Ask Us

Q What occurs if a school board member moves out of the district in which he was elected to serve?

A—According to information from Snyder ISD officials, a candidate for trustee, representing a single-member district, must be a resident of the district he represents. A trustee vacates the office if he ceases to reside in the district he represents.

Local

Car wash

Union Baptist Church will hold a car wash from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday at Wal-Mart. Proceeds will go toward a sound system.

Prom

Snyder High School Junior-Senior Prom will be held from 8 p.m. until midnight Saturday in Scurry County Coliseum. Parents and visitors are welcome from 8-9. Pictures will be taken from 6-10.

Conventions

The Scurry County Democratic Convention will be held at 1 p.m. Saturday in the county courtroom.

The Scurry County Republican Convention is scheduled for 2:30 p.m. Saturday in the council chambers at City Hall.

Reception

A reception to welcome internal medicine specialist Dr. Tom Kerr will be held from 1:30 until 3:30 p.m. Sunday at his office in Cogdell Center, 5301 Trinity Boulevard. The reception is being sponsored by the hospital auxiliary.

Egg hunt

Snyder Chamber of Commerce and Don's Value King are sponsoring an Easter Egg Hunt for children age 12 and under at 2 p.m. Saturday, April 2, at Towle Park.

Parents may obtain free passes for their children at Don's Value King.

Native Texan

An article in Thursday's paper stated that city council candidate for District 1 Lynn Gardenhire and his wife are from Pennsylvania. In fact, his wife, Patricia, is from Pennsylvania and their two grown children live there. However, Mr. Gardenhire was born in Fort Worth, reared in San Angelo and Bronte, and has lived in Texas all of his life.

War of nerves hits new pitch

Report says North Korea has issued military alert

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — The Korean war of nerves hit a new pitch today with South Korean officials saying North Korea has put its army on alert and told its people to prepare for war.

South Korea's 650,000 troops went on alert earlier this week over the worsening nuclear crisis on the peninsula.

The Korean border was calm today, officials said. A foreigner contacted by telephone in Pyongyang, the North Korean capital, said things seemed normal there.

At a meeting of security-related Cabinet officials today in Seoul, Defense Minister Rhee Byoung-tae said North Korea had issued "an emergency alert order" to its military.

Kim Deok, director of the intelligence-gathering Agency for National Security Planning, said the communist government was telling its 22 million people that war appeared inevitable.

Briefing reporters on the meeting, Information Minister Oh Inhwan said the North Korean government has banned all domestic travel for its people. The North's TV and radio repeatedly broadcast that Pyongyang is bent on pulling out of the Nuclear Non-Proliferation Treaty, he said.

Telephoned from Beijing today, the foreigner said he could not comment on reports of a high military alert, but said, "there is absolutely no feeling of such kinds of events."

"It's absolutely normal ... There's not much traffic as usual, people are walking as usual," said he said, speaking on condition of anonymity.

The crisis blew up when North Korea refused to let inspectors from the International Atomic Energy Agency see a plant suspected of producing plutonium, an ingredient of nuclear weapons.

The U.N. agency referred the issue to the U.N. Security Council, which may consider sanctions.

Snyder ISD residents facing a 'definite' increase in taxes

Local taxpayers are "definitely" facing an increase in school taxes for the coming year, officials say — but whether it will bump the maximum allowed by law isn't as predictable.

"You're definitely looking at a tax increase, but depending on state revenues, it may be possible to stay below $1.50," said Lee McNair, Snyder ISD business manager.

A dollar and a half is the maximum allowed by state law for maintenance and operations. And that $1.50 is also what Snyder ISD's effective tax rate is expected to be, based on estimated 1994 values.

In other words, it will take $1.50 per $100 valuation to raise the $7.9 million in revenue that $1.36 in taxes brought in for the current school year. That's because of a projected $57,467,000 decline in values, including more than $55.5 million in minerals.

Compounding the problem is about $200,000 in state-mandated

SHS to present 'Pygmalion' Saturday at district contest

Snyder High School's production of "Pygmalion" will be presented Saturday afternoon in Plainview during the District 2-4A one-act play competition.

Competition begins at 1 p.m. on the Wayland Baptist University campus. Larry Priest of Austin will be the judge.

Also competing will be Frenship, Plainview, Levelland and Lamesa. Snyder's will be the final play presented, and will go on stage at approximately 4:45 p.m.

Crew members are Steve Taylor, Ryan Landes, Melanie Gibson and Benoit Gridelet. Alternates are Kim Burton, Jiletta Kubena, Selena Sutton and Jannica Northerns. Understudies are Eddie Neeley, Thomas Berge and Jason Cloe.

The play is under the direction of drama instructor Jerry Worsham.

This morning, some 47 Snyder High School students began District 2-4A UIL academic competition at the South Plains Junior College extension offices in Lubbock.

HISD calls special meeting on Monday

Hermleigh school district has called an emergency board meeting Monday to consider replacing a trustee who is resigning.

Supt. Jerry Church said the meeting is set for 7 p.m. to discuss replacing Ronnie Price, who is moving from the district. Price has served just under two years of a three-year term.

Monday, trustees will decide whether to appoint a replacement to fill out the term, leave the seat vacant, or place the unexpired portion of the term on the May 7 ballot.

Church, who contacted the Secretary of State's office, said it is his understanding that the unexpired term should be placed on the May 7 ballot.

"If it's less than six months (until the term expires) you can operate with a six-man board. If it's six months to a year you should appoint someone. And if it is more than a year, as is in this case, they recommend you put it on the ballot," said Church.

If the board does chose to put the unexpired term on the ballot, it would have to set up a brief filing period. Although all trustee places within the Hermleigh school district are at-large, candidates still must file for a full term or an unexpired term if there is one.

Currently, the district has nine candidates campaigning for three full board positions which come up for election in May.

WTC hosts UIL meet

Western Texas College is hosting the District 5-1A UIL academic contest today.

