Soviets Critical

MOSCOW (AP) — The draft platform proposed by the Republican party for its convention at Miami Beach Fla., came in for sharp criticism today from the official Soviet news agency.

Tass said the platform points out various problems of the country but "proposes no concrete measures for remedying these ills of American society."

"It offers only vague generalities and promises courageous and understanding leadership."

The Tass report, by O. Anichkin and H. Freeman, added: "While the foreign policy section of the program attempts to compromise the views of the moderate and ultra wings of the party, it contains strong traces of Goldwaterism, nevertheless . . .

"Concerning the war in Vietnam, the most burning issue in the country, the Republican program is critical of the administration but offers no clear alternative to its policy . . .

"Thus the Republican program, while pointing to the manifestations of mass unrest and acknowledging the socio-political crisis in the country, offers no solution to the country's problems and no genuine alternative to the discredited policies of the present administration."

Cong Arms, Money Uncovered By Allies

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — Allied forces uncovered over the weekend half a dozen more caches of arms, apparently stockpiled for the third major Viet Cong offensive of the year. The nights brought more enemy mortar attacks, but still no major ground fighting was reported.

The U.S. Command announced the finding of the arms and also a Viet Cong money hoard—$150,000 in $50 bills. It was the largest such find of the war.

The enemy arms were found in bunkers with false bottoms, in caves and in rice paddies from the Mekong Delta to the demilitarized zone. U.S. officials said that in recent months allied troops have turned up enough arms, ammunition and equipment for 50 enemy battalions, or as many as 20,000 troops.

One munitions cache was found by U.S. Marines on a reconnaissance missoon Sunday six miles northeast of Khe Sanh, in the northwest corner of the country.

"The Marines found seven bunkers with false bottoms and the cache was found in the bunkers," a spokesman said. It included six mortar tubes, 10 chinese submachine guns, 2,100 mortar rounds, 150 rounds of recoilless rifle ammunition, 465 rounds of bazooka-type rockets and 140 claymore mines.

The $150,000 in U.S. currency was found in sandbags and ammunition cans in a partly camouflaged cave on the central coast 300 miles northeast of Saigon. The hoard also included 935,000 piasters, worth $7,923.

U.S. sources said Viet Cong documents found with the money indicated it was to be converted into piasters for the purchase of food and other supplies. The sources said the bills probably were obtained from the international money market.

A U.S. spokesman said the money would be turned over to the U.S. Treasury.

In the Mekong Delta about 120 miles southwest of Saigon, a "Blackhawk" force of U.S. helicopters and South Vietnamese ground troops located three arms caches containing 10 individual weapons, 36 rocket grenades, 15 mines, 25 bangalore torpedoes, 115 grenades, 1,000 pounds of TNT, one generator and other supplies and equipment.

Troops of the U.S. 25th Infantry Division found six 122mm rocket warheads and motors nine miles northwest of Saigon and destroyed them.

Firebomb Incidents Break Racine Calm

RACINE, Wis. (AP) — Firebombing and rock throwing incidents involving bands of Negroes broke the calm here Sunday night.

The vandalism broke out in the same South Side area hit by vandalism and looting Saturday night after a fight between two Negroes at a dance.

A firebomb burst in the front hallway of a restaurant, but was quickly put out, said Fire Chief Russell Anderson.

Police reported roving bands of Negroes tossing rocks and bottles at cars and store windows. No injuries were reported after the trouble broke out about 11:30.

Nixon Leads As GOPs Convene

By JACK BELL and BARRY SCHWEID
Associated Press Writers

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The Republican party opened its 29th national convention today with Richard M. Nixon pushing hard to win the GOP presidential nomination on the first ballot.

By the Associated Press's count he was about 100 votes short and his two top challengers, Govs. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York and Ronald Reagan of California, were pinning their hopes on extending the balloting Wednesday night beyond two rounds.

Rockefeller got a big break when the 58-vote Ohio delegation caucused just before the opening and decided to stick with Gov. James A. Rhodes, a favorite son, on the first ballot.

Rockefeller's strategy is to try to keep the several favorite son candidacies among the states alive long enough to give the impression that Nixon does not have the strength to go over the top.

Reagan meanwhile, was striving to pick off individual delegatesas an effort which Rockefeller said at a news conference was meeting with some succes.

"I think the movement is to Reagan in many of the delegations," Rockefeller said.

Of his own efforts, he said he is picking up "bits and pieces." The governor said his count showed Nixon with 550, himself with 350 and Reagan with 250.

The AP figured it Nixon 566, Rockefeller 232 and Reagan 159, with 144 delegates uncommitted and a whopping 232 for favorite sons. Needed for victory: 667.

Rockefeller beamed, winked and joked as he fielded newsmen's questions. But he was unable to report any massive shift of strength to his side and said he wasn't planning any major announcement between now and Wednesday night, when the balloting begins.

The Ohioans, meanwhile, decided at a breakfast meeting to stand behind Rhodes, at least on the first round. All but two of the 58 acceeded to this tactic. The two mavericks were considered Nixon men.

The delegation chairman, John S. Andrews, said Reagan was trying to meet with the group and "we are attempting to work that out."

At the same time, Herbert G. Klein, Nixon's chief press spokesman, was telling reporters the former vice president did not intend to leave the choice of a running mate to the delegates.

Rather, Klein said, Nixon "will ask the convention to nominate his choice" and will disclose his choice after the presidential nominee is picked.

Nixon was due to fly in from New York later today to direct his drive from up close. There has been no doubt, though, that he has been calling all the shots.

The third in the field, Reagan, predicted the fight for the top spot would go beyond one ballot. He told newsmen cheerfully that the race was still open.

Both Rockefeller and Reagan brushed aside the possibility of second place on the GOP ticket.

"I was not built for standby equipment," Rockefeller said.

Said Reagan: "I ruled myself out of that spot some time ago."

Reagan, quoted as telling an Alabama delegation caucus "I'm in this to win," was by all odds the busiest candidate in this overstuffed and overheated convention town.

Taking time out for a $500 plate fund-raising gala, Reagan scooted about town, meeting with southern and Rocky Mountain delegations in his efforts to win first ballot support away from Nixon.

Rockefeller, who called a morning news conference, registered an upsurge when 13 of Rhode Island delegates caucused on their arrival and agreed to cast a first ballot vote for the New York governor.

Rockefeller was assured Massachusetts' 34 votes on the first round because of his write-in victory in that state's primary. However Gov. John A. Volpe was working hard to swing a majority to Nixon on the second ballot, if there is one, as his all but vanished hopes for the vice presidential nomination.

DESPITE ASSURANCE

Prague Expects More Strain

By HANNS NEUERBOURG
Associated Press Writer

PRAGUE (AP) — A truce prevailed in the Soviet bloc today with Czechoslovakia's liberal Communist leaders and the Soviet press each assuring their people all was well in the wake of the Bratislava conference.

Observers in Prague foresaw more strains between the Czechoslovak leadership and such defenders of the Communist status quo as Walter Ulbricht of East Germany and Wladyslaw Gomulka of Poland. But the future looked brighter for party chief Alexander Dubcek and his associates than it had in many weeks.

Dubcek gave fresh assurances to dispell any lingering suspicions that his group had been forced off their liberal course by the Russians and their allies at the meetings in Slovakia last week.

"We are determined to continue on the road we have taken," Dubcek said in a broadcast Sunday night. "For the people of this republic there is no other way."

Dubcek asserted that Czechoslovakia's "expectations were fulfilled" at the Bratislava meeting Saturday with the Russians and the Communist leaders of East Germany ,Hungary, Bulgaria and Poland.

He pointed out that the joint declaration signed at the meeting contained a virtual hands off pledge that leaves Czechoslovakia free to continue its new course.

The document guaranteed the right of every party to develop along its own lines, "taking into account the national characteristic and conditions" of each country. It also bound all signatories to close cooperation in matters dealing with foreign policy.

