First Government Farm Checks Arrive Here

First checks to Collingsworth farmers for preliminary payment on their 1971 crop were received Thursday, February 8, and totaled $116,206.44.

The announcement was made by Mrs. Nita White, of the county ASCS office.

These checks went to operators of 78 farms. More will arrive at short intervals until all of the approximately 668 farms in the government program are covered.

Wheat producers are receiving $1.20 per bushel in preliminary payment on their 1971 crop. Payment will be made soon after July 1 as possible and amounts to 75 per cent of the estimated face value of domestic wheat certificates. The final face value of the certificates will be the difference between 100 per cent parity on July 1 through November. Final payment will be made after December 1. Preliminary payments under the feed grain, and cotton programs were announced previously.

This amounts to 15 per cent on cotton and 29 cents per bushel on grain sorghum.

"These preliminary payments, which represent part of the total payments due farmers under the 1971 programs, are made to reimburse farmers for the costs of idling productive crop-land acres and to help assure a return to farming sufficient to maintain the productivity of U. S. agriculture," a USDA official said.

The sorghum producers preliminary payment of 29 cents per bushel is based on this year's 20 per cent set aside requirement. The payment is calculated by multiplying the rate per bushel by the yield established for the farm times one-half the grain sorghum base. Participants in the 1971 feed grain program are guaranteed a national average of $1.24 per bushel on the production from half their sorghum base.

Lewis A. Morris Dies Suddenly Monday Morning

Lewis A. Morris, 58, prominent farmer and farm leader, died at 10:15 a. m. Monday, July 12, in St. Joseph's Hospital a little more than an hour after he was admitted.

Mr. Morris was stricken ill while working at his farm near Quil. Earlier in the morning he had visited briefly with friends downtown as he was en route to there.

The family home is at 1610 Doherty Street.

A life-long Collingsworth County resident, Mr. Morris had extensive farming interests in the Quil, Marella, and Lillie communities, where he was among the first to develop the use of irrigation.

He had been a director of the Wellington State Bank since January 1956, and he also had served for a long period on the board of the Farmers Co-op Gin.

Few men here had greater interest in athletics than Mr. Morris. As a young man, he was recognized as one of the best baseball players in the area and for a time he played semi-pro ball.

After he and Mrs. Morris moved from Quil into Wellington, he became interested in golf, and was one of the organizers of the Green Acres Golf Club.

He supported school-boy athletics, not only in his home community of Quil, but in Wellington and Samnorwood as well.

Mr. Morris was a Methodist and had served as a steward in his church.

Mr. Morris was born in Collingsworth County May 25, 1913, the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Morris. He attended school at Marella and Quil and was graduated from Wellington High School. Almost immediately after that, he began farming.

He was married to Miss Isla Mae Johnson on November 28, 1934, at Hollis.

Funeral services were conducted at First United Methodist Church at 3:00 p. m. Wednesday, July 14. Officiating were the Rev. C. R. Handins, pastor of Trinity Dozier Methodist Church, and the Rev. M. O. Evans of Plainview.

Burial was in Memorial Gardens under the direction of Kelso Funeral Home.

Pall bearers were Carl Wischkaemper, Louis Allred, Henry Sullivan, John Holton, Bob McAlister, Jones Singley, C. T. Hubbard, and W. E. Marchant.

Survivors include his wife, who is a member of the Quail School faculty; a son, Major Darryl Morris of Newburgh.

Monday Evening

Genealogy Work To Be Explained

A genealogy workshop for those interested in tracing family histories, will be held Monday, July 19, at 7:30 p. m. in the home of Mrs. Corky Bowen, who will conduct the workshop.

This is planned especially for those who are interested in family histories from the standpoint of the Collingsworth County Historical Survey, but those interested in their family tree for any reason are welcome, she brought out.

If there is sufficient interest, a series of workshops will be held, going more completely into genealogy studies.

In the Monday night session, Mrs. Bowen will explain how to begin a family tree. Other sessions would include how to use a library, how other people working on family histories can be a source of material,

With Memphis

Methodist Youth Share Programs

The senior high group of the Wellington United Methodist Church plan to share programs with the Memphis United Methodist youth group the next two Sunday nights.

On July 18, the Memphis youth will come to Wellington and give a program; then on July 25, the Wellington youth will go to Memphis and give their program," said Steve Campbell, youth director.

"This project is to unify the youth around this area and give them experience in talking with groups outside of their own community," he added.

The senior high group has also been active on Wednesday evenings with activities which include, during the past month: swimming at Memphis, redecorating the church nursery and general business meetings.

Future plans for mid-week projects cover such things as: going to a movie, go to Amarillo to see the singing group "Chicago", and spending an evening at a lake.

The youth have also worked

Prairie Chicken Count Declines

Spring counts of lesser prairie chickens by biologists of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department show a slight decline in the breeding population from last year, according to Dick DeArment, project leader for the bird study.

A decline of 19 percent in Hemphill County and 28 percent in Wheeler County was found. The percentage for north Collingsworth was not given but can be expected to be similar to Wheeler County. These are prime areas.

DeArment said the prolonged 1970 drought and a 1971 blizzard probably account for the smaller count.

DeArment said it is still much too early to know how the decline will or will not affect hunting when the season opens.

Bank Assets Set New Mid-Season Record

Wellington's two banks rounded the second quarter of the year with assets passing the $12 million mark for the first time ever at mid-season. Deposits also reached a new second quarter high at just over $11.5 million.

For the eighth consecutive year, Collingsworth banks have broken mid-season records, and both assets and deposits are almost one million dollars higher than a year ago.

These figures were disclosed by the Wellington State Bank and City State Bank as reported to the Federal Reserve Bank and State Banking Commission on June 30, 1971.

Bank assets at that date were $12,577,541.44. Deposits were $11,507,823.25.

The deposit and asset figure are below the all-time high banking figures reached at the end of the first quarter, but this is a normal seasonal trend in this part of the country, and it usually represents the low point of deposits.

It is also to be considered that this report reflects none of the Farm Program money, which did not begin to arrive until after July 1. Only $104,000 in emergency funds had been received to that time.

Also there is no wheat money this year to boost the county's economy at mid-point, since that which was harvested was held by growers for seed.

This year's deposits represent an increase of about $900,000 above the 1970 figure of $10,618,338.57.

The current deposits are also more than a million and a half above those the same time two years ago, and almost three million over the figure of three years ago.

Assets are almost two million over the asset figure two years ago, when the first time at mid-season it reached the $10 million mark.

A trend toward more money going into savings continues. Demand deposits are $5,801,804.58, while time and savings deposits are $5,706,018.49. This is about the same as demand deposits a year ago, but up one million dollars in time and savings deposits.

This trend is seen throughout the southwest. Loans and discounts of June 30 were $6,680,20.88, up from $6,454,988.13 a year ago.

Progress Reviewed

Inspection Team Due at Hospital

A team of field representatives from the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals will make a voluntary survey of St. Joseph's Hospital Friday, July 16.

This is upon the invitation of the hospital administration and the board of trustees.