Schools involved include Hermleigh, Ira, Blackwell, Jayton, Loraine, Rochester, Roscoe, Highland, Rule, Trent and Westbrook.

Students competed in journalism, science, ready writing and computer science Thursday in Rule. All other academic contests were to be held today at WTC, beginning at 12:30 p.m.

Goodlett prepared for regional 'bee'

Jeremy Goodlett has one thing on his mind these days — spelling.

Since winning the Scurry County Spelling Bee on March 4, he has been getting ready for the next step — the regional bee slated Saturday at 1 p.m. at Irons Junior High School in Lubbock.

Winning isn't new to the sixth grader, who attends West Elementary. He won his school's bee in February and in past years has finished second at other bees. Saturday will be his first trip to the regional bee.

Jeremy has been concentrating on the intermediate and advanced words listed in "Words of the Champion."

To prepare, he said he studies words each night from 6 until 10 p.m. His mother, Debbie Guzman, often helps him with the pronounciations. She also encourages him to go over each word mentally as well as write them out.

He also received help from Dorothy Peterson, West teacher, as he and other students prepared for the school bee.

Since spelling bees "make me nervous," Jeremy said, his dad, Kenneth Goodlett, won't let him think about the bee either the night before or the day of the bee.

When not concentrating on spelling bees, Jeremy likes to play football or baseball with his friends after school.

Cream of Crop sale scheduled here Saturday

Angus, brangus, charlois, and hereford are just a few of the breeds that will be offered in the Cream of the Crop Club Calf Sale at the coliseum annex building Saturday.

The ranchers and their crews arrived in Snyder earlier this week to set up the arena and prepare the stock for the 3 p.m. sale.

Kris Black of Crawford, Okla. and Dean Ewing of Dodson, have returned to Snyder for a second year to sell their calves to area 4-H and FFA students.

Black said they begin selecting the calves well in advance of the sale. He said the calves are some of the top 200 selected out of a herd of 5,000 that will sell here, in Clinton, Okla., and in private treaty sales.

Black said in the past they had their sale in an area community but found Snyder's facilities to be better and less expensive, and the people friendlier. He said they had a good sale here last year and decided to return.

Approximately 50 calves will be offered in the sale, half of which were brought here by Ewing. He said he has been working with his calves for 2½ months to gentle them down.

The week of the sale they begin trimming and grooming the calves, very much like the kids themselves do for their stock shows. Ewing said it's a lot of work but worth the effort.

Tomorrow is prom night in Scurry County. Larry Crabtree, in the Vernon Daily Record, raised one daughter and remembers buying more than one special dress for that special occasion.

Crabtree says it is hard for him to understand how girls, who live in jeans, want and usually get a prom dress that is far beyond dad's means.

The Rotan Advance reported that the Midwest Development Corp. of Roby has been awarded a $50,000 grant from the Texas Ag Finance Authority to construct a prototype cyclone flame cottonseed delinting plant.

Rather than using acid, cottonseed is passed through a series of flames in a cyclone separator. The process is believed to be environmentally improved and more economical. The grant was announced by Texas Agriculture Commissioner Rick Perry.

The Post Dispatch reported that the city has experienced "a population explosion of sorts," resulting in a number of complaints.

The population increase is in the number of stray dogs and cats. The city council authorized a "get tough" campaign on stray animals.

The newspaper in Post also reported that preparation is being made for the first ever Old Mill Trade Days scheduled for April 28. Driving into Post from Snyder, Old Mill Trade Days can been seen in large lettering on the 100,000 square foot historic textile mill.

The Sweetwater Reporter has announced that Walls Industries will expand into the former Weyerhauser building to give the firm more room for shipping and receiving. Walls recently entered into a lease-purchase agreement for the building with the Sweetwater Enterprise for Economic Development Corporation (Seed).

Natural gas industry officials consider all pipelines safe

HOUSTON (AP) — Industry and government officials say there is no safer way to transport energy than through the nation's vast network of underground pipelines.

That's despite a pipeline explosion Thursday that levelled eight apartment buildings in New Jersey.

Some 1.7 million miles of pipeline carry oil, gas and other fuels around the nation, according to the U.S. Department of Transportation. Over the past decade, the federal agency says, there have been about 30 pipeline-related deaths, compared with hundreds for other such modes of transportation as rail and truck.

"Considering the miles of pipeline we have in the United States, it's still by far the safest form of transportation," DOT spokeswoman Pat Klinger said.

The section of line that ruptured and exploded near Edison, N.J., was inspected by DOT officials in 1987 and 1992 and found to be in good shape, she said.

Houston-based Texas Eastern Transmission Corp., which operates the 36-inch line, said it had thoroughly inspected the section in 1986.

"It's gotten a lot of attention over the last seven years. Two inspections from the feds as well as their own inspection team that we monitor," Ms. Klinger said.

She and officials in the natural gas industry said pipeline ruptures rarely are caused by mechanical defects.

"Most accidents like this are caused by third-party damage to the line" such as unauthorized digging, said Julie Stewart.

Degrees from six colleges may be obtained at center

HOUSTON (AP) — In what they hope will be a wise use of shrinking resources, state educators are planning a college campus for a Houston-area community where students could get a degree from any of six Texas universities.

North Harris Montgomery Community College will propose the "university center" next month for The Woodlands. Under the proposal, the University of Houston, Texas Southern, Rice, Sam Houston State, Texas A&M and Prairie View universities would offer classes in a building at the junior college.

"This is the cheapest way for the state to provide educational services without building new campuses," Commissioner of Higher Education Kenneth Ashworth said. "It is also the way least likely to result in the creation of a separate, freestanding university."

The center, modeled on a partnership at a suburban Detroit junior college and similar to one now being built in Dallas, would open in fall 1996.

Nancy Atlas, chairwoman of the Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board, said this proposal is a cost-effective way to offer educational opportunities. The community college district, not the state, will build and maintain the center.

Some have criticized the idea as another example of locating educational programs and facilities in predominantly white communities.