Dubcek said it was acknowledged in Bratislava that "mutual relations of Socialist countries must be based on real internationalism, which harmoniously combines the principles of equality, sovereignty, national independence and territorial inviolability."

He said this "fully complies with the regeneration process started in January" when Dubcek and his associates ousted President Antonin Novotny and others of the party old guard.

Dubcek spoke of the possibility of further democratization in Czechoslovakia and re-emphasized that "we are determined to continue advancing the post-January road." At another point he added: "There are no justified fears for our sovereignty."

Shots Exchanged Across Jordan

By RODNEY PINDER
Associated Press Writer

TEL AVIV (AP) — Arab and Israeli forces exchanged fire across the Jordan River for the second straight day today following a retaliatory strike by Israeli warplanes which the Israelis claimed destroyed Arab guerrilla bases only 15 miles from the Jordanian capital of Amman.

An Israeli army spokesman said Jordanian troops rained bazooka and mortar shells on three settlements in the Beisan Valley. Israeli forces returned the fire, he said, and no Israeli casualties were reported.

Israeli jets streaked across the Jordan River Sunday and dealt what military spokesmen called "a substantial blow" to Arab guerrilla bases inside Jordan.

Jordan reported 23 civilians and five of its soldiers killed in the air attack and 82 persons wounded. It claimed one U.S.-built Israeli Skyhawk jet was downed. But Israel said all of its planes returned safely.

Both Jordan and Israel notified the U.N. Security Council of the air raid, and Jordan charged the Israelis with aggression. But neither asked for any U.N. action.

The air strike—first in two months against Jordanian territory—"completely destroyed" two guerrilla bases near the town of Salt, 11 miles across the Jordan River and 15 miles west of the capital, the Israeli chief of staff, Maj. Gen. Haim Bar-Lev reported.

Premier Levi Eshkol said the attack was in retaliation for a month of increased guerrilla activity by Arab infiltrators based in Jordan. He warned that stepped-up infiltration was creating "the same chain of events which led to the June war" in 1967.

80 Per Cent Of Dam Is Complete

Steady progress is being made on projects connected with the Colorado River Municipal Water District's lake at Robert Lee.

Work on the dam is nearing the 80 per cent mark, said O. H. Ivie, general manager. The last of the core trench has been cut and backfill begun with select material. Saturday traffic on State Highway 158 (Robert Lee-Sterling City) was diverted over the new section which puts the road around the south end of the dam and will permit the contractor, Clement Bros., unhampered operations in bringing the north flank of the dam to the channel.

Last major pour on the spillway has been made with the morning glory section. All of the 28-ft. diameter spillway tunnel under the dam has now been poured, leaving only some items in the stilling basin and the south wing walls. Everything is moving toward the projected closure of the dam sometime in October, said Ivie.

Upstream, earth work on 17 oil wells mounds for Humble has been completed, and rock rip rap is being put on the mounds. Work will start soon on the substructure for the main pump station six miles upstream from the dam. Similarly, work is due soon on a drip station and intake station for Union of Texas and Humble.

Panhandle Construction Company lacks only three miles on the east end of the Big Spring Martin County pump station 30-mile section of 33-in. line. The west 11 miles have been hydrastatically tested and is in good condition. A conference between the CRMWD, engineers and contractors for 37 miles of 21-in., 27-in. and 42-in. pipeline is due Tuesday in Big Spring.

DEAR ABBY: I have been married for 16 years to a man named John. John has absolutely nothing whatsoever to do with me anymore. Physically, I mean. He is very sweet to me, and gives me everything I want — except love.

I think there is someone else. John is giving his love to. I have talked to him about this and he laughs at me. He swears he doesn't have anyone else, but he MUST have. After all, he isn't an old man . . . He is only 41. (I am 38). We have two children who need a father, but I also need a husband. Should I continue to live with John without his love? Or should I tell him to go and live with whoever it is he is loving?

WHAT TO DO

DEAR WHAT: Don't be so positive that John has someone else. It is entirely possible that he hasn't. You are both too young to live without love. See your family physician for an examination from the neck both ways. And take John with you.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: You had a letter in your column from a girl who told her mother that she was spending the evening at a girl friend's house, but instead she went over there and had a fellow pick her up for a pre-arranged date. Her mother found out about it and grounded the girl for a month.

Well, I can sympathize with the girl because the same thing happened to me about a year ago. You say that people lie because they don't have the courage to tell the truth. Well, I can tell you why I lied. Because if I told my mother I had a date, she would ask me who with, where I met him, what his father did and lots of questions like that, and rather than go thru the third degree, I lied.

If parents didn't insist on knowing the whole life history of every boy their daughters dated, there would be a lot less lying.

AVERAGE TEEN - AGER

DEAR TEEN-AGER: If a girl can't tell her mother who the boy is, where she met him, and a few facts about his family, she shouldn't be dating him. Any boy who would pick his date up at her girl friend's house and permit her to lie to her mother is bad news.

DEAR ABBY: I am 13 years old and have a paper route. I work hard at it and, if I have to say so myself, I do a good job. I get the newspapers there on time, always put them where the customers can get them, and I have never had any complaints. My complaint is that my parents won't let me do what I want to do with the money I earn. I want to buy a motor scooter. I have the money saved up and know where I can get a real good deal on one. I'm not old enough to get a license to drive one, but I could get it and drive it around on the back roads where it is safe. Please say a good word for me. My parents read you like they read the Bible.

DOUGIE

DEAR DOUGIE: It doesn't matter if you have enough money to buy a CADILLAC. Your parents permission is more important than the money involved. Heed their advice, Son, you will never regret it.

Pope Says Edict Is Misunderstood

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Pope Paul VI said Sunday that his encyclical banning artificial birth control had been misunderstood by some critics and emphasized it did not bar "reasonable" limitation of families. But meanwhile the dispute among Roman Catholics over obedience to the papal ban showed no sign of abating.

Addressing thousands of pilgrims to his summer residence south of Rome, the 70-year-old pontiff said the policy he proclaimed "is not in itself opposed —as some seem to think—to a reasonable limitation of birth, nor to scientific research and therapeutic cures, nor even to a truly responsible parenthood nor to peace and family harmony."

The Pope's encyclical, Of Human Life, renewed the church's prohibition against chemical and mechanical methods of contraception. Total abstinence and the rhythm method of abstinence during the wife's fertility period remain the only methods approved by the church.

Obviously concerned by the growing opposition to his decision, the Pope said: "We know that there are many who have not appreciated our teaching. In fact many oppose it. In a certain sense we can understand this incomprehension and also this opposition."

But he gave no indications of retreating from his decision, and said his encyclical "is derived from the laws of God." While not issued as infallible, the encyclical is considered binding on the world's half-billion Catholics.

America Catholics who went to church on the first Sunday after the encyclical was issued, heard every shade of comment from their priests, including outspoken support for the Pope by high church officials, "It's up to you" statements by some lower ranking clerics, and open opposition by other priests and theologians.

In Washington, the Catholic University of American announced that the number of American Catholic theologians opposing the Pope's ban on artificial contraception had risen to 222.

Shooting Incident Under Investigation

The Scurry County Sheriff's office investigated a reported shooting that took place at Hermleigh Friday night. No one was injured, but some property damage occurred, officers said. The case involved a juvenile. Further investigation is being done by the Sheriff's Department and the Juvenile Office.

Wright-Patterson Cooking People

By PAT GORE

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) They're cooking people at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base here.

It's an experiment in human reactions to extreme heat, with applications to the aerospace program with supersonic flying.

Three times a day airmen are put into a four-foot-high oven and the heat is increased to 300 and 400 degrees Fahrenheit.

Fifteen minutes at 400 degrees and a small steak should be done rare.

Some of the human subjects can stand as much as 15 minutes at 300 degrees, well over the boiling point of water, but two or three minutes has been the limit at 400 degrees, said Capt. Grant Callin, 27, of the Aerospace Medical Research Laboratories.

