Q. What business uses the most utilities in the state?

A. The Texas Department of Criminal Justice is the state's largest utility user. According to a recent release, TDCJ buys about $60 million a year in electric, water, gas and waste disposal services from private power companies and local governments for its 102 units across the state.

County chosen for third prison site

Mitchell County has been chosen for an additional prison unit! Texas Department of Criminal Justice officials announced Friday that Colorado City was one of eight sites selected for prison expansion.

Twenty-one proposals were received by the TDCJ board.

The other seven sites selected for expansion include Amarillo, Beaumont, Gatesville, Karnes, Wichita Falls, Lamesa, Woodville and Huntsville, said Larry Todd, TDCJ spokesman.

Construction of the $24 million unit is expected to begin early next year, said Todd. The new units will require a staff of 200, which entails an additional $6 million payroll.

Nancy Sullivan, executive director of the Mitchell County Economic Development Board, mirrored the response of many Mitchell Countians to the news.

"We're real excited about it," she said.

The first of the units is expected to open in September '97 and the remainder to be phased in over the following 12 months.

Local board of economic development leaders say they expect construction to begin in Colorado City in September and then to open within two years.

The 6,021 new cells will be designed for use as either single cells or double-bunked, giving the system a possible additional capacity of 12,042 beds.

The facility in Colorado City will adjoin the 1,300 bed Wallace medium security unit and the 900-bed state jail.

The $24 million expansion program was authorized by the Legislature earlier this year to be built from bonds approved by the voters in 1993.

The combined prison and state jail systems will have a capacity of 146,000 when the current expansion program is completed in January.

TDCJ officials said that the next step will be for prison staff to return to Colorado City to prepare plans for construction.

Sullivan said that the development board will now concentrate on increasing housing.

In recent months she has been researching various options, such as establishing a Housing Finance Authority for multi-family dwellings. In addition, she said she has been checking with other communities that are similar to Colorado City who have found winning solutions for increasing available housing.

C-City receives beautification grant from state

On Monday, State Representative Robert Junell and Colorado City officials announced a $110,000 downtown beautification and landscape program that will serve as the cornerstone of pedestrian malls linking retail shopping with public plazas and historic facilities.

The initial projects will be designed and constructed by the Texas Department of Transportation district in Abilene and have been approved by Abilene TxDOT district engineer Maribel P. Chavez.

Construction is expected to begin in the fall of 1996 and will include landscaping and beautification of peninsulas in the central business district, as well as beautification along Business I-20 in the downtown area. The project will be similar to what other cities such as San Angelo and Abilene have done with their downtown and historic areas.

The peninsula program is expected to cost $70,000 with the City of Colorado City paying $30,000 of the cost and TxDOT providing the other $40,000.

In addition, TxDOT will design, build and pay 100 percent of an anticipated $40,000 landscape and design program along Business I-20 in the downtown area.

These two projects will be constructed concurrently and mark the beginning of a major program in Colorado City to create pedestrian malls linking the business district to historic and public facilities.

Colorado City Mayor Jim Baum

and City Manager Steve Shutt noted that with TxDOT's approval of the two programs, the city council authorized the planning process for the pedestrian mall and public facilities. Construction cost could reach $400,000.

Continuation of the process will include future applications to TxDOT by the city for enhancement grants.

Faye Lee to run for tax assessor/collector

FAYE LEE

Faye Lee, assistant tax assessor, announced her candidacy this week for Mitchell County tax assessor/collector.

Lee has worked 14 years in the Mitchell County Tax Office, serving as assistant tax assessor for the last three years. Previously she was secretary to the vice-chairman of the board of First National Bank in Little Rock, Ark., served as director of First Family Club for FNB, worked for Lone Wolf Electric Coop.

She majored in business administration during two years of

Parade, pep rally Friday

State Representative Rob Junell will be the grand marshal of this year's Christmas Parade Friday and the featured speaker at the Wolf pep rally at the end of the parade.

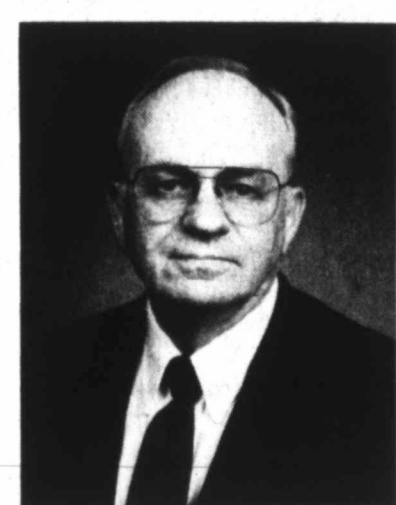

The parade, which has a theme this year of "A Fairyland Christmas", will also be a victory parade for the Wolf football team and their storybook football season.

The parade will begin at 4 p.m. at the Wolf Creek Bridge on Second Street and finish at the Mitchell County Courthouse.

Sheila Plagens, Christmas Parade chairman, said this year's parade is "looking better than ever."

Over 50 entries are expected to participate, including Dyess Air Force Base, Goodfellow Air Force Base, Wolves Band, the Chamber of Commerce directors and many others.

Hertenberger to seek re-election in Pct. 3

BUDDY HERTENBERGER

County Commissioner for Precinct #3, Buddy Hertenberger, announced this week he is seeking a bid for re-election.

He was stationed in Colorado City as a Department of Public Safety Trooper for 31 years and has served as commissioner for Precinct 3 for the last six years.

"In working with all county officials during this entire time, I feel qualified to carry out county government business and obligations," he said.

Commissioner Hertenberger's goals if re-elected are "to utilize prison inmate labor to the fullest and continue saving tax dollars as in the past."

Hertenberger was born in Old See HERTENBERGER, page 6

Wolves to battle Bearcats in Abilene

Colorado City will face their stiffest challenge of the season Saturday night in Abilene when they battle the state-ranked (8) Ballinger Bearcats at 7:30 in Shotwell Stadium.

Ballinger, coming off a 12-1 1994 season, is sporting a 10-1 record in 1995, losing only to Greenwood in their second game of the year.

The following week, Ballinger bounced back, smashing Reagan County 63 to 0.

"Ballinger is a super football team," Coach Bill Grissom said. "They do a great job executing. We have our work cut out for us," he said. "I'm looking forward to playing them."

"The Wolves will have to take it to the next level," Grissom said. "This will give us a chance to see how good we really are."

The Bearcats are perennial powerhouses in District 6-3A. Head Coach Glen Jones is in his fifth year at Ballinger, compiling an impressive 32-12 record and three straight district championships. The Bearcats come into the game averaging 40 points per game.

"Colorado City is playing with a lot of confidence and we expect a tough game from them Saturday night," Jones said.

"Grissom and his staff do an excellent job of finding weakness in their opponents and exploiting them," he said. "We are expecting a good game."

See WOLVES, page 11

THE WOLVES' DEFENSE turned in a very good performance last week in the 31-6 bi-district victory over El Paso Fabens. Linebacker John Erwin (55) and defensive tackle Phillip Garcia (65) sack quarterback Kerry Graham (16) of Fabens. The Wolf defense recorded four sacks in the game. See story on page 11.

