July 4th park activities to feature bands

Two award winning bands will be the star attraction at the July 4th celebrations before the fireworks begin in Ruddick Park on Thursday, July 3.

A Road Less Traveled and Look to the Sky will perform at the East Pavilion beginning at 7 p.m.

Look to the Sky, an Abilene based alternative worship band seeks to "bring energy and creativity to the genre of worship music," according to lead singer Jordan Osborn.

Formed in 2006, the band has already become highly popular at big conference events, youth rallies and camps.

Recently awarded the "Best Independent Band of 2007" in CCM Magazine Reader's Choice Awards, A Road Less Traveled has created an attention-demanding buzz among live music circles across the country.

During the fall of 2007, two tracks off their debut album, "Rescue" achieved national air play without the funding of a record label.

The November 2006 issue of CCM magazine noted, "A steady diet of touring, from churches to festivals to camps and bowling alleys, has solidified these five into one of the best independent outfits on the present rock scene."

The bands, sponsored by Calvary Baptist Church, are part of the Chamber of Commerce festivities that include free play at the pool, a Patriot Parade beginning at 6 p.m. and fireworks extravaganza under the direction of pyrotechnician Terry Hunt of Midland.

RIDE 'EM COWBOY -- Four man teams will participate in a variety of real life events during the annual Chamber of Commerce Ranch Rodeo on July 12.

Ranch Rodeo swings into action July 12

The annual Ranch Rodeo, sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce swings into action July 12 beginning at 4 p.m. at the County Rodeo Grounds west of town on West Business I-20.

The action starts with four man teams participating in team doctoring, team penning, wild cow milking and team branding.

The doctoring event pits four riders against a steer in a mock-up of real life roping and doctoring cattle in the pasture, according to Brody Harris, rodeo director. Contestants have two minutes to rope, throw and untie the steer.

In the penning event, the team must separate three head of cattle from a group of 20 and guide them into a pen at the center of the area within three minutes.

Things will start getting rowdy as teams try to milk their

Anticipation builds for July 4 Fly-In

Although he is not at the helm, J. O. Dockrey continues to be the driving force behind the annual July 4th fly-in.

"He thinks about it daily," said his daughter, Donna Owens. "He asks if we've checked the ropes, wants to know who's putting up the flags, and did we see if the tables and chairs are ready."

"No matter how many memory glitches, he can still tell us exactly what needs to be done," she said. "The fly-in has given him a real spark."

Owens said it was "hard for us as a family to know its (the fly-in) going on and Daddy's not there."

As a child, Owens ran table and chair patrol. Later, she and her children sold cokes in the hot sunshine. "It was always fun," she said.

Owens can remember Dockrey always being in fast mode where the Fly-In was concerned. "He was blur that flew by at the fly-in. People would walk up and tell me what an incredible man my daddy is. I have complete and total pride that he believed in this and made sure single handedly it got done," she said.

Commissioners approve funds for upgrades

Proposals from the Loraine Volunteer Fire department concerning purchase of communications equipment and from TxDOT concerning bridge repair were the major items for discussion during the commissioners' court Monday morning.

The commissioners, who met in a called meeting, approved Fire Chief Donnie Phillips' request for funds to purchase 5 walkie talkies and one mobile unit which would bring the department's communication abilities up to an acceptable level.

Phillips said the state's mandate to switch to digital communications had been moved back from 2010 to 2013.

The court approved the $3,365 request after a discussion on compatibility with existing and future equipment and costs comparisons.

The court also approved a request for transfer of in-kind funds connected with the bridge project on CR 337 over the Colorado River.

The approval grants TxDOT the authority to transfer the county's portion of funds for bridge repair to be applied to the other bridge projects currently underway.

Work involved in fixing the low-water crossing will be used in lieu of the county's portion of the cost of repairing the bridge on CR 337, according to Roy Dill, TxDOT area engineer. TxDOT would assume the county's 10% of the bridge repair and apply the funds to the other bridge repair projects.

The bridge will be closed and the low water crossing used until studies on the bridge's historical significance can be complete. Presently the bridge is scheduled for replacement in 2010.

"The study of possible historical significance will be complete within the next couple of weeks," Dill said. "TxDOT will then recommend the possibility of leaving the bridge in place and building a bridge parallel

Couple finds second career in Colorado City

For most people moving back to a small town brings to mind images of rocking on the front porch, drinking iced tea.

For Bill and Fay Ellis, nothing could be further from reality.

The native born Colorado City couple spent their first career living, working and raising a family in Amarillo.

"The oil industry was not a good opportunity in the early 70s," said Bill. "My extended family was in oil and they advised me not to get into it. I followed an uncle to Amarillo and worked in the compressed gas industry."

He got his degree in business administration from West Texas State University (now an A&M affiliate); while Fay Wisstrand went to Howard College in Big Spring for her associate degree in business.

"We loved Amarillo," Bill said. "It was perfect for what we were already doing."

While there, the couple bought into an existing sign company, the A to Z sign company which led to a 12 year period of work in high rise, electric, plastic, commercial and neon signs.

"I raised children and worked in insurance and worked with Bill in the sign company," Fay said. She also worked as a collection manager for a credit union in Amarillo.

Then due to unforeseen circumstances, they found themselves working for the original family oil companies and moved back to Colorado City in 2004.

"Bill moved back in November, but because I was the only one trained in my area, I stayed

OBITUARIES

Charles Keith Lloyd 1942-2008

LORAINÉ - Services for Charles Keith Lloyd, age 65, were held at 4 p.m. Sunday at Colonial Hill Baptist Church with Rev. Jon Patrick and Bill Crockett officiating. His body was cremated under the direction of Bell-Cypert-Seale Funeral Home. Mr. Lloyd died Friday, June 27, 2008, at Hendrick Hospice Care in Abilene after a brief illness.

Mr. Lloyd was born October 1, 1942, in Snyder. He married Carol Ann Jackson on October 28, 1963, in Snyder. He worked as a ranch foreman in South Texas and also Cimmaron, NM. He also farmed in Mitchell County. He worked as a field sergeant for TDCJ, the Wallace and Ware units, for 15 years, and after retiring there, he worked for Gilbert Construction, operating a track hoe clearing land and building ponds. He was a member of the Baptist church.

