Mrs. Colin McKenzie smiles at Boston, Mass., City Hospital as nurse Pauline Smith adjusts a contact strap on her arm to an instrument which has brought her back to life nine times, a Heart Association announcement revealed. The instrument was developed by Dr. Paul M. Zoll. The instrument does not restore a damaged heart but delivers stimulus through a connection attached to the patient's wrist. A monitoring attachment automatically starts the instrument if the heart stops.

Allege Trotti Initiated Call

By MAC ROY RASOR

AUSTIN (AP)—Senate probers today were given evidence alleging First Asst. Atty. Gen. Robert S. Trotti called Uvalde real estate man C. P. Spangler collect two days before Trotti wrote him a letter last March 25 seeking information on South Texas land deals under the veterans land program.

Trotti had testified Monday he could not recall for certain but believed Spangler had made the call to him.

Gus C. Schneider, Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. camp manager, appeared before the investigating committee under subpoena with what he said was the original record of the March 23, 1954, call.

He testified the record showed the call was placed by Trotti from the attorney general office number, 8-2501, at 3:02 p.m., to Spangler in Uvalde.

He said the connection went through immediately, the call lasted 11 minutes and the charge was $3.75 plus tax.

Sen. Jimmy Phillips of Angleton, who subpoenaed Schneider, ordered a photostat made of the phone company record and placed in the committee's record of its investigation into irregularities in the 100-million-dollar veterans land program.

In earlier testimony, Phillips introduced a series of letters between Trotti and Spangler, one of which contained a warning by Spangler as far back as last June of a developing veterans land program scandal. Investigations were not undertaken until late November.

The first letter in the series was from Trotti to Spangler under date of March 25, 1954. Tortti had said it was a followup of the earlier phone call from Spangler.

The letter had requested further information concerning South Texas land deals under the program.

Phillips had questioned Trotti at length about who placed the March 23 call.

"Would you swear that Spangler made the call to you?" Phillips had asked.

"That is the way I remember it, but it has been a long time ago," Trotti replied. He added he would not want to swear under oath to it.

Trotti said as he recalled it, Spangler had phoned him "sometime last spring" and said something about a "pretty good-sized veterans land application he said he believed was being worked on."

Trotti said he asked any information he had and suggested he come up to Austin.

Push Project On U.S. 180

AUSTIN (AP)—The State Highway Commission yesterday urged Parker County officials to push for immediate purchase of right-of-way to expand a dangerous section of U.S. 180 to four lanes.

State funds for the 7.3-mile project from Weatherford west to the T&P Railway have been available several months, but county commissioners have made no progress in securing right-of-way, said the commission.

It called to attention daily occurrence of traffic accidents in that locality "due to the lack of division of traffic lanes in the rolling terrain."

A Beaumont request for state financial aid for proposed railroad grade separations in that city was turned down. The commission said funds are not even available for construction of past commitments in the area.

11 Persons Killed In Blaze At Montreal

MONTREAL (AP) — Fire whipped through the top floors of a 75-year-old brick apartment house in the heart of snow-covered Montreal last night, killing 11 persons and injuring a dozen others.

Firemen combing the ruins early today said there was "only a very slim possibility" more bodies remained to be found.

Attempts to identify the dead were left until today. Some were suffocated as they fought through the halls or stairways with flame and smoke.

State Demos Make Effort Toward Unity

By DAVE CHEAVENS

AUSTIN (AP)—There was some evidence today that substantial efforts are being made to reunite the conservative Texas state Democratic organization and the national committee.

They have been sharply at odds since Gov. Allen Shivers and other top party leaders jumped the traces to support Republican Dwight D. Eisenhower for the presidency in 1952.

Yesterday in Washington John E. McKelvey, state Veterans of Foreign Wars commander, talked the matter over with National Democratic Chairman Paul M. Butler.

George Sandlin of Austin, state executive committee chairman, said McKelvey told him here several weeks ago that he hoped "a common meeting ground could be found" between the Shivers organization and the national organization.

Sandlin said he also hoped so.

McKelvey was quoted in Washington as saying that if Shivers will support the national party's 1956 presidential nominee, the national committee might be persuaded to recognize Wright Morrow of Houston as member from Texas.

Shivers' latest statement on his 1956 attitude came at a press conference several months ago. He said then he hoped the party would come up with a nominee and platform he could support.

Morrow is recognized as national committeeman by the conservative Shivers organization, but national committee officials do not recognize him. The national committee has no dealings with the Texas committee, but operates through an advisory group, Texans who backed Adlai Stevenson.

McKelvey said he planned to talk to Shivers when he returned to Texas from Washington. Sandlin said he was sure that party leaders here would be happy to confer with McKelvey.

McKelvey said he told Butler that Texans "just can't go along with any red-eyed liberal" philosophy and that the national party leaders might as well accept that as a fact.

He also said that one of the first things that might be done in a peace move would be for "both factions to refrain from making derogatory statements about the other side."

McKelvey is not identified with the state organization. Sandlin said he thought the Electra man had supported Stevenson in 1952.

British-U.S. Rift Flares

By SEYMOUR TOPPING

LONDON (AP)—A British-American rift over Formosa flared into the open today following U.S. Secretary of State Dulles' rejection of a British suggestion that Chinese Nationalists evacuate all the China offshore islands.

British informants said officials were particularly disturbed by Dulles' statement last night that the cause of freedom would not be served by Chiang Kai-shek's surrender of "the coastal positions which the Communists need to stage their announced attack on Formosa."

Dulles' statement made in a speech before the Foreign Policy Assn. in New York, was interpreted here as covering the off shore island of Quemoy and Mastu.

Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden in secret diplomatic exchanges, has urged Dulles to get the Chinese Nationalists off the coastal islands—including Quemoy and Matsu—as soon as possible as the first step in bringing about an "unwritten" Formosa cease-fire. The British Foreign Office pointedly received Dulles' China statement in stony silence.

But British officials made plain the Churchill government intends to keep advocating Nationalist abandonment of the offshore islands—even if it means an open tangle with U.S. policy makers.

"We appreciate all the pressures on the United States against giving up the offshore islands," one British diplomat said privately. "But we can't conceal our own attitude. The government must face up to the demands of British public opinion."

Measure To Control Insurance Securities Gets House Okay

The county's second traffic fatality of the year ocurred late yesterday afternoon when this 1953 Ford coach overturned on a farm road west of Ira, killing Alvin Emmitt Smith, Jr., 32. Arnold Board, 30, a passenger, was not hurt. (Lee Watson photograph)

AUSTIN (AP)—The House without further debate today finally passed a bill bringing insurance securities under control of the State Insurance Commission.

The measure, which goes now to the Senate, won preliminary approval in the House yesterday by a 103-35 vote. Final passage was by voice vote, with a scattering of "noes."

The measure affects insurance securities, sale of which is not now regulated by any state agency. There is a rival bill in the Senate putting control in the hands of the secretary of state.

The House measure, by Rep. Joe Pyle of Fort Worth, permits registration of stocks with the insurance commission if "full and fair disclosure" is made of their nature.

Pyle has argued the bill will do an effective job of protecting the public. Opponents have said it would merely give promoters the appearance of respectability.

More water bills flowed to the Senate floor today to await debate.

Recommended for passage by a committee last night—but only after significant revision to appease soil conservation leaders—was a bill to create an appointive state water commission. It would replace the State Board of Engineers.

The measure, by Sen. Dorsey B. Hardeman, San Angelo, is one of nine based on recommendations of the Texas Water Resources Committee to help whip the state's water problems.

Accompanying the water commission bill to the full senate is another Hardeman bill which the committee endorsed last night.

It would carry into effect the provisions of his proposed constitutional amendment setting up a 100-million-dollar state bond program for construction of dams and reservoirs.

Eight of the nine water resources committee bills now have gone to the Senate calendar, and two of those eight already have advanced to the House with Senate approval.

A rival to Hardeman's water commission bill was turned down by the senate committee last night. But its author, Sen. Crawford Martin of Hillsboro said he will try to bring it to the floor on a minority report.

Martin, who said the governor already has "too much appointive power," wants the legislature to create an elective commission.

A bill to stop unemployment benefits for employes out of work because of a strike won 12-4 approval of the Senate State Affairs Committee.

By Sen. George Parkhouse, Dallas, it would withhold unemployment compensation if the work stoppage was due to a strike at a plant supplying necessary materials.

Non-union as well as union members would be affected by the bill.

Houston Clincon, Dallas, attorney for the Texas Federation of Labor, used this as a talking point against the bill.

Neth Leechman, Ford Motor Co. attorney, accused the CIO of having called a strike several year's ago at Ford's detroit plant which eventually caused Dallas workers to be laid off, knowing that the Dallas employes would receive unemployment compensation.

A House committee recommended for passage three proposed amendments to the constitution. They would:

1. Authorize the legislature to set maximum rates of interest to be charged on loans up to $1,500.
2. Make it mandatory for a state board to redistrict the judicial districts of Texas if the legislature fails to do so.
3. Prohibit the state from ever levying a state income tax.

Rival Bill Now In Hands Of Senate

'Adjustment' Shock Over, Benson Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson told Congress today that the biggest shock of farm adjustment from abnormal wartime demands appears to have been passed and producers generally are now in a period of "comparative stability."

In a statement prepared for a farm outlook hearing of the House Agriculture Committee, the GOP farm chief appealed to Congress to refrain from "rocking the boat" with regard to present federal farm programs. He made the same plea in a Senate committee hearing several weeks ago.

Benson said indications of improvement in the agricultural economy are to be found in (1) stabilizing farm prices and farm income; (2) an advancing level of per capita farm income; (3) a slight increase last year in agricultural assets; (4) continuing high domestic demand for food; (5) increasing foreign trade in farm products; and (6) an expanded movement of government-held price-depressing surpluses into use, particularly abroad.

Benson had been asked by the committee to make particular recommendations today with regard to possible changes in the dairy support program. The secretary said he believes the present program should be continued.

Conceding that the dairy surplus and price situation looked "dark indeed" a year ago, Benson said the industry today shows "new signs of health and vigor."

The present program offers lower price supports than were in effect a year ago—75 per cent of parity as against 90 per cent.

Referring to proposals advanced by some Democratic farm leaders to restore rigid farm price supports, Benson said such action would aggravate present surplus problems.

The high supports were voted out by Congress last year. Under this new system floors are low in times of surplus to discourage overproduction and high in time of shortages to encourage production.

He said wheat is agriculture's biggest problem because of the existence of a record supply which he said is sufficient to meet domestic and export requirements for more than two full years.

He said a problem of oversupply is developing for rice as well.

Fuller Trial Is Underway

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — State's attorneys began their prosecution of Albert Fuller with groundwork testimony that may point the way later to eyewitness accounts of the death of A. L. Patterson.

Three witnesses testified yesterday that the downtown area in Phenix City where the anti-vice crusader was slain was well lighted.

Thus, if later witnesses tell the jury they saw certain movement the night of June 18 when Patterson was shot, the prosecution will have laid the predicate with testimony aimed at proving they could have seen them.

Defense attorneys, on the other hand, in cross-examination brought out the location of trees, shrubbery and other obstructions, and land elevations that might block a person's view.

The 35-year-old Fuller, who was chief deputy sheriff at Phenix City during the reign of racketeering there, is charged with Patterson's murder together with Arch Ferrell, who was prosecuting attorney in the little riverfront town, and former Alabama Atty. Gen. Si Garrett.

Ferrell's trial will follow Fuller's, but no date has been set for Garrett's trial. He is undergoing treatment in a Galveston, Tex., hospital.

The state's first witness was the widow of the Phenix City lawyer who had won the Democratic nomination for attorney general to succeed Garrett. She recalled events of the last day of her husband's life.

Rebels To Go On Trial In Switzerland

By LYNN HEINZERLING

BERN, Switzerland (AP)—The Swiss government declared today the four anticommunists who invaded the Romanian legation and killed a chauffeur would stand trial before the courts of this traditionally neutral nation.

A government statement said "under no circumstances" would the four be extradited, as demanded in bitter notes to Bern from the Communist regime in Bucharest.

The statement asserted that the legation was situated on Swiss soil and despite its extraterritorial status the men would be tried here instead of Romania for the slaying. Maximum sentence in Switzerland for murder is life, with paroles usually granted after 20 years.

Switzerland has never concluded an extradition agreement with Romania, the government statement added, so there could "under no circumstances be any obligation for extradition in this case."

Three of the men gave up their arms and left the legation yesterday after holding it for nearly two days in the face of a show of force by Swiss police and troops. A fourth had been arrested early Tuesday when he tried to slip out. Police said they refused to give their names.

The surrender heightened the international dispute that has strained relations between Romania and this long-neutral nation. Some observers predicted a diplomatic break might result.

The four men face trial here for the death of a legation chauffeur, Aurel Sedu, fatally wounded late Monday night when the anti-Reds seized the legation at gunpoint and drove the staff out into the street. Swiss courts are now investigating the case against them, but Switzerland does not have the death penalty.

