiers or citizens by any means are prepared to die for the dictator. Many of the Aachen citizens who hadn't been evacuated flew white flags from their houses in an effort 4o surrender. A lot of German soldiers also wanted to give themselves up, and a considerable number did, but others were prevented from surrendering by their officers.

Of course one swallow doesn't make a summer, and one Aachen can't speak for all Germany. Still we are entitled to conclude that Hitler is far from having either the civilian population or his soldierly solidly behind him. Certainly a considerable amount of the "loyalty" which is being rendered him is inspired by the scourge wielded by Himmler the hangman and his Gestapo.

Enemy Can Have War

On the Allied side, we now have provided a wholly unequivocal example of what will happen to other places which resist. Will the German people stand by while their cities endure the throes of Aachen's terrible death? We have seen that some of them won't. But if the majority want war to a finish, they can have it. The great guns of the American First army, which are pouring destruction into Aachen as this is written, guarantee that.

New Deal Unable To Provide Jobs--Bricker

TACOMA, Wash., Oct. 12 (AP)—Gov. John W. Bricker asserted last night that the "New Deal dragged this country to the bottom of the list of nations" in industrial recovery and could not be trusted to provide productive peace-time jobs.

The Republican vice presidential nominee, in a speech broadcast nationwide, said that Great Britain within three years after the low-point of 1932 restored national income and employment to her 1929 figure.

The United States, on the other hand, "never recovered her 1929 income or employment until war came," he added.

TITO EN ROUTE MOSCOW

LONDON, Oct. 12 (AP)—Marshal Tito, commander of Yugoslavia's fighting forces, has left his country for Moscow to participate in the conferences between Premier Marshal Stalin and Prime Minister Churchill, the Marseille radio reported today.

Lady Astor Skeptical About 'Family' Leaves

LONDON, Oct. 12 (AP) — Virginia-born Lady Astor, member of Parliament for Plymouth, said today that a good soldier doesn't want to go home until the war is over—even on compassionate leave for the purpose of raising babies.

Childless husbands who have served long terms with the British army in the Middle East were recently reported to have flooded the compassionate leave committee with applications to return home to start families before their wives became too old to bear children.

"I have never heard of a good soldier wanting to return home to start a family—they realize the war is not over yet," Lady Astor told the Associated Press. "Such requests would necessitate an involved investigation of wife and husband and much meddling into private affairs."

Talk Based On Citizenship

When Supt R. W. Matthews addressed Bean Parent-Teacher association Wednesday afternoon at the school he stressed the obligations of citizenship. He discussed the rights and protection one has under his government and pointed out that one should support those things which mean a better way of living, including the church, government and school.

Mrs. J. G. Terry, program chairman, was in charge of the program and Mrs. J. D. Lawson, president, presided at the meeting.

Sixth grade pupils under the supervision of Miss Doris Kolb presented the national anthems of China, England, Russia, France and America. Remarks concerning each country were made by Keith Norman.

Mrs. C. A. White, P-T council health and summer round-up chairman, discussed "Health." Mrs. L. L. Miller, president of P-T council, was introduced as a special guest.

Committee chairman reports were given during the business session.

Mrs. E. F. Dawkins' room was presented a gift for having the most mothers present.

Scout Council Has Session

There is to be a called meeting of the Girl Scout advisory board and council tonight at 8 o'clock at the Girl Scout Little House. When the Girl Scout council met Tuesday plans were discussed for a rummage sale to be sponsored in order to raise money for a piano to be placed in the Little House.

Mrs. Homer L. Pharr is chairman of the sale and rummage will be brought to the headquarters by leader and the girls before Oct. 28, date of the sale.

Honoring Miss Alice Mulkey, regional advisor, a covered dish luncheon will be given at the Little House at 1 p. m. Tuesday. Wednesday Miss Mulkey will present certificates to leaders completing a course in progress at present. Old leaders are invited to the meeting which is from 9:30 until 11:30 o'clock.

Mrs. C. A. White, secretary, reported that $5706.84 was raised during the financial drive to benefit Scouts sponsored here recently by the Lions club.

It was voted to send Miss Rosemary Head, secretary, to the professional Girl Scout week in Mineral Wells Nov. 26-Dec. 1.

PIN-WORMS
At Last—
A Real Treatment!

You may not realize how many of your neighbors—grown-ups as well as children—have Pin-Worms at this very moment. People don't talk about this nasty infection. Sometimes they are too embarrassed to mention the tormenting rectal itching; and up to now they have usually suffered in silence because they have not known of any effective way to deal with this dreadful pest that lives inside the human body.

Important Medical Discovery

Today, thanks to a valuable scientific discovery, a remarkable new treatment has been made possible. It is based on a special drug, known as gentian violet. This drug is the vital element in P-W, the new Pin-Worm tablets developed by Dr. D. Jayne & Son, America's leading specialists in worm medicines. P-W tablets are small and easy to take, and they act in a special, gentle way to destroy Pin-Worms.

It is very easy to "catch" this nasty infection, and the ugly creatures can cause real distress. So watch for the signs that may mean Pin-Worms: itching seat, uneasy stomach, bed-wetting, nervous fidgeting. If you suspect Pin-Worms, get a box of P-W right away and follow the simple directions carefully.

P-W means Pin-Worm relief! 4-29

Twelve Have Registered For Red Cross Course

Although twelve women have registered for a proposed course in home nursing sponsored by Red Cross, many others are necessary before the course may be given, it was said this morning. If enough classes are organized, a nurse will be sent from St. Louis, it was added.

Those interested are invited to telephone the Red Cross executive office, 8534.

Season's First Frost Reported

The season's first frost was visible when Mr and Mrs. South Plains went outside into chilly temperatures this morning, but slight or no crop damage was reported.

The frost was rather general, South Plains reports said.

From Abernathy to Slide reports were that the frost may result in slight damage to truck patches and tomatoes, but will not harm late feed and cotton crops.

Lowest temperature in the rural district was 36 degrees. For Lubbock it was 37 at 7 and 8 o'clock this morning.

Oct. 15 is the earliest killing frost date recorded for this area.

OVERCOATS BROKEN OUT OVER MOST OF TEXAS

(By the United Press)

Teeth-chattering was in vogue over most of Texas today as one of the earliest cool waves in history blanketed the state.

Crop, clear weather — even to the point of being brittle in the Texas Panhandle — brought out overcoats to protect a populace unprepared for such a drop in temperature from mild seasonal weather of past weeks.

Only in the far western tip of Texas and along the lower gulf coast was there any degree of comfort noted among the minimum temperatures which hit a low of 35 degrees — only three degrees above freezing — at Clarendon, and graduated up to a 67 at Brownsville.

Clarendon Reports 35

Pushing Clarendon for the honor of being the chilliest spot in the state was Pampa with 36 degrees, Lubbock with 37 and Amarillo with 38.

In Dallas, the weather bureau reported that the minimum of 42 reached there was the coldest Oct. 12 in the history of the bureau and compared with a previous low for that date of 49.

Other minimum temperatures reported at 7:30 o'clock this morning included:

Gainesville 40 degrees; Big Spring and Abilene 42; Fort Worth, Sulphur Springs and Eagle Mountain Lake 43; Navasota 44; San Antonio and Waco 45; Austin and Beaumont 46; Wink and Salt Flat 48; Houston 49; Galveston 55, and Corpus Christi 57, and El Paso 59.

Lt. Giffin, 'Dumbo' Pilot, Visits Here

A former Texas Technological college agriculture student, Lt. Ray Kyle Giffin, who has been in the Navy since before Pearl Harbor, was visiting in the agriculture department today.

Lt. Giffin, who served as a "dumbo" pilot in the Southwest Pacific 18 months, returned to the States 10 months ago and is with an instrument squadron at Chase Field, Tex.

A dumbo pilot participates in night bombings and evacuates wounded under fire, Lt. Giffin said. He has two stars for major battles at Guadalcanal and New Georgia and an individual citation from Admiral William F. Halsey for evacuating wounded Marines at Munda.

Lt. Giffin was married March 15 to a Tech graduate, Miss Aline Nunnally of O'Donnell. His mother is Mrs. R. M. Hawks of Sayre, Okla.

CORRECTION

Ploesti Raid Hero Seriously Injured

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Oct. 12 (U.P.)—Maj. U. G. Ent, commanding general of the Second Air force and leader of the first bombing raid on the Ploesti oil fields in Romania, is in a serious condition in a Fort Worth Army hospital today after his plane crashed at Fort Worth Tuesday.

Second Air force officials said Ent was piloting a B-25 bomber which developed trouble on the takeoff and crashed. The general—the only one of seven men in the plane to be injured—was struck by a propeller which cut through the cockpit.

'Alamo Scouts' Top Hands In 6th Army

By MURLIN SPENCER
Associated Press Staff Writer

AN ADVANCED DUTCH NEW GUINEA BASE, Oct. 12. — The Alamo Scouts are the most skilled of Lt. Gen. Walter Krueger's famed Sixth army of jungle fighters. They have nerves of steel and they can kill a man with their hands or a knife. Equally important, they can write a full page description of a coconut tree.

They are men like Lt. John R. C. McGowen of Amarillo, Tex. who led a daylight scouting patrol to heavily-defended Los Negros island and came out with highly valuable information.

They are men like Lt. John M. Dove who led a fiction-like reconnaissance patrol deep within Japanese positions at Hollandia.

They are men like Lt. Michael J. Sombar of Wyoming, Del., who led a patrol that rescued more than 100 missionaries in Dutch New Guinea.

Men long have thrilled at the heroism and skill of the western scouts who inspired the battle cry "Remember the Alamo." The daring, bravery and skill of the modern Alamo Scouts are no less than the men after whom they were named.

For nearly a year the Scouts have been a military secret. They are the pride of General Krueger who personally commands them and named them for the Alamo in his home city of San Antonio, Tex.

General Krueger's idea of teams of patrol scouts paid dividends from the very beginning. The first cavalry division under Maj. Gen. William Chase had been ordered to make a recommaissance in force against the Admiralty islands and, if feasible, to seize and hold them.

Scouts Made Final Check

Chase's dismounted cavalrymen already were under way from the north side of New Guinea when General Krueger sent his scouts in for a final check.

In the darkness of a tropical night a Catalina flying boat sped them to Les Negros. McGowen and his scouts tumbled into a rubber boat and paddled hurriedly toward the south shore of Los Negros. They knew the Japanese were there.

The patrol quickly learned there were Japanese by the hundreds. Throughout the day the patrol hid in the jungle and early the next morning came out by Catalina.

What they didn't know, however, was that the Japanese soon were to learn that they had been there.

Reported To General

McGowen was rushed by flying boat to General Chase, even then at sea, and made a full report on his findings. By radio, reinforcements were ordered to back up the cavalry. The plan for naval gunfire was changed.

The story of the landing long since has been told. The battle ebbed and flowed and at one point a part of the line was pushed back to within 25 yards of the beach. Finally the Japanese, in a suicide rush, destroyed themselves against U. S. Guns.

Japs Were Fooled

One thing isn't known, however. The Japanese had known about the patrol, where it landed. They made a fatal mistake — they guessed the cavalry would land at that same point, so they rushed a battalion of their best troops from Hyane harbor on the northeast to the south coast. The cavalry struck at Hyane harbor.

The final battle undoubtedly would have been more difficult if the cavalry had encountered the full Japanese forces at Hyane harbor. Among captured documents was one in which a Japanese officer admitted:

"We were fooled."

Distinguished Unit Badge, Bronze Star Awarded McCaskill

15TH AAF IN ITALY — Technical Sergeant Joe B. McCaskill, 1708 Sixteenth street, Lubbock, Tex., top turret gunner on a B-24 Liberator bomber, has been awarded the Distinguished Unit badge and one Bronze Star as a member of a veteran Liberator bomb group which twice has been cited for "outstanding performance of duty in armed conflict with the enemy."

McCASKILL

Commanded by Col. Robert E. L. Eaton, Belleville, Ill., the group received its original gold-rimmed blue ribbon for an attack on the Prufening aircraft factory at Regensburg, Germany, on February 25th. The cluster was added for a mission over the Ploesti, Romania, oil refineries on April 5th.

The citations read, in part: (For Regensburg).

"Notified to prepare maximum aircraft . . . personnel worked feverishly, enthusiastically, and with untiring intensity . . . The tremendous material damage inflicted . . . contributed greatly to the curtailment of aircraft production by the enemy at a time of great importance."

And for Ploesti:

"Under the most difficult and trying conditions on the ground and despite extremely adverse weather conditions in the air, the group . . . successfully delivered a devastating blow to the important enemy oil installations.

"The grim determination . . . and heroic courage of the combat crews, together with the professional skill and devotion to duty of the ground personnel . . . are outstanding in the history of aerial warfare."

