First National Bank Opens New Building

First National Bank opened for business in its new $600,000 banking house at Number 1 Broadway Plaza at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday after a little more than a year of construction and many years of planning.

It was business as usual after a ceremonial ribbon stretched across the east door was cut by James H. Sorenson, Jr., president, while County Judge John D. Wendell and Rockport's Mayor Walter S. Falk, Jr., looked on with approval. Next came formal presentation of keys to the new building to Sorenson by Syl Cunningham, district superintendent for A & A Construction Co., of Victoria, general contractor.

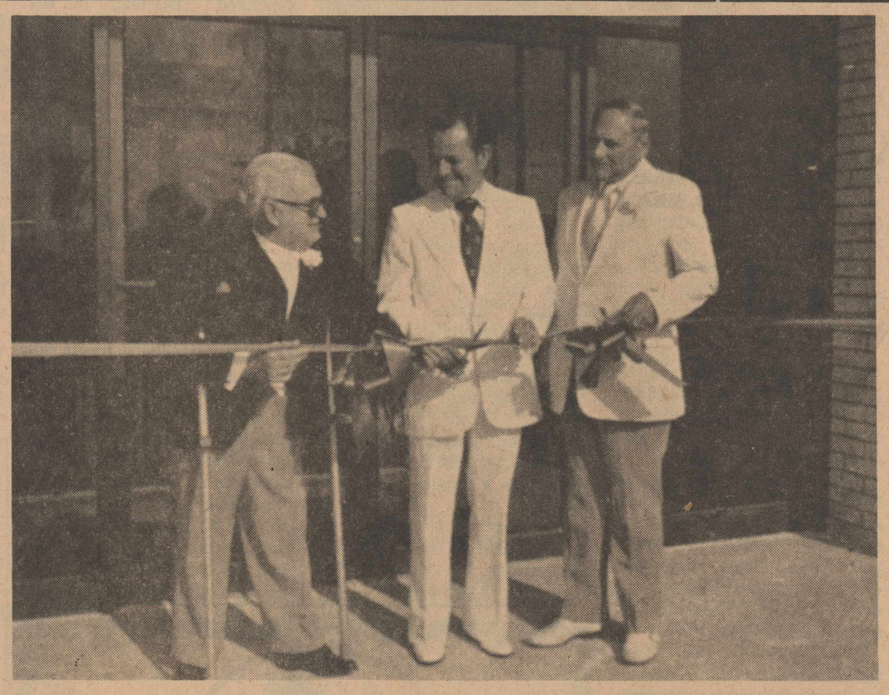

Throughout the remainder of the week open house for customers and friends is being observed. Refreshment are being served and Mrs. J. J. Strole of Sinton is providing organ music mornings and afternoons.

A feature of the open house is the awarding of First National Savings accounts at drawings each day. Two $50 savings accounts are being awarded in drawings the first three days of the week, with a $500 savings account award Friday, the final day.

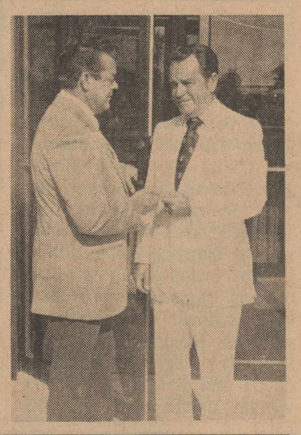

Entries and winners have been limited to young people 17 years of age and younger. Susan and Kevin Picton are in charge of the savings account program.

Marking completion of the $600,000 bank building project, Syl Cunningham, district superintendent for A&A Construction Co., of Victoria, general contractor, left, makes a ceremonial presentation of keys to Sorenson. Cunningham has supervised every step of the project since ground was broken for the building April 2, 1973.

Two Sentenced For Burglary

Dusty W. Jennings, 19, and Terry Lee Loftis, 19, who gave his address as New Mexico, were arrested by Rockport police officers recently and charged with attempted burglary of coin operated machines.

The two men attempted to break into machines at Jack's Exxon on Market Street in Rockport.

County Judge John Wendell sentenced both men to serve 30 days in the county jail and $100 fine plus $47 court costs.