Cool Front Is Due To Bring Showers

By The Associated Press

Lightning flashed Thursday off the upper Texas coast, but most of the state had clear skies.

Cooler weather moving in from Colorado was expected to set off thundershowers in widely scattered areas of Texas by Friday.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 26 at Lubbock to 66 at Corpus Christi.

Traces of rain fell at Lufkin, Beaumont and College Station Wednesday as a mild cool front lumbered across Southeast Texas.

Road Mishap Is Fatal To Snyder Man

Alvin Emmitt (Bud) Smith, Jr., 32, of 705 Twenty-ninth Street, died at 5:43 o'clock yesterday afternoon of injuries suffered less than an hour earlier when his car overturned near Ira.

Smith was taken by Bell ambulance to Cogdell Memorial Hospital where he lived about 30 minutes. He died of head injuries.

The accident occurred on a curve in Farm Road 1606 nearly three miles west of Ira. The 1953 Ford coach in which Smith and Arnold Board, 30, route 3, were riding was traveling south as it approached the curve eastward toward Ira.

E. W. Green, highway patrolman who investigated the accident, said the car began to skid when it was about 200 feet inside the curve and countinued to skid 442 feet, overturning in the center of the pavement, then coming to a stop upright on the left shoulder of the road.

Green and Homer Whisnand, sheriff who also investigated the accident, quoted Board as saying Smith was driving the car. Board accompanied Smith to the hospital.

Funeral services will be conducted at 3 p.m. Friday at the Ira Methodist Church. The Rev. C. J. Smith, pastor of the Knapp Baptist Church, will officiate. He will be assisted by the Rev. B. W. Lewis, pastor of Trinity Methodist Church in Snyder.

Burial will be in the Ira Cemetery, under direction of Bell Funeral Home.

Pallbearers will be Horace Fowler, Pete Wishert, Aubrey Eubanks, Charles Musselwhite, Floyd House and Tommy Whitfield.

Smith was born here Oct. 22, 1922. He was a Navy veteran of World War II.

Survivors include his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Smith, Sr., of Snyder; four sisters, Mrs. Zelta Dillan of Goodyear, Ariz., Mrs. Catholine Stowe of Fort Worth, Mrs. Cleo Smith of Snyder, and Mrs. Velma Loftis of Lubbock; and two brothers, Sgt. Luther Ray Smith of Camp Wolters, Mineral Wells, and Leo Smith of Abilene.

Smith was the second person to die of traffic injuries in the county this year. The other person was Mrs. Ivy Sturdivant, 40, Hermleigh, who was fatally injured Jan. 26 when her car and a pickup truck collided on a farm road near Hermleigh.

Chou Begins To Talk Coexistence Line

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—Premier Chou En-lai, accepting an invitation today for Communist China to attend the Asian-African conference, declared he saw no reason why nations with different forms of government couldn't "coexist in peace."

The conference secretariat said China's formal acceptance came with Chou's praises of the conference.

The talks are to be held in the west Java mountain city of Bandung April 18-24. Acceptances have come also from Thailand, Libya, Afghanistan, Ethiopia, Communist Viet Nam, Iraq and Egypt of 25 countries invited.

Britain Plans To Develop H-Bombs

LONDON (AP)—Britain announced today she will develop hydrogen bombs.

A White Paper listing government defense plans said:

"The United Kingdom has the ability to produce thermonuclear weapons and after fully considering all implications of this step the government has thought it their duty to proceed with their development and production."

Britain has the atomic bomb. The United States and presumably Russia are the only powers now possessing the vastly more destructive hydrogen bomb.

De Gaulle Men Quit Pineau's Cabinet List

By HARVEY HUDSON

PARIS (AP)—Christian Pineau completed a proposed government lineup early today but within a few hours 3 of his 36 nominees withdrew at their party's request. All were followers of Gen. Charles de Gaulle.

Their action sent Pineau scurrying for replacements. He had hoped to ask the National Assembly tomorrow to approve his Cabinet and confirm him as the nation's first Socialist premier since 1947.

Those who withdrew were Edward Corniglion-Molinier, who had been named to the Justice Ministry; Pierre Ferri, named to the Ministry of Posts, Telephone and Telegraph; and Andre Gaubert, secretary of state for commerce.

All are members of the Republican Union for Social Action (URAS).

Before the URAS defection, the most favorable estimates had given Pineau less than 320 supporting votes in the 627-member chamber. With likely abstentions, that should have assured his confirmation but promised a shaky government with a brief life ex-

Pineau was called in by President Rene Coty Monday to try to form France's 21st postliberation cabinet—a task in which both Antoine Pinay, conservative independent, and Pierre Pflimlin of the Catholic Popular Republican Movement (MRP), had failed.

If Pineau wins assembly approval, he will be the first Socialist premier since Paul Ramadier's government resigned in November 1947. Since the 1951 elections, the Socialists have even refused to serve in any cabinet because of their adamant stand for a program completely in line with party principles. However, they voted solidly for Pierre Mendes - France, whose defeat on a vote of confidence Feb. 5 launched the present government crisis.

Future Soviet Leaders Will Ease Tension, Dulles Believes

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles says a power struggle in Moscow eventually will produce Russian leaders with whom the United States can make "practical agreements" to ease world tensions.

He also says the Formosa crisis can be settled if Red China will renounce the use of force to capture Nationalist-held islands.

Diplomats noted that the secretary's speech last night to the Foreign Policy Assn. in New York was calm and peaceful in tone but firm against spread of communism in any important new areas of Asia.

Dulles apparently took this tone deliberately in contrast to recent warlike speeches by Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov and Red Chinese Foreign Mnisiter Chou En-lai. Molotov denounced the United States. Chou threatened, as Dulles put it, to use "all the forces at his command" to capture Formosa.

As for the Formosa problem, Dulles said the United States "has no commitment and no purpose" to defend such islands as Quemoy and the Matsus "as such." But he made clear that it might well fight over Quemoy and Matsu if any Communist attack on them was aimed at the conquest of Chiang Kai-shek's Formosa.

Dulles appealed to the Chinese Reds to reconsider a United Nations Security Council bid to discuss a Formosa cease-fire.

"It is hardly to be expected," he said, "that the Chinese Communists will renounce their ambitions. However, might they not renounce their efforts to realize their goals by force?"

Discussing the Russian situation, he said a distinction must always be made between the Soviet government and the Communist party.

"The time may come—I believe it will come," he said, "when Russians of stature will patriotically put first their national security and the welfare of their people.

"They will be unwilling to have that security and that welfare subordinated to the worldwide ambitions of international communism.

"If their point of view should prevail, then indeed there could be a basis for worthwhile negotiation and practical agreement between the United States and the new Russia."

The secretary did not speculate within what period of time "Russians of stature" might seize power from those whose first dedication, he said, is to "international communism."

Dulles said the demotion of Georgi Malenkov as premier 10 days ago and the elevation of Nikolai Bulganin to succeed him provided "an extraordinary demonstration of Despotic disarray."

"The Prime Minister of the Soviet state," he said, was preemptorily summoned to a high Soviet session in the Kremlin and subjected to the public humiliation of hearing another read his resignation and his confession of 'my guilt.'"

The full significance of what happened is still obscure, Dulles said, and "perhaps the last act of the drama has not yet been played."

WEATHER

WEST TEXAS: Partly cloudy through Friday. Widely scattered thundershowers, mostly in east portion of Panhandle and South Plains and Upper Pecos Valley eastward Friday.

San Francisco Approved As Site Of '56 GOP Convention

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Republican National Committee today unanimously ratified the selection of San Francisco as the site for the GOP national convention in 1956. Approval was by a voice vote.

The committee approved a resolution submitted by a site subcommittee calling for convening of the convention in the huge Cow Palace the week beginning Aug. 20, 1956.

The action came after a brief discussion during which committeemen from Pennsylvania and Illinois expressed regret that the party could not meet in Philadelphia or Chicago, other main contenders for the host city.

The Democrats have picked Chicago for their 1956 convention, starting either July 23 or Aug. 13.

GOP National Chairman Leonard Hall headed the GOP site subcommittee which announced yesterday it would recommend San Francisco to the full committee.

President Eisenhower arranged to deliver an off-the-record talk at a closed luncheon meeting of the GOP committee.

Hall, in a speech prepared for the session, heaped praise on Eisenhower as "the greatest leader of our times" and appealed to his fellow committeemen:

"Let's sell Republicanism as we never have before. And we can do it under the leadership of one of the greatest men any party ever had—Dwight D. Eisenhower—if we follow him."

Hall, who says he assumes Eisenhower will run for a second term, also hit at dissenters within the party who, he said, "haven't caught up with the facts of life."

Without naming them, he said, "These little groups don't trouble me—they have always been with us. Every nation and every political party has had them."

Up until last week San Francisco had not been considered in the GOP convention picture. Only Chicago and Philadelphia had made formal bids of $250,000 each weeks ago and these were repeated yesterday.

Hall credited Mayor Elmer Robinson with spearheading the drive for selection of San Francisco. The city sent a representative here yesterday offering to match the $250,000 bids of the other cities and promising the GOP rent-free use of the city's Cow Palace, a huge structure built for cattle shows and other expositions and having a seating capacity of close to 17,000.

Cool weather and an option on 10,000 hotel rooms also were held out as inducements.

San Francisco has had only one national nominating convention. That was in 1920 when the Democrats selected Gov. James M. Cox of Ohio to run for president with Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York on the ticket for vice president. That ticket lost.

Hall told newsmen the laws of Massachusetts, South Dakota, Ohio and possibly Connecticut regarding certification of candidates for the ballot might interfere with holding a convention as late as Aug. 20, but it was his understanding these matters would be "cleared up" in time.

Meat Packers Learn Likes Of Housewives

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Western meat packers learned today of the meat likes and dislikes of Mrs. Housewife and were informed they are overlooking a bet if they don't educate homemakers about meat.

Mrs. Robert Mather of Oakland, Calif., mother of three pre-school children, gave that report to the annual meeting of the Western States Meat Packers Assn., a group of independents. She based her report on a survey of 3,100 California housewives.

The survey, seeking to learn meat preferences, likes and dislikes, was conducted by the Agricultural Extension Service of the University of California.

Mrs. Mather said in her prepared address most housewives recognized their own shortcomings in regard to meat and want to learn more about this food.

For an educational program, Mrs. Mather suggested literature that would be available to everyone, slides and movies for loan to groups, charts posted in meat shops, special helps on nutrition and the use of cheaper cuts of meat.

She said these major recommendations emerged from the survey:

1. That federal grading and inspection stamps be of different colors, brown for grading and purple for inspection.

2. That "it be made possible for the consumer to purchase fresh meat in all hours the stores are open, including evenings and Sundays."

3. That uniform grading be required of meats sold in retail stores in California.

Housewives, the speaker said, professed ignorance about a number of things concerning meat, including:

Not knowing the seasons when certain meats are the best buys.

Not knowing the important factors to consider in selecting meat.

Not knowing factors that contribute to meat costs.

SURVIVES CRASH

Capt. Thomas L. Pittman, 34, of Fabens, Tex., grins as he points a revolver from his hospital bed in Winnipeg, Man. He survived three bitterly cold days in the northern Saskatchewan bush. Pittman parachuted into the wilderness after a U.S. Strato Jet bomber exploded at 35,000 feet. He shot a rabbit with the revolver but could not reach it due to a broken leg.

Asked To Spy, Matusow Says

NEW YORK (AP)—Harvey Matusow, ex-Communist and onetime FBI informer, says he was asked to spy on Nevada publisher Hank Greenspun on behalf of Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis). Greenspun was a political opponent of McCarthy and the late Sen. McCarran (D-Nev).

Matusow was a witness again yesterday in a hearing based on the plea by 13 second-string Communists that Matusow's testimony —which he now says was false— led to their conviction in 1952 on conspiracy charges. They are seeking a new trial.

Matusow, cross-examined by U.S. Atty. J. Edward Lumbard, testified that last October, the day after he signed a contract for publication of his book "False Witness," he told attorneys for the Justice Department he "would never take the witness stand again."

Police Car Stalled By Trapped Kitten

CHICAGO (AP)—A kitten stalled a police squad car for three hours last night.

The animal was trapped under the squad car's hood in an almost inaccessible recess under the right front fender. Policemen Joseph Cunningham and Kenneth Freyer tried to lure it out with catnip, but with no success.

Allen Glisch of the Animal Welfare League was called. Finally, it was necessary to remove the car's oil pan before he could rescue the animal.

Police said they had no idea how the kitten got under the hood.

Texans Critical Of Ike's Road Program

WASHINGTON (AP)—The president's 10-year, 101-billion dollar highway program may run into some roadblocks set up by Texans on the House Public Works Committee.

Three Texans are on the committee, which handles roads. Two are democrats, Reps. Gentry of Tyler and Wright of Weatherford. The other is Dallas' Republican congressman Alger.