COOK'S CORNER

Kelly and Robin Morris show off the Home Cooking cookbook and a fresh batch of cinnamon rolls, the recipe of which is included in the book.

The Mitchell County 4-H and FFA Livestock Show Association has published a cookbook recently to help raise money for their annual livestock show. The cookbook, entitled Home Cooking features just that—great down home recipes from some of the county's best cooks.

The cookbook, with its brightly colored cover, includes recipes for appetizers, breads and rolls, cakes and cookies, desserts, main dishes, soups and salads, vegetables and other good things to eat.

Another treat included in the cookbook is the history of the stock show since its inception in 1930. A picture of some young men with their steers is also included; among them is Raymond Fuller.

Home Cooking includes recipes from the kids and parents of the association, both past and present. Jami Goebel, Glenna Fambro, Jeanne Ellis, Karen Holman, Erin Hackfeld and Tony Turner are just a few of the cooks who submitted recipes for the book.

The cookbook sells for $8.00 and is available at the Record, the extension office at the courthouse, or by calling Maurine Morris at 728-5425. It would make a wonderful Christmas gift for the cook on your list.

A sampling of recipes is below. Try them and you'll see that this cookbook really is about Home Cooking!

SAUSAGE BALLS

Robin Morris
(won 2nd place for nutritious snacks at Mitchell County Food Show)

1 lb. sausage
1 lb. shredded Cheddar cheese
2 3/4 cup biscuit mix

Let cheese soften a little after shredding. Mix all ingredients together and form into balls (about the size of a quarter). Bake at 350 degrees for 15 minutes or until golden brown.

CHRISTMAS MORNING ROLLS

TEXAS HASH

Crystal Wood
1 lb. ground beef
3 lrg. onion, sliced
1 lrg. green pepper, chopped
1 (16 oz.) can tomatoes
1/2 cup uncooked regular rice
2 tsp. salt
1-2 tsp. chili powder
1/8 tsp. pepper
Heat oven to 350 degrees. In large skillet, cook and stir meat, onion, and green pepper until meat is brown and vegetables are tender. Drain off fat. Stir in rice, tomatoes, salt, chili powder and pepper; heat through. Pour into ungreased 2 quart casserole. Cover; bake 1 hour. Serves 4 to 6.

PEPPERONI PINWHEELS

Leslie Perkins
8 oz. can refrigerated crescent dinner rolls
3 1/2 oz. pkg. Hormel sliced pepperoni
2 oz. (1/2 cup) shredded Mozzarella cheese
1 cup prepared spaghetti sauce
Heat over to 350 degrees. Separate dough into four rectangles; firmly press perforations to seal. Place 8 pepperoni slices on each rectangle. Sprinkle with 2 tablespoons of cheese. Starting at the shortest side, tightly roll up each rectangle; pinch to seal. Place sealed-side-down on ungreased cookie sheet. Bake at 350 degrees for 18 to 20 minutes or until golden brown. Serve pinwheels with warmed sauce. Makes 16 pinwheels.

Couple exchanges vows in Las Vegas ceremony

Sorsha and Mark Lynn Mallard exchanged wedding vows October 13, 1995 in Las Vegas, Nev.

The bride is the daughter of Delmar Charles and Donna Jean Bierlein of Port Charlotte, Fla. The groom is the son of Marie Boyd of Colorado City and the late Harvey Ross Mallard.

Both the bride and groom are in the Marine Corps, stationed at Twentynine Palms, Calif. at the Marine Corps Ground Combat Center.

B&PW Club hears Home Health talk

The Colorado City Business and Professional Women's Club met Tuesday, November 14 at 7 p.m. in the Civic Center.

Sandra Galyean, director of Mitchell County Home Health and Hospice, gave a program about the county's new hospice organization. She spoke about the need for volunteers and showed a video from the National Hospice.

After a short recess, President Anna Staats called the business meeting to order. Hosting the evening was the Young Careerist Committee. Faye Spivey led the Pledge to the American flag, the minutes were approved and read and the financial statement was presented to be filed for audit.

Correspondence read by Anna Staats included a letter from a member of the Magic Plain's Club regarding an ill member, a thank you note from the London-bound cheerleaders and a note from the district director regarding a district Christmas party on December 9 at the Sweetwater Holiday Inn.

Secretary Christine Cooley read a recommendation from the board to have a float in the Christmas parade. A committee consisting of Donna Laurens, chairman; Shirley DeLaney and Glenna Garrett was appointed to pursue the project.

Virginia Dearen reported that there were some bylaw changes that would be typed for each member to insert into her yearbook.

Molly Bruce suggested that the club send a letter of appreciation to the organizers of the Railhead Arts and Crafts fair and to the organizers of the hospice.

The club will be in charge of the kitchen at the Fat Stock Show and a committee consisting of Lovess Curlee, Pauline Light and Glenna Garrett was appointed to organize this project.

Mildred Free, good cheer chairman, noted that Virginia Dearen was the only member present who had a November birthday. She stated that she had sent cards to various ill members and that the club will provide a turkey to help the community mission with their Thanksgiving meal.

During the club's December meeting, members will collect canned goods to be given to the Community Mission. There will also be a gift exchange, with each member bringing a gift.

Door prizes were won by Nancy Crow and Sue Womack. In closing, Anna Staats read a Veterans Day tribute entitled "Yellow Butterflies."

There were two guests, Sandra Galyean and Janet Light of Ft. Worth. Members present were Virginia Dearen, Mildred Free, Nancy Crow, Anna Staats, Sue Womack, Erdine Morgan, Dee Hearen, Glenna Garrett, Donna Laurens, Christine Cooley, Lovess Curlee, Molly Bruce and Pauline Light.

Abilene arts & crafts festival this weekend

The third annual Abilene Christmas Arts and Crafts Festival will be held Saturday and Sunday, November 25 and 26 in the Abilene Civic Center. Hours are Saturday from 10 a.m.-6 p.m. and Sunday from noon-5 p.m. There is no admission charge.

More than 150 exhibitors will fill the main exhibit hall and conference center with original art, limited edition prints and one-of-a-kind handcrafted items.

Mel Prather, organizer for the event, said the upcoming festival will feature a number of new exhibits as well as some previous ones.

"Some of our newcomers will have items such as barn wood framed prints, handmade porcelain dolls, muslin-Christmas ornaments and silk and latex flower arrangements. Others will offer handmade jackets and vests, rag bunnies, leather wallets, purses, saddles and personalized cartoon pictures."

Returning exhibitors will offer miniatures, floral decorations, ceramics, furniture in both finished and unfinished form, jewelry and fishing rod holders and many other items.

Wow! What a football game! The weather was beautiful, our fans got to sit on the good side of the stadium, and the Wolves won!! What more could you ask for?

The crowd of fans traveling to Monahans saw the Wolves play their hearts out to become bi-district champions! You won't want to miss them in action against Ballinger Saturday night in Abilene. Details elsewhere in this paper!

I'll bet Paul and Dortha Hunter are trying to decide where to sit at Saturday playoff game! Colorado City Superintendent Russell Merket is Dortha's brother, as some of you may know. That makes Assistant Coach Hayden Merket her nephew.

