

CLEAN-UP STARTS EARLY

Mrs. Robert Lewis and her three children got an early start in the county-wide clean-up campaign, slated to begin Monday, March 19, and will continue through the week. A good place to start, she found, was with the tumble weeds that rolled into town by the hundreds during recent high winds.

Clean-up was a family affair at the Lewis home, 1203 East Avenue, and rake and hoe work was done by Debbie, 11, at left, and Carey, 9, shown at right. Hardest worker of all was year-old Don, who first used his own little rake, then pushed the utility cart.

County-Wide Clean-up Announced March 19 to 24

The first county-wide Clean-up campaign opens Monday, March 19, and will continue through Saturday, March 24, under the joint sponsorship of the Extension Service, the Chamber of Commerce and the City of Wellington, along with a large number of clubs and organizations. Plans for the drive were nearing completion at midweek with a number of clubs already announcing what they will do.

"The county-wide clean-up campaign is for the purpose of improving the safety and health of our people of the county," Jack Phipps, chairman of the program building committee for the Extension Service, declared. "It is to make our county more beautiful and a more desirable place to live. Therefore we are asking the cooperation of all people of the county to rid such things which may be fire hazards, obstructions at the intersections of roads and streets, to clean vacant lots and parks, fence rows, and storage buildings; prune trees; paint buildings, and clean up premises in general."

Stray Dogs to be Killed, Marsh Says

Due to the many complaints of dogs running loose through town, Police Chief Troy Marsh announced this week that effective immediately, it will be necessary to kill all dogs caught without collars.

"This isn't what we want to do, but the city has had many complaints. We know, too, that many of the dogs running about are strays which have not been vaccinated for rabies, and therefore could be a menace to our health. These do not have a home and they receive no care," the police chief said.

He urged all dog owners to see that their pets have collars and preferably tags indicating they have had rabies shots.

One More for School Trustee

Charles Ray (Dick) Pendleton filed as a candidate for a place on the Wellington school board Wednesday, March 7, to give three men seeking the two places, Supt. J. L. Harper announced.

The other candidates are E. D. Crawley and Jones Singley, both asking for re-election.

Mrs. J. A. Coffee has Light Stroke

Mrs. J. A. Coffee, who suffered a light stroke recently, is slowly improving at her home here, her daughter, Miss Maudie Coffee, said Tuesday. Visiting in the Coffee home Sunday were relatives from Amarillo, Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Coffee, and D. M. Coffee.

Memorial Planned to Dr. E. W. Jones

As a memorial to Dr. E. W. Jones, who saved so many lives in the emergency room of St. Joseph's Hospital, the Hospital Auxiliary is sponsoring funds for a new emergency room table.

Mrs. L. C. Hill, president of the Auxiliary, made the announcement. This will be a memorial drive, in which all friends of the doctor can have a part.

Those wishing to make donations may send them to St. Joseph's Hospital or to members of the Hospital Auxiliary. The Auxiliary of St. Joseph's Hospital initiated the idea, then presented it to the family of Dr. Jones, who approved it.

In Wellington, the Business and Professional Women's club put on a two-day drive for funds to provide trash containers in the business section of town. The drive will continue through Wednesday, March 14.

The club also will distribute litter bags donated by the City State Bank, and with the cooperation of an organization at Dodson, and possibly other groups, will attempt to reach all persons of the trade area, according to Mrs. A. V. Lowrie, chairman of the B&PW project.

Cleaning of the Dodson cemetery is slated. Representatives of Home Demonstration Clubs of the county announced in a council meeting Monday that they are joining in the work.

The drive was set at this time because this is the season when trees and shrubs should be pruned.

The list of those sponsoring the county-wide clean-up campaign includes the program building committee of the Extension Service, Chamber of

Quail Alumni Banquet Set for April 21

This year's Quail Alumni banquet will be Saturday, April 21, the day before Easter, according to the president, Donald Langley.

The banquet will begin at 8 p.m. and both graduates and ex-students who did not graduate there are eligible to attend, along with their families.

The deadline for making reservations is Wednesday, April 18, and they should be sent to Mrs. George Keeton, Route 5, Wellington. They will be paid for at the door. One committee is already making plans for the banquet, the decorations committee, composed of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Gilbreth, Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Childers and Mr. and Mrs. John Carson.

Plan Wellington Home Tour

A tour of some of Wellington's finer homes will be held Sunday, April 8, under the sponsorship of the American Legion Auxiliary, it was announced this week by Mrs. John Justice, tour chairman.

The tour will be from 1 to 5 p.m. Proceeds will be used to send one or more girls to Girls State at Austin this year, Mrs. Troy Marsh, auxiliary president, said.

Homes visited will be those of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Nunnally, Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Yarbrough, Mr. and Mrs. Drury Lacy, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Thomason, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Saied, Mr. and Mrs. John Holton, Mr. and Mrs. Tiffin Young, Mr. and Mrs. Silas Crawford, and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Tisdale. One or two more homes may be added later.

Several of these homes are just completed and have not been opened to the public previously.

Mrs. Quinton Brewer reminds everyone that Friday, March 16 is old newspaper pick-up day again.

Have your papers out early, Mrs. Brewer said, and the boys will pick them up some time during the day.

County Reviews Possibility of Constructing a New Jail

The commissioners court is again trying to find a way to build a jail for Collingsworth county, Judge C. C. Bishop announced at the end of the regular meeting of the court on Monday, March 12.

Bonds for a jail have been voted down twice since the old jail became unusable.

This time the commissioners are considering a jail that would be adequate for the county's need, although it would not meet the state's new jail statutory requirements.

The court requested County Attorney R. L. Templeton to secure an opinion from the attorney general on the following proposition:

"Could the bonds if voted, be approved for the dismantling of the present Collingsworth county jail that is 51 years old and the construction of another jail, using all usable material from the old jail such as cells and brick, even though the newly constructed jail does not meet all of the new jail statutory requirements but which would be adequate for county needs."

The commissioners requested this information in time to call an election in early June.

Collingsworth is believed to be the only county in Texas without a jail. Its only facility for holding prisoners is the one-room, two-cell city jail in the community building.

Sheriff John Rainey keeps county prisoners in jail at Wheeler, Childress and Memphis, and sometimes he has them in all three places at once, depending on the number of prisoners of their own the officers of those counties are holding.

"They are doing it for us as an accommodation," Rainey said.

"Most people don't realize how many prisoners we handle or the nature of the violations they are held for," he continued.

In discussing the expense to the county, the sheriff pointed out that one prisoner sometimes makes necessary several trips to these towns, which are from 23 to 40 miles away; first to lodge the prisoner in jail, then return him here for arraignment, take him back to jail if he cannot make bond, and finally bring him to Wellington again for trial.

Collingsworth county pays Childress county $2.00 per day board for prisoners; Hall county $1.25 and Wheeler county $1.50.

Prisoners unable to make bond are sometimes kept at one of these jails as much as two or three months awaiting trial or appearance before the grand jury, Sheriff Rainey said.

Cook Ill in Fort Worth

Jim Cook, assistant postmaster, is reported improved in a Fort Worth hospital following gall bladder surgery performed last week.

He and Mrs. Cook were visiting his sister, Mrs. Lucy Cook in Fort Worth when he became ill. They were en route to the Rio Grande Valley to visit a son, Deward Cook.

Friends here said his condition was considered serious for a time and all his children were called to be with him.

Fire Catches Elbert Garage

Firemen were called to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Elbert, 1701 Park Lane Ave., about 1:15 p.m. Saturday, after burning trash set the grass on fire.

The blaze spread to the garage, which is attached to the Elbert home, burning the door frame and an inside wall, Fire Marshal Troy Marsh reported.

George Shadid Heads Red Cross Fund Drive in County

George Shadid is heading this year's Red Cross Fund raising drive in Collingsworth, which begins this week and will continue through March.

The county's quota this year is $1,379, Shadid said.

"This is the only time of the year that Red Cross asks you for your money—but the Red Cross gives it back to us every day of the year," the chairman pointed out.

Those who will help in this year's drive were named this week by Shadid.

Dodson's chairman will be T. E. Lennon, while Z. J. Neeley will be in charge at Quail.

Chairman of the business section are: Morris Sullivan, south side of square; Alvin Horton, north side of square; George Shadid, west side of square; Richard Bailey, east side of square; Bobo Castleberry, the business section away from the square. Mrs. Wayne Cudd will be in Workers who do not yet have their supplies may pick them up at The Fair Store, Shadid said.

Rally Slated

State and District Republican Candidates Here Friday

A county-wide Republican rally will be held Thursday, March 15 in the club room of the community building, county chairman Emil B. Kersten announced this week.

