1500 PEOPLE HEARD ANTI SPEAKERS

FREDERICK OPP OF LLANO AND
H. N. A. M. KENNEDY SPEAK AGAINST AMENDMENT.

TWO LINES OF ARGUMENT

Opp Declared in Favor of Personal Liberty—Kennedy Urged Local Option.

Fifteen hundred people heard Frederick Opp of Llano, and Hon. A. M.
Kennedy, of Waco, speak against statewide prohibition on the court house lawn Wednesday night.

The crowd gathered early and nearly all remained until the last speaker had closed and gave both men a respectful and earnest hearing.

Both speeches were free from bitterness and were able presentations of that side of the issue.

Mr. Opp, who was the first speaker took the ground that the present regulatory laws were much to be preferred to statewide prohibition. He denounced the theory that men could be kept good by laws and declared that a youth who has been properly raised can and will regulate himself.

On the other hand A. M. Kennedy, who followed, declared that he was a local optionist who had seen for himself the failure of statewide prohibition in Tennessee and predicted similar failure for such law in Texas. He said that he had voted for local option more times than any other man of his age in Texas. He declared that local option was the remedy for the people of Wichita county. "If you prohibitionists had spent your time and money and applied the energy you have wasted in this campaign, you could have carried the county in a local option campaign," he said. It is needless to state that this declaration failed to bring forth vociferous applause.

Presiding the meeting the band played up town and marched to the court house yard with a great crowd following which quickly filled the squares and overflowed on the lawn.

Judge Edgar Scully introduced the speakers. In presenting Mr. Opp he said that the main issue in the campaign was whether a man would still be permitted to choose what he should eat or drink.

Mr. Opp early in his speech spoke of his consulship at Breslau, Germany under President Cleveland, and of the opportunities he had of observing the use of liquor there. He described the regulations there as almost ideal and said that a drunk man was seldom seen. He said he had seen fifteen hundred people in a garden drinking and they pleased in an orderly and quiet manner. He said that the revenues imposed by the government here had caused an adulteration of the liquors and that if the sale of liquor was outlawed under statewide prohibition its sale would not be diminished but it would be adulterated still more until it became a reeking poison.

"Short-haired Kansas women," he said, were responsible for the prohibition movement. These women, he said, had worked on the sentiment the preachers and good women of Texas until they forced submission in the state.

He said that prohibition had failed in Alabama and that families, friends and churches had been split asunder through the efforts to enforce an impossible law.

He pictured Southwest Texas as being more delightful than Los Angeles or any other climate in America. He said that after years of effort the busi-

This Might Be Tried In Texas

Seattle, Wash., July 20.—Former Chief of police Wapenstien, convicted for accepting a bribe for permitting the operation of immoral resorts, was sentenced yesterday to not less than three nor more than ten years in the state penitentiary.

CASE SIMILAR TO THAT OF MRS. NEAPOLITANO

By Associated Press.
Chicago, Ill., July 20.—A case similar in some respects to Mrs. Angelina Neapolitano of Sault Ste Marie, whose death sentence was commuted to life imprisonment last week developed here yesterday in the shooting of L.
Coppo, by his wife, Leta Lopiscope.
At the hospital to which he was taken it was said early today that he had small chances of recovery. In her cell at the police station, Mrs.
Lopiscope who soon will become a mother, said she has supported her husband since they came from Italy, two years ago and that he often had beaten her when her earnings were small.

SOME RAILROADS WILL GIVE FREE PASSES

By Associated Press.
Austin, Texas, July 20.—Practically all of the railroads have agreed to issue free transportation to farmers who are delegates to the State Farmers' Institute, which will be held at College Station next Monday.

The Thirty-second Legislature amended the anti-free pass law, so as to permit, among other things farmers who are accredited delegates to the Farmers' Institute to accept free passes. The railroads were under no obligation to give free transportation, but they can if they so desire.

The Department of Agriculture wrote to the general managers of all the railroads and have received replies from many of them, saying they would issue transportation. Among those which have acted favorably on the requests for transportation are T. J.
Freeman of the I. & G. N. and the Texas & Pacific, Santa Fe, Texas & Brazos Valley and the Southern Pacfic.

DIRECT TAX PROPOSED IN NEW YORK STATE

Liquor Taxes and Other Revenues Will Be Abandoned According To Program.

By Associated Press.
Albany, N. Y., July 20.—The State of New York is to return to a direct tax for the first time in a decade according to a tentative program agreed upon by Governor Dix and the legislative leaders. The tax to be levied will be six-tenths of a mill and it is estimated that it will result in an increased revenue of about $3,000,000.
Heretofore all the state expenditures have been defrayed by the liquor taxes and other revenues. It is believed that the increased revenue provided by the proposed tax will be sufficient to wipe out the deficit from the appropriations made by the last legislature and give the state a working surplus. The bill providing for the direct tax will be introduced at once and pushed to passage before the legislature adjourns.

SAYS COUNTRY-WIDE ARSON TRUST EXISTS

ILLINOIS FIRE MARSHAL MAKES SENSATIONAL CHARGE IN SPEECH IN CHICAGO.

TO COLLECT INSURANCE

Declares Headquarters for Gigantic Band of Conspirators is in Kansas City—Many Big Losses.

Chicago, Ill., July 20.—That there exists a gigantic country-wide arson trust, with headquarters in Kansas City, and representatives in nearly all of the larger cities, the members of which make a business of setting fire to buildings to enable the owners to collect insurance, was the sensational charge made yesterday by State Fire Marshal C. J. Doyle, in an address delivered before the Chicago Association of Commerce.

Worst in World's History.
"The country is facing one of the most gigantic organized arson conspiracies the world has ever known," said Mr. Doyle. "The State Fire Marshal's Department of Illinois has united with the State Fire Marshals of Kentucky, Tennessee and Ohio to wipe out the band of fifteen men at the head of this arson conspiracy."

"The head of the fire bug trust is in Kansas City, from which city the operations of the entire gang are directed."

"Members have been found at work in Bloomington, Springfield, Ill.; Pittsburg, Cleveland, New York, Buffalo, St. Louis, Chicago and other cities."

Effort to Imprison.
"Two of the gang have been imprisoned and they are now imprisoned in a Southern city. The others will be behind the bars before long if we are successful in following the clues we are working on. The fire bug problem is one of the most important which confronts the country. Even without the case of arson the fire losses of the country are appalling.
The fire loss in this country amounts to about $500 a minute. In Chicago the loss is $5,000,000 a year, while in Berlin the annual loss does not exceed $200,000. We need to adopt the fire protection plans of European cities."

Fortune is Reward For Kind Act

By Associated Press.
Washington, July 20.—Following in the wake of the army, the navy department has under consideration the question of vaccinating all recruits to the navy and marine corps against typhoid fever, the scourge of the military service. While a decision is yet in the distant future the subject is receiving deep study. As soon as the naval medical corps is convinced of the efficacy of the inoculation, it probably will be made compulsory for recruits at least.

MATHIS TO SPEAK AT BURKBURNETT FRIDAY

Hon. E. H. Mathis will speak at Burkburnett tomorrow night in the interest of statewide prohibition. Mr.
Mathis had been billed to speak at Burkburnett tonight but gave in as the anti had also billed Hon. A. M. Kennedy at that place tonight and at they refused a division of time Mr.
Mathis' address there was postponed until tomorrow (Friday) night.

Another Ship From Cholera Country.
New York, July 20.—Principe D. I.
Piedmont says another ship from the cholera country, is anchored in New York harbor today and will remain under inspection at least ten days. No new cases of cholera were reported today.

Gaby Desayle, the 22-year-old beauty, and ex-King Manuel of Portugal, for whose downfall and banishment she is a degree responsible. News from London says that Gaby has been signed to play at the New York Winter Garden a reputed salary of $4,000 a week and, coincident with her appearance there, New York probably will have its first sight of the detested king, who will doubtless embrace the opportunity to see America. The dancer is booked to sail for America on September 12th.

