Rains Cover City, Area

The buckets of heaven were turned upside down Monday evening, dropping more than eight inches of rain on the Colorado City area in about 4½ hours.

When it was over, the damage was substantial to homes, businesses, streets, the city's water system, one bridge was gone, terraces were broken and possibly thousands of acres of newly planted cotton was wiped out.

There were no reported injuries although one unknown person apparently had a close call shortly after the deluge started at 4:30 p.m. The report was that the person was driving a small car which was knocked off the road by a wave of water in a low area on the east side of Lake Colorado City near Cooper's Cove Road. That area is on a paved road between the East Lake Road and Highway 163. Two men went to the aid and rescued the driver.

In the time between the rains started at about 4:30 p.m. and when it finally came to a stop, there were numerous reports of stalled cars and businesses and homes being flooded.

City Manager Ray Mason estimated that some 100 homes and businesses were flooded and untold numbers of others damaged by leaks in the roofs caused by the downpour.

Mason has asked that anyone who got water in their home or business phone his office.

It was the heaviest amount of rainfall since 1962 when 9 inches of rain fell here but even then, there weren't the problems experienced Monday as the nine-inch rain didn't come as fast.

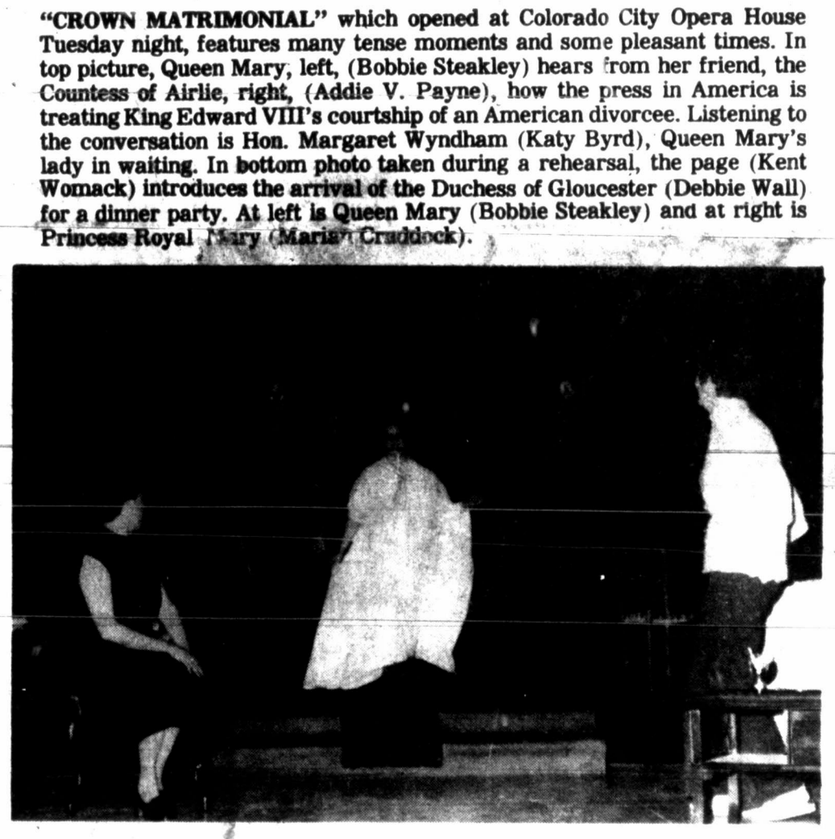

One of the first areas flooded was at 6th and Hickory where water got some three-feet deep and the area blocked to traffic. Water was backed up into Skinney's Convenience Store about an inch deep and the store closed about 8 p.m. Monday so employees could start cleaning up and get the water out.

Play Goes On Stage

By MAC McKINNON

"Crown Matrimonial" is a bloody good show. As you might guess, the story of the show is English and it is now on stage at Colorado City Opera House.

The three-act drama started Tuesday night and runs for five nights, through Saturday night.

Directed by Charolette Northcutt, the set lets the audience feel that it is sitting in the Queen's Sitting Room listening in on private conversation among the royal family.

The conversation has its tense times as well as humorous moments because of the sarcasm in the conversation.

The show is based on King Edward VIII's courtship of an American divorcee and his impending marriage to her. His family is firmly against the marriage as they feel it will bring disgrace to the crown and will weaken the monarch. In addition, the family feels the marriage would be disgraceful as the King is head of the Church of England.

To this King Edward replies that the government and the church is outdated and he is determined to have the American for his wife, on or off the throne. As history tells us, he ends up abdicating, giving up the throne, for the woman he loves. This leads to some very touching and sad moments in the drama.