The rally starts at 7:30 p.m. Some of the top state and district candidates running on the republican ticket will attend.

Bill Hays of Temple, candidate for Lieutenant Governor, has sent word he will be here. He will be accompanied by his campaign manager, U. C. Sterquell and also Mrs. Richard E. Shaffer of Amarillo, Potter county chairman.

Mrs. Edward McKay, Amarillo, seeking a place on the state board of education, will pay a return visit to Wellington.

On the district level, Jack Seale will speak, and he is due to be accompanied by his family. Warren Fatheree, candidate for the state legislature, will attend.

Three candidates for the republican nomination for Congressman-at-Large will also be present at the meeting, Mr. Kersten has been notified. These are Giles Miller of Dallas, Joe B. Phillips of Lubbock and Desmond Berry of Houston.

Kersten, who also is a candidate for county judge, will open the meeting and introduce Mrs. Curtis Trawick of Hereford, district committee woman, who will preside for the remainder of the rally.

"We want you to hear these candidates express their views on the coming election issues," Kersten declared as he invited not only Republicans, but all others who may be interested. "It is our belief that if you will think on what these people have to say, you will be a better informed voter when election time comes," Kersten remarked.

Refreshments will be served at the rally.

Norwood Juniors to Give Play

The Samnorwood junior class presents a three act play, "The Monkey's Uncle" Friday night, March 23, at 7:00 p.m. in the high school gym.

Tickets may be purchased beforehand from one of the Juniors or you may pay at the door.

Homemade ice cream, cake, and candy will be sold. Everyone is invited.

Friday Night

Juniors Slate "Lock, Stock and Lipstick"

A fast-moving comedy entitled "Lock, Stock and Lipstick" will be presented by the junior class in the Wellington high school auditorium Friday night, March 16. Curtain time will be 8 o'clock.

This play depicts a typical high school with its lively students and conscientious teachers. The setting is the office of the guidance counselor. Everything is running smoothly in Pembroke high school until a lady guidance counselor moves in, "lock stock and lipstick."

James Poteet and Sylvia McQuary have the leading roles as the guidance counselors. Charles Floyd and Mary Ann Pierce, the janitors, help to keep the office tidy. Gayla Courtney is the stern but understanding principal of Pembroke high school, while Mary Graham is the dedicated math teacher. High school students are Don Roark, Alvina Roberts, Maudie Turner, and Gary Holliman. Barbara Dobbs makes her appearance late in the play, but as a domineering patron she lets everyone know that she is around.

Stage managers are Raymond Sanders, Frances Hill, and Anne Coleman. Bill Tyler is electrician, and Peggy Shanks is in charge of hair styling. Judi Bailey assists as an extra, and Lynn McLain helped design the stage setting.

Mrs. Ruth Hightower is directing the play and C. A. Crawford and Mrs. Tolbert Painter are in charge of publicity and ticket sales.

Dodson Evangelist

The Rev. Hollie Briscoe of Atoka, Oklahoma, will be the evangelist at a three-day revival to be held at South Baptist Church, Dodson, Friday through Sunday, March 16 to 18. The public is invited.

For Americanism

Freedom's Foundation Award to Kiwanis

Kiwanis International received a Distinguished Service Award for "Americanism and Citizenship Projects" in the 1961 Freedom Foundation Award presentation ceremony, Feb. 22 at Valley Forge, according to L. B. Bratten, president of the Kiwanis Club of Wellington. This is the most important award that the Freedom Foundation grants. It is the eleventh which Kiwanis has achieved.

"Kiwanis' award was based primarily on its dramatic CQ (Citizenship Quotient) project," Bratten said. He described the CQ program as one which encourages citizens to determine their own citizenship activity, taking steps to correct any deficiencies noted.

A major award, the George Washington Honor Medal, also came to Circle K International for that group's "College Campus Citizenship Programs."

Circle K International is a college men's service organization sponsored by Kiwanis. It numbers some 7200 members in 378 campus clubs.

Key Club International, a high school boys' service organization, also sponsored by Kiwanis, received an Honor Certificate from the Freedom Foundation for its 1961 "Theme and Objectives," the inspirational guideposts toward which the organization oriented its 1961 service program. Key Club now includes 55,000 members in 2300 clubs.

All three organizations are dedicated to service—Kiwanis to the adult community, Circle K to the campus, Key Club to the high school.

Award entries of the three were in competition with several thousand from similar organizations, industries, businesses, news media, government, religious and educational institutions and individuals.

County Sends 133 to Prison in 40 Years

HUNTSVILLE.—During the 40 year period from 1920 to 1959 a total of 109,949 individuals were committed to the Texas Prison System, according to a study of crime in Texas, recently completed by Dr. R. C. Koeninger, director of the Department of Sociology, Sam Houston State Teachers College, Huntsville.

The study was made by Dr. Koeninger, a sociologist and criminologist, to show the trends in prison commitments for the state and for each county in Texas.

Collingsworth county committed 183 persons to the prison during the period studied, and ranks 161 in the state for the number of persons committed during the 40 year period.

"One third, or a total of 35,989 of those committed came from five counties of Texas," Koeninger said. "The five most populous counties, Harris with 12,943; Dallas with 9,350; Bexar with 5,322; Tarrant with 4,328; and El Paso with 4,046, send more persons to prison, but this does not indicate that the population of these five counties is more criminal than other areas."

Koeninger bases his statement on the ratio of commitments to prison for each 1,000 persons over the 40 year period. "For example," Koeninger said, "El Paso county has committed a total of 21 persons for each 1,000 of its population over the 40 year period, while Harris county committed a total of 17 persons for each 1,000 of its population over the same period."

The rating of 13.23 for Collingsworth county indicates that 147 counties of the state send more persons for each 1,000 of its population, over the 40 year period.

The five counties in Texas where the commitment ratio is the highest are all found in West and Northwest Texas.

Dallam county has the highest ratio in the state, with 49 persons for each 1,000 in the population during the period. In comparison, the ratio of the five counties sending the most persons to prison is as follows: Harris with a ratio of 17; El Paso 21; Tarrant 13; Dallas 16, and Bexar with a ratio of 11 persons for the study period.

"In our study of commitment rates for each county, more significance was attached to the ratio than to the total number of persons committed to the prison, Koeninger said.

Another factor which Koeninger finds significant and one which he believes is cause for concern is the increase in the rate of commitments throughout the state. During the period studied the state population has increased 65 per cent over 1920, while the state's ratio of commitment has increased by 105 per cent.

Koeninger attributes the commitment increase to many factors. "Attitudes toward certain types of crime, increase in law enforcement facilities, and an increase in the prison system's efforts at rehabilitation are important reasons, particularly the latter," Koeninger said.

"With a modern penal system judges are not as reluctant to commit men to prison." He also noted that Texas did not have a state-wide parole system in operation until September 1957 and that the absence of a state system of supervised probation further contributed to sending larger numbers to prison.

Dodson Masons Observe Past Masters Night

The Dodson Masonic Lodge observed Past Masters Night in open meeting on the evening of March 3, when there were some forty members and guests in attendance, including six Past Masters.

The evening meal was served in the Club Room of the Dodson Cafe and then adjournment was made to the Lodge Hall for the program presentation.

Vocal soloist Joe Lennon entertained with song preceding a highlight of the occasion, which was the presentation of Twenty-five Wear Masonic membership pins to Vernon Jackson and T. E. Lennon.

Conducting the presentation ceremony was A. J. Garland of Clarendon, District Deputy Grand Master.

Banquet Honors '61-62 Rockets and Rockettes

Parents sponsored a banquet for the basketball playing Rockets and Rockettes Thursday evening, March 9, at the community building.

School colors were used in the decorations, and tables were laid with white cloths, and red streamers down the center, where tiny white styro-foam basketballs were placed. The centerpiece was a glittered basketball bearing the word "Skyrockets" in red and surrounded by red and white flowers. The trophies which were won by the teams this year were used on the tables. Programs were white leather basketballs with place markers in the form of a skyrocket across the corner of the basketballs.

C. A. Crawford was master of ceremonies; a skit, "What Would This World Be Like if the Men Were the Weaker Sex and Women the Stronger Sex" was directed by Mrs. Bob McAlister. Taking part in the skit were Gayla Courtney, Vicki Glenn, Don Roark, Oliver Bishop and Johnny Ford.

Coach James Stavenhagen presented awards to the teams. Those making the all district team were Janice Wood, Carol Blain, Elaine Yarbrough, Jackie Daves. Receiving honorable mention for all district were Donna Curry, Gayla Courtney, and Craig Bergvall.

Jackets for the players let-tering had not been received at this time and they will be given at a later date.