Chief of Police Jim Craigmile praised Judge Wendell and County Attorney Ellis Clark for the disposition in the case. "I feel my officers are getting the support they deserve for their work out on the streets," Craigmile said. "Action such as this helps discourage criminal activity by elements from outside our community. We have enough to keep us busy with local problems," the chief said.

Honor To Be Paid War Dead In Memorial Service May 30

Under sponsorhip of Stewart-Wendell Post No. 3904, Veterans of Foreign Wars, impressive Memorial Day services will be held at Rockport Cemetery at 4 p.m. Thursday, May 30.

Memorial Day began -- as a national observance -- during the Civil War, first in Mississippi (Columbus and Vicksburg), Virginia (Winchester) and other states, and by 1865 was observed nationally. That year the Adjutant General of the U. S. Army suggested graves be decorated throughout the country.

Although the war in Vietnam has ended for American forces, the military establishment is still abused by many; yet, it is nevertheless true that defense will again be necessary to preserve liberty.

Christianity, idealistic and moral principles and philosophies notwithstanding -- unless a free nation contains men willing to fight and die, if necessary, for country and freedom, liberty cannot long survive.

These are the thoughts which engaged us on Memorial Day, 1974. And to all who responded to their duty when their country called, and who gave their lives, the nation is indebted. It is too much to expect each individual soldier, sailor or airman to pass individually on the rightness or wrongness of the foreign policy of his government and act accordingly. This would produce only chaos. Rather, a nation must necessarily depend on brave men who believe, as Robert E. Lee did, that duty is the sublimest word in the English language.

Poppy Day Is a Success

"In Flanders Fields The Poppies Blow . . . ." so went the immortal words of Col. John McCrae's poem.

Little did he realize when he penned those lines that someday the very poppies of which he wrote would be the true symbol of all those who gave their lives in our nation's wars. But that is the case today.

Annually, the Veterans of Foreign Wars sponsor the Buddy Poppy sale in the Rockport-Fulton area to raise money for needy and disabled veterans.

This is their way of "Honoring the dead by helping the living".

This year the sale of Buddy Poppies took place on May 25 and the collections amounted to $529.75, making the event a success.

Student Council Elects Officers

Elections for Student Council officers were held May 1 at Rockport-Fulton High School. The candidates placed posters, gave speeches, promised reform, and generally worked hard to get elected.

For president the nominees were: Warren Gerdine, whose parents are Park and Evelyn Gerdine; Eugene Carter whose parents are Eugene and Marsha Carter.

The nominees for vice president: Andrew McDavid, son of John and Clare McDavid; Ray Torres, son of Pedro and Petra Torres; Patricia Stevens, daughter of William and Luz Stevens; Felipe Salazar, Jr., son of Felipe and Enriqueta Salazar; Nancy Goodin, daughter of Thomas and Phyllis Goodin.

The nominees for secretary were: Beverly Rhoden, daughter of Maurine Barnard; and Rebecca Hale, daughter of Charles and Billie Hale.

For treasurer: Loretta Lee Nuckles, daughter of Robert and Patricia Lawler, and Opal Hesseltine, daughter of John and Erlene Hesseltine.

For parlimentarian: Cindy Haigood, daughter of Elvin and Eloyce Haigood; Robert Frazier, son of David and Eddie Frazier; Jay Watkins, son of Grover and Frances Watkins; Katherine Theodore, daughter of Steve and Kitty Theodore.

The results of the election were: president-Gene Carter; vice president - Andrew McDavid; secretary - Becky Hale; treasurer - Opel Hesseltine; and parliamentarian - Cindy Haigood.

New Bank Bldg.—

lity are available during banking hours throughout the week. Final event of the dedication activities will be a "family" party Saturday night for staff members, directors and bank stockholders and their spouses, together with some state and local officials and out-of-town bankers with whom First National does business.

The move from the building at Water and Main Street which the bank has occupied since 1958 to the new structure started early Saturday to take advantage of the three-day weekend. Both professional and amateur movers participated, while Rockport police and deputies from the sheriff's office kept wary eyes on the proceedings, especially while safety deposit boxes and currency safes were in transit.

By Saturday night virtually everything -- furniture, machines, records, supplies, equipment and "cash on hand" -- had made the trip from the old to the new building without mishap. Then came the task of putting everything in its proper place, and this job proved to be even more arduous than the actual move. As it often happens with a household move, there seemed to be just too many things to place and arrange despite the greater space in the new building. However, after a lot of trial and error everything finally was in place and ready for opening day.