The Texan's opposition came in comment on a broad outline of the program given before detailed recommendations are sent to Congress.

President Eisenhower called first for a 25-billion-dollar federal allocation to states for interstate superhighways. The states would put up two billion for this work.

In addition, he proposed a big increase in the regular federal-state highway program. Over 10 years at current rates, the federal government would put up 10 billion while the states were spending 37 billion.

Exact details are lacking but under the President's new proposal this regular program would be boosted until, on all road programs, the federal government puts up 31 billion and the states 70 billion over the 10 years.

The U.S. would raise 25 billion for interstate highways this way: 20 billion by 3 per cent, 30-year bonds; five billion through highway fees. These proposals are expected to generate much of the controversy.

The roads program drew critical comment from Gentry in a speech he has prepared for the House.

"The situation today is just as urgent," he says, "in fact it is more urgent, than it was during the 1952 campaign and at the time the President delivered his ringing denunciation of deficit financing and unwieldy public debt in his first state of the union message."

Criticizing the proposal of financing the program through issuance of bonds maturing in 30 years, Gentry added:

"If this great sum of money is to be expended, it is difficult to understand why there should be still another governmental agency organized to do it except possibly to try to escape the rather obvious charge that the national debt is being raised 25 billion dollars at one fell sweep.

"This plan is something of a financial 'gimmick' but it is unmistakable that it still would raise the national debt 25 billion dollars."

After saying adoption of such a financing method would "open the flood gates of pressure" for other programs, Gentry said Congress "should seriously question this proposal."

Wright said that on present information he opposes the plan. He said taxpayers yet unborn would still be paying for roads after some highways had become obsolete.

"The only way you could justify public works such as this by 30-year bonds is on the assumption that there is going to be inflation," he said. "I don't think we can assume that, and I am sure the government doesn't want inflation."

He said he had rather continue a federal-aid highway construction program on the basis that has been in effect for decades, with Congress appropriating money annually for the work to be done that following fiscal year.

Alger took a similar view. He called the 25 billion plus interest figure "staggering," and added:

"We must have more and better roads, but I think we ought to get them to a pay-as-you-go basis. I am against developing them by running the national debt up still higher."

Quiz Scholz On Robberies

NEW YORK (AP)—Police say frail, 50-year-old Herman Scholz, who reportedly has "fingered" the possible killers in the Serge Rubinstein case, is being questioned about two unsolved bank robberies.

Scholz, picked up Tuesday, told how his own plan to kidnap Rubinstein, 46, for ransom was carried out without him and resulted in a "bungled" job that resulted in the strangle-slaying of the playboy-financier.

The quiet, mild-mannered Scholz, not quite five feet tall, has been a limousine-for-hire driver living an apparently sedate life in Whitestone, Queens, for the past 15 years. But, police said, he has an arrest record dating back to 1923, and authorities found a small arsenal in his home — assertedly cached against the day he hoped to become a big-time bank robber.

Scholz is being held in $25,000 bail as a witness in the Rubinstein murder — the high bail set to keep him in custody and protect him from possible harm by underworld mobsters.

The Russian-born Rubinstein, judged to have been worth about 10 million dollars, was slain Jan. 27 in the bedroom of his 5th Avenue mansion. His pajama-clad body had been trussed with cord from a venetian blind and he had been gagged with extra-wide adhesive tape.

Detectives said similar cord and tape were found in Scholz's home, where he lives with his wife and her parents.

The Nilotics, a tribe living near the headwaters of the Nile, are the tallest people in the world, often being 7 feet tall and averaging 5 feet 10, says the National Geographic Society.

Dr. Robert H. Hargrove, one of three Snyder dentists who are making a complete dental survey of all school children here this week, is shown above checking the teeth of Leroy Coleman, junior high school student. The survey is being made on Monday, Wednesday and Friday mornings from 9 to 12 o'clock this week by Hargrove, Dr. D. K. Ratliff, and Dr. Dean Strack. (Lee Watson photograph)

Pupils Here Are Getting Dental Checks

During this week all the students in Snyder schools are receiving free dental checks by the three Snyder dentists.

Results of the survey are not known yet because all students have not been checked, but Mrs. Eula Williams, nurse at the junior high school which was checked yesterday, said that the need for dental work does not appear to be as high here as is true throughout the entire nation.

Making the survey are Dr. Robert H. Hargrove, Dr. D. K. Ratliff, and Dr. Dean Strack. The three dentists donate their time from their offices from 9 to 12 o'clock Monday, Wednesday and Friday mornings this week. The survey is to be completed by noon Friday.

Mrs. Williams said there are some 300-million dental cavities in United States children, and the backlog is increasing at the rate of about 40-million cavities per year. The toll of dental disease is a particular tragedy because the knowledge to reduce the high incidence of tooth decay is at hand and familiar to most persons.

"One of the chief reasons for the decay toll is the heavy consumption of sweets," Mrs. Williams said. "Sweets are readily fermentable and offer a good nutrient for bacteria to manufacture enamel-destroying acids."

She urged parents to offer fruit or popcorn or cheese to children instead of jams and pastries for between-meal snacks.

"The ritual of toothbrushing is still one of the most effective methods of preventing decay," she said.

She added that brushing should be done immediately after eating rather than on arising in the morning and on retiring at night.

Man Cleared In Kidnaping

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—A Superior Court jury has found Daniel J. Marsin, 41-year-old welder, innocent of kidnaping Mrs. Evelyn Anne Smith and holding her in the Superstition Mountains for $75,000 ransom.

The defendant, who walked from the courtroom with his unconscious wife in his arms after the verdict was returned yesterday, said he expected to be acquitted. He acknowledged, however, that he "was worried."

Marsin was accused of abducting the 24-year-old Mrs. Smith from in front of a Phoenix beauty salon last June 9 and of taking her to the Superstition Mountains, 50 miles east of here.

Mrs. Smith returned to her home unharmed on the evening of June 10. Her husband said he paid the $75,000 ransom. The money was recovered.

John Flynn, who defended Marsin, contended during the trial and in his closing argument that the state had failed to link important evidence to the defendant.

'Troubled' Conscience Overtakes Young Thief

ALBANY, N.Y., (AP) — A young man walked into the confessional of a Roman Catholic church last night and told the priest his conscience was "troubling" him.

Then the man handed over a package of money, asking that it be returned to "ease the burden from my mind."

The priest, who did not obtain the man's name, gave the package to police. The money, in $5 and $20 bills, totaled $2,450.

Police believe the money was taken from a jewelry store Feb. 9. They did not identify the priest or the church.

The last U.S. yellow fever epidemic was in New Orleans in 1905, says the World Health Organization.

TOXIMETER TEST UPSETS VERDICT

WACO (AP)—It may not have been an open and shut case but it certainly was an in and out case County Judge Nash Oliver handled this week.

One day the judge sentenced a 22-year-old man to a $50 fine and three days in jail after the fellow pleaded guilty to drunken driving.

The next day the judge called the man back in and informed him the $50 fine was being refunded and there would be no jail sentence.

"Why?" the bewildered defendant asked.

Because, said the judge, results of a toximeter test showed the man wasn't drunk—guilty or not.

Insurance Bill Is Favored By West Texans

AUSTIN — The majority of West Texas House members favored a bill putting regulation of insurance stocks in the hands of the state insurance commission. The bill won its first approval Wednesday by a vote 103 to 35. It faces one more vote in the House before going to the Senate.

Voting for it were Allison of Mineral Wells, Anderson of Midland, Armor of Sweetwater, Bishop of Winters, Briscoe of Uvalde, Bristow of Big Spring, Burkett of Kerrville, Kelly of Afton, Kirklin of Odessa, Latimer of Abilene, Patterson of Snyder, and Thurmond of Del Rio.

Voting against it were Brashear of Cisco, Chambers of May, Cloud of Rule, Cobb of Seminole, and Stroman of San Angelo. Slack of Pecos was not listed as voting.

At least one West Texan opposing the measure said he did so because he is for stronger control than the bill provides.

"The securities division of the Secretary of State's office should control insurance stocks," Rep. W. A. Stroman of San Angelo said. "Their supervision would be closer than that provided in this bill — the insurance commission."

Two issues in voting on this bill were:

1. Should the insurance commission or the Secretary of State regulate insurance sales? The vote Wednesday was a victory for those who favor the insurance commission.

2. Should "full disclosure" of the insurance company's affairs be one of the standards by which its stock would be okayed for sale? On this point the House rejected an amendment by Rep. Pool of Dallas to permit the insurance commission to turn down securities it considered "unfair, unjust or inequitable."

Instead, the House adopted an amendment by Rep. Joe Burkett of Kerrville, allowing the commission to bar sale of securities it deemed "valueless, fraudulent, or worthless."

At present there is no regulation of the sale of insurance company stocks in Texas.

Mother Hurls Baby From Hotel Window

NEW YORK (AP)—A young woman hurled her newborn baby out of a seventh-floor window of the Hotel Capitol early today in an attempt to hide the birth from her husband, police said.

The infant, a boy, was found dead on a midtown street pavement between two parked cars at 1:30 a.m.

The mother, reported in "very poor" condition at a hospital, was quoted by police as saying: "The father of the baby is not my husband and I didn't want him to know it."

The husband told police he had not known his wife was pregnant.

Texan Faces Kidnap Count In Alabama

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — A young Texas fugitive, who abducted a detective and another man, was arraigned on federal kidnaping charges here and held in $20,000 bond.

John Ernest Allen, 24, was cornered in an abandoned barn near Troy, Ala., yesterday after he forced a Columbus, Ga., detective and a young motorist to accompany him at pistol point from Georgia.

Det. E. C. McElveen of Columbus and Billy Eugene Harrell were released unharmed near Montgomery before Allen was brought to bay in the barn.

Although he had boasted to his captives he would never be taken alive, Allen quickly threw down his pistol after firing twice at officers.

Allen is wanted in Dallas for the Feb. 8 robbery of Melvin R. Kalmbach, who was tied to a tree by two armed men. Dallas Sheriff Bill Decker said Allen had served a previous prison term for car theft.

The car Allen had in Columbus has been identified as Kalmbach's, Decker said, and Allen was wearing Kalmbach's stolen cuff links when arrested.

Columbus police found a blood-stained shirt in Allen's suitcase. They opened the suitcase when McElveen failed to return to police headquarters after answering a call to a hotel on the complaint that a man had a woman in one of the rooms.

McElveen investigated with Det. O. C. Bryant, and Bryant took the woman to police headquarters. She was booked for investigation.

But McElveen granted Allen's request he be allowed to put a suitcase in his car. He had a pistol in the car and got the drop on the detective, taking his pistol and badge.

With the detective as his prisoner, Allen flagged down a car driven by Harrell, a resident of nearby Phenix City, Ala. Then he forced Harrell to drive them to Montgomery.

The two captives were forced from the car in a wooded section near Montgomery, 80 miles west of Columbus.

Highway Patrolman Clyde Kelley spotted Harrell's car near Troy. The patrolman was joined in the chase by Sam Boswell, a prison camp superintendent, and by a Troy policeman.

Allen abandoned the automobile and ran into the barn. The youthful gunman fired at the officers twice but surrendered when Boswell returned the fire with two pistol bullets.

Guizado Must Stand Trial

By LUIS NOLI

PANAMA (AP)—Ex-President Jose Ramon Guizado must stand trial March 21 on homicide charges in connection with the machine-gun slaying of his predecessor in office, President Jose Antonio Remon.

The National Assembly voted 48-1 to indict Guizado during a four-hour session last night highlighted by an impassioned declaration of innocence from the accused. The Assembly is the only body which can try a president. If convicted, Guizado could be sentenced to a prison term of from 10 to 20 years.

Guizado's outburst came as special prosecutor Jose de la Vega told the lawmakers he would prove at the trial that the price for killing Remon was between $75,000 and $80,000, part of which was paid by Guizado.

Rising from his seat in the hall and gesturing with both hands, Guizado shouted into an Assembly microphone:

"What is being done to me is the greatest infamy in the world. It is an infamous plot. I am innocent. I swear it by God and before the graves of my parents."

Remon was machine-gunned Jan. 2 as he chatted with friends in a pavilion at the Juan Franco racetrack, four miles from the city. Guizado, the first vice president, was sworn in as president six hours later.

The Assembly impeached Guizado and ordered his arrest Jan. 15 after Ruben Miro, an attorney, confessed the actual killing and said the plot was carried out with Guizado's full knowledge.

Thirteen other persons, including Miro, Guizado's son and two of his business partners, also have been arrested in connection with the slaying. They will be tried by the regular courts.

Tumbling Wall Traps Firemen

BALTIMORE (AP) — A tumbling wall of a burning downtown clothing store trapped and apparently killed six firemen.

Two bodies were recovered. Four firemen were missing.

The men were trapped as they battled a fire last night in a building on east Baltimore street.

Rescuers tunneled from the west side and said part of a wall had to be removed from the east side before they could get to a pile of debris in which the missing firemen were believed buried.

