Gen. Pate, Ex-Marine Chief, Dies

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Randolph McC. Pate, former commandant of the Marine Corps, died Monday night, the corps announced today.

Pate, 63, was admitted to the Naval Hospital at nearby Bethesda, Md., Wednesday.

The Marine Corps said death was caused by an intestinal tumor.

Pate served two successive two-year tours as head of the Marine Corps, beginning in January 1956.

He retired Jan. 1, 1960.

He had been a Marine officer since September 1921. He had fought in all the campaigns since that time—expeditionary action in Santo Domingo and China before World War II, at Guadalcanal and Iwo Jima in that war, and later in Korea.

GEN. RANDOLPH PATE

Pate was awarded the Legion of Merit for outstanding service as deputy chief of staff for the fleet Marine force in the Pacific in World War II. He was cited in particular for his performance in the bitterly contested battles on Palau, Iwo Jima and Okinawa.

In all those operations he was deputy to Gen. Holland M. Smith, known as "Howling Mad" Smith.

In Korea, Pate received the Distinguished Service Medal while commanding the 1st Marine Division.

Pate served in various positions after returning to the United States after World War II. Among those jobs was assignment to the office of the Joint Chiefs of Staff where he was deputy director of the staff handling supply plans.

In September 1952, Pate took command of the 2nd Marine Division at Camp Lejeune, N.C., then moved to Korea to command the 1st Division until 1954.

In that year, Pate was appointed assistant commandant of the Marine Corps and chief of staff.

He is survived by his widow, the former Mary Elizabeth Bunting of Winnipeg, Canada, whom he met while stationed in San Diego. The general had maintained his official residence at Beaufort, S.C.

A native of Port Royal, S.C., he was a graduate of Virginia Military Institute, where he was first captain of the Cadet Corps and class president for four years.

Pate will be buried in Arlington National Cemetery. Plans for the funeral were not immediately available.

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy's request for $3.5 billion to bolster this nation's military might was raised to $4.5 billion today by the Senate Appropriations Committee.

Atom Weapons Will Be Used If Necessary

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara says present U.S. emphasis is on boosting capacity for conventional warfare, but if it becomes necessary "we will utilize nuclear power."

"We have stated categorically on several occasions that we will use nuclear power when necessary to face Soviet aggression in Western Europe," McNamara told the House Armed Services Committee. His testimony of last Friday was made public Monday night.

This was the first official Washington comment in the mounting Berlin crisis about the possible use of U.S. nuclear weapons.

Although it has not been announced, the United States is understood to have a nuclear weapons stockpile in West Berlin and England. These weapons reportedly include Air Force Matador and Mace guided missiles with ranges up to 700 miles and 8-inch atomic artillery with ranges up to 10 miles.

McNamara was asked if the Western powers might be faced with East Germans, Poles, Czechs and other satellite troops in a Berlin showdown while the Soviets stayed in the background.

The Pentagon chief replied that it is "extremely unlikely that he (Soviet Premier Khrushchev) would depend upon the East Germans to fight his battles there—and even more unlikely that if he did depend upon them that they would fight them."

McNamara said "overestimates of Soviet power frequently fail to take into account the problem that the Soviet Union is likely to have with the satellites in the event of armed conflict."

If he were in Khrushchev's shoes, McNamara said, "and I were contemplating conflict over Berlin, I would have great doubts as to the actions that I could depend upon the East Germans taking and I am confident that he has such doubts."

Senate Panel Passes Package On Sales Tax

Off To Visit Uncle Sam

Six National Guardsmen of the 49th Armored Division, four from Big Spring and two from Stanton, boarded a train this morning to go to Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., where they will undergo eight weeks of basic training before moving on to Fort Sill, Okla., for 18 weeks of technical school. After serving six months' active duty, the young men will revert to their reserve status in the Guard. From left are David Shanks and Lyndon Huckaby, Stanton; Wayne Mullen, Robbie Sanders, Don Statham and Luther Bell.

Recommended Bill Is Compromise

AUSTIN (AP) — The Senate State Affairs Committee recommended today passage of a $357 million tax package that taxes most retail sales of more than 25 cents.

Sen. Wardlow Lane, sponsor of the measure which is a rewrite of the House-passed version, said he will try to get the bill debated by the Senate Wednesday.

The bill, passed out of the influential 21-man committee, was definitely a compromise between the House version, recommendations by Gov. Price Daniel, and the Senate views.

"I'm sure this will not please everybody but none of us can get all we want in a tax bill," Lane said. "But if we furnish the services the people of Texas want us to furnish we must have some new taxes."

The first House reaction came in a special speech by Rep. Bob Eckhardt of Houston, a leader of liberal forces. He claimed the senators rewrote his proposed tax on natural gas pipelines in a manner to make it unconstitutional.

"If the bill remains in its present form the people of the state will be duped by a Senate that is willing to accept a shallow, bogus sham of a bill," Eckhardt said.

The Senate tax plan, actually written by a five-man subcommittee, was accepted on a voice vote by the full committee. There were reports an effort will be made on the floor to substitute Daniel's Pennsylvania type sales tax for the 2 per cent sales tax in the bill.

The 2 per cent sales tax on all items of more than 25 cents was the principal item of the Senate approved bill that the House turned down with a 72-72 tie in the closing minutes of the regular session. However, this time the levy exempts some clothing costing less than $10, a feature that Daniel has demanded.

"We tried to write this clothing deductible so it would apply only to work clothing," Lane said.

The sales tax also has a new feature that would give merchants a 3 per cent discount for declaring their taxes when a tax year is only half over, but only a 1 per cent discount if waiting to pay at the end of the year. Lane estimated this will add an extra $18.5 million collection to the 1962-1963 revenue.

The tax package retains the two year extension of the current $2.75 corporation franchise tax. After 1963 it would revert to $2.25.

"This is a vicious tax but it is a lot better than the mixed up thing the House sent over," Lane said, referring to a House recommendation that franchise taxes be broadened to include property and interstate sales. At present the tax is paid only on gross receipts inside the state.

One of the most controversial features of all tax bill arguments of this legislature was included in the Senate's new bill—a 1 cent minimum tax per 1,000 cubic feet aimed at gas pipeline companies. It has been endorsed by Daniel, and approved by the House.

"The House and governor have been saying that every time they send a gas bill over here we botch it up and make it unconstitutional," Lane said. "Well, we just decided to see if they can write one that is constitutional. All we did was add a non-severability clause so if the courts strike down the tax aimed at the pipelines it can not fall back on the producers who already are paying a production tax."

Coin Machine, Driver Fees Unchanged

A so-called equalization of taxes on coin-operated machines is the same as in the previous Senate tax version.

The increased driver license fees are the same as the previous version, as is a bookkeeping amendment to shift credits for motor fuel from one fiscal year to another.

The Senate bill would lose $4.7 million from present revenues by equalizing gross receipts on taxes on telephone, telegraph and utility firms. It would result in lowered taxes on telephone gross receipts. Lane said the difference would be made up by making all intra-state telephone and telegraph service taxable.

The Senate version did not recommend a $10 million transfer of income from the permanent school fund as did the House bill. It did not double auto inspection fees as did the House version. It left the motor vehicle sales tax at 1.5 per cent instead of raising it to 2 per cent as the House did.

The hotel occupancy tax remains at 3 per cent with restaurant meals taxed 2 per cent on all items above 25 cents.

Meanwhile, House members searched for economy measures that could make up the big gap between the tax bill package they passed to the Senate a week ago and the expected $350 million new money need. Estimates of the difference range from $50 million to $100 million.

Speaker James Turman warned representatives they could expect debate today on more than $30 million in economy acts plus another governor-supported bill, the controversial abandoned property seizure act.

Also a possibility for debate in the Senate today was the highly controversial proposal (SB35) to prohibit the sale of certain items on Sunday. The Senate voted 19-9 against the debate Monday when a four-fifths approval was needed. Today only a two-thirds vote was necessary for debate.

Both houses worked late Monday.

Turman warned the House they could expect afternoon sessions the rest of this week and committee meetings at night.

The House Revenue and Taxation Committee approved for debate a bill raising tuition in state colleges from $50 to $75 a semester for a revenue gain of $10 million during the next two years. Originally a new fee of $100 a semester was proposed.

Another House committee heard arguments Monday night for and against the House version of the Sunday closing proposal.

Common Market Talks To Begin

PARIS (AP)—The six nations of the European Common Market agreed today to open negotiations with the British government for Britain's entry into the economic community.

The decision was made in a brief session of the foreign ministers of the six Common Market nations. They are in Paris for a quarterly meeting of the Western European Union (WEU), made up of the six and Britain.

Common Market headquarters in Brussels issued a communique describing the British decision to apply for membership as "a turning point in postwar European politics." The communique did not minimize the numerous problems faced by Britain and the six in reaching agreement, but the Common Market's executive promised to do its best.

Widespread praise in Britain and on the European continent greeted Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's historic announcement Monday that Britain would seek negotiations to join the continental economic group.

Most of Britain's national newspapers supported the government's move, but there were warnings that months of difficult negotiations would be necessary to get concessions that would safeguard British sovereignty and the economies of British Commonwealth countries dependent on the British market.

French President Charles de Gaulle, anxious to make France the leader of a united Europe, was seen as the chief opponent of such concessions. Political informants said Macmillan would fly to Paris soon to try to smooth Britain's entry into the continental group.

Most of Britain's partners in the seven-nation European Free Trade Association (EFTA) quickly indicated they would follow the British lead in seeking association or membership in the Common Market.

Denmark announced it would apply for membership. Austria declared its willingness to begin negotiations for a single European trading bloc. Sweden made a similar announcement. Norway's government indicated it favors joining the group, but said the decision is up to the Norwegian parliament.

Traditionally neutral Switzerland immediately expressed its distaste for the Common Market's developing drive toward political unity. President Fritz Wahlen said Switzerland "will under no circumstances make any concession with regard to its neutrality and sovereignty.

The seventh EFTA member, portugal, said nothing.

The announcement by Macmillan caused alarm among the Commonwealth nations who fear British membership in the market would wreck the preferential system that gives special treatment to their exports to Britain.

Tax Bill In Brief

AUSTIN (AP)—Here in brief is the version of a tax bill that the Senate State Affairs Committee approved today and scheduled for debate Wednesday:

A 2 per cent tax on sales and use of tangible personal property exempting food, clothing under $10, medicines, fuel and power used in manufacturing, farming, and irrigation, $309.5 million.

Continuation of the 22.22 per cent surtax for another 2 years on corporation franchises, $20.5 million.

Equalization of coin-operated machines tax, $24,000.

Increased driver license fees, including $2 to $3 for most drivers, $7.3 million.

Bookkeeping transfer of motor fuel tax revenue from one fiscal year to another, $6 million.

Equalization of gross receipts taxes on telephone, telegraph, and utility companies, minus $4.7 million.

Dedicated reserves natural gas tax of one penny per 1,000 cubic feet minimum, $18.5 million.

Total estimated revenue $357,124,000.

Blue Law Bill May Die In Committee

AUSTIN (AP)—Legislation making it illegal to sell certain articles on Sunday is in a House subcommittee today where it may die.

The House State Affairs Committee heard testimony Monday night in a hearing that kept committee members yawning past midnight.

This late in the special session bills that are ticketed for fast floor action are reported out of committee the same day they are heard. The refusal by the Senate to consider on final passage a pending "blue law" bill there makes it unlikely a new Sunday closing law will be passed in the special session.

The House bill makes it a misdemeanor to sell or make one's employes sell on Sunday articles including clothing, furniture, kitchenware, china, home appliances, radios, television sets, cameras, hardware, clocks, jewelry, recordings, musical instruments, toys, mattresses, draperies, paints, lawnmowers or cloth piece goods.

"You would be better off to steal those articles than to buy them on Sunday," said the Rev. A. D. Leach, president of the Greater Houston Council of Seventh Day Adventist Churches. "This bill makes criminal on one day of the week something that is not criminal on other days."

On second and subsequent offenses, violation of the blue law would be punishable by a maximum of $500 fine and six months in jail.

Jenkins Garrett of Leonards Department Stores in Fort Worth spoke in favor of the bill. He said he represented the Texas Retail Federation, the Texas Hardware Dealers Association and the Retail Furniture Association.

He said the state's present blue laws, some dating back to 1863, are "cumbersome, shortun-type laws."

"We do not want seven days of retailing," he said. "I think it means something to employes to have a day of surcease from work." He said Sunday was best for this day "not because of religious reasons, but because of social customs."

Milton Brenner of the Solo-Serve Stores in San Antonio said the bill represented "nothing but a dog fight between two groups of Yankees, both of them owned by Wall Street money." He said the bill was pushed by the Texas Retail Federation as a device against the discount houses which open on Sunday.

Jury Cards Being Prepared

Names of at least 13,500 citizens of Howard County were being transcribed today from current poll tax records and from the property tax rolls of the county as the district clerk's office prepares the jury list for the ensuing year.

Four special deputies are in the office typing the cards which will be placed in the county jury wheel. From these cards will be drawn the panels to serve the district and county courts from Aug. 15 of this year through the same date in 1962.

Wade Choate, district court clerk, said that he estimated the poll tax list and the property tax rolls would afford about 13,500 names for the jury wheel. He has from Aug. 1 through Aug. 15 to prepare these cards.

He said the work of typing the cards is moving rapidly and that he anticipates no difficulty in completing the task of preparing the wheel ahead of the Aug. 15 deadline.

The extra deputies are Brenda Morgan, Judy Foster, Rosemary Donica and Dorothy Wheeler.

Brown Closer To Union Victory

GALVESTON (AP) — President H. S. Hank Brown was one step away today from complete victory in his Texas AFL-CIO power struggle with secretary-treasurer Fred Schmidt.

Victory on a third and crucial test vote would give Brown a clean sweep in preliminary maneuvers to gain control of the fifth AFL-CIO state convention.

The final test comes today on a direct vote on the key issue—whether the president should share policy responsibilities with the secretary-treasurer.

Runoff Required In Special Elections

The House passed 96-31 and 97-31 late Monday a bill requiring a runoff election if one candidate does not get a majority vote over all other candidates in a special election for Congress or the Legislature. However, Rep. Howard Green, Fort Worth, served notice he would try to get a third vote today. Unless the bill is finally passed by at least 100 votes it will not be effective until 90 days after the end of this legislature—or too late for special elections to fill congressional and legislative vacancies from Bexar County. The elections, as yet uncalled by the governor, would name successors to the late Rep. Marshall Bell and to U.S. Rep. Paul Kilday, who plans to resign after this session of Congress.

Green said he asked another vote today because 22 members were absent Monday.

The Senate got another controversial measure from the House Monday but took no action on it. The House spent most of the morning debating and finally approved a resolution (HCR6) asking the State Insurance Board to delay until Oct. 1 the announced 15 per cent increase in auto insurance rates. The rates went into effect at midnight Monday night as originally planned.

The House spent Monday afternoon discussing mostly local bills.

The House tentatively approved a bill (HB49) letting students from Latin-American countries attend Texas colleges for the same tuition rates set for resident students. A final approval is needed before it goes to the Senate.

Hemingway Death Papers Fail To Solve Mystery

KETCHUM, Idaho (AP)—Filing of the official death certificate has failed to solve the mystery of the violent death of author Ernest Hemingway.

Blaine County Coroner Ray McGoldrick confirmed that he left blank the space which would have shown whether the death was an accident or a suicide.