Throughout the weekend all members of the staff devoted their efforts to getting settled in their "new home". Charles LaBounty, executive vice president paid tribute to the efforts and results achieved by staffers. "Without their cheerful and energetic participation it is difficult to see how we could have made the move to a strange new location and been ready for business at the regular time Tuesday morning," he said.

The new $600,000 bank building is located on a block square plot at State Route 35 and Austin, Laurel and Wood Streets overlooking the Ski Basin and Aransas Bay. A masonry, steel and reinforced concrete structure with almost no windows its lobby floor has an elevation of 11 feet above bay waters. Surrounding the building is ample parking area, and the building itself contains 10,000 square feet of floor space compared with half that amount in the older building.

Incorporated in the new banking plant are the very newest and most secure banking facilities available, including four drive-in banking lanes. Customers using these lanes are in direct visual and vocal contact with a teller throughout their transaction. The lane adjacent to the building is designed specifically for commercial transactions which often take longer. Customers with less involved transactions are being urged to use the three outer lanes whenever possible. This practice will insure faster service for everyone, according to Robert D. Mosier, Jr., executive vice president.

Some time ago all of the bank's accounting was converted to a computerized system in the interest of greater speed and accuracy.

Security provisions at the new banking house are the very best available, including a large, virtually impregnable steel and reinforced concrete vault equipped with two 4,800 pound steel doors.

The lobby is under motion picture camera surveillance. An alarm system linked with police headquarters and the sheriff's office can be activated from a number of hidden locations, according to Eddie Ratliff, bank security officer. He added that after banking hours the alarm system would be activated automatically by a series of sophisticated electronic devices positioned in the banking room and inside and outside the vault.

Commenting on First National's new banking house, President Sorenson said:

"This truly is a dream come true, something we have thought about, dreamed about and worked to achieve for many years. We are very proud of our new home. The community our bank has served for 84 years will share that pride.

"In reality, our loyal depositors deserve major credit for this achievement. Their support through the years has made it possible. They are and always have been First National's most important asset."

Art Events Planned At First National

What is planned as the first of a series of art events to be presented in the lobby of First National Bank's new building will be a one-man show of paintings by Jack Sanders, Key Allegro part-time artist, June 3 through June 7.

Mrs. Gladys Gibson has been appointed chairman of the bank's permanent art committee by James H. Sorenson, Jr., bank president. In addition to a number of small shows by local artists, Mrs. Gibson is planning other exhibits, including artifacts from the early days of Rockport and Texas, pictures of early scenes, old newspaper articles and other printed or hand-written material. She has asked that anyone with material of this type get in touch with her.

"We are indeed fortunate to have Gladys Gibson accept this assignment because of her long-time interest and involvement in activities of this sort," Sorenson said. Mrs. Gibson is in the process of selecting a committee to serve with her.

Sanders plans to show eight or ten of his paintings at the bank starting next Monday. He will be on hand from time to time during the week to discuss his paintings and to answer questions. Mrs. Sanders and Pat Picton also will spend some time at the exhibit.

More widely known for his activities in construction and land development, Sanders started painting about 15 years ago and now makes it his hobby. He says he paints irregularly when the spirit moves him, usually in oils or acrylics.

Recently a painting titled "Anderson House" won first award in the landscape and architectural design class at the El Campo show. Earlier, his pictures won best in show and second in the Sea-A-Rama show in Rockport. The winner was a painting of a beached shrimp boat and was called "Last Voyage". The other winner was freeform art and titled "Whisper of Death". Most of his pictures are landscapes or seascapes.

A graduate of Southern Methodist University where he was named All-American in 1939, he subsequently played professional football with the Pittsburgh Steelers and the Philadelphia Eagles. He was selected on the All-Pro team of 1942 while playing with the Steelers.

With his father, the late L.E. (Jack) Sanders, he dredged and constructed the Rockport and Fulton turning basins, the Rockport ski basin and Padre Island causeway. He also developed and constructed Sandollar resort, as well as some of the early roads and bridges at Key Allegro.

OUTDOORS 'n things

by L. D. NUCKLES

Vacation time is here again for people - but this is not necessarily true for wildlife, especially snakes. Warm weather, such as we have now, raises the metabolism of the snakes and sets them on the prowl for food. Reports are filtering in of snakes being killed around houses, being seen on roads, and doctors are beginning to be called on to treat snakebites.