Banks to Close Saturday.

All four of the banks in Wichita Falls will remain closed all day Saturday, July 22nd, on account of the statewide prohibition election, and those who are interested should transact their business with these institutions on Friday, or tomorrow.

Governor Foss of Massachusetts, who is at war with the state legislature in a battle that is unprecedented in the government of the New England state. Governor Foss's seventy-eighth message to the legislature, scoring it for its "deplorable failure" to pass the income tax measure, was received in the House with groans and hisses—the first time anything of the kind had taken place in Massachusetts.
Leaders of the House arose and openly criticized the chief executive of the state. Speaker Walker urging an early prorogation of the General Court. No in years have a governor and legislature anywhere got so far apart. Governor Foss has denounced everything done by the legislature.

INVADING FLEET HAS CITY AT MERCY

"HOSTILE" SHIPS REPORTED TO HAVE PENETRATED NAVAL DEFENSES AT NEW YORK CITY.

DEFENDERS ARE HELPLESS

Theoretical Warfare Develops Great Strategy on Part of Invading Force.

By Associated Press.
Block Island, R. I., July 20.—In a thrilling night encounter the fleet of the "invading" force claims to have penetrated the lines of naval defense and to have New York City theoretically at its mercy today. The invaders approached the defending fleet here from the south and claim it was done with such technical skill that none of the defending vessels got through the battle line of the invaders.

Maneuver Forces Disabled.

By Associated Press.
Washington, D. C., July 20.—The reduction of the maneuver division as sembled at San Antonio, Texas, during the crisis of the Mexican revolution has been practically accomplished in accordance with the orders of President Taft. Gen. Carter today telegraphed the War Department that all the soldiers ordered detached from his command had left San Antonio for their home posts except a battalion of the Third Field Artillery of Fort Myers, Va., detained to complete its target practice. The fortunes of the country along the southern frontier are now in the hands of the 10th, 17th and 28th infantry, comprising a temporary brigade; the 11th cavalry which will be held at San Antonio for the present, the 3rd cavalry and the 32nd infantry, whose regular station is Fort Sam Houston, and the 4th cavalry patrolling the Texas borders.
With these troops and others in California, and Arizona in easy access the War Department believes it has ample forces at hand to meet any emergency that might arise in the Mexican situation.

To Vaccinate Army Recruits Against Fever

By Associated Press.
Atlanta, Ga., July 20.—A courteous act on the part of Wm. R. O'Neal of Bainbridge, Ga., has been rewarded by a fortune. When O'Neal exchanged a lower for an upper sleeping car berth with J. T. Young of Oakland, Cal., four years ago when the two men were enroute to Florida, where Mr. Young was going for his health, he thought little of the incident. Evidently Mr. Young considered it a great favor, for in his will he left $20,000 to the Georgia young man, who is 26 years old. O'Neal was in Atlanta yesterday and was informed of his good fortune by a son of Mr. Young, who had come to Georgia to look for him.

Man Files Breach of Promise Suit

By Associated Press.
San Antonio, July 20.—L. E. Haly, yesterday filed suit for five thousand dollars damages against Miss Edna Melta, alleging breach of promise to marry. He alleges he is deeply in love with Miss Boltz who he says is twenty-two years of age, of high attainments and social position and who had promised to marry him last February. He said he rented a house, purchased household goods, in preparation for the event.

RIGHT OF EMINENT DOMAIN TO COLLEGE

By Associated Press.
Hartford, Conn., July 20.—One of the most stirring pieces of legislation passed during the present session of the general assembly is a bill granting the right of eminent domain to the Connecticut college for women.

This institution is to be built at New London and will be the first purely private corporation to receive such a grant.

The reason advanced is that several tracts of land needed for the college are being held at exorbitant prices.
One land owner now asks $90,000 for 11 acres which he was willing to sell for $1,200 before the site for the college was selected.

CONFERENCE TO DISCUSS DEPLETED TREASURY

Lawrence, Mass., July 20.—A committee of forty representative financial, textile and business men of Lawrence, appointed to consider what could be done to relieve the depleted condition of the city treasury, has voted to petition Gov. Foss to appoint a committee of five citizens to act as a board of control and to administer the affairs of the city for the next year. The petition requests that the city be allowed to borrow $500,000 beyond the legal debt limit to tide over the present financial dilemma. There is at present about $50,000 in the treasury, not enough to meet next month's draft.

LIGHTNING BOLT STRUCK HOUSE ON LAMAR ST.

Source of Bullet a Mystery.

New York, July 20.—Whence a bullet came which pierced Frank Rosen through the left lung close to his heart as he walked along an East Side street at midnight and how he managed to run a full block to the next drug store with such a wound, puzzles the police and surgeons. Rosen, 24 years old, is an automobile expert and is said to have been alone when the mysterious bullet struck him. He retained consciousness only long enough to give his name to the police at the drug store and it was said at the hospital that he would probably die without regaining his senses.

THE NORTH COAST LIMITED HELD-UP

MASKED ROBBERS SHOOT WILD-LY IN ORDER TO INTIMIDATE PASSENGERS.

BERTH 13 UNMOLESTED

Robbery Was of Daring Type and Showed That Men Were Not Amateurs.

By Associated Press.
St. Paul, July 20.—The St. Paul North Coast limited on the Northern Pacific was held up by three masked men last night near Buffalo who got five hundred in cash from the passengers and a much larger amount in bank checks. The robbers escaped after shooting and wounding the engineer. One of the robbers was shot by Pullman conductor and wounded Dr.
Guest of Louisville lost one hundred dollars in bank checks. N. V. McMillan lost seven hundred dollars in bank checks.

The robbers left berth number thirteen entirely alone.

Grand Forks, N. B., July 20.—Train No. 20, eastbound, the North Coast limited, on the Northern Pacific railroad, was held up by three masked men near Buffalo, N. D., about 11:00 o'clock last night. The robbers secured about $500 in cash by going through the passengers and shot engineer S.
P. Olson of Fargo twice in order to make him stop the train and a successful escape in an automobile which they had awaiting them near the scene of the robbery. The performance as executed was one of the most daring ever perpetrated in this part of the country and showed that the men were not amateurs, as everything was cleverly planned and admirably executed.
When the train stopped at the high bridge at Valley City the three men boarded it and went into the day coach.
Heavily armed and shooting recklessly in order to intimidate the passengers, they first lined the train crew up at one end of the car and then proceeded to search the passengers in the day coach, one by one. In all they secured about $500 from this part of their robbery.

The sleeping car was entered and in order to awaken the occupants of the berths a shot was fired down the center of the aisle, narrowly missing the head of one of the passengers and imbedding itself in the woodwork.
After searching the occupants of the berths they climbed over the diner over the baggage and express cars to the engine, reaching that part of the train when near Buffalo. They ordered Engineer Olson to stop the train so they could get off and when he refused to comply with their wishes two shots were fired directly at him, one glancing off his watch and the other striking him on a rib, injuring him slightly.

After being wounded, Olson stopped the train and the three men who were all masked with polka dot handkerchiefs, jumped from the train and ran into the darkness.

Engineer Olson, who is one of the oldest engineers on the system was brought into Fargo with the train and is resting easily at his home there.

After leaving the train the robbers went to an automobile which they had waiting nearby and drove off into the darkness. The train was run into Fargo, where the sheriff, every available deputy and three deputy U. S. Marshals hurried back on a special train to pursue the robbers. Posses also started out at Buffalo fifteen minutes after the news of the robbery was received and every surrounding town and city in the northwest was tele-

Bright Prospects For Big Cotton Crop Along The Northwestern

Frank Kell, vice president and general manager of the Wichita Falls and Northwestern is receiving encouraging reports concerning conditions along the Wichita Falls and Northwestern.
From reports that he has received and from his own observations, Mr.
Kell is confident that fully 25 per cent more cotton will be raised along the Northwestern this year than last.
This morning he was receiving telegrams like the following from Dr. H.