Sgt. McCaskill's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. McCaskill, live at the Lubbock, Tex., address. After graduation from Lubbock High school, Sgt. McCaskill was employed as a welder for Lubbock Machine shop. He entered the Army on Sept. 1, 1942, and received his training at the Lubbock Engineering school, Tex., and the Laredo Gunnery school, Tex.

Circus In Winter Quarters, Bearing Record Mortgage

TAMPA, Fla., Oct. 12 (AP)—Two trains carrying the big Ringling circus reached Sarasota last night, taking into winter quarters the biggest mortgage in all circus history.

"We'll be paying our profits to Hartford, Conn., for the next 15 years," said Roland Butler, public relations man for the circus, who stopped in Tampa several hours.

He referred to the fire which destroyed the circus tent at Hartford last July 6 killing 168 persons and injuring scores of others.

Butler said the Ringling loss would run into the millions of dollars and that it might be several years before the total could be figured.

"More than 100 suits already have been filed against the circus at Hartford," he said. "That is only the beginning. They'll be suing for months to come."

Under Connecticut law, the Ringling circus must pay $15,000 to the families of each of the 168 persons killed. That figures to a total of $2,520,000.

The circus suffered a heavy loss from the fire in addition to settlement of damage claims, Butler said. Loss of the main tent, with various equipment, was estimated at more than $100,000.

SOMETHING IN NAME

PORTLAND, Ore. (U.P.) — Here is one fellow who is sticking to the "letter" of his name. Roving Williams, Vanport City, has been missing since July 29, his wife reported to police, and is apparently roving somewhere in his blue 1937 Ford sedan, license unknown to her.

Aid To China Termed Far Short Of Needs

CHUNGKING, Oct. 12 (AP)—A Chinese cabinet spokesman asserted today that prior to the end of May lend-lease supplies received by the armies in East and South China totaled 50 anti-tank guns, 60 mountain guns and 30,000,000 rounds of rifle and machinegun ammunition.

The spokesman, P. H. Chang, said China appreciated the immense transportation difficulties involved but he reiterated that aid so far received in the way of equipment and supplies has been inadequate.

He attributed recent Chinese reverses in Honan province primarily to lack of anti-tank guns and tanks.

A soft cotton floor mop kept barely damp with a mixture of three parts kerosene and one part of white mineral oil is excellent for dry mopping.

Relief At Last For Your Cough

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes.

Creomulsion blends beechwood creosote by special process with other time tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics.

No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough, permitting rest and sleep, or you are to have your money back. (Adv.)

Probe Of Texas Politics Opens

DALLAS, Oct. 12. (AP) — The House campaign expenditures committee opened a Texas hearing Wednesday with Chairman Anderson (D-NM) questioning Ted R. Ewart of Dallas about literature which Anderson said the Committee for Constitutional Government distributed in the state's First congressional district before last summer's Democratic primary.

Ewart, field representative of the Committee for Constitutional Government in Texas, asserted frequently, that activities of the organization were not political.

Anderson, displaying a reprint of a phamphlet which he said had been distributed in Texarkana and which he quoted as referring to President Roosevelt as "the champion spender of all time" and to Rep. Wright Patman (D-Tex) as one "who believes in going into debt," asked Ewart: "Would you regard that as political?"

Declines To Give Opinion

"I wouldn't know. I wouldn't give an opinion on that," Ewart replied.

Ewart and Mrs. Sarah M. Early, employe of the Committee for Constitutional Government's Dallas office, were the only witnesses as the congressional group held a short session.

Asked by Anderson today whether he went to a meting at Texarkana early in the year with J. W. Crenshaw of San Antonio, Ewart said:

"Crenshaw wasn't on the payroll at the time, but he had been corresponding with the New York office and they asked me to take him up there and show him how to conduct a meeting."

Purposes Disputed

(In a hearing of the committee in Washington Oct. 4 Anderson had asserted, and Dr. Edward A. Rumely, secretary of the Committee for Constitutional government denied, that Ewart had been hired because the organization thought he was a god man "to eliminate" Texas Democratic Reps. Rayburn, Patman, Lyndon Johnson, and Luther Johnson.

(Anderson said then that Crenshaw had been hired by the Committee for Constitutional government also "when the primaries were hot.")

Denies Campaign Activity

Anderson asked Ewart whether the Committee for Constitutional Government had used any of the money it had collected in campaigns for representatives, and Ewart answered "no."

He named Houston, Beaumont, Longview, Dallas, El Paso, Amarillo, Wichita Falls, and Fort Worth, as towns to which he had carried committee work.

He testified that the committee was concerned in Texas with promoting contests on the constitution in schools; said the organization had no publicity director in Texas, and that it sponsored radio programs only in connection with quizes on the constitution.

Jap Officer Holds Up Iron Discipline, Even In Surrender

BIAK ISLAND, Dutch New Guinea, (AP) — Outposts guarding an American infantry bivouac in Biak's interior plateau were amazed one morning recently to see a column of eight unarmed Japanese marching briskly toward them across the grass-covered plateau.

The enemy soldiers obviously were in poor condition, starving and weak, but they held themselves erect and in close order, keeping step unfailingly. Their leader, a second lieutenant, saw to that. Discipline to the last.

Lt. Hans Jensen, commander of the forward American element, recounted the incident. "When the column reached our outpost," he said, "the Jap officer saluted smartly an dordered his men to left face. Then he indicated he wanted to surrender."

Offered Cigaret To Jap

During this procedure one of the outpost guards offered a cigaret to one of the Japanese soldiers, who reached for it. Gratefully, relaxing necessarily from strict attention to do so.

"The officer marched down the line until he came to the Jap GI," Jensen said, "and slapped him sharply across the face."

Then the procession moved on in to camp, the enemy officer holding his men as closely in hand as before.

"We issued the Japs a batch of canned food and let them divide it among themselves," Jensen related. "One Jap apparently got hold of an extra can, but he didn't have it for long. The officer went over to him, grabbed the can and beat him on the head with it."

The lieutenant who afterward escorted the Japanese prisoners to regimental headquarters said the officer kept his men in step every inch of the way and, on their arrival, reported in each one individually.

"Whatever future might be in store for him, that guy certainly seemed determined nobody should have any ground to criticize either his conduct or that of his men," he said.

Mexican, U. S. Problems Aired

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12 (AP) — The repatriation of more than 75,000 Mexican agricultural workers now in the United States is one of the main problems being discussed by the Mexican-United States agricultural commission deliberating here, it was disclosed today.

The commission, which was established early this year to promote the development of agriculture in Mexico and the United States along mutually advantageous long-time lines, will hear the reports of a number of sub-committees next Friday, when it will meet fo ra second time.

Reports Planned

Reports will be heard on the investigation and means of controlling diseases of cotton; interchanging of seed and plants; control of fruit flies; and, prospects of the United States market for commodities produced in Mexico.

An official of the United States Department of Agriculture said that the commission will discuss the sale in the United States of such Mexican products as vanilla beans, fresh vegetables, fibers, garlic, pineapples, bananas, cattle feed, onions and coffee.

Other agricultural matters which will be discussed are:

The posible joint action of both countries to control any possible plant and animal diseases; means of improving systems of crop and livestock estimating; and means of training agricultural technicians.

Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12 — A veteran is discharged from the service. He begins his civilian life again. What are some of the main things he should—or must—do? And what about a job?

Here's a list of them, prepared by government agencies:

Draft board:

Under the law he must report to his draft board in person or by letter within five days after his discharge. If he was not previously registered—that is, if he went into military service some way other than through the draft—he must register, too.

Draft Board Prime Contact

His draft board is a prime contact if he has trouble getting back his old job or if he seeks a new one.

Getting old job back:

If he wants the job he had before entering the service, he must apply to his former employer in person or writing within 40 days after his discharge from the service.

And this means he must also be ready to report for work within 40 days unless the boss agrees to let him delay reporting for work.

May Get Old Job Back

If the veteran worked for a private employer or the federal government before entering the service and wants that job back, these are the qualifications:

The job he left must have been permanent, he must have completed his military service satisfactorily, he must still be able to fill the job.

On the other hand: The former employer is required to give the veteran back his job (or its equivalent) if he possibly can, at the same rate of pay and with the same seniority and privileges the veteran previously had, and the veteran can not be fired without cause within one year after reemployment.

If the veteran has any difficulty getting his old job back, he should go to the re-employment committeeman attached to his local draft board. It is through this committeeman that the veteran's re-employment problem, if he has trouble getting his old job back, may finally be taken into U. S. district court without any expense to him.

Getting a new job:

Suppose a veteran doesn't want his old job back but wants a new one. He can tell that to the re-employment committeeman, too. He's to get advice there. Or he should apply directly and promptly to the U. S. Employment service.

In each of the U.S.E.S. offices there is a special veterans' employment representative.

May Get Federal Job

Getting a government job:

If a veteran was a permanent federal Civil Service employe when he went to war, he should apply to the agency where last employed within 40 days after his military discharge.

If he has difficulty getting that job back, he should apply to the Civil Service commission at Washington. But if he satisfies the requirements, he is entitled to his old job back or one of similar seniority and pay.

If he didn't have a federal Civil Service job before entering the armed forces but wants one now, as a veteran he will get special consideration and preference in Civil Service examinations.

HOOD IS PROMOTED

TONOPAH, Nevada — Carl P. Hood, 44, of Lubbock, Tex., was recently promoted here to the grade of sergeant, it was announced by Col. Stanton T. Smith, commanding officer. Cpl. Hood attended high school at Shallowater, Texas, and was a farmer prior to his induction in September 1942. He attended Aircraft Mechanic school at Amarillo, Texas. At present he is a hydraulic landing gear mechanic at the Tonopah Army Air field, Nevada, base of the Fourth Air force.

Sgt. Jas. W. Nelson Awarded Air Medal; Missing In Action

15TH AAF IN ITALY—Sergeant James W. Nelson, 24, son of Mrs. Margaret Nelson, 2212 Fifteenth street, Lubbock, Texas, aerial gunner who has been missing in action since Aug. 22, has been awarded the Air Medal. The announcement was made at a Mediterranean air base by Group Commander, Col. Robert E. L. Eaton, Belleville, Ill.

The official citation reads . . . "for meritorious achievement in aerial flight while participating in sustained operational activities against the enemy."

Arriving overseas in August, Nelson has taken part in bombingattacks on targets at Ploesti, Wiener Neustadt, Linz, Szolnak, Frejus, and Vienna. It was on the attack on enemy under-ground oil storage installations at Vienna, Austria, while flying in the B-24 Liberator "Wolf Wagon, Jr." that Nelson and his crew failed to return to the home base.

Sgt. Nelson, a graduate of Lubbock High school, and former student at Texas Technological college, enlisted in the Army Air Force on July 24, 1942. He received his gunnery training at Lowry Field, Colo., graduating with his wings in December, 1943. Before enlisting he was employed by Furr Food Stores in Lubbock.

Cold Malt Outranks Girls With Yanks

TULSA, Oct. 12 (AP) — The lassies may not like this, but — Red Cross representatives at a South Pacific base, according to a report at headquarters here, polled a group of service men on the question:

"If you could have anything you wanted, what would you ask first?"

The winner, by a big margin — a cold malted milk.

Next in order were (2) a thick juicy steak, (3) the cup that cheers and (4) a beautiful girl.

Jones Says Problem Of Foods Relieved

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12 (AP) — The nation now is past the critical stage for war production, says War Food Administrator Marvin Jones.

"With this year's record of food production, we are safely through that critical period of expanding needs, both for immediate use and reserves, which challenged us at the beginning of the war," Jones said in a statement following issuance of the Oct. 1 crop report.

This year's crops may rank with those of 1942 as the greatest ever produced in this country, the crop reporting board said, unless bad weather interferes with harvesting.

Remarkable new Kraft product!

JUST RESTORE THE WATER TO GET FINE WHOLE MILK!

Not a skim milk . . . Kraft's is a powdered whole milk with uniform cream content! Plus valuable vitamin D! It's easily put back in liquid form . . . giving you delicious milk for every use!

Fine for drinking . . . for cereal and coffee . . . for cooking . . . for infant feeding . . . for every milk use! Uniform cream content

Scientists for 35 years have sought a better way of dehydrating milk—a way that would retain important food values and delicious freshness of flavor. Now they have succeeded . . .

Kraft Powdered Whole Milk—the result of a new and exclusive process—is available at your grocer's, ready for daily use in your home.

Kraft Powdered Whole Milk is not a milk substitute. It is made from fresh, pasteurized milk from fine dairy herds. The water has been removed and valuable vitamin D has been added.