The certificates are not made public.

Hemingway's body was found in a foyer off the living room of his Ketchum hunting lodge, July 2. He had been killed by a blast from one of his favorite shotguns.

McGoldrick told The Associated Press in response to questions that the cause of death listed under the medical report section of the certificate said Hemingway died of a "self-inflicted gunshot wound in the head."

"That was the only thing put on there," he said.

Idaho death certificates also provide space for the coroner to specify if the death was an accident, suicide or homicide.

Asked if he left that space blank, McGoldrick replied: "I sure did."

A section of Idaho law, printed on the back of the death certificate, says that "causes of death, which may be the result of either disease or violence, shall be carefully defined; and if from violence, its nature shall be stated, and whether accidental, suicidal, or homicidal."

McGoldrick said he was aware of that provision of the law, but he indicated he did not expect anyone to challenge his handling.

He ruled out the possibility that an insurance company might bring legal action in an attempt to force a ruling on the death.

Hemingway, McGoldrick said, "did not have any insurance at all, according to his wife and son. That's one thing we wanted to know about."

Gunman Disarmed

O. C. Jackson, 41, a Dayton, Ohio, handyman, holds a pistol on Dade County officer James Leeds (left photo), after Leeds sought to question him at the Miami International Airport. A few seconds later Guillermo Zamora, 23-year-old ex-Marine, jumped Jackson from behind (right photo) and took the gun from him. Jackson confessed to killing a Dayton couple before flying to Miami. These dramatic photos were made by Albert Coya, an exiled Cuban newspaper photographer.

Testify On Arms Buildup

Secretary of Defense Robert McNamera and Gen. Lyman Lemnitzer, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, sit at the witness table as they await the start of a closed hearing at the Senate Armed Services Committee. The defense chiefs were called to testify in support of two new bills covering President Kennedy's recommendations for a build-up in the Armed Forces. One calls for new appropriations; the other would authorize the President to order ready reserve units to active duty.

Congress Gives Final OK To Kennedy Powers

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress has given President Kennedy the authority he asked to call up to 250,000 reservists into military service and extend active duty tours and enlistments one year.

Final approval came only six days after Kennedy requested the military manpower buildup.

The House Monday passed 403 to 2 the emergency resolution authorizing the President to put a quarter-million ready reservists in uniform for one year, either as individuals or in units.

The resolution, approved earlier by the Senate 75-0, also authorizes extending training periods for the 2,440,000 members of the ready reserve.

The Defense Department matched pace with Congress in expediting the swift strengthening of U.S. armed forces Kennedy called for last Tuesday.

The Pentagon announced late Monday that four Air Force bases slated for deactivation, would remain on active status—McDill in Florida, Chennault in Louisiana, Donaldson in South Carolina and Laughlin in Texas.

This is necessary to provide facilities for continued operation of B47 jet bombers which had been slated to give way to later model aircraft.

The Navy plans to add 60 vessels to the fleet, mainly for transport and antisubmarine service.

Twenty new ships will be provided from the combatant shipbuilding program, many of them destroyer-type craft for antisubmarine work. A corresponding number of older destroyers will remain in service instead of going into mothballs.

Some 40 ships are expected to be recommissioned from the mothball fleet, 22 troop and cargo transports and 18 smaller craft for antisubmarine service.

In California, Brig. Gen. Robert D. Campbell said the 146th Air National Guard Transport Wing, which he commands, expects to be called to active duty this week.

He said the wing, based at Van Nuys, Calif., will be reinforced by planes from the 138th Air Transport Squadron, based at Tulsa, Okla.

Only Reps. Bruce Alger, R-Tex. and Eugene Siler, R-Ky., voted against the resolution giving Kennedy authority to call the reserves to active duty.

An appropriation to pay for the expanded forces will come later. It will provide $3,454,600,000, including $207.6 million to start a civil defense shelter program.

Reds Claim Polio Spread, Threaten To Seal Border

BERLIN (AP)—The East German Communists threatened today to restrict travel between East and West Germany, claiming a polio epidemic in West Germany is spreading the disease across the Iron Curtain border.

Western observers saw the move as another attempt to dam the rising flow of refugees streaming into West Berlin from East Germany. A record high of 30,444 refugees poured into the Western sector of the divided city in July.

The East German news agency ADN said the Red regime's Health Ministry asked the Interior Ministry to take steps "in regard to travel between West Germany and the German Democratic Republic that will produce the best protection for the citizenry."

The steps were not spelled out nor was any date given for their application but Western observers felt the East German regime might use the polio pretext to close the border.

West Germany is suffering a polio outbreak, but health officials say there are no signs of a major epidemic. There were 1,254 cases — 76 fatal —reported this year up to July 15. There were 506 cases for the same period last year.

A week ago ADN claimed numerous West German tourists were being treated for polio in East German hospitals. It did not say how many. A month ago the Communist regime offered to give West Germany three million units of live or Sabin-type polio vaccine to fight what the Reds called a major polio epdimic. West German officials rejected the offer saying the vaccine's effectiveness had not been proved.

Choir Tour Called A Help To U.S.

DALLAS (AP)—A choir director who just returned from a 25,000-mile goodwill tour with a 14-voice Baptist Student Union choir said the tour helped improve impressions of America in the Far East.

The choir, under the direction of Louis Cobbs, returned after a trip that included 96 concerts in 66 days in Hawaii, Indonesia, Thailand, Hong Kong, the Philippines, Okinawa and Japan.

Cobbs said the Orientals were surprised to see a Negro student and a Japanese girl as members of the choir. Both are students at Wayland Baptist College at Plainview.

The students called the tour "Project Understanding."

ISRAEL

By T. H. Tarbet, preacher
Church of Christ, West Highway 80
P.O. Box 1383

King Jeroboam made Israel to sin, and this caused them to finally be led into captivity (I Kings 14:15, 16).

Israel was led into sin, but that does not excuse people; not even if they are ignorant of where they are being led. " . . . And if the blind lead the blind, both shall fall into the ditch." (Mat. 15:14).

If men have the right attitude they will do like the people who heard Paul preach. They searched the Scriptures daily whether those things were so (Acts 17:11). If men have a different attitude, their very attitude will condemn them.

"Thou shalt not follow a multitude to do evil . . ." (Ex. 23:2).

"And have no fellowship with the unfruitful works of darkness (Eph. 5:11).

"Wherefore come out from among them, and be ye separate, saith the Lord, and touch not the unclean thing; and I will receive you" (II Cor. 6:17).

If one is affiliated with those whose organization, worship, name, faith or practice is unscriptural, then his duty is clear. Let him come out.

It is not too late for you to start attending the evening school for adults and children which is for this week only, 7:30 p.m. Everyone is welcome. —Adv.

Anti-Trust Suit Partly Dismissed

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—An anti-trust suit, filed on behalf of more than 300 small loan companies over the state, drew a partial dismissal by U.S. Dist. Judge Ben Rice Monday.

The suit, brought by a Waco loan company operator, charged 35 larger companies with fixing small loan rates "to make it impossible for the plaintiffs and all other similarly situated to stay in business."

Rice granted a summary judgment asked by Seaboard Finance Co., of Los Angeles, Calif., one of the defendants in the suit filed by J. L. House Jr. of Waco, operator of the Gulf Management Co.

The judge also dismissed the suit against the American Credit Co., Houston; Ben Gordon Finance Co., Houston; City Finance of Midland Inc., Midland; Columbia Finance Corp., Dallas; State Finance Co., Houston, and Steadman Credit Co., Houston.

House said he filed the suit on behalf of all small loan firms in Texas. House's petition said the firms have more than $4.5 million invested in their operators.

The petition asked $900,000—three times actual damages—and an injunction against what it called "continued illegal monopoly and combinations, conspiracies and contracts in restraint of the plaintiffs' trade and commerce."

Seaboard's answer, filed by Austin attorney Dean Moorehead, said the firm could not properly be made a party to the suit since it does not operate in Texas and since the suit did not claim to involve interstate commerce.

The defendant's petition claimed House could not complain about his business being injured since it was not a legal one, noting that Atty. Gen. Will Wilson had obtained an order from a Waco district court enjoining House and several other Waco loan company operators from charging illegal interest rates.

House said the defendants violated the Sherman and Clayton anti-trust legislation by fixing interest rates charged both to individual lenders and to small loan firms such as that operated by House, by misleading the public about interest rates, by influencing the legislature to pass laws which House said make it impossible for small loan firms to operate and by conspiring to eliminate competition.

Court observers said Judge Rice's action indicates he will dismiss the rest of the suit or return summary judgments in favor of the other companies sued by House.

Hemisphere Unit Hits Cuban Regime

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The Interamerican Confederation for Defense of the Continent appealed today to the people of all countries to unite against "The Communist virus" and to help free the Cuban people from "a bloody tyranny and terrorist system."

In a statement prompted by the announcement of the new Communist program in Moscow, the confederation said American continent countries must unite in "a campaign without precedent."

Laughlin AFB To Continue In Operation

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon has announced Laughlin Air Force Base at Del Rio, Tex., will continue in operation. The big base was to have been shut down next year.

The announcement came in a change in plans to shift bombers from four bases.

The plans were revised because of the administration's decision to keep a number of B47 medium bomber outfits in service instead of disbanding them.

Last March the Air Force announced that Laughlin would be closed following the relocation of the 4080th Strategic Reconnaissance Wing of U-2 jet planes in 1962.

Monday's announcement said the delay in deactivating B47 units required postponement of the time when the reconnaissance wing could be moved from Laughlin to Davis-Monthan Air Force Base, Arizona.

The Pentagon announcement further said that "in order to obtain more economic utilization of Laughlin facilities and to avoid necessity for costly expenditures" at Laredo Air Force Base, a portion of the pilot training program originally scheduled at Laredo will be added to operations at Laughlin, beginning next November.

The Laughlin base is the home of the U-2, super-secret reconnaissance plane which can fly at extreme altitudes and take revealing photographs of military installations.

Few persons knew such a plane existed until one was shot down over Russia.

The new order will relieve economic tension at Del Rio. The border city had been fearful of the economic impact of closing the base, which has a monthly payroll of $800,000.

New Cotton Season Opens

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new cotton marketing season opens today with prices widening between the domestic and export markets.

Roughly speaking, domestic users of the fiber will have to pay 8.5 cents a pound more than their foreign competitors. That's because the government will offer an export subsidy of 8.5 cents a pound on cotton moving into export markets.

This subsidy was 6 cents a pound during the season just closed. The increase was made necessary by an upward revision in the farm price support program. This program holds domestic prices above world levels and the subsidy is designed to eliminate this difference.

The offer of these subsidies has brought critical problems to the domestic textile industry—in meeting foreign competition in the world's textile markets and in meeting competition of textiles imported into the United States.

Nervous Headaches

By DR. H. T. HANSEN, D.C.

To many people, excitement or any emotional disturbance will cause a headache. Fear, worry, overwork, loss of sleep or an other condition that saps the patient's vitality may result in a headache. In such cases the victim's reserve of vital energy is usually below par and the least deviation from the sufferer's normal life results in a head-ache.

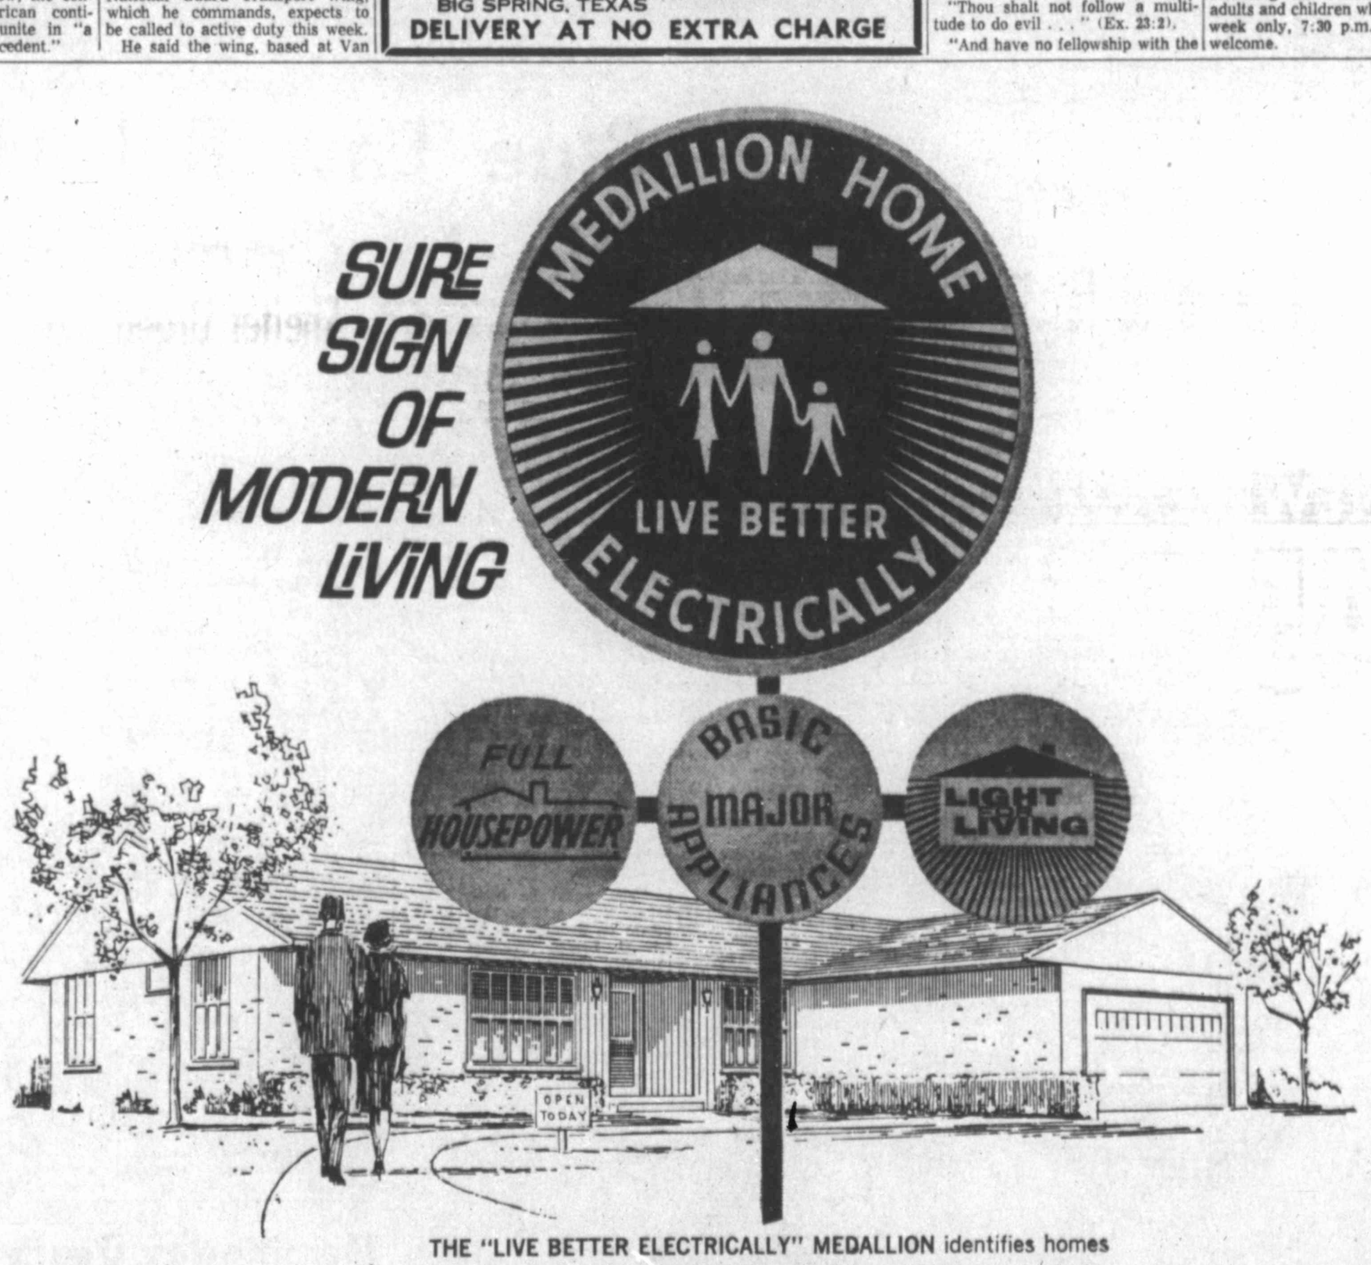

Headaches may be located in different parts of the head, its location usually indicates the part of the body from which the headache originates. Other symptoms may confirm this reflex condition and a thorough spinal examination will reveal abnormalities or displacements of the spinal bones.