M. Ferguson, manager of the wholesale grocery at Mangum:

"I consider the cotton crop 30 to 35 per cent better condition and the increase to be from 25 to 30 per cent greater than last year.
In this connection it is interesting to learn that 24,000 bales of wagon coat were shipped from Mangum last year.
Mr. Kell says that conditions are very much the same over the entire system north of Red River.

OUTSIDE EXPLOSION DESTROYED MAINE

Bared Mulk of Maine Discloses Story of Treachery, Says Officials.

Havana, July 20.—The process of removing the water surrounding the wreck of the Maine was practically completed this evening when the water level in the coffer dam had been lowered 18 feet, leaving the wreck surrounded by islets of mud, small pools and sink holes of salty water. The surrounding shows nowhere a depth in excess of four feet. The dregs of water remaining can be removed in a few hours but it is now apparent that the engineers are confronted with an infinitely more serious problem, the removal of the mud in which the remains of the battleship are imbedded to a minimum of 37 feet to a depth that can only be conjectured.

Although the water now is only two feet lower than at previous pumping operations, the revelations with regard to the shattered hull have been vastly enlarged, owing to the lateral outspread of the distorted frames and plating, especially in the forward section where the explosion was greatest.

The structure of the bow as far aft as frame 18 is now exposed, permitting an analysis of the plates, beams, ribs, etc., and it has been shown conclusively that they originally belonged to the structure of the double bottom which is now elevated to a height of about 40 feet above the normal position, apparently giving confirmatory evidence of a tremendous exterior explosion.

In the confused mass of wreckage of the bow is to be seen a piece of steel, believed to be what Ensign Powellson identified before the Sampson court of inquiry as part of the flat keel of the Maine. Naval Constructor Ferguson in charge of the examination, declines to say whether he can fully confirm Powellson's identification, but says adjacent plates and beams are unquestionably from the vicinity of the keel.

The ward room and officer's quarters on the starboard side are exposed, but a considerable accumulation of mud, level with the ceiling, precludes exploration for extensive excavations now. It may take several months.

The hope of the discovery of the remains of many of the crew is dimming. It is believed the wreck will be ready for inspection by the board of inquiry within two months.

An interesting point which the engineers are now investigating is whether the bulkhead immediately aft of the central superstructure, where it is believed the hull was almost completely broken in half, remains in good condition in which case it is believed little difficulty will be experienced in floating out the after one-third of the ship.

VOTERS WARNED BY BALL.

Pro Chairman Issues Notice to Challenge All Doubtful Ballots.

Houston, Texas, July 20.—Caution to election officers and citizens. To chairmen and members of prohibition committees, representatives at polling places, and citizens generally:

Judicial investigations in progress at Austin indicate that hundreds of poll tax receipts have been issued illegally and paid for by liquor interests. The same conditions exist in nearly every wet city and county and many dry counties in Texas.

It is a penitentiary offense to pay poll tax for another except as permitted by law upon written order. Lending or advancing money to another to pay poll tax is punishable by fine and imprisonment. Falsely impersonating a voter is a felony. Illegal voting is a penitentiary offense. Supervisors were provided for last Legislature to report all irregularities or frauds or semblance thereof in this election. Every officer of election and every citizen should watch closely and challenge every voter not believed entitled to vote.

The Attorney General rightly rules that a voter whose poll tax is illegally paid by another, or with money loaned by another to pay it is not entitled to vote and subject to a penitentiary term for illegal voting. Such parties should be challenged and sworn. Challenge and swear all unqualified voters who have not legally declared intentions to become citizens. Demand their papers.

Watch out for persons offering to vote whose residence in precinct, county or State for legal time is questioned. Swear them. Every honest man, pro and anti alike, desires an absolutely fair election and will not object to, but approve, challenging and swearing voters whose right to vote is questioned for any cause.

The last Legislature provided for a contest by either side, in the District Court of Travis county. I believe the pro majority will be sufficient to overcome all fraudulent votes.

Angel of Annunciation, a terra cotta figure by Matteo Civitali, one of the latest pieces of art acquired by the Metropolitan Museum of Art, New York.

Civitali was the most important sculptor during the period of the Renaissance and his work is classed with that of the great Florentine sculptors of the second half of the sixteenth century, which new acquisition owing to the fact the museum experts cannot decide whether it is a male or female. It is a youthful figure with face and arms beautifully moulded the former showing a childish expression of innocence. The hands are folded over the bosom. A long, clinging, flowered tunic is worn, drooping over the cincture at the waist, and the sleeves are of crimson.

ing, but let every citizen interested in living under a Constitution made by honest and qualified voters do his whole duty fearlessly to prevent fraudulent voting, preserve evidence to fight the wrong if fraudulent voting affects the result and send the guilty to the penitentiary, where they belong.

I appeal to anti prohibitionists as well as prohibitionists to help in the matter of such importance to our State and all its people.

Lord Elgin Centenary.

London, July 20.—Some of the London newspapers today recalled the fact that this is the one hundredth anniversary of the birth of the Earl of Elgin, who was one of the most successful diplomats in British history. As Governor General of Canada, for eight years from 1846, the quiet success of his policy in meeting an unusually sensitive condition, marked him for a man of administrative tact amounting to genius. He was but thirty-four years old when appointed Governor General, but he had already had several years of experience as Governor of Jamaica. Long before his term of service expired he was the most popular man in Canada, and had carried out a policy that was so universally satisfactory that, when he returned to England, he was asked to the British peerage, his former title having been a Scottish one. Lord Elgin's death occurred in 1863, while he was serving as Governor General of India.

Prohibition Snap Shots

An effective appeal is made to the voter, by J. A. Livers, chairman of the pro committee, of Henderson county. The scene represents a convicted wife murderer, receiving the sentence of the Judge, exercising his right to why sentence should not be passed.

"I stand before this bar, convicted of the wilful murder of my wife. Truthful witnesses testified to the fact that I was a loafer, a drunkard and a wretch; that I returned from one of my long-debauches and fired the fatal shot that killed the wife I had sworn to love, to cherish and protect. While I have no remembrance of committing the fearful deed, I have no right to complain or condemn the verdict of twelve good men. But may it please the court, I am not alone responsible for the murder of my wife. The Judge on this bench, the jury in the box, the lawyers with in the bar, and most of the witnesses, including the pastor of the old church, are also guilty before Almighty God, and will have to stand with me before the Judgment Throne, where we all shall be righteously judged. If it had not been for the saloons of my town, I never would have been a drunkard. For one year our town was without a saloon. For one year I was a sober man. For one year my wife and children were happy, and our little home was a paradise. I was one of those who signed a remonstrance against re-opening the saloons. One-half of the jury, the prosecuting attorney and the Judge who sits on this bench, all voted for the saloons. By their votes and influence saloons were reopened, and they made me what I am. I began my downward career at a saloon bar—legalized and protected by the voters of this town. After the saloons you allowed have made me a drunkard and a murderer, I am taken before another bar—the bar of justice."

This scene needs no comment, voter, the lesson is too vivid, it carries its own appeal to you. (Advertisement)

FRIBERG-THORNBERRY

ITEMS OF INTEREST

The Third Quarterly meeting for this charge will be held August 6th and 7th, at Friberg. Dr. Summerville will preach on Sunday night, August 6, and the Quarterly Conference will be held Monday morning, August 7th.

A splendid congregation greeted the pastor at Thornberry last Sunday morning, and quite as large crowd gathered at the Methodist church and listened to his address in the afternoon on statewide prohibition.

Miss Corda-Bunger will teach the Wolf school the coming term.

A very profitable rain fell over a large area last Monday, putting good moisture in the ground. Good rains previously fell at Thornberry and cotton is doing well.

There will be a meeting at the Friberg church tomorrow, Friday night, July 21st, in the interest of statewide prohibition. Let every voter in the precinct come out. The subject will be discussed from a practical standpoint. Come and bring your wives, sons and daughters. It will be of interest to all.

A Miss McGuire from Oklahoma, will teach the primary room next winter, and as previously announced Mrs. W. T. Holder has the advanced room.