Easy to prepare—as you need it

To prepare this powdered milk for use is quick as 1-2-3. There are two bags in each box. Each bag makes one quart of milk. You simply restore the water that has been removed. Shake well in a quart jar. Put it in your refrigerator to chill. And serve it cold just as you would milk from the dairy. You will find that the youngsters love it.

Use it for drinking . . . for making tender biscuits, muffins, cookies, cakes, bread . . . for rich custards and cream sauce . . . for every milk use.

Kraft Powdered Whole Milk gives you the important food values for which milk is noted—complete, high-quality protein; calcium and phosphorus (those precious milk minerals); food energy; vitamin B_2 (riboflavin), plus 400 units of vitamin D in every quart you make.

And Kraft Powdered Whole Milk is so convenient. You can always have a supply on hand since it keeps well on your pantry shelf.

Don't delay your trial of this delicious milk. Discover how thriftily and conveniently you can now have in your home all the milk your family needs. You can get it at leading local food stores. Look for it.

Lowland Kids Create 'Booby Traps' To Ensnare Gum, Candy

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

WITH AMERICAN TROOPS In Belgium, Oct. 7. (Delayed)—The greatest "booby traps" in Belgium were not those left by the Germans. They are those created by Dutch and Belgium kids to ensnare the candy and chewing gum of American troops.

The younger generation in these two small countries has set out to corral all the sweets and cigarets in the pockets of the American army and the kids know more ways to levy tribute than Robin Hood and Jesse James put together.

This is how they operate against the defenseless troops:

You are driving along a road wondering how the St. Louis Browns ever got into a World Series when you pass a little girl about seven years old holding up a basket of ripe tomatoes and shouting "Vive les Americains."

Pass By Politely

You don't stop—whoever stopped an automobile to consume anything as revolting as a tomato?—so you pass on politely bellowing "Vive les Belges." About 75 feet farther on you pass a small boy holding up "free" apples.

You sweep past him and then come to a little girl holding up a bottle of wine and a glass. Somehow your jeep wobbles over and halts—right in front of the bottle.

The little girl pours you a glass and watches closely as you lift it to your lips. The second you drink it she lets out a wail—and the fields become black with scores of small boys and girls rushing in for the kill. You are in debt now and fair game.

Jeep Buckles Under Weight

"Bonbon! Chocolate! Shooing gwum! Cigaret pour papa! They chant as the jeep begins to buckle under the weight of their swaying bodies. Little hands clutch at your necktie, paw at your jacket, thump your musette bag, pat your pockets.

There is no refusal, no escape. You claw frantically through your trousers and your pack, grabbing everything edible to silence the clamor of this sub-teen-age human wolf pack. You fling candy and cigarets as far as possible and when the kids sweep away to retrieve them, you scrape the last little yelling monster off your scalp, heave him overboard and make a break for the open road.

Brother, you've had it! You pause for a free drink from a gallant little alley and you are lucky to get away with your jeep. No one can come out ahead of the younger generation in these parts.

Berlin-Stockholm Phone Service Cut

STOCKHOLM, Oct. 12 (AP)—The newspaper Stockholm Stidningen declared today that telephone communication between Berlin and Stockholm had been interrupted by the German Gestapo because a new opposition group composed of army officers was trying to establish contact with Allied legations in Stockholm through industrial representatives.

The newspaper said all those suspected by the Gestapo now were believed arrested. It did not cite the authority for its statements.

Telephone communication between Berlin and Stockholm ceased last Saturday after heavy Allied air raids on the German capital.

Records indicate that an organized system of shorthand was used as far back as 63 B. C.

Service Vote May Decide 11 States

NEW YORK, Oct. 12 (AP)—The soldier vote may decide the election in at least 11 states—including the five with the largest number of electoral votes.

It may be the margin of victory in New York, Pennsylvania, Illinois, California and Ohio, which cast a combined vote of 160 in the Electoral College, as well as in Colorado, Kentucky, Maryland, Minnesota, Oregon and Rhode Island. The last six have a total of 46 electoral votes.

Thus G.I. Joe and his sister in arms, an Associated Press survey indicates, already are casting the ballots which may determine whether 206 of the 531 electoral votes will go to President Roosevelt or to Gov. Thomas E. Dewey.

Pluralities Sometimes Small

Three times since 1904 the winner's plurality has been less than 206. In 1916 it was 23.

Election officials and party leaders in each of the 11 states except New York have expressed the opinion that the military vote may be decisive. In New York the figures speak for themselves:

Nearly 590,000 New York service men and women have applied for ballots. Republican estimates of the number who actually will vote range up to 400,000. Even Democrats most critical of New York's soldier vote system, which does not provide for the federal ballot, agree that well over 200,000 G.I. votes will be cast. Nearly 167,000 had been returned a month before election day.

Margins As Close As 1,149

Roosevelt's New York state plurality in 1940 was 224,440. Herbert Hoover's in 1928 was 103,481. The margins run as close as Grover Cleveland's 1,149 in 1884. And as late as 1938 Dewey lost his first campaign for the New York governorship by less than 65,000 votes.

Pennsylvania, where Democrats and Republicans collaborated on drawing up a soldier vote plan, expects some 180,000 military ballots—more than enough, Gov. Edward Martin has said, to swing the election.

Illinois' Secretary of State Richard Yates Rowe looks for 350,000 soldier votes—"enough," he says, "to win or lose any election, and particularly important this year in a close race."

From Ohio's Secretary of State Edward J. Hummel, who declined to estimate how many service persons from his state might vote, comes a statement that 125,000 soldier votes "might easily decide the election." Nearly 120,000 already have been received.

Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan says absentee votes in his state, California, "could easily swing the election." Californians in the service have requested some 275,000 ballots.

The situation in California and Pennsylvania underscores the possibility, suggested in a previous A. P. survey, that in the event of a close election the result might not be known for some time after Nov. 7. Pennsylvania counts its soldier votes Nov. 22, California two days later.

strike and the greatest mass raid on the Balikpapan refineries. They have a 3,000,000 barrel capacity and produce 15 per cent of Japan's aviation gasoline and lubricating oil.

And it would be the first use of fighter escorts in Balikpapan raids. The nearest American air base is at Morotai, 825 miles to the northeast. Tokyo asserted 25 bombers and seven fighters were shot down.

Refineries, Airdromes Hit

Gen. Douglas MacArthur said night-flying Liberators attacked the refineries and nearby airdromes for four hours Sunday.

Six more barges trying to reinforce remnants of the Japanese garrison on Morotai were sunk. In two days MacArthur has announced the sinking or damaging of 24 such would-be rescue craft.

The new islet occupied in the Yanks' northward march through the Palau group is 9½ miles northeast of Peleliu, where a Japanese ammunition dump was exploded among Nipponese still holding out. A total of 12,470 Japanese have been killed at Palau.

Drive In China Renewed

Japanese armies trying to cut China in two before amphibious American forces land on the continent, renewed their pincer drive toward the Liuchow-Kweilin area of Southeast China.

A new offensive was launched 25 miles north of Kweilin, rubble-strewn defense center of Kwangsi province. If the Japanese break through Kweilin would be open for a frontal attack or the Nipponese could by-pass it to drive on Liuchow, and the sole remaining advanced U. S. air base, from the north.

Hard fighting was reported 70 miles southeast of Liuchow where the invaders had driven to within nine miles of Kweiping.

Decision In Thomas Case Being Weighed

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12 (AP) — The supreme court had under advisement today arguments for and against Texas legislation requiring paid labor union organizers to register with the secretary of the state before soliciting for members.

Validity of the statute is questioned by R. J. Thomas, Detroit, a CIO vice president and head of the United Automobile Workers. Thomas was adjudged in contempt of court for violating a Texas court's order enjoining him from soliciting for members without registering and obtaining an organizer's card. He was sentenced to three days' imprisonment and fined $100.

The supreme court heard arguments in the case last May but later called for reargument and asked attorneys to provide answers to a series of questions.

The reargument was held yesterday and the supreme court justices fired dozens of questions at attorneys for Texas, the CIO and the National Labor Relations board.

will not be called in unless the weather is perfect for visual bombing. American troops are dug in too close around the city to run any risks.

Divebombers, Artillery Busy

Meanwhile Aachen was gradually being destroyed by artillery and U. S. Ninth airforce divebombers.

Thunderbolts and Lightnings dropped more than 100 tons of bombs on the city in five hours yesterday afternoon without the loss of a plane. One pilot said he saw a 10-story building crumble under two direct hits. Others reported great fires burning in the heart o fthe city.

RAF heavies were sent out late yesterday to crack the sea wall around Walcheren island, off the Dutch coast, for the third time. They breached the dike on the east side, making the escape of flood-trapped German troops virtually impossible.

Allegiance Pledge Ruling Handed Down

AUSTIN, Oct. 12 (U.P.) — The name of Col. James E. Taylor of Kerens may be placed on the ballot Nov. 7 as a candidate for state Senator without the usual affidavit of allegiance, the attorney general's department had ruled today.

Col. Taylor is serving overseas. The opinion said the oath is not required in special elections. The election, though on the same day as the general election, is a separate one to name a successor to the late Sen. Clay Cotten of Palestine.

Idalou Man's Death Is Reported Here

William Knowles, about 42, farmer near Idalou several years, died Wednesday afternoon of spinal meningitis in a hospital at Brady or Mason, Edgar E. Gray, Lubbock county jailer and a friend of the family, said today.

Knowles was on a fishing trip when he became ill. Gray said he understood he was taken to a hospital either in Brady or Mason The body will be sent to Idalou. Survivors are his wife and mother.

Movies' Labor Riff Certified To WLB

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 12 (AP) — Film union leaders were informed today the National War Labor board had assumed jurisdiction in a dispute between two AFL unions which resulted in a walkout of more than 600 workers at five studios.

The case was immediately certified to the 10th regional War Labor board. Gene L. Green, disputes director for the board, sent a telegram to the unions, stating that as soon as the employes returned to work the board would commence action to adjudicate the case.

Edward Mussa, business representative of local 1421, screen set designers, illustrators and decorators, told reporters that employes involved would be asked to comply with the board request.

Set decorators, painters and machinists started walking out last Thursday and in five days the work stoppage spread to include thoes employes at Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, Columbia, Paramount, Warner Bros., and 20th Century-Fox.

Sailor Took Over, Husband Testifies

PASADENA, Calif., Oct. 12. (U.P.) — Businessman Robert D. McCurdy was put out, he testified in securing a divorce, when he returned from a trip to find all his gasoline coupons used up.

He was further put out, he said, the first time he went to a service station after the trip.

"What are you doing with that car?" the attendant asked. "It belongs to a sailor."

When McCurdy protested, the attendant cited proof.

"He comes in here every night with his girl friend."

Star's Cook Sues; Says He Was Shot

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 12 (U.P.) — Even in pre-war days, you couldn't shoot a cook, Emerson Robinson maintained today in asking $15,000 from actress Teresa Wright for a wound suffered at the hands of her 11-year-old stepson, Peter.

The actress' cook said Miss Wright gave the boy a .22-caliber rifle and a soldier suit. Soon thereafter, the boy shot Robinson in the arm while conducting small scale war games in the kitchen.

Peter is the son of Producer Niven Busch.

Power Of Delegate

bodied in the treaty.

Questions Answered

The Connally-Austin views were presented in special articles in "World Affairs," quarterly publication of the American peace society.

Discussing war and peace policies in their party platforms, Connally and Austin answered these questions:

1. What power shall the American delegate on the new Security Council have for committing American forces which would be allocated for the use of the council?

2. Should he return to Congress each time for instructions on how to vote?

Their answer to both questions is that Congress must decide. Both hope that the answer to the second question will be "no."

Connally and Austin said that the United States will have sole authority to decide how the American delegate will be selected and on whose authority he will vote.

Schoolboys Face Big Week Of Title Play

LUBBOCK EVENING JOURNAL
SPORTS

Sweetwater To Meet Midland

(By The United Press)

With 86 of the state's 105 class AA teams ni action this week-end —68 of them in conference play— the Texas Interscholastic league moves into its first big week of title competition wiht several major inter-district titles involved.

Two of the title games bring together undefeated, untied teams and should narrow the list of perfect record elevens to at least 15. These games send Brackenridge of San Antonio to Kerrville in district 15 and Midland to Sweetwater in district 3.

Normon, Okla., At Amarillo

Sharing the spotlight with the Brackenridge-Kerrville and Midland-Sweetwater games are such non-title games as Norman, Okla., at Amarillo and Sherman at Highland Park.

Other important conference games will find Electra at Childress in district 2; Abilene at Odessa in district 3; Austin of El Paso versus Bowie of El Paso in district 4; Sunset of Dallas versus Crozier Tech of Dallas in district 8; Marshall at Kilgore in district 11; Galveston at Orange in district 14, and Brownsville at Kingsville in district 16.

