

Bank Deposits Up $2.5 Million Over '63

Deposits in Hereford's two banks climbed to a high of $20,926,450.56 at the end of the first half of 1964—an increase of $2,501,356.27 over the same time last year.

These facts were revealed this past week when the two banks issued their semi-annual statements as of June 30.

Hereford's other two financial institutions, Hi-Plains Savings & Loan and Hereford Texas Federal Credit Union, also showed substantial increases over the same period a year ago, further reflecting the growth of the area's economy.

Deposits in the two Hereford banks a year ago totaled $18,425,094.56, as compared with the $20,926,450.56 figure for 1964.

Loans and securities held by the banks also showed gains over 1963, the reports issued this past week showed.

Loans by the two banks totaled $14,287,581.65 at the end of business June 30, while at the same time a year ago loans amounted to $11,570,527.50.

Funds which the banks have invested in U. S. Government bonds and securities also were up considerably over a year ago. At present the banks hold $1,838,091.06 in such securities, while a year ago the figure was $1,740,102.52.

In other securities, too, an increase was noted. In their June 30 report for this year, the banks report a total of $2,629,330.36, while a year ago the figure stood at $2,042,756.87.

Total assets for the two banks were up $3,563,927.13, the reports revealed. As of June 30 this year, total assets were $23,237,807.45, while assets a year ago totaled $19,673,880.32.

Hereford's other two financial institutions showed marked increases over a year ago.

Hi-Plains Savings & Loan company showed assets of $5,835,509.85 as of June 30 this year, while at the same time last year the company had assets of $4,373,079.67.

In the matter of deposits, too, a considerable gain was noted. Deposits this year totaled $5,397,293.69, while a year ago deposits were $3,991,876.58.

Loans had increased sharply too. Hi-Plains showed loans of $4,780,273.97 for June 30 this year as compared with a total of $3,580,620.98 a year ago.

Hereford Texas Federal Credit Union had sharp gains in assets, loans and savings, a comparison with records for this year and last revealed.

Assets as of June 30 this year were listed at $2,905,011.79 as compared with $2,801,861.41 a year ago, a gain of $103,150.56.

Stores Ready For Dollar Day

Hereford merchants are planning a super "Dollar Day" event for next Monday, and coming right at a time when prices are lowest anyway, some outstanding bargains should be available.

Merchants have been going through their stocks, marking down merchandise to get ready for the big sales event. Some even devoted part—or all—of their July 4th holiday, making ready for Dollar Day.

The event will not be an "unloading" affair; all stores are stocked to the brim with merchandise, and with a good two months of high temperature days still to be faced here, the merchandise should have an especial appeal.

July is always a "buying" month here. It is the month for July clearance sales as merchants make ready for the arrival of autumn merchandise. This year will be no exception.

Right in line with the summer season is a vast reduction in swim suits, for example, and several stores are offering dresses at half price—or even less.

Men's clothes also are being red-tagged at half price, and many other wearing apparel items are marked down to the bottom-dollar level for this special one-day sale.

Household items also are in-

Medal Given Dr. Edwards

Dr. Lena Edwards, a New Jersey Obstetrician who came to Hereford three years ago at the age of 60, to provide medical care for migrant farm workers housed at the Hereford Labor Camp has been included in a list of 30 Americans awarded the Presidential Medal of Freedom.

The gold medal is the highest civilian honor a President can confer for service in peacetime.

It was created in its present form by the late President John F. Kennedy in February, 1963. The first 31 recipients named by him received their medals from Johnson at the White House last December, after Kennedy's assassination.

The medal is given to a person who has made "exceptionally meritorious contributions to the security or national interest of the United States, to world peace, or to cultural or other significant public or private endeavors."

In announcing the awards, President Johnson said in a statement that the winners had "made man's world safer, his physical body more durable, his mind broader, his leisure more delightful, his standard of living higher and his dignity important."

Dr. Edwards was born in Washington, D. C. in 1900. Her father taught at Howard University Dental School for 25 years.

She moved to Hereford in 1960, establishing a $50,000 maternity clinic at the Labor Camp, and in 1963 was awarded the Lions Club Citizen of the Year award for that effort.

Although Dr. Edwards had made up her mind to become a doctor when she was 12, she was 43 years of age before she came a resident in her chosen field of obstetrics. She served

Engine Thief, 22, Gets 2-Year Term

A jury of six men and six women returned a guilty verdict and sentenced Joe Padilla, 22, to two years in the state penitentiary, following a day-long trial.

Padilla was found guilty of a charge of theft over $50. Padilla was arrested Feb. 2 of this year in Santa Rosa, N. M. He refused to waive extradition, but was later extradited.

Two Men Enter Guilty Pleas, Are Given Fines

Business slowed down a bit in county court this past week as only two persons appeared before Deaf Smith County Judge H. C. Williams to answer to separate charges of driving with license suspended and child desertion.

Curtis Murkedove, Hereford, entered a plea of guilty before Judge Williams to a charge of child desertion.

Murkedove was arrested by deputies of the sheriff's department when he appeared in the county this past week.

He was sentenced to one day in the county jail and ordered to pay court cost after entering his guilty plea.

Roger Lee Hamilton, Hereford, was fined $25 and cost after he entered a plea of guilty to a charge of driving with license suspended.

Hamilton was apprehended by Texas Highway Patrolmen.

He told the court that his license was suspended after an accident he had in Amarillo earlier in the year.

the theft of a Chevrolet irrigation engine from the E. D. Bingham farm near Hereford, where he had worked for several months. He had been working on the farm shortly before the engine disappeared.

Padilla had converted the motor to be used in an automobile, according to authorities.

Sheriff Lowell Sharp investigated the incident in February and found parts of the irrigation equipment, which Padilla had abandoned, in the pit of an old cellar on a farm near Santa Rosa. The entire proceedings of the Padilla trial were conducted Thursday.

The 51st District Court, with Judge Harry Schultz, presiding, convened Wednesday morning and one guilty plea was heard and two continuances were granted.

Roy Raymond Pelay entered a plea of guilty to a charge of second offense driving while intoxicated and was given three years, probated sentence by Judge Schultz.

A continuance was granted to Lloyd Ragland, until September 8. Ragland was indicted by the grand jury previously on a charge of second offense driving while intoxicated.

Japanese Pupil Is Coming Here

A 16-year-old girl from the town of Sagiyama, Japan will be one of the two exchange students attending Hereford senior high school, it was announced Saturday.

She is Michio Wakai who was born in the province of Gifu-ken Nov. 25, 1947, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Toshiyasu Wakai. Her father is a branch director of a mining company. In her own town, she attended kenritsu koto gakko (high school) and someday hopes to be a journalist.

Wakai was the third daughter born to her parents, and, according to her story, "as they had no boy, they wished me to have been a boy."

Instead, she writes, "they found the cheerful baby was only a girl." One of her sisters died and the other is now a student at Nagoya University, planning to be a mathematics teacher. A third girl was born later.

As to her family, she wrote: "As my father had been an army officer, he lost both his position and the property he had, and they found it hard to get along. Just after I was born, he could get his present job, and then they had our house built. A certain prophet or fortune-teller told him that I was an angel to bring happiness to our family."

Michio will be a senior in high school here, and will (Continued on page 2)

Don't Water Too Soon, Says Agent

Don't start irrigating cotton soon! County Agent, Lefty Thomas, says, "Cotton that received a good pre-plant irrigation or has benefited from recent rains should have enough moisture in the ground to last until the first white blooms appear. Cotton at this stage of growth should be about 60 days of age."

Foundation Tests Sunflowers As Possible Major Area Crop

Will sunflowers be a profitable crop on the High Plains of Texas? Scientists at the High Plains Research Foundation, near Plainview, believe that sunflowers will be cash crop for many areas of Texas and the South-west within five years. The Foundation is conducting research to find out. A sunflower breeding program was started at the Foundation in 1957.

Several hundred strains have been selected which show considerable promise for sunflower production. The objectives of the program are to investigate sunflowers as a crop that could be profitably grown under existing conditions of soil, available water, and climate of the High Plains; and to develop improved varieties of sunflowers adapted to mechanized harvesting.

The search is for a sunflower variety that will have (1) high yielding ability with a large single head with good seed set; (2) a short, sturdy plant that can produce a maximum amount of grain with a minimum amount of water; (3) disease resistant; and (4) exhibit a high degree of insect resistance, especially to the larval stage of the sunflower head moth.

This insect has been the number one menace to sunflower seed production.

There were 670 strains of sunflowers in the 1963 breeding program — 440 of these were original strains received from all over the world on a private exchange basis. To initiate this program, twenty four strains were inbred. Two hundred and twenty strains were obtained from the Plant Introduction Service of the USDA.

Two hundred and thirty open-pollinated heads were selected for planting, and a number of self-pollinated heads were selected for the 1964 breeding program. The entire row of two strains were harvested to obtain seed for planting this year for the purpose of increasing seed. When sufficient seed is available these strains will be subjected to further testing.

The sunflower is valuable as a food for livestock and people. It has a good quality protein and oil. It is a profitable crop in Canada and several areas in the United States.

The modern sunflower has a large head, one to the plant, with bent head that prevents bird damage. A yield of 3,500 to 4,000 pounds per acre is being sought to produce a profitable crop. The sunflower plant desired has a strong stock resistant to early wind damage and can be produced with less irrigation water than other crops.

Cattlemen To Air Views On Imports

Cattlemen from this area have been invited to hear two Farm Bureau experts discuss the beef import situation at a meeting in Amarillo next Wednesday from 10 a.m. until 3 p.m., according to Joe Holmes, local Bureau field representative. The meeting is to be held in the Old Tascosa room of the Herring Hotel. In addition to livestock producers and feeders, county agents, vocational agriculture teachers and all interested are invited to attend. Among those who are to appear on the program are Bill Wedmeyer, research director, Texas Farm Bureau and Ed McKay, assistant legislative director, Texas Farm Bureau. Topics to be discussed include "effect of farm programs on cattle population, the effect of imports on prices and voluntary agreements, and proposed legislation."

Clothing Consumer Program Is Rescheduled For Thursday

The annual Clothing Consumer Day program sponsored by the clothing subcommittee of the 4-H clubs will be Thursday evening at 8 p.m. in the Community Center. The program, originally set for June 12, had to be postponed because of a severe thunderstorm.

Plans for college co-eds' wardrobes will be the feature of the program. Members of the symposium will be Hereford girls home from college for the summer.

Mrs. Don Steele will lead the discussion with tips from different girls from various colleges.

A tea honoring recent high school graduates will be held in connection with the events. It is sponsored by the education expansion committee of the home demonstration council.

erica, a member of Tri-Hi-Y, member of mixed choir, and Future Nurses in which she works two hours every week at the hospital as a 'Pink Angel'. She is also active in the Central Church of Christ where she teaches a class on Wednesday night, sings in the chorus, and plans to teach in its vacation Bible school.

The ultimate goal of the High School Student Citizenship Seminar, sponsored by Texas Farm Bureau, is to convey to students of senior high school age a better understanding of the American system and way of life. The students will be attending lectures, films and panel discussions by four outstanding lecturers in their field.

Dr. George S. Benson, President, Harding College, Searcy, Ark., has been recipient of more Freedom Foundation gold medal awards than any other American educator for his work in citizenship training. His discussion will be primarily directed toward the area of "Our American Heritage".