Floyd Friberg and sister, Miss Altha, with Miss Agnes Andree, attended the Christian Endeavor rally at Wichita last Sunday night.

Mrs. Rose Friberg is still confined to her home in Iowa Park on account of sickness.

Surely no right thinking voter will be indifferent enough to let next Saturday's election go by without voting. This is a special election and a very special question is to be decided. Come to the meeting at Friberg Friday night.

Preaching at Friberg both morning and evening next Sunday. The pastor desires to take a cash offering for the conference callants—the retired needy preachers.

The Wichita State Bank

This Bank and Your Business

There are many banks in the country larger than The Wichita State Bank. They may have more capital and perhaps do a greater volume of business. But for the smaller business man, farmer or manufacturer, had it occurred to you that the small bank is the best place for the beginner to go?

The big bank is often cold-blooded and independent. Your business in the big bank is but an incidental detail, and your interests are scarcely noticed.

The small bank, however, can give your business more time and attention, for it is interested in your success.

This bank while small in comparison to some of the large banks, has ample means and facilities to properly care for your business. Its officers have time to consider your interest and welfare. Your business will be welcome and will receive their best attention.

Possibility of Cotton Plant

The Indian corn grower has long boasted, and with good excuse, of the many uses to which his plant could be put; the cotton plant, however, is not only clothing but food may be obtained from it; not only does it yield some of the greatest necessities of life according to the ordinary methods of estimating necessities, but many of the luxuries. Scarcely any of it goes to waste; it might be said, indeed, that not a speck of it is thrown away. Fifty years ago, however, the cotton seed, which is now yielding commodities to the value of many millions annually, was either plowed into the ground or used as fuel.

The cotton plant consists of four parts—fiber, seed, stalk and root. Every body is familiar with the value of the fiber. From the seed is produced oil, linters, cake and meal, and the hulls which, according to a report made by Commissioner Austin W. Biggs on the cotton seed oil industry of Missouri, has now a greater commercial value than the whole seed possessed a few years ago. The stalks of the plant are used for stock food, coarse fiber paper and as a fertilizer. The roots are also used as a fertilizer and sometimes as a fuel. The cotton oil, of course, is the most valuable of all the products from the cotton seed. It is finally made up into lard and other compounds into salad oil, into oleomargarine, substitute for butter, and into high-grade lubricating oil. Moreover, much of it is exported in the raw comes back as olive oil. The olive oil thus produced falls about as far short of the genuine as oleomargarine does of butter, but it is cheaper, and much of it is used.

Missouri is not usually numbered with the cotton states, yet the staple is raised in several of the lower counties, and the value of what might be called for convenience the cotton plant by-product of the state affords a striking indication of what the value of the cotton plant is to the country in general. In a few Missouri counties the proceeds in money of the products of the cotton seed alone amount in a single year to over $500,000. All of these products are marketed throughout this and other countries. Taken as a whole in these days the cotton seed industry has become one of the most important of the country.

Americans have been severely criticized at times by foreign observers of their methods for their wasteful habits. This criticism is not without justification. But as the years go by there is less ground for it. The new farming—the college-educated farming—is changing things in this respect. Not only is there an increasing certainty as to crops, but there is also increasing knowledge as to the real value of crops. The most has been made of corn and cereals for some time; the most is now being made of cotton.

ALL OTHER LAWS ARE STATEWIDE

J. T. MONTGOMERY SEES NO REASON WHY RIGHT TO SELL LIQUOR SHOULD BE LOCAL QUESTION.

HE FAVORS STATEWIDE

Right and Power of State to Make Uniform Laws Cannot Be Denied.

The following communication from Attorney J. T. Montgomery has been received by Dr. J. M. Bell, chairman of the Wichita county statewide prohibition committee:

Dr. J. M. Bell, City.
Dear Doctor:
In response to your request for my views upon the question of statewide prohibition, I beg to submit the following views:

I believe every public question should be determined by each individual voter with the single purpose of promoting the public good. No local or temporary advantage should prevent us from voting for what in the light of our own experience is best for all the people.

The argument that saloons are of financial advantage to a city does not appeal to me. If true, which I deny, it should have no weight. We all know that every dollar used in purchasing intoxicating liquors is so far as the purchaser is concerned is wasted.

If the existence of saloons does give our city some pecuniary advantages, are we so poor in resources and lost to a sense of shame as to be willing to fatten our purses by injuring or debauching our neighbors?

All good men, pro and anti, agree that the use of intoxicants should be discouraged and as far as practical prevented. How to accomplish this purpose is the only debatable question.

My own observation has led me to believe that prohibition even under the most unfavorable circumstances has accomplished more for sobriety than high license under the most favorable conditions. Therefore, it follows that to maintain my moral integrity I must with the fight I now have favor statewide prohibition. The political questions, injected into the campaign, give me no trouble.

The right and power of the state to make uniform laws, which shall operate equally over every foot of its territory cannot be denied. The state is the unit, and counties are but subdivisions created for convenience of administration. Counties have no right except those conferred by the state and whenever the state so will such rights may be withdrawn in the same manner that they were granted.

Our laws on practically every other subject are statewide and I can see no reason why the right to sell liquor should be a local question, any more than the right to run a lottery or gambling house is a local question. When it is once admitted that the sale of liquor is harmful the right and duty of the state to the control is itself evident.

Our anti friends by refusing to defend the saloon admit that the open saloon is harmful to society, the right

ARE PROBING POLL TAX IRREGULARITIES

Austin, Texas, July 20.—The resumption of the investigation of the alleged Travis county poll tax frauds took place today before Justice of the Peace George Mendell, and indications are that witnesses will be examined throughout tomorrow, and perhaps longer. The matter was reopened by Justice Mendell at the urgent request of the members of the Austin Young Men's Statewide Club and other citizens who, feeling that the purity of the right of suffrage had been insulted, insisted on a more complete investigation.

The greater part of the morning was consumed in arguments by the different attorneys in the case as to whether the examinations should continue in public or in secret. The former plan prevailed. So great has the local interest become that it was decided to conduct the remaining sessions in the district court room.

New Phase Developed.
The investigation developed a new phase bright and early today when former District Attorney Warren Moore appeared before the court and proceeded to take a hand in the investigations and discussion as to how the examinations should be conducted. Upon being questioned by E. C. Gaines, counsel for the Young Men's Club, as to whom he represented, "Warren Moore, an attorney, and a citizen of Austin."

He remained during the entire day and took his turn in examining witnesses. There is not an attorney in the case who poses as representing any particular interests, and all over they are bent on the same purpose—of ferreting out the wrong, if such exists. Mr. Moore had several lively little tilts with Mr. Gaines and also with W. M. Walton, as the result of interrogatories propounded and certain situations arising in which there were opinions at variance developed.

The great difficulty experienced at the first hearing was again in evidence today, that of tracing any irregularities to their supposed fountain head and while there is little or no doubt that much of the evidence brought out will eventually be presented to the grand jury next September, the same doubt remains as to any complaints being sworn out against any one; that is, unless more substantial facts are developed later on that those worked out of the witnesses who have already testified.

S. H. Sherman, a grocery clerk, testified this afternoon that a man named Brown, who lives seven or eight miles out of this town, told him he did not see how the pros could possibly carry this county, as the anti's had bought 3200 poll tax receipts and had them hidden in a barber shop on East Sixth Street. He said he did not know what the man Brown's initials were as he had only known him a short while.

Offered Poll Tax Free.
John Payton, a witness from Sprinkle, testified that two negroes had told him a man (naming him) had told them they would pay their poll tax if they would promise to vote the prohibition ticket.

