Adenauer's Withdrawal Wins Quiet Applause From U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Konrad Adenauer's decision to withdraw from active direction of the West German government later this year won quiet applause today in official Washington.

Whatever they may say publicly in tribute to the German chancellor, U.S. foreign policy makers say privately there are two outstanding reasons why his move should strengthen the Western alliance:

1. By choosing to step up to the presidency instead of remaining chancellor until death or disability cut him down, Adenauer has almost certainly thwarted Soviet hopes that the end of his regime would be followed by a struggle for power, creating uncertainty and weakness in Bonn.
2. By electing to leave the chancellorship, he has started clearing the way for younger men with more agile minds to take a greater part in the development of German policies.

and West German diplomats in London beginning next Monday.

Following up the meetings of Western foreign ministers here last week, the four-power group has the task of putting into shape the proposals which the Western Powers will present to the U.S.S.R. at the Geneva foreign ministers session next month.

The West German government has been divided within its own ranks about the kind of proposals which the Western Powers should make.

In an earlier diplomatic conference in Paris last month, German representatives went along with inclusion of a confederation plan among the Western proposals for the Geneva conference. The idea was that a confederation of East and West Germany would constitute one of the early stages in a step by step program for reunification.

Woman Chemist Makes Holey Smoke

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer

BOSTON (AP)—Betty Lou Raskin has fixed it so you could blow smoke rings out in space — with "holey smoke."

A rocket or space ship might shoot out smoke falling into an orbit around the earth.

You would use Miss Raskin's new foam plastic smoke.

This plastic smoke might also protect crops from frost, skywrite in colors, make artificial snow, stop water from evaporating from reservoirs, even create a new sky mirror for radio broadcasting.

Miss Raskin, a pretty brunette chemist at the Johns Hopkins University Radiation Laboratory in Baltimore, described her holey smoke today to the American Chemical Society.

She feeds liquid plastic into a gas turbine, heating and foaming the plastic. Out comes a smoke of blown-up plastic particles or bubbles, so light in weight it floats in the air hundreds of times longer than ordinary smoke before falling down.

Each plastic particle is composed mainly of air, hence the "holey smoke."

Miss Raskin worked out the method in answer to a request from the Air Force's Wright Air Development Command for a better, longer-lasting smoke to lay smoke screens, send up smoke signals, or write with smoke in the sky.

The foam plastic smoke fills the bill.

Potentially, it has many other applications, Miss Raskin said.

A rocket or space satellite could shoot out bursts of this smoke for spotting by radar. The smoke particles could easily be given a metallic coating so they would reflect radar waves.

The smoke itself could fall into an orbit creating a kind of smoke ring around the earth.

Smoke rings placed at different altitudes could tell scientists much about relative air densities in the near-vacuum of space.

Or a smoke layer could create an artificial ionosphere, Miss Raskin said. The ionosphere is layers of electrified air which reflect radio waves back to earth, like a mirror. Metallized smoke particles, carrying electric charges, could form an ionosphere where you wanted it for radio communications.

To protect crops from frost, a smoke layer could be hung above an orange grove, for example. Cold air would be blocked from reaching down to frost the oranges, she said.

A similar "lid" might slow down evaporation of water from reservoirs during droughts.

Plastic smoke can be made pure white for artificial snow, or create fog or smog for Hollywood movies; it could be colored pink or other color for sky-writing advertisements, and might be helpful in studying cloud-seeding and rain-making mechanisms.

By using helium gas, the smoke could be made lighter than air. Such a cloud could rise up and carry away some soot polluting air over a city, Miss Raskin suggested.

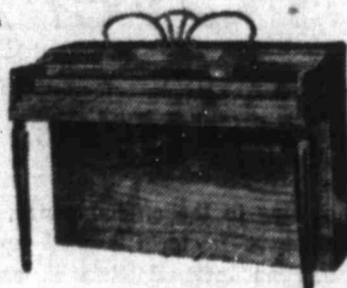

Potential uses are being investigated. So far, there's no reason to suspect the plastic smoke would be harmful to humans.

As a generator for the smoke, Miss Raskin modified a gas turbine borrowed from the Army Chemical Corps at Edgewood, Md.

Oklahoma Calls Halt To Prohibition Law

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Oklahomans struck prohibition from their constitution Tuesday.

With all but 13 of the state's 3,234 precincts in, repeal carried 385,242 to 213,574.

The state still isn't off the wagon. Legal liquor is at least two months away.

A constitutional amendment substituting privately owned package stores for prohibition was approved by a margin of more than 80,000 votes in a record-breaking special election called at the urging of Gov. J. Howard Edmondson.

Edmondson called on state residents to use "good judgment and common sense in the days ahead."

The Legislature must validate the amendment and repeal anti-whisky laws before liquor can be sold legally. This probably will take 60 to 90 days.

Oklahoma then will emerge from 51 years of prohibition. Mississippi will be the only dry state left in the union.

Failure of a county option proposal Tuesday means the entire state will go wet, although liquor stores will be limited to towns of 200 and larger.

The county option question, submitted separately, lost 221,520 to 467,928.

Had county option passed, each county would have voted May 12 on whether to allow liquor stores.

Liquor can be sold only by the bottle when the new amendment goes into effect. The "open saloon" will be banned, although 3.2 beer still will be sold in taverns.

Though whisky still is illegal, there was celebrating Tuesday night. Nightspots were crowded and honking horns reverberated through Oklahoma City.

Repeal advocates marched down an Oklahoma City street, carrying coffin bearing a sign "Old Man Prohibition."

The repeal victory came when Oklahoma was "drier" than at any time since statehood.

Edmondson ordered a statewide crackdown soon after taking office in January. State officers have driven hundreds of bootleggers out of business. Many nightclubs closed.

The whisky crackdown and intensive campaigns by both the wets and dries helped make this the biggest special election ever held in Oklahoma.

The vote total of more than 700,000 topped by far the previous high of 581,800 in the repeal election 10 years ago won by the dries.

Gas Discovery Equals Usage

WASHINGTON (AP) — Natural gas is being discovered in the United States about as fast as use of the fuel is increasing, a Federal Power Commission official told Congress.

Carl T. Kallina, chief of the commission's Bureau of Rates and Gas Certificates, testified before a closed session of a House Appropriations subcommittee that new gas fields are being found and that the nation is not running out of gas. The committee made his testimony public today.

Kallina said American Gas Assn. estimates showed gas reserves of 246.6 trillion cubic feet as of Dec. 31, 1957 compared with 287.8 trillion a year earlier and 223.7 trillion in 1955.

He said the reserve life index for the nation's natural gas was estimated at 21.4 years on the basis of 1957 production, compared with an estimate of 21.8 years at the end of 1956.

"Does this mean we are running out of fuel?" asked Rep. Sidney R. Yates (D-Ill.), a subcommittee member.

"No, it does not," Kallina replied. "It means they are discovering it as fast as they are using it. They have just about reached a balance point in it."

Kallina added that the industry is maintaining at least a rate of discovery equal to its rate of "take."

Yates asked Kallina if it would be to this country's best interest to "import gas, import fuel, in order to protect our domestic reserves?"

"If you confine the question to importing gas I will go along," Kallina replied. "I do not know anything about other fuels."

Nevada Town Named 'Jackpot'

JACKPOT, Nev. (AP) — This hamlet of 100 people just south of the Idaho border shook off "Unincorporated Town No. 1" Tuesday and started life as Jackpot.

The name was deemed just right for a string of slot machine clubs eager to oblige would-be gamblers from Idaho.

At first the clubs couldn't agree on a name, and bickered over such proposals as Paradise, Cactus, Pete's and Horseshoe. Elko County commissioners settled the dispute by calling it "Unincorporated Town No. 1."

Jackpot was an easy compromise.

Abilene Presbytery Slates Meet Thursday At Lamesa

LAMESA—The Abilene Presbytery of the United Presbyterian Church, U.S.A. will meet at the First Presbyterian Church Thursday.

The meeting will begin at 10 a.m. and will open with a worship service conducted by the Rev. Eugene H. Surface, minister of the Eastland Presbyterian Church.

The Presbytery is composed of 17 churches in West Texas, and representatives from all these congregations are expected to be in Lamesa for the meeting.

Appearing on the program will be the Rev. Dawson Tunnell, national missions field representative, Denton; the Rev. Paul Campbell, Dallas, assistant to the development counselor of Synod's Presbyterian Advance; and Mrs. W. R. Everett, president of the Abilene Presbyterial from Snyder.

Delegates and visitors will be served a luncheon in Fellowship Hall of the church at 12:15 p.m. by women of the Lamesa First Presbyterian Church.

Visitors are welcome to attend any or all of the meetings during the day, according to Walter G. Horn, local pastor and stated clerk of the Presbytery.

Benson Parley

NEW YORK (AP) — John McEwen, Australian trade minister, arrived here today for a conference with Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson on the disposal of surplus U.S. wheat in Southeast Asia.

Why so many hotels feature Kellogg's All-Bran

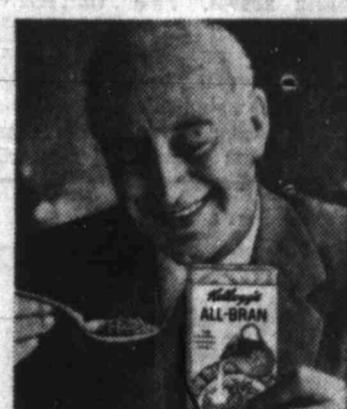

Traveling often causes changes in eating habits... brings on irregularity due to lack of bulk

Next time you're in a hotel coffee shop for breakfast, take a look at the menu. You'll probably see Kellogg's All-Bran listed there—and a good many people eating it.

There's a very good reason for this, you know. Experienced travelers realize that away from home they may be forced to change their eating habits, and that this often leads to irregularity due to lack of bulk in the diet. To overcome this, they depend on Kellogg's All-Bran for natural regularity.

Kellogg's All-Bran, of course, is able to provide this good bulk food for natural regularity because it is a whole bran cereal. And bran is nature's best bulk-forming food.

Kellogg's All-Bran tastes good, too. Remember those wonderful old-fashioned bran muffins? The flavor of Kellogg's All-Bran is much the same. And, it is quite nutritious. When you have trouble with irregularity, on the road or at home, try Kellogg's All-Bran. It's America's favorite whole bran cereal!

2 Brave Cops Give All For Department

NEW YORK (AP)—Now it can be told—the story of two New York policemen who temporarily gave up both their digestions and the society of fellow humans for science and the greater glory of the department.

It started in a Brooklyn courtroom, Police Commissioner Stephen P. Kennedy explained Tuesday. A lawyer challenged the accuracy of the police department's drunkometer—a device used to measure the amount of alcohol in a driver's system. The lawyer claimed onion or garlic on a driver's breath would cause the same reaction on the machine.

