

The Gay Philosopher

By J. W. S.

ACTION OF THE National Coaches Association in doing away with the free substitution rule for football games is getting a thorough discussion in all parts of the country. The opinion of local sportsmen is that the rule change will help small town colleges, such as Cisco Junior College.

The Texas Interscholastic League has been operating under the national rules for many years and it is expected to go along with the new deal. Cisco High School, with a small squad of players each year, won't be hurt by the change. The teams of our own have always been pretty much of one-platoon teams anyway.

We've always been kind of against the two-platoon proposition. It tends to make specialists out of all the players.

In many colleges and high schools, it will be necessary for the coaches to begin a thorough rebuilding program for their teams. They've got good offensive boys and good defensive players. Now, they must have boys who are good on both offense and defense.

The move was probably made to save the schools money by enabling them to cut down on the number of players on their squads. This will cut down on football scholarships at the big schools. It will help the smaller schools because they will have opportunities to enroll many of the boys who would normally have gone to the bigger colleges. It will doubtless work out for the best.

MEMBERS OF Boy Scout Troop 101, who are working hard to raise money for the national bazaar next summer, got off to a good start in their wire collecting around 4,000 for sale. And they wish to take this means of saying thanks to one and all who made contributions to the bazaar.

A FORMER CISCOAN is doing well up at Childress, according to a newspaper clipping that has come our way. He is Mr. Newell Odell, superintendent of schools at Childress in the Texas Panhandle. The clipping reports that the contract of Mr. Odell has been extended three more years and notes that "the board was highly appreciative and complimentary on the work done by Mr. Odell."

Mr. Odell grew up in this area. He is the brother of Mrs. A. B. Odell of Cisco.

COMES A NOTE from Mr. J. Edwards, who used to be manager of the Palace Theater here and who now lives in Pascagoula, Miss. He reports that they've bought a new home there and for us to change the address of The Press that goes their way each day.

"We still miss Cisco and all of the nice people there," he writes. "Hope to visit out there on our vacation. We never knew how much we liked Cisco until we left."

MR. OMAR BURKETT, the new 76th District representative to the state legislature, ran on a platform of economy in government last summer. And, according to a statement he issued the other day in Austin, he is standing by his platform.

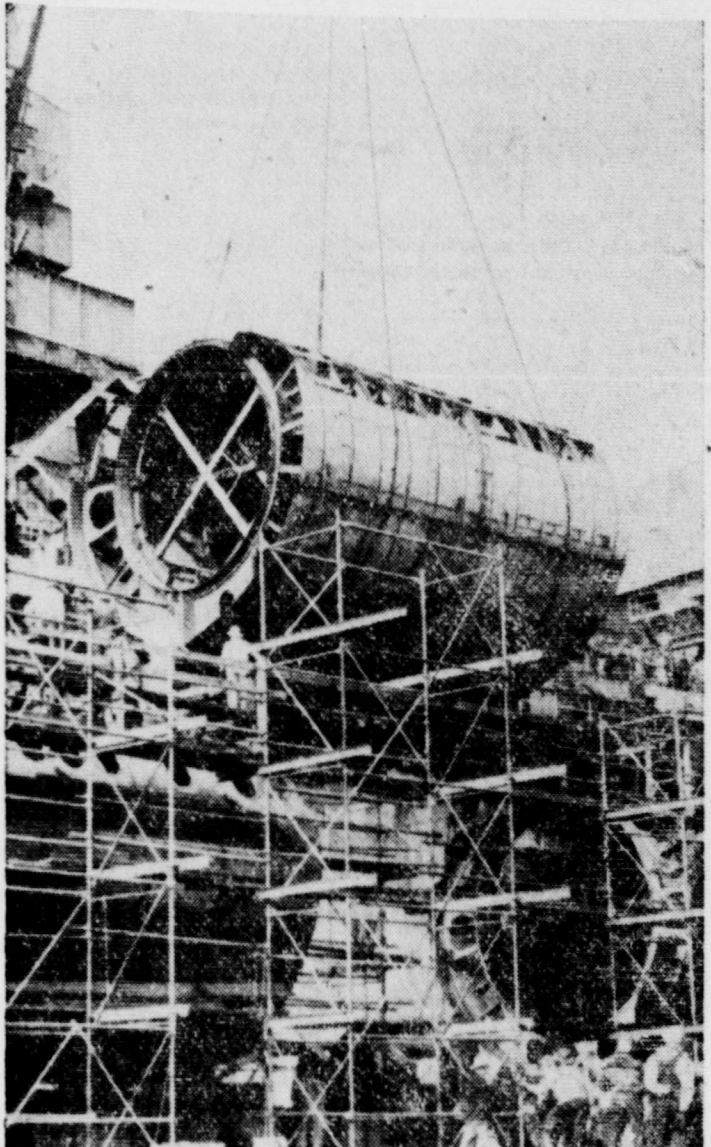

"I wouldn't even vote a new cent to pay my own salary," he told an interviewer.

Economy in government is what this country has been needing for a long time, a good many people will tell you.

HAVE HAD A good many compliments on the article that Mr. L. Jackson wrote for us yesterday.

We would be glad to have most columnists from time to time. So, if any of you run into something interesting and make an unusual trip, feel free to write an article. Your friends and neighbors will be interested.

CHEAP AT THE PRICE—At the Naval Base in Philadelphia, Pa., a crane is lowering a 60-ton, 30-foot-long, prefabricated section between the two divided parts of the submarine Raton. The cost of enlarging the sub is estimated at $6,000,000 as against a cost of between $15,000,000 and $20,000,000 to build an entirely new craft of similar design.

