Parents Urged to Help Children Avoid Narcotics

Two state narcotics agents described their enforcement work and offered suggestions on controlling drug traffic in Aransas County at the second meeting of the recently organized citizens' crusade which has been labeled "Challenge". The meeting, which attracted more than 100 concerned individuals, county and city law enforcement officers, school leaders and public officials, was held last Thursday night at the Rockport-Fulton High School auditorium.

The agents were Sergeant Adolph Thomas of San Antonio and Agent Alan Tittle of Corpus Christi, both of whom have worked with local law enforcement officers in their fight against the drug traffic.

Before the discussion period, a film titled "Hooked" was shown, comparing humans who become drug addicts to fish which possess a low degree of intelligence. It demonstrated how perfectly legal and beneficial drugs can be abused and misused. The importance of reading and heeding the label on prescription and over-the-counter drugs was stressed.

Also, it was recommended that everyone make an immediate survey of his own bathroom cabinet and throw out no longer needed drugs of all kinds as one of the simplest and most important ways of discouraging development of drug habits among younger people.

Even the mildest and most commonly used household drugs can become dangerous to physical and emotional health if their use is abused, according to the film. Tranquilizers and depressants, many of them in general household use, can be dangerous if not used in keeping with a doctor's orders. A depressant taken in conjunction with alcohol can be fatal, it was stated.

It was pointed out that while the exact effects of marijuana is in dispute, there is no question about it altering the user's personality and inevitably leading to use of stronger, more addictive drugs.

Heroin was labeled as one of the most dangerous of drugs, whose addicts are almost impossible to cure. More than 1,000 heroin users are killed by it every year in New York alone, and when an addict is deprived of it he becomes desperate and capable of almost any crime of violence to obtain it.

Following the film, Sheriff Bob Hewes introduced the two state narcotics agents and commented favorably on the co-operation local law enforcement people have had with Department of Public Safety agents in the local fight against drugs.

Sgt. Thomas related how Agent Tittle had assisted in educational and enforcement activities in Aransas County, particularly the arrest, indictment and conviction of approximately a dozen offenders in recent weeks.

Agent Thomas then asserted that this action has resulted in at least a temporary slow down in Aransas County drug traffic. He praised District Judge John Miller for his contributions to this improvement. One indication is the fact that the price of heroin on the local market has risen from $40 a gram to $90 a gram since the crack-down. He also said that prompt action by

Revival in Fulton Feb. 5

"The Watchmen," a singing group, will lead a revival meeting at First Baptist Church of Fulton beginning February 5. Meetings will be held nightly at 7:30 p.m.

'Tourists of the Week'

Latest "Tourists of the Week" selected by the Chamber of Commerce are Mr. and Mrs. William F. Frahm who accidentally came to Rockport. This was their first time to the South Texas area and they were planning to spend the winter in the valley. They came through Rockport, liked what they saw, and decided to spend the night. That was five weeks ago and they plan to stay a while longer.

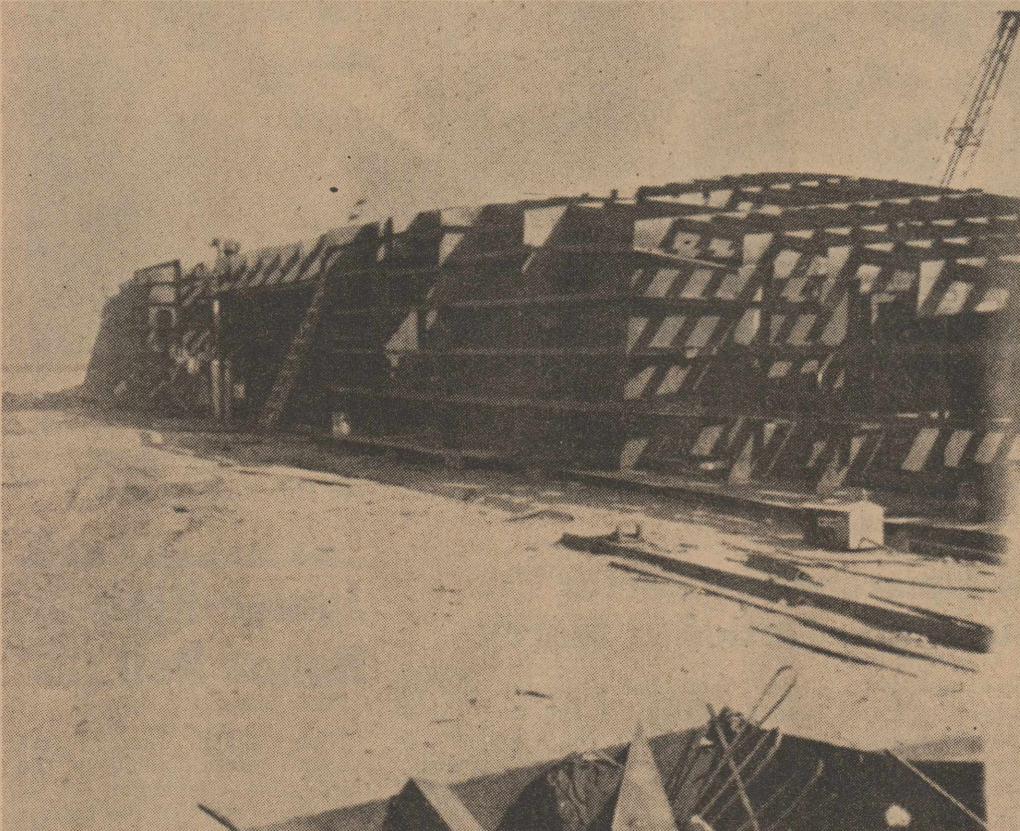

Frahm has been retired from DuPont Company for 6-1/2 years. The couple live in Clinton, Iowa. Their son lives in New Jersey and they have eight grandchildren: four living in Illinois, one in Iowa and three in New Jersey.

Mr. and Mrs. Frahm have been avid campers since 1941. Their main interests are traveling and sightseeing but Mrs. Frahm finds pleasure in doing shell crafts and needlework also. Some of her work is on display at the KOA campground recreation hall.

The Frahms have many nice things to say about the friendly folks of the area and especially the operators of their trailer park, Lew & Jeanne Dayton. The Frahms are very enthused about Rockport and plan to return next year.

Gift certificates were provided by the following merchants: Wilson and Son, Kleins Rattlesnake Point Fishing Camp, Super D Food Store, Central Power and Light Co., and Sea Gun Resort Hotel.

RYSCO Building Largest Vessel In History of Local Company

Rockport Yacht and Supply Company workers are busy these days building the largest vessel in the history of the firm, a ship that when completed will be 175 feet long and 38 feet wide.