Not so, said Kennedy. He called for volunteers to prove him right. Two chemists in the police laboratory stepped forward. They were Patrolman Jerry Matteace and Detective Davis Innella.

Matteace was assigned to chew and swallow a pound of raw onions. Innella did the same with a sizable hunk of garlic.

Both tried the drunkometer—no reaction. Police observers grinned victoriously. Matteace and Innella staggered away, racked by nausea and reeking of garlic and onions.

Kennedy, jubilant, called a conference. There he explained his findings, and a more fortunate cop gave a demonstration—by spraying essence of garlic and onion on the machine. The machine betrayed no reaction.

Kennedy left the next move to the courts.

Women Take Over; They Weren't joking

FULTON, Kan. (AP)—The men of Fulton thought the Ladies Citizens ticket was the funniest joke in town—until Tuesday.

That's when women won control of the town government.

The voters turned out in record numbers (total vote: 88) and elected Mabel Austin, 72, mayor. Three Ladies Citizens' candidates were elected to the 5-member City Council.

"They (the men) were joking and kidding us about it when we first started talking about running for office," Miss Austin said. "We just wanted to show the men we could do it."

Miss Austin, a retired employee of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service, defeated Mayor Howard Post, a grocer, 46 votes to 35.

Elected to the council were Margaret Delano, who admits to being older than 70; Esther Watson, 65, and Lois Erie, 40.

Incumbent councilman Bowen Ballah withstood the feminine challenge, and the fifth council seat also will be held by a man. Just which one isn't known yet.

John Clayton and Arthur Johnson tied for the job with 36 votes, and the city mothers haven't decided how to resolve the issue.

A record vote apparently contributed to the ladies' victory. "We had an unusually good turnout," said City Clerk Howard Coleman. "We haven't had this many voters out in history."

Fulton is 85 miles south of Kansas City on U.S. Highway 69. It has a population of 231.

Miss Austin said she and her colleagues have "several things we'd like to do."

"We'd like to try to do something about getting people to keep their dogs out of other yards and gardens," she said. "Some people have said this town is going to the dogs."

"We like to think it went to the women."

Daley's Election Success Can Be Summed Up In Word: Work

CHICAGO (AP)—If the reason for Mayor Richard J. Daley's success could be boiled down to a single word, it would be: work.

The mayor, elected Tuesday to his second term, strides into his office between 8:30 and 9 and usually works until 6. Three nights a week on the average, he attends banquets and meetings.

Daley bustled through the four years of his first term without benefit of a vacation of more than a few days. The toll took no visible toll.

He is 56 now. His slick hair is dark. He is an erect 5 feet, 8. He weighs about 200—a plump testimonial to his wife's cooking.

Daley's work habits probably have their roots in necessity as well as nature. He had to support Mrs. Daley and their seven children.

The eldest child, Patricia, is a nun. Mary Carol, 20, is away at college. The others—Eleanor, 18, Richard, 17, Michael, 15, John, 12, and William, 10—are in school.

The Daleys live in a plain house at 3536 Lowe Ave., in the same block of the back-of-the-yards neighborhood where Daley was born May 15, 1902.

While he didn't go very far geographically, he went places politically. He spent the 1936-46 period in the Illinois Legislature, worked as state director of revenue 1948-50, and served as Cook County (Chicago) clerk from 1950 until he was elected mayor in 1955.

During his first term there has been an expansion of expressways, thousands of new street lights, a buildup of the police department and other improvements.

But crime has been a persisting problem, documented by daily newspaper accounts of robbers, burglars, musclemen or gunslungers at work.

Daley has been Democratic county chairman since 1953. His Democrats won 27 of the 30 county races in the November 1958 election. They took 45 of the 50 seats in the City Council in the February 1959 aldermanic election—a record sweep.

Victory doesn't prompt him to live it up. He takes an occasional drink, but doesn't smoke. He makes short, simple speeches couched in short, simple words.

Duty requires him to speak frequently. He tries to limit his participation to events that will further Chicago's interests or, in the case of many distinguished foreign visitors, the nation's good will.

Daley has his petulant moments. He was nettled recently when a man in his audience asked about his dual role of mayor and Democratic chief.

"An individual is not worth his salt as mayor, governor or president," Daley snapped, "if he is not a political leader."

1,100,000 ballots in the city's 3,821 precincts.

The final unofficial count showed: Daley 777,696; Sheehan 312,182.

The total vote of 1,089,878 was one of the lightest in nearly 25 years. That was about 60 per cent of the city's 1,841,594 registered voters.

Sheehan, 50, a businessman who was defeated in his bid for reelection to Congress last November, conceded the mayor's win a few hours after the polls closed.

Winning re-election with Daley were Democratic City Clerk John C. Marcin and City Treasurer Sidney Deutsch.

The Republicans won some sort of consolation victory in three runoff aldermanic elections, winning two seats. But Democrats won 45 of the Council's 50 seats in the Feb. 24 election, and now have 46—the largest number in history. The Republicans have 3 seats. The 50th alderman is an independent.

Democrat Romps Into Chicago Win

CHICAGO (AP) — Mayor Richard J. Daley romped to an easy predicted victory in Tuesday's municipal election, strengthening the stranglehold the Democrats have held on City Hall for 28 years.

It was no contest in the mayoral race. Daley smothered his Republican opponent, Timothy Sheehan, in his successful bid for re-election. He led his Democratic ticket in the sweep.

Daley, in winning a second four-year term, polled a near record majority for a mayoral election. He won by more than 465,000 votes, getting 71.36 per cent of the total ballot and outvoting Sheehan by about 2½ to 1.

Daley, a veteran politician backed by one of the country's most powerful Democratic organizations, made the best showing in a mayoral election since 1935.

In that ballot, then Mayor Edward J. Kelly and his Democratic ticket got 75.8 per cent of the total vote.

Sheehan, no political novice after four terms in Congress, never came close to challenge the 56-year-old mayor. Daley took the lead at the outset and widened it through the counting of nearly

Little Cancer Despite Smog

By JOHN BARBOUR, Associated Press Science Writer

EXCELSIOR SPRINGS, Mo. (AP)—A group of non-smokers, living in the smog-prone city of Los Angeles, has a remarkably low record of lung cancer, a scientist reports.

They are Seventh Day Adventists whose religious principles forbid smoking. Dr. Ernest L. Wynder of the Sloan-Kettering Institute told the final session of the American Cancer Society.

Statistically their group should have yielded 13 cases of lung cancer.

But only two of them came down with lung cancer—and both of these had been heavy smokers before joining the church.

Dr. Wynder was one of an eight-man panel that discussed various studies of cancer as a disease affecting various parts of the body.

Dr. Wynder said evidence suggests that smoking contributes to 90 per cent of the lung cancer in American men. The lung cancer death rate for American men has multiplied at least ten fold since 1930.

Higher lung cancer rates in cities is due to greater cigarette consumption there, he said.

The low lung cancer record of the Los Angeles church group suggests that air pollution by itself plays a rather small role.

Ordinary mattress is made with about 200-300 springs. Wired together, they sag together under your weight. When you push down on one, you push down on all. They're not free to push up and correctly support the shape of your body. This "sagging support" is bad for your back, your comfort, your rest.

Beautyrest mattress is made with over 800 separate springs. Not wired together, they can't sag together. Each is free to push up under you. Together they firmly support the weight and shape of your whole body. In the new Beautyrest springs have been power-packed to give 12% more firmness.

A Devotional For Today

As sorrowful, yet always rejoicing; as poor, yet making many rich; as having nothing, and yet possessing all things. (II Corinthians 6:10.)

PRAYER: Our Father, we thank Thee that we Thy servants enjoy a peace which the world can neither give nor destroy. We are not anxious about the approval of men; to hear Thee say, "Well done," is enough. We pray in Jesus' name. Amen.

Good Relations Important

Good relations between college and townspeople should be sought after, cultivated and coveted.

Good relations should never be allowed to deteriorate; indeed, they should be fostered in every way possible.

New Haven, Conn., and the great and historic school, Yale University have "enjoyed" poor relations for decades. Few weeks ago they worsened when police rushed in and broke up a snowball fight among Yale students with what students charged was sheer brutality. Two days later students jeered and snowballed the townspeople as they passed in a St. Patrick's Day parade.

The week Mayor Richard C. Lee appointed a commission of three men to find out why Yale men throw snowballs at cops and to analyze other college-city clashes.

It's a good idea, but it comes a little late. New Haven should have been busy all these decades working for smooth cooperation between college and townspeople. Had the proper attitude on the part of the citizens toward the students, and vice versa, been cultivated and maintained there would be no problems to iron out today.

Complacency On Principles

Editor and Publisher, the newspaperman's magazine, takes the press and the public to task for complacency on matters of secrecy and morality.

"One would have expected a great public outcry when a disbarred clerk in the House of Representatives clamped a lid of secrecy on disbursements of Congressmen for district office rent, payroll and other office expense. This should have been true after initial disclosures by Vance Trimble of the Scripps-Howe News-papers revealed nepotism and other 'high jinks' with the public payroll.

"But no! A few newspapers protested as did Congressman Moss, which was expected. But the public took it in stride—which provides a sad commentary on public morality.

"The ability to 'put something over,' 'get away' with something, walk a tight-rope between legality and illegality, appears to be okay with the complacent American public. It becomes manifest in such things as a sympathetic human interest article in a national magazine about a man who saved enough money on his relief check so that he made several thousands in the stock market. The American people take the attitude, and sometimes are urged to do so, that a man showed a lot of ingenuity in doing what he did and it was a crying shame he got caught.

"The press should speak loudly on these things so that the public gets mad, at least, about the temerity of a public servant who takes it upon himself to censor matters of public information, even for a little while.

"We'll agree to that, for the people who support government are entitled to all the facts about the conduct of the government. Anyone, clerk or official, who has the temerity or audacity to set himself up as a protector of an aristocracy of officialdom ought to be whittled down to size.

But equally important, a public which has become so morally insensitive that it smiles on malpractices in high places or the prostitution of public funds through calloused nepotism, ought to be ashamed. It is grievous that shocking disclosures seem to have shocked almost no one.

Marquis Childs Nation's Leading Foe Of Red China

WASHINGTON — Sometimes it takes the news of an illness or a departure from public office to bring a true evaluation of the services of a man to his country. The announced resignation of Walter S. Robertson from his post as Assistant Secretary of State for Asian Affairs focuses attention on the valiant and successful fight of a sick man to keep America from blundering into recognition of the Red China regime.