Team members will be Dr. James E. Lett and Carl R. Parrish, FACHA, a hospital administrator. They will spend a full day here, making a survey of the hospital and meeting with the medical staff and hospital board, said Mary Perpetua, administrator.

Following a visit from a Joint Commission team in October 1970, a series of recommendations was made at St. Joseph's if the hospital is to retain its accreditation. These had to do primarily with the increasingly higher standards required of all hospitals. Sister Perpetua this week reviewed the progress that has been made on these recommendations.

Plans for the sprinkler system are being drawn by Villyard Plumbing Co., of Childress, a firm with considerable experience in installing these systems, according to Sister Perpetua.

Father of Mrs. Jeff Wilson Dies

W. L. (Pete) Pearson, 64, of 3221 South Bowie, Amarillo, died Thursday morning, July 8, in an Amarillo hospital after a lengthy illness. He was the father of Mrs. Jeff Wilson and had visited Wellington many times.

A vice president of Southwestern Public Service Co., Mr. Pearson was born in Emma and began his career with the company in Lubbock in 1929 while attending Texas Tech University.

After earning his degree in electrical engineering in 1931, he began work full time as an electrical engineer. In 1933, he moved to Canyon as manager for the power company, and returned to Lubbock in 1935 as power engineer.

Mr. Pearson also was engineer for the company in Plainview and Slaton before transferring to Amarillo in 1952 as industrial manager. In 1957, he was selected as vice president, a position he held at the time of his death.

Mr. Pearson was a former chairman of the Amarillo Advisory Board of the Salvation Army and a former president of the Panhandle Chapter of the Texas Manufacturers Association.

He also had served as past president, member of the board of directors and secretary-treasurer of the Petroleum Electric Power Association. He was a member of the Polk Street United Methodist Church and was a Mason.

Services were conducted at Polk Street United Methodist Church at 10:00 a. m. Friday, with Dr. W. Winfred Moore, pastor of the First Baptist Church officiating, assisted by Dr. J. Walter Browns, the pastor. Burial was in Llano Cemetery.

Survivors include his wife, Hazel; two daughters, Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Jerald Snodgrass of Lubbock; and six grandchildren.

Ritz Opening Date Reset for July 22

The Ritz Theatre has set Thursday, July 22, as the date for the public opening of its remodeled building, according to J. A. McConnell.

The opening picture is announced tentatively as "Barefoot Executive" a Walt Disney production.

Mrs. Gorman Owens and a group of teenage youngsters have been busy cleaning, painting, and reworking the theatre. New seats and other fixtures have been installed and the old theatre presents an entirely new appearance.

Preparations had been made to hold the opening this week; but the remodeling required more time than anticipated and as a result the date has been set for July 22.

At Baylor

Name Trio for Student Seminar

Three teen-agers were selected Thursday night, July 1, to attend the 1971 High School Students Citizenship Seminar sponsored by the Texas Farm Bureau.

The ninth annual training school students will be held July 20 to 24 on the campus of Baylor University in Waco. The three are Jerry Bowen, who will be a senior this year, the son of Mr. and Mrs. King Bowen of Wellington; Joel Ross, a junior, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Ross of Quil; and Anna Oldham, a senior daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Haskell Oldham of Samnorwood.

Nationally known lecturers will address the seminar students. They include Dr. Clifton L. Gamus, Jr., president of Harding College, Searcy, Ark.; Dr. C. L. Kay, vice-president for public affairs of Lubbock Christian College, Lubbock who has spoken here a number of times; and John Noble, author of "I was a Slave in Russia," of Muncy, Pa.; W. Cleon Skousen, author, lawyer, educator and former FBI agent of Salt Lake City, Utah; and Sgt. Tom Hollingsworth, former Green Beret commander in Vietnam.

In addition, a young former narcotics addict and ex-convict will relate the story of his life as an addict and criminal. He is Richard Perigo of Dallas, who is associated with HHP (Help is Possible), an organization dedicated to the prevention of delinquency and drug abuse among teen-agers.

All the guest lecturers are recognized authorities on the subjects with which they will deal.

Broken Pump Shaft Limits Water Use

A pump shaft broke in Wellington's last water well, leaving the city with only enough water for household use and a reserve for firefighting, as the city counted more days of 100-degree weather.

Mayor John Coleman said Tuesday afternoon that parts for the pump had to be located out of town and brought in before repairs could begin. At that time, he estimated the work could be completed in "a day or two."

"We will let the people know when the water is turned on again," he said.

Although the standpipe was full Tuesday, it was pointed out it must be full before water goes into the underground reservoir.

The reservoir had only about 10 feet of water, and Mayor Coleman said this had to be conserved in case of fire.

Late last week, the mayor called for city residents to stop watering lawns on a voluntary basis. There has been almost 100 per cent co-operation, he said.

Water consumption was over one million gallons per day when the pump shaft broke, according to the mayor.

Joe H. Wauer Service Held Here Saturday

A former Wellington man, Joe H. Wauer, 79, died at 6:15 p. m. Wednesday, July 7, in Colonial Nursing Home at Lubbock.

He was a retired carpenter and moved to Lubbock three years ago.

Mr. Wauer was born April 5, 1892, in Burleson County. He came to this area 60 years ago, settling at Quail, where he farmed for many years before moving to Wellington.

He was married to Miss Lula Robinson November 19, 1913, at Quail. She preceded him in death May 30, 1968.

Funeral services were conducted at 10:00 a. m. Saturday in First Baptist Church, with the Rev. Roy Collins, pastor, officiating. Burial was in Quail cemetery under the direction of Kelso Funeral Home.

Grandsons were pall-bearers. Survivors are three daughters, Mrs. Bill Ryan of Mt. Pleasant, Mrs. R. V. Blackshear of Vinson and Mrs. Raymond Hicks of Belen, N. M.; 15 sons, Paul Wauer of Wellington, Preston Wauer of Lubbock, Bill Wauer of Lubbock, Wesley Wauer of Ralls and Ray Wauer of Denver, Colorado. Other survivors are a brother, Gus Wauer of Temple, 32 grandchildren and several great-grandchildren.

School Tax Rate Reset at $1.80 per $100

The Wellington School Board met Monday night, July 12, to set the tax rate for the coming year.

This will remain at $1.80 per $100 valuation, according to Supt. Thayne Amonett.

Of the total, $1.30 will go to cover maintenance and 50¢ into the fund to retire the bonded indebtedness.

The board also reviewed the proposed budget for the next year.

A public hearing will be held on the budget at the August board meeting, and notice will be given of the date, Supt. Amonett said.

Truck-Trailer Overturns, Burns

A heavy truck with refrigerator trailer overturned in the bar ditch and burned about 2:00 a. m. Tuesday, July 6, approximately 13.6 miles south of Wellington on US 83.

About 10:00 a. m., an Oklahoma man, looking at the still-burning rig, drove his car into the back of a parked highway department vehicle, according to Patrolman Don Gosnell, who led the investigation.