Callin's first conclusion: "That the human body is a lot tougher than you'd think

One of the most significant conclusions reached since the program began in March, says Callin, is that astronauts could survive re-entry through the earth's atmosphere if their cabin cooling system failed.

"This sort of information could lead to the elimination of a lot of bulky and costly systems from spacecraft," Callin explained.

"The facts we are establishing now will have even greater application in the future," said Callin, "when flying at three times the speed of sound becomes commonplace." Callin has made the "run" 12 times himself. He isn't asking any of his men to do more.

A volunteer wears normal lightweight flying clothing but has thermometers and other instruments attached to his body.

The first sensation the subject experiences, said Callin, is discomfort, as the temperature is raised sharply.

"Then one begins to sweat; euphoria ensues. It's quite remarkable how perspiration protects the skin at these extremely high temperatures," he said.

As the temperature goes up rapidly, Callin said the subject becomes uncomfortable again. He puts his hands over his burning ears. He stops breathing through his nose as hot air blisters his nostrils. He licks his burning lip.

If the pain becomes too great, the volunteer can have the test stopped. Otherwise, said Callin, it continues until his heartbeat reaches 170 beats per minute. (A normal heart beat is 72 times a minute, rising to 90 with exercise.)

His 11 subjects, between the ages of 23 and 37, were surprised at how quickly the hottest air cooled on being inhaled.

"We found that short, fat subjects held out best in heat as they do in cold," Callin noted.

After the test, the volunteer is helped from the oven onto a stretcher, where he lies until the physician allows him up. Callin said weight loss through perspiration was very slight, perhaps one-tenth of a pound, and that blistered ears had been the only injuries from the tests.

He expects to complete the program early in September.

Callin paid tribute to his volunteers. One airman, he said, had several times been dragged from the oven refusing to admit that he had reached his limit, even when his heartbeat reached 180.

Firemen Are Kept Busy

The Snyder Fire Department was kept busy over the weekend, with two calls being answered on Saturday and three on Sunday.

Both of the Saturday runs involved grass fires. The first one, reported at 3 p.m., took place about three miles southwest of Snyder on the A. C. Martin place. The other one occurred about 4 p.m. at Twenty - first Street and Avenue N. It covered an area of about half of a block.

The firemen were called to the A&C Motel, on the East Highway at 6:55 a.m. Sunday, where an automobile was on fire. The car, a 1962 Chevrolet Station Wagon which belonged to Walter Lemons of Rockwell, suffered extensive damage to its interior.

The other two calls Sunday were to grass fires. The first one took place at about 11 a.m. at Thirty - first Street and Avenue J. The other one occurred about midnight at Avenue J and Thirtieth Street.

Only 64 days of the year fall to receive legal recognition as a day off from work somewhere in the world.

Robbery Call Is Refuted

A service station attendant reported to Snyder Police early Sunday that he had been robbed, but changed his mind after investigation of the incident was launched.

First reported as an armed robbery, the attendant told officers that he was hit over the head and robbed. Examination by a physician failed to confirm any physical injury, whereupon the man then confided to officers that he accidentally knocked the cash register to the floor and broke it. Fearing the reaction of his employer, he reported that robbers had caused the damage. The employer declined to press charges in the case.

Hijacker Takes Plane To Havana

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A hijacker, clutching a gun and a baby, ordered a charter plane pilot to take him to Cuba Sunday or "fly until we run out of gas."

The pilot, James Vach, was released after spending three hours at Havana's airport. He flew back to Florida where the trip began as a $5 sightseeing tour.

"He was very calm," Vach said of the gunman, who said he could see his baby on weekends.

"He said it very casually. 'Let's go to Havana.' I laughed. I didn't believe it. Then I looked at him and it was a gun. That changed the whole picture."

The hijacker listed his name as Stewart Orth of Miami, who he chartered the flight to take his blonde, two and a half-year-old daughter flying over Naples, a Gulf Coast Florida city south of Tampa.

Radio Havana, the official voice of the Cuban government, reported the incident early today and identified the hijacker as a U.S. citizen but listed no name. The report did not say what the Cuban government intends to do with the man and child.

The sources said the papers were filed in Paris, but no such action was reported there. The French actress and Sachs were married in Las Vegas Nev., July 14, 1966. His family's interests include motorcycle and automobile engines.

A survey of 76 principal countries turned up 58 that celebrate the new year on Jan. 1.

HERB TWISTS — Delicious and attractive bread for lunch or supper buffets.

WOMEN

All Yeast Bread Bakers

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

There's a new yeast abroad in this land and it lends itself to preparation shortcuts. Now even go-go girls can bake their own bread and like it.

We tried this new instant - blending yeast in our own kitchen and we're here to report that we turned out a fine loaf of regular white bread.

We also used the yeast in the following recipe for Herb Twists, a delightful offering for a buffet lunch or supper. Besides tasting delicious, the Twists look wonderfully attractive.

This yeast makes a quick-mix method possible. In this new routine, the yeast is mixed with the flour (rather than being softened in liquid first) and then a warm liquid is added. The combination is beaten in an electric mixer, kneaded and shaped. Only one rising is necessary.

HERB TWISTS

4½ to 5 cups regular unsifted flour
2 Packages instant - blending dry yeast
1½ teaspoons dill weed
1 teaspoon caraway seed
½ teaspoon celery seed
¾ cup milk
¾ cup water
2 tablespoons shortening
2 tablespoons sugar
2 teaspoons salt
1 egg, at room temperature

Put 1½ cups flour into large electric - mixer bowl; add yeast, dill weed, caraway seed and celery seed; stir to blend.

Put milk, water, shortening, sugar and salt into a saucepan; heat until warm (120 to 130 degrees); stir to blend. Pour into flour - yeast mixture, add egg.

Beat at low speed of electric mixer ½ minute, scraping bowl constantly. Beat 3 more minutes at high speed.

Gradually stir in enough more flour to form a soft dough. Knead 5 to 10 minutes until smooth.

Cover dough with bowl or pan. Let rest 20 minutes. Grease two 15 by 12 inch cookie sheets.

Divide dough in 2 parts. To shape 1 Twist, divide one part in two. Shape each piece into a smooth strip 13 inches long and 1 inch wide. Place a little apart diagonally on a cookie sheet. Beginning at center, twist strips together toward each end. Seal by pressing onto pan.

Let rise on a rack over hot water until doubled — 30 to 45 minutes. Dent remains when finger is pressed gently on side of dough.

Bake in a preheated 400-degree oven for 20 to 30 minutes. For soft crusts, brush with butter.

Makes 2 large Twists.

Note: If you like, you can divide the dough into 4 parts for smaller Twists. Small pieces should be 8 inches long before shaping.

Four Irvine Babies Have Come Home

WHEATFIELD, Ind. (AP) — The Irvine quadruplet babies A, B, C and D—have ended their six weeks of intensive hospital care. But the problems are just starting for their parents.

The main job Mr. and Mrs. Allan J. Irvine face is feeding the boys who arrived Sunday from Home Hospital in Lafayette where they were born June 21.

Each baby is on a three-hour feeding schedule—32 total feedings each day that probably will keep the parents feeding the boys on an around-the-clock basis.

The boys were named Allan, Byron, Corey and Dale. When they were born, the hospital labeled them A, B, C and D.

Mrs. Irvine, 26, admits she still can't tell the boys apart.

"I know Byron because he's the largest (6 pounds 7 ounces) and Allan because he's the smallest (5-6 ½)," she said. "But I can't tell Corey from Dale without looking at their identification anklets."

Corey weighs 6-1 and Dale 5-12.

At birth, Allan weighed 2-13, Corey 3-4½ and Byron and Dale 3-4 each.

Diapers pose another problem.

An average baby uses 24 diapers a day, meaning almost 100 changes daily for the Irvines.