Elbert Stone, who resides at 307 East Avenue, Austin, testified that he had received his poll tax receipt through the mail. He said he did not know who had sent it to him; that he had never had any conversation with any one about the matter; denied that

Mrs. Emma C. Post, wife of Augustus T. Post, millionaire balloonist and amateur aviator, who confessed in the New York City Court that she is penniless. Having lived many years in the Waldorf-Astoria and other expensive hotels, she now is forced to live in a cheap room and partake of two twenty-five cent meals each day. Three times Mrs. Post has been the wife of a wealthy man. Her first husband, Judge Keasley, whom she married in Texas, procured a divorce; Her second husband, Daniel Holliday, daughter of the then Governor of Virginia, had their marriage annulled. In 1898 she married Post. They separated about five years ago. Later Post brought an action to annul their marriage. Mrs. Post was haled into court in connection with a dressmaker's suit over an old bill of $68.

he had given any one his name, age or address, and further that he did not know of anyone else who had received poll tax receipts in a similar manner. He said he could not read nor write, could not sign his name and always made his mark.

A number of other witnesses have been subpoenaed and these will be examined tomorrow.

"THIS IS MY 58th BIRTHDAY."

Bishop Worrell.

Rev. Clarendon Lamb Worrell, Anglican bishop of Nova Scotia, was born at Smith's Falls, Ontario, July 20, 1853, and received his education at Trinity school, Port Hope and Trinity College, Toronto. In his early career he engaged in educational work and filled positions at several prominent institutions of learning, including Bishop's College and the Royal Military College at Kingston. In 1880 he was ordained a deacon of the Church of England and four years later came his ordination to the priesthood. During the succeeding ten years he occupied pulpits in several cities and towns of Ontario. In 1896 he was appointed chaplain to the Archbishop of Ontario. After an interval spent as rector of St. Luke's Church, Kingston, he became Archdeacon of Ontario in 1900 and four years later was appointed to the bishopric.

"Loading or advancing money to pay poll tax," is according to Chairman Bell's interpretation of the law, punishable by fine and imprisonment. The Times learns on what it deems the best of authority that about 75 such poll tax receipts have been issued to parties in Wichita Falls, and it true those who attempt to vote on them should be challenged at the voting boxes. All men who are honest and believe in honest elections will agree with it in this.

There is no one man or a half dozen men, for that matter, who should be depended upon to do the thinking for the people of a city, state or county on any question that might present itself for adjustment by a vote of the people, but the fact that it has been charged by the opponents of statewide prohibition in Wichita Falls that the men who have done most to make Wichita Falls what she is today in a commercial way, the men who build cities and who do things, were lined up almost to a man on the anti side of this question, was sufficient provocation for the pros to have a count of noses, and such a test will show clearly that in Wichita Falls, at least, the great majority of men and town builders are lined up on the pro side of this question, and will vote that way if they vote at all, on the 22nd. This is not saying that there are good men and town builders on the other side of the question. The Times merely wants to show that men who have the bulk of their money invested in Wichita Falls real estate and Wichita Falls enterprises do not fear the result of voting out the open saloon, and if the test could be pushed a little further, and narrowed down to a matter of dollars and cents the result would show beyond the least shadow of a doubt that where there is one dollar of investment money against the closing of the open saloon in Wichita Falls, there are at least three dollars for closing them. This should be sufficient evidence to forever set at rest the oft repeated assertion made by the anti prohibitionists that the anti prohibition crowd favoring statewide prohibition in Wichita Falls is composed of men who are not active in the support and upbuilding of the city. The election will take place next Saturday, and it should make no difference what the result might be, the matter of prohibition should be dropped for a time at least, and give united action toward doing some good work for Wichita county. So far the campaign has been free of abuse and bitterness, and if that record can be maintained for two or three more days, there will be no wounds left that cannot be healed over within a few days. The most humble citizen in our midst should have the right to go to the voting box on Saturday and give an expression of his views without fear of losing his job or suffering financial loss. The man who is so narrow as to deny his neighbor the same privilege he exercises himself in a matter of this kind, is too small to receive serious attention.

Perhaps it will not be out of place to analyze the arguments of Opp and Kennedy, anti speakers on the court house lawn, Wednesday evening.

Being the first state speakers on that side, naturally all the pros who could go, attended through curiosity, and a safe estimate would be that at least one-half of the audience was pros. The band attracted the women and children, making one-third of the audience. Consequently, two-thirds of the audience was not in sympathy with the anti speakers.

The Hon. Frederick Opp evaded the question of open saloons and told an interesting story of his residence in Germany and how gracefully the Germans drank their schnapps and beer, but refrained from mentioning Emperor William's strenuous appeal to his officers and soldiers to cut it out. Then he denounced saloons and whiskey drinking, praised local option and suggested that the government take the revenue off of intoxicants and legislate it pure. He denounced the long-haired men and short-haired women of Kansas as agitators and intimates that the preachers and women of Texas were good people but mistaken fanatics. His speech from beginning to end abounded in generalities, that carefully avoided the issue in this campaign, i. e. the manufacture, barter and sale of intoxicants. In other words, the abolishing of the saloons. If the anti can get any consolation out of Mr. Opp's speech, they are certainly entitled to it.

Kennedy's speech was as severe an arraignment of the open saloon as any pro speaker ever dared make. But, with a sophistical twist of argument, tried to show that prohibition by local option was better than statewide. In this he failed to carry his argument to its logical sequence by stating that precinct prohibition would be better than county prohibition. (And, if not, why not?)

Both speakers were equipped from attacking any violations of prohibition as now in force in Texas, by reason of the false position of the anti platform trying to pit local option against statewide. Consequently, Messrs. Opp and Kennedy were compelled to hold up Alabama, Tennessee, Kansas and Oklahoma as horrible examples as a warning to Texas, ignoring the fact, that we will pass our own laws and be responsible for their enforcement.

Naturally, the position the speakers found themselves in, in attempt to defend local option and attack statewide prohibition, was embarrassing for the primary cause is the same, and only differs in the degree of execution, whether local option or statewide. Another embarrassing position is, that the speakers receive their compensation and traveling expenses largely from the saloons that they condemn. Their position is one somewhat similar to the two Irishmen who went into a restaurant and called for boiled eggs. When the waiter brought them to the table, Pat broke one and found a chicken inside. Mike protested and wanted to call the proprietor, but Pat said, "Be aisy, ye fool, they will be after charging for the eggs and chicken too." Local option and statewide are in the same shell and are either good or bad, and the man that tries to separate them only exposes himself.

Whether the effect of these anti speeches has anything to do with Chairman Bean's estimate of a 300 majority in the county, I don't know. And, I don't suppose he will be willing to revise his figures and make it 299 instead of 300.

EDGAR RYE.

WHAT SORT OF A SESSION WILL IT BE.

If the statewide prohibition amendment should be adopted, a session of the legislature will thereby be ordered. But what kind of a session will it be, how long may it continue and what pay will the legislators receive? That portion of the statewide prohibition amendment relating to the proposed legislative session reads: "The Legislature of the State of Texas shall, at noon, on the second Tuesday in January, A. D. 1912, by authority of this section, meet in session in the city of Austin, and pass efficient laws to enforce this section."

Existing provisions of the Constitution relating to sessions of the legislature are as follows: "The legislature shall meet every two years, at such time as may be provided by law, and at other times as may be provided by law, and at other times when convened by the Governor." (Sec. 5, Art. III.) It is provided by statute that the legislature "shall assemble to hold its biennial session," on the second Tuesday in January of each odd-numbered year. (R. S. 327.)

Members of the legislature shall receive $5 a day for the first sixty days of "each session" and after that $2 a day (Sec. 24, Art. III of the Constitution, and statutes passed in pursuance thereof).

"When the legislature shall be convened in special session there shall be no legislation upon subjects other than those designated in the proclamation of the Governor calling such session, or presented to them by the Governor, and no such session shall be of longer duration than thirty days." (Sec. 40, Art. III.)

"The Governor may, on extraordinary occasions, convene the legislature at the seat of government, or at a different place in case that city should be in possession of a public enemy, or in case of the prevalence of disease thereat. His proclamation therefor shall state specifically the purpose for which the legislature is convened." (Sec. 5, Art. IV.)