Survivors include his wife, Carol Ann Lloyd of Loraine; one daughter and son-in-law, Sidney and Jason Johnston of Loraine; one son, Clay Lloyd of Lubbock; three sisters, Pat Cornett and Eltine Vines of Snyder and Dorothy Beatty of Midland; two brothers, Billy Joe Lloyd of Kerrville and Weldon Lloyd of Robert Lee; two grandsons, Carlton Johnston of Loraine and Conner Lloyd; and granddaughter, Carey Johnston of Loraine.

Don Bennett 1931-2008

LORAINÉ - Mr. Don Bennett, age 77, passed away on Sunday, June 29, 2008 in Lubbock. Graveside services will be Thursday, July 3, 2008 at the Spade Cemetery at 2:00 p.m. with Mr. Alfred Vardeman officiating. Services are under the direction of Kiker-Seale Funeral Home.

Mr. Bennett was born on February 2, 1931, in Pratt, Kansas to Charles Clifford Bennett and Euna Grant Bennett. He was a longtime resident of Loraine. Mr. Bennett was known as "Snake-man" in Mitchell County. He was a rancher and worked for 20 years in rattlesnake research which resulted in new heart medication. He also worked at the VA hospital in Salt Lake City, Utah, where he did antivenin research and for 30 years he had his own big game outfitting service in Wyoming.

Survivors include his three children, J.D. Bennett of Indonesia, Carol Parkis of South Carolina and Jerry Bennett of Alaska; three-step children, Julie Evins and husband, Doyle, George Cross and wife, Lona and Lea Walker and husband, Howard; nine grandchildren, Andrew Bennett, Katherine Bennett, Tillie Bennett and Colter Bennett all of Pinedale, Wyoming, Nate Cross, Nicholas Cross, Doyle Evins, Daniel Evins and Wendy Walker, all of Douglas, Wyoming; cousin, Clifford Henderson of McKinney, and numerous nieces and nephews.

He was preceded in death by his wife, Julia Alice Reese Bennett in 2001 and his parents.

Installation of new meters continues

Progression on the installation of the new water meters continues, albeit slowly.

The new radio meters, whose installation was supposed to be completed by the end of May, experienced a glitch in plans, according to Zane Graham, financial assistant to the city manager.

"The company we hired, on recommendation by Western Industrial, turned out to be an inexperienced company," Graham said.

Western Industrial, which produces the Sensus radio-read water meter system, was trying to comply with the deadline requirements by the Colorado City water department.

"Their usual guys were busy with other projects, and their home office in Denver highly recommended this company, which had a reputation for excellence," Graham said. Unfortunately for Colorado City, it was later learned the company had changed hands.

"When the new company took over they kept the name, but all the experience went out the door," Graham said. "It was stressful for everyone."

According to Graham, the company was paid by the meter, not under contract. Final payment included a discount for all meters improperly installed.

The Colorado City water department, which fields 4-5 employees, undertook the task of installing the new meters. "We tried to make the best of it when we found out they were inexperienced. It wore us really thin," Graham said.

In addition to the everyday tasks, the water department has dealt with two ruptured 8 inch water lines, breakdown of the river lift station, and extensive cleanup after three severe thunderstorms.

"The department has put in 70-80 hours weekly. They're burned out trying to keep up," said Steve Shutt, city manager.

Nearly 1500 of the 2000 new meters have been installed, with 350 of the residential meters, and an additional 85 of the larger 2 inch meters remaining.

The difficulty is the larger meters have bolted flanges, which lengthen the installation process from a few minutes to a 1-4 hour job. Plus the department has been shorthanded, due to illness.

Presently, the Colorado City Water Department is looking for someone with experience to finish the installation, especially of the larger meters.

"We were going to find someone to install the 2 inch ones anyway and figured they might as well do the rest of the smaller ones, as well," Graham said.

Financial considerations may force the city to install the meters themselves, meaning the department would not finish before this year's watering season.

"If we have to do the job ourselves, we might be able to do one or two a month until we finish, since our guys are needed elsewhere with their regular work," Graham said.

HIGHWAY COLLISION - Two people were taken to Cogdell Memorial Hospital in Snyder after a 2008 Ford Explorer driven by Donna Billingsly, 49, of Hermleigh and a 1995 Chevrolet Barretta driven by Pedro Jalomos, 67, of Colorado City collided at 6:21 p.m. Sunday on Hwy. 208 south of Snyder. Jalomos and his passenger Carmen Salazar, 55 and also of Colorado City, were admitted to the hospital for observation. (SDN Staff Photo by Jeff West)

Locals suspected in theft scheme

Police have completed the investigation into a scheme for employees to steal money from United Supermarkets in Snyder.

Sgt. Kyle Burleson presented a case of ongoing organized criminal activity against six individuals to the district attorneys office earlier this week, according to the Snyder Daily News.

The two males and four females, all 17 or 18, are accused of issuing fraudulent refunds and pocketing the money. Three of the individuals, are believed to be from Colorado City.

The incidents appear to have been going on since mid-December. A final count of how much money is involved has not been made, but Burleson said estimates of $5-7,000 have been discussed. One female employee is suspected of taking about $3,500.

Two other employees are accused of other types of dishonest activities, but their cases will be handled by store management, police said.

Eddie Owens, director of corporate communications for United, said that nine employees have been terminated so far but no management is involved.

He said the thefts were first noticed by the company's loss prevention team Monday. He said they were looking at data management tapes and noticed a number of refunds, including some that were large and in even dollar amounts.

"There was one for $100 even, for instance," Owens said.

No customers were affected by the activities and all the money taken was from United.

Owens said the company will make service counter changes so that any future refunds over $10 will have to have management approval.

We would like to thank our customers for our best season yet.

The Colorado City Lions Club installed its 2008 slate of officers at a banquet Friday evening at the Civic Center.

Guest speaker, Joan Caldwell, past district president, commended the club on their generosity and 100% giving during the year. Club accomplishments included raising $6,000 in fundraisers through a chili supper, shotgun raffle and light bulb sales.

The club also made donations to Relay for Life, Eyeglasses for Children, the 100 % Club, West Texas Rehab, Pee Wee Football, Tri-Advocacy Child Center, college scholarships, Christmas in Action, CISD Defibrillators, Mitchell County Stock Show, Community Mission, LCIF for Earthquake Relief, and the C-City Railhead Building/Rewiring Project, totaling nearly $11,000.