These displacements, by causing a pressure on the spinal nerves leading to the affected organs, interfere with the flow of vital energy necessary for their proper functioning, resulting in a headache. Irregularity of function must be traced to its source and corrected. Chiropractic adjustments correct the cause.

THE "LIVE BETTER ELECTRICALLY" MEDALLION identifies homes that are wired and equipped to meet modern high standards for electrical living. It's your assurance of a home that is electrically modern and that will stay modern for years to come. In a Medallion Home, you get: FULL HOUSEPOWER—properly planned wiring and ample outlets and circuits for the appliances you now own and those you may wish to add later; WORK-SAVING ELECTRIC APPLIANCES—including an electric range, electric bathroom heating and at least three additional major electric appliances; LIGHT FOR LIVING—properly placed fixtures and plenty of switches and outlets for beautiful, eye-easy light in every room.

Look for the Medallion when you choose a new home. Or, if you are building or remodeling, make sure your home qualifies for the Medallion. It's your key to better living . . . electrically!

Clan Will Visit Kennedy Estate

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Frank Sinatra, the Dean Martins, the Peter Lawfords and Janet Leigh say they will leave soon for a 10-day vacation at the Riviera home of Joseph P. Kennedy, father of President Kennedy.

Mrs. Martin said she and her husband, Sinatra and Lawford will depart Thursday.

Miss Leigh plans to meet Mrs. Lawford — Joseph Kennedy's daughter—in New York on Aut. 7, en route to Europe. Tony Curtis, Miss Leigh's husband, is working and can't go.

Mrs. Martin said Lawford and Sinatra plan to extend their vacation to six weeks and will charter a yacht to tour the Mediterranean.

Church Burns

FORT WORTH (AP)—A midnight fire destroyed the Free Will Baptist Church at Azle, 10 miles northwest of Fort Worth. Cause of the fire was not immediately determined.

Kirbyville Bank President Dies

KIRBYVILLE, Tex. (AP)—Bernard B. Boyette, 51, president of the Kirbyville State Bank, died Monday of a heart attack while attending a funeral.

He was stricken at services for Dr. W. F. McCreight, longtime physician of this East Texas community who died Sunday.

Boyette had been president of the bank since 1960.

His widow and a son, Mile Boyette of Kirbyville, survive.

Berlin Dividing Line Has No Word To Describe It

By CARL HARTMAN

BERLIN (AP)—Isolated, divided, threatened—these are the words most often used to describe Berlin. All of them are accurate.

But just as remarkable is one characteristic of the city that no single word can describe. It is the only place on earth where you can walk across the street from communism into the Western world, and vice versa.

This is a legacy from Adolf Hitler and the Nazis whose swastika banners flew in Berlin from 1933 until the country was driven to collapse in 1945.

The Red army occupied the city in the closing days of World War II but then turned over a little more than half the city to the Americans, French and British allies.

This division in defeat was a low point for a city that had once been the capital of efficient Prussian monarchs and steely German emperors. Hitler was the last ruler of a united Germany to ride in triumph along its broad boulevards.

CENTER OF CITY

The Nazi dictator built a new chancellery in what was then the center of the city, next to the president's palace, near the U.S., British, French and Soviet embassies. Western bombers and Russian artillery destroyed them all, along with 43 per cent of all the housing in the city. All that is left of the chancellery now is a little grass-covered hill just inside the border of the Soviet sector—East Berlin.

Less than a year before Hitler's body was burned in his chancellery garden, his major enemies agreed to divide the city. The Western allies got the more populous half, with some of the best living quarters. The Soviet sector included the central district of government buildings and shops, but there was little left of them.

The system of four-power rule did not last in Berlin. By 1948, East and West Berlin had separate currencies and city governments. They were soon to have separate — and unconnected—telephone, electric power and surface transport systems. Subway and elevated trains, however, continued to run through both parts of the city. There was little interference with pedestrians and private cars. The only time the Iron Curtain was effectively rolled down was for a few days during the anti-Communist uprising of 1953.

ISOLATED

But the Communists isolated West Berlin much more effectively from West Germany. This was easy, since the city lies in the middle of Soviet-controlled East Germany, with the rest of the Western world 110 miles away.

The Communists permitted contact between West Berlin and West Germany only across two canals, four roads, four rail lines and three air corridors. Communist East Germans took control of the overland routes, except for a small amount of Western military traffic. The Soviets continue to work with the three Western allies in controlling the air lanes through the Berlin Air Safety Center.

In June 1948, the Communists blocked everything but the air corridors and the "knapsack-lift"—smuggling. For 11 months a Western airlift—mainly American—supplied West Berlin's 2½ million citizens.

Rations and fuel were short, but there was no talk of giving in to Communist pressure.

After the blockade ended, Western authorities set about building up stockpiles of everything a city needs, from hairpins to the bulky and uneconomic brown coal that heats so many Berlin homes. Supplies for about 18 months were accumulated.

It was after the blockade, too, that West Germany's "economic miracle" spread to Berlin and developed the contrast between the East and West sectors. Now anyone can see it by taking a short ride on the elevated.

West Berlin is a city of new buildings, has heavily stocked and even luxurious shops. Streets are filled with well-dressed people and there is the beginning of a traffic problem. The air of prosperity is none the less genuine for being based on heavy subsidies from West Germany and the United States.

East Berlin has much less to show in the way of construction, least of all in what was once the heart of the city. Wilhelmstrasse and Unter Den Linden, the great names among Berlin streets, are dead. Shops are poorly stocked and the stock is sleazy. There are few people on the streets and their clothes, though adequate, are weary-looking. Cars are scarce.

COMPETITION

In one field the Communists make an effort to compete: East Berlin has two operas to West Berlin's one, and East Berlin's theaters have a good reputation. But East Berliners flock to West Berlin to see Western movies rather than productions of the Communist countries. West Berlin's Philharmonic Orchestra is much better than anything East Berlin can offer.

Berlin, the Western showcase, has probably enhanced the attraction of Berlin, the escape hatch. The Communists, having made East Berlin the capital of their "German Democratic Republic," found it hard to stop people going there from the provinces. Any visitor could compare for himself the advantages of the Communist and Western systems. Any visitor had only to go up to the nearest policeman for help if he decided that the West was where he wanted to stay.

Hundreds of refugees have been coming over to West Berlin every day, and at peak periods the daily figure has topped the 1,000 mark. Though they have had to leave behind almost everything they owned, they have had good prospects for jobs.

The flight of refugees has hit the Communists heavily, in both their economy and their propaganda. West Germans are fond of saying that although voters don't have any opportunity for choice in an election on Communist territory, a great many people from there have learned to "vote with their feet." In recent years, about the only practical place to do this has been Berlin.

Gold Treasure Figure Jailed

RUSK, Tex. (AP)—Dorris E. Jones, 40, filling station attendant who made headlines two years ago by announcing he had found $2.5 million in gold bars while berry picking, has been sentenced to three years in prison.

Jones, father of nine, pleaded guilty Monday to theft by false pretext. He was accused of taking $2,500 from Henry McAdams of Dallas and not delivering a gold bar as promised.

Jones admitted his story was a hoax after failing a lie detector test. He said he got the idea while "the boys were sitting around the filling station talking about buried gold."

The Corsicana filling station attendant who was then working at nearby Alto touched off a rash of buried treasure fever among East Texans when he reported finding 86 gold bars in 1959.

He said he found the bars while berry picking but buried them until he could establish legal claim to his find.

The story attracted the interest of government officials. The bubble of Jones' treasure was punctured when he admitted that the gold bars were strictly the product of his imagination.

He said his curiosity was aroused and he went to a banker to find out what he should do if he found gold. The banker sent him to a lawyer.

Although he had only 7 cents in his pocket at the time, Jones said he signed a contract with a lawyer, figuring he had nothing to lose.

The criminal charges were filed after the alleged sale of the gold bar to the Dallas man last fall.

House Bomb Shelter Urged

AUSTIN AP()—Members of the House Appropriations Committee have made the first provisions for something they hope to never use —a bomb shelter.

Rep. Charles L. Sandahl Jr. of Austin introduced a resolution that is a step toward building a shelter for state government in nuclear attack.

The resolution was sent to subcommittee.

If passed, it would give authority to the State Building Commission to join with the federal government in studying the possibilities of building an emergency operating cen[illegible]

Buying nece[illegible] land and beginning constru[illegible] is the next step authorized.

Several tough questions must be answered first. What key personnel are needed in the shelter? How many can fit in? Should the shelter be built near the Capitol or out in the hills?

One big item will be the price. If a cave or other starting-point is available, the cost could be about $12 per square foot. Otherwise, it could go on up to $82 per square foot.

Bill Cox of the federal office of Civil and Defense Mobilization testified that Texas would need an area of some 40,000 square feet for its emergency center.

Dardanelles Will Stay Open

ANKARA, Turkey, (AP)—Turkey will not close the vital waterway between the Black Sea and the Mediterranean if the Communists try to close off West Berlin, Gen. Cemal Gursel said Monday.

He was asked by newsmen if Turkey, a NATO ally of the West, planned such action as a reprisal should the Soviet Union let East Germany shut off access to West Berlin.

"This is the first time I have heard of such a suggestion," the Turkish president replied.

The 1936 Montreux convention guarantees peacetime passage through the Straits of the Dardanelles and Bosporus to all warships of Black Sea nations except aircraft carriers and submarines. In time of war the straits are closed to all participants if Turkey is neutral.

Thunderstorms Rake Colorado

DENVER (AP)—Thunderstorms caused death and destruction to widely separated sections of Colorado Monday.

Mrs. Dimple Warren, 44, of Calhan, was killed by lightning and her husband, Guy, 45, was injured seriously in a storm on the Grand Mesa.

Dena Collett, 6, was injured critically and her sister, Kelly, 18 months, of Fort Collins, suffered cuts in a rock slide in the Big Thompson Canyon 11 miles west of Loveland. The rocks were dislodged by atorrential rain.

A Devotional for Today

Train up a child in the way he should go: and when he is old, he will not depart from it. (Proverbs 22:6.)
PRAYER: Dear Father, the divine head of every Christian home, forgive us for the negligence and indifference with regard to the Christian education of children. Grant us wisdom and patience in teaching love for Thee and knowledge of Thy way of life. In Christ's name and in His spirit we pray. Amen.

Danger Of Always Adding

A staff report of the Commission of Higher Education has proposed a one-third decrease in business administration courses offered in state-supported colleges.

The report criticized "excessively narrow specialization and evidence of needless duplication of effort."

The report is part of a study growing out of the commission's previous statement that there were signs that the quality of instruction in institutional programs was suffering because of the proliferation of courses in some areas and the offering of questionable value in others.

It is possible that the BBA field has been subject to pyramiding of specialized courses which over-lap and partially duplicate, and which in the final analysis add nothing of fundamental substance in knowledge of the field.

Yet the problem is not confined to one field; it covers the entire spectrum of instruction. The easier course is to add, where consolidation and reorganization might be wiser. Certainly it would be unwise to stultify or to freeze curricula with austerity and lack of imagination and inquiry. Yet, it would penalize the educational body at large to permit the system to become obese by always adding and never cutting.

A Broader Ministry

Mayor Lee O. Rogers has proclaimed this as "Dick 'O'Brien Day" in Big Spring, recognizing the contributions of the man who served the First Baptist Church for nearly 20 years as its pastor.

That such a day would be set aside is prima facia evidence that Dr. P. D. O'Brien made his a community ministry rather than a mere congregational pastorate. Indeed, his record as shepherd of the flock is impressive, for he has baptized enough members in the 20-year span to populate a large church. The congregation established two other churches and aided several others. It increased its giving by 10 fold.

Such active leadership was bound to overflow into the community. Few men have been as consistent and as willing workers as Dr. O'Brien in support of the institutions which add a plus value to our community. There have been hundreds of times over the years that he has dropped other chores or squeezed out time from a heavy schedule to make inspirational talks, to deliver luncheon club and other addresses, to work on campaigns, to speak to school, class and graduation groups, to lend his influence for wholesome youth programs and for expansion of the fine arts.

He never yielded to the temptation to use his pulpit as a sniper's roost for shots at institutions outside of the church. Instead, Dr. O'Brien used his pulpit for encouraging participation in worthy institutions as enlarged manifestations of the Christian spirit.

Yet he was not comprising; he never yielded ground on the great moral issues or acquiesced in the cheap and tawdry. His was a positive attitude that the point of Christian opportunity is at the point of contact, wherever that may be.

Thus, his influence could no more be confined within the walls of his own church than all the fragrance of a rose could be absorbed in one smell. Dick O'Brien has earned the love and respect of all the community because he has lived his religion in such a way that others could see the spirit of the Master in him.

BLACKBEARD STRIKES AGAIN

Around The Rim

Women And Children First

It was about the second year of World War II.

I seemed to feel the warm fetid breath of the local draft board on my neck.

Being drafted at that particular time did not appeal to me. I decided I would do something tricky—something like enlisting.

I took a day off from the job and went to Oklahoma City. On one floor of the post office were located the recruiters for all branches of the service.

I went into the first door.

They didn't have anything for a newspaper type like me and of my particular vintage.

I tried the next office. Same report and so on down the long corridor.

One door remained. It bore a legend which said it was the office of the U. S. Marine Corps.

DETERMINED to work out the full list, I barged in.

Seated at a desk was a Marine major. A rather short, dumpy looking duck with an expression on his face like he had just bitten into a very sour pickle. When he saw me and heard my inquiry, that soured look deepened.

He pulled irritably at a small salt-and-pepper moustache for a few seconds.

"Well," he said, "we do have a spot for guys like you. It has just been authorized."

He scribbled something on a card and handed the card to me.

"Go see the docs," he growled. "There's not a chance you'll pass but go ahead anyway."

I joined six other sad looking fellows and the doctors put us through our—rather their—paces. They flunked five of us. I passed and so did a husky young oil field worker.

THEY HANDED me another card and told me to go back to the major.

I handed him the card. I won't repeat what he said because it wasn't nice.

He looked me up and down like I was some sort of freak.

