DEPORT GIRLS WIN FIRST PLACE, RIVERCREST 2ND IN TOURNEY

Deport Tigerettes took a title for Texas as it won the girls' division of the first annual Four States Tournament in Paris Thursday night with a 46-40 decision over Rivercrest.

North Caddo, La., won the boys championship with an impressive 80-61 victory over the host Paris Wildcats in the finals.

El Dorado, Ark., took the boys consolation title game, downing Rivercrest 84-71, in the opening game Saturday night.

The previous night, the Cooper girls had taken the girls consolation trophy after downing Ouachita High School of Arkansas.

Rivercrest girls had eliminated Ouachita, 72-50 and Deport girls crushed Cooper in the opening game of the tournament, 73-37.

Rivercrest Rebels fought their way into the consolation finals by edging Hugo 68-65 on Wednesday night.

Horton of Rivercrest was one of two top scorers of the tournament, tying for top honors with Durham of North Caddo with 79 points.

In the girls bracket, Thomas of Ouachita was top scorer with 72; Scott of Cooper had 53, Keisey of Deport, 46, and Fry of Rivercrest 41. Allen of Deport had 38, Grayson and Sloan of Rivercrest, 33 and 31, respectively.

Deport kept a championship trophy in the area by winning the girls title. An the Tigerettes added the third tournament title to their streak. Deport had earlier taken the East Lamar and Paris Junior College championships.

Also, the two wins in the Four States tournament kept the Tigerettes at the top of pedestal. They are now 23-0 for the season.

Rivercrest made a last period effort to catch the Tigerettes, and came as close as four, but couldn't overcome the earlier margin Deport had racked up. It was the second time this season Deport has beaten Rivercrest in the finals of a tournament.

In the Deport-Rivercrest girls game, Deport shot into a 9-3 lead in the first minutes of play on the shooting of Rhonda Allen, and the Rebellettes were never even with the Tigerettes. At the end of the period, it was 12-9. By half-time Deport had a 24-15 margin, and the lead was the same after three, 34-25.

Rivercrest staged a rally in the closing minutes when it pulled within four at 44-40. But Allen broke loose for a layup with 13 seconds left in the game, then held on to the ball to the finish.

Connie Kelsey had 22 points for the Tigerettes, and Allen had 13.

Katy Fry had 17 for Rivercrest, and Glenna Grayson had 16.

El Dorado used the red-hot field shooting of Don Griffin to down Rivercrest in the boys consolation finals. Griffin got 15 field goals in the game, 10 of these in the second half. El Dorado had led by only five points at the half, 41-36.

Johnny Horton sank 29 of Rivercrest's points, and Don Logan rounded out the double figures with 14.

Trophies were presented to each of the champions and runners-up at the end of the final game. Awards were given to each of the participating squads.

Austin. — One of the big sleeper battles on the Texas political scene during 1966 will be for control of the state Democratic party machinery.

Some observers think this brewing struggle is behind the fuss between U. S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough and Gov. John Connally. Few think Yarborough has any intention of running against Connally for governor, as some have suggested.

But there is every reason to believe that Yarborough will be the key figure in any all-out liberal Democratic effort to wrest control of the State party committee from hands of the governor's friends.

Shifting population patterns and legislative redistricting tend to shorten long odds against a liberal victory in this year's conventions. Half the 6,000-plus delegates to the September state Democratic convention will come from 12 major counties where liberals are gathering strength.

Furthermore, the big counties will have more members on state party committees. This because of the Senate redistricting act, which adds senatorial representation in Bexar, Dallas and Harris Counties.

A personality clash at the top leadership level is necessary to whip up enthusiasm for convention warfare. The feud between Connally and Yarborough most likely will provide the spark that sets off the 1966 version of a familiar state Democratic fight.

Stakes are high, for not only is the party committee an effective power base but a powerful instrument in the process by which delegates are selected to the future (1968) presidential nominating convention.

Not since the administration of Coke Stevenson has a Texas governor lost control of the state Democratic party machinery.

BIG SAVINGS AIDED — State Finance Commission has adopted new regulations, effective January 1. Rules allow higher interest to depositors with big savings accounts and an interest break for late depositors in Texas chartered savings and loan associations.

Old rules required uniform interest rates for all savings accounts in the association. This new variable interest order, still partially subject to approval by the Federal one Loan Bank Board, is aimed at placing the state-chartered savings associations in a better competitive position with banks and federally-chartered savings associations.

