WITH POLLY

Mrs. Chubby (Pansy) Dent agrees that those Russian women do look stockier and stronger than the general run of American females. However, she's a might dubious about their skill as compared to American women. She said, before she was married Chubby used to always open the doors (and do all those little things it takes to win a woman) but after they were married a few years, she learned to open doors herself while carrying four children on her hips and a bucket of water in her hand. (How's that for skill?)

WELL, it's interesting to note that (one's former home state) I mean that foreign country to the north and east of us called Oklahoma really is an UP and COMING State, really on the ball, so to speak. The first day Oklahoma was legally and officially wet the state collected ($1,000,000) one million dollars in liquor tax. Apparently they were all UP AND COMING AND GOING to the liquor stores.

It takes speed to catch a humming bird, or at least I have always found it took more than I had, however the personnel at Stephens and Sons caught a green completed (I mean green feathered) little bird Wednesday. That just goes to show you that, that group is really on the ball. They don't take coffee breaks down there, in their spare time they catch humming birds to keep them in shape. So if some of you unsuspecting farmers who are out of shape from just old regular coffee breaks. Let me pass on this word of warning, don't go in to talk over those M-M implements unless you're in fairly good health, they may have you sold and the tractor warmed up and ready to go before you can get around to say "no". (In the future the store could be referred to as "Speedy & Sons, in stead of Stephens and Sons).

Mr. Gaston beamed as he was seated among breeders and judges who didn't know his boys, or their hogs and heard them always select the Springlake FFA boys swine, as they exhibited different breeds of hogs, and point out that their hogs would be their pick if they were judging at the Tri-State Fair in Amarillo. However, the judge was new and a native of Virginia, and after seeing him choose the more lean hogs instead of the firm hogs with perfect hams, Gaston laughingly said, "where he came from they must have put all their corn into whiskey instead of hogs."

New Press Box For Wolverine Stadium Nears Completion

By BUD IRVINE

As you go to Wolverine Stadium Friday night for the football game between Springlake and Muleshoe you'll notice something new has been added. A fine new press box has been erected to replace the old one which had become dilapidated and was also very inadequate because of its small size. This new press box will easily accommodate 16 or more, which will give local radio broadcaster, his spotters, the public address announcer, camera men who film each Springlake game, out of town scouts, out of town radio and newspapermen.

It has been built in such a way as to make it possible for it to be locked up after each use, thus preserving it against those who would deface it otherwise. It is a fine addition to the Springlake athletic facilities.

The Springlake school furnished the materials and boosters of Springlake have done the work.

Among those who have helped in this project are the following: Fred Clayton (Fred was asked by the Booster's club to take the oversight in this project, and he has done a wonderful job, giving nearly all of his time the past few days of this project), Carroll McDonald, Tuffy Dent, Mike Dent, Marvin Sanders, Golden Ferguson, Perk Lee, E. C. Hudson, Lynn Glasscock, Pat Montgomery, Don Townsend, David Allen, Larry Price, Basil Glasscock, Dutch Been, Leonard Henderson, and many of the school boys. Equipment was also used belonging to Barton Bros. Butane Co., Chubby Dent of Dent Farm Supply is furnishing the paint.

We take this opportunity of thanking these, and all others, who have had a part in this fine project. Especially those who have to work in the press box thank you.

The speakers are: Morgan Sturgis of Tulsa, Glenn Anear of Lubbock, Leroy Cowan of Amherst, G. B. Stanley of Olton, Joe Lomax of Amarillo and Virgil Trout of Lubbock.

K. D. Pittman is the regular minister for the church. The public is cordially invited to attend any or all of these services.

The Springlake Wolverine Band will be among the 29 bands in the Parade of Bands heading the parade on Broadway, Monday, September 28 at 10:30 a. m. opening the Panhandle - South Plains Fair in Lubbock.

Four classes of bands will participate in the competition. The classes are AAA, AA, A and B. The Springlake Wolverine will compete with bands in class A, which include Anton, Crosbyton, Wolforth, Hale Center, Idalou, Kress, Rails Petersburg and Sudan.

Judges for the Parade of Bands will be Donald Hatch, Wichita Falls High School band director; Robert E. Fielder, Abilene High School band director and Robert Mattox, superintendent of instrumental music, Odessa.

The Springlake Schools will be closed Monday for students to attend the fair and parade.

Springlake In First Win - Downs New Deal 6 To 0

By BUD IRVINE

The Springlake Wolverines traveled to New Deal Friday night, and picked up their first win of the season by downing the Lions 6 to 0. It was a nip and tuck affair until the fourth quarter when Wolverine halfback Ronnie Haberer sprinted 22 yards for a touchdown with only three and one-half minutes to play in the game. The pass try for extra points was no good.