Dr. Clifton L. Ganus, vice-president, Harding College, and head of the department of history and social sciences, has traveled extensively in Europe making a study of European life under socialism. His discussions will deal with the basic principles of the competitive enterprise system. A highlight of his discussions is a presentation on the "Pyramid of Freedom".

John Noble, born in Detroit, now living in Wheaton, Ill. is a noted author and lecturer dedicated to a public affirmation of the American way of life. During World War II he was trapped in Dresden, Germany where his father owned a camera factory. In 1945 he was falsely arrested by the Soviets and later deported to the dreaded Soviet Arctic slave camps. Much of his discussion is devoted to a vivid description of his survival of nearly 10 years of brutal, satanic Soviet slavery.

W. Cleon Skousen, Salt Lake City, is a former FBI agent and Chief of Police of Salt Lake City. He began an intensive study of Communism while serving with the FBI for 16 years. He served on the faculty of Brigham Young University and is a noted lecturer, featured speaker and author of the book, "The Naked Communist". His discussions deal primarily with Communist infiltration into almost all aspects of the American society.

COOPER'S

Trends in retailing change from year to year, and the merchant that keeps up with the "latest" in marketing is usually the one who continues in business down through the year. At least, it's a very vital part of every business to know what's selling and why.

We can well remember when almost everything was handled in the old Mercantile store. Everything from groceries to hardware, including dry goods and farm implements. And that's not too many years ago.

Then the trend changed. Merchants started specializing in one particular type business, probably because the selections in each area were becoming so varied and complicated that they could not keep up with everything.

Then the self-service type operation took the spot light, with bigger and bigger stores handling more and more merchandise on a self service basis. As far as foods are concerned, it will probably stay that way for some time to come, but at least one trade magazine thinks that the shift is going back to the "service" type operation in other lines. Food stores, with their pre-packaging set-up, (plus the fact that they handle such tremendous volumes) can operate the self-service stores to the advantage of both customer and merchant, but many merchants in other lines are finding that the customer demands "service", and generally don't mind paying for it.

It all adds up to a mass revolution, thinks the writer, with the trend turning back to the small town retailers, who have the time to be courteous, and the desire to be helpful.

On the other hand, the small town retailer must, if he becomes the beneficiary of the so-called "revolution", keep clean, well stocked stores with competitive prices.

Don't forget the Hereford Athletic Club's swimming meet to be held at the municipal pool Monday night. Also on the program will be a water ballet performance; or if you prefer, a demonstration in synchronized swimming. This group of youngsters, although part of the Athletic Club's swimming team, is coached in the ballet act by Mrs. O. G. Hill Jr.

The next time you see a member of the American Legion, you might express your appreciation for the display of flags each holiday.

The Legion took on this project several years ago, and has been on the job ever since to assure us that our national emblem will be properly displayed each holiday.

Sometimes we take these things for granted, but we'd bet that the fellows would appreciate a word of "Thanks".

If the highways are more crowded than Park Ave., then there's no use in trying to take a vacation. You'll not get farther than Friona before time to return to work.

Apparently, Hereford is just going to keep growing. Sometimes we wonder where all the people are coming from, but wherever it is, apparently they plan to stay here. Rent houses are not to be had, and builders tell us that after an early summer slump in the sales of new homes, business is booming again.

We hope the apparent prosperity continues, of course, for only thing worse than a non-progressive city, is one that has overbuilt.

First six months building permits are up considerably over the same period last year, and that was a record. Bank deposits also are up over a like period for 1963. And one last item, expenses at the Young residence seem to be on the increase also.

But that last item doesn't necessarily have anything to do with the prosperity of the city.

Real Estate man to a prospect: "Would you like to see a model home?"

Answer: "Be glad to. What time does she quit work?"

Rites Held For Mrs. Vahlsing

News of the July 1 death of Mrs. Frederick H. Vahlsing Sr., wife of the president of F. H. Vahlsing, Inc., has been received by acquaintances of the family here. Mrs. Vahlsing was a frequent Hereford visitor and had many friends in this area.

Farm Safety Week '64 Theme: 'Safer Families Everywhere'

"Safer American Families Everywhere" is the theme for National Farm Safety Week. President Lyndon B. Johnson in a special proclamation has designated the week of July 19-25 as the period when all persons, especially those working agriculture, should unite in a strong and purposeful effort to reduce rural accidents.

"Notwithstanding the fact," said the President, "that hundreds of thousands of volunteer leaders and members of rural organizations actively participate in community, state, and national safety programs which have proved effective in reducing the number and rate of accidents among farm residents, accidents still cause thousands of deaths and nearly a million disabling injuries to farm people each year. This loss of human and economic resources causes a significant adverse impact upon the economy of the nation and must be viewed as a matter of national concern.

"I feel that the many public spirited persons responsible for past and present farm safety efforts should be commended for their notable achievements and that these efforts should be given renewed public recognition and support. In addition, I urge that vigorous new efforts be made to eradicate, insofar as feasible, all of the reasonably foreseeable causes of farm and rural accidents. Accomplishment of that objective should be the goal of National Farm Safety Week, 1964."

For many years, the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council has played a major role in farm and home safety efforts and will gain support activities planned for the week in Texas.

The Texas Agricultural Extension Service through its 4-H and adult programs will also participate and cooperate with other organizations, agencies, groups and individuals in calling public attention to the need for more intensive efforts to prevent farm, home and rural highway accidents.

Rites Held For Mrs. McElanahan

Services for Mrs. Mary Lavender McElanahan, age 83, 50-year Texas Panhandle pioneer and mother of Mrs. T. O. Morrison, 240 Avenue D, were held Thursday afternoon in Lubbock's Antioch Baptist Church.

Lubbock officiants were the Rev. R. L. Porter, pastor of the church, Garnie Adkisson, minister of Northside Church of Christ, and the Rev. Jack Peacock, Pastor of Calvary Temple Foursquare Gospel Church. Burial was in Englewood Cemetery, Slaton, with Rix Funeral Home, Lubbock, in charge.

Mrs. McElanahan died Tuesday evening in Lubbock's Colonial Manor Convalescent Home. Just two years ago she returned to the Lubbock area after a stay of 10 months in Hereford at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Morrison. Her granddaughter, Mrs. G. A. Bogle, and family live at 309 Star St.

With her late husband, W. A. Lavender, the pioneer woman and their seven children settled on a ranch near Portales, N. M., in 1913; later they farmed in Lubbock-Slaton area.

She is survived by two daughters, including Mrs. Morrison, five sons, a brother, 20 grandchildren, and 36 great-grandchildren.

Insecticides' Problems Is Meeting Theme

Sponsored by the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce's farm and ranch council, a meeting is slated for Tuesday, July 14 in the Community Center here to discuss "the problem of insecticide residue on agricultural products."

Representing the Amarillo Chamber will be Fred T. Dines of the farm and ranch division of the chamber.

This meeting is being sponsored by the Extension Service with the cooperation of the Hereford Chamber of Commerce, the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce, and various agricultural insecticide dealers in the area.

The U.S. Food and Drug Administration will be represented by Sam Fine, Chemist with the Dallas office, who will discuss chemical tolerances allowed on various agricultural products and methods that are used to determine these chemical residues. Also on the program will be Allen Gunter of the Agricultural Department of Hercules Powder Co. who will discuss the various chemicals used in the control of insects on agricultural products produced in this area. Gunter is a former extension entomologist with Texas A & M College and is well known throughout the Texas Panhandle.

Other agricultural authorities will be in attendance at this very important meeting that is open to the public, Dines said.

Two Vehicles Damaged When Brakes Fail

Investigation of minor accidents slowed down within the city limits this week as Hereford Police were called to investigate only one minor accident Thursday morning.

A car driven by Miss Aurora DeToro, labor camp, and a vehicle driven by Clement Balli Galvan were in collision in the 400 block of Main Street.

According to investigating patrolmen, the car driven by Galvan and another vehicle driven by John E. Blocker, 133 Aspen, were stopped at a red light, when Miss DeToro's brakes failed and struck the Galvan car, knocking it into the Blocker vehicle.

Damage to Miss DeToro's car was set at $150 and damage to Galvan's car was estimated at $175. The Blocker vehicle received approximately $50 in damage according to the patrolmen.

Miss DeToro was cited by investigating patrolmen for negligent collision by following too close, defective brakes and no valid driver's license.

Green Acres Swim Club, Inc. NOW OPEN

The new swimming pool in Hereford Development's Green Acres Estates was completed this week, and final touches were being put on the compound surrounding the facility. Reuben Aasland, developer of Green Acres said the remainder of the fence would be erected this week, and upon completion of painting and touching-up, the club would be ready to go. Aasland plans to have the compound completed and ready to show by July 12.

Aasland told the Brand this week that the non-profit corporation is now screening membership applications, and in general, is getting everything ready so that members may get the most from their membership in the remaining months of summer.

Stock membership $150. Annual dues $35 per year. Following terms are available: Nothing down, 12 monthly payments of $16 each, including dues. Stock memberships are transferable, and subject to approval of membership committee.

A kiddie pool is located at the north end of the pool and is completely fenced from the deep water, preventing the over-enthusiastic children from slipping into the deeper water.

"People interested in membership might drop by now to look the place over," Aasland said. "It's hard to visualize what a nice place this is going to be, but they don't have to use the imagination any longer. Now they can see."

Aasland also urged those interested in memberships to contact the offices of Hereford Development Co. immediately.

"Purchase of a lot or home in the addition will automatically give you membership in the pool," Aasland said.

Initial membership fee in the organization will be $150, plus $35 yearly dues. He also pointed out that outsiders, those not now owning property in Green Acres Estates, could apply for membership in the pool by paying their $150 membership fee. This fee can be later applied to the purchase price of a lot, according to the developer, if the party so chooses, and they may be transferred upon the approval of the Membership Committee.

Brochures are now available for those interested in getting additional information, and can be had by writing to the company at Box 328. The pool, will be 30 ft. x 60 ft. in size, plus a sizable kiddie pool located at the South end. It will be completely surrounded by an 8 ft. Crowe-Guide Castle-Wall fence for the sake of privacy, and will have a slide at either end of the pool, plus diving boards, etc.

Aasland also pointed out that the pool will have bath houses, a snack-bar and a club room. "This is strictly modern," Aasland said, "coming up to the specifications of many country club pools, although it is not as large as most municipal pools."

"We believe home owners in an addition such as Green Acres will appreciate the convenience of a private pool," Aasland said, and further stated that the entire addition will be a credit to the City of Hereford.

The pool will be equipped with the finest filtering system made, and will be staffed by a capable life guard during the season. The company has overlooked nothing to make this Hereford's first and finest planned community, including a shopping center and schools as the area develops. A complete section of land is available, if demand for houses continues as they have in the past. Streets will be opened as needed and all houses will be of the finest construction regardless of the price range.

"In fact," says Aasland, "we encourage you to have your own contractor build your home here." He pointed out that lots were available to reliable contractors and to individuals, but asserted again that homes built in the area would have to meet deed restrictions and be "constructed to stay."

This area will also be the first in Hereford to include a complete network of underground utilities. "If we could find a way to put TV antennas underground, we'd do it," Aasland said. However, the absence of electrical utility poles will be "something new" for Hereford.

Parties interested in purchasing lots in the subdivision for future use, or those wanting to construct homes now are urged to contact Reuben Aasland for details.

"Lots will be sold on installment plan to those qualifying as well as the swimming pool membership fee," Aasland said. "We feel that there are a number of people who would like to become members of the pool corporation, but prefer not to pay the entire $150 in a lump sum. This membership fee is a capital investment, since it may be applied to purchase of a lot at a future date, plus the fact that it is transferable."

