TWO SOUTHERN STATES GO 'WET'

INTERNATIONAL BANK HOUSES BLAMED FOR MANY FARM TROUBLES

ROOSEVELT IS DESCRIBED AS SAVING FAITH

MUCH LEGISLATION HAS ONLY EMERGENCY PURPOSE

BY OLIN E. HINKLE

Managing Editor, THE NEWS.

CONGRESSMAN Marvin Jones, wearing a smile which has tired a bit since November in the monumental work of drafting and guiding farm legislation, came home to his 18th congressional district last night to give enthusiastic endorsement of his chief, the President of the United States, and proclaim the dawn of a new day for harassed farmers and business men.

The congressman described the "new deal" legislation as more or less temporary in character, but referred to his farm credit act as the beginning of the farmers' independence of the international bankers, whom he flayed repeatedly in his address. He said the plan set farm financing apart from commercial banking and provided a lower interest rate. He was frequently applauded by the intently listening audience.

Events "Unbelievable." "People of America since March 4 have thrilled with the confidence of a new hope," the congressman said in detailing the dynamic leadership of President Roosevelt in saving the banks, quieting the farmers, and bringing about a quick upturn in business.

Who would have believed a few months ago," the speaker asked, "that we would by this time have 10-cent cotton and $1 wheat?"

Mr. Jones did not describe farm legislation, much of which he wrote in detail, saying he would be glad to do that later to farm groups here if desired. He is in the Panhandle for two weeks only, since there remains work to be done in perfecting agricultural relief. He will return, however, to spend the fall months in this section. Last night he went to Amarillo to see his mother, whom he last saw in November.

The speaker was very frank in saying that much of the "new deal" legislation was not as he personally would have preferred it, but he emphasized that the various relief bills constituted a chain-program which should not be broken. With 435 minds in the house and others in the senate, and with the president and his cabinet strongly asserting their ideas, no bill was passed as written.

Moving Carefully. Referring to controlled expansion of the currency, Mr. Jones said the vast presidential powers were temporary and would be used cautiously.

"The real vice will be reached when issuance of money is taken from the hands of international bankers," the congressman declared, and a moment later advocated

TWINKLES

Amarilloans are worrying over whether to build up a big city college or just take over the Teachers college at Canyon. To a city which annexes oil and gas fields a hundred miles away without a mental qualm, it should be no trouble at all to annex Canyon.

Great is New York, where the unemployed folk are so smart they are tending gold fish for vacationers just to earn a living. Well, wagers they're farm folk who remember how they used to get the neighbors to look after the cows and feed the pigs.

Our New York correspondent writes that swimming was invented when they put up toll bridges in Scotland.

If you're from the north, you'll appreciate this Primo Carnera recently, we hear, imported several pairs of skis from Norway to use for shoe-fires. They say the champ's father weighed only 104 pounds when Primo was born—making the latter something of a chip off the old chip.

NEEDED: HOMES

Joseph M. Noble in Canadian Record. According to government reports, the nation is short some 500,000 homes. Building operations have practically ceased since 1929. The fact that communities are plastered with "for rent" and "for sale" signs is no indication of an oversupply of dwellings; it simply indicates the extent of the doubling-up process that has taken place during the depression—a process that will be reversed as conditions improve.

(Home mortgage relief and loosening of loans for new homes are sorely needed and presumably will soon be provided. The mortgage debt of farmers is $8,500,000, and of the small home owner $20,000,000,000. The farmer, bad as his condition, is not entitled to all the relief.)

TEMPERED JUDGMENT

A. Landers in McLean News. While an editor's life and work is strictly an open book to the community, yet he is so situated that he knows people better than any other citizen. Whether this is to be desired or not might be a mooted question, yet it doubtless tempers his judgment at all times.

(An editor who has long experience knows human frailties and judges individual acts against a background of human weaknesses and virtues. All questions have two sides; many have many facets of opinion. Tolerance is born of knowledge, and every newspaper man must listen to much and know much.)

JAYSEES ARE GIVEN PRAISE FOR BANQUET

HUGE PLAINS GROUP IN PAMPA FOR BIG RECEPTION

FIRST words of Congressman

Marvin Jones at the banquet here last evening were of praise for the Junior chamber of commerce, which conceived and managed the occasion designed to honor him and to let representative citizens of the Panhandle catch him from the spirit of the "new deal."

Mr. Jones arrived from Washington at 4:15 p. m. in a train to be greeted by a committee composed of W. T. Fraser, Gilmore N. Nunn, C. P. Buckler, T. D. Hobart, C. H. Walker, and Clyde Fathewer. He had been joined at Miami by Olin E. Hinkle, who outlined the plans for the evening.

Hundreds of citizens saw Mr. Jones while he was here, and the Junior chamber regretted that the dining room could not accommodate all who wished to attend. Many Panhandles gave up their reservations that out-of-town guests could be seated.

About 250 persons were present from a score of Panhandle towns and cities. W. T. Fraser, president of the chamber, was toastmaster, with Jim Collins as program chairman. Gilmore N. Nunn introduced Mr. Jones in a brief eulogy after young Hugo Lowenstein and Miss Carol Amacker of Amarillo had performed, the former demonstrating his skill as national junior saxophone soloist and Miss Amacker a dancer of ability. The Melody Amacker, Amarillo, played at intervals during the evening.

Those present included: T. H. Black Higgins; L. A. Mc Adams, Canadian; H. M. Timmons, Amarillo; H. H. Horne, Amarillo; Will M. Benton, Amarillo; Lewis P. Prids, Amarillo; Horace B. Gooch, Amarillo; T. E. Johnson, Amarillo; Jas. O. Guleke, Amarillo; Grover B. Hill, Amarillo; Joe Coffey, Miami; J. V. Coffey, Miami; M. D. Bentley, McLean; C. A. Muder, Canadian; Dr. E. H. Striking Bits From Speech of Congressman Jones

Highlights in the address of Congressman Marvin Jones last night.

"There is no such thing as a fixed form of government. Government grows like a tree to fit the people."

"President Roosevelt has given a re-birth to American courage. Hoover is the 'forgotten man.' Amid wreckage and despair, the previous administration could not think of anything to do."

"I will follow any man with the flag in his hand, intelligence in his methods, who is going somewhere."

"To assume that in our land of vast resources and intelligence nothing can be done when 10 per cent of our population is in idleness is an impeachment of our leadership."

"Flax was the fabric of royalty, but cotton cloth of the masses. The south has been a slave to the men who control cotton."

"There has never been a time when agriculture had an even break with industry. Overproduction is a myth; for every pound of cotton grown there is somewhere, a body to be clothed and for every bushel of wheat a hungry person to be fed."