Senior players were recognized and complimented for their work and leadership.

Miss Basketball and Mr. Basketball were selected by the coach and a committee of teachers who had watched almost all of the games, and the titles went to Janice Wood and Jackie Daves. The Queen for the 1961-62 season was Donna Curry, and the King was John Barton. These two were selected by teammates.

The teams presented their coaches with gift certificates and Elaine Yarbrough gave the response.

The benediction was given by Kenneth Grunewald, and dancing followed.

All Rockets and Rockettes were present, and they and their guests were Carol Blain, Janice Wood, Donna Curry, Jane Orr, Vicki Glenn, Elaine Yarbrough, Gayla Courtney, Frances Warrick, Linda Mill-sap, Ann Orr, Joyce Hanna, Donna Isaacs, Nancy Gibbs, John Barton, Dan Henard, Jerry Rainey, Jackie Daves, Oliver Bishop, Joe Henard, Don Roark, John Roark, Danny Martin, Johnnie Ford, Herbie Duncan, Craig Bergvall, Lynn McLain, Delmer Duckworth, Bryan Hatch, Norman

Bands to St. Patrick's Events

The Wellington high school and junior high bands will participate in the Shamrock St. Patrick's Day Parade Saturday March 17, Director Tubal Cain said this week.

Jennifer Singley, band queen and also Miss Wellington, will represent the city in the Miss Irish Rose competition.

Sixty-four boys and girls will make up the combined band, Cain said.

Henards to Livestock Meet

Mr. and Mrs. Edd Henard and Mr. and Mrs. John R. Henard Jr., of Wellington Livestock Commission Co., will participate in the 1962 convention of Texas Livestock Auction Association to be held at the Gunter Hotel, San Antonio, on Friday and Saturday, Mar. 23-24.

The two-day event will feature three business assembly sessions, covering all phases of modern livestock auction market operation by nationally-known speakers, a Saturday noon luncheon and closing gala annual TLAA "Progress Banquet" in the grand ballroom of the Gunter Hotel.

Advance reservations already indicate an history-making attendance at San Antonio according to association leaders, and several social events are on the agenda for wives and families of the state's livestock auction market operators and their guests.

Money Granted for Materials

WHS Musicians to Borger Band Festival

The Wellington high school band will attend the Borger Band Festival, participating in the various events along with approximately 30 other bands of the Panhandle.

The festival will be set up along the lines of Interscholastic League competition, and actually is a warmup for that event, it was explained by Tubal Cain, band director.

The band will first play three concert numbers, then it will participate in the sight-reading.

Bands will be judged on interpretation, technique, balance and blend, intonation and general overall effect, Cain said.

Last year, the Wellington high school band won a second division on concert playing and third division on sight-reading.

Thirty members of the band and Director Cain will go.

As your banker, we urge you to join the county-wide clean-up week in Collingsworth. We believe it is good business for any merchant, farmer or rancher to keep his premises clean and in an orderly manner, to eliminate those things that are a hazard, either to person or property.

If you believe a major repair or remodeling job is in order now, we can help you plan the financing. It may be that an investment now, plus a complete clean-up, fix-up job, will add considerable value to your farm or home.

1924 Study Club Plans Annual Style Show Thursday, March 29

"Melody of Spring," annual style show and dinner, will highlight the spring season on Thursday, March 29, in the community building.

Models from four Wellington stores will present the latest in spring and summer fashions in the show that will start at 7 p.m. Eight numbers will be presented by each store, using as many models as they wish. Participating will be The Fair Store, Fashion Shop, Hatch Dry Goods and The Leader Department Store.

Door prizes will be awarded, and girls will distribute favors during the intermission. Special parties may make reservations in advance by contacting Mrs. Gene Nelson, general chairman.

Committees from the 1924

Study club, which is sponsoring the show, include: Mrs. Howard Riggs, Mrs. A. L. Elliott, Mrs. L. E. Gribble, Mrs. Mack Bush, Mrs. James Sullivan and Mrs. Nelson, steering committee; Mrs. Riggs, chairman, Mrs. Raymond Ross, Mrs. Elliott, Mrs. Verrell Leeper and Mrs. Eddie Slay, decorations; and Mrs. Billy Mac Sims and Mrs. Velman Warwick, models committee.

Mrs. Gribble, chairman, and Misses Hattie D. Wells and Sara Jones, door prizes, favors and merchants' displays committee; Mrs. Bush, music; Mrs. Chester Fires, chairman, Mrs. Ed White and Mrs. J. L. Burt, tickets; Mrs. Sullivan, chairman, Mrs. Nelson, Mrs. D. F. Cook and Mrs. R. R. Crawley, food committee.

Hospital Auxiliary Plans Rewiring to Permit Use of Air Conditioners

St. Joseph's Hospital Auxiliary has adopted as its project for this year rewiring the hospital to accommodate air conditioning for 15 rooms, Mrs. L. C. Hill announced following a meeting of that group Friday, March 9.

The old wiring for the nine rooms now air conditioned is inadequate, Mrs. Hill said, and an additional circuit will be run for 15 rooms. Plans are to have the work completed by summer.

In the Friday meeting, Mrs. Hill appointed Mrs. John Sherman and Mrs. J. W. Wells as the nominating committee for new officers. Mrs. Jimmy Cochran heads the luncheon committee, with Mrs. Carter Holcomb and Mrs. Quinton Brewer as members, to prepare the birthday luncheon April 1, which each year honors the anniversary of their coming to Wellington. This year is the 23rd anniversary.

Initial plans were made for the observance of National Hospital Week, May 6 to 12.

A new bulletin board was installed in the east corridor of the hospital by Mrs. B. M. Sims, who headed the committee which had this work done.

Mrs. Wood Club Hostess

The Belles Lettres Club met March 6 for its regular meeting in the home of Mrs. J. H. Wood, with Mrs. Richard Bailey, president, presiding.

Mrs. Cicero Gulley gave a report on the City Federation meeting, stating that Mrs. Chester Fires was to receive a life membership in the Federation. The Federation had also voted to form a unit for aid in the disease, myasthenia gravis.

Roll call was answered by each member naming some woman in politics.

Mrs. Denley had charge of the program and gave a talk on "Women in Politics." She quoted that Dwight D. Eisenhower said "Women bring to politics the enthusiasm and idealism which men often forget." A New York state party official noted that people are less afraid to open the door to a nice looking woman; she stands more chance of getting inside to talk to people, especially to other women.

"There are three essential steps we have to take if we are to become 'Citizens at Work.' We must be interested, be informed, be active," he said.

Refreshments were served to Mrs. Bailey, Mrs. Chas. Cason Jr., Mrs. A. B. Clark, Mrs. Bryan Denley, Mrs. Bartlett, Mrs. F. A. Hatch, Mrs. R. R. Hightower, Mrs. Cicero Gulley, Mrs. S. B. Owen, Mrs. O. D. Holton, Mrs. J. M. Stowell, Mrs. H. B. Lowrie, and the hostess, Mrs. Wood.

Christian Women's Circle Meets

The Christian Women's Circle of the First Christian Church met Monday night, March 5 in the Fellowship Center of the church with Mrs. Billy Ray Ford as hostess.

Mrs. Raymond Neely opened the meeting with prayer and Mrs. Jack Sanford conducted the business meeting.

Roll call was answered by quoting a verse of Scripture. The devotionals was given by Mrs. Ford. Mrs. J. M. Strong presented the lesson and a discussion on the lesson followed.

Refreshments were served to Mrs. Strong, Mrs. Lydia McPherson, Mrs. Zook Thomas, Mrs. Sanford, Mrs. Ozro Bartlett, Mrs. Raymond Neely and Mrs. Gilbert Forrest, two guests, Mrs. Millard Brown Sr. and Mrs. Henry Langford, and the hostess, Mrs. Ford.

Mrs. Harvey Price and children of Clarendon, and her mother, Mrs. Noah Johnson of Quail, were guests Friday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Price. Visiting Saturday in the Price home was Mrs. Kate Browning of Memphis. Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Price went to Amarillo to visit their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Bettis and family.

Mrs. R. C. Johnson of Dalt was a week end guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Johnson.

Dodson Club Entertains President of Top O'Texas Federation District

Mrs. Glen Lewis was hostess to members of the Dodson Civic Club on Thursday evening, March 8. Co-hostess with Mrs. Lewis was Mrs. G. M. Lewis.

Mrs. Jack Allen, Top o' Texas district club president, brought the program on "What Clubs Can Do." She also told of her travels overseas to Holland and Finland last summer.

Mrs. T. E. Lennon, president of the Dodson club welcomed a new member, Mrs. Grover Graham.

