ASSASSIN BEGS FOR EARLY DEATH

Girl, 16, Near Death After Brutal Attack In Lonely Lane

DYING GIRL THROWN FROM MYSTERY CAR

Ruby Osborn Victim Of Assault On Road Near Goldthwaite

ATTACKER UNKNOWN

Police Trace No Clue To Circumstances; Girl's Skull Broken

GOLDTHWAITE, Texas, July 19. (AP)—Ruby Osborn, 16 year old daughter of Rupe Osborn of Goldthwaite, was found badly beaten and unconscious, lying in a lane several miles from there early Thursday. The girl was suffering from a fractured skull, broken collar bone and severe body bruises.

Late tonight the girl had not regained consciousness and physicians said there was little chance for her recovery.

According to members of the city marshal's force no clue could be found that would lead to the girl's whereabouts after she had been seen in town Wednesday afternoon. The girl was apparently thrown from an automobile.

County Boards Given Power Under Ruling

ABILENE, Texas, July 19. (AP)—Formation of a consolidated rural school district for the purpose of teaching at one place high school pupils from all common school districts included, is a matter within the power of county boards of education, Judge Walter H. Chapman of the 104th district court, ruled here today in sustaining a demurrer by the defense in a suit brought to prevent sale of bonds voted in Ovalo rural high school district of Taylor county.

Tourists Drafted To Fight Forest Fire

SANTA ROSA, Calif., July 19. (UP)—Motorists and tourists were drafted tonight to join a force of 400 volunteers who were fighting a fire that had destroyed the historic old Homestead ranch and was threatening others. The blaze had spread over a territory of more than two miles and was racing toward a heavy stand of timber. Damage of the fire during the afternoon was estimated at $150,000 and one man was seriously injured.

Senators Jubilant Over Al Smith's Prospects

ALBANY, N. Y., July 19. (AP)—A roseate picture of campaign prospects was presented to Governor Smith by two Democratic senators —Tydings of Maryland and Hawes of Missouri, during an overnight visit with the presidential nominee. Before their departure from Albany shortly after noon today, both declared confidence not only that Smith would be elected, but that the Democrats would control the next congress.

Couple and Daughter Drowned in Plunge

Council Votes To Purchase Airport For $28,000

Special Session of Aldermen Buys Improved Landing Field on Burkburnett Road at Cost

The city council, meeting in special session at 5 o'clock Thursday afternoon in the council chambers, voted to buy the Wichita Falls municipal airport for actual cost to the citizens who hav built it, or $28,-317.84.

None of the payment is to be made in cash, but all is to be repaid within two years, according to the terms of an agreement decided upon at the meeting. Of the total sum, $17,917.84 is to be paid back to those who paid it out, and $10,400 is to be paid, as the balance still due on the land, to J. A. Kemp in five annual notes. The first four of these notes are for $2,100 each and the last is for $2,000.

Church Tax Remitted

Only one other item was taken up at the council meeting when it was voted to remit the taxes which had been assessed against lot 16, block 94, of the Floral Heights addition, as it has been determined this is church property.

C. W. Cahoon Jr., president of the airport, outlined the proposition of the airport to the council. Charles I. Francis, president of the Chamber of Commerce; W. M. McDaniel, president of the Board of Directors, and Dewey Bailey, W. S. Alexander, secretary of the airport; E. H. Eddleman, Joe Carrigan and other business men appeared on behalf of the airport and explained different phases.

The question of the land values in the vicinity of the airport was brought up, and Mr. McGregor said that the $80 an acre paid for the 340 acres was far below land values on any side of the property. All agreed that it is ideal for an airport.

Need of Action

Charles I. Francis explained the need for immediate action on the part of the city by saying that to have airlines run through the city we must have a municipal airport. "Without a municipal airport these lines will avoid our city," he said. "Even now, Fort Worth is working to get the Petroleum airway to come through that city from Tulsa to San Antonio. If that happens, we are out of it."

"A straight line drawn from the southern end of the eastern airway at Birmingham to Los Angeles shows we are almost on a direct line. If we work hard enough and fast enough we may get the southern transcontinental air line through this city."

Comparative figures on the costs of other municipal airports, none of which are larger or have better hangars than Wichita Falls, were given as follows: Tulsa, $200,000 (land alone $170,000); Fort Worth, $160,000; Dallas, with only 167 acres, $400,000, and San Angelo, $40,000.

Joe Carrigan referred to a recent bulletin of the department of commerce which said no class A airport had been built up to that time for less than $35,000.

Fortunate, Says Hunt

Alderman Hunt was the first of the council to speak definitely on the proposition. "I think we are fortunate to be able to get it so cheap," he declared.

Alderman King questioned the manner of payment which finally was worked out to the satisfaction of all concerned.

Alderman Patton, registered the only protest against the plan. "The airport is meritorious, and I believe the city should have one," Mr. Patton said. "However, we are a city about to be sued for our obligations, and the only way I see by which we can take over the air-

CEDAR ISLAND LODGE, Wis., July 19. (UP)—President Coolidge kept indoors by a cold, steady downpour, spent the day at his desk at the summer White House today.

NOBILE MUST RETURN ALONE

Coal Freighter to Carry Explorer Home

KINGS BAY, Spitzbergen, July 19. (UP)—The man who came from Italy in a giant airship and circled the North Pole to the applause of a world which loves brave gestures and deeds of daring—General Umberto Nobile, commander of the dirigible Italia—will return home on a coal freighter avoiding all possible ports of call, it was announced today by one of his associates.

The general will travel over an unknown route to an unannounced destination where he will be picked up by a motor-driven schooner and taken to Germany or France. It was said he would leave in a few days.

Nobile will not travel with the men who went into the Arctic with him—15 men of whom two were left corpses on the ice and six others of whom were blown away in the wreckage of the Italia to probable death.

Seven to Return

The seven men who were rescued by the steamship Krassin after Nobile had been brought out by the Swedish aviator, Capt. Einer-Paal Lundberg, will return, at least a part of the way aboard the Italia's ship, Citta di Milano.

Nobile will avoid touching at any port in Norway. An unfriendly sentiment has been manifest in Norway toward the Italian polar expedition since two of Nobile's companions, Capt. Adalberto Mariano and Capt. Filippo Zappi, were picked up on the ice to tell how Dr. Finn Malmgren, Swedish scientist, had been left behind at his own insistence, to die by a grave scooped out of the ice for him.

Mariano and Zappi arrived with five other rescued Italians on the Krassin today.

Continue Search

The Citta di Milano probably will proceed to Narvik as soon as possible with the survivors, then return to Kings Bay to continue the search for 12 lost men—six with the Italia and six, including Roald Amundsen, in a French seaplane which left Tromsoe, Norway, June 18, to search for Nobile.

Information from Stockholm indicated the government would order the rescue expedition under command of Captain Thornberg to return immediately to Sweden.

Experts Glean Material For Utility Hearings

WASHINGTON, July 19. (UP)—Twenty-six federal trade commission experts are investigating electric power companies in Boston, New York, Philadelphia, and Chicago, gathering material for resumption of the commission's hearings in September.

The commission said today that the propaganda phase of the investigation was complete except for Pacific coast and some southern states.

Broken Rail Causes Passenger Train Wreck

ROME, Ga., July 19. (UP) — A broken rail was blamed today for the wreck of the Ponce De Leon, crack Florida to Cincinnati express, which resulted in the death of one man and injury to about 15 persons, including returning participants in the Elks convention at Miami.

The accident occurred at Shannon, near here, late last night.

J. R. Hodgeson, 35, of Haddenfield, N. J., was killed.

Hulen Named to Attend Carranza Ceremonies

AUSTIN, Texas, July 19.—Gov. Dan Moody today designated Major General John A. Hulen of Houston to represent the state at San Antonio Friday at the ceremonies in honor of Captain Emilio Carranza, Mexican flying ace, who lost his life while returning from a good will tour to the United States.

BURIAL RITES FOR M'DANIEL CARRIED OUT

Masonic Service for Man Killed in Preventing Bank Raid

CLUE FOLLOWED

Officers Push On Trail Of Highwayman In Wichita Falls

Charles McDaniel, victim of a highwayman's gun when a lone man attempted to rob the First State bank of Dundee at noon Wednesday, was buried in Dundee Thursday afternoon.

His assailant, unidentified, continued to elude the search in which officers of Wichita, Archer and adjoining counties have engaged since the shooting of Mr. McDaniel. It is believed by officers that the man is in hiding in this city.

Rites at Residence

The services for Mr. McDaniel were held from the family residence in Dundee with the Rev. Bert Coulborn, pastor of the Methodist church there, officiating. Burial rites were administered by the Masonic lodge of Dundee, in the Dundee cemetery.

Mr. McDaniel is survived by his widow, his mother, Mrs. R. W. McDaniel of Bowie; a son, Fred, of Dundee; three sisters, Mrs. Myrtle Andrews of Oklahoma City, Mrs. Bruce Downs of Bowie and Mrs. Warren Brown of Norman, Okla., and a brother, Jim McDaniel.

Pioneer Resident

The Dundee merchant had lived in that section for the past 27 years. He came to North Texas as a cowboy and became one of the leading cattlemen of the district. A few years ago he opened a grocery store in Dundee in partnership with his son. At times during the last 28 years he had served as a deputy sheriff.

Practically all persons arrested as suspects by police and members of the sheriff's department Wednesday afternoon and night were released from custody Thursday.

Meanwhile officers were still working on the case Thursday night, with members of the sheriff's department picking up the trail of the lone gunman at the Roszell cafe, 21½ miles from Iowa Park on the Wichita Falls road, and attempting to reconstruct his wanderings which led him through two other robberies to the Dundee bank.

Lairs Watched

Every hideout of criminals known to police in Wichita Falls is under the close surveillance of members of the city police department. Capture of the bandit within the next few hours seemed a certainty Thursday night.

One clew, leading out of Wichita Falls, which was not revealed by officers, was being followed by a member of the sheriff's department.

Mr. McDaniel was fatally shot when he attempted to take a pistol from a man who had entered Mr. McDaniel's store and commanded the cattleman to accompany him to the bank, next door. He was brought to the Wichita Falls Clinic hospital, where he died late Wednesday night.

Parties in Two Suits Marry After Divorces

RENO, Nev., July 19. (UP)—An exchange of husbands and wives was started here today when William Sawyer, 43, and Mrs. Elizabeth Kudder, 35, were married after obtaining divorces.

Sawyer and his new bride said their divorced spouses were to be married tonight in Gladstone, N. J. The eastern couple was Mrs. Pauline M. Sawyer of New York and M. Kudder of Gladstone.

Custody of four children, three born to the Kudders and one to the Sawyers, was granted to the New Jersey pair.

Rescue Ship Returns With Italia Members

LONDON, July 19. (US)—The soviet ice-breaker Krassin arrived at Kings Bay, Spitzbergen, late this afternoon and transferred the rescued members of the Italia's crew to their base ship, the Citta di Milano, a Central News dispatch from Oslo stated.

The returning explorers were greeted by long cheers from their comrades that had remained aboard the base ship.

Grand Jury May Probe Jailbreak Attempt

ATLANTA, Ga., July 19. (UP)—A federal grand jury is expected to investigate the attempted escape of four inmates of the federal penitentiary Wednesday which resulted in injury to one guard and a 20 minute battle between prisoners and guards.

All day today prisoners were grilled by Warden John W. Snook who left a sick bed to restore order when the break was attempted.

Identification Of Body Found Off French Coast Solves Lowenstein's Disappearance

LONDON, July 19. (US)—A body found off the French coast this afternoon was definitely identified as that of Captain Alfred Lowenstein, Belgian financier, who disappeared on an airplane flight from London on the afternoon of July 4. News of the identification was reported here in a message early tonight from Boulogne.

The body was recovered eight miles at sea north of Calais, France, and was brought to Boulogne by a fishing boat.

The watchcase, from which the works were strangely missing, bore the initials "A. L." and Lowenstein's Brussels address.

The body was nude but it was apparent that the clothing had disintegrated and it was also thought that the shrinkage of the corpse accounted for the absence of the rings. Remnants of the shoes were still on the feet of the body.

Discovery and identification of the body definitely ended a lingering belief that the disappearance of Lowenstein on July 4 while his private airplane was over the English channel, was a hoax, and that the Belgian millionaire would turn up alive.

In support of the belief airplane experts had said that the wind pressure against the fuselage doors of a plane would make it impossible for one to fall or leap from the plane while it was in flight.

The identification of the body will make it possible for the heirs to probate the estate of the financier, estimated to be in excess of $20,000,000, and involving the operations of scores of European industries.

Madame Lowenstein, wife of the Belgian financier, is speeding to Calais, according to a Central News dispatch from that town.

This dispatch states that the face and head of the body are badly mutilated.

G. O. P. WANTS CLEAN MONEY

And Plenty of It, Campaign Committee Adds

WASHINGTON, July 19. (UP)—Clean money, with as much as the amount is to be sought for the Hoover-Curtis campaign, according to a statement issued by J. R. Nutt, treasurer of the Republican national committee, today.

Nutt and National Chairman Work discussed the Republican campaign budget all day but failed to decide upon the exact amount needed or where it would be spent. Unofficially, it was said the $3,000,000 originally suggested might not be enough and nearer $4,000,000 might be raised. In the 1924 campaign when Coolidge had weak opposition, $2,063,852 was spent. An additional $955,304 was left as surplus.

No Limit Fixed

Nutt later issued a statement saying no fixed limit would be placed upon campaign contributions but that no money should be sought or accepted where any question could be raised as to the character of the donor. A precaution apparently taken to prevent the party from again being entangled in a situation like that which grew out of oil contributions recently revealed.

Republican leaders are considering whether to throw money into the south to take advantage of the opposition there to Governor Smith. The bolting of some Texas Democrats and the action of the anti-Smith dry conference at Asheville lead some to think a properly financed campaign in the south would produce results. Others feel the solid south will be Democratic regardless of sentiment against Smith and money spent there would be wasted.

Both Shoot Wads

Politicians do not like to talk freely about the subject of campaign funds but it is apparent that both parties are set this year to spend all they think they need to win. Neither side has fixed a limit. For the first time in years the Democrats have access to real campaign money and there is every indication they intend to use it. Republicans, usually more plentifully supplied, intend to match the Democrats dollar for dollar if needed. All of which indicates this is going to be a year of great prosperity for precinct workers, door bell ringers, watchers, and the rest of the leg workers who get out the vote.

Iowa's G. O. P. Revolt Passes at Convention

DES MOINES, Iowa, July 19. (UP)—The much talked of revolt of Iowa farmers against the Republican party apparently has passed. Iowa Republicans in state convention here decided to support wholeheartedly the candidacy of Herbert Hoover and Charles Curtis.

The only lingering trace of the revolutionary sentiment which preceded the Kansas City convention was contained in a resolution favoring the McNary-Haugen bill.

Bolt Kills Boy as He Chases Runaway Team

WICHITA, Kan., July 19. (AP)—Lightning instantly killed James Wilkinson, 17-year-old Dexter, Kan., high school boy, near Belle Plaine late yesterday.

Wilkinson, employed at the Ben Forsythe farm, was attempting to stop a runaway team, frightened by the storm, when the lightning struck. The team was knocked down but neither horse was killed.

Victim of Negro Attack To Be Given $10,000

CHEHALIS, Wash., July 19. (UP) —Miss Evelyn Nobach, 16, who was attacked by a negro porter on a train crossing Washington, will receive $10,000 from the Pullman company, it became known after an order to that effect was filed in superior court here.

Five Arrested in Booze Raid at Childress

CHILDRESS, Texas, July 19. (AP)—Officers confiscated 65 gallons of whisky and 2,000 bottles of beer in a raid last night on a garage, seven miles from Childress. Five persons were arrested and charged with gambling.

Auction Girl's Father Grieved At Her Desertion

MILWAUKEE, Wis., July 19. (UP)—Grieved because he feels that his daughter, Beatrice Albert, the "auction girl," has smirched his family honor, Henry Albert, 72, wept today as he sympathized with W. W. Goynes, one-legged Spanish war veteran who was "jilted" by Beatrice.

The aged father has remained at the little cottage provided by Goynes for the Albert family, although Beatrice, her mother and young brother left there when the "auction girl" decided she could not marry the 50-year-old war veteran.

Advice Spurned

Beatrice, 16, had advertised she would marry anyone who provided $6,000 to support her family. Goynes offered his cottage for six months without obligation, with marriage to be discussed later. Last week, however, the girl objected to Goyne's fatherly advice and left him.

"I was opposed to this marriage affair from the first and I didn't want to come here," the father explained today. "I didn't want to accept Goynes' offer to live in his house and have him provide for us. But Beatrice insisted on coming and I humored her. Later she accepted a ring from Mr. Goynes and gave him a promise.

"Now I've always been taught that a word is as good as a written contract. I thought I had brought Beatrice up the same way. I have figured out that Beatrice used Mr. Goynes badly. He has spent over $1,500 fixing us up here, and I think she knew all the time she wasn't going to marry him. So when she refused him so harshly and got up this new-fangled 'court of love' idea to find another lover, we quarreled and I am staying on here.

He's the Bait

"I am the 'aged parent,' I am the bait she used to interest Goynes. As long as I stay here she won't be able to catch another man that way."

Beatrice's most recent announcement was that she was going to have three selected suitors appear here in a "marriage derby," and the one who proves himself the fittest will be accepted as her husband.

Steamer Rammed And Rescuer in Collision

LISBON, July 19. (UP)—The Spanish steamer Serafino Ballesteros was rammed and sunk by the English steamer Delta in a fog three miles off Cape Roca today. The French steamer Elese rescued the Ballesteros' crew, but while the Delta was proceeding to port it collided with the City of Kyler and both ships were damaged. They succeeded, however, in making port under their own power.

$1,000,000 Theft Series Ended by Arrest

SAN FRANCISCO, July 19. (UP) Arrest of Lawrence Ghere here late today was believed by police to have brought an end to a series of robberies throughout the nation that netted him more than $1,000,000. Ghere admitted he had jumped bail in Chicago after his arrest there for theft of $130,000 worth of jewels from Norman Kadleon of New York, according to police.