The owner of the truck rig, Phillip Mack Harris of Ft. Worth, told Patrolman Gosnell the right front tire on the truck blew out, causing it to run off a culvert, overturn on its side, and catch fire.

A firefighting unit called from Childress had the blaze almost out when it ran out of water and the fire flared again, the patrolman continued.

Rev. J. E. Young Goes to Church in Elk City

The Rev. J. E. Young has resigned as pastor of Fundamental Baptist Church of Wellington to accept a call as pastor of the Bible Baptist Church in Elk City.

Rev. Young has served the Wellington church as pastor for 7 years.

"We are happy to announce the congregation has tripled in number in the past 7 years," he said.

"Five thousand dollars of debt has been paid, the Church has purchased pews and carpeted the auditorium. The church is now debt free, and we give God all the praise," he said.

Mr. and Mrs. Young and their son will move to their new home this week.

This was his second pastorate at the Wellington church, the first being a number of years ago. The family already knows many of their new congregation, as he has conducted revivals at the Elk City Church in recent years.

Scholastic Achievement

Arnett Students Named Outstanding

Seven members of this year's Arnett graduating class were selected recently as members of the Society of Outstanding American High School Students.

They are Kenneth McDowell, Donna Tabor, Sherril Ginn, Cathy Carter, James Argo, Sharla Sike and Dana Tucker McDowell.

The Society accepts for membership only young men and women who have distinguished themselves as their school's highest achievers. Arnett's seniors also brought many honors to the school and prominent among these was the scholarship award.

Kenneth McDowell won a two-year expense paid scholarship on his "Handicap" report also a one-year scholarship as valedictorian of the graduating class and one year general scholarship. He will attend Southwestern State College at Weatherford.

Sharla Sikes won $250 in 4-H Club work and a scholarship in music at York College, York, Nebraska.

James Argo won a year in scholastics at Altus College and $500 from the Farmers Home Administration.

Donna Tabor received a one-year scholarship as salutatorian of her class, one as highest ranking Baptist from Arnett to attend Wayland College at Plainview.

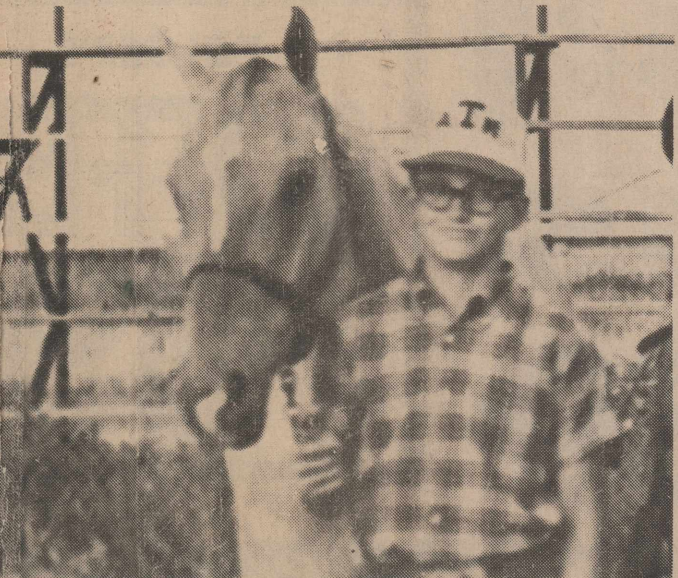

Cathy Carter won a four-year scholarship. She will attend Altus Junior College and later Southwestern State.

Retha Moore received a one-year scholarship from Altus Junior College.

Each senior is individually counseled and had many discussions from visiting college professors and regular faculty members.

Arnett's students are tested from grades one through 12. These tests are used as guides for students, parents, and faculty members who guide these young people.

The seven students will now compete on a national basis for other scholarships to be offered.

STATE HORSE SHOW CONTENDER

Jim Bob Nall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Nall, is the only 4-H Horse Club member from Collingsworth to qualify in the District 1 show for a place in the Texas 4-H Horse Show.

That event, planned for late July in Fort Worth, has been postponed indefinitely due to the outbreak of Venezuelan Equine Encephalomyelitis.

Testing Emphasis On Pre-Schooler

When Gene Baird was attending school in Wellington, he recalls that he was given Stanford Achievement tests along the way.

Now he is assistant sales manager for the Test Department of Harcourt Brace, publisher of the Stanford Achievement Test and a number of others.

Baird, his wife Wanda, and their children, Amy and Paul, of Armonk, New York, left Friday, July 9, after visiting his sister, Mrs. Sam Mc Gill and family.

"Our publications in tests represent over 40 per cent of all those used in the United States today," Mr. Baird said while here.

The Stanford Achievement Test is used in Collingsworth Schools, along with the Metropolitan Achievement Test, another published by Harcourt Brace. The Otis Lennon Mental Ability Test is still a hit.

The purpose of tests varies with the type given. Some measure a child's achievements in his studies as he progresses through school. Some measure mental ability. Still others determine if the child is ready to go to school at all.

Tests Baird's company publishes are used throughout the United States and in American schools overseas; and they are also used in foreign countries overseas and in Canada.

"We are presently working on the Otis Lennon test in Spanish and French, for use in France and Spanish speaking countries," Mr. Baird continued. "We are also working on a modification for use with bi-lingual students, so we can mix the language for them."

Emphasis in testing during the next few years will be at kindergarten and below--pre-school children.

"We are making the greatest effort to develop the test where you can spot youngsters faster who need help and give them the background they need," he explained.

This push may last two years, or until the needed instruments are developed.

Testing programs are under fire across the country in those areas where these are bi-lingual minorities, the French in Quebec and Louisiana, the Spanish-speaking across the country. Often these children cannot speak English when they start to school.

The parents claim a test given in English does not fairly measure the achievement or mental ability of a child.

"These people are asking for culture fair tests," Baird explained. "Our position is they cannot be culture free. Our position is that anything put down in words has to reflect a culture of some kind. But culture fair tests -- that is something we are attempting to do. Instruments we are developing are reviewed by minority groups to be sure they do not have items included that would hinder scoring."

"Culture free tests will never reach, but we are trying to develop instruments more fair to all cultures." A big problem looms in the Spanish edition -- the different dialects spoken across the U. S. by the Puerto Ricans in New York and Boston, Cubans in Florida and those of Mexican descent in the Southwest.

Baird has had first hand experiments with some of this, for when he taught in Arizona, his students were both Spanish and Indian.

He is also working with the producers of Sesame Street, the tremendously popular television learning program for pre-schoolers.

"We are showing them how they can see what they have accomplished for the pre-schoolers. That will give a teacher an indication as to where the child is in readiness for formal school learning."

"Sesame Street offers a great deal of (learning) exposure to children who couldn't see anything else. It is more so for the inner city child, and it has the drill routine that you must have for any thing."

Baird has been with Harcourt Brace four years, joining the company in Memphis, Tenn. and working later at Winter Park, Fla. Prior to that he was a curriculum director for the Berger schools, and still earlier he taught in Arizona and California.