Mr. Robertson, who leaves the Department of State in a few weeks, says frankly he never would give up his work if he did not feel assured that the United States will not yield to the tyrants in Peking. Few people outside the government are aware of the indefatigable battle Mr. Robertson has waged against all manner of intrigue that has been going on inside and outside the government to win for Red China a place in the United Nations and diplomatic recognition by the United States government.

Mr. Robertson served under the Truman administration, but has played an even bigger role under the Eisenhower administration in steering foreign policy as it relates to Asia. It was most unfortunate to read the other day a comment by former President Truman accusing the Eisenhower administration of "surrendering" because an armistice was signed in Korea. All one has to do is to read the book by Admiral C. Turner Joy, who presided for the United States at the Panmunjom negotiations, to find out that, before the Eisenhower administration came into power, the American representatives had been instructed to accept the principal portions of the final agreement. They did so, and only a dispute about exchange of prisoners remained when Mr. Eisenhower became President in 1953. So the real question was whether to repudiate or to honor the agreement made by the Truman administration. President Eisenhower chose to honor the signature of the United States on the sections already agreed upon by the previous administration.

As a matter of fact, it is only in what happened prior to 1950, when State Department officials were being accused by congressional committees of catering to Communists in the Far East, that there is any basis for controversy. In a speech delivered three weeks ago at Ottawa, Canada, Mr. Robertson said:

"Since 1950, the difference in basic China policy between former President Truman and President Eisenhower is the difference between tweedle-dum and tweedle-dee.

"In early 1950, following the Communist take-over of the mainland in December 1949, at about the time of British recognition, President Truman vetoed the recommendation made to him that we recognize Red China. The Republican attack on the Democrats in the 1952 election campaign was not on basic China policy as it then was, but rather on what was alleged to have been the vacillations and blunders which had helped create the Frankenstein monster of Red China and enhance its menace to the free world.

"In 1956, an election year, a Democrat-sponsored resolution, reaffirming support of the Republic of China and opposing the seating of Red China in the United Nations, passed the House of Representatives by a vote of 391 to 0 and by 86 to 0 in the Senate. Not a single congressman or senator of either party was willing to vote against this resolution. This is a phenomenon unprecedented in American political history. When the parties later assembled for their national conventions, they adopted almost identical planks in support of this policy. In the recent Taiwan (Formosa) crisis, Mr. Truman was among the first to come out in strong support of President Eisenhower's position. To repeat, the differences of opinion about China policy do not represent differences between political parties, but rather differences between individuals, irrespective of party lines.

Mr. Robertson has made numerous speeches about the whole China problem in the last few years, and has been perhaps the country's most outstanding champion of the American policy in the Far East. He says opposition to the Red China regime is not based on "disapproval of an ideology or an economic system, much as we abhor both." He asserts that American policy is based on "the collective security" of the free world. He sees any possible acceptance of Red China's regime as meaning the liquidation of American alliances in the Philippines and Southeast Asia, danger to the Korean Republic, and the collapse of our military allies in the Western Pacific who possess considerable manpower which if not available would have to be substituted for by millions of American soldiers.

Mr. Robertson points out that very few countries have recognized Red China since the Communist aggression in Korea in June, 1950. He adds:

"Instead of being isolated, we stand with the overwhelming majority of the countries of the free world in this position. It is essential that this majority continue to stand together."

Walter Robertson's espousal of the cause of a free China will long be remembered. And it is a safe bet that he will continue to give whatever energy he has left to the cause for which he has struggled this last decade, despite frequent intervals of ill health. He is truly one of the great public servants of our times.

James Marlow When Free Man Shall Stand

WASHINGTON (AP) — In a world where death and devastation could strike in a few minutes, you might like to see what stands between you and possible annihilation by the Soviets.

The following picture was outlined by Gen. Thomas S. Power, who talks with the detachment of a surgeon explaining how to open an avenue into the heart.

Power is chief of the Strategic Air Command whose long-range bombers and nuclear bombs, at bases here and abroad, have a double mission: to discourage an attack or, if the Soviets try it, to eliminate them.

The general emphasized the importance of an early warning of a Soviet attack to a congressional committee with this little clinical example about his bomber base at Thule, in northern Greenland.

"I like to tell the commander at Thule that he will probably be one of the first to go if we get into a war but that there is one thing I would like to know from him, and that is when he went. This might be vital intelligence."

Power commands not only the strategic bombers but the intercontinental ballistic missiles that this country will produce. For some time American ICBMs will be under a handicap.

They will be liquid-fueled, need large crews, and have to be anchored in one place. Once the Soviets know where they are, and war starts, they could be destroyed before they got off the ground.

Power's solution: bury the missiles deep in the ground in concrete shelters which would resist everything except a direct hit.

Power sounded happier talking about the more distant future and the solid-fueled ICBM, the Minuteman, which needs only a small crew, could be mass-produced, and can be moved around.

The general envisioned the day when the Minutemen, in bunches, could be shipped around on trains, moving constantly, so the Soviets could never know where to shoot at them.

He emphasized two things: that this country right now must depend on radar for its early warning and on its six-jet B47 bombers to discourage a Soviet attack and hit back if one comes. Later there will be the ICBMs, too.

But Power cannot be described as completely happy about radar. "Radar," he said, "is a real fine device. The only trouble with it is that it sees too well. It sees things that are not there."

This raises a problem. Whether or not what the radar sees is real, a man in command of bombers must assume they are real. He gave an example of what he meant.

Suppose the radar men called him and said their screens had picked up 1,000 objects, heading for the United States and that they were missiles. Instantly, he could order his planes into the air and away.

Between the time they took off and were getting near their target he would have perhaps one hour and a half to learn for sure whether those blips on the radar screen were really Soviet missiles.

If it turned out radar had seen something else besides Soviet bombers or missiles, Power would still have time to call back his bombers. They wouldn't attack unless he said so.

But suppose radar picked up those 1,000 objects which were thought to be Soviet missiles and the general wanted to hit back with American missiles. He couldn't push the button sending them on their way.

The reason: once on their way, they couldn't be called back. He would have to refrain from turning the American missiles loose until he knew for sure this country was under attack.

Around The Rim Some Adjustments Needed

Things have a way of coming and going like waves. I shall be happy when the current wave of emphasis on starched words has subsided.

Let me cite three cases in point. One is the word identify, another is communicate and a third is adjust.

These are good words and have very clear-cut meanings as Mr. Webster's dictionary will attest. But in this age of psychiatric discovery, they have come to embrace just about any shade of meaning you may want to attach to them. The main thing is that you must employ them not for precise meaning but for their mysterious, professional sound.

No longer can you project yourself into a given situation, you must identify yourself with it. Similarly, you don't have your heart touched by the difficulties of your fellow man; you identify yourselves with him. You can't simply pin-point a problem; you have to identify it. You must not enumerate the causes of frustration; you must identify. You can use it as a noun, verb, adjective or adverb—but you gotta identify.

Now comes communicate. There was a time when we used the vernacular to say that we were getting a message over to someone or some group, or we would say that we were getting through. Now we communicate. The days when we explained something have passed; now you communicate. If you seem to falter and come wide of the mark, it's not because your thinking is fuzzy or your ability to express yourself is inadequate, you just aren't communicating successfully. If you show a singular lack of skill to employ terms, examples, illustrations and idioms which paint vivid pictures in the mind of your audience, it's because you can't communicate.

If this has you confused or on edge, you need to adjust. You must not be so boorish as to accept the facts of life or the change of your mode of operation, you must adjust. If junior discovers that you will warm his pants if he continues to use your razor blade for sharpening his pencils, he doesn't reform his pattern of behavior; he adjusts. Should you lose the family jewels and be tempted to shrug your shoulders and say simply, "Oh well, easy come, easy go," forget it. It will be far more dignified if you will adjust.

Now identify, communicate and adjust, and the worst of these is identify. —JOE PICKLE

What's The Truth On Congress Pay?

As I was saying yesterday, my blood pressure is going through my hat like Old Faithful at the realization that United States Congressmen, who have been making a poor mouth ever since I can remember, are, in fact, among the most highly paid and lightly taxed executives in the U.S.A.

My beef is not based on the fact that they are highly paid and lightly taxed. My legitimate complaint is that the true income of the Congressman is never revealed. His true income merely begins at the $22,500 so widely advertised as his annual stipend. His actual income, his many perquisites, zoom that figure from three to eight times that sum.

What I am after is a true and fair measure of the income actually received by Congressmen.

Let's look at the Senate perquisites, and man, that's a chore, because the Senators don't want, like or encourage such scrutiny. At the moment, as it was pointed out yesterday, there is a $37,000 ceiling on secretarial help (tax free) for members of the House, whose payrolls have recently revealed how solicitous so many House members are for the welfare—at public expense—of their numerous kith and kin.

But there is no such ceiling in the Senate, and the matter is far more complicated. There are eight categories for figuring the sums paid each Senator for secretarial help, depending on the population of the state the Senator represents and, thus, the number of constituents he figuratively must keep happy.

However, it is estimated that Senators receive from $60,000 to $130,000 or even more per annum for aides to run their respective offices in Washington and in their home towns. Tax exempt, of course.

All members of Congress receive travel expenses of 20 cents per mile between the old home town and Washington, D. C.

All business or Congressional telegrams are sent at government expense, which in itself is a fancy figure. There is a $200 annual allowance for air-mail and special delivery stamps over and above the franking privilege. (For the Senate, there is also a Folding Room where, for free, a Senator can take his speeches to be folded and the envelopes addressed for free mailing to his constituents.)

Each Congressman receives an office stationery allowance of $1,200 annually. And in the Senate stationery office he can buy Christmas cards, billboards, ball-point pens, etc., at cost or below. It is, in fact, a Congressional PX.

Uncle Sam thoughtfully provides radio and television facilities where a Congressman can cut a tape for use by stations back home and pay only a fraction of what it would cost at a commercial studio.

Then there is the Senate barber shop where a solon doesn't have to pay unless, at the moment, he is feeling reckless. And there are the House and Senate restaurants where a member and his friends can dine for much less than at a comparable restaurant downtown.

Oh, yes, and there is free car parking on the Hill.

No wonder so many ambitious persons are hot to run for Congress! I am tempted myself by the salary, plus the perquisites, the tax exemptions and the opportunity to help all my deserving loved ones.

However, it is not my indignation that a few Congressmen have crowded the Federal payroll with relatives that prompts this squawk as much as the wholesale unwillingness of Congressmen to acknowledge that their pay, far from being the well-advertised $22,500 annually, is in honest fact many times that figure.

The average taxpayer should have it even all so good!

The Gallup Poll Stevenson-Kennedy Split In Demo Ranks

PRINCETON, N. J.—In a battle reminiscent of the Taft-Eisenhower struggle among GOP voters in 1951 and 1952, Sen. John Kennedy and Gov. Adlai Stevenson continue to split the ranks of Democratic voters squarely down the middle.