The game was marred by a light rain that fell throughout the contest and made the ball extremely difficult to handle. Springlake fumbled nine times, recovering their own fumble on four occasions, while New Deal fumbled three times, making a total of 12 fumbles in the game. Also, several passes were dropped that otherwise might have been caught.

Springlake thoroughly outplayed New Deal, but the Wolverines ran into tough luck. In the first half Hal Hudson threw a pass to Tom Messer who ran over for a touchdown, the play covering 75 yards. But clipping was detected against Springlake, and the play was called back. Also in the last quarter Hudson threw to Messer again who was downed on New Deal's one yard line, the play covering about 45 yards, but once again it was called back because of offensive holding against a Wolverine.

Springlake showed a good defense holding the Lions to just 18 net yards rushing from scrimmage. New Deal made nothing in the last half from rushing, and counting the 45 yards they gained passing, accumulated only 63 total yards. Meanwhile Springlake picked up 115 yards rushing and 69 passing for a total of 184 yards.

In the first quarter neither team could move the ball consistently, with Springlake picking up just 21 yards and New Deal 35. In the second quarter it was even worse as Springlake had minus 6 yards and New Deal minus 17 yards. Most of these losses went to the quarterback as he faded back to pass and was thrown by linemen.

In the third quarter Springlake moved the ball fairly well but just couldn't keep a sustained drive going. New Deal could do nothing on the ground but did pick up 15 yards in two passes in the third quarter.

Mid-way in the final quarter Hudson fired the long pass to Messer who went to the one yard line, but it was called back due to holding, as previously stated. Then Springlake lost the ball on a fumble after going down to New Deal's 28 yard line. New Deal on the next play tried a pass and it was intercepted by Springlake on New Deal's 27 yard line. On the first play Hudson carried 5 yards, then Haberer made his 22 yard dash over the left side of his line, cutting back over the middle, for the only score of the night. Hudson tried a pass to Messer in the end zone for the extra points, but it was incomplete. So the game ended Springlake 6, New Deal 0.

It was an exciting game to watch, the outcome always in doubt; but it appeared to this writer that it was very raggedly and loosely played. Perhaps the rain had something to do with it.

Next Friday night Muleshoe comes to the Wolverine Stadium to take on the Wolverines, and the Mules are fresh from a 43 to 0 victory over Portales last Friday, a team that Springlake barely managed to hold to a 12 to 12 tie. So, the Wolverines have their job cut out for them this Friday. Let's be on hand to rout our boys on to victory. Incidentally, last Friday night's victory gives Springlake a record of one win, one loss and one tie for the season thus far.

Junior High And Freshman Game Tonight at Sudan

The junior high and senior high freshman football teams travel to Sudan tonight, (Thursday) to take on the Hornets in two games. The junior high school game will begin at 6 p.m., with the senior high freshman game following.

The junior high boys will be looking for their first win, as they lost to Farwell in the opener two weeks ago 39 to 14.

This will be the first game for the freshmen, as their own game with Farwell was cancelled after about four plays due to power failure of the electrical plant.

Let's all go to Sudan tonight to cheer on these junior high boys and freshman boys who will make up the Wolverine varsity team in years to come.

Just before serving add 1 cup sour cream. Thicken gravy with 1 tablespoon flour and 2 tablespoons water. WITH REVOLUTIONARY TORSION-SPRING SUSPENSION THAT GIVES ASTONISHING NEW SHOCKPROOF ACTION !!!!!

Chevy's done the next best thing to paving every road in America!
First they threw out the front axle and put in torsion-spring independent suspension. Then they built wide-base coil rear springs into most light-duty models, variable-rate leaf springs into heavies. That made it—a ride that completely eliminates I-beam shimmy and wheel fight, lets you move faster over any ground to get more work done in a day.

Brawnier bulldozer build!
They're tougher than any Chevy trucks ever made. Frames are stronger, cabs 67% more rigid. Front wheels and tires are precision-balanced. And that new suspension cushions jars and road shock that used to spell slow death for the truck's body and sheet metal.

More comfortable cabs!
Easier to hop in and out of, too. Many models are a whole 7 inches lower outside. Yet there's more head room inside, plus more width for shoulders and hips. The windshield's bigger, with a wider, safer sweep of vision. Suspended pedals give you more foot room.

THE DRIVER'S SEAT

The dusty but determined old convertible rumbled up to the two gas station attendants and hiccupped nervously. Its driver, an equally determined young woman, stuck her head out the window and shouted:

"How do I get to Uppercross?"
"You mean that fancy sassy-type golf club, other side of Tolepolis?"

"That's the one. I just came from Carville, and I'm trying to make the club my 8:00. My boss is speaking at a meeting there."

The older attendant turned to his young sidekick, lifted and eyebrow and winked. "Think she'll make it by 8:00 Des?"

"Doubt it," returned Des. "It's 7:15 now Dad. I mean, like if she goes around the city, she'll have to back up five miles to the bypass, and then really put her foot through it to eat up those 39 miles to the driving range in this bomb. Through the city's worse, though it's only half as far."