A large opening night proved very appreciative of the performance of the 10-member cast, giving a standing ovation to the cast at its conclusion.

Playhouse goers are familiar with four members of the cast and expect and receive good performances from these individuals when they are on stage. Their performance in "Crown Matrimonial" is no exception.

Those four are Bobbie Steakley in the role of Queen Mary; Trina Taylor as Elizabeth; Marian Craddock as Princess Royal Mary and Kent Womack as the Page.

There are six newcomers to the stage in this Colorado City Playhouse production and they performed like tried and proven veterans. They are Casey Matlock in the role of King Edward VIII; Walter Hearin as Bertie who becomes King George VI after his brother abdicates; Addie V. Payne as Mabell the longtime friend of the Queen Mother (Queen Mary); Katy Byrd as Margaret, the Lady in waiting to the Queen Mother; Roy Byrd, as Mr. Monckton, King Edward VIII's college friend and advisor and Debbie Wall as Alice, the Duchess of Gloucester, the wife of a brother of the King.

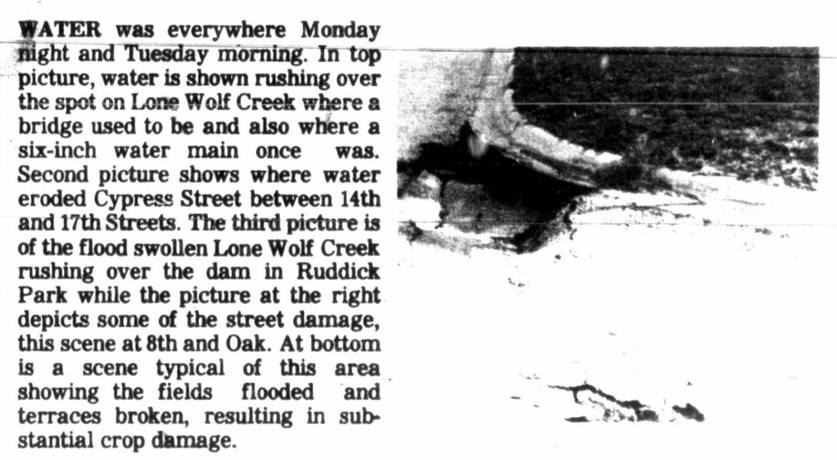

The set, designed constructed and painted by Carl Beery Moore and Marsha Moore, and the furnishings assembled by Tandy Curlee and Kent Womack held an authentic air to the drama.

One of the key factors in making the production authentic was the English accent which the director tells us in the program is the result of coaching by Betty Safford, a Colorado City resident and native of England. In addition, Mrs. Northcutt states that the cast worked very hard in reading and doing background research on the characters they portrayed in order to give them a better understand-

WATER was everywhere Monday night and Tuesday morning. In top picture, water is shown rushing over the spot on Lone Wolf Creek where a bridge used to be and also where a six-inch water main once was. Second picture shows where water eroded Cypress Street between 14th and 17th Streets. The third picture is of the flood swollen Lone Wolf Creek rushing over the dam in Ruddick Park while the picture at the right depicts some of the street damage, this scene at 8th and Oak. At bottom is a scene typical of this area showing the fields flooded and terraces broken, resulting in substantial crop damage.

Courthouse Site Of Ferritor Case

Mitchell County Courthouse was the scene of much debate this week as the case of Jerry Ferritor, charged in the alleged statutory rape of a 14 year old girl, got under way in 32nd District Court with Judge Weldon Kirk presiding.

Ferritor's trial is to be followed in court by the trial of William Dixon who has been charged with three counts of involuntary manslaughter in the McCaulley school bus accident last December. Dixon's trial was moved here on a change of venue from Roby.

Ferritor, 48 who is from Irving, is on trial as a result of the alleged rape of an Austin girl at Jim's Trucktown Diesel Service Stop last January 7.

The majority of the testimony which began Monday afternoon has come from the girl and from Ferritor himself with the girl taking the stand first.

Upon questioning from District Attorney Frank Ginzel and Defense Attorneys Alex LeFevure and James Clark of Snyder, the girl testified that she left home last December 30 because, "I felt I wasn't wanted." She said that she stayed with a friend in Austin until January 2 and from there decided to go out on the road hitchiking.

The girl went on to say that she hitchhiked her way to Kansas City with $5 and a box of clothes and from there went to Nebraska and Colorado. From Colorado she traveled to Albuquerque, down to El Paso and finally on either very late January 6 or very early January 7 found herself in Colorado City.