Both he and his wife, the former Wanda Henderson, of Phillips received bachelor's degrees from West Texas State University and masters degrees from Northern Arizona University at Flagstaff. She formerly taught music in the primary grades.

Although he works in New York City, the family lives at Armonk, which is about the size of Wellington. And the people, they have found, are much like the people here, friendly, warm, and neighborly.

"They just talk a little differently and that's all," says Baird.

A LANDMARK GOES

Heavy smoke billowed out the doors and windows as this large sheet metal warehouse was destroyed by fire Sunday night, July 4. When it was built at the corner of 8th and Arlington Streets in 1916, it housed Milo Brown's Blacksmith Shop. It was being used by Sullivan Hardware and Furniture.

I Saw... by Virginia Robey

Patrolman Doug Wright looks twice when he stops a car with women and dogs. He recalls he once gave a woman a ticket and as he handed it to her to sign, her Chihuahua jumped up, grabbed his hand, and wouldn't turn loose. He finally had to shake the dog off.

Eunice Nunnelle's description of the fishing trip she and Ernest took to Lake City, Colo. "Fishing was good and people were thick."

Herman Clyde Childress learned all about mattresses in his father Herman's plant. This started him on his present profession, sales representative of Imperial Mattress Co. in San Diego, Calif.

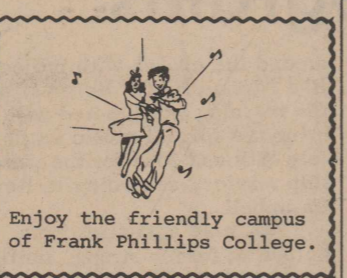

June Haney brought back this from Taos, N. M., where she went recently with her son and daughter-in-law, David and Becky Haney. While the girls looked at pictures in one of the galleries, David got in conversation with the artist-owner, Larry Hillburn, who wanted to know where they were from.

"I used to teach at Dodson," Hillburn replied. "And I always said that when I got to be 40, I was going to retire and do what I wanted to. I did, and started painting."

He has had many exhibits and studied in Paris on a Full-bright Art Scholarship.

The number of scholarships offered young graduates continues to amaze. In the last few days, announcement of these have come across the I SAW desk:

Santa Fe Ry. -- 27 scholarships ($500 each) to 4-H members in 13 states; and 15A educational awards to Texas FFA members. -- More Scholarships to FFA

THE COST OF ALCOHOLISM

By Gaylord Cook

Would you consider a few FACTS concerning alcoholism? (1) American industry over ONE BILLION DOLLARS is lost annually because of alcoholism. (2) per cent of All absenteeism is due to alcoholism. (3) Wage losses alone in industry amount 432 MILLION dollars per year. (4) More than 11,000,000 accidents in the United States last year were due to drinking. (5) Of these accidents more than 10,000 were fatal accidents. (6) More than 120 MILLION dollars were lost in property damages due to drinking. (7) Publicly supported hospitals and other state institutions spent more than 25 Million dollars last year to care for alcoholics. (8) More than 25 PER CENT OF All divorce cases are connected with alcoholism. These figures are frankly, very frightening and ones that could be cited add to that fright. The scale fact of the good that could come to the families of 4,000,000 American alcoholics is enough to make anyone think. Whatever else might be said in regard to this problem, one thing that cannot be side-stepped is the fact that without alcohol there would be no alcoholics.

MRS. PHILIP DANIELS AND HER CANDLES

Candle-Making Hobby Gives Out Beauty in Many Parts of the World

"Candles consume themselves to give light to others."

This is the philosophy of Mrs. Philip Daniels, who began making candles a year and a half ago as a hobby — which now brings her a degree of profit.

People, too, should give of themselves to help other, she believes.

Her own hobby provides another one for her husband, as it is the Rev. Mr. Daniels who now makes the wooden candle holders used in many of the graceful arrangements.

Candle making is also time consuming, Mrs. Daniels points out. It is, in fact, an 8-hour job.

But her candles have traveled far. Some burn in California and a tall elaborate purple white candle burns at all the wedding ceremonies performed by a Nazarene missionary in the Cape Verde Islands.

Many have been gifts to Wellington women, and one church in Oklahoma City buys candle arrangements in quantity to send to hospitalized members instead of flowers. (A few have been known to send word to the church secretary as to their color preference.)

All of Mrs. Daniels' candles are of glo-wax, which when lighted, glows translucently deep down into the candles.

"Wax explodes at over 300 degrees," she warns, "so I work with a thermometer."

When candles-making day arrives, the wax melts ever so slowly for four hours, then when it is between 190 and 210 degrees, it is poured into the molds.

"It glows best at that temperature. It burns best and the scent and coloring are best then," she explained. Both the color and scent must be put in at critical points, just before pouring. Done too early, the scent fades and the color dulls.

The wax cools just as slowly as it melted — for four hours. After the mold is removed, nylon net is used to polish the candle.

Mrs. Daniels makes her candles in many shapes, round, oval, square, and star, and all of them in a variety of heights.

Then there are the popular and lovely hurricane candles, thin square shells of candle

Mrs. Daniels makes her candles in many shapes, round, oval, square, and star, and all of them in a variety of heights.

Then there are the popular and lovely hurricane candles, thin square shells of candle wax, into which votive candles are set.

Mrs. Daniels lets go with her imagination when she begins to decorate the candles. Some are sculptured, others are hand painted in wax.

There is the hurricane candle in pale blue, decorated with fish that seem to swim as a light glows inside . . . One of the most delightful is a wedding anniversary candle for her own daughter, with pictures of the couple's wedding set in the wax sides.

She passes on a hint to the hostess who wants her lovely candle to last a long time.

"Let it burn out in the center until you can remove enough wax to set a votive candle in a clear glass holder in the depression. The glow will still go down through the glass holder and all you have to do is replace the votive candle as needed."

Mrs. Daniels has studied flower design and worked in a florist shop in Liberal, Kansas, before coming here. Many of the arrangements she used are adapted to include a candle.

Rev. Daniels turned a long-time interest in wood-working into making candle holders, some low, some footed, but one design tall enough to stand on the floor, holding a large decorated candle. Many of the holders are finished in antique gold and silver.

Because a parsonage usually has only limited space for hobbling, the Rev. and Mrs. Daniels must limit their amount of equipment.

In the meantime, when this couple lights a candle, it gives forth both light and beauty.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Oney and Bruce have returned from a vacation to points in Colorado. At Carbondale, they visited with Mr. and Mrs. Paul Guthrie and family, and from there they spent several days at Aspen.

At Paonia, they visited Mr. and Mrs. Clinton King. En route home, they stopped in Buena Vista to visit Mrs. Oney's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Shaw of Atlanta, Georgia.

Susan Oney, who has been working in Aspen since the end of the Texas Tech session, returned home with her family.