"Through the city sounds better," the girl interrupted. "Please, how do I get there that way?"

"Well now, if 'twere me," the gray-haired grease monkey ventured, "I'd take this road a piece more, to Albemarle Street. Take Albemarle to Dreissick — that forks to the left just past a little bridge. Look sharp for that bridge, because the sign's kinda small, and you kin hardly make it out at night, 'less you're spittin' distance from it. Ain't like them new green and white signs on the tollway, that shine at you when your lights hit 'em."

"Now Dreissick comes out into Altrenate 34 right at the railroad underpass. The intersection is kinda confusin', 'cause the big route sign at the crossing is rusted over, and hard to figger when it's dark."

"You take 34, which is to say Maynard, south through the west side o' town maybe five, six miles to Midwest Avenue, and take care you spot the stop signs. They creep up on you in that section — can't hardly read those old ones. Turn right on Midwest, three miles out of town, and Uppercross is to your left."

"Don't you think you ought to warn her about the new construction on 34, Dad?" asked Des.

"Never mind the construction

100 Years Of Oil

The oil industry, which makes the gasoline and oil that keeps our cars on the go, observes its 100th anniversary this year.

The first oil well in the United States was drilled at Titusville, Pa., August 27, 1859.

The driller charged his employers $76.50 for his hand-made tools, plus $2.50 a day for his labor and that of two boys. At 69 1/2 feet he hit oil. It was sold for as much as $40.00 a barrel. Most of it was used in making kerosene for stoves and lamps.

Drilling costs have risen, the price of oil dropped in the last hundred years.

My company — Shell — recently rented (at about $5,000 a day) a $4 million sea-going drilling rig to look for oil fifty miles off the Louisiana coast, where the water is 105 feet deep. The huge rig contains air-conditioned living quarters and a laundry, galley and lounge for a 40-man crew. It also has a heliport for air service between rig and shore. It can drill six wells, each five miles deep, before being moved by tug to a new location.

And yet, the oil it finds — if the company is lucky — will be sold for about $3 a barrel. It will be used for more than a thousand petroleum products, including gasoline, fuel oil, lubricants, jet fuel, asphalt and chemicals.

The oil industry has made progress in the last 100 years — and so have the rest of us, with the help of the products it makes.

Remember the good ol' days — when charity was a virtue, not an industry?

A college boy's father is the kin he loves to touch.

No reason for doing it is good reason for not doing it. Always do right. This will gratify some people, and will astonish the rest. Spend more time with people you like least and you'll find them very likeable.

You can be just a Christian...

Has it ever occurred to you that you can be just a Christian... nothing more nor less than a plain Christian?

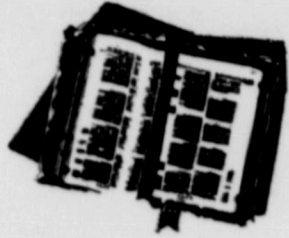

Yes, even in the midst of the religious confusion of our creed-bound, denomination-divided age, it is possible for you to be just a plain Christian!

What does it mean to be just a Christian? Well, being a Christian means so much more than merely being a good moral person... more than just going to church on Sunday... more than giving mental assent to certain beliefs... more than having one's name on a church roll.

Being just a Christian means trusting and obeying Jesus Christ just as Paul and Philip and the early Christians did in the first century after Christ. It means going back beyond all the distinctive Catholic and Protestant doctrines of today to find Christ just as He is revealed in the inspired New Testament. You see, there were no different denominations in the beginning of Christianity. The early disciples were all one body. They were called simply "Christians" (Acts 11:26). They did not follow different creeds, but were guided by "the faith once for all delivered to the saints" (Jude 3). The New Testament, first as the spoken word and later as written down by "holy men of God" as they were guided by the Holy Spirit, was their only rule of faith and practice.

(11 Peter 1:21). We have this same New Testament today and can reproduce the same pure Christianity which flourished in the first century after Christ. We can be just plain Christians!

To find out the details of just how you may become and remain just a plain Christian like Peter and Barnabas and Aquila, you must open your own New Testament and read for yourself. We suggest that you begin with the Acts of the Apostles. You will find that Jesus built only one church, and God added everyone who obeyed the gospel of Christ to this undenominational church, the body of Christ (Matthew 16:18) (Acts 2:47). The Bible teaches that you will be added to this same body today when you believe in Jesus Christ as God's Son, repent of your sins and are baptized for the forgiveness of sins (Acts 2:38). Why not become just a Christian and worship and work in the non-denominational church of Christ?

REX LOFTIS

Rex Loftis Expected To See A Lot Of Action With Buff Saturday Night

CANYON. (Special) — Former Springlake High School footballer Rex Loftis is expected to see a lot of action Saturday night when West Texas State College meets the University of Arizona in their new 20,000 seat stadium.