During the business meeting the group discussed the Vogue pattern contest and selected Mrs. Floyd Teutsch to represent the club in this contest.

Methodist Women Observe World Day of Prayer Friday Morning

Women of the First Methodist Church met at the church Friday morning, March 9 from 9:30 to 10:30 for the 76th annual observance of the World Day of Prayer.

Theme for the program this year was "God So Loved the World." Each year the program is written by a different country and the program presented this year was written by Uruguay.

One hundred and forty-five countries around the world join in this observance and each hour of the day some group is united in prayer.

As the ladies entered the church they were given a short meditation to read while Vickie Glenn played soft organ music.

Mrs. Mayme Somerville opened the program with a talk on Africa, followed by a solo "In Christ There Is No East or West," sung by Mrs. Orville Vaughan.

Mrs. J. B. King had charge of talk and meditation on Alaska, and Mrs. E. F. Bartlett gave meditation on World Day of Prayer.

Ko Shari Honors Pledges

Members of Ko Shari were hostesses at a pledge party on Monday, March 5, in the home of Mrs. J. W. Wells, a sponsor.

Frances Hill, president, explained the meaning and aims of Ko Shari.

During the remainder of the meeting, the girls practiced the twist. Refreshments were then served.

Pledges present were Alecie Holliman, Sherry Barker, Nancy Sanford, Jackie Barton, Leslie Covey, Jeannie Antoon, Janice Tarver, Marsha Elbert, Sandra Carter, Joyce Curry, and Beth Sikes.

In addition to these, approximately 25 members attended, along with the sponsors, Mrs. Wells and Mrs. Jimmy Cochran.

Homemakers Have Casserole Program

Mrs. Leonard Wall was hostess to members of the Homemakers Home Demonstration Club on Thursday afternoon, March 8.

Mrs. Ralph Coburn, president, conducted the business meeting. Miss Kathryn Potter, home demonstration agent, gave the demonstration on quick casserole dishes with canned meats. June Popwell, 4-H Club girl, gave a demonstration on dairy food and fixed banana milk shake for the group.

Seven members and one visitor, Mrs. Owen James, were present.

Next meeting will be March 22 in the home of Mrs. Margaret Whitson. Mrs. Eugene Morrow will give the demonstration on furniture arrangement.

The children of Mrs. Addie Nelson have returned to their homes after being at her bedside during her illness. They are Mrs. F. C. Moore of San Bernardino, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Keese and children of Moab, Utah; and Mrs. F. M. Hanners and June of New Orleans. A son and a daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Nelson of Fort Worth have come for an extended stay with her. Mrs. Nelson's condition was serious for a time but she is now improved, according to a daughter, Mrs. Auburn Kelter.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Brown of Midland were here over the week end. They came to help Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Colson move to Midland where he is now employed.

Clean-up week was set for March 19-24 and committees were appointed to work on this. Nine members reported visiting the school during Public Schools Week.

A report was given on the game tournament held recently for the purpose of raising money to help the school library, and to add new playground equipment.

A salad plate was served to Mmes. J. C. Howell, B. B. Martin, H. A. Painter, Floyd Teutsch, B. T. Webb, Floyd Roberts, Jr., S. L. Beanland, J. F. Bogle, T. E. Lennon, and guests, Mrs. Allen, Mrs. Carl Crosnoe, Mrs. Ernest Nipper, and the hostess, Mrs. Lewis.

dress District President, had charge of a candle ceremony, which symbolized money raised for missionary work carried on overseas.

Mrs. Vaughan sang "The Day Thou Gavest."

Quiet music and altar prayers closed the meeting.

1962 Official Hiway Map Has New Symbols

AUSTIN. — The pioneering Texas Highway Department—originator of a proposal to standardize symbols on state maps for easier understanding by motorists—features some of the new symbols on its 1962 Official Highway Travel Map.

A four-color beauty with "See Texas" as its theme, the new map is now available free to the public.

In 1956, Texas recommended that a standard set of symbols be adopted for use on all state maps—to make the maps easier to read for motorists crossing from one state into another. This proposal was eventually adopted by the American Association of State Highway Officials and within the next few years all official state highway maps will be using these accepted standard symbols. When this standardization is effected, none of the road symbols should be "foreign" to a motorist traveling anywhere in the United States—providing the map he consults utilizes AASHO symbols.

Such uniform symbols will make the nation's travel maps easier to read and understand—whether in New York, or New Mexico, South Dakota or South Carolina. A quick look at the standard symbols and the motorist immediately knows what type of highways are available in a given area, as well as many types of other special travel information required by the modern motorist.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Barnett and daughters of Amarillo, and Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Barnett of Guymon, Okla., visited Sunday in the C. R. Barnett home.

Mrs. S. E. Brown is confined to bed all time now but is still able to have company. She was visited Sunday by Mrs. G. D. Thomas.

officials said they plan to adopt all the AASHO symbols when the basic travel map is rescribed. They said the basic map probably will be completely redrawn within the next two years.

Chances are the Lone Star State will be the first of the fifty whose highway department turns out a travel map incorporating all the AASHO symbols.

Use of the AASHO color symbols indicating the network of Interstate, U.S. and State highways, and Farm to Market roads in Texas keynotes the major changes in the latest edition of the popular travel map.

On the new map, U. S. highways and Farm to Market roads—both formerly indicated in black—are now shown in a red band and a blue band respectively. Shields for U. S. highways remain red; Farm to Market road shields, which were black, now are "boxes" in blue, too.

Officials of the Texas Highway Department said that markings for the state highways will remain a black band. Also, Interstate Highways will retain their two narrow black bands with a red center. This is the standard symbol for showing the Interstate Highway System.

Multilane divided highway miles now completed and shown on the new map, total 2,131 miles. They include the finished sections of the seven National Systems of Interstate and Defense Highways through Texas.

This year's map has more than 698 Farm to Market and Ranch to Market road miles added. Approximately 20,848 miles of the state's more than 33,000-mile Farm to Market road system now under maintenance are shown on the map. So are the 26,921 miles of Interstate, U.S. and State highways.

The 1962 map has a map-on-a-map feature on its colorful reverse side. This is a caricature map that plays up "Things to Do . . . Places to Go . . . Things to See . . . in TEXAS!"

A section underneath the caricature map tells about the vacation activities in Texas that are as "varied as the landscape of the Lone Star State itself." In another section, entitled "Good Highways—A Texas Tradition," the map reader is told about the state's vast "62,000 mile highway network which offers the maximum in safety, comfort, and convenience for all types of motor travel."

Texas—in all its panoramic grandeur—is illustrated in 11 full-color photographs of scenes the motorist may view from his car windows as he travels on the more than 62,000 miles of the Texas highway system "engineered for safety, comfort and pleasure." These pictures were selected to get a geographical cross section of the state, and they depict the different types of highways and special traffic facilities offered motorists by the Texas Highway Department.

The 1962 map plots 1,828 cities and towns. It also features twelve insets, which are not city maps but maps showing major routes in the state's dozen largest cities. They are Amarillo, Austin, Beaumont, Corpus Christi, Dallas, El Paso, Fort Worth, Houston, Lubbock, San Antonio, Waco, and Wichita Falls.

Free copies of the new Texas motoring map may be obtained by writing the Texas Highway Department, P.O. Box 5064, Austin. The map is also available at the 25 highway district offices and eight Tourist Bureaus throughout the state. County tax offices have map cards for requesting copies of the map.

Research Program Here Called Best Source of Information

"This program is one of the best sources of fertility information for the rolling plains area that the Extension Service has," Billy Gunter, area agronomist with the Extension Service, said of the Northwest Texas Research Demonstration program in this county, Hall and Wheeler counties.

Gunter, along with Dave Sherrill, irrigation specialist for the Extension Service, was speaking before a group of county farmers and business men at a recent fertility and irrigation meeting, sponsored by the Extension Service.

Gunter added that he used information gained from the NW Texas program in other meetings throughout the area. "We have noticed fertilizer recommendations have changed because we have better information," County Agent Bob Lynch added.

Gunter also recommended the placement of fertilizer by the method used in the tests—in bands 20 inches apart and 4 inches below the surface of the seed bed.

"If we were assured we would not have to replant, we could use a closer placing, but since we have to replant so much, this will give the second planting fertilizer, too," he said.

The movement of nutrients in the soil was discussed. Gunter said that phosphorous does not move at all and has to be placed where the roots will reach it; however, nitrogen moves readily with the soil moisture and placement is not so critical.

Sherrill, discussing the use of cotton burs on the land, told the Wellington group that tests at Lubbock show a ton of burs on irrigated cotton land show a net return of $10 per ton put down.