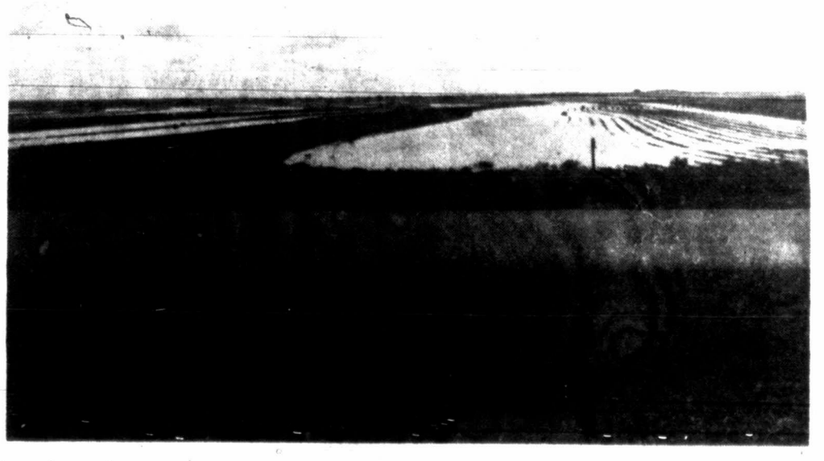

In her testimony she stated that she traveled to Colorado City with a truck driver and when she got to TruckTown she used his CB radio to ask if anyone was going to Dallas. She added that from there she intended to go on back to Austin.

According to the girl, Ferritor answered her call saying that he was parked there at the truck stop and that he would be leaving for Dallas shortly. She said that she got in his truck and the alleged incident occurred not long afterward.

After extensive questioning by both Ginzel and LeFevure, the girl was allowed to retire from the witness stand and the state rested its case about 2 p.m. Tuesday afternoon. At that time Ginzel dropped the charge of "rape by force" against Ferritor leaving the charge of "statuatory rape" to stand against the man.

When Ferritor took the stand he did not deny that the incident had taken place but he said that it was with the girl's consent and he denied that he had used any kind of force on her.

The trial was still in progress as the Record went to press Wednesday.

Woman Dies From Overdose

One death has been reported in Mitchell County as a result of an apparent dosage of "Angel Dust." Mona Dell Wilson, a 22 year old housewife, died Monday morning in an Abilene hospital after being transferred there from the Root Memorial Hospital about three weeks ago.

"Angel Dust" is actually called phencyclidine which is also known as PCP and has been blamed for some 10 deaths in the San Antonio area. There were two cases reportedly connected with this drug in the Snyder area.

Phencyclidine can produce a psychosis resembling schizophrenia, severe depression and intra-cranial hemorrhaging after injection, ingestion or inhalation. The drug made its first appearance in 1957 as Sernyl and was studied as a non-narcotic, non-barbiturate anesthetic agent. Disturbing reports of psychologically distressing emergence and dysphoric postanesthetic reactions, however, brought an end to

The new regulations are: females must wear bathing suits, clothes will not be allowed in the pool. Males must wear regulation bathing suits, gym shorts or hemmed cut offs with no strings hanging down. No one will be allowed to wear T-shirts into the pool.

These regulations were made because of the pool filter system. Strings from clothing get caught in the filter and must be removed.

In addition to the above aquired acknowledgements, several members obtained special attention for the chapter by displaying unusual modeling talents. Sean Wright, commentator for a Mock Style Show, was the perfectly dressed emcee in her boxer shorts, white shirt, tie and suitcoat.

Other members received wild raves from the audience by modeling such attire as white cotton briefs and undershirts displaying the Fruit of the Loom label, a "T-shirt" covered with gold tees, an "eyelet" dress covered with pictures of eyes, a "tent" dress which was an actual tent, and a "print" dress that was covered with writing. Models for the event were: Karen Rose, Sandy Schaffer, Becky Helms, Carolynn Godsey, Judy Bennett and Patrice McKinney.

The Mock Style Show was the entertainment portion of the program for the Founder's Day Banquet which is held annually in honor of William Ross, founder of Beta Sigma Phi.

Helm Presents Program To Maranatha Study Club

The Maranatha Study Club met in the home of Mrs. Marion Bassham Thursday, May 17 at 3:30 p.m.

Mrs. Minnie Howell led the opening prayer and pledge to the United States flag.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and the treasurer's report was given. Five dollars was given to the Woodland Activity Center.

The roll call was answered with a Texas brag. One brag given was "If all the hogs in Texas were one big hog, he could dig the Panama Canal with three roots and a grunt."