"We are removing the high interest rates which have bent farmers in unending, often futile, soil without ownership of their land. There can be no 'free people' chained by debt."

"The farmer should eat bread of his own land, meat of his own pastures, be disturbed by no creditor, and grow crops to sell at his own time and inclination when we will have a new day not only an agriculture but in business generally."

"Mr. Roosevelt, a man beyond the need for hard work, is giving us a new conception of public service and an ideal of the man who, that ability and means bestow."

"The people must cooperate or drop back into the bog of despair and ruin."

"Many measures I would not have approved in normal times. We are making mistakes, but I think we may safely follow a man who, in falling now in them, is likely to fall uphill."

"When bankers like Morgan and Kahn join the ranks of Al Capone it is time some one else took charge of handling the money. The safety of the currency situation is that the international bankers have a strangle-hold on the nation's wealth and no laws will suffice until we take the money out of the hands of the international bankers and restore it to the American government."

"The United States should own and operate the reserve banks and break the hold of financiers who have nearly ruined America."

"I heard the president say he did not want any soldier with a service-connected injury to be without compensation."

"Cotton is the oldest fabric known to man. It was in use 5,000 years ago."

"I am profoundly touched by the personal appeal of the president—he is the only president we have been able to really know intimately."

"Above all, I appreciate friendships."

Saltzman's Car Stolen Tuesday

Less Saltzman reported to city officers yesterday afternoon that his 1928 Chevrolet coupe had been stolen. Mr. Saltzman said he parked the car in front of the Pampa Hardware and Implement company on North Cuyler street about noon and that it was gone when he went back during the afternoon. The license numbers were 444-277.

Leslie Lancaster reported the loss of a suit of clothes with two pair of trousers and a pair of shoes from his room in a local hotel.

Two arrests on charges of intoxication and one on vagrancy charge were made last night. All pleaded guilty before Judge J. H. Blythe.

I SAW—

A box which George Limerick said contained the World's Fair at Chicago. Every bit of it. It is a two-reel attraction which will be shown at the La Nora today and tomorrow in connection with the feature picture. It shows just about everything worth seeing, it was said.

RUSSIANS ARE WORRIED OVER POST'S FLIGHT

RECEIVE NO WORD OF FLIER SINCE HE LEFT IRKUTSK

NOVOSIBIRSK, Siberia, July 19.—The Irkutsk airport became concerned today over the lack of word about the progress of Wiley Post, American globe-girdler, flying over Koi-naya, en route from Irkutsk to Blagoveshensk. The Irkutsk wireless station is reporting directly to Novosibirsk each hour.

Post was reported at 11:20 a. m. Moscow time (3:20 a. m. E.S.T.), flying over Koi-naya, en route from Irkutsk to Blagoveshensk. The Irkutsk wireless station is reporting directly to Novosibirsk each hour.

MOSCOW, July 19.—Wiley Post, American globe-girdler, solo flier, passed over Verkhne Udinsk, eastern Siberia, at 8:50 a. m. Moscow time (12:50 a. m. E. S. T.).

Post took off at 11 a. m. Tuesday E. S. T. from Irkutsk for Blagoveshensk. At Verkhne Udinsk he had covered about 150 miles of the leg of approximately 1,000 miles and had crossed Lake Baikal.

IRKUTSK, Siberia, July 19.—He lead over his 1931 record having been cut sharply to three hours and 24 minutes. Wiley Post zoomed out of Irkutsk today towards Blagoveshensk, nearly 1,000 miles eastward, on the sixth lap of his world flight.

He still had unfavorable conditions before him, however, but he announced he would land at Blagoveshensk—where he and Gatty suffered a mishap on the earlier flight—which lies between the Vab, lenivot and Sikhota mountain pass.

The Oklahoma man pushed on to Khabarovsk, his scheduled stop about 400 miles farther on, he said, unless bad weather retards him too much in order to make up time.

CHICAGO, July 19.—Italy's armada of 24 seaplanes began taking the air at 6:42 a. m. (C. S. T.) today en route to New York, on the first leg of their long journey to their homeland.

By The Associated Press. Col. and Mrs. Lindbergh found in a Soviet plane from Anday, Wright, Labrador, for an aerial mapping expedition of Labrador and Greenland, they were still grounded, latest reports indicated.

Jimmie Mattern, reported traveling in a Soviet plane from Anday, Siberia, to Nome, Alaska, was so long overdue that Nome watchers began to feel the report, received by wireless, was erroneous.

Rotarians Hear Explanation Of Home Loan Act

Rotarians Hear Explanation Of Home Loan Act

The federal home loan act, which provides a method of refinancing loans and other incumbrances against homes, was explained to the Rotary club today by J. Sid O'Keefe of Panhandle. He told of the changes in the methods of distributing the money and explained how it is now impossible for loan associations and banks to use the money which is intended for home owners.

Music was furnished by Joe Pat O'Keefe of Panhandle, who sang two solos, accompanied by Miss Leta Staggos of Panhandle.

Visitors today included Rotarians C. M. Bryson of Tyler, and W. A. Reardon of Monroe, La.

Sheppard Says Texas Will Not Vote For Repeal

WASHINGTON, July 19.—(AP)—Senator Sheppard of Texas, one of the authors of the 18th amendment, said today he was still confident prohibition repeal would be blocked despite repeal victories yesterday in Alabama and Arkansas.

Sheppard did not care to name the states which would block repeal, but asserted Texas would be one.

WHEAT BREAKS THIRTEEN CENTS A BUSHEL AS STOCK MARKETS GO DOWN—LOSSES AND SALES HEAVY

Alcohol Shares Drop From $7 to $25 In Selling

CHICAGO, July 19.—(AP)—Severe setbacks of more than 13 cents a bushel in wheat prices took place today with a 3 cents drop in corn, 2 cents in oats, 6 cents in rye and 5 cents in barley.

Pit observers said the breaks in values were largely the result of readjustment of accounts after a period of nine days of incessant speculative buying on the part of the general public which distorted marketing conditions and the relation of cash grain to futures. The markets snapped under the strain of overbought conditions.

Toward the close of trading immense selling on orders to stop losses overwhelmed the wheat market and toppled prices wildly. The descent of values was at the rate of fully a cent a bushel a minute.

Reports of big falling off in purchases of flour at Minneapolis contributed to the acute weakening of grain values.

The extreme fall in wheat was 13 cents. This was in May wheat which reached a minimum of $1.12 at yesterday's finish.

The close for wheat was wild but at rallies of 1 cents to 2 cents from the day's bottom.

Final quotations on wheat were 97-121, under yesterday's finish, corn 31-4, down, oats 21-6, off, rye 11-12, lower and provision showing setbacks varying from 2 cents to 52 cents.