But with this problem, as with others, the Irvines are getting help.

Two large firms that service baby products each donated two cases of disposable diapers—2,304 over-all. At Home Hospital, which paid the fees for the mother and the babies, the staff and visitors donated enough money to buy 1,200 diapers.

Citizens of Jasper County have started a bank account where persons may donate funds to build an addition of three bedrooms and a bath for the Irvines.

Irvine, 28, a steel plant adviser in East Chicago, already has added one room to his five-room house by building a wall inside the attached garage.

The new room is for April Yvonne, 14 months, whom the Irvines are adopting. The parents moved into April's old room and their larger bedroom is being used by the quads.

A baby food company has donated a year's supply of food and a laboratory firm has given the Irvines 2 cases of formula.

AFTER STAY IN RED PRISON

Pilots Home With Families

WASHINGTON (AP) Three U.S. pilots, reunited with wives and children after up to seven months in North Vietnam prisons, underwent routine medical checkups and processing today before heading to their homes.

They said they believe more captured American airmen will be released.

The three—Maj. James F. Low, 43, of Sausalito, Calif.; Maj. Fred N. Thompson, 32, of Taylor, S. C., and Capt. Joe V. Carpenter 37, of Victorville Calif.—hardly appeared to need any medical attention as they stepped off an Air Force plane Sunday night looking fit and cheerful.

It is awfully nice to be home," said Low, a Korean war ace who was captured last Dec. 16 after his F4C exploded from heavy ground fire over North Vietnam.

Carpenter's three children rushed out to meet him when the plane came to a stop at Andrews Air Force Base near Washington. All three wives had joined the pilots in New York.

The pilots talked to newsmen briefly and were immediately admitted to the base hospital for the checkups. The Air Force said as soon as the processing is finished they "will go on a well-deserved leave pending reassignment."

Except for the New York-Washington flight, the pilots had come home by commercial airline and Low said in Bangkok that the decision was made "in the best interests of the prisoners in Hanoi."

When the first three U.S. airmen to be released by Hanoi returned by military aircraft last February, antiwar groups acting as intermediaries protested future release of more pilots had been jeopardized.

Carpenter, asked if even more captured pilots will be released, replied: "We can assume so."

Carpenter, asked about brainwashing, said he had not been subjected to any "psychological testing."

Thompson said the food served in his North Vietnam prison was different from American food but "substantial." He said his weight is about the same now as when he was captured.

Thompson was captured March 20 and Carpenter Feb. 15 when their South Vietnam-based jetfighters were hit by enemy groundfire. Low had flown his missions from Thailand.

Secretary of Defense Clark Clifford arrived at Andrews on a presidential jet from Texas about 20 minutes before the three airmen's plane landed, but he left right away.

The Carpenter children on hand to join their parents were Joseph, 12, Laura, 9, and Rochelle, 6.

Hanoi had announced the release of the pilots July 18 but they did not arrive in Vientiane, Laos, until last Friday. The flight from Bangkok included stops in the Middle East and Europe.

They were accompanied by three people who helped arrange the release: Stewart Meacham of Philadelphia, an officer of the American Friends Service Committee; Anne Scheer of Berkeley, Calif., wife of an editor of Ramparts magazine, and Vernon Grizzard, an antidraft organizer for the Students for Democratic Society in Cambridge, Mass.

Second Night Of Violence In York

YORK, Pa. (AP) — Street violence hit this south central Pennsylvania city for the second straight night Sunday and sporadic trouble calls kept police and firemen on the move through the early morning hours today.

Roving gangs of young Negroes smashed windows, pelted motorists with bricks and rocks and set at least eight fires during what the city's public safety director, Jacob W. Hose, described as a "planned operation."

Random shots were heard in the troubled area on the city's Southwest Side as the disturbance started and Hose said at least one bullet was aimed at a police cruiser.

Three persons were arrested.

One of the targets of firebombs was a meat market which was the center of a gunfight and shooting Saturday night, which left eleven persons wounded, 10 by shotgun pellets and one by a .38-caliber bullet.

The Saturday night shooting was touched off when Chester Roach, 58, returned the fire of someone who shot at him through the window of his apartment after the meat market firebombed Sunday night.

There was no looting, either night, and police were not involved in the shooting, Hose said; other than the occupants of the police cruiser fired upon Sunday night.

York is a city of 55,000. Some 6,000 Negroes are residents.

Fire Claims 3rd Victim

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — A third man died Saturday in a Fort Worth hospital of burns suffered last Wednesday when an above ground gasoline tank exploded in suburban Kennedale.

S. C. Copeland, 40, a Mansfield volunteer fire department member, was the latest victim.

Harry Blissard, 40, the Mansfield fire chief and Steve Pieringer, 28, a newsman from KRLD-TV who live in Fort Worth, died about 25 hours after the 7 p.m. fire and explosion. Both died in a Dallas hospital.

The disaster, which sent 32 persons to hospitals, began when a spark set off gasoline spilled by a tank truck that was unloading.

In a few minutes, the burning gasoline spread to the huge tank which exploded and set a huge fireball rolling over firemen and

Big Jack In Great Mood

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
Associated Press Sports riter

CHICAGO (AP) — An hour after Jack Nicklaus had locked up the Western Open Golf Championship Sunday he still was hanging around the press room. He was laughing, patting scribes on the back and talking about the technicalities of his game.

The frustration of failing to win a tournament in 9½ months was over and the Golden Bear, like a kid with new toys, made the most of it.

He took his second consecutive Western title and the $26,000 payoff with ridiculous ease. He was leading by four strokes entering the last round and won by three with a closing 71 and a 273 total, 11 under Olympia Fields' murdered par.

Only one player who was anywhere near the pace made a determined charge at Nicklaus, Miller Barber, 37, winner of the 1968 Nelson Classic, finished with birdies on three of the last five holes for a 66. It gave him second-place money of $15,600 with 276.

Much credit for adding some dash to the 65th Western Open must go to 22-year-old Bobby Stanton of Australia, winner of a mere $5,131 this year. Bobby was in contention from the start, failed to break down where others did, and closed with a 71.

He took a bogey 6 on the last hole when he strayed into the bleachers. Stanton totaled 277 and picked off his biggest purse of $9,750 for third place.

Julius Boros, the oldest PGA king at age 48, displayed unreal steadiness in a final 70 for 278 and fourth-place money of $6,500.

Bobby Smith, young pro from Sacramento, Calif., had a dazzling 66 finale to share fifth place with George Archer and Homero Blancas. They each pocketed $4,980.

Sweetwater Wins Local Tournament

Sweetwater overcame an opening round loss and went on to win the Junior Teenage Baseball Tournament here by defeating Colorado City 11-3 Saturday night. It was the second consecutive victory over C-City by Sweetwater, with the other one coming Friday night. Had C-City won either of those contests, she would have been the champions.

In contrast to the Friday contest between these two teams, which Sweetwater won 2-1, the final game was a runaway. Although Colorado City took the lead with a single run in the 1st, Sweetwater gained the lead to stay in the 2nd frame with 4 big runs. The winners added 3 more in the 3rd, and 4 more in the 6th. C-City picked up one more in the 3rd and another in the 6th.

Big hitters for Sweetwater were Mike Finley with a double and a single, Tim Hendrix with two singles, and Louis Escoveda with two singles. Rodney Turner contributed a double, and Ronnie Williams, Bruce Foreman, and Mark Bruner hit for singles.

Colorado City only managed two hits, a single by Wayne Banks and a double by Cary May.

Leo Is 'Spoil Sport' To 'Stan The Man'

The new statue of Stan Musial outside St. Louis' Busch Stadium stands 10 feet tall. . .or about shoulder high to Leo Durocher's sky - high Cubs jdurocher's sky-high Cubs day at St. Louis Sunday by bringing down the Cardinals 6-5 in a 13-inning struggle.