Presenting the program was Mrs. Marguerite Helm on the subject: "The Millenial Kingdom Implies A Pretribulation Rapture." She stated that in Luke 16:31, John 5:46 and Luke:25-27 there seems to be proof that the New Testament supports the Millennial Kingdom, but when, where and how we don't know. The Apostle taught the church at Thessalonica that the rapture percedes the great, as has been shown. The Revelation points to the same conclusion.

Mrs. Helm started at the beginning and carried the story through the whole Bible closing with the 20th chapter of Revelations. "If one is going to defend the ideas of a great teacher or thinker let him defend and live by the ideas of God proclaimed in the language of the Bible. After all, it is the knowledge of God that we should seek."

Those attending were: Mmes. Marion Bassham, Margaret Bullock, Della Fox, Billie Martin and Edna Pace.

Also Mmes. Lonie Pruitt, Dona Reed, Cecil Smith, Minnie Howell and Margurtite Helm.

District Workshop Scheduled

The progressive Study Club will host a summer workshop for the Mesquite District of Texas Federation of Women's Clubs at 9:30 a.m. saturday in the Community Room in Haskell.

Members from the 34 clubs will participate in the one day workshop. Topics to be discussed are program planning, reporting and department goals.

Members are to bring a brown bag lunch. Registration fee is $1.25.

According to Mrs. J. C. McGee, district president, "This is for all club women. Mrs. L. H. McBride, president-elect from Hamlin, has planned a very informative program."

Special music will be provided by Charlotte Griffith and Elizabeth Wilson.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN- Besides approving a multitude of other bills on the very last day of the 66th session, the Texas Legislature also finally agreed on a state budget, a school finance plan and tax relief legislation.

Hurriedly pumping out minor bills and putting the finishing touches on major legislation on the 140th and final day of the session is the traditional way of doing things for the Texas Legislature.

The 66th session was no different.

On the way to the last 24 hours of lawmaking, legislators had been sidetracked by such nagging matters as a presidential primary, alterations to the consumer protection act and a change in the usury ceiling.

But with the presidential primary effectively killed by the flight of the "Killer Bees" in the Senate, and with changes in the consumer protection act already passed and with the usury ceiling upped to a maximum of 12 percent, lawmakers spent the final day of the session working on the budget, agreeing on the final details of how public schools would be financed and approving legislation to implement the tax relief amendment passed by voters last November.

The state budget for 1980-81 passed by both Houses after some expected haggling over different provisions of the plan would cost $20.7 billion. That's a 19 percent increase over the last two-year spending plan the Legislature drew up in 1977 during the 65th session.

When you consider that inflation, it appears lawmakers succeeded in keeping spending levels as low as was humanly possible.

But, the $20.7 budget passed on to Gov. Bill Clements for his signature is $1 billion higher than what he suggested to the Legislature in his budget message earlier in the session. Clements wanted to return an additional $1 billion to taxpayers.

Indications are that Clements will approve the spending plan, although some Capitol observers warn that the governor might end up approving one year of the biennial spending draft and then call lawmakers back for a special session to write another one-year budget for the last year of the biennium.

But the special session the governor has said he will call will probably deal with another of his legislative goals-initiative and referendum. The House came close to passing "indirect" initiative and referendum rights for voters, and Clements, addressing the House on the final night of the session, warned lawmakers that he would be seeing them again sometime in the next two years in a special session on the subject.

Included in the state budget were 5.1 percent pay raises for state employees and a boost of 9.9 percent for Department of Public Safety troopers.

Teachers also got a 5.1 percent pay raise on top of automatic step increases, bringing their pay hikes to 7-10 percent.

Last session, Sen. Oscar Mauzy of Dallas, chairman of the Senate Education Committee, found the school finance plan so objectionable he talked until the clock had run out, leaving lawmakers without a plan.

This time, Mauzy said he felt the Legislature had done a better job of "getting equalization aid to the poorer districts."

In the past, Mauzy claimed that the rich school districts were simply getting richer while the poorer ones were getting poorer.

"This is not a perfect bill," Mauzy told his fellow senators, "but it's a good bill that I wholeheartedly recommend to you in good faith."

The school finance package contains $334 million new money for teacher pay, $152 million for equalization to school districts and almost $100 million in additional funds for the operation and maintenance of public schools.

Inseparable from the question of school finance is the matter of tax relief legislation. House Bill 1060, the measure to implement the constitutional amendment approved by voters, is expected to cost local school districts across the state almost $384 million.

Homestead exemptions will be granted under the tax relief legislation for the elderly and the disabled. Family cars and household goods are also exempted. And farm and ranch land will be taxed on its productivity rather than its market value.

What legislators had to agree on was a plan to reimburse local school districts for the tax dollars they would be losing. House Bill 1060 contained $200 million for reimbursement and the school finance plan ended up containing $184 million for the same purpose.