Texas has the dubious honor of being the number one state in the Nation in the number of poisonous snakebite victims reported each year. This is probably due to the number of western diamond-back rattlers we have. Not only does he carry a large amount of poison for his size, and his size is often nothing to laugh about, he is not a bit reluctant to use that poison. He is considered one of the most aggressive of all poisonous snakes. This may not be true in all instances. I have seen diamond-backs that just refused to stand and fight, they tried every way they knew to escape. I have however seen a lot more that wouldn't give an inch and just dared you to try and move them. In fact, many of them, when once aroused, will actually come to you.

The rattlesnakes are livebearers, that is, the young snakes are born alive and frisky and already carrying a load of poison. Most snakes lay eggs but all the pit vipers (rattlesnakes, water moccasin, and copperheads) are exceptions to this rule. Of course there is no connection between the mother and the young such as we find in mammals, but the eggs are just retained in the body of the mother until they hatch. Once the young snakes are born they are on their own. The mother pays no attention to them, and the old tale of young rattlers running into their mothers mouth to escape danger is pure fantasy.

We refer to snakes as cold-blooded, but this is just a way of saying that they have no way to control their body temperature. They take on the temperature of their surroundings. Just think, if we were like that we would walk around in the West Texas sun with a body temperature of 105 to 110 degrees. We couldn't stand that for more than a few minutes, and neither can the snakes. Put a rattler out in the direct summer sunshine during the heat of the day and, if he has no way to escape, he will soon die. This is why you should avoid deep shade around old logs, dense bushy areas, or piles of rubble or rocks. Just after the sun goes down is an especially dangerous time and you should exercise care anywhere you walk in the outdoors. In moving around your camp after dark always carry a light and watch where you step.

If you don't mind a few snakes around the house, that's one thing, but if you'd just as soon not have to watch your step every time you leave the house then you can do something to discourage snakes in your area. The prime thing, of course, is to remove their reason for hanging around. Take away their food supply and their hiding places. This doesn't absolutely guarantee a snake-free environment, but it does go a long way.

Clean up trash piles, piles of old lumber, stacks of tile and places of this type. Not only do they make good hiding places for the snakes, but they are gathering places for the snakes food supply, rats and mice. If you get rid of rats and mice you've taken the biggest step in getting rid of snakes. Of course some snakes, including the water moccasin, feed primarily on frogs and toads, so standing water can be a hazard if you live in an area where these snakes are found.

Do something about that unsightly trash pile, get rid of rats and mice, and clean up back yards and vacant lots. Your home will be safer, healthier, freer of snakes, and besides that-it'll look better.

Taxpayers Ask I. R. S.

Q: I won $500 in a state lottery. Are my winnings taxable? Are my losing tickets deductible?

A: Gambling winnings are included in taxable income. If deductions are itemized, gambling losses are deductible to the extent of your winnings. If you have gambling losses but no winnings, you cannot deduct any of these losses.

Q: I am contesting the results of a tax audit and plan to appeal at an IRS district conference. Do district conferees have the authority to consider the hazards of litigation in order to settle a case?

A: Yes. In cases involving $2,500 or less in proposed tax deficiency, IRS district conferee staff has authority to consider the hazards of litigation and settlement of the taxpayer's case on that basis. Until recently, the hazards of litigation were considered only at the Regional Appellate level--the second tier of the IRS audit-appeals system.

For more information on the appeals process, see IRS Publication 556, "Audit of Returns, Appeal Rights, and Claims for Refund." It's available free from your Internal Revenue office.

Q: At the time I filed my 1973 tax return, I had sold my old home but not yet purchased a new one. I noted this fact on my Federal income tax return, but did not report any capital gains. Within the one-year period required by law, I've bought a new home whose price exceeds the adjusted sale price of my old home. Am I now automatically entitled to postpone the tax on the gain from the sale or do I still have to notify the IRS?

A: After your return is filed, if you purchase a new home within the one-year replacement period that costs you at least as much as you received for your old home, you should advise your IRS district director in writing that you have replaced your old residence, giving the dates of purchase and occupancy of the new residence and its cost.