The 6'1", 190-pound Loftis, who is classified as a senior, will be playing as fullback. A near-capacity crowd, the largest in the Panhandle's sports history, is expected for the historic occasion.

Arizona, a school of 12,000 enrollment should make an attractive opponent for the stadium inaugural. The Wildcats, who boast a lot of prestige in the collegiate sports world, regularly play such powers as Alcee Force Academy, Colorado, Oregon, and Utah in football.

If the scores of the last four meetings can be used as a measuring stick, the Buifs and Wildcats should stage a thriller. In 1955 the two schools battled to a 20-20 tie; Arizona won, 29-13, in '56; the buifs triumphed, 21-20, in '57; and Arizona won a close one, 15-8, last fall.

Tickets for Saturday's game are on sale at many key locations in the area, including all Steamrock stations. They range from $1 to $3.50 for adults and students (high school age or below) - will be admitted for 50 cents.

Loftis a physical education major, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Loftis of Springlake.

Aphids Should Be Controlled On Late Cotton

Late planted cotton is generally infested with aphids, which should be controlled with parathion or methyl parathion. Both of these materials are toxic to higher animals and should be used with caution. During the spraying the operator should not be exposed to drift. If it is not practical to apply these materials with caution, malathion should be used. Repeated dosages of any of these materials may be necessary to obtain adequate control.

Fleahopper infestations continue low in a majority of fields while in some plantings damaging infestations should be controlled. The heavier infestations were generally reported in early planted fields. Heavy infestations were reported in some fields in Crosby, Dickens, Hockley, Howard and Lamb Counties. Light to medium infestations were reported from other counties.

Bollworm activity has increased somewhat over the previous week but infestations were generally light to medium. Heavy infestations were reported in some fields in Hockley County. Since most cotton is in an attractive stage fields should be checked for presence of eggs and small worms.

Cabbage loopers were found in most fields but no damaging infestations were reported. Grasshoppers continued to cause some damage to cotton bordering on grasslands in occasional fields.

National P.T.A. Sets Goal: Over 12,000,000 Members

More American children than ever before are enrolled in school this fall.

And more and more of their parents and teachers will be P.T.A. members by the time the National Congress of Parents and Teachers concludes its annual October membership enrollment.

Through the efforts of the millions of parents and teachers already working in P.T.A.'s, children all over the United States are assured the closest kind of home-school cooperation on their behalf. Out of this working together of home and school have come higher educational standards, curriculums geared to the needs of today's world, more adequate school facilities and more effective parent education programs and, of course, good playgrounds, safe sidewalks, driver-training classes, and continuous health programs.

Mrs. James C. Parker, of Grand Rapids, Michigan, president of the National Congress, points to such P.T.A. achievements as "a significant factor" in the growth of the National Congress, which already ranks as the world's largest voluntary organization.

"A membership of more than 12,000,000 is our goal this year," she says, "and we intend to call on all the families we can to enroll new members — whether parents or teachers or other citizens with a real interest in children."

Work for All
The variety of P.T.A. activities, Mrs. Parker believes, "offers all members an opportunity to work on the many problems that involve the welfare and advancement of the nation's children."

Because the P.T.A.'s chief concern is for children, its action on their behalf starts even before they're ready for school.

—A pre-school program emphasizes the child's health, his safety, and his sound emotional development. It may take the form of an immunization project like that undertaken in Tennessee's Washington County, where children started to school this fall protected against diphtheria, smallpox, whooping cough, and polio—because P.T.A. members took the lead in a county-wide fight against communicable disease.

—When a child takes the big

Standing beside the P.T.A. oak tree emblem, Mrs. James C. Parker, president of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, prepares to sow symbolic acorns in an effort to reach the goal of more than twelve million P.T.A. memberships. She urges P.T.A. members to "call on all" during membership enrollment month.

step into school, the P.T.A. offers a ready-made meeting place where parents and teachers work together for the child's academic and social development. The Kenosha, Wisconsin, Council of P.T.A.'s, for example, sponsored a summer-long elementary school clinic for children who had difficulty in reading.

—Youngsters who have special problems get attention in another phase of the National Congress' program. Language barriers are being breached for Puerto Rican children attending school in Camden, New Jersey, because local P.T.A.'s sparked a move to hire a Spanish instructor who works with these children in their daily English classes.

Teens Get Attention
—Teen-agers are helped, too, by P.T.A. programs designed to spur their development into responsible citizens. In Evanston, Illinois, high school students can look forward to receiving sound advice on future vocations, thanks to a P.T.A. guidance program that culminates in a day-long career conference.

—Because of its interest in children, the P.T.A. also offers adults many chances for constructive community work that will benefit children.

Through the years, the National Congress consistently supported kindergartens, promoted hot lunch programs in schools, alerted the public to violations of child labor statutes, improved the standards of treatment for juvenile offenders, and backed programs to focus attention on the urgent needs of the public schools.