Kennedy and Stevenson have dominated the field of leading Democrats run in Gallup Poll "open primary" tests for nearly a year now. In the latest reported test, the two men together polled over half of all votes cast by Democratic voters in expressing their choice for the 1960 nomination.

In the event that convention time next year should find the field narrowed to just these two leaders, present indications are that for every Democrat who would like to see the Massachusetts Senator get the nomination, another would like to see the former Illinois Governor head the Democratic ticket for a third time.

Democratic voters across the country were asked this question by Gallup Poll reporters:

"Suppose the choice for President in the Democratic convention in 1960 narrows down to Adlai Stevenson and John Kennedy. Which ONE would you prefer to have the Democratic convention select?"

Analysis of the vote of Democrats in various regions of the country reveals that Kennedy runs strongest in the East where he has the majority support of the party's rank-and-file.

Stevenson's greatest strength, in terms of geography, is in the Far West. Here is the vote by regions:

South 37 42 21
Far West 37 53 10

Stevenson's appeal—further analysis reveals—is greatest among younger Democratic voters, while the youthful Kennedy (he will be 42 this May) has the edge among Democrats 50 years of age and over.

In successive "showdown" tests among Democrats since the 1958 Congressional elections, neither Kennedy nor Stevenson has had a clear edge in the voting. Here is the trend:

The closeness of the current contest between two leading Democrats may call to mind the race between President Eisenhower and the late Senator Taft among Republican voters in 1951 and 1952.

Like Kennedy and Stevenson today, the two GOP contenders dominated the field of Republican candidates tested by the Gallup Poll at the time. Not until his return to the U.S. in May, 1952, did Mr. Eisenhower pull away from Senator Taft as the popular choice of the GOP rank-and-file.

WHAT OTHERS SAY

The harder we look at the imposition of quotas on petroleum imports the "curious and curious" it looks. Especially as a defense measure. And it is put forward chiefly as a means of insuring supplies in wartime.

At time we have been told that this need not mean an increase in prices. But immediately following last week's announcement of mandatory quotas came a price boost in some areas. And it is only reasonable to suppose that if domestic production is more costly higher prices will be required.

We have been told also that the depletion allowance of 27 1/2 per cent on taxes was intended to enable producers whose wells were being depleted to explore for new supplies — for their own benefit and the nation's. This subsidizing of exploration has been sharply questioned. It also is defended as a defense measure. But it doesn't add to the price of all oil in the American market — as quotas tend to do.

It is well known that Canada and the United States are considered a unit for defense. Indeed, their air defenses are linked. In wartime Canada could be an indispensable source of defense measures. All the arguments for developing United States supplies as a defense measure apply equally to Canadian supplies. Instead the quota system retards the opening of Canadian fields and the building of pipelines. It also slaps the United States' best customer in a very tender spot. Strange kind of defense!

Capt. Mulledy Speaker For 1955 Hyperion Tea

The danger of communism's lure was brought by word and by picture to members of the 1955 Hyperion Club and their guests at a tea given Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Garmes McAdams.

Capt. R. W. Mulledy discussed the methods of Communists in appealing to prospective members through the desire to belong to a group or club; the longing for recognition; the ambition to be a leader and the necessity of being led.

He answered the question of why various governments have communist leanings and warned the group that the beliefs of the organization should be thoroughly understood in order that they may be crushed.

The speaker told of the use of intangible forces to attract members and of the blackmail and threats of exposure so prevalent among the methods of recruiting workers.

A film strip, originally made for showing to military personnel, was viewed by the women. Titled 'The Communist Weapon of Allure, the film was narrated by Dr. Warren B. Walsh, a professor in the University of Syracuse, N. Y.

Following the program, refreshments were served from a buffet table in yellow with a sheer overlay. Off-center was an arrangement of white stock, Dutch iris and other spring blossoms supported by a silver candelabrum holding white tapers.

At the tea table were Mrs. Albert Smith and Mrs. Conny Wads. Hostesses were Mrs. McAdams, Mrs. Raymond River, Mrs. Chubb, Mrs. Jones, Mrs. D. B. Lester, Mrs. Wendell Stacy and Mrs. Bill Johnson.

Members signed a petition, which is being sponsored by the City Federation of Women's Clubs, asking that all fund drives be combined into one campaign.

Announcement was made of the Hyperion Council luncheon, slated for April 25 at the Settles Hotel at 12:30.

Guests for the afternoon included Mrs. Norman Read, Mrs. Jackson Friedlander, Mrs. G. H. Wood, Mrs. H. M. Jarratt, Mrs. Ed Fisher, Mrs. Roy Reeder, Mrs. Bill Williams, Mrs. W. J. Schlecht, Mrs. E. L. Whately, Mrs. Malcolm Cox, Mrs. Jack Johnson, Mrs. Dick Lane, Mrs. John Ritenour and Mrs. B. L. LeFever.

OWC Board Is Feted At Breakfast

Retiring members of the Officers Wives Club board complimented the incoming board with a breakfast Tuesday morning at the Officers Club. Major decorative note was a large basket of daisies, which was presented to Mrs. LeRoy Brufat, new president.

Taking office are Mrs. Robert Langley, Mrs. Frank Shearin and Mrs. William Puckett, first, second and third vice presidents; Mrs. Robert Rhodes, secretary; Mrs. Joe Lyon, corresponding secretary; Mrs. William Hugo, treasurer; Mrs. Thomas Brazier, assistant treasurer; and Mrs. Donald Barr, parliamentarian. Publicity will be handled by Mrs. Paul Leming.

The new officers will meet at 1:30 p.m. May 5 at the club for their initial session.

OWC has scheduled an afternoon of canasta and bridge April 16; play begins at 1:30 p.m.

'ROUND TOWN

This weather we're having is purely for the newcomers—to keep them interested. All will agree there is no set pattern for weather in our part of Texas. Just because we have super hot temperature on Sunday doesn't mean it will be warm the next day. We've been more or less expecting this cold snap because our little native walnut tree has been so hesitant about putting on leaves.

day evening for Dallas where she will attend a Gossard training school. She will return here Friday.

Recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Wren were their daughter and her family, MR. AND MRS. O. T. STEWART, DEE ANN and JAN, of Fort Worth.

There was just a slight mistake on the number of recipes sold at the recent tasting tea. Through a typographical error the number was listed at 153. Actually more than 1,530 recipes were paid for and many more have been swapped among good friends.

MRS. ED CHERRY was to leave today for Wellington where she will be with her mother, Mrs. L. A. Moore who suffered a heart attack 10 days ago. Mrs. Moore has improved and is a patient in St. Joseph's Hospital in Wellington.

Skit Reveals Spiritual Side Of Gardening

Spiritual Dividends from Gardening was the theme of a skit presented Tuesday morning for the Green Thumb Garden Club, meeting in the home of Mrs. Adolph Swartz.

Mrs. Merle Stewart and Mrs. L. W. Harris took part in the playlet in which they presented the idea that gardening is a means of relieving tension and worry, since the gardener is nearer to God in the work of tending flowers and plants.

They spoke of gardening as a therapy in mental cases and discussed the use of flowers for medicinal purposes.

sages on various holidays, on church altars, at weddings and in times of bereavement.

Flowers were cited as a symbol of eternal life, since the plants grow again following the cycle of sowing and blossoming; with that thought, the speakers stated, comes a renewed faith in God. The skit was concluded with the reading of 'The Gardeners' Prayer.'

Seasonal reminders were brought to the club members who were told that this is the time to divide daisies and chrysanthemums; it is the season for planting zinnia seed, dahlias and gladiol.

The group will meet for the next session at the home of Mrs. James Duncan, 1300 West 16th, on May 5 at 11 a.m., for a covered dish luncheon.

Club Plans Review, Tea

A tea and book review were planned Tuesday afternoon when the members of the Fairview Home Demonstration Club met in the home of Mrs. L. A. Griffith.

Slated as part of the HD Week observance in May, the affair is scheduled for May 7 in the home of Mrs. G. W. Webb. The club will host the Council of HD clubs on May 4, it was announced.

Mrs. Griffith brought the devotion and the thought for the day, and Mrs. J. F. Sellers opened the session with a prayer.

A demonstration of making smoked pillows was presented by Mrs. O. D. Engle, who will be hostess for the next meeting set for April 21.

Recreation consisted of a singing under the direction of Mrs. Shirley Fryar. Ten members attended, with a guest, Mrs. A. B. Dodson of Encino, N.M.

Members signed a petition, which is being sponsored by the City Federation of Women's Clubs, asking that all fund drives be combined into one campaign.

Announcement was made of the Hyperion Council luncheon, slated for April 25 at the Settles Hotel at 12:30.

Mrs. Lahr Hostess At Luncheon For Out-Going Board

About 25 guests were expected for the luncheon planned for today at the Officers Club when Mrs. Ernest Lahr was to be hostess to members of the out-going board of the Officers Wives Club.

Mrs. Lahr is the out-going president of the club.

Purple iris floated in a punch bowl to decorate the head table of the U formation in which guests were seated. Silver ribbons and iris completed the decor.

Joining the group were three special guests, Mrs. A. L. Terpening, Mrs. C. L. Malott and Mrs. W. R. Puckett.

Members signed a petition, which is being sponsored by the City Federation of Women's Clubs, asking that all fund drives be combined into one campaign.

Lamesa Women To Form County-Wide Hospital Auxiliary

LAMESA, (Spl) — Representatives from 17 women's organizations of the city met Monday in Medical Arts Hospital to hear a discussion on the proposed organization of a hospital auxiliary.

All women of Dawson County interested in working with a hospital auxiliary are urged to attend an open county-wide meeting at 7:30 p.m. April 14, Mrs. Guy Neas of Odessa, founder of the Odessa Hospital Auxiliary, will speak at that meeting.

It was stressed Monday night that the auxiliary will use two types of service, inside the hospital and outside. Those unable to serve in the hospital will be most useful in making tray favors, sewing and helping elderly people visit the hospital. If strangers to the city must enter the hospital suddenly, the outside service group will assist them. The auxiliary is a national organization and the Lamesa unit will be affiliated, it was announced.

Uniforms will be worn by members, and each member will be allowed to select the hours she is to work and whether she is to serve inside the hospital or outside.

Mrs. Tom Branon, member of the '48 Delphians, was named to act as temporary secretary, with Guy Hamilton to continue as chairman until an officer election. The auxiliary is a project of the '48 Delphian Club, but once it is formed, it will be an independent organization.

U.S. Aviation Panel Urges Airport Program

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Aviation Agency recommends a $42,000,000 airport program for Texas.

