TELEGRAPHS FIANCEE

Betrothed Ace Wings Into Valbuena Field Just As Night Falls

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 24. (AP)—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh left by automobile tonight for Cuernavaca to see his fiancee, Miss Anne Morrow, within an hour after he landed from his flight from Texas.

By GEORGE A. SCHREINER

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 24 (US)—Twilight was falling just before 7 o'clock at Val Buena field near the Mexican capital and a crowd who had waited for hours for the arrival of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh were still without news of him since he hopped off from Eagle Pass, Texas, at 7:40 this morning. At 6:53 a shout went up from the gathering as the hum of a motor approaching could be heard.

Then swooping down, the Lone Eagle landed gracefully and the waiting crowd cheered wildly.

Anne Not Present

Climbing out of his plane, Col. Lindbergh looks about as if expecting to see someone.

But Miss Anne Morrow was not among the crowd. She was waiting at the Morrow home at Cuernavaca, where the ambassador's family is week-ending, for the flying colonel, who has come on the wings of love a thousand miles since morning to visit his fiancee for the first time since the announcement of their engagement.

"I'm sorry I can't talk with you just now," Colonel Lindbergh said when he alighted from his plane.

"What is the purpose of your visit to Mexico?" he was asked by a newspaperman.

"I'll see you when I get back," Lindy answered.

"I have nothing to say at this time," the colonel answered firmly.

It is a 60 mile drive by automobile from the landing field here to the Morrow summer home, over the mountains and it is a bright moonlight night for the trip.

Colonel Lindbergh's baggage consisted only of two small leather grips and a suit case.

While the topic of Colonel Lindbergh's romantic flight which carried him over the rugged mountains of old Mexico to call on his future wife is the sole topic here, there is no confirmation from any source here tonight that he has brought with him the wedding ring. There is no information as to whether the wedding which the colonel has admitted to have a serious bearing on his future flying, is to take place during this visit to Mexico.

No Plans Announced

No plans have been announced as yet for the ambassadorial family on their return to the capital tomorrow from the resort town of Cuernavaca, where in their new home the Morrows spend their quiet week ends.

Colonel Lindbergh today flew approximately 1,000 miles in one of the longest non-stop flights ever made over the Mexican republic.

Mystery of Second Torch Murder Deepens as Body Goes Unnamed

Identity of Slain Woman Puzzles Officers Who Work Dim Clues for Fiendish Murderer

CRANFORD, N. J., Feb. 24. (AP)—The victim of New Jersey's second torch murder mystery remained unidentified today as authorities vainly sought a clue to the woman's identity and to that of the person who shot her and left her oil-soaked, blazing body along a country road at dawn Saturday.

Only the vaguest clues are held by authorities who admit they can make no headway until the slain woman, whose face was charred, is identified. Officials from Somerset county, where last spring, in an isolated woods patch Miss Margaret Brown, New York governess, was fatally beaten and her body aflame, visited the scene of Saturday's crime but could find nothing to connect the murder with their unsolved case.

Thomas B. Walsh, assistant prosecutor of Union county, conducting the investigation, was disinclined to regard the killing as the work of "any socalled 'maniac.'"

The driver of a bakery truck, John Boyle, discovered the flaming body as he drove by and reported to police. Half hour previous, Henry Denner, of Belleville, N. J., driver of another bakery company, reported he sighted a blue coupe on the spot and a person stood on the road frantically waving to him to stop. Denner said he feared a holdup and sped on.

Search is being made for the automobile that Denner said carried a New Jersey license plate.

Investigators sought to learn whether the woman was slain elsewhere and her body set afire on the road near here, or was killed on the spot. An autopsy showed she died from a bullet fired in the head. The skull was crushed.

The victim, judging by her attire, was of humble status. She was about 45 years old, weighed about 155 pounds, was 5 feet 5½ inches tall, had blonde hair streaked with gray, and blue eyes.

MT. VERNON, N. Y., Feb. 24 (US)—Temporarily deranged by heavy stock market losses, Gabriel S. Youngwood, young attorney, today battered his wife and four-year-old son with a hatchet, then gulped poison in his luxurious home here.

"Shoot me dead. Please, shoot me dead. I drank poison but it won't work fast enough!"

He died this evening.

The son, George, also was reported mortally wounded. Blood transfusions were resorted to at Mt. Vernon hospital in an effort to save the child's life.

SECRET PACT IS PUBLISHED

Amsterdam Paper Prints All Details of Agreement

AMSTERDAM, Holland, Feb. 24 (AP)—Dutch circles were stirred today by publication in Utretsch Dagblad, a leading provincial paper, of alleged provisions of a secret Franco-Belgian military convention concluded in Brussels in 1920. By the treaty the two countries assertedly would make common cause in event that either is at war with Germany or with any power assisted by Germany.

The newspaper also published the alleged interpretations placed on articles of the treaty by French and Belgian general staffs at meetings held in the summer of 1927. The eighth article of the treaty provided that its terms should be kept rigorously secret.

Article one of the convention, said the newspaper, provides that should either France of Belgium find themselves at war with Germany or with any other powers assisted by Germany, each shall place all its available forces at the disposal of the other.

Article two provides that the convention is unrestricted in respect to the Rhine frontier, but shall also apply to any act of aggression on whatever front it may occur.

Article three stipulates that both countries shall mobilize instantaneously and spontaneously, without prior consultation immediately when any third power assisted in any way by Germany starts mobilizing. They shall mobilize against Germany immediately after a cause for invoking the treaty has been established according to international usage.

Minimum Forces Named

Article four commits Belgium to mobilize a minimum of 600,000 men and France a minimum of 1,200,000.

Article five provides that each shall undertake simultaneously a vigorous offensive, compelling Germany to fight at once both north and south of the common front.

Woman Who Killed Sweetheart In Hospital Faces Trial Today

DENVER, Colo., Feb. 24. (UP)—Farice King, the woman scorned, will go to trial Monday for killing her former sweetheart, Patrolman Robert K. Evans.

Miss King, 35, a nurse, has pleaded not guilty by reason of temporary insanity. The state asks life imprisonment on the charge that she premediated the slaying of her betrayer, and executed it calmly on the morning of last Nov. 28, in the hospital where she was nursing. Evans had been taken to the hospital suffering from a bullet wound inflicted by a bandit.

A new twist will be given the insanity plea by Miss King's defenders, who will testify it was a love mania that caused her to shoot Evans. They will testify she was a one-man woman, and could not stand to see her lover living with a rival, the thought of which made her insane.

Court alienists will testify she is not now insane and that there is no indication she ever was insane.

The story of Miss King's illicit love affair with Evans, a man of many loves, will be told unsparingly. They met and were lovers before the war, although he was then married. When he returned from the service, his love for both Miss King and his wife had cooled. He married another woman, under his true name of John C. Bobine.

After shooting him the nurse turned her revolver, but a rib deflected the bullet and she is now recovered from the wound.

Route for Eaker's Dash to Panama From Brownsville Is Mapped Out

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24. (UP)—Capt. Ira C. Eaker will shoot into the air at Brownsville, Texas, March 10 in a roaring pursuit plane to demonstrate that aerial defense of the Panama canal can be reinforced against hostile forces between dawn and dusk.

Eaker's flying schedule was made public today by the war department. Officials conservatively estimated that Eaker would cover the 1,950 miles between Brownsville and France field, Canal Zone, in 14 hours and 30 minutes at an average speed of 135 miles an hour. But the 450-horsepower motor in the nose of Eaker's single-seater is capable of 150 miles an hour at cruising speed and can do 186.

Eaker may go far ahead of his schedule and the skill of ground crews may reduce refueling time from the 20 minutes which has been allotted to each stop.

The flight will start at Brownsville at 4:30 a. m., March 10, and will stop at Minatitlan, Mexico; Guatemala City; Managua, Nicaragua, and David, Panama, en route to France field. From Minatitlan south, Eaker will fly over jungle valleys and tree-covered mountains, where scant opportunity exists for safe landing. The plane has been painted black, white and red to make it easily seen from the air if Eaker is forced down.

MRS. HOOVER TO BUY GROCERIES

White House Food Bills No Small Item

By CORINNE RICH

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24 (US)—When Mrs. Herbert Hoover becomes mistress of the White House next month, she will automatically take upon herself the management of a full-grown, man-sized business.

And if this business of running the most important home in the land were not so well organized that it can practically get along by itself, its nominal head would have to be an executive par excellence or she would be literally swamped in figures and details.

It takes between 50 to 60 servants, or rather "employes," to keep the executive mansion and its spacious grounds going, to say nothing of thousands of dollars, partly donated by Uncle Sam and partly out of the presidential pocket-book.

Housekeeper Hired

Of course there is a very competent housekeeper, a former employe in the Boston store of Frank W. Stearns and hired by the White House on the personal recommendation of this very good friend of President Coolidge's.

This housekeeper takes the actual work of running the great house off the hands of the first lady; but Mrs. Hoover will have to be supervistor extraordinary, checking accounts, approving menus, and doing many other things of like nature.

The matter of keeping grocery bills down is something of no small importance to the premier housewife of the nation, since the president foots his own bills, except for "official entertaining."

He provides three "squares" a day for himself and his wife and a score or more of the servants, besides setting this table with the season's delicacies for such private entertaining as he sees fit to indulge in. If the mistress of the mansion can stay within $2,500 a month for food alone, she's doing well enough.

Dinner Costs $1,000

As to state dinners, at which sometimes as many as 100 persons sit around the table in the great state dining room, $1,000 just about covers one. But Mr. Hoover can splurge on this item, since money for "official entertaining" comes out of the governmental budget marked, "president's traveling expenses and official entertaining."

The servants, whose salaries range from $780 to $1,800 a year, includes, in addition to the housekeeper, two cooks, three kitchen boys, two butlers, three footmen, two house men, four house cleaners, four maids, two laundresses, one fireman, four mechanics, 18 gardeners and laborers and seven temporary employes.

Then there are four White House automobiles kept in army garages, five chauffeurs and three assistants.

The great task is keeping straight the items that Uncle Sam pays for and those that Mr. Hoover must meet. For instance, while the government foots the bills for the general White House laundry, the president must pay for his own personal washing.

Mrs. Hoover, whose menage has hitherto been small, will have a big job on her hands when she takes a turn at managing a $25,000,000 mansion with half a hundred servants.

Denver, Colo.—"I have taken six bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and will take more. I am taking it as a tonic to help me through the Change of Life and I am telling many of my friends to take it as I found nothing before this to help me. Film that discolors teeth and fosters serious tooth and gum disorders.

White Teeth turned dull by Film

The new way dentists urge to restore teeth to dazzling brilliance—to combat dental troubles.

SCIENCE has made a significant discovery. The cause of dull, discolored teeth is found to be the chief cause of serious tooth and gum disorders. That cause is a film that forms on teeth.

You can feel film with your tongue—a slippery, viscous coating. It clings to teeth and gets into crevices and stays. It absorbs stains from food and smoking to turn white teeth "off color" and cloud their brilliance. Germs by the millions breed in it, and they, plus tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea.

To remove film dentists prescribe the special film-removing dentifrice called Pepsodent. It acts to curdle film so that brushing easily removes it.

Start today. Get Pepsodent at any drug counter or write for free 10-day supply to The Pepsodent Co., 1104 S. Wabash Ave., Chicago.

WOMAN'S GIFT IS MYSTERY

Occult 'Something' Boon To Fair Sex

"The Greatest Benefactor to Her Sex Was the Woman Who First Originated and Put Across the Theory That There Was Something Occult and Mysterious About Women.

One of women's standard grievances is that men do not understand them. Particularly do wives moan and lament that their husbands don't understand them. Which shows we are playing in great luck. For suppose men did understand us? Suppose they were wise to all of our arts and wiles? Suppose they were on to all of our little tricks? Would we have a Chinawoman's chance of getting away with them? I'll say we would not.

The greatest benefactor to her sex was the woman who first originated and put across the theory that there was something occult and mysterious about women that no man could comprehend. Myself, I have always believed that that was the secret the Serpent whispered to Mother Eve under the apple tree and that she tried out on Adam the first time she got in a jam, and he fell for it without a struggle.

His sons and his grandsons and his great-great-grandsons down until the present day have accepted the propaganda and have gone on blindly believing that no man can solve the human conundrum to which he is married so there is no use in his making the effort. Of course, this is all nonsense. Women are really as transparent as a pane of glass, and as simple as 1 plus 2, and any man could see through them and get their number who tried, but he has been told so long about the inscrutability of woman that he never makes the attempt. Which makes a great graft which women do not sufficiently appreciate.

How, pray, would nine women out of 10 ever acquire husbands if men understood them? There is no idea more firmly fixed in the masculine mind than that in love affairs man is the pursuer and woman is the pursued, and every man is firmly persuaded that he discovered the shrinking violet that he tore up by the roots from the dell and bore off to adorn his home.

Let a woman openly chase a man and he outsprints her. Let her throw herself at him and he dodges. Let her try to capture him and he evades the halter, but apparently he never asks how the shrinking violet happened to plant herself so directly in his path that he was bound to stumble over her. The bereaved widower never questions the sympathy of the lady who feels called upon to comfort him and look after his motherless children. The eligible bachelor never dreams that the good-looking widow, who is always asking him to dinner, is casting bread upon the waters she expects to have returned to her in wedding cake.

If some malignant fairy should take wives at their word, and grant them their wish to have their husbands understand them, how would the said wives work the husbands? Tell me that, if you can. Suppose, for instance, husbands knew just how many clothes a wife needed, instead of having to take her word for it that she was absolutely naked and didn't have a rag fit to wear, because she had seen a perfectly ravishing frock downtown, or a stunning new hat that she felt she couldn't live without?

Suppose men could assay women's tears and tell when they cry whether they are weeping for grief or for revenue only? Suppose when you began to talk about Johnny's cough, or how run-down Mamie got last summer, hubby saw that you had your eye on Florida or the seashore, and you were already planning your wardrobe? Suppose no man could be mollified by a good dinner of all the things he likes to eat, so that it was safe to present him with a bill for a new coat?