The Cubs have won six in a row, including three against the runaway National League leaders, and have shot from ninth place, on July 12, to second with a run of 18 victories in their last 23 games.

Musial, the NL's seven-time batting king before he moved into the Cardinals' front office, donned his old uniform and joined former 1941 teammates during the pre-game ceremonies. The bronze statue, created by Carl Mose of Washington, D.C., was unveiled after the game at one of the main entrances to the stadium.

In between, a capacity crowd of 47,445 saw the Cubs battle St. Louis ace Bob Gibson to a standoff for 12 innings before a run-scoring pinch single by Lee Elia in the 13th.

Elsewhere, Los Angees rookie Mike Kekich beat New York 2-0 with a one-hitter after the Mets won the doubleheader opener 3-1. Cincinnati downed Atlanta 6-4 in 12 innings; San Fracisco topped Pittsburgh 2-0 and Philadelphia nipped Houston 3-2.

In the American League, Detroit took Minnesota 2-1; Baltimore trimmed New York 5-3; Cleveland drubbed Oakland 7-4 after bowing to the Athletics 5-0; Boston defeated California 5-1 in the completion of an earlier suspended game, then lost to the Angels 12-6 and Chicago whipped Washington 7-2.

Gibsn, gunning for his 13th straight triumph, settled for a no-decision after being tagged for five runs—two more than he'd allowed in any previous start since April 20.

The Cards' 15-game winner pitched out of a couple of early bases-loaded jams, was tagged for a seventh inning homer by Billy Williams that tied the game 3-3 and lost a 4-3 lead in the ninth when Al Spangler hit his first pitch for a homer—the first of the year for the Chicago outfielder.

Don Kessinger sent the Cubs ahead 5-4 with a run-scoring single in the top of the 12th but the Cards quickly retied it when Johnny Edwards, batting for Gibson, doubled and Lou Brock stroked an RBI single.

The Cubs finally pushed over the winning run in the 13th on Randy Hundley's single, a sacrifice and a two-out single to center by Elia, who went to the plate with one hit in 4 at-bats. It was the Cub utility man's first RBI of the season.

Kekich, who had lost five straight after an April 16th victory over Philadelphia, limited the Mets to two walks until he seventh, when Ron Swoboda lined a two-out single to right. The 23-year-old southpaw struck out 11 and got the only run he needed when Willie Davis singled in the third inning, stole second and scored on Ron Fairly's double.

Bud Harrelson poked four hits, Cleon Jones and Tommie Agee homered and Al Eeis' tie-breaking single keyed a two-run seventh inning rally as the Mets won the opener behind a 14-hit attack.

Johnny Bench snapped a 4-4 tie with a run-scoring single in the 12th and tallied an insurance run on Tony Perez' triple, leading the Reds past Atlanta into third place. The Braves had tied the game in the ninth on a two-run single by Joe Torre.

Bob Bolin pitched a five-hitter, struck out 10 and drove in the Giants' first run with a fifth inning single. Dave Marshall's run-scoring singled in the eighth sealed Bolin's fifth victory in eight decisions and saddled Pittsburgh's Jim Bunning with a 4-12 season mark.

Pitcher Rick Wise drilled his second double of the game with two out in the ninth and scored on Tony Taylor's single, carrying the Phils past Houston. Wise, who also doubled and scored in the fifth, checked the Astros on seven hits for hisseventh victory against eight setbacks.

McAllister Competes In Tounaments

Ken McAllister, who coaches tennis in the Snyder Schools, is keeping active in the sport while attending an NDEA Institute in math at Utah State University. He has played in several Tournaments in that area this summer.

McAllister won a five - day tourney held by the university, and placed third in the championship flight of the Boise Flight Tournament. The only match he lost in that tourney was to the eventual champion, Tick Axtell, a tennis coach from Boise, Idaho, who formerly played for San Francisco State.

McAllister is currently competing in the Logan Tennis Tournament, which will last about two weeks. He is seeded number one in the men's singles, and won his first singles match. He teamed with Charles White, a math professor at Utah State, in the doubles division and at last report they had won their quarterfinal match.

'Was Fired', Says Coach

BALTIMORE (AP) — It was a matter of pride for Buddy Jeannette. He was fired from another basketball job, and didn't mind saying so.

For awhile Sunday, there was a mild battle of semantics—which unlike the zone defense, has not been outlawed by the National Basketball Association.

"I've asked Buddy Jeannette for his resignation,' said owner Abe Polin of the Baltimore Bullets from his Bethesda, Md., home.

"I've been fired," said Jeannette, the colorful 50-year-old general manager of the Bullets. "This keeps my string intact. I've never quit a job in my life."

"Anyway, how can I honestly say Im resigning?" Jeannette asked rhetorically. "Resigning to do what? I've no job to go to."

Jeannette sold his interest in a Baltimore liquor store when he rejoined the Bullets for a second hitch as coach for the 1964-65 season.

Snyder Flames In Consolation Win

HAMBY — The Snyder Flames took home the Consolation Trophy from the Hamby Softball Tournament that was played here over the weekend. After an initial win over Ballinger, Snyder lost in the second round to Brownwood, 4-3. The Flames came back to beat Abilene in the double - elimination tourney, 9-3; but then lost to Ballinger 4-1. Brownwood defeated Ballinger in the finals for the championship.

The Snyder team dominated the all - tournament team with four selections, while no other team had more than two. Named to the honor team from Snyder were Gene Nicholas, Merlene Nicholas, Pat Hudgens and Helen Rios.

Clippers Fall In Finals To B'Wood

BROWNWOOD — The Snyder Clippers ended thier baseball season Saturday night as they bowed to Brownwood 8-4 in the finals of the Senior Teenage Tournament played here. Brownwood will enter the state playoffs this coming weekend in San Angelo.

The Clippers, in placing second, ended a successful season with an impressive record of 19 wins against only 4 losses, with two of these being at the hands of Brownwood.

The Clippers had reached the finals by downing Ranger (for the second time in the tourney) 4-3 Saturday morning. In that contest Jim Patrick spun a neat 3-hitter, and didn't allow a run until the 6th inning.

The Clippers tallied one in the 4th, one in the 5th, and 2 in the 6th. Mickey Almond scored the first run after getting on base on a single. The next run came on a bases - empty home run by Steve Moffett.

The final two Snyder runs came after Mickey Almond got on base on an error, Ronnie Potts singled, Mike Levens sacrificed, and Patrick tripled.

In the final contest, Brownwood took the lead in the 2nd with a single run, and added another score in the top of the 3rd for a 2 to 0 lead. However, the Clippers took over the lead in the bottom of the 3rd with 3 runs on consecutive singles by Ronnie Lewis and Randy Levens and a home run by Wesley Bishop.

Snyder fans did not get to celebrate for long, though, as Brownwood scored 3 more in the 4th on doubles by Mike Wright, Perry Young and P. R. Ellsworth. Although the Clippers got another run in the bottom of the 4th by Potts, who had gotten on base on an error, they were never able to catch up again.

Mike Fuller, the Brownwood pitcher, seemed to get stronger as the game progressed. In fact, he struck out 8 of the last 11 men he faced. Snyder pitchers Lewis and Tony Suttle did okay in that department also, striking out 12 men.

Copeland In Tourney Win

Don Copeland of Snyder won the annual Snyder Golf Invitational Tournament that was unreeled at the Country Club course Saturday and Sunday, but it took a sudden death playoff to do it.

Copeland and Chuck Brownfield of Stamford were tied after the 45-hole affair with 176 each, but on the first hole of the playoff, Copeland managed a birdie 4, while Brownfield took a bogey.

Copeland, who is a sophomore at the University of Texas at Arlington, starred on the golf team while in Snyder High School. It was a former teammate of his, Alex Lefeuvre, who was the defending champion of the Snyder Invitational.

The competitors were flighted after 18 holes of play on Saturday. The championship flight then played an additional 27 holes Sunday, while the other flights played 18 more holes, or 36 in all.