New Yorker Killed When Paris Hall Burns

PARIS, July 19. (UP)—Fire today destroyed the Sale Pleyel, famous concert hall near the Arc de Triomphe. Oliver Denton, New York music teacher, was asphyxiated in the fire and died on the way to a hospital.

DEATH TAKES GRAY VETERAN

George Simmons Dies At Home Here

George Simmons, 85, veteran of the Civil war and a resident of Wichita Falls for the past 38 years, died at the family residence, 1406 Broad street, at 10 o'clock Thursday night.

Mr. Simmons was born at Winchester, Tenn., and during the Civil war served in General Forrest's bodyguard. He was in 16 engagements and although his horse was shot from under him on one occasion, he was not wounded during the war.

Following the war Mr. Simmons returned to Winchester where he met and and in 1871 married Miss Mary Emma Pickell of Natchez, Miss., who attended a college in Winchester. The couple moved to Dallas in 1875 and to Wichita Falls in 1890. Mrs. Simmons died in 1922.

Until recent years, when poor health has kept Mr. Simmons from outside activity, he was an active member of the First Methodist church and was a senior member of the Kay Bible class.

He is survived by four daughters, Mrs. M. J. Kavanaugh of Terrell, Mrs. J. B. Craig of Friendship, Tenn., Mrs. D. A. Bohannon and Miss Carry Simmons of Wichita Falls; one son, Robert T. Simmons of Wichita Falls, and three grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at the First Methodist church Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock with Dr. H. S. McKenney, pastor, officiating. Burial will be in Riverside.

Heflin Again Howls Doom to Al Smith

CHICAGO, July 19. (UP)—Senator Thomas J. Heflin of Alabama, today said that Gov. Alfred E. Smith, Democratic presidential candidate had so antagonized the South he would be defeated in the election. He gave as his reasons "Tammanyism," his "wet" beliefs, repudiation of his party platform and appointment of a man "who voted for Harding and Coolidge."

Two Illinois Mines To Reopen Work Soon

HERRIN, Ill., July 19. (UP)—Two southern Illinois mines will be reopened here soon, it was announced today by the Madison Coal corporation. The Jacksonville wage scale will be paid despite the fact that the policy committee of the United Mine Workers opened the way for operators Thursday to negotiate for a lower scale.

Alvin Moody Will Not Quit State Committee

HOUSTON, July 19. (INS)—Alvin S. Moody, although selected to head the anti-Smith bolters of Texas, will not resign from the state Democratic executive committee, it was apparent today. Moody issued a statement here late yesterday in which he declared he was "a Democrat," and would not resign from the state committee.

Former Dictator Given Right to Cross Germany

BERLIN, July 9. (UP)—Germany complied with Austria's request today and granted Bela Kun permission to traverse Germany en route to Russia by way of Stettin. Kun was once virtual dictator of Budapest, where he was accused of many crimes in the post-war period.

EXECUTION OF YOUNG ARTIST HIS OWN PLEA

President Calles Holds Conference With Slayer In His Cell

REFUSES TO TALK

Officials Arrest Members Of Youth's Family In Investigation

MEXICO CITY, July 19. (UP) Chief of Police Zertuche of Mexico City, who has conducted the examination of General Obregon's assassin to learn the motive for the crime, issued a statement tonight asserting that "responsibility for the crime rests with the Catholic clergy."

MEXICO CITY, July 19. (UP)—"Kill me now. I have said all that I am going to say."

With these words, the slayer of Alvaro Obregon, now definitely identified as Juan De Leon Toral, pleaded today with President Calles himself for immediate execution.

The plea was made at a personal conversation between the two men when the chief executive repeated earlier efforts to prevail upon the youth to give the names of persons associated with him.

Complete identification of the slayer came with the arrest of his entire family, including his wife. Senora de Toral told the police that her husband had been graduated from a Catholic seminary in Mexico City and had taught school in a Catholic school for some time.

Devout Christian

The young man also added that he always had been a devout Christian, and that he had been given absolution privately in his home by a priest the day before the shooting of General Obregon. The police immediately instituted a search for the priest, whose act was illegal under existing laws and regulations.

The conference between President Calles, ruler of Mexico, and the slight youth whose pistol closed the career of Mexico's most conspicuous revolutionary leader, was a dramatic one. Recalling that the Calles government itself had begun the enforcement of the religious clauses of the revolutionary constitution, the president demanded:

"Why did you kill General Obregon instead of me?"

Without hesitation, the doomed youth replied:

"You are no longer a problem, because you will be out of office before long. I killed Obregon because he said he would carry out your policies, which I understood to include mistreatment of the church. I want Christ to be king in Mexico."

Expected Death

Then came another question:

"Did you think of your own fate?"

Toral answered:

"I expected death there in the dining room, but unfortunately it was denied me. Kill me now. I have considered myself ever since I fired those shots into Obregon's back. What's the use of keeping me alive longer? I've said all I'm going to say."

President Calles continued to plead in vain for the names of persons with whom the youth associated. Toral remained stubbornly silent. He insisted, also, that there was not "money enough in the world" to induce him to kill Obregon. He had acted, he said, because of his conviction that the slaying was the best for the church.

Although in poor health, Toral has nerves of iron. The caricature he drew just before the shooting of the president-elect show that they were sketched with the steadiest hand. Since his arrest, he has shown the same spirit, repeatedly saying:

"Kill me and have it done with."

Few Clues Obtained

Although unable to do a thing with the prisoner, the police have picked up a few clues from the relatives. Yet, despite their feverish activity, the authorities thus far have recorded little progress.

So far as the religious angle goes, the police have uncovered nothing unusual. Toral apparently had only those religious connections which persons of his station in Mexico

Mothers Awaiting Turn Before Tax Board 'Quiet' Babes On Solid Floor

Babies rolled on papers in the corridors of the city auditorium while their parents sat through the sweltering day awaiting their turn for hearing before the city board of equalization.

From early morning until the doors were closed the crowd was undiminished, and at closing time it was announced that the hearing would continue Friday for those who had been unable to get in. About 300 cases were heard Thursday.

It was learned at the city tax office that the board is holding steadily to the values and that few concessions are being made. The level of values is in no case higher than it was last year, it was announced. The appeal to the board are being made in cases where the taxpayer had rendered a lower value on his return than was placed on the property last year.

Accused in Fatal Illinois Bombing Denies Murder After Surrender

ROCKFORD, Ill., July 19. (UP) While a manhunt was in progress in Winnebago county for Paul Reed, 30, accused of planting a bomb in an automobile which today killed Vernon W. Plager, 32, Reed surrendered to authorities at Oregon, Ill. Reed denied the charge.

Reed had been paying attentions to Mrs. Ivy Plager, 32, and last fall eloped with her, and the two later were found in southern Illinois. Mrs. Plager returned to her home and was forgiven.

Plager was killed today when the bomb placed in the gasoline tank of his automobile, exploded when he attempted to start the car. Before dying, Plager muttered: "Paul Reed did it."

Mrs. Plager also accused Reed. Authorities said they learned that Reed was said to have threatened to kill Plager several times. The lower part of Plager's body was badly mangled by the explosion. The automobile was blown to pieces.

TEXAS HAS LABOR SURPLUS

Employment, However, Is On Increase

AUSTIN, Texas, July 19. (AP)—Employment has increased somewhat throughout Texas during the past 30 days, the federal department of labor says in a review of conditions received here, but there is still a labor surplus.

Textile mills reported part-time operations leaving many workers in this line out of work. A slight decrease also was noticeable in lumber mill forces, but only a few mills reported part-time schedules. Additional workers were employed in the iron and steel industries, department stores, food and kindred products plants, leather tanneries, furniture factories, oil well supply, manufacturing plants, chemical establishments and cotton compresses.

Building Gains

Building in the larger cities increased somewhat, but some unemployment still exists in that line. Farm help is reported as adequate for the demand.

Following is a detailed summary of conditions in the larger cities:

Dallas—Although there was an increase in employment during the month several plants reported part-time schedules and a surplus of labor exists. Employment gains were reported in the iron and steel industry. Some idleness was apparent among the building trades men. New projects to be started in the near future should absorb these craftsmen. A surplus of farm help was reported.

Houston—The major industries operated on full-time schedules except those plants seasonally closed and a foundry which worked on a part-time basis. Chemical establishments reported a slight seasonal decrease in their forces which was offset by an increase in the volume of employment in the textile mills. Activities in connection with the oil industry were somewhat curtailed. The surplus of labor apparent consists principally of unskilled workers. Sufficient building under way to employ the local craftsmen.

On Full-Time

Fort Worth—Employment gains reported in the food and kindred products plants and several other miscellaneous industries were offset by reductions in the forces employed in the lumber mills and iron and steel industries. Most plants operated on full-time schedules except lumber mills, food and kindred products plants and beverage plants which reported part-time. New building projects amounting to $1,000,000 were started during the month, with the local supply of building tradesmen quite equal to all demands. The demand for harvest workers has been met.

San Antonio—Most plants operated on satisfactory schedules with a slight increase in employment reported. The only part-time operations reported were in the food and kindred products plants and a leather tannery. What surplus of labor exists consists chiefly of a small number of unskilled workers. The textile mills increased their forces. Satisfactory volume of building is under way with resident craftsmen well employed.

Surplus At Waco

Waco — Employment increased during the month and practically all plants reporting were on full-time schedules. There was, however, a small surplus of labor apparent at the close of the month. Employment gains were reported in the iron and steel industry, department stores, lumber mills, and several other miscellaneous industries. The leather tanneries released some workers. With the building permits which have been issued and with work already under way the resident building tradesmen will be well employed for some time to come. There was a large demand for farm help in this vicinity throughout the month with a supply available.

Galveston—Several plants reported part-time schedules and a slight decrease in employment occurred during the month. The shipping of cotton will afford employment to many of those now idle. Building tradesmen appear to be fairly well employed as a good volume of building and construction are under way.

Texarkana—All plants reporting from this vicinity were in operation during June, several curtailing their forces and reporting part-time schedules. Chemical establishments, textile mills, lumber mills and beverage plans, worked on curtailed schedules. Construction of a new water reservoir is giving employment to approximately 100 men. Other building rojects are employing the local supply of skilled building tradesmen. A surplus of labor was reported at the close of the month, principally unskilled workers.

Beaumont Improves

Beaumont—The industrial employment situation improved somewhat during the past 30 days as practically all plants reported full-time schedules and employment increased in several industries. What surplus of labor still exists consists principally of unskilled workers. An increase in the oil industry was reported and this upward trend is expected to continue. Furniture factories, textile mills, food and kindred products plants and plants manufacturing oil well supplies employed additional workers. Forces employed in the chemical establishments and several other miscellaneous industries were curtailed somewhat. Many arge building projects are under way, including a $200,000 business structure, $1,000,000 hotel and a number of apartment houses. This work is employing a large number of skilled and unskilled laborers with an ample supply available.

El Paso—Employment gains were reported in the leather tanneries, lumber mills, and textile factories during June. The majority of the local plants operated on satisfactory schedules and the resident labor supply and demand were well balanced. The volume of building is growing and skilled craftsmen are steadily engaged.

Texas Girl in Mother's Steps

"Out of sight, out of mind" is a true saying. The fact that we can't see what's happening inside our children's bodies is the reason so many of us allow them to go on suffering from constipation until they are full of the poisons from decaying waste and they're bilious, headachy, sallow and weak, with no appetite or energy. Watch your baby or child, Mother, and at the first sign of coated tongue, bad breath or feverishness, give him a little California Fig Syrup. This rich, fruity product, gently expels all the souring waste; gives tone and strength to the stomach and bowels, so they continue to act normally; stimulates the circulation; tones and nourishes the entire system.

Its sales record of over four million bottles a year and the enthusiastic praise of women everywhere, prove mothers depend on it today as they have for more than 50 years. A Texas mother, Mrs. M. H. Goodrich 1530 So. Olive street, San Antonio, says: "I used to take California Fig Syrup as a child, so when my little girl began to suffer with constipation I started her on it. It stopped her trouble quickly and made her look ever so much better. I kept using it with her for a few weeks and it made a different girl out of her. She has grown so well and strong and is never sick any more."

See that the Fig Syrup you buy bears the name "California," so you won't be imposed on by imitators —Adv.

Connecticut Prison Celebrates Hundredth Anniversary; May Move

WETHERSFIELD, Conn., July 19.—A grim gray old pile of buildings on an elbow of the beautiful Connecticut river in the center of this ancient town is having a centennial of its own this year without a notice. The grim group is officially known as the Connecticut state prison and within its walls today are 15 women and 553 men, with a force of 62 employes watching over them.

Efforts to have the prison removed to the hill country of northwestern Connecticut, where houses are few and far between, have failed consistently though once the directors went so far as to buy a tract of land in the confident expectation that the next legislature would approve and furnish money to build thereon. Connecticut seems to prefer the prison in this spot.

Meanwhile the first prison the state ever knew, abandoned in 1928, is doing business as a museum to which dozens go each week-end to see curious sights in the former cell corridors far underground. Visitors don rain coats and boots, and climb a long ladder down what seems to be a well shaft, and roam with guides through places that furnish the creeps to the average person.

A century ago 127 people made the journey from Granby, site of the above old prison, down to Wethersfield, probably greatly relieved to be above ground.

Hog Industry Outlook Good

WASHINGTON, July 19. (AP)—The department of agriculture sees good signs for the swine industry during the next two years.

In its mid-summer hog outlook report today, the department said the hog supply for market during the next 12 months "is expected to be considerably less than during the 12 months just passed, and indications are that both the domestic and foreign demand for pork products will show some improvements.

"A hog production maintained at the level of 1925 and 1926 representing an annual inspected slaughter for the crop year ending October 31, 1918," the report said, "promises the best returns to the producers of both corn and hogs."

Commenting on supplies for the next 12 months, the department said that "market supplies of hogs during the summer and early fall of 1928 are expected to be about as large and possibly somewhat larger than in the corresponding period of last year but of lighter average weights."

Insanity From Alcohol Reported Decreasing

SAN ANTONIO, July 19. (AP)—A steady decrease in the number of cases of insanity, chargeable to alcoholism, has been noted since the passage of the prohibition law, according to Dr. W. J. Johnson, who has had an opportunity to study the question because of his position as head of the Southwest State hospital for the insane here.

Dr. Johnson said that in 1910 10 per cent of all patients admitted to state insane institutions were driven there by excessive use of alcohol. A steady decrease in this proportion was noted after the adoption of prohibition, he said, and in 1922 only about 3.7 per cent of the admissions were chargeable to alcohol. No statistics on the question of a general enough nature to be quoted have been taken since that time. Dr. Johnson estimated that of the 100,000 insane patients in the United States fully 80 per cent were insane because of preventable causes.

Fort Worth Livestock Auction Opens Aug. 6

FORT WORTH, July 19. (AP)—With excellent prospects for a most prosperous season, the horse and mule auction sale on the Fort Worth market will open on Aug. 6.

Representatives of the commission firms declared today there will be a good demand from the very start of the season. Buyers are expected to come for the sale from East Texas, Louisiana, Oklahoma and other southern states.

At the opening sale approximately 800 horses and mules will go on the block.

Death Reveals True Name of Benefactor

NEW YORK, July 19. (AP)—The New York Times today says that Jedediah Tingle, mysterious philanthropist whose benefactions gladdened the hearts and lightened the cares of noted writers and obscure poets, unsung heroes and poor children for many years, has been revealed as William E. Harmon, retired real estate operator and philanthropist, who died Sunday at his summer home in Southport, Conn.

WHEAT CROPS BOOM TOWNS

Panhandle Resembles Scene of Oil Discovery

AMARILLO, Texas, July 19. (UP)—The bumper wheat crop of the Texas Panhandle has caused several towns to take on the appearance of oil boom towns.

Hansford and Ochiltree counties are producing one-third of the Texas wheat crop this year, while the Panhandle area will produce .8 of the wheat grown in Texas.

Elevators are brimming full of the golden grain and more than 1,000 railroad cars are in service carrying the grain to market. Spearman, Hansford county, two weeks ago had a population of 1,700. Its population has jumped to 3,000 as a result of the wheat harvest. Beds are at a premium every night.

Even the counties are making money on the crop. Potter county commissioners 'announced that wheat produced on 100 acres of land owned by the county enriched the county's coffers by $2,000.

At Spearman, Perryton, Huntoon, Hooker and other towns all elevators are filled and grain has been piled on the ground to await shipment.

Bank deposits in the Panhandle have increased more than 100 per cent in the past month. In addition to wheat, other small grain crops are producing bumper yields. Barley is producing from 40 to 75 bushels per acre and bringing 65 cents a bushel. Oats are averaging 60 to 75 bushels per acre.

Oklahoma Convict Taken in California

STOCKTON, Calif., July 19. (INS)—Living happily here with his wife for the past 10 years, and highly respected by his friends, Jackson L. Triplett, cigar store proprietor, was today under arrest for Oklahoma authorities who declare him to be an escaped convict under life sentence in that state.

Triplett, who is 57 years old and was known here as W. P. Morrell, is said by police to have readily admitted the charge. He was identified by chance when Wilbur Potter, local chief of police, returned from a recent convention of police chiefs at Colorado City.

Legless, One-Armed Ace Flies to Curtiss Field

NORRISTOWN, P., July 19 (INS) "Dinger" Daugherty, the legless, one-armed aviator, who is understood to be planning a solo flight to Rome, hopped off from the air field here shortly after 1 o'clock this afternoon for Curtiss Field, N. Y.

The flyer experienced considerable difficulty after taking off from Gettysburg, Pa., Tuesday afternoon, being forced down once by engine trouble and losing his course twice before arriving here.

Harris County Woman Prospers on Five Acre Farm

HOUSTON, July 19. (AP)—Mrs. Theodore Vogt, native of Harris county, has achieved a lifetime ambition in a model 5-acre farm two miles southwest of Tomball, Harris county.

Mrs. Vogt plows, sows and reaps her own grain crops and takes care of her 125 sheep, 200 chickens and six cows. Four of her five acres are in corn, with cowpeas planted between rows for September chicken feed, and fifth is in cotton. Her small vegetable garden contains potatoes, beans, cabbage, lettuce, radishes, cucumbers, squash, beets, carrots and onions.