"We agree that students need access to higher education," said Al Kauffman of the Mexican-American Legal Defense and Education Fund. "However, it seems inconsistent of the state to support a new institution in an area that already has many fine institutions."

MALDEF's 1987 lawsuit alleged Texas discriminated against students in the border region.

Ms. Atlas said she expects the coordinating board to approve the center at its April meeting. The board still would need to approve each university's degree program before those classes could be offered.

Under the proposal, students would take upper-level courses offered by the universities after completing their community college work.

Faculty at some of the participating schools said they did not know their schools had the money to put resources into a Woodlands campus.

Some of the school presidents distanced themselves from the plan, telling the Houston Chronicle they understood faculty's concerns about the drain on resources. They said the center needs additional study before they determine their school's level of participation.

The community college's chancellor, John Pickelman, downplayed the concern, saying he has a letter of support from each president.

Senator makes education recommendations

AUSTIN (AP) — The Senate Education Committee chairman has proposed giving school districts more control over classrooms and cutting back the Texas Education Agency.

Sen. Bill Ratliff, R-Mount Pleasant, said Thursday his suggestions are meant to "reduce the red tape and allow more money to go to the classroom."

He is co-chairman of a task force that is reviewing the TEA and will formulate recommendations to the Legislature. Ratliff said his proposals are meant to "start the juices flowing" as the task force looks toward voting on recommendations later this year.

Among his proposals:

— Stop limiting school districts to a list of State Board of Education-approved textbooks that will be paid for by the state. Instead, give them an allowance to buy books and the option of selecting them from a recommended list.

— Limit the TEA's functions to a specific list focusing on establishment of what students are required to learn; student skills testing; distribution of state funding; and oversight of federally funded programs.

— Move the licensing of teachers, counselors and administrators from the TEA to a separate licensing agency.

— Require school districts to be issued charters by the State Board of Education. The type of charter would be influenced by the desires of people in the community and would allow more freedom from state regulation without the districts having to seek specific waivers from the education commissioner.

Some basic regulations could not be waived, such as health, safety and anti-discrimination requirements; class-size restrictions in lower grades; and limits on extracurricular activities for failing students.

— Make school board members subject to recall elections, just as city officials are.

— Ensure each school district has access to an alternative campus to which seriously disruptive and delinquent students can be transferred. Teachers could evict such students from their classrooms. And once in the alternative setting, Ratliff said, "We may have to have different rules for these folks. You may have to lay hands on some of these youngsters in order to get their attention."

Ratliff said his ideas on charter and home-rule school districts are close to suggestions made by Democratic Gov. Ann Richards, her Republican challenger George W. Bush and Lt. Gov. Bob Bullock.

Bullock, who praised the proposals, said pilot programs and foundations already are in place for many of them.

Margaret La Montagne of the Texas Association of School Boards expressed concern about the proposed ability to recall school board members. However, she said Ratliff's plan overall is "very much headed in the right direction" of more local control.

Richard Kouri, president of the Texas State Teachers Association, said "There aren't many things we disagree with ... in terms of concepts."

But he expressed some concern about the proposed change to the textbook selection process. The current process has featured pitched battles at the state level among various groups about, for example, approving books that include evolution or sex education.

"We worry about 1,100 war zones across the state (in different school districts) over textbook adoptions, instead of just one. We do have a concern (over) is it going to get into that kind of situation," Kouri said.

Bush's press secretary, Deborah Burstion-Wade, said she was pleased with the adoption of Bush's home-rule education ideas. "We still think there needs to be more downsizing of the TEA," she said.

Richards campaign spokeswoman Cindy Rugeley noted the governor's advocacy of charter schools and said she wants the TEA "pretty much pared back to the basics."

Which vessel, do you think, leaks from the top?

In bridge, you might be faced with the same problem, especially when defending. Do you play a suit from the top or do you lead a low card early?

Normally, if you are trying to establish your suit, you duck an early trick to keep communication with your partner. But not always.

Defending against three no-trump, West led the spade ace. With the queen in the dummy, attitude was known. So East dropped the two, showing an odd number of spades. From the bidding, this had to be three. So West continued with a low spade, giving declarer the trick he was bound to win and keeping communication with his partner. But South made West pay.

After winning trick two with dummy's spade jack, declarer cashed dummy's diamond ace and played a diamond to his king. West's heart discard was a blow, but not fatal. South played off his three club winners before leading a diamond to dummy's queen. West discarded a second heart. Deciding West hadn't started with 5-3-1-4 shape and the heart king, which would now be bare, South called for dummy's spade queen.

West won with the king and cashed two more spade tricks. But then he had to lead away from the heart king, giving South his eighth and ninth tricks.

If only West had played three rounds of spades at the beginning, the contract would have been defeated. And since he had the heart king as an entry, this defense was logical.

The vessel that leaks from the top, as pointed out by James Reston, is the government.

Your Birthday

Saturday, March 26, 1994

Your chart indicates probable success in two challenging endeavors in the year ahead. You might be able to figure out a way to successfully merge them.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Today you might be placed in an awkward position that could challenge your ability to be candid and frank. Nevertheless, it's best you do so, because if you employ guile it'll readily be discerned. Know where to look for romance and you'll find it. The Astro-Graph Matchmaker instantly reveals which signs are romantically perfect for you. Mail $2 and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to Matchmaker, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 4465, New York, N.Y. 10163.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Do not judge others by your intuitive perceptions today, because this mechanism could be malfunctioning and inaccurate. Let your common sense make judgments for you.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) A relationship with a close friend that has left you with disturbing feelings should be rectified today, because he/she is entertaining the same misunderstanding about you.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Don't waste the greater part of today waiting for another to fulfill a promise he/she has made to you. If you want this matter attended to properly, you must do it yourself.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) It might be wise today not to even attempt a task you find very distasteful. Your heart won't be in your work and you might foul it up.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Someone who thinks you're a pretty nifty person might try to bail you out of a self-created complication today, provided you resolve never to repeat the same mistake again.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Someone to whom you've recently gone for advice is a trifle disappointed with you, because he/she has discovered that what was offered has been substantially ignored.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Success in your endeavors is a strong probability today, and you should get an "A" for effort, but unfortunately perhaps only a "C" for undiplomatic tactics.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Financial trends look favorable for you today, yet there is a chance you might not fully capitalize on your opportunities [illegible] indifference on your behalf.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) What goes around comes around. Try to keep this in mind today, so that you won't knowingly take advantage of someone who isn't quite as sharp as you are.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Do not deliberately withhold information from a friend today that could help him/her much more than it could you. Envy mustn't be permitted in the picture.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Wishful thinking without appropriate action is a poor formula for trying to achieve objectives today. Be realistic in both analysis and operation.