"The more members we enroll," Mrs. Parker points out, "the more opportunities the National Congress will have to work for the well-being of all the nation's children."

Tips on Touring

By Carol Lane
Women's Travel Authority
Travel, Children, And Education

When you take the youngsters on a motoring trip this summer, combine fun with learning. Whether it's a two-week vacation, or a week-end jaunt, such a trip can be more rewarding than just "getting away from it all."

For parents planning trips with children, here are tips from the Bureau of Curriculum Research of the Board of Education of the City of New York:

If you plan to visit a museum, check the visiting hours and days. Some museums curtail their summer schedules.

Whatever the goal, agree on it before you start. Make sure the place to be visited will interest your children. A place which interests you may have little attraction for them.

Limit what you see on one day—especially at big museums. Save something for a second or third trip.

Take a camera and make a picture story of your day's outing. Keep a scrap book of the literature you gather on your visits. Junior will want to take it to school next fall.

Read ahead of time about the historic significance of a place to be visited.

Plan your trip with a map. Let the children study the map with you; map skills are often learned this way.

Plan your trip to avoid hurry. Many sights are really "new" to children—give them time to satisfy their curiosity. This is the best of learning.

WYNNE CHESTER SAYS:

Get Ready — Get Set — And Then GO HUNTING!

The time to get ready for the shooting days ahead is now, and what better place for a gal to start than with clothes. Sportswear designers have created some perky shooting outfits for the fair sex this year, so you'll have lots of attractive items to choose from. You'll have the most fun if you dress comfortably, though, and in field clothes comfort means light weight, proper warmth and freedom of action. The secret of warmth is dressing in layers... a cotton knit blouse, sweater and water-repellant jacket with a warm lining, for instance. On really cold days you may want to add red long Johns, but don't let the prospect dismay you... they feel good. Slacks should be loose-fitting, but tapered to fit into ankle-high boots that fit properly and give good support. Water-proofing helps, too. Be sure to break them in at home before you take to the field. Top your outfit off with a gay hunting hat (yellow is the color with hunters this year) and you're set to join hubby at his favorite sport.

INTO THE JUNGLE —

It is possible that Krushchev's visit to the U. S. can result in progress in human relations by having him see first hand what this country is accomplishing.

The Adams, New York, Journal said, "there is an earnest desire . . . for a just peace . . . We can only hope that the Russian dictator will take back to his people some of the truths he sees, and thereby lessen the chance that an act of hate, ignorance, or desperation might someday precipitate the use of atomic weapons."

"It would be fatal now to be beguiled by the smiling face of Mr. Krushchev. It could be equally fatal to be so blind as not to see that his tiger may be wounded; it is unlikely that he has desire for peace, but he may be as anxious as we are for a truce. It is certainly a foolish hunter who drives the wounded tiger into a desperate corner.

"To recognize this is not, as some suppose, to abandon principle and morality . . . it is rather to recognize that when we step into the world beyond us we have entered a jungle, where survival requires more than the righteousness of man or the cunning of the beast. It is not so difficult to be righteous or cunning. It is very difficult indeed to be wise."

ON THE SPOT —

It looks like the labor bosses, with their aggressive political action programs, and box scores on how members of Congress vote, are going to put a lot of senators and representatives in the position, justly or unjustly, of being the "tools of big labor."

SOME DIVIDENDS! —

E. F. Hutton writing in the Houston, Texas, Chronicle, has something illuminating to say about the economics of medical care.

"We gripe about the rising costs of hospital care and doctor's bills," he says. "Because they hit us 'when we are down,' they seem worse than other rising costs of living.

"But there is an unnoticed silver lining. We live longer, stay well longer and get really sick less often than in days of yore. More sick people get well, and get well quicker than in the 'good old days'.

"Modern medicine, surgery and drugs have added seven years to the average life span since 1940. They have reduced the average length of hospitalization by more than 16 days in the past 20 years, and made rapid cures possible in thousands of cases without going to a hospital. Some dividends!"

There seems to be a more or less widespread feeling that medical care costs have outrun general price increases. That view has been supported by statistical comparisons using base periods which result in a misleading conclusion. A fair comparison presents a very different picture. For instance, in the 20-year 1938-58 period the consumer price index rose 104.8 per cent. Medical care costs rose 99.2 per cent. And physicians' fees rose 83.9 per cent . . . substantially less than the general index.

Statistics aside, how much are seven more years of life span worth? How much is health worth? How much is speedy and complete recovery from illness worth? Such questions are impossible to answer in terms of money. But, whatever one's personal feeling, the medical care dollar buys an enormous return.

YOUR TAX BILL —

How much money in taxes will the average man pay between now and age 65?

Frank R. Ford has figured out the answer, in an article which appeared originally in the New York World - Telegram and The Sun and has been condensed in Reader's Digest.