Q: Do you have a booklet that explains the IRS collection process for past due income taxes?

A: Yes. IRS Publication 586, "The Collection Process (Income Tax Accounts)," explains how the IRS fulfills its obligations to collect overdue taxes and what the rights and duties are of taxpayers owing bills for taxes.

The 12-page booklet can be obtained free of charge at your local IRS office.

Q: I failed to attach the Schedule A on itemized deductions to my tax return. Should I go ahead and mail the schedule to the Service Center?

A: No. Do not mail the schedule until it is requested by IRS. In processing the return, the necessary missing schedule will be noted and you will get a letter asking for it.

Johnny Bryan Joins U. S. Army

Johnny Dell Bryan, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Bryan, has enlisted in the United States Army.

According to SSG. Edward Young. local Army representative, Johnny enlisted for training in combat arms and a guaranteed assignment to Europe upon completing his training.

Young men and women from Rockport can reach SSG. Edward Young by calling 364-4070 or visit him at his office on Sinton Street in Sinton and obtain information about the Army's guaranteed training and assignment option.

Chiggers, Ticks Not Much Fun

AUSTIN -- Chances are that if you took your most environmentally aware citizen and set him down to what was known to be the last chigger or tick on earth, the guy would bash the little pest with whatever was handy, facing the ecological consequences with a smile.

The eradication of ticks and chiggers could hardly be mourned by anyone. Unfortunately, say Texas Parks and Wildlife Department officials, these annoying arachnids are not on anyone's endangered list, so if you plan to go on an outing this spring and summer, you had best take some precautionary measures.

First, know your enemy. You might say that ticks are born blood-thirsty. From the instant they hatch, the larvae (seed ticks)begin their search for a blood meal by mounting grass stalks and other vegetation. They "feel" the air for the warmth and scent of a warm-blood creature to which they can attach themselves.

After feeding, the larvae fall to the ground, molt and become nymphs (yearling ticks).

The nymphs must find a meal the same way as larvae do to become adults which will lay more eggs. This hit-or-miss way of doing things may take several years before the cycle is completed.

Chiggers are the larval form of very small mites which like to crawl around on your body a little while before they find an especially succulent spot. When they find a spot they like they insert their mouth parts into the skin and inject a fluid to dissolve the tissues upon which they feed.

Unfortunately for the victim, there is no such thing as one chigger bite. If you get into a bed of chiggers, you are going to be itching in quite a few places, and this itching can be maddening for up to two weeks.

The best way to deal with ticks and chiggers is to avoid the places where they lurk, high weeds, grass and brushy areas. If this is not feasible, then there are some other measures you can take.

An application of rotenone dust or some other commercially available products on clothes, especially to the cuff and legs of your pants and around your ankles, will sometimes keep ticks and chiggers off.

Chiggers are repelled by sulfur dust and insect repellent. One sulfur cream-of-tartar tablet ingested per day, beginning the day or so before going out, makes your skin repugnant to chiggers. One drawback to taking the tablets is that your perspiration will smell of sulfur, making you repugnant to some humans as well. However, most experienced outdoorsmen will tell you this is a small price to pay for a chigger-free day.

Since it takes quite a while for chiggers and ticks to make up their minds as to where to have their banquet, an inspection of your body as soon as you get home from the woods can save you some misery. Ticks can be found still crawling around. A hot, soapy bath will kill most of the chiggers on you before they start to dig in.

Embedded ticks must be removed carefully so as not to leave the mouthparts in the skin and therefore cause infections. The idea is to make it impossible for the tick to breathe through its body by covering it with alcohol, lighter fluid or nail polish remover. Hopefully, the tick will remove its head from your skin.

If the chiggers bite, you will be willing to try anything to get relief. Rubbing alcohol or some other commercial applications offer temporary help. There have been some encouraging reports from persons who have taken a hot bath in a weak solution of ammonia water or a weak solution of pine oil bleach or lysol and water.

Shower Honors Becky Baldwin

Miss Becky Baldwin, bride-elect of Michael Merritt, was honored with a lingerie shower May 23. Hostesses for the occasion were Mrs. Fred Heinsohn and Kam Heinsohn, who presented the honoree with a pink carnation corsage.

The serving table was decorated with a hand-crocheted tablecloth made by the hostesses' grandmother. The center-piece was a miniature bride and two pink tapered candles in silver holders. Refreshments consisted of pink punch, cake and mints.