In making her model farm Mrs. Vogt has not overlooked the artistic, for her house sits in the center of a well-kept, flower-bordered lawn.

Boston Turtle Rivals 'Old Rip'

BOSTON, July 19. (AP)—The Texas horned toad that, lived for a quarter of a century in a cornerstone was completely outclassed today when workmen said they found a 7-inch turtle alive in a block of wood which was to be used in the reconstruction of the U. S. S. Constitution "Old Ironsides" at the Charlestown navy yard.

Workmen cutting a large block of wood on a plane saw a foreign substance in the plane. They investigated and found the turtle imbedded in the wood. The plane had taken a slice off its nose.

They hacked and carved the wood until the turtle was released and it was given to Lieut. John Lord, who is in charge of the reconstruction of the old battleship.

The wood was recently brought here from Pensacola, Fla., where it had laid under water for more than 70 years.

ROADS PLAN NEW AGENCY

Purchase of American Express Is Proposed

NEW YORK, July 19. (AP)—Details of the plan whereby the Association of Railway Executives hopes to make the country's express business a railroad-owned joint facility, making the railroads transporters of express as they are of freight with a consequent like status before commissions and courts, was made public in a 90-page report today.

Briefly the plan provides that 86 participating railroads take over the business of the American Railway Express company, acquiring either the entire capital stock, or its assets and properties. Four agents appointed to act for the participating railroads are empowered to incorporate a new organization, "Railway Express Agency Inc.," having 1000 shares of no par value capital stock to be allotted to the railroads at $100 per share.

The new company, if the plan is acceptable to railway executives, will begin operations March 1, 1929, the day following the expiration of the present contract with the American Railway Express company.

The agents of the railroads in the negotiations are William B. Storey, president of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe; Wallace W. Atterbury, president of the Pennsylvania; Patrick E. Crowley, president of the New York Central, and Carl R. Gray, president of the Union Pacific.

Kansas City Has Best Day in Wheat Receipts

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 19. (INS)—Wheat receipts here today were 1033 cars, the largest single day's run thus far in 1928. With one exception it was the largest in the history of the board of trade. On July 24, 1926, the record was 1109 cars.

IDENTIFIED

City Manager Given Introduction at Police Station

A quiet looking man walked into the police station Wednesday evening while the search of the city for the Dundee bandit was at its height and stood by the night police sergeant's desk.

Sgt. McIntyre looked up inquiringly and asked if there was anything he could do for him. The quiet man shook his head. A moment later he was introduced to the sergeant as the man who had recently raised the sergeant's salary as the city manager, George D. Fairtrace.

In Highland Park, Mr. Fairtrace was frequently called upon by the police for assistance. The records show he was instrumental in planning and assisting in the capture of some of the most notorious criminals of Dallas and that part of Texas.

Casualties Feared In Peruvian Earthquake

LIMA, Peru, July 19. (UP)—A strong earthquake occurred at 2 p. m. yesterday at Chachapoyas, a dispatch to the ministry of the interior said today. Several houses collapsed and it was feared there were some casualties. The shock lasted for one minute and was as strong as the shocks of May 14 which killed several persons.

Baylor Alumni to Aid In Enlargement Move

WACO, Texas, July 19. (UP)—More than 300 Baptists and alumni of Baylor university are expected to gather here Friday to launch a drive to raise $2,000,000 for enlarging Baylor university.

The alumni committee of 100 and the committee of 100 representing the Baptist general convention of Texas will form the nucleus of the meeting.

If the campaign for $2,000,000 is successful it will result in $4,300,000 to be used in retiring outstanding debts of the school and providing an endowment for future use. Dallas has pledged $1,000,000 and the city of Waco a similar amount. The Baptist general education board has pledged $300,000.

Woman's Forum Books Additional Attractions for 1928-29 Season

In addition to the artists' program announced some time ago for the 1928-29 Woman's Forum, two other attractions have been booked by that organization. They are concerts by Francis MacMillen, great American violinist, and by The Revelers, well known on the singing stage of two continents.

MacMillen will appear as a Woman's Forum benefit at the Memorial auditorium, Friday evening, November 23. The distinguished violinist has appeared as soloist with every large symphony orchestra in the United States and given recitals in all leading cities of the country, as well as countless smaller cities and towns where he has appeared in colleges and musical clubs.

He was born in Marietta, Ohio, the son of an editor and publisher. His great talent was manifested in early childhood and he was sent to Europe, where he studied with Joachim, Thomson and finally the most wonderful violin pedagog of modern times, Leopold Auer.

MacMillen plays in concert with a famous Stradivarius violin which is believed to be one of the two finest in existence, the other being owned by the Spanish court and played only by Sarasate. The violin owned my MacMillen is said to be worth $30,000.

The violinist saw service in the world war and upon being discharged toured France and Italy at his own expense and played for the wounded at the base hospitals of the allies.

The outstanding characteristic of his playing is the broad beauty of his tone.

The art of The Revelers is well known throughout the country weher more than a million of their records were sold within a single year by one music company alone. The ensemble singers have been well received in England as well as in this country.

In Europe they have been heard by the greater part of the royalty and immediately became the fashion because of an extraordinarily good program.

The quintet has similarly intrigued the fancy of Americans and are popular on the radio, in concert and on records.

They will be presented at the Memorial auditorium, January 25, 1929.

Cowboy Ropes Justice And Is Led to Jail

WANN, Okla., July 19. (UP)—Harry Kier, cowboy, wanted to lasso something. There were no cattle available so he decided to thrown his rope over Justice of the Peace E. L. Harris. The justice shot a bullet through the cowboy's hat and sent him to jail for disturbing the peace.

Ramblin' with Marie Theresa

"SHOULD have been at work an hour ago," I fibbed to the acquaintance who saw me absentmindedly running a red light this morning as I was coming to the office.

"Why go down to the office at all? You folks don't actually do your writing in all that noise and hubbub, do you?" asked the uninitiated.

Do we do our "writing" in this noise and hubbub? I'd like to state firmly that we do—at least we pound out a few dozen facts daily, or nightly, as the case may be, right here, within the roar of rolling presses, the sound of the constantly falling metal of the linotypes, not to speak of sounds from typewriters, telephones, voices shouting commands or remarks across the room, and all the variety of sounds that come up to us from the streets below.

And we like it—can't get along without it. Silence gets on our nerves and the boisterous noises of the three departments of a news office are necessary music to the ears of the average newspaper worker—thoroughly necessary and altogether unheeded.

Now that I've made the acquaintance of the morning feel duly ignorant, I'll pass on to other matters of importance and stress.

ONE WOMAN can usually get what she wants if she uses the right tactics and the source of supply is masculine. And about 1200 women could cause any number of men to throw up their hands and come across.

Thus, when the Woman's Forum put in a request for a larger refrigerator than the one that had been donated to the cause by a group of mere men, they forthwith and immediately got a big one. And I mean that it was a big one—not a nice polite cottage sized ice box, a man-sized and capable looking refrigerator, too big to get into that club house.

Honest. The women finally managed to get some men to move it into the stage door at the rear, and the large snow white chest stood on the stage for a week or two for the simple reason that there was no other place large enough to put it.

But the stage is no place for a well behaved refrigerator and what is the use of getting a large white refrigerator donated when you can't make use of it, on account of location? Therefore, another man, an expert cabinet maker and refinisher, was employed by.....the ice company, I s'pose, to take apart one of the inside doors of the forum and give that ice box its appropriate station in life.

And now we have a nice big white refrigerator.

Parents Are in Fact Utter Strangers To Their Children, Says Miss Dix

After Graduation the First Move Toward Bridging Home Gulf Between Generations Should Come From Mother and Father, Who Must Forget They Are Parents and Treat Newcomers as Grown-Up Visitors

Now that the graduation exercises are over and innumerable young people are returning to their homes, I should like to say to their parents: "Mr. and Mrs. Jones, may I present to you my young friends, Mary and Johnny Jones, who have just finished school and have come back to remain in our midst for a short time?

"Oh, I know that you have met before. It was on the days on which they were born, wasn't it? And you have seen them more or less ever since, but still you have had only a casual acquainance with them and you really should get to know each other better. I am sure you will be great friends if you do."

Doubtless if I should say that to any mother and father they would think I was insane and begin to look anxiously around for my keeper, but I would be speaking no more than the bare truth. There are, in reality, no other human beings on earth that are such utter strangers to the average man and woman as their own children. They know a few outside facts about them, as to what they like to eat and wear, and that Mary is subject to bronchitis in the winter and that Johnny can't eat strawberries; but that is about all.

Of what goes on inside of their children's minds and hearts, what they really think and feel, what are their desires and ambitions, they are as ignorant as if they were foreigners on whom they had never set eyes before.

This is the reason why in most households in which there are grown-up boys and girls the atmosphere is one of tension and nerves, and there is constant bickering and strife. Parents and children do not understand each other. They do not even speak the same language, and so they shout unintelligibly to each other across a gulf of misunderstanding.

Doubtless this has always been the case, but the situation was never so acute as it is now, when the younger generation has scrapped all the theories and traditions by which the older was bound and has made new laws and conventions for itself.

When John voices revolutionary sentiments and scorns honest work as sordid commercialism and displays no ambition except to break speed records in a high-powered car and boasts of his bootlegger; when Mary demands a latchkey and comes home at any hour of the night and paints her face the way no nice girl used to do, and when young people frankly discuss sex and topics that used to be only mentioned to one's physician, their parents are as honestly bewildered as a couple of domestic sheep would be who found out that their offspring were tigers.

They don't know what to make of them. They don't know what to do with them. They don't know how to control them or to appeal to them.

This is a blighting disappointment to parents. Mother had looked forward for years to the time when

The ONE THING to look for in an Electric Cleaner
POSITIVE AGITATION

You need not know the technical details of electric cleaners, the mechanical differences between them, in order to choose rightly.

There is only one thing you need know about electric cleaners—which one removes the most dirt per minute.

Find that one and you have found the one which will give you the fastest, easiest, deepest cleaning of your rugs.

Repeated tests under actual home conditions have demonstrated the Hoover's ability to remove the most dirt per minute. This is due to "Positive Agitation"—a remarkable, exclusive principle of deep-beating which combines with sweeping and suction to give the Hoover an unrivaled cleaning efficiency. To "Positive Agitation," too, are due the nap straightening and color restoring which preserve the original beauty of the Hoover-cleaned rug.

We shall be glad to demonstrate in your own home that the Hoover can remove more dirt per minute. Because d. p. m. represents the real gauge of electric cleaner capacity, you should see this demonstration before buying any electric cleaner. Phone us today.

Cash prices: Model 700, $75; Model 543, $59.50. Dusting tools, $12.50. Floor Polisher, $7.50. Easy payments if desired. Only $6.25 down. Liberal allowance on your old cleaner.

The Day Book of a New Yorker

By CLARK KINNAIRD.

NEW YORK, July 19.—Think of something new that looks exclusive and expensive, and your fortune is made in New York. A young man who had difficulties in meeting the payments on a Buick while working as a newspaper comic artist, now owns a Lincoln outright because he conceived the idea of designing exclusive radiator caps for wealthy owners of cars. However, his creations have the merit of being lovely objets d'art. Obviously they belong on Minervas and Isottis and Rolls-Royces and F. I. A. T.s and Lincolns, rather than on Fords.

He gets from $100 to $1,000 for the design in plaster and exacts an undercover commission from the bronzesmith who executes them for the owner of the design. Ironically, his own car has an ordinary radiator cap, because every time he designs something lovely enough for himself he groans at the thought of wasting a possible $500 creation on himself, and so sells it at the first opportunity.

There is another young man who makes a good living by designing for newly rich families, bookplates that have the appearance of being ancient and traditional. They are so involved in design as to be difficult for any casual observer to understand, for the artist has learned that when the newly rich order something in art they want it to look really arty. A simple design of great beauty often is unsatisfactory to his clients, simply because it doesn't look like it cost the $150 he exacts.

Buying expensive old masters, and installing them in the family manse is one of the ways of gaining social recognition.

Not long ago a gentleman whose concern earned great wealth during the war while he was serving as a dollar a year man, had given up hope of ever breaking into the magic circle, and so had settled down to cultivating some honest hobbies. He liked pictures and got in the habit of attending auctions. He was present when a great collection was being dispersed, and without bothering about prices he had an agent obtain for him all of the pictures he pointed out on a cursory walk around the exhibition room. Without knowing it, the gentleman's finger fell upon all of the pictures of a certain Flemish painter that are outside of museums in Europe.

Some time later a professor of art, lecturing to a gathering of socially-elect ladies, suggested that all persons who hadn't seen and appreciated the paintings of a certain Flemish painter were no more than illiterates. He mentioned, incidentally, that they were in the possession of Mr. ——. This is the gentleman referred to above. It was some time before the gentleman realized why invitations to his own house had suddenly become desirable.

Vaudeville is dead. Long live movietone! The last exclusive variety house in the United States, the Palace, on Broadway, New York, will begin showing motion pictures as the principal part of its program when it reopens in the autumn. To play the Palace was always the highest honor besought by vaudeville performers.

Now that "The Ladder," after running nearly a year as a free attraction, is going back to the paid admission plan in theory, if not in effect, the cheapest show in New York is "The Cyclone Lover," for which tickets marked $3.30 may be obtained two for a dollar, with the added inducement of lemonade and piano solos between the acts. The reason is that the management is anxious to establish the play as a stock company and movie attraction.

Wild Flowers

Pretty flowers, gay and wild,
With your manners soft and mild—
Heaven come to earth, they say
Just to help make sad earth gay.

So erect and prim and neat,
With your incense rare and sweet;
Graceful as a pretty faun,
As you sway there on my lawn.

In a shaded woodland rill,
You are beauty, rare, but still
There is reason I should frown:
It is work to mow you down!

Panhandle Region Begins Advertising

AMARILLO, Texas, July 19. (UP)—The first piece of advertising literature to be distributed by the Panhandle Plains of Texas, Inc., is now going out to a large mailing list and is available to individuals and organizations cooperating in each movement to bring more settlers to the Panhandle region.

A finely printed sheet of paper containing on one side all details in connection with agricultural data on the counties of the region and on the other, two maps complete the make-up of the sheet.

Between Church Services

A CHICAGO pastor assails Sunday golf and gardeners, with the declaration that their nearest approach to religion at such times is the all too brief prayer for a good drive, or perhaps fine radishes. And there is a certain amount of justice in the fear of the pastor if Sunday recreation is about to be substituted for Sunday religion.

The man who spends all his day Sunday in golf, gardening or what not, and devotes none of it to the thoughts and purposes for which the day is designated, cheats himself and sets a poor example for future generations. So does the other extremist who would make the day "blue Sunday," with no place for healthy recreation or clean entertainment after a week of labor.

There is no reason why tolerance should not be found in a church building, or religion on the Sunday golf course or garden. The man who works in a round of golf at the Country club or Weeks park before church Sunday morning, or who mixes swimming parties, fishing expeditions, auto drives or gardening between night and morning services, should be and quite likely is a better citizen and a better church member for his diversification.

Let the Candidates Come Clean

WE HAVE not attended any of the meetings at which local candidates have spoken, but we understand that a number of these candidates have so far failed to declare themselves with regard to the question of supporting the national ticket.

Legally, their failure to so declare themselves, or even a declaration against the national ticket, would not affect their right to go on the primary ballot. As the law stands, an out-and-out Republican, making no pretense of being anything else, could run in a Democratic primary.

But we believe that the voters have a right to know how those who seek their support in a Democratic primary stand with regard to the national ticket. We believe that the voters should have the information necessary to make it a Democratic primary where the law fails to do so.

The Record News will gladly give space to the statements of any of the local candidates on this point. It is information to which true Democrats are entitled.

Amendments Up to the Voters

THREE important amendments will be submitted to the voters of Texas at the general election Nov. 6, under acts of the 40th legislature. The amendments are:

1. "To authorize Confederate pensions regardless of when the pensioner came to Texas, or, in case of a widow, regardless of her age or time of marriage."

2. "To exempt from taxation parsonages and educational and physical development institutions."

3. "To permit the legislature to outline duties for a state board of education to be named by the governor and to permit terms of office of school officials to be six years."

The "swat 'em all" tribe is always busy in Texas, and doubtless will be in evidence in the balloting of these changes in the constitution. As to the amendments, Texas needs a board of education and the need is recognized among those who make a study of education. The second amendment mentioned is for the judgment of the individual voter.

A tremendous majority should be given the first amendment, designed to benefit the sons of the Southland who followed the flag of Lee and gave their all for the Planters' Republic long ago. Today the thin gray line is almost an invisible line. Its members are aged and broken. The rich and powerful state of Texas can afford to remember the survivors who were rifle bearers for the flag they loved.

Nobile and Amundsen

SELF PRESERVATION is the first law of nature.

Self sacrifice is the first law of humanity.

General Umberto Nobile obeyed the first law and today he is alive and reviled for what he explained was his motive in permitting himself to be the first of the Italia's survivors to be rescued. Radio dispatches from the frozen north have quoted the Italian dirigible commander as saying that he came back to safety ahead of others in his party located on a tiny ice floe in order that, through his experience, he might direct the rescue of the other victims of the Italia disaster. Meanwhile, the Russian ice breaker, the Krassin, working entirely independently of Nobile, reached the ice floe the Roman general had abandoned and rescued the four men he left behind. Nobile is still in the frozen north, virtually a prisoner aboard the Citta de Milano, Italian base ship for his expedition. Critics of the Italian commander are demanding his trial on charges of manslaugnter for the Italia disaster.

Always, the wages of failure is criticism. This has fallen to Nobile's lot because of the Italia's disaster. But sometimes there is a potent salve, when even those who criticize, can admire the heroism of the man who is criticized.