It would appear that in the event of the adoption of the prohibition amendment the legislature will assemble upon orders from the people and without proclamation upon the part of the Governor other than his proclamation of the adoption of the amendment. It can hardly be called a regular session but since the session will not arise upon motion of the Governor, it does not seem probable that it will be limited to thirty days, and therefore it seems that the members will be entitled to receive $5 a day for the first sixty days and thereafter $2 a day. It would seem too that the legislature at such session would be limited to acting upon the subject of statewide prohibition, and that the Governor would be without authority to submit additional subjects.—Dallas News.

ness men of that section had succeeded in turning the tide of tourists travel and of investment to that section. He declared that many of those who spent the winter months there were in need of a stimulant such as is given by wine and whiskey and that if statewide prohibition was adopted the liberal, wealthy tourists and investors would not come to Texas.

He told of the prosperous, peaceful conditions in Gillespie and other South Texas counties, where the Germans had their Schnapps and the jails and poor houses were empty. He said it would be impossible to enforce prohibition in those communities.

Here the speaker paused and exclaimed "But Oh! I see on the faces of some of the prohibitionists a fatalism which they mistake for patriotism which says 'We will furnish the guns to shoot prohibition down their throats.'"

In conclusion Mr. Opp said: "Many of the ministers of the state have refused to champion the cause of statewideism in an active manner to the extent of taking the stump, the bishops in the Catholic and Episcopal churches have forbidden their priests and rectors to do so and are on our side; practically all our congressmen are also in accord; our governor (great applause and shouts of hurrah for Colquitt) has been, is now and will continue to champion the cause of anti-statewideism. Since taking the office he has been satisfying his friends and converting some opponents. Culbertson, (long applause) was on our side. That son of Mississippi and the adopted son of Texas, one of the greatest statesmen the world had ever seen, Joseph W. Bailey, is on our side, (long applause), and higher than that, I believe that God, who has always been so good to Texas, is on our side, and I do not believe that he will desert us. So, fellow citizens, when next Saturday rolls around, march to the polls, do your duty as brother Texans, and submit to His will. Ladies and gentlemen, I thank you."

Hon. A. M. Kennedy, who spoke next, declared that next Saturday would be the most eventful day since the civil war. He declared there was not a more ardent local optionist in Texas than himself. He declared that local option was the proper solution of the problem and said that if the people of Wichita county had prohibition under local option and South Texas tried to force whiskey upon the people here, they would rise up in arms and would march with cannon to meet those who would deprive them of their rights.

He told of a trip he had made to Memphis, Tenn., and other points in that state where he said he found the prohibition law openly and flagrantly violated. He told in detail of visiting hundreds of saloons in Memphis, and Nashville, where he purchased liquors with as little trouble as he would have in Wichita Falls. He read numerous letters from officials, and clergymen in Georgia and Alabama saying that it was impossible to enforce the prohibition laws and that conditions were much worse than before statewide prohibition.

Mr. Kennedy referring to honesty, said that the woman who went to the governor's office at Austin and requested him to not take the stump for the anti should have remembered that when he opened his campaign for the office right here in Wichita Falls he said that is submission carried he would take the field and make a campaign against statewideism. The speaker deplored their action in asking him to break his word of honor or adding that Colquitt had done nothing to disgrace the office or the man but on the other hand, was doing much good.

"There is an old saying," said the speaker, "to the effect that 'charity begins at home' but notwithstanding this, the pros are sending to other states for men and women and paying them high salaries, some of them as high as $150 per week to speak for statewideism, one of these coming from Chicago, where there are thirteen thousand saloons. Why not sweep the trash off their own sidewalks first?"

"If you pass the statewide law," continued the speaker, "those who want liquor will write a letter across the river into Oklahoma and have it shipped here. You will have to pay the freight, fatten your neighbor's calf and the city, county and state will get no revenue. You have here in your town factories and industries that would cease to exist, throwing men out of employment, and that would be the case, not alone here, but all over the state, for the pulse of business life that beats so strongly all over Texas would cease as if from a paralytic stroke."

In conclusion he said: "Don't let taunts and jeers deter you from doing your duty as you see it—go to the polls next Saturday and vote for regulation, moderation, peace, prosperity and—anti-statewideism."

ALDRICH DENIES

HINES STATEMENT

FORMER SENATOR DECLARES HE DID NOT URGE HINES TO URGE LORIMER TO BE CANDIDATE.

ABOUT TAFT'S SUPPORT

Says He Did Tell Hines That Taft Would Not Object to Lorimer's Candidacy.

By Associated Press. Washington, D. C., July 20.—Former United States Senator Nelson S. Aldrich testifying at the Lorimer hearing today flatly contradicted Edward Hines story that Aldrich had urged him to urge Lorimer to become a senatorial candidate and had sent word to Governor Deenen that Taft expressed the belief that Lorimer could be elected and was the most available man.

Aldrich testified that what he actually told Hines was that "Lorimer's candidacy would not be objected to by the President."

Aldrich said he told Hines that he (Aldrich) would say this to any one who inquired of him.

Aldrich said he had three or four conversations with Hines about the Illinois election.

Corroborates Hines.

Washington, D. C., July 20.—George M. Reynolds, president of the Continental Commercial bank at Chicago who was reported to have declined the treasury portfolio in the Taft administration yesterday told the senate Lorimer committee that he knew of Edward Hines delivering an alleged message from the administration at Washington to Governor Deenen to aid Lorimer's election. He recited how Hines, on the day of Lorimer's election, consulted with him as to how to deliver the message to Deenen.

C. F. Wiehe, secretary of the Edward Hines Lumber company, declared that William Burgess of Duluth, Minn., was an "absolute liar" if he testified to what was read as Burgess' testimony. Burgess had said Wiehe told him on the "Winnipeg Flyer" March 7, 1911, that he subscribed $10,000 to a Lorimer election fund. Wiehe told the committee he believed there was a "framing" between Burgess and W. H. Cook. The latter recently testified that Edward Hines telephoned from his room in Chicago on the day Lorimer was elected that he (Hines) would be down to Springfield with all the money necessary for Lorimer's election. Wiehe said he believed Cook would perjure himself to injure Hines.

Wiehe denied that he ever heard of the "Father Green incident," as Burgess related it. Wiehe, however, recalled a rumor that Detective Keeley of the state attorney's office in Chicago, complained to Father Green about the work assigned to him in the Lorimer case and that Keeley got Representative Beckemeyer drunk and then that Beckemeyer was taken down to the red light district and a compromising photograph shown of him when he would not testify as wanted.

Samuel J. Cusson of Virginia Minn., a stockholder in the Edward Hines Lumber company; John B. Price, a lumberman of Seattle, Wash., and B. A. Johnson, formerly of the American Lumberman of Chicago, told of being on the "Winnipeg Flyer" but denied having heard the remarks attributed to Wiehe.

Contradicts Burgess. F. A. Johnson was cross-examined as to his testimony in which he denied that Wiehe made such a statement. In so doing he disagreed with the testimony of William Burgess, a Duluth business man.

Senator Fletcher called attention to testimony by Burgess that he, Wiehe and the young Canadian were in the smoker when Wiehe made the remark. Johnson said he was in the smoker practically all the time Wiehe was there. Johnson said he could not altogether reconcile his testimony with that of Burgess. The witness said Wiehe might have returned to the smoker after he followed him out.

John B. Price, a lumberman of Seattle, son of the former secretary of state of Washington, stated that he was in the smoker but that he did not hear anyone say anything about the Lorimer election.

Prohibition Speaking

At

Court House Tonight

(Thursday, July 20, 1911)

Judge A. H. Carrigan and Judge P. A. Martin will deliver addresses on the subject of Statewide Prohibition tonight at the Court House.

These gentlemen are well posted on conditions in Wichita county, and are well and favorably known to the people as fair, just and honorable men, and it can be depended upon that neither will make a statement that is not a fact and that cannot be fully substantiated, therefore no reasonable or sane person can take offense at anything that will be said.