The schedule, by district, (all games Friday unless otherwise noted):

1. Norman, Okla., at Amarillo.
2. Hollis, Okla., at Vernon, Electra at Childress, Graham at Wichita Falls, Quanah at Olney.
3. Abilene at Odessa, Big Spring at Lamesa, Midland at Sweetwater.
4. Roswell, N. M., at Ysleta, Austin of El Paso at Bowie of El Paso, El Paso High at Carlsbad, N. M.
5. Bonham at Gainesville, Denton at Paris, Arlington at Denison.
6. Sherman at Highland Park, Plano at McKinney.
7. Today: Arlington Heights of Fort Worth vs. North Side of Fort Worth; Fort Worth Tech vs. Fort Worth Poly; Saturday: Paschal of Fort Worth vs. Riverside of Fort Worth.
8. Today: Adamson of Dallas vs. North Dallas; Woodrow Wilson of Dallas vs. Forest of Dallas; Saturday: Sunset of Dallas vs. Crozier Tech of Dallas.
9. Weatherford at Stephenville, Cisco at Mineral Wells.
10. Waco at Hillsboro, Ennis at Bryan, Waxahachie at Cleburne, Jeff Davis of Houston at Temple.
11. Tyler at Gladewater, Texarkana at Lonsview, Marshall at Kilgore, Corsicana at Athens.
12. Nacogdoches at Palestine, Grapeland at Jacksonville, Henderson at Livingston.
13. Today: Sam Houston of Houston vs. Milby of Houston; Reagan of Houston vs. S. F. Austin of Houston; Saturday: Lufkin at Lamar of Houston, San Jacinto at St. Thomas of Houston.
14. Port Neches at Goose Creek, Conroe at Fort Arthur, South Park of Beaumont vs. French of Beaumont, Galveston at Orange; Saturday: St. Anthony of Beaumont vs. Beaumont High.
15. Brackenridge of San Antonio at Kerrville, Laredo at Austin; San Antonio Tech at Corpus Christi, McAllen at Thomas Jefferson of San Antonio.
16. Donna at Edinburg, Robstown at San Benito, Brownsville at Kingsville.

Tahoka Pups Rally To Tie Reds, 13-13

Striking with lightning speed in the fourth quarter, the Tahoka Pups staged a Dick Merriwell finish Wednesday afternoon at Chapman field to tie Coach Parker's Lubbock Cowboys' Reds, in a 13-13 thriller.

It was little Joe Minor, a husky baby brother of Tahoka's famed Max Minor, and Finis Botkin that teamed together to stage their great comeback drive after trailing from early in the ball game.

The Reds took an early lead when Silas Ussery got away to return a punt 80 yards and the first score of the game. Ussery then passed to Jimmy Martin for the extra point. In the second period Martin plunged over from four yards out for the second touchdown, and a pass failed for the extra point.

What seemed like a comfortable lead was washed out in the final period when the Minor-Botkin combination started clicking. Minor set up the first score with a brilliant 55 yard gallop to place the ball on the Reds' 10 yard line, and Botkin went over from there for the touchdown. Minor ran it over for the extra point.

Just before the game ended, Botkin shook loose again and roared 65 yards down the field to reach pay dirt and tie the score.

Techsans To Leave Friday For Oklahoma

Raiders' Hopes Fade; Costin Bufkin To Miss Tulsa Game

The outlook for the improved, but non-winning Texas Tech Red Raiders was none too bright today as the team prepares to leave for Tulsa to battle the veteran Tulsa Golden Hurricanes of Coach Henry Frnka without the services of Costin Bufkin, star freshman back from Hobbs, N. M.

The report of doctors Wednesday night that Bufkin had suffered a broken rib in the Oklahoma Aggie game last week only added to the ebony hue of the outlook. Bufkin will be out of the Tulsa game, and will also miss the Southwestern game here the following week, but hopes to be in shape for the West Texas State Teachers college battle the following week at Amarillo.

Scored On Aggies

Bufkin is the flashy running backfield star from Hobbs, New Mexico, who scored the lone Red Raider touchdown against the high powered Oklahoma Aggies last week on a wide sweep around end after taking a lateral pass from T. M. Cox to start him on the 34 yard journey to pay dirt.

Three more freshmen stars are battling for the berth on the starting lineup, vacated by the injury to Bufkin, and just who will start at the right halfback post remains unknown. Right now, Cecil Norris, the Beaumont lad, appears to have the inside track for the starting job.

Three-Way Scrap

Bobby Barron, Big Spring speedster, has been shifted to the position from quarterback, and is staging a merry scrap with Norris and Tom Montgomery, the Ozona youngster, but all three will likely see plenty of service at this position against Tulsa.

Scrimmage sessions that took up most of the first two days of the week, were dropped Wednesday and the Red Raiders worked only on defense and punting. Coach Morgan began to set the defense to be used by the Raiders against Tulsa plays, and worked with pass defense.

The Red Raiders will leave early Friday morning for Tulsa, stopping in Edmond, Oklahoma, for an evening workout and supper before pushing on to Tulsa. They plan to reach Tulsa Friday night.

Morgan plans to name the traveling squad today, and hinted at possible changes in the starting lineup.

Cowhands' Gold To Play Lamesa Today

Coach Marlin "Shorty" Haynurst announced Wednesday night that his Cowhands' Gold team would be ready this afternoon at 4 o'clock when they kickoff with the Lamesa B team at Chapman field.

Coach "Gob" Fitzgerald's Lamesa Breezes blow into town, seeking to reap revenge for the defeat handed their "big brothers" last week at Lamesa.

The Cowhands opened the season on the short end of a 0-13 score with the Seagraves powerhouse, then battled a veteran Meadow club to a scoreless deadlock. Last week, the Golds outscored a rugged Petersburg eleven for a 20-12 victory.

Just what lineup the Breezes will present against the Golds remains very much in doubt, but reports from Lamesa indicate they have a very promising group of youngsters out for the team.

Another Lubbock schoolboy eleven that will be in action today will be Coach Russell Wimberley's Cowboys, the Whites, who invade Sundown to seek some revenge on their own part. Sundown defeated Coach Barrett's Blues last week by a 12 to 0 score, and a good battle is in prospect for Sundown fans.

Cowboy Blues Defeat Petersburg, 12-0

Coach Curtis Barrett's Lubbock Cowboys, Blue team, piled up an early two-touchdown lead Wednesday afternoon at Petersburg, then coasted in with a 12 to 0 victory over the Petersburg Juniors.

Arlen Trice broke loose on the first play from scrimmage in the ball game, and roamed 74 yards down field for a touchdown, and a lead that was never headed off.

The Cowboys opened a dazzling overhead attack in the second quarter, and Billy Tatum fired seven straight completed passes to Tommy Cleer to reach the Petersburg 19 yard line. From that point the attack suddenly shifted to the ground and Parker Stewart spun through the line to cakewalk to the touchdown.

There was no scoring in the second half, and the powerful Lubbock line bottled up the Petersburg attack to the point of allowing only three first and tens. Kallas and Watkins, a pair of big tackles, and Jimmy Bass, a guard, played the leading roles in the Cowboy forward wall.

'Fullback' Is Born To Berl Huffmans

"It's a fullback" at the home of Capt. and Mrs. Burl Huffman at their home at Kessler Field, Miss., it was learned here yesterday upon receipt of a telegram from Capt. Huffman.

Capt. Huffman, coach of the Kessler Field Flyers, was an assistant coach in football and basketball coach at Texas Tech prior to entering the services, and Mrs. Huffman was physical education instructor at Texas Tech.

No weights were announced on the new fullback, but Huffman reported "mother and fullback both doing nicely."

Laundry's Bowlers In Tie For Lead

Sweeping three straight wins over Meads Bakery, the Hub Laundry bowling five moved into a tie for first place with Armour's as the leaders were winning only two games from S. & Q. Clothiers in the City-Commercial league race Wednesday night.

In other games, the Lions club won two from the Optimists while DeKalb Oilers were taking a pair from Coca-Cola.

Some fancy scoring punch was fired down the runways during the night with Glen Welch of Armour's and J. A. Peel of the Laundrymen, splitting the honors. Peel topped the scoring for a single game with 246 pins, while Welch's best of the night was a 242, but Welch ended up the night with the best series with 650 pins to 642 for Peel.

Westerners At Ease For Week

The Lubbock Westerners, riding on the crest of an undefeated season through the first four games, are taking it easy this week while taking a well deserved rest before starting into the grind of one more tuneup, then the always tough conference play.

There remains one more non-conference battle, and the fifth against District 3-AA foes, before the team opens fire on District 1-AA teams with a battle on the home grid with the pass minded Plainview Bulldogs.

Play Abilene Oct. 21

The remaining non-conference game will be played Saturday, Oct. 21, at Abilene, and looms now as perhaps one of the toughest tests of the season for the Westerners.

The date of the game at Abilene has been changed to a Saturday night, and will offer the Westerners one more day to prepare a defense for the big, and rugged Eagles.

Abilene started the season with a pair of losses, but held such schoolboy powerhouses as the Breckenridge Lobos and the Amarillo Golden Sandies to low scores, losing the first by the close 9-7 count and to Amarillo by only 12-0, then last week slapped around a rather potent Brownwood eleven, 41 to 20, with reserves playing a large part of the ball game, and giving up all the scores.

Colds, Boils Attack

With the rest this week, the Westerners hope to be in the best condition since the start of the season, when they play at Abilene. The club has been battling against a siege of colds this week, and little Noel Sikes was still out Wednesday. Stoney Wall has been having a battle with boils, an ailment that struck earlier in the year at George Brewer and Charles Pressley, and still has Brewer playing with a bandaged neck.

District 1-AA teams as a rule seemed to shy away from the Friday-thirteenth date, and only one team in action this week, the Amarillo Sandies playing host to the Norman, Oklahoma, eleven.

The district race will get underway the following week with Borger playing Amarillo in the starter, and on the eve of the start of league games in the Panhandle-Plains district, the conference battle looms as a four or five team battle with Amarillo, Lubbock, Plainview, Pampa and Brownfield all very muchly counted in the running.

Randolph Is Among Texas' All-Time Best

HOUSTON, Oct. 12. (U.P.)—The Randolph Field Fliers, latest in a long line of superlative football teams in Texas, may go down as one of the greatest of them all, their supporters insisted today.

Even for enthusiastic Texans that is saying a lot, because the state traditionally produces at least one great team every year. However, in this current wartime season no other eleven hereabouts appears capable of topping the Fliers, who have an awesome collection of ex-collegiate and pro stars from every part of the nation.

Proof of the strength of the Fliers is the fact that they could lose an all-around backfield ace like Glenn Dobbs and never miss him. Dobbs, who first gained notoriety at Tulsa, and who sparked the Fliers through their successful 1943 season, now is starring with the Super-bombers, but he isn't needed at Randolph.

Dudley Key Man

Key man with Randolph now is big Bill Dudley, all-America back for Virginia in 1941 and all-pro star with the Pittsburgh Steelers in 1942. In many ways he is considered an improvement over Dobbs, principally because of his pro experience.

Next on the list is Southern Methodist which opposes the Ramblers in a game at San Antonio Saturday night. Randolph is expected to hand the unbeaten Mustangs the same kind of a beating administered to the others.

Other games on the program Saturday include Oklahoma against Texas at Dallas in the annual "cow country" classic, Texas A. & M. vs. Louisiana State at Baton Rouge, La., Norman Naval vs. Arkansas at Fayetteville, Ark., Texas Tech vs. Tulsa at Tulsa, Okla., and West Texas State Teachers vs. Amarillo AAF at Amarillo.

First rubber raincoats were worn by South American Indians, who smeared their bodies with liquid rubber.

Levelland Underdog For 5-A Feature Tilt Friday Night With Littlefield Wildcats

LEVELLAND, Oct. 12. (Special)—The Levelland Lobos face the Littlefield Wildcats steamroller here Friday night in the game picked as the tops on the District 5-A schedule, with the Lobos as a decided underdog.

Gone are such powerful stars as Murphey, Houser, Byerley and others who made the bite of the Lobos dreaded last season, and only four of the 1943 district winners are left, and these are in the line.

Levelland has shown a rugged defensive ball club that may, at least, slow down the steamroller Friday night. Levelland's returning veterans are Alfred Bickman, Billy Vardeman, Glynn Mears and Orville Zickefoose, and around these lads will be built the defense for the "Stalingrad stand."

The Lobos opened the season with a loss to Denver City's powerful Mustangs, 7-0, then booted a field goal to nose out Floydada, 3-0, for the year's lone win. Tahoka's powerful Bulldogs and the power-packed Brownfield Cubs each handed defeats to the Lobos by two touchdown margins.