NEW YORK, July 19.—(AP)—The nation's leading speculative market, wheat, went down with a bang today. Heavy selling that started in the alcohol shares on the New York stock exchange, sending them about $7 to $25 lower, spread over the entire lot and brought extreme general losses of $1 to around $7. Sales approximated 7,500,000 bushels.

LEAVES FOR MEET

DALLAS, July 19.—(AP)—Gus Moreland, Texas golf champion, Trans-Mississippi and United States Walker cup star, leaves tomorrow for Memphis, Tenn., where he will defend his western amateur championship next week. Moreland has played only four rounds of golf since returning from Colorado Springs where he won the Trans-Mississippi for the second consecutive year.

FINANCIAL MORATORIUM IN TEXAS IS EXTENDED UNTIL OCTOBER 1

AUSTIN, July 19.—(AP)—E. C. Brand, banking commissioner of Texas, today ordered extended until October 1, a financial moratorium authorized last spring for loan and brokerage corporations dealing in bonds and debentures.

Governor Miriam A. Ferguson jointly signed a proclamation with brand to formally extend the moratorium, which already had been renewed from time to time. The latest extension would expire on July 31.

It affects all financial corporations operating under provisions of senate bill 165, acts of the 42nd legislature.

The proclamation stated the moratorium "is not to impair in any manner the right of such corporation to receive voluntary payments in due course, or from paying interest on its obligations, provided, however, interest shall not be paid by said corporation where the payment thereof will impair the collateral pledged to secure its outstanding bonds, debentures and other obligations."

It was noted that the moratorium "is not to apply to such corporation where its outstanding bonds, debentures or other obligations do not exceed seventy-five per cent of its capital stock."

ALABAMA AND ARKANSAS ON REPEAL LIST

THREE TO TWO RATIO IN ARKANSAS WITH FEW VOTES OUT

LITTLE ROCK, July 19.—(AP)—Repealists appeared today to have captured at least 55 of the 75 delegates elected yesterday to the state convention here on August 1 to cast the state's vote for repeal of the eighteenth amendment. The popular referendum vote held closely to the early 3 to 2 ratio for repeal in tabulations of nearly 100,000, or estimated four-fifths of the votes cast.

A tabulation by the Associated Press at noon today, with returns from 1,308 of the 1,986 precincts in the state gave for repeal 58,584, against repeal 38,214.

The large centers of population turned in overwhelming majorities for repeal of national prohibition, and in the 20 counties in which the dry cause was leading, only a half dozen showed wide margins. These included Paulkner, Boone and several less populous north Arkansas counties. The counties having dry majorities, however, were widely scattered.

On the wet side of the ledger, Pulaski-Little Rock, showed a two to one repeal majority. Fayetteville, in east Arkansas, nearly 2 to 1; Phillips, also in east Arkansas, nearly 7 to 1; Garland (Hot Springs) 5 to 1; Sebastian (Fort Smith) on the Oklahoma border, 5 to 3; Union (El Dorado) more than 2 to 1; Mississippi bordering Missouri and Tennessee 6 to 1; Miller, (Texarkana) more than 2 to 1; and Jefferson (Pine Bluff) nearly 3 to 1.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., July 19.—(AP)—Traditionally dry Alabama today had joined the ranks of states voting to repeal the eighteenth amendment, with late returns from rural districts maintaining the early long lead piled up in favor of ratification of the twenty-first amendment. The count from 1,268 of the 2,137 ballot boxes in the state showed 73,556 votes for repeal and 46,893 against in yesterday's referendum.

PAMPA WHEAT MARKET

The wheat market broke today and dropped to 85 cents a bushel locally.

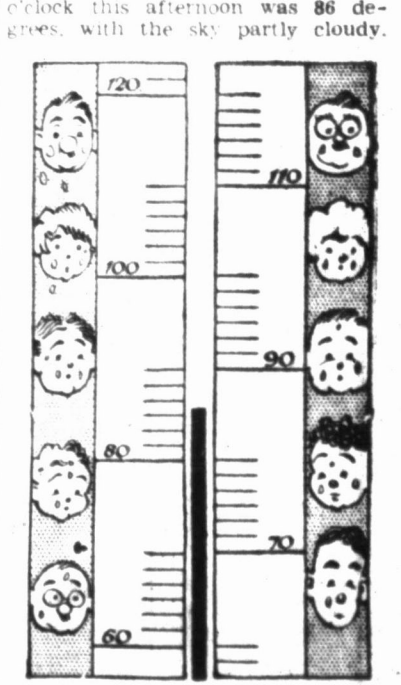

HEARD—

Mrs. Charles Wooley, Mrs. Glen Pool, Miss Clara Lee Shewmaker, and Miss Kathryn Vincent, Pampa delegates to the Business and Professional Women's convention in Chicago, excitedly telling friends about the landing of the Italian air armada at Chicago. They had an excellent view of the landing and of General Italo Balbo, commander.

That M. K. Brown, veteran marshall shooter, nearly "broke the bank" during a shooting spree this morning following a run of bad luck.

Heat-o-Graph

The temperature in Pampa at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon was 86 degrees, with the sky partly cloudy.

The forecast: WEST TEXAS: Partly cloudy to night and Thursday, probably local thundershowers in extreme west portion.

PEACE IN THE PACIFIC

Roy W. Howard, chairman of the board of the Scripps-Howard newspapers, returns from the Far East, fresh from an audience with the Emperor of Japan, interviews with leading Nipponese statesmen and a general tour of observation in China and Manchuria, with the message that our best move for peace in the Pacific is to build the American fleet up to treaty strength without unnecessary delay.

Japan, Mr. Howard says, is not prepared to accept foreign concepts of idealism. The American concept, as every one knows, has been to reprove Japan for violating treaties, while permitting our navy to lapse into third place. Mr. Howard is to be congratulated upon his frank analysis of our position in relation to the Pacific, especially since the considerable chain of newspapers which he controls have editorially leaned toward idealistic, if not pacifistic, principles in the face of Japan's rape of the Kellogg pact and the nine-power treaty and her withdrawal from the League of Nations.

Japan, says Mr. Howard, gives us no credit for voluntary reduction of armaments and believes we are "too penurious to fight." Hence peace in the Pacific is endangered. Moreover, Mr. Howard believes that if we build our navy abreast of its treaty quota Japan will be more willing to scale down her naval armaments, but not before. In this we heartily agree with him.

Unfortunately, civilization has not yet ripened to the stage at which nations with nationalistic missions consider the consequences; unless the consequences are likely to be realistic. Japan occupied Shanghai and Manchukuo progressively in derision of world opinion. She violated treaties and in defiance of almost universal world opinion stood her ground as a minority of one at Geneva and resigned from the league. Since that episode Japan has let the world know that, contrary to reducing arms, she wants more naval tonnage, larger land guns and larger tanks.