Bodies of Battalion Chief Francis P. O'Brien and Lt. William Barnes were recovered.

Missing were firemen Joseph Hanley, Richard Malzer, Rudolph Machovec and Anthony Reinsfelter.

The fire was in a three-story building housing the Tru-fit Clothes Co. Sixty-nine pieces of fire apparatus were called out to fight the blaze. At least 20 firemen were injured in the blaze, which burned out of control for more than three hours. Cause of the blaze has not yet been determined. No damage estimate was available.

Bills Allowed To Cool Off

AUSTIN (AP)—The House agriculture committee yesterday sent to a subcommittee for a week's cooling off period six bills regulating fruit and vegetables by Rep. Wade Spilman, McAllen.

The subcommittee was ordered to report on the bills Wednesday.

The measures would require grapefruit be marked to show its point of origin, that grapefruit be shipped in closed containers and would allow the Texas commissioner of agriculture to contract for inspection of fruit with private companies.

Under present law the commissioner can contract for inspections only with the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

The bill requiring use of closed containers for shipping grapefruit was aimed primarily at Florida growers who have been shipping grapefruit into Texas in bulk, said Scott Toothaker, attorney for the Texas Citrus and Vegetable growers and Shippers Assn.

A "closed container" is a box, sack, bushel basket or other such container.

Insurance payments for damage in 1954's hurricanes Carol and Edna were about 138 million dollars, not including auto and marine losses.

Plan To Aid Wool Industry Is Discussed

By MORRIS CLEAVENGER

WASHINGTON (AP)—A plan to aid the wool industry by having the Defense Department stockpile up to 30 million yards of uniform fabrics was set for discussion today.

Senators from wool growing and manufacturing states, along with officials of the defense and agricultre departments, were invited to a meeting to talk over the proposal by Sen. Barrett (R-Wyo).

Barrett said invitations had been sent 47 senators who have an interest in the industry.

Stockpiling of fabrics by the Defense Department would serve a twofold purpose, in Barrett's opinion: liquidate the big wool holdings of the Commodity Stabilization Corporation, and give employment to the hard hit textile companies.

In his letter announcing the meeting, Barrett said:

"The Commodity Stabilization Corporation has approximately 150 million pounds of grease wool on their hands. By reason of the passage of the Wool Act of 1954, grease wool will no longer come into the hands of this corporation but will hereafter be sold by the growers on the open market. . .

"Under the circumstances it seems to me that it would be the better part of wisdom to take such steps that would liquidate the stockpile of wool at the earliest possible moment."

Barrett added:

"In view of the large number of unemployed who are suffering acutely from the depressed condition in the wool textile industries, it seems to me that this would be the ideal time for the defense department to stockpile about 25 or 30 million yards of uniform fabrics and, also, convert the balance of the wool stockpile into goods that would be suitable for military uses."

On another front, officers of woolgrowers associations were to meet with Agriculture Department officials this afternoon to discuss the advisability of the department's holding a referendum among growers to decide whether a portion of incentive payments under the Wool Act should be used for a wool promotion campaign.

The secretary of agriculture is authorized by the act to conduct such a referendum.

A Friday meeting of woolgrowers with the secretary has been called to talk over regulations for the assignment of incentive payments under the Wool Act.

Besides building the first airplane, the Wright brothers built a calculating machine, a home telegraph, a typewriter, balloon tires, a printing press and many bicycle models.

Because Aedes Aegypti mosquitoes are still common in the southern third of the United States, the threat of a yellow fever epidemic still exists there, says the World Health Organization.

Stardom Of No Interest To Granger

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Farley Granger is a fellow who doesn't want to be a movie star.

Sounds screwy, doesn't it? I agree. But the handsome actor puts action behind his words. He's here now doing "The Brass Ring," his first Hollywood film in two years.

It's not that he couldn't have done other pictures here. When he left, he had a solid fan following and plenty of offers from the studios. But he turned his back on Hollywood. He made his home in New York, studied acting, performed in summer theaters and made a film in Italy. When I asked him if such an absence didn't endanger his movie career, he replied:

"I don't have any particular ambition to be a movie star, as such. I think the age of the film personality is passing. It had its heyday when MGM built up its vast stable of stars.

"But I think we are now entering the age of the actor. The time is coming when the top actors will not be just film stars, but devote their talents to all mediums—the stage, TV and films. And the better an actor is, the more chance he'll have to prosper.

"That's why I left Hollywood. I thought I needed to know more about acting. So I went East to learn."

The investment has paid off, he said. He has received handsome offers for stage plays, both straight and musicals, TV as well as films. Right now he's playing a heavy hunk of acting—the role of a New York punk who ends up in the electric chair.

Granger left behind a contract with Sam Goldwyn, with whom he constantly feuded.

"Sam told me I'd be ruined if I left him," Granger smiled. "I'm not worried. He said the same thing when Gary Cooper left him."

The uses of cottage cheese are varied. It even goes into these drop cookies, along with candied pineapple and lemon extract. Give the cookies a party look by frosting them with powdered sugar icing and adding garnishes of candied pineapple and cherries.

½ cup margarine
¼ cup cottage cheese
½ teaspoon vanilla
½ teaspoon lemon extract
1 cup sugar
1 egg
1½ cups sifted flour
½ teaspoon soda
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup chopped candied pineapple

Cream the margarine until fluffy and blend in the cottage cheese. Add the sugar gradually, beating well, then beat in the egg and vanilla and lemon extract. Sift the flour, soda and salt together and add to the creamed mixture, about one-fourth at a time. Mix until smooth after each addition. Stir in the candied pineapple. Drop by teaspoonfuls about two inches apart on a greased baking sheet. Bake in a moderate oven (375 degrees) 10 to 12 minutes.

Finnish Beauty Learns Ballet After Dodging Soviet Bombs

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Finland's contribution to Hollywood is lovely Taina Elg, who learned to be a ballerina after escaping Russian bombs.

Taina (rhymes with Dinah) is 24 and full of grace. She has a willowy figure, long dark-blonde hair and a fresh, shiny-cheeked face.

As far as she knows and according to film historians, she is the first acting importation from Finland. This seems strange, since Hollywood has acquired many Scandinavian stars, especially from Sweden.

"I don't know why it is," said Taina. "We certainly have an excellent theater in Finland and many good actors. Perhaps it is the language. It is quite difficult for Finns to learn English. Finnish is derived from Scandinavian or Russian; it goes 'way back to early ages, the same as Hungarian."

Taina's tangle with English turned out successfully. She speaks it with scarcely an accent, having begun to learn when she went with the Sadler's Wells ballet troupe in London.

Taina spoke hesitantly of her early years in Finland. She grew up at a time when that industrious country was ravaged by war with Russia.

"During the war, I went to Sweden for three months with a group of Finnish children and to Norway for a similar period," she said. "It was partly to escape the Russian bombs, but also so we could eat. There was a danger of tuberculosis if children didn't get the right nourishment."

It was during the Swedish visit that Taina got her first start toward fame. Ever since she had seen the Monte Carlo ballet at 6 she had wanted to be a dancer. She was 10 when she visited Sweden and began taking ballet lessons there. She continued them when she returned to Helsinki, studying for six years at the Finnish Opera.

She danced with the company for a year at the Grand Theater in Stockholm, making such a hit that she was awarded a scholarship with England's famed Sadler's Wells. After her studies there, she couldn't get a labor permit to dance in England, so she joined the Monte Carlo ballet, appearing all over Europe and in the United States.

MGM producer Edwin Knopf saw her at a party in London and tabbed her as a film prospect.

She was brought here a year ago and has spent most of her time in diction, acting, singing and dancing lessons. She played a role as Lana Turner's handmaiden in "The Prodigal" and will do a similar chore in "Diane." MGM promises big things for her.

If you have baked your sheet sponge cake too slowly and it is too stiff for rolling up neatly, you may be able to remedy the trouble this way. Cover a very hot baking sheet with a wet cloth; place a sheet of paper on top of the cloth and the sponge cake on top of the paper. After a minute or so the cake will be steamed enough so it can probably be rolled up with ease.

Woman's Culture Club Has Meeting

Eighteen club members attended. Refreshments of tuna salad, cherry tarts, coffee and spiced tea were served by the hostess.

Mrs. Farmer is to be hostess for the next club meeting on March 1.

THE POWER OF POSITIVE THINKING

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

CHAPTER 4

STOP FUMING AND FRETTING

Many people make life unnecessarily difficult for themselves by dissipating power and energy through fuming and fretting.

Do you ever "fume" and "fret?" Here is a picture of yourself if you do. The word "fume" means to boil up, to blow off, to emit vapor, to be agitated, to be distraught, to seethe. The word "fret" is equally descriptive. It is reminiscent of a sick child in the night, a petulant half-cry, half-whine. It ceases, only to begin again. It has an irritating, annoying, penetrating quality. To fret is a childish term, but it describes the emotional reaction of many adults.

The Bible advises us to "Fret not thyself. . ." (Psalm 37:1). This is sound advice for the people of our time. We need to stop fuming and fretting and get peaceful if we are to have power to live effectively. And how do we go about doing so?

I was in a meeting where a discussion was going on which finally became rather bitter. Tempers were becoming frayed and some of the participants were decidedly on edge. Sharp remarks were passed. Suddenly one man arose, deliberately took off his coat, opened his collar, and lay down upon a couch. All were astonished, and someone asked if he felt ill.

"No," he said, "I feel fine, but I am beginning to get mad, and I have learned that it is difficult to get mad lying down."

We all laughed, and the tension was broken. Then our whimsical friend went on to explain that he had "tried a little trick" with himself. He had a quick temper, and when he felt himself getting mad he found that he was clenching his fist and raising his voice, so he deliberately extended his fingers, not allowing them to form into a fist. In proportion to the rising of his tension or anger, he depressed his voice and talked in exaggerated low tones. "You cannot carry on an argument in a whisper," he said with a grin.

This principle can be effective in controlling emotional excitements, fretting and tension, as many have discovered by experimentation. A beginning step, therefore, in achieving calmness is to discipline your physical reactions. You will be surprised at how quickly this can reduce the heat of your emotions, and when emotional heat is driven off, fuming and fretting subside. You will be amazed at the energy and power you will save. You will be much less tired.

It is moreover, a good procedure to practice being phlegmatic or apathetic, even indifferent. To a certain extent, even practice being sluggish. People thus constituted are less susceptible to emotional outbreaks and highly organized individuals may do well to cultivate these reactions. Naturally one does not want to lose the keen, sensitive responsiveness characteristic of the highly organized individual. But the practice of being phlegmatic tends to bring such a keyed-up personality to a balanced emotional position.

Following is a technique which I have personally found of great helpfulness in reducing the tendency fume and fret. I have suggested its use to countless people who practice it and find it of great value:

1. Sit relaxed in a chair. Completely yield yourself to the chair. Starting with your toes and proceeding to the top of your head, conceive of every portion of the body as relaxing. Affirm relaxation by saying, "My toes are relaxed — my fingers — my facial muscles."

2. Think of your mind as the surface of a lake in a storm, tossed by waves and in tumult. But now the waves subside, and the surface of the lake is placid and unruffled.

3. Spend two or three minutes thinking of the most beautiful and peaceful scenes you have ever beheld, as, for example, a mountain at sunset, or a deep valley filled with the hush of early morning, or a woods at noonday, or moonlight upon rippling waters. In memory relive these scenes.

4. Repeat slowly, quietly, bringing out the melody in each, a series of words which express quietness and peace, as, for example: tranquility, serenity, quietness. Think of other such words and repeat them.

5. Make a mental list of times in your life when you have been conscious of God's watchful care and recall how, when you were worried and anxious, He brought things out right and took care of you. Then recite aloud this line from an old hymn, "So long Thy power hath kept me, sure it STILL will lead me on."

6. Repeat the following, which has an amazing power to relax and quiet the mind: "Thou wilt keep him in perfect peace, whose mind is stayed on thee" (Isaiah 26:3). Repeat this several times during the day, whenever you have a fraction of a moment, so that by the end of the day you will have said it many times. Conceive of these words as active, vital substances permeating your mind, sending into every area of you thinking a healing balm.

As you work with these techniques, the tendency to fume and fret will gradually be modified. In direct proportion to your progress the power heretofore drawn off by this unhappy habit will be felt in your increased ability to meet life's responsibilities.

Acheson, HST Still Agree

KANSAS CITY (AP)—After being out of office more than two years, Harry S. Truman and his former secretary of state Dean Acheson are still in agreement.

Acheson, visiting the Trumans this week, appeared at a press conference with the former President yesterday. Truman, who is 70, was asked about his future plans. He replied with a quip he's used before:

"I shall run for president the year I'm 90."

Said Acheson: "If Mr. Truman is elected at 90, I shall be happy to serve with him."

Both feel Adlai Stevenson is the best choice for the 1956 Democratic presidential candidate.