James Jewel Osterberg became Iggy Pop following his stint as drummer and vocalist with a group called The Iguanas in the mid-'60s. He earned his reputation as the wildest man in rock & roll fronting The Stooges but by the early '70s, the group had disbanded and Iggy Pop was living in Florida and cutting lawns for a living. His career was jump-started by long-time admirer David Bowie, who worked on Pop's first solo album – "The Idiot" – and played keyboards with Iggy's touring band.

1. Which 1991 hit – featuring Kate Pierson of The B-52's on backing vocals – gave Iggy Pop his Top-40 debut?
2. In which 1990 John Waters movie did Iggy Pop star with Johnny Depp?

Answers: 1) "Candy." 2) "Cry-Baby"

WTC golfers host conference tourney

Western Junior College Athletic Conference golf teams took to the WTC course for a practice round today, preparing for the 54-hole Western Texas College Invitational, set for Saturday and Sunday.

New Mexico Military Institute, New Mexico JC, Midland College, Odessa College and WTC will play 36 holes on Saturday, then will return to the course Sunday morning for the final 18.

The Westerners' last outing was a seventh-place finish at the Gulf Coast Invitational in Galveston. WTC golfers shot a 313 on the first day of play at Galveston Country Club, then shaved 13 shots off their second-round score to move from a first-round 10th-place slot.

Leading the WTC charge on the coast were Monnie Soto, who carded a 76-74--150, and Charlie Garcia, who registered a 155 on rounds of 81 and 74.

Odessa College finished third at Galveston, led by individual medalist Travis Deibert, who set a course record with an opening-round 67, before adding an even-par 72 for a 139 total.

Tee-off time is set for 9 a.m. both days.

Non-district schedule closes with Saturday's tilt against Hobbs, NM

The Snyder Tigers will close out the non-district portion of their 1994 baseball schedule Saturday with a double-header against Hobbs, N.M. at Moffett Field.

The Tigers are coming off a twin-bill sweep of Class 3A's No. 3 Brownfield Cubs on Tuesday.

The Tigers are led by senior left fielder Jimmy Henry, who slammed a 3-run homer in Snyder's 19-0 win in Tuesday's nightcap, and senior catcher Brad Hart, who went 4-for-4 in an 11-6 win in the opener.

Saturday's starters are scheduled to be lefty Reagan Key, who scattered nine hits in a complete-game effort to win Tuesday's first game, in Game 1 against the Eagles, and Curt Rinehart, who limited the Cubs to a single hit in Game 2 Tuesday, in Saturday's late game.

Snyder carries an 8-7 season record into its last non-district battle. Saturday's first contest will begin at 1 p.m.

The Tigers will open District 2-4A play Thursday at 7 p.m. with a home game against Lamesa.

Area meets to include Snyder track squads

Snyder's track teams will return to the cinders Saturday following a week off for Spring Break when the boys' squad travels to Seminole to compete in the Indian Relays and the girls crew visits the Ector County ISD Relays in Odessa.

The SHS boys' last outing was a fifth-place finish in the Canyon Reef Relays, led by Chris Denson's first-place 136-5 in the discus, a runner-up time of 15.95 in the 110-meter hurdles by Jason Miller, and the sprint relay team of L.S. McClain, Tywayne Rivers, Terrell Jones and Anthony Jones, which came in second with a 45.79 clocking.

Snyder's girls wound up seventh at the SHS meet two weeks ago.

The Lady Tigers were paced by Jamie Prather, who took second in the 800 meters with a 2:34.92, then added a third in the mile with a 5:48.48, one of the area's top times this season, and Devon Reed's 13.38 third-place time in the 100 meter dash.

Both teams will be in action at next week's Mustang Relays in Sweetwater, followed by the Big Spring meet on April 9.

The District 2-4A gathering is set for April 15-16 at Frenship High School in Wolfforth.

SHS netters in Lubbock tourney

Snyder netters, coming off a week of Spring Break rest, will compete in the weekend Lubbock Tennis Tournament.

The SHS girls are led by Christina Gonzales, who took second in the team's last outing, the Snyder Invitational two weeks ago.

Other team leaders include Michelle Spencer and Katie Thornton, who made it into the doubles quarterfinals of the SHS tournament, and Amy Herrera, who was fourth in girls' singles.

Snyder's boys, who, like the SHS girls, came in second at their own tournament, are paced by Clay Koenig and Tracey Chavez, who wound up third and fourth in singles two weeks past.

SHS netters will visit tournaments in Abilene, April 1-2, and Midland, April 8-9, before the District 2-4A tournament, slated for April 15-16 at Levelland.

Johnson to remain with Cowboys

DALLAS (AP) — Jimmy Johnson intends to continue coaching the Dallas Cowboys, but owner Jerry Jones says he's taken steps to limit the team's financial obligation should he ever decide to fire him.

Johnson says he's "deeply hurt" by the way Jones has treated him, but he plans to remain the Cowboys coach, The Dallas Morning News reports in today's editions.