Please send additional information on stock memberships.

Import Meat Label Is Asked
Congressman Walter Rogers Friday introduced a bill to require that imported meat and meat products bear labels showing the countries of origin.
The Congressman called for enactment of the bill so that American consumers can make "a clear choice" between competing products, domestic and foreign. "Except in a small number of cities where local ordinances have been passed to require labeling, there is no way for a housewife to know whether the meat she buys was produced in the United States or abroad," the Congressman said.
On March 11, Congressman Rogers introduced a bill to impose import limitations on certain meat and meat products. The bill, along with others of a similar nature, is before the House Ways and Means Committee but the Committee has not yet acted to refer the matter to the full House of Representatives.
The bill introduced by Congressman Rogers will be referred to the House Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce, of which he is a member.
PRICE SAYS "GIMMICK"
Bob Price, GOP Congressional candidate, showed no surprise in learning of Congressman Rogers' action of introducing a bill in Congress to label foreign meat imports. In commenting on Rogers' action, Price said "It was certainly no surprise to me, as I predicted just such action during a meeting of my supporters here in Pampa last week."
Price, who introduced similar action before Pampa City Commission, Tuesday, said that he expected and had received favorable response to his request for a city ordinance, and further predicted that more Panhandle cities will adopt similar measures.
Labeling Roger's action as a "political gimmick" and "farce", Price said of the bill, "I have been informed by highly reliable sources in Washington that this bill will not be passed in this session of Congress, if for no other reason than the fact that there is not enough time left. It is an obvious move on my opponent's part to try to gain votes for the November election by putting on a false face of concern."

LEGAL NOTICE
Notice is hereby given that a meeting of the Board of Equalization of the Hereford Independent School District is called for July 14, 1964, at 10:00 a.m. in the school tax office for the purpose of reviewing and equalizing tax assessments for the year 1964. Anyone owning taxable property within the District is invited to meet with the Board and present any claim for adjustment of the appraised value of their property to which they believe they are entitled. It is the purpose and desire of your Board of Equalization to as nearly equalize values as it is possible to do so. If you feel you have a just claim for an adjustment of your assessment, please bring your problem to the Board.

Tour Texas — Part II

Waco, 'Athens of Texas', Offers Much To Attract The Tourist

In these days of speed and super-highways skirting cities and towns, one is apt to bypass some of the most interesting and worthwhile attractions our state has to offer.

Take Waco, for instance. Known in pioneer days as "The Athens of Texas," the city has long been famous for its educational, cultural, and religious influence. Its citizens are proud of its fine public schools, Baylor University and other educational institutions, and its more than 100 churches of every denomination.

Motorists heading for Waco have a wide choice of fine roads, including U. S. 77, 81 and 84, Interstate 35, and State Highway 6.

Baylor University is the oldest institution of higher learning in Texas, having been founded in 1845. Its Little Theatre presents outstanding productions throughout the year in a special "theatre-in-the-round."

The outstanding cultural attraction of Waco is the world-renowned Armstrong Browning Library on the campus of Baylor University. There is housed the world's largest collection of the works of British author-poet Robert Browning and his wife, Elizabeth Barrett. Dr. A. J. Armstrong, who was chairman of the English Department at Baylor for 40 years, was responsible for gathering this collection of Browning mementos.

Gradually conceived and painstakingly planned, the present Armstrong Library Building, costing over one and a half million dollars, was dedicated on December 3, 1951.

The library contains more than 1,000 original letters and other manuscripts written by and to Robert Browning and Elizabeth Barrett Browning, as well as books, paintings, furniture, and the famous cast of the clasped hands of the two poets by Harriet Hosmer.

The building's bronze entrance doors are paneled, depicting one of Browning's poems. Forty of the stained glass windows are designed each to illustrate one of the poems by Robert Browning or by Elizabeth Barrett Browning.

Visitors are welcome week days from 9:30 until 11:30 a.m., and from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m.; until noon on Saturday; and on Sunday from 2 to 5 p.m. Group tours and lectures may be arranged through the Library's director, Dr. Jack W. Herring, Box 6336, B.U. Station, Waco.

Indian Dances Again Planned At Palo Duro

Indian Dancers from two Boy Scout divisions of the "Order of the Arrow" will give a program of Indian dances in the amphitheater in the Palo Duro Canyon State Park again today.

The program will be repeated six times: 2 p.m., 5 p.m., 8 p.m. The charge will be 50 cents a person for people already in the park. First programs were presented yesterday at the same hours.

The Kachina dancers from Amarillo are drawn from several troops and work under the direction of Jerry Spencer. The Wapiti dancers of Canyon are from Troop 31 whose scoutmaster is Meredith Warren. These boys are trained by George Hughes and John Brandon. Each boy makes his own costume, after doing research on the dress and customs of the Indians from this area. The dances are also patterned from records and pictures of actual Indian dances, and developed after much investigation.

The Indian dancers are presenting this program in order to raise funds to attend the Indian Ceremonials at Gallup, N. M. this summer, so that they may study new dances for presentation.

The huge bluff which the amphitheater in the Palo Duro Canyon faces makes a stunning backdrop for the colorful Indian costumes. Those who see the festive dances in the open air in the Canyon will have a close glimpse of some scenes which may well have really taken place in the past.

Topping Of Semi-Open Cotton Bole Varieties May Up Yields

Research results from mechanical topping of semi-open boll varieties of cotton indicate that the practice can be profitable to cotton producers in the High Plains of Texas, according to James Valliant, water engineer at the High Plains Research Foundation, Halfway.

Increases in net returns have approached $50 per acre when compared to standard grown stormproof varieties of cotton.

The staple length was increased by topping, which may help expand the cotton market of the High Plains. Fertilizer response was increased when the cotton was topped. Other benefits obtained from mechanical topping are the elimination of the top foliage and small immature bolls which furnished food and shelter for insects. There is also uniform crop height for harvest.

Research tests indicate that topping of stormproof cotton is not considered profitable. Valliant said. Details of the cotton topping results on Gregg, Lockett 88-A, and Paymaster 88-90 for 1963 are available in the 1963 Foundation Research Report No. 112 on the "Comparison of Yield and Quality of Mechanically Topped Cotton with Untopped Cotton."

Cotton topping research has been underway at the Foundation for the past three years. "Farm Centered Research" on Cotton topping is underway on a small acreage basis at the following farms, according to Valliant: Terry Green, Earth; Charles Frye, the Easter Community south of Hereford; and James Stair, Providence Community northeast of Plainview.

The following farmers are testing this practice in the immediate vicinity of the Foundation farm at Halfway: James McDaniel, Don Graham, and Claude Fargason.

At the Foundation, Valliant has enlarged the cotton topping research program to include seven varieties for the year 1964.

Five semi-open boll varieties in the research work at the Foundation are as follows: Paymaster 88-90, Paymaster 111, Austin, DeKalb 108, and Lockett 47-39. The long staple cottons in the cotton topping experiment include: Acala 442 and Acala 1517-BR2. These two varieties are popular in New Mexico and California.

THROWS BOTH WAYS
LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) - Nelson Powell is different from most baseball players - he's a switch thrower.

The University of Louisville freshman once pitched five innings right-handed and finished the game throwing left-handed in high school at Parkville, Ky.

He doesn't figure his arm is good enough to pitch in college so he's gunning for a spot on the Cardinal varsity next season as a first baseman or outfielder.

Powell admits he takes a ribbing when he shows up with two gloves and warms up both arms. But then, he throws from the right side when he plays the outfield and is strictly a left-hander while playing first base.

The incident was investigated by deputies of the Deaf Smith County Sheriff's Department.

the complete investigation has not been made as yet.

According to the deputies persons at the scene said the gun had been "floating around" the said.

Pre-Nuptial Parties Honor Recent Bride

Mrs. Thomas Arrington Gray II, the former Margaret Ann Rountree, was named honoree of a number of pre-nuptial courtesies in Dallas.

Most recent was the rehearsal supper in the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cloyd A. Gray, 6762 Inverness Lane, Dallas, 75226. The Grays complimented their son and his bride at a Bar-B-Q with other principals of the wedding party, including Johnny E. Cloud, Hereford; parents of the bride, the Reuben H. Rountrees, 205 Witherspoon, Hereford; and other out-of-city relatives and friends as guests.

Honoring her future daughter-in-law, Mrs. Gray was hostess at a coffee in her Dallas home Saturday morning, May 16. On this occasion she introduced the bride-elect to members of the groom's family and special friends. About 70 guests called during the coffee hours.

Complimenting Miss Rountree with a tea-miscellaneous shower, Mrs. Andrew Jackson, Mrs. Ralph Immel, and Mrs. Clarence Diller were hostesses at 4076 Purdue, Dallas, on May 23. Special guests were Mrs. Reuben H. Rountree, mother of the bride, and Mrs. Cloyd A. Gray, mother of the groom. They were favored with shoulder corsages of white carnations.

The honoree wore a street-length dress of sky blue tulle with white silk cord and ties accenting the empire lines. Her corsage was a white orchid.

The service table was laid in white organdy over satin, with deep hem accenting the full organdy floor-length skirt. Appointments were in silver with white tapers in porcelain candleholders complementing the footed flower-bowl of pink tulle.

During the tea hours 75 guests registered in the bride's book.

Continental Airline hostesses in Dallas complimented their co-worker and bride-elect, Miss Rountree, at a personal shower at 4343 Buena Vista, Dallas, Tuesday evening, June 23.

Miss Rountree was married to Thomas Arrington Gray II Friday evening in Skillman Avenue Church of Christ, Dallas.

Rites In New York Unite Miss Fowlkes, Neal Cohen

In New York City marriage rites today, Miss Jo Ann Fowlkes, daughter of Mrs. Lorraine Fowlkes and the late James Ross Fowlkes, became the bride of Neal Allen Cohen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney J. Cohen, New York City.

Rabbi Robert Widom performed the double ring ceremony in Stephen F. Wise Free Synagogue. A reception and dinner followed the wedding.

Jerry Richard Fowlkes, Hereford, escorted his sister and gave her in marriage.

Maid of honor was Miss Rosemary Williams, formerly of Muskogee, Okla.; and Leonard Schwartz, the groom's brother-in-law, served as best man.

The bride is a graduate of Oklahoma State University, Stillwater, and of New York University Graduate School of Religion.

The bridegroom is an alumnus of Wharton School of Finance and Commerce of the University of Pennsylvania. He is with Best Coat and Apron Manufacturing Company and Best Textile Corporation, New York City.

After a honeymoon in Florida and mid-July visit with the bride's mother in Hereford and other relatives in West Texas, the couple will be at home in New York City.

Two English Women Visit Allreds Here

Miss Jean Chapman and Miss Rosalind Kramer, Hereford visitors from London, England, accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Allred and Miss Clydene Allred on a tour of Eastern New Mexico resorts last Sunday, Monday, and Tuesday.

They explored Carlsbad caverns, then visited Ruidoso, Cloudcroft, Indian Reservations, and other points of interest on their return route to Hereford.

Miss Chapman and Miss Kramer are house guests of the Allreds, 129 Avenue D, during their present stay in Hereford, which marks a revisitation for Miss Chapman, who in 1954-55 was the first foreign exchange student to this area under the direction of American Field Service.

The British visitors plan to leave here next Thursday to continue their tour of the United States.