Acheson told newsmen the foreign policies of the Truman and Eisenhower administrations are basically the same. But he said the present policy is not being pursued "as rigorously or effectively" as the former.

Dollar Reserve In Mexico Shows Gain

MEXICO CITY (AP)—The flight of capital from the country which caused last year's devaluation of the peso has been reversed, Finance Minister Antonio Carrillo Flores said yesterday.

The nation's gold and dollar reserves, which stood at 227 million dollars in 1952, is now 230 million, Flores said. Before the value of the peso was cut from 11.58 to 8 cents, the reserves had dropped to 140 million.

Unknown From Harlingen Is In Gloves Favorite's Role

By ROBERT E. FORD

FORT WORTH (AP)—A trim-waisted fighter with a hint of a moustache and an ambition to play a jazz trumpet swept to a favorite's role today in the annual State Golden Gloves Tournament.

The boxer is Eloy Zarate of Harlingen, who defeated a pre-tournament favorite, Duggie Jameson of Amarillo, in a unanimous decision last night.

Zarate an unknown, reeled the capable and courageous Jameson, who won last year's bantamweight division and moved up to the 125-pound class this year.

Last night's bouts saw one clear-cut knockout and three TKO's.

On tonight's card is another group of preliminaries, featuring another champion, Wesley McDonald, in the heavyweight division.

One of the tournament's most colorful fighters, titlist Roy Harris of Cut and Shoot, Tex., will not fight until Saturday night.

A former champion came through as expected last night. Tommy Barron of Dallas went to work on Nisefero Reyna, an alternate from Corpus Christi, and poleaxed him in 45 seconds of the first round of their middleweight contest.

Barron, a veteran of many bouts and looking it, had not fought since 1947, but the layoff from Golden Gloves apparently had no effect.

The wildest swinging battle was between a pair of middlweights, Dan Cira of Beaumont and Joseph Martino of Lubbock.

Cira's poise forced Martino to cover up repeatedly, and won the decision for the Beaumont boy.

Dickie Don Wood of Wichita Falls rapped out a TKO over Rodger Yates, Brownwood, in a bloody lightweight match. Wood won in 1:45 of the third round.

Robert Lowery of San Antonio also won a technical knockout—over Arlyn Lipstraw of Tyler in the welterweight class. The bout was stopped at 1:25 of the second round.

William Viator, fighting at 179 in the heavyweight class, was too fast and rugged for Ted Chadwick at 202 and won a technical knockout in 1:15 of the second round. Viator is from Brownwood and Chadwick from Tyler.

Knockdowns were few.

Mickey Brown of Houston dropped F. L. Dischler of Waco in a welterweight contest and went on to a decision. Travis Chestnut of Beaumont sent Lupé Gutierrez of Abilene to the canvas and took the decision.

Beaumont and El Paso took early team leads with three points each. A point is counted for each victory. Odessa, Houston and Dallas won two bouts each, and Wichita Falls, Lubbock, San Antonio, Harlingen, Amarillo, Austin, Brownwood and Corpus Christi teams took one contest each.

The bouts continue through next Monday with no fights Sunday. They are being held at the Will Rogers Coliseum starting at 8 p.m.

Pairings for tonight's fights:

Bantamweights — Frank Williams, 119, Wichita Falls vs. Rudy Gonzales, 119, Dallas. Oscar Ortegon, 119, Corpus Christi vs. Frank Valdez, 119, San Antonio. Charles Cates, 117, Amarillo vs. James Laird, 118, Houston. Lee Escobedo, 116, Abilene vs. Leonard Smith, 118, Fort Worth.

Featherweights — Benny Davis, 126, Brownwood vs. Johnny Gaitan, 127, Austin. Connie Eckard, 125, Waco vs. Baltazar Flores, 125, Beaumont. Frank (Buddy) Mote, 126, Odessa vs. Felix Gonzales, 122, Dallas. C.R. Roberts, 127, Abilene vs. Sixto San Miguel, 127, San Antonio.

Lightweights—Paul Pulley, 134, Amarillo vs. Rudy Ortiz, 133, Fort Worth. Rojelio Reyes, 133, Corpus Christi vs. John Hopkins, 135, Houston. Marvin Crow, 136, Dallas vs. James Earle, 134, Waco. Julian Avendano, 136, Harlingen vs. Donald Broussard, 131, Beaumont. Jake Martines, 135, El Paso vs. Ronnie Walcott, 136, Abilene.

Welterweights — Melvin Barker, 146. Austin vs. Billy Dickerson, 145, Brownwood. Arlen Bynum, 147, Abilene vs. Joe Arciniega, 148, Corpus Christi. Teddy Shores, 148, Dallas vs. Bill McFarland, 148, Amarillo. Emilio Vela, 148, Harlingen vs. Frank Dunlap, 148, Lubbock.

Middleweights — Tommy Davis, 157, Tyler vs. Joe Mitchell, 161, Wichita Falls. Steve Mendoza, 153, Austin vs. John Kelley, 160, Waco.

Heavyweights — Herman Betke, 212, Amarillo vs. Wesley McDonald, 209, Fort Worth.

Dietzel In First Head Coaching Job

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—Young Paul Dietzel begins his first head coaching job today at Louisiana State, faced with the problem of injecting a losing team with winning enthusiasm for a murderous football schedule.

Dietzel, 30, signed to a three-year contract by LSU yesterday at $13,000 annually, told reporters, "I expect enthusiasm, one of the strongest points in a winning football team."

The former assistant to Army Coach Earl Blaik said, "I don't know how the material shapes up. I plan to pick the 11 boys who want to play the most for my starting lineup.

"Football ought to be fun — and I might add it is no fun losing."

Dietzel, recommended highly by Blaik and Biff Jones, former Army athletic director and one-time LSU coach, said, "I feel confident of my professional ability. My job will be to sell LSU to the boys we're seeking to recruit."

LSU traditionally had first choice of material at most Louisiana high schools, but in the last year or two lost coveted boys to archrival Tulane and even out-of-state teams.

Deitzel inherits from ousted Gaynell Tinsley a team which won five and lost six games last year. This fall he faces Arkansas and Georgia Tech, the Cotton Bowl teams; Mississippi, the Sugar Bowl loser; Kentucky; rebuilding Texas A&M; Rice; Florida; Maryland; Mississippi State and Tulane.

Lopez Says Indians Can Retake Pennant

By AL LOPEZ
Manager Cleveland Indians
Written for The Associated Press

TAMPA (AP)—I am not in the habit of making predictions but I believe the Indians can repeat this year as American League champions. I don't think we or any other club will match our record-breaking 111 victories of last year.

We'll win enough to repeat as champions, but a figure like 111 is once in a lifetime.

I expect the Yankees to be stronger this year. Bob Turley ought to help their pitching and their infield should be pretty well set when Billy Martin gets out of the Army.

I think we'll be stronger. The addition of Ralph Kiner and Herb Score ought to help us in two key departments, long distance hitting and pitching. Kiner gives our lineup balance. With fellows like Larry Doby, Al Rosen, Vic Wertz and Kiner batting in that order, we now have two lefthanded power hits and two righthanded ones.

We'll give Herb Score, the young pitching prospect from Indianapolis, every chance we can to make good. If he proves up, he'll be used as a regular starter next season.

Hank Foiles is another rookie who will get a full shot at a regular spot. The boy is so impressive he deserves a long look. He is young, strong and very fast. And they tell me he is a fine defensive catcher. His .330 batting average in the American Assn. can't be laughed off either.

I am well satisfied with my infield. Vic Wertz will be at first base, Bobby Avila, the league's batting champion at second, Al Rosen at third and George Strickland at shortstop. I think Eddie Joost, who signed with us recently as a free agent, will prove very helpful in a utility role. He can fill in at all infield positions except first and he could also make us a fine pinch hitter. He has a good batting eye and can hit the long ball for you.

Kemp McMillan, 5-foot-8, is one of the Hermleigh Cardinals' probable starters in their cage playoff game tonight at Westbrook. This will be the second of a series, and if the Cards win they will take the District 16-B title. McMillan is a senior.

'Weak' Marquette Is Winner Of 20 Games

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

This was supposed to be a long, winter for Marquette in college basketball, but, man, spring is bustin' out all over for the Warriors.

They weren't expected to have much this season, and Coach John Nagle was pessimistic despite 10 returning lettermen. He figured they wouldn't be able to improve much on their 11-15 record of last season. That prospect seemed genuine when Marquette dropped its opener to Michigan State 91-72.

At that point, though, Nagle, in his second year with the Warriors, changed his style and gave his boys their head on the court. He's had a tiger by the tail ever since.

Marquette ripped through its 20th consecutive victory (tops in the nation) since losing the opener by pounding Bradley 93-83 last night. That gave the Warriors, No. 6 in this week's Associated Press poll, a 98-point average in three games since learning of their selection as the first of nine at-large teams for the NCAA Tournament.

Bradley rattled the Warriors somewhat with a full-court press midway in the second half. But the Warriors, topped by Rube Schultz's 23 points, had a 25-point lead at that stage and were beyond reach.

San Francisco, No. 1 team in the nation, whipped St. Mary's (Calif.) 65-57 and extended its winning streak to 18. Big Bill Russell scored 24 points.

Third-ranked LaSalle, the NCAA champ, ho-hummed past Albright 89-69 with two-time All America Tom Gola scoring 27 points. OklahomaA&M shook up the Missouri Valley Conference race by defeating Tulsa 62-52 in an intra family squabble between coaching brothers Hank and Clarence Iba.

The loss dropped Tulsa out of first place and substituted idle St. Louis.

In other league races, North Carolina snapped a three-game losing string by outlasting Wake Forest 83-79 in an Atlantic Coast Conference contest despite Dick Hemric's 35 points. Virginia Tech dropped its 17th straight decision as Virginia Military neared a Southern Conference playoff berth 76-74 on Don Nyman's layup with 17 seconds left.

Penn closed in on its second Ivy League title in three seasons by rallying to beat Brown 67-61 while Princeton surprised second-place Columbia 53-52 with a great drive in the last seven minutes.

Tigerettes Go To Odessa Tournament

The Snyder High School girls volleyball team will enter the high school tourney being sponsored by Odessa Junior College tonight against Fort Stockton.

The game is scheduled for 9 o'clock tonight and will be the last game of the tourney's first round. Seven other first round games were scheduled from last night through tonight.

Entered in the tourney are Lamesa, McCamey, Denver City, Midland A and B team, Pecos, Odessa, Grandfalls, Seminole, Crane, Andrews A and B teams, Big Spring, Monahans, Fort Stockton, and Snyder.

Second round games are scheduled for tomorrow in both championship and consolation brackets. If the Snyder team wins tonight, it will meet the winner of the Andrews A-Monahans game at 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. If it loses, it will take on the loser of that game at noon tomorrow.

Semi-finals and finals are set for Saturday in the tourney, starting at 9 o'clock that morning. The championship game will be at 3:30 Saturday afternoon, the third place game at 2:30, and the consolation game at 1:30.

The Snyder team, coached by Mrs. Bertie Machel, goes into the tourney with a season record of 0-3. It lost out to Odessa and Midland last weekend in the Midland tourney.

Making the trip today were Carla Swan, Ramona Thompson, Lynda Smith, Carol McKinney, Sandra Scott, and Mickey Gillean, all starters, Oneta Forguson, Rita Grimmett, Paula Taylor, Jackie Dunn, Charlotte Chauncey, and Gealene Robinson, manager. One top reserve player, Diane Kerley, is out because of illness this week.

Green Fees Hiked

HOUSTON (AP)—Fees for use of municipal golf courses in Houston were hiked to $1 on weekdays and $1.50 on Saturdays, Sundays and holidays yesterday by the city council.

The action is expected to bring the city an additional $53,000 per year.

Another money-making proposal to increase parking meter fees 20 cents per hour in the business district and 10 cents per hour elsewhere failed to receive final approval.

Ben Enters Colonial

FORT WORTH (AP)—Ben Hogan has accepted the first bid to play in the $25,000 10th annual Colonial National Golf Tournament here May 4-8.

Hogan has won the tournament four times.

ABOVE THE BLEACHERS

By DALE WALTON

Speedy Moffett, Snyder High baseball coach, may have 30 games for his 1955 edition of the Tigers by the time he gets through scheduling.

Moffett now has 18 games on the schedule, including district games, and has about 10 open dates which may be filled in. Last year the team played 22 games.

There will be about 30 boys trying out for places in the team, according to registration figures.

Vernon finished its basketball season with a season record of 8-12, which was good considering the bad start the Lions got. It had a win streak of six games when it finished play Tuesday night. The Lions tied up for fourth place with two other teams in final district standings.

Frosty Robison, graduating Big Spring gridder, said that he is favorably impressed with Southern Methodist and it looks like he might go there. He may go somewhere else, though. We understand there's a big list of schools wanting Robison.