Now comes the tricky part—the superintendent of Ballinger is their son-in-law. Oops! To my knowledge, you can't sit in the middle of the field and root for both teams. Good luck!

There doesn't seem much to talk about other than football, but I'll give it a try...

Jan Lemons called and asked that I remind everyone that the Christmas in April applications (or at least names of applicants) must be turned in by December 1st.

If you would like to apply, or would like to suggest someone you think would benefit from a little home repair, call Jan at 728-3678, Bertie Kidd at 728-2017 or the Chamber of Commerce at 728-3403.

If you need an application brought to you, call Bertie Kidd and she will be happy to drop one by.

A big thank you to Judy Merrell! The cinnamon rolls were wonderful!

Another football tidbit.... The parents of the students who are going to Washington are going to be selling noisemakers at the Christmas parade and pep rally for the game Saturday. The bean-filled cans are $1 each and are painted in school colors! Better get you one to show the Wolves your spirit.

Tyler brought one home Monday and believe me—if everyone in the stands had one Saturday night, the Wolves would know their fans were there!

Happy 33rd anniversary to Joe and Vicki Weaver! The anniversary date is November 24th.

Connie Simpson and Shirley Grimes were in the office Tuesday and asked me to remind you of the Toy Drive that the Tumbleweed Lioness Club sponsors each year.

This is their fourth year of the drive and last year they helped approximately 175 children! That's a big increase from the 60 they were able to help the first year.

There are toy drop off boxes for your new or good used toys for children up to 12 years of age at various places around town—so don't forget to drop off yours!

Those ladies also would like to thank you for your donation to the blood drive held last week. Twenty-eight pints of blood were donated.

I can't forget the Victory/Christmas Parade Friday at 4 p.m. To watch the parade you need to line 2nd Street from the bridge west to Oak and then up to the courthouse. Over 50 entries are registered this year, so it looks like it will almost be as long as the parade we had last year.

Watch for those Chamber directors in the costumes to fit the theme! You'll recognize some of the characters just by their actions!

After the parade will be a community pep rally on the courthouse lawn to show our support of the Wolves. Representative Rob Junell will speak at the rally.

See you there! One last thing—Happy Thanksgiving from all of us at the Record office.

Donations are accepted by school libraries

Looking for the perfect gift for your favorite student's birthday? Want to honor a special educator in the Colorado ISD? How about a lasting Christmas gift in honor of your child's favorite bus driver? Why not donate a book in his/her name and become a CISD Book Booster?

CISD librarians are accepting donations for library books to honor students and staff members. Any parent, grandparent or friend may request a specific book to be donated in honor of that special person or the campus librarians will make suggestions upon request. Prices for most books range from $5-$20.

Each book donated to the library will contain the honoree's name, the occasion, the donor's name and the date on a special nameplate inserted in the front of the book.

State report shows CISD compares well with others

A state issued report card to Texas schools shows that Colorado ISD schools compared well with other schools in some ways and not so well in others, depending on the measuring standard and one's viewpoint—the old "half full or half empty glass" dilemma.

The Academic Excellence Indicator System (AEIS) Report is issued annually by the Texas Education Agency to provide information on how well school districts and the schools are performing in comparison to other districts and schools around the state.

The report shows the district's performance in comparison to state and region by several indicators such as TAAS scores, attendance, dropout, percentage taking the ACT and SAT tests, etc.

In addition, individual campuses in the district, such as the high school campus or grade school campus, are compared to a comparison group of 100 schools with similar demographics as percent of economically disadvantaged students, minority students, limited English students; district wealth, and mobility.

Kitten Arthur, curriculum facilitator, presented the 1994-95 AEIS Report to the CISD board of trustees Tuesday, Nov. 14, in a regular meeting.

"The report compared all of Colorado ISD with the state results so that we could have a single piece of demographic data with which to compare the district," she said.

The district generally follows state averages, Arthur said.

In comparing state and district TAAS scores, Hutchinson ranks well below the state average, except in the area of 4th grade math. Colorado Middle School compares with the state scores, except in eighth grade reading and math. Eighth grade science and social studies showed scores below the state average.

Colorado High School compared to the state scores in all areas on the exit test, exceeding the math average by 5 percent.

However, in Colorado Independent School District comparisons with district averages in the region, the figures are less favorable.

According to Arthur, the district ranks below region 14 averages due to differences in demographics.

Demographic comparisons show the region has a higher percentage of white students, similar percentage of African American students, and lower percentage of Hispanic students than CISD. The percentage of low socioeconomic students in the region is 41.4 percent and 47.1 percent at CISD.

Hutchinson third, fourth and fifth grade percentages were below the region averages in all tests, which include reading and math, and the writing test in the fourth grade.

In the region, 74.9 percent of students passed all tests in the third grade compared to 56.5 percent of Colorado third graders. In the fourth grade, 72.5 percent of students passed all tests in the region compared to 63.9 percent in the district. In the fifth grade, 75 percent of students in the region passed all tests while 58.7 percent of local students passed.

Sixth and eighth grade TAAS percentages also ranked below the region in all tests.

However, the seventh grade surpassed both the state and region percentages on all tests.

The seventh grade also exceeded the campus group on the campus performance section of the report.

Although the campus group percentages were not discussed in Tuesday's CISD board meeting, TEA officials say that the campus group can be the fairest measurement since campuses are compared to 100 similar schools. Schools around the state vary widely from the wealthiest to those with a high percentage of low socioeconomic students and a school may not be similar to others in a region.

Colorado Middle School seventh graders were four points ahead above the campus group on the reading test and 6.3 percentage points above the campus group's average on the math section of the TAAS test.

However, Hutchinson third graders were almost 15 percentage points below the campus group average in reading and 11.1 percent below similar campuses in math.

The percentage of Hutchinson third graders passing the TAAS test was also well below the state and region scores, Arthur reported to the board.

"This is a matter of concern and something we need to address," she said.

The board approved the AEIS report without discussion except for board member Rosanne Jameson's suggestion that more publicity on ACT tests might increase the percentage of students taking the test. CHS had four percent fewer students taking the ACT than the state in 1994.

CISD received an acceptable rating from the state earlier this year. However, none of the Mitchell County school districts were among the one-fourth of Texas schools to recently receive cash awards given by the state to reward schools for good performance.

Over 1,600 schools received cash, ranging from $1,000 to $10,000 for gains in student performances, such as in increasing TAAS test scores or lowering dropout rates.

The funds were allocated by the Texas Legislature and could be used for anything at the school. Based on each school's population, an average of $5.29 per student was paid to winning schools, according to the Texas Education Agency.

GAME WARDEN Randy Bullard holds the horns from an 8-point buck and a 10-point buck which were illegally shot by hunters Sunday night. The horn hunters left the deer carcasses on the property but were arrested before they could escape with the horns.

Hunters pay for illegal deer killing

Two out-of-town hunters will be paying almost $3,000 for illegally shooting an 8-point buck and a 10-point buck south of Colorado City Sunday night.

"They were horn hunters," said Mitchell County Game Warden Randy Bullard.