LEATHER FOR FALL

Have you noticed that leather is going to play an important part in the fashions picture for fall. Why not plan now to have a leather garment. It is exciting to sew with leathers. Suedes, buckskin and chamios skins are readily available with patterns planned for use with them. Make a trial muslin since leather garments cannot be altered. Stitching shows when it has been removed. Convert each pattern half into a full pattern. Lay pattern pieces on the underside of the skin in one direction. Tape pattern pieces to skin. Cut with sharp shears. Use wax, chalk, or ball point pen to transfer necessary markings. Hold seams in place with paper clips or cellophane tape.

Core spun or silk thread makes a stronger seam. Adjust the machine stitch to 7 to 10 stitches per inch. Use a size 16 leather needle. Loosen the thread tension. Tie the thread ends. Backstitching mars the leather. Stay seams to keep the leather from stretching. Open the seams and apply rubber cement to underside. Pound the seams flat with wooden mallet. Hems are cemented and pounded into place.

Make jumpers, jackets, shorts skirts and all types of accessories. Tool it, stencil it, paint it (shoe paint) or lace it, get that handcrafted look that's so important.

FRESH CORN SEASON

Get the kettle out! The sweet corn season is here. Fresh corn is always best as it has been picked. All corn should be kept iced or refrigerated from the time it is picked; sweet corn begins to lose its contents within two hours after harvesting. As much as 50 percent can be lost within 24 hours unless refrigerated.

Select corn that has bright, snug, green husks, and dark brown silks. Look for bright, plump, light to medium yellow kernels in well-filled rows. Buy only the amount that can be used immediately and get it home and into the kettle or refrigerator as fast as you can. One ear, medium sized, will yield about one-half cup of corn cut from the cob.

Corn on the cob can be fixed in several delicious ways. Here are a few ideas:
Bul corn by dropping ears into boiling water and cooking 4-8 minutes.

To broil the vegetable, first boil ears two minutes, drain, and butter. Place on broiler rack under medium flame, turning each ear as kernels start to brown. Or wrap in aluminum foil, place on broiler rack about 5-6 inches from heat and broil 15-20 minutes, turning occasionally until corn is tender.

HOME ECONOMICS SHORTS

A Simple, Tasty, Dessert - Hunting for a cool, refreshing dessert? Try a minted fruit and berry bowl. Combine seasonal fresh fruits and berries; melon balls, orange sections, sliced bananas, pitted sweet cherries, straw-berries, and pineapple. Sweeten to taste and sprinkle with chopped fresh mint.

A COOL SUMMER SNACK

If your conscience gives you a twinge now and then as the children drink extra bottled drinks these hot summer days, here's a substitute. Keep spear of watermelon refrigerated in a covered container. Now and for weeks to come, watermelons will be available at reasonable prices. The treat is low in calories, but refreshingly eliminates that empty feeling between meals.

CONSUMER COST, CUTTING METHODS

Eight out of ten U. S. families say rising prices force them to change their shopping habits. They stretch money by postponing purchases, shifting to cheaper items or taking advantage of sales. Selecting store brands or sale items of food and detergents rather than nationally advertised labels is a common practice, according to a recent advertising firm survey. When it comes to clothing, appliances, toiletries and cosmetics, people buy less or wait for national brands to be reduced, and the survey showed shopper apply their cost-cutting selectively: personal soap is a product least affected by spending cutbacks.

Our New Park Can Become a Valuable County Asset

Acquisition of land for a new county park gives the go-signal for improving a tract that can become one of our major recreation areas.

Near Salt Fork north of town, it is more desirable than the other tract picked in the same general area several years ago.

Financing its improvement can come from several sources, but one is through matching federal funds in a program encouraged by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department. Many Texas parks, from those in cities to those in rural areas, have been financed from this source.

Help in planning is available from the P&WD, and other sources. Our own Collingsworth organizations—civic clubs, home demonstration and other women's clubs—doubtless will contribute valuable help in its improvement.

We here in Collingsworth still take our open lands for granted, both our fields and our grassland. But elsewhere such land grows scarce, and a park such as ours will become is no casual matter. When we develop this land, both for our own use and for travelers on US 83, we will be adding to our own pleasure and developing a valuable county asset.

Other Editors Say . . .

Income Tax Push

Texas taxpayers who thus far feel lucky to live in a state without an income tax can get ready for one. All signs are there that we will get a state income tax whether we like it or not.

If the state doesn't levy it as a matter of necessity, then it appears that the federal government will. Washington feels that a state without an income tax just isn't trying its best to get along.

Wilbur Mills has a plan to help hard-pressed states with their fiscal troubles. But the Mills measure will do nothing for a state that doesn't have an income tax.

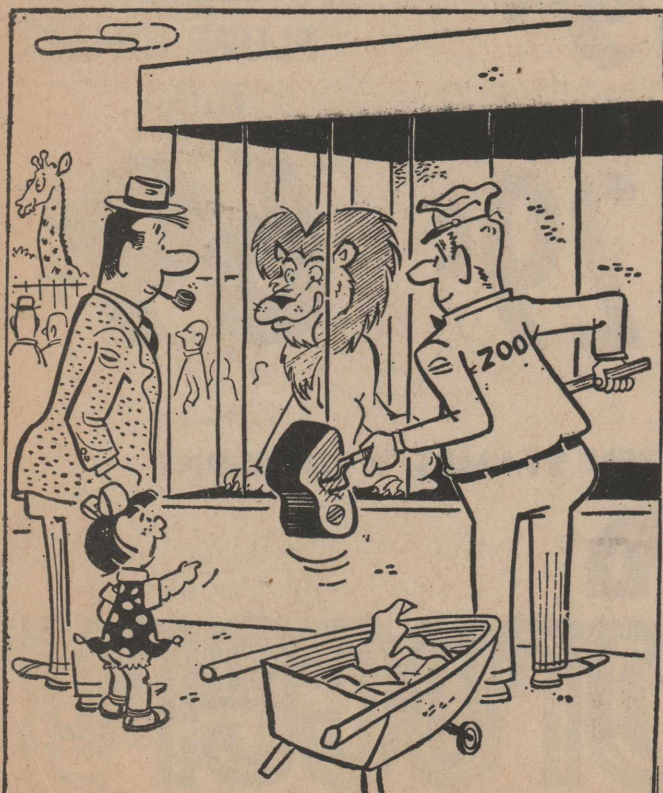

The Mills plan makes need one of the elements which determine how much a state gets from Uncle Sam. In committee meetings, it has been made quite clear that states without an income tax will stand little chance of help under any federal revenue sharing plan now under discussion.

In the legislative session just ended in Texas, there was a push to put in an income tax law, but it was staved off at the last minute. It is certain to come up again.

For a long time, Texas had neither a state sales tax or state income tax. Now, with the success of the sales tax, which has poured millions into the coffers of the state and city governments, there are eager eyes cast in the direction of the income tax which promises to extract more millions for the same spending purposes.