The Howard County Junior College cage team of Big Spring, which holds championship of the West Zone of junior college competition, now holds a 25-2 record for the season. It has one more game before going into Region V playoffs. That will be at Odessa tomorrow night.

The Gail Coyotes, basketball champs of District 8-B, are awaiting the outcome of the District 7-B tournament so they will know who their bi-district opponent will be. That tourney was to start last night. After the bi-district game, the winner will go to Canyon to the regional Class B tourney.

More than 40 boys are working out under coach Jack Dillon on the Snyder High track.

Dillon expects to know within the next few days what his cinder and field team prospects will be.

Olsen Takes Jones, Readies For Maxim

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

CHICAGO (AP) — Middleweight champion Bobo Olsen, after slicing up Ralph (Tiger) Jones, is going big game hunting.

His first quarry will be battle-wise Joe Maxim, former light heavyweight champion, at San Francisco April 13.

Maxim, who must shed 21 pounds to make the 175 limit for the fight, is on a timetable that Olson's manager Sid Flaherty hopes will lead to a crack at Archie Moore's light heavy title.

Olsen carried the most weight of his career, 168 pounds, against Jones, 161, last night at Chicago Stadium and treated a national television audience and 6,221 ringside customers to a masterful performance in the non-title 10-round bout.

Jones, who a month ago in the same ring defeated Sugar Ray Robinson handily, was gradually broken down by the champion's sharp, slashing counterpunches.

By the third round, the Tiger — gamely trying to carry the fight to Olson with a lively pace from the opening bell — was bleeding from the nose.

By the fourth round, there was blood from a cut on his right eyelid. By the sixth, another gash near the same place bled profusely until the end.

It was a gory finish.

Judge Frank McAdams and Referee Frank Gilmer gave Olson all 10 rounds, the former scoring it 100-78 and the latter 100-86. Judge John Bray saw it 99-87 for Olson.

Olson, unmarked, said he felt stronger at 168 "but maybe I was faster at 160 and not as easy a target."

After Jones had four stitches taken over his eye, he conceded Bobo was "the toughest fighter I've ever met."

Zaharias Heads List Of Tourney Entries

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The 72-hole, $5,000 Serbin Women's Open golf tournament opened Thursday and defending champion Babe Zaharias of Tampa headed the list of competitors.

But the tournament may be wide open. The Babe won at Tampa, Louise Suggs at Los Angeles, Jackie Pung at Sea Island and Patty Berg at St. Petersburg in earlier tournaments.

The four, along with 16 other top veterans and four of the nation's newest professionals, will play at the 6,282-yard Bayshore Municipal course where women are given two extra strokes over the men's par of 36-36—72.

Baylor Plans Night Games For Next Fall

WACO (AP) — Baylor University plans night football during the 1955 season. Head Coach George Sauer said last night.

The Baylor trustees yesterday voted approval of a recommendation from the school's stadium committee that lights be installed at the stadium.

Sauer said present plans were to change the Baylor football games with Maryland and Arkansas to night-time affairs.

Hermleigh May Get Loop Title Tonight

The Hermleigh Cardinals may come home with a district basketball championship tonight.

At 8 o'clock tonight, they will open their second game of a two-out-of-three playoff series for the crown of District 16-B. Tonight's game is being played in Westbrook.

Just a few weeks ago many of the same boys who are now members of the basketball team played to a regional championship in football, which is as far as Class B football playoffs go. This time they have their sights set slightly higher.

If the Cards win tonight, they will be ready to go into a bi-district game against Trent, winner of District 15-B. By winning that game, they can go to Canyon to the regional Class B playoffs. Two nights ago the Hermleigh team took Westbrook 55-48 in the first game of this series. They will be favored in tonight's game, since they have already downed Westbrook three times this season. Before the playoff, in regular district play, the Cards won over Westbrook 57-30 and 54-30.

If Westbrook wins tonight, a third game will be scheduled on a neutral court.

Ray Isaacs coaches the Hermleigh squad, which has now won 14 games and lost only four for the season.

Semifinals Today In Palm Beach Tourney

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The mixed foursomes two-ball amateur golf tournament boiled down to two matches today for the semifinals.

Polly Riley of Fort Worth and J. Walcott Brown met Marjorie Zurns and Les Handt. Barbara Romack and Willie Turnesda played Bee McWane and Ted Bishop.

The Riley-Brown team defeated the defending champions, Margaret (Wiffi) Smith and James B. McHale Jr. in the quarter finals.

The tournament will end Friday with an 18-hole round between the two winners of today's pairings.

Cockell's Chance To Take Rocky Talked

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—Now that the worst is known, and it practically is assured that Rocky Marciano will make the next defense of his heavyweight title against a pear-shaped Englishman named Don Cockell, it seems here that we should start in slowly to accumulate a little information on the fellow who has proved himself a more worthy challenger than, say, Archie Moore.

It is not enough to know merely that Cockell has been knocked out in recent years by both Jimmy Slade and Randy Turpin, and that he has since beaten Harry Mathews three times and Roland LaStarza once. All that is in the record book. What we want to know is, broadly, whether he can fight.

Noting that Jim Braddock, the former champion, was the referee of Cockell's most recent victory over Matthews in Seattle last summer, we decided that was as good a place as any to start. Jim must have been sitting right next to the phone in his New Jersey home. He conceded that he had, indeed, seen the man close up.

"What do you think of him, Jim? Is it true he's built like Tony Galento?"

"Well, no, he's not like Tony. He carries a lot of weight for how short he is, but he's not fat the way Tony was. He's pretty solid."

"What was your main impression of him?"

"I would say it was his speed. He gets around on his feet good for a big man. He throws a lot of punches too."

"Would you say he hits pretty hard? It says here he knocked out Matthews in the fight you worked."

"Well, he didn't exactly knock him out. He hit Matthews several good ones in the eighth round and it hurt Matthews' back, so I had to stop it. It wouldn't say he's a great puncher, what I saw of him. He's more the boxer type. He looks like he might take a good punch."

"Does he stand a chance against Rocky, or is that a silly question?"

"I'll say this much, he thinks he can beat Rocky. His manager told me he was sure of it. He's plenty cocky, and that never hurts a fighter if he's got anything to go with it."

Gayle Rose, senior guard on the Kentucky basketball squad, is studying a presidential course and hopes to follow in the footsteps of his father who is a doctor.

Ted Lyons, former White Sox pitcher elected to the Hall of Fame, never played in the minors. He jumped right from the campus of Baylor to the Chicago team.

ROCKY NOTES IMPROVEMENT

Heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano checks the condition of his nose after workout in New York. For comparison he holds picture of the beak which was split in title fight against Ezzard Charles in New York's Yankee Stadium Sept. 17. Rocky will defend his title against Britain's Don Cockell in May.

Texas Open Starts With Field Of 171

By HAROLD RATLIFF

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — A field of 171, including virtually every Tom, Dick, and Harry who's done anything in golf lately, started moving out at the crack of dawn in the storied Texas Open Thursday.

A continuation of the fantastic scoring that has marked this tournament the last five years was forecast although the man who turned in the greatest feat — A 259 for the 72 holes — thought 262 would win it this time.

Chandler Harper, the baldish man from Chattanooga who is the defending champion, warmed up with a casual 2-under-par 69 Wednesday. He said the 6,400-yard Brackenridge Park course was a little tougher than last year. The fairways are dryer and harder and the greens are not as smooth.

But par 36-35—71 was easy for the bulk of the players and nobody would be surprised if some 60's were shot in the four days of hammering.

It was on this course that Al Borsch of Garden City, N.Y., did a 60 in 1951. Ted Kroll of New Hartford, N.Y., tied that last year. Borsch is back for another try at the elusive first money in the $12,500 tournament but Kroll has passed it up.

The 60 is an all-time PGA record and Harper's 259 was a record for a par 71 course.

Littler of Palm Springs, [illegible] year's leading money-winner, and Tommy Bolt of Houston, who has taken two tournaments this winter, were regarded as most likely to succeed in this one with Harper and Shelly Mayfield of Chicopee, Mass., capable of grabbing first money.

Jimmie Demaret, the tournament veteran from Houston who had an attack of indigestion Tuesday, played nine holes Wednesday afternoon and said he was ready to participate.

Forced to withdraw at the last minute, however, was E. J. (Dutch) Harrison of St. Louis, two-time winner here, who didn't feel up to snuff and said he wouldn't make it.

As the first players went out in the opening round today, a plaque was unveiled at the first tee in the memory of Jack O'Brien, the San Antonio sports writer who founded the Texas Open in 1922 and made it the first big money event in golf. O'Brien died late last year.

8 States Could Take Quick Advantage Of School Program

By HERMAN R. ALLEN

WASHINGTON (AP)—Eight states would be ready to move immediately under the school-building agency provisions of President Eisenhower's aid-to-education plan if Congress enacts them.

These states already have agencies specifically charged with assisting local school districts to overcome classroom shortages, or other agencies which can exercise similar functions.

The President called for the establishment of state agencies which with federal help would issue bonds to build schools. The local districts would rent the buildings and eventually the rents would pay off the bonds. Then the buildings would become the districts' property.

Six states have constitutional provisions that might prevent their setting up school-building agencies until the three-year life of the Eisenhower plan has expired, but others are in better shape.

Aside from the 8 with agencies in being, 11 apparently could set them up under existing laws, and 14 others could do so with simple enabling legislation.

Four states — Pennsylvania, Georgia, Indiana and Maine — have state school-building agencies as such. Of these, the Pennsylvania State Public School Building Authority apparently operates most closely to the way contemplated in the president's proposal.

Pennsylvania school districts which have reached their legal bonding limits may submit building plans and ask the authority to come to the rescue with money it has raised with bonds.

If the authority approves the plans, it forwards the project money to the district, which repays it with interest over a 40-year rental period.

Interest has run around 3 per cent, which is somewhat high by usual financial standards, but officials note that these school districts are financially distressed and have to take pretty much what they can get.

(Under another part of the Eisenhower plan, the federal government could buy local school bonds at rates up to 3 per cent.)

Aside from the statewide building authority, Pennsylvania has numerous local school-building authorities which operate on a similar principle. They are, actually, a legalized evasion of school district borrowing limits.

Together the state and local authorities have built or contracted for more than 435 million dollars' worth of schools since 1950. School districts themselves, without any authority help, have built 106 million dollars' worth in the same time.

The Georgia system operates somewhat differently in detail, but the objective is the same as in Pennsylvania — to funnel state money down to local school districts.

Local systems must first consult with the State Department of Education to fix their needs. Then they go to the building authority, which — instead of giving them the money — itself acquires sites and builds the schools for lease to the district.

The Georgia Department of Education makes an annual allotment to school districts for building purposes, and this money is used for the rent that pays off authority bonds.

The Georgia authority has spent 130 million dollars on schools in approximately two years and is now planning a final bond issue of 31 million.

No schools have been built in Indiana by the state school-building authority because of court action brought almost as soon as it was set up in 1951 with power to issue bonds and lease schools. Those who brought the suit contended the authority was unconstitutional. The case has not reached the State Supreme Court.

The Maine authority has put four million dollars into schools in 41 towns, the school units in Maine. The Maine authority has virtually reached its present legal borrowing limit.

The four states in which agencies other than specifically designated building authorities can carry on similar activities are Arkansas, Florida and North and South Dakota.

The Arkansas Legislature just last week passed an act designating the State Education Board to receive and administer any building funds made available by the federal government under the Eisenhower or any other plan.

The Florida State Board of Education issues school construction bonds which are guaranteed by allocations of auto license revenue amounting to about nine million dollars a year. The board would have power to accept federal school funds.

The North Dakota School Construction Board, which has advanced over two million dollars to school districts since it went into operation July 1, 1953, could accept federal funds and operate as a building authority.

South Dakota officials say they believe the State Department of Public Instruction could act as a bond-issuing agency.

Cpl. Bill Voss, the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Voss of Hermleigh, arrived there Sunday morning on furlough. He recently returned to the United States from Germany where he was stationed for 18 months.

Statistics indicate that the warm "January thaw" period in the United States is marked by unusually low temperatures in Europe.

PASTRY HATCHETS REVIVE CHERRY TREE LEGEND OF WASHINGTON
. . . the children will appreciate this tie-in

Cherry Pies, Desserts Served For Washington's Birthday

Young George Washington and the cherry tree caused such a furor that today his birthday and cherry pie go together like bacon and eggs.

Of course, there are many kinds of cherry pie. French cherry pie is a little unusual, the different touch to this treat being smooth white icing that makes a cheerful and tasty topping. Save out a few cherries from the filling to decorate the top of the pie in a cherry branch design. Do serve it at the table where it can be admired as well as tasted.