Chilly Hoosiers Pack Belongings, Head South To Corpus Christi

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. — A dozen Indiana families sold their homes and businesses and auctioned off most of their belongings to migrate to Corpus Christi last summer.

Members of the pioneer group now operate four service stations and a restaurant. All the hoosiers now say they like their new home.

It all started more than a year ago when Bob Edlin and his brother, Sam, were underneath an auto in their service station in New Albany, Ind.

"The temperature was 20 below and the snow was hip deep to an elephant," Bob recalls. "I said, 'Sam, what are we doing here? Let's go South.'"

The Edlins visited Miami soon after that, but weren't satisfied with what they saw. They then wrote to 45 cities on the Gulf Coast. On the basis of this they visited Corpus Christi in February 1963.

The migration began in June. More followed in July and the main body arrived in August in two old school buses, two station wagons, another car and rented trailers. Three Edlin brothers, a sister and their families came.

Miss Stream, Mr. McQuigg Marry In Wisconsin Church

The Elim Lutheran Church, Range, Wis., its gold altar vases filled with bouquets of pink and white peonies and pews marked with aisle bouquets of white and blue wedding bells secured with blue ribbons, was the setting of the wedding of Miss Gloria Jean Stream and A/C Roger K. McQuigg Saturday afternoon, June 27.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Ferdinand Stream, Turtle Lake, Wisc., and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Robert McQuigg, 311 Avenue J.

The Rev. Gary Parks, church pastor, read the double ring ceremony. Mrs. Ed Johnson, organist, played traditional wedding music and accompanied Miss Patty Ludke in the nuptial solos, "Wedding Prayer" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Mr. Stream gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a formal gown of bridal lace over white satin, styled with fitted bodice and bouffant skirt. Her elbow-length veil of white illusion was attached to a circlet of satin edged in white sequin pattern. She carried a bouquet of white roses and English ivy.

Miss Kathy Lynch was maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Miss Susan Johnson and Miss Marlene Stream, sister of the bride. They wore street-length dresses of pale blue chiffon over satin sheaths and headpieces of pale blue chiffon flowers with halo veils attached. Their bouquets were pink and white carnations.

Brenda Neimann was flower girl and Greg Peterson was ring bearer.

Both the groom and his best man, Richard Stream, brother of the bride, wore formal military uniform of the U.S. Air Force. Jim Benson and Mike Ramboldt were groomsmen; while Jim Stream, cousin of the bride, and Clyde Rognhold served as ushers.

The bride's mother wore a suit of blue silk with embossed lace imprint; her accessories were white. The groom's mother wore a beige silk suit with matching accessories. Their corsages were pink and white carnations and pompons.

Following the wedding a reception was held in the church parlor, where guests met the young couple, their parents and attendants in the receiving line. Miss Sue Segner registered the guests; and Miss Linda Van Houten, Miss Val Strenke, and Miss Ivah Peterson presided at the gift table.

The serving table in full-length white linen cloth was complemented with centerpiece of red peonies in bowl of pale blue and white, the bride's colors. Appointments were in crystal. Assisting with the serving were Mrs. Vernon Stream, aunt of the bride, Miss Gloria

Judith Ann Brown, Edmond J. Backus Wed

Miss Judith Ann Brown and Edmond Joseph Backus exchanged wedding vows Thursday mid-morning, June 18, in Holy Family Church, Nazareth. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Brown, Dimmitt, and the groom is the son of Mrs. Helen Backus, Nazareth, and the late Leslie Backus.

The Rev. Wilmer Riechel, pastor of the church, read the double ring ceremony before the altar of blue carnations and baskets of white gladioli. Traditional wedding music was played.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore the formal white bridal satin wedding gown of her sister, Mrs. Houston Frye, who designed and made the dress for her own wedding. Fashioned with princess lines, the gown featured short puff sleeves of silk embroidered organza and sweetheart neckline bordered with seed pearls. Appliques in rose design traced with seed pearls accented lines of bodice and bouffant skirt ending in a chapel train.

Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a crown of seed pearls

Married sons and daughters and friends completed the caravan.

Bob Edlin is unofficial president. "We sort of pool our efforts and try to do the best we can. We help one another out," Edlin said.

and crystal drops. She wore long white satin gloves and carried a missal bouquet of cymbidium orchid encircled by carnations with white baby breath streamers.

Mrs. Houston Frye, Hereford, was her sister's matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Charlene Hoeltzel and Miss Ne-lita Venhaus, Nazareth, cousins of the groom. Celeste Harman, Tulla, cousin of the bride, was flower girl. All attendants wore identical dresses of blue embroidered cotton, with white accessories and pillbox hats made by the matron of honor to complete their costumes. They carried bouquets of white gladioli.

White daisies and baby breath decorated the basket of the flower girl.

Bernice Huseman, nephew of the groom, was ring bearer.

Herbert Backus served his brother as best man. Groomsmen were Francis Backus, also brother of the groom, and Ronnie Brown, Dimmitt, brother of the bride. Serving as ushers were Houston Frye, Hereford, Landol Frazier, Dimmitt, Joe Venhaus and Arnold Huseman, Nazareth. Alter boys were John Backus and Harold Venhaus, Nazareth, and Clyde Venhaus, Happy, cousins of the groom.

Mrs. Brown, mother of the bride, wore a dress of beige lace over taffeta, accented by shoulder corsage of mocha cymbidium orchid in pompon crown. Mrs. Backus, mother of the groom, chose a beige lace dress with bronze cymbidium orchid and pompon corsage.

Special wedding guests were Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Jones, Hereford, grandparents of the bride, and Mrs. G. F. Backus, Happy, grandmother of the groom.

Immediately following the ceremony, the bride and groom were honored at a reception in Nazareth Community Hall. Laid in white lace over blue, the bride's table was decorated with three-tier wedding cake and an arrangement of white gladioli and white tapers. Serving the guests was Miss Susan Benson, Dimmitt, cousin of the bride. Miss Donna Carmichael registered the guests.

The couple left on a honeymoon trip to points in Colorado. They are now at home at their farm near Nazareth.

Grays Return From Wedding Trip; To Live In Houston

After a wedding trip to Gulfport, Miss., Thomas Arrington Gray II and his bride, the former Miss Margaret Ann Rountree, will establish a home in Houston.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reuben H. Rountree, 205 Witherspoon; and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Cloyd A. Gray, 6762 Inverness Lane, Dallas.

The wedding was solemnized Friday evening in the Skillman Avenue Church of Christ, Dallas, with John Bannister, minister of the church, officiating at the double ring ceremony.

Mr. Rountree gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a formal wedding gown of silk-faced peau de sole with re-embroidered Alencon lace accenting the upper shaped bodice with its scalloped neckline and deep shoulder points to long fitted sleeves. Lace-frosted, the bell skirt was controlled by unpressed pleats at sides and back falling into a chapel train. French roses of peau de sole and lace secured her veil of illusion. She carried a cascading fringed carnations and stephanotis with pearls and lace, centered with a white cymbidium orchid atop a Bible.

The A Capella Chorus sang traditional wedding music and a ladies' quartet sang "Twilight" and "Wedding Prayer."

Miss Gail Minnich, London, England, was maid of honor; and Miss Karen Smith, Kansas City, Kans. was bridesmaid. They wore dresses of pale blue satin fashioned with full-length controlled bell skirt and fitted bodice with three quarter length sleeves. Blue satin Dior bows held their halo veils. They carried bouquets of white roses.

Bill Gray, Dallas, was best man. Ushers were Lt. William Semkow, Camp Pendleton, Calif. and Johnny E. Cloud, Hereford.

Following the wedding a reception was held in the East Wing of the church. Guests greeted the bride and groom, their parents, and attendants in the receiving line and registered with Miss Kay Crawford, who presided at the guest book. Assisting in serving the guests were Mrs. Marty Gerson, Miss Judy Williams, Miss Linda Howard, and Miss Nellica Evers.

A 1958 graduate of Hereford High School, the bride attended Amarillo College and West Texas State University. She presently is a hostess with Continental Airlines.

Graduated from Southern Methodist University, the groom completed three years of commissioned service with the U.S. Marine Corps. He is a member of Phi Delta Kappa. At present he is associated with Foremost Dairies, Houston.

Special out-of-city guests for the wedding included the parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Reuben H. Rountree, Hereford; Mr. and Mrs. Kendrick Brown, Little Rock, Ark.; Mr. Johnny C. Cloud, Hereford; and Mrs. Grace Duncan and Miss Pat Duncan, Oklahoma City, Oklahoma City, Okla.

Jerry D. Franz, Bride At Home Following Trip

The Rev. Jerry Don Franz and his bride, the former Miss Karen Arline Key, Kirkland, are now at home at 106 West Fifth Street, following a wedding trip to Colorado Springs.

The couple exchanged marriage vows in a late Saturday afternoon wedding, June 20, in the First Methodist Church, Canyon. The Rev. Charles Hastings, director of Wesley Foundation at West Texas State University, read the double ring ceremony before an altar flanked by baskets of white gladioli. Miss Diane Moore, Amarillo organist, presented a brief prelude of wedding music.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arlie Key, Kirkland; and the groom is the grandson of Mrs. M. H. Briggs, Littlefield.

The bride wore a suit of white pure silk and white hat of organza securing her brief veil. Her only jewelry was a strand of cultured pearls. She carried a bouquet centered with a white orchid.

Mrs. Austin Bowes, Amarillo, served as her sister's matron of honor. She wore a pink silk suit with matching hat and white carnation corsage.

Best man was James Franz.

Majoring in applied arts and interior design, Miss Wilhelm is a senior attending summer session at Texas Technological College and will receive her degree in January.

THAT'S A LOT OF FRUIT — This is Burl Elliston and Mrs. Ed Dziuk shown as they admire the apricots that are ripening on the tree in the front yard of the Dziuk home.

Dziuk Family Finds Raising Fruit A Profitable Pastime

The Ed Dziuk family raises fruit for fun and profit — but the profit is not measured by monetary value. And "they" say that fruit can't be raised in this part of the country.

Ed Dziuk started his orchard back in 1942 — the family, of Bohemian descent, came to the area in 1938. Today he has about 15 trees, and most of them are producing, not to mention berry vines.

But even a whole orchard can't satisfy the family's craving for fruit — as Ed said, "It takes a terrific amount of fruit to satisfy our tastes."

Most noticeable is the apricot tree growing right in the front yard — and it is loaded with fruit this year. (see picture). The tree is the largest of the group.

In the orchard on their farm two and a half miles south of town, there are apricot trees, apple trees, peach trees, cherry trees, pear trees, pecan trees, walnut trees, and also there are berry vines.

They have, of course, seen bad years and good years. Dziuk says that the wind has a lot to do with the trees on the Southwest; it doesn't help some of his cherries that catch the brunt of the gusts.

Something not often seen is the grafted tree — Dziuk has five different varieties of apples, and all on the same tree. He has several of the grafted trees. The trees are ordered from nurseries, some back east, and some in the local area.

With so many friends and relatives, the fruit certainly doesn't last very long. Mrs. Dziuk and the family had "cleaned" several of the trees one day with the fruit all being gone the next — and it's not due to a poor crop. There is always plenty of help around the house when cherry-picking time comes a-long, or another such chore.

Dziuk doesn't attribute his good crop of fruit to any one thing, but he does know that many people say that fruit simply can't be grown in this area. But he's doing it.