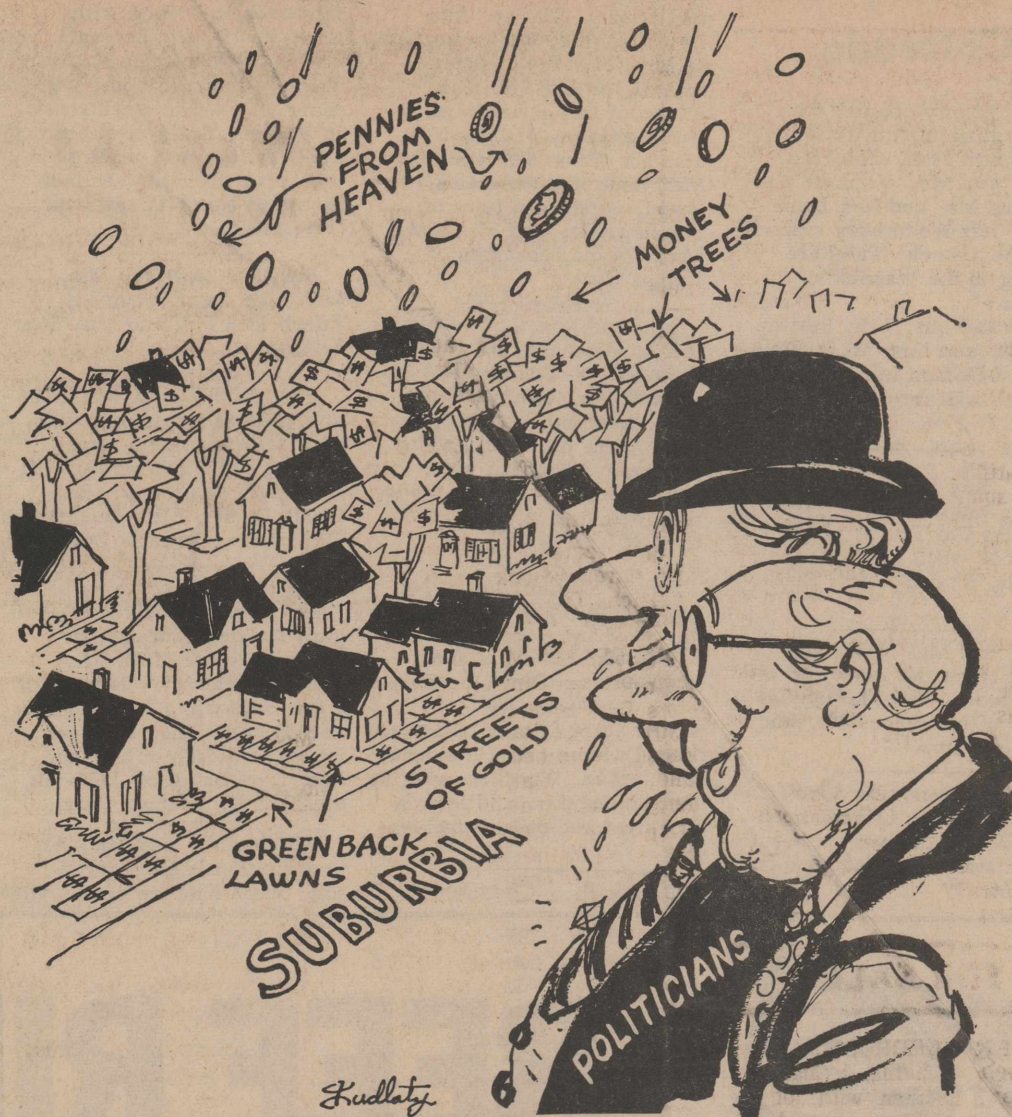

And when it comes, the state income tax will not take the place of any other tax. It will merely be added to the burden of the sap citizen who keeps paying and paying and paying.—The Perryton Herald.

SWEETIE PIE

"Wow! Look at that! And you've been complaining about how much dog food Shultz eats!"

The New American Myth

AUSTIN — July 1 turned out to be a costly date for Texans. Not only did the nearly $1 million-a-day ($604 million biennially) tax bill take effect, but property owners got notice of hikes of up to 25 per cent in their insurance rates. And just the day before (see below) the State Insurance Board staff recommended an average 2.8 per cent increase in private auto insurance coverage effective September 1.

Tax bill raises the general sales tax from 3.25 per cent to four per cent statewide (five per cent in many cities which also levy a local sales tax); adds three cents a pack to cigarette taxes; increases liquor tax about seven cents a fifth; raises beer tax a fraction of a cent a bottle; jumps sales tax on new cars to four per cent (bringing in car rentals) and jacks up corporate franchise levy $1.25 per $1,000 of capital.

A 10 per cent tax on mixed drink sales went into effect last month. A new kind of "surtax" takes effect September 1. It will cost moving traffic law violators $2.50; other misdemeanor violators tried in county court $5, and those convicted of felony, $10.

Raise in homeowner's and other kinds of property insurance came without formal announcement other than felonv. $10. announcement other than notices to local agents.

Homeowner's rates rose 25 per cent along the seacoast (hit by Hurricane Celia last August) and in tornado-struck north-northwest territory of the state. Central area homeowner's rate jumped 22.1 per cent, too.

Extended coverage of all classes went up 25 per cent on the coast 24.5 per cent in north-northwest and 19.7 per cent in the central area. Extended coverage for dwellings is up 25 per cent on the coast and north-northwest, 19.3 per cent in central part of the state.

Fire insurance coverage increases 5.2 per cent -- or 7.1 per cent for dwellings.

AUTO INSURANCE UP AGAIN? State Insurance Board staff recommended an average 2.8 per cent statewide passenger car insurance rate hike effective September 1.

Board heard recommendations at a public hearing here June 30 and indicated a decision will be made about mid-August.

Industry, which won a 14 per cent boost in rates January 1 after asking 27.7 per cent, is asking 9.8 per cent increase (average statewide) on passenger car coverage.

Seven state legislators and the state AFL-CIO president argues that a decline in accidents justifies lowering rather than raising rates. Since rates are fixed by territories, not statewide, some areas under Board staff recommendations would receive reductions in certain lines of coverage.

MORE WELFARE WOES LOOM -- A top court decision declaring needy non-citizens eligible for assistance, threat of increasing finance burdens from federal legislation and rising medical costs put the State Board of Public Welfare on red alert again last week.

Board was told the federal bill would "save" the state $57.1 million in existing payments, but might double the number of Texans eligible for medical care benefits (which will cost $135.7 million next year).

Supreme Court decision on aliens would add 20,000 to state welfare rolls overnight at a cost of more than $10 million a year, Deputy Welfare Commissioner Herbert Wilson estimated.

New Welfare Commissioner Raymond Vowell said negotiations are under way to place limits on runaway medical care costs, while maintaining adequate services.

18-Year-Olds

18-YEAR-OLDS-CAN VOTE-Texas' 18, 19, and 20 year olds who are registered to vote can participate in any election starting this month, Secretary of State Martin Dies Jr. points

CROSSROADS REPORT

Dear Editor:

My confused neighbor notes that in 1954 the Supreme Court said it's unconstitutional to assign kids to schools according to their race.

But the 1971 model Court tells us the same Constitution sayeth approximately that pupils have got to ride buses 60 miles or so per day if their color happens to unbalance the hue of a school nearer home.