"Well," he said, "you're in. Go on back home. Get your affairs in shape. We'll send a letter tomorrow confirming that you have been accepted. You will receive notice when and where to report."

That was nearly 20 years ago. I waited throughout the war, and I'm still waiting for that notice.

NOW THAT THE situation has worsened overseas and there are omnious war-clouds rolling up, I wonder just where I am.

Will that long delayed notice of when and where to report come drifting in now?

The Marine Corps may need men, but I don't think things are so bad they'll be after this prospect. They weren't too eager for my services, for that matter, 20 years ago.

No, I rather imagine that if there's trouble serious enough to require an all out effort, they'll be calling for me right after they have hauled in all of the women and children.

The Power Of That Long Green

WASHINGTON (AP) — That simple symbol of survival—the almighty buck—may do more to bring the people of Western Europe together than all the philosophers, kings, wars and oratory in history.

The latest example: British Prime Minister Macmillan Monday hemmed and hawed and hesitated but managed to murmur he'd like to take Britain into Europe's Common Market.

FOR GENERATIONS the West Europeans lived like tomcats on the prowl for real estate or trade, even if it meant war, which it often did. In the end they fought one war too many, the last one.

Soon after the war a French economist, Jean Monnet, had an idea. France and West Germany both had coal and iron ore. Why not pool their resources? Besides, it would bridge some of that ancient gulf between them.

It would certainly help economically. The idea appealed, too, to Italy, the Netherlands, Belgium, Luxembourg. So the six nations signed a treaty creating the European Coal and Steel Community (ECSC).

In 1957 they signed another treaty, called the European Economic Community or Common Market.

With this start, it was thought, the Inner Six could go on to ever greater cooperation, perhaps some day to a common citizenship. Collectively they would achieve far greater strength in coping with the United States and Russia than they could ever hope for singly.

But Britain, with its long lone-wolf history of staying out of continental entanglements and playing one power off against another, wouldn't join.

It created a rival trading group of its own called the European Free Trade Association (EFTA) in 1960. It had seven members — known as the Outer Seven — Britain, Switzerland, Austria, Portugal, Sweden, Norway, Denmark.

But while the purpose of the Inner Six was to eliminate tariff barriers against their own goods they also arranged to create a uniform tariff wall against the goods from any other country.

This began to hurt British trade.

So Macmillan finally came around to the idea that if you can't lick 'em, join 'em, and he is starting to talk of taking Britain into the Common Market of the Inner Six. Immediately afterwards the headquarters of Britain's partners in the Outer Seven urged the merger of the seven with the six.

But if the merger comes, it will be a new era and more civilized era than any Western Europe has ever known. In time it might—but this seems far off now—lead to a United States of Europe.

He wasn't talking out of an impulse toward humanitarianism or nobility. Britain is hurting in the pocketbook. The history behind his wish and the Common Market had its roots in humility and desolation.

"For Firmness In The Right"

WASHINGTON—"I need. . . above all, your prayers," said John F. Kennedy in winding up his latest telecast on the latest crisis. This is a departure for JFK. Till recently, he seemed a young executive who might offer God a few words of advice on how to run His world. Nobody made a more princely entrance to the Presidential stage than Kennedy did between January and March. His majesty, his eloquence, his easy way with old friends, his seeming ability to get his hand around all problems, large and small, gave some of us hope that the crazy process of President-picking had unaccountably selected a man to the White House born.

AS ONE NOT guiltless of this heart-felt yearning, I wrote in this column that Lincoln, who knew his limitations and virtually prayed his way through 1861-65, should become Mr. Kennedy's model rather than the bully boys in whose boots he seemed to be trying to strut—Jackson, Wilson, the Rooseyelts. Early in 1960, the centennial of Lincoln's emergence from prairie lawyer to President, I had reread the Sandburg biography to let it tell me, if it could, that American greatness might still lurk beneath unpromising political exteriors.

SO, LAST TUESDAY, when I heard Mr. Kennedy, with something like a break in his voice and an apparent tremor on his lips, ask for prayers, I went to bed and dreamed of waking to a better morrow for America. Somewhere in the White House there must be corners where a man, with his country's fate on his heart and mind, might kneel down and pray for "firmness in the right, as God gives us to see the right," which are the words of a certain tall man who used to live there.

Mr. Kennedy needs prayers—his own and ours, and how!

THE PRESIDENT'S speech could be called a sword-rattler made with chattering teeth. The latter need not matter if he would only suit action to his words. While the President talked, there was a hijacked American airliner in Havana, and 1,200 prisoners, for whom we are responsible, in Castro's dungeons. With $43 billion this year for military arms and men, and Mr. Kennedy asking for $3.5 billion more, we ought to be mighty enough to go to Cuba. We should recover the stolen plane, release the prisoners, and occupy whatever missile bases are there in the name of the Organization of American States.

THAT WOULD be action. With that sort of policy in being, at the very moment the President talked to the nation and the world, his speech would have meant something more than—"You'll be sorry, Mr. Khrushchev. Wait and see!" With that sort of action, there would have been a discernible improvement for the West in postwar history. A fortnight or so ago, the British quit wringing their hands and sent commandos to protect their oil interests in Kuwait. A week or so ago, the French decided not to cut and run from Africans. They resisted and counter-attacked when the upstart Tunisians tried to take the fortifications at Bizerte. What an occasion Mr. Kennedy's world-wide telecast would have afforded for us to go to Cuba and act as the Squire of the Hemisphere ought to act when the riff-raff steals his apples and molests his children.

MR. KENNEDY said with apology that sacrifices would be required. He specified sacrifices only for those called to the colors, and for those who might be asked to pay more for postage stamps and to write off less on expense accounts if Congress should pass some Kennedy measures. But most of the Kennedy bills are not sacrificial. As this is written, the Senate is droning through its billions-for-farmers bill and will next take up billions-for-foreigners. The President plugged for his billions - for - federal school aid. The administration is sympathetically watching maritime unions ask for frills and automaking unions ask for caviar.

There is no more action on the home front than on the diplomatic and military fronts. And if Rome burns, every Roman this time—not just the Emperor—will be provided with his fiddle.

Russia's New 20-Year Plan

WASHINGTON—The masters of the Kremlin have had in preparation for many months a new 20-year plan that will tell how the USSR intends to surpass the United States in every department of life. With the propaganda drums screwed to highest pitch, the latest plan, divided into two 10-year phases, will be used to spur the Soviet citizen on to more intensive efforts to surpass the West and to convince the uncommitted peoples that communism is the wave of the future.

BUT, AT THE same time, the Communist bloc is having economic troubles that even the Iron Curtain cannot conceal. The forced draft farm program in Red China, and to a lesser degree in the USSR, has failed to provide sufficient food. The death penalty has been restored in the Soviet Union for speculators, and production managers who falsify statistics are threatened with jail sentences.

What we are seeing once again is the familiar "crisis of incentive." Under the dogma of Marx and Lenin, the human desire for personal reward is ruled out. It is as though a political surgeon had decreed that the Soviet citizen must breathe without his lungs. The long and tortuous experiment in the attempt to remove by ruthless political surgery a fundamental human motive is entering a new phase.

THE SPECTACULAR achievements of the Soviet Union have resulted in part because dogma has been ignored. The elite at the top are rewarded handsomely by Soviet standards. Scientists, military men, artists, writers, production managers get limousines, apartments, summer houses, even personal expense accounts.

When it comes to the farmer and the individual consumer, the vacuum of incentive is a serious handicap. This is evident above all in the distribution system. Even if the Soviet Union should actually outproduce the United States in volume of butter, milk and meat, the still unanswered question is how the citizen would get his share in good quality at a fair price measured in hours of work.

BUT AMONG those who have access to all available information, both published and unpublished, out of the Communist bloc, there is no tendency to downgrade what has been accomplished and what may be achieved under the drive of the new plan. In a hitherto unreported speech to the annual business conference of the Harvard Business School in June, Allen Dulles, head of the Central Intelligence Agency, speaking on incentives in Soviet Russia, had this to say:

"IN SPITE of what might seem to be serious defects in the incentive system that prevails in Soviet economic life, these are perhaps less important to them and for us than their overriding incentive or goal to produce to advance the cause of communism both in the Soviet Union and throughout the world.

"The Soviet leaders seem to have acquired a keen sense of what is important for these purposes. They have long neglected the creature comforts of their citizens in order to pour their resources into the essential underpinnings of strong industrial and military power and they have induced their citizens to accept this."

IN AREAS other than the spectacular, the incentive of personal reward is being restored. On the Soviet collective farms, rewards distributed from top to bottom make production worthwhile. Similarly, on the state farms, piece-work payment has been restored as an incentive system. It should be added that the Soviet Union employs about seven times as many farm workers as the United States and produces one-third less in terms of value.

The concern of those with broad knowledge of the Communist bloc is that the widely advertised economic difficulties will produce a sense of complacency. There have been reports, for example, that the economy of East Germany was about to break down. Actually, in the first half of this year the increase in industrial production was 5.3 per cent as against the planned rate of 7.2 and the 1960 rate of 6.2.

THE REPORTS of hunger can be discounted since the best information is that the average calorie consumption is about on a par with that in West Germany. The food deficit is made up by imports from West Germany, Denmark and elsewhere in Europe, as has long been the case in the East.

The real food crisis is in China, where 5,000,000 tons of grain are being imported this year and the estimated amount of calories for each individual is insufficient to sustain life over any considerable period. Nutritional diseases are reported in many areas. How much of this is due to disastrous weather and how much to the fanatical commune system which characterizes the early phase of communism no one can say.

THE "CRISIS OF INCENTIVE" in the far more advanced industrial society of the Soviet Union is related to prices, to quality and quantity of consumer goods, to production techniques—in short to the complexities of a swiftly developing economy with completely centralized control.

Can the new 20-year plan resolve this crisis? With the fact that Soviet steel output in the first half of this year was 86 per cent of that in the United States, no complacent answer can be given.

Hole Up For The Summer

NEW YORK (AP) — How is your summer going?

Summer is a perilous time, the most dangerous of the seasons, when both nature and the gadgets of man lie in wait to ambush the unwary.

Most people have enough sense to come in out of the cold in winter, but few have enough wisdom to come in out of the heat in summer. They flee to the great outdoors—to a mountain, lake or beach resort—where all kinds of pitfalls await them.

I prefer to flee to the great indoors when the temperature zooms over the 90-degree mark. The best way to survive summer is to pull in your welcome mat, and hole up for the duration in an air-conditioned apartment on the door of which you have hung a sign saying "Do not disturb until autumn."

Our family has followed this policy with fine success. With summer at the half-way mark not one of us has—

Had a bad case of sunburn.

Come down with smoke poisoning—or ptomaine poisoning—from helping a suburban pioneer father in a backyard cook-out.

Caught a summer cold, or the mumps, or the measles.

Been stung by a wasp or bee.

Had to fight off a colony of ants seeking to take over a picnic sandwich.

Stepped on a thorn.

Been stepped on by a horse, or had to run from a bull.

Fallen out of a hammock while trying to read "War and Peace," or other light summer literary fodder.

Been hit on the head by a baseball, horseshoe or tennis racquet.

Come home bankrupt from a race track.

Lost a toe in a power lawnmower.

Been visited by a cloud of relatives, or bitten by a single chigger.

Stalled for hours in an endless summer Sunday highway snarl, or bawled out by a traffic cop.

Been smashed across the stomach by a shovel in the hands of a grave-eyed small child at the seashore.

Each day my wife has to venture across the street to the grocery store and announces on her return: "My, it's hot 'out there!"

"Well," I tell her, "let me know when you see an icicle—then I'll go to the store."

Yep, it's been a wonderful summer so far. Of course, we've missed a few things. Last week, for example, our TV set was out of whack for a few days and our neighbors down the hall told us we missed seeing 37 interesting murders, 84 stirring barroom horse opera brawls, and a heartwarming speech or two by Khrushchev on the Berlin crisis.

But then you can't have everything.

All in all, however, the safest way to survive the good old summertime is to hibernate at home in your own air-conditioned foxhole.

It's cool, man, cool!

Governmental Mess In New York City

By RICHARD STARNES
(For Inez Robb, who is on vacation)

The Mayor of New York is generally held to be the second most important elected official in the county, but I know of no reason why this should require that the men who hold the job be such hopeless second-raters.

I don't hold with those who claim New York is the worst - governed city on earth, but ordinary civic pride leads me to conclude that it will be a very good second to whatever place wins that dubious distinction.

THERE ARE few aspects of this sprawling municipality that are not touched with graft, inefficiency, indifference, or all three. Even school children are fair game for the booty boys; the past few months have brought sickening revelations of graft and corruption in the school building program.

Graft is bad enough, dear knows, when some overworked and underpaid cop takes from a horse room or a painted Jezebel. But stealing from kids takes a species of pustulant greed that decent people find difficult to believe. The minds of our children have become currency in the business of graft, just like so many paving contracts.

THERE IS ONE case with which I am passing well acquainted, because it happened in the public school attended by two of my tads. The mothers' club of that institution, a group of strong-willed ladies formidable enough to drive any sane man to drink, worked and scraped until they had gotten together a library worth several thousand bucks.

Unfortunately, however, there was no room suitable for use as a library, so the books gathered dust and several hundred young minds continued to be filled with televised rubbish. The mothers entreated school authorities to refurbish a room so that the library could be put to use, but they were met with the plea that no funds were available.

THEN THE good ladies discovered that the school was about to spend more than $15,000 on a public address system that by any intelligent reckoning was useless in an elementary school. They complained (to an official now under suspension) and were bluntly told it was none of their business. The school now has scratchy Victrola records piped into every classroom and the books still molder unread.

The school scandal is wicked, but it is not surprising. Stealing from the taxpayer is now the biggest industry in New York, having lately even surpassed church bingo.

WHOLE AREAS within the limits of the city are without sewers but depend on cesspools that create a health hazard every time there is a hard rain. Traffic is an endless nightmare; a drunken wretch on his hands and knees can cross Manhattan faster than a man driving a motor car. Only the fact that bridges, tunnels and rapid transit have been taken away from the looters and placed in the hands of autonomous authorities has saved New York from death by strangulation years ago.

You would think that in the face of this undisputed chronicle of failure the city's incumbent lawgivers would ship out aboard the first cattle boat for the Tierra del Fuego, with a party of vigilantes wishing them bon voyage from the Battery.

NOTHING IS further from the truth. Led by the city's somnolent burgomaster, the Hon. Robert Wagner, all who are not attending grand jury quizzes or under suspension are preparing to wage battle in a primary in September for the privilege of bestowing the same sort of peerless leadership on the city for another four years.

The sorriest earnest of New York's political bankruptcy is that the "reform" element of theldcal Democratic Party has just endorsed Wagner for another term. Cynics might observe (in Mr. Khrushchev's salty trope) that this is like putting a goat to guard a cabbage patch, but I can't agree with it. I don't think Mayor Wagner is a crook; he is just a bubble-head.

New Drugs Help Fight Depression

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M. D.

"Dear Dr. Molner: Why, if tranquilizers are good to quiet jittery nerves, and don't contain narcotics, and aren't habit - forming, must one have a prescription from a doctor before they can be purchased?—Mrs. L. D. E."

The question of whether a drug requires a prescription is up to the federal authorities who insist on prescriptions as a matter of public safety.

They have good reasons as to why they demand prescriptions for tranquilizers.