CJC TEAM TO PLAY TWINBILL AT LOCAL GYM SATURDAY NIGHT

Cisco Junior College basketball fans will see two local college teams in action at the community gym Saturday night as the Wranglers play the Rangers from Ranger Junior College and the college girls team plays the Tandy Motorettes from Fort Worth.

Coach Red Lewis' Wranglers, smarting from two recent defeats, should be in top form for the Rangers. Tuesday night they dropped a conference tilt to the Decatur Baptists by 68-49 score. They were off on their shooting and floor game, and were never able to get going. Peck Hall, who had averaged some 20 points per game prior to the Decatur contest, was able to sink only one field goal and four free throws for six points.

Burl Moses led the Wranglers in scoring in the Decatur game with 13 points. Moses was sinking long shots with accuracy. Robert Deavers was in second place for Cisco with 10 points. Phil Hall of Decatur led in scoring with 21 points. He was dead-

Gains Reported In Nazarene Work

Substantial gains in every phase of international work of the Church of the Nazarene were reflected in year-end statistics released today by Dr. S. T. Ludwig, general secretary of the denomination, which maintains its headquarters in Kansas City, Missouri.

Setting the pace of progress was the amount given by members for all purposes — nearly $30 million, or $117.97 per capita. This is $6.00 more than the per capita donations of the previous year.

During 1952 membership climbed to 250,000, a gain of 3.3 per cent. The report also lists 3,888 established churches in the United States, Canada, and the British Isles, 151 of these being organized during the year.

The Sunday-school organization showed even larger gains, reporting 521,030 enrolled. This is an increase of 4.3 per cent over last year and more than twice as many as listed for church membership.

The church now has 262 missionaries and 950 native workers on 25 foreign fields. Fifty-two of these missionaries were commissioned this past year, the largest number ever to be appointed in a single year.

Rotarians Shown Movies Of Final Football Contest

Joe Kerbel, coach of the Breckenridge High School Buckaroos, gave Rotarians a treat at their regular weekly meeting at the Hotel Victor Thursday when he showed a film of the 1953 state championship game between his team and Temple.

Rotarian Bill Hogue was in charge of the program. He had as his guests Arlin Bint, superintendent of Cisco High School, and O. L. Stamey, president of Cisco Junior College. Rotarian Hogue called on Mr. Stamey to introduce the program.

Mr. Stamey introduced John Culwell, principal of Breckenridge High School, who paid a glowing tribute to Coach Kerbel and the 1953 team. Mr. Culwell was once a teacher in the Cisco school system.

Coach Kerbel handled the projector for the film and gave a word description of the game. The film was in color.

The film showed every play of the game and much of the between-half activities.

President Con Collins announced that some 40 Rotarians from Fort Worth would be in Cisco to attend the meeting Thursday, January 22.

Snow Covers Big Part Of State

This West Central Texas region apparently was in for a least a mild snow storm today as light snow fell during much of the morning and a heavy snow was falling at 1 p. m. The temperature at noon was 19 degrees, and Thursday night's low was reported at 18 degrees.

Forecasters predicted occasional snow or freezing rain for Friday afternoon and night. Saturday was expected to be a little warmer with clearing weather.

Much of the state reported freezing rain, sleet or snow. A wide section of the state had bad road conditions with only essential travel recommended.

Tonight's low temperature for this region was expected to be between 15 and 20 degrees.

State Will Hold Exams For Jobs

Stenographers, typists, field workers and interviewers are needed in the agencies served by The Merit System Council, Chas. S. Gardiner, director, reported today. He said that competitive examinations for these positions are now offered every month in twenty-three cities.

Information about the examinations may be obtained at any office of the Texas Employment Commission or State Department of Public Welfare or by writing the Merit System, Post Office box 671, in Austin.

Gardiner stated that employment opportunities are good at this time and urged qualified persons to make inquiry. He said these examinations lead to permanent employment with opportunity for salary increase, promotion, and career in State service.

MID-TERM EXAMS

Students of city schools and Cisco Junior College will take their mid-term exams next week, completing the first half of the 1952-53 school year Friday afternoon. The last half of the school year will begin Monday, Jan. 26.

FIRST OFFICIAL ACT—The first official act of Rep. Charles Sandahl, Austin, was to hand Speaker Reuben Senterfitt of the Texas House of Representatives, a resolution urging Texans to support March of Dimes. Sandahl had polio.

Cowboy Band Due To Take Part In Inaugural Parade

ABILENE, Jan. 16. — The Hardin-Simmons University Cowboy band, home just one week from an 18,000 mile European USO camp show tour, will leave Saturday morning for Washington where it will help represent Texas in the inaugural parade Tuesday. The band will also give a concert at the National Press Club Tuesday night.

Counting the round-trip to Washington the band within a month will have travelled almost enough miles to equal the distance around the world.

Accompanying the famous 35 piece unit will be the six white horses of the university. They will be ridden by five coeds and Sheriff Will Watson, each of them carrying one flag under which Texas has been governed. The girl riders are Mary Jane Smith, Houston; Kay Johnson, Oplin; Bettylu Daniel, Pecos; Pat Edwards, Lamesa; Carolyn Pruet, Ranger.

The musicians, directed by Marion B. McClure, will be making their second appearance in an Eisenhower parade. In February the band participated in the giant Eisenhower for President rally held in Madison Square Garden.