Apparently, Capt. Roald Amundsen, who flew over the North Pole two years ago with Nobile in the dirigible Norge, later wrecked at Teller, Alaska, too has failed in his latest mission, that of going to the rescue of the Italia victims. In his probably fatal journey over the icebound Arctic by airplane, Amundsen gave obedience to humanity's first law and if he never returns his glory will be all the greater. Amundsen, who had become a bitter enemy of Nobile after the latter had claimed the major credit for the Norge's flight over the North Pole on the Amundsen-Ellsworth expedition, forgot his enmity and answered the call when news of the Italia disaster off Spitzbergen reached him. He and a group of brave companions flew into the north aboard an airplane. Since then, more than a month, nothing has been heard from Amundsen. Perhaps he is in comparative safety with the group of Italia survivors which has not yet been located. He may have reached them and perhaps is directing a losing fight against frozen odds.

Nobile has his life.

Amundsen has his name written in fire across the record of the world's heroes.

POLITICAL OUTCOME INTERESTING

Under the present mixed political conditions, with resulting uncertainty as to the outcome next November anybody can figure according to his particular fancy, as suggested in the observation of the New York Times that "with the solid South refusing to stay solid behind Governor Smith, with Iowa and the Dakotas seceding from Mr. Hoover, with New York and New Jersey certainly Democratic—an extra pressure on the lead pencil will take care of that—with all the women voters rallying to the Republican candidate, with all the cities swinging to Smith, the country during the next four months will be nothing less than a mathematician's paradise."

Rumored Daughter of Russian Czar Recovering After Mental Collapse

NEW YORK, July 19. (US)—Although her health is shattered, Mme. Anastasia Tchaikovsky is improving under kindly ministrations and has shown much advancement in mental composure, was the statement today of William B. Leeds.

In an interview which he granted to Universal Service, Mr. Leeds as spokesman for himself and Mrs. Leeds, the former Princess Xenia, of Russia, recounted a number of the intimate particulars of Mme. Tchaikovsky's stay in America.

Mr. Leeds declined to reveal the whereabouts of Mme. Tchaikovsky, whom he believes to be the Grand Duchess Anastasia, daughter of the late Czar Nicholas of Russia, who was assassinated by the Bolsheviki at Ekaterinburg, Siberia. Mr. Leeds stated:

Statement Unproved

"I want to make it clear and emphatic, that Mme. Tchaikovsky is not trying to claim anything. I have no doubt at all, and Mrs. Leeds has no doubt, but that Mme. Tchaikovsky is who she states that she is—the Grand Duchess Anastasia, of Russia, but I cannot prove it, and I doubt if anyone else can.

"Mme. Tchaikovsky is Mrs. Leeds' first cousin, if she is who we think she is. We both feel that she is indeed Czar Nicholas' youngest daughter. Even if we're wrong, the poor girl is certainly entitled to a fair break.

"Every time her name is mentioned in the newspapers we are deluged with crank letters, some wishing to prove Mme. Tchaikovsky is the czar's daughter and some wishing to prove that she isn't.

Not Seeking Money

"For that reason I wish to say again that Mme. Tchaikovsky doesn't want money and isn't trying to claim anything."

Mr. Leeds' latter statement was evidently directed at rumors that Mme. Tchaikovsky eventually would set up a claim to between $60,000,000 and $80,000,000 of the czar's funds rumored to have been secreted in London banks before the Bolsheviki regime.

As the czar's sole surviving heir, Mme. Tchaivsky, if her claim could be legally substantiated, would be entitled to this enormous sum. Mme. Tchaikovsky's story is that when Lettish guards opened a murderous fire upon the czar, the czarina, and his children, she fell to the floor in a swoon, and thus escaped the hail of bullets.

She awakened desperately wounded, in the wagon of a soldier, trudging across the Siberian Steppes. He cared for her, she married him, and bore him a son. Despairing of ever convincing anyone of her identity, she threw herself into a river in Germany, was rescued and placed in a sanitarium.

MACHINE TESTS NEW PERFECTOS

Agriculture Department Invents Mechanical Smoker

WASHINGTON, July 19. (UP)—Shades of Sir Walter Raleigh!

A negro porter entered the office of Frank L. Goll, bureau of plant industry, department of agriculture.

Clouds of cigar smoke were whirling into the air from behind a mixed assortment of laboratory apparatus.

The porter spoke. No one answered. He peered behind the scientific machinery but saw no human being. Only a machine puffing away contentedly at four perfectos. The cigars glowed as the machine took deep inhales and then puffed the smoke out in the manner of a veteran cigar user.

Tobacco Tester

The new machine is a tobacco tester invented by the tobacco laboratory for exhibition at the Seville, Spain, exposition next year.

Cigars of any shape, size or length can be smoked in the machine. It takes four perfectos at one time and smokes them while tobacco experts watch the glowing tips for signs of poor leaf or insufficiently cured wrappers.

The department used to test tobacco by use of punk sticks or by actual human consumption. But the machine does away with this—and never gets sick.

The machine imitates exactly the action of a human smoker with one exception—it can't use an ash tray.

Running water furnishes the motive power. The cigars are inserted into four tubes. The water forms a vacuum in the tubes and the cigars puff. When water reaches a certain level in another part of the apparatus, the puffing stops and the tubes exhale.

Dallas Man in Quest Of Hat Loses Car

DALLAS, Texas, July 19. (UP)—Dallas automobile thieves work rapidly. Take the case of a portly appearing man driving a comparatively new automobile in the business district. His hat blew off into the street. Stopping his car, he leaped from the car and ran to the curb to retrieve his hat from under a parked car. When he returned his car had vanished. Witnesses said they saw a young man leap under the wheel when the owner got out and drive rapidly away.

Students Raise $25,000 For Union Building

AUSTIN, Texas, July 19. (UP)—Working quietly during the summer, workers on the ex-students union campaign of the University of Texas, have secured $25,000 in pledges in addition to the total at the end long session, according to an announcement recently made by John A. McCurdy, secretary of the Ex-students' association.

The total amount which has thus far been secured is slightly over $440,000, which leaves $60,000 to be raised before the ex-students quota of $500,000 is reached.

A large tent will be erected to house the exhibit.

Travis County Breaks Nation's Divorce Record

AUSTIN, Texas, July 19. (UP)—The matrimonial seas rock unsteadily in Travis county, records reveal.

National figures on divorce show that one of every seven marriages in the United States ends in the divorce courts. Austin easily tops this record. Figures for the year ending June 30 show that one of every two and one-half marriages ended in the Travis county divorce courts. During the year there were 851 marriages and 342 divorces.

Klan Dragoon To Be Allowed to Tell Story

LA PORTE, Ind., July 19 (UP)—Attorney General Gillilom announced today that D. C. Stephenson, former Indiana klan dragon, serving a life sentence for murder, would be permitted to "tell his story," in deposition next Tuesday. Hearing on Stephenson's petition to compel the prison warden to permit private conferences with his attorneys, was set for Monday.

Lowden Denies Plans For Farm Conference

LAKE GENEVA, Wis., July 19. (UP)—Former Governor Frank C. Lowden, visiting here today with members of his family, denied he had planned a meeting with Gov. Alfred E. Smith, to discuss the farm relief question. The possibility of such a conference was announced by P. Moffat, who aided Lowden's Republican presidential campaign in New York.

When A Girl Loves

© 1928 by NEA Service — by RUTH DEWEY GROVES

THIS HAS HAPPENED

Virginia Brewster, after losing both father and wealth, consents to make her home with Clarissa Dean and her father. Her fiance, Nathaniel Dann, objects to this for he mistrusts Dean's motives.

Dean plots to get Niel away from Virginia but fails and later is forced to play blackmail to a Mrs. Farley or face a scandal. Clarissa becomes jealous of Virginia, and the latter resolves to leave, but Dean insists that she marry him, saying that she cannot endure poverty. When she refuses, he threatens to reveal the fact that her father cheated him out of $100,000 in a bootlegging deal. Recklessly, she promises to earn enough to repay him in one year—or marry him.

Virginia leaves, but has to pawn a ring to tide over until she can find a position. She goes to Niel's studio to tell him of her break with the Deans, but her joy at seeing him is clouded because she dare not reveal her compact with Dean, and also because of the familiarity with which his model, Chiri, treats Niel.

Next day Virginia asks a broker friend how to earn her hundred thousand. Then she asks his secretary to find a business position, and is directed to an agency where she is given the name of a "newly-rich" to interview but decides that the position is impossible and returns to the agency.

Now Go On With the Story

CHAPTER XXVI

When Virginia entered Mrs. Phelps' office a few moments later her cheeks were pink with excitement and fresh air.

"You look as if something had happened," Mrs. Phelps remarked cheerfully. "Everything was satisfactory, I hope."

Virginia laughed. "I never saw such a place in my life," she exclaimed fervently. "A butler with a mustache, and his name is Pietro."

Mrs. Phelps was incredulous. "Dear me, no?"

"In a red velvet uniform," Virginia amplified.

"Well, I must say you surprise me," the other said; "but of course I did expect that the Gernsener menage would be a bit out of the ordinary."

"It's utterly fantastic," Virginia told her. "Mrs. Gernsner hasn't the slightest idea how to instruct the poor fellow. He stays in the drawing room until she asks him to leave, please, and bellows names like a bull of Bashan."

"She would have to get rid of him, I suppose."

"No self-respecting butler would take the place."

"As bad as that! Then I assume you did not accept the position."

"No, but I might have," Virginia admitted; "in spite of Pietro and Mrs. Gernsner, if I hadn't learned that I would be called upon to act as nursemaid occasionally to two of the wildest youngsters I ever met."

"I hope you understand she did not speak of that to me," Mrs. Phelps said apologetically.

"It doesn't matter, for I'm sure it would be a mistake to undertake to refine that household," Virginia assured her. "Mrs. Gernsner is happier than she ever could be again if she knew how funny she was. It would be tragic to open her eyes, even if it were possible, for she hasn't a bit of natural taste or feeling for anything that isn't stagey or garish."

"Well, I'm sorry I sent you there, Miss Brewster. But something better may turn up. Shall I let you know if it does?"

Virginia hesitated a moment before she answered. "I don't think I should care to be a companion if there is anything else I can do," she confessed. "I'm afraid I must have all my evenings free. Haven't you any clients with other positions to fill?" she hurried on eagerly.

"Oh, yes," Mrs. Phelps replied; "but most of them want trained workers. Now if you could take a secretarial course. . . ."

"I can't," Virginia returned definitely. "Sorry I troubled you, Mrs. Phelps, but if there should be something you think I can do, please let me know, if you will."

"Certainly, Miss Brewster. Come in to see me soon if you find nothing elsewhere."

"Thank you, I will."

Virginia hurried out and was in a descending elevator before she asked herself what to do next. There was a slight sinking feeling at the pit of her stomach that made her uncomfortable but she did not realize that it was hunger until she heard someone in the car speak of lunching. Virginia looked at her watch and was surprised to learn that it was almost one o'clock.

She thought of lunch at her favorite restaurant on Park avenue. A fresh brook trout and asparagus Hollandaise perhaps. Suddenly Virginia was hungry for dainty food, correctly served. How nice to sit down again to a table with fine linen and delicate china, and Paul himself hovering over her, solicitous of her pleasure. And after the salad . . . should she have chiffonade or lettuce? There would be a parfait if she liked, or peaches Thais.

She turned her steps in the direction of Park avenue and was almost within sight of the place she was headed for when she thought that she might meet some of her old friends there halted her. She turned back. "Besides, I shouldn't think of such extravagance until I get a job," she consoled herself sensibly. She found being sensible, however, a very flat and favorless sensation.

"I need a friend who knows how the other half lives," she told herself dejectedly as she retraced her steps to Fifth avenue.

She walked for several blocks before she came to one of the restaurants she remembered, having passed dozens and dozens of times when they held no interest for her.

This time she entered one of them and found herself in a crowd waiting for seats. She thought of giving it up and going back to her hotel but she was too tired to walk the distance and she felt she ought not spend any more money on cabs that day.

A group of girls with marshmallow noses and orange lips shoved in behind her and Virginia was compelled to listen to an exchange of confidences about "he said," and "I said," until it came to her turn to be seated. The mistress of ceremonies lifted a hand with a finger up, called, "One," and dropped the green silk rope.

Virginia moved forward by right of being 'next' but she was too late. A woman behind her pushed her aside with subway technique and went on ahead. Virginia gasped and looked at the guardian of the gate. "They will do that, some of them," the latter remarked impatiently. "I'll seat you next, but watch your place, please."

A moment later Virginia felt a sharp elbow in her back and her ire was fully aroused. She turned and looked haughtily down her nose at the offender and the elbow was quickly removed. When finally she was shown to a two-by-two table at which another girl already sat she was so weary and annoyed she had lost her appetite. A toasted sandwich and tea sufficed her and she left half the sandwich at that.

She decided to buy all the latest newspapers and go to her hotel to read the help-wanted columns. She must make some money at once so she would not be forced to eat in such places as this, and to save something for Oliver to invest on Wall street for her. Virginia called it investing.

Her check was 60 cents but she thought it very little. One ought to be able to afford at least two or three dollars to lunch in a better place, she felt. Virginia's sense of money values was slightly awry, but she was not conscious of it. She left 50 cents for the waitress.

And for the 25 cents of it that was too much she could have taxied almost to her hotel. Instead she walked, and used up a great deal of energy.

As soon as she was in her room she settled down to read the help-wanted ads. She began with a naive faith that there would certainly be one she could answer, but it turned out to be a most disheartening task. That experience along some line was almost invariably called for she saw very soon. "Alteration work in dress shop; bookkeeper; clerk-stenographer; girl as model for hair dresser—$15; masseuse; model, millinery; capable typist; saleslady, experienced; secretary; stenographer; switchboard operator, experienced monitor switchboard; woman, experienced, dyeing establishment; young ladies, sell hosiery, lingerie to their friends."

It was hopeless! "What am I good for?" Virginia wailed at last. But the wail was partly terror of the appeal of a certain advertisement that she had refused to consider but which continued to thrust itself tormentingly upon her attention.

Maison Claire wanted a model. Of Virginia's height and weight.

But Maison Claire! Her favorite shop! The modiste she had bought her lovely frocks and gowns of for years. Hoy many, many times had she sat in one of Madam Claire's needle-point chairs and shaken her head yes or no as, one after another, stunning-looking girls modeled smart ensembles or beautiful evening gowns for her approval!

Many of her friends patronized Madam Claire. Virginia had a mental picture of the humiliation she would suffer parading for certain girls whom she had known all her life; girls who would lift supercilious eyebrows above cold young eyes. Others would be painfully embarrassed, she was sure. Oh, it would be too horrible!

"I'd better have another talk with Miss Evans," she thought, and gathered the newspapers for the wastepaper basket. "Tomorrow when I go down to see Oliver."

She was wondering what to do with the rest of the afternoon, too restless to lie down or read, and at a loss to know where to turn next in search of a position, when she was startled by a knock on her door. No one had been announced and she did not think the maid would have occasion to come in after her work in the room was done.

Virginia opened the door cautiously. Her experience in the hotel she had left had filled her with nervous dread of further unpleasant encounters even here. A bellboy stood there, bearing a florist's box. Virginia took it and tipped him generously.

For a moment after she had closed the door she held the unopened box in her arms and let herself speculate over the possible sender. The box was small, violets from Niel perhaps. Who else would know her address? She had not given it to Oliver.

Her heart warmed at the thought of her lover's devotion and she quickly stripped the ribbon away and pulled off the lid. It looked like a terribly expensive shop for Niel to be going to for a love offering. But how dear of him.

Thousands Suffer Needlessly From Stomach Trouble

Antiseptic Remedy Praised for Its Beneficial Results

No longer need sufferers from stomach troubles lead lives of misery. A remedy has been found that is bringing thousands back to health. That remedy is Gordon's (formerly Gordon's Antiseptic) an internal antiseptic so effective that it has brought expressions of praise from hundreds of former sufferers, some going so far as to rate it as performing "near miracles."

Gordon's goes right to the seat of the trouble because it stops fermentation (souring of food matter) which is the greatest obstacle to the successful treatment of stomach disorders.

Gordon's will bring quick relief in cases of indigestion, gas, bloating, constipation, heartburn, dyspepsia, excess acid, that "tired feeling," bad breath, sick headache, and nervousness, when caused by faulty digestion. It will tone up the digestive organs and stimulate the stomach and bowels to their normal functions.

Gordon's is made in liquid form. A large 8-ounce bottle, price $1.50—less than three cents a dose—at all druggists.

$10,000 INSTEAD OF $5,000 . . . . . THANKS TO DOUBLE INDEMNITY

The young husband had taken out a $5,000 policy soon after the wedding. The agent had suggested the "double indemnity" provision which pays double the face of the policy in case of death by accident. The additional rate at his age, was very little . . . only $1.50 on each thousand, or $7.50 a year.

Trains! . . . Automobiles! . . . Busses! The young salesman thought a moment. "It's a good bet," he said. "Let's have it that way."

Only after the accident did his young wife learn of the "double indemnity" provision. And for her, tears of grief are mingled with tears of thanksgiving and gratitude.

Are you entirely clear about the important provision? Perhaps a complete inventory of your Life Insurance with the help of an expert would be advisable. The Southland man is a good counsellor.

ART OF LIVING BEING CHANGED

Scientific Discoveries Revise Former Ideas

SAN FRANCISCO, July 19.—A world of Robots, ministered to by the super-efficient products of science is one phase of a forecast by Dean Baldwin M. Woods of the University of California.

For science, that tracks the sly molecule to its lair and makes electricity cut strangely domesticated didoes is changing the art of living, Dean Woods says. Whether that change proves damaging or not depends on the individual in his opinion.

If scientific discoveries are well used the world will benefit, he says; but if they are not he sketches a picture of helplessly bewildered humans in the grip of mechanical routine.

"Science has brought us three great things in the last century," Dean Woods points out. "These are transportation, communication and organization.

Conquering Disease

"In the last—organization—lies the danger for we are close to being organized beyond our ability to manage.

"Science has also aided in freeing us from disease, so that in the last half century 15 years have been added to the span of human life.

"Every person is affected somehow by science. Possibly we are faced with domination of things—until man becomes a mere Robot.

"Even now, perhaps, we are bewildered by the complexity of things, until we do not know what we want to do—whether to listen to the radio or read; see a picture or a play; ride in an automobile or an airplane; go to a concert or to church; dine or go to a dance.