First of all, you forgot to mention what we call side effects. These are any undesired consequences of the use of the drug—and with today's powerful medications, it isn't easy to find any that don't have such side effects at least some of the time.

A drug, by its very nature, has a definite impact on the body. Many drugs, indeed most, are substances that are helpful in small quantities but harmful if used excessively.

Side effects may range from minor to extremely grave. There may be itching, nervousness, stomach upsets, fatigue, sniffles, disturbances of vision, dryness of mouth and nose, or hives, and we could go on for quite a while. Most of these, of course, aren't too disastrous, although in certain circumstances some of them can be.

Some drugs, other than in tiny quantities, are poisons. Some, like the useful penicillin, can cause dangerous allergies in certain people. Some occasionally cause blood disturbances. Some can alter the normal body chemistry, causing lack of necessary chemicals, or an oversupply of others. Some drugs tend to cause bleeding. Some make water accumulate in the body. Some dry out the body. Need I go on? Even aspirin, used to massive excess, has caused a great many deaths, mostly among little children. Yet aspirin is "safe" enough not to require a prescription.

A prescription is a protection in several ways. First, there are specific instructions as to how much to take, and how often. Second, the patient has a doctor to notify in case any trouble starts to develop. Third, an uninformed patient can't just go buy a vial of some medicine, and keep buying in large quantities, without prescription records showing it.

The tranquilizers have achieved such fame because they have relatively few side effects. However, tranquilizers mixed with alcoholic drinks can cause plenty of trouble. And even alone, they may, in some cases, disturb a person's driving ability enough to be dangerous.

See why the government demands prescriptions?

* * *

"Dear Dr. Molner: I have a breaking out all over my body. If someone touches me, or puts their fingers down my back, I start to itch and it drives me crazy. My doctor told me what it was, but it was a word 10 feet long—M. S."

The ten-foot-long word was maybe "dermatographia"? It means, literally, "skin writing." It's a type of irritability of the skin. If the skin is irritated, a welt forms —like a hive, or itching. Some people who happen to be highly allergic have this sort of condition. Application of a cold cloth, or moist soap, or calomine, or some antihistamine lotion—these are the simple ways of lessening the itching. Aside from the nuisance, it isn't important.

ROUND TOWN

With LUCILLE PICKLE

Here it is August and most of us are still bravely struggling to catch up with June. . .Before our very eyes, summer is about to slip away into fall. The women have worn their lovely white dresses right up to the last, but in just a few days the pretties of the warm weather season are going to take on the appearance of last year's clothes. The stores are showing the new fall clothing and the colors are gay and vivid . . . persimmon and magenta with teal blue as a real clincher. Some are in cotton but a greater number are in wool which leaves most of us disenchanted in this kind of weather. What this part of the country needs are some pretty dark cottons that are cool for the hot days but give the appearance of getting us ready for the cool weather.

The LESLIE GREENS made a long trip—1500 miles—in a short time—a week—for the vacation trip this summer. They visited Dallas, Austin, San Marcos, San Antonio, Corpus Christi, New Braunfels and Alvin. In the latter town, they visited with FATHER FRANCIS, former pastor of St. Thomas Catholic Church here, and while they were there they had the pleasure of a visit with MRS. MARY GOLDEN and her family who also made her home here a number of years ago. Mrs. Golden is making her home in Dallas and teaches the third grade in Immaculate Mary School in Grand Prairie.

Mrs. Golden and her daughter, MRS. CHARLES GREEN, and her little year old daughter, Cathy, were en route to Mrs. Green's home in Houston and had stopped by to see Father Francis. They had brought a gift of food so the Greens added to it, and the whole bunch had a picnic lunch under the trees and talked about Big Spring and the people they all knew.

Sunbeams Honored By WMS

Costumed Sunbeam members presented the program at Monday evening's meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society of First Baptist Church. The meeting observed the Sunbeams' 75th birthday.

Mary Hatch Circle, with Mrs. Charles Sweeney as leader, was in charge of the program. Call to prayer was led by Mrs. B. T. Faulkner. "Happy Birthday" was sung as the Sunbeam members marched around a table which held a lighted birthday cake. Mrs. Sweeney told of the organization's highlights and praised the leaders of the Sunbeams.

Mrs. B. H. Tingle praised the work of the World Friends, which is the eight year-old Sunbeams. Closing prayer was presented by Mrs. C. O. Hitt. Following the program, the group viewed exhibits of work done by the Sunbeams during the year. Refreshments were served to approximately 35.

CYO Meets For Swim, Picnic

The Rev. Bob Creswell of Snyder was guest speaker for services Sunday at the Mt. Joy Missionary Baptist Church.

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Nichols are visiting relatives in Bledsoe.

Beauty Not Essential

Betsy Palmer tells Lydia Lane that beauty isn't necessary to success if one develops personality and individuality; she believes a person should stay with the type that is comfortable.

Stay With Natural Type For Results

By LYDIA LANE

NEW YORK—Betsy Palmer invited me to be with her on the "I've Got a Secret" show, but unfortunately my travel plans for Paris interfered. So we spent a few minutes visiting in her dressing room at CBS.

"I love doing the panel show," she told me. "It allows me to be myself."

"Do you miss Hollywood?" I asked, recalling several movies she had made.

"My home is here in New York with my husband (Dr. Vincent J. Merendino)," she answered. "I put my marriage first and do the best job I can to manage a career on the side. It takes work, but it's rewarding.

"I guess you'd call me the 'natural type,'" Betsy said. "Affectation alienates me immediately. When I use a lot of makeup and wear an elaborate hair-do, I look artificial. I'm not one for a lot of cosmetics. Personally, I prefer just a little. I steam my face to open my pores when cleansing and use ice to close them.

"There are so many beauties in films, I don't think they knew what to do with me," Betsy explained. "But I believe in staying with the type that makes you comfortable. I feel that taste, individuality and personality can be developed and serve you so well that you don't need the gift of beauty.

"A successful, happy life is built on discipline. Without it, you go through your days making blunders, regretting them but repeating them. But I am afraid that discipline is not a fashionable virtue today," she observed. "And perhaps that is one of the reasons there is such demand for the psychiatrist's couch.

"I don't buy this life-owes-me-a-living philosophy. Life owes us nothing. It is up to us to give of ourselves, and the sooner we stop demanding, the sooner we are going to find contentment."

Fashion Intellectuals Must Do Vocabulary Homework

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
AP Fashion Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—If you hope to keep up your status as a fashion intellectual, you had better do your vocabulary homework.

Here is a glossary of style terms used in describing fall and winter collections by New York couture group members.

Body-Conscious. Having nothing to do with hypochondria, it describes the closer fit you'll find in coats, suits and dresses this fall.

Nothing Dress. This garment became high fashion by reduction to its lowest common denominator, by subtracting sleeves, collars, and shortening the hemline. Although it got its start a few seasons ago, it will continue barely and shiveringly throughout the winter season.

Flip Back—This style newcomer is a jaunty jacket, short in front with a gentle flyaway movement or back flare.

Inner Strength — Linings, once the cheapest fabrics in a coat or suit, now strengthen the coat but weaken the budget with mink, cat, chinchilla or ermine pelt.

High Risers - the ever - wondering waistline climbs upward again in many collections. The high line is often emphazied by welt seaming. However the dropped waistline has not lost its fashion flavor yet.

Intermediate Length — Dresses hemmed at calf - length are designed for semi-formal occasions such as theater parties.

Dirndls—Years ago a printed, gathered skirt by this name was popular with off-shoulder peasant blouses. Today's version is refined, in dressier fabrics, not as full at the waist, and much more flattering to the mature figure.

The Column—A slender cylinder from neck to floor, this evening dress is usually of metallic or sequined cloth, has no waistline, little walking room.

The Flare—Any skirt fluted, pleated, or gathered which swishes, swirls or sways is a Paris influence that continues to flare through out fall collections.

Nothing Colors—The pendulum swung from the summer fad for florid prints and violent hues to fabrics with hardly any vibrance. These are mossy, bronzy and black, or nearly so.

Guests Reported

Guests in the Brown Rogers home, 512 Dallas, have been Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Hobbs, Sharonne and Sabra Ruth of Whiteville, N. C. During the weekend, Lt. and Mrs. Brown Rogers Jr. of White Sands Missile Range arrived for a visit.

A Dog's Best Friend—No-Roach!

The best friend a dog ever had is Johnston's No-Roach. This product can rid your dog of ticks and fleas. These pests not only make your dog uncomfortable,—they also carry disease and infections. Just brush liquid No-Roach on the area where your dog sleeps. This colorless, odorless coating will rid the area of all insects in a few nights, and your dog will be tick and flea free.

If your dog stays outdoors most of the time, you can brush No-Roach through his fur. This does not harm the dog. Be safe and be sure with Johnston's No-Roach. 8 oz. 89¢; pt. $1.69.

Flight Moves Atlas Nearer Proved Status

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — A successful 5,000-mile test flight has moved an advanced Atlas missile nearer operational status and provided valuable information for designing atomic power units for space vehicles.

The improved Atlas "E" model Monday scored its second straight success, hitting a target area off Ascension Island.

The new Atlas, which is being developed for greater range and heavier payload than the present operational model is to be ready for deployment late this year. On its previous test firing, an "E" rocket streaked a record 9,050 miles.

The blazing re-entry heat of the Monday shot burned through a special container attached to the side. Brilliant yellow and violet flares erupted.

The capsule carrying the flares simulated nuclear fuel cores. Men and cameras on ships, in planes and on Ascension watched and recorded the flares and the ionization trails created by the disintegrating capsules.

A radio transmitter relayed heat information. Additional data was obtained from a 30-inch cylinder which parachuted from the nose cone and was recovered by the ocean range vessel Coastal Crusader. The packet contained instruments and a tape recorder to register temperatures and nose cone performance.

The experiment could reveal much about how an atomic space generator would burn up and its radioactive contents disperse on re-entry into the earth's atmosphere.

The first atomic power device ever flown rode in a transit navigation satellite launched last month from Cape Canaveral. Officials said it was purposely overdesigned to guarantee safety under any condition.

Mrs. Williams Dies Today

Mrs. Omer A. Williams, 56, died at 5:54 a.m. today after an illness of four months.

Memorial services for Mrs. Williams will be held at the Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home at 10 a.m. Wednesday with Dr. P. D. O'Brien, who was her pastor at the First Baptist Church for many years, officiating. Immediately following the rites, the body will be taken to the Herndon-Cornelious Funeral Home in Hope, Ark., where final rites and burial will be in Memory Gardens at 2 p.m. Thursday. Dr. John McClanahan, First Baptist pastor at Hope, will officiate.

Mrs. Williams was born Neva Tonnemaker on Oct. 18, 1904 at Hope, Ark. She had been extremely active in church life all during her adult years and had been superintendent of various departments for more than three decades. For 16 years she taught school and for the past four years she was on the staff of the Big Spring Christian Day School, having assumed operation of the school last year.

A devoted Christian, she earned many close friends in the various places where she lived because of her habit of doing things for others. She and her husband had taken a leading role in the First Baptist Church here for the past half dozen years.

Surviving her are her husband, Omer A. Williams, to whom she was married on Dec. 20, 1930 at Pine Bluff, Ark.; one daughter, Mrs. Jake (Gwen) Collins Jr., Seminole; one grandson, Kirk Collins; three sisters, Mrs. D. P. Yeager, San Antonio, Mrs. R. L. Williams Waldo, Ark., Mrs. Vernon Schooley, her twin sister, of Hope, Ark.; one brother, J. M. Tonnemaker, Hope, Ark.; and an aunt, Mrs. J. H. Wolfington, Washington, D. C.

MR. AND MRS. HARRY HURT
. . . and the cake honoring them

Harry Hurt, Long-Time Bank Official, Is Honored

Harry Hurt was honored guest at a dinner, given Monday evening at Big Spring Country Club, climaxing his association with the First National Bank for 40 years.

Starting as a teller in the bank, Hurt was a vice president at the time of his retirement.

About 40 attended the affair, hosted by the directors and officers of the bank, with special guests, the couple's children, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hurt Jr. of West Covina, Calif., and Dr. and Mrs. G. T. Hall, life-long friends of the Hurts.

Yellow and green were featured in the party details, with a cake frosted in the colors and bearing the name of the honored guest and "1921-1961".

A silver punch bowl with a tray, cups and ladle was a gift to Hurt, who along with Mrs. Hurt, received luggage in matched sets.

Murray Moved To Rusk Today

Harold L. Murray, young inmate at the Big Spring State Hospital, was en route today to the Rusk State Hospital for the criminally insane.

He was in custody of Miller Harris, sheriff, Tommy Cole, deputy, and P. D. Fortune, an attendant from the hospital.

Murray was being removed from the local hospital after a district court jury ruled last week that he was insane at the time he caused the death of a fellow patient at the hospital here and that he was still insane at the time of the hearing. The action was to clear the way to remove the man to the maximum security institution at Rusk.

Harris and Cole also took two convicts from the county jail to the state penitentiary at Huntsville on Tuesday.

Levy Lee Edmondson, found guilty of burglary, is being checked in to begin serving a 12 year sentence. Elwood Frazier Bunton, convicted of robbery by assault, will begin serving a 10 year term.

Mum On McCloy

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House remained mum today on the report President Kennedy received from his disarmament administrator, John J. McCloy.

Big Dog Bites Boy

A five-year-old boy required 14 stitches to close wounds after he was bitten by a dog Monday afternoon. He is reported doing fine this morning. He was treated for lacerations on the face.

Rodney Perry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otis Perry, 1805 Hamilton, was attempting to pet the animal when the incident occurred, Mrs. Perry said.

The dog is being kept under observation by a veterinary. No strange behavior had been noted prior to the biting and the animal was vaccinated, she said.

Stray dogs were reported at 1400 Lincoln, 2110 W. 3rd, 2306 Marshall, Park Inn, 404 NW 7th, 107 E. 2nd, FM 700 and Birdwell Lane and Fourteenth and Settles.

Stray cats were at 3905 Hamilton, 1200 Ridgeroad, 205 Harding, 1105 College and FM 700 and the east gate of Webb AFB.

Two Named To FHA Committee

Hudson Landers, who farms in southwest Howard County, and Roscoe B. Schaefer, Glasscock County farmer, have been named to the Farmers Home Administration county committee, according to Lee Tunnell, county supervisor for the agency. The appointments are for three years beginning July 1.

Landers succeeds James H. Fryar, Big Spring, and Schaefer succeeds Doris Blissard, St. Lawrence, who have served on the committee for the past three years. Others on the committee are Marion Edwards, Coahoma, Edgar Phillips, Big Spring, and Sidney F. Hirt and Arnie Schraeder, St. Lawrence.

Purpose of the county committee is to review applications for FHA loans. The FHA extends credit, accompanied by technical farm management assistance, to 70 farm families in Howard and Glasscock counties. These families have employed loans to strengthen and improve their farm operations and some have reorganized their operations to increase production and volume. Loan funds cover subsistence, operating expense, replacement of worn-out equipment, sometimes for installation of irrigation equipment, and occasionally construction of farm homes.

Burglars Take Two $45 Tires

Two tires valued at $45 each were reported stolen from the Phillips Tire Co., 311 Johnson, Monday night.

Police received the report at 6:49 a.m. today after the owner discovered that the building had been entered through the buffing room window facing the alley on the east side. A fan had been taken out of the window and a sliding door pried open between the buffing room and the main shop.

Police are investigating footprints left by the person. The burglar left the building by a side door on East Fourth.