This average man is 29 years old, makes a little under $100 a week, and has a wife, two children, a low-priced car and a mortgaged home.

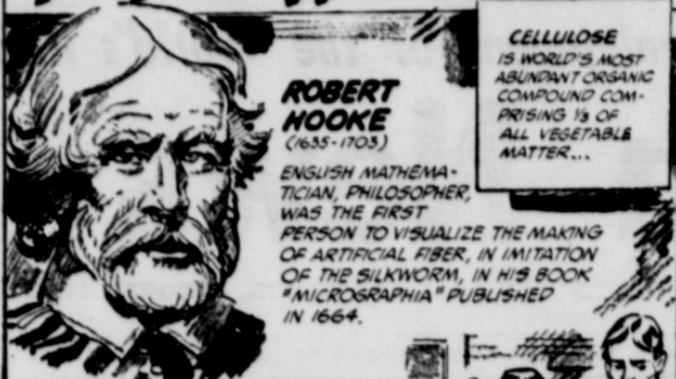

In the next 36 years, says Mr. Ford, he can expect to pay $47,221 in taxes. That amounts to $25.23 a week . . . or more than 25 per cent of his income.

Federal income taxes are the biggest single item. Even so, they come to but 44 per cent of the total. The balance consists of social security taxes, real estate taxes, personal property taxes, taxes on gasoline and tires, sales taxes, state income taxes, and so on.

To cap the climax, Mr. Ford emphasizes that the figures are conservative . . . for they don't take into consideration future tax increases. And the way things are going, increases seem as certain as tomorrow morning.

What it amounts to is that the average man puts in a quarter of his time in behalf of the government. Then, what money he has left has been ravaged by inflation.

Why we built two cars for 1960 . . . as different as night and day

On October 2—for the first time in Chevrolet's 49-year history—you will be able to walk into your dealer's showroom and see two totally different kinds of cars. ■ One is the conventional 1960 Chevrolet, brand new in appearance and more beautifully refined and luxurious than you can imagine. ■ The other is unlike any car we or anybody else ever built—the revolutionary Corvair, with the engine in the rear where it belongs in a compact car. ■ We'd like to tell you why we built two such different cars, how we built them—and for whom we built them.

Why two kinds of cars? Because America itself has been going through some big changes in the past few years. Our cities have been straining at their seams. Traffic is jam-packed. Parking space is at a premium.

And our suburbs have spread like wildfire. People are living farther from their work, driving more miles on crowded streets. There is new leisure time—but more things to do. There's a new standard of living—and more need for two cars in the family garage.

In short, America's automobile needs have become so complex that no one kind of car can satisfy them completely. That is why we at Chevrolet, keeping tab on these trends, have had a revolutionary compact car in the planning stages for more than nine years.

Thus, when we decided three years ago to prepare for production of such a car we were ready to build it the way it should be built. There was no need for a hasty "crash" program that would create only a sawed-off version of a conventional car.

That is why the two cars you will see in your dealer's showroom October 2 will be two entirely different kinds of cars. One is the conventional '60 Chevrolet—brand new in beauty, with new space inside, new spirit under the hood, a new feeling of sumptuousness and luxury never before attained by any car in its field. There is great V8 power linked with new thrift, plus Chevrolet's superb 6-cylinder engine. It is a traditional car that comes even closer to perfection—in silence, in room, in ease of control, in velvety ride—than any other car we have ever made.

The other is the Corvair, a compact car that is astonishingly different from anything ever built in this country. It has to be—because this is a six-passenger compact car, with a really remarkable performance . . . a car designed specifically to American standards of comfort, to American traffic needs.

The engine is in the rear. Among the basic advantages resulting from this engine location are better traction on a compact 108-inch wheelbase and a practically flat floor. But to be placed in the rear, the engine had to be ultra light and ultra short. So Corvair's engine is totally new—mostly aluminum and air cooled; it weighs about 40 per cent less than conventional engines. It is a "flat" horizontally opposed six—so it is only three cylinders long . . . and that leaves a lot more room for passengers.

Another weight saving: like modern airplanes, the Corvair has no frame; the body-shell supplies it great structural strength . . . it's a welded unit that is virtually rattle-free.

The ride is fantastic. But to get it we had to design independent suspension at every wheel; conventional springing would give a compact car a choppy ride. Right now we'll make one prediction: no other U.S. compact car will ride so comfortably, hold the road so firmly and handle so beautifully.

Now there are two kinds of cars from Chevrolet—because it takes two kinds of cars to serve America's needs today. If you love luxury—the utmost in luxury—and if you want generous interior space, breath-taking performance, automatic drives and power assists—then the conventional '60 Chevrolet may be your choice.

If easy parking, traffic agility and utmost economy are high on your list—then you should seriously consider the Corvair. But the best thing to do is to look these two new cars over at your Chevrolet dealer's . . . take them out for a drive. It may be that the only logical choice for your family between two cars like this is—both. They make a perfect pair.