Director McClure announced that soloists which made the USO tour will be among those to make the trip and also to appear before the Press Club. They are Delton Galloway, Peacock, roper; Doris Crudgington, Breckenridge, vocalist; John Horn, Abilene, marimba player, and Mary Jane Smith, accordionist. Jerry Massey, Wichita Falls, will be drum major.

Wearing a colorful western uniform of chaps, ten gallon hats, cowboy boots, orange shirts and purple neckerchief the band will easily be identified as Texan in their inauguration parade.

The band is undoubtedly the most widely travelled intercollegiate band in the nation. It has been to Europe twice during its 29 years of history and it has appeared in 40 of the 48 states. It has marched down Fifth Avenue in New York, Michigan Boulevard in Chicago, Market Street in San Francisco, Hollywood Boulevard in Hollywood and in scores of interior cities. The horses, too, have been in New York, Chicago, San Francisco, and Los Angeles.

Girl Scout Troop 7 Elects New Leaders

Julia McCanlies was elected president of Girl Scout troop 7 at the regular weekly meeting of the troop Tuesday.

Sandra Smallwood was named vice president and Rhonda Coulter was elected secretary. Jan Johnston was made treasurer. The new officers will begin their duties at an early meeting and will serve for three months.

The meeting opened by the members discussing the requirements for Second Class Scouts. Following the election of officers games were played and several songs sung. The meeting was dismissed by the forming of the wishing circle.

New Gorman School Nearing Completion

The new Gorman High School building was nearing completion this week, it was reported by school officials there.

All the outside work was finished and carpenters were rapidly getting the inside trim and wood work toward the finishing mark. It was expected that the new building would not be used until work on the auditorium and offices was completed. Workmen were beginning that portion of the job. Smallwood Electric Company of Cisco has the electrical contract on the building.

Washington, D. C., is located below the Mason-Dixon line.

Smoking has been forbidden in Congress since 1871.

CISCO JUNIOR QUINTETS BEAT MORAN TEAMS IN FOUR GAMES

Cisco Junior High School basketball teams won four games Thursday night when Moran juniors came here for play at the junior high gymnasium. The "A" and "B" boys and girls teams of the two schools met in the contests.

Games scheduled here tonight between Cisco and Rising Star junior teams have been cancelled due to bad weather conditions, it was announced by Principal Roy Killingsworth.

Opening the Thursday night program, the Cisco "A" girls team won a 49-to-25 victory over Moran. Bonnie Owens was high point scorer with 24 points. Venita McLeister, with 19 points, was second high.

In the second game, the "B" girls team met, and Cisco scored a 10-to-6 victory. Lorel Lipsey was high point scorer. She made all ten of Cisco's points.

In the "A" boys game, Cisco won a 42-to-18 victory. Benji Lipsey scored 20 points for high scoring honors. Runnerup was Ronnie Reed with 13 points.

In the "B" game, Cisco won, 8-to-0, with Dallas Elder making four points and Dickie Bennie and Jerry Anderson scoring two each.

The junior teams will go to Carbone on Monday night for conference play. Due to mid-term exams, there will be no further basketball activities next week.

SINGING IS PLANNED

The Church of God in Eastland will have a singing Sunday afternoon at two o'clock, it was announced by the Rev. W. E. Hollenbeck, pastor. The public has been invited to attend.

Mrs. A. E. Jamison visited Wednesday in Fort Worth.

LOBOES OPEN CONFERENCE CAGE RACE IN RANGER TILT TONIGHT

The Cisco High School Loboes open the 1952-53 conference race tonight when they meet the potent Ranger High School Bulldogs in the Ranger gym. It will be the opening conference games for both teams, who have impressive records in pre-conference play.

In pre-conference play the Loboes have won 11 games in 14 starts. They have lost only to Roscoe, San Angelo and Clyde. The Bulldogs have not won as many of their pre-conference games but have beaten some of the leading teams of the area. Both Cisco and Ranger have beaten Mineral Wells and Eastland by similar scores.

The Bulldogs have a good, tall team and the Loboes will give away several inches per man. The Ranger attack is led by Chico Mendoza. Jim Webb is the only Lobo that is over six feet while the Bulldogs field three men over six feet and two inches.

Coach Buck Overall will probably start Jim Webb, Irvin Brunkenhoefer, George Callaman, C. W. Kellar and H. L. Youngblood. Bob Lloyd will probably enter the game early to give the team more scoring punch. The team was in good condition Friday morning for the contest. Kellar has been nursing a sore muscle for the past two days but will be ready for action.

The "B" teams of the two schools will meet prior to the conference tilt. The game has been scheduled to begin at 7 p. m. Ranger does not have a girls team so the Cisco Queens will be idle tonight.

Quick Success Is Goal Of Leaders In Polio Project

Mrs. Lewis Starr, local chairman of the March of Dimes campaign, and her assistants were making rapid strides today in completing plans for the drive in Cisco which they hope will begin with speed and end with quick success.

Plans call for drives in schools, clubs, business houses, a house to house canvass, club participation, a dance, and numerous other activities. Mrs. Starr had made most of her committee appointments and assignments, and expressed elation over the enthusiasm being manifest in the drive.

She announced that Mrs. J. W. Sitton had been made chairman of the drive at the West Ward School. Mrs. Sitton's assistants were named as Mrs. M. D. Conger, Mrs. Fred Coulter, Mrs. Forbes Wallace, Mrs. Chesley Tipton, Mrs. Jeff Gregory, Mrs. Hugh Brown, Mrs. A. D. Taylor, Mrs. Delmar Johnston and all the teachers.