The proposals were outlined in the agency's annual report required by the Aircraft Act of 1946, and the recommended work would take place in the four year period 1950-52.

Initiation of the projects rests with the local communities. The agency pointed out that no federal funds would be available until and unless local authorities raise their share of the costs.

No cost estimates were given for individual projects.

Under the agency's program there would be 58 projects for improvements at Texas airports which serve commercial aircraft. Improvements are planned for 116 airports over the state which serve general aviation. This includes the 58 because they may serve small privately-owned aircraft as well as commercial passenger airliners. In some cities more than one airport is included.

The recommended program would call for expenditure of $30,375,000 on airports for commercial traffic: $1,106,000 in 1950, $5,536,000 in 1951, $15,033,000 in 1952 and $8,700,000 in 1953.

For general aviation improvements the recommendation calls for $1,407,000 in 1950, $5,318,000 in 1951, $3,833,000 in 1952 and $1,830,000 in 1953.

The recommendations are based, among other things, on a prediction that the Texas airports will serve 3,701,000 airline passengers by 1965 as compared with 2,899,393 in 1957.

The report noted that there were 5,417 planes registered in Texas last year, of which 689 were multi-engine aircraft.

The recommendations for commercial plane service call for new airports for Amarillo and Houston.

The general aviation recommendations call for new airports at Arlington, Baytown, Burnet, Colorado City, Corsicana, Crockett, El Campo-Wharton, El Paso, Fort Worth, Grand Prairie, Hillsboro, Irving, Jacksonville, Kingsville, Laredo, Menard, Munday, New Braunfels, Orange, Seguin, Sinton, Spearman, Waxahachie and Woodville.

Improvements at the existing airports call primarily for such work as extension of runways and improvement of lighting and parking facilities both for planes and automobiles bringing passengers to the terminals.

Colorado City's only airport facilities at present consist of an unimproved landing strip for small planes.

A Chamber of Commerce committee has been pushing a drive for construction of a municipal field for about two years, but no action has been taken by the city. A site about a mile northeast of Colorado City is being considered by the committee.

Labor Stages Giant Capital Rally To Point Up Job Dearth

By NORMAN WALKER

WASHINGTON (AP)—Organized labor staged a giant rally in the nation's capital today to dramatize the plight of the unemployed. Its slogan: "Wake up Washington."

Over 5,000 delegates, many without jobs, filled the National Guard Armory, biggest hall in the capital, in a mass demand for more government jobless aid and job-making moves.

George Meany, president of the sponsoring AFL-CIO, drew applause when he announced Tuesday's government announcement of a nearly 400,000 drop in March in the idle total. Meany maintained the nation still has a desperate problem with 4,362,000 still unemployed.

Listening to glowing accounts of economic improvement from President Eisenhower's administration, Meany said, "you would think the sky is full of bluebirds—that everything is going to be all right. Well of course if we had a little salt we might eat some of those statistics."

The throng waved such signs as "Wake up Washington," "30 for 40"—meaning 30 hours a week of work for the present 40 hours pay; and "Put America Back to Work."

There were also signs depicting a teed-up golf ball and golf club, and saying "On to Augusta." Eisenhower went to Augusta Tuesday for a golfing vacation.

Lucy Monroe, the soprano whose rendition of "The Star Spangled Banner" has opened many political conventions and World Series baseball games, sang the national anthem at the opening.

Meany, in introducing her, reminded the audience she is a union member.

The Rev. George Higgins, director of the Social Action Department, National Catholic Welfare Conference, gave the invocation, saying in part:

"Give us this day our daily bread. May we receive it without envy of injustice."

There were complaints from Ohio and Michigan delegations of illness, blamed by them on turkey dinners they had Tuesday night on railroad dining cars.

Ralph Shadley of Lima, Ohio, said about half a 600-man delegation on a Toledo-Washington train became ill with stomach cramps. About 30 on a Detroit-Washington train were reported to have been sick.

Most of those affected were able to attend the conference.

Meany urged the administration and Congress to embark on a broad public works and economic aid program, not as a spending plan but as what he called a sound investment toward the nation's future.

"It is a safe and sound investment," Meany said. "For the most part the funds invested by the government will be reimbursable. Whatever expenditures are entailed will be more than made up by a tremendous upsurge in tax revenues."

More than 5,000 delegates were expected at the National Guard Armory, biggest hall in the nation's capital. They represent both union officials and unemployed workers drawn from major employment areas in the East and Midwest.

Besides Meany the program called for addresses from Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell, speaking for the Eisenhower administration; Senate Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson of Texas, and Auto Union chief Walter Reuther, who promoted the rally.

However, desperate may be the unemployment situation, some of its urgency was removed by new job data disclosed by the administration Tuesday. This showed a substantial job improvement in March, with employment rising a whopping 1,106,000 and unemployment declining by 367,000.

Both changes were twice as good as the seasonally expected improvements, lifting total employment to 62,226,000 and cutting unemployment to 4,362,000 for March.

Meany minimized the improvement, saying it represented only a little better than expected springtime change. He said even the lower unemployment total is perate problem with 4,362,000 still unemployed.

Coast Guard Cutter Races To Save Tar

KODIAK, Alaska (AP)—A U.S. Coast Guard cutter and a Soviet tug were racing toward each other for a rendezvous today in a tense drama of mercy enacted in the vast, ice-choked Bering Sea.

The well-being of an unidentified Soviet seaman hung in the balance as the cutter Storis and the tug Bditnyy headed for Akun Bay, about 50 miles east of Dutch Harbor in the Aleutian Islands.

The Coast Guard headquarters reported a message from the Storis said it had contacted the Soviet trawler Pischavaya Industria by radio and was told the injured seaman had been transferred to the tug.

The trawler asked for aid Monday, saying one of its crewmen had tumbled into a hold, breaking both arms and legs.

However, the Coast Guard said a Navy interpreter aboard the Storis, identified only as Lt. Cmdr. Kosnik, had spoken to a ranking officer aboard the Soviet trawler who said the seaman had no broken bones. Kosnik said he was told the seaman was unconscious, probably suffering from a brain injury.

A story in The Herald last week helped an Odessa woman find her mother whom she had not seen since she was three.

Word has been sent to Mrs. John Holdridge in Odessa that her mother, Mrs. Art Crusan, is living near Oak Hill, Ohio.

Mrs. Holdridge asked the police to help her locate her mother who lived in Big Spring at the time Mrs. Holdridge was born. The police learned that Mrs. Holdridge's grandparents were also residents of Big Spring; they were Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Evans.

Through a story in The Herald, Lola Blunt, 204 N. Benton, learned that Mrs. Holdridge was seeking her mother and was able to supply Mrs. Crusan's address. She also said that Mr. Evans is dead but Mrs. Evans lives at Millsap.

Deep Wildcat Will Be Drilled Six Miles Southeast Of City

A new 10,000-foot wildcat has been staked about six miles southeast of Big Spring, and a new exploration is planned in Garza.

The new Howard County wildcat is Williamson & Barnes No. 1 Wade. It is about six miles southeast of Big Spring and is to test the Fusselman.

In Garza, U. S. Smelting has located the No. 1 Sims about nine miles southwest of Justiceburg as an 8,600-foot project.

Operator at the Midwest No. 1-A Christian in the Big Spring field today swabbed Fusselman perforations from 9,622-30 feet. The site is eight miles northeast of Big Spring.

Couple Hurt In Auto Collision

Rev. and Mrs. Vernon Eaton were hurt in an auto accident at 4th and Runnels Tuesday night, but only Mrs. Eaton is still hospitalized.

The pair were rushed to Big Spring Hospital by a River ambulance after the accident. Rev. Eaton was not admitted, but Mrs. Eaton is being treated for a possible dislocated vertebrae.

The Eatons, who live at 1608 W. 1st, were in a car which was involved in an accident with a car driven by Alberto Gomez.

Also Tuesday, Jessie T. Summers, 1103 E. 14th, backed into a car driven by Joe Whitaker, Vincent, at 19th and Gregg. The accident occurred during the rain, and Summers said he was unable to see.

A car owned by F. D. Williams, 1411 E. 15th, was hit while parked in the 1000 block of Eleventh about 10:30 a. m. Tuesday. Driver of the other car was not known.

Joseph B. Dunn (Ret.), R. A. Humble and Gabe Luzzana Sr. Candidates backed by political boss George B. Parr swept into office in two Duval County towns. At San Diego candidates of the Old Party, Parr's organization won without difficulty. Alderman Mauro P. Garcia polled 336 votes and Amador M. Garza Jr. 865 while the independent candidates, Jesse B. Castenon and Adolfo R. Ibanez got 527 and 564 respectively. At Benavides, Pat Gonzalez was given 648 votes in seeking a third term, Ramiro Carrillo got 536 for a fourth term and A. C. Cadena 529 for a third term. At Wichita Falls, the Progressive Citizens Assn. won all three city council posts. E. J. Winninger defeated incumbent Dr. J. D. Hall, Roger Thoes defeated incumbent Stanton Bonner, and J. R. Ray defeated Frank Stewart. Port Arthur voters approved by a majority of two-to-one a $1,500,000 bond issue for a sanitary sewage disposal plant. Elected commissioners were C. R. Eiser, Herman Schneider, Gordy Moser and G. D. Gambrell.