Work started on this huge vessel in mid-November of 1974 and the job will not be completed until September of 1975.

When completed, the boat will be delivered to a company that specializes in servicing offshore oil rigs and platforms. The ship's weight is expected to be about 750 tons.

In discussing construction of the boat, Thomas N. Smith III, vice president of RYSCO, said its large size made it necessary for the ship builders to employ a number of unusual manufacturing techniques.

"With a vessel this size," Smith said, "you lay down the deck first and then completely frame the hull while the boat is upside down."

"When completely framed, the boat will be cut into four sections, which is the only way the job could be handled." He explained that "we then use a 140-ton crane to turn the sections over and set them in place so the hull may be placed."

Another important part of the overall job, Smith pointed out, is building the deck house and the pilot house, including sandblasting and painting these structures. Most of the interior woodwork will be completely finished before being installed on the vessel.

The RYSCO vice president said that with the present work force the local firm now employs, the company has the capacity to build three of these huge vessels per year.

Driver Education Course To Start Here on June 2

Driver education courses will be offered in the Rockport-Fulton High School this summer starting approximately June 2. The tentative plan is to complete the classroom phase by July 15. Some of the students will also complete their driving by July 15. The plan now is to complete the remainder of the student driving phase during July.

The Rockport-Fulton High School has obtained the Aetna Drivotrainer trailer for the month June and July to be used in this driver training program.

One phase of the program employs a fleet of computerized simulator cars which students "Drive" to filmed traffic situations.

The cars are those of the AETNA Drivotrainer system, furnished through Region II Education Service Center of Corpus Christi, which provides facilities for training 16 students at a time, compared to the three or four students an instructor can handle in a dual-control car.

The Rockport-Fulton installation consists of 16 stationary cars which students "Drive" to meet changing road and traffic conditions seen in the wide screen color film shown at the front of the classroom. The simulated car is equipped with all the controls used in standard automobiles. The controls function exactly as they do in real cars.

Under the hood is an electronic "engine" with integrated circuits connected to a digital computer that tells the student immediately what action he should be taking if he varies from good driving procedures. The computer also scores the student's performance for the instructor.

At Rockport-Fulton High School, students will get 12 hours of behind-the-wheel instruction with the Drivotrainer system while on-the-road time in dual-control cars will be reduced from six to four hours.

Sixteen films and accompanying teacher's guides have been prepared for use with the Drivotrainer system by driver education specialists. The films contain a carefully programmed series of situations selected and filmed to develop judgement and build proper student driving attitude.

Advanced films prepare the student for handling emergency crises and for driving in bad weather. The movies provide opportunities to experience these extreme and dangerous situations in complete safety.

Enrollment for the driver education classes will be taken during the month of January and February. State Law and Texas Education Agency Laws specify that a student must be fifteen (15) years old or older on the date the class starts to be eligible to take a driver training class.

A charge of $35.00 will be made for the driving phase of the program.

City Grants $3,000 Tax Exemption for Over 65

By a two-to-one split vote, the City Council Monday night approved a request by the local chapter of the American Association for Retired Persons for a $3,000 homestead tax exemption for persons 65 and older.

This was a reversal of the Council's previous action last year when the Council, again by a split vote, turned down the request.

Monday night, Alderman Joe "Pepe" Zambrano made a motion that the request be approved. Alderman Seth Steele seconded the motion. They voted in favor of the action and Alderman N.F. Jackson voted against it. Alderman Charlie Garrett was not present due to illness.

It was explained by city officials that the exemption will apply to taxes to be paid in 1976.

The presentation in behalf of A.A.R.P. for the over-65 tax exemption was made by Ed Gerchak, president of the local chapter.

Gerchak also asked the Council for permission to set aside about one acre of land in Memorial Park for an area where 70 A.A.R.P. volunteers could grow vegetables to "help indigent people in this area who need our help to have enough food to meet their needs." The Council agreed to permit representatives from A.A.R.P. to go to the Park with city staff representatives to look the situation over and consider such a project.

During the discussion, William S. Coaker, who was at the meeting as a spectator, said his daughter and son-in-law own two lots (about 100 by 140 feet) at Third Street and Highway 35, which A.A.R.P. would be welcome to use to grow vegetables. A.A.R.P. members thanked him and said they would consider the "generous offer."

In other actions at the meeting:

--Mayor Walter S. Falk, Jr., brought the Council up to date on recent solutions to problems with regard to solid waste disposal. (A detailed article on this subject appears on page one of this issue of the Pilot).

--Council called April 5, 1975 for a city election. The terms of Aldermen Garrett, Ward 1, and Jackson, Ward 2, are expiring. Named presiding judge for the election was Mrs. Genevieve Hunt. Mrs. Elbert Mundine was appointed alternate presiding judge, and Mrs. Alma Ratliff and Mrs. Petra Perez were named clerks.

--Aransas County Riding Association was granted permission to hold a parade on June 7.

--Rockport Volunteer Fire Department was given approval to sponsor a carnival for fund raising the first week in April. It will be held on property of the Navigation District which previously approved use of the land for this purpose.

WASTE DISPOSAL PROBLEMS SOLVED BY COUNTY, CITY

With dry spots hard to find in Aransas County, the commissioners court and Rockport Mayor Walter S. Falk, Jr. last week asked -- and got -- accepted into the San Patricio County sanitary landfill operation.

"We have 40 acres, but every time it rains everything comes up," Falk told the San Patricio County commissioners. He was speaking of the city dump just west of Rockport.

It was ordered abandoned by state and federal agencies because of the high water table. A subsequent search for suitable land in the county turned up only one possible site and it was ruled out.

Aransas County Commissioner Raymond Owens, accompanied by Commissioners Ray Longino, Charley Hale and Erie Eller, explained that the operator the city and county hired last year was pulling out of Aransas County.

Frank Kelly of Sinton, who hauled Aransas County garbage to his sanitary landfill near Sinton, notified the City of Rockport and the county to buy him out or give him more money.

The county's reaction was to hold a special meeting earlier last week where an emergency equipment purchase was ordered.

The Aransas County commissioners also arranged with B & J Sanitation Service to operate an existing transfer station and haul the solid waste to the San Patricio County landfill, if negotiations for its use were successful. The county also authorized purchase of $17,000 in compacting equipment from Hesston Corp.

The agreement worked out provides for Aransas County and Rockport to pay the going rate of 95 cents a cubic yard for compacted garbage and a pro rated share of the $1,500 San Patricio County pays out of its general fund monthly to subsidize the operation.

"It will be around $300 to $400 a month," for Aransas County's share of the subsidy, County Auditor Ray Harris, said.