Suppose no man could be jollied or flattered or bamboozled? Suppose, in short, men did understand women, as women say they want them to do, wouldn't it be awful, Mable?

Another complaint that wives make is that their husbands forget anniversaries and neglect to send them flowers and presents on their birthdays, though why any woman, after she is 20, wants to call any one's attention to how old she is getting is an inscrutable mystery past all understanding.

In reality, instead of reproaching her husband for neglect because he forgets her birthday, a woman should consider it a gallant gesture that indicates that for him she grows no older, but is perpetually young and beautiful.

Half the men in the world would never find out that their wives had got middle-aged if it wasn't for the fetish women make of anniversaries. It is after a husband has been nagged into buying a birthday present that he suddenly wakes up and says to himself: "By jinks, this is Mary's 45th birthday. Why, she is getting old!"

Still another grievance that women have is that their husbands never really look at them and never notice what they have on, or what they have done to their hair.

"Why, when I had my hair bobbed I waited for a week for my husband to say something about it and then I had to ask him how he liked it," cried one exasperated woman. "When I ask my husband what he thinks of a new dress, he always says, 'Is that a new one? I thought that was the thingamabob you bought last winter,'" chimes in another woman. "When I ask my husband whether he likes blue or green on me or yellow or pink he says "Ugh-hugh'," said another woman. It's all true probably there is not one man in a thousand who, if his wife should suddenly disappear when he is out with her, could give even a working clue to the police about how she was dressed, or what she looked like.

Women bitterly resent their husbands not paying any closer attention to them than they do, but if they only knew it, it is Heaven's mercy to them. For it keeps Friend Husband from seeing many a blemish that time works in the living picture he led to the altar.

As a matter of fact about the last hard look a man ever gives to his wife is in her courting days, unless he happens to fall out with her and go to looking for defects that will justify a divorce. If he stays in love with her, he still sees her as she was when he married her, young and beautiful, and dressed in the fashions of 25 or 30 years ago. That is why you hear men speak of their wives as "little women" after they tilt the scales at 200. They have never even seen their slim brides have got fat.

All of which goes to show that when women deal with men they don't always know when they are well off. —DOROTHY DIX.

SUBURBAN DAY AND FINAL DOLLAR DAY

Opening Day of Wichita Falls Spring Automobile Show

It's time now to be thinking of Spring. With the passing of cold weather will come new manners of living, new contacts and new and varied requirements.

Looking forward, we can forecast our needs. It is to the advantage of everyone at this season of the year to make a survey of the wear and tear of winter as affecting wardrobe, household furnishings and decorations and to plan for replacements and additions.

Spring suggests change, and it is in that spirit that the home should be brightened with new articles of furniture, an occasional chair, a picture or two perhaps, new hangings and that we should bedeck ourselves in garments less drab and severe than those suited for the rigors of zero weather.

Suburban Day will be next Thursday, February 28, an occasion of especial importance to people outside of Wichita Falls. It is a day of welcome. Low prices will prevail. Special showings of late, seasonable merchandise will greet the shopper. Clean-up specials are priced only one dollar.

Final clearance sales are in full progress. They include house furnishings, shoes and apparel in wide variety and at substantial reductions.

Another attraction is the Wichita Falls Automobile Show, one of Texas' big events in the display of late designs and improvements in motor vehicles. This year's exhibition promises to be one of dazzling beauty.

Come to Wichita Falls Suburban Day, Thursday, February 28. Read first the Suburban Day offerings in The Times and Record News. Every advertisement will welcome you. Every item will be a money-saving opportunity.

NOT YET—BUT SOON

WILL somebody please explain what has happened to the weather?

The seasons thumb noses at all anticipatory calculation, and flatly refuse to notice the almanac.

Ever since the Tuscarora Deep shook half Japan off the map, and rearranged the course of ocean currents, the earth has suffered from abnormal winters and summers, hurricanes, premature springs, belated autumns and meteorological bedlam.

Now, "warm cyclones" from the Azores and "glacial blasts" from the Russias have picked Europe for a battleground of the furies.

France, usually so safe from zero experiences that water pipes aren't even enclosed, is a land of busted plumbing and sniveling households.

Austria and the Balkans are icebound. Starving wolf packs from the Carpathians turn to man-meat in their extremity, and devour 16 children in their very school room.

Deer and bear haunt farm yards, and share grain with horses and cows. There are no lions to lie down with the lambs, but fawns nightly nestle in the sheepfolds.

Cable dispatches read like pages of Grimm and tales from the dark ages.

For the first time in memory, the Black Sea is locked to navigation, and rivers everywhere imprison trade in their frozen grip.

Trains are glued to the rails. Blinding snows and wrecking winds hurl back airplane relief. Man isn't yet boss of the universe—by a long sight.

THE storm kings still rule at will. None of the nursery toys with which we play make-believe supremacy can halt or deflect their rages.

Jupiter and Boreas laugh in their hoary beards at counter-offensive knowledge—and at the vanity of mundane imagination, boasting how fast we're bridling nature and training her to step in harness.

But rods are in pickle even for these swaggerers.

Plagues, too, once ridiculed human resources and fed fat from London to Lahore.

Lightning struck where it chose. Fire, flood and infection defied all policing forces, but have long since submitted to arrest.

Fog control is at brain fingertips, and irrigation steadily pushes into drought's domains.

Orchard heaters and smudge pots annually rescue more areas from frost's withering breath; and submarine liners will soon be sliding from the ways, to sail at placid levels and baffle Neptune's treacherous moods.

The present can't realize entire possibility. Tomorrow's wits must have a few hard bones to knaw on, too.

Time, the Invincible, will eventually rid Olympus of all its mischief-making gods.

George Washington, they say, never told a lie. But then George never went into the oil business.

Seven gangsters killed at once in Chicago! Why, it's enough to break the city's heart!

Life's Dark Byways

THERE ARE queer, dark pockets in this modern civilization of ours. Most of the time we don't see them; but once in a while we stumble on them by accident and get a peek into black depths that seem to give the lie to all our boasts of progress and culture.

In a city in Michigan two women, mother and daughter, are under arrest, accused of killing the daughter's seven children.

They lived in a wretched shack. Conditions there were what one might look for in a peasant's hut in the middle ages. The two women have dull, lackluster eyes, discouraged faces. The daughter, accusing her mother of the crimes, undertook to tell an officer about one of the murders.

After describing the way in which she said her mother had killed her youngest son, the woman said:

"I'm ashamed of ma. She ought to be ashamed of herself. She might as well admit she killed him because she knows she did. I'm mad at her, too. It wasn't right of her to kill my baby."

Yet the daughter's shame and hatred, apparently, were not as profound as might be expected. At any rate, the two women share the same cell, eat together and chat in seeming friendliness. In their words and actions there is no sign that either realizes the hideous nature of the crimes of which they are accused.

What are we to make of all this, anyway? How can it happen that in this land which we love to call the "most advanced" country in the world, where living conditions, educational standards and general enlightenment are higher than anywhere else, two people like that can be found? Is all our surface magnificence a mere film concealing a miserable, unutterable rottenness of squalor and ignorance?

For this is no ordinary case of desperation, poverty and unhappiness. We simply have a group gone completely wrong. The tense pitch of wretchedness that might drive a mother to kill her children is lacking. Neither remorse nor shame is apparent—as witness the incredible remark, "I'm ashamed of ma!" Some essential element of humanity is entirely lacking here.

Why do such things happen? Humanity sometimes manifests its divinity in strangely beautiful ways; what is it manifesting here?

We cannot find the answers to these questions. We only know that these things exist. They are unspeakably dreadful. And we never can plume ourselves on our advancement until we have managed, somehow, to alter conditions so that such things cannot happen.

Ask the Ladies

REPORTS from official circles of the city government indicate that council members are still keeping attentive ears to the ground for the rumblings that were to indicate the public's attitude on the water question. The council a few weeks ago left the question suspended in midair, so to speak, by agreeing that something should be done about the matter and the council would do it just as soon as the public indicated what it wanted done.

The Record News does not know just what city officials expect from "the people," nor does this newspaper believe the water situation here is such to warrant a general uprising. This does not mean, however, that the citizens of Wichita Falls are not willing and ready to undertake the establishment of a better system if some plan is presented for their consideration. Until some plan or several plans are offered, this newspaper does not expect any concerted expression of approval or disapproval.

Looking back over recent political campaigns, it seems that if the council really wants to know what to do about the water question, and whether or not anything should be done about it, the commission should ask the women. The number of ruined radiators, plumbing systems and digestive tracts of the men folks is not so important, neither is the substantial loss incurred by industries to provide soft water. The fact that the present might be an ideal time for a bond issue, both from the viewpoint of the high purchasing power of the money so secured and the good effect that the circulation of this money would do, may not be so important as whether or not the need of soft and palatable water is felt in the homes.

The council or its appointees might easily proceed about the business of finding out just who wants better water and why. If the ladies endorse the program, then this newspaper will place a new linotype machine against a second hand kiddy-kar that now is the time to get the water program under way.

Mr. Einstein, Such Words!

THE full translation of Einstein's famous new theory has now appeared on this side of the Atlantic—but unless you're a specialist in mathematics, don't rush to the nearest book store to buy a copy. You'd be disappointed.

Here is a brief excerpt from the new theory:

"The v-components of the s-th leg of the n-leg will accordingly be labeled as subscript s raised to the power v, while the appertaining fixed lower determinants will be labeled as superscript s h subscript v.

"The local n-legs are all placed 'parallel' and equal vectors are such as have—with reference to their local n-legs—equal co-ordinates."

That's a sample. Unless you can assimilate things like that, don't bother to buy the book.

Commenting on various problems of the oil industry, President Phillips of Phillips Petroleum company, recently said: "The oil industry has been giving increasing attention the past year to conservation and the economic problems arising from overproduction of raw material and overexpansion of refining and marketing facilities. Some progress has been made; much more remains to be accomplished.

"Voluntary cooperation is too slow to keep pace with the problems of oversupply. We must take decisive steps which will quickly produce permanent results.

"The industry should stop temporizing, frankly face the facts and seek enactment of appropriate laws."

A PLEASANT OKLAHOMA WAR

Now that this is getting near the end, let us tell you that we enjoy this war better than any war we ever attended and that is said after due deliberation for we once chased Pancho Villa and Kaiser Bill. The reason we enjoy this war so much is that it is turning out just about like we'd order it and you don't have to undergo the hardships of an ordinary skirmish.

Of course, should Henry retain his scalp, the war might not be considered so successful from our viewpoint, but that is neither here nor there, the fun is here for the watching.

16 Years Between Cabinet Jobs—That's Stimson's Record If He Goes Back

HENRY L. STIMSON

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—Sixteen years is a long time between cabinets. Few men have reappeared as cabinet members after so extended a period.

But Henry L. Stimson may be one of them—will be, if predictions that Herbert Hoover will make him secretary of state are correct.

Stimson served in the cabinet so long ago that many Americans, no doubt, have forgotten all about it. He was secretary of war under President Taft, and it was while serving in that capacity that he laid the ground work for his recent successful occupancy of the post of governor-general of the Philippines.

Eventful Career

Born in New York in 1867, the son of a widely known surgeon, Stimson has had a varied and eventful career. It has brought him experience with all kinds of men in all kinds of places; has made him a student of men, an aggressive leader who, his friends say, cannot be budged from his position once he has made up his mind.

As a boy he got his preparatory school education at Philips-Andover Academy, in Massachusetts, and then went to Yale. His social standing at Yale can be gauged from the fact that he was elected a member of the famous "Bones" society there. Later he went to Harvard to study law, and immediately afterward went to work in the law office of Elihu Root.

His professional advance was rapid. Two years later he was made Root's partner, and when Theodore Roosevelt became president, Stimson was appointed United States attorney for the southern district of New York.

Prosecuted Sugar Frauds

In that office Stimson showed himself a man of force and ability. He won considerable fame for his prosecution of the "under-weighing" frauds of certain sugar companies, and forced these companies to pay the government $3,400,000 in back duties. He also was the man who jailed Charles W. Morse for violation of the national banking laws, and he made a number of successful prosecutions of railroads for improper rebates.

In 1909 he went to Washington to be an assistant attorney general, and in 1911 President Taft made him secretary of war. It was in this post that Stimson made one of the friendships that he valued most highly; the friendship of Gen. Leonard Wood.

General Wood was chief of staff at that time, and consequently was thrown in close contact with Stimson. From this friendship Stimson drew two things that were to influence him profoundly in later years; a deep interest in the Philippines, and an absorbing liking for military training. General Wood had just conceived his famous idea of national military training camps, and he quickly "sold" Stimson on it.

Served in France

When the world war broke out, Stimson—who had been back in private life for a number of years—hurried to Plattsburg, which was the direct outgrowth of his own and Wood's enthusiasm. He went through the course of training there, although over military age, went to France for further training at Chaumont, and became a lieutenant-colonel in the 305th Filed Artillery, A. E. F.

After the war Stimson left the army and returned to the private practice of law. For several years he remained in that pursuit; then, in 1926, President Coolidge made him his personal representative on a difficult mission to Nicaragua.

Clothed with authority from the president, Colonel Stimson went to Nicaragua to bring about the end of hostilities there. He induced Moncada, the liberal general, to lay down his arms, and arranged for the recent election which ended the turmoil in that distressed country.

Returning to America, Stimson was soon off on another mission—this time a private one. He went to Manila to make an extended visit with his friend, General Wood, then governor-general of the Philippines.

On this visit Stimson got a first-hand view of conditions in the islands. He stayed there for six weeks discussed affairs with General Wood and making himself thoroughly familiar with the issues and problems which have made the governor-generalship of the Philippines one of the toughest jobs the United States can offer a man.

This study stood him in good stead later. General Wood, in ill health, returned to the United States and soon after died. President Coolidge promptly named Stimson governor-general in Wood's place.