At the same time, the Littlefield eleven has amassed an undefeated, untied record for the season, and scored 123 points to only 13 for their opponents. The Wildcats have knocked over Dimmitt, 25-6, Sudan, 14-7, then hit their scoring stride with wins over Morton, 44-0, and over Olton, 40-0.

The Lobos, however, have been rated as the team most likely to prove a stumbling block for the Wildcats, the season's best crowd is expected to turn out for Friday's battle.

SUGAR FOR PYLE

BOSTON, (U.P.) — Reading of war correspondent Ernie Pyle's sour life at the front without sugar, Boston City Hospital nurses made a practice of putting leftover sugar into a box, saying, "This is one for Ernie." The hoard never reached him, however, because the ship on which it was sent was torpedoed in the northern Atlantic.

Central Ward Downs Wilson Wranglers

The Lubbock grade school touch football conference race opened Wednesday afternoon at Dupre playgrounds with an overflow crowd watching the Central Ward Spurs nose out the Wilson Wranglers, 2 to 0.

The kicking of James Hayes, big barefooted kicker, kept the Wranglers backed into the hole throughout most of the game, and Gene Welch smashed through to block a punt which bonded out of bounds for an automatic safety and the winning margin. Don Jones, Spur's passing artist, also showed up well with his southpaw pitches.

The Dean Bronchos and Hunts Pioneer play their openers today, while the Dupree Dogies and the Sanders Steers play the feature game on Friday.

Frenship And Idalou Cagers To Clash

IDALOU, Oct. 12 (Special)—The Idalou High school basketball teams will entertain the Frenship cagers in a trio of games here Friday night with the boys A and B teams and the girls teams taking the floor. The games start at 7:30 o'clock.

The same three clubs will journey to Shallowater the following Friday night.

Dennings also announced that the Idalou High school invitation tournament would be held again this season, and dates were set for Jan. 19 and 20. It was also announced that Stumpy Hamilton, of Lubbock, would officiate at the tournament.

Don't Keep Your Folks In the DARK

There's no reason for empty sockets or poor home lighting today. Most electrical dealers now have lamp bulbs in all common home sizes. You can "light up" at low cost, and make sure that everyone in the house has proper illumination.

Of course, you need more than bulbs to produce the proper light for easy, comfortable seeing. Check up on these points as well:

Keep bulbs free of dust and dirt. Keep reflector bowls and shades clean.

Put the right size bulb in each lamp or fixture.

If possible, have white linings in your lamp shades, to reflect more usable light.

Move lamps closer to points of use, so they shed more light directly on the work. In rearranging lamps, you may also be able to make them serve two people, and so increase their usefulness.

Your family needs good light, for the long evenings of fall and winter. Make sure they get it. Sight is priceless—light is cheap.

Dealey Rounds Out 70 Years With News

DALLAS, Oct. 12 (AP) — When G. B. Dealey finished his day's work Wednesday he rounded out 70 years continuous connection with the oldest business institution in Texas.

Dealey, 85, chairman of the board of the Dallas Morning News, worked his usual eight-hour day. His only concession to celebration was to have lunch with a group of newspaper friends and recount some of his early experiences. At 15 he started as an office boy with the Galveston News, parent newspaper of the Dallas publication.

His motto is: Stick to the job. In the News building are numerous pictures of Davy Crockett, reminders of Crockett's motto: Be sure you're right, then go ahead.

It is best when ironing blouses and shirts to iron cuffs and sleevs first, then the collar, then from one side of the front around to the other side.

THE LONE RANGER — FAMILY REUNION — BY FRAN STRIKER

DONALD DUCK — SPUDS IS SPUDS! — By WALT DISNEY

That Girl on Broadway says the happiest couples are those who are the most forgiving—and the less for getting.

Sitting on top of the world isn't such a hot idea. Consider the Eskimos!

DO not be surprised if the near future finds several innovations in the handling of buses on Lubbock city streets. Members of the City commission have some ideas along this line; so have J. A. Fortenberry and Ray Farmer, who have the bus franchise.

Some of the city dads are of the opinion that the City Bus depot should either be moved to some less central point, or done away with altogether. They point out that it causes quite a traffic problem for all the city buses to converge—from time to time and sometimes several at once—on the Avenue J and Main street intersection.

The bus operators, however, insist that the central bus depot is a service to a great many people and should be continued.

For our part, we believe in "the greatest good to the greatest number," therefore, we hope the central bus depot will be continued.

The Plainsman does not ride a bus a half dozen times a month, but he knows that the buses daily haul around 14,000 passengers and that around 4,000 of them use the central bus depot as a place for getting off or on buses and/or as a place of transfer.

While the big buses may cause some inconvenience to a few motorists and pedestrians on the Avenue J and Main street corner, they bring a convenience to many thousands more of our people.

For that reason, we string along with the central depot idea.

MR. FORTENBERRY outlined to The Plainsman awhile back about some improvements he should like to see brought about, not only for the benefit of the bus company, but for its patrons as well.

Pointing out that he and Mr. Farmer anticipate paying the city a greater franchise fee—and saying they are perfectly willing to do so—Mr. Fortenberry said they hope, in return, that the city will modernize its traffic control, as it applies to buses, so that currently unsatisfactory conditions may be eliminated.

For instance, Mr. Fortenberry points out:

Lubbock does not have a single "bus stop" area—outside the 40 feet or so adjacent to the depot on Avenue J. On the various downtown corners where buses stop to permit passengers to get off and on, there's no provision made. Other cities (in fact all that we know anything about) have such arrangements which aid bus patrons and, at the same time, are a safety factor. In Lubbock, the bus passenger jumps on or off, as the case may be, with little safeguard.

Also, the buses swing in on the right on the far corners of each block to take on and disembark passengers. Then, if a turn has to be made, the big buses have to swing toward the middle of the street, make their turns from the far right, which is an undeniable traffic hazard. Mr. Fortenberry would like to see "safety zones" painted off in the downtown areas, as they are in other cities, to permit passengers to get on and off in the middle of the street, other traffic being held up for their protection.

He may be right about this, but we believe this situation could best be taken care of by the purloining of a leaf from New York's notebook. In the Big Town, bus stops are on the far right-hand corner of the intersection, rather than on the near corner, as is the case in Lubbock. This is a safety factor of no mean proportions and is just as convenient for the bus patron.

What should be done to modernize Lubbock's bus traffic is, of course, a matter of opinion.

However, something should be done to eliminate our archaic system.

Whether we like it, or not, Lubbock is rapidly nosing into the city class. A lot of people are riding buses and while Victory will cut the total somewhat—when more gasoline and rubber are available—we'll always have a sizeable percentage of our people using the public transportation system.

A better method of handling buses will not only aid bus patrons and the operators, but the rest of us, as well.

WHETHER the newly arrived band at Lubbock Army Air Field will rank in public esteem with the one it succeeds is as yet anybody's guess. Certainly, if it does it will be plenty good. CWO George Attridge's aggregation was a humdinger, as thousands in this area readily will testify.

Looking over the roster of the new band, however, The Plainsman finds that many of the new musicians have impressive backgrounds. Its leader, CWO Ashley Miller, is a former NBC staff pianist in New York, was trained in the Institute of Musical Art and the Julliard Graduate school, both in New York. He plays the organ, too, and composes as well as conducts the band, the 16-piece dance orchestra and the 5-man string ensemble.

S/Sgt. John W. Daniel, trombonist who doubles on the violin, played with Kay Kyser and Les Brown in civilian life; Cornetist Morris Taksier played with Del Courtney; Horn-tooter George Cioce played in the orchestras of Red Norvo, Little Jack Little and Meyer Davis.

Cpl. Martin Bolinger, who doubles on the saxophone and clarinet and is the band's drum major, worked with Sammy Kaye, Joe Venuti and Woody Herman. 1st Sgt. Bob Goebert, trumpeter, was with Jimmy James and, after the war, expects to complete his work on a Master of Music degree, already well started. Cpl. John E. Segro, former theatrical director for the "Ink Spots," played with Paul Whiteman and in the Philadelphia Symphony. He doubles on the sax and violin and is leader of the sinfonietta.

A number of the other musicians have had symphony experience and nearly all of them have years of professional experience behind them.

The other day, thanks to Mrs. W. E. Lovelace, of Morton, we discovered that the First Baptist church in that Cochran county capital has a baptistry decorated by one of its members—Mrs. Roy Hill.

The scene, Mrs. Lovelace tells us, is done in oils and is quite beautiful. She says Mrs. Hill has had little formal instruction in painting, but her natural talents enable her to do very fine work.

IT LOOKS as though we women need our men to come home and give us an idea of the realities of war.

MILLETT

In Kansas citizens have complained that farmers' wives are treating prisoners of war too kindly.

It is reported that some of the farmers' wives have mended the clothes of war prisoners working on their husbands' farms, have baked them cookies in appreciation for work well done, and the practice of chauffering the prisoners back to camp after a hard day in the fields was common until the commanding officer of the prison camp involved put his foot down on such pampering.

EASY TO SYMPATHIZE

BECAUSE no bombs have fallen on America it is easy for the women who come in contact with Nazi prisoners to begin to think, "Why, after all, they are just homesick boys."

But American boys who have fought the Nazis know them for what they are. It is too bad they don't come home and tell their families.

Because it is beginning to look as though the civilian attitude toward our enemies is going to be as soft-hearted and sentimental once the war is won as it was after the last war.

You couldn't dream up a much more incongruous picture than that of a farmer's wife chauffering a Nazi prisoner back to his camp, the prisoner cozily holding the wife's child on his lap, at the very moment when American soldiers are fighting their way into Germany. War has little reality for us when things like that can happen.

Today's Journal Editorial

AROUND THE CORNER: "THE GLASS AGE"

Glass, like the water we drink and the air we breathe, is accepted by most of us as a material which is both natural and unchanging. This, of course, is not true.

In the first place, as we all realize after briefest contemplation, glass is a product of manufacture, just as are steel, aluminum and alloyed copper, silver and gold. In the second place, glass is not unchanging. Since its inception, generations ago, it has been improved, its uses expanded.

Although glass can be and is being used in many new ways now, the peaceful years to come will see that material employed in many other ways—ways here-to-fore undreamed of by the general public.

The glass industry is preparing to capitalize on two distinct improvements in its product—tinting and hardness. Colors have been added scientifically that admit or filter ultra-violet, infra-red and other rays, a feature which will be highly valuable to hospitals and the producers of fluoroscopes.

Thin panels may now be produced which have all of the characteristics of heavy plate of previous years, which will be an advantage in small, as well as large windows.

Most people are already familiar with the use of glass brick in the partial construction of both homes and business buildings. But the post-war era very likely will see whole structures made of this material, instead of only partial walls as has been the case to date. Many homes, too, will have sun rooms, or "sun parlors," through which will stream natural sunlight from which the glass will "strain" the burn and by which a sun bather may remain indoors, yet secure for his body all the health-giving elements without running the risk of painful "scorching."

All sorts of "tricks," too, will be offered through the use of glass—such as store fronts which may be raised and lowered to give different tinting to windows. For decorative purposes, also, much use will be made of glass.

From every angle, the glass industry—usually thought of as a dull and colorless business—will become glamorized, its services expanded. True, glass likely never will replace brick, mortar, lumber and steel as a building material but it will encroach greatly upon the uses of those factors.

Jap War Lords, Merchant Princes At Odds

Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON
Special Correspondent

BATON ROUGE, La., Oct. 12.—Through uncensored diplomatic sources, the inside story of the fall of the Tojo cabinet has just been received. It indicates the increasing difficulties the Japs have been experiencing. Also it indicates more and more friction between the Jap war lords and the Jap merchant princes, both now jockeying for power.

To some extent the row inside Japan has had its parallel in the feud between the U. S. Army and Navy and certain $1-a-year men in the War Production board.

PEARSON

News is so censored out of Japan that the true picture is hard to get. But, according to this authentic report, Admiral Tojo's overthrow as premier resulted not only from military defeat but from his inability to control the giant Jap cartels — Mitsui, Mitsubishi, Sumitomo and Yasuda. These firms were founded by the merchant princes of Japan after Admiral Perry opened Japan's doors to the outside world, in 1854. They own shipyards, steel plants, munitions factories, steamship lines, department stores — almost every major industry in Nippon.

About three months before Pearl Harbor, Japan formed the "New Economic Structure." Most U. S. and British commentators got the idea that this was a plan whereby the Jap military ruled over business. Actually it was just the reverse.