"However, man can be more efficient through the use of machinery if he so desires. What he accomplished with a spade in 500 years, or with a team in four years, he can now do in 36 hours through science.

Dean Woods also placed a happier interpretation on the possibilities of the scientific age. He points out the opportunities offered as the salvation of humanity from the threat of mechanical domination.

Growth of Science

"Possibly, and better still, man may be inspired to put art into living. The hod-carrier may become a mason, and then an architect; the laborer an artisan and then an artist. Man's labor may develop into art and then into fine art.

"Or perhaps, finally, science may stir us to grow throughout our lives, so that we may continue to develop. The greatest vocation is that in which we reach the top latest in life."

Averaging the scale of human endeavor Dean Woods points out that while a prize fighter reaches his zenith at about the age of 30, the banker reaches his at 60, the statesman at 70 and such men as Henri Faber, the great naturalist, develop until they are 90 years old.

The art of living has not gained in proportion to the development of science, concludes Dean Woods. But he feels that the human reactions normally are good. He sets no reason for unswerving pessimism in the outlook of the present day.

LUCKY TENANT

Landlord Forgets to Collect Rent for Twelve Years

DALLAS, July 19. (UP)—Local realtors were chuckling this week over the case of a Dallas landlord, who overlooked collecting his monthly rent from a tenant for 12 years.

A man living in another city owned several houses here and rental collections were turned over to a Dallas attorney. The attorney knew nothing of one of the houses and it was not until the owner died recently that it was discovered one tenant had been receiving free rent for 12 years.

A woman lived in the house. She said she told the owner 12 years ago that she would refuse to pay the rent unless he fixed the roof. She claimed he failed to mend the roof, so she concluded he had taken her at her word when she threatened to cease paying rent.

Sooner Prefers Jail To Supporting Wife

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 19. (UP)—Rather than support his 17-year-old divorced wife, who is "young and healthy and able to make a living," Roy Lynn, 20, of Tecumseh, went to jail for contempt of court here today. "When we separated she got everything I had," Lynn said, adding he was without funds and unable to pay $110 back alimony.

Negro Attacks Texas Primary Voting Law

SAN ANTONIO, July 19. (AP)—Attacks on the Texas law which permits the Democratic party to exclude negroes from its primary elections was launched in federal court here today when J. C. Wimberly, negro attorney, petitioned for an injunction which would force the party to allow him to vote.

CANCER TRACED TO FERMENT

Doctor Disproves Theory of Virus Origin

LONDON, July 19. (US)—By stating that cancer is induced by chemically caused ferment and not by a virus, Dr. James Murphy, of the Rockefeller institute of New York, has tossed a bombshell into the world's research workers.

Dr. Murphy made this disclosure today to the international cancer conference being held in London at which 22 nations are represented.

The feature of Dr. Murphy's claim is his definite statement that he has proved that cancer is not produced by a living organism. He states that he has produced cancer by a substance so treated that it could not contain a living organism. This means that the cause of cancer must be looked for in various secretions of the human body.

Dr. Murphy admitted today that his theory upsets all the work based on the cancer virus theory. He declared that while crossing the Atlantic to London he received a radio from New York stating that a final experiment made there had confirmed his theory.

According to physicians here if the Murphy theory is right the theory that cancer is infectious will have to be abandoned and a large number of other theories relating to supposed cancerous areas will have to be scrapped. But the supposition that cancer is hereditary is not disproved.

Marine Fliers Drop 1000 Feet to Death

SACRAMENTO, Calif., July 19. (INS)—Plunging 1000 feet to the ground in their flaming airplane four miles from Mather field, Corporal Leo W. Bryant, pilot, and Sergt. Earl Schutt were found dead in the wreckage today.

The men, attached to the eighth observation squadron, U. S. M. C., had been transferred here from San Diego last week for battle maneuver practice. They had been flying for about an hour when their plane crashed in flames. Both men were badly burned.

Gangster's Body Found At Roadside Ditch

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill., July 19. (UP)—The body of an unidentified man thought to be a Cicero, Ill., gangster, was found in a ditch alcht a road near here today.

The man, apparently about 24 years of age, had been beaten and shot to death.

Authorities here connected finding of the body with the story of an employe of an East St. Louis beer house that two men had killed a third man there Monday night and driven away with the body.

Klan Wizard's Father Dead at Temple, Texas

TEMPLE, Texas, July 19. (INS) Funeral arrangements were being made here early today for Judge H. M. Evans, 66, father of Dr. Hiram Wesley Evans, imperial wizard of the Ku-Klux Klan. Judge Evans, who died yesterday after several weeks' illness, was a pioneer Texas school teacher and before coming to this state served as judge in Clay county, Ala.

PLAN ACCEPTED BY BRITISH

Six Governments Approve World Peace Plan

WASHINGTON, July 19. (AP)—Replies of the London government and of five other members of the British commonwealth, Canada, Australia, South Africa, New Zealand and India, accepting the revised American draft of the war renunciation treaty were made public tonight by the state department simultaneously with their publication in London and Ottawa.

The Canadian answer is the most striking of the group. It was transmitted direct from Ottawa bearing the signature of Wm. MacKenzie King, as secretary of state for external affairs, and states in 50 words that Canada "cordially accepts the treaty as revised and is prepared to participate in its signature."

Britain's Conditions

The British government's answer equally accepts the revised treaty but reiterates the British understanding of the terms of the pact insofar as they might affect obligations to the league of nations or under the treaty of Locarno and also with respect to the right of self defense and automatic release from obligations to any signatory nation breaking the pact. In addition Sir Austen Chamberlain, British foreign secretary, reiterates his previous statement that Great Britain's acceptance of the new treaty rests "upon the understanding that it does not prejudice" her freedom of action in unspecified regions "of which the welfare and integrity constitute a special and vital interest for our peace and safety."

Australia Replies

The Australian reply was transmitted through Chamberlain as were those of the union of South Africa. However, the British foreign secretary's communication quotes textually the reply received by him from General Hertzog, South African minister for external affairs.

None of the replies from members of the British commonwealth other than the London government itself touches upon the point made by the foreign secretary in relation to what has come to be known as the British Monroe doctrine stipulation. The replies of New Zealand and India briefly take cognizance, however, of the other stipulations reiterated in the London note while those for Australia and South Africa outline the same understanding.

Gin Company Formed at Burk

Special to The Record News.

BURKBURNETT, Texas, July 19.—About 100 farmers of this city's trade territory, and Burkburnett business men met tonight at the high school building to organize a Farmers' Cooperative Gin company. The company is to be established at once, ready for the fall ginning.

About $11,000 was subscribed and collected today.

About 75 farmers were listed among the members. The meeting tonight will perfect the body for immediate operation of buying or building a gin plant to be erected here, it is stated by the leaders of the cooperative enterprise. The officers of the company will be announced Friday.

customarily have. There was nothing unusual in the private absolution accorded him. In the present religious situation in Mexico, it is quite customary for devout persons to arrange for some priest in hiding to receive their confessions and grant absolution in their homes.

Situation Changes

President Calles' manifesto placing the blame for the attack on religious inspiration, it is believed here, will change the entire aspect of the situation created by the killing of General Obregon. At first, the public inclination was to fasten the crime on radicals who had used Toral as a convenient tool.

Thus far, it has not been cleared up how a young, unemployed artist could have lived in Mexico City these many months without apparent support. When seized, he had a small sum of money in his pockets, and, although not well dressed, had spent considerable money at one time or another.

Toral's own explanation was that he had sold caricatures, but no substantiation has been found for this story. The police are hoping that discovery of the source of his funds will help clear matters up.

Arrests Numerous

Numerous arrests have been made since the killing, but most of the persons seized have been released after brief examinations made it plain that they knew nothing of the affair. A large, but orderly crowd milts about incessantly outside police headquarters.

There no longer is any perceptible excitement on the streets of the capital. Reports from the country at large indicate similar conditions prevailing there. The censorship has been lifted, with the explanation that it was originallyy applied because of the fear that those responsible for the killing might get in touch with fugitives in the United States.

The law under which Toral will be executed requires no formal trial, as the offense is classified as one against the public order. Conviction before a police court resembling a court martial, a confession or even arrest in the act, as in this instance, is sufficient for a death sentence. The sentence is declared by the chief of police, and goes directly to the president in case of appeal.

Generally, cases of this sort are handled with stunning rapidity, and the only reason that Toral still is alive is the desire of the police to get information from him. His family have said that they disapproved his extreme views and often cautioned him that he would get himself into trouble.

CREDIT MEN HOLD MEETING

Five Committees Named At Session

Five committees were named and citizens whose last names begin with U, V or W and who owe bills, were discussed at a meeting of the Wichita Falls Retail Grantors' Association, Inc., in the Wichita club Thursday night. Twenty-three were present, and President Alvan Conner presided.

One of the present aims of the organization is within 90 days to be so organized that credit will be granted or denied on the basis of the money owed by individuals asking credit. It was announced at the meeting that next week those owing bills whose names begin with X, Y, Z, will be discussed by the association.

D. C. Littlepage, E. L. Buelow and C. J. Gallagher were named on the legislative committee. M. G. Goldsmith, G. D. P'Pool and Jerry Vinson were chosen as the investigation, prevention and complaint committee.

The mercantile agency and trade report committee includes J. C. Coffey, G. W. Sosebee, C. E. Deaton, T. E. Durrett and Miss Annie Smith. The membership, entertainment and reception committee includes W. H. Bailey, H. W. Gray, S. R. Featherston, E. L. Buelow and Miss Frances Brooks. G. T. Buchanan, W. W. Calhoun and T. E. Noble comprise the auditing committee.

Directors of the association held a short meeting after the regular meeting and approved the committees named.

Council Buys Muny Airport

port is through a bond issue voted by the people." When the vote was taken Mr. Patton voted against the motion, which was made by Alderman Oral Jones. Aldermen King, Hunt and Jones voted for it.

Property of City

For all practical purposes the airport is now the property of the city. Actually, the contract will not be completed until the early part of the week, in the opinion of George D. Fairtrace, city manager, as both he and Thelbert Martin, city attorney, will be out of the city at a meeting in Fort Worth on Friday and Saturday.

Hangar Included

The airport comprises 240 acres on the Burkburnett paved highway, five miles from town. It includes a steel and iron hangar, capable of caring for the largest airplanes now made or used in America, and has room to spare for larger ships when they are made. It is 83 by 116 feet and will easily house 12 planes. There is a field service house, for the field manager, 100 feet from the hangar. The lighting equipment includes a gigantic flood light for night landing and the usual hangar and hazard lights. A 30-mile, 8,000,000 beam candelpower rotating beacon light has been ordered and should be here in another week.

The Wichita Falls Municipal Airport company is composed of a large group of Wichita Falls citizens who organized a non-profit corporation, and by subscription raised sufficient money to install the field. Every man connected with it has worked free of charge. Many of the items of equipment have been obtained at cost. The hangar was built at less than the usual cost as the building firm wished to use it as an advertising medium in obtaining other airplane hangar construction jobs. The field and all its equipment has been praised by inspectors of the U. S. department of commerce, which department has rated the field as class A.

CHARGE FILED AFTER ATTACK

Vernon Man Near Death From Blow

Special to The Record News.

VERNON, Texas, July 19.—B. F. Owens, who lives 18 miles southeast of here, was charged with assault with intent to murder in a complaint filed with Justice of the Peace W. D. Hollars late today. Owens surrendered to officers last night after F. L. Hughes, 42, had been beaten over the head with a blunt instrument at the Owens home. Hughes, an oil field worker, lives nine miles south of Vernon with his wife and five daughters. The altercation in which he was injured is said by officers to have resulted over family troubles.

Hughes, removed to a Vernon hospital after the affair, was found to be suffering with severe injuries. Attendants late Thursday night said they held no hopes for his recovery.

Owens waived preliminary hearing before Justice Hollars late Thursday, and was remanded to jail in default of $2,500 bond.

Ballinger Crops Need Additional Rains

BALLINGER, Texas, July 19. (UP)—Good rains during the next two months will result in a large crop of feed and cotton in this territory, farmers around here reported.

Even without rain there are some fields of maize that will yield a ton or more to the acre and this is considered a good yield. Rains during the spring were very spotted and those parts of the county which did not get much moisture and where rains were unusually hard the soil has dried out considerably. Where more rain fell a good bottom season is still present and cotton is making a good growth.

HEALTH and DIET ADVICE

By DR. FRANK McCOY
Author of "The Fast Way to Health"

Questions in regard to health and diet will be answered by Mr. McCoy who can be addressed in care of this paper.

Fainting

When a person faints in a public place, as is usually the case, everybody in the vicinity develops an immediate kindness of heart toward the unfortunate victim, trampling on each other's toes, interfering with the circulation of fresh air to the faintee, and some motherly person picks up the victim's head and holds it so that the small amount of blood which may be remaining in the brain, will drain out, producing an even greater loss of consciousness.

Most people have been told often enough what to do when a person faints, and yet the usual procedures of crowding around and supporting the head are exactly the wrong things to do.

Many cases of fainting are brought on by a lack of oxygen in a congested room, and in this case it is important that the individual receive a large supply of fresh air. Fainting is always caused by a lack of blood in the brain and can in most cases be relieved by moving the patient quickly to an open window where a plentiful supply of air can be secured, allowing the person to lie flat on the floor without raising the head. The blood flows with gravity just as a liquid outside of the body does, and the head should be lowered to allow a flow of blood to temporarily crowd the brain. All of the clothing about the neck and throat should be loosened, and above all, it is important to avoid excitement when someone has fainted.

Fainting does not usually result in death even when nothing is done, but the return of consciousness may be hastened by dashing cold water on the face and fanning fresh air toward the nose. If no cold water is available, slapping may be resorted to, and it is advisable to slightly raise the arms and legs so that the blood will flow toward the head. Spirits of ammonia held to the nose will stimulate the breathing, but it is not advisable for one who has a tendency to faint to resort to the continual use of the smelling salt habit, which is certainly objectionable.

Fainting in a crowd of people is certainly an embarrassing situation, and persons who feel that they are going to faint can often avoid doing so by lowering the head so that a larger amount of blood will flow into the brain. If you are sitting, it is a good plan to lower your head to beneath the knees. You can pretend to be searching for some object on the floor. If you are standing, and wish to avoid embarrassment, you can pretend that you are tying your shoelace, until the faint feeling has passed.

If you have a continual tendency to faint, you may be sure that you are suffering from some serious disorder of your circulation, and you should have a thorough examination to determine the cause of this. Since your brain center controls all of the functions of the body, it is important that it be supplied with an abundance of pure, wholesome blood. Our consciousness stops if the blood supply is shut off or if the blood becomes too toxic in nature.

Heart trouble and anemia are two of the most common causes of fainting, but any disease which lowers the vitality or causes a congestion of blood to some other part than the head may produce this symptom. In every case the original disease should be cured, and measures should be taken for improving the circulation and building the general health. It is important that the right foods be used and that sufficient exercise be taken to encourage the circulation.

Questions and Answers

Question—D. K. L. asks: "Is it harmful to the digestive organs to deep-breathe as much as 10 or 12 times immediately after each meal?"

Answer—There can be nothing particularly harmful about taking a few breathing exercises after eating, but the best time is probably when you are doing systematic physical culture exercise.

Question—G. M. writes: "I consider you are doing a great and good work and I hope you may be long spared to continue it. Am 35 years old and suffer from indigestion. My food consists of powdered milk (diluted) and a little brown bread, fruit and a small quantity of bran as a laxative. I take plenty of exercise, but still suffer from pain and lassitude after eating."

Answer—You should use more greens in your diet, and be careful not to overeat on the starches, or to use bread and acid fruit together.

Question—D. H. G. writes: "There are times when I get real weak, mostly in the arms and legs, after I start work, and in the middle of the day my eyes want to close. I even get those weak, tired feelings while sitting down. Is it anemia, or is it due to malaria?"

Answer—I would certainly like to diagnose your trouble, but cannot do so by mail, as a personal examination is necessary to determine one disease from another. Go to a good diagnostician and find out if you have nemia or malaria. Then write to me again, sending a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope, and I will be glad to send you some literature which I have already prepared on the subject of either of these disorders.

Sheep and Goat Raisers To Meet in San Angelo

SAN ANGELO, Texas, July 19. (UP)—Prosperity of sheep and goat raisers during the past year is expected to be reflected in a record breaking attendance at the annual convention of the Sheep and Goat Raisers association of Texas to be held here the last half of next week.

The convention will be in the form of a celebration for the ranchers, who last month completed selling the spring clipping at profitable prices.

Mr. Hughes owns a home in Hollywood that looks like a public library, is a case-hardened theater fan, and plays a turf game of golf. Which is only another way of saying that Mr. Hughes is more mighty with the pen than on the sward.

Rupert Hughes is a man of letters, but his favorite snicker must be told with figures—you'll find it below.

"The idea," Mr. Hughes said, "haunts me as an unusually ingenious one because, instead of drawing Auntie flying through the air, it is left to the reader to use his own fancy, both as to the appearance of Auntie and her wild gyrations as she . . .

TWO HOMERS BY JENKINS AND ONE BY FITZGERALD BEAT CUBS

SPUDDERS PLAY BRILLIANT BALL

Sensational Fielding Helps Cobb Win, 7 to 4.

By LARRY DAILEY
Record News Sports Editor

The Spudders won a corking ball game yesterday, one of the best contests played here this season, in the opener of the two-day stand with the Waco Cubs out at the Seventh street orchard. And by socking the Cubs by a 7 to 4 score Galloway's Ten Gallons moved to within a game behind the pace-setting Houston Buffs.

The mighty maces of Tom Jenkins and Howard Fitzgerald accounted for all the tallies. Jenkins smote two home runs, the first in the second inning with a comrade on base and the second in the eighth with none on. Fitzgerald hammered a circuit drive, sending home two white-uniformed athletes ahead of him, and whaled a double that scored a runner.

It was the seventeenth and eighteenth homers of the season for Jenkins and he leads George Blackerby, the local youth who outfields for Waco and is the league leading hitter, by three circuit drives.

Howard Ends Slump

Fitzgerald's potent batting ended a slump that had extended several days but which had no concern. It was only a question of time before Howard would be in there slamming his hits with the best of them.