As chairman of the Statewide Prohibition Committee of Wichita County, I have done what was in my power to conduct a clean campaign and used my influence to induce all those who believe as I do to give a patient and respectful hearing to speakers on the opposing side. I was gratified to note that the pros attended the anti speaking in great numbers last night. I now ask and invite all the people, both pros and antis, ladies and gentlemen, and even the children to come out tonight and hear this subject discussed from the viewpoint of a prohibitionist, as presented by Judges Carrigan and Martin. Speaking begins promptly at 8:30.

J. M. BELL, Chairman, Statewide Committee.

CAPE HAITIEN AT MERCY OF REBELS

By Associated Press.
Cape Haitien, Haiti, July 20.—This city is at the mercy of the revolutionists and is being pillaged today. All the generals opposed to the revolution have taken refuge in the foreign consulates. The French consul was slightly wounded while offering protection to local authorities.

Evers Out of Game.

Boston, July 20.—Johnny Evers, second baseman of the Cubs, is a sick man. When his team left for Philadelphia last night Evers did not go along, but instead went to the Adirondacks in quest of health. Evers has agreed to lead the simple life for at least five weeks and if improved at that time he might attempt to resume active work at second base. During his absence in the mountains he proposes to take long walks and keep easy hours, living in the open most of the time with the hope his nerves will steady down.

P. S. Funk returned today from Waco where he had been looking after business matters for Gen. J. E. Rorer, of Harrisonburg, Va., who has extensive landed interests in Texas.

Base on Balls, Double Steal and Timely Hitting By Bonham, Won Game.

Bonham, Texas, July 20.—Bonham won from Wichita Falls here yesterday by the score of 3 to 2. It was a very interesting game, replete with brilliant fielding. Halslip's support was all any pitcher could ask for. The work of Querry at short for the locals, bordered on the sensational. While Wichita Falls is charged in the box score with two errors, they put up a fast game. Bonham won in the seventh with a base on balls, a double steal, a couple of hits and a sacrifice, netting two scores. The two teams will play the next two games of the series at Leonard, today and Friday, during the picnic coming back here for the final game Saturday.

Dr. Wiley and The Interests

"Will the dope-food interests get Wiley's scalp this time?" This is the question of the hour.

Never did a little benzene of soda set up such a chemical reaction. Resolutions are being introduced in congress calling for information, and the combat has raged a dizzy daze of dust in administration circles. People are not talking about reciprocity, but about Wiley. There is not the slightest misunderstanding about the case. The enemies of the pure food laws do not give a rap for Dr. Rusby, whose technically irregular connection with the payroll furnished the committee on personnel with an excuse for asking that Dr. Wiley "be given an opportunity to resign."

The Rusby case is nothing. It does not make a pretense of being anything more than a flimsy excuse, deliberately worked up by the feed dopers, to get Wiley out of the way. It is a flank attack in the old war against the chief of the bureau of chemistry.

Many attempts to secure the dismissal of Dr. Wiley have been made during the past few years. They have not only failed, but the doctor has emerged strengthened in popularity after each contest. The people have the utmost faith in him, and even those "practical" politicians who are always ready to serve certain interests have been afraid to "break" Wiley on a plain issue. For a long time they have been looking for a reasonable excuse to attack him by subterfuge, and they seized upon the Rusby case with frantic eagerness.

Dr. Wiley has made many enemies and antagonized many interests in the course of his administration, but the users of benzene of soda being perhaps the most vitally concerned, are naturally his most active enemies. The reason of their concern is easily understood. They can gather big profits from the use of the waste of canning factories in the manufacture of foods and sauces, but this waste is not usable unless it is preserved by some artificial means, benzene of soda being preferred.

It is not merely a question as to the harmfulness of benzene of soda itself. It is a question of being able to use nauseous and unfit material.

The secretary of the American Health League in Ohio, in a bulletin issued October 25, 1909, describes a visit he made to a tomato canning factory, where he studied the methods of handling the waste and refuse consisting of skins, cores and rotten pulp. The tomatoes are handled during the short harvest season in cheaply constructed and shoddy buildings, usually in remote localities where proper sewerage and other sanitary facilities are unavailable.

"In spite of all these adverse conditions," he says, however, "the canned tomato product, quickly handled into its final containers, and thoroughly sterilized as it is, is undoubtedly for the most part a wholesome article of food supply, and is rarely, in these days at least, subject to any artificial preservative treatment."

"But the waste! This," he continues, "is a most repulsive, nauseating mass of fermented, rotten garbage consisting of peelings, cuttings, and decayed and partly ripe tomatoes, very loosely and carelessly handled. It is scooped up with shovels and buckets from the floors, and afterward is treated with a quantity of benzene of soda, thereby protecting it from ultimate putridity. In other words it is embalmed."

"In this condition," the bulletin goes on to say, "it is finally sold to food manufacturers who make it up into ketchups, soups, etc., which are palmed off on the public as being made from fresh, ripe, sound tomatoes prepared with 1-10 of 1 per cent benzene of soda. Dr. A. W. Bitting, of the United States department of agriculture, in a report of his investigations of ketchup making, states that the great bulk of tomato ketchup in the market is made of this material."

These manufacturers are the fellows that Dr. Wiley has been after. In his work he has run down hundreds of violators of the law, who have been fined and their products confiscated and destroyed. In a bulletin issued June 16, 1911, by the department of agriculture signed by Secretary Wilson, there is an account of seizure of "three consignments of tomato paste, totaling 202 barrels, shipped from a canning factory in New Jersey." The complaint charged that this tomato paste was adulterated, and consisted of filthy, decomposed and putrid vegetable substances.

When the case came to a hearing the claimant of the products failed to appear, and the court ordered the tomato paste destroyed. This is only one instance in hundreds of Dr. Wiley's efficient work in behalf of the people. No wonder the doped food makers say that their industry is being ruined, and their bitter fight on Wiley is not hard to understand.

But few people believe that they will succeed in having Dr. Wiley ousted on a technicality. He has protected the food of the people for twenty-five years against the fraudulent manufacturing interests. He has a thousand friends where he has one enemy, and it is not thought possible that President Taft, even at Wickersham's behest, will make so grave a political mistake as would be the ousting of Wiley on behalf of the benzeneates.

Texas Leads in Onions.

San Antonio, July 20.—Onion growers of Texas say that Indiana, with its production of 1,250,000 bushels of onions, does not lead the nation, as claimed.

The Southwestern Truck Growers' Association, alone, has already shipped from the San Antonio territory 2,100 carloads of onions, each carrying 450 crates of 50 pounds, or one bushel to the crate. This is 1,025,000 bushels, or 51,250,000 pounds.

Northern, eastern and central Texas are yet to be heard from. While the greatest portion of the Texas crop comes from southwest Texas, there are tens of thousands of crates shipped independently of the association, not only from this section, but from the other sections of Texas.

Steve Adams, hard hitting outfielder of the St. Louis Cardinals and one of Brennan's trump cards in his fight pennantward, Brennan has made Evans one of the best outfielders in the league, developing him from a mediocre player with no special ability in any department of diamond craft. With Rube Ellis on one side of him and Rebel Oakes on the other, Evans is the king pin of a garden trio that is scrappy from the word go.

JERSEY CITY VOTES AGAINST COMMISSION

New York, July 19.—By a majority of 1,453 votes Jersey City rejected today the commission form of government which the New Jersey Legislature prescribed and Governor Wilson defended. There were 13,038 votes against the plan and 11,585 in its favor. Of twelve wards only three, the Seventh, Eighth and Ninth, returned a majority for the plan.

Many charges of fraud were made last night by friends of the new form of government, but there were no arrests. Both the Democratic and Republican organizations worked hard to defeat the innovation, and representatives of both, as in the case of the other New Jersey municipalities which rejected it, said that the victory was won by the people. Out of five cities or towns that have voted on the plan only one—Trenton—has accepted it. It has been decisively beaten in New Brunswick, Bayonne, Hoboken and now Jersey City.

The plan can not be voted on again in these communities for two years.

Wilson Press Bureau at Work.