He stressed rotation of crops especially since cotton does not put much organic matter back in the soil.

A rule of thumb given by Sherrill for fertilizer put down as a side dressing on irrigated cotton is to put all the phosphorous in the soil.

Under the law, persons operating vehicles without the 1962 inspection sticker on and after April 16 are subject to arrest. Authority to enforce the provisions of the Texas Motor Vehicle Inspection Act is vested in the patrolmen of the Department of Public Safety, sheriffs and their deputies, and city policemen.

phorous and half the nitrogen down at planting and side dress with nitrogen at the time the cotton starts to fruit. This will probably come after most of the possibility of hail has passed.

Lynch presided at the meeting, which was held under a plan recommended by the program building committee of the Extension Service, headed by John Coleman, chairman of the research demonstration committee. Members are Zook Thomas, Cecil Shanks, Carl Crosnoe, David Baumgardner, Douglas Coleman, Fred Bourland, N. E. Childers, Jack Aaron, Alfred Knoll, A. V. Lowrie, John Coffee, and Woodrow Wood.

65 Deer Killed by Bow and Arrow

AUSTIN.—Members of the Texas Field Archery Association reported a total kill of 65 deer in the 1962 hunting season, according to a letter received by E. A. Walker, director of program planning for the Game and Fish Commission. The report was made by Jimmie D. Dickens, secretary-treasurer of the archery organization.

Survey information on 35 of the deer showed there were 21 bucks and 14 does, and they averaged 74 pounds each, field dressed.

There were 13 killed in the October special season hunting; 12 in November and 10 in December. There were 33 killed on stand hunting and 2 in walking. The hunters got 15 standing; 16 walking and four running, with only one shot per deer for 32 deer, and 2 arrows on three deer. The average distance of the shot was 26 yards. The average distance traveled by a deer after being hit was 71.5 yards.

All hunters used laminated fibre glass recurve bows, averaging 48.6 pounds pull. Sixteen used wood arrows, 15 fibre glass and 4 aluminum. The average number of years of hunting experience per hunter was 5½. Twenty hunters made their first deer kill with a bow and arrow. Three women were successful shooters. Thirty other deer kills also were reported by bow hunters, but without details.

Slow Moving Farm Vehicle Spells Disaster

Using the farm tractor for an all-purpose runabout is a dangerous practice. Do not use a farm tractor for trips not directly related to field work, Safety Patrolman Cecil McNeil, of the Texas Department of Public Safety reminded while in Wellington Friday, March 9.

Slow moving vehicles are one of the major problems of rural highway travel. Many of them are inadequately lighted or lack proper identification with which to warn motorists.

It is up to the operators of slow moving farm vehicles to practice courtesy whenever they can, Patrolman McNeil said. When it is possible the farm tractor operator should pull his equipment onto the shoulder and allow faster moving vehicles to pass. Although the farm operator has a privilege to move his farm vehicles and equipment upon the roadway, he should be willing to pull off the roadway for his own protection. This may prevent himself, his farm vehicles and farm equipment from being involved in an accident.

It has been observed that many farm tractors, vehicles, and motorized equipment while upon the roadway are so designed or pulling other vehicles and equipment that the operator is unable to ascertain the approach of traffic from the rear. Under such conditions these vehicles and equipment should have a rear view mirror like a truck and bus enabling the operator to see the approach of traffic from the rear. However, in many instances where there are no such obstructions in rear of the operator it has been observed the operator has been negligent in failing to turn his head around to check for the approach of traffic from the rear. This type of operator becomes a "road hog," creating traffic congestion and endangering the lives of others as well as himself. Farm vehicles should be operated only by mature, responsible persons upon the highways.

Utilization of a farm tractor as an all-purpose runabout is a dangerous practice that can sharply increase the chance of a serious accident. The farm tractor is not built or equipped for all purpose travel.

The increasing tendency of farmers to jump on the tractor for short trips not directly related to field work must be discouraged. In many areas of our state, the use of farm tractors as utility vehicles is becoming an increasing problem in highway safety.

Besides offering little protection for the driver, the farm tractor has poor brakes, instability and low speed. Tractor operators should allow extra time when crossing traveled roads and not try to beat approaching cross traffic. If he has attached farm trailers or equipment it will take him even longer to clear the crossing.

Nitrogen for Small Grains

COLLEGE STATION.—Been wondering how to increase the forage or grain yields of your small grain crop? R. J. Miears extension agronomist, says nitrogen applied before the plants begin to joint but late enough to avoid the danger of a hard freeze, is the answer.

If the crop has been grazed, much of the available nitrogen has been utilized by the plants and removed by animals. Grain crops need nitrogen at this time to stimulate additional growth for maximum yields, explains Miears. Nitrogen applications also increase the protein levels of grain, and in wheat improves the baking quality of the flour.

Application rates of 20 to 40 pounds of nitrogen per acre will usually pay big dividends if moisture is adequate, says the specialist. For specific applications, consult your local county agent.

Clean-Up Week Will Help Us Show Ourselves as we Are

Collingsworth goes into its first county-wide clean-up campaign Monday, March 19, a challenge to us to wash our own face, to put our own house or farm in order, and show ourselves for the prosperous, progressive area that we are.

This is one of the worthwhile campaigns that costs nothing but a little work and pays big dividends. Its sponsors are the Extension Service, the City of Wellington and the Chamber of Commerce.

These groups point out that the early date was set primarily because this is the season to prune and clean up around trees and orchards. It is also the time to set out shrubs and trees and do those other things that improve a farm home.

The sponsors point to many other things for clean-up around your place — on the farm it can be cleaning out fence rows, repairing barns and outbuildings, repairing and putting in order farm equipment that will be needed during the coming weeks, or storing that which will not be needed soon.

In principle the things that apply to the farm apply to town. It boils down to eliminating and throwing away those things that are no longer needed and serve only to clutter the place.

Order prompts efficiency, and bankers and business men know that the progressive, efficient farmer is usually the one who has not only his business in order, but also has his farm and the things around him in order.

Much of the beauty of the rich farming country of the middle west comes from the orderliness of the farms. We, too, are rich, progressive. Clean-up week, followed by continued cleaning up through the year, will help us show our true face to ourselves as well as to those who see us casually.

Islanders Discover You Can't Get Something for Nothing

Inhabitants of the French Isle of Sein have lost a unique status that made them the envy of taxpayers all over the globe. Until Jan. 17, when the first French income tax collector arrived on Sein, they had enjoyed a pay-nothing, get-nothing relationship with the French government by unwritten agreement.

When the islanders wanted a dispensary, the government built it. Next came the tax collector.

Now these simple French fishermen have learned a lesson many Americans don't understand — nothing is free, especially when it comes from the government.

CROSSROADS REPORT

Dear Editor:

I see where the President wants Congress to give him power of attorney to ramrod our tax and tariff rates, so he can act fast if any emergency comes up.

It's just lately there has been a need for this arrangement, since postage rates started to go up and mail service to slow down.

But now, with postage being jacked up again, if some crisis arose between sessions, it might cure up by itself before notices to assemble for a crisis-fanning ever percolated out to the Congressmen's home mail boxes.

I see where University of Oklahoma scientists are going to psychoanalyze a gentleman elephant to see why these animals have regular periods of madness.

My middle class neighbor says he guesses you might call this large scale research, and he is waiting anxiously to hear what bugs the big beasts.

Says he already knows what causes spells of mental illness and madness in adult American humans just before April 15 every year.

I see where President Kennedy says the U.S. will commence testing A-bombs again unless the Russians promise they won't do it any more.

Which is a low enough price to ask Mr. Khrushchev to pay us for letting him stay ahead in the bomb contest, considering the cheap, disposable type promises he puts out.

Seems likely this deal will go through, as a man whose checks and promises are no good is usually happy to give you another one.

City of Muleshoe is going to put up a monument to the mule, which is a practically extinct but self-respecting animal with a mind of his own.

Which is a very good idea, as all limbo-bound critters like mules, cash payers and self-reliant ought to have some kind of artwork to remember them by.

Statue of a mule, on account of he has more won't power than will power, would always be an inspiration to his fellow beast of burden, the taxpayer.

I see where Congress has goosed the national debt limit up another notch.

Looks like it's about time we quit fooling around with this dollar-limit on debt, and set up a limit on how many generations of our children we can put in hock before we have to sober up.