There were other factors to make it a most pleasing day for the Spudders. In winning they defeated Charley Barnabe, who had beaten them in his last start here. Barnabe, if you know your Texas league baseball, is a southpaw and portsiders are supposed to exert some sort of spell over our batters who swing from the firstbase side. But the Spudders proved that supposition to be a fallacy by pounding Mr. Barnabe, who really is a most excellent chucker and the ace of Del Pratt's staff, for 14 hits.

Jenkins, Fitzgerald, Benton and Stanton, all of whom bat lefthanded, each clouted two blows, as did Turgeon and Eldred. Every Spudder got a hit except Cobb.

Cobb Pitches Well

Herbie turned in a very good chucking display and was accorded support that was nothing less than phenomenal. Indeed, it was the Spudders' greatest display of defensive work this season. They played errorless ball, and Benton and Turgeon featured with particularly glittering fielding.

The Cubs also turned in a game unmarred by a misplay and marked by the fast work of Randy Moore and Wayne Windle. Each club made a double play.

Cobb yielded 11 hits, but thanks to that sparkling support and his own effective work, pulled through to win. Except for the seventh inning when the Cubs tallied three runs, Cobb kept the blows scattered with no more than one to an inning. Waco had a hit in every round except the third.

Spuds Score in Second

The Spudders scored two runs in the second inning when Eldred doubled to left and scored ahead of Jenkins on Tom's smash over the left-center wall. The Cubs tallied in the third.

Barnabe walked and went to second on a passed ball. Karow hoisted to Turgeon. Moore singled to right, Barnabe scoring.

Fitzgerald's homer after two were out gave the Galloways three more in the fifth. Benton doubled to center. Turgeon strolled. Fitzgerald hit over the right-center barrier, Benton and Turgeon ambling home ahead of him.

The Cubs threatened in the seventh and tallied three runs. Battle led off with a single to left. Shires walked. Windle struck out. Pratt batted for Wolgamot and forced Shires, Benton to Turgeon, Battle moving to third. Barnabe doubled to right, Battle and Pratt scoring. Karow singled to second, Barnabe going to third. Moore's third hit, a single to right, scored Barnabe.

Wichita Falls scored one in the seventh, again after two were out. Turgeon singled to center and scored on Fitzgerald's double down the third base line.

The Spudders added their seventh in the eighth when Jenkins hit over the left field fence for a home run.

Notes of the Game

The Spudders and Cubs play the final of the series today in the last game here until Aug. 3.

Payne or Kiefer probably will pitch today.

Benton accepted six chances, started a double play, and enacted two glittering performances, one of which was particularly thrilling. In the ninth Heath smashed a grounder to the right (Benton's left) of second base. Rabbit was over there and scooped up the ball and nailed the catcher with a perfect peg.

In the fourth he started a double play with a stop and fast throw of Blackerby's grounder over second base.

Fitzgerald made a glittering snatch of Johnson's drive in the seventh.

Turgeon roamed all over his side of second base and into the outfield and handled nine chances.

Windle accepted seven chances faultlessly.

Randy Moore is playing stellar ball both at bat and afield. He was the batting leader yesterday.

George Blackerby, the league's leading hitter, went hitless.

The Cubs look like a first division or fifth place club, at the worst. Ineffective chucking has kept Pratt's men down in the race.

STEERS CHECK BUFFS, 2 TO 1

5758 See Blankenship Win Over Barnes

DALLAS, July 19. (AP)—Fighting and hustling like a championship aggregation behind the steady pitching of Blankenship, the Steers drew first blood Thursday in the opener of a two-game series with Houston. The score was 2 to 1, and the victory narrowed the margin between the Herd and first place in the second half campaign to two games. Barnes hurled for the Buffs.

Two Dallas season records were established. A crowd of 5,758 cash customers, the largest week-day attendance of 1928 with the exception of opening day, filed through the turnstiles to cheer the Steers to victory. The game was reeled off in an even hour and a half, the fastest time of the season at the local park.

The game itself was a battle from start to finish with the outcome in doubt until Manager Frank Snyder, one of the league's most dangerous hitters, grounded to Johnny Mann for the final out, leaving Heinie Schuble stranded on second base with the tying score. Score:

Parelli to Grapple Kopecky Here Again

Joe Parelli and Joe Kopecky, the two rough and tough boys, who furnished plenty of action Tuesday night in Spudder park for the wrestling fans have been rematched for next Tuesday night's card in the park by Alec Ross.

Demand of the fans in Wichita Falls, according to Ross, is the reason for the two wrestlers being brought together again after a lapse of only a week.

In the Tuesday night match Parelli took one fall and Kopecky two, one awarded to him by the referee because Parelli refused to release a strangle hold.

However, on the next card Ross has announced that there will be no disqualification and that "it will be every man for himself."

On the card Jack Madlock will box 10 rounds with Joe Potts, who, according to Ross, is one of the best mitt slingers in his home state of Arkansas.

Matlock, who was on the card last Tuesday night, knocked out Ted Lewis in the fourth round.

The opener for the card will be a four-round affair between Walter Gerigan of Electra, and Johnny Owens.

DAILY DOPE

By Larry Dailey

I HAVE A LETTER from Iowa Park signed "Baseball Fan." I regret inability to publish that epistle. I have a rule against publishing anonymous communications, particularly those that criticize other people. Frankly, I'm not so keen to publish letters that criticize athletes, unless there is some flagrant breach of etiquette or lack of ability shown by a performer. I admit that at times I criticize—but it is in the performance of my duty as a newspaper man. I try to avoid criticism except that actually demanded in reporting events as they transpire. Ball players need to be shown the error of their ways, at times, it is true. But so do the rest of us. But other people can make errors and have their slumps unknown to the world. Hence I have sympathy for a ball player, whose faults are exposed to the eyes of all.

There are times that a player may not be able to deliver his best work because of an illness or injury or some reason unknown to the fans. I recall an incident that occurred when I was a young cub breaking in as a sports writer. A certain ball player was making errors and not hitting well. In my exalted place as a member of the all-powerful press, I thought it devolved upon me to point out that a change of players would be well for that ball club. The manager of the ball club was a kindly soul. He called me into conference. As a teacher would instruct a child, he pointed out first that the said ball player ordinarily was a good ball player, and that his poor work at that time was due to the serious illness of his wife. It was a chastened young baseball writer who heard those words. And it was a sad but wise young newspaper man who then made up his mind, or what passes for a mind, never again to run a manager's ball club; never to criticize except that which actually transpires and is in the line of stern duty.

ATHLETES AND FANS at times doubtless believe sports writers delight to criticize. The opposite is true. Your conscientious sport writer hates to criticize in the public prints, and will, in fact, go to any extreme to avoid writing unkind words. And when necessity arises and criticism, or even the mere reporting of facts, such as a costly error in the ball game is demanded, your honest scribe writes such words with sorrow for the person involved. For when a man knows the athletes and appreciates the strain and the many difficulties under which they perform, he will avoid criticism of them unless absolutely imperative. The exception is an athlete who doesn't try. There isn't any hesitancy in pointing out the men who loaf, and thus do not give the best efforts to their employer and the public. Happily, such athletes are in the minority.

Tunney Is Ready For Title Fight

Gene to Fly to Battle Despite Tex' Plea

SPECULATOR, N. Y., July 19. (UP)—Tex Rickard can plead, swear and even get out injunctions, but he isn't going to stop Gene Tunney from flying to New York for his bout with Tom Heeney in the Yankee stadium next Thursday night.

Rickard became worried today after Bernard Gimbel and a party crashed near Tunney's camp Wednesday while trying to take off. He tried to argue with Tunney in a nice way and persuade him to take an automobile or a train to New York, but the heavyweight champion refused.

Won't Alter Plans

"Just because one plane has an accident, I'm not going to giva up my plans," Tunney said. "I have heard that trains get into wrecks now and then and even automobiles are not absolutely safe."

Rickard was consulting lawyers in New York to see if there was some way he could restrain Tunney from risking his $525,000 neck.

Gene's Condition Perfect

Dr. Robert J. Shea, physician and lifelong friend of Tunney, examined the champion today and pronounced him in perfect condition. Shea said Tunney's eyes, which were slightly injured by sparring partners when he was preparing for his second bout with Dempsey, had recovered.

Championship Mill Just a Fight To Stolid Rock of Down Under

"We Both Have Two Fists and I Can Use Mine As Well As Tunney," Heeney Says; Tom Impresses Corbett

By GEORGE KIRKSEY
United Press Staff Correspondent

FAIRHAVEN, N. J., July 19. (UP)—A fight is a fight to Tom Heeney. The challenger for the heavyweight title is no more worked up over his battle with Gene Tunney a week from tonight at the Yankee stadium than he was over his first bout in this country.

"We both have two fists," Heeney said today, "and I figure I can use mine as well as Tunney can his. Except that I am making more money for this fight, I would just as soon fight anybody else. I'm not thinking about fighting Tunney or a champion. I'm just going in there to fight another man."

All reports to the contrary, Heeney is training for his big chance just like he trained for Paolino, Delaney, Risko, Sharkey and all the others. He has not changed his style as reported, and in today's workout demonstrated that he will go after Tunney with head down and fists flying.

James J. Corbett, former heavyweight champion, saw Heeney in action for the first time today, and was impressed with the challenger's ruggedness.

Second Tom Sharkey

"Heeney is a second edition of Tom Sharkey," Corbett said. "He does not hit as hard as Sharkey did, but he hits oftener."

Tom Sharkey was one of the greatest heavyweights of all time, and fought John L. Sullivan to a standstill in a 25-round bout at Coney Island, only to lose the decision.

If the Tunney-Heeney fight goes the limit, Corbett believes the challenger has a great chance to win.

"If Tunney doesn't stop Heeney inside of eight rounds, Heeney will improve during the last part of the fight and those last seven rounds may be the toughest Tunney ever had."

Corbett came here today from Speculator, N. Y., where he watched the champion in training.

Other Notables See Tom

Among the others who watched Heeney in training today were Jack Kearns, former manager of Jack Dempsey, Mickey Walker, middleweight champion; Louis (Kid Kaplan, former featherweight champion; Rene de Vos, Belgian contender for the middleweight title; Dan Morgan, former manager of Paul Berlenbach, and Bert Lytell, motion picture actor.

Kearns believes Heeney can win the title by keeping Tunney on the defensive.

"Heeney will stand a much better chance of winning, if the third man in the ring makes the champion break clean," Kearns said. "Tunney had Dempsey tied up at close quarters in both their bouts."

Charley Harvey, Heeney's manager, will go before the commission Tuesday and demand that the referee for the bout be instructed to make both fighters break cleanly.

Heeney Not Gym Worker

Mickey Walker was to have sparred with Heeney today, but Harvey deemed it would do the challenger no good at this late stage of training and Heeney went through his usual workout.

Heeney did not look like a future heavyweight champion in training but as Kearns remarked, Heeney is a ring fighter and not a flashy gym performer.

Heeney consented to take a rest Friday and will do nothing but road work.

The challenger weighed 205 pounds before his workout and 200¾ after his shower.

TILDEN OUT OF NET CUP PLAY

Bill Barred for Writing Tennis Stories

By JOSEPH S. ROGERS

NEW YORK, July 19. (UP)—William T. Tilden, captain of the American Davis cup team who has been barred from participating in the international tennis matches, has not been disqualified as an amateur.

That was the announcement made tonight by the United States Lawn Tennis association through Edward B. Moss, executive secretary. Moss said:

"Tilden has been eliminated from the Davis cup team as the officials felt that they could not use a player whose amateur status was in doubt.

"Tilden's case will come before the executive committee at a special meeting in August. This will be after the return of the Davis cup team from abroad."

Violates Amateur Code

The announcement of Tilden's disbarment which was made in Paris by Samuel H. Collom, president of the United States Lawn Tennis association, was made as a result of the filing of charges that Tilden had violated the amateur rule of the U. S. L. T. A.

Dr. Sumner Hardy, himself a former Davis cup player and now president of the California association, presented evidence against Tilden by wire at a meeting of tennis officials held in New York July 10. Syndicated articles under Tilden's signature, which appeared in various newspapers throughout the country, were submitted as indicating that Tilden had violated the following section of the amateur code:

"By writing for pay or a consideration current newspaper articles covering a tournament or match in which he is entered as a competitor."

The advisory committee of the U. S. L. T. A., of which Louis J. Carruthers is acting chairman, held that the articles which Tilden wrote about the Wimbledon tournament in which he competed violated the amateur code.

Bill's Attitude Flayed

Tennis officials here insist that Tilden was fully aware of the fact that he was jeopardizing his amateur status by sending dispatches to the United States commenting on the Wimbledon tournament. One official, who requested that his name not be used, said:

"Bill had more power this year than ever before. He was player, captain, coach, in fact everything on the Davis cup team. He knew the rule. He had been warned.

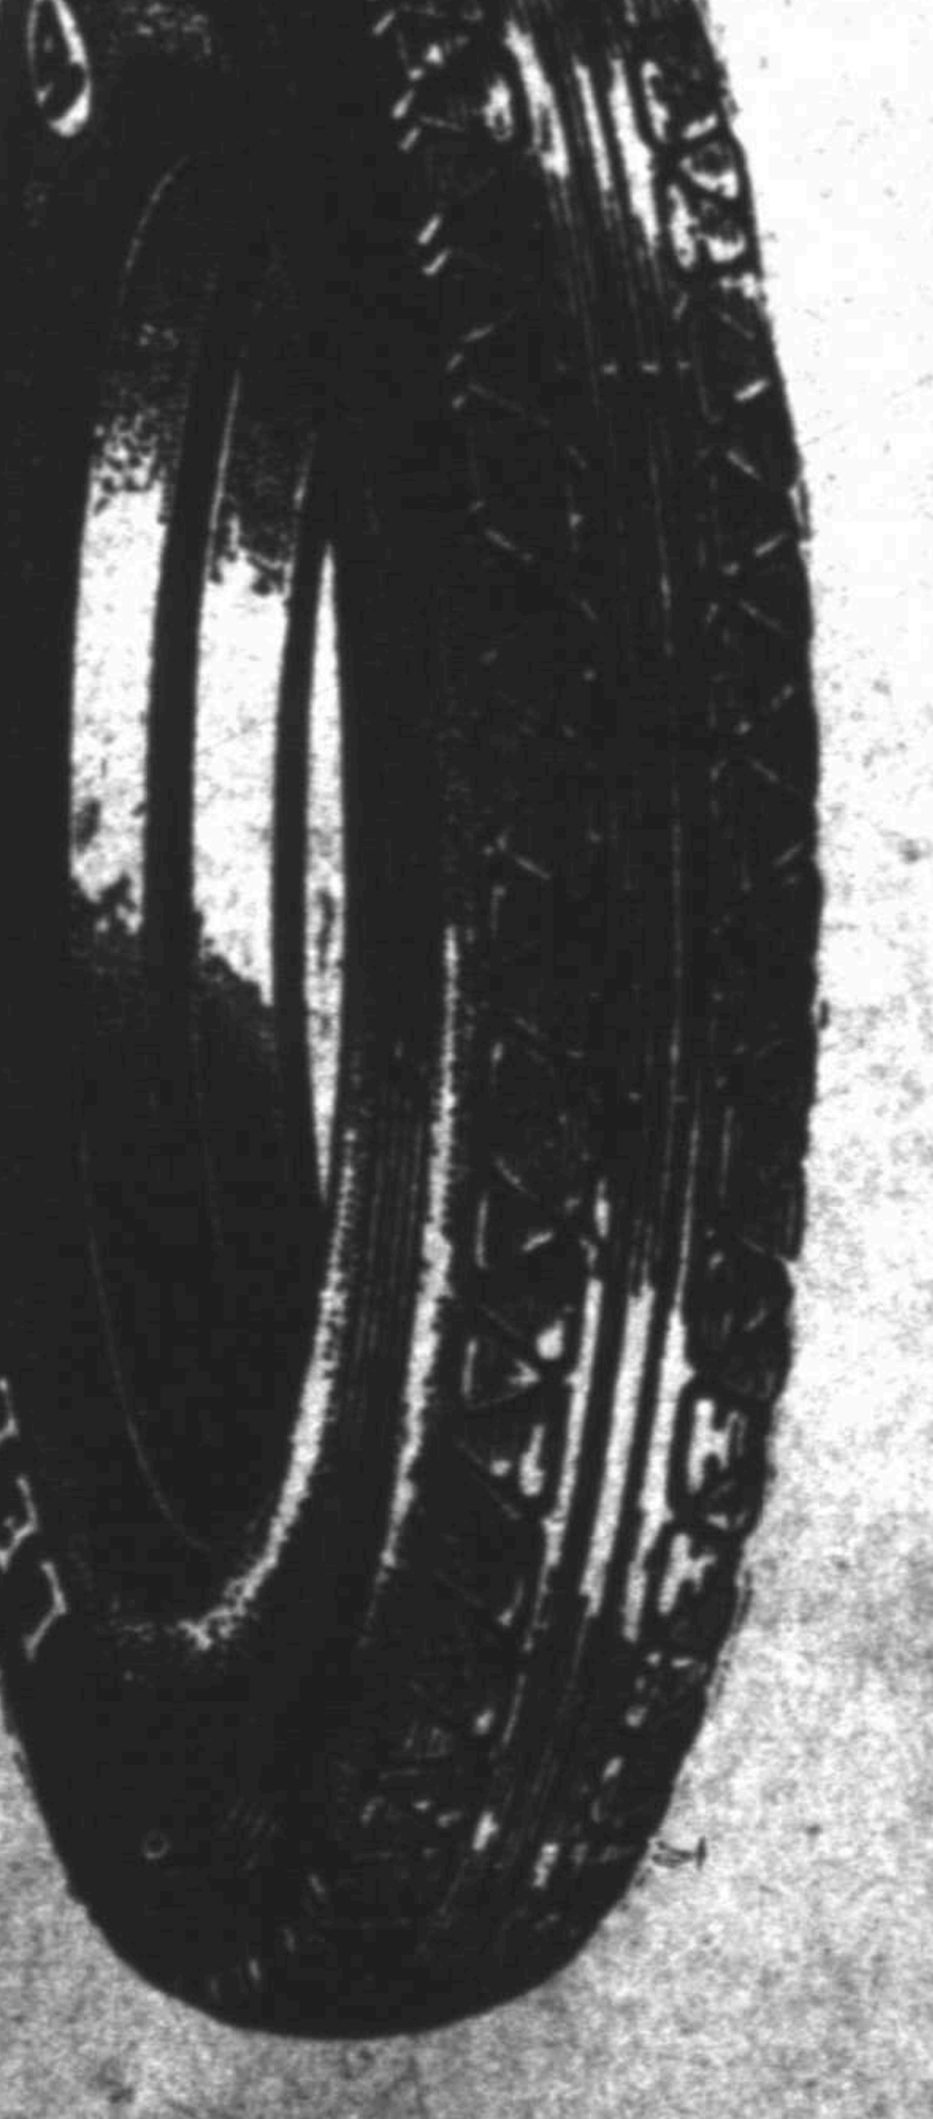

"But for a measly $700 he threw a monkey wrench into the works and threw down the American public and the American chances in the Davis cup tournament. There is no doubt that Tilden will be found guilty, as charged, and disqualified. He will not become a professional unless he plays tennis for money. That no doubt will be his next step."