Other school chairmen were: Mrs. Roy Killingsworth, junior high school; Mrs. Charles Sandler, high school; Principal Holmes, east ward; Mrs. R. H. Dunning, Lutheran School; Mrs. L. C. Heltzel, Cisco Junior College and Mrs. Ada Huff, the Negro school.

Chairmen of committees to handle the drive in the local civic clubs and organizations were: churches, Mrs. P. R. Warwick and Mrs. A. R. Collier; American Legion, W. J. Foxworth; Rotary Club, B. A. Butler; 20th Century Club, Mrs. John Shterzer; Delphian Club, Mrs. Louise Waters; Industrial Arts Club, Mrs. Ruby Miller; Child Study Club, Mrs. Pitzer; Music Study Club, Mrs. Ben Krauskopf; Garden Club, Mrs. Don Choate; Lake Cisco Home Demonstration Club, Mrs. D. Ball; Word Home Demonstration Club, Mrs. Ernest Schaefer and general helpers, Mrs. J. D. Yardley and Mrs. Austin Flint.

Workers helping with the business firms in the placing of the miniature iron lungs and individual banks in the stores were: cafes and drive-ins, Mrs. Bill Mitchell, Mrs. Sterling Drumwright and Mrs. Norman Huston; hospitals, Mrs. E. L. Graham; Victor Hotel, Mrs. Ken Russ; grocery stores, Mrs. J. V. Heyser, Sr.; Daniels Hotel and American Bus Terminal, Mrs. Mabel Daniels; Beauty shops, Mrs. Nick Miller; department stores, shoe shops and jewelry stores, Mrs. Gene Abbott; drug stores, Mrs. Forbes Wallace and the Brownies and cleaning plants, Mrs. Richard Bearman.

Collections at the drive-in theater will be taken by the Boy Scouts under the direction of Scoutmaster J. V. Heyser, Jr. The collection at the Palace Theatre will be handled by a group of high school girls under the leadership of Lundy Hooker. Several other workers will be named this week.

The committee to handle the March of Dimes dance had not been completed, but they were to meet Friday or Saturday to complete the arrangements, it was reported. Several street programs are planned for the campaign and everyone was asked to help in raising the $1 per person, man, woman and child, in the city. It was pointed out that there was a huge deficit to be wiped out this year and that approximately $10,000 would be required to clear the county of the indebtedness.

Mrs. R. H. Cutting was chairman of the Mothers March of Polio which is to be conducted on January 29 from 7 to 8 p. m. At that time a complete canvass of the residential area will be made. Mrs. Bethel Gallagher is the assistant chairman of the drive.

The Mothers March will be patterned after the national plan. The city has been divided into five districts with a captain over each district. Mrs. Jeff Gregory has been made captain of district 1.

POLIO AND THE BROADER HORIZON

By WILLIAM O. DOUGLAS, ASSOCIATE JUSTICE

UNITED STATES SUPREME COURT

Editor's Note: William O. Douglas, mountain-climbing Associate Justice of the United States Supreme Court, has led a rugged outdoor life since recovering from polio when a boy. Golfer, horseman, swimmer and world traveler, Justice Douglas is the author of a number of bestsellers including "Of Men and Mountains" and "Beyond the High Himalayas."

Polio has taken healthy arms and legs, the ability to breathe freely the gift of mobility from thousands of people. Yet that tragedy has often given spiritual strength to the weakened bodies. People thrust face to face with the reality of physical disability often get a new sense of values. Non-essentials are stripped away; life remains in its simplest terms. For that reason many victims of infantile paralysis have overcome not only the disease, but the challenge of life itself.

I was an active boy when polio struck. Then, suddenly I was rooted to one spot. Polio had paralyzed my legs so that I couldn't walk. My world closed in upon me, bounded by those things within reach of my arms, or which my family and friends could bring me.

My eyes looked to the horizons where the mountains met the skies. But I had to learn to work toward the less glamorous goals that lay just beyond my fingertips. Before I could again measure distance in miles, I had to think in terms of inches. The space between my bed and the door became an obstacle as challenging as any that was offered by the distant peaks.