Folks respectful of Supreme Authority, from the case of the Ten Commandments to the Pentagon Papers case, now may wonder when the Commandment to not covet a neighbor's wife may become a direct order to do so.

It seems the Federals in Washington are convinced that all wellfareers are truthful and trustworthy, and all working taxpayers are liars and cheats.

An applicant for public charity saying he is needy is not demeaned and humiliated by asking him to prove it; but a taxpayer claiming a deduction is subject to the third degree with trimmings.

Which discrimination against the non-poor and the semi-poor proves that the Potomac people-pluckers hate self-supporting types and aim to exterminate us.

out.

Ratification by the 38th state of the teen-ager voter constitutional amendment placed it into effect immediately. Dies said.

Any election which is now in progress "must allow those 18, 19, 20 years old to vote if they are presently registered," Dies, chief election officer for Texas, advised.

Young voters not now registered must wait until registration period reopens October 1.

COURTS SPEAK -- First case in which the Nixon administration sought to force busing in the desegregation of public schools, a federal judge at Austin gave Austin schools and U. S. Department of Health Education, and Welfare until July 16 to come up with a compromise plan "minimizing busing." Court found no official segregation against Austin Mexican-American pupils.

Third Court of Civil Appeals here ordered a new trial of the case involving authority of former Sharpstown State Bank president to check out bonds offered as security on a $470,000 loan. Non-defunct bank brought suit to recover its $470,000.

Both State Supreme Court and Court of Criminal Appeals did not meet last Wednesday, due to State Bar convention in Dallas.

AG OPINIONS -- Texas Water Quality Board may contract with the federal government for increased percentage limitations on federal grants for waste treatment facilities with approval of the governor, Atty Gen. Crawford C. Martin has held.

In other recent opinions, Martin concluded that:

Regulations adopted by Texas Department of Public Safety Director consistent with safety standards of U. S. Department of Transportation for movement of hazardous materials can be enforced by criminal penalty provisions. Legislature validly delegated to DPS authority to prescribe duties and ascertain conditions under which law on hazardous substances may operate to impose criminal penalty.

County may deposit all tax money collected in one general fund without regard to purpose or source of each tax, but bonds proceeds may not be deposited in general

Deck's DIDACTICS

—by Deskins Wells

PAMPA HAS LOST its last ambulance service due to the stupidity of the rules and regulations that were foisted upon funeral homes and other institutions rendering ambulance service under the excuse of protecting the public welfare. Some of the provisions are so ridiculous that a firm of moderate means simply cannot operate an ambulance service.

SOME OF THESE provisions follow: One is that two trained men must be on an ambulance when it is carrying a patient. Another specifies a certain type of equipment and says the firm must have two of these. There are many other difficult requirements; but these two alone are enough to put the ambulance service out of business in the average sized county seat town. And we should realize that Pampa is not an average sized city as far as county seats are concerned.

FOR YEARS Wellington has been blessed with a funeral service and an ambulance service — not just good but superior for any sized city. It has two trained men on the job at all times; but a business such as the one in Wellington can't continue to operate if two men must make the trip when they take a patient to some other town or bring an injured or sick person to the hospital here.

KELSO ALSO has two ambulances and one will qualify under the present regulations; but the best one — the one I rode back from Dallas in incidentally — will not meet the requirements. It is the most economical to operate and it has all the facilities I can imagine for an injured or sick person's comfort. It seems to me it would be a thousand times safer than trying to load someone in your own car and get them to the hospital in time. That is what the people of Pampa may have to do unless the city or county steps in quickly and provides an ambulance service.

THE COMMISSIONERS Court made a sound move when they bought 7.9 acres of land immediately north of Salt Fork near the Highway 83 bridge and abandoned any idea of making a park out of the land south of the river. The north site is much more desirable. It has large cottonwood trees and a grass turf and the terrain is ideally suited for picnics and other park activities.

THE HOG quarantine last year did not cause half the comment of the quarantine that was imposed on the movement of horses in Texas this week. The quarantine was made necessary by the spread of a sleeping sickness disease among horses, mules, and donkeys that can be transmitted to humans. It is called encephalomyelitis or the Venezuelan sleeping sickness disease. Of course the fact that the disease can affect people is of primary importance. But the other is that there is a lot of money invested in horses in this as well as other communities in Texas. They play an important part in show, rodeos, and other forms of recreation.

THE EPEDEMIC is not expected to move this far north; but people everywhere are expected to keep their horses where they are until further notices. Movement of horses in the county is not permitted at this time.

GOOD NEWS for the youngsters: The Ritz theatre will hold its formal opening next Thursday, July 22. The bright and shining theatre will be good news for a number of us older people as well as the teenagers. The shows and other entertainment on TV have become so mediocre that I love to go see a movie.

MY WIFE is talking of a diet she read about a few days ago. It is supposed to enable a person who adopts it as a way of eating to live to be 100 years old. It is the essence of simplicity if you care to know more about it. If not stop right here. The diet allows you to eat anything and as much of it as you want; but on the third day you do not eat at all — you fast. That may not sound too bad; but

Law Changes Should Interest Area Hunters

AUSTIN — There are some important new "do's and don'ts" for the Texas hunter.

The parks and wildlife Commission has enacted several statewide changes, and the 62nd Legislature added numerous other modifications to existing hunting laws.

Two of the new changes might be considered "liberalizations" of present laws but they still carry certain limitations. One allows the removal of shotgun plugs to give the hunter more than three shots in succession.

However, the three shot limit will still apply to migratory birds. These include ducks, geese and doves.

So if a hunter's main targets are doves and waterfowl, it probably wouldn't be worth his money to have a gunsmith remove the plug.

The other change allows hunting from cars. But this does not mean that hunters are allowed to shoot from public roads, rights-of-way or other prohibited areas.

Hunters may shoot native game animals and birds from a car on private property, but they aren't allowed to take migratory birds with this hunting method.

Hunting from aircraft is prohibited by a provision of this law.

One legislative bill makes it unlawful to take deer, elk, antelope, wild aoud sheep and wild desert bighorn sheep with .22-caliber jetgun and rocket gun in general law counties. This change, in effect, makes this prohibition statewide, as the two cartridges already were outlawed in counties now under the department's regulatory authority.

Some of the changes doubtless won't affect the average sportsman. One of these is a law prohibiting the shooting or taking of wild turkeys from the roost. Most hunters avoid molesting the bird's roosting sites, and landowners usually try to protect them.

Another change repeals the requirement that a permit be obtained from the Parks and Wildlife Department before killing a buffalo (bison). This change was prompted by the feeling that all the buffaloes in the state are actually domesticated and confined to fenced enclosures.

All the changes in game laws will be compiled in the department's annual Hunting Guide, which should be available to hunters before the 1971 hunting seasons get underway.

A careful check of regulations in the particular area to be hunted is always a good procedure for any sportsman who wants to make the most of his hunting trip.

When they are completed, the plans will be submitted to the Hospital Licensing Division of the State Department of Health for approval.