Stimson went to the islands announcing that he would follow Wood's policies in all things. He proved himself a man of such tact and diplomacy, however, that before he had been on the job six months he had won the good will and confidence of nearly all the native leaders.

The Day Book of a New Yorker

Broadway Chatter by Grant Dixon

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—Those of you who ride in taxicabs probably do not know that if there are not seats for five passengers within the car you are riding in a bootleg taxi. The law requires such a provision and any company that has been unaware of such a regulation will find the owners will not be given licenses to do business.

In Paris a one-passenger cab is not only common, but it is unique in the fact that it is usually occupied and is hard to find. The driver sits in front and you (if you are the passenger) sit behind him. The price is so cheap over there that it really makes no difference whether you have one of the small or the full-rigged cars. An American motor car builder has just turned out a cab that will seat but four persons. In order to do business here room will have to be made for the fifth rider. There are but a few cities that have such licensing rules in the United States, but New York seems to be one that enforces the law on this subject.

One motorist who has been fortunate in not going to jail for parking, speeding or any of the large number of crimes that a driver can commit, has figured it out that there are no less than a dozen speed laws in effect in the greater city. Parkways, bridges, streets, zones all have their speed limits. The fastest spot just at present, he says, is a north or southbound street through the theatrical zone.

It is interesting to note how persistent and well-conceived advertising works its affect on the public, said the inveterate New Yorker. It had come to his notice during the recent epidemic of influenza and grip, during which time the subways were posted with the department of health's placards.

"These said it was dangerous not to 'Cover each cought and sneeze,' " the observer continued, "and this message was so impressed on every one's mind that, should any person leave a cough or sneeze uncovered, the wrath of every one else was indicated toward him by glances and scowls.

"That state of the public mind did more to keep the epidemic down than a system of fines and punishment would have!"

A firm of lawyers in the Grand Central zone recently moved its offices from the fifth floor of its former building to the 18th floor of one of the new skyscrapers in that district. The result of that move, as reported by the head of the firm at luncheon the other day, give testimony to the increasing complexities of life in New York.

"We've hardly been able to get a lick of work out of the junior member of the firm since we moved," he was explaining. "He's a bug about architecture and skyline views, and he sits and gazes out of the window most of the day. But I believe that he will tire, and that the inspiration he draws from the wonderful view—when he can take it in brief doses—will pep him and the firm up more than ever."

The new traffic rules and regulations in the Times square district of evenings have been so thoroughly discussed in the newspapers that apparently they have already become a part of the public's subconscious mind, explained the amateur psychologist.

"The rules are not in effect," he pointed out, "between 9:30 and 10:30 p. m. But pedestrians, especially, stop at the street corners and look furtively around for a cop before they venture to cross the street even with traffic. They do it without thinking—it's become a sort of second nature. If the new rules make people that wary about observing traffic rights they will have done a whole lot!"

A stylishly dressed young woman stepped aboard the Staten Island Rapid transait car at Great Kills station. Tenderly in her arms she held an infant wrapped in the dainty blue blankets that evidenced—a son.

At St. George she sat inside on the ferryboat's upper deck and occasionally peeked down at the snuggled form deep in the soft warm coverings of "baby blue"—and all was lovely and peaceful.

At South Ferry the woman with her precious bundle held close in her enfolding arms passed into the I. R. T. subway and to a well-filled Seventh avenue car.

A young man instantly rose from his seat with, "Here, madame, take this seat, please!"

She left the subway at Chambers street and paused at the top of the stairway; from the folds of baby blanket there came forth a Boston bull pup that had come through the city restrictions with certain advantages to the young woman and no interference from ferry or subway guards.

Mysterious Chairs Put in White House

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24. (US)—Three mysterious chairs were added to one in the White House dark closet.

There they are to remain until March 4, when they are to be moved into the cabinet room to replace chairs which retiring members will take with them as memento of public service.

It is known that Secretary of the Interior West and Attorney General Sargent purchased one each, as it is the custom of the person taking the chair to buy a duplicate. This makes it definite that they are to retire. Who bought the others could not be learned any more than who is to use them.

President Coolidge already has purchased the chair for Mr. Hoover, but this is not included in the four.

Slick, and adopted by the Slick interests, Prairie Oil and Gas company, Barnsdall Oil company, Tidal Oil company, Indian Territory Illuminating Oil company, Mid-Continent Petroleum corporation and Magnolia Petroleum company.

KIWANIS TO HEAR ARCHER

Sanitation Expert to Speak At Luncheon Today

Col. W. G. Archer, internationally known authority on sanitation, will address the weekly meeting of the Kiwanis club to be held at the Kemp hotel at noon Monday.

Unusual ability as a speaker and a wealth of experience is ascribed to Colonel Archer by those who have heard him in former addresses. He came to Wichita Falls under the auspices of the Master Plumbers association, and addressed a large gathering of master plumbers of the Wichita Falls zone at the Kemp hotel Saturday night.

Musical numbers will be given at Monday's meeting by a mixed quartet from the First Christian church. George Winburne will be in charge of the program.

A special meeting of the board of directors of the Kiwanis club will be held Monday night, to which the membership is invited.

Wellington Boys Get Scout Honors

(By Staff Correspondent)

WELLINGTON, Texas, Feb. 24.—Accompanied by S. R. Pinkston, president, and E. L. Winn, manager of the Wellington Chamber of Commerce, and Walter Campbell, 20 boy scouts went to Clarendon yesterday to receive awards at the court of honor held there.

Henry Parker, scoutmaster, and James Lucas, assistant scoutmaster headed the delegation.

Wellington now has two scout troops with a total membership of 50. According to Scoutmaster Parker, it is expected that the number will be doubled during the coming month, as a result of intensive organization work in this section.

It is their intention to place a conspicuous exhibit at the next Collingsworth county fair, it is asserted.

One first class scout, Clark Chapman, is the envy of all his Wellington companions. Clark has been a first class scout only three months and so far has been awarded 20 merit badges. Nine months must elapse before he can become an Eagle Scout. He declares that in the meantime he shall acquire more honors.

Scout activities in Wellington are receiving the encouragement of the chamber of commerce and pastors of all churches.

By CAPTAIN GEORGE FRIED

CAPT. GEORGE FRIED

It was Capt. George Fried, past and present hero of the high seas, who recently sped over 350 miles of ocean and rescued 32 officers and members of the crew of the ill-fated freighter, the Florida.

"Perhaps it is my recent experiences," the captain explained, "that brings this story to mind.

"It seems that two Hebrew gentlemen—partners in a cloak-and-suit business—were shipwrecked. For days they floated aimlessly about on a raft. Finally one day the larger one, while scanning the horizon, suddenly exclaimed:

"'Abie, Abie, a sail! A sail!'

"'Ah, vhut good vill it do us?' grumbled the other. 'Ve ain't got not samples.'"

Health And Diet Advice

By DR. FRANK McCOY

Author of "The Fast Way to Health"

Questions in regard to health and diet will be answered by Dr. McCoy who can be addressed in care of this paper

(Copyright 1929 by The Bell Syndicate Inc.)

Liquid Diets

For therapeutic reasons it may be necessary to employ a liquid diet for a time during the treatment of special diseases. There are a number of liquid and soft diets employed by physicians and institutions, but only a few of these diets are distinctly advantageous.

Most of the dietetic experiments have grown out of the fasting cure which became fairly popular about 20 years ago. In fact, almost every doctor who experimented with diet at that time prescribed the plain water fast. When I first began my experiments with diet at about that time, I soon discovered that better results could be obtained with a diet which supplied the necessary mineral elements at the same time as it excluded the richer carbon foods.

By using an exclusive water fast the patient lives on his own tissues with much the same results as he would if on an exclusive meat diet. Authentic cases have been known to live and recover after as long as 100 days of this regime, and in some cases good results were produced, especially with those patients who had obviously been poisoned by autotexemia from using the starches and sugars in excess, but in other cases it produced a decided acidosis.

After the patient has been on an exclusive water fast for a few days, his body is literally flooded by poisons and a toxemia develops which, however, disappears within a few days, but recurs at irregular intervals if a long fast is taken. For instance, the patient will feel well for two or three days or perhaps a week, and then develop a crisis. The tongue becomes more coated, headaches develop, and a depressed lassitude comes over him. As I observed these crises, it seemed to me that they were caused by the poisons of the body not being eliminated with steady regularity, and I believed that some means could be devised for overcoming these crises of acidosis. Accordingly, I experimented with further fasting and found that if the patient took orange juice, apple juice, or even the whole fruit, the elimination of toxins by the fast was not interfered with and at the same time most of the unpleasant symptoms were also avoided. This was especially true in cases of extreme toxemia, where the liver was heavily burdened with accumulated bile.

Many who advocate the fasting cure at the present time still recommend plain water fasting, but I am sure this is because they have not experimented sufficiently with the fruit juice fast and other diets. My experience has shown me that the elimination of toxins proceeds as rapidly while the patient is taking a small amount of fruit as when only plain water is used. A fruit regime is also more pleasant to the patient and he is satisfied to continue on it for a longer time than with the plain water fast. The unpleasant symptoms are also largely avoided by the use of the various fruit juices, vegetable extracts and milk diets.

In tomorrow's article I will tell about the soft diets and the method for taking the water fast.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Blood-Letting

Question: X. Y. Z. writes: "Since high blood pressure has become so common, why have the doctors abandoned the old method of bleeding the patient? This seems a logical way of getting rid of a surplus of blood. When this method was being practiced high blood pressure was unknown."

Answer: Bleeding the patient temporarily reduces the amount of blood but it does not cure the cause of the arterial tension. The blood pressure can very readily be brought down to normal by a fasting and diet regime, and the patient's general health at the same time is improved. This method should be understood by every practicing physician, since it is much more satisfactory than some of the methods of treatment now in vogue.

Fattening Cereals

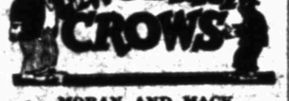

Question: Mrs. C. B. asks: "Will you please tell me through this paper whether dry cereals, such as Rice Crispies, Bran Flakes, Corn Flakes, etc., if eaten without sugar, are considered fattening foods?"

Answer: That would depend, of course, upon how much of these foods are used. Many of the breakfast foods contain molasses in addition to the dextrose content. As far as combinations are concerned, these foods should be used the same as any other toasted foods. They make a good substitute for toast at breakfast.

Sarcoma

Question: Mrs. J. C. M. asks: "Can sarcoma be cured without medical treatment and how must it be treated?"

Answer: The sarcoma is a kind of tumor and may form in any part of the body. The treatment, whether medical, surgical or dietetic, would depend upon the type and location of sarcoma. It would be unwise for me to attempt to give you any definite advice in this column about such a condition.

CLASS D RED RIVER VALLEY BASEBALL LEAGUE FORMED HERE

GRADY SHIPP IS PRESIDENT

Six-Club Circuit to Open Season May 2

By LARRY DAILEY
Record News Sports Editor

Temporary organization of a new class D baseball league—to be known as the Red River Valley—was perfected yesterday at a meeting at the Marchman hotel. Representatives from Vernon, Childress, Lawton and Duncan said their cities were ready to start. Altus was represented by proxy and Quanah, Ardmore, Pampa and Wellington are other towns considered as possible members of the circuit.

Grady Shipp, secretary-manager of the Vernon Chamber of Commerce, was elected temporary president of the league. He formerly was secretary of the Duncan club in the old Oklahoma State league.

Class Rule Noted

It was voted to limit each club to five class men, only one of whom shall have had class A experience. Pitchers having engaged in 90 innings and other players who have been at bat 150 times shall be class men.

A player limit of 14 men, exclusive of a bench manager, and a salary limit of $2,000 a month was agreed upon. A $60 daily guarantee also was voted.

Club Representatives

F. E. Withers, holding the franchise of the Vernon club, acted as temporary chairman. Representatives of other clubs at yesterday's conclave included Harry Wanderling, Childress; A. Magness, Lawton, and E. D. Scott, Duncan.

A permanent organization meeting is to be held in two weeks.

Backers of the league said that the circuit doubtless will be a six-club affair this season. The 1929 playing season will open May 2 and close Labor day.

Riley and Rich Box Wednesday

Ross Moves Swat Emporium to Palace Theater

Kid Rich and Sam Riley, Oklahoma middleweights, both of whom are popular with ring enthusiasts here, headline Alex Ross' ring show Wednesday night. Incidentally, that card will be the first offered by Ross at his new location — the Palace theater, Tenth street and Indiana avenue.

Riley and Rich have made pleasing showings in previous appearances here and their bout should be a good one. Pug Sutherland, the hard-hitting Childress welterweight, who defeated Jimmy Wilson in a last bout here recently, faces Virgil Oden in the eight-round semi-windup.

Battling Cossie returns to the ring wars in a six-round setto with Lee Malone. Four four-round bouts include:

Jack Betts and Benny Leonard, both of Wichita Falls, middleweights; Harold Oden and Cecil Decker, both of Wichita Falls, lightweights; Art Skeen and Wendell Griffin, both of Wichita Falls, welterweights; Whirlwind Kelly, Wichita Falls, and Tommy Mounds, Burkburnett, paperweights.

Victory Boy, Altus Girl Dribblers Win

Special to The Record News

ALTUS, Okla., Feb. 24 — Victory and Altus were victors Saturday night in the class A finals in boys and girls basket ball in the Jackson county tournament here.

Victory boys defeated Ozark, 32 to 20, and Altus girls were winners over Humphrey, 26 to 16.

Hess class B and junior girls won the tournament in their division. Martha captured the junior boys' title and Elmer captured the class B boys honors.

Baer Facts

By ARTHUR (BUGS) BAER

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—Senator Tom Reed and his companionate opponent, Borah, are at it again.

Subject, prohibition and what of it?

From what we can understand of Reed's weaving and twisting harange, prohibition is a blessing in disgust.

Borah, of course, manipulated the negative.

Borah always takes the negative in order to feel comfortable.