Incumbents Generally Win In Texas Votes; Runoffs Due

By The Associated Press
Incumbents generally held their posts in Texas city elections Tuesday, but many candidates faced a runoff Wednesday. Dallas Mayor Robert L. Thornton, seeking his fourth term, will meet Earle Cabell in a runoff. Three of Thornton's fellow Citizens' Charter Assn. candidates also go into runoffs. At Corpus Christi, the Action party headed by industrialist Ellory King swept into City Hall, ousting incumbent Mayor Farrell Smith. Fort Worth's Mayor Thomas McCann rolled to re-election but several of his running mates failed. Good Government League forces at San Antonio, the incumbents, pushed a majority into City Council seats, but four of their mates faced runoffs. At Dallas, Thornton received 29,821 votes, Cabell 28,000 and George F. Fox 2,153. Councilman Tom L. Beauchamp Jr., Charter Assn., was forced into a runoff with attorney Joe Geary. Walter Cousins Jr., Charter Assn., will face former State Representative Joe Pool in a runoff. Bulldozer George Mixon, Charter Assn., was in a runoff with Mrs. William Blessing. Charter Assn. candidates elected to the Dallas City Council were incumbent Mrs. Carr Collins Jr., Teddy Harris, Neville McKinney, and Elgin B. Robertson. Fort Worth's Mayor McCann swept to an easy re-election victory for his fourth term but several other candidates sponsored by a group of the city's leading businessmen failed in their bid for election to the council. McCann rolled up a huge majority of more than 19,000 votes over two relatively unknown opponents to lead the field of 26 for the nine council places. Also re-elected was Councilman T. D. Thompson, who was opposed by Watt Kemble, owner of a furniture store chain. Councilwoman Mrs. M. M. McKnight won a handy re-election victory over Mrs. Warren Tallman. But Mayor Pro Tem Jess Tarleton and Councilman C. B. Williams apparently faced a runoff to retain their seats on the council. Others apparently elected were Oliver Shannon, north side funeral director, who defeated attorney Berj Godfrey, John Justin Jr., Gene Cagle and Ralph McCann, no relation to the mayor. Abilene elected a mayor and three city commissioners in the second highest turnout of voters in the city's history—7,948. George McIntire, department store executive making his first political race, was elected mayor. John Deford defeated Jack Daviss for one city commissioner post. Russell Day was elected to a one-year unexpired term as city commissioner over five opponents. Mayor L. N. Crim and Commissioner Dayton A. Walkup were re-elected at Kilgore. J. K. Maxwell was elected the third member of the city commission when the incumbent, O. N. Pederson, was defeated. R. M. Shannon won election to the Waxahachie City Council and two other candidates, tied for the second place to be filled. Shannon polled 383 votes in the official tally. Deadlocked at 270 were Dr. J. B. Silman and H. T. Berrier. The lone incumbent seeking another term, Bill Larkin, trailed with 188. Council members met Wednesday to decide whether a runoff or some other method is used to break the tie. Winning outright at San Antonio were Mayor J. Edwin Kuykendall, Councilmen Reuben O. Dietert, Dr. John L. McMahon, Dr. Max Johnson, and Dr. Jose San Martin. Facing runoffs in April 21

Quick Action Sought For Fund Handling

AUSTIN (AP)—Quick committee action will be sought on a proposed Texas trust fund investment board to handle investments of three major state funds, Sen. Hubert Hudson said today. Hudson, in the wake of back stage grumblings in the Senate on the handling of the teacher retirement fund, introduced his proposal of checks and balances yesterday. The Brownsville senator said $5 million dollars of the permanent university fund had been eaten up in the past 10 years through inflation and limited investment rules. The board would perform specialized investing services for the permanent school fund, the state employees retirement system and the teacher retirement system. It would permit investments in preferred stocks, common stocks, and corporation bonds and all other approved securities. At present the permanent school fund may not be invested in stock. A member board would be created, including the governor, attorney general, comptroller, chairman of the two retirement systems, chairman of the Board of Education and three appointed bank presidents. Hudson said the management of the permanent university fund by the University of Texas was excellent but "the investment practices of the teacher retirement fund is unsatisfactory" and both the employees and teachers fund "are without correct safeguards and procedures." Transcript of the Senate Appropriations Committee hearing on the teacher retirement board showed that Hudson and Sen. Wardlow Lane of Center closely questioned Board Member John Wheat of Houston and the system's $15,000 a year investment counsel, Charles Campbell of Dallas. The transcript showed Hudson pointed out to Wheat that "one man is given the privilege to authorize your board to purchase several million dollars of stocks and bonds a year and the same man has the authority to place the order." During the Senate session Hudson told newsmen brokerage commissions on the $5 million dollar a year teacher retirement investments would run between $350,000 and $500,000. Campbell, during the committee hearing, said that "the comptroller won't pay for orders unless they are in the minutes. It's a lousy system." Hudson: "You admit this system is lousy?" Campbell: "Yes. It is not even rational." Lane: "Won't a man have a better chance to take advantage under your situation than the University of Texas system?" Campbell: "Well, I have never had so many people looking over my shoulder as the last year." Lane: "We are just trying to get a foolproof system as we can." The bill was referred to Lane's jurisdiction committee, a move which proponents said would speed its passage to the Senate floor.

HULL HOMEPLACE IN R-BAR COMMUNITY
180-acre farm purchased by Hulls in 1941

MYSTERY FARM

Floyd Hull Has Spent Life In Vicinity Of Present Home

Last week's Mystery Farm was the Floyd Hull place, 10 miles northeast of Big Spring. Although he didn't recognize it the first time he saw the picture in the paper, it didn't take Floyd Hull long. The country ought to have been familiar, for he's spent a lifetime right in that area. Since 1941 he and Mrs. Hull have made their home there. Actually, Floyd Hull, who was one of the sons of the late Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Hull, was born a mile and a half north in the old R-Bar community. He attended the R-Bar school and his home now is right across the road east from the Salem (R-Bar community) Baptist Church. Uncle Will Robinson formerly owned the place and was reputed to have built the first two rooms to the original frame house in 1889. More recently, Mr. and Mrs. Hull have built a fine three-bedroom home about 100 yards east of the old home site. He also has raised a new barn and has three tenant houses. One is devoted to his hired hand and family and two are rented out. He was married to Miss Maud Coates, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wave Coates in 1939 and two years later they acquired the 180-acre farm. This was a time when rains came just at the right intervals and it looked like they might hit a crop that would nearly pay out the first year. But right after they started picking—and getting half a bale to the acre the first time over, too—a dinky cloud came up. He wasn't impressed until a big hailstone slammed down beside him. Almost before they could get to the house the crop was beat into the ground. But they did manage to pay it

Clement Will Be Keynote Speaker At Jaycee Meet

Frank G. Clement, former governor of Tennessee, will be keynote speaker for the 1959 Jaycee convention in Fort Worth. The four-day convention will open April 29. Several Big Spring Jaycees, including President George Creagh and ex-presidents Bill Gray and Chub Jones, plan to attend the convention. Clement was keynote speaker for the Democratic national convention in 1956. In 1953, he was one of the Jaycees' 10 outstanding young men in America. He also presented the opening address at the national Jaycee convention in Atlanta, Ga., in 1955. He served the first four years term as governor in Tennessee's history and was the only governor to have served six consecutive years. He was elected governor at 32, youngest chief executive in the nation and second youngest in Tennessee's history. In his first bid for an elective office.

out in time. Later they bought three sections of grassland in Borden County where he now runs 66 head of cattle, utilizing grain sorghums that he raises on the home place. The farm now has a cotton allotment of 66 acres. In 1957 he decided to drill some wells and came up with three which will make from 100 to 130 gallons per minute. Using three Johnson turbine pumps, he applies this to 54 acres as supplemental irrigation. The first year he realized 76 bales off the tract and last year, when he had to lease it out after he suffered a fall and a broken leg, the yield was 67 bales. He fertilizes before planting and again when the cotton is three or four inches high. Everything hasn't been smooth sailing, for five years ago he had encephalitis, meningitis and polio all at the same time. For a long time he was helplessly paralyzed, but he kept undergoing special treatment and a kept doggedly working at it until today he gets around well. Mr. and Mrs. Hull have one son, Buford Hull, who has been an employe of the post office in Big Spring for the past 14 years. Mr. and Mrs. Hull belong to the Baptist Church in Coahoma.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House said yesterday a couple of truckloads of surplus Texas cabbages have been delivered to needy folk in Kentucky by private parties. President Eisenhower first heard about the cabbage at his March 25 news conference. Sarah McClendon, who represents the San Antonio Light and other Texas newspapers, said Rio Grande Valley farmers had hundreds of cabbages they wanted to give jobless coal miners. The problem was to find some way to transport the cabbage. She asked the President if he could get the cabbage delivered. He promised to look into the matter. The President's press secretary, James Hagerty, said two truckloads—offered by the E. W. Kligo Co. of Weslaco, Tex.—had been delivered to needy persons.

DEAR ABBY

WATCH HIM!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I have a friend who never loses when he gambles. He says he's got a system and I believe it. He will play Black Jack, shoot craps and tell me in advance that he will win $500 and quit, and sure enough, that is what happens. I have watched him and cannot figure it out. Could he have a "system" or how can this be explained? BYSTANDER

LIFE: He may be hell-minded... but is he hell-conditioned? "How can I get him to notice me?" Get ABBY's booklet, "What Every Teen-ager Wants to Know." Send 25 cents and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope to ABBY: In care of The Big Spring Herald.

DEAR BYSTANDER: Anyone who has a "system" that NEVER fails in a game of "chance" must be getting a little cooperation. He knows something about the cards (or dice) he is handling that you don't know.

DEAR LONESOME: You are doing everything possible to make yourself date bait. The problem is "the boys." They are afraid to get "involved" by asking for a date. (Expense, no car, etc.) When boys realize that there are dozens of girls (nice ones) who'd love to spend a quiet evening at home (hers) just talking and listening to records, they'll wake up and get off the dime.

DEAR ABBY: We have been having a big discussion about something very serious and would like your opinion. What is the difference between SEX and LOVE? THE INQUIRERS

DEAR INQUIRERS: In a nutshell: SEX is satisfaction with just anybody while LOVE can find fulfillment with only "the" person.

DEAR ABBY: I am very much interested in a man who is stationed at the Navy Base where I work. He takes me out and says he respects me and enjoys my company. He asked me what I would say if somebody proposed to me. Was he kidding, I wonder? I could really love this man. JUANITA

DEAR JUANITA: Tell him he can only find out what you'd say after you hear the proposal.

Odessa's Julian Pressley is one of those who picks the Big Spring Steers to win the District 2-AAAA baseball crown.

Pressley didn't rate his own team but he picked the others in this order: Big Spring, 2. Abilene, 3. Midland, 4. San Angelo.

Pressley then added his Bronchos could wind up anywhere from second to fourth in the race.

Julian likes Big Spring's chances in the race because of its fine pitching. "Abilene, of course, always has a good club and you can never count the Eagles out of the race," he added.

The race could be decided here Saturday afternoon, when the Steers play host to Abilene.

Odessa will, no doubt, have a lot to say about which club cops the title. The Bronchos could win it all and not raise too many eyebrows.

Pressley has strong pitching in the person of James Ingram but, from reports, little to back him up in event he gets in trouble.

Buddy New, Ronnie Goodwin and Audie Cox provide the Red Soxes with a good batting punch.

Unlike most other pole vaulters, champion Don Bragg doesn't "kick" when he goes over the bar. Bragg clears the upright in a flat or almost horizontal plane.

Bob Jeangerard, who was stationed at Webb AFB here at one time, will be a member of the U.S. team competing in the Pan-American basketball playoffs this year.

The wind might have been the big equalizer in the junior college golf tournament at Stephenville last weekend. The HCJC twosome of Alf Morris and Dwain McCreary finished last in the 54 holes of play after being charged with 22 penalty strokes the first day.

The gales blew as high as 60 miles an hour at some times Friday, first day of the tournament.

One hole stretches 385 yards from tee to green. That would be a tremendous shot for any of the leading pros under normal conditions. One of the competing linksters got his tee shot up into the wind and carried 20 yards beyond the green.