HD Clubs Here Stage Picnic For VA Patients

Joining as co-hostesses Friday, June 25, at an Amarillo picnic for all patients of Amarillo Veterans Hospital allowed outside the hospital, 16 members of Deaf Smith County Home Demonstration Clubs served their special guests the foods prepared in the hospital kitchen. Then for dessert, they added home-made pies of club members.

So successful was this initial summer picnic for the veterans, that the hospital recreation chairman asked the hostesses to return for July and August picnics. It was agreed that the county home demonstration clubs would join in the July 18 picnic for the veterans.

Attending this picnic were Mrs. A. E. Hodges and family, Mrs. Bess Sauley, Mrs. Carl Schroeder, Mrs. Bell Williams, Mrs. Alice Bradley, Mrs. Alice Swartz, Mrs. Jim Bradley, Mrs. Charles Higgins, Mrs. C.F. Gold Florentine by Wedgwood:

each plate has even purer gold than your wedding ring.

There is a quiet splendor to this Wedgwood pattern. Each piece is lavished with pure gold. Yet it does not shout or shine or advertise its wealth. Its motif is antique, never-ending as a wedding ring and as lasting: its gold is wedded to pure white bone china for a lifetime (and only English bone china is so pure white). Gold Florentine is rich, ornate, delicate. Like some rare Renaissance design traced out in bridal lace. What could be more fitting for a bride? More cherished by a wife? $39.95 the place setting. Wedgwood makes 150 bone china patterns, place settings from $14.95 to $150. Today, as in 1759, Wedgwood is a living tradition.

Patriotism

Flag-waving as Walter Brennan reminded us on television recently, used to be a great national outdoor sport, and Washington's birthday was an occasion for solemn tributes to our first president, when crowds of people gathered to hear the reading of his farewell address to Congress.

Washington's birthday now is widely ignored and too many of us have become so sophisticated that we're embarrassed to wave Old Glory. Not everyone, of course, has lost the spirit of patriotism, as NBC's special show, "The Red, White and Blue," pointed out.

Brennan, the show's narrator, mentioned that nearly half of the towns in the U. S. don't ever bother to celebrate the 4th of July any more. But the patriotism of some of our people makes up for the neglect of the rest. The show included film segments of an old-fashioned Independence Day celebration in Falmouth, N.C., where the whole town of 300 (and nearly 30,000 neighbors) turn out every year to whoop it up for a whole week.

Also included on the program was some stirring music by the Marine Corps band, a tour of Arlington National Cemetery where thousands who gave their lives that we might live in liberty are buried, and a visit to a schoolroom, where the children recited the pledge of allegiance and told what their country meant to them. One youngster had this to say: "My country is an orchard of freedoms ready to be picked."

Aid That Aids

We noticed recently that the local Rotary Club contributed a sizable sum of money to the Opportunity Plan of West Texas State University. The plan, operated by "Buff" Morris, provides for student loans to those students that have the desire to further their academic education at West Texas State, and who, although they may be deserving in many ways, probably do not have the required grade averages for scholarships, or athletic abilities that would provide a scholarship in this field.

The system ties the student to a "plan" for the use of the money as well as the repayment of the loan. If the student is fortunate enough to find after-school employment, this money is handed over to Morris, credited to the student's account, and the youngster is doled out sufficient funds as needed.

Reports have it that the plan is one of the most successful in the nation. Not only does it give the student the opportunity to further his education, but it also gives practical experience in economics.

Some, of course, do not make the grade, but the successes far outnumber the failures, and the actual financial loss to the organization is just a "drop-in-the-bucket" to the thousands of dollars furnished each year for student loans.

When the student completes their education, they are required to repay the loans made by the Opportunity Plan. This money is in turn, used again for another student.

On the surface, it would appear that the plan might be too strict but under the able guidance of "Buff" Morris, it is operating well, and there are many more deserving applicants than can possibly be handled with the amount of money now coming in.

With an interested citizenry however, the "Buff" Morris plan, plus the many scholarships now being offered by private endowments, could go a long way towards alleviating any need for federal funds in this field.

Jobs And Images

In 1947 the University of Chicago took a nationwide poll to determine how the various professions rated, prestigiously, in the public eye. Recently the university took an identical survey to find out how much, if anything, these ratings have changed in the last 17 years.

As might be expected, there have been several notable shifts in the prestige department, both up and down. Governors and mayors, once high on the list, are now much lower. The same is true for members of the clergy.

One might suspect that part of the blame for the declining prestige of these professions could be laid at the door of the Supreme Court, which has downgraded religion and boosted the role of the federal government at the expense of state and local administrators. But if this is the case, the public seems unaware of it. For Supreme Court justices, who were first in prestige back in 1947, still top the list.

Bureaucracy and foreign policy blunders have taken their toll, causing Cabinet members and diplomats to slump in prestige, while members of Congress still rate high on the list. Generally, the image of members of the scientific professions has soared, with nuclear physicists now near the top. Chemists, lawyers, dentists, architects, psychologists and airline pilots have all climbed up the image ladder. Bankers have declined sharply in prestige, though doctors are second only to Supreme Court justices, the same position they held on the 1947 poll.

Much to our chagrin we searched in vain for a high editorial-writer rating. But no one can claim that editorial writers have lost any prestige, at least, since we weren't listed near the top of the 1947 poll either. We were also consoled by the fact that the University of Chicago poll-takers are likewise unable to find members of their profession listed among the prestigious. And after the embarrassing defeats suffered by their colleagues in the New Hampshire, Oregon and California presidential primaries, we suspect the pollsters have given up all hope of ascending the image ladder for a while.

'Ward - Healer'

Politicians, big or little, tend to attract strange bedfellows as they travel the road to public office. Many, we're sure, would be most happy to disclaim some of their most ardent followers if it were possible, but as is the case with most politicians, they cannot pick and choose their supporters.

Sensing the opportunity for political recognition, financial gain, or just the hope of being in the favored circle once the candidate attains his exalted position, probably motivates many of the would-be "powers behind the power."

Some, of course, are sincerely interested in electing the individual that they feel will do the best job for the community or nation.

But whatever the motivation, there is in every group, a small minority that seems to be incensed with the determination to force a political philosophy upon the voters by whatever means is at their disposal. They try to mold the political climate of a community, not by persuasion, but by coercion, through the threat of economic reprisal. This individual hints, and sometimes even threatens openly, to "take my business elsewhere" if the voter does not conform to a particular line of thinking; usually his own rather than the candidate's.

This "ward-healer" cannot be tied to any particular political philosophy, or to either of the parties. He may be Democrat or Republican, conservative or liberal, but regardless of party affiliation, he is determined to force his views on the voters, denying them their inherent right to think and vote as they see fit.

The individual who can be intimidated by the "ward-healer" is just heading for more trouble, for by displaying his lack of intestinal fortitude, he is leaving himself wide open for more of the same. The more progress made by this petty politician, the bolder he becomes, throwing his weight in whichever direction he thinks will help him the most.

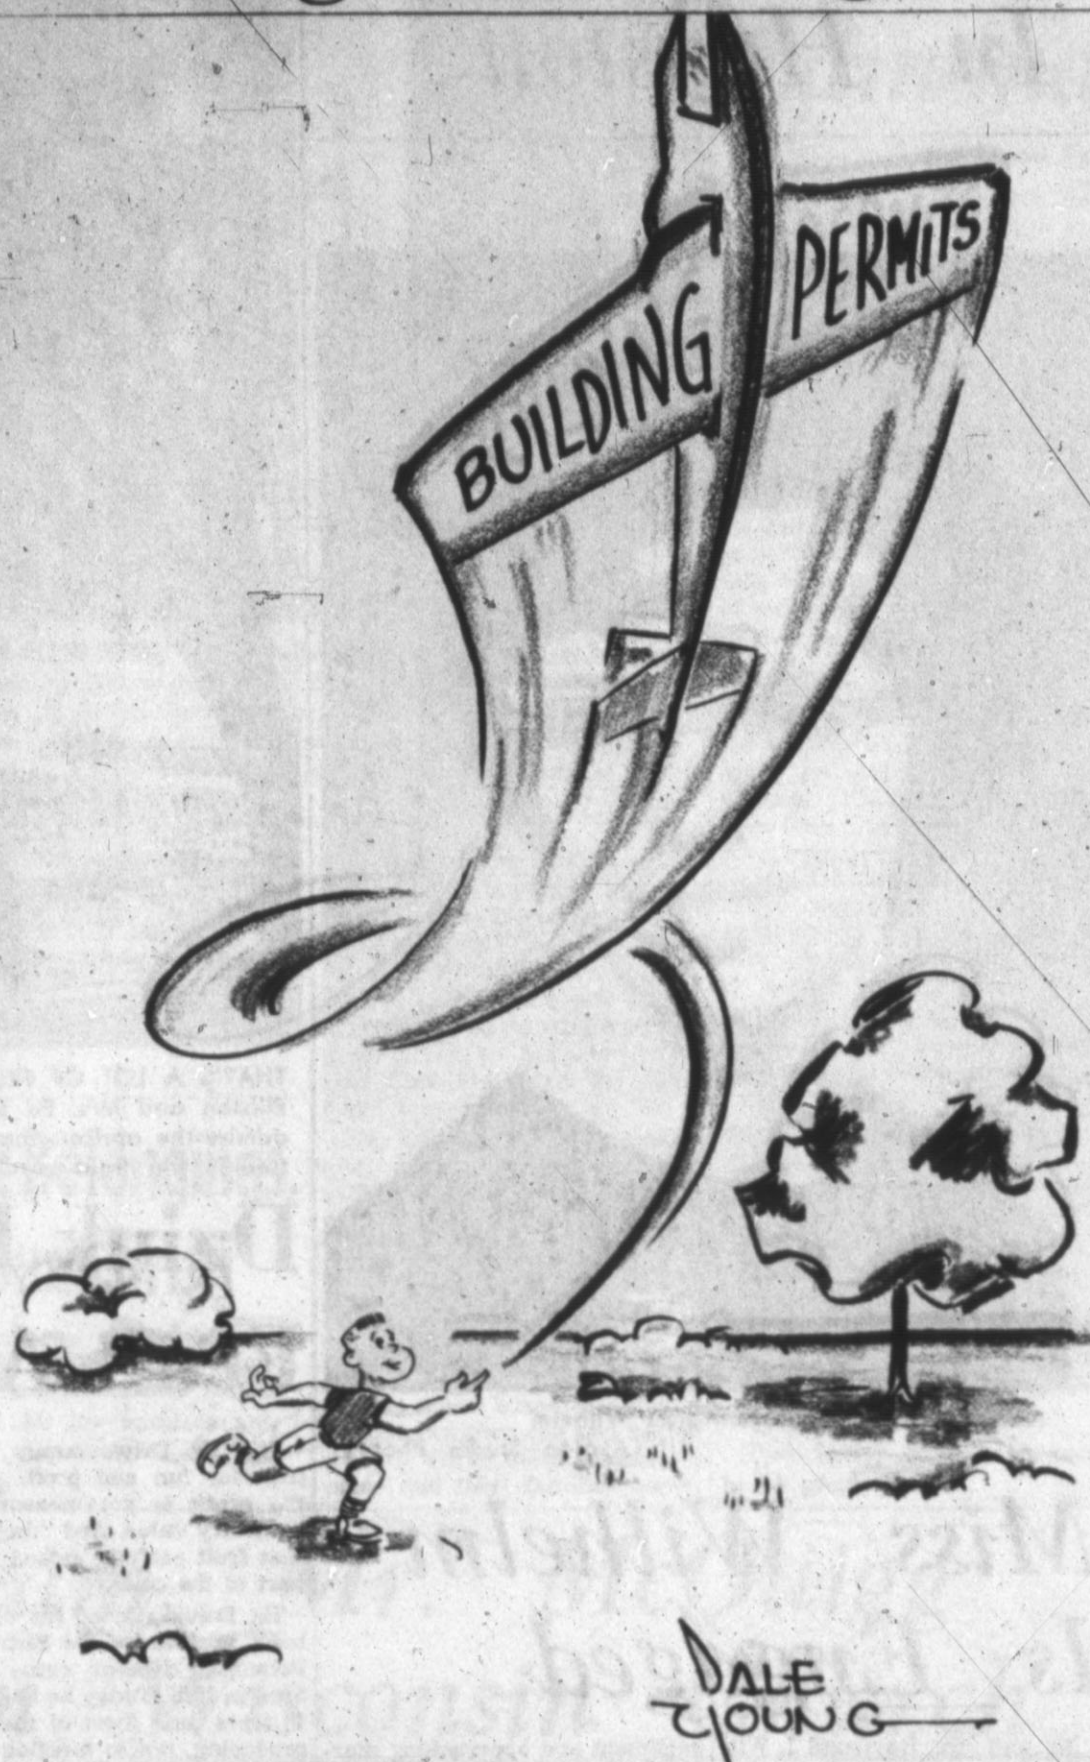

In the final analysis, most candidates would be better off without his dubious influence, and sometimes we wonder if a candidate for public office wins "in spite" of his supporters, rather than "because" of them.