Mobile Home Sold by SBA

The Kenneth Ince mobile home was sold to a Corpus Christi resident January 24 in a public auction conducted by the Small Business Administration.

Francis Palzer of 5817 Leopard paid $2,000 for the trailer sold by the SBA to satisfy a $12,400 loan on which Ince said he never made a payment.

"It was handled just like any other foreclosure," said Clyde Craven, SBA supervisory loan specialist at the regional office at Corpus Christi.

He said the SBA sells foreclosed property "as is and where is" with possession to be worked out by the buyer.

Ince said earlier last week he made no payment on the loan because he never received one of the two trailers he arranged to purchase with the funds.

He said he obtained the loan after Hurricane Celia in 1970 to replace two trailers he lost in the storm.

Ince said the SBA was involved because the federal agency made out the check to the trailer sales firm he did business with.

Reports on March of Dimes

"March of Dimes volunteers are looking forward to the most exciting program year in history," reports Mrs. Jo McCool. "The excellent response to last year's drive has enabled us to expand research and medical service programs around the country."

Mrs. McCool has just returned from a regional meeting of the voluntary health organization in Dallas. There, she met with delegates from neighboring states to go over the new dimensions of March of Dimes programs aimed at prevention of birth defects.

"The medical advances we heard about were particularly impressive," she said. "Improved methods of treatment, diagnosis, and consultation for highrisk pregnant women and newborns were explained by specialists. At one session, Dr. Edwin Lee Gresham and Dr. Loren P. Petersen, discussed how their specialties are rapidly developing combined techniques to reduce many risks of pregnancy."

"Another important aspect," she continued, "is the progress on plans for a strategic network of perinatal services throughout the country. These guidelines have been drawn up by leaders in obstetrics, pediatrics, family practice, the nursing profession, and health agencies. The goal is to allocate highly trained staff and equipment to treat mothers and infants at different levels of risk to avoid duplicating costly services."

Mrs. McCool also noted that there was emphasis on new March of Dimes programs to train nurses in recognition, evaluation, and team performance for treatment of sick mothers and infants. This course of action, she says, is intended to meet the alarming shortage of nurse clinicians as quickly as possible.

The challenge to volunteers in helping to upgrade delivery of maternal and infant care is greater than ever," she adds. "Special projects in public education that stress prenatal care and nutrition took up a major part of the meeting. Another segment was devoted to youth activities for high school and college volunteers."

PARENTS URGED--

state agents cooperating with the sheriff's department had put off reported flow of heroin to county jail inmates in one day.

Throughout his discussion and during a later question and answer period Agent Tittle stressed the importance of parents working with their children as the most effective way to fight spread of drug usage. "Know what your children are doing, where they have been when they come in late and who they have been associating with," he urged.

For younger children he recommended a judicious application of corporal punishment to their rear ends as a means of establishing authority and to counteract the permissiveness which, he declared, has become too common on the home scene.

"Too many parents want to blame police and school officials when the major fault lies with themselves for failing to enforce discipline and maintain effective communications with their children," he declared.

Agent Tittle believes there already are too many laws on the books--laws that are not enforced or are unenforceable. He also found fault with the way some laws are administered, pointing out that many drug dealers are protected from prompt punishment by delays and legal technicalities, such as easy release on bond, delays in trials and seemingly endless appeals to higher courts.

"Often a bail bondsman arrives at the police station before the narcotics agent can get there with his prisoner," he asserted. He added that several of Corpus Christi's known dope peddlers are free on bond and continue to ply their trade. He believes there is too much consideration for the rights of the accused and not enough for the rights of the victims.

Agent Tittle reported on a recently inaugurated plan in Dallas whereby teenagers talk to teenagers about the drug problem. He said preliminary reports indicate some degree of success. He also said a group in Corpus Christi is preparing to set up an anonymous telephone reporting system whereby it is possible to inform on a peddler or user without revealing one's name. The same idea was suggested at the first meeting of Rockport's "Challenge group.

He said some of the drugs available in this area come in on shrimp boats, but most of it is brought here from Corpus Christi which, he asserted, has a bad reputation as a drug center. He admitted that many of the drug pushers are known to police but the difficulty lies in obtaining sufficient evidence to make a sound case against them. He added that in a small community like Rockport-Fulton everyone knows the policemen and deputies charged with enforcing drug laws. It is extremely difficult for them to do undercover work. This, he said, is the chief reason why outside state and federal agents can be so effective. However, he added that there are simply not enough of these agents to go around. He suggested that state legislators be urged to make more money and more personnel available.

After he had responded to a score or more questions from the audience, Agent Tittle concluded by asserting that the best answers to the drug problem are continuing education, especially by parents, and vigorous enforcement of existing laws.

Sheriff Hewes reported that a plan to send first-time offenders accused of possession of marijuana to Corpus Christi for a series of weekly educational conferences with drug rehabilitation group is now in operation but it is too early to report results. Seven local people are now participating in the program which promises they will not be prosecuted and their records will be wiped clean if they successfully complete the course to the satisfaction of psychologists in charge.

Dangers of Home Fires

The dangers of home fires were illustrated and described in a color slide film presented at the weekly luncheon meeting of Rotary Club January 22 at Ramada Inn.

The film pointed out that fires are the second greatest killer in the United States, taking more than 14,000 lives last year. Only automobile accidents kill more people, according to the film. An average of 2,500 homes have a fire every day, and that does not count small fires which may not be reported. More children are killed by fires than by all children's diseases combined, it was asserted.

Home fires are most dangerous at night when a person can be killed within four minutes after a fire starts by one or more of three deadly factors which accompany any fire--poisonous gases, lung-searing heat and lack of oxygen. Actual flames are not as deadly as these three factors which reach the victim first, the film pointed out. Often the sleeping victim is killed before he even knows there is a fire.

It was asserted that home fires have increased substantially in the past 20 years, mainly because of increased use of convenience and labor-saving appliances. Collection of lint and dust in such appliances as refrigerators, water heaters, clothes dryers and especially television sets is blamed for many home fires. Television sets are the worst offenders because they retain a strong electrical charge for as long as two and a half hours after they have been turned off.

The film compared many homes to giant toasters which surround the inhabitants with walls filled with inadequate and undersized wiring incapable of handling all of the numerous appliances that have been added to circuits originally intended for electric lights and little else. Overloaded circuits can cause fires inside walls at any time but are more serious at night when no one is on hand to sound an alarm.

It was asserted that an undetected fire at night can generate a ceiling heat of almost 400 degrees in one minute, and produce several kinds of toxic gases in addition to quickly exhausting the oxygen. Within minutes the heat can rise to 700 to 1,000 degrees--often before anyone in the sleeping family awakens. In most instances occupants of a burning home must get out within four minutes to survive, according to the film.