But how that $384 million set aside for reimbursement would be parceled out was another question. Lobbyist for the large metropolitan school districts- in most cases the richer districts-pushed for a minimum 45-cents per dollar reimbursement plan and got it. But, to use another example, Austin would be reimbursed 67-cents for every dollar lost because of mandated tax breaks.

Austin Sen. Lloyd Doggett said that the increased payments to the large school districts would mean a decrease in longevity pay for state employees.

And Sen. Bill Moore of Bryan labelled HB 1060 as "a fraud and a sham" because of the compromises made after heavy pressure was applied by lobbyists from Dallas and Houston.

But a representative of the Dallas school district was quick to point out that even with the reimbursement plan plus other state aid, DISD would fall $45 million shy of its revenue needs.

And Dallas may not be the only school district that will be facing that same problem after tax relief legislation is put into effect.

That means of course that some programs will have to be cut back or new taxes will have to levied. That led one Dallas school representative to say that he thought and new taxes that might have to be collected should be called the "Briscoe Tax," after former Gov. Dolph Briscoe who called a special session last summer to draw up tax relief legislation.

Critics charge that HB 1060 is not a tax relief measure but merely a shifting of the tax burden from local school districts to the state.

And those same critics point out that the average homeowner will probably only save $40-$50 in taxes in each of the next two years.

College Loans Available At HC

Each year many individuals in Colorado City and the surrounding area consider furthering their education at Howard College. However, when registration time arrives they fail to enroll because they feel they cannot afford the extra expense involved. They postpone the furthering of their education in hopes that maybe next year they will have enough money.

For the majority of these potential students the delay is totally unnecessary. Howard College has available almost $200,000 in the form of Basic Educational opportunity Grants (BEOG), College Work-Study jobs (CWS), National Direct Student Loans (NDSL), Dora Roberts short term loans, Law Enforcement Education Program Grants (LEEP), and scholarships from campus as well as off-campus sources.

Many students applying for the various programs to help pay college bills will find it easier to qualify because of the Middle Income Assistance Act. Passed by Congress last fall, it expands existing federal student aid programs so that families with incomes of $25,000, and sometimes more, can qualify for grants through the BEOG program. This new legislation makes it even more likely that students will be elgible to receive the money they may need to attend college.

With the new and more lenient eligiiibility formula affecting both income and assets, it is conceivable that a family with a $40,000 annual income might qualify for a Basic Grant. That family, however, would probably be larger than average, have few assets, heavy expenses or unusual financial circumstances and more than one child in college.

Families who have been traditionally eligible for financial aid (those from lower income brackets) will continue to be elgible and probably will receive larger grants as a result of the new formula.

To be considered for financial assistance at Howard College, a student must submit a family financial statement to the American College Testing (ACT) Program. This single form will enable a student to be considered for the BEOG, CWS and NDSL. The FFS along with the forms for the other aid programs and scholarships are available in the Financial Aid Office in the Administration Building at Howard College each weekday from 8:00-12:00 and 1:00-5:00 p.m.

Once the student completes the FFS application and submits it to ACT, the process takes between four and six weeks to complete. Therefore, it is imperative that anyone who is planning to attend college next year (full or part time) submit their application immediately. The Financial Aid Office at Howard College will be glad to assist anyone who is interested in any of the programs.

Payments Received

In a recent news release from the comptroller of public accounts, Bob Bullock, State comptroller, said Texas counties will share more than $365,407 in state funds under a law designed to encourage voter registration and accurate registration lists.

Bullock said the Texas Election Code directs the Comptroller's Ad Valorem Division to make payments to counties for reimbursement of voter registration activities.

The law provides local reimbursement of 40 cents for each new registered voter and 40 cents for each cancellation made to update lists.

Voter payments and registration in Mitchell County for the period Feburary 1, 1978-January 31, 1979 was $179.20.

Reeder Dies In Odessa

Born June 3, 1891 in Dekabb, Texas, she had lived in Monahans since 1972 when she moved from Abernathy. She was a retired school teacher and a 1950 honor graduate of Texas Tech University at the age of 59. She got her degree in three years. She was a Baptist.

Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. C. M. Watson of Monahans and Mrs. N. E. NOLEN BIRD, SCS technician, checks the SCS rain gauge at the G-Kell Building north of Interstate 20. The 15 inch rain gauge recorded 7.8" of rain falling on June 4.

were flooded in the area of 14th and Oak, in the 1000 block of East 6th, at 10th and Pine, in the downtown area along Walnut. A substantial number of businesses and homes reported leaking roofs with Colorado High School apparently suffering the worst damage. The new inclines at Wolf Stadium were rutted out by the runoff and a two to three-foot deep hole was made by the runoff on Cypress and between 14th and 17th Streets.