Another hole is situated 330 yards from the tee. One of the players only drove the green but had to try again when his ball went out of bounds beyond the green.

Most everyone agreed it was a good day for flying kites.

Jimmy Demaree, Texas' gift to the pro golfing world, used a steel-centered ball in the Masters Tournament last week on the theory that it would roll better. He shot his way out of contention early.

After being in the water six times on three holes, he remarked in typical good humor: "It sure won't float."

Date of the Junior Rose Bowl football game in Pasadena, Calif., will probably have to be changed this year. It has been booked for Dec. 12.

The Los Angeles Rams have booked a home contest that day and don't want to change. They make so much money for their landlords they're apt to have their way, too.

The Junior Rose Bowl people are squawking that they don't want to move their classic back a week because an extra seven days is needed to grow grass for the New Year's Day Rose game.

Abilene Eagles Defeated, 14-1

ABILENE (SC)—The Midland Bulldogs handed the Abilene Eagles one of their worst baseball defeats here Tuesday afternoon, winning, 14-1.

Thus Glen Selbo, who succeeded Dub Headrick to the post, made a successful debut as coach of the Bulldogs.

The Eagles had been favored to win the District 2-AAAA championship while Midland had been figured for a cellar finish.

Three Abilene hurlers tried vainly to slow the Midland power but the Bulldogs broke loose for 14 hits.

Bill Easterwood went all the way on the mound for Midland, scattering six hits. He picked up his sixth victory of the year in the process.

Vippy Rankin and Don Hillin dubbed home runs for the Bulldogs.

The pace-setters stepped to show this week in the Cosden bowling league as the Operators ran past the first-ranked Lab team.

Stryrene stung Maintenance, 4-0. Check stumbled before the Wolds, 4-0 and Chemical was limited to a 2-2 split by the Painters.

Spot Cockrell came forth to lead individuals with a 219-523 high game and series combination. Lab has high game team with an 812-1818 Chemical compiled a 2279-1818.

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—The Boston Celtics, perhaps the greatest basketball team ever assembled, were on the threshold today of a precedent-breaking sweep of the National Basketball Assn. title playoffs.

The Celtics whipped the Minneapolis Lakers 123-110 here Tuesday night for their third straight victory. A repeat in Minneapolis Thursday night would make Boston the first team in the NBA's nine-year history to win the championship series in four straight.

"Why be modest about it," smiled Celtic Coach Red Auerbach "this is a great team."

He got no argument on that from the Lakers after the Celtics breath-taking show of power Tuesday night.

There was glory in it for all of the Celtic rellables but especially Bill Sharman, Bob Cousy and Bill Russell.

Sharman, the 32-year-old mechanical man, fired six foul shots in as many tries and thus ran his consecutive free throw mark to 56, breaking the NBA record of 55 Bill set three years ago.

Wichita, NM State Sign 2-Year Pact

UNIVERSITY PARK, N. M. (SC)—A two-year football contract with Wichita University has been signed by Warren B. Woodson, athletic director and head football coach at New Mexico State University.

First game will be played Oct. 22, 1960, in Las Cruces and the second tilt at Wichita, Oct. 21, 1961.

The Aggies will begin spring football drills April 13 with about 50 hopefuls expected to answer Woodson's first call for practice.

HCJC Hope In North Texas Relays

Sammy Kruse, shown here winning a race in the ABC Relays, is one of the reasons the HCJC Jayhawks are among the top in their division in the North Texas Relays at Denton this weekend. Fred Thompson (center) is another Jayhawk stalwart.

Forsan Bisons Win Own Cinder Show

FORSAN (SC)—Trackmen of Forsan swept the four-way cinder meet held here yesterday between the Buffs, Ackery, Sterling City and Garden City.

Coach James Blake's boys piled up 53 1/2 points to second place Ackery's 36 1/2. Sterling City gained 21 1/2 and Garden City had 20 1/2.

No hurdle events were scheduled.

Milton Bardwell of Forsan was the outstanding performer during the meet, capturing three first places individually, a fourth in the broad jump, and running on the 400-yard relay team which won and the mile relay quartet that came in second.

Jerry Bardwell, Milton's brother, also ran on both relay teams for Forsan and was second to Milton in the 100-yard dash. Milton collected 17 1/2 points, high for the afternoon.

Buster Grigg of Ackery scored 13 1/2, including points from a first in the broad jump and second in the discus.

One of the most closely contested events of the day came in the mile relay race. Ackery nipped Forsan by less than a yard's margin and won in the time of 3:58.8.

The sprint relay team of Forsan—Milton Bardwell, Jerry Bardwell, Bill Conger and Sammy Barnett—won in 48.5 with Sterling City finishing second. Forsan's

Leon Caultley won the shot and discus throw with distances of 44-11 and 128-7, respectively.

Forsan, Sterling City and Garden City all will compete in their district track meet, which will be held April 18 at Memorial Stadium on HCJC campus. Knot and Water Valley are other teams in the district.

HERD SHELLSHOCKED BY ANGELO, 12 TO 2

SAN ANGELO (SC)—The San Angelo Bobcats clawed the Big Spring Steers, 12-2 in the District 2-AAAA baseball opener for both teams here Tuesday afternoon.

Big Spring had entered the game the favorite but could do little right. The Cats did little wrong. They had eight runs by the time two innings had been played and were never in trouble.

The Steers put three runners aboard in the first inning but couldn't score until the fifth, when Elton Kelley drove in Kenny Johnson and Bob Andrews with a double.

Roy Baird's team managed only three hits off Wedge Turner, who was in the process of winning his fourth game without a loss. San Angelo is now 8-4 for the year while Big Spring has a 10-4 record. Three of those losses have come in a row, however.

Chubby Moser, unbeaten until he took the field, proved no mystery to the Cats. A four-hit outburst in the second, highlighted by a two-baser off the bat of Tommy Ford that accounted for two runs, helped send him on his way.

Kenny Johnson succeeded Moser on the hill and did reasonably well in the three rounds he worked. Jay LeFevre finished up on the hill for the Longhorns.

San Angelo managed a total of ten hits, including two each by center fielder Ronnie Stephens and Frank Willis, the right fielder. Everyone in San Angelo's starting lineup hit but Bud Ewing managed at least one hit.

The Steers play host to the Abilene Eagles Saturday afternoon in a game starting at 2 p.m.

IN DENTON MEET Noah Says Hawks To Be Favored

DENTON (SC)—A dozen more schools entered the North Texas Relays Monday, running the total of 527 entries for the Friday and Saturday track and field event at North Texas State College.

Twenty-four high schools—seven from Dallas and five from Fort Worth—have listed 355 entries. Eleven schools have entered 87 runners to form what is considered the finest freshman-junior college field in the history of the meet.

Abilene Christian, Southern Methodist University, and East Texas State head the eight college-university teams.

North Side of Fort Worth has taken the high school title every time it has entered, but is expected to be challenged by a number of teams this year. Among these are Thomas Jefferson, Sunset, and Highland Park, all of Dallas, and Carter-Riverside of Fort Worth.

NTSC Coach Winton E. (Pop) Noah predicted that Howard County Junior College should be the favorite in the freshman-junior college class. However, ACC, SMU, NTSU, and TCU have strong freshmen, while Tarleton State may also be considered a contender.

Others in the field include Cisco, Paris, Odessa, Tulsa, and Arlington State.

Besides the big three of SMU, ACC, and East Texas, the college-university division includes Howard Payne, North Texas State, Texas Tech, Oklahoma Baptist and Tulsa.

The high school field includes Grapevine, Garland, Grand Prairie, Keller, Gainesville, McKinney, Bowie, Granbury, Wichita Falls, Nocona, Springtown, and Valley View; Fort Worth's North Side, Amon Carter-Riverside, Arlington Heights, Birdville, and Lake Worth and Dallas' Thomas Jefferson, Sunset, South Oak Cliff, Jesuit, Samuel, Highland Park, and St. Mark's.

Rotarians Hear Industrialists

Three Big Spring men who are developing their own industries were heard at the Rotary Club luncheon Tuesday.

Speakers were Eugene Anderson, George McAllister and Elmer Tarbox. Anderson produces a grease absorbent material called Oil Ban.

McAllister manufactures and markets special classroom equipment, and Tarbox turns out physical training devices.

Larson Lloyd, chairman of Big Spring's Industrial Week observance, introduced the trio. Roger Flowers was presented as the club's student guest.

Snow Falls In Amarillo As Cold Moves Into State

By The Associated Press
Light snow fell in Amarillo while a norther shoved a broad band of showers and thunderstorms across Texas Wednesday.

Early Wednesday the cold front lay along a line extending from near Gainesville to Mineral Wells to near Junction and Del Rio. It moved slowly eastward, kicking off a number of showers and thunderstorms along and 100 miles behind it.

A number of showers also fanned out over South and Central Texas ahead of the front.

Skies were cloudy over all but El Paso Wednesday. Predawn temperatures varied from 33 degrees at Dalhart to the 50s just behind the front and the 60s ahead of the front with Brownsville's 74 the warmest.

The spring squall line plowed across West Texas Tuesday, bringing the best rains in five months to the South Plains. It also touched off a rash of tornado sightings.

The Department of Public Safety said tornadoes were reported at or near Littlefield, north of Lubbock, Anton, Lamessa and Denver City, but none of them touched ground.

Seminole got a two-inch rain and minor flooding. Hall piled up two to three inches deep in places. Up to an inch of rain fell over the South Plains area around Lubbock Tuesday night, the biggest rainfall there in five months.

Farmers on the South Plains said this past winter was one of the driest in recent years.

An inch of rain fell at Farwell and a half inch at Silverton and Ropes.

Lightning at Lubbock knocked out the main power plant at the evening rush hour, causing a royal traffic tieup as traffic lights quit.

High winds at Denver City whistled in with a heavy rain and blew down a bowling alley under construction.

Tornado alerts were out for wide areas of Texas Tuesday night. Austin has just recorded its second driest March on record and welcomed the prospect of rains.

Dallas also has had only about half its normal rainfall.

CRITIQUE Of The Local Entertainment Scene

By Bob Smith

Some radio people are real characters. I recall some platter spinners in Odessa who had a little game they called "break-up." As the announcer went on with a commercial, or with the news, his friend, facing him through the window, would make faces or attempt some other comic scene, with a view to "breaking up" the talker. The results of a break-up were somewhat puzzling to listeners, who couldn't understand what was so funny about the latest bad news from the Korean War. They often joined in the laughter, however, if the break-up came in the midst of an especially nauseating commercial.

And this little yarn brings up a suggestion. Why not try the break-up routine in theatre work? After all, any actor who can recite his lines and go about his stage business without batting an eye at the comics over in the left wing, is an actor who'll not be flim-flammed when nothing goes right.