The best guaranty of peace in the Pacific is an American navy second to none. Americans would like to be idealistic. But others do not understand.—New York HERALD-TRIBUNE.

OUT OUR WAY By WILLIAMS

Mrs. Thut Back From Funeral Of Aged Mother

Mrs. Charlie Thut returned last night from Sherman, where she attended the funeral of her mother, Mrs. D. M. Dickey, Sunday. She was with her mother several days before her death.

Mrs. Dickey, 74, was a prominent resident of Grayson county for 39 years. She was a native of Mississippi. Her funeral was conducted at the Walnut Street Church of Christ by the minister, J. P. Sanders, and burial was in West Hill cemetery of Sherman.

Six sons and four daughters, 20 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren survive her. The daughters are Mrs. Thut, Mrs. B. D. Dye and Mrs. H. H. Hall of Amarillo, and Mrs. L. P. Miller of Sherman. Her sons are C. D. Dickey of Tulsa, J. A. Dickey of Fort Worth, A. B. Dickey of Chicago, T. H. Dickey of Spruce, D. M. Dickey of Anson, and Verde Dickey of Sherman.

Mrs. R. M. Bellamy was admitted to Worley hospital this morning for treatment.

My part and everybody else ought to do the same.

So the negro waived the cotton contract aside and continued his work of turning under his cotton plants.

Resident of One Day Dies in City

A resident of Pampa for only one day, Mrs. L. R. Fanning, 48, died at her home, 802 North West street, last night. Mr. and Mrs. Fanning and family moved to Pampa Monday. They had made their home at Plainview.

Mr. Fanning is an engineer with the Fort Worth and Denver railroad and has just been transferred to this branch. Mrs. Fanning had been in ill health for some time. She was a member of the Methodist church and Royal Neighbors.

The body is at rest at the G. C. Malone Funeral Home where it will remain until tomorrow morning when it will be sent to Wichita Falls where burial will be. Besides her husband, Mrs. Fanning is survived by three daughters, Olive and Joe Betsy of Pampa, and Mrs. Juanita Mae Atkins of Wichita Falls, and three sons, Darwood and Billie Lewis of Pampa, and Howard of Clifton, Arizona.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Shackelford are the parents of a 7½-pound son, born Tuesday evening and named Dennis Dale.

Bobby Carmichael, little son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Carmichael, had his tonsils removed at Worley hospital today.

L. G. Christopher of Miami was a Pampa visitor this morning.

Ranger, Popular Bird Dog, Dies

Ranger is dead. It doesn't mean much to the public in general, but it does mean something to the hunters of Pampa and surrounding territory. Ranger was one of the greatest bird dogs ever to flush a covey of birds.

He was a big black and white dog with huge paws and his age was unknown.

Six or seven years ago Ranger was picked up as a stray by Baker Saulsbury, who paid a dog tax for him and hunted with him. Later Ranger attached himself to Roy Sewell, who has been paying tax on him ever since, excepting when Chief of Police Jno. V. Andrews was first.

Nearly every man in Pampa who hunts birds has shot over Ranger. They declared he was one of the greatest bird dogs in the country. For several months Ranger had been residing with Chief Andrews and making his headquarters in the police station. This morning the chief released Ranger and the big dog made two or three fast rounds of the city hall lawn and then dropped dead. "Heart failure" Dr. T. J. Worrell pronounced it. Chief Andrews and one or two more admirers of the old dog took his body to the pound and buried it this morning.

NEW ORLEANS, July 19. (P)—Cotton had a comparatively quiet opening today. Liverpool came in better than due and sterling made a new high, but first trades showed losses of 4 to 8 points, the earlier tone being attributed to good rains in Texas.

The market was rather quiet most of the morning and prices eased off steadily.

The weekly weather and crop report was not so favorable for the west but the rains reported post-dated the weekly survey. October dropped to $11.65 and December to

Papa' Gautier Fond of Capes, Closed Windows

LONDON, July 19. (P)—An international difference flared up in irreconcilable form at the meeting this afternoon of wheat delegates representing importing countries with spokesmen of the big four wheat producers.

One of the French leaders, "Papa" Gautier, picturesque figure of 77 years with a Rip Van Winkle beard and two black capes over his shoulders, has the reputation for disliking open windows.

After an hour's session the committee room was filled with smoke and one of the delegates signalled an attendant to open a window.

No sooner had the attendant begun to do this, however, than Papa Gautier was on his feet exclaiming "not no!"

The attendant withdrew in trepidation. M. Gautier resumed his seat, drawing his two capes closely about him and the meeting continued in an atmosphere of blue smoke.

MRS. BOSTON IS ADVANCED TO PRESIDENCY OF CULTURE CLUB

VACANCY LEFT AS MRS. WILL RESIGNS POST

MRS. LEWIS IS CHOSEN VICE PRESIDENT FOR SEASON

MRS. CARL BOSTON was named president of the Twentieth Century Culture club when the resignation of Mrs. E. C. Will was accepted at a called business meeting of the organization yesterday at the home of Mrs. Ewing Leech.

Mrs. Boston had been elected vice president for the coming season. That office will be filled by Mrs. Marvin W. Lewis, and Mrs. Ben Parris was chosen to serve as council of clubs representative in the place of Mrs. Lewis.

Discussion of plans for the fall season also featured the called meeting. The club program has been outlined, and members are awaiting the resumption of meetings with cooler weather.

Those present yesterday were Mesdames C. L. Craig, J. P. Wehrung, A. G. Post, C. H. Schulz, Ben Parris, Marvin W. Lewis, H. D. Keys, E. M. Conley, and Leech.

Bible Gives Key To Church Unity, Evangelist Says

"Once upon time I heard a preacher get up in church and say, 'I thank God for the differences in the church so that any many can find what pleases him,' declared Dr. C. L. R. Vawter in beginning his sermon last night on 'Seeing Things Alike.'"

"I think that is one of the most silly, sinful statements that a man can make. Certainly nothing could be said that would be more antagonistic to the teaching of the Saviour or Paul's teaching in the 12th chapter of Romans. This chapter teaches that no man should seek for the things that please him, but the things that please God."

"The thing for me to do is to find God's will and then square my conduct by His rules. The Christian church has been pleading that God's people get together by His book. I don't ask you to come with me, but to discover what the Lord wants you to do and then do it."

"When we find in the Bible that baptism is a burial, that is what we do," continued the evangelist. "It is not the easiest thing to do. But we don't do it because it is easy or convenient or because it pleases us. If we were trying to please ourselves we would choose something that would not involve so much work and effort."

"Our past experiences differ and more or less our ideas are colored by them, but how far are past experiences to govern us? Am I to be led by my feelings or by the Lord's will? One man is brought up to believe that sprinkling is right and another that immersion is right. How are they to agree?"