The high school had some 25 leaks with some carpeting getting wet as the rain came under doors at the entrance wat of the school and also part of the acoustical tile in the teachers' lounge got wet and fell out of place, according to Principal Jerry Reynolds.

An awning behind Kiker-Seal Funeral Home collapsed under the rain.

The city lost the bridge on Front Street over the Lone Wolf Creek and as a result, a six-inch water main was washed out. It took until 3:30 a.m. Tuesday before city crews could find the leak that had left the city without water pressure for some seven hours.

The water pressure was back on before most people got out of bed Tuesday as city water crews worked through the night. There are apparently a number of other leaks caused by the flooding but they are not of danger to the city's water supply and will be found as soon as possible, said City Water Superintendent Buzz Rich.

As the result of the large line being washed out, some 25 homes were without water Tuesday but that was to be remedied as soon as possible Rich said.

The rain brought about an increase in the levels of both county lakes as Lake Colorado City and Lake Champion both gained more than two feet each with water still running in. Lake Colorado City now has an elevation of 2060.3 feet while Lake Champion has an elevation of 2,051.4 feet. Morgan Creek was still running some Wednesday as was North Champion Creek. South Champion got very little runoff.

The rain apparently was concentrated in the area over Colorado City as the city received the heaviest rainfall, officially 8.63 inches. Loraine received 3.5 inches, experiencing some street damage; Lake Colorado City received 6.6 inches and Westbrook reported five inches. Buford, the scene of flooding only two weeks before this rain fell, got another four inches, bringing their total to more than 11 inches in a 14 day period.

However, a large area of the country didn't get a drop of rain. The TUF Ranch didn't get a drop, Owner Joe Maddox reported, nor did the Spade Ranch, Foreman Bob Northcutt said. An area of the Spade community received not quite an inch but it stopped there.

Utility Companies reported only minor trouble as Texas Electric had some power outages caused by lightening but this was solved in only a short time and crews went home by 11:30 p.m. Monday. Lone Wolf Electric didn't have any trouble while Southwestern Bell Telephone crews worked a number of hours on problems caused by the downpour.

Agriculture Stablization and Conservation Service Director Don Stewart said the damage was the worst he has seen in his nine years here. There is substantial damage to terraces and crops and sedimentation is a problem. Stewart estimated that about 50 percent of the cotton crop has been planted this year and although he has not completely surveyed the damage and didn't know the entire scope of the storm he guessed that some 15 to 20 percent of the crops that had been planted was destroyed.

This comes on top of damage already done just two weeks ago by the flooding in the Buford area and damage estimates have already been turned in on that storm, Stewart said.

This causes a problem in getting assistance because of the high frequency of farming disasters here. Those who have received prior aid because of disasters are not eligible for assistance again, Stewart noted. He noted that disaster assistance has been needed in 1970-1971, 1975-1976, 1977-1978 and just two weeks ago.

Colorado City police, street and water crews, volunteer firemen, the paid staff of the fire department, sheriff's officers and highway patrolmen worked throughout the storm to pull stranded motorists out of high water and one lady was taken from her home to the police station for safety after she feared the high water might damage her home.

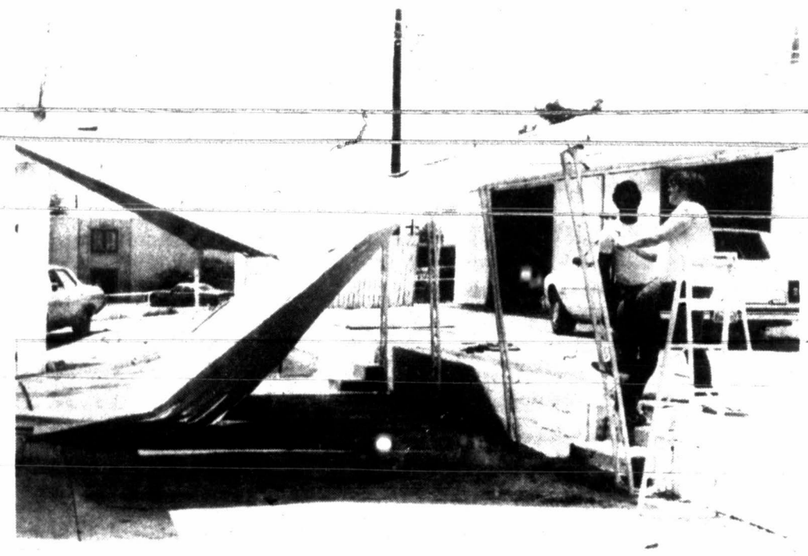

The City Manager praised the city crews and all workers for their efforts and noted that they helped make a difficult situation a little easier.