The two men, 21 and 22, were spotlighting from Highway 163 around 10 p.m. when they shot a small 8-point buck who was on private property, said Game Warden Randy Bullard.

"They jumped the fence, went and looked at the buck. The horns weren't big enough," said Bullard.

"They then drove another 5 miles, spotlighted a big 10-point buck and shot it. They jumped the fence, cut the head off and left the body to rot," said Warden Randy Bullard.

The men were charged with killing deer off public property, killing game at night and leaving edible waste, he said.

They were brought before Judge Kay Richmond and fined $2,100 civil restitution.

In addition, if game is killed illegally in Texas, the value of the animals must be replaced, which is about $1,000 in this case, said the game warden.

Additional charges of criminal trespass on private property could be charged in the case, Bullard said.

Holiday happenings...

Once upon a Christmas

"Once Upon A Christmas At Old Fort Wood" will be held this Sunday from 1 p.m. to 6 p.m.

There will be no admission charge for the event which is the first to be held at the historic-looking fort.

A western Santa Claus in a horse drawn buggy will be featured but there will also be cowboys, Indians, gunfighters, recreators of the Texas Army, and period-costumed demonstrators showing old-fashioned skills such as soap making, pottery, and quilt making. There'll be a roping demonstration, arrowhead making, tortilla making, saddle making and cowboy storytelling.

The fort will be filled with activities and the sights and sounds of Christmas such as gospel singers, a cowboy chuckwagon, a mesquite Christmas tree, country and western bands, children's games and Christmas cookie making.

House lighting contest

Mitchell County houses will once again reflect the beauty of the season and the creativity of its citizens as residents prepare to enter the Christmas House Lighting Contest for 1995.

The contest is sponsored by the Colorado City Area Chamber of Commerce.

There is no fee to enter. The deadline for entering the contest is noon on Friday, Dec. 15.

Judging will be held at 6 p.m. Dec. 15.

Lights must be on by 6 p.m. If the lights are not lit when the judges come by, the judges will not be able to return later to judge the lighting.

Entries will be judged on originality, workmanship, and complexity.

First place will receive $100, second place $75 and third $50.

Lioness Club Toy Drive

The Toy Drive will be held again this year to make sure that no child in Mitchell County misses out on the joy of a toy under the tree Christmas morning.

The Tumbleweed Lioness Club will be collecting new and GOOD used toys for the drive. Toy drop-off boxes can be found at the Colorado City Hall, Corky's True Value Hardware, Ramage Furniture, and City Discount.

If toys need to be picked up, call Patsy Richardson-728-3254, Shirley Grimes-728-2218, Connie Simpson-728-8610 and Greg Howell-728-3653.

Sewer system on line in Colorado City

The city's new sewer system is now on line and construction has begun on the water project, engineer Glen Hemphill told Colorado City council members during the regular meeting Nov. 14.

The old lift station was shut down last week and the new treatment plant is now operating, he said.

Hemphill said the contractors are now getting ready to start putting in new water lines, lay distribution lines and build two pump stations.

Work has started on the lines on First and Second Street and the old lines will be abandoned once the new lines are operational.

Prior to the city council meeting, the city received notification from the state that it would soon receive the $4 million needed for the water project.

In other business, council members reviewed options on the Mitchell County Youth Center. The center, which was leased for one year to the Mitchell County Sheriff's Department in 1993, needs repairs and is currently used infrequently.

After discussion, the council decided to allow the Sheriff's Department to continue to use the facility for now.

In addition, council members approved hiring an architect for no more than $4,000 to draw up plans for the Downtown Development Project as requested by the Texas Department of Transportation. City Manager Steve Shutt reported that the city's plans for redeveloping the downtown area entail using grant money for 80 to 100 percent of the cost of the project which includes restoration of buildings.

CHIEF LONE WOLF

By Jim Baum

Time was when many train passengers didn't have to have tickets to ride. These "Gentlemen of the Road" were known by several titles. Specifically, words such as hobo, tramp or bum. Not necessarily derogatory appellations, they generally referred to migratory workers.

And that's what J.E. Conaway was. He once referred to himself as a bum, then added, "We were bummin' a ride." In this particular instance, Conaway was bummin' a ride to go pick cotton.

"I went plum

down into the valley

one summer," he stated. "Crops

weren't ready here

[in Mitchell County].

Me and another boy

rode freights all the way down there and we landed with a nickel between us.

And we lost it."

Conaway remembered how they would walk on the

tops of railroad cars

as the train sped

along. Eventually they were spotted by employees of the railroad and were chased off.

"Me and my buddy were in a boxcar and one of those railroad bulls came in swinging a gun and hopped up in the boxcar. Man, I bailed out the door on the other side."

Conaway later learned the "bull" was looking for some other hoboes.

When the train started up again, he raced toward the boxcar in hopes of climbing back aboard.

"That guy would pull his gun and I would see the smoke from the pistol and man, I'd get away from there. I did that three times 'til I got back on."

Another local man who rode the rails was Luke Harrison. It started for him in the 1930s. "We used to go down to the depot and watch the trains come in," he stated. "No one had a job in '33 and after we got out of school we would ride a freight train to Big Spring, then we would catch one back home that evening. It was just something to do."

Later Harrison and some of his friends broadened their horizons and decided to take the train to Chicago for a visit to the World's Fair.

"Between the four of us," he said, "we had about five or six dollars."

The four young Colorado City men arrived in Longview without any problems. But then, they ran into "Texas Slim."

"He was a railroad bull and he kicked us off and scared us to death. Everyone knew about Texas Slim in those days. I saw his flashlight and his gun. That's what made me make up my mind never to get on another freight train. I guess that was the scariest I've ever been in my life.

"He stood there with that gun and flashlight, using profanity. He didn't call us nice names, either."

Harrison says two of the Colorado City boys decided to go to Houston from Longview. He and another youngster, Clifton Blackard, went on to Arkansas, where they visited a family which formerly lived in Colorado City.

At any rate, they never made it to the World's Fair. "And I guarantee you," Harrison continued, "when we came back from Arkansas we didn't come back through Longview."

Colorado City's John Tiller was on the other side of the fence. He worked for the railroad. Tiller started out as a brakeman and he remembers seeing many hoboes.

"In fact, the first train I went out on out of El Paso the conductor told me to go up there and tell those hoboes to get out of that car. I told him, 'You go tell 'em yourself. I was hired to be a brakeman, not a bull.'"

Tiller said evicting men from cars could be a dangerous venture.

"There was a railroad man who got his belly cut right half in two. You didn't know what was in those cars. They could be escaped convicts or something."

He recalled one instance in which he almost ended up sharing a car with a bum.

"One tried to get in a caboose with me one time. We were stopped up in the mountains on the other side of Van Horn. While they were switchin' some cars, I was flagging the rear."

"I was in the caboose by myself and he came down there and tried to get in with me. I wouldn't let him in. I got me a flag stick and he stayed away."

Over the years thousands of passengers stepped off the trains in Colorado City. Some of those people were paying customers, others were not. The local T&P depot was the site for a number of celebrities to be greeted. In 1904 President Theodore Roosevelt made a stop in Colorado City. He delivered a speech from the rear platform of his private car.