Two hubcaps were reported stolen by Pete Sanderson, 1305 Barnes. He told police they were taken from his car Saturday night while it was parked in front of the Ritz Theater, 401 Main.

Bill Guinn, Western Motor Co., 700 W. 4th, reported a car stolen after a young man asked to try it out Monday shortly before noon and failed to return it by mid afternoon. The car was returned this morning after a long demonstration period. No charges will be filed.

July Postal Receipts Up

Postal receipts in Big Spring for July showed a healthy increase over the receipts for the same month a year ago, E. C. Boatler, postmaster said today.

Boatler said receipts for the month just ended were $35,828.43 as compared with $30,051.58 in July 1960. This represents a gain of $5,776.85.

For the first seven months of this year, the post office receipts stand at $214,724.37 which is $6,669.78 ahead of the total for the same period in 1960.

Boys School Escapees Captured In Ft. Worth

FORT WORTH (AP)—Two River Oaks policemen captured today five foot-weary escapees from Gatesville State School for Boys, including one who slugged a guard with a baseball bat.

The guard died Monday, but Charles Lowe, 17, who admitted hitting him, said he was not responsible for the killing.

Lowe and the other four youths surrendered without resistance as they were walking in River Oaks, a suburban village northwest of Fort Worth.

They said they were trying to make their way to Mesquite, home of Robert Sorter, 17, one of the group.

The boys said they had walked most of the way here from Gatesville. Patrolman Bill Skidmore, who helped capture the five, said they probably spent Monday night in the Trinity River bottom.

The escapers said they spent Sunday night "laying low in a cornfield."

None had eaten since Sunday night, when they broke out of their dormitory. They were considered trusties at the reform school.

Lowe admitted hiding the baseball bat under his bed as part of the escape scheme.

The guard, Billy Malone, 42, was lured into the boys' dormitory after bedtime Sunday.

"I hit the guard one time on the back of the head," Lowe said. "I barely hit him enough to knock him out.

"I know I didn't kill him because he came to and was talking with this other boy."

"The other boy" was blamed for killing the guard. "The other boy," Lowe said, "went in another direction" during the escape.

Lowe said he hit the guard "a couple of times on the back" when he regained consciousness but that "the other boy" hit the guard over the head.

Lowe said he ripped sheets off his bed and tied the guard's hands.

He dashed downstairs and broke into the clothes room to get pants and shirt. Then he ran back upstairs for his shoes.

During the guard beating some 50 other boys were in the room.

"I guess the others were too scared to get up," Lowe said.

Others captured today were Ray Soliz, 16, and Jimmy Flores, 17, of Houston; and Alfred James, 17, of Denison.

Two more boys were sought. Two of the original nine were captured earlier.

Murder charges were filed Monday against Lowe.

Two others already captured were Clifford Dean Sheets, 16, of Belton, and Johnny Talbert, 16, of Tyler.

School officials and three Texas Rangers said Sheets also helped beat the guard with a baseball bat. They said he will be 17 in September and will be held to await trial after that date.

County Auditor Checking Books

Lee Porter, county auditor, is engaged in a complete recheck of the records of the office of justice of the peace, Place 1, Precinct 1.

Last week, the county commissioners court received a report from Neil G. Hilliard, certified public accountant, that an audit of the office indicated a discrepancy in the accounts.

Walter Grice, justice of the peace, was given until Aug. 1 to bring his records up to date. However, Ed Carpenter, county judge, said that the commissioners will not be in session today and will meet again Thursday.

He indicated that he expected a report on the matter at that time.

Porter was checking the office records against the work sheets of the audit made by Hilliard and his associates.

Cuban Legates Back In Jail

HAVANA (AP)—Eight Cubans who vainly sought ransom in the United States for 1,200 fellow prisoners of the anti-Castro invasion were back in a Cuban jail today.

They returned from Miami, Fla., Monday with four delegates of the Cuban exile tractor committee who hope to persuade Prime Minister Fidel Castro to free prisoners a few at a time as tractors become available.

The tractor committee represents relatives of the prisoners. They organized after the Tractors for Freedom Committee in Detroit, Mich., ended its negotiations with Castro. The committee offered 500 small tractors for the prisoners, but Castro demanded many more.

Two members of the 10-prisoner negotiating team sent to the United States by Castro refused to return. Reinaldo Pico and Mirta Collazo stayed behind and asked political asylum.

On arrival here, the other eight issued a statement criticizing Pico and Collazo and then were returned to their cells.

Bystander Hit By Stray Bullet

Henry Hall, 811 Wyoming, a bystander wounded in the upper left arm during a shooting Monday night at the Hilltop Cafe, 406 N. Aylford, was treated at Howard County Hospital Foundation and Clinic and released.

Police were called at 12:40 a.m. They later arrested two airmen and two civilians.

Charged with destroying private property and released on $50 bond were Airmen Thomas E. Akins and Benjamin Jones, Webb AFB. Joe Louis Sherman, 701 Wyoming, charged with discharging firearms within the city limits, is also out on $50 bond, Holston Banks, 811 Ohio, was charged with disturbing the peace and paid a $25 fine.

Police are investigating to determine who fired the shot which struck Hall. Five empty .25 caliber cartridge cases were found near the entrance to the cafe.

Probe Threatened

AUSTIN (AP)—Gov. Price Daniel threatened Texas bankers with a legislative or congressional investigation today if they do not work with him on some sort of abandoned property seizure bill.

Soviet Orbit Try Planned

MOSCOW (AP) — Informed but unofficial sources said today it is likely the Soviet Union will try to launch another manned space flight around the earth soon, possibly within a week or 10 days. There was no official confirmation.

The sources said the flight might include two men instead of one since it is known here there is a booster rocket sufficiently strong to orbit a two-man space vehicle.

It appeared unlikely Maj. Yuri Gagarin would be invited to make a second journey because of the risk and because of the advantage of increasing the number accomplishing space flight.

Adm. Rickover In Hospital

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice Adm. Hyman G. Rickover, the atomic submarine pioneer, is in a hospital after what the Navy describes as a mild heart attack.

In answer to questions, the Navy said today that the heart attack occurred last Tuesday.

"He is now sitting up and his condition is considered excellent," the Navy said, adding that no surgery was performed.

Rickover is a patient at the Navy hospital in nearby Bethesda, Md.

The 61-year-old Rickover, a small and driving bundle of energy, has taken virtually no vacations during the decade he has devoted to pushing the adoption of a nuclear submarine program and overseeing developments of the atomic powered plants which have gone into submarines, carrier, destroyer and cruiser type ships.

Minor Accidents . Get Police Look

Three minor accidents were investigated by police during a three-hour period Monday afternoon.

Drivers involved in a collision in the 500 block of Gregg at 12:22 p.m. were John L. McElyea, 203 E. 21st; William H. Behell, Box 2460, and Dorman L. Owens Jr., 1606 E. 16th.

Walter Edward Gooden, Webb AFB, and Willy Eugene Magtry, 114 Madison, were listed as drivers in an accident at 309½ N. Gregg at 3:14 p.m. An accident at 3:15 p.m. at Fourth and Gregg involved drivers Rupert Wayne Jennings, 1008 Bluebonnet, and James Harold Hammond, 2614 Lynn.

BEAUMONT (AP)—Judge Harold Clayton is expected to announce today the site for the second trial of suspended Dist. Atty. Ramie Griffin. He granted a change of venue Monday.

Heavy Rains Cause Flash Floods In U.S.

By The Associated Press

Stormy weather and heavy rains tapered off today after Monday's thunderstorms caused flash floods in many areas from southern New England to Colorado.

A violent thunderstorm hit New York City at the evening rush hour, tying up traffic, flooding subway tunnels and expressways and knocking out service on the Pennsylvania Railroad's main line to Philadelphia.

The storm, which dumped nearly one inch of rain in one hour, delayed thousands of commuters. Electric power was knocked out in 5,000 homes in Brooklyn and Queens. Airplane travel was disrupted.

Flash floods also hit the area of Johnstown, Pa., after a two-inch rainfall. Floodwaters rolled out of the southwest Virginia mountains into the town of Haysi, washing away several houses and two general stores and leaving about 50 persons homeless.

Thunderstorms caused flooding in sections of Colorado, with heavy property damage. A woman was killed by lightning in a storm near Delta in Western Colorado.

Eight inches of rain drenched Alpha, in northeast Iowa. Nearly 7 inches of rain was reported in Hawkeye, Iowa.

The storms broke out in the clash of hot, muggy air over most of the southern and the cooler, dry air in the northern regions.

Nearly two inches of rain doused Omaha, Neb. and Nantucket, Mass.

Cool air moved into the Northeast, dropping temperatures into the 40s and 50s in the northern upper Great Lakes and along the St. Lawrence Valley. Generally normal readings were reported in most other areas with hot weather continuing in most of the Southland.

Backing Sought

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —Asian and African delegates worked today to get the backing of 50 U.N. members for an emergency session of the General Assembly Thursday to take up Tunisia's charge of French aggression at Bizerte.

JEFF BROWN

Brown Named Top Salesman

Jeff L. Brown, 1744 Perdue, one of the newest members of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce, has also been its best booster during July by selling nine new members on the work done by the Chamber.

"He certainly has been taking his work on the membership relations committee seriously," according to Carroll Davidson, chamber manager.

"Brown learned all he could about the Chamber and then went out to sell others on its value to the community," he said. Brown became a member in June and soon asked to be placed on the committee.

Although Brown is the "man of the month," he got some competition from other members of the committee. Don Hitchcock, Travelodge Motel, and Rad Ware, 604 W. 17th, each sold seven new members.

Five of the nine new memberships sold by Brown were to business or professional firms.

The three persons mentioned have already qualified for their special jackets and ties to be worn on official occasions. The outfits will be awarded when more members of the committee qualify, Davidson said.

The members have sold a total of 31 new memeberships to date.

Coahoma TESCO Dispatcher Ends 44 Years Of Service

By SAM BLACKBURN

COAHOMA — The alarm clock didn't ring at 507 Culp Street this morning and J. G. Sheppard, who lives at that address, didn't get up until he was darned good and ready.

And the same rule will apply tomorrow and the day after and on and on, if he has his way.

Today Sheppard terminates 44 years and 85 days service with electric power companies and joins the mounting ranks of elderly citizens who are retired.

Since 1939, Sheppard has been in Howard County with the Texas Electric Service Co. Until he put on his hat and walked out of the office for the last time, he was dispatcher at the TESCO switching plant here in Big Spring.

DREAM

His dream — or so he said — of the real way to retire was to loll away lots of pleasant days in a hammock in his grassy back yard. He even went so far as to pick out the place for the posts from which the hammock would swing.

However, like lots of dreams, it does not appear that he will do much hammock lolling. Mrs. Sheppard put an end to that. There will be no lolling in hammocks, she observed. If Sheppard is so brash as to try it, he may find himself doused with the garden hose. He has abandoned the plan, he said, Monday.

Shep was just under 21 when he applied to the old Dallas Electricity and Power Co. for a job on May 8, 1917. He was given a job as an oiler in the engine room.

WAR CLOUDS

Even then, war clouds were piling up and just a few months after he had taken the job, Sheppard enlisted in the U. S. Marine Corps. Early in 1918, he was sent to France where he fought in the battles of Beilaau Wood, Chateau Thierry and the Argonne—combats in which the leathernecks of 1917-18 covered themselves with glory. From these battles, he escaped with no injury.

He continued in active service until Nov. 1, 1918 — just 10 days before the war was terminated by the Armistice. On that date, he came in contact with a German high explosive shell in a fight near a little village called Beaumont. That terminated his fighting and left him in bad health for a long time.

BACK TO WORK

Back in Dallas, he resumed work with the Dallas Electricity and Power Co. On Christmas eve, 1928, Jimmy Beale, now district manager for Texas Electric Service Co. here, came to see him.

"He offered me a job," Sheppard said, "and that's how I joined the Texas Electric Service Co."

However, it was 10 years before he finally reached Big Spring. In the interval he served in Wink and at the Eskota station near Sweetwater. It was May, 1939 when he was sent to Big Spring.

He and Mrs. Sheppard established their home at Coahoma and plan to continue residence there.

They have two daughters, Mrs. R. E. Rowe, Eunice, N. M., and Mrs. J. P. Miller, Schnectady, N. Y.

IT WAS EASIER ON THE OLD JOB

Gulf Stakes Deep Explorer

Gulf has staked an Ellenburger explorer in Garza County. The No. 1 Frances Turbeville, 4½ miles south of Justiceburg, is projected to 8,200 feet.

It is three-eights mile north of an 8,210-foot dry Ellenburger venture and 1¾ miles northwest of the Fluvanna field.

Another Garza County wildcat, Shell No. 1 Bird, has bottomed at 8,184 feet and is running surveys. Drillstem tests of an unidentified zone brought up 390 feet of salt water in one hour.

In Martin County, Chase No. 1 Strain has cleaned out the total depth of 10,231 feet and has set 4½ inch casing. The operator is waiting on cement before testing the Wolfcamp, Strawn and Spraberry.

Borden

C. W. Guthrie No. 1 N. S. Jones is a duster at 8,328 feet. The wildcat was projected to 8,500 feet, eight miles southwest of Fluvanna to test the Ellenburger. The hole spots C SW SW SW, section 422-97, H&TC survey, 1¾ miles east of the Myrtle, West (Strawn) field.

Dawson

Sinclair No. 1 Kent is making hole in lime below 12,326 feet. This prospector is C SW SW, labor 19-265, Kent CSL survey.

Garza

Gulf No. 1 Frances Turbeville is contracted to 8,200 feet to test the Ellenburger 4½ miles south of Justiceburg. The venture is 1,340 feet from the east and 1,192 feet from the north lines of section 685-97, H&TC survey, three-eights mile north of an 8,210-foot Ellenburger dry hole and 1¾ miles northwest of the Fluvanna field.

Conoco No. 6 Thuett is preparing to squeeze San Andres perforations at 3,463 feet, 3,475 feet and 3,477 feet. The site is 1,011 feet from the north and 974 feet from the west lines of survey 3, Scrap File 8,370.

Shell No. 1 Bird has bottomed at 8,184 feet and the operator is running surveys. On drillstem tests of an unidentified formation between 8,164-84 feet, 390 feet of salt water were recovered. The project was open one hour. Thirty-minute shutin pressures were 3,770 pounds and 3,470 pounds. Flow pressures were 35 pounds and 200 pounds. Location is C NW NW, section 23-8, H&GN survey.

Martin

Chase No. 1 Strain has been drilled to 10,231 feet. After cleaning out the total depth, the operator is waiting on cement to set 4½ inch casing at 10,231 feet. Tests will be made of the Wolfcamp, Strawn and Spraberry. The wildcat spots C SE SW, section 18-35, T&P survey.

Sunray Mid-Continent No. 1 Henson has bottomed at 4,967 feet in lime and the operator is preparing to set intermediate casing. Location is C NW SW, section 13-37-2n, T&P survey.

Barber Used Card File To Win PGA

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — Jerry Barber of Los Angeles, a sawed-off little guy with a whittled-down magic putter and a tell-all card file, is the PGA golf champion today after firing a 67 and beating young Don January by one stroke in a par-busting 18-hole playoff at Olympia Fields Country Club.

Oldest PGA champion ever at 45 and one of the smallest at 5-5 and 137 pounds, the never-quit son of an Illinois farmer finally got the title he left slip away two years ago.