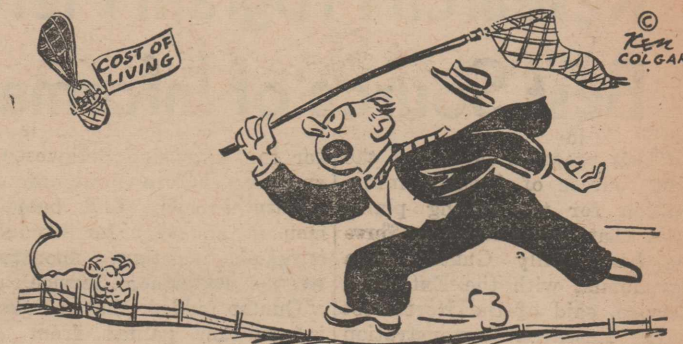

Bible says the sins of the fathers will be visited on the children unto the third and fourth generations, but Congress seems willing to go a lot farther than that.

Research boys have about run out of things they don't already know to research about so they are going to spend $1,200,000 tax money to find out why baby monkeys love their mothers.

Which shows there is not much knowledge left for science to hook up, but does not mean taxpayers will ever get to keep this research money for their own use, researching in the stores.

On account of whether this million-dollar project reveals that baby monkeys do or don't love their mammas, it will take some more millions for psychiatric treatment to cure them of it.

Cinnamon is made from the bark of a species of laurel found chiefly in Ceylon. Citizen originally meant one vested with the freedom and privileges of the city.

WELLINGTON, TEXAS

1006 CATTLE
FURNISH THESE
FACTS

An average of 47 actual field demonstrations shows the kind of results the average feeder should expect on Purina's revolutionary "Built-in Roughage" Program with milo and cotton seed hulls, barley, or ground ear corn.

Cattle (both heifers and steers) in these demonstrations were fed an average of 123 days. They went into the feedlot at average weight of 593.3 lbs. and finished at an average of 935 lbs.

Their average daily gain for the period was 2.70 lbs. A pound of beef was produced on only 7.99 lbs. of total feed. See rations used, results and locations of individual demonstrations below. Be sure to use the guide in figuring your own feeding costs using local prices.

Cattle Weighed Every 28 Days

These are facts — not "chin music!" Demonstration cattle were weighed every 28 days by an official weighing committee and a progress report was made. An accurate record was kept of all feed consumed.

Cattle in these demonstrations were from medium to good quality — the kind normally fed in the area. Cattle were were shrunk from 3% to 4% at the final weighing.

Thousands of feeders attended a wind-up meeting which concluded these demonstrations. They saw the cattle and the results! These demonstrations, sponsored by Purina Dealers, have featured the "Built-in Roughage" concept of feeding. Poor to medium quality hay is used only in getting cattle on full feed.

After cattle are on full feed, one of the "Built-in Roughage" rations (listed at bottom) furnishes necessary roughage. Each of the above should be mixed with Special Steer Fatena by your local Purina Dealer, according to Purina Research recommendations.

The Place for Silage and Hay

If you have silage or hay, ask about Purina's Program for utilizing them—these feedstuffs have a definite place in Purina's Growing Program. The "Built-in Roughage" Program is designed primarily for the finishing phase — gives maximum daily gains at low cost!

The "Built-in Roughage" Program — researched at Purina Farm for more than 5 years before being released in 1960 — calls for a minimum amount of roughage, because high-energy intake produces maximum daily gains and high finish when properly supplemented.

Supplement Is the Key!

Don't try to self-administer this program in your feedlot — see your Purinaman for full details. Follow Purina Research recommendations in feeding.

Regardless of your program — remember the supplement holds the key! Others have tried to duplicate our results—but only Purina Dealers have Special Steer Fatena, designed especially for "Built-in Roughage" feeding.

Purina Special Steer Fatena is the original "Built-in Roughage" supplement. Ask for it by name at your Purina Dealer's . . . the store with the Checkerboard Sign.

City Youth Receives Honor at Boys Ranch

Jim Walden, former Wellington boy and one of two brothers from Wellington who are making their home at Cal Farley's nationally-famous Boys Ranch near Amarillo, was recently named to the Ranch's Junior Staff, the highest honor a Boys Rancher may receive.

Jim and his brother, Rex, have been at the Ranch for less than three years. Both boys are among the top students of the Boys Ranch school where all of the nearly 300 boys attend first grade through high school.

The Ranch Junior Staff is composed of a small group of the older boys who have been selected to positions of responsibility and authority because of their leadership ability, citizenship and achievement. One of their important duties is helping to look after younger boys and helping the new boys in their adjustments to the Ranch.

Jim, 16, is in the 10th grade of the school and Rex, 11, is in the 6th grade. In addition to his academic studies, Jim is learning building trades for his vocational training. Many of the more than 1300 boys who have lived at the Ranch since its founding are now earning their own ways with the trades they have learned from the Ranch's vocational training program, and are now raising families of their own.

Boys Ranch was founded 23 years ago by Cal Farley, former Amarillo businessman and world wrestling champion, for homeless and so-called delinquent boys. The Ranch is located 36 miles northwest of Amarillo on the site of the old ghost town of Tascosa, in Oldham county. The youngest boys at the Ranch are four years old and the boys leave when they become 17 or graduate from high school.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover calls Boys Ranch "a blueprint for crime prevention." The Ranch is supported by voluntary contributions from people who are interested in helping boys.

Annell Lacy on Dean's List

DENTON.—Names of students at the Texas Woman's University who have won distinction because of excellent grades have been announced by Dean James Newcomer.

These TWU students who achieved B-plus or better grade average for the first semester have been placed on the Dean's Special Honor Roll. Each also has been congratulated by Dr. Newcomer.

They include Miss Annell Lacy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Lacy, Rt. 2, Wellington.

Miss Lacy, a graduate of Quail high school, is a senior business education major at TWU.

Mrs. J. W. Kirby, Linn and Leigh of Littlefield, were weekend guests in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Forbis.

1962 Feed Grain Signup Under Way

Farmers in Collingsworth county are showing increased interest in the 1962 feed grain program, F. J. Murry, chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee, said. As of March 6, a total of 222 farms in the county were signed up to take part in the 1962 program through the diversion of 8525 acres from corn and grain sorghums into soil-conserving uses.

Through a comparable period last year, the first four weeks of the signup, 296 county farms had been signed up under the 1961 feed grain program, for the diversion of 10,182 acres from 1961 crop corn and grain sorghum.

From now on, Murry believes, the office will be increasingly busy explaining the program to farmers and helping them fill out the necessary forms indicating their "intention to participate" in the 1962 feed grain program. Under the program, diversion payments are available to farmers who shift a stated percentage of their acreage formerly planted to corn and grain sorghum into an approved soil-conserving practice.

By cooperating in the program, growers also qualify for price supports on their 1962 crops of corn and grain sorghum. The chairman urged farmers to get in touch with the ASCS county office without delay if they wish further information about the 1962 feed grain program. The signup period for the corn and grain sorghum program extends through March 30.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Spear spent Saturday night and Sunday at Fritch, where they visited in the home of a son, Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Spear, and Leslie Gail.

Mrs. Theo Parker returned home Sunday after an extended visit in Monahans with a daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Cullender and daughters, Jorjan and Kathryn.

NOTICE To Dog Owners

Effective immediately, it is necessary to destroy all dogs running loose around town without collars.

This is not what we want to do, but there have been many complaints of dogs running loose, and many of these are strays which are not vaccinated and have no home.

Please see that your pets have a collar and vaccination tag so we may know they have a home and are cared for.

Electrical Clinic for 4-H Boys, Girls

An electric clinic will be held for 4-H Club boys and girls and their parents Monday, March 19, from 6 to 9 p.m. in the National Guard Armory.

The clinic will be conducted by the West Texas Utilities Company, with arrangements directed by Miss Kathryn Potter, home demonstration agent, and Bob Lynch, agricultural agent.

Curly Hays of the Public Service Department of WTU, Abilene, will open the meeting, then Dan Jones Castles, of the same department, will discuss the fundamentals of electricity.

G. C. Osborn of the commercial service department, of Abilene, will conduct the discussion on inside lighting for 4-H girls, while Morris Sullivan, local manager, will instruct the boys in appliance repairs.

E. V. Price of the commercial service department, Quanah, will speak on electric brooding.

"In this clinic you will learn about electricity and making electrical items. The boys will work on electric motors and the girls will learn about electrical appliances and lighting. We feel it will be both interesting and instructive," the sponsors said.

Each boy and girl attending is asked to bring a knife and screwdriver.

Refreshments will be served.

South Baptist Revival Set March 16-18

A week-end revival is slated at South Baptist Church, Dodson, beginning Friday evening, March 16, and continuing through Saturday evening, and the two services Sunday, March 17 and 18. Night services will be at 7:30 p.m.