"I'm deeply hurt that after five years of total commitment to the rebuilding of the Cowboys, and after two consecutive Super Bowl championships, that I have been treated in this way. I will be in my office Monday morning, doing my job," Johnson said Thursday in a statement to The News, through his Miami-based representative, Nick Christin.

Johnson learned earlier this week from sources that Jones had threatened to fire him for a perceived snub and replace him with former Oklahoma coach Barry Switzer.

Jones has continued to brush off the incident, telling the Fort Worth Star-Telegram in today's editions that he had "no real regrets" about the events in Orlando.

Johnson has five seasons remaining under the terms of his guaranteed contract.

Johnson was provided a substantial increase in salary to $1 million per season since the Cowboys won the first Super Bowl.

On Wednesday, Jones told The News that he wouldn't have to compensate Johnson at the higher rate if he ever opted to fire the coach.

Annual WTC sports banquet...

Murrell named Dusters' MVP

By PHIL RIDDLE
SDN Sports Editor

Oklahoma City sophomore Paulita Murrell added still another post-season award to her collection with Thursday's Western Texas College MVP plaque.

Murrell and four other members of the women's basketball team were honored as part of the WTC Booster Club's annual sports awards banquet, held at 37th Street Church of Christ.

"Paulita had as much to do with our improvement as a team, and with our making it to the regional tournament this year, as anybody," said outgoing Western Texas coach Ron Jones.

"I'm really going to miss her."

Murrell, who averaged over 13 points and eight rebounds per game in leading the Lady Dusters to a third-place finish in the Western Junior College Athletic Conference and a 19-13 overall record, is a 6-0 post from Star-Spencer High School.

She had already been named to the All-WJCAC team and All-NJCAA Region 5.

Murrell was one of the first players recruited by Jones, who will be the head coach at Midland College next season.

Other cagers honored at the event included Norman, Oklahoma freshman Carri Moss, the Dusters' Offensive Player of the Year, Tammy Wilson, a Lampasas freshman who bagged the team's Defensive Player of the Year Award, sophomore Shrae Johnson, who earned the All-Around Player honor, and freshman Christy Cates, who claimed the Lady Duster Award for her academic accomplishments, as well as her dedication to the team.

Athletic Director Milton Ham served as Master of Ceremonies Thursday and also introduced the college golf team.

Ham presented plaques to the four sophomore members of his golf squad, Mike DeLos Santos of Seminole, Sweetwater's Chris Rogers, Jimmy Flores of Sanderson, and Odessa College transfer Isabel Soto of Seminole.

Western Texas coach Bob Doty also introduced members of the men's and women's rodeo team and had a few comments about his NIRA region-leading women.

"The girls have won every rodeo they've been to this season," Doty said. "That makes them the winningest rodeo team in the Southwest Region in the last several years. I'm really proud of them.

"I'm proud of the guys, too," Doty continued. "Hopefully, we'll be able to catch Vernon (Regional JC) and win the region. There are still a few rodeos to go. A lot can happen."

WTC cheerleaders Neally Hernandez, a sophomore, and freshmen Hillary Johnson, SHS graduate Melanie Duncan, Shauna Wells, Sarah Halsell and Amy McCord were recognized by their sponsor Mickey Baird.

"Just remember," Ham said to the athletes in his final remarks, "we have grown to love you and to care about you. We wish you the best of luck.

"You'll never make any more lasting friends than you've made at WTC."

Outgoing booster club president Bonnie Fry was honored with a gift in a closing presentation by former club president Jerry Lelek.

Robinson pours in 44 points as Boilermakers oust Kansas

by The Associated Press

The Big Dog ate up Kansas. Now Glenn Robinson will try to take a bite out of Duke.

Robinson, the nation's leading scorer, had 44 points Thursday night to lead Purdue to an 83-78 victory over Kansas at the NCAA Southeast Regional in Knoxville, Tenn.

The top-seeded Boilermakers (29-4) advanced to Saturday's regional final against second-seeded Duke (26-5), which downed Marquette 59-49.

"We know Duke is a great team with a great coach and a great player," said Purdue's Cuonzo Martin, who scored 29 points against Kansas. "We're going to celebrate this one tonight, and when we wake up we'll start to focus on Duke and get back to being all business."

Robinson and Martin were a tremendous tandem against the fourth-seeded Jayhawks. Robinson equaled his season average in the first half with 30 points, while Martin made eight of 13 shots from 3-point range in the game.

"Great players step forward in big games and they both did," said Purdue coach Gene Keady. "They feed off each other."

Duke 59, Marquette 49

All-American Grant Hill scored 16 of his 22 points in the second half to lead the Blue Devils over Marquette. Hill also finished with six assists and nine rebounds.

"Hill obviously made some very big plays at the end," said Marquette coach Kevin O'Neill. "He really kind of dominated the second half on the lob, the dribble, the post-up, the rebound."

Duke trailed 26-25 at halftime, but Hill started the second half with a 3-pointer that put the Blue Devils ahead for good.

Missouri 98, Syracuse 88, OT

Missouri, which was unranked at the start of the season, moved within one win of its first Final Four by beating Syracuse. The Tigers made all six of their field goal attempts in overtime after blowing the big lead in regulation.

Arizona 82, Louisville 70

After first-round losses the last two years, Arizona is one victory away from its first Final Four since 1988.

All five Wildcats starters scored in double figures against Louisville. Reggie Geary had 12 points, while Damon Stoudamire, Ray Owes and Joseph Blair each had 11.

'Bama downs Lady Raiders

AUSTIN (AP) — Alabama ended any hopes of a national championship repeat by Texas Tech, while keeping its own inspirational journey through the NCAA tournament alive.

Yolanda Watkins scored 17 points for No. 16 Alabama as the Crimson Tide used superior quickness to run off the defending national champs with a 73-68 victory in the Midwest Regional semifinals Thursday night.

For the Tide, which never trailed in the game and led by as many as 16 points in the second half, the victory marked another emotional step in a season dedicated to former top assistant coach Dottie Kelso, who died suddenly after a cyst burst in her brain last September.