No matter what the argument happens to be about, Borah prepares for it by walking in the rain without his hat.

Thereby acquiring a stiff neck which will prevent him from nodding in the affirmative.

There is no more ferocious struggle on earth than when a yes man meets a no man.

Your no man in a debate straddles the steeds of the four horsemen. He splits infinitives up the back like salt mackerel, when facts interfere with the truth he discards them both, tosses prepositions and adjectives to the crocodiles and foams at the mouth like a wildcat in a soap factory.

The venom of the sincere partisan drips from his poisonal pronoun and when he points the finger of scorn at the object of his rebuttal you can hear his knuckles crackle like thunder amalgamating with the weather forecast.

People come from far and wide to hear two rostrum acrobats like Reed and Borah in a sister act.

There is only one kind of oratory in which Senator Borah is not proficient. And that is the silent prayer.

Senator Reed hopped a march on his distinguished confrere last Saturday by taking the floor and nailing his brogans to it.

Reed spoke until he had jumped the limits of the government cloture. When he got through, civilization and progress were panned oysters.

The senate was so delighted at the caperings of this one-man grand jury that it voted to hear the rest of his stuff on Monday.

Which meant that Reed had a two-day start on Senator Borah, who was compelled to stand by and muffle his exhaust within the city limits.

They're Preparing for Another Pennant Campaign

It looks like business again. Above is a group of New York Giants limbering up with the medicine ball at their training camp at San Antnoio. BRAVES ADOPT NEW METHODS

Sliding Pit Is Revived By Johnny Evers

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Feb. 24. (UP) — Redical innovations in spring training methods of the Boston Braves are being gradually introduced by acting Manager Johnnie Evers. The sliding pit which the Giants first used at Morling Springs years ago will be an important feature of this year's workout, while as much attention will be paid in the future to the players' leg muscles as has been devoted to pitching and throwing arms.

In giving a short talk over the radio this noon Judge Fuchs made it clear that the actual playing direction of the team this season would be left to Evers and Hank Gowdy.

Barring Joe Dugan, who is not expected to report to the Braves this season, there are no holouts on the Boston team. Percy Jones and Bruce Cunningham, both pitchers, who have been at odds with the management on the salary question, wired today they were on their way to camp.

White to Drive Own Speed Car

Owner Pilots Triplex In Florida Trials

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24. (US)—Mystery surrounding the identity of the driver of the American-built Triplex, which will defend its speed title at Dayton beach, was lifted today. J. M. White of Philadelphia, its owner and manufacturer, announced that he will drive it himself.

White's decision was communicated to the contest board of the American Automobile association. It had been thought that either Leon Duray or Ralph De Palma would bear the brunt of Maj. H. O. D. Segrave's assault on the record in his Golden Arrow.

The present record of 207.5 miles an hour was made by Ray Keech driving the same Triplex which White is now preparing to ship to Daytona.

New Walters Prep Coach Assumes Job

Special to The Record News

WALTERS, Okla., Feb. 24.—Paul Kratz, former four-letter man of East Central State Teachers' college, Ada, assumed active charge of athletics at the Walters high school this week, following the resignation of Charley Freeman, who has coached Purple Devil squads during the past two seasons.

Kratz comes to Walters with an enviable record in athletics at the Tiger institution. He was a star in football and basketball and lettered in other sports. Since leaving the school he has gained considerable coaching experience and was induced to come to Walters upon the insistence of school officials here.

Cochran Waives Salary As 18.2 Cue Runnerup

NEW YORK, Feb. 24. (UP)—Welker Cochran, runner-up in the recent world's 18.2 billiard championship tournament here, has waived his claim to the $3,000 annual salary he automatically receives for his victory.

The former champion is engaged with a Wall street brokerage firm and prefers to remain here rather than sign a contract with the National Billiard association.

MEYER CHRISTNER, called K. O., probably will never be heavyweight champion of the world. But the Akron rubber puddler has done much to discourage the titular hopes of other so-called contenders. Indeed, the 34-year-old Christner now occupies a place similar to that held by the late Bill Brennan several years ago. Brennan, who was slain by gangsters a few years ago, was the trial horse of the heavyweight division. When they had a young fellow who looked like and up and coming fighter, they matched him with Bill Brennan. If the young fellow beat the Harp he was a contender. But none of the young fellows beat the Harp. Only a few of the best could turn that trick, and it required 12 rounds for Jack Dempsey to sink some punches to Bill's midriff and win.

Christner is a rough, tough battler and possessed of remarkable recuperative power. He gave Jack Sharkey a close fight two weeks ago, so close that not a few of the customers opined that the worst that Meyer should have had was a draw. They were influenced, however, no little by the courageous fight of Christner and the fact that he was in there all the time throwing gloves. Your fight fans like the boys who are always trying.

CHRISTNER gave Paulino (or Paolino, whichever way it pleases one to spell it) another hard mill last Friday. In fact, it was a repetition of his battle with Sharkey. Paulino won the decision —but again the acclaim of the ringsiders went to the old man from Ohio.

Christner has a dangerous right. And stamina. That lets him out as a formidable fighter. A really great fighter would "take" Christner. A boxer would stab him to pieces. A hard hitter would knock him out. Sharkey and Paulino are NOT great fighters. That is why they failed to beat Christner decisively.

TRACY BELL, of 323 Roosevelt street, Electra, writes a letter and sends in his all-star Texas league club of 1928. He picks the leading veterans and youngstars of that campaign, and a bang-up selection it is.

Pitchers — Hallahan, Houston; Steengrafe, Wichita Falls.

Catchers—Snyder, Houston; Lapan, Wichita Falls; Wolgamot, Waco.

First base—Stanton, Wichita Falls; Whelan, Shreveport.

Second base—Selph, Houston.

Turgeon, Wichita Falls.

Third base—Richardson, Fort Worth; Holman, Shreveport.

Shortstop — Schuble, Houston; Devivero, Shreveport.

Center field—Watkins, Houston; Fitzgerald, Wichita Falls.

Right field—Blackerby, Waco; Worthington, Houston.

Mr. Bell points out that Stanton and Holman were great kid stars—which they were. And that Jenkins led in a flock of departments on the attack. He classes Lapan and Wolgamot as about equal.

He predicts that the Spudders will be foremost contenders this season. Right again, Mr. Bell. And write again. Always pleased to hear from you.

PORKERS TAKE ANOTHER TITLE

Fourth Straight Cage Championship to Arkansas

DALLAS, Feb. 24 (AP)—Arkansas university stowed away its fourth consecutive Southwest conference basket ball title by sweeping its final two-game series with the Texas Aggies the past week end, climaxing what from the start proved as uninteresting a race as the circuit has seen.

From the time the lanky Razorbacks made their initial invasion of Texas it was believed they were bound for their fourth straight. The acknowledged superiority of the quintet from the Ozarks took steam out of the other outfits.

Steers Scare Porkers

Only one team, the Texas Longhorns, gave the champions a scrap. Probably the high point in the campaign was reached when the Orange defeated the Porkers at Austin, the only loss sustained by Arkansas in its 12-game schedule.

But for an unexpected one-point setback at the hands of the Southern Methodist university, the Longhorns might have tied the Razorbacks for the crown.

The Aggies did their best to upset the Razorbacks in the deciding tussle Saturday night. They fought the Ozarkians all the way before succumbing, 38 to 29. Texas made its hold on second place a little more secure by defeating Texas Christian university, 42 to 29, and Southern Methodist gained revenge for a previous defeat by licking the Baylor university Bears, 31 to 24.

Pickell Leads Scoring

Tom Pickell, Arkansas beauty, virtually clinched individual scoring honors for the season when he ran his final total to 136. This was said to have been two points better than the previous conference scoring record hung up by Tom's big brother, Elbert Pickell, at Arkansas in 1925. Wear Schoonover, Pickell's talented teammate, clung to second place with 146 points.

Only one conference player has a chance to equal these marks. Holly Brock of Texas university has 128 points and two games to go. A scoring spree against either Rice or the Aggies might put the Texas flash ahead of the field. Other leading loopers are:

Brown, S. M. U., 89; Hess, Rice, 85; Lambert, Arkansas, 83; Rose, Texas, 78; Eury, T. C. U., 76; Smith, Baylor, 65; Candle, Aggies, 65; McDonnell, T. C. U., 61; Brooks, S. M. U., 56; Barksdale, Baylor, 54; Pickens, Arkansas, 54; Johnson, S. M. U., 50; H. Hale, Arkansas, 47; Wilson, Baylor, 47; Keeton, Aggies, 47; Holt, Arkansas, 46; McCarble, 45; Webster, 41; Skeeters, S. M. U., 37; Camp, Texas, 36; Shpack, Rice, 36; Roberson, T. C. U., 35; Banner, Rice, 34; Wray, Texas, 33; Flynn, T. C. U., 32; Walling, T. C. U., 27; Bicknel, Aggies, 26; Rose, Texas, 25; Cheatham, Texas, 23; Looney, Texas, 23; Hoke, Aggies, 22; Kendricks, Rice, 22; Zuber, Rice, 22.

Missouri to Fine Pugs Who Are Guilty of Foul

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Feb. 24. (UP)—Fouling on the part of a boxer, whether accidental or not, probably will bring a drastic penalty against the offender in future bouts held in Missouri, Secretary Ben J. Harrison of the state boxing commission said today.

"Our board probably will adopt a rule whereby a boxer who strikes his opponent below the belt will automatically forfeit his purse," Harrison said. The present rule causes the offender's money to be held up pending action of the commission.

BEAUMONT HAS CAUSE TO HOPE

Winning Team Expected To Go With New Park

By VIN BURKE
Beaumont Enterprise Sports Editor
Written for The Associated Press

BEAUMONT, Feb. 24 (AP) — The Exporters have closed their 1929 roster with 36 athletes in the fold. From this number is expected to be selected one of the best teams to represent this city in Texas league competition of recent years. Fans are hopeful, of course, that the team, to a degree at least, will match the new park which President Rube Stuart is building.

Much depends on the disposition of two 1928 regulars, up for trials in the big leagues. Eddie Marshall at short is under the inspection of John McGraw, and Bob Petrie, one of the sensational fly chasers last year, is in the camp of the Detroit Tigers.

With Petrie back, the outfield doubtless would include Petrie in center, Lyman Lamb, obtained from Wichita Falls, in right, and Paul Easterling, the youngster who hit so lustily for Detroit early last season, in left. This would give the locals one of the strongest outfield combinations in the circuit. Petrie might be shifted to right and Lamb to center, for in the new park the center field is the sun garden and it remains to be seen whether Petrie is capable in that regard.

Good Infielders

Eddie Marshall's return undoubtedly would find him on short, although Manager Claude Robertson has talked from time to time of making a second baseman of him. John Chapman has been purchased from San Antonio for infield duty, either at second or short; Heinie Odom, Exporter utility for the past two seasons, may find regular employment around the inner works.

In addition, the Exporters have purchased a youngster by the name of Bill Akers, who started with Decatur in the Three-I last season and is said to have one of the greatest throwing arms in baseball. Akers eventually may win a place at short.

On first, Robby will place Floyd Burt, brilliant young rookie from Hillsboro who made an impressive showing last season. During the brief time he was with the locals Burt proved himself a terrific hitter and a fielder of promising qualities. Competing with him will be Tommy Marshall, brother of Eddie, who for the past two seasons has pastimed with Vicksburg of the Cotton States league.

Manager Robby, in great condition, will do most of the catching. His first assistant is expected to be Mike Wiley, who hit around .380 for San Angelo last year and helped mightily in that club's successful campaign for the West Texas league pennant. It is possible, however, that another seasoned backstop will be obtained before the season is well under way.

Veteran Pitchers

The pitching staff, which Bobby regards as one of the best in the league, is composed of veterans from other Texas league clubs. From San Antonio have been purchased Tink Riviere and Walter Newman; from Fort Worth, Denny Burns; from Wichita Falls, Tom Estell. Beaumont also will have Elmer Hansen, who has been with the locals for the last three seasons.

Other experienced hurlers include Fred Schemanske, from Indianapolis of the American association and Quincey of the Three-I; Christian, from San Antonio and Des Moines, and Rufus Smith, a college southpaw, the only portsider on the club, from Detroit and Toronto. Two excellent rookies with the club last season are L. L. Cross and Clifton Beasley, both righthanders.

Stuart has spent his money with eye on first division, both in his park and playing personnel. He knows that to build a big modern park for an eighth place club is an excellent way to lose money, and Stuart doesn't take a ham sandwich to a banquet.

Willie Stribling One of Trickiest Gladiators of Pugilistic History

By DAMON RUNYON
(Copyright, 1929, by Universal Service)

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 24.—Willie Stribling Jr., the young king of the cane brakes, is in some respects one of the trickiest gladiators that ever poked a boozer through the rope and one of the meanest.

The average exponent of the sour science meeting Willie for the first time, or even for the second and third times, generally spends too many valuable minutes trying to figure Willie out. Trying to think up a system of fighting Willie.

By the time the gladiator has hit upon an idea Willie has gone with the decision. He does enough flurrying and scurrying in the early rounds to give him a margin that is apt to lap over the last few rounds in the minds of the judges and referee. In most of the battles in which I have seen Willie, he has been out-floundered in the ninth and tenth, but he had something to spare going into those rounds.

He has a very puzzling style. An unorthodox style, as we rate style in the sour science. What is called a clownish style. Every style that happens to be original, or unique, is called a clownish style, I believe.

The only style that the sour science considers orthodox seems to be that old ramrod, by the numbers fashion of the manly art. I have never seen another gladiator with exactly the style of Willie Stribling Jr., and in a sprint, such as is the muss of Miami next Wednesday night, the terrible Sharkey man may be puzzled by it as much as any of the hundreds and one beezarks that Willie has prodded around out in the jungles.

How to Beat Willie

There is, to be sure, one system of fighting that offsets all these queer styles and renders them wholly useless, and that is to climb right on top of raid style and belt the bejabers out of it and also out of the stylist.