The guests included the bride's-to-be sisters Bonnie, Betty and Barbara and their mother Mrs. Philip Baldwin. Special guests were Mrs. V. J. Kleypas and daughters Anne and Jeannie and Mrs. Alfred Poch of Little Rock, Arkansas.

Other guests included Eileen Casterline, Molly Johnson, Cynthia Itschner, Jane Rogers, Jacki Sharp, Patricia McLain, Paula McLain and Sharon Rayburn.

W.M.S. Meets

The Woman's Missionary Society of the First Baptist Church met May 21 at the church for Bible study. Mrs. Larry Stewart, the president, was in charge of the meeting.

A report was given that the Home Mission offering had gone past their goal; $682.08 was given. A letter of thanks was read from the South Texas Children's Home at Beeville thanking the Society for an offering.

A letter was read from the association asking that W.M.S. help send Linda Valdez to Camp Zephyr in June. A letter was also read from a small Baptist church in Halloch, South Dakota thanking W. M. S. for Betty Crocker coupons sent to help purchase a bus.

A scripture reading was read from Romans 9:1-7 by Mrs. O. H. Brown. Mrs. George Peirce read the names of Missionaries appearing on the Calendar of Prayer--prayer being led by Mrs. O. H. Brown.

Mrs. Tiney Gayle gave a report that laprobes made by Baptist ladies had been taken to Taft Nursing Home and also to Aransas Pass Nursing Home. Two quilts had been given to the Good Neighbor Club to be quilted and religious literature had been distributed.

Mrs. Eddie Bradley gave an informative Bible study taken from Luke 5:17-21.

Mrs. Larry Stewart dismissed with prayer, and nine members enjoyed cake, coffee and iced tea.

Thursday, May 30th, Stewart-Wendell Post #3904, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will hold a Memorial Day service at the Rockport Cemetery at 4:00 p.m. This service is important to the VFW as it should be to all of us, for it recalls to memory and honors all of the servicemen who have given their lives in defense of our country. Had they not done so, it is sure that you and I would not be living the life we do today.

Important as the memorial service is, however, it is only one of the organization's services to our community, and this Memorial Day I feel we should take a moment to recognize the group and its members.

Our local chapter was chartered in 1944 with 51 members and today has a membership of 190. The VFW Hall, located on Market Street, was rebuilt in 1967 after the previous building was destroyed by fire, and the VFW allows free use of its hall for community projects such as chest x-ray and immunization clinics and elections, and rents to community organizations at a nominal fee, thus generously providing a facility tantamount to a community building.

Last year the local post began participation in the VFW Voice of Democracy program. This nationwide essay contest is open to 10th, 11th, and 12th grade students and prizes are given to local winners. The winning essays then go on to compete in the national contest for additional awards.

The VFW sponsors a Pee Wee League team, the Angels, and recently donated an American flag to the League for use at their games. It has also donated a flagpole to Memorial Park and will present a flag to the city for general use at the park. Some time ago the organization gave a similar flag to the Rockport Cemetery.

The VFW is a member of the Chamber of Commerce and is interested in promoting our area. It also does much charity work which is known only to the recipients and the post members and therefore does not receive publicity.

The VFW sponsors Explorer Post 49, Boy Scouts of America and provides the Hall for their weekly meetings. This Explorer Post received its charter on May 1st, and has a membership of 70 high school age boys and girls.

For many years the VFW has sponsored a flag program and has been responsible for putting up the 100 flags that fly in our city on the 12 recognized flag days and the other special occasions where the flags are appropriate--if you work that out, that averages taking out, putting up, taking down, and storing away the equivalent of over 1,200 flags a year, and that's a lot or work in any book! The Explorers have now taken over this project and plan to use it as a money-raising effort for their special activities. (Any business or individual can sponsor a flag for each of the flag days for $16.00 per year.)

These are some of the activities of the VFW. It is a working, civic-minded group and I am ashamed to admit that until I talked with Jimmie Hunt, present Commander of the Post, I was pretty unknowing of all they do. I will be at the Memorial Day service to remember and to support the VFW as they have been and will continue to support our town. I hope you will be there, too.