The Rev. Holie Briscoe, pastor of Harmony Baptist church east of Atoka, Okla., will be the evangelist, according to Truitt Holland, who is helping with arrangements.

Reared in Bay City, the Rev. Mr. Briscoe attended Texas A&M, receiving his BS degree in chemical engineering in 1954. He worked for Humble Oil and Refining Co., before entering the Air Force, where he served two years as a first lieutenant.

He entered the ministry in 1957 and was awarded his BD degree in May 1961 by Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, Fort Worth.

The Rev. Harold Hulsey is pastor of South Baptist church and Joe Lennon is music director.

Rev. Grigsby Dies Wed.

The Rev. E. M. Grigsby, for many years pastor of rural Baptist churches in the western part of the county, died in a rest home in Littlefield Wednesday, March 7. He had been a patient there since April 1961. He was 82.

Funeral services were conducted at the First Baptist Church at Amherst Friday, with the Rev. John Rankin, pastor, and the Rev. Darvey Lavender of Anton officiating.

Following the service, his body was brought to Hedley, where graveside services were conducted by Elder L. J. Crawford.

Mr. Grigsby came to the Quail area in 1904, and farmed there until a few years ago. Following the death of his wife, he made his home among his children.

He was born Sept. 28, 1879 in Burnet county. In 1914 he was ordained at the Missionary Baptist church at Ring, and served churches of that denomination in the area.

He was married to Miss Ollie Moore in Whitney June 5, 1899.

Survivors are six daughters and two sons: Mrs. O. A. Nowell of Anton; Mrs. D. L. Allen of Pampa; Mrs. Walter Bell of Van Nuys, Calif.; Mrs. Bill Doran of Bryan; Mrs. Joe Knapp of Pineville, La.; Harvey Grigsby of Amherst, and Paul Grigsby of Fort Worth. There are 20 grandchildren and 25 great grandchildren.

One Rural Wreck in Feb.

The Highway Patrol investigated one rural accident in Collingsworth county during the month of February, according to Sgt. D. R. Dowdy, Patrol Supervisor of this area.

This wreck accounted for an estimated property damage of $400.

The rural traffic accident summary for Collingsworth county from January through February of 1962 shows a total of one crash. As a result of this crash, there were no killings and no person injured. Property damage amounted to $400.

The patrol supervisor reported that as of Thursday, March 1, a total of 227 traffic deaths had been reported to the department in the state as compared with 264 during the same period in 1961. "This represents a decrease of 37 deaths or 14 per cent," he said "and presents all of us with a stern challenge to help in further reducing deaths for the remainder of 1962." This will not be an easy job.

"Defensive driving is one of the keys to traffic safety," the sergeant added. "If all motorists were alert when driving and knew the defensive procedures used by a professional driver, the number of monthly traffic accidents would drop sharply."

The U. S. Coast Guard was established Jan. 28, 1915.

LOAN SHARK

I am a Democratic candidate for State Representative from the 87th District. This is the second in my series of newspaper columns and radio speeches. The issue I would like to discuss with you this week is the effort made by our House of Representatives to legalize an excessive interest rate on loans of up to $1500.00.

House Bill 3, introduced and passed by the House of Representatives in the third called session this past January, contained a provision to legalize an interest rate on loans made by licensed lenders in the following amounts:

Size Loan	Present Law	Under HB 3
$100.00	10%	36%
$500.00	10%	27.48%
$1500.00	10%	18.48%

The present representative of the 87th district voted for HB3 on its final passage.

Under this law only the unethical type lender would have been allowed to charge this interest rate. Banks, reputable Finance Companies, Savings & Loan Associations and other ethical lenders are not included in this bill.

I am for retaining our present law which provides a maximum interest rate of 10%.

A detailed discussion will be made on radio Friday of this week.

Mrs. Dudley Phipps Lillie Hostess

The Lillie Home Demonstration club met in the home of Mrs. Dudley Phipps Thursday, March 8, with Mrs. Haskel Manuel presiding.

Mrs. Henry Langford gave the opening prayer, and roll call was answered by "Drap-eries I would like to have."

The first part of the program was given by the leader trainers, Mrs. Henry Langford and Mrs. Elmer Haralson, on furniture arrangement.

"The arrangement of furniture and colors used in your home bring out the personality of the individual homemaker. The new trend in furniture allows us to use different woods in the same room, providing there is a harmony to set off by using certain accents, such as pillows, pictures, and something that will tie the decorating idea into one unit," the members were told.

Mrs. Betty Howard gave the second part of the program, by demonstrating how to make egg beaters into pin cushions.

Refreshments were served to Mmes. Haskel Manuel, Henry Langford, Elmer Haralson, A. M. Saunders, Zook Thomas, Howard, and Phipps.

The next meeting will be March 22 at 1:30 p.m. in Mrs. Saunders' home.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Raburn of Dumas were here over the week end visiting with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Silas Crawford and Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Raburn. Their children, Tommy and Janis, who had been visiting here for ten days returned home with them.

Quick Canned Meat Dishes Demonstrated

Wellington Home Demonstration Club met in the home of Mrs. J. A. Lowe on Tuesday afternoon, March 6.

Meeting was opened by the group saying the THDA prayer in unison.

After a short business meeting, Miss Kathryn Potter, the home demonstration agent, gave the demonstration on quick canned meat dishes.

Refreshments were served to Mrs. Ike Rogers, Mrs. Jess Cook, Mrs. Nannie Masten, Mrs. W. A. Morrow, Mrs. J. L. Hays, Mrs. Roy Fulcher, Mrs. Cecil Masten, and the hostess, Mrs. Lowe.

Garden Club Has Peonp Program

Wellington Garden Club met in the home of Mrs. A. L. Nowlin on Wednesday, March 7 with Mrs. Walter Franks as co-hostess.

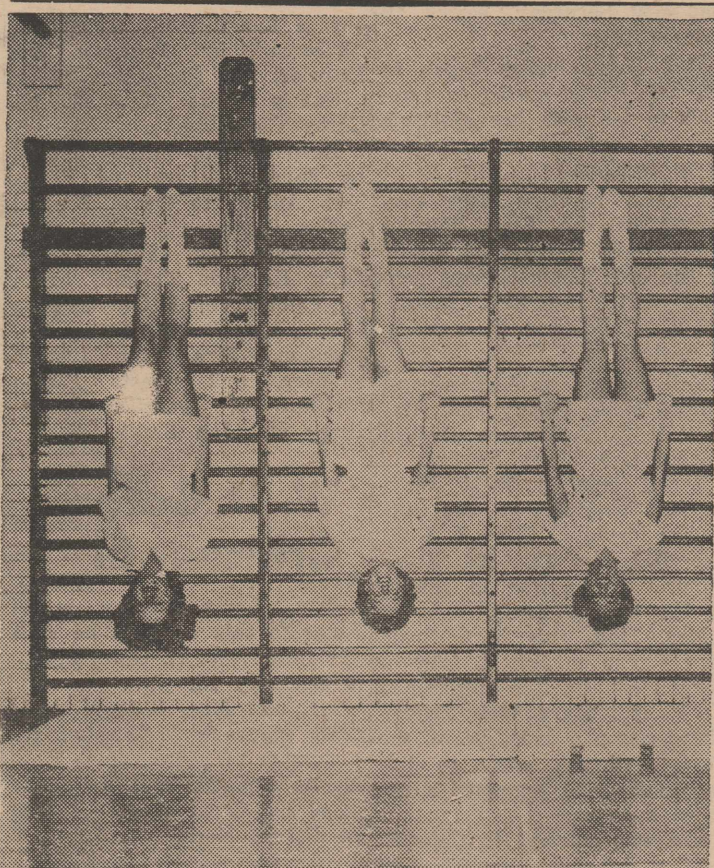

Mrs. Ernest Harwell read the club collect and Mrs. Chester Fires presided during the business session. Roll call was answered by giving the names of the most popular peonies.

The next meeting will be a luncheon honoring all new officers. It will be held April 4 in the Greenbelt Electric building.

Refreshments were served to Mmes. Luther Gribble, Chester Fires, Earl Epps, Chas. Slay, O. B. Raburn, O. W. Peeples, J. C. Whisenant, Bob Stevenson, John Henard, Ernest Harwell, and the hostesses, Mrs. Franks and Mrs. Nowlin.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Young at Home in Canyon After Feb. 16 Wedding

Miss Margaret Lenore Burrus and Glen Young of Canyon were married Friday, Feb. 16 at four o'clock in St. Anne's Catholic Church of Canyon.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herschel Burrus of Hereford, while the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Tiffin Young of Wellington.