FRENCH CHERRY PIE
¾ cup sugar
2½ tablespoons cornstarch
¼ teaspoon salt
1 No. 2 can water pack red sour pitted cherries
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
Pastry
½ cup confectioners sugar
1 teaspoon melted butter or margarine
1 tablespoon top milk
Few drops vanilla

Combine sugar, cornstarch and salt. Add liquid drained from cherries and cook until thickened and clear, stirring constantly. Remove from heat; add butter and cherries. Pour into an unbaked 8-inch pastry shell and cover with top crust. Bake in a hot oven (425 degrees F.) about 30 minutes or until well browned. Combine confectioners sugar, melted butter, top milk and vanilla; stir until smooth. Spread on top crust of cooled pie. Makes one 8-inch pie.

The delicacy of fresh cherry pie is easily made once the cherries are pitted. Many cooks put a solid upper crust on their fruit and berry pies while others prefer a lattice top. A variation of the lattice top is to decorate the pie top with hatchets cut from pastry.

FRESH CHERRY PIE
Pastry
1¼ cups sugar
4 tablespoons flour
¼ teaspoon salt
3½ cups sour red pitted cherries
2 tablespoons butter

Combine sugar, flour and salt. Spread half of this mixture over pastry-lined pan. Add cherries and sprinkle remainder of mixture over cherries. Dot with butter. Place upper crust on pie and bake on lower shelf in a hot oven (425 degrees F.) 30 to 40 minutes.

Cherry pie a la mode is always a favorite. Fresh cherry pie can be garnished with scoops of vanilla ice cream.

Some people prefer cake to pie. For these people a cherry decorated cake fills the bill. The decorations are made of marachino cherries and cut gum drops.

ONE-EGG CAKE
2 cups sifted cake flour
2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder
¾ teaspoon salt
1-3 cup shortening
1 cup sugar
1 egg, unbeaten
⅞ cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift together three times. Cream shortening, add sugar gradually, and cream together until light and fluffy. Add egg and beat thoroughly. Add flour, alternately with milk, a small amount at a time, beating after each addition until smooth. Add vanilla. Turn into an 8x8x2-inch pan which has been lined and greased. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 45 minutes, or until done.

BUTTER FROSTING
4 tablespoons butter
2 cups sifted confectioners sugar
3 tablespoons milk (about)
1 teaspoon vanilla
Dash of salt

Cream butter; add part of sugar gradually, blending after each addition. Add remaining sugar, alternately with milk, until of right consistency to spread. Beat after each addition until smooth. Add vanilla and salt. Makes enough frosting to cover top and sides of 8x8x2-inch cake.

One chiffon pie recipe has even gained Washington's name.

WASHINGTON CHIFFON PIE
1 tablespoon (1 envelope un-flavored gelatin)
¼ cup cold water
2 eggs, separated
⅓ cup sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
1½ cups milk
2 teaspoons vanilla
Cherry graham cracker crust

Soften gelatin in cold water. Combine slightly beaten egg yolks, ¼ cup of the sugar, salt and milk in top of double boiler. Cook over hot (not boiling) water until mixture thickens stirring constantly. Remove from heat and stir in softened gelatin until dissolved; add vanilla. Cool. When mixture begins to thicken beat egg whites until stiff but not dry, and gradually beat remaining sugar into whites; fold into thickened mixture. Pile into cherry graham cracker pie crust. Chill until firm; decorate with a hatchet cut out of cherry jelly.

CHERRY GRAHAM CRACKER PIE CRUST
1-3 cup cherry jam or jelly
18 graham crackers, crushed (makes about 1½ cups crumbs)

Beat cherry jam or jelly with a fork until broken up. Blend in graham cracker crumbs. Press firmly onto bottom and sides of a greased 9-inch pie pan. Bake in a very slow (300 degrees F.) oven for 7 minutes. Let stand until cold before adding filling.

When speed is the consideration, cherry pie can be made with packaged mix for the crust and with canned cherries.

CHERRY PIE
1 package pie crust mix or standard recipe using 2 cups flour
1 No. 2 can red tart pitted cherries
1 cup sugar
4 tablespoons cornstarch
½ teaspoon salt
5 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 tablespoon lemon juice
Red food coloring

Prepare and roll pastry according to package directions. Roll out half the pastry ⅛ inch thick; fit into a 9-inch pie plate. Drain cherries; reserve 1 cup of the liquid. Combine sugar, cornstarch and salt in sauce pan; gradually stir in cherry liquid. Cook, stirring constantly, until mixture is thickened and clear. Remove from heat; add butter and lemon juice; cool slightly. Add cherries and few drops red food coloring. Turn into prepared pastry lined plate. Roll out remaining dough and with knife or pastry wheel, cut remaining pastry in half inch wide strips. Place strips, "lattice" fashion, across filling; press edges together with tines of fork. Bake in a hot oven, (400 degrees F.) 10 minutes; reduce temperature to moderate (350 degrees F.) and bake 20 minutes longer. Yield: 6 servings.

Cherry tarts are a decorative pie variation.

GLAZED CHERRY-WINE TARTS
1½ tablespoons cornstarch
3 tablespoons sugar
Dash of cinnamon
Dash of salt
½ cup syrup from canned red sour pitted cherries
½ cup port wine
1 (3 oz.) package cream cheese
1 tablespoon milk
8 baked tart shells
3 cups drained canned red sour pitted cherries

Mix cornstarch, sugar, cinnamon and salt in a saucepan; gradually add cherry syrup and wine, stirring until mixture is smooth. Stir over medium heat until sauce is thickened and clear. Remove from heat. Mash cream cheese with a fork; blend in milk; spread mixture evenly over bottom of tart shells. Place cherries in tart shells; pour sauce over cherries. Chill thoroughly before serving. Serve topped with whipped cream. Makes 8 tarts.

Cherry "turn-about" is a combination of an upside-down cake and a chiffon pie.

CHERRY TURN-ABOUT
1 No. 2 can unsweetened pie cherries
¾ cup sugar
1 tablespoon quick cooking tapioca
¼ cup butter
½ cup sugar
¼ teaspoon lemon extract
Few drops almond extract
1 egg
1 cup sifted cake flour
1½ teaspoons baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ cup milk
2 (3 oz.) packages cream cheese
2 tablespoons milk (about)

Drain cherries well. Place in sauce pan and add ¾ cup sugar, tapioca and two tablespoons cherry juice. Mix and let stand 5 minutes. Then cook over low or moderate heat until tapioca is clear. Cool. When cold, pour into deep 8-inch cake pan, the bottom of which has been well buttered. Meanwhile, make cake batter of next 9 ingredients: Cream the butter until softened. Add sugar gradually, creaming well between additions. Add lemon and almond extracts and egg, and beat until sugar is completely dissolved and mixture is fluffy. Combine cake flour, baking powder and salt and sift together. Add to first mixture alternately with the milk, beginning and ending with flour. Beat well between additions. Pour batter into cake pan on top of cherries, place in 375 degree F. oven and bake 35 minutes or until center is firm. Remove from oven, place on cake rack for 20 minutes to cool before inverting into the serving plate. When cold, frost with the cream cheese, which has been mixed with enough milk to make it soft enough to spread or put through a pastry tube.

George Washington dessert is a novelty which is easily prepared from packaged ice cream.

GEORGE WASHINGTON DESSERT
2 pints of pre-packaged ice cream
Marashino cherries with stems
Hatchet cookies

Place two pints of pre-packaged ice cream together on serving platter to form loaf. Place cherries around loaf. Make 4 cuts in top of ice cream; press cookie hatchets upright in ice cream. Yield: 6 to 8 servings.

HATCHET COOKIES
½ cup butter or margarine
½ cup sugar
1 egg, well beaten
¾ teaspoon vanilla
2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
½ teaspoon baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt

Cream butter. Add sugar gradually and cream thoroughly until light and fluffy. Mix in egg and vanilla. Sift in flour, baking powder and salt; blend well. Chill dough about 30 minutes. Roll dough to about one-eighth inch thickness on a lightly floured board. Cut with hatchet-shaped cookie cutter. Bake on an ungreased baking sheet in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 10 minutes. If desired, when cookies are cold cover with a thin layer of melted fondant tinted red. Yield: 3 dozen cookies.

Cherry preserves will help make a festive snack for George Washington's birthday.

FEBRUARY CHERRY JAM
1 one-pound package quick-frozen red sour pitted cherries
2½ cups sugar
5 tablespoons powdered fruit pectin (mix contents of package thoroughly before measuring.)

Thaw cherries as directed on package; then drain, reserving juice. Chop cherries fine. Measure cherries and juice and add enough water to make 2¼ cups. Place in a large saucepan. Measure sugar and set aside. Place saucepan holding fruit over high heat. Add powdered fruit pectin and stir until mixture comes to a hard boil. Add sugar at once. Bring to a full rolling boil for 1 minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat, skim, pour quickly into jelly glasses. Paraffin at once. Makes about 3 six-ounce glasses.

Another treat for a Washington birthday party for youngsters is to top vanilla or custard pudding with cherry preserves and then improvise drum-style containers.

Another George Washington cherry pie requires no baking. The ice box pie is made with a graham-cracker crust.

GRAHAM-CRACKER CRUST
1 1-3 cups graham-cracker crumbs
1-3 cup granulated sugar
1-3 cup melted butter or margarine

Combine all ingredients until well mixed and crumbly. Press mixture into well greased 9-inch pie plate lining the bottom and sides evenly. Chill.

FILLING
1 package instant vanilla pudding
Milk
1 No. 2 can water pack sour cherries
¾ cup granulated sugar
3 tablespoons cornstarch
Juice from cherries
Few drops lemon extract
½ teaspoon almond extract
Red food color

Make vanilla pudding following label directions for pie filling. Turn into cooled pie shell; let set; chill. Drain cherries. Be sure to save all the juice. Place the sugar, cornstarch and juice in saucepan. Boil, stirring constantly until mixture thickens and clears; add cherries, extracts, and food coloring. Carefully spoon cherry mixture on top of the chilled vanilla pudding. Chill.

Londoners Go For Lady Docker Show

By TOM OCHILTREE

LONDON (AP) — A limousine trimmed in gold carries Lady Norah Docker through London's gray streets.

"Gold was decided upon as being the most practical," she says.

It's true chromium was scarce when her car was built, but the statement seems to echo Marie Antoinette's "Let 'em eat cake."

You'd think, then, that Britain's tolling millions might resent the lady. Instead they love her. Her obvious enjoyment of the things money can buy appeals to Britons.

"I always believe in having a go," she has explained.

She receives more newspaper space than the average Cabinet minister gets. Columnists quote her on every subject—so long as it's not serious.

Lady Docker says the rich have an obligation to live a life of some display, to cheer up the rest of the citizenry.

"The people in the street just love to see the show," she observes.

Her husband Sir Bernard Docker has many business connections, including one with an outfit that builds custom automobile bodies. Her gold-plated car was born there. She has had others since it was unveiled in 1951, but none exceeds the splendor of its 8,000 gold stars and gold - plated radiator, bumper and wheel rims.

Lady Docker, at 44, is slim, blond and always faultlessly dressed. Sir Bernard, 58, is tall and calm with a face that shows constant good humor. She was twice widowed. Husband No. 1, Clement Callingham, left her $720,000. No. 2, Sir William Collins, left her four million dollars.

She and Docker married in 1949. Britain was a cold, dark place, caught in the grip of post war austerity. Editors began to operate on the theory that nothing lifted the gloom like a story about Norah Docker's diamond-encrusted life. Times are better now, but the aura lingers on.

As Norah Turner, Lady Docker grew up in comfortable but not luxurious circumstances. Between the wars she worked in a department store selling lamps and women's hats. "There wasn't much difference in the goods in the two departments," she recalls.

"Despite the fact that I have married three well-to-do men, my friends are mostly ordinary but genuine people," she says.

She thinks coal miners are wonderful. Last year she went down in a mine near Wakefield. The miners cheered when she brought up two lumps of coal she had hacked out with her own manicured hands.

Thirty-three of those same miners were entertained later aboard the Dockers' yacht. For six hours they sipped pink champagne as the yacht cruised around the Isle of Wight. The miners gave the Dockers a large bouquet of carnations and roses with this card: "To two pals—from the boys."

Woman Who Aided Opera Feared Dead

YOKOHAMA, Japan (AP) — The woman who gave Puccini the Japanese melodies for his famous opera "Madame Butterfly" is missing and feared dead in the fire that razed a Catholic old ladies home here and burned to death nearly 100 women.

She is Mrs. Hisako Oyama, 85, widow of the late Tsunasuke Oyama, Japanese minister to Italy in 1899.

Mrs. Oyama's relatives tentatively identified a body as hers.

They said Mrs. Oyama, a devout Catholic, made her own decision to enter the home and paid her own way. Most of the inmates were destitute. The family said she told them, "I can be nearer to God there."

The world premiere of "Madame Butterfly" was 51 years ago today at Milan's La Scala.

Before World War II, Mrs. Oyama told in a magazine article of her connection with the opera, the story of geisha girl Cho Cho San's love for an American naval officer and her suicide when he deserts her.

Puccini needed Japanese musical themes and melodies that he could elaborate to give the opera an authentic Japanese atmosphere.