Last week was National Small Business Week and the Chamber would like to take this opportunity to recognize the many small businesses in our area. Each of you is an important part of the Chamber and of the town. We salute you!.

Junior Girl Scout 'Fly-up'

Junior Girl Scout Troop 469 ended the year with a Fly-up ceremony, and a Mother's Day party May 12 at the V. F. W. Hall.

The Junior Girl Scouts had charge of the Flag Ceremony lighting the candles for the Girl Scout Promise and law and explained the World Association pin all Girl Scouts and Girl Guides wear.

They also received their badges and cookie patches. There were three girls to Fly-up to Cadettes: Frances Rameriz, Loretta Vega and Rita Martinez.

The Girl Scouts would like to thank the V. F. W. for use of their building.

MODERN ROBIN HOOD

MEMPHIS--A man dressed in green and wearing a Robin Hood cap came into the post office, flashed a large roll of bills with a $100 bill on top, and asked for ten $200 money orders. When the clerk returned with the completed money orders, the man grabbed them from his hands and ran out the door.

RECEIVES DEGREE

SAN ANTONIO - Mrs. Nancy Lee Ragnow Lee of Star Route 140, Rockport, received the master of arts degree in education May 12 from Incarnate Word College here.

Mrs. Lee also received the bachelor of science degree in physical education from IWC in 1966.

Graduation ceremonies for the 257 members of the class of 1974 began with the traditional baccalaureate at noon, followed that evening by commencement at the Laurie Auditorium.

IWC president Sister Margaret Slattery conferred the academic degrees and Dr. Amy Freeman Lee, chairman of the board of directors, presented the diplomas.

Dr. Donald Goodall of the University of Texas at Austin delivered the commencement address.

Fix-It Tip

If you want redwood to retain its bright, colorful look, you will have to finish it properly. If you put nothing on it, the redwood will take on a weathered look which, itself, is attractive.

Redwood bleaches to a soft gray under the effect of sunlight and moisture. You can make it gray faster by wetting it down occasionally.

The wood may become dark before it turns gray. If it gets darker than you like, you can brighten it with a solution of four ounces of oxalic acid to a gallon of water.

Bleaching will hasten the weathered look and do it evenly. Paint dealers carry special material for this purpose, which also eliminates the darkening process.

BEST WISHES CLASS of '74

Evening TOPS Holds Meeting

Evening TOPS #493 met on Tuesday evening, May 21 at Wagley's Office Building with Faye Cowdrey presiding. Thirteen members and one guest, Grace Rowe, were present. The Queen of the Week, Beulah Dedmon, was awarded a gold star for her banner for a ten pound loss. Bernita Kinsey was the runner-up. Theo Johnson won the HaHa weekly drawing. The total loss in pounds for the week was 6 3/4 pounds.

Bernita Kinsey, program chairman, displayed some helpful posters and reviewed two excellent articles published by the National Dairy Association with sensible diet menus with the calorie count included. These two pamphlets can be ordered for a small fee. TOPS members can order through their club.

Mrs. Kinsey concluded with a clever article from the recent TOPS magazine entitled "Give Your Fellow TOPS Hope" and the members voted to draw names for a special pal. Through this arrangement everyone knows from the beginning who has drawn her name. A report will be made at the next meeting on what members have done to encourage their special pal to really put some effort into taking off pounds sensibly.

On the contest "Stairway to Success" the Blues are ahead by several steps.

Golf is a soul-trying game. You can hit a good shot and feel like a superman. Then you can dub a shot and feel like a dunce.

As just about everyone knows (golfer and non-golfer alike) the most fundamental thing about playing a halfway decent game of golf is to keep your head down, keep your eye on the ball and stay that way as you swing the club and hit that little white pellet.

I've been playing golf for about half a century and have known this "keep your head down" requirment during that entire period. And yet I fail to do it on many shots, with the result that most of those shots are bloopers.

Such stupidity really makes a guy wonder if he has even average intelligence.

Still, the game is such a "monster" that it makes you want to rush out to the golf course and do it right. "Next time," you say to yourself, "I'm going to keep my head down, take a nice easy swing and hit that little ball right down the middle of the fairway."

And that's exactly what I'm going to do the latter part of this week.

Want to bet?