SUPER-CARTELS

THE New Economic Structure set up a series of super-cartels or control associations. Theoretically, these control associations were public organizations embracing an entire industry and responsible to the Ministry of Commerce and Industry. But in reality the executives of big industry were given the key jobs in the control associations, somewhat as $1-a-year men have supervised their own industries in the War Production board.

For instance, the man appointed to head the iron and steel control association was Hachisaburo Hirao, a Mitsubishi man, formerly president of the Iron and Steel Manufacturers' federation. This is comparable to the Iron and Steel Institute in the United States.

The New Economic Structure, created Sept. 1, 1941, worked well during Japan's easy victories at Pearl Harbor and immediately thereafter. But when Japan began to lose in the Solomons, in the fall of 1942, and as Jap merchant shipping was decimated by U. S. submarines, the Japanese economic structure became sorely taxed.

Tojo needed more ships, more planes and more guns and the New Economic Structure was not producing fast enough. So finally, at the Diet session of January, 1943, he demanded emergency powers to deal with the economic crisis. The big Jap cartels, however, bucked.

CONTROL HAMPERED

FOR a time opposition was so tough that Admiral Tojo had to postpone the Diet session and feigned "illness" as an excuse. In fact, he was so slow getting control of Jap industry that his middle-of-the-road methods aroused the resentment of the extreme "National Socialists" and the left wing of his military-Fascists. They fumed and fretted. Some of them, headed by Seigo Nakano, who admired Hitler's storm troop methods, urged the nationalization of all industry.

Nakano had been a strong supporter of Admiral Tojo, but Japanese big business was so resentful that they persuaded Tojo to withdraw the support of his Imperial Rule Assistance Political association when Nakano ran for the Diet. Despite that, Nakano was elected by a large majority.

But in October, 1943, when Nakano attempted to organize a putsch against the "conservative" tendencies of the Tojo government, the police nipped it in the bud and he committed suicide.

Later, toward the end of 1943, Admiral Tojo made a new attempt to strengthen his grip over the economy of the country. Calling a special session of the Diet, he formed a new Munitions ministry, headed by himself, and placed all war production under it. This, it was hoped, would speed the output of planes, ships and guns.

Theoretically, this subordinated all business to Army control, as far as the planning and direction of war production went. However, Tojo's power didn't last long. Japanese big business moved in during November, 1943, and forced the addition of several businessmen to the cabinet. They had the effect of negating the Army's industrial power.

RIVALS CLASH

PROBABLY if Tojo had been winning victories, during this period, he could have won out in his cabinet struggle. But Japan was suffering bitter military reverses. The military were blaming them on Japan's merchant princes, and princes were blaming them on the military.

Finally Tojo fell.

Premier Koiso, who replaced him, has made no attempt to control the cartels. His most important appointment, to the all-important post of Munitions minister, the post which Tojo created for himself, was that of Ginjiro Fujiwara, a Mitsui man.

As soon as Fujiwara became Minister of Munitions, he made it clear that this was a major victory for business over the Army and Navy by taking over all Army-Navy arsenals.

Thus Japan's merchant princes have strengthened their hold over the cabinet. Before the war, they never were too sympathetic with the Japanese military. And as the war goes increasingly against Japan, it is possible that the merchant princes may try to dump the military entirely and sue for a soft peace. They may try to sell the idea that the Allies can come to a "safe" agreement with the "moderate" element in Japan. Though how long it will last is problematical.

POSTAGE-FREE

THE Prohibition movement has developed a new wrinkle in using the congressional frank. Ardent drys are now employing it to circulate prohibition literature at government expense.

The other day a letter bearing the frank of Congressman Joseph R. Bryson of South Carolina turned up at Palos Verdes estates, not far from Los Angeles. It contained a speech delivered by the Honorable Mr. Bryson entitled, "The Greatest Menace in the Present Emergency."

But close examination of the speech shows that it was delivered not by him but by C. S. Longacre on Dec. 11, 1943, in Detroit, Mich., and is a ringing appeal to dry up the country. Thus a Michigan speech under a South Carolina congressman's frank to someone in California—with the taxpayer footing the bill.

People At Home Have No Idea How Fighting Men Must Live

"There's No Night And Day In Front Lines"

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Ernie Pyle is resting following his service with frontline troops in Europe and next plans to go to the fighting zones of the Pacific. While he is on leave The Journal will publish here some of Ernie's earlier articles, not previously printed in Lubbock, upon which first was built the mutual esteem between Pyle and "GI Joe.")

By ERNIE PYLE

THE TUNISIAN FRONT, February, 1943—It must be hard for you folks at home to conceive how our troops right at the front actually live. In fact it is hard to describe it to you even when I'm among them, living in somewhat the same way they are.

You can scarcely credit the fact that human beings—the same people you've known all your life—could adjust themselves so acceptingly to a type of living that is only slightly above the caveman stage.

Some of our troops came directly to the Tunisian front after the original occupation of North and West Africa, and have been here ever since. They have not slept in a bed for months. They've lived through this vicious winter sleeping outdoors on the ground.

ERNIE PYLE

They haven't been paid in three months. They have been on British rations most of the time, and British rations, though good, get mighty tiresome.

They never take off their clothes at night, except their shoes. They don't get a bath oftener than once a month. One small detachment acquired lice and had to be fumigated, but all the rest have escaped so far. They move so frequently they don't attempt to put in many home touches, as the men do at the more permanent camps toward the rear. Very few of the front-line troops have ever had any leave. They never go to town for an evening's fun. They work all the time.

NOBODY keeps track of the days or weeks. I'll wager that 90% of our frontline troops never know when Sunday comes.

Furthermore, the old traditional differences between day and night have almost ceased to exist. Nighttime no longer necessarily means rest, nor daytime work. Often it's just reversed. The bulk of our convoying of supplies and shifting of troops is done at night. The soldiers are accustomed to traveling all night, sometimes three or four nights in a row. Irregularity of sleep becomes normal. One soldier told me he once went three days and nights without sleep.

You see men sleeping anywhere, anytime. The other day I saw a soldier asleep in blankets under an olive tree at 2 in the afternoon. A few feet away a full colonel was sleeping soundly on the ground. In battle you just go until you drop.

The war coarsens most people. You live rough and talk rough, and if you didn't toughen up inside you simply wouldn't be able to take it.

An officer friend of mine, Lt. Lennie Bessman of Milwaukee, was telling me two incidents of a recent battle that touched him deeply.

One evening he and another officer came up to a tiny farmhouse, which was apparently empty. To be on the safe side he called out "Who's there?" before going in. The answer came back:

"Captain Blank, and who the hell wants to know?"

They went in and found the captain, his clothes covered with blood, heating a can of rations over a gasoline flame. They asked if they could stay all night with him. He said he didn't give a damn. They started to throw their blankets down, and the captain said:

"Look out for that man over there."

There was a dead soldier lying in a corner.

The captain was cooking his supper and preparing to stay all night alone in that same room. The flood and fury of death about him that day had left him utterly indifferent both to the companionship of the living and the presence of the dead.

THE other incident was just the opposite. Another captain happened to be standing beside Bessman. It was just at dusk and they were on the desert. The night chill was coming down. The captain looked to the far horizon and said, sort of to himself:

"You fight all day here in the desert and what's the end of it all? Night just closes down over you and chokes you."

A little later Bessman got out a partly filled bottle of gin he had with him and asked this same sensitive captain if he'd like a drink. The captain didn't even reach out his hand. He simply answered:

"Have you got enough for my men too?"

He wouldn't take a drink himself unless the enlisted men under him could have some.

All officers are not like that, but the battlefield does produce a brotherhood. The common bond of death draws humans toward each other over the artificial barrier of rank.

Today's Thought

Therefore will I also deal in fury: mine eye shall not spare, either will I have pity: and thought they cry in mine ears with a loud voice, yet will I not hear them.—Ezekiel 8:18.

Patience provoked often turns to fury.—Syrus.

A surgical nurse, Genevieve Albers, took the temperature of a cucumber and found that its insides were 20 degrees cooler than the air outside.

FINE WISCONSIN HOLSTEIN CATTLE FOR SALE

Within the last two years, we have brought in 135 head of producing young Holstein cows from Wisconsin.

This herd has been carefully culled down to 100 top-notch producers. They have been here long enough to be thoroughly acclimated, are Banes vaccinated and are big healthy cows, 100% sound in every respect. We believe that they are the finest non-registered Holstein herd in Texas. Each cow is individually priced and you can purchase any number. We are streamlining our daily production operations and are giving up this leased place and will concentrate on the breeding of Guernseys and the production of Golden Guernsey milk on our own original Guernsey farm.

We invite your inspection at the dairy, located 3 miles north of Grapevine. Turn north at Oxford's filling station on northwest highway.

If you want high production and good foundation stock, you cannot afford to miss this opportunity.

News Briefs

Mrs. Ernest Lee, about 48, of Malvern, Ark., sister of W. S. Bledsoe of Lubbock, died at her home early this morning. Services will be conducted in Cleburne Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Lee is the former Alice Bledsoe, daughter of the late W. H. Bledsoe of Lubbock. She is survived by her husband and a daughter, Betty Alice Lee, a Missouri university student. W. S. Bledsoe and Mrs. W. H. Bledsoe, step-mother of Mrs. Lee, plan to attend services in Cleburne.

About 4,000 feet of film, including trailers, news reel and cartoon, were destroyed by fire in the projection booth of Lindsey theater, Main and Ave. J, at 9 o'clock Wednesday night. The blaze was confined to one projection machine and was quickly extinguished by automatic extinguishers, and the fire department was not called. The fire was caused by friction, theater officials said.

Murder Trial

was about five feet from Green when he shot him. Green was down with one knee and hand on the ground."

Rieger said that in the scuffle he saw blood on Green's left arm. He said Green did not have "anything in his hands." Neither of the men "said anything," he testified.

Tried To Forestall Shooting

According to his testimony, Rieger grabbed Carpenter and said, "No, John," but he had not touched Carpenter before the shot was fired. He told Carpenter to give him the gun, that he had "done enough." Carpenter asked Rieger where they were going and Rieger answered, "to the sheriff's office." Carpenter turned the gun around in his hand and handed it to Rieger. They got into Rieger's car. He said he looked at his watch, that it was 3:45 o'clock.

On their way to the sheriff's office, Rieger said, Carpenter said he "hated to have to do that." Reiger said he told him to keep his "mouth shut," that he (Rieger) might have to tell all he might hear.

Rieger testified that when the last shot was fired Green's left hand was on his left knee, his right hand and right knee were on the ground. At the time of the shot he was in the act of raising up.

Said Carpenter Was Not Drunk

He said Carpenter was not nervous or excited, neither did anything occur that would indicate he was drunk.

Another state witness, L. A. Beatty of route 1 Lubbock, testified he was at the auction barn at the time of the shooting and that Green and Lawrence Redwine had come to his farm that morning and bought a saddle. He testified that when he arrived at the barn he saw Green in the car and Lawrence Redwine in front of it. He said Green stayed in the car. Carpenter drove up in a pickup car about 10 minutes later. He said Carpenter had a .45 caliber automatic pistol in his hand. He had pulled the gun out from inside his shirt. At that time Green was not in the immediate presence of Carpenter, he said.

Asked by District Attorney Burto S. Burks what was said at that time, Beatty said "Carpenter said the gun was loaded and he would make every shot count."

Then Argument Started

He further testified that Redwine said as Green walked up, "Let's try not to have any trouble." He said Green spoke but that he did not remember what was said.

"Redwine asked them to shake hands and forget it. They shook hands and Carpenter said 'Is that as hard as you can squeeze my hand?' This started the argument again, and Green asked Redwine if they could not go out in the street and fight. Carpenter then pulled his gun and said, 'This is the way I fight.' "

He testified that Green had not touched Carpenter and that Green had no weapon. He said Green told Carpenter, "You haven't the guts to pull the trigger. Step back or I'll kill you."

Beatty said Carpenter pulled the gun's safety and that Green grabbed for the weapon and it went off. When the last shot was fired he said he heard Carpenter say, "That got him."

Says Green Drinking

On cross-examination Beatty said he had met Green only that morning and that Green was not drinking at the time. He testified that Green was drunk that afternoon and cursed some. He said when he saw Green coming from the barn walking toward Carpenter, "He could not walk fast as he had been drinking. He was in a good humor."

Beatty said he ran away from the scene when he saw there was going to be trouble, and said he was scared. He said the first shot hit a car east of where Carpenter was standing. Beatty said he did not see the struggle but did see Green get his hand on the pistol. He testified that Carpenter had put the gun back in his shirt shortly after his arrival but pulled it out again after the argument started again. He said that Green was mad and that he was a powerful man.

He sadi that Green's brother, Alford, came to see him about five days after the shooting but nothing was said about what he knew of the murder. He did say that Alford Green asked him to help the district attorney. He said he saw him again two weeks ago but the murder was not mentioned.