Playoffs were also necessary to determine the winners of the First and Second Flights. Cloyce Talbott of Snyder defeated Ken Malon of San Angelo to win the First Flight, and Johnny Grubbs of Colorado City won over Alex LeFeuvre in the Second Flight. R. W. Robertson of Merkel was the winner of the Third Flight.

Copeland had a 7-stroke lead over Brownfield after 36 holes of play, but Brownfield, who golfs for the University of Arkansas, caught him on the final 9 holes, necessitating the playoff. Placing third in the championship flight was R. J. Kidd with a 179.

U.S. Swimmers Build Confidence

By JIM VAN VALKENBURG
Associated Press Sports Writer

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — Only five world records and 10 meet marks fell in the 58th AAU Outdoor Swimming Championships, but don't worry about the United States in the Olympics this fall in Mexico City.

"This was primarily a meet for the young kids to build up their confidence for the Olympic Trials," said Yale's Don Schollander, a four-time gold medalist at the 1964 Olympics.

"The world records will come at the Olympic Trials," he predicted Sunday. "Most of the top swimmers already had qualified for the trials."

Schollander, a graybeard of 22, was himself dethroned in both the 100 and 200-meter freestyle events he has ruled for five years. He was beaten by Mark Spitz, his 18-yar-old Santa Clara Club teammate.

Spitz, a triple winner and leading men's scorer in the meet, was himself upset in the 200 butterfly Saturday by 23-year-old Mark Robie, an Olympic silver medalist who competed at Michigan.

"I needed a good meet going into the trials," Robin said.

UCLA's Mike Burton missed his bid for a world 1,500-meter freestyle record Sunday night. So did 15-year-old Debbie Meyer in the women's but she had a consolation prize—a world 800-meter record of 9:17.8 en route to her meet mark of 17:38.5.

Burton barely held off 15-year-old John Kinsella of Hinsdale, Ill., 16:29.4 against 16:29.6. Both broke Burton's meet and American citizen's mark of 16:34.1 but missed the pending world mark of 16:28.1 set July 7 by Mexico's Guillermo Echecarria, who was third in 16:40.2.

Ralph Hutton of Canada, a product of Foothill Club at Los Altos, Calif., was fourth in 16:49.3 in the swiftest mass 1500 finish in swimming history.

Miss Meyer's 15-year-old teammate, Victoria King, recorded 17:55.6, making her only the second woman in history under 18 minutes.

Kinsella was 27.6 seconds under his best; Miss King, 18.4 under hers.

New Business Group Talks Of Enlightened Capitalism

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) Leaders of a zealous organization with the ungainly name of Business Executives Move for Vietnam Peace are thinking now of staying together as an economic-political force, even should peace come soon.

The group, formally organized a year ago, now claims 2,500 members. This is only a medium percentage of the members sought, but they are active, dedicated and influential. They feel they have a mission.

Late last week, for example, J. Sinclair Armstrong, a member and former chairman of the Securities and Exchange Commission, presented the Republican Platform Committee a five-point resolution for ending the Vietnam war.

Opposition to the war is the unifying purpose of members, but indications are that they will be seeking increasingly larger goals, especially in involving businessmen in the great human issues of the day.

"It would be a pity," said co-chairman Harold Willens of Los Angeles, to let the group dissolve. "This group is moving the country toward a new type of capitalism," he said. "Enlightened capitalism by enlightened capitalists."

As Willens stopped here for business and a television appearance prior to a weekend visit to the Vermont farm of John Kenneth Galbraith, an outspoken supporter, he was asked to explain the phrase.

He reflected. "I see it as an outlook which encompasses more than one's own selfish interest," he said. It means, he continued, "stepping out of a paneled office into the social arena."

Willens is a self-made 53-year-old millionaire, an intense ex-Marine who has been called a "flaming moderate" but who claims to be conservative "in that I'm striving to save the essence of our system of democracy and free enterprise."

Born in poverty—"I was indigent; I needed to struggle for food"—he is now one of the largest landowners on Wilshire Boulevard, vacations in Palm Springs and hobnobs with movie stars at the Beverly Hills Tennis Club.

Thirteen months ago Willens almost deserted his businesses, a land development firm and the Factory Equipment Supply Corp., to tour the nation at his own expense for the group. Along with cochairman Henry Niles, head of Baltimore Life Insurance Co., he still is on the move.

"It's an endless road to think in terms only of money," he said. "Before your goal is reached another one is set. Only the numbers change."

He was asked to state the immediate goals, other than ending the war, that would be sought in stepping into the social arena.

"Some people think we must address ourselves to re-ordering priorities," he replied, and he stated his personal conviction that the United States was overcommitted throughout the world.

"We must put political pressure on redirecting foreign policy," he said. "Vietnam is only a symptom of a sickness. We must redirect the military budget. We must modernize our plants."

Willens feels that while billions are being spent on Vietnam the nation has partially forsaken the modernization of its production facilities and the health of its society. This, he fells, subverts a larger goal.

Willens and Niles have attracted many important names to their cause, such as Marriner Eccles, former Federal Reserve chairman, and Theodore Yntema, former Ford Motor financial officer. But they haven't obtained overwhelming support.

Some executives of large corporatins have declined to join because to do so involves their firms also. A good deal of the membership, therefore, is made up of wealthy individuals or proprietors of private companies.

Collecting Of Friends A Hobby

By JOY STILLEY

NEW YORK (AP) — Some people collect old shoe buttons, Chinese proverbs, barbed wire or picture post cards.

My friend Toby collects friends.

She needs no formal introduction to add a new specimen to her vast asemblage. She accumulates them everywhere — the subway, at the adjacent restaurant table, even while waiting for the light to change.

A sranger who stops to ask directions or, within the next five minutes, become a firm friend. Not only have the two exchanged life histories but they have formulated plans for having lunch together within the next week.

This acquisitive habit of hers necessarily slows down our progress on joint outings. At the store counter we can't simply pick and pay, she has to take time to talk to any likely prospect in the vicinity.

Not long ago I accompanied my friendly friend on our weekly grocery-shopping expedition. At the produce department she spotted another woman and the two rushed together wih excied exclamaions of greeting. As I hovered nearby filling my basket with peaches and potatoes, carrots and cucumbers, I caught snatches of their conversation:

"And your son," inquired Toby, "is he still troubled with allergy?"

"Oh, the shots are helping," replied the other. "What college did your daughter finally decide to attend?"

Plainly, this was no casual acquiantance. I wasn't sure whether they'd grown up together or had merely lived in the same neighborhood for years, but obviously they were well versed in the details of one anther's lives. I ambled slowly along the aisles, allowing them plenty of time to catch up on recent happenings before I finally indicated my impatience to get out of the store.

Reluctantly the two parted, wih fervent hopes of getting togeher again soon.

"Well," I pointed out, a bit miffed, "you really might have introduced me to such an old friend."

"I'm so sorry," Toby apologized, "but I don't even know her name. She's a woman I got to talking to a few weeks ago while we were both waiting at the meat counter."

Conviction Set Aside

KANSAS CITY (AP) — U.S. District Court has set aside a five-year conviction that was being served by Richard Walter Christenson, 35, of St. Louis because he supplied information that led to the conviction of 17 others on charges of counterfeiting and post office burglary.

A Junior Editors Quiz About CELLO

QUESTION: Why is cello pronounced "chello"?

ANSWER: The cello is one of the violin family of musical instruments which developed from the viols, older instruments whose shapes had not been perfected to give the brilliant violin sound. The small, treble viol turned into our modern violin (upper left), which is the soprano voice of our modern string quartet. The alto part is taken by a second violin, and the tenor part by a slightly larger, violin-like instrument, the viola (upper right). We still use the very large member of the viol family called the bass viol (lower right). The violin cello (lower left) was developed in the 1500's to fill the gap between viola and bass. This instrument, with its warm, beautiful tone, acts as the bass of the string quartet. Violincello, in Italian, means small big viola, referring to the fact that it is smaller than the bass viol. Cello, in Italian, means small, but it is pronounced "chello" because c's, before vowels, are pronounced "ch." This fine instrument, shaped more like a violin than a viol, has such a splendid sound that it is often used by itself.