The Rev. James Comiskey, pastor of St. Anne's, performed the double ring ceremony. Bouquets of chrysanthemums were used on the altar, and wedding music was played by Mrs. Frank Begert, organist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a street-length white satin sheath dress designed with a scoop neckline and bouffant overskirt. A coil of white fur held a short veil. The bridal bouquet was a cascade of white carnations surrounding an orchid.

Miss Cecilia Lee Burrus of Pampa, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor. She wore a blue organza and taffeta sheath dress, fashioned with long sleeves. Complementing her costume was a small pill-box hat, white gloves and a wristlet of white carnations. Frances Burrus, another sister, was flower girl.

Herschel James Burrus, brother of the bride, was the best man, while ushers were Bill Harvey, formerly of Wellington, and Lynn Brown, both students at West Texas State College.

Wedding guests were registered by Miss Mary Alice Burrus, also a sister of the bride.

As the couple left on a short wedding trip to New Mexico, the bride wore a gray wool suit with black accessories, and an orchid corsage.

The bride is a graduate of Hereford high school and a junior in West Texas State College. The bridegroom was graduated from Wellington high school and is a senior at West Texas State, majoring in accounting.

The couple is at home in Canyon. Attending the wedding from here were Mr. and Mrs. Tiffin Young, parents of the bridegroom, and Mr. and Mrs. Odus Benson. They were joined by Mr. and Mrs. Howard Fike and daughters of Amarillo.

Legion Auxiliary Postpones Social

Mrs. Troy Marsh, president of the American Legion auxiliary, announced this week the legion and auxiliary social has been postponed from the regular third Thursday night until the fourth Thursday, March 22, due to conflict with other activities.

March is the birthday month of the American Legion and this will be the birthday party, Mrs. Marsh said. A covered dish supper will be served.

Fellowship at First Christian

A group from the First Christian church gathered in the fellowship hall Friday evening March 9 for an evening of singing and fellowship.

Taking part were Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Neeley and family, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Guthrie, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Isbell, Mrs. Wilton Ketchum, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bartlett and Kathy, Mrs. J. M. Strong, Mr. and Mrs. Murl Parker and family, and Min. and Mrs. Gilbert Forrest and family.

Refreshments were served to those attending.

Randal Raburn, student at NTSC, Denton, was here last week end visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Raburn.

Week end guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Holley was their daughter, Mrs. Kathleen Gray and two children of Abilene and Mrs. Holley's sister, Mrs. Eva Wright of Fort Worth.

AEC Employee

FORMER WELLINGTON MAN PROMOTED AT LOS ALAMOS

Oscar R. Elliott, Assistant Fire Marshal at Los Alamos, this week was promoted by the Atomic Energy Commission to the position of Fire Protection Specialist in the Project Support Branch of the AEC's Los Alamos Area Office.

Elliott has been employed at Los Alamos since 1947. He has been an assistant fire marshal since 1951. He previously was employed by the United States Bureau of Reclamation at Denver, Colo. Following a period in the Army, he served in the fire department at Bruns General Hospital, Santa Fe, N.M., before coming to Los Alamos.

He was born at Groom, Texas and was graduated from Wellington high school.

In his new assignment Elliott will assist in the development and execution of fire protection policies and programs for activities under the jurisdiction of the Los Alamos area office; will make periodic fire protection surveys of AEC and contractor facilities; will review construction plans and specifications from the standpoint of fire protection needs; and will provide advice to contractor and AEC personnel on fire protection matters.

He has taken part in various training courses pertaining to firefighting, fire protection work, and engineering codes and standards. He has also received the AEC Safe Driver Award.

Elliott and his wife, Claudia, reside at 4112 Fairway Drive in Los Alamos.

Parson's work with the department is educational and he has appeared on safety programs here in the past.

In Wellington he also contacted Sheriff John Rainey and The Wellington Leader.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Shanks were in Abilene over the week end visiting with their daughter, Barbara, who is a student at Abilene Christian College.

Wellington Leader

Deck's DIDACTICS

—By Deskins Wells

More candidates for high office than ever met here at one time will assemble in Wellington Thursday, March 15. The meeting, which has been arranged by Emil Kersten, will be held in the community building beginning at 7:30. These will include three candidates seeking the Republican nomination for Congressman-at-Large, one for Congressman of the 18th District, one for Lt. Governor, one for the Board of Education from the 18th District, and one for State Representative.

Perhaps some explanation of the Congressman-at-Large is needed. Those who will be here are Giles Miller of Dallas, Joe B. Phillips of Lubbock, and Desmond Berry of Houston. They are not running against any present congressman who represents a particular district. They are simply running against each other. The nominee will be opposed by one of seven Democrats who are seeking nomination. Due to growth in population, Texas is entitled to one extra congressman. The Legislature failed to redistrict the state and as a result the Congressman-at-Large race is the only alternative.

Jack Seale of Amarillo will also be at the meeting. He is seeking the Republican nomination for Congressman from the 18th District and will be running against Walter Rogers in November.

The slogan for clean-up week is: "Let's make our county the prettiest, finest, most progressive county in Texas." Wonders can be achieved by united continuous work. The clean-up week will give us a start, but it should be remembered that it will take work all year long to make this county as attractive as it should be.

Considerable comment among sportsmen was caused by the story on 24 wild turkeys being released in three areas of the county. Some were wondering if they will survive. It is probable that they will. It is thought that there are still some on the Mill Iron although a number of these have drifted on over into Oklahoma.

A traveling salesman says you can find plenty of houses to rent in Shamrock, but such is not the case in Wellington. This is in spite of the fact that there were something like 30 new homes built here last year.

Quail Future Farmers Honor Fathers Friday

Approximately 100 Quail Future Farmers, their fathers and other guests attended the annual father-son banquet Friday night, March 9.

The guest speaker was Royce Bodiford, on the farm staff of an Amarillo television station, who reminded the boys of the challenge they have in the field of agriculture and the possibilities it offers them.

Top FFA chapter awards were made. Lynn Hill, a sophomore, received the Star Chapter award, and his younger brother, Rodney Hill, was awarded the Star Greenhand award. Lynn Hill also received the cotton production award made by Salt Fork Soil Conservation District, based on the number and type of soil conservation practices carried out in connection with the production of one acre of cotton.

The boys are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Sullivan.

The Farm Safety award went to Smokey Mitchell; the farm mechanics award to Duane Campbell and the livestock award to Kirby Word.

Rudell White, president and master of ceremonies, presented the chapter sweetheart, Sue Saunders, with an FFA jacket and compact.

Entertainment was by Rosemary and Shirley Horton.

Representative Grainger McInany was a guest at the banquet.

Officers were in charge of the opening and closing ceremonies and included White, president; Billy Wilson, vice president; Paul Boyce, reporter; Tommy Haralson, treasurer; Dean Johnson, secretary; and Duane Campbell, sentinel.

Large Group To Rites of Dr. E. W. Jones

A large group of Wellington and Collingsworth county residents, as well as many who formerly lived here, attended the funeral services conducted Tuesday for Dr. E. W. Jones, who died Sunday, March 4, at his home in Lubbock.

Funeral services were conducted at 10 a.m. that day at the First Methodist Church in Lubbock. Officiating were the Rev. R. N. Huckabee, pastor, and the Rev. Howard Jones, former pastor of First Baptist Church here, and now of Amarillo.

Following the service his body was taken to Amarillo, where it lay in state at Boxwell's Ivy Chapel from 2 to 3 p.m. Committal services and burial were at Llano Cemetery at 4 p.m. Kelso Funeral Home was in charge of the services at both Lubbock and Amarillo.

Pall bearers were nephews and included Pat Henard, Robert Henard, J. W. Hankins, John Jones, Ted Goldsby, A. J. Broyles, Eddie Carpenter and Brents Norman.

Surviving Dr. Jones are his wife, of the home; one son, Dr. E. K. Jones, and two grandchildren, Miss Janet Jones and Danny Jones, all of Amarillo. Other survivors are four sisters and a brother: Mrs. Lee O'Neil and Mrs. J. A. McComas of Lubbock; Mrs. C. R. Wood of Paducah; Mrs. Marvin Nix of Gorman and Dr. Calvin Jones of Pampa.

County Reviews

(Continued from page one) Members of the commissioners court say that while the mortar between the bricks of the old jail building has crumbled, the bricks are as good as those bought today. They also believe that a jail can be built that will meet the county's needs even though it is below the standard set up by law.

Dr. and Mrs. Joe Horn and children, Mark, Steve, Nancy and Holly, of Plainview, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Horn Sunday. Dr. Horn had attended a week's course in electrocardiography at the University of Oklahoma medical school in Oklahoma City. He met his family in Amarillo and they came here for the day.