It was with this system that old Pound 'Em Paul Berlenbach, who now owns an embonpoint and a little trick moustache, worked on Willie Stribling Jr. The same system indeed, that Ad Stone, the marine employed in besting Willie.

But the Sharkey man isn't a climber-on. I fear he will be trying to meet Willie's weird feints and sudden lunges with that long looping right hand of his and it isn't so easy to hit Willie with a right hand. I would admonish the Sharkey man, whose temperament isn't any too tranquil, not to get mad at Willie's grabs and snatches in the clinches which are very trying on temper.

Willie's experience as an acrobat has given him knowledge of many a strange grasp. I doubt if any slippier boxer in the clinches ever lived. However, he doesn't fight a whole lot inside.

He contents himself with tying his opponent up tight and keeping him locked until the referee yanks him loose.

He has been practicing body punches in his work here evidently with the idea of trying to attack Sharkey's notoriously weak point. But Willie lands his body punches only from a lunge, not after he's in close, like Dempsey, and other good fighters. Willie's body attacks is easily guarded against.

The young king of cane brakes looks in excellent condition. He seems drawn to a wire edge, but I would discount Willie's gymnasium appearance either physically or on his work. Boxing is a habit with him. Ten round bouts are also a habit. He needed training for this fight about as much as you training for breakfast.

The Sharkey man's weight alone would prove that he is in good condition. He is down around 190 pounds, the lowest he has been in a long time. The climate probably did it. At that poundage, the Sharkey man ought to be very fast.

Sharkey has probably slipped back from his best form. What-ever, and whenever that was. I rate his peak the first round of his fight with Dempsey, and as a rule I like to bet against slipping fighters. However, I have yet to be convinced that a gladiator can go on from over 200 fights which is the battle record of the king of the cane brakes. I mean to say I have yet to be convinced that a man can have that many fights and keep on improving.

I believe that heavyweights begin to slide beyond their fiftieth battle. Of course you can prove my theory wrong by a number of citations, but in the main I think I am correct. With all due respect to the loyal southern followers of the king of the can brakes and the Sharkey man, too, I doubt that the next heavyweight champion of the world will come out of Flamingo park next Wednesday night, because I think these parties have their futures behind them.

Fans Still Arriving

Dusty automobiles bearing Georgia licenses are appearing in the streets of Miami. The advance guard of Willie Stribling Jr.'s, home state following has commenced to arrive. It looks as if Georgia will be able to raise quite a lusty rebel yell at the ringside. And in the meantime, Promoters W. F. Carey and William Harrison Dempsey inform me that orders for tickets are still pouring in from all over the East.

I came upon Promoter Dempsey in the palatial home on Miami Beach of Harry Moer, noted hotel owner of Chicago. Promoter Dempsey had as a dinner guest, the Hon. Jeems F. Dougherty, the good baron of Leiperville, with whom Promoter Dempsey was not speaking to a few months ago. The good baron is the manager of George Godfrey, the black shadow of Leiperville recently pronounced by Promoter Dempsey as the greatest heavyweight in the land.

This was before Promoter Dempsey became a promoter, but the statement and the proximity of the good baron, makes me wonder if Promoter Dempsey even then had promoting in the back of his head, and some idea of using the black shadow in connection therewith. Incidentally the shadow is headed this way to see the fight and to give an exhibition in Miami Friday night.

The only drawback to Dempsey as a promoter is that he attracts more attention than his show. He is the subject of more speculation. But he has carried this thing off well.

A surprising number of newspapermen are on the ground for the fight. They come from all over the country—from as far west as Chicago. No Pacific coaster has yet appeared, but I wouldn't be surprised to see one drop in any minute. The city of Miami today has more visitors than at any time in its history and it is more and more apparent that the Sharkey-Stribling affair is largely responsible.

The fighters have both reached the stage where working out is merely a means of limbering up a bit. Betting continues light, and the thing has drifted to even money and take your pick, which I would say is the best price yet. On solid dope the Sharkey man would figure favorite if only because he has fought better men than Willie, but Willie's reputed new-found punch which is largely a matter of rumor seems to stand off the dope.

AGGIE COACHING STAFF CHANGED

John B. Reid and Klepto Holmes Added to Corps

COLLEGE STATION, Texas, Feb. 24.—Through acquisition of John B. Reid, head coach at the North Texas State Teachers' college, Denton, since 1924, and J. G. (Klepto) Holmes, guard on the 1927 championship Texas Aggie grid team, the Texas Aggie coaching staff for 1929-30 has undergone a slight reorganization and has been increased one man in number.

The addition of Reid and Holmes will fill coaching roles made vacant by the resignation of Charles F. (Chuck) Bassett, who came to A. and M. in 1927 as head basket ball coach and football line coach. As announced by Matty Bell, who will become head athletic mentor at A. and M. next September, Reid will be head basketball coach and general assistant in football, while Holmes will be Bell's right-hand man in football, his work to be largely on the line, with especial attention to guards and tackles. Reid's work in football will be largely with the ends.

On the signing of Bell as Dana X. Bible's successor at A. and M., the position of basket ball coach and football line coach were divorced. Bassett was tendered the opportunity of remaining as head basket ball coach by the A. and M. athletic council but declined the offer, announcing that while his interest in basket ball was great, his major interest as a coach was in football, and his desire was to give his attention largely to that sport. The situation at A. and M. under the new coaching head not affording him that opportunity, he announced his resignation from the staff. He has not yet disclosed his plans for the future.

As the new lineup stands, the Aggies will have seven coaches and assistants working with the varsity and freshmen football squads next season as compared to six for the past season. Bell, head coach, will be assisted with the varsity by Holmes and Reid, as mentioned. Roswell Higginbotham, freshman coach, will be assisted by Frank Anderson, track coach; S. J. (Red) Petty, and another athlete to be selected from the student body, who will give part-time service. Petty will assist in the coming spring training.

Men's 'Prime' Placed Between 60 and 100 Years

CHICAGO, Feb. 24. (US)—Age is a quality of mind and man should be his best between 60 and 100, according to Dr. W. H. Harrison, of the Royal league, addressing the National Fraternal congress.

"At 35," Dr. Harrison said, "most men have reached their maximum power. By 40 or 45 they reach the peak in earning power. At 50 they are on the decline and at 60 they are about ready to cross the divide."

Dr. Harrison declared this is all wrong.

He continued: "A man should be at his best at 60, intellectually, morally and spiritually, even though he can not hope to match the physical powers of his younger years."

New Buildings For Clarendon

Special to The Record News

CLARENDON, Texas, Feb. 24.—Three new buildings have been announced for this city, with construction to start as soon as the material can be placed on the ground. Holland brothers will add 40 feet to their building, which is now located on East Second street; George Ryan will erect a modern service station across the street from the Holland building, and C. W. Bennett & Son have announced the construction of a 50-foot structure on their lots between First and Second street on Sully street, and directly next to the new bottling works building just completed. These buildings will add to Clarendon's business district and help to complete some existing gaps in buildings in the town section at this time.

One of the finest residences of the city is also being erected in the west part of the town by John Bass. It will cost near $10,000 when completed and will be located one block east of Clarendon college. Other buildings for the city have been rumored but none have plans far enough advanced to announce.

Expelled Mexicans Get No Help From Home

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 24. (US)—Mexicans expelled from the United States for reasons of not having complied with the immigration laws are not in a position to expect much help from their own government.

Much as the authorities here regret such hard luck befalling Mexican nationals, there is nothing that can be done for the illicit immigrant who is later expelled. Though the public prints refer to these expulsions in sentimental terms, the government takes the position that the United States has the right to uphold its own laws, just as the government of Mexico does in its own case.

Cigaret Evil to Be Discussed at Meeting

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—A conference "for consideration of the cigaret evil" will be held here Monday night, it was announced today.

It will be a "non-sectarian gathering, and ministers from all denominations, physicians, teachers and leaders in church, reform, educational and social uplift movements" will participate, according to the announcement.

The Rev. Clarence True Wilson, of the Methodist board of temperance, prohibition and public morals, will preside, it was stated.

NEW HATCHERY AT CLARENDON

First to Open in Donley County

Special to The Record News

CLARENDON, Texas, Feb. 24.—The Clarendon hatchery, operating a 52,000-egg incubator, boasted an initial hatch from 14 trays of 2,000 baby chicks today. The hatchery, which opened early in February, is the first to open in Donley county, and farmers of this section have kept a steady stream of eggs going into the spacious trays of the huge incubator, which is the largest in this section of the state.

Eggs have come from many farmers here, and from points in Oklahoma and New Mexico. A large consignment arrived today from the Texas Agricultural and Mechanical college at College Station.

The chicks hatched represented pure strains of White Leghorns, White Minorcas, Rhode Island Reds and Barred Rocks. At present about 20,000 eggs are being run, with the machine expected to be at full capacity in a few weeks.

G. Bernard Shaw Shorthand Expert

LONDON, Feb. 24. (UP)—The British press has discovered that George Bernard Shaw, noted dramatist, writes all of his plays and most of his correspondence in shorthand, rather than longhand, this being true of the new Shavian allegory "The King and the Doctors."

Shaw's shorthand notes are written rapidly and in such perfect form that he is able to pass the manuscript to his secretary, Miss Blanche Patch, for transcription without further elucidation on his part.

When asked for a specimen of his shorthand "handwriting," Shaw scribbled rapidly on the back of a card and passed the notes to Miss Patch, who transcribed them and handed the sheet to the reporter.

It read:

"What the devil does the Sunday Chronicle want with a specimen—of my shorthand? G. B. S."

'New Feeling' Permeates Oil World Since Leaders Got Heads Together

Special to The Record News

TULSA, Okla., Feb. 24.—Something has happened in oildom.

No one is aware of what the "action" has been, but everyone senses it. Co-operation is closer at hand today than it has been for years, and leaders trace the change, if it may be termed a change, to the recent American Petroleum institute executive committee meeting at St. Louis.

Adoption of a code of ethics for the refining and marketing branches of the industry was affected, an epochal event.

E. B. Reeser, president of the institute, was empowered after a very long, drawn-out conference to name an international committee to confer on production and consumption of petroleum. The committees have have been named and are functioning.

On the day after the oil men returned from the St. Louis meeting the suggestion of Thomas B. Slick, one of the most independent of oil producers, that a way to end overproduction would be to shut down producing wells on Sunday, is being adopted. Each day sees more and more firms take up the idea. This is a step forward and the industry can congratulate itself on the move.

Shutting down wells on Sunday does another thing. It allows the pumper, field man, roustabout and general oil workers to have a day off, a thing that thousands have not had. Several companies have had the six-day week and eight-hour day, but generally it has been a 12-hour tour, and the pumper had a 24-hour tour.

Production will be lowered and consumption of gasoline and lubricants increased.

CLASS D RED RIVER VALLEY BASEBALL LEAGUE FORMED HERE

GRADY SHIPP IS PRESIDENT

Six-Club Circuit to Open Season May 2

By LARRY DAILEY
Record News Sports Editor

Temporary organization of a new class D baseball league—to be known as the Red River Valley—was perfected yesterday at a meeting at the Marchman hotel. Representatives from Vernon, Childress, Lawton and Duncan said their cities were ready to start. Altus was represented by proxy and Quanah, Ardmore, Pampa and Wellington are other towns considered as possible members of the circuit.

Grady Shipp, secretary-manager of the Vernon Chamber of Commerce, was elected temporary president of the league. He formerly was secretary of the Duncan club in the old Oklahoma State league.

Class Rule Noted

It was voted to limit each club to five class men, only one of whom shall have had class A experience. Pitchers having engaged in 90 innings and other players who have been at bat 150 times shall be class men.

A player limit of 14 men, exclusive of a bench manager, and a salary limit of $2,000 a month was agreed upon. A $60 daily guarantee also was voted.

Club Representatives

F. E. Withers, holding the franchise of the Vernon club, acted as temporary chairman. Representatives of other clubs at yesterday's conclave included Harry Wanderling, Childress; A. Magness, Lawton, and E. D. Scott, Duncan.

A permanent organization meeting is to be held in two weeks.

Backers of the league said that the circuit doubtless will be a six-club affair this season. The 1929 playing season will open May 2 and close Labor day.

Riley and Rich Box Wednesday

Ross Moves Swat Emporium to Palace Theater

Kid Rich and Sam Riley, Oklahoma middleweights, both of whom are popular with ring enthusiasts here, headline Alex Ross' ring show Wednesday night. Incidentally, that card will be the first offered by Ross at his new location — the Palace theater, Tenth street and Indiana avenue.

Riley and Rich have made pleasing showings in previous appearances here and their bout should be a good one. Pug Sutherland, the hard-hitting Childress welterweight, who defeated Jimmy Wilson in a fast bout here recently, faces Virgil Oden in the eight-round semi-windup.

Battling Cossie returns to the ring wars in a six-round setto with Lee Malone. Four four-round bouts include:

Jack Betts and Benny Leonard, both of Wichita Falls, middleweights; Harold Oden and Cecil Decker, both of Wichita Falls, lightweights; Art Skeen and Wendell Griffin, both of Wichita Falls, welterweights; Whirlwind Kelly, Wichita Falls, and Tommy Mounds, Burkburnett, paperweights.

Victory Boy, Altus Girl Dribblers Win

Special to The Record News

ALTUS, Okla., Feb. 24 — Victory and Altus were victors Saturday night in the class A finals in boys and girls basket ball in the Jackson county tournament here.

Victory boys defeated Ozark, 32 to 20, and Altus girls were winners over Humphrey, 26 to 16.

Hess class B and junior girls won the tournament in their division. Martha captured the junior boys' title and Elmer captured the class B boys honors.

Baer Facts

By ARTHUR (BUGS) BAER.

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—Senator Tom Reed and his companionate opponent, Borah, are at it again.

Subject, prohibition and what of it?

From what we can understand of Reed's weaving and twisting harange, prohibition is a blessing in disgust.