Nixon's Strength Growing

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Support from previously uncommitted delegates boosted Richard M. Nixon's solid first ballot strength in The Associated Press survey within 95 votes today of the 667 needed to win the Republican presidential nomination.

But the 137 uncommitted delegates, a fluid situation in some southern delegations and the fate of nine states with "favorite son" candidates still held the key to the former vice president's hopes.

Nixon's total, including delegates bound by primary votes, those pledged and those expressing preferences at caucuses and in AP delegation polls, stood at 572, which is 28 more than his Saturday total.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York was up 24 to 232, while Gov. Ronald Reagan of California, pressing vigorously for southern support, had 161. Besides the 137 uncommitted, 231 are held by favorite sons.

Nixon's gains included eight from Idaho, four from Wyoming, three from Illinois and Connecticut, and lesser numbers from Delaware, Florida, Texas, Colorado, Utah, Minnesota and Maine.

Rockefeller picked up 13 in Rhode Island, four in Illinois, three in Minnesota and others in Colorado, Vermont, Maine and Puerto Rico.

Swaps Shoes For Car

BEDFORD, Iowa (AP) — Fifty pairs of new shoes shared showroom space with new cars at a Bedford auto firm after a merchant jokingly offered some shoes from his store to bridge the price gap in negotiations for purchase of a new auto.

Liner Lands Safely After Collision

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — A jet-prop airliner, with the wreckage of a light plane and the bodies of its three young passengers embedded in its side, landed safely Sunday before most of the 10 passengers aboard knew what happened.

Capt. Ted Baum, 43, Skokie, Ill., brought the twin-engine plane in with one engine dead and his copilot badly injured in the cockpit.

"I thought that something was wrong, but not a collision," said Mrs. Nancy Steffens, 44, of Two Rivers. "I was more nervous after I got on the ground and realized it had been a collision."

"We didn't know what hit us. I think only the stewardess knew," said Wilma Ross, 15, of Saginaw, Mich., "and she just told us to stay seated with our seat belts on. The pilot came down with what seemed like a normal landing."

Officials said the single-engine Cessna 150 rammed North Central Airlines Flight 261, a Convair 580, over southern Wisconsin. The light plane hit just behind the copilot's seat, also damaging the propeller on the plane's right engine.

The copilot, first officer John Mazur, 30, of Wheaton, Ill., suffered multiple fractures of his right leg and head injuries. He was reported in serious condition in a Milwaukee hospital. He was the only person on the airliner injured.

The victim's bodies were removed after the plane landed. They were identified as Rick L. Stenberg 19, of Elk Gro Village, Ill., the pilot; Virginia Johnson, 18, Mt. Prospect, Ill. and her brother Richard, 12.

"That pilot did a fantastic landing job," a federal official said. Otherwise there was no comment as a team of about 35 National Transportation Safety Board investigators, led by board examiner Thomas Saunders arrived from Washington to probe the cause of the crash.

Milwaukee police said the pilots told authorities they were flying 170 miles per hour at 3,500 feet, preparing to land at Milwaukee, when the private plane appeared suddenly on their right, then veered into the liner. The flight originated in Chicago and was headed to Manitowoc, with a stop at Milwaukee.

There was no panic in the big plane after the collision.

"I just felt a heavy thud and heard a bang," said Pam Pavlowich, who was returning to her Manitowoc home after a vacation. "Then someone yelled 'My God, take it easy,' and everyone got very quiet.

"Everyone acted very calm. Miss Rose said, 'Nobody panicked or anything. One woman just cried."

Opposes Unit Rule

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., has joined in opposition to a unit rule for any delegations to the Democratic National convention.

He called for "freedom of choice in delegations and on the convention floor."

Under the unit rule, all a delegation's votes goes to the candidate favored by a majority of that delegation.

Yarborough commented in a letter supporting the call of Sen. Claborne Pell, D-R.I., for an open convention. Pell made the Yarborough letter public Sunday.

The Texas senator said the Democratic Convention should follow President Woodrow Wilson's formula for international relations: "Open covenants openly arrived at."

IT'S COOL INSIDE — You can eat delicious Mexican food in the refrigerated dining room at Carlos' Little Mexico Cafe, 1703 Avenue S, at reasonable prices. Many family groups enjoy the comfortable atmosphere at Carlos'.

Dining At Little Mexico Is Summer Time Pleasure

It's still warm outside, but many people in Snyder and the surrounding area have discovered that they can dine out in the comfortable atmosphere at Carlos' Little Mexico Cafe. You too can enjoy specially prepared Mexican food in the refrigerated dining room at Carlos' at 1703 Avenue S.

Of course, if you really prefer to eat at home, you can still benefit from the excellent cooking at Carlos' simply by dialing 573-2251 and placing your order "to go."

Operated by Mr. and Mrs. Carlos Mijares, the Little Mexico Cafe has gained a reputation over the years for its tasty dishes at reasonable prices. Their attractive menu features the DeLuxe Dinner including chili con queso, guacamole salad, stuffed bell pepper, beef tacos, tamales, chili con carne, enchiladas, fried beans, Spanish rice toasted or plain tortillas with ice cream or sherbet and coffee or tea for only $2.25.

Many special plates also are available, such as the Guadalajara, Fiesta, Acapulco or Tampico dinners ranging in price from $1.20 to $1.45. Also included on the menu are the regular Mexican dinner, the special Mexican dinner which features both enchiladas and tacos, Carlos' combination plate and the Little Mexico special.

Carlos offers five different combination plates — all at the same low prices — as well as a la carte orders and five different dinners for children. Omelettes, breakfast foods, salads, side orders and steaks are available as well as chicken and seafoods.

The Little Mexico also has an attractively decorated banquet room that can be reserved for special occasions — such as wedding rehearsal dinners.

With such a wide variety of well - cooked food to choose from as well as a comfortable dining atmosphere, the Little Mexico has become a popular place for local family groups.

Scorpion Report Is Unconfirmed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy declines to confirm or deny a report that top-secret listening devices recorded the sound of the ocean crushing the nuclear submarine Scorpion about May 21.

The Pentagon issued a "no comment" Sunday to the report published in Newsweek magazine.

Pentagon sources confirmed, however, that the Navy ordered a check of tapes after the Scorpion failed to return on schedule from a cruise, but declined to discuss any phase of its analysis.

The Navy has several devices for monitoring underwater traffic, using them mainly to keep track of Soviet submarines.

The Navy has extended official condolences to the Scorpion's 99 crewmen.

The search for the vessel is now centered in a "highly suspect" area about 450 miles southwest of the Azores where ocean depths run to 12,000 feet.

A Navy board of inquiry has completed an investigation of the incident, but it has not been made public.

Honest-To-Pete Sidewalk Supervisor

WYOMING, Mich. (AP) — The Grand Rapids suburb of Wyoming has an honest-to-goodness sidewalk superintendent on the payroll.

The westarn Michigan town hired Larry Knickerbocker, a school teacher, to inspect most of the several hundred miles of sidewalks for defects this summer.

Oilman Says Cooperation Is Needed

NEW YORK (AP) — Oil-company managements and scientists must cooperate to a greater degree if sufficient petroleum reserves are to be found to meet increasing U.S. needs, a prominent independent oil man says.

Michel T. Halbouty of Houston, Tex., writes in the bulletin of the American Association of Petroleum Geologists that the nation's explorers will be required to find many new giant fields.

"If not," he says, "the number of smaller discoveries found annually will have to increase continuously at a much higher rate than during the last 20 years.

"To do either will take the utmost cooperation between oil company management and the scientists—particularly encouragement on management's part."