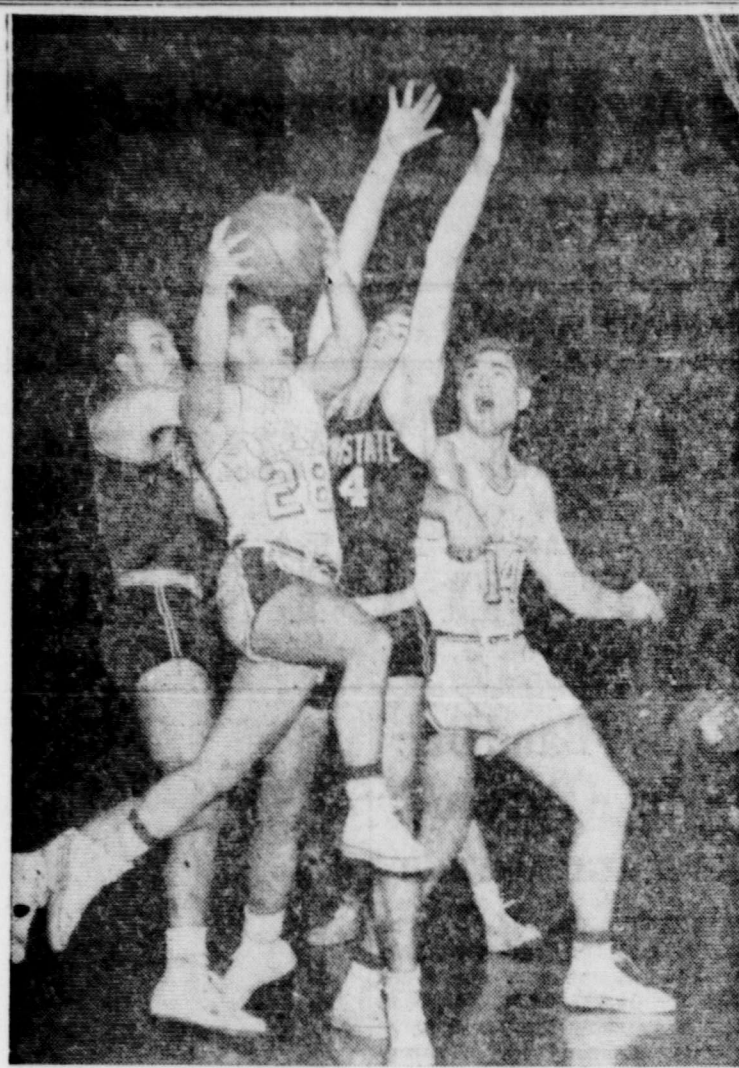

My struggle happily ended in victory. Step by step, my world expanded, until finally the rugged outdoor life was mine. Then I climbed high to see the far horizons. Then I traveled to see what lay beyond even them. As I traveled I saw something more than the great expanses of the earth. I saw the inches, the feet, the miles — and millions of struggling people whose goals lay just beyond the reach of their fingertips.

Such are the goals of thousands of children in the United States today. Many of them lie in iron lungs, painfully conscious of every breath. Many lie immobile in their beds, just beginning to comprehend the nature of the struggle ahead. Others with the help of braces and crutches learn self-confidence, despite the tumblers that mark their progress.

Some of these children will recover. Others will learn to compensate for their disabilities. The extent of their recovery will depend almost entirely upon the help that is given them.

Fortunately their adjustment will not be left to chance. They will be helped through chapters of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, with funds provided through the March of Dimes. Good medical care will be given them; and their hopes will be kept alive.

As I look back on my youth and the period of my affliction, I remember that there was always someone at my side. There was always a friend to point out the distant horizon. There was always someone to help me across the vast expanse of the difficult few inches that marked my path. That is what the March of Dimes is doing today for thousands of boys and girls.

HARD AT IT—Darrell Hedric (28) of Miami, O., had trouble bringing his average height up and over a couple of extra-tall Utah State (dark shirts) basketballers during a tilt in Madison Square Garden. Dick Walls (14) of the Miami team is following the play. Utah State outlasted a Miami, O. rally to win, 79-78, and reach the finals in the basketball festival.

Texas 4-H's Get Top Recognition

TOP RATING honors in the Lone Star State were awarded to four teen-agers for high ratings in the 1952 National 4-H Public Speaking and Citizenship programs. Highlights of their records follow:

Recognition for outstanding performance in the 4-H Public Speaking program went to Marion Dean, 17, of Alvarado, and Patricia Stewart, 18, of Darrouzett. A convincing manner and a timely topic well developed and presented were what it took. Marion received a 17-jewel watch; Patricia a gift chest of lovely silverware, provided by the Pure Oil Co. as state awards in the program.

Marion discussed "What 4-H Means to Me, My Home and My Community" as his prize-winning talk. Primarily 4-H has developed within him a sense of cooperation which has proved invaluable in his club work as well as in his family and community life. He feels that by working for specific goals in 4-H he has developed a sense of direction and purpose in his life. The 4-H spirit of cooperation has helped create unity in his home. Through public demonstrations and exhibits the community is kept well informed on farm and home developments. Finally 4-H benefits his community by developing in its members the qualities of good citizenship.

"I Shall Speak For Freedom" was Patricia's prize-winning topic. She began her talk by enumerating individual conceptions of freedom in a democracy. Finally she revealed the fate of these freedoms under Communism.

Raymond Balusek

Realizing the frightening contrast she reminded her listeners, "Just as we cannot keep drawing on a bank account if deposits are not made, we cannot keep our freedom without continually working toward it."

Statewide recognition and certificates of honor for good citizenship went to Raymond Balusek, 17, of Elmaton, and Jeanine Bearden, 17, of Mt. Enterprise. The 4-H Citizenship program, in honor of Thos. E. Wilson, is designed to encourage 4-H Club members in those attitudes, qualities and acts which reflect a good citizen's concern for others. During seven years of club work, Jeanine always tried to promote better community and club relations. She has given 27 4-H talks, ten of them at community functions, prepared a dairy foods demonstration, encouraged new members to join the 4-H, and helped her club plant a garden at the school.

Learning to assume leadership, and responsibility in club work, Raymond has assisted with county fair livestock and dairy shows for the past five years. He has done recreational work for county and state activities, helped younger club members with projects, and has given 41 talks at 4-H meetings, school, community functions and over the radio. Raymond has been in 4-H work seven years.

Patricia Stewart

All these national 4-H programs are conducted under the direction of the Cooperative Extension Service.

REPORT FROM WASHINGTON

By OMAR BURLESON

This is the first of a series of newsletters which I hope will appear in this paper each week from now on. This column will take the form of a report from Washington by your Congressman. Every effort will be made to advise you of my activities in the Congress and also an objective appraisal of the happenings in the Federal Government.

It is hoped that the readers of this column will look for it each week and become habitual in reading it. Your suggestions and criticisms will be welcomed.