In later years, cowboy movie stars came to Colorado City for the annual rodeo. Among those coming here were Wild Bill Elliott, Gabby Hayes and Chill Wills, among others.

Texas Utilities buys Australian company

The Texas Utilities Company has reached an agreement to purchase Eastern Energy Limited, a major Australian electricity distribution company.

Eastern Energy serves the eastern half of the state of Victoria in southeastern Australia. It is one of five distribution utilities formed and privatized by the breakup of the government-owned State of Victoria electric utility.

Texas Utilities Company, parent company of an electric utility and energy services system based in Dallas, will acquire the Australian utility for just over $1.5 billion (U.S.).

"The acquisition of Eastern Energy will provide TU Company with a significant opportunity to enhance shareholder value," said TU Company President and Chief Executive Erle Nye.

Nye said shareholders will benefit from anticipated growth in earnings and by the strategic positioning of TU in a rapidly developing global electric energy industry.

Eastern Energy has about 1,150 employees and serves 470,000 customers, about half of them in the Melbourne, Victoria metropolitan area.

TU Company will form a new subsidiary—Texas Utilities Australia Pty. Ltd.—to hold

Eastern Energy's stock. Dan Farrell, senior vice president in the TU System, has been named managing director of Texas Utilities Australia and will serve as chairman of the board of Eastern Energy. TU Company will provide staff and management assistance to Eastern Energy's existing management as needed.

TU Company owns two electric utilities, TU Electric and Southwestern Electric Service Company (SESCO), which together serve almost 2.4 million customers in Texas. The TU Company System also includes subsidiaries with interests in natural gas, coal mining, utility customer services and telecommunications.

Customers of TU Electric and SESCO will benefit from the acquisition, said Nye. "Because TU is taking advantage of new business opportunities such as this, our earnings have the potential to grow, enhancing the company's financial health and allowing TU Electric and SESCO to continue offering stable and competitive rates in the future."

Wildcats season comes to end

By CARL GRAHAM

It was to be a game of air superiority against a stable full of Mustang running backs. That was what most of the packed house was expecting last Friday night in Ira when the Westbrook Wildcats took on the Sands Mustangs in a six-man bi-district football contest.

Playing in their first post-season play since World War II, and in only their second season competing for a title, the Wildcats from Westbrook came out with a battle plan and quickly went about putting it into action. After they received the opening kickoff they marched down the field with authority but the drive stalled out and Westbrook turned the ball over on downs.

Sands began their game plan by running the ball, trying to wear down the defense of Westbrook. On the first play from scrimmage, Justin Hambrick fumbled the ball after a huge gain and Westbrook recovered the ball.

Westbrook again took to the air but this time an interception by defensive back Delynn Reed stopped the drive. This turnover led to the first points of the game as Josh Richter scampered in from the seven yard line to score with 3:37 to go in the first quarter of play. The PAT by Hopper was good, putting Sands up 8-0.

The lead was to be short-lived, however, as Jeff Hill marched downfield and with one minute left in the first quarter found Shawn Daniels open and hit him with a 13-yard scoring strike. Victor Soliz made the PAT and this tied the score at 8-8 at the end of the first quarter of play.

After a second interception of an errant Hill pass, Sands took to their ground attack again going 59 yards in three plays with Steven Gillespie taking the ball in from 39 yards out. The PAT failed this time, leaving Sands up by 14-8.

The Wildcats started to take control of the ball as they marched down the field through the air to set up a three yard plunge by George Rincones. The PAT failed, leaving the score tied once again at 14-14.

Sands took the ball at their own 20 but were forced to punt after three running plays failed. Delynn Reed's punt went out of bounds setting Westbrook up at their own 25 yard line. With only 1:52 to go in the first half, Jeff Hill tossed a five yard touchdown pass to his brother Justin. After a successful PAT by Soliz, the Wildcats took a 22-14 lead into the locker room.

Westbrook came out the second half, throwing the ball again and once again Hill was picked off by a Mustang defender. Sands took little time in capitalizing on the turnover as Josh Richter took the ball in from the four yard line with 7:45 left in the third quarter. The PAT was good, bringing the score to a 22-22 tie.

The Wildcats took the lead once again when George Rincones took the ball in from the four yard line with 3:14 showing on the clock.

This time the PAT was no good, leaving the score 28-22 in favor of Westbrook. They increased the lead to 36-22 when with only 21 ticks to go in the third quarter Jeff Hill found Rincones on an 11-yard pass play and a successful PAT by Soliz.

The fourth quarter was only 12 seconds old when Dallas Hopper took the ball in from the one yard line. The PAT by Hopper was no good, leaving Sands trailing now by only eight points.

The Mustangs tried an onside kick with success. They again marched down the field to score with Hopper going in from the one yard line. This tied the game at 36-36.

The Mustangs were to take the lead for good following a stalled Westbrook drive. Sands took the ball on their own 13 yard line and marched down the field to the Wildcats' 10 yard line. On fourth down, Reed scrambled, trying to find someone open and despite two Wildcats all over him he managed to get the ball off to Steve Gillespie for a 10-yard touchdown pass with only 25 seconds left on the clock.

The point after touchdown was good on a pass from Reed to Hopper to seal the victory. Sands closed out their scoring for the night on a Dallas Hopper touchdown run with only seven seconds left in the game.

Shawn Daniels took the ensuing kickoff and ran it back for a touchdown with no time showing on the clock to end the game with a score of Sands 49, Westbrook 42.

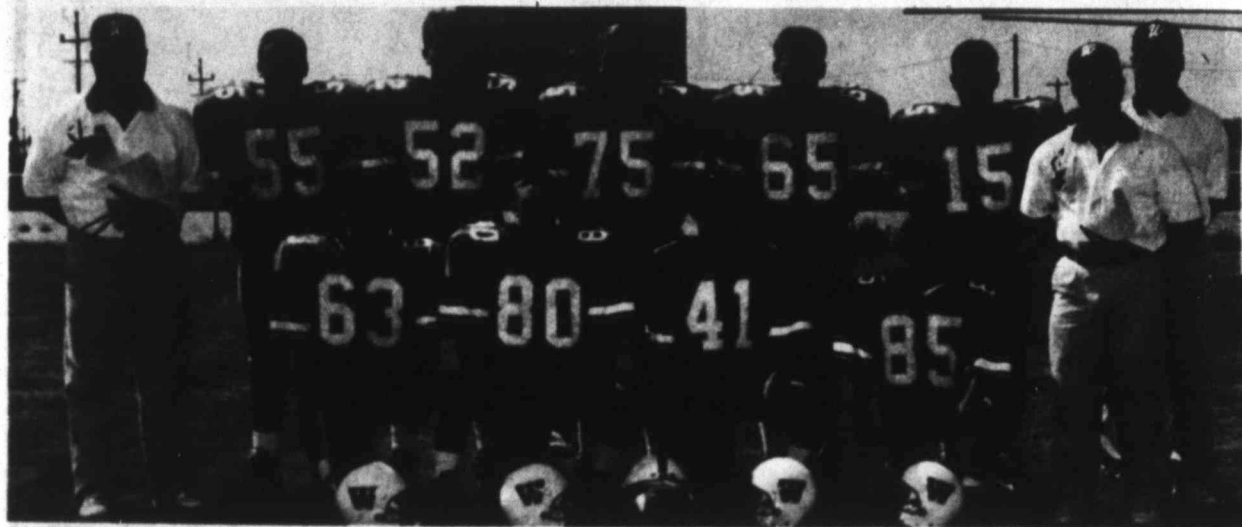

After the game, Coach Billy Barnett of Sands had nothing but praise for the Wildcats. He stated that they were a very well coached group of kids and thought they played one of their best games of the year against them.