"If all will go to God's word and take what He says there will be no confusion. We have no right to an opinion where God's word speaks. I have no right to let my opinion govern me. What does the book say? The law of the Lord is to settle it. Not until our reverence for His word stands above our own way will there be unity among God's people."

J. A. Clayton of White Deer visited in the city yesterday afternoon.

FIFTH AVENUE FASHIONS

Cool Chic for Warm Afternoons...

If you will play bridge when it's ninety in the shade, you'll need cool shoulders, as well as a cool head! That's one reason why this sleeveless and cape-collared frock will meet with more than approval. And if you're even the least bit inclined to excess poundage, its molded lines and crisp diagonals will flatter your figure outrageously.

Frocks that look like flower gardens are fashion's first recommendation for a cool afternoon. Floral prints are grand in chiffon, chiffon voile, dimity, muslin, or that favorite of them all, sheer linen. Most of these will wash like a handkerchief, which is cause for rejoicing. You'll find many more smart designs for simple afternoon frocks in the current Fashion Book.

This isn't a bit hard to stitch up, so even the beginner will have no difficulty. Consult the pattern envelope for the material which you require.

Pattern No. 5217 is designed for sizes 14, 16, 18, 20 years, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46 bust.

The White Race to Smartness

By NEA Service
HOLLYWOOD.—The white costumes, touched up by contrasting accessories, are good from the ballroom to the beach, these days.

June Visek wears one of the new oyster white knitted bathing suits, with a halter neckline, backless, and girdled with brown patent leather belt. Her beach parasol is oyster white, striped in red and brown.

At a regular get-together for new mothers at Dick Arlen's, Helen Twelvrees and Arline Judge brought their baby sons to visit Jobyna Ralston and her new son. Helen wore knitted wool white slacks, a flannel jacket and a white sailor's cap. Arlene wore a suit of white linen, tailored pajamas and Jobyna, house pajamas of heavy white pongee.

Outdoor Revival Services Held at Assembly of God

Outdoor services are being conducted this week in the revival at the Assembly of God church. Seats and a speaker's platform have been arranged on a lot one and a half blocks south of the tracks on Cuyler street, where Evangelist Guy R. Shields preaches nightly.

Attendance and interest in the services are growing, the evangelist reports. He has given a series of sermons on Bible prophecies as reflected in present-day conditions, and will continue that topic through the week.

A feature of the services is special music and songs by local workers, assisted by visitors from Amarillo. The evangelist is being assisted by the Rev. D. Price of Panhandle and Kenneth Baker of Amarillo.

Out-of-town visitors have been numerous, with a large delegation present from Wheeler Monday evening. Others have come from Skellytown and Amarillo this week.

The speaker is a well-known evangelist in his church in Texas, and is head of the Shield of Faith seminary in Amarillo. He invites the public to all revival services.

will prepare its own breakfast. A recreational program featuring club stunts has been tentatively prepared, but the educational program is yet to be arranged.

● ABOVE—ARTHUR J. NEU, of East Orange, N. J., pulls in a nice one! Few men know the importance of healthy nerves better than Art Neu does. He is national champion in dry-fly casting for accuracy. Just as a stunt, Mr. Neu has frequently flicked the ash off a friend's cigarette with a fly at 35 feet!

● RIGHT—A DAY'S SPORT is more enjoyable with plenty of Camels along, because you can smoke all you want—and still be ready for more when evening comes! Camel's costlier tobaccos never get on your nerves...never tire your taste! Camels are better for steady smoking. It is more fun to know!

Steady Smokers turn to Camels

ARTHUR J. NEU, champion fly-caster, says:

"Dry-fly fishing is a delicate art that takes the best a man's got in steadiness of hand and eye. To win the championship in accuracy at casting a dry fly, I had to have healthy nerves. And yet I smoke steadily—all I want to—without disturbing my nerves. That's because I prefer Camels. There is no question but that they are milder. And their rich, inviting flavor seems to say, 'Have another.'"

Turn to Camels. Like Mr. Neu you will find that Camels are milder...that their flavor suits your taste...that steady smoking never jangles your nerves. So begin today!

IT IS MORE FUN TO KNOW

Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE tobaccos than any other popular brand. The more you smoke them, the more you'll like them. Costlier tobaccos do taste better.

HUTTON ORDERS GUARD TO TAKE CHARGE OF PARSONAGE

LOS ANGELES, July 19. (AP)—David L. Hutton, a divorcee, today developed into a squabble over occupancy of the parsonage at Angelus Temple, the evangelistic edifice of Aimee Semple McPherson-Hutton.

Open hostilities were initiated by the husband of the evangelist when he ordered a temple guard to barricade himself in the parsonage and defy any and all members of the congregation or its leaders to enter. The guard, William B. Levens, discharged Monday by Miss Harriet Jordan, acting business manager of the temple, followed instructions.

Hutton, who was in the parsonage against the evangelist, was filed in superior court Monday, and Miss Jordan is not on speaking terms, largely because of a remark attributed to her by the portly baritone to the effect that he, Hutton, was "knifing a sick woman in the back" by filing for divorce.

Levens was discharged immediately after Miss Jordan announced there would be a "house cleaning" at the temple incident to the divorce action. Hutton explained his orders to Levens by saying there were many articles of value in the parsonage belonging to him and his wife, and he was going to make sure they were not molested pending her return from Europe.

Levens told Hutton he had thwarted one attempt by temple workers to force their way into the parsonage.

From mid-Atlantic, en route home from Paris where she underwent an operation, the evangelist pleaded with the baritone singer to postpone the divorce action until she was physically able to face the ordeal.

Addressed to "David, precious husband," the message said in part: "Shook was terrific following operation. I need you so. Postpone plans. Listen to nobody. Oh, dearest, come and get me."

Hutton commented: "I am not in a position to make any direct reply to Mrs. Hutton. The case is in California courts. Her conduct after she arrives here may change our attitude, but our actions cannot be altered."

J. J. Alexander and son of Claradon spent last night in Pampa.

J. B. Cook of Scotts Bluff, Neb., is visiting friends here this week.

A New Serial by Ruby M. Ayres

SYNOPSIS: George Baneroff has learned through a friend that Nicholas Boyd is returning from Germany where he has been unsuccessful in an attempt to have removed a scar that has ended his life career. Nicholas' wife Bernice is in London, but he does not go to her. Although she is hurt because he has not told her himself, George decides to go to Nicholas' apartment. His valet first tells her Nicholas will not see her, but Nicholas appears suddenly, and asks her to.

Chapter 39
NICHOLAS' CROSS

"YOU didn't answer my letter," George said.

"Perhaps I hadn't anything to say," Nicholas replied, and then with an effort. "It was kind of you to write; kinder of you to come here."