Nugget

Archaic Building Codes are partly to blame for rising home prices, say builders. Restrictions against the use of newer, less expensive materials are adding hundreds of dollars to construction costs, they contend. A large New Jersey builder complains that outdated codes add about $1,000 to the cost of a house in the $14,000 to $26,000 price range. Extra-thick plumbing pipe and too-closely-spaced wall joists are among requirements helping to push up costs, he says.

Baffling Land of Underworld Has Its Own Weird Language

By BOB GASSAWAY

SAN ANTONIO, (P) — Inhabitants of the underworld communicate in their own language which has a mystifying flavor to outsiders, called "squares," who try to make an honest living.

Yet some of the underworld words eventually slip into the stream of daily conversation. Such words as "cop" and "fuzz" mean policeman to the average American. In the underworld, where they were spawned, these words generally have been replaced by "heat" and "The Man."

A police informer has long been known as a stool pigeon. Now he is a snitch, one of the most hated elements of the underworld.

Characters of the criminal world normally have little respect for women, whom they call "hides." A "broad" is a "hide" sought for purely pleasures, but if a little bit of romance enters the picture or "scene," the "broad" becomes a "chick."

When an agreement or "deal" is completed, "it goes down."

Police officers frequently borrow from the underworld vernacular.

For instance, undercover narcotics agents often buy drugs from a peddler as a prelude to filing charges against him, and have regular officers arrest the man later. When an agent does this, he "buys and walks off." If the agent's car is recognized by his quarry, it is "heated up."

When police arrest a man, or "thing" as they call him, the criminal could say "the threat fell on me." The "thing" probably would say he "copped a fall," after he is sentenced to jail or "the joint" as prison is sometimes known.

Police officers will explain they "ran some paper" if they used a search warrant. Because of their popularity with criminals, drugs ("stuff") have a variety of slang labels. Marijuana, for example, is described variously as "weed," "grass," or "mary jane." A single marijuana cigarette can be a "joint" or "stick."

To smoke marijuana, you "blast" or "blow" it.

Heroin is "white stuff," "horse," or simply "H." A dose of heroin might be a "fix," "jolt," or a "paper."

When a dope runner or peddler is arrested for possession of drugs, he is "heated" while he is "holding." Should an underworld character be killed, he is "wiped."

Panhandle Paragraphs

The racial discrimination thing can be seen everywhere (at the New York World's Fair.) We noticed that at the fair there are Negro employees in what appears to be a standard ratio of about 2 to 10. Last night we went to Radio Center Music Hall and the stage show had a Negro ballerina mixed in with the others, the chorus had a Negro man and Negro woman singer, the pit orchestra had some Negro musicians in it. Of course there is no segregation of any kind in the public facilities of New York and you see a lot of well dressed Negroes in the area. Generally speaking, where we have been, there has been no attention paid to Negroes as such. But we haven't been in the seamy part of town.

—Harold Hudson in Ochiltree County Herald (Perryton)

The 1964 Castro County wheat harvest is practically complete, according to latest reports. Wheat averaged on irrigated fields 40-45 bushels per acre with a test weight of around 62 pounds. There is approximately 80,000 acres of irrigated wheat in the county. A large percentage of the 20,000 acres of dryland wheat was abandoned. However, there were individual fields of summer-fertilized land that cut as high as 12 bushels per acre. The estimate of total bushels harvested in the county is near 3.2 million.

About the only thing that comes to him who waits these days is a beard. . . . Down at Houston, they've got a little project underway that is a perfect example of what to do with an old almost-depleted oil field; you build a city of 180,000 people on it.

Don H. Culton, prominent attorney of Amarillo and Chicago and a former Tullian, will be the speaker at the Old Timers' Luncheon to be held July 17 at the Tule Lake Recreation all. All persons who came to Swisher county 40 years ago or before are invited to the luncheon. . . . A booster trip committee, headed by Harley Redin, has made four trips this week publicizing the annual birthday celebration of Swisher county. . . . A highlight of the celebration will be a performance by the famed Blue Angels of the U. S. Navy, stationed at Pensacola, Fla.

—The Tullia Herald

This harvest season is upon us with old Sol bearing bearing down with all its might, and the surprising thing about this year is that the scant amount of rainfall that came, what wheat that is being harvested seems to be of outstanding quality and quantity. We were in a field of wheat where five combines were operating and the straw so heavy that after the heads have been removed from the straw there was so much straw left lying in the field it was almost like a barricade.

—Tips and Quips in North Plains Press (Dumas)

It is probable that fewer voters would cross party lines if the parties could create a little more distinction between vote-buying and statesmanship.

—Trail Dust in Matador Tribune

The newspaper is receiving many more complaints about the flies and mosquitoes this year, especially the latter since they are causing diseases down south. We received a letter this week with a note giving us authority to print it. We won't use it all but here is one statement: "What about getting this town sprayed? These flies and mosquitoes are so bad you can't get outside and look what they are doing downstate. I would rather spray than have my children come down with some filthy thing caused by these filthy flies. Let's spray this place like other people do in other towns."

THE BOOTLEG

—Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his bindweed farm claims to have some inside information this week.

Dear editor:

I never was much for trying to be first with the news, I figure yesterday's newspaper is as full of news as today's if you haven't seen it yet, or last week's too for that matter, but since editors seem to go for such things, I am pleased to enable The Brand to break the news world-wide that Premier Khrushchev of Russia is going to resign.

I don't know why all the wire services and radio and television commentators missed this, too busy reporting bathing suits I guess, but it's a fact, Mr. Khrushchev is going to resign.

Speaking in Denmark last week, he said: "If Russia's farm problems aren't solved in the next seven or eight years, I will resign."

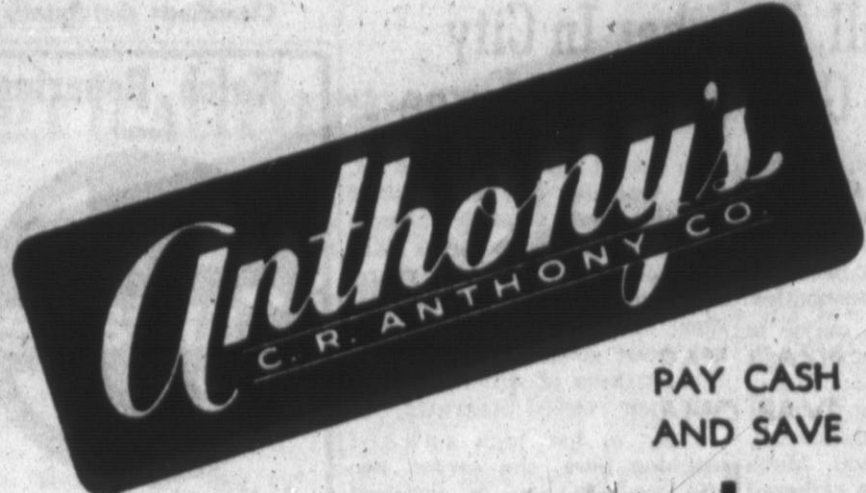

This makes it definite. No country's farm problem was ever solved in seven or eight years, and as far as I can tell, not in seven or eight centuries either. I've never seen a farm problem that couldn't outlast any man or any country.

No farm problem is ever really solved permanently. Most of the time you just plow around it or move to town and take up barbering or open a law office.

However, I will say this for Mr. Khrushchev. You notice he didn't solve the farm problem in seven or eight years. He waited till he was 70 years old, and in eight more years he'll be 78 and it'll be time to resign anyway. The trouble with the farm problem is that its main ingredients, land and weather, aren't members of any organized system of government.

If Mr. Khrushchev plans to resign in despair, let him. I intend to stay right here with this bindweed farm and its unsolved problems. I've found that if a man puts his mind to it, he can be just as much a problem to his farm as it is to him.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Miss Miller, Mr. Jones Marry In Church Ceremony

The marriage of Miss Anita Miller and Harley Lee Jones was solemnized in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dale C. Hallows Saturday evening, June 20. President Hallows of Hereford Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints performed the double ring ceremony in the presence of members of the families of bride and groom and close friends of the couple.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Weldon Miller, 317 Brevard St.; and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Jones, 114 Avenue B.

The bride wore a street-length dress of white lace designed with flared skirt topped by a lace jacket with three-quarter length sleeves, cowl neckline, and buttoned back. Her shoulder-length veil of white illusion and lace fell from a bandeau of white flowers. She carried a bouquet of white baby mums.

Her honor attendant was Miss Jeanette Jones, sister of the groom. She wore a street-length dress of yellow dacron accented with corsage of white carnations.

Wayne Miller, brother of the bride, served as best man.

After the wedding an informal reception was held in the Hallows home. Mrs. Dale Hallows served the white bridal cake embossed with pink roses from the table laid with white lace cloth over pale pink.

After a short wedding trip, the couple are at home at 210 West Eighth St.

Telegraphy's Family Affair For Maguires

GALVESTON, 48 — The family of C. H. Maguire, 66, has been pretty much a mainstay of the telegraph business here.

He recently completed 50 years of service with Western Union in Galveston. When A. J. Roach, manager, presented him with his "50-year watch service award," Maguire added up the years that spelled a family tradition — 190 of them.

"Why, my father, George Maguire, worked 50 years for the WU right here in Galveston," he said, "and my brother, Clarence, worked 12 years, but he's working for American Oil Co. now. Then, our brother, Bob, put in 43 years and our sister, Helen, 35 years."

Maguire noted that his 50 years — 1914-1964 — covered a multitude of major storms, two World Wars and the Texas City disaster. "Those were just a few of my unusual experiences," he said.

"From dots-and-dashes, telegraph has changed to written communications or teletypes," Maguire said. "During the intervening years there were changes of various types of automatic system telegraphs to the present amazing electronic systems of wired wireless frequencies — with all the present day refinements of FM (frequency modulated) systems offering a multitude of telegraph channels over a few wires, somewhat similar to the various radio broadcasting and television channels and is now known as a telecommunications system."