One provision would allow "time account certificates" for investors who will keep $1,000 or more in savings for at least a year.

Other regulations would provide for paying a full month's dividend on money deposited by the 20th of the month instead of the 10th and for a full month's dividends on money withdrawn during the last three business days of a dividend period.

Under state regulation, associations have no ceiling on the dividends they may vote. However, interest returns have been running about 4 1/4 to 4 1/2 per cent.

Federal regulations adopted in December have boosted allowed dividends up to 5 1/2 per cent on time deposits.

BUILDING GAINS — November building throughout Texas increased seven per cent, despite a traditional decline during the 11th month.

A report from the UT Bureau of Business Research also shows total construction for the month came to $133,631,000, a figure exceeded only during August and in November, 1964. Texas building during 1965 did not set a record. Record belongs to 1964.

U. S. Department of Commerce sees a nationwide 11 per cent increase in non-residential building for 1966, but only a "small advance" in private housing construction.

COUNTIES ATTACK PROBLEMS — Texas counties now may get busy planning to solve their complex problems on a regional scale with state and federal aid.

Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr paved the way with an opinion saying the State Health Department is authorized by a 1961 act to "arrange planning assistance" when counties request it.

Cities and counties may pool problems and resources in a broad planning program under an act passed last spring.

Health Department has served as the administering agency for small cities in the past, and will continue this function. Federal funds are available for part of the cost—normally two-thirds for cities and up to three-fourths for cities in depressed areas.

Although no Texas county has a master plan in effect, some have been awaiting the green light from the attorney general so the federal agencies could provide the needed money.

Bexar, El Paso, Ector, Grayson, Jefferson, Nueces, Harris, Tom Green, Orange, Tarrant, Dallas, Denton and several other counties with rapidly changing areas are expected to join the program. Applications are made to the Health Department.

ATTORNEY GENERAL RULES — Attorney Gen. Carr has ruled that the Texas Water Development Board may pay the tuition fees of two employees to attend an eight-day course in Earth Control and Investigation conducted by the Bureau of Reclamation, Denver Laboratories. Tuition total would be $300.

In other rulings, Carr said: Firemen who participate in firemen's relief and retirement fund can draw out all payments made prior to Aug. 23, 1963, when leaving fire department employment. Special service charges and penalties assessed against small accounts by depositors cannot be considered in determining whether deposits are dormant and subject to escheat by state.

Alcorn Sees Real Danger Politicians' New Voter-Answering Machine

Editor's note: Achin Alcorn, philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Sulphur, takes a sidelong glance at a new machine in use in Washington.

Dear Editor: According to an article I read in a copy of a newspaper which was used for packing in a box of cups and saucers some body sent here during the holidays — if people were more thoughtful they'd use a bigger variety of newspapers for such purposes and not tear them up into shreds — at any rate, according to it, the Democrats now have and the Republicans are planning on getting one of those huge computing and electronic-brain machines which they use for answering mail.

As I understand it, the machine can memorize the names, including first names and nicknames, addresses and various bits of information about millions of individuals.

A Congressman just hands the machine a list of all his constituents with all the details about each one he has found out about. Then when he wants to write them a letter, explaining why he voted for or against something, or was opposed to a pay raise but was overruled by the majority, or wanting to know how they feel about some pending bill, all he has to do is write the letter and hand it to the machine, which in turn writes the same letter to every one of them, each one addressed individually and by nickname if desired, with little personal touches thrown in, and then signs them all and addresses the envelopes.

Now I have been thinking about this and while it sounds like real progress and a great time-saver, I believe those boys ought to be careful.

After getting prompt and efficient mail service from this machine, some voter may get the notion it could have other uses. If it can answer the Congressman's mail, why can't it receive it too? Instead of Congressmen having a machine to write to the voters, why couldn't the voters have a machine to write to instead of a Congressman?

If it can learn every voter in the district by his first name, answer 10,000 letters an hour, and digest the views of a million people in 30 minutes and vote accordingly, all it would have to do is learn how to shake hands, and where would that leave the Congressman?

This thing has vast and explosive possibilities and if I was a Congressman I'd get that machine surrounded with enough entangling legislation to keep its use from getting too widespread.

Yours faithfully, A. A.

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ney Blackburn Friday were his sister, Mrs. Hulene Conner of Daingerfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Crabtree and family have returned to Dallas after visiting his father, Pat Crabtree and Mrs. Crabtree.