Borah, of course, manipulated the negative.

Borah always takes the negative in order to feel comfortable.

No matter what the argument happens to be about, Borah prepares for it by walking in the rain without his hat.

Thereby acquiring a stiff neck which will prevent him from nodding in the affirmative.

There is no more ferocious struggle on earth than when a yes man meets a no man.

Your no man in a debate straddles the steeds of the four horsemen. He splits infinitives up the back like salt mackerel, when facts interfere with the truth he discards them both, tosses prepositions and adjectives to the crocodiles and foams at the mouth like a wildcat in a soap factory.

The venom of the sincere partisan drips from his poisonal pronoun and when he points the finger of scorn at the object of his rebuttal you can hear his knuckles crackle like thunder amalgamating with the weather forecast.

People come from far and wide to hear two rostrum acrobats like Reed and Borah in a sister act.

There is only one kind of oratory in which Senator Borah is not proficient. And that is the silent prayer.

Senator Reed hopped a march on his distinguished confrere last Saturday by taking the floor and nailing his brogans to it.

Reed spoke until he had jumped the limits of the government cloture. When he got through, civilization and progress were panned oysters.

The senate was so delighted at the caperings of this one-man grand jury that it voted to hear the rest of his stuff on Monday.

Which meant that Reed had a two-day start on Senator Borah, who was compelled to stand by and muffle his exhaust within the city limits.

BRAVES ADOPT NEW METHODS

Sliding Pit Is Revived By Johnny Evers

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Feb. 24. (UP) — Redical innovations in spring training methods of the Boston Braves are being gradually introduced by acting Manager Johnnie Evers. The sliding pit which the Giants first used at Morling Springs years ago will be an important feature of this year's workout, while as much attention will be paid in the future to the players' leg muscles as has been devoted to pitching and throwing arms.

In giving a short talk over the radio this noon Judge Fuchs made it clear that the actual playing direction of the team this season would be left to Evers aind Hank Gowdy.

Barring Joe Dugan, who is not expected to report to the Braves this season, there are no holouts on the Boston team. Percy Jones and Bruce Cunningham, both pitchers, who have been at odds with the management on the salary question, wired today they were on their way to camp.

White to Drive Own Speed Car

Owner Pilots Triplex In Florida Trials

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24. (US)—Mystery surrounding the identity of the driver of the American-built Triplex, which will defend its speed title at Dayton beach, was lifted today. J. M. White of Philadelphia, its owner and manufacturer, announced that he will drive it himself.

White's decision was communicated to the contest board of the American Automobile association. It had been thought that either Leon Duray or Ralph De Palma would bear the brunt of Maj. H. O. D. Segrave's assault on the record in his Golden Arrow.

The present record of 207.5 miles an hour was made by Ray Keech driving the same Triplex which White is now preparing to ship to Daytona.

New Walters Prep Coach Assumes Job

Special to The Record News

WALTERS, Okla., Feb. 24.—Paul Kratz, former four-letter man of East Central State Teachers' college, Ada, assumed active charge of athletics at the Walters high school this week, following the resignation of Charley Freeman, who has coached Purple Devil squads during the past two seasons.

Kratz comes to Walters with an enviable record in athletics at the Tiger institution. He was a star in football and basketball and lettered in other sports. Since leaving the school he has gained considerable coaching experience and was induced to come to Walters upon the insistence of school officials here.

Cochran Waives Salary As 18.2 Cue Runnerup

NEW YORK, Feb. 24. (UP)—Welker Cochran, runner-up in the recent world's 18.2 billiard championship tournament here, has waived his claim to the $3,000 annual salary he automatically receives for his victory.

The former champion is engaged with a Wall street brokerage firm and prefers to remain here rather than sign a contract with the National Billiard association.

MEYER CHRISTNER, called K. O., probably will never be heavyweight champion of the world. But the Akron rubber puddler has done much to discourage the titular hopes of other so-called contenders. Indeed, the 34-year-old Christner now occupies a place similar to that held by the late Bill Brennan several years ago. Brennan, who was slain by gangsters a few years ago, was the trial horse of the heavyweight division. When they had a young fellow who looked like and up and coming fighter, they matched him with Bill Brennan. If the young fellow beat the Harp he was a contender. But none of the young fellows beat the Harp. Only a few of the best could turn that trick, and it required 12 rounds for Jack Dempsey to sink some punches to Bill's midriff and win.

Christner is a rough, tough battler and possessed of remarkable recuperative power. He gave Jack Sharkey a close fight two weeks ago, so close that not a few of the customers opined that the worst that Meyer should have had was a draw. They were influenced, however, no little by the courageous fight of Christner and the fact that he was in there all the time throwing gloves. Your fight fans like the boys who are always trying.

CHRISTNER gave Paulino (or Paolino, whichever way it pleases one to spell it) another hard mill last Friday. In fact, it was a repetition of his battle with Sharkey. Paulino won the decision—but again the acclaim of the ringsiders went to the old man from Ohio.

Christner has a dangerous right. And stamina. That lets him out as a formidable fighter. A really great fighter would "take" Christner. A boxer would stab him to pieces. A hard hitter would knock him out. Sharkey and Paulino are NOT great fighters. That is why they failed to beat Christner decisively.

◆ ◆ ◆

TRACY BELL, of 323 Roosevelt street, Electra, writes a letter and sends in his all-star Texas league club of 1928. He picks the leading veterans and youngsters of that campaign, and a bang-up selection it is.

Pitchers — Hallahan, Houston; Steengrafe, Wichita Falls.

Catchers—Snyder, Houston; Lapan, Wichita Falls; Wolgamot, Waco.

First base—Stanton, Wichita Falls; Whelan, Shreveport.

Second base—Gelph, Houston, Turgeon, Wichita Falls.

Third base—Richardson, Fort Worth; Holman, Shreveport.

Shortstop — Schuble, Houston; Devivero, Shreveport.

Center field—Watkins, Houston; Fitzgerald, Wichita Falls.

Right field—Blackerby, Waco; Worthington, Houston.

Mr. Bell points out that Stanton and Holman were great kid stars—which they were. And that Jenkins led in a flock of departments on the attack. He classes Lapan and Wolgamot as about equal.

He predicts that the Spudders will be foremost contenders this season. Right again, Mr. Bell. And write again. Always pleased to hear from you.

PORKERS TAKE ANOTHER TITLE

Fourth Straight Cage Championship to Arkansas

DALLAS, Feb. 24 (AP)—Arkansas university stowed away its fourth consecutive Southwest conference basket ball title by sweeping its final two-game series with the Texas Aggies the past week end, climaxing what from the start proved as uninteresting a race as the circuit has seen.

From the time the lanky Razorbacks made their initial invasion of Texas it was believed they were bound for their fourth straight. The acknowledged superiority of the quintet from the Ozarks took steam out of the other outfits.

Steers Scare Porkers

Only one team, the Texas Longhorns, gave the champions a scrap. Probably the high point in the campaign was reached when the Orange defeated the Porkers at Austin, the only loss sustained by Arkansas in its 12-game schedule.

But for an unexpected one-point setback at the hands of the Southern Methodist university, the Longhorns might have tied the Razorbacks for the crown.

The Aggies did their best to upset the Razorbacks in the deciding tussle Saturday night. They fought the Ozarkians all the way before succumbing, 33 to 29. Texas made its hold on second place a little more secure by defeating Texas Christian university, 42 to 29, and Southern Methodist gained revenge for a previous defeat by licking the Baylor university Bears, 31 to 24.

Pickell Leads Scoring

Tom Pickell, Arkansas beauty, virtually clinched individual scoring honors for the season when he ran his final total to 156. This was said to have been two points better than the previous conference scoring record hung up by Tom's big brother, Elbert Pickell, at Arkansas in 1925. Wear Schoonover, Pickell's talented teammate, clung to second place with 146 points.

Only one conference player has a chance to equal these marks. Holly Brock of Texas university has 128 points and two games to go. A scoring spree against either Rice or the Aggies might put the Texas flash ahead of the field. Other leading loopers are:

Brown, S. M. U., 89; Ross, Rice, 85; Lambert, Arkansas, 83; Rose, Texas, 78; Eury, T. C. U., 76; Smith, Baylor, 65; Caudle, Aggies, 63; McDonnell, T. C. U., 61; Brooks, S. M. U., 56; Barksdale, Baylor, 54; Pickren, Arkansas, 54; Johnson, S. M. U., 50; M. Hale, Arkansas, 47; Wilson, Baylor, 47; Keeton, Aggies, 47; Holt, Arkansas, 46; McCarbie, 45; Webster, 41; Skeeters, S. M. U., 37; Caine, Texas, 36; Shpack, Rice, 36; Roberson, T. C. U., 36; Banner, Rice, 34; Wray, Texas, 33; Flynn, T. C. U., 32; Walling, T. C. U., 27; Blount, Aggies, 24; Ross, Texas, 21; Cheatham, Texas, 20; Looney, Texas, 23; Hoke, Aggies, 22; Kendricks, Rice, 22; Esber, Rice, 22.

Missouri to Fine Pugs Who Are Guilty of Foul

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Feb. 24. (UP)—Fouling on the part of a boxer, whether accidental or not, probably will bring a drastic penalty against the offender in future bouts held in Missouri, Secretary Ben J. Harrison of the state boxing commission said today.

"Our board probably will adopt a rule whereby a boxer who strikes his opponent below the belt will automatically forfeit his purse," Harrison said. The present rule causes the offender's money to be held up pending action of the commission.

BEAUMONT HAS CAUSE TO HOPE

Winning Team Expected To Go With New Park

By VIN BURKE
Beaumont Enterprise Sports Editor
Written for The Associated Press

BEAUMONT, Feb. 24 (AP) — The Exporters have closed their 1929 roster with 36 athletes in the fold. From this number is expected to be selected one of the best teams to represent this city in Texas league competition of recent years. Fans are hopeful, of course, that the team, to a degree at least, will match the new park which President Rube Stuart is building.

Much depends on the disposition of two 1928 regulars, up for trials in the big leagues. Eddie Marshall at short is under the inspection of John McGraw, and Bob Petrie, one of the sensational fly chasers last year, is in the camp of the Detroit Tigers.

With Petrie back, the outfield doubtless would include Petrie in center, Lyman Lamb, obtained from Wichita Falls, in right, and Paul Easterling, the youngster who hit so lustily for Detroit early last season, in left. This would give the locals one of the strongest outfield combinations in the circuit. Petrie might be shifted to right and Lamb to center, for in the new park the center field is the sun garden and it remains to be seen whether Petrie is capable in that regard.

Good Infielders

Eddie Marshall's return undoubtedly would find him on short, although Manager Claude Robertson has talked from time to time of making a second baseman of him. John Chapman has been purchased from San Antonio for infield duty, either at second or short; Heinie Odom, Exporter utility for the past two seasons, may find regular employment around the inner works.

In addition, the Exporters have purchased a youngster by the name of Bill Akers, who started with Decatur in the Three-I last season and is said to have one of the greatest throwing arms in baseball. Akers eventually may win a place at short.

On first, Robby will place Floyd Burt, brilliant young rookie from Hillsboro who made an impressive showing last season. During the brief time he was with the locals Burt proved himself a terrific hitter and a fielder of promising qualities. Competing with him will be Tommy Marshall, brother of Eddie, who for the past two seasons has pastimed with Vicksburg of the Cotton States league.

Manager Robby, in great condition, will do most of the catching. His first assistant is expected to be Mike Wiley, who hit around .380 for San Angelo last year and helped mightily in that club's successful campaign for the West Texas league pennant. It is possible, however, that another seasoned backstop will be obtained before the season is well under way.

Veteran Pitchers

The pitching staff, which Bobby regards as one of the best in the league, is composed of veterans from other Texas league clubs. From San Antonio have been purchased Tink Riviere and Walter Newman; from Fort Worth, Denny Burns; from Wichita Falls, Tom Estell. Beaumont also will have Elmer Hansen, who has been with the locals for the last three seasons.

Other experienced hurlers include Fred Schemanske, from Indianapolis of the American association and Quincey of the Three-I; Christian, from San Antonio and Des Moines, and Rufus Smith, a college southpaw, the only portsider on the club, from Detroit and Toronto. Two excellent rookies with the club last season are L. L. Cross and Clifton Beasley, both righthanders.

Stuart has spent his money with eye on first division, both in his park and playing personnel. He knows that to build a big modern park for an eighth place club is an excellent way to lose money, and Stuart doesn't take a ham sandwich to a banquet.

Willie Stribling One of Trickiest Gladiators of Pugilistic History

By DAMON RUNYON
(Copyright, 1929, by Universal Service)

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 24.—Willie Stribling Jr., the young king of the cane brakes, is in some respects one of the trickiest gladiators that ever poked a beezer through the rope and one of the meanest.

The average exponent of the sour science meeting Willie for the first time, or even for the second and third times, generally spends too many valuable minutes trying to figure Willie out. Trying to think up a system of fighting Willie.

By the time the gladiator has hit upon an idea Willie has gone with the decision. He does enough flurrying and scurrying in the early rounds to give him a margin that is apt to lap over the last few rounds in the minds of the judges and referee. In most of the battles in which I have seen Willie, he has been out-floundered in the ninth and tenth, but he had something to spare going into those rounds.

He has a very puzzling style. An unorthodox style, as we rate style in the sour science. What is called a clownish style. Every style that happens to be original, or unique, is called a clownish style, I believe.

The only style that the sour science considers orthodox seems to be that old ramrod, by the numbers fashion of the manly art. I have never seen another gladiator with exactly the style of Willie Stribling Jr., and in a sprint, such as is the muss of Miami next Wednesday night, the terrible Sharkey man may be puzzled by it as much as any of the hundreds and one beezarks that Willie has prodded around out in the jungles.

How to Beat Willie

There is, to be sure, one system of fighting that offsets all these queer styles and renders them wholly useless, and that is to climb right on top of said style and belt the bejabers out of it and also out of the stylist.