That little lump in George's throat was threatening once more to choke her; she wanted to say something that would comfort him—to say that she didn't mind how he looked—that he would always be the same to her—the dashing hero of the silver screen who had first captured her girlish fancy, but she was afraid of hurting him, of driving home to him more deeply the realization of all he had lost.

It was he who broke the silence with an attempt at lightness.

"So you have been making friends with my wife?"

"Not friends," George said, then realizing that her words were not very polite she hastened to amend them. "I don't think I am the sort of girl she would make friends with, but she was very nice. I went to the studio to see her making a picture."

"And did you find it very intriguing?"

"Not very."

"It cured you of your ambition to be a film star?"

"Yes."

"And so you've been having a hectic time?" he said after a moment. "Lots of fun and dances and proposals, I suppose."

She did not answer, and he went on: "It's wonderful to be young and happy, Robin. Make the most of it."

"I'm not happy," George said. "At least, not in the way you mean. And I wish you wouldn't talk to me as if I were a child."

"You are a child. You looked so much of a child when I saw you standing out in the hall there just now that I felt as if I ought to have brought you back a doll."

She made no reply, and suddenly he knew that she was weeping, quiet weeping which was so much harder to listen to unmoved than a burst of sobbing would have been.

He bore it in silence for a moment, then he said almost angrily: "I don't know why you're crying. I don't cry, and after all it's my funeral."

George looked at him through her tears.

"I'm crying because you've shut me out of your life," she said in a broken whisper.

"Shut you out?" He laughed mirthlessly. "Don't you know that there's no room for you in my prison? I've been trying to make you understand that ever since I first met you."

"And I've been trying to make you understand that there is," she retorted with sudden courage. "You said just now I was a child. Well, children don't take up much room."

"Don't they?" he submitted somberly. "I think there are some children who fill the whole world, if you care for them sufficiently well."

She moved a hesitating step nearer to him.

"It must be rather sweet to be cared for so much," she said breathlessly, and again her hand stole into his.

NICHOLAS moved suddenly, touching a switch in the wall and flooding the room with light.

"Now look at me," he said. George looked; her soft brown eyes rested on his scarred face with quiet and happy assurance.

"Well," she said softly. "You're just the same to me as you've always been."

"You're a little fool, Robin," he answered, almost violently, and he turned his disfigured face away.

George said: "I wish you would put out some of the light again. I want to say lots of things to you, and it's easier when it's not so light."

"Because you can't see what an ugly brute I am?"

George ignored that, but she slipped past him and turned out some of the lights herself, then she asked quietly:

Plains Farmers Borrow Million

AMARILLO, July 19. (AP)—Panhandle farmers, in 28 counties, have borrowed $1,304,506 from the government in wheat and row crop loans.

Fifty per cent or more of the wheat farmers in the area, obtained $771,965 in 3,034 loans. Row crops farmers obtained $532,540 in 3,350 loans, according to figures released by John E. Hill, chairman of the Panhandle agricultural relief committee.

Ochiltree county borrowed the greatest amounts, $99,025 for wheat and $53,615 for row crops. Hansford county was second with $20,000 less for all crops. Dallam, the hardest hit of the drought-stricken counties, borrowed $58,000 for row crops, but only $37,000 for wheat.

FARMERS MAY BORROW MORE FEDERAL CASH

INTEREST IS LESS BUT MONEY IS RATHER HARD TO GET

WASHINGTON, July 19. (AP)—The farmer by getting in touch with one of the twelve federal land banks, by letter or otherwise, now has the way open to borrow more federal money at less interest.

The amounts run from $100 to $5,000. Previously there was a $25,000 limit to what one borrower could get under the "federal farm loan act."

If he is out of debt, says the law with its recent changes, the farmer can obtain a loan for up to 50 per cent of the appraised normal value of his land plus 20 per cent of the appraised value of permanent, insured improvements, giving a first mortgage in return.

The loan must be for one of four purposes which he must state in applying for the loan:

1. Purchase of land for agricultural use.

2. Purchase of equipment, fertilizers and livestock necessary for proper and reasonable operation of farm land.

3. Liquidation of indebtedness incurred for agricultural purposes, or incurred prior to January 1, 1933.

4. Continued operation of the land mortgaged.

Before the loan can be made, the farm offered as security must be appraised by a land bank representative.

The loan can be obtained directly from the land bank, but the farmer can get it at lower interest if it is handled through a national farm loan association. There are about 4,000 of these, with from a dozen to several hundred farmer-members in each.

These endorse the loan and accept responsibility for payment. To become a member a farmer who obtains a loan through one is required to subscribe to the association's stock in the amount equal to five per cent of his loan.

This stock forms a pool to absorb losses if members fail to pay loans. When a farmer-member pays his loan, his responsibility ceases; he gets back the amount he paid for his stock, less losses. If necessary he can borrow money from the land banks as part of his mortgage loan to subscribe for stock.

The interest rate where the farmer is a member of an association is 4 1/2 per cent for five years and 5 per cent after that, if the loan is made in the next two years.

The interest rate on a direct loan from a land bank is one half of one per cent higher for both periods. For the first five years, regarded as an "emergency" period, no installments need be paid on the mortgage loans which can run for up to 40 years.

Mortgage-holders can sell their mortgages under the act, taking bonds issued by the land banks in return. The banks can issue up to $200,000,000 in these tax exempt bonds with interest guaranteed by the government at 4 per cent.

To get these bonds the mortgage-holder also must apply to the land banks.

They will allow him no more than 50 per cent of the value of the land and 20 per cent of the improvements for his lien.

If his mortgage is for more than that he will have to take a loss; if for less, he will have to take that.

The purpose of the provision is that the holder on the paper can liquidate his claim, and the farmer who owes the mortgage-holder will then owe the land banks and will get the benefit of lower interest rates. Most mortgages held privately call for 6 to 7 per cent interest.

The twelve federal land banks are at Springfield, Massachusetts; Baltimore, Columbia, South Carolina; Louisville; New Orleans, St. Louis, Missouri; St. Paul; Omaha; Wichita; Houston; Berkeley, California, and Spokane.

FAIR VISITORS RETURN

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Pool, Mrs. C. L. Wooley, and Miss Kathryn Vincent returned Monday night from Chicago, where they were visitors at the world's fair last week. The women also attended the national convention of Business and Professional Women's clubs there. Miss Clara Lee Sheppard, who accompanied them to Chicago, returned by way of Louisville, where she will visit a few days.

Mrs. Barnes Samuel and children have returned after spending a two-month vacation in Tyler, Dallas, and Palestine. They were accompanied by her mother, Mrs. J. O. Rogers.

"I'll get you a taxi, Robin," George stood her ground.