A self-contained automatic early fire warning system, operated either by batteries or the home electric circuit was suggested as an effective way to save lives.

The period from one full moon to another is 29 days, 12 hours and 44.4 minutes.

The Rev. Walter D. Clarke, newly appointed rector of St. Peter's Episcopal Church, together with his wife, Sally, and their sons, Benjamin, age 2, and Stephen, age 4 1/2, visited Rockport last week in search of a home which they plan to buy. They expect to move to Rockport from Houston the first week in March.

New Episcopalian Rector To Assume His Duties in March

The Rev. Walter D. Clarke who has been appointed rector of St. Peter's Episcopal Church will assume his new duties with the local church the first week in March, when he moves his family to Rockport from Houston where he has been associate rector of the Church of the Holy Spirit.

Selection of Rev. Clarke for the local church was made by St. Peter's Church from a number of prospective rectors recommended by Bishop Gonnell of the Episcopal diocese of West Texas.

Rev. Clarke was in Rockport last week with his wife, Sally, and their sons, Stephen, age 4 1/2, and Benjamin, age 2, to begin a search for a house which they plan to buy.

Rev. Clarke was born in New York City but reared in Sharon, Conn. He was graduated from the University of Virginia in 1961 and from Virginia Theological Seminary, near Alexandria, in 1967. Between college and the seminary he served for three years in the U.S. Army artillery in Germany where his unit was responsible for Redstone missiles.

He began his ministry at St. Peter's Episcopal Church in Oxford, Conn., where he was vicar in charge of the mission. Next he was associated with St. Luke's Hospital and Children's Hospital at Texas Medical Center in Houston where he was in training and working as hospital chaplain.

Rev. Clarke's next assignment was as chaplain of International Seamen's Center at the Port of Houston. There he worked with foreign seamen as an advisor and as a source of information about the Houston area. During the year he was with the Seamen's Center, he also served on Sundays as priest in charge of St. John's Episcopal Church at Silsbee, Texas. There he conducted Sunday services and spent the remainder of the day with the congregation and the youth of the parish. His assignment to the Houston church followed.

He plays both tennis and golf and reports his hobbies are photography and radio hi-fi equipment, as well as model railroading, an enthusiasm he shares with his son, Stephen.

Mrs. Clarke is a native of Harrisburg, Va., and a graduate of Randolph Macon Women's College in Lynchburg, Va. She also has done undergraduate work at Vanderbilt University in Nashville. She and Rev. Clarke were married in 1967.

Around 40 bowlers have signed up for the tourney. Two entries came in the mail from Combes in the Rio Grande Valley.

Doug Seims from Fulton signed up and the next day he injured his fingers so badly that it is very doubtful if he can bowl for the next month.

Nursing Home News Items

The Aransas Pass Convalescent and Nursing Home submitted the following news for January 20-26:

Monday morning is always a very pleasant way to begin the week of activities at the Center, since we began our Exercise and Kickball program.

Monday afternoon the Aransas Pass V.F.W. Ladies Auxiliary came out for their game day, which was enjoyed very much.

Tuesday morning, exercises again and Tuesday evening we had a very nice "Birthday Party" for our "Little People" having birthdays this month. Mrs. Shelley Roaten, Mr. John Morgans daughter had a cake baked in celebration of Mr. Morgan's 89th birthday. Punch and cake was served to all. For our entertainment, we had Bryan Sargent and Tommy Sullinger came out to play and sing country and western music. Our residents had a most wonderful time.

Wednesday morning preceding our exercise program Mrs. Bonnie Fletcher was here to teach another class in tube painting on cloth. Wednesday evening the Aransas Pass LULAC group #630 were here to have their game nite. These game days are always looked forward to by our residents.

Thursday and Friday is always "Beauty Shop" day for our ladies. Thursday morning at ten o'clock, Rev. Pruitt and the ladies from the Aransas Pass Pentecostal Church came out and had a very nice and well attended service.

Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock, Mass was led by Father James Hamilton for all our Catholic residents.

Friday evening the men from the Aransas Pass Church of Christ came out to show more films of the Bible.

Saturday was a free day from regular forms of activities.

Sunday Church Services were conducted by Rev. Al Barkert at 10:00 a.m. Sunday afternoon, we had a large group of members and friends from the First Christian Church of Ingleside to come over for their monthly "Sing In".

Again, we are still being plagued by the Flu bug and had several activities cancelled. All in all, we had a very nice week.

There is one bird that comes to Texas that very few people know about. This is quite understandable since his range just barely touches the southern tip of the state. The jacana is sometimes called "lily-trotter" or "lotus-bird". They are at home in tropical or subtropical pools and lakes overgrown with lilies and other low-water vegetation. Here they walk daintily about in search of insects, small mollusks, and occasionally a minnow. They also eat the seeds of some water plants.

The seven (some ornithologists say eight) species found in the world all have a number of unique characteristics, the most outstanding of which is their exceedingly long toes and toenails which allow them to walk with ease over lily leaves and other floating vegetation. Other distinctive features are a frontal shield above their bill much like coot and gallinules, and sharp, horny spurs on the bend of their wings which make formidable fighting weapons.

Although the jacana is normally not a noisy bird, they do have a variety of grunting calls and whistles. When bickering and threatening each other with uplifted wings they set up quite a chatter of chuckling, scolding, and mewling. They threaten to fight a lot more than they do fight, however.

Seventh Grade Wins 17-16

The Rockport-Fulton Junior High 7th grade defeated Sinton last Thursday in a very exciting game. The final score was 17-16 as both teams played excellent defense.

After trailing the entire game Rockport scored twice in the last minutes of the game for the win. The winning basket was scored by Hector Saucedo, who scored a total of 4 points.

Also hitting important baskets in the last quarter were Dave Smith with 6 points and Mark Setterbo who scored 5 points. Esequiel Hernandez scored 2 points and did an excellent job in finding the open man on offense.

Gaspur Pena came off the bench when Saucedo had four fouls and played very good defense. Bill Schendel brought down numerous rebounds as he continually gained position on the taller Sinton players.

Also contributing greatly to the victory were Ronald Dominguez, Miguel Contreras, David Veise, and Pat Frizzell. Although these boys are not starters they attend practice regularly and give the regulars very good competition in practice drills.

Coach Wynn would like to thank these boys for the very important part they play on the team.

Fourth Graders Produce Film

Fourth grade students in Mrs. Kautz and Mrs. Lang's class at Rockport Elementary School have produced a colorful film strip for the Governor's Office of Traffic Safety in Austin.

The film, called "The Safest Show on Earth" was produced by the children with materials made available to the public school system by the Governor's Office of Traffic Safety to help teach pedestrian, bicycle and passenger safety.