C. C. Abercrombie, another witness, said he was with Green when he was admitted to Lubbock General hospital here and was prseent when Green was undressed. He said Green had no weapon of any kind in his possession.

Jim Green, 69, of Portales, N. M., father of Hubert Green, was the first witness to take the stand for the state.

He said, under examination of Burks, his son was born in Snyder; had been in Los Angeles; had just returned from the west coast and visited with his father the night before the fatal shooting. He said he (Jim Green) came to Lubbock as soon as he received word is son had been shot, and the son was alive when he saw him at the hospital. He said his son had only one eye and that the defect was readily apparent.

Son Called Powerful Man

Upon cross-examination, Green said Hubert was one of seven children and pointed out one of his sons, Alford, in the courtroom. He said Hubert was five and one-half feet tall and weighed about 170 pounds, and admitted he was a powerful man. Hubert's business was trading stock at Portales, Lubbock and California. The day of the shooting, the father said, Hubert came to Lubbock to buy saddles and do some trading, and bought some saddles from Lawrence Redwine.

Carpenter's wife and three of his four children were in the courtroom. The three children were Randall, who is scheduled to go into the armed forces Nov. 1; Frances and Gale, students in Lubbock Senior High school. Another son, James, is in the Navy and stationed at Pearl Harbor.

Carpenter is being defended by George W. Dupree and C. C. Crenshaw, Lubbock attorneys.

Jury Completed Wednesday

The jury was completed at 4:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, after 57 members of a special venire had been examined. One hundred fifty men were on the venire list, and 90 reported when Judge Dan Blair convened court at 11 o'clock Wednesday morning. Forty-five veniremen were excused — 10 saying they had fixed opinions, two getting excuses because of business necessity ,12 because of conscientious scrupples, 10 after peremptory challenges by the state, 11 after peremptory challenges by the defense.

Personnel Of Jury

Selected jurors were: O. W. Lemon, car inspector for Panhandle and Santa Fe railroad, Lubbock; S. A. Beard, former tire dealer, Lubbock; William R. Sewell, banker, Slaton; S. G. Hildreth, cotton man, Lubbock, W. P. Slaton, farmer, Route 1, Idalou; M. D. James, farmer, Route 3, Lubbock; J. A. Sherrod, farmer, Route, 1, Lubbock; E. A. Manning, abstract business, Lubbock; C. R. Bain, grocer, Slaton; L. E. Grimes, automobile dealer, Lubbock; Wade Hash, farmer, Route 5, Lubbock; Oly Hitt, farmer, Route 4, Lubbock.

Green died in a local hospital Aug. 4.

Truman Lauds Plans For Regional TVA's

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 12 (U.P.)—Sen. Harry S. Truman said today, in an early morning radio talk pointed at farm audiences, that projects patterned after the Tennessee Valley authority on other large tributaries of the Mississippi river would be a major step toward a permanent solution of flood control problems.

Truman, Democratic nominee for the vice presidency, spoke over a special hookup of Mississippi valley radio stations in the first of two "non-political" addresses on flood control. The second was scheduled for a luncheon session of the Mississippi Valley association.

Truman said the present administration had done more in 12 years to combat floods than had ever been done before.

"We were fortunate to have a president with the vision and courage to back the creation of the Tennessee Valley authority. Floods are now under control in the Tennessee valley and that helps the whole lower Mississippi valley. If we could do the same thing in the Missouri and several of the other great rivers, the problem of a flood control would be on its way toward a permanent solution."

Truman leaves tonight for Los Angeles, where he will deliver the first "political" address of his 7,500-mile campaign tour Monday night.

Aachen's Fate May Face Other Cities

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12 (AP) — Other German cities may expect to suffer the fate now being dealt out to explosive-blasted Aachen if the Nazi high command incorporates them into the battle line, War Secretary Stimson said today.

Discussing for a news conference the ultimatum which was ignored by the Aachen garrison, Stimson said.

"No German cities may expect to have immunity from destruction so long as they are maintained as a part of the enemy's battle line. As General Hodges of the American First army has stated, there is no middle course. Either surrender or destruction must be chosen by the Nazis. German civilians will necessarily have to bear the burden of any decision imposed upon them by their military leaders which makes their city a part of the defense line."

Stimson described the offensive in the Aachen sector as designed "to give us elbow room within the Siegfried line after testing and overcoming some of its most formidable obstacles."

Aggie Exes Conduct Meeting In Germany

WITH THE U. S. FIRST ARMY IN GERMANY, Oct. 12. (AP) — The western chapter of the Texas A. & M. club has held its second meeting on Reich soil, and claims to have held the first alumni association meeting inside Germany of any American college.

After dinner, members had their picture taken around a portrait of Hitler, but the Fuehrer certainly would not appreciate the poses.

Those present were Capt. Alfred Moffitt of Conroe; Maj. Phil Gregory, Fort Worth; Maj. Herbert Mills, El Paso and Alpine; Maj. Joe Slovak, Beaumont; Lt. Col. Jack Barnes, Waco; Lt. Col. Marion Whitter, Dallas; Maj. H. W. Dugan, Shreveport, La., and Maj. John Stark, Conroe.

of pamphlets listing the multitudinous alphabetical agencies of the government as a hobby for himself and a few friends, but after the first printing he had "hundreds of inquiries for it."

He boasted that by now his pamphlet had more copies in distribution in the country "than any book or publication except the Bible."

First witness today was Arthur Temple, Texarkana lumberman and head of the CCG in that Texas-Arkansas border city.

Temple was questioned as to the distribution of a sheet in Texarkana, in which Rep. Wright Patman, (D., Tex.), was described as "one of those to whom the thought of putting a limit on the national debt is obnoxious."

The committee tried to show that distrubtion of the sheet through the CCG was an attempt to affect Patman politically.

capital of Latvia, with fresh divisions and material. The Russians have been at the edge of the port for weeks.

The enemy said Russian forces which reached the fourth largest city of Hungary, Keckemet, 50 miles southeast of Budapest, had been pushed back by a German-Hungarian counterattack.

The Germans, however, admitted their Tizla river line had been shattered and said that "heavy fighting is raging west of the river."

Procedure Outlined For Truck Gasoline

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12 (AP) — The Office of Price administration and the Office of Defense transportation today outlined procedure under which operators of commercial motor vehicles will receive gasoline rations beginning Oct. 16.

OPA will take over from ODT the issuance of all temporary and supplemental rations for these vehicles. ODT will continue to handle applications for certificates of war necessity or for permanent changes in gasoline allotments.

The revised procedure transfers to OPA most of the rationing operation since the majority of current applications are for temporary allocations, the agencies said.

Probe Continued In Death Of Stockman

FORT WORTH, Oct. 12. (U.P.) — City officials continued an investigation today into the death of William Franklin Dunn, 62-year-old Burleson stockman, who died last week in a local hospital after being held while unconscious in the city jail more than 12 hours.

Found unconscious in his automobile on a downtown street, police records show Dunn was lodged in jail and kept there for several hours before being removed to a hospital.

Burleson friends reported that Dunn was in the city on a business trip and that he suffered from high blood pressure and was subject to fainting spells. A local physician said Dunn had not been drinking.

Maj. Bong Top Ace With 2 More Zeros

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, New Guinea, Oct. 12. (AP)—Maj. Richard I. Bong is again America's leading fighter ace with 30 planes to his credit after giving a class under his instruction an unscheduled demonstration on how to shoot down Japanese planes.

The Poplar, Wis., Army flier is a gunnery instructor who is not supposed to be fighting. But he went into action again when a class he was leading was jumped by more than 20 Zeros. He shot down two.

Fight Intensified To Preserve Welder

AUSTIN, Oct. 12. (U.P.)—A four-type blood bank was being built up here today for carrying on a battle at Seton hospital to save the life of J. E. Baker, jr., a welder flown from Curacao, West Indies, after an attack thought to be Luekaemia.

He was brought to Austin from Houston at the request of a brother and was accompanied here by his wife. The attending physician declined any statement.

32,604 TRUCKS PROMISED

DETROIT, Oct. 12. (AP)—The regional office of the War Production board here announced today that authorizations have been made for the production of 26,179 light-heavy and 6,425 heavy-heavy trucks during the first half of 1945 for commercial use.

Five Long Years Of Denial End With Tragedy

GARY, Ind., Oct. 11 (U.P.)—The Vernon Davis family was homeless again today.

Yesterday Davis, his wife and two children moved into the new home they had skimped for five years to buy. Davis had worked nights in a war plant so he could take care of the children while Mrs. Davis worked days in another war plant.

They decided they should see more of each other, now that they had a home, so they went out to celebrate last night.

When they returned the home had been destroyed by fire.

President To Speak Over Radio Tonight

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12. (AP) — President Roosevelt will deliver a brief radio address to an Italian-American Labor council meeting in New York tonight a few hours after he goes on the air with a Columbus day message to the western hemisphere republics.

The President's speech to the labor council will be to accept the organization's annual four freedoms award which will be presented to a presidential representative during a dinner at New York City. The White House said Mr. Roosevelt would probably be heard about 7:25 p. m., C. W. T.

At 3 p. m. today the President was to broadcast the 10-minute Columbus day address (all networks) from the White House diplomatic reception room in the presence of representatives of Latin American republics.

The president's acceptance of the medal will be broadcast by the Mutual network.

Woodie H. Tudor Is In 15th AAF

15TH A. A. F. IN ITALY—Corporal Woodie H. Tudor, 22-year-old B-17 radio-operator gunner, of 1402 Avenue U, Lubbock, Texas, was recently assigned to an AAF Flying Fortress unit of the Fifteenth Air Force.

Cpl. Tudor joined the AAF on April 15, 1943, and received his gunnery training at Yuma, Arizona. He left the States for overseas combat duty in August, 1944.

He was graduated from Lubbock High school in 1940, and later attended Texas Tech.

Deadline Extended On Mailing Gifts

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12. (AP) — The Postoffice department today extended by one day—to Monday, Oct. 16—the deadline for the mailing of Christmas parcels to military personnel overseas. The action was taken "as a public convenience," since the previously announced deadline of Oct. 15, falls on a Sunday.

AMENDMENT URGED

HOUSTON, Oct. 12 (U.P.)—Mrs. Margaret Westerman, with the help of a corps of city employes, began the tremendous job today of checking 650 petitions bearing some 22,260 signatures and calling for a charter amendment election on a proposal to abolish the Houston office of city manager. The proposal asks for transfer of the city manager's duties to a full-time, elected mayor.

HUGE SCIENCE BEQUEST

MIDLAND, Mich., Oct. 12 (AP)—The will of Mrs. James T. Pardee of Midland, filed today for probate, sets aside securities worth approximately $1,000,000 for research into control and cure of cancer. The estate value was estimated at about $6,000,000. Mrs. Pardee's husband, Dr. Pardee, who died last January, was a founder and former board chairman of the Dow Chemical Co.

SEES CONTINUED RATIONING

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 12 (U.P.)—William R. Boyd, jr., chairman of the petroleum industry war council and president of the American Petroleum institute, predicts that gasoline rationing will continue long after the end of the European war because of urgent supply needs in the Pacific war.

TAX CLASSES ARRANGED

CORPUS CHRISTI, Oct. 12 (U.P.)—The Texas Tax Assessors-Collectors association will hold classes in Austin Dec. 4-5 to instruct county tax officials who are to enter office Jan. 1, George McCuller of Kingsville, secretary of the association, said today.

DIES AFTER EXPLOSION

DALLAS, Oct. 12. (U.P.)—Services were scheduled today for Sidney Oscar Wallace, 42, who died yesterday as a result of burns received when a boiler exploded in a Dallas laundry.

Moscow Talks

precedent in Moscow and its significance was increased by the fact Stalin has made virtually no public appearances since the war.

Tangible developments thus far were:

1. Acceptance by the Bulgarians of preliminary armistice terms to be administered by an Anglo - American - Russian group under a Soviet chairman.

Polish Groups Arrive

2. Arrival of a London Polish delegation headed by Premier Stanislaw Mikolaczyk and a Lublin Polish delegation headed by its president, Edward Osuba Morawski, for conferences designed to solve the difficult Polish problem.

3. Hungarian developments described here as the "imminent capitulation of Hungary."

It was stressed in Moscow that while the United States is not a direct party to the negotiations Ambassador W. Averill Hariman is acting as President Roosevelt's personal representative and is both fully informed and consulted on all matters except those of exclusive Soviet-British interest.

Knockout Of Reich Stressed

The diplomatic developments in the Balkans and eastern Europe were merely one phase of the discussions, which also are laying emphasis on the final phase of joint Allied operations for the storming of fortress Germany.