Caldwell quizzed the new officers on their duties before officially installing them. "If you can't have fun being a Lion, then you don't need to be a Lion," Caldwell told the new officers.

Officers installed for the coming year were: Ed Blake and Russell Brown, 2-yr. director; Sue Lowrance and Richy Womack, 1 yr. director; Bob Reily and Bob Ramage, membership chairman; Hollis Gainey, Tail Twister; Pat Cawthron, secretary-treasurer; Sue Young, 3rd vice president; Patricia Gillespie, 2nd vice-president; Zane Graham, 1st vice president and Pete Torres, president. The office of Lion Tamer has yet to be filled.

Receiving service awards and commendations were: Buster Aycock, perfect attendance and 3 yr service award; Ed Blake, service award; Bob Brookshear, service and perfect attendance; Russell Brown, service; Dovie Brownfield, service and Women Serving Together pin; Frank Brownfield, service and perfect attendance; Hollis Gainey, service; Keith Hiser, 7 yr. service; Sue Lowrance, service, excellence in innovation, Women Serving Together pin; Dana Mayfield, service, Women Serving Together pin; Carol Parsons, service, Women Serving Together pin; Bob Ramage, service; Bob Reily, service and perfect attendance; Mary Smith, service and Women Serving Together pin; Pete Torres, achievement award; Richy Womack, 15 yr. service charm; David Wood, 15 yr service charm; and Sue Young, service and Women Serving To-

Library receives grant to purchase new books

By Brigada Hiser

The Mitchell County Library recently received a $4,858 grant from the Texas State Library and Archives Commission through Loan Star Libraries, the direct state aid program for Texas public libraries.

Visitors to the Mitchell County Library may see additional books in both the young adult and children's sections, children's DVDs, 2 new computers for patron use, and enjoy the Story Time on Wednesdays which were all made possible by these funds. According to Library Director Brigada Hiser, "Receiving the grant is a wonderful gift for the library that we all appreciate. It provides the opportunity for us to expand our services to the community in a variety of areas."

Since 2002, the Texas Legislature has made it possible to distribute $19.4 million to Texas public libraries through the Loan Star Libraries grant program. In 2008, 540 public libraries across the state are sharing $5.65 million in funds distributed by the Commission, an increase of $3 million over 2007.

Libraries can use the grant funding however they wish, with few exceptions, to meet the needs of their communities.

According to State Librarian Peggy D. Rudd, this flexibility is a major factor in the program's success. "Local leaders know best how to maximize limited funds to meet specific local needs. The structure of Loan Star Libraries provides a great deal of latitude for judgment while providing accountability for the use of state funds. This partnership between the State of Texas and local governments is a winning combination that has led to some tremendous strides in library services across the state," she said.

The Mitchell County Library is open Monday 10am – 6pm, Tuesday through Thursday 9am – 5:30pm. We offer a diverse selection of books as well as several services such as copies, faxes and computers for patrons use.

OPINION & COMMENTARY

TUMBLEWEED SMITH Waiting for a train

I sat for an hour just outside the train station in Texarkana listening to train sounds. It was a quiet, still night and the sounds were clear and solid and carried well in the dark. I heard squeaks, groans, crashes, explosions as well as high frequency beeps, whistles and sustained whines as the train cars rumbled slowly over the tracks, getting ready to make their journeys across the country.

I was there waiting for my wife Susan, who had boarded Amtrak's Texas Eagle in Dallas that afternoon. The train was late, so rather than go back to the motel and wait, I decided to wait by the tracks. It was a pleasant hour. I had been interviewing all that hot day in Longview and Marshall and was ready to relax.

Texarkana's Union Station is on Stateline Avenue, meaning the Arkansas-Texas border bisects the center of the railroad complex. When the Texas Eagle stops in Texarkana, the west end of the train is in Texas and the east end is in Arkansas.

The last time I was in Texarkana, I went there by train. I was in a group of travel writers who went round trip Dallas to Texarkana on a familiarization tour. We spent a couple of days learning about things the city has to offer, which is quite a lot. It is an extremely cultural city. Ross Perot is from there and has made some meaningful contributions to his hometown.

Train travel, to me, is the most civilized way to get from one place to another. I'm glad Amtrak is providing rail travel as an option to cars, buses or airlines. Train ridership is up substantially since the price of gasoline has gone sky-high.

My wife was traveling with our five-year-old grandson, Caleb, who is, at an early age, already a train nut. He has four or five sets of trains and all the things that go with them. When he comes to see us, we always take him to the train yard so he can see (or at least hear) trains. We've been real lucky. Most of the times we go there, we see a train either pull into a stop or pass by within five minutes after our arrival. Only once have we not seen a moving train.

Susan and Caleb had a compartment on the train and lived it up. They had dinner in the dining car. Caleb thought this was the very best thing that had ever happened to him. He kept telling Susan, "Amtrak is the best."

While on board, they played with the closet, the curtains, the tale and all the rest of the amenities in the compartment. They also put a Sponge Bob Square Pants puzzle together about a dozen times. They met some interesting dinner guests and exchanged contact information with intentions of getting together with them again. When Caleb got sleepy after dinner, he climbed into his bed, which the porter had made ready. I was afraid he might not be fully alert and the first one off the train. He ran into my arms, giddy with his experience on the train. He did have fun. We'll have another Amtrak trip. Next time, I'll get to go, too.

Simple precautions aid in prevention of dreaded bird-borne West Nile disease

By John R. Senter,
Mitchell CEA-Ag

With the badly needed rain we have had in June and warmer weather here, we can feel fairly sure that this summer is setting up to be buzzing with unwanted insects.

One of the most unwanted pests during summer months has got to be mosquitoes. Not only do they cause unpleasant bites, they are potential carriers for a disease known as West Nile Virus.

West Nile was first reported in Texas in 2002 and is closely related to St. Louis encephalitis. This condition can infect birds, mosquitoes, horses, donkey, mules, humans and other mammals.

West Nile is usually a mild disease in humans and is characterized by flu-like symptoms; it typically lasts only a few days and does not appear to cause any long-term health effects.

It is a bird-borne disease and to date 110 species of birds have been found to be infected and serve as hosts for the disease. Mosquitoes feeding on infected birds can become infected themselves and if they feed on horses or humans, can transmit the disease to these.

Now is the time to begin taking precautions against this disease by following some simple steps. In your home landscape, you can reduce the potential for mosquitoes by making sure to keep the following tips in mind.