In fact, some dramatic schools use similar methods in training their students.

A peek at the "Heaven Can Wait" rehearsal:

The set's ritzy-looking. It repre-

Council For Visually Handicapped Active

Monthly meeting of the West Texas Council for Visually Handicapped Children will be held next Tuesday in the Crippled Children's Center, 13th and Muskingum, Odessa.

Lon Alsop, executive secretary-director of the State Commission for the Blind, Austin, will be the speaker. The session will start at 7:30 p.m.

sents the interior of the home of a wealthy man who's just been murdered, but comes downstairs from the scene of the crime to face his killers.

The between-scenes music is strictly theatre-type, and was well chosen to keep the audience in the proper mood. And there's background music for the last scene that's weird.

The original Broadway production was a shade rough, but director Phil Wayne took out most of the cusswords, and changed some of the others.

Star Gary Pickle had to learn to play the saxophone for his role of a man come back from the dead.

Christine Brownlee's role of the English maid is a bit part, but she's doing right well by it. She knows how to underplay her lines.

And what happens to Mr. Jordan, the spirit who goes about putting people into other people's bodies? Who is he when he's in the flesh?

See it and find out.

Once upon a time... That's how all good fairy tales are supposed to begin, and it's about the same way with the puppet version of "The Red Shoes" by Hans Christian Andersen.

The famed Suzarri puppets, who brought "Jack and the Beanstalk" to Big Spring children last year, are returning with "The Red Shoes."

The local Beta Sigma Phi chapter is sponsor, and proceeds will go to the Southwest Diabetic Foundation at Camp Sweeney.

"The Red Shoes" will be aimed primarily at school children, but, like the circus, it's top entertainment for children of all ages.

Terry Patterson reports on an art "discovery" in Colorado City. He is George Womack, a young worker who has painted all his life as a hobby, but has entered competition only once. His first entry was at the Colorado City art show, which Mrs. Patterson judged.

Womack has had training with the Chicago Institute of Art, but actually would probably classify as primitive (the artist's designation of the genius who lacks formal training). "Indeed," Mrs. Patterson avers, "we have a new art personality."

The printer pulled a wrong correction line in the review of "The Little Minister." Dr. Bill Sandefur played the minister, and it was his wife, Jean, who took the role of the gypsy girl.

And speaking of the minister play, Jerry MacMillen and Thomas Gregg should be complimented for the fast work they did behind the scenes.

The Broadway musical hit, "Li'l Abner" is scheduled for the Lubbock Auditorium on April 17-18 at 8 p.m. and this will be the final show on Civic Lubbock's 1959 spring season.

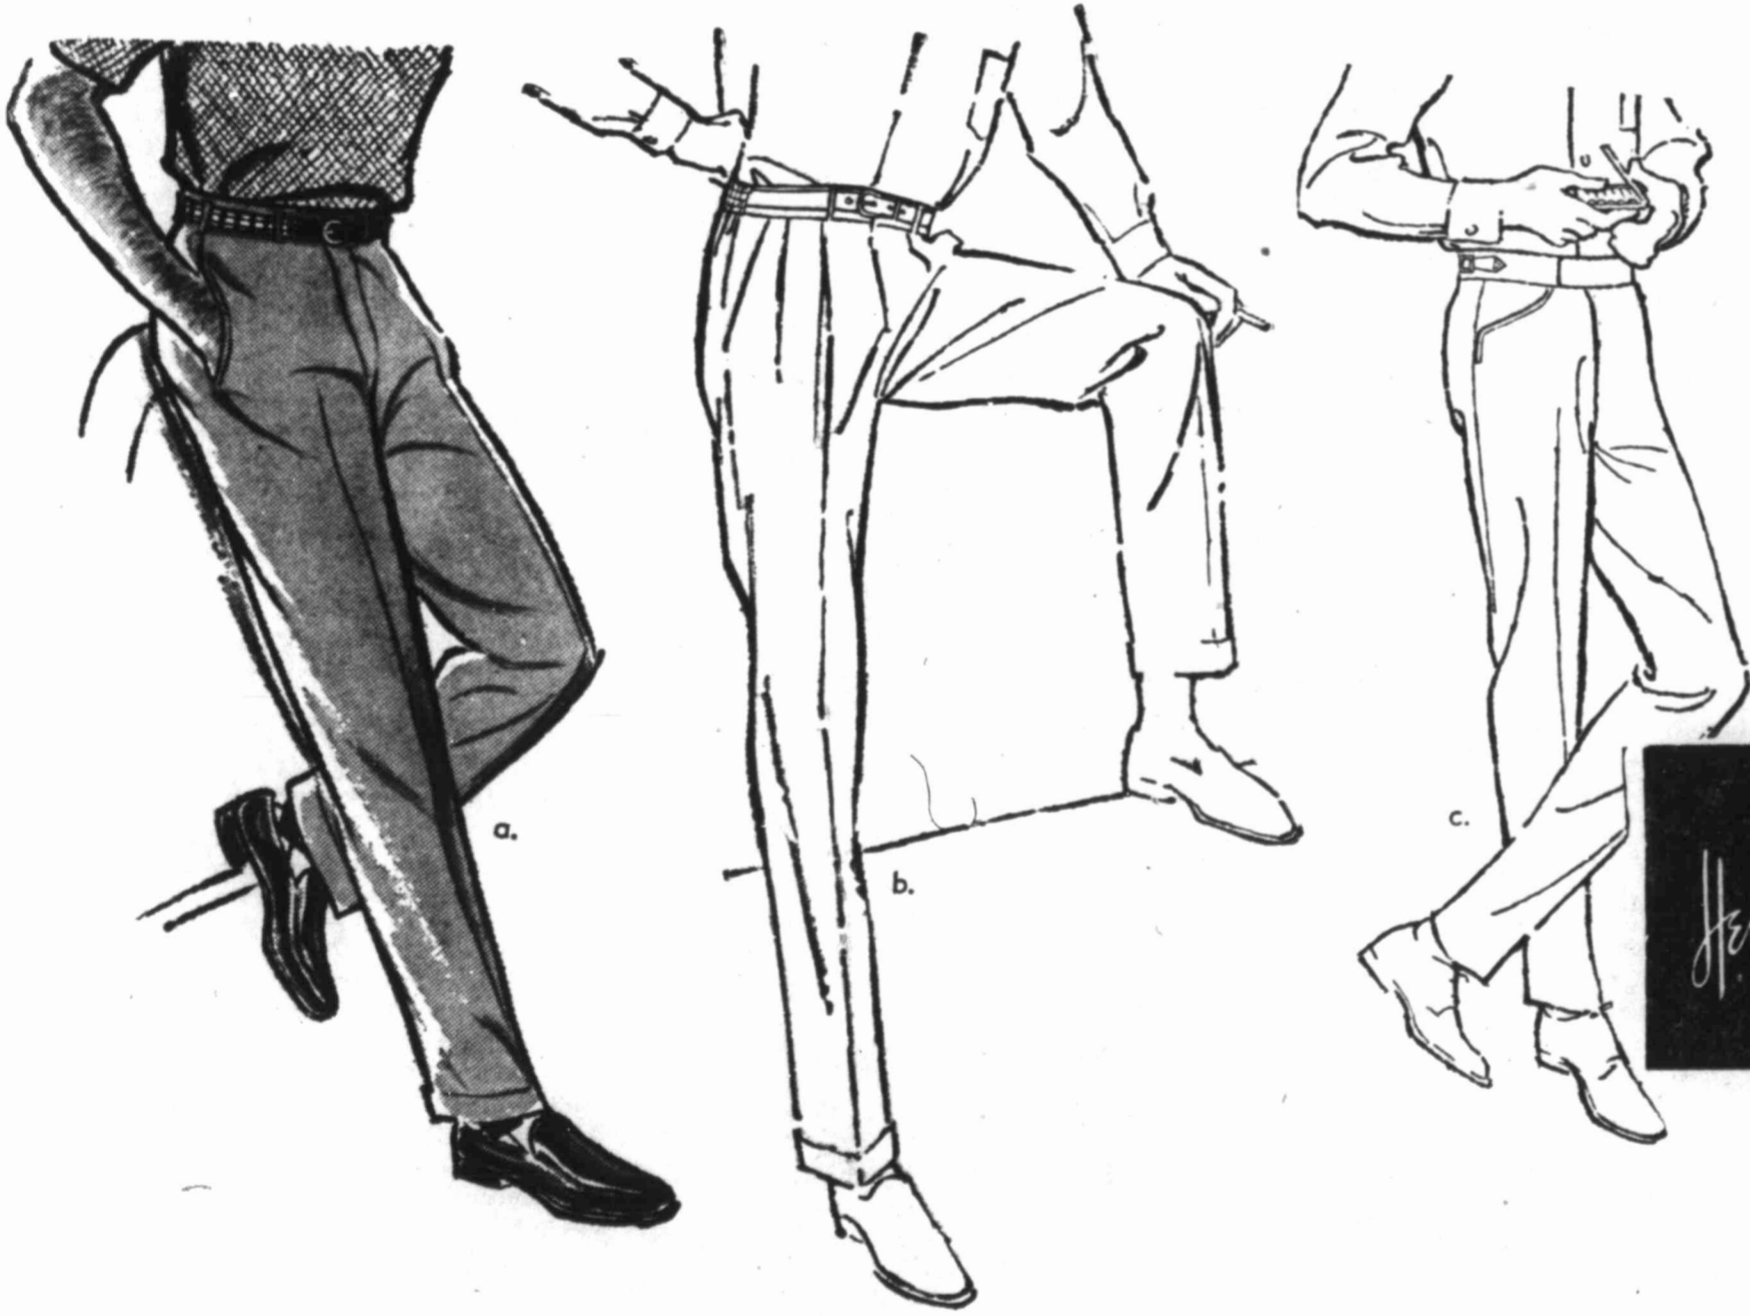

The box office in the lobby of the auditorium is open daily from 9 to 5. The company numbers 65 and there are some 20 scenes in the musical version of Al Capp's comic strip.

Heading the cast will be Patricia Northrop as "Daisy Mae" and Robert Kaye as "Abner." The other players are all Broadway veterans with the exception of the "houn' dogs", the pigs, geese and donkey.

The show had a two-year run in New York before starting its cross-country tour, and it was acclaimed as the fastest moving show in Broadway's history.

Ticket prices are $4.50, $4.00, $3.50, $3.00, $2.50 and $2.00, and mail orders are accepted at the Lubbock Auditorium, 6-9 City Hall, Lubbock, Texas. Information on tickets and prices can be obtained by calling PO-2-4616.

Although tickets are available for both performances, the best locations are available for the Friday night, April 17th, showing.