Mason noted that if the rain had continued for another hour, the situation could have gotten out of hand. That's just how close disaster was. Now city officials are watching the skies, hoping predictions for more rain don't come true.

In the meantime, Mason reported he is seeking federal and state aid for those with damaged homes as well as to help the city pay for the street, water line and bridge repairs.

THE COLORADO CITY SWIMMING POOL was enjoying a splashing business early Monday afternoon as evidenced by the above photo. Soon afterwards, the rains came and no one needed to get into a swimming pool to get wet.

KIKER-SEALE FUNERAL HOME was one of the local businesses which received damage from Monday night's downpour. This awning behind the funeral home had collapsed completely by storm's end.

ing of what was taking place so they could relay the feeling to the audience. This they do quite well.

The audience also was impressed with the tremendous costuming and make-up. Queen Mary's clothes are stunning and worth the price of admission to see. They were designed by Mrs. Northcutt, Mrs. Steakley and Ann Nobles with Mrs. Nobles making them. Also assisting in costuming was Donna McKinnon and Trina Taylor. Assistance with hairdos was given by Janie Greenlee and make-up by Rita Latimer, Trish Jordan and Jolyn Mikow.

Sound effects and music for the show was put together by George Womack while lighting is by Sean Wright, Linda Marion and Scott Haggerton. Stage manager is Kathy Wilson.

A very good program was designed and produced by Carl Beery Moore, printed by Bob Dennis with Donna McKinnon in charge of reservations and house prepartion. Ticket preparation was by Marie Jackson, shadow boxes which have newspaper and magazine clippings from the 1930's about King Edward VIII were put together by Mrs. Northcutt. In charge of the Red Dog Saloon are Mac Perkin and Leslie Perkins, Nella Parker is in charge of providing the usherettes and Kent Womack takes care of grounds preparation. House Manager is John Tom Merritt.

There are still tickets available for this entertaining and educational production. The box office will be open 1-8 p.m. today, Friday and Saturday. Curtain time each night is 8 p.m. Reservations may be made by phoning 728-3491. Cost of tickets is only $3.50 per person, a very reasonable price for a good evening of entertainment.

Make your plans now to attend the show one of these next three nights. You'll be glad you did.

Remodeling Of Loraine Home Completed

The Home Of Mr. And Mrs. Calvin Forbus Is Toured

By Ida Baird
and Lanette Ramage

The Calvin Forbus home on School Avenue in Loraine could very well be called "House Beautiful." The outside and interior would make a good model home, but back in 1962 the house was a direct opposite.

This house was moved to Loraine in 1962 from a farm five miles west of Midland onto two lots. ... was a frame house, five rooms and one bath.

The remodeling started as soon as the house was moved in. They started tearing out cabinets, closing doors, making new doors, scraping off paint and all the other things that go with stripping a house to the bare wall. They replaced it with accoustical tile, paneling, added another bath and a lot of other things.

When the house was set on the lots it was set sideways. When remodeling started the outside was done in pink asbestos siding.

Following the work inside came the land scaping, sidewalks, curbs and driveway. They did all this work while keeping their upholstery business going. At 5 p.m. Forbus would close his workshop and work on the house until midnight. He also worked on Saturdays and holidays. There was very little hired work done on the house. After six to eight months of hard labor the Forbus family moved into the house and continued to work on it using their own plans and ideas.

Since that time they have changed the interior, extended the blue decorated bedroom, removed old and added new aluminum oval windows, built a large den and bricked the house. Their last project has recently been completed, that of building a 24 by 30 ft. upstairs with a 10 by 10 ft. balcony, finished with wrought iron banisters, again doing most of the labor themselves. Jessie Castro did some of the bedding and taping and also did some of the accoustical ceiling.

Other building that has been done has been a long covered patio, a new workshop, a storage house, tables and barbecue grills.

Much thought and planning went into plans for the two car carport-garage. Six oval openings on each side will later be filled with wrought iron. The entrance to the den is from the carport.

As you enter the den you see the fireplace that is made of Arkansas stone. The fireplace extends across one end of the room and is built up to the height for a long covered seat, part of which is used for the wood box. Arkansas stone was also used for the bookcase and planter.

The furniture in the den consists of matching sofas and chairs in coordinating colors, a TV, piano, a black slate round table with a wrought iron base, glass chandelier, ottoman and a copper pot accented with red, yellow and green flowers.

The den floor is laid with quarry tile.

From the den to the right is the kitchen-dining area. The cabinets are done in birch with a natural finish. By the kitchen sink is a bar.