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, July 19. (AP)—Renewal of liquidation accompanied by talk of better weather in the eastern belt caused sharp declines from an opening advance in the cotton market today. After selling off from 21.58 to 21.09 for October, or about 35 points net lower and within 3 points of Tuesday's low, however, the market steadied on covering, October closing at 21.24.

The general market closed steady at net declines of 10 to 20 points.

The opening was steady at an advance of 6 to 14 points on buying promoted by relatively steady cables and failure of early weather reports to show rain in West Texas.

The bulk of pressure was attributed to further liquidation of old long accounts and a few stop orders were uncovered, giving the market a very nervous and unsettled appearance in early afternoon. Prices sold off to 20.89 for July and 20.81 for January, net declines of 30 to 36 points on more active positions. Pressure then subsided to some extent and the market was steadier on covering or rebuying, while there were also reports of a moderate trade demand. Last prices showed rallies of about 15 to 19 points from the lowest.

Part of the selling was attributed to belief that the condition of the crop had improved during July and that end of July condition figures might point to a crop of well over 14,000,000 bales.

Private cables reported Bombay buying and trade calling in a comparatively quiet market at Liverpool and that weather advices were being keenly watched.

Port receipts today, 3,296 bales. U. S. port stocks, 714,969 bales. Exports today, 9,625 bales, making 7,663,633 so far this season.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, July 19. (AP)—Reports of relief in the drought section of the western belt lowered cotton prices practically $2 a bale today, but when the detailed weather report failed to confirm this the market rallied, only to sag again under a prediction of rain in the west. Covering by early buyers, however, carried October contracts up from 20.25 to 20.65 and the option closed at the latter figure. The general market closed steady at net advance of 21 points.

Liverpool cables were 6 to 8 penny points better than due at the start here and the market opened steady, 5 points up. Prices advanced slightly after the start until October reached 20.94 and December 20.86, or 7 to 8 points above the previous close.

Later in the morning ring traders sold freely on private advices stating that the drought in West Texas had been broken. Before the offerings were absorbed October sold off to 20.55, and December 20.48, or 38 to 39 points down from the highs and 31 points under yesterday's close.

When the detailed weather report showed that the Texas rains were in the cattle country and therefore of no benefit to the cotton growing region, early sellers rebought and prices recovered 9 points of the loss. After mid-session the market had another sinking spell under selling inspired by a prediction of rain in the drought section and active months made new lows for the day with October at 20.52 and December at 20.48, or 41 to 42 points down from the highs and 34 points under yesterday's close. The decline met renewed purchasing by early sellers and at the close prices showed recoveries 13 points from the bottom with October at 20.65 and December 20.58.

MIDWEST REVIEW

KANSAS CITY, July 19. (AP)—(U. S. Department of Agriculture)—Firm prices were maintained around the 11-market circuit on the better grades of lightweight steers and yearlings, but matured native grain-feds and western grass steers were on a weak to 25c lower basis. Lack of feeder buyer competition was a depressing influence on the better kind of westerns. Chicago scored $16.70 on choice long yearlings and received $16.00 for best heavy steers. Lightweight Texas cake-feds at Kansas City brought $13.60, while common lightweight California grass steers sold at $10.50. Common to medium Kansas grazed Texas steers ranged from $10.25@12.50. Aggregate receipts were around 28,000, as compared with 29,639 a week ago and 24,539 a year ago.

A weak to lower undertone continued in the hog market with most points reporting 10c to 25c lower. The extreme top of $11.60 was paid at Chicago. Supplies of approximately 77,400 were 12,000 heavier than last Thursday, but 5,000 less than a year ago.

Fat lambs staged a partial comeback with prices generally strong to 25c higher. Choice Washington lambs in Chicago reached $15.85 and Omaha received $15.00 for best rangers. Aged classes held fully steady. Offerings around the loop were estimated at 30,600 as compared with 32,458 a week ago and 34,723 a year ago.

Early Advance Slumps to Partial Losses On Stock Market; Steel Leads

By BROADAN WALL
Universal Service Financial Expert.

NEW YORK, July 19.—Steel took the lead in a quieter stock market yesterday, in which early advances were partly wiped out in afternoon irregularity. There was widespread difference of opinion as to what the federal reserve reports would show and the profit taking that result left General Motors, Radio, Chrysler and other recent favorites net lower. There was half-hearted attempts to rally the rails but no appreciable success was reaped.

Money remained a factor of bullishness, easing from a renewal of 5½ to 5 per cent, and some loans were made outside of regular channels at as low as 4½ per cent.

Foreign exchange remained irregular, although the French franc recovered a little. Cotton and wheat dipped under further professional selling, induced by favorable crop reports, but other commodities recovered.

In view of the stream of favorable reports coming from the steel industry, it is not surprising that the bull leaders should shift their attention to Steel common while they let General Motors alone for a while. The report on steel earnings for the second quarter of the year will be out next week and is expected to show sufficient net to put income for the half year to $4.50 a share. Orders are coming in heavier than ever before at this season of the year so that a favorable third quarter is to be expected also. There has been steady accumulation of Steel during all the reactionary period, and as a good part thereof left the market the technical position of the stock has been improving steadily.

There is a great fight going on between the professional bulls and bears in Radio, the former holding to their position on long pull prospects and the latter staying short in hopes they can cover on the forthcoming earnings report. Neither Radio nor Victor benefited from the announcement of the president of Victor that indicated early consolidation of the two companies. Their relations have been so close for months that to all intents and purposes they already are under the same management.

Montgomery Ward was at a new high record price when profit-taking set in. Sears failed to benefit materially from declaration of 4 per cent stock dividend to be distributed in four quarterly installments.

Drill Marathon In Arkansas

EL DORADO, Ark., July 19. (AP)—A new kind of marathon, in which oil drillers are seeking to outdo each other in fast drilling is on near here.

Roy Hornsby, who says he is a cousin of Rogers Hornsby of the Boston Braves, started it when he broke the previous record, set in Gray county, Texas, by drilling a depth of 1,001 feet in 12 hours. He was a champion but two days, however, for Arthur J. Tibbett crowded him out with a record of 1,080 feet in 11 hours.

Now Buster Lewis is out to beat Tibbett. He had drilled better than 650 feet in six and a half hours and said he would surpass Tibbett's mark before stopping.

MARKET REVIEW

R. O. Harvey & Co., rooms 630-34 Harvey-Snider building, received the following Thursday on cotton grain and stocks from their New York and Chicago connections, E. A. Pierce & Co.:

Cotton

NEW YORK, July 19.—In the face of better crop reports the bulls are more discouraged and long liquidation continues. Speculative short selling is almost nil although there is a report that a prominent operator has gone short a large line this morning. It will take further short interest or more unfavorable weather, or weevil activity to turn the market.

Stocks

NEW YORK, July 19.—Professional traders apparently were not disposed enthusiastically to follow up yesterday's recovery, but there was some evidence of larger outside buying, especially during the first hour. Floor traders started a small drive against Radio, but selling failed to spread and was offset by an increased buying demand for Steel common, which apparently was inspired by the optimism prevailing in steel centers on the current rate of operations and on the autumn outlook.

Montgomery Ward and Sears Roebuck were the features around mid-day and the first named went to new high figures. American Ice also made a new high for the year at 41⅞. It was reported that several large insurance companies had taken some big blocks of bonds from dealers, thereby relieving substantially this situation. In the last hour additional selling appeared, and as a result the close was quite irregular, many traders apparently preferring to remain away from the market pending publication of brokers' loans. Call money renewed at 5½ per cent and later dropped to 5 per cent. Total sales 1,181,500.

Grain Letter

CHICAGO, July 19.—Wheat prices sagged to lower levels in today's session on absence of unfavorable crop reports and weakness in foreign markets. Excepting for a brief period after the opening, the market received little support from buyers until the low points were reached, when buying against privileges was encountered. Cash and seaboard interests also bought moderately on export sales all positions reported at 75,000 bushels, including some gulf business. Local sales 8,000. Southwest movement continues liberal. Rains, however, have interfered with field work.

Corn showed a firm tone, with advances held in check early by weakness in wheat. The close was strong. Considerable selling of July and buying of September by commission houses and short covering by locals. Cash prices unchanged to 1 higher, with offerings from country light. Shipping demand good, with sales of 1,500,000 reported.

New July oats developed unexpected tightness, advancing 2 cents from the low point. Cash and commission houses good buyers. Cash basis unchanged, with good demand for heavy grades. Rye market weak and uncovered stop loss orders, losing about 3 cents. Commission houses lent support on decline.

Grain

By THOMAS TEMPLE HOYNE

CHICAGO, July 19. (UP)—Corn and the nearby futures of oats showed the only strength in the grain markets today. Wheat and rye went on downward as if they were going to dig a short-cut to China.

At the close wheat was 1⅛c to 1⅝c lower; corn was 1⅛c higher; oats were ⅝c higher to ⅛c lower; rye was down 2⅝c to 2⅞c.

The July future closed at $1.07⅝@¼.

There is no disposition here to attempt to predict what the outcome of the July corn deal will be, but there is a decided disposition to warn the public against trading in that future and against becoming unduly optimistic concerning high corn prices in the other futures merely because a strong group are bulling the July future and apparently have it sewed up.

The prospects for the new corn crop are ideal. The best judgment on the probable yield—composite opinion made up of views from many parts of the corn belt—places it at well over 3,000,000,000 bushels.

Receipts of old corn from the country continued to be extremely large for this time of year.

Wheat acted very weak. With the apparent fading away of any chance of big black rust damage in our Northwest and in Canada the wheat situation has taken on another aspect. It was bought for the last few days because it looked cheap, but if Canada comes through with a record crop, as some good judges maintain it will, the pool will have a lot of wheat to sell for a long time to come.

As a matter of mere market mechanics one might expect a rally in wheat tomorrow. But many prospective sellers are probably waiting for just such a rally, and if it comes it should not, I think, be taken as a true symptom that the market has definitely turned for any considerable upward trend.

In the cash market wheat was 1c to 2c lower; corn and oats were unchanged; rye was quiet; barley was dull.

Joe Robinson to Speak In Dallas Labor Day

DALLAS, Texas, July 19. (UP)—Lieut. Gov. Barry Miller today received a letter from Senator Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas, Democratic vice presidential nominee, accepting an invitation to speak at a Labor day celebration here September 3. Plans for the campaign speech were taken as an indication that Texas Democrats expect a vigorous contest with Republicans and anti-Smith Democrats.

Cops Chase Outlaws After $2000 Robbery

SILOAM SPRINGS, Ark., July 19. (UP)—Oklahoma peace officers late today were believed to be close on the trail of two bandits who robbed the State Bank of Salina, Okla., of $2000 early this morning. One of the bandits was reported wounded in a battle with the officers near here.

TEAGLE TO BE ON COAL BODY

Standard Oil Head Takes Position

PITTSBURGH, July 19.—Walter C. Teagle, president of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey, has accepted an invitation to become a member of the advisory board for the Second International conference on bituminous coal to be held here at the Carnegie Institute of Technology during the week of November 19, President Thomas S. Baker announced today.

The acceptance of the New Jersey Standard Oil head to serve on the board is considered by President Baker and his associates who are vitally interested in the study of bituminous coal, as a significant indication of the increasing interest that oil companies in this country are showing in bituminous coal as a possible source of motor spirits in the future.

About a year ago an announcement was made that the I. G. Farben Industrie of Germany and the Standard Oil company of New Jersey had made a contract involving the utilization of a modified Bergius process for the production of gasoline.

Recently it was announced that the New Jersey Standard Oil company and the German company were about to establish an experimental station in this country, the purpose of which was to develop the process of manufacturing synthetic petroleum from coal.

Other members of the advisory board include John Hays Hammond, consulting engineer; E. M. Herr, president of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company; Samuel Insull, Chicago public utility head and well known capitalist; George E. Learnard, president of the International Combustion Engineering corporation; Andrew W. Mellon, secretary of treasury; August G. Oratt, president of the Babcock and Wilcox company and Charles M. Schwab, capitalist and steel manufacturer.

Parents Strangers To Children, Dix

Mary would finish school, when they could keep house together and go into society together or sew together and when they could talk everything over together, and she finds she possesses a daughter who doesn't like to do any of the things she likes to do and is bent and determined on going her own way.

And father has had his dream of how wonderful it would be to have a son in business with him who would carry on the firm to even greater success and with whom he could talk over the state of the grocery trade or discuss the fine points in a law case. But instead of that son scorns the soft berth that has been made for him, and when father tries to talk with him he finds that he has far less in common with him than he has with the office boy.

And the children, on their part, find themselves in an anomalous position as regards their parents. They have for their father and mother a natural affection, but they regard father and mother as interesting antiques, and their views as something pre-historic by which their free souls cannot be bound. Moreover, father and mother are the only ones who still regard them as children and under authority. The remainder of the world accords them their status as grown-ups.

Is it any wonder, then, that father and mother and Mary and John clash so often and that they cannot have even a casual conversation without getting into a hot argument? Is it any wonder that in most families the children never confide their plans to their parents or tell them anything they can help and that they avoid being in their company as they would with any other strangers with whom they had no point of view in common and with whom they could never get along?

Yet the parents are all right and the children are all right, and all that they need is to get acquainted. They would enjoy each other tremendously and be the best of pals if only they knew each other. And in this the parents must take the initiative. They must make the advances and extend the glad hand.

And the first move in this is to forget that they are parents and try to look upon John and Mary as if they were a strange girl and boy who had suddenly dropped into their circle.

Father would think it all right for any other boy to wear Oxford bags and smoke a huge pipe if he wanted to and he would smile at it as representing a passing phase of youth. It is only when John does it that it irritates him and makes him call him a fool. And father would think that any other boy would have a perfect right to choose his own life work and that his father ought to be reasonable about it, but he can't be when John blights his ambition by refusing to follow the career he had chosen for him.

And mother would smile and think it rather piquant for some other girl to be as independent and cocksure as Mary is. She would get some other girl's point of view about wanting to pick out her own clothes, her own husband and her own work. It is only her anxiety about Mary that makes her nag her to death.

Mary would find mother charming and chummy and that she really knew a lot about life if she would only get acquainted with her. And John would discover that father was good for something besides writing checks and that a man who has worked himself up from the bottom to the top of the ladder has the stuff in him of which heroes are made and has accumulated by the way a fund of wit and wisdom and good stories that makes him the most fascinating of companions.

And so I say that it is worth while for parents and their children to get acquainted with each other. They miss so much in being strangers and not on speaking terms with each other.

KANSAS DEMO FLAIL'S EDITOR

William Allen White Made Target of Attack

TOPEKA, Kan., July 19. (INS)—Declaring the heat in Emporia must have been so intense it affected his judgment, Dudley Doolittle, Democratic national committeeman for Kansas, today denounced William Allen White for his recent attack upon Gov. Alfred E. Smith.

Doolittle appealed to the people of Kansas not to allow their prejudices to become inflamed by statements in White's attack that the voters "must defeat Al Smith or kiss prohibition good by."

"Mr. White's diatribe and the swift confusion it has brought down upon his head ought to serve as an impressive warning to Republicans," Doolittle said. "A whole school of irresponsible stump speakers and writers have, undoubtedly, been preparing to take just Mr. White's line. They were ready to picture Governor Smith as a friend of gambling and prostitution; to hold him up as one who wanted the saloons running wide open on Sundays and to describe him as Mr. White so ingeniously attempted, as a man who preferred the drinking den to the church and school. The Kansas editor's bad fall should teach them a lesson."

Doolittle, in taking White to task, referred to the Emporian's prediction that "Smith would appoint wet jurists who will declare the 18th amendment unconstitutional before a cat can wink her eye" as beyond comment.

"Granting that Governor Smith might be as Machiavellian as all this—granting that he would suddenly go so insane as to try to pick the supreme court on a controversal question; granting that the senate would abdicate all its powers of refusing confirmation of such appointments—since when did three justices out of nine have the power to hand down a decision? Really, the ravages of heat must have been terrible in Emporia."

Doolittle also announced that the Democrats are getting plans well under way to make an intensive campaign in Kansas this fall.

"So far as Kansas is concerned," he said, "the issues will be fought out on the question of equality for agriculture—the dominant industry in Kansas. All the voters of the state will be invited and urged to join in the election of a ticket friendly to the interests of agriculture. Farm organizations throughout the country have endorsed the Democratic platform on farm relief, and to use the words of the resolution adopted at Des Moines by representatives of the big farm organizations, we must not allow the issue of the campaign to become clouded and sidetracked over wet and dry disputes, or religious intolerance, which have been adequately dealt with the constitution."