At the same time the sprinkler system is installed, Villyard will move the oxygen manifold system out of the hospital to a separate building. This was another recommendation of the Joint Commission.

To meet a third recommendation, installation of the emergency lighting system is under way. Much of the wiring has been completed, and the hospital is in the process of securing a generator of the type required.

The Hospital's disaster plan has been up-graded and one of the required drills held.

Provisions have been made to secure water for the hospital should the city's water supply the hospital's present source ever become contaminated or unusable.

The other recommendation was that a fire door be placed at the foot of the stairs leading to the second floor.

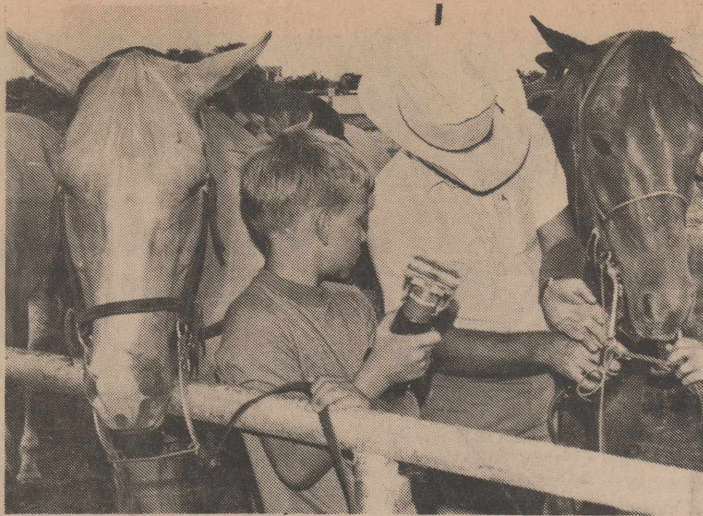

Since then, the State Health Department has recommended to the hospital that fire doors be installed in the patient rooms as an added measure having to do with life safety.

Frank Jones, Amarillo architect, is working with the hospital on plans for these and will take care of the recommended door at the stairwell at the same time, Sister Perpetua said.

Both the administrator, and Sandy Parsons a member of the Hospital Board, were optimistic with the progress made to this point.

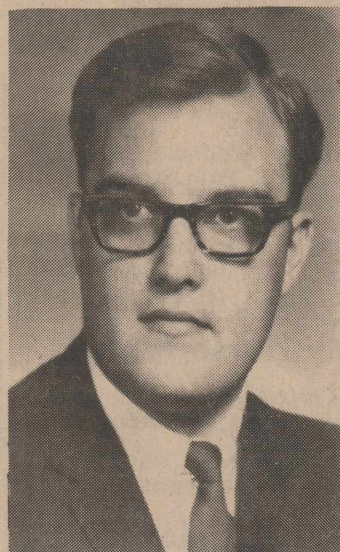

Mr. Parsons explained, however, that total cost of making these necessary improvements will be about $5,000 and of this, approximately $2,000 remains to be raised.

It does not sound too good either. It also brings up doubts about the unqualified advantages of living to be a hundred in the first place. As I said, the ever loving is talking about the diet. She has not started it yet.

Top o' Texas Rodeo Slated August 4-7

The 26th annual Top O' Texas Rodeo is scheduled in Pampa August 4-7. A new grandstand has just been completed to replace the damage from last year's tornado, which made it necessary to cancel last year's production of the Top O' Texas Rodeo.

A street parade is scheduled for Wednesday afternoon, August 4, at 4:00 p. m. to get the rodeo underway, with night performances at 8:00 p. m.

Tommy and Beverly Steiner will produce this year's rodeo, featuring some of the top speciality acts on the rodeo circuit, including "El Charro" Gomez and Wonder Horse, and Kajun Kid (popular rodeo clown) and others. All of the regular RCA events will be included, with cowboys and cowgirls competing for an estimated purse of approximately $10,000 including all entry fees, scheduled in order that all amateurs in this area may be able to participate.

CJC Offers Package Plan

CLARENDON — With much attention focused on the increasing cost of attending college, Clarendon College offers to the student of the Panhandle Area a "Package Plan" or Budget Plan of attending college. This plan has a unique arrangement of including the total cost of a semester, that is tuition, fees, books, board, and room for only $600.00 per semester. With emphasis on the new laws dealing with the cost of attending college, this is considered the best buy in Education today. This also permits the parents to budget their expenses for the year ahead.

President Kenneth D. Vaughan of Clarendon College, announced after the Board of Regents meeting, Tuesday night, July 6, 1971, that the following schedule was adopted: A minimum tuition charge of $25.00 or $4.00 per semester hour for residents of the State of Texas.

An additional fee of $15.00 will be charged Residence students outside of Donley County. All other fees remain constant as printed in the Catalog for the year 1971-72.

It was recommended also that students that anticipate financial assistance should contact the Financial Aid Officer at Clarendon College immediately if they have not done so already. There is money available for needy students.

Mr. Beryl Clinton, Dean of Clarendon College, will assist any student in making the above arrangement, by writing or calling him at Clarendon College, Clarendon, Texas.

Bill Gilbreth Called Up by Detroit Tigers

"Raw Rookie Gilbreth Wins His First Tiger Start, 6-," headlined the story in the Detroit Press that featured Bill Gilbreth, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Penn Gilbreth, now of Abilene.

"Thursday afternoon, Bill Gilbreth was in Toledo, worrying about striking out Dave McDonald and Mike Derrick, and beating teams like Tide-water.

"Friday evening he stood out on the Tiger Stadium out in front of 24,714 fans and directed his attention toward Ray Fosse and Vada Pinson and the Cleveland Indians.

"If Gilbreth noticed the difference, he certainly didn't show it as he went all the way in his major league debut to stun the Indians 6-1.

The 23-year-old left hander, who was summoned from Toledo Thursday afternoon in a surprise move as the Tigers sent down Tom Timmerman and Zill Zepp, didn't have any idea he was going to pitch Friday until he got to the ballpark.

"Then Tiger manager Billy Martin decided a left hander might have better luck against the Indians, so Gilbreth — who had been in pro ball for less than two years — got the nod.

"Gilbreth allowed the Indians five hits, walked six and struck out seven."

Gilbreth's family formerly lived at Quail and he is the nephew of Mrs. Oneta Depaauw of Wellington.

Year's Work Reviewed by County FHA

Sixty-one Collingsworth farmers have been helped by the Farmers Home Administration to finance real estate or operating expenses this year, Raymond Hodges, county supervisor of FHA, said recently.

These loan programs supervised by the rural credit arm of the U. S. Department of Agriculture will be repaid, with interest, Raymond Hodges said.

The agency's wide range of services added $656,220.00 to resources available for housing, farming, and community facilities in this county last year. At year's end, the outstanding loan total in the county had climbed to $3,330,000, and was providing direct benefits to 180 families in the area.

Farmers Home Administration loan services are extended through a statewide system of local county offices, usually located in county seat towns. Housing loans are made for homes in the rural countryside and rural towns of not more than 10,000 population.