It was with this system that old Pound 'Em Paul Berlenbach, who now owns an embonpoint and a little trick moustache, worked on Willie Stribling Jr. The same system indeed, that Ad Stone, the marine employed in besting Willie.

But the Sharkey man isn't a climber-on. I fear he will be trying to meet Willie's weird feints and sudden lunges with that long looping right hand of his and it isn't so easy to hit Willie with a right hand. I would admonish the Sharkey man, whose temperament isn't any too tranquil, not to get mad at Willie's grabs and snatches in the clinches which are very trying on tempers.

Willie's experience as an acrobat has given him knowledge of many a strange grasp. I doubt if any slippier boxer in the clinches ever lived. However, he doesn't fight a whole lot inside.

He contents himself with tying his opponent up tight and keeping him locked until the referee yanks him loose.

He has been practicing body punches in his work here evidently with the idea of trying to attack Sharkey's notoriously weak point. But Willie lands his body punches only from a lunge, not after he's in close, like Dempsey, and other good fighters. Willie's body attacks is easily guarded against.

The young king of cane brakes looks in excellent condition. He seems drawn to a wire edge, but I would discount Willie's gymnasium appearance either physically or on his work. Boxing is a habit with him. Ten round bouts are also a habit. He needed training for this fight about as much as you training for breakfast.

The Sharkey man's weight alone would prove that he is in good condition. He is down around 190 pounds, the lowest he has been in a long time. The climate probably did it. At that poundage, the Sharkey man ought to be very fast.

Sharkey has probably slipped back from his best form. Whatever, and whenever that was. I rate his peak the first round of his fight with Dempsey, and as a rule I like to bet against slipping fighters. However, I have yet to be convinced that a gladiator can go on from over 200 fights which is the battle record of the king of the cane brakes. I mean to say I have yet to be convinced that a man can have that many fights and keep on improving.

I believe that heavyweights begin to slide beyond their fiftieth battle. Of course you can prove my theory wrong by a number of citations, but in the main I think I am correct. With all due respect to the loyal southern followers of the king of the can brakes and the Sharkey man, too, I doubt that the next heavyweight champion of the world will come out of Flamingo park next Wednesday night, because I think these parties have their futures behind them.

Fans Still Arriving

Dusty automobiles bearing Georgia licenses are appearing in the streets of Miami. The advance guard of Willie Stribling Jr.'s, home state following has commenced to arrive. It looks as if Georgia will be able to raise quite a lusty rebel yell at the ringside. And in the meantime, Promoters W. F. Carey and William Harrison Dempsey inform me that orders for tickets are still pouring in from all over the East.

I came upon Promoter Dempsey in the palatial home on Miami Beach of Harry Moer, noted hotel owner of Chicago. Promoter Dempsey had as a dinner guest, the Hon. Jeems F. Dougherty, the good baron of Leiperville, with whom Promoter Dempsey was not speaking to a few months ago. The good baron is the manager of George Godfrey, the black shadow of Leiperville recently pronounced by Promoter Dempsey as the greatest heavyweight in the land.

This was before Promoter Dempsey became a promoter, but the statement and the proximity of the good baron, makes me wonder if Promoter Dempsey even then had promoting in the back of his head, and some idea of using the black shadow in connection therewith. Incidentally the shadow is headed this way to see the fight and to give an exhibition in Miami Friday night.

The only drawback to Dempsey as a promoter is that he attracts more attention than his show. He is the subject of more speculation. But he has carried this thing off well.

A surprising number of newspapermen are on the ground for the fight. They come from all over the country—from as far west as Chicago. No Pacific coaster has yet appeared, but I wouldn't be surprised to see one drop in any minute. The city of Miami today has more visitors than at any time in its history and it is more and more apparent that the Sharkey-Stribling affair is largely responsible.

The fighters have both reached the stage where working out is merely a means of limbering up a bit. Betting continues light, and the thing has drifted to even money and take your pick, which I would say is the best price yet. On solid dope the Sharkey man would figure favorite if only because he has fought better men than Willie, but Willie's reputed new-found punch which is largely a matter of rumor seems to stand off the dope.

AGGIE COACHING STAFF CHANGED

John B. Reid and Klepto Holmes Added to Corps

COLLEGE STATION, Texas, Feb. 24.—Through acquisition of John B. Reid, head coach at the North Texas State Teachers' college, Denton, since 1924, and J. G. (Klepto) Holmes, guard on the 1927 championship Texas Aggie grid team, the Texas Aggie coaching staff for 1929-30 has undergone a slight reorganization and has been increased one man in number.

The addition of Reid and Holmes will fill coaching roles made vacant by the resignation of Charles F. (Chuck) Bassett, who came to A. and M. in 1927 as head basket ball coach and football line coach. As announced by Matty Bell, who will become head athletic mentor at A. and M. next September, Reid will be head basketball coach and general assistant in football, while Holmes will be Bell's right-hand man in football, his work to be largely on the line, with especial attention to guards and tackles. Reid's work in football will be largely with the ends.

On the signing of Bell as Dana X. Bible's successor at A. and M., the position of basket ball coach and football line coach were divorced. Bassett was tendered the opportunity of remaining as head basket ball coach by the A. and M. athletic council but declined the offer, announcing that while his interest in basket ball was great, his major interest as a coach was in football, and his desire was to give his attention largely to that sport. The situation at A. and M. under the new coaching head not affording him that opportunity, he announced his resignation from the staff. He has not yet disclosed his plans for the future.

As the new lineup stands, the Aggies will have seven coaches and assistants working with the varsity and freshmen football squads next season as compared to six for the past season. Bell, head coach, will be assisted with the varsity by Holmes and Reid, as mentioned. Roswell Higginbotham, freshman coach, will be assisted by Frank Anderson, track coach; S. J. (Red) Petty, and another athlete to be selected from the student body, who will give part-time service. Petty will assist in the coming spring training.

Men's 'Prime' Placed Between 60 and 100 Years

CHICAGO, Feb. 24. (US)—Age is a quality of mind and man should be his best between 60 and 100, according to Dr. W. H. Harrison, of the Royal league, addressing the National Fraternal congress.

"At 35," Dr. Harrison said, "most men have reached their maximum power. By 40 or 45 they reach the peak in earning power. At 50 they are on the decline and at 60 they are about ready to cross the divide."

Dr. Harrison declared this is all wrong.

He continued: "A man should be at his best at 60, intellectually, morally and spiritually, even though he can not hope to match the physical powers of his younger years."

New Buildings For Clarendon

Special to The Record News

CLARENDON, Texas, Feb. 24.—Three new buildings have been announced for this city, with construction to start as soon as the material can be placed on the ground. Holland brothers will add 40 feet to their building, which is now located on East Second street; George Ryan will erect a modern service station across the street from the Holland building, and C. W. Bennett & Son have announced the construction of a 50-foot structure on their lots between First and Second street on Sully street, and directly next to the new bottling works building just completed. These buildings will add to Clarendon's business district and help to complete some existing gaps in buildings in the town section at this time.

One of the finest residences of the city is also being erected in the west part of the town by John Bass. It will cost near $10,000 when completed and will be located one block east of Clarendon college. Other buildings for the city have been rumored but none have plans far enough advanced to announce.

Expelled Mexicans Get No Help From Home

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 24. (US)—Mexicans expelled from the United States for reasons of not having complied with the immigration laws are not in a position to expect much help from their own government.

Much as the authorities here regret such hard luck befalling Mexican nationals, there is nothing that can be done for the illicit immigrant who is later expelled. Though the public prints refer to these expulsions in sentimen ' terms, the government takes the position that the United States has the right to uphold its own laws, just as the government of Mexico does in its own case.

Cigaret Evil to Be Discussed at Meeting

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24. —A conference "for consideration of the cigaret evil" will be held here Monday night, it was announced today.

It will be a "non-sectarian gathering, and ministers from all denominations, physicians, teachers and leaders in church, reform, educational and social uplift movements" will participate, according to the announcement.

The Rev. Clarence True Wilson, of the Methodist board of temperance, prohibition and public morals, will preside, it was stated.

NEW HATCHERY AT CLARENDON

First to Open in Donley County

Special to The Record News

CLARENDON, Texas, Feb. 24.—The Clarendon hatchery, operating a 52,000-egg incubator, boasted an initial hatch from 14 trays of 2,000 baby chicks today. The hatchery, which opened early in February, is the first to open in Donley county, and farmers of this section have kept a steady stream of eggs going into the spacious trays of the huge incubator, which is the largest in this section of the state.

Eggs have come from many farmers here, and from points in Oklahoma and New Mexico. A large consignment arrived today from the Texas Agricultural and Mechanical college at College Station.

The chicks hatched represented pure strains of White Leghorns, White Minorcas, Rhode Island Reds and Barred Rocks. At present about 20,000 eggs are being run, with the machine expected to be at full capacity in a few weeks.

G. Bernard Shaw Shorthand Expert

LONDON, Feb. 24. (UP)—The British press has discovered that George Bernard Shaw, noted dramatist, writes all of his plays and most of his correspondence in shorthand, rather than longhand, this being true of the new Shavian allegory "The King and the Doctors."

Shaw's shorthand notes are written rapidly and in such perfect form that he is able to pass the manuscript to his secretary, Miss Blanche Patch, for transcription without further elucidation on his part.

When asked for a specimen of his shorthand "handwriting," Shaw scribbled rapidly on the back of a card and passed the notes to Miss Patch, who transcribed them and handed the sheet to the reporter.

It read:

"What the devil does the Sunday Chronicle want with a specimen—of my shorthand? G. B. S."

'New Feeling' Permeates Oil World Since Leaders Got Heads Together

Special to The Record News

TULSA, Okla., Feb. 24.—Something has happened in oildom.

No one is aware of what the "action" has been, but everyone senses it. Co-operation is closer at hand today than it has been for years, and leaders trace the change, if it may be termed a change, to the recent American Petroleum institute executive committee meeting at St. Louis.

Adoption of a code of ethics for the refining and marketing branches of the industry was affected, an epochal event.

E. B. Reeser, president of the institute, was empowered after a very long, drawn-out conference to name an international committee to confer on production and consumption of petroleum. The committees have have been named and are functioning.

On the day after the oil men returned from the St. Louis meeting the suggestion of Thomas B. Slick, one of the most independent of oil producers, that a way to end overproduction would be to shut down producing wells on Sunday, is being adopted. Each day sees more and more firms take up the idea. This is a step forward and the industry can congratulate itself on the move.

Shutting down wells on Sunday does another thing. It allows the pumper, field man, roustabout and general oil workers to have a day off, a thing that thousands have not had. Several companies have had the six-day week and eight-hour day, but generally it has been a 12-hour tour, and the pumper had a 24-hour tour.

Production will be lowered and consumption of gasoline and lubricants increased.

LINDY REACHES MEXICO CITY

Flying Lover to Visit Anne Morrow

He was in the air for 11 hours and 13 minutes from the time he left Eagle Pass at 7:40 this morning until he landed here as the shades of night were falling over Val Buena field at 6:53.

Two secretaries from the United States embassy were at Val Buena field waiting to receive the colonel. There was some anxiety in the last hour or two, although the word had been passed that there should not be any worry about the flyer unless he did not arrive by 7 o'clock.

Plane Unsighted

The government telegraph and the Mexico City newspapers had no report from any point along the route from Eagle Pass that Colonel Lindbergh had been seen in his lonely flight. He covered the whole distance without once being sighted at any point where a report could be made to the capital.

The route he was supposed to be following had been checked as far as possible for reports. Officials of the Mexican army and in aviation circles gave it as their opinion that head winds were delaying the plane.

A few moments before the colonel landed it became apparent at the flying field that the visibility would last only a little longer an dthe absence of suitable lighting would make a night landing difficult. That fact increased somewhat the anxiety of the watchers.

When he came out of the slowly fading flame of the evening sky, flying as usual alone, Colonel Lindbergh made a wide circle of the field in masterly fashion, dropped down and taxied to the hangar.

Second Secretary Frederick Hibbard and Third Secretary Allan Dawson represented Ambassador Morrow. Lindbergh was characteristically uncommunicative, and despite the glamor of romance about his unusual call upon his fiancee, he had little to say even to the men from the embassy.

After a few words of greeting, he clambered into a waiting automobile and was whisked away to the embassy.

LINDY DEPARTS EAGLE PASS EARLY

EAGLE PASS, Texas, Feb. 24. (AP)—South of the Rio Grande flew Col. Charles A. Lindbergh today—toward Mexico City and his girl.

With a great, graceful swoop, the colonel's plane roared smoothly away from this little Mexican border town at 7:40 a. m. today, under the awed eyes of most of the populace.

The "Lone Eagle" spent the night here, dropping in after a flight from Abilene, Texas, begun at 2:45 p. m. yesterday.

Turning southward when he left Abilene, the colonel created a suspicion first through the north Texas country—a romantic suspicion that the air's chevalier was flying toward matrimony and not on the route inspection business trip he had announced as his purpose.

Silent, As Usual

Landing here unostentatiously, he shook his blond head and was characteristically and even sternly silent when, after saying he was going to Mexico City, they asked him if he would marry his fiancee, Anne Morrow, on this trip.

He bustled a minute about his great passenger airplane, went to this hamlet's tiny hotel and astounded its attendants with the announcement that he would remain overnight. It was to be made clear, he added, that he was not to be disturbed.

Associated Press dispatches from Mexico City today said Miss Morrow, her father, American Ambassador Morrow, and the other members of the family were at Cuernvaca for the week-end, and that Lindbergh had wired Anne he expected to reach Mexico City sometime this afternoon.

Before he left today, the colonel again refused resolutely to comment on the purpose of his Mexican visit but through the length of this lonely border, and the breadth of two nations, ran the almost universal feeling that the colonel might not return to America single.

The "Lone Eagle's" perching here last night disappointed Van Nuys, Calif., where, the flier previously had wired, he expected to land late yesterday on another lap in his route inspection for his company, National Air Transport, Inc.