"My work has covered every phase of the telegraph field," Maguire recalled. "It included counter and telephone acceptance of telegrams, wire operations, technical adjustments and repairs, plus dispatching of messenger boys, and now I'm night operations supervisor."

The wedding was an event of Friday evening in a Dallas Church of Christ, Johnny Cloud, Hereford, served as groomsmen in the wedding.

Maguire's plans for the future? "I continue working as long as I can. While a pension is available, company policy permits my working until I am 70, which is still a few years hence."

Agriculture Is Still Top Money-Maker For Hereford

"Industrial development is the major effort of most all Chambers of Commerce, including mine" mused Pete "yet it is doubtful that industrial payrolls will, for a long time to come, put as much money into circulation in Hereford as does agriculture."

Agriculture and livestock have been and probably will be the main stay of the economy of this area. This is not to say that I want my Chamber to stop seeking new industries but it is only to keep things in focus in our effort," Pete said with no little conviction.

"Let's look at some figures, figures that are now a bit old but are the most reliable available — those of the 1959 census of agriculture. In that census year there were 187 farms in the county that had sales of $40,000 or more, 207 that had sales from $20,000 to $39,999 and 139 that had sales from 10,000 to $19,999. Do you know that while we do not think of this as a dairy or poultry area the value of milk and cream sold in that year was 134,918 and turkeys, ducks, geese, and other miscellaneous poultry and their eggs brought $10,575.

"Crops listed in 1959 were corn — 18,617 bushels, sorghums 8,294,129 bushels, wheat — 3,189,556 bushels, oats — 22,200 bushels, barley — 665,590 bushels, rye — 13,577 bushels, soybeans — 20,000 bushels, peanuts — 202,900 pounds, alfalfa — 15,500 tons, alfalfa seed — 900 pounds, Irish potatoes — 1,835,966 bushels, sweet potatoes — 845 bushels, cotton — 8759 bales, vegetables other than potatoes — $1,764,190 and sugar beets — 21,000 tons.

"Deaf Smith County also has an increase on grain sorghum returns through approximately 1,500,000 pounds used in feeding out around 60,000 feed lot cattle. 250 to 500 pounds are usually put on in these feed lots with the average probably running 300 pounds. Also not shown in census figures on the value of crops is the value of forage (silage, green chop, etc.) as well as the wheat pasture. About 30,000 head of cattle are grazing on wheat each year. The value of this grazing and forage crops is calculated at $1 million making a total value of agriculture in most years run about $28 million.

"Manufacturing payrolls help to smooth out the peaks and valleys caused by the seasonal nature of agriculture and, as such, are a valuable part of the economic picture. As of today, though, there are only three industries in Hereford which are not even remotely connected with agriculture and those are the Hereford Tile and Brick plant, Dolly textiles and Southwest Offset. All of the rest of our manufacturing and processing industries service agriculture in some way or another. Pöarch brothers with the manufacture of elevator legs and other metal fabrications mostly for agriculture, Kenny Gear, Big T. Pump, Clowe and Cowan, Jacobsen Bros., Loerwald Brothers, all of the elevators, cotton gins and vegetable sheds as well as the new Holly sugar plant and the Caviness meat packing plant are agriculture related industries. Without agriculture and livestock they would not be located here. Our total non-agricultural payroll probably is less than $1 million per year.

"We must not lose sight of the $28 million in our quest for payrolls to supplement the $1 million," Pete concluded with resolution. Well, who could argue with that — and who could you argue with that wasn't making his living directly or indirectly from agriculture! ?

Panhandle Counties Become Wildlife Proving Grounds

How the block of 28 Panhandle counties became the wildlife proving ground for a program now embracing all of the state is described in the July issue of TEXAS GAME AND FISH magazine.

The sprawling area itself naturally benefited from the pioneering projects, based on modern management techniques, and, as the article states, bodes good for the future under the new Parks and Wildlife Department.

Highlights of the broad Panhandle restoration program include:

Development of antelope herds permitting an annual fall open season, with 438 bucks and does taken last year.

Successful introduction of aouda sheep in the Palo Duro Canyon area several years ago, with the first harvest authorized last fall.

Cooperation of the Parks and Wildlife Department with other agencies in creating and expanding habitat for scaled quail on a 77,000-acre tract.

Establishment of the Panhandle Game Management Survey to gather information used in determining game seasons, bag limits, means and methods of harvesting and studying abortive diseases in deer and antelope.

Development of the Gene Howe Wildlife Management Area of 6,000 acres near Canadian for research concerning large and small game; for example, to appraise the effect of livestock grazing on quail production.

Recent purchase of the 28,000-acre Matador Wildlife Management Area near Paducah for use as a wildlife research and demonstration area.

Gradual improvement of Buffalo Lake near Canyon as a major fishing project.

Renovation of Rita Blanca Lake near Dalhart, with emphasis on using flathead catfish to control undesirable species.

Reducing an over-supply of crapple in Lake McClellan near McLean in a successful effort to avoid a stunting trend.

Making pre-impoundment studies preliminary to stocking new Sanford Reservoir.

Pursuing restocking techniques at Buffalo Springs Lake near Lubbock.

Maintaining Panhandle fishery headquarters facilities at Slaton with a fishery laboratory at Canyon.

Another major factor in the area's outdoor recreation life is Palo Duro Canyon State Park near Canyon. This is one of Texas' largest and most popular state parks.

Acreage Raised In High Plains' Soybean Crop

By James E. Kirby
Economist-Marketing and Policy
Texas Agricultural Extension Service

World soybean production is expected to set a new record in 1964 if United States planting intentions materialize and weather is favorable.

Since the U. S. produces 94 percent of all soybeans in world trade, the intentions of the U.S. producer set the pace for the world market.

Communist China produced more than the U. S. in the 1950-54 period. However, U. S. soybean production in the 1955-59 period was not only greater than that of China but was 73 percent of the world market. It progressed steadily to a high of 94 percent in 1963.

Soybean stocks in the U. S. on April 1, 1964, set a record high of 376 million bushels, 10 percent above last year.

Soybean production in Texas for 1963 was estimated at 2,604,000 bushels which is a sharp increase from the 1,680,000 bushels produced in 1962. The harvested acreage last year was 40 percent greater than the 60,000 acres harvested a year earlier.

A large part of the 1963 increase can be attributed to acreage planted on the High Plains following the loss of cotton from late June hail and washing rains. About 90 percent of the soybean acreage in Texas is on the High Plains.

Significant expansion in soybean production in the world markets seems likely; however, no spectacular rise is foreseen in the immediate future. The average price of U. S. soybeans, American No. 2 yellow, bulk, c. l.f., in European ports, was $3.17 in January, 1964. Prices have

Jaycee-Ettes Attend Meeting

Mrs. Wayne Fuller and Mrs. Bill Durtur were Jaycee-Ettes who accompanied their husbands to the recent Jaycee convention in Dallas.

They enjoyed general sessions as well as activities planned especially for the auxiliary — Mexican Fiesta Luncheon, Fun at Bronco Bowl, and participation in the giant parade.

They heard Gov. Wallace and Gov. Connally address the convention and were attracted to the Hawaiian bid for the 1966 convention. They noted that next year the Jaycees and their wives would convene at Buffalo, N.Y.; but more pressing business here in the next few weeks would claim their attention with the July work forum on calendar. Jaycee-Ettes will help provide entertainment for the club wives then.

since declined steadily, reflecting the larger U. S. supplies. The average for April of this year was $2.93.

Significant expansion in soybean production has occurred in Mexico, Colombia and Argentina in recent years.

Mexico's production has risen from a negligible quantity in 1958 to almost two million bushels in 1963. This increase was almost four times the 1962 amount and reportedly resulted from further use of new varieties. Colombia has had a similar increase from a scant volume in the early 1950's to over a million bushels last year. In about the same period, Argentina's production has grown to almost 700 thousand bushels. However, none of these countries export a significant amount in world trade.

Brazil is the only other country in the western hemisphere besides the U.S. that exports a notable amount of soybeans. Last year it shipped 1,229,000 bushels into the world trade which was a decrease from a high of 3,556,000 bushels in 1962.

Sidedressing For Cotton Suggested By Agronomist

By W. F. "Bill" Bennett
Agronomist

Cotton is off to a good start this season in most areas. This past week of warmer weather and higher soil temperatures has caused cotton to start growing faster. The question comes up as to whether to sidedress.

With cotton off to a good start and a good stand, yield potential on cotton looks good. This says that possibility of profit from fertilizer looks good.

Hereford Riders Take Top Honors In Junior Rodeo

Hereford riders made a good showing at the Annual Canadian "Little Britches" Rodeo Wednesday as three local girls took top honors in their divisions.

Lynn Poarch took first place in the flag race of the senior division at the Wednesday evening performance. Miss Poarch also took top honors in the Girls Spear-the-hoop contest.

Sabra Traweck took top honors in the girls pole bending and Candy Poarch, also of Hereford placed third in the event.

Candy Poarch also placed second in the Junior division of the Girls Spear-the-hoop.

Candy tied for high point honors in the Junior division of the entire rodeo.

More than 200 youngsters made up a record breaking entry list in the Little Britches Rodeo.

The competition lasted until 2 a.m. Thursday morning.

Winners of the Saddles offered for best all-around cowboys and cow girls, were Mickey Parsons and Billie Snyder, both of Canadian, in the younger division (ages 5-10) and Dorma Kotara and Philip Savage, both of Pampa, in the older division (ages 11-16).

Debra Stringer, Hereford, placed third in the Junior division of the Girls Pole Bending contest and she also placed third in Girls Pony Express.

An extra peppermill in the house? You may want to use it for grinding rosemary.

First let's look at nitrogen. If cotton follows grain sorghum, nitrogen is definitely needed. A good rate is 80 pounds ammonia per acre on heavier textured soils. If cotton follows cotton or wheat, 50 to 60 pounds ammonia should be sufficient on heavier textured soils. On light textured sandy loam soils, increase these rates by 20 pounds.

Phosphorus can still be applied. The most convenient way to apply it now is a liquid with a dual applicator. Sidedressed phosphorus may not be as beneficial as preplant but there is still time for response.

It should be applied soon, however. A suggested rate of phosphorus for cotton is 150 to 200 pounds 7-21-0 or 8-18-0-3 per acre on clay loam soils and 200 to 250 pounds 7-21-0 or 8-18-0-3 per acre on sandy loam soils.

When sidedressing cotton, be careful not to prune roots. Root growth on cotton is good so far this year. It would be desirable to apply fertilizer, particularly phosphorus, just ahead of new root growth. Applying it on 20-inch centers is still satisfactory for most cotton but it may be necessary or more convenient to place it in the middles.

World War I Veterans Set Texas Confab

Deaf Smith county veterans of World War I have been invited by Miles Wasson to attend a reunion in the Rice Hotel, Houston, July 16-19. Wasson is convention co-chairman.

Wasson said Saturday that "all World War I veterans of Texas and elsewhere, their families and friends, are cordially invited to the state convention and Ladies Auxiliary." He said all the 200 barracks (posts) of World War I veterans throughout Texas "have been urged to send large delegations."

He explained: "It is strongly emphasized, however, that attendance is not limited to members of World War I barracks and their auxiliaries, but the invitation is extended to all World War I veterans, members of other veterans' organizations and the general public. Chartered by Congress in 1958, veterans of World War I of USA, Inc., with a present 200,000 members nationally and 10,000 in Texas, (Membership limited to WWI veterans), is not in competition with any other veterans' organization but is fully co-operative in veterans' affairs. Non-members will be registered as visitors at the convention and may attend business sessions, participate in social activities, conducted tours, etc. eligible veterans may also apply for membership at the convention."