He further stated he hoped to get the fourth quarter stigma off their back as folks had said all year that they couldn't score in the last quarter. With 27 of their points coming in the last quarter, that question was answered.

"We did everything we could do but win," Coach Hill of Westbrook said. "They, on the other hand, did everything they had to do to win."

"We had our chances but let them slip away. Had we sacked their quarterback it could have been a different story," he said.

"I wish the best for the Mustangs throughout the playoffs," Coach Hill concluded.

Wolves smash Fabens 31-6 Earn Bi-District Championship

Another chapter was written in the Wolves' incredible season last Saturday at Lobo Field in Monahans.

The Wolves whipped El Paso Fabens 31-6 to claim the bi-district championship, their first since 1988.

A solid defense led by linebacker John Erwin and defensive halfback Dan Morgan, plus a 207-yard rushing performance and three touchdowns by Aerial Emerson propelled the Wolves into area playoffs against the state ranked Ballinger Bearcats Saturday night in Abilene.

The defensive effort included a season high four sacks and 11 tackles behind the line of scrimmage.

Erwin led the Wolves with four tackles behind the line of scrimmage, four unassisted tackles and four assisted tackles followed by Morgan's nine tackles.

The defense would contain the Wildcats' talented quarterback, Kerry Graham, most of the day. Graham would score the Wildcats' only touchdown late in the second quarter on a 37-yard run.

"We had an outstanding defensive game," defensive coordinator Gerald James said. "Our defensive linemen kept pressure on the quarterback all day," he said.

"Good defense, along with a couple of poor Fabens punts, allowed the Wolves excellent field on their first five possessions.

Junior Chris Ramirez' 23-yard field goal would put the Wolves up 3-0 after the Wolves had driven 49 yards on their first possession. The drive was highlighted by Emerson's 39-yard run.

Frank Espinoza intercepted a Fabens pass on their first series, giving the Wolves good field position at the 38 yard line.

Espinoza would then hit senior tight end Lynn Boyd, the Wolves' leading pass receiver this year, for a two-yard touchdown that would put the Wolves up 10-0 in the first quarter.

It was Boyd's sixth touchdown catch this season. The senior tight end hauled in three passes for 39 yards against the Wildcats.

Emerson would put the Wolves up 17-0, scoring the first of his three touchdowns on a three-yard run late in the second quarter.

Good defense and poor punting by Fabens allowed the Wolves excellent field position on their first five possessions.

Two third quarter touchdowns by Emerson on the Wolves' first two possessions would put Colorado City up 31-6.

Emerson scored on runs of 12 and 41 yards before taking the rest of the day off.

Blake Oden recovered a fumble, and Jesse Rios, along with Espinoza, had an interception.

Grissom started substituting freely in the fourth quarter, giving everyone an opportunity to play.

SPORTS NOTES

Offensive players of the week

Offensive players of the week honors go to fullback Chris Fambro and running back Aerial Emerson. Excellent blocking by Fambro and hard running by Emerson enabled the Wolves to rush for 274 yards in the bi-district win over El Paso Fabens. Emerson and Fambro are sophomores and both have been instrumental in the Wolves' success this year.

Defensive players of the week

Defensive players of the week were junior linebacker John Erwin and senior defensive halfback Dan Morgan. Erwin was credited with four tackles, four assisted tackles and four tackles behind the line of scrimmage. Morgan was in on nine tackles, one assisted tackle and broke up one pass.

Special teams player of the week

Special teams player of the week honors was awarded to junior Chris "Chip" Ramirez. Ramirez was good on three extra point tries, one of two on field goal tries in the bi-district win over El Paso Fabens. Ramirez' field goal was from 23 yards out.

Ramirez has not missed an extra point this year.

Monster Hit Award

The monster hit award goes to junior defensive halfback Jeremiah Munoz. Munoz nailed a Fabens receiver on a pass play. Munoz continues to improve each week.

Ballinger defeated Brownfield last week in bi-district action 41 to 12 and the Wolves eliminated El Paso Fabens 31-6.

The Wolves enter the contest at 8-3, riding a five game winning streak.

The Bearcat-Wolf rivalry has been absent the past three years. The two teams were quite active in the '80s.

The last time the two played was 1991. The Bearcats won 21-0. In fact, from 1982 to 1991, the Wolves were able to win only two of 10 games with Ballinger.

Kickoff is at 7:30 p.m. at Shotwell Stadium in Abilene.

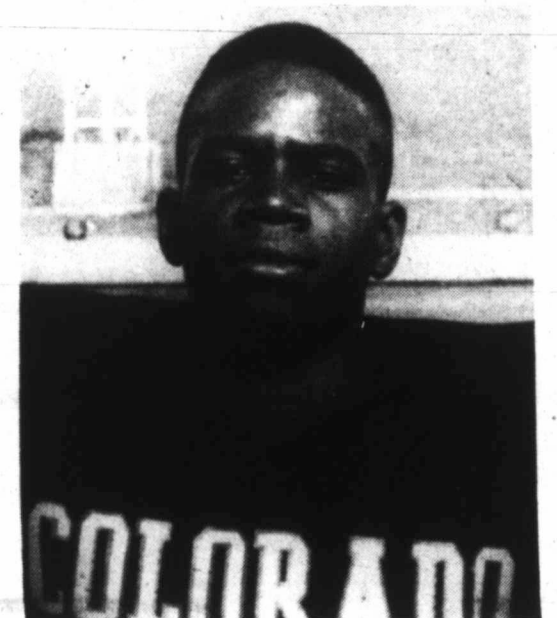

Saturday night's winner will face the winner of the Littlefield-Boyd game. The site and time has not been set.

Star to be lit on Gail Mountain

The community of Gail is getting ready for the second annual lighting of the star on Gail Mountain. The star will stand 20 feet high and have several hundred light bulbs.

A bulb for a family or loved one may be sponsored for a donation of $5. Individuals may sponsor as many bulbs as they like.

For a donation of $25, an individual may sponsor the lighting of the star for one night in honor of a person, organization, business or day. Nights of lighting are November 24, 1995 through January 1, 1996.

A registry of names and/or events will be kept of those sponsoring bulbs and the lighting of the star. It will be published in the Borden Star.

All contributions will be used for the lighting of Gail and the operation and maintenance of the star on Gail Mountain. Donations may be sent to Lights for Gail, P.O. Box 312, Gail, Texas 79738.

A lighting ceremony and program will be held at dark November 24 at the court house in Gail. A program of local music, a live nativity scene and a stop by Santa and Mrs. Claus will be held. Refreshments will be served. The museum will be open from noon until after the program.