"When shall I see you again?" "I hope for your own sake, you will not try to see me again."

Something seemed to snap in George's brain. She clenched her trembling hands into tight little fists.

"I don't believe it's I you're thinking about," she accused him passionately. "It's just yourself. I suppose you think I'm a nuisance coming here; I suppose you think no decent girl would do such a thing, and I suppose you're right. What difference does it make if you're married or not? I want you to be happy. I can't be happy myself if you're not."

She was sobbing now, her eyes raised to his face appealingly. "I've never had anybody of my own, not really. If you'd just let me be with you—" she broke off, realizing her crushing defeat. "You don't want me," she whispered.

"No, Robin."

"Mrs. F. S. Stafford, as Mrs. Huff, has confidence in her daughter's judgment but thinks her son needs help in picking a wife because 'men are such irresponsible creatures.'"

She calls in Tilly Tickle, in the person of Joy Enloe, an Icelandic, who starts Tommy with the amount of clothing she wears.

When Tommy and Tilly fall in love but cannot agree on a climate suited to both, Cookie, the colored diplomat, played by Mrs. A. C. Enloe, employs the methods learned in a correspondence course teaching "to be a perfect gentleman or lady by parcel post," and soon settles not only their affair but her own with the fat colored ice-man. However, Tommy and Tilly steal her cooker and ice to sit upon in efforts to feel at home.

Others in the cast are F. S. Stafford as Billy Bedford, and Clara Stafford as Marjorie Mansfield.

Auxiliary Favors World Arms Cuts

Enthusiastic interest in the current movement to bring about world wide reduction of armaments has been voiced by the ladies of the American Legion Auxiliary of Pampa.

The movement is in accord with the Auxiliary's demand for adequate national defense for the United States.

"Security for American rights, American shores, and American homes is the goal of the American Legion Auxiliary in its national defense work. The Auxiliary, composed of women whose husbands, sons, and brothers fought in the last war, are determined that the United States take every reasonable safeguard against war. We are demanding that defensive preparations be maintained adequate to protect the country against aggression from other nations."

"At present the national defense of the United States is not adequate because other nations have not reduced their military and naval establishments in proportion to reductions made by the United States. Security for our country can be obtained only through reducing the armed strength of other nations to a proportionate level with that of the United States, or through increasing the strength of the American defensive forces to a more equal footing."

NEGRO FLIERS STOP HERE TO REFUEL SHIP

GASOLINE TANK NEARLY EMPTY AFTER HEAD WIND BATTLE

A NEARLY empty gasoline tank decided Dr. Albert E. Forsythe and C. Alfred Anderson, negro aviators who hope to be the first of their race to fly westward across the continent and back, to land their Pride of Atlantic City on the federal landing field here yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

After refueling, they took off again at 3:45 p. m. for Amarillo where they stopped about 30 minutes at English field before continuing to Albuquerque where they expected to spend the night.

The aviators said they encountered strong head winds in the northeast Panhandle while flying from Wichita, Kans., where they spent an hour yesterday morning. They also battled three thunderstorms in the vicinity of Canadian, near the Oklahoma-Texas line, they said, and muddy spots on the cream-colored wings of the plane indicated that Panhandle sand was eddying about in the lofty disturbance.

Dr. Forsythe, an Atlantic City physician, said they probably could have flown on to Amarillo without stopping but that the Pampa landing field looked so smooth and well-equipped, they decided to land and refuel here. "However," he said "we might have been taking a chance if we hadn't landed." Dr. Forsythe, the elder of the two aviators, has been flying about a year, and his companion who was at the "stick" when the landing was made and when the blue-bodied plane sailed away, has had eight years' experience as a pilot. A small group of persons, including local fliers and mechanics who said the take-off was perfect, greeted the travellers and answered their exceedingly well-phrased and courteous questions concerning Pampa and vicinity.

Speech and manners of the negroes indicated that they have a good education and know how to use it to best advantage. Both were wearing street clothes. Dr. Forsythe asked a representative of the NEWS for information concerning Post's and Mattern's flight, and in doing so pronounced correctly a half-dozen long names of Siberian cities situated along the Post-Mattern flight. That feat alone impressed his listeners who appeared to wonder at the crisp accent and the well-clipped words of the fliers.

STOLEN LIVES

William Russell Clark in Memphis Democrat: The Constitution of the United States guarantees to every citizen of this country "life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness." That, however, is veritable mockery. The thieves who steal private lives from their rightful owners, and make alley talk of them have done more to kill initiative, hamper skill, withhold genius and desecrate the rights of the individual than all the gangsters and racketeers in this country combined.

(And, on the other hand, there are too many people who hang their lives on public wash lines deliberately, who know no shame except that of failing to be talked about. Others spend huge sums trying to live lives in print and gossip that they are too colorless to achieve. The western love of privacy is lamentably, growing weaker. We need another frontier.)

Golf Tourney Deadline Will Not Be Extended

Several more local golfers started play in the handicapped tournament being sponsored by the Gray County Golf course yesterday. Others continued their play and have 27 to 36 holes played. The deadline for play is Sunday evening when every entrant playing must have his 54 holes played.

The valuable list of prizes announced yesterday has stimulated play and many who have not yet started tournament play were to get started this afternoon in an effort to "cop" some of the prizes which are on display in the window at the City Drug Store. There are golf clubs, on display in the window at the City Drug Store. There are golf clubs, $5 in groceries and $5 in cleaning and pressing, golf balls, golf sweater, cigar lighter, belt and other prizes.

The fairways are showing marked improvement since the recent heavy rain but the greens are still fast for most golfers. However, several good scores were registered yesterday afternoon during play.

The tournament committee desires to impress on players that the deadline will not be extended excepting for rain. Unless the entrants have completed their 54 holes by Sunday night, their scores will not count. Players should turn in their cards at the clubhouse immediately following play.

FIVE HELD IN JAIL 42 DAYS IN MALLORCA

ALLEGEDLY ATTACKED CIVIL GUARD SIX WEEKS AGO

MADRID, July 19. (AP)—Claude Dawson, American consul general at Barcelona, will leave for Palma, Mallorca, tonight to handle personally the case of five imprisoned Americans who allegedly attacked a Mallorcan civil guard 42 days ago.

United States Ambassador Claude G. Bowers will confer tomorrow with Manuel Azana, Spanish premier, on the case, which the envoy said might result in "unpleasant" publicity.

The government, meanwhile, was silent about a report Juan Francisco de Cardenas, ambassador to Washington, is understood to have made in his conversations with acting Secretary of State Phillips.

(A dispatch from Washington said Mr. Phillips expressed deep concern over the situation and asked the ambassador that prompt action be taken to try the prisoners or free them on bail.)