"She has been a part of our season the whole year," said Tide guard Madonna Thompson. "Before each game we never forget her. It is a motivational factor. She (Kelso) wanted us to get to this point so bad, and it's great that we have."

The Lady Raiders, who were led by Connie Robinson with 21 points and Noel Johnson with 14, had a 9-3 run to close the game and make the score respectable. But Alabama dominated from start to finish.

Tech coach Marsha Sharp got her team to the Sweet 16 with three new junior college transfers in the starting lineup and without graduated scoring machine Sheryl Swoopes.

"It's been a satisfying coaching year," Sharp said. "We lost 54 points per game off of last year's team, but we still won 28 games. We struggled every time we took a new step as a team. We have accomplished a lot of things this year, perhaps some we really didn't expect to."

"We wanted our seniors to get back to the Final Four because we worked so hard to get there," said Robinson, who also had eight rebounds for Tech.

By beating the Lady Red Raiders, Alabama coach Rick Moody hopes the Crimson Tide finally get the respect he feels they deserve.

The Tide, who are the lowest remaining seed in the championship will face second-ranked and top-seeded Penn State in the regional finals Saturday.

An 18-8 burst by the Crimson Tide (25-6) at the outset of the second half, lightning ball movement and swarming defensive pressure wore down ninth-ranked Tech (28-5), the No. 2 seed in the Midwest.

Clinton tries to regain ground by releasing early tax returns

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dropping in the polls because of the Whitewater affair, President Clinton is struggling to regain ground by releasing tax returns dating back to his first days in public office in Arkansas. Republicans said his openness would help ease suspicions of wrongdoing.

"Cooperation, disclosure and doing the people's business are the order of the day," Clinton said Thursday night at an East Room news conference dominated by Whitewater questions.

Denying anew that there was any misconduct, Clinton promised to cooperate fully with Whitewater investigations. He said he and his wife, Hillary, expected to be interviewed by Whitewater special counsel Robert Fiske, and Clinton also left open the possibility of testifying before Congress.

"I intend to be fully cooperative so that I can go back to work doing what I was hired to do," Clinton said.

Taxes

teacher salary step increases for next year. That's $200,000 that doesn't fit within the tax $1.50 ceiling.

Still, while trustees are going to have to be frugal when approaching the budget, it might not be too bad, said McNair.

"When you have a decline in values, you have an increase in revenue from the state. We don't know at this point what the state revenue will be," said McNair. "We hope that it will allow us to set a tax rate lower than $1.50.

"There's always the possibility that you won't have enough funds; and the only place you can make major cuts is in salaries — and that means programs. But it's awfully premature to be talking about that right now."

But some districts are already considering such drastic actions. Just a week ago, Post ISD made the decision to cut choir from next year's budget, saving that district some $50,000. Garza County, like Scurry, has been hit hard by declining oil values.

McNair said preliminary revenue figures from the state will be in "pretty soon," although the timeline for trustees to work on the budget is uncertain. Normally, trustees begin working on the budget in June. However, the board is currently in the process of hiring a new superintendent, and that person won't likely come on board until July 1.

Last year, the district was facing a shortfall, but a miscalculation by the state and funds received from Ira ISD through Senate Bill 7 made up the difference.

Trustees wouldn't mind having that kind of help again.

What nobody wants to talk about is the 1995-96 school year, when the tax cap remains at $1.50, and oil values could easily drop another $55 million.

That will be good for taxpayers because their taxes probably won't go up. But unless the district gets some relief from the state or finds optional funding, it will almost certainly mean a cut in programs.

OECD member

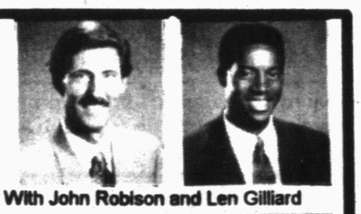

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Mexico has won admission to an influential club of industrialized democracies, a stamp of confidence on this emerging free trade nation reeling from the assassination of its top presidential candidate.

Mexico is the first Latin American nation to become a member of the Organization of Economic Cooperation and Development.

President Carlos Salinas de Gortari announced Mexico's admission into the Paris-based group Thursday at a meeting with business, labor and political leaders.

Declaring that Mexico was entering "one of the most important economic organizations in the world," Salinas said the killing of Luis Donaldo Colosio would not sidetrack free-market reforms.

From Somalia...

U.S. wraps up its withdrawal

MOGADISHU, Somalia (AP) — The United States completed its military withdrawal from Somalia today as Marines lowered their flags and headed back out to sea across the beaches they stormed 16 months ago.

With Cobra helicopter gunships flying a cautious watch overhead, 1,100 men of the 24th Marine Expeditionary Unit boarded Hellcat hovercraft, Huey helicopters and amphibious assault vehicles for the return to their ships.

It was a highly orchestrated exercise dubbed "Operation Quickdraw" that began as soon as the last plane carrying American soldiers and airmen left Mogadishu's seaside airport for Dover Air Force Base, Del.

As the giant C-5A Galaxy tucked its wheels into its belly, Maj. Gen. Thomas R. Montgomery, the commander of all U.S. troops in Somalia, gave the order for the Marines to leave.

Throwing great spumes of water, hovercraft raced ashore from a flotilla of eight Navy ships just offshore and Marines began packing their artillery and themselves aboard. Others jumped aboard Hueys and amphibious vehicles, tank-like craft that lumbered out through the surf.

It was a replay in reverse of the Marine landing in Mogadishu on Dec. 9, 1992, as the spearhead of a U.S.-led military coalition sent to save Somalia from a devastating famine that had already killed more than 350,000 people.

"We're very proud of what we've done here," Montgomery told reporters and cameramen gathered to watch the last Americans leave.

"There are hundreds of thousands of Somalis who live today" because of the efforts of American servicemen and women, the general said. "There are hundreds of thousands of Somalis today who do not want to see them go.

"But we have to go. It is now time for them to take responsibility."