ENJOYING THANKSGIVING DINNER at New Day Care Center Thursday, November 16 are Jaime Bell and her son, Zane, and Irma Garcia with her daughter, Erica Medina.

NOTICE OF INTENTION TO CONDUCT WEATHER MODIFICATION OPERATIONS IN THE STATE OF TEXAS

November 16, 1995

- Notice is hereby given that the Colorado River Municipal Water District, P.O. Box 869, Big Spring, Texas 79721-0869, has filed an application with the Texas Natural Resource Conservation Commission for a State permit to conduct weather modification operations to change, or attempt to change, the natural development of the clouds for the purpose, objective, period, and by the method summarized herein below.
- The Colorado River Municipal Water District has a valid Texas weather modification license that was originally issued in 1975, and has been renewed annually. The most recent license renewal was granted by the Commission on November 30, 1994. An application by the District for renewal of its license for 1996 is now being considered by the Commission.
- The purpose of the weather modification operation is to increase rainfall to affect the inflow of fresh water into reservoirs J.B. Thomas and E.V. Spence. The period of the permit is to be January 1, 1996 through December 31, 1999.
- The proposed weather modification operation is to be conducted for and on behalf of the Colorado River Municipal Water District, P.O. Box 869, Big Spring, Texas 79721-0869.
- The proposed weather modification operation is to be carried out in both an "operational area" and a "target area" to cause the intended effects to occur only in the target area. The operational area is that area described by being between an outer boundary, defined by a line that encompasses the block of counties of Lynn, Garza, Kent, Fisher, Nolan, Coke, Sterling, Glasscock, Martin, and Dawson, and an inner boundary which is that of the target area.
- The area to be affected by the proposed weather modification operation is the target area. The target area is that area described as bounded by a line beginning at a point of origin at Big Spring, in Howard County, and running along Highway 87 in a northwesterly direction to Lamesa; thence, north-northeast on Highway 87 to the north border of Dawson County; thence, east along the northern boundary lines of Dawson, Borden, and Scurry Counties to Highway 84; thence, southeast along Highway 84 to Roscoe, in Nolan County; thence, south-southeast to Maryneal; thence, southwesterly to Silver, in Coke County; thence, west-southwesterly to Highway 87 at a point approximately thirteen miles northwest of Sterling City, in Sterling County; and thence, northwesterly along Highway 87 to the point of origin at Big Spring, Texas.
- The methods and materials to be used in conducting this operation are summarized herein: A licensed meteorologist will select cumulonimbus clouds for seeding, using a weather-radar display, standard meteorological analyses, forecast techniques, surface weather observations, and pilot reports. With this information, he will direct an aircraft, equipped to dispense either glaciogenic or hygroscopic seeding material, into the updraft portions of selected clouds at cloud-base level to perform seeding operations.
- Persons interested in knowing more about the technical aspects of the proposed operation should contact the applicant or the Water Planning & Assessment Division of the TNRC (512-239-0770).
- A public hearing on this application may be called by mailing a petition that requests a hearing to the Executive Director, Texas Natural Resource Conservation Commission, P.O. Box 13087, Austin, Texas 78711. The petition must contain (1) the signature, full name, address, and phone number of each person requesting the hearing; (2) a statement that each person is at least 18 years of age and resides or owns property in the operational area; and, (3) a description of each person's interest and how that interest would be adversely affected. Requests for hearing must be received by the Commission within 30 days of the date of the first publication of this notice. If at least 25 eligible persons make written request, the Commission shall hold a public hearing on an application prior to issuance of a permit. More information on calling a hearing can be obtained through the Legal Services Division of the Commission (512-239-0660).

Pickup rollovers frequently occur in rural areas

The Texas Agricultural Extension Service's (TAES) Passenger Safety Education Project has coordinated with the Texas Department of Transportation to demonstrate what can happen to unbelted occupants in a rollover motor vehicle crash.

The demonstration equipment, appropriately named the "Rollover Convincer," is used to show how vehicle occupants can be tossed about or thrown from motor vehicles in rollover crashes when they are not wearing safety belts. It then shows how occupants wearing safety belts are held in place inside the cab as the vehicle rolls.

Vehicle rollovers are a dominant rural roadside safety problem, according to TAES officials. Federal Highway Safety Information System data show that rural "Run-off-road (ROR) crashes are three and a half times more likely to result in rollovers than urban ROR crashes. Vans, straight trucks and pickups have the highest rollover rates.

During 1994, 494 people died in pickup truck crashes in rural areas of Texas. Eighty of the pickup crashes in rural areas involved an overturn or rollover.

Loraine News

By BESSIE ANN VAUGHN

Greetings from Loraine.

Happy Thanksgiving!

"Count Your Blessings"

Can't we have a turkey dinner?

I sure am partial to dressing.

Just eat your sandwich, child.

Bologna is TRULY a blessing.

I'm dreaming about pumpkin pie

With marshmallows melted on top.

You're wasting time wishing, girl

Look at all we've got!

Mama, what about tomorrow?

Will we be on the street?

Our winter clothes have holes—

Tomorrow will we eat?

Sue says we need a VIP

To help you find a job.

We know who is most important

Let's have a talk with God!

Christene Britton returned home

Sunday the 19th from The Colony,

Texas after spending time with her daughter, Jana Holloway and family.

Jorden and Weston welcomed

home a baby sister, Hannah

McKensie, who was born Nov. 9,

1995 weighing 5 lbs. 15 oz.

Both mother and daughter are doing fine.

Thursday Nora and Eddie Galvan

will have several family members to dinner including Irene Gordon, son Kirk and family from Midland.

Also, Carmen Evans and son

Clark, with other family members coming from Abilene and Lubbock.

Guests on Thanksgiving at the home of Elsie Lecroy will be David and Rhona Lecroy with daughter

Janell from Denton and grandchildren Laura and Eddie Presley from Sweetwater.

Cathal Martell told me she and her mother Jewell Francis will spend their holiday in Odessa visiting with Annie Mae Lee and Elvie Wooley.

Billie Ruth Abernathy attended the funeral of Gerry-Yates, her son-in-law, last Thursday at Cross Plains.

Mr. Yates was living in Pineville, La. at the time of his death. He is survived by his wife

Gwen of the home.

Amy McKee took her sister,

Blondie Hamilton, out for a lovely lunch at the Mulberry Room in Sweetwater to celebrate her birthday

November 15.

To celebrate Thanksgiving, the Singletons will have as guests Bill and Judy Havins of Pleasanton,

Texas; Angie Havins and Chuck

Brown of Pleasanton and Amy

Havins of Houston. Also, Ellis and

Janell Britton of Big Spring;

Jimmy, Tracy and Dylan of Dallas and Robert, Julie and Britton

Wehemeyer of Austin.

Loraine Manor

Jill Grant, social director at Loraine Manor, reports that Mrs.

Gertrude Stokes is no longer living at the manor and has moved to Oklahoma. We wish her well in her new home.

Mrs. Undine Bobo is in swing bed and doing much better at this time.

Recent visitors have been Don

Richburg, Winnie Richburg,

and Rossie Richburg.