The student producers created illustrations which were reproduced on film and returned to the school with a pre-recorded sound track. Each classroom participating in the program produces its own show. The filmstrip and recording become the property of the school for future use.

Officials at the Governor's Office of Traffic Safety will select artwork used in the program for use in television public service announcements to be released in Spring, 1975.

High School Library Club

The Rockport-Fulton High School Library Club held its regular monthly meeting.

The vice-president, Donna Portfield, was in charge of an author-title contest in which two sides challenged each other in recognizing authors of well-known books. The contest proved to be such a challenge that it was decided another such contest is greatly needed.

The project chairman, Sandy Williams, announced that the next project is the book fair in March. The purpose of the book fair is for two-fold: first, to bring people and books closer together; second, to bring money into the club.

22 - If you feel tired, stop pushing so hard in everything you do. Relax and you will find yourself surrounded with peace and harmony.

LIBRA -- Sept. 23 to Oct. 22 -- You would do well to work a little more and play a little less. Overwork doesn't seem to be much of a problem for you. Aim for a reasonable balance between the two.

SCORPIO -- Oct. 23 to Nov. 22 -- Work as hard on the second impressions you project as you do on the first. Curb that ever present tendency to be outspoken. You sometimes hurt others feelings with your sharp tongue.

SAGITTARIUS -- Nov. 23 to Dec. 21 -- Spend more time with family members. You can live in happier surroundings if you lead the way. Show others you care by giving more and expecting less.

CAPRICORN -- Dec. 22 to Jan. 19 -- A friend's advice may help you achieve some of your ambitions. Explore the possibility of continuing your education.

Cemetery Assn. History

The following is a brief history of the Rockport Cemetery Association which was compiled by Myra Allen and Juanita Wagley. The organization was one of three nominated by the Chamber of Commerce to be voted on by the membership to receive a special award for "public service rendered." The award will be presented at the Chamber banquet Saturday, March 1.

In 1893 land developers, Mr. Doughty and Mr. Mathis, donated a tract of land to the City for a cemetery. This land was located in the south part of Rockport, one block from the bayfront, and the cemetery was called the Bayview Cemetery. Each time there was a high tide, water covered most of this land. Later on Mr. Doughty and Mr. Mathis donated to the City what is now known as the "old part" of the present cemetery. The late Mr. Fred Percival surveyed this tract and laid out the streets on a map, but the streets were never opened on the ground. Whenever there was a funeral, a path was cut through the underbrush to the burial site.

In 1937, after one such funeral, the minister asked the crowd to stay a few minutes as he had something of interest to say to all. He asked if there wasn't someone present who could form a group to establish regular care and clean-up of the cemetery so it might be maintained in a manner fitting God's acre. This was the spark that started the Rockport Cemetery Association, which has continued its work to this day, over 37 years later.

The late Mrs. John C. Sorenson responded to the minister's appeal and set October 12, 1937 as the date of the first meeting, which was held in her home, with the following present:

Mrs. Henry Bailey, Mrs. Travis Bailey, Miss Genevieve Bracht, Miss Mabel Bracht, Mrs. Everett Brundrett, Mrs. Manch Brundrett, Mrs. Mabel Bryant, Mrs. Albert Collier, County Judge B.S. Fox, Mrs. G.M. Hooper, Mrs. Jim Hooper, Mrs. Ford Jackson, Miss Ruth Lipscomb, Mrs. E. H. Norvell, Miss Fannie Oertling, Mrs. S.H. Paul, Miss Velma Picton, Miss Vivian Picton, Miss Grace Smith, Miss Iris Sorenson, Mrs. Jordan Weber.

Mrs. John C. Sorenson was

Thursday, January 30, 1975

appointed President and served in that capacity for 17 years until 1954, when her health forced her to give up this work.

Mrs. W.B. Allen (Myra Camehl) was appointed to serve Mrs. Sorenson's unexpired term, and was elected President in 1955. Mrs. Allen faithfully served as President for 19 years, rendering a tremendous community service, until her resignation in April, 1973, due to ill health.

A valuable service was contributed by two retired engineers during 1973 and 1974 in surveying and replating of the grounds, not only to locate all existing graves on the plat but to provide additional space in the cemetery, which is becoming critical. Mr. James H. Russell, who served as President during 1973, ably assisted by his wife, serving as Vice President, started this work. Mr. Walter Scales, also a retired engineer, President during 1974, continued this work until ill health forced him to resign.

Mrs. Tommy Webb (Corinne) is President at this time and Mrs. Ettoil (Duck) Eller is the Treasurer.

Others who contributed many years of continuing support were Mrs. Gertrude Mills and Mrs. Evelyn Townsend, who served over ten years each as Treasurer and Secretary, respectively.

Going back to the inception of the organization in 1937, under the leadership of Mrs. John C. Sorenson, the cemetery was cleared, streets established, and a wooden fence built, all with voluntary labor, with materials paid for through yearly dues and donations. This fence was necessary because at that time cattle roamed everywhere, as there was no state law to control this.

During those early days of organization good records were established which are still maintained today. Mr. W.D. Bell, local undertaker at that time, had all of the records of burials in an old record book which is now in the possession of the Cemetery Association and being preserved along with subsequent records.

In 1947 Miss Mary Lambert of Refugio donated the northwest section of the present cemetery, which is named

If you drive to public transportation, take a neighbor. It's cheaper.

Double up, America.

Two can ride cheaper than one.

Just the fact that you take advantage of public transportation shows that you're interested in saving money.

Save some more.

Take a neighbor with you to the bus or train and split the cost of gas and parking.

November Shrimp Landings

The volume and value of November shrimp landings in Texas dropped from the same period in 1973.

And the cost of fuel, $30 to $70 per 12 hours of dragging, caused all but the top producing vessels to lose money for the month.

The month's catch was 4.5 million pounds valued at $5.6 million. This is a 6 per cent drop in volume and a 35 per cent drop in value over the November, 1973, catch in Texas.

Brownsville-Port Isabel led all areas with 1.6 million pounds for November.

The area also continued to lead all others in volume catches for January-November of 1974 with 14.5 million pounds. This total compares with 15.8 million pounds in the same period of 1973.

Other catches for the month by area are Aransas Pass-Rockport, 1.1 million pounds; Galveston Bay, 832,400 pounds; Freeport, 458,200 pounds; Port Arthur-Sabine, 210,300 pounds; Port Lavaca-Port O'Connor-Seadrift, 204,700 pounds; Matagorda-Palacios, 93,800 pounds, and Port Mansfield, 46,300 pounds.

Trawlers working brown shrimp made catches of 150-200 pounds per night in an area 100 miles east of Galveston.