Fifth Graders Make Trip To Amarillo

FIFTH GRADES

The three fifth grade classes of the Springlake school recently attended the Shriner's Circus in Amarillo.

Pupils were asked to write a theme on their trip to the circus.

The themes of Linda Starkey, Dwayne Montgomery, Anita O'Hair and Danny Haberer were selected as the four best themes.

They are as follows:

LINDA STARKEY "OUR TRIP TO AMARILLO"

Saturday morning at approximately 9:30 a.m. the three fifth grade classes of Springlake Junior High School left for Amarillo.

On our way to Amarillo we went by Buffalo Lake. After that we went on to the Canyon Museum.

At the museum we saw on the first floor exhibits of early Western days. They had branding irons, saddles, spurs, cowboy's clothes, chaps, boots and other Western things. In one part it showed the early dentist office, the early kitchen, the early bedroom, the early living room and the early saloon. In another part they had old tools, windmills, cars and carriages. In another part they had what I called a hall of fame with pictures of famous people.

In the basement they had bones and skeletons of prehistoric animals. They had arrow heads, pottery, clothes, and shoes of Indians. There were rocks and minerals and costly ores.

On the second floor there were about one hundred art paintings. They had also old trunks, chests, chairs, tables, and interesting things.

After visiting the museum, we went to Washington Street Park.

There we had dinner and played. After lunch we went to the Shrine's Circus. This was very funny. At first they had a story book parade, with Alice in Wonderland. There were the Three Little Pigs and many other storybook characters. Then actors were performing simultaneously. Everybody ate all they wanted at the circus.

Then we left for home about 6:30 p.m. We got home about 8:30 p.m. on the bus, then our mothers took us home.

DWAYNE MONTGOMERY "THE TRIP TO THE MUSEUM AND CIRCUS"

We went to the museum and to the Circus Saturday. We went on the school bus. We left the school house at 9 a.m.

We went to Canyon and went through the museum. There were many old cars and wagons. It was like we see in the movies.

There were stuffed animals. There were beavers, mountain lions, bobcats, wolves, coyotes, buffalo and a fawn.

There were stuffed birds of all kinds.

There were Indian clothes, cooking pots, beads and bow and arrows.

There was a lot of old furniture and plows. There were old saddles too.

We left Canyon and went to Amarillo for dinner. We ate in the park. We played a while after dinner, then we went to the circus.

The circus had many acts. A woman had seven lions do some tricks. There were a lot of trapeze acts. There was a man and woman on a ladder about fifty feet

Heralding a new "breakthrough" in automotive design, the Ford Falcon—shown here with three views of the Fordor model—is all-new from the ground up. Functionally styled, the Falcon has a full length sculptured side panel that adds grace to its lines and provides greater strength for doors and side panels. The Falcon's all-new 90-horsepower six-cylinder engine is designed to give up to 50 per cent better gasoline mileage than standard cars.

In the air. The woman hung by one foot from the ladder.

The monkeys were cute, but they were mean. One chased a man with a shovel.

There were horse, elephant, and dog acts.

Five people rode on a bicycle at once.

There were lots of clowns. They did funny things. One had a hot rod. Everytime he did anything it fired some fireworks.

We thank the Shriners for our free tickets. We enjoyed the day very much.

ANITA O'HAIR "MY CIRCUS HOLIDAY"

Last Saturday the fifth grade students of the Springlake School left the school house at 9 in the morning to attend the Shrine Circus at Amarillo.

Mr. C. L. Berry drove the school bus. Mrs. Wanda Marie Haberer, one of the fifth grade teachers, went along on the trip also.

We went past Buffalo Lake, then when we got to Canyon we went to the Panhandle Plains Historical Museum. We went into the Indian room, the skeleton room, the old fashioned room, the picture room, and the Western room.

Some of the children bought souvenirs of rocks, and the boys bought cap guns.

When we arrived at Amarillo, we stopped at Washington Park and ate lunch. Then from the ark we went to the Shrine Circus. When we got there we saw men wearing red hats. We saw animals of various kinds, trained monkeys, camels, elephants, horses, antelope, dogs, and even trained lions. We saw the most beautiful parade. It had the Old Lady In The Shoe, Mother Goose, Little Red Riding Hood, Goldilocks, Cinderella going to the ball, Jack in the Box, Jack Jumped Over the Candestick, and lots of other beautiful things. We saw trapeze performers, a tight wire walker, trampolene performers and bar to bar jumping.

I enjoyed this trip to Amarillo very much and I know you would enjoy it if you went, which I hope you do some day.