HOUSES FOR SALE

1924 SPEEDWAY AVENUE—FOR SALE

This beautiful brick veneer home consists of six large rooms beside the breakfast room and bath. The living room is very large and spacious, finished in gum woodwork; very attractive tile fireplace; beautiful crystal light fixture hanging from the center of the room; the windows and doors are so spaced in this room and the other rooms as to give the maximum wall space. You are also attracted by a beautiful English Art Glass Casement window in this room. On entering the dining room you will also note the beautiful decorations in this room, mainly the finish of woodwork and paper. The paper is very high grade and has an Old English Castle in the background. The light fixture in this room is slightly smaller than in the living room. On entering the breakfast room you are attracted by a very distinct and unusual pattern of wall paper and stipple finish woodwork, each one blending perfectly with the other. The more you look at this room the more you enjoy the beauty of it. The kitchen is very conveniently, neatly and compactly arranged, across one end being a mill-made cabinet; the drain board and back is made of white tile with a light green border, which blends in with the paper. Over the space for the range is a large ventilator hood that carries the fumes and heat out. The guest bedroom is accessible from the living room, orchid being the most dominant color in this room, you will note it both in the paper and woodwork; the light fixture is the same as in the living room with the exception of being much smaller. This room is also accessible to the bath by way of the hall. On entering the bath you are attracted with the beauty of it, the fixtures best the best: recess tub, pedestal lavatory, built-in towel bars, soap dishes and grabbolds; the floor is a basket weave white and black tile, with orchid base and walls (4 feet high); the balance of the wall is a very unusual pattern of paper, bubbles being the main background coming from a ceiling of stars. The master bedroom is very large, has an outside entrance; fireplace; very pretty ceiling light fixture; main color scheme in this room is a light green, which is carried out in the woodwork and paper; this room has a large trunk closet. The third bedroom is ample size, has maximum wall space, closet and is so decorated that most any color can be carried out in this room.

All the floors in this house are double, the top flooring being select oak, with a soft velvet finish. All outside openings are metal weatherstripped.

Construction: We built this house ourselves, and know it to be one of the best constructed houses in the city. Will be glad to give specifications on request.

Price: When you inspect this house thoroughly, and then see the specifications, you will wonder how we can sell it for the price we are asking for it. Quote price and terms on request.

Exchanges: Might consider small cottage or vacant lot as part the cash consideration, providing it is priced worth the money. This house will be open 7 to 8 p. m. and from 10 to 11 a. m. or call for appointment to inspect at your convenience.

6500 ATTEND PARK PROGRAM

Minstrel Singer One Of Bill's Features

A crowd of 6,500 persons enjoyed the vaudeville program and the concert by the Panhandle Refining company band at Bellevue park Thursday night. R. E. Shepherd, former mayor, estimated that 5,000 were turned away because of their inability to get where they could hear.

Alec B. Ross, boxing and wrestling promotor, arranged the program for the park department for the evening, and it was pronounced by those who attended as one of the best ever presented in the city.

Ernest Reeves, whose name was not on the program, was one of the high spots of the evening's fun. He is a yodeler and a former member of Al G. Fields minstrels.

Cameronians Star

The Cameronians, acrobats, including Betsy Ross, Jack Leggett and Paul Cameron were first on the bill, and made one of the hits of the evening. Frances Phillips in popular songs; Juanita Burgess in dances; John McMahon and his Italian accordion, Betsy and Rita Ross in clog dancing, and the Crownson Kiddies, song and dance artists, completed the vaudeville.

Then came the minstrel show, called the Dixie Minstrels. Mattilya Wilson was the musical director, and J. W. Talbert was the interlocuter. A. E. Solomon was the old darkey; Steve Stevenson tuned up and down on his harmonica; R. H. Foy and I. B. Thompson played a banjo duet; Lilly Davis played a harp solo, and a quartet composed of R. E. Shepherd, Dr. O. T. Kimbrough, Paul von Allmen and W. H. Carson sang.

Penny Sings

Waltes Penny's singing of "Mammy" brought down the applause of the crowd as did the jokes of George Hodgins. These two and Joe Marlow and Lefty Wilson were the end men. The circle included R. E. Shepherd, Paul von Allmen, R. W. Bowden, Dr. O. T. Kimbrough, W. H. Carson, J. T. Yeargen, San Gose, Glen Groves, Steve Stevenson, R. H. Foy, I. B. Thompson and Dr. A. E. Solomon.

Railroad Asked To Help Repair Street

The city of Wichita Falls has requested the cooperation of the Fort Worth and Denver railway in filling in the holes in the underpass of the road's viaduct at Fourth and Ohio, it was learned from George D. Fairtrace, city manager, Thursday.

The request was made by letter, and a reply is expected at any time. Under the contract with the railway the city holds that the railway should keep the road in good repair.

Foot Tortures Vanished Overnight

Says Officer A. Grady

Read What This Popular Wichita Falls Traffic Policeman Writes:

"FOR years I have been having all kinds of trouble with my feet. Being on the police force I, of course, am standing up all day long on hard pavements. When I would get home at night my feet would be aching and burning, and I was troubled with soreness due to callouses. My first trial of Coolene proved what a wonderful thing it is. I put some on when I came home from work and my feet felt brand new at once. The burning and aching left immediately. I used it again the next morning, and I could not believe it—my feet felt so fine all day. Now I am never troubled with foot ailments —thanks to Coolene."

Policemen everywhere, and others who are on their feet all day, say the same thing. Officer A. McLaughlin, pictured above, who suffered with pains for years says, "Coolene ended the burning and aching of my feet at once."

Wonderful Cream Ends Burning Feet

Now you, too, can enjoy instant relief from tired, aching, burning feet. Coolene, a marvelous new, fragrant, white soothing cream, containing rare oils and frankincense and myrrh—used by the ancients for centuries to heal foot tortures caused by hot desert sands.

It penetrates at once to the inflamed nerves and pores and cools them—relieves congestion in the tiny veins—instantly all foot miseries vanish and your aching feet feel like new.

Coolene is greaseless, vanishes instantly, cannot stain. Satisfaction guaranteed, or your money refunded. Sold and recommended by good drug and dept. stores everywhere, such as Sprouts Pharmacy, Allison Drug Store, Myers Drug Co., Brook and Eighth Street Pharmacy.

GARDEN: "North of the Border." Serial. Comedy.
GEM: "The Soda Water Cowboy." Serial. Comedy.

◇ ◇ ◇

The first wild, bang-up comedy that Wichita Falls has the chance to see and hear with Vitaphone music is opening at the Strand theater Friday. It is "The First Auto."

◇ ◇ ◇

Barney Oldfield, who was a pioneer in the automobile racing world, is co-starred with Patsy Ruth Miller in "The First Auto." It is billed as the tale of the first girl to walk home after an auto ride.

◇ ◇ ◇

"Lady Raffles" at the Olympic and "Square Crooks" at the Mission were scenes of special matinees Thursday. Lebracks ice cream was given to each boy and girl under 12 at the Mission theater, and each lady with 35 cents and a coupon from The Record News ad for the Olympic was permitted to bring in a guest free.

◇ ◇ ◇

"Square Crooks" and "Lady Raffles" are both on the screen again Friday.

◇ ◇ ◇

Evelyn Brent is opening at the Majestic Saturday in "The Dragnet." George Bancroft is the male star.

Many have spoken of the possibility of a return showing of Al Jolson in "The Jazz Singer," the great Al Jolson feature on the Vitaphone, which ran for two weeks here as the introduction of the Vitaphone to Wichita Falls.

R. E. Shepherd, former mayor of Wichita Falls, will be the chief speaker at the ceremony of laying the cornerstone for the new Valley View school house, 12 miles north of Nocona, which will be held July 26.

The Burlington Masonic lodge No. 440, A. F. and A. M., of Spanish Fort, will be in charge of the ceremony.

Albert Ellis, Maskat temple recorder, will accompany Mr. Shepherd on the trip.

Voters to Decide Fate of State Amendments

AUSTIN, Texas, July 19. (AP)—Three constitutional amendments proposed by the 40th legislature will be on the Nov. 6 Texas general election ballot for voters' acceptance or rejection.

One would liberalize terms under which indigent Confederate veterans and their wives and widows obtain state compensations; another would exempt parsonages from taxation and the third would lengthen terms of all school officers to six years and create a new state board of education.

Governor Moody is preparing the election call.

Mrs. Cunningham And Mayfield File Funds

AUSTIN, Texas, July 19. (INS) Campaign expenditures of Mrs. Minnie Fisher Cunningham and Senator Earle B. Mayfield, candidates for the United States senate, were filed today in the office of the secretary of state. Mrs. Cunningham's disbursements totaled $4948 while contributions to her campaign amounted to $3808. Mayfield's expenditures reached a total of $6564, while contributions to his campaign fund aggregated $1425, the reports disclosed.

Police Court Clerk Gone After Shortage

KANSAS CITY, Kan., July 19. (UP)—The shortage in local police court funds, collection of which have been in charge of James Cook who told his wife he "couldn't face his friends" and left town Tuesday evening, will run to between $5,500 and $7,500, in the opinion of Arthur J. Mellott, Wyandotte county attorney.

Mellott made a detailed study of Cook's books and his report to city commissioners revealed that the entire system of fines collections was inefficient and Mellott criticized the city commissioners, the city auditor, the police judge, and the city attorney's office rather than Cook.

How to Buy Typewriters

An orchid and yellow typewriter, the latest vogue, made its presence known in the city auditorium Thursday in the outer office at the city manager's office.

The secret was soon out. Mrs. Tillis Gaffney, the manager's secretary, had picked out a new machine which was colored to suit her. It is her personal property and has been taken home.

When first asked what brand it was, she did not know, but she did know "it was orchid and yellow." She later recalled that the name was "Corona."

Federal Inspector Here

Dr. F. D. Porter of Fort Worth, inspector of the federal bureau of animal investigation, was a Wichita Falls visitor Thursday. With Dr. J. M. Farrell, chief sanitary inspector, he inspected the packing plants and the care of meat in the city.

A free community songfest will be held at the Carrigan school Friday evening, and free motion pictures will be presented at the Bowie and Washington schools, it was announced by the park department Thursday.

Permit for Residence

A permit for the construction of a brick veneer residence to cost $5,000 was issued by the office of the city clerk Thursday afternoon to J. Carruthers. It will be built at 1614 Tilden.

Many Given Work

The present week has been the banner period in employment at the agency in the city auditorium, as 34 jobs have been found for jobless men since Monday. One week the bureau placed 30 men at one refinery on one job, but that is not counted in the usual average or run. The total number of jobs found that week was 50. However, the average this week of nine jobs a day will make 54 jobs for the week if the present record pace is maintained.

C-C APPROVES ORIENT MERGER

Sale to Santa Fe Given Boost Here

A special session of the directors of the Wichita Falls chamber of commerce, meeting in the chamber rooms at 3 o'clock, unanimously adopted a resolution approving the absorption of the Orient railroad by the Santa Fe system.

The Santa Fe line has asked permission of the Interstate Commerce commission and the Texas Railroad commission to take over the Orient line, which traverses a wide area of the Wichita Falls territory.

The resolution pointed out the advantages this territory would derive from a better and more reliable operation of the railroad lines which would result from absorption of the Orient by the Santa Fe.

Daughters And Mothers at School

CANYON, Texas, July 19. (AP)—Several sets of mothers and daughters are enrolled in the summer school courses at the West Texas State Teachers college here.

Most of the mothers are teachers and the daughters are either already teachers or plan to be.

Mrs. Myrtle Wheeler of Amarillo, teacher in Hutchinson county, is in a swimming class with her daughter, Myrtle. Next term they will be in the ame English class. Two years ago, Mrs. Wheeler was in class with another daughter Isabel.

Mrs. W. P. Lupton, Tulia, is in school with her daughters, Marian and Elizabeth. She has gone to school with the girls ever since they began college work, except one time when Elizabeth attended school in California. Next year, Elizabeth will teach with her mother at Pep.

Frances Etteleen and Elsie Murrell are enrolled with their mother, Mrs. Stella Murrell, who is in a Canyon public school teacher. They came from Tennessee, where they began their college work at Martin.

Mrs. M. L. Reeves and her daughter, Frances, came to Canyon from Marshall last fall. The mother took advantage of her residence in a college town to enroll and add to the education of her youth.

Sewer Tax Payments Show Steady Decline

Despite the fact that Thursday was an additional day of grace allowed while books are being prepared for closing, the number of persons paying their past due sewer rentals fell off to the lowest in several weeks.

Those who have not paid are being allowed to do so for the next few days while the books are being completed. City Manager George D. Fairtrace said it is the intention of the city to give the public every chance possible to pay the past due sewer rentals before cutting off the sewer and water service. In making it possible for the public to continue payments while the bookkeepers are at work on the records, Mr. Fairtrace said he believed the city was giving the citizens a good chance to pay their accounts or make some arrangements to pay them in the future.

Park League Champs To Schedule Games

Arrangements are being made by the city park department whereby the champion boy team of the junior playground league will have the opportunity of playing Dallas and Fort Worth. It is also possible that the team will play Byers or other West Texas towns.

Year's Conventions to Spend $90,000 in City, C-C Survey Shows

A survey by questionaires by the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce revealed that the recent district convention of Lions clubs in the city resulted in $3,707.41 being spent here. A summary and conclusion based on the replies given to the chamber indicates that conventions here in course of a year will leave $90,000 in the city.

The chamber's summary of the report follows:

"The total sum spent by Lions clubs convention visitors in Wichita Falls was $3,707.41, according to information obtained from a questionaire recently sent out by the publicity department of the Chamber of Commerce. Approximately 150 delegates answered these and said the average amount spent by each visitor was $24.71.

"A large number of the visitors commented most favorably on the efficient manner in which the local Lions club handled the details of the convention and on the hospitality and courteous treatment accorded by the public in general. Two days was the average length of time spent in the city by delegates and many reported that they visited friends or relatives while here.

"The largest item of the total sum was $1,000 spent with bus and railroad companies in traveling from their homes to Wichita Falls. The hotels and eating places were about even in benefits derived $779.05 having been spent for hotel bills and $797.45 for food.

"Retail stores profited next with a total of $382.84, and $208.00 went to the drug stores. A great many $3.00 items were in this total. Just $59 was spent with the theaters, and $51.50 went to the confectioners. The taxicab companies received $41.75. A gentleman who reported an $18 drug store bill also spent half of the taxicab total.

"The barber shops came in for $96.80 and the tailors for $34.40. Garages benefited $100 and the laundries and wholesale stores profited the least with $5 spent with each.

"The miscellanous total ran almost $400, many designating that this included baseball games and kodak pictures.

"Chamber of Commerce officials and committees have at various times discussed the actual dollars and cents value of conventions and it was with this in mind that the questionaire on this subject was sent. Eliminating the traveling expense item of $1,000, which was not actually spent in this city, the average spent per visitor is $18. With a yearly attendance at various conventions totaling 5,000, which is about the number of visitors a city entertains with 10 or 12 conventions per year, the total amount of money spent in the city is practically $90,000."

Noted Chinese Missionary To Speak at Church Here Sunday

Dr. William T. Locke, for 20 years a missionary in China and religious economist of national repute, will speak at the First Presbyterian church Sunday, at both morning and evening services, according to announcement made Thursday at the church office.

Dr. Locke, who is teaching a class at the Waxahachie Presbyterian conference, will come to Wichita Falls by automobile for the two Sunday services. He will accompany Mrs. Jim Barnard on her return from the Waxahachie conference. Mrs. J. C. Payne, Miss Kate Haynes and Miss Vivian White also are at the Waxahachie conference.

New Bus Line Starts in Week

Bus service on the new line of the Southern Bus company from Wichita Falls through Scotland, Windthorst and Antelope to Jacksboro probably will start in another week, according to an announcement by R. E. Darsey, local manager of the Southern company, Thursday.

The announcements was made by Mr. Darsey folowing receipt of an Associated Press dispatch by The Record News to the effect that the Texas railroad commission had on Thursday granted the application of the Southern company to run a bus line to Jacksboro, and at the same time denied the application of Herman Penrod to operate a line from Wichita Falls to Mineral Wells over the same route as far as Jacksboro.

Mr. Darsey said that Cadillac equipment will be used, and that one round trip will be made each day at the start.

"As business warrants we will increase this service," Mr. Darsey explained.

"Our line at Jacksboro will make direct connections with the West Texas coaches for Mineral Wells and other points in both directions. At present we are operating a line from here to Olney, Archer City, Graham and other cities. This new line will simply give Wichita Falls better service and more avenues for trade."

Wichita Falls Praised In Texas Magazine

Wichita Falls comes in for favorable comment by George C. Gaines Jr., of Houston, in the current issue of the "Texas Municipalities" magazine, the official organ of the League of Texas Municipalities.

Mr. Gaines, editor of the legal department of the magazine, said that our present zoning ordinance, while partially a health ordinance, is one of the best drawn instruments of its kind he has ever seen.

Publicity Aids in Scaring Off 'Tin Can Tourists,' Says Report

Widespread publicity given to the fact that Wichita Falls is no longer a "sucker town" giving gasoline, food, oil and other necessities for the tin can tourists' annual free vacations, is credited with a good part of the reduced demand on charitable organizations of the city for this type gift.

"The Salvation Army, which in the past was harder hit than the other organizations, reports that the requests for free food and lodging and gasoline has fallen to practically nothing," Miss Myrle Neely, secretary of the community chest, said Thursday.

"This is remarkable for this time of the year, for this is the time the tin can tourists are usually on the road. The word travels up and down the line pretty well, however, and many of them know that if they hit Wichita Falls they have small hope of getting enough supplies to get to the next town where they will 'bum' supplies to the next town.

"The idea of taking a vacation at the expense of the public is fast being lost as hard experience is proving to the tin can tourists that people who work for their money are no longer willing to give away gasoline, oil and groceries that people who should be at work may take vacations."

JOBS OPEN

Plenty of Work For Willing, Says Labor Bureau Agent

Many cotton choppers are still needed, it was learned Thursday from Miss Fern Sides, manager of the chamber of commerce employment bureau in the basement of the city auditorium.

"Following the story run in The Record News a couple of days ago, we placed a great many men in good jobs in the fields," Miss Sides said. "We have a number of jobs open right now for those who act at once. Jobs don't stay open for a long time, and if anyone really wants work he can have it by coming to our office at once. There is no need for any able bodied man being out of work here right now."

Army Leader Here To Meet Reserve Officers