The Eighty-third Congress has opened with the Republicans in charge. As you know, the new President will be inaugurated on January 20, after which time the new Republican Administration will assume the full responsibility of Government policy.

There seemingly prevails a confidence on the part of many in Washington, as well as the people back home, that considerable changes will be brought about. I share in that feeling. Likely it will take considerable time for the new Administration to get into the proper gear and organize itself into smoothly operating machinery. Therefore, we should not expect immediate results, but rather an orderly change which consumes time.

It is my purpose and my pledge to support the new administration in every effort to clean up those places where graft, corruption, and subversiveness have come to light and to reduce extravagance in the handling of public funds. I hope this will be the first order of business on the part of General Eisenhower and his new Administration.

There are many other problems facing the new Administration and the new Congress, both domestic and international. On the domestic side are taxation, labor laws, immigration laws, economic controls, the agriculture program, public lands, banking and currency, veterans' legislation, communications, transportation, military preparedness, and many more vital and fundamental issues.

From the international standpoint, the Korean war, of course, is our immediate concern. The price of peace can be too high, but peace must always be our goal. In my opinion, our entire foreign policy and foreign relations should be over-hauled and re-established on a more realistic basis. We greatly need to improve our world position, and it cannot be purchased by American dollars. We've tried that already.

There is much to be done in the new Congress. I am looking forward to accomplishments in matters of certain legislation which have not been possible in the past. For instance, I hope we can secure early consideration of the Tidelands question. It was my privilege to introduce the first Tidelands Bill in the first minutes of the new Congress.

Eastern Star Holds Meeting On Tuesday

The Order of Eastern Star met for regular session Tuesday evening, January 13, at the Masonic hall.

The meeting opened in regular form with the pledge to the flag by Mrs. Joe Brown, marshal pro. The minutes of the previous meeting were read by Mrs. Irene Britian and plans made for pot luck supper honoring the men of the chapter at the next meeting. The meeting closed in regular form.

Approximately thirty members attended.

Presbyterian Circle Has Regular Meeting

Circle One of the First Presbyterian Church met recently in the home of Mrs. Joe Comingore for the regular meeting.

Roll call was answered by the following: Mesdames Melvin Bailey, Glenn Deitaker, Bill Price, Charles Spears, F. L. Wallace, Ed Waters, Welborn Garrett, Bill Ragg, Vernon Honea, Tom Wilcox, John Kleiner, Grady James, P. McCracken and Miss Helen Crawford.

Reports were given, announcements made, and the orphans home in Itaska and the Pioneer Sunday School Class was announced as the project for this month. Mrs. Glenn Deitaker gave review of the two I's in You and Mrs. Melvin Bailey gave the lesson from Colossians.

A social hour followed and refreshments were served to those present.

Industrial Arts Club Has Meeting Thursday

A program of Citizenship was presented at the regular meeting of the First Industrial Arts Club Thursday, January 15, in the club house with Mrs. B. E. Rehbert as hostess.

The president, Mrs. Raby Miller, opened the meeting by leading the group in the club collection. The president's message was on length of Democracy. The council report was given by Miss Fay Ford. Miss Ford called attention to the articles on Americanism in the Texas Club Woman and reminded members to pay their poll tax. A special collection was taken for the polio fund.

Mrs. R. E. Grantham was in charge of the following program: Citizenship: Know Your Constitution. Mrs. Grantham; Public Affairs Or Personal Affairs and Business Women, Mrs. H. A. Nance; Challenge of Democracy, Mrs. S. H. Nance, and Guideposts of Freedom, Mrs. Rex Moore.

Those present were Mesdames Aycock, H. A. Bible, Frank Ed, N. A. Brown, Joe Clements, E. Coleman, R. E. Grantham, L. Jackson, L. J. Leech, Raby Miller, Rex Moore, B. E. Moore, S. H. Nance, E. J. Poe, Leo Stanton, Leslie Seymour, J. J. Coleman, Miss Olga Faye Ford, a new member, Mrs. J. M. Murray.

Inspirational Meeting Held By Church Group

The monthly inspirational meeting of the Women of the Church of the First Presbyterian Church was held Tuesday at the church with the vice president, Mrs. F. E. Harrell in charge.

Mrs. H. Grady James opened the meeting with prayer and twenty three members and one visitor answered roll call. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. Mrs. Harrell mentioned the meeting of the Presbytery to be held at the church January 20, the women serving the meal, and named committees appointed by Mrs. Kleiner.

The committees are as follows: general committee, Mrs. W. W. Wallace, Mrs. Glenn Deitaker, Miss Willie Word, and Mrs. C. M. Townsley; decorations, Circle One; serving, Circle Two; kitchen, Circle Three; and the paying of dishwashers, Circle Four.

Circle Two was reminded of their responsibility for church decorations during January. The December and January news letters from the Synodical and Presbyterian president were read and Mrs. Jamison read a letter from Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Cleveland, missionaries in Africa.

Mrs. Wallace told of two replies she had received from Christmas cards sent to missionaries. Mrs. Harrell stated that Mrs. Kleiner had received thanks for the Christmas baskets given and informed the women of Mrs. Kleiner's absence due to the illness of her mother, Mrs. J. A. Jensen.

Mrs. Glenn Deitaker was in charge of the program and spoke on Africa from the study book, Lead In Triumph, by Mrs. Conway Wharton, a former missionary to Africa. She then presented Mrs. Conrad Schaefer who gave a review of the book.