DANNY HABERER "THE TRIP TO AMARILLO"

Saturday morning we went to Amarillo. We left the school at 9 a.m., on bus 44. We went to Dimmitt, and on past Buffalo Lake to Canyon. After we got to Canyon we spent an hour at the museum. After we saw the museum we went to Amarillo. When we arrived in Amarillo we went to Washington Street Park, to eat lunch and play. After playing we went to the Circus. We enjoyed watching the clowns, animals, and the other performers and their acts were very good too. After the last performance was over, all the animals, clowns and other actors come into the ring, and we gave them a big hand of applause. After that, the tired bunch loaded on the bus and came home.

By VERN SANFORD

Somebody said it couldn't be done. So Doug English did it!

Now whoever heard of catching catfish on a trotline — with artificial lures.

Well, Doug had never heard of it, that's for sure. But when someone told him it couldn't be done . . . that did it . . . that was a challenge . . . and Doug accepted the challenge.

You see Doug manufactures artificial lures. His Old English Lure Co. at Corpus Christi is one of the finest. And he just couldn't stand for anybody to say his lures wouldn't catch anything.

Fact of the matter is — that's why Doug has made so many different kinds of lures. He's determined to make a lure for every kind of fish — at least in Texas and Gulf Coast waters.

Catfish are supposed to be attracted by smell. But there's nothing to smell on an artificial lure.

So, Doug had to trick them into biting.

He had seen bay fishermen take plenty of nice reds on trotlines, with nothing but a piece of red cellophane on a big hook. The trick of course was to keep the cellophane in motion.

To do this the bay fishermen strung the trotline above the water by about a foot. That of course, was contrary to the usual method of drapping the line deep into the water.

To get the necessary action they added stageons that were just long enough to hold the "bait" only a few inches below the surface of the water. Result was that the wave action moved the cellophane lure back and forth. As wind velocity and wind direction changed, the position and action of the lure changed.

Big reds go for it. "That being the case, why wouldn't the big cats?" thought Doug.

Result: Doug has his own specially designed trotline, patterned along similar lines. And his brother, Crowley English of Dallas, is having a picnic testing the new device.

Will it get the job done? Well, Doug says it will and Crowley says it will.

I've seen and photographed two mighty hefty 29 - pounders that were taken off the line. And there were two more that I didn't see — one weighing 17 pounds, and the other 30 pounds.

So, it looks like Doug's got something . . . something that's going to drive that trotline fisherman mad . . . at least until they make one for themselves.

Doug's trotline differs from the conventional in several respects.

Not only does he use artificial lures, but also he uses a floating cork on each stageon. As the wave action moves the cork it, in turn transmits motion to the lure.

Baits are slung only a foot or two under the water, on 30-pound-test monofilament line.

Types of lure? Anything that resembles a swimming minnow. His success was obtained with a Swimmer lure. This lure so greatly resembles a minnow that the fish actually swallow it.

Doug offers these suggestions for making his trotline. "First, the main line should be fastened to a tree limb or stump, at water level. Second, the stageons should be at least two and one half feet in length. Finally, the cork should be placed on the stageons about 8 inches below the main line. This allows free movement at water level, thereby keeping the lure in motion at all times."

The Old English Lure manufacturer says that the same effect can be had with any trotline by adding a float to each stageon. Naturally, Doug recommends the Old English Swimmer as bait.

Lest you think that Doug's atomic trotline takes only catfish — we hasten to add that the initial haul, on the same line, mind you, included a string of bass and crappie.

Moral of the story is don't ever tell Doug English that it can't be done.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Bell celebrated their 50th anniversary in their home September 22.

Carl Boehler, president of the C. L. B. Company of Houston has devised a little gadget that's taking hold with the water - ski fans. It's called the Ski - Squirt.

Actually, it's a little aluminum cup that fits under the back end of each ski. As the skier moves along behind the boat the gadget cups the water and forces the water into a high spray - effect behind the skier.

Result is a "rooster tail" effect. And that's what Boehler calls it — a super rooster tail. Also works on boats and fast - moving surfboards.

Mayor Pat McCord says that arrangements have been completed for some time to have an aerial sprayer cover Earth with insecticide the first time he is here when there is no wind. Very calm air is required because the plane will have to stay above the trees and

The Springlake P. T. A. membership is now 302, the largest membership in Springlake school history.

Their past record membership was in the 52-53 year with membership in the 190's.

Buford Hayden reports that he averaged 4847 lbs. of grain sorghum per acre on a 160 acre irrigated tract near here this year. He attributes this high yield to the fact that he applied 200 lbs. of 0-20-0 and 100 lbs of anhydrous ammonia to each acre.

Mrs. Bonnie Haberer, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Roubinek, and E. K. Angeley, spent the weekend in Albuquerque, N. M., where they attended the fair.

Insurance buyers and sellers were disappointed this week when the new basic rate for Earth was set at 99c per $100 of coverage. This is a reduction of only 1c, where some 25c had been expected by local agents.

This compares with a basic rate of 57c in Olton and 34c in Littlefield. An inspection by the State Insurance Commission last month had been expected to result in a substantial reduction.