Wear loose-fitting clothing. Tight-fitting clothes offer little protection against bites. Long-sleeve shirt and pants provide better protection. Light colored clothing appears to be less attractive than darker colors. Insect repellents containing Deet are very effective.

Prevent mosquito breeding habitat around your home by removing all sources of standing water, dumping containers that hold sources for water to collect and allow prime egg laying and hatching.

Prevent mosquitoes from entering homes by making sure that all screens are in good repair and doors properly seal when closed.

For that favorite barbecue or picnic, Citronella candles offer some protection but, only if they are used in areas with little wind movement.

Bug zappers are fun to watch, just don't hang them over the potato salad. There are indications that these devices may tend to attract unwanted bugs and therefore, should be hung 25-50 feet away from the area you want to protect.

Yard foggers and sprays can offer limited short-term protection by these come with a cost and are short-lived.

For equine enthusiasts who own a horse, mule or donkey, State Health officials urge you to make certain to get your critters West Nile vaccinated.

Alfred, Justin and the staff at Mitchell County Vet Clinic can help with this process. Remember, vaccination is a two-part step and the first shot must be followed by a booster two to three weeks later. For horses that were vaccinated last year, a booster should be all that is required for this summer. Keep in mind that full protection does not take effect for a couple of weeks following the second shot!

Hopefully these simple thoughts and steps will help make your summer a little more enjoyable and a little more miserable for mosquitoes.

As always, if any part of this column causes questions, feel free to call our office at 728-3111. Welcome to summer in West Texas!

Nursing home celebrates 30 years

Kristi Lee Manor will celebrate its 30th anniversary as a nursing home facility in Colorado City this month.

Plans are underway for a celebration to be held later this month, according to Clark Moody, administrator.

Moody and his sister, Judy Ingram, took over the operation of the facility July 1, 1978. Previously, the home was called the Claxton Lodge, in honor of former sheriff Lewis Claxton.

"Mother worked in nursing homes," Moody said. "My sister and I were raised and involved in nursing homes in Abilene." Moody said they helped with everything from housekeeping to janitorial work to helping in the kitchen.

"I even worked weekends during high school," he said. "I feel it's where the Lord wanted me to be. It's my calling."

The brother-sister administration team work diligently to provide a different atmosphere that is apparent the moment someone walks through the front door.

"The outdoor park theme was my sister's idea," Moody said. Park benches, water fountains and an abundance of trees and plants present a welcoming, restful scene.

The difference continues throughout the home, as each room is in the process of being remodeled to be more inviting; such as the dining area with its 50s style look, complete with the front end of a Chevy truck mounted on the wall.

The facility also boasts a full time hair dresser and beautician for makeup and nails, complete with rooms styled to resemble uptown beauty shops.

It's one of the reasons Kristi Lee Manor received a "best" rating in the America's Nursing Homes independent study.

"They listed every nursing home facility in the United States," Moody said. "Out of the 1200 in Texas, only 200 rated 'best'."

Patient care is another reason for the high rating, as patients' families continue to praise the staff.

"It's a wonderful place to be," said resident Paula Brown, who has returned twice from Snyder to recoup from pneumonia.

The facility is licensed for 110 beds, although they usually run in the 70s, according to Moody. The average term for nursing home administrators is 2 years, with the director of nursing averages 8-9 months. "It's a very tough job," he said, adding that administrators have to maintain a balancing act between the patient's wishes, the family's wishes and the state's requirements.

It's a testimony to the difference at Kristi Lee that both administrators have stayed for 30 years and the director of nursing, Terri Owens has been there for 24 years.

"The patients keep me coming back," Owens said. "You get attached to them and it's hard to leave them." Owens said having long term staff which care makes the difference.

Additional differences can be behind to find a replacement and train them," Fay said.

Bill commuted to Amarillo until Fay could join him in April 2005.

"Everything happened so fast and within 30 days we had decided to move. We had to slow something down," she said. They chose to slow down looking for a suitable home.

"We had 30 years in a house we had to pack and clean out," Fay said. "When you pull up at the Goodwill and they recognize your car, you know you have too much junk."

The Ellises, who were very active in both Girl and Boy Scouts and church work, assisting with all aspects of teaching and leadership training, jumped right into community work in Colorado City.

"It's a neat move. I've enjoyed getting involved with the Chamber and Bill's working with the Main Street program," Fay said. "It's exciting for us watching our hometown start to grow. It's exciting to see changes taking place."

"We love it here," Bill said, who is president of LEM Operating Inc., LEM Well Service Inc. and Ellis Production Company Inc.

Being part of a community that extends neighborliness beyond the borders of the church is a nice change of pace.

"There is a more caring, family feeling in Colorado City that you don't get in bigger towns," Fay said. "In the city, you find that in the church family, but here in Colorado City it extends to the community."

The Ellises do miss the restaurants though. "It's hard to find one that's open late where you can sit down, drink ice tea and unwind," Bill said.

If he ever retires, "which I doubt," he said, "I plan to run a sign shop and play golf."

Family also played a big part in their return to Colorado City. Both of their mothers reside in Colorado City.

to it for use, tearing it down and replacing it with a new bridge, or using the current bridge in another location where it would have lighter traffic."

After TxDOT makes its recommendations, other agencies, including the Historical Commission will have up to six months to review the findings and make their own recommendations.

Currently there are five bridge projects underway in Mitchell County, two of which have possible historical significance: CR 337 over Wild Horse Creek and CR 337 over the Colorado River, CR 262 over Wild Horse Creek, CR 121 over an unnamed creek,

"I like being near them and we love being able to share in their lives more," said Fay.

"It's a big part of why we came back."

"We hope to be a part of the community for a long time," Bill added.

found in the computer driven "player" piano, multiple outings to zoos and parks for residents, on-site barbecues for the less-than-mobile residents, a fish aquarium and over 200 autographed photos of famous celebrities.

"We started it a few years ago, taking pictures of 22 of our residents and sending them to celebrities with a request for an autographed photo," Moody said. "Two weeks later we had responses from Clint Eastwood and Kevin Costner."

The stars did not simply send run of the mill publicity photos, choosing to personalize the photos to their friends at Kristi Lee Manor.