MEXICO RUMORS TALK OF WEDDING

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 24. (AP)—The United States embassy this morning received a telegram from Col. Charles A. Lindbergh addressed to Anne Morrow, saying he expected to arrive here this afternoon. The Morrow family was at Cuernavaca for the week end at the ambassador's home. Whether they would return to the capitol in time to see the colonel land was not announced.

The message to Anne was the first information the embassy had of the colonel's plans to visit his fiancee. Last night when press dispatches indicated he probably would come here the embassy was ignorant of his plans and dismissed questions about the forthcoming marriage of Colonel Lindbergh and Miss Morrow. The ever-willing rumor meantime went its usual course, saying that the two would be married while the flier was here.

This was to be Lindbergh's third trip to Mexico City. The first time he came here was when he made the historic Washington-Mexico City flight which blazed the way for Mexican and Latin-American aerial development. Last November he made a hunting trip through northern Mexico and later came to visit Ambassador Morrow and his family here. It was on this trip, rumor has it, that he fell in love with Anne. This will be the first time she has seen him since their engagement was announced while Lindbergh was in Central America inaugurating the Pan-American airmail route.

Wichita Machinist Says It's Worth $5.00 a Bottle

Anderson Suffered With Liver and Kidney Disorders for Years—Relieved by Orgatone

"You tell the world, this Orgatone is some medicine and if I couldn't get it at any other price I would pay $5.00 a bottle for it," said A. T. Anderson, of 211 Houston street, Wichita Falls, Texas, while in Allison's Drug Store for more of the medicine a few days ago. Mr. Anderson is a well-known machinist at Clark Machine company, second and Ohio street, and has followed this line of work since he was 18 years of age.

"When a fellow has suffered with liver and kidney disorders like I have," he continued, "he can sure appreciate when he finds a remedy that actually relieves and puts him on the road to recovery like this Orgatone has in my case. I got to the point from the toxic poisons that was generated in my own system that I developed a numb aching pain in my left leg which extended from my hip down to my knee, and when you think this did not cause me pain and agony you should just be in the same shape I was for a little while to really appreciate my suffering. I felt tired, worn-out and sluggish from one day's end to the other. My kidneys got so disordered that when I would stoop over to pick up a tool I could hardly straighten up again. If I would eat any kind of sweets they seemed to upset my stomach and I would belch up my food. There was something wrong with my appetite, I don't know what it was but I would sometimes feel as hungry as a bear and then when I would get to the table would lose all desire for food.

"So many of the people right here in Wichita Falls were praising Orgatone so highly and after a few inquiries I found their statements to be the truth, so I bought a bottle, now I want to tell you right here and now I believe in giving anything its just due and since I have finished my fourth bottle of medicine I can say that it has done me more good than anything else I have ever tried and started me on the road to health again. I can sit down to the table now and eat a hearty meal, sweets included and enjoy every bite I eat, the pains in my back and legs and around my kidneys are a thing of the past and I am feeling like a different person altogether. You are certainly welcome to my endorsement for Orgatone as I think every sufferer should have the opportunity of knowing the good work it is doing."

Genuine Orgatone is not a so-called secret or patent remedy but a new scientific treatment containing no alcohol or other false stimulating drugs and is sold in Wichita Falls, exclusively by the Allison's Drug Store, under the personal direction of a special Orgatone representative who is meeting the public daily. Out-of-town customers are being supplied promptly by mail upon receipt of price, one bottle $1.25 or six for $6.25.—Adv.

The state will be ready for trial, George W. Anderson, assistant district attorney, announced Sunday afternoon. The case will be tried before Judge Allan D. Montgomery, presiding in a section of the 89th district court. Judge P. A. BARCUS GIVES RADIO SERMON

Three Sacred Programs On KGKO Sunday

Special musical numbers featured three sacred programs given over radio from station KGKO Sunday afternoon from 3 to 6 o'clock. Sermons by Dr. E. R. Barcus, pastor of the Floral Heights Methodist church; Harry Hines, lay speaker from the First Christian church, and Rev. Patrick D. Moreland, pastor of the Grant Street Methodist church, were given during the afternoon.

The program given by the Floral Heights Methodist church from 3 to 4 o'clock was as follows:

Quartet, "Some Bright Morning," Mrs. George Thorburn, Mrs. Fred Sehmann Jr., Milton Johnson, Lester F. Aldrich. "Dreams of Galilee," (Morrison).

Solo, "Beautiful Garden of Prayer," Mrs. Thorburn.

Quartet, "My Task," (Ashford).

Sermon, "In God We Trust," Dr. Barcus.

Duet, "Whispering Hope," (Hawthorne), Mrs. Thorburn, Mrs. Sehmann.

Quartet, "In the Hour of Trial." Solo, "An Evening Prayer," (Gabriel), Lester F. Aldrich.

Quartet, "Now the Day Is Over," (Barnby).

Mr. Hines, who spoke on the layman's hour program from 4 to 5 o'clock, discussed the subject, "Transforming Our Spiritual Hopes Into Realities." He said that every person has the instinct to realize a high plane of spiritual life, but is not sufficiently purposed to convert it into actual living.

Musical numbers by Eddie Norris and R. E. Shepherd completed the program for layman's hour.

The KGKO Bible class hour, from 5 to 6 o'clock, was given to songs by a mixed quartet from the Grant Street Methodist church, and a sermon by Rev. Mr. Moreland on "Christ, the Man."

Ship Races To Listing Craft

198 Passengers in Peril On Damaged Steamer

SEATTLE, Wash., Feb. 24 (AP)—Speeding to the rescue of the fast listing steamship Aleutian, which went aground on Seymour Narrows last night, the Alameda, a sistership, put out from here late today to rescue 198 passengers from the crippled craft.

The Aleutian ran aground on Maude Island, at the entrance to Seymour Narrows, where another steamship of the Alaska Steamship company fleet, the Northwester, was damaged a year ago in the swirling tides and dense fog.

The Aleutian sent out an SOS but 15 minutes later worked herself loose and proceeded back toward Seattle. Before she was half way here, she began to list, and to calm fears of the passengers, she anchored off Waldron Island, near Bellingham in Puget Sound, to await arrival of the Alameda.

The Alameda will convoy the Aleutian back to Seattle where the heavy freight cargo will be transferred. The relief ship is to sail for southeastern Alaska tomorrow night, three days late. The Aleutian will be drydocked for a survey of her damage.

SABBATH DICE GAME ROUTED

Dusky Experts Pay Off In Big Bills

Sixteen ebon hued crapshooters who undertook to spend their Sunday night in a dice game instead of a church pew paid for their gaming when they were taken by surprise and arrested by Noah Daves and L. N. McKelvey, city officers.

The officers put color into the courtroom of the city hall when they marched the troupe into police headquarters and arrayed them in the courtroom seats to await giving their names to Sergeant John McIntyre.

The greater part of the gamesters put up bond and were released. Some of those for whom the "galloping dominos" worked successfully paid off their bonds right smartly with five, ten, and one dollar bills while others who had been less fortunate painfully counted out their bonds in many pieces of small change.

The gamblers, both men and women, seemed to take their arrest as a matter of course and few had looks of worry on their countenances at having to part so quickly with their capital.

Wichita Woman's Suit for Alleged Water Logging of Land Opens Today

Trial of the suit of Mrs. J. M. McGrath against the Wichita County Water Improvement district No. 1 and against the city of Wichita Falls, asking $68,235 damages for alleged injuries to her land, is expected to occupy most of the coming week in the 89th district court.

The plaintiff is the owner of 346 acres of land located one and one-half miles from the city limits, adjoining the Country Club estates on the west. Seepage from an irrigation canal has already waterlogged 148 acres, according to the terms of her petition. Mrs. McGrath also seeks a court writ ordering the district to so line the canal as to prevent seepage.

The last of a series of preliminary law questions were disposed of Saturday when Judge P. A. Martin overruled demurrers of the defendant and the case is expected to go to trial on its merits Monday morning. The 89th district docket has been cleared for the week for the disposition of the question.

GROOM BANKER OFFERED POST

Wade Recommends Him For Wheat Conference

GROOM, Texas, Feb. 24.—J. W. Knorrp, local banker, has been recommended by Homer D. Wade, manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, to serve as a member of a permanent southwestern wheat research conference.

Mr. Knorrp is very much interested in wheat and has been for a number of years. He will be expected to be present with representative of other organizations at a future date for the purpose of effecting a permanent organization which it is hoped will function with the agricultural experiment stations, the United States department of agriculture and other research agencies in promoting the development of scientific research regarding the winter wheat industry.

Framed in November

The organization of this body was originally decided upon at a gathering on Nov. 8 of about 150 representatives of farm organizations, agricultural colleges, experiment stations and commercial organizations that are interested in the hard winter wheat industry of the states of Nebraska, Kansas, Colorado, Oklahoma and Texas.

The program committee appointed at that time which was composed of 11 representatives from the five southern great plains states pointed out certain specific recommendations for which the need seems to be clearly defined as objectives for the organization.

It is realized that the rapid development of power farming in the wheat belt and concomitant introduction of new machinery and new methods of tillage have introduced new problems which must be solved experimentally if severe losses are to be avoided.

These experiments will include the production of varieties of wheat which will most successfully resist stinking smut—the most serious wheat disease in the whole area—stem and leaf rusts, and root rot. Improved practices in relation to Hessian fly control and better control methods for false wire worms and other wheat pests are to be more adequately studied.

Earlier maturing varieties for the drier areas and thinner soils and possibly elsewhere, varieties less adicted to lodging and shattering, and varieties of greater winter-hardiness and better quality will be improved because of their productivity and economic value since enough is known relative to certain deficiencies and weaknesses in varieties generally grown to justify extraordinary efforts to improve them.

Research Planned

Research to determine the factors which constitute quality and the relation of quality to the method of harvesting will be instigated, as will a study of credit and storage facilities, and the need for them in relation to marketing the wheat crop.

Many problems relating to the production and the marketing of wheat which require for their solution the knowledge and skill of the agricultural engineer, such as the removal of excess water from wheat on or near the farm, the relation of type size and design of bin to heating of damp wheat, and certain mechanical and power requirements in preparing the ground and harvesting will be studied.

Specific problems will be attacked in those areas and at those places where soil and climatic conditions, special equipment, personnel and interest are most favorable for their solution.

Funeral services for Mrs. Maggie Niles, 65, who died Saturday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Blake Williams, 1005 Twenty-third street, were held from the home at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon by Rev. Ben Bell, pastor of the Sibley-Taylor Methodist church. Burial was in Riverside cemetery.

TRACTION LEVY ON FINAL VOTE

Council Expected to Decide Issue Tonight

Final action on a proposed ordinance giving the Wichita Falls Traction company the right to raise its fare from six to seven cents for a period of six months, is expected to be taken at the regular session of the city council Monday night.

The ordinance was presented for its third reading last Monday night but action on it was deferred because of a split among the aldermen as to whether the resolution would propose that the fare be raised only for six months or for "six months and thereafter until repealed."

A resolution calling for the Wichita Falls municipal election April 2 also will be presented to the council. The resolutions will fix the voting precincts and name the election officers.

County Lets Contract For Home March 18

Contract for the building of the new six-room superintendent's house on the Wichita county farm will be let at the regular meeting of the commissioners court March 18, M. A. Bundy, commissioner from precinct 1, announced Sunday.

The house is to be built of brick or of brick veneer, Mr. Bundy said. Its construction was authorized in order to make it possible to convert the present quarters of the superintendent into rooms for the inmates, it was explained. Conditions at the farm are now so crowded that it is necessary to house some of the women in the hospital rooms. As soon as the new building is complete, rearrangement of the housing plan will be started. Work on the building is to start as soon as the contract is let.

NEW YORK, Feb. 24. (AP)—The strange case of Al Lassman, New York university football captain, suffering from injuries received in a game with Carnegie Tech at Pittsburgh three months ago, took an optimistic turn today.

HOOVER'S LAST WEEK CROWDED

Leader to Have Hands Full Before March 2

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24. (UP)—President-elect Hoover faces the final week before inauguration with his major tasks still uncompleted.

He still has nearly half of his cabinet to fill, revision of his inaugural address to complete, decisions on all the principal diplomatic posts to make, and a definite date for assembling of the extra session of congress to fix.

Extra Session Up

The extra session probably will be called about April 10, it now appears. Republican Floor Leader Tilson of the house, after a canvass made at Mr. Hoover's direction, said today he found committees dealing with farm relief and tariff revision could not be ready earlier than this date. Final decision rests with the president-elect.

Mr. Hoover has given considerable thought to the problem an extra session will present so early in his administration, but matters of more immediate concern will occupy his attention more largely in the next seven days.

Cabinet Unfilled

He will be able to give the retiring president, Calvin Coolidge, an outline of his cabinet and his plans when the two sit down to dinner together at the White House next Sunday night, but much thought and many conferences will be necessary in the meantime. To the uncompleted tasks the next president will turn his attention tomorrow.

Five cabinet posts still appear to be indefinite—war, labor, commerce, agriculture and justice. Places definitely filled so far are secretary of state, Henry L. Stimson, New York; secretary of treasury, Andrew W. Mellon, Pittsburgh; Secretary of interior, Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur, president of Stanford university; secretary of navy, Charles Francis Adams, Boston, and postmaster general, Walter F. Brown, Toledo, Ohio, now assistant secretary of commerce.

Two Possibilities

The repeated presence in the Hoover preinaugural councils at his S street home here of James W. Good of Chicago and Henry M. Robinson, Los Angeles banker, have inspired predictions that these two men most certainly will be in the Hoover official family.

Good is mentioned now as a likely attorney general. He is practicing law in Chicago, and for years represented in congress the Iowa district in which the president-elect was born. He was one of the leaders in the Hoover preconvention campaign, and was western manager of his presidential campaign.

Robinson would fit into either the war or commerce department. He was a member of the Dawes reparations commission and is an old friend of Mr. Hoover. He was at the Hoover home today.