Halbouty contends that the effort to find new exploratory methods, ideas and approaches which will lead to the discoveries of traps where oil is located, with reasonable costs in onshore regions, is practically ignored.

"What was good enough for dad is good enough for me; that is, 'don't rock the boat' seems to be the motto of most, if not all, major compaies," Halbouty says.

"I believe that the new, large economic petroleum reserves of the future will be found in stratigraphic traps—in features which are not easily found by present day exploration methods and thinking.

"If geologists are to succeed in finding new reserves for even the near future, both geologists and management must place a greater emphasis on the search. Without the cooperation and encouragement of management, the geologist is helpless in his efforts to push new ideas and approaches to exploration."

Describes Ordeal In Liferaft

ASTORIA, Ore. (AP) — The Coast Guard says the average survival time for a soaking wet man aboard a liferaft in the pacific Ocean is four hours. Dave Thomas, 25, lasted 40 hours.

The Astoria fisherman, whose 66-foot dragboat Redoma sank Tuesday night, described the experience Friday after sleeping for 16 hours at his home.

"I was in the wheelhouse when I hit something big," he said. "I went topside and launched the liferaft because the boat was taking water fast.

"I went back to the wheelhouse and called for help. They tell me a woman ham operator relayed my distress call. By that time there was a foot of water and my ship-to-shore radio went out," he said.

"Then I heard a shoosh and saw she was going down by the stern. I dove over the side and climbed on the raft as the Redoma went down."

Thomas said the cork raft was low in the water and he was waist deep in it the entire time. He said he heard a Coast Guard airplane criss-crossing overhead on the first foggy day adrift.

"The second morning a fishboat passed within 100 yards, but I couldn't make him hear me," he said.

"I had terrible cramps and shivers"

The Coast Guard plane from Port Angeles, Wash. spotted the raft Thursday afternoon when the fog cleared for a period. Thomas was picked up by the cutter Modoc.

The Statue of Liberty, a gift from France in 1884, arrived dismantled in New York. The sections were packed in 214 crates aboard a steamship.

WHO KNOWS WHERE HE STANDS?

Maddox: Profile Of Paradox

By TED SIMMONS
Associated Press Writer

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Two years ago Lester Maddox, one of the South's best known symbols of segregation, was running for governor of Georgia on the slogan: "You know where he stands."

Most people thought they did. To the racist element, he was a hero who had personally chased Negroes from his Pickrick cafetria, carrying a pistol and backed up by ax handles.

To the liberals, he was a dangerous extremist; to the moderates, a publicity-seeker, a clown.

To the Democrats, he was a party quitter who supported Republican Barry Goldwater in 1964. To the Republicans, he was not quite respectable enough to be acceptable. To the politicians he was a three-time loser, in races for mayor of Atlanta and lieutenant governor of Georgia.

Few of them gave him any chance of ever being governor.

Maddox has been governor now for 18 months, and few people are sure they do know where he stands, or whether they ever did.

As governor, Maddox has displayed a paradoxical mixture of compassion for the poor and contempt for poverty programs designed to help them; demands for law and order and denunciations of the courts; appeals for patriotism and damnings of the federal government; surprising moderation and statements that seened startlingly extreme.

He keeps his own counsel, has few close advisers, and largely ignores those who have attempted to temper his public image.

Those responsible for the moderate tone of his inaugural address, in which he warned that there would be no room for extremism in Georgia during his administration, soon lost his ear.

Almost before the surprise of the 'New Maddox" had settled on his critics, the governor was again describing the federal government as the country's worst enemy of education, and declaring that if Washington didn't quit telling Georgia how to run its schools it could take its federal aid to education and "ram it."

The statement caused state school officials considerable concern, since Georgia receives more than $80 million a year in federal funds for schools. But after the first flurry, Maddox, in typical fashion, let the matter drop.

A high school dropout, Maddox has pledged top priority to education. He kept a campaign pledge to increase teachers' salaries by an average of $1,258 a year during his first two years in office.

When pressed about his loyalty to the national Democratic party, Maddox said that pledging to support party nominees without knowing who they are would be putting party ahead of God and country.

He has promised, however, that he will not go outside the party and endorse third-party presidential candidate George Wallace, although he has held private political meetings with Walace and admittedly would like to support him formally and openly.

The 53-year-old Maddox, son of a devout Southern Baptist mother, does not drink or smoke and frequently lectures on the evils of both.

He once threatened to extend enforcement of the state's anti-gambling laws to include church bingo, and periodically he prods the Revenue Department to crack down on Sunday liquor sales at country clubs and other private clubs.

Maddox's election by the General Assembly when there was no majority winner in the general election has given rise to legislative independence unparalleled in recent Georgia history.

In this year's General Assembly session, most legislation on which Maddox had placed a high priority either failed or was significantly amended.

But the governor can point to victories in such nonlegislative areas as penal reform, which he has promised to make one of the hallmarks of his administration.

The resolve was prompted to a great extent by five Negro inmates. Four of them excaped and surrendered to Maddox one Sunday at the governor's mansion, complaining of prison conditions.

The fifth drowned in a pond at a public works camp, while retrieving ducks shot by a guard. Camp officials said the inmate went into the icy water voluntarily.

"You show me how many people believe that," declared Maddox, "and I'll tell you how many fools there are in Georgia."

Under pressure from the governor, prison conditions have been improved, especially in public works camps maintained by counties.

Almost daily, in speeches, informal chats, interviews and capital hallway news conferences, Maddox sounds the rallying cry against "the Communists, Socialists, leftwingers, bums, beatniks, looters, rioters and wreckers" all of whom he roughly equates with civil rights activists.

Yet Negroes have made more advances in state government during his administration than in any previous one. The number of Negroes on local draft boards, for example, has risen from two to more than 20. Maddox instructed that Negroes be hired into the previously all-white Georgia Bureau of Investigation, and there now are two on the 85-man force.

What America needs, Maddox is likely to say sometime during his response to almost any question, is a fewer people on welfare rolls, more on payrolls and a return to states' rights, private property rights, patriotism, free enterprise and constitutional government.

Twice each month in the governor's office, Maddox conducts Little People's Day, when crowds of people gather to file through, shake his hand and confide to him problems that they cannot solve.

Maddox assigns each problem to a member of his staff, although he acknowledges, "There isn't anything I can do for most of the people who come. It just lets them know that there is someone in government who cares."

One of the fears most often expressed about the election of Maddox was the manner in which he might react to racial violence.

So far the state has been free of any major violence, even during the tense time after the death of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

The night King was killed, Maddox sealed off the governor's mansion and refused to talk to newsmen by telephone. The next day he issued a brief, carefully worded statement deploring the murder and quietly alerted 2,000 National Guardsmen.

The day of the funeral, however Maddox said privately it made him "sick at his stomach" to see flags at the capitol lowered to half staff in mourning for a man he had denounced as a tool of the Communists and once, before his election, had promised to run out of the state.

The governor stopped short of officially ordering the secretary of state to raise the flag, but he did refuse to close the Capitol.

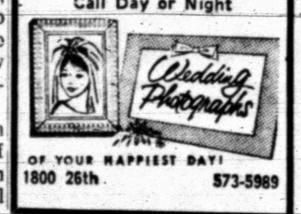

Instead, he fortified it with 200 club-carrying, helmeted state troopers and other law enforcement officials who circled the Capitol and patrolled its corridors with shotguns as the thousands of mourners marched past.

The next day he congratulated Atlanta Mayor Ivan Allen Jr. that the massive funeral had been without incident.

Shortly afterward, however, he was offering to finance a shanty in Resurrection City if Allen, Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, New York Mayor John Lindsay "and the rest of that crowd" would move in.

Maddox delights in telling various audiences and visitors to his office, "I'm governor. Some people don't like it, but none of them can do anything about it."

Most belief is that the moon and earth were created separately and then the moon was captured as a satellite by the earth's gravitational pull.