Unlike the chain owned nursing facilities which have to send their profits back to the corporate offices, Moody said they can put their profits back into making the manor a different kind of place to live. "We're always looking for some way to make things better for our residents," he said.

wild cow in two minutes. "One man ropes the cow, while two others 'bulldog' her," said Harris, referring to the practice of one hanging on to the cow's head and the other hanging onto the tail. The last man standing gets to do the milking.

Teams have two minutes to cut two calves from a mixed herd of cows and calves, drag them to the teammates on the ground and brand the calves during the team branding event.

The top three teams will receive belt buckles and large prize money will be awarded to the overall top three teams.

While there's plenty of action for the adults, the kids aren't left out. The Mutton Busting event is for all kids eight years and under.

"In this event you get to ride a sheep," said Harris. "Whoever hangs on the longest is the winner."

Fire Chief Rufino Martinez will judge the mutton busting and the winner will receive a belt buckle and $50 in cash.

Sign up will be held at the rodeo. Contestants must sign a release form and pay a $10 entry fee.

General admission to the rodeo is $5 for adults and $3 for children 12 years and under.

All proceeds from the rodeo fundraiser will benefit the Chamber of Commerce.

Steve Cochran will be the announcer, during the rodeo and Larry Nachlinger and Scott Henley will judge the various events.

Colorado City youth will also be involved with the program as Rachel Beckmeyer sings the National Anthem to open the rodeo. Morgan and Macall Maddox will circle the arena with the American and Texas flags.

A dance will be held in the Ag Barn following the rodeo. For more information contact the Chamber of Commerce or Brody Harris.

Helpful hints for removing coffee stains

Coffee stains can be removed easily using this method. The stain can be removed much more easily if not allowed to dry.

Blot the stain with a clean white cloth to remove any excess liquid.

Mix a teaspoon of a good dishwashing detergent, such as Dawn, with a cup of lukewarm water.

Sponge the area with the dishwashing solution, then blot again with your clean white cloth.

Next, mix 1/3 cup of white vinegar with 2/3 cup of lukewarm water.

Once again sponge the area with this solution, and blot again with a clean white cloth.

Rinse with clean water, and launder as soon as possible, following the care label instructions.

Carpeting can be cleaned using the above method and ingredients.

1. Mix one teaspoon of a mild pH balanced detergent (a mild non alkaline non bleaching detergent) with a cup of lukewarm water

2. Blot

3. Mix one third cup of white household vinegar with two thirds cup of water

4. Blot

5. Sponge with clean water

6. Blot

the year, continues to work hard to be able to attend the festivities at this year's fly-in.

"The folks at the rehab center said he was the most determined person they'd ever seen," Owens said. "He won a lot of hearts there."

"He still looks forward to the fly-in and health permitting, we'll have him out there on the 4th," she said.

"J. O. has always put in the effort, organizing and made it as successful as it has been," said long time friend Bobby Lemons. "He worked long hours to get it going and keep it going."

Those long hours included putting in the sound system, setting up the flags, writing articles for flying magazines, keeping track of details, and even sleeping at the airport the night before to make sure everything was safe.

Lemons remembers when it was just Dockrey, himself and Merle Blasingame cooking for the pilots who flew in. Now, members of City National Bank handle the cooking, serving up to 600 breakfasts in less than 3 hours.

This year's Fly-In will once again feature the acrobatics of

The Eagle's Nest, Dave Watts and his skydivers from Odessa.

The group of parachutists, most of whom have been jumping from planes for 10-15 years will make a 5-6,000 jump from a Cessna 182.

"I thought you had to be military to do it (parachute)," said Watts. "I saw it one day and thought I'd try it." Watts, who has been sky diving since 1980, took a five hour class before making his first jump.

Famous author and pilot Nancy Master will award plaques to winners in the categories of most unusual aircraft, longest distance flown, oldest aircraft and oldest and youngest pilots.

Sue Lowrance, executive director of the Chamber of Commerce said plans are underway to honor Dockrey at the event.

Fly-In activities begin with breakfast at 7 a.m., followed by the awards ceremonies at 9 a.m.

In spite of constant back and neck pain, Dockrey maintains his sense of humor and stays positive according to his daughter. "The fly-in has been Daddy's heart," she said. "He should have been born with wings."

CLUB VBS: CACTUS CANYON

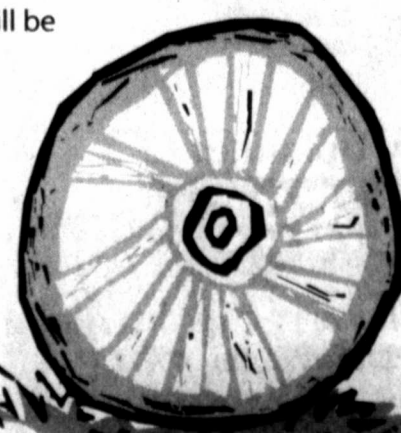

Join a trail ride through the desert south west and experience a great adventure with Calvary Baptist Church and Oak Street Baptist Church.

Calvary and Oak Street Baptist invites all children ages 3 through grade 5 (K - 5th graders will be in the school grade they just finished) for our annual VBS. The partners (kids, that is) will ride through trails of adventure-filled Bible stories, create cool western crafts, enjoy refreshing snacks, and gallop through the recreation activities.

We are happy to offer this fun-filled western adventure to every child in our community. We have trained a fine team of trail guides (teachers, that is) for this incredible experience.

Club VBS: Cactus Canyon will be held at Oak Street Baptist Church on July 6th - 10th. We'll begin each day at 6 p.m. and conclude at 9 p.m. For more information, please call 728-2062 or 728-2262.

COME AND RIDE WITH US!

Jody Clark is a 15 year veteran with the fire department. He is a certified volunteer, who enjoys hunting. Clark is married and he and his wife, Deanna, have three children: Bryson, Braxton and Brooklyn.

SHOP TILL YOU DROP -- Downtown Colorado City has plenty of shops to satisfy the most feminine of hearts. Shoppers (front to back- back seat) Audra Hoback, Janine Lemons, (front to back - front seat) Cherry Hoback and Gail Younger load up with goodies.

More fireworks burst into action at Cooper's Cove

Can't get enough fireworks for one night? Then check out the fireworks display Friday night at Cooper's Cove.

Pat Crow from PJs Wrecking will be hosting a fireworks show guaranteed to delight both young and old.

The show will begin at 10 p.m. at the Cove on CR 307. No admission fee will be charged for the evening's entertainment.