Barber, who said he got serious about golf at the age of 14 when he read of Bobby Jones' grand slam, did it with putting and a cardfile of Olympia Fields' North Course he made during practice rounds.

"I picked up the idea from Gene Andrews, a good amateur out our way, about three years ago," he said. "I pace off each course, chart it and it tells me to the yard just how far every point is from the green."

That kept him out of serious trouble all during the tournament. The putter put him up in the headlines. First, he pulled even with the lean, lanky January on Sunday by sinking incredible putts on the last three holes.

Then, in the playoff Monday while another hot sun baked the rain-softened, 6,722-yard, par 35-35—70 course in Chicago's south suburbs, Jerry twice came from two strokes behind. He finally wrapped up his first major title when, after getting birdies on three of the previous five holes, he hit a pressure 3-iron shot out of a fairway trap to within 18 feet of the cup on the last hole.

Coming to the 18th, Barber and January were even. Each was three under par in a brilliant display of golf under steamy, hot conditions and crunching pressure. There Barber hit his great trap shot—"183 yards, by my card file of the course," he said—and two-putted for a par 4 and a 35-32—67.

January, 31, tour regular from Dallas, had a similar trap shot but couldn't bring it off. He caught another trap near the green, pitched up to within 10 feet and missed the putt. He had 34-34—68.

Pro at the Wilshire Country Club at Los Angeles the last seven years, Barber was a farmer, hotel clerk, printer and lathe operator before turning pro golfer. He operated golf driving ranges in California for several years, practiced putting by street light into the night, and finally tuned his game enough to become a regular on the pro tour about 10 years ago.

A consistent money-winner, he had never won a major championship however—losing the 1959 PGA by one stroke to Bob Rosburg when he bogied the last two holes.

PGA Champ

Diminutive Jerry Barber waves his putter as his 50-footer drops into the cup on the 18th green of the final round of the National PGA golf tournament at Olympia Fields, Illinois. The sensational putt enabled Barber to tie front-running Don January and force a playoff. Both had 72-hole totals of 277. Barber than proceeded to win the playoff Monday. (AP Wirephoto).

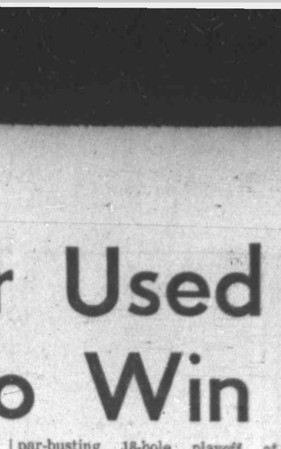

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With TOMMY HART

Sports dialogue:

Amateur golfer JACK NICKLAUS, when asked why he liked to play in professional tournaments:

JACKIE JENSEN

"I can't think of a better place. I love the game and I want to play. I not only want to play, I want to play where the competition is best. Golf is still just a game for me, though. Insurance is my business. I don't really play the tour, just some events on it. I don't think I could play the tour regularly. It takes time and money. I'm making enough from my insurance agency now to pay my own way but I have to be around to look after it. I had to get out of pharmacy. I didn't have any time left to play golf."

* * *

PAUL RICHARDS, manager of the Baltimore Orioles:

"If Jim Gentile were playing half his games in Detroit or New York, he'd hit 75 home runs a season. He has tremendous power. He hits a lot of balls to right and left center. That's the only way they can get him out in Baltimore. In other parks, lots of his drives would be home runs."

* * *

SAM COHEN, a minority stockholder (one share) in the San Francisco Giants, carrying on, in an impish manner, a "Help Stamp Out Candlestick Park" drive:

'Candlestick Park is just like any other ball park that is turned the wrong way and where the wind blows line drives back into the infield. Please do not ask Giant brass what they think of Candlestick Park. They are too depressed to talk about it. As for the players, they aren't allowed to talk about it. It is not true the Air Force has added a weekend at Candlestick Park to its 14-day survival test. Topcoats, mufflers, Indian blankets and hip flasks are normal gear for night games. For a day game, forget the muffler."

YOGI BERRA, when greeting Chicago's Early Wynn following the All-Star baseball game at San Francisco:

"You should have been on the All-Star team. You're the only pitcher too heavy for the wind to blow you off the mound."

* * *

JACKIE JENSEN, Boston outfielder:

"I know the newspapermen have a job to do but I think sometimes they stray far from the original concept of what a newspaperman should be — he should be objective. Since I've returned to baseball, it seems everybody wants to search my personal life. Everybody is a psychiatrist about my reasons for not flying. I don't think the baseball fan is interested in all that. All he is interested in is performance on the field. Sometimes I think some of the reporters can't write unless they spice up their stories. Take my salary, for instance. Everybody says I make $50,000 a year, which is far from the truth. How do the reporters know what I make? I never told them. The club never tells them. I think what I make is my own business."

* * *

WALLY BUTTS, former head football coach at the University of Georgia, when asked about the best comeback one of his teams ever staged.

"When you were trailing one of Frank Thomas' Alabama teams, 10-0, with ten minutes left and win the game, 21-10, you had made a great comeback. That's what we did in 1942. We had won 11 straight and Alabama had been the last team to lick us. I was pretty much convinced that they would be the next team to lick us. But Frank Sinkwich threw two touchdown passes to George Poschner, and Andy Dudich picked off a fumble and scored, and we won."

Stu Miller Real Toughie On Hill

By BOB GREEN

BOSTON (AP) — American League All-Stars agreed today they never had seen a pitcher like Stu Miller—and hoped they never see him again.

Sluggers Rocky Colavito, Mickey Mantle and Roy Sievers spoke in open admiration of the clever San Francisco relief ace after Monday's 1-1 rain-called tie in the second 1961 All-Star game.

New York Yankee Whitey Ford, the brilliant 19-game winning southpaw, praised the work of a fellow craftsman, "I saw in the bullpen and marvelled at the way he got those guys out."

"He's amazing," Sievers said, "One moment I saw a pitch coming right over the plate as big as a grapefruit. But when I swung it wasn't there."

Sievers, Chicago veteran, was Miller's strikeout victim for the third out in the ninth with the winning run on second base.

All the batters agreed Miller was a magician with breaking pitches ranging from slow to slower. He didn't overpower anybody.

"They're all tough," Colavito said of the National League pitchers. "Miller's tough like the rest of them, maybe more. He has lots of moves, lots of motion.

Mantle, who struck out in the American League's ninth-inning rally that just didn't jell, echoed Colavito. "He's got that change-up that's real tough, keeps you off balance, does a lot of things out there."

Miller allowed only one hit in the three innings he worked, a leadoff single to Al Kaline in the ninth. Then he struck out Mantle. Kaline stole second while he was in the process of striking out Elston Howard. Sievers, a pinch hitter, was his last victim.

Coaches Report For Duty Today

All coaches on the staff at the local high school report officially for duties today.

Most of the mentors were present for a meeting with the boys Monday afternoon, held in the high school gym, at which time a roll call was taken to see how many were going to report for football training later this month. The response was good, according to head coach Emmett McKenzie.

The high school staff, accompanied by the two head mentors in the junior high schools here, R. E. Dodson of Goliad and Dan Lewis of Runnels, leaves for San Antonio and the Texas Coaches Association's school Sunday morning.

The mentors will stay at the Wayfarer Motel. They will remain in San Antonio for the all-star basketball and football games.

Nat'l LL Sets Meeting At 8

Managers and parents in the National Little League will gather at the National Cosden Little League park at 8 o'clock this evening for an important business parley.

All parents who have boys returning to circuit play in 1962 are being urged to be on hand. Officers for the new season will be elected and other pertinent business will be discussed.

The league recently wound up its 1961 campaign when its all-stars lost to the Big Spring American Leaguers in the finals of the District 3 tournament at Andrews.

Fishermen Luck Varies At Lake

Several Big Spring and area men have experienced good luck in recent fishing trips to Lake Colorado City. All were trying their luck in the vicinity of Earl Richardson's Lake View Camp.

C. H. Hyden of Big Spring ran his trotline and found he'd caught a 1½ pound yellow catfish. He was using water dogs as bait.

Kenneth Orr and Bill Chrane caught five channel cat on a trotline, weighing up to one pound each.

T. H. Greenfield of Coahoma reported he caught ten channel cat on a trotline, using water dogs as bait.

Howard Eaton and D. L. Vaughan, Big Spring, caught a channel cat weighing three pounds and a blue cat of the same size on a trotline baited with liver.

Owen Kelly, Stanton, reported he caught six channel cats weighing a total of 20 pounds, using grasshoppers as bait on a trotline.

Jerry Cunningham and Cleburn Rich, both of Westbrook, ran a trotline and found they had snagged a blue cat weighing five pounds. Their bait: Perch.

Richards Praises His American All-Stars

By JOE REICHLER

BOSTON (AP) — Admittedly unhappy over what he called an "unsatisfactory ending," perfectionist Paul Richards, the American League All-Star manager, today expressed pleasure over at least one aspect of Monday's rained-out 1-1 tie at Fenway Park.

"I am happy to report that the American League team, to a man, certainly is deserving of no criticism," He said.

"The boys had a little different outlook on this game. I thought I could detect a little more determination."

Was Richards implying that the American League stars had not given their best efforts in the first All-Star game, won by the National League, 5-4, in San Francisco, two weeks ago?

"Well," said Richards, measuring every word, "it might have been more imagination on my part, or perhaps I felt the way I did because it was my first All-Star game as manager and I wanted so badly to win it, but I honestly felt there was not as much anxiety and determination as in this second game."

Did Richards lay down the law to his players, or perhaps give them a pep talk?

"I did talk to them," he acknowledged. "It was no attempt on my part to give the boys the Knute Rockne type of fight talk. I merely pointed out how much the game meant to the American League and asked them to play it up to the very hilt.

"They didn't have to be cajoled. They're all great competitors."

Did Richards think the American League's earlier lackadaisical attitude was largely responsible for the National League's winning march which produced 10 victories in 14 games, cutting the American League once-huge margin to 16-14?

"I would say the attitude might have helped a little," he replied.

Was he in favor of the continuance of the two-game setup?

"I am opposed to the two-game idea," Richards said. "One All-Star game a year is a spectacle unmatched by any other in the world of sports. A second game is merely an anti-climax."

Richards went all out in an effort to win Monday's game for a standoff in the two-game series. He stacked his starting team with eight right-handed hitters in an effort to take advantage of the chummy left field wall, and, except for necessary pitching changes and a catching switch, he made no substitutions. National League Manager Danny Murtaugh used 19 players.

The tie was a bitter disappointment to Richards.

"A high hopper and an infield scratch single was the difference between a brilliant 1-0 shutout and an unsatisfactory tie," he said. "It's too bad the game could not have been played to a conclusion."

The high hopper and the scratch single took place in the sixth inning when the Nationals overcame a 1-0 American League lead built up by Rocky Colavito's first-inning home run off right-hander Bob Purkey of Cincinnati.

After Henry Aaron had grounded out to open the sixth, Eddie Mathews walked. Willie Mays flied out but Don Schwall, Boston's precocious rookie right-hander, hit Orlando Cepeda with an errant pitch, and Eddie Kasko beat out a high bouncer to short. Bill White, who got two of the national's five hits, then singled behind second base, to score Mathews with the tying run.

Until then, the Nationals had been held in check by Detroit's Jim Bunning, who pitched three perfect innings, and Schwall, who kept Mays and company from crossing the plate despite three hits in the fourth and fifth innings. Minnesota's Camilo Pascual nearly duplicated Bunning's perfect pitching, yielding only a base on balls and striking out four in the final three innings.

Four national league pitchers limited the opposition to four hits. Stu Miller, the little San Francisco hurler, turned in the most brilliant job of all. He fanned five of the ten batters he faced, including Mickey Mantle, Ellie Howard and pinch hitter Roy Sievers after Al Kaline had singled to open the last half of the ninth.

Webb vs. Wards—7 p.m., Aug. 11.
Phillips 66 vs. Thigpen Ins.—8:30 p.m., Aug. 11.

New PGA Champ Reasons Golf Greens 'Deceitful'

CHICAGO (AP) — Jerry Barber, new national GPA golf champion, says one of his biggest irritations is the "deceitful greens" on many courses played on the tournament tour.

"It seems they are building greens that are unhonest," he said. "You can't read them. You line up your putt and think you've got it right, and the ball rolls off another way.

"Recently I spent 2½ minutes lining up a four foot putt and I still didn't know how to hit it. One of the examples of deceitful greens is at Oakland Hills (near Detroit when the 1961 USGA Open was played.)

"I'm not beefing, but just making an observance," Barber added. "It comes to my mind because the greens at Olympia Fields (scene of the PGA) were true. You putted and the ball went the way you figured it out."

Barber said he had a lot riding on winning the PGA championship in addition to the $11,000 first prize.

"I get a life-time invitation to the Masters. I don't have to qualify for the National Open. I get a spot on the Ryder Cup team and I don't have to qualify for any more PGA-sponsored tournaments on the tour."

Lubbock Champ Plays Plainview

Lubbock Southern, one of the entries in the Section 1 Little League tournament opening here Thursday, defeated Post, 10-3, and Brownfield, 15-5, in that order to win the District 2 championship in Lubbock last weekend.

Brownfield had made it to the finals by turning back Reese AFB, 9-8.

Lubbock Southern plays Plainview in a first round game at 5:30 p.m. Thursday. The contest officially opens the tournament. The winner opposes Abilene Dixie at 5:30 p.m. Friday.

In the other first round game, Graham tackles Pecos at 7:30 p.m. Thursday. The survivors in that contest squares away with the Big Spring American League club at 7:30 p.m. Friday.

Championship finals take place at 7:30 p.m. Saturday.

The entire tournament will take place on the International Little League diamond at Webb AFB. The public is invited to watch all games and needs only to inform the guard at the gate of its plans.

Barber Is Little But He Boasts A Big Golf Game

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

CHICAGO (AP) — In a day of broad shouldered thick armed golfers, Jerry Barber is so small you'd think he would be stepped on.

But the big boys on the tournament tour make room for the little guy out of respect for his golfing ability. Today he is figuratively taller than they — on a pedestal as the National PGA champion.

He defeated Don January by one stroke with a 3-under-par 67 Monday in a playoff for the title. At 45, the 5-foot-5 135-pounder is the oldest player ever to win the PGA title. After the playoff members of the Ryder Cup team which will meet the British pros elected Barber their captain.

Here are some random notes on what Barber had to say after his victory:

"Putting is the secret. I had no three-putt greens the entire tournament. (His putts of 20, 40 and 60 feet on the last three holes Sunday to tie January will go down in golfing lore).

"One putting secret is not to use too light a putter. Mine weighs 18 ounces. It's a spur type with a brass head and steel shaft.

"My folks are farmers near Jacksonville (Ill.) when I was small—ha, ha, I mean when I was a kid—I did a lot of chores like milking cows and shucking corn.

"My two brothers were caddies. We used to go over to a municipal course and retrieve balls from a water hole. We had three holes we could sneak on and play.

"As an amateur back in 1936 to 1938, I would go to Clearwater (Fla.) in the winter, work as a hotel clerk at night and play golf in the day. "I practiced and played so much, my hands got sore. When I had time at night, I would spend it putting on a practice green that was near a street light."

Barber, father of five children and pro the last seven years at a club in Los Angeles, doesn't smoke or drink. He practices incessantly, does daily push-ups and is in rugged trim.