Blue crab landings totaled 350,000 pounds in November. This was a drop of over 50 per cent compared with November, 1973. Fishermen received 12 to 20 cents per pound for live crabs.

The fall oyster season began in all major bays in November. Coastal Bend bays have a fair to good crop of oysters on public reefs, but the Galveston system, which produces over 80 per cent of the state's harvest, has a poor crop of harvest-size oysters.

The oyster harvest was about 250,000 pounds of meat with wholesale and retail price of shucked oysters at $16-$19 per gallon.

Pirates Beat Sinton 54-36

Rockport-Fulton High School took a close game and broke it open in the fourth quarter January 21 to take a 54-36 victory over Sinton in a key District 15-3A North Zone.

The win left Rockport with a 4-0 record in league competition while Sinton's record fell to 2-2. Taft, the other team that was on Rockport's heels, also lost, leaving Rockport with a two-game lead.

Robert Crabb led Rockport in scoring with 18 points. Danny Fromme had 16 for Sinton.

Vocational Club Meets

The Vocational Industrial Club at Rockport-Fulton High held a meeting January 16. To promote initiative, a committee was set up to judge shop projects for 1st, 2nd, and 3rd places to be awarded every 30 days, with a limit of 2 men per project.

The projects will be judged on overall quality, usefulness, and workmanship. The names of the first place entries will be put in a plaque in the main hall. This is hoped to provide a feel for competition, as well as quality of work in the field.

On January 23, Robert Konvicka, Personnel Mgr. for RYSCO shipbuilding, spoke to the Club on what is needed for making a good impression on job applications, and what to expect in working conditions, safety, quality, employee standards and employee benefits.

A question and answer session was held at the end of the presentation open to the floor, and response was excellent.

The membership appreciates the time and effort to bring the program and the cooperation of Rockport Yacht and Supply.

A.A.R.P. Met January 22

Approximately 100 members and visitors attended a bi-monthly meeting of the A.A.R.P. Chapter on January 22. Ed Gerchak presided at this meeting which was a covered dish affair.

Before the lunch was served members heard a discussion of law enforcement by Wallace Maley, who is connected with the Aransas Pass Police Force. He traced the history of law enforcement from the period before the Ten Commandments and on up to date.

Following the talk, chairman Ed Gerchak reviewed with the chairmen of the various committees who were present, the plans, aims and goals for the coming year. Some songs led by Bill Kelso livened up the meeting.

Then came the moment when the chairman announced that lunch was ready. A bountiful supply of food cooked by A.A.R.P. members, consisting of vegetables, salads, meats and desserts were enjoyed by all who were there.

Mrs. Dorothy Kaptor, chairman of program committee, announced that for the next meeting on February 12, Mrs. Elizabeth B. Loessburg, of San Antonio, and a statewide officer of A.A.R.P., will speak on the topic "Loving is Giving and Giving is Living" and urged all members to be present for this program. This meeting will be held at the Recreation Building at the Airport at 9:30 a.m.

King Arthur Era Studied

Chivalry still exists in the fifth grade at Rockport Elementary. During a recent study unit on legends of the Middle Ages students in Mrs. Shuff's fifth grade room discovered the courtesies extended to each other by the gentry of the Middle Ages were not only fun but rewarding.

The students studied legends of King Arthur and the stages and training of becoming a knight. During the two week unit, students were asked to observe each other for the following: if a boy exhibited deeds that upheld the three watchwords of a knight: Religion, Honor, and Courtesy, their name and the deed were written on a piece of paper. If a girl performed in such a way that was considered lady-like, her name and the act of William Beasley was on the "straight A" list and Donald Gage and David Wells were included among those who achieved a 3.25 grade point average or better.

Bantam Bowling

High bowler for January 25th was Leighton Iles with a 120 game. Gene Baham bowled a 119 game. Eric Commander bowled 115, Johnny 109, Aaron Commander 108. Johnny Sanchez had high series with 307 for 3 games.

All the children who bowled in the "beat your coach" tournament won their badges by beating their coach.

graciousness was also recorded.

Some of the deeds most often mentioned were: politeness, saying nice things about other people, and being helpful to others.

The culmination of the Unit was a royal dubbing ceremony of a knight selected by the students.

The votes were counted and the ceremony took place as follows: Joe Pulido, voted worthy of his vows by his classmates was presented his royal vestiges by the three ladies-in-waiting: Tammy Stephens, Kerrie Manceaux, and Lala Guerrero.

As Joe knelt before lady Tammy he received the royal accolade and arose Sir Joe of the House of Pulido. He was presented his sword by lady Lala and his shield by lady Kerrie.

Invited guests were Mrs. Adam's Fifth grade room and Mr. Ratliff, principal of Rockport Elementary.

Students are still finding the courtesies learned during the unit to make school life more enjoyable and rewarding. Pirates Lose Game 50-47

Gregory-Portland upset Rockport, 50-47, January 24 to tighten up the North Zone race in District 15-3A.

The loss, Rockport's first in district play this year, left the Pirates one game ahead of the Wildcats. Sinton, which beat Tuloso-Midway in a non-zone game, is one-and-a-half games behind.

Mike Denton hit three free throws late in the game to lead the Wildcats to the win.

Tommy Nelson led Gregory-Portland in scoring with 21 points.

"We had our heads in the clouds," Pirate coach Bobby Flanagan said after the game. "That's what being two games ahead will do for you."

Jeff Mundine led Rockport with 12 points.

CHAMBER CORNER

The Chamber of Commerce has had two new members this past week. They are Rockport Electronics located at 90 S. Austin and owned by M.R. Thomas, and Tele TV and Sound at Encina Plaza, owned by C.B. Dick.

We are happy to have these two businesses as members of our Chamber force and want to invite all interested business men and individuals to join.

"Plant a Tree" is still in progress and donations are coming in regularly to buy a palm. The second shipment of palms will be purchased and planted as soon as threat of freeze damage has passed.

Arbor Day Celebration was a beautiful dedication made especially so by participating residents and visitors. Howard and Peggy Jennings of Ft. Worth and Key Allegro Isle donated a tree after observing the celebration. Other recent donors were Lamar Woman's Club and Sonny's Signs. Forty-eight clubs and individuals have participated in the "Plant a Tree" program.

We are grateful to the men who work for the Navigation District. They did a beautiful job of preparing for the celebration by painting the band shell, garbage cans, trimming all palm trees, mowing the grass, etc. The men are to be commended for their good job of maintaining our public beaches and harbors.