"There will be plenty of parking," said Crow, who plans to mow a five acre area to accommodate the 2-3,000 visitors he expects to attend.

Bring your lawnchair, plenty of bug repellent and join the fun at Cooper's Cove Friday night.

Photo Club offers tips and workshops

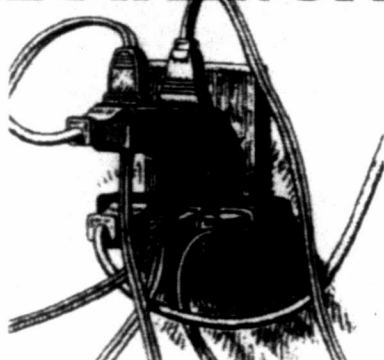

Do you enjoy taking pictures? Whether you take pictures of your family, pets, or maybe nature, there is a place for you in the Mitchell County Photography Club.

The Photography Club meets once a month to visit and discuss different aspects of photography from technical functions of cameras to composition of subjects, but mostly we enjoy great fellowship with others who share an interest in photography.

Anyone that is interested in taking pictures, whether you are an amateur or a professional, and no matter what kind of camera you have, is encouraged to join.

If interested please email Brigada Hiser at kandbhiser@sbcglobal.net or call 325-728-5007.

STICK AROUND FOR THE FIREWORKS.

Here's an accident waiting to happen. A standard wall outlet designed for two plugs, totally overloaded. It's an all too common occurrence. Overloading can result in electrical shorts, power outages, fires and personal injury. All of which are easily avoidable. The best rule is to use only one plug per outlet, and a little common sense. And remember that with every additional plug, you're increasing your chance of an accident. Or at least some fireworks.

Have a Happy & Safe Fourth of July!

Colorado City makes a perfect girl getaway place to shop, etc.

By Cecilia Scott

The price of gas has certainly changed our travel this past year, however, we don't have to give up our girl getaways with sisters, moms, friends and daughters. Colorado City is the perfect day trip for fantastic girl getaways.

We have boutiques, gift shops, antiques shops and marvelous thrift stores that provide shopping opportunities, dining spots and a visit to the museum called one of the best small museums in Texas. Our shopping opportunities in specialty stores surpass that of our surrounding small towns. Many Midland and Snyder groups already shop here and sing the praises of our specialty stores.

Plan a day in Colorado City and call ahead to make certain that the stores will be open and special events can be planned for the group such as a fashion show with vintage or thrift store clothing as the highlight.

Special catering can be done for the meal and a seminar can be scheduled on any interior design topic as well. Our city is a treasure trove of special shops just waiting to be discovered. For information, call 325-242-0206 or 325-728-9018.

In alphabetical order, we have Bella Jane's, Bob's Trading Post,

C-C Printing, Carousel Antiques and Collectibles, Colorado Floral, D and B Antiques, Downtown Emporium, Dragonfly, Eclectiques, Good Ole Days, Main Event, Our House Antiques, Party Palace, Paisley Burro, Perkins Apothecary & Mercantile, Stacie's Creations, Tommy Wright's Store, Woods Boots, Studio 20, C-City Discount Market, Dollar Stores and Alco. and Traci Molina sells her Heavenly Delights at the Party Palace.

We will soon have Mary and Alan Smith's antique store and Nancy Thompson's Pastry Palace.

THREE LITTLE MIRACLES – Big brother Seth Chaney poses with his new brother and sisters during the benefit raffle at the Credit Union for the Children's Miracle Network. The triplets are (back to front) Sadie, Ethan and Maysan Chaney.

Triplets are focus of CMN

Local efforts for the Children's Miracle Network centered around the Chaney triplets during this year's raffle by the Colorado City branch of the Big Spring Education Employees Credit Union.

"Each year the Big Spring Credit Union helps with the telethon and we hold a raffle," said Margo Connell, who works at the local branch. The Colorado City Credit Union has been holding a raffle for the past four years.

The raffle was held June 24, with Seth Chaney drawing the winning tickets. Seth was selected to help with the raffle because his younger siblings were born premature in Dec. 2007. The triplets benefited directly from the efforts of the Children's Miracle Network.

"They were seven weeks early," said Jody Chaney, mother of the triplets. "They spent the next 20 days in the Neonatal Intensive Care Unit in Lubbock, under the very specialized care of the highly trained nurses and the neonatologists."

"Funds raised through organizations such as Children's Miracle Network allow for facilities to have the kind of training and required equipment that allow them to care for some of the most fragile patients," Chaney said.

The credit union gave away 39 prizes in all, donated through the generosity of local businessmen and women. For a complete list of winners, see our website: www.coloradorecord.com.

Fileto, Rivera to marry in San Antonio

Barbara Dee Ann Rivera and Christopher Michael Fileto will be uniting in marriage July 5, 2008 at The Basilica of the National Shrine of Little Flower in San Antonio, Texas.

The bride-elect is the daughter of Gregoria Rivera and the late Joe L. Rivera. She is the granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Jose Franco. She is a 1998 graduate of Colorado High. She graduated with a B.S. Majoring in Kinesiology with a Minor in Spanish in 2004 from Angelo State University. She taught and coached in Coahoma ISD for 3 years but is currently seeking employment in the San Antonio area.

The prospective bridegroom is the son of Sylvia Casso and Joe Fileto, Jr. of Edinburg. He is the grandson of Dr. Ramiro and Emma Casso also of Edinburg and the late Mr. and Mrs. Joe Fileto of Waco. He is a 1997 graduate of Edinburg High. He graduated with a B.B.A. in Accounting in

Christopher Fileto and Barbara Rivera

2001 from the University of Texas in San Antonio. He is a Certified Public Accountant currently employed as a Supervisor with Long Chilton, LLP.

After the wedding the couple plans on relocating to San Antonio, Texas.

NOTICE OF A REQUEST FOR APPROVAL FILED WITH THE PUBLIC UTILITY COMMISSION OF TEXAS

Oncor Electric Delivery Company LLC ("Oncor"), a regulated electric transmission and distribution company, wishes to inform you that on May 28, 2008, Oncor filed a Request for Approval of Advanced Metering System Deployment Plan and Advanced Metering System Surcharge with the Public Utility Commission of Texas, a copy of which Request is kept at Oncor's office at 1601 Bryan St., 23rd floor, Dallas, TX 75201.