Those held in the Palma jail are Mr. and Mrs. Clinton B. Lockwood of West Springfield, Mass.; Rutherford Fullerton, of Columbus, O.; Roderick F. Mead, of New York, and Edmund W. Blodgett, of Stamford, Conn.

Dawson also will take up the case of Theodore Pratt, an American writer, whose article on Mallorcan life aroused resentment, in case he asks for assistance.

Pratt went to Palma yesterday from Pienza, on the other side of Mallorca, escorted by a civil guard, whose protection he had asked.

No formal statement of charges has been made against the five Americans, but Spanish officials explained it is under the jurisdiction of the war department since the attack is a member of the military organization.

BABE DIDRIKSON WILL TRY TO BE BUSINESS WOMAN GOLFER

Famed Texas Girl Athlete Expected to Enter National Tournament.

BY BILL PARKER.
Associated Press Sports Writer.

Mildred Babe Didrikson, famous Texas girl athlete of the Olympic games, has been declared eligible for the National Women's Golf Tournament. Miss Didrikson is a professional athlete in track, field, basketball, billiards, and several other sports, but not in golf.

In California, Babe has been learning how to play golf. She plans to compete in this year's national tournament. It is not believed she will be a strong contender for the title. Her game, young and unpolished, is reported to be around 90. Even if her every day game was in the high seventies, Didrikson could not be counted on because of inexperience.

Didrikson is finally doing one thing sincere friends desired her to do when she returned from the Olympics. Friends, not promoters, wanted her to become a business woman golfer but she turned thumbs down on the suggestion. At that time, it is said, she had a bona fide offer to team with a prominent pro and go on a 30-week exhibition tour that would have netted her a substantial sum of money. In the meantime, she would have improved her game enough to continue in exhibitions after her contract with this pro had expired.

Instead, Babe went in for theatrical engagements, allowed her name to be used for advertising purposes and made a little money. Today, the Texas wonder girl is trying to learn how to make accurate golf shots, and her friends believe that once this is realized she will be a business woman golfer like George von Elm.

Moreland May Leave.
Gus Moreland has a chance to make Colorado Springs, Colo., his permanent home.

After winning the Trans-Mississippi for the second consecutive time a firm at Colorado Springs made an attractive offer to Moreland to take a traveling job. Gus ask for time to consider the proposition, and as late as July 14 had not arrived at a decision.

"I have a swell job at Dallas and work for a man who has been exceptionally kind in allowing me time off to play in tournaments," Moreland said. "While the Colorado offer carries a much higher salary, I am going to think a long time before I arrive at a definite decision. Leaving Texas would not be the most pleasant thing in the world considering all the wonderful friends I have here, and that it is my home."

YANKS REGAIN LEAD, WINNING NINE STRAIGHT

NEW MARK IS SET FOR WINNING STREAKS THIS SEASON

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

The New York Yankees have regained the top of the American league standing very much in the manner of a team which is merely asserting its right as world champion.

By defeating the Chicago White Sox 9 to 4 yesterday, the Yanks stretched their winning streak to nine games, the longest in the major leagues so far. Yesterday's triumph coincided with Washington's 4-3 defeat at the hands of the St. Louis Browns and gave the Yankees a lead of one game.

In nine games, the Yanks have piled up a total of 97 hits for 80 runs. And while this clouting eased the pressure on their mound staff, the flingers have shown considerable improvement.

The Senators made ten hits off George Blandholder and Sam Gray—but a couple of errors in the first inning gave St. Louis a head start of three runs that Washington never could overcome.

The Detroit Tigers backed Vic Sorrell's six-hit pitching with home runs by John Stone and Ervin Fox and stepped a game closer to the first division with a 5 to 2 triumph over Philadelphia. Athletics' Monte Pearson outpitched Lloyd Brown as the Cleveland Indians scored their second 2-1 victory over the Boston Red Sox.

First division clubs of the National league all won and the race remained in Philadelphia. The first-place New York Giants rolled up their biggest score of the season in beating Cincinnati Reds, 14 to 1. Starting when Johnny Vergez walked a homer with the bases full in the first inning, they piled up 19 hits.

Chicago's Cubs remained 3½ games behind as they bunched hits to beat the Boston Braves 4-1 in a duel between Lon Warneke and Ben Cantwell. The Pittsburgh Pirates, picking Hollis Thurston for the last four of their 17 hits and three runs in the eighth inning, defeated the Brooklyn Dodgers 11 to 8.

Chuck Klein's 18th homer was one of the few effective blows the Phillies could get off Dizzy Dean and the St. Louis Cardinals romped with a 9 to 4 victory.

Chicago's Cubs remained 3½ games behind as they bunched hits to beat the Boston Braves 4-1 in a duel between Lon Warneke and Ben Cantwell. The Pittsburgh Pirates, picking Hollis Thurston for the last four of their 17 hits and three runs in the eighth inning, defeated the Brooklyn Dodgers 11 to 8.

Davis Cup Team Is Confident of Beating British

AUTEUIL, France, July 19 (AP)—It may be overconfidence but America's Davis cup tennis stars are convinced they can sweep to a decisive victory over England in the inter-zone finals starting in Roland Garros stadium Friday, and thus advance into the challenge round against France next week.

Not only are Ellsworth Vines, Wilmer Allison, George Lott, and John Van Ryn confident of victory in the series but they decline to concede England a single triumph in advance.

The shoulder injury Fred Perry suffered last week when England defeated Australia in the European zone finals and his present doubtful condition led most experts to pick the United States to win without particular trouble.

In shape, the erratic Perry conceivably might beat either Vines or Allison on one of his good days, but H. W. (Bunny) Austin does not seem to have the strength to withstand either of the two American singles aces, and Lott and Van Ryn look like a better doubles combination than either Perry and George Patrick Hughes, or Hughes and H. G. Lee.

Perry will play doubles as well as singles if his shoulder can stand the strain of three successive days of competition. Otherwise Lee will be called in to team up with Hughes.

Galveston's two doubles, a single and a pass accounted for three runs off the veteran George Payne in the sixth. It was a lead that left the Buffs trailing in the dust of defeat.

Joe Judge Schulz of Beaumont won a hurling duel from L. White of San Antonio, 2 to 0. "Pid" Purdy, the league's leading hitter, proved White's downfall. With the score 9 to 0 and Beaumont batting in the seventh, Purdy lost Tommy Hughes' high fly in the sun, let it drop for a hit and Parker scored. Pask then followed with a long single that scored Hughes from second. Both pitchers allowed five hits.

Collecting eight runs the first two innings, Dallas opened a long home stay by beating Oklahoma City 8 to 3. Vandiger went the route for the Steers to out-pitch Benton, Chamberlain and King.

The Fort Worth and Tulsa game was postponed because of rain.