The Soviet union still is uncompromising in its insistence that Germany's war-making power must be destroyed forever. In that conection Stalin's compliments to American genius in planning and the part this has played in the war bear an application to the German question since Stalin expressed hope this genius might be applied with equal brilliance toward maintaining world peace.

There was cautious optimism here on the chances of settling the Polish question. Two weeks ago reconciliation would have seemed from Moscow to be almost hopeless. However, it was agreed that if anyone can achieve an understanding it will be Mikolajczyk who always has had the respect not only of the Kremlin but of the Lublin Poles.

Military Discussions Due

The fact that Mikolajczyk was accompanied by Gen. Stanislaw Tabor of the Polish home army indicated preparations were being made for discussion of military questions on which the split between the Polish groups is most grave since the Warsaw uprising.

On the Lublin side, Gen. Michael Rola-Zymierski, commander of Lublin forces, is present to represent the viewpoint of the Polish forces originally organized in Russia.

The urgency of the conversations is indicated by the pace of developments in the Balkans where military and diplomatic achievements are confronting the Allies with a host of unsettled problems in every state. With Hungary tottering on the verge of getting out of the war the prospect that the Red army soon will approach the southern frontiers of Austria and Czechoslovakia is raised.

Zook Reelected As Head Of Oil Group

DALLAS, Oct. 12 (AP)—Directors of the Independent Petroleum association concluded a three-day session here yesterday by re-electing Ralph T. Zook of Bradford, Pa., president for a second term.

Executive officers from 19 states attended the sessions. A. E. Hermann of Amarillo was elected to the executive committee.

Method Of Compiling Casualties Revised

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12 (AP) — War Secretary Stimson omitted his weekly report on Army casualties today, explaining that the system of compiling the figures is being revised.

He said the present method has not been sufficiently up to date to meet requirements and "we are now taking care of that."

Women's Adoration Of Hitler Exploited

MADRID, Oct. 12 (U.P.)—Airplane travelers from Germany reported today that the Nazis are systematically exploiting the mystic adoration of millions of German women for Adof Hitler, their "Schoen Adolf," to keep the Reich in the war.

They said Propaganda Minister Paul Joseph Goebbels directed his major propaganda at the women who inspire defeated and battle-weary Nazi troops to go back to the front lines for a new stand.

FIRE SWEEPS WAREHOUSE

LAREDO, Oct. 12 (AP)—Fire of undetermined origin last night swept through a warehouse here of the Teodosio Gutierrez company, causing an estimated $20,000 loss to building and merchandise, including canned goods and livestock feed.

Yanks Closing In On Aachen

the city. Sweeping over in waves at 15-minute intervals, the airmen blasted Aachen's outer defenses, including dug-in tanks.

One fighter formation attacked 15 tanks which were protected by earthworks in the northeast sector of the city. Another ripped into eight tarks three miles northeast of the city limits.

SIGNS OF NAZI CRACKUP IN HOLLAND INDICATED

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Oct. 12. — The U. S. First army closed in on burning Aachen today in an action which the Berlin radio called "the greatest battle ever fought on the western front" while to the north and west there appeared signs of a possible breakup in Holland.

It was disclosed that a crew of 6,000 German demolition experts had blown up more than 10 miles of quays and docks during the last 10 days in Rotterdam, Holland's second city and biggest port. Roads around Rotterdam were clogged with Nazi transport, moving generally to the south and east.

On the south bank of the Neder Rhine the Germans suddenly abandoned a stretch between Arnhem and Rotterdam.

Nazis Admit U. S. Gains

While the German radio admitted American gains around Aachen and mouthed threats of evidence if "the American hordes should carry out the threat to destroy Aachen, this jewel of culture," AP War Correspondent Don Whitehead gave a detailed account of what was happening to the city.

American infantry began to close in from the north and northeast, he said, after divebombers and more than 200 big guns, including the heaviest of American field pieces, had resumed yesterday's blasting of the burning city.

A front dispatch said the factory section on Aachen's northeastern outskirts had been cleared by doughboys who met only slight sniper resistance. An American patrol had penetrated the city proper yesterday.

Two enemy columns totaling about a division in strength which attempted to reinforce the German garrison were shattered and turned back at dusk yesterday. Then the big guns were swung again to send smoke and flame mushrooming up from the city.

City Not Destroyed

Gray smoke cast a pall over the sprawling German border city as the infantrymen moved against it. Whitehead said fires and smoke could be seen boiling up from the bombardment, but he added that Aachen, battered and beaten though it was, still was not destroyed.

Medium bombers swept in late yesterday and for five hours rained explosives upon the wreckage already piled up. A bright sun shone over the scene today.

Meanwhile Allied troops im proved their positions both north and south of the Aachen breach in the Siegfried line.

Germans Withdraw

The supreme command said that west of Arnhem in Holland the Germans had withdrawn from one area on the south bank of the Nedar Rhine. Fighters and fighterbombers shot up and bombed enemy strongpoints and troops in that area.

Heavy casualties were inflicted on the Germans in the Haaren area north of Aachen as counterattacks were beaten off. Enemy infantry and tanks were engaged in Bardenberg on that sector.

Southeast of besieged Aachen American troops cut through strong resistance and thrust across the Monschau-Duren road, a mile from Hurtgen.

Although it appeared that the Germans were preparing to abandon Rotterdam — otherwise they hardly would be destroying its essential installations—the Nazis' full intention in Holland was not yet clear.

The south and easterly movement of transport around Rotterdam might mean an attempt to establish a line running roughly from Bergen Op Zoom, near the east Schelde, to Arnhem, or it might mean an effort to pull out of northwestern Holland in order to provide more strength for the defense of the Reich.

Canadian troops were reported to be within two miles of Bergen Op Zoom today with their positions to the south and west in the Schelde estuary area universally improved.

Advances on the U. S. Third army front were virtually foot by foot.

There was no new report on the situation before the Belfort gap where the French First army is trying to break into Germany.

Gen. Eisenhower

division not only gave all the Allied forces one of the most gallant examples of bravery, fortitude and courage in all this war, but by drawing upon themselves the fury of the German counterattack, they enabled us to hold important bridges.

"It was a valiant maneuver and it does not detract in the slightest degree from the excellent work and courage of the 82nd and 101st U. S. airborne divisions which came behind them. They did beautiful work and I am proud of them all."

Temple Blood Donors Break Two Records

TEMPLE, Oct. 12 (AP)—A total of 529 men and women in uniform at Camp Hood gave 529 pints of blood in 6 hours 40 minutes to break two national records for blood donations.

The donations, announced yesterday, took place Tuesday. Red Cross officials said the previous records were 395 pints in one day by Army personnel and 440 by civilians, the latter in an eight-hour period.

Wallace Cites Labor's Rights

CINCINNATI, Oct. 12 (AP) — Vice President Henry A. Wallace asserted here last night that labor had a right to "meddle in politics."

The Republican view, he told a mass meeting in Music hall, is "just give Wall Street the green light and everything will be happy."

Wallace attacked what he called "Taftism" in the home town of Republican Sen. Robert A. Taft, declaring that policies advocated by Taft were 'backed by strong newspapers, banks, and real estate firms" then added:

"Many say labor should not meddle in politics, but I never heard the same ones say that banks, industrialists, insurance executives should not meddle in poltics.

"All Men Have Say"

"It is well that in America all sincere men can have their say. But it is also important that the common people can have their vote on what is said—and against Taft, the king-maker behind Dewey (Thomas E. Dewey, Republican presidential candidate.)

"Taftism may win Nov. 7, but I don't think so."

"Blackmail and fear no longer rule among men who sweat. The men who make tools know why they made them and for what they made them. And they have as much right to political action as capitalists."

Wallace defined the current presidential campaign as one of three issues, offering a choice as to which of two men could best finish the war, develop a workable peace, and provide full postwar employment.

Democratic Party In Lead

The Democratic party stands in the lead on the first two, he declared, in its record of congressional approval of defense measures for the current war and advocacy of the League of Nations and a world court after the last. The choice as to the issue of postwar jobs, he said, is "about even," though he said the Democrats had a better record on social legislation.

Earlier in a press conference Wallace described Taft as "the sincerest reactionary I know" and added:

"I don't think we'll get back to full (postwar) employment by going back to the old system of 'normalcy'—which is another word I quote from an Ohioan."

("Back to normalcy" was a slogan of the late President Warren G. Harding of Marion, O., after the last world war.

Fast Times Made In Schools' Fire Drills

Rapid fire drills being conducted in Lubbock public schools in connection with fire prevention week are setting an unusual time record according to City Fire Marshal Guy Casey.

K. Carter evacuated 946 students in a minute and 15 seconds; Senior high, approximately 1,300, 1/30; Dupre, about 500, 1/15; Central ward, 400, 1/10; Bean, about 500 students, 50 seconds; Hunt, between 400 and 500, 1/20.

With the exception of Bean, all buildings have at least two floors.

The drills were effected without previous notice, Casey said.

The fire marshal praised principals and teachers not only for their supervision of the drills but for their year-around practice of fire prevention methods and attention methods and attention to safety precautions.

Visiting the schools with Casey were Glenn Smith, assistant fire chief, and Lloyd "Sass" Bentley, fire department captain.

LEADER—Sombrero-topped Xavier Cugat, rhumba king, was chosen to conduct the Mexican Symphony orchestra in a series of weekly concerts at Mexican army camps.

Texas Court Opinion Is Flayed In Mexico

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 12 (U.P.) — The newspaper El Popular, commenting editorially upon a recent decision of the Texas supreme court in a race discrimination case said "Mexico must protest this ruling which aids a small group of anti-Negro, anti-Mexican persons in Texas."

"Mexico, as a supporter of the Good Neighbor policy, as a nation of civilized men with free spirits, should strongly protest the decision," the paper said.

"At the same time, we would like to praise a California court's ruling which acquitted boys of Mexican ancestry who were accused unjustly in the 'Sleepy Lagoon' murder case.

"We salute the democracy of our neighbor and felicitate those who continue the fight to defend truth and justice," El Popular said.

The average British fighting plane contains 97 different jobs for the pilot, including controls, wireless, etc.

Hanging Victim To Be Buried Today

CROSBYTON, Oct. 12 (Special) —Last rites of the church will be read this afternoon in Crosbyton First Baptist church for 4-year-old Betty Ruth Wallace, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Wallace of Crosbyton.

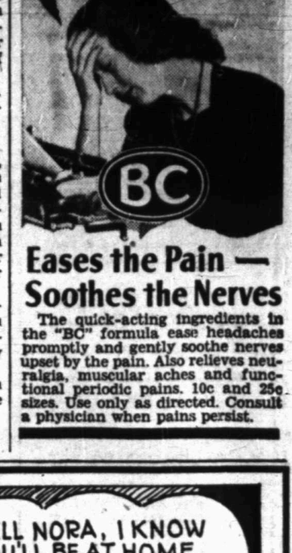

The child died Wednesday afternoon of strangulation when her head was caught in an automobile window.

The child was with her parents, who were working in a cotton field one mile west of Ralls, and returned to the car to rest. She apparently reached inside to open the door, the window being down approximately six inches. Her parents found her hanging by her neck.

Besides her parents she is survived by three sisters, Norma June, Lorena LaVerne, and Frances Wallace; two brothers, Bobby Ray and Jimmy Lee Wallace.

Burial will be in Crosbyton cemetery with Marr Funeral home directing.

Hearing To Probe O'Daniel's Paper

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12 (AP) — Public hearings will be held here Oct. 18 by the Senate Campaign Expenditures committee on fund-raising activities in connection with the publication of the "W. Lee O'Daniel News," an anti-fourth term newspaper published by Sen. O'Daniel (D-Tex.)

In announcing the hearing yesterday, Chairman Green (D-RI) said O'Daniel had failed to respond to two letters inviting him to furnish financial data about the paper and also to appear personally before the committee.

The chairman indicated at a press conference that the committee might subpoena O'Daniel.

Green stated that committee investigators had found some "very interesting information" in connection with the O'Daniel inquiry.

The committee also will meet Oct. 19, Green said, adding that during the two days testimony would be heard concerning money-raising activities of the American Democratic National committee, an anti-fourth term group. The chairman said this investigation and the O'Daniel inquiry were "inter-related."

In Dallas, C. V. M. Sutcliffe, investigator for the Senate Campaign Expenditures committee, commented that the committee hearings "should produce some amazing information."

Navy To Trim List Of Active Officers

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12 (AP) — The Navy has ordered a gradual return to inactive status of an estimated 4,305 officers called from retirement since 1939, it was learned today.

Release of the officers, who for the most part have served in administrative billets ashore, will be based on age and dispensability.