We've noticed the city and state workers trimming palms also. The tall palm with his clipped head reminds one of a small boy with a new haircut. We urge everyone to help keep

Realtors Plan New Actions

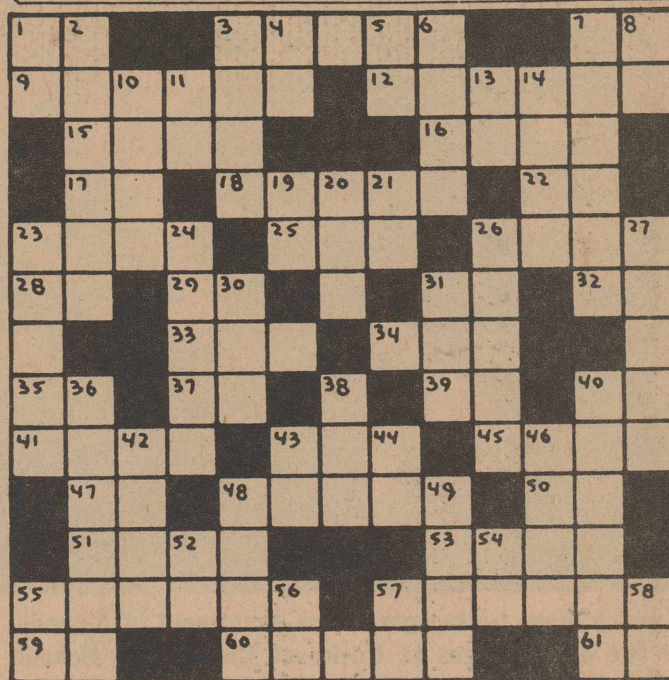

The 110 boards in the Texas Association of Realtors have agreed to become even more supportive of individual property rights and will seek public support in areas ranging from encouraging stability in real estate financing to realistic treatment of real estate in tax measures. This statement was released here by Lela Jo Barkley, president of Aransas-San Patricio Board of Realtors.

Mrs. Barkley said that in the recent Houston meetings of the association, the board of directors voted to actively seek the support of the more than 3 million private property owners in the state on matters which are of equal concern to them and the association members. "We feel that the American dream of the family home is one that contributes to community responsibility and that it is very important that we work together to see that everything possible is done to protect this inherent right."

The local board's education chairman, Ivah Mircovich, said that she was "very glad to see that the policy statement issued by TAR stressed that Realtors should accept the responsibility for encouraging fulltime real estate activity and that continuing education should be a constant goal."

Mrs. Barkley said that "in

ACCENT ON HEALTH

J.E. PEAVY, M.D.
Commissioner of Health

Two new State Health Department services with a vital impact on the lives and health of women and children are receiving wide acceptance in the state.

The programs are offered through the Division of Maternal and Child Health Services, in cooperation with both federal and local agencies.

One of these new programs provides supplemental food to mothers and children with nutritional deficiencies. The other new program provides for cervical cancer detection among women of non-child-bearing age.

Both of these new services were discussed in a recent interview with Dr. Connie Yerwood, the director of the Maternal and Child Health Services Division of the State Health Department.

According to Dr. Yerwood, the two new services are only a part of the comprehensive program provided by her division. "The scope of the services provided by the Maternal and Child Health Division are somewhat numerous," she explained. "Our outstanding service, I suppose you would say, is that of family planning. It's one of the newer services, but it's one of the largest, also. We also provide maternal services, including both pre-natal and post-natal services, for expectant mothers and the mother who has just had her baby. And there are services to infants and to schoolchildren and the school-age child. Also we have services that involve vision and hearing screening, and we provide hearing aid services to children up to age 21. We also have a newborn screening program, known as the PKU Screening Program, which means phenylketonuria screening. This is a preventive program—preventing what could be a condition of mental retardation, if not detected and treated early."

The two new programs under the Maternal and Child Health Services Division are designed to meet specific health needs. One of these new programs is called the WIC Program.

Dr. Yerwood explained, "The WIC Program is a supplemental food program provided by the U.S. Department of Agriculture for high-risk mothers, pregnant mothers, lactating mothers, and infants and children up to age four years. It is felt that these persons at high risk-high nutritional risk—can benefit by the provision of food supplements to their usual or regular diets, thus bringing their nutritional status up, approaching that of normal."

Although the WIC Program has been in operation for less than a year, it has grown rapidly. Dr. Yerwood said, "At this time, we are providing services for about 40,000 mothers, infants, and children in Texas. We have 20 WIC projects throughout Texas, and most of these are in the lower south, or Rio Grande Valley; some are also in East Texas."

Dr. Yerwood explained that the program is funded by the federal government, through the U.S. Department of Agriculture, with statewide planning carried out by the Maternal and Child Health Services Division. Grants are then made to local agencies to implement the WIC projects. She said, "The local people in the community make application for the WIC program, showing the need for such programs by relating the number of mothers at high nutritional risk, and children at high nutritional risk, indicating that they are of low income, and also showing that there will be improvement because they do have existing clinical services through which they can provide the supplemental food to the mothers."

As Dr. Yerwood described the WIC program, it is not just a free-food giveaway. The food supplement program is based on the nutritional needs of each individual recipient. She explained, "At the local level, the mothers and infants are examined to determine that they are at nutritional risk, and then they are provided the supplemental food through a prescription-type procedure." This procedure helps to ensure that the WIC program's services are used to meet the specific health needs of the recipients.

The other new service discussed by Dr. Yerwood is the Cervical Cancer Screening Program. She said, "This is our newest program. The program primarily is intended to reach young women under the age of 16 and women over the age of 44," to provide routine screening procedures to detect cervical cancer. As Dr. Yerwood explained, "Through our family planning clinics, most women age 16 through 44 receive cervical cancer screening as part of the family planning program. But those young women under 16 and those older women over 44 have no opportunity for such services," and thus the new program is aimed specifically to meet their needs.

(NOTE: Dr. Connie Yerwood, the director of the Maternal and Child Health Services Division, and the subject of the foregoing interview, was recently named one of five Outstanding Women of 1974 by the Austin American-Statesman. In addition to her position with the Texas State Dept. of Health Dr. Yerwood is chairman of the Board of Trustees of Huston-Tillotson College and has been active in a number of community health, recreation, and social service organizations.)

Rock Shrimp Making Good Showing

Austin -- Traditional steak and lobster now has a rival--steak and rock shrimp.

Rock shrimp, a species from the deep waters of the Gulf of Mexico, is gaining in popularity on the Texas market, according to Texas Parks and Wildlife Department seafood marketing specialist.

They can be found in several seafood markets across the state, and some of the better restaurants are serving them because, although they have the delicate taste and texture of lobster, they cost half as much as lobster or about as much as the more common medium-size shrimp with which everyone is familiar.

Rock shrimp earned the name from their extremely hard shell, much thicker than the common shrimp shell. In order to clean rock shrimp, the tails should be spit lengthwise in butterfly form, and the entire sand vein washed out thoroughly under cold running water lest you get a very gritty meal.