If approved, the nonbypassable surcharge will go into effect on January 1, 2009. Affected persons include all residential and non-residential customers who are not required by the independent system operator to have an interval data recorder meter. Oncor is requesting a nonbypassable surcharge that, if approved, will be billed to retail electric providers serving residential customers or non-residential customers who are not required by the independent system operator to have an interval data recorder meter in Oncor's service area. Costs to affected retail electric customers will depend upon whether retail electric providers pass along an approved surcharge to its customers. The surcharge will allow Oncor to recover reasonable and necessary costs incurred in deploying advanced metering systems to such affected customers.

Persons who wish to intervene in or comment upon these proceedings should notify the Public Utility Commission of Texas (commission) as soon as possible, as an intervention deadline will be imposed. A request to intervene or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, P.O. Box 13326, Austin, Texas 78711-3326. Further information may also be obtained by calling the Public Utility Commission at (512) 936-7120 or (888) 782-8477. Hearing- and speech-impaired individuals with text telephones (TTY) may contact the commission at (512) 936-7136. The deadline for intervention in the proceeding is July 14, 2008.

BEGINNING THE FINAL PHASE - Work continues on the Colorado High School track, as Isidro Fraere (left) and Simon Favila (right) from Texas Sports Builders backfill curbs and wait for the base rock to dry after recent rains. Workers will begin pouring the asphalt on Monday, according to Robert Wheeler, of Texas Sports Builders.

Water saving tips can save you money

Did you know that a faucet that leaks just one drop per second can waste over 2,000 gallons of water per year? That a leaking toilet can waste 100 gallons a day? Or that an average shower uses 11 gallons of water?

With the summer heating up and new water meters encouraging greater accountability, The International Arid Lands Consortium offers some simple water saving tips to help conserve water.

Indoors

Do not leave water running when washing dishes by hand or brushing your teeth.

Defrost frozen food in the refrigerator or microwave, instead of running hot water over it.

Clean vegetables in a sink or pan partially filled with water, rather than running water from the tap.

Re-use the water that vegetables are washed in for watering houseplants.

Only run your dishwasher when it is full to make the best use of water, energy and detergent.

Wait until you have a full load of laundry before running the machine to save both water and energy.

Outdoors

Water your lawn early in the morning or at night to avoid excess evaporation.

Maintain a lawn height of 2 1/2 to 3 inches to help protect the roots from heat stress and reduce the loss of moisture to evaporation. Allowing the grass to grow slightly taller reduces water loss by providing more ground shade for the roots and by promoting water retention in the soil.

Watering in several short sessions rather than one long one allows the lawn to better absorb water and helps reduce the risk of over watering.

Consider washing your car on the lawn to reduce runoff.

Consider Xeriscape landscaping which takes into consideration how the yard will be used and how it can provide the greatest benefit with the least amount of maintenance. This includes growing plants that are indigenous to the area and appropriate maintenance to reduce water use.

POISON Help

1-800-222-1222

Do you know this important number?

Dialing 1-800-222-1222 from anywhere in the United States will connect you with a poison center. The call is always free and will be answered 24 hours a day every day.

When is it appropriate to call the poison center?

There are many times when calling the poison center is the right thing to do.

Here are just a few:

- ☛ Someone took the wrong medicine or too much medicine.
- ☛ Someone ate something that might be poisonous.
- ☛ Someone got something on their skin that might be poisonous.
- ☛ Someone got something in their eye that might be poisonous.
- ☛ Someone breathed something that might be poisonous.

Don't assume that something is not poisonous. Call to be safe!

Thornhill new head Wildcat

By Carl Graham

The Westbrook Wildcats will begin the 2008 football season in Division II as a result of a drop in enrollment from the past UIL realignment that was released in February. They will also be playing under a new head coach, only the third head coach since the Wildcats began their football program in 1992.

Coach Cooper Thornhill has begun his stint as the Wildcat head coach, and his goal will be to lead them back to the playoffs. After all, they had grown accustomed to winning under previous head coaches Jim Hill and Andrew Hannon.

Jim Hill was the head mentor when the school first began their football program, and it did not take him long to lead his team to the playoffs, earning a playoff spot in 1995 and finishing the season at 7-4. The next season the team went 9-1 but lost out on a post-season playoff when three teams tied for the district crown with one loss each. Westbrook was the odd man out, leaving the team to watch the playoffs from the bleachers.

Andrew Hannon was fortunate enough to inherit a group of great athletes and also took the Wildcats to the playoffs during his tenure. His Wildcats had a record of 8-2 three of his six years at the Westbrook campus. Coach Hill returned to become the head coach in 2006, but the program fell upon hard times without the quality of athletes he had in the past.

Enter Coach Thornhill for the 2008 football season.

Westbrook did lose several very good athletes in quarterback Tate Burleson, wide receiver Colton Nobles and receiver/running back Josh Solko, but playing in Division I with the likes of Highland and Ira, as well as Robert Lee, was a tough job.

Coach Thornhill will field a very young team that will have to travel long distances in a district comprised of Grandfalls-Royal, Imperial Buena Vista, Ackerly, Sands and Borden County. So much for dropping down into Division II.

Among the young hopefuls for the Wildcats are huge Eli Farrell, Michael Bray and Colton Rich. Others that must step up into starting roles could include Julio Diaz, Joel Gaona and Vince Gaona.

Westbrook, which finished last season with a record of 3-7 and 0-4 in district play, only returns two offensive and one defensive starters with just three lettermen, Farrell, Bray, Rich, that have any varsity experience. They do have a group of incoming freshmen and sophomores that should give the Wildcats a bright future, but for this season, it will be the spoiler role for the Mitchell County crew.

Dave Campbell's Texas Football magazine sees Borden County as the team to beat with Ackerly Sands returning to the playoffs after going 0-4 in district play last year. Borden County lost their chance at the playoffs last season when they lost to Westbrook's cross-county rival, Loraine, with both going 2-2 in district play.

Teenage League holds closing ceremonies last Tuesday night

Closing ceremonies for the 2008 Texas Teenage League season were held Tuesday night at the Sport Complex. Local teams advancing to the District Tournament include the Red Sox, coached by Frank Perez and the Indians, coached by Jeremiah Wood.

The District Tournament will be held in Colorado City at the Sports Complex starting July 14.

The Midgett League State Tournament will also be held at the Sports Complex beginning July 28.

Local teams participating include the Red Sox, coached by Jill Perez and the Orioles, coached by Brian Potter.