Solomos Hosts To Church Group

Commission on Missions of the First Methodist Church met Wednesday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gayland Solomon. Chairman of the commission, Solomon led an informal discussion of home missions. Highlighting the program were the personal experiences of Miss Bess Brown, who has spent much of her life in work with the Indians.

Ezekiel Vargas told of his work at Casa de Amigos in Hereford.

Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served to Mr. and Mrs. John Jacobsen, Mr. and Mrs. Art Stoy, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Anwyll, Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Stark, Mrs. Raymond Higginbotham, Miss Bess Brown, Ezekiel Vargas, Mr. and Mrs. Solomon.

Using bacon fat for pan-frying chicken adds old-fashioned flavor, and this method is also economical. To obtain the fat, cook the bacon over extremely low heat; pour the fat into a container, cover tightly and refrigerate until needed. The low heat suggested guarantees that the bacon fat will be mild flavored and white in color.

SHOULDN'T HAVE CHECKED

LARCHMONT, N.Y. (AP) — A patrol from the Humane Society was going through the streets, clipping red tags on collars of all dogs they caught. A red tag meant the dog's owner had to pay a $5 fine.

Little Jim Cunningham raced into his house, to make sure that his dog was inside, and while the door was open his dog ran out. The parrot didn't bother clipping the red tag on the dog — just handed it directly to Jim.

'Chain Store' Baseball, Born In 1922, Has Gone Long Way

By Harold V. Ratliff
Associated Press Sports Writer

Forty-two years ago last Friday, (July 3, 1922), in a smoke-filled room at the Goldman Hotel in Fort Smith, Ark., chain store baseball was born.

It was known as "the farm system" by its creators but it was tagged "chain store" by the press because it became a chain of minor league clubs controlled by the majors.

The St. Louis Cardinals, under Branch Rickey, started it. The Cardinals would move into a town, pay a few thousand to a financially distressed club and get three players in return.

The system spread from Class D to the other classifications of baseball. Houston of the Class A Texas League was one of the first clubs for the Cardinals to gain control. Eventually they owned it.

The other big league clubs got into the swim. Soon the minors were dominated by the majors.

Harry Wandering, who was in baseball for many years, recalls that meeting in Fort Smith when the first club in the Cardinal chain was obtained.

Rickey, vice-president of the Cardinals; Charles Barrett, his chief scout, who Wandering thinks had the original idea; Blake Harper, part owner of the Fort Smith Club in the Class D Western Association; Wandering, owner of McAlester, Okla., who had his club in town for a July 4 double-header; and a newspaperman nobody seems to recall, were at the meeting.

Wandering did not take part in creating chain store baseball; he was present only because he had been invited to sit in. But he formed some definite ideas on what the farm system might do to the minors.

Many baseball men, and that includes Fred Ankenman, who was business manager of Houston at the time Rickey bought into it, say that the farm system was what saved the minor leagues. They argue that many clubs in those days were finding independent operation a burden and that they had to have help or close up.

But Wandering has other ideas. He owned four clubs in his day and he organized the Class D leagues in the late twenties and thirties. He lost money on all except one of his clubs but he says minor league baseball didn't actually need the help of the majors — it just took the easy route.

"A baseball club owner always could get financial help without selling out," he says. "Take me, I used to get help from fellows like Charley Comiskey, owner of the White Sox, without strings attached."

Wandering says minor league baseball is in the shape it is today because of the farm system. "It took away home ownership and killed the local interest," he explains. "Had we never had the farm system, minor league baseball today would be twice as big."

Now minor league ball has to depend almost wholly on the majors. The Texas League, for instance, is subsidized by the majors.

Back when minor league baseball was doing well under the farm system — and it did very well for 25 years under it — there was one thing that always was causing controversy and hurting the local interest. The big league club often would reach down and take a star play-

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor: I see where some of our down-town merchants found it necessary to open July 4. Since when did the all-mighty dollar become more important than the "Independence of our country."

12th Birthday Party Is Held

Deborah Jane Hodges celebrated her 12th birthday with a swim party at the Country Club Wednesday afternoon.

Her mother, Mrs. A. E. Hodges, hostess, and Mrs. Julian Johnson assisted the honoree in showing the gifts to the girls seated at a large round table.

They served the girls hamburgers, cakes, and birthday cake — white and pink with blue icing and topped with miniature figurines.

Birthday guests were Deborah Wilson, Deborah Boardman, Deborah Todd, Pat Cooper, Camille Langley, Jamie Edmondson, Peggy Summers, Barbara Hookert, Judith Morrison, Julie Davis, Shawn Sigman, and Kay Ann Euler.

Also Kay Lynn Ward, Melissa Johnson, Patty Johnson, Kiska Ann Hodges, Suzie Sanders, Mrs. Johnson, and Mrs. Hodges.

A great many cookies that contain shortening bake well on slightly greased or ungreased pans.

er in the midst of a hot pennant race.

This has been the basis of great complaint over the years and there have been instances where the minor league club claimed it had lost the championship as a result.

This situation still prevails. Dallas of the Pacific Coast League is a fair example. It is controlled by the Kansas City Athletics. Kansas City has been taking its players in a steady stream and it may never get a club together that might win it.

Presumably the farm system will have to continue at least until all the minors are gone. No one would attempt local ownership and operate independently. In the first place, they couldn't get the players. That would come only if the majors pulled completely away from the minors.

Even then, it would be difficult to find anybody willing to risk his money in trying to rebuild the minors.

PRIVILEGE CHANGED TO RESPONSIBILITY

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — Privilege has been changed to responsibility at Yale's Commencement.

President Kingman Brewster

Jr. made a slight but significant change in the traditional degree-awarding ceremony indicating how Yale's new president feels about the importance of education.

In the past, when the president of Yale conferred regular and honorary degrees at Commencement, he ended up his statement by saying that the degree holder is entitled to all "the rights and privileges" of a Yale degree.

Not any more. The recipient is now entitled to all "the rights and responsibilities."

President Brewster, elected as 17th president of Yale last October, presided at his first Yale Commencement as president on Monday, June 15.

"I think it might be a good idea, Dear, if we go....."

"I'm tired when I get home. Besides, where do you want to go this time?"

"To a 'til old revival meetin', my Dear."

"A what?"

"You heard me right the first time."

"What for heaven's sake do you want to go to a Revival for?"

"That's just it, Darling: For heaven's sake..... and for our own sake."

"An-n-d where is this going to take of Christ, place?"

"At the Central church. 'O! Those folks, why, I've heard....."

"That's just it. We've heard! Don't you think it is about time we found out for ourselves instead of judging our friends by what we hear?"

"Darling, these Christians are our neighbors. They've been in this community almost since it's beginning. Since they have been so nice to invite us....."

"Okay. But I don't like this beggins for money every time you go to church."

"Evidently they don't like it either. Because they only pass the hat on Sunday."

He: "When is this meetin' going to take place?"
She: "The ads say Monday, July 5 thru Sunday July 12. See here. $4.00 each evening. We could be home by 9:30 and get the baby to bed."

"But I don't want people crying on my shoulder trying to convert me."

"These people don't do that. They simply teach what they believe the Bible says. Of course they invite you to accept. But if you don't want to, that is your business."

"What you say, Honey, may be woman's logic, but it's pretty convincing to me. You know, if we go, we just might learn something."

"Yes, and besides it will do us all good."

"We want to learn everything else; why not learn about our neighbor's faith? Sure, it will do us good."

"Put us down, let's go every night. Now, where did you say this place is?"

"Let's turn this page and see exactly where it is."

Each boy who completes the conference successfully will receive a farm electrification medal from the Southwestern Public Service Company.

The courses of instruction to be offered are farm wiring, electric controls, farm motors, electric heat, and lighting.

The course instructors include W. E. McCune, professor of agricultural engineering at Texas A&M University, who will teach controls; Bob Jaska, Texas Education Agency, College Station, who will be instructor for the farm wiring section; Kenneth Owen, Lubbock, and Joe Luscombe, Amarillo, will be the lighting instructors; Jamie Gage, Guymon, and Tom Field, Plainview, will teach the heating course and Royce Kelly, Lubbock and W. T. Seltz, Borger, will instruct the motor section. Owen, Luscombe, Kelly, Jennings, Field, and Gage are all associated with Southwestern Public Service Company.

The program for the FFA Electric Workshop, which was the first to be held in the nation at its inaugural session last year, was coordinated by Walter Labay of Plainview, area supervisor for vocational agriculture, and Sam Thomas, agricultural development manager for the Southwestern Public Service Company.

BLONDIE

I WISH I HAD THE WILL POWER TO RESIST DOING THIS, BUT I HAVEN'T

HERBERT, SHAME ON YOU!

THAT DOES IT!

ALL RIGHT, WISE GUY... NOW LET'S SEE YOU SQUIRT ME AGAIN

SHAME ON YOU—I WANT YOU TO BUY HIM A NEW HOSE AND APOLOGIZE THIS INSTANT

I GUESS I WAS A BIT HASTY

I'M SORRY, HERB... PLEASE ACCEPT THIS NICE, NEW HOSE FOR THE ONE I CHOPPED UP

THANK YOU, AND I ACCEPT YOUR APOLOGY, DAGWOOD

YOU WERE RIGHT, BLONDIE—I SHOULDN'T HAVE LOST MY TEMPER—I FEEL MUCH BETTER ABOUT IT NOW

I'M SO PROUD OF THEM... THEY ACTED SO GROWN-UP ABOUT IT

WEREN'T THEY SWEET?

WELL, LOOK WHO'S BACK

HERBERT

HERE WE GO AGAIN!

DO YOU HAVE THESE IN A LARGER SIZE FOR HUSBANDS?

MANDRAKE THE MAGICIAN

BY LEE FALK & PHIL DAVIS

A SMALL TRANSMITTER IN HIS SPACE SUIT--SENDING OUT A BEAM--WE CAN TRACE HIM--THERE IT IS!

NARDA--MANDRAKE'S LANDING!

AS MANDRAKE GETS NEAR THE EARTH--HE'S BRACKETED DOWN BY SQUADRONS OF PLANES

REPRESENTATIVES OF ALL THE GREAT POWERS RUSH TO GREET HIM

MANDRAKE, YOUR AMAZING ACTION SAVED THE EARTH. WE WANT ALL THE PEOPLE OF THE WORLD TO KNOW OF YOUR BRAVERY AND--

SIR, IT IS BETTER TO KEEP THIS SECRET--

IT'D BE HARD FOR THE WORLD TO BELIEVE THE TRUTH ABOUT THE RUN-AWAY METEORITE AND THE GIANT FROM OUTER SPACE--

IF THEY DID BELIEVE--IT MIGHT CAUSE PANIC--

SPEAKING OF THE GIANT--I MUST GET TO A QUIET PLACE. OUR FRIEND GORK--WHO REALLY SAVED THE WORLD--IS WAITING FOR US TO HELP HIM--

NEAR THE MOON--GORK, THE COLOSSUS FROM OUTER SPACE--

WILL--THE TINY ONE--REMEMBER--TO HELP ME--OR AM I DOOMED TO DIE HERE?

MANDRAKE, HOW CAN YOU HELP HIM?

I MUST DO SOMETHING FAST--OR HELL DIE. STOP BY THAT CAVE--