Morning TOPS

The weekly meeting of Morning TOPS was held May 21 at the Methodist Youth Building at 9:30 a.m. following the weigh-in at 8:30 a.m. Queen of the Week was Barbara Maley with a 3 pound loss. Runner-up was Tanya Gatlin with a 2 3/4 pound loss. Club total loss for the week was 18 1/4 pounds.

Morning TOPS are proud to announce that they have received their Official Charter and number from the International TOPS Headquarters.

One member, Cathy Borey, was awarded her second 10-pound loss star, totaling a loss of 20 pounds since the beginning of April. Cleo Smith won $2 from the Ha-Ha bowl.

In addition to the weekly meeting, a number of members take a long walk together on Monday mornings. The leader, Cathy Gaskin, is always present on these walks, but henceforth will bring up the rear of the group due no douth to her excessive fear of "little ole snakes"! A prominent local police official's wife bravely shielded her leader from approaching too close to the nasty reptile, when the girls were out walking a couple of weeks ago. Perhaps the club should award Lynn Hewes with a medal for bravery above and beyond the line of duty.

Further information of Morning TOPS may be obtained from Cathy Gaskin 729-2116 and Betty Mc Meredith at 729-6213.

25,000 BIRDS TO BE BANDED

AUSTIN -- Sometime at the end of this summer if you spot an egret or other fish-eating bird winging along wih a magenta leg band, take note; it will be one of the some 25,000 such birds banded during the late spring and early summer by Texas Parks and Wildlife Department non-game biologists.

Starting May 14, the biologists will band several species of fish-eating birds in six locations in Texas: north south and east inland; and upper, middle and lower coast.

Biologist Danny Swepston of the Parks and Wildlife Department said that four species of herons, four varieties of egrets, anhingas and roseate spoonbills will be banded.

Nestling birds will be marked with a leg band and a small colored leg flag to indicate which area they were banded in; north inland, blaze orange; south inland, magenta; east inland, chrome; upper coast, light green; middle coast, dark red; lower coast, light blue.

The banding and flagging will help biologists identify birds as they move out of the rookeries after fledging, and indicate what happens to the birds when rookeries become inactive or are destroyed by man, and the life history of little known birds such as the reddish egret.

Before the young birds start moving out of the nesting areas in late summer, Parks and Wildlife Department biologists will establish a reporting system which will allow the public to assist in the work.

SCORPIO--Oct. 23 to Nov. 22 -- Smile and the world smiles with you. Cry and you cry alone. Back up your smile with sincerity.

SAGITTARIUS -- Nov. 23 to Dec. 21 -- Rid yourself of the tendency to be selfish. Financial worries should now become lessened. Happiness for you will come through sharing.

CAPRICORN--Dec. 22 to Jan. 19 -- Balance the budget even if you have to cut out a favorite activity or indulgence. Even though family members may disagree on your practical approach, they will thank you later.

AQUARIUS -- Jan. 20 to Feb. 18--New ways to solve old problems come to light. Communication is good. You can sway someone to your way of thinking.

PISCES--Feb. 19 to March 20 -- Work before you play. Then take the time to enjoy one you love. A small gift as a token of your love will be appreciated.

ARIES--March 21 to April 20 -- Call a family conference. Let each one express his opinion. Even though there will not be complete agreement, the air will be cleared.

TAURUS--April 21 to May 20 -- Try a new system for keeping your home and surroundings in order. By so doing you can overcome most obstacles and much dissatisfaction.

TV COMMENTARY

By John Smiley

AS AN ANNOUNCER, Dizzy Dean has always been a favorite of real sports fans. This writer is happy to find that he will join Curt Gowdy and Tony Kubek for "Monday Night Baseball" on NBC June 17.

THE EMMY AWARDS bash this year will follow the mold of years gone by. Instead of Emmys going to a few superstars, as was suggested, the guilded statuettes will be showered out in abundance May 28.

JOHNNY CARSON, who started the toilet paper shortage panic with a casual semi-joke, will have his fourth opportunity to jockey Emmy formalities to their conclusion.

ABC has at least one midseason substitute ready just in case all its new shows aren't super poll winners. Sitting in the wings with mixed emotions is a comedy series starring Karen Valentine.

SHAME on network news for their far less than positive attitude toward the leadership of our nation.

ALSO on the TV-political scene: The Democrats are going to stage yet another fund-raising telethon on CBS June 29-30. This one will run 21 hours.