By Bessie Ann Vaughn
Lorraine Correspondent

Hello, readers. We hope everyone has a great holiday.

We have problems in this country from time to time but this is still the greatest country in the world.

The flag and the Pledge of Allegiance swells the patriotic heart.

Lorraine Main Street is also a State Highway, and it is sporting a new, black dress. The state crew worked very hard in the hot weather and the new black top made it even hotter.

It looks very nice, and I wish we could afford enough gas to drive on it.

Gerrie Wooddell and Betty Darnell hosted a bridal shower last week in Gerrie's home for Lauren Bruce of Lorraine. Her fiancé is David Derreck from Amarillo.

Twenty-six attended the shower. Refreshments of finger sandwiches, cake and punch was served.

Vida Mae McDaniel played piano at the First Baptist Church of Lorraine in the absence of Ina Vay McAdams last Sunday. She played a medley of patriotic songs.

Durwood and Ina Vay McAdams attended her brother's memorial service at Keyes, OK on Saturday. Their daughter, Jalane

Pointer and her girls from Claud, accompanied them.

The McAdams returned home on Sunday.

Kenneth Rose from Eastland and Sylvester Rose from Wichita Falls came to Lorraine last weekend to visit their mom, Millie Rose. She said they took her out to eat and toured parts of the county, which she enjoyed.

But they tried to boss mama around and that didn't go over too well. She listened to them and smiled, and as soon as they were out of sight, she did as she pleased!

Joan Long took her granddaughter Faith Piatt home to Denton Friday. Faith had spent the week here with Joan. Another granddaughter Casi Merket also paid her grandmother and Faith a visit.

They all had a great time.

Special music was provided in the Methodist Church last Sunday was Stefan and Tove Kristensen of Sweetwater, originally from Denmark and Norway. They sang, "El Shaddai".

Later, a special meal was served honoring Rev. Kiefer and Aubrey Nell Cauble. He is scheduled for heart valve surgery in Abilene July 8th. It has been rescheduled from July 1st. Forty people attended the nice meal.

Our prayers and get well wishes go out to Bro. Kiefer.

Jean Aaron who lives at the Taylor-Witt Apartments and her niece, Kim Alvarez of Sweetwater, spent a great weekend in Wink, where they attended the 19th Roy Orbison Festival and the 80th all school reunion, home of the Wink Wildcats.

On Friday, they took a tour over to Kermit and Jal, New Mexico, to see the sites that Jean had not seen in years. The festivities began with a parade downtown in Wink. Jean and her friends rode on a new exclusive Wildcat bus. Jean said, "It was beautiful."

Saturday lunch was furnished by the school; fish and barbeque ribs and all the trimmings enjoyed by all. Classes met after lunch and before lunch. Jean attended school 1940-50. She reminisced with friends and four of the football players. They visited, exchanged addresses and took pictures. Approximately 300-500 exes attended.

Saturday night, they gathered in the school auditorium to hear Stage 3 band featuring Wes Orbison (Roy's son) plus a Roy Orbison impersonator.

LORRAINE NEWS

Sunday morning, everyone gathered for coffee and sweet rolls before going to the church service. The week was filled with fun and memories for Jean and she was so glad she could attend.

Gerrie Wooddell and husband Dub attended a Hubbard Reunion at Glen Rose last week from Thursday until Sunday.

They stayed at a large meeting place with rooms for cooking, dining, sleeping and a huge banquet room for all to get together. They had fun visiting, eating, playing music and swimming. There were approximately 80 people in attendance.

Before returning home they toured Dinosaur City. They all had a great time.

Visitors at the center included Judy Macha from Lockney ate lunch with her mother, Elnora Mitchell, Nola Taylor, Kitty Gage, Dalton Gage and Claire Yokum from Lubbock.

J.A. Yvonne and Mike Sadler had lunch in Sweetwater with Pat, Pat and Brittany. Sunday, they celebrated J.A.'s birthday early. Bertie Colson joined them.

Monday, the crowd played bingo.

Wednesday, Debbie Mitchell and Judy Beasley entertained.

Friday, they had a morning of visitation.

Lodges install officers

Saturday, July 5th at 6 p.m., the Lorraine and Mitchell Masonic Lodges will have a joint installation of officers for the year 2008-09. The joint installation marks the first time in decades that the two lodges have held this event together.

Lorraine Lodge No. 1307, a 60 year old lodge chartered December 2, 1948, will be the host lodge for the event. The lodge is located at 101 Colorado Street in Lorraine.

Mitchell Lodge No. 563, a 126 year old lodge chartered December 16, 1882, is the oldest lodge in the 79th Masonic District and will be the guest lodge for the installation.

Outgoing Worshipful Masters, Kenneth Rogers of Lorraine Lodge and Dan Smith of Mitchell Lodge wish to extend to all members and their families and to the public as well, a warm welcome to attend this memorable event.

The ceremonies are scheduled to begin at the Lorraine Lodge at 6 p.m. with the honorable and former congressman now serving as the Deputy Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Texas, David Counts of Knox City, who will be the installing officer.

Officers of the Lorraine Lodge to be installed are Charles Garrett, Worshipful Master; Bill Crockett, Senior Warden; Jesse Kossman, Junior Warden; Edgar Haltom, Treasurer; Kenneth Rogers, Secretary; and Herman Mitchell, Senior Deacon.

Officers to be installed for the Mitchell Lodge are Wayne Pierce, Worshipful Master; Charles Garrett, Senior Warden; Gregg McKenney, Junior Warden; Kenneth Rogers, Treasurer; Dan Smith, Secretary; David Myers, Senior Deacon; Pete Torres, Junior Deacon; Pat Taylor, Senior Stewart;

Roy Calhoon, Junior Stewart; and Jesse Kossman, Tiler.

As this will be an open-to-the-public event, the Masonic families of the two lodges encourage all those friends and relatives of the new officers, as well as the public who are interested, to come and enjoy. Dan Smith and Kenneth Rogers, both outgoing Masters, say, "For those Masons of the area who have not been to lodge lately, this would be a wonderful time to renew."

Dan Smith, Worshipful Master of Mitchell Lodge said, "There has been a new life of Masonry in Mitchell County and its two lodges this past year and that we are on our way to an encouraging new year with the two new leaders of the two lodges. We are gaining new interest from the members as well as those who are interested in becoming a Mason."