Mrs. A. J. Olson told of the colored girl sponsored by the women who is studying music under Mrs. Frank Walker and it was voted to reimburse Mrs. Walker for the price of the music and also to give her a gift in appreciation.

All officers were reminded to give their December and January reports at the business meeting to be held January 27. The meeting closed with prayer by Mrs. A. E. Jamison.

Officers Elected By Rainbow Sponsors

Officers to serve during 1953 were elected at a called meeting of the Advisory Board of the Order of Rainbow for Girls held Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Sam King.

The meeting opened with the Lord's Prayer in unison and with the chairman, Mrs. Carl Gorr, presiding. The following officers were elected: chairman, Mrs. R. L. Justice; mother advisor, Mrs. Zan Burroughs; secretary and reporter, Mrs. T. E. Lisenbee; and advisory board members, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Turknett, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Gorr, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Byrd, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Zan Burroughs, Mrs. W. E. Dean, Mrs. T. E. Lisenbee, Mrs. R. L. Justice, Mrs. Sam King, Mrs. R. L. Mashburn, Mrs. Inez Blair, Mrs. E. G. Damron, Mrs. J. W. Cooper, Mrs. Albert Hansen and Mrs. L. A. Hooker.

Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting to Mr. and Mrs. Joe Brown, Mrs. W. E. Dean, Mrs. Richard Turknett, Mrs. Zan Burroughs, Mrs. Carl Gorr and the hostess, Mrs. Sam King.

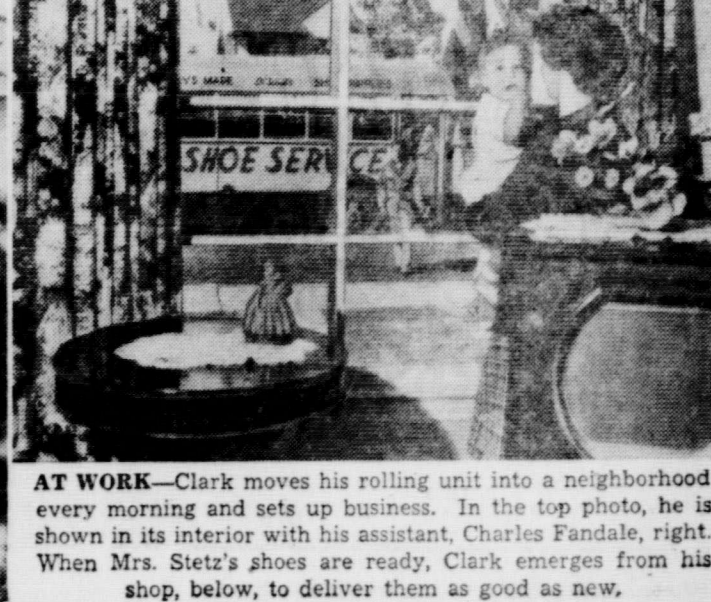

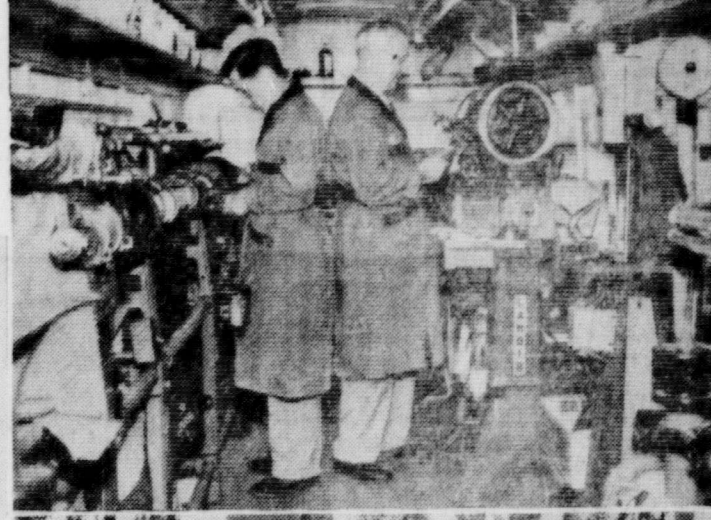

A "Filibuster" originally meant buccaneer or pirate.