Monday, November 20, we were entertained by Gus Armstrong,

Sarah Smith and Robert Joplin.

Later, Bill Epperson joined them.

Gus played drums, Sarah played piano, and Mr. Joplin and Mrs.

Epperson played guitar.

We always enjoy Sarah and Gus.

The other two were added enjoyment.

Thurs., Nov. 23—Thanksgiving,

closed.

Fri., Nov. 24—Sun., Nov. 26—

closed.

Mon., Nov. 27—All reg.

activities.

Wed., Nov. 29—Birthday party for November.

Come eat and have fun. Iva

Armstrong will make the special birthday cake Wednesday.

It is time to think of the Christmas season and for the needy

we are starting "a carton of cans

because we care."

We will station a box near the front for you to donate a can of food. It later will be turned over to the churches.

North Loraine F.C.E. Club

Wednesday the 15th, club members met at the Loraine Center building with Mary Rose Bowen hosting and giving the program on teaching in the Wallace prison system.

Mary Rose taught school at the correctional unit for some time and told about teaching the inmates.

The program was well received by all present.

The regular meeting got underway with the reading of minutes and the treasurer's report.

Some discussion included the good turnout for the Tasting Spree and when to have this year's Christmas party. It was decided to have the party at the center building

Monday night the 18th and to visit while Veida was here with the band. It was nice to see them.

Winnie Richburg and Rossie

Richburg were here. They both look well.

We enjoyed the Snyder band very much and hope they will come again.

Recent visitors have been Don

Richburg, Winnie Richburg,

and Rossie Richburg.

Monday, November 20, we were

"Rapping" group supports Wolves throughout season

Examples of community support for the history making Colorado Wolves football team can be found all over town, including the town's prison unit.

In fact, support by Texas Department of Criminal Justice staff and inmates is so strong that they've even come up with a rap song for the Wolf team which a group of 11 employees have been performing at CHS pep rallies and games recently.

The Wallace Unit Wolf Pack

members are: Kristina Guerra, Dena Parker, Shelby Shipp, Josie Espinoza, Leigh Ann Erwin, Charles McDuffie, Veloria Owens, Faye Ross, Gloria Lee, Eddie Riley and Jackie Edwards.

They've been performing the rap at pep rallies and half-time since the Sonora game Oct. 20. The first lines of the rap were written by the inmates with additional lines added by the rap group over the last few weeks.

Leigh Ann Erwin, a member of the rap group and employee in the records department at the prison, said, "people may not realize it but the prisoners are big supporters of the Colorado football team. They follow the games on the radio and are really happy about how well the Wolves have done."

As the fame of the Wallace Rappers has spread, they were asked to perform a rap they wrote for the Wildcats at the Westbrook pep rally Friday.

WALLACE RAPPERS perform at the Wolf pep rally Friday. The Wallace Unit Wolf Pack has become a big hit at the football games and pep rallies where they perform the rap written by the employees and inmates at the prison.

OIL & GAS NEWS

The No. 1108 Westbrook Southwest Unit has come on line in Mitchell County's Westbrook Field about four miles west of Westbrook. Meridian Oil, Inc. is the operator.

The 3,250-ft. well was plugged back to 3,200 and flowed 26 barrels of oil per day from an interval 2,916 to 3,114 feet into the wellbore.

Parker & Parsley Development Limited Partnership has filed first production reports on the No. 294 Mary Foster, a developmental well in the East Iatan Field of Mitchell County.

The operator took the well to a 3,360-ft. total depth, with plugback to 3,338. It produced 74 barrels of oil plus 3,000 CF gas daily on an adjustable choke, with flowing tubing pressure measuring 35 PSI.

Production will be from a Howard Formation interval 2,451 to 3,218 feet into the hole.

The same operator has completed the No. 196 Mary Foster at the same location. It flowed 48 barrels of oil plus 3,000 CF gas per day on adjustable choke. Flowing tubing pressure stood at 30 PSI.

The well bottomed at 3,200 feet, was plugged back to 3,155 and will produce from a Howard Formation interval, 2,376 to 3,090 feet into the wellbore.

Deer habitat includes food, water & shelter

This is the third in a three-part series about learning to work with the behavior of deer for increased hunting success. The information has been provided by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Whitetailed deer habitat includes all those items necessary for them to exist, says Charles W. Ramsey, Extension wildlife specialist.

"Sufficient food, cover and water must exist within the area in which the individual animal lives. This area of residence is called its home range," Ramsey said.

The size of a home range varies with habitat quality and between the sexes of animals. For the whitetail, home range size is 60-340 acres for a doe and 240-880 for a buck, though this is an over-simplification.

"However, the point is that upper and lower limit to home range size affects deer distribution and density. Good habitat has a favorable distribution of the physical necessities for survival," Ramsey said.

All parts of the home range are not of equal value. There are certain much smaller areas within the home range where the animal spends much of its time. These might include a bedding area, particularly good cover, or a feeding location. There are other locations within the individual's home range where the deer seldom goes.

"The point is that deer stay within their limited home range," he said.

If food, cover or water were eliminated within an individual's home range through drought, grazing, clearing or fire, that individual would have a difficult time surviving. Most animals have a strong affinity to their home range and seldom desert it even under adverse conditions. A hunter must hunt within the home range of an individual deer if he is going to have contact with it, Ramsey said.

Deer whose home ranges are in poor habitat simply cannot produce as large antlers or healthy fawns as they are capable of doing. Food scarcity tends to increase home range size, but Texas deer do not migrate. The drying up of a water source may cause a desert mule deer temporarily to quit using a portion of its home range.

"Socially attached bucks frequently are found together through the summer and early fall," Ramsey said. "The larger buck is the dominant one and hence the breeder."

In the fall, a small yearling buck may continue to associate with its mother and her fawns as a part of the female social structure. It may become a breeder if there are no bigger bucks around, but usually not.

Rutting bucks leave evidence of their home range. A rub is an easily identified sign of an antlered male. The rub is made by a buck rubbing the trunk of a bush or small tree with its antlers. A buck may have several of these. Fresh activity indicates that he has been within the area, but not when he will return. A rub may indicate a position of dominance. Larger bucks make more rubs.

Rutting activities stimulate males to make additional "sign." A "scrape" is an area pawed out to bare ground. With whitetails, it is relatively small, maybe 18 inches in diameter. However, with deer such as sika or red deer, the depression may be several feet in diameter and a foot deep. The buck urinates in this depression and wallows in it to communicate to other deer.

A scrape frequently is placed under a limb that the buck can reach with its head. It rubs the limb with glands in front of its eyes to leave an identifying odor. Does check these message centers and leave urine signs of their own.

During the rut, mature males of all species are constantly on the move seeking receptive females. For this reason, the hunter is just as likely to see them while hunting at midday as early or late, Ramsey said.

Whitetails and mule deer do not try to control a harem of does as do axis deer and red deer.

"Another category of bucks is the old mossy horn," Ramsey said.

He is big enough to be dominant to nearly all other males within his home range and his range is several times larger than other males. He is a wanderer and generally a "loner" with less apparent affinity to an area than other deer.