Police note two arrests

Snyder police made two arrests Thursday morning and investigated complaints of assault and shoplifting.

Scurry County Health Unit employees contacted police at 9:15 a.m. in reference to a man coming on the property and refusing to leave. Officers arrested the 30-year-old man on charges of criminal trespass.

Also at 9:15 a.m., officers arrested a 38-year-old man in the 1700 block of U.S. Highway 84 on Lubbock DPS warrants for speeding and failure to appear.

At 3 p.m., a woman contacted officers in reference to being assaulted by another woman at East Elementary. A report for Class C assault was filed.

Police were called to Don's Value King at 8:12 p.m. Thursday in reference to employees having a shoplifter in custody. The subject was transported to the police department and later instructed to appear in municipal court.

Mattox garners endorsements from 6 Texas 'Hill' Democrats

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic Senate hopeful Richard Fisher isn't putting much stock in the latest endorsements obtained by rival Jim Mattox.

Mattox was endorsed Thursday by eight House Democrats from Texas, six of whom appeared at a press conference with him outside the Capitol.

"While I respect these congressmen, I don't think these endorsements have a lot of impact," Fisher said in an interview.

Mattox, predictably, thought otherwise.

"Having strong Democrats like those that have endorsed me today will have a very significant impact on making sure people understand who the real Democrat is in this race," he said.

At the brief news conference, Mattox questioned Fisher's credentials as a Democrat, pointing to Fisher's financial contributions to GOP candidates and his involvement in Ross Perot's independent presidential candidacy.

Fisher countered that the majority of his donations have been to Democratic causes such as the Democratic Leadership Council and the Progressive Policy Institute.

Standing outside the Capitol, the Democratic lawmakers said Mattox offered a clear contrast to Republican Sen. Kay Bailey Hutchison. The winner of the April 12 runoff faces her in November.

"We don't need two candidates that are pretty much the same in November," said Rep. John Bryant, D-Dallas.

What the Democrats need, Fisher said, is a candidate who can defeat Mrs. Hutchison. "Jim doesn't have a prayer," he said.

Also endorsing Mattox were Reps. Jack Brooks of Beaumont; Henry B. Gonzalez of San Antonio; Ron Coleman of El Paso; Martin Frost and Eddie Bernice Johnson of Dallas; and Gene Green and Craig Washington of Houston.

Dear Abby

Dad Goes to Head of Class For Knowing Rules of Road

by Abigail Van Buren

© 1994 Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: I am 13 years old and have been reading your column for more than a year now. My eighth-grade junior high class needs your help.

A boy in our class is in the hospital because he had an accident on his bicycle with a car. Our teacher talked about it in class. She said we should always ride with our bikes facing the traffic — like the way we walk on the road.

I told my class that my father said we should always ride our bikes on the right side — with the traffic. He said it is safer, and besides, that's the law.

Not everyone agrees. I told them that Dear Abby has lots of experts and we should ask you. Then they elected me to write to you.

Will you please check with your experts and tell us which is the right way to ride our bikes — with the traffic, or facing the traffic? Our teacher said she will put your answer on the bulletin board.

MRS. BRYAN'S CLASS

DEAR CLASS: Your father was right. According to the California Highway Patrol, "Bicycle riders and automobile drivers follow the same rules and have the same rights, and bicyclists should always ride with the traffic — in the same direction as the cars. Cyclists using the wrong side of the road are a common cause of bicycle accidents."

DEAR READERS: Here are some responses to the tongue-in-cheek poem "Eleven O'Clock Mass" about the Irish Catholics trudging to church Sunday morning while the Jews sleep in. I apologize to any and all my Catholic, Protestant, Jewish and Moslem readers who took it seriously and found the poem offensive. I assumed that all my readers would realize that it was intended as a lighthearted bit of humor.

DEAR ABBY: I read with interest the letter from an "Abby Fan" who wanted to know if your Catholic and Jewish readers would enjoy her poem concerning the "greatness of being a Jew" to sleep in on Sunday morning while her Irish Catholic friends trudged by and tramped on icy streets to go to Mass.

I think it is great to be an Irish Catholic and have faith in God and religion to give one day a week to honor God's glory. I wonder if "Abby Fan" would brave blizzards — or sunny weather, for that matter — to get up and attend synagogue on our Shabbat (Saturday morning or Friday evening). We Jews also celebrate the Sabbath with religious attendance.

I think Catholics, Protestants, Moslems and Jews are great when they give homage and respect to the 10 Commandments — "Remember the Sabbath and keep it holy."

RABBI ARNOLD STIEBEL, TEMPLE EMANU-EL, RENO, NEV.

P.S. Many Jews walk miles to synagogues each and every Sabbath and Holy Day. And many attend "minyans" (a quorum of 10 adult Jews required for communal worship) twice each day, each and every day of the week.

DEAR ABBY: As a practicing Jew, I strongly resent the inclusion of the poem in your column about an Irish Catholic going to Mass on a snowy Sunday morning while a Jew remains in bed. The implication that Jews do not brave the elements to attend worship at the synagogue is insulting.

"Abby Fan" asked you to print the poem if you thought that your Catholic and Jewish readers would enjoy it. Frankly, Abby, I for one definitely did not enjoy reading that poem. I believe that you owe all of your readers — Catholic, Jewish, Protestant and Moslem — an apology.

LESTER D. HEITLINGER, TAMPA, FLA.

DEAR ABBY: It seems that "Abby Fan," who wrote the poem "Eleven O'Clock Mass," should have added one more stanza in order to make it come out even. A suggestion:

"But won't those Catholics
"Laugh at me
"When the weather
"Turns bad on Saturdee?"

Unless, of course, the writer is not in the habit of going to the synagogue regularly.

GEORGE J. MOLL, BATESVILLE, IND.

DATE BOOK

March 25, 1994

Today is the 84th day of 1994 and the sixth day of spring.