CONVENIENCE ON WHEELS

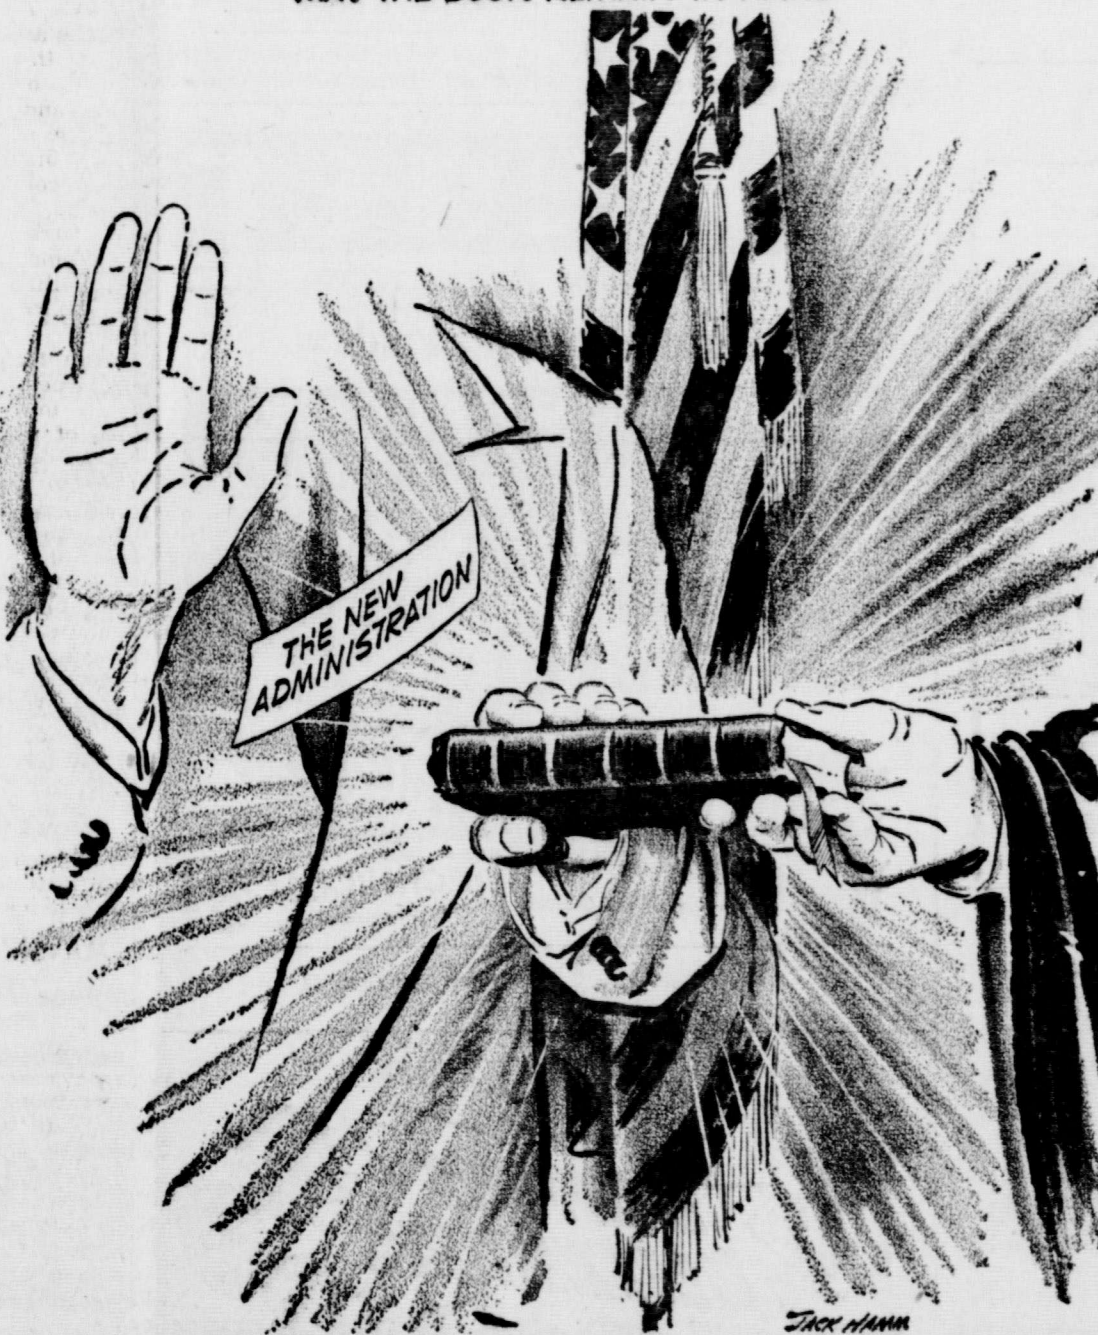

RIGHT OUTSIDE YOUR DOOR—Cobbler David Clark, of Grosse Ile, Mich., has installed a completely-equipped shoe repair service in a converted bus and now offers "curb service." Mrs. Michael Stetz, of Dearborn, is shown handing a pair of shoes to Clark, who makes minor repairs and has a skilled co-worker for major jobs. She won't have to wait long for them.

AT WORK—Clark moves his rolling unit into a neighborhood every morning and sets up business. In the top photo, he is shown in its interior with his assistant, Charles Fandale, right. When Mrs. Stetz's shoes are ready, Clark emerges from his shop, below, to deliver them as good as new.

pulse rate up. So can such things as exercise, posture, and disease. The pulse indicates how fast the heart is going and averages between 72 and 80 beats per minute. Usually it is slightly faster in women than man, and faster in children than adults.

To measure the pulse rate, the patient should sit or lie down. His arm and hand are placed in a relaxed position, thumb up, supported by a chair arm, table or bed. The person counting the pulse places his forefinger or several fingers on the thumb side of the patient's wrist between the tendons, cord-like structures which can be felt through the skin, and the wristbone and locates the beating of the artery, the blood vessel. The pulse beat should be counted for a minute, then its rate checked by counting for still another minute. Practice makes taking the pulse easier, and it is even possible to learn to count your own pulse.

Besides its rate, other characteristics of the pulse may be noted, for example, its regularity (whether or not it skips a beat or slows down and speeds up). Also, its volume, indicating the total volume of blood in the body, is shown by the pulse feeling either full and bounding or small and weak. The pulse pressure means the amount of tension or resistance of the artery wall to the blood. If it is high, the pulse will feel hard to the touch, and it may be difficult to press tightly enough against the artery to determine the rate. If the pressure is low, the pulse feels soft to the touch. A "thready pulse" means that the pulse rate is very rapid, the beats not distinctly separate, and the tension low.

The pulse rate is always an important indication of the patient's condition. It can be roughly estimated but should be more accurately counted using a watch with a second hand.

Roll call in the House of Representatives takes about 25 minutes.