Temple Baptist Triumphs, 6-2

Temple Baptist turned back West Side Baptist, 6-2, in a YMCA at the City Park Monday evening.

Ernest Barbee was credited with the mound victory while Jerry Paige was charged with the loss.

Texan Defeated

KALAMAZOO, Mich. (AP) — Johnny Hunter of Edinburg, Tex., lost in the opening round of junior singles in the national junior and boys tennis championships Monday. He was defeated by Mike Martines of Salt Lake City, 6-2, 6-0.

All-Stars Can Field Rugged Team Friday

CHICAGO (AP) — It's college All-Star football week and time for another look at memory lane, and heroes of the past.

Remember such names as Sammy Baugh? Gaynell Tinsley? Tommy Harmon? Jackie Robinson? Otto Graham? Elroy Hirsch? Buddy Young? Charlie Justice? Ted Weed? Bobby Conrad? Bobby Mitchell?

When the All-Stars take on the champion Philadelphia Eagles in Soldier Field Friday night who knows but there may be another name or two to add to the illustrious list of past heroes.

The All-Stars are boasting a powerful team this year and are given an excellent chance of upsetting the Eagles. And there are plenty of candidates for the hero list.

It could be hard-running Joe Bellino of Navy or such able passers as Bill Kilmer of UCLA or Norman Snead of Wake Forest. There's Bill Brown, a powerful fullback from Illinois, and Tom Matte, an Ohio State back who also can pass.

It could be Mike Ditka of Pitt, or Earl Faison of Indiana or El Kimbrough of Northwestern or Marlin McKeever of Southern Cal —some of the finest ends in college circles last fall.

Or the hero could be a lineman like Houston Antwine of Southern Illinois, Myron Pottios of Notre Dame, Greg Larson of Minnesota, Earnest Ladd of Grambling or Ken Rice of Auburn.

Defending Champ Registers A 74

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Sixty-four of the nation's top golfers tee off today in the first round of match play with Mrs. Anne Casey Johnstone launching defense of her Women's Western Amateur Championship.

Mrs. Johnstone of Mason City, Iowa, was paired against Mrs. Ruth McCullah of Los Angeles, several times the California state champion, in one of the featured 32 matches at the Annandale Golf Club.

Mrs. Johnstone qualified Monday with a par 74 while Mrs. McCullah had an 84 in a field of more than 100 golfers.

Annandale's par for women is 36-38—74 for the 6,118-yard test.

Medalist in the qualifying round was pretty 18-year-old Carol Sorenson, Wisconsin 1960 state champion from Janesville and also winner that year of the United States Golf Association junior title.

DEAR ABBY

The Law Or The Parents

DEAR ABBY: This is not a personal problem, but a public one. What do you think should be done about the present trend of make-up and attire for our adolescent girls? I refer to girls from 14 to 18, who come from good families, but go around looking like street-walkers. They load on the make-up and wear their hair in sophisticated styles to make themselves look older. And their clothes are disgustingly tight and short. Or they are half-naked. Don't you think the Law should step in, since this kind of appearance appeals to the baser instincts of man and increases the crime rate?

MRS. CITIZEN

DEAR CITIZEN: Unless these girls sneak out of their homes in such get-ups, the blame should be placed squarely on the shoulders of their mothers who, in their well-meaning eagerness to make their daughters "popular" and "happy," encourage them to appear 20 when they are only 15. This is a matter for parental discipline, not law.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: This may seem crazy to you, but it hurts me very much. My husband keeps telling me about the many love affairs he had with other girls before he met me. I think the past should be forgotten, but I would like to teach him a lesson. I don't have any past to talk about, but do you think if I made up a few stories as good as his it would shut him up?

NO PAST

DEAR NO: Men who were really successful with the ladies do not feel the need to boast about it. Tell your husband you would rather not hear about his escapades, and don't make up any whoppers as toppers.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: This afternoon I attended a bridal shower. Each guest brought a gift for the bride. The afternoon was spent in playing bridge. I won the prize, which was a lovely pair of tea towels. Naturally, I was delighted.

This evening I received telephone calls from three women who had attended the same shower. They informed me that I had committed a breach of etiquette in taking home my prize. They said it was the "custom" to give the bride all prizes won at a bridal shower. Is this true? I have never heard anything so ridiculous.

FLABBERGASTED

DEAR FLABBERGASTED: In a few isolated communities this IS indeed the "custom." But it does not make much sense to me either.

* * *

Everybody has a problem. What is yours? For a personal reply, write to Abby in care of The Big Spring Herald. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Capt. Smith Selected For Advanced Medical Course

Capt. Robert Reed Smith, flight surgeon at Webb AFB since June 1959, has been selected to attend the USAF Advanced Medical Specialist Training Program.

Capt. Smith will leave the base on Aug. 11, and report to Hamilton AFB, Calif., Sept. 5, for his proficiency flights. On Sept. 13, he will enter the University of California at Berkeley for the first year of a five - year study and training program.

On completion of the work at the University of California, Capt. Smith will receive his Master's degree in Public Health. He will then enter the School of Aviation Medicine at Brooks AFB, Texas for two years study and training in the evaluation of USAF pilot personnel.

The fourth and fifth years of the program will be spent with one of the larger USAF installations where he will put into practice, under qualified supervisors, the techniques he has learned during the three years of study. These new techniques will have to do primarily with the reactions of personnel assigned to missiles, rockets, and spaceships, and craft, and the effects that these newer weapons systems have upon the individual.

Capt. Smith, while at Webb, worked with Safety personnel in determining noise areas and factors. He is a graduate of Bowman - Gray School of Medicine at Wake Forest College, and of the School of Aviation Medicine at Randolph AFB.

Gets New Duties

MIDLAND — David E. Holster, 40, assumed his duties as acting postmaster here Monday, succeeding Noel G. Oakes, who has resigned his post. Holster has been serving as assistant postmaster since May 30, 1959. He is a 1938 graduate of Midland High School, a 1942-45 veteran of the Army Air Force. He first began his postal career in 1941 at Midland.

FFA Chapter Meets Tonight

All members of the Future Farmers of America chapter, and boys who plan to enter the chapter this year, are urged to attend a meeting tonight at 7:30 p.m. in the Vo-Ag room at Big Spring high school.

"Bring your dad, too," said Ed Seay, vocational agriculture teacher at the local school.

The chapter will discuss plans for the forthcoming school year, including the annual FFA fishing trip. Following the meeting, there will be a watermelon slicing.

Credit Bureau Issues ID Card

A new type of credit identification card, designed to help both credit grantor and applicant, is being issued to those who have records with the Credit Bureau of Greater Big Spring.

The Bureau is emphasizing that the card in no way rates a person's credit record, but merely shows that his record is available at the Bureau. It can be used for identification anywhere in the United States, Canada, Australia, Mexico and Puerto Rico.

The Bureau is issuing cards only to those meeting these requirements:

Must be over 21 years of age. Must have on file 3 to 5 years of credit experience. Must have furnished to the Bureau a good bank reference, checking account and possibly loan experience. Must have estimated net worth established. Must have furnished personal information, as to number of dependents, etc.

The card will be of permanent nature, with the Bureau's reference number. It is being issued for $1 for either one or two cards.

The Credit Bureau hopes that use of the card will assist in making faster credit investigations. It will not guarantee that credit is good.

Program Group Studies Plans

At a meeting Monday, members of the YMCA adult program committee evaluated the summer adult program and discussed plans for the fall program.

"We were pleased with the results of the summer program," said James Tidwell, chairman of the committee. "In fact, many of the activities started this summer will be continued into the fall."

Plans for a golf tournament in October are now in the talking stage, and committee members also are considering the possibility of a bridge tournament. Classes in square dancing and golfing, and the film festival will take up again in the fall.

The group also discussed the reactivation of the senior citizens for older members of the community. The week of Sept. 18 has been set as the date for kick-off of fall activities.

Cutting Horse Contest Slated

A championship cutting horse contest will be held at the rodeo grounds here Friday, beginning at 7 p.m.

The $100 Championship National Cutting Horse Association approved competition will be Friday, followed Saturday by approved classes of the West Texas Cutting Horse Association and the National Cutting Horse Association.

Flake Tompkins, president of the WTCHA, urged all members to attend. He promised the best cattle obtainable for the cutting. Judges will be R. L. Herring and Don Smith.

YMCA Kicks Off Leader Search

A kick - off breakfast for the annual YMCA "Fishers of Men" campaign will be held Wednesday at 7:15 a.m. at the Y. Twenty-five workers will conduct the campaign to obtain leaders for Y activities during the school term.

The drive will climax Friday at 5 p.m. with a coffee in the all-purpose room of the Y. At that time, new leaders will be inducted. During the latter part of August a leadership training school will be held for the newly acquired leaders.

Band Students Plan Schedules

A meeting for beginners in junior high band at both Runnels and Goliad will be held tonight at 7:30 in the Goliad band hall. Band directors Bill Jones of Goliad and Joe Burchfiel of Runnels ask that parents of beginners accompany their children to the meeting tonight.

Other band students in intermediate, advanced and high school band met earlier in the day to plan their practice scheduled for the remainder of the summer.

Mrs. Jones Given Plaque

Thirty - one building and summer recreation staff members of the YMCA met at 6 p.m. Monday evening for an appreciation dinner, climaxing the summer program.

Joe Leach, physical director, was emcee of the program, and brief talks of appreciation were given by Francis Flint, general secretary, and Joe Pickle, chairman of the summer recreation committee.

A Service to Youth plaque was given to Mrs. Jimmy Jones in recognition of her outstanding volunteer service to the Y. She has headed a Y club for eight years and was director of the first YMCA girls' day camp this summer.

Dr. Hunt Attends Juco Institute

Dr. Anthony Hunt, president of Howard County Junior College, will be in Boone, N. C., Aug. 7-12 helping to conduct the Southeastern Junior College Institute for Presidents and their wives.

At the institute, sponsored by Florida State University and held on the campus of Appalachian State Teachers' College, Dr. Hunt will deliver several speeches and conduct a number of conferences.

Among his speaking topics will be the college budget, selection of staff members and the relationship between the president and the private junior college board. Each of the five days of the institute he will lead workshops for one-half of the day, and he will also participate on a number of panels.

The institute is intended as a leadership conference for junior college presidents from 12 states who have held such positions for three years or less.

Greenville Paper On Morning Side

GREENVILLE (AP) — The Greenville Herald-Banner, long serving a wide Northeast Texas area on a schedule of five afternoons and Sunday morning, becomes a seven-day morning newspaper Saturday morning, Sept. 9.

Matt Sheley, publisher, announced the change today. Sheley has been with the publication six years and has headed it as publisher and president since May, 1957.

Sheley said Herman Scott, a veteran Greenville newspaperman, will serve the new morning Herald-Banner as editor.

Wesley Methodist Church Members Move In Addition

Lacking one day of being exactly a year since they moved into the new sanctuary, the members of Wesley Methodist Church moved into their new addition Sunday.

The addition, designed by Gary and Hohertz and contracted by Ray Dunlap, is estimated at a cost of $30,000 and includes a new nursery department, chapel and classrooms.

The nursery is a four-room section divided into Nursery I for infants to two - year - olds; Nursery II for two to three - year-olds; and Nursery III for three to four - year - olds. It is equipped with new beds and mattresses, a public address system, air conditioning and central heating. Also in that wing of the addition is an adult classroom.

The old sanctuary has been remodeled into a new chapel and five classrooms for the youth department.

In the center of the old buildings of the church and the new wing is an enclosed patio, 36 x 72 which can be used for skating parties, shuffle board and volleyball games as well as barbecues.

The addition took a little over three months to complete, and total cost of construction on the church, including cost of the sanctuary, is $105,000.

LEGAL NOTICE

THE STATE OF TEXAS
To: ROMAIE HOWELL Defendant (s), Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to appear by filing a written answer to the Plaintiff (s) Petition at or before ten o'clock A. M. of the first Monday after the expiration of forty-two days from the date of the issuance of this citation, same being Monday the 21st day of August 1961, at or before ten o'clock A. Lightning Kills Mom

By The Associated Press

Forked lightning from a vicious thunderhead over the Southeast Texas town of Navasota killed a mother of 13 and set afire a house late Monday.

The thunderstorm climaxed a hot, humid weather over the state.

Mrs. Fritz Kloecker, 58, was struck dead by lightning as she hurried to remove clothes from a line in her backyard with the approach of the storm.

Another bolt started a fire in the home of Phil Smith. Two rooms were destroyed. Only a light rain fell in Navasota, 75 miles northwest of Houston. Thundershowers also dampened other scattered areas of Southeast Texas.

Early Tuesday a few widely scattered showers fell in the Panhandle. Skies over the state generally were partly cloudy. Early morning temperatures varied from 68 at Midland and Dalhart to 82 at Galveston.

The Weather Bureau said the muggy, hot weather would continue through Tuesday as ridges of a low pressure area to the north and west of the state pulled clouds northward from the Gulf of Mexico.

Reporter Finds Quiet, Little Malice In Contested Bizerte

EDITOR'S NOTE: Richard K. O'Malley, chief of The Associated Press Bureau in Paris, flew to Bizerte for a look at the city following the French-Tunisian fighting there.

By RICHARD K. O'MALLEY

BIZERTE (AP)—The tall Tunisian soldier shook his head and said: "Nobody is allowed in the Casbah except with a special pass and you have to get it from the governor."

Behind him the Casbah baked in a hot sun. The narrow streetway was deserted.

Behind me, about 50 yards away, a little group of French paratroopers stood behind sandbag emplacements. Along the street tanks were parked. There was no traffic.

Bizerte, a city with a normal population of about 30,000 people, was as quiet as a village on Sunday.

There was no real air of tension nor of expectancy. French paratroopers joked and laughed quietly. Not far off, in the buff and white alleyways leading into the Casbah, helmeted Tunisian soldiers kept to their posts. A veiled woman slipped out of a door and padded down the street.

There had been reports that the Casbah was being fortified in case of more of the fighting that broke out nearly two weeks ago, when Tunisians blocked roads leading to the big French naval base.

A Tunisian police officer said no, but refused to discuss the Tunisian-French crisis.

Down at the docks a few French families boarded a ship for the return to France.

"If we all go, there won't be seven people left in the European part of town," a young Frenchman said. "The base has made the town. But we won't be shoved out of here."

On a drive along the edges of the base a French naval officer pointed to battle marks which scarred the portal leading into the base.

"The Tunisians are good soldiers and good fighters," he said. Then he grinned. "After all, we taught them how."

Along the roads charred vehicles showed where the first roadblocks were set up when the Tunisians tried to blockade the base.

"This is a naval lifeline to us," the officer said. "It is a vital, strategic base. And we do not want to be pushed out under force or threat of it."

Did he fear new fighting if the impasse between the two countries is not resolved soon?

"I hope not," he replied. "But I have my personal fears that this is not over yet."

Delay Fails

Rep. Will Smith of Beaumont urged House members to ask the State Board of Insurance to delay for sixty days the rate increase on automobile insurance ordered by the board. The House refused immediate action on the measure but did, however, extend the life of the House committee currently studying the increased rates. The new rates, averaging a 15 per cent increase statewide, go into effect Aug. 1.

Campus Holes Aren't Enough

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—University of Miami officials announced last week the university had dug 100 holes on the campus and would accept trees donated by residents caring to help in a campus beautification program.

Monday more holes were dug. More than 300 trees were offered.