The dining area has a black Spanish topped table with matching chairs. The windows are covered with a black Spanish type cornice board accented with gold drapes.

From the kitchen you go into a small sitting room. The furniture accents are in gold and autumn colors. There is a love seat and a over stuffed chair. The window cornice is done in gold accented with gold drapes.

From this room is the melon carpeted staircase leading to the master bedroom-living area. Looking up from the center of the sitting room is the five branched chandelier hanging from the upstairs ceiling. This beautiful fixture has a brass base with crystal globes and china bases.

From the sitting room you walk into the living room which is done in shades of purple with white and ivory accents. The furniture in this room consists of a long ivory sofa, a glass table supported with a gold flower pedistal and orchid and purple chairs. The couch is accented with purple velvet pillows. There is also a table draped with purple velvet in front of the white drapes.

In the center of the living room is a large crystal chandelier which reflects shades of purple and blue.

From the living room you enter a bedroom done in shades of blue with blue carpet. The bed, with it's blue velvet tufted head board, is accented with a simulated canopy. In the center of the canopy is a crystal chandelier. The canopy is further accented with crystal prisms.

On either side of the bed is a recessed area that will be decorated later.

The sitting area of the bedroom has blue velvet chairs and gold trimmed furniture.

Adjoining the room is a large bathroom with a dressing table that extends the length of the room. The accessories are coordinated in shades of blue. The window has a blue cornice board with a blue window shade.

From the bedroom a double sliding glass door leads onto the large covered patio.

As you enter another bedroom all the accessories are in red velvet. The bed is covered with a white spread and the head board is done in red tufted velvet. The drapes and chair are done in matching red.

A small hall leads from the red bedroom into a lovely blue accented bathroom. This room has a blue tile dressing table accented with mirrors, a glass chandelier and has matching shutters on the window.

Accents for the third bedroom downstairs are in hot pink. The carpet is pink to offset the floral bedspread. The furniture in this room includes a double dresser, cedar chest and a chair. The drapes are hot pink with an antique cornice board.

The master bedroom-sitting room upstairs is carpeted in melon with a melon and coordinating colors used throughout the room.

The king size bed has a tufted lemon yellow head board. At the foot of the bed is a matching bed spread bench.

In the sitting area there is a sofa table, a love seat done in green and oyster stripes and two chairs. A gold candle tree, a gold lighted etagere holding souvenirs and monentoes and a large ornate vase with an arrangement of pampas grass in orange, green and melon completes the decor of the sitting area.

The windows are covered with sheer panels with drapes and cornice boards to match.

The master bath is done in melon and rust colors with a white floor. The fixtures are white marble with gold faucets. The vanity is antique white marble with gold streaks. Above the vanity are two oval mirrors trimmed in gold and black. In between the mirrors are yellow lamps with white globes accented with flowers.

Melon sheers drape around the bath tub accented with a velvet cornice board to complete the decor of the master bath.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Forbus have lived in Loraine all their lives. They have one daughter, Marilyn, now residing in Tyler. She is married to Rev. Harold Davis and they have two daughters, Dondra and Dodie.

We'll Be Happy To Explain
Value and Economy
For Your Tire Dollar
Every Michelin 'X' tire is backed by a 40,000 mile warranty for tread wear on domestic cars. That's just about twice the mileage you'd expect from a conventional tire under the same driving conditions. Also, because of its radial design the Michelin 'X' rolls with less road resistance than conventional tires, and that means you can save up to 10% on your present gas consumption (pretty good considering today's fuel crisis.) Plus, every Michelin 'X' tire gives you all the distinctive radial tire advantages over conventional bias-ply tires; smoother ride, easier handling, better traction and firmer road holding. And, they add up to a lot of comfort and safety. Invest in better driving. Stop in and have a set of Michelin 'X' radials installed today.

Inflation affects your electric bill even more than your grocery bill.

Every time you go to the grocery store you can see what inflation's doing to your food bill. But because you don't buy electricity by the can, you probably don't realize how inflation affects the cost of electricity.

Fuel costs are up, particularly natural gas. Equipment costs are up. Power lines, transformers and poles cost us more every day. Just like milk costs you more every day.

The millions of dollars we must borrow to build plants to ensure your electricity needs in the future are costing us more.

The cost of building these plants is higher, too, because of inflation. And because of the time and money it takes to comply with an ever-increasing number of government regulations. The longer it takes to build, the more inflation takes its toll.

Inflation, overregulation and rising fuel costs are all making your electricity cost you more. But by using electricity wisely you can do your part in keeping that cost down in your home.

At Texas Electric, we want you to know what you're paying for.