The following recipe for Broiled Rock Shrimp Tails is a good way to start your acquaintance with this seafood product. For a color-illustrated 3x5 recipe card for this dish and other seafood recipes, send a postcard with your name and address to Seafood, Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, John H. Reagan Building, Austin, Texas 78701.

BROILED ROCK SHRIMP TAILS

1 1/2 lbs. rock shrimp tails, split and cleaned
2/3 cup butter or margarine, melted
1 1/2 teaspoons garlic salt
paprika

To split and clean rock shrimp, hold tail in hand with belly-side up and the tail end pointed away from you. Insert lower blade of scissors or kitchen shears into the exposed vein for the full length of the tail and snip meat in half. Spread severed tail open to fully expose the sand vein, then rinse thoroughly under cold running water until vein is flushed out. Place cleaned tails in a broiler pan, shell side down. Combine butter and garlic salt, and drizzle over shrimp. Sprinkle with paprika and broil about four inches from the source of heat for three to four minutes. Makes four to six servings or approximately 45 hors d'oeuvres.

Invite Birds To Your Home

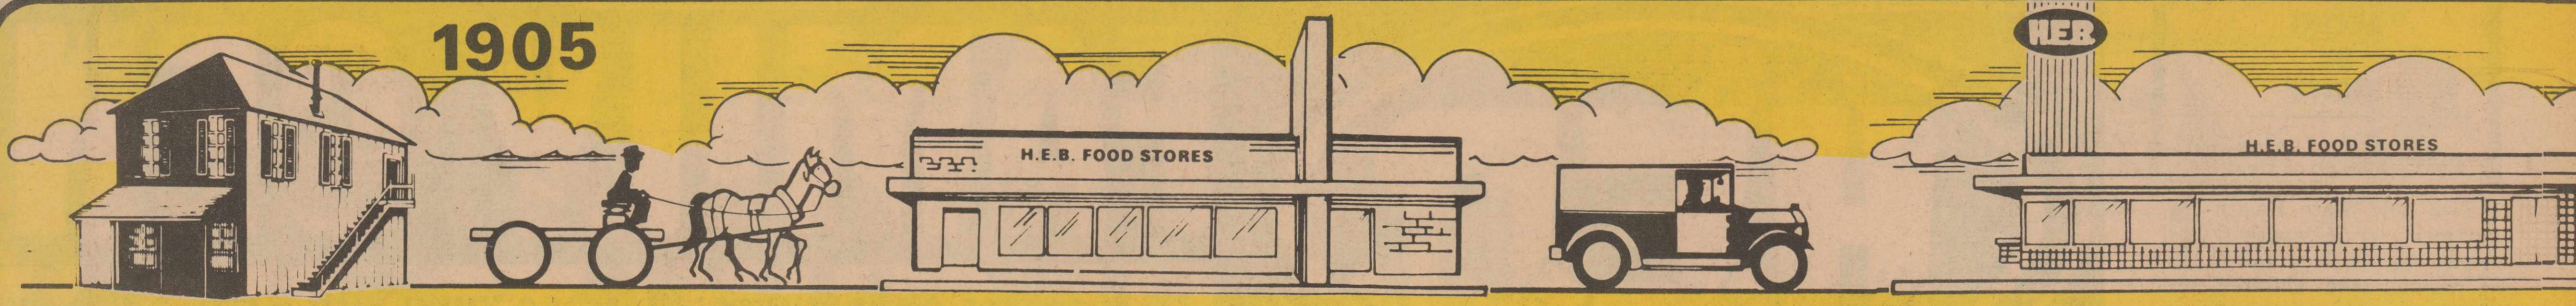

Birds are good neighbors. Their songs, colors, and lively activities will add joy to many homes in the county or city. Birds also help us control insects that attack flowers, lawns, gardens and people.

Birds can be attracted to your home in many ways. Natural attractions can be provided in your yard as you plan your landscaping. A mixture of tall trees which provide good shelter from wind and for nesting, with a variety of shrubs, vines and plants, which bear seed, nuts, fruits or berries. Flowers and low-growing grasses give birds a very good choice of food from insects, worms and spiders which harbor in them. Food plots can be planted such as sunflowers, millets or small grain.

Birds are also attracted by man-made attractions as feeder, birdbaths and birdhouses. These are particularly needed for food and shelter through the winter months.

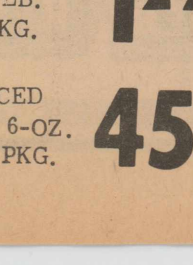

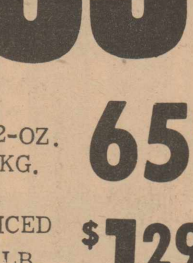

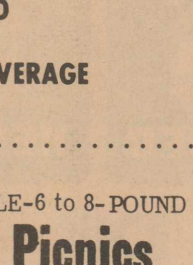

A few birds you may like to invite are the Blue Jay, Baltimore Oriole, Hummingbird, Cardinal, Mockingbird and the Robin.

You can get further information on plants and other methods of inviting birds to your home at your local Soil Conservation Service office.

In 1905 Mrs. Florence Butt came from Tennessee and started a small family grocery store in Kerrville in the central Texas Hill Country. That first store had an investment of about $50 in merchandise and fixtures.

Her young son, H.E. Butt, worked in the store and delivered groceries. After serving in the Navy in World War I, he took over the family business. He moved to the Rio Grande Valley in 1928, beginning the first major expansion of the company. H.E.B. joined with the Piggly Wiggly franchise and grew rapidly, even though this was a time of business "depression."

Growth wasn't just by geography. The Harlingen Canning Company began in the thirties, producing "Texas grown, Texas packed" goods. Other manufacturing plants and construction companies were also established. Related activities ventured into farming and orchards, real estate, auto agencies, and banking.

Company headquarters were moved to Corpus Christi from Harlingen in 1939 as the company's growth continued along the coastal bend and into Austin, San Antonio, Waco and surrounding communities. The Piggly Wiggly franchise ended in the forties. Texas Gold Stamp Company began in 1955.

Recent years have seen an extension of the company's service departments. A large distribution center in San Antonio is supplemented by warehouses in Corpus Christi and Harlingen. H.E.B. operates a bread bakery, ice cream and other manufacturing facilities in Corpus Christi and a pastry bakery in San Antonio. Expansion has continued, especially in urban areas.

Charles Butt became president of the company in 1971. H.E. Butt continues as chairman of the board of the pioneer Texas supermarket chain he built. Today, 130 stores and about 7000 employees form a chain that reaches from Ennis in the north to Brownsville in the south and from Del Rio in the west to Wharton in the east.