TODAY'S HISTORY: On this day in 1992, cosmonaut Sergei Krikalev returned to Moscow after 10 months in space; he was amazed to hear that the Soviet Union no longer existed.

TODAY'S BIRTHDAYS: Arturo Toscanini (1867-1957), conductor; Bela Bartok (1881-1945), composer; David Lean (1908-1991), director; Howard Cosell (1918-), sportscaster, is 76; Gloria Steinem (1934-), feminist, is 60; Aretha Franklin (1942-), singer, is 52; Elton John (1947-), singer-pianist, is 47.

TODAY'S SPORTS: On this day in 1958, Sugar Ray Robinson defeated Carmen Basilio, becoming the first boxer to win five championship bouts.

TODAY'S QUOTE: "I wouldn't take the advice of a lot of so-called critics on how to shoot a close-up of a teapot." — David Lean

TODAY'S WEATHER: On this day in 1900, unusually large snowflakes fell on Richmond, Va., during the late afternoon. The greatest diameters of some could barely be covered by a teacup.

'Spotty' liver needs attention

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: A liver scan revealed that 40 percent of my liver is spotty, yet my doctor hasn't placed me on any special medication. I take Tagamet for a stomach problem and Prilosec on occasion when it is more severe. Could this have caused the spotty liver?

DEAR READER: A "spotty" liver means that portions of the organ are not functioning normally. This could be caused by a variety of factors, including cirrhosis (liver scarring), inflammation, or areas of blockage. Tagamet and Prilosec, drugs to reduce the production of excess gastric acid in patients with peptic disease, do not ordinarily affect the liver in the way you describe.

Because a significant part of your liver is involved, I suggest that you obtain a second opinion from a gastroenterologist. After examining you, the specialist will order blood tests and other examinations to determine the cause of your liver malfunction.

Don't delay. The liver is a vital organ necessary for normal metabolism; therefore, a treatable condition should not be ignored.

Because gallstones often damage the liver, I am sending you a free copy of my Health Report "Gallbladder Disease." Other readers who would like a copy should send $2 plus a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to P.O. Box 2433, New York, NY 10163. Be sure to mention the title.

DEAR DR. GOTT: For the past 16 years I've had something resembling prickly heat, only magnified. For no apparent reason and always at bedtime, I begin to scratch and claw at areas of my arms and neck to a point where I've torn the skin away. The problem will last for weeks or months and mysteriously go away for weeks or months. I've found that ice numbs the nerve endings and I can often make the ailment stop with the treatment. What's my problem?

DEAR READER: I don't know. I suppose you could have developed an allergic reaction to something in or near your bed. Animal dander, dust or detergent residue (in the sheets) are common factors — but I'm puzzled why the situation comes and goes.

Rather than relying on ice, which will really only relieve your symptoms and will not get at the cause of your problem, you should see a dermatologist for diagnosis.

If, in turn, you need an allergist, the skin doctor can refer you. Let me know what the specialist says.

Actress files breast implant lawsuit Thursday in Houston

HOUSTON (AP) — A television actress has entered the breast implant fray, filing a negligence suit against manufactuers of her ruptured silicone implants.

Farrah Forke, the actress who plays "Alex" on the NBC sitcom "Wings" filed suit Thursday. She's one of more than 3,000 women who have filed suits in Harris County, quickly becoming the tort center for those with defective breast implants.

The 26-year-old Texas native said in her lawsuit that she was harmed by the negligent design which caused her implants to rupture silicone. She added that neither the implant makers nor her doctor properly warned her of possible complications.

She received the implants in 1989. They were removed in February 1993.

The suit filed in state district court names Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing Co., also known as 3M, Dow Corning Corp. Dow Chemical Co., Dow Corning Wright Corp.

Also named are Inamed Corp. of Las Vegas, McGhan Medical Corp. of Goleta, Calif. and McGhan Nusil Corp.

McGhan Medical Corp., 3M and Inamed were successfully sued less than a month ago. In that case, a Harris County jury awarded three women $27.9 million. The verdict and award are believed to be the first involving leaking, not ruptured, implants.

Marsha Arko, a 3M spokeswoman said the company was withholding comment on Ms. Forke's lawsuit. As of late Thursday, 3M had not received a copy of the suit.

A message was left with a Dow spokesman and at McGhan Medical offices by The Associated Press Thursday.

There was no answer at Inamed Thursday evening and McGhan Nusil could not be reached.

Ms. Forke is also suing the doctor who performed the implant surgery, Dr. Bernard H. Bloom. He did not return a message left at his office Thursday by The Associated Press.

Facts About The BIBLE

BY JOHN LEHTI

THE DIFFICULTIES OF TRAVEL

TRAVEL IN BIBLICAL TIMES WAS AT LEAST A CHALLENGE. THE ROADS, IF THEY COULD BE CALLED THAT, WERE NIGH IMPASSABLE IN PLACES. ADDED TO THE DANGER OF ROVING BANDS OF BRIGANDS, THE SCARCITY OF PALATABLE DRINKING WATER OR WELLS TO DRAW FROM, MADE MANY A WEARY INDIVIDUAL WISH HE HAD FORGONE THE DUBIOUS PLEASURE OF THE TRAVEL THAT BROADENS AND EDUCATES. CARAVANS, THAT SLOWLY TRUDGED AWAY THE TIRESOME MILES, WERE THE MAIN EXPEDIENT BY WHICH THE PEOPLE WERE ENABLED TO REACH THEIR DESTINATIONS. AS A POINT IN FACT, YOU CAN SEE THE TEDIOUS DIFFICULTIES WHEN YOU REALIZE THAT BEFORE NEHEMIAH, WHO WAS TRAVELING BY SPEEDY CHARIOT, COULD SEE THE RUINS OF JERUSALEM, WHICH HE WAS GOING TO REBUILD, FOUR MONTHS WENT BY FROM THE TIME OF HIS SETTING OUT UNTIL HIS ARRIVAL AT THE RUINED CITY!