San Antonio, July 20.—Leaders of democracy and widely scattered throughout the great state of Texas are coming out in interviews advocating Governor Woodrow Wilson for the democratic nomination for the presidency. From the Panhandle to Brownsville, Texas, from Texarkana to El Paso, Wilson's supporters are growing in numbers. It is true that Roger C. Sullivan, of Illinois, visited San Antonio and Texas last fall, and it is said laid wires for the purpose of having the Texas delegation instructed for Governor Harmon, of Ohio. But since then the Wilson star is in the ascendancy. Judging by the attitude of the press of the state, Texas is enthusiastically pro-Wilson.

Has Been a Jinx to Him.

administration regrets that the Unit-

IMPROVEMENTS MADE

AT ST. JAMES HOTEL

The painters and decorators have completed the work of redecorating the interior of the St. James Hotel, and the place now presents a most handsome appearance.

The office and lobby has been decorated in leather color and mahogany, with trimmings of white. The rearrangement of the doors and the addition of another window adds very materially to the lighting of the interior, making it much more pleasant, as well as more modern.

SEE SAW UP AND DOWN.

There are more ups than downs in the feed business. You can't expect feed any cheaper than the present prices, but you will have to pay higher prices every day you put off paying in your feed supply.

STATEWIDE CAMPAIGN NEARING AN END

Dallas, Texas, July 20.—Almost the final touches were put on the campaign by the pro and anti headquarters yesterday, and all will rest on their oars until Saturday. There is some clerical work being done, but the rush of mailing out literature and campaign documents is ended. It is true that the speakers will be shelling the woods up to the last minute before the polls open, but the headquarters will not have the strenuous existence they have had during the last several weeks. However, there will be watchers at both places ever alert to take advantage of any slip and to watch for campaign surprises and answer them.

Hon. J. F. Wolters, speaking for the anti, said he had occasion yesterday to use the long distance telephone to communicate with a number of county and district chairmen, and that they all voluntarily told him that the prospects never looked brighter.
He declared that in the northern part of Texas the anti will furnish a surprise with the vote they will poll, while in South Texas it will be overwhelming.

Ex-Senator D. W. Odell of Johnson county spent yesterday in Dallas, and will make a speech or two before the campaign closes in behalf of the anti.

Bob Barker of San Antonio, Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives has been at anti headquarters, but will leave today for Waco to believe Gov. Colquitt speak, and from there will go to San Antonio.

Dr. J. H. Gambrell, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, said that his headquarters had mailed out over the State not less than 10,000,000 sheets of literature in behalf of prohibition. He was satisfied with the situation and predicted victory. His final prediction was that the pro amendment would receive a wonderfully large vote in South Texas, basing his prophecy on advices received from that part of the State through many correspondents.

State Senator R. W. Warren of Kaufman called at pro headquarters yesterday. Another caller at pro headquarters was G. W. Eichelberger of Fort Worth, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League in the Fort Worth district, which extends from Fort Worth to El Paso, a distance of 600 miles.

Rawlins Colquitt, son of the Governor, who has been in charge of the speaker's bureau in the anti headquarters in this city, will go to Houston with Mr. Wolters and Senator Watson to vote and receive the returns Saturday night.

The Water Problem

Water is one of the most abundant and essential elements of nature and the life and happiness of the people and the success of all lines of industry depend upon quality, cost and durability of our water supply.

Ever since the days when Moses spoke the rocks and water gushed forth to quench the thirst of the children of Israel, the people have murmured for water. In time of drought it is the custom of the people of the rural districts to pray for rain and of the inhabitants of cities to curse the waterworks. Irrigation is solving the problem in agriculture in the arid regions of the state and pure artesian water is available for most cities.

Nature has done her part by depositing vast lakes of pure water beneath the surface and numerous rivers traverse the state, offering an abundance of surface water to the cities and it is merely an engineering problem of watering the cities of Texas.

A permanent source of water is one of the most important questions confronting many growing cities in the state and one which may be, by common consent, postponed, but it is never a short. It will rise up again with increased frightfulness.

Solve the water problem and have it now.

Good Roads.

Prosperity follows good roads as commerce follows the flag and no community has advanced far in civilization that has not improved its public highways. The condition of the public road and the commodities handled usually gauge the progress and development of communities. Generally the better the roads, the better the community.

Texas Needs Capital.

Texas cannot be developed with home capital and it is this generation purpose to develop the state, we must get into and money from the outside, and an invitation to home-seekers and capitalists is cordially extended.

THE KIND OF MEAT SERVICE YOU WOULD LIKE TO HAVE ALWAYS

And you may be pretty particular too so that it will take extra good service to please you always.

Well & Good!—Give our meat service a month's

The Texas Horse

The Texas horse, as a utility animal, excels those of any other state in the Union. He has plowed our fields, fought our battles, and is the most faithful of animal kind.
Among all the animals he stands first in war, first in peace and first in the heart of the people.

1810 VALUE PER HEAD $83.

The horse has contributed more toward the progress of the country than any other animal and our philanthropists, as well as our philosophers, must all take off their hats to this dumb brute.
During the past quarter of a century he has given away more than half his occupations to the cause of science and scientific discoveries and inventions are now operating in his remaining territory, but he has more than held his own in value and he is today the unit of power by which all his competitors must measure potential energy. He must not only compete with the inventive genius of man, but the mule—his progeny—has wrested from him some of his most valuable occupations. No animal ever met with such strenuous and untiring competition and while these agents have been predicting his elimination he has become a prime factor in the high cost of living. He came out of the war worth $25.00 and has steadily increased in value until today he is worth $83.

He has carried the pack of the pioneer, pulled the stagecoach in early days, herded the cattle on the plains and while bringing forward the civilization of the country has lifted himself from a broncho to a thoroughbred. He pulls for Texas, stronger than any other animal.

According to the census reports of the Federal department of agriculture, dated Jan. 1, 1910, we had 1,289,000 head of horses, and the latest estimate given a value per head was $45, making a total value of $58,005,000 for all horses of all ages. This is an increase of $9,000,000 in number and $3,000,000 in value during the past decade.

The soil and climate of Texas is particularly adapted to horse raising and no country on the globe can equal us in economy and quality of production.

MEND AND GRIFFIN AT LAMAR AIRDOME

The vaudeville program at Lamar Airdome charges again tonight, bringing Mend and Griffin in a medley of music and comedy and introducing Mr. Mend in a farical dance entitled "A Jew Gone Crazy with the Heat." The Airdome continues to attract ever increasing crowds and to please all who attend. Since the rain the place is even more comfortable than before, and much more beautiful also, the plants and flowers along the entrance are blooming, and with the greening grass made the place very pretty, indeed.

The change in the program tonight also carries with it an entire change of pictures.

GIRL BALL PLAYERS WERE DEFEATED

"The Gibson Girls" met defeat at the hands of a picked male team at the Floral Heights Park yesterday afternoon by a score of 14 to 3. In the Gibson Girls' team four male players contributed to the force from the base ball standpoint. Although she allowed 11 hits, Hilda struck out 11 men and allowed only three bases on balls. She had a delivery not unlike a man's.

Chicago, testified regarding the alleged Deenen-Hines telephone conversation on the day of Lorimer's election, saying:

"Hines came to me that morning, May 26, and said he bore a message that would have an important bearing on Illinois politics, that it came directly from Senator Aldrich and 'in reality' from the administration of President Taft and was to Governor Deenen."

According to Reynolds, Hines remarked once to him that he (Hines) probably was instrumental in Lorimer's election, evidently referring to his message to Deenen. The only time the use of money in the election was suggested, he said, was when Medill McCormick, then manager of the Chicago Tribune, came to him with the statement that he had definite knowledge that someone took $128,000 from Washington to Springfield.

"Mr. McCormick," he added, "said he knew I knew about the message to Deenen and asked if I knew anything about the money."

Attorney Haney asked Reynolds if President Taft had not once asked him to be secretary of the treasury, but the witness did not care to answer.