He was introduced to Mrs. Oyama, an amateur musician who sang to him the songs of her native land. Mrs. Oyama wrote that she was startled to find that Puccini, not too familiar with Japanese music, had used an old drinking song as his inspiration for the suicide music.

Greek Family Finally United

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Metera—Mother—is home at last for the Katsanevas.

Mrs. Mike Katsanevas arrived at a Salt Lake City airport yesterday, alone and bewildered. For seven years she had waited to come from Greece to America and be with her husband.

But somehow word of her arrival failed to reach Mike and her children. She waited an hour and a half. Then suddenly her 66-year-old husband and three of her children hurried into the airport waiting room.

There were tearful embraces and happy exclamations. "Metera" was home.

Mike had to leave Mrs. Katsanevas behind in Greece with seven of his children when he came to America with the other three in 1947. He found work as a janitor at the Clearfield Naval Supply Depot and tried to save so he could bring the rest of his family to their new home.

But the saving was slow. Finally, his fellow workers heard about his efforts and chipped in to bring the family to America in time for Christmas.

The children arrived shortly after the holiday, but Mrs. Katsanevas had had to stay behind until a minor stomach ailment cleared up.

The family still isn't complete. One son, James, is with the U.S. Air Force in Arizona. Another, George, is in the Greek army.

But that will change in time. The family's as good as together now.

Paintings Imitated, Italian Artist Says

By FRANK BRUTTO

ROME (AP) — Silver - thatched Giorgio de Chirico, one of Italy's top artists, says imitators have "flooded" the United States, France and Italy with paintings falsely attributed to him.

De Chirico's complaint was the latest salvo in a continuing international squabble between him and Bernard Dorival, curator of France's National Museum of Modern Art in Paris.

The feud started when the artist objected last month to the Paris museum's showing a surrealist painting entitled "Composition" and bearing the signature "G. de Chirico." It had hung in the gallery for five years, but the Italian said he had just heard about it. He called it a "gross fake."

Down came the canvas. Dorival said he and other French experts "are sure the picture is by De Chirico," but they'd oblige the artist. "No great loss," he sniffed. The painting had been seized from a smuggler at the French-Italian border and "we bought it because the customs sold it cheap," Dorival added.

That tore it. The Frenchman, De Chirico asserted, had assumed "an insulting attitude."

"What is this?" he said to an interviewer. "First they let it hang for five years and then they remove it, not because I say it is false, but because they say it is no good."

He also accused the French museum of slighting Italian artists by showing too few of their works.

In Paris, Dorival agreed his museum is devoted largely to French paintings but pointed out that it is a French museum. Many foreign works are exhibited, "according to their merits," he added.

De Chirico, former exponent of extreme modernism but painting more conservatively these days, took particular exception to Dorival's charge that he had been "disowning one after another" paintings in his former style. Prove it, the painter challenged.

Most Antiques In America Are Fakes

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—The do-it-yourself craze has reached the point where you can now be your own Chippendale and create antique furniture at home.

The odds are that your home-made antiques will be as authentic as those your neighbor "discovered" in some antique store or farmer's barn and bought at a fancy price. And they will cost you a lot less.

"About 80 per cent of the antique furniture in America is a fake—at least so far as being old is concerned," said Gordon Obrig, one of America's pioneer home furnishings and industrial designers.

"Previous generations simply didn't leave behind them enough period furniture to fill the present demand for antiques."

To satisfy this market there arose the practice of what is known in the trade as "distressing a reproduction." It consists of taking a fine new piece of furniture designed on classic lines and deliberately beating it up to give it an antique look.

This artificial aging was already quite an art abroad, Obrig recalled, when he was apprenticed at the age of 13 to a London decorator.

"I used to be one of the best wormhole makers in all England," he said modestly.

Obrig abandoned wormhole making long ago. Today in the workroom of his 12-acre estate—he calls it "Poison Ivy Acres, Mortgage Lane, Deep-in-Debt, Conn." He designs everything from eggbeaters to Geiger counters. He also enjoys giving tips to young couples on how they can furnish their homes at small expense.

"A housewife actually can do a better job of distressing a reproduction than a professional furniture workman," he said. "She is willing to put more time and hand labor into the task."

So if you want to take a $40 table and make it look like a $400 antique, here is what you do:

"First file off the edges to make it look worn. Then take a ring of heavy old keys and slam them on the table top to give it a sctatched up look.

"To give the apron of the table a worm-eaten appearance you burn it with hot copper wires. You can also put a few worm holes in the legs, but be careful not to overdo it. If you put in too many worm holes, your new antique may collapse while you're still making it.

"If the table is of oak, you can give it a worn, ridged look by washing it with potash and lye. That'll eat out the soft grain of the fiber.

"Next, sandpaper the spots where normal usage over a long period of time would wear the table smooth.

"If you want a walnut finish, you can make a good antique walnut stain by soaking some old walnut shells in alcohol.

"Then put on three coats of shellac, and finish it off with a coat of melted white beeswax mixed with gum turpentine. This gives the depth of finish you'd expect in a fine old table."

The wife can now call in her friends and brag about the "wonderful hand made antique table" she picked up at a bargain. And if she's done her work well, they'll never know whose hands made it antique.

Dulles Still Vague On Plans For Quemoy, Matsu Islands

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—He didn't say yes and he didn't say no. That sums up Secretary of State Dulles' reply to the important question: Will the Red Chinese be allowed to have Quemoy and Matsu islands?

For months the Eisenhower administration's position on that question has been vague. It was still vague after Dulles finished talking about it in a New York speech last night.

Since he didn't make it off the cuff but had plenty of time to prepare it, his vagueness can be considered deliberate. Why? Either because the administration hasn't made up its mind, doesn't want to tell the Reds or wants elbow room for horsetrading.

Dulles' words can be interpreted this way:

1. The United States may fight—Dulles didn't say it would—to defend those islands if the Red Chinese try to take them by force.

2. If the Reds play nice, stop talking about invading Formosa and agree to a cease-fire, they may be allowed to have Quemoy and Matsu.

Chiang Kai-shek, American ally, has his main forces on Formosa and the nearby Pescadores Islands, 100 miles across water from the Red Chinese mainland. He has other forces scattered among islands close to the mainland.

The United States is pledged to defend Formosa and the Pescadores under a Senate - approved treaty with Chiang. As Dulles said last night, this pledge does not extend to any other Chiang-held islands.

But Eisenhower could, if he thought them necessary to the defense of Formosa, defend the other islands. This power was given him in a special resolution approved by Congress.

He decided the Tachen Islands, 200 miles northwest of Formosa, were not necessary for the latter's defense. So last week Chiang withdrew his troops from the Tachens and let the Reds have them.

But what of Quemoy and Matsu? They're close to the mainland and on a direct line between big mainland ports and Formosa. In the hands of the Reds they could serve as stepping stones for a Formosa invasion.

Dulles said:

"The United States has no commitment and no purpose to defend the coastal positions as such." Then, almost wistfully, he wondered whether the Reds "might not renounce their efforts to realize their goals by force." And he added he hoped the Reds' announced decision to take Formosa was "not irrevocable."

But he talked dimly of the idea of letting the Reds have Quemoy and Matsu merely for the asking. He said, "It is doubtful this would serve either the cause of peace or the cause of freedom." Nothing, in so many words, was final in what he said.

100 Women Perish In Yokohama Fire

By JOHN RANDOLPH

YOKOHAMA, Japan (AP) — About 100 aged women died in flaming agony today when a flash fire roared through a Roman Catholic old ladies' home before dawn.

There were only 46 survivors, police said. Nearly all were burned or injured in jumps from the second floor of their two-story wooden dormitory, declared a fire hazard in 1953. Several were in critical condition.

"I could do nothing," a survivor cried. "I can hear their screams, 'Hot! . . . Hot! . . . Help! . . . Help!' "

The inmates were mainly pitiful old Japanese women without families. Their ages ranged from 60 to 96.

It was Japan's worst building fire since the Pacific war air raids.

Sister Umeko Sugiyama, 42, a nun, died when she dashed back into the burning building to carry out another of her charges.

The home, a converted Japanese army barracks, was part of the convent of the Garden of Our Lady, belonging to the Francisco Missionaries of Mary, an international Catholic order.

Yokohama police said the blaze apparently started with defective wiring at 4:30 a.m. Heat and sparks ignited a two-story chapel and two other buildings. They too burned to the ground.

The main convent housing 101 nuns and novices, mainly Japanese, was spared.

In the Yokohama National Hospital, the suffering survivors mingled Christian "Our Lady" and "Amens" with chants of "Namu amida butsu" — the Buddhist prayer of mercy for the dying.

Chiho Hamada, 86, told how the oldest resident, 96-year-old Mrs. Machi Okuni, died.

"We were awakened—only to see flames and smoke all around.

"Okuni-san looked about her and said, 'I am old enough to die.'

"Then she held up her bed quilt to keep the flames back and let the others escape."

Firemen spread mattresses and implored the old women to jump. Some did. Others were too feeble. Many were hard of hearing and woke only when flames approached them.

OIL PLANT BURNS

Firemen pour streams of water on burning oil tanks as flames and smoke spurt high into the air following an explosion and fire in gasoline storage tanks of the Signal Oil Co. in El Centro, Calif. Two men were killed and two others critically burned. The plant office, two tank trucks and a sedan were destroyed.

Hard Winter Helps Some Businesses

NEW YORK (AP)—The weatherman—who gets blamed for almost everything — is getting some friendly pats today from industries that fared less profitably in other years when the winters were more on the sissy side.

It's been a good winter for the makers and sellers of heavy overcoats, rubbers and galoshes, and for distributors of coal, fuel oil and natural gas.

On the other hand, merchants in many cities blame the weatherman for store sales dropping below the year ago figure. New York department stores report sales off 3 per cent last week because the weather kept people home. But San Francisco, with better days, had a sales increase of 6 per cent above the year-ago figures.

Chain stores and mail order houses report big gains in sales last month as merchandise associated with cold weather moved freely. The average gain: 9 per cent. For the mail order houses, the increase averaged 15 per cent above a year ago. Maybe folk stayed home because of the bad weather and shopped through the postman.

Fuel peddlers have had some sorry winters in recent years and talked gloomily of climatic changes and the disappearance of the old-fashioned "real" winter. But this year the American Petroleum Institute reports that cold weather has reduced the big stocks of fuel oils, to the industry's joy.

Officials of the Columbia Gas System, which serves the industrial Midwest, where winter has been severe this year, report "a wonderful sales year."

More houses are going up this winter in some sections of the land, where the winter was open, the Labor Department reports. But where winter returned to its old-fashioned ways, starts were off.

Employment in general has dropped in areas where winter halted outdoor work.

Milk production is running slightly behind a year ago, because in many regions the cows haven't been getting out to pasture as they did in the sissy winters.

Egg prices have gone up, and one reason given is that cold weather has discouraged the biddies and also has kept some farmers from coming to town with the eggs the hens did lay.

Oilman Makes 11-Story Leap

DALLAS (AP) — John Rogers Moroney, 55, Dallas oilman and attorney, plunged head first to his death last night from a patio atop the 11-story Santa Fe Building annex here.

A horrified radio station switchboard operator tried vainly to prevent the prominent attorney-oilman's leap.

Justice of the Peace Glenn W. Byrd returned a verdict of suicide.

The body hit the street in front of the building.

Moroney had been missing since Tuesday when he failed to keep an appointment with a tax consultant. A missing person report had been issued on him by police of Highland Park Tuesday night.

Moroney told two employees of Radio Station WFAA he was "just getting a breath of fresh air" when they asked why he was on the radio station's patio. Told to leave, he went to the 10th floor coffee shop but apparently returned by elevator quickly.

A WFAA switchboard operator, Mrs. T. F. Fry, ran to the patio door and saw Moroney walking toward the parapet, she said. Before she could say anything, she told officers, Moroney dropped his coat and dove head first over the protective wall.

A note found on his body directed that "contents of my billfold" be turned over to his wife. In his pocket was $951 and a $500 check.

Sub Reported Off Florida

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — The Navy plans an investigation to give "proper evaluation" to the reported sighting of an unidentified submarine near Fort Pierce, Fla., Wednesday morning.

Two Coast Guardsmen, sent out to investigate an "orange glow" at sea, reported they approached within "a quarter of a mile or less" of the object about 11 miles southeast of Fort Pierce before they lost sight of it in the early darkness.

At New London, Conn., Lt. Cmdr. Jack Parry, public information officer for Atlantic submarine fleet headquarters said, "It's not ours. We have no submarines operating in that area."

The location would put any underseas craft about 30 miles from the Air Force guided missile base at Cocoa, Fla.

Navy patrol planes were sent out from here but reported they failed to find the object.

Navy spokesmen said witnesses would be interviewed and "every effort made to make a proper evaluation" of the reported sighting.

The record high temperature for one Maine weather station is 106 degrees Fahrenheit compared to the record of one Florida station—96.
